now let's go to this can of worms... given that these accounts were written AFTER all those events occurred, it is not unreasonable to see how the disciples included some editorializing.... i.e. Judas the traitor, or Judas the one who betrayed Jesus.....the account was written from the perspective of those who remained....

Posted by: västergötland Jul 31 2006, 01:48 PM

QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 31 2006, 08:06 PM)

the adventist conundrum..... alive and well.... Judas was called....

Ordained, called or chosen, in either case the same applies to Judas as to the other apostles. I thought I was clear on that?

QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 31 2006, 08:06 PM)

now let's go to this can of worms... given that these accounts were written AFTER all those events occurred, it is not unreasonable to see how the disciples included some editorializing.... i.e. Judas the traitor, or Judas the one who betrayed Jesus.....the account was written from the perspective of those who remained....

Why is this a can of worms? Isnt this quite plain?

Posted by: Johann Jul 31 2006, 03:54 PM

Why is this a can of worms? Intertwined? Danny Shelton has at times referred to the success of 3ABN Sweden to prove that he is innocent of the accusations. And also that the leaders in Scandinavia have been willing to talk to his people show that they trust him and believe he is innocent and that Linda is guilty. Do you get the connection?

Powered by Invision Power Board (http://www.invisionboard.com)
© Invision Power Services (http://www.invisionpower.com)

206

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ Dr. Thompson Letter:

Posted by: Observer May 6 2006, 05:14 PM

Reference has been made to a letter that Dr. Thompson circulated, and comments that were made by Gregory Matthews about that letter in another Adventist Forum. Here is that letter, and those comments:

" From Walter Thompson
>
> Chairman, 3ABN board of Directors
>
> Regarding Danny's marriage
>
> Dear Family and Friends of 3ABN,
>
> Two years ago 3ABN was challenged by the most difficult battle > the ministry has ever faced. It was a battle that threatened > the very existence of the ministry and the work of preaching > the end time message of the Three Angel's to the world. It is > only because of the grace and power of God Almighty, and the > faithful support of you, the 3ABN family, that the ministry > has survived to preach another day. Today, the ministry is > stronger than it has ever been and its reach into the world > even broader and more powerful for the cause of truth.
>
> [See Note 1—GM.]
>
> As is always the case when in the public eye, questions arise, > stories abound, and rumors spread. We thank God that you have > trusted the leadership and board of 3ABN during this time and > have stayed with us in ministry. More recently some of you > have heard that Danny has found one to comfort him in his > loneliness and sorrow. You may have also heard rumors about an > allegedly illegal divorce occurring without Biblical grounds.
> This letter is an attempt to fill you in with the facts.
>
> [See Note 2—GM.]
>
> As chairman of the board I have been in the midst of this long > and drawn out ordeal from the beginning. I was there when we > counseled with Linda over and over again. I was present during > the pleas and prayers, seeking to get her to give up her > relationship with the doctor. I have seen and heard the > evidence upon which the board has taken the action that it has > taken. I have been one that has plead with Linda to keep her > marriage and her ministry and offered to provide counseling > for them. I have known Danny and Linda almost from the > beginning of the ministry and have been in their home many > times. They had a good marriage. It was not until this third > party got in the middle did things begin to fall apart. It is > also true that Danny really did want to get back together > again, but when it became obvious that couldn't happen, he > correctly had to close the door on that part of his history > lest it destroy him and the ministry.

>
> [See Note 3—GM]
>
> The divorce was a mutually agreed thing, even the choice to > get it from Guam where there would be no long wait. Linda had > originally planned to move to Las Vegas long enough to become > a resident there so as to get a divorce there. They then > discovered the possibility of a divorce from Guam, checked it > out and found it to be legal, and decided to go that route.
> Though I believe Guam has now stopped the program, the > legality of a Guam divorce had previously been taken to the > U.S. Supreme Court where it was ruled legitimate. As chairman > of the board, I did not try to influence the decision, but I > will say that had they not obtained a quick divorce, the > ministry would have been placed at much greater risk since the > situation was causing so much dysfunction with leadership and > staff. I believe time has verified the correctness of what was > done then, both by Danny and by the board for the ministry.
>
> [See Note 4—GM.]
>
> Linda's web site recently stated that she and Danny were not > divorced. She wrote this after the judge made the decision in > Danny's favor. She claims she did not know this when she wrote > it. Her web site referred to an e mail I sent to Johann > Thorvaldson a year earlier saying that I had never accused her > of adultery. I believe that exchange with him was in response > to an accusation by him that we had fired her because of > adultery. I was merely saying that she was not fired for > adultery, but because she had defied the board in not > discontinuing a relationship that was threatening to destroy > the ministry. (I might add that the doctor also told me he > would not break off the relationship, even though I pled with > him to do so.) That letter to Johann was correct, and it is > true that I have never directly accused her of adultery. That > does not mean that I believe Linda is innocent. If by adultery > one must be caught in bed with another person, I cannot prove > Linda has committed adultery. If, on the other hand, hard > evidence indicates that Linda was involved in an unacceptable > relationship with another man qualifies for adultery, then > there is no question about Danny's moral right to marry again.
> As a board, we have chosen not to make the details of the > evidence available to the public. I believe Satan is the > accuser of the brethern. We have chosen to take the "high > road" in this whole situation and say nothing more than we > have been forced to say to try to quell rumors. We care about > Linda and have tried not to do anything to hurt her more than > she has already been hurt. I can tell you that I personally > spent a great deal of time at 3ABN during those months when > this was all happening. I spoke with Linda and Danny on > numerous occasions. A sub committee of the board met and > prayed with Danny and Linda and pled with Linda to call off > the relationship. Danny and Linda spent an 8 hour session with > a pair of Christian counselors (non-Adventist in an attempt to > avoid bias) who had no doubts about the nature of Linda's > conduct. We offered to provide Linda with the opportunity to > go away for counseling with a counselor agreeable to both she > and us. She did not respond to that offer or request. Finally, > the full board met, reviewed Linda's letter of explanation, > and voted unanimously to remove her from the ministry and her > seat on the board. Other church leaders who have been privy to > some of the evidence we have are in full agreement with our > decision.

>
> [See Note 5—GM.]
>
> The relationship Linda had with the Norwegian Dr. was not a > normal doctor-patient relationship as she claims. It is true.
> Linda was very concerned about her son Nathan. He was the > vehicle through which the Dr. reached Linda. Our evidence > leaves no question that this became much more than a > doctor-patient relationship. We know that the long hours on > the phone together were not about Nathan and have hard > evidence to support this knowledge - nor were times spent > together on both sides of the Atlantic. Furthermore, she > refused to break it off, even after weeks of pleading with her > to do so. We, the board believe the evidence we have clearly > justifies the divorce and gives Danny the moral and legal > right to remarry. Those in church leadership with whom we have > shared some of this evidence agree with us. Out of concern for > Linda we have been reluctant to make details public.
>
> [See Note 6—GM.]
>
> No, Danny is not to blame for what has happened here. On the > contrary, he has bent over backwards trying to make things > work and meeting her requests. Yet, she has never acknowledged > that it was wrong for her to have another "friend".
>
> [See Note 7—GM.]
>
> The things I have stated here are accurate and correct. As far > as the lady Danny has married is concerned, I can only say I > believe his new wife is a very good person and will be a real > asset to him as he carries on his heavy responsibilities. Just > to clarify any rumor you may have heard, this relationship > began long after the divorce. I was at 3ABN when this lady > came from Florida looking for work. There was nothing going on > before that time, and Danny definitely was not trying to > "dump" Linda. I was with him during much of the time he > agonized and mourned her loss. It is one thing to lose a loved > one in death. It is much different to lose one to another > lover - like cutting a dog's tail off one inch at a time! As > to the matter of age difference, I will say that I do not > believe that is any of my business. I find nothing in the > Bible, and I don't remember any thing in the SOP indicating > age differences for married couples. If it is legal, and > morally correct, and if entered into with honesty, sincerity > and earnest prayer for God's guidance, as I know happened > here, it is not for me to criticize. In my own musings about > this, I have concluded that it was no accident that brought > Brandy to 3ABN. Either the devil was behind it, or God was.
> There is no question in my mind which one it was.
>
> [See Note 8—GM.]
>

> (Archo Dart was for many years a family and marriage counselor > in the Adventist church. When in his 80's, he married one of > my patients, who was then in her 50's. She loved and admired > him till death many years later.)
>
>
>
> I have had an interesting thought this week that I will share > with you. It is this. God lost one of his closest companions > when Lucifer went astray. More than that, myriads more angels > left with him when he left heaven. Talk about grief or > emotional pain. Experiences such as this with Linda, I think, > help us to understand the pain of loss, and the reality of the > war between God and Satan. Some have claimed it takes two to > divorce. I don't think that is categorically true!
>
>
>
> This has been a terrible injury that has hit 3abn and Danny,
> and yes, Linda too, but it is one that I believe God > understands - and He continues to bless his servants.
>
>
>
> We recognize that we live in a world at war, and are working > with a ministry that the devil would like to see destroyed.
> The war is real, and as in any other war there are real > casualties. War is never pleasant, and spiritual battles may > be some of the worst. Our hearts still ache for those who have > been wounded. Our prayers continue to ascend on their behalf.
> Should acknowledgement of wrongdoing and penitence ever occur,
> we would be the first to forgive and forget. Unfortunately, > that has not happened, and we must move on.
>
>
>
> Some who have been aware of the growing relationship and the > possibility of marriage have thought they should wait for a > longer period of time before marrying. In discussions before > the event, the 3ABN board reviewed the events of the past > couple years and have agreed that there was no moral or legal > reason precluding marriage. Realizing the heavy burdens > resting on Danny and of his need for companionship, we, the > board did not see any reason not to give our blessing to their > union. We hope you, our 3ABN family, will agree too, and with > us, welcome Brandy with open arms.
>
> [See Note 9—GM.]
>
> Should you have any questions that I might answer, please feel > free to send them to me at 3ABN and I will do my best to try > to answer them.
>
>
>
> Sincerely in the precious name of Jesus,
>
>
>

>
>
> Walter Thompson
>
> Chairman, 3ABN Board of Directors.
>
> Walter Thompson MD

Gregory

Post Extras: Manage this thread

Gregory Matthews
Chaplain

Reged: May 10 2000
Posts: 6090
Loc: Colorado, USA Re: The Dr. Thompson Letter. [Re: Gregory Matthews]
#213462 - Mon Apr 10 2006 10:45 AM Edit Reply Quote Quick Reply

At this point, I will place the comments that I have referenced above.

Note 1: Those of us who may be considered critics are loyal supporters of the Seventh-day Adventist Church and of the work of God on planet Earth. We acknowledge that God led Danny and Linda Shelton to establish 3-ABN, a ministry that for many years has been led by God. We are thankful for what God has accomplished in the ministry of 3-ABN. To many people, 3-ABN is the face of the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

Now a scandal has tarred the face of that ministry. People are asking if God is still leading in the ministry of 3-ABN, and/or if God is using present leadership of 3-ABN to guide it in its ministry. These questions are sincere, and valid. Those who have supported 3-ABN in the past, have honest questions. We believe that God is still leading, not only in human life on this planet, but in the ministry of those whom God has called to leadership. But, we are reminded of times in the history of our denomination when human leaders made mistakes. God intervened, and in some cases, but not all, removed those leaders, and allowed old ministries to be replaced by new ones that were more receptive to the leading of the Holy Spirit.

We are waiting to see how God leads in the ministry of 3-ABN. We do not know what God has in mind for 3-ABN. But, we do know that if its leadership fails to follow the leading of the Holy Spirit, God will act in whatever manner God knows is best.

Note 2: None of us who know the law, have ever challenged the right of Guam to issue a divorce to citizens of the United States. We were aware that the U. S. Supreme Court had previously ruled on that question. However, even when divorces are obtained in one of the States of the United States, they may be subject to challenge. Some felt that the Guam divorce was subject to challenge. An IL State Court has dismissed that challenge. The Guam divorce is legal.

As to the issue of Biblical grounds for Danny to divorce Linda, and then to remarry another, that is a much more complex question. Some of the more liberal SDAs believe in multiple grounds for divorce and remarriage. But, in general, those who are the strongest supporters of 3-ABN believe that divorce followed by remarriage is only Biblical when the other has committed physical adultery. When those people hear (read) 3-ABN say that Danny had Biblical grounds, they understand that to mean that Linda physically committed adultery. They simply do not understand "Biblical grounds" for divorce and remarriage in any other way.

Note 3: I find the last sentence very interesting. Here it is said that Danny faced a decision between his marriage and his ministry and he chose his ministry. No ministry is dependent upon one person. The ministry of 3-ABN could go on without it present leadership. God is involved, and God will both remove and provide.

Note 4: One might say that the divorce was mutually agreed upon. That does not mean that both parties wanted the divorce. Often in a divorce, one party wants the divorce, the other agrees to it due to the fact that that party sees no option for reconciliation. I have found that one can often understand some of the dynamics that are going on in a divorce by looking at who it is that filed the action to divorce.

Note 5: Court rulings are complex. Sometimes non-lawyers misunderstand what a court has decided. There was a period of time where Linda and others were misinformed as to the ruling of the IL Court. All who did so regret that misunderstanding.

I am not aware of any time in which anyone has officially accused Linda of physical adultery. But when one talks about Biblical grounds, moral rights, and inappropriate relationships, many of the 3-ABN supporters will hear adultery. From the practical standpoint, 3-ABN might just as well have claimed that Linda committed such. In many ways, I believe that such lack of focus as to what Linda did has hurt her more than an actual charge of adultery would have damaged her. One can rebut a specific charge. It is very hard to rebut a non-specific charge.

Note 6: Again, words and terms are used that communicate physical adultery to 3-ABN supporters. It is implied the Linda and the MD had a relationship that was more than professional. There is a clear implication that the 3-ABN Board has evidence that cannot be questioned. One of my questions regarding this is to what extent was Linda allowed to present a defense. Accusations were made, and people testified before the Board. Was Linda allowed to present a defense in person? Was she allowed to bring witnesses to the Board to testify? If she was not granted all of the above, and more, the Board cannot say that they have evidence that cannot be questioned.

I raise these questions because of what has been circulated by others, to include supporters of 3-ABN. It has been said that the Board once heard evidence that the previous night Linda had spent the night with an adult male, not a relative that was married to another woman. It is also said that because Linda was not allowed to be present, and to present witnesses, that the Board never heard that the previous night the referenced male, and his wife, had spent the night with Linda, with both helping her to prepare her written defense, as she was not going to be allowed to be personally present.

Note 7: This entire situation is a tragedy. I have not, and do not intend to criticize Danny for his remarriage. But, that is probably because I may be more liberal than are many of the 3-ABN supporters. If the Board is wrong about the relationship that Linda had with that Dr., then the Board is wrong to tell people that Danny had Biblical grounds.

Note 8: I agree, so what if there is an age difference. Nothing should be made of that. Your second from the last sentence is interesting.

Note 9: Brandy should not be the focus of this. Regardless of right or wrong, the issues do not lie with her. The rights or wrongs lie with others. I join you in hoping that people on all sides of this issue will welcome her and the children that she brings to this marriage with both open arms, and with the love of the Lord Jesus Christ.

Gregory "

If you wish, you can find the above posts in that forum.

Posted by: Clay May 6 2006, 05:24 PM

everyone is not a member of Club Adventist, so they may not have access to that particular thread... that is why it was posted here in another thread....

Thank you for sharing this info.....

Posted by: beanchild May 8 2006, 08:56 AM more and more propaganda.

puttin folks bizness in the streets.

love me some sdas.

oh yeah, & shame on me for even clicking on the thread.

Posted by: Johann Jul 13 2006, 04:06 AM

I suppose it is about time someone replies to this letter by Walt Thompson. I will at least question some of the statements he makes. I will place my remarks in brackets [] below, deleting those Gregory Matthews made earlier.

[quote name='Observer' date='May 7 2006, 01:14 AM' post='129538']
Reference has been made to a letter that Dr. Thompson circulated, and comments that were made by Gregory Matthews about that letter in another Adventist Forum. Here is that letter, and those comments:

" From Walter Thompson
>
> Chairman, 3ABN board of Directors
>
> Regarding Danny's marriage
>
> Dear Family and Friends of 3ABN,
>
> Two years ago 3ABN was challenged by the most difficult battle > the ministry has ever faced. It was a battle that threatened > the very existence of the ministry and the work of preaching > the end time message of the Three Angel's to the world. It is > only because of the grace and power of God Almighty, and the > faithful support of you, the 3ABN family, that the ministry > has survived to preach another day. Today, the ministry is > stronger than it has ever been and its reach into the world > even broader and more powerful for the cause of truth.
>
> [Is 3ABN really stronger today?]
>
> As is always the case when in the public eye, questions arise, > stories abound, and rumors spread. We thank God that you have > trusted the leadership and board of 3ABN during this time and > have stayed with us in ministry. More recently some of you > have heard that Danny has found one to comfort him in his > loneliness and sorrow. You may have also heard rumors about an > allegedly illegal divorce occurring without Biblical grounds.
> This letter is an attempt to fill you in with the facts.
>

> [For the past couple of years we have been praying that 3ABN would stop circulating false rumors and biased reports to dicredit Linda and detroy her ministry. The Lord cannot intervene when there is no desire to cooperate.]
>
> As chairman of the board I have been in the midst of this long > and drawn out ordeal from the beginning. I was there when we > counseled with Linda over and over again. I was present during > the pleas and prayers, seeking to get her to give up her > relationship with the doctor.

[Since I was in constant contact with Linda through this whole period I know that Linda could not give up a relationship which wasn't there. Danny made demands of her which Walt is not mentioning here, and therefore these stattements are fully absurd.]

I have seen and heard the > evidence upon which the board has taken the action that it has > taken.

[Why is Walt unwilling to produce the evidence?]

I have been one that has plead with Linda to keep her > marriage and her ministry and offered to provide counseling > for them.

[Linda did not need your pleading because this is what she wanted more than anyone else. It was Danny who did not want to remain married to Linda, in spite of the remarks he made for the gallery for the sake of the 3ABN contributers. Towards Linda and us he did not have the slightest interest in staying married to Linda.

Besides what real counseling did you provide? Absolutely none that was willing to listen to Linda!]

I have known Danny and Linda almost from the > beginning of the ministry and have been in their home many > times. They had a good marriage. It was not until this third > party got in the middle did things begin to fall apart. It is > also true that Danny really did want to get back together > again, but when it became obvious that couldn't happen, he > correctly had to close the door on that part of his history > lest it destroy him and the ministry.
>
> [You have forgotten what you told us earlier, that Danny's and Linda's marriage would have collapsed anyhow, and that Dr. Arild Abrahamsen came in as a convenient excuse! I understand how inconvenient it is now to admit you ever made such a statement!]
>
> The divorce was a mutually agreed thing, even the choice to > get it from Guam where there would be no long wait. Linda had > originally planned to move to Las Vegas long enough to become > a resident there so as to get a divorce there.

[This is a false statement. Linda never had plans of moving to Las Vegas. Danny tried to get her to do that, and even offered her thousands of dollars if she would move to Las Veggas. But Linda did not want a divorce.]

They then > discovered the possibility of a divorce from Guam, checked it > out and found it to be legal, and decided to go that route.
> Though I believe Guam has now stopped the program, the > legality of a Guam divorce had previously been taken to the > U.S. Supreme Court where it was ruled legitimate. As chairman > of the board, I did not try to influence the decision, but I > will say that had they not obtained a quick divorce, the > ministry would have been placed at much greater risk since the > situation was causing so much dysfunction with leadership and > staff. I believe time has verified the correctness of what was > done then, both by Danny and by the board for the ministry.

>
> [It was Danny who discovered this, as he has claimed in an earlier letter. Presssure was builing up demanding that Linda accept divorce as a solution!]
>
> Linda's web site recently stated that she and Danny were not > divorced. She wrote this after the judge made the decision in > Danny's favor. She claims she did not know this when she wrote > it.

[How can you claim she did not know? Did you check all of her communication?]

Her web site referred to an e mail I sent to Johann > Thorvaldson a year earlier saying that I had never accused her > of adultery. I believe that exchange with him was in response > to an accusation by him that we had fired her because of > adultery. I was merely saying that she was not fired for > adultery, but because she had defied the board in not > discontinuing a relationship that was threatening to destroy > the ministry. (I might add that the doctor also told me he > would not break off the relationship, even though I pled with > him to do so.)

[The doctor will soon answer that question.]

That letter to Johann was correct, and it is > true that I have never directly accused her of adultery. That > does not mean that I believe Linda is innocent. If by adultery > one must be caught in bed with another person, I cannot prove > Linda has committed adultery. If, on the other hand, hard > evidence indicates that Linda was involved in an unacceptable > relationship with another man qualifies for adultery, then > there is no question about Danny's moral right to marry again.
> As a board, we have chosen not to make the details of the > evidence available to the public. I believe Satan is the > accuser of the brethern. We have chosen to take the "high > road" in this whole situation and say nothing more than we > have been forced to say to try to quell rumors. We care about > Linda and have tried not to do anything to hurt her more than > she has already been hurt. I can tell you that I personally > spent a great deal of time at 3ABN during those months when > this was all happening. I spoke with Linda and Danny on > numerous occasions. A sub committee of the board met and > prayed with Danny and Linda and pled with Linda to call off > the relationship. Danny and Linda spent an 8 hour session with > a pair of Christian counselors (non-Adventist in an attempt to > avoid bias) who had no doubts about the nature of Linda's > conduct.

[I was in communication both with Linda and Danny before and after that trip to Kansas. That couseling started with Danny indicating he would give that couple a substantial contribution. After that Danny downgraded Linda at least 50% of the time, and you know that Danny told you what he told the counselors as if they had said it. This is also how many of Danny's interviews run on TV. Here again, you listended merely to Danny's report of what happened, and ignored what Linda had to say, as you have done through this whole process.

Since we feel you are giving a false report, why can't we see the evidence you claim you have? Is it not substantial?]

We offered to provide Linda with the opportunity to > go away for counseling with a counselor agreeable to both she > and us. She did not respond to that offer or request. Finally,
> the full board met, reviewed Linda's letter of explanation,
> and voted unanimously to remove her from the ministry and her > seat on the board. Other church leaders who have been privy to > some of the evidence we have are in full agreement with our > decision.
>
> [Here again, it was couseling that you provided. Brainwashing?]
>
> The relationship Linda had with the Norwegian Dr. was not a > normal doctor-patient relationship as she claims. It is true.
> Linda was very concerned about her son Nathan. He was the > vehicle through which the Dr. reached Linda. Our evidence > leaves no question that this became much more than a > doctor-patient relationship. We know that the long hours on > the phone together were not about Nathan and have hard > evidence to support this knowledge - nor were times spent > together on both sides of the Atlantic.

[What is your evidence? Why can't we see it? What time did Arild and Linda spend together on both sides of the Atlantic? In another letter you state that they spent 10 days together in Norway in June. What evidence do you have for this? I have plenty of evidense that this was impossible because I was in close contact with Arild during that whole period.]

Furthermore, she > refused to break it off, even after weeks of pleading with her > to do so. We, the board believe the evidence we have clearly > justifies the divorce and gives Danny the moral and legal > right to remarry. Those in church leadership with whom we have > shared some of this evidence agree with us. Out of concern for > Linda we have been reluctant to make details public.
>
> [Linda refused to admit what she had not done. Danny demanded she declare that Arild was a devil, and that she refused to do. That is the evidence you have, and nothing else, unless you show it to us.]
>
> No, Danny is not to blame for what has happened here. On the > contrary, he has bent over backwards trying to make things > work and meeting her requests. Yet, she has never acknowledged > that it was wrong for her to have another "friend".
>
> [I was in constant communcation with Linda during this period, and I know that you are stretching this beynd the limits of what is permissible for a Christian.]
>
> The things I have stated here are accurate and correct. As far > as the lady Danny has married is concerned, I can only say I > believe his new wife is a very good person and will be a real > asset to him as he carries on his heavy responsibilities. Just > to clarify any rumor you may have heard, this relationship > began long after the divorce. I was at 3ABN when this lady > came from Florida looking for work. There was nothing going on > before that time, and Danny definitely was not trying to > "dump" Linda. I was with him during much of the time he > agonized and mourned her loss. It is one thing to lose a loved > one in death. It is much different to lose one to another > lover - like cutting a dog's tail off one inch at a time! As > to the matter of age difference, I will say that I do not > believe that is any of my business. I find nothing in the > Bible, and I don't remember any thing in the SOP indicating > age differences for married couples. If it is legal, and > morally correct, and if entered into with honesty, sincerity

> and earnest prayer for God's guidance, as I know happened > here, it is not for me to criticize. In my own musings about > this, I have concluded that it was no accident that brought > Brandy to 3ABN. Either the devil was behind it, or God was.
> There is no question in my mind which one it was.
>
> []
>
> (Archo Dart was for many years a family and marriage counselor > in the Adventist church. When in his 80's, he married one of > my patients, who was then in her 50's. She loved and admired > him till death many years later.)
>
> [What does that have to with this case?]
>
> I have had an interesting thought this week that I will share > with you. It is this. God lost one of his closest companions > when Lucifer went astray. More than that, myriads more angels > left with him when he left heaven. Talk about grief or > emotional pain. Experiences such as this with Linda, I think, > help us to understand the pain of loss, and the reality of the > war between God and Satan. Some have claimed it takes two to > divorce. I don't think that is categorically true!

[So true, because it was only Danny who wanted this divorce]
>
>
>
> This has been a terrible injury that has hit 3abn and Danny,
> and yes, Linda too, but it is one that I believe God > understands - and He continues to bless his servants.
>
>
>
> We recognize that we live in a world at war, and are working > with a ministry that the devil would like to see destroyed.
> The war is real, and as in any other war there are real > casualties. War is never pleasant, and spiritual battles may > be some of the worst. Our hearts still ache for those who have > been wounded. Our prayers continue to ascend on their behalf.
> Should acknowledgement of wrongdoing and penitence ever occur,
> we would be the first to forgive and forget. Unfortunately,
> that has not happened, and we must move on.
>
>
>
> Some who have been aware of the growing relationship and the > possibility of marriage have thought they should wait for a > longer period of time before marrying. In discussions before > the event, the 3ABN board reviewed the events of the past > couple years and have agreed that there was no moral or legal > reason precluding marriage. Realizing the heavy burdens > resting on Danny and of his need for companionship, we, the > board did not see any reason not to give our blessing to their > union. We hope you, our 3ABN family, will agree too, and with > us, welcome Brandy with open arms.

>
> [Yes, we welcome Brandy. And would have said nothing if it had't been for that conspiracy between you and Danny to get rid of Linda, and not only get rid of her, but making her life impossible with all of your falsehood, accusations, and phone calls to prevent her from enjoying the minnistry God has called her to perform.]
>
> Should you have any questions that I might answer, please feel > free to send them to me at 3ABN and I will do my best to try > to answer them.
>
>
>
> Sincerely in the precious name of Jesus,
>
>
>
>
>
> Walter Thompson
>
> Chairman, 3ABN Board of Directors.
>
> Walter Thompson MD

Posted by: statrei Jul 13 2006, 05:57 AM

All of this unnecessary aggravation is based on the faulty premise stated in Thompson letter that we have some "work of preaching the end time message of the Three Angel's to the world. " Nothing can be further from the truth and any corrective measures taken within the context of this belief will be of no avail.

Based on a lifetime of Adventism I find it amazing that when we are comparing ourselves with other groups we downplay their size and the benefits they bring to their membership in favor of the truth we have, but when it comes to assessing ourselves the most important things are the benefits we can observe. Such inconsistency.

Posted by: Johann Jul 13 2006, 07:37 AM

QUOTE

... the faulty premise stated in Thompson letter ... Such inconsistency.

No, I did not make a correct quotation. I'm merely catching your attention to the fact that finally Dr. Arild Abrahamsen has decided to speak out for himmself and Linda. We have long been praying that Walt Thompson and gang would abandon their harassment of Linda, preventing her from pursuing her own ministry and fulfilling preaching assignments.

Watch out for his story very soon on another thread. Stay tuned

---

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Jul 13 2006, 07:23 PM

I will be most interested in hearing from him seeing that he isn't under any gag order as Linda is.

Posted by: sonshineonme Jul 13 2006, 07:43 PM

QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Jul 13 2006, 06:23 PM)

I will be most interested in hearing from him seeing that he isn't under any gag order as Linda is.

JMO, but, I really do not expect Walt to reply at all - except he may stoop to create another trashy style letter out to the masses and if he does, it will probalby push him to go even further then he has recently in his letters, slamming Linda with more detail then anyone could make up, of course to CONVINCE those asking tough questions, that he has always told the truth. Each one is getting worse and worse. I hope you or anyone (I certainly don't) expect him to suddenly say, "ohhhh, right, I remember now, oops!". cause it ain't gonna happen, to be sure. Then too, remember that many of "his" letters are not really his, as those who know him, his style of writing, etc. have surely said his name is being used (most probably with his persmission) on many letters that are in fact written by Mollie and/or others. Not that it really matters who writes it and who signs it, for this has been a team effort all along....and the team has grown as necessary. On top of all this, again, Linda can't say a thing (and will not at this time). I guess she hasn't had to, has she?

Posted by: icedragon Jul 29 2006, 03:20 PM

QUOTE(Observer @ May 6 2006, 06:14 PM)

Reference has been made to a letter that Dr. Thompson circulated, and comments that were made by Gregory Matthews about that letter in another Adventist Forum. Here is that letter, and those comments:

" From Walter Thompson
>
> Chairman, 3ABN board of Directors
>
> Regarding Danny's marriage
>
> Dear Family and Friends of 3ABN,
>
> Two years ago 3ABN was challenged by the most difficult battle > the ministry has ever faced. It was a battle that threatened > the very existence of the ministry and the work of preaching > the end time message of the Three Angel's to the world. It is > only because of the grace and power of God Almighty, and the > faithful support of you, the 3ABN family, that the ministry > has survived to preach another day. Today, the ministry is > stronger than it has ever been and its reach into the world

> even broader and more powerful for the cause of truth.
>
> [See Note 1—GM.]
>
> As is always the case when in the public eye, questions arise, > stories abound, and rumors spread. We thank God that you have > trusted the leadership and board of 3ABN during this time and > have stayed with us in ministry. More recently some of you > have heard that Danny has found one to comfort him in his > loneliness and sorrow. You may have also heard rumors about an > allegedly illegal divorce occurring without Biblical grounds.
> This letter is an attempt to fill you in with the facts.
>
> [See Note 2—GM.]
>
> As chairman of the board I have been in the midst of this long > and drawn out ordeal from the beginning. I was there when we > counseled with Linda over and over again. I was present during > the pleas and prayers, seeking to get her to give up her > relationship with the doctor. I have seen and heard the > evidence upon which the board has taken the action that it has > taken. I have been one that has plead with Linda to keep her > marriage and her ministry and offered to provide counseling > for them. I have known Danny and Linda almost from the > beginning of the ministry and have been in their home many > times. They had a good marriage. It was not until this third > party got in the middle did things begin to fall apart. It is > also true that Danny really did want to get back together > again, but when it became obvious that couldn't happen, he > correctly had to close the door on that part of his history > lest it destroy him and the ministry.
>
> [See Note 3—GM]
>
> The divorce was a mutually agreed thing, even the choice to > get it from Guam where there would be no long wait. Linda had > originally planned to move to Las Vegas long enough to become > a resident there so as to get a divorce there. They then > discovered the possibility of a divorce from Guam, checked it > out and found it to be legal, and decided to go that route.
> Though I believe Guam has now stopped the program, the > legality of a Guam divorce had previously been taken to the > U.S. Supreme Court where it was ruled legitimate. As chairman > of the board, I did not try to influence the decision, but I > will say that had they not obtained a quick divorce, the > ministry would have been placed at much greater risk since the > situation was causing so much dysfunction with leadership and > staff. I believe time has verified the correctness of what was > done then, both by Danny and by the board for the ministry.
>
> [See Note 4—GM.]
>
> Linda's web site recently stated that she and Danny were not > divorced. She wrote this after the judge made the decision in > Danny's favor. She claims she did not know this when she wrote > it. Her web site referred to an e mail I sent to Johann > Thorvaldson a year earlier saying that I had never accused her > of adultery. I believe that exchange with him was in response > to an accusation by him that we had fired her because of > adultery. I was merely saying that she was not fired for > adultery, but because she had defied the board in not > discontinuing a relationship that was threatening to destroy > the ministry. (I might add that the doctor also told me he > would not break off the relationship, even though I pled with > him to do so.) That letter to Johann was correct, and it is > true that I have never directly accused her of adultery. That > does not mean that I believe Linda is innocent. If by adultery > one must be caught in bed with another person, I cannot prove > Linda has committed adultery. If, on the other hand, hard > evidence indicates that Linda was involved in an unacceptable > relationship with another man qualifies for adultery, then > there is no question about Danny's moral right to marry again.

> As a board, we have chosen not to make the details of the > evidence available to the public. I believe Satan is the > accuser of the brethern. We have chosen to take the "high > road" in this whole situation and say nothing more than we > have been forced to say to try to quell rumors. We care about > Linda and have tried not to do anything to hurt her more than > she has already been hurt. I can tell you that I personally > spent a great deal of time at 3ABN during those months when > this was all happening. I spoke with Linda and Danny on > numerous occasions. A sub committee of the board met and > prayed with Danny and Linda and pled with Linda to call off > the relationship. Danny and Linda spent an 8 hour session with > a pair of Christian counselors (non-Adventist in an attempt to > avoid bias) who had no doubts about the nature of Linda's > conduct. We offered to provide Linda with the opportunity to > go away for counseling with a counselor agreeable to both she > and us. She did not respond to that offer or request. Finally,
> the full board met, reviewed Linda's letter of explanation,
> and voted unanimously to remove her from the ministry and her > seat on the board. Other church leaders who have been privy to > some of the evidence we have are in full agreement with our > decision.
>
> [See Note 5—GM.]
>
> The relationship Linda had with the Norwegian Dr. was not a > normal doctor-patient relationship as she claims. It is true.
> Linda was very concerned about her son Nathan. He was the > vehicle through which the Dr. reached Linda. Our evidence > leaves no question that this became much more than a > doctor-patient relationship. We know that the long hours on > the phone together were not about Nathan and have hard > evidence to support this knowledge - nor were times spent > together on both sides of the Atlantic. Furthermore, she > refused to break it off, even after weeks of pleading with her > to do so. We, the board believe the evidence we have clearly > justifies the divorce and gives Danny the moral and legal > right to remarry. Those in church leadership with whom we have > shared some of this evidence agree with us. Out of concern for > Linda we have been reluctant to make details public.
>
> [See Note 6—GM.]
>
> No, Danny is not to blame for what has happened here. On the > contrary, he has bent over backwards trying to make things > work and meeting her requests. Yet, she has never acknowledged > that it was wrong for her to have another "friend".

>
> [See Note 7—GM.]
>
> The things I have stated here are accurate and correct. As far > as the lady Danny has married is concerned, I can only say I > believe his new wife is a very good person and will be a real > asset to him as he carries on his heavy responsibilities. Just > to clarify any rumor you may have heard, this relationship > began long after the divorce. I was at 3ABN when this lady > came from Florida looking for work. There was nothing going on > before that time, and Danny definitely was not trying to > "dump" Linda. I was with him during much of the time he > agonized and mourned her loss. It is one thing to lose a loved > one in death. It is much different to lose one to another > lover - like cutting a dog's tail off one inch at a time! As > to the matter of age difference, I will say that I do not > believe that is any of my business. I find nothing in the > Bible, and I don't remember any thing in the SOP indicating > age differences for married couples. If it is legal, and > morally correct, and if entered into with honesty, sincerity
> and earnest prayer for God's guidance, as I know happened > here, it is not for me to criticize. In my own musings about > this, I have concluded that it was no accident that brought > Brandy to 3ABN. Either the devil was behind it, or God was.
> There is no question in my mind which one it was.
>
> [See Note 8—GM.]
>
> (Archo Dart was for many years a family and marriage counselor > in the Adventist church. When in his 80's, he married one of > my patients, who was then in her 50's. She loved and admired > him till death many years later.)
>
>
>
> I have had an interesting thought this week that I will share > with you. It is this. God lost one of his closest companions > when Lucifer went astray. More than that, myriads more angels > left with him when he left heaven. Talk about grief or > emotional pain. Experiences such as this with Linda, I think, > help us to understand the pain of loss, and the reality of the > war between God and Satan. Some have claimed it takes two to > divorce. I don't think that is categorically true!
>
>
>
> This has been a terrible injury that has hit 3abn and Danny,
> and yes, Linda too, but it is one that I believe God > understands - and He continues to bless his servants.
>
>
>
> We recognize that we live in a world at war, and are working > with a ministry that the devil would like to see destroyed.
> The war is real, and as in any other war there are real > casualties. War is never pleasant, and spiritual battles may > be some of the worst. Our hearts still ache for those who have > been wounded. Our prayers continue to ascend on their behalf.

> Should acknowledgement of wrongdoing and penitence ever occur,
> we would be the first to forgive and forget. Unfortunately,
> that has not happened, and we must move on.
>
>
>
> Some who have been aware of the growing relationship and the > possibility of marriage have thought they should wait for a > longer period of time before marrying. In discussions before > the event, the 3ABN board reviewed the events of the past > couple years and have agreed that there was no moral or legal > reason precluding marriage. Realizing the heavy burdens > resting on Danny and of his need for companionship, we, the > board did not see any reason not to give our blessing to their > union. We hope you, our 3ABN family, will agree too, and with > us, welcome Brandy with open arms.
>
> [See Note 9—GM.]
>
> Should you have any questions that I might answer, please feel > free to send them to me at 3ABN and I will do my best to try > to answer them.
>
>
>
> Sincerely in the precious name of Jesus,
>
>
>
>
>
> Walter Thompson
>
> Chairman, 3ABN Board of Directors.
>
> Walter Thompson MD

Gregory

Post Extras: Manage this thread

Gregory Matthews
Chaplain
Reged: May 10 2000
Posts: 6090
Loc: Colorado, USA Re: The Dr. Thompson Letter. [Re: Gregory Matthews]
#213462 - Mon Apr 10 2006 10:45 AM Edit Reply Quote Quick Reply

Was this letter generated april 10 2006 in club adventist??? I am trying to edit and arrange in order hese quotes by date.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 29 2006, 10:51 PM

Just a suggestion - can we only quote the entire letter if we are going to address points within the entire letter - then only by underlining the parts that are to be addressed? When you quote such a long article/letter it takes up pages on the board...

Jes a suggestion....

JMO

Powered by Invision Power Board (http://www.invisionboard.com)
© Invision Power Services (http://www.invisionpower.com)

207

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ A Time For Action

Posted by: calvin Jul 15 2006, 07:30 PM

Many have called for this a time to pray for God's intervention into 3ABN, put it in the Lords hand and let His will be done. There is a time to pray and then there is a time to act! So what are we going to do? Sit passively by and post another couple thousand messages on the subject? Anyone that reads this letter has to give pause and concern about the leadership of 3ABN, about what has been distributed as the official spin from them.

Why don't we in a grassroots effort distribute this letter to our church pastor, members, conferences, union and GC leadership; Breath of life, Amazing Facts, AR, friends, family, etc, etc. 3ABN is a private independent ministry that is not answerable to the Adventist church in any official capacity, but 3ABN needs the church to survive. We need to get the donors, and church leaders and others of influence to ask questions and seek answers from 3ABN in light of this letter, possibly call for an independent investigation.

Daryl, will MSAOL join us in this effort, Observer and others at CA will you help?

Here is my opening paragraph. Feel free to use it or any part.

Here is a letter that was first published on blacksda.com, an independent Adventist virtual online community. 3ABN has been a tremendous asset and invaluable resource in spreading the Advent message. However, this letter brings to light some unChrist-like practices of the 3ABN leadership. The management of BlackSDA is calling for 3ABN to answer these allegations and submit to an independent investigation.

Posted by: sonshineonme Jul 15 2006, 07:53 PM

QUOTE(calvin @ Jul 15 2006, 06:30 PM)

Many have called for this a time to pray for God's intervention into 3ABN, put it in the Lords hand and let His will be done. There is a time to pray and then there is a time to act! So what are we going to do? Sit passively by and post another couple thousand messages on the subject? Anyone that reads this letter has to give pause and concern about the leadership of 3ABN, about what has been distributed as the official spin from them.

Why don't we in a grassroots effort distribute this letter to our church pastor, members, conferences, union and GC leadership; Breath of life, Amazing Facts, AR, friends, family, etc, etc. 3ABN is a private independent ministry that is not answerable to the Adventist church in any official capacity, but 3ABN needs the church to survive. We need to get the donors, and church leaders and others of influence to ask questions and seek answers from 3ABN in light of this letter, possibly call for an independent investigation.

Daryl, will MSAOL join us in this effort, Observer and others at CA will you help?

Here is my opening paragraph. Feel free to use it or any part.

Here is a letter that was first published on blacksda.com, an independent Adventist virtual online community. 3ABN has been a tremendous asset and invaluable resource in spreading the Advent message. However, this letter brings to light some unChrist-like practices of the 3ABN leadership. The management of BlackSDA is calling for 3ABN to answer these allegations and submit to an independent investigation.

have been thinking all day long (and really for months now) what I could do about this - little o'l me. am a friend of Linda's, and have hurt for her for some time. After this letter was finally out, I vondered what I could do with it. Our campmeeting starts this next week, and I thought I would get :opies of it and leave them in various hand picked places, also try to watch people's reaction. I also :onsidered leaving them somewhere in the 3abn tent...hmmm...not cool I suppose. I know it should ɟo to the "leaders", but it's the "little" people that need to see it. They are the ones that can make the ıeat under the leaders, I am afraid the leaders are to AFRAID to do anything - especially when they von't work together. No one wants to stand up. When a little person stands up, they treat you like ʼour nuts. Hence, all my thought about what to do... like your thinking Calvin, I think you are on to something. I think it will take some combined effort ınd pressure and not letting up to really shake this up, the people deserve it - Linda deserves it too. ʎnd, with prayer, God will give us the best ideas.

Posted by: Johann Jul 15 2006, 08:02 PM

QUOTE(calvin @ Jul 16 2006, 03:30 AM)

Many have called for this a time to pray for God's intervention into 3ABN, put it in the Lords hand and let His will be done. There is a time to pray and then there is a time to act! So what are we going to do? Sit passively by and post another couple thousand messages on the subject? Anyone that reads this letter has to give pause and concern about the leadership of 3ABN, about what has been distributed as the official spin from them.

Why don't we in a grassroots effort distribute this letter to our church pastor, members, conferences, union and GC leadership; Breath of life, Amazing Facts, AR, friends, family, etc, etc. 3ABN is a private independent ministry that is not answerable to the Adventist church in any official capacity, but 3ABN needs the church to survive. We need to get the donors, and church leaders and others of influence to ask questions and seek answers from 3ABN in light of this letter, possibly call for an independent investigation.

Daryl, will MSAOL join us in this effort, Observer and others at CA will you help?

Here is my opening paragraph. Feel free to use it or any part.

Here is a letter that was first published on blacksda.com, an independent Adventist virtual online community. 3ABN has been a tremendous asset and invaluable resource in spreading the Advent message. However, this letter brings to light some unChrist-like practices of the 3ABN leadership. The management of BlackSDA is calling for 3ABN to answer these allegations and submit to an independent investigation.

:alvin, I am very grateful for your courageous stand, and I am fully behind what you are doing. We ılready see the world-wide vibrations taking place as evidenced by messages from concerned people n different parts of the world.

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Jul 15 2006, 08:26 PM

This has become really hot topics over at MSDAOL with what is also to me new damaging information to Danny Shelton, that I haven't yet read anywhere else, from a first hand person, a pastor's wife, who with her pastor husband, worked at 3ABN.

We are also discussing what can be done and how, therefore, I will take this "a time for action" idea over there.

Posted by: Clay Jul 15 2006, 08:38 PM

yep... I will spread the word.....

Posted by: sonshineonme Jul 15 2006, 08:39 PM

QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Jul 15 2006, 07:26 PM)

This has become really hot topics over at MSDAOL with what is also to me new damaging information to Danny Shelton, that I haven't yet read anywhere else, from a first hand person, a pastor's wife, who with her pastor husband, worked at 3ABN.

We are also discussing what can be done and how, therefore, I will take this "a time for action" idea over there.

Please lead me to this new information - unless you want to copy it here - but I would be happy to read it for myself - is it open to anyone to read? On second hand, I have registered at your site, if it is open to anyone to read on your site, once registered, I can locate it with a search of 3abn? If not, please advise.

Posted by: watchbird Jul 15 2006, 08:55 PM

QUOTE(calvin @ Jul 15 2006, 07:30 PM)

Many have called for this a time to pray for God's intervention into 3ABN, put it in the Lords hand and let His will be done. There is a time to pray and then there is a time to act! So what are we going to do? Sit passively by and post another couple thousand messages on the subject? Anyone that reads this letter has to give pause and concern about the leadership of 3ABN, about what has been distributed as the official spin from them.

Why don't we in a grassroots effort distribute this letter to our church pastor, members, conferences, union and GC leadership; Breath of life, Amazing Facts, AR, friends, family, etc, etc. 3ABN is a private independent ministry that is not answerable to the Adventist church in any official capacity, but 3ABN needs the church to survive. We need to get the donors, and church leaders and others of influence to ask questions and seek answers from 3ABN in light of this letter, possibly call for an independent investigation.

Daryl, will MSAOL join us in this effort, Observer and others at CA will you help?

Here is my opening paragraph. Feel free to use it or any part.

Here is a letter that was first published on blacksda.com, an independent Adventist virtual online community. 3ABN has been a tremendous asset and invaluable resource in spreading the Advent message. However, this letter brings to light some unChrist-like practices of the 3ABN leadership. The management of BlackSDA is calling for 3ABN to answer these allegations and submit to an independent investigation.

'd like to suggest something which would at the same time be more simple and more comprehensive. The letter from Arild, as valuable as it is to us and to those who have already been following the events, is not going to be nearly so meaningful to those who might be getting it for the first time. What I would like to suggest is to each of us print simple little cards--calling card size--which we can hand out in our churches, our campmeetings, and wherever else people gather. These would say something very simple, like for example,

Have you ever had questions about the changes that have occurred at 3ABN over the last two years?
If so, BSDA is the place for you.
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?showforum=48
Free access to all, with or without registration.

This idea could also be combined with Calvin's, except rather than sending the whole AA letter, one might just send a very short resume of the problem and what we see needing to be done ... but again urging the reader to come to BSDA for more reading.

Can you get churches to run something like this in their newsletters?
Can you get conferences to run this in their conference comuniques?
I know some that wouldn't ... I think there are some that would.)
How about churches who have websites?
How many of those can we get to run a short blurb for BSDA?
Can some "take a page" from those who in past years have tucked flyers under car windshield wipers during mass meeting or who kept piles of brochures in church restrooms?

And what we also need to keep in mind is this -- that there truly are those in high places who are afraid to move on this because they fear the strength of the 3ABN supporters. Anything we can do to first of all cause those supporters to change, and secondly to communicate to conference officials that this has happened, will strengthen the hands of those who really want to cleanse the camp and disentangle the Church from 3ABN.

As for keeping on here? Well, we maybe don't need to put up the same number of posts per day, but we do need to hang around to answer questions or comments that new visitors will have.

But besides that, the story is not all told. There are more questions to ask. More answers to give. More stories to tell.

Stay tuned....

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Jul 15 2006, 09:15 PM

QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jul 15 2006, 11:39 PM)

Please lead me to this new information - unless you want to copy it here - but I would be happy to read it for myself - is it open to anyone to read? On second hand, I have registered at your site, if it is open to anyone to read on your site, once registered, I can locate it with a search of 3abn? If not, please advise.

'ou asked here, therefore, I will answer you hear by telling you that the new information is in the "Dr. \rild Abrahamsen speaks out for himself and Linda Shelton" topic over at MSDAOL.

Posted by: LadyTenor Jul 15 2006, 10:16 PM

Posted by: sister Jul 15 2006, 10:51 PM

QUOTE(calvin @ Jul 15 2006, 08:30 PM)

Many have called for this a time to pray for God's intervention into 3ABN, put it in the Lords hand and let His will be done. There is a time to pray and then there is a time to act! So what are we going to do? Sit passively by and post another couple thousand messages on the subject? Anyone that reads this letter has to give pause and concern about the leadership of 3ABN, about what has been distributed as the official spin from them.

Why don't we in a grassroots effort distribute this letter to our church pastor, members, conferences, union and GC leadership; Breath of life, Amazing Facts, AR, friends, family, etc, etc. 3ABN is a private independent ministry that is not answerable to the Adventist church in any official capacity, but 3ABN needs the church to survive. We need to get the donors, and church leaders and others of influence to ask questions and seek answers from 3ABN in light of this letter, possibly call for an independent investigation.

Daryl, will MSAOL join us in this effort, Observer and others at CA will you help?

Here is my opening paragraph. Feel free to use it or any part.

Here is a letter that was first published on blacksda.com, an independent Adventist virtual online community. 3ABN has been a tremendous asset and invaluable resource in spreading the Advent message. However, this letter brings to light some unChrist-like practices of the 3ABN leadership. The management of BlackSDA is calling for 3ABN to answer these allegations and submit to an independent investigation.

:alvin,

t was exactly three months ago today when I made the first post in the thread "An Unauthorized ıistory of 3ABN". The Lord impressed me that I had information to share and that BSDA was the right ›lace and it was the right time. We have struggled twice over the closing of thread and reopening it. 3oth times, even though you were personally not convinced of the truth contained in all of my ıarratives, you still upheld my right to continue to speak freely within certain agreed upon boundaries. \nd it was you who approached me in regard to gathering all the 3ABN threads together in their own ;ection, including the chapter divisions of "An Unauthorized History of 3ABN" in order to make the nformation more easily accessible. Personally, I believe that it was the Lord's leading. And now with he testimony of Dr. Arild Abrahamsen, you have publicly confessed that you no longer stand on the ence, but accept the truth of his witness.

:alvin, I want to personally thank you for spearheading this call for action. Like the good Samaritan, 'ou have seen the victims lying at the side of the road—battered, bruised and bleeding—and instead ›f merely stopping with a look of sadness on your face and shaking your head at the iniquity of it all and then going on—you knelt down. Not worrying about the victims blood staining your clothing, you gently began to minister to their needs—with no thought for yourself. Your actions speak loudly and I am sure that they are registered in the Lamb's Book of Life. God bless you, Calvin, for following your conviction to do what is just.

Sister

Posted by: Observer Jul 16 2006, 03:50 AM

The question has been asked: "Daryl, will MSAOL join us in this effort, Observer and others at CA will you help?" The follow-up question is: How can one effect a change at 3ABN?

In my thinking, the answers fall into the following categories:

1) God will need to bring about change.

This answer suggests two possibilities. One might do nothing and simply wait for God to act. Or, one might take some action, in an attempt to cooperate with God in bringing about change.

2) Someone steps forward to use civil institutions to effect that needed change.

This could be the filing of a civil lawsuit, or of criminal charges, is cause existed for such. It could include investigations by IRS authorities, if reason for such existed. There are probably other venues and methods that could be used to e effect change.

My personal opinion as to how we can effect change is:

a) I think that we are very limited in effecting change through the SDA denomination. I do not think that the SDA denomination has much "clout" in effecting change, contrary the thinking of others.

b) Those with inside information can work with the IRS to do forensic audits of 3ABN's books. But that is a long-shot. It is doubtful that anything could be discovered that would result in more than additional payments of taxes and potentially fines. Such would not likely "bring down" 3ABN, if that was desired.

c) Effecting change at 3ABN might require someone like Linda (Dr. A, and there are others) file a civil action for libel. Under the right circumstances this might get things out into the open that would bring about a change in 3ABN. But, such would come at a high cost to some people, such as Linda. The possibility exists that her "ministry" would be "dead in the water," so to speak. Only she (and the others) can make the decision as to whether or not they are wiling to pay that Cost.

d) Effecting change at 3ABN might require someone with in-depth personal involvement to come forward publicly. Let me give an example: Let us say that a leader at 3ABN (You may pick any person you wish.) had a sexual relationship with someone other than their marital spouse, and that this was an important issues in this discussion. That relationship might have been consensual. It might not have been consensual. But, it was a relationship. That person might need for come forward publicly. Doing so would result in paying a big price.

Folks, there may be innocent victims in this case. These "innocent victims" may not be willing to pay the price.

The above is simply my personal opinion as to what it may take to effect change at 3ABN.

Posted by: Clay Jul 16 2006, 06:40 AM

QUOTE(Observer @ Jul 16 2006, 04:50 AM)

The question has been asked: "Daryl, will MSAOL join us in this effort, Observer and others at CA will you help?" The follow-up question is: How can one effect a change at 3ABN?

In my thinking, the answers fall into the following categories:

1) God will need to bring about change.

This answer suggests two possibilities. One might do nothing and simply wait for God to act. Or, one might take some action, in an attempt to cooperate with God in bringing about change.

2) Someone steps forward to use civil institutions to effect that needed change.

This could be the filing of a civil lawsuit, or of criminal charges, is cause existed for such. It could include investigations by IRS authorities, if reason for such existed. There are probably other venues and methods that could be used to e effect change.

My personal opinion as to how we can effect change is:

a) I think that we are very limited in effecting change through the SDA denomination. I do not think that the SDA denomination has much "clout" in effecting change, contrary the thinking of others.

Those with inside information can work with the IRS to do forensic audits of 3ABN's books. But that is a long-shot. It is doubtful that anything could be discovered that would result in more than additional payments of taxes and potentially fines. Such would not likely "bring down" 3ABN, if that was desired.

c) Effecting change at 3ABN might require someone like Linda (Dr. A, and there are others) file a civil action for libel. Under the right circumstances this might get things out into the open that would bring about a change in 3ABN. But, such would come at a high cost to some people, such as Linda. The possibility exists that her "ministry" would be "dead in the water," so to speak. Only she (and the others) can make the decision as to whether or not they are wiling to pay that Cost.

d) Effecting change at 3ABN might require someone with in-depth personal involvement to come forward publicly. Let me give an example: Let us say that a leader at 3ABN (You may pick any person you wish.) had a sexual relationship with someone other than their marital spouse, and that this was an important issues in this discussion. That relationship might have been consensual. It might not have been consensual. But, it was a relationship. That person might need for come forward publicly. Doing so would result in paying a big price.

Folks, there may be innocent victims in this case. These "innocent victims" may not be willing to pay the price.

The above is simply my personal opinion as to what it may take to effect change at 3ABN.

All valid points.... in the end 3abn is a private .org and as I have said before maybe the only thing the church will do is distance itself from 3abn....

My issue from the start is that Linda was mistreated, should have been treated better... I hope she is able to get the marital assets that she is seeking....

Posted by: September Jul 16 2006, 12:08 PM

How about writing to the various ABC's and sharing the letter with them while asking them to remove any of Danny's books or other 3ABN publications from their shelves...this would include music CD's, DVD's, from various 3ABN staff--including John Lomacang and others.

I know the manager of a local ABC and I will be sharing the letter with him this week.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 16 2006, 12:13 PM

What about also sending copies of the letter to the various churches, and even posting it on the campus of our universities and colleges?

JMO

Posted by: Observer Jul 16 2006, 03:45 PM

> QUOTE(September @ Jul 16 2006, 11:08 AM)
>
> How about writing to the various ABC's and sharing the letter with them while asking them to remove any of Danny's books or other 3ABN publications from their shelves...this would include music CD's, DVD's, from various 3ABN staff--including John Lomacang and others.
>
> I know the manager of a local ABC and I will be sharing the letter with him this week.

You are suggesting the same method that 3ABN has used against Linda. Is it wrong for them, and right for us? Do we want to operate on the same level that we have condemned in them?

NOTE: If you were to do such, you would clearly open yourself up to a potential civil lawsuit.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 16 2006, 03:54 PM

> QUOTE(Observer @ Jul 16 2006, 04:45 PM)
>
> You are suggesting the same method that 3ABN has used against Linda. Is it wrong for them, and right for us? Do we want to operate on the same level that we have condemned in them?
>
> NOTE: If you were to do such, you would clearly open yourself up to a potential civil lawsuit.

I believe that you can only be "sued" if they can prove you wrong. Since too much info proves Danny wrong - I believe the ball is not in his court anymore.

Besides.

What if the "good Dr" had sent the letter personally to the ABC's? What would be different?

None - IMO.

Posted by: September Jul 16 2006, 04:39 PM

QUOTE(Observer @ Jul 16 2006, 04:45 PM)

You are suggesting the same method that 3ABN has used against Linda. Is it wrong for them, and right for us? Do we want to operate on the same level that we have condemned in them?

NOTE: If you were to do such, you would clearly open yourself up to a potential civil lawsuit.

How is that? I thought one of the points of the letter that the Dr. wrote was to get the word out about what Danny has done to Linda...then Calvin placed this call to action and encouraged us to do what we could to spread the word and get the truth out there. I hardly think I would be subjected to a civil lawsuit any more than anyone else who would share the letter.

Posted by: watchbird Jul 16 2006, 06:07 PM

QUOTE(September @ Jul 16 2006, 04:39 PM)

How is that? I thought one of the points of the letter that the Dr. wrote was to get the word out about what Danny has done to Linda...then Calvin placed this call to action and encouraged us to do what we could to spread the word and get the truth out there. I hardly think I would be subjected to a civil lawsuit any more than anyone else who would share the letter.

The point of the letter was that Linda was innocent, and that the Dr. was also innocent. The call to action is to spread the word as to where people can find information. The difference in what you suggested and what others have suggested was the part about telling the ABC guy to pull 3ABN stuff off the shelves. It is fine to go to the ABC guy and say, "Look, are you aware of the "other side" of the things that are said about 3ABN in these books you are selling of theirs?" And are you aware that Dr. Abrahamson has written a letter giving his side of the story? And then ask if he will read the material on the website, including the letter. Or give him a copy of the letter if you wish. But don't push him. After he has had a chance to read BSDA, then go back in and ask him what he thinks about it, and what he thinks should be done. And don't be surprised if he is very non-committal. He does not, ITFA have the authority to refuse to handle books that patrons have requested except in the rare instances where the Church officials hand down "orders". And as I said, that is a very rare occurance.

Posted by: calvin Jul 16 2006, 09:45 PM

QUOTE(Observer @ Jul 16 2006, 03:50 AM)

The question has been asked: "Daryl, will MSAOL join us in this effort, Observer and others at CA will you help?" The follow-up question is: How can one effect a change at 3ABN?

In my thinking, the answers fall into the following categories:

1) God will need to bring about change.

This answer suggests two possibilities. One might do nothing and simply wait for God to act. Or, one might take some action, in an attempt to cooperate with God in bringing about change.

2) Someone steps forward to use civil institutions to effect that needed change.

This could be the filing of a civil lawsuit, or of criminal charges, is cause existed for such. It could include investigations by IRS authorities, if reason for such existed. There are probably other venues and methods that could be used to e effect change.

My personal opinion as to how we can effect change is:

a) I think that we are very limited in effecting change through the SDA denomination. I do not think that the SDA denomination has much "clout" in effecting change, contrary the thinking of others.

Those with inside information can work with the IRS to do forensic audits of 3ABN's books. But that is a long-shot. It is doubtful that anything could be discovered that would result in more than additional payments of taxes and potentially fines. Such would not likely "bring down" 3ABN, if that was desired.

c) Effecting change at 3ABN might require someone like Linda (Dr. A, and there are others) file a civil action for libel. Under the right circumstances this might get things out into the open that would bring about a change in 3ABN. But, such would come at a high cost to some people, such as Linda. The possibility exists that her "ministry" would be "dead in the water," so to speak. Only she (and the others) can make the decision as to whether or not they are wiling to pay that Cost.

d) Effecting change at 3ABN might require someone with in-depth personal involvement to come forward publicly. Let me give an example: Let us say that a leader at 3ABN (You may pick any person you wish.) had a sexual relationship with someone other than their marital spouse, and that this was an important issues in this discussion. That relationship might have been consensual. It might not have been consensual. But, it was a relationship. That person might need for come forward publicly. Doing so would result in paying a big price.

Folks, there may be innocent victims in this case. These "innocent victims" may not be willing to pay the price.

The above is simply my personal opinion as to what it may take to effect change at 3ABN.

You ask how can BSDA or any message board effect change at 3ABN, you also believe that there is little we can do to make a difference. I think you are wrong. 50 years ago a woman refused to go to back of the bus. Black people rallied around Rosa Parks and boycotted the bus company and after several months not only did not have to go to the back of the bus, but they got Black bus drivers too, thus the civil rights movement was born. This is one example, but throughout history we have examples of one person, or a small group of people driving change.

I can only assume that you are in the do nothing/wait on the Lord camp. I am not. God uses human agent to do His work. Jesus was a man of action. I believe the Lord expects us to everything in our power to help ourselves and others. Personally, I just feel better when I know that I have done all that I can and then put it God's hands.

We don't need someone filing a law suit for tax evasion as you suggested. Regardless of Danny's hold on 3ABN, when he becomes a liability to the church, 3ABN will be cutoff. I believe there are men and women of influence with backbone, that maybe where not aware of these allegations made by Dr. A,. that will ask will want to get to the bottom of this, that do believe that our church leaders and public figures should adhere to high moral and ethical standards, if not then this church is really in a sorry state of affairs.

I was talking with someone who attended the 3abn campmeeting in May. Danny repeatedly told the crowd that he is tired of responding to rumors and lies about him and his ministry. He said he is not answering anymore questions. He wants this to go away. This is all the more reason we need to get this letter out so the questions will continue to be asked....and as Watchbird suggest, get the Dr Thompson letter out too and let people decide who is lying.

Posted by: sonshineonme Jul 16 2006, 09:55 PM

QUOTE(calvin @ Jul 16 2006, 08:45 PM)

You ask how can BSDA or any message board effect change at 3ABN, you also believe that there is little we can do to make a difference. I think you are wrong. 50 years ago a woman refused to go to back of the bus. Black people rallied around Rosa Parks and boycotted the bus company and after several months not only did not have to go to the back of the bus, but they got Black bus drivers too, thus the civil rights movement was born. This is one example, but throughout history we have examples of one person, or a small group of people driving change.

I can only assume that you are in the do nothing/wait on the Lord camp. I am not. God uses human agent to do His work. Jesus was a man of action. I believe the Lord expects us to everything in our power to help ourselves and others. Personally, I just feel better when I know that I have done all that I can and then put it God's hands.

We don't need someone filing a law suit for tax evasion as you suggested. Regardless of Danny's hold on 3ABN, when he becomes a liability to the church, 3ABN will be cutoff. I believe there are men and women of influence with backbone, that maybe where not aware of these allegations made by Dr. A,. that will ask will want to get to the bottom of this, that do believe that our church leaders and public figures should adhere to high moral and ethical standards, if not then this church is really in a sorry state of affairs.

I was talking with someone who attended the 3abn campmeeting in May. Danny repeatedly told the crowd that he is tired of responding to rumors and lies about him and his ministry. He said he is not answering anymore questions. He wants this to go away. This is all the more reason we need to get this letter out so the questions will continue to be asked....and as Watchbird suggest, get the Dr Thompson letter out too and let people decide who is lying.

Danny will have to answer more whether he wants to or not. He started this mess.
I am taking a few copies of Dr. Arild Abrahamsen's letter with me to campmeeting tomorrow. I am praying (and would like prayer) for guidance of where to leave them, and that they go to the right peoples hands. If anyone has a strong feeling about my placement of these, please write me. I really want the might hand of God to multiply my efforts as he did the loaves and fishes.

Posted by: sister Jul 16 2006, 10:13 PM

QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jul 16 2006, 10:55 PM)

Danny will have to answer more whether he wants to or not. He started this mess.
I am taking a few copies of Dr. Arild Abrahamsen's letter with me to campmeeting tomorrow. I am praying (and would like prayer) for guidance of where to leave them, and that they go to the right peoples hands. If anyone has a strong feeling about my placement of these, please write me. I really want the might hand of God to multiply my efforts as he did the loaves and fishes.

Sonshineonme, if you want God to multiply your efforts, than multiply the number of copies. Let them flood the campmeeting like the rising tide on the shoreline. The more that are available, the sooner it will become an active topic. tableta He is faithful and your efforts will bear fruit. Be bold, be strong, the Lord thy God is with Thee! You go girl!

Posted by: LadyTenor Jul 16 2006, 11:42 PM

The only reason Danny can sue is for defamation of character. Yes, this is on the bar exam....

Without going into the legal details (unless anyone here wants me to), my opinion is that Danny has no case. Even if he did, he has nothing to gain from any of us here unless some of us are wealthy and have assets in our own names for him to attach a judgement to. There is always the route of an injunction...but I digress...

...Danny has no case...

Posted by: Nuggie Jul 17 2006, 04:28 AM

QUOTE(LadyTenor @ Jul 17 2006, 12:42 AM)

The only reason Danny can sue is for defamation of character. Yes, this is on the bar exam....

Without going into the legal details (unless anyone here wants me to), my opinion is that Danny has no case. Even if he did, he has nothing to gain from any of us here unless some of us are wealthy and have assets in our own names for him to attach a judgement to. There is always the route of an injunction...but I digress...

...Danny has no case...

Even if he does sue wouldn't he run the risk of having all the gory details of this whole sordid mess dragged out into the open where he can be challenged directly? I'm guessing he would have to counter all of the accusations that were brought against him, right? And judging from what I've read in these threads he's not gonna want to have to answer direct questions about what is truth and what is fiction. So even if he can sue, he probably won't want to.

Posted by: watchbird Jul 17 2006, 04:44 AM

QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jul 16 2006, 09:55 PM)

Danny will have to answer more whether he wants to or not. He started this mess.
I am taking a few copies of Dr. Arild Abrahamsen's letter with me to campmeeting tomorrow. I am praying (and would like prayer) for guidance of where to leave them, and that they go to the right peoples hands. If anyone has a strong feeling about my placement of these, please write me. I really want the might hand of God to multiply my efforts as he did the loaves and fishes.

QUOTE(sister @ Jul 16 2006, 10:13 PM)

Sonshineonme, if you want God to multiply your efforts, than multiply the number of copies. Let them flood the campmeeting like the rising tide on the shoreline. The more that are available, the sooner it will become an active topic. tableta He is faithful and your efforts will bear fruit. Be bold, be strong, the Lord thy God is with Thee! You go girl!

I agree with Sister. While God can multiply the effects of even a "few" like he did the loaves and fishes on that "campmeeting" so many years ago, he can do even more the more that he has to work with. I would suggest reducing the type size so the whole thing will take as few pages as possible, and do add a line recommending BSDA and giving the url for those who desire "more information." Do at least a triple fold, perhaps a quad would be better, so they are easily carried in your purse, and will take up comparatively little space on an "exhibit" table -- and if possible, print them so that there will be an attention grabbing question on what will become the outside, top fold,

As to where to put them? The absolute best place to start is "at the top". While it could be devastating to get a "no" answer, talking with your Conference President, or if he is not available some other highly placed official, so as to let them know your concerns and the purpose of your passing out such materials and if possible to secure at least their tacit approval, is absolutely the best way to go. Every campmeeting has its flock of detractors hanging about like a cloud of mosquitos, and most every campmeeting attendee has learned to avoid them like the plague. So you want to make as sure as possible that you and your material will not be classed with them.

The next step would be to find one or more already established exhibits booths who will allow you to place your material on their table and will be willing to keep an eye on it so as to prevent those who might walk up and take the whole stack so as to merely dispose of it. Again, if you can get an official church department to do so, that would be best--perhaps family ministries or women's ministries might be willing to do so. Perhaps Polly's Place will have a booth there? If so, then it is highly likely that whoever is representing them there would be glad to have your letter on their table.

And besides these display places, of course, carry a supply with you so as to have one to offer to any whom you meet and who shows interest. If you have time you could "hang around" the ABC area where 3ABN books are on display and keep an ear out for any who look as though they might already be having questions about them.

This may be much to short notice for you to do very much along these lines, and if so, just do what you can for now, and work towards the larger goals as you can. God will bless.

Posted by: watchbird Jul 17 2006, 04:57 AM

QUOTE(sister @ Jul 15 2006, 10:51 PM)

Calvin,

It was exactly three months ago today when I made the first post in the thread "An Unauthorized History of 3ABN". The Lord impressed me that I had information to share and that BSDA was the right place and it was the right time. We have struggled twice over the closing of thread and reopening it. Both times, even though you were personally not convinced of the truth contained in all of my narratives, you still upheld my right to continue to speak freely within certain agreed upon boundaries. And it was you who approached me in regard to gathering all the 3ABN threads together in their own section, including the chapter divisions of "An Unauthorized History of 3ABN" in order to make the information more easily accessible. Personally, I believe that it was the Lord's leading. And now with the testimony of Dr. Arild Abrahamsen, you have publicly confessed that you no longer stand on the fence, but accept the truth of his witness.

Calvin, I want to personally thank you for spearheading this call for action. Like the good Samaritan, you have seen the victims lying at the side of the road—battered, bruised and bleeding—and instead of merely stopping with a look of sadness on your face and shaking your head at the iniquity of it all and then going on—you knelt down. Not worrying about the victims blood staining your clothing, you gently began to minister to their needs—with no thought for yourself. Your actions speak loudly and I am sure that they are registered in the Lamb's Book of Life. God bless you, Calvin, for following your conviction to do what is just.

Sister

I want to add my personal thanks to that of Sister's above. And I also want to personally thank you, Sister, for your sensitivity to the Lord's leading and your willingness to follow your conviction and prepare and present your very helpful narratives. They have been, IMO, the catalyst and the guiding star that has welded the various stories together as others came forward to share, and has pointed us in the directions we needed to look in order to find truth and display it for the world to see.

I do hope that you will be returning soon with new chapters in the "Unauthorized History". There are many more stories that need to be told, and the passing of time will make even more of the old stories both safe and appropriate to tell.

Thank you. Thank you. sig

Posted by: LadyTenor Jul 17 2006, 06:18 AM

QUOTE(Nuggie @ Jul 17 2006, 05:28 AM)

Even if he does sue wouldn't he run the risk of having all the gory details of this whole sordid mess dragged out into the open where he can be challenged directly? I'm guessing he would have to counter all of the accusations that were brought against him, right? And judging from what I've read in these threads he's not gonna want to have to answer direct questions about what is truth and what is fiction. So even if he can sue, he probably won't want to.

Posted by: icedragon Jul 17 2006, 01:57 PM

QUOTE(calvin @ Jul 15 2006, 07:30 PM)

Many have called for this a time to pray for God's intervention into 3ABN, put it in the Lords hand and let His will be done. There is a time to pray and then there is a time to act! So what are we going to do? Sit passively by and post another couple thousand messages on the subject? Anyone that reads this letter has to give pause and concern about the leadership of 3ABN, about what has been distributed as the official spin from them.

Why don't we in a grassroots effort distribute this letter to our church pastor, members, conferences, union and GC leadership; Breath of life, Amazing Facts, AR, friends, family, etc, etc. 3ABN is a private independent ministry that is not answerable to the Adventist church in any official capacity, but 3ABN needs the church to survive. We need to get the donors, and church leaders and others of influence to ask questions and seek answers from 3ABN in light of this letter, possibly call for an independent investigation.

Daryl, will MSAOL join us in this effort, Observer and others at CA will you help?

Here is my opening paragraph. Feel free to use it or any part.

Here is a letter that was first published on blacksda.com, an independent Adventist virtual online community. 3ABN has been a tremendous asset and invaluable resource in spreading the Advent message. However, this letter brings to light some unChrist-like practices of the 3ABN leadership. The management of BlackSDA is calling for 3ABN to answer these allegations and submit to an independent investigation.

I will help in any way I can. I live in a major Sda Center I will make sure they know the truth. I would like to request that a the interviews of all parties be put together in one location in a readable format, easy to read,easy to acess. I am also in favor of a petition drive to have Danny, Kay and Walter removed from the respective position @ 3abn or face a financial strike. Danny, kay and Walter must be brought under church discipline, up to and including disfellowship. Danny must relinquish his role and head of 3abn and linda must be reinstated. Kay & Walter should be banned from 3abn or any other SDA TV ministry for life. this is a serious breach of christian ethics and morality. The danny reminds me, strikingly to AT Jones of 1888 fame. check out George Knights book "From 1888 to Apostasy" danny reminds me of Him. scary. strong will, hard headed, aggressive people. who thought they were special and above church authority and God. Again anything I can do to help I will.

God bless
the "ICE DRAGON" put'n you in the deep freeze

QUOTE(LadyTenor @ Jul 16 2006, 11:42 PM)

The only reason Danny can sue is for defamation of character. Yes, this is on the bar exam....

Without going into the legal details (unless anyone here wants me to), my opinion is that Danny has no case. Even if he did, he has nothing to gain from any of us here unless some of us are wealthy and have assets in our own names for him to attach a judgement to. There is always the route of an injunction...but I digress...

...Danny has no case...

Please go into all the gory detail of.defimation of charchater lawsuits.

QUOTE(Observer @ Jul 16 2006, 03:50 AM)

The question has been asked: "Daryl, will MSAOL join us in this effort, Observer and others at CA will you help?" The follow-up question is: How can one effect a change at 3ABN?

In my thinking, the answers fall into the following categories:

1) God will need to bring about change.

This answer suggests two possibilities. One might do nothing and simply wait for God to act. Or, one might take some action, in an attempt to cooperate with God in bringing about change.

2) Someone steps forward to use civil institutions to effect that needed change.

This could be the filing of a civil lawsuit, or of criminal charges, is cause existed for such. It could include investigations by IRS authorities, if reason for such existed. There are probably other venues and methods that could be used to e effect change.

My personal opinion as to how we can effect change is:

a) I think that we are very limited in effecting change through the SDA denomination. I do not think that the SDA denomination has much "clout" in effecting change, contrary the thinking of others.

Those with inside information can work with the IRS to do forensic audits of 3ABN's books. But that is a long-shot. It is doubtful that anything could be discovered that would result in more than additional payments of taxes and potentially fines. Such would not likely "bring down" 3ABN, if that was desired.

c) Effecting change at 3ABN might require someone like Linda (Dr. A, and there are others) file a civil action for libel. Under the right circumstances this might get things out into the open that would bring about a change in 3ABN. But, such would come at a high cost to some people, such as Linda. The possibility exists that her "ministry" would be "dead in the water," so to speak. Only she (and the others) can make the decision as to whether or not they are wiling to pay that Cost.

d) Effecting change at 3ABN might require someone with in-depth personal involvement to come forward publicly. Let me give an example: Let us say that a leader at 3ABN (You may pick any person you wish.) had a sexual relationship with someone other than their marital spouse, and that this was an important issues in this discussion. That relationship might have been consensual. It might not have been consensual. But, it was a relationship. That person might need for come forward publicly. Doing so would result in paying a big price.

Folks, there may be innocent victims in this case. These "innocent victims" may not be willing to pay the price.

The above is simply my personal opinion as to what it may take to effect change at 3ABN.

Who is the observer and msaol are they web sites?

Posted by: simplysaved Jul 17 2006, 02:09 PM

QUOTE(Observer @ Jul 16 2006, 04:45 PM)

You are suggesting the same method that 3ABN has used against Linda. Is it wrong for them, and right for us? Do we want to operate on the same level that we have condemned in them?

NOTE: If you were to do such, you would clearly open yourself up to a potential civil lawsuit.

am with you on this one and would not be Christ-like on those of us who claim to serve Him....I have said in another thread and I will reprint the post with highlights in bold:

QUOTE(simplysaved @ Jul 14 2006, 10:20 AM)

Is it being suggested that Danny Shelton may have bipolar disorder and that this is reason for his choices over the past few years?

Will Dr. Abrahamsen be willing to do an interview here at BSDA related to what is presented in the letter?

The other question that I have related to the letter posted (in segments) is will/has the doctor formally sent the letter to:

1. NAD
2. 3ABN Board of Directors
3. All persons mentioned in the letter would personally like the opportunity to dialogue with him here at BSDA and hear what the feedback esponse has been on those outlined in the allegations after they have had ample time to receive the etter from Dr. Abrahamsen. I would also like the opportunity to place responsibility back on those who directly know of the injustice to lead instead of what may come off as giving the responsibility to someone else or "passing the buck"---first.

Posted by: simplysaved Jul 17 2006, 02:21 PM

I want to add something else...we just had a person baptized at my church this past Sabbath who became a Christian and a SDA through 3ABN....before anything is passed or forwarded anywhere by me related to this letter, I need to hear it from God that this is how it should be handled and Dr. Abrahamsen that he has followed Matthew 18....

Posted by: watchbird Jul 17 2006, 03:45 PM

QUOTE(icedragon @ Jul 17 2006, 01:57 PM)

I will help in any way I can. I live in a major Sda Center I will make sure they know the truth. I would like to request that a the interviews of all parties be put together in one location in a readable format, easy to read,easy to acess. I am also in favor of a petition drive to have Danny, Kay and Walter removed from the respective position @ 3abn or face a financial strike. Danny, kay and Walter must be brought under church discipline, up to and including disfellowship. Danny must relinquish his role and head of 3abn and linda must be reinstated. Kay & Walter should be banned from 3abn or any other SDA TV ministry for life. this is a serious breach of christian ethics and morality. The danny reminds me, strikingly to AT Jones of 1888 fame. check out George Knights book "From 1888 to Apostasy" danny reminds me of Him. scary. strong will, hard headed, aggressive people. who thought they were special and above church authority and God. Again anything I can do to help I will.

God bless
the "ICE DRAGON" put'n you in the deep freeze
Please go into all the gory detail of.defimation of charchater lawsuits.

Who is the observer and msaol are they web sites?

Observer is a screen name for someone on a forum. msaol is most likely a typo. MSDAOL is the Maratime SDA On Line Forum, run by Daryl Fawcett, who also posts here on BSDA.

As to your list of names to be put on a petition--it is very incomplete. Perhaps you haven't read all ten chapters of The Unauthorized History of 3ABN" yet. Read the whole thing, and encourage all you know in that "major SDA center" to do likewise. our role is to collect the stories and make them available. When all are informed, then will come the time for the right persons to make the judgements and execute the sentences. Making premature ones before all the facts are in may impede rather than facilitate the wheels of justice.

Posted by: Johann Jul 17 2006, 05:01 PM

QUOTE(calvin @ Jul 17 2006, 05:45 AM)

You ask how can BSDA or any message board effect change at 3ABN, you also believe that there is little we can do to make a difference. I think you are wrong. 50 years ago a woman refused to go to back of the bus. Black people rallied around Rosa Parks and boycotted the bus company and after several months not only did not have to go to the back of the bus, but they got Black bus drivers too, thus the civil rights movement was born. This is one example, but throughout history we have examples of one person, or a small group of people driving change.

I can only assume that you are in the do nothing/wait on the Lord camp. I am not. God uses human agent to do His work. Jesus was a man of action. I believe the Lord expects us to everything in our power to help ourselves and others. Personally, I just feel better when I know that I have done all that I can and then put it God's hands.

We don't need someone filing a law suit for tax evasion as you suggested. Regardless of Danny's hold on 3ABN, when he becomes a liability to the church, 3ABN will be cutoff. I believe there are men and women of influence with backbone, that maybe where not aware of these allegations made by Dr. A,. that will ask will want to get to the bottom of this, that do believe that our church leaders and public figures should adhere to high moral and ethical standards, if not then this church is really in a sorry state of affairs.

I was talking with someone who attended the 3abn campmeeting in May. Danny repeatedly told the crowd that he is tired of responding to rumors and lies about him and his ministry. He said he is not answering anymore questions. He wants this to go away. This is all the more reason we need to get this letter out so the questions will continue to be asked....and as Watchbird suggest, get the Dr Thompson letter out too and let people decide who is lying.

Calvin, It took courage for Rosa Parks, and others like her, to step forward in a peaceful action. You are following that worthy tradition, and may the Lord use many more in peaceful actions to clean those corners needed to proclaim a Living Gospel these days. There is no sense in glorifying abuse and evil, hiding it behind a sanctimonious proclamation.

We pray for strength and courage - and for Wisdom from Above!

Posted by: inga Jul 18 2006, 06:59 PM

I was just thinking of sending a copy of Dr. Abrahamsen's letter to a friend working at the GC offices, but I received a copy instead!

This is what my friend shared:
"I haven't even checked the Black SDA site to see if it's made its way there yet. I do know it is making its way around the leadership of the GC though. Apparently many of the administrators who have been in Turkey for 2 weeks at the BRI's Bible Conference, received it while there. I don't know what they think."

So the message is getting out. Let us pray that it will be taken seriously.

This is Step 1. What would be helpful would be several more statements like this from other eye witnesses who are willing to be identified by name and address. Each one could be "pinned" at the top of the forum for easy reference and distribution.

I think it would also be good for several disinterested third parties to pull some information together into a statement that could be shared. Again, to be taken seriously, this needs to be from folks who are willing to attach their names and addresses to it.

Each statement sent out -- after an appropriate interval since the last one -- will build credibility. Some of the recipients of this letter have scarcely heard anything negative about Dan Shelton. They may have wondered about his re-marriage, but that's about all. They need information so that they can form an informed opinion. Dr. Abrahamsen's letter alone may seem to them to be exaggerated, and they may not know how much they should believe. (I remember it took a rather long time for some administrators on this board to get off the fence. ;-))

And, by the way, just because we know that the document is making its rounds at the GC level doesn't mean that no one else should send the document to the same folks. The more copies they receive, the more likely they'll take it seriously. To be effective, it would be good for the senders to identify themselves and tell why they believe this statement by Dr. Abrahamsen is relevant and why it should be taken seriously.

Posted by: awesumtenor Jul 18 2006, 07:45 PM

QUOTE(simplysaved @ Jul 17 2006, 04:21 PM)

I want to add something else...we just had a person baptized at my church this past Sabbath who became a Christian and a SDA through 3ABN....

No, he didnt... even if he thinks he did.

QUOTE

before anything is passed or forwarded anywhere by me related to this letter, I need to hear it from God that this is how it should be handled and Dr. Abrahamsen that he has followed Matthew 18....

Just admit it, Sarah; God Himself could come down from Sinai and say it's all true and you would still think there is not enough "evidence"

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: simplysaved Jul 19 2006, 09:53 AM

And you could not be more wrong...again.

QUOTE(awesumtenor @ Jul 18 2006, 07:45 PM)

No, he didnt... even if he thinks he did.

Just admit it, Sarah; God Himself could come down from Sinai and say it's all true and you would still think there is not enough "evidence"

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 19 2006, 10:10 AM

QUOTE(Nuggie @ Jul 17 2006, 06:28 AM)

Even if he does sue wouldn't he run the risk of having all the gory details of this whole sordid mess dragged out into the open where he can be challenged directly? I'm guessing he would have to counter all of the accusations that were brought against him, right? And judging from what I've read in these threads he's not gonna want to have to answer direct questions about what is truth and what is fiction. So even if he can sue, he probably won't want to.

QUOTE(LadyTenor @ Jul 17 2006, 08:18 AM)

'es. I agree.

Remember the "wash"..... it will come out in the wash.

As for doing this the "CHRISTianly" way - I do believe Linda being silent all this time (by GAG Order and just being "silent") and even Dr. A not saying anything for so long..... whereas Danny is still talking dirty and smack.

There is no need to continue slinging dirt if you ain't got no dirt yourself...

OW: sumptin' stankin Danny..... and it's you.

Anyone can believe what they want...but even in a soap opera on TV - it is known. IF someone is ALWAYS kicking dirt - THEY ARE DIRTY. This is not a soap opera - this is real life. Involving real people, real children, and a MINISTRY.

You can have the expressed opinion that it should be left up to GOD - yet if this was the action that was taken here on earth - many a rapist (my own), many a thief, many a murderer would go unpunished on earth and would continue to perp on other naiive people. I don't want to give anyone that I have proof is dirty my hard earned $$$ - others may - but I refuse to do so.

I'm down for the Time for Action! I have already forwarded the letter to approximately 15 SDA friends....and will continue to do so.....

PDR

Posted by: Hersheys99 Jul 19 2006, 11:42 AM

I sent the letter from the Dr. & the Televangelist to my mom who is going to give it to my sister after she reads it & makes copy to take back to Ohio with her to the church there.

Posted by: awesumtenor Jul 19 2006, 12:24 PM

QUOTE(simplysaved @ Jul 19 2006, 11:53 AM)

And you could not be more wrong...again.

This from the undisputed, undefeated champion of being wrong... that said... I'm not wrong. 3ABN is incapable of saving anyone; the persons who appear on it it are equally incapable of saving anyone.

Not even themselves. You are welcome to disagree... and you'll be wrong... again.

There is one and only one name given among men whereby ye must be saved... and it aint 3ABN. It doesnt even have a 3, an A, a B or an N in it.

As for your stance on 3ABN, you have consistently pushed the "well if God is using Danny, maybe we should leave things be" stance. Your track record of posting in these threads says so, your willingness to change horses in midstream when you are swimming against the tide notwithstanding.

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: simplysaved Jul 19 2006, 01:53 PM

Wrong again....

My stance has been this is not the most effect way to go about it...as a Christian (no matter how wrong a person is).... One can be 100% right and God will shift things in their favor just because of how the other person handles things....

QUOTE(awesumtenor @ Jul 19 2006, 12:24 PM)

This from the undisputed, undefeated champion of being wrong... that said... I'm not wrong. 3ABN is incapable of saving anyone; the persons who appear on it it are equally incapable of saving anyone.

Not even themselves. You are welcome to disagree... and you'll be wrong... again.

There is one and only one name given among men whereby ye must be saved... and it aint 3ABN. It doesnt even have a 3, an A, a B or an N in it.

As for your stance on 3ABN, you have consistently pushed the "well if God is using Danny, maybe we should leave things be" stance. Your track record of posting in these threads says so, your willingness to change horses in midstream when you are swimming against the tide notwithstanding.

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 19 2006, 02:00 PM

So praytell us Simply - how should this be handled?

Should we allow Danny to consistently down-talk the woman until she dies? Then years after her death she be cleared?

Should we allow Danny to sling mud (even going so far as to parade even his sin in pulpits) for the "end good"?

Should we support someone that we know is not living right in the eyes of the LORD?

Should we continue to turn a blind eye when in fact more and more evidence on a daily basis shows that the man is "QUITE DIRTY"?

Last but not least - Didn't JESUS state that one has to follow the laws of the land - (Holy BIBLE, not withstanding; rightful divorce; etc.)? If so - and you know someone ain't right - but you gonna follow him over the ledge anyway?

This is a hot mess - we will throw a 16 year old girl out of the church for adultery - yet we allow a grown man to do it and even pay him while he's doing it.

GOD is not pleased no....

Posted by: simplysaved Jul 19 2006, 02:12 PM

No you tell me....tell if God would go about a character assasination just because you sinned....tell me if God has or has not told us in the Bible how to handle differences/issues with people....tell me if God would have His children so "what comes off as being "overly focused on the demise of a person" ....Danny is and was wrong....but to as a Christian make light of him, Linda or anyone is wrong as well and not Christian....

I thank God that he does not deal with us when we are wrong the way that some of us deal with each other...and think that He is pleased. And if Linda is the woman that people say she is, I cannot believe that as a Christian she would be either---no matter what he may have done. God does not need ANYONE to take down Danny Shelton...and if this was handled differently, it may have already happened by now.....

QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jul 19 2006, 02:00 PM)

So praytell us Simply - how should this be handled?

Should we allow Danny to consistently down-talk the woman until she dies? Then years after her death she be cleared?

Should we allow Danny to sling mud (even going so far as to parade even his sin in pulpits) for the "end good"?

Should we support someone that we know is not living right in the eyes of the LORD?

Should we continue to turn a blind eye when in fact more and more evidence on a daily basis shows that the man is "QUITE DIRTY"?

Last but not least - Didn't JESUS state that one has to follow the laws of the land - (Holy BIBLE, not withstanding; rightful divorce; etc.)? If so - and you know someone ain't right - but you gonna follow him over the ledge anyway?

This is a hot mess - we will throw a 16 year old girl out of the church for adultery - yet we allow a grown man to do it and even pay him while he's doing it.

GOD is not pleased no....

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 19 2006, 02:31 PM

QUOTE(simplysaved @ Jul 19 2006, 03:12 PM)

No you tell me....tell if God would go about a character assasination just because you sinned....tell me if God has or has not told us in the Bible how to handle differences/issues with people....tell me if God would have His children so "what comes off as being "overly focused on the demise of a person" ....Danny is and was wrong....but to as a Christian make light of him, Linda or anyone is wrong as well and not Christian....

I thank God that he does not deal with us when we are wrong the way that some of us deal with each other...and think that He is pleased. And if Linda is the woman that people say she is, I cannot believe that as a Christian she would be either---no matter what he may have done. God does not need ANYONE to take down Danny Shelton...and if this was handled differently, it may have already happened by now.....

)kay...so it is "character assasination" when one tells the truth? Got it. Now - what is it when ;omeone lies on you?

.ike I said - if this was the 16 year old girl in the church preggers folks would be quick to censure her;)ut the Pastor, or the "Minister" on TV...no....he doesn't receive the same judgement....

'his is sad on so many levels.....

;aying this - Simply - can you honestly state beyond a shadow of a doubt that you will never sit on a :hurch Board, Jury, or participate in a trial as a witness? After all - you're only going to let GOD ıandle it..... If so....then by all means - you can take the same stance. Don't do anything about ANYONE in your church, home, or state that is doing wrong. Enforce no laws or rules. Why? Because 'ou are allowing GOD to handle it. If so, then you can state that the information coming out about)anny (finally!) is wrong and we are wrong for circulating the truth. However if you ever plan on rying to sit on a Church Board and censure someone - you got to be able to understand the censure)f those in "higher levels of administration" also.

Now.

f you feel more comfortable "booting" the 16 year old then just say so.....

Posted by: simplysaved Jul 19 2006, 02:36 PM

I already sit on the Church Board.....

It is how you do what you do that makes it "right" in the eyes of God....but I will use a practical example: If a person has murdered in cold blood someone else, but their Miranda Rights are not read to them, a search is done on their premises without a Search Warrant signed by a judge, their testimony is coerced, or he jury is prejuduced, they can walk off a "free man".....and never be tried for the crime.

QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jul 19 2006, 02:31 PM)

Okay...so it is "character assasination" when one tells the truth? Got it. Now - what is it when someone lies on you?

Like I said - if this was the 16 year old girl in the church preggers folks would be quick to censure her; but the Pastor, or the "Minister" on TV...no....he doesn't receive the same judgement....

This is sad on so many levels.....

Saying this - Simply - can you honestly state beyond a shadow of a doubt that you will never sit on a Church Board, Jury, or participate in a trial as a witness? After all - you're only going to let GOD handle it..... If so....then by all means - you can take the same stance. Don't do anything about ANYONE in your church, home, or state that is doing wrong. Enforce no laws or rules. Why? Because you are allowing GOD to handle it. If so, then you can state that the information coming out about Danny (finally!) is wrong and we are wrong for circulating the truth. However if you ever plan on trying to sit on a Church Board and censure someone - you got to be able to understand the censure of those in "higher levels of administration" also.

Now.

If you feel more comfortable "booting" the 16 year old then just say so.....

Posted by: Clay Jul 19 2006, 02:39 PM

Linda has turned both cheeks and has not complained, in fact because of the gag order she cannot complain....

God wants us to love mercy, and to do justly, or do whats right..... Linda has been done an injustice.... what is the corrective?

Some verses from Amos 5..... The Message Translation....

21-24

QUOTE

"I can't stand your religious meetings.
I'm fed up with your conferences and conventions.
I want nothing to do with your religion projects, your pretentious slogans and goals.
I'm sick of your fund-raising schemes, your public relations and image making.
I've had all I can take of your noisy ego-music.
When was the last time you sang to me?
Do you know what I want?
I want justice—oceans of it.
I want fairness—rivers of it.
That's what I want. That's all I want.

I can't be certain, but it seems to me God is saying I am tired of your church, your praise teams, your self-centered "worship" when there is injustice and unfairness happening within your midst.... wonder what he would say to us today? Probably the same thing.....btjm.....

Posted by: simplysaved Jul 19 2006, 02:51 PM

Steve, God is just as much not pleased when we seek to "murder" or worse those caught like Mary Madalene---set-up. God may have forgiven and moved on...and as unfair as it may seem, there still may not be the "take-down" that some want.....not because it may not be deserved, but because of the way the fight for justice has been done. Scripture is not multiple choice. God is certainly tired of people who forget that you cannot love God if you do not love Danny (1 John 2).

For example:

When Elder McCoy had his troubles at SCC, they could not move him....he voluntarily stepped down on his own time, long after the drama was over, because of the way (IMHO) people tried to take him down....especially with AFHI. Fact.

Also fact, EVERYONE involved in this sad situation has been done an injustice....

QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 19 2006, 02:39 PM)

Linda has turned both cheeks and has not complained, in fact because of the gag order she cannot complain....

God wants us to love mercy, and to do justly, or do whats right..... Linda has been done an injustice.... what is the corrective?

Some verses from Amos 5..... The Message Translation....

21-24

I can't be certain, but it seems to me God is saying I am tired of your church, your praise teams, your self-centered "worship" when there is injustice and unfairness happening within your midst.... wonder what he would say to us today? Probably the same thing.....btjm.....

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 19 2006, 02:58 PM

QUOTE(simplysaved @ Jul 19 2006, 03:36 PM)

I already sit on the Church Board.....

It is how you do what you do that makes it "right" in the eyes of God....but I will use a practical example: If a person has murdered in cold blood someone else, but their Miranda Rights are not read to them, a search is done on their premises without a Search Warrant signed by a judge, their testimony is coerced, or he jury is prejuduced, they can walk off a "free man".....and never be tried for the crime.

Sooo....from this you are saying that since Danny "got away" with it thus far it is okay per the "law"?

As for being on the board..... have you ever censured anybody? Don't answer that - just know that if you have you cannot possibly have this stance with this Danny Shelton mess because it would be hyp-o-critical to want to do this in your church and not want to do this to leaders who you have representing you.

16 year old women, bad boys move ovah - the SDA's are after you ..... however if you are a leader have a field day! You will be blindly supported to the end.....

Posted by: princessdi Jul 19 2006, 03:07 PM

QUOTE(simplysaved @ Jul 19 2006, 12:51 PM)

Steve, God is just as much not pleased when we seek to "murder" or worse those caught like Mary Madalene---set-up. God may have forgiven and moved on...and as unfair as it may seem, there still may not be the "take-down" that some want.....not because it may not be deserved, but because of the way the fight for justice has been done. Scripture is not multiple choice. God is certainly tired of people who forget that you cannot love God if you do not love Danny (1 John 2).

For example:

When Elder McCoy had his troubles at SCC, they could not move him....he voluntarily stepped down on his own time, long after the drama was over, because of the way (IMHO) people tried to take him down....especially with AFHI. Fact.

Move Him? How about disciplinary action? Take him down? How about hold him resonsible for his actions? Truly an intersting spin on this situation, but it does explain your take on the one currently being discussed, except.....

Also fact, EVERYONE involved in this sad situation has been done an injustice....

.....please explain how injustice was or is being done to Danny?

Posted by: simplysaved Jul 19 2006, 03:19 PM

I will answer anyway...no I have not; as a matter of fact, there is a specific situation (presently) that God has said, I will handle this situation on my own time another way. It has been left alone.

When a woman is in a physically abusive relationship only she can press charges...Since the Gag Order will be up soon (as I understand--I may be wrong here), see what Linda is gonna do....and say. In the end, that is going to make the real difference anyway.

QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jul 19 2006, 02:58 PM)

Sooo....from this you are saying that since Danny "got away" with it thus far it is okay per the "law"?

As for being on the board..... have you ever censured anybody? Don't answer that - just know that if you have you cannot possibly have this stance with this Danny Shelton mess because it would be hyp-o-critical to want to do this in your church and not want to do this to leaders who you have representing you.

16 year old women, bad boys move ovah - the SDA's are after you ..... however if you are a leader have a field day! You will be blindly supported to the end.....

Posted by: Clay Jul 19 2006, 03:21 PM

QUOTE(simplysaved @ Jul 19 2006, 03:51 PM)

For example:

When Elder McCoy had his troubles at SCC, they could not move him....he voluntarily stepped down on his own time, long after the drama was over, because of the way (IMHO) people tried to take him down....especially with AFHI. Fact.

Also fact, EVERYONE involved in this sad situation has been done an injustice....

is the info got out about McCoy he had to face the music which limited his effectiveness to lead... he could have been removed had the conference's by-laws been like other conferences giving more power to the conference committee and the laity than the president..... interesting spin, but it does not reflect what was happening in my part of the conference.....

Posted by: simplysaved Jul 19 2006, 03:32 PM

...and 3ABN does not "adequately represent me"... rofl

But they still followed him (in leadership)...and he addressed some concerns with staff as needed....he had 10 months to go before his time would have been up...10 months....and God let him decide when he wanted to leave (as they tried to talk him into staying until the term was up--fact).

Those involved with AFHI received a (and correct me if I am mistaken) court order to dissolve the web-site, people were told that they would be sued for libel (even though enough truth was presented) and damages in the millions, and a permanent gag order was placed on those from addressing it (including information on other individuals listed).

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 19 2006, 03:21 PM)
>
> as the info got out about McCoy he had to face the music which limited his effectiveness to lead... he could have been removed had the conference's by-laws been like other conferences giving more power to the conference committee and the laity than the president..... interesting spin, but it does not reflect what was happening in my part of the conference.....

Posted by: princessdi Jul 19 2006, 03:38 PM

Correct me if I am worng, but wasn't there some kind of meeting to ask him to step down? I truly might be confused, but I dont' remember the meeting being about supporting him.

> QUOTE(simplysaved @ Jul 19 2006, 01:32 PM)
>
> ...and 3ABN does not "adequately represent me"... rofl
>
> But they still followed him (in leadership)...and he addressed some concerns with staff as needed....he had 10 months to go before his time would have been up...10 months....and God let him decide when he wanted to leave (as they tried to talk him into staying until the term was up--fact).
> Those involved with AFHI received a (and correct me if I am mistaken) court order to dissolve the web-site, people were told that they would be sued for libel (even though enough truth was presented) and damages in the millions, and a permanent gag order was placed on those from addressing it (including information on other individuals listed).

Posted by: Clay Jul 19 2006, 03:50 PM

QUOTE(simplysaved @ Jul 19 2006, 04:32 PM)

...and 3ABN does not "adequately represent me"... rofl

But they still followed him (in leadership)...and he addressed some concerns with staff as needed....he had 10 months to go before his time would have been up...10 months....and God let him decide when he wanted to leave (as they tried to talk him into staying until the term was up--fact).

Those involved with AFHI received a (and correct me if I am mistaken) court order to dissolve the web-site, people were told that they would be sued for libel (even though enough truth was presented) and damages in the millions, and a permanent gag order was placed on those from addressing it (including information on other individuals listed).

ummmm Sarah, AFHI was dishing out rumor innuendo and slander not regarding McCoy but other ministers i.e. Stafford, and Lister to name two.... when they went there they were shut down... had they stayed only with the stuff on McCoy they would have been fine....

have the last word since you aren't gonna be wrong on this issue, but like I said, the activities in my part of the conference were not pro-McCoy and info was circulating that limited his effectiveness... In Huntsville one church was not sending its tithe to the conference and a couple of others were threatening to do the same....

Posted by: Chez Jul 19 2006, 03:51 PM

QUOTE(simplysaved @ Jul 19 2006, 03:32 PM)

...and 3ABN does not "suffieciently represent me"... rofl

But they still followed him (in leadership)...and he addressed some concerns with staff as needed....he had 10 months to go before his time would have been up...10 months....and God let him decide when he wanted to leave (as they tried to talk him into staying until the term was up--fact).

Those involved with AFHI received a (and correct me if I am mistaken) court order to dissolve the web-site, people were told that they would be sued for libel (even though enough truth was presented) and damages in the millions, and a permanent gag order was placed on those from addressing it (including information on other individuals listed).

Are we to stand by and do nothing? God is not ony a God of patience, but he is also a God of action. Maybe God has told you to "stand still" and to others to "move". The Word of God marches on. Often when we are silent to known abuses and miscarriages of justice, we can become part of the problem and unwittingly (or unintentionally) affirm such negative behavior. A Time for Action is gavalnizing us to move in the right direction. [Thank you Calvin.] We are part of a movement. When a member or members of the Movement conduct themselves in a way that is in contradiction to word of God or hurt by the actions or inactions of others, we are all affected. Gag orders are not as important as "God Orders"! We are going to march to God's Orders. If God tells us not to march, then don't march. If God says to march/move, we've got to go forward. We must stand and speak for truth. We've become so politically correct and passive that we often (unintentionally) can be spiritually dumbfounded and wimpish.

This is not (in my opinion) an assassination of Danny's character. He has done that himself. However, Danny has intentionally tried to bring down Linda, but Linda has been "like a tree planted by the water"; she "has not been moved"! It is time. God has told me to get moving and "being about my Father's business." He has told me to stand and speak for truth. Error has prevailed too long. We can no longer support this foolishness.

Posted by: simplysaved Jul 19 2006, 04:01 PM

It is my understanding he was asked by several members of the conference commitee to serve the rest of his term...after he was not removed from office.

QUOTE(princessdi @ Jul 19 2006, 03:38 PM)

Correct me if I am worng, but wasn't there some kind of meeting to ask him to step down? I truly might be confused, but I dont' remember the meeting being about supporting him.

See this is the problem: no one--at least I have not said "stand still and do nothing"...what I have said and will continue to say is having an inquisition much like the Pharisees did with Mary Magadalene will accomplish you little and does not represent Christ at all....just because one may not agree with your tactis does not mean it is or is not true. Implementing justice in a vengengeful manner is still sin according to scripture....

QUOTE(Chez @ Jul 19 2006, 03:51 PM)

Are we to stand by and do nothing? God is not ony a God of patience, but he is also a God of action. Maybe God has told you to "stand still" and to others to "move". The Word of God marches on. Often when we are silent to known abuses and miscarriages of justice, we can become part of the problem and unwittingly (or unintentionally) affirm such negative behavior. A Time for Action is gavalnizing us to move in the right direction. [Thank you Calvin.] We are part of a movement. When a member or members of the Movement conduct themselves in a way that is in contradiction to word of God or hurt by the actions or inactions of others, we are all affected. Gag orders are not as important as "God Orders"! We are going to march to God's Orders. If God tells us not to march, then don't march. If God says to march/move, we've got to go forward. We must stand and speak for truth. We've become so politically correct and passive that we often (unintentionally) can be spiritually dumbfounded and wimpish.

This is not (in my opinion) an assassination of Danny's character. He has done that himself. However, Danny has intentionally tried to bring down Linda, but Linda has been "like a tree planted by the water"; she "has not been moved"! It is time. God has told me to get moving and "being about my Father's business." He has told me to stand and speak for truth. Error has prevailed too long. We can no longer support this foolishness.

Posted by: Clay Jul 19 2006, 04:02 PM

QUOTE(simplysaved @ Jul 19 2006, 04:57 PM)

It is my understanding he was asked by several members of the conference commitee to serve the rest of his term...after he was not removed from office.

a committee comprised of mostly pastors (that he hired) as opposed to laity.... so what pastor is going to ask a prez to step down knowing that if he doesn't he could make it difficult for them? sheesh.... sarah you know how the game is played.... don't you?

Posted by: simplysaved Jul 19 2006, 04:05 PM

But, I also know that there were many, many people--layman that did support this....and yes I am well familiar with the past board make-up....

QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 19 2006, 05:02 PM)

a committee comprised of mostly pastors (that he hired) as opposed to laity.... so what pastor is going to ask a prez to step down knowing that if he doesn't he could make it difficult for them? sheesh.... sarah you know how the game is played.... don't you?

Posted by: Clay Jul 19 2006, 04:06 PM

QUOTE(simplysaved @ Jul 19 2006, 05:01 PM)

Implementing justice in a vengengeful manner is still sin according to scripture....

who is being vengeful? who is implementing justice? people are sharing information that is verifiably true....

QUOTE(simplysaved @ Jul 19 2006, 05:05 PM)

But, I also know that there were many, many people--layman that did support this....and yes I am well familiar with the past board make-up....

and i know many, many laypeople who did not.... and if you are aware of the past board make-up then you realize that it was a conflict of interest for them to even be involved given their relationship to McCoy.....

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 19 2006, 05:25 PM

Don't do nothing; do something; "let GOD handle it"; "when the GAG order is up Linda will talk....."

Which one is it Simply?

...and if you are on the Church board (yet have not censured anyone yet) you know that eventually - you will have to censure someone. Will you step down and not partake of that part of your board duty?

If not...again - this is being hyp-o-critical.....

Posted by: Clay Jul 19 2006, 05:47 PM

the point is God may very well be impressing some to take action.... and hopefully they are listening to his voice and will do his will....

Posted by: sister Jul 19 2006, 06:28 PM

I just sent the following email to the Pastor of the Santa Barbara SDA Church. Danny Shelton and 3ABN will be broadcasting a rally live from there on Sabbath, July 29.

Services:
9:30 AM Sabbath School Leonard Westphal
10:45 AM Worhip Service Danny Shelton
2:00 PM 3ABN Cable Rally Danny Shelton, C. A. Murray

If any of you live in the area this might be an opportunity to talk face to face with Danny Shelton and ask him some questions. The address of the church is:

Santa Barbara Seventh-day Adventist Church
425 Arroyo Road
Santa Barbara, CA 93110

My email:

churchpastor@knowjesusfully.com

Dear Pastor Pete Geli,

I see that you are having a 3ABN Rally at your church on Sabbath, July 29. I would suggest that you do some research at http://www.blacksda.com before the meeting. There is a section in the forum for information about 3ABN, it could be of great interest for you, your church board and your members. Included are a number of articles I have written about the history of 3ABN. I am sure that you will find it quite interesting.

Sister

Posted by: Hersheys99 Jul 19 2006, 07:23 PM

Good job sister!

Posted by: Nuggie Jul 19 2006, 07:42 PM

QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 19 2006, 05:47 PM)

the point is God may very well be impressing some to take action.... and hopefully they are listening to his voice and will do his will....

I grew up in the underbelly of this church with both parents employed by the church and I've seen a lot of mess go down. I firmly believe that if more members would rise up and hold our leaders accountable (from pastors right on up to the GC president) we wouldn't have half this drama. The church belongs to the members, and by extension all of the ministries that our tithe and offerings support. We have a RIGHT and an OBLIGATION to question, demand answers, agitate for change, and put our money where our mouth is. With information comes responsibility.

Posted by: PaperTigers Jul 19 2006, 07:56 PM

QUOTE(Nuggie @ Jul 19 2006, 08:42 PM)

I grew up in the underbelly of this church with both parents employed by the church and I've seen a lot of mess go down. I firmly believe that if more members would rise up and hold our leaders accountable (from pastors right on up to the GC president) we wouldn't have half this drama. The church belongs to the members, and by extension all of the ministries that our tithe and offerings support. We have a RIGHT and an OBLIGATION to question, demand answers, agitate for change, and put our money where our mouth is. With information comes responsibility.

I strongly agree with you Nuggie!!

Sister, I am glad you sent the e-mail. Hopefully some of the members and even the pastor will take you up on the offer to come check things out for themselves!!

Posted by: Clay Jul 19 2006, 08:07 PM

QUOTE(Nuggie @ Jul 19 2006, 08:42 PM)

I grew up in the underbelly of this church with both parents employed by the church and I've seen a lot of mess go down. I firmly believe that if more members would rise up and hold our leaders accountable (from pastors right on up to the GC president) we wouldn't have half this drama. The church belongs to the members, and by extension all of the ministries that our tithe and offerings support. We have a RIGHT and an OBLIGATION to question, demand answers, agitate for change, and put our money where our mouth is. With information comes responsibility.

yanno.... I was thinking about the stories I heard when I was in my teens and early adulthood about all those pastors who were moved from church to church to church for either stealing, or affairs, or molesting young girls.... what did the folks do, pray and hope something would happen... well something did happen.... so how many girls were sacrificed because no one said anything, or how many churches lost money because no one stood up and said stop this madness?

Posted by: seeshell Jul 19 2006, 08:14 PM

Don't want to veer off but could someone quickly tell me who is Teresa Shelton? I'm just curious because I saw her name on the lineup in today's programming on 3ABN. Now see what y'all have done? I have been viewing 3ABN online, which I don't normally do.

Posted by: simplysaved Jul 19 2006, 08:16 PM

We do...we should...and need to...and then go about addressing it in a way that Christ would have us to.... why does it have to be either or?

> QUOTE(Nuggie @ Jul 19 2006, 08:42 PM)
>
> I grew up in the underbelly of this church with both parents employed by the church and I've seen a lot of mess go down. I firmly believe that if more members would rise up and hold our leaders accountable (from pastors right on up to the GC president) we wouldn't have half this drama. The church belongs to the members, and by extension all of the ministries that our tithe and offerings support. We have a RIGHT and an OBLIGATION to question, demand answers, agitate for change, and put our money where our mouth is. With information comes responsibility.

Posted by: no_cults Jul 19 2006, 09:17 PM

> QUOTE(Nuggie @ Jul 19 2006, 08:42 PM)
>
> I grew up in the underbelly of this church with both parents employed by the church and I've seen a lot of mess go down. I firmly believe that if more members would rise up and hold our leaders accountable (from pastors right on up to the GC president) we wouldn't have half this drama. The church belongs to the members, and by extension all of the ministries that our tithe and offerings support. We have a RIGHT and an OBLIGATION to question, demand answers, agitate for change, and put our money where our mouth is. With information comes responsibility.

I too have been a member for over 50 years. Have seen many scandels and other wrong doings. Davenport, David Dennis, Folkenberg. The list is a long one. There is a forum where ordinary members/constituents can get involved. Not sure of the exact website, but it's called MCA - Members for Church accountability. This is something that is needed, but without wide spread support, leaders will pay no mind.

There are many good suggestions there that could go a long way to elim. some of the traps that man invariably falls into.

Personally, I would like to see no professional workers serve at say the top two levels at the conference level for more than 2 x 2 yr terms (totla of 4) This would include the president and the secretery. Power will breed corruption every single time it seems. When a leader serves too long, there are too many people who "owe" him and that is the problem. Things get too political. I would like to see the same rules for the Union and Division and on up. Just the top 2 or 3 positions mind you. I don't think I would apply this to positions of Treasurer, on down. Maybe I'm right, and maybe I'm wrong, but this the way I see it.

Posted by: PaperTigers Jul 19 2006, 09:27 PM

QUOTE(seeshell @ Jul 19 2006, 10:14 PM)

Don't want to veer off but could someone quickly tell me who is Teresa Shelton? I'm just curious because I saw her name on the lineup in today's programming on 3ABN. Now see what y'all have done? I have been viewing 3ABN online, which I don't normally do.

Teresa Shelton is Ronnie's wife

Posted by: Nuggie Jul 19 2006, 09:38 PM

QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 19 2006, 09:07 PM)

yanno.... I was thinking about the stories I heard when I was in my teens and early adulthood about all those pastors who were moved from church to church to church for either stealing, or affairs, or molesting young girls.... what did the folks do, pray and hope something would happen... well something did happen.... so how many girls were sacrificed because no one said anything, or how many churches lost money because no one stood up and said stop this madness?

Exactly! We bury our heads in the sand and then act shocked when certain exposed parts of our anatomy get shot at !

Posted by: inga Jul 19 2006, 10:25 PM

QUOTE(simplysaved @ Jul 19 2006, 03:12 PM)

No you tell me....tell if God would go about a character assasination just because you sinned....

H'mm... Would you call it "character assassination" to call someone a hypocrite, saying they bind heavy burdens on others that they would not lift a finger to carry themselves?

Would you call it "character assassination" to say that someone perverted the law of God and robbed widows?

Would you call it "character assassination" to call people snakes and vipers?

Jesus said all these things to the scribes and Pharisees, and my thought is that if He were to walk on to the 3ABN compound the way He walked in Palestine, He would say those very things again -- to Danny.

Indeed, Danny lays "heavy burdens" on others -- burdens of sacrificing for "the ministry" while he spares no expense on himself.

Indeed, Danny has robbed widows and others in various ways.

And he's done much more for which he needs to be held accountable.

It's not love that allows a person to go on to destruction in a state of self-deception.

Only God knows whether or not Danny still hears a faint version of the "still small voice." If he does, helping him to see himself as others see him is a kindness. If he doesn't, he needs to be unmasked to prevent his exercising his destructive power over more folks than he already has ...

Posted by: LadyTenor Jul 20 2006, 12:14 AM

QUOTE(simplysaved @ Jul 19 2006, 03:36 PM)

It is how you do what you do that makes it "right" in the eyes of God....but I will use a practical example: If a person has murdered in cold blood someone else, but their Miranda Rights are not read to them, a search is done on their premises without a Search Warrant signed by a judge, their testimony is coerced, or he jury is prejuduced, they can walk off a "free man".....and never be tried for the crime.

And what does a violation of one's civil rights have anything to do with Danny Shelton and the saga at 3ABN?? Your comments about Miranda rights, while accurate, are irrelevant...

QUOTE(simplysaved @ Jul 19 2006, 05:01 PM)

Implementing justice in a vengengeful manner is still sin according to scripture....

Please provide me with some evidence that the justice that is being sought is "vengeful".....

QUOTE(Nuggie @ Jul 19 2006, 10:38 PM)

Exactly! We bury our heads in the sand and then act shocked when certain exposed parts of our anatomy get shot at !

Posted by: beartrap Jul 20 2006, 01:24 AM

QUOTE(simplysaved @ Jul 19 2006, 03:12 PM)

[color=#993399]No you tell me....tell if God would go about a character assasination just because you sinned....

"Nothing emboldens sin so much as mercy." William Shakespeare

There are so many Adventists coming out of the woodworks right now who not only insist on walking past the injured soul, but throwing rocks at the Samaritans, cursing them, and telling them how ungodly they are for trying to help. It is astounding how little backbone people will show when it comes to standing up for right, and calling evil by its name. Oh, they love to stand up for the Sabbath, the State of the Dead, and End time Event prophecies, yet refuse to take a stand when REAL evil stares them in the face and backs them down.

Posted by: awesumtenor Jul 20 2006, 07:36 AM

QUOTE(simplysaved @ Jul 19 2006, 06:01 PM)

what I have said and will continue to say is having an inquisition much like the Pharisees did with Mary Magadalene will accomplish you little and does not represent Christ at all

The pharisees had no inquisition with Mary Magdalene... I guess next you'll be saying Noah fought pirates while on the ark...

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: awesumtenor Jul 20 2006, 07:48 AM

QUOTE(simplysaved @ Jul 19 2006, 04:12 PM)

No you tell me....tell if God would go about a character assasination just because you sinned....tell me if God has or has not told us in the Bible how to handle differences/issues with people....tell me if God would have His children so "what comes off as being "overly focused on the demise of a person" ....Danny is and was wrong....but to as a Christian make light of him, Linda or anyone is wrong as well and not Christian....

I thank God that he does not deal with us when we are wrong the way that some of us deal with each other...and think that He is pleased. And if Linda is the woman that people say she is, I cannot believe that as a Christian she would be either---no matter what he may have done. God does not need ANYONE to take down Danny Shelton...and if this was handled differently, it may have already happened by now.....

'ou arent concerned about character assassination when you take it upon yourself to 'warn' new orum members about other members they've not even spoken to yet... are those people too ınimportant to get your selective indulgence?

'ou, based on your actions in this forum, should be the last one pointing fingers about character ıssassination... you are hardly without sin in that regard... so drop the rock.

n His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 20 2006, 09:47 AM

QUOTE(Nuggie @ Jul 19 2006, 11:38 PM)

Exactly! We bury our heads in the sand and then act shocked when certain exposed parts of our anatomy get shot at !

)ead on.

was diggin up an article that I had previously wrote for two newspapers/newsletters at my respective ınıversities. Unfortunately I couldn't find it.... Actually the thoughts of that article were made point)lank by Bro J in the ^^^ post.

..but I do know this....and will continue to repeat it.... this is not just directed at Simply - who has ;tated that this should be handle "by GOD" - but to anyone who feels that the (now) exposure of)anny Shelton is wrong.....

You cannot RIGHTFULLY sit on ANY board and censure ANYONE if you fail to take action against this man.

Posted by: simplysaved Jul 20 2006, 10:27 AM

rofl

QUOTE(awesumtenor @ Jul 20 2006, 07:48 AM)

You arent concerned about character assassination when you take it upon yourself to 'warn' new forum members about other members they've not even spoken to yet... are those people too unimportant to get your selective indulgence?

You, based on your actions in this forum, should be the last one pointing fingers about character assassination... you are hardly without sin in that regard... so drop the rock.

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: icedragon Jul 20 2006, 10:31 AM

QUOTE(Nuggie @ Jul 19 2006, 07:42 PM)

I grew up in the underbelly of this church with both parents employed by the church and I've seen a lot of mess go down. I firmly believe that if more members would rise up and hold our leaders accountable (from pastors right on up to the GC president) we wouldn't have half this drama. The church belongs to the members, and by extension all of the ministries that our tithe and offerings support. We have a RIGHT and an OBLIGATION to question, demand answers, agitate for change, and put our money where our mouth is. With information comes responsibility.

This thread is about taking ACTION & ACCOUNTABILITY. Good topic. I do believe we have the power to effect that change. But we will need some organization and tools. Here is how I propose we effect change.

1. The first step is a Mass email campaign. To the Leaders in the in the Denomination, GC, NAD, then other divisions, Union level, conference level, Church level and member level to raise awareness of the our findings and what we want done about it. We should target 2 groups: A- 3ABN's viewer base B- The major SDA centers of influence, Schools, colleges and universities, and Administrations centers, conference and unions.

2. In order to accomplish this, a document must be prepared with the findings. Information from Danny, Linda, DR. AA , Kay kuzma, Johann, Walter Thompson, and any other involved must be organized in an orderly way for distribution. I suppose it will be lengthy at least 20 pages. This then can be e-mailed. I think we need to hear from John Lomacang, and Mark Finely still as to there role in the situation, but we can proceed without it.

3. We should organize and decide which people will take what conference, what union offices, what colleges and what churches. It should not be hard to do e-mails are abundant and easily accessible. A sign up sheet might do it

4. We should tell them what we want? What do we want done from this?? Just some thoughts
a. From the Denomination - should we ask that all programs by the SDA church be banned from 3ABN until this situation is resolved? Sac Central, Pioneer Memorial, stuff like that.
b. All denominationally paid employees can not appear on 3ABN until this is resolved or risk loosing there jobs.
c. All Denominationally licensed Ministers cannot appear on 3abn until this is resolved or risk loosing their Ministerial License.

d. All funding for 3ABN from the denomination should be stopped until this is resolved.
If this is not met we should encourage people to with hold financial support

5. The denomanation must reaffirm the "biblical" Definition of divorce, Physical Adultery, not emotional, not spiritual, but Physical. You either did or did not do it. Just that simple.

6. The Denomination must reverse it policy on divorce to prevent divorce, NOT permit, and then deny remarriage. That does not work. The Shelton case in just one of many that have done this.

7. The Local pastor should not be granted the right to marry or divorce without consent from a Higher up I propose the Union level. This would take the pressure off the local pastor in divorce so he does not have to take sides and it would free up the conferences to administer without hard feelings, The Further the distance the more objective. Just my opinion.

8. The formation of a workers union might also be something we might propose. There are no safeguards for employees against the tyranny of leadership, with the exception for Moral lapse, Spiritual apostasy, or Theology Deference, violation of policy and incompetence, a person should not just be dismissed from employment, transfered or laid off. Power plays must go. Any "independent ministry" that wants access to the SDA church must comply with this, in order to have access to the SDA church members. It's just that simple. No shafting people. The Sheep are the church, not the administration. The administration exists to help the sheep not the other way around.

This should be a joint effort, between, CA, BSDA, MSDAOL and others Organization that might be other there. That is my proposal. Feel free to add any other suggestions or comments.

Posted by: simplysaved Jul 20 2006, 10:38 AM

Thank you!!!! That is exactly what I mean.....What you have outlined is much more proactive, responsible, and will be much better received by those who will ultimately make the decisions..... This would better and more effectively initiate the independent investigation that Calvin has called for.

QUOTE(icedragon @ Jul 20 2006, 11:31 AM)

This thread is about taking ACTION & ACCOUNTABILITY. Good topic. I do believe we have the power to effect that change. But we will need some organization and tools. Here is how I propose we effect change.

1. The first step is a Mass email campaign. To the Leaders in the in the Denomination, GC, NAD, then other divisions, Union level, conference level, Church level and member level to raise awareness of the our findings and what we want done about it. We should target 2 groups: A- 3ABN's viewer base
B- The major SDA centers of influence, Schools, colleges and universities, and Administrations centers, conference and unions.

2. In order to accomplish this, a document must be prepared with the findings. Information from Danny, Linda, DR. AA , Kay kuzma, Johann, Walter Thompson, and any other involved must be organized in an orderly way for distribution. I suppose it will be lengthy at least 20 pages. This then can be e-mailed. I think we need to hear from John Lomacang, and Mark Finely still as to there role in the situation, but we can proceed without it.

3. We should organize and decide which people will take what conference, what union offices, what colleges and what churches. It should not be hard to do e-mails are abundant and easily accessible. A sign up sheet might do it

4. We should tell them what we want? What do we want done from this?? Just some thoughts
a. From the Denomination - should we ask that all programs by the SDA church be banned from 3ABN until this situation is resolved? Sac Central, Pioneer Memorial, stuff like that.
b. All denominationally paid employees can not appear on 3ABN until this is resolved or risk loosing there jobs.
c. All Denominationally licensed Ministers cannot appear on 3abn until this is resolved or risk loosing their Ministerial License.
d. All funding for 3ABN from the denomination should be stopped until this is resolved.
If this is not met we should encourage people to with hold financial support

5. The denomanation must reaffirm the "biblical" Definition of divorce, Physical Adultery, not emotional, not spiritual, but Physical. You either did or did not do it. Just that simple.

6. The Denomination must reverse it policy on divorce to prevent divorce, NOT permit, and then deny remarriage. That does not work. The Shelton case in just one of many that have done this.

7. The Local pastor should not be granted the right to marry or divorce without consent from a Higher up I propose the Union level. This would take the pressure off the local pastor in divorce so he does not have to take sides and it would free up the conferences to administer without hard feelings, The Further the distance the more objective. Just my opinion.

8. The formation of a workers union might also be something we might propose. There are no safeguards for employees against the tyranny of leadership, with the exception for Moral lapse, Spiritual apostasy, or Theology Deference, violation of policy and incompetence, a person should not just be dismissed from employment, transfered or laid off. Power plays must go. Any "independent ministry" that wants access to the SDA church must comply with this, in order to have access to the SDA church members. It's just that simple. No shafting people. The Sheep are the church, not the administration. The administration exists to help the sheep not the other way around.
This should be a joint effort, between, CA, BSDA, MSDAOL and others Organization that might be other there. That is my proposal. Feel free to add any other suggestions or comments.

Posted by: Clay Jul 20 2006, 10:44 AM

QUOTE(simplysaved @ Jul 20 2006, 11:38 AM)

Thank you!!!! That is exactly what I mean.....What you have outlined is much more proactive, responsible, and will be much better received by those who will ultimately make the decisions..... This would better and more effectively initiate the independent investigation that Calvin has called for. [x]

hen why didnt you suggest it.... oh I know... you were waiting on inspiration..... [x] rofl

---

Posted by: Nuggie Jul 20 2006, 10:45 AM

QUOTE(simplysaved @ Jul 20 2006, 10:38 AM)

Thank you!!!! That is exactly what I mean.....What you have outlined is much more proactive, responsible, and will be much better received by those who will ultimately make the decisions..... This would better and more effectively initiate the independent investigation that Calvin has called for.

How are IceDragon's suggestions different from what's already been discussed? We've talked about mass mailings, we've talked about flooding the various organizations with copies of the letters... Just curious on how these suggestions are "proactive and responsible" but the other suggestions (by implication) aren't.

Posted by: simplysaved Jul 20 2006, 10:46 AM

Nope!! As I stated, those who are DIRECTLY involved and/or know first hand need to be the ones to initiate....it if is truly of God HE WILL TELL THEM....

QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 20 2006, 11:44 AM)

then why didnt you suggest it.... oh I know... you were waiting on inspiration..... rofl

---

Posted by: Clay Jul 20 2006, 10:47 AM

QUOTE(simplysaved @ Jul 20 2006, 11:46 AM)

Nope!! As I stated, those who are DIRECTLY involved and/or know first hand need to be the ones to initiate....it if is truly of God HE WILL TELL THEM....

oh hursh chile..... you didn't suggest it cause it hadn't hit ya yet....

Posted by: icedragon Jul 20 2006, 11:02 AM

QUOTE(Nuggie @ Jul 20 2006, 10:45 AM)

How are IceDragon's suggestions different from what's already been discussed? We've talked about mass mailings, we've talked about flooding the various organizations with copies of the letters... Just curious on how these suggestions are "proactive and responsible" but the other suggestions

(by implication) aren't.

Some of what i have proposed is retred. some is new, but what I have not seen is the information romailize in an orderly fashion. So I did it. The question is do you want to talk or act. Linda needs our help. are we going to give it to her or not. Your call. I for one want to help. I would have done it allready but I don't have the intreviews with Danny, LInda Kay, Johann Walter ect. If I have to do that then I will.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 20 2006, 11:21 AM

ofl

What did I miss?

Was it funny what Bro J said?

QUOTE(simplysaved @ Jul 20 2006, 11:27 AM)

rofl

Then again - I guess it would be funny if it wasn't true.... now - if it is true it's not funny at all....

Again....

t's sad.....

Only you in your heart-of-hearts know if it was true or not...

Posted by: simplysaved Jul 20 2006, 11:33 AM

I have had to address issues with those in high places one or twice ...God has called still these people (conference or laymen) regardless and we still have to address and confront sin in a way that will be respectful...and is Christian...because when it is all said and done, the investigation may not result in his removal or his influence...and then what? It is how you do what you do....not just doing it. And yes, if GOD places it on your heart, He will not tell you to do it in a way that is contrary to His Word or that is out of an emotional response. And I believe God will not give me a burden to do something and I do not have the morally responsibility to lead....that is scripture. If this is a Gideon moment, did not God tell Gideon what to do? Or Moses? Or Elijah?

It has been said over the 2 years that I have been here at BSDA time and time again how people in the SDA church do not forgive and move on ...what happens if God does not see (in the end of this investigation) that his sin is more important than God's purpose--through Danny? Are people ready to accept whatever outcome God chooses?

QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 20 2006, 10:47 AM)

oh hursh chile..... you didn't suggest it cause it hadn't hit ya yet....

Posted by: princessdi Jul 20 2006, 11:42 AM

Actually, Icedragon, within the massive amounts of information, all of that which you addressed has been mentioned. Some know this but generally overlook information until it is stated by someone from which they are willing to receive it, as if nobody else is going to remember that it has already been posted.

QUOTE(icedragon @ Jul 20 2006, 10:02 AM)

Some of what i have proposed is retred. some is new, but what I have not seen is the information fromailize in an orderly fashion. So I did it. The question is do you want to talk or act. Linda needs our help. are we going to give it to her or not. Your call. I for one want to help. I would have done it allready but I don't have the intrevies with Danny, LInda Kay, Johann Walter ect. If I have to do that then I will.

Posted by: Clay Jul 20 2006, 11:46 AM

QUOTE(simplysaved @ Jul 20 2006, 11:33 AM)

I have had to address issues with those in high places one or twice ...God has called still these people (conference or laymen) regardless and we still have to address and confront sin in a way that will be respectful...and is Christian...because when it is all said and done, the investigation may not result in his removal or his influence...and then what? It is how you do what you do....not just doing it. And yes, if GOD places it on your heart, He will not tell you to do it in a way that is contrary to His Word or that is out of an emotional response. And I believe God will not give me a burden to do something and I do not have the morally responsibility to lead....that is scripture. If this is a Gideon moment, did not God tell Gideon what to do? Or Moses? Or Elijah?

It has been said over the 2 years that I have been here at BSDA time and time again how people in the SDA church do not forgive and move on ...what happens if God does not see (in the end of this investigation) that his sin is more important than God's purpose--through Danny? Are people ready to accept whatever outcome God chooses?

where is that yawning smiley? rofl

Posted by: simplysaved Jul 20 2006, 11:51 AM

QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 20 2006, 11:46 AM)

where is that yawning smiley? rofl

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 20 2006, 11:59 AM

QUOTE(awesumtenor @ Jul 20 2006, 08:48 AM)

You arent concerned about character assassination when you take it upon yourself to 'warn' new forum members about other members they've not even spoken to yet... are those people too unimportant to get your selective indulgence?

You, based on your actions in this forum, should be the last one pointing fingers about character assassination... you are hardly without sin in that regard... so drop the rock.

May seem ofl BUT it really is ON TOPIC!

Lemmie rephrase my question so that it is totally understood....

Directed toward Simply.....

Is what Bro J stated about "character assassination" (underlined portion above) toward others true of you? If so - then why all the problem with the questioning and concern about Danny?

If it is not true then you do actually have a point.

Remember - remotely true - you have not a leg to stand on.
Remember - not true - you have a point.

Posted by: alramwill Jul 20 2006, 12:01 PM

QUOTE(simplysaved @ Jul 20 2006, 11:27 AM)

rofl

If this is true, then I take issue with this, regardless of your flippant response to Mr. J's post....

QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jul 20 2006, 12:59 PM)

May seem off BUT it really is ON TOPIC!

Lemmie rephrase my question so that it is totally understood....

Directed toward Simply.....

Is what Bro J stated about "character assassination" (underlined portion above) toward others true of you? If so - then why all the problem with the questioning and concern about Danny?

If it is not true then you do actually have a point.

Remember - remotely true - you have not a leg to stand on.
Remember - not true - you have a point.

'ou beat me to it....

Posted by: awesumtenor Jul 20 2006, 12:02 PM

QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jul 20 2006, 01:59 PM)

May seem off BUT it really is ON TOPIC!

Lemmie rephrase my question so that it is totally understood....

Directed toward Simply.....

Is what Bro J stated about "character assassination" (underlined portion above) toward others true of you? If so - then why all the problem with the questioning and concern about Danny?

If it is not true then you do actually have a point.

Remember - remotely true - you have not a leg to stand on.
Remember - not true - you have a point.

t's true; she's admitted doing it and she even started a thread fishing for suggestions of what/whom o warn new members about...

n His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: LadyTenor Jul 20 2006, 12:04 PM

QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jul 20 2006, 10:47 AM)

You cannot RIGHTFULLY sit on ANY board and censure ANYONE if you fail to take action against this man.

EXACTLY!!! Double standards, I tell ya! Mercilations!

QUOTE(simplysaved @ Jul 20 2006, 11:38 AM)

Thank you!!!! That is exactly what I mean.....What you have outlined is much more proactive, responsible, and will be much better received by those who will ultimately make the decisions..... This would better and more effectively initiate the independent investigation that Calvin has called for. [x]

Sarah, does this comment mean that you have changed your position...that Danny needs to account for this situation and how he has treated Linda? Because before you were insisting that it be left alone....it's okay to change one's mind (women are very good at this), but I just wanted to know where you stand...

Posted by: Clay Jul 20 2006, 12:06 PM

let me say again... I really don't care what Danny does with or at 3abn, that is his company... is it being used by God? I have no idea, if God could use Samson, then I am sure he could use Danny if he wanted.... However to tell Danny how to operate 3abn would be like you trying to tell me how to drive my car.... it aint happening.....

My concern from the start has been the treatment/mistreatment of Linda.... her side was not being told... now its out there, and there is enough info floating around (cause I have been been informing all who may listen) to let people know what it may be like at 3abn..... So even though some have trashed her name, I think we have shown that much of what was being said was not true or at least that there are two sides to every story... to me that is victory.....

For those employees stuck there, I empathize, but at some point they will have to make a decision about what is important to them, the money or peace of mind.....

As I have said many times, people give the church too much power over their lives.... its apparent that as humans we are willing to give anyone power over us if we believe they are on a righteous mission..... that needs to stop IMO... I would hope that the leaders of the various churches would wake up and see, hopefully they will at least consider the info presented on this site....

Posted by: Nuggie Jul 20 2006, 12:15 PM

QUOTE(icedragon @ Jul 20 2006, 12:02 PM)

Some of what i have proposed is retred. some is new, but what I have not seen is the information fromailize in an orderly fashion. So I did it. The question is do you want to talk or act. Linda needs our help. are we going to give it to her or not. Your call. I for one want to help. I would have done it allready but I don't have the intrevies with Danny, LInda Kay, Johann Walter ect. If I have to do that then I will.

ce,

'm not taking issue with your suggestions...I actually think that your suggestions may be valid...my ›oint was (as Di has mentioned) that some of what you've said has been mentioned by others with lirect and peripheral relationships to 3ABN, so I wondered why when you made the suggestions they ;omehow became more credible or "responsible." Not taking anything away from what you've said.

Posted by: simplysaved Jul 20 2006, 12:22 PM

ofl

IMHO, I have been the one with character assassination....previous threads and PM's speak for themselves as well as they way that certain people suddenly do or not speak ...other things that I have "heard" are circumspect and gossip whether directed at me or said to stated be by me. Thus the laughter....and the fact that one whould easily jump on this part of a response, totally disreagarding the discussion....to me that comes across as character assassination toward me. But as Calvin has stated before BSDA is what it is....people who have to all work out their own salvation and/or sanctification with God....I accept the fact that some may like me or agree with me, but since that has nothing to do with my relationship with Christ I move on....None of our perfect, and I certainly don't claim to be, but I am sincere in my walk with Christ.

Back on topic---If you have not been reading my posts here, then I will say it again: it is not about what you do as much as it is about the way you do what you do---especially for those who say that Christ is Lord in their lives....and I have called on the carpet some very infleuntual people in SDA---more that once. There is a way you do things to be heard and taken seriously.

QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jul 20 2006, 12:59 PM)

May seem ofl BUT it really is ON TOPIC!

Lemmie rephrase my question so that it is totally understood....

Directed toward Simply.....

Is what Bro J stated about "character assassination" (underlined portion above) toward others true of you? If so - then why all the problem with the questioning and concern about Danny?

If it is not true then you do actually have a point.

Remember - remotely true - you have not a leg to stand on.
Remember - not true - you have a point.

Posted by: Clay Jul 20 2006, 12:28 PM

TVsnack

sna

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 20 2006, 12:30 PM

It's not ofl because it points directly to your view of the entire Danny Shelton mess.

You can sit on a board and later censure others - yet when given the chance to "do something about" a "major player" you choose to stand by and do nothing.

I don't care if it Danny, Lenny, or Pete - if you are wrong, you are wrong. GOD want us to let him handle things and along with that he wants us to use SENSE.

I restate the question - true or not?

If true - then you have no point.
If not true - then you make sense.

& that's not "character assassination" that is TRUTH.

People in glass house cannot throw stones - with all due respect - do you need to drop your rocks?

Posted by: Freedom Jul 20 2006, 12:37 PM

QUOTE(sister @ Jul 15 2006, 08:51 PM)

Calvin,

It was exactly three months ago today when I made the first post in the thread "An Unauthorized History of 3ABN". The Lord impressed me that I had information to share and that BSDA was the right place and it was the right time. We have struggled twice over the closing of thread and reopening it. Both times, even though you were personally not convinced of the truth contained in all of my narratives, you still upheld my right to continue to speak freely within certain agreed upon boundaries. And it was you who approached me in regard to gathering all the 3ABN threads together in their own section, including the chapter divisions of "An Unauthorized History of 3ABN" in order to make the information more easily accessible. Personally, I believe that it was the Lord's leading. And now with the testimony of Dr. Arild Abrahamsen, you have publicly confessed that you no longer stand on the fence, but accept the truth of his witness.

Calvin, I want to personally thank you for spearheading this call for action. Like the good Samaritan, you have seen the victims lying at the side of the road—battered, bruised and bleeding—and instead of merely stopping with a look of sadness on your face and shaking your head at the iniquity of it all and then going on—you knelt down. Not worrying about the victims blood staining your clothing, you gently began to minister to their needs—with no thought for yourself. Your actions speak loudly and I am sure that they are registered in the Lamb's Book of Life. God biess you, Calvin, for following your conviction to do what is just.

Sister

In regards to post #11, I can anamiously say that some of the suggestions listed in the post are happening.

God is moving in a mighty way.

Due to the nature of the issues involved, until it becomes public, pray for God's leading in this issues that will be dealt with.

Freedom

Posted by: simplysaved Jul 20 2006, 12:38 PM

My position is I am not taking seriously anything that comes off sounding like the National Inquirer....the initial threads that began this IMHO did (whether or not they were true), the reactions of those that posted (some of them) were not kind or Christian. I stand by that....people were asked not to post there out of respect for those who felt the need to share....I respected that and stopped.

People do not need anyone but God to handle a situation...for those that feel that they have been wronged, you don't need IMHO BSDA or any other organization for God to handle things. But you do need to address the direct source of the decision making board. We claim to be Christians and not need the .org, but yet for those who have been given the the spiritual burden of sharing this publically they had not spiritual vision (that was presented here at BSDA) for resolving this until Calvin made a call for people to send mass e-mailings and most recently for an independent investigation. Whether or not one may feel that anything was wrong, an independent investigation is more than a fair request and will put an end to speculation. Most of all wer can move on in service for Christ.

There had to be an investigation with the issue that occurred in South Central Conference...and I do believe that is a more mature response which may now be needed here---once and for all.

QUOTE(LadyTenor @ Jul 20 2006, 01:04 PM)

EXACTLY!!! Double standards, I tell ya! Mercilations!
Sarah, does this comment mean that you have changed your position...that Danny needs to account for this situation and how he has treated Linda? Because before you were insisting that it be left alone....it's okay to change one's mind (women are very good at this), but I just wanted to know where you stand...

Posted by: icedragon Jul 20 2006, 12:40 PM

QUOTE(Nuggie @ Jul 20 2006, 12:15 PM)

Ice,

I'm not taking issue with your suggestions...I actually think that your suggestions may be valid...my point was (as Di has mentioned) that some of what you've said has been mentioned by others with direct and peripheral relationships to 3ABN, so I wondered why when you made the suggestions they somehow became more credible or "responsible." Not taking anything away from what you've said.

was not saying they became more credible when I said them. I only fromalized them in a way that ıad not been presented before. This is to get the ball rolling. I belive this post is "A Time For Action" I ›nly suggest what actions I thought we should take. That is all

---

Posted by: simplysaved Jul 20 2006, 12:42 PM

You'll gain weight that way!

QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 20 2006, 12:28 PM)

TVsnack

sna

Posted by: princessdi Jul 20 2006, 12:45 PM

Problem is, ther are some who want ot skip the fixing the problem part and just jump to forgive and move on, i.e., your suggestions for "new and more relevant" programming at 3ABN. I think everyone is ready for something to at all to happen. So far nothing has happened, and Danny goes on his maerry way new wife, family, still tormenting the old wife.....and we forgive and move on, right?

The times of which you speak when we say folks in the church refuse to forgive and move on are situations where discipline and/or resolution has occurred. Case in point, onc pastor who's indescretioon hit the fan big time. He was disciplined, foprgiven,and is now back preaching. However we stil had some here, " I just can't hear him preach", "i just think about that poor girl everytine I see him". HUGE difference in the two situations. Danny has never been held accountable for his actions let alone disciplined for them. This pastor was, and those who still have to bring it up are doing the work of the Accuser, and we all know who that is.

All that I am asking is that Danny be held accountable like any ohter member of the church. No playing foavorites because the conference thinks he won't broadcast SDA programming anymore. If he doesnt' so be it, it is not like there are not other options.

QUOTE(simplysaved @ Jul 20 2006, 10:33 AM)

I have had to address issues with those in high places one or twice ...God has called still these people (conference or laymen) regardless and we still have to address and confront sin in a way that will be respectful...and is Christian...because when it is all said and done, the investigation may not result in his removal or his influence...and then what? It is how you do what you do....not just doing it. And yes, if GOD places it on your heart, He will not tell you to do it in a way that is contrary to His Word or that is out of an emotional response. And I believe God will not give me a burden to do something and I do not have the morally responsibility to lead....that is scripture. If this is a Gideon moment, did not God tell Gideon what to do? Or Moses? Or Elijah?

It has been said over the 2 years that I have been here at BSDA time and time again how people in the SDA church do not forgive and move on ...what happens if God does not see (in the end of this investigation) that his sin is more important than God's purpose--through Danny? Are people ready to accept whatever outcome God chooses?

Posted by: Clay Jul 20 2006, 12:47 PM

QUOTE(simplysaved @ Jul 20 2006, 12:38 PM)

My position is I am not taking seriously anything that comes off sounding like the National Inquirer....the initial threads that began this IMHO did (whether or not they were true), the reactions of those that posted (some of them) were not kind or Christian. I stand by that....people were asked not to post there out of respect for those who felt the need to share....I respected that and stopped.

'ou would be ummmm not quite right... the 3abn saga was introduced in 2004 and at that time in the ıbsence of info we encouraged people to pray for both Linda and Danny, because we did not know... ›ther forums specifically VOAF (which no longer exists) had scathing comments about Mr. Shelton's ›ehavior but no one was saying anything like that UNTIL Mr. Shelton contacted Calvin and said that ve were being tabloidish.... at that time we begin to dig into this situation further... so we have been nvestigating, and we have been receiving 1st hand info.... some people (including yourself) have :hosen not to believe it... and that's life....

Posted by: Nuggie Jul 20 2006, 12:50 PM

I looked up the definition of "character assassination" because those words are pretty heavy and shouldn't be used lightly in any situation. Here's what I found:

QUOTE

Character assassination is an intentional attempt to influence the portrayal or reputation of a particular person, whether living or a historical personage, in such a way as to cause others to develop an extremely negative, unethical or unappealing perception of him or her. By its nature, it involves deliberate exaggeration or manipulation of facts to present an untrue picture of the targeted person.

'm not sure I understand how this applies to the 3ABN situation because:

ı. The information we've discussed here has come directly from the persons who have interacted vith Danny and who have first-hand, eyewitness accounts of what took place between him and Linda;

2. The genesis of this whole saga was Danny's mistreatment of Linda...no one went looking for information to deliberately disparage anybody at 3ABN;

3. The story keeps growing because Danny keeps adding fuel to the fire with half-truths, lies, and misrepresentations of facts. Therefore, people feel compelled to get their side of the story out to the public.

Am I missing something here?

QUOTE(icedragon @ Jul 20 2006, 01:40 PM)

I was not saying they became more credible when I said them. I only fromalized them in a way that had not been presented before. This is to get the ball rolling. I belive this post is "A Time For Action" I only suggest what actions I thought we should take. That is all

No problem, Ice...my post really wasn't directed towards you...I just used your post to get clarification from someone else on something that was bothering me. It's cool.

Posted by: Clay Jul 20 2006, 12:54 PM

QUOTE(Nuggie @ Jul 20 2006, 12:50 PM)

I looked up the definition of "character assassination" because those words are pretty heavy and shouldn't be used lightly in any situation. Here's what I found:
I'm not sure I understand how this applies to the 3ABN situation because:

1. The information we've discussed here has come directly from the persons who have interacted with Danny and who have first-hand, eyewitness accounts of what took place between him and Linda;

2. The genesis of this whole saga was Danny's mistreatment of Linda...no one went looking for information to deliberately disparage anybody at 3ABN;

3. The story keeps growing because Danny keeps adding fuel to the fire with half-truths, lies, and misrepresentations of facts. Therefore, people feel compelled to get their side of the story out to the public.

Am I missing something here?

you are not and you have summed up concisely how we became interested in the 3abn mess from the start....

Posted by: simplysaved Jul 20 2006, 12:55 PM

For clarity, I am speaking directly of the recent series within the past few months...
Bill Cosby stated well in a episode of his show how something is presented can overpower the value it has....AFHI was shut down legally for that very same reason, and yet lake Region conference had their own wesite which left out the subjected and posted original letters on the original letterhead with signatures. Presentation.

QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 20 2006, 01:47 PM)

you would be ummmm not quite right... the 3abn saga was introduced in 2004 and at that time in the absence of info we encouraged people to pray for both Linda and Danny, because we did not know... other forums specifically VOAF (which no longer exists) had scathing comments about Mr. Shelton's behavior but no one was saying anything like that UNTIL Mr. Shelton contacted Calvin and said that we were being tabloidish.... at that time we begin to dig into this situation further... so we have been investigating, and we have been receiving 1st hand info.... some people (including yourself) have chosen not to believe it... and that's life....

Posted by: Hersheys99 Jul 20 2006, 12:56 PM

QUOTE

People do not need anyone but God to handle a situation...for those that feel that they have been wronged, you don't need IMHO BSDA or any other organization for God to handle things. But you do need to address the direct source of the decision making board.

Well I have a problem with that statement because God sents MEN, BSDA or other avenues to take care of a problem. So it is God doing the handling thru man! God isn't going to come down from heaven & literally do it. AS for the board what a joke have you not been reading the posts & the board at 3ABN are handpicked & will do EXACTLY what Danny wants them to do.

Question for you if your child was involved in the situation there & something was done unjustly to them or heaven forbid if they were one sexually taken advantage of or anything to that nature would you still say leave it alone God will take care of it. I don't think so IMO. I had 2 of my girls work there & I'm livid over the disciplinary action that took place on a couple different occasions over something that WAS NOTHING compared to what Danny himself has done.

I applaud BSDA & anyone else that is willing to stand up & do what is necessary to correct this problem even if it means the downfall of 3ABN as we know it. GOD is using BSDA & sister as well as others to do this & I don't think by any means they are assinating anyones character the person doing the evil is assinating his own character IMO.

Posted by: simplysaved Jul 20 2006, 01:01 PM

As a sexual abuse survivor and former Sexual Abuse Director & Counselor ....I would lead the initiave and not expect someone else to....I would not just tell people, I would go straight to the source: they would follow my lead....BTJM I still believe that God told Moses what to do---Aaron was just there as moral support, but was not expected to do his job. BTJM

QUOTE(Hersheys99 @ Jul 20 2006, 12:56 PM)

Well I have a problem with that statement because God sents MEN, BSDA or other avenues to take care of a problem. So it is God doing the handling thru man! God isn't going to come down from heaven & literally do it. AS for the board what a joke have you not been reading the posts & the board at 3ABN are handpicked & will do EXACTLY what Danny wants them to do.

Question for you if your child was involved in the situation there & something was done unjustly to them or heaven forbid if they were one sexually taken advantage of or anything to that nature would you still say leave it alone God will take care of it. I don't think so IMO. I had 2 of my girls work there & I'm livid over the disciplinary action that took place on a couple different occasions over something that WAS NOTHING compared to what Danny himself has done.

I applaud BSDA & anyone else that is willing to stand up & do what is necessary to correct this problem even if it means the downfall of 3ABN as we know it. GOD is using BSDA & sister as well as others to do this & I don't think by any means they are assinating anyones character the person doing the evil is assinating his own character IMO.

Posted by: princessdi Jul 20 2006, 01:11 PM

simplysaved' date='Jul 20 2006, 11:38 AM' post='140765

My position is I am not taking seriously anything that comes off sounding like the National Inquirer....the initial threads that began this IMHO did (whether or not they were true), the reactions of those that posted (some of them) were not kind or Christian. I stand by that....people were asked not to post there out of respect for those who felt the need to share....I respected that and stopped.

Come on now, Sarah! You posted from Pameia Anderson's Diary yesterday. You have got to be kidding me with this line.

Please give an example of a reactions you feel were not Christian? You made the accusation, you have to back it up, rephrase, or retract.

People do not need anyone but God to handle a situation...for those that feel that they have been wronged, you don't need IMHO BSDA or any other organization for God to handle things. But you do need to address the direct source of the decision making board. We claim to be Christians and not need the .org, but yet for those who have been given the the spiritual burden of sharing this publically they had not spiritual vision (that was presented here at BSDA) for resolving this until Calvin made a call for people to send mass e-mailings and most recently for an independent investigation. Whether or not one may feel that anything was wrong, an independent investigation is more than a fair request and will put an end to speculation. Most of all wer can move on in service for Christ.

Once again, had you been paying attention, you would have known that here was the first time they all could gather the information and compare stories. Once that happened they found that they each had pieces to the puzzle.

Have you even considered that God allowed that to happen to give them what they needed to fight? God allowed them to come here, because once the pieces were together, then it was Calvin piece to facilitate the investigation? Once the pieces were together, because we are all from white and black conferences, the information might be disseminated(sp) to more people, conferences. Just take two minutes and use the mind God gave you, and it will makes sense, at least to me it does. Until they came here, all of these people had a story they felt that one one would believe, and they had no where to go to get vindication. Now it has all come together, here at BSDA. So

God might not have "needed" BSDA to help out in this matter, because He is God, but He definitely honored us by using this forum. Now the few have become many, and soon as the word gets out, there will be an investigation, without Danny's cooperation.

There had to be an investigation with the issue that occurred in South Central Conference...and I do believe that is a more mature response which may now be needed here---once and for all. [/color]

Posted by: simplysaved Jul 20 2006, 01:22 PM

With a direct link to her (Ms. Anderson's) website from a source that was not the National Enquirer (in the Entertainment Forum ...first person vs. third personal info about oneself, which for me is probably the biggest concern that I have here ...I would like the see the original letter or at least have the opportunity to dialogue with Dr. Abrahamsen about the contents of the letter posted her....I think that is more than reasonable request.

Read the threads....this is my opinion. Whether or not they may be true, Calvin had to close the threads and re-opened them with clear guidelines and boundaries.

No, I do not believe that has changed his mind about how things are to be handled according to scripture---I do agree that God allows many things to occur, regardless.

QUOTE(princessdi @ Jul 20 2006, 02:11 PM)

simplysaved' date='Jul 20 2006, 11:38 AM' post='140765
My position is I am not taking seriously anything that comes off sounding like the National Inquirer....the initial threads that began this IMHO did (whether or not they were true), the reactions of those that posted (some of them) were not kind or Christian. I stand by that....people were asked not to post there out of respect for those who felt the need to share....I respected that and stopped.

Come on now, Sarah! You posted from Pamela Anderson's Diary yesterday. You have got to be kidding me with this line.

Please give an example of a reactions you feel were not Christian? You made the accusation, you have to back it up, rephrase, or retract.

People do not need anyone but God to handle a situation...for those that feel that they have been wronged, you don't need IMHO BSDA or any other organization for God to handle things. But you do need to address the direct source of the decision making board. We claim to be Christians and not need the .org, but yet for those who have been given the the spiritual burden of sharing this publically they had not spiritual vision (that was presented here at BSDA) for resolving this until Calvin made a call for people to send mass e-mailings and most recently for an independent investigation. Whether or not one may feel that anything was wrong, an independent investigation is more than a fair request and will put an end to speculation. Most of all wer can move on in service for Christ.

Once again, had you been paying attention, you would have known that here was the first time they all could gather the information and compare stories. Once that happened they found that they each had pieces to the puzzle.

Have you even considered that God allowed that to happen to give them what they needed to fight? God allowed them to come here, because once the pieces were together, then it was Clavin piece to facilitate the investigation? Once the pieces were together, because we are all from white and black conferences, the information might be disseminated(sp) to more people, conferences. Just take two minutes and use the mind God gave you, and it will makes sense, at least to me it does. Until they came here, all of these people had a story they felt that one one would believe, and they had no where to go to get vindication. Now it has all come together, here at BSDA. So God might not have "needed" BSDA to help out in this matter, because He is God, but He definitely honored us by using this forum. Now the few have become many, and soon as the word gets out, there will be an investigation, without Danny's cooperation.

There had to be an investigation with the issue that occurred in South Central Conference...and I do believe that is a more mature response which may now be needed here---once and for all.[/color]

Posted by: västergötland Jul 20 2006, 01:32 PM

Luk 16:27 Then he said, I pray thee therefore, father, that thou wouldest send him to my father's house:
Luk 16:28 For I have five brethren; that he may testify unto them, lest they also come into this place of torment.
Luk 16:29 Abraham saith unto him, They have Moses and the prophets; let them hear them.
Luk 16:30 And he said, Nay, father Abraham: but if one went unto them from the dead, they will repent.
Luk 16:31 And he said unto him, If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded, though one rose from the dead.

For the one who does not want to believe, nothing will be convincing enough.

/Thomas

Posted by: beartrap Jul 20 2006, 01:34 PM

QUOTE(simplysaved @ Jul 20 2006, 02:01 PM)

As a sexual abuse survivor and former Sexual Abuse Director & Counselor ....I would lead the initiave and not expect someone else to....I would not just tell people, I would go straight to the source: they would follow my lead....BTJM I still believe that God told Moses what to do---Aaron was just there as moral support, but was not expected to do his job. BTJM

)k, fine. For your own sake, that might be the thing to do, but what about all of the other people)eing hurt and destroyed. That is a very selfish approach. If you know that there is an abuser in a)lace of power abusing people left and right, and you quietly go behind the scenes, careful not to let ınyone know what this character is doing, and and confront him in his office, or speak to the church ıuthorities (many of whom he controls) and do nothing to warn anyone, or take realistic actions to ;top him, then YOU my sister are responsible for the abuse that you had the responsibility to do your)est to stop. As we speak, there are people, INCLUDING MY CHILDREN, who are being hurt by this nan, and I hold people like you responsible for perpetuating his abuse of them. The light that the lady ;heds is darkness. Do I sound like I am taking this personal? I am! It is personal! In the process of)oing through this I have dealt with pastors and counselors who say the things that you say, and aken their advice... to the detriment of myself and my children. I will not make that mistake again!

Posted by: simplysaved Jul 20 2006, 01:43 PM

And if you want to convince the powers that be, you have to present it in a way that they will not come across in a derogatory manner anymore than a person would allow someone to present negative things that were damaging about their child. It would be perceived as prejudicial and dismissed---and most would sue.

What the Church Leaders do with the evidence presented is what people need to pray about....

QUOTE(västergötland @ Jul 20 2006, 02:32 PM)

Luk 16:27 Then he said, I pray thee therefore, father, that thou wouldest send him to my father's house:
Luk 16:28 For I have five brethren; that he may testify unto them, lest they also come into this place of torment.
Luk 16:29 Abraham saith unto him, They have Moses and the prophets; let them hear them.
Luk 16:30 And he said, Nay, father Abraham: but if one went unto them from the dead, they will repent.
Luk 16:31 And he said unto him, If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded, though one rose from the dead.
For the one who does not want to believe, nothing will be convincing enough.

/Thomas

God and me would take them down... especially if it was my child, because I know what that feels like first hand. If I knew there was an abuser in the house, I would take responsibility--not pass it---and it would be done. Have done and would do it again.

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jul 20 2006, 02:34 PM)

Ok, fine. For your own sake, that might be the thing to do, but what about all of the other people being hurt and destroyed. That is a very selfish approach. If you know that there is an abuser in a place of power abusing people left and right, and you quietly go behind the scenes, careful not to let anyone know what this character is doing, and and confront him in his office, or speak to the church authorities (many of whom he controls) and do nothing to warn anyone, or take realistic actions to stop him, then YOU my sister are responsible for the abuse that you had the responsibility to do your best to stop. As we speak, there are people, INCLUDING MY CHILDREN, who are being hurt by this man, and I hold people like you responsible for perpetuating his abuse of them. The light that the lady sheds is darkness. Do I sound like I am taking this personal? I am! It is personal! In the process of going through this I have dealt with pastors and counselors who say the things that you say, and taken their advice... to the detriment of myself and my children. I will not make that mistake again!

Posted by: princessdi Jul 20 2006, 01:47 PM

simplysaved' date='Jul 20 2006, 12:22 PM' post='140792'

With a direct link to her (Ms. Anderson's) website from a source that was not the National Enquirer (in the Entertainment Forum)...first person vs. third personal info about oneself, which for me is probably the biggest concern that I have here ...I would like the see the original letter or at least have the opportunity to dialogue with Dr. Abrahamsen about the contents of the letter posted her....I think that is more than reasonable request.

It makes no difference where you posted it. How much more tabloid can you get than Pamela Anderson(true or not. Not everything is false in the Enquirer)? Plus, you are not Sybil, with a different personallity for every forum, are you? If you don't believe in tabloid here, you ought not to believe in it anywhere. Be consistent. If you are not, someone, like me, will definitely notice and call you on it. You ought to know by now that whatever you post on this site, in whatever thread is fair game.

Once again, not paying attention. The letter came straight from the Dr. and Johann posted it here, not Johann's version. Johann was given specific instructions by the Dr. how to post the letter. which don't include, " Oh yeah, give Sarah a person a copy if she asks for it, and tell her to call me." Your request is not reasonable, because it is outside of the provisions set up by the Dr. himself for the posting of the letter.

Read the threads....this is my opinion. Whether or not they may be true, Calvin had to close the threads and re-opened them with clear guidelines and boundaries.

Yes, he did, because things that are of criminal nature will not be addressed here. Once those guidelsines were set, there was no problem. Due to the fact that Calvin ahd no idea those types of issues would arise there were guidelines set before then. What exactly is your point?

No, I do not believe that has changed his mind about how things are to be handled according to scripture---I do agree that God allows many things to occur, regardless.

Did you miss the parts where He used people to do His will? Everything was not a miracle or God striking every ones enemies with lightening. Please state the scripture(s) to support your poisiton?

Posted by: beartrap Jul 20 2006, 01:49 PM

Furthermore, counselors and church leaders who insist on years of looking quietly and carefully into it, and interogating the victims ad nauseum to establish their bona fides and further hurting them by making out that they are the probable source of the problem, are a danger to the membership of the church. Those people represent a standing danger to people who are being abused by predators like Danny Shelton.

Posted by: simplysaved Jul 20 2006, 01:53 PM

And as the call was made for people to personally send e-mails forwarding the contents (unless I am mistaken), I have a moral right to ask to see documentation as a person that did not work for 3ABN nor knows Dr. Abrahamsen.

QUOTE(princessdi @ Jul 20 2006, 01:47 PM)

simplysaved' date='Jul 20 2006, 12:22 PM' post='140792'

With a direct link to her (Ms. Anderson's) website from a source that was not the National Enquirer (in the Entertainment Forum)...first person vs. third personal info about oneself, which for me is probably the biggest concern that I have here ...I would like the see the original letter or at least have the opportunity to dialogue with Dr. Abrahamsen about the contents of the letter posted her....I think that is more than reasonable request.

It makes no difference where you posted it. How much more tabloid can you get than Pamela Anderson(true or not. Not everything is false in the Enquirer)? Plus, you are not Sybil, with a different personallity for every forum, are you? If you don't believe in tabloid here, you ought not to believe in it anywhere. Be consistent. If you are not, someone, like me, will definitely notice and call you on it. You ought to know by now that whatever you post on this site, in whatever thread is fair game.

Once again, not paying attention. The letter came straight from the Dr. and Johann posted it here, not Johann's version. Johann was given specific instructions by the Dr. how to post the letter. which don't include, " Oh yeah, give Sarah a person a copy if she asks for it, and tell her to call me." Your request is not reasonable, because it is outside of the provisions set up by the Dr. himself for the posting of the letter.

Read the threads....this is my opinion. Whether or not they may be true, Calvin had to close the threads and re-opened them with clear guidelines and boundaries.

Yes, he did, because things that are of criminal nature will not be addressed here. Once those guidelsines were set, there was no problem. Due to the fact that Calvin ahd no idea those types of issues would arise there were guidelines set before then. What exactly is your point?

No, I do not believe that has changed his mind about how things are to be handled according to scripture---I do agree that God allows many things to occur, regardless.
Did you miss the parts where He used people to do His will? Everything was not a miracle or God striking every ones enemies with lightening. Please state the scripture(s) to support your poisiton?

agree...and should happen sooner and not later....

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jul 20 2006, 01:49 PM)

Furthermore, counselors and church leaders who insist on years of looking quietly and carefully into it, and interogating the victims ad nauseum to establish their bona fides and further hurting them by making out that they are the probable source of the problem, are a danger to the membership of the church. Those people represent a standing danger to people who are being abused by predators like Danny Shelton.

Posted by: beartrap Jul 20 2006, 01:56 PM

QUOTE(simplysaved @ Jul 20 2006, 02:43 PM)

[color=#993399]God and me would take them down... especially if it was my child, because I know what that feels like first hand. If I knew there was an abuser in the house, I would take responsibility--not pass it---and it would be done. Have done and would do it again.

That is what I am doing, but for the sake of many other people out there who are in my shoes, I have widened the net to include those people whose positions and professions give them an authority which they use to allow continued abuse, and make the victims feel like they must be the guilty ones, and through their bad counsel perpetuate abuse. I will not tolerate that any more than I will tolerate the primary abuser.

Posted by: västergötland Jul 20 2006, 02:05 PM

I too would like to see a pile of hard facts, but I also understand the approach taken. An illustration, I have read that the chinese christians only preach on the doorstep of the police station when God has called them to minister in the prison...

Posted by: beartrap Jul 20 2006, 02:09 PM

QUOTE(västergötland @ Jul 20 2006, 03:05 PM)

I too would like to see a pile of hard facts, but I also understand the approach taken. An illustration, I have read that the chinese christians only preach on the doorstep of the police station when God has called them to minister in the prison...

Precisely!

Posted by: simplysaved Jul 20 2006, 02:14 PM

And if God has called you minister in the prison, why are you scared to go inside? Love your analogy.... x

QUOTE(västergötland @ Jul 20 2006, 03:05 PM)

I too would like to see a pile of hard facts, but I also understand the approach taken. An illustration, I have read that the chinese christians only preach on the doorstep of the police station when God has called them to minister in the prison...

Posted by: västergötland Jul 20 2006, 02:20 PM

I dont know that God has called me to minister so that beartraps children go to prison.

Its not merely an analogy, I read that this acctually happened at least once in a biography about a guy in the chinese home church movement.

Posted by: simplysaved Jul 20 2006, 02:38 PM

I don't understand what you mean here....Can you help a "sista" understand?

QUOTE(västergötland @ Jul 20 2006, 03:20 PM)

> I dont know that God has called me to minister so that beartraps children go to prison.
>
> Its not merely an analogy, I read that this acctually happened at least once in a biography about a guy in the chinese home church movement.

Posted by: västergötland Jul 20 2006, 02:50 PM

I mean simply that it is not my neck thats in the noose. I have nothing more than my pride to loose in this while others (or so it seems from the testimony given here) have their very future between now and death/the day we see the Lord on the skies in jeopardy.

Posted by: beartrap Jul 20 2006, 02:59 PM

I apologize to Sister Sarah for lashing out. I stand by the principles, and I mean what I say, but it shouldn't be spoken in anger. bot

---

Posted by: lurker Jul 20 2006, 03:05 PM

I don't see how anyone can think that if the church suffers from a moral decline that it doesn't directly affect them. Again I am going to post a link that I posted in another thread. Because the story it leads to shows how the powerless are victimized when folks "leave it to the Lord to take care of things" and when they assume that those in positions of authority are always to be unquestioningly trusted.

http://www.sdadefend.com/MINDEX-T/Torres.pdf

Posted by: simplysaved Jul 20 2006, 03:07 PM

sig I understand perfectly now what you meant! che

> QUOTE(västergötland @ Jul 20 2006, 02:50 PM)
>
> I mean simply that it is not my neck thats in the noose. I have nothing more than my pride to loose in this while others (or so it seems from the testimony given here) have their very future between now and death/the day we see the Lord on the skies in jeopardy.

hug.gif Apology accepted...and I really do understand what you meant....

> QUOTE(beartrap @ Jul 20 2006, 02:59 PM)
>
> I apologize to Sister Sarah for lashing out. I stand by the principles, and I mean what I say, but it shouldn't be spoken in anger. bot

Posted by: västergötland Jul 20 2006, 03:18 PM

QUOTE(lurker @ Jul 20 2006, 11:05 PM)

I don't see how anyone can think that if the church suffers from a moral decline that it doesn't directly affect them.

t affects them but not nessessarily all in the same way. People close to the moral decline may find hemselves in either persecution or decline themselves while people farther away may instead have to ight with the tsunami waves created by the decline and try to salvage what took much time and effort o build up but was swiftly brought down.

Posted by: beartrap Jul 20 2006, 03:29 PM

QUOTE(västergötland @ Jul 20 2006, 04:18 PM)

It affects them but not nessessarily all in the same way. People close to the moral decline may find themselves in either persecution or decline themselves while people farther away may instead have to fight with the tsunami waves created by the decline and try to salvage what took much time and effort to build up but was swiftly brought down.

)ur friend from Western Gotaland seems to have a rather solid grasp of some of the dynamics nvolved in this sort of thing. Do you happen to recall the name of the book you referenced regarding he Chinese story?

Posted by: västergötland Jul 20 2006, 03:34 PM

I do, it is a great testimony to the work of God. Its name is "the heavenly man". The books name is explained a bit into it.

http://www.amazon.com/gp/product/082546207X/104-3479203-4096748?v=glance&n=283155

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 20 2006, 03:35 PM

I quote myself when I feel that my questions have not been answered.....

QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jul 20 2006, 01:59 PM)

It....is ON TOPIC!

Lemmie rephrase my question so that it is totally understood....

Directed toward Simply.....

Is what Bro J stated about "character assassination" (underlined portion above) toward others true of you? If so - then why all the problem with the questioning and concern about Danny?

If it is not true then you do actually have a point.

Remember - remotely true - you have not a leg to stand on.
Remember - not true - you have a point.

QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jul 20 2006, 02:30 PM)

It's not because it points directly to your view of the entire Danny Shelton mess.

You can sit on a board and later censure others - yet when given the chance to "do something about" a "major player" you choose to stand by and do nothing.

I don't care if it Danny, Lenny, or Pete - if you are wrong, you are wrong. GOD want us to let him handle things and along with that he wants us to use SENSE.

I restate the question - true or not?

If true - then you have no point.
If not true - then you make sense....

..unless you are not answering because you know that we know the answer....

QUOTE(västergötland @ Jul 20 2006, 03:32 PM)

Luk 16:27 Then he said, I pray thee therefore, father, that thou wouldest send him to my father's house:
Luk 16:28 For I have five brethren; that he may testify unto them, lest they also come into this place of torment.
Luk 16:29 Abraham saith unto him, They have Moses and the prophets; let them hear them.
Luk 16:30 And he said, Nay, father Abraham: but if one went unto them from the dead, they will repent.
Luk 16:31 And he said unto him, If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded, though one rose from the dead.
For the one who does not want to believe, nothing will be convincing enough.

/Thomas

& what's sad is that when this comes out as true...and if you had the chance to "do something" and you didn't - well .... it's like you were "supporting" him in a sense....

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jul 20 2006, 03:34 PM)

Ok, fine. For your own sake, that might be the thing to do, but what about all of the other people being hurt and destroyed. That is a very selfish approach. If you know that there is an abuser in a place of power abusing people left and right, and you quietly go behind the scenes, careful not to let anyone know what this character is doing, and and confront him in his office, or speak to the church authorities (many of whom he controls) and do nothing to warn anyone, or take realistic actions to stop him, then YOU my sister are responsible for the abuse that you had the responsibility to do your best to stop. As we speak, there are people, INCLUDING MY CHILDREN, who are being hurt by this man, and I hold people like you responsible for perpetuating his abuse of them. The light that the lady sheds is darkness. Do I sound like I am taking this personal? I am! It is personal! In the process of going through this I have dealt with pastors and counselors who say the things that you say, and taken their advice... to the detriment of myself and my children. I will not make that mistake again!

Been there.... understand loud and clear. I hear you. I HEAR YOU!

Posted by: simplysaved Jul 20 2006, 03:37 PM

That does help even more...thanks!

QUOTE(västergötland @ Jul 20 2006, 03:34 PM)

I do, it is a great testimony to the work of God. Its name is "the heavenly man". The books name is explained a bit into it.

http://www.amazon.com/gp/product/082546207X/104-3479203-4096748?v=glance&n=283155

Posted by: västergötland Jul 20 2006, 03:43 PM

QUOTE(västergötland @ Jul 20 2006, 10:34 PM)

I do, it is a great testimony to the work of God. Its name is "the heavenly man". The books name is explained a bit into it.

http://www.amazon.com/gp/product/082546207X/104-3479203-4096748?v=glance&n=283155

On a secound thought, Im not 100% wether the story I used as an example is in this book or if it is in the follow up http://www.amazon.com/gp/product/1884543898/ref=pd_bxgy_text_b/104-3479203-4096748?ie=UTF8.

Doesnt matter much though as I recomed both books, preferably read in the order they are written.

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Jul 20 2006, 04:11 PM

Beartrap posted this somewhere:

QUOTE

You and I both know very well the force and fury of what is headed your way. You are not standing alone. Over the past hour I have made a number of phone calls, and you have the full backing of local people here in the Frankfort area who are fully aware of Danny's indiscretions, some people who have been very high in the 3ABN circles, a psychologist who has been helping some of Danny's victims in their struggle to recover, and at least one highly placed conference official. If you get a letter from 3ABN threatening to sue you, and if they say that even if you win the case you still lose because they will keep you tied up in court for years running your finances dry in legal fees, don't worry. A number of us have recieved those letters. I threatened to send mine out to the media, or post it on the internet. They know that there is a media organization with an investigative reporter who is dying to get this info.

Why not let this investigative reporter to all the investigating?

Posted by: alramwill Jul 20 2006, 04:25 PM

QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jul 20 2006, 03:35 PM)

I quote myself when I feel that my questions have not been answered.....
...unless you are not answering because you know that we know the answer....

I await Sarah's reply as well...

Posted by: LadyTenor Jul 20 2006, 07:00 PM

QUOTE(alramwill @ Jul 20 2006, 06:25 PM)

I await Sarah's reply as well...

I might be wrong, but I get the feeling ya'll might be waiting for a while.....

Posted by: Freedom Jul 20 2006, 07:28 PM

QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jul 20 2006, 10:47 AM)

You cannot RIGHTFULLY sit on ANY board and censure ANYONE if you fail to take action against this man.

In response to the board members of 3ABN.
They "do not micromange Danny or the running of 3ABN". "They do not tell Danny what to do."

Words spoken to me by Dr. Thomsen.

So in other words Danny boy can do what ever he wants and the board won't stop him.
I feel for Linda and any others of us that have dealt with Danny and the board of 3ABN.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 20 2006, 07:47 PM

QUOTE(Freedom @ Jul 20 2006, 08:28 PM)

QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jul 20 2006, 10:47 AM)

You cannot RIGHTFULLY sit on ANY board and censure ANYONE if you fail to take action against this man.
In response to the board members of 3ABN.
They "do not micromange Danny or the running of 3ABN". "They do not tell Danny what to do."

Words spoken to me by Dr. Thomsen.

So in other words Danny boy can do what ever he wants and the board won't stop him.
I feel for Linda and any others of us that have dealt with Danny and the board of 3ABN.

Just like this is wrong for ANYONE on church board - this is wrong for ANYONE on the 3ABN board.

Don't try to censure a 16 year old young woman for having a baby out of wedlock if you aren't gonna do something about this man. That is my RIDING POINT AND I WILL STICK TO IT.

QUOTE(alramwill @ Jul 20 2006, 05:25 PM)

I await Sarah's reply as well...

QUOTE(LadyTenor @ Jul 20 2006, 08:00 PM)

I might be wrong, but I get the feeling ya'll might be waiting for a while.....

I don't really "await"....because I know the answer/truth.

IOW:

Don't try to censure a 16 year old young woman for having a baby out of wedlock if you aren't gonna do something about this man. That is my RIDING POINT AND I WILL STICK TO IT.

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Jul 21 2006, 06:04 PM

Steve,

I received a notice that you posted something here, so where is it?

Posted by: Clay Jul 21 2006, 06:06 PM

QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Jul 21 2006, 06:04 PM)

Steve,

I received a notice that you posted something here, so where is it?

I split the topic Daryl as it was veering off into the "grounds for divorce" issue.... the new topic can be found in the Theology forum....

Posted by: beartrap Jul 21 2006, 06:26 PM

QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jul 20 2006, 08:47 PM)

Just like this is wrong for ANYONE on church board - this is wrong for ANYONE on the 3ABN board.

Don't try to censure a 16 year old young woman for having a baby out of wedlock if you aren't gonna do something about this man. That is my RIDING POINT AND I WILL STICK TO IT.
I don't really "await"....because I know the answer/truth.

IOW:

Don't try to censure a 16 year old young woman for having a baby out of wedlock if you aren't gonna do something about this man. That is my RIDING POINT AND I WILL STICK TO IT.

The 3ABN church board tried to issues a censure against Linda. She dropped her membership and joined a local black church in Springfield. She is welcome and happy there.

Posted by: Clay Jul 21 2006, 06:28 PM

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jul 21 2006, 07:26 PM)

The 3ABN church board tried to issues a censure against Linda. She dropped her membership and joined a local black church in Springfield. She is welcome and happy there.

aint that about nothing (as we use to say)

Posted by: Fran Jul 22 2006, 12:00 PM

Special Request.

Would someone please send packets to these people. Time is of essence. I am not able to at this time. I have just had eye surgery. Otherwise I would send them.

ASI International
Convention 2006
Click on the theme below for information
TELL THEM NOW!
August 2-5
Grapevine, Texas
(Minutes from DFW Airport)

Officers for the 2005-2007 term, left to right:
Viorel Catarama, vice president for evangelism; Leasa Hodges, vice president for youth evangelism; Chester Clark, general vice president; Harold Lance, president, Missions, Inc.; Debbie Young, president; Chip Doss, vice president for communication; Barbara Taylor, vice president for finance; Ron Christman, secretary-treasurer; Doreen Schmidt, vice president for membership and recruitment.

ASI Board Members
President Conference ASI Secretary
Debbie Young Duane McKey
Secretary Treasurer Union ASI Secretary
Ron Christman Norm Klam
General Vice President Union ASI Chapter Presidents
Chester Clark III Lorayne Barton
Vice Presidents Gayle Clark
Viorel Catarama Steve Dickman
Chip Doss Sharon Erickson
Leasa Hodges Elizabeth Gonsalves-Remington
Doreen Schmidt Floyd Miller
Barbara Taylor Dan Ross
NAD Appointees Members at Large
Juan Prestol Ellsworth McKee
Don Schneider Tom Zapara
Halvard Thomsen Immediate Past President
ASI Mission, Inc. President Denzil McNeilus
Harold Lance

ASI Missions Inc.
President Andre Jubert, M.D.
Harold Lance Ellsworth McKee
NAD Appointees Russell McKee
Juan Prestol Denzil McNeilus
Don Schneider Garwin McNeilus
Halvard Thomsen Jane Sines
Members Stan Smith
Terry Anderson Debbie Young
Ron Christman
Dan Houghton

Chapter Leadership
Atlantic Union Chapter
President - Elizabeth Gonsalves-Remington
Union Sec./Treasurer - Carlyle Simmons
VP for Communication - Millicent Corbett
VP for Recruitment - Tom Murray

Canadian Union Chapter
Executive Secretary - Barry Bussey

Columbia Union Chapter
President - Gayle Clark
Assistant to the President - Gwendolyn Herron
General Vice President - Dirci Marquart
Union Secretary - Seth Bardu
VP for Finance - Robert Wallace
VP for Programming - Joy Charles
VP for Evangelism - Ralph Rhyne
VP for Recruitment - Grace Masaka
VP for Communication - Danny Kwon

Lake Union Chapter
President - Sandy Miller
General Vice President - Mark LaVanture
VP for Finance - Tom Morrissey
Union Secretary - Carmelo Mercado
VP for Membership and Recruitment - Don Starlin
VP for Evangelism - Darry Campbell
VP for Communication - Mona Sarcona
VPs for Projects/Events - Fred Miller, Chuck Randall

Mid-America Union Chapter
President - Sharon Erickson
General Vice President - George McNeilus
Union Secretary - Tom Evans
VP for Finance - Virgil Carner
VP for Evangelism - Vern Erickson
VP for Recruitment - Joyce Pinke
VP for Projects/Events - Celeste Lee

North Pacific Union Chapter
President - Dan Ross
General Vice President - Christy Reich
Secretary - Janet Evert
VP for Finance - Ron Oliver
Union Secretary/Treasurer - Norm Klam
VP for Communication - Ellen Butler
VP for Evangelism - Ted Evert
VP for Recruitment - Mark Black

Pacific Union Chapter
President - Dr. Lorayne Barton
Secretary - Ed Fargusson
Union Secretary - Ricardo Graham
VP for Finance - Alberto Bagingito
VP for Evangelism - Steve Rinker
VP for Recruitment - Dr. Leo Herber
VP for Communication - Pat Arrabito
Program Chairperson - Gail Reitz

Southern Union Chapter
President - Steve Dickman
General Vice President - Brenda Palmer
General Vice President - Calvin Thrash
Union Secretary - Tom Kapusta
VP for Communication - Joy Biegel
VP for Evangelism - Ben Kochenower
VP for Finance - Brent Palmer

VP for Recruitment - Dale Bass

Southwestern Union Chapter
President - Dr. Chester V. Clark, Jr.
General Vice President - Neil Nedley

Union Secretary - Sam Green
VP for Evangelism - Jaime Espinal
VP for Recruitment - Cyril Miller
VP for Communication - Mel Underhill

Plus, 3ABN on the Road goes to Dallas 1st SDA Church Aug 18-19.. Jim Gillie is the pastor.

http://www.adventistdirectory.org/view_Entity.asp?EntityID=10945

Dallas First Seventh-day Adventist Church

Address: 4009 N Central Expressway
Dallas, TX 75204-3166

Members: 377
Pastor: Jim Gillie, Pastor
Phone: 1 214-528-1111
Email:

Website: www.dallasfirstchurch.org

Posted by: seeshell Jul 22 2006, 01:01 PM

Fran,

One of the people on your list is my brother-in-law...I will PM you.

Posted by: seraph|m Jul 22 2006, 06:31 PM

QUOTE

I already sit on the Church Board..... [x]

QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jul 19 2006, 04:58 PM)

Sooo....from this you are saying that since Danny "got away" with it thus far it is okay per the "law"?

As for being on the board..... have you ever censured anybody? Don't answer that - just know that if you have you cannot possibly have this stance with this Danny Shelton mess because it would be hyp-o-critical to want to do this in your church and not want to do this to leaders who you have representing you.

16 year old women, bad boys move ovah - the SDA's are after you ..... however if you are a leader have a field day! You will be blindly supported to the end.....

For anyone not to simple to see it, Judas was a "church leader". One of the 12 on the board, so to speak. Thus it is simple there are plenty of folk living the life of a hypo-crite on the board of many a church.

Posted by: inga Jul 22 2006, 10:34 PM

The web address of ASI Ministries is http://www.asiministries.org/.

I'm guessing that the most effective strategy is for each of us to write to the representatives in our area. I intend to write to our local Canadian representative, as well as some other folks I know.

I suspect it wouldn't hurt to share postal addresses here, though it would not be a good idea to post email addresses, because of spam issues.

QUOTE(Fran @ Jul 22 2006, 01:00 PM)

Special Request.

Would someone please send packets to these people. Time is of essence. I am not able to at this time. I have just had eye surgery. Otherwise I would send them.

ASI International
Convention 2006
Click on the theme below for information
TELL THEM NOW!
August 2-5
Grapevine, Texas
(Minutes from DFW Airport)

Officers for the 2005-2007 term, left to right:
Viorel Catarama, vice president for evangelism; Leasa Hodges, vice president for youth evangelism; Chester Clark, general vice president; Harold Lance, president, Missions, Inc.; Debbie Young, president; Chip Doss, vice president for communication; Barbara Taylor, vice president for finance; Ron Christman, secretary-treasurer; Doreen Schmidt, vice president for membership and recruitment.

ASI Board Members
President Conference ASI Secretary
Debbie Young Duane McKey
Secretary Treasurer Union ASI Secretary
Ron Christman Norm Klam
General Vice President Union ASI Chapter Presidents
Chester Clark III Lorayne Barton
Vice Presidents Gayle Clark
Viorel Catarama Steve Dickman
Chip Doss Sharon Erickson
Leasa Hodges Elizabeth Gonsalves-Remington
Doreen Schmidt Floyd Miller
Barbara Taylor Dan Ross
NAD Appointees Members at Large

Juan Prestol Ellsworth McKee
Don Schneider Tom Zapara
Halvard Thomsen Immediate Past President
ASI Mission, Inc. President Denzil McNeilus
Harold Lance

ASI Missions Inc.
President Andre Jubert, M.D.
Harold Lance Ellsworth McKee
NAD Appointees Russell McKee
Juan Prestol Denzil McNeilus
Don Schneider Garwin McNeilus
Halvard Thomsen Jane Sines
Members Stan Smith
Terry Anderson Debbie Young
Ron Christman
Dan Houghton

Chapter Leadership
Atlantic Union Chapter
President - Elizabeth Gonsalves-Remington
Union Sec./Treasurer - Carlyle Simmons
VP for Communication - Millicent Corbett
VP for Recruitment - Tom Murray

Canadian Union Chapter
Executive Secretary - Barry Bussey
Columbia Union Chapter
President - Gayle Clark
Assistant to the President - Gwendolyn Herron
General Vice President - Dirci Marquart
Union Secretary - Seth Bardu
VP for Finance - Robert Wallace
VP for Programming - Joy Charles
VP for Evangelism - Ralph Rhyne
VP for Recruitment - Grace Masaka
VP for Communication - Danny Kwon

Lake Union Chapter
President - Sandy Miller
General Vice President - Mark LaVanture
VP for Finance - Tom Morrissey
Union Secretary - Carmelo Mercado
VP for Membership and Recruitment - Don Starlin
VP for Evangelism - Darry Campbell
VP for Communication - Mona Sarcona
VPs for Projects/Events - Fred Miller, Chuck Randall
Mid-America Union Chapter
President - Sharon Erickson
General Vice President - George McNeilus
Union Secretary - Tom Evans
VP for Finance - Virgil Carner
VP for Evangelism - Vern Erickson
VP for Recruitment - Joyce Pinke
VP for Projects/Events - Celeste Lee

North Pacific Union Chapter
President - Dan Ross
General Vice President - Christy Reich

Secretary - Janet Evert
VP for Finance - Ron Oliver
Union Secretary/Treasurer - Norm Klam
VP for Communication - Ellen Butler
VP for Evangelism - Ted Evert
VP for Recruitment - Mark Black

Pacific Union Chapter
President - Dr. Lorayne Barton
Secretary - Ed Fargusson
Union Secretary - Ricardo Graham
VP for Finance - Alberto Bagingito
VP for Evangelism - Steve Rinker
VP for Recruitment - Dr. Leo Herber
VP for Communication - Pat Arrabito
Program Chairperson - Gail Reitz

Southern Union Chapter
President - Steve Dickman
General Vice President - Brenda Palmer
General Vice President - Calvin Thrash
Union Secretary - Tom Kapusta
VP for Communication - Joy Biegel
VP for Evangelism - Ben Kochenower
VP for Finance - Brent Palmer
VP for Recruitment - Dale Bass

Southwestern Union Chapter
President - Dr. Chester V. Clark, Jr.
General Vice President - Neil Nedley

Union Secretary - Sam Green
VP for Evangelism - Jaime Espinal
VP for Recruitment - Cyril Miller
VP for Communication - Mel Underhill

Plus, 3ABN on the Road goes to Dallas 1st SDA Church Aug 18-19.. Jim Gillie is the pastor.

http://www.adventistdirectory.org/view_Entity.asp?EntityID=10945

Dallas First Seventh-day Adventist Church

Address: 4009 N Central Expressway
Dallas, TX 75204-3166

Members: 377
Pastor: Jim Gillie, Pastor
Phone: 1 214-528-1111
Email:

Website: www.dallasfirstchurch.org

Posted by: watchbird Jul 28 2006, 08:05 AM

It seems as though we are scattering our comments about contacting others over several different threads. It might be more helpful if from now on we put our suggestions for "things we can do" on this thread that Calvin started some time ago. And also that we put our reports here -- both successes and discouragements -- as well as specific occasions that call for information sharing -- such as churches which are hosting 3ABN "rallies".

Earlier in this thread, Sister gave us the text of the email she used previous to the one which is being held this weekend. With appropriate adaptations and personal additions, this might make a good pattern for use in contacting host pastors for future such rallies.

Sister wrote:

QUOTE

My email:

churchpastor@knowjesusfully.com

Dear Pastor Pete Geli,

I see that you are having a 3ABN Rally at your church on Sabbath, July 29. I would suggest that you do some research at http://www.blacksda.com before the meeting. There is a section in the forum for information about 3ABN, it could be of great interest for you, your church board and your members. Included are a number of articles I have written about the history of 3ABN. I am sure that you will find it quite interesting.

Sister

The next scheduled rally according to the 3ABN announcements page is:

August 18-19, 2006
Dallas First Seventh Day Adventist Church
4009 N Central Expressway
Dallas, TX 75204-3166

http://www.dallasfirstchurch.org/

For more information: Church phone: 214-528-1111
Pastor: James Gilley

LIVE Programs: Central Time Zone

Friday, August 18, 2006
7:00-9:00pm CT -- Bible Question Panel with:
James Gilley, John Lomacang, Ken Cox, Mike Tucker, and Shelley Quinn

Saturday, August 19, 2006
9:30-10:45am Sabbath School Lesson--Shelley Quinn
11:00am-12:30pm Worship Service—Danny Shelton
2:30-4:00pm Sabbath Afternoon Program
Music by: Danny Shelton, Tommy Shelton, Melody Firestone, Darrell Marshall, and John Lomacang
---

I hope several here will contact not only Pastor Gilley, but also any church members that they know in the area, as well as Texas Conference officials.

It is my understanding that the Arild Abrahamsen letter was circulated and discussed at the recent meeting of church leaders held in Turkey, so he may not be totally unaware of the situation. But it may be that he does not understand the scope of the problem at 3ABN as extending far beyond the marriage and divorce issues between Danny and Linda. He can learn that here at BSDA.

Posted by: Freedom Jul 28 2006, 05:46 PM

In response to getting the word out to the churches/Pastors: Doesn't the General Conference have a strict policy for people that have sexually abused children being in the churches?

I know that some conferences do: very strict policies, some conferences if a family comes and sits next to a sexual abuser than that person (abuser) has to get up and move. Can't be anywhere near children! Some conferences/churches have an elder assigned to follow every move the abuser makes.

So since there is a history of sexual abuse with two of the Shelton men who frequently are at the churches, why does the GC or the churches allow them to come into the churchs?

Umm, just food for new thought.

This added to all the other issues with 3ABN.....

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jul 28 2006, 07:05 AM)

It seems as though we are scattering our comments about contacting others over several different threads. It might be more helpful if from now on we put our suggestions for "things we can do" on this thread that Calvin started some time ago. And also that we put our reports here -- both successes and discouragements -- as well as specific occasions that call for information sharing -- such as churches which are hosting 3ABN "rallies".

Earlier in this thread, Sister gave us the text of the email she used previous to the one which is being held this weekend. With appropriate adaptations and personal additions, this might make a good pattern for use in contacting host pastors for future such rallies.

Sister wrote:
The next scheduled rally according to the 3ABN announcements page is:

August 18-19, 2006
Dallas First Seventh Day Adventist Church
4009 N Central Expressway
Dallas, TX 75204-3166

http://www.dallasfirstchurch.org/

For more information: Church phone: 214-528-1111
Pastor: James Gilley

LIVE Programs: Central Time Zone

Friday, August 18, 2006

7:00-9:00pm CT -- Bible Question Panel with:
James Gilley, John Lomacang, Ken Cox, Mike Tucker, and Shelley Quinn

Saturday, August 19, 2006
9:30-10:45am Sabbath School Lesson--Shelley Quinn
11:00am-12:30pm Worship Service—Danny Shelton
2:30-4:00pm Sabbath Afternoon Program
Music by: Danny Shelton, Tommy Shelton, Melody Firestone, Darrell Marshall, and John Lomacang
---

I hope several here will contact not only Pastor Gilley, but also any church members that they know in the area, as well as Texas Conference officials.

It is my understanding that the Arild Abrahamsen letter was circulated and discussed at the recent meeting of church leaders held in Turkey, so he may not be totally unaware of the situation. But it may be that he does not understand the scope of the problem at 3ABN as extending far beyond the marriage and divorce issues between Danny and Linda. He can learn that here at BSDA.

Posted by: Observer Jul 29 2006, 03:20 AM

People in MSDAOL have been asking how to obtain names and addresses of denominational leaders so that they can write to them about this 3ABN situation. Yesterday, Gregory Matthews posted a message there as to how to do this. Here it is:

"How to get addresses:

1) Probably 90% (not 100%) of the credentaled employees, and a great number of institutional employees are listed in the SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTIST YEARBOOK, which is revised, and published once a year.

2) In some cases the YEARBOOK will list the home addressess, but will in all cases list the office address.

3) One can go to the institution, or office, and find the names of the poeple holding positions. E.g. the listings for the local Conferences will list the names of all clergy (and more). One can then chek for addresses, by name, in another section.

4) An abreviated version of the YEARBOOK is posted to the Web. Simply click on the General conference website. IT probably does nto list the home addesses.

5) The YEARBOOK is also on sale in the ABCs, sometimes by special order.

6) Some denominational employees will have there own personal copy. "

Posted by: icedragon Jul 29 2006, 08:00 AM

QUOTE(Freedom @ Jul 28 2006, 06:46 PM)

In response to getting the word out to the churches/Pastors: Doesn't the General Conference have a strict policy for people that have sexually abused children being in the churches?

I know that some conferences do: very strict policies, some conferences if a family comes and sits next to a sexual abuser than that person (abuser) has to get up and move. Can't be anywhere near children! Some conferences/churches have an elder assigned to follow every move the abuser makes.

So since there is a history of sexual abuse with two of the Shelton men who frequently are at the churches, why does the GC or the churches allow them to come into the churchs?

Umm, just food for new thought.

This added to all the other issues with 3ABN.....

I have assembled the evidence in an orderly manner and am prerparing an written letter summerising the evidence. in any one wants the information I can e-mail it. It is 22-24 pages long. if you want to contact me I will send it to you. Thank-you

---

Posted by: no_cults Jul 29 2006, 09:14 AM

Is the Thomas B. Shelton residing in Marion,Ill. the brother of Danny Shelton? (Tommy Shelton)

He is listed on the Ill. Sex Offender registry. Birthdate is 8/21/50, race=white, height= 5'7".

Is this what the concern is?
Who is the other Shelton brother, and what is his connection to 3ABN?

Posted by: Lee Jul 29 2006, 10:07 AM

QUOTE(no_cults @ Jul 29 2006, 10:14 AM)

Is the Thomas B. Shelton residing in Marion,Ill. the brother of Danny Shelton? (Tommy Shelton)

He is listed on the Ill. Sex Offender registry. Birthdate is 8/21/50, race=white, height= 5'7".

Is this what the concern is?
Who is the other Shelton brother, and what is his connection to 3ABN?

Hello Everyone--I'm new here and this is my first post. I just wanted to say that I looked up Thomas B. Shelton on the Illinois sex offender list and there is a picture of the man. It is NOT Tommy Shelton from 3ABN. It may be a distant relative, I don't know, but it is not the pianist on 3 ABN.

Lee

Posted by: ajgary95 Jul 29 2006, 10:19 AM

Tommy Shelton does not reside in Illinois if I'm not mistaken he lives in KY. The other brother is Kenny Shelton who also has Behold the Lamb Ministries. He started out with Danny originally on 3ABN.

Posted by: Hersheys99 Jul 29 2006, 10:22 AM

Tommy Shelton does not reside in Illinois if I'm not mistaken he lives in KY. The other brother is Kenny Shelton who also has Behold the Lamb Ministries. He started out with Danny originally on 3ABN.

This is my post & I'm not sure why its changing user names in the middle of doing things.

Posted by: no_cults Jul 29 2006, 11:30 AM

QUOTE(Lee @ Jul 29 2006, 11:07 AM)

Hello Everyone--I'm new here and this is my first post. I just wanted to say that I looked up Thomas B. Shelton on the Illinois sex offender list and there is a picture of the man. It is NOT Tommy Shelton from 3ABN. It may be a distant relative, I don't know, but it is not the pianist on 3 ABN.

Lee

I hope you're right. But, the birthdates of this Thomas Shelton could make him Danny's older brother (2 yrs older) and the Thomas Shelton evidentally lives around 10 miles from 3abn. Just a cooincidence, I guess. I looked at the picture and could see some similarities. Hard to tell and be sure, though. People usually aren't smiling in mug shots..... unless you're Tom DeLay.

Posted by: Hersheys99 Jul 29 2006, 11:46 AM

Thomas B Shelton is not Danny's brother Tommy. I went to look to make sure & it is definitely not the same person. I have seen Tommy in person & the picture looks nothing like him. I think Tommy's middle name is Lee but not positive. But that aside I also put a search in on http://www.familywatchdog.us/ for the name Shelton & all states & he isn't registered. I think there is a lot more to the story of why he isn't registered but I'll let someone that would actually know for sure put it out there if they choose too.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 29 2006, 12:55 PM

There is enough evidence existing on the Shelton's and their hot mess on toast activities....

I hope no one "makes up" anything that will in the end make all the "true stuff" go away...because of one.... "lie".....

Posted by: Fran Jul 29 2006, 02:21 PM

QUOTE(Lee @ Jul 29 2006, 10:07 AM)

Hello Everyone--I'm new here and this is my first post. I just wanted to say that I looked up Thomas B. Shelton on the Illinois sex offender list and there is a picture of the man. It is NOT Tommy Shelton from 3ABN. It may be a distant relative, I don't know, but it is not the pianist on 3 ABN.

Lee

Tommy lives in KY. He has a website. http://www.tommyshelton.com/

Email: tommy@tommyshelton.com
Phone: 270-965-1698

Mailing address:
Tommy Shelton
9090 SR 91 North
Marion, KY 42064

My understanding is that he lives in KY because the agreement with the parents of more than one child was that he could never live in IL again. I am sure they were paid very well for not pressing charges.

He is not a Seventh-day Adventist.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 29 2006, 02:24 PM

Well!

Umph!

sna

Posted by: watchbird Jul 29 2006, 03:33 PM

QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jul 29 2006, 12:55 PM)

There is enough evidence existing on the Shelton's and their hot mess on toast activities....

I hope no one "makes up" anything that will in the end make all the "true stuff" go away...because of one.... "lie".....

Excellent points. This is the real reason why it is so necessary to do exactly as Calvin has done and forbid speculation. And it is also why some here are busily working in the background to try and determine the truth or falsity of some speculative statements, since if they are true they should be established as such, and if they cannot be determined, then they should not be talked about lest they feed upon themselves and what seems to be collaborating "evidence" turns out not to be that.....which would then tend to discredit all information that is being presented.

The questions about the Tommy Shelton listed in Illinois as a sex offender is a case in point. So it is well that some alert person caught the fact that this was not the same Tommy before someone claimed this as evidence against him.

But in view of the recent questions about both brothers, I took a look to see what has already been posted to the forum on these subjects.

The two brothers, Tommy and Kenny are both introduced to us in chapter 1 (Linda out, family in...) of An Unauthorized History of 3ABN http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?showtopic=9762 .

But there seems to be no more discussion of either of them in the history threads until down near the end of chapter 5 where Beartrap gives a history of Kenny Shelton in post #5, http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9766&view=findpost&p=130344 This is followed by a few other posts that touch on the same topic.

I will also include here a few paragraphs from a personal letter I received on 10/11/2005 which adds a few details Beartrap does not give in the post above or in his comments in succeeding posts.

> QUOTE
>
> I have noticed that Kenny Shelton is showing up on 3ABN quite often now. In the late eighties Kenny left the West Frankfort SDA church and started a new one about fifteen miles away in Herrin. It became an actual church with him as the pastor. He hooked up with John and Marshall Grosboll, Ron Spear, John Osborn, and a few others. He began calling the SDA church Babylon, encouraging people to leave the church and start their own home churches using his videos, and send their tithe to him.
>
> The IL conference president, Jim Brauer, attempted to work with him. Brauer visited Kenny's church and was physically removed. The doors were locked behind him. He also tried to visit Kenny at home, but Kenny ordered him off the property. The conference eventually sent a letter to all of Kenny's members letting them know that they had a specific amount of time to get membership in other local churches or be disfellowshipped. Kenny led an entire church out of the Church and they were disfellowshipped.
>
> Now Kenny (Behold the Lamb Ministries) works regularly with John Grosboll and Dennis Crystal going about leading people out of Adventism and into their ultra conservative movement. As recently as this month Kenny wrote an article in Grosboll's magazine dissing the Church.

Perhaps others who either have addtional information on Danny's various brothers, or who know where they have been discussed in other threads, could give that here as well as pointing us to the other places they have been discussed on BSDA.

Posted by: no_cults Jul 29 2006, 04:00 PM

If someone states that they believe that the Thomas Shelton who is listed as a "sex offender in Ill" (who lives within 10 miles of 3abn) IS the same person as Tommy Shelton and brother of Danny Shelton - THAT is speculation.

I simply noted that there was a person named Thomas Shelton showing up at a Sex-offender web-site and asked IF IT WAS the brother of Danny Shelton. (Believing that someone on this board might know.)

The person listed actually did fit the age of someone who could be the brother of Danny Shelton..... also approx. physical characteristics. This information along with hints that there were problems such as this with not one but TWO of the Shelton brothers made this a logical question to ask.

Evidentally.... someone on this board knows Tommy's likeness well enough and is willing to say without question that the Thomas B. Shelton living nearby 3abn is not the same person as Tommy Shelton (bro. fo Danny).

Indeed, I hope they are right. They at 3ABN have enough on their plate right now.

Whew!!!

.

Posted by: Lee Jul 29 2006, 04:47 PM

Here is the link where I found the picture of Thomas Shelton.

http://www.nsopr.gov/

You may need to put in his name on the lefthand side and then when it shows up, click right on it. His picture will then show.

Lee

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jul 29 2006, 05:34 PM

QUOTE(Lee @ Jul 29 2006, 04:47 PM)

Here is the link where I found the picture of Thomas Shelton.

http://www.nsopr.gov/

You may need to put in his name on the lefthand side and then when it shows up, click right on it. His picture will then show.

Lee

Don't bother looking, anybody. I looked at the photo.

Thomas B. Shelton (in the photo) looks nothing like the 3ABN Tommy Shelton that I can see. I think this thread is off on the wrong track here.

Posted by: watchbird Jul 29 2006, 06:19 PM

QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jul 29 2006, 05:34 PM)

> Don't bother looking, anybody. I looked at the photo.
>
> Thomas B. Shelton (in the photo) looks nothing like the 3ABN Tommy Shelton that I can see. I think this thread is off on the wrong track here.

Yes, indeed. I don't know why this has continued after someone else looked at it and said this, and also after Fran gave Tommy Shelton's web page, which shows a picture of him. Here's her post with his web page url.

> QUOTE(Fran @ Jul 29 2006, 02:21 PM)
>
> Tommy lives in KY. He has a website. http://www.tommyshelton.com/
>
> Email: tommy@tommyshelton.com
> Phone: 270-965-1698
>
> Mailing address:
> Tommy Shelton
> 9090 SR 91 North
> Marion, KY 42064
>
> My understanding is that he lives in KY because the agreement with the parents of more than one child was that he could never live in IL again. I am sure they were paid very well for not pressing charges.
>
> He is not a Seventh-day Adventist.

Powered by Invision Power Board (http://www.invisionboard.com)
© Invision Power Services (http://www.invisionpower.com)

Printable Version of Topic

208

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ An Unauthorized History Of 3abn

Posted by: sister Apr 16 2006, 04:09 PM

Now that Linda is out of the picture, more of Danny's family are appearing on the air. Danny kind of lets everyone assume that they are all Seventh-day Adventists...

His brother Tommy was a minister in another denomination and was removed from his pulpit for conduct that is not acceptable from the Bible or man. And unless things have changed extremely recently, he is not a SDA.

His brother Kenny has also rejoined the fold. Long ago when 3ABN started the founders were Danny, Linda and Kenny. The three of them were once on the cover of the Review together. At that time Kenny had a lot more charisma on screen than Danny and when people would call in they often preferred to speak to Kenny rather than Danny. That was not Danny and Linda's plan, so a call went to the board telling about an affair that Kenny had had a while before, Kenny was removed from his postion and no one was left in the way of Danny becoming the face, along with Linda, of 3ABN.

Meanwhile, Kenny left the West Frankfort church, where all the Sheltons attended services and switched to another church in the area in Herren. Kenny tryed to build up his own ministry using the Herren church as his foundation, the name of his ministry was Behold the Lamb. He even started doing some TV programming of his own. Soon he started taking over the local church and going in a direction that was not in line with the Conference. At one point, when the local pastor arrived for the service, they asked him to leave. The pastor entered the building anyway and sat down on a chair. Under the leadership of Kenny they carried the Pastor out of the building. (The pastor, himself, described the incident to us.) After much attempted counciling with the Herren church, the entire church---lead by Kenny Shelton---was disfellowshiped. (others who were not in agreement had already left for other SDA churches in the area) These disfellowshiped members became the core of Kenny's ministry. A number of years later, Kenny and his wife divorced, but they did not want to loose the income from the ministry, so it was done very privately and they kept a good face in public for the congregation. This was just a few years ago. When the sheep found out how their shepard had pulled the wool over their eyes, they left him and the majority of them joined the West Frankfort SDA church.

Now that Linda is gone Tommy has the postion of producer at 3ABN. Kenny has joined the band wagon as well.

Stay tuned for more of the story.

Posted by: Clay Apr 16 2006, 04:19 PM

wow.....

Posted by: missthg Apr 16 2006, 06:44 PM

sounds like some hot mess to me!

QUOTE(Clay @ Apr 16 2006, 02:19 PM)

wow.....

Posted by: sister Apr 16 2006, 06:50 PM

Another one of the Players: Molly Steenson

When Molly and Hal Steenson had their own ministry---oh, by the way, this story came from the lips of Molly in earlier times, I think the point was that you can always raise more money, even from people who really don't have anything to give---Molly had a desperate need to raise more money for a "special" ministry project, money was not coming as quickly as this special need had arisen. So, she was pounding the bushes, visiting the members, to encourage them to give more sacrafically. She was visiting in the home of one family and they really would like to help, but there just was not any extra cash to give at this time. So Molly ask them to get their checkbook, she then sat down with them, looked though it and told them where they could cut back on their expenses and write a check right then and there for the "special" ministry project. Using her best powers to persuede this family, she walked away with a check in her purse.

THE SPECIAL PROJECT: two new matching baby blue caddys for Hal and Molly, they were already on order and the cash was just not coming in fast enough, white folks like those big cars in the south. I do not believe that the folks in the congregation ever really knew what the "special" project was that they invested their hard earned cash in.

Is it possible that Molly tutored Danny in the fine art of raising funds, her special style of slight of hand? It sure looks like it. Only now the stakes are higher and instead of baby blue caddys it is a corporate jet. It would be a whole lot cheaper just to send Danny first class on a comerical jet, but he is far too important have to get to the airport two hours early to wait for check in. Strange, the President of the General Conference of SDA flys commerial airlines, as do the Division Personal, it is considered good stewardship of the Lord's money. Funny that Danny Shelton doesn't see it that way, he does claim to he a good old boy from the wrong side of the tracks, I sure his Daddy must have instructed him in the careful use of what the Lord had provided....

Molly's current position at 3ABN, since the demise of Linda: General Manager of 3ABN, member of the board of 3ABN, Danny's right hand. Her husband Hal Steenson is in the pastoral department.

Stay tuned for the next installment...

Posted by: Clay Apr 16 2006, 07:08 PM

yeah a hot mess for sure..... whew, peeking behind this curtain is certainly ummmmm enlightening....

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Apr 16 2006, 07:11 PM

QUOTE(missthg @ Apr 16 2006, 08:44 PM)

sounds like some hot mess to me!

....a hot mess on toast....

Posted by: sister Apr 17 2006, 05:27 AM

We be like God...

Over the years there have been many accountants at 3ABN. Some of them SDAs, some not and some part of the Shelton clan. This is the story of one in the last group.

A number of years ago a cousin of Danny was running a retirement home in Michigan. He and Danny were not just related, but close friends. He left a very good job and returned to southern Illinois to help in the ministry. He was a good man and wanted to serve God. Well, as time went on he started seeing things that were just not right, so he approached Danny. On one of these occasions he brought up the issue of Danny buying horses using donations made to 3ABN. He told Danny that it just wasn't right, people had sent in their hard earned offerings to support the work of spreading the gospel and Danny was using it to buy something for his own pleasure. Linda's response to all this was that anything Danny said was right, even if he were wrong, we are like gods here. To make a long story short, the cousin/friend was fired---who needs an angel sitting on your shoulder pricking your conscience, it just gets in the way of following the little man on the other shoulder---and Danny continued buying horses and in the future, land to run them on... with ministry money.

Where did the cousin go? He went to work in Marion, Illinois for the Conference at the local SDA school, but that is a part of another piece of the story...

I know that Linda has been through a hot mess in the last few years, but she, too, is a part of this history, and the preceeding shows just how your words can come around and bite you where you sit. She found out just how true her words would become years later, "anthing Danny says is right, even if it is wrong", only this time she was on the receiving end. It is also a lesson in what happens when you cross Danny or get in the way of something he wants. Perhaps Linda just got in the way...

There was a very young girl, under 5, and when something of another member of the family went missing, they knew to go looking in her room. The assumption on her part was: what was her's was her's and what was everbody elses was her's. As an adult she has learned that life just isn't that way. Too bad that Danny never heard that story, because at the age of 54 he still belives that what is Danny's is Danny's and what is 3ABN's is Danny's. That kind of thinking can cause some real problems for a ministry.

Stay tuned for more from Danny Land.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Apr 17 2006, 07:42 AM

Whut is done in de derk will come to de lights....

Umph!

Posted by: Zephyr Apr 17 2006, 08:45 AM

Sister thanks for providing tall this information. I consider it entirely approptiate considering that 3ABN is held out as a bona fide arm of the church. I am convinced that the SDA church will make scandalous headlines from its too close identification with Danny's business. I do not consider 3ABN a ministry but a family business with which Danny is entitled to do whatever he desires. My concern is for the church that is being dragged down with this mess.

Please continue to inform us because many SDA church members are not aware that what they see on screen is mostly smoke and mirrors.

Posted by: sister Apr 17 2006, 10:00 AM

Is Danny responsibile for using donations for the purpose it was given?

The following was written by me and posted in another thread, but it really belongs here:

Sister, in your zest to get the message out about 3ABN, please do not double post. You had already posted this story in another thread on BSDA.

Sorry, Calvin. I will be more careful in the future. ☒ oo http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?showtopic=8572&st=225&#entry126720

The first miracle of 3ABN
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?showtopic=8572&st=195

Posted by: sister Apr 17 2006, 05:18 PM

The 3ABN school and a professional quality basketball court for Danny

About five to six years ago, Danny suddenly saw the need for a school on the 3ABN grounds. The timing just happened to be the same as his grandchilden were ready to begin school. Over the years there have always been school aged children belonging to the families of the 3ABN workers and the need for the school had always been there. But now it appeared for Danny that the time was over ripe.

A simplier and less costly solution for the educational needs of his worker's children would have been to purchase a small bus and drive the children to the adventist school in Marion. But there was one problem with this solution. The principal, who was also one of the teachers in the school, was none other than the cousin who had formery been an accountant at 3ABN, who Danny had fired years before. Now, Danny does not have the reputation of being a very forgiving man, if that were the case, he would probably still be married to Linda. So, this was not an option.

So, quick-quick, double-time, a teacher was hired and construction began on the building. The building was not ready in time to begin the first day of Danny's granddaughter's education, so until it was ready classes were held in the Thompsonville church, but it didn't matter, 3ABN owned that, too. (Actually there had never been any reason to start the Thompsonville church, there was a Conference church, served by the local district pastor, only 5 minutes down the road. But that is another story.)

The school had one teacher, one room with a accordian door that could divide it into 2 small rooms, a second room that had a kitchen in it and a very large gym with a very high ceiling. Like most building designed by Danny it resembled a barn. (In the part of southern Illinois where 3ABN is located there are not any building code requirements.)

Now comes an interesting part: THE GYM. In order to save costs a simple smooth floor was all that was needed. Well, this gym has the quality of professional basketball court flooring that would satisfy the Chicago Bulls. In the very least an overill for a school with less than 12 young children. All the lines for basketball were in place and regulation backboards were installed. Danny had planned to put the 3ABN logo in the center, just like the pros have, but fortunately he was talked out of it. One evening a week was basketball by invitation played with Danny. On saturday nights after sundown it was open for gym night for the Thompsonville church.

When the gym was new Danny used to just come over, pull away the construction crew who were working on the building from their jobs to have an impromtu basketball game with him. He would run them until they were sweaty and some of the middle-aged guys pretty worn out. It must he nice to be the boss, with playmates at your beckon call. By the time the game was finished it was time for the workers to go home.

Until the new worship center was built, the school was where the 3ABN campmeetings and the Conference campmeeting for southern Illinois was held. That was the reason for a 2-3 room school to have one room with a kitchen, vacant most of the rest of the year, except for campmeeting time.

Danny now had a fantastic new toy, a dream come true. But at what price and who footed the bill? Who needs more than fify thousand dollars a year in salary, when all your dreams can come true, without you footing the bill?

And the story continues...

Posted by: Chez Apr 17 2006, 08:35 PM

QUOTE(sister @ Apr 17 2006, 05:18 PM)

The 3ABN school and a professional quality basketball court for Danny

About five to six years ago, Danny suddenly saw the need for a school on the 3ABN grounds. The timing just happened to be the same as his grandchilden were ready to begin school. Over the years there have always been school aged children belonging to the families of the 3ABN workers and the need for the school had always been there. But now it appeared for Danny that the time was over ripe.

A simplier and less costly solution for the educational needs of his worker's children would have been to purchase a small bus and drive the children to the adventist school in Marion. But there was one problem with this solution. The principal, who was also one of the teachers in the school, was none other than the cousin who had formery been an accountant at 3ABN, who Danny had fired years before. Now, Danny does not have the reputation of being a very forgiving man, if that were the case, he would probably still be married to Linda. So, this was not an option.

So, quick-quick, double-time, a teacher was hired and construction began on the building. The building was not ready in time to begin the first day of Danny's granddaughter's education, so until it was ready classes were held in the Thompsonville church but it didn't matter, 3ABN owned that, too. (Actually there had never been any reason to start the Thompsonville church, there was a Conference church, served by the local district pastor, only 5 minutes down the road. But that is another story.)

The school had one teacher, one room with a accordian door that could divide it into 2 small rooms, a second room that had a kitchen in it and a very large gym with a very high ceiling. Like most building designed by Danny it resembled a barn. (In the part of southern Illinois where 3ABN is located there are not any building code requirements.)

Now comes an interesting part: THE GYM. In order to save costs a simple smooth floor was all that was needed. Well, this gym has the quality of professional basketball court flooring that would satisfy the Chicago Bulls. In the very least an overill for a school with less than 12 young children. All the lines for basketball were in place and regulation backboards were installed. Danny had planned to put the 3ABN logo in the center, just like the pros have, but fortunately he was talked out of it. One evening a week was basketball by invitation played with Danny. On saturday nights after sundown it was open for gym night for the Thompsonville church.

When the gym was new Danny used to just come over, pull away the construction crew who were working on the building from their jobs to have an impromtu basketball game with him. He would run them until they were sweaty and some of the middle-aged guys pretty worn out. It must he nice to be the boss, with playmates at your beckon call. By the time the game was finished it was time for the workers to go home.

Until the new worship center was built, the school was where the 3ABN campmeetings and the Conference campmeeting for southern Illinois was held. That was the reason for a 2-3 room school to have one room with a kitchen, vacant most of the rest of the year, except for campmeeting time.

Danny now had a fantastic new toy, a dream come true. But at what price and who footed the bill? Who needs more than fify thousand dollars a year in salary, when all your dreams can come true, without you footing the bill?

And the story continues...

This is DEEP!

Posted by: denisebyers Apr 17 2006, 09:36 PM

It sure is deep, isn't it?

Posted by: Zephyr Apr 17 2006, 09:58 PM

Sister girl if I wuz you I would publish a 3ABN Newsletter. This stuff trumps the NE....I would be the first to take out a subscription.

As I hinted it doesn't take a genius to figure out who you are or who you have access to. Keep telling the truth but just don't go too far. Don't make it sound like you have a personal stake in this.

Posted by: Clay Apr 18 2006, 01:05 AM continue to speak the truth..... I have no idea who sister is, but the info is deep and probably needs to see the light of day....

Posted by: sister Apr 18 2006, 03:09 AM

QUOTE(Zephyr @ Apr 17 2006, 10:58 PM)

Sister girl if I wuz you I would publish a 3ABN Newsletter. This stuff trumps the NE....I would be the first to take out a subscription.

As I hinted it doesn't take a genius to figure out who you are or who you have access to. Keep telling the truth but just don't go too far. Don't make it sound like you have a personal stake in this.

Thanks, Zephyr. Who I am or who I have access to are not important. And as far as having a personal stake in this, I have the same stake that every SDA has, to have the "Three Angels Message" go to every nation, tounge, tribe and people and then the end will come. My hope is in Jesus and that through faith in Him I will be able to stand in these last days of earth's history that lie before us.

How far am I going? Where ever the Lord takes me.

Over the years many people have had the same information that I have, but we have all remained silent, thinking that 3ABN was not strong enough to survive if the "real" story were told. No one wanted to see this "baby" thrown out with the filthy bath water. Then Danny Shelton proclaimed on the air that 3ABN was his baby and nobody was going to take it away from him. Through all those years of silent witnessing of the events unfolding, Danny and Linda said that it was not about them, 3ABN belonged to GOD. As long as that was professed publicly, the witnesses remained silent giving the "baby" a chance to grow and be able to stand on it's own two feet. Now I see that baby walkin' and it is un-natural for a man to claim that it his and him thinkin' that he still has an ambilical cord attached between them. If the truth be known and there is an ambilical cord attached, it is the man stealing nourishment from the baby... surely this is not the natural order of life.

3ABN is GOD's baby and it is time that the false parent and his attandants let go and allow that baby the opportunity to reach it's full potential, to grow up into the fullness of manhood proclaiming the truth of salvation in Christ Jesus to "a lost and dying world".

Stay tuned as the "story of 3ABN" continues to unfold...

Posted by: Zephyr Apr 18 2006, 06:04 AM

As I said, please continue to enlighten us. This information is too important to hide --it might save the SDA church much embarassment in the near future...very near future. Sister you are a hero in my book.

Posted by: statrei Apr 18 2006, 06:08 AM

Let us not miss what is at the root of this. It is the belief that we have some Three Angels' Message to give to the world and that God develops mechanisms to do so. As long as we hold on to this self-centered view charlatans will take advantage. The fact is that we are all God's children but 3ABN is Danny Shelton's baby. People were duped because they believed it was God's baby. Well, it was not. It does not help us to expose one result of delusion only to remain prime targets for another.

Posted by: Clay Apr 18 2006, 01:33 PM

> QUOTE(statrei @ Apr 18 2006, 06:08 AM)
>
> Let us not miss what is at the root of this. It is the belief that we have some Three Angels' Message to give to the world and that God develops mechanisms to do so. As long as we hold on to this self-centered view charlatans will take advantage. The fact is that we are all God's children but 3ABN is Danny Shelton's baby. People were duped because they believed it was God's baby. Well, it was not. It does not help us to expose one result of delusion only to remain prime targets for another.

truism.... the myth that will not die... the source of the problem.....

Posted by: silsbee_bee Apr 19 2006, 05:33 AM

The only place in the sda church that I know of where the concept of the 3 angels msgs is not accepted and embraced is this msg board.

DB

Posted by: sonshineonme Jul 3 2006, 10:10 PM

Thanks Clay for taking the time to make these easier to read and get information for reference, etc. I love the chapters!

Posted by: PaperTigers Jul 3 2006, 10:36 PM

This is so much easier!!
Thank you for taking the time and making the effort!!

Posted by: Denny Jul 4 2006, 02:26 AM

Well done Clay for those of us not really interested we can start to avoid the topic like the plague-

---

Posted by: Clay Jul 4 2006, 05:57 PM

QUOTE(Denny @ Jul 4 2006, 02:26 AM)

Well done Clay for those of us not really interested we can start to avoid the topic like the plague-

you'll look from time to time... I'm sure of it...lol

Posted by: laryfromGary Jul 23 2006, 01:38 PM

QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 4 2006, 05:57 PM)

you'll look from time to time... I'm sure of it...lol kind of like sin in that you know you should look away, but your curiosity always bring you back.

Powered by Invision Power Board (http://www.invisionboard.com)
© Invision Power Services (http://www.invisionpower.com)

Printable Version of Topic

209

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ Mr. Shelton's Letter To Bsda Revisited....

Posted by: Clay Jul 15 2006, 07:55 AM

QUOTE

Hi, my name is Danny Shelton and I work for 3ABN. It's not a credit your Black SDA that it appears to be nothing more than a tabloid gossip page.
Not one of the people that I could see commenting have even attempted to contact me, that I know of, about all the things they are judging me of.
You do have some people in the "know" that you could find out some info from if it means that much to you. Pastor John Lomacang has spent many hours counseling with Linda and me and even made some recommendations to the board about our situation which the 3ABN board took very seriously.
As of late Pastor Mark Finley has counseled with both Linda and Me. He agrees with the decision the board has taken on this issue and so does Pastor John. Several others have also counseled us and all agree with the board's action.
Paula and Curtis have indeed been back to do more programming without me or Linda. Their program stands on it's own.
No one has been hurt like Linda and me have been through this whole situation. We still love each other and spend considerable time together.
This situation at 3ABN cannot be judged by onlookers as though you have the truth. Much of this is so personal you will probably never know what has really happened.
We encourage people not to take sides, except to support the work of God on this earth.
If 3ABN is of God it will continue to bring about good fruit.
If it is of Satan it will bring about bad fruit. You be the judge.
Please continue to pray for both Linda and me as we both want 3ABN to succeed in taking the gospel to the world.
Thanks for listening

Based on what we now know, our initial misgivings were correct.

The statement that they were being counseled by John L. was A LIE...

The statement that they were counseled by Mark Finley was A LIE....

The statements about the recommendations made by the board based on the "counseling" were A LIE....

The statement about spending lots of time together was A LIE.....

The statement that they still loved each other was A LIE....

The statement about encouraging people not to take sides was A LIE.....

Lying lips are an abomination to the Lord....

Posted by: sonshineonme Jul 15 2006, 08:05 AM

QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 15 2006, 06:55 AM)

Based on what we now know, our initial misgivings were correct.

The statement that they were being counseled by John L. was A LIE...

The statement that they were counseled by Mark Finley was A LIE....

The statements about the recommendations made by the board based on the "counseling" were A LIE....

The statement about spending lots of time together was A LIE.....

The statement that they still loved each other was A LIE....

The statement about encouraging people not to take sides was A LIE.....

Lying lips are an abomination to the Lord....

Every time I read this, or any other letter that is put out by someone there, it works the same way. I read between the lines and realize that someones "truth" is really a lie. Or, there is an ounce of truth and the rest lies, constued in a fashion to create a reality for the person who is reading it...(I think this is not only a lie, but minipulation of vulnerable and desiring minds). For example, where he says, "...We still love each other and spend considerable time together ", if you want to count the numerous phone calls and emails Danny made and sent to Linda since he booted her, yes, I guess you COULD SAY "spend a considerable time together". Of course, it's really all in how you look at it - but you can only twist things so much before it will finally snap, break, become another lie. I think he's crystal clear now.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 15 2006, 11:51 AM

QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jul 15 2006, 10:05 AM)

I think he's crystal clear now.

What you do in de dark will come out in de light.... and he ain't gonna be lookin' so pretty for too long....

I'm waiting for all the mess to hit the fan like pow! *(Lawsuit/defamation of character....)

Posted by: denisebyers Jul 15 2006, 02:32 PM

Hmmmmm.....oh, hi, Clay, long time no post here, but I had to jump in quick, and make a quick post.....Everything was a LIE, and when I see that, I think of how I heard he tells others

Linda is a pathogical liar.....hmmmmmm, I wonder, really wonder, who he is really talking about.....does anyone know? Just wondering.....I once heard that if you are accusing someone of something all the time, your really the guilty one?

QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 15 2006, 08:55 AM)

Based on what we now know, our initial misgivings were correct.

The statement that they were being counseled by John L. was A LIE...

The statement that they were counseled by Mark Finley was A LIE....

The statements about the recommendations made by the board based on the "counseling" were A LIE....

The statement about spending lots of time together was A LIE.....

The statement that they still loved each other was A LIE....

The statement about encouraging people not to take sides was A LIE.....

Lying lips are an abomination to the Lord....

Posted by: Clay Jul 15 2006, 02:50 PM

QUOTE(denisebyers @ Jul 15 2006, 02:32 PM)

Hmmmmm.....oh, hi, Clay, long time no post here, but I had to jump in quick, and make a quick post.....Everything was a LIE, and when I see that, I think of how I heard he tells others Linda is a pathogical liar.....hmmmmmm, I wonder, really wonder, who he is really talking about.....does anyone know? Just wondering.....I once heard that if you are accusing someone of something all the time, your really the guilty one?

hey Denise... good to see you are alive and well... the condition you speak of is called projection, i.e. that which I accuse you of I am actually doing.... good points and thanks for sharing....don't be a stranger...

Posted by: princessdi Jul 15 2006, 03:11 PM

Ok, so who is going to contact Danny. He seemed to be upset that no one contacted him. What be is phone #, I'll call him!

See!! Now that's what I'm talkin' about! You know, he really did not even had to come here and lie to us either.

QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 15 2006, 05:55 AM)

Based on what we now know, our initial misgivings were correct.

The statement that they were being counseled by John L. was A LIE...

The statement that they were counseled by Mark Finley was A LIE....

The statements about the recommendations made by the board based on the "counseling" were A LIE....

The statement about spending lots of time together was A LIE.....

The statement that they still loved each other was A LIE....

The statement about encouraging people not to take sides was A LIE.....

Lying lips are an abomination to the Lord....

Posted by: beartrap Jul 15 2006, 03:16 PM

QUOTE(princessdi @ Jul 15 2006, 04:08 PM)

Ok, so who is going to contact Danny. He seemed to be upset that no one contacted him. What be is phone #, I'll call him!

LOL! Can't tell you how many times I've been sorely tempted to post all his numbers... but I wont.

Posted by: princessdi Jul 15 2006, 03:19 PM

Hey Bear!! Glad to see you back! Ok send it to me in a PM, I won't tell I promise! LOL!!! He just seemed so upset that no one talked to him.

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jul 15 2006, 01:16 PM)

LOL! Can't tell you how many times I've been sorely tempted to post all his numbers... but I wont.

Posted by: MissLynn Jul 15 2006, 03:26 PM

QUOTE(denisebyers @ Jul 15 2006, 04:32 PM)

Hmmmmm.....oh, hi, Clay, long time no post here, but I had to jump in quick, and make a quick post.....Everything was a LIE, and when I see that, I think of how I heard he tells others Linda is a pathogical liar.....hmmmmmm, I wonder, really wonder, who he is really talking about.....does anyone know? Just wondering.....I once heard that if you are accusing someone of something all the time, your really the guilty one?

QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 15 2006, 04:50 PM)

hey Denise... good to see you are alive and well... the condition you speak of is called projection, i.e. that which I accuse you of I am actually doing.... good points and thanks for sharing....don't be a stranger...

Well since there was some projections going on, I wonder if the cheating was also a projection.

Hence the quick remarriage ...

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 15 2006, 03:39 PM

QUOTE(denisebyers @ Jul 15 2006, 04:32 PM)

... Just wondering.....I once heard that if you are accusing so neone of something all the time, your really the guilty one?

QUOTE(MissLynn @ Jul 15 2006, 05:26 PM)

Well since there was some projections going on, I wonder if the cheating was also a projection.

Hence the quick remarriage ...

)ead on projection!

'ep!

Posted by: watchbird Jul 15 2006, 03:53 PM

QUOTE(MissLynn @ Jul 15 2006, 03:26 PM)

Well since there was some projections going on, I wonder if the cheating was also a projection.

Hence the quick remarriage ...

Read "The Unauthorized History of 3ABN" -- all 10 chapters. You'll find lots more things to "wonder" about. But this one will likely be answered.

Posted by: princessdi Jul 15 2006, 03:58 PM

Or the letter from the Dr.....I don't think there is one person who really knows who thinks he met Brandi after divorcing Linda.

I aim just really concerned about Danny being distressed this long about no BSDA members talking to him.....NOT! LOL!!! I can't even believe he said that with his tired self!

Ok sorry, I was having Sista' Gurl moment. Now back to our regularaly schduled program.....

TVsnack

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jul 15 2006, 01:53 PM)

Read "The Unauthorized History of 3ABN" -- all 10 chapters. You'll find lots more things to "wonder" about. But this one will likely be answered.

Posted by: beartrap Jul 15 2006, 04:23 PM

For years, those of us close to Danny have said that if you want to know what he is up to, but won't say, just listen to what he is accusing other people of. Over the past couple of years I've heard him get rather enthusiastic in accusations of lying, cheating, spiritual adultery (Hmmm), adultery, absconding with company assets, misuse of company time, sexual molestation, etc...

Posted by: LadyTenor Jul 15 2006, 11:00 PM

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 16 2006, 11:00 AM

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jul 15 2006, 06:23 PM)

For years, those of us close to Danny have said that if you want to know what he is up to, but won't say, just listen to what he is accusing other people of. Over the past couple of years I've heard him get rather enthusiastic in accusations of lying, cheating, spiritual adultery (Hmmm), adultery, absconding with company assets, misuse of company time, sexual molestation, etc...

Many therapist would conclude that if this much is "projected" then there is a strong chance that he is up in the melee somewhere with this.

If he ain't doing it all (he sure would be busy....) he sure is doing some of it.....

sna

Posted by: Johann Jul 17 2006, 06:32 PM

QUOTE(LadyTenor @ Jul 16 2006, 07:00 AM)

Posted by: LadyTenor Jul 17 2006, 09:30 PM

QUOTE(LadyTenor @ Jul 16 2006, 12:00 AM)

QUOTE(Johann @ Jul 17 2006, 07:32 PM)

No, it's not...so pray tell why you think it is...

Posted by: Johann Jul 18 2006, 02:09 AM

QUOTE(LadyTenor @ Jul 18 2006, 05:30 AM)

No, it's not...so pray tell why you think it is...

'cause the faces are the same. Too illogical?

Posted by: LadyTenor Jul 18 2006, 09:47 AM

QUOTE(Johann @ Jul 18 2006, 03:09 AM)

'cause the faces are the same. Too illogical?

Except your smilie is holding the off topic sign! When I posted the angry smiley, it was because I was annoyed with Danny feeding us lies AS IF WE ARE STUPID SHEEP...I was just too lazy at the time to type what I was feeling...

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 18 2006, 02:57 PM

OOoooooh.

Powered by Invision Power Board (http://www.invisionboard.com)
© Invision Power Services (http://www.invisionpower.com)

210

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ Kay Kuzma Launches 3abn Books

Posted by: Panama_Pete Aug 24 2004, 05:06 PM

Editing and writing are among the things Linda Shelton did at 3ABN

As published in 3ABN World today

http://www.3abn.org/news/2004/3ABN-World-2004-09.pdf

We are thrilled to be partnering with Pacific Press Publishing Association in Nampa, Idaho, in this new ministry. 3ABN will prepare, research, write, and recommend manuscripts to be published under the 3ABN Books imprint, and Paci.c Press will do what they do best: edit, design, market, and distribute.

Mending Broken People by Kay Kuzma will be the first 3ABN Books publication.

Dr. Kay Kuzma, well known Christian writer and communicator, has been asked to help launch this new venture. "I'm excited about 3ABN Books," says Kay, "because I have a passion to give 3ABN's worldwide audience quality reading materials they can hold in their hands, study, and pass on to others."

Posted by: claborn Aug 24 2004, 05:12 PM

Interesting.....

Posted by: Panama_Pete Aug 24 2004, 05:19 PM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 24 2004, 05:12 PM)

> Interesting.....

http://www.3abn.org/news/2004/07-chairman-letter.html

Remember this from Dr. Walter Thompson?

"I convened a fact-finding committee of well-known Adventists who are not employees of 3ABN...Kay Kuzma, author and family issues expert."

Posted by: claborn Aug 24 2004, 05:25 PM

Very Interesting indeed.... and not quite the truth is it.....

Posted by: HUGGINS130 Aug 24 2004, 05:34 PM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 24 2004, 05:25 PM)

> Very Interesting indeed.... and not quite the truth is it.....

spill the beans Clay, what are you conveying in this message?

Posted by: claborn Aug 24 2004, 05:37 PM

Kay Kuzma has/had a relationship of some sort with 3ABN, so for Thompson to say, "I convened a fact-finding committee of well-known Adventists who are not employees of 3ABN...Kay Kuzma, author and family issues expert," is a bit deceiving in my opinion....

Posted by: Panama_Pete Aug 24 2004, 05:39 PM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 24 2004, 05:25 PM)

> Very Interesting indeed.... and not quite the truth is it.....

I think that the independent fact-finding mission by Kay Kuzma was a big, fat lie from the very beginning.

This posting is my opinion.

Also my opinion: I feel so sorry for Linda, she never deserved this.

Posted by: HUGGINS130 Aug 24 2004, 05:57 PM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 24 2004, 05:37 PM)

> Kay Kuzma has/had a relationship of some sort with 3ABN, so for Thompson to say, "I convened a fact-finding committee of well-known Adventists who are not employees of 3ABN...Kay Kuzma, author and family issues expert," is a bit deceiving in my opinion....

Well couldn't it just be possible that since this book deal thing is just kicking off, that Kay could just be coming aboard of the 3abn segment of the SDA church. It is quite possible that she hasn't had anything to do with 3abn up until this point. I really don't know because I don't know about 3abn to say, if she has had anything to do with 3 abn, but maybe you know a little more than I... just a thought. I understand your point though Clay...

Posted by: Panama_Pete Aug 24 2004, 06:43 PM

For those of you who don't know, Linda Shelton had a column in Signs of the Times magazine each month, published by Pacific Press, Nampa, Idaho.

http://www.signstimes.com/sep/windows.php

Linda Shelton is a writer. She also had editorial imput with the 3ABN publications.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Aug 24 2004, 06:53 PM

QUOTE (PARADISE @ Aug 24 2004, 05:57 PM)

> Well couldn't it just be possible that since this book deal thing is just kicking off, that Kay could just be coming aboard

Yes, I think "kicking off" are the right words for it.

Posted by: tarduke Aug 25 2004, 06:12 AM

http://www.3abn.org/news/2004/07-chairman-letter.html

QUOTE (Dr. Walter Thompson @ 3ABN Chairman)

> You may have noticed that Linda Shelton has not appeared on 3ABN telecasts for the last few weeks. That is because as of June 1, 2004, the 3ABN Board of Directors removed Linda from her role as Vice President and as a board member. More recently, she has been discontinued as an employee of 3ABN as well.

QUOTE (Kay Kuzma @ Letter to BlackSDA)

> 2) I was not brought in to help Linda "manage" after she was fired – she was never fired.

Now unless this alledged letter from Kay Kuzma to Calvin is a fake, I have to conclude that Kay is being economical with the truth, to put it charitably.

Posted by: Jvat Aug 25 2004, 07:43 AM

Well that is what is called impressive investigative reporting. Panama Pete and Tarduke are you all journalists, by any chance?

Posted by: princessdi Aug 25 2004, 08:35 AM

QUOTE (PARADISE @ Aug 24 2004, 03:57 PM)

> Well couldn't it just be possible that since this book deal thing is just kicking off, that Kay could just be coming aboard of the 3abn segment of the SDA church. It is quite possible that she hasn't had anything to do with 3abn up until this point. I really don't know because I don't know about 3abn to say, if she has had anything to do with 3 abn, but maybe you know a little more than I... just a thought. I understand your point though Clay...

Paradise, it might be the case, if The good Dr. herself hadn't said she was brought on to counsel this situation.

Posted by: tarduke Aug 25 2004, 09:05 AM

QUOTE (Jvat @ Aug 25 2004, 07:43 AM)

> Well that is what is called impressive investigative reporting. Panama Pete and Tarduke are you all journalists, by any chance?

I did some journalistic work.

Posted by: mema Aug 25 2004, 09:30 AM

Trevor, we can tell. Good thing you are on our side.....

Posted by: claborn Aug 25 2004, 10:59 AM

I have never worked as journalist, but I have done investigations..... and I have always secretly wanted to be a reporter for the National Inquirer.... can you tell??

Posted by: princessdi Aug 25 2004, 11:15 AM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 25 2004, 08:59 AM)

> I have never worked as journalist, but I have done investigations..... and I have always secretly wanted to be a reporter for the National Inquirer.... can you tell??

I knew it!!! afro.gif

Posted by: claborn Aug 25 2004, 11:23 AM

I posted this on the 3ABN thread... if a moderator wants it deleted... they will... I got it (took it, copied it, borrowed it) from ClubAdventist, posted by LLL (no I don't know who that it or why they have 3 L's as their nickname):

Quote:
Subj: 3ABN Update
Adventist Today
Posted: 8/24/2004 2:01:49 PM Pacific Daylight Time
By Edwin A. Schwisow

Linda Shelton Fired and Divorced

In June of this year, the board of the Three Angels Broadcasting (3ABN)satellite network voted to dismiss Danny Shelton's now-ex-wife, Linda, from her position as vice president and on-air hostess. The dismissal came just days before the couple's divorce became final in early July-an uncontested divorce filed in Guam by Danny Shelton, naming Linda as respondent,according to divorce papers obtained by Adventist Today.

Linda's dismissal was followed immediately by an official release by 3ABN's board chairman, Walter Thompson, to the effect that Linda Shelton had chosen to go a "different direction" from her husband and 3ABN. The release also said that the decision to terminate had come after considerable study and with the assistance of counselors and face-to-face dialogue among the parties. Concurrent with the announcement, staff removed all photographs and references to Linda Shelton from 3ABN's Web site and struck all programs on which she appears from the station's play lists.

The reasons for Linda's removal are disputed. Sources close to Linda characterize her removal as a coup-in-the-works for several months leading up to the June announcement. But sources close to 3ABN insist the ministry leadership did everything possible to save the Shelton marriage and to retain Linda as a leader in the ministry.

What all sides appear to agree on is that the dismissal was related Linda's involvement with a physician who was treating her adult son, Nathan (by a previous marriage), who reportedly had developed serious drug- and alcohol-dependency problems. The therapy routine, administered by a Norwegian Seventh-day Adventist physician and financial supporter of 3ABN, reportedly achieved outstanding early results, though Linda's latest communication indicates her son still struggles with addiction.

According to Linda Shelton, in a release posted July 11 on her Web site, rumors that she had engaged in inappropriately intimate activities with her son's therapist began to circulate at 3ABN, leading in large part to her ouster. She vigorously and consistently denies any improper behavior or relationship with the doctor. She specifically denies committing adultery and attributes her fall to the proliferation of false information about her.

At about the same time Linda was ousted, Johann Thorvaldson, director of 3ABN development in Europe, was removed from his post. He has become an advocate for Linda Shelton.

Linda Shelton's dismissal took viewers across the nation by complete surprise. Danny Shelton has acknowledged to viewers the couple was undergoing marriage counseling in months leading up to their sudden divorce.

The Linda-and-Danny team had appeared together for nearly 20 years on 3ABN programs, portraying the kind of down-home, simple, Bible-based, devout Christian living they urged their viewers to adopt. That such an apparently devoted Christian couple could divorce so precipitously shocked the 3ABN world.

In an off-the-record interview, the manager of a 3ABN affiliate told Adventist Today that Linda Shelton's removal could benefit 3ABN ministry long-term. This source indicates that 3ABN has been undergoing troubled times, including a historic loss of revenue in 2003, and that a shake-up at this time could be a new beginning for the maturing ministry. In a mass mailing to all financial supporters, 3ABN has also reflected the view that Linda Shelton's termination represents a time of opportunity. On the other hand, this kind of event is bound to be unsettling for the friends of the ministry.

Linda Shelton herself sees a potential personal benefit from her termination. Noting on her new Web site that she had become institutionally sheltered by her many years of work at 3ABN, she says she welcomes the opportunity to get out on her own once again, mixing it up in the real world. She continues to portray herself as supportive of 3ABN's grand vision but conveys a sense of relief at severing ties.

Sources close to Linda Shelton indicate that she is now living in a modest dwelling near 3ABN headquarters in Illinois and that her sources of income include royalties from the sale of music she has written and performed and monthly termination payments. They also say that she has agreed not to comment publicly in ways that could be construed as attacks on her former husband and ministry and has asked her friends to foreswear any such attacks or attempts to vindicate her.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Aug 25 2004, 11:55 AM

QUOTE

Subj: 3ABN Update
Adventist Today
Linda Shelton Fired and Divorced

... the manager of a 3ABN affiliate told Adventist Today that Linda Shelton's removal could benefit 3ABN ministry long-term. This source indicates that 3ABN has been undergoing troubled times....

Quote:

Jonah 1, verse 7

Then the sailors said to each other, "Come, let us cast lots to find out who is responsible for this calamity."

They cast lots and the lot fell on Jonah.

Posted by: statrei Aug 25 2004, 11:59 AM

QUOTE (Panama_Pete @ Aug 25 2004, 12:55 PM)

> Jonah 1, verse 7
> They cast lots and the lot fell on Jonah.

In this case, they cast lots and a lot fell on Linda.

Posted by: Jvat Aug 25 2004, 01:50 PM

QUOTE (Panama_Pete @ Aug 25 2004, 11:55 AM)

> Quote:
>
> Jonah 1, verse 7
>
> Then the sailors said to each other, "Come, let us cast lots to find out who is responsible for this calamity."
>
> They cast lots and the lot fell on Jonah.

Panama Pete, you sure that you want to go there? Remember that Jonah was culpable.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Aug 25 2004, 06:36 PM

QUOTE (Jvat @ Aug 25 2004, 01:50 PM)

> Panama Pete, you sure that you want to go there? Remember that Jonah was culpable.

Good point. There is a whale of a difference.

Posted by: claborn Aug 25 2004, 06:39 PM

Yes, mainly I don't believe that Linda is nearly as responsible as they will make it appear. Why was there a divorce in Guam.... what is up with that?

Posted by: HUGGINS130 Aug 25 2004, 07:41 PM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 25 2004, 06:39 PM)

> Yes, mainly I don't believe that Linda is nearly as responsible as they will make it appear. Why was there a divorce in Guam.... what is up with that?

World church people aren't restricted in this big wide world

Posted by: mema Aug 26 2004, 08:09 AM

Isn't that one of the locations you can go to for a quickie divorce? So sad....

Posted by: statrei Aug 26 2004, 08:29 AM

If Danny and Linda had used this legal service here is what it would have required. Note that both parties must agree to the divorce for it to work. But sometimes, deep pockets make it unprofitable for one spouse to contest the divorce. Unlike personal injury cases, attorneys cannot take divorce cases on a contingency basis so if you don't have the money your goose is somewhat cooked, if you know what I mean.

QUOTE

> - No Residency Divorce -
> Obtain a quick, simple divorce within 4-5 weeks when both parties sign, no matter where you reside, and no matter where you were married. No residency or separation period is required.
> It is our policy to provide you better service at a better price. You are not a number to us, but a real person with a real issue to resolve.
>
> The cost of your divorce is $575 + $300 court costs, payable in two installments. - follow this simple process:
> Begin your divorce process in privacy by simply filling out our easy online questionnaire.
> We will contact you immediately to let you know we received the divorce questionnaire.
> We then e-mail your completed quick simple divorce documents to you within 24 hours of receiving the questionnaire, many times on the same day you request them, all at no extra charge.
> These are not confusing "fill-in-the-blanks" forms. They are actual legal documents that only require your notarized signature.
> We accept Visa, MasterCard, Discover, and American Express Cards, wire transfer, money orders, and cashier's checks as forms of payment.
> For your convenience and peace of mind, fees are payable in two installments.
> Email us at: info@legalXXX.com with any questions you may have.
> Click HERE to Get Started
>
> Things to know about obtaining a Simple Divorce:
> Both parties must agree to sign a Joint Petition for Divorce.
> Guam Superior Court, where your divorce is filed, does not take jurisdiction over issues of children and/or property for non-residents of Guam.
> If you have property to divide, or have children together, you may simply address those issues in a Separation Agreement.
> If you wish to include issues of property/debts and children into your divorce, consider a regular Nevada Divorce or a Dominican Republic Divorce. Property and children issues can be incorporated into these divorce options.
> The state where your marriage took place does not matter as far as jurisdiction over the divorce is concerned.
>  During certain times of the year, it might take a longer period of time to finalize your divorce due to the court's backlog and/or the absence of some judges.

Posted by: Jvat Aug 26 2004, 10:34 AM

QUOTE (Panama_Pete @ Aug 25 2004, 06:36 PM)

> Good point. There is a whale of a difference.

Panama Pete, I love it! You are indeed great with the use of words! Maybe you should make your services available to 3ABN?

Posted by: beartrap Jul 17 2006, 03:11 PM

I finally worked up the courage to take a look at Kay Kuzma's book, "Mending Broken People" the authorized history of 3ABN. I am shocked and insulted. What she did to me in that book was deeply offensive. No wonder she can't look me in the face when we meet. No wonder she quickly runs off. Shame on her! That was dishonest, ugly, and shameful. Not only that, but it was theft of something precious. Kay Kuzma participated in a theft. Can't wait to see her again!

Posted by: Rand856 Jul 17 2006, 03:25 PM

> QUOTE(beartrap @ Jul 17 2006, 04:11 PM)
>
> I finally worked up the courage to take a look at Kay Kuzma's book, "Mending Broken People" the authorized history of 3ABN. I am shocked and insulted. What she did to me in that book was deeply offensive. No wonder she can't look me in the face when we meet. No wonder she quickly runs off. Shame on her! That was dishonest, ugly, and shameful. Not only that, but it was theft of something precious. Kay Kuzma participated in a theft. Can't wait to see her again!

I've read the book too. Really the ABC's should be placing it in the "Fiction" section if they wish to sell it, or just box them all up and send them back to Kay, and have someone write the real story about 3ABN.

Posted by: watchbird Jul 17 2006, 03:34 PM

> QUOTE(beartrap @ Jul 17 2006, 03:11 PM)
>
> I finally worked up the courage to take a look at Kay Kuzma's book, "Mending Broken People" the authorized history of 3ABN. I am shocked and insulted. What she did to me in that book was deeply offensive. No wonder she can't look me in the face when we meet. No wonder she quickly runs off. Shame on her! That was dishonest, ugly, and shameful. Not only that, but it was theft of something precious. Kay Kuzma participated in a theft. Can't wait to see her again!

Thanks, Bear. I was wondering if you were ever going to speak up for yourself. You have had a lot to say in regard to the way Linda was mistreated, but you slide over your own heartaches and the insults and trashing that you received as though you were "teflon coated". We have looked straight in the face at the lies that have been spread about Linda -- and now we have rejoiced to hear Dr

Abrahamson tell the truth about what really happened.

We have been aware that many others besides Linda have been trashed, but we haven't heard their stories. Are you willing now for yours to be told? Are you willing to tell it?

Posted by: beartrap Jul 17 2006, 03:56 PM

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jul 17 2006, 04:34 PM)

Thanks, Bear. I was wondering if you were ever going to speak up for yourself. You have had a lot to say in regard to the way Linda was mistreated, but you slide over your own heartaches and the insults and trashing that you received as though you were "teflon coated". We have looked straight in the face at the lies that have been spread about Linda -- and now we have rejoiced to hear Dr Abrahamson tell the truth about what really happened.

We have been aware that many others besides Linda have been trashed, but we haven't heard their stories. Are you willing now for yours to be told? Are you willing to tell it?

I saw that book and browsed over it at an ABC store. While there, I picked up one of my ex-wife's cds and looked at it. brought back so many memories... I've done my best to be teflon coated and just keep going on. Nope, not ready for that. Cuts too deep.

I understand Kay is in the same town I am in right now. I will be keeping an eye out for her. I have had my say with some of the others, but not her.

Posted by: princessdi Jul 17 2006, 04:11 PM

Just so I have this straight, Bear, i thought this book was about "how to mend". Since I had no intention of picking up anything by Danny or the 3ABN gang, I haven't seen the book. But I thought it was in the way of chritian self-help kind of thing.

Posted by: beartrap Jul 17 2006, 04:23 PM

QUOTE(princessdi @ Jul 17 2006, 05:11 PM)

Just so I have this straight, Bear, i thought this book was about "how to mend". Since I had no intention of picking up anything by Danny or the 3ABN gang, I haven't seen the book. But I thought it was in the way of chritian self-help kind of thing.

Self-help? It might be more accurately described as self-abuse. It is a parade through Danny's fantasies... his personal feel-good moment. His version of the history of 3ABN, the wonders performed by him and his family, and a couple hundred pages of adulation, praise and worship of his god, and the god of his vast following... Danny Shelton.

Posted by: seeshell Jul 17 2006, 04:27 PM

Sorry, Bear. I hope you do get to have your say.

Posted by: beartrap Jul 17 2006, 04:34 PM

QUOTE(seeshell @ Jul 17 2006, 05:27 PM)

Sorry, Bear. I hope you do get to have your say.

Thank you Seeshell, and I will.

Posted by: princessdi Jul 17 2006, 04:36 PM

Oh my! I didn't know. I am so sorry, Bear. As I said, I had no intentions of picking it up.

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jul 17 2006, 02:23 PM)

Self-help? It might be more accurately described as self-abuse. It is a parade through Danny's fantasies... his personal feel-good moment. His version of the history of 3ABN, the wonders performed by him and his family, and a couple hundred pages of adulation, praise and worship of his god, and the god of his vast following... Danny Shelton.

Posted by: Johann Jul 17 2006, 04:38 PM

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jul 18 2006, 12:34 AM)

Thank you Seeshell, and I will.

May the Good Lord give you the strenght and wisdom. Because it is needed!

Posted by: beartrap Jul 17 2006, 04:47 PM

QUOTE(Johann @ Jul 17 2006, 05:38 PM)

May the Good Lord give you the strenght and wisdom. Because it is needed!

Hey Johann,

Have you gone through that book? Its appalling. I understand Kay lives here and she is going to hear from me regarding what she did to me in that book!

Posted by: Johann Jul 17 2006, 05:09 PM

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jul 18 2006, 12:47 AM)

Hey Johann,

Have you gone through that book? Its appalling. I understand Kay lives here and she is going to hear from me regarding what she did to me in that book!

Say hello from me. I went to the same college as her husband, and about the same time. I wonder how he is faring? Kay was writing/editing that book sitting in another room at the hospital where her husband was, and we visited them there. She was supposed to have turned in the manuscript then already, but something kept her waiting. Was she waiting for the divorce? And for your story?

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 17 2006, 05:31 PM

She ain't ethical! That's all I gotta say on her.....

NOT ETHICAL AT ALL!

Posted by: beartrap Jul 17 2006, 05:47 PM

QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jul 17 2006, 06:31 PM)

She ain't ethical! That's all I gotta say on her.....

NOT ETHICAL AT ALL!

Well now, lets not get all hasty. I'm sure her ethics would be welcome in some areas. Perhaps she could go apply for Minister of Propaganda under Supreme Leader, Kim Jong Il.

Dr. Thompson, Kay, Danny... they all remind me of that Propaganda Minister in Iraq. As he was dodging bombs and running away from American tanks, yelling "The infidels are hundreds of miles from Baghdad. As I speak, our great leader is chasing them across the desert and into the sea. Indeed, our navy has chased them half way across the Ocean. There are no Americans in Iraq!" (parapharased LOL)

Posted by: Johann Jul 17 2006, 05:48 PM

QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jul 18 2006, 01:31 AM)

She ain't ethical! That's all I gotta say on her.....

NOT ETHICAL AT ALL!

get to like how you go right to the point, and often with your special sense of humor!

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 17 2006, 05:52 PM

QUOTE(Johann @ Jul 17 2006, 07:48 PM)

I get to like how you go right to the point, and often with your special sense of humor!

Tell the truth; shame de debil.....

DEBIL!

Posted by: Johann Jul 17 2006, 05:57 PM

QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jul 18 2006, 01:52 AM)

Tell the truth; shame de debil.....

DEBIL!

Are you writing your theses the way write on the net?

Posted by: beartrap Jul 17 2006, 06:01 PM

QUOTE(Johann @ Jul 17 2006, 06:57 PM)

Are you writing your theses the way write on the net?

do believe she could turn a 500 page thesis into a one page document that people would actually read, and all of the essential elements would somehow be built in... somehow...

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 17 2006, 06:02 PM

QUOTE(Johann @ Jul 17 2006, 07:57 PM)

Are you writing your theses the way write on the net?

Goodness no Johann! Perish the thought! I know how to speak correctly. As most of the "older" members on here know, I am speaking in the prose style of Paul Lawrence Dunbar.

BTW: I don't have to do a "thesis" - I have to do a dissertation....

Posted by: Johann Jul 17 2006, 06:25 PM

QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jul 18 2006, 02:02 AM)

Goodness no Johann! Perish the thought! I know how to speak correctly. As most of the "older" members on here know, I am speaking in the prose style of Paul Lawrence Dunbar.

BTW: I don't have to do a "thesis" - I have to do a dissertation....

wrong voocablary, too long since I worked on one

Powered by Invision Power Board (http://www.invisionboard.com)
© Invision Power Services (http://www.invisionpower.com)

211

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ 3abn Virgin

Posted by: pmorris68 Jun 4 2006, 03:38 PM

This weekend my family was at Cohutta Springs...We had a great time. Cohutta Springs has the Hope Channel and 3ABN. So this was my first time EVER watching 3ABN. EVER!!! (Not sure if this topic belongs here but here it goes). I've watched it via the web, but never on TV.

How come these folks look like plain ole janes. Every person on there looked ghostly!! What happened to their color in their skins. OH MY GOODNESS...Melissa Summers does a show on Issues and Answers. She looked a HOT MESS!! Her clothes were too big on her, and her face looked ashy. I was like WOW!! What in the world.

IS that what we look like now? OH MY GOODNESS!!! What in the world? How can we minister to folks looking crazy? Now...before you jump on me. THIS IS NOT ABOUT MAKEUP. I am talking about moisturizer. Plain ole powder to the face. The one white lady who sang (I liked her song) but she had color but Danny didn't, neither did the young man he was questioning. I sat there laughing for about 2 hours. Surely we can do better than this. What in the world?

Posted by: princessdi Jun 4 2006, 03:42 PM

Gurl, you know that be the natural look.....Do they have bid hair, too? On the Gaithers and TBN they still have big hair.

Posted by: pmorris68 Jun 4 2006, 03:46 PM

Now if I was on international television. My hair would be hooked up. I would be driving to Chicago (not sure of the distance) every week to get my hair done. Melissa should be shame. I know she knows better than that. It appears they have brainwashed her up there.

Her clothes were way to big on her. Her hair was just draped down. I was like "What is she doing?" I wanted to call her then and say "'Girl, you need a makeover!!!". For real. She needs to quit that. The other folks had ok hair but no color in their skin. And since hearing all the Danny Shelton drama, I could barely take him. He isn't the best interviewer either.

Posted by: princessdi Jun 4 2006, 04:05 PM

That's too bad....maybe I could get a job as their stylist.....

QUOTE(pmorris68 @ Jun 4 2006, 02:46 PM)

Now if I was on international television. My hair would be hooked up. I would be driving to Chicago (not sure of the distance) every week to get my hair done. Melissa should be shame. I know she knows better than that. It appears they have brainwashed her up there.

Her clothes were way to big on her. Her hair was just draped down. I was like "What is she doing?" I wanted to call her then and say "'Girl, you need a makeover!!!". For real. She needs to quit that. The other folks had ok hair but no color in their skin. And since hearing all the Danny Shelton drama, I could barely take him. He isn't the best interviewer either.

Posted by: missthg Jun 4 2006, 04:09 PM

hey now - don't be trying to move - make sure they pay for you to fly back on sundays!

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Jun 4 2006, 02:05 PM)
>
> That's too bad....maybe I could get a job as their stylist.....

Posted by: Nuggie Jun 4 2006, 04:22 PM

> QUOTE(pmorris68 @ Jun 4 2006, 04:38 PM)
>
> This weekend my family was at Cohutta Springs...We had a great time. Cohutta Springs has the Hope Channel and 3ABN. So this was my first time EVER watching 3ABN. EVER!!! (Not sure if this topic belongs here but here it goes). I've watched it via the web, but never on TV.
>
> How come these folks look like plain ole janes. Every person on there looked ghostly!! What happened to their color in their skins. OH MY GOODNESS...Melissa Summers does a show on Issues and Answers. She looked a HOT MESS!! Her clothes were too big on her, and her face looked ashy. I was like WOW!! What in the world.
>
> IS that what we look like now? OH MY GOODNESS!!! What in the world? How can we minister to folks looking crazy? Now...before you jump on me. THIS IS NOT ABOUT MAKEUP. I am talking about moisturizer. Plain ole powder to the face. The one white lady who sang (I liked her song) but she had color but Danny didn't, neither did the young man he was questioning. I sat there laughing for about 2 hours. Surely we can do better than this. What in the world?

See, they're not the ones who look crazy...WE liberal progressives are the problem...trying to be all beautified and made up and stuff...didn't you read your fundamentals? "Thou shalt not wear make-up." "Thou shalt make thyself as unappealing to the eye as possible." rofl

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Jun 4 2006, 04:42 PM)
>
> Gurl, you know that be the natural look.....Do they have bid hair, too? On the Gaithers and TBN they still have big hair.

How do they get their hair like that?!?! It's like some science experiment gone wrong or something!!

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jun 4 2006, 04:36 PM

Maybe somebody could get Danny Shelton a shirt and tie.

Posted by: princessdi Jun 4 2006, 04:37 PM

A WHOLE lot of hairspray!!!

> QUOTE(Nuggie @ Jun 4 2006, 03:22 PM)
>
> See, they're not the ones who look crazy...WE liberal progressives are the problem...trying to be all beautified and made up and stuff...didn't you read your fundamentals? "Thou shalt not wear make-up." "Thou shalt make thyself as unappealing to the eye as possible." rofl
> How do they get their hair like that?!?! It's like some science experiment gone wrong or something!!

Posted by: simplysaved Jun 4 2006, 07:13 PM

Paula, "I'm done" already!!!! rofl

> QUOTE(pmorris68 @ Jun 4 2006, 03:38 PM)
>
> This weekend my family was at Cohutta Springs...We had a great time. Cohutta Springs has the Hope Channel and 3ABN. So this was my first time EVER watching 3ABN. EVER!!! (Not sure if this topic belongs here but here it goes). I've watched it via the web, but never on TV.
>
> How come these folks look like plain ole janes. Every person on there looked ghostly!! What happened to their color in their skins. OH MY GOODNESS...Melissa Summers does a show on Issues and Answers. She looked a HOT MESS!! Her clothes were too big on her, and her face looked ashy. I was like WOW!! What in the world.
>
> IS that what we look like now? OH MY GOODNESS!!! What in the world? How can we minister to folks looking crazy? Now...before you jump on me. THIS IS NOT ABOUT MAKEUP. I am talking about moisturizer. Plain ole powder to the face. The one white lady who sang (I liked her song) but she had color but Danny didn't, neither did the young man he was questioning. I sat there laughing for about 2 hours. Surely we can do better than this. What in the world?

Posted by: calvin Jun 4 2006, 07:33 PM

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jun 4 2006, 05:36 PM)
>
> Maybe somebody could get Danny Shelton a shirt and tie.

I agree. Those loud mock turtlenecks ain't working.

Posted by: beartrap Jun 4 2006, 09:02 PM

Didn't you ignorant folk ever hear that the good ole midwestern meat and potatoes look is what lost souls are looking for? They might have carnal thoughts if they happened to see Dr. Thrash and Shelly Quinn made up like Jezebel hussies, Danny Shelton looking like Tom Cruise, or John Lomacang looking like Barak Obama. We wouldn't want to be responsible for causing them to be carnal now would we? Oh, and those people's inner beauty might end up lost under all that makeup, jewelry, and ties.

Posted by: princessdi Jun 4 2006, 09:29 PM

Hush Bear! LOL!!!

> QUOTE(beartrap @ Jun 4 2006, 08:02 PM)
>
> Didn't you ignorant folk ever hear that the good ole midwestern meat and potatoes look is what lost souls are looking for? They might have carnal thoughts if they happened to see Dr. Thrash and Shelly Quinn made up like Jezebel hussies, Danny Shelton looking like Tom Cruise, or John Lomacang looking like Barak Obama. We wouldn't want to be responsible for causing them to be carnal now would we? Oh, and those people's inner beauty might end up lost under all that makeup, jewelry, and ties.

Posted by: HUGGINS130 Jun 4 2006, 10:05 PM

> QUOTE
>
> Melissa Summers does a show on Issues and Answers. She looked a HOT MESS!! Her clothes were too big on her, and her face looked ashy. I was like WOW!! What in the world.
>
> IS that what we look like now?

I know she can dress too...that's the sad thing about it...I saw a picture of her in the Adventist Review in her article about leaving behind the lucrative positions at the radio stations to answer her calling to God...girl was sharp...then months later I turn to 3abn, and im like what's up with my DJ...LOL

Posted by: beartrap Jun 4 2006, 10:12 PM

> QUOTE(HUGGINS130 @ Jun 4 2006, 11:05 PM)
>
> I know she can dress too...that's the sad thing about it...I saw a picture of her in the Adventist Review in her article about leaving behind the lucrative positions at the radio stations to answer her calling to God...girl was sharp...then months later I turn to Babn, and im like what's up with my DJ...LOL n order to fit in, your DJ has to become the midwestern contemporary of Ellen White in the eighteen hundreds style. Seems that folk sometimes think that if you look like J. N. Andrews, or Ellen White, you should somehow be accorded a place amongst the saints in glory. Perhaps if we all assumed the style of Mennonites or Amish we could achieve salvation and entice a few extra lost souls into the kingdom.

Posted by: HUGGINS130 Jun 4 2006, 10:17 PM

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jun 4 2006, 10:12 PM)

In order to fit in, your DJ has to become the midwestern contemporary of Ellen White in the eighteen hundreds style. Seems that folk sometimes think that if you look like J. N. Andrews, or Ellen White, you should somehow be accorded a place amongst the saints in glory. Perhaps if we all assumed the style of Mennonites or Amish we could achieve salvation.

:hokin while laughing not trying to wake up the misses, you got me rofl... bear cut it out!!!LOL

Posted by: sonshineonme Jun 4 2006, 11:59 PM

QUOTE(HUGGINS130 @ Jun 4 2006, 09:17 PM)

chokin while laughing not trying to wake up the misses, you got me rofl... bear cut it out!!! LOL love it! It never dawned on me that Danny only wares those turtlenecks....wonder what he is covering up under there? (tattoos?)

Posted by: pmorris68 Jun 5 2006, 04:15 AM

Now... for the record. I truly am somewhat an old fashion SDA. I do wear makeup but NOT heavy make up. But when you sit on international television and represent Black women and look like she did. I got to speak on it.

I was downright shocked. I live in Atlanta, and have seen Melissa on a number of occasions. There is a difference between modesty and tacky. What I witnessed this weekend was TACKY!! She looked awful My ten year old daughter said "Mommy she looks ashy" And she did. This was just plain ole awful. No matter how you slice it. And I guess because I haven't seen her since she left Atlanta, I was just in shock.

I have spoken to her, and I should have put that conversation back in my head when I saw her this weekend. She emailed me to tell me she didn't think UCAA should have showcases, it's like parading around showing off instead of Praising God. I explained this was a chance to show the public new talent within our church so they could become familiar with their ministries and want to hear them praise God. She and I agreed to disagree.

We need our own black adventist network. I told my husband if I had the money I would do it. I am so sick of not having a TRUE representation of our church on television. ok I am done too Sarah!! [x] rofl

---

Posted by: Clay Jun 5 2006, 05:05 AM

QUOTE

I have spoken to her, and I should have put that conversation back in my head when I saw her this weekend. She emailed me to tell me she didn't think UCAA should have showcases, it's like parading around showing off instead of Praising God. I explained this was a chance to show the public new talent within our church so they could become familiar with their ministries and want to hear them praise God. She and I agreed to disagree.

it appears that the brainwashing has begun....

Posted by: watchbird Jun 5 2006, 05:38 AM

QUOTE(pmorris68 @ Jun 5 2006, 04:15 AM)

Now... for the record. I truly am somewhat an old fashion SDA. I do wear makeup but NOT heavy make up. But when you sit on international television and represent Black women and look like she did. I got to speak on it.

I was downright shocked. I live in Atlanta, and have seen Melissa on a number of occasions. There is a difference between modesty and tacky. What I witnessed this weekend was TACKY!! She looked awful! My ten year old daughter said "Mommy she looks ashy" And she did. This was just plain ole awful. No matter how you slice it. And I guess because I haven't seen her since she left Atlanta, I was just in shock.

I have spoken to her, and I should have put that conversation back in my head when I saw her this weekend. She emailed me to tell me she didn't think UCAA should have showcases, it's like parading around showing off instead of Praising God. I explained this was a chance to show the public new talent within our church so they could become familiar with their ministries and want to hear them praise God. She and I agreed to disagree.

We need our own black adventist network. I told my husband if I had the money I would do it. I am so sick of not having a TRUE representation of our church on television. ok I am done too Sarah!! [x] rofl

It's not a "black/white" thing. It's the philosophy that you note, that showing people and talent at their best is "showing off instead of Praising God" instead of reasoning that we give the most praise to God when we present him our best. It is not new to 3ABN. It permeates the whole segment of Adventism which both gave birth to and grew out of the "self-supporting institutions" started by Sutherland at Madison that spread from there all across the Southeast, then across the US, and now around the world under the auspices of their international network.

What is striking at 3ABN is the way glitz and hi-tech and expensive equipment and even set design is combined with that same old philosophy of faked humility and matching repressed appearance. And it is not necessarily a matter of choosing only those performers who "measure down" to their standards. I've seen some of the same performers who look as though they were carved from wood when they sing on 3ABN in live concert elsewhere, and discovered that they could (and did) not only exhibit facial expressions, but actually (gasp) moved about while singing--in rhythm even. Though truth to tell, it was very hard to comprehend, since the first impression images from 3ABN kept superimposing themselves on the artists so it was hard to accept them as the "real people" that they showed themselves to be in the other venue.

What I have learned from your comments is that blacks are also not immune to the stifling influence of the 3ABN stage directions. Maybe that extends to their dress code also?

But I agree in principle with your conclusion. I do think that we Adventists, black, white, tan, or purple polka-dotted, need "a TRUE representation of our church on television". But if that is to be, then it would need to show the wide diversity of people and cultures and tastes. In music, for example we would hear not only the country style of the "folk type", but the chamber music groups, the choirs, the bands, the praise worship teams, the various ethnic musical styles, and yes, the symphony orchestras as well. Adventism is a rich tapestry of talent, beauty, and beliefs. To be truly representative a network should draw from all segments of Adventism.

Posted by: sister Jun 5 2006, 06:01 AM

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jun 5 2006, 06:38 AM)

It's not a "black/white" thing. It's the philosophy that you note, that showing people and talent at their best is "showing off instead of Praising God" instead of reasoning that we give the most praise to God when we present him our best. It is not new to 3ABN. It permeates the whole segment of Adventism which both gave birth to and grew out of the "self-supporting institutions" started by Sutherland at Madison that spread from there all across the Southeast, then across the US, and now around the world under the auspices of their international network.

What is striking at 3ABN is the way glitz and hi-tech and expensive equipment and even set design is combined with that same old philosophy of faked humility and matching repressed appearance. And it is not necessarily a matter of choosing only those performers who "measure down" to their standards. I've seen some of the same performers who look as though they were carved from wood when they sing on 3ABN in live concert elsewhere, and discovered that they could (and did) not only exhibit facial expressions, but actually (gasp) moved about while singing--in rhythm even. Though truth to tell, it was very hard to comprehend, since the first impression images from 3ABN kept superimposing themselves on the artists so it was hard to accept them as the "real people" that they showed themselves to be in the other venue.

What I have learned from your comments is that blacks are also not immune to the stifling influence of the 3ABN stage directions. Maybe that extends to their dress code also?

But I agree in principle with your conclusion. I do think that we Adventists, black, white, tan, or purple polka-dotted, need "a TRUE representation of our church on television". But if that is to be, then it would need to show the wide diversity of people and cultures and tastes. In music, for example we would hear not only the country style of the "folk type", but the chamber music groups, the choirs, the bands, the praise worship teams, the various ethnic musical styles, and yes, the symphony orchestras as well. Adventism is a rich tapestry of talent, beauty, and beliefs. To be truly representative a network should draw from all segments of Adventism.

Remember this is "Danny TV", a local T'ville production, broadcasted to a world wide audience. Not an ethnically and culturally diverse Adventist broadcast produced to reach a global audience. Programming style and content on 3ABN is intended to influence a certain segment of white conservative Adventism to open up their pocketbooks and let the revenue roll on in...

TVsnack.

Posted by: HUGGINS130 Jun 5 2006, 06:03 AM

QUOTE

I have spoken to her, and I should have put that conversation back in my head when I saw her this weekend. She emailed me to tell me she didn't think UCAA should have showcases, it's like parading around showing off instead of Praising God.

You've got to be kidding...I am not believing this. I wonder if she couldn't deal with the type of gospel music she had to play then...we all know it wasn't that presybterian, Adventist type of music she was playing on 97.5 fm...We all have choices to make, but to judge others as being pompous and parading, that's going just a little too far...

QUOTE

it appears that the brainwashing has begun....

After reading her article in the Adventist Review, just say, I wondered the same thing...oh well it's her life, and hopefully she's happy now!!!

Posted by: pmorris68 Jun 5 2006, 06:15 AM

Yeah, I read her article as well. Now the interesting thing about this whole story is that she left because of the Sabbath, now I wonder what other reasons did she leave. I know that conversion is something that happens to us all in this faith. At least it should. But I don't see makeup as a hell or heaven issue. IF my face has no makeup and my heart is not right, guess what...I am still going to hell.

Our father is not concerned with the outside appearance, he is concerned with the heart. I think 3ABN and the rest of the gang need to keep that in mind. I was just really disappointed that Melissa has gone up there and become a POD Woman. I call it whitewashed.

As for The big ear wonder Lomacang - I have one thing to say " Ear Surgery". That's aint normal.

Posted by: Clay Jun 5 2006, 06:23 AM

QUOTE

> As for The big ear wonder Lomacang - I have one thing to say " Ear Surgery". That's aint normal.

neither is plastic looking hair....

Posted by: pmorris68 Jun 5 2006, 06:27 AM

Lord have mercy. I really feel bad for this man. I am so glad I never paid money to have 3ABN. I would have cancelled it the 1st week I had it. This whole thing is just ridiculous.

Hope channell seems to be better, it's more focused on the mission field. I did enjoy seeing the children in other countries having Sabbath School.

Posted by: watchbird Jun 5 2006, 06:44 AM

> QUOTE(sister @ Jun 5 2006, 06:01 AM)
>
> Remember this is "Danny TV", a local T'ville production, broadcasted to a world wide audience. Not an ethnically and culturally diverse Adventist broadcast produced to reach a global audience. Programming style and content on 3ABN is intended to influence a certain segment of white conservative Adventism to open up their pocketbooks and let the revenue roll on in...
>
> TVsnack

Well, yes, "Danny TV" is admittedly mostly made up of "palefaces". But let's not consider them so racially biased as to overlook the money raising trips they make to black Adventist venues nor the "token blacks" they have on board to make it appear that they are "equal opportunity employers". Nor the evidence that they are also "equal opportunity persecutors". As to the "revenue", the color of the hands doesn't matter, it's the green stuff that counts.

> QUOTE(pmorris68 @ Jun 5 2006, 06:15 AM)
>
> Yeah, I read her article as well. Now the interesting thing about this whole story is that she left because of the Sabbath, now I wonder what other reasons did she leave. I know that conversion is something that happens to us all in this faith. At least it should. But I don't see makeup as a hell or heaven issue. IF my face has no makeup and my heart is not right, guess what...I am still going to hell.

Our father is not concerned with the outside appearance, he is concerned with the heart. I think 3ABN and the rest of the gang need to keep that in mind. I was just really disappointed that Melissa has gone up there and become a POD Woman. I call it whitewashed.

As for The big ear wonder Lomacang - I have one thing to say " Ear Surgery". That's aint normal.

Brainwashed" is a more appropriate term. As with the "stuff that counts", brains are all the same color, and "Danny TV" has amply demonstrated that they are "equal opportunity brainwashers" also.

Posted by: HUGGINS130 Jun 5 2006, 06:45 AM

QUOTE(Clay @ Jun 5 2006, 06:23 AM)

neither is plastic looking hair....

Lomacang didn't look like this on amazing facts...well he was on his way!

Posted by: watchbird Jun 5 2006, 06:59 AM

QUOTE(pmorris68 @ Jun 5 2006, 06:27 AM)

Lord have mercy. I really feel bad for this man. I am so glad I never paid money to have 3ABN. I would have cancelled it the 1st week I had it. This whole thing is just ridiculous.

Hope channell seems to be better. It's more focused on the mission field. I did enjoy seeing the children in other countries having Sabbath School.

If you get the 36" dish that gets HOPE TV, you also get Loma Linda Broadcasting network, which carries Loma Linda University Church Service and Sabbath School, as well as University programming. And you can also get 3ABN, which has a few programs now and then that are worth watching, ie are not produced by 3ABN. See the HOPE TV dish athttp://www.hopetv.org/ Their lineup of programs is pretty impressive.

Posted by: Nuggie Jun 5 2006, 08:22 AM

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jun 4 2006, 09:02 PM)

Didn't you ignorant folk ever hear that the good ole midwestern meat and potatoes look is what lost souls are looking for? They might have carnal thoughts if they happened to see Dr. Thrash and Shelly Quinn made up like Jezebel hussies, Danny Shelton looking like Tom Cruise, or John Lomacang looking like Barak Obama. We wouldn't want to be responsible for causing them to be carnal now would we? Oh, and those people's inner beauty might end up lost under all that makeup, jewelry, and ties.

Bear, you just made me spit my ~~coffee~~ postum! rofl

Posted by: gracetoyou Jun 5 2006, 08:40 AM

"For Christ's sake, whose witnesses we are, we should seek to make the best of our appearance... Our appearance in every respect should be characterized by neatness, modesty, and purity.... 6 T, p. 96

"The young should be encouraged to form correct habits in dress, that their appearance may be neat and attractive;" 6 T, p. 170

Dressly attractively is not condemned in the word of God. Neither does it condemn make-up. That seems to be an Adventist tradition. There is one reference in The Health Reformer, 10-01-1871, that talks about how women are endangering their lives by wearing cosmetics, but that can be explained when one learns that facial powder at that time contained "large quantitites of lead" which "eventually destroyed complexions and resulted in countless premature deaths." Rouge "was colored with cinnabar, a poisoneus red sulfide of mercury. For centuries, the same red cream served to paint the lips, where it was more easily ingested and insidiously poisonous." Extraordinary Origins of Everyday Things, p. 224 So Ellen White was historically correct when she warned about the cosmetics of her time. It was a health issue. That does not apply to the cosmetics of our day.

It's weird that some Adventist women will cut, curl, mousse, relax, etc. the hair on their heads, shave their hair on the legs and under their arms, wear perfume and deodorant, smooth on hand and body lotion, use mouthwash, etc., etc., but Nooooo, they won't wear makeup because that would not be "natural." Don't want to be like the "world" or "Jezebel".

And for the men, why do you shave your beards? That practice comes from pagan society (Egypt), is not Biblical, the pioneers wore beards, is not natural (God put hair on men's faces), is a worldly custom, etc. Are you trying to get in touch with your feminine side?

Biblical and Spirit of Prophecy principles on dress really do make sense when properly understood and applied and would recommend us to the world. Look at how Jackie Kennedy's simple dress, makeup, hair styles were admired compared to Tammy Faye Bakker's overdone look, which was ridiculed by secular society.

Posted by: simplysaved Jun 5 2006, 08:47 AM

Well said!

QUOTE(gracetoyou @ Jun 5 2006, 09:40 AM)

"For Christ's sake, whose witnesses we are, we should seek to make the best of our appearance... Our appearance in every respect should be characterized by neatness, modesty, and purity.... 6 T, p. 96

"The young should be encouraged to form correct habits in dress, that their appearance may be neat and attractive;" 6 T, p. 170

Dressly attractively is not condemned in the word of God. Neither does it condemn make-up. That seems to be an Adventist tradition. There is one reference in The Health Reformer, 10-01-1871, that talks about how women are endangering their lives by wearing cosmetics, but that can be explained when one learns that facial powder at that time contained "large quantitites of lead" which "eventually destroyed complexions and resulted in countless premature deaths." Rouge "was colored with cinnabar, a poisonous red sulfide of mercury. For centuries, the same red cream served to paint the lips, where it was more easily ingested and insidiously poisonous." Extraordinary Origins of Everyday Things, p. 224 So Ellen White was historically correct when she warned about the cosmetics of her time. It was a health issue. That does not apply to the cosmetics of our day

It's weird that some Adventist women will cut, curl, mousse, relax, etc. the hair on their heads, shave their hair on the legs and under their arms, wear perfume and deodorant, smooth on hand and body lotion, use mouthwash, etc., etc., but Noooooo, they won't wear makeup because that would not be "natural." Don't want to be like the "world" or "Jezebel".

And for the men, why do you shave your beards? That practice comes from pagan society (Egypt), is not Biblical, the pioneers wore beards, is not natural (God put hair on men's faces), is a worldly custom, etc. Are you trying to get in touch with your feminine side?

Biblical and Spirit of Prophecy principles on dress really do make sense when properly understood and applied and would recommend us to the world. Look at how Jackie Kennedy's simple dress, makeup, hair styles were admired compared to Tammy Faye Bakker's overdone look, which was ridiculed by secular society.

Posted by: Chez Jun 5 2006, 08:57 AM

QUOTE(gracetoyou @ Jun 5 2006, 08:40 AM)

"For Christ's sake, whose witnesses we are, we should seek to make the best of our appearance... Our appearance in every respect should be characterized by neatness, modesty, and purity.... 6 T, p. 96

"The young should be encouraged to form correct habits in dress, that their appearance may be neat and attractive;" 6 T, p. 170

Dressly attractively is not condemned in the word of God. Neither does it condemn make-up. That seems to be an Adventist tradition. There is one reference in The Health Reformer, 10-01-1871, that talks about how women are endangering their lives by wearing cosmetics, but that can be explained when one learns that facial powder at that time contained "large quantitites of lead" which "eventually destroyed complexions and resulted in countless premature deaths." Rouge "was colored with cinnabar, a poisonous red sulfide of mercury. For centuries, the same red cream served to paint the lips, where it was more easily ingested and insidiously poisonous." Extraordinary Origins of Everyday Things, p. 224 So Ellen White was historically correct when she warned about the cosmetics of her time. It was a health issue. That does not apply to the cosmetics of our day.

It's weird that some Adventist women will cut, curl, mousse, relax, etc. the hair on their heads, shave their hair on the legs and under their arms, wear perfume and deodorant, smooth on hand and body lotion, use mouthwash, etc., etc., but Noooooo, they won't wear makeup because that would not be "natural." Don't want to be like the "world" or "Jezebel".

And for the men, why do you shave your beards? That practice comes from pagan society (Egypt), is not Biblical, the pioneers wore beards, is not natural (God put hair on men's faces), is a worldly custom, etc. Are you trying to get in touch with your feminine side?

Biblical and Spirit of Prophecy principles on dress really do make sense when properly understood and applied and would recommend us to the world. Look at how Jackie Kennedy's simple dress, makeup, hair styles were admired compared to Tammy Faye Bakker's overdone look, which was ridiculed by secular society.

Amen. Well said.

Posted by: seraph|m Jun 5 2006, 09:11 AM

QUOTE(pmorris68 @ Jun 4 2006, 05:38 PM)

This weekend my family was at Cohutta Springs...We had a great time. Cohutta Springs has the Hope Channel and 3ABN. So this was my first time EVER watching 3ABN. EVER!!! (Not sure if this topic belongs here but here it goes). I've watched it via the web, but never on TV.

How come these folks look like plain ole janes. Every person on there looked ghostly!! What happened to their color in their skins. OH MY GOODNESS...Melissa Summers does a show on Issues and Answers. She looked a HOT MESS!! Her clothes were too big on her, and her face looked ashy. I was like WOW!! What in the world.

IS that what we look like now? OH MY GOODNESS!!! What in the world? How can we minister to folks looking crazy? Now...before you jump on me. THIS IS NOT ABOUT MAKEUP. I am talking about moisturizer. Plain ole powder to the face. The one white lady who sang (I liked her song) but she had color but Danny didn't, neither did the young man he was questioning. I sat there laughing for about 2 hours. Surely we can do better than this. What in the world?

Oh my...

Posted by: princessdi Jun 5 2006, 09:33 AM

Well said!!! Let us not forget Jan Crouch!!! She actually has PINK hair!!!! OK?!!!! I totally agree put in a line up with Jan and Tammy Faye, somebody who didn't know them, would definitely pick Jackie 'O to be the christian.

I also want to add that the no make up, etc. policy is an attempt to control the "environment" so to speak. It is based in the belief or misbelief that women are responsible for men's minds, and keeping them "stayed on Jesus". If the women look plain, refrain from adorning themselves, etc. the men are less likely to stray. We know how wrong that is, right?

QUOTE(gracetoyou @ Jun 5 2006, 07:40 AM)

"For Christ's sake, whose witnesses we are, we should seek to make the best of our appearance... Our appearance in every respect should be characterized by neatness, modesty, and purity.... 6 T, p. 96

"The young should be encouraged to form correct habits in dress, that their appearance may be neat and attractive;" 6 T, p. 170

Dressly attractively is not condemned in the word of God. Neither does it condemn make-up. That seems to be an Adventist tradition. There is one reference in The Health Reformer, 10-01-1871, that talks about how women are endangering their lives by wearing cosmetics, but that can be explained when one learns that facial powder at that time contained "large quantitites of lead" which "eventually destroyed complexions and resulted in countless premature deaths." Rouge "was colored with cinnabar, a poisonous red sulfide of mercury. For centuries, the same red cream served to paint the lips, where it was more easily ingested and insidiously poisonous." Extraordinary Origins of Everyday Things, p. 224 So Ellen White was historically correct when she warned about the cosmetics of her time. It was a health issue. That does not apply to the cosmetics of our day.

It's weird that some Adventist women will cut, curl, mousse, relax, etc. the hair on their heads, shave their hair on the legs and under their arms, wear perfume and deodorant, smooth on hand and body lotion, use mouthwash, etc., etc., but Noooooo, they won't wear makeup because that would not be "natural." Don't want to be like the "world" or "Jezebel".

And for the men, why do you shave your beards? That practice comes from pagan society (Egypt), is not Biblical, the pioneers wore beards, is not natural (God put hair on men's faces), is a worldly custom, etc. Are you trying to get in touch with your feminine side?

Biblical and Spirit of Prophecy principles on dress really do make sense when properly understood and applied and would recommend us to the world. Look at how Jackie Kennedy's simple dress, makeup, hair styles were admired compared to Tammy Faye Bakker's overdone look, which was ridiculed by secular society.

Posted by: vonessa Jun 5 2006, 10:39 AM

It is probably not alright for a woman to then wear the make up but it is okay for a man to wear a wig or get hair seeds planted in his head.

Overall it seems like they are playing to a group of folks who they think exists who don't like attractivity or interesting music and what have you. I don't know if those folks exist, and if they do they probably dont give as much as they think they do.

Posted by: vonessa Jun 5 2006, 11:21 AM

A while back somebody said that aside from the long dangling earrings, a lot of people might mistake lesbians in San Francisco for Adventist women. The lack of make-up and plain faces would be a giveaway it seems. I dont know if that is true or not because I dont know too many lesbians, but is that true?

Posted by: beanchild Jun 5 2006, 11:35 AM

QUOTE(vonessa @ Jun 5 2006, 12:39 PM)

It is probably not alright for a woman to then wear the make up but it is okay for a man to wear a wig or get hair seeds planted in his head.

Overall it seems like they are playing to a group of folks who they think exists who don't like attractivity or interesting music and what have you. I don't know if those folks exist, and if they do they probably dont give as much as they think they do.

hair seeds!!! :x: rofl

QUOTE(vonessa @ Jun 5 2006, 01:21 PM)

A while back somebody said that aside from the long dangling earrings, a lot of people might mistake lesbians in San Francisco for Adventist women. The lack of make-up and plain faces would be a giveaway it seems. I dont know if that is true or not because I dont know too many lesbians, but is that true?

...depends on the lesbian. the ones i know understand beauty products quite well...

Posted by: Chez Jun 5 2006, 11:37 AM

QUOTE(vonessa @ Jun 5 2006, 12:21 PM)

A while back somebody said that aside from the long dangling earrings, a lot of people might mistake lesbians in San Francisco for Adventist women. The lack of make-up and plain faces would be a giveaway it seems. I dont know if that is true or not because I dont know too many lesbians, but is that true?

I don't know who said it, but I have thought about that myself. Once I was told that makeup was designed to make one's skin look flawless, not "made up". Many of the Adventist women who I know who wear makeup, actually look good. Oh by the way, doesn't Mollie Steenson wear makeup? Some of the other women (I've noticed) pluck their eyebrows and wear a little lipstick. Why don't the "sisters" apply a little makeup to bring out their beautiful features? In addition, studio lights can be murderous to one's skin; therefore, a little makeup with a sunscreen can help rather than hurt.

Posted by: missthg Jun 5 2006, 11:52 AM

:: :: you are a mess!!!

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jun 4 2006, 07:02 PM)

Didn't you ignorant folk ever hear that the good ole midwestern meat and potatoes look is what lost souls are looking for? They might have carnal thoughts if they happened to see Dr. Thrash and Shelly Quinn made up like Jezebel hussies, Danny Shelton looking like Tom Cruise, or John Lomacang looking like Barak Obama. We wouldn't want to be responsible for causing them to be carnal now would we? Oh, and those people's inner beauty might end up lost under all that makeup, jewelry, and ties.

When you see a lesbian who wants to be known as a lesbian - you defiantely won't mistake her for being adventist!

x x x| rofl x| rofl

QUOTE(vonessa @ Jun 5 2006, 09:21 AM)

A while back somebody said that aside from the long dangling earrings, a lot of people might mistake lesbians in San Francisco for Adventist women. The lack of make-up and plain faces would be a giveaway it seems. I dont know if that is true or not because I dont know too many lesbians, but is that true?

Posted by: princessdi Jun 5 2006, 12:16 PM

No Gurl! LOL!!! Where did you get that from? There are soooo many stereo types within that statement, I don't know where to start. Where ever you got that from, stop reading it, listening to them, disregard whatever the source.

QUOTE(vonessa @ Jun 5 2006, 10:21 AM)

A while back somebody said that aside from the long dangling earrings, a lot of people might mistake lesbians in San Francisco for Adventist women. The lack of make-up and plain faces would be a giveaway it seems. I dont know if that is true or not because I dont know too many lesbians, but is that true?

Posted by: gracetoyou Jun 5 2006, 12:34 PM

QUOTE

QUOTE(princessdi @ Jun 5 2006, 10:33 AM)

Well said!!! Let us not forget Jan Crouch!!! She actually has PINK hair!!!! OK?!!!! I totally agree put in a line up with Jan and Tammy Faye, somebody who didn't know them, would definitely > pick Jackie 'O to be the christian.

>
> I also want to add that the no make up, etc. policy is an attempt to control the "environment" so to speak. It is based in the belief or misbelief that women are responsible for men's minds, and keeping them "stayed on Jesus". If the women look plain, refrain from adorning themselves, etc. the men are less likely to stray. We know how wrong that is, right?

eah, I forgot about Jan Crouch. Every time I watch TBN, which isn't often, I am transfixed by Jan's wooped over, super bouffant hairstyle. I can't believe she thinks she looks good like that. She seems o be a pretty woman underneath all that.

his thread is hilarious. rofl oo bad some Adventists believe that "homeliness is next to godliness."

Posted by: princessdi Jun 5 2006, 12:38 PM

You be wrong for dis heya'! LOL!!!!

> QUOTE(gracetoyou @ Jun 5 2006, 11:34 AM)
>
> Too bad some Adventists believe that "homeliness is next to godliness."

Posted by: pmorris68 Jun 5 2006, 12:51 PM

I was just too out done. Face ashy, clothes too big, and hair not done. That says "I am having a bad week!!". I had no business being on TV.

Posted by: princessdi Jun 5 2006, 12:59 PM

LOL!!! Gurl, I'll be ret there!! They be having to have dey hairdone by Thrusday.....preparation day, ya' know! LOL!!!

> QUOTE(missthg @ Jun 4 2006, 03:09 PM)
>
> hey now - don't be trying to move - make sure they pay for you to fly back on sundays!

Posted by: summertime Jun 5 2006, 02:17 PM

> QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jun 5 2006, 12:59 AM)

> I love it! It never dawned on me that Danny only wares those turtlenecks....wonder what he is covering up under there? (tattoos?)

I am old!! I wear turtlenecks to cover my wrinkled neck. Perhaps others do the same.

Posted by: simplysaved Jun 5 2006, 02:59 PM

> QUOTE(pmorris68 @ Jun 5 2006, 12:51 PM)
>
> I was just too out done. Face ashy, clothes too big, and hair not done. That says "I am having a bad week!!". I had no business being on TV.

rofl

Posted by: Nuggie Jun 5 2006, 03:48 PM

> QUOTE(gracetoyou @ Jun 5 2006, 12:34 PM)
>
> Too bad some Adventists believe that "homeliness is next to godliness."

Man, I know some real godly Sadventists!!

Posted by: beartrap Jun 5 2006, 07:22 PM

Well, much as the 3ABN folk and the conservative viewers may despise the false beauty supplied by makeup and jewelry, they don't seem to mind the fact that Tommy and Kenny are wearing wigs, and that Danny did too until he got transplants on his head.

Posted by: princessdi Jun 5 2006, 10:50 PM

HAIRSTYLIST HAT ON

I just want them to something about that color.....and I hope he didn't pay much cuz that hair be too fuzzy!!

HAIRSTYLIST HAT OFF

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jun 5 2006, 06:22 PM)

Well, much as the 3ABN folk and the conservative viewers may despise the false beauty supplied by makeup and jewelry, they don't seem to mind the fact that Tommy and Kenny are wearing wigs, and that Danny did too until he got transplants on his head.

Posted by: beartrap Jun 5 2006, 10:58 PM

QUOTE(princessdi @ Jun 5 2006, 11:50 PM)

HAIRSTYLIST HAT ON

I just want them to something about that color.....and I hope he didn't pay much cuz that hair be too fuzzy!!

HAIRSTYLIST HAT OFF

Perhaps he used some of Vonnesa's "hair seeds" and got a bad batch, or didn't use the right mulch and fertilizer. Maybe he should trade in the jet for a crop duster. Then again, its possible that instead of hair seeds he got weeds.

Posted by: princessdi Jun 5 2006, 11:01 PM

See!!! I was speaking "professionally"! You just had to go there! LOL!!!

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jun 5 2006, 09:58 PM)

Perhaps he used some of Vonnesa's "hair seeds" and got a bad batch, or didn't use the right mulch and fertilizer. Maybe he should trade in the jet for a crop duster.

Posted by: sonshineonme Jun 5 2006, 11:23 PM

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jun 5 2006, 08:58 PM)

Perhaps he used some of Vonnesa's "hair seeds" and got a bad batch, or didn't use the right mulch and fertilizer. Maybe he should trade in the jet for a crop duster. Then again, its possible that instead of hair seeds he got weeds.

THAT IS THE FUNNIEST THING I HAVE READ IN DAYS AND DAYS AND DAYS! THANKS! I NEEDED THAT VERY MUCH!

rofl sig

Posted by: gracetoyou Jun 6 2006, 05:37 AM

QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jun 6 2006, 01:23 AM)

THAT IS THE FUNNIEST THING I HAVE READ IN DAYS AND DAYS AND DAYS! THANKS! I NEEDED THAT VERY MUCH!

rofl sig

I second that! I cracked up when I read that. Beartrap, you should be a comedian. I hope Linda is reading this thread as she could probably use a few laughs.

Posted by: Chez Jun 6 2006, 08:50 AM

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jun 5 2006, 08:22 PM)

Well, much as the 3ABN folk and the conservative viewers may despise the false beauty supplied by makeup and jewelry, they don't seem to mind the fact that Tommy and Kenny are wearing wigs, and that Danny did too until he got transplants on his head.

Beartrap, you are CRAZY!!! rofl rofl rofl I needed a laugh. THANKS!!

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jun 5 2006, 11:58 PM)

Perhaps he used some of Vonnesa's "hair seeds" and got a bad batch, or didn't use the right mulch and fertilizer. Maybe he should trade in the jet for a crop duster. Then again, its possible that instead of hair seeds he got weeds.

Beartrap, what are we going to do with you? I am just cracking up. rofl You're MAD!!! LOL I needed a laugh. THANKS AGAIN!!

Posted by: missthg Jun 6 2006, 11:30 AM y'all trying to get a sista fired today!

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jun 5 2006, 06:22 PM)

Well, much as the 3ABN folk and the conservative viewers may despise the false beauty supplied by makeup and jewelry, they don't seem to mind the fact that Tommy and Kenny are wearing wigs, and that Danny did too until he got transplants on his head.

rofl tears I tell ya tears!!!! rofl rofl

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jun 5 2006, 09:58 PM)

Perhaps he used some of Vonnesa's "hair seeds" and got a bad batch, or didn't use the right mulch and fertilizer. Maybe he should trade in the jet for a crop duster. Then again, its possible that instead of hair seeds he got weeds.

Posted by: Hersheys99 Jun 6 2006, 01:45 PM

QUOTE

(beartrap @ Jun 5 2006, 08:58 PM) *

Perhaps he used some of Vonnesa's "hair seeds" and got a bad batch, or didn't use the right mulch and fertilizer. Maybe he should trade in the jet for a crop duster. Then again, its possible that instead of hair seeds he got weeds.

rofl

Thanks I truly needed the laugh today too! You are cracking me up & the bad part is its true!!

Posted by: PaperTigers Jun 6 2006, 08:05 PM

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jun 5 2006, 11:58 PM)

Perhaps he used some of Vonnesa's "hair seeds" and got a bad batch, or didn't use the right mulch and fertilizer. Maybe he should trade in the jet for a crop duster. Then again, its possible that instead of hair seeds he got weeds.

[x] [x] rofl [x] [x] beartrap you make me laugh !!!

Posted by: sonshineonme Jun 6 2006, 09:19 PM

QUOTE(PaperTigers @ Jun 6 2006, 06:05 PM)

beartrap you make me laugh !!!

[x] rofl [x] [x] rofl [x] [x] rofl am still laughing (almost 24 hours later) at this!!! This is good comedian-makin-stuff....everytime I ead it, I just laugh more and more - it's got a momentum thing going to it - like, you could have robably kept going and made a whole paragraph, or page, or chapter or book! It is the funniest thing have read/heard in a LONG time...sometimes it's a good thing to LLL (let loose a little). It's the nagic moments like this.....priceless!
[x] rofl [x] [x] rofl [x] [x] rofl

Posted by: vonessa Jun 6 2006, 09:44 PM

Why must it always come down to what a sister wears? A man can have a gold rolex and nobody cares, but a woman puts on a little somethin somethin and the world gets tilted off its axis.

Posted by: princessdi Jun 6 2006, 09:58 PM

In the imoortal words of James Brown(the hardest workin' man in show business), "It's a man world!!!! LOL!!!

QUOTE(vonessa @ Jun 6 2006, 07:44 PM)

Why must it always come down to what a sister wears? A man can have a gold rolex and nobody cares, but a woman puts on a little somethin somethin and the world gets tilted off its axis.

Posted by: SandyColorado Jun 7 2006, 02:54 PM

QUOTE(princessdi @ Jun 5 2006, 10:50 PM)

HAIRSTYLIST HAT ON

I just want them to something about that color.....and I hope he didn't pay much cuz that hair be too fuzzy!!

HAIRSTYLIST HAT OFF

That is so funny. My husband and I were just commenting last night on how his hair just gets darker and curlier. Guess only his hairdresser knows for sure...

Posted by: gracetoyou Jun 7 2006, 07:18 PM

QUOTE(SandyColorado @ Jun 7 2006, 03:54 PM)

That is so funny. My husband and I were just commenting last night on how his hair just gets darker and curlier. Guess only his hairdresser knows for sure...

Considering that Danny is over 20 years older than Brandy, perhaps Danny's hair transformations are an attempt to stay young looking so he won't be mistaken for Brandy's dad instead of her husband.

Posted by: princessdi Jun 7 2006, 10:32 PM

Ok, since you went there, I will, too.....Unless he is going to get a fascelift, somebody who don't know is still going to say "You have a beautiful daughter, and your granddaughters are just precious"!

QUOTE(gracetoyou @ Jun 7 2006, 06:18 PM)

Considering that Danny is over 20 years older than Brandy, perhaps Danny's hair transformations are an attempt to stay young looking so he won't be mistaken for Brandy's dad instead of her husband.

Posted by: Hersheys99 Jun 7 2006, 11:28 PM

QUOTE

Ok, since you went there, I will, too.....Unless he is going to get a fascelift, somebody who don't know is still going to say "You have a beautiful daughter, and your granddaughters are just precious"!

QUOTE(gracetoyou @ Jun 7 2006, 06:18 PM) *

Considering that Danny is over 20 years older than Brandy, perhaps Danny's hair transformations are an attempt to stay young looking so he won't be mistaken for Brandy's dad instead of her husband.

rofl My thoughts exactly!!

Posted by: gracetoyou Jun 11 2006, 04:25 PM

Someone told me that Danny has known Brandy since she was an adolescent and that he knew her parents. Does anyone know if she was the reason that Danny dumped Linda?

Posted by: Johann Jun 12 2006, 10:38 AM

QUOTE(gracetoyou @ Jun 12 2006, 12:25 AM)

Someone told me that Danny has known Brandy since she was an adolescent and that he knew her parents. Does anyone know if she was the reason that Danny dumped Linda?

The divorce was effective on June 21, 2004. Brandy was there shortly after that.

Posted by: princessdi Jun 12 2006, 02:42 PM

"There" where,a nd how long after that? You mean after he "thought" it was final?

QUOTE(Johann @ Jun 12 2006, 08:38 AM)

The divorce was effective on June 21, 2004. Brandy was there shortly after that.

Posted by: AmeliaLD Jun 12 2006, 02:54 PM

QUOTE(vonessa @ Jun 6 2006, 08:44 PM)

Why must it always come down to what a sister wears? A man can have a gold rolex and nobody cares, but a woman puts on a little somethin somethin and the world gets tilted off its axis.

think women get the critical eye more than men do. We are more colorful. Plus the rolex is often covered by a shirt sleeve or jacket.

Posted by: Johann Jun 12 2006, 03:32 PM

QUOTE(princessdi @ Jun 12 2006, 09:42 PM)

"There" where,a nd how long after that? You mean after he "thought" it was final?

People at Thompsonville (3ABN) told me of her presence there about a month after the divorce was final on June 21, 2004.

Posted by: gracetoyou Jun 12 2006, 06:33 PM

QUOTE(Johann @ Jun 12 2006, 05:32 PM)

People at Thompsonville (3ABN) told me of her presence there about a month after the divorce was final on June 21, 2004.

But this wasn't her first acquaintance with Danny, was it? I've heard that Brandy moved all the way from Florida to Illinois to get a job with 3ABN. Why would she, out of the blue, do that? I also heard that Danny was "counselling" her? What's the story with Brandy?

But then, maybe the story of Brandy does not belong under the forum topic of 3abn Virgin.

Posted by: beartrap Jun 12 2006, 07:18 PM

QUOTE(AmeliaLD @ Jun 12 2006, 03:54 PM)

I think women get the critical eye more than men do. We are more colorful. Plus the rolex is often covered by a shirt sleeve or jacket.

It is my theory that those people who get critical over women wearing something is because it turns them on, and that makes them uncomfortable. No matter what us men wear, we just look like dressed up dogs, but women start out beautiful, and makeup and jewelry simply accentuate that beauty. If the 3ABN folk want to be natural and not use any fake fake beauty, they should take off their clothes and display what God gave them. Then it could be renamed 3 Angels Bare Naked.

Posted by: Clay Jun 12 2006, 07:29 PM

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jun 12 2006, 08:18 PM)

It is my theory that those people who get critical over women wearing something is because it turns them on, and that makes them uncomfortable. No matter what us men wear, we just look like dressed up dogs, but women start out beautiful, and makeup and jewelry simply accentuate that beauty. If the 3ABN folk want to be natural and not use any fake fake beauty, they should take off their clothes and display what God gave them. Then it could be renamed 3 Angels Bare Naked.

Speak for yourself Mr. Beartrap..... in the words of Will Smith from Men in Black.... "I make this look good...."

Posted by: sonshineonme Jun 12 2006, 08:12 PM

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jun 12 2006, 06:18 PM)

It is my theory that those people who get critical over women wearing something is because it turns them on and that makes them uncomfortable. No matter what us men wear, we just look like dressed up dogs, but women start out beautiful, and makeup and jewelry simply accentuate that beauty.

YOU ARE RIGHT ON WITH THIS POINT!!

As for " If the 3ABN folk want to be natural and not use any fake fake beauty, they should take off their clothes and display what God gave them. Then it could be renamed 3 Angels Bare Naked." THIS MAKES ME LAUGH AND LAUGH (BUT NO WAY WOULD I WATCH IT) AND I AM THINKING DANNY MIGHT HAVE CONSIDERED THIS VERSION OF A NETWORK...

Posted by: princess di Jun 12 2006, 09:36 PM

Amen!!! Bear I knew I liked you!!! Good to hear this from a man!! Now, dont' get carried away, though men dressed up look REAL good! Add some cologne, and it's ALL good!

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jun 12 2006, 06:18 PM)

It is my theory that those people who get critical over women wearing something is because it turns them on, and that makes them uncomfortable. No matter what us men wear, we just look like dressed up dogs but women start out beautiful, and makeup and jewelry simply accentuate that beauty. If the 3ABN folk want to be natural and not use any fake fake beauty, they should take off their clothes and display what God gave them. Then it could be renamed 3 Angels Bare Naked.

Posted by: Denny Jun 13 2006, 04:19 AM

QUOTE(Johann @ Jun 12 2006, 09:32 PM)

People at Thompsonville (3ABN) told me of her presence there about a month after the divorce was final on June 21, 2004.

ok lets give em the benefit of the doubt they only got married this year so people can get together in that space of time even shorter.

Posted by: Hersheys99 Jun 13 2006, 03:14 PM

QUOTE

ok lets give em the benefit of the doubt they only got married this year so people can get together in that space of time even shorter.

I don't think anyone is questioning the fact that they could have gotten together in a short space of time.

QUOTE

QUOTE(Johann @ Jun 12 2006, 09:32 PM) *

People at Thompsonville (3ABN) told me of her presence there about a month after the divorce was final on June 21, 2004.

BUT for her to show up at 3ABN with kids in tow, no job & no where to live within a month after the divorce was final says to me they knew each other LONG before the divorce ever occurred. I know there is no way I would pack up my kids & move to another state just because! If I did that there would have to be a reason & to me it smells a bit fishy. Even more so now that one of the kids don't even live with her.

Posted by: sonshineonme Jun 13 2006, 06:42 PM

QUOTE(Hersheys99 @ Jun 13 2006, 02:14 PM)

I don't think anyone is questioning the fact that they could have gotten together in a short space of time.
BUT for her to show up at 3ABN with kids in tow, no job & no where to live within a month after the divorce was final says to me they knew each other LONG before the divorce ever occurred. I know there is no way I would pack up my kids & move to another state just because! If I did that there would have to be a reason & to me it smells a bit fishy. Even more so now that one of the kids don't even live with her.

There is strong evidence to believe they did know each other before - to what degree is not YET known, but their were times Danny was in the same towns as she, before Linda and Danny divorced. Is it just a (another) coincidence? One thing we know, God knows, and so do they.

Posted by: LadyTenor Jul 5 2006, 02:15 AM

QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jun 5 2006, 01:59 AM)

I love it! It never dawned on me that Danny only wares those turtlenecks....wonder what he is covering up under there? (tattoos?)

QUOTE(summertime @ Jun 5 2006, 04:17 PM)

I am old!! I wear turtlenecks to cover my wrinkled neck. Perhaps others do the same.

...or perhaps he has to hide all the hickeys that may have been there before the divorce was final...lest his own "spiritual" adultery be exposed...

...shoot, I said that out loud, too...the SADventist CIA/Gestapo is going to come get me, confiscate my computer equipment and then have me disfellowshipped...

...and why didn't I find this thread sooner? Ya'll have me laughing real tears here...I had to stifle myself lest I woke up my husband!!!! Beartrap and all those comments....HA HA HA HA HA HA!!

Posted by: princessdi Jul 5 2006, 09:07 AM

Yes you did! Post restriction is soon to follow! LOL!!!

> QUOTE(LadyTenor @ Jul 5 2006, 01:15 AM)
>
> ...or perhaps he has to hide all the hickeys that may have been there before the divorce was final...lest his own "spiritual" adultery be exposed.....shoot, I said that out loud, too...the SADventist CIA/Gestapo is going to come get me, confiscate my computer equipment and then have me disfellowshipped...
> ...and why didn't I find this thread sooner? Ya'll have me laughing real tears here...I had to stifle myself lest I woke up my husband!!!! Beartrap and all those comments....HA HA HA HA HA HA!!

Posted by: Clay Jul 5 2006, 05:19 PM

Di you are the hair expert.... tell me how you get your hair like this...

I mean I just wanna know..... it don't look natural.. I'ver heard of plastic surgery, but plastic hair too?

Posted by: LadyTenor Jul 5 2006, 07:16 PM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 5 2006, 06:19 PM)

Di you are the hair expert.... tell me how you get your hair like this...

I mean I just wanna know..... it don't look natural.. I'ver heard of plastic surgery, but plastic hair too?

HURSH, CLAY!!!!!

Posted by: awesumtenor Jul 5 2006, 08:16 PM

QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 5 2006, 07:1[illegible] PM)

Di you are the hair expert.... tell me how you get your hair like this...

I mean I just wanna know..... it don't look natural.. I'ver heard of plastic surgery, but plastic hair too?

Back in the day we'd have said it had to be 'Conk"... the double 'L' treatment... lye and lard... can Adventists use lard on their wigs without violating levitical dietary restrictions?

Mebbe he got an indulgence...

In His service,
Mr. J

QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jun 13 2006, 08:42 PM)

There is strong evidence to believe they did know each other before...

...in the biblical sense...

yeah.

I went there.

And to those who feel compelled to defend Danny's honor... you got DNA tests on Danny and those kids of Brandy's?

Mebbe you should ask him to submit to one and remove all doubt... see how he responds to that idea...

In His service,
Mr J

Posted by: alramwill Jul 5 2006, 03:44 PM

QUOTE(gracetoyou @ Jun 5 2006, 08:40 AM)

And for the men, why do you shave your beards? That practice comes from pagan society (Egypt), is not Biblical, the pioneers wore beards, is not natural (God put hair on men's faces), is a worldly custom, etc. Are you trying to get in touch with your feminine side?

Just wondering if this also applies to women who have noticeable facial hair? Wait.....never mind.

Posted by: vonessa Jul 5 2006, 09:00 PM

QUOTE(alramwill @ Jul 5 2006, 03:44 PM)

Just wondering if this also applies to women who have noticeable facial hair? Wait.....never mind.

As a woman, I make every effort to remove all facial hair. But there are some who do not. I do not think it is something that we should judge. There are much more important things on which we should put our minds.

Posted by: Nuggie Jul 5 2006, 09:10 PM

QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 5 2006, 05:10 PM)

Di you are the hair expert.... tell me how you get your hair like this...

I mean I just wanna know..... it don't look natural.. I've heard of plastic surgery, but plastic hair too?

rofl rofl Maybe he uses Donald Trump's hair stylist

QUOTE(alramwill @ Jul 5 2006, 03:4. PM)

Just wondering if this also applies to women who have noticeable facial hair? Wait.....never mind.

Ya'll are killing me tonight!!

Posted by: watchbird Jul 6 2006, 08:29 AM

QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 5 2006, 05:19 PM)

Di you are the hair expert.... tell me how you get your hair like this...

I mean I just wanna know..... it don't look natural.. I've heard of plastic surgery, but plastic hair too?

know next to nothing about black hair styles and I haven't seen JL in person. But a google search shows that he seems to have consistently worn straight(ened?) hair for all of his professional life. And

I do know that it doesn't take much oil on the hair--or face--to produce a shiny reflection--and that strong backlighting or toplighting produces a "halo" effect on almost anyone's head.

'nuff said?

Posted by: princessdi Jul 6 2006, 09:02 AM

Sorry Great One, I have actually seen this one in person. When he pastored in the area, he and his wife spent every available "off" sabbath sitting at my praisin', worshipin', shoutin' church(not sure if he wants Danny to know that though). Alas, it is as natural as the ears. Doesn't mean he is not using more than his fair share of spritz and hair mouse' though.....

QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 5 2006, 04:19 PM)

Di you are the hair expert.... tell me how you get your hair like this...

I mean I just wanna know..... It don't look natural.. I'ver heard of plastic surgery, but plastic hair too?

Posted by: LarryTeacher Jul 5 2006, 09:25 AM

QUOTE(awesumteen @ Jul 5 2006, 10:16 PM)

...in the biblical sense...

yeah.

I went there.

And to those who feel compelled to defend Danny's honor... you got DNA tests on Danny and those kids of brandy...?

Mebbe you should ask him to submit to one and remove all doubt... see how he responds to that idea...

In His service,

Mr J

Why should he get a paternity test? He is above the law...he has nothing to prove...he can do whatever he wants...we are the ones who have no business questioning His Royal Highness....

Posted by: princessdi Jul 6 2006, 09:48 AM

Vonessa, Gurl lighten up! It was a joke!

QUOTE(vonessa @ Jul 5 2006, 07:00 PM)

As a woman, I make every effort to remove all facial hair. But there are some who do not. I do not think it is something that we should judge. There are much more important things on which we should put our minds.

Posted by: alramwill Jul 6 2006, 10:02 AM

QUOTE(princessdi @ Jul 6 2006, 09:48 AM)

Vonessa, Gurl lighten up! It was a joke!

sig

Posted by: Clay Jul 7 2006, 01:13 PM

QUOTE(LadyTenor @ Jul 6 2006, 09:25 AM)

Why should he get a paternity test? He is above the law...he has nothing to prove...he can do whatever he wants...we are the ones who have no business questioning His Royal Highness....

he proof will be when he dies and those assets have to divided among the heirs..... should get nteresting then...

Posted by: LadyTenor Jul 11 2006, 09:46 AM

QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 7 2006, 03:13 PM)

the proof will be when he dies and those assets have to divided among the heirs..... should get interesting then...

Oh, yes, it will....

Posted by: beartrap Jul 11 2006, 04:55 PM

As to John's hair, he cuts and styles it himself... has for many years. When he feels saintly, the gel shining under the lights can certainly give it the halo effect. When he is enraged, it just looks like a smoke stack. When he wants to be comical, it showcases his ears.

Posted by: Clay Jul 11 2006, 05:57 PM

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jul 11 2006, 04:55 PM)

As to John's hair, he cuts and styles it himself... has for many years. When he feels saintly, the gel shining under the lights can certainly give it the halo effect. When he is enraged, it just looks like a smoke stack. When he wants to be comical, it showcases his ears.

scary....

Posted by: LadyTenor Jul 11 2006, 11:30 PM

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jul 11 2006, 04:55 PM)

As to John's hair, he cuts and styles it himself... has for many years. When he feels saintly, the gel shining under the lights can certainly give it the halo effect. When he is enraged, it just looks like a smoke stack. When he wants to be comical, it showcases his ears.

Powered by Invision Power Board (http://www.invisionboard.com)
© Invision Power Services (http://www.invisionpower.com)

212

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ An Unauthorized History Of 3abn

Posted by: sister Jun 21 2006, 08:52 PM

The Tree in the midst of the Garden...Part 4

Synopsis: In part 3 of "The Tree in the midst of the Garden" Mollie and Hal Steenson were introduced as "the collaborators in suggesting and sustaining the "first miracle" of 3ABN. It was Hal who advised Danny that by telling the story of Hal's purported "gift" of television equipment to Danny from a Pentecostal ministry, with Hal willing to sign a falsified document substantiating the "fact", this miracle would "prime the financial pump" and the donations would stream in to Danny's pockets. Then some years later, Mollie returns to 3ABN, snatched from the crumbling ruins of the ministry that she and Hal built. It was Danny Shelton who reached out his hand to her and after her installation as his personal secretary, she immediately starts affirming to Danny and proclaiming to everyone else in the 3ABN compound that God speaks to Danny and speaks to them through Danny. Mollie was now back in her element." It is at this point that we pick up our story.

To understand the chain of events that lead to Danny's delusions concerning his position as "godhead" at 3ABN, it is necessary to investigate the background of those who, like that age old serpent, have whispered into Danny's ear, "You will truly be like God". Neither one of these women came into leadership positions at 3ABN as Seventh-day Adventists. Why in a ministry that has recently begun to refer to itself as a supporting ministry of the SDA church, would principle members of the management team be members from other denominations?

The first woman, Mollie Steenson, is now baptized into the fellowship of the 3ABN church, although her privately shared reasons were neither doctrinal nor Biblical, but because "3ABN is the cutting edge ministry". With the securing of her church membership and later with the ousting of Linda Shelton as 3ABN Vice President, Mollie has risen in the ranks of 3ABN to become the General manager, a member of the 3ABN Board and as she has recently leaked to those in the know, the newest member of the Board of the Illinois Conference. Mollie's religious background: died in the wool, speaking in tongues, Pentecostal. Has this leopard change her spots? Or does she just know how to play the principles in this saga to her own advantage?

The second woman, ET Everett, builds upon the foundation laid by Mollie Steenson. ET has been involved in 3ABN over a number of years and in various capacities. She and her husband Dave were also personal friends of Danny and Linda, privately vacationing with them a number of times. ET's current position is manager of the 3ABN music production studio. Among the perks that she enjoys is a custom built, rent free apartment in the music studio complex. ET and Dave have never strayed from their charismatic background, content to remain encased within their belief system and faithfully attending church services on Sunday mornings; appearing to have no interest in Adventism, although both have worked for Danny and known him personally for many years.

At this point an inescapable dichotomy appears. First, why would a woman hold a managerial position in a ministry that is considered a cult by the denomination of whom she is an active member? That would be the equivalent of Pastor Walter Pierson, Jr. becoming a permanent front man for the Pope's USA tours. And why would she represent the head of this ministry as having the spiritual gifts of a prophet of God? Playing a spiritually dangerous "tag team" match with Mollie, ET is the woman who has lead Danny down the garden path giving him the following "word of knowledge": whatever thoughts and impressions Danny receives regarding anything is the voice of God. Soon Danny was looking at people and telling them that the Lord was revealing this or that about them. He was being shown things in dreams or visions. If you disagreed with him, you were disagreeing with God himself because he had become the voice of God.

All of this prompts an unavoidable question: What is it in ET's religious belief system that allows her to see Danny Shelton as a latter day prophet, yet have no interest in the religion he claims to represent?

Like Adam was lead to that certain tree in the middle of the garden by Eve. Two women have been responsible for leading Danny Shelton to the perception that his voice is as the voice of God and all his thoughts and impressions concerning anything come from God. Like Eve they may have brought him to the tree, but like Adam before him, Danny choose to eat of it. Could Danny have walked away from the whisperings that have continued to lead him into greater delusion, bringing him to the point where he no longer perceived himself as constrained by the Ten Commandments of God? But as in the days before the Judges, when each man was a law unto himself, has Danny forged his own realm within which he is answerable neither to the laws of God or Man?

Seated upon his mount, Danny lifts himself up in the saddle. Raising up his hand he shadows he eyes from the glare of the afternoon sun. A smile spreads across his face as he observes a small portion of his realm. The tall grass in the open pasture land has not yet turned the golden hues of late summer and with great satisfaction he knows that all this and so much more belong to him alone. Looking at what he has made, he pronounces it good...so what, if the majority of the dollars that have paid for his expensive pleasures are provided by people who live on nothing more than nickel and dimes, there is no ethical dichotomy here. Hasn't he given them what they wanted? And besides, a man in his God ordained position should be entitled to the best the king's table has to offer. As his horse bends down his head to nibble on the still green shoots of grass, Danny muses over the last "Behind the Scenes" program: next time he must remember to blush a little, while he works it into the conversation of how people are perceiving him to be a prophet like Ellen White. Followed by a smile and a humble look this is guaranteed to achieve the correct response from his loyal viewers. One day they all will truly acknowledge who he is and place him in the position where he belongs... Realizing where his thoughts are taking him, his smile broadens to that of the Cheshire Cat from Alice in Wonderland. Knowing there is no need to question the source from which these impressions spring, he rest in the assurance that all his thoughts and impressions come from God...

I will conclude the final part of "The Tree in the Midst of the Garden" with a quote form a former 3ABN employee:

"I will never forget the man in Denver, CO at a church I was speaking in. After the service, he told me that I was so fortunate to be working with God's final prophet for the end times. He said that E.G. White was the prophet for her day, but Danny was a much greater prophet."

"Danny seems to have surrounded himself with people who enforce that in him, and it has come to the point where Even a board member who works at 3ABN said, when someone disagreed with Danny, "To us, Danny is God."

TVsnack

Stay tuned...

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jun 21 2006, 10:32 PM

QUOTE(sister @ Jun 21 2006, 09:52 AM)

..."Danny seems to have surrounded himself with people who enforce that in him, and it has come to the point where Even a board member who works at 3ABN said, when someone disagreed with

Danny, "To us, Danny is God."

My LERD.....

ESUS IS COMING....and he's none too pleased...

Posted by: vonessa Jun 22 2006, 10:00 AM

What kind of woman would go by the name ET? I know that we are dealing with supernaturals and that spiritual warfare does involve other planets. Maybe she is a exterrestrial. I'm not joking. Satan always gives hints as to who he is - symbols. It is his way of tagging the Lords people.

Danny is a false god relying on satanic agencies to do what he wants.

Posted by: Clay Jun 22 2006, 10:12 AM

QUOTE(vonessa @ Jun 22 2006, 11:00 AM)

What kind of woman would go by the name ET? I know that we are dealing with supernaturals and that spiritual warfare does involve other planets. Maybe she is a exterrestrial. I'm not joking. Satan always gives hints as to who he is - symbols. It is his way of tagging the Lords people.

Danny is a false god relying on satanic agencies to do what he wants.

unbelievable..... tagging the lords people.... interesting indeed....

Posted by: Hersheys99 Jun 22 2006, 11:23 AM

Vonessa I always wondered about her name too. I mean you really don't hear very many people especially women that go by initials & even then if they did it would be written E.T. not ET! Interesting indeed.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jun 22 2006, 05:11 PM

QUOTE(Hersheys99 @ Jun 22 2006, 11:23 AM)

Vonessa I always wondered about her name too. I mean you really don't hear very many people especially women that go by initials & even then if they did it would be written E.T. not ET! Interesting indeed.

believe her name is Ethel Everett. I am not aware that the "T" in "ET" has anything to do with her rue middle name.

Posted by: statrei Jun 22 2006, 06:52 PM

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jun 22 2006, 06:11 PM)
>
> I believe her name is Ethel Everett. I am not aware that the "T" in "ET" has anything to do with her true middle name.

ET are the first two letters of her name. That explains the absence of periods.

Posted by: HUGGINS130 Jun 22 2006, 07:14 PM

> QUOTE
>
> Danny is a false god relying on satanic agencies to do what he wants.

judge not!!!! there sure is a lot of judging going on at BSDA right now... another thing what in the world is this..."Satan always gives hints as to who he is - symbols. It is his way of tagging the Lords people."

btw I am now officially off lurk mode... pe sna

Posted by: sonshineonme Jun 22 2006, 07:19 PM

> QUOTE(HUGGINS130 @ Jun 22 2006, 06:14 PM)
>
> ....btw I am now officially off lurk mode... pe sna

Really? I wouldn't have guessed...

Posted by: princessdi Jun 22 2006, 10:33 PM

I have no words for this one.....

QUOTE(vonessa @ Jun 22 2006, 09:00 AM)

What kind of woman would go by the name ET? I know that we are dealing with supernaturals and that spiritual warfare does involve other planets. Maybe she is a exterrestrial. I'm not joking. Satan always gives hints as to who he is - symbols. It is his way of tagging the Lords people.

Danny is a false god relying on satanic agencies to do what he wants.

Posted by: summertime Jun 23 2006, 07:07 AM

QUOTE(princessdi @ Jun 22 2006, 10:33 PM)

I have no words for this one.....

You are right Di---no words, are we going too far---or not?

Posted by: beanchild Jun 23 2006, 08:35 AM

QUOTE(vonessa @ Jun 22 2006, 12:00 PM)

What kind of woman would go by the name ET? I know that we are dealing with supernaturals and that spiritual warfare does involve other planets. Maybe she is a exterrestrial. I'm not joking. Satan always gives hints as to who he is - symbols. It is his way of tagging the Lords people.

Danny is a false god relying on satanic agencies to do what he wants.

ok. rofl although i can't very well say i'm surprised by that comment. some people. lawdamercy...

Posted by: Clay Jun 23 2006, 08:41 AM

QUOTE(summertime @ Jun 23 2006, 08:07 AM)

You are right Di---no words, are we going too far---or not?

well this thread is 61 pages long.... you tell me, have you gone too far?

Posted by: vonessa Jun 23 2006, 08:45 AM

QUOTE(beanchild @ Jun 23 2006, 09:35 AM)

ok. rofl although i can't very well say i'm surprised by that comment. some people. lawdamercy...

Sister has said many important things to us, and I am just putting two and two together. She said

QUOTE

To understand the chain of events that lead to Danny's delusions concerning his position as "godhead" at 3ABN, it is necessary to investigate the background of those who, like that age old serpent, have whispered into Danny's ear, "You will truly be like God".

We must investagate these serpents and I look at the names. Am I the only one here who takes sister seriously? He is thinking he is a god and somebody has set him up for that.

We are dealing in spiritual realms and it might look like foolishness to him that believeth not, but as sister says, we must investagate.

Posted by: Clay Jun 23 2006, 08:52 AM

QUOTE(vonessa @ Jun 23 2006, 08:45 AM)

Sister has said many important things to us, and I am just putting two and two together. She said

We must investagate these serpents and I look at the names. Am I the only one here who takes sister seriously? He is thinking he is a god and somebody has set him up for that.

We are dealing in spiritual realms and it might look like foolishness to him that believeth not, but as sister says, we must investagate.

I thought Jesus said to be as wise as serpents and harmless as doves.... what is there to investigate? and once the investigation is complete what will happen? what is the purpose for the investigation? Danny Shelton is not the only person in this world or in the adventist church who may think that he is a god....

So when the investigation of him is done, who will be investigated next? Where does it end?

Posted by: vonessa Jun 23 2006, 08:57 AM

QUOTE(Clay @ Jun 23 2006, 09:52 AM)

> I thought Jesus said to be as wise as serpents and harmless as doves.... what is there to investigate? and once the investigation is complete what will happen? what is the purpose for the investigation? Danny Shelton is not the only person in this world or in the adventist church who may think that he is a god....
>
> So when the investigation of him is done, who will be investigated next? Where does it end?

If there is a person who thinks they are god in our misdt, then dont you think we need to investagate them? Danny thinks he is a god, and either he is or he isnt. We cant investagate everybody. But when she has been given insite on someone we should take a second look. Those who the Lord calls us to investagate we must investagate.

Posted by: Clay Jun 23 2006, 09:02 AM

> QUOTE(vonessa @ Jun 23 2006, 08:57 AM)
>
> If there is a person who thinks they are god in our misdt, then dont you think we need to investagate them? Danny thinks he is a god, and either he is or he isnt. We cant investagate everybody. But when she has been given insite on someone we should take a second look. Those who the Lord calls us to investagate we must investagate.

well if people don't know that Mr. Shelton is not a god, then the problem is with them and not Mr. Shelton....

Sister is sharing her version of a story, and there are always at least two sides to every story....

Investigate if you must, IMO it is an effort in futility....

Posted by: beanchild Jun 23 2006, 09:13 AM

> QUOTE(vonessa @ Jun 23 2006, 09:45 AM)
>
> Sister has said many important things to us, and I am just putting two and two together ...

exactly. you put two and two together and for sure did not get four. or whatever 2+2 actually equals...

Posted by: calvin Jun 23 2006, 09:19 AM

> QUOTE(vonessa @ Jun 23 2006, 09:45 AM)
>
> Sister has said many important things to us, and I am just putting two and two together. She said
>
> We must investagate these serpents and I look at the names. Am I the only one here who takes > sister seriously? He is thinking he is a god and somebody has set him up for that.

>
> We are dealing in spiritual realms and it might look like foolishness to him that believeth not, but as sister says, we must investagate.

/onnessa, you call what Sister has posted precious truths (before you edited your post). Well maybe so or maybe not. Maybe in time the truth will tell. I have learned to view most anything posted on message boards with a health dose of skepticism. Few of us really know each other. There is always another side, Danny's side which we have not heard. Much of what Sister has written has not been collaborated. For now this still makes for an interesting story.

Posted by: awesuntemer Jun 23 2006, 09:35 AM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Jun 23 2006, 11:16 AM)
>
> Much of what Sister has written has not been collaborated.

Jmm.. I think you mean 'corroborated'... but your drift is gotten...

n His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: Denny Jun 23 2006, 09:40 AM

> QUOTE(vonessa @ Jun 23 2006, 03:57 PM)
>
> If there is a person who thinks they are god in our misdt, then dont you think we need to investagate them? Danny thinks he is a god, and either he is or he isnt. We cant investagate everybody. But when she has been given insite on someone we should take a second look. Those who the Lord calls us to investagate we must investagate.

When did He say this?

Posted by: Nuggie Jun 23 2006, 09:43 AM

> QUOTE(vonessa @ Jun 23 2006, 09:45 AM)
>
> Sister has said many important things to us, and I am just putting two and two together. She said
>
> We must investagate these scripers and I look at the names. Am I the only one here who takes sister seriously? He is thinking he is a god and somebody has set him up for that.
>
> We are dealing in spiritual realms and it might look like foolishness to him that believeth not, but as sister says, we must investagate.

Danny's not the only person in this church with a god complex, trust me...anybody that is judgmental or who wears the "holier-than-thou" loin cloth is right up there with Mr. Shelton and quite a few stand in church pulpits every Sabbath morning...there's a reason why the Bible says to let the wheat and tares grow together until the harvest...humans are not in a position to discern who is weak wheat and who is a tare...plus, Danny could only have a god complex if he had followers that bestowed that on him, IMHO...

Posted by: statrei Jun 23 2006, 09:57 AM

QUOTE(Denny @ Jun 23 2006, 11:40 AM)

When did He say this?

Maybe another person with a god complex like Danny. Who knows?

QUOTE(awesumtenor @ Jun 23 2006, 11:35 AM)

Umm.. I think you mean 'corroborated'... but your drift is gotten...

In His service,
Mr. J

Or "collated."

Posted by: sonshineonme Jun 23 2006, 10:06 AM

QUOTE(Nuggie @ Jun 23 2006, 08:43 AM)

Danny's not the only person in this church with a god complex, trust me...anybody that is judgmental or who wears the "holier-than-thou" loin cloth is right up there with Mr. Shelton and quite a few stand in church pulpits every Sabbath morning...there's a reason why the Bible says to let the wheat and tares grow together until the harvest...humans are not in a position to discern who is weak wheat and who is a tare...plus, Danny could only have a god complex if he had followers that bestowed that on him, IMHO...

Nuggie, this was very well put (my opinion of course). We need to be open-eyed and wise. It's not easy to deal with so many issues and facts that cause us to wonder who the wheat and tares are - sometimes it is clear as crystal, others it's clear as mudd. So, the big idea here is to keep our eyes on Jesus and trust Him to give us wisdom when things are shown or revealed to us, we shouldn't be so shocked at it - he lived in it in his time and he warned us as well. We have to be careful not to get so caught up in it that it affects us negatively. This is a hard balance to keep (for me). But it can be done, it's a conscience effort made continuously. My feeling of late has been if it doesn't make me cynical, it can make me stronger in the Lord. That's what I want. I don't mind finding out that there are serpents all around, but I also don't want to become so afraid and cynical that it hurts my Christianity and most of all my relationship with Jesus. It's not easy for me at all. But I would rather know then not know. I don't want to be someone who supports the wrong when it's revealed to me. And in this case, it's been revealed to me (Danny & 3abn) and long before I ever came to BSDA, and for me with credibility that I can not dismiss. All you can do it the best you can do with what you have and walk with Jesus each step of the way. jmo.

Posted by: statrei Jun 23 2006, 10:26 AM

Humans who follow ideas critically can never be taken in by charlatans. I am concerned that those who have been bitten are not pushing for independent thought but only to remove the snake that bit them. Another snake will rise and it will be different from the first.

Posted by: Nuggie Jun 23 2006, 10:33 AM

> QUOTE(statrei @ Jun 23 2006, 10:26 AM)
>
> Humans who follow ideas critically can never be taken in by charlatans. I am concerned that those who have been bitten are not pushing for independent thought but only to remove the snake that bit them. Another snake will rise and it will be different from the first.

Deep, Dr. D...

Posted by: Clay Jun 23 2006, 10:50 AM

> QUOTE(statrei @ Jun 23 2006, 10:26 AM)
>
> Humans who follow ideas critically can never be taken in by charlatans. I am concerned that those who have been bitten are not pushing for independent thought but only to remove the snake that bit them. Another snake will rise and it will be different from the first.

"I freed a thousand slaves I could have freed a thousand more if only they knew they were slaves.
-Harriet Tubman-

Posted by: sonshine@Jun 23 2006, 11:03 AM

QUOTE (princess@Jun 23 2006, 11:00 AM)

"I [illegible] thousand [illegible] have freed a thousand more if only they knew they were slaves.
-Harriet Tubman

So, how does one come to see they are a slave? And, are we all slaves in some way? How do we learn to see where we are slaves? If people are being roped in, subtly controlled, used and manipulated and it "feels good" for what ever reason, how does the "light" come to them? What needs to be exposed and how much needs to be exposed? Is it different for everyone? Is there a bigger Force at work to help their eyes open up to it?

Posted by: princess@Jun 23 2006, 11:05 AM

There it is, right there!!!

QUOTE

Humans who follow blindly or critically can never be taken in by charlatans. I am concerned that those who have been bitten are not pushing for independent thought but only to remove the snake that bit them. Another snake will come and it will be different from the first. - Statrei

QUOTE(Clay @ Jun 23 2006, 09:50 AM)

"I freed a thousand slaves I could have freed a thousand more if only they knew they were slaves. -Harriet Tubman-

---

Posted by: statrei Jun 23 2006, 11:17 AM

QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jun 23 2006, 12:03 PM)

So, how does one come to see they are a slave? And, are we all slaves in some way? How do we learn to see where we are slaves? If people are being roped in, subtly controlled, used and manipulated and it "feels good" for what ever reason, how does the "light" come to them? What needs to be exposed and how much needs to be exposed? Is it different for everyone? Is there a bigger Force at work to help their eyes open up to it?

The only difference between the worker of today and the American slave is the ability to make independent decisions about their future. Just like the old slave I wake up each morning and go to work for somebody else and return home when they tell me to. But unlike the slave I can decide not to go in tomorrow without fear for my life. If you live in the most beautiful house in the world with all the amenities of life but you cannot leave whenever you want to then you are a captive. If you follow the most illustrious ideas but you are not free to question those ideas then you are a captive of the one who developed those ideas. Too many confuse mental torpidity with piety and devotion. "Amen" is not a good substitute for "What does this mean?"

Posted by: sister Jun 23 2006, 12:09 PM

QUOTE(vonessa @ Jun 23 2006, 09:45 AM)

Sister has said many important things to us, and I am just putting two and two together...Am I the only one here who takes sister seriously?

At this point I think it is time for me to jump into the midst of the fray and address some issues that Vonessa appears to continue churning up, resulting in a repeat performance by all those that enter into dialogue with her concerning my 3ABN narratives.

First, as a wordsmith I can appreciate the melodrama expressed in Vonessa's emotional response to my writings. These narratives have only been a small attempt of illuminating some aspects of life within the ministry of 3ABN that have remained hidden to both the devoted television viewer and the casual observer visiting the ministry complex. But what I have found unnerving is the extrapolations that Vonessa has made and the conclusions she has drawn from those extrapolations. And following that, the measures she has suggested be undertaken based, not upon what I have written, but upon the conclusions she has drawn from her own extrapolations and attributing this line of reasoning to my writings. I beg to differ with Vonessa. I thank her for her appreciation of what I have written, but not for the inflammatory conclusions she has drawn, which draws attention away from the actual message and intent of the author of the narratives. Wild speculation and extrapolation tend to damage the credibility of what is written. So before we all get to far down the garden path, let us just turn around and get back on higher ground.

One last thought, the importance of my writing is in the eyes of the beholder. To the victims whose stories I have revealed hopefully it brings a certain vindication. The more people who know what goes on behind the scenes at 3ABN, the less likely that others will be victimized in the same manner. It doesn't ease their pain, but perhaps with the telling it will prepare the way for the time when more of the story is disclosed from other sources and more of the truth is uncovered. As to this being a one-sided account, it is the responsibility of the opposition to step forward and have their say. I do not choose, nor would I be expected to play Devil's Advocate and present their spin on the truth. This is a public forum and Calvin's gracious in giving everyone the same opportunity to represent themselves. Perhaps the silence is roaring: what defense can be made when the truth has been revealed? I am still waiting for their answer...

Posted by: Clay Jun 23 2006, 01:12 PM

which is the danger in wordsmithing.... some folks are not able to interpret or comprehend.... not suggesting its your fault, just making an observation.....

Posted by: sister Jun 23 2006, 01:15 PM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jun 23 2006, 01:12 PM)
>
> which is the danger in wordsmithing.... some folks are not able to interpret or comprehend.... not suggesting its your fault, just making an observation.....

A valid observation.

Posted by: beartrap Jun 23 2006, 03:30 PM

> QUOTE(Calvin @ Jun 23 2006, 11:16 AM)
>
> There is always another side, Danny's side which we have not heard.

Haven't heard? Danny has had letters sent out to the 180,000 on his mailing list, spoken his side on worldwide television, and had his employees, board members, and associates do the same. Next to how widely his side has been heard, the other side has not uttered a peep.

Posted by: Jvat Jun 23 2006, 03:50 PM

To be fair though, Beartrap, most of Danny's utterings have revolved around his miracle stories and the situation as he sees it that led to his wife being divorced, no?

Posted by: beartrap Jun 23 2006, 04:14 PM

QUOTE(Jvat @ Jun 23 2006, 04:50 PM)

To be fair though, Beartrap, most of Danny's utterings have revolved around his miracle stories and the situation as he sees it that led to his wife being divorced, no?

That is his side... isn't it?

Posted by: sonshineonme Jun 23 2006, 04:18 PM

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jun 23 2006, 03:14 PM)

That is his side... isn't it?

That's what I was thinking.....

Posted by: PaperTigers Jun 23 2006, 05:56 PM

QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jun 23 2006, 06:18 PM)

That's what I was thinking.....

I'm thinking I have to agree

Posted by: Fran Jun 23 2006, 07:50 PM

QUOTE(PaperTigers @ Jun 23 2006, 06:56 PM)

I'm thinking I have to agree

I agree with you both, too!

Tonight, I have been trying to get on 3ABN's website to hear the self proclaimed, great one on 3ABN Today. All I can get is a blank page with 2 words in a large font that says, "Service Unavailable". What is happening? Anyone else having this happen?

Posted by: Hersheys99 Jun 23 2006, 08:28 PM

Fran I just tried to access the website too a minute ago & it said service unavailable for me as well.

Posted by: sonshineonme Jun 23 2006, 08:43 PM

QUOTE (Hersheys99 @ Jun 23 2006, 07:28 PM)

Fran I just tried to access the website too a minute ago & it said service unavailable for me as well.

Fran says: Tonight, I have been trying to get on 3ABN's website to hear the self proclaimed, great one on 3ABN Today. All I can get is a blank page with 2 words in a large font that says, "Service Unavailable". What is happening? Anyone else having this happen?

KINDA SPOOKEY if you ask me.
Maybe their on vacation.
Maybe their web guy quit.
Maybe their web guy got fired.
Maybe...ok, i'll stop. angel.gif

Posted by: sonshineonme Jun 23 2006, 08:57 PM

QUOTE (Hersheys99 @ Jun 23 2006, 07:28 PM)

Fran I just tried to access the website too a minute ago & it said service unavailable for me as well.

Ok, you can still get online another way...
http://www.bwis.net/3abn/and click on "watch TV"
Danny is just now ending...

Posted by: sister Jun 23 2006, 09:19 PM

QUOTE (sonshineonme @ Jun 23 2006, 09:43 PM)

Fran says: Tonight, I have been trying to get on 3ABN's website to hear the self proclaimed, great one on 3ABN Today. All I can get is a blank page with 2 words in a large font that says, "Service Unavailable". What is happening? Anyone else having this happen?
KINDA SPOOKEY if you ask me.
Maybe their on vacation.
Maybe their web guy quit.
Maybe their web guy got fired.
Maybe...ok, i'll stop. angel.gif

Or maybe too many SDA's have got nothing better to do on Friday evenings than watching "kosher" TV? TVsnack. Now that 3ABN is permanently bumped off Sky Angel, some of these same viewers may be overloading the website bandwidth. The more difficult it becomes to watch online during the Sabbath hours, the sooner the donations will start drying up. We can only imagine the effect that could have on Danny. He might have to start going to a dentist in Chicago, rather than flying the jet all the way to the California to get his teeth cleaned every six months. But we all have our burdens to carry. rofl rofl

---

Posted by: seeshell Jun 23 2006, 10:05 PM

QUOTE(sister @ Jun 23 2006, 09:19 PM)

But we all have our burdens to carry. rofl rofl

Yeah. rofl rofl

Posted by: vonessa Jun 24 2006, 08:11 AM

QUOTE(sister @ Jun 23 2006, 01:09 PM)

Perhaps the silence is roaring: what defense can be made when the truth has been revealed? I am still waiting for their answer...

Thank you again for telling these truths that we need to hear so desperately. There is no defense against what you said. It is a hammer of truth.

I agree that we are to judge, or at least be fruit inspectors. A farmer knows that he has to sell good fruit because if he lets a few bad apples by from time to time people think his fruit is bad. I bought fruit at a fund raiser at our school and some of it was bad and I had to toss the whole box. Fortunately sister's fruit is good. Dannys - - not so good. If any of your fruit was bad then I would toss the box. Well, breakfast time for me.

I am going to try to make stripples for the family. I am the deaconess today so I have to get ready.

Happy Sabbath to all.

Posted by: calvin Jun 24 2006, 05:02 PM

> QUOTE(beartrap @ Jun 23 2006, 03:30 PM)
>
> Haven't heard? Danny has had letters sent out to the 180,000 on his mailing list, spoken his side on worldwide television, and had his employees, board members, and associates do the same. Next to how widely his side has been heard, the other side has not uttered a peep.

Danny and others have given another side to his messy divorce. That is old and tired. I want to hear another side to Sister's allegations that God speaks to Danny, he is prophet of God, that stuff. No where in his public ministry have I heard him imply this....only from folks on BSDA.

Posted by: lurker Jun 24 2006, 08:10 PM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Jun 24 2006, 05:02 PM)
>
> Danny and others have given another side to his messy divorce. That is old and tired. I want to hear another side to Sister's allegations that God speaks to Danny, he is prophet of God, that stuff. No where in his public ministry have I heard him imply this....only from folks on BSDA.

Calvin, I don't think you watch 3ABn enough if you haven't heard Danny say that he had a word from the Lord or that the Lord told him something. I don't remember all the specific words he has said the Lord gave him but he did it again just recently. These things are supposed to be indications of what is going to happen in the ministry of 3ABN. Like "the Lord told me this is the year of growing and giving". This is just an example because I really don't remember his exact announcement. Next time he does it, I will try to remember to write it down and share it with you so you too can hear the latest word from the Lord to Danny.

Posted by: calvin Jun 24 2006, 08:47 PM

Thank you, then I stand corrected.

Posted by: summertime Jun 24 2006, 09:15 PM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Jun 24 2006, 05:02 PM)
>
> Danny and others have given another side to his messy divorce. That is old and tired. I want to hear another side to Sister's allegations that God speaks to Danny, he is prophet of God, that stuff.

No where in his public ministry have I heard him imply this....only from folks on BSDA.

had been watching 3ABN for a very long time until this whole problem came up with a fraudulant divorce and his untimely remarriage--When that happened, I no longer believed the things that Danny says. Many times over the years I have heard him say that God speaks to him. I remember when Linda was still on 3ABN she would make remarks that God had spoken to or impressed Danny to write a certain thing or do a certain thing. She was convinced to a fault that Danny was not to be questioned because God spoke to her husband directly. In spite of all the abuse that she has suffered from him, she has spoken to the fact that God spoke to Danny and told him to build a television station. If this is true, and I am not saying that it is or isn't, he has certainly lost his way and I believe that he is paying for it with the loss of Sky Angel and the Dish Network in India. God will find a way to finish the work without the grandiose efforts of a man who has hurt so many people.. In my opinion, and from the e-mails that he sent to me when I questioned him, he is a fraud and the sad part of it is that there are still leaders of the SDA Church who are still honoring him by their use of his network..I did question the remarks about the devil's slant on ET'a name. It is creepy to think so even though I do not know her in the least. It made me shudder. I have not heard much recently about the expensive recording studio at 3ABN, but maybe that is because I no longer watch 3ABN. I like to know that God deals with honest people who push his message forward, instead of a man who pushes himself to the front of a badly tarnished TV Station which should be used to the honor of God and his work. Only the whole truth will be known--Sister, Bear and others have put some of the truth in your hands. When the time comes, other good men will come forward besides those who have so bravely written on this forum after they have seen and suffered the indisgressions of 3ABN. Only God can clean up this mess and I believe that He will.

Post #[illegible] : Panama_Pete Jun 24 2006, 10:15 PM

QUOTE ([illegible]ker @ Jun 24 2006, 09:10 PM)

Next time he does it, I will try to remember to write it down and share it with you so you too can hear the [illegible]st word from the [illegible] to Danny.

Post #[illegible] : sister Jun 26 2006, 03:22 AM

Sorry for the "tip of the iceberg" or "a needle in a hay stack"...

In the far north, in the icy waters surrounding western Greenland it is calving time. The birth pangs have reach their apex and with an eerie rumbling the baby is separated from the safety of it's mother's body and plunges into the breaking waves of an icy sea. With a tremendous splash instantly submerging it, then struggling to the surface again, only one-eighth of the body is visible as it slowly drifts out of reach from the shoreline. No life has been lost, for this is not an animate birth. The mother, a glacier on the western coast of Greenland and her child, an iceberg. As this process is repeated again and again, approximately 40,000 medium to large sized icebergs calve annually from Greenland's glaciers.

The "tip of the iceberg" expression can be explained as follows: Icebergs float because the density of ice is lower than that of seawater. And the ratio of these densities explains why 7/8 of the iceberg's mass must be below water level. Often icebergs are very unstable. It is dangerous to approach an iceberg because it can roll creating a huge disturbance in the surrounding water. It is even more dangerous to attempt to get on an iceberg, a rolling berg can dump you in very cold water or more collapsing over on top of you.

Although the massive girth of an iceberg is hidden from view, approximately 1/8 of it can be easily seen and identified, but searching for the "tip of the iceberg" in the midst of an entire ocean is something altogether different. In a global arena it is the equivalent of searching for a needle in a haystack. But there are clues and once you have been given further information, that will help you identify the object of your search, it becomes much easier.

Interesting as these facts are, what relationship exists between icebergs, haystacks and 3ABN? With icebergs the bulk of what is there is hidden below the surface and only a relatively insignificant portion is in plain sight, as are the workings of Danny Shelton at 3ABN. And the needle in the haystack? So much of the "real" story of the corruption that goes on behind the scenes at 3ABN is very cleverly hidden from those on the "outside", finding the truth can become like searching for that needle: a seemingly impossible task. But what if someone approaches your haystack with a extremely sensitive metal detector and says, "Here take this, now you can find that needle!" "It will take time and effort, but it is possible." This is the intent of "The Unauthorized History of 3ABN": Woven throughout the narratives are golden strands of truth embedded within the frame work of each story. This information becomes like the metal detector. But instead of separating a needle from a haystack, it is providing the reader with facts needed to help separate the truth of the programming from the error going on in the administration of 3ABN.

Testimony has revealed that Danny operates as a "god" within his ministry and considers himself infallible. The televised evidence? It comes from Danny's own mouth. You just need some facts and an understanding of how the game is played, while listening to what he is saying. Like the iceberg, there is still a "tip of evidence" above the surface to bear witness to what lies below the surface.

A word of caution: There are those who have approached this unstable mass and found out how dangerous it is to question Danny's actions. Like being caught on a rolling berg they found themselves dumped into freezing water and instead of an outstretched hand reaching out to draw them to safety, they found themselves the target of a mountain of ice crashing down, seeking to destroy them. How long will Danny continue to float in the Sea of 3ABN programming, while over developing the majority of the clandestine activities of the "Shelton Gang" unobserved by the unsuspecting viewer, donor or SDA church member?

[x] TVsnack.

Sta...

Posted by: vonessa Jun 26 2006, 02:04 PM

> Quote: Posted by: TVsnack @ Jun 26 2006, 01:12 AM)
>
> Testimony has revealed that Danny operates as a "god" within his ministry and considers himself infallible. The televised evidence? It comes from Danny's own mouth. You just need some facts and an understanding of how the game is played, while listening to what he is saying. Like the iceberg, there is still a "tip of evidence" above the surface to bear witness to what lies below the surface.
>
> A word of caution: There are those who have approached this unstable mass and found out how dan[illegible] it is to question Danny's actions. Like being caught on a rolling berg they fou[illegible] the[illegible] dumped into freezing water and instead of an outstretched hand reaching out to draw them [illegible]ety, they found themselves the target of a mountain of ice crashing down, seeking to destr[illegible]m. How long will Danny continue to float in the Sea of 3ABN programming, his lower dens[illegible]ping the majority of the clandestine activities of the "Shelton Gang" unobserved by the uni[illegible] viewer, donor or SDA church member?

[illegible] TVsnack.

Sta[illegible]...

Siste[illegible] not wait until the next installment of this story. The iceberg is a good thing to compare it to. Only [illegible]mall part of the iceberg that sunk the Titanac was seen above the water and the rest was below. [illegible] only 10%! That means that we have only seen 1/10 of what the Shelton gang is capable of. We do not know yet what that is but because we know that we are only looking at the tip of the ceberg [illegible] the marriage, we can use our imaginations to realize what else he might have done.

t will be interesting to compare your notes with Danny's heavenly book as it is opened to us to nvestigate during the milenium if he is not saved. But those who are saved will have their books wiped [illegible]. I hope that he will come to a knowledge of God, and be saved. Maybe then he will choose to te[illegible] what he did.

Post[illegible]: Fran Jun 26 20[illegible], [illegible]3:17 PM

QU[illegible] @ Jun 26 [illegible] 2:0[illegible] PM)

Sis[illegible] not wait until the next installment of this story. The iceberg is a good thing to compare it to. [illegible] small part of the iceberg that sunk the Titanac was seen above the water and the rest was [illegible]. Maybe only 10%! That means that we have only seen 1/10 of what the Shelton gang is cap[illegible]. We do not know yet what that is but because we know that we are only looking at the tip [illegible]eberg with the marriage, we can use our imaginations to realize what else he might have don[illegible]

It wi[illegible] interesting to compare your notes with Danny's heavenly book as it is opened to us to inve[illegible] during the milenium if he is not saved. But those who are saved will have their books wi[illegible]. I hope that he will come to a knowledge of God, and be saved. Maybe then he will cho[illegible] us what he did.

/on[illegible]

rea[illegible] Bible does not teach reincarnation and I do not believe in it either. However, [illegible] times here [illegible] appears" that there is such a thing as reincarnation of evil spirits. I know it is [illegible] evil one foll[illegible] hav[illegible] have had some degree of experience in split personalities over at CA. There was one pers[illegible] appeared to be many people.

Well, [illegible] to say this person has revealed for what he was; a con man; liar; male; [illegible] gay; strai[illegible] man; fake; pretender; one that liked to stir the waters to cause the water to [illegible] really nutt[illegible] muddy with unrea[illegible] theories. These personas are still alive and well on C[illegible]

Adv his unscrupulous fake persona was the main reason I do not read much ov th e any mor ther reason is that they edit everything.

Whe was in its heyday, I went there a lot. This persona was there also. Can you believe it? VOA very sad death. Yet this split personality still lives on in many different other personas. Ever this person and its diverse array of personas go, the health of the forum is at risk.

I no ve this person has been reincarnated! Right here, before our very own eyes right here at BSDA Vones at is your opinion of this matter? Will this person be in the Book of Life? You have exhibit us that your word is gospel and you are much more righteous than the regular members are. , please speak from your heart of hearts, OK.

Oh, n you visit with the other personas, please say hello for me. Also, be very ca , the "Tip iceberg is showing".

Po statrei Jun 26 2006, 08:42 PM

QUO @ Jun 26 2006, 09:17 PM)

Vo at is your opinion of this matter? Will this person be in the Book of Life? You have exhi us that your word is gospel and you are much more righteous than the regular mem re.

Pass me again in slow motion.

Po Clay Jun 26 2006, 08:53 PM

Q ei @ Jun 26 2006, 08:42 PM)

Pa me again in slow motion.

me obviously there is something I missed in the first reading...

Po sonshineonme Jun 26 2006, 09:57 PM

Qu atrei @ Jun 26 2006, 08:42 PM)

Pas y me again in slow motion.

Q Jun 26 2006, 07:53 PM)

n obviously there is something I missed in the first reading...

Are y[illegible]e you aren't getting her drift here?

Po[illegible]: HUGGINS130 Jun 26 2006, 11:03 PM

QU[illegible]

Vo[illegible] what is your opinion of this matter? Will this person be in the Book of Life? You have ex[illegible] to us that your word is gospel and you are much more righteous than the regular me[illegible]are. Therefore, please speak from your heart of hearts, OK.

[illegible]

QU[illegible]trei @ Jun 26 2006, 08:42 PM)

Pa[illegible]y me again in slow motion.

QU[illegible] @ Jun 26 2006, 08:53 PM) me [illegible]ause obviously there is something I missed in the first reading...

[illegible]

Po[illegible]y: Fran Jun 26 2006, 11:08 PM

QU[illegible]ineonme @ Jun 26 2006, 09:57 PM)

QU[illegible]trei @ Jun 26 2006, 08:42 PM)

Pas[illegible]y me again in slow motion.
Are yo[illegible]e you aren't getting her drift here?

WO[illegible]eone got it. I am sure Vonessa got it too.

Po[illegible]y: seraph|m Jun 26 2006, 11:49 PM

QU[illegible]an @ Jun 26 2006, 10:17 PM)

I no[illegible] have this person has been reincarnated! Right here, before our very own eyes right here at BSD[illegible]

Vo[illegible] what is your opinion of this matter? Will this person be in the Book of Life? You have exhi[illegible] to us that your word is gospel and you are much more righteous than the regular me[illegible] are. Therefore, please speak from your heart of hearts, OK.

Oh, [illegible] when you visit with the other personas, please say hello for me. Also, be very careful, the "Tip [illegible] ur iceberg is showing".

[illegible] your holiness is finished checking "our very own eyes", whi[illegible] are obviously full of splinters, please take a look at the sky out[illegible] your window and share with us, what color it is?

Dar[illegible]

Post[illegible]y: Fran Jun 27 2006, 12:30 AM

QU[illegible]raph[m @ Jun 26 2006, 11:49 PM)

[illegible] your holiness is finished checking "our very own eyes", w[illegible] are obviously full of splinters, please take a look at the sky ou[illegible] your window and share with us, what color it is?

Da[illegible]

I kno[illegible] answer! I can answer that. It is Black with different shapes of White scattered about. The larg[illegible] object with some shading on is is called the Moon.

Now [illegible]any of you know the history of Margaret Gray? He lives on all the forums. [illegible], even here. He [illegible] of whom I spoke. Margaret Gray was on the original SDA Online forum a[illegible]as I. He was a me[illegible] Voaf, as was I. He was a member of CA, as I am. Now he has appeared [illegible]e on BSDA, as I [illegible]

He a[illegible] a she and a he..... At CA, I began to recognize his style even though the name and sex c[illegible] frequently. His purposes is to be holier than thou in his/her attitude and sp[illegible]h.

So m[illegible] people complained about Margaret Gray that CA had a ceremony for her deat[illegible]. However, as the [illegible] Margaret Grey was being mourned, so many new personas popped up it w[illegible]diculous! It s[illegible] many personas still exist for this person who wishes to remain unknown becau[illegible] he is a law[illegible] holds a very high position in one of our General Conference Departments. S[illegible]e, Shame!

Hav[illegible] seen this person around here anywhere? I have.

Doe [illegible] your confusion?

Po[illegible] princessdi Jun 27 2006, 12:35 AM

Ju[illegible] us straight, Fran, we can take it.....Are you saying we have a mole?

Po[illegible] Clay Jun 27 2006, 07:52 AM

M[illegible]
Ju[illegible]ick station break in this saga.... seems that on other forums there was a pe[illegible]na (no oth[illegible] to describe it) that was (or is) a member and enjoyed posting extreme view[illegible] for a re[illegible] to yank a chain or two....

H[illegible]SDA there are guidelines, and we are also self monitoring in a sense... so if a member do[illegible]olate a guideline they are free to post whatever, and other members are [illegible] to call th[illegible]atever is posted... We rarely if ever censor posts, though we will edit if d[illegible]ed ne[illegible]...

Fo[illegible] of you who believe that this "persona" has made an appearance here, I wo[illegible] rec[illegible]nd you take issue with what they post and not attack them as a person.....

P[illegible]ntinue....

M[illegible]uff

P[illegible]: statrei Jun 27 2006, 08:02 AM

W[illegible]ty hat; all the frills and stuff.

Po[illegible] Clay Jun 27 2006, 08:09 AM

> Q[illegible]rei @ Jun 27 2006, 08:02 AM)
>
> W[illegible] hat; all the frills and stuff.

jea[illegible] get you nowhere bud..... [illegible] roll

Po[illegible] beanchild Jun 27 2006, 08:32 AM

> Q[illegible] @ Jun 26 2006, 09:17 PM)
>
> Vo[illegible]at is your opinion of this matter? Will this person be in the Book of Life? You have e[illegible] that your word is gospel and you are much more righteous than the [illegible]ular m[illegible]. Therefore, please speak from your heart of hearts, OK.

ha[illegible]!! [illegible] where's my kleenex to wipe my watering eyes?!

P[illegible] [illegible]: seeshell Jun 27 2006, 09:25 AM

QU[illegible] [illegible]i @ Jun 27 2006, 08:02 AM)

W[illegible] hat; all the frills and stuff.

[x] [illegible] rofl [x] rofl

Po[illegible]: seraph|m Jun 27 2006, 10:21 AM

QU[illegible] @ Jun 27 2006, 02:30 AM)

I [illegible] answer! I can answer that. It is Black with different shapes of White scat[illegible]red about. Th[illegible] White object with some shading on is is called the Moon.

Let [illegible] What color is the sky in your world?

Q[illegible] @ Jun 27 2006, 02:30 AM)

N[illegible] many of you know the history of Margaret Gray? He lives on all the forum[illegible] Yes, even h[illegible] he one of whom I spoke. Margaret Gray was on the original SDA Online forum as was I. [illegible] member of Voaf, as was I. He was a member of CA, as I am. Now he has appeared he[illegible] SDA, as I have.

You [illegible] lives might be all the better with this knowledge, if we knew who this p[illegible]n was to beg[illegible] But seriously though, how do we know YOU are not Mr. Gray [illegible] aka el-kah-bon[illegible]

Po[illegible] watchbird Jun 27 2006, 01:45 PM

QU[illegible] t[illegible] @ Jun 2[illegible] 2006, 03:22 AM)

Se[illegible] the "tip of the iceberg" or "a needle in a hay stack"...
[[illegible]

In[illegible] as these facts are, what relationship exists between icebergs, haystacks and 3ABN? W[illegible] the bulk of what is there is hidden below the surface and only a relatively in[illegible] portion is in plain sight, as are the workings of Danny Shelton at 3ABN. And the needle in [illegible]? So much of the "real" story of the corruption that goes on behind the scenes at 3[illegible] cleverly hidden from those on the "outside", finding the truth can becom[illegible] like s[illegible] that not[illegible] a seemingly impossible task. But what if someone approa[illegible] s your ha, [illegible] a extremely sensitive metal detector and says, "Here take this, now yo[illegible] can find that nee[illegible] [illegible] take time and effort, but it is possible." This is the intent of "The Una[illegible]orized His[illegible]BN": Woven throughout the narratives are golden strands of truth entwi[illegible] within the fra[illegible] each story. This information becomes like the metal detector. But instead of se[illegible] a needle from a haystack, it is providing the reader with facts needed to [illegible] separate the [illegible] the programming from the error going on in the administration of 3ABN.

Than[illegible]er for this clue as to how to benefit from your historical vignettes. I feel [illegible] times as hou[illegible]us of those who responded has been on the "frame work" rather than o[illegible]e "golden stra[illegible]th". I wonder if maybe we need to review the episodes you have already written, this ime[illegible] accumulated knowledge of them all, to see just what the fabric looks like if all those 'gol[illegible]s" are woven together. Perhaps you could help us with that. I don't kno[illegible] that method vou[illegible]t, but it seems to me that if you were to take one or several of your vi[illegible]es and prin[illegible] "meat" of the post or series of posts, that perhaps we could compreh[illegible] better the hin[illegible] you speak.

Qu[illegible]

[illegible] TVsnack.

Sta[illegible]

P[illegible]atchbird Jun 27 2006, 02:00 PM

QU[illegible] Jun 27 2006, 07:52 AM)

MO[illegible]:
Just [illegible]stration break in this sagn.... seems that on other forums there was a persona (no other w[illegible]e it) that was (or is) a member and enjoyed posting extreme views fo[illegible]action or to [illegible] or two....

He[illegible] there are guidelines, and we are also self monitoring in a sense... so i[illegible]mber d[illegible]e a guideline they are free to post whatever, and other members are [illegible] them or[illegible] posted... We rarely if ever censor posts, though we will edit if deme[illegible]y...

Fo[illegible] who believe that this "persona" has made an appearance here, I wo[illegible]ecommend y[illegible] with what they post and not attack them as a person.....

Pl[illegible]

MO[illegible]

Bef[illegible] your MOD hat OFF....

Sin[illegible] of Margaret Gray is rather [illegible] off [illegible] for this thread, maybe it would [illegible] to mov[illegible] eral posts that deal with that subject to another thread?

Po[illegible] Clay Jun 27 2006, 02:05 PM

Qu[illegible] hbird @ Jun 27 2006, 02:00 PM)

B[illegible] ake your MOD hat OFF....

Si[illegible] ory of Margaret Gray is rather [illegible] off for this thread, maybe it would [illegible] possible to mo[illegible] eral posts that deal with that subject to another thread?

too [illegible] hat is off at the moment, and at this juncture there is no reason to give [illegible] ctional pers[illegible] wn thread... mentioning of her was a bump in the road (for now), if how[illegible] er people are ins[illegible] osting Margaret Gray sightings, then I'll move it....

Po[illegible] sonshineonme Jun 27 2006, 02:16 PM

QU[illegible] atchbird @ Jun 27 2006, 12:45 PM)

Th[illegible] Sister for this clue as to how to benefit from your historical vignettes. I [illegible] t times as th[illegible] focus of those who responded has been on the "frame work" rather than [illegible] the "golden st[illegible] uth". I wander if maybe we need to review the episodes you have alre[illegible] ritten, this ti[illegible] e accumulated knowledge of them all, to see just what the fabric looks [illegible] all those "[illegible] ads" are woven together. Perhaps you could help us with that. I don't k[illegible] what m[illegible] d work best, but it seems to me that if you were to take one or several [illegible] your v[illegible] d bring us just the "meat" of the post or series of posts, that perhaps w[illegible] uld co[illegible] d better the things of which you speak.

I ag[illegible] atchbird. There really is so much to all this to digest. Putting all the pic[illegible] together. Whil[illegible] is still more to be written, a recap or sorts would be a great thing. The m[illegible] you know, the [illegible] has been helpful to go back and see the "ahh haaa" in some things you a[illegible] hers have writ[illegible] t. You, along with so many these others that have been brave enough a[illegible] time to pos[illegible] have first hand witness accounts, experiences and knowledge of bein[illegible], have the sin[illegible] help others walk with you through these times in order to show what [illegible] is about or ha[illegible] o. It has helped many of us put so many suspicions, based on Dannys b[illegible] and of tho[illegible] w that have been through the fire at 3abn, together with more facts an[illegible] eriences. Ma[illegible] ome Q & A on some things? The walls are crumbling around 3abn, not [illegible] because so ma[illegible] en able to share, but really mainly because of Danny's actions and life's[illegible]. He will and is t[illegible] nself down, and I believe he knows it too. It is just a matter of time. IM[illegible] lieve God exp[illegible] be wise and not turn a deaf ear, but to also learn from others. He does [illegible] people, and He [illegible] orified even in these situations. Many would want to keep this hidden st[illegible] some kind of s[illegible] misguided gain, but God has a way and time of exposing everything, for [illegible] good and his Glo[illegible] ways within His incredible love and mercy, does it ever so gently as wit[illegible] continued hop ... still many will come to repentance. God is still in control, we are just ves... ling to be use... ne way to help those who have been stomped, and also to alert those who ... being dece... Of course, they can continue to choose to be deceived. For that we can do ... ing more abo...

Po... y: summertime Jun 27 2006, 02:29 PM

Qu... ...rei @ Jun 26 2006, 08:42 PM)

Pa... ...y me again in slow motion.

Re... ...otion---I am having trouble understanding.

Ah, ...y many Michael 'Somebody's' can there be?

Po... y: calvin Jun 27 2006, 10:13 PM

Qu... ...an @ Jun 26 2006, 09:17 PM)

Ve...

I ... the Bible does not teach reincarnation and I do not believe in it either. Ho... , at times th... "Appears" that there is such a thing as reincarnation of evil spirits. I kno... the evil o... ple.

I h... have had some degree of experience in split personalities over at CA. T... was one pe... at appeared to be many people.

W... ...ss to say this person was revealed for what he was; a con man; liar; ... female; ... ; a veteran; false; pretender; one that liked to stir the waters to ca... ...ater to ... outrageously muddy with unrealistic theories. These personas are still ... and well on C... ...st. This unscrupulous fake persona was the main reason I do not read ... over there an... The other reason is that they edit everything.

W... ...was in its heyday, I went there a lot. This persona was there also. Ca... ...lieve it? V... ...very sad death. Yet this split personality still lives on in many differe... personas. E... ...this person and its diverse array of personas go, the health of the for... ...rick.

I ... ...eve this person has been reincarnated! Right here, before our very own ... ...ght here at B...

V... ...hat is your opinion of this matter? Will this person be in the Book of Li... have ex... ...us that your word is gospel and you are much more righteous than U... e ...ar ... ...s. Therefore, please speak from your heart of hearts, OK.

C... ...n you visit with the other personas, please say hello for me. Also, be ... careful, the "... ...iceberg is showing".

Fr... ...n topic. BTW we do have rules against trolling. From the guidelines "No ... trolling is who [illegible] ro[illegible]ke large volumes of responses by posting absurdities, deliberately [illegible] ve insults, etc. [illegible] get you banned so please don't do it."

I ha[illegible] been following this thread very closely lately, have not seen any trolling. [illegible] do not call any [illegible] publicly but take it up with the person or me, Clay or PrincessDi. Consid[illegible] a warning. This [illegible] flame wars get started.

For a[illegible] ou who are so passionately against Danny Shelton, please remember that this is a dis[illegible] board. Don't lash out at others that don't share in your passion or your ve[illegible]ion of the tru[illegible] pics are open for debate.

P[illegible] [illegible] Danny Jun 28 2006, 04:27 AM

"[illegible] what is your opinion of this matter? Will this person be in the Book of L[illegible]? You have e[illegible] to us that your word is gospel and you are much more righteous than th[illegible]ar m[illegible]e."

> Q[illegible] [illegible]trei @ Jun 27 2006, 02:42 AM)
>
> [illegible] me again in slow motion.

Its [illegible] script for a comedy.....

P[illegible] [illegible]tatrei Jun 28 2006, 05:51 AM

> Q[illegible] [illegible]y @ Jun 28 2006, 05:27 AM)
>
> "[illegible] what is your opinion of this matter? Will this person be in the Book of L[illegible] You have e[illegible] to us that your word is gospel and you are much more righteous than th[illegible]ar m[illegible]e."
> It[illegible] a script for a comedy.....

Wo[illegible] be a Divine Comedy?

P[illegible] [illegible] Clay Jun 28 2006, 07:26 AM

> Q[illegible] [illegible]trei @ Jun 28 2006, 05:51 AM)
>
> W[illegible] be a Divine Comedy?

A c[illegible] f e[illegible]ors? or would that be a comedy of eros?

Po y: Dohann Jun 28 2006, 03:30 PM

Qu ny @ Jun 28 2006, 03:26 PM)

A of errors? or would that be a comedy of eros?

I lik new picture

Po y: Panama_Pete Jun 28 2006, 11:21 PM

Q hann @ Jun 28 2006, 03:30 PM)

I l new picture

Yes. it was after I airbrushed and cropped the photo for Clay.

Here' ame from the 10 AM photo session. It shows what I had to work with.

Pec, wondered if Clay was sitting on that bench alone. Now you know.

Posted [illegible] y J [illegible]

QUOTE [illegible]

Yes, bu[illegible] the [illegible]ete for Clay.

Here's a [illegible] from [illegible] showed what I had to [illegible]

People h[illegible] dere [illegible] bench alone. Now you [illegible]

he's got jo[illegible]

Post[illegible]

QU[illegible](Cl[illegible]

he's [illegible]

[x] ofl

Poste[illegible]

Q[illegible] [illegible] Jun 29 2006, 03:43 PM)

Ac[illegible] How [illegible] more of these off topic posts have to acrue ! [illegible] own p[illegible] and [illegible] cleaned out to match its subject title?

P[illegible] Sun Jun 29 2006, 06:54 PM

[illegible] Homer and the cop so much I printed it out. [illegible]

[illegible] by: [illegible]_Pete Jun 29 2006, 07:40 PM

Q[illegible] (vonesk[illegible] 29 2006, 07:54 PM)

that [illegible] Homer and the cop so much I printed it out. [illegible] is [illegible] a [illegible] should [illegible]?

Yo[illegible] [illegible]st Gump character -- in Homer's parody of [illegible]

L[illegible] equire[illegible] [illegible]il for this thread concerning 3ABN "Unauthe[illegible] [illegible] y [illegible] :

T[illegible] psor [illegible] not currently appear on 3ABN. However, Lis[illegible], is a [illegible] now[illegible] [illegible]arian, and is known to subscribe to the d[illegible] [illegible] 3ABN.

[illegible] Sun Jun [illegible] 2006, 11:07 PM

[illegible] [illegible] for this thread concerning 3ABN "Unauth[illegible] [illegible]:

[illegible] [illegible] not currently appear on 3ABN. However, Lisa [illegible] a [illegible] [illegible]arian, and is known to subscribe to the d[illegible] y [illegible]

[illegible] e]

[illegible] [illegible] maybe it should be life is like [illegible]

[illegible] by: [illegible] 30 2006, 01:37 AM

Q[illegible] Jun 2[illegible], 01:48 PM)

[illegible] [illegible] of these off topic posts have to acrue [illegible]

[illegible] thread cleaned out to match its subject title!

[illegible]nder [illegible] they wander.... when someone posts a comm[illegible] back "on [illegible] in the t[illegible]d will head back in that direction..... we don't [illegible] ngent its own t[illegible]d....

[illegible] said a[illegible] that to say, if someone has something to add [illegible] with Dabn, then [illegible] need to post it.... otherwise the topic will wander....

[illegible] by: s[illegible]time Jun 30 2006, 09:23 AM

([illegible] n 7 2006, 12:30 AM)

[illegible] that an[illegible] I can answer that. It is Black with different [illegible] about. Th[illegible] Whi[illegible]ject with some shading on is is called the Mo[illegible]

[illegible] know the history of Margaret Gray? He li[illegible] Yes, even [illegible] th[illegible] whom I spoke. Margaret Gray was on the [illegible] as was I. [illegible] Voaf, as was I. He was a member of CA, a[illegible] here [illegible]

[illegible] as man and a ho..... At CA, I began to recognize [illegible] and [illegible] purposes is to be holier than thou [illegible]

[illegible] peop[illegible] gained about Margaret Gray that CA had a [illegible] However, [illegible] Gray was being mourned, so many [illegible] was [illegible] It [illegible] many personas still exist for this person wh[illegible] own [illegible] he is a lawyer and holds a very high position in one of our [illegible] Safe [illegible] rents. Shame! Shame!

[illegible] person around here anywhere? I have.

[illegible] confusion?

[illegible] number of those holding positions in our North [illegible] arguments a [illegible] and revived Margaret Grey? Some of th[illegible] [illegible] with the breeze and lodge wherever th[illegible] my [illegible] ent posting, I do believe that there are [illegible] not be bought [illegible]

[illegible] Jun 30 2006, 09:45 AM

[illegible] 2006, 03:37 AM)

> [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] to say, if someone has something to add [illegible] with [illegible] to post it.... otherwise the topic will wand[illegible]....

[illegible] [illegible] we're [illegible]ally lucky, the topic will flat out die.

Post[illegible] by: C[illegible] Jun 30 2006, 01:45 PM

> QUO[illegible] [illegible]nchi[illegible] Jun 30 2006, 09:45 AM)
>
> [illegible] [illegible] lucky, the topic will flat out die.

[illegible]uch... [illegible]u wer[illegible]...

P[illegible] by: [illegible] Jun 30 2006, 04:17 PM

a[illegible] [illegible]gotta [illegible] a bean's gotta do...

P[illegible] by: [illegible] Jun 30 2006, 06:24 PM

> [illegible] [illegible]nc[illegible] Jun 30 2006, 08:17 PM)
>
> [illegible] gotta [illegible] a bean's gotta do...

[illegible] 00:40 PM

[illegible] SDA [illegible] this topic, however, I would like to know [illegible] this person [illegible] stuff regarding Danny and BABN.

[illegible] 06:[illegible]

[illegible] 6:20 PM)

[illegible] SDA and this topic, however, I would like to know [illegible] this person [illegible] stuff regarding Danny and BABN.

[illegible] posted regarding Danny and BABN. It is [illegible] understand [illegible] who posted have lived [illegible] how they [illegible] have to conclude that you have [illegible] time to [illegible] it would be a good idea to do so.

[illegible] Jun 30 2006, 05:53 PM

Q[illegible] Jun 30 2006, 05:38 PM)

[illegible] have posted regarding Danny and BASDA, it is a little hard to [illegible] by "this person". OTOH, since [illegible] post [illegible] on the [illegible] they know as they went along. [illegible] have not [illegible] this thread from the beginning. Maybe [illegible] be [illegible] to do so.

As [illegible] SEVERAL people who have posted the own experiences and have given w[illegible] regarding this topic. Take the time to read it all. It[illegible] and it slowly a[illegible] much information to put together if you [illegible] the time [illegible] to do so. Note al[illegible] BSDA, all worth the reading. Several [illegible] BSDA and p[illegible] know they can post their experiences [illegible] fear [illegible] censored, h[illegible] to do so, etc. This is a great place!

[illegible] 06, 07:44 PM

[illegible] 30 2006, 07:53 PM)

[illegible] people who have posted their own experiences and [illegible] ness to [illegible] this topic. Take the time to read it all. [illegible] and [illegible] information to put together if you [illegible] time [illegible] so. Note [illegible] BSDA, all worth the reading. [illegible] BSDA and [illegible] know they can post their experiences [illegible] fear [illegible] censored, [illegible] to do so, etc. This is a great place!

I'll [illegible] BSDA is a great place to be.

[illegible] 2006, 08:00 PM

[illegible] Black SDA and this topic, how [illegible] this [illegible] all this nitty gritty stuff regard[illegible] and BASDA [illegible] Nancy [illegible] Sister!

[illegible]

[illegible] talk on the maritime sda fellowship [illegible] thought [illegible] been [illegible] thread there. Guess I haven't missed [illegible] the [illegible] my [illegible] to see you here. Is this particular to [illegible] that [illegible] are we get [illegible] be [illegible] for having members with inside information?

P[illegible] Pete Jun 30 2006, 08:19 PM

Q[illegible] @ Jun 30 2006, 07:29 PM)

I [illegible] BlackSDA and this topic, however, I [illegible] to [illegible] person k[illegible] all the nitty gritty stuff regarding Dan[illegible] BN?

Da[illegible] the "I am new to this topic" comment.

I re[illegible] that you said the Maritime SDA Forum, who[illegible] you a[illegible] rator, was su[illegible] ck to just the facts regarding Linda and [illegible] Shel[illegible] mber inc[illegible]

Do[illegible] n, "How does this person know....?" speak t[illegible] facts?

Ev[illegible] don't produce film at 11, I ho[illegible] around to te[illegible] e SDA Forum has high standard[illegible] said so[illegible] past.

I'm j[illegible] ing, [illegible] m puzzled by the "new to this topic" co[illegible] ent. You h[illegible] formed opi[illegible] matter, haven't you? I seem to recall [illegible] you had.

Ha[illegible] r you since then? Did you see a strea[illegible] haps, the co[illegible] e's jet?

In [illegible] e "how do they know" questions have [illegible] y the pos[illegible] n, under the circumstances.

BS[illegible] I hope you enjoy your visit.

P[illegible] 30 2006, 09:27 PM

I a[illegible] was "new to this topic" on BlackS[illegible] have kno[illegible] years. He [illegible] n. I know that from personal exp[illegible] Welco[illegible] m sure you welcome.gif

[illegible] rum.

[illegible] plea[illegible]

[illegible] /magazine/96/open_b[illegible]s-qui[illegible].html

I [illegible] s o[illegible] t have had it for quite a whi[illegible] CA, but [illegible] that time. However, after [illegible] rso[illegible] past [illegible] perience, I think this could be [illegible] ea[illegible] heir past [illegible] urement. What is the sco[illegible] ur true [illegible]

F ave not worked for 3ABN could use it t current boss.
T ny last boss and he scored very, very l ea s.

I opath ? Take the test.

For q score

Tw poi "yes,"

on "somewhat" or "maybe,"

an for "no."

[:]

superficially charming?

e a ersonality and a terrific talker -- enter ybe a bit too

he off as a supposed expert in a bus ss meeting e he really do ow bout the topic?

e a Seductive, but insincere?

using but unlikely anecdotes celebrati suade his colle to t a certain position this week -- and then e opposite position next week?

on to appear on TV and somehow get ans e lite estions or saying anything truly subst

SC

[:]

grandiose sense of self-worth?

s above the rules that apply to "little s h everything revolves around hi al, financial, or personal problems, say they'r orary, or bl

SC

[:]

____ [illegible]gical liar?

____ [illegible]he [illegible]ted his own past in a more positive lig[illegible] [illegible]g that he rose [illegible] to [illegible] or background even though he really [illegible]

____ [illegible]s he [illegible]ritually even though he can easily be found out?

____ [illegible]hen he [illegible]sed, does he still act unconcerned because he thinks he can [illegible]ssl out of it?
Do[illegible] enjoy [illegible]

____ [illegible]e p[illegible] his knack for deceit?

____ [illegible] whether he knows he's a liar or whether he [illegible]ves himse[illegible] believes his [illegible]

SC[illegible] ____

[4]

____ [illegible] or master manipulator?

____ [illegible]s skill at lying to cheat or manipulate other [illegible] in his [illegible] money, po[illegible] status, or [illegible]x?

____ [illegible]s he [illegible] people brilliantly?

____ [illegible] in dishonest schemes such as cooking the [illegible]

SC[illegible] ____

[5]

____ [illegible] other people, does he feel a lack of remorse or guilt?

____ [illegible] about himself rather than the wreck[illegible] society at large?

____ [illegible] feel[illegible] but act as though he really [illegible]

____ [illegible] been convicted of a white-collar crime, [illegible] does he not acc[illegible] he did, even after getting out of pris[illegible]?

____ [illegible]s he [illegible] others for the trouble he causes?

SCC[illegible] ____

[6]

____ [illegible] shallow affect?

____ [illegible], even when someone near him [illegible], or fa[illegible] [illegible]ously ill -- for [illegible] hospital or attend the funeral?

____ [illegible]f, dramatic displays of emotion th[illegible] putting on a the[illegible] ma[illegible] playacting for effect?

___ [illegible] to be your friend but rarely or never a[illegible] life or your emo[illegible]

___ [illegible] e c[illegible] ese tough-guy executives who brag abo[illegible] hiners and lo[illegible]

SC[illegible]

[7]

___ [illegible] lacking in empathy?

___ [illegible] xxx [care] about the feelings or [illegible]

___ [illegible] selfish?

___ [illegible] others?

___ [illegible] ally or verbally abusive toward employee[illegible] [illegible]," and family members?

___ [illegible] ployees without concern for how they'll [illegible]

___ [illegible] from embezzlement or stock fraud with[illegible] for the [illegible] he's doing to sh[illegible] who need their savings to pay for [illegible]

SC[illegible]

[8]

___ [illegible] responsibility for his own actions?

___ [illegible] cock up some excuse?

___ [illegible] for what he's done?

___ [illegible] s[illegible] ion or on trial for a corporate [illegible] ng or s[illegible], [illegible] to acknowledge wrongdoing ev[illegible] is stacked ag[illegible]?

SC[illegible]

Te[illegible]

If y[illegible] ss [illegible]

1-[illegible]

5-[illegible]

8-[illegible] af[illegible]

1[illegible]

Posted by: C[illegible] 2006, 01:31 AM

QUOTE (Daryl F[illegible] Jun 30 2006, 06:29 PM)

I am [illegible] here [illegible] Black SDA and this topic, however, I would [illegible] to kn[illegible] this person know[illegible] all this nasty gritty stuff regarding Danny a[illegible]?

Daryl [illegible] come t[illegible]..... This is a discussion board and as such th[illegible] like [illegible] conversations at a potluck dinner o[illegible]th..... lots of topics, some people may have [illegible] info a[illegible] may be specu[illegible], eit[illegible] [illegible] still discussed...

You m[illegible] the [illegible] we discuss here may not be the kind [illegible] you [illegible] on your foru[illegible] for a[illegible] may be disconcerting because nothing is off [illegible] .... he[illegible] fellowship is good and [illegible] dis[illegible] are thought provoking....

Posted by: si[illegible] 1 2006, 06:58 AM

Fran[illegible]
If you [illegible] back [illegible] to page 24 and check post #3[illegible] [illegible] posted [illegible] edited version of [illegible] or[illegible] edited the same source. I am s[illegible] [illegible] over[illegible] on your part a[illegible] [illegible] post. With the current length [illegible] it i[illegible] re[illegible] all [illegible] information that has already been posted.

Q[illegible] 2[illegible], 02:19 PM)

"Is [illegible] psychopath?"...

The [illegible] length and application, appear[illegible] Dynasty, a b[illegible] Jeriann, Beartrap, Brother Sam, [illegible] would like to ta[illegible] applicability to the histor[illegible]

Q[illegible] psychopath? (the standard clinical [illegible] psy[illegible] Hare's PCL-R, [illegible] overall, but a subset of e[illegible] lines [illegible] this the "[illegible] the nonviolent person prone [illegible], callo[illegible] remorseless u[illegible] the profile? Here's our do-[illegible] the test m[illegible] Conscience. (Disclaimer: [illegible] amateur exercise.)

F[illegible] score two points for "yes," one point for "[illegible] bad" or "maybe," and z[illegible]

[1] [illegible] charming?
Is [illegible] terrific talker — entertaining [illegible] s[illegible] himself off as a supposed ex[illegible] doesn't k[illegible] he a flatterer? Seductive, b[illegible] but [illegible] own past? Can he persuade hi[illegible] certain p[illegible] argue with equal conviction [illegible] polite p[illegible] appear on TV and somehow get [illegible] truly s[illegible]
[illegible]

[2] h sanclose sense of self-worth?
Do g? I egant? Superior? Domineering? Does he fe that apply to "" people" he act as though everything revolves arou D play his legal, al, nal problems, say they're just temporary, me t ors?
SC

[3] pa
Has ven own in a more positive light? Does he h he can easily exposed, does he still act unconc he can wer ing? Is he proud of his knac for whether he knac or he deceives himself and believes
SC

[4] or master manipulator?
Do his ying to cheat or manipulate other people in is quest power, st ex people brilliantly? Does he enge such as co
SC

[5] he people, does he feel a lack of is ather than the wreckage he harge?
Do as though he really doesn't trouble he
SC

[6] fect?
Do plays of emotion that are noning a theatrical
SC

[7] empathy?
D giv feelings or well-being of other selfish?
Do ily emotionally or verbally iends," employees without concern the job?
Co without concern for the ha
SC

[8] ponsibility for his own ac
Do cuse? Does he blame other under ne, like deceitful accounting, oes ve evidence is stacked against him?
SC

To

SC

st", Part 3...

Posted by: ve... Jul 1 2006, 07:23 AM

QUOTE(sister... 1 2006, 07:58 AM)

Fran,
If you go back ... read to page 24 and check post #3... ...d version of ... d credited the same source. I am s... our part and ... ublic post. With the current length of this ... remember all the ... mat... has already been posted. sig

I used it in my b... and she turned out only to be frustrating because ... scored a 1. So it bugs me but I ... fear ...

Posted by: ve... Jul 1 2006, 08:08 AM

QUOTE ... @ ... 06, ... 9:27 PM)

Back ... top... plea

htt... ...m/magazine/96/open_...

I found this ... have had it for quite a while. I ... on ... CA, but did not ... at this time. However, after hearing ... SABN experience, I think this could be used t... Loss usi... measurement. What is the score you ... past exp...

Than... Fran, ... us back on topic, and especially for givi... t. I must admi... ver, ... ry confused when seeing 45 questions that ... only yield a maxi... score ...

But ... ister's formatting of that test ... ve ... now.

And ... t with the personal testimo... at 3A... eres ... numbe...

Q... 06, ... AM)

Fran,
If ... back ... read to page 24 and check post #... ...d version of ... d credited the same source. I am sure it ... your part and ... ble post. With the current length of this ... to remember all ... format ... has already been posted. sig

And thank you S[illegible], for calling attention to your "edited version" [illegible] approximated the format of the [illegible] text) and which therefore cleared my [illegible] checking the url that From [illegible]

And I [illegible] answer the questions that many have [illegible] former or current [illegible] not spoken out in the past. But that [illegible] more employ[illegible] and their courage and strength grow i[illegible] numbers.

Po[illegible] by: st[illegible] 1 200[illegible], 08:45 AM

I think David w[illegible] to say that it was his first time posti[illegible] he had ne[illegible] discussed in the thread.

Po[illegible] 06, [illegible]1:03 AM

Q[illegible] 6, [illegible] AM)

Fran[illegible]

If [illegible] page 24 and check post #3[illegible] ted version of th[illegible] d cre ted the same source. I am [illegible] your part an[illegible] With the current length [illegible] member all [illegible] may been [illegible] sig

Than[illegible] ng this to my attention. Yes, it was [illegible] t. I wou[illegible] ar [illegible] der. I see you did edit the [illegible] t a[illegible] k. I am so s[illegible]

Plea[illegible] sorry.

Po[illegible] 1 2006, [illegible]:41 PM

Yes, [illegible] rring to this thread. I am aware of [illegible]

I [illegible] is thread, 7 pages worth, to have [illegible]

M[illegible] es s[illegible]er know about all of these s[illegible] call[illegible] d as these se[illegible] 3rd, or 4th, 5th, or etc. party so[illegible]ce.

If [illegible] this concerns me greatly. I str[illegible] gh.

I wo[illegible] sister is only passing on what [illegible], 5th, or et[illegible] concerned about it com[illegible] r[illegible] for to h[illegible]

No[illegible] I managed to find the time to read [illegible] and [illegible] looking the [illegible] wondering while reading.

As [illegible] and reading.

As [illegible] come a member here. I had thought [illegible] now. And [illegible] about this topic that finally prompted me [illegible]

As far as the [illegible] on Maritime SDA OnLine goes, it is [illegible], which only [illegible] given access can see. It isn't a type [illegible] wish to display to the [illegible] Christian and Christian world. The topic [illegible] the intent of determining [illegible] actual before posting it there. BSD [illegible] however, when [illegible] allows this type of thing to be posted, [illegible] open the [illegible] legal action against them. I hope [illegible]

Po[illegible] 06, 03:56 PM

QU[illegible]

It i[illegible] BSDAOL wish to display to the [illegible] Christian world. Th[illegible] the intent of determining [illegible] there. BS[illegible] however, when a [illegible] open themselves up to poss[illegible] I hope this [illegible]

That [illegible] we discuss things.... we d[illegible] control it, we d[illegible] I am a member of your for[illegible] you all lock alot [illegible] to ban members, but [illegible] and the discu[illegible] factual info... If it doesn't [illegible] rebuttal whic[illegible] threads on this topic....

As f[illegible] has been threatened thus far, becaus[illegible] in this coun[illegible] anything they wish to discu[illegible]

Diff[illegible] purposes... hope you enjoy [illegible].... bsd[illegible] have your board....

Po[illegible] 1 2006, 04:09 PM

Th[illegible] spoken versus what is [illegible]

W[illegible] thing, as only that other pe[illegible] to sp[illegible], however, what is written, [illegible] an[illegible] Shelton himself, if he sa[illegible]

Po[illegible] 06:33 PM

QU[illegible] 2006, 04:09 PM

Th[illegible] spoken versus what is w[illegible]

> Wha[illegible]ing, as only that other per[illegible] who > spok[illegible] however, what is written, [illegible] > anyb[illegible] Shelton himself, if he so c[illegible] and in [illegible] bser[illegible]ing evidence it is someones [illegible] some stories hat h[illegible] other witnesses have agreed ha[illegible]ed ... h[illegible] ... perhaps is you[illegible] that there are former 3abn emp[illegible] and other people [illegible] associated with 3abn so they can [illegible]....

The is[illegible] afraid to allow them to share the [illegible] other forums or wi[illegible] thats neither good or bad, it [illegible] violate our g[illegible] their hearts content....

> QUO[illegible]
>
> how[illegible] this topic, remains for a[illegible]
> She[illegible]

Mr. S[illegible] of the board... called us a ta[illegible] hing, [illegible] http://www.bla[illegible] show[illegible]
nter[illegible] what was posted, just alt[illegible] ti[illegible]ing.... and t[illegible]ed him sh[illegible]y....so I susp[illegible] to see what[illegible]....

Po[illegible] 06:56 PM

> QUO[illegible] y[illegible] 06, 04:11 PM)
>
> Yes, [illegible] this thread, I am aware o[illegible]
>
> I ha[illegible] 2 pages worth, to have [illegible]
>
> Mo[illegible] know a[illegible] all of these [illegible] ese > see[illegible] 4th, 5th, etc. party sou[illegible]
>
> If th[illegible] as concerns me greatly. I [illegible]
>
> I wo[illegible] or is only passing on [illegible], or > etc[illegible] second hand about it co[illegible] or to > her[illegible]
>
> Now, [illegible] to find the time to rep[illegible] these > qu[illegible] with [illegible]ing.
>
> As [illegible]
>
> As [illegible] Jane. I had the[illegible] now.
> An[illegible] topic that finally prompt[illegible]
>
> As [illegible] 3ABN OnLine goes, it [illegible] only > tho[illegible] can [illegible]. It isn't a type [illegible] play to > the [illegible] The topic is a [illegible] > de[illegible] post [illegible] t there. SDA[illegible] > how [illegible] thing to be pos[illegible]

> the [illegible] ation against them. I hope [illegible]

Daryl, [illegible] t BSDA is more liberty in what we a[illegible] o[illegible] cu[illegible] MSAOL or
CA. Ver[illegible] ts for discussion as it relates to A[illegible] ch[illegible] you know a[illegible] there own fa[illegible]or, maybe this i[illegible] s th[illegible] apart.

As fo[illegible] ion take[illegible]ganist BSDA th[illegible] corre[illegible] Matthews the moderator of the [illegible] of here [illegible] discussions private. Don't [illegible] s affords you, [illegible] is w[illegible] e copied other places on the [illegible] be[illegible] the [illegible] we have by th[illegible] nar[illegible] ponsible for t[illegible] http:[illegible] e...QuestionID=314 . But, [illegible] s work by th[illegible]

Take [illegible]
http:[illegible] gal/
That w[illegible] ns all kinds of [illegible] al
threa[illegible]

Also [illegible] ents wo[illegible] s successful... [illegible]
nte[illegible] endment

http:[illegible] 1/205/ART/ [illegible] a [illegible] it was use[illegible] was filed aft[illegible] vided con[illegible] been conside[illegible] and the enti[illegible] s the [illegible] point:

> QUO[illegible]
>
> a c[illegible] the benefit under the provisions of [illegible] ications > De[illegible] ISP "shall be treat[illegible] any > info[illegible] n content provid[illegible] ds ISPs > fre[illegible] ut from its users. This [illegible] dge > cas[illegible] statements.

P[illegible] P31

> QU[illegible] 06, 04:09 PM)
>
> The[illegible] versus what is [illegible]
>
> Wr[illegible] ng, is only that other pa[illegible] > sp[illegible]

---

[x] [illegible] difference in [illegible]

[x] [illegible] in the ear, [illegible] mixer nas[illegible] t off [illegible], and like dry [illegible] changing sha ... it goes. And when if finall ... gnizable eve ...

QU ... how ... this topic, remains for ... di ... nny
She ...

... ion is written, and what is ... ill may come ... is true and accurate t ...

As fo ... roll

Isn't ... So no one can accuse us of talking ... k.

Po ... 07:52 PM

Q ... 6, 0 ... PM)

Ye ... this thread. I am aware o ... ard

I ... 7 pages worth, to have ...

N ... know about all of these s ... o-c ... as these so ... th, 5th, or etc. party so ...

If ... this concerns me greatly. I ...

I ... only passing on ... th, or et ... about it c ... for to he ...

N ... the time to rea ... for ... these q ... ing while reading.

A ... ding.

As ... member here. I had the ... any ... ons now.
A ... topic that finally prompt ... e.

As ... OnLine goes, it ... for ... which only the ... isn't a type ... display to ... The topic ...
d ... Share. ...
h ... ing to be poste ...
th ... them. I hope ...

We ... ur post refers directly to m ... ond p ... sonally. I writ[illegible] fen[illegible]ed it at 3ABN. Many of the [illegible]t pers[illegible] and have also [illegible] d from others who have b[illegible] mplo[illegible] at 3ABN, inclu[illegible] m [illegible] Shelton family, who have [illegible] es. Yo[illegible] assumption that [illegible] or further removed party [illegible]

Your [illegible] fo[illegible]ation is true and you stre[illegible] it con[illegible]rns you grea[illegible] y posts, being concerned [illegible] th [illegible]y Shelton, the a[illegible]istr[illegible] [illegible]mbers of the 3ABN Board is [illegible] ave [illegible]en to write until [illegible]

My u[illegible]rst[illegible] [illegible] Adv[illegible] and your forum [illegible] [illegible]n infor[illegible]ion concer[illegible] [illegible] the "[illegible]" are ascertained [illegible] of [illegible] adm[illegible] [illegible] what are the "facts"? Is it on[illegible] [illegible]cial s[illegible] from Walt Tho[illegible] is definitely biased, since Linda [illegible]ag or [illegible] until the en[illegible] [illegible]ie the truth? That is how [illegible] [illegible]hin t[illegible] church. Wh[illegible] [illegible] allowed to see the inform[illegible] [illegible]ivate[illegible]n"? This att[illegible] [illegible] his cohorts [illegible] f the [illegible]ru[illegible]ion that [illegible] o[illegible] [illegible]y for so many years.

As a [illegible] issue equ[illegible] [illegible]. Sin[illegible] this thread has [illegible] [illegible] from [illegible]cial 3A[illegible] [illegible] any[illegible] [illegible] it is tr[illegible] [illegible] verify it.

Co[illegible] [illegible] I will do my [illegible] [illegible]ected tow[illegible] [illegible].

Sis[illegible]

Po[illegible] [illegible] PM

Q[illegible]

Y[illegible] am [illegible]

I [illegible] pages worth, to have [illegible]

Co[illegible] [illegible]. Only [illegible] pages to g[illegible] in [illegible] [illegible]ns[illegible] to your qu[illegible] co[illegible] or eight [illegible] threads to [illegible]d. T[illegible] ma[illegible]er of her [illegible] [illegible]nt such kin[illegible]s has con[illegible] [illegible] so.) [illegible]opy hunting.

Q[illegible]

[illegible] all of these [illegible] these s[illegible] [illegible] etc. party [illegible]

Kee[illegible] [illegible] is [illegible]. In her [illegible] [illegible]es in[illegible]ense to qu[illegible] [illegible]ation. Ta[illegible] [illegible]ge. [illegible] the[illegible]

Q[illegible]

> If [illegible] greatly [illegible]

Good [illegible] will want to [illegible] how [illegible] o [illegible] "[illegible]ue" at the beg[illegible], [illegible] "in the mouth of two or [illegible] se[illegible] [illegible]tablished" rule, came to [illegible] [illegible]ced true, [illegible] also that it wa[illegible] [illegible]ve should be great[illegible]

> Q[illegible]
>
> I [illegible] [illegible]ter is o[illegible] missing [illegible] [illegible]d, [illegible]5th, or el[illegible] [illegible] concerned about [illegible] [illegible] prefer to h[illegible]

The [illegible] s fro[illegible] the [illegible]monies themse[illegible] [illegible] to be writt[illegible] / s[illegible] o w[illegible] first h[illegible] what she writ[illegible]

> Q[illegible]
>
> N[illegible] [illegible]ntil [illegible]aged t[illegible] [illegible] tim[illegible] [illegible] these q[illegible] [illegible] b[illegible] [illegible]ering w[illegible]ding.

Act[illegible] [illegible] [illegible]le w[illegible] [illegible] you w[illegible] [illegible].

> Q[illegible]
>
> A[illegible]ding.

Ver[illegible] [illegible] goo[illegible]k. You[illegible] ways [illegible]

F[illegible] Jul[illegible]6, 0[illegible]

> Q[illegible] [illegible]06, [illegible]
>
> M[illegible] [illegible] or know [illegible] all o[illegible] [illegible] these s[illegible] [illegible] 4th, [illegible] etc. pa[illegible]
>
> If [illegible] ue, [illegible] gre[illegible] I [illegible]

I b[illegible] [illegible] I rev[illegible] full [illegible]ratio[illegible] [illegible] w[illegible] [illegible] whereby we [illegible]

P[illegible] [illegible] 2 2006, [illegible] AM

S[illegible]

B[illegible] [illegible]e yo[illegible] [illegible] first hand[illegible]

Al[illegible] elton [illegible] who you [illegible] here at BSDA?

Po[illegible] by: [illegible] s99 Jul [illegible] 2006, [illegible] PM

QU[illegible]

Si[illegible]

H[illegible] you [illegible] now so [illegible] h first hand?

Al[illegible] lton [illegible] who y[illegible] here at B[illegible]DA?

I don[illegible] k y[illegible] e what [illegible] are as[illegible] be put out h[illegible] safety rea[illegible] had re[illegible] rough [illegible] nd you woul[illegible] not to give herse[illegible] y.

Now [illegible] r Sig[illegible] y any im[illegible] s the mi[illegible] but [illegible] know what hap[illegible] the [illegible] no a[illegible] Danny 8[illegible] eals wh[illegible] [illegible] t fired, get tim[illegible] d very [illegible] nd they [illegible] g just how she [illegible].

Po[illegible] 1 2 2[illegible] 1:2[illegible]

Q[illegible] ry [illegible] @ Jul [illegible] 006, [illegible]

Si[illegible]

H[illegible] you [illegible] now so [illegible] st h[illegible]

A[illegible] who [illegible] here at [illegible]

Dar[illegible] now [illegible] nswering these [illegible] the majority of t[illegible] d hav[illegible] tter [illegible] anding of my po[illegible] e in pro[illegible] in the [illegible] ng of [illegible] narratives, th[illegible] my fan[illegible] reati[illegible] hat [illegible] n has rec[illegible].

As [illegible], Da[illegible] has a b[illegible] form [illegible] on[illegible] cor[illegible] e lifes[illegible] to wh[illegible] s become a[illegible] g b[illegible] veil and rela[illegible] aging [illegible] s regar[illegible] g t[illegible] beh[illegible] scenes" at [illegible] ficial spin of [illegible] y's [illegible] Both [illegible] and the[illegible] found it [illegible] SDA circ[illegible] r [illegible] nsuits, [illegible] terialized.
But [illegible] rough t[illegible] icial sys[illegible] n i[illegible] s enough to fr[illegible] vidu[illegible] ts. In li[illegible] t o[illegible] ave made it n[illegible] sure [illegible] does not know cor[illegible] 3AB[illegible] now he must l[illegible] dentity, but [illegible] p any [illegible] ctive [illegible] from my po[illegible] ts [illegible] find
th[illegible]

How close to it all was I to know so much first hand? Now that is difficult to answer without giving clues to my identity. It is not that I am unwilling, but that to do so would be unwise. Am I a relative, friend, current or former employee of Danny Shelton? That would probably make the most sense considering the first person knowledge that I have. I will also admit to presenting second person information, but as in the case of Ronnie who did "detective work" for Danny, I speak for someone who is unable to speak for himself. Ronnie died a number of months ago.

If I have not sufficiently answered your questions, please indicate the area in which you need further elaboration.

Sister

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Jul 2 2006, 01:24 PM

Read my questions again.

They didn't ask her to give herself away.

Posted by: statrei Jul 2 2006, 01:29 PM

QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Jul 2 2006, 02:24 PM)

Read my questions again.

They didn't ask her to give herself away.

Daryl, why do you think it important that Danny should know who the writer is? You must be seeinig something I am not.

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Jul 2 2006, 01:31 PM

Sister,

I can understand your caution, therefore, let me go into another direction.

I am only on page 10 of this topic as far as reading it goes.

Are you saying anywhere that Pastor Mark Finley and Pastor John Lomacang know the truth about Danny & Linda, but are spouting the lie?

Posted by: statrei Jul 2 2006, 01:47 PM

Daryl's questions raise another question. Earlier Daryl pointed out that the 3ABN fiasco has been behind the scenes on his forum to first determine the truth. Either Daryl recognized what Sister is posting here as the truth and is subtly trying to raise doubts by weaking Sister's credibility or no effort has been made at MSDAOL to determine that truth, in which case he could more concerned with defending the establishment no matter what. Which could it be?

In the end, the problem is not Danny but the system he represents and there are many who will defend that system at all costs.

Posted by: watchbird Jul 2 2006, 01:55 PM

QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Jul 2 2006, 01:31 PM)

Sister,

I can understand your caution, therefore, let me go into another direction.

I am only on page 10 of this topic as far as reading it goes.

Are you saying anywhere that Pastor Mark Finley and Pastor John Lomacang know the truth about Danny & Linda, but are spouting the lie?

Daryl, you are ONLY on page 10? And you are back asking questions again already? We are now on page 69. You don't know enough yet to ask intelligent questions. Back to reading mode!

Excuse you, but it is extremely unkind, uncouth, and ingenious at best to ask this kind of questions when you have not even yet taken the time to read all that Sister (and many others) have already written. Your last question is especially repugnant since it asks Sister to make a judgemental statement about Finley and Lomacang that is not only inappropriate and unChristlike, but ITFA is impossible for anyone to make. Only God knows what Finley and Lomacang know or don't know and what their reasons are for continuing to support Danny Shelton given all that we are learning about him.

I very STRONGLY suggest again, that you finish reading what has already been said before you start putting anyone (especially Sister) through any more direct questioning.

It seems to me that quite obviously you do NOT understand the need for caution in this matter, or you would not be asking the kinds of questions that you are asking. And you certainly would not be asking them before you have read the total of the information that Sister and others (please don't focus completely on her) have given.

Posted by: sonshineonme Jul 2 2006, 02:11 PM

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jul 2 2006, 12:55 PM)

Daryl, you are ONLY on page 10? And you are back asking questions again already? We are now on page 69. You don't know enough yet to ask intelligent questions. Back to reading mode!

Excuse you, but it is extremely unkind, uncouth, and ingenious at best to ask this kind of questions when you have not even yet taken the time to read all that Sister (and many others) have already written. Your last question is especially repugnant since it asks Sister to make a judgemental statement about Finley and Lomacang that is not only inappropriate and unChristlike, but ITFA is impossible for anyone to make. Only God knows what Finley and Lomacang know or don't know and what their reasons are for continuing to support Danny Shelton given all that we are learning about him.

Daryl,
I am guessing you might like to just get to the "meat and potatoes" part of this situation, thinking you have it all summed up with facts you have had previously, but honestly, you need to read it all

FIRST, then ask. As for Lomacang and Finley, God is not the only one that knows, but THEY know what they have done, and NOT done with the information they have. Linda knows too. There are "facts" that can speak for themselves when it comes to both of them, and their "reasons" for their actions at this point. There are MANY "leaders" or "up front" people who keep quiet for personal gain and also to "let others deal with it", and they take no action because it may hurt them. They are among the ones that think the ends justify the means (keep the gospel going at whatever cost to someone on a personal level). This whole situation really should be an eye opener and WARNING to especially SDA's, that things are not always what they seem, that we can not hold ANY person up thinking that what looks like a chicken must be a chicken, that is an unsafe assumption to make, especially as this world falls apart. IT is to each individual to know where they stand with Christ, so they can be as wise as possible and not deceived by those who take the appearance of "christian" on the outside. I'm sure you know this too. Things will shock us, shake us and even rock our christian experience, but let that not destroy us, because God wants us to take heart in HIS power to bring us still closer to Him in spite of others and their leadership (or lack there of). We can't have loyalty to an organization, but only to our God. I make choices every day, hopefully responsible ones, to support those and that which I can respect. Search and seek, you will find.

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Jul 2 2006, 02:53 PM

I agree with you completely in that we should never elevate any human being, however, we must respect the position, but not necessarily the person, in the same way Paul respected the High Priest's position, although not the person himself.

I am very concerned about the person holding the position. If what is being said about this person is even remotely true, then that person needs to be exposed and removed, hoever, I am not sure if this the the proper way to do it, however, if I couldn't find any other way to do it, I would probably resort to this myself.

By the way, I am going to ignore any accusative posts, so don't waste your breath.

Posted by: sister Jul 2 2006, 02:55 PM

> QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Jul 2 2006, 02:31 PM)
>
> Sister,
>
> I can understand your caution, therefore, let me go into another direction.
>
> I am only on page 10 of this topic as far as reading it goes.
>
> Are you saying anywhere that Pastor Mark Finley and Pastor John Lomacang know the truth about Danny & Linda, but are spouting the lie?

Daryl,

I will answer any questions that I can concerning what I have written, but I do suggest that you limit your questions in regard to what you have already read. It will make the process much easier for both of us.

You do have the option to go to my profile and read everything that I have posted on BSDA. But I do believe that you would benefit from reading it within the context of the thread.

Sister

Posted by: watchbird Jul 2 2006, 03:22 PM

QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Jul 2 2006, 02:53 PM)

I agree with you completely in that we should never elevate any human being, however, we must respect the position, but not necessarily the person, in the same way Paul respected the High Priest's position, although not the person himself.

I am very concerned about the person holding the position. If what is being said about this person is even remotely true, then that person needs to be exposed and removed, hoever, I am not sure if this the the proper way to do it, however, if I couldn't find any other way to do it, I would probably resort to this myself.

I would hope that you are not equating the owner of a TV uplink facility with the High Priest's position. That seems to be stretching things considerably far.

As for "exposed and removed", it sounds as though we are in agreement on this part. However, BSDA is not a legal body and has no power to remove anyone (other then from their own forum), so that part of the remedy has to be left to others. What BSDA does have, however, is the public "bulletin board" where things can be posted for all who wish to come and read. IOW, BSDA is a very important part of the "expose" part of what needs to be done. And it also provides a place where things of an "exposure" nature may be either confirmed by others with similar knowledge, or challenged by those who disagree with what is said. It seems a rather important point that so far there has been a lot more confirming going on that there has been challenging.

QUOTE(sister @ Jul 2 2006, 02:55 PM)

Daryl,

I will answer any questions that I can concerning what I have written, but I do suggest that you limit your questions in regard to what you have already read. It will make the process much easier for both of us.

You do have the option to go to my profile and read everything that I have posted on BSDA. But I do believe that you would benefit from reading it within the context of the thread.

Sister

Yes indeed, as Sister says, "within the context of the thread" is extremely important. For it is there that you will find people posing some of the same questions that you are wrestling with, and thus you will be able to read the answers as you go along. And also you will find people who will be adding details to her telling of the story, and thus not only confirming, but expanding upon it.

Enjoy the journey.

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Jul 2 2006, 03:39 PM

I just read the following from one of Sister's posts:

"The truth of the matter is that this $100,000.00 worth of equipment actually came from Joe Crews, the founder of Amazing Facts, in exchange for air time."

Isn't there a way to confirm this either way from the records of Amazing Facts?

Posted by: statrei Jul 2 2006, 04:23 PM

QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Jul 2 2006, 05:39 PM)

I just read the following from one of Sister's posts:

"The truth of the matter is that this $100,000.00 worth of equipment actually came from Joe Crews, the founder of Amazing Facts, in exchange for air time."

Isn't there a way to confirm this either way from the records of Amazing Facts?

Apparently she has. Anyone who doubts her facts can call Amazing Facts.

Posted by: Fran Jul 2 2006, 04:34 PM

QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Jul 2 2006, 01:31 PM)

Sister,

I can understand your caution, therefore, let me go into another direction.

I am only on page 10 of this topic as far as reading it goes.

Are you saying anywhere that Pastor Mark Finley and Pastor John Lomacang know the truth about Danny & Linda, but are spouting the lie?

From my point of view, I'd say that John and Mark both knew the problem Danny had. Linda's only problem was that she was in the dark about the problem until right before the end of the marriage. Then, I'd say she was in such shock she dove under cover to catch her breath and take time to reason out what had just happened. The wife is always the last to know. Wifes will believe their husband lies before they will believe anyone else telling her the truth, but when it comes from the husband, it is like getting shot in the gut and bleeding for a very, very long time.

John and Mark came in about 5-6 years too late. The damage had already been done. There was no way to take his action back! It was a done deal and it was there right in his face. John and Mark were unable to change the past. All that they could do was deal with the problem right in their face with 3ABN at stake. The only choice Danny had was to get rid of Linda or be found out! They backed him for "The greater Good". Oops! Guess they decided wrong. It has NOT been for the greater good! It could be the perception of apparent death of him and 3ABN.

That is only my opinion. I understand that doesn't mean much anymore.

I have posted post after post showing documentation about how he is deceitful in his financial dealings. I have backed it up with public documentation. AToday wrote and article about their questionable practices. Then, Danny protested AToday's statement about a piano, and AToday wrote about that piano statement. It was published, but the statement didn't clear him by any means. It only brought MORE questions to mind.

Daryl, don't worry because no one cares about him misusing the Donors money. You see, he shares! He is not the only benefactor!

Does anyone care? Obviously not, because no one ever commented about the financial parts anyway. So, see, Danny could care less about any of this. He continues with the "God told me " line to this day. He begs for people to send 3ABN money. I would suggest he continues to believe he is too close to God to be harmed or have to pay the penalty for any of his earthly sins.

Who knows? He could be right, or terribly WRONG! Sister, keep posting. We are all waiting.

To everyone,

Can someone help me find the documetation that states the Linda can't talk for 2 years? I guess I missed that in the contract. Is that 2 years after the contract was signed, or 2 years after the divorce? Is she ever going to be released? I believe she signed under duress.

So Daryl, read the complete thread, every post and every thought. Then come back and ask your questions. In the mean time, those that are 1st hand witnesses should try to get this back on topic by post some more information.

Posted by: sonshineonme Jul 2 2006, 04:42 PM

QUOTE(Fran @ Jul 2 2006, 03:34 PM)

From my point of view, I'd say that John and Mark both knew the problem Danny had. Linda's only problem was that she was in the dark about the problem until right before the end of the marriage. Then, I'd say she was in such shock she dove under cover to catch her breath and take time to reason out what had just happened. The wife is always the last to know. Wifes will believe their husband lies before they will believe anyone else telling her the truth, but when it comes from the husband, it is like getting shot in the gut and bleeding for a very, very long time.

John and Mark came in about 5-6 years too late. The damage had already been done. There was no way to take his action back! It was a done deal and it was there right in his face. John and Mark were unable to change the past. All that they could do was deal with the problem right in their face with 3ABN at stake. The only choice Danny had was to get rid of Linda or be found out! They backed him for "The greater Good". Oops! Guess they decided wrong. It has NOT been for the greater good! It could be the perception of apparent death of him and 3ABN.

That is only my opinion. I understand that doesn't mean much anymore.

I have posted post after post showing documentation about how he is deceitful in his financial dealings. I have backed it up with public documentation. AToday wrote and article about their questionable practices. Then, Danny protested AToday's statement about a piano, and AToday wrote about that piano statement. It was published, but the statement didn't clear him by any means. It only brought MORE questions to mind.

Daryl, don't worry because no one cares about him misusing the Donors money. You see, he shares! He is not the only benefactor!

Does anyone care? Obviously not, because no one ever commented about the financial parts anyway. So, see, Danny could care less about any of this. He continues with the "God told me " line to this day. He begs for people to send 3ABN money. I would suggest he continues to believe he is too close to God to be harmed or have to pay the penalty for any of his earthly sins.

Who knows? He could be right, or terribly WRONG! Sister, keep posting. We are all waiting.

To everyone,

Can someone help me find the documetation that states the Linda can't talk for 2 years? I guess I missed that in the contract. Is that 2 years after the contract was signed, or 2 years after the divorce? Is she ever going to be released? I believe she signed under duress.

So Daryl, read the complete thread, every post and every thought. Then come back and ask your questions. In the mean time, those that are 1st hand witnesses should try to get this back on topic by post some more information.

Fran, did you go to her website (www.lindashelton.org) and see the attached document she has there that was was forced to sign? It states it there. She can not speak about this till Dec of this year, or her severence is cut off (gagged). Personally, I think this was a mixed blessing, as Danny is bringing himself down, and she can't be blamed for it. It also caused people to watch Danny's actions carefully, and notice his bashing of her while he knew she could say nothing in her own defense. That hurt him. Made people very suspicious. Yes, she did sign this under complete duress. I know this to be a fact.

Posted by: Fran Jul 2 2006, 05:09 PM

QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jul 2 2006, 04:42 PM)

Fran, did you go to her website (www.lindashelton.org) and see the attached document she has there that was was forced to sign? It states it there. She can not speak about this till Dec of this year, or her severence is cut off (gagged). Personally, I think this was a mixed blessing, as Danny is bringing himself down, and she can't be blamed for it. It also caused people to watch Danny's actions carefully, and notice his bashing of her while he knew she could say nothing in her own defense. That hurt him. Made people very suspicious. Yes, she did sign this under complete duress. I know this to be a fact.

Thank you! Now everyone knows where it is.

Posted by: watchbird Jul 2 2006, 05:36 PM

QUOTE(Fran @ Jul 2 2006, 04:34 PM)

To everyone,

Can someone help me find the documetation that states the Linda can't talk for 2 years? I guess I missed that in the contract. Is that 2 years after the contract was signed, or 2 years after the divorce? Is she ever going to be released? I believe she signed under duress.

I agree. And the exact url is http://www.lindashelton.org/contract.html. It is not listed on one of her menus, but is to be found embedded in one of the "answers" in the Q&A page. It actually gives dates as well as length of time. Here is the exact wording of that section:

> QUOTE
>
> 3. Three Angels also agrees to pay Linda Shelton $75,000 for each of the years 2005 and 2006. This money will be paid out in 24 equal installments ($6,250.00) beginning the first Monday of January, 2005, and continuing to be paid on the first Monday of each month for the next 23 months, ending with the payment on the first Monday of December 2006. These payments shall continue to be made only insofar as Mrs. Shelton complies with the conditions specified below.

I suppose the whole document could be posted here since it is already displayed in a public place. It is a facsimile, so it will either have to be posted as an image file or else typed by someone.

Posted by: Fran Jul 2 2006, 05:45 PM

> QUOTE(Fran @ Jul 2 2006, 06:09 PM)
>
> Thank you! Now everyone knows where it is.

Can anyone explain #7 where it saYs, "during the period of payments to Mrs. Shelton or afterwards" means?

http://www.lindashelton.org/

Select the Question Tab and read #3, "Why is it that you are not able to defend yourself from the accusations in a frank and open manner?" With in the Answer you will see red letters "Click here to view this contract" Click on those word. You are there.

Or go to: http://www.lindashelton.org/contract.html.

I suggest the longer way so you can read all the questions and devotionals....

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jul 2 2006, 06:36 PM)
>
> I suppose the whole document could be posted here since it is already displayed in a public place. It is a facsimile, so it will either have to be posted as an image file or else typed by someone.

I was going to do that before I asked for the 2 year question, but someone complained about long posts, so I refrained. If someone else would like to do that, I would be more than happy to read the 4 page contract again for another refresher.

Posted by: HUGGINS130 Jul 2 2006, 10:50 PM

QUOTE(beanchild @ Jun 30 2006, 09:45 AM) actually, if we're really lucky, the topic will flat out die.

IN THE MEAN TIME sna STILL LURKIN

Posted by: Clay Jul 3 2006, 12:06 AM

QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Jul 2 2006, 03:53 PM)

I agree with you completely in that we should never elevate any human being, however, we must respect the position, but not necessarily the person, in the same way Paul respected the High Priest's position, although not the person himself.

I am very concerned about the person holding the position. If what is being said about this person is even remotely true, then that person needs to be exposed and removed, hoever, I am not sure if this the the proper way to do it, however, if I couldn't find any other way to do it, I would probably resort to this myself.

By the way, I am going to ignore any accusative posts, so don't waste your breath.

naw Daryl I don't think you would... while I don't know you, it seems that you would probably support the status quo until it was proven beyond a doubt that it was time for a change.... I say that based on my observation of your running of your forum, which IMO tends to steer clear of controversy be it theological or otherwise.... your questions suggest this approach, i.e. avoid controversy, make sure its factual before you make it public, respect the position unless there is proof to the contrary.....

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Jul 3 2006, 05:55 AM

You are probably right, Clay.

You may know me better than I know myself, however, according to the Bible, a thing is established, if I remember correctly, by two or more witnesses.

Posted by: Clay Jul 3 2006, 06:18 AM

QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Jul 3 2006, 05:55 AM)

You are probably right, Clay.

You may know me better than I know myself, however, according to the Bible, a thing is established, if I remember correctly, by two or more witnesses.

well as you will read in this particular thread, two or more witnesses have shared the same testimony..... and as I stated previously, I don't really know you, I have observed how your forum is run and base my perceptions on that observation.... let me add... I could be totally wrong....

Posted by: watchbird Jul 3 2006, 06:41 AM

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jul 2 2006, 05:36 PM)

I agree. And the exact url is http://www.lindashelton.org/contract.html. It is not listed on one of her menus, but is to be found embedded in one of the "answers" in the Q&A page. It actually gives dates as well as length of time. . . .
I suppose the whole document could be posted here since it is already displayed in a public place. It is a facsimile, so it will either have to be posted as an image file or else typed by someone.

QUOTE(Fran @ Jul 2 2006, 05:45 PM)

I was going to do that before I asked for the 2 year question, but someone complained about long posts, so I refrained. If someone else would like to do that, I would be more than happy to read the 4 page contract again for another refresher.

Actually it is only three pages. And "someone" complaining about long posts is not the same as whether or not "long posts" are permissible on BSDA. Note the "Check Post Length" on the "reply" screen. It will tell you both the length that is permissible as well as the length of the one you have created.

The document as posted on Linda's site allows for downloading, one .jpg file per page. So I'd suggest that it would be best to post it as three .jpg files rather than copying it, as it then retains its value as a primary source document rather than merely being a "copy". I frankly don't know how to do that, but since I see pictures on here frequently, I know it is possible. So I'm sure someone can either do it or explain to you how to do it.

Once here where we can easily take a look at it, I think there are those who are familiar with legaleze that can analyze it utilizing their expertise and years of experience.

Posted by: statrei Jul 3 2006, 06:46 AM

QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Jul 3 2006, 06:55 AM)

You are probably right, Clay.

You may know me better than I know myself, however, according to the Bible, a thing is established, if I remember correctly, by two or more witnesses.

Stop playing that act, Daryl. One only has to visit your forum and read why you took away my posting privileges to understand how you think. Now, I understand why you think like that. You think that the Adventist church rescued you so you have a commttment to what you think it is. That turns out to be what its leaders tell you it is.

Posted by: watchbird Jul 3 2006, 07:35 AM

QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Jul 3 2006, 05:55 AM)

You are probably right, Clay.

You may know me better than I know myself, however, according to the Bible, a thing is established, if I remember correctly, by two or more witnesses.

Yes, this is the principle that I think we are all standing on. And as Clay commented, you will find those "two or more witnesses" who have stepped forward on BSDA to confirm each other's testimony.

And before going further, I apologize for being somewhat snippy in my previous posts to you. Facing a thread of this length is indeed a daunting task. But working your way through it carefully will yield much information. The real problem comes, not with the mere time that it takes to read it all the way through, but how to hold in mind what one reads in order to compare it with what is said later. Let me suggest a method which, while it involves some investment of time on the front end, I have found most helpful in tackling a task of this kind and size.

In suggesting this method I am assuming that the posts can be printed out, one page of posts at a time, the same as they were on the CA forum. It does take time, and it generates a large stack of paper. But if you do that then you can sit down with the tools of research (hi-lighter, black marker, pen for taking notes in the margins, etc) in your hand and be able to mark or hi-light important points, and cross out frivolous or distracting posts, and even cross reference various points.

You will also be able to figure out (not the identity of those who choose to not use their real names, but) who are primary sources (by which I mean ones who were actually witnesses or even a part of the actions they are describing), who are secondary sources (those who have personally talked with or had extensive personal contact with the primary sources), who are researchers and have examined primary source documents, both public and legal as well as personal mail exchanged between those who were "part of the action". In some cases these individuals give their actual identities early on, but still use a pseudonym and are always referred to by their pseudonym so as to protect their identity from all but the serious researcher. Please respect their desire for privacy.

Your stated desire to find the truth of the matter will stand you in good stead if you add to that the patience to examine the evidence carefully and methodically.

I want to add one other note, however. No where, not on BSDA nor on CA nor in any of the voluminous emails, public announcements, or lengthy explanations/accusasions that have been created and exchanged during the last two years will you find the answer to your questions as to what certain people really know or knew; and why, in view of what they knew or didn't know, did they do what they did (or are doing). It is quite obvious when there are as many contradictions and outright accusations of lying going on, that someone is lying. The task of those who search for truth is to make a basic decision as to whom they will believe.

But even then we will not have all the information necessary to answer all of our questions, nor can that decision be made strictly on the basis of how many voices there are on each side who are giving their "testimonies." We cannot even know how many voices there are speaking in harmony with the first person witnesses who are speaking out on BSDA. As Sister has said, what you see here is only the "tip of the iceberg". Now she has used that phrase primarily to mean the amount of wrongs that have been revealed. I will use it also to refer to the number of persons who have spoken out. And there are more reasons for this than what may be accounted for in the comments on BSDA. Yes, privacy and fear play a big part in the smallness of this number. But those are not the only reasons. And I am not at liberty to name these other reasons. In due time they will be revealed, but that time is not now. So please be sensitive as to how much you probe beyond what is being revealed here.

Posted by: beanchild Jul 3 2006, 08:25 AM

QUOTE(vonessa @ Jun 30 2006, 07:24 PM)

Cant resist.

lol! don't i look spiffy.

Posted by: Clay Jul 3 2006, 08:34 AM

FYI:
since this thread has gotten so long, we will be dividing it into the major sections (based on sister's narratives), and then placing the comments to those sections there... be patient as I hope to have this completed in a few hours....

Posted by: Jvat Jul 3 2006, 08:49 AM

Over the weekend, Danny, on 3ABN, once again referred to the information that was being written about him versus the minstry that he was involved in.

Posted by: Clay Jul 3 2006, 01:00 PM editing complete... there are 10 chapters so far.... this editing may make it easier for those who wish to follow the story, go back and reread a section or whatever....

continue.....

Posted by: Fran Jul 3 2006, 01:44 PM

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jul 3 2006, 07:41 AM)

Actually it is only three pages. And "someone" complaining about long posts is not the same as whether or not "long posts" are permissible on BSDA. Note the "Check Post Length" on the "reply" screen. It will tell you both the length that is permissible as well as the length of the one you have created.

The document as posted on Linda's site allows for downloading, one .jpg file per page. So I'd suggest that it would be best to post it as three .jpg files rather than copying it, as it then retains its value as a primary source document rather than merely being a "copy". I frankly don't know how to do that, but since I see pictures on here frequently, I know it is possible. So I'm sure someone can either do it or explain to you how to do it.

Once here where we can easily take a look at it, I think there are those who are familiar with legaleze that can analyze it utilizing their expertise and years of experience.

Why don't you go ahead and post them. You sound so much more experienced at this sort of stuff. I believe they would benefit by visiting the site and read all the questions and the letters written so far. She has a lot to say other than just that document. In fact, if one reads carefully, they will be richly blessed, That is of course, just my opinion. I know, not very credible, but my opinion no less.

QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 3 2006, 02:00 PM)

editing complete... there are 10 chapters so far.... this editing may make it easier for those who wish to follow the story, go back and reread a section or whatever....

continue.....

Thank you so much!

Posted by: Clay Jul 3 2006, 01:52 PM

QUOTE

Why don't you go ahead and post them. You sound so much more experienced at this sort of stuff. I believe they would benefit by visiting the site and read all the questions and the letters written so far. She has a lot to say other than just that document. In fact, if one reads carefully, they will be richly blessed, That is of course, just my opinion. I know, not very credible, but my opinion no less.

until proven otherwise your opinion is as credible as others who have posted here.... thank you for sharing it....

Posted by: watchbird Jul 3 2006, 04:06 PM

QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 3 2006, 01:00 PM)

editing complete... there are 10 chapters so far.... this editing may make it easier for those who wish to follow the story, go back and reread a section or whatever....

continue.....

Yes, indeed. Thank you very much. That was a lot of work!

Now when we want to send someone to look at something, we can identify the "chapter" that it is in, and it will be much easier for them. Also, there have been points that Sister has made that I fully intended to follow up on or ask her for more detail on, but the conversation turned in another direction and I put it off till I could no longer easily find the original story.

And given the ease with which the BSDA "Search Forum" function works, it will now be very easy to find the 3ABN threads, even the ones which are no longer current.

Thanks again!

Posted by: watchbird Jul 4 2006, 09:26 AM

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jul 3 2006, 04:06 PM)

Yes, indeed. Thank you very much. That was a lot of work!

Now when we want to send someone to look at something, we can identify the "chapter" that it is in, and it will be much easier for them. Also, there have been points that Sister has made that I fully intended to follow up on or ask her for more detail on, but the conversation turned in another direction and I put it off till I could no longer easily find the original story.

And given the ease with which the BSDA "Search Forum" function works, it will now be very easy to find the 3ABN threads, even the ones which are no longer current.

Thanks again!

Ah, I perceive I should "update" my thanks, for I see that not only did you increase the ease at which we could access the chapters of Sister's "Unauthorized History", but you give us our very own forum in which to house them. And not only that but you pulled all of the other threads on 3ABN together in this very same spot so we won't even have to use the search function. And then, to top it all off, you pinned the "History" threads together and set them on the top. How nice. How luxurious, even.

Thank you Thank you Thank you Thank you

Posted by: calvin Jul 4 2006, 09:54 AM

Glad you like it. Sister, Clay, PrincessDi and I collaborated on this, thinking that the discussions would be easier to follow. I am asking everyone to keep the 3ABN discussions in this forum. I will continue to keep this forum on the main index page as long as there is active discussion. I suspect Sister had not wrote the final chapter.

Posted by: watchbird Jul 4 2006, 11:52 AM

QUOTE(calvin @ Jul 4 2006, 09:54 AM)

Glad you like it. Sister, Clay, PrincessDi and I collaborated on this, thinking that the discussions would be easier to follow. I am asking everyone to keep the 3ABN discussions in this forum. I will continue to keep this forum on the main index page as long as there is active discussion. I suspect Sister had not wrote the final chapter.

I am a little concerned as to what "active discussion" might mean in this context. I strongly suspect there may be some fairly lengthy times when there is not a lot new that can be said publicly, thus there might be periods when discussion seems to cease for a time.

But this thread is in many ways different from other forums you have here in that its value is not totally in the amount of current discussion that is going on but even more than that it is a record of history that will stay valuable for a very long time even after the final chapters have been written. And the content of those "final chapters" has not even been drafted out yet,for the events that will be written in them have not yet occurred. So I hope that however slack things might get, that you will keep it always here where those who have never yet read the early chapters may continue to have easy access to it, and those that stay away for an extended period of time may find it again in the same place as when they left.

Posted by: Clay Jul 4 2006, 12:04 PM

QUOTE

I am a little concerned as to what "active discussion" might mean in this context. I strongly suspect there may be some fairly lengthy times when there is not a lot new that can be said publicly, thus there might be periods when discussion seems to cease for a time.

Don't stress... active simply means interest... a new post, or rehashing some of the older points, clarifying etc..... it should be easy to do.....and I'll lend a hand every now and again..... probably....lol

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Jul 7 2006, 07:14 PM

From the following quote posted by sister,

> QUOTE
>
> So it was for Johann Thorvaldsson when a letter arrived for him from Danny Shelton. Danny wrote that since Moses and David could get away with adultery and murder, so can he, since God has given him such a great task to perform.

comes the following question to Johann:

Do you still have a copy of this letter? If so, isn't this damaging evidence against Danny Shelton?

Posted by: watchbird Jul 7 2006, 07:56 PM

> QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Jul 7 2006, 07:14 PM)
>
> From the following quote posted by sister,
>
> > QUOTE
> >
> > So it was for Johann Thorvaldsson when a letter arrived for him from Danny Shelton. Danny wrote that since Moses and David could get away with adultery and murder, so can he, since God has given him such a great task to perform.
>
> comes the following question to Johann:
>
> Do you still have a copy of this letter? If so, isn't this damaging evidence against Danny Shelton?

Daryl, Johann will doubtless answer when he gets back to his computer (it's the middle of the night for him). In the meantime, I'll just say that yes, Johann has not only "this" letter, but many like this, several of which I have copies of in my own files. But please note, that in the Pentecostal fog in which Danny and his friends live and move, this is not "damaging evidence", this is proof that Danny is God's messenger for today, and as thus he lives under a special dispensation of sweet permissiveness.

Posted by: beartrap Jul 7 2006, 11:45 PM

> QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Jul 2 2006, 03:53 PM)
>
> I agree with you completely in that we should never elevate any human being, however, we must respect the position, but not necessarily the person, in the same way Paul respected the High Priest's position, although not the person himself.

God himself invented the priesthood, according to the Bible, as opposed to 3ABN which was invented by a man, and was built on a lie.

Someone suggested calling Amazing Facts regarding the "equipment story." I suggest contacting 3ABN. Ask specifically if 3ABN ever recieved one piece of television production equipment, other than one SM-58 microphone that didn't work, from Hal and Mollie Steenson.

Fact - No equipment from the Steensons was ever recieved by 3ABN (other than the broken microphone)

Fact - 3ABN's first TV equipment was recieved from Amazing Facts on barter. There was no donated equipment.

Fact - Any miracle story regarding donated equipment at the founding of 3ABN is a lie.

Posted by: Clay Jul 9 2006, 01:44 PM

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jul 8 2006, 12:45 AM)

God himself invented the priesthood, according to the Bible, as opposed to 3ABN which was invented by a man, and was built on a lie.

Someone suggested calling Amazing Facts regarding the "equipment story." I suggest contacting 3ABN. Ask specifically if 3ABN ever recieved one piece of television production equipment, other than one SM-58 microphone that didn't work, from Hal and Mollie Steenson.

Fact - No equipment from the Steensons was ever recieved by 3ABN (other than the broken microphone)

Fact - 3ABN's first TV equipment was recieved from Amazing Facts on barter. There was no donated equipment.

Fact - Any miracle story regarding donated equipment at the founding of 3ABN is a lie.

thanks for a quick review of the "facts" for those who have not been keeping up.....

Posted by: beartrap Jul 9 2006, 05:29 PM

QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 9 2006, 02:44 PM)

thanks for a quick review of the "facts" for those who have not been keeping up.....

LOL!

Posted by: Jewel50 Jul 10 2006, 03:12 PM

Just a quick thank you for my first post for putting these into chapters. I have come at the right time it seems to get an easy read. than

I have just finished reading ALL 10 Chapters and personally I believe what Sister and the rest are saying. I also can understand why they need to do it this way.

I too know first hand how people do not want to BELIEVE anyone in a high position can do such things and how those in power will take care of their own "for the good of the cause". I pray that all this will soon come to a swift "just" end for God's cause. God does know the end of all things and He works things out in His own way and using His own timeline. We might not like His timeline, I know I sure do not, as I want justice done right now. However, patience is not my virture. Something that God has been working on me with.

Keep save all of you concerned in this.

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Jul 10 2006, 04:23 PM

I also just finished reading all 10 Chapters and compiled it into a word file.

I will now be reviewing what I read from that file.

Any further questions that I may have will come from there, or from any new posts here and elsewhere.

Posted by: Johann Jul 10 2006, 05:34 PM

QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Jul 8 2006, 03:14 AM)

From the following quote posted by sister,
comes the following question to Johann:

Do you still have a copy of this letter? If so, isn't this damaging evidence against Danny Shelton?

Normally it would, Daryl. But when an insitution and its cognizant partners employ up to 15 lawyers just to convince the world that he is telling the truth, then no evidence seems convincing. So where is the TRUTH? Only in the hands of Mammon?

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Jul 10 2006, 08:32 PM

sister,

After reading all 10 Chapters, it appears that you are using both first hand and second or third hand information in your posts.

Am I correct in my assumption?

If I am correct in my assumption, can you repost your first hand information somewhere in a new topic?

Could others who may be here also post their own first hand information also in a new topic?

Posted by: statrei Jul 10 2006, 08:35 PM

QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Jul 10 2006, 10:32 PM)

sister,

After reading all 10 Chapters, it appears that you are using both first hand and second or third hand information in your posts.

Am I correct in my assumption?

If I am correct in my assumption, can you repost your first hand information somewhere in a new topic?

Could others who may be here also post their own first hand information also in a new topic?

At that point it becomes second information from you, so what are you trying to accomplish?

Posted by: Jvat Jul 11 2006, 04:52 AM

Daryl, aren't you going a bit too far now, with these questions?

Posted by: Clay Jul 11 2006, 05:07 AM

QUOTE(Jvat @ Jul 11 2006, 05:52 AM)

Daryl, aren't you going a bit too far now, with these questions?

lol yanno.... there are quite a few threads here in the 3abn section that if read with a keen eye might provide the material he is looking for..... I don't know how much more can be done, we have placed all the info in the same place, even have chapter divisions.... now the request is that all those with 1st hand info come front and center and tell their stories in a new thread....

If I didn't know better I'd think someone is trying to round up all the possible suspects so that it would be easier to retaliate..... but I could be wrong... it may just be the conspiracy theorist in me getting the best of me.....

Posted by: statrei Jul 11 2006, 05:37 AM

QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 11 2006, 07:07 AM)

lol yanno.... there are quite a few threads here in the 3abn section that if read with a keen eye might provide the material he is looking for..... I don't know how much more can be done, we have placed all the info in the same place, even have chapter divisions.... now the request is that all those with 1st hand info come front and center and tell their stories in a new thread....

If I didn't know better I'd think someone is trying to round up all the possible suspects so that it would be easier to retaliate..... but I could be wrong... it may just be the conspiracy theorist in me getting the best of me.....

n Daryl defense, this is the reaction of a man who is sorely disappointed by what he has learned here.)aryl represents that large group who believe that membership in the right organization is all that is ıeeded. Having found that organization he has placed full confidence in that organization. Now, he nust deal with the reality that the Emperor has no clothes. His fear is, if this is true of 3ABN how far loes the rot go.

Posted by: watchbird Jul 11 2006, 07:55 AM

QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 11 2006, 05:07 AM)

lol yanno.... there are quite a few threads here in the 3abn section that if read with a keen eye might provide the material he is looking for..... I don't know how much more can be done, we have placed all the info in the same place, even have chapter divisions.... now the request is that all those with 1st hand info come front and center and tell their stories in a new thread....

If I didn't know better I'd think someone is trying to round up all the possible suspects so that it would be easier to retaliate..... but I could be wrong... it may just be the conspiracy theorist in me getting the best of me.....

QUOTE(statrei @ Jul 11 2006, 05:37 AM)

In Daryl defense, this is the reaction of a man who is sorely disappointed by what he has learned here. Daryl represents that large group who believe that membership in the right organization is all that is needed. Having found that organization he has placed full confidence in that organization. Now, he must deal with the reality that the Emperor has no clothes. His fear is, if this is true of 3ABN how far does the rot go.

I think it is much simpler than that. Look at his quandary from his point of view. He has established as "ground rules" that only first or second hand "witness" is admissible for posting on his site. He realizes that when he reports on first hand testimonies he has become second hand witness, so that's OK. But he can't report on second hand information, nor on information gathered by researchers, for that wouldn't meet his criterial. And in his protected little world, he wouldn't even think of giving his sources so his members could go and look for themselves. So now he's caught in his own legalities. How can he escape?

TVsnack.

Stay tuned.

Posted by: statrei Jul 11 2006, 08:11 AM

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jul 11 2006, 08:55 AM)

I think it is much simpler than that. Look at his quandary from his point of view. He has established as "ground rules" that only first or second hand "witness" is admissible for posting on his site. He realizes that when he reports on first hand testimonies he has become second hand witness, so that's OK. But he can't report on second hand information, nor on information gathered by researchers, for that wouldn't meet his criterial. And in his protected little world, he wouldn't even think of giving his sources so his members could go and look for themselves. So now he's caught in his own legalities. How can he escape?

TVsnack

Stay tuned.

n my best Professor Higgins voice, "By golly, I think you've got it." But you do open up the possibility hat our dear friend, by not revealing his sources to his forum (I wish I could read those private orums but Daryl does not consider me Adventist enough to have that privilege) is parading that nformation as his. It makes one wonder given his question about copyright permissions for "The elevangelist."

Posted by: seraph|m Jul 11 2006, 08:12 AM

QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 11 2006, 07:07 AM)

lol yanno.... there are quite a few threads here in the 3abn section that if read with a keen eye might provide the material he is looking for..... I don't know how much more can be done, we have placed all the info in the same place, even have chapter divisions.... now the request is that all those with 1st hand info come front and center and tell their stories in a new thread....

Since the bro. has pointed out that he has all the info in a "file" that stands to reason the information s at his disposal to review whenever he chooses.

QUOTE

If I didn't know better I'd think someone is trying to round up all the possible suspects so that it would be easier to retaliate..... but I could be wrong... it may just be the conspiracy theorist in me getting the best of me.....

this was also the first thing that came to mind when I read his statement. Guess it's not just me.

Posted by: Clay Jul 11 2006, 08:14 AM

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jul 11 2006, 08:55 AM)

I think it is much simpler than that. Look at his quandary from his point of view. He has established as "ground rules" that only first or second hand "witness" is admissible for posting on his site. He realizes that when he reports on first hand testimonies he has become second hand witness, so that's OK. But he can't report on second hand information, nor on information gathered by researchers, for that wouldn't meet his criterial. And in his protected little world, he wouldn't even think of giving his sources so his members could go and look for themselves. So now he's caught in his own legalities. How can he escape?

TVsnack

Stay tuned.

ol.... oh well.... rofl

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Jul 11 2006, 10:29 AM

You are correct in that I wish to separate the posts containing witnessed facts from that of second hand or even third hand facts, unless those facts are, or can be, documented.

And Darius, since you so kindly asked, I will give you reading access there.

Posted by: seraph|m Jul 11 2006, 10:37 AM

QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Jul 11 2006, 12:29 PM)

You are correct in that I wish to separate the posts containing witnessed facts from that of second hand or even third hand facts, unless those facts are, or can be, documented.

And Darius, since you so kindly asked, I will give you reading access there.

thy will be done...

Posted by: statrei Jul 11 2006, 10:38 AM

QUOTE(seraph|m @ Jul 11 2006, 11:37 AM)

thy will be done...

Jp to first class. Just like that.

Posted by: Nuggie Jul 11 2006, 10:41 AM

QUOTE(statrei @ Jul 11 2006, 11:38 AM)

Up to first class. Just like that.

See, Dr. D...it's all about how you ask and who you ask...

Posted by: summertime Jul 11 2006, 12:23 PM

QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 11 2006, 05:07 AM)

lol yanno.... there are quite a few threads here in the 3abn section that if read with a keen eye might provide the material he is looking for..... I don't know how much more can be done, we have placed all the info in the same place, even have chapter divisions.... now the request is that all those with 1st hand info come front and center and tell their stories in a new thread....

If I didn't know better I'd think someone is trying to round up all the possible suspects so that it would be easier to retaliate..... but I could be wrong... it may just be the conspiracy theorist in me getting the best of me.....

Clay, I think that you are right. Could there be a method to his madness? Could a 16th lawyer/advisor be added to the 3ABN list? Maybe I am wrong. Seems odd. A devil's advocate may not even know the role he is playing.

Posted by: awesumtenor Jul 11 2006, 12:34 PM

QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 11 2006, 07:07 AM)

lol yanno.... there are quite a few threads here in the 3abn section that if read with a keen eye might provide the material he is looking for..... I don't know how much more can be done, we have placed all the info in the same place, even have chapter divisions.... now the request is that all those with 1st hand info come front and center and tell their stories in a new thread....

If I didn't know better I'd think someone is trying to round up all the possible suspects so that it would be easier to retaliate..... but I could be wrong... it may just be the conspiracy theorist in me getting the best of me.....

Maybe he's a ferenghi and his food has to be pre-masticated for him...

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: Clay Jul 11 2006, 12:36 PM

QUOTE(awesumtenor @ Jul 11 2006, 12:34 PM)

Maybe he's a ferenghi and his food has to be pre-masticated for him...

In His service,
Mr. J

/ou continue in your sickness... [x] rofl

›r would a group pic be more appropriate?

Posted by: sonshineonme Jul 11 2006, 08:32 PM

QUOTE(awesumtenor @ Jul 11 2006, 11:34 AM)

Maybe he's a ferenghi and his food has to be pre-masticated for him...

In His service,
Mr. J

rofl rofl rofl rofl
can you imagine what a joke that would be?

Posted by: princessdi Jul 11 2006, 08:45 PM

But you came her with some "old" second hand info trying to pass it off as first hand.....until you learned that we pay attention here. Not many need to be spoon fed, and if they do, not for long. Now you got the nerve(yeah I said it!) to ask for only first hand info? Those in the know, realize you haven't read enough posts. Carry on!

QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Jul 11 2006, 09:29 AM)

You are correct in that I wish to separate the posts containing witnessed facts from that of second hand or even third hand facts, unless those facts are, or can be, documented.

And Darius, since you so kindly asked, I will give you reading access there.

See!!! You wrong, Kevin!!!

QUOTE(awesumtenor @ Jul 11 2006, 11:34 AM)

Maybe he's a ferenghi and his food has to be pre-masticated for him...

In His service,
Mr. J

Powered by Invision Power Board (http://www.invisionboard.com)
© Invision Power Services (http://www.invisionpower.com)

213

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ Danny Shelton Interview on Club Adventist

Posted by: lurker Nov 17 2004, 08:58 AM

If anyone is still interested, Danny is going to be open to questions on November 26th on Club Adventist. I sure would like to see the stain erased from 3ABN's reputation even if it means somebody saying "I could have been wrong." We all have to do this sometimes. And if somebody isn't willing to share the proof, I wish this person would quit making accusations.

Posted by: Johann Jul 11 2006, 02:27 PM

QUOTE(lurker @ Nov 17 2004, 04:58 PM)

If anyone is still interested, Danny is going to be open to questions on November 26th on Club Adventist. I sure would like to see the stain erased from 3ABN's reputation even if it means somebody saying "I could have been wrong." We all have to do this sometimes. And if somebody isn't willing to share the proof, I wish this person would quit making accusations.

Well, lurker, did you get your wish fulfilled?

Posted by: lurker Jul 11 2006, 05:35 PM

QUOTE(Johann @ Jul 11 2006, 03:27 PM)

Well, lurker, did you get your wish fulfilled?

Stain still there. Accusations still being made against Linda (by you know who). Still no proof. Should have used a better wishbone. I'd say no. I didn't.

Powered by Invision Power Board (http://www.invisionboard.com)
© Invision Power Services (http://www.invisionpower.com)

214

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ Dr. Kuzma's Response...

Posted by: claborn Aug 25 2004, 08:41 PM

As you remember, I emailed her a couple of days ago.... here is her response to me....

"Steve, You have errored in judging my role at 3ABN to be a "counselor." It was not. Just thought you ought to know before publishing your account. Thanks for checking with me. You have some interesting comments. They serve little purpose, however, if you have not checked out the truth of your theories with the people involved. God bless, Kay "

To refresh your memory here is my email to her... I am disappointed with her response, but expected as much.... Note that I never said that she was a counselor at 3ABN.

Dear Dr. Kuzma,
I have read your response to the members that frequent BlackSDA regarding the recent happenings at 3ABN. While I can only assume your intentions were noble, your response appeared to suggest Mr. Shelton was the "innocent victim" while Linda Shelton was completely at fault. I question the wisdom of you sharing the particulars in this situation given your vocation as a counselor. From your response it appears that you were not counseling Linda, and if that is the case then confidentiality would not be an issue, however as a fellow christian it would seem that you would have erred on the side of caution and not shared what your perceptions were. One could conclude from your response that Linda was deeply involved in an illicit relationship that she refused to end.

As a counselor you know that people who are forced into counseling are usually resistant to counseling. You are probably also aware that the person who is taken to a counselor is usually not the one who needs counseling, that it may be the whole family who is in need. I seriously question your motives for making your response public and indirectly supporting Mr. Shelton in this situation. No one has shared what Mr. Shelton did, or what his actions were though all this, and the onesidedness of the reports is inherently unfair. I am disappointed that you would add fuel to the fires of speculation and in essence accuse Mrs. Shelton of something she has repeatedly denied.

I do not expect a response because you don't have to justify your actions to me. I will be sharing my email with those members of BlackSDA just to let them know that I think your actions were not appropriate, highly questionable, and added nothing constructive to this mess. As a Christian I think God would have us take the higher road, and because you have had years of counseling it seems that you would have known better.....

Sincerely,

Steve Claborn

Posted by: HUGGINS130 Aug 25 2004, 09:05 PM

oh well I guess she didn't really read with understanding. like I said in another post Adventists use Adventists like Jehovahs Witnessess use JW's in situations like this with no good outcome. Like Father like Son...

Posted by: claborn Aug 25 2004, 09:07 PM

I would prefer a no response than a superficial one... her response bascially says, yes I responded to him. Her response however has no substance, and does not address anything I covered in my email to her... I never said she was a counselor, yet she attempts to correct something I never said.... such is life...

Posted by: HUGGINS130 Aug 25 2004, 09:12 PM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 25 2004, 09:07 PM)

> I would prefer a no response than a superficial one... her response bascially says, yes I responded to him. Her response however has no substance, and does not address anything I covered in my email to her... I never said she was a counselor, yet she attempts to correct something I never said.... such is life...

Giving her the benefit of the doubt she could be very drained from all this mess, you know. This has probably taken a toll on a lot of people involved...

Posted by: claborn Aug 25 2004, 09:15 PM

Fair enough Paradise... why not say that? "Steve, got your email, cannot comment on the issues you raised, this has been a draining experience, keep everyone in prayer"..... she could have said that, could she not?

Posted by: HUGGINS130 Aug 25 2004, 09:21 PM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 25 2004, 09:15 PM)

> Fair enough Paradise... why not say that? "Steve, got your email, cannot comment on the issues you raised, this has been a draining experience, keep everyone in prayer"..... she could have said that, could she not?

Yeah of course she could have said that, but I think in all fairness of people we have to understand that this has been a ruckus from the beginning. I don't know why she answered the way she did, but I don't think she was just brushing you off. Steve this is some major stuff, and I can only say that there needs to be healing from this now that it's basically over. We can't question every move that was made, but I would like to think that Kay had those two divorced people's best interest at hand. I don't know, but I am not about to continue railing everyone that was involved. It's basically over, and we don't need anyone to ask us to pray we just need to do it. It's time for healing now...

Posted by: claborn Aug 25 2004, 09:24 PM

Perhaps.... but if it is over, why is Linda's name/reputation still being attacked?

Posted by: HUGGINS130 Aug 25 2004, 09:28 PM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 25 2004, 09:24 PM)

> Perhaps.... but if it is over, why is Linda's name/reputation still being attacked?

Steve I can't really answer that but if you ask me Linda was innocent from the start and her behavior has been very well from the get go. Even if she did what was put out there Steve, she never renounced her faith in God. What more can we ask of Linda than to stay faithful to her God. They put it out there like she was going in another direction like she had forsaken her God, but she is still lifting the name of Jesus, WHAT MORE CAN WE ASK OF HER. I think she will have a testimony for a lot of those who are falsely accused or used...

Posted by: claborn Aug 25 2004, 09:32 PM

True Paradise... and maybe that will be good enough...

Posted by: HUGGINS130 Aug 25 2004, 09:37 PM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 25 2004, 09:32 PM)

> True Paradise... and maybe that will be good enough...

Hopefully, I can only say that I don't know what happened, but Steve I look at it like this, Jesus always talk about having mercy instead of sacrifice and that didn't take place with this 3ABN situation. We learn a lot from things around us, I don't think any of us will really know the in's and out's of this situation but we can pray for her, I think a heart of compassion for Linda is more than needed at this time. You know just as well as I that even if she was guilty of the charges there was going to be more sacrificing than mercy, and Jesus asks for mercy in situations like these. Steve all I can say is that you made a difference by speaking up and you let these folks know that we were not satisfied with their actions and great is your reward for doing the right thing! That is all I can say.

Posted by: tarduke Aug 25 2004, 11:09 PM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 25 2004, 08:41 PM)

> [color=blue]As you remember, I emailed her a couple of days ago.... here is her response to me....
>
> "Steve, You have errored in judging my role at 3ABN to be a "counselor." It was not. Just thought you ought to know before publishing your account. Thanks for checking with me. You have some interesting comments. They serve little purpose, however, if you have not checked out the truth of your theories with the people involved. God bless, Kay "

The significance of this response should not escape us. It is the first independent confirmation we have that the original letter to Calvin was genuine and from Kay. Brilliant work Steve, even if you did not get the more lengthy response you expected.

Posted by: mema Aug 26 2004, 08:04 AM

I need to know this...what is the difference between PHD and EDD? Once that is answered then I have more questions...

Posted by: claborn Aug 26 2004, 08:12 AM

QUOTE (mema @ Aug 26 2004, 09:04 AM)

> I need to know this...what is the difference between PHD and EDD? Once that is answered then I have more questions...

I covered this once before.... and EdD is a counseling degree (usually) from a University's School of Education, while a PhD is usually a a clinical or counseling psychology degree from a University's School of Psychology.....

Posted by: mema Aug 26 2004, 08:17 AM

Someone said that she is a child pychologist. Either way, does the law apply to her if her speciality is children and she is running off at the mouth about Linda's business?

I have to say that I wasn't expecting her to respond to you Steve. At least we know she looked at it, can't say that she read it.

Posted by: statrei Aug 26 2004, 08:40 AM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 25 2004, 09:41 PM)

> "Steve, You have errored in judging my role at 3ABN to be a "counselor." It was not. Just thought you ought to know before publishing your account. Thanks for checking with me. You have some interesting comments. They serve little purpose, however, if you have not checked out the truth of your theories with the people involved. God bless, Kay "

For the moment I will ignore the fact that "error" is not a verb.

Dr. Kuzma suggests that Steve's "theories" would only serve some purpose if he were to check their truth with the relevant persons. She admits that she is a relevant person because she thanks him for checking with her and does not suggest anyone else with whom he should check. Even though she now admits that his theories now serve some purpose she refuses to take the time to address them. In other words, she said a lot and said nothing. For the moment we will ignore the fact that Steve did not present any "theories" but simply commented on the failure to be fair in the revelation of pertinent facts.

The red herring that she raises about her role at 3ABN stinks to high heaven and the covering cherubs may have had to work overtime on this one. This is not about her role at 3ABN. This is about her role in the dissolution of the marriage between Linda and Danny. She does not have a degree in Industrial Psychology, nor does she have any expertise in the running of a media house.

If this behavior does not constitute putting the Savior to open shame I would like for church leaders to purchase a few spherical objects usually used in games of skill and tell me what is.

Posted by: claborn Aug 26 2004, 08:46 AM

Exactly Darius... that is it... I couldn't put my finger on it, but you have captured in words what I was feeling..... who are the people I should check with? How do I reach them? She still did not address her judgement in sharing information given she has years of experience as a counselor, and that her sharing has not helped the situation.....

Posted by: mema Aug 26 2004, 08:59 AM

And you won't. I don't think that she was expecting for someone to address this to her. I believe that she thought it would be directed to 3ABN. I think you caught her off guard and Kay didn't know how to handle it.

Posted by: Clay May 8 2006, 01:02 AM remember this???

Posted by: 4reneyonly May 8 2006, 01:55 AM

Interesting. I did some questioning about this myself. I contacted Sacramento Central church via e-mail to check Pastor Batchelor's views on the 3ABN matter.

Date: Sat, May 06, 2006 12:12 am
To: <office@saccentral.org>

Message for: Pastoral Staff

Contact Me by: Email

Subject: Connection with 3ABN

Message:
Is Pastor Doug still affiliated with 3ABN programing? I am concerned that such might not be a good thing due to all the current confusion going on there. What is Pastor's feelings about this? Does he have a published statement? I am sure I am not the first to ask this question

Hello ******,

Actually you are the first. I am not sure what confusion you are talking about. I am unaware of any confusion going on at 3ABN. If you are referring to Danny Shelton getting remarried, you can check out the 3ABN website for any details surrounding that topic.

Pastor Doug has never had any direct connection to 3ABN other than a genuine and wonderful friendship with Danny Shelton; and 3ABN carries Amazing Facts programs all the time. I am sure that whatever is going on, Satan is behind it. The devil is always trying to mess up things that the Lord has ordained as His. 3ABN is a God centered station and carried the 3 Angels Message around the world to those in need. This always make the devil angry.

I hope this answers your questions and we pray that the Lord will truly bless you. May you feel the presence of Jesus as you study and pray.

In His service,
Melissa Martin
Sacramento Central SDA Church
Secretary / Clerk

I guess she assumed that all the confusion was just about his marriage. hmmm...
When one is on 3ABN day in/out and actually hosts several sessions of this commandment gig, how disconnected are you?

By the way, online you can no longer get the program info or any of the other on-line stuff you used to get, including history, old radio, tv and on-line shows to play at one's leisure. If they aren't broke, then they definitely have some cutbacks.

And the devil thing...In the end will all these folks say the devil made them do it? Even Flip knew that was a lie when he said it!

Posted by: watchbird May 8 2006, 06:40 AM

QUOTE(4reneyonly @ May 8 2006, 01:55 AM)

Interesting. I did some questioning about this myself. I contacted Sacramento Central church via e-mail to check Pastor Batchelor's views on the 3ABN matter.

Date: Sat, May 06, 2006 12:12 am
To: <office@saccentral.org>

Message for: Pastoral Staff

Contact Me by: Email

Subject: Connection with 3ABN

Message:
Is Pastor Doug still affiliated with 3ABN programing? I am concerned that such might not be a good thing due to all the current confusion going on there. What is Pastor's feelings about this? Does he have a published statement? I am sure I am not the first to ask this question
Hello ******,

Actually you are the first. I am not sure what confusion you are talking about. I am unaware of any confusion going on at 3ABN. If you are referring to Danny Shelton getting remarried, you can check out the 3ABN website for any details surrounding that topic.

Pastor Doug has never had any direct connection to 3ABN other than a genuine and wonderful friendship with Danny Shelton; and 3ABN carries Amazing Facts programs all the time. I am sure that whatever is going on, Satan is behind it. The devil is always trying to mess up things that the Lord has ordained as His. 3ABN is a God centered station and carried the 3 Angels Message around the world to those in need. This always make the devil angry.

I hope this answers your questions and we pray that the Lord will truly bless you. May you feel the presence of Jesus as you study and pray.

In His service,
Melissa Martin
Sacramento Central SDA Church
Secretary / Clerk

.ooks like a form letter to me. I simply can't believe that you are really the "first". Interesting that she vould connect your question to Danny's remarriage rather than to the satellite problems or any other ›roblems past or present.

Posted by: Panama_Pete May 8 2006, 06:54 AM

QUOTE(watchbird @ May 8 2006, 07:40 AM)

Looks like a form letter to me. I simply can't believe that you are really the "first". Interesting that she would connect your question to Danny's remarriage rather than to the satellite problems or any other problems past or present.

f you call Melissa back and make it known that Linda Shelton is available to speak at churches, I ;uspect there could be some awareness, especially with the Sky Angel problem at the moment.

Mention that Linda is available to speak in churches. Perhaps, the members of ıttp://www.saccentral.org/ would enjoy Linda's presentation and receive a blessing from it.

\ moderator on a different forum said that http://www.lindashelton.org spoke at another location this ›ast weekend. This time in Kansas.

'eople who want to avail themselves of this ministry can contact ıttp://www.lindashelton.orgat her Website,

ıttp://www.lindashelton.org

Posted by: 4reneyonly May 8 2006, 03:26 PM

Once my finals are over (this week), I will do so. I don't live too far from the church, so I may drop in one Sabbath, or for a bible study/prayer meeting. I would not go to be disruptive or confrontive, I would just like to have a sense of the man away from the television lights. I enjoy his teachings, but I know that what one presents on television is not always the same as the everyday person. I'd like to get a sense of who he is with his church members. This might tell me more about him then any e-mail from the secretary/clerk. (I am a licensed professional that deals with people and their behaviors . I spent a number of years writings psychiatric holds, so I am trained to make assessments about people pretty quickly and efficiently. And usually over a long period of time I've found that the initial assessment rarely varied from their history, or their future behavior.) I'd just like to see for myself.

I've found that sometimes people don't really want to know what's going on with their associates when doing so may severely affect their level of comfort-money, status, glow of association, etc. It takes courage to say that even if all those 'perks' may suffer, I'm, going to disassociate myself from questionable behavior and a ministry that appears to have questionable practices. I'd have more respect for those who even do so until such time as things improve.

Posted by: beartrap May 8 2006, 09:28 PM

QUOTE(4reneyonly @ May 8 2006, 04:26 PM)

Once my finals are over (this week), I will do so. I don't live too far from the church, so I may drop in one Sabbath, or for a bible study/prayer meeting. I would not go to be disruptive or confrontive, I would just like to have a sense of the man away from the television lights. I enjoy his teachings, but I know that what one presents on television is not always the same as the everyday person. I'd like to get a sense of who he is with his church members. This might tell me more about him then any e-mail from the secretary/clerk. (I am a licensed professional that deals with people and their behaviors . I spent a number of years writings psychiatric holds, so I am trained to make assessments about people pretty quickly and efficiently. And usually over a long period of time I've found that the initial assessment rarely varied from their history, or their future behavior.) I'd just like to see for myself.

I've found that sometimes people don't really want to know what's going on with their associates when doing so may severely affect their level of comfort-money, status, glow of association, etc. It takes courage to say that even if all those 'perks' may suffer, I'm, going to disassociate myself from questionable behavior and a ministry that appears to have questionable practices. I'd have more respect for those who even do so until such time as things improve.

Wish you'd come to Thompsonville sometime. Some professional, onsite assesment would be helpful.

Posted by: Clay May 18 2006, 10:43 AM closed....

Posted by: Clay Jul 5 2006, 05:21 PM

ttt.... Kuzma in her response to me said her role was not that of counselor..... what do you make of that?

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 5 2006, 05:57 PM

She can't be both - act as a counselor and "not" act as a counselor.

JMO

Posted by: Clay Jul 5 2006, 09:25 PM

QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jul 5 2006, 05:57 PM)

She can't be both - act as a counselor and "not" act as a counselor.

JMO

ı double minded man is unstable in all his ways..... thats in the bible.....

Posted by: awesumtenor Jul 6 2006, 07:02 AM

QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 5 2006, 07:21 PM)

ttt.... Kuzma in her response to me said her role was not that of counselor..... what do you make of that?

\pples and oranges...you are asking about her role in the Shelton v. Shelton saga specifically, based)n Danny's statement that she and Mark Finley were involved as 'counselors', IIRC...it was his lropping her name in an attempt to show the lengths he allegedly went to to save his marriage that)rought her up in the first place and most felt neither of them coulb be impartial because both were)eholden to Danny by their receiving remuneration from 3ABN; she replied regarding why she receives he aforementioned checks...even though the role she plays on shows and in the columns and books ;he writes does make her one who offers counsel on family and marital matters and it is that role vhich made her name worth dropping so Danny's lie would have more credibility.

n His Service,
Mr. J

Posted by: watchbird Jul 6 2006, 08:05 AM

QUOTE(awesumtenor @ Jul 6 2006, 07:02 AM)

Apples and oranges...you are asking about her role in the Shelton v. Shelton saga specifically, based on Danny's statement that she and Mark Finley were involved as 'counselors', IIRC...it was his dropping her name in an attempt to show the lengths he allegedly went to to save his marriage that brought her up in the first place and most felt neither of them coulb be impartial because both were beholden to Danny by their receiving remuneration from 3ABN; she replied regarding why she receives the aforementioned checks...even though the role she plays on shows and in the columns and books she writes does make her one who offers counsel on family and marital matters and it is that role which made her name worth dropping so Danny's lie would have more credibility.

In His Service,
Mr. J

/ery much agreed. Last night when I should have been sleeping, I read through the old letters from)anny and Kay that Clay was relating to. And it seemed to me that he, like I think most of us did, put)ur own concept of what a "counselor" would be and do on what Danny said--and what was said by he Chairman of the Board. In our world a "counselor" first listens, then probes to learn what lies)ehind the "presenting problems", and only then makes a professional assessment of what is best and/or possible) in that particular situation and begins gently working the client around to facing and iguring out how to deal with the problem.

But we've had two years now to watch and listen as the stories have developed and even the wording of the Chairman of the Board's letters have become more specific, so it is obvious that this was NOT the interpretation of "counseling" that Danny or the Board Committee put on the word. They have been quite explicit in recent statements that their use of that word was in the sense of giving directives rather than in "counseling" as we understand the term.

Notice the context of the use of the word "counseling" as well as the descriptions of the actions of the Committee in the most recent letter from Thompson that is being sent out to inquirers.

> QUOTE
>
> During this time I and a small committee of the board had a number of sessions with Linda, encouraging her to break off the relationship that was ruining her home and putting a serious strain on the ministry. Pastor John L. was one of the first to counsel Linda. From the start, before meeting with Danny and Linda together he warned Linda that what she was doing was wrong, and must stop. He then spent hours counseling the two of them together.

And also notice the way this same letter describes the reason for including Kay.

> QUOTE
>
> Our committee of the board invited a lady friend of Linda's to sit with us, thinking that, being a woman, she would be able to make Linda comfortable. As soon as she heard Linda's story, she confided to Linda that she was wrong, and needed to correct the problem.

So I think what we should maybe take from Kay Kuzma's statement that "her role was not that of counselor". is that she was at least professional enough to recognize that the role she had played was that of "messenger" working at the direction of the board, and truly was not in a role which is normally designated as "counselor".

So I think we should give her some plus marks for honesty. Of course, we could also observe that her columns of "advice" also do not sound like they were based on sound counseling principles. So whether she actually ever does take a real "counselor" role, or whether she is only seminar and column stuff---that is still an open question, at least to me.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jul 6 2006, 12:18 PM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jul 6 2006, 09:05 AM)
>
> Very much agreed. Last night when I should have been sleeping, I read through the old letters from Danny and Kay that Clay was relating to. And it seemed to me that he, like I think most of us did, put our own concept of what a "counselor" would be and do on what Danny said--and what was said by the Chairman of the Board. In our world a "counselor" first listens, then probes to learn what lies behind the "presenting problems", and only then makes a professional assessment of what is best (and/or possible) in that particular situation and begins gently working the client around to facing and figuring out how to deal with the problem.
>
> But we've had two years now to watch and listen as the stories have developed and even the wording of the Chairman of the Board's letters have become more specific, so it is obvious that this was NOT the interpretation of "counseling" that Danny or the Board Committee put on the word. They have been quite explicit in recent statements that their use of that word was in the sense of giving directives rather than in "counseling" as we understand the term.
>
> Notice the context of the use of the word "counseling" as well as the descriptions of the actions of the Committee in the most recent letter from Thompson that is being sent out to inquirers.

And also notice the way this same letter describes the reason for including Kay.

So I think what we should maybe take from Kay Kuzma's statement that "her role was not that of counselor". is that she was at least professional enough to recognize that the role she had played was that of "messenger" working at the direction of the board, and truly was not in a role which is normally designated as "counselor".

So I think we should give her some plus marks for honesty. Of course, we could also observe that her columns of "advice" also do not sound like they were based on sound counseling principles. So whether she actually ever does take a real "counselor" role, or whether she is only seminar and column stuff---that is still an open question, at least to me.

Ay memory may be a bit foggy here, since it was so long ago, but I seem to recall that when Loma .inda University Medical Center was having their "baboon-baby-heart" media crisis, some of the phone :alls to the Medical Center were channeled to Kay Kuzma's extension. I seem to recall a Loma Linda ›ress release with Kay Kuzma's phone number on it. You can correct me if I'm wrong. As I said, Baby ·aye and the baboon heart crisis was quite some time ago.

n a more recent case elsewhere, I suspect it was a defective condom, not a defective heart, that ›recipitated a crisis.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 6 2006, 03:49 PM

QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 5 2006, 10:25 PM)

a double minded man is unstable in all his ways..... thats in the bible.....

..and per her actions - "counselor or not" she is unstable. Whether it was a "friend" relationship, a insider" tip, "therapist" work, or "counseling" she was wrong, unethical, and unstable. Why tell nformation that makes both parties look bad/worse/stupid? That's not for the good of anyone.

...and her books are a hot mess - JMO

QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jul 6 2006, 01:18 PM)

.....In a more recent case elsewhere, I suspect it was a defective condom, not a defective heart, that precipitated a crisis.

I think you are closer than we may ever know..... what you do in the dark comes out in the light...eventually.

Posted by: Clay Jul 7 2006, 01:26 PM

QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jul 6 2006, 12:18 PM)

In a more recent case elsewhere, I suspect it was a defective condom, not a defective heart, that precipitated a crisis.

I guess its safe to say there were no ummmm witnesses to this defect..... (sorry I am just having a silly friday....)

Perhaps a Maury show is in order?

IPB Image

Whose the father.....

Posted by: Hersheys99 Jul 7 2006, 02:20 PM

rofl

But at the rate they are going they might really need to be on this show instead!!
http://www.jerryspringertv.com/

Posted by: Jvat Jul 7 2006, 09:44 PM

Brethren, it is true that we can laugh at this to ease the tension but this is surely a serious state of affairs, indeed!!! Can u imagine????!!!!

Posted by: beartrap Jul 8 2006, 12:10 AM

QUOTE(Jvat @ Jul 7 2006, 10:44 PM)

Brethren, it is true that we can laugh at this to ease the tension but this is surely a serious state of affairs, indeed!!! Can u imagine????!!!!

rofl State of AFFAIRS, indeed! Don't care to imagine.

Posted by: Hersheys99 Jul 8 2006, 01:33 AM

Beartrap good to see you back have missed seeing you post the last few weeks.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 8 2006, 09:52 AM

QUOTE(Jvat @ Jul 7 2006, 10:44 PM)

Brethren, it is true that we can laugh at this to ease the tension but this is surely a serious state of affairs, indeed!!! Can u imagine????!!!!

You said.....

AFFAIRS!

Posted by: Fran Jul 8 2006, 12:36 PM

QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jul 8 2006, 09:52 AM)

You said.....

AFFAIRS!

Shouldn't that be many, many, many, states of Affairs? Just a valid question.

Posted by: watchbird Jul 8 2006, 01:00 PM

QUOTE(Jvat @ Jul 7 2006, 09:44 PM)

Brethren, it is true that we can laugh at this to ease the tension but this is surely a serious state of affairs, indeed!!! Can u imagine????!!!!

QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jul 8 2006, 09:52 AM)

You said.....AFFAIRS!

QUOTE(Fran @ Jul 8 2006, 12:36 PM)

Shouldn't that be many, many, many, states of Affairs? Just a valid question.

That would be one way of looking at it. But one state, many affairs works also. Jvat said "state of affairs". Maybe she just didn't bother with capitalization. (Think Pope/Vatican/Rome/Italy)

Now try Papa, 3ABN, State of Affairs, Ill.

Posted by: Jvat Jul 8 2006, 11:36 PM

As Princess DrDre loves to say, this is a hot mess! Clever folks, very clever. That's why we all love BlackSDA!

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 9 2006, 11:57 AM

QUOTE(Jvat @ Jul 9 2006, 01:36 AM)

As Princess DrDre loves to say, this is a hot mess! Clever folks, very clever. That's why we all love BlackSDA!

You used "hot mess" correctly....

I'm proud of you!

Carry on!

Posted by: summertime Jul 9 2006, 01:29 PM

QUOTE(Hersheys99 @ Jul 8 2006, 02:33 AM)

Beartrap good to see you back have missed seeing you post the last few weeks.

I, too, am glad to see you posting again. Where have you been hiding? You have been missed.

Posted by: beartrap Jul 9 2006, 05:52 PM

QUOTE(summertime @ Jul 9 2006, 02:29 PM)

I, too, am glad to see you posting again. Where have you been hiding? You have been missed.

Thanks. Been very busy with some transitions in career and location.

Posted by: Jvat Jul 9 2006, 07:40 PM

Thank you so much PDD, you are so kind and gracious. I am learning well, aren't I?

Posted by: LadyTenor Jul 9 2006, 07:53 PM

Ya'll are crazy!!!!!

Posted by: Johann Jul 9 2006, 11:15 PM

QUOTE(LadyTenor @ Jul 10 2006, 03:53 AM)

Ya'll are crazy!!!!!

Are those legal terms?

Powered by Invision Power Board (http://www.invisionboard.com)
© Invision Power Services (http://www.invisionpower.com)

215

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ When Christians Go Bad....a 3abn Spin-off

Posted by: Clay May 4 2006, 09:09 AM

Discussing the 3ABN situation got me to thinking... why do we permit people who claim to be christian mistreat us so? After we see their true colors why do we continue to allow them to mistreat us?

I know we have all been in that situation before, not necessarily at 3ABN, but in other dealings, so what is it in us that allows this treatment, when we would not tolerate it from people who we think are not religious or christian?

Posted by: sonshineonme May 4 2006, 09:29 AM

QUOTE(Clay @ May 4 2006, 07:09 AM)

Discussing the 3ABN situation got me to thinking... why do we permit people who claim to be christian mistreat us so? After we see their true colors why do we continue to allow them to mistreat us?

I know we have all been in that situation before, not necessarily at 3ABN, but in other dealings, so what is it in us that allows this treatment, when we would not tolerate it from people who we think are not religious or christian?

Two reasons I can think of - and yes, this is from personal experience. I got SQUASHED in SDA community, and when I had the right (legally) to do something about it, what was put in my face was FEAR if I did. So Fear.

The other reason; the idea we were taught (at least I was) that you should "turn the other cheek", "let it go and let God deal with it". That if you somehow stand up for yourself, you will just drag innocent people into it.

I can tell you that since that time, the people involved have not changed. In fact, even worse, the people CLAIMED to have changed, to maneuver themsleves back to their powerful positions, then people found there was no change at all. I can't help thinking maybe I should have taken legal action. You try to think of the people you can protect in the future by doing something now.

To me it's always difficult to know WHAT God would like us to do in these kinds of situations. I wish those things would get "un-muddied" and made clear. Especially if you are very concerned about doing the right thing.

Even though I have been through it, I still find myself unsure on how and when to call things as they are, without feeling I might be ruining God's plan of taking care of it.

Posted by: statrei May 4 2006, 09:32 AM

QUOTE(sonshineonme @ May 4 2006, 10:29 AM)

Even though I have been through it, I still find myself unsure on how and when to call things as they are, without feeling I might be ruining God's plan of taking care of it.

The Creator's plan (I'd better be a good atheist) of taking care of circumstances was to give us that grey matter with which we can figure out what the next step should be. If he/she did not want us to think we would not have been made with functioning brains.

Posted by: sonshineonme May 4 2006, 09:45 AM

QUOTE(statrei @ May 4 2006, 07:32 AM)

The Creator's plan (I'd better be a good atheist) of taking care of circumstances was to give us that grey matter with which we can figure out what the next step should be. If he/she did not want us to think we would not have been made with functioning brains.

Funny you should mention brains. That's exactly WHY I was so careful to do the "right" thing. Using my brain, I went beyond just trusting my emotions - when, by the way, in these situations are extremely intense, running crazy with pain of rejection, shock, unbelief and are being minipulated. Exactly why you need help at those times on what to do. Well, when you are ALONE and no one to direct you, or if you only have a few people around and you are not sure of their friendship and true intentions, even then it is hard to know what God would have a person to do. I suppose I couldn't hear Him very well, or I did hear Him very well and did what He wanted of me, I just don't see the instant results - Y E T.

It's always easy to tell someone what they should have done, walk a mile in someones shoes and you will want to give them their shoes back. It would be nice to have the support of Christians at the time to stand with you and make sure things are done. Often, that is not what happens. Maybe that is what God is waiting for us to learn. To shout together when we see wrong being done. Maybe that was one of the reasons for having a group of deciples, instead of only 1 or 2 or 3.

Posted by: Clay May 4 2006, 09:50 AM so in essence are you saying that sometimes we get into a mess and then have no idea how to get out of it? And in those times it would be good to have a support system to help us through the rough spots?

I don't think we are ever alone even though we feel that we are... and it is my belief that God uses those times to show us that He is there.... but I could be wrong...

Posted by: sonshineonme May 4 2006, 10:06 AM

QUOTE(Clay @ May 4 2006, 07:50 AM)

so in essence are you saying that sometimes we get into a mess and then have no idea how to get out of it? And in those times it would be good to have a support system to help us through the rough spots?

I don't think we are ever alone even though we feel that we are... and it is my belief that God uses those times to show us that He is there.... but I could be wrong...

God used that time. He never left me, in spite of some of my thinking that I "must be a horrible person if everyone is treating me this way". God did put ONE pastor (and I knew many and worked with many who all either judged me without any information or talking to me, or they simply neglected and ignored me) in my path at just the right time - He had just brought this pastor to the community. He help me with my thinking as well as the pain I was dealing with because of the christian" treatment I was going through. This saved me, God saved me.

What I wish would have happend was that if this Christian community had been the Christians they claim to be, my pain would have been much less. Going through a divorce in an SDA community leads to all kinds of surprises. What I found was people made judgments based on NO information. And what information they had was "rumor" mill. I found that people didn't care if it was correct or not. Some based it on how others treated me. So sad, very painful.

Posted by: Hersheys99 May 4 2006, 10:09 AM

QUOTE

so in essence are you saying that sometimes we get into a mess and then have no idea how to get out of it? And in those times it would be good to have a support system to help us through the rough spots?

I don't think we are ever alone even though we feel that we are... and it is my belief that God uses those times to show us that He is there.... but I could be wrong...

That is true that God does use these situations, whether they be of our own making or something that has just happened in our lives, to let us know we aren't alone. BUT sometimes we just need support from others to help ease our burdens, pain, etc. that only human contact can seem to help with. Not that we don't trust God by any means.

You know what is really sad to me is when churches get up & talk in SS or church of being friendly, etc. to their members or guests even but then its only "superficial". I know that you should go to church to hear the message but on the other hand when you leave that church feeling more lonely or just as lonely as when you went & this is time after time there is a problem. So far that I have yet to find a church near me that meets all my needs.

Posted by: statrei May 4 2006, 10:12 AM

QUOTE(Clay @ May 4 2006, 10:50 AM)

I don't think we are ever alone even though we feel that we are... and it is my belief that God uses those times to show us that He is there.... but I could be wrong...

The God does not "use" anything. He/She is there. It is not his/her fault that we forget that. When we come to our senses it is just that; we came to our senses. We make the Creator sound like an opportunistic manipulator.

Posted by: Clay May 4 2006, 10:13 AM

QUOTE(Hersheys99 @ May 4 2006, 10:09 AM)

That is true that God does use these situations, whether they be of our own making or something that has just happened in our lives, to let us know we aren't alone. BUT sometimes we just need support from others to help ease our burdens, pain, etc. that only human contact can seem to help with. Not that we don't trust God by any means.

You know what is really sad to me is when churches get up & talk in SS or church of being friendly, etc. to their members or guests even but then its only "superficial". I know that you should go to church to hear the message but on the other hand when you leave that church feeling more lonely or just as lonely as when you went & this is time after time there is a problem. So far that I have yet to find a church near me that meets all my needs.

why do we expect that of church? Have you ever really found your needs met in church? I choose my friends carefully... they meet the needs that I have, and if I am in trouble I know I can call on them... my friends may or may not go to my church..... so do you think our expectations are unrealistic and that sets us up for problems?

Posted by: statrei May 4 2006, 10:18 AM

QUOTE(Hersheys99 @ May 4 2006, 11:09 AM)

You know what is really sad to me is when churches get up & talk in SS or church of being friendly, etc. to their members or guests even but then its only "superficial". I know that you should go to church to hear the message but on the other hand when you leave that church feeling more lonely or just as lonely as when you went & this is time after time there is a problem.

Wrong. You should go to church for fellowship. You can hear the voice of the God anytime and anywhere.

QUOTE(Clay @ May 4 2006, 11:13 AM) so do you think our expectations are unrealistic and that sets us up for problems?

It is the idea that the church is a place to find the Creator that is messed up.

Posted by: Hersheys99 May 4 2006, 10:29 AM

QUOTE

why do we expect that of church? Have you ever really found your needs met in church? I choose my friends carefully... they meet the needs that I have, and if I am in trouble I know I can call on them... my friends may or may not go to my church..... so do you think our expectations are unrealistic and that sets us up for problems?

Yes I was in a church like that. It was a really close knit bunch & not just little groups here & there that excluded others. But unfortunately that church is no longer together but it was due to the behind the scenes stuff that was going on with the pastor in charge. It was not a conference church.

It is really hard cause we live in the boonies & its like 25 miles to any towns. My husband is disabled & there are days I literally can't leave him alone because of the meds he is on, etc. Also I have 4 kids under 11 down to 3. To get a break from it all I have to go to town on one of hubby's' good days so he is capable of keeping an eye on the kids (just being awake to help out) but then its just to do my weekly shopping. I only have one real life friend in the area as we moved here 10 years ago & the one friend I have is from the church we were attending. She is busy with her own life & she works so we don't get together very often at all.

So hence the reason I would like to find a church where I can find friends that share some of the same beliefs I do & to have some other adult conversation with. But so far I haven't found that. I have attended the same church off & on for about 2 years & like I said I feel more lonely than before I went & that is sad. SO if they aren't going to offer real fellowship then why go? I can get just as much from my own studying, etc. at home as I can going to church. I haven't been in like 2 months or more this time & not even so much as a card, phone call or anything to see how I'm doing. So makes me wonder when you do go & they say "oh we have missed you" Yea right!!

Posted by: Clay May 4 2006, 11:16 AM so then is it really surprising that our church friends are no where to be found when we are being mistreated by "christians?" Even Jesus' disciples scattered when the heat was on....

What makes us stay in those situations though as opposed to saying, enough is enough I am outta here?

Posted by: sister May 4 2006, 11:25 AM

x ofl

Beartrap, check your .com email address

Sorry, folks, I am the one that is off topic, please forgive me.

Sister

Posted by: Clay May 4 2006, 11:34 AM

QUOTE(sister @ May 4 2006, 12:25 PM)

> ofl
> Beartrap, check your .com email address
>
> Sorry, folks, I am the one that is off topic, please forgive me.
>
> Sister

hats what PMs are for.... you get a freebie this time...

Posted by: beartrap May 4 2006, 11:36 AM

Sorry, my fault. the PM box was full. ofl

Ok, back to topic.

Posted by: princessdi May 4 2006, 11:40 AM

Your PM box was full? Wow!!! you be popular!!!

> QUOTE(beartrap @ May 4 2006, 09:36 AM)
>
> Sorry, my fault. the PM box was full. ofl
>
> Ok, back to topic.

Posted by: beartrap May 4 2006, 11:41 AM

This is an interesting question, Clay, and it is relevant in more areas than just groups and churches, it is also in many homes. There are many women and men who live year after year with someone who heaps abuse on them regularly, yet they stay and do nothing substantive about it.

Some of us have done the same thing in living under an abusive cult leader. More often than not, we have even idolized the person abusing us. We have viewed him in a godlike way. We get so used to unquestioning obedience that when told to do things that common sense would forbid, we just do it. We take the abuse and feel that somehow we don't deserve any better. To question his words and actions is tantamount to questioning God. When we start allowing ourselves to think and be concerned about it, we become afraid for so many reasons that we just try to block it from our minds and stay on the "straight and narrow" that we have been told to stay on.

It is a rather complex psychological issue that, on the surface, makes no sense at all.

Posted by: Clay May 4 2006, 11:47 AM

QUOTE

It is a rather complex psychological issue that, on the surface, makes no sense at all.

which is why I posed the question.... perhaps we can help free someone from this mindset that makes no sense.... why are we comfortable with allowing someone else to think for us? Is that a by-product of fundamental religion?

Why are some of us afraid to question what is preached or taught? and lastly what is it about our leaders that we idolize them so?

Posted by: statrei May 4 2006, 11:52 AM

QUOTE(Clay @ May 4 2006, 01:47 PM)

which is why I posed the question.... perhaps we can help free someone from this mindset that makes no sense.... why are we comfortable with allowing someone else to think for us? Is that a by-product of fundamental religion?

Why are some of us afraid to question what is preached or taught? and lastly what is it about our leaders that we idolize them so?

It is a by-product of the central myth of religion that only a few of us are qualified to speak with the gods on behalf of the rest of us.

Posted by: beartrap May 4 2006, 12:09 PM

In general we tend to prefer a study in which there are definitive points. We like to look it over and see exactly what decisions where made when. Unfortunately, the defining points in this conundrum are mostly nebulous. In the group dynamic, as it relates to the leader, my own experience is that over time I became convinced that I was now a part of something much bigger than me and I no longer had any personal value. My only value was in successfully filling my place in the group, and pleasing the leader. This had to come at the expense of everything that was "me." Understand that I did not come in with that attitude, it was encouraged and propagated over time. I don't ever recall a point in time where I consciously came to that conclusion. I have since found that this is a common experience for people who find themselves in volluntary subjection to another person or group.

Posted by: Clay May 4 2006, 12:30 PM

QUOTE(beartrap @ May 4 2006, 12:09 PM)

In general we tend to prefer a study in which there are definitive points. We like to look it over and see exactly what decisions where made when. Unfortunately, the defining points in this conundrum are mostly nebulous. In the group dynamic, as it relates to the leader, my own experience is that over time I became convinced that I was now a part of something much bigger than me and I no longer had any personal value. My only value was in successfully filling my place in the group, and pleasing the leader. This had to come at the expense of everything that was "me." Understand that I did not come in with that attitude, it was encouraged and propagated over time. I don't ever recall a point in time where I consciously came to that conclusion. I have since found that this is a > common experience for people who find themselves in volluntary subjection to another person or group.

vhich is what happens in "cults." At what point do you think you stopped thinking for yourself?

Posted by: beartrap May 4 2006, 12:49 PM

> QUOTE(Clay @ May 4 2006, 12:30 PM)
>
> which is what happens in "cults." At what point do you think you stopped thinking for yourself?

don't know. I can't think of any particular point where that happened. I believe that it happened little ›y little. I think that if it had to happen all at once, it wouldn't have happened at all.

Posted by: Clay May 4 2006, 12:55 PM

> QUOTE(beartrap @ May 4 2006, 12:49 PM)
>
> I don't know. I can't think of any particular point where that happened. I believe that it happened little by little. I think that if it had to happen all at once, it wouldn't have happened at all.

;o then it happened gradually, until you felt afraid to have independent thoughts? I think those who vere and are at 3abn need to watch a movie.... "Diary of a Mad Black Woman" it deals with how we sometimes get caught up and lose who we are, and how we can become liberated...

I understand it happens... but we cannot allow anyone to do our thinking..... its the very thing that God blessed us with..... the ability to think.....

Posted by: beartrap May 4 2006, 01:16 PM

In Christianity we are often encouraged by words to think and study for ourselves, but the fine print governing the spirit of that encouragement disallows any real measure of independence of thought and direction in our study. We are given guidelines established by accepted doctrine, and this sets the stage for a walk down that slippery psychological path. Once we become established in that mindset, we are able to tell ourselves that in walking away from convention, we are thinking independently. One way of walking away from convention is in giving yourself over to a group that stands out from the rest of society, and is better than them. In becoming a part of that group, and in giving yourself over to the leader, you shed the vestiges of convention, give up all of those things that would make you inferior like the outside people, and in allowing yourself to be controlled completely by the leader you remove from yourself the burden of deciding between right and wrong. As long as you do as you are told by the man through whom God speaks, you can share in his spiritual superiority.

Posted by: Clay May 4 2006, 01:28 PM

a favorite quote of mine.....

QUOTE

Question everything. Every stripe, every star, every word spoken. Everything. --Ernest J. Gaines

What you say is true Bear, I believe the corrective to that is to question.... and be willing to question even the supposed "superiority." Human history is filled with too many horror stories of those in groups who felt superior and what happened to them...

I also believe there is a common element that is shared with women who are in abusive relationships, that is the man attempts to become the only source of information, he isolates the woman from friends and family, and then convinces her that he is her only hope.....

the corrective is to question everything....

Posted by: beanchild May 4 2006, 01:41 PM

QUOTE(Hersheys99 @ May 4 2006, 12:29 PM)

...So makes me wonder when you do go & they say "oh we have missed you" Yea right!!

you speak the truth. and i laugh because i've been in that sort of situation.

but what do you want them to do? be honest that they didn't realize you hadn't been there?? right.

...when i want fellowship, i hang out with the heathen. i certainly don't go to church for that sort of thing. what a crazy idea.

QUOTE(Clay @ May 4 2006, 01:16 PM)

...
What makes us stay in those situations though as opposed to saying, enough is enough I am outta here?

i think someone else said: fear. i second that. i do think that a good part of folk stay because if they don't, they believe they are going to hell. & eternal damnation isn't such a pleasant destination. at least in my mind it isn't. ...although i guess i wouldn't ever have to wear heavy clothes...

Posted by: Clay May 4 2006, 02:04 PM

QUOTE(beanchild @ May 4 2006, 02:41 PM)

you speak the truth. and i laugh because i've been in that sort of situation.

but what do you want them to do? be honest that they didn't realize you hadn't been there?? right.

...when i want fellowship, i hang out with the heathen. i certainly don't go to church for that sort of thing. what a crazy idea.
i think someone else said: fear. i second that. i do think that a good part of folk stay because if they don't, they believe they are going to hell. & eternal damnation isn't such a pleasant destination. at least in my mind it isn't. ...although i guess i wouldn't ever have to wear heavy clothes...

hen hell it is... cause there is no need to stay where there is no genuine love.... let's not pretend... vhen you don't go to church and no one calls, don't be hurt, if you were important they would call.... ınd we all know you dont have to go to church to meet God...

Posted by: PaperTigers May 4 2006, 02:18 PM

I agree with Bear, sometimes we get so caught up in what's going on and in what they are saying.. that we loose a sense of ourselves and even sometimes, for a while, our own sense of right and wrong. We get in a situation where we allow others to think for us for so long that to think for ourselves almost becomes unheard of.

Posted by: beanchild May 4 2006, 02:26 PM

QUOTE(Clay @ May 4 2006, 03:04 PM)

then hell it is... cause there is no need to stay where there is no genuine love.... let's not pretend... when you don't go to church and no one calls, don't be hurt, if you were important they would call.... and we all know you dont have to go to church to meet God...

rue. but ouch, could you at least have minced some more words??

Posted by: Clay May 4 2006, 02:29 PM

QUOTE(beanchild @ May 4 2006, 02:26 PM)

true. but ouch, could you at least have minced some more words??

eality bean my child, reality.....

Posted by: Prisca May 4 2006, 07:22 PM

QUOTE(Clay @ May 4 2006, 05:16 PM)

so then is it really surprising that our church friends are no where to be found when we are being mistreated by "christians?" Even Jesus' disciples scattered when the heat was on....

What makes us stay in those situations though as opposed to saying, enough is enough I am outta here?

Ve believe we should love our 'neighbors' MORE than we love ourselves.

Posted by: NormF May 4 2006, 11:06 PM

QUOTE(Clay @ May 4 2006, 01:28 PM)

a favorite quote of mine.....
What you say is true Bear, I believe the corrective to that is to question.... and be willing to question even the supposed "superiority." Human history is filled with too many horror stories of those in groups who felt superior and what happened to them...

I also believe there is a common element that is shared with women who are in abusive relationships, that is the man attempts to become the only source of information, he isolates the woman from friends and family, and then convinces her that he is her only hope.....

the corrective is to question everything....

Dear Steve,

hear you.

But as one cognitive, left-brained personality to another (and statrei, this is for you too, as well as any other cognitive-type readers among us), there is a whole lot more to it than just this.

Announcing the corrective is nice, but it's only one baby step past labeling/diagnosing ... and even at hat, just barely. Actually, there are several cognitive approaches that are applicable and useful to victims. And I do grant you that cognitive solutions are helpful for some people and in some situations; but for even the most thoroughly left-brained among us, that's often still inadequate, because of the all-pervasive nature of what happens while being in such situations. And especially for hose victims who work at life from the right brain, they are frequently woefully inadequate. The emotions and the subconscious levels of the mind require much else that cognitive interventions alone cannot reach. I grew up in a home with a psychopathic parent. I know. And I fear this is exactly what ve're dealing with here for many of these folk among our members. The only significant difference is hat this is a work situation instead of a home one.

The psychiatric profession has called this condition in perpetrators by several names over the years -- psychopathy, sociopathy, and antisocial personality disorder (APD). It traces way back through the years though, to Freud's time and before. Historically, the names developed over the years arose in he order I just gave. But regardless of name, they all describe the same condition ... this is one of hose things where "a rose is a rose is a rose" (substitute "mess" or "stink" for the flower name, if you vill).

Curiously enough, the old terminology has not been entirely abandoned for this condition. Some professionals today differentiate degree by using one label over another. For example, extreme cases are called psychopathic (ala Hitchcock murder stories, as a widely known example), milder ones get one of the other names. However, there is not full agreement on the labelling within the profession. So you can expect to see the labels/diagnoses used interchangeably, even by them.

Between those professionals who choose to continue to use one or the other of the older names in an all-inclusive way, to the exclusion of the other two they don't like, and those who use all three names or sometimes just two of the three!) as a way of labelling degree, it can be very confusing to the uninitiated. Therefore, in the literature, one must go by context as a case is discussed, if you want to know for sure where you're at in a given discussion. (With this in mind, I'm thinking it may also behoove us here, as we post, to make our word choices clear when we're discussing this subject.) Believe me though, by whatever name you call it, NONE of it is sweet.

Regardless of this naming problem, we are dealing here with a very complex, powerful subject. Such personalities are very incomprehensible to most others, and to themselves ... and just plain extremely difficult to live with or work under. That's putting it very gently. These personalities are invariably in deep denial; they just can't see anything wrong with themselves. Let me assure you: if you have not lived with or worked under such a person, it is often just about impossible for you to fathom its depth or understand the range of things it does to an individual as they try to cope with living with such a person. And it takes a very long time once you're out from under it (you as a victim) to come to grips with where you've been and learn how to deal with your history and get on with your life. (As for the naming, for my part, I tend to refer to it simply as psychopathy, inclusive of all its forms, and use description rather than labelling to differentiate degree.)

It is not for nothing that examples like Jim Jones, Heaven's Gate, and David Koresh have been offered here as comparisons. The Koolaid brigade, fireballs, and other forms of self-destruction, great and small, all-encompassing or minor, are the sad results ... and much too often, it's the former ones, the biggies. If you've been there/done that, such examples are oh-so-telling. They click with you right off the bat.

Please understand, the people who have had the courage to speak publicly here as they've been doing recently, even with the anonymity that the Internet provides, are taking a huge step forward to just say anything about where they've been and what they've seen and know. In itself, this is a quantum leap forward. And there is so much more still ahead of them on their journeys. Getting your mind around an entire situation in such cases, and getting back far enough to see the big picture once again, requires earthshaking paradigm shifts that are not easily achieved. And then begins the long, hard process of healing.

One thing more, those persons who have such personality dysfunctions (and this is regardless of which of the three labels are applied to it) have been found to be almost completely untreatable. The worse the affliction, the more untreatable it is, too. To my knowledge, no professionals have yet stepped forward with any meaningful help for them, either with medications or with talk therapies. It is often a progressive disorder too; and if it gets too far gone, radical legal/judicial interventions may be required just to protect society and themselves from it. Notice carefully that I am making a distinction regarding susceptibility to treatment between people who are psychopathic and those around them who've been on the receiving end from them.

By the way, it's important also to note that people who are psychopathic often have other afflictions right along with this one, like megalomania (such as God complexes) and/or others. There is often a cluster effect at work.

Be patient folks if you don't see much change in others (us) immediately, when you announce such solutions as the above. Yes, new thinking can lead to recovery ... granted. But it takes time. Lots of it. And often, much more than just enough time and one therapeutic modality.

More than this, I haven't even begun to address all the other factors in this particular mess that affect what these victims have been through; that's on top of what appear to be its frantic psychological components.

Also, a disclaimer: I'm not a professional therapist nor am I attempting to make online diagnoses of anybody. I do have firsthand knowledge of the condition, and I'm offering advise that may or may not be helpful for some folks (victims) in the situations they find themselves ... plus offering some thoughts for those of us who wish to be helpful to these people who are still caught or have been caught in the past in this maelstrom. But that's all, and nothing more.

God give us courage and strength.

Regards,
Norm

Posted by: Clay May 5 2006, 12:47 AM

Norm,
Understood, having worked in the mental health field for 20 yrs, I have seen more than my share of the folk of which you speak.... the point of this thread and a couple of others that I have started is to foster the process of liberation.... true the path is not easy, however it will be rewarding as people shake off the bonds of that captive mentality which they have lived in for so long..... there is nothing to dishonorable in being a victim, however we do not have to stay a victim... I made the analogy earlier about abused women....and I think the example fits from the standpoint that there are some women who are abused who will still defend the abuser, even return home with him knowing that more abuse will occur... she is literally a prisoner of her mind... a kind of learned helplessness...

This whole thing at 3abn highlights the dangers of adventist colonies, or gluten ghettos as a member here calls them, lifelong denominational employment, and also the danger of believing that the adventist church is the only true church.... think about it.... membership is voluntary, yet people have given the church all this power over their lives.....

we need not ever talk about the mormons, the JWs, or the catholics.... btjm.....

Posted by: NormF May 5 2006, 01:46 AM

Dear Steve,

I thought as much already, but I'm glad you confirmed we are on the same page, friend. Thanks.

It's sad but true: too often we prefer the devil we know to the Divinity we don't. (Overstated extremes of the continuum, to be sure; but the essense of the thing is there.)

Regards,
Norm

Posted by: Clay May 5 2006, 01:49 AM

QUOTE(NormF @ May 5 2006, 01:46 AM)

Dear Steve,

I thought as much already, but I'm glad you confirmed we are on the same page, friend. Thanks.

Regards,
Norm

yes we are.... as i read the comments, this song comes to mind.....

OH, FREEDOM

Oh, freedom, Oh, freedom,
Oh freedom over me.
And before I'd be a slave
I'd be buried in my grave
And go home to my Lord and be free.

Jesus lived and died to free us, yet we allow the words of a serpent to enslave us....

Posted by: HUGGINS130 May 5 2006, 02:00 AM

QUOTE(Clay @ May 4 2006, 10:13 AM)

why do we expect that of church? Have you ever really found your needs met in church? I choose my friends carefully... they meet the needs that I have, and if I am in trouble I know I can call on them... my friends may or may not go to my church..... so do you think our expectations are unrealistic and that sets us up for problems?

Many times the "be in the world but not of the world" clause tossed about in church will have you thinking that you can't have friends outside of the church...they are too worldly remember...what are we as christians doing having friends who are going to drink or go to the club...it's just not supposed to happen... and to answer the question, yes the expectations are unrealistic and that is the problem

QUOTE(Clay @ May 5 2006, 12:47 AM)

Norm,
Understood, having worked in the mental health field for 20 yrs, I have seen more than my share of the folk of which you speak.... the point of this thread and a couple of others that I have started is to foster the process of liberation.... true the path is not easy, however it will be rewarding as people shake off the bonds of that captive mentality which they have lived in for so long..... there is nothing to dishonorable in being a victim, however we do not have to stay a victim... I made the analogy earlier about abused women....and I think the example fits from the standpoint that there are some women who are abused who will still defend the abuser, even return home with him knowing that more abuse will occur... she is literally a prisoner of her mind... a kind of learned helplessness...

This whole thing at 3abn highlights the dangers of adventist colonies, or gluten ghettos as a member here calls them, lifelong denominational employment, and also the danger of believing that the adventist church is the only true church.... think about it.... membership is voluntary, yet people have given the church all this power over their lives.....

we need not ever talk about the mormons, the JWs, or the catholics.... btjm.....

Clay if you don't mind my assessment...after being in the church for 18 years until moving out of my parents house...and then returning to the church after a hiatus for about 5 years, being in a cult for 5 years before coming into the Adventist church, I didn't realize how captivating the Christian community is...they want power over the mind...it wasn't until I walked away not only from the churches of my youth, and then the Word of Faith movement and Adventism, just these last past few years, that I found true freedom...Religions are manipulative...

Posted by: Clay May 5 2006, 02:03 AM

True Thomas, it often comes down to power and control.... the misuse of texts in the bible, the peddling of guilt, etc... all designed to keep people in line, nonthinking, and unquestioning.... unfortunate....

Posted by: NormF May 5 2006, 02:06 AM

On being in the world but not of it ...
If being Christian is to be salt, and if salt is to put on meat, where should we be? Kind of missing our calling, aren't we?

Regards, Huggins,
Norm

Posted by: Denny May 5 2006, 04:22 AM

Some of us allow ourselves to be spiritually bullied we abuse the text where Paul talks about not taking your brethern to court to mean let them walk all over us to preserve the church's so called good name. How many times have members frowned on the victims of those abused by others in the church, or on the those who blow the whistle on the theif in the church....

Posted by: Clay May 5 2006, 04:52 AM

> QUOTE(Denny @ May 5 2006, 05:22 AM)
>
> Some of us allow ourselves to be spiritually bullied we abuse the text where Paul talks about not taking your brethern to court to mean let them walk all over us to preserve the church's so called good name. How many times have members frowned on the victims of those abused by others in the church, or on the those who blow the whistle on the theif in the church....

some of us need to lose that mindset... tell on them... tell it all.... tell it loudly....

Posted by: Denny May 5 2006, 05:00 AM

> QUOTE(Clay @ May 5 2006, 11:52 AM)
>
> some of us need to lose that mindset... tell on them... tell it all.... tell it loudly....

I agree the de-programming is needed its the same for any abusive relationship until the victim realises she/he is not the bad one they never be mentally free. Jesus saying 'Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free' is not just about bible knowledge as we like to think its about a lifestyle of freedom in Jesus but we don't teach that do we.

Posted by: beartrap May 5 2006, 09:39 AM

One learns that words can mean a lot, but surface value is often often opposite of what the words say. How many times I've heard, "I'm not holding anyone prisoner, they can leave anytime they want", "I'm just a carpenter like Jesus, doing what God has told me to do", "Nobody should just believe everything we teach, they should study for themselves", "Our financial books are open. We are audited every year by an independent auditor, and you'uns are welcome to take a look", "Yes, he/she has done these things and we have all the proof... he/she has even signed this document. Would he/she have signed it if not guilty? If he/she was right and I was wrong? Everyone knows, just ask any of my staff, the pastor, our conference president, and several well respected leaders in Adventist evangelism."

Can anybody actually understand what is behind those words?

Posted by: Clay May 5 2006, 10:04 AM

QUOTE(beartrap @ May 5 2006, 10:39 AM)

One learns that words can mean a lot, but surface value is often often opposite of what the words say. How many times I've heard, "I'm not holding anyone prisoner, they can leave anytime they want", "I'm just a carpenter like Jesus, doing what God has told me to do", "Nobody should just believe everything we teach, they should study for themselves", "Our financial books are open. We are audited every year by an independent auditor, and you'uns are welcome to take a look", "Yes, he/she has done these things and we have all the proof... he/she has even signed this document. Would he/she have signed it if not guilty? If he/she was right and I was wrong? Everyone knows, just ask any of my staff, the pastor, our conference president, and several well respected leaders in Adventist evangelism."

Can anybody actually understand what is behind those words?

yes.... and they should go find someone who is not connected and question, examine, scour the info that you have access to.... oh and don't take the word of folks getting paid by the one saying those things.... in other words be skeptical.... very skeptical.... and if they say, "don't you trust me/us?" the response should be NO!!!!!

Posted by: watchbird May 5 2006, 10:06 AM

QUOTE(beartrap @ May 5 2006, 09:39 AM)

One learns that words can mean a lot, but surface value is often often opposite of what the words say. How many times I've heard, "I'm not holding anyone prisoner, they can leave anytime they want", "I'm just a carpenter like Jesus, doing what God has told me to do", "Nobody should just believe everything we teach, they should study for themselves", "Our financial books are open. We are audited every year by an independent auditor, and you'uns are welcome to take a look", "Yes, he/she has done these things and we have all the proof... he/she has even signed this document. Would he/she have signed it if not guilty? If he/she was right and I was wrong? Everyone knows, just ask any of my staff, the pastor, our conference president, and several well respected leaders in Adventist evangelism."

Can anybody actually understand what is behind those words?

Yes.

But how can the meaning be communcated so others who don't, can?

Posted by: NormF May 5 2006, 09:31 PM

QUOTE(beartrap @ May 5 2006, 10:39 AM)

Can anybody actually understand what is behind those words?

You can if there's ever been a psychopath/sociopath/APD in your life. If not, it probably taxes even your imagination, or worse, exceeds your worst nightmares. Result (too often): disbelief of (a sorry) reality.

The examples you cite, bear, while specific to the persona in question, are highly consistent, to a T, with the disorder behind them, as outlined in the thread above. They say one thing and mean an entirely other.

Regards,
Norm

Posted by: princessdi May 5 2006, 10:30 PM

That is just right scary, right there!

QUOTE(beartrap @ May 5 2006, 08:39 AM)

One learns that words can mean a lot, but surface value is often often opposite of what the words say. How many times I've heard, "I'm not holding anyone prisoner, they can leave anytime they want", "I'm just a carpenter like Jesus, doing what God has told me to do", "Nobody should just believe everything we teach, they should study for themselves", "Our financial books are open. We are audited every year by an independent auditor, and you'uns are welcome to take a look", "Yes, he/she has done these things and we have all the proof... he/she has even signed this document. Would he/she have signed it if not guilty? If he/she was right and I was wrong? Everyone knows, just ask any of my staff, the pastor, our conference president, and several well respected leaders in Adventist evangelism."

Can anybody actually understand what is behind those words?

Posted by: Prisca May 6 2006, 07:46 AM

I am confused. We are discussing thinking for ourselves which may be the exact answer to the question posed...why DO Christians go bad? Is it because they begin to think for themselves and leave the path of the tried and true? As Christians we have a whole Book of what we are to think about..this is perhaps the basis of our belief system. Are we talking about freedom to juggle those thoughts about? Freedom to react in our own way to what those thoughts produce within us?

Posted by: watchbird May 6 2006, 08:09 AM

QUOTE(Prisca @ May 6 2006, 07:46 AM)

I am confused. We are discussing thinking for ourselves which may be the exact answer to the question posed...why DO Christians go bad? Is it because they begin to think for themselves and leave the path of the tried and true? As Christians we have a whole Book of what we are to think about..this is perhaps the basis of our belief system. Are we talking about freedom to juggle those thoughts about? Freedom to react in our own way to what those thoughts produce within us?

I think we are talking about thinking for ourselves rather than allowing someone else to do our thinking for us and telling us what to think.

You are fortunate indeed if you have not had this kind of experience, for it is all too common even in the Adventist church at large. In Independent Ministries it is pretty much "standard operating procedure" and those who resist such thought control, even in the ordinary decisions of life, are considered rebels, and dealt with accordingly.

From what Beartrap and others have said, this is taken even further for those who come under the influence of Danny at 3ABN, and even made more emotionally coercive by claiming that since he has direct instruction from God as to what you should think, then he and he alone should direct your thoughts.

Thought Control is taken to a new high with this additive to the fueltank.

Mz Ellen has different things to say as to who is responsible for our thoughts and whether or not someone else should relay God's instructions for our lives to us.

Posted by: Prisca May 6 2006, 08:26 AM

QUOTE(watchbird @ May 6 2006, 02:09 PM)

I think we are talking about thinking for ourselves rather than allowing someone else to do our thinking for us and telling us what to think.

You are fortunate indeed if you have not had this kind of experience, for it is all too common even in the Adventist church at large. In Independent Ministries it is pretty much "standard operating procedure" and those who resist such thought control, even in the ordinary decisions of life, are considered rebels, and dealt with accordingly.

From what Beartrap and others have said, this is taken even further for those who come under the influence of Danny at 3ABN, and even made more emotionally coercive by claiming that since he has direct instruction from God as to what you should think, then he and he alone should direct your thoughts.

Thought Control is taken to a new high with this additive to the fueltank.
Mz Ellen has different things to say as to who is responsible for our thoughts and whether or not someone else should relay God's instructions for our lives to us.

I hear you. Oh I know about the 'self-supporting, independent ministries'..If you read the Bible as I have then you would think like I think...folk. Spent 10 days at Mountain Missionary. Still tingling! But I don't see a problem with Danny's belief that God speaks. You see, in my little world there are those who claim the same thing, so it is familiar to me. Those with little or no education must have something to use as 'clout'. What else do they have but direct revelation? The seer, the foreteller of the future, the dream interpreters...many do not have formal education (which is, at best questionable in its spiritual benefits) and they trace their belief to the Bible and how God used the unlearned disciples to reach the world....

Posted by: Clay Jul 8 2006, 01:16 PM

QUOTE(Prisca @ May 6 2006, 09:26 AM)

I hear you. Oh I know about the 'self-supporting, independent ministries'..If you read the Bible as I have then you would think like I think...folk. Spent 10 days at Mountain Missionary. Still tingling! But I don't see a problem with Danny's belief that God speaks. You see, in my little world there are those who claim the same thing, so it is familiar to me. Those with little or no education must have something to use as 'clout'. What else do they have but direct revelation? The seer, the foreteller of the future, the dream interpreters...many do not have formal education (which is, at best questionable in its spiritual benefits) and they trace their belief to the Bible and how God used the unlearned disciples to reach the world....

delusional thinking cuts across, class, color, gender, socioeconomics.....

Posted by: statrei Jul 8 2006, 01:40 PM

QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 8 2006, 02:16 PM)

delusional thinking cuts across, class, color, gender, socioeconomics.....

Heaven help us when educated people fall for that kind of thinking.

Posted by: watchbird Jul 8 2006, 02:14 PM

QUOTE(Prisca @ May 6 2006, 08:26 AM)

I hear you. Oh I know about the 'self-supporting, independent ministries'..If you read the Bible as I have then you would think like I think...folk. Spent 10 days at Mountain Missionary. Still tingling! But I don't see a problem with Danny's belief that God speaks. You see, in my little world there are those who claim the same thing, so it is familiar to me. Those with little or no education must have something to use as 'clout'. What else do they have but direct revelation? The seer, the foreteller of the future, the dream interpreters...many do not have formal education (which is, at best questionable in its spiritual benefits) and they trace their belief to the Bible and how God used the unlearned disciples to reach the world....

I'm confused. You seem to be describing (with a negative attitude) the type of person that I described as frequenting the "self-supporting, independent ministries" who has no use for education, but depends on "direct revelation".

But right in the middle of this you put in the sentence "But I don' t see a problem with Danny's belief that God speaks. You see in my little world there are those who claim the same thing..."

So question--Do those in your little world who say the same thing mean the same thing by the words they say.

Keep in mind that we have heard Bear (and I think others) describe Danny speaking of God speaking to him in the sense of him stopping in the middle of a conversation and saying God is telling me this about you, right now. From the additional descriptions that Bear has given when we were talking voice to voice, I have come to understand that Danny actually hears--or thinks he hears--voices speaking to him. Now in Pentecostal circles, especially some groups, this is essentially the same as what is called in other circles "channeling" or having a "spirit guide". This is exponentially different than the average Christian who uses the words "God speaks to me", meaning that they are giving God the credit for them recalling words of scripture or in somehow helping them work through a problem or be encouraged by a spiritual thought or feeling.

QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 8 2006, 01:16 PM)

delusional thinking cuts across, class, color, gender, socioeconomics.....

And my questions and confusion about Prisca's comments above carry over into yours, Clay, for I can see your statement as being applicable to the person who has or thinks he has a "spirit guide" who speaks to him. But I don't see it applying to the mind set that glorifies not being educated. So would you expand on your meaning a little more especially how you were tying it to Prisca's comment?

Posted by: statrei Jul 8 2006, 02:22 PM

I have no basis for denying whether one is guided by a spirit guide. However, if that spirit guide is not speaking to me as well any cooperative work between the two of us will have to exclude the spirit guide's absolute advice. In other words, nothing goes by this mass of gray matter without scrutiny. God knows all my contact information and we are on speaking terms so he is not going to give anyone messages for me. It is almost criminal the way the church encourages the mindset that faith is antithetical to reason and logic. I would call that a crime against humanity.

Posted by: watchbird Jul 8 2006, 02:51 PM

QUOTE(statrei @ Jul 8 2006, 02:22 PM)

I have no basis for denying whether one is guided by a spirit guide. However, if that spirit guide is not speaking to me as well any cooperative work between the two of us will have to exclude the spirit guide's absolute advice. In other words, nothing goes by this mass of gray matter without scrutiny. God knows all my contact information and we are on speaking terms so he is not going to give anyone messages for me. It is almost criminal the way the church encourages the mindset that faith is antithetical to reason and logic. I would call that a crime against humanity.

If you would change "the church" to "some in the church", or even "some segments of the church", then I could agree with all you say above.

But for myself, I identify "the church", as a generalization, with the mainline organization, not with the "independent ministry" organizations. And the mainline church as a whole is very "reason and logic" oriented--and encourages their young people to educate themselves to the extent of their capability.

But it is true that the anti-education forces are still strong. They think in terms of "control or be controlled" and they value "clout" as Prisca put it--whether that clout comes from money or mysticism--above individuality, freedom, and personal responsibility. 3ABN represents this sector of the church very well. Which is why many in the mainline church see them as setting up a "para-church" competitive organization that is parasitic on the main organization.

There has to come a break. The only questions are how that break will be achieved, and what will be the results.

Posted by: statrei Jul 8 2006, 03:01 PM

I understand you watchbird, but religion as a whole advocates that what cannot pass smell test of reason and logic must be accepted by faith. How else would we convince people that the Bible is the word of God or that the entire universe was made in one day while it took six to make the earth alone?

Posted by: missthg Jul 8 2006, 04:48 PM

Now you know - there are some members at my home church who will contest that very statement. They swear that you have to some to church to meet God. I tell you I have have had some of my best praise and worship on the way to work in my car.

That whole thing about we missed you is bogus at best. If you didn't think about me until you saw me - then you didn't miss me at church. And to say otherwise is purely pharisee speak to me. I can meet Jesus anytime/anywhere I want to. The beach - my job - at home - in the park, etc. I've learned not to expect to find love in the church and to be open to recieve it when it comes. If not - then I can't be disappointed when it's not there...

QUOTE(Clay @ May 4 2006, 01:04 PM)

then hell it is... cause there is no need to stay where there is no genuine love.... let's not pretend... when you don't go to church and no one calls, don't be hurt, if you were important they would call.... and we all know you dont have to go to church to meet God...

Posted by: Johann Jul 8 2006, 04:54 PM

QUOTE(statrei @ Jul 8 2006, 11:01 PM)

I understand you watchbird, but religion as a whole advocates that what cannot pass smell test of reason and logic must be accepted by faith. How else would we convince people that the Bible is the word of God or that the entire universe was made in one day while it took six to make the earth alone?

Let's watch out here that we do not get Some of this could be discused elsewhere.

Posted by: Clay Jul 9 2006, 12:01 AM

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jul 8 2006, 03:14 PM)

And my questions and confusion about Prisca's comments above carry over into yours, Clay, for I can see your statement as being applicable to the person who has or thinks he has a "spirit guide" who speaks to him. But I don't see it applying to the mind set that glorifies not being educated. So would you expand on your meaning a little more especially how you were tying it to Prisca's comment?

just because someone says that they "hear a voice" telling them something doesn't mean I need to follow their directives..... be they educated or not....

Powered by Invision Power Board (http://www.invisionboard.com)
© Invision Power Services (http://www.invisionpower.com)

216

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ Latest On 3abn - Round 3

Posted by: calvin Aug 16 2004, 10:30 PM

Dear Calvin, I have become aware that your site published Johann Thorvaldsson's article about "The Story of Linda Shelton." Since I am mentioned in that article, I thought you might be interested in publishing a response to correct the misinformation given about my involvement. If you need to call me, my # is xxx-xxx-xxxx. Thank you. Kay Kuzma

Here is my statement:

To those who may question my involvement with 3ABN and the circumstances which led up to Linda Shelton leaving 3ABN:

Yes, I was involved in what happened at 3ABN concerning Linda however the internet article in which you read about my involvement titled "The Story of Linda Shelton" by Johann Thorvaldsson, is saturated with the writer's biased personal perceptions and has very little to do with what actually happened. I was there - I know. Rather than address each falsehood, which would be too time consuming, I will simply address the three major errors concerning me:

Here is what was printed about me: "Long before Linda's dismissal, Dr. Kay Kuzma was assigned to help Linda manage after being fired. She was also supposed to interview staff members to find a good reason to fire her, so one wonders what really is behind this upheaval?"

Here is what actually happened:

1) I was not brought in early - in fact, I was brought in during the last six weeks after Danny and Linda had been in months of counseling with professionals - with Linda still refusing to follow what the counselors suggested, i.e., unanimously the counselors told her that she would have to give up her relationship with the doctor in Norway who she was spending up to six hours each day talking with.

2) I was not brought in to help Linda "manage" after she was fired - she was never fired. The committee I was on (and later the Board) repeatedly gave her opportunity to talk with them trying to bring resolution and restoration to both her ministry at 3ABN and her marriage. She refused at every point. There was never discussion concerning "firing" Linda when I became involved - only a discussion on how to help her. There was such a concern for Linda's reputation that the entire Board was not initially notified about the situation until it became an absolute necessity to do so. I was on a small committee of two Board members, the 3ABN attorney, and myself. The small committee's discussion centered on how to save Linda for ministry. Linda talked to me one time and refused any further contact I tried to make with her.

3) I was NOT asked by 3ABN to interview staff concerning Linda. Linda, herself, asked me to talk with the staff. She even gave me the specific names of the people she wanted me to talk with. The results from the interviews with the employees Linda suggested weren't flattering to her. When I tried to get back with her, she refused to answer my calls.

The overwhelming error in Mr. Thorvaldsson's account of the events surrounding Linda Shelton's departure from 3ABN gives witness to the fact that his observation was from many thousands of miles away and only receiving his information from the two involved in the duplicity. Hopefully it has become apparent to you, as I pointed out the error contained in these three lines alone, that this entire article is full of misinformation. If you would like specific answers to any other point, I'll be happy to share. God is good and truth will prevail even though there are those who are trying to stir up controversy.

I believe the most important thing to understand is that eventually the fruit of a person's decisions will become evident. Although I will not comment further about what happened to lead up to Linda's departure from 3ABN, we know that the other man had been to the States and spent time with Linda before she left Danny, and that immediately after she left Danny, the other man was with Linda. A few weeks later they spent time traveling together through Europe.

Please remember, 3ABN is not Danny or Linda's ministry - it is God's, and every day we all see incredible miracles as God is moving His ministry forward. It's been a very difficult time - as we all love Linda and recognize how much God used her in her role as co-host with Danny. God truly gifted her with the ability to write beautiful songs that have been a tremendous blessing to thousands.

Thanks for remembering 3ABN in your prayers - and thanks for not sharing Mr. Thorvaldsson's article with anyone else - since I know you don't want to be a part of spreading misinformation.

Sincerely,

Kay Kuzma

Posted by: tarduke Aug 16 2004, 11:54 PM

QUOTE (calvin @ Aug 16 2004, 10:30 PM)

> Here is what actually happened:
>
> ...Linda still refusing to follow what the counselors suggested, i.e., unanimously the counselors told her that she would have to give up her relationship with the doctor in Norway who she was spending up to six hours each day talking with.
>
> ... She refused at every point. ...Linda talked to me one time and refused any further contact I tried to make with her.
> ... The results from the interviews with the employees Linda suggested weren't flattering to her. When I tried to get back with her, she refused to answer my calls.
>
> ... If you would like specific answers to any other point, I'll be happy to share. ...
>
> Although I will not comment further about what happened to lead up to Linda's departure from 3ABN, we know that the other man had been to the States and spent time with Linda before she left Danny, and that immediately after she left Danny, the other man was with Linda. A few weeks later they spent time traveling together through Europe.
>
> Kay Kuzma

Thanks Calvin. Well, as they say, the plot thickens.

I had a lot of respect for Kay Kuzma but this is just not right. If she wants to respond to Johann Thorvaldsson's "falsehoods" why not do that instead of dragging Linda down further. Did she really need to give that much about another female?

What's with giving enough information to damage the other side, offering to give more, then vowing not to "comment further"?

These shills are doing a disservice to both Danny and Linda. I just cannot believe these people, especially a counselling professional like Kay Kuzma could have Danny and Linda's best interest at heart, so I have to conclude they are all looking out for themselves and what they must be getting from all this. How could you believe in Christian reconciliation and be involved in spreading all the details of these people's problems, especially details of infidelity? Shame, shame shame Dr K.

Posted by: dmizzle06 Aug 17 2004, 02:41 AM

It seem like there may be more than two sides to this whole ordeal.

Posted by: claborn Aug 17 2004, 06:04 AM

If she was counseling Linda, then why is she giving particulars about what Linda's actions and responses were to her intervention? This is no different from our other thread about pastors counseling and then preaching sermons about it. Isn't that a breach of confidentiality? And I agree why is she providing more damaging info about Linda? No there is more to this... much more.....

Posted by: claborn Aug 17 2004, 06:21 AM

For the record Calvin's "site" did not post the letter. I posted the letter that was posted on another sda forum. I went to that forum to see if Kay Kuzma posted her response to them, and guess what? I did not see it there..... I will look again to verifiy....

I looked again and it's no where to be found.... so me being the person I am posted the response there...

Posted by: statrei Aug 17 2004, 06:51 AM

What I want to know is why Calvin X'd out the telephone number.

Posted by: claborn Aug 17 2004, 07:27 AM

He was afraid someone would call her... let me think.... Patrick, Harold, Kevin, Di... yep, they might call here and ask her a thing or two.....

Posted by: calvin Aug 17 2004, 07:51 AM

I did not know Kay was a professional counselor. This seems very unethical to give this much information. She said everything but utter the phase "Linda had an affair".

Posted by: claborn Aug 17 2004, 08:01 AM

As a counselor she should know better... it is better to let the rumors fly and the mud hit you than reveal confidential stuff..

Posted by: claborn Aug 17 2004, 08:07 AM

In fact, it would have best if she had said nothing.....

Posted by: tarduke Aug 17 2004, 08:18 AM

QUOTE (Kay Judeen Kuzma @ EDD)

> I was not brought in to help Linda "manage" after she was fired - she was never fired.

Yea and the dog ate my homework!

Books by Kay Kuzma (taken from Kaykuzma.org)

QUOTE (kaykuzma.org)

> Belonging by Nancy and Ron Rockey with Kay Kuzma. How to overcome rejection and discover the freedom of acceptance. This book will teach you ...how to get rid of the pain of your past so it won't sabotage your future. A vital recovery book for all those trying to better understand themselves.

Yea right. I wonder if Linda read that book.

QUOTE (Kaykuama.org)

> Creating Love. This book contains principles that can revolutionize your relationships and turn obnoxious people into lovable ones. These principles are not just for better parent/child relationships and marriage, but can be applied to all relationships

You sure did revolutionalize Linda and Danny's relationship! Now I am willing to order that book and mail it to Linda.

Posted by: mema Aug 17 2004, 08:29 AM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 17 2004, 07:27 AM)

> He was afraid someone would call her... let me think.... Patrick, Harold, Kevin, Di... yep, they might call here and ask her a thing or two.....

You seem to know them well. I think Calvin really needs to make sure that the number stays hidden from them. Look at how they are on other topics, this would be like a buffet for them.....All You Can Get Out.

Posted by: mema Aug 17 2004, 08:32 AM

My question would be this now, since Kay alledgelly put Linda's business out there, doesn't that leave her open for suit? Because if she is a counselor, then that is a breach of confidentiality. And there is no way to take it back now. Once we get it, it is over.

Posted by: statrei Aug 17 2004, 08:34 AM

QUOTE (mema @ Aug 17 2004, 09:32 AM)

> Once we get it, it is over.

If ya'll thought Danny was mad. Just wait until Kay gets wind of what you guys really think of her. As for me "Me not speakum de English."

Posted by: awesumtenor Aug 17 2004, 08:36 AM

QUOTE (mema @ Aug 17 2004, 10:29 AM)

> You seem to know them well. I think Calvin really needs to make sure that the number stays hidden from them. Look at how they are on other topics, this would be like a buffet for them.....All You Can Get Out.

It would really help if you made sure you had a clue before speaking...

In His service,
Kevin Josey

Posted by: claborn Aug 17 2004, 08:41 AM

QUOTE (mema @ Aug 17 2004, 09:29 AM)

> You seem to know them well. I think Calvin really needs to make sure that the number stays hidden from them. Look at how they are on other topics, this would be like a buffet for them.....All You Can Get Out.

If you look at the names I listed, all of them have no problem whatsoever speaking their minds.... now granted each of them would do it in their own way, but I have no doubt that the might be tempted to call Ms. Kuzma... in fact I might call myself.....as for knowing them.... I know them well enough I guess....

Posted by: mema Aug 17 2004, 08:45 AM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 17 2004, 08:41 AM)

> If you look at the names I listed, all of them have no problem whatsoever speaking their minds.... now granted each of them would do it in their own way, but I have no doubt that the might be tempted to call Ms. Kuzma... in fact I might call myself.....as for knowing them.... I know them well enough I guess....

After reading what everyone wrote and the letter, this is about to go nuclear. And I feel the media is going to get wind of it, nothing good will come from this.

Posted by: statrei Aug 17 2004, 08:46 AM

It never pays to throw mud at other people, even if they deserve it. Some always sticks on you and you have to explain it away.

Posted by: mema Aug 17 2004, 08:48 AM

QUOTE (statrei @ Aug 17 2004, 08:46 AM)

> It never pays to throw mud at other people, even if they deserve it. Some always sticks on you and you have to explain it away.

Can someone explain to me what was her purpose for telling Linda's business like that? If she thought the article contained false information, wouldn't she address those instead of focusing on the mistakes of another?

Posted by: claborn Aug 17 2004, 08:51 AM

Reminds me of the quote about teaching a pig to dance, the pig won't like it and you will get all muddy..... Clearly it seems (I cannot say for certain) that there was an effort intentional or not to make sure Danny was seen as the innocent "victim" and Linda as the "bad guy." It always makes me suspicious when a person tells on everyone but themselves.... so I would ask Danny what was he doing? What were his actions? Everybody is coming out of the woodwork saying what Linda did and didn't do..... what did Danny do?

Posted by: statrei Aug 17 2004, 08:54 AM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 17 2004, 09:51 AM)

> what did Danny do?

In the words of a famous American: What did Danny do and when did he do it?

Posted by: tarduke Aug 17 2004, 08:55 AM

QUOTE (Kay Kuzma)

> in fact, I was brought in during the last six weeks after Danny and Linda had been in months of counseling with professionals - with Linda still refusing to follow what the counselors suggested, i.e., unanimously the counselors told her

QUOTE (Mema)

> My question would be this now, since Kay alledgelly put Linda's business out there, doesn't that leave her open for suit? Because if she is a counselor, then that is a breach of confidentiality.

Mema, Kay is no fool. She probably thinks she has covered her tracks well. Notice how she distinguishes between the "professionals," "the counselors" and herself.
But the fact she was brought in after the professionals and the counselors had failed tells us she was regarded as even a more professional and a counselor than they.

QUOTE (statrei)

> If ya'll thought Danny was mad. Just wait until Kay gets wind of what you guys really think of her.

Yep. I can't wait. <ducking>

Posted by: mema Aug 17 2004, 08:56 AM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 17 2004, 08:51 AM)

> Reminds me of the quote about teaching a pig to dance, the pig won't like it and you will get all muddy..... Clearly it seems (I cannot say for certain) that there was an effort intentional or not to make sure Danny was seen as the innocent "victim" and Linda as the "bad guy." It always makes me suspicious when a person tells on everyone but themselves.... so I would ask Danny what was he doing? What were his actions? Everybody is coming out of the woodwork saying what Linda did and didn't do..... what did Danny do?

Good point..I missed that one. I was focused on the one running out to tell what she did to help the situation and that she was not a part until close to the end. If we look at it on another level, didn't she say that she was on a "board" that made these decisions? Isn't that, yet again, breach ..... She is so busy talking, she better check to see if she just put herself into a lawsuit.

Posted by: tarduke Aug 17 2004, 08:59 AM

QUOTE (statrei @ Aug 17 2004, 08:54 AM)

> In the words of a famous American: What did Danny do and when did he do it?

You mean, "Did Kay know and when did she know!"

Posted by: wesleysimpson Aug 17 2004, 08:59 AM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 17 2004, 06:04 AM)

> If she was counseling Linda, then why is she giving particulars about what Linda's actions and > responses were to her intervention? This is no different from our other thread about pastors counseling and then preaching sermons about it. Isn't that a breach of confidentiality? And I agree why is she providing more damaging info about Linda? No there is more to this... much more.....

This is a good point...it seems that people have to go to a counsellor with a professional license that can be removed if they want confidentiality...

We live in a climate where it is ok to spread mess told to you in confidence for any reason at all...In the final analysis if you can't keep your mouth shut tell the person who is about to talk to you to go somewhere else...

Posted by: claborn Aug 17 2004, 09:04 AM

This is just the tip of the iceberg... and again why contact Calvin and not the other boards?

Posted by: mema Aug 17 2004, 09:05 AM

QUOTE (wesleysimpson @ Aug 17 2004, 08:59 AM)

> We live in a climate where it is ok to spread mess told to you in confidence for any reason at all...In the final analysis if you can't keep your mouth shut tell the person who is about to talk to you to go somewhere else...

For best advice given so far. Now if they would practice it, life would be so much better.

Posted by: statrei Aug 17 2004, 09:11 AM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 17 2004, 10:04 AM)

> This is just the tip of the iceberg... and again why contact Calvin and not the other boards?

Simply a sign of the power of BlackSDA.org. Frankly, the members of this board have proven that there can be true balance without partisan presuppositions. The only requirement on this board is decency and even there we are not too quick to drop the hammer. I find it interesting that the only people who are banned from posting on this forum are those who have banned themselves because they could not endure scrutiny.

Posted by: claborn Aug 17 2004, 09:12 AM

Okay it took me a moment but check this out.... Kuzma says she was "brought in." Brought by whom? Let me put it another way... in mental health (and I do have some experience there...okay I got about 18 yrs worth so I know a thing or two) it is OFTEN observed that the one being brought to counseling is usually NOT the one who needs counseling.... Its usually the person bringing the other person who needs as much or more counseling....

Now if the 3ABN board and Danny are "bringing" people in to "counsel" how effective is that going to be? Not very, it is stacked against Linda in my opinion... so here is how I see it..... Danny thinks there is a problem. Linda does not. Danny is bringing in people to talk to Linda, oh the spin might be let's get someone to counsel us, but in reality it is for Linda.... Don't you think she knew that? What kind of outcome can you expect from that setup? Not a good one.....

Posted by: calvin Aug 17 2004, 09:18 AM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 17 2004, 09:04 AM)

> This is just the tip of the iceberg... and again why contact Calvin and not the other boards?

More than likely because I make myself an easy target. My email address is there in my signature. I purposefully have it there so new members having problems validating their email address can contact me. AOL email addresses have problems sometimes.

Posted by: statrei Aug 17 2004, 09:20 AM

Your address does not explain why the other boards were not contacted. They have contact information as well. I know of what Steve speaks.

Posted by: mema Aug 17 2004, 09:20 AM

The outcome will not be good because she is going to feel as if she being attacked from all ends and there lies the problem...she will either shut down or go into defense mode.

Posted by: mema Aug 17 2004, 09:22 AM

Calvin, is the reason they contact you because they feel that they would receive a fair response here instead of another board?

Posted by: awesumtenor Aug 17 2004, 09:37 AM

QUOTE (calvin @ Aug 17 2004, 11:18 AM)

> More than likely because I make myself an easy target. My email address is there in my signature. I purposefully have it there so new members having problems validating their email address can contact me. AOL email addresses have problems sometimes.

I'm waiting for the inevitable threat... "Calvin make the people on your board see things our way or we may have to cancel your brother's show"

They respond here because they think they have a hole card to play against Calvin.

In His service,
Kevin Josey

Posted by: statrei Aug 17 2004, 09:39 AM

QUOTE (awesumtenor @ Aug 17 2004, 10:37 AM)

> They respond here because they think they have a hole card to play against Calvin.

Never occurred to me and I hope we have not sunk that low.

Posted by: wesleysimpson Aug 17 2004, 09:44 AM

QUOTE (awesumtenor @ Aug 17 2004, 09:37 AM)

> I'm waiting for the inevitable threat... "Calvin make the people on your board see things our way or we may have to cancel your brother's show"
>
> They respond here because they think they have a hole card to play against Calvin.
>
> In His service,
> Kevin Josey

why do they care what we think?

Posted by: claborn Aug 17 2004, 09:50 AM

Because Wesley you know as well as I do that sometimes in adventism perception is everything... thus the church quickly rushed to say that the Davidians had no association with the SDA church, and last year that brother who killed his family, the church quickly rushed to say he was not a member....

So 3ABN doesn't want anything negative to be said or spread about them... The thing with Danny and Linda though stinks... and the more that comes to light the more it stinks....

Let me go out on a limb... Even IF Linda was having an "affair" and was caught in the act (I don't know that talking on the phone for hours constitutes an affair), why wouldn't Danny emulate Hosea as opposed to the men who dragged the woman before Jesus to get her stoned to death? That's what I wan to know.....

Posted by: calvin Aug 17 2004, 09:51 AM

QUOTE (wesleysimpson @ Aug 17 2004, 09:44 AM)

> why do they care what we think?

Good point Wesley. It ain't like Black folks are donating a lot of money to 3ABN

Posted by: claborn Aug 17 2004, 09:59 AM

But let's be honest, some of our older more conservative black members do watch (and probably contribute) 3ABN, I know my in-laws love it.... so there is a group... a remnant perhaps of black folks watching.....

Posted by: kountzer Aug 17 2004, 10:01 AM

How do you know Dr. Kuzma really sent this e mail?

DB

Posted by: statrei Aug 17 2004, 10:03 AM

Well, Calvin can still call the number to satisfy DB's curiosity.

Posted by: claborn Aug 17 2004, 10:06 AM

QUOTE (kountzer @ Aug 17 2004, 11:01 AM)

> How do you know Dr. Kuzma really sent this e mail?
>
> DB

DB,
Because she sent the email to Calvin and not to the message board, including her number... now if she didn't send it, who would have the motivation to send something to Calvin about Kuzma that makes Linda look even worse?

Ahhhhhhh Danny? nawww... see DB, that is how conspiracy theories get started.....

Posted by: tarduke Aug 17 2004, 10:07 AM

QUOTE (kountzer @ Aug 17 2004, 10:01 AM)

> How do you know Dr. Kuzma really sent this e mail?
>
> DB

Good question. I sense Calvin is a responsible businessman. I am sure he verified the phone number as Kay's and probably even made a call. Kay Kuzma is a public figure in Adventism. She has two websites, lots of phone numbers and beautiful cottages for retreats. 3ABn is the de facto publicity arm.

Darius and Mema hinted that the reason Calvin wa contacted it's because the sides feel BlackSDA is fairer. I think there might be truth to that. Everyone knows that Black folk are the last to condemn people (unless they are black).

It could be also that mischievous minds want to do a 3ABN on Calvin, but I trust in #1's judgment. He will do his due diligence and not fall for cyber mischief.

Posted by: princessdi Aug 17 2004, 10:08 AM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 17 2004, 05:27 AM)

> He was afraid someone would call her... let me think.... Patrick, Harold, Kevin, Di... yep, they might call here and ask her a thing or two.....

Ya' darn tootin' I would give her a call! Just to tell her how messy she/they are! The problem with all of this is that Danny is gathering his little cheerleaders to talk about this and put little bits and pieces of information out there, plus using the 3ABN On the Road series to demonize her from the pulpit. On the other hand, from Linda you have one letter from and and another from a friend of hers. This dones not sit well with me at all. Now we got girlfriend, the counselor, betraying the trust of a counselor. Why did she have say anything "when" Linda and this man would met and how many hours they spend on the phone, etc. It's REAL messy!!!!
Ok, let me stop, because I almost said something bad!

Do they post this stuff on the other SDA sites, or just dump here?

Posted by: claborn Aug 17 2004, 10:13 AM

Like I said earlier it is NOT on other sites... I belong to two of them, Darius is on the same one VOAF... there is nothing there..... I am also on Maritime SDA Online... nothing on this since 7/22.... so we are the only ones...

Posted by: princessdi Aug 17 2004, 10:23 AM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 17 2004, 08:13 AM)

> Like I said earlier it is NOT on other sites... I belong to two of them, Darius is on the same one VOAF... there is nothing there..... I am also on Maritime SDA Online... nothing on this since 7/22.... so we are the only ones...

Well, I wish they would keep it to themselves. Danny and his friends are a ruckus, and working more spin than politicians. This is not Godly in the least.

I'm with Steve, what did Danny do/not do? We are just getting one severely altered side of this story.

Posted by: Jvat Aug 17 2004, 10:24 AM

QUOTE (calvin @ Aug 17 2004, 07:51 AM)

> I did not know Kay was a professional counselor. This seems very unethical to give this much information. She said everything but utter the phase "Linda had an affair".

Brethren, this is not a joke. This is time for all of us SDAs to don sackcloth and ashes and pray and fast for the condition of our SDA church if 2Chron 7:14 has any merit. My word! And Kay Kuzma has made absolutely no mention about the substance abuse of Linda's son and she should have if she wanted to be fair to her representation and clarification of the issues. What a ting! as the Trinis would say!

Kay Kuzma is supposed to be a counsellor with many years experience. In fact she got her PhD in Child Development from since in the sixties. You can read about her story on her website. Surely as a church, we have strayed far from the narrow path, if Kay Kuzma's attitude as a leading figure in the denomination, is any indication to go by.

Posted by: tarduke Aug 17 2004, 10:32 AM

QUOTE (Jvat @ Aug 17 2004, 10:24 AM)

> Kay Kuzma is supposed to be a counsellor with many years experience. In fact she got her PhD in Child Development sfrom since in the sixties. You can read about her story on her website. Surely as a church, we have strayed far from the narrow path, if Kay Kuzma's attitude as a leading figure in the denomination, is any indication to go by.

You do not get your facts any straighter than the arrows you sling at people Jvat.

Kay Kuzma has an EDD from UCLA. It may be a technical matter but an EDD is not a PHD. She earned her doctorate in 1970.

Posted by: claborn Aug 17 2004, 10:54 AM

Well in psychology some psych degrees are awarded through the school of education and some are awarded through the school of psychology.... Usually people who get their degrees through the school of psychology, those degrees are held in higher esteem, than the ones received through the school of education....

Posted by: claborn Aug 17 2004, 11:24 AM

Jvat..... I now know who you are..... welcome....

Posted by: mema Aug 17 2004, 11:26 AM

Being with you guys is like watch a mystery on TV. Just when you think you know the ending....WHAM!

Posted by: princessdi Aug 17 2004, 11:33 AM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 17 2004, 09:24 AM)

> Jvat..... I now know who you are..... welcome....

Ok, Steve, you are holding out!

Posted by: tarduke Aug 17 2004, 11:36 AM

QUOTE (claborn1960)

> Jvat..... I now know who you are..... welcome....

QUOTE (princessdi @ Aug 17 2004, 11:33 AM)

> Ok, Steve, you are holding out!

Steve, you are holding out...indeed

Posted by: mema Aug 17 2004, 11:38 AM

Inquiring minds want to know.....

Posted by: claborn Aug 17 2004, 11:39 AM

I will let Jvat tell us who she is.....

Posted by: statrei Aug 17 2004, 11:39 AM

QUOTE (mema @ Aug 17 2004, 12:38 PM)

> Inquiring minds want to know.....

I suspected the identity from the first couple of posts. It did not take me long to verify it.

Posted by: claborn Aug 17 2004, 11:42 AM

QUOTE (statrei @ Aug 17 2004, 12:39 PM)

> I suspected the identity from the first couple of posts. It did not take me long to verify it.

I was wondering what you were talking about... but then I went to the other site and saw a posting that looked very very familar..... so I put two and two together.....

Posted by: kountzer Aug 17 2004, 11:44 AM

QUOTE

> Good point Wesley. It ain't like Black folks are donating a lot of money to 3ABN

Good point. I've been thinking that to myself all the time.

DB

Posted by: tarduke Aug 17 2004, 11:49 AM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 17 2004, 11:42 AM)

> I was wondering what you were talking about... but then I went to the other site and saw a posting that looked very very familar..... so I put two and two together.....

QUOTE (statrei)

> I suspected the identity from the first couple of posts. It did not take me long to verify it.

Hmmm... good detective work, Mr Sherlock Holmes and Mr Hercule Poirot.
Now Nero Wolfe is on the case too...

Posted by: Jvat Aug 17 2004, 12:19 PM

Ok, I admit Tarduke that I was not exactly accurate in my information (my memory failed me there) but I did say that information about Kay could be found on her website. The REAL POINT that I was trying to make is that Kay has MUCH experience in her field (1970 from now is all of 30 plus years, eh?) but sometimes I guess that we may want to hold on to the little things.

Posted by: calvin Aug 17 2004, 12:29 PM

QUOTE (kountzer @ Aug 17 2004, 11:44 AM)

> Good point. I've been thinking that to myself all the time.
>
> DB

Oh yea, I know my people. When I was president of the Houston Oakwood Alumni Chapter, I would bring groups down to raise money for student scholarships. Negros would drive up in their BMW and Benz, wearing $600 suits and $1,000 St John knits, jump up and down, shout amen, and put a dollar in the offering plate. Yea, we watching 3ABN, talkn't bout how good is, how blessed we are, but we ain't giving them no serious bucks.

Posted by: claborn Aug 17 2004, 02:07 PM

Calvin,
Your point is made... however there are some folks, be they few in number, who are black and who are supportive of 3ABN....

Posted by: kountzer Aug 17 2004, 02:30 PM

Clay, this may be true, but those folks aren't on this msg board. I've made some donations to 3ABN - not enough to mention though.

dB

Posted by: tarduke Aug 17 2004, 02:33 PM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 17 2004, 02:07 PM)

> Calvin,
> Your point is made... however there are some folks, be they few in number, who are black and who are supportive of 3ABN....

I was one of the early ones to assit in pushing their petition drive in New York. That must translate into some serious bucks...eh?

By the way I just saw Danny on "3ABN Today" and --dang---the brother looks good. Is it me or does danny look younger, fresher, more prosperous since the fallout? I wonder what's behind this relaxed, confident 17-years-younger-than-I-am look.

Posted by: tarduke Aug 17 2004, 02:37 PM

QUOTE (Jvat @ Aug 17 2004, 12:19 PM)

> Ok, I admit Tarduke that I was not exactly accurate in my information (my memory failed me there) ☒ oo

I accept your confession, Jvat.

Posted by: calvin Aug 17 2004, 03:33 PM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 17 2004, 09:04 AM)

> This is just the tip of the iceberg... and again why contact Calvin and not the other boards?

You know it could be that we/I get the attentions because of our activity here. I was checking some of the other Adventist boards, this letter has been published on some of them as well. But I noticed none of them generate nearly the amount of posts or traffic that we get here. We are also getting crossover members from these boards.
Here is a link to a comprehensive list of Adventist discussion forums, chat rooms, mailing list, etc. http://dmoz.org/Society/Religion_and_Spirituality/Christianity/Denominations/Seventh-day_Adventists/Chats_and_Forums/

Posted by: claborn Aug 17 2004, 04:00 PM

That is a possibility, however the latest letter I posted on another forum I am on and I did not see any discussion about 3ABN on a different forum that I frequent...

Posted by: mema Aug 17 2004, 04:03 PM

Maybe they do not find it as important as we do...

Posted by: statrei Aug 17 2004, 04:06 PM

The reason is simply that most Adventist don't wish to admit that the church is not being micromanaged by God. They still buy into the belief that this is God's company. This is why they rather not discuss any unsavory matter that comes up.

Posted by: tarduke Aug 17 2004, 04:13 PM

QUOTE (statrei @ Aug 17 2004, 04:06 PM)

> They still buy into the belief that this is God's company.

You sure call it as you see it, Darius.
As the disciples would say, this is a hard saying!

...sometimes seems as if God has a non-voting seat on the board.

Posted by: claborn Aug 17 2004, 04:17 PM

Darius,
Are you saying, have you dared suggested that God is not in control? That God has not approved every move, every instrument purchased, every pew bought, every communion glass (be it glass or plastic) dedicated, or every camera used by 3ABN? That God has not signed with his own finger every check written by the treasurer in each church? That God has not managed and coordinated every call to a pastor (you know the ones where pastors who have been caught with their hands in the cookie jar say that the Lord has called them to work somewhere else)? You my friend are bordering on heresy for sure..... no.gif

Posted by: statrei Aug 17 2004, 04:23 PM

The earth is the Lord's and the fulness thereof. Not only those who are bold enough to call themselves "the remnant." God uses us as we are willing. He has certainly used the ministry of the Adventist church and its auxilliary organizations. He has also used many other institutions in the world, some of which Adventists won't go near to. I don't mind being called a heretic on this by Jvat or others. This is my father's world.

Posted by: claborn Aug 17 2004, 04:41 PM

Very true Darius... and God will continue to use ordinary people and .orgs that we won't go near.....

Posted by: ginge Aug 18 2004, 02:09 AM

Well here I am, after over a month of "lurking" in the background as a guest. I have perused all the forums about once a week and find that this one is more to my liking. Of course I DO find some of the same names showing up on a number of the forums. I don't have any profound answers to the 3ABN dilemma. I even have to admit to boycotting watching them on our satellite (at least for the time being). I also had a not too nice plan to return the book, that we recently bought about the Shelton's life with 3ABN, and cut out all the pictures of Linda and mark out all of her names since that is what they have done at the studio. But the book still sits here. That wouldn't help anything between me and the Lord and He DID say "vengence is mine". But sometimes a little bit of satisfaction on this side of heaven keeps things in perspective

So on to my reason for posting. It is early AM Wed. now here in No. Calif. and I just read the last post on Club Adventist and then checked in on Linda's website. So here is her latest http://www.lindashelton.org./letters.php

Also here is the latest from Inge, I post it because she was posted here before:

QUOTE (Inge Amderson @ the other forum)

> Interesting letter by Kay Kuzma -- one that confirms that she is solidly behind Danny, and all her talk of loving Linda sounds a bit hollow. She writes of concern for Linda's reputation, yet the statements published on the 3ABN web site, along with Dan's divorce and his firing of Linda broadcast the clear message that Linda had fallen into some really horrendous sin. After all, nothing short of adultery would justify such treatment, would it?
>
> Kay writes of Linda leaving Dan, as though she were the one who initiated the separation/divorce. I happen to know that this is very misleading, therefore not true. (In fact, > even Dan Shelton's statements indicate his taking responsibility for the decision regarding his marriage. See below.) Kay's statement implies that Linda was not fired but left of her own accord. Unfortunately she forgot to consult with Dan Shelton and Walter Thompson on that, and she forgot to read the statements published on the web site which clearly indicated that it was a board decision that Linda is no longer with 3ABN. Frankly, such obvious twisting of the published facts put the rest of her statement under strong suspicion of not being exactly the truth.

>
> Now back to Dan Shelton: Last Friday (August 13, 2004) Dan shared on the air that he had made "some of the most difficult decisions" of his life in the last several months, but he was sure that they were decisions that God wanted him to make. (My Bible says that divorce is permitted for adultery, but it says nothing about "spiritual adultery.")
>
> Dan also shared in a separate segment that he was forced to choose between his marriage and 3ABN. I wonder who forced him to choose?
>
> In another statement he said something about getting 3ABN back on track to fulfill its original mission. The implication appeared to be that someone no longer with 3ABN had caused it to go off track and veer from its original mission. Now that makes me wonder whether the particular things I liked about 3ABN lately is what was "off-track"? You see, I appreciated the fact that 3ABN seemed to give voice to a wider spectrum of Adventists than previously. In other words, it demonstrated some of the diversity I see in my church -- with the natural consequence that some essentially contradicted what others had shared (on non-essential issues). But that's the way it is in my church.
>
> Now I'm thinking that 3ABN will revert to presenting a very one-sided view of Adventism -- the view of Dan Shelton and his most conservative financial supporters. ... (But I'm still puzzled how such "conservative" folks can justify divorce on grounds other than adultery.)
>
> On the other hand, no marital break-up results from only one person's mistakes (even if Dan would like us to believe that). Among other things, that likely means that it would be best not to portray Linda as a 100% saint. She might not be able to live up to it. Dan and Linda balanced each other out nicely. Separately, I fear that neither of them will be "balanced."
>
> May the Lord intervene in these lives that have been so much in the public eye ...
>
> Blessings,
> Inge Anderson

There are some other posts on Aug. 17 on Club Adventist that are worth reading.
http://www.clubadventist.com

My husband is a family counselor and I have seen how men abuse their wives with "christian" control, jealousy and power. Wives are not immune from doing the same thing, however, after years of watching Linda on 3ABN and understanding human weaknesses I am on her side. There, I said it. I have now taken a side. I know that God can't take sides because he is routing for both of them to stay with Him and to stay with each other. I don't have that priviledge, so for the time being---Linda, you have my heart and my prayers.

Posted by: tarduke Aug 18 2004, 03:20 AM

QUOTE (calvin @ Aug 17 2004, 12:29 PM)

> Negros would drive up in their BMW and Benz, wearing $600 suits and $1,000 St John knits, jump up and down, shout amen, and put a dollar in the offering plate.

What I want to know is: How did Calvin match the Beamer owner and others with the solitary dollar bills? Was someone keeping an eye on them?

Those brothers apparently forgot the time tested technique for putting money in the plate: make a closed fist over the dollar and putting your hand as far in the plate as possible to prevent the usher/deacon from seeing your gift.

Posted by: HUGGINS130 Aug 18 2004, 05:16 AM

More lies from Adventism!

Posted by: claborn Aug 18 2004, 07:50 AM

Welcome Ginge.... thanks for that excellent post.... I knew there was more and it continues to come out.... thanks again.....

Posted by: tarduke Aug 18 2004, 07:58 AM

QUOTE (PARADISE @ Aug 18 2004, 05:16 AM)

> More lies from Adventism!

What does this refer to?

Posted by: mema Aug 18 2004, 08:08 AM

I think I will stay out of this topic until we have all details out. Only because there are conflicting issues and "He say, She say, She say". If they thought that sharing this much was going in their favor, they underestimated the intelligence of this group. We will not take what little they have shared and think it is written in stone.

I am with Claborn, time to quit showing the tip of the iceberg. Tell the whole truth because God already knows.

Posted by: claborn Aug 18 2004, 08:48 AM

Several issues though Verette... no where is it written that because your spouse commits adultery that it is mandatory that you get a divorce. It is an option but not required. How does one commit "spiritual adultery" which seems to be Mr. Shelton's claim? If you choose to go public with information, then as I said before, tell it all, tell what you did as well as your spouse... the fact that Mr. Shelton has chosen only to tell on Linda is suspect, in my opinion... I am sure there is more... I just read the letter Linda put out, and I will post that, so there is a degree of comparison....

I am still ticked about the Kuzma thing... she is a counselor and should have known better....

Posted by: claborn Aug 18 2004, 08:49 AM

Here is Linda's letter from her site....

A LETTER FROM LINDA:

August 18, 2004

Hello my friends,

I am overwhelmed!! Thank you so much for your cards, letters and gifts. Your love, prayers and encouragement mean more than you can possibly imagine...especially right now.

Many people have been asking "Where is Linda Shelton?" Well, she's been tucked away in the woods here in Southern Illinois nearly three months. It's been a wonderful quiet retreat where I can heal from the scars of spiritual and mental warfare. On 3ABN I've always been one to try to bring out the good things about trials...never dreaming that one day that my entire life would be pulled up from the very foundations. Truly it seems an impossibility that one can lose so much so quickly. It's not my intention that this letter result in your pity and sympathy, but it is my intention to give you, as my friend, perhaps a clearer picture of what happened. I signed a severance agreement with 3ABN. This limits me as to how detailed I can explain my story... but with God's blessing, and the unction of the Holy Spirit working on your heart, I believe I can say what needs to be said to clear up a lot of questions.

My story begins many years ago when I was only 24 years old. I was married with two small babies, Alyssa and Nathan. A literature evangelist came to my door, and after a pleasant visit she invited me to church. Three months later I was baptized as a Seventh-day Adventist Christian. These truths set me free to the highest degree and I was spiritually floating on "cloud nine." Yet Satan was angry. My family, at the time, had a twisted view of the SDA church, and additionally the family was heavily involved in politics. My choice was not, in their opinion, politically correct. The pressure on my husband and marriage resulted in a divorce. I was devastated. I lost my husband, my home and my security. I ended up living in a public housing facility which was completely contrary to the lifestyle in which I had been raised. Although this was an incredible blow, the lessons I learned during this time were priceless. I learned about what was really of the utmost importance in life. Still yet, it was a Gethsemane experience.

Time passed. Ten days after his vision to build 3ABN, Dan and I were married. It was an amazing experience to literally watch the hand of God build this network. It was an incredible privilege to be able to participate in a ministry that was ordained in the courts of heaven. But the battles still came...the evil one was angry with such an incredible evangelistic tool. One battle which literally brought me and kept me on my knees, occurred in 1995. After enjoying the custody of both of my children for many years, my children's father took me to court when my son, Nathan, was only 15 years old. Nathan was quite enamored with the newly acquired attentiveness he was getting from his father, so he wanted to live with him. I told Nathan that I could not, with a clear conscience, and would not place him in such an environment where smoking, drinking, etc. existed. We were in court for 3-1/2 days. Some questions I was asked were "Why couldn't my son play ball on Friday nights like all of the other boys his age?" And "Why couldn't my son eat meat like other young teenagers his age?" The opposing attorney was very successful making me, Nathan's Mom, look like an unbalanced religious zealot. I begged God to intervene. After I cried a barrel of tears I heard a still, small voice say "Just as Abraham placed Isaac on the altar, I want you to place Nathan on the altar." I said, "Please God, anything but that." But finally after crying another barrel of tears, with God's help I was able to place Nathan on the altar. The years that followed were much more than heart-breaking. Nathan become involved in alcohol, cigarettes, drugs, etc.. Many times I lay in bed numb and fearful that I would wake up to the news that something happened to Nathan during the night. I begged God to intervene. He did. He saved Nathan's life on not just one, but many occasions. Still yet, this was much more than a Gethsemane experience for me. In the last eight years it has not always been easy to sit on the porch and share the devotions the Lord gave me because of what was happening with my son. But somehow just speaking the Bible scriptures and making the effort to encourage someone else who was hurting always, but always strengthened me.

After 8 years of prayer the turning point came. God impressed an SDA doctor from Norway to visit 3ABN the last part of December. He said he didn't know why he was there...but he does now. I met him briefly and the conversation turned to Nathan. I explained to this doctor how Nathan had a $20,000 plus habit last year that had left him skin and bones. The doctor asked to see him and miraculously I was able to get Nathan to see him. He invited him to Norway to treat him with IV's filled with natural remedies which would cleanse his body then build it up. Again, miraculously Nathan agreed to go. He left around the 20th of January. A friend of mine and myself joined Nathan for about 3-1/2 days the first week in February to give him support. Incredibly, there was a visible difference in Nathan after only 10 days. When I returned I regularly called this doctor for progress reports. Although February was probably the busiest month of travel for Dan and myself, on March 7, 2004 I was accused of committing spiritual adultery with this doctor, because I spoke with this near stranger to me on the phone. Later untruths were spoken by one close to me and a simple situation escalated quickly into a nightmare. Things went from bad to worse to sinister. I literally fought the dragon from March until a separation became vitally necessary around the 1st of June. In a short time my job, my marriage, my ministry, and my reputation were gone...and not in this order. There are many details...but this is my story. Let me add here that before God there was no romantic notions on my part, nor on the part of this doctor, during a time filled with accusations and condemnation.

Although this has been a real Gethsemane experience for me, folks, I still love Jesus and I feel that I am on top of the problem, rather than the problem being on top of me. I praise God for all the precious memories of the past and I look forward to a life of ministry in the future. (I told the Lord that under the circumstances with the "reputation thing" that He's going to have to open up the doors. He's told me He would.) Additionally about my precious son, Nathan still struggles with some drug use, but praise God, he's fighting it...and he's going back to Norway in September for more treatments. Folks, I just want to encourage you to stay CLOSE to Jesus. The whirlwind can come when you least expect it to knock you off your feet...and where will you land?? Now is the time to lean hard on those everlasting arms, now is the time to spend time in God's Word and now is the time to make Jesus your Best Friend! May He bless you abundantly more than you can ask or think!! My prayers are with you!!

His love & mine,

Linda Shelton

P.S. Keep checking my website for new updates at lindashelton.org

---

Posted by: mema Aug 18 2004, 09:26 AM

I know I am going to get a lot of responses so finish reading before responding.

True they are in the public eye and there was an issue about some type of adultery. My thinking is this, if it involves a marriage, let them work that out. Yes, they are suppose to be an example, we all make mistakes.

Now there is always a third wheel or as most call it a "monkey wrench". I have seen what the "counselor" wrote and saw what Linda wrote. Now where is Danny Boy's side of things. I believe that he is allowing this to go on because he has a few things to hid. If we all remember how the game is played. If you make all evidence point another direction, then you will not be considered a suspect.

To the flip side of this...if she did have an affair, why. What was missing from the marriage that would make her do that. From the letter above, this is her second marriage. So she would have to be aware of the signs that there is a problem.

I just believe that one can not throw a stone ata glass house.

Posted by: tarduke Aug 18 2004, 10:29 AM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 18 2004, 08:49 AM)

> [color=blue]Here is Linda's letter from her site....
> A LETTER FROM LINDA:
>
> I signed a severance agreement with 3ABN. This limits me as to how detailed I can explain my story...
> ...There are many details...but this is my story. Let me add here that before God there was no romantic notions on my part, nor on the part of this doctor, during a time filled with accusations and condemnation.
>
> Linda Shelton

While I appreciate that Linda has to try to balance the PR equation this is just mosre of the lies, spins and misuse and abuse of Scripture to cover up---God knows what.

1. The only thing honest about this letter is that she insists it's her "story." And story it is.

2. She was not accused of "romantic notions" but of "spiritual adultery" and "adultery."

3. The misuse and abuse of Scripture by Linda should disturb any believer.

QUOTE (Linda Shelton via claborn)

> "Why couldn't my son play ball on Friday nights like all of the other boys his age?" And "Why couldn't my son eat meat like other young teenagers his age?" The opposing attorney was very successful making me, Nathan's Mom, look like an unbalanced religious zealot.

4. What kind of mother fights over Friday night activities and meat eating for her 15-year old child? Of course she was a fanatic! Poor kid!

5. She signed a severance agreement so she can't talk..what kind of trash is that?

It's about the money folks. Everyone involved in this is about the money. Everypone can talk but can't say much. Do you see the pattern?

Kay Kuzma's cottages/resorts get good free publicity on 3ABN. I didn't expect her to take Linda's side.

Linda got her millions to keep quiet--about what? Time will tell? The IRS hasn't finished with them yet.

Posted by: statrei Aug 18 2004, 10:39 AM

QUOTE (mema @ Aug 18 2004, 10:26 AM)

> I just believe that one can not throw a stone at a glass house.

Show me a better place to throw them.

Posted by: claborn Aug 18 2004, 10:40 AM

I am sure it is about the money, yet this could have been kept from public view if Mr. Shelton and 3ABN had announced Linda's departure in a more professional way leaving us to guess what really happened. I still maintain that Mr. Shelton had to come away looking clean so that 3ABN could keep it's conservative patrons on board.

As far as Mrs. Shelton's side is concerned, somewhere it may have been rumored that she was romantically linked to the man in question. Let's be real folks, how do you prove spiritual adultery? The inferences had to be made for something more than talking on the phone so that he could justify kicking her to the curb.....

Posted by: statrei Aug 18 2004, 10:44 AM

Why do you guys keep on speaking as if there is anything like spiritual adultery?

Posted by: claborn Aug 18 2004, 10:49 AM

You mean there is no such animal? Hmmmmm I think Mr. Shelton was hanging his hat on the "if a man looks with lust then he has committed adultery" only in his situation it would be, " if my wife talks on the phone longer than 10 minutes to a male she is not married to, then she has committed adultery with him..." or something like that. Granted I don't know Mr. Shelton, have no idea what kind of person he is, have not walked a mile or less in his shoes....However I do know that the bible he reads says Husbands love your wives as Christ loves the church... so EVEN IF he thought divorce was the only option he could have done it in love and saved her from embarrassment.... but that's just me

---

Posted by: claborn Aug 18 2004, 11:23 AM

So if is possible to commit spiritual adultery, is it also possible to commit spiritual stealing? Or spiritual coveting? How about spiritual dishonoring your parents?

Posted by: statrei Aug 18 2004, 11:26 AM

How do all these church heavyweights who were involved in this case explain how they allowed an accusation of spiritual adultery to be pursued by a spouse?

Posted by: claborn Aug 18 2004, 11:29 AM

They do the selective criteria thing.... it may be permissible for some to do it but not others, and then they will spin it to say it is evaluated on a case by case basis....

Posted by: tarduke Aug 18 2004, 11:31 AM

QUOTE (statrei @ Aug 18 2004, 10:44 AM)

> Why do you guys keep on speaking as if there is anything like spiritual adultery?

No one around here believes there is such a beast, I gather, that's why we either use it in quotation marks (as I did) or refer to it tongue-in-cheek as Steve did. It is Danny's terminology.

Posted by: statrei Aug 18 2004, 11:32 AM

I wonder if I need to go back and read the recent Review series about the attack on marriage to see whether they included trumped up charges of spiritual adultery as one of the recent attacks against marriage.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Aug 18 2004, 12:08 PM

I am responding to these points:

1. The only thing honest about this letter is that she insists it's her "story." And story it is.

Answer:

Linda is a songwriter and a musician. Other musicians will understand:

This is my story,
This is my song,
Praising my Saviour
All the day long.

2. She was not accused of "romantic notions" but of "spiritual adultery" and "adultery."

Answer:

Kay Kuzma, in her note to Calvin, has claimed that the mystery doctor and Linda toured Europe. The remark leads one's imagination to those old movies, such as "Roman Adventure" with Troy Donohue and Suzanne Pleshette, or "Roman Holiday" with Gregory Peck and Audrey Hepburn, where two actors bounce throught the European countryside and fall in love.

3. The misuse and abuse of Scripture by Linda should disturb any believer.

Answer:

I don't belong to the Scripture Patrol, so I can't respond to this one.

4. What kind of mother fights over Friday night activities and meat eating for her 15-year old child?

Answer:

The opposing lawyer in Nathan's custody fight used standard, Adventist beliefs to influence the judge. The judge assigned custody to Nathan's non-adventist father as a result. Linda lost custody of Nathan. Nathan, apparently, ended up travelling some very dark roads. Hence, the apparent need for the Norwegian clinic. I'm sure Linda believes this entire, dark, medical episode could have been avoided if she had been given custody of her son when he was 15.

5. She signed a severance agreement so she can't talk..what kind of trash is that?

Answer:

Settlement documents often have gag orders in them.

6. Linda got her millions to keep quiet--about what? Time will tell? The IRS hasn't finished with them yet.

If she was fired, and I think she was, then any severance payment might not have been her idea. I think she would opt to avoid the humiliation, rather than accept a severance check.

Panama Pete

Posted by: princessdi Aug 18 2004, 12:12 PM

I am glad to see both of theses posts. To Ginge I would first like to say welcome.

These posts cleared up a few more things. One in particular is that I was curious about Danny's omission, he never even mentioned Nathan. Now it is clear, Nathan is not his child. From the first time I heard that this revolved around treatment for Nathan, I was struck by Danny's distance.

QUOTE

> 4. What kind of mother fights over Friday night activities and meat eating for her 15-year old child? Of course she was a fanatic! Poor kid!

Trevor, this is a common strategy in custody battles when one parent has religious affiliations and the other does not, or they don't share the same ones. She wasn't fighting over that, these are the reasons given as her being unfit to raise the child. She had to defend raising Nathan according to SDA beliefs. They were accusing her(and Danny) to be religious zealots. Her fears were obviously realized, however, God in still in control. This is something she could not do for Nathan, he has to walk this road himself.

QUOTE

> 5. She signed a severance agreement so she can't talk..what kind of trash is that?

Exactly the kind of trash we see now. With Danny and 3ABN being the only ones out there doing the talking, telling only one severely skewed side of the story. Yes, there was a monetary settlement, since it looks as if they had her over a barrel, departure from 3ABN would have also meant the termination of her own income. Danny and 3ABN held the power here. Linda should have insisted upon an agreement with both parties abiding by a "gag order". As it is they can(and have said) say whatever they want, and she can say almost nothing to defend herself.

Posted by: pmorris68 Aug 18 2004, 12:15 PM

I think we all just need to agree that there is 3 sides to every story....

His Story
Her Story
The Truth

Posted by: claborn Aug 18 2004, 12:22 PM

While we can agree that there are multiple "truths" in this story, the part that bothers me is Mr. Shelton's posturing. What would God have you to do in a situation like that? Where is the "Christian love?" I am sorry, I don't see Mr. Shelton taking the high road, and that is my issue. Regardless of what she did, he has a duty to take the high road. The story of Hosea is in the bible for a reason..... Just my perspective though....

Posted by: princessdi Aug 18 2004, 12:24 PM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 18 2004, 10:22 AM)

> While we can agree that there are multiple "truths" in this story, the part that bothers me is Mr. Shelton's posturing. What would God have you to do in a situation like that? Where is the "Christian love?" I am sorry, I don't see Mr. Shelton taking the high road, and that is my issue. Regardless of what she did, he has a duty to take the high road. The story of Hosea is in the bible for a reason..... Just my perspective though....

I agree, Steve, this would not even be out here like this if it weren't for Danny and 3ABN Board tatics. Not Christ-like at all!

Posted by: claborn Aug 18 2004, 12:33 PM

It is messy just messy.... and it soooooo similar to what the Jews were willing to do to kill Jesus. I mean they were willing to plot and plan, arrange to catch a woman in adultery just to trap Jesus.... The way this 3ABN thing is unfolding, don't tell me someone somewhere wasn't plotting and planning how to destroy the reputation of not only Linda but the doctor in question.....

I wish Mr. Shelton would be kind enough to reappear and state his case as well as answer some burning questions. He could bring along Ms. Kuzma cause some of us (okay me) have some questions for her too....

Posted by: claborn Aug 18 2004, 03:17 PM

Trevor mentioned it as did Panama Pete, so I am wondering what role does money play in this? Why is the IRS scrutinizing (if they are) 3ABN? What questionable activity might be occurring that would even interest the IRS?

Posted by: statrei Aug 18 2004, 03:23 PM

It is really the Illinois tax authorities wanting property taxes. Unless something new has come up, 3ABN has no IRS issues. They have been certified by the IRS as being a religious non-profit organization.

Posted by: awesumtenor Aug 18 2004, 03:26 PM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 18 2004, 05:17 PM)

> Trevor mentioned it as did Panama Pete, so I am wondering what role does money play in this? Why is the IRS scrutinizing (if they are) 3ABN? What questionable activity might be occurring that would even interest the IRS?

Offhand, if I had to guess, I'd say 501c3 violations...there are very stringent tax and income reporting guidelines for tax exempt organizations, especially those that solicit and receive donations and there are draconian penalties for noncompliance.

If any settlement for her termination was paid from funds donated under 501c3, then 3ABN could have real issues; it's the double whammy. If they lose 501c3 status, they have to pay taxes and penalties plus the monies donated to the ministry are no longer tax deductible (ever wonder what happened to the Christian Coalition? There you go; they got hit for 501c3 violations and paid through the nose... they may still be paying)... and we know the greatest reason for charitable deductions is the tax break

And that's just at the federal level; I believe they were already in some trouble with the state of Illinois for tax related issues.

In His service,
Kevin Josey

Posted by: claborn Aug 18 2004, 05:20 PM

Thanks Kevin for that info and it could be that the financial piece is just another unrelated to the problems at 3ABN

Posted by: mema Aug 18 2004, 05:22 PM

Well, it is safe to say that we now have a soap opera before us. We will have to wait to see how this plays out.

Posted by: claborn Aug 18 2004, 05:25 PM

Yes it is definitely drama..... but it didn't have to be like this... this was planned... and that's the part that is scary... someone planned this mess.....

Posted by: HUGGINS130 Aug 18 2004, 05:44 PM

Ok I may be a little off topic of what has been discussed lately but if I am not mistaking wasn't there a report made that Linda made choices that were not in line with where the 3abn ministry was going. The problem I had with that first report was that unless Linda had renounced her faith in Jesus Christ, then and only then could I see the need to report her departure from the mission of the Gospel Ministry. I don't know all the details nor do I need to know them all, but I agree with Steve, and Di, that this is just messy. To top it off like Steve said, Adultery doesn't constitute divorce, unless there is a hardness of heart, and this spiritual adultery charge is something else. From the beginning of this whole mess, it looked to me as if the cards were being dealt, to the point where a major blow would be issued to the one standing alone. As you see Linda refused to accept certain counseling, and other things too. I agree with Steve, I think this was planned and I can't say if Linda cheated or not, but she is still calling on the name of her God, through letter, so I am happy at least to know that through her letters if nothing else, she has her faith in God.

Looking from the outside in, this seems just like another case where the Adventist elite are downtrodding the lesser in this case. I have heard of countless cases where Advent lawyers, doctors, and those in high positions have pulled this number before. Whether it was against another spouse or a lowly member of this church, this type of thing has happened before. For some reason I don't think Linda is in this just for money, but because she had no other choice but to accept her termination, she was compensated what was due her.

This whole thing has saddened me, because ya'll I am tired of lies, and I am tired of Christians acting like they don't have any common love for another. It's time that Christians act in love and abide by that principle where if sin abound grace abound more. There was nothing graceful about this from the start, and there will never be anything graceful about this situation. So messy it just makes me sick...

Posted by: HUGGINS130 Aug 18 2004, 05:51 PM

QUOTE (tarduke @ Aug 18 2004, 07:58 AM)

> What does this refer to?

My statement "more lies from Adventism" refer to this 3ABN nonsense. This is just pathetic, and I believe that a lot of this stuff is about the elite trying to take advantage of the common person. You don't see how they tried to make her seek certain counselors. Just like the Jehovah's witnesses, they only seek their people for counseling, they had all these Adventist people trying to work this stuff out. If problems of this magnitude were to happen again, and the situation were taken care of again, in the same manner, no good would come out of it, cause one side is going to have all the elite they need to justify their cause. In this case, Linda was outnumbered from the beginning... So what if she committed adultery, whether "spiritual" or physical, she doesn't seem like she has renounced her faith in Christ. All I can say is that just like Steve said in another post, as the Jews plotted to come up with all types of things to crucify our Saviour, this seems to be the same thing in this case with Linda... that's about it
This isn't nothing but Lies and deception through and throug. Then DANNY has the nerve to say that if this ministry is of God it will show, but if it's of the devil that will show too, that was about the most pathetic thing he could have said at a time like this, but maybe I was the only one to notice that in his original letter to Calvin...

Posted by: HUGGINS130 Aug 18 2004, 05:59 PM

Claborn thanks for speaking up on this issue today, things like this don't go without being noticed, and people need to realize that something of this magnitude will never stop unless dedicated church members take a stand for righteousness. I appreciate what you guys are doing here, even though I am not a baptized member, I do believe in Christ, and this is not what he stands for... Ya'll keep making strides to do right, this church will get to the point where it need to be.

Posted by: claborn Aug 18 2004, 08:32 PM

Paradise, I saw a sensitivity session conducted by Dr. Ben King years ago on Phil Donahue dealing with prejudice. I will never forget it. He said we should never ever allow a group of people to hurt, exclude, ostracize another human being for any reason, for we are all God's children.

I said it from the beginning, what was done and is being done to Linda Shelton is not right, period. I am not sure how far reaching our objections are, but at least we have voiced our opinion that it is not right....

Posted by: awesumtenor Aug 19 2004, 07:34 AM

QUOTE (PARADISE @ Aug 18 2004, 07:44 PM)

> This whole thing has saddened me, because ya'll I am tired of lies, and I am tired of Christians acting like they don't have any common love for another.

Unfortunately, this is not the act; this is where too many professed Christians are living... the act is when they put on the mask Sabbath morning and act like they're happy to see folk they were just saying on the ride to church make them sick simply because they exist...

But that's another topic for another time...

In His service,
Kevin Josey

Posted by: claborn Aug 19 2004, 01:47 PM

Very true Kevin, which is why some can only stand to be a "good christian" on the weekends. If they had actually be a christian everyday (like they give lip service to) many more would drop out.... just my opinion though.....

Posted by: claborn Aug 20 2004, 12:27 PM

Do you think that Linda will be blamed for all the financial woes 3ABN is experiencing? I mean she was fired and usually the fired one gets all the blame....

Posted by: mema Aug 20 2004, 12:30 PM

I wouldn't be surprised on bit if it happens.....

In their minds, they probably feel that she is sacrificing for the greater good.

Posted by: Jvat Aug 20 2004, 12:57 PM

Mema, Uh! Oh!

Posted by: mema Aug 20 2004, 12:58 PM

Could not resist that one....

Posted by: calvin Aug 20 2004, 01:11 PM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 20 2004, 12:27 PM)

> Do you think that Linda will be blamed for all the financial woes 3ABN is experiencing? I mean she was fired and usually the fired one gets all the blame....

I had not heard that they were having financial problems, but I am not surprised. All a non-profit has is their reputation to rely on for donations. 3ABN might not be able to survive this ordeal

---

Posted by: mema Aug 20 2004, 01:15 PM

Unless they change things quickly (media and legal) the score will look like this:

3ABN - 0

Enemy - 4

Posted by: FocusFactor Aug 20 2004, 02:34 PM

QUOTE (mema @ Aug 20 2004, 01:15 PM)

> Unless they change things quickly (media and legal) the score will look like this:
>
> 3ABN - 0
>
> Enemy - 4

But in the big picture the score will always be:

God: infinity

Enemy: whatever paltry score he gets, which in the end will fade into insignificance

Posted by: mema Aug 20 2004, 02:37 PM

You believe that and so do I. But from what we have seen, they do not.

Posted by: Jvat Aug 20 2004, 04:05 PM

And more's the pity, Mema. Is media work hazardous to growth in Christ?

Posted by: mema Aug 20 2004, 10:39 PM

Yes, living in a false world.

Posted by: dmizzle06 Aug 20 2004, 10:51 PM

QUOTE (Jvat @ Aug 20 2004, 04:05 PM)

> And more's the pity, Mema. Is media work hazardous to growth in Christ?

Not if its primary purpose is to spread the gospel to all the world. In this, 3ABN appears to have fallen short.

Posted by: Fran Aug 21 2004, 02:56 AM http://www.revenue.state.il.us/legalinformation/hearings/pt/pt04-1.pdf

This is the link to the IL Tax Lawsuit vs. 3ABN. If you read it carefully, you will find out some serious financial problems.

Posted by: Prisca Aug 21 2004, 07:02 AM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 17 2004, 03:12 PM)

> Okay it took me a moment but check this out.... Kuzma says she was "brought in." Brought by whom? Let me put it another way... in mental health (and I do have some experience there...okay I got about 18 yrs worth so I know a thing or two) it is OFTEN observed that the one being brought to counseling is usually NOT the one who needs counseling.... Its usually the person bringing the other person who needs as much or more counseling....
>
> Now if the 3ABN board and Danny are "bringing" people in to "counsel" how effective is that going to be? Not very, it is stacked against Linda in my opinion... so here is how I see it..... Danny thinks there is a problem. Linda does not. Danny is bringing in people to talk to Linda, oh the spin might be let's get someone to counsel us, but in reality it is for Linda.... Don't you think she knew that? What kind of outcome can you expect from that setup? Not a good one.....

Oh Steve,
Haven't we seen this over and over? Let me get some help for ....him or ...her. THEY need a lot of help. Why do we say this? Sometimes because the other person is the one doing the overt action. It's not always the mover who is the problem. Well said!

Priscilla

Posted by: Prisca Aug 21 2004, 07:08 AM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 20 2004, 06:27 PM)

> Do you think that Linda will be blamed for all the financial woes 3ABN is experiencing? I mean she was fired and usually the fired one gets all the blame....

The blame, Steve,
Usually goes to the party that leaves the other. A spouse may take a stick and chase the partner from the home forcibly. The neighbors looking on do not see the stick...they only see one person running eratically away. My My, they cluck. Why would that person leave such a lovely home?

Priscilla

Posted by: TedOdell Aug 21 2004, 07:45 AM

This may be worth enrolling into law school! This is contact info posted under Dr. Kuzma's website:

Address: Dr. Kay/Jan Kuzma
1105 Big Creek Road, LaFollette TN 37766.
Phone: 423-566-5007(voice); 423-566-6007 (fax)
E-mail: kaykuzma@aol.com

Posted by: mrsljosey Aug 21 2004, 07:59 AM

QUOTE (TedOdell @ Aug 21 2004, 07:45 AM)

> This may be worth enrolling into law school! This is contact info posted under Dr. Kuzma's website:
>
> Address: Dr. Kay/Jan Kuzma
> 1105 Big Creek Road, LaFollette TN 37766.
> Phone: 423-566-5007(voice); 423-566-6007 (fax)
> E-mail: kaykuzma@aol.com

I wondered why the writer x'd out their number, as if it had been placed there to begin with. I could not help but chuckle when I saw your post Bro. Ted.
Peace

Posted by: claborn Aug 21 2004, 08:03 AM

Well, well, well.... It seems like now I can send an email or two to Dr Kuzma and share with her my feelings on the letter she shared with us....

Posted by: mrsljosey Aug 21 2004, 08:17 AM

Could the Dr.'s revelations, on this forum or any other, regarding the personal conversation(s) she had with Sis. Linda be seen by a review board as inappropriate? Since this is a public forum, could she be held liable for such behaviour? Just curious.
Peace

Posted by: claborn Aug 21 2004, 09:52 AM

I felt it was inappropriate because of its content, and because it did nothing more that suggest that Mr. Shelton was the "innocent" party and everything was Linda's fault.... something I don't believe by the way....

Posted by: Jvat Aug 21 2004, 01:18 PM

And the plot thickens. But Brethren from my understanding, this one may be best left for God to solve because I fear that it is much more sticky and messy than we may realise. Let us just pray that they get their act together and that 3ABN learns from all its mistakes in this situation.

Posted by: calvin Aug 21 2004, 01:32 PM

QUOTE (mrsljosey @ Aug 21 2004, 07:59 AM)

> I wondered why the writer x'd out their number, as if it had been placed there to begin with. I could not help but chuckle when I saw your post Bro. Ted.
> Peace

It was I who x'ed out the phone number before I posted the message here. I felt the phone number was given to me personally. For those who questioned whether the message was from her. The email address Ted noted above was the "from" address for the message send to me.

Posted by: claborn Aug 21 2004, 02:59 PM

Jvat.... ultimately God will sort is all out and deal with whomever according to His mercy, justice, and compassion..... It is just ashamed that people can choose to do this to other people.... and if they can do that to someone they know, what could they do with someone they don't know??

Posted by: sparkylyn Aug 21 2004, 03:12 PM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 21 2004, 08:03 AM)

> Well, well, well.... It seems like now I can send an email or two to Dr Kuzma and share with her my feelings on the letter she shared with us....

I hope once you send one of your well worded letters, you will share with us whatever response you might receive.

Posted by: claborn Aug 21 2004, 04:14 PM

QUOTE (sparkylyn @ Aug 21 2004, 04:12 PM)

> I hope once you send one of your well worded letters, you will share with us whatever response you might receive.

Yep..... I am contemplating for the moment everything I want to say, then I will wait until after Sabbath to write and send....

Posted by: Prisca Aug 21 2004, 04:18 PM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 21 2004, 03:52 PM)

> I felt it was inappropriate because of its content, and because it did nothing more that suggest that Mr. Shelton was the "innocent" party and everything was Linda's fault.... something I don't believe by the way....

My point exactly, Steve,
It seems to be a given that under certain circumstances the woman must 'obey' and of course 'stay. I received a letter from 3abn calling all supporters to rally behind the ministry. The letter asked us not to let the devil destroy the ministry. I have wondered why it was that Linda was the one given the ultimatum? I find this trend in some of the Q and A columns in the various SDA magazines. Pastor and Mrs. Oliver, Kay Kuzma and others are those giving answers. When it comes to marital problems many times the grin and bear it or submit issue comes through as a 'good' answer, when the problem may, I say may, because I don't really know. From watching the various shows where they co-hosted, there was a vast difference in their intellect and approach to life, yet there are marriages that are able to balance that out. When she took off her long dresses for church...a no no in some of the pastor's eyes and wore pant suits...I think it was around December 2003, I got the feeling that things were not going right. Sometimes we overlook the 'little things'and by the time we see, it is something really BIG!

Priscilla

Posted by: mema Aug 21 2004, 05:45 PM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 21 2004, 08:03 AM)

> Well, well, well.... It seems like now I can send an email or two to Dr Kuzma and share with her my feelings on the letter she shared with us....

Be nice now.....we all would like to speak with her and we do not want her to block numbers so soon....

Posted by: claborn Aug 21 2004, 06:57 PM

I prefer to email... that way there is documentation that she responded or didn't respond...

Posted by: ginge Aug 21 2004, 07:38 PM

I've been thinking about the repercussions on many people. There are a couple of men in particular I am thinking of.

My mother, (who passed away Feb. of this year at 93) was a devout listener of Linda and Danny. As with Inge's mother my mother also gave donations. She left a sum in her Will for them. Now I wish I had known to give it to Linda only. I also am thankful that mother is not alive to see all of this mess.

But back to the men I mentioned above. Mother bought the book "A Channel of Blessing" written by Bob Ellis and published in 2002. He traveled with the Sheltons for a few years and came to know and love them and their ministry. Bob declares that he was not a christian and a lot of his feelings about "ministries" were based on the likes of people like the Bakkers and Swagert. So when he was given the assignment to follow the Sheltons and write about their ministry he was not thrilled. Let me quote what he says in his book about them. "All theologians were suspect in my mind. To my way of thinking, their shame (Bakkers, Swagert) eroded the entire religious community, not just my personal confidence." After all those years with 3ABN he still did not become a Seventh-day Adventist, but he admired our people greatly. What must he be thinking now! How did he see Linda and Danny on a personal basis? Does he go back now to his original quote (above) that he put on the first page of their book and say, I've been duped once again?

The other man I am thinking of is Dale Smith. His story is also in the above book. He was a Pentecostal minister. I saw him interviewed by Danny and Linda one day. I still remember that interview because Danny said "we have invited Dale to be on our staff here at 3ABN, he isn't a Seventh-day Adventist yet but we are expecting him to be someday". Did that man join 3ABN and if so what are his feelings now about Danny and Linda? Will he ever become an SDA? These two incidents stick out in my mind as I think of how the devil has hurt so many innocent people by causing jealousy, power, control and yes, pride to win in the lives of people in high profile places. We place too much responsibility on leaders and then we look at them in awe. The media has helped us to adore people with charisma and beautiful voices and bodies. It takes a very humble person to not be affected by all that adoration and money. I believe that Linda was also drawn into this media hype, after all they went from very poor to owning over $43,000,000 in assets. But I will say that as I watched her over the years and the last few months before she was terminated I saw a strong christian growth. She worked to remain humble and I don't believe what I was seeing was an act. Linda showed she really loved her Lord.

So, I'm still thinking about sending back their book. It pains me greatly to look at the pictures of Linda and Danny looking so happy and now knowing that everything in their book has been erased by Danny as non-existent.

My last question is: How can Kay Kuzma write a book about 3ABN that she has been working on for 4 years and go back and take out everything that has to do with Linda and still have any book left to publish?

Posted by: ginge Aug 21 2004, 07:41 PM

OK Calviin,I how do I get one of those letters off? Must have hit the button twice?

Posted by: HUGGINS130 Aug 21 2004, 07:45 PM

I don't think many will have a problem with a double post...

Posted by: mema Aug 21 2004, 07:50 PM

Been there, done that.....my problem is the spelling.

Welcome by the way!

Posted by: calvin Aug 21 2004, 07:52 PM

QUOTE (ginge @ Today at 7:41 pm)

> OK Calviin,I how do I get one of those letters off? Must have hit the button twice?

I cleaned it up for you. Welcome, you will get the hang of things soon.

Posted by: HUGGINS130 Aug 21 2004, 07:53 PM

ok now clean up your act Boss Man!!! I see two from you...

Posted by: mema Aug 21 2004, 07:53 PM

Nice one CALvin...

Posted by: calvin Aug 21 2004, 07:58 PM

You are too fast Paradise. I was hoping I could clean that up before anyone caught it. Ok, you have had your fun . Now back on topic.

Posted by: HUGGINS130 Aug 21 2004, 08:18 PM

QUOTE (calvin @ Today at 7:58 pm)

> You are too fast Paradise. I was hoping I could clean that up before anyone caught it. Ok, you have had your fun . Now back on topic.

Well Calvin since ginge has arrived and you have tried to clean up that double post, something has happened because it's now happened to Focus Factor and I "Paradise" also. Check to see that you put things back Calvin because the forum on my screen keeps getting weird messages and stuff, causing me to double post at times too..

Posted by: mema Aug 21 2004, 08:21 PM

I noticed that too and it is across the top when you reply. After you reply, there is gibberish writing.....

Posted by: calvin Aug 21 2004, 08:35 PM last ofl . Put a mod in this evening. Testing in Test forum. I think I lot it fixed. Please respond in test forum if these errors continue to occur for anyone.

Posted by: HUGGINS130 Aug 21 2004, 08:49 PM

Got it fixed is what Calvin meant. Here in Atlanta in the fulton county board of education it was a requirement to graduate after a certain time that we learn typing or else... Oh how times have changed since the days of our elder brothers and sisters who only had pen and pad...

It's fine now Calvin, I just thought I'd get to you before Harold K.City get ya...

Posted by: mema Aug 21 2004, 08:59 PM

QUOTE (ginge @ Today at 7:38 pm)

> My last question is: How can Kay Kuzma write a book about 3ABN that she has been working on for 4 years and go back and take out everything that has to do with Linda and still have any book left to publish?

Back to the topic at hand....

She can not. What she will probably do is retitle the book and make some changes in it. This is too great of an opportunity for her to not make a buck off of this.

Posted by: freesurfer Aug 21 2004, 09:06 PM

I've been reading the 3ABN thread from the beginning.
Before anyone had posted the name of Kay Kuzma, or referenced the Dr. from Norway, here on this board, a friend told me about "Linda's online affair" and she heard it direct from Kay, who also said "You won't believe whats happening....Pray or 3ABN" Dr. Kuzma also related that she had to quickly revamp her nearly completed book on the 3ABN story, and remove many references to Linda and make it more focused on 3ABN an an organization and less on Linda and Danny. I was shocked that Kay, as a professional counselor would reveal this confidential information. How many others has she told?

Posted by: mema Aug 21 2004, 09:07 PM

If you have a mouth and someone is listening, the world is your oyster...

Posted by: Jvat Aug 21 2004, 10:34 PM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 21 2004, 02:59 PM)

> It is just ashamed that people can choose to do this to other people.... and if they can do that to someone they know, what could they do with someone they don't know??

Steve, just goes to show how sticky, messy and gummy, the situation is and has become that a ministry that was established to heal broken people, now has persons associated with it, trashing others. Instead of fighting our common enemy, the fighting has turned on one another. Lord have mercy! How did it get to this? Let us keep praying, folks!

Posted by: claborn Aug 21 2004, 11:50 PM

QUOTE (freesurfer @ Aug 21 2004, 10:06 PM)

> I've been reading the 3ABN thread from the beginning.
> Before anyone had posted the name of Kay Kuzma, or > referenced the Dr. from Norway, here on this board, a friend told me about "Linda's online affair" and she heard it direct from Kay, who also said "You won't believe whats happening....Pray or 3ABN" Dr. Kuzma also related that she had to quickly revamp her nearly completed book on the 3ABN story, and remove many references to Linda and make it more focused on 3ABN an an organization and less on Linda and Danny. I was shocked that Kay, as a professional counselor would reveal this confidential information. How many others has she told?

That is interesting Freesurfer.... thanks for that tidbit of info... it confirms that some of this was brewing for some time.... still messy.....

Posted by: mema Aug 22 2004, 10:22 AM

Wouldn't it be funny if after everything comes out, Linda is not the "bad guy". But in fact it is Danny and Kay. That they were not only doing shady business deals but also the ones having the affair?

Just thought I would throw a twist into this...

Posted by: tarduke Aug 23 2004, 06:17 AM

I love 3ABN. Much of the programming is till good, but without Linda, it just aint the real McCoy.

I miss the clips of Danny and Linda on the porch and Fluffy (is that the dog's name?).

I am starting a "Go Back Linda" campaign. Anyone wants to join?

Posted by: Denny Aug 23 2004, 06:40 AM

QUOTE (tarduke @ Aug 23 2004, 01:17 PM)

> I love 3ABN. Much of the programming is till good, but without Linda, it just aint the real McCoy.

> I miss the clips of Danny and Linda on the porch and Fluffy (is that the dog's name?).
>
> I am starting a "Go Back Linda" campaign. Anyone wants to join?

You better check with Linda first

Posted by: claborn Aug 23 2004, 06:41 AM

Trevor,
Seems like a song is appropriate "if I could turn back the hands of time..." Linda has been summarily fired and divorced (for "spiritual adultery as you recall), so her going back would kinda be like The Sonny and Cher Show after Sonny and Cher were divorced... it just wasn't the same....

Posted by: Jvat Aug 23 2004, 07:26 AM

QUOTE (denny26uk @ Aug 23 2004, 06:40 AM)

> You better check with Linda first

Indeed! Denny26UK.

Posted by: princessdi Aug 23 2004, 08:20 AM

QUOTE (mema @ Aug 22 2004, 08:22 AM)

> Wouldn't it be funny if after everything comes out, Linda is not the "bad guy". But in fact it is Danny and Kay. That they were not only doing shady business deals but also the ones having the affair?
>
> Just thought I would throw a twist into this...

Now, Verette, Girl, that is exactly what I stopped short of suggesting after reading the good Dr.'s post.

Posted by: claborn Aug 23 2004, 08:24 AM

Like I said before... most folks tell on other people but rarely tell on themselves.... so Danny may have projected on Linda what he himself was wrestling with....

Posted by: mrsljosey Aug 23 2004, 08:57 AM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 23 2004, 08:24 AM)

> Like I said before... most folks tell on other people but rarely tell on themselves.... so Danny may have projected on Linda what he himself was wrestling with....

Tru dat... it's interesting that we've experienced a bit of that on and off line. Scary.
Peace

Posted by: mema Aug 23 2004, 08:59 AM

And this too shall pass.... we hope.

Posted by: claborn Aug 23 2004, 12:15 PM

Eventually, but everyone will be splattered with mud.....

Posted by: mema Aug 23 2004, 12:35 PM

All I can say is as their brother and sister in Christ, we better bring them a towel and soap....

Did you send the email yet?

Posted by: tarduke Aug 23 2004, 12:38 PM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 23 2004, 12:15 PM)

> Eventually, but everyone will be splattered with mud.....

Lol. Mud everywhere...

Posted by: mema Aug 23 2004, 12:48 PM

From them trying to get away.

Posted by: claborn Aug 23 2004, 12:56 PM

I did send the email.... I will PM it to you....

Posted by: princessdi Aug 23 2004, 12:58 PM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 23 2004, 10:56 AM)

> I did send the email.... I will PM it to you....

Me, too, please!

Posted by: claborn Aug 23 2004, 12:59 PM

Its done Di.....

Posted by: mema Aug 23 2004, 01:05 PM

Nicely done I might say. Now do you think she will respond? Do you think that they will cease to send Calvin correspondence pertaining to this issue?

Come back next week to hear the amazing answers. Same 3ABN...same BSDA.
Batman theme song

Posted by: claborn Aug 23 2004, 01:07 PM

I have no idea... I did what I thought I needed to do.....so she may or may not, but she knows what I think about her response....

Posted by: claborn Aug 23 2004, 01:41 PM

I reread my email to Dr. Kuzma and I did say I was going to share the letter.... so here is what I wrote.....

Dear Dr. Kuzma,
I have read your response to the members that frequent BlackSDA regarding the recent happenings at 3ABN. While I can only assume your intentions were noble, your response appeared to suggest Mr. Shelton was the "innocent victim" while Linda Shelton was completely at fault. I question the wisdom of you sharing the particulars in this situation given your vocation as a counselor. From your response it appears that you were not counseling Linda, and if that is the case then confidentiality would not be an issue, however as a fellow christian it would seem that you would have erred on the side of caution and not shared what your perceptions were. One could conclude from your response that Linda was deeply involved in an illicit relationship that she refused to end.

As a counselor you know that people who are forced into counseling are usually resistant to counseling. You are probably also aware that the person who is taken to a counselor is usually not the one who needs counseling, that it may be the whole family who is in need. I seriously question your motives for making your response public and indirectly supporting Mr. Shelton in this situation. No one has shared what Mr. Shelton did, or what his actions were though all this, and the onesidedness of the reports is inherently unfair. I am disappointed that you would add fuel to the fires of speculation and in essence accuse Mrs. Shelton of something she has repeatedly denied.

I do not expect a response because you don't have to justify your actions to me. I will be sharing my email with those members of BlackSDA just to let them know that I think your actions were not appropriate, highly questionable, and added nothing constructive to this mess. As a Christian I think God would have us take the higher road, and because you have had years of counseling it seems that you would have known better.....

Sincerely,

Steve Claborn

Posted by: claborn Aug 23 2004, 03:25 PM

From another forum..... thought it was interesting.....

Thought I would update you on some changes. Jim Gilley has withdrawn his name from the nomination for the Texas Conference President. We will soon know the outcome.

A GC directive has been sent to NAD, Unions and Conferences to distance themselves from 3ABN. I knew when I saw the programming and realized everything running is a re-run or previous tape sent for earlier viewing that something was happening.

Posted by: mema Aug 23 2004, 03:38 PM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 23 2004, 03:25 PM)

> From another forum..... thought it was interesting.....
>
> Thought I would update you on some changes. Jim Gilley has withdrawn his name from the nomination for the Texas Conference President. We will soon know the outcome.
>
> A GC directive has been sent to NAD, Unions and Conferences to distance themselves from 3ABN. I knew when I saw the programming and realized everything running is a re-run or previous tape sent for earlier viewing that something was happening.

I do not get involved with the political aspect of GC. Please explain what all of this means...

Posted by: Jvat Aug 23 2004, 03:55 PM

Well, I did say that it was a sticky, messy and gummy situation. Looks like the fat has hit the fan. Maybe the GC's directive has been so given because of the unusually quick divorce under unusual circumstances? Has the GC handled the matter compassionately themselves, Steve, do you think?

And I wonder whether any of this is true about the GC, anyway?

Posted by: princessdi Aug 23 2004, 04:49 PM

QUOTE (mema @ Aug 23 2004, 01:38 PM)

> I do not get involved with the political aspect of GC. Please explain what all of this means...

It means exactly what we suspect, Something ain't right with Danny and 3ABN. Linda is only being made look like the problem, but she is gone, and their problem continue!

Posted by: claborn Aug 23 2004, 05:03 PM

Jvat,
No I don't think the GC will handle it compassionately, they will handle it in such a way to protect their flanks and make sure the church is seen in a positive light. I think it is always a possibility with an independent sda ministry that something could happen that embarrasses the "official" Church. So the easiest thing to do is to distance the church from 3ABN which is what is happening...

Posted by: tarduke Aug 23 2004, 05:08 PM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 23 2004, 01:41 PM)

> [color=blue]I reread my email to Dr. Kuzma and I did say I was going to share the letter.... so here is what I wrote.....

Very well written letter. Good balance between respect and straight talk.

Posted by: claborn Aug 23 2004, 05:36 PM

QUOTE (tarduke @ Aug 23 2004, 06:08 PM)

> Very well written letter. Good balance between respect and straight talk.

Thanks Trevor.... just covering the basics and expressing disappointment in the way things were handled.....

Posted by: mema Aug 24 2004, 08:22 AM

Get this guys, my friend emailed a letter that she got from 3ABN. I will send a copy for all to read.....but the funny things that I love are the following:

1. They addressed all that we have spoken about

2. Speak about the changes to come and.....

3. Please send a donation to further their cause...

You gotta love how things work out.

Posted by: claborn Aug 24 2004, 12:13 PM

To show I post everything I find, good or bad... here is a follow-up to something I posted (found on ClubAdventist) earlier...The following is something else I found on ClubAdventist related to the alleged directive.

"I contacted NAD and here is their answer:

If this has been "a GC directive sent to NAD, Unions, and Conferences," it's news to me, and I open all the mail my boss - NAD Communication Director - receives. I will check out the story, but have serious doubts as to its veracity. There could be a lot of reasons for all the re-runs! Regular television does reruns during the summer every year!

Blessings,

Lynetta Murdoch
Secretary to Kermit Netteburg
Office of Communication
North American Division of Seventh-day Adventists www.nadadventist.org "

(this is in response to the alleged directive to distance themselves from 3ABN)

Posted by: ginge Aug 24 2004, 03:46 PM

Claborn said:

"To show I post everything I find, good or bad... here is a follow-up to something I posted earlier..."

My comment:
I believe that Fran was the originator of the first post concerning NAD and it was posted on Club Adventist.

Claborn then continued in the same vein using his blue font.
"I contacted NAD and here is their answer:"

My comment:
Now, I don't believe that you meant to mislead but since you know that I post here, besides on Club Adventist, as do a number of people here on this forum, I would have thought you would have identified me as the person that did the foot (finger) work and contacted NAD and then posted it on Club Adventist in response to Fran's comment.

I am sure when Fran does a lot of research and posts it that she appreciates the courtesy of recognizing her for having done the hard work for the rest of us.

Let's be careful how we use each other's posts. b

Posted by: claborn Aug 24 2004, 03:49 PM

Not a problem... I just copied everything from that thread over there and posted it here.... if anyone ever asks... I usually point them to where I have been snooping around..... I could have included the line here is what I found or here is what someone posted over there..... in fact, if it will put you at ease, I will edit it accordingly.....without a copywrite seal and posting it on the web, does she get credit is the question. I thought it was the sda way to use material from where ever and not worry about citing where the info was ummmmm borrowed....

just messing.....

Posted by: claborn Aug 24 2004, 03:59 PM

ginge wrote, "My comment:
Now, I don't believe that you meant to mislead but since you know that I post here, besides on Club Adventist, as do a number of people here on this forum, I would have thought you would have identified me as the person that did the foot (finger) work and contacted NAD and then posted it on Club Adventist in response to Fran's comment."

Well if you had posted your findings here, it would have saved me the trouble of going back over there, seeing what you posted, copied it, brought it back here and posted it.... so.... it's your fault.... that's my story and I will stick with it thank you....

Posted by: princessdi Aug 24 2004, 04:51 PM

Just a quick ofl question. this topic says it's "pinned". Y'all know I can be a little slow. what does this mean?

Posted by: claborn Aug 24 2004, 04:56 PM

It means it is stuck in the space its in for the moment... that it won't drop down the list of threads like threads usually do.... that's okay Di... we know ya old....

Posted by: ginge Aug 24 2004, 11:24 PM

."without a copywrite seal and posting it on the web, does she get credit is the question."

Could be I got a "little" sensitive. With quotes flying from post to post and forum to forum it gets rather sticky. Which is why I was thinking that identifying where and whom did the posting would put it in more perspective and keep the information more centered rather than becoming rumors and heresays. Just my meager little thought.

"I thought it was the sda way to use material from where ever and not worry about citing where the info was ummmmm borrowed...."

But I'm not Ellen oo did I say that?

Posted by: tarduke Aug 25 2004, 06:16 AM

QUOTE (Walter Thompson @ 3ABn Chair)

Dear 3ABN Family:

You may have heard by now of changes that have recently happened at Three Angels Broadcasting Network. We believe we owe you, as a loyal supporter of this ministry, an accounting of recent events regarding the former Vice President of 3ABN.

Out of respect for the privacy of those involved, we cannot reveal all details. But after prayer and reflection, we are convicted that we should share with you what we responsibly can.

You may have noticed that Linda Shelton has not appeared on 3ABN telecasts for the last few weeks. That is because as of June 1, 2004, the 3ABN Board of Directors removed Linda from her role as Vice President and as a board member. More recently, she has been discontinued as an employee of 3ABN as well.

We want to assure you that this decision was not made by one or two people, nor was it made in one or two weeks. Rather, the situation developed over nearly five months, and was dealt with by the full 3ABN leadership, including its Board of Directors.

The issue relates to a matter that arose in Danny and Linda Shelton's marriage. They were not able to resolve the matter, despite many attempts with their local pastor and other counselors. It was then brought to my attention as Chairman of the Board.

In order to make a thorough, fair and independent review of the matter, I convened a fact-finding committee of well-known Adventists who are not employees of 3ABN. The committee consisted of myself; William Hulsey, a businessman and mayor of Collegedale, Tennessee; and Kay Kuzma, author and family issues expert. We were counseled in our deliberations and review by Nicholas Miller, an Adventist attorney associated with a major national law firm.

The committee members spoke with all relevant witnesses. It invited Linda to meet with the full committee and to present any witnesses she might wish to have speak on her behalf. Upon reviewing the situation, it was clear to the 3ABN leadership that the source of the conflict lay in certain choices that Linda was making. We asked her, both verbally and in writing, to make different choices. She refused.

Under the circumstances, the board had no real choice but to take the actions it did in regards to Linda's position at 3ABN. Should Linda reconsider her course of conduct, we would also reconsider our decision regarding her role at 3ABN.

Please pray for Linda, for Danny, and for the 3ABN ministry during this time. We believe in a God of miracles, who can renew and restore. This ministry was started and built through a series of miracles. Those miracles continue to this day, and we believe that many more are yet to come.

We believe that this ministry will continue to move forward, taking its direction from our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. It is His ministry, and not that of any man or woman. The Board of Directors, President Danny Shelton, and I as Chairman, are committed to doing His will with this organization.

Please join us in supporting 3ABN with your prayers and financial support. We know you have done so in the past, and we are deeply thankful for it. But right now the devil is doing his best to derail this work because we are pressing the front close to his strongholds.

This month we added a quarter of a billion potential viewers in India, as our signal is being placed on cable systems through much of this Hindu nation of 1.1 billion souls. This effectively doubles the viewership of 3ABN, virtually overnight. We are also being placed on the most-watched cable-network in the Washington D.C. area, giving us access to the political and thought leaders of our country.

Please don't let the devil succeed in heading off the vital work of 3ABN at this crucial time. You have faithfully supported this ministry in the past. Show us your continued resolve and support by making a faith pledge or donation to support us during this tremendous expansion of our coverage.

Your efforts and support are the medium through which God allows 3ABN to carry its gospel message to the world. We thank God and you for that support.

In His Service,
Dr. Walter Thompson, Chairman
Three Angels Broadcasting Network, Inc.

P.S. I came across a quote recently that highlighted the importance of 3ABN's resolve to "Go ye into all the world": "The Duke of Wellington was once present where a party of Christian men were discussing the possibility of success in missionary effort among the heathen. They appealed to the Duke to say whether in his judgment such efforts were likely to prove a success commensurate to the cost. The old soldier replied: 'Gentlemen, what are your marching orders? Success is not the question for you to discuss. If I read your orders aright, they run thus, "Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature." Gentlemen, obey your marching orders.'" Gospel Workers, p. 115.

Join us in helping Three Angels Broadcasting Network carry out its marching orders!

Posted July 1, 2004.

Posted by: claborn Aug 25 2004, 10:30 AM

QUOTE (ginge @ Aug 25 2004, 12:24 AM)

."without a copywrite seal and posting it on the web, does she get credit is the question."

Could be I got a "little" sensitive. With quotes flying from post to post and forum to forum it gets rather sticky. Which is why I was thinking that identifying where and whom did the posting would put it in more perspective and keep the information more centered rather than becoming rumors and heresays. Just my meager little thought.

"I thought it was the sda way to use material from where ever and not worry about citing where the info was ummmmm borrowed...."

But I'm not Ellen did I say that?

No harm... when I find stuff in the future I will add where I got it and who posted it.... that should handle the problem I think.....

Posted by: claborn Aug 25 2004, 11:17 AM

I lifted (took, copied, borrowed) this from ClubAdventst posted by LLL (no I don't know why they person has a nickname of LLL):

Subj: 3ABN Update
Adventist Today
Posted: 8/24/2004 2:01:49 PM Pacific Daylight Time
By Edwin A. Schwisow

Linda Shelton Fired and Divorced

In June of this year, the board of the Three Angels Broadcasting (3ABN)satellite network voted to dismiss Danny Shelton's now-ex-wife, Linda, from her position as vice president and on-air hostess. The dismissal came just days before the couple's divorce became final in early July-an uncontested divorce filed in Guam by Danny Shelton, naming Linda as respondent,according to divorce papers obtained by Adventist Today.

Linda's dismissal was followed immediately by an official release by 3ABN's board chairman, Walter Thompson, to the effect that Linda Shelton had chosen to go a "different direction" from her husband and 3ABN. The release also said that the decision to terminate had come after considerable study and with the assistance of counselors and face-to-face dialogue among the parties. Concurrent with the announcement, staff removed all photographs and references to Linda Shelton from 3ABN's Web site and struck all programs on which she appears from the station's play lists.

The reasons for Linda's removal are disputed. Sources close to Linda characterize her removal as a coup-in-the-works for several months leading up to the June announcement. But sources close to 3ABN insist the ministry leadership did everything possible to save the Shelton marriage and to retain Linda as a leader in the ministry.

What all sides appear to agree on is that the dismissal was related Linda's involvement with a physician who was treating her adult son, Nathan (by a previous marriage), who reportedly had developed serious drug- and alcohol-dependency problems. The therapy routine, administered by a Norwegian Seventh-day Adventist physician and financial supporter of 3ABN, reportedly achieved outstanding early results, though Linda's latest communication indicates her son still struggles with addiction.

According to Linda Shelton, in a release posted July 11 on her Web site, rumors that she had engaged in inappropriately intimate activities with her son's therapist began to circulate at 3ABN, leading in large part to her ouster. She vigorously and consistently denies any improper behavior or relationship with the doctor. She specifically denies committing adultery and attributes her fall to the proliferation of false information about her.

At about the same time Linda was ousted, Johann Thorvaldson, director of 3ABN development in Europe, was removed from his post. He has become an advocate for Linda Shelton.

Linda Shelton's dismissal took viewers across the nation by complete surprise. Danny Shelton has acknowledged to viewers the couple was undergoing marriage counseling in months leading up to their sudden divorce.

The Linda-and-Danny team had appeared together for nearly 20 years on 3ABN programs, portraying the kind of down-home, simple, Bible-based, devout Christian living they urged their viewers to adopt. That such an apparently devoted Christian couple could divorce so precipitously shocked the 3ABN world.

In an off-the-record interview, the manager of a 3ABN affiliate told Adventist Today that Linda Shelton's removal could benefit 3ABN ministry long-term. This source indicates that 3ABN has been undergoing troubled times, including a historic loss of revenue in 2003, and that a shake-up at this time could be a new beginning for the maturing ministry. In a mass mailing to all financial supporters, 3ABN has also reflected the view that Linda Shelton's termination represents a time of opportunity. On the other hand, this kind of event is bound to be unsettling for the friends of the ministry.

Linda Shelton herself sees a potential personal benefit from her termination. Noting on her new Web site that she had become institutionally sheltered by her many years of work at 3ABN, she says she welcomes the opportunity to get out on her own once again, mixing it up in the real world. She continues to portray herself as supportive of 3ABN's grand vision but conveys a sense of relief at severing ties.

Sources close to Linda Shelton indicate that she is now living in a modest dwelling near 3ABN headquarters in Illinois and that her sources of income include royalties from the sale of music she has written and performed and monthly termination payments. They also say that she has agreed not to comment publicly in ways that could be construed as attacks on her former husband and ministry and has asked her friends to foreswear any such attacks or attempts to vindicate her.

Posted by: princessdi Aug 25 2004, 11:42 AM

A quickie divorce in Guam? This is a mess!!! Make that Danny is a mess!!!!

Posted by: pmorris68 Aug 25 2004, 12:01 PM

Now you know what... We have all said this is a mess. And a mess it is. I think we just need to commit this to prayer and comment no further. Nothing more can really be said, that ain't already been said. no.gif

---

Posted by: mema Aug 25 2004, 01:30 PM

All I am going to say is that I feel this isn't the end of it yet. For some reason, I feel that a larger explosion is about to happen and even more names are coming out. Now why did the director of Europe get terminated? Because he is her friend? Does anyone else find this odd?

Posted by: princessdi Aug 25 2004, 01:52 PM

QUOTE (mema @ Aug 25 2004, 11:30 AM)

> All I am going to say is that I feel this isn't the end of it yet. For some reason, I feel that a larger explosion is about to happen and even more names are coming out. Now why did the director of Europe get terminated? Because he is her friend? Does anyone else find this odd?

As odd as them picking BlackSDA forum to stage their defense.

Posted by: Jvat Aug 25 2004, 02:00 PM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 25 2004, 11:17 AM)

> They also say that she has agreed not to comment publicly in ways that could be construed as attacks on her former husband and ministry and has asked her friends to foreswear any such attacks or attempts to vindicate her.

Isn't it rather interesting that Linda has adopted that position? Speaks volumes of her integrity or not?

Posted by: statrei Aug 25 2004, 02:04 PM

Well, let's not say too much about anyone's integrity. The facts we can know. What motivates those facts we most probably cannot. A lot of people do the correct things for the wrong reasons.

Posted by: claborn Aug 25 2004, 06:35 PM

Very true and I heard somewhere that she was under a gag order..... I don't know if that is true, so its allegedly.....

Posted by: eener Aug 25 2004, 10:01 PM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 25 2004, 06:35 PM)

> Very true and I heard somewhere that she was under a gag order..... I don't know if that is true, so its allegedly.....

The original post indicated that she was receiving termination payments. It is not uncommon under the terms of a termination agreement for parties to agree not to discuss the issues surrounding the dismissal as a condition for receiving the payments.

Posted by: mema Aug 26 2004, 07:38 AM

But when your spouse does you like we suspect Danny did to her, why be quiet? I would be like the Mississippi River and holding nothing back.....

Posted by: princessdi Aug 26 2004, 09:47 AM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 25 2004, 04:35 PM)

> Very true and I heard somewhere that she was under a gag order..... I don't know if that is true, so its allegedly.....

Actually, Steve, Linda mentioned that in her letter.

Posted by: princessdi Aug 26 2004, 09:51 AM

QUOTE (mema @ Aug 26 2004, 05:38 AM)

> But when your spouse does you like we suspect Danny did to her, why be quiet? I would be like the Mississippi River and holding nothing back.....

Mema, she likes to eat. By firing her, they took her only source of income. Instead of paying her in one lump sum, they pay her in installments, forcing her to agree to the gag order as a condidtion to continue to recieve the monthly payments. So unless Linda has another source of income.....?

Posted by: friends Aug 26 2004, 05:58 PM

Hi Guys,

Just wanted to clear clear up a couple of small points. Elder Thorvaldsen mentioned in the letter that was posted here that Danny's son-in-law was fired. That was a misunderstanding. Actually I was not fired, I resigned. There was one other small misunderstanding. It was not Danny, who told me that "we musn't question Danny because God speaks to us through him since he was appointed by God to start up this ministry." It was someone else.

I would like to point out that, although an awful lot of manure has been slung in this scrap, there are many very good people on both sides of it. Unfortunately details, a few true and many not true, are being spread through very reputable upstanding sources. People on both sides of the issue are being smeared, and reputations destoyed for no better reason than vindictiveness. When Jesus saved a woman from being stoned to death on allegations of adultery, he proceeded to write sins in the sand without saying who had commited them. He was not out to hurt or destroy anyone. He stood on a hill and cried for love of the people who were about to kill him. That is LOVE. Love is one of the fruits of the spirit, and by their fruits ye shall know them.

I beg your prayers for each one of us involved in this upheaval.

Sincerely,

Derrell Mundall

Posted by: claborn Aug 26 2004, 06:09 PM

Thank you for that piece of information..... we have from the beginning prayed for everyone involved.... however I have been concerned about how information has been leaked, released, given..... some of it appears unfair and malicious... but that's just me

---

Posted by: claborn Aug 26 2004, 06:20 PM

Why did you resign if I might ask Derrell?

Posted by: friends Aug 26 2004, 06:39 PM

Your observations are certainly appreciated. I have sent some of them to Linda. She will be encouraged. At this juncture it is difficult for her not to think that she is virtually friendless in the SDA circles. So many friends have turned out to be coat-tail riders who turned on her when she became useless to their careers, or ambitions, and trashing her would serve them better.

On a more positive note, this is a healing period and Linda is starting to move forward with life. She possesses a wealth of knowledge and capabilities that I am sure God will put to use in ministry. I believe that this experience will give her an even greater capacity to understand, and minister to hurting people.

God Bless,

Derrell

Posted by: friends Aug 26 2004, 06:51 PM

Danny and I were unable to see eye-to-eye on some very fundamental issues, and if I stayed, I would have to disobey my employer's orders, so I resigned. The issues have, of course been brought up, but I will not discuss them. Whatever Linda wishes to say is on her website, and Danny's observations can be seen on 3ABN.

Derrell

Posted by: mrsljosey Aug 26 2004, 07:21 PM

QUOTE (princessdi @ Aug 26 2004, 09:51 AM)

> Mema, she likes to eat. By firing her, they took her only source of income. Instead of paying her in one lump sum, they pay her in installments, forcing her to agree to the gag order as a condidtion to continue to recieve the monthly payments. So unless Linda has another source of income.....?

Di - It is more than a little unfair to say that the sister has kept quiet because she likes to eat. That suggests that she has little or less integrity than those who have accused her because she is motived by money.

Not everybody would spill everything just because they are under a gag order or because they are experiencing character assassination on a grand scale. Agreeing to the gag order is simply the right thing to do. But I doubt that would have attacked her accusers as they have her with or without that legal manuever. Which btw, would be one thing her accusers would prefer. Her relative silence, as compared to those who have accused her, speaks volumes about her spiritual integrity and especially theirs. But hey, that's just me

Peace

Posted by: HUGGINS130 Aug 26 2004, 11:05 PM

QUOTE (mrsljosey @ Aug 26 2004, 07:21 PM)

> Her relative silence, as compared to those who have accused her, speaks volumes about her spiritual integrity and especially theirs. But hey, that's just me
> Peace

I was thinking along the same lines too, and I couldn't agree with you more!

Posted by: kountzer Aug 27 2004, 04:29 AM

Sounds like a classic case of 'the enemy of my enemy is my friend'.

DB

Posted by: HUGGINS130 Aug 27 2004, 05:06 AM

QUOTE (kountzer @ Aug 27 2004, 04:29 AM)

> Sounds like a classic case of 'the enemy of my enemy is my friend'.
>
> DB

blc

Posted by: mrsljosey Aug 27 2004, 06:22 AM

QUOTE (kountzer @ Aug 27 2004, 04:29 AM)

> Sounds like a classic case of 'the enemy of my enemy is my friend'.
>
> DB

DB, we see that often enough in various circles.

What concerns me regarding matters like these is this. There seem to be so few people, even in our church community who will not simply say to those making the accusations that such behaviour is wrong. To make matters worse, they seem to be unwilling to even comfort a member of the same community who has been slandered due to these accusations. Why is that the case? It seems to me that some fear it may hurt them personally, whether financially or socially, to help another in distress or who may be hurting.

What does that suggest to others, to our young people for example? They see what is going on and also see that their parents, grandparents won't do the right thing. And what of unbelievers who see the unwillingness of those in the church community to even give emotional support to their own? Why should they desire to be a part of that community? What happened to Jesus command to love one another? What of laying ones life down for a friend? It all makes me wonder.

Posted by: princessdi Aug 27 2004, 10:44 AM

QUOTE (mrsljosey @ Aug 26 2004, 05:21 PM)

> Di - It is more than a little unfair to say that the sister has kept quiet because she likes to eat. That suggests that she has little or less integrity than those who have accused her because she is motived by money.
>
> Not everybody would spill everything just because they are under a gag order or because they are experiencing character assassination on a grand scale. Agreeing to the gag order is simply the right thing to do. But I doubt that would have attacked her accusers as they have her with or without that legal manuever. Which btw, would be one thing her accusers would prefer. Her relative silence, as compared to those who have accused her, speaks volumes about her spiritual integrity and especially theirs. But hey, that's just me
>
> Peace

No, No, Don't get me wrong. What I am saying is that they forced her into this situation. I definitely don't see this as her collecting a "fat check" for her silence. She was undermined here. They keep her to a forced gag order so that their story can be the only side told. This whole mess would not be like this if it weren't for the actions of Danny and the 3ABN board. They used that fact that she would need some form of livelihood to keep her quiet. I don't blame her at all, nor do I believe she was seeking anything other than was fairly due to her.

I believe, also, that even if there was no gag order that Linda has more integrity than to attack Danny and his friends in the manner in which she has been attacked. Whatever she did, or didn't do, in this aftermath, Linda is definitely a victim.

Now, to say just one more thing. You know I don't mind discussing anything. But can somebody please explain to me how Black SDA inherited all of this. I believe, Now I may be wrong, that it has been shown that it is not being played out in any other forum like it is here.

Posted by: Telluride Aug 27 2004, 01:57 PM

This is awful! I started watching 3ABN because of Linda Shelton and then learned the Adventist teachings...I am not a member of SDA nor have I had any family or friends who are Adventists (aside from a young woman 30+ years ago in high school who I asked if she was a vegetarian. I became a vegetarian later on my own path.) I have studied many religious denominations, theologies, spiritual paths etc. I am a Methodist originally from the Midwest USA.

Let me get this straight: Linda is concerned about her son Nathan's drug addiction, so she gets help from a Norweigan doctor. Ok, are there no doctors in the USA that are qualified to help? Just posing a question to assuage Danny's side in fair play logic. (I am trying not to be biased to Linda's side as I already hold her in higher favor than Danny just by personal choice and impression from T.V.---this does not denigrate Danny's building of 3ABN.)

In any case, there is a reason why Danny felt threatened whether by his own insecurity, or by a valid claim of infidelity. There is also the possibility that Kay mis-interpreted the connection between Linda and the doctor. 6 hours if true, is a long time to talk to anyone daily, but maybe Linda was not getting the support she needed from others. This problem with Nathan has been ongoing for years...she is looking to help her son.

This mess is going to take some deductive reasoning a long with guidance from the Holy Spirit. In any event, things transpired and Kay went to Norway with Linda and Nathan. Kay is wrong to spill the details ANYWHERE, but my understanding having seen her on 3ABN, is that her doctorate is in EDUCATION not counselling---so she has no business in that business if my observation is correct. If not, I apologize in advance...I am going to look again as I watch 3ABN daily.

Now for the big boom! Suppose, just suppose, Linda and the doctor fell in LOVE with each other? (Is the doctor married?) Well then, that would not be a spiritual adultery, that would be in fact of the flesh as well. Only those two people really KNOW for certain and God....and Danny to the extent of what Linda told him before leaving. Linda was likely given an ultimatum to give up her Norweigan friend..she refused and she is now gone from 3ABN. She says she had no notions toward the doctor (see her website)---I believe her inspite of the so called appearances and wagging tongues of "friends" who betrayed her...as far as I am concerned, Kay is a friend who betrayed Linda by spilling her (Kay's) version of events here----seemingly to salvage her own reputation with a pre-emptive strike by defending herself.

Btw, traveling across Europe together while not proper in human view does not of itself constitute a sin...ONLY GOD knows the wholeness of what the truth is....and no matter what the truth is...it is GOD in the name of Jesus that has the power to forgive. Us people should concern ourselves with our walk in Christ and not the salacious details of scandal in SDA re: 3ABN. ☒ gossip

Posted by: statrei Aug 27 2004, 02:07 PM

Thanks for that balanced comment, Telluride. We are pleased to have you in our group. May your incisive mind be evidenced on other fora and subjects as well.

Posted by: claborn Aug 27 2004, 02:13 PM

Telluride,
That is a good synopsis.... however my position is this (has been from the start), just because a person commits adultery does not mean that divorce is mandatory. Thus, the counsel for husbands to love their wives as Christ love the church and gave His life for it, comes into play as well as the example of Hosea and Gomer... I will admit that there probably is a lot of background that we are missing out on.... but I maintain that Mr. Shelton could have/should have gone above and beyond in his attempts for reconciliation. Additionally, if he felt that divorce was his only option, it could have been handle in such a way not to cause embarrassment to the woman who shared his life all those years..... but that's me.....

Posted by: Telluride Aug 27 2004, 02:36 PM

My thanks to the two respondents...truly....here is a link from Kay's website...and as I suspected her doctorate is in education....I can see why though as a Child Development specialist she would be invited to go a long to Norway to help with Nathan....http://www.kaykuzma.org/

I am thinking now though, about the Norweigan doctor issue, and if I recall..isn't Linda of Scandinavian descent? I believe so...in fact I saw her reference it on 3ABN...so that for me gives a light to why [possibly] a Norweigan doctor was sought out for help..the Scandinavians for a large part have a proud cultural heritage of holistic health and so on...and their approaches are what we would call holistic...maybe Linda wanted to introduce Nathan to that part of his heritage...I am just postulating here...I have no knowledge of any details from either side...

In any event, I do know that the Bible says remove first the thorn from your own eye...for me, I am going to go back to focusing on GOD and then pray for all of the parties involved...I trust in Jesus and know that by His good name all that is righteous shall be done. God bless you all.....

Posted by: Telluride Aug 27 2004, 05:48 PM

Greetings, I'm back again...I just perused the document about the Illinois tax situation re: 3ABN...sorry...I forgot what page it was on...I forgot my pw already and had to set up a new one...however, it does say in the judge's document that Linda had made a misleading statement saying that she did not collect royalties for her CDs and then later she said she did (this is somewhere between pp.30-40 in the document I think)...this brings to mind what Danny said about having to make a choice between 3ABN and his marriage to Linda...something that is also posted on this board...(my apologies for not remembering page numbers but I am good at remembering information...go figure...I will pay closer attention to page #s from here on out)...anyway, the tax document also concludes that 3ABN property is being used for profit and not religious purposes and notes that neither Danny or Linda are ordained ministers but are lay people who are contracted with SDA and who contract out their production facilities....the issue also related to not having Sunday School on the property etc. So it is a legal matter of importance that is also stressing 3ABN...I am disappointed to read of Linda's failure to be originally forthcoming re: royalties received on her CD sales....in fairness, I now have to question the veracity of any other statements she may make re: anything...this is a sad realization, but due diligence, honest inquiry, and fairness requires adherence to principle and not emotions. It of course does not mean automatically though that she is being untruthful about the doctor...it just means I have to evaluate everything more carefully.

What I am sharing here has nothing to do with spiritual adultry (whatever that is..in all my years I have never heard of such a thing...unless it is the "Jimmy Carter" thing about lusting after...you have already committed adultry....)

It seems to me that maybe both Danny and Linda have something they are concealing...thus the rather bizarre unfolding of recent events. I enjoy watching 3ABN and will continue to do so...I enjoy Linda Shelton's work and will continue to do so...however...the truth is not as simple as it should be...this reminds me of a teaching in Scientology about where-ever there is conflict, there is a third [unknown] party to the parties involved in stirring up stuff...(I am not a Scientologist)...as I said I have studied many religious philosophies...

Now, to be fully revealing of myself, I am not black...I found this site by accident because I have been wondering all along what happened to Linda and why...I am a 2004 MBA graduate from a school in Washington state...I first became interested in the tax implications because of my business training...I'm like a detective about many subjects...I mean no harm...I am not a reporter for any media outlet...(though maybe I could be bought off for a lot of $...kidding)...I don't know any more than the rest of you do....I'm just sad for all the parties involved and the people who love 3ABN....we see how human all of us are by God's design..there is a lesson or two or more to be learned here...those focused on GOD will discern the purpose and meanings by being watchful, waiting, and listening...again...God Bless You All and thank you for allowing me to comment on your site.

Posted by: claborn Aug 27 2004, 05:56 PM

Telluride,
We have welcomed you regardless of your skin color or affiliation, you are inquisitive like all of us..... thank you for your comments thus far.....

Posted by: claborn Aug 27 2004, 09:48 PM

The following is a comment from one Margaret Gray who posts on ClubAdventist..... I thought it was interesting, and like most things I find interesting I like to share..... so here it is...

Dear individuals,

Mrs. Gray is of the opinion that a counselor should not go about divulging the specifics of counseling sessions in order to justify his or her actions. This particular individual's letter rendered illegitimate any of the "services" which were rendered.

This counselor comes across as a reporter interviewing the couple for the "benefit" of all the gossip-mavens and seems to be attempting to justify her own actions rather than try to help the beleaguered couple.

It would have been much better had she simply said nothing and kept the very personal information she reveals confidential as a true professional would.

Mrs. Gray cannot help but think of Linda Tripp who listened to Monica Lewinsky with a sympathetic ear and then turned into her worst enemy, losing the respect of both Democrats and Republicans. Such a poor choice.

Mrs. Gray thinks Dr. Kuzma has much good to say as the Adventist Dr. Laura, but Mrs. Gray cannot imagine Dr. Laura writing that kind of letter. Of course, in this case, 3ABN is much likelier to hire Dr. Kuzma for a program than Linda Shelton is, so it makes more sense for her to tilt in Danny's direction.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Gray

P.S. Mrs. Gray is not on "either side" in this horrific issue because even she's not smart enough to decipher all the mounds of "passive aggressive" gobbledygook. She just knows good and bad behavior when she sees it. She also is now predicting that if Danny stays with 3ABN, he will be engaged or married within 2 years, before Linda is. But that's just Mrs. Gray's prediction, not supported by any evidence other than her experience in ecclesiastical matters.

P.P.S. This issue is consuming so many supporters of 3ABN that perhaps it would better for the network if Danny took a leave of absence for a few months and somebody else filled in for a while. The reason is that, regardless of whose fault it was, rather than keep his family issue separate from the TV ministry, he tied the two together and had his own relationship with his wife pretty much publicly "investigated." 3ABN is not "The Danny and Linda Channel" so there's no reason on earth why this had to happen so publicly. It's almost as if both of them really hate each other very much and want to publicly destroy the other one, both intractibly drawn into a "mutually assured destruction" scenario. Neither will emerge unscathed, so the board at 3ABN should forget about trying to figure out who is guilty in the marriage (since it's "none of their d business") and focus on getting 3ABN back on track. But that's just Mrs. Gray's opinion which has no weight with the folk in 3ABN-land.

P.P.P.S. The fact that Dr. Kuzma may not have been in a "counselor" relationship with Linda does not mean that she didn't act like it in order to obtain information. Doesn't it make sense that she would use her finely-tuned abilities as a counselor to draw out more information than the average person would? Doesn't it make sense that the big boys at 3ABN would recognize this and send her in first? Do you think that Kay Kuzma told Linda Shelton "I am not here to represent your interests, but rather those of 3ABN in order to obtain and distribute the information you tell me?" Or do you think she went in and solicited the information from a emotionally-weakened woman in the garb of a concerned friend? No matter what the legal labels, this kind of behavior is not professional, and tests the boundaries of ethical behavior even if technically allowable. Word play does not increase Mrs. Gray's respect for this deceitful behavior.

P.P.P.P.S. For those who think 3ABN can't survive, a similar scandal happened a few years back at Trinity Broadcasting Network (Remember Jim and Tammy Faye Baker?) They had money problems, he went to jail, she divorced him, and life went on with the guy with gray hair and his wife with pink hair. Now TBN is back as strong as ever with a different team. The same thing can happen for 3ABN. It may even improve the channel. We can thank Danny and Linda for setting it up, but like George Washington, Danny doesn't have to be president for the rest of his life.

MG

Posted by: Panama_Pete Aug 28 2004, 09:32 AM

QUOTE (Telluride @ Aug 27 2004, 05:48 PM)

> I am disappointed to read of Linda's failure to be originally forthcoming re: royalties received on her CD sales....in fairness, I now have to question the veracity of any other statements she may make re: anything...this is a sad realization, but due diligence, honest inquiry, and fairness requires adherence to principle and not emotions.

There may have been a problem between the words "profits" and "royalties."

The profits from sales of the CDs, such as "The Story of Jesus' Birth" went to 3ABN. This money did not go to Linda Shelton, personally.

However, BMI is an organization that keeps track of royalties to copyright owners who write songs. BMI requires that royalties be credited to the owner of the copyright. Linda Shelton retained the ownership of her own songs.

However, when asked about royalties, Linda may have believed they meant the profits. So, she may have said they did not go to her, personally.

When mention of BMI licensing came up, she would, naturally, have to differentiate "royalties" from "profits" and correct the matter, which she seems to have done.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Aug 28 2004, 10:19 AM

QUOTE (Telluride @ Aug 27 2004, 01:57 PM)

> In any event, things transpired and Kay went to Norway with Linda and Nathan.

I understand that Linda Shelton went to Norway with Brenda Walsh to check on Nathan, who was already there.

Brenda Walsh has two sisters, Cinda Sanner and Linda Johnson. They are the daughters of Pastor Micheff. Therefore, the three daughters sometimes go under the name Micheff Sisters.

The Micheffs are lifelong friends of Danny Shelton.

They have a Web site: http://www.micheffsisters.com

They, too, have a CD. Tommy Shelton, Danny's brother, helped bring the CD project together. "All proceeds are donated to 3ABN 'Kids Time' Programming," according to their Web Site.

Posted by: Telluride Aug 28 2004, 02:53 PM

Greetings,

Good points made by all...thanks for the clarifications where needed....I am familiar with both BMI and ASCAP and royalties/copyrights. I can see how some confusion may have arisen...another lesson for me to not cast judgement no matter how sincere the desire to understand, or the desire to be sympathetic toward such a sad situation. I only know that I always perceived a sincerity from the parties of 3ABN in their broadcasts including of course, Linda. I wish Godspeed and healing to all involved.

Lyle Albrecht and Leo Schrevede are a couple of my favorites too...and I enjoy the Mischeff Sisters too when I see them....I may have seen Calvin's brother too I think [within the last 24 hours]...anyway, I watched this Sabbath morning and enjoyed it as always.

Posted by: inga Aug 28 2004, 05:08 PM

QUOTE (friends @ Aug 26 2004, 06:51 PM)

> Danny and I were unable to see eye-to-eye on some very fundamental issues, and if I stayed, I would have to disobey my employer's orders, so I resigned.

Derrell,

Some questions for you, if you don't mind...

What was your specific responsibility at 3ABN?

I understand you've been hired by ATN/HopeTV. What do you do there?

And, now that you've had a taste of working directly for a church entity, as opposed to a "supporting ministry," such as 3ABN, can you share the similarities and differences as to how it feels.

If your responsibilities are similar, is there little difference, or do you sense a difference in what, in a secular workplace, would be called "the corporate environment"?

I believe your answers may be relevant to our discussion, because we're not just discussing Linda and Danny, but 3ABN as an independent ministry. Your answers will be much appreciated.

Blessings,
Inge Anderson <-- who, though not "black" is appreciative of this forum offered by her black brothers & sisters

---

Posted by: inga Aug 28 2004, 05:23 PM

QUOTE (Telluride @ Aug 27 2004, 02:36 PM)

> I am thinking now though, about the Norweigan doctor issue, and if I recall..isn't Linda of Scandinavian descent? I believe so...in fact I saw her reference it on 3ABN...so that for me gives a light to why [possibly] a Norweigan doctor was sought out for help..the Scandinavians for a large part have a proud cultural heritage of holistic health and so on...and their approaches are what we would call holistic...

Thanks for your thoughts, Telluride.

I don't doubt that the commone Scandinavian heritage helped Linda feel more comfortable with the doctor from Norway to whom she was introducted by Johann Thorvaldsson, former Director of Europena Development, and a retired pastor and administrator of 50+ years' experience.

However, the way Johann relates it, the doctor and her son Nathan really hit it off, and that was an answr to Linda's prayers, I believe, since Nathan agreed to go to Norway to allow the doctor to treat him to help him get off drugs. The fact that this is a committed, praying Adventist doctor who uses natural methods must surely have given Linda confidence. And that confidence was well placed, as Johann relates it, for when "Nathan had merely been there for 10 days, and I did not recognize him when I saw him. He was a completely transformed person." In other words, the natural treatments were very successful. I can certainly understand why Linda would want her son under his care.

Blessings,

Inge Anderson

Posted by: claborn Aug 29 2004, 10:22 AM

Here is the bottom line for me in this mess.....

Mat 1:19 And Joseph, her husband, being an upright man, and not desiring to make her a public example, had a mind to put her away privately.

Even if the worst were true about Linda... if Danny were a just and upright man, he would not have exposed her to public embarrassment or a smeared reputation, but would have found a way to do it quietly... but that's just me.....

Posted by: mema Aug 29 2004, 01:12 PM

I feel that if you do not have love, honor and respect you spouse, then what he did is nothing. A drop in the bucket. But you, Steve, as well as others would have a really hard time putting all of your business out there like that. No matter how you look at it, if you try to embarrass someone it has a tendency to come back to you as well.

Posted by: claborn Aug 29 2004, 10:08 PM

Even if it didn't come back on you so to speak, there are some things that as a christian you shouldn't do... yes I know we are not perfect, yet there is an example, i.e. love your enemies....

Posted by: mema Aug 29 2004, 10:27 PM

If this was happening to me, I would find it really hard to love my enemies...

Posted by: princessdi Aug 30 2004, 10:00 AM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 29 2004, 08:08 PM)

> Even if it didn't come back on you so to speak, there are some things that as a christian you shouldn't do... yes I know we are not perfect, yet there is an example, i.e. love your enemies....

I totally agree, Steve. I really don 't care about the particulars, that is between Danny, Linda, and God. However, the path that Danny and 3ABN board chose is definitely not the high road, or indicative in the christian lifestyle portrayed on their network. They have set themselves up to be "leaders".

Posted by: claborn Aug 30 2004, 10:44 PM

Well maybe they became leaders by default.... and leaders can stumble, however as I have consistently said, as christians God would have us do better.....

Posted by: princessdi Aug 31 2004, 09:29 AM

QUOTE (claborn1960 @ Aug 30 2004, 08:44 PM)

> Well maybe they became leaders by default.... and leaders can stumble, however as I have consistently said, as christians God would have us do better.....

You know, Steve, you might have a point there. You know that TD Jakes Leadership Conference this year covers exactly that. It is called, "Leading While Bleeding". It is just a shame we don't have conferences such as this to deal with the "real" issues. With so many leaders falling, it it truly needed.

Posted by: Jvat Aug 31 2004, 11:53 AM

Hear! Hear! Princess Di

Posted by: statrei Aug 31 2004, 12:25 PM

QUOTE (Jvat @ Aug 31 2004, 12:53 PM)

> Hear! Hear!

Only someone from a former British colony would know the correct spelling. I cringe whenever I read 'Here, Here.'

Posted by: tarduke Aug 31 2004, 12:28 PM

QUOTE (statrei @ Aug 31 2004, 12:25 PM)

> Only someone from a former British colony would know the correct spelling. I cringe whenever I read 'Here, Here.'

Lol. That's true. Let's hear it for the Brits!

Posted by: friends Sep 1 2004, 03:54 PM

Hi,

Inge asked some questions regarding my role at 3ABN, and what I am doing now.

I was Marketing Manager at 3ABN and my role was rather complex. I am now doing some work for Hope Channel, but I am not employed by them. I am currently working with them in marketing on a contract basis. There is certainly a significant difference in the corporate culture. It wouldn't be appropriate for me to go into detail, but I will say that Hope Channel/ATN/GC is a breath of fresh air. I have been impressed by the sincere sense of mission I see in the people who I work for, and especially by their lack of personal self promotion.

Friederich Nieztche said "If you fight monsters, beware lest you thereby become one, and if you gaze long into the abyss, the abyss gazes also into you." Good advice for those of us who might who might fall into vindictiveness when confronting it. I have had to spend lots of time on my knees asking God to help keep me in balance.

I appreciate the thoughtful, intelligent discussion on this site.

Derrell

Posted by: statrei Sep 1 2004, 04:08 PM

We desire to demonstrate that dissent does not always deteriorate into dissension, discord or dissembling. (Can someone say alliteration?)

Posted by: friends Sep 1 2004, 04:29 PM

Bravo!

Another point that I think bears discussion is the fact that 3ABN is the face of the SDA church to millions of people around the world. Does this airing of personal dirty laundry negatively impact the viewer's impression of the church? Will the attitude seen in the various announcements be considered a practical demonstration of Christ's love to people who have never known Jesus?

Hmmm...

Posted by: claborn Sep 1 2004, 04:44 PM

Announcements by whom? Those at 3ABN? or those who believe that what was done maybe unfair to Linda? I think it is unfortunate that "dirty laundry" has to be seen, however if some change can take place, then more dirty laundry needs to be aired....

Posted by: Jvat Sep 2 2004, 10:44 AM

QUOTE (friends @ Sep 1 2004, 04:29 PM)

> Bravo!
>
> Another point that I think bears discussion is the fact that 3ABN is the face of the SDA church to millions of people around the world. Does this airing of personal dirty laundry negatively impact the viewer's impression of the church? Will the attitude seen in the various announcements be considered a practical demonstration of Christ's love to people who have never known Jesus?
>
> Hmmm...

Derrell, that has been my basic beef with the way that the conundrum at 3ABN was handled. Isn't it time that 3ABN makes a public apology to the viewing audience? I undertand Derrell that 3ABN is undergoing changes. Does the role of Chairman of the Board, now have much more teeth? And can the chairman send the President on a much deserved vacation?

Posted by: zwxphtt Sep 10 2004, 06:29 PM

It is true that we are to love our enemies..but if Danny truly believed Linda was committing adultry he could hardly keep her on as co president of the network..it boils down to we don't know what is truly going on. We can only truly trust the Word of God and not rely on human emotion..Of course we should all pray for Linda and Danny. Thanks

Zwxphtt

Posted by: tarduke Sep 10 2004, 06:35 PM

QUOTE (zwxphtt @ Sep 10 2004, 06:29 PM)

> It is true that we are to love our enemies..but if Danny truly believed Linda was committing adultry he could hardly keep her on as co president of the network..it boils down to we don't know what is truly going on. We can only truly trust the Word of God and not rely on human emotion..Of course we should all pray for Linda and Danny. Thanks
> Zwxphtt

Dang, Zwxphtt, I was confused. I thought you were Calvin.

Posted by: HoneyDew Sep 10 2004, 07:33 PM

Whoa. Me too.

Posted by: claborn Sep 10 2004, 09:47 PM

QUOTE (zwxphtt @ Sep 10 2004, 07:29 PM)

> It is true that we are to love our enemies..but if Danny truly believed Linda was committing adultry he could hardly keep her on as co president of the network..it boils down to we don't know what is truly going on. We can only truly trust the Word of God and not rely on human emotion..Of course we should all pray for Linda and Danny. Thanks
> Zwxphtt

Why couldn't he? Let's see... Jesus kept Judas around and Jesus knew what was going on.... I hear what you are saying but I don't agree.... Danny and his supports should not have gone on the attack to one, make themselves look good and two, paint Linda as the villian... it is wrong any way you slice it... but that's just me.....

Welcome to the forum.....

Posted by: Just a Guy Sep 11 2004, 12:38 AM

Claborn,

Find me a prophecy where Linda needed to stay on at 3ABN so that the scriptures might be fulfilled. Can't you just hear Danny saying "What you are about to do, do quickly"?

Posted by: claborn Sep 11 2004, 07:03 AM

Good point JAG.....I could hear that phrase being used.....

Posted by: Panama_Pete Sep 11 2004, 11:41 AM

QUOTE (zwxphtt @ Sep 10 2004, 06:29 PM)

> ...if Danny truly believed Linda was committing adultry he could hardly keep her on...

I heard this story about "truly believing." I don't know its source:

A women was returning home to the United States from England. She arrived at the airport and checked in at the departure desk only to learn that there would be no meal served on a flight that would take six hours!

So, she went and bought a big box of cookies. She was already so hungry, after having spent the night packing, that she decided to find a place to sit down and eat these cookies.

Seeing an open seat on a bench at the departure gate, she went and sat down with the intent of eating her bakery treats. A big man, sitting next to her, smiled and moved over a little bit to give her more room on that same airport bench

While she was looking in the opposite direction, the man reached down, put his hand into the cookie box, and took two cookies!

The woman quickly glanced at him when she heard the paper in the cookie box crackle and said to herself, "He thinks I didn't catch him. What the nerve!"

So, she said to herself, "I better eat these cookies before the creep next to me finishes them for me."

And, as she did that, the man next to her reached down and took another handful of cookies!

She couldn't believe it! The man ate most of her cookies right in front of her!

The woman was very disturbed when she finally got on the plane. To think that a biological throwback would sit there and appropriate something that was her's without even asking. She had the idea that she would find him -- wherever he was sitting on the plane -- and give him a piece of her mind. And he wouldn't be able to escape!

Then, as she tries to put her own carry-on case under the seat, she found that her bag seemed far too fat. It didn't fit at all . So, she opened her flight bag to find a big, unopened box of cookies right on top!

All that time on the bench in the airport, it was really she who was eating out of the man's box of cookies. Being a gentleman, he had never said anything to her regarding her theft of his cookies.

She did find the man on the plane. Instead of insulting him, she apologized and gave him the unopened box of cookies from her flight bag to replace those she had taken by mistake.

Moral of the story: "True believing" can make you a very angry and disturbed person when nobody is eating your cookies.

Panama Pete

Posted by: Jvat Sep 13 2004, 10:34 AM

Ah, Panama Pete, you are indeed blessed with insight to appopriate images and stories in this situation.

It is still heartbreaking no matter what. Even though Danny says that currently the financial gettings are better than they have ever been this time of year. And everything looks like nothing untowards has ever happened.

I was just remarking to myself this weekend how is it that any couple, after ninteen years, especially one who was supposed to be always in the Word,(especially as they were sharing the Bible every day with their viewers), could finish with each other, so easily, that there seems to be just no point of return? Did Satan really win this one???? Is Satan really so powerful?

And then everything goes on as if nothing has happened, even with the strange divorce? Has the SDA Church turned a new page? That if you are a big shot in the media, and your TV network is winning millions of souls to Christ, they touch you NOT??? So now it is alright, if any of us be married, for us to divorce our spouses for the most unorthodox of reasons? Has a precedent been set?

Posted by: statrei Sep 13 2004, 11:30 AM

QUOTE (Jvat @ Sep 13 2004, 11:34 AM)

> So now it is alright, if any of us be married, for us to divorce our spouses for the most unorthodox of reasons? Has a precedent been set?

It was done in Toronto in 2000 when the church voted, unlawfully, to change the Manual so that divorce can be obtained for an "unbelieving spouse." I was very vocal about this misuse of ecclesiastical power at the time.

Posted by: meadbd Sep 13 2004, 05:04 PM

QUOTE (Jvat @ Sep 13 2004, 11:34 AM)
So now it is alright, if any of us be married, for us to divorce our spouses for the most unorthodox of reasons? Has a precedent been set?

Actually, no...the Bible has not changed.

Posted by: TedOdell Sep 14 2004, 04:25 AM

QUOTE (statrei @ Aug 31 2004, 06:25 PM)

> Only someone from a former British colony would know the correct spelling. I cringe whenever I read 'Here, Here.'

Both spellings are correct. Only the word choice and usage are incorrect. Correct?

Posted by: Jvat Sep 14 2004, 08:11 AM

QUOTE (statrei @ Sep 13 2004, 11:30 AM)

> It was done in Toronto in 2000 when the church voted, unlawfully, to change the Manual so that divorce can be obtained for an "unbelieving spouse." I was very vocal about this misuse of ecclesiastical power at the time.

And so, it seems that the church slides quickly down into perdition? Darius, what was the result of your vociferousness? What can be done to effectively reverse this new order of things? How can we ensure that our voices be heard and that action be taken, in this regard? With GC 2005 coming up, can we do anything to ENSURE that this matter be revisited and handled to God's honor and glory?

Posted by: statrei Sep 14 2004, 08:13 AM

Anita, by now you should know that power never listens to the voice of the people, especially when they have others who think they can ingratiate themselves with leaders by attacking those who point out our flaws.

Posted by: Jvat Sep 14 2004, 08:14 AM

QUOTE (TedOdell @ Sep 14 2004, 04:25 AM)

> Both spellings are correct. Only the word choice and usage are incorrect. Correct?

Hey Ted, I laugh with you. But surely you understood what Darius was getting at, eh?

Posted by: Jvat Sep 14 2004, 08:17 AM

QUOTE (statrei @ Sep 14 2004, 08:13 AM)

> Anita, by now you should know that power never listens to the voice of the people, especially when they have others who think they can ingratiate themselves with leaders by attacking those who point out our flaws.

But Darius, this matter is not about you or me, is it? It is bigger than a mere mortal? Maybe we should get a petition signed so that not just ONE person is targeted so that this matter can be adequately dealt with? But first we should perhaps seek God's face and HIS leading in the way forward in this matter?

Posted by: tarduke Oct 15 2004, 02:41 PM

Linda has apparently graciously arrived at BlackSDA and is answering questions in the interview section. Now might be a good time to seek any clarification we might need.

Posted by: claborn Oct 15 2004, 10:36 PM

I think she did a fine job.... to be balanced could we extend the invitation to Mr. Shelton to come and share his side of the story? I have some questions for him....

Posted by: Denny Oct 16 2004, 05:44 PM

QUOTE(claborn1960 @ Oct 16 2004, 05:36 AM)

I think she did a fine job.... to be balanced could we extend the invitation to Mr. Shelton to come and share his side of the story? I have some questions for him....

Clay shall I hold my breath for him to say yes to our invitation or am I just too cynical?

Posted by: claborn Oct 16 2004, 05:52 PM

Den,
Probably the cynical side of you...

Posted by: calvin Oct 16 2004, 06:43 PM

QUOTE(denny26uk @ Oct 16 2004, 06:44 PM)

Clay shall I hold my breath for him to say yes to our invitation or am I just too cynical?

I invited Danny Shelton around the first of September, he said he would get back to me, but never did.

We have BSDAer member "Friend" to thank for the Linda Shelton interview, he made the contact to Linda for us.

Posted by: Just a Guy Oct 16 2004, 08:49 PM

calvin,

You seem to be more well connected than the Vatican. Could you tell Jan Paulsen "hello" for me?

Posted by: calvin Oct 16 2004, 08:58 PM

No, I am afraid Jan Paulsen would say "BlackSDA who", "Calvin who". but never the less he is on my hit list to do an interview with here.

Posted by: Denny Oct 17 2004, 10:52 AM

It would be good if we could get him. I would love to ask him about the fear of racial/ethnic intergration we have as Adventists. Or are we preparing ourselves for a New earth divided in Hispanic, Anglo-Saxon, West Indian etc sectors

---

Posted by: tarduke Oct 18 2004, 07:53 AM

> QUOTE(Just a Guy @ Oct 16 2004, 08:49 PM)
> calvin,
> You seem to be more well connected than the Vatican.

Yea, Calvin's connected for real.

Posted by: Jvat Oct 18 2004, 09:25 AM

Yeah, Calvin, I appreciate very much your help here and Linda's willingness and participation. May God continue to richly bless you all.

Hey let's keep praying for Linda, I understand that she may really need it because of her sharing. But God is more powerful than man can ever try to be.

Posted by: Clay Mar 16 2006, 10:23 AM

was perusing the old threads and came across this one.... remember this mess.... I guess we are still waiting on Danny Shelton to show up and tell us his side of things....

Posted by: seraph|m Mar 16 2006, 10:34 AM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Mar 16 2006, 01:23 PM)
>
> was perusing the old threads and came across this one.... remember this mess.... I guess we are still waiting on Danny Shelton to show up and tell us his side of things....

Whew, for a min. I thought it was "on" again..

May the Lord bless sis Shelton in whatever the Lord leads...

Posted by: Denny Mar 16 2006, 10:35 AM

QUOTE(Clay @ Mar 16 2006, 04:23 PM)

was perusing the old threads and came across this one.... remember this mess.... I guess we are still waiting on Danny Shelton to show up and tell us his side of things....

He probably hoping its all forgotton

Posted by: simplysaved Mar 16 2006, 11:48 AM

I happened to come across her website a few weeks ago ... http://www.lindashelton.org/ and found what she posted interesting... I am glad that she is moving forward, but the backlash still seems to continue...

Posted by: princessdi Mar 16 2006, 11:50 AM

Strangely enough, there is[are] guest(s) who come in to view this thread mostly everyday.

Posted by: Clay Mar 16 2006, 11:51 AM well a serious smear campaign was going on during all that mess, and we discussed the fact that those doing so were wrong, regardless of what she allegedly had done.....

Posted by: Denny Mar 16 2006, 12:04 PM

Wow just read her site and people talk about marrying an Adventist who loves the Lord makes you equally yoked one who 'loves the Lord' does not allow ones spouse to be treated thus.....but then what do i know...

Posted by: Clay Mar 16 2006, 12:08 PM

QUOTE(Denny @ Mar 16 2006, 12:04 PM)

Wow just read her site and people talk about marrying an Adventist who loves the Lord makes you equally yoked one who 'loves the Lord' does not allow ones spouse to be treated thus.....but then what do i know...

From her site...

QUOTE

In light of the fact that I am still receiving many emails from individuals praying that Dan and I will reconcile, I am making these facts known.

1) For over one year my attorneys have been contesting the validity of the Guam divorce. Dan's attorneys have been seeking to attest the validity of this divorce. This has not been settled in court as yet. Also a sizable portion of our personal property and settlement has not been dealt with as yet.

2) Dan and his 32 year old girlfriend, Brandy, were recently married on the 3ABN Presents set. She has two young daughters from two previous marriages.

vell it appears that someone is still messy..... unbelievable..... a divorce from Guam? why? I am ure there is an explanation? Can we get a word from a lawyer here? Why wasn't it filed in the U.S.? Marrying a person who has been married twice... that is interesting too... oh well

---

Posted by: seraph|m Mar 16 2006, 12:39 PM

QUOTE(princessdi @ Mar 16 2006, 02:50 PM)

Strangely enough, there is[are] guest(s) who come in to view this thread mostly everyday.

Yes, I have noticed the same thing...

Posted by: calvin Mar 16 2006, 12:44 PM

Danny Shelton is planning on getting married again. He introduced her in Huntsville a fews weeks ago, so my mother told me. Where you there for the announcement Sarah?

Posted by: seraph|m Mar 16 2006, 12:46 PM

QUOTE(Clay @ Mar 16 2006, 02:51 PM)

well a serious smear campaign was going on during all that mess, and we discussed the fact that those doing so were wrong, regardless of what she allegedly had done.....

Exactly.

Some "christians" do not seem to have a problem with spreading gossip even though it is a form of murder.

Posted by: princessdi Mar 16 2006, 12:57 PM

The Guam divorce came out before. Ok, but I have to question the judgement of the woman with the two children. Danny's track record is not good in this area. He practically ignores the son that Linda had when they married and they were together for years.

So Calvin, can we get Danny back her speak to some of this? I assume he is still a member.

QUOTE(Clay @ Mar 16 2006, 10:08 AM)

From her site...
well it appears that someone is still messy..... unbelievable..... a divorce from Guam? why? I am sure there is an explanation? Can we get a word from a lawyer here? Why wasn't it filed in the U.S.? Marrying a person who has been married twice... that is interesting too... oh well

---

Posted by: Clay Mar 16 2006, 01:09 PM

QUOTE(calvin @ Mar 16 2006, 12:44 PM)

Danny Shelton is planning on getting married again. He introduced her in Huntsville a fews weeks ago, so my mother told me. Where you there for the announcement Sarah?

Calvin, according to Linda's website he has already married....

Posted by: seraph|m Mar 16 2006, 02:43 PM

QUOTE(Clay @ Mar 16 2006, 03:08 PM)

From her site...
well it appears that someone is still messy..... unbelievable..... a divorce from Guam? why? I am sure there is an explanation? Can we get a word from a lawyer here? Why wasn't it filed in the U.S.? Marrying a person who has been married twice... that is interesting too... oh well

WELLLLL, maybe this is why. From the beginning of this whole fiasco my honey mentioned that he would not be surprised if DS ended up married again within a relatively short time after he announced he wanted out of his marriage. This is sad on so many levels, SIGH

UNITED STATES DIVORCE:

This divorce requires that both parties be in agreement and willing to sign all forms. The divorce will be granted by an offshore, United States Court, in the US Territory of Guam.

Guam, a part of the United States , is the vacation paradise of the Pacific. It's fabulous golf courses, magnificent climate, and scuba diving second to none in the world, make it the most popular vacation destination for most of the Orient. And the fact that the US dollar is the currency, the language is English, and the people are Americans make it the perfect place to vacation, to rest and relax, or to go for a quick divorce. In as little as approximately 10 days you can be divorced, have your divorce decree in your hands, and even be remarried to the new partner in your life if you wish.

Click here for further information on a United States Court divorce.

See details for the above info here:
http://www.divorcefast.com/

Posted by: dimples5809 Mar 16 2006, 03:06 PM

QUOTE(calvin @ Mar 16 2006, 02:44 PM)

Danny Shelton is planning on getting married again. He introduced her in Huntsville a fews weeks ago, so my mother told me. Where you there for the announcement Sarah?

I was there and he did say he was thinking about marrying her. He said I want to introduce her to you all and it looks like a wedding may be coming. She has two kids and he said he looked forward to being in the family that he loved the two girls very much.

Posted by: princessdi Mar 16 2006, 03:30 PM

Apparently, he has done more than think about it. Just sad!!

QUOTE

2) Dan and his 32 year old girlfriend, Brandy, were recently married on the 3ABN Presents set. She has two young daughters from two previous marriages.

QUOTE(dimples5809 @ Mar 16 2006, 01:06 PM)

I was there and he did say he was thinking about marrying her. He said I want to introduce her to you all and it looks like a wedding may be coming. She has two kids and he said he looked forward to being in the family that he loved the two girls very much.

Posted by: Nuggie Mar 16 2006, 03:33 PM

QUOTE(princessdi @ Mar 16 2006, 04:30 PM)

Apparently, he has done more than think about it. Just sad!!

Ah yes...the good ole SDA double-standard at work. Wonder how many folks are outraged about this?

Posted by: princessdi Mar 16 2006, 04:53 PM

I haven't heard of any yet, not even from those who say these types of situations are avoided when it is a SDA-SDA marriage.....

QUOTE(Nuggie @ Mar 16 2006, 01:33 PM)

Ah yes...the good ole SDA double-standard at work. Wonder how many folks are outraged about this?

Posted by: Clay Mar 16 2006, 04:55 PM

QUOTE(Nuggie @ Mar 16 2006, 03:33 PM)

Ah yes...the good ole SDA double-standard at work. Wonder how many folks are outraged about this?

None have you heard any? He is able to do his thing.... early on the spin was to make him look innocent and her guilty.... as someone wiser than I said, if you tell a lie long enough eventually people will believe it to be the truth.....

Posted by: Nuggie Mar 16 2006, 05:07 PM

QUOTE(Clay @ Mar 16 2006, 05:55 PM)

None have you heard any? He is able to do his thing.... early on the spin was to make him look innocent and her guilty....

No...and I'm guessing there won't be nearly as much buzz about this as when he and Linda broke up.

QUOTE

as someone wiser than I said, if you tell a lie long enough eventually people will believe it to be the truth.....

Sad but true.

Posted by: princessdi Mar 16 2006, 05:12 PM

Ya' think?!! And err'body just moving along like ain't nothin' happened. GC ain't asked not one question, his buddy Pastor Lomacang is more worried about a tie pin, members jsut still filling up churches err'time he 3ABN rolls into town, wasn't there, but err'body probably just gave a rousing "Amen!" and warm welcome to the future Mrs. Shelton. Just a ruckus!!!

QUOTE(Clay @ Mar 16 2006, 02:55 PM)

None have you heard any? He is able to do his thing.... early on the spin was to make him look innocent and her guilty.... as someone wiser than I said, if you tell a lie long enough eventually people will believe it to be the truth.....

Posted by: simplysaved Mar 16 2006, 05:18 PM

QUOTE(calvin @ Mar 16 2006, 12:44 PM)

Danny Shelton is planning on getting married again. He introduced her in Huntsville a fews weeks ago, so my mother told me. Where you there for the announcement Sarah?

I do not remember hearing it...was it stated that morning? Someone told me recently that he announced he was "thinking about marriage"....

I will say I was looking at the fact that both Linda and Dan was in marriage number 2 (and it is their business) but I found it interesting...I did not know that they were both AHEM "old"as they are.... with GROWN kids (I did know about Melody, but not tha tshe was from the first marriage)...

Posted by: Clay Mar 16 2006, 05:32 PM

QUOTE(princessdi @ Mar 16 2006, 05:12 PM)

Ya' think?!! And err'body just moving along like ain't nothin' happened. GC ain't asked not one question, his buddy Pastor Lomacang is more worried about a tie pin, members jsut still filling up churches err'time he 3ABN rolls into town, wasn't there, but err'body probably just gave a rousing "Amen!" and warm welcome to the future Mrs. Shelton. Just a ruckus!!!

let me see if I can summarize... Mr Shelton accuses Linda Shelton of spiritual adultery, uses that for grounds for divorce, and then shares that with whomever will listen. Mr. Shelton also has friends help him with the negative press re: Linda Shelton. Then he files for divorce in Guam and receives it.

Meanwhile he continues with the blessings of the 3ABN board, Kay Kuzma and others to promote 3ABN as the conservative alternative to the liberal influence seen in some adventist churches.... Then he makes plans to remarry (or according to L.S.'s website) or is already remarried.... and there has not been any outcry about any of this, other than the continued smearing on occasion of Linda....

Only in America.....

should this topic be pinned again....lol

Posted by: simplysaved Mar 17 2006, 11:50 AM

I could be very wrong, but I think that there is much more that is NOT being said...I have a difficult time seeing a high-profile conservative Christian who wanted his marriage with his wife to work no matter what divorce her in another country for an "alleged emotional affair", without the church saying anything. I do not know anymore than what is presented, like everyone else....but I do not know that the conservates who do support 3ABN would "not have it" if there were not more that was is presented in public.

Have they not been all "gagged" as to specifics (on both sides)? It woud just seem then that whatever is presented it would never be the real story (and rightly so, it's their business).

Posted by: Clay Mar 17 2006, 01:11 PM

the term was "spiritual adultery" and someone believed it.... it was sold and they bought it... then the smearing began....

Posted by: seraph|m Mar 17 2006, 02:05 PM

QUOTE(Clay @ Mar 17 2006, 04:11 PM)

the term was "spiritual adultery" and someone believed it.... it was sold and they bought it... then the smearing began....

Oh, and let us not forget the "gag" order placed on Sis. Shelton. Now that is some mess.

Posted by: Clay Mar 17 2006, 02:27 PM

QUOTE(seraph|m @ Mar 17 2006, 02:05 PM)

Oh, and let us not forget the "gag" order placed on Sis. Shelton. Now that is some mess.

I had forgotten all about that... told her she couldnt say anything or else..... mighty christian I tell ya....

Posted by: simplysaved Mar 17 2006, 02:38 PM

QUOTE(simplysaved @ Mar 17 2006, 11:50 AM)

I could be very wrong, but I think that there is much more that is NOT being said...I have a difficult time seeing a high-profile conservative Christian who wanted his marriage with his wife to work no matter what divorce her in another country for an "alleged emotional affair", without the church saying anything. I do not know anymore than what is presented, like everyone else....but I do not know that the conservates who do support 3ABN would "not have it" if there were not more that was is presented in public.

Have they not been all "gagged" as to specifics (on both sides)? It woud just seem then that whatever is presented it would never be the real story (and rightly so, it's their business).

QUOTE(Clay @ Mar 17 2006, 02:27 PM)

I had forgotten all about that... told her she couldnt say anything or else..... mighty christian I tell ya....

So she was the only one? In the telecasts that I saw personally on 3ABN he dogded much of what wa going on...with only indirect comments about an affair....

Posted by: Clay Mar 17 2006, 02:45 PM

QUOTE(simplysaved @ Mar 17 2006, 02:38 PM)

So she was the only one? In the telecasts that I saw personally on 3ABN he dogded much of what wa going on...with only indirect comments about an affair....

she couldnt even say that... she could not mount a public defense against the accusations....

Posted by: simplysaved Mar 17 2006, 02:47 PM

QUOTE(Clay @ Mar 17 2006, 02:45 PM)

she couldnt even say that... she could not mount a public defense against the accusations....

What were the legal ramifications? I ask this because Linda is quite straight forward on her website...

Posted by: Clay Mar 17 2006, 02:57 PM

QUOTE(simplysaved @ Mar 17 2006, 02:47 PM)

What were the legal ramifications? I ask this because Linda is quite straight forward on her website...

I don't know, at the time we think it may have been tied into what she would get in a divorce settlement or something....

Posted by: princessdi Mar 17 2006, 04:12 PM

Actually, Sarah, there is an interview here in the Interview forum with Linda. You are right not everybody was gagged thus the many posts from one side or the other, if you read all of the threads involving this situation. We have that I can remember, Danny, a Friend of Linda's and a "Counselor" who was called in during the mess, both have posted their "opinions" and "views". Also within on of these threads are links posted by Clay for other sites and their posted comments, most not at all nice. So we, here, have been privy to more infomation than most, because for some unknown reason they actually brought it to us.

QUOTE

I could be very wrong, but I think that there is much more that is NOT being said...I have a difficult time seeing a high-profile conservative Christian who wanted his marriage with his wife to work no matter what divorce her in another country for an "alleged emotional affair", without the church saying anything. I do not know anymore than what is presented, like everyone else....but I do not know that the conservates who do support 3ABN would "not have it" if there were not more that was is presented in public. Have they not been all "gagged" as to specifics (on both sides)? It woud just seem then that whatever is presented it would never be the real story (and rightly so, it's their business).

Also, fact is, Danny, himself, does not deny and is fighting for the legitimacy of the quickie Guam divorce. Danny has never been "gagged". In fact, he has made it his business to tell it every where he goes, just how "wounded" he is. If I am not mistaken, I believe one of our new members eluded to this in a recent post. Linda is the only one who could not say anything in defense of herself.

And if this is the first you have heard of the wife of a "high profile" or even not that high a profile, pastor who got blackballed by church and conference, then Gurl you had really take your head up out of the sand. It happens every time they decide to dviorce after years of abuse and/or falandering(sp). Or they just make a decision that will effect his pastorial career.

QUOTE(simplysaved @ Mar 17 2006, 12:47 PM)

What were the legal ramifications? I ask this because Linda is quite straight forward on her website...

Posted by: Nuggie Mar 17 2006, 09:57 PM

QUOTE(Clay @ Mar 16 2006, 06:32 PM)

Only in America.....

Sadly, this happens in conferences outside of North America as well...

QUOTE(simplysaved @ Mar 17 2006, 12:50 PM)

....but I do not know that the conservates who do support 3ABN would "not have it" if there were not more that was is presented in public.

Sure they would...this issue with the Sheltons is not about fairness, equality or the search for "truth"...it is about maintaining the illusion of christian perfection and wholesomeness at all costs--it is just pure hypocrisy, something we're becoming really good at.

QUOTE(princessdi @ Mar 17 2006, 05:12 PM)

And if this is the first you have heard of the wife of a "high profile" or even not that high a profile, pastor who got blackballed by church and conference, then Gurl you had really take your head up out of the sand. It happens every time they decide to dviorce after years of abuse and/or falandering(sp). Or they just make a decision that will effect his pastorial career.

Posted by: calvin Mar 17 2006, 10:00 PM

QUOTE(Clay @ Mar 17 2006, 02:45 PM)

she couldnt even say that... she could not mount a public defense against the accusations....

This is a very common business practice. Standard practice at my company. If you accept the severance payour package you can speak no ill of the company or employees for a certain period of time. For executives this is often written in their employment up front.

Posted by: seraph|m Mar 17 2006, 11:40 PM

QUOTE(calvin @ Mar 18 2006, 01:00 AM)

> This is a very common business practice. Standard practice at my company. If you accept the severance payour package you can speak no ill of the company or employees for a certain period of time. For executives this is often written in their employment up front.

Tru dat, my honeys employment package has a similar clause.

Powered by Invision Power Board (http://www.invisionboard.com)
© Invision Power Services (http://www.invisionpower.com)

217

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ Forgiveness... what is it?

Posted by: summertime May 10 2006, 09:58 AM

QUOTE(statrei @ May 10 2006, 06:36 AM)

I can only expand on what Jesus is reported as saying. Since Danny put Linda away and it was not for marital infidelity her adultery will be his reponsibility. This is as plain as day.

Sounds good to me!!!! One more sin on his part probably would not make much difference to him.

Posted by: Peachesevie May 10 2006, 11:27 AM

QUOTE(summertime @ May 10 2006, 10:58 AM)

Sounds good to me!!!! One more sin on his part probably would not make much difference to him.

And you know this because .....?

Posted by: Nuggie May 10 2006, 03:44 PM

QUOTE(summertime @ May 10 2006, 10:58 AM)

Sounds good to me!!!! One more sin on his part probably would not make much difference to him.

Not that we're being judgmental or anything since we know all about Danny's spiritual condition...

...like I said before, I'm glad no one but God knows my sins.

Posted by: HUGGINS130 May 10 2006, 11:21 PM

QUOTE(Nuggie @ May 10 2006, 03:44 PM)

Not that we're being judgmental or anything since we know all about Danny's spiritual condition...

> ...like I said before, I'm glad no one but God knows my sins.

God is even willing to forgive those who abused their power and even did wrong towards Linda, even Danny, if he has done such horrible things...God is merciful...so Merciful!

Posted by: denisebyers May 11 2006, 06:36 AM

> QUOTE(HUGGINS130 @ May 11 2006, 01:21 AM)
>
> God is even willing to forgive those who abused their power and even did wrong towards Linda, even Danny, if he has done such horrible things...God is merciful...so Merciful!

Amen Huggins! He's been so, so merciful to me, and I am so thankful.

Posted by: awesumtenor May 11 2006, 07:17 AM

> QUOTE(HUGGINS130 @ May 11 2006, 12:21 AM)
>
> God is even willing to forgive those who abused their power and even did wrong towards Linda, even Danny, if he has done such horrible things...God is merciful...so Merciful!

If he confesses and repents. The promise of God's forgiveness is conditional in 1John 1:9:

1Jo 1:9 If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.

When he acknowledges his need to be forgiven to God God will abundantly pardon... but if he says he has not sinned, as verse 10 of the same chapter states, he makes God a liar and God's word is not in him...

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: statrei May 11 2006, 07:57 AM

> QUOTE(awesumtenor @ May 11 2006, 09:17 AM)
>
> If he confesses and repents. The promise of God's forgiveness is conditional in 1John 1:9:
>
> 1Jo 1:9 If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.
>
> When he acknowledges his need to be forgiven to God God will abundantly pardon... but if he says he has not sinned, as verse 10 of the same chapter states, he makes God a liar and God's word is not in him...

In His service,
Mr. J

That misread is a result of reading the NT as a doctrinal treatise rather than as a pastoral document. John's purpose was to give assurance to people who were doubtful of their standing before the Creator. He was not making forgiveness contingent on confession. To do so would be contrary to what Christ expects of his followers who are to forgive before forgiveness is asked. The neglected truth is that way back in the Garden of Eden the Creator forgave all our sins, past, present and future. Whether we enjoy the peace that comes from knowing we have been forgiven may be contingent on being repentant but that has nothing to do with what the Creator has done. All of Danny's sins have been forgiven, along with yours and mine.

Posted by: Peachesevie May 11 2006, 09:12 AM

QUOTE(statrei @ May 11 2006, 08:57 AM)

That misread is a result of reading the NT as a doctrinal treatise rather than as a pastoral document. John's purpose was to give assurance to people who were doubtful of their standing before the Creator. He was not making forgiveness contingent on confession. To do so would be contrary to what Christ expects of his followers who are to forgive before forgiveness is asked. The neglected truth is that way back in the Garden of Eden the Creator forgave all our sins, past, present and future. Whether we enjoy the peace that comes from knowing we have been forgiven may be contingent on being repentant but that has nothing to do with what the Creator has done. All of Danny's sins have been forgiven, along with yours and mine.

Then what is the need for repentance????

Posted by: PaperTigers May 11 2006, 09:32 AM

QUOTE(statrei @ May 11 2006, 08:57 AM)

That misread is a result of reading the NT as a doctrinal treatise rather than as a pastoral document. John's purpose was to give assurance to people who were doubtful of their standing before the Creator. He was not making forgiveness contingent on confession. To do so would be contrary to what Christ expects of his followers who are to forgive before forgiveness is asked. The neglected truth is that way back in the Garden of Eden the Creator forgave all our sins, past, present and future. Whether we enjoy the peace that comes from knowing we have been forgiven may be contingent on being repentant but that has nothing to do with what the Creator has done. All of Danny's sins have been forgiven, along with yours and mine.

If that is true... than wouldn't everyone be going to heaven because everyone's sins would be forgiven as soon as we did them.. so from moment to moment we would all be perfect in God's eyes?? I believe that God does forgive all of our sins, but only after we ask for forgiveness.

Posted by: Clay May 11 2006, 09:35 AM

QUOTE(PaperTigers @ May 11 2006, 09:32 AM)

If that is true... than wouldn't everyone be going to heaven because everyone's sins would be forgiven as soon as we did them.. so from moment to moment we would all be perfect in God's eyes?? I believe that God does forgive all of our sins, but only after we ask for forgiveness.

Jesus died for all your sins.... the moment he did that were they not forgiven?

Posted by: PaperTigers May 11 2006, 09:39 AM

QUOTE(Clay @ May 11 2006, 10:35 AM)

Jesus died for all your sins.... the moment he did that were they not forgiven?

Yes but the forgiveness is conditional upon us asking for it.

Posted by: sonshineonme May 11 2006, 09:39 AM

QUOTE(PaperTigers @ May 11 2006, 08:32 AM)

If that is true... than wouldn't everyone be going to heaven because everyone's sins would be forgiven as soon as we did them.. so from moment to moment we would all be perfect in God's eyes?? I believe that God does forgive all of our sins, but only after we ask for forgiveness.

Lets remember, the big point is that He wants us in personal relationship with Him - If I wrong or hurt someone, friend, family member or otherwise, to ask for forgiveness, even though I know it will be given, makes the relationship stronger. He wants the personal connection with us. We appreciate that even more when we realize that yes, He has paid for our sins, BUT to understand why only makes you want to come to Him and ask forgiveness.

Posted by: Clay May 11 2006, 09:44 AM

QUOTE(PaperTigers @ May 11 2006, 10:39 AM)

Yes but the forgiveness is conditional upon us asking for it.

are you sure? In the Lord's prayer the phrase is forgive us as we forgive..... the question remains how is it that Jesus died for our sins yet forgiveness has to be requested?

Posted by: Denny May 11 2006, 09:48 AM

If imperfect sinful humans can forgive another human who wrongs them way, way, way before they request it cannot a perfect Divine being do the same or even more? We are applying standards to God that we don't even practise ourselves. Remember the story of the Prodigal, the father was looking for his son before his son showed up, he did not wait for him to ring the doorbell. Some of us think God has the forgiveness principles of the elder brother, perhaps we expose ourselves with such thinking.....

Posted by: statrei May 11 2006, 10:15 AM

QUOTE(Peachesevie @ May 11 2006, 11:12 AM)

Then what is the need for remepentance????

If the only reason you repent for offending someone is because that is the only way to get something you want then it is a plain as the nose on your face that you are not truly sorry, so the repentance means nothing. Love repents even though it does not have to.

Posted by: sonshineonme May 11 2006, 10:32 AM

QUOTE(statrei @ May 11 2006, 08:15 AM)

If the only reason you repent for offending someone is because that is the only way to get something you want then it is a plain as the nose on your face that you are not truly sorry, so the repentance means nothing. Love repents even though it does not have to.

It should never be the reason for repenting. Ever. Applying the real and true reason brings healing and closeness. It's personal - not a "rule" or "forced" thing. It's based on love for the other. Maybe this kind of love is only from God. JMO.

Posted by: denisebyers May 11 2006, 10:44 AM

What about this verse? This tells me that the goodness of God leadeth us to repentence. I really love the book of Romans, and this is one of my favorite verses.

Romans 2:4Or despisest thou the riches of his goodness and forbearance and longsuffering; not knowing that the goodness of God leadeth thee to repentance?

Isn't that beautiful?! I love it!

Posted by: Clay May 11 2006, 10:56 AM

QUOTE(denisebyers @ May 11 2006, 10:44 AM)

What about this verse? This tells me that the goodness of God leadeth us to repentence. I really love the book of Romans, and this is one of my favorite verses.

Romans 2:4Or despisest thou the riches of his goodness and forbearance and longsuffering; not knowing that the goodness of God leadeth thee to repentance?

Isn't that beautiful?! I love it!

yes.... but I tend to like the modern translations a bit better... like this one...

Romans 2:3-4
(3) When you judge people for doing these things but then do them yourself, do you think you will escape God's judgment?
(4) Do you have contempt for God, who is very kind to you, puts up with you, and deals patiently with you? Don't you realize that it is God's kindness that is trying to lead you to him and change the way you think and act?

Posted by: denisebyers May 11 2006, 11:12 AM

When I read the KJV, when it says the goodness of God leadeth thee to repentence, I see that as we behold Him, get to know Him more each day, by his character, his life here on earth, he was so loving, merciful, compassionate, this changes us. As we keep our mind on Him, get to know Him more, and mediate on His words, this leads us to repentence, by the Holy Spirit working on our lives. I know this has put a change in my life. He is an awesome God.....too awesome to describe....there's so much to learn everyday, and I love this! And yes, His love does change the way we think and act.

Posted by: sonshineonme May 11 2006, 11:20 AM

QUOTE(Clay @ May 11 2006, 09:56 AM)

yes.... but I tend to like the modern translations a bit better... like this one...

Romans 2:3-4
(3) When you judge people for doing these things but then do them yourself, do you think you will escape God's judgment?
(4) Do you have contempt for God, who is very kind to you, puts up with you, and deals patiently with you? Don't you realize that it is God's kindness that is trying to lead you to him and change the way you think and act?

I love that translation Clay - somehow I grew up not seeing this part of Christ - and the past 20 years I have spent getting to know God and His real personal intrest in ME, His caring of ME, that I am important to Him - not just what I do wrong, but His wanting to get to my heart and make me a real and new creature. Only by Love can this happen. Not being beat over the head. Thanks Clay and Denise! When we really come to understand this, that's when REAL change comes and it sticks!

Posted by: awesumtenor May 11 2006, 11:43 AM

QUOTE(Clay @ May 11 2006, 11:35 AM)

Jesus died for all your sins.... the moment he did that were they not forgiven?

They were atoned for...if you look at the day of atonement, while the sacrifice was sufficient to atone for the sin of all... there were still some who were not covered by it solely based on the choice those individuals made.

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: statrei May 11 2006, 12:03 PM

The fact that the goodness of God leads us to repentance does not mean that we have not been already forgiven. The text is only speaking to the effect of the goodness of God on the individual.

Posted by: Denny May 12 2006, 03:18 AM

QUOTE(awesumtenor @ May 11 2006, 05:43 PM)

They were atoned for...if you look at the day of atonement, while the sacrifice was sufficient to atone for the sin of all... there were still some who were not covered by it solely based on the choice those individuals made.

In His service,
Mr. J

If you choose to forgive your children but they choose not to be reconciled/be at one with you does that make your act of forgiveness null and void?

Posted by: Prisca May 12 2006, 05:24 AM

QUOTE(denisebyers @ May 11 2006, 04:44 PM)

What about this verse? This tells me that the goodness of God leadeth us to repentence. I really love the book of Romans, and this is one of my favorite verses.

Romans 2:4Or despisest thou the riches of his goodness and forbearance and longsuffering; not knowing that the goodness of God leadeth thee to repentance?

Isn't that beautiful?! I love it!

The goodness of God does not lead to repentence when ingratitude trips the person up. That is a part of that despising right? You have to have a sense of gratitude/thankfullness/awareness in order to continue down that path to repentence.

> QUOTE(Denny @ May 12 2006, 09:18 AM)
>
> If you choose to forgive your children but they choose not to be reconciled/be at one with you does that make your act of forgiveness null and void?

It depends. You may forgive your addict child but not allow him/her to return to the home to cause havoc and present a danger to yourself or anyone else in the family. Is that what you mean by reconciled?

Posted by: awesumtenor May 12 2006, 07:12 AM

> QUOTE(Denny @ May 12 2006, 04:18 AM)
>
> If you choose to forgive your children but they choose not to be reconciled/be at one with you does that make your act of forgiveness null and void?

There is a distinct difference between my extending forgiveness and my receiving it. The prodigal son had long been forgiven by his father but he did not receive it until he sought it. I can extend forgiveness unilaterally; I cannot receive it unilaterally, however.

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: beartrap May 12 2006, 09:20 AM

> QUOTE
>
> Should acknowledgement of wrongdoing and penitence ever occur, we would be the first to forgive and forget. Unfortunately, that has not happened, and we must move on.
> Dr. Walter Thompson, Open letter from 3ABN, April 5, 2006

It is clearly stated that 3ABN's position on forgiveness is that it must be conditional. In the absence of "acknowledgement of wrongdoing and penitence" one does not forgive, they simply move on.

Posted by: statrei May 12 2006, 09:23 AM

> QUOTE(beartrap @ May 12 2006, 10:20 AM)
>
> It is clearly stated that 3ABN's position on forgiveness is that it must be conditional. In the absence of "acknowledgement of wrongdoing and penitence" one does not forgive, they simply move on.

And that public stance is, in my mind, worse than what Danny has done. They have publicly adopted a stance that is contrary to the very nature of the Creator.

Posted by: Clay Jul 8 2006, 01:13 PM

> QUOTE(statrei @ May 12 2006, 10:23 AM)
>
> And that public stance is, in my mind, worse than what Danny has done. They have publicly adopted a stance that is contrary to the very nature of the Creator.

aint that just like good christian folks.... who belong to a good christian .org.....

Powered by Invision Power Board (http://www.invisionboard.com)
© Invision Power Services (http://www.invisionpower.com)

218

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ An Unauthorized History of 3ABN

Posted by: sister Jun 9 2006, 06:59 PM

Doing things for GOD...

Laundry day...between loads of washing, drying and ironing, I turn on 3ABN. There is Danny smiling at me. I should know better, but sitting down I start to listen. This is a one sided conversation, Danny talks and I listen. Sitting comfortably in his red chair, smiling at me, he begins to relate all the things he is "doing for God". Sitting back, a puzzled expression creases my forehead as I begin to analyze what he is actually saying. Today Danny is quite animated, cheerfully relating all he has done for God through his ministry. I continue listening... With enthusiasm he relates all he has accomplished. As those seated with him nod and give their approval, Danny appears quite pleased with himself. He reminds us that he has done everything that God has required of him, great and marvelous works have been wrought by his hands for God. At the end of the program the credits roll and Danny disappears from my living room, but his words linger on wafting through my mind. Like a pair of hands swiftly moving over the surface of an abacus, expertly sliding the counters along the wooden rods, I make an accounting of what I have heard. Each new computation results in the same solution: Not once did Danny mention what GOD has done for him, only what he has done for GOD. Danny has not suggested that it is God working in or through him. Again I ponder Danny's words and the following Scripture is brought to my remembrance: "So also the tongue is a small part of the body, and yet it boasts of great things..." James 3:5

I know this appears to be a minute point upon first reflection, but upon further investigation it exposes the inner workings of a man's conscience and how he can justify both "fresh and bitter water coming from the same fountain". Often wondering how Danny can rationalize the dichotomy between his private and public personas: the mutually exclusive or contradictory divisions between the demeanor he exhibits when publically representing 3ABN, while appearing to have few qualms of conscience to hinder unspeakable behavior elsewhere; I suggest that it pertains directly to "his doing things" for God. Although this statement appears disquieting and disturbing, an impossible conclusion reached through a tremendous leap of extrapolation; but suspend judgement and disbelief for a moment and consider the reasoning behind this statement.

Proclaiming his belief in God's special calling of him for such a great task to preform, Danny also contends that with this calling certain privileges are bestowed upon the recipient, granting him the equivalent of a perpetual "get out of jail free" card in respect to the laws of God. This "privilege" bypasses the usual course of events pertaining to acts of sin against God: there is no requirement for acknowledgment of wrongful behavior, no reason for being humbled, or of repentance and contrition. So in this outlandish twist of reasoning the relationship between God and man becomes similar to a Mexican stand off: a possible power struggle is kept at bay with each side being equally matched in regard to their perceived position, resulting in a mutual stand down with each of the parties returning to their own areas of authority. Practically speaking, as long as Danny fulfils his commitments to God through building and sustaining the ministry of 3ABN, he is not bound by the Laws of God. And included in this "deal" is the understanding that in the position of god within his realm of 3ABN, Danny is free to do as he pleases. This is definitely strange fire in the sanctuary for a self-professed Seventh-day Adventist Christian. When a man becomes the voice of God for himself, there are no binding restrictions in any area of his life and spiritual anarchy, like a hissing cobra raising it's hooded head, is prepared to strike out in every direction.

The following quotation from Galations 2:20 gives a balanced description of what a mature life in Christ is intended to be: "I am crucified with Christ: nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me: and the life which I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself for me." Like a clear glass vessel, that brings water to parched and thirsting souls, it is not the glass that supplies refreshment, but that which is contained within it. It is God who enacts the "doing" and we in cooperation with Him that become the vessels through whom He works for His good pleasure.

In Matthew 7:20-23 it is stated: "Wherefore by their fruits ye shall know them. Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven. Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name? and in thy name have cast out devils? and in thy name done many wonderful works? And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you: depart from me, ye that work iniquity." When we contemplate the relationship of those described in the preceding Scripture and the fate of those whom God will turn away from Him, it can be difficult to understand how that could possibly happen. How can a man or woman spend the majority of a lifetime publically "doing things for God" and in the final accounting be left deficit, falling short of the kingdom of Heaven? If the genuine character of an individual continues on a downward spiral as he secretly indulges in behavior that runs contrary the nature of God, how could he be happy in Heaven? It is both in justice and mercy that God turns away those who have hidden a life of iniquity behind the guise of a Saint and in unimaginable sorrowfulness of heart He professes, "I never knew you..."

Stay tuned...

Posted by: gracetoyou Jun 9 2006, 07:19 PM

Sister, what ever happened to part 4 of "The Tree in the Midst of the Garden" mentioned in post #164 about the two women who have convinced Danny that he is an oracle of God?

Posted by: sister Jun 9 2006, 08:07 PM

> QUOTE(beartrap @ Jun 9 2006, 07:42 PM)
>
> Well, as was previously mentioned, if anything drastic happens, 3ABN goes to the Illinois conference... at least that is how it was laid out in the charter.

So, Danny is covering all his options... if the front door at 3ABN is closed, then Mollie is in position to open the back door and welcome him home. And of course who else on the Illinois Conference Board has first hand experience running 3ABN. Also a wise move on Mollie's part: both she and Hal have their backsides fully covered.

And since Danny trusts Mollie completely, I am sure he has never considered the old saying, "there is no honor among theives". Maybe that back door just might be locked...

Actually, it would have been a perfect setup...unfortunately, they seem to forget that it is no longer magic once you know how the magician pulls the rabbit from his hat.

> QUOTE(gracetoyou @ Jun 9 2006, 08:19 PM)
>
> Sister, what ever happened to part 4 of "The Tree in the Midst of the Garden" mentioned in post #164 about the two women who have convinced Danny that he is an oracle of God?

Sorry about that, I thought I had picked up all the loose ends. Stay tuned and keep checking, I will finish writing it. Thanks for the reminder, gracetoyou!

Posted by: summertime Jun 9 2006, 10:30 PM

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jun 9 2006, 07:42 PM)

Well, as was previously mentioned, if anything drastic happens, 3ABN goes to the Illinois conference... at least that is how it was laid out in the charter.

If anything drastic happens to who or what? Seems to me that something drastic has already happened.

Posted by: beartrap Jun 9 2006, 10:37 PM

QUOTE(summertime @ Jun 9 2006, 11:30 PM)

If anything drastic happens to who or what? Seems to me that something drastic has already happened.

LOL! I guess you could say that.

Posted by: sonshineonme Jun 9 2006, 10:40 PM

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jun 9 2006, 09:37 PM)

LOL! I guess you could say that.

I would definitely say that.

blc

Posted by: gracetoyou Jun 10 2006, 07:05 AM

QUOTE(sister @ Jun 9 2006, 08:59 PM)

Doing things for GOD...

With enthusiasm he relates all he has accomplished. As those seated with him nod and give their approval, Danny appears quite pleased with himself. He reminds us that he has done everything that God has required of him, great and marvelous works have been wrought by his hands for God

.

"For such men are false apostles, deceitful workmen, masquerading as apostles of Christ. And no wonder, for Satan himself masquerades as an angel of light. It is not surprising, then, if his servants masquerade as servants of righteousness. Their end will be what their actions deserve." 2 Corinthians 11:13-15

It's ironic that Adventists pity and look down on Catholics who are deceived by Marian apparitions and on Pentecostals who are deceived by "miracles" performed by Benny Hinn and other faith healers, but lap up the "miracle" stories and other "evidence" that Danny is a agent of God. Kay Kuzma's book is entitled, "Mending Broken People - 3ABN Miracle Stories". The Bible warns us in Matthew 24:24, 2 Thessalonians 2:9,10, Revelation 13:13,14, and Revelation 16:14 that Satan's main tool of deception in the last days are miracles. Somehow some Adventists think that they are immune to Satan's deceptions, but from what I have read about Danny and some of his supporters, sadly they are not.

QUOTE

Practically speaking, as long as Danny fulfils his commitments to God through building and sustaining the ministry of 3ABN, he is not bound by the Laws of God. And included in this "deal" is the understanding that in the position of god within his realm of 3ABN, Danny is free to do as he pleases. This is definitely strange fire in the sanctuary for a self-professed Seventh-day Adventist Christian. When a man becomes the voice of God for himself, there are no binding restrictions in any area of his life and spiritual anarchy, like a hissing cobra raising it's hooded head, is prepared to strike out in every direction.

This is why it is so important that Danny and his posse be exposed and deposed from 3ABN. The idea that covering for Danny is for the good of the ministry is a huge mistake. God does not use unrepentant liars, thieves and adulterers in His work of spreading the gospel. "If anyone turns a deaf ear to the law, even his prayers are detestable." Prov. 28:9 "But your iniquities have separated you from your God; your sins have hidden his face from you, so that he will not hear." Isa. 59:2 As long as Danny and his ilk control 3ABN, it can be used as a powerful vehicle of deception by which souls may be lost.

"For false Christs and false prophets [some believe Danny is a prophet] will appear and perform great signs and miracles to deceive even the elect -- if that were possible. See, I have told you ahead of time." Matt. 24:24,25

Posted by: Peachesevie Jun 10 2006, 10:44 AM

QUOTE(gracetoyou @ Jun 10 2006, 08:05 AM)

"For such men are false apostles, deceitful workmen, masquerading as apostles of Christ. And no wonder, for Satan himself masquerades as an angel of light. It is not surprising, then, if his servants masquerade as servants of righteousness. Their end will be what their actions deserve." 2 Corinthians 11:13-15

It's ironic that Adventists pity and look down on Catholics who are deceived by Marian apparitions and on Pentecostals who are deceived by "miracles" performed by Benny Hinn and other faith healers, but lap up the "miracle" stories and other "evidence" that Danny is a agent of God. Kay Kuzma's book is entitled, "Mending Broken People - 3ABN Miracle Stories". The Bible warns us in Matthew 24:24, 2 Thessalonians 2:9,10, Revelation 13:13,14, and Revelation 16:14 that Satan's main tool of deception in the last days are miracles. Somehow some Adventists think that they are immune to Satan's deceptions, but from what I have read about Danny and some of his supporters, sadly they are not.

This is why it is so important that Danny and his posse be exposed and deposed from 3ABN. The idea that covering for Danny is for the good of the ministry is a huge mistake. God does not use unrepentant liars, thieves and adulterers in His work of spreading the gospel. "If anyone turns a deaf ear to the law, even his prayers are detestable." Prov. 28:9 "But your iniquities have separated you from your God; your sins have hidden his face from you, so that he will not hear." Isa. 59:2 As long as Danny and his ilk control 3ABN, it can be used as a powerful vehicle of deception by which souls may be lost.

"For false Christs and false prophets [some believe Danny is a prophet] will appear and perform great signs and miracles to deceive even the elect -- if that were possible. See, I have told you ahead of time." Matt. 24:24,25

Danny is such a figure because we made him one, even here at BSDA I mean look how many hits the topics concerning him have.

Posted by: Johann Jun 10 2006, 10:54 AM

QUOTE(sister @ Jun 10 2006, 01:49 AM)

Johann, you may have not seen the above, so I am still wondering what you think not only about Mollie Steenson on the Illinois Conference Board, but also about her part in the scheme of things at 3ABN?

Didn't someone say this is how private enterprice functions?

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jun 10 2006, 12:17 PM

QUOTE(Peachesevie @ Jun 10 2006, 12:44 PM)

Danny is such a figure because we made him one, even here at BSDA I mean look how many hits the topics concerning him have.

...but hopefully the "figure" that we are making him here will not be a popular one..... but the "truthful" one...

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jun 10 2006, 12:29 PM

QUOTE(Peachesevie @ Jun 10 2006, 11:44 AM)

Danny is such a figure because we made him one, even here at BSDA I mean look how many hits the topics concerning him have.

Donors I have spoken to did not intend to create a figure to be venerated for its own sake.

Golden Calf Broadcasting Network wasn't in their thinking at the time. But, you come down from the mountain after being away for awhile, and you find a big surprise. It happens.

Posted by: statrei Jun 10 2006, 12:31 PM

QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jun 10 2006, 01:29 PM)

Donors I have spoken to did not intend to create a figure to be venerated for its own sake.

Golden Calf Broadcasting Network wasn't in their thinking at the time. But, you come down from the mountain after being away for awhile, and you find a big surprise. It happens.

That is what happens when you decide to pay others to do your work for you.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jun 10 2006, 12:34 PM

QUOTE(statrei @ Jun 10 2006, 01:31 PM)

That is what happens when you decide to pay others to do your work for you.

Yes, but have I learned my lesson?

Posted by: Johann Jun 11 2006, 01:13 PM

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jun 10 2006, 07:34 PM)
>
> Yes, but have I learned my lesson?

So, what is the lesson? And what is the subject?

Posted by: watchbird Jun 11 2006, 01:27 PM

> QUOTE(Peachesevie @ Jun 10 2006, 10:44 AM)
>
> Danny is such a figure because we made him one, even here at BSDA I mean look how many hits the topics concerning him have.

> QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jun 10 2006, 12:17 PM)
>
> ...but hopefully the "figure" that we are making him here will not be a popular one..... but the "truthful" one...

Agreed. I think what is happening here on BSDA is a dismantling of the "figure" (image), not the making of it. It takes time. It took time to build it up. It takes time to pull it down.

Posted by: watchbird Jun 11 2006, 02:02 PM

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jun 10 2006, 12:29 PM)
>
> Donors I have spoken to did not intend to create a figure to be venerated for its own sake.

I'm sure there are very many different reasons why donors gave to 3ABN. And those reasons would range all the way from being totally innocent believers that they were indeed giving to promote the mission and scope of the Adventist church of which they are members to those who gave as an act of rebellion against the Adventist church of which they are members. And there are probably many more motives that could not be put in a straight line between those two positions. Only God can judge the motives. And only God knows what became of each specific offering. In most cases that is. For we do know of those whose offerings were diverted from their intended purpose, even when that purpose was clearly stated (as, for example, in the infamous diversion of funds given for a tabernacle exhibit building). But be that as it may, there is no guilt resting on those who gave for the right motives without knowing the misuse to which their money was being put. Hopefully there are more now that know, and are not giving their funds because of that knowledge

> QUOTE
>
> Golden Calf Broadcasting Network wasn't in their thinking at the time. But, you come down from the mountain after being away for awhile, and you find a big surprise. It happens.

That is such a clever handle and metaphor that I hate like everything to rain on your parade, but really, if you examine the "fine print", it doesn't match up so well. Oh there are similarities. The gold givers were giving to an "independent ministry" that was going contrary to the Church led by the Guy and the guy on the top of the mountain. And they did indeed bow down and worship the image created from their gold and aclaim it as their "god". And it has such a nice neat and final ending to the story, with the image completely ground to dust and the people who worshiped it punished. It really is a delightful "image" to play with.

But.

Having said all that, your point was (I think) about the innocence of the givers. And I think those calf worshipers back there at the foot of the mountain were very much aware of the purpose for which they were giving their gold. I'll admit to rather liking the quick and efficient way things were handled back there at the foot of the mountain. But I suspect there may be other Bible examples that might be more accurately reflective of our current "golden calf".

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jun 10 2006, 12:34 PM)
>
> Yes, but have I learned my lesson?

It sounds like you have. I just hope you don't addle your brains by bashing your head against the unchangeable wall of past mistakes so they aren't available for applying the lesson to future needs.

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jun 11 2006, 01:13 PM)
>
> So, what is the lesson? And what is the subject?

Ah, yes. These are the questions. Different folk draw different lessons from the same experience. Some are more helpful for dealing with futures than others.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jun 11 2006, 04:06 PM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jun 11 2006, 02:02 PM)
>
> Your point was (I think) about the innocence of the givers. And I think those calf worshipers back there at the foot of the mountain were very much aware of the purpose for which they were giving their gold.

That's an important point you mentioned about all of the gold donors knowing the calf-making purpose. You may be entirely correct.

In my mind, I saw large numbers of Israelites, many in the outer edges of the camp and out of the loop, respectfully giving Aaron, an authority figure, what he asked for without thinking about it. I imagined one of those "What do you have in your hand" stories.

The immediate effect of this enterprise seems to be that 3,000 wayward calf-worshippers are killed. The rest of the Israelites are forced to drink the ground-up dust of the calf to show them how powerless idols really are.

One Jewish History site says:

"When Moses came down the mountain, were 3 million Jews dancing around a golden calf?

No. The Torah, in Exodus 32:28, says it was only about 3 thousand people.

That means only .1% of the Jews participated and 99.9% of the Jews did not.

http://www.aish.com/literacy/jewishhistory/Crash_Course_in_Jewish_History_Part_12_-_The_Golden_Calf.asp

---

Posted by: sister Jun 12 2006, 10:26 AM

Best Friends...

Where does Brenda Walsh, a.k.a. the cookie lady, fit into the Unauthorized History of 3ABN? Could she be just another one of Danny's conquests? [x] kiss Or was she really Linda Shelton's best friend? [x] hug.gif How could she publically include Linda Shelton as the "fourth sister" in the quartet that includes Linda with Brenda's two [x] gossip female siblings and then when she writes her autobiography refer to this same Linda, not even by name but only as the "vice president" of 3ABN?

Stay tuned... [x] TVsnack.

Posted by: Johann Jun 12 2006, 11:53 AM

QUOTE(sister @ Jun 12 2006, 06:26 PM)

Best Friends...

Where does Brenda Walsh, a.k.a. the cookie lady, fit into the Unauthorized History of 3ABN? Could she be just another one of Danny's conquests? kiss Or was she really Linda Shelton's best friend? hug.gif How could she publically include Linda Shelton as the "fourth sister" in the quartet that includes Linda with Brenda's two gossip female siblings and then when she writes her autobiography refer to this same Linda, not even by name but only as the "vice president" of 3ABN?

Stay tuned... TVsnack.

Some time after her return from Norway Brenda had a birthday party for Danny (May 19) where all the Sheltons were invited. Although Danny was still married Linda was not invited. I recall Linda telling me she could not understand why she was left out, because she had no intention of leaving Danny.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jun 12 2006, 01:40 PM

QUOTE(Johann @ Jun 12 2006, 11:53 AM)

Some time after her return from Norway Brenda had a birthday party for Danny (May 19) where all the Sheltons were invited. Although Danny was still married Linda was not invited. I recall Linda telling me she could not understand why she was left out, because she had no intention of leaving Danny.

Benda Walsh gives Linda Shelton no invitation? Isn't it interesting how all of the puzzle pieces start to fit together to form a bigger picture.

Posted by: sister Jun 12 2006, 08:28 PM

QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jun 12 2006, 02:40 PM)

Benda Walsh gives Linda Shelton no invitation? Isn't it interesting how all of the puzzle pieces start to fit together to form a bigger picture.

Panama Pete, keep plugging in those puzzle pieces... The picture that is emerging has nothing to do with the PR that 3ABN is supplying, but you realized that already... Unfortunately this is starting to sound more like "Sex, Lies and Video Tape" than "The 3ABN Story: Mending Broken People". For what we have been lead to believe in the past is sometimes just an artfully prepared facade, produced to achieve certain desired results. Like artificial fruit it may be deceptive at a distance, but upon closer inspection, it leaves much to be desired when compared to the genuine article.

Working out the 3ABN puzzle has become something like those pictures that were very popular in the 90's; they appeared to be a random pattern when first observed, but upon closer inspection there was a recognizable image, although it was not easily detected by the uninitiated. Some individuals became quickly adept at decoding the pattern and finding the picture hidden within the design. I was not one of these. Using as much determination as possible I would continued to stare at the page before my eyes, searching for the image that was hidden among the seemingly unconnected pattern. My husband kept saying, "Do you see it?" I replied, "No." Again he would ask, "Do you see it now?" Still nothing. Then someone working in the shop would come and give some hints. Still nothing... Then finally someone "in the know" gives just the right directions that brings everything into focus: "stare straight ahead and then kind of look sideways at the same time". And suddenly out of all the disassociated information an image pops out at me! At first you only get a quick glimpse and it disappears again into the background. With time and practice you develop a new paradigm for discovering the message cleverly hidden beneath the surface design. So it is with discovering the truth behind the history of 3ABN.

Panama Pete, hopefully you are not the only one putting together the puzzle and others are also beginning to see new images emerging from seeing behind the scenes at 3ABN...

Stay tuned... TVsnack.

Posted by: Johann Jun 13 2006, 02:33 AM

QUOTE(sister @ Jun 13 2006, 03:28 AM)

Panama Pete, keep plugging in those puzzle pieces... The picture that is emerging has nothing to do with the PR that 3ABN is supplying, but you realized that already... Unfortunately this is starting to sound more like "Sex, Lies and Video Tape" than "The 3ABN Story: Mending Broken People". For what we have been lead to believe in the past is sometimes just an artfully prepared facade, produced to achieve certain desired results. Like artificial fruit it may be deceptive at a distance, but upon closer inspection, it leaves much to be desired when compared to the genuine article.

Working out the 3ABN puzzle has become something like those pictures that were very popular in the 90's; they appeared to be a random pattern when first observed, but upon closer inspection there was a recognizable image, although it was not easily detected by the uninitiated. Some individuals became quickly adept at decoding the pattern and finding the picture hidden within the design. I was not one of these. Using as much determination as possible I would continued to stare at the page before my eyes, searching for the image that was hidden among the seemingly unconnected pattern. My husband kept saying, "Do you see it?" I replied, "No." Again he would ask, "Do you see it now?" Still nothing. Then someone working in the shop would come and give some hints. Still nothing... Then finally someone "in the know" gives just the right directions that brings everything into focus: "stare straight ahead and then kind of look sideways at the same time". And suddenly out of all the disassociated information an image pops out at me! At first you only get a quick glimpse and it disappears again into the background. With time and practice you develop a new paradigm for discovering the message cleverly hidden beneath the surface design. So it is with discovering the truth behind the history of 3ABN.

Panama Pete, hopefully you are not the only one putting together the puzzle and others are also beginning to see new images emerging from seeing behind the scenes at 3ABN...

Stay tuned... TVsnack.

Posted by: sonshineonme Jun 13 2006, 06:55 PM

QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jun 12 2006, 12:40 PM)

... Isn't it interesting how all of the puzzle pieces start to fit together to form a bigger picture.

'hat's just it. There is a bigger picture to be seen. I think God is trying to teach us all something hrough this mess. I am hoping everyday that it is seen by someone, that someone learns what's ıappening, it's called getting educated. Then there are those that know the truth in this situation, and :ontinue to look the other way only because they are AFRAID, afraid to be part of the exposure, afraid o tell the truth; let "someone else" do it! These are tired words, arn't they? It's is a sad sad thing. I ›elieve every person has to come to a place when they admit what is truth, accept it as it is, and then ıave the peace that comes by doing so. Fear is an instrument of the devils, and those around us that ;eek to control us and situations. When we really do take a stand and TRUST God, the oppertunities ıE gives us to speak out and up, not only does it help us individually, but it also helps others. There is ı big picture here, of deception, allusion, greed and abuse that have and are playing out still. We can :ach do something about it. We just need to be willing to the job God gives us to do, with NO FEAR. Vouldn't that really ruin the devils and Danny's day if the tide were to change!? I think it is changing.

Posted by: statrei Jun 13 2006, 07:03 PM

No one is learning any lessons while they hold on to the same faulty theology that has carried 3ABN all these years. This is no quite sour grapes but it is a close imitation.

Posted by: Johann Jun 13 2006, 09:47 PM

QUOTE(statrei @ Jun 14 2006, 03:03 AM)

No one is learning any lessons while they hold on to the same faulty theology that has carried 3ABN all these years. This is no quite sour grapes but it is a close imitation.

'ou have given us a gist of their faulty theology before, but could you renew our pure (or poor) minds ›y reminding us with a new gust of wisdom, perhaps from a different direction that we may :omprehend certain different aspects of it?

Who is the "no one" you are referring to, or is that universal?

Posted by: gracetoyou Jun 15 2006, 02:05 PM

Moving right along...

Polly's Place is producing a set of 13 videos - Empowered - about how people can use the power of Christ to overcome problems such as eating disorders, addiction, abuse, etc. These videos should be available in September. Several stations, including the Loma Linda station, have expressed interest in showing them. The Hope Channel is also a possibility. Some of the videos involve Linda Shelton, so these videos will help Linda get out before the public. Hopefully, viewers will start wondering and questioning the 3abn version of the story.

The videos will also be available for purchase, so we can buy them and show them in our local churches for Sabbath afternoon seminars, vespers, community outreach, or loan out to individuals.
Besides helping the people to whom these issues apply, it would also be a way to bring up the subject of Linda and her innocence.

Posted by: princessdi Jun 15 2006, 02:22 PM

Ok, so, did I miss something? I know I haven't quite kept up, but is the consensus that Linda was abused. Just give me the Reader's Diegst version....Yes_____ NO_____

QUOTE(gracetoyou @ Jun 15 2006, 01:05 PM)

Moving right along...

Polly's Place is producing a set of 13 videos - Empowered - about how people can use the power of Christ to overcome problems such as eating disorders, addiction, abuse, etc. These videos should be available in September. Several stations, including the Loma Linda station, have expressed interest in showing them. The Hope Channel is also a possibility. Some of the videos involve Linda Shelton, so these videos will help Linda get out before the public. Hopefully, viewers will start wondering and questioning the 3abn version of the story.

The videos will also be available for purchase, so we can buy them and show them in our local churches for Sabbath afternoon seminars, vespers, community outreach, or loan out to individuals. Besides helping the people to whom these issues apply, it would also be a way to bring up the subject of Linda and her innocence.

Posted by: caribbean sda Jun 15 2006, 02:24 PM

Well...it's official: 3ABN will no longer be carried by Sky Angel...
http://www.nadadventist.org/mondayfax

According to the Friday Fax from the North American Division:
3ABN has received the final word that they will not be back on the Sky Angel System. This is a good time to let your church members know that all is not lost. They can obtain a satellite dish package that includes 3ABN as well as many other Adventist channels that were not part of Sky Angel, with no monthly fees. This package includes the Hope Channel (Official Channel of the Church), Esperanza TV, 3ABN Latino, 3ABN English, ATN 1 and ATN/ACN 2 (Special Event Church Channels), LLBN (Loma Linda Broadcasting Network), LifeTalk Radio, 3ABN Radio, and Radio 74

International.

http://www.3abn.org/announcements.cfm
Sky Angel Update
NOTICE TO VIEWERS THAT WERE WATCHING 3ABN WITH SKY ANGEL SYSTEM ONLY. Since April 14th, 2006, the 3ABN viewers using Sky Angel subscription, lost the ability to watch 3ABN channel on their system. The reason for it was a sudden loss of one transponder of the satellite EchoStar III. This satellite transponder broadcasts 10 of the 33 channels that Sky Angel offers. A few days later, Sky Angel was able to get only seven channels back on the air. Unfortunately for us, they chose 3ABN to be one of the three channels that were not going to be re-instated on the satellite backup transponder. Since then, Sky Angel has been working with EchoStar to try to get the other three channels back on the satellite but last Friday, May 26, we received the final word from Sky Angel that their negotiations with EchoStar had finished without getting the satellite space for the other 3 channels. Therefore, it is a final decision that 3ABN will not be back on the Sky Angel System. Although it is beyond our control, we apologize for this inconvenience to our Sky Angel viewers. The Life Time subscription that some of you purchased, is still valid and you can continue to watch the other channels Sky Angel has to offer. If you want to continue watching 3ABN, the only offer we have at this time is our own satellite system that is sold for $199.00.

Posted by: gracetoyou Jun 15 2006, 02:43 PM

QUOTE(princessdi @ Jun 15 2006, 04:22 PM)

Ok, so, did I miss something? I know I haven't quite kept up, but is the consensus that Linda was abused. Just give me the Reader's Diegst version....Yes_____ NO_____

When I wrote that the videos involve Linda, I believe that she may be the moderator or host of some of the programs, not that the videos were about Linda and her marriage with Danny. When viewers see Linda on the videos, they may realize that Linda is still involved in Christian ministry and is not some hussy who ran off with a European doctor. They may begin to ask questions as to what really happened in the divorce from Danny.

Was Linda abused in her marriage? From all that I've read on this forum, Linda was very much abused.

Posted by: princessdi Jun 15 2006, 03:03 PM

Ok, but I am just trying to to connect the two things in your statement below.

"Besides helping the people to whom these issues apply, it would also be a way to bring up the subject of Linda and her innocence."

I totally agree that she was at least emotionally abuse.

QUOTE(gracetoyou @ Jun 15 2006, 12:43 PM)

When I wrote that the videos involve Linda, I believe that she may be the moderator or host of some of the programs, not that the videos were about Linda and her marriage with Danny. When viewers see Linda on the videos, they may realize that Linda is still involved in Christian ministry and is not some hussy who ran off with a European doctor. They may begin to ask questions as to what really happened in the divorce from Danny.

Was Linda abused in her marriage? From all that I've read on this forum, Linda was very much abused.

Posted by: watchbird Jun 16 2006, 07:02 AM

QUOTE(princessdi @ Jun 15 2006, 02:22 PM)

Ok, so, did I miss something? I know I haven't quite kept up, but is the consensus that Linda was abused. Just give me the Reader's Diegst version....Yes_____ NO_____

Now I'm confused. You ask for the "Reader's Digest Version", but then give a "check the correct answer" form.

The short "yes/no" answer is "Yes".

The "Reader's Digest Version" would be a tear-jerking review of the more striking examples of that abuse.

The weakness with the "Yes/no?" option is that it gives no indication as to how one should define abuse in this environment.

The weakness with the "Reader's Digest Version" would, in all probablility, be that while abuse might be clearly defined by the examples, it would focus on the grosser and more visible forms of abuse and quite possibly entirely ignore an analysis of those forms of abuse which injure, or even cripple, the psyche, but which may have more insiduous effects on those so abused than either physical or outright psychological harassment.

Posted by: watchbird Jun 16 2006, 07:16 AM

QUOTE(princessdi @ Jun 15 2006, 03:03 PM)

Ok, but I am just trying to to connect the two things in your statement below.

"Besides helping the people to whom these issues apply, it would also be a way to bring up the subject of Linda and her innocence."
I totally agree that she was at least emotionally abuse.

What that statement said to me was that since all the evidence that most people have access to is that which Danny and friends have been saying, and since Linda has been nearly invisible (leading many to assume that she is in hiding because of her guilt), then to have video seminar materials in which Linda is featured prominently in ministry, becomes evidence that Linda is not off somewhere doing the nefarious things she has been accused of, but is still devoted to ministry within the Adventist church.

And this makes an even greater statement than a personal appearance which she has herself scheduled, since Polly's Place is so closely linked with the "official" Adventist Conference structure.

Posted by: summertime Jun 16 2006, 07:46 AM

QUOTE(caribbean sda @ Jun 15 2006, 03:24 PM)

Well...it's official: 3ABN will no longer be carried by Sky Angel...
http://www.nadadventist.org/mondayfax

According to the Friday Fax from the North American Division:
3ABN has received the final word that they will not be back on the Sky Angel System. This is a good time to let your church members know that all is not lost. They can obtain a satellite dish package that includes 3ABN as well as many other Adventist channels that were not part of Sky Angel, with no monthly fees. This package includes the Hope Channel (Official Channel of the Church), Esperanza TV, 3ABN Latino, 3ABN English, ATN 1 and ATN/ACN 2 (Special Event Church Channels), LLBN (Loma Linda Broadcasting Network), LifeTalk Radio, 3ABN Radio, and Radio 74 International.
http://www.3abn.org/announcements.cfm
Sky Angel Update
NOTICE TO VIEWERS THAT WERE WATCHING 3ABN WITH SKY ANGEL SYSTEM ONLY. Since April 14th, 2006, the 3ABN viewers using Sky Angel subscription, lost the ability to watch 3ABN channel on their system. The reason for it was a sudden loss of one transponder of the satellite EchoStar III. This satellite transponder broadcasts 10 of the 33 channels that Sky Angel offers. A few days later, Sky Angel was able to get only seven channels back on the air. Unfortunately for us, they chose 3ABN to be one of the three channels that were not going to be re-instated on the satellite backup transponder. Since then, Sky Angel has been working with EchoStar to try to get the other three channels back on the satellite but last Friday, May 26, we received the final word from Sky Angel that their negotiations with EchoStar had finished without getting the satellite space for the other 3 channels. Therefore, it is a final decision that 3ABN will not be back on the Sky Angel System. Although it is beyond our control, we apologize for this inconvenience to our Sky Angel viewers. The Life Time subscription that some of you purchased, is still valid and you can continue to watch the other channels Sky Angel has to offer. If you want to continue watching 3ABN, the only offer we have at this time is our own satellite system that is sold for $199.00.

I do know that we had the satellite put into our home so we can have Hope TV, and besides the $199.00 for the system we paid a very good price for the installer to come to our home, paid for the installation and for the home delivery mileage that it cost for him to come to do the job. If a person has someone with the knowledge who will not charge for his services, or if he has the wisdom to do it himself, I guess he could save the additional charge. But under any circumstances, this system probably will only be purchased by Adventists--it will not go to all the people who are interested in all the other aspects of Sky Angel, which I find very interesting--all religions and much interesting programming. One might say that it is a satallite without spin. As far as I know, Sky Angel is the only way to get Safe TV which has very good Sabbath Programming and is a wonderful station I believe that God has his hand in Sky Angel Programming.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jun 16 2006, 02:20 PM

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jun 16 2006, 07:16 AM)

What that statement said to me was that since all the evidence that most people have access to is that which Danny and friends have been saying, and since Linda has been nearly invisible (leading many to assume that she is in hiding because of her guilt), then to have video seminar materials in which Linda is featured prominently in ministry, becomes evidence that Linda is not off somewhere doing the nefarious things she has been accused of, but is still devoted to ministry within the Adventist church.

And this makes an even greater statement than a personal appearance which she has herself scheduled, since Polly's Place is so closely linked with the "official" Adventist Conference structure.

If there are any first-time lurkers who missed looking in the BSDA Adventist Events section, here's the link to the Polly's Place event just mentioned for Sabbath, June 24, in Spokane, Washington:

http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?showtopic=9484

If you have friends in the Washington State area, they might wish to attend.

Linda Shelton can be reached through her Web site: http://www.lindashelton.org

Posted by: Fran Jun 16 2006, 02:31 PM

QUOTE(princessdi @ Jun 15 2006, 03:22 PM)

Ok, so, did I miss something? I know I haven't quite kept up, but is the consensus that Linda was abused. Just give me the Reader's Diegst version....Yes_____ NO_____

I think your Yes___ No____ option was quite appropriate given the fact that readers here and at CA have read enough to have clearly seen how and when she was abused. The answer is a resounding YES!

I praise God for having delivered her from the lions den. What happened to bring it on may have been necessary for HER to see Danny for "What" (Not Who) he is. She can now clearly see that she was sleeping with the enemy. She now can see his TRUE character! Surely WE have seen it by now.

With 100's of pages of information to read for proof, no one should be in the dark if they have read the information.

I likes the Yes___ No___ option. Very appropriate to my way of thinking. It has also crossed my mind that God let Linda experience the worst abuse possible so she could be able to relates to millions of others who have suffered abuse. I truly believe she is right where God wants her to be! She now has expert experience about abuse. It will change her and make her stronger.

Linda;

God bless you. Go with God every where He leads you. Every step you take will change lives of those being ministered to. You GO girl.

Posted by: gracetoyou Jun 16 2006, 04:24 PM

QUOTE(Fran @ Jun 16 2006, 03:31 PM)

I likes the Yes____ No____ option. Very appropriate to my way of thinking. It has also crossed my mind that God let Linda experience the worst abuse possible so she could be able to relates to millions of others who have suffered abuse. I truly believe she is right where God wants her to be! She now has expert experience about abuse. It will change her and make her stronger.

Fran, your comments made me think that Linda's experience is similar to Joseph's experience in the dungeon after he had been falsely accused of immorality:

"But Joseph's real character shines out, even in the darkness of the dungeon. He held fast his faith and patience; his years of faithful service had been most cruelly repaid, yet this did not render him morose or distrustful. He had the peace that comes from conscious innocence, and he trusted his case with God.

He did not brood upon his own wrongs, but forgot his sorrow in trying to lighten the sorrows of others. He found a work to do, even in the prison. God was preparing him in the school of affliction for greater usefulness, and he did not refuse the needful discipline

In the prison, witnessing the results of oppression and tyranny and the effects of crime, he learned lessons of justice, sympathy, and mercy, that prepared him to exercise power with wisdom and compassion." Patriarchs and Prophets, p. 218

It is likely that God is preparing Linda for a great work in ministering to thousands of people, and her traumatic experiences will serve to give her credibility, insight and compassion.

Posted by: lurker Jun 16 2006, 08:49 PM

'gracetoyou' said
Fran, your comments made me think that Linda's experience is similar to Joseph's experience in the dungeon after he had been falsely accused of immorality:

"But Joseph's real character shines out, even in the darkness of the dungeon. He held fast his faith and patience; his years of faithful service had been most cruelly repaid, yet this did not render him morose or distrustful. He had the peace that comes from conscious innocence, and he trusted his case with God.

He did not brood upon his own wrongs, but forgot his sorrow in trying to lighten the sorrows of others. He found a work to do, even in the prison. God was preparing him in the school of affliction for greater usefulness, and he did not refuse the needful discipline

In the prison, witnessing the results of oppression and tyranny and the effects of crime, he learned lessons of justice, sympathy, and mercy, that prepared him to exercise power with wisdom and compassion." Patriarchs and Prophets, p. 218

It is likely that God is preparing Linda for a great work in ministering to thousands of people, and her traumatic experiences will serve to give her credibility, insight and compassion.

http://tsa.thischurch.org/mod/gallery/view-photo.php?sort=&photo_id=86
http://tsa.thischurch.org/mod/gallery/view-photo.php?photo_id=87&sort=
http://tsa.thischurch.org/mod/gallery/view-photo.php?photo_id=88&sort=
http://tsa.thischurch.org/mod/gallery/view-photo.php?photo_id=89&sort=

Posted by: princessdi Jun 16 2006, 09:01 PM

Reader's Digest does or used to give the short vsersion of books. That used to be a term used to say give me the short answer.

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jun 16 2006, 06:02 AM)

Now I'm confused. You ask for the "Reader's Digest Version", but then give a "check the correct answer" form.

The short "yes/no" answer is "Yes".

The "Reader's Digest Version" would be a tear-jerking review of the more striking examples of that abuse.

The weakness with the "Yes/no?" option is that it gives no indication as to how one should define abuse in this environment.

The weakness with the "Reader's Digest Version" would, in all probablility, be that while abuse might be clearly defined by the examples, it would focus on the grosser and more visible forms of abuse and quite possibly entirely ignore an analysis of those forms of abuse which injure, or even cripple, the psyche, but which may have more insiduous effects on those so abused than either physical or outright psychological harassment.

Posted by: Fran Jun 17 2006, 01:34 AM

QUOTE(lurker @ Jun 16 2006, 08:49 PM)

'gracetoyou' said
Fran, your comments made me think that Linda's experience is similar to Joseph's experience in the dungeon after he had been falsely accused of immorality:

"But Joseph's real character shines out, even in the darkness of the dungeon. He held fast his faith and patience; his years of faithful service had been most cruelly repaid, yet this did not render him morose or distrustful. He had the peace that comes from conscious innocence, and he trusted his case with God.

He did not brood upon his own wrongs, but forgot his sorrow in trying to lighten the sorrows of others. He found a work to do, even in the prison. God was preparing him in the school of affliction for greater usefulness, and he did not refuse the needful discipline

In the prison, witnessing the results of oppression and tyranny and the effects of crime, he learned lessons of justice, sympathy, and mercy, that prepared him to exercise power with wisdom and compassion." Patriarchs and Prophets, p. 218

It is likely that God is preparing Linda for a great work in ministering to thousands of people, and her traumatic experiences will serve to give her credibility, insight and compassion.
http://tsa.thischurch.org/mod/gallery/view-photo.php?sort=&photo_id=86
http://tsa.thischurch.org/mod/gallery/view-photo.php?photo_id=87&sort=
http://tsa.thischurch.org/mod/gallery/view-photo.php?photo_id=88&sort=
http://tsa.thischurch.org/mod/gallery/view-photo.php?photo_id=89&sort=

.urker!

'hank you for posting those pics! I needed to see those. Those pics reassured my faith that Linda was)K! All of them filled my heart with Joy. I wish I could be there! Guess that will have to wait until we each the promised land.

'hank you again!

.inda!

'ou light up my life.

Posted by: princessdi Jun 17 2006, 01:43 PM

It's the Bear!!!! I had never seen Linda before.....she has a kind face.....I am glad Danny thinks he traded up.....younger does not always mean better.....BTJM

QUOTE(lurker @ Jun 16 2006, 06:49 PM)

'gracetoyou' said
Fran, your comments made me think that Linda's experience is similar to Joseph's experience in the dungeon after he had been falsely accused of immorality:

"But Joseph's real character shines out, even in the darkness of the dungeon. He held fast his faith and patience; his years of faithful service had been most cruelly repaid, yet this did not render him morose or distrustful. He had the peace that comes from conscious innocence, and he trusted his case with God.

He did not brood upon his own wrongs, but forgot his sorrow in trying to lighten the sorrows of others. He found a work to do, even in the prison. God was preparing him in the school of affliction for greater usefulness, and he did not refuse the needful discipline

In the prison, witnessing the results of oppression and tyranny and the effects of crime, he learned lessons of justice, sympathy, and mercy, that prepared him to exercise power with wisdom and compassion." Patriarchs and Prophets, p. 218

It is likely that God is preparing Linda for a great work in ministering to thousands of people, and her traumatic experiences will serve to give her credibility, insight and compassion.
http://tsa.thischurch.org/mod/gallery/view-photo.php?sort=&photo_id=86

http://tsa.thischurch.org/mod/gallery/view-photo.php?photo_id=87&sort=
http://tsa.thischurch.org/mod/gallery/view-photo.php?photo_id=88&sort=
http://tsa.thischurch.org/mod/gallery/view-photo.php?photo_id=89&sort=

Posted by: summertime Jun 17 2006, 02:58 PM

QUOTE(princessdi @ Jun 17 2006, 02:43 PM)

It's the Bear!!!! I had never seen Linda before.....she has a kind face.....I am glad Danny thinks he traded up.....younger does not always mean better.....BTJM urker (whoever you are) I have wept upon seeing Linda's face again after all this time. Thank you so nuch for providing these pictures of Linda, Darrell and Melissa. I have missed seeing her on 3ABN at 3:00 AM in the mornings. Seeing her look so well is like a breath of fresh air. I wish that I could have een there. Although I have never seen her in person, I think that we all feel like we know her and elieve in her. Thank You Again. And Beartrap, we all believe in your goodness and honesty in upporting Linda and her work. summertime

---

Posted by: Johann Jun 17 2006, 03:22 PM

QUOTE(gracetoyou @ Jun 16 2006, 11:24 PM)

- - -

"But Joseph's real character shines out, even in the darkness of the dungeon. He held fast his faith and patience; his years of faithful service had been most cruelly repaid, yet this did not render him morose or distrustful. He had the peace that comes from conscious innocence, and he trusted his case with God.

- - - -

Iany years ago, when Linda was still fighting her bashfulness, she had a dream one night. The next lay she told Danny her dream, just like Joseph had done. It seemed to her that some day she would ecome even more popular on TV than Danny was.

Danny did not like that dream, so he assured her that day would never come. Was that dream his ightmare?

Posted by: Fran Jun 18 2006, 12:14 AM

QUOTE(Johann @ Jun 17 2006, 03:22 PM)

> Many years ago, when Linda was still fighting her bashfulness, she had a dream one night. The next day she told Danny her dream, just like Joseph had done. It seemed to her that some day she would become even more popular on TV than Danny was.
>
> Danny did not like that dream, so he assured her that day would never come. Was that dream his nightmare?

I believe her dream came true before Danny tossed her out. The call center was receiving more calls about Linda than Danny. She was/is much better than Danny. In my opinion, he is rather disgusting. He has proved, at least to me, that he has no conscience! He isn't even ashamed or ruffled by what he has done. It is like he is on a "god" (small G) mission to climb his ladder as far as possible. Too bad if you get in the path.

I now worry about Brandy. I believe she pulled out her ace in the hole, and won the "battle", but she has never fought a "war" with the king of destruction. She is headed for hers since she forced Danny's hand. HE WILL give her, her just dues. It will be worse than Linda saw. I believe that because, "Power corrupts and Absolute Power, corrupts absolutely" .

He gives messages about his own sins but never even bat an eye. He feels he is above reproach. Oops! Great will be his fall.

Posted by: summertime Jun 18 2006, 05:46 AM

> QUOTE(Fran @ Jun 18 2006, 01:14 AM)
>
> I believe her dream came true before Danny tossed her out. The call center was receiving more calls about Linda than Danny. She was/is much better than Danny. In my opinion, he is rather disgusting. He has proved, at least to me, that he has no conscience! He isn't even ashamed or ruffled by what he has done. It is like he is on a "god" (small G) mission to climb his ladder as far as possible. Too bad if you get in the path.
>
> I now worry about Brandy. I believe she pulled out her ace in the hole, and won the "battle", but she has never fought a "war" with the king of destruction. She is headed for hers since she forced Danny's hand. HE WILL give her, her just dues. It will be worse than Linda saw. I believe that because, "Power corrupts and Absolute Power, corrupts absolutely" .
>
> He gives messages about his own sins but never even bat an eye. He feels he is above reproach. Oops! Great will be his fall.

Fran, in what way did Brandy force Danny's hand?

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jun 18 2006, 11:08 AM

QUOTE(summertime @ Jun 18 2006, 06:46 AM)

Fran, in what way did Brandy force Danny's hand?

I was reading this article about Prince Albert of Monaco. I thought it was interesting because, Albert, too, is 20 years older than the bride to be. She is 28 and he is 48. Statistically, I didn't realize there were so many Spring - Autumn marriages out there, where one partner is 20 or more years older than the other. Do these Spring - Autumn relationships last as long as when the partners are closer together in age? The Charles and Diana marriage, one of the more famous ones, didn't work.

I understand Brandy is about 34 and Danny about 54?

http://www.upi.com/NewsTrack/view.php?StoryID=20060618-111712-3044r

Monaco awaits Grimaldi wedding bells

MONACO, Monaco, June 18 (UPI) --

The palace has so far refused to confirm or deny rumors swirling around the 48-year-old Grimaldi and the 28-year-old former breaststroke champion, the newspaper said.

The prince has been linked to more than 100 women through the years and only recently recognized his two illegitimate children, a 2-year-old Togolese son and 14-year-old U.S. daughter, the Times noted.

Monaco's constitution does not allow children born out of wedlock to sit on the throne, so it is important that Albert settle down and carry on the family name, The Times said.

Posted by: Fran Jun 18 2006, 11:55 AM

QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jun 18 2006, 12:08 PM)

I was reading this article about Prince Albert of Monoco. I thought it was interesting because, Albert, too, is 20 years older than the bride to be. She is 28 and he is 48. Statistically, I didn't realize there were so many Spring - Autumn marriages out there, where one partner is 20 or more years older than the other. Do these Spring - Autumn relationships last as long as when the partners are closer together in age? The Charles and Diana marriage, one of the more famous ones, didn't work.

I understand Brandy is about 34 and Danny about 54?

http://www.upi.com/NewsTrack/view.php?StoryID=20060618-111712-3044r

Monaco awaits Grimaldi wedding bells

MONACO, Monaco, June 18 (UPI) --

The palace has so far refused to confirm or deny rumors swirling around the 48-year-old Grimaldi and the 28-year-old former breaststroke champion, the newspaper said.

The prince has been linked to more than 100 women through the years and only recently recognized his two illegitimate children, a 2-year-old Togolese son and 14-year-old U.S. daughter, the Times noted.

Monaco's constitution does not allow children born out of wedlock to sit on the throne, so it is important that Albert settle down and carry on the family name, The Times said.

'anama Pete;

\re you sure this dudes name is Grimaldi? Isn't his real name Shelton? The information sound's a lot ike Danny's activities. I think Monaco will insist on DNA tests on those 2 children. Surely the DNA ests have all ready been done by either Brandy or Danny. I suppose that could be called an "Ace in he hole".

Posted by: watchbird Jun 19 2006, 06:37 AM

QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jun 18 2006, 11:08 AM)

I was reading this article about Prince Albert of Monaco. I thought it was interesting because, Albert, too, is 20 years older than the bride to be. She is 28 and he is 48. Statistically, I didn't realize there were so many Spring - Autumn marriages out there, where one partner is 20 or more years older than the other. Do these Spring - Autumn relationships last as long as when the partners are closer together in age? The Charles and Diana marriage, one of the more famous ones, didn't work.

I understand Brandy is about 34 and Danny about 54?

[. . .]

Monaco's constitution does not allow children born out of wedlock to sit on the throne, so it is important that Albert settle down and carry on the family name, The Times said.

Hi Panama Pete, it seems to me you have juxtapositioned several different things, some moral, ;ome cultural, some legal, some practical.

.et's take them one at a time.

.egal first:

'he government of Monaco has a law that the hereditary throne can only be passed to a child who is)orn of legally married parents. Practicality steps in with the fact that a woman the same age as Albert vould not be the best qualified physically to bear a normal child. (The rate of birth defects rises ;harply starting around 40 years of age.) Hence the requirement for marriage and the choice of a ′ounger woman as wife may or may not have anything to do with morality or love or companionship.

\s for "Spring - Autumn" marriages.

'here was a time when the culture expected a woman to marry, bear children for 10 to 12 years and lie. They might end up with 10 or 12 live children, or they might end up with only one or two, but the ılmost continuous pregnancies took their toll and a large proportion of them died very early. When the vidower looked for a new wife, she would most likely be another woman of childbearing age. And each ime the cycle was repeated the age gap between man and wife increased.

As to partnership in marriage.

That is a relatively new concept. At the time Ellen White wrote, for example, few men thought of their wives as any kind of "partner" or thought in terms of "companionship". The idea that women were people was quite foreign to the men of the time, and men looked for women on the basis of what kind of possession they wanted--which could be anything from a gracious hostess able to manage the domestic servants to one who was essentially a "domestic servant" and who would bear him many sons.

With the freedom of women to be persons in their own right, the concept of equal partners gradually became accepted, though if one looks at a list of types of spouse abuse, it is apparent that "equal partners" is still not fully accepted, and with many is not even an ideal.

Joining the question of age difference with that of the concept of marriage as partnership.

It would seem that age difference is one of the less significant indicators of whether or not a couple will find true happiness, fidelity, and satisfaction in their marriage. I think of four specific examples where men in their late 60's married women much younger than themselves. One married the nurse who had cared for the man's wife through her final years of weakness and failing health, and she well knew that her task would be to do the same for the husband. Another was similar. In another, the man was younger and in robust health and they had so many happy years together before the age differential showed up seriously, that one tended to forget both the age difference and the fact that she had not been the "wife of his youth". Still another was the famous "China Doctor", Harry Miller, who was well into his 60's when his wife died and he returned briefly to the United States. He met and asked a 25 year old school teacher to be his wife. Everyone thought she was nutz. But Miller lived another 30 years plus, and their marriage lasted until "death did them part". The thing that all of these examples have in common is some very basic morality, integrity, fidelity, and honesty. And with all of them it was apparent that they had quality marriages based on the principle of marriage as partnership.

But there is another class which is entirely different.

Gail Sheehy, in her book, Passages, describes these. According to her study, men normally go through "passages" of life--those critical times when they are faced with decisions which have the potentiality to affect their whole future life. It has been a long time since I read it, but the part that has stuck with me described men who, when they came to these times of "passage" made decisions based on self-centered interest which were evident in their ditching (or being unfaithful to) their present spouse and taking up with another. What she noted was that when a man reacted to these times by choosing a wife or lover significantly younger than himself, that at each "passage" he would tend to choose those of greater difference in age than the previous ones. And you can figure for yourself where that ends up.

But back to Danny, where this all started.

It doesn't take a "rocket scientist" to figure out which of the above scenarios apply.

The problem is not the age differential. That may be what attracts our attention. But that is not the problem. That is only a symptom of the problem. And only one symptom among many. Let's not get distracted from the real problems.

Posted by: Denny Jun 19 2006, 07:04 AM

QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jun 18 2006, 06:08 PM)

I was reading this article about Prince Albert of Monaco. I thought it was interesting because,

Albert, too, is 20 years older than the bride to be. She is 28 and he is 48. Statistically, I didn't realize there were so many Spring - Autumn marriages out there, where one partner is 20 or more years older than the other. Do these Spring - Autumn relationships last as long as when the partners are closer together in age? The Charles and Diana marriage, one of the more famous ones, didn't work.

I understand Brandy is about 34 and Danny about 54?

http://www.upi.com/NewsTrack/view.php?StoryID=20060618-111712-3044r

Monaco awaits Grimaldi wedding bells

MONACO, Monaco, June 18 (UPI) --

The palace has so far refused to confirm or deny rumors swirling around the 48-year-old Grimaldi and the 28-year-old former breaststroke champion, the newspaper said.

The prince has been linked to more than 100 women through the years and only recently recognized his two illegitimate children, a 2-year-old Togolese son and 14-year-old U.S. daughter, the Times noted.

Monaco's constitution does not allow children born out of wedlock to sit on the throne, so it is important that Albert settle down and carry on the family name, The Times said.

Charles was not 20 years older than Diana, (he was born in Nov 1948, she July 1961). She was a young age just turned 20, he was 32. Their problem was not mainy a wide age gap but that the groom married cos he was under pressure, he needed a virgin bride & to produce heirs, plus he had a mistress, and the bride married for love but did not know the real score until it was too late. And we all know how things turned out. So even if she was the same age as himself their motives were different.

Posted by: vonessa Jun 19 2006, 09:07 AM

QUOTE(Fran @ Jun 18 2006, 01:14 AM)

I now worry about Brandy. I believe she pulled out her ace in the hole, and won the "battle", but she has never fought a "war" with the king of destruction. She is headed for hers since she forced Danny's hand. HE WILL give her, her just dues. It will be worse than Linda saw. I believe that because, "Power corrupts and Absolute Power, corrupts absolutely" .

Will Danny pull out his worst tricks from his bag o' tricks and do something against Brandy to destroy her both body and soul? Did she blackmail him?

Without God these truths to be revealed to people like Sister and Fran, we would not know what happened, and so he has not withheld any good thing. The good people like Johann and Linda show good and the bad people show us how bad Satan and Danny is. It is like we are living in a Bible story. We should pray that we not fall and should use this story to warn us. Absolute corruption like Fran says has led to unspeakable acts that are so bad she cannot even tell us about them here. It is that bad.

But I trust sister and Fran and even though they are not prophets or what have you, they have received a word on this issue. I can feel it and they are sisters in our Lord. That does not mean everybody has come to the point whereby they might be believed. But I do believe and their words are sealed upon my mind.

Posted by: Chez Jun 19 2006, 02:49 PM

QUOTE(lurker @ Jun 16 2006, 08:49 PM)

'gracetoyou' said
Fran, your comments made me think that Linda's experience is similar to Joseph's experience in the dungeon after he had been falsely accused of immorality:

"But Joseph's real character shines out, even in the darkness of the dungeon. He held fast his faith and patience; his years of faithful service had been most cruelly repaid, yet this did not render him morose or distrustful. He had the peace that comes from conscious innocence, and he trusted his case with God.

He did not brood upon his own wrongs, but forgot his sorrow in trying to lighten the sorrows of others. He found a work to do, even in the prison. God was preparing him in the school of affliction for greater usefulness, and he did not refuse the needful discipline

In the prison, witnessing the results of oppression and tyranny and the effects of crime, he learned lessons of justice, sympathy, and mercy, that prepared him to exercise power with wisdom and compassion." Patriarchs and Prophets, p. 218

It is likely that God is preparing Linda for a great work in ministering to thousands of people, and her traumatic experiences will serve to give her credibility, insight and compassion.
http://tsa.thischurch.org/mod/gallery/view-photo.php?sort=&photo_id=86
http://tsa.thischurch.org/mod/gallery/view-photo.php?photo_id=87&sort=
http://tsa.thischurch.org/mod/gallery/view-photo.php?photo_id=88&sort=
http://tsa.thischurch.org/mod/gallery/view-photo.php?photo_id=89&sort=

Lurker,
I've been away for a few days. However, I want to thank you for the pictures of Linda. She looks great! May God continue to richly bless her.

Posted by: lurker Jun 19 2006, 03:15 PM

QUOTE(Chez @ Jun 19 2006, 03:49 PM)

Lurker,
I've been away for a few days. However, I want to thank you for the pictures of Linda. She looks great! May God continue to richly bless her.

And my thanks to the person who originally took the pictures. I also have been blessed by them.

Posted by: HUGGINS130 Jun 19 2006, 11:01 PM

guess it's time to come off lurk mode!!! sna sofa1.gif

Posted by: watchbird Jun 20 2006, 07:42 AM

QUOTE(HUGGINS130 @ Jun 19 2006, 11:01 PM)

guess it's time to come off lurk mode!!! sna sofa1.gif

welc

I've been waiting all night for "the other shoe to drop". What does "come off lurk mode" mean in this context.

Posted by: awesumtenor Jun 20 2006, 08:21 AM

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jun 20 2006, 08:42 AM)

welc

I've been waiting all night for "the other shoe to drop". What does "come off lurk mode" mean in this context.

My guess would be selling woof tickets, to use the urban vernacular (it's somewhat dated but still applies)... stirring the pot... generally for one's entertainment at the expense of others... but generally not for the purposes of adding something relevant or beneficial... that's not to say something relevant or beneficial cant ultimately come out of it tho...

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: Fran Jun 20 2006, 12:33 PM

QUOTE(HUGGINS130 @ Jun 19 2006, 11:01 PM)

guess it's time to come off lurk mode!!! sna sofa1.gif

f you are really off the "Lurk Mode" go to:

ıttp://clubadventist.com/adventist/postlist.php?Cat=0&Board=threeabn

'here is a thread that had 21,804 Views a minute or so ago. I requested to have it bumped to the top ;o everyone can read a thread that is full of documented events. Do a time line. It takes time, but is vell worth what it reveals.

'retend with me for a minute or two.

am an accountant. (That part is true) I just got the position as the CFO of TBN. I handle the trust unds. I notice quickly that something is wrong. The holder of trust died. I found out about their death ›urely by accident. I got curious about how much they left to TBN. I go to the file and find this dead ›erson is still receiving annuity payments! Someone had changed the address/account number of the ›erson. Someone out there was receiving monthly payment in lieu of the dead person. It was as if this ›erson had never died.

\fter much research I find this person is not the only one that was dead that was still receiving the nonthly payments. Then I find that there is a trend. I checked to see just how many dead people vere still receiving monthly annuities. WOW.

began to follow the money trail and was shocked beyond measure to find the money ended up in nany places, but then went to one account. Yep, that rascal was receiving all those annuities! In the nillions! What should I do? The End of pretend.

\nother thing to keep in mind is that in 2001 3ABN did not report/post $ 2.45 + MILLION dollars and n 2002 the failed to report/post $ 1.7 + MILLION Dollars. Were those people involved with those ımounts dead? Beats me? (FACTS from 3ABN's 2001 & 2002 IRS Form 990, the Non-Profit Tax ℜeturn) also noticed that Danny has hired a fellow in CA to handle their trusts now. I guess that is what one loes when they are caught with their pants down in more ways than one???

\gain, my apologies to those having trust funds with 3ABN. Especially the 2 ladies from Dallas that ıppeared on 3ABN a couple of weeks ago pushing the world to join them by putting their trust, and heir wills, and their money, and what ever they have in their sweet little hands, into Danny's hands.

3ack to the real world. I don't work for TBN or 3ABN! I just wanted to give you something to think ıbout before you hit the Lurk mode again.

Posted by: sister Jun 20 2006, 12:54 PM

QUOTE(Fran @ Jun 20 2006, 01:33 PM)

If you are really off the "Lurk Mode" go to:

http://clubadventist.com/adventist/postlist.php?Cat=0&Board=threeabn

> There is a thread that had 21,804 Views a minute or so ago. I requested to have it bumped to the top so everyone can read a thread that is full of documented events. Do a time line. It takes time, but is well worth what it reveals.

Jnfortunately, the url you listed must only be available to members of CA. I clicked on it and received he reply: Access Denied. I think that excludes most of us here. Perhaps you would like to share some of the information yourself, for those of us unable to access the 3ABN private threads on CA?

Posted by: sonshineonme Jun 20 2006, 01:24 PM

> QUOTE(sister @ Jun 20 2006, 11:54 AM)
>
> Unfortunately, the url you listed must only be available to members of CA. I clicked on it and received the reply: Access Denied. I think that excludes most of us here. Perhaps you would like to share some of the information yourself, for those of us unable to access the 3ABN private threads on CA?

am a member over there, and I can not find this, and it also looks like they want money to belong here? I went to click on "3abn topics" and my access is denied. I am logged in there and can't read about this. Why?

Posted by: watchbird Jun 20 2006, 01:27 PM

> QUOTE(sister @ Jun 20 2006, 12:54 PM)
>
> Unfortunately, the url you listed must only be available to members of CA. I clicked on it and received the reply: Access Denied. I think that excludes most of us here. Perhaps you would like to share some of the information yourself, for those of us unable to access the 3ABN private threads on CA?

The Forum "3ABN TOPICS" which contains the thread that Fran is doubtless talking about, has not only been put off limits for all but members--but even some long time members who have accessed it regularly since the beginning have had their access cut off. It seems that to read these topics one has to not only be a member, but be one that pays their monthly payments, and also one that has special permission to access that whole forum. For all others, the name of the Forum does not even appear on the menu. It is as though it did not exist.

I suggest that Fran either start a thread here into which she would put all these old historical posts from CA or add these CA posts to the one that Clay bumped to the top some weeks ago that started out with historical documents. If this is a larger task than what Fran wants to tackle at this time, perhaps there are others on BSDA who have access and could work with her to get things moved.

I agree they need to be put in a public place where all who are interested can see them. And CA is no longer that place.

Posted by: watchbird Jun 20 2006, 01:41 PM

QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jun 20 2006, 01:24 PM)

I am a member over there, and I can not find this, and it also looks like they want money to belong there? I went to click on "3abn topics" and my access is denied. I am logged in there and can't read about this. Why?

I don' t know if it is the money or that one must have special access. I do know that Stan is making a big push for money. I am still a member and I still receive his weekly "This week on CA" emails. This is usually 4-5 urls with short "teasers" about them. However, the last paragraph on the last one began "FOR THOSE OF YOU who are not able to access all the forums that we provide links for, please consider taking out a subscription to Clubadventist. . . ." So it is not just the 3ABN TOPICS Forum that is closed to all except dues paying members, it looks as though Stan has moved from his "open reading for all, with posting reserved for dues paying members" policy, to a policy that does not even allowing reading unless one is a dues paying member.

I hope BSDA doesn't mind being integrated. For I suspect that Stan's new policies are going to substantially increase the membership of BSDA.

Posted by: awesumtenor Jun 20 2006, 01:48 PM

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jun 20 2006, 02:41 PM)

I don' t know if it is the money or that one must have special access. I do know that Stan is making a big push for money. I am still a member and I still receive his weekly "This week on CA" emails. This is usually 4-5 urls with short "teasers" about them. However, the last paragraph on the last one began "FOR THOSE OF YOU who are not able to access all the forums that we provide links for, please consider taking out a subscription to Clubadventist. . . ." So it is not just the 3ABN TOPICS Forum that is closed to all except dues paying members, it looks as though Stan has moved from his "open reading for all, with posting reserved for dues paying members" policy, to a policy that does not even allowing reading unless one is a dues paying member.

I hope BSDA doesn't mind being integrated. For I suspect that Stan's new policies are going to substantially increase the membership of BSDA.

We don't mind; it has long been the policy that one needed to be neither black nor SDA to be a member here... the forum name notwithstanding

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: sonshineonme Jun 20 2006, 01:51 PM

QUOTE(awesumtenor @ Jun 20 2006, 12:48 PM)

We don't mind; it has long been the policy that one needed to be neither black nor SDA to be a member here... the forum name notwithstanding

In His service,
Mr. J

'hat is great to hear, especially since I really love it (over) here anyway...I like the people

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jun 20 2006, 12:41 PM)

I don' t know if it is the money or that one must have special access. I do know that Stan is making a big push for money. I am still a member and I still receive his weekly "This week on CA" emails. This is usually 4-5 urls with short "teasers" about them. However, the last paragraph on the last one began "FOR THOSE OF YOU who are not able to access all the forums that we provide links for, please consider taking out a subscription to Clubadventist. . . ." So it is not just the 3ABN TOPICS Forum that is closed to all except dues paying members, it looks as though Stan has moved from his "open reading for all, with posting reserved for dues paying members" policy, to a policy that does not even allowing reading unless one is a dues paying member.

I hope BSDA doesn't mind being integrated. For I suspect that Stan's new policies are going to substantially increase the membership of BSDA.

get those emails too, but I have never clicked on any of the links....when I have time I go over here, and every time I have, I've become frustrated. BSDA is more like heaven to me anyway....

Posted by: Clay Jun 20 2006, 01:55 PM

QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jun 20 2006, 02:51 PM)

That is great to hear, especially since I really love it (over) here anyway...I like the people
I get those emails too, but I have never clicked on any of the links....when I have time I go over there, and every time I have, I've become frustrated. BSDA is more like heaven to me anyway....

ınd we like you too.... we are open to all, usually... there have been those who have come and ıttempted to just convert without dialogue.... we don't take to kindly to that and they soon leave.... ıut as you can see, we enjoy the fellowship, and banter....

Posted by: statrei Jun 20 2006, 01:58 PM

QUOTE(awesumtenor @ Jun 20 2006, 03:48 PM)

We don't mind; it has long been the policy that one needed to be neither black nor SDA to be a member here... the forum name notwithstanding

In His service,
Mr. J

This reminds me of a sermon I preached at First Church in Tallahassee, FL. My chosen title was "Are You Black Enough?" They settled down as I preached from Amos 4:11 "I have overthrown some of you, as God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah, and ye were as a firebrand plucked out of the burning: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the LORD." If you are on fire then you are black enough for BSDA.

Posted by: sonshineonme Jun 20 2006, 02:00 PM

QUOTE(statrei @ Jun 20 2006, 12:58 PM)

This reminds me of a sermon I preached at First Church in Tallahassee, FL. My chosen title was "Are You Black Enough?" They settled down as I preached from Amos 4:11 "I have overthrown some of you, as God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah, and ye were as a firebrand plucked out of the burning: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the LORD." If you are on fire then you are black enough for BSDA.

Then I qualify, I'm pretty black....just don't want to burn

Posted by: PaperTigers Jun 20 2006, 02:01 PM

QUOTE(awesumtenor @ Jun 20 2006, 03:48 PM)

We don't mind; it has long been the policy that one needed to be neither black nor SDA to be a member here... the forum name notwithstanding

In His service,
Mr. J

I am also glad that to hear this I greatly enjoy this forum ... a lot better than CA.

Posted by: sister Jun 20 2006, 03:24 PM

QUOTE(PaperTigers @ Jun 20 2006, 03:01 PM)

I am also glad that to hear this I greatly enjoy this forum ... a lot better than CA.

I agree also. I really appreciate Calvin's way of handling BSDA. He has given us a community with the freedom to disagree, without being disagreeable. Thank you "Boss"! At BSDA we can talk together like family and make new and interesting friends. tableta

Posted by: Observer Jun 20 2006, 04:24 PM

QUOTE(sister @ Jun 20 2006, 12:54 PM)

Unfortunately, the url you listed must only be available to members of CA. I clicked on it and received the reply: Access Denied. I think that excludes most of us here. Perhaps you would like to share some of the information yourself, for those of us unable to access the 3ABN private threads on CA?

During the time that the 3ABN thread has existed in Club Adventist, several people have fought very hard to close it. At least twice it came closed to being closed. The last time, the CA administration compromised. Instead of closing it, people are now required to be paying members inorder to view it.

People who are not paying members do not know that the 3ABN thread exists.

Posted by: watchbird Jun 20 2006, 05:07 PM

QUOTE(Observer @ Jun 20 2006, 04:24 PM)

During the time that the 3ABN thread has existed in Club Adventist, several people have fought very hard to close it. At least twice it came closed to being closed. The last time, the CA administration compromised. Instead of closing it, people are now required to be paying members inorder to view it.

People who are not paying members do not know that the 3ABN thread exists.

This of course, was not a "compromise". It was a technique for closing.

Now the question remains: Does anyone here still have access to the threads so they can bring the most valuable of the posts over here? For there was a LOT of documented material in those early posts. Some of it is already here also, but I think there is a lot that is not.

Posted by: sonshineonme Jun 20 2006, 08:40 PM

QUOTE(Observer @ Jun 20 2006, 03:24 PM)

During the time that the 3ABN thread has existed in Club Adventist, several people have fought very hard to close it. At least twice it came closed to being closed. The last time, the CA administration compromised. Instead of closing it, people are now required to be paying members inorder to view it.

People who are not paying members do not know that the 3ABN thread exists.

wrote to Stan and asked him WHY I can not access certain threads, this is his reply to me:

'There are few private forums such as people going through a divorce that are supporting each other, ı mens forum just for men a womens forum just for women etc. None of them are really active right ıow, they go in spurts.

'his is a user supported forum when it comes to expenses. We had to get our own server and have ›ther expenses needed to run a forum. We also found that charging a token fee every month got rid of nost of the 'drive by shooters' and other cyber-bullies who go crazy hiding being a keyboard.

'hanks for asking

Stan Jensen"
wrote him back and asked why he didn't mention that the 3abn threads (all except a couple very ›enign ones) were not available.

His reply just came, this is what he said regarding that:

'there are 100+ forums do not really keep track of them... i suspect all the paying members can see ınything 3abn.. there is a 30 day free trial...
f there are some hidden 3abn that you are aware of please let me know, it could be one of the other ıdmin team did something with them.

Stan"

Hmmm.....

Posted by: summertime Jun 20 2006, 09:27 PM

QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jun 20 2006, 08:40 PM)

I wrote to Stan and asked him WHY I can not access certain threads, this is his reply to me:

"There are few private forums such as people going through a divorce that are supporting each other, a mens forum just for men a womens forum just for women etc. None of them are really active right now, they go in spurts.
This is a user supported forum when it comes to expenses. We had to get our own server and have other expenses needed to run a forum. We also found that charging a token fee every month got rid of most of the 'drive by shooters' and other cyber-bullies who go crazy hiding being a keyboard.
Thanks for asking
Stan Jensen"
I wrote him back and asked why he didn't mention that the 3abn threads (all except a couple very benign ones) were not available.

His reply just came, this is what he said regarding that:

"there are 100+ forums do not really keep track of them... i suspect all the paying members can see anything 3abn.. there is a 30 day free trial...

If there are some hidden 3abn that you are aware of please let me know, it could be one of the other admin team did something with them.
Stan"
Hmmm.....

May, 2005

Dear Family of God,

Someone once said "God always gives His best to those who leave the choice to Him." I've been on the mountain top with Jesus, and I've been in the deepest of valleys with Jesus too, and I still find that no matter what, no matter where God gives me His best. In the mountains of success we sense the abundance of His blessings. Yet in the deepest valley we hear His voice and feel His touch. No wonder God says, "In everything give thanks." Another blessing that comes with the valley experience is we discover who our genuine friends are. For a season I faced my trials alone, but thank God for the internet! I've discovered, sensed and experienced the love of friends and family from around the world. Friends who previously loved me from a distance suddenly have come forward to make their love known. Prayer warriors who silently prayed in the closet for years suddenly have appeared. I cannot THANK YOU enough! Your emails are more than just emails, they are manifested gems of love and friendship! You are a blessing to me and your thoughtfulness is so much appreciated!!

I am starting this letter on a beautiful Sabbath afternoon. The sun is shining, the flowers are blooming and the air is so fresh! I was so inspired with the church service this morning. By the way, God has placed me in such a wonderful, genuinely caring SDA church. It's located in Springfield, Illinois which is just the place for me right now. (They have been putting me to work...and I love it!) But today was the day for the communion service. The Pastor read the words, "...the Lord Jesus the same night in which He was betrayed..." (1 Corinthians 11:23) The Webster's says to betray means "to reveal disloyalty, to expose treacherously, to fail to uphold, to deceive..." How could it be that the sinless Jesus was betrayed?...and surprisingly it was by His closest friends, as well as the rest of the world? In Luke 22:14 the story goes like this, "Jesus said, "I have been very eager to eat this Passover meal with you before My suffering begins. For I tell you now that I won't eat this meal again until its meaning is fulfilled in the Kingdom of God." So right here Jesus alerts us that there is a special message hidden in what took place in the upper room.

Then Jesus took bread, symbolic of His body, and He broke it and gave it to His disciples. Then He took wine, symbolic of His life-blood, and he also shared it with His friends. Then Jesus made a shocking announcement. He said, "But here at this table, sitting among us as a friend, is the man who will betray Me." (Luke 22:21) The disciples were visibly dismayed over this news and they immediately started to ask one another "Who is it?" Their questions then proceeded into a discussion of who among the disciples was "the greatest" among them. Jesus gently told them that the greatest of all is a servant. Then Jesus turned to Peter and said "Simon, Simon, Satan has asked to sift each of you like wheat. But I have pleaded in prayer for you, Simon, that your faith should not fail. So when you have repented and turned to Me again, strengthen your brothers. Peter said, "Lord I am ready to go to prison with You, and even to die with You. But Jesus said, "Peter, let Me tell you something, before the rooster crows tomorrow morning you will deny three times that you even know Me." (Luke 22:31-34)

Now! There is so much here, but here are just a few important points. Although Jesus KNEW His disciples would betray Him, through His actions He said "Take My body, take My life-blood, take it all, I hold nothing back from you." Folks, this is LOVE!! Is there anything worse than being betrayed by those you "thought" loved you?? Inspite of the knowledge of this betrayal, Jesus LOVED and He loved deeply. Additionally He saw that although the disciples had been with Jesus for years, they still did not have a genuine loyalty and love for Jesus. (They were "fakes" and did not realize it.) But He was tender-hearted towards them. Let's face it, how in the world could a conversation begin with "Who's going to betray Jesus?" and end with "Who's the greatest evangelist sitting at this table?" Obviously the lessons they had witnessed for many months gave them a head knowledge, but not a heart knowledge...and Jesus desperately wanted to do something about it. This is so evident in what comes next. Although Jesus said, "Simon, Simon..." I believe TODAY He is speaking to you and me. He says "Folks, Satan wants YOU! But I am praying for YOU...that you will be REAL, GENUINE and SINCERE...that the artificial, the superficial and the fake will vanish from your Christian experience!!"

Here is the question of all questions. If the disciples who walked with Jesus, who saw His miracles, who heard His sermons, who experienced the ultimate exposure to the "REAL THING," struggled with the "fake walk," what about YOU and what about ME? Some years ago there was a black-out in New York City. The electricity in many thousands of homes and businesses was out for a long period of time. All of a sudden something happened. The men who bustled down the crowded streets in their spiffy suits and the women who looked crisp and professional in their offices began to act completely out of character. Many began smashing store windows, looting, stealing and running off with treasures that they forgot to pay for with their credit cards. What happened? Only the lights going out in New York City generated the manifestation of a vicious animal instinct which was not apparent when the lights were on. It was this similar type of spirit that Jesus earnestly desired to flush out and make known to His followers. So as a result of these upper room events, the biggest, loudest most incredible BEWARE message in all of the scriptures was recorded! We see what happened next in the story. It was calamity time. The scene that soon followed was one where the disciples were surrounded by armed guards. Peter panicked and cut off a guard's ear. Jesus was seized as if He were a criminal. So what did the "faithful and loyal" disciples do? They ran!

"But time and circumstances will surely prove us and bring to light the gold of character or discover the baser lower metal. Not one of us is known and read of all men till the crucible of God tests us. Every base thought, every wrong action reveals some defect in the character. These rugged traits must be brought under the chisel and hammer in God's great workshop and the grace of God must smooth and polish before we can be fitted for a place in the glorious temple." (T4, 541) The Bible brings out that we ALL will suffer persecution, we ALL will be tried as gold in the fire and I personally believe we will all feel the heat of betrayal in the purification process. Our friends and loved ones will betray us, our bodies will betray us and become sick, our comfortable circumstances will betray us, the feeling of peace and safety in our nation will betray us, etc. But needless to say, we need to prepare for it! Many believe that Christianity is going to church every week, it's paying our tithe, it's giving a Bible study or teaching a class. I believe this is only boot-camp. All of these things are preparation for "the big one..." the testing experience which will shake our faith to its very roots.

The events of the last year shook my faith to its very roots. I saw myself as a good Christian considering my choices, my profession of faith, my Bible study, my exposure to the best of the best of what Christianity had to offer...but then I was betrayed...and betrayed to the UTTERMOST!! I was falsely accused, treated like a criminal, bugged, followed by private investigators, manipulated, insulted, lied about, harrassed, my name was dragged through the mud on a world-wide scale and much more. (Exaggeration? NO, Bizarre? yes!..and let me tell you it is difficult to maintain any type of dignity in a situation like this.) This experience shook my faith, melted my "self-image," attacked my health and well-being and literally ground the "me" I was to powder. Although I was a physical, emotional and mental mess I never let go of Jesus, or a better explanation is that He never let go of me. It was seemingly a hopeless situation. Rumors were circulated which were NOT true and the only voice I had to counteract them was my website. I was completely and absolutely devastated not only by the events that occurred, but by the thought of the millions of people who respected my ministry who were simply "crushed." I hurt for them...I died on the inside for a season...just DIED! It truly has been the darkest time of my life. But I'M BACK...with perspectives and insights I never had before. The Lord showed me clearly that there is a whole world full of Christians who think they are ready for "the shaking" when they are not. They think they are ready to go to prison and die for Jesus, but they are not. They think that they have "the REAL THING" when they don't! If you know of someone who is "broken and bleeding in the middle of the road" but you choose to pass by on the other side of the road, you have a problem. If you don't hesitate to put someone else down to make yourself look "the greatest," you have a problem. If you say you love God but it doesn't show in your checkbook, you have a problem. But there is still time to make "the REAL THING" happen!!

How do we get the "REAL THING??" Psalm 40:2 says "He lifted me out of the slimy pit...He set my feet on a Rock and gave me a firm place to stand." Folks we NEED Jesus! We need not just a knowledge about Him, not just a good "Christian" routine, not just a life filled with a lot of "do goods," we NEED Jesus! We need time to talk to Him, time to meditate and hearts that are determined to LISTEN! God sees the big picture and we see just a tiny perspective. We don't know who we are, what we need, where to go, what to do, what to say, what to choose...we are like babies who need our heavenly Father to completely take care of us...but we must give Him the time and the opportunity to do this. Will you do this today? Please know that I am praying for YOU. We need to stand shoulder to shoulder, side by side and "knee to knee" as we prepare for entering the world that really matters, that really counts. This world is just a comma, just a dash compared to the world which is to come. So make it a life-long priority to GET CLOSE to the One who earnestly longs to get close to YOU!! This is the BEST and the ONLY preparation for "the BIG ONE!"

His love and mine,

Linda Shelton

Posted by: summertime Jun 20 2006, 09:42 PM

[quote name='summertime' post='135399' date='Jun 20 2006, 09:27 PM']

Wondering what things you are attempting to find and on what particular forum you are interested in. I found this letter on one of the forums on 3ABN and wanted to post it. It was one of the first letters she posted about a year ago on her website. I do not know if it is already posted on this BSDA or not---from May, 2005. If someone will let me know if it already has been posted I will edit it out. I seem to have some access on 3ABN on Club Adventist as of now. summertime

---

Posted by: calvin Jun 20 2006, 09:54 PM

Well thanks for the kind words. I know yall like it here because many of you CAers are here all the time. Glad you where made to feel welcome.

I think paying to participate on a message board is a bad ideal. I have learned to never say never, but I have no plans to charge members. It really does not cost much to run these things. My cost is $16 per month to the ISP and $60 a year for the software license maintenance...that's it. I bigest cost is in my time. If the cost did get prohibited I will look for advertizers first.

CA does not show there statistics, but I can't believe they are anymore busier that here to the point where they would need their own server.

Posted by: summertime Jun 20 2006, 11:02 PM

QUOTE(calvin @ Jun 20 2006, 09:54 PM)

Well thanks for the kind words. I know yall like it here because many of you CAers are here all the time. Glad you where made to feel welcome.

I think paying to participate on a message board is a bad ideal. I have learned to never say never, but I have no plans to charge members. It really does not cost much to run these things. My cost is $16 per month to the ISP and $60 a year for the software license maintenance...that's it. I bigest cost is in my time. If the cost did get prohibited I will look for advertizers first.

CA does not show there statistics, but I can't believe they are anymore busier that here to the point where they would need their own server.

Thank you, Calvin, for the nice words and encouragement that you have given to all of us---your generosity is beyond merit. I hope that we will not be a disappointment to you in any way and if the time comes when you have to say so, let it be.

There is a lot of politics on C/A and to the best of my knowledge it is not a non-profit making organization. Somebody is benefiting in a big way. We hope that you have many blessings for giving us a chance to vent and to encourage. It has given us a chance to make new friends. Maybe the problems over there come from too many peas in the pod. But thanks anyway, and God Bless You. 'summertime'

Posted by: lurker Jun 21 2006, 06:10 AM

QUOTE(summertime @ Jun 20 2006, 10:27 PM)

May, 2005

Dear Family of God,

Someone once said "God always gives His best to those who leave the choice to Him." I've been on the mountain top with Jesus, and I've been in the deepest of valleys with Jesus too, and I still find that no matter what, no matter where God gives me His best. In the mountains of success we sense the abundance of His blessings. Yet in the deepest valley we hear His voice and feel His touch. No wonder God says, "In everything give thanks." Another blessing that comes with the valley experience is we discover who our genuine friends are. For a season I faced my trials alone, but thank God for the internet! I've discovered, sensed and experienced the love of friends and family from around the world. Friends who previously loved me from a distance suddenly have come forward to make their love known. Prayer warriors who silently prayed in the closet for years suddenly have appeared. I cannot THANK YOU enough! Your emails are more than just emails, they are manifested gems of love and friendship! You are a blessing to me and your thoughtfulness is so much appreciated!!
I am starting this letter on a beautiful Sabbath afternoon. The sun is shining, the flowers are blooming and the air is so fresh! I was so inspired with the church service this morning. By the way, God has placed me in such a wonderful, genuinely caring SDA church. It's located in Springfield, Illinois which is just the place for me right now. (They have been putting me to work...and I love it!) But today was the day for the communion service. The Pastor read the words, "...the Lord Jesus the same night in which He was betrayed..." (1 Corinthians 11:23) The Webster's says to betray means "to reveal disloyalty, to expose treacherously, to fail to uphold, to deceive..." How could it be that the sinless Jesus was betrayed?...and surprisingly it was by His closest friends, as well as the rest of the world? In Luke 22:14 the story goes like this, "Jesus said, "I have been very eager to eat this Passover meal with you before My suffering begins. For I tell you now that I won't eat this meal again until its meaning is fulfilled in the Kingdom of God." So right here Jesus alerts us that there is a special message hidden in what took place in the upper room.

Then Jesus took bread, symbolic of His body, and He broke it and gave it to His disciples. Then He took wine, symbolic of His life-blood, and he also shared it with His friends. Then Jesus made a shocking announcement. He said, "But here at this table, sitting among us as a friend, is the man who will betray Me." (Luke 22:21) The disciples were visibly dismayed over this news and they immediately started to ask one another "Who is it?" Their questions then proceeded into a discussion of who among the disciples was "the greatest" among them. Jesus gently told them that the greatest of all is a servant. Then Jesus turned to Peter and said "Simon, Simon, Satan has asked to sift each of you like wheat. But I have pleaded in prayer for you, Simon, that your faith should not fail. So when you have repented and turned to Me again, strengthen your brothers. Peter said, "Lord I am ready to go to prison with You, and even to die with You. But Jesus said, "Peter, let Me tell you something, before the rooster crows tomorrow morning you will deny three times that you even know Me." (Luke 22:31-34)
Wow! There is so much here, but here are just a few important points. Although Jesus KNEW His disciples would betray Him, through His actions He said "Take My body, take My life-blood, take it all, I hold nothing back from you." Folks, this is LOVE!! Is there anything worse than being betrayed by those you "thought" loved you?? Inspite of the knowledge of this betrayal, Jesus LOVED and He loved deeply. Additionally He saw that although the disciples had been with Jesus for years, they still did not have a genuine loyalty and love for Jesus. (They were "fakes" and did not realize it.) But He was tender-hearted towards them. Let's face it, how in the world could a conversation begin with "Who's going to betray Jesus?" and end with "Who's the greatest evangelist sitting at this table?" Obviously the lessons they had witnessed for many months gave them a head knowledge, but not a heart knowledge...and Jesus desperately wanted to do something about it. This is so evident in what comes next. Although Jesus said, "Simon, Simon..." I believe TODAY He is speaking to you and me. He says "Folks, Satan wants YOU! But I am praying for YOU...that you will be REAL, GENUINE and SINCERE...that the artificial, the superficial and the fake will vanish from your Christian experience!!"
Here is the question of all questions. If the disciples who walked with Jesus, who saw His miracles, who heard His sermons, who experienced the ultimate exposure to the "REAL THING," struggled with the "fake walk," what about YOU and what about ME? Some years ago there was a black-out in New York City. The electricity in many thousands of homes and businesses was out for a long period of time. All of a sudden something happened. The men who bustled down the crowded streets in their spiffy suits and the women who looked crisp and professional in their offices began to act completely out of character. Many began smashing store windows, looting, stealing and running off with treasures that they forgot to pay for with their credit cards. What happened? Only the lights going out in New York City generated the manifestation of a vicious animal instinct which was not apparent when the lights were on. It was this similar type of spirit that Jesus earnestly desired to flush out and make known to His followers. So as a result of these upper room events, the biggest, loudest most incredible BEWARE message in all of the scriptures was recorded! We see what happened next in the story. It was calamity time. The scene that soon followed was one where the disciples were surrounded by armed guards. Peter panicked and cut off a guard's ear. Jesus was seized as if He were a criminal. So what did the "faithful and loyal" disciples do? They ran!
"But time and circumstances will surely prove us and bring to light the gold of character or discover the baser lower metal. Not one of us is known and read of all men till the crucible of God tests us. Every base thought, every wrong action reveals some defect in the character. These rugged traits must be brought under the chisel and hammer in God's great workshop and the grace of God must smooth and polish before we can be fitted for a place in the glorious temple." (T4, 541) The Bible brings out that we ALL will suffer persecution, we ALL will be tried as gold in the fire and I personally believe we will all feel the heat of betrayal in the purification process. Our friends and loved ones will betray us, our bodies will betray us and become sick, our comfortable circumstances will betray us, the feeling of peace and safety in our nation will betray us, etc. But needless to say, we need to prepare for it! Many believe that Christianity is going to church every week, it's paying our tithe, it's giving a Bible study or teaching a class. I believe this is only boot-camp. All of these things are preparation for "the big one..." the testing experience which will shake our faith to its very roots.
The events of the last year shook my faith to its very roots. I saw myself as a good Christian considering my choices, my profession of faith, my Bible study, my exposure to the best of the best of what Christianity had to offer...but then I was betrayed...and betrayed to the UTTERMOST!! I was falsely accused, treated like a criminal, bugged, followed by private investigators, manipulated, insulted, lied about, harrassed, my name was dragged through the mud on a world-wide scale and much more. (Exaggeration? NO, Bizarre? yes!..and let me tell you it is difficult to maintain any type of dignity in a situation like this.) This experience shook my faith, melted my "self-image," attacked my health and well-being and literally ground the "me" I was to powder. Although I was a physical, emotional and mental mess I never let go of Jesus, or a better explanation is that He never let go of me. It was seemingly a hopeless situation. Rumors were circulated which were NOT true and the only voice I had to counteract them was my website. I was completely and absolutely devastated not only by the events that occurred, but by the thought of the millions of people who respected my ministry who were simply "crushed." I hurt for them...I died on the inside for a season...just DIED! It truly has been the darkest time of my life. But I'M BACK...with perspectives and insights I never had before. The Lord showed me clearly that there is a whole world full of Christians who think they are ready for "the shaking" when they are not. They think they are ready to go to prison and die for Jesus, but they are not. They think that they have "the REAL THING" when they don't! If you know of someone who is "broken and bleeding in the middle of the road" but you choose to pass by on the other side of the road, you have a problem. If you don't hesitate to put someone else down to make yourself look "the greatest," you have a problem. If you say you love God but it doesn't show in your checkbook, you have a problem. But there is still time to make "the REAL THING" happen!! How do we get the "REAL THING??" Psalm 40:2 says "He lifted me out of the slimy pit...He set my feet on a Rock and gave me a firm place to stand." Folks we NEED Jesus! We need not just a knowledge about Him, not just a good "Christian" routine, not just a life filled with a lot of "do goods," we NEED Jesus! We need time to talk to Him, time to meditate and hearts that are determined to LISTEN! God sees the big picture and we see just a tiny perspective. We don't know who we are, what we need, where to go, what to do, what to say, what to choose...we are like babies who need our heavenly Father to completely take care of us...but we must give Him the time and the opportunity to do this. Will you do this today? Please know that I am praying for YOU. We need to stand shoulder to shoulder, side by side and "knee to knee" as we prepare for entering the world that really matters, that really counts. This world is just a comma, just a dash compared to the world which is to come. So make it a life-long priority to GET CLOSE to the One who earnestly longs to get close to YOU!! This is the BEST and the ONLY preparation for "the BIG ONE!"

His love and mine,

Linda Shelton

'hanks Summertime for posting this. I have been able to find some of the old web pages from Linda's vebsite at http://web.archive.org/web/*/http://lindashelton.org . It may work for y'all too. The first inks listed doen't work but don't get discouraged and give up. Most of them do work.

Posted by: lurker Jun 21 2006, 06:23 AM

[quote name='lurker' post='135432' date='Jun 21 2006, 07:10 AM']
Sorry, I accidently did a double post trying to correct my spelling. Should be don't not doen't.

Posted by: Clay Jul 5 2006, 05:09 PM

QUOTE

After much research I find this person is not the only one that was dead that was still receiving the monthly payments. Then I find that there is a trend. I checked to see just how many dead people were still receiving monthly annuities. WOW.

sn't that called fraud or something? I mean people get put in jail for receiving the checks of people vho are dear and departed.... don't they?

Posted by: Fran Jul 5 2006, 11:25 PM

QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 5 2006, 05:09 PM)

Isn't that called fraud or something? I mean people get put in jail for receiving the checks of people who are dear and departed.... don't they?

Not as long as they buy the people that know! It is "Keep your mouth shut or you loose more than your share~" Even government officials have a price where by they can be bought.

How do you think those in the Lake union got the money out of those trust funds? Easy as pumpkin pie.

We have live people who receive dead people's SS Checks each month of the year. Look at all the transient folks on welfare. They leave the area and the checks still come! They move on to another state and sign up in the new state! Where does that check go? Everybody loves gravy, right?

MONEY; Oh how I love thee; Let me count the ways.

Yes, that is commonly known as FRAUD! People get away with this type of stealing in alarming frequency. Everyday, in fact.

Posted by: sonshineonme Jul 6 2006, 08:55 PM

QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 5 2006, 04:09 PM)

Isn't that called fraud or something? I mean people get put in jail for receiving the checks of people who are dear and departed.... don't they?

Clay, somehow I missed the original post you quoted here...can you tell me where it is or who wrote it? I do like to know who's sayin what ya know

---

Posted by: Clay Jul 7 2006, 01:03 AM

QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jul 6 2006, 08:55 PM)

Clay, somehow I missed the original post you quoted here...can you tell me where it is or who wrote it? I do like to know who's sayin what ya know it can be found in post #55 of this thread.....

Powered by Invision Power Board (http://www.invisionboard.com)

© Invision Power Services (http://www.invisionpower.com)

219

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ An Unauthorized History of 3ABN

Posted by: sister May 30 2006, 10:33 AM

"The Televangelist", Part 8...

"After his first wife died, the televangelist married a recently divorced young lady with two children: a girl and a boy. His new wife served as executive vice president of the ministry, and was in charge of production, programming, publishing, and radio. As her children grew into their teens, her son developed problems with violence and drugs. The televangelist told her that this was her son, not his. He said that he did not want the boy in his house, and that this situation would have to be dealt with by her alone. He would have nothing to do with the boy.

The child's situation worsened until a foreign doctor visited the ministry and said that he would be willing to take the boy back to his country and put him in rehab. The televangelist's wife took a friend of hers and went to visit her son in this overseas rehab for three days. While there, she was also with a very good friend who was retired from a lifetime of work in the Church. The gentleman had served as a pastor and conference official in many parts of the world for fifty years and was now working with the televangelist's ministry. His wife was suffering from cancer, and was undergoing treatment from the same physician who was treating the boy.

Upon returning home, the televangelist's wife walked into a nasty surprise. Her husband greeted her with an accusation of adultery with the doctor. He demanded that she cease all communication with him. Outraged, she at first ignored him. The situation escalated."

Reading the above extraction from "The Televangelist" I thought of the accusation of martial misconduct that has been charged against Linda Shelton — "Spiritual Adultery". Turning to the word of God, I sought the Biblical definition of wrongdoing pertaining to divorce and remarriage. Opening my Bible and turning to the book of Matthew I read the following in chapter 5, verse 12: "But I say unto you, That whosoever shall put away his wife, saving for the cause of fornication, causeth her to commit adultery: and whosoever shall marry her that is divorced committeth adultery." What does "Spiritual Adultery" have to do with fornication? To be sure that I was not mistaken, reading on in Matthew 19: 8, 9, my suspicions were confirmed, it was not Linda who had committed adultery: "He said to them, "Because of your hardness of heart Moses permitted you to divorce your wives; but from the beginning it has not been this way. And I say to you, whoever divorces his wife, except for immorality [fornication], and marries another woman commits adultery."

According to scripture it is the husband, that has put away his wife for grounds other than fornication and remarried, that has committed adultery. Interesting... The Bible is positively clear upon this subject. There are no gray areas or shadows in which to hide. No mention made nor definition given of Spiritual Adultery in regard to divorce. So how has this strange fire made it's way into the temple of God? Or is it only applicable in the 3ABN Worship Center, where the high priest, John Lomacang presides over the 3ABN congregation of Danny Shelton. And if repeating the mantra "Spiritual Adultery" over and over again is intended to give all this foolishness credibility, then Dr. Walt Thompson must be Danny's personal guru.

Upon reviewing the letters written by Dr. Walt Thompson concerning Danny's actions in regard to divorcing Linda and his remarriage to Brandy, not once is the charge of fornication made against Linda. So why is the scarlet letter "A" pinned upon her? What makes her an adulteress in the eyes of God? Like the woman dragged through the streets and thrown down on the ground in front of Jesus, was Linda caught in the act of adultery? No. Then why has she been publically dragged through the mud and deposited by her accusers at the feet of the court of Adventist public opinion: to be tried, convicted and branded as an adulteress without a shred of evidence?

The right to confront one's accusers is granted to every defendant charged with even the most heinous of crimes. Yet, through coercion, Linda was duped into relinquishing her rights to publicly exonerate herself against the fallacious charges made by her ex-husband and the chairman of his independent ministry board. With her options for employment going down the drain along side her reputation, what other choices were left to her but to take the money and run?

Danny has divorced Linda, remarried and presumably gone on with his life. Why then continue this vendetta against Linda? Why persevere in attempting to ruin her reputation, close any avenues for her to pursue her livelihood and discredit her word? Is Danny so afraid of Linda? Why?

Does God change His mind? For example does he raise up a new prophet and through him say, "Sorry, it seems I made a mistake. Fornication is not the only reason I am willing to accept for divorcing your wife. I have created a new category just for your situation: Spiritual Adultery. If your wife talks on the phone too long to a foreign doctor, who is not her husband, and perhaps you as her husband is already looking for a plan to put her away, this is now acceptable Biblical grounds for divorcing her." Convenient, yes! Consistent with the character of God as revealed through Scripture? Come on Danny, we didn't just fall off a turnip truck passing through T'ville yesterday.

In this strange tale of intrigue it appears that Danny has followed the example of the leadership and/or current prophet of the LDS church, taking this page from his book: the proclamations of the current prophet supersedes the Word of God. As the book of Mormon supplants the Bible as the rule of conduct, so the proclamations of Danny and the chairman of the 3ABN board usurp Biblical authority in regard to acceptable grounds for divorce. Are Danny and the chairman of his board standing on "Holy Ground" in their continued harassment and accusations against Linda or are they standing on dangerous ground in positioning Danny above the law of God?

Stayed tuned...

Posted by: beartrap May 30 2006, 11:09 AM

Just a quick clarification. It was not Polly's Place Network, but two Polly's Place shelters that have previously received funding from ASI. An application for an ASI grant this year was completed and turned down, but Polly's Place Network intends to apply for future grants from ASI and, in time, hopes to develop a good working relationship with them.

Although Danny, Dr. Thompson, John Lomacang, and others have set forth to block any ministry opportunities that Linda may pursue, this is a big world. The church is made up up of many people, and even ASI (and other such organizations) consist of a number of people who are capable of thinking independently of the arm-twisting, and we pray that in all of these situations, the clearer heads will prevail in the end.

Posted by: Panama_Pete May 30 2006, 07:52 PM

QUOTE(sister @ May 30 2006, 07:38 PM)

I agee with you completely. But, it is unfortunate that they continue trying...

As Grandpa used to say, "If at first you don't succeed, stop what you're doing. There's usually a good reason."

Posted by: statrei May 30 2006, 08:09 PM

QUOTE(seeshell @ May 30 2006, 08:12 PM)

Then why do you remain Adventist?

Why do you ask that particular question, seeshell?

Posted by: sister May 30 2006, 08:43 PM

QUOTE(gracetoyou @ May 30 2006, 08:42 PM)

Just read sister's comment. I agree that this is getting off the theme of this thread and should be moved to the theology forum.

Thank you, gracetoyou!

Posted by: calvin May 30 2006, 08:55 PM

Done!
Topic has been split
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?showtopic=9416

Posted by: sister May 30 2006, 09:58 PM

QUOTE(calvin @ May 30 2006, 09:55 PM)

Done!
Topic has been split
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?showtopic=9416

Thank you, Calvin!

Posted by: inga May 30 2006, 10:40 PM

QUOTE(Clay @ May 30 2006, 01:31 AM)

If Shelton has many of the church's leaders in his pocket, has serious influence in the church's decision making processes, has in effect compromised the church because of their partnership with him, and some even suggesting he is the face of adventism, then it's time to leave the building.

The jews continued their rituals thinking God was still in it and he had left the building.... How do we know that God has not left this (the sda church) building?

Clay, I think it may be time to leave the 3ABN building, but let's not equate 3ABN with the whole church!

Yes, Dan has some church leaders more or less "in his pocket," particularly in the NAD. Someone who owes his position to lots of exposure on 3ABN & Dan's pressuring is likely to support 3ABN, don't you think? However, this doesn't mean that such an individual or individuals know much about all the other misdeeds of the Shelton tribe (resisted using the word "gang").

Yes, Dan has "serious influence," largely because of his perceived influence on the Adventist membership through 3ABN & the exposure he can give through his network. However, I suspect that some of that "serious influence" has been slipping away rather dramatically since his remarriage a few days after his divorce from Linda was declared legal. It doesn't take an advanced degree to figure out that Dan wasn't exactly trying to hold his marriage together -- with Linda contesting the legality of the divorce & his lawyers fighting to have it declared legal.

While some of our folks in high positions may be subject to being unduly influenced, they aren't necessarily totally corrupt. They're human like you and like me. That has certain consequences. And some folks in very high positions in the GC are totally committed to God and to His last-day church on earth. They are some of the best.

While 3ABN may be "the face of Adventism" for many, that can change. The fact is that 3ABN is not really the face of Adventism; it is just perceived to be so by some. And Dan thinks that he represents Adventism. But I don't put much stock in Dan's thinking.

Ellen White once had a vision in which she saw the church as a ship heading towards an iceberg. The iceberg was symbolic of apostasy in her time, and the captain of the ship said to hit it dead on. It did, and the ship survived. She also foresaw that in the end time, the church would look like it would "go down," but it would stand in spite of appearances.

Looking at the relatively high profile of 3ABN and the sordid stories behind the scenes, I began to wonder if it might not be this 3ABN scandal that would make the church look like it was about to go down. But then that Washington Post article demonstrated how very easy it would be for God to deflect the scandal in such a way that the church would not suffer any more than necessary to sort out the bad apples. (While I don't think it's time to leave the building, I do think it's time for a house cleaning!)

I think that comparison to the Jews and their rituals fits the 3ABN situation quite well. I don't think it fits the church as a whole just now. Remember that the NAD is a relatively small portion of the church right now.

Things will happen in God's own timing. Things that were done in secret will be proclaimed for all the world to see/hear. It has happened before. It will happen again. Each individual involved will have to pray to be submissive to God's leading. Sometimes that means telling the truth, even though it is ugly. Other times it means being silent, even when silence is hard.

May God grant wisdom and strength to all who have had the misfortune to be under Dan's control

QUOTE(watchbird @ May 30 2006, 06:23 AM)

Now if you had used your metaphor to say that it is time to abandon the notion that the Shelton empire either represents God or is the "face of adventism", then we'd be in synch.

And if you would move on from that to urge us all to redirect our available funds back to the church itself and to let our leaders know that we want to support them in cutting all ties to the "Absolom in the gate" that Danny Shelton has turned out to be, THEN Right on!!

Posted by: Clay May 31 2006, 05:14 AM good points Inga... time will tell....

Posted by: Clay May 31 2006, 07:03 AM the questions about home churches and what the Jews were in the grand scheme of things have been moved to their own thread...(in the theology section)

Posted by: sister May 31 2006, 04:43 PM

Danny and Pope John Paul II ...

Arrayed in all his pontifical glory, Pope John Paul II, with skill and craftiness, personified the Catholic Gospel for twenty-seven years. He became the face of Catholicism to the world in the latter part of the twentieth century until his death in 2005. Did this "Vicar of Christ" have infallibility in all matters concerning the Church as he, by Catholic profession, ruled in the stead of the Son of God on earth? Were his pronouncements accepted as the voice of God within the independent state of Vatican City and to his followers around the world? Was his seat of power holy ground? It is to the adherents of the Catholic Church. And finally, what do Pope John Paul II and Danny Shelton share in common? In what paradigm of reality do these two men stand adjacent, imbued with substitutable power?

The first law of the real estate business is location, location, location. For John Paul II the location was Vatican City. In this tiny sovereign state, only about 100.8 acres, he ruled supreme. And Danny Shelton? Again location, but unlike Vatican City State which is encapsulated within the city of Rome, Italy; the compound of 3ABN is located adjacent to the rural hamlet of Thompsonville in the backwoods of Southern Illinois. But it's land holdings are nearly double that of Vatican City. And the power that Danny wields within his independent ministry is equal in it's scope and self-professed infallibility as his Catholic counterpart the Pope: he depends on his word being above reproach and his actions unquestioned. Like the Protestants who questioned the authority of the Catholic Church in the middle ages, the employees that dare to question the propriety of Danny's actions are swiftly dealt with—not by burning at the stake, even southern Illinois is not that backward—but by other forms of disciplinary action. Actions that may continue long after they have permanently left the confines of 3ABN.

In the question of infallibility, the Pope lays claim to this attribute by virtue of the Catholic tradition of his supreme apostolic authority. Danny's claim to infallibility comes from 3ABN tradition introduced by Mollie Steenson. When Danny installed Mollie in the position of his personal secretary, she immediately undertook the task of expanding upon the pronouncement she and Hal had made during an employee week of prayer a number of years before. She declared to both Danny and her fellow employees that God speaks to Danny and speaks through Danny to 3ABN. When ET Everett arrived on the scene, she enlarged upon Mollie's pronouncement, encouraging Danny in his belief that whatever thoughts and impressions he received regarding anything was the voice of God. Danny believed that God was showing him things in dreams and visions, and if you disagreed with him, in fact you were disagreeing with God himself, for Danny is the voice of God at 3ABN. Newcomer to the fold Shelly Quinn has perpetuated Mollie and ET's worship of Danny.

It is interesting to note the following: the tradition of 3ABN takes the infallibility of Danny a step beyond Papal infallibility, which does not signify that the Pope is specially exempt from accountability to sin, whereas Danny has laid claim to being relieved from answerability for certain sins "since God has given him such a great task to perform".

Danny's followers? It is opening night at the Spring 2006 3ABN Campmeeting... The floor director counts down the seconds 5...4...3...2...1...cue Danny and let the games begin. Poised and oozing with self-confidence Danny is truly in his element: from the well groomed hair implants on the top of his head to the fresh shine on his dress cowboy boots and a smile calculated to open the pocketbooks of the assembled followers, he picks up his microphone. Approaching center stage, Danny calls forth the faithful to testify of his greatness. Thrilled with being in the actual presence of this holy man of God— who has been called forth, a lowly carpenter himself just like Jesus, "to bring the three angels message to a lost and dying world"— the faithful line up to shake the hand of the man who stands on Holy Ground.

Like the faith healer in his traveling tent show, Danny parades a selected few of his target market, the elderly who have arrived in their Winnebagos prepared for a great show at the hands of their spiritual leader, up to the stage. After receiving the adoration of a wrinkled, white haired old soul, smiling sweetly at her he says, "Can I give you a hug?" As a blush creeps up upon her ancient countenance, microphone in one hand Danny's other arm encircles her shoulders. As he draws her close to his chest he gives her a slightly flirtatious smile and looking toward the audience he addresses his wife, "Brandy, is it alright if I hug this lady?" Giving Brandy's response, to the gentle laughter of the assembled crowd, he replies with a Cheshire Cat smile on his face, "Brandy says it's okay, go right ahead."

Just as the Pope stood high above the square in Vatican city, Danny now stands upon center stage in the Worship Center at the 3ABN compound. Thousands of the faithful, densely crowded in front of St. Peters Basilica, their gaze turned upon the balcony high above them, raise their voices in adoration as John Paul II waves to them. Eight satellites beam the image of Danny Shelton to television sets around the world, as the faithful tune in to see this holy man of God, the spiritual leader of the 3ABN Church. Raising their pens in adoration, tithes and offerings are willing sent in response to the solicitations of the man who represents the Seventh-day Adventist Church to his viewing congregation of millions.

As Pope John Paul II became the face of Catholicism to the world, it has been claimed that Danny Shelton has become the face of Adventism to the world. And both, when standing within their sovereign states, confidently believe they are "standing on Holy ground". The only difference is that Danny chooses to sing his verison.

Stay tuned...

Posted by: sonshineonme May 31 2006, 06:17 PM

Sister said:
In the question of infallibility, the Pope lays claim to this attribute by virtue of the Catholic tradition of his supreme apostolic authority. Danny's claim to infallibility comes from 3ABN tradition introduced by Mollie Steenson. When Danny installed Mollie in the position of his personal secretary, she immediately undertook the task of expanding upon the pronouncement she and Hal had made during an employee week of prayer a number of years before. She declared to both Danny and her fellow employees that God speaks to Danny and speaks through Danny to 3ABN. When ET Everett arrived on the scene, she enlarged upon Mollie's pronouncement, encouraging Danny in his belief that whatever thoughts and impressions he received regarding anything was the voice of God. Danny believed that God was showing him things in dreams and visions, and if you disagreed with him, in fact you were disagreeing with God himself, for Danny is the voice of God at 3ABN. Newcomer to the fold Shelly Quinn has perpetuated Mollie and ET's worship of Danny.

I had already put this comparison together some time back and it still disturbs me very much. People can't see the forest for the trees. The very thing that we have been warned to watch for, could it be so close that we can not see it?

Posted by: gracetoyou May 31 2006, 07:34 PM

Do the Steensons, E.T. Everett and Shelly Quinn all have Pentecostal backgrounds? If so, is there some reason that they, rather than those of solid Adventist background, have been given such high and influential positions within 3ABN?

Posted by: CJO May 31 2006, 09:15 PM

This post is for "Sister",

I don't really have the time to enter into many posts here; but I have been following your posts since you have been writing them on here. I don't know where you get all of your information, but if it is true, we have a very sad situation happening here. You may be completely right in what you have been posting here; yet we are dealing with a much bigger problem then withier you are right or wrong.

You see, I believe that this bigger problem is what Linda has been dealing with all along. It's the precious souls who are finding Jesus through the dedicated and God fearing programs on 3abn.

3abn isn't Danny Shelton. Yes, He got it started and has been leading it. But 3aboon, I believe was led by God to win many thousands of souls to the truth. And that has been what is happening for years.

Linda could have made waves, but she didn't, because she loves God and she listened to His voice to keep quiet, while taking the brunt of terrible rumors and a horrible defamation of character and more.... She loved those who found Jesus and never wanted to shake their faith in God.

The wheat and tares grow together and it isn't us that separates them. It's God. So as we stand and watch this whole situation, we can only add fuel to Satan's scheme if we continue on with the "facts"; only to harm so many honest new baby christians. Sometimes truth is truth, but look what it can do to harm others.

This situation is sao complicated. Yet, I believe that it's time for us to leave it in God's hands to deal with. And if not in this world; it will happen when God calls forth His Children. And I believe that it is going to happen very soon.

None of us truly know the facts because we weren't there in the room or the corner etc. Only God knows. So how can we truly make a judgement on this situation. We Can't. So I say, leave it all in God's hands and we can rest assured that He will deal with everything in His time and way.

With much love to all of you. Let's be ready for Jesus to come. Our Characters must reflect His or we will be lost too. Those are the issues that should occupy our minds. I know I have much to deal with to allow this to happen in my life.

CJO

Just a short "ie" to the above post.

We have a very small church here and we are the only town in Canada, that the cable station put 3abn on. It was a miracle. We now have 4 precious non adventists attending who came through 3abn. One just came 2 weeks ago. Heard Doug Bachelor. They have been through the Shawn Boonstra meetings and Doug Bachelor, and Cox's and Wahlbergs etc. etc. They are finding Jesus. They are precious souls that God is using 3abn to help them to find truth. I know there are many others all around the world who are finding Jesus in the same way. So I shudder for their souls, if the tares are plucked up, without God being the one to deal with this situation.
Can you see my fear..

In Christ,

CJO

Posted by: sonshineonme May 31 2006, 09:38 PM

QUOTE(CJO @ May 31 2006, 07:15 PM)

This post is for "Sister",

I don't really have the time to enter into many posts here; but I have been following your posts since you have been writing them on here. I don't know where you get all of your information, but if it is true, we have a very sad situation happening here. You may be completely right in what you have been posting here; yet we are dealing with a much bigger problem then withier you are right or wrong.

You see, I believe that this bigger problem is what Linda has been dealing with all along. It's the precious souls who are finding Jesus through the dedicated and God fearing programs on 3abn.

3abn isn't Danny Shelton. Yes, He got it started and has been leading it. But 3aboon, I believe was led by God to win many thousands of souls to the truth. And that has been what is happening for years.

Linda could have made waves, but she didn't, because she loves God and she listened to His voice to keep quiet, while taking the brunt of terrible rumors and a horrible defamation of character and more.... She loved those who found Jesus and never wanted to shake their faith in God.

The wheat and tares grow together and it isn't us that separates them. It's God. So as we stand and watch this whole situation, we can only add fuel to Satan's scheme if we continue on with the "facts"; only to harm so many honest new baby christians. Sometimes truth is truth, but look what it can do to harm others.

This situation is sao complicated. Yet, I believe that it's time for us to leave it in God's hands to deal with. And if not in this world; it will happen when God calls forth His Children. And I believe that it is going to happen very soon.

None of us truly know the facts because we weren't there in the room or the corner etc. Only God knows. So how can we truly make a judgement on this situation. We Can't. So I say, leave it all in God's hands and we can rest assured that He will deal with everything in His time and way.

With much love to all of you. Let's be ready for Jesus to come. Our Characters must reflect His or we will be lost too. Those are the issues that should occupy our minds. I know I have much to deal with to allow this to happen in my life.

CJO

Just a short "ie" to the above post.

We have a very small church here and we are the only town in Canada, that the cable station put 3abn on. It was a miracle. We now have 4 precious non adventists attending who came through 3abn. One just came 2 weeks ago. Heard Doug Bachelor. They have been through the Shawn Boonstra meetings and Doug Bachelor, and Cox's and Wahlbergs etc. etc. They are finding Jesus. They are precious souls that God is using 3abn to help them to find truth. I know there are many others all around the world who are finding Jesus in the same way. So I shudder for their souls, if the tares are plucked up, without God being the one to deal with this situation.
Can you see my fear..

In Christ,

CJO

:jo,
might be going out on a limb here, but, I want you to understand something - I know how you feel. I ıave been through what you are talking about myself. I came to the conclusion that truth was better or everyone, no matter how new they were, or how old they are, or how much 3abn is doing to bring ›eople to God. God is the one using 3abn, not 3abn doing it. We are all tools and vessels of God's. 3od has many ways to accomplish the same thing, and HE will do it in HIS way. He wastes nothing - ıot even something like the corruption that is happening and has happened behind the scenes at 3abn or some time. I know Linda. I have talked to her alot about this. I know she loves the "ministry" that ›ring people to Jesus. But I don't think she would be willing to look the other way for the "good" that t may do. Like I said, God uses men, not the other way around. SO, while you are protecting your ıew babes in Christ, they also need to learn for themselves what their religion should mean; is it to vorship a MAN or men, or God alone? We all will have to take the test at some point - it's a check that 3od uses to make sure we have our eyes squarely on Him, and not a human being. They humans will ail us, the sooner we realize that, the better off we are. The bottom line is, it's not about what the ›reacher or people tell us, it's about our personal and private relationship with a God we find and liscover, who lead us to HIM through whatever means He chooses, and about nothing else. I ınderstand your feeings, but think it through - do the ends really justify the means? Does God allow ;in to go on to see if we also say and do nothing about it? I can think of countless bible stories were he test was to stand up and call it what it was. Even Jesus exposed the pharisees and sadducees, and 'm sure they had true believers among them, but those people needed to learn to see through the leceits and distractions of the devil. God will take care of each of His children, He was the one the ›rought them to Him in the first place.
)ne other thing I wanted to share with you - there was a HUGE effort to get 3abn in my area for over wo years, about 4 years ago. We did everything, contacted the cable comp, wrote letters and ›ostcards, went door to door and got signed petitions, everything that was asked of us in order to get he cable co. to promise a spot on the line up. It was a done deal. Then it crashed, new people, had to ;tart over, we started over....did it all again, and it looked like it was going to happen. But it just vouldn't happen!! We all scratched our heads wondering "why isn't God letting this happen here!!??". look back now and because of this whole mess that has since taken place at 3abn, I am THANKFUL it lidn't happen!! We have a circle of people here that are not SDA's that we regularly associate with, and have been witness' too through normal daily friendships for some time. I would have hated to have to deal with this whole mess of 3abn after all the talking to we did to people about what it was. So, I am thankful. There are many ways to look at this. The biggest thing to remember is what you said - God is in control and He will take care of things, and He uses us to do many things, and our job is to respond when He is calling us. I believe He has called people to speak up now about the 3abn situation, it's His timing that will carry things to pass. If we remember it's in His timing, then the things that take place will be as they should. This is only my opinion of course, but give this some more thought...keep the big picture in mind. God will take care of His children. It's on the individual level that people find Jesus and stay with Jesus. Not on the organized level.

Posted by: princessdi May 31 2006, 09:41 PM

I completely understand your fear, CJO. However, if the Holy Spirit has indeed convicted these souls, and they have entered into a relationship with God and not 3ABN or even the Adventist church there is nothing to fear. For it says in the Bible that God has not send us a spirit of fear. Pray for those new ones and pray that God will continue to bless, keep, and lead them. If they are in His care there is nothing to fear.

QUOTE(CJO @ May 31 2006, 07:15 PM)

This post is for "Sister",

I don't really have the time to enter into many posts here; but I have been following your posts since you have been writing them on here. I don't know where you get all of your information, but if it is true, we have a very sad situation happening here. You may be completely right in what you have been posting here; yet we are dealing with a much bigger problem then withier you are right or wrong.

You see, I believe that this bigger problem is what Linda has been dealing with all along. It's the precious souls who are finding Jesus through the dedicated and God fearing programs on 3abn.

3abn isn't Danny Shelton. Yes, He got it started and has been leading it. But 3aboon, I believe was led by God to win many thousands of souls to the truth. And that has been what is happening for years.

Linda could have made waves, but she didn't, because she loves God and she listened to His voice to keep quiet, while taking the brunt of terrible rumors and a horrible defamation of character and more.... She loved those who found Jesus and never wanted to shake their faith in God.

The wheat and tares grow together and it isn't us that separates them. It's God. So as we stand and watch this whole situation, we can only add fuel to Satan's scheme if we continue on with the "facts"; only to harm so many honest new baby christians. Sometimes truth is truth, but look what it can do to harm others.

This situation is sao complicated. Yet, I believe that it's time for us to leave it in God's hands to deal with. And if not in this world; it will happen when God calls forth His Children. And I believe that it is going to happen very soon.

None of us truly know the facts because we weren't there in the room or the corner etc. Only God knows. So how can we truly make a judgement on this situation. We Can't. So I say, leave it all in God's hands and we can rest assured that He will deal with everything in His time and way.

With much love to all of you. Let's be ready for Jesus to come. Our Characters must reflect His or we will be lost too. Those are the issues that should occupy our minds. I know I have much to deal with to allow this to happen in my life.

CJO

Just a short "ie" to the above post.

We have a very small church here and we are the only town in Canada, that the cable station put 3abn on. It was a miracle. We now have 4 precious non adventists attending who came through 3abn. One just came 2 weeks ago. Heard Doug Bachelor. They have been through the Shawn Boonstra meetings and Doug Bachelor, and Cox's and Wahlbergs etc. etc. They are finding Jesus. They are precious souls that God is using 3abn to help them to find truth. I know there are many others all around the world who are finding Jesus in the same way. So I shudder for their souls, if the tares are plucked up, without God being the one to deal with this situation.
Can you see my fear..

In Christ,

CJO

Posted by: lurker May 31 2006, 10:25 PM

QUOTE(CJO @ May 31 2006, 10:15 PM)

This post is for "Sister",

I don't really have the time to enter into many posts here; but I have been following your posts since you have been writing them on here. I don't know where you get all of your information, but if it is true, we have a very sad situation happening here. You may be completely right in what you have been posting here; yet we are dealing with a much bigger problem then withier you are right or wrong.

You see, I believe that this bigger problem is what Linda has been dealing with all along. It's the precious souls who are finding Jesus through the dedicated and God fearing programs on 3abn.

3abn isn't Danny Shelton. Yes, He got it started and has been leading it. But 3aboon, I believe was led by God to win many thousands of souls to the truth. And that has been what is happening for years.

Linda could have made waves, but she didn't, because she loves God and she listened to His voice to keep quiet, while taking the brunt of terrible rumors and a horrible defamation of character and more.... She loved those who found Jesus and never wanted to shake their faith in God.

The wheat and tares grow together and it isn't us that separates them. It's God. So as we stand and watch this whole situation, we can only add fuel to Satan's scheme if we continue on with the "facts"; only to harm so many honest new baby christians. Sometimes truth is truth, but look what it can do to harm others.

This situation is sao complicated. Yet, I believe that it's time for us to leave it in God's hands to deal with. And if not in this world; it will happen when God calls forth His Children. And I believe that it is going to happen very soon.

None of us truly know the facts because we weren't there in the room or the corner etc. Only God knows. So how can we truly make a judgement on this situation. We Can't. So I say, leave it all in God's hands and we can rest assured that He will deal with everything in His time and way.

With much love to all of you. Let's be ready for Jesus to come. Our Characters must reflect His or we will be lost too. Those are the issues that should occupy our minds. I know I have much to deal with to allow this to happen in my life.

CJO

Just a short "ie" to the above post.

We have a very small church here and we are the only town in Canada, that the cable station put 3abn on. It was a miracle. We now have 4 precious non adventists attending who came through 3abn. One just came 2 weeks ago. Heard Doug Bachelor. They have been through the Shawn Boonstra meetings and Doug Bachelor, and Cox's and Wahlbergs etc. etc. They are finding Jesus. They are precious souls that God is using 3abn to help them to find truth. I know there are many others all around the world who are finding Jesus in the same way. So I shudder for their souls, if the tares are plucked up, without God being the one to deal with this situation.
Can you see my fear..

In Christ,

CJO

quote] Many of the programs that are on 3ABN and are leading people to Christ are on other networks too. I have heard Mark Finley thanking Paul and Jan Crouch for instance. Doug Batchelor and Walter Pearson are on other networks. 3ABN is merely a carrier for programs even though they do produce programs too. Is the only difference that it is all Adventist all the time? I have nothing against that. Or is the difference the charismatic personality of Danny, then I do have a problem with the cultlike aspects of worshiping him and feeding his power.

can see your fear for souls and at one time I had hoped that Danny was still sensitive to the leading of the Holy Spirit and cared enough about people that he would repent and correct his attitude without outside intervention. But now, the most I can hope for is that people inside the church will see there is a problem and deal with it lest authorities outside the church step in and prosecute not for lack of humility but for illegal behavior. If he is not restrained in some way by the church or by the law, I fear that by his example he will lead many astray because of his smugness. That is a loss of souls too. There are people at 3abn and in the surrounding community who know what he is doing. Do we want our doctrines to become popular at the cost of ignoring open immorality and the misuse of power to destroy perceived enemies who will not bow? Is he another Haman? The forgotten commandment isn't the 4th one in this case, but the 7th, 8th and 9th.

Posted by: Panama_Pete May 31 2006, 11:29 PM

Actually, I've been exactly where you are now. I've spent time, money, and energy doing what I could to make 3ABN succeed. It has always been a joy for me to see someone quit smoking, or lose excess body weight, or find hope and healing, from seeing something on 3ABN. Unfortunately, the end doesn't always justify the means. It is wrong to work like the devil for the Lord.

I have some comments.

QUOTE(CJO @ May 31 2006, 09:15 PM)

3abn isn't Danny Shelton. Yes, He got it started and has been leading it. But 3abn, I believe was led by God to win many thousands of souls to the truth. And that has been what is happening for years.

3ABN is Danny Shelton.

Judge Barbara S. Rowe, in the 3ABN Illinois Tax Case, ruled that 3ABN is a private Shelton business, based on the evidence presented to the court.

I've been to Thompsonville, and I've come away with the impression that 3ABN is 100 percent Danny Shelton. In fact, I think there is nothing about 3ABN that is not Danny Shelton. The 3ABN often-repeated slogan, "Remember, this is God's ministry, not Danny's ministry," strikes me as being a carefully constructed misrepresentation of the facts.

QUOTE(CJO @ May 31 2006, 09:15 PM)

The wheat and tares grow together and it isn't us that separates them. It's God. So as we stand and watch this whole situation, we can only add fuel to Satan's scheme if we continue on with the "facts"; only to harm so many honest new baby christians. Sometimes truth is truth, but look what it can do to harm others.

Read that parable very closely.

Matthew 13:36
"And His disciples came to Him, saying, "Explain to us the parable of the tares of the field." 37 He answered and said to them: "He who sows the good seed is the Son of Man. 38 "The field is the world, the good seeds are the sons of the kingdom, but the tares are the sons of the wicked one. "

The field is the world, not the Adventist Church. Many people are of the mistaken belief that the Church and the field are one and the same, and we are not allowed to separate the good from the bad inside our own organization.

QUOTE(CJO @ May 31 2006, 09:15 PM)

I believe that it's time for us to leave it in God's hands to deal with. And if not in this world; it will happen when God calls forth His Children. And I believe that it is going to happen very soon.

The Board of Directors of 3ABN didn't leave Linda Shelton in God's hands. Apparently, they're still not willing to leave it in God's hands. They're still writing letters and sending them out. We read that the 3ABN employees continue to make phone calls to discredit Linda Shelton.

QUOTE(CJO @ May 31 2006, 09:15 PM)

None of us truly know the facts because we weren't there in the room or the corner etc.

On one occasion I was sitting in the corner.

QUOTE(CJO @ May 31 2006, 09:15 PM)

With much love to all of you. Let's be ready for Jesus to come. Our Characters must reflect His or > we will be lost too. Those are the issues that should occupy our minds. I know I have much to deal with to allow this to happen in my life.

agree, completely.

> QUOTE(CJO @ May 31 2006, 09:15 PM)
>
> Just a short "ie" to the above post.
>
> We have a very small church here and we are the only town in Canada, that the cable station put 3abn on. It was a miracle. We now have 4 precious non adventists attending who came through 3abn. One just came 2 weeks ago. Heard Doug Bachelor. They have been through the Shawn Boonstra meetings and Doug Bachelor, and Cox's and Wahlbergs etc. etc. They are finding Jesus. They are precious souls that God is using 3abn to help them to find truth. I know there are many others all around the world who are finding Jesus in the same way. So I shudder for their souls, if the tares are plucked up, without God being the one to deal with this situation.
> Can you see my fear?

Yes, but remember that the world is the field, not the Church. The tares are in the world. We are not required to heartily embrace evil and celebrate injustice and glorify bullies in our own Church.

These are my thoughts, CJO

God Bless,

Pete

Posted by: beartrap Jun 1 2006, 12:59 AM

"You see, I believe that this bigger problem is what Linda has been dealing with all along. It's the precious souls who are finding Jesus through the dedicated and God fearing programs on 3abn.

3abn isn't Danny Shelton. Yes, He got it started and has been leading it. But 3aboon, I believe was led by God to win many thousands of souls to the truth. And that has been what is happening for years."

CJO, having spent close to fifteen years at 3ABN and in "the family", I will say difinitively that 3ABN IS Danny Shelton, and Danny Shelton is 3ABN. He himself says that in those very words, often.

"This situation is sao complicated. Yet, I believe that it's time for us to leave it in God's hands to deal with. And if not in this world; it will happen when God calls forth His Children. And I believe that it is going to happen very soon."

I can promise you that as we, the church, have not dealt with this situation it is now too late. Those who are dealing with it are in, and of, this world.

"None of us truly know the facts because we weren't there in the room or the corner etc. Only God knows. So how can we truly make a judgement on this situation. We Can't. So I say, leave it all in God's hands and we can rest assured that He will deal with everything in His time and way."

Actually, some of us have certainly been in the room, and in the corner. We are firsthand witnesses who know.

"We have a very small church here and we are the only town in Canada, that the cable station put 3abn on. It was a miracle."

I am aware of that, and I am also aware that if the CRTC knew what had happened, they would not use the term "miracle", they would say "illegal", pull 3ABN off the cable system, and fine them for lying and acting against Canadian law. When it was posted on the 3ABN website, I had it immediately removed so as to not tip off the CRTC.

Posted by: beartrap Jun 1 2006, 01:19 AM

QUOTE(gracetoyou @ May 31 2006, 07:34 PM)

Do the Steensons, E.T. Everett and Shelly Quinn all have Pentecostal backgrounds? If so, is there some reason that they, rather than those of solid Adventist background, have been given such high and influential positions within 3ABN?

I am not as familiar with Shelly's background, but the Steensons and E.T. come from the charimatic movement. Among charismatics, spiritual leaders are viewed as prophets and are not to be questioned. They have the full authority of God himself because they speak with the voice of God. The Steensons are very recent converts to the Adventists Church, and the Everetts are not Adventists. With my own ears I have heard Hal, Mollie, and E.T. say that Gods speaks to us through Danny. I have also heard people in the churches where I represented 3ABN say that I was privileged to be working with God's final prophet for the end times: Danny Shelton. They have said the Ellen White was the prophet for her times, and Danny is the final prophet.

Posted by: watchbird Jun 1 2006, 05:23 AM

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jun 1 2006, 12:59 AM)

CJO, having spent close to fifteen years at 3ABN and in "the family", I will say difinitively that 3ABN IS Danny Shelton, and Danny Shelton is 3ABN. He himself says that in those very words, often.

"This situation is sao complicated. Yet, I believe that it's time for us to leave it in God's hands to deal with. And if not in this world; it will happen when God calls forth His Children. And I believe that it is going to happen very soon."

I can promise you that as we, the church, have not dealt with this situation it is now too late. Those who are dealing with it are in, and of, this world.

"None of us truly know the facts because we weren't there in the room or the corner etc. Only God knows. So how can we truly make a judgement on this situation. We Can't. So I say, leave it all in God's hands and we can rest assured that He will deal with everything in His time and way."

Responding to CJO: What do you mean when you say "Leave it all in God's hands". Do you expect God to work directly without employing human hands? Is the old saying, "God has no hands but our hands" not as true when it comes to cleaning out evil as it is when speaking of helping the needy or spreading the gospel?

And to Beartrap: While it is true that had the church administrative officials acted more expeditiously as the situation has come to their attention, and that it may now be "too late" for them to act and accomplish what needs to be accomplished, that does not necessarily mean that it is "too late" for God to accomplish his purposes. God often delays his executive judgements so that on the one hand, men may have a chance to repent, and on the other hand so that evil may develop and show its true colors. If the evil at 3ABN is going to be fully expunged then it must be seen by onlookers, both in and outside our church, to be truly the evil that it is--lest those claiming that Danny is the current mouthpiece for God present him as a martyr for God once he has been fully exposed and deposed. God is not only God in the church. He is also God in the world, whether they recognize him as God or not. And He has often used those not of the "household of faith" to accomplish His purposes.

> QUOTE
>
> Actually, some of us have certainly been in the room, and in the corner. We are firsthand witnesses who know.
>
> "We have a very small church here and we are the only town in Canada, that the cable station put 3abn on. It was a miracle."
>
> I am aware of that, and I am also aware that if the CRTC knew what had happened, they would not use the term "miracle", they would say "illegal", pull 3ABN off the cable system, and fine them for lying and acting against Canadian law. When it was posted on the 3ABN website, I had it immediately removed so as to not tip off the CRTC.

To Beartrap: I wonder if you would elaborate on this for us. What is it about 3ABN that makes it illegal to be on cable in Canada? And conversely also, what is in Canadian law that makes it illegal for a cable system to put them on? Surely it is not merely that it is 24/7 religious programming. That would have been obvious to the cable system personell.

And to CJO: Perhaps once you learn what Beartrap knows, it may be time to go, hat in hand, to your local cable company and inform them of what you have just learned. Acting quickly upon the receipt of information always stands one in good stead with the law of the land, and also, I might add, with public opinion and with the reputaion of your church. I'd also suggest that you familiarize yourself with the presentations available on HOPETV and present this as an alternative. Since the programs that you mention are probably all carried by HOPETV this would be an easy switch for your members, both old and new, to make, with only a minimum of disillusionment with 3ABN. and none with the church that Danny claims to represent but does not.

See HOPETV information at http://www.hopetv.org/

Posted by: HUGGINS130 Jun 1 2006, 05:44 AM

beyond lurking...not even reading clay I read somewhere you've joined the Lady Tenor, SimplySaved, Calvin, and Huggins130 3abn lurk club...welcome aboard!!!

btw that's a real picture in my avatar of a new section of midtown Atlanta that is up and coming, called Atlantic Station...I took the picture this past weekend...nice huh...ok, now back to our regularly scheduled drama!!!

Posted by: watchbird Jun 1 2006, 06:00 AM

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jun 1 2006, 01:19 AM)

QUOTE

Do the Steensons, E.T. Everett and Shelly Quinn all have Pentecostal backgrounds? If so, is there some reason that they, rather than those of solid Adventist background, have been given such high and influential positions within 3ABN?

I am not as familiar with Shelly's background, but the Steensons and E.T. come from the charismatic movement. Among charismatics, spiritual leaders are viewed as prophets and are not to be questioned. They have the full authority of God himself because they speak with the voice of God. The Steensons are very recent converts to the Adventists Church, and the Everetts are not Adventists. With my own ears I have heard Hal, Mollie, and E.T. say that Gods speaks to us through Danny. I have also heard people in the churches where I represented 3ABN say that I was privileged to be working with God's final prophet for the end times: Danny Shelton. They have said the Ellen White was the prophet for her times, and Danny is the final prophet.

This well illustrates the affinity that the Pentecostals and certain "branches" of Adventism has for each other. And it is one that is not often really understood. either in the historical sense of it always being present, or in its various manifestations in the present. Mainline and Conservative Adventist spokespersons in general are very critical of Pentecostalism, though their criticisms are generally focused on a very narrow segment of doctrine, and most often on their forms of worship and music. But when it comes to the entire scope of doctrines, there are probably more that are presently infiltrating our church with encouragement from conservative sectors than there are those that are being effectively countered.

But, especially when it comes to areas which touch on Ellen White and a prophetic voice within the church, it is intriguing to realize that those who have rejected Ellen White are very often even more in league with Pentecostal teaching and practices in this area than are those who accept her as someone through whom God did indeed give direct messages to the Adventist church. I don't pretend to understand this, but I know from experiences that it is true. As one example of this, I'll note briefly the correspondence that I had with a woman, an ex-Adventist, still a Sabbath keeper, btw, who was very vocal on her opposition to both Ellen White and to the Adventist Church for their continued respect for her and her role in the church. Yet she was thoroughly enamored of the prophetic gift as it was manifested in various self-styled prophets, and frequently filled my mailbox with the latest of an assortment of their messages.

There are, no doubt, a number of explanations for this connection. But probably the most cogent one is that people who are serious about their religion (and there are such people all across the span from liberal to radical right wing conservatism) are also serious about getting a "word from the Lord". And they want it now, and direct, not filtered through any dead prophets, whether their writings be found in scripture or the writings of Ellen White. This not only represents a yearning for a truly contemporary "word from the Lord" , but it also represents a "hunger for the supernatural" which in turn causes them to be both envious of and susceptible to those who claim either direct connection with God or miracles of God attesting their "special status" with God.

For those who lightly regard the Sabbath and/or their Adventist church connections, leaving our church and moving to a Charismatic one can be seen as a very attractive alternative. But for those more devoted to either the Sabbath or the Adventist church, it is much more preferable to import what they think they want from Pentecostalism, even if that means hiring "real" Pentecostal preachers, baptising those that are willing to accept an Adventist facade, but not making this a condition of their continued employment.

As in so many areas, Danny has created nothing new, he is only capitalizing (pun intended) on what he has seen to already exist, though in less obtrusive ways than what he is doing with it.

Posted by: statrei Jun 1 2006, 06:25 AM

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jun 1 2006, 01:59 AM)

3abn isn't Danny Shelton. Yes, He got it started and has been leading it. But 3aboon, I believe was led by God to win many thousands of souls to the truth. And that has been what is happening for years."

What does it mean to win someone to the truth? We hear it said quite often but there is no clarity as to what it means.

Posted by: sister Jun 1 2006, 06:29 AM

QUOTE(CJO @ May 31 2006, 10:15 PM)

This post is for "Sister",

I don't really have the time to enter into many posts here; but I have been following your posts since you have been writing them on here. I don't know where you get all of your information, but if it is true, we have a very sad situation happening here. You may be completely right in what you have been posting here; yet we are dealing with a much bigger problem then withier you are right or wrong.

You see, I believe that this bigger problem is what Linda has been dealing with all along. It's the precious souls who are finding Jesus through the dedicated and God fearing programs on 3abn.

3abn isn't Danny Shelton. Yes, He got it started and has been leading it. But 3aboon, I believe was led by God to win many thousands of souls to the truth. And that has been what is happening for years.

Linda could have made waves, but she didn't, because she loves God and she listened to His voice to keep quiet, while taking the brunt of terrible rumors and a horrible defamation of character and more.... She loved those who found Jesus and never wanted to shake their faith in God.

The wheat and tares grow together and it isn't us that separates them. It's God. So as we stand and watch this whole situation, we can only add fuel to Satan's scheme if we continue on with the "facts"; only to harm so many honest new baby christians. Sometimes truth is truth, but look what it can do to harm others.

This situation is sao complicated. Yet, I believe that it's time for us to leave it in God's hands to deal with. And if not in this world; it will happen when God calls forth His Children. And I believe that it is going to happen very soon.

None of us truly know the facts because we weren't there in the room or the corner etc. Only God knows. So how can we truly make a judgement on this situation. We Can't. So I say, leave it all in God's hands and we can rest assured that He will deal with everything in His time and way.

With much love to all of you. Let's be ready for Jesus to come. Our Characters must reflect His or we will be lost too. Those are the issues that should occupy our minds. I know I have much to deal with to allow this to happen in my life.

CJO

Just a short "ie" to the above post.

We have a very small church here and we are the only town in Canada, that the cable station put 3abn on. It was a miracle. We now have 4 precious non adventists attending who came through 3abn. One just came 2 weeks ago. Heard Doug Bachelor. They have been through the Shawn Boonstra meetings and Doug Bachelor, and Cox's and Wahlbergs etc. etc. They are finding Jesus. They are precious souls that God is using 3abn to help them to find truth. I know there are many others all around the world who are finding Jesus in the same way. So I shudder for their souls, if the tares are plucked up, without God being the one to deal with this situation.
Can you see my fear..

In Christ,

CJO

:JO

would like to address some of the statements that you have made, which I have bolded.

agree that the programming available on 3ABN has strengthen the faith of many, but that same ›rogramming is also available elsewhere, i.e the Hope Channel and Safe TV. I have never questioned he fact of how valuable this programming has been. The administration of 3ABN and it's board are the ›roblem, not the programming, especially that produced from other sources. Separate it from the ›rogram carrier's administration and the house is cleaned.

.inda signed a severance contract which included a "gag order" of two years and that time period is ;wiftly coming to an end. I look forward to hearing her testimony soon.To perpetuate evil practices hrough silence is not something that can be applied to the influence of the voice of God speaking to .inda. The Bible is very clear upon this point, "What shall we say then? Shall we continue in sin that ;race may abound? Certainly not! How shall we who died to sin live any longer in it? Romans 6:1,2 \nd finally, many of us who were or are at 3ABN know the facts, we have been in the room, the ıallway and sitting in a corner. When a man believes in his own infallibility and that he speaks as God vithin his realm, many of the actions that are "behind the scenes" to the viewers are an open "secret" vithin the ministry.

hope this clarifies my position regarding 3ABN.

Posted by: HUGGINS130 Jun 1 2006, 06:41 AM

QUOTE(statrei @ Jun 1 2006, 06:25 AM)

> What does it mean to win someone to the truth? We hear it said quite often but there is no clarity as to what it means.

it means Jesus didn't mean he finished it all when he bowed his head and gave up the Ghost!!

Posted by: awesumtenor Jun 1 2006, 08:18 AM

> QUOTE(HUGGINS130 @ Jun 1 2006, 07:44 AM)
>
> beyond lurking...not even reading clay I read somewhere you've joined the Lady Tenor, SimplySaved, Calvin, and Huggins130 3abn lurk club...welcome aboard!!!
>
> btw that's a real picture in my avatar of a new section of midtown Atlanta that is up and coming, called Atlantic Station...I took the picture this past weekend...nice huh...ok, now back to our regularly scheduled drama!!!

For someone with no purported interest in this thread, why do you feel the need to continue posting in it?

Do you think you will be forgotten if you don't pipe up every so often? If, as you claim, you are not even bothering to read this thread, why do you think it noteworthy to point that out every few days or so? All it does is make your statement of how disinterested you are a lie; if you really had no interest in the thread you'd neither read it nor post in it... not even facetiously.

You'd just ignore it and move on to something you are interested in...

Selah.

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: meadbd Jun 1 2006, 09:13 AM

What does it mean to win someone to the truth? We hear it said quite often but there is no clarity as to what it means.
==========
It had better mean winning a person to a saving knowledge of Jesus Christ and NOT just 'winning' them to a set of Adventist doctrines.

Making the Good News of the Gospel so clear that a person confesses their sins to God and receives Jesus Christ as their personal Savior and Lord! That person enters into the 'joy of the Lord'! They start living for Jesus and He becomes the center of their thoughts. "They are a 'new creation'...the old is gone and the new has come"!
(2 Cor. 5:17). Jesus now controls their life...and that is the way they like it!

Posted by: gracetoyou Jun 1 2006, 09:50 AM

In regards to whether 3ABN is Danny Shelton or not, I understand both points of view. Danny obviously controls 3ABN, but the people who have been converted at least in part through 3ABN have not been converted because of Danny's inane ramblings, but because of the Adventist message in programs by Doug Batchelor, Mark Finley, etc.

This brings up the greatest concern about this whole situation. Sin and false doctrine always go hand in hand. If the evil powers that be are allowed to continue to control 3ABN, then expect to see and hear false doctrine being presented. For instance, John Lomacang's series on Revelation (of which I saw only a part) presented a futurist interpretation of the 7 trumpets (Rev. 8,9). Both futurism (most of Revelation pertains to the future) and preterism (most of Revelation was fulfilled in the first or first few centuries A.D.) originated from Roman Catholic Jesuits (Ribera and Alcasar respectively) to counteract the Protestant historicist interpretation which identified the papacy as a major player (the beast) in the Christian era. Why is Lomacang presenting Catholic-inspired theology?

What a coup if Satan could hijack 3ABN, which many Adventists trust and have invested millions of dollars in, and use it as a vehicle to subtly introduce false teachings and deceive thousands. First, gain credibility by presenting kosher Adventism, then, once trust is established, drop in error here and there.

Deceive Danny and his listeners into thinking that he is a special recipient of God's word to the masses and that all his impressions are from God, place charismatics (the false tongues and false miracles of Pentecostalism are a form of spiritualism) in decision-making positions and get rid of anyone (Linda and others) who might protest - and the stage is set for some major deceptions in the future unless the 3ABN "temple" is cleansed.

This whole situation parallels the problems in Adventism 100 years ago when Dr. Kellogg, the respected leader of the Battle Creek Sanitarium (the face of Adventism to the world), tried to introduce pantheism into the church. Both the Sanitarium and the Review and Herald building (which was going to publish Kellogg's book) were burned to the ground. This crisis was the "iceberg" that Ellen White saw in her dream in which God told her to "meet it." The Adventist church survived, but Kellogg and many Adventists (including leaders) left the church. Lewis Walton's book Omega II is an excellent account of that period in Adventist history with application to today.

I'm grateful to people like sister, beartrap, watchbird, et al., who are doing what they can to resolve the leadership crisis at 3ABN before it develops into a situation in which souls may be deceived and lost.

Posted by: Chez Jun 1 2006, 10:05 AM

QUOTE(awesumtenor @ Jun 1 2006, 08:18 AM)

For someone with no purported interest in this thread, why do you feel the need to continue posting in it?

Do you think you will be forgotten if you don't pipe up every so often? If, as you claim, you are not even bothering to read this thread, why do you think it noteworthy to point that out every few days or so? All it does is make your statement of how disinterested you are a lie; if you really had no interest in the thread you'd neither read it nor post in it... not even facetiously.

You'd just ignore it and move on to something you are interested in...

Selah.

In His service,
Mr. J

'hank you for your post. I was wondering the same thing. Why would one read or post on this thread f he/she is not interested?

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jun 1 2006, 01:19 AM)

I am not as familiar with Shelly's background, but the Steensons and E.T. come from the charimatic movement. Among charismatics, spiritual leaders are viewed as prophets and are not to be questioned. They have the full authority of God himself because they speak with the voice of God. The Steensons are very recent converts to the Adventists Church, and the Everetts are not Adventists. With my own ears I have heard Hal, Mollie, and E.T. say that Gods speaks to us through Danny. I have also heard people in the churches where I represented 3ABN say that I was privileged to be working with God's final prophet for the end times: Danny Shelton. They have said the Ellen White was the prophet for her times, and Danny is the final prophet.

think Shelly grew up in the Church of Christ denomination. She mentioned her affiliation with the :hurch of Christ denomination during a television interview. She was giving her testimony and nentioned that she had been a member of various denominations, had her own ministry, and studied he Word, which brought her to the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

Posted by: beartrap Jun 1 2006, 10:07 AM

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jun 1 2006, 05:23 AM)

To Beartrap: I wonder if you would elaborate on this for us. What is it about 3ABN that makes it illegal to be on cable in Canada? And conversely also, what is in Canadian law that makes it illegal for a cable system to put them on? Surely it is not merely that it is 24/7 religious programming. That would have been obvious to the cable system personell.

n Canada the CRTC is the federal commission that governs television and radio. Cable, broadcast, and)BS operators are not allowed to distribute a network that has not been approved for distribution by he CRTC. 3ABN has applied for approval many times and been denied for a variety of reasons. They lo not look kindly on foreign, single-faith, religious networks that denigrate other faiths.

n Spences Bridge, and a few other towns, the local cable operators were given satellite and/or nsertion equipment and chose to quietly add 3ABN for some Adventists in spite of the fact that it is llegal.

'o my knowledge, Hope Channel has not been approved by the CRTC either.

t is true, however, that 3ABN is being carried in a legal manner on one of the islands back east. There s a loophole in Canadian law that allows this on that island. (Sorry, I failed to remeber this in my first)ost on this subject, and perhaps this is the system that CJO was refering to.)

Posted by: caribbean sda Jun 1 2006, 11:24 AM

They do not look kindly on foreign, single-faith, religious networks that denigrate other faiths.

...and this is 3ABN? hmm...

Posted by: watchbird Jun 1 2006, 11:30 AM

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jun 1 2006, 10:07 AM)

In Canada the CRTC is the federal commission that governs television and radio. Cable, broadcast, and DBS operators are not allowed to distribute a network that has not been approved for distribution by the CRTC. 3ABN has applied for approval many times and been denied for a variety of reasons. They do not look kindly on foreign, single-faith, religious networks that denigrate other faiths.

In Spences Bridge, and a few other towns, the local cable operators were given satellite and/or insertion equipment and chose to quietly add 3ABN for some Adventists in spite of the fact that it is illegal.

To my knowledge, Hope Channel has not been approved by the CRTC either.

It is true, however, that 3ABN is being carried in a legal manner on one of the islands back east. There is a loophole in Canadian law that allows this on that island. (Sorry, I failed to remeber this in my first post on this subject, and perhaps this is the system that CJO was refering to.)

Has HOPE Channel tried to get approval? If they can't, would Adventists in Canada be better advised to try and get Safe TV or even Loma Linda Broadcasting Network approved? Who is it that would instigate a request for approval? Adventist listeners in local Canadian localities? Or the Channel owners themselves?

Posted by: beartrap Jun 1 2006, 02:59 PM

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jun 1 2006, 11:30 AM)

Has HOPE Channel tried to get approval? If they can't, would Adventists in Canada be better advised to try and get Safe TV or even Loma Linda Broadcasting Network approved? Who is it that would instigate a request for approval? Adventist listeners in local Canadian localities? Or the Channel owners themselves?

Yes, Hope Channel is trying. SafeTV and LLBN are also American single-faith religious network with almost no Canadian content. The approval process is very lengthy and can take years of trying for almost any network.

Posted by: watchbird Jun 1 2006, 03:15 PM

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jun 1 2006, 02:59 PM)

Yes, Hope Channel is trying. SafeTV and LLBN are also American single-faith religious network with almost no Canadian content. The approval process is very lengthy and can take years of trying for almost any network.

What then is the real criteria? Is it not only that more than one "faith" must be represented, but also that a significant amout of the programming must originate in Canada? Or is the point of origination also not the issue, but that there has to be "Canadian content"? Whatever that means. Perhaps you could explicate a bit more? I had thought that perhaps LLBN, since it was at least as much health content as religious, and since it is known so internationally, might not be considered a "single-faith religious network". Or is it the ownership which is the gating factor? What does this mean in terms of other religious networks? Does Canada simply refuse all such licensing?

And on another, but related topic, what about satellite? How far north can one get good satellite reception? IOW, is the 18" satellite which picks up both HOPETV and LLBN and 3ABN an option for Canadians?

Posted by: princessdi Jun 1 2006, 04:33 PM

I think that phrase is a huge part of it. For the most part, you find no other religious programming that denigrates other faiths. However, we defintiely have our prophecy doctrine which refers to the pope/catholism as the beast, and just plain evil. Not to mention our swipes at everyone else for worshipping on Sunday. I don't think we realize how often this comes up, because we are comfortable with it as part of our belief system/doctrine.

QUOTE(caribbean sda @ Jun 1 2006, 10:24 AM)

They do not look kindly on foreign, single-faith, religious networks that denigrate other faiths.
...and this is 3ABN? hmm...

Posted by: beartrap Jun 1 2006, 05:13 PM

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jun 1 2006, 04:15 PM)

What then is the real criteria? Is it not only that more than one "faith" must be represented, but also that a significant amout of the programming must originate in Canada? Or is the point of origination also not the issue, but that there has to be "Canadian content"? Whatever that means. Perhaps you could explicate a bit more? I had thought that perhaps LLBN, since it was at least as much health content as religious, and since it is known so internationally, might not be considered a "single-faith religious network". Or is it the ownership which is the gating factor? What does this mean in terms of other religious networks? Does Canada simply refuse all such licensing?

And on another, but related topic, what about satellite? How far north can one get good satellite reception? IOW, is the 18" satellite which picks up both HOPETV and LLBN and 3ABN an option for Canadians?

'he criteria is rather complicated and seems to occasionally change. Canada is very protective about :ompetition. They try to keep competition out of their country. If a network originates in another :ountry it is in direct competition with Canadian networks of the same, or similar, genre. It is possible hat the numbers have changed, but it used to be that they required 60% Canadian content before a ıetwork could even be considered.

'hey are also very protective of fairness in the dissemination of religious content. They have worked ıard to keep the mandate that all religions be given equal time. They are especially harsh with any 'eligious group that attacks others. The fundamental doctrines that make Adventists what they are, 'equire a consistent attack on virtually everyone else. If one watches any of the evangelistic things on ıny of our networks they will see that much of what we are is based entirely on attacking others.

\s one goes further North, it can become neccessary to use a 28 inch, or even a one meter dish. They ›rovide a more solid reception that doesn't go away with every weather problem. SkyAngel is illegal in :anada, but I guess that is no longer an issue.

Posted by: watchbird Jun 1 2006, 05:26 PM

QUOTE(princessdi @ Jun 1 2006, 04:33 PM)

I think that phrase is a huge part of it. For the most part, you find no other religious programming that denigrates other faiths. However, we defintiely have our prophecy doctrine which refers to the pope/catholism as the beast, and just plain evil. Not to mention our swipes at everyone else for worshipping on Sunday. I don't think we realize how often this comes up, because we are comfortable with it as part of our belief system/doctrine.

Vhile it is true that our Sabbath doctrine is different than what most other Christians teach, the attack node upon the RCC is hardly unique to Adventism. In fact, most of the extreme teachings within \dventism against the RCC is fueled by Fundamentalist literature from other groups. I don't know ıbout TV religious programming, but certainly, books and websites that are much more anti-RCC than ıny but the extreme fringe of Adventism are prevelant.

'his may have some bearing on what looks to us like "strange bedfellows" with so many non-SDAs nvolved in 3ABN. There is a lot in common between right wing Adventist fanatics and Pentecostal eachings in this area, as well as in the area of "Divine Guidance" and the hunger for supernatural niracles.

Posted by: Observer Jun 1 2006, 05:32 PM

Here is some additional on Polly's Place, and Linda, which was posted in another forum, by Mr. Matthews:

****

Dear _____:
>
> I believe in Linda Shelton's innocence of the allegations that have been > hurled against her. My concern however is this, if she were guilty of > what she is being accused of, who should reach out and help her, and > reclaim her for the Lord? How should we as a church provide healing and > safety for her? Where and to whom should she go for help? In His > time God will reveal the truth of Linda's innoncence and then there > will be no doubt that He is in control. An individual, regardless of > his/her influence, wealth, or education is not as powerful as God.

> Something is dreadfully wrong with us as Christians if we prefer to > protect an institution rather than a person who is made in the image of > God. Individuals who stand by and see injustice being done to another > human being and refuse to take a stand against the injustice and those > who purport the injustice will have to give an account to God.
> "Therefore to him that knowleth to do good, and doeth it not, to him it > is sin." James 4:17. God will vindicate Linda in His time, and in > His own way. When this happens His name will be glorifed and it will be > obvious that He is the One who orchestrated and ordained it. Polly's > Place Network is seeking to glorify Him by helping to fulfill His > mission as He declares in Luke 4:18.
>
> In answer to your question, here are some ways in which your academy SDA > church can help Pollly's Place Network: distribute our literature, > engage in fundraising activities for the Network, provide support for > abused individuals who might be in your church, and sponsor events that > will raise the awareness of abuse in our homes, schools, churches and > communities. Linda and I will be happy to participate in a > community awareness program that your church might sponsor. We are very > passionate about helping our hurting members find healing so that they > can break the intergenerational cycle of domestic violence and abuse in > its many forms. (As I travel I am amazed at how many individuals > dealing with domestic violence and abuse keep quiet because they are > too ashamed to talk about it. Or are fearful that they will not be > believed, or they might be ostracized from the church. But when someone > addresses it from the pulpit, they feel that they have permission to get > help.)
>
> So we provide ongoing education for pastors and church leaders. We have > a team of Christian professionals who put on these educational programs.
> If you have the opportunity to share our information with your local > conference, we could conduct workshops for their pastors and church > leaders. The problem of domestic violence, sexual abuse, religious > abuse, etc. occurring in our homes, schools and churches is real.
> Jesus Christ is real, and our profession of true Godliness must also be > real as we demonstrate practical help for the wounded.
> >
> > Thank you very much for your donation. We appreciate your willingness > to support this ministry. Most of all we solicit your prayers.
> >
> Polly's Place Network is a ministry that is governed by the Upper > Columbia Conference Corporation, but financially supported by > individuals like you who want to Help Empower Abused Lives. Our > headquarters are located in the Upper Columbia Conference. I praise God > for Max Torkelson and the other administrators who have welcomed this > ministry with open arms.
>
> You can contact me (509) 838-2761 if you have additional questions > and/or comments. Blessings to you and your family.
>
> Sincererely,
>
> Mable Dunbar, President
> Polly's Place Network

****

Posted by: watchbird Jun 1 2006, 05:35 PM

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jun 1 2006, 05:13 PM)

The criteria is rather complicated and seems to occasionally change. Canada is very protective about competition. They try to keep competition out of their country. If a network originates in another country it is in direct competition with Canadian networks of the same, or similar, genre. It is possible that the numbers have changed, but it used to be that they required 60% Canadian content before a network could even be considered.

They are also very protective of fairness in the dissemination of religious content. They have worked hard to keep the mandate that all religions be given equal time. They are especially harsh with any religious group that attacks others. The fundamental doctrines that make Adventists what they are, require a consistent attack on virtually everyone else. If one watches any of the evangelistic things on any of our networks they will see that much of what we are is based entirely on attacking others.

As one goes further North, it can become neccessary to use a 28 inch, or even a one meter dish. They provide a more solid reception that doesn't go away with every weather problem. SkyAngel is illegal in Canada, but I guess that is no longer an issue.

Are there Christian networks which originate in Canada? Or does their "fairness in the dissemination of religious content" laws extend to non-Christian religions to such an extent that even a mixed Christian denominational network would be illegal?

If what you say about our programming is true, then we are in sad shape indeed. For I don't see Adventism in that light, and I had thought that our Media Center produced programming was more oriented to consideration for others than this. I am aware of the "cringe factor" that takes over when I occasionally hear the kind of evangelistic programming that is typically carried on 3ABN.

When you say that SkyAngel is "illegal" in Canada. Does that mean that a private citizen there is breaking the law if they have a satellite that can bring in US signals? Do you think that same sort of ban will be put on the new dish?

Posted by: HUGGINS130 Jun 1 2006, 09:25 PM

QUOTE

For someone with no purported interest in this thread, why do you feel the need to continue posting in it?

The same reason you get up to go to work, because you can...

QUOTE

Do you think you will be forgotten if you don't pipe up every so often?

Have never tried to be remembered...it's not as if anyone knows me on a personal level anyway...

QUOTE

If, as you claim, you are not even bothering to read this thread, why do you think it noteworthy to point that out every few days or so?

Only because the good Lord has given me the ability to spell using a keyboard...

QUOTE

All it does is make your statement of how disinterested you are a lie; if you really had no interest in the thread you'd neither read it nor post in it... not even facetiously.

so you say

QUOTE

You'd just ignore it and move on to something you are interested in...

so you say!!!

new yawk son!!!Peace...

Posted by: awesumtenor Jun 1 2006, 09:39 PM

QUOTE(HUGGINS130 @ Jun 1 2006, 11:20 PM)

gotta get my 5000 post somehow...and until you come prevent me from typing in my own house on my own computer, at Calvin's BSDA site, neither you nor anyone else, can't prevent me from saying I am not interested...now whether you believe me to be a liar or not, it doesn't matter...to you I have nothing to prove...moving on...still lurking...and as far as me posting in this, I read what Darius said because it interested me, and it had nothing to do with 3abn other than the fact that some of these folks have said in times past that 3abn has been used by God to bring folks to the truth...God used a donkey!!!

5000 posts... and when all is said and done, if Shakespeare were asked of the tale told by them I elieve he'd be compelled to say it was "full of sound and fury, signifying nothing"...But you're right, Thomas; no one can stop you from acting like a 'donkey' if that is what you want to do... but dont be surprised when they conclude you must be one... and keep in mind that because God used one "donkey" that spoke does not obligate him to use all of them.

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: HUGGINS130 Jun 1 2006, 09:47 PM

QUOTE(awesumtenor @ Jun 1 2006, 09:39 PM)

5000 posts... and when all is said and done, if Shakespeare were asked of the tale told by them I elieve he'd be compelled to say it was "full of sound and fury, signifying nothing"...But you're right, Thomas; no one can stop you from acting like a 'donkey' if that is what you want to do... but dont be surprised when they conclude you must be one... and keep in mind that because God used one "donkey" that spoke does not obligate him to use all of them.

In His service,
Mr. J

QUOTE

A few may lack common sense altogether

using your signature line, this explains it all!!!moving on...got better things to do!!!

Posted by: Fran Jun 1 2006, 10:05 PM

About Dr Dunbar;

I received this from someone who shares my desire to stop abuse and to also help Dr Dunbar in anyway we can in her Ministries. Polly's Place needs our help. What can we do?

QUOTE

Fran,

I have a website for online sales. It has auction capabilities much like eBay. We are in the process of pulling a fundraising auction together for Polly's Place. We need donated items, buyers,and those willing to spread the word ,especially thru their e-mail lists and wherever they can think of. Are you interested????
Bonnie

www.mysilverneedle.com

There is something we can do to help replace what they did not get from ASI.

Posted by: princessdi Jun 1 2006, 11:04 PM

Uh Gentlemen, your discourse is sevrely off.

QUOTE(HUGGINS130 @ Jun 1 2006, 08:47 PM)

using your signature line, this explains it all!!!moving on...got better things to do!!!

Posted by: HUGGINS130 Jun 1 2006, 11:13 PM

QUOTE(princessdi @ Jun 1 2006, 11:04 PM)

Uh Gentlemen, your discourse is sevrely

True to the fact Di, I stand corrected, but at least I am not saying all my actions are in "His Service," I know better than that...im not the one trying to teach folks the Bible while acting contrary to what I preach, nor am I wasting my time bench warming pews while acting otherwise by that which in my hearing the teachers teach...although I don't attend church, it is no excuse to act unchristlike, while those who claim to be Elders, act such a way...I know better and will act accordingly...

Posted by: beartrap Jun 1 2006, 11:17 PM

QUOTE(Fran @ Jun 1 2006, 11:05 PM)

About Dr Dunbar;

I received this from someone who shares my desire to stop abuse and to also help Dr Dunbar in anyway we can in her Ministries. Polly's Place needs our help. What can we do?
There is something we can do to help replace what they did not get from ASI.

Very interesting. Worth looking into. Thanks Fran.

Posted by: beartrap Jun 1 2006, 11:28 PM

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jun 1 2006, 06:35 PM)

Are there Christian networks which originate in Canada? Or does their "fairness in the dissemination of religious content" laws extend to non-Christian religions to such an extent that even a mixed Christian denominational network would be illegal?

If what you say about our programming is true, then we are in sad shape indeed. For I don't see Adventism in that light, and I had thought that our Media Center produced programming was more oriented to consideration for others than this. I am aware of the "cringe factor" that takes over when I occasionally hear the kind of evangelistic programming that is typically carried on 3ABN.

When you say that SkyAngel is "illegal" in Canada. Does that mean that a private citizen there is breaking the law if they have a satellite that can bring in US signals? Do you think that same sort of ban will be put on the new dish?

Yes, there is a religious network that originates in Canada. I don't remember its name right now. They carry programs from a number of different religions.

Yes, Adventism is very much oriented toward denigrating other denominations and religions in a very public way. Our evangelistic campaigns are based on this.

SkyAngel is a subscription based multi-channel distribution DBS system originating in the United States, and is therefor illegal in Canada. Free-to-air satellite networks on AMC-4 are not illegal. Yes, a private citizen using SkyAngel in Canada is breaking the law the same as DirecTV, and DishNetwork.

Posted by: Fran Jun 2 2006, 01:23 AM

Adventist Review; Haven't read it yet; I am afraid to.

QUOTE

The Divorce and Remarriage Challenge http://www.adventistreview.org/2002-1534/story3.html How the church deals with a painful issue.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jun 2 2006, 09:13 AM

QUOTE(Fran @ Jun 2 2006, 02:23 AM)

Adventist Review; Haven't read it yet; I am afraid to.

The story on divorce and remarriage is one of those Adventist Review "rear window" stories: They are experts at where the vehicle has been, but seem politically too cautious to say where the vehicle is going. The story is mostly written in the past tense. It has no point of view that you could nail down.

It just says, "The Seventh-day Adventist Church's protracted journey to this point has certainly had its difficulties." I think anyone who follows BSDA noticed that two years ago, if not earlier.

Posted by: watchbird Jun 2 2006, 10:01 AM

QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jun 2 2006, 09:13 AM)

The story on divorce and remarriage is one of those Adventist Review "rear window" stories: They are experts at where the vehicle has been, but seem politically too cautious to say where the vehicle is going. The story is mostly written in the past tense. It has no point of view that you could nail down.

It just says, "The Seventh-day Adventist Church's protracted journey to this point has certainly had its difficulties." I think anyone who follows BSDA noticed that two years ago, if not earlier.

\ctually they have cut a great deal from the story of where the "vehicle has been." They did not, for :xample say anything about what the the "pilot program" at LLU was, nor what the 'ecommendationswere that the committee brought to the GC. They also didn't mention that what :ame out of GC was only a tattered remnant of what was asked for, or that for some hours, it seemed ıs though they would not even get this much change, due to the zealous activity by the ultra-right ıctivists to block the whole thing.

Posted by: statrei Jun 2 2006, 12:25 PM

The church has no message for the world on marriage because we have found a way to ignore all that the Bible teaches about marriage, choosing rather to push "unique" theories even when it should be obvious that they are wrong. It is a shame and a disgrace.

Posted by: inga Jun 2 2006, 12:46 PM

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jun 2 2006, 12:28 AM)

Yes, there is a religious network that originates in Canada. I don't remember its name right now. They carry programs from a number of different religions.

\ewfoundland got a few concessions from the dominion when it joined. So their rules are a bit lifferent, and that's why we have a network based in Newfoundland. And because it is "Canadian :ontent," programs developed through it can be aired in Canada.

3y the way, we have our own "It Is Written" program originally directed by Henry Feyerabend, then Shawn Boonstra (until he was lured to the US0, and it is now directed by Bill Santos) See ıttp://www.iiw.ca/.

QUOTE

Yes, Adventism is very much oriented toward denigrating other denominations and religions in a very public way. Our evangelistic campaigns are based on this.

'hough I agree with most things you post, "beartrap," I do disagree most thoroughly with this. It is rue that 3ABN seems to feature some evangelists who base their campaigns on denigrating other lenominations. I shudder every time a certain popular evangelist speaks because I am uncomfortable vith his manner, and once, when I accidentally saw a portion of his presentation he left me open-nouthed at the audacity and un-Christlike spirit demonstrated.

\ot all evangelists preach that way. When Amazing Facts first got started with Joe Crews, I 'emember being uncomfortable with his approach -- hard-bitten and confrontational. We were at \ndrews University at the time, and there was a campaign to hand out the "This may startle you, ›ut ..." tracts, based on "amazing facts." I remember thinking that anyone converted by that approach vould not be converted to Christ, but I hoped that the people following up with Bible studies would ;upply the missing ingredients.

'hat was a long time ago, and I've grown in my understanding since then. I am pleased to note that vhile Doug Batchelor still demonstrates some of the "amazing facts" heritage, he strives to make his ›resentations Christ-centered, as they should be.

Ellen White specifically warned against the kind of religion/approach which you characterize as being "Adventist." She counseled ministers to "get close" to ministers of other denominations. Among other things, that would nowadays mean joining the local ministerial associations and cooperating in community outreach whenever possible. I know many ministers do exactly that.

Ellen White also wrote that "The last rays of merciful light, the last message of mercy to be given to the world, is a revelation of His character of love. The children of God are to manifest His glory. In their own life and character they are to reveal what the grace of God has done for them." (Christ's Object Lessons, p. 415)

That is our mission today -- to reveal to the world what the grace of God has done for us. That is the "message" that will precipitate the "final events" because it will bring down the wrath of Satan on the body of Christ, God's last-day people, just as it brought down the wrath of Satan on the physical body of Christ.

Iknow that from the General Conference level, this kind of Adventism is being promoted. Through the Review this kind of Adventism is being promoted. In fact, through all official publications and other media, including HopeTV, this kind of Adventism is being promoted. It's probably the recognition that we need to project the love of Christ as a body that the GC adopted the slogan, "The Caring Church" some years back. Unfortunately we, as members, don't always demonstrate that slogan in our lives.

It is possible to preach the Sabbath in a winning and attractive way without putting anyone down. Of course, Sunday keepers who don't want to hear the truth will be offended, but let us not give reason for offense!! I believe this "winning and attractive" way is what Ellen White meant when she wrote that she saw that in the future the Sabbath would be preached "more fully." The Sabbath is not only the "right day to keep," according to the law, but it is the memorial of God's creative act in the creation of our world. As such it is a testimony to His creative power -- an assurance that He has the power to re-create us in His image. It is a memorial of His "rest" from the work of creating the world, and it gives us rest in our busy lives -- a mini vacation every single week! It is also symbolic of our "rest" from our "own works" and our dependence of the work that Christ did for us on the cross. This is a nutshell view, but it can be and should be presented in a very persuasive and winning way.

All our doctrines should be presented in a Christ-centered way, or they should not be presented at all. If we cannot present a doctrine in a way that demonstrates Christ's character of love, let's leave well enough alone and not present it until we understand it.

You know, at least someone at 3ABN had an idea that God's message for this time is a message of mercy. The slogan of "Mending broken people" fits right in. If only they actually did that, instead of breaking whole people so they need mending!!!!!!

Posted by: beartrap Jun 2 2006, 07:23 PM

QUOTE(inga @ Jun 2 2006, 01:46 PM)

Newfoundland got a few concessions from the dominion when it joined. So their rules are a bit different, and that's why we have a network based in Newfoundland. And because it is "Canadian content," programs developed through it can be aired in Canada.

By the way, we have our own "It Is Written" program originally directed by Henry Feyerabend, then Shawn Boonstra (until he was lured to the US0, and it is now directed by Bill Santos) See http://www.iiw.ca/.
Though I agree with most things you post, "beartrap," I do disagree most thoroughly with this. It is true that 3ABN seems to feature some evangelists who base their campaigns on denigrating other denominations. I shudder every time a certain popular evangelist speaks because I am uncomfortable with his manner, and once, when I accidentally saw a portion of his presentation he left me open-mouthed at the audacity and un-Christlike spirit demonstrated.

Not all evangelists preach that way. When Amazing Facts first got started with Joe Crews, I remember being uncomfortable with his approach -- hard-bitten and confrontational. We were at Andrews University at the time, and there was a campaign to hand out the "This may startle you, but ..." tracts, based on "amazing facts." I remember thinking that anyone converted by that approach would not be converted to Christ, but I hoped that the people following up with Bible studies would supply the missing ingredients.

That was a long time ago, and I've grown in my understanding since then. I am pleased to note that while Doug Batchelor still demonstrates some of the "amazing facts" heritage, he strives to make his presentations Christ-centered, as they should be.

Ellen White specifically warned against the kind of religion/approach which you characterize as being "Adventist." She counseled ministers to "get close" to ministers of other denominations. Among other things, that would nowadays mean joining the local ministerial associations and cooperating in community outreach whenever possible. I know many ministers do exactly that.

Ellen White also wrote that "The last rays of merciful light, the last message of mercy to be given to the world, is a revelation of His character of love. The children of God are to manifest His glory. In their own life and character they are to reveal what the grace of God has done for them." (Christ's Object Lessons, p. 415)

That is our mission today -- to reveal to the world what the grace of God has done for us. That is the "message" that will precipitate the "final events" because it will bring down the wrath of Satan on the body of Christ, God's last-day people, just as it brought down the wrath of Satan on the physical body of Christ.

Iknow that from the General Conference level, this kind of Adventism is being promoted. Through the Review this kind of Adventism is being promoted. In fact, through all official publications and other media, including HopeTV, this kind of Adventism is being promoted. It's probably the recognition that we need to project the love of Christ as a body that the GC adopted the slogan, "The Caring Church" some years back. Unfortunately we, as members, don't always demonstrate that slogan in our lives.

It is possible to preach the Sabbath in a winning and attractive way without putting anyone down. Of course, Sunday keepers who don't want to hear the truth will be offended, but let us not give reason for offense!! I believe this "winning and attractive" way is what Ellen White meant when she wrote that she saw that in the future the Sabbath would be preached "more fully." The Sabbath is not only the "right day to keep," according to the law, but it is the memorial of God's creative act in the creation of our world. As such it is a testimony to His creative power -- an assurance that He has the power to re-create us in His image. It is a memorial of His "rest" from the work of creating the world, and it gives us rest in our busy lives -- a mini vacation every single week! It is also symbolic of our "rest" from our "own works" and our dependence of the work that Christ did for us on the cross. This is a nutshell view, but it can be and should be presented in a very persuasive and winning way.

All our doctrines should be presented in a Christ-centered way, or they should not be presented at all. If we cannot present a doctrine in a way that demonstrates Christ's character of love, let's leave well enough alone and not present it until we understand it.

You know, at least someone at 3ABN had an idea that God's message for this time is a message of mercy. The slogan of "Mending broken people" fits right in. If only they actually did that, instead of breaking whole people so they need mending!!!!!!

Thanks Inga, and I hope you are right. I can only speak from my observations.

Posted by: sister Jun 3 2006, 08:34 PM

QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jun 1 2006, 12:29 AM)

I have some comments.
3ABN is Danny Shelton.

Judge Barbara S. Rowe, in the 3ABN Illinois Tax Case, ruled that 3ABN is a private Shelton business, based on the evidence presented to the court.

I've been to Thompsonville, and I've come away with the impression that 3ABN is 100 percent Danny Shelton. In fact, I think there is nothing about 3ABN that is not Danny Shelton. The 3ABN often-repeated slogan, "Remember, this is God's ministry, not Danny's ministry," strikes me as being a carefully constructed misrepresentation of the facts.

It is an interesting fact that after Linda was fired, Danny put more of his relatives onto the payroll in the "family business". It appears that almost the entire Shelton clan has returned to the fold at 3ABN. Interesting...

As to the slogen, I agree with Panama Pete.

Posted by: HUGGINS130 Jun 4 2006, 10:50 PM

sofa1.gif TVsnack.

Posted by: sonshineonme Jun 4 2006, 11:50 PM

Hmmm...

Keep an eye out, I think things are about to get even more interesting....

Posted by: Uncle Sam Jun 5 2006, 08:49 AM

QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jun 4 2006, 10:50 PM)

Hmmm...
Keep an eye out, I think things are about to get even more interesting....

I have been reading here all of the negative things going on at 3ABN. There are a few things I don't understand. I have been to 3ABN and have seen Danny's house, been to John Lomacang's house. They are nice but not what I would call extravagant. I don't know but was all of this being written here before the Linda saga began? Was all of this OK or did "we" not know about all of this before? Linda lived there had all of the same perks, why now is it wrong? Also, if Linda is innocent can she not sue for slander? Even if she is not able to tell her side of the story she should be able to defend herself so all of this will stop. If she is unable to do it the courts should be able to stop it. You all say Danny threatens to take people to court so why not do the same? Also, it is stated Linda went on "vacation" with this Dr. is that true? After her and Danny split did she have a relationship with the Dr?

I don't understand all of this. If Danny is so evil he needs to be stopped! If this is true than take some real action. I do not believe so many people are being fooled. Mark Finley and Doug Batchelor seem to be smart guys, as well as others. Surely they would have seen past the charade, if that is what it is...

I believe the devil is having a good old laugh about all of this. I believe 3ABN can/should be discussed but in a helping way, not just gossip. If you have the truth state it, make it make a difference. But if it is only to hurt the person, or ministry than it is only gossip.....

Posted by: Chez Jun 5 2006, 08:54 AM

QUOTE(HUGGINS130 @ Jun 4 2006, 10:50 PM)

sofa1.gif TVsnack

You just need to stop it! LOL!! rofl

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jun 5 2006, 09:30 AM

QUOTE(Uncle Sam @ Jun 5 2006, 09:49 AM)

Mark Finley and Doug Batchelor [Amazing Facts] seem to be smart guys, as well as others. Surely they would have seen past the charade, if that is what it is...

http://www.ereach.se/resources/mediamissionary.html

A quote from Three Angels Lifetstyle TV:

"We are also working closely with our partners, Three Angels Broadcasting Network and Amazing Facts in the USA...."

Dear U.S.,

Amazing Facts is listed as a "partner" with 3ABN in Three Angels Lifestyle TV.

Therefore, I think there is the possibility that Amazing Facts is too close to the trees to see the forest.

Posted by: watchbird Jun 5 2006, 10:00 AM

QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jun 5 2006, 09:30 AM)

http://www.ereach.se/resources/mediamissionary.html
A quote from Three Angels Lifetstyle TV:

"We are also working closely with our partners, Three Angels Broadcasting Network and Amazing Facts in the USA...."

Dear U.S.,

Amazing Facts is listed as a "partner" with 3ABN in Three Angels Lifestyle TV.

Therefore, I think there is the possibility that Amazing Facts is too close to the trees to see the forest.

Partners are partners. What more needs to be said? Partners who don't take the trouble to know what other partners are doing are also culpable for the trouble that their partners get into.

Aren't they?

Posted by: statrei Jun 5 2006, 10:16 AM

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jun 5 2006, 11:00 AM)

Partners are partners. What more needs to be said? Partners who don't take the trouble to know what other partners are doing are also culpable for the trouble that their partners get into.

Aren't they?

It is time we become more rigorous in our usage. Most times people identify their "partners" they are not using the term in its legal sense, but mean someone who is doing something with them.

Posted by: sonshineonme Jun 5 2006, 10:50 AM

QUOTE(Uncle Sam @ Jun 5 2006, 06:49 AM)

> I have been reading here all of the negative things going on at 3ABN. There are a few things I don't understand. I have been to 3ABN and have seen Danny's house, been to John Lomacang's house. They are nice but not what I would call extravagant. I don't know but was all of this being written here before the Linda saga began? Was all of this OK or did "we" not know about all of this before? Linda lived there had all of the same perks, why now is it wrong? Also, if Linda is innocent can she not sue for slander? Even if she is not able to tell her side of the story she should be able to defend herself so all of this will stop. If she is unable to do it the courts should be able to stop it. You all say Danny threatens to take people to court so why not do the same? Also, it is stated Linda went on "vacation" with this Dr. is that true? After her and Danny split did she have a relationship with the Dr?
>
> I don't understand all of this. If Danny is so evil he needs to be stopped! If this is true than take some real action. I do not believe so many people are being fooled. Mark Finley and Doug Batchelor seem to be smart guys, as well as others. Surely they would have seen past the charade, if that is what it is...
>
> I believe the devil is having a good old laugh about all of this. I believe 3ABN can/should be discussed but in a helping way, not just gossip. If you have the truth state it, make it make a difference. But if it is only to hurt the person, or ministry than it is only gossip.....

Are you certain you have read everything? You aksed questions that have been long answered and confirmed by the very individuals that were present. And, I'm sure the devil is laughing too, but not for the reasons you mentioned. Things are getting done. Keep an eye out...

Posted by: awesumtenor Jun 5 2006, 10:56 AM

> QUOTE(statrei @ Jun 5 2006, 12:16 PM)
>
> It is time we become more rigorous in our usage. Most times people identify their "partners" they are not using the term in its legal sense, but mean someone who is doing something with them.

That "something" is not being done without there being a legal delineation of the rights and responsibilities of all parties involved in the partnership... they arent just going to trust their 'partner' based on a handshake and a smile.

This, after all, is America...

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: princessdi Jun 5 2006, 11:05 AM

You are right, ALL are not being fooled, some are just looking the other way, for the good of the "ministry(?)".

> QUOTE(Uncle Sam @ Jun 5 2006, 07:49 AM)

I have been reading here all of the negative things going on at 3ABN. There are a few things I don't understand. I have been to 3ABN and have seen Danny's house, been to John Lomacang's house. They are nice but not what I would call extravagant. I don't know but was all of this being written here before the Linda saga began? Was all of this OK or did "we" not know about all of this before? Linda lived there had all of the same perks, why now is it wrong? Also, if Linda is innocent can she not sue for slander? Even if she is not able to tell her side of the story she should be able to defend herself so all of this will stop. If she is unable to do it the courts should be able to stop it. You all say Danny threatens to take people to court so why not do the same? Also, it is stated Linda went on "vacation" with this Dr. is that true? After her and Danny split did she have a relationship with the Dr?

I don't understand all of this. If Danny is so evil he needs to be stopped! If this is true than take some real action. I do not believe so many people are being fooled. Mark Finley and Doug Batchelor seem to be smart guys, as well as others. Surely they would have seen past the charade, if that is what it is...

I believe the devil is having a good old laugh about all of this. I believe 3ABN can/should be discussed but in a helping way, not just gossip. If you have the truth state it, make it make a difference. But if it is only to hurt the person, or ministry than it is only gossip.....

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jun 5 2006, 12:51 PM

QUOTE(statrei @ Jun 5 2006, 11:16 AM)

It is time we become more rigorous in our usage. Most times people identify their "partners" they are not using the term in its legal sense, but mean someone who is doing something with them.

For better or worse, "partners" is the term they are using.

http://www.ereach.se/news/05.09.html

"We are excited to be partners with both 3ABN and Amazing Facts, two other TV-ministries, from where we can draw much help and experience, and even financial assistance to get started."

"I am excited about 3ABN partnering with LifeStyleTV in spreading the Three Angels' Messages in Scandinavia." Danny Shelton, President of 3ABN and Board member of LifeStyleTV.

Posted by: Fran Jun 5 2006, 01:19 PM

Gregory Matthews posted this on CA.

[quote]Here is the information:

Polly's Place Network
presents

"Empowered and Rising..."

With Special Guests...
Linda Shelton
Katie Arnette
Sally Smith
Stephanie Nobles-Bean

Saturday, June 24, 2006

at East Central Community Church,
1917 E. 2nd Avenue,
Spokane, WA 99220-3974
Tel. (509) 533-0751

If any of you are able to attend, feel free to do so.

NOTE: This is a SDA Church. [/quote[

Posted by: sister Jun 5 2006, 01:28 PM

QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jun 5 2006, 01:51 PM)

For better or worse, "partners" is the term they are using.
http://www.ereach.se/news/05.09.html

"We are excited to be partners with both 3ABN and Amazing Facts, two other TV-ministries, from where we can draw much help and experience, and even financial assistance to get started."
"I am excited about 3ABN partnering with LifeStyleTV in spreading the Three Angels' Messages in Scandinavia." Danny Shelton, President of 3ABN and Board member of LifeStyleTV.

Claus Nybo is the President of LifeStyle TV and also works for 3ABN as their Director of European Development.

I am sure that Johann or Bear could supply some additional information...

Posted by: summertime Jun 5 2006, 02:04 PM

QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jun 5 2006, 01:51 PM)

For better or worse, "partners" is the term they are using.
http://www.ereach.se/news/05.09.html

"We are excited to be partners with both 3ABN and Amazing Facts, two other TV-ministries, from where we can draw much help and experience, and even financial assistance to get started." "I am excited about 3ABN partnering with LifeStyleTV in spreading the Three Angels' Messages in Scandinavia." Danny Shelton, President of 3ABN and Board member of LifeStyleTV.

This whole thing seems to be that evil is joining hands with truth in order to take advantage of what each has to offer THis is why I am losing faith in our best known leaders, and want only to keep my mind on Jesus and the truth. THis has been a long traveled road for me to come to this conclusion. And it breaks my admiration of Adventist Evangelism as we see it today. Christianity involves both truth and leaders who will stand for right instead of popularity. It seems like they will go to any unChristlike length just to be heard throughout the world. Worse than that, it seems to be breaking the long, honest road that our forefathers walked to bring the truth to our day and age. So many sacrifices were made to bring us to where we should be today, and we have failed them all.

QUOTE(princessdi @ Jun 5 2006, 12:05 PM)

You are right, ALL are not being fooled, some are just looking the other way, for the good of the "ministry(?)".

Uncle Sam does get around, doesn't he?

Posted by: inga Jun 5 2006, 03:12 PM

Regarding "partners" of 3ABN:

First of all, I take all Dan Shelton says with a grain of salt. He appears to make hay ouf of the tiniest green blade of "partnership."

European "partners" are not in a good position to understand the abuses going on in West Frankfort. IL. The local townspeople probably know a whole lot more.

As for Amazing Facts -- I believe it was pointed out in this very thread that Amazing Facts donated the first major equipment to 3ABN in exchange for air time. That is probably the beginning of the "partnership." In the meantime, of course, Doug Batchelor has used 3ABN as well as HopeTV to transmit his program. I have watched a live broadcast where Dan tried to capitalize on his "partnership" with Doug Batchelor, making his jolly self-congratulating remarks which called for an affirmative response from Doug.

Doug remained silent. And I thought, H'mm ...

And lately I've seen Doug in a fund-raising break on HopeTV, asking folks to support HopeTV. If he has ever done the same for 3ABN, I haven't seen it. Perhaps someone else has, and in that case I'd like to know when Doug helped 3ABN appeal for funds. I highly doubt that it was within the last couple of years, if it occurred at all.

As for Adventist evangelism:
There are good, upright folks in leadership and good, upright folks in evangelism. And there are others who are there for the perceived power and the glory. God knows their hearts, and He will sift the wheat from the tares when the time comes.

In the meantime, I believe the following statement is still true:

"Enfeebled and defective as it may appear, the church is the one object upon which God bestows in a special sense His supreme regard. It is the theater of His grace, in which He delights to reveal

His power to transform hearts." (Acts of the Apostles, p. 12)

When Christ walked this earth and the chosen "church of God" was corrupt to its very core, He still counseled the people to listen to the scribes and Pharisees:

"The scribes and Pharisees sit in Moses' seat. Therefore whatever they tell you to observe, that observe and do, but do not do according to their works." (Matthew 23: 2, 3)

In other words, He recognized their God-appointed position, even though they abused it.

I believe we are on safe ground in following Christ's counsel. We are on rather shaky ground rushing to judgment before God has sorted the tares from the wheat.

He is still in control -- in spite of the "enfeebled and defective" human elements.

May His Kingdom come and His will be done on earth as it is in heaven!

Inga

Posted by: beartrap Jun 5 2006, 07:06 PM

As an employee of 3ABN, Claus Nybo started and operates Lifestyle TV in Sweden. The January edition of 3ABN World says:
"Claus Nybo is president of LifeStyleTV, and
also works for 3ABN
as Director of European Development."
Claus had been working at 3ABN for some time before he and Danny went over to Europe to do fundraising and start puting LifestyleTV together.

The Norweigian Union magazine, Advent Nytt has a picture of the LifestyleTV staff, including Danny Shelton, that is captioned "Lifestyle TV Team photograph Tor Tjeransen"

In the picture is also the chairman of the LifestyleTV board, Arvid Hogganwik, who has been disfellowshipped over a sex scandal with a student at a school he runs in Norway. A police investigation is now underway.

3ABN and Amazing Facts have always maintained a mutually beneficial relationship. So have Danny and Finley.

Posted by: summertime Jun 5 2006, 09:42 PM

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jun 5 2006, 08:06 PM)

As an employee of 3ABN, Claus Nybo started and operates Lifestyle TV in Sweden. The January edition of 3ABN World says:
"Claus Nybo is president of LifeStyleTV, and
also works for 3ABN
as Director of European Development."
Claus had been working at 3ABN for some time before he and Danny went over to Europe to do fundraising and start puting LifestyleTV together.

The Norweigian Union magazine, Advent Nytt has a picture of the LifestyleTV staff, including Danny

Shelton, that is captioned "Lifestyle TV Team photograph Tor Tjeransen"

In the picture is also the chairman of the LifestyleTV board, Arvid Hogganwik, who has been disfellowshipped over a sex scandal with a student at a school he runs in Norway. A police investigation is now underway.

3ABN and Amazing Facts have always maintained a mutually beneficial relationship. So have Danny and Finley.

This whole scenario is heartbreaking to me. When the chairman of the LifestyleTV board has been disfellowshipped over a sex scandal with a student at a school he runs in Norway, just what does that say about the previously quoted exitement of the working together of 3ABN and LifestyleTV? Is he still the board chairman of Lifestyle? Sounds a little familiar to me.

Posted by: summertime Jun 6 2006, 06:57 AM

QUOTE(inga @ Jun 5 2006, 04:12 PM)

Regarding "partners" of 3ABN:

First of all, I take all Dan Shelton says with a grain of salt. He appears to make hay ouf of the tiniest green blade of "partnership."

European "partners" are not in a good position to understand the abuses going on in West Frankfort. IL. The local townspeople probably know a whole lot more.

As for Amazing Facts -- I believe it was pointed out in this very thread that Amazing Facts donated the first major equipment to 3ABN in exchange for air time. That is probably the beginning of the "partnership." In the meantime, of course, Doug Batchelor has used 3ABN as well as HopeTV to transmit his program. I have watched a live broadcast where Dan tried to capitalize on his "partnership" with Doug Batchelor, making his jolly self-congratulating remarks which called for an affirmative response from Doug.

Doug remained silent. And I thought, H'mm ...

And lately I've seen Doug in a fund-raising break on HopeTV, asking folks to support HopeTV. If he has ever done the same for 3ABN, I haven't seen it. Perhaps someone else has, and in that case I'd like to know when Doug helped 3ABN appeal for funds. I highly doubt that it was within the last couple of years, if it occurred at all.

As for Adventist evangelism:
There are good, upright folks in leadership and good, upright folks in evangelism. And there are others who are there for the perceived power and the glory. God knows their hearts, and He will sift the wheat from the tares when the time comes.

In the meantime, I believe the following statement is still true:

"Enfeebled and defective as it may appear, the church is the one object upon which God bestows in a special sense His supreme regard. It is the theater of His grace, in which He delights to reveal His power to transform hearts." (Acts of the Apostles, p. 12)

When Christ walked this earth and the chosen "church of God" was corrupt to its very core, He still counseled the people to listen to the scribes and Pharisees:

"The scribes and Pharisees sit in Moses' seat. Therefore whatever they tell you to observe, that observe and do, but do not do according to their works." (Matthew 23: 2, 3)

In other words, He recognized their God-appointed position, even though they abused it.

I believe we are on safe ground in following Christ's counsel. We are on rather shaky ground rushing to judgment before God has sorted the tares from the wheat.

He is still in control -- in spite of the "enfeebled and defective" human elements.

May His Kingdom come and His will be done on earth as it is in heaven!

Inga

The scribes and Pharisees sit in Moses' seat. Therefore whatever they tell you to observe, that observe and do, but do not do according to their works." (Matthew 23: 2, 3) n other words, "The priests and teachers are ordained to take Moses' place.

So, whatever they tell you to do, do it; but don't do it for the same reasons that they do it. THey will even ask you to do some things they themselves are not interested in doing just to show their authority"

And if you read further, you will see that He was speaking of ceremonial rules and regulations which need not be carried out today, and He also mentioned that they won't make the slightest attempt to help the situations by changing the things that they did for show--They love to have people bow to them and call them Rabbi, but do not be caught up in their honors and titles. THere is only One who is to be honored and that is God. Everyone else is just your brother. " Whoever exalts himself will be humbled, and whoever humbles himself will be exalted." Matt. 23:12 summertime

Posted by: summertime Jun 6 2006, 07:09 AM

[quote name='summertime' post='133632' date='Jun 6 2006, 07:57 AM']
"The scribes and Pharisees sit in Moses' seat. Therefore whatever they tell you to observe, that observe and do, but do not do according to their works." (Matthew 23: 2, 3)

And if Amazing Facts associates know that they donated the first piece of equipment which has been told over and over again as being the first 'miracle' from God, why do they let this story be repeated over and over again just to embellish the story of the 'first miracle' when they know exactly where that equipment came from? summertime

---

Posted by: statrei Jun 6 2006, 07:21 AM

QUOTE(inga @ Jun 5 2006, 05:12 PM)

In the meantime, I believe the following statement is still true:

"Enfeebled and defective as it may appear, the church is the one object upon which God bestows in a special sense His supreme regard. It is the theater of His grace, in which He delights to reveal His power to transform hearts." (Acts of the Apostles, p. 12)

When Christ walked this earth and the chosen "church of God" was corrupt to its very core, He still counseled the people to listen to the scribes and Pharisees:

"The scribes and Pharisees sit in Moses' seat. Therefore whatever they tell you to observe, that observe and do, but do not do according to their works." (Matthew 23: 2, 3)

In other words, He recognized their God-appointed position, even though they abused it.

I believe we are on safe ground in following Christ's counsel. We are on rather shaky ground rushing to judgment before God has sorted the tares from the wheat.

was just wondering what modern equivalent you see in these remarks. Who are you claiming has a 'God-appointed position?" How did this appontment take place? How was it validated? Using quotation narks does not counter the fact that you attempted to immortalize the church when the church is a ›ost Resurrection institution. I get suspicious when someone twists the facts in this way. Finally, how lo you know that the Christians movement has not made the same hash of the church that the first :entury Jews made of Abraham's seed?

Posted by: watchbird Jun 6 2006, 07:34 AM

QUOTE(summertime @ Jun 6 2006, 07:09 AM)

And if Amazing Facts associates know that they donated the first piece of equipment which has been told over and over again as being the first 'miracle' from God, why do they let this story be repeated over and over again just to embellish the story of the 'first miracle' when they know exactly where that equipment came from? summertime

Since the facts of the falsity of the "first miracle story" seems to be open knowledge among the 3ABN amily itself, it is very difficult to comprehend that this has been kept a secret from the folks at \mazing Facts. However, it also would seem that even right there on the 3ABN campus there are hose who are "in the know" and those who have no clue as to all that has been going on. And when ›ou add in the fact that the purpose of the false story was to "prime the pump" so as to entice other lonors into giving, it is within the realm of possibility that Amazing Facts folk don't actually know that hey were the first rather than the second of the large donors. I also understand that the equipment ;poken of in the first "miracle story" was loaned at least for a time. Which could also explain why \mazing Facts were not aware that theirs was the first actual donation of equipment.

'hat does still not absolve them from continuing to believe Danny in the face of so many other voices vhich are raising questions and making such things public knowledge. One can only guess at what nterior or exterior compulsions there must be to keep such persons acting like accomplices rather han taking things that they must be hearing seriously enough to at least investigate for themselves.

Posted by: beartrap Jun 6 2006, 07:54 AM

Amazing Facts didn't donate equipment. They bartered it for airtime. And at that time Joe Crews was in charge at Amazing Facts.

The "miracle" story is that Hal and Mollie Steenson donated one hundred thousand dollars worth of equipment.

Posted by: watchbird Jun 6 2006, 08:46 AM

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jun 6 2006, 07:54 AM)

Amazing Facts didn't donate equipment. They bartered it for airtime. And at that time Joe Crews was in charge at Amazing Facts.

The "miracle" story is that Hal and Mollie Steenson donated one hundred thousand dollars worth of equipment.

Thanks for the correction. There is indeed a significant difference between donating and bartering.

What about the details on the "miracle" story? Did they, as I had understood, loan some equipment with the understanding that it was only a loan, not a gift, and was for the purpose of concocting a false "miracle" story so as to "prime the pump" in the sense of attracting other donors who also wanted to be part of the "miracle"?

Or was there no equipment involved at all and the whole thing was a concocted story?

Posted by: vonessa Jun 6 2006, 09:43 AM

At this point I do have to say that it is got to be the work of God to get the chanel on the air in the first place as it is very hard to raise that kind of money. I know in some churches it has taken years or for a rich person to die and leave money to the church for them to get good equipment. But there they got it and I dont think it is right to say it is all a bad thing.

Posted by: beartrap Jun 6 2006, 11:37 AM

QUOTE(vonessa @ Jun 6 2006, 10:43 AM)

At this point I do have to say that it is got to be the work of God to get the chanel on the air in the first place as it is very hard to raise that kind of money. I know in some churches it has taken years or for a rich person to die and leave money to the church for them to get good equipment. But there they got it and I dont think it is right to say it is all a bad thing.

So money means God's blessing? If I have the freedom to engage in form of chicanery, create false miracles, and use these methods to raise money to create my own religious empire and I succeed, It is God's doing and not the result of my misleading salesmanship? As long as you are being told what you want to hear, see miracles where you want to see miracles, and can comfortably believe that "the truth" is being spread by way of falsehood, the percieved end, justifies any and all evils used to achieve that end? It is depressing to know that there are so many people who are so willing to believe that God's has to settle for snake oil, and that he has to use lies in order to accomplish his work.

Posted by: summertime Jun 6 2006, 12:00 PM

QUOTE(vonessa @ Jun 6 2006, 10:43 AM)

At this point I do have to say that it is got to be the work of God to get the chanel on the air in the first place as it is very hard to raise that kind of money. I know in some churches it has taken years or for a rich person to die and leave money to the church for them to get good equipment. But there they got it and I dont think it is right to say it is all a bad thing.

/onessa, I too believe in the work that 3ABN has done in sending the message to the world. But I do ıot believe that this work has only been promoted by one man or one family--especially when they ıave knocked down others to climb upwards themselves. One thing that I object to,, if it is indeed true hat the story of the 'first miracle' is a facade to cover what really happened, then I do not think that lishonesty and unfaithfulness is pleasing to God. Many times in the Bible we see that good has come ›ut of the stories of people who have turned away from God, repented, and still had to suffer for the errible wrongs that they did---Read the story of Sampson--he was to do a great work for God,--he vas set aside as special by God before he was born, but he strayed--lust became his Master, and as a esult he became a blind man who never finished the work that God had planned for him to do,--in the ›nd he died with, what I understand, was the forgiveness of God---and he took many others with ıim.. But he paid for it dearly--how much better it would have been for him to stay truthful and aithful to God---what a wonderful work he could have done for God. When our leaders betray the ıope that God has for their lives, in the end, they will do more harm for others than good. If any one ›f them offends, he/she will pay dearly for it in the end.

Posted by: sonshineonme Jun 6 2006, 12:01 PM

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jun 6 2006, 09:37 AM)

So money means God's blessing? If I have the freedom to engage in form of chicanery, create false miracles, and use these methods to raise money to create my own religious empire and I succeed, It is God's doing and not the result of my misleading salesmanship? As long as you are being told what you want to hear, see miracles where you want to see miracles, and can comfortably believe that "the truth" is being spread by way of falsehood, the percieved end, justifies any and all evils used to achieve that end? It is depressing to know that there are so many people who are so willing to believe that God's has to settle for snake oil, and that he has to use lies in order to accomplish his work.

Vell put Bear....I have been thinking about what Vonessa just said and what Inga said yesterday, eally trying to keep open to the whys and whats and therefores, and I came back to the same thing; vhat looks like "blessings" doesn't mean it is of God. I couldn't think of a way to get it across, but you lid it for me and I am glad you did. I think people need to open their eyes and SEE what is in front of hem, stop trusting so easily because that's what they WANT to see, based on expectations because t's our "church" and we have the TRUTH, but be ready and willing to see it as it really is, otherwise, ou are allowing yourself to be deceived, and these days, you really have to examine things more and nore closely, (and hope you don't come out cynical at the end). He exposes things to us so we can .EARN! Learn not only what is false and also how clever the ways of the devil, but because He loves ıs so much that He wants us not to be fooled and deceived either, and inch by inch He allows us to ;ee things as to not overwhelm us with the true ugliness of sin at it's utmost worst - being done in ESUS NAME. I asked God the other day "how can you stand this? how can you stand people using /our name, misrepresenting you so terribly and not be mad at your children for being so selfish and :niving in YOUR NAME". Well, He didn't answer me directly, but knowing His love and character, He is ;low to anger (and I am personally grateful for this part of His character) and He has the full picture ılways in mind. He does have it all in His control, but this never excuses us from calling it as it is and ıs it says in the bible, to declare "get the behind me SATAN".

Posted by: caribbean sda Jun 6 2006, 12:33 PM

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jun 6 2006, 09:54 AM)

The "miracle" story is that Hal and Mollie Steenson donated one hundred thousand dollars worth of equipment.

I guess the old saying is true...if you repeat a falsehood long enough, soon enough you'll believe it and have others believing it as well. I've heard and seen that Steenson donation story so much that...well...let's just say, I don't believe it anymore...

Posted by: sister Jun 6 2006, 04:14 PM

Persecution...

As Danny eases himself into his red chair on the "3ABN Today" set, there is a grim look to his countenance. Leaning back, he closes his eyes as his fingers beat rhythmically upon his thigh. How dare they write these things about him! A flurry of activity on the set surrounds him: cameras move into position, a final sound check, everyone prepares as the opening is rolled and the floor director readies to cue Danny. But in the midst of this hyperactivity, like the eerie silence that inhabits the eye of a hurricane, Danny sits motionless — thinking and waiting.

The opening roll is over and Danny is cued, a smile lights up his face as he welcomes the viewers. Upon closer observation, the smile stops at his eyes. According to the popular saying, "the eyes are the windows to the soul": in contradiction to the smile, there is no welcoming light behind the curtains that veil the entrance to this individuals's psyche, his eyes remain dark and piercing. Looking directly into the camera Danny raises up his shoulders slightly and like the consummate actor that years of experience have produced, a feigned look of pain and disbelief crosses his face as he makes the following statements—his declaration calculated to position himself among those who have been persecuted for the cause of God: "I do not understand why these people are writing all these lies about me and John Lomacang, this ministry is not about Danny Shelton, it is about God. I know that we should expect to be persecuted. But when they write these lies they are really persecuting God and his church." Throughout these utterances of suggested innocence and his claims of oppression by those representing the of workings of Satan, that same intense expression remains in his eyes, a cold darkness that no light can penetrate.

The Bible pronounces blessings upon those who have been persecuted for righteousness' sake, for those who have had all manner of evil falsely testified about them for the sake of the advancement of the Gospel and they are promised great rewards in Heaven: "Blessed are they that have been persecuted for righteousness' sake: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. Blessed are ye when men shall reproach you, and persecute you and say all manner of evil against you falsely*, for my sake. Rejoice, and be exceeding glad: for great is your reward in heaven; for so persecuted they the prophets that were before you."* Matthew 5:10-12.

The preceding Scripture does not call those blessed and persecuted who persistently continue to sinfully soil themselves and have had their dirty laundry aired in public. It is not persecution when victims stand up and divulge the details of the injustice that has been inflicted upon them and name their abusers. Or when other unscrupulous actions are disclosed in the light of day. Reward? It would appear that ingenious schemers are capable of calculating their own rewards on earth and bestowing it upon themselves in this world — for no reward is laid up in Heaven for those who have done all manner of things in God's name, yet upon whom He must turn his back and say, "I never knew you".

The greatest rewards of all? Living for eternity in the presence of God, walking and talking with Jesus and the fellowship of the faithful in Christ. Not jet planes, basketball courts, herds of horses or all the pleasures that ill gotten gains can provide: all these things will all pass away. And all that will remain is the character that has been developed in a man, woman or child through an intimate relationship with Jesus Christ.

Has Danny Shelton been persecuted for righteousness' sake? Has he been beaten for his faith, lost his livelihood or been convicted in a court of law for following the dictates of a Holy Spirit influenced conscience? Have falsehoods, calculated to stopping the spreading of the Gospel, been hurled at Danny? Has Danny been persecuted like the prophets that came before him? No, but many of his clandestine activities are being uncovered publicly and they have not been committed for the furtherance of the Gospel. Is it possible to work like the Devil to further the cause of God? Or when a person gets caught with his hand in the cookie jar, is that persecution?

Stay tuned...

Posted by: sonshineonme Jun 6 2006, 09:36 PM

QUOTE(sister @ Jun 6 2006, 02:14 PM)

Persecution...

As Danny eases himself into his red chair on the "3ABN Today" set, there is a grim look to his countenance. Leaning back, he closes his eyes as his fingers beat rhythmically upon his thigh. How dare they write these things about him! A flurry of activity on the set surrounds him: cameras move into position, a final sound check, everyone prepares as the opening is rolled and the floor director readies to cue Danny. But in the midst of this hyperactivity, like the eerie silence that inhabits the eye of a hurricane, Danny sits motionless — thinking and waiting.

The opening roll is over and Danny is cued, a smile lights up his face as he welcomes the viewers. Upon closer observation, the smile stops at his eyes. According to the popular saying, "the eyes are the windows to the soul": in contradiction to the smile, there is no welcoming light behind the curtains that veil the entrance to this individuals's psyche, his eyes remain dark and piercing. Looking directly into the camera Danny raises up his shoulders slightly and like the consummate actor that years of experience have produced, a feigned look of pain and disbelief crosses his face as he makes the following statements—his declaration calculated to position himself among those who have been persecuted for the cause of God: [i]"I do not understand why these people are writing all these lies about me and John Lomacang, this ministry is not about Danny Shelton, it is about God. I know that we should expect to be persecuted. But when they write these lies they are really persecuting God and his church."[/i] Throughout these utterances of suggested innocence and his claims of oppression by those representing the of workings of Satan, that same intense expression remains in his eyes, a cold darkness that no light can penetrate....

As I read this and the bible texts that talk about persecution, I had to conclude that if he has nothing to worry about, has done nothing wrong, then technically he should be "rejoicing" that he is being persecuted. He can't understand because he has always managed to keep control of things, and now it's catching up to him from all sides (inside, outside and family side), and he will be dealing with the 'crisis' no matter what he tries to convey to his "followers" at large. There is always a beginning to the end of a demise, and I'm afraid he's on the downhill route as we speak. The saying "what goes around comes around" seems to be more then a saying - it comes from planting seeds and reeping them - no matter what the seeds may be. Ye reep what ye do sew. I'm sure he has read this bible text too? All that needs to happen is repentance - accountability, honesty, humility....can it happen? Will it happen? Now, that would be a REAL miracle, wouldn't it. What frustrates me even more is how he will (attempt) to spin this and make it a "poor me" thing, just like when he kicked Linda out and made it appear as though she left him and we ought to all pray for her, that love is forever and I want her back...spin spin spin. Well, the spin stops here (as Bill Orielly would say).

Posted by: gracetoyou Jun 7 2006, 06:40 AM

Seems like Danny's adulterous marriage to Brandy opened up a huge can of worms which he did not anticipate. Just read this text this morning - "He who sows wickedness reaps trouble, and the rod of his fury will be destroyed." Proverbs 22:8

What "lies about me and John Lomacang" is Danny talking about? The posts on BSDA? Why would he mention them on 3ABN? I doubt that many of his viewers are aware of BSDA and what is being said about him. Wouldn't they wonder what in the world he is talking about? Are there other media that are exposing Shelton's shenanigans? Do you think prominent and influential people in Adventism have gotten wind of BSDA and are following this thread?

Posted by: watchbird Jun 7 2006, 08:01 AM

QUOTE(sister @ Jun 6 2006, 04:14 PM)

Persecution...

As Danny eases himself into his red chair on the "3ABN Today" set, there is a grim look to his countenance. Leaning back, he closes his eyes as his fingers beat rhythmically upon his thigh. How dare they write these things about him! A flurry of activity on the set surrounds him: cameras move into position, a final sound check, everyone prepares as the opening is rolled and the floor director readies to cue Danny. But in the midst of this hyperactivity, like the eerie silence that inhabits the eye of a hurricane, Danny sits motionless — thinking and waiting.

The opening roll is over and Danny is cued, a smile lights up his face as he welcomes the viewers. Upon closer observation, the smile stops at his eyes. According to the popular saying, "the eyes are the windows to the soul": in contradiction to the smile, there is no welcoming light behind the curtains that veil the entrance to this individuals's psyche, his eyes remain dark and piercing. Looking directly into the camera Danny raises up his shoulders slightly and like the consummate actor that years of experience have produced, a feigned look of pain and disbelief crosses his face as he makes the following statements—his declaration calculated to position himself among those who have been persecuted for the cause of God: "I do not understand why these people are writing all these lies about me and John Lomacang, this ministry is not about Danny Shelton, it is about God. I know that we should expect to be persecuted. But when they write these lies they are really persecuting God and his church." Throughout these utterances of suggested innocence and his claims of oppression by those representing the of workings of Satan, that same intense expression remains in his eyes, a cold darkness that no light can penetrate. [. . .]
Stay tuned...

QUOTE(gracetoyou @ Jun 7 2006, 06:40 AM)

Seems like Danny's adulterous marriage to Brandy opened up a huge can of worms which he did > not anticipate. Just read this text this morning - "He who sows wickedness reaps trouble, and the rod of his fury will be destroyed." Proverbs 22:8

While what you say is true, for Danny's most recent marriage has certainly been significant in getting the attention of many, it was his abrupt firing and divorcing of Linda about two years ago that first began bringing these things to light. And his continued harassment of her which continues to the present time has also been a factor in revealing the "wickedness" which he has been sowing as well as the extent to which it has taken root deep in his heart and produced much poisonous fruit that has affected many lives. (A much more serious bag of seeds and fertilizer than the "hair seeds" we've been laughing about in another thread.) You next ask:

> QUOTE
>
> What "lies about me and John Lomacang" is Danny talking about? The posts on BSDA? Why would he mention them on 3ABN? I doubt that many of his viewers are aware of BSDA and what is being said about him. Wouldn't they wonder what in the world he is talking about? Are there other media that are exposing Shelton's shenanigans? Do you think prominent and influential people in Adventism have gotten wind of BSDA and are following this thread?

While there is no doubt but what Danny as well as "prominent and influential" Adventists are following what is being said on BSDA, I do not think that is what led to the scene Sister described so graphically in her post above. I think that this scene is probably a continuation of the subject of her post #313 in this thread, in which she began reading and commenting on the unpublished document called, "The Televangelist", and Danny's reaction to it. At that time she said:

> QUOTE
>
> Why would a self-professed fictionalized account produce the following display of action by Danny Shelton: a 2 hour program on a Thursday evening hosted by Danny and his brother Tommy in regard to it, an intense search devoted to locating it's author, Danny making all kinds of lawsuit threats to everyone he thought was a potential author, and it is reported that Danny's benefactor even threw his legal team into action. WHY?

Sister went on there to explain that Danny had not found the actual author. What she did not say was that within hours of the time the first copies were sent out to private individuals, someone unknown to the original senders had sent Danny a copy and almost immediately he gave it publicity by going to great lengths to deny that it was true in the TV special Sister describes. So when you say, "I doubt that many of his viewers are aware of BSDA and what is being said about him. Wouldn't they wonder what in the world he is talking about?" it really doesn't apply to him. For certainly not many of his viewers had seen the document at the time he publicized it by his denial.

Posted by: calvin Jun 7 2006, 08:23 AM

> QUOTE(gracetoyou @ Jun 7 2006, 07:40 AM)
>
> Seems like Danny's adulterous marriage to Brandy opened up a huge can of worms which he did not anticipate. Just read this text this morning - "He who sows wickedness reaps trouble, and the rod of his fury will be destroyed." Proverbs 22:8
>
> What "lies about me and John Lomacang" is Danny talking about? The posts on BSDA? Why would he mention them on 3ABN? I doubt that many of his viewers are aware of BSDA and what is being said about him. Wouldn't they wonder what in the world he is talking about? Are there other media that are exposing Shelton's shenanigans? Do you think prominent and influential people in Adventism have gotten wind of BSDA and are following this thread?

It is hard to say. BSDA gets about 4,000 unique hits here a month. But my gut feeling is probably not. The Adventist online message board junkies like ourselves from BSDA, SDAOL, CA, SDAnet and there are a few active MSN and Yahoo Adventist mailing list groups that are following this story here but I suspect not much more. BSDA has over 1,500 members and CA has over 2,000 but the nature of message boards is that we struggle to much more than 5% as active members. These platforms have there drawbacks. To really follow a thread with 700+ posts you really have to have more that just a casual interest. Most people will find keep up exhausting.

But having said all this, the Internet and discussions forum are a powerful communications platform that continues to grow in influence unabated.

Posted by: sister Jun 7 2006, 08:59 AM

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jun 7 2006, 09:01 AM)

While what you say is true, for Danny's most recent marriage has certainly been significant in getting the attention of many, it was his abrupt firing and divorcing of Linda about two years ago that first began bringing these things to light. And his continued harassment of her which continues to the present time has also been a factor in revealing the "wickedness" which he has been sowing as well as the extent to which it has taken root deep in his heart and produced much poisonous fruit that has affected many lives. (A much more serious bag of seeds and fertilizer than the "hair seeds" we've been laughing about in another thread.) You next ask:
While there is no doubt but what Danny as well as "prominent and influential" Adventists are following what is being said on BSDA, I do not think that is what led to the scene Sister described so graphically in her post above. I think that this scene is probably a continuation of the subject of her post #313 in this thread, in which she began reading and commenting on the unpublished document called, "The Televangelist", and Danny's reaction to it. At that time she said:
Sister went on there to explain that Danny had not found the actual author. What she did not say was that within hours of the time the first copies were sent out to private individuals, someone unknown to the original senders had sent Danny a copy and almost immediately he gave it publicity by going to great lengths to deny that it was true in the TV special Sister describes. So when you say, "I doubt that many of his viewers are aware of BSDA and what is being said about him. Wouldn't they wonder what in the world he is talking about?" it really doesn't apply to him. For certainly not many of his viewers had seen the document at the time he publicized it by his denial.

If Danny was refering to "The Televangelist" I am not certain, but the comments were made recently, in the last few weeks. Is he still commenting on "The Televangelist"? You will have to judge that for yourself...

Who is reading this thread, I do not know, but it has over fifteen and a half thousands hits since April 16, perhaps more than the current membership must be interested in this topic.

Posted by: gracetoyou Jun 7 2006, 09:06 AM

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jun 7 2006, 10:01 AM)

While there is no doubt but what Danny as well as "prominent and influential" Adventists are following what is being said on BSDA, I do not think that is what led to the scene Sister described so graphically in her post above. I think that this scene is probably a continuation of the subject of her post #313 in this thread, in which she began reading and commenting on the unpublished document called, "The Televangelist", and Danny's reaction to it.

Sister went on there to explain that Danny had not found the actual author. What she did not say was that within hours of the time the first copies were sent out to private individuals, someone unknown to the original senders had sent Danny a copy and almost immediately he gave it publicity by going to great lengths to deny that it was true in the TV special Sister describes. So when you say, "I doubt that many of his viewers are aware of BSDA and what is being said about him. Wouldn't they wonder what in the world he is talking about?" it really doesn't apply to him. For certainly not many of his viewers had seen the document at the time he publicized it by his denial.

So why would he rant on international t.v. about a document - "The Televangelist"- which very few of his viewers had read or were even aware of? Wouldn't this just serve to awaken their curiosity and make them want to read what he was talking about? Is he that dumb? By the way, how can we get a copy of "The Televangelist"?

Posted by: watchbird Jun 7 2006, 09:45 AM

QUOTE(sister @ Jun 7 2006, 08:59 AM)

If Danny was refering to "The Televangelist" I am not certain, but the comments were made recently, in the last few weeks. Is he still commenting on "The Televangelist"? You will have to judge that for yourself...

Who is reading this thread, I do not know, but it has over fifteen and a half thousands hits since April 16, perhaps more than the current membership must be interested in this topic.

Thank you for correcting my assumptions that you were talking about the same occurance in both places. Since The Televangelist was written a little over a year ago, if you have seen him make these comments in the last few weeks, then I would guess that he is speaking of more recent things being said. That could include the BSDA threads, but it would also probably include private mail that he may have been getting.

Posted by: Johann Jun 7 2006, 09:50 AM

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jun 7 2006, 04:45 PM)

Thank you for correcting my assumptions that you were talking about the same occurance in both places. Since The Televangelist was written a little over a year ago, if you have seen him make these comments in the last few weeks, then I would guess that he is speaking of more recent things being said. That could include the BSDA threads, but it would also probably include private mail that he may have been getting.

There is a discussion on Pastor John Lomacang's preaching on ClubAdventist...

Posted by: watchbird Jun 7 2006, 10:07 AM

QUOTE(gracetoyou @ Jun 7 2006, 09:06 AM)

So why would he rant on international t.v. about a document - "The Televangelist"- which very few of his viewers had read or were even aware of? Wouldn't this just serve to awaken their curiosity and make them want to read what he was talking about? Is he that dumb? By the way, how can we get a copy of "The Televangelist"?

Perhaps the best answer to your first questions have to do with the "seeds" of unrighteousness, for truly paranoia is one of the "fruits" of sin. As scripture says, "Be sure your sins will find you out." so to the guilty it may quite well seem that the fingers are always pointing at them. And paranoia begets panic and panic produces actions that seem rational to the person doing them even though they might look "dumb" to those who aren't inside their skin.

There is also the apparent fact that Danny wants to be seen as a martyr. In that frame of mind it makes sense for him to draw attention to every criticism of himself so as to supposedly arouse sympathy and additional pious "status" in the eyes of his followers.

As for how to get a copy of "The Televangelist"" The last I knew the author did not want it posted in any public place, but he did want it spread far and wide via private email. If he has changed his position about posting, and sends me information about that, I will be glad to post a copy here. Since some of the information could use some updating, he may also have changed his mind about email distribution at this time. And I also am not sure whether he wants it sent to those who are not known personally to the sender, so I am hesitant about sending it by PM to someone whose identity I do not know. So I will await instructions from him before making any further offers in this direction.

QUOTE(Johann @ Jun 7 2006, 09:50 AM)

There is a discussion on Pastor John Lomacang's preaching on ClubAdventist...

Since there are relatively few of us who have access to the CA discussions, perhaps you would bring some of what is being said over here?

Posted by: Johann Jun 7 2006, 10:56 AM

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jun 7 2006, 05:07 PM)

Since there are relatively few of us who have access to the CA discussions, perhaps you would bring some of what is being said over here?

Since the 3ABN threat is closed to others than CA members, I have a notion it might not be accceptable to quote what is being said there. I just mentioned as a clarification why Danny referred to John Lomacang's lies too.

Posted by: Jvat Jun 7 2006, 11:31 AM

Last night on 3ABN Today, I heard Danny mention again about the lies that were being written about him, instead of people spending time and spreading the gospel. He did not say it with any rancour but mainly as an observation. He seemd quite calm.

I have to admit that when I was first sent a copy of the televangelist that I wondered what would be the benefit to me or anyone to read its contents. It seemed to me to reek somehow of vengeance, sorry to say. There really was nothing edifying about the contents of the document. I cannot quite honestly say that I have changed too much my original impression of that document as I find it very hard to reread it.

Would be happy to learn from others who have read the document, what benefit that they have found from so doing. Maybe my first impression was a very wrong one. Thank you for sharing.

Posted by: watchbird Jun 7 2006, 11:54 AM

QUOTE(Johann @ Jun 7 2006, 10:56 AM)

Since the 3ABN threat is closed to others than CA members, I have a notion it might not be accceptable to quote what is being said there. I just mentioned as a clarification why Danny referred to John Lomacang's lies too.

I think it being closed has to do with matters of CA politics rather than of confidentiality. Others have brought things from there to here.

Posted by: watchbird Jun 7 2006, 12:16 PM

QUOTE(Jvat @ Jun 7 2006, 11:31 AM)

Last night on 3ABN Today, I heard Danny mention again about the lies that were being written about him, instead of people spending time and spreading the gospel. He did not say it with any rancour but mainly as an observation. He seemd quite calm.

I have to admit that when I was first sent a copy of the televangelist that I wondered what would be the benefit to me or anyone to read its contents. It seemed to me to reek somehow of vengeance, sorry to say. There really was nothing edifying about the contents of the document. I cannot quite honestly say that I have changed too much my original impression of that document as I find it very hard to reread it.

Would be happy to learn from others who have read the document, what benefit that they have found from so doing. Maybe my first impression was a very wrong one. Thank you for sharing.

Since I had already heard nearly all of the stories included previous to seeing the document, and since it was plain that the stories as told in the document were much more mild than they were in real life, I have never smelled any scent of "vengeance" in the document. As far as being "edifying"--they are stories of misdeeds and evil intent. One could hardly expect to be "edified" by such information. Enlightened? Yes. Imformed? Yes. But "edified", with the connotations that word has of being spiritually uplifting? Of course not.

As I mentioned, I had heard nearly all of the stories previously, thus I'm sure it was not so shocking to me as to someone who previously had no knowledge of the things told there. But even so, I found that it illustrated the truth of the saying: "the sum of the whole is greater than its parts". For previously I had heard them mostly one at a time and in bits and pieces rather than all together. And there was a considerable difference in the amount of impact they had when put all together. There is something about the cumulative effect of the different vignettes, even though much of the story is only hinted at, that shows the historical development of character in ways that any one-time event, no matter how detailed its telling, simply cannot do.

As for rereading. I would not expect that one would want to reread it often. But if reading it carefully causes evil to be exposed and right to eventually triumph, then the discomfort of reading about it will have been small enough price to pay. And I do know that some, even some in relatively "high places" have had their eyes opened by reading it. And once one's eyes are open, then it is natural to do the research which confirms the validity of both the document and its intended goals, that of exposing evil and hopefully leading to its removal from among us.

Posted by: sister Jun 7 2006, 01:05 PM

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jun 7 2006, 01:16 PM)

Since I had already heard nearly all of the stories included previous to seeing the document, and since it was plain that the stories as told in the document were much more mild than they were in real life, I have never smelled any scent of "vengeance" in the document. As far as being "edifying"--they are stories of misdeeds and evil intent. One could hardly expect to be "edified" by such information. Enlightened? Yes. Imformed? Yes. But "edified", with the connotations that word has of being spiritually uplifting? Of course not.

As I mentioned, I had heard nearly all of the stories previously, thus I'm sure it was not so shocking to me as to someone who previously had no knowledge of the things told there. But even so, I found that it illustrated the truth of the saying: "the sum of the whole is greater than its parts". For previously I had heard them mostly one at a time and in bits and pieces rather than all together. And there was a considerable difference in the amount of impact they had when put all together. There is something about the cumulative effect of the different vignettes, even though much of the story is only hinted at, that shows the historical development of character in ways that any one-time event, no matter how detailed its telling, simply cannot do.

As for rereading. I would not expect that one would want to reread it often. But if reading it carefully causes evil to be exposed and right to eventually triumph, then the discomfort of reading about it will have been small enough price to pay. And I do know that some, even some in relatively "high places" have had their eyes opened by reading it. And once one's eyes are open, then it is natural to do the research which confirms the validity of both the document and its intended goals, that of exposing evil and hopefully leading to its removal from among us.

On these points I can agree completely with Watchbird. In "The Televangelist" only a few examples were cited, there is so much more evil that has ocurred. It is the story of how the actions of one man has given evidence of his repeated turning away from the wooing of the Holy Spirit.

When we read in the New Testement of how God will turn away those who have done much in His name, but not in His strength and power, having no relationship with Him, it is sometimes difficult to understand how that can happen. The Televengelist is an example how a man can "do things for God", while not allowing the Holy Spirit to work through him. His mind and character take a continual downward spirial, exhibited in his actions and character development, while on the surface he appears to champion the cause of God. Can both salt water and sweet water come from the same stream? The Scriptures declare this an impossibility.

Posted by: inga Jun 7 2006, 01:38 PM

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jun 7 2006, 12:54 PM)

I think it being closed has to do with matters of CA politics rather than of confidentiality. Others have brought things from there to here.

Yes, that is my understanding as well. However, permission should be obtained from the original posters before bringing anything from there to here.

Inga

Posted by: gracetoyou Jun 7 2006, 07:33 PM

Just wondering - Suppose Danny and his co-conspirators (Walt Thompson, Mollie Steenson, etc.) are eventually eliminated through public exposure/resignation/arrest, who then would gain control of 3ABN? Are there enough honest board members who could take over the reins - perhaps even reinstate Linda? Are a number of "little" people who work at 3ABN aware of the wrongs that have been perpetrated by Danny, et al., and are they hoping for a change of leadership?

Posted by: Johann Jun 8 2006, 06:20 AM

QUOTE(gracetoyou @ Jun 8 2006, 02:33 AM)

Just wondering - Suppose Danny and his co-conspirators (Walt Thompson, Mollie Steenson, etc.) are eventually eliminated through public exposure/resignation/arrest, who then would gain control of 3ABN? Are there enough honest board members who could take over the reins - perhaps even reinstate Linda? Are a number of "little" people who work at 3ABN aware of the wrongs that have been perpetrated by Danny, et al., and are they hoping for a change of leadership?

Much wisdom is needed to answer your questions. It can be difficult to remove a person without having the right replacement, and also the power to make the needed adjustments, enspecially because 3ABN is an independent ministry with no other power to make the replacements needed.

Posted by: Clay Jun 8 2006, 08:17 AM

QUOTE(Johann @ Jun 8 2006, 06:20 AM)

Much wisdom is needed to answer your questions. It can be difficult to remove a person without > having the right replacement, and also the power to make the needed adjustments, enspecially because 3ABN is an independent ministry with no other power to make the replacements needed.

he assumption is being made that you can remove him.... its his product.... he owns it does he not? If ıe is removed would it not just cease to exist.... reminds me of when Bakker was removed from PTL... t ceased to exist in any meaningful way for some time....

Posted by: Johann Jun 8 2006, 09:11 AM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jun 8 2006, 04:17 PM)
>
> the assumption is being made that you can remove him.... its his product.... he owns it does he not? If he is removed would it not just cease to exist.... reminds me of when Bakker was removed from PTL... it ceased to exist in any meaningful way for some time....

f his product is not used - bought - and insufficient financial means are provided, then it cannot exist. 3ut according to the announced statues of 3ABN it will be turned over to the Illinois Conference if the ›resent administration no longer is able to run it.

Posted by: gracetoyou Jun 8 2006, 09:15 AM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jun 8 2006, 09:17 AM)
>
> the assumption is being made that you can remove him.... its his product.... he owns it does he not? If he is removed would it not just cease to exist.... reminds me of when Bakker was removed from PTL... it ceased to exist in any meaningful way for some time....

'hen what's the point of having a board of directors? Even though some are in Danny's pocket and ;upported his actions against Linda and some are apparently oblivious to the evil underbelly of 3ABN, lon't they wield some decision-making authority? If Danny were publicly disgraced or resigned in the ace of public exposure, wouldn't the board step in and find a replacement?

wonder how long the board, even his most ardent supporters, would defend him if even some of the ıccusations posted here are made public. Robert Folkenburg was a powerful GC president until he was ;ued by non-Adventists for financial improprieties. He was then disposed of quickly. Many Christian ›rganizations, especially those who depend on contributions, will disassociate themselves from bearers ›f bad publicity. It took public exposure of Bakker's immorality and unethical finances to topple him. If t will have to go that far to remove Danny remains to be seen.

Posted by: meadbd Jun 8 2006, 09:18 AM

I found that it illustrated the truth of the saying: "the sum of the whole is greater than its parts"

Or..."the whole is greater than the sum of its parts".

Posted by: Johann Jun 8 2006, 09:33 AM

QUOTE(gracetoyou @ Jun 8 2006, 05:15 PM)

Then what's the point of having a board of directors? Even though some are in Danny's pocket and supported his actions against Linda and some are apparently oblivious to the evil underbelly of 3ABN, don't they wield some decision-making authority? If Danny were publicly disgraced or resigned in the face of public exposure, wouldn't the board step in and find a replacement?

As long as there is sufficient Mammon [financial contributions] to support the president there is hardly any power in this world that can remove him from office.

QUOTE

I wonder how long the board, even his most ardent supporters, would defend him if even some of the accusations posted here are made public. Robert Folkenburg was a powerful GC president until he was sued by non-Adventists for financial improprieties. He was then disposed of quickly. Many Christian organizations, especially those who depend on contributions, will disassociate themselves from bearers of bad publicity. It took public exposure of Bakker's immorality and unethical finances to topple him. If it will have to go that far to remove Danny remains to be seen.

It has been pointed out in this story that when a board member disagrees with the president, that person is replaced by someone else willing to rubber stamp the president's desires. Isn't it nice to be able to work with a board like that?

Posted by: sonshineonme Jun 8 2006, 09:53 AM

QUOTE(Johann @ Jun 8 2006, 08:33 AM)

As long as there is sufficient Mammon [financial contributions] to support the president there is hardly any power in this world that can remove him from office.

It has been pointed out in this story that when a board member disagrees with the president, that person is replaced by someone else willing to rubber stamp the president's desires. Isn't it nice to be able to work with a board like that?

THAT board is there for appearances only - they represent security and "watch dog" affects only to those that think that that board is doing what the typical board would be doing. It's one more misleading appearance to everyone. This is why we are having this conversation. It's just one more thing to get your mind around to see it's not what it appears to be.

Posted by: statrei Jun 8 2006, 09:53 AM

If you guys would just stop believing this idea that 3ABN is something God set up all this hand wringing would not be necessary. Danny had every right to install a board that agrees with him. He would be a fool to do otherwise. Employees of 3ABN are Danny's employees. His primary obligation is to obey labor laws. He has no obligation to fit into the eschatological musings of these employees.

Posted by: sonshineonme Jun 8 2006, 09:57 AM

QUOTE(statrei @ Jun 8 2006, 08:53 AM)

If you guys would just stop believing this idea that 3ABN is something God set up all this hand wringing would not be necessary. Danny had every right to install a board that agrees with him. He would be a fool to do otherwise. Employees of 3ABN are Danny's employees. His primary obligation is to obey labor laws. He has no obligation to fit into the eschatological musings of these employees.

you speak the truth brother. preach on! Tell it like it is. Spread the word. Awaken the walking dead.

Posted by: vonessa Jun 8 2006, 09:59 AM

QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jun 8 2006, 10:57 AM)

you speak the truth brother. preach on!

But because Danny is famous and has succeeded to build it to this point, then he must be responsible to us as the church members as well as to those who donate money. It doesnt matter if he is officially working for the church or not. It would be the same as if I as a Seventhday Adventist Christian opened a jewelry shop or decided to sell coffee with caffeine and then said I was selling these as a SDA. I would be responsible to my church to represent the church well and not be into the confusion of the people who do not know.

To who much has been gave, much is asked.

Posted by: Johann Jun 8 2006, 10:00 AM

QUOTE(statrei @ Jun 8 2006, 05:53 PM)

If you guys would just stop believing this idea that 3ABN is something God set up all this hand wringing would not be necessary. Danny had every right to install a board that agrees with him. He would be a fool to do otherwise. Employees of 3ABN are Danny's employees. His primary obligation is to obey labor laws. He has no obligation to fit into the eschatological musings of these employees.

ıow serious where you when you wrote this?

Posted by: sonshineonme Jun 8 2006, 10:06 AM

QUOTE(Johann @ Jun 8 2006, 09:00 AM)

How serious where you when you wrote this?

can't answer this for him, but from what I have learned from him, when is statrei not serious about hings he says? Or do I have him all wrong?

Posted by: statrei Jun 8 2006, 10:48 AM

QUOTE(Johann @ Jun 8 2006, 11:00 AM)

How serious where you when you wrote this?

am very serious. Danny has all these conservative SDA's by the b* because they have convinced hemselves that he is the God's exclusive messenger for these last days. Don't cry because someone akes advantage of your gullibility. Get your theology straight and things get a little easier.

Posted by: Johann Jun 8 2006, 10:48 AM

QUOTE(vonessa @ Jun 8 2006, 05:59 PM)

But because Danny is famous and has succeeded to build it to this point, then he must be responsible to us as the church members as well as to those who donate money. It doesnt matter if he is officially working for the church or not. It would be the same as if I as a Seventhday Adventist Christian opened a jewelry shop or decided to sell coffee with caffeine and then said I was selling these as a SDA. I would be responsible to my church to represent the church well and not be into the confusourion of the people who do not know.

To who much has been gave, much is asked.

sure wish you were saying the truth, vonessa. When your jeweler builds his own SDA church, hires a ›astor to suit his whims, preach the sermons he wants to hear, and to issue church disciplin to vhomever he wants to curtail, and then he manages to place his general store manager on the Conference Board, he uses money earned in his jewelry store to pay for the campaign of his chosen ›eople to be leaders and officers on different leadership levels in the Church - who is there to discipline your jeweler?

Is this serving God or Mammon?

Posted by: Clay Jun 8 2006, 10:50 AM

QUOTE(Johann @ Jun 8 2006, 11:48 AM)

I sure wish you were saying the truth, vonessa. When your jeweler builds his own SDA church, hires a pastor to suit his whims, preach he sermons he wants to hear, and to issue church disciplin to whomever he wants to curtail, and then he manages to place his general store manager on the Conference Board, he uses money earned in his jewelry store to pay for the campaign of his chosen people to be leaders and officers on different leadership levels in the Church - who is there to discipline your jeweler?

Is this serving God or Mammon?

who says you have to attend that church....

Posted by: Johann Jun 8 2006, 10:55 AM

QUOTE(Clay @ Jun 8 2006, 06:50 PM)

who says you have to attend that church....

How else can you be assured employment in his jewelry store? What influence do you have if you are anywhere else?

Posted by: statrei Jun 8 2006, 10:57 AM

QUOTE(Johann @ Jun 8 2006, 11:55 AM)

How else can you be assured employment in his jewelry store? What influence do you have if you are anywhere else?

That is why it is called private enterprise.

Posted by: sister Jun 8 2006, 11:25 AM

QUOTE(Johann @ Jun 8 2006, 10:33 AM)

> As long as there is sufficient Mammon [financial contributions] to support the president there is hardly any power in this world that can remove him from office.

'here is one point that Danny has forgotten, his secrets are "open secrets". And the more those ;ecrets are revealed publically, the more likely that he comes under the scrutiny of government)fficials. More than one individual has ended up behind bars at the hands of IRS investigators and nany "bean counters" have become whistle blowers, providing the necessary evidence. Maybe it is ime to ask those who have worked the financial side of 3ABN, "What do you have in your hands?" 'hey may not have considered that it is they, not Danny, that have the ace in the hole in this high ;takes game of chance. Actually, if Danny were as crafty as he has been credited with being, then he ;hould be running scared about now---realizing that his future may well reside in the hands of various ıccountants. What do they hold in their hands? Perhaps it is the key that opens the door to an eight oot cell...now that is power.

Posted by: Clay Jun 8 2006, 11:41 AM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jun 8 2006, 11:55 AM)
>
> How else can you be assured employment in his jewelry store? What influence do you have if you are anywhere else?

vho says you have to be employed by him?

Posted by: sonshineonme Jun 8 2006, 11:44 AM

> QUOTE(sister @ Jun 8 2006, 10:25 AM)
>
> There is one point that Danny has forgotten, his secrets are "open secrets". And the more those secrets are revealed publically, the more likely that he comes under the scrutiny of government officials. More than one individual has ended up behind bars at the hands of IRS investigators and many "bean counters" have become whistle blowers, providing the necessary evidence. Maybe it is time to ask those who have worked the financial side of 3ABN, "What do you have in your hands?" They may not have considered that it is they, not Danny, that have the ace in the hole in this high stakes game of chance. Actually, if Danny were as crafty as he has been credited with being, then he should be running scared about now---realizing that his future may well reside in the hands of various accountants. What do they hold in their hands? Perhaps it is the key that opens the door to an eight foot cell...now that is power.

So we are back to all those who CAN do something to affect the situation, to do their part to end the ness (responsibility to themselves and to others, especially those in the "dark"). The question s, will all those that can, do? Isn't that where the rubber meets the road?

Posted by: gracetoyou Jun 8 2006, 11:47 AM

QUOTE(sister @ Jun 8 2006, 12:25 PM)

There is one point that Danny has forgotten, his secrets are "open secrets". And the more those secrets are revealed publically, the more likely that he comes under the scrutiny of government officials. More than one individual has ended up behind bars at the hands of IRS investigators and many "bean counters" have become whistle blowers, providing the necessary evidence. Maybe it is time to ask those who have worked the financial side of 3ABN, "What do you have in your hands?" They may not have considered that it is they, not Danny, that have the ace in the hole in this high stakes game of chance. Actually, if Danny were as crafty as he has been credited with being, then he should be running scared about now---realizing that his future may well reside in the hands of various accountants. What do they hold in their hands? Perhaps it is the key that opens the door to an eight foot cell...now that is power.

This is what I was referring to in my post. If Danny is forced out through scandal or being incarcerated, could he close down 3ABN or would the board, who would probably be scrambling around trying to cover their own behinds, be able to choose another scandal-free leader? The demise of 3ABN would not necessarily be a catastrophe as we have the HOPE channel, but it would be nice if it were led by truly godly leadership.

Posted by: statrei Jun 8 2006, 12:21 PM

QUOTE(gracetoyou @ Jun 8 2006, 01:47 PM)

The demise of 3ABN would not necessarily be a catastrophe as we have the HOPE channel, but it would be nice if it were led by truly godly leadership.

Didn't everybody think Danny provided that godly leadership in the beginning? You guys are obsessed with Danny and are missing the bigger picture.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jun 8 2006, 12:22 PM

QUOTE(statrei @ Jun 8 2006, 11:57 AM)

That is why it is called private enterprise.

That's true.

In addition, any private business person has the legal right to file for bankrupcy and liquidate their own business. People have a legal right to fail.

A nicer "jewelry store" opens down the road and people never miss the one that went under.

Posted by: Clay Jun 8 2006, 12:29 PM

QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jun 8 2006, 12:22 PM)

That's true.

In addition, any private business person has the legal right to file for bankrupcy and liquidate their own business. People have a legal right to fail.

A nicer "jewelry store" opens down the road and people never miss the one that went under.

just cause you open a store doesn't mean folks have to shop there, and just because customers demand certain things from your store doesn't mean you have to supply them...

Posted by: watchbird Jun 8 2006, 01:57 PM

QUOTE(gracetoyou @ Jun 8 2006, 11:47 AM)

This is what I was referring to in my post. If Danny is forced out through scandal or being incarcerated, could he close down 3ABN or would the board, who would probably be scrambling around trying to cover their own behinds, be able to choose another scandal-free leader? The demise of 3ABN would not necessarily be a catastrophe as we have the HOPE channel, but it would be nice if it were led by truly godly leadership.

I think others have essentially answered this, though, since this sounds slightly different than your initial question, perhaps it hasn't all been sufficiently tied together.

The point really is that it is Danny who owns 3ABN, not the board, and not really any of the rest of his family. For although, as Sister (I think it was) pointed out, it is true that Danny has now added others of his family to the ownership list, history has adequately shown that it doesn't make any difference who is on the ownership list, Danny is the one who calls the shots and removes whomever he wills, whenever he wills it.

And unlike other companies where the board chairman is the truly powerful person, and "ownership" resides in the board itself, with the president "serving at the board's pleasure", the 3ABN company is owned directly only by Danny. And the board members, like his employees, serve only so long as he desires that they do so. So while the board has certain powers over him, those have only to do with money and support. At the present they are strongly supporting him not only directly from their deep pockets, but also with the power base of the whole ASI organization, and with their influence and power over Conference administrators. Until or unless they as a whole group turn on Danny themselves and demand that he step aside "for the good of the ministry" or some other esoteric phrase that means little other than that they want to keep control of the power that 3ABN gives them but have come to see Danny himself as a liability, there is little likelihood that there will be any change in "day to day management" effected. And even if that does happen there is very little chance that any such change would be any more than cosmetic, with Danny still somehow pulling the strings on what ever puppet they set up (as Sister so graphically described).

One alternative scenario that is seldom mentioned would be for Danny to fully cast his lot with the anti-SDA and Pentecostal crowds, figuring that he can gain more support from those who love to condemn the church than he can from the supporters of the church, and that the welcome he would get in Pentecostal circles were he to cast off from the Adventist church would more than make up for the loss of both revenue and support he currently gets from SDA church administrators.

It is a very complex problem and one for which (even with my sometimes overactive imagination) I have never been able to come up with any scenario that would sort things out all neatly and leave 3ABN with fully clean management and board and developing into a true "face of Adventism" to the world. I take comfort in what I believe to be a fact--that the Lord has a thousand ways to work things out that we have not even dreamed about. I think the bottom line is that we have to be patient, each doing "whatever our hand finds to do", while we wait on the Lord to accomplish what needs to be accomplished.

This is not to say merely "leave it to God" while we ignore or downplay the seriousness of the situation. It is to recognize that God nearly always uses humans as His agents in accomplishing His purposes, and to also recognize that even though we cannot individually play what seems to us to be a significant part in His work, we should still do all we can. For most of us here on BSDA that is probably no more than thinking things through, asking questions, probing, giving information whenever we have some that is appropriate to be shared, and "watching for indications of His Providence." I think we see some definite indications of that in the removal of 3ABN from two different satellites in two far apart sectors of the globe. This is not anything that any one here could have accomplished had we set out to do so.

Every day that we wait someone new hears the truth about Danny and/or others at 3ABN. Every day that we wait someone else learns through personal experience the truth of how Danny treats those who disagree with him. Eventually all of these things will come together and God will be ready to act. In the meantime, let us keep on sharing--both here on the forum and as we have opportunity in our personal contacts.

Posted by: Clay Jun 8 2006, 02:13 PM

QUOTE

Eventually all of these things will come together and God will be ready to act.

God does not need for things to come together to act, especially if He did not like what was happening.... i.e. tower of babel, or some of the leaders and mixed multitude being swallowed by the earth...

Posted by: sister Jun 8 2006, 02:15 PM

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jun 8 2006, 02:57 PM)

I think others have essentially answered this, though, since this sounds slightly different than your initial question, perhaps it hasn't all been sufficiently tied together.

The point really is that it is Danny who owns 3ABN, not the board, and not really any of the rest of his family. For although, as Sister (I think it was) pointed out, it is true that Danny has now added others of his family to the ownership list, history has adequately shown that it doesn't make any difference who is on the ownership list, Danny is the one who calls the shots and removes whomever he wills, whenever he wills it.

And unlike other companies where the board chairman is the truly powerful person, and "ownership" resides in the board itself, with the president "serving at the board's pleasure", the 3ABN company is owned directly only by Danny. And the board members, like his employees, serve only so long as he desires that they do so. So while the board has certain powers over him, those have only to do with money and support. At the present they are strongly supporting him not only directly from their deep pockets, but also with the power base of the whole ASI organization, and with their influence and power over Conference administrators. Until or unless they as a whole group turn on Danny themselves and demand that he step aside "for the good of the ministry" or some other esoteric phrase that means little other than that they want to keep control of the power that 3ABN gives them but have come to see Danny himself as a liability, there is little likelihood that there will be any change in "day to day management" effected. And even if that does happen there is very little chance that any such change would be any more than cosmetic, with Danny still somehow pulling the strings on what ever puppet they set up (as Sister so graphically described).

One alternative scenario that is seldom mentioned would be for Danny to fully cast his lot with the anti-SDA and Pentecostal crowds, figuring that he can gain more support from those who love to condemn the church than he can from the supporters of the church, and that the welcome he would get in Pentecostal circles were he to cast off from the Adventist church would more than make up for the loss of both revenue and support he currently gets from SDA church administrators.

It is a very complex problem and one for which (even with my sometimes overactive imagination) I have never been able to come up with any scenario that would sort things out all neatly and leave 3ABN with fully clean management and board and developing into a true "face of Adventism" to the world. I take comfort in what I believe to be a fact--that the Lord has a thousand ways to work things out that we have not even dreamed about. I think the bottom line is that we have to be patient, each doing "whatever our hand finds to do", while we wait on the Lord to accomplish what needs to be accomplished.

This is not to say merely "leave it to God" while we ignore or downplay the seriousness of the situation. It is to recognize that God nearly always uses humans as His agents in accomplishing His purposes, and to also recognize that even though we cannot individually play what seems to us to be a significant part in His work, we should still do all we can. For most of us here on BSDA that is probably no more than thinking things through, asking questions, probing, giving information whenever we have some that is appropriate to be shared, and "watching for indications of His Providence." I think we see some definite indications of that in the removal of 3ABN from two different satellites in two far apart sectors of the globe. This is not anything that any one here could have accomplished had we set out to do so.

Every day that we wait someone new hears the truth about Danny and/or others at 3ABN. Every day that we wait someone else learns through personal experience the truth of how Danny treats those who disagree with him. Eventually all of these things will come together and God will be ready to act. In the meantime, let us keep on sharing--both here on the forum and as we have opportunity in our personal contacts.

Watchbird, an excellent response to a very complex situation. I hope that everyone sees the wisdom in the last paragraph...we each have a part to play in the slow grinding that is taking place, even the smallest of cogs is necessary for the machine to function.

Thank you, for your astute comments!

Posted by: watchbird Jun 8 2006, 02:30 PM

QUOTE(Clay @ Jun 8 2006, 02:13 PM)

God does not need for things to come together to act, especially if He did not like what was happening.... i.e. tower of babel, or some of the leaders and mixed multitude being swallowed by the earth...

It is not for us to decide what God "needs". It is for us to accept that He is acting, even when we don't see any evidence of it, and to trust that He has reasons for his delay even when we want things to happen right now.

Posted by: Clay Jun 8 2006, 02:30 PM

QUOTE(sister @ Jun 8 2006, 03:15 PM)

Watchbird, an excellent response to a very complex situation. I hope that everyone sees the wisdom in the last paragraph...we each have a part to play in the slow grinding that is taking place, even the smallest of cogs is necessary for the machine to function.

Thank you, for your astute comments!

not quite... if God seriously disapproves, he does not need us to do anything for him to act..... then we are faced with the question does he or doesn't he approve....

Darius' comments are on point:

QUOTE

If you guys would just stop believing this idea that 3ABN is something God set up all this hand wringing would not be necessary. Danny had every right to install a board that agrees with him. He would be a fool to do otherwise. Employees of 3ABN are Danny's employees. His primary obligation is to obey labor laws. He has no obligation to fit into the eschatological musings of these employees.

Posted by: watchbird Jun 8 2006, 02:37 PM

QUOTE(Clay @ Jun 8 2006, 02:30 PM)

not quite... if God seriously disapproves, he does not need us to do anything for him to act..... then we are faced with the question does he or doesn't he approve....

not quite. We are not left with no ability nor guidance as to what God does and does not approve. We can figure that out without Him acting in dramatic ways in present situations.

God choosing to involve humans in his plans and actions says nothing at all about what God needs. It says a great deal, however, about what God knows that we need.

Posted by: Clay Jun 8 2006, 02:43 PM

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jun 8 2006, 03:37 PM)

not quite. We are not left with no ability nor guidance as to what God does and does not approve. We can figure that out without Him acting in dramatic ways in present situations.

God choosing to involve humans in his plans and actions says nothing at all about what God needs. It says a great deal, however, about what God knows that we need.

Darius said.....

QUOTE

Didn't everybody think Danny provided that godly leadership in the beginning? You guys are obsessed with Danny and are missing the bigger picture.

then he said.....

QUOTE

If you guys would just stop believing this idea that 3ABN is something God set up all this hand wringing would not be necessary. Danny had every right to install a board that agrees with him. He would be a fool to do otherwise. Employees of 3ABN are Danny's employees. His primary obligation is to obey labor laws. He has no obligation to fit into the eschatological musings of these employees.

what else needs to be said?

Posted by: watchbird Jun 8 2006, 03:35 PM

QUOTE(Clay @ Jun 8 2006, 02:43 PM)

Darius said.....

then he said.....

what else needs to be said?

Probably nothing needs to be said. But I do not agree with the implications of what Darius has said here nor what he has said along the same lines more explicitly elsewhere.

Did God lead in the establishment of 3ABN? I think that he did. That does not mean that I think that Danny was not lying from the beginning and that his goal from the beginning was not the same as it is now--to con people into thinking he was something other than what he is--a con man out looking for the fastest buck possible.

But God uses even "the wrath of men" to glorify his name. And 3ABN has done God and the church a real and valid service, even at the same time that Danny was stealing the church members blind and that his backers were using their power to manipulate the church. It is still a fact that through 3ABN honest persons and genuine Christians have been brought into contact with Christ and with the Seventh-day Adventist church--and have been blessed in the process. For many it is their only contact with the Adventist church--or any church. For many, the only programs they watch are those that are Adventist produced, and what Danny says or does on his segments has no effect on them since they don't watch him anyhow.

There are very good reasons for the church to have a proprietary interest in 3ABN and to desire to have the evil swept away, have it come closer to the mainline church, and have it become what it has the potential of becoming--a supporting ministry of the Adventist church. Danny did not build the 3ABN audience on his own. The church itself has invested a great amount of influence, money, promotion, and utilization of it in order for it to become what it is. They have the right to want that investment to have continuing future returns. That portion of the church membership who have conscienciously supported through their financial giving--very often sacrificial financial giving--also has the right to claim a proprietary interest in not only the continuance of 3ABN, but the removal of evil, the rectifying of financial procedures, and the reclamation of as much of the stolen assets as is possible.

I realize that there are those who have such a poor opinion of the Adventist church that they rejoice with every revelation of wrongdoing since that justifies them in their denigration of the church. I am not one of those. While I recognize, probably better than the average person, just how many inconsistencies and injustices there are in the Adventist church organization, I still see those as problems that need correcting--not as evidences that the church itself is baaaaa-d and that we would all be better off just to relegate any affections we have for it to the nearest trash heap.

Posted by: Johann Jun 8 2006, 04:07 PM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jun 8 2006, 08:29 PM)
>
> just cause you open a store doesn't mean folks have to shop there, and just because customers demand certain things from your store doesn't mean you have to supply them...

Trouble is if this store is the only one of its kind in the area, and it has a popular product that everyone wants. Just like so many seem to think that only 3ABN has the ability to produce the right kind of proclamation of the Advent Message. Are you suggesting we inform around us that the true Gospel can use other vehicles of communication than 3ABN?

Posted by: vonessa Jun 8 2006, 04:47 PM

> QUOTE(gracetoyou @ Jun 8 2006, 12:47 PM)
>
> This is what I was referring to in my post. If Danny is forced out through scandal or being incarcerated, could he close down 3ABN or would the board, who would probably be scurrying around trying to cover their own behinds, be able to choose another scandal-free leader? The demise of 3ABN would not necessarily be a catastrophe as we have the HOPE channel, but it would be nice if it were led by truly godly leadership.

Do you think that the police will put Danny incarcerated? What for? When? There are some good folks who do not sin as much as he does who could do a better job, but maybe we should make sure that they are going to be scandal-freer by watching those folks closely right now rather than waiting until later.

I know that probably sounds bad, but Danny's problem is that he sins in more public and embarassing ways than a lot of other folks. At least that's what I'm picking up here. We are all sinner I know but some are just a bit better than Danny is. Give a better person a chance!

Posted by: sister Jun 8 2006, 05:33 PM

QUOTE(Johann @ Jun 8 2006, 11:48 AM)

When your jeweler builds his own SDA church, hires a pastor to suit his whims, preach the sermons he wants to hear, and to issue church disciplin to whomever he wants to curtail, and then he manages to place his general store manager on the Conference Board, he uses money earned in his jewelry store to pay for the campaign of his chosen people to be leaders and officers on different leadership levels in the Church - who is there to discipline your jeweler?

Johann, let me repeat all of this back to you to make sure we understand what is taking place inside this "Jewelry Store":

When the Jeweler (Danny Shelton) builds his own SDA church (the 3ABN Worship Center), hires a pastor to suit his whims (John Lomacang), who preaches what he (Danny) wants to hear, and to issue church discipline to whomever he wants to curtail (Linda Shelton, etc.), and then he manages to place his general store manager (Mollie Steenson, 3ABN General Manager) on the Conference (Illinois SDA Conference Board) Board, he uses money (donations) earned in his jewelry store to pay for the campaign of his chosen people to be leaders and officers on different leadership levels in the Church (current Illinois Conference President and current NAD President?, etc.) - who is there to discipline your jeweler (Danny Shelton)?

A question on one point: what could possibly qualify Mollie Steenson to sit on the Illinois Conference Board? She has only been a member of the SDA church for less than six years. She has made comments that she became a Seventh-day Adventist not because of E. G. White or the Sabbath, but because 3ABN is the cutting edge ministry. Is it possible that Danny is now attempting to stack the Illinois Conference Board as he has the 3ABN Board? Johann, you have been a churchman for many years. Does this sound as suspicious to you as it does to me?

Posted by: statrei Jun 8 2006, 06:24 PM

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jun 8 2006, 05:35 PM)

Did God lead in the establishment of 3ABN? I think that he did.

And that's all it is; a belief. You have no evidence one way or other that there is any substance to this belief. Did He ever tell you that He stopped leading 3ABN? You decided that because of some stuff you don't like. You have no evidence that He agrees with you. You have painted yourself into a corner and you don't have a lifeline to pluck you out.

Posted by: watchbird Jun 8 2006, 07:06 PM

QUOTE(statrei @ Jun 8 2006, 06:24 PM)

And that's all it is; a belief. You have no evidence one way or other that there is any substance to this belief. Did He ever tell you that He stopped leading 3ABN? You decided that because you saw stuff you don't like. You have no evidence that He agrees with you. You have painted yourself into a corner and you don't have a lifeline to pluck you out.

Paint does not a prison make.

As for a lifeline--as a matter of fact, I do indeed have a Lifeline.

So sorry if you don't.

Posted by: Clay Jun 8 2006, 07:11 PM

QUOTE(Johann @ Jun 8 2006, 04:07 PM)

Trouble is if this store is the only one of its kind in the area, and it has a popular product that everyone wants. Just like so many seem to think that only 3ABN has the ability to produce the right kind of proclamation of the Advent Message. Are you suggesting we inform around us that the true Gospel can use other vehicles of communication than 3ABN?

The Creator is not limited to 3ABN to get the message out.... it may or may not be the only store in the area, but if he has convinced people that he is only show in town then thats on them....

Posted by: statrei Jun 8 2006, 07:36 PM

QUOTE(Clay @ Jun 8 2006, 08:11 PM)

The Creator is not limited to 3ABN to get the message out.... it may or may not be the only store in the area, but if he has convinced people that he is only show in town then thats on them....

The problem is that he did not have to convince them. The bond is greater because they convinced him. All this hullabaloo is an attempt to maintain the self-deception.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jun 8 2006, 07:37 PM

QUOTE(statrei @ Jun 8 2006, 07:24 PM)

And that's all it is; a belief. You have no evidence one way or other that there is any substance to this belief. Did He ever tell you that He stopped leading 3ABN? You decided that because you saw stuff you don't like. You have no evidence that He agrees with you. You have painted yourself into a corner and you don't have a lifeline to pluck you out.

'op-notch lawyers always dress the murder suspect in a shirt and tie and get him a haircut before hey bring the suspect to court. The lawyers don't let the suspect show up for court dressed as a biker o show off his latest tattoos to the jury. Otherwise, the suspect could lose his case before the jury ever sees any evidence.

t's difficult, if not impossible, to separate beliefs from the evidence so neatly. People who work with uries seem to know this.

Posted by: Clay Jun 9 2006, 02:27 AM

QUOTE(statrei @ Jun 8 2006, 07:36 PM)

The problem is that he did not have to convince them. The bond is greater because they convinced him. All this hullabaloo is an attempt to maintain the self-deception.

o then it is a case of not liking the "god" they created.... interesting.... in light of the fact that I uspect that Mr. Shelton has always been what he is.....

eminds me of this story.....

)ne day, a scorpion looked around at the mountain where he lived and decided that he wanted a hange. So he set out on a journey through the forests and hills. He climbed over rocks and under ines and kept going until he reached a river.

he river was wide and swift, and the scorpion stopped to reconsider the situation. He couldn't see any vay across. So he ran upriver and then checked downriver, all the while thinking that he might have o turn back.

uddenly, he saw a frog sitting in the rushes by the bank of the stream on the other side of the river. le decided to ask the frog for help getting across the stream.

Hellooo Mr. Frog!" called the scorpion across the water, "Would you be so kind as to give me a ride n your back across the river?"

Well now, Mr. Scorpion! How do I know that if I try to help you, you wont try to kill me?" asked the rog hesitantly.

Because," the scorpion replied, "If I try to kill you, then I would die too, for you see I cannot swim!"

Iow this seemed to make sense to the frog. But he asked. "What about when I get close to the bank? ou could still try to kill me and get back to the shore!"

"This is true," agreed the scorpion, "But then I wouldn't be able to get to the other side of the river!"

"Alright then...how do I know you wont just wait till we get to the other side and THEN kill me?" said the frog.

"Ahh...," crooned the scorpion, "Because you see, once you've taken me to the other side of this river, I will be so grateful for your help, that it would hardly be fair to reward you with death, now would it?!"

So the frog agreed to take the scorpion across the river. He swam over to the bank and settled himself near the mud to pick up his passenger. The scorpion crawled onto the frog's back, his sharp claws prickling into the frog's soft hide, and the frog slid into the river. The muddy water swirled around them, but the frog stayed near the surface so the scorpion would not drown. He kicked strongly through the first half of the stream, his flippers paddling wildly against the current.

Halfway across the river, the frog suddenly felt a sharp sting in his back and, out of the corner of his eye, saw the scorpion remove his stinger from the frog's back. A deadening numbness began to creep into his limbs.

"You fool!" croaked the frog, "Now we shall both die! Why on earth did you do that?"

The scorpion shrugged, and did a little jig on the drownings frog's back.

"I could not help myself. It is my nature."

Then they both sank into the muddy waters of the swiftly flowing river.

Posted by: summertime Jun 9 2006, 07:13 AM

> QUOTE(statrei @ Jun 8 2006, 07:24 PM)
>
> And that's all it is; a belief. You have no evidence one way or other that there is any substance to this belief. Did He ever tell you that He stopped leading 3ABN? You decided that because you saw stuff you don't like. You have no evidence that He agrees with you. You have painted yourself into a corner and you don't have a lifeline to pluck you out.

Statrei, are you sure that you do not speak for or as Danny Shelton? Are you sure that your true initials are not similar to D.S.? If a fish smells like a fish, sounds like a fish, gloats like a fish and looks like a fish, it usually is a fish.

Posted by: Denny Jun 9 2006, 07:17 AM

> QUOTE(summertime @ Jun 9 2006, 01:13 PM)
>
> If a fish smells like a fish, sounds like a fish, floats and swims like a fish and looks like a fish, it usually is a fish.

It could be a mammal i.e dolphins

Posted by: Johann Jun 9 2006, 07:49 AM

QUOTE(Clay @ Jun 9 2006, 10:27 AM)

Then they both sank into the muddy waters of the swiftly flowing river.

Who is the scorpion and who is the frog?

Posted by: watchbird Jun 9 2006, 07:59 AM

QUOTE(Clay @ Jun 9 2006, 02:27 AM) so then it is a case of not liking the "god" they created.... interesting.... in light of the fact that I suspect that Mr. Shelton has always been what he is.....

Ah yes, which was also my point in an earlier post, but which in itself is an extremely sad comment, for one would expect that one claiming to do the work of God would have been changed in character by his association with God.

QUOTE

reminds me of this story.....

One day, a scorpion looked around [. . . now moving to the punchlines . . .]

So the frog agreed to take the scorpion across the river. He swam over to the bank and settled himself near the mud to pick up his passenger. The scorpion crawled onto the frog's back, his sharp claws prickling into the frog's soft hide, and the frog slid into the river. The muddy water swirled around them, but the frog stayed near the surface so the scorpion would not drown. He kicked strongly through the first half of the stream, his flippers paddling wildly against the current.

Halfway across the river, the frog suddenly felt a sharp sting in his back and, out of the corner of his eye, saw the scorpion remove his stinger from the frog's back. A deadening numbness began to creep into his limbs.

"You fool!" croaked the frog, "Now we shall both die! Why on earth did you do that?"

The scorpion shrugged, and did a little jig on the drownings frog's back.

"I could not help myself. It is my nature."

Then they both sank into the muddy waters of the swiftly flowing river.

This, I think, illustrates well the diference between evil and sin. Some have kept remarking how we are all sinners, just some are a little "better" at sinning than others. But I would like to point out that we are not all evil. We are born sinners (however much our understanding of that [illegible] may differ), of the lineage of Adam, under the "life sentence" of knowing both good and evil. However, we are not born evil. We become evil only through long years of choosing evil rather than good (ie. choosing the Evil One rather than the GOOD ONE).

And how do we tell the difference between evil and sin? I think your parable holds the key.

Sin is alwys self-centered and seeks its own good above that of others around them. One who sins does so from some benefit they get as the result of that sin. But evil is destructive for no other reason than that of destroying--even when its destructive acts destroys itself. We all have enough sin in us so we can understand the attraction of lust and money and power. But I trust that all of us have been "delivered from evil" at least to the extent that we find it incomprehensible and repulsive when we see acts of destruction of others' lives, marriages, characters, and reputations even then such acts bring no benefit to the one who is doing them.

Back to your parable with some questions:

In the parable the end happens. But in reality, is the end fixed? Or is there time yet to rescue the frog who was exhibiting his own inner good "nature" by his willingness to help the scorpion even in the face of known danger? At present the rushing waters swirl. The frog seems numbed. But neither the frog nor the scorpion have yet succumbed. Can the one be removed to meet his just end, and the other be revived?

As sister so often says, "Stay tuned". The final chapters of the story have not yet been written.

Posted by: Clay Jun 9 2006, 08:41 AM

> QUOTE(summertime @ Jun 9 2006, 08:13 AM)
>
> Statrei, are you sure that you do not speak for or as Danny Shelton? Are you sure that your true initials are not similar to D.S.? If a fish smells like a fish, sounds like a fish, gloats like a fish and looks like a fish, it usually is a fish.

I will not attempt to speak for Darius... but ummmm I know Darius from his years of posting on forums here and there, Darius is no Danny Shelton...and thats a good thing....

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jun 9 2006, 07:49 AM)
>
> Who is the scorpion and who is the frog?

well it seems to me that those here with a tragic story to tell/share must be the frog... while Mr. Shelton whose family had Capone shaking in his boots would have to be the scorpion...

Posted by: statrei Jun 9 2006, 09:40 AM

> QUOTE(summertime @ Jun 9 2006, 08:13 AM)
>
> Statrei, are you sure that you do not speak for or as Danny Shelton? Are you sure that your true initials are not similar to D.S.? If a fish smells like a fish, sounds like a fish, gloats like a fish and looks like a fish, it usually is a fish.

Thereing lies your problem. You follow heroes instead of issues. You are quite willing to [illegible] someone lie and scheme as long as it is being done to support you. That is why you expect me to deny the evidence so I can further your perspective. Thanks for the offer but no thank...

Posted by: Clay Jun 9 2006, 10:04 AM

QUOTE(statrei @ Jun 9 2006, 10:40 AM)

Thereing lies your problem. You follow heroes instead of issues. You are quite willing to have someone lie and scheme as long as it is being done to support you. That is why you expect me to deny the evidence so I can further your perspective. Thanks for the offer but no thank...

perhaps that is why some events in human history are repeated... people are looking for leaders/heroes.... and those heroes lead them down paths that they never expected... have them do things they never believed they would do....

Posted by: Jvat Jun 9 2006, 02:21 PM

I don't know why but somehow the latest set of discussions in this thread also remind me of the book "Lord of the Flies" where the kids lost the veneer of civilisation and everything degenerated.

Well, Clay looks like we all need heroes, persons who can make us believe that the good is all possible. Only thing, looks like we can only trust our Hero Jesus not to fail us.

Posted by: Clay Jun 9 2006, 02:22 PM

QUOTE(Jvat @ Jun 9 2006, 02:21 PM)

I don't know why but somehow the latest set of discussions in this thread also remind me of the book "Lord of the Flies" where the kids lost the veneer of civilisation and everything degenerated.

Well, Clay looks like we all need heroes, persons who can make us believe that the good is all possible. Only thing, looks like we can only trust our Hero Jesus not to fail us.

true....

Posted by: sister Jun 9 2006, 05:49 PM

QUOTE(sister @ Jun 8 2006, 06:33 PM)

Johann, let me repeat all of this back to you to make sure we understand what is going on inside this "Jewelry Store":

When the Jeweler (Danny Shelton) builds his own SDA church (the 3ABN Worship Center), hires a pastor to suit his whims (John Lomacang), who preaches what he (Danny) wants to hear, and to issue church discipline to whomever he wants to curtail (Linda Shelton, etc.), and the Jeweler manages to place his general store manager (Mollie Steenson, 3ABN General Manager) on the Conference (Illinois SDA Conference Board) Board, he uses money (donations) earned in his jewelry store

(3ABN) to pay for the campaign of his chosen people to be leaders and officers on different leadership levels in the Church (current Illinois Conference President and current NAD President?, etc.) - who is there to discipline your jeweler (Danny Shelton)?

A question on one point: what could possibly qualify Mollie Steenson to sit on the Illinois Conference Board? She has only been a member of the SDA church for less than six years. She has made comments that she became a Seventh-day Adventist not because of E. G. White or the Sabbath, but because 3ABN is the cutting edge ministry. Is it possible that Danny is now attempting to stack the Illinois Conference Board as he has the 3ABN Board? Johann, you have been a churchman for many years. Does this sound as suspicious to you as it does to me?

ohann, you may have not seen the above, so I am still wondering what you think not only about Mollie Steenson on the Illinois Conference Board, but also about her part in the scheme of things at 3ABN?

Posted by: beartrap Jun 9 2006, 06:42 PM

QUOTE(sister @ Jun 9 2006, 06:49 PM)

Johann, you may have not seen the above, so I am still wondering what you think not only about Mollie Steenson on the Illinois Conference Board, but also about her part in the scheme of things at 3ABN?

Well, as was previously mentioned, if anything drastic happens, 3ABN goes to the Illinois conference... at least that is how it was laid out in the charter.

Posted by: Clay Jul 4 2006, 06:53 PM

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jun 9 2006, 06:42 PM)

Well, as was previously mentioned, if anything drastic happens, 3ABN goes to the Illinois conference... at least that is how it was laid out in the charter.

so thats why that conference president is on the board....

Posted by: meadbd Jul 5 2006, 09:03 AM

---

his chosen people to be leaders and officers on different leadership levels in the Church (current Illinois Conference President and current NAD President?, etc.

"...current NAD President..."---You mean Don Schneider is under Danny's control? doesn't sound likely.

Bill

Posted by: watchbird Jul 5 2006, 09:30 AM

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jun 9 2006, 06:42 PM)

Well, as was previously mentioned, if anything drastic happens, 3ABN goes to the Illinois conference... at least that is how it was laid out in the charter.

I admit to not having seen the whole wording. But from the excerpt that I saw I gathered that this was probably a provision as to what to do on the occasion the death of the owner. It speaks of the possibility of the board not being able to handle the operation of it, and in that case it would go to the Illinois Conference. Since the board does not "handle the operation" in any direct sense of the word now, I cannot see this as giving the board the authority to hand it over to the Illinois Conference for any other reason than that of Danny's demise.

QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 4 2006, 06:53 PM)

so thats why that conference president is on the board....

I don't think there is a direct link between this and that. I think we have pretty well established that this conference president is on Danny's board because he is a Danny supporter and admirer and has family ties into 3ABN as well. Whether there is a provision in the charter for whoever is to be Illinois Conference President to be on the 3ABN board--I don't know, but I kinda assume that Danny is the one who handpicks his board members.

QUOTE(meadbd @ Jul 5 2006, 09:03 AM)

---

his chosen people to be leaders and officers on different leadership levels in the Church (current Illinois Conference President and current NAD President?, etc.

"...current NAD President..."---You mean Don Schneider is under Danny's comtrol? doesn't sound likely.

Bill

What we know on this topic is that Danny has bragged about Garwin affecting the outcome of NAD presidential outcome, using the term "we" in describing that as a victory. We also know that Schneider has been a long-time supporter and admirer of 3ABN and supposedly of Danny Shelton since he is considered to "be" 3ABN. We also know that Danny has made overt attempts through the years (some successful and some not) to "buy" various persons who because of their positions of influence or reputations he saw as valuable to himself. We should not think in terms of a "deal" in which the persons being "bought" were aware that Danny was setting up this type of relationship with them. But whether or not they were aware of it, there are a great many persons in NAD and GC as well who consider it too dangerous to cross Danny -- including ways that include actively lessening the dependency relationship that has been set up with 3ABN by utilizing their facilities for SDA programming. And then there are some that are still "true believers" in both Danny and 3ABN.

Where Schneider falls in that range of attitudes, I really do not know, beyond that he has actively supported Danny through the years, and at last report still did so.

Posted by: sonshineonme Jul 6 2006, 09:01 PM

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jul 5 2006, 08:30 AM)

What we know on this topic is that Danny has bragged about Garwin affecting the [illegible] of NAD presidential outcome, using the term "we" in describing that as a victory. We a[illegible] Schneider has been a long-time supporter and admirer of 3ABN and supposedly [illegible] Shelton since he is considered to "be" 3ABN. We also know that Danny has made overt [illegible] through the years (some successful and some not) to "buy" various persons who becau[illegible] positions of influence or reputations he saw as valuable to himself. We should not think i[illegible] a "deal" in which the persons being "bought" were aware that Danny was setting up this [illegible] relationship with them. But whether or not they were aware of it, there are a great many pe[illegible] and GC as well who consider it too dangerous to cross Danny -- including ways that [illegible] lessening the dependency relationship that has been set up with 3ABN by utiliz[illegible] facilities to air SDA programming. And then there are some that are still "true believers" i[illegible] and 3ABN.

Where Schneider falls in that range of attitudes, I really do not know, beyond the [illegible] he has actively supported Danny through the years, and at last report still did so.

What we also know is that while the leaders in the church stand by and don't ta[illegible] they see things that should not be let go, that too is to "support" Danny. Many leade[illegible] truth, and choose not to be involved because 3abn is NOT the sda church. So, it's really [illegible] sda church business (so I have been told). But to do nothing when you know you ca[illegible], and more importantly collectively do something, even unofficial, is to also support D[illegible] ays about it. (am I sounding redundant here? oops!)

Powered by Invision Power Board (http://www.invisionboard.c[illegible] © Invision Power Services (http://www.invisionpower.com[illegible]

Printable Version of Topic

220

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ An Unauthorized History Of 3abn

Posted by: sister Apr 20 2006, 10:53 AM

The Parable of "the high road and the low road"...

Many years ago there were two young men who attended Emmanuel Missionary College. In addition to being college-mates, they shared some things in common, both Seventh-day Adventist and both had the desire study and grow in knowledge. They were known in those days as Walt and Johann, two young men headed in the same direction, beginning their higher education to prepare for their futures. In time their paths began to diverge, one choose the field of medicine, the other answered God's call to pastoral ministry. Their educations continued, one became a surgeon, the other a pastor. Little did they realize that one day many years in the future their paths would again cross and for a time join, only to diverge again. At that time they would have passed the bloom of youth, raised families, continued in their careers, gone through middle-age and reached maturity.

Time and experience changes people, Walt and Johann were no longer the same young men they had been all those years ago. Through their shared experiences one of them would be disappointed to see the development of character that had taken place in his former classmate. And the other? Let's go on with the story...

The juncture where their paths were to be joined again was in the small town of Thompsonville, Illinois, the location was Three Angels Broadcasting Network and the man that was to influence both their lives in very different ways was Danny Shelton.

By this time both men had reached or past the age of retirement. One has a continuing position at 3ABN, the other would leave in what was made to appear as disgrace. The positions they occupied? Chairman of the Board of 3ABN and European Liaison.

There have not been as many European Liaisons over the years as there have been accountants. But both have something in common, the level of their conscience can not be too refined if they plan to make 3ABN a long term career choice. Sooner or later a day of reckoning does come and a stand will have to be taken.

Johann believed in the ministry of 3ABN and wanted to bring the televised message of the Gospel "24/7" to Europe. But this was not destined to be. For Johann the time of departure would be approaching, like the tornados that have plowed their way through the countryside of southern Illinois, leaving a path of destruction in their wake. For Johann the tornado came in the form of requests from the President of 3ABN. But he refused to damage his reputation by spreading the falsehoods that Danny Shelton required of him. In disappointment he realize that his former classmate from Emmanuel Missionary College did not share his convictions. For Walt Thompson believed Danny when he said that if he, Danny, were to admit his fault it would damage the reputation of 3ABN. So, Walt was willing to spread Danny's fictitious stories to save Danny's reputation.

Self-delusion can cause people to do and say things that any thinking person would look at in total amazement and wonder how they could ever come to that conclusion. How could anyone delude themselves to that degree? So it was for Johann Thorvaldsson when a letter arrived for him from Danny Shelton. Danny wrote that since Moses and David could get away with adultery and murder, so can he, since God has given him such a great task to perform.

Every parable has a moral and this one is no exception. For those who uphold truth it can be a difficult road to tread, but one day they will see that all they have endured is nothing compared to the knowledge of the Gospel of Christ Jesus. One day they will hear His words, "Well done good and faithful servant."

For the others whose, "Pride goes before a fall.", we can only pray that one day like a sleeper they will awaken from their delusional dream and repent before the hour is too late, before they stand before the Throne of God, telling of all the things they have done in his name, and hear Him say, "Depart from me for I never knew you."

Each one of us must make that same choice, each one of us must take responsibility for the path that he chooses to follow...

Posted by: Clay Apr 20 2006, 10:56 AM unauthorized bio's are so good.... of course those being written about will deny, deny, and deny....

Posted by: Zephyr Apr 20 2006, 04:38 PM

QUOTE(sister @ Apr 20 2006, 10:53 AM)

The Parable of "the high road and the low road"...

In time their paths began to diverge, one choose the field of medicine, the other answered God's call to ministry.

Hey before someone else skewers you, what do you mean by this? Are you suggesting that medicine is neither a call of God nor a call to ministry? Just a digression...you don't have to respond. Keep the story going. Great work.

Posted by: Prisca Apr 21 2006, 04:42 AM

Hmmm. just a ponder. Wasn't one of Linda's last songs...Take the Higher Road? I wonder if her last album had clues no one heard?

Priscilla

Posted by: denisebyers Apr 21 2006, 06:59 AM

Funny, I thought the same thing. That song was in her album, "I think About Grace" I just recently brought 3 of her CD's. It looks as though that was her 2nd to last CD. Her last one was 'Makin' Memories" They have some really nice songs on them, and most of the songs were written and produced by Linda.

QUOTE(Prisca @ Apr 21 2006, 06:42 AM)

Hmmm. just a ponder. Wasn't one of Linda's last songs...Take the Higher Road? I wonder if her last album had clues no one heard?

Priscilla

Posted by: PaperTigers Apr 21 2006, 05:29 PM

ok i'm waiting for the next chapter

Posted by: sister Apr 21 2006, 09:19 PM

A Teaser or Previews of Coming Attractions...

It has been said "that it is impossible to know the players without a score card". Is that really true? Or just another device to increase program sales as spectators enter the arena? Well, "you pays your monies and you takes your chances"...

THE PLAYERS:

Danny Lee Shelton
Position: Always #1 in his book

Don't get in the way of his spotlight, you are likely to disappear: ask Kenny or Linda.

Molly Sue Steenson
#2 and gaining ground quickly

Over the years speculation in the Shelton clan has run high concerning the hold that Molly has over Danny. She is ever his "oracle of truth". Molly/Truth? That has the distinct scent of an oxymoron.

Hal Steenson
#3 and holding tight on Molly's coat tails, as long as he can remain publicly sober

Hal is a very charismatic preacher, he can hold a congregation in his hand and skillfully maneuver them into turning cartwheels as he charms them with his "good old boy" southern humor and homespun wisdom. His current assignment? Proclaiming the "godly" character of Danny Shelton. Like a master magician, Hal's verbal sight of hand is so persuasive that I almost believe him... Fortunately, I've seen what lies behind the smoke and mirrors.

Dr. Walt Thompson
3ABN Defender, twisting the truth, as long as it is for the "good of the ministry"

His most current letter, posted in another thread on BSDA, is graded USDA Prime Pork. If twisting does not suffice, than spreading Danny's falsehoods, "to save the ministry" is no longer a breach of his conscience.

As every basketball afficionado knows, there are always five players in the starting lineup. So who else will show up on center court?

Stay tuned...

Posted by: summertime Apr 21 2006, 09:23 PM

QUOTE(Clay @ Apr 20 2006, 11:56 AM)

unauthorized bio's are so good.... of course those being written about will deny, deny, and deny....

Yes, Clay, you are right. But from just one state away from Illinois, I have heard confirmation of all that sister has said from far and wide. I admire her for all the time and effort she must have taken to tell us the truth. Wherever she is, may God bless her as she carries the message of God to all the world.

Posted by: calvin Apr 21 2006, 09:58 PM

QUOTE(sister @ Apr 21 2006, 09:19 PM)

Dr. Walt Thompson
3ABN Defender, twisting the truth, as long as it is for the "good of the ministry"

His most current letter, posted in another thread on BSDA, is graded USDA Prime Pork. If twisting does not suffice, than spreading Danny's falsehoods, "to save the ministry" is no longer a breach of his conscience.

QUOTE(summertime @ Apr 21 2006, 09:23 PM)

Yes, Clay, you are right. But from just one state away from Illinois, I have heard confirmation of all that sister has said from far and wide. I admire her for all the time and effort she must have taken to tell us the truth. Wherever she is, may God bless her as she carries the message of God to all the world.

I have no reason to believe your version of this saga is anymore creditable than that of Dr Thompson. I suspect the true is somewhere in between and will probably never be known with any certainty. This makes for interesting reading, not much else.

Posted by: Clay Apr 22 2006, 12:34 AM

QUOTE(calvin @ Apr 21 2006, 10:58 PM)

I have no reason to believe your version of this saga is anymore creditable than that of Dr Thompson. I suspect the true is somewhere in between and will probably never be known with any certainty. This makes for interesting reading, not much else.

Agreed Calvin, most unauthorized bio's are an interesting read..... Until something is confirmed... remember when the critics blasted Jose Canseco's book as a book of lies.... until people started testing positive for steroids.... now the book is being viewed as the "bible" of steroids in baseball.....

Time will tell....

Posted by: HUGGINS130 Apr 22 2006, 03:37 AM

QUOTE(Clay @ Apr 22 2006, 12:34 AM)

Agreed Calvin, most unauthorized bio's are an interesting read..... Until something is confirmed... remember when the critics blasted Jose Canseco's book as a book of lies.... until people started testing positive for steroids.... now the book is being viewed as the "bible" of steroids in baseball.....

Time will tell....

hot mess on toast...that's all im sayin

QUOTE(calvin @ Apr 21 2006, 09:58 PM)

I have no reason to believe your version of this saga is anymore creditable than that of Dr Thompson. I suspect the true is somewhere in between and will probably never be known with any certainty. This makes for interesting reading, not much else.

sounds like a bunch of drama! wonder how much really is true...

Posted by: Panama_Pete Apr 22 2006, 05:20 AM

QUOTE(calvin @ Apr 21 2006, 09:58 PM)

I have no reason to believe your version of this saga is anymore creditable than that of Dr Thompson. I suspect the true is somewhere in between and will probably never be known with any certainty. This makes for interesting reading, not much else.

I was in southern Illinois at one time and I think it is more than just interesting reading. I think it answers some puzzling questions I had.

Posted by: Clay Apr 22 2006, 06:01 AM

QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Apr 22 2006, 06:20 AM)

I was in southern Illinois at one time and I think it is more than just interesting reading. I think it answers some puzzling questions I had.

This is all new news to me... I was not familiar with any of the history of 3ABN, though I know many conservative folks live and die by what is shown on it.....

In fact until the divorce thing, I really hadn't paid much attention to 3ABN, much less watched it.....

Posted by: silsbee_bee Apr 22 2006, 06:19 AM

Are you conservative if you believe sda doctrine, and liberal if you don't? I don't think so. They preach the same thing on hope tv, LLBN, etc. If a black oriented netwrok comes into being they will have to preach the same doctrine. You can't get on the air and say 'I don't believe this, and this and that.' Jerry Falwell, et all, they are already doing that. You can't just do praise music. Two other black networks tried that and they got run off.

As for this unauthorized bio mumbo jumbo, this is not a bio. It is msg board mess. There is no such thing as an unauthorized bio with a anonymous, seudo name byline. Jesus is the truth, and if you're telling the truth, why are you afraid? ON a msg board you can say this or that and not be afraid of lawsuits. Put it in a book. If this stuff is the truth, stand on it.

DB

Posted by: Clay Apr 22 2006, 06:26 AM

> QUOTE(silsbee_bee @ Apr 22 2006, 07:19 AM)
>
> Are you conservative if you believe sda doctrine, and liberal if you don't? I don't think so. They preach the same thing on hope tv, LLBN, etc. If a black oriented netwrok comes into being they will have to preach the same doctrine. You can't get on the air and say 'I don't believe this, and this and that.' Jerry Falwell, et all, they are already doing that. You can't just do praise music. Two other black networks tried that and they got run off.
>
> As for this unauthorized bio mumbo jumbo, this is not a bio. It is msg board mess. There is no such thing as an unauthorized bio with a anonymous, seudo name byline. Jesus is the truth, and if you're telling the truth, why are you afraid? ON a msg board you can say this or that and not be afraid of lawsuits. Put it in a book. If this stuff is the truth, stand on it.
>
> DB

Historically adventist beliefs have been more conservative than liberal.... The point is that for the most part 3ABN appeals to the conservative in adventism. As for the other, well you are reading this message board mumbo jumbo....and do so on a regular basis.... actions speak louder than words DB....

Posted by: statrei Apr 22 2006, 06:50 AM

> QUOTE(silsbee_bee @ Apr 22 2006, 07:19 AM)
>
> ON a msg board you can say this or that and not be afraid of lawsuits.

Did you mean "gracesuits?"

Posted by: silsbee_bee Apr 22 2006, 06:53 AM

QUOTE(Clay @ Apr 22 2006, 07:26 AM)

Historically adventist beliefs have been more conservative than liberal.... The point is that for the most part 3ABN appeals to the conservative in adventism. As for the other, well you are reading this message board mumbo jumbo....and do so on a regular basis.... actions speak louder than words DB....

I glance at it. I don't have to read 10k posts to figure out where a person's coming from, especially if they repeat the same stuff over and over.

DB

Posted by: silsbee_bee Apr 22 2006, 07:04 AM

QUOTE(statrei @ Apr 22 2006, 06:50 AM)

Did you mean "gracesuits?"

It doesn't even have to go as far as law suits. If you going to sling all sorts of mud and not even put your name on the byline, why should I believe it?

DB

Posted by: Clay Apr 22 2006, 04:16 PM

QUOTE(silsbee_bee @ Apr 22 2006, 07:53 AM)

I glance at it. I don't have to read 10k posts to figure out where a person's coming from, especially if they repeat the same stuff over and over.

DB

lol.... yes DB we do repeat ourselves don't we.... no need to hate...

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Apr 22 2006, 08:27 PM

QUOTE(HUGGINS130 @ Apr 22 2006, 04:37 AM)

hot mess on toast...that's all im sayin

QUOTE(silsbee_bee @ Apr 22 2006, 07:19 AM)

Are you conservative if you believe sda doctrine, and liberal if you don't? I don't think so. They preach the same thing on hope tv, LLBN, etc. If a black oriented netwrok comes into being they will have to preach the same doctrine. You can't get on the air and say 'I don't believe this, and this and that.' Jerry Falwell, et all, they are already doing that. You can't just do praise music. Two other black networks tried that and they got run off.

As for this unauthorized bio mumbo jumbo, this is not a bio. It is msg board mess. There is no such thing as an unauthorized bio with a anonymous, seudo name byline. Jesus is the truth, and if you're telling the truth, why are you afraid? ON a msg board you can say this or that and not be afraid of lawsuits. Put it in a book. If this stuff is the truth, stand on it.

Let me do some diggin'...but I do believe that I have read two unauthorized bio's with psudo-named authors.... Gotta go dig in my books....

BBL.....

Also - If you are telling the whole truth - you don't have to make the other person look bad. You can tell your full part without telling all the dirt on the other person and still look "good" to all.

I ain't heard nuthin' but dirt from Dannny Shelton. He hasn't admitted to doing anything wrong at all.... and per the published divorce-tied contract it seemed that something could be said by Linda - which is why she is silenced.

That is all I'm saying.

If you ain't got nothin' to worry about - (like you said DB) why are they worried about what Linda is going to say by silencing her? Maybe she is going to say some..... Oh..... I don't know.....

Some truth?

Posted by: summertime Apr 23 2006, 07:42 AM

QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Apr 22 2006, 08:27 PM)

Let me do some diggin'...but I do believe that I have read two unauthorized bio's with psudo-named authors.... Gotta go dig in my books....

BBL.....

Also - If you are telling the whole truth - you don't have to make the other person look bad. You can tell your full part without telling all the dirt on the other person and still look "good" to all.

I ain't heard nuthin' but dirt from Dannny Shelton. He hasn't admitted to doing anything wrong at all.... and per the published divorce-tied contract it seemed that something could be said by Linda - which is why she is silenced.

That is all I'm saying.

If you ain't got nothin' to worry about - (like you said DB) why are they worried about what Linda is going to say by silencing her? Maybe she is going to say some..... Oh..... I don't know...

It still all goes back to "By their fruits you shall know them." I have not heard one word from Danny, unless he, too, is writing under a pen name. But Linda has her own website and she speaks from her heart and in her own name. I do not believe that Linda could have stayed at 3abn for 20 years and not have seen some of the distasetful things that went on at 3ABN. Perhaps she was involved with some of it---I don't know. Maybe she closed her eyes to please and keep her husband. I don't know and neither do most of you know. But for some reason, afer she was dislodged from her post as Vice-President., she has been silenced from telling what she is aware of and what she knows.. But when you read between her lines, you can see a real lady who may someday tell the truth---2007 is not so far away. But one thing that I do believe, is that Linda will never say anything that will be against the work that 3ABN is doing--even as late as yesterday. With the approved spoken knowledge by Dr. Thompson that they have never accused Linda of adultry, it is obvious that we can see the fact that the President of 3ABN has committed adultry--maybe before his marriage and obviously since. Again, "By their fruits you shall know them." The Lord allowed David to do a work for him, but remember that because of his sins, he was not allowed to build the great temple which was to be built to honor God..

Some truth?

Posted by: sister Apr 23 2006, 09:59 AM

I'm leavin' on a jet plane, or "it's just nickle and dime stuff..."

On a pristine day in the southern part of Illinois a "baby jet" rolls onto the tarmac. As it glistens in the morning sun, fuel gauges indicate the tanks are full. The flight plan has been logged, before exiting the hanger in Marion, Illinois. This six seat baby taxis down the runway, with a roar of it's jet engines the pilot achieves lift off with his co-pilot seated at his side.

The destination? On this trip, another 3ABN beg-a-thon—oh excuse my French, that's what it's referred to when donations are sought out by other televangelists. When the source is a live 3ABN Sabbath telecast (SDA prime time), from an Adventist church, it is a "Rally". No matter what language it is framed in, it still remains nothing more than the mind set that changed a garbage man into a Sanitary Engineer. Either way it is expressed, at the end of the day he still hauls the same garbage.

The purpose? To separate donors from their hard earned cash. Conservatively estimating between one to one and a half million dollars a year to keep a private jet, with all its peripherals costs, standing ready in a hanger in southern Illinois, it takes more than some loose change jingling in a few people's pockets to pay for Danny's comfort and convenience. That definitely is not chump change. Are the personal flights, from which Danny, his friends and relatives have greatly benefitted, a compensation for no longer racking up all those frequent flyers miles earned through utilizing commercial airlines?

This brings to mind a biblical object lesson from the ministry of Jesus, Matthew 21:12, 13. Recapping this familiar narration, the triumphal entry of Jesus into Jerusalem has come to pass, then Jesus entered the temple of God. He drove out all those who bought and sold in the temple and said, "My house shall be called a house of prayer, but you have made it a den of thieves".

Wait a minute...applying that example to Danny publishing his own books and after receiving his royalties and paying for the cost of printing, marking up the price 200-400% ,before selling it to his own ministry, then generously making it the free weekly offer, is a more appropriate application. Just imagine multiplying that scenario by over five million times and you have the free pamphlets that 3ABN is giving away to be distributed for 10 Commandments Day. In addition to that, Danny has petitioned the viewers to send in their donations to pay for the printing costs. And all the churches have to pay is the cost of shipping. An easy way to feather a nest, if you can ignore your conscience.

I have heard it said in T'ville that there are some good old boys who feel a mite uncomfortable these days standing too close to Danny during a thunder storm. The bolder among them have weighed the odds, and quietly ease back and look up. You never know when a bolt of lighting from Heaven might strike. As I look out of my window, is that a thunder head forming on the horizon slowly moving in the direction of 3ABN? A jagged bolt of lighting streaks across the sky, as the clouds begin to darken, I start that age old count down, while waiting for the clap of thunder, one-one thousand...two-one thousand...

To be continued...

Posted by: Zephyr Apr 23 2006, 02:41 PM

QUOTE(silsbee_bee @ Apr 22 2006, 07:04 AM)

It doesn't even have to go as far as law suits. If you going to sling all sorts of mud and not even put your name on the byline, why should I believe it?

DB

I for one admire "sister" and believe her 100% in the details she lays out as facts. Obviously she does have her own motives as all of us do...but I believe her facts 100% and I am sympathetic to her spin on the facts.

I don't believe (as Mr Calvin suggests) that we can derive truth by finding the mean o0f competing versions. Much of what sister says can be easily independently verified or corroborated at least by talking to others.

As I said, I for one am a believer in all sister has to say...and I hope she continues to bring out the truth...anyone who reads her carefully can see that she holds back on more damaging stuff...and i am glad for that. We do not need all the dirt, just enough facts to let everyone know that 3ABN's management is nothing like some of its great programming.

Posted by: sister Apr 23 2006, 05:47 PM

QUOTE(Zephyr @ Apr 23 2006, 03:41 PM)

> ...enough facts to let everyone know that 3ABN's management is nothing like some of its great programming.

Zephyr, you have just hit the proverbial nail on the head.

Posted by: beartrap Apr 23 2006, 05:55 PM

> QUOTE(sister @ Apr 23 2006, 09:59 AM)
>
> I'm leavin' on a jet plane, or "it's just nickle and dime stuff..."
>
> I have heard it said in T'ville that there are some good old boys who feel a mite uncomfortable these days standing too close to Danny during a thunder storm. The bolder among them have weighed the odds, and quietly ease back and look up. You never know when a bolt of lighting from Heaven might strike. As I look out of my window, is that a thunder head forming on the horizon slowly moving in the direction of 3ABN? A jagged bolt of lighting streaks across the sky, as the clouds begin to darken, I start that age old count down, while waiting for the clap of thunder, one-one thousand...two-one thousand...

Indeed, Sister, an increasing number of the good old boys and girls are fleeing T'ville as fast as they can. Anybody have some job openings for television professionals?

Posted by: summertime Apr 23 2006, 07:09 PM

> QUOTE(Zephyr @ Apr 23 2006, 02:41 PM)
>
> I for one admire "sister" and believe her 100% in the details she lays out as facts. Obviously she does have her own motives as all of us do...but I believe her facts 100% and I am sympathetic to her spin on the facts.
>
> I don't believe (as Mr Calvin suggests) that we can derive truth by finding the mean o0f competing versions. Much of what sister says can be easily independently verified or corroborated at least by talking to others.
>
> As I said, I for one am a believer in all sister has to say...and I hope she continues to bring out the truth...anyone who reads her carefully can see that she holds back on more damaging stuff...and i am glad for that. We do not need all the dirt, just enough facts to let everyone know that 3ABN's management is nothing like some of its great programming.

I, too, believe everything that sister says, but I have stated that before. This post is to ask DB what does DB stands for. Thank you, DB.

Posted by: silsbee_bee Apr 23 2006, 07:49 PM

QUOTE(summertime @ Apr 23 2006, 08:09 PM)

I, too, believe everything that sister says, but I have stated that before. This post is to ask DB what does DB stands for. Thank you, DB.

Darryl Bishop, the old posters around here know who I am.

DB

Posted by: beartrap Apr 23 2006, 07:50 PM

As Paper Tigers siad "very few of the actual employees ever fly on the jet with Danny. Only a select few are allowed and only then on rare occasions... if any of the crew needs to fly they are booked on a commercial flight."

The passengers on the plane are usually family members, friends, and people who need to be impressed. Often enough they have little, or nothing to do with the event, while most of the working staff have to take commercial flights while there are empty seats in the jet.

Then, of course, there are the trips to Nashville to see the doctor, trips to the Bay Area to see the dentist, trips to Salt Lake City to see the basketball games (their coach is from Southern Illinois), etc. Sure, the longer personal trips with the jet will be made to include a weekend so that a church service can be included and that just increases the cost by several extra days of pay for the pilots (they cost $700.00 per day and there are two of them) hotels, and auto rental.

It has been implied that this is is justified in that Danny's time is valuable, and that the total cost of a private jet for one man's convenience adds up to just nickels and dimes. In the commercial corporate world where money is earned and lost on the market, that may be true. But in Christianity (being like Christ) where the majority of the dollars are donated by people who live on nothing more than nickel and dimes, there is a big ethical difference. Those dollars are not earned, they are donated.

Speaking of being like Christ, how valuable was his time? Back then, his equivalent to a jet would have been a charriot with a team of horses. Jesus walked, except for the one time when he borrowed a donkey to ride. And the apostles? They walked, booked passage on commercial ships, and Philip even hitchhiked.

What about our church leaders? Does their time have some value to it? If 1.5 million dollars per year for a jet is chump change, I can think of a rather large number of our church officials who are much very prolific in their travel. Don't you think they should each have jets? Think of the time they could save on the commute over to BWI, those long security lines, having to work within a schedule, etc.

Posted by: statrei Apr 23 2006, 08:01 PM

Whatever you may think of Danny Shelton's practices it is his baby. Don't blame him for takng advantage of people who insist on believing that fancy technology is more effective than beautiful lives.

Posted by: beartrap Apr 23 2006, 08:15 PM

QUOTE(statrei @ Apr 23 2006, 08:01 PM)

Whatever you may think of Danny Shelton's practices it is his baby. Don't blame him for takng advantage of people who insist on believing that fancy technology is more effective than beautiful lives.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Apr 23 2006, 10:22 PM

QUOTE(beartrap @ Apr 23 2006, 07:50 PM)

The passengers on the plane are usually family members, friends, and people who need to be impressed. Often enough they have little, or nothing to do with the event, while most of the working staff have to take commercial flights while there are empty seats in the jet.

Then, of course, there are the trips to Nashville to see the doctor, trips to the Bay Area to see the dentist, trips to Salt Lake City to see the basketball games (their coach is from Southern Illinois), etc.

I'm guessing that the Salt Lake City coach mentioned is Jerry Sloan, coach of the Utah Jazz. http://www.insidehoops.com/nbasalaries.shtml lists Sloan's average annual compensation at 5.5 million dollars. Sloan is from Hamilton County, in Southern Illinois, close to Danny Shelton.

Danny and Jerry, most likely, both have jet planes: I'll show you mine if you show me yours.

Posted by: Clay Apr 24 2006, 01:15 AM

QUOTE

What about our church leaders? Does their time have some value to it? If 1.5 million dollars per year for a jet is chump change, I can think of a rather large number of our church officials who are much very prolific in their travel. Don't you think they should each have jets? Think of the time they could save on the commute over to BWI, those long security lines, having to work within a schedule, etc.

Danny Shelton is not a church leader, so he can do basically what he chooses to do with "his" ministry..... If people who support him are not interested in how he spends their money, or if they believe that they should support him no matter what, then that's on them..... The Creator gave us a brain, we can use it or we can blindly follow the hype.....

Posted by: Prisca Apr 24 2006, 04:30 AM

QUOTE(Clay @ Apr 24 2006, 07:15 AM)

Danny Shelton is not a church leader, so he can do basically what he chooses to do with "his" ministry..... If people who support him are not interested in how he spends their money, or if they believe that they should support him no matter what, then that's on them..... The Creator gave us a brain, we can use it or we can blindly follow the hype.....

Perhaps some feel that they need to let it be known. It is possible?...the consequences for blindness more severe spiritually than the consequences for 'using the brain'? Think of the many people who were sitting nicely and believing faithfully until they found the treasurer with his hand in the pot, the pastor signing checks against the tithe, etc. Is it ever better to be ignorant?

Priscilla

Posted by: PaperTigers Apr 24 2006, 06:22 AM

I think to some extent that ignorance IS an excuse, except when the truth becomes so apparent and you just choose to not see it. I know some people who just choose to NOT see things because they want to ministry to continue to spread the gospel. But for me I finally left because the bad outweighed the good by a significant amount and I could no longer feel comfortable working in an environment that didn't take anyone else's needs into consideration, except their own.

Posted by: Nuggie Apr 24 2006, 06:46 AM

QUOTE(statrei @ Apr 23 2006, 09:01 PM)

Whatever you may think of Danny Shelton's practices it is his baby. Don't blame him for takng advantage of people who insist on believing that fancy technology is more effective than beautiful lives.

QUOTE(Clay @ Apr 24 2006, 02:15 AM)

Danny Shelton is not a church leader, so he can do basically what he chooses to do with "his" ministry..... If people who support him are not interested in how he spends their money, or if they believe that they should support him no matter what, then that's on them..... The Creator gave us a brain, we can use it or we can blindly follow the hype.....

ITA...I'm not taking sides on whether Danny is right or wrong because I've only watched 3ABN in passing and have no interest in watching it, but from what I know of his ministry and after reading this thread, I can't help but think that maybe the people who donate to 3ABN need to be a little more discerning and a little less gullible. Sometimes we Christians practice "salvation by works" in a round-about way...thinking that if we give to a worthy cause (in this case 3ABN) then somehow we're helping to "evangelize", yet those same people won't even say good morning to their neighbor.

Posted by: caribbean sda Apr 24 2006, 06:46 AM

QUOTE(PaperTigers @ Apr 24 2006, 08:22 AM)

I think to some extent that ignorance IS an excuse, except when the truth becomes so apparent and you just choose to not see it. I know some people who just choose to NOT see things because they want to ministry to continue to spread the gospel. But for me I finally left because the bad outweighed the good by a significant amount and I could no longer feel comfortable working in an environment that didn't take anyone else's needs into consideration, except their own.

I'm reading with great interest all there is about 3ABN. I hope that no one is turned off because of all the goings in southern Illinois. I suppose since 3ABN is a "self-supporting ministry," the leaders of the SDA Church can only wonder if there is going to be any fallout on the organization from this turn of events. If all that Sister is saying is true, and it probably is, Danny is in charge of a little kingdom and I guess his word is law. God help us all!

Posted by: statrei Apr 24 2006, 07:01 AM

QUOTE(Nuggie @ Apr 24 2006, 07:46 AM)

Sometimes we Christians practice "salvation by works" in a round-about way...thinking that if we give to a worthy cause (in this case 3ABN) then somehow we're helping to "evangelize", yet those same people won't even say good morning to their neighbor.

It is called Christianity by proxy.

Posted by: summertime Apr 24 2006, 07:27 AM

QUOTE(caribbean sda @ Apr 24 2006, 06:46 AM)

I'm reading with great interest all there is about 3ABN. I hope that no one is turned off because of all the goings in southern Illinois. I suppose since 3ABN is a "self-supporting ministry," the leaders of the SDA Church can only wonder if there is going to be any fallout on the organization from this turn of events. If all that Sister is saying is true, and it probably is, Danny is in charge of a little kingdom and I guess his word is law. God help us all!

The problem , in my own thinking, is that people will not believe because the SDA church ,as a whole, will not deal with the problem. 3ABN, to this point, has been so useful to the church that they have closed their eyes to the breaking of the Ten Commandments by the leaders of 3ABN. I spoke recently to a minister, who told me that he personally had very little use for Danny SHelton, but as of now, until Hope TV gets a better progression that 3abn is useful, in spite of Danny's and other's own wrongs, and so it is still useful to the church to spread the message. It has really discouraged me since I have had that conversation. If the church, knowing full well of the open marriage and divorce without the grounds of adultry, are saying to our young people that it is alright for them to do the same as long as they are contributing to the outgrowth of the Three Angel Messages. THis minister also told me that, after all, no one can do anything about chastising Danny except the church to which he belongs, and since he has put that church in place and partially furnishes the salary and a big home on a lake, where Pastor L. lives, that it is most unlikely that they will even disapprove of the things that he has done. Remember, that the ministers of his church are also benefiting from the luxuries that Danny enjoys. The minister told me to let God take care of Danny's wrongs, but I, so far, have not spoken to a minister, with the exception of a few, who will put their foot out and make it openly kown that they are going to quit asking for offerings for 3ABN because of the waste of the money there. By the way, does anyone know why Hope TV carries 3abn--does 3ABN pay for airtime from Hope? I do know that the denomination did try to bring 3ABN under the umbrella of the church and they would not do it---so now I am worried that our GC has considered that , if you can't get them to join, then the next step is for Hope TV to join arm in arm with 3ABN. Just remember that many thousands of people are now watching this fiascoat 3ABN. I wonder why it has been removed from the Sky Angel Network. But, please, folks, we need to remember to help to Spread the Gospel and we can do it by being careful where we mark the offerings that we put in the offering plates at our individual churches. Summertime

---

Posted by: summertime Apr 24 2006, 07:58 AM

QUOTE(caribbean sda @ Apr 24 2006, 06:46 AM)

I'm reading with great interest all there is about 3ABN. I hope that no one is turned off because of all the goings in southern Illinois. I suppose since 3ABN is a "self-supporting ministry," the leaders of the SDA Church can only wonder if there is going to be any fallout on the organization from this turn of events. If all that Sister is saying is true, and it probably is, Danny is in charge of a little kingdom and I guess his word is law. God help us all!

Why are we getting involved at this time? There is a time and place for us to preach the Sabbath Day Sabbath. If we get into this discussion on this particular appointed day, then we are getting into political discussions. I thought that we should not get into or support the political discussions of religion vs. state. Are we asking for trouble---or just inviting it?

Posted by: caribbean sda Apr 24 2006, 12:18 PM

QUOTE(summertime @ Apr 24 2006, 09:58 AM)

Why are we getting involved at this time? There is a time and place for us to preach the Sabbath Day Sabbath. If we get into this discussion on this particular appointed day, then we are getting into political discussions. I thought that we should not get into or support the political discussions of religion vs. state. Are we asking for trouble---or just inviting it?

Are you talking about the 10 Commandments Day? 3ABN is going all out on this with remote telecasts in several locations. Maybe some soul will be drawn to God's kingdom because of what they see and hear.

Posted by: vonessa Jul 5 2006, 08:56 PM

QUOTE(summertime @ Apr 24 2006, 08:27 AM)

By the way, does anyone know why Hope TV carries 3abn--does 3ABN pay for airtime from Hope?

Have we received this answer as of yet?

Posted by: watchbird Jul 6 2006, 03:04 PM

QUOTE(vonessa @ Jul 5 2006, 08:56 PM)

Have we received this answer as of yet? (By the way, does anyone know why Hope TV carries 3abn--does 3ABN pay for airtime from Hope?)

I'm not even sure we ever established that Hope was carrying 3ABN programming--as contrasted with carrying some of the same programs that are carried on 3ABN. Do we have those on here who watch HOPE regularly enough to tell us that?

The fact that the same satellite that carries HOPE, LLBN, etc., also carries 3ABN and some of its permutations might also add to our confusion when talking about this if we are not careful to distinguish between the HOPE satellite and the HOPE TV channels.

Powered by Invision Power Board (http://www.invisionboard.com)
© Invision Power Services (http://www.invisionpower.com)

Printable Version of Topic

221

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ 3abn To Summarize....

Posted by: Clay May 6 2006, 08:12 PM

Okay, having read the threads for the week, let me summarize what I think are the issues and also the possible outcomes realistically....

The issues seem to center around the behavior of Mr. Shelton.

1. The means he used to divorce Linda

2. The way donated money is utilized

3. How he perceives himself, and his role in the sda church

4. His influence on the sda church, and his power (real or perceived) at 3ABN, which may be cult-like in nature....

Those are the areas I think most of the complaints or problems fall into.....

For issue #1, it is my personal opinion that what he did was morally wrong. Yes, legally he was within his right, but as a "christian" his handling of that was unchristian. I don't think the church is going to do anything about it given the number of divorces that happen in the church. So what happens? Nothing, he did what he did, and it cannot be undone. Now he could go back an provide additional funds, but I suspect that ain't happening.

For issue #2, folks who know will have to turn him in for something to be done. I see no other way around it. Those on the inside must blow the whistle loud and long until the feds take action... Jim Bakker served time for defrauding contributors. So what happens? Nothing, unless those who know take courage and turn him in.

For issue #3, those are his perceptions right or wrong... his role in the church will have to be determined by the church... from the sounds of it, he fits right in with other leaders who have been on the scandalous, questionable side... So what happens? Nothing...

For issue #4, money seems to buy influence, and for now he has that... If the church chooses to look the other way while accepting money, that's on them. What he does at 3ABN is his business... It is an independent ministry, and if we don't agree with what he is doing, then we do not have to support it...and we don't have to encourage others to support it. For those who have escaped, be thankful that they have....So what happens? Make leaders aware by email or letters, they may choose to do nothing, but you have at least attempted to make them aware. Do not encourage support of 3ABN if you don't agree with what he is doing... Lastly, I seriously think that those who survived the experience start a website detailing their experiences.... sort of like the ex-sda sites that can be found on the web, just this one would be ex-3ABNers....

That's the reality as I see it....while some of what he has done seems bad morally, I don't think anything can be done about it other than not supporting him and 3ABN and distancing yourself from the insanity, if that indeed what it is.... btjm....

Posted by: HUGGINS130 May 6 2006, 10:02 PM

QUOTE(Clay @ May 6 2006, 08:12 PM)

Okay, having read the threads for the week, let me summarize what I think are the issues and also the possible outcomes realistically....

The issues seem to center around the behavior of Mr. Shelton.

1. The means he used to divorce Linda

2. The way donated money is utilized

3. How he perceives himself, and his role in the sda church

4. His influence on the sda church, and his power (real or perceived) at 3ABN, which may be cult-like in nature....

Those are the areas I think most of the complaints or problems fall into.....

For issue #1, it is my personal opinion that what he did was morally wrong. Yes, legally he was within his right, but as a "christian" his handling of that was unchristian. I don't think the church is going to do anything about it given the number of divorces that happen in the church. So what happens? Nothing, he did what he did, and it cannot be undone. Now he could go back an provide additional funds, but I suspect that ain't happening.

For issue #2, folks who know will have to turn him in for something to be done. I see no other way around it. Those on the inside must blow the whistle loud and long until the feds take action... Jim Bakker served time for defrauding contributors. So what happens? Nothing, unless those who know take courage and turn him in.

For issue #3, those are his perceptions right or wrong... his role in the church will have to be determined by the church... from the sounds of it, he fits right in with other leaders who have been on the scandalous, questionable side... So what happens? Nothing...

For issue #4, money seems to buy influence, and for now he has that... If the church chooses to look the other way while accepting money, that's on them. What he does at 3ABN is his business... It is an independent ministry, and if we don't agree with what he is doing, then we do not have to support it...and we don't have to encourage others to support it. For those who have escaped, be thankful that they have....So what happens? Make leaders aware by email or letters, they may choose to do nothing, but you have at least attempted to make them aware. Do not encourage support of 3ABN if you don't agree with what he is doing... Lastly, I seriously think that those who survived the experience start a website detailing their experiences.... sort of like the ex-sda sites that can be found on the web, just this one would be ex-3ABNers....

That's the reality as I see it....while some of what he has done seems bad morally, I don't think anything can be done about it other than not supporting him and 3ABN and distancing yourself from the insanity, if that indeed what it is.... btjm....

All the while the 3abn truck will continue rolling this great country... G.C. Churches to distance themselves from 3abn...

Posted by: princessdi May 6 2006, 10:06 PM

But they are not, only if and when it gets critical. So somebody needs to tell it to Oprah, Maury, Diane, Ed(Bradley), the Enquirer, Larry(King),and just let it out! They love stuff on televangelist. While we appreciate you all coming and giving us the missing pieces to the puzzle, Danny already knew we didn't buy his story when he came here to tell it, without knowing all the facts. So this maybe helpful to some, and therapeutic to others, but we can't do a thing about it.

Since GC is not smart enough to get out of dodge, the media will have a field day before they sort out the fact that 3ABN is an independent ministry. Full disclosure if the only thing that will help in this situation. While all of his dirty dealings are still in the dark, Danny will continue, and count on each and every one of you to be to "christian" to put him on blast. Linda needs to sell her story to somebody for at least $250,000.00 so she can just give him his money back, and don't forget to get some for herself.

Posted by: LadyTenor May 6 2006, 10:57 PM

QUOTE(princessdi @ May 7 2006, 12:06 AM)

Linda needs to sell her story to somebody for at least $250,000.00 so she can just give him his money back, and don't forget to get some for herself.

Hush, Di!!!!!

But on the real, this is not a bad idea!!!!

Posted by: Clay May 7 2006, 12:21 AM

QUOTE(princessdi @ May 6 2006, 10:06 PM)

But they are not, only if and when it gets critical. So somebody needs to tell it to Oprah, Maury, Diane, Ed(Bradley), the Enquirer, Larry(King),and just let it out! They love stuff on televangelist. While we appreciate you all coming and giving us the missing pieces to the puzzle, Danny already knew we didn't buy his story when he came here to tell it, without knowing all the facts. So this maybe helpful to some, and therapeutic to others, but we can't do a thing about it.

Since GC is not smart enough to get out of dodge, the media will have a field day before they sort out the fact that 3ABN is an independent ministry. Full disclosure if the only thing that will help in this situation. While all of his dirty dealings are still in the dark, Danny will continue, and count on each and every one of you to be to "christian" to put him on blast. Linda needs to sell her story to somebody for at least $250,000.00 so she can just give him his money back, and don't forget to get some for herself.

the only thing that will raise eyebrows though is the money stuff... the public perception of adventism is that we are a little cultish..... and the church can distance itself from 3ABN if it is shown that what is happening there is not in line with what the larger body believes... so its a win win situation for them at the moment...

Posted by: Panama_Pete May 7 2006, 12:51 AM

QUOTE(princessdi @ May 6 2006, 10:06 PM)

Linda needs to sell her story to somebody for at least $250,000.00 so she can just give him his money back, and don't forget to get some for herself.

QUOTE(LadyTenor @ May 6 2006, 10:57 PM)

Hush, Di!!!!!

But on the real, this is not a bad idea!!!!

And don't forget the value of the movie rights. They're worth something, too.

Posted by: calvin May 7 2006, 01:12 AM

QUOTE(princessdi @ May 6 2006, 11:06 PM)

But they are not, only if and when it gets critical. So somebody needs to tell it to Oprah, Maury, Diane, Ed(Bradley), the Enquirer, Larry(King),and just let it out! They love stuff on televangelist. While we appreciate you all coming and giving us the missing pieces to the puzzle, Danny already knew we didn't buy his story when he came here to tell it, without knowing all the facts. So this maybe helpful to some, and therapeutic to others, but we can't do a thing about it.

Since GC is not smart enough to get out of dodge, the media will have a field day before they sort out the fact that 3ABN is an independent ministry. Full disclosure if the only thing that will help in this situation. While all of his dirty dealings are still in the dark, Danny will continue, and count on each and every one of you to be to "christian" to put him on blast. Linda needs to sell her story to somebody for at least $250,000.00 so she can just give him his money back, and don't forget to get some for herself.

Reality check:

This is a story of a man with a TV ministry who divorced his wife and married another. Not much more. Most Adventist don't care, neither will the media.

Posted by: Panama_Pete May 7 2006, 02:12 AM

QUOTE(calvin @ May 7 2006, 02:12 AM)

Reality check:

This is a story of a man with a TV ministry who divorced his wife and married another. Not much more. Most Adventist don't care, neither will the media.

Books happen. If you click this http://www.hilsingermendelson.com/clients.asp, Patti Roberts had the same agent as Pat Robertson. http://lib.williamson-tn.org/Local_Authors/T-V.htm#_Thompson,_Patti_Roberts

"Thompson, Patti Roberts -- Patti Roberts is a recording and concert artist who appeared for several years on the Oral Roberts television specials, as well as the regular weekly telecast. She was married to Richard Roberts, the son of Oral Roberts, but later married John Thompson. She and her two daughters lived in Franklin during the 1980s.

-Dance of the Broken Heart: A Family Love Story(with co-author John Thompson), 1986

-Ashes to Gold (with co-author Sherry Andrews), 1983"

Linda Shelton was an editor at 3ABN. She knows how to write.

Posted by: Johann May 7 2006, 02:17 AM

I just deleted something which should not have gone here. . .

Posted by: Clay May 7 2006, 02:43 AM

QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ May 7 2006, 02:12 AM)

Books happen. If you click this http://www.hilsingermendelson.com/clients.asp, Patti Roberts had the same agent as Pat Robertson. http://lib.williamson-tn.org/Local_Authors/T-V.htm#_Thompson,_Patti_Roberts

"Thompson, Patti Roberts -- Patti Roberts is a recording and concert artist who appeared for several years on the Oral Roberts television specials, as well as the regular weekly telecast. She was married to Richard Roberts, the son of Oral Roberts, but later married John Thompson. She and her two daughters lived in Franklin during the 1980s.

-Dance of the Broken Heart: A Family Love Story(with co-author John Thompson), 1986

-Ashes to Gold (with co-author Sherry Andrews), 1983"

> Linda Shelton was an editor at 3ABN. She knows how to write.

remember when Patti Roberts married Richard.... and then I remember seeing Richard later and the voman on the t.v. show with him was not Patti... so I knew something had happened, but it never eally made national headlines.....

Posted by: Panama_Pete May 7 2006, 03:54 AM

> QUOTE(Clay @ May 7 2006, 02:43 AM)
>
> I remember when Patti Roberts married Richard.... and then I remember seeing Richard later and the woman on the t.v. show with him was not Patti... so I knew something had happened, but it never really made national headlines.....

Richard Roberts, at that time, was still in the shadow of his father, Oral Roberts.

wanted to show just one, diminutive example where the former wife of a televangelist wrote a book or two.

sometimes think that the 3ABN folks looked at the Richard Roberts divorce as an example and said, Well, a televangelist got a divorce, and in a few months nobody remembered who Patti Roberts vas, what her name was, or what she looked like. It will be the same for Linda Shelton."

With Linda Shelton, events are not going that way, to 3ABN's dismay. People seem to like Linda Shelton, even though she's been off the air for two years, since sometime in May, 2004.

can only imagine what would happen to 3ABN's audience if Linda Shelton were working at the Hope Channel.

Posted by: HUGGINS130 May 7 2006, 04:41 AM

> QUOTE(calvin @ May 7 2006, 01:12 AM)
>
> Reality check:
>
> This is a story of a man with a TV ministry who divorced his wife and married another. Not much more. Most Adventist don't care, neither will the media.

sna ok calvin, so do we go into lurk mode on this one too!

Posted by: Clay May 7 2006, 05:08 AM

QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ May 7 2006, 04:54 AM)

Richard Roberts, at that time, was still in the shadow of his father, Oral Roberts.

I wanted to show just one, diminutive example where the former wife of a televangelist wrote a book or two.

I sometimes think that the 3ABN folks looked at the Richard Roberts divorce as an example and said, "Well, a televangelist got a divorce, and in a few months nobody remembered who Patti Roberts was, what her name was, or what she looked like. It will be the same for Linda Shelton."

With Linda Shelton, events are not going that way, to 3ABN's dismay. People seem to like Linda Shelton, even though she's been off the air for two years, since sometime in May, 2004.

I can only imagine what would happen to 3ABN's audience if Linda Shelton were working at the Hope Channel.

No one really cared about the Roberts divorce, and they continued to be on the air.... outside of adventism, North American adventism to be sure, who really cares? Linda could write a book, but would it really make an impact outside of the NAD?

Remember eventually the public perception of Oral Roberts was that he was a little off, especially with the "God will kill me if I don't raise 3 million dollars" plea.....

So IMO, while what happened at 3ABN is questionable or even scandalous, it is only scandalous to us..... Being a controlling, manipulative, serial polygamist with your own t.v. show is not a crime...

Posted by: watchbird May 7 2006, 05:42 AM

QUOTE(calvin @ May 7 2006, 01:12 AM)

Reality check:

This is a story of a man with a TV ministry who divorced his wife and married another. Not much more. Most Adventist don't care, neither will the media.

If you really think that there is "not much more", then either you have not been paying attention or those who have been posting have been filtering their facts a little too carefully.

If "most Adventists don't care" it means they don't know enough. Fortunately, some on BSDA care enough to inform them, and hopefully BSDA cares enough to keep on being a conduit and a record of that information.

If BSDA doesn't provide the medium of communication and record, who will?

If BSDA does provide the channel through which God can illuminate the darkness, BSDA can keep on filtering the information so innocent ones will be protected as much as is possible (for those who post here do care about such things).

If (when) the public media gets involved, they will "care" also. But their "caring" will be in proportion to the dollars and circulation numbers the topic can bring to them. And in that world the more heinous the crime, the dirtier the action, the more they will care. And the more the innocent will be paraded before the eyes of the nation.

Would we really rather have it published in National Enquirer than on BSDA?

Posted by: Panama_Pete May 7 2006, 05:44 AM

QUOTE(Clay @ May 7 2006, 06:08 AM)

So IMO, while what happened at 3ABN is questionable or even scandalous, it is only scandalous to us

If, by chance, you have come to the conclusion that you have heard the entire story, or even most of it, that would be very reasonable and understandable. I would actually agree with you, if that were the case.

However, Beartrap has implied in one of his postings - relating to a journalist who follows BSDA - that there might just be a wee bit more to this story.

I think it relates to the reason for the gag order. I think that you may discover, at a later date, that there was an actual reason for the gag order that goes beyond what you have heard.

Do you remember when it was said that Dr. Arild Abrahamson was threatened with an escort by the Franklin County sheriff when he was at the 3ABN compound at the 2004 campmeeting? He and his travelling companions were asked to leave? Do you remember when Linda or her friends said it was because Danny was afraid that they (in their own words) would "spill the beans" if they were allowed to stay?

Well, those beans have not been spilled, yet.

Posted by: Clay May 7 2006, 05:53 AM

If all you say is true... then in the words of Dolly Parton, "its time to tinkle or get off the potty..." If there are beans to spill, then they should have been spilled some time ago... if it is that significant then violate the gag order..... otherwise a reasonable person could assume that there is nothing except talk.... nothing provable....

So I will take your word (or collective words) that there is more, however, in my mind, its time to put up or shut up.... btjm...

Posted by: watchbird May 7 2006, 06:00 AM

QUOTE(Clay @ May 7 2006, 05:08 AM)

No one really cared about the Roberts divorce, and they continued to be on the air.... outside of adventism, North American adventism to be sure, who really cares? Linda could write a book, but would it really make an impact outside of the NAD?

Remember eventually the public perception of Oral Roberts was that he was a little off, especially with the "God will kill me if I don't raise 3 million dollars" plea.....

So IMO, while what happened at 3ABN is questionable or even scandalous, it is only scandalous to us..... Being a controlling, manipulative, serial polygamist with your own t.v. show is not a crime...

t may not be a crime in the eyes of those who exalt those vices as virtues. And it may not be a crime even in the eyes of the law of the nation. But it is a crime in the eyes of God. That should be enough for us to willingly do our part, however small or ineffective that may seem to us.

As far as to whether North American Adventism is the only one who cares: if we had ears into the inner offices of other Divisions around the world, we would find that not only do others care, but that they care enough to take actions in their Divisions to curtail the activities of 3ABN and its increasingly growing system of affiliates in their territories.

There are those who care. BSDA can help increase their number if it chooses.

Of tiny strands are the strongest cables constructed.

Posted by: watchbird May 7 2006, 06:18 AM

QUOTE(Clay @ May 7 2006, 05:53 AM)

If all you say is true... then in the words of Dolly Parton, "its time to tinkle or get off the potty..." If there are beans to spill, then they should have been spilled some time ago... if it is that significant then violate the gag order..... otherwise a reasonable person could assume that there is nothing except talk.... nothing provable....

So I will take your word (or collective words) that there is more, however, in my mind, its time to put up or shut up.... btjm...

Ah, Clay, surely "you know not what you ask".

Be content to let the beans be served one portion at a time.

Let God direct the pace and the timing. It is not for us to know the times or the seasons or the details of what must come to pass before He executes judgement. Let us each just be content to do what we can so that when judgment comes people will be prepared to see that it is God's hand that is moving. Many, very many, are not to that place yet. If God were to act tomorrow, many would mourn the loss of a "man of God" rather than rejoice that an enemy of God had been destroyed, the oppressed been set free, and the righteous vindicated.

Posted by: calvin May 7 2006, 10:02 AM

QUOTE(watchbird @ May 7 2006, 05:42 AM)

If you really think that there is "not much more", then either you have not been paying attention or those who have been posting have been filtering their facts a little too carefully.
Let's see now. Danny has a jet, horses, and big yelloo house. As for the Linda gag order, this is a routine business practice for fired executives, in return for a payout severance package, no story there, and this is old news anyway. All the other stuff can be dismissed as sour grapes by a few ex-employees.

If "most Adventists don't care" it means they don't know enough. Fortunately, some on BSDA care enough to inform them, and hopefully BSDA cares enough to keep on being a conduit and a record of that information.
No, people have much more important things going on in their lives. Look, people are not unsympathetic to Linda, but that does mean they are anti-Danny or wish the demise of 3ABN
If BSDA doesn't provide the medium of communication and record, who will?
sdanet, Atoday, Club Adventist, we are not the only outlet.
If BSDA does provide the channel through which God can illuminate the darkness, BSDA can keep on filtering the information so innocent ones will be protected as much as is possible (for those who post here do care about such things).BSDA has allowed very open discussion of the events surarounding 3ABN, but we do have boundaries.
If (when) the public media gets involved, they will "care" also. But their "caring" will be in proportion to the dollars and circulation numbers the topic can bring to them. And in that world the more heinous the crime, the dirtier the action, the more they will care. And the more the innocent will be paraded before the eyes of the nation.

Would we really rather have it published in National Enquirer than on BSDA?
Not an issue, this story is not National Enquirer material.

color=#FF6666]

Posted by: statrei May 7 2006, 10:19 AM

The desire for sensationalism is causing everyone to lose sight of what is at stake here. Those who have been affected believe that any level of sensationalism demands attention. Those who are looking on believe that it becomes important when it is sensational enough to warrant coverage in the National Enquirer. All overlook the fact that this is not about Danny Shelton or the Adventist Church. Whether Danny survives this is only relevant to Danny. At the end we will still have the same deteriorating world conditions with no hope in sight because Christians continue to be self-centered in their perspective.

Posted by: LadyTenor May 7 2006, 11:09 AM

QUOTE(statrei @ May 7 2006, 12:19 PM)

The desire for sensationalism is causing everyone to lose sight of what is at stake here. Those who have been affected believe that any level of sensationalism demands attention. Those who are looking on believe that it becomes important when it is sensational enough to warrant coverage in the National Enquirer. All overlook the fact that this is not about Danny Shelton or the Adventist Church. Whether Danny survives this is only relevant to Danny. At the end we will still have the same deteriorating world conditions with no hope in sight because Christians continue to be self-centered in their perspective.

Exactly why these threads are tired...when Clay started this one, I didn't realize it would become yet another 3ABN thread, but it has...I will not be revisiting this thread...I will leave it where I left all the other 3ABN threads...in the trash...

..I'm sure someone will respond to my somewhat harsh response, but I regret that I won't see it, since this is my last time looking at ANY 3ABN thread on this site...there are more interesting threads to follow up on...

Posted by: Clay May 7 2006, 11:17 AM

QUOTE(LadyTenor @ May 7 2006, 11:09 AM)

Exactly why these threads are tired...when Clay started this one, I didn't realize it would become yet another 3ABN thread, but it has...I will not be revisiting this thread...I will leave it where I left all the other 3ABN threads...in the trash...

Well neither did I LT.... I summarized the issue as I saw it and I still it that way..... if people have stories to tell then tell it. Tell it all, and let the chips fall where they may....

I do not believe for a moment that bsda is the only outlet for this info, but the one that has been chosen for the moment.... websites are started all the time, and one could be started specifically to deal with the miasma that seems to be 3ABN...

As I mentioned earlier.... "tinkle or get off the potty...."

Posted by: statrei May 7 2006, 11:18 AM

Miasma! Now, there's a fifty-cent word.

Posted by: awesumtenor May 7 2006, 03:48 PM

QUOTE(Clay @ May 7 2006, 07:08 AM)

No one really cared about the Roberts divorce, and they continued to be on the air.... outside of adventism, North American adventism to be sure, who really cares? Linda could write a book, but would it really make an impact outside of the NAD?

Fiscally, the NAD is Adventism; more specifically than that, the Unions and Conferences in the lower 48 states "tote the note" for the worldwide church. If the remitted tithe from the NAD were to go away, this church would cease to exist as a world-wide Christian missionary organization, post-haste. More than 80% of tithe received by the church comes from the NAD. So even if no one outside the NAD cares, if it matters to enough people in the NAD, it matters because it affects the money.

In slightly smaller scale, the same dynamic applies to 3ABN. It's prime constituency is middle aged to elderly caucasian Adventists in the NAD, primarily in the continental US. The history lesson of PTL should not be lost on it; when the extent of the scandal became public, that ministry ceased to be because their core donors, which were the same demographic as 3ABN's, stopped donating and no amount of damage control and changes in management and policy were able to reverse that trend once it started.

This is what they are trying to prevent at 3ABN, even while continuing with the same or very similar excesses that plagued PTL.

> QUOTE
>
> Remember eventually the public perception of Oral Roberts was that he was a little off, especially with the "God will kill me if I don't raise 3 million dollars" plea.....

Remember Oral got that 3 million at the eleventh hour... so while some may have viewed him as "a little off"... he was a little off with 3 million dollars in his pocket.

> QUOTE
>
> So IMO, while what happened at 3ABN is questionable or even scandalous, it is only scandalous to us..... Being a controlling, manipulative, serial polygamist with your own t.v. show is not a crime...

No it is not... but the things one may do to keep one's actions from being common knowledge very well may be... ask Martha Stewart.

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: PrincessDrRe May 7 2006, 04:48 PM

sna

Posted by: princessdi May 7 2006, 09:41 PM

Aaaaahhhh, but Fearless Leader you have over looked that charges of inappropriation of funds, jet planes, huge houses, lavish lifestyles, abused employees, from those who have personally seen and heard(ncluding docs)and the fact that the media will have a good time just rying to sort it all out. They have investigated some for a lot less.....ask Benny Hinn. We(Adventist) might want to minimze it because it is distasteful to us, and thing slike this just don't happen in our world. But I keep thinking about how it took less than a week to spread a rumor about Pastor Walker which was not true, by emial no less. The public has an appetite for this type of story for sure.

> QUOTE(calvin @ May 7 2006, 12:12 AM)
>
> Reality check:
>
> This is a story of a man with a TV ministry who divorced his wife and married another. Not much more. Most Adventist don't care, neither will the media.

Posted by: Clay May 7 2006, 11:52 PM

QUOTE(princessdi @ May 7 2006, 10:41 PM)

Aaaaahhhh, but Fearless Leader you have over looked that charges of inappropriation of funds, jet planes, huge houses, lavish lifestyles, abused employees, from those who have personally seen and heard(ncluding docs)and the fact that the media will have a good time just rying to sort it all out. They have investigated some for a lot less.....ask Benny Hinn. We(Adventist) might want to minimze it because it is distasteful to us, and thing slike this just don't happen in our world. But I keep thinking about how it took less than a week to spread a rumor about Pastor Walker which was not true, by emial no less. The public has an appetite for this type of story for sure.

maybe, maybe not..... Hezekiah is a nationally known figure..... is 3ABN nationally known to the extent that people who don't normally follow what is happening with the adventist church will show interest? I don't think so....

I was talking with some of my co-workers about 3ABN and their response was 3ABN who?

Posted by: statrei May 8 2006, 06:00 AM

QUOTE(Clay @ May 8 2006, 01:52 AM)

maybe, maybe not..... Hezekiah is a nationally known figure..... is 3ABN nationally known to the extent that people who don't normally follow what is happening with the adventist church will show interest? I don't think so....

I was talking with some of my co-workers about 3ABN and their response was 3ABN who?

Adventists are having hard time appreciating that in the land of its birth and the most influential nation on earth, Adventism does not appear on the radar screen. Ten Commandments Day has come and gone and only in Adventist/3ABN circles was it a news item. It's over, including the shouting. We are yet to make the difference were we should. We have forgotten that true leaders always come from among the people. If you come with the message that you are superior to the people you can NEVER become their leader.

Posted by: watchbird May 8 2006, 06:31 AM

QUOTE(Clay @ May 7 2006, 11:52 PM)

maybe, maybe not..... Hezekiah is a nationally known figure..... is 3ABN nationally known to the extent that people who don't normally follow what is happening with the adventist church will show interest? I don't think so....

I was talking with some of my co-workers about 3ABN and their response was 3ABN who?

QUOTE(statrei @ May 8 2006, 06:00 AM)

> Adventists are having hard time appreciating that in the land of its birth and the most influential nation on earth, Adventism does not appear on the radar screen. Ten Commandments Day has come and gone and only in Adventist/3ABN circles was it a news item. It's over, including the shouting. We are yet to make the difference were we should. We have forgotten that true leaders always come from among the people. If you come with the message that you are superior to the people you can NEVER become their leader.

Sometimes it seems to me as though many of us live in a "time warp". That is, we are so absorbed in the future expected "time of touble" that we are afraid to join hands with our Christian neighbors in the present--even when they are singing our song. Fortunately that is not quite so true in all countries around the world.

Posted by: awesumtenor May 8 2006, 07:12 AM

> QUOTE(Clay @ May 8 2006, 12:52 AM)
>
> maybe, maybe not..... Hezekiah is a nationally known figure..... is 3ABN nationally known to the extent that people who don't normally follow what is happening with the adventist church will show interest? I don't think so....
>
> I was talking with some of my co-workers about 3ABN and their response was 3ABN who?

Again, since 3ABN, like EWTN (the Catholic channel), is devoted to religious programming that targets the teaching of a specific denomination... it is a red herring to say is must not matter since people outside of the denomination it targets are not even aware of it's existence, much less the ongoing issues with it's management.

The question is does it matter to the target audience of the channel...and whether the problems, once known, detrimentally affect the denomination's attempts to evangelize utilizing the network as a tool to further said evangelism...

I would have to say the answers are 'yes'... and 'yes'... btjm.

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: Johann May 8 2006, 08:00 AM

> QUOTE(awesumtenor @ May 8 2006, 02:12 PM)
>
> Again, since 3ABN, like EWTN (the Catholic channel), is devoted to religious programming that targets the teaching of a specific denomination... it is a red herring to say is must not matter since people outside of the denomination it targets are not even aware of it's existence, much less the ongoing issues with it's management.
>
> The question is does it matter to the target audience of the channel...and whether the problems, once known, detrimatentally affect the denomination's attempts to evangelize utilizing the network as a tool to further said evangelism...

I would have to say the answers are 'yes'... and 'yes'... btjm.

In His service,
Mr. J

3ABN is still merely a private organization. Not long ago 3ABN made a statement that it was not ıffiliated with any denomination.

'he offical TV network of the Seventh-day Adventist Church is HOPE and not 3ABN. Why not turn our ;upport to our own TV channel?

Posted by: beartrap May 8 2006, 09:16 AM

QUOTE(statrei @ May 8 2006, 06:00 AM)

Adventists are having hard time appreciating that in the land of its birth and the most influential nation on earth, Adventism does not appear on the radar screen. Ten Commandments Day has come and gone and only in Adventist/3ABN circles was it a news item. It's over, including the shouting. We are yet to make the difference were we should. We have forgotten that true leaders always come from among the people. If you come with the message that you are superior to the people you can NEVER become their leader.

\nother thing many Adventists seem to have forgotten is that the Ten Commandments will be viewed ıs a curse by the listeners when those teaching them are an unpleasant sort who care about money, ıoteriety, the law, and being viewed as better and smarter, more than about people

---

Posted by: awesumtenor May 8 2006, 09:29 AM

QUOTE(Johann @ May 8 2006, 10:00 AM)

3ABN is still merely a private organization. Not long ago 3ABN made a statement that it was not affiliated with any denomination.

The offical TV network of the Seventh-day Adventist Church is HOPE and not 3ABN. Why not turn our support to our own TV channel?

'he fact of it's being a private organization is not in question...from the perspective of it as a legal ;ntity... however, the continual displaying of pastors and evangelists employed by the Adventist :hurch, ubiquitous programming slanted to promote Adventist doctrine, and the perpetual appeals for ınd receipt of donations from members of the Adventist church almost exclusively makes that listinction almost non-existent.

Jntil the church puts as much of it's weight and authority behind the Hope Channel, including pulling t's flagship shows like Amazing Facts and It is Written from 3ABN and putting them on Hope, the ›erception will continue to be that 3ABN is an essential part of the church's utilization of that nedium... even if that perception is wrong. People believe what they see... and when 3ABN is ›roadcasting from Adventist churches and pushing denomination produced evangelist as part of their daily fare, then what is seen is that the church supports 3ABN, often in lieu of and to the detriment to it's own network.

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: statrei May 8 2006, 09:32 AM

Amazing Facts is not run by the church. It is a private organization.

Posted by: princessdi May 8 2006, 12:36 PM

Right, Darius, but then there again, the lines are blurred, if not nonexistent for some or most.

I'd like to say also, that I agree with Kevin. It is not necessary for the general public to be "familiar" with something before it becomes newsworthy. If I am not mistaken, Jimmy Swaggart and PTL had nowhere near the audience that any ministry has today with satellites and the shear amount of chirstian 24/7 channels available, and they both made national news. That goes for Benny Hinn, and the rest that have found themselves the subject of media investigations. People will read about your history while the read about your downfall.

Posted by: awesumtenor May 8 2006, 12:47 PM

> QUOTE(statrei @ May 8 2006, 11:32 AM)
>
> Amazing Facts is not run by the church. It is a private organization.

Headed and hosted by Doug Batchelor, a denominational employee of the Adventist Church, and existing for the purpose of perpetuating the doctrines and teachings of said church.

No attempt is made by either the church or Amazing Facts to be viewed as separate, distinct or unrelated in any wise. To any who is not aware of what the legal relationship is between AF and the church, they are one in the same; just slightly different means to the same end; different puppets moved by the same puppeteer.

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: statrei May 8 2006, 01:01 PM

> QUOTE(awesumtenor @ May 8 2006, 01:47 PM)
>
> No attempt is made by either the church or Amazing Facts to be viewed as separate, distinct or unrelated in any wise. To any who is not aware of what the legal relationship is between AF and the church, they are one in the same; just slightly different means to the same end; different puppets moved by the same puppeteer.
>
> In His service,
> Mr. J

The AF website calls AF "an international, independent Christian ministry "

Posted by: awesumtenor May 8 2006, 01:30 PM

> QUOTE(statrei @ May 8 2006, 03:01 PM)
>
> The AF website calls AF "an international, independent Christian ministry "

that must settle it then... after all we've never known church affiliated organizations to downplay (or outright conceal) their association with Adventism...

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: statrei May 8 2006, 01:47 PM

> QUOTE(awesumtenor @ May 8 2006, 03:30 PM)
>
> that must settle it then... after all we've never known church affiliated organizations to downplay (or outright conceal) their association with Adventism...
>
> In His service,
> Mr. J

I was as surprised when I first saw that. Makes you wonder why? If they were church affiliated their staff would have to be in the Yearbook.

Posted by: summertime May 8 2006, 02:30 PM

> QUOTE(Johann @ May 8 2006, 08:00 AM)
>
> 3ABN is still merely a private organization. Not long ago 3ABN made a statement that it was not affiliated with any denomination.
>
> The offical TV network of the Seventh-day Adventist Church is HOPE and not 3ABN. Why not turn our support to our own TV channel?

Johann, then can someone kindly explain to me why, after I spent money to get the Hope dish installed in my home becasue I really do not want to depend on 3ABN much anymore, when I turned Hope channels on, the first thing I saw carried by the network was more of 3ABN being shown by the Hope Network. I have even written to Hope to ask that question, and I have never received an answer to that question.

Posted by: Panama_Pete May 9 2006, 06:17 AM

QUOTE(awesumtenor @ May 8 2006, 12:47 PM)

No attempt is made by either the church or Amazing Facts to be viewed as separate, distinct or unrelated in any wise. To any who is not aware of what the legal relationship is between AF and the church, they are one in the same; just slightly different means to the same end; different puppets moved by the same puppeteer.

In His service,
Mr. J

If you apply for employement at Amazing Facts, you will be told it is part of the Adventist Church. At least, this is the impression they are trying to convey.

http://www.amazingfacts.org/news/read_news.asp?ID=68

"Although Amazing Facts, Inc. is an equal opportunity employer that does not discriminate in its employement policies and practices on the basis of race, national origin, gender, color, age, marital status, disability, or any other basis prohibited by law, it is a religious association and a part of the Seventh-day Adventist Church. The employement practices reflect religious preferences in harmony with the U.S. Constitution and controlling law, and it therefore hires only Seventh-day Adventist Church members in good standing."

On their Contributions page they say:

https://www.amazingfacts.org/join_us/contributions.asp

"By making a cash donation to Amazing Facts today, you're helping an international, independent Christian ministry deliver the good news of the gospel to the world."

Therefore, I gather that Amazing Facts is totally independently part of the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

Posted by: Zephyr May 9 2006, 06:37 AM

QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ May 9 2006, 06:17 AM)

If you apply for employement at Amazing Facts, you will be told it is part of the Adventist Church. At least, this is the impression they are trying to convey.

http://www.amazingfacts.org/news/read_news.asp?ID=68

"Although Amazing Facts, Inc. is an equal opportunity employer that does not discriminate in its employement policies and practices on the basis of race, national origin, gender, color, age, marital status, disability, or any other basis prohibited by law, it is a religious association and a part of the Seventh-day Adventist Church. The employement practices reflect religious preferences in harmony with the U.S. Constitution and controlling law, and it therefore hires only Seventh-day Adventist Church members in good standing."

Which show that AF is not trying to conceal its SDA relationships. AF follows somewhat the long standing practice of tv ministries in not always flaunting their denominational leanings, if any. Yet this practice is only loosely followed in its case. Of all tv ministries (barring Catholic ministries), I have not found an "independent" tv ministry that more readily declares its religious affiliation than AF.

Posted by: Panama_Pete May 9 2006, 06:41 AM

QUOTE(Zephyr @ May 9 2006, 06:37 AM)

Which show that AF is not trying to conceal its SDA relationships. AF follows somewhat the long standing practice of tv ministries in not always flaunting their denominational leanings, if any. Yet this practice is only loosely followed in its case. Of all tv ministries (barring Catholic ministries), I have not found an "independent" tv ministry that more readily declares its religious affiliation than AF.

That's true, you would have a difficult time not recognizing the Adventist Church in a "Central Study Hour" broadcast from inside an Adventist Church.

Posted by: Johann May 10 2006, 06:25 PM

QUOTE(summertime @ May 8 2006, 09:30 PM)

Johann, then can someone kindly explain to me why, after I spent money to get the Hope dish installed in my home becasue I really do not want to depend on 3ABN much anymore, when I turned Hope channels on, the first thing I saw carried by the network was more of 3ABN being shown by the Hope Network. I have even written to Hope to ask that question, and I have never received an answer to that question.

Seems like I cannot get the program to send my reply. . .

Some months ago HOPE and 3ABN co-produced an evangelsitic series which may still be run by HOPE. This may be the reason you will still see both the 3ABN and HOPE logos on your screen. This co-production may have been planned a very long time ago. How many more co-productions are planned I do not know.

Posted by: simplysaved May 10 2006, 08:08 PM

To summarize....OBSESSION.... [x] sa And they thought the Vegetarian threads were something... [x]

PRAY for what you believe/know is wrong...go to the people to address the concerns, according to scripture, and then let go and LET GOD....

I am with Lady Tenor on this one....I'm done too....

Posted by: Clay May 10 2006, 08:16 PM

QUOTE(simplysaved @ May 10 2006, 09:08 PM)

To summarize....OBSESSION.... And they thought the Vegetarian threads were something...

PRAY for what you believe/know is wrong...go to the people to address the concerns, according to scripture, and then let go and LET GOD....

I am with Lady Tenor on this one....I'm done too....

then why are you posting here.....

Posted by: Johann May 10 2006, 08:27 PM

QUOTE(simplysaved @ May 11 2006, 04:08 AM)

PRAY for what you believe/know is wrong...go to the people to address the concerns, according to scripture, and then let go and LET GOD....

This is exactly what some of us have done for the past couple of years. We discover there are too many people who merely shrug their shoulders and say LET GOD while more and more wounded people are bleeding by the wayside. . .

Don't you think the priest and the Levite quoted some Scripture and then breathed "let go and LET GOD...." before they passed the bleeding victim by the wayside?

Posted by: simplysaved May 10 2006, 08:44 PM

QUOTE(Johann @ May 10 2006, 09:27 PM)

This is exactly what some of us have done for the past couple of years. We discover there are too many people who merely shrug their shoulders and say LET GOD while more and more wounded people are bleeding by the wayside. . .

Don't you think the priest and the Levite quoted some Scripture and then breathed "let go and LET GOD...." before they passed the bleeding victim by the wayside?

)ut of respect, because I believe that you are sincere....my reply believe in the God of the Bible...the same God that has MOVED enemies--people places and thing for ı lot less....IF we are HIS people, does that not still mean that the effectual, ferverent prayers of the ighteous cannot move what many believe to be a sinner from this ministry?

Call me a SDA Penecostal--or whatever, but I believe that when the people of God do what the Word of God showed and stated by precept and example time and time again...things will change...If he is ndeed a demon over the work of the Lord, cannot the people of the most high God PRAY and FAST ınd watch God do his thing? Maybe it's just me (which is O.K.), but Christians where is the authority ve have over the devil?

)o we have to spend all of our time rehashing in circles...which unintentially becomes exaggerated, ıot bearing any fruit or making any difference...What is the final purpose?

Where is God getting the glory?

)oes not the constant rehashing not work in Danny Shelton's favor and not work against him?

As Christians, have the lines not been crossed? Or are there new rules...Call him out publically is what he Bible says so that he may be an open reproach, but it does not say crucify him or tell "ALL his little)usiness"...fact or fiction....Who is being won to Christ or if already a christian, would want to join a)lace (the SDA church) where Linda, Danny, or anyone could not sin screw-up and be forgiven...

ust think about it...pray about it...at the end of the day, this is no longer about Linda or Danny and ıas become more about how WE feel God should have handled it and why...

Posted by: awesumtenor May 10 2006, 09:04 PM

QUOTE(simplysaved @ May 10 2006, 10:08 PM)

To summarize....OBSESSION.... And they thought the Vegetarian threads were something...

PRAY for what you believe/know is wrong...go to the people to address the concerns, according to scripture, and then let go and LET GOD....

I am with Lady Tenor on this one....I'm done too....

'ou could have been done without having to declare it to the world; your not posting in a thread would)e enough to make it apparent that the thread wasnt worth your while.

Taking a gratuitous shot at folk and then scurrying back into the woodwork is ring and run... and I seem to recall your taking great exception when folk used the word 'obsession' to describe a series of 'our posts... which begs the question of why it's ok for you to define others in such terms but not for ıny to define you in like manner.

So much for "do unto others as you would have other do unto you.

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: simplysaved May 10 2006, 09:10 PM

I respect your thoughts....

QUOTE(awesumtenor @ May 10 2006, 10:04 PM)

You could have been done without having to declare it to the world; your not posting in a thread would be enough to make it apparent that the thread wasnt worth your while.

Taking a gratuitous shot at folk and then scurrying back into the woodwork is ring and run... and I seem to recall your taking great exception when folk used the word 'obsession' to describe a series of your posts... which begs the question of why it's ok for you to define others in such terms but not for any to define you in like manner.

So much for "do unto others as you would have other do unto you.

In His service,
Mr. J

QUOTE(simplysaved @ May 10 2006, 09:44 PM)

Out of respect, because I believe that you are sincere....my reply

I believe in the God of the Bible...the same God that has MOVED enemies--people places and thing for a lot less....IF we are HIS people, does that not still mean that the effectual, ferverent prayers of the righteous cannot move what many believe to be a sinner from this ministry?

Call me a SDA Penecostal--or whatever, but I believe that when the people of God do what the Word of God showed and stated by precept and example time and time again...things will change...If he is indeed a demon over the work of the Lord, cannot the people of the most high God PRAY and FAST and watch God do his thing? Maybe it's just me (which is O.K.), but Christians where is the authority we have over the devil?

Do we have to spend all of our time rehashing in circles...which unintentially becomes exaggerated, not bearing any fruit or making any difference...What is the final purpose?

Where is God getting the glory?

Does not the constant rehashing not work in Danny Shelton's favor and not work against him?

As Christians, have the lines not been crossed? Or are there new rules...Call him out publically is what the Bible says so that he may be an open reproach, but it does not say crucify him or tell "ALL his little business"...fact or fiction....Who is being won to Christ or if already a christian, would want to join a place (the SDA church) where Linda, Danny, or anyone could not sin screw-up and be forgiven...

Just think about it...pray about it...at the end of the day, this is no longer about Linda or Danny and has become more about how WE feel God should have handled it and why...

Posted by: HUGGINS130 May 10 2006, 09:24 PM

QUOTE(simplysaved @ May 10 2006, 08:44 PM)

Out of respect, because I believe that you are sincere....my reply

I believe in the God of the Bible...the same God that has MOVED enemies--people places and thing for a lot less....IF we are HIS people, does that not still mean that the effectual, ferverent prayers of the righteous cannot move what many believe to be a sinner from this ministry?

Call me a SDA Penecostal--or whatever, but I believe that when the people of God do what the Word of God showed and stated by precept and example time and time again...things will change...If he is indeed a demon over the work of the Lord, cannot the people of the most high God PRAY and FAST and watch God do his thing? Maybe it's just me (which is O.K.), but Christians where is the authority we have over the devil?

Do we have to spend all of our time rehashing in circles...which unintentially becomes exaggerated, not bearing any fruit or making any difference...What is the final purpose?

Where is God getting the glory?

Does not the constant rehashing not work in Danny Shelton's favor and not work against him?

As Christians, have the lines not been crossed? Or are there new rules...Call him out publically is what the Bible says so that he may be an open reproach, but it does not say crucify him or tell "ALL his little business"...fact or fiction....Who is being won to Christ or if already a christian, would want to join a place (the SDA church) where Linda, Danny, or anyone could not sin screw-up and be forgiven...

Just think about it...pray about it...at the end of the day, this is no longer about Linda or Danny and has become more about how WE feel God should have handled it and why...

sna PREACH...still lurking now back to regularly scheduled lurking... sna

---

Posted by: Clay May 10 2006, 09:26 PM

there was an incident that happened, Moses went to God in prayer, and God told him to get up cause Moses knew what had to be done..... maybe this is one of those times....

Posted by: awesumtenor May 10 2006, 09:39 PM

QUOTE(simplysaved @ May 10 2006, 11:10 PM)

I respect your thoughts....

..just not enough to actually address them...

n His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: HUGGINS130 May 10 2006, 10:46 PM

QUOTE(HUGGINS130 @ May 6 2006, 10:02 PM)

All the while the 3abn truck will continue rolling this great country... G.C. Churches to distance themselves from 3abn...

QUOTE(HUGGINS130 @ May 7 2006, 04:41 AM)

sna ok calvin, so do we go into lurk mode on this one too!

QUOTE(HUGGINS130 @ May 10 2006, 09:24 PM)

sna PREACH...still lurking now back to regularly scheduled lurking... sna respect everyone's thoughts and views on this one too! Every last one!

Posted by: beartrap May 10 2006, 11:18 PM

QUOTE(HUGGINS130 @ May 10 2006, 11:46 PM)

I respect everyone's thoughts and views on this one too! Every last one!

rofl rofl

Posted by: NormF May 10 2006, 11:52 PM

> QUOTE(simplysaved @ May 10 2006, 08:44 PM)
> Where is God getting the glory?

Here is another angle to look at that may put a different spin on such questions.

As my son was growing up, I tried to teach him things I had learned. I saw to it that he attended school and applied himself to his studies. I supported him as he went to college. Now he is a grown man, doing well in his career, doing well as a mature adult meeting life as he finds it. The things I tried to give him, he is using to good effect. His father is very proud! [buttons popping!]

If he came up against a problem at work today that he's had the training and knowledge to deal with, that was clearly at his door and something he could do something about, and instead of tackling it, he shrugged it off or tried to get someone else to do it -- and again, let me underscore, if he but would, he could -- how proud would I be if he didn't?

God gives us a mind and body so that we can think and do. Does He intend then for us shrug and walk away -- sometimes called, 'let go and let God'? Does that glorify His name?

Sure, there are things we can't do. There are some legitimate 'let go and let God' things. And according to His sovereign will, He may or may not step in as He sees fit. In fact, without question, He does intervene at times, sometimes pretty directly, even spectacularly. But that's a limited list. His whole purpose in giving us gifts is to see us use them, not bury them in the dirt.

By the way, not too many individuals can build a Hoover Dam or a Golden Gate bridge by thermselves, for example. Or lift a car off someone pinned under it as a result of an accident. But people have done those things ... different ways in varying, different circumstances, but they did do them. And in the doing, I think God was being glorified. [... and I believe I hear the sound of buttons popping!]

But I think I can also take it a step further in this direction: If I am working to help a brother in pain, or a sister who is hurting, or otherwise in need, even if I can't solve everything for them by myself, in fact even if I can hardly make a dent in it, but I'm trying, I believe that still I hear the sound of buttons popping.

Regards,
Norm

Posted by: Hersheys99 May 11 2006, 12:34 AM

Amen Norm!!

Posted by: Johann May 11 2006, 03:23 AM

> QUOTE(simplysaved @ May 11 2006, 03:44 AM)
>
> I believe in the God of the Bible...the same God that has MOVED enemies--people places and thing for a lot less....IF we are HIS people, does that not still mean that the effectual, ferverent prayers of the righteous cannot move what many believe to be a sinner from this ministry?

'ou recall that Moses had to hold up his arm and others had to sustain him.

\t an early stage I felt I should do just what you suggested and disappear from the scene, and I really)rayed about it. That night God showed me in a dream that if I'd disappear to avoid telling what I ıave seen, then I'd be held responsible for the evil someone else has done.

)o you believe God gives us directions?

Posted by: simplysaved May 11 2006, 08:51 AM

I know personally that God gives us humans directions....I also have been in situations where God has called me to be Jeremiah and the Holy Spirit removed what needed to go....

In the posts (that I have viewed) not ONE TIME has anyone stated that God has placed the burden on them to speak this and has directly told them that this was the way to handle it...perhaps that is my concern; it is a big difference in thinking that one is doing the Work of God and actually doing it....

I will state it again...Call him out publically, but scripture still states "Thou Shalt Not Kill"...

QUOTE(Johann @ May 11 2006, 04:23 AM)

You recall that Moses had to hold up his arm and others had to sustain him.

At an early stage I felt I should do just what you suggested and disappear from the scene, and I really prayed about it. That night God showed me in a dream that if I'd disappear to avoid telling what I have seen, then I'd be held responsible for the evil someone else has done.

Do you believe God gives us directions?

Posted by: awesumtenor May 11 2006, 09:03 AM

QUOTE(simplysaved @ May 11 2006, 09:51 AM)

I know personally that God gives us humans directions....I also have been in situations where God has called me to be Jeremiah and the Holy Spirit removed what needed to go....

In the posts (that I have viewed) not ONE TIME has anyone stated that God has placed the burden on them to speak this and has directly told them that this was the way to handle it...perhaps that is my concern; it is a big difference in thinking that one is doing the Work of God and actually doing it....

I will state it again...Call him out publically, but scripture still states "Thou Shalt Not Kill"...

The absence of evidence is not evidence of absence. You dont declare your every utterance to be ordained of God and there have been myriad times in this forum where you have made such a claim and been flat wrong in what you claimed to be fact.

Why, then, do you feel a need to place a burden on others that you will not bear in your own right?

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: sonshineonme May 11 2006, 10:13 AM

QUOTE(NormF @ May 10 2006, 09:52 PM)

[indent][/indent]
Here is another angle to look at that may put a different spin on such questions.

As my son was growing up, I tried to teach him things I had learned. I saw to it that he attended school and applied himself to his studies. I supported him as he went to college. Now he is a grown man, doing well in his career, doing well as a mature adult meeting life as he finds it. The things I tried to give him, he is using to good effect. His father is very proud! [buttons popping!]

If he came up against a problem at work today that he's had the training and knowledge to deal with, that was clearly at his door and something he could do something about, and instead of tackling it, he shrugged it off or tried to get someone else to do it -- and again, let me underscore, if he but would, he could -- how proud would I be if he didn't?

God gives us a mind and body so that we can think and do. Does He intend then for us shrug and walk away -- sometimes called, 'let go and let God'? Does that glorify His name?

Sure, there are things we can't do. There are some legitimate 'let go and let God' things. And according to His sovereign will, He may or may not step in as He sees fit. In fact, without question, He does intervene at times, sometimes pretty directly, even spectacularly. But that's a limited list. His whole purpose in giving us gifts is to see us use them, not bury them in the dirt.

By the way, not too many individuals can build a Hoover Dam or a Golden Gate bridge by thermselves, for example. Or lift a car off someone pinned under it as a result of an accident. But people have done those things ... different ways in varying, different circumstances, but they did do them. And in the doing, I think God was being glorified. [... and I believe I hear the sound of buttons popping!]

But I think I can also take it a step further in this direction: If I am working to help a brother in pain, or a sister who is hurting, or otherwise in need, even if I can't solve everything for them by myself, in fact even if I can hardly make a dent in it, but I'm trying, I believe that still I hear the sound of buttons popping.

Regards,
Norm

Norm, I appreicate you so much! You said it just as my mind thinketh it! We must not become so complacent that we think "somone will do it, if it really needs to be done". People, open your ears, do your part - God is always calling - do we always respond?

Posted by: Johann May 15 2006, 06:07 AM

QUOTE(sonshineonme @ May 11 2006, 06:13 PM)

Norm, I appreicate you so much! You said it just as my mind thinketh it! We must not become so complacent that we think "somone will do it, if it really needs to be done". People, open your ears, do your part - God is always calling - do we always respond?

It it good to hear that not all of us are expecting others, or God to do what He wants us to do. . .

Posted by: Clay May 18 2006, 10:38 AM

closed for the moment....

Posted by: Clay May 29 2006, 06:47 AM reopened... and my opinion remains the same.... tinkle or get off..... show me the stigmata.....do something other than tell me that soon you will do something.....

some have urged that patience be exercised.... some of the info provided goes back pre 2004.... almost half of 06 has passed... how long must is this process going to take or does anyone really know? What is there to be afraid of? If it is the person in question, seems to be the sooner he is dealt with the sooner his ability to threaten and harm comes to an end.....

Sometimes in dealing with bullies you simply have to decide regardless of the pain you are going to walk right up and do your best to knock his head off....

I think I'll be joining Thomas and Calvin in the lurking corner cause it's obvious I don't understand.....

Posted by: watchbird May 29 2006, 08:37 AM

QUOTE(Clay @ May 29 2006, 06:47 AM)

reopened... and my opinion remains the same.... tinkle or get off..... show me the stigmata.....do something other than tell me that soon you will do something.....

When that is all that can be said, that is all that can be said.

QUOTE

some have urged that patience be exercised.... some of the info provided goes back pre 2004.... almost half of 06 has passed... how long must is this process going to take or does anyone really know? What is there to be afraid of? If it is the person in question, seems to be the sooner he is dealt with the sooner his ability to threaten and harm comes to an end.....

Sometimes in dealing with bullies you simply have to decide regardless of the pain you are going to walk right up and do your best to knock his head off....

Surely you are not suggesting that someone should "take out a contract" on this particular bully's head? But even if someone were to decide to do a "Kamikaze" act, would that really take care of the problem when so many are involved in perpetuating the things that are wrong at 3ABN? I very seriously doubt it.

QUOTE

I think I'll be joining Thomas and Calvin in the lurking corner cause it's obvious I don't understand.....

Eventually you will. I am confident of that. But do not think it will be today or tomorrow or next week or even next month. Next year? Hopefully by then. But if not, we who watch and wait will continue to do so. And we hope you will be willing to hang in there with us, lurking sometimes in the background and sometimes in the foreground, but keeping the public aware that something is going on, and keeping the victims aware that they are not forgotten.

Posted by: Jvat May 29 2006, 09:39 AM

I trust that the SDA organisation will soon get to the point where transparency and openness become the order of the day such that such festering sores are not allowed to continue unabated and frrighten people out of their democratic rights. What IS wrong with us ??! ! We are supposed to be the head and not the tail after all? Does that not refer to, in all things?

Posted by: beartrap May 29 2006, 10:18 AM

People who had no grasp on the reality of the situation gave their cavalier advice that the government just take Al Capone down. How hard could it be? He was having people killed in broad daylight, some of his henchmen squealed, his illegal escapades were all over the news... It should have been as simple as walking into his hotel, arresting him, and sending him to the chair. Yet, it took years of chipping away and only the IRS was able to eventually do anything. That is reality.

In almost every mob case, happy little people who read the news are frustrated at how complicated such a simple thing is. All the guy on the witness stand has to do is tell the truth and the threat will go away because the big guy will be convicted. In their charming innocence, they don't see the big guy's henchmen holding guns to the heads of the witness's kids. Others see the guns and self-righteously say, "sometimes the right thing to do is hard, but it is still the right thing to do."

Posted by: Clay May 29 2006, 05:07 PM

so now Mr. Shelton is in the same league as Al Capone.... interesting.....

QUOTE

Surely you are not suggesting that someone should "take out a contract" on this particular bully's head? But even if someone were to decide to do a "Kamikaze" act, would that really take care of the problem when so many are involved in perpetuating the things that are wrong at 3ABN? I very seriously doubt it.

ake out a contract? If as you say he has hurt and threatened and intimidated so many, it seems that here would be a coalition of people who would take him on.... but hey, I don't know everything, so hose who know will do what they need to do.....

3TW its not goading.... it is a reality, at some point talk is cheap, action is profitable.... or as my nother use to tell us.... "I can show you better than I can tell you...." btjm.... I have never worked for 3abn, visited 3abn, much less watched 3abn... so what do I know.....

Posted by: Prisca May 29 2006, 06:35 PM

QUOTE(Jvat @ May 29 2006, 03:39 PM)

I trust that the SDA organisation will soon get to the point where transparency and openness become the order of the day such that such festering sores are not allowed to continue unabated and frrighten people out of their democratic rights. What IS wrong with us ??! ! We are supposed to be the head and not the tail after all? Does that not refer to, in all things?

)ne of the problems with being the head and not the tail is that people disagree on what type of)ehavior is headlike and which is taillike. In our great rush to be the head, we forget what headship 'eally is...

Posted by: Clay May 30 2006, 12:35 AM

QUOTE(beartrap @ May 29 2006, 10:18 AM)

People who had no grasp on the reality of the situation gave their cavalier advice that the government just take Al Capone down. How hard could it be? He was having people killed in broad daylight, some of his henchmen squealed, his illegal escapades were all over the news... It should have been as simple as walking into his hotel, arresting him, and sending him to the chair. Yet, it took years of chipping away and only the IRS was able to eventually do anything. That is reality.

In almost every mob case, happy little people who read the news are frustrated at how complicated such a simple thing is. All the guy on the witness stand has to do is tell the truth and the threat will go away because the big guy will be convicted. In their charming innocence, they don't see the big guy's henchmen holding guns to the heads of the witness's kids. Others see the guns and self-righteously say, "sometimes the right thing to do is hard, but it is still the right thing to do."

vell if he has that much clout to hold a whole denomination under his power, its time to move on.... :learly God has left the building, much like he left the building with the Jews and they had no idea he vas gone....

Posted by: watchbird May 30 2006, 05:29 AM

QUOTE(Clay @ May 30 2006, 12:35 AM)

> well if he has that much clout to hold a whole denomination under his power, its time to move on.... clearly God has left the building, much like he left the building with the Jews and they had no idea he was gone....

If you mean God has left the 3ABN building, then yes. Definitely. It is time to move away from that building just as God directed the Israelites to move away from the tents of the rebels just before he opened up the ground to swallow them up. Enough of this playing footsie with someone who claims to speak for God and claims to be the only place where the "real" Adventist message is preached.

Posted by: Jvat May 30 2006, 06:41 AM

Looks to me like the entire SDA Church seems to be suffering from some kind of corruption if Danny seems to have such a hold over so many leaders in high places. If the Holy Spirit was really with all these people can it be that up to now that God's power cannot prevail? Danny has succeeded as far as he has, if the reports are correct, because he has got help from others in high position. Should Danny alone be blamed? Is Danny the only questionable one? Let us be real and then this whole saga might really get somewhere, like in being stopped once and for all! Let us not forget that greater is HE that is in us than he that is in the world! Does that not still stand today? Is God's power still not omnipotent????

Posted by: Clay May 30 2006, 06:55 AM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ May 30 2006, 05:29 AM)
>
> If you mean God has left the 3ABN building, then yes. Definitely. It is time to move away from that building just as God directed the Israelites to move away from the tents of the rebels just before he opened up the ground to swallow them up. Enough of this playing footsie with someone who claims to speak for God and claims to be the only place where the "real" Adventist message is preached.

No... I mean he has left the sda church building... God does not need the sda church to get His message out... as I said in another thread... Israel was set aside... the sda church can be set aside too...

> QUOTE(Jvat @ May 30 2006, 06:41 AM)
>
> Looks to me like the entire SDA Church seems to be suffering from some kind of corruption if Danny seems to have such a hold over so many leaders in high places. If the Holy Spirit was really with all these people can it be that up to now that God's power cannot prevail? Danny has succeeded as far as he has, if the reports are correct, because he has got help from others in high position. Should Danny alone be blamed? Is Danny the only questionable one? Let us be real and then this whole saga might really get somewhere, like in being stopped once and for all! Let us not forget that greater is HE that is in us than he that is in the world! Does that not still stand today? Is God's power still not omnipotent????

Good points Jvat... seems to be that there are several who are just as corrupt as Mr. Shelton and who knows how far the corruption has spread....

Posted by: beartrap May 30 2006, 08:07 AM

QUOTE(Clay @ May 30 2006, 06:55 AM)

No... I mean he has left the sda church building... God does not need the sda church to get His message out... as I said in another thread... Israel was set aside... the sda church can be set aside too...

Amen on that!

Posted by: HUGGINS130 Jun 3 2006, 07:31 AM

QUOTE

think I'll be joining Thomas and Calvin in the lurking corner cause it's obvious I don't understand.....

aight Clay I think I'll come out of lurk mode for the weekend...maybe there are some things that I can read upon and see where it leads...NOT!!!! rofl

Posted by: watchbird Jun 3 2006, 08:41 AM

QUOTE(HUGGINS130 @ Jun 3 2006, 07:31 AM)

aight Clay I think I'll come out of lurk mode for the weekend...maybe there are some things that I can read upon and see where it leads...NOT!!!! rofl

Actually, it isn't a single well beaten path leading to a predetermined destination. It's more like an "interactive plot" game where you can use the "givens" to lead to more than one destination. For example, if you want to see problems described as a blot upon the good face of Adventism and even of Christianity which need to be removed, then "you can get there from here". If, OTOH, you want to see them as evidence that Adventism is basically baaaaa-d, then "you can get there from here" also.

As the saying goes, "It's not the gale, but the set of the sail, that determines the place where you go." (more or less loosely paraphrased, not by intent but by an under-active memory.)

Whatever. Enjoy the trip! (though "enjoy" may not be the best choice of words in this specific context).

Posted by: vonessa Jun 3 2006, 09:25 AM

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jun 3 2006, 09:41 AM)

Actually, it isn't a single well beaten path leading to a predetermined destination. It's more like an "interactive plot" game where you can use the "givens" to lead to more than one destination.

ts kinda like the Da Vinci Code.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jun 11 2006, 01:39 PM

-

Kay Kuzma has more miracle stories than dogs have ticks. The miracle would be if anybody believed it.

---

http://www.sunherald.com/mld/sunherald/living/14671197.htm

http://www.sunherald.com/mld/sunherald/living/14671197.htm

Quote:

" Miracle " is a loaded word, one with implications that run a gamut from merely "a marvel" to "an act of God."

Brenda Walsh and Kay Kuzma were going for the latter shading when they wrote "Between Hell and High Water," a book of firsthand accounts - miracle stories - from Katrina survivors.

"Danny (Shelton, president and founder of 3ABN) flew down (to the Coast) with a film crew just days after the storm," Walsh said by phone from somewhere in the hinterlands of Hancock County on Wednesday, "and at the ACTS distribution centers in Waveland and Lumberton - he visited both sites - he said he heard so many incredible survival stories. Miracle stories" .

"We hadn't really thought about going to Mississippi," Walsh said, but after a call to Shelton, the women dropped everything and drove to the area less than two weeks after the storm because " miracle stories have happened down here."

Their hope is that these "miracle stories" will inspire others in their travails, "give them just the bit of hope they need to carry on."

Posted by: beartrap Jun 11 2006, 02:16 PM

QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jun 11 2006, 02:39 PM)

-

Kay Kuzma has more miracle stories than dogs have ticks. The miracle would be if anybody believed it.

---

http://www.sunherald.com/mld/sunherald/living/14671197.htm

http://www.sunherald.com/mld/sunherald/living/14671197.htm

Quote:

" Miracle " is a loaded word, one with implications that run a gamut from merely "a marvel" to "an act of God."

Brenda Walsh and Kay Kuzma were going for the latter shading when they wrote "Between Hell and High Water," a book of firsthand accounts - miracle stories - from Katrina survivors.

"Danny (Shelton, president and founder of 3ABN) flew down (to the Coast) with a film crew just days after the storm," Walsh said by phone from somewhere in the hinterlands of Hancock County on Wednesday, "and at the ACTS distribution centers in Waveland and Lumberton - he visited both sites - he said he heard so many incredible survival stories. Miracle stories" .

"We hadn't really thought about going to Mississippi," Walsh said, but after a call to Shelton, the women dropped everything and drove to the area less than two weeks after the storm because " miracle stories have happened down here."

Their hope is that these "miracle stories" will inspire others in their travails, "give them just the bit of hope they need to carry on."

Money, money, money
nust be funny, in rich man's world.

Money, money, money always sunny, in a rich man's world."
Abba

$$$$ more books, more $$$$$$$$$$$$$$$$$$

Posted by: Hersheys99 Jun 11 2006, 02:56 PM

QUOTE

Book costs: $15 on-site Monday, $10 each for 10 or more books. The book will retail for $15.99 and will be available at amazon.com or at the 3ABN Web site, www.3abn.org.

Yea a real big discount if you buy it from them huh! Save a whole 99 cents. Think I'll just jump in my car & drive down there & get my copy. NOT

QUOTE

Walsh said she prayed at every turn, and at every turn, she met someone new, saw some new misery or need.

I'm sorry but for crying out loud they were hit by hurricanes of course there was going to be misery or need no matter what corner you went too! Unbelievable they are taking some one else's misery to make big $$$. Bet they don't give the money from the proceeds of these books to those people they seen in need either to help them out.

Posted by: sister Jun 11 2006, 05:03 PM

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jun 11 2006, 03:16 PM)

"Money, money, money
must be funny, in rich man's world.

Money, money, money
always sunny, in a rich man's world."
Abba

$$$$ more books, more $$$$$$$$$$$$$$$$$$

Isn't Brenda Walsh the "friend" that went with Linda Shelton when she visited her son, Nathan, while he in was in the treatment program in Norway?

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jun 11 2006, 05:12 PM

QUOTE(sister @ Jun 11 2006, 05:03 PM)

Isn't Brenda Walsh the "friend" that went with Linda Shelton when she visited her son, Nathan, while he in was in the treatment program in Norway?

YES!

Posted by: sister Jun 11 2006, 06:29 PM

QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jun 11 2006, 06:12 PM)

YES!

As the "best friend" of Linda Shelton, knowing that no inappropriate behavior was going on between Nathan's doctor and Linda, why didn't Brenda Walsh come to Linda's defense?

Posted by: gracetoyou Jun 11 2006, 07:35 PM

QUOTE(sister @ Jun 11 2006, 08:29 PM)

As the "best friend" of Linda Shelton, knowing that no inappropriate behavior was going on between Nathan's doctor and Linda, why didn't Brenda Walsh come to Linda's defense?

Was Brenda the person who started "the relationship" rumor when she returned from the trip to Europe?

Posted by: sister Jun 11 2006, 08:07 PM

QUOTE(gracetoyou @ Jun 11 2006, 08:35 PM)

Was Brenda the person who started "the relationship" rumor when she returned from the trip to Europe?

No. From everything that I have heard, the original source for all "the relationship" rumors and accusations is Danny Shelton. It all begins and ends at the same source. So, why didn't Brenda Walsh defend her "best friend"? Why didn't she stand up and tell the truth?

Posted by: sonshineonme Jun 11 2006, 08:16 PM

QUOTE(sister @ Jun 11 2006, 07:07 PM)

No. From everything that I have heard, the original source for all "the relationship" rumors and accusations is Danny Shelton. It all begins and ends at the same source. So, why didn't Brenda Walsh defend her "best friend"? Why didn't she stand up and tell the truth?

Because when the rubber met the road, when the time came to stand up, she didn't, because she is one of "them" . She flunked the test when she was given it. Maybe she can do a "re-take" sometime....maybe she will be given another oppertunity, as many are, to do the right thing ANYWAY.

Posted by: sister Jun 11 2006, 08:30 PM

QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jun 11 2006, 09:16 PM)

Because when the rubber met the road, when the time came to stand up, she didn't, because she is one of "them" . She flunked the test when she was given it. Maybe she can do a "re-take" sometime....maybe she will be given another oppertunity, as many are, to do the right thing ANYWAY.

Brenda had everything to gain by following the "official 3ABN story", fabricated to remove Linda from her company position and her marriage.

Oh, by the way, if Brenda was Linda's "best friend", what was Brenda's relationship with Danny?

Posted by: Johann Jun 11 2006, 10:07 PM

QUOTE(sister @ Jun 12 2006, 12:03 AM)

Isn't Brenda Walsh the "friend" that went with Linda Shelton when she visited her son, Nathan, while he in was in the treatment program in Norway?

I met both Brenda and Linda during their 3½ days in Norway back in 2004. Shortly after that Danny wrote to me and told me that Linda had not behaved properly at a seminar they had attended at the local SDA church. Since I had not been there I called a friend who was present at that seminar and asked him if he had noticed any improper behavior by Linda there in the church. He told me he had been interpreting for Linda and had observed her the whole time and had never noticed any such thing.

From others I found out that Brenda had made some improper remarks there. Pastor John Lomacang told me that later Brenda had called him at 2 AM and told him an evil spirit had appeared and thrown down a basket from a shelf. This scared her so that she had to confess her sins, which turned out to be that she had not confessed Linda's sins before. It appears to me that Brenda was projecting her own actions on Linda. . .

I called Dr. Walt Thompson and asked him how the appearance of an evil spirit could bless 3ABN, but he seemed certain it was helping 3ABN!

Posted by: seraph|m Jun 11 2006, 10:16 PM

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jun 3 2006, 10:41 AM)

Actually, it isn't a single well beaten path leading to a predetermined destination. It's more like an "interactive plot" game where you can use the "givens" to lead to more than one destination. For example, if you want to see problems described as a blot upon the good face of Adventism and even of Christianity which need to be removed, then "you can get there from here". If, OTOH, you want to see them as evidence that Adventism is basically baaaaa-d, then "you can get there from here" also.

As the saying goes, "It's not the gale, but the set of the sail, that determines the place where you go." (more or less loosely paraphrased, not by intent but by an under-active memory.)

Whatever. Enjoy the trip! (though "enjoy" may not be the best choice of words in this specific context).

Well beaten would be a good way to put it.

Posted by: gracetoyou Jun 12 2006, 05:46 AM

QUOTE(Johann @ Jun 11 2006, 11:07 PM)

From others I found out that Brenda had made some improper remarks there. Pastor John Lomacang told me that later Brenda had called him at 2 AM and told him an evil spirit had appeared and thrown down a basket from a shelf. This scared her so that she had to confess her sins, which turned out to be that she had not confessed Linda's sins before. It appears to me that Brenda was projecting her own actions on Linda. . .

Someone had mentioned to me that it was Brenda Walsh who had started the adultery rumor during or after the Europe trip. How would Danny know that Linda had made "improper" remarks unless Brenda had told him? Brenda made improper remarks and then an evil spirit appeared to her and threw down a basket from a shelf?!! Are we getting to the true source of this sorry saga? What is Brenda's background? It is not normal for evil spirits to appear to someone unless they have been dabbling with the occult. Or is she a few sandwiches short of a picnic? And, yes, what exactly was Brenda's "relationship" with Danny?

Posted by: Brother Sam Jun 12 2006, 06:05 AM

Is it true Brenda will say anything to get what she wants?

What about the long late nights that Danny and Brenda were supposedly working on 3ABN projects alone and together?

What kind of work were they doing?

Wasn't Brenda older than Linda?

Was she not young enough for Danny?

Posted by: watchbird Jun 12 2006, 07:25 AM

QUOTE(gracetoyou @ Jun 12 2006, 05:46 AM)

Someone had mentioned to me that it was Brenda Walsh who had started the adultery rumor during or after the Europe trip. Brenda made improper remarks and then an evil spirit appeared to her and threw down a basket from a shelf. Are we getting to the true source of this sorry saga? What is Brenda's background? It is not normal for evil spirits to appear to someone unless they have been dabbling with the occult. And, yes, what exactly was Brenda's "relationship" with Danny?

irst as to your comment about evil spirits, a little history.

'm not sure of the beginning dates, but at least by the early 1960's, there came into the Pentecostal ving of Evangelicalism a preoccupation with demons that in turn brought in a "different" view of spiritual warfare" than that presented in scripture. Of course the new view was, as one might expect, supported" by the very texts that it distorted. This in turn was developed into very elaborate rituals or "casting out" the demons that this kind of "Spiritual Warfare" claimed was the immediate cause for eveything that bothered anyone, from health problems to difficulty in overcoming sin. This was called Deliverance Ministry". Of course, not everyone dared engage in Deliverance Ministry, for if one had ny sin in their own lives that would give the demons the "right" to harrass that person. And not all vho were pure of heart were given the "gift of exorcism" (as it was called by some). Thus it was that certain people in many denominations became known as "Deliverance Ministers" and books on the opics abounded in Pentecostal circles.

n the mid to late 1970's this concept of "Spiritual Warfare and Deliverance Ministry" was brought into he SDA church by a minister in Oregon. And very soon there were three main "Deliverance Ministries" n the SDA church which toured the country, giving seminars, holding "Deliverance sessions", and eaching others to handle the demons in their own lives in this standard Pentecostal manner as well as ow to hold "Deliverance sessions" for the demon harrassed in their local churches.

Adventist church leaders were completely unprepared for this, and there was no help at all given to hose in local congregations who were being invaded by these Deliverance Ministry people. Tapes of seminars were widely distributed and books were written based on the experiences these men were aving in their "Deliverance" sessions.

Meanwhile, the GC formed a committee to study the phenomena. In 1983 they finished their study nd made their report. But unfortunately they still did not understand the strength that it had across he country nor how much it involved not only the methods of Deliverance Ministry, but also the loctrines upon which it was built. So they stopped short of moving from reporting on the methodology o studying and reporting on the theology involved. With the result being that various parts of the heology has so permeated the Adventist church that is is doubtful they can ever by entirely removed. Following this report, the movement was somewhat hampered, but it continued working underground" through the years since, and is now moving into the open once again.

An interesting sidelight to this is that the factions of Adventism that were most attracted to and most supportive of both the doctrines and the methodology were those of the conservative wing. That is not o say that all conservatives supported it. But it is to say that most of those who did support it were very conscientious, conservative Adventists, and that the older generations seemed more vulnerable han the younger ones.

f you are interested, you can learn about the methodology from the BRI paper, which is only available on-line at http://sdanet.org/atissue/warfare/index.htm There is also a paper there which discusses some of the theology invovled.

Now, what does this have to do with Brenda, John Lomacang, Danny, and Linda? Take a look at the vay the author of The Televangelist described that experience to which Johann alluded, and following hat I'll have some more comments.

QUOTE

The televangelist's wife took a friend or two and went to visit her son in this overseas rehab for three days. . . .

Upon returning home, the televangelist's wife walked into a nasty surprise. Her husband greeted her with an accusation of adultery with the doctor. He demanded that she cease all communication with him. Outraged, she at first ignored him. The situation escalated.

Her best friend, who was temporarily staying in one of the ministry's apartments, called the compound church's head pastor one night and told him that her room was infested with demons. She said that these demons had removed her garment bag from the closet and thrown it to the floor, creating a tear in the fabric. The televangelist was summoned and they performed an exorcism. In the process, the televangelist told her that this case of demonic activity was the result of his wife's philandering ways.

Early the next morning, unaware of the night's activities, the televangelist's wife was awakened and ordered down to the living room. There she found her best friend and the pastor. Her friend burst into tears and cried "Please, for your own salvation you have to confess!" They pressed her for several hours. The televangelist told her that if she did not submit and confess, her marriage was over, and her days in ministry were at an end. She protested that there were witnesses, including the friend who was present, that she could not have had an affair with this doctor. She had never been alone with him.

Now I was not present at the "exorcism". But if this was a standard Pentecostal "exorcism", or even an Adventist variant of the standard one, the procedure involved 1) "binding" the demons so they could speak only the truth, 2) giving the demons permission to use the vocal apparatus of the person being delivered" for the purpose of answering questions put to them by the "Deliverance Mniister", 3) asking them what it is that gives them the right to harrass (or possess) this person, 4) taking notes of the answers, 5) demanding that the demons depart "in the name of Jesus".

There are some variants. The person being "delivered" may or may not be conscious of what words come from their mouths after the ordeal is over. If they have been unconscious through the ordeal, then the Deliverance Minister tells them what the demons said, and warns them that unless they cease the sins which gave the demon the right to harrass them, that they will come back with even more viciousness than before. If they are conscious throughout, they seem sure that the words coming from their mouths are not by their own volition, but that something is "speaking through them".

There is only one detail in the account as given in The Televangelist that does not correlate with the normal Deliverance Session practices. And that is the fact that the sins that were revealed were of someone other than the one who is being delivered. I have never heard of that before except in one instance where the person the Deliverance Ministers thought needed to be delivered would not cooperate with them so one of the Deliverance team members themselves "stood in place" of the person they thought needed the deliverance. ("Standing in place of" meant that this person allowed the demons to speak through his/her mouth as they were commanded to reveal the things which gave them the "rights" to harrass the person being "delivered" in absentia.)

Posted by: Denny Jun 12 2006, 07:38 AM

This 'excorcism' sounds like normal human manipulation and control tactics with a religious face. As for the televangelist his marriage must have been real rocky for ages to want to drop his wife in such a manner..maybe the 'best friend' was after the husband? ....have mercy

---

Posted by: watchbird Jun 12 2006, 07:58 AM

QUOTE(Denny @ Jun 12 2006, 07:38 AM)

> This 'excorcism' sounds like normal human manipulation and control tactics with a religious face. As for the televangelist his marriage must have been real rocky for ages to want to drop his wife in such a manner..maybe the 'best friend' was after the husband? ....have mercy f the "exorcisms" were only "normal human manipulation and control tactics with a religious face" it vould be bad enough. Unfortunately, there is evidence that strongly suggests that in some cases there ıave been real demons involved.

\s for the "best friend"? Maybe. But she was, and still is, married. And it is doubtful that the answer to he puzzle is so simple as this.

Posted by: Denny Jun 12 2006, 08:02 AM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jun 12 2006, 01:56 PM)
>
> If the "exorcisms" were only "normal human manipulation and control tactics with a religious face" it would be bad enough. Unfortunately, there is evidence that strongly suggests that in some cases there have been real demons involved.
>
> As for the "best friend"? Maybe. But she was, and still is, married. And it is doubtful that the answer to the puzzle is so simple as this.

was refering to the exorcism in your story not all exorcisms

Posted by: gracetoyou Jun 12 2006, 08:16 AM

Thank-you so much for your information on the spiritualistic aspects of this story. A former Southern Adventist University professor visiting my church a number of years ago told me that another former professor had been involved with the idea that if anyone had a sin or weakness, then that was due to a particular demon - a person with a weakness for cookies had a cookie demon, etc. I was appalled as she was a very intelligent woman.

I have listened to a tape by John Osborne that described and criticized deliverance ministries and also have read an excellent book, "The Battle for the Mind," by Lloyd and Leola Rosenvold which goes indepth into this subject and gives numerous case studies. One point that is made is that the process of "exorcising" the supposed demons actually causes the supposed victim to become possessed or at least harassed by demons. It puts demons in rather than taking them out. The authors point out that we should not talk with demons as is done by the deliverance ministries as communication with demons is spiritualism. Rather we should pray to God for Him to free anyone who is harassed by demonic powers.

Adventists who become involved in the deliverance ministry type of exorcism are unwittingly becoming involved in spiritualism. Now some significant pieces of this puzzle are falling into place.

Posted by: sister Jun 12 2006, 08:22 AM

If you consider the information from Watchbird, concerning Deliverance Ministries, I do not think this "demonic manifestation" has anything to do with Linda's behavior. This becomes quite apparent in the unfolding of events. Following the reasoning of the Deliverance Ministry the demons should have attacked Linda, not Brenda. If, in fact Linda were the sinful party. And following that line of reasoning to it's logical conclusion, the one who called forth the demon's attention, through certain illicit behavior on her part would have had to have been Brenda, she was the one whom they attacked. So, there was no reason to suspect Linda of any wrong doing based upon the Deliverance Ministry theory. Brenda? Now that is another situation completely.

Was Brenda in Norway as Linda's "best friend" or was there another plan in operation? Was she actually there representing Danny? And when there was nothing to report to discredit Linda? Perhaps that's is when Plan B went into effect.

Why should anyone believe Brenda's claim of demonic harassment? Or her interpretation of it's cause? There were no witnesses. And a small cut in a piece of luggage, as the only evidence? That takes a leap of faith and extrapolation greater than Linda and Brenda's flight across the Atlantic to Norway. Perhaps the smell of a skunk conspiracy is wafting through the air in T'ville and if it is instigated by a four-legged creature, than it appears that two of those legs are male and the other two female. And why would John Lomacang agree to participate in an exorcism? What is going on in the 3ABN Worship Center in T'ville?

I do not think that I would want my husband and my "best friend" spending so much time alone together, late at night, if I were having to take care of my dangerously ill child without the support of my husband... I rather doubt, under the circumstances, that Linda was aware of how often a red truck was seen parked outside Brenda's 3ABN apartment. While Linda was never alone with Nathan's doctor in Norway, Brenda and Danny were alone together many times late at night in T'ville.

Posted by: gracetoyou Jun 12 2006, 08:41 AM

The deliverance ministry subject was brought up because of the evil spirit manifestation and the exorcism segment of this story. Whether the manifestation was real or not is irrelevant. The fact that Brenda would claim that her room was possessed and that Danny and John L. would perform an exorcism is relevant. Apparently they have bought into the deliverance ministry mentality, which is not surprising considering the Pentecostal influence at 3ABN, and used it to further their own agenda. They can twist details to suit themselves -- Brenda was harassed by demons because she was "covering" up Linda's adultery -- or whatever.

By the way, where was Brenda's husband when the red truck was parked outside of Brenda's apartment all those nights?

Posted by: PaperTigers Jun 12 2006, 08:45 AM

> QUOTE(gracetoyou @ Jun 12 2006, 10:41 AM)
>
> The deliverance ministry subject was brought up because of the evil spirit manifestation and the exorcism segment of this story. Whether the manifestation was real or not is irrelevant. The fact that Brenda would claim that her room was possessed and that Danny and John L. would perform an exorcism is relevant. Apparently they have bought into the deliverance ministry mentality, which is not surprising considering the Pentecostal influence at 3ABN, and used it to further their own agenda. They can twist details to suit themselves.
>
> By the way, where was Brenda's husband when the red truck was parked outside of Brenda's apartment all those nights?

Brenda's husband would be where he always is... either at work or in TN

Posted by: gracetoyou Jun 12 2006, 09:06 AM

QUOTE(PaperTigers @ Jun 12 2006, 09:45 AM)

Brenda's husband would be where he always is... either at work or in TN

Just read Brenda Walsh's testimony in Mending Broken People. She wrote that her husband leaves Knoxville, TN each Sunday afternoon to drive 7 hours to Washington, D.C., for his job and she drives 6 hours in the opposite direction to work at 3ABN. Not a lot of togetherness there.

I found it interesting that in referring to Linda Shelton on p. 229, Brenda refers to her as the "vice-president" twice instead of referring to Linda by her name - like she didn't want to identify who the vice-president was.

I've always felt her cookie story was stupid.

Posted by: caribbean sda Jun 12 2006, 09:47 AM

QUOTE(gracetoyou @ Jun 12 2006, 11:06 AM)

Just read Brenda Walsh's testimony in Mending Broken People. She wrote that her husband leaves Knoxville, TN each Sunday afternoon to drive 7 hours to Washington, D.C., for his job and she drives 6 hours in the opposite direction to work at 3ABN. Not a lot of togetherness there.

I found it interesting that in referring to Linda Shelton on p. 229, Brenda refers to her as the "vice-president" instead of referring to Linda by her name.

I've always felt her cookie story was stupid.

When I read Brenda's book about her life, I found it strange that when she was recounting the experience of how Kid's Time was started, she referred to a conversation with the "Vice President of 3ABN." Is Linda so "persona non grata" that not even the mention of her name is permitted? She is nothing more than a mere title...go figure...

Posted by: Johann Jun 12 2006, 10:55 AM

QUOTE(caribbean sda @ Jun 12 2006, 05:47 PM)

When I read Brenda's book about her life, I found it strange that when she was recounting the experience of how Kid's Time was started, she referred to a conversation with the "Vice President of 3ABN." Is Linda so "persona non grata" that not even the mention of her name is permitted? She is nothing more than a mere title...go figure...

Does her name distort the miracle stories from 3ABN? What part does BSDA play in making known the mere facts of what 3ABN is and should be?

Posted by: Clay Jun 12 2006, 11:04 AM

QUOTE(Johann @ Jun 12 2006, 10:55 AM)

Does her name distort the miracle stories from 3ABN? What part does BSDA play in making known the mere facts of what 3ABN is and should be?

BSDA has no part.... there are members who have joined and are interested and thus they post here... I cannot speak for the members however it's a safe bet that not every member here is interested in the 3abn saga.....

Posted by: awesumtenor Jun 12 2006, 11:17 AM

QUOTE(Clay @ Jun 12 2006, 12:04 PM)

BSDA has no part.... there are members who have joined and are interested and thus they post here... I cannot speak for the members however it's a safe bet that not every member here is interested in the 3abn saga.....

BSDA still plays a part, regardless of whether all members are interested or not... if for no other reason than the fact that the discussion on 3ABN is open and accessible to all... there is no "official" slant and parties from all sides are welcome to make statements and rebut the statements of others, within the drawn lines.

That freedom is both more valuable and more important than may be realized at this juncture.

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: caribbean sda Jun 12 2006, 12:11 PM

QUOTE(Johann @ Jun 12 2006, 12:55 PM)

Does her name distort the miracle stories from 3ABN? What part does BSDA play in making known the mere facts of what 3ABN is and should be?

It was just a mere observation...we can still do that, can't we?

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jun 12 2006, 12:58 PM

QUOTE(sister @ Jun 12 2006, 08:22 AM)

> Was Brenda in Norway as Linda's "best friend" or was there another plan in operation? Was she actually there representing Danny? And when there was nothing to report to discredit Linda? Perhaps that's is when Plan B went into effect.

I was looking at this picture and I couldn't help but ask the exact same question. It seems to me someone else is in this family picture. Anybody recall the members of the "independent fact finding committee"? (Bill Hulsey, Kay Kuzma, Nicholas Miller, Walter Thompson.)

I strongly doubt if any "independent fact finders" had any empathy for Linda Shelton. They wouldn't be publishing books for 3ABN now if they did, in my opinion. I doubt Mr. Shelton would endure them. The fact that they are still associated with 3ABN tells me something.

http://www.micheffsisters.com/images/ms-kuszma-texas.jpg

I wouldn't be surprised if there were multiple plans. Plan A, Plan B, Plan C.....

Posted by: watchbird Jul 5 2006, 05:26 AM

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jun 12 2006, 12:58 PM)
>
> I was looking at this picture and I couldn't help but ask the exact same question. It seems to me someone else is in this family picture. Anybody recall the members of the "independent fact finding committee"? (Bill Hulsey, Kay Kuzma, Nicholas Miller, Walter Thompson.)
>
> I strongly doubt if any "independent fact finders" had any empathy for Linda Shelton. They wouldn't be publishing books for 3ABN now if they did, in my opinion. I doubt Mr. Shelton would endure them. The fact that they are still associated with 3ABN tells me something.
>
> http://www.micheffsisters.com/images/ms-kuszma-texas.jpg
>
> I wouldn't be surprised if there were multiple plans. Plan A, Plan B, Plan C.....

Interesting that you bring up the phrase "independent fact finding committee". (And yes, your memory matches mine as to the members of that committee.) Just a few days ago I received a copy of a letter dated June 13, 2006, sent by Walt Thompson, chairman of the 3ABN board, to an inquirer about the history of the last 2 years at 3ABN. It was rather "interesting" to see how the original stories were embellished, and the contraditions to other's testimonies were strengthened.

But there was one change that I thought interesting. The phrase to describe the makeup of the committee has now been changed, and Thompson writes, " I and a small committee of the board had a number of sessions with Linda, encouraging her to break off the relationship that was ruining her home and putting a serious strain on the ministry." Which is a long way from being as was earlier claimed, "an independent fact finding committee"-- which one would expect to mean that they were out to determine whether Danny's accusations were correct or not. This does not seem to have even entered into their minds. Danny said it, they believed it, and their sole purpose was to convince Linda to "break off the relationship" which didn't exist in the first place.

And the "beat goes on" b and on b and on b

Posted by: Clay Jul 5 2006, 07:53 AM

we know that there was no "independent" anything.... they went to find some facts that would support the allegations Mr. Shelton made so that he could divorce her on the grounds of spiritual adultery and then marry a woman 20 yrs younger than he... I mean really this one is a no brainer..... and people say money can't corrupt..

Posted by: watchbird Jul 5 2006, 09:10 AM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 5 2006, 07:53 AM)
>
> we know that there was no "independent" anything.... they went to find some facts that would support the allegations Mr. Shelton made so that he could divorce her on the grounds of spiritual adultery and then marry a woman 20 yrs younger than he... I mean really this one is a no brainer..... and people say money can't corrupt..

Yes, "we" knew that--the moment that we read the names and recognized that they were board-members and others handpicked by Danny himself. But not all had the information to even know their official positions -- and very few of those who did know, realized that board members were dependent upon Danny rather than the other way around.

But I think we go too far if we join all of the reasons that Danny had for wanting the divorce to the fact that they were looking for ways to support his allegations. First of all, I don't think they were even looking for facts. I think they accepted what he said as fact--without question. I think that their entire focus was upon the question of what could be done about the situation in order to ensure that "the ministry" would continue. I don't think this was the same quality of "for the good of the ministry" that Danny parroted. I think they were thinking of their own investments and reputations, and (in the case of those like Mark Finley, who also got involved) of their own ministries that were depending on 3ABN for world wide broadcast.

The efforts of that committee were focused almost entirely on forcing Elena to acquiesce to all of Danny's demands (which was impossible, for many of them were contradictory and opposite of his real goal of getting rid of her, but they didn't know that), accept the "counseling" (which if one examines the details closely was probably a deprogramming center or a brainwahing program) and remain as the cute little Danny shadow role that she had assumed in the early years.

Once she had refused the whole package, then they were free to claim that she had refused to break off the relationship and remain as Danny's wife, and be quite accurate in their charges. For since there was no inappropriate relationship to break off, she did refuse to break off contact--along with refusing to denounce him as being of the devil, and breaking off contact with Johann and Irmard and making the same statements about them (all provisions which were placed though they never were written out in the official statement -- for obvious reasons). And most of all she refused to return to the man who was going to all lengths possible to make life miserable enough for her so she would leave.

All of this they would have learned had they truly investigated. But they didn't. So they didn't. And since they didn't they made demands and judgements that were unsound. And they have spent the last two years repeating their initial lies so that by now they probably actually believe they are right.

We know different. And in time the whole world will know different. In the meantime it is difficult to wait patiently, though the difficulty is eased by doing what we can, [illegible] how little a role it may be. At the same time, the difficulty is increased by thinking of the [illegible] have been lost that can never be replaced.

Posted by: Clay Jul 5 2006, 09:52 AM

I say that they were looking for support of the allegations vs finding the facts based on one simple fact... most people tend to avoid confrontation or tense situations... so in this case is it easier to do the right thing or to appease Mr. Shelton..... I think appeasement was the option taken....

Posted by: lurker Jul 5 2006, 10:28 AM

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jul 5 2006, 10:10 AM)

Yes, "we" knew that--the moment that we read the names and recognized that they were board-members and others handpicked by Danny himself. But not all had the information to even know their official positions -- and very few of those who did know, realized that board members were dependent upon Danny rather than the other way around.

But I think we go too far if we join all of the reasons that Danny had for attributing the divorce to the fact that they were looking for ways to support his allegations. First of all, I don't think they were even looking for facts. I think they accepted what he said as fact--without question. I think that their entire focus was upon the question of what could be done about the situation in order to ensure that "the ministry" would continue. I don't think this was the same quality of "for the good of the ministry" that Danny parroted. I think they were thinking of their own investments and reputations, and (in the case of those like Mark Finley, who also got [illegible]) of their own ministries that were depending on 3ABN for world wide broadcast.

The efforts of that committee were focused almost entirely on forcing Linda to acquiesce to all of Danny's demands (which was impossible, for many of them were contradictory and opposite of his real goal of getting rid of her, but they didn't know that), accept the "reprogramming" (which if one examines the details closely was probably a deprogramming center and a brainwashing program) and remain as the cute little Danny shadow role that she had assumed for [illegible] years.

Once she had refused the whole package, then they were free to claim she had refused to break off the relationship and remain as Danny's wife, and be quite accurate in their charges. For since there was no inappropriate relationship to break off, she did refuse to break off contact--along with refusing to denounce him as being of the devil, and break off contact with Johann and Irmard and making the same statements about them (all [illegible] were stated though they never were written out in the official statement -- for obvious reasons). And most of all she refused to return to the man who was going to all lengths possible to make life miserable enough for her so she would leave.

All of this they would have learned had they truly investigated. But they didn't. So they didn't. And since they didn't they made demands and judgements that were [illegible] they have spent the last two years repeating their initial lie so that by now they probably believe they are right.

We know different. And in time the whole world will know different. But [illegible] time it is difficult to wait patiently, though the difficulty is eased by doing what we can, [illegible] after how little a role it may be. At the same time, the difficulty is increased by thinking of [illegible] that have been lost that can never be replaced.

Back to (Thursday May 27, 2004 through Sunday morning May 30, 2004 in Thompsonville, Illinois - Memorial day weekend - the opening meeting of the 3ABN camp meeting) Dr Abrahamsen and Johann Thorvaldsson visited 3ABN camp meeting (they said it was to [illegible] Danny's wrong impression of things and /or to talk to the board). Danny accused [illegible] Linda bad advice and had them removed from the 3ABN property. According to Danny's [illegible] which was posted on blacksda by beartrap: Danny Shelton said "Please advise Linda [illegible] to leave me and start a new life for herself. Anytime that our relationship would [illegible] the point that she would listen to such foolish advice as hiding my gun, the relationship [illegible]"4/27/2004 Note that this email was dated the same day that Danny publicly accused them [illegible] bad advice. So we know what the bad advice was. A loving husband would feel sympat[illegible] a fearful wife and would attempt to reassure her, not tell her to move on. He might be angry at the person who advised her to be fearful, but he would not reject her just for being scared or for heeding someone else's advice in this regard." And He, Danny was the one who wanted her to be told to "leave and start a new life" for the crime of being frightened of him according to his email. This is exactly what Linda ended up doing. He wanted her to leave. He said so. All the while he was telli[illegible] that he was trying to reconcile.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jul 5 2006, 11:25 AM

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jul 5 2006, 09:10 AM)

The efforts of that committee were focused almost entirely on forc[illegible] acquiesce to all of Danny's demands (which was impossible, for many of them were [illegible] and opposite of his real goal of getting rid of her, but they didn't know that), accept [illegible]" (which if one examines the details closely was probably a deprogramming cont[illegible]hing program) and remain as the cute little Danny shadow role that she had assumed [illegible] years.

And speaking of "counseling," would someone please be kind enough [illegible] me how an Ed.D in Early Childhood Education mutates into a Ph.D in Family Counseling.

Kay Kuzma graduated from UCLA with a Ed.D in Early Childhood Ed[illegible] qualifications are listed on her web site here:

http://www.kaykuzma.com/presentations/Kay's%20Bio.htm

Now, if you go to newspaper articles, you find it mutates into a "[illegible]" Ph.D. This is the information Kay Kuzma is, apparently, giving out about herself.

"... Kuzma, a Ph.D. in family counseling....".

http://www.neworleansvfp.org/node/2191

http://www.topix.net/content/kri/0460[illegible]131

"Ph.D" is also referenced here

http://www.actshelp.org/index.php?
option=com_content&task=archivecategory&year=2006&month=05[illegible]

And at Plusline:

https://www.plusline.org/organization.php?id=2032

I think that if a person has a Ed.D in Early Childhood Education, that's [illegible] have. They should be accurate in their descriptions of themselves, rather than play [illegible] facts.

I realize both Ed.D and Ph.D degrees are doctorates, but does she w[illegible] ral public to mistake her for a psychologist a la "Dr. Robert Hartley"?

Dr. Kay Kuzma claimed not to clothed in the guise of a "counselor" wh[illegible] proached Linda Shelton, but I can't prove that based on how Kay Kuzma describes h[illegible] he newspapers.

Posted by: Clay Jul 5 2006, 05:15 PM

Interesting points Pete... I think if we followed the money regarding [illegible] selors" we will probably find that they are all receiving money from Mr. Shelton....

The other point that concerned me before is this, if I tell my spouse [illegible] unseling, and then proceed to take her to counselors of my choice, how successful will [illegible] ing be? NOT VERY..... its already biased.... Mr. Shelton taking Linda to counselors [illegible] ice... gimme a break... thats akin to making her an offer she can't refuse....

Powered by Invision Power Board (http://www.invisionboard.com)
© Invision Power Services (http://www.invisionpower.com)

Printable Version of Topic

222

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ An Unauthorized History Of 3ab

Posted by: sister Apr 19 2006, 05:36 AM

The Shelton Gang rides again... Part 1

In the history of southern Illinois, in the time of gangland Chicago, [illegible] Capone was king, there is told the story of two rival gangs: the Birgers and the Shel[illegible] he only reason these small time hoods go down in the annals of gangland history is becau[illegible] they were the first gangsters to drop a bomb on a rival gang from an airplane. The bo[illegible] s hand held and it did not hit it's intended target, but then these were good old boys from [illegible] hern Illinois and what more could you expect...

Many years later the Shelton name again surfaces in the history of t[illegible] southern part of the state. Another Shelton has been raised up, another good old boy, but the [illegible] ton has learned from the family history. He has two faces that he wears: one on his televisio[illegible] work when he says to the people "ask the Lord what he would have you give..." and another [illegible] he goes about his "business".

We all know about the horses, the land and the jet plane the ministry [illegible] provided for Danny, but what else does the good people who make their sacrificial don[illegible] their tithe to 3ABN provide for his pleasure?

Some of the perks for being the President of 3ABN are... oh, by the [illegible] idea was the perk system that has provided so well for Danny over the years, while [illegible] yees are told that there wages are so low because this is a ministry and they need to [illegible] sacrifices for the LORD's work? This is beginning to sound more like French history, than so[illegible] ern Illinois history. Just before the French Revolution when Marie Antoinette was told th[illegible] of France were so poor that they had no Bread to eat, she laughed and said, "Th[illegible] cake". There is a history of 3ABN workers with families receiving goods from W[illegible] program that provides food for low income families to ensure proper nuitrition [illegible] and young children. So while Danny sits up in his southern Illinois style mansion with a s[illegible] ing pool and jacuzzi, having the income to eat whatever he desires, workers get their "[illegible] the Welfare system.

Danny gets a brand new truck every year, not one of these c[illegible] big one with power something in the $30,000 + range, of course that is necess[illegible] horse trailer. But where does the family sit? Linda always got a van for a perk, p[illegible] rk will now pass on to Danny's new wife. And of course since 3ABN pays for the v[illegible] the bill for all the gas and the maintenance. But being the kind man that Danny [illegible] ing to rub the noses of the workers in his good fortune, Danny always get the sa[illegible] of truck each year. Then of course there is a clothing allowance, but there [illegible] m at 3ABN, so I guess that Danny can just buy whatever he needs, not a big [illegible] all adds to the total.

To be continued in Part 2...

Posted by: Denny Apr 19 2006, 06:32 AM

QUOTE(silsbee_bee @ Apr 19 [illegible] AM)

The only place in the sda church that I know of where [illegible] msgs is not accepted and embraced is this msg board.

DB

Actually the message is accepted its the Adventist interpretation some people have a problem with.

wonder if CBS will be interested in a new drama CSI:Illinois [illegible] Investigation)

Posted by: Clay Apr 19 2006, 07:54 AM

QUOTE(silsbee_bee @ Apr 19 2006, 05:33 AM)

The only place in the sda church that I know of where the concept of [illegible] msgs is not accepted and embraced is this msg board.

DB

wrong... but don't let that get in the way of your making inflammatory [illegible] and while you opt to weigh in on this statement lest you forget, you left a few unanswered [illegible] on the table from another thread... shall it be assumed that you are now ready to answer [illegible] tions?

Posted by: awesumtenor Apr 19 2006, 07:56 AM

QUOTE(silsbee_bee @ Apr 19 2006, 07:33 AM)

The only place in the sda church that I know of where the concept of [illegible] msgs is not accepted and embraced is this msg board.

DB

Fortunately, the rest of us are not bound by the limits of your awareness

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: sister Apr 19 2006, 08:47 AM

QUOTE(Denny @ Apr 19 2006, 07:52 AM)

I wonder if CBS will be interested in a new drama CSI:Illinois (Church Show Investigation)

Denny, I am sure the Adventist audience alone would make C[illegible] Church Show Investigation) number one on the CBS lineup.

Posted by: Denny Apr 19 2006, 10:11 AM

QUOTE(sister @ Apr 19 2006, 02:47 PM)

Denny, I am sure the Adventist audience alone would make [illegible] Church Show Investigation) number one on the CBS lineup.

Well I'll be happy to take the leading role as long as Gary Dourdan is [illegible] know I gots lust issues)

Posted by: Clay Apr 19 2006, 10:20 AM

QUOTE(Denny @ Apr 19 2006, 10:11 AM)

Well I'll be happy to take the leading role as long as Gary Dourdan [illegible] know I gots lust issues)

You have issues....

Posted by: missthg Apr 19 2006, 10:25 AM

Well I guess we'll be fighting over him on the show! Cos you know [illegible] first!

QUOTE(Denny @ Apr 19 2006, 08:11 AM)

Well I'll be happy to take the leading role as long as Gary Dourdan [illegible] know I gots lust issues)

Posted by: Clay Apr 19 2006, 10:29 AM

QUOTE(missthg @ Apr 19 2006, 11:25 AM)

Well I guess we'll be fighting over him on the show! Cos you know [illegible] nz first!

you have issue too...lol The book hasn't even been finished yet and y[illegible] assigning roles for the movie....

Posted by: princessdi Apr 19 2006, 11:55 AM

I don't want a role, however, I will take Gary's boss. Thank you very [illegible]

Posted by: Clay Apr 19 2006, 12:00 PM

QUOTE(princessdi @ Apr 19 2006, 11:55 AM)

I don't want a role, however, I will take Gary's boss. Thank you [illegible] focus people focus... on the info being provided that is... So far the tale of trucks, planes, property seems to be along the same lines of televangelists as they rise in p[illegible]ence... As I said in another thread.... power corrupts...

Posted by: princessdi Apr 19 2006, 12:15 PM

Ooops! Sorry for my momentary [illegible]ression.....

Ok, so should we expect an expo[illegible] on Primetime, Dateline, 60 Mi[illegible] You know they wore Benny Hinn out!

QUOTE(Clay @ Apr 19 2006, 1[illegible] AM) focus people focus... on the info[illegible] provided that is... So far th[illegible], planes, property seems to be along the same li[illegible] televangelists as they rise in p[illegible]uence... As I said in another thread.... power corru[illegible]

Posted by: Clay Apr 19 2006, 12:18 PM

QUOTE(princessdi @ Apr 19 2[illegible] 1:15 PM)

> Ooops! Sorry for my momentary digression.....
>
> Ok, so should we expect an exposé on Primetime, Dateline, 60 Minutes, [illegible] You know they wore Benny Hinn out!

As they did Peter Popoff and that Tilton guy....

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Apr 19 2006, 03:38 PM

My LERD!

[x] sna

Posted by: sister Apr 19 2006, 07:34 PM

The Shelton Gang rides again... Part 2, life in "Little Egypt"

They call Southern Illinois Little Egypt for one of two reasons: either because it's fertile, a land of milk and honey for those running from the Reconstruction South, or because it's a locust-ridden, gaunt-cow wasteland to Chicago politicians annoyed at how backward the bottom of their state is. It all depends on who you want to side with, which is often the case with most things in this life.

For a poor boy, the son of migrant workers, born and raised in "Little Egypt", the opinion of the Chicago politicians seems to best fit the early years of little Danny [illegible] But for Danny Shelton, president of Three Angels Broadcasting Network, Southern Illinois become like it's ancient predecessor Egypt was for the brothers of Joseph, when their [illegible] is united with his lost son, "a land of milk and honey".

How did this boy from so humble a background, forget his own roots and, [illegible] he had obtained more material blessing then he could have ever imagined and have so many of his boyhood dreams come true, treat his workers like the English lords treated their lowly serfs in the middle ages? Why? And are all the workers treated equally? The answer to the last question is, "No!"

Now we don't want to forget about Danny's personal corporate jet, [illegible] the fuel, airport taxes, hanger space and the salary of two jet pilots (of whom Danny [illegible] because they flew missions in Desert Storm) and the tremendous cost footed for his [illegible] ministry---we should just be happy that he hasn't hired a stewardess. But for my [illegible] from Danny's personal perks and see what kind of perks he gives his friends.

Not everyone has a sacrificial s[illegible] at 3ABN, one example is the chief [illegible] —he makes $75,000+ a year. Now, I will not argue that he has an important job, [illegible] worth anywhere from three to (in many cases) five times what other workers are making.

And what about the head of the music studio, in addition to a good [illegible] is a beautiful apartment that she helped decorate for which no rent is paid and [illegible] the standard of the average worker in southern Illinois. And there are the many [illegible] and her husband accompanied Danny and Linda on over the years. Like [illegible] personnel at 3ABN she and her husband are not SDAs and have no interest in [illegible] Perhaps it is from their long close association with Danny over many years and [illegible] served as his example of what it means to be a Seventh-day Adventist and the [illegible] ry. These are just two examples, there are [illegible] more...but you get the idea.

In the early twenties, southern [illegible]is was also called Little Hell b[illegible] [illegible]lan, the gangsters and the prostitutes. Y[illegible]an go down the road a ways fro[illegible] come to the town of Benton, there is a museum th[illegible] and on the outside of the bu[illegible] [illegible]e gallows with the hangman's noose still stand[illegible] ready for service. Fortunately, [illegible] [illegible]f the museum and no longer in use.

When the notorious gangland cr[illegible] boss, Al Capone went to prison [illegible] [illegible]r racketeering, but for tax evasion. Elliot Ness [illegible] his force of G-Men were unab[illegible] [illegible]f the charges stick to Capone. The witnesses [illegible]peared or remained silent—C[illegible] had [illegible]hold on them. It took many years for this kingp[illegible] [illegible]rime to receive what he des[illegible] [illegible] end justice was served.

What was the downfall of gang[illegible] Chicago, could pull another "[illegible] [illegible]one way down in "Little Egypt". Which would [illegible] go to prove what the politic[illegible] [illegible]e annoyed with all along, "how backward the [illegible] of their state really is."

Stay turned for the next episo[illegible] CSI:Illinois...

Posted by: Zephyr Apr 19 20[illegible] [illegible]7:47 PM

The head of the music studio [illegible]t ET as in ETE? I always w[illegible] [illegible]ne not an SDA could be music head at a stat[illegible] [illegible]ting itself as the standard f[illegible] [illegible] culture.

I do like her music by the way. [illegible]ter you could write a book..th[illegible] [illegible]ghtenment. I for one look forward to reading yo[illegible] [illegible]ery day.

Posted by: sister Apr 19 20[illegible] [illegible]7:59 PM

> QUOTE(Zephyr @ Apr 19 2006, [illegible] PM)
>
> The head of the music studio [illegible] ET as in ETE? I always w[illegible] [illegible]one not an SDA could be music head at a stati[illegible] [illegible]ing itself as the standard f[illegible] [illegible] culture.
>
> I do like her music by the way. [illegible]r you could write a book..th[illegible] [illegible]enment. I for one look forward to reading yo[illegible] [illegible]ry day.

Yes, ET Everett and her husba[illegible] [illegible] a long history with Danny a[illegible]

Posted by: PaperTigers Ap[illegible] [illegible]06, 08:06 PM

As someone who used to be e[illegible] too close to the situation, [illegible] [illegible]hud Sister for standing up for the truth and [illegible] right!!! It's about time t[illegible] [illegible]d.

Posted by: Clay Apr 19 2006, [illegible] 12 PM

yep.... seems to be the same [illegible] of rags to riches saga many o[illegible] [illegible] less sincere (or fake) televangelists have take[illegible] ....

Posted by: Clay Jul 4 2006, [illegible] PM do they still have the plane? [illegible] any ummm collectibles [illegible] [illegible]rk stuff like that?

Posted by: princessdi Jul 4 2[illegible], 11:16 PM

Easy SDA worship and culture [illegible]ts of the music being technic[illegible] [illegible]s nothing to do with true praise or worship. Lik[illegible] rest of our "message" it is [illegible]gical and has nothing to do with our emotions. [illegible]erefore, it is easy for anyone to be music [illegible]ad. They just have to be a fairly decent musician.

QUOTE(Zephyr @ Apr 19 2006, [illegible]17 PM)

The head of the music studio ..[illegible]t ET as in ETE? I always wond[illegible] [illegible]one not an SDA could be music head at a station [illegible]ting itself as the standard for S[illegible] [illegible]nd culture.I do like her music by the way. Sister you [illegible]uld write a book..thanks for [illegible]. I for one look forward to reading you every d[illegible]

Posted by: watchbird Jul 5 2[illegible], 07:35 AM

QUOTE(princessdi @ Jul 4 2006, [illegible]1:16 PM)

Easy SDA worship and culture [illegible]ts of the music being technic[illegible] [illegible]s nothing to do with true praise or worship. Li[illegible] rest of our "message" it is [illegible]gical and has nothing to do with our emotion[illegible] Therefore, it is easy for anyone [illegible]. They just have to be a fairly decent musician.

This isn't "easy SDA worship and [illegible]ure". And the normal standard [illegible]g technically correct" are not really applicable [illegible]ABN culture, where the only [illegible]s what Danny likes, and what he does NOT like is m[illegible] [illegible]t is too "technically correct".

But the other element is that be[illegible] [illegible]sic Director at 3ABN, which [illegible] [illegible]f workers that are together essentially seven days [illegible], is much different role tha[illegible] [illegible]ster of music" for a church group which meets once [illegible]. And with the 3ABN envir[illegible] [illegible]ubset of Adventism, and one which procla[illegible] [illegible]nd postures itself as the "[illegible] [illegible]dventism, it is more than merely ironic that so [illegible] of the 3ABN persons in [illegible] [illegible]ot even SDA themselves, but Pentecostal. A[illegible] [illegible]e vast majority are of Pentecostal backgrounds, [illegible] They have blended with [illegible]ines--whether from conviction on the doctrines [illegible]nvenience for their jobs is a [illegible]ture that few have any doubt about. And their basic [illegible]cost al belief system is wh[illegible] [illegible]d caught by association and assimilation (as [illegible]s sometimes by overt instr[illegible]

When one notes the animosity [illegible]nservative Adventists--[illegible] [illegible]men--often display for anything "pentacosta[illegible] [illegible]ard to imagine how Penta[illegible] [illegible]treme right wing Adventism can merge, as they d[illegible] 3ABN. Yet in fact, across the [illegible] [illegible]ve an affiinity for each other at the deeper levels [illegible] and practice, even at t[illegible] [illegible]e criticizes the other on more superficial level[illegible].

Powered by I[illegible] [illegible]wer Board (http://www[illegible] © Invisio[illegible] [illegible]ices (http://www.in[illegible]

223

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ 3abn Booted From Sky Angel

Posted by: Zephyr Apr 19 2006, 07:51 PM

Sky Angel on the diosh Network DBS system has booted 3ABN. Many [illegible] me got this satellite service only because of 3ABN and the constant advertising by [illegible].
Does anyopne know why 3ABN was taken off SkyAngel?

Gere is 3ABN's statement on this :

> QUOTE(3ABN)
>
> Sky Angel does not have a channel available for 3ABN at this time. [illegible] prayer that this problem is resolved soon and 3ABN channel may be restored to [illegible] TV channels.
>
> Please don't call them or us until we make any further announcement [illegible]

Posted by: princessdi Apr 19 2006, 09:48 PM

Ok so, my sister and I decided to go to the source - Sky Angel. there message is a lot less cryptic that the one on 3ABN.

> QUOTE
>
> Important alert from Sky Angel 4/19/[illegible]
>
> Three of Sky Angel's channels are currently experiencing technical difficulties. The issue is being addressed in an effort to restore service on these channels as soon as [illegible] We apologize for the inconvenience and thank you for your understanding.

Posted by: seraph|m Apr 19 [illegible], 10:33 PM

> QUOTE(Zephyr @ Apr 19 2006, 1[illegible] PM)
>
> Sky Angel on the diosh Network DBS system has booted 3ABN. [illegible] got this satellite service only because of 3ABN and the constant advertising by our [illegible]
> Does anyopne know why 3ABN was taken off SkyAngel?
>
> Gere is 3ABN's statement on this :

Who are these folks that they have the nerve to tell anyone not to call another organization? Sheeeesh

---

Posted by: princessdi Apr 20 2006, 04:21 PM

There is apparently a problem, and Sky Angel is a lot more diplomatic [illegible] (we are already familiar with their issues where dish control is concerned). As [illegible] said, there must be some problem if 3ABN is [illegible] calling for a massive phone [illegible]

QUOTE(seraph|m @ Apr 19 2006, [illegible]:33 PM)

Who are these folks that they have the nerve to tell anyone [illegible] another organization? Sheeeesh

---

Posted by: Clay Apr 20 2006, [illegible]:24 PM

QUOTE(princessdi @ Apr 20 200[illegible]:21 PM)

There is apparently a problem, and Sky Angel is a lot more diplomatic [illegible] (we are already familiar with their issues where dish control is concerned). As [illegible] said, there must be some problem if 3ABN is [illegible] calling for a massive phone [illegible] maybe, maybe not... time will tell....

Posted by: princessdi Apr 20 [illegible], 04:29 PM

Well, you know Steve, I heard a[illegible] this a couple of days before [illegible]e. My Mom called me and I told here it was [illegible] technical difficultites due [illegible]os and storm activity in Illinios over last week [illegible]. From Sky Angel's statement I am inclined to still believe it is technical difficulties, because it s[illegible] three os it's ch annels are aff[illegible] 3ABN. However, there is 3ABN message that is p[illegible] some doubt in my [illegible]

As you said, time will tell.....

QUOTE(Clay @ Apr 20 2006, 02:2[illegible])

maybe, maybe not... time will te[illegible]

Posted by: statrei Apr 20 200[illegible]:38 PM

QUOTE(princessdi @ Apr 20 2006, [illegible]5:21 PM)

There is apparently a problem, and Sky Angel is a lot more diplomat[illegible](we are already familiar with their issues where d[illegible]ga control is concerned). As [illegible] said, there must be some problem if 3ABN is [illegible] calling for a massive phone [illegible]

If the problem is due to technical d[illegible]ulties what good would a ph[illegible]n do? The fact that they ask that no one calls points t[illegible]hnical difficulties.

Posted by: princessdi Apr 20 2[illegible]6, 04:43 PM

This is what I was thinking also, b[illegible] why can 3ABn just say that? S[illegible]e it sound more like technical difficulties, 3ABN m[illegible] it sound as if they had been d[illegible] relplaced.

QUOTE(statrei @ Apr 20 2006, 0[illegible])

If the problem is due to technical [illegible]ulties what good would a ph[illegible]n do? The fact that they ask that no one calls p[illegible] technical difficulties.

Posted by: Zephyr Apr 20 200[illegible] [illegible]:49 PM

I did notice that two other channe[illegible] were showing "off air" like [illegible], 3ABN was not available in the channel lineup. N[illegible] it is back with an "off air" [illegible] Networks/channels are Eagle an[illegible]. Maybe it really is techni[illegible]t I agree 3ABN left the impression there was so[illegible]ing else at play.

Posted by: beartrap Apr 20 2[illegible] [illegible] PM

There are technical difficulties as [illegible]yangel states, and there are [illegible] difficulties as 3ABN implies. Those satellites generally [illegible]ve a life of 10 to 15 years a[illegible]-3 [illegible]tarting to die. Unless Echostar can revive the m[illegible]ction on the satellite, Skya[illegible]s no space to put 3ABN into another channel w[illegible]ut booting another network. Unlike in[illegible] other networks, 3ABN was able to get into Skyan[illegible]thout paying because they [illegible] Skyangel systems. In the past few years 3ABN has s[illegible] very few Skyangel systems a[illegible]e on the proprietary AMC-4 system. Also, [illegible] Skyangel management h[illegible]by the "Catholic bashing," and the "Sunday is th[illegible]k of the beast" teachin[illegible]e received many complaints from their oth[illegible]ibers (Who constitute [illegible]lost of the households who subscribed thro[illegible]BN are on lifetime subsc[illegible] of the others pay monthly, so if the 3ABN sub[illegible]ers get mad and leave, it [illegible]tle financial impact on Skyangel.

In short, if they have to let one n[illegible]ork go due to lack of space, [illegible]ky[illegible]el has some financial and theological reasons [illegible]p 3ABN.

On the other hand, If Skyangel p[illegible]ently drops 3ABN, it w[illegible]e opportunity to seek carriage on Dishnetwork[illegible] network and Skyangel h[illegible]sive agreement that gives Skyangel first dibs on [illegible]ious networks. Should [illegible] a religious network, only then can Dishnetw[illegible]onsider it.

Posted by: princessdi Apr 20 2[illegible]6, 11:43 PM

Just a quick update. Someone I [illegible]ve who has Sky Angel says [illegible]ck on as of today.

Posted by: silsbee_bee Apr 21 2006, 05:12 AM

They are technically back on, but [illegible] signal is showing.

DB

Posted by: Zephyr Apr 21 200[illegible] [illegible]7:08 AM

As of 9:10 am today Fri Apr 21 3A[illegible] is still "off air" due to "tech[illegible]
Beartrap thanks for this summar[illegible]u surely know the busin[illegible]d what would happen when 3ABN/SDA church [illegible]don't deliver new subscriptio[illegible]
When I signed up some 8 years a[illegible]--lifetime sub...they did say [illegible]atellite (already opearting for some years)...so you [illegible]might have a point there..

Posted by: highergroud2003 [illegible] 21 2006, 08:50 AM

Don't worry. If they haven't been [illegible]cked off, I am sure they will [illegible]he end of May. .
Just hold tight. [illegible]

Posted by: Clay Apr 21 2006, [illegible] AM

> QUOTE(highergroud2003 @ Apr [illegible], 08:50 AM)
>
> Don't worry. If they haven't been [illegible]cked off, I am sure they will [illegible]e end of May. .
> Just hold tight. [illegible]

why is that?

Posted by: PaperTigers Apr 21 [illegible], 00:01 AM

This is an e-mail I just recieved f[illegible] friend

Date: Wed, 19 Apr 2006 14:22:1[illegible]

Subject: 3ABN NEWSFLASH - PL[illegible]E READ AND FORWARD TO [illegible]AN!

JUST RELEASED FOR ANNOUNCE[illegible]T BY 3ABN DIRECTOR OF BROADCA[illegible], MOSES PRIMO:

"After a satellite technical proble[illegible]as resolved, Sky Angel decid[illegible]e the 3ABN channel on their package of chan[illegible]. We encourage everyone [illegible]ow that you want 3ABN back on. They are no[illegible] answering the 888 numbe[illegible]

239-403-9130

and wait for the operator, you m ice your opinion or you owing address:

Sky Angel, PO Box 7609, Naples, 4101 or e-mail to: webmaster@skyang m

by Moses 4/19/06 "

Not sure exactly what's going on... ut it is rather interesting

---

Posted by: Zephyr Apr 21 200 0:14 AM

> QUOTE
> Sky Angel does not have a chann lable for 3ABN at this time. in prayer that this problem is resolved soon and channel may be restored TV channels.

PaperTigers, 3ABN does not have a such statement on their webs is genuine I guess we will soon see something o e website.

But based on the above quote which just took from the 3ABN ws s been booted. Obviously it is a technical "issue" b a technical "difficulty." ped! Period!! kicked...sacked...given the boot... out...

Posted by: beartrap Apr 21 2 0:50 AM

Several of us who had to deal wi l administration w g expected that 3ABN's days on Skyangel w ered, and that the n indling. However, until Skyangel says th is off for good, there will be back.

Posted by: Rand856 Apr 21 2 11:47 AM

> QUOTE(beartrap @ Apr 21 2006,
>
> Several of us who had to deal wi l administration w g expected that 3ABN's days on Skyangel were n t, and that the numbe ng. However, until Skyangel says that 3ABN is good, there is always a ck.

I just received this confirmation fr Angel that 3ABN will

"it's a technical problem that is bei ked on- the 3 channels (inc will be back"

Posted by: Fran Apr 21 2006,

> QUOTE(Rand856 @ Apr 21 2006,

I just received this confirmation fr[illegible] Sky Angel that 3ABN will [illegible]

"it's a technical problem that is b[illegible]orked on- the 3 channels [illegible] will be back"

I am no longer able to get 3ABN on [illegible] web. Anyone else have a pr[illegible], or i[illegible]st me? I can get everyone else.

Posted by: sister Apr 21 2006, [illegible]2 PM

QUOTE(Fran @ Apr 21 2006, 08:[illegible]

I am no longer able to get 3ABN o[illegible]e web. Anyone else have a [illegible], o[illegible] just me? I can get everyone else.

I just checked it out and had no dif[illegible]ity receiving it over the W[illegible].

Posted by: denisebyers Apr 2[illegible], 07:56 PM

My hubby had no problem gettin[illegible]er the web on his laptop, [illegible]ng to try again.

QUOTE(sister @ Apr 21 2006, 08:[illegible])

I just checked it out and had no d[illegible]ulty receiving it over the [illegible]

Posted by: Fran Apr 21 2006, [illegible] PM

QUOTE(denisebyers @ Apr 21 20[illegible] PM)

My hubby had no problem getting [illegible]ver the web on his laptop, but [illegible]did. I am going to try again.

I tried again. I clicked and clicked u[illegible] they let me slip through. I g[illegible]ce, but it has no graphics except the Title Bar with [illegible]'s pic. No other graphics [illegible]inks are working. Everytime I click a link, I am throw[illegible]. I clicked the Back key a[illegible]

Nope, nope, nope.

QUOTE(denisebyers @ Apr 21 2[illegible] PM)

> My hubby had no problem getting [illegible] over the web on his laptop, b[illegible] [illegible]ing to try again.

I tried again. I clicked and clicked u[illegible] they let me slip through. I go[illegible] Page, but it has no graphics except the Title Bar with D[illegible]y's pic. No other graphics [illegible] links are working. Everytime I click a link, I am throw[illegible]. I clicked the Back key a[illegible].

Nope, nope, nope.

Posted by: denisebyers Apr 21 [illegible]6, 08:19 PM

Yup, I am having a problem now [illegible]. I don't even go to the we[illegible] [illegible]y husband said it's probably due to all the traffic. [illegible]'s probably so many pe[illegible] as well.

> QUOTE(Fran @ Apr 21 2006, 10:[illegible]
>
> I tried again. I clicked and clicked [illegible] they let me slip through. I [illegible] Page, but it has no graphics except the Title Bar with [illegible]'s pic. No other graphics [illegible] No links are working. Everytime I click a link, I [illegible]thrown off. I clicked the [illegible] every link.
>
> Nope, nope, nope.
> I tried again. I clicked and clicked [illegible] they let me slip through. I [illegible] Page, but it has no graphics except the Title Bar with [illegible]y's pic. No other graphics [illegible] links are working. Everytime I click a link, I [illegible]thrown off. I clicked the [illegible] every link.
>
> Nope, nope, nope.

Posted by: Hersheys99 Apr 21 [illegible] 07:19 PM

> QUOTE
> (Fran @ Apr 21 2006, 08:48 PM) [illegible]
>
> I am no longer able to get 3ABN [illegible] web. Anyone else have [illegible]st me? I can get everyone else. dunno.gif

I can't get it either. It keeps sayi[illegible]ing but it has been [illegible]tes now & nothing is coming up.

Posted by: denisebyers Apr 2[illegible]6:25 PM

With me, when I type in www.3a[illegible] it doesn't even go the[illegible] [illegible]rch results for 3abn. Strange.

QUOTE(Hersheys99 @ Apr 21 200[illegible] [illegible]:19 PM)

I can't get it either. It keeps saying [illegible]ading but it has been lo[illegible] [illegible]utes now & nothing is coming up.

Posted by: Fran Apr 21 2006, [illegible]5 PM

QUOTE(denisebyers @ Apr 21 20[illegible] [illegible]M)

Yup, I am having a problem now [illegible] can't even go to the w[illegible] [illegible]y husband said it's probably due to all the traffic. [illegible] probably so many p[illegible] as well.

I was really persistant. I have click[illegible] for 35 minutes and finally g[illegible] [illegible]gramming. It is a re-run.

But, I did get in, finally!

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Apr [illegible] [illegible]:37 PM

It won't load with me either.... in[illegible] - I wonder why.....?

Posted by: calvin Apr 21 200[illegible] [illegible]:[illegible]0 PM

QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Apr 21 2[illegible] [illegible]7 PM)

It won't load with me either.... in[illegible] - I wonder why.....?

overload of their bandwidth. Not e[illegible] [illegible]nections. Everybody [illegible] [illegible]. Internet with the satellite gone.

Posted by: summertime Apr 21 [illegible], [illegible]9:06 PM

QUOTE(Fran @ Apr 21 2006, 09:[illegible]

I tried again. I clicked and clicke[illegible] [illegible]ney let me slip through. I g[illegible] [illegible]age, but it has no graphics except the Title Bar with [illegible] pic. No other graphics [illegible] links are working. Everytime I click a link, I [illegible] shown off. I clicked the [illegible] every link.

Nope, nope, nope.
I tried again. I clicked and clicked until they let me slip through. I [illegible] me [illegible], but it has no graphics except the Title Bar with [illegible] pic. No other graphics [illegible] links are working. Everytime I click a link, I a[illegible] shown off. I clicked the Ba[illegible] every link.

Nope, nope, nope.

live in the state of Missouri---all ev[illegible] I have been trying to get [illegible] can get the home page--barely, but none of the links [illegible] through. I have been [illegible] hour. We thought that maybe they were working on t[illegible] date, and I keep getting [illegible] ge is unavailable. Anybody gotten it yet? It is now 1[illegible] Day Night CST.

Posted by: princessdi Apr 21 2[illegible] 10:15 PM

Ok so i got on the website.....But [illegible] just about alll, I 'm with [illegible] overload.

Posted by: simplysaved Apr 24 2[illegible] 02:35 PM

It really is not a big deal...during [illegible] Thanksgiving/Christmas [illegible] late last year/early this year), Sky Angel [illegible] the Hallmark Chan[illegible] ues temporarily....it happens. They al[illegible] the "technical diffi[illegible] f I remember correctly, Hallmark also asked vi[illegible] to contact Sky An[illegible]

QUOTE(Zephyr @ Apr 19 2006, 07[illegible]

Sky Angel on the diosh Network [illegible] has booted 3ABN. M[illegible] ot this satellite service only because of 3ABN and [illegible] ant advertising by [illegible] Does anyopne know why 3ABN was [illegible] of SkyAngel?

Gere is 3ABN's statement on this :

..3ABN is currently listed on the w[illegible] ing a present [illegible] Angel package....

http://www.skyangel.com/Program[illegible].asp?IdS=0005F[illegible]- EAF5B20&x=&Reference=Channel[illegible]=37&t=Tv

Posted by: beartrap Apr 24 20[illegible] PM

Unless an official announcement [illegible] or skyangel comes out, [illegible] ly that 3ABN has been dropped from the Skya[illegible], we should assume [illegible] ck. There has been no real indication that I hav[illegible] anywhere that 3ABN is [illegible]

Posted by: Zephyr Apr 27 20[illegible]

What's the latest? Does anyone k[illegible]

Posted by: caribbean sda Apr [illegible], 03:09 PM

QUOTE(Clay @ Apr 21 2006, 11:[illegible]

why is that?

I received this email from 3ABN

3ABN has sent you the following m[illegible]

TEN COMMANDMENT WEEKEND U[illegible] In the event 3ABN hasn't [illegible] Sky Angel by May 5 & 6, Sky Angel has graciou[illegible] to air 3ABN on Channe[illegible] PM ET to Midnight on May 5th and from 9:0[illegible] to 9:00 PM ET on May [illegible]

Posted by: Panama_Pete Apr [illegible], 11:35 PM

A poster, MikeCTM2, at www.sat[illegible].us has posted an impor[illegible] option concerning the Hope Channel. Check out his pos[illegible]

http://www.satelliteguys.us/sh[illegible]

The post mentions that:

A technician, Jeff, at the Hope Ch[illegible] that the dual LNBF [illegible] the satellite dish that grabs the satellite signal [illegible]nces off the back of [illegible]s "in manufacture" and will be availab[illegible]

The dual LNBF can pick up two s[illegible] AMC4 and IA5.

The MikeCTM2 post also says:

"We got the system at Hope Ne[illegible]ause it was availab[illegible]ot can record programs while we are at work. [illegible] system is cheaper [illegible]grams for later viewing."

Hope Channel Telephone Numbe[illegible] Satelliteguys.us : (8[illegible]

Posted by: calvin Apr 29 200[illegible], [illegible] PM

Ireally want Hope TV to be more [illegible]. Will this put Hope on Sky [illegible] Network, or Direct TV? Just what does this m[illegible]

QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Apr 29 [illegible]

A poster, MikeCTM2, at www.sat[illegible]us has posted an impor[illegible]ncerning the Hope Channel. Check out his pos[illegible] http://www.satelliteguys.us/show[illegible]?p=551062#post[illegible]

The post mentions that:

A technician, Jeff, at the Hope Ch[illegible] said that the dual LNBF [illegible] the satellite dish that grabs the satellite signal tha[illegible] off the back of your sat[illegible] "in manufacture" and will be available soon.

The dual LNBF can pick up two satellites: AMC4 and IA5.

The MikeCTM2 post also says:

"We got the system at Hope Net[illegible] it was available [illegible] can record programs while we are at work. [illegible] system is cheaper b[illegible] programs for later viewing."

Hope Channel Telephone Number [illegible] Satelliteguys.us : ([illegible]

Posted by: Panama_Pete Apr [illegible], 01:14 AM

QUOTE(calvin @ Apr 29 2006, 1[illegible])

I really want Hope TV to be more [illegible] Will this put Hope on [illegible] network, or Direct TV? Just what does this m[illegible]

This is FTA - Free to Air television. N[illegible]ription needed to any [illegible]ems you mentioned above to get the free channels.

This means that if you have your sa[illegible] dish pointed at AMC-4, you [illegible] the "free to air stations" available on that satellite, [illegible] the new satellite dish system fromhttp://w[illegible].org/. You can rec[illegible]re away, as well.

However, up until now, many peo[illegible]ited to having their [illegible] to just one satellite, AMC-4

As I understand it, a dual LNBF sys[illegible]s you to get signals [illegible]es at once. This is because IA-5 is at 97 degrees w[illegible]fc, and AMC4 is at [illegible]ngitude, (relatively close to each other in th[illegible]

This means you can sit in your hou[illegible]watch all of the FTA chan[illegible] satellites with the newer system from http://www.[illegible].org/, without monkeyin[illegible]lite dish located up on the roof.

This type of system will give http:[illegible]org/ more avai[illegible] FTA viewers, generally, who normally watch th[illegible]dio channels on IA-[illegible] buy a system like this, they can also watch the c[illegible] AMC-4.

I found a Web page that has more [illegible], generally, about [illegible] ls, subject to change without notice (and other t[illegible]rors).

http://www.glorystar.tv/page/show[illegible]

Focus on the listings for the two sa[illegible] mentioned: AMC 4 and [illegible] as 5.

I think this is a really good option [illegible] viewers, since the Sky [illegible] satellite seems to be nearing the end of its useful [illegible]

Sign up for the newletter at Hope ([illegible] the upper left-hand c[illegible]).

http://www.hopetv.org/

Posted by: calvin May 1 2006, [illegible]

The longer 3abn stays off Sky An[illegible] more I am inclined to b[illegible] an technical problems. Time will tell. This has [illegible] hurting them [illegible] ate if you are not receiving the service.

Posted by: beartrap May 2 2[illegible] [illegible] AM

QUOTE(calvin @ May 1 2006, 10:[illegible]

The longer 3abn stays off Sky A[illegible] am inclined to [illegible] n technical problems. Time will tell. This ha[illegible] hurting them [illegible] te if you are not receiving the service.

A genuine concern. Viewers are fi[illegible] ir donations are b[illegible] lly seeing the programs, and liking what they se[illegible]

Posted by: Zephyr May 2 200[illegible] [illegible]

QUOTE(calvin @ May 1 2006, 09:[illegible]

The longer 3abn stays off Sky A[illegible] am inclined to [illegible] n technical problems. Time will tell. This ha[illegible] hurting them [illegible] te if you are not receiving the service.

It is clear to any clear thinking pers[illegible] the problem includes more t[illegible] technical issues. Considering the apparent lavish li[illegible] the Jim and Tann[illegible] expenses I agree it is hurting Danny... thanksfully the preaching of the C[illegible] in more direct [illegible] s...with people who are known in their communit[illegible] to whom they [illegible]
If 3ABN never came back I would [illegible] good programming [illegible] e a blessing not to have to put up with Danny's fo[illegible] all the world to s[illegible]

Posted by: denisebyers May 2 5 AM

QUOTE(Zephyr @ May 2 2006, 12.

It is clear to any clear thinking p hnical issues.
Considering the apparent lavish g expenses I agree it is hurting Danny... thanksfully the preaching of the ays...with people who are known in their c by those to whom If 3ABN never came back I wou good program be a blessing not to have to put up with Danny ess for all the word

My hubby and I sensed that when off the air. Sure, it ems, but it all boils down that God is the one wh ol. When Danny on 3ABN, and we seen that, my husband told m didn't know what was was not right in getting married again, something w pen. We thought may p giving donations, or Danny would have t tly after that, sky angel. I believe God is in control, and if h th air, he will , time will tell.....

Posted by: Zephyr May 2 20

QUOTE(beartrap @ May 2 2006,

A genuine concern. Viewers are y seeing the programs, and liking what they

Which makes it clear that 3ABN is Ministry!
If it is ministry it will continue to r it's just TV then is the party stops.

Posted by: denisebyers May 3 AM

QUOTE(Zephyr @ May 2 2006, 0

Which makes it clear that 3ABN
If it is ministry it will continue to it's just TV then is the party stops.

Now that is deep.....

Posted by: Clay May 2 2006,

QUOTE(Zephyr @ May 2 2006, 12

Which makes it clear that 3ABN is T not ministry!
If it is ministry it will continue to it's just TV then as party stops.

I have learned long ago that just b someone says "its my ake it so....

Posted by: Panama_Pete May 6, 10:16 PM

Did Danny and Brandy get the d n Sky Angel for Trinity ork? Sort of looks like it from today's annou rhaps, there is just all.

Without Linda Shelton, 3ABN seem sing its viewers hip. led eggs at 3ABN suspected that Linda Shelton the the leader one. Th on for granted.

It reminds me of when Dan Bloc d Bonanza quickly eled. Dan's popularity had escaped them an

Oh well, 3ABN's loss is Trinity B s gain. It would be 3ABN if Trinity Broadcasting were to hir tem. Nobody believes one call" nonsense anyway.

Best of luck to the Crouch fa

Sky Angel Adds Trin ticasting Net

5/25/2006 4:44:00 PM

http://www.multichannel.com/a 309.html?display

Trinity Broadcasting Ne launch on da -to-home satellite-television serv gel in June.

Dominion Video Satellit ed Sky Angel f -based and family-friendly pro , and TBN o commercial-free inspira grammin ple in a wide variety of denomi

"We are very pleased t been a lde merica's only Christian high-pov ent of administration Paul Cro

-30-

Posted by: sonshineonme M

QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ May 2

Did Danny and Brandy get the rk? Sort of looks like it from today's announ[illegible], there is just[illegible].

Without Linda Shelton, 3ABN see[illegible] d eggs at 3ABN suspected that Linda Shelt[illegible] for granted.

It reminds me of when Dan Block[illegible] ed. Dan's popularity had escaped them and [illegible]

Oh well, 3ABN's loss is Trinity Bro[illegible] Trinity Broadcasting were to hire Linda [illegible] believes that No[illegible] nonsense anyway.

Best of luck to the Crouch fa[illegible]

Sky Angel Adds Trin[illegible]

Well put Panama_Pete! Is it offic[illegible]

Posted by: Panama_Pete May [illegible]

Hello Sonshineonme,

Well, we don't know if the 3AB[illegible] hannel available and 3ABN, apparently, [illegible] that's the way it should be.

Pete

Posted by: NormF May 25 20[illegible]

On the other hand, a quick check [illegible] OT, 5-26-06), still shows 3ABN at channel 971[illegible] t yet delisted nonetheless. The announcement [illegible] o wait for the "day shift" (ala June) to come o[illegible] lays out here.
Let's see what becomes of this [illegible]

Regards,
Norm

Posted by: Nuggie May 26 20[illegible]

QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ May 25 [illegible])

Did Danny and Brandy get the d[illegible] k? Sort of looks like it from today's annou[illegible]

Without Linda Shelton, 3ABN se[illegible] d eggs at 3ABN suspected that Linda Shel[illegible] for granted.

It reminds me of when Dan Block Bonanza quickly led. Dan's popularity had escaped them and it would be business

Oh well, 3ABN's loss is Trinity Br 3ABN if Trinity Broadcasting were to hire Linda believes that nonsense anyway.

Best of luck to the Crouch fa

Sky Angel Adds Trin

5/25/2006 4:44:00 PM

http://www.multichannel.com/ar

Trinity Broadcasting Net launch on -home satellite-television serv in June.

Dominion Video Satellite and Sky Angel -based and family-friendly program offers 24 ercial-free inspirational programm cty of denominations.

"We are very pleased th nerica's only Christian high-pow nt of administration Paul Cro

-30-

As a former employee of Sky Ang ally be able to add TBN to their line-up...they've ent on air...and if Sky Angel had to choo 3ABN, I don a moment's hesitation about taking 3ABN off

Posted by: sonshineonme Ma

QUOTE(Nuggie @ May 26 2006,

As a former employee of Sky An you that it is quite inally be able to add TBN to their line-up...they el went on air...and if Sky Angel had to ch a moment's hesitation about taking 3ABN o went to sky angels site, did a s arch box, ings, took the irst one, read the letter "explain nd they are possibly following God's will for t other things hat had 3abn in the search I did,

Posted by: Panama_Pete Ma

QUOTE(Nuggie @ May 26 2006,

As a former employee of Sky Ang [illegible] you that it is quite [illegible] nally be able to add TBN to their line-up...they' [illegible] TBN almost [illegible] el went on air...and if Sky Angel had to cho [illegible] a moment's hesitation about taking 3ABN o [illegible]

Maybe it was a 3ABN-style:

SPIRITUAL DELI

Live by the sword.....

Posted by: Panama_Pete May [illegible]

QUOTE(sonshineonme @ May 2 [illegible]

I went to sky angels site, did a s [illegible] in the search b [illegible] thigns, took the first one, read the letter "exp [illegible] ots happened....it looks li [illegible] right, and they are possibly following God's will [illegible] anyone is interested [illegible] were 4 other things that had 3abn in the sea [illegible] I haven't read them [illegible]

True, they are most likely followin [illegible] them.

I found the spot on the Sky Angel [illegible]:

"Unfortunately, despite our best [illegible] unable to negot [illegible] s and are now prohibited from reinstating th [illegible] hat [illegible] ed Thi [illegible] ng, Golden Eagle Broadcasting and SPIRIT. "

It appears a door may have been [illegible] open.

Posted by: caribbean sda May

QUOTE(sonshineonme @ May 2

I went to sky angels site, did a s ABN in the search box. thigns, took the first one, read the letter "ex happend....it looks right, and they are possibly following God's will someone is interested, were 4 other things that had 3abn in the sea I have not read thos

Important news about the rec

May 25, 2006
As you may already be aware, on Friday, we expe s of programming on 10 of our 33 ch Communica DISH Network satellite service, communicated was due to a EchoStar III satellite that we are currently sh her a technical e with the company. We were successful in EchoStar to get back on the air fairly quickly. Regrettably, th reinstated, ure evolved into contractual issues with Echo ement, we cannot publicly discuss. Unfortu gotiate through the issues and are now prohibited ting the channels gels Broadcasting, Golden Eagle Broa SPT II. Now that th rning our negotiations with EchoStar and it will not be ab ree channels at this time, I wanted you to unde

I deeply regret the inconvenience ption in progra sed you. As many of you know, we've faced a tar over the past few years; the Lord has gu 8) and we will continue to trust in Him for Presently we are exploring an o sometime in the future. We are happy to be channel and hope to work with 3ABN to air s kend" special that we carried in May on our sp safe TV which airs several of the same progra tionally, in early June, we are trading the S ting Network (TBN) feed on Channel 9709. TB with the same prog den Eagle and many others that were not previ Angel. Also, that aired on Golden Eagle that are airing on channels as well, erts' "Hour of Healing" on our Angel One and y offers more contemporary Christian music for ways to add more Christian music in riber to our monthly printed TV guide, "Sky ogram guide at www.skyguide.org or by click

I ask for your prayers as we co father,
Robert Johnson, Sr., for this pr is to build and operate a global direct bro ost effective means of assuring that the Gos the most unreachable regions of the worl ighborhood of $150 million dollars to achiev however, one that our studies have shown is g support of Christians here in America subs tions with a satellite manufacturer for some be helpful in raising the necessary funds. sion, but

I'm constantly reminded that wi ... always prevails. As we grow, it is my p ... t will enable Sky Angel to support various ot ... purpose: to share the life-changing message ...

Yes, Sky Angel is a television se ... a wonderful array of TV and radio channels t ... tique work of ministry whose impact for the Ki ... count on your support as we continue to ... exciting journey.

In His service,

Rob Johnson
CEO

P.S. Please understand that our ... to provide.

http://www.skyangel.com/Abou ...
2C68490&Reference=outage&q

Posted by: beanchild May 2

QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ May 2

Maybe it was a 3ABN-style:

SPIRITUAL DEL

Live by the sword.....

rofl

Posted by: seeshell May 2

Is it possible this turn of event ... make of being in motion?

Posted by: beartrap May 2

QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ May 2

Maybe it was a 3ABN-style:

SPIRITUAL DEL

Live by the sword.....

rofl rofl

Posted by: princessdi May 2

LOL!!! See Pete, you are wrong th

QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ May 26

Maybe it was a 3ABN-style:

SPIRITUAL DELI

Live by the sword.....

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Ma

QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ May 2

Maybe it was a 3ABN-style:

SPIRITUAL DELI

Live by the sword.....

QUOTE(princessdi @ May 26 2

LOL!!! See Pete, you are wrong

Gurl - dat's family right dere.....

rofl

Posted by: meadbd Jun 2 2

Just received this in an email fr

==========
Update regarding 3ABN, Golden [illegible] RIT

Sky Angel subscribers can expec[illegible] a mail later this mon[illegible] a letter with an update regardi[illegible] Broadcasting Ne[illegible]
Golden Eagle Broadcasting and [illegible]on.
==========

Posted by: summertime Jun 2 20[illegible] 6 AM

QUOTE(meadbd @ Jun 2 2006,

Just received this in an email fr[illegible]
==========
Update regarding 3ABN, Gold[illegible]

Sky Angel subscribers can expe[illegible] a mail later this mo[illegible] a letter with an update regarding [illegible] Broadcasting Net[illegible]
Golden Eagle Broadcasting and [illegible]
==========

THis Morning-June3---I searched [illegible] found the follow[illegible] 1 at 8:00 AM 3ABN Presents will be shown o[illegible] June 1[illegible] Kids Time [illegible] 02 at 2:00PM on June 5-9 and June 12-16. T[illegible] will also be shown o[illegible] June 6 and on June 13. In case anyone wants [illegible] what they have s[illegible]

Posted by: Hersheys99 Jun [illegible]

This is off of 3ABN's website. I[illegible] why are they off Sky [illegible] like they are no longer on in India via cabl[illegible] network.

QUOTE

Sky Angel Update

NOTICE TO VIEWERS THAT W[illegible]

Since April 14th, 2006, the 3A[illegible] Sky Angel should [illegible] to watch 3ABN channel on their system[illegible] a sudden [illegible] of the satellite EchoStar III. This sate[illegible] broadcasts 10 of [illegible] Sky Angel offers. A few days later, Sky A[illegible] only [illegible] Unfortunately for us, they ch[illegible] going to be re-instated on the satellite ba[illegible] Since then, Sk[illegible] king with EchoStar to try to get the othe[illegible] back on the sa[illegible] ay 26, we received the final word from S[illegible] negotiations wi[illegible] shed without getting the satellite space for [illegible] Therefore, [illegible] 3ABN will not be back on the Sky Angel S[illegible] for this inconvenience to our Sky Ang[illegible] purchased, is still valid and you can contin[illegible] you want to continue watching 3ABN, the [illegible] this time [illegible] m that is sold for $199.00. If you want to p[illegible]

Cable & Dish Network Notice

NOTICE TO VIEWERS THAT WE [illegible] BN IN INDIA [illegible] OR DISH NETWORK, ONLY

3ABN has been broadcasting for [illegible] covering the coun[illegible] m-3 satellite. Additionally, last year we made [illegible] to carry our channel on their system to all o[illegible] hat carry 3ABN on their systems. Unfortunately, [illegible] of Information & [illegible] ry of India mandated that all broadcaster[illegible] quire a broadca[illegible] ay could broadcast any material in India [illegible] w in May 25, 2[illegible] ped broadcasting 3ABN on the Dish [illegible] able to secure the license yet. The Governme[illegible] license and 3ABN is in the process of fulfilli[illegible] and th[illegible] . We don't have a date as to when we will [illegible] but we ap[illegible] once to the viewers in India, which is beyo[illegible] our prayers that we can resume our broad[illegible]

Posted by: Fran Jun 5 2006, [illegible]

Gregory Matthrews posted th[illegible]

QUOTE

The following is taken directly [illegible]

****

Cable & Dish Network Notice
NOTICE TO VIEWERS THAT WE [illegible] BN IN INDIA VIA [illegible] OR DISH NETWORK, ONLY

3ABN has been broadcasting fo[illegible] covering the [illegible] m-3 satellite. Additionally, last year we mad[illegible] carry our channel on their system to all [illegible] carry 3ABN on their systems. Unfortunatel[illegible] of India mandated that all broadcaster[illegible] could broadcast any material in India [illegible] ed broadcasting 3ABN on the Dis[illegible] le to secure the license yet. The Governme[illegible] license and 3ABN is in the process of fulfil[illegible] . We don't have a date as to when we will [illegible] ence to the viewers in India, which is beyo[illegible] our prayers that we can resume our broad[illegible]

This Indian Government impo[illegible] eter C Band satellite dish and receive 3AB[illegible] ing your satellite receiver to the 3ABN [illegible]

3ABN on Thaicom-3

C Band
Position: 78.5° East
Transponder: 6G Global Beam

Frequency: 3,640 MHz
Polarity: Horizontal
Symbol rate: 28,066 Msym/s
F.E.C.: 3/4

****

As you will note, 3-ABN hopes b [illegible] dia again.

Powered by In [illegible]
© Invision [illegible]

224

Printable Version

Click here to view this topic in its

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ Clairfy

Posted by: Observer May 18 2

I note that all of the 3-ABN topi

Could (Would) you share with us

Thank you,

Posted by: Clay May 18 20

Calvin said.....

> QUOTE
> We are all going to take a break for awhile until staff decide what is the best course of action this subject.

so they are closed because we are from the , I closed all those threads that Calvin did not

Posted by: 4reneyonly May 1

So what happened to reverse th continue the discussions?

Posted by: simplysaved May

Apparently, management felt the them...While I am not man , I can tell you that you can PM Calvin if you

> QUOTE(4reneyonly @ May 18
> So what happened to reverse th continue the discussions?

Posted by: Johann May 18 2

> QUOTE(4reneyonly @ May 18

So what happened to reverse the [illegible] that was made [illegible] to continue the discussions?

I agree that a breather was not o[illegible] Some thought we [illegible] in we did.

Posted by: Clay May 18 2006, [illegible]

QUOTE(4reneyonly @ May 18 20[illegible]

So what happened to reverse th[illegible] that was made [illegible] to continue the discussions?

Calvin said:

QUOTE

The practices of 3ABN merit di[illegible] They are such a pa[illegible] Adventist church. But when you make alle[illegible] and Danny Shelton of [illegible] stations, etc that borders on slander. I have [illegible] problem with that and [illegible] I am put myself and the management o[illegible] (this co[illegible] going to take a break from this topic fo[illegible] and the management [illegible] is the best course of action to take concer[illegible]

Posted by: 4reneyonly May 1[illegible]

Once again, I ask does BSDA h[illegible] disclaimers in plac[illegible] of simply not liking the flow of the conv[illegible] and I do feel are not what people SHOULD [illegible] but a[illegible] is another issue. I understand that each s[illegible] at you do. But, the issue is that there m[illegible] that are bound to come up again and a[illegible] you go. But, it must be decided.

Posted by: Clay May 18 2006, [illegible]

QUOTE(4reneyonly @ May 18 2[illegible]

Once again, I ask does BSDA [illegible] simply not liking the flow of the convo? I [illegible] do feel are not what people SHOULD be s[illegible] other issue. I understand that each site h[illegible] But, the issue is that there must be s[illegible] to come up again and again. Good luck [illegible] must be decided.

In the forum guidelines these sta found, please not ghted in bold print:

QUOTE

Posts may be edited for cont at the sole di moderators/administrators

QUOTE

By becoming a member of this f that are knowingly false and/or defamat abusive, vulgar, obscene, profane, invasive of a person's p by-orientated, b violate of any laws. Above all, you will co in a manner that s, dignity and privacy of others. We res to delete any m ban a screen name, IP address, d or email address ed is deserved.

Posted by: Ephphatha May

I'm kinda glad that you did. I h sides on the issue seem like anything was being resolved o situation being discussed. I dunno, I th with no real end in site that had absolutely about the president when you know

---

Posted by: Clay May 18 200

QUOTE(Ephphatha @ May 18 2

I'm kinda glad that you did. I h sides on the issue seem like anything was being resolved o situation being discussed. I dunno, I th no real end in site that had absolutely bout the president when you know full thank you Eph for sharing your issue....

Posted by: 4reneyonly May

QUOTE(Clay @ May 18 2006, 0

In the forum guidelines these ted in bold print:

Never said that there was any q [illegible] makes the final d [illegible] it is and isn't said. The question was do you h [illegible] in place th [illegible] in. from any slanderous acts.

And as to who or who did not find [illegible] and continued to read them says so [illegible] at people w [illegible]

My concern is not the topic, but [illegible]

"The sooner we all learn to make [illegible] been disappr [illegible] and co [illegible] tter off society will be... Censorship can [illegible] and it is [illegible] evil [illegible] le Hicks

---

Posted by: PrincessDrRe M [illegible]

Just give it time.....

Either the thread will reopen... [illegible] been discussed comes out as truth [illegible]

Jes let it go....

Posted by: sister May 18 2 [illegible]

QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ May 1 [illegible]

Just give it time.....

Either the thread will reopen... [illegible] been discussed comes out as truth [illegible]

Jes let it go....

Hey, PrincessDrRe, that is exce [illegible]

Posted by: PrincessDrRe M [illegible]

QUOTE(sister @ May 18 2006, [illegible]

Hey, PrincessDrRe, that is exce [illegible]

E'ry now and den I do a lil' sum [illegible]

Posted by: 4reneyonly May 1

QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ May 1

Just give it time.....

Either the thread will reopen...o [illegible] "[illegible]orted" when at l[illegible] [illegible]as been discussed comes out as truth v[illegible] [illegible]ber Robert [illegible]

Jes let it go....

The revolution will not be televis[illegible]

The past 2 weeks in the 8 forum[illegible] [illegible], 001 readings...So folks, let it go!

"Censorship in any form, represe[illegible] [illegible]t is the judgm[illegible] [illegible] passage of time provides the best perspecti[illegible] [illegible] the wheat from th[illegible]

Posted by: gracetoyou May 1

Maybe the administrators will [illegible] [illegible] as to what is and is not acceptable on this t[illegible] [illegible] into the hands of her enemies by maki[illegible] [illegible] consider to be bizarre or nutty, even thou[illegible]

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Ma

QUOTE(4reneyonly @ May 18

The revolution will not be telev[illegible]

The past 2 weeks in the 8 forum[illegible] [illegible] readings...So folks, let it go!

The fall of anyone "great" is tel[illegible]

Jimmy Swaggert - Whatever Ch[illegible]
Gary Hart - Political
Robert Folkenberg - SDA Churc[illegible]
Henry Lyons - Baptist Church

It might not be the most popular

QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ May 18

Just give it time.....

Either the thread will reopen...or discussed comes out as truth been

Posted by: Observer May 18

QUOTE(4reneyonly @ May 18 2

Never said that there was any isn't said. The question was do from any slanderous acts.

hat is and ite/admin.

And as to who or who did not continued to read them says so

and

My concern is not the topic, bu

"The sooner we all learn to ma society will be... Censorship c better off

Hicks

Posted by: inga May 18 20

QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ May 1

The fall of anyone "great" is t

Well, then Danny won't make ne probably "great" in his own eyes though he's

QUOTE

It might not be the most popu

Otoh, it will probably make new

In the meantime, this board se ministry of the endtime, with D not God's

I trust that folks got the idea tha [illegible] Hope TV [illegible] [illegible]t as much damage as possible.

Unfortunately, it is altogether like[illegible] [illegible] conscience will stop at nothing if they think they [illegible] with it. So, I [illegible] folks whose identities are known to Danny wi[illegible] [illegible]ed and re[illegible] [illegible] for their safety would be a good thing too.

Clay is right in that it is best not [illegible] [illegible]el fact. Posting here can be done more [illegible] [illegible] viewer, s[illegible] [illegible]ing posts here are real-life individuals whose id[illegible] [illegible] and can easily [illegible] [illegible]e scenes. I suspect they would readily give [illegible] [illegible] phone nu[illegible] [illegible]tors. Others would, understandably, be more [illegible]

Inga

Posted by: Observer May 1[illegible]

"The question was do you hav[illegible] [illegible] from any slanderous acts.

Those who run this forum do [illegible] [illegible] fact is that there is no legal disclaim[illegible] [illegible] from a lawsuit.

I hope all of the leaders of this [illegible] general liability in[illegible] [illegible]ovides protections, in certain cases, f[illegible] [illegible] such a price, [illegible] of the leadership is paid in any way fo[illegible] [illegible]re. There are [illegible] [illegible] this issue also.

It would be well for all of you [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]0.00!

Posted by: PaperTigers May [illegible]

I agree Inga, I think some of [illegible]

Posted by: beartrap May 1[illegible]

QUOTE(PaperTigers @ May 1[illegible]

I agree Inga, I think some of us [illegible]

Yes Tiger, but how do we know [illegible] [illegible]pose of entering adult establishments? [illegible] [illegible] runs a wedding chapel. Ah, you could [illegible]

Posted by: PaperTigers Ma[illegible]

QUOTE(beartrap @ May 18 20[illegible]

> Yes Tiger, but how do we know > entering adult establishments?
> wedding chapel. Ah, you could rpose of who runs a well i doubt i could qualify as a (

HUNDREDS of tapes in Master C that's about all the proof I can that qualify??

picture and s... would

Posted by: calvin May 18 2

When we close threads here t
You have received all the clar private by email or PM. I mak few days with some guideline first, then the rest of you.

bn thread.
me in ned in a private

Give Danny Shelton and 3AB you banned.

n get

Powered by I
© Invision

Printable Version of Topic

225

Click here to view this topic in its [illegible] format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ Danny [illegible] Interview on Club [illegible]

Posted by: lurker Nov 17 200[illegible] [illegible] AM

If anyone is still interested, Danny [illegible] ing to be open to questions on Club [illegible] enlist November 26th. I sure would like to see the [illegible] ed from 3ABN's reputation even if it means somebody saying "I could have been wrong." [illegible] ll have to do this sometimes. And if somebody isn't willing to share the proof, I wish this [illegible] would quit making accusations.

Posted by: awesumtenor Nov [illegible] 1:26 PM

QUOTE(lurker @ Nov 17 2004, [illegible]

If anyone is still interested, Dann [illegible] be open to questions on Club [illegible] November 26th. I sure would like to see th [illegible] from 3ABN's reputation [illegible] ns somebody saying "I could have been wro [illegible] ve to do this sometimes. And if somebody isn't willing to share the proof, I wish this p [illegible] quit making accus [illegible]

What stain are you referring to? [illegible] the perception that [illegible] this situation wrong from the beginning and that there [illegible] ir decision-making? I [illegible] y make enough oxyclean to get that one out...

In His service,
Kevin Josey

Posted by: lurker Nov 17 20[illegible]

QUOTE(awesumtenor @ Nov 17 [illegible])

What stain are you referring to? [illegible] the perception th [illegible] situation wrong from the beginning and [illegible] ink they make enough oxyclean to get th [illegible]

In His service,
Kevin Josey

Didn't Jesus say that His followers [illegible] tan is the accuser of the brethren. It isn't o [illegible] to justify our own actions. The stain I referred [illegible] 3ABN is show [illegible] preaching love but where is the forgiveness and [illegible] ide the family [illegible] Danny and Linda (someone doesn't have to [illegible] us for us [illegible] them, we just have to feel that they did). [illegible] but it doesn't seem to be happening. And I me [illegible] I don't know [illegible] I don't know who said what. Maybe each one of mistakes. They bo ities and no one likes to be dictated to. No one ely is one pe so t and the other totally wrong. But It hurts me to t gations not wo nt to believe either one's version of what happ f. th ths one making the accusations was sure d that the, have historically led to false imprisonm the fiance not and reputations, to discouragement w cause of t lost.

Posted by: kountzer Nov 18

QUOTE(lurker @ Nov 18 2004, 0

Didn't Jesus say that His follow n is the accuser of the brethren. It isn't justify our own actions. The stain I ref ching love but where is the forgivene Danny and Linda (someone doesn't ha d them, we just have to feel that they d) but it doesn't seem to be happening. A ness t to who. I don't know who said what. Mayb ng personalities and no one likes t one likes t person totally right and the other totall t work things out. I don't want to believe eithe of what happen ths about people even when the one maki sure they were telling the truth have historicall people, to ruined lives and reputations, to to some being lost.

Posted by: calvin Nov 18 20

Haven't we and all the other A n story dead horse enough?

Posted by: awesumtenor No

QUOTE(lurker @ Nov 17 2004, 1

Didn't Jesus say that His follow w n is the accuser of the brethren. It isn't justify our own actions. The stain I ref eaching love but where is the forgivene n Danny and Linda (someone doesn't ha d them,
we just have to feel that they d but it doesn't seem to be happening. who. I don't know who said what. May personalities and no one likes t son totally right and the other totally out. I don't want to believe eithe people even when the one makin telling the truth have historically ruined lives and reputations, to d being lost.

work things is about they were ple, to to some

There is a big difference between c people have noted the facts; some differently... but there has been no

and done

As for whose 'version' to believe...I certain legally binding accessions, she has not been unfaithful to her SABN in this...

's...due to ing that actions of

In His service,
Kevin Josey

Posted by: Jvat Nov 18 2004,

Ha, Calvin, there are apparently

Posted by: Panama_Pete Nov

QUOTE(Jvat @ Nov 18 2004, 03:4

Ha, Calvin, there are apparently was watching this horse on Thurs

This creature is alive and well and Stakes while wearing horse blinder

Belmont

Posted by: LadyTenor Nov 20

QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Nov 19

I was watching this horse on Thu

This creature is alive and well an Belmont Stakes while wearing h

Well, I must be the only one who reading between the lines, I can s

I don't want anyone discussing m

Posted by: ginge Nov 23 200

Just came from perusing the Cl lined up for Danny.

How careful they are being. In f
"Anything rude will not be allow Now that is confusing to me as t
when Linda was on there.

People were careful how they w
the questions asked her compa being allowed to ask him is all s How quick some humans are to and kissing you know what.

Well sorry, I still feel that what
3ABN.

I sure won't be allowed on the I
However, there are a few days
Adventist decade happens. Ma
Hope so!

Posted by: kountzer Nov 24

QUOTE(LadyTenor @ Nov 20 20

Well, I must be the only one w
From reading between the line

I don't want anyone discussing

3ABN. From ready ked Danny.

mind ck out hat is turnabout long on 3ABN.

Agreed.

DB

Posted by: dmizzle06 Nov 26

QUOTE(LadyTenor @ Nov 20 20

Well, I must be the only one wh
From reading between the lines,

I don't want anyone discussing

Contrary to popular belief, it is n would have to watch 3ABN in or

3ABN.

one

Posted by: Johann May 10

QUOTE(dmizzle06 @ Nov 27 20

Contrary to popular belief, it is n would have to watch 3ABN in or pose one

I wonder if this is still the case?

Posted by: Clay May 18 200

closed for the moment....

Powered by Inv
© Invision

226

Printable Version [illegible]

Click here to view this topic in its [illegible] mat

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ 3abn P[illegible] influence?

Posted by: claborn Aug 23 200[illegible], [illegible] AM

Found this while browsing for th[illegible] ght be interested.... I fou[illegible] ting because it speaks to not the ministry per s[illegible] but how those in power at [illegible] influence the church at large..... with humans, [illegible] rupts.....

Nomination Process of NAD Presi[illegible] "Less Than Clean"
What was whispered

It appears that some individuals [illegible] to exercise influ[illegible] as at the General Conference Session in [illegible]

Seven different sources (all nom[illegible] mittee members) tol[illegible] AT's [illegible] ymous source that Jan Paulsen told the NAD no[illegible] mittee members when th[illegible] in caucus that if they nominated Chuck Sandefu[illegible] ent, a prominent [illegible] Adventist Laymen's Services and Industri[illegible] and present incriminating information regar[illegible] of the Adv[illegible] with Catholic hospitals.

According to AT's source, three [illegible] mittee members i[illegible] en also implied "problems" of a similar [illegible] Hostert. This [illegible] ing committee members feel that Pa[illegible] no choice but to [illegible] aulsen seemed to recommend, Don Sch[illegible] ness, it appears th[illegible] re to give Schneider a majority in any cas[illegible]

Four individuals confirmed with [illegible] Phil Follett, the ga[illegible] t of the GC who provided administrative ov[illegible] re-elected because ASI and 3ABN leaders [illegible] to make [illegible]

Paulsen met with each of the V[illegible] tentions. Both Follett and Kloosterhuis to[illegible] be happy to step aside if he wished since [illegible] for retirement. [illegible] med of any change as early as possible so t[illegible] prepare their fu[illegible] r the future.

Apparently, Follett and Klooster[illegible] informed of any [illegible] prior to the nominating committee rep[illegible] e time frame for what appears to be a [illegible] on the pa[illegible] sl with that of the time frame when convers[illegible] NAD president [illegible]

Three sources told AT's source [illegible] 3ABN over the past several years. Th[illegible] to use programs which the denominat[illegible] neral guidelines under which those p[illegible]

According the AT's sources, 3A[illegible] the editorials and production decisi[illegible] mple, when Robert Folkenberg was G[illegible] h 3ABN in which 3ABN would be given dir[illegible] denominational TV ministries. 3[illegible] nt to release Faith for Today nor pro[illegible] s' retirement. Only It Is Written was 3ABN also wanted dominance of America. AT's sources suspect th kind. Two of them described Paul but that he was feeling great pre

The GC officers used the prov delegates to be appointed by 3ABN, and others to come to selected as delegates by the

Posted by: Denny Aug 23 20

If tis true, the leaders at GC hav another spirit has already done

I think tis time after 100 plus y

Posted by: wesleysimpson A

QUOTE (claborn1960

Found this while browsing for speaks to not the ministry per the church at large..... with hu

Nomination Process of NAD P
What was whispered

It appears that some individua
General Conference Session in Seven different sources (all n that Jan Paulsen told the NAD

if they nominated Chuck Sand
Laymen's Services and Indust incriminating information rega
Catholic hospitals.

According to AT's source, thre implied "problems" of a simila committee members feel that seemed to recommend, Don S give Schneider a majority in a

Four individuals confirmed wit
GC who provided administrati elected because ASI and 3AB

Paulsen met with each of the intentions. Both Follett and K would be happy to step aside be informed of any change as make plans for the future.

Apparently, Follett and Kloost
the nominating committee re frame for what appears to be because it influence es at the s source s that ntist and present with n also ng lsen re to

of the not re-their ve but ked to and prior to e time with that of the time frame when co

Three sources told AT's source t h 3ABN over the past several years. Th l to use programs which the denomina general guidelines under which those p

According the AT's sources, 3A t the editorials and production decisi xample, when Robert Folkenberg was G th 3ABN in which 3ABN would be given m denominational TV ministries. want to release Faith for Today nor pro fe ooks' retirement. Only It Is Written w

3ABN also wanted dominance o orth America. AT's sources suspect ues of this kind. Two of them describ major donors but that he was feelin

The GC officers used the p large delegates to be appointed sident of 3ABN, and others to come ere not selected as delegates by t

what is AT? I see reference to

Posted by: claborn Aug 23 2

AT is Adventist Today... they u o a google and you will find them...

Posted by: tarduke Aug 23 2

It is important to check the sou to attach to posts like these.

Just because you see somethin passes some of the Bible's simple test ices some very interesting issues, i

Did this come from Adventist T

Posted by: claborn Aug 23 2

Trevor... as much as I am tem s the web site:
http://www.atoday.com/

Go there, click search, type in 3 hing
AToday publishes, I cannot no

Posted by: tarduke Aug 23 2

Thanks Steve.

Posted by: statrei Sep 11 20

QUOTE (denny26uk

> If tis true, the leaders at GC h ... s whilst another spirit has already don

I don't know, but what makes

Posted by: pmorris68 Sep 1

Now why am I not surprised by Posted by: mrsljosey Sep 1

My questions are - What can w

Do we have any true represent

Who can we trust to make soun ... rge?

Is the deck stacked?

Does this process need to be r

Posted by: Jvat Sep 13 200

Interesting question, Mrs Josey ... legates representing countries should ... d not simply on the population of the ... ll get to be a greater focus at such GC ... sful they are at reaching people for the L ... gard.

Just some thoughts which I had ... , (who did not seem to udnerstand m ... ghts hinted at, in his thought provok

---

Posted by: onamission Sep

QUOTE (Jvat @ Se

> Interesting question, Mrs Jo ... delegates representing coun ... evangelism and not simply o ... ion of the church will get to be a g ... share how successful they a ... ed > discussions in that regard.

>
> Just some thoughts which I h[illegible] [illegible]re,
> (who did not seem to udners[illegible] [illegible]ge > Knights hinted at, in his tho[illegible]

I like your point, Jvat. Much m[illegible] [illegible] people higher up don't see it htat way.

Posted by: statrei Sep 14 2[illegible]

QUOTE (Jvat @ Sep [illegible] [illegible]5 AM)

> I have been of the opinion [illegible] [illegible]ould be based on how that count[illegible] [illegible]n of these countries.

That would be more problem[illegible] [illegible] engagement in evangelism?

Posted by: Jvat Sep 14 200[illegible]

How did we know that the earl[illegible] [illegible]ed daily such as should be saved to th[illegible]

Similarly, how do we know th[illegible] [illegible] Lord adds to the number of believ[illegible] [illegible] should also show evidence that these [illegible]king of bread and in prayers. In other [illegible] [illegible] these new believers. Seems easy enou[illegible] [illegible]d to focus more on our mission, th[illegible] [illegible] women, of course.

Do you also know Darius, that [illegible] [illegible]vangelism expoitation scheme of things, [illegible] [illegible] do it according to how much of the [illegible] [illegible] of things. But they can find out [illegible] [illegible] to update the list very regularly. [illegible] which I am happy to see that Onami[illegible]

And my country St. Lucia wa[illegible] [illegible]uld be changed by now.

Posted by: statrei Sep 14 2[illegible]

Anita, I think your post aptly [illegible] [illegible]ms than it could solve. I don't n[illegible]

Posted by: Jvat Sep 14 20[illegible]

Darius, we can at least try b[illegible] [illegible] doing evangellically speaking. The q

That would at least be a step i

Posted by: statrei Sep 14 2

Anita, I can assure you that if a would not be the basis for it. It is on er to use it for political purposes.

Posted by: Jvat Sep 14 20

And what about using a list s

Posted by: statrei Sep 14 2

How would you define "evang

Posted by: Jvat Sep 15 20

What about an answer Darius, nd seeing how well countries ha nd was once 100 percent SDA b

It would be a starting point, n is made in that area that much ch as why did Pitcairn Island go th nces?

Don't you know that it is best

Powered by I
© Invisic

IPB

Board Rules - Please Read

Gallery Arcade Help Search Members Calendar

Welcome Guest (Log In | Register)

Pickle Joy

BlackSDA > General Fellowship > 3ABN

Latest Shouts In The Shoutbox -- View The Shoutbox

Collapse

LeePaDee -- All afternoon... Hey
Clay -- hey Den
Denny -- afternoon all.
leehaw -- Nite Nite Sis! hug.gif Seraphim7 -- Good nite fam princessdi -- ahhh
MsHoly1 -- The one for the Princess!
MsHoly1 -- You must ask?
princessdi -- Which Concert?
princessdi -- Cheryl!!!

Skin Default | Shout | Clear | Smilies | BBCodes

Refresh

19 Pages 1 2 3 > »

Start new

3ABN

Forum Options

	Topic Title	Replies	Topic Starter	Views	Last Action
	Pinned: Protect Your Identity 1 2	16	calvin	781	Yesterday, 02:39 AM Last post by: Whitey
	Pinned: The Unauthorized 3abn History Threads all 10 chapters linked here...	1	Clay	3,482	9th September 2006 - 06:59 PM Last post by: calvin
	Pinned: Johann Thorvaldsson's Letter Message What happened at 3ABN?	0	calvin	1,470	13th August 2006 - 08:44 PM Last post by: calvin
	Pinned: Dr. Abrahamsen And Dr Thompson Letters	0	icedragon	4,203	27th July 2006 - 01:25 PM Last post by: icedragon

Forum Topics

	Poll: The 3abn Massachusetts Lawsuit Poll 1 2 3 » 6	88	Panama_Pete	2,494	Today, 06:27 AM Last post by: Ephphatha
	3abn Confirms Real Estate Transaction 1 2 3 » 14 & Hints of Piano Sale Besides	203	Pickle	6,384	Today, 06:04 AM Last post by: Clay
	3-abn & Af Merger 1 2 3 » 6 Is it on hold?	86	Observer	3,831	Yesterday, 01:36 PM Last post by: awesumtenor
	Mckee Supports 3abn Through Selling Junk Foods, Is That Good? 1 2 3	33	mikell	1,076	Yesterday, 11:13 AM Last post by: Richard Sherwin
	King David Would you all do the same to him?	13	mikemike	415	30th June 2007 - 11:49 PM Last post by: beartrap
	THE LAWSUIT CASE HAS BEEN UNIMPOUNDED 1 2 3 » 6	85	sonshineonme	2,957	29th June 2007 - 08:47 PM Last post by: ex3ABNemployee
	Weblinks For Shelton Saga ....electronic evidence of the ongoing drama online	7	Whitey	764	28th June 2007 - 05:56 AM Last post by: runner4him
	Linda's Litigation 1 2 3 » 18	267	Observer	10,420	27th June 2007 - 10:30 PM Last post by: runner4him
	News Release From Amazing Facts---4-25-07 1 2 3 » 8	114	summertime	4,360	27th June 2007 - 06:06 AM Last post by: watchbird
	3abn World Magazine Logo Change Again	8	maggiecttr	454	27th June 2007 - 01:42 AM Last post by: mikell
	Definition Of Molestation 1 2 3 » 7 Penetration, Fondling, and Forced Sexual Viewing	98	PrincessDrRe	3,754	26th June 2007 - 07:20 PM Last post by: PrincessDrRe

Enter Keywords | Search forum

19 Pages 1 2 3 > » | Start new

4 User(s) are browsing this forum (3 Guests and 0 Anonymous Users)

1 Members: awesumtenor

New Replies | Poll (New) | |-- 3ABN | Go
No New Replies | Poll (No New)
Hot Topic (New) | Locked Topic | Order: Last Post | Z-A | Show All
Hot Topic (No New) | Moved Topic | Topics: All | Go

Invision Power Board v2.1.7 © 2007 IPS, Inc.

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ Protect Your Identity

Posted by: calvin Jun 25 2007, 12:44 PM

I want to remind everyone that these discussions are on a very public and open forum and available for anyone to read and most anyone can join here as a member. Now that there is ongoing litigation involving 3abn I would caution you to be protective of your private and personal information include your identity. The staff here will continue to safeguard your right to be post anonymously regardless of which side of the discussion you support. Please report any attempts to gain personal information to the administrators here.

Thank you
Calvin, Clay, PrincessDi

Posted by: roxe Jun 26 2007, 04:36 PM

okie dokie, artichokie! thanks for the reminder.

Posted by: fallible humanbeing Jun 26 2007, 08:13 PM

QUOTE(calvin @ Jun 25 2007, 02:44 PM)

The staff here will continue to safeguard your right to be post anonymously regardless of which side of the discussion you support. Please report any attempts to gain personal information to the administrators here.

Thank you
Calvin, Clay, PrincessDi

Too bad this policy didn't exist before. Maybe my thread wouldn't have been locked down and Robert Pickle wouldn't have been given full rein.

-FHB

Posted by: Snoopy Jun 26 2007, 09:44 PM

QUOTE(fallible humanbeing @ Jun 26 2007, 09:13 PM)

Too bad this policy didn't exist before. Maybe my thread wouldn't have been locked down and Robert Pickle wouldn't have been given full rein.

-FHB

Well, I think the key phrase in Calvin's post was "now that there is ongoing litigation" and last time I checked it is the plaintiff who intiates such.

~~Snoopy~~

Posted by: calvin Jun 26 2007, 10:08 PM

> QUOTE(fallible humanbeing @ Jun 26 2007, 09:13 PM) ☐
>
> Too bad this policy didn't exist before. Maybe my thread wouldn't have been locked down and Robert Pickle wouldn't have been given full rein.
>
> -FHB

I think that statement is a little unfair considering that I banned Pickle for 2 weeks for hinting at your identity. But then can't please everybody. Now FHB are you back to contribute to the ongoing discuss or to continue taking shots at how I administer this forum? If it is the latter I will make sure you join the list of BSDA rejects.

Posted by: Whitey Jun 26 2007, 11:53 PM

Calvin, may I ask you something to clear up a concerned thought that just crossed my mind?

You are in contact with many other SDA Forum Sysops however closely or losely it may be.

Have you (or the other BSDA Mods/Admins) revealed to these other Forum managers the private names from some of those here posting behind their monikers?

Anyone of us has good or troubled connections with others in other Forums and prefer to remain as separate entity here at your place. Except for those, obviously, who fly under their own name flag.

Posted by: calvin Jun 27 2007, 08:00 AM

> QUOTE(Whitey @ Jun 27 2007, 12:53 AM) ☐
>
> Calvin, may I ask you something to clear up a concerned thought that just crossed my mind?
>
> You are in contact with many other SDA Forum Sysops however closely or losely it may be.
>
> Have you (or the other BSDA Mods/Admins) revealed to these other Forum managers the private names from some of those here posting behind their monikers?
>
> Anyone of us has good or troubled connections with others in other Forums and prefer to remain as separate entity here at your place. Except for those, obviously, who fly under their own name flag.

Daryl from Maritime and Stan from ClubAdventist and myself are members of each other boards as many members are here. So to answer your question we know how to reach out to each other if we want or need to, and we have on ocassion, but rarely. We have a healthly respect for each other realizing how differcult at times managing a discussion board can be. We take a different approach to how we manage our forums as I think anyone would expect since we are different, as evidence by the approach we have taken on the 3abn saga. I am not a member on any other Adventist forums.

No, I have not revealed any personal information about any member to another member or non-member. But keep in mind like any community we do get to know each other on a personal bases.

Posted by: YogusBearus Jun 27 2007, 09:20 AM

> QUOTE(Whitey @ Jun 27 2007, 12:53 AM)
>
> Calvin, may I ask you something to clear up a concerned thought that just crossed my mind?
>
> You are in contact with many other SDA Forum Sysops however closely or losely it may be.
>
> Have you (or the other BSDA Mods/Admins) revealed to these other Forum managers the private names from some of those here posting behind their monikers?
>
> Anyone of us has good or troubled connections with others in other Forums and prefer to remain as separate entity here at your place. Except for those, obviously, who fly under their own name flag.

Interesting question. Something that might be even more interesting would be the position that the board owner takes on revealing membership information to third parties such as interested attorneys. I have absolutely no question where Calvin stands in this area. I am uncertain as to the approach other discussion boards might take.

As a hypothetical example, it would be interesting to know if the board owner would voluntarily agree to cooperate with attorneys form either side in the 3abn mess. If they did in anyway convey personal identities, what would there legal jeopardy be?

-bear

Posted by: Noahswife Jun 27 2007, 08:09 PM

> QUOTE(YogusBearus @ Jun 27 2007, 11:20 AM)
>
> Interesting question. Something that might be even more interesting would be the position that the board owner takes on revealing membership information to third parties such as interested attorneys. I have absolutely no question where Calvin stands in this area. I am uncertain as to the approach other discussion boards might take.
>
> As a hypothetical example, it would be interesting to know if the board owner would voluntarily agree to cooperate with attorneys form either side in the 3abn mess. If they did in anyway convey personal identities, what would there legal jeopardy be?
>
> -bear

I agree with you on this, bear. It is not inconceivable that Calvin could be contacted via legal process to produce membership information. Should that occur, I certainly hope everyone on this forum is prepared to financially support him in defending our privacy.

I suppose reading a forum's membership rules would be a good place to start in determining what a member's privacy rights are or their expectations of same. I also wonder if more is expected when membership requires a financial contribution rather than is free as here at BSDA.

I can only wonder how members on other boards would react if they thought there was even a chance that their identities had been revealed in a legal matter. Or do they even care?

nw
C"i"

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jun 28 2007, 07:36 AM

Provocative thoughts, Bear and NW.

I certainly don't see Calvin as one who would line up to sell us out if asked. I would be happy to contribute to any future defense fund should the need arise and would even feel more than comfortable with paying a small monthly fee for membership. I would, however, get a little nervous should he decide to charge a monthly "Identity Protection Assurance" fee.

Calvin, other than you own highly commendable declaration to safeguard our right to post on BSDA anonymously, are you familiar with any legal or ethical expectations of membership privacy issues as they relate to a forum such as BSDA? Is there even any such protection in place?

Posted by: Clay Jun 28 2007, 11:50 AM

ClubAdventist was pro-danny weren't they? At least that's the feel I got from the head guy... perhaps if you are a member there you might want to check out what the terms of membership are... I suspect if the owner is pro-danny some members are being sold down the river as we speak.... or their identities are. Just speculating of course....

Posted by: Fran Jun 28 2007, 01:20 PM

QUOTE(Clay @ Jun 28 2007, 12:50 PM)

Club Adventist was pro-Danny weren't they? At least that's the feel I got from the head guy... perhaps if you are a member there you might want to check out what the terms of membership are... I suspect if the owner is pro-Danny some members are being sold down the river as we speak.... or their identities are. Just speculating of course....

Being a member of Club Adventist, I found that the owner is NOT always aware of what other "Friends" are doing and saying right under his nose. Voltaire Wannabe was/is alive and well spreading private information around with others. He loves identifying others, but turns to hot, deadly fire if you ever get anywhere close to identifying him!

blc

I know who he is! Shocking, to say the least. He would actually find this a challenge to good to refuse, in my opinion!

Do I believe Voltaire Wannabe would gladly give any identity away with out a thought? You betcha I do! It has happened to me. Then I blew his cover.

In my opinion, Voltaire Wannabe is a very dangerous individual. Otherwise I would be telling the information high and low! I believe people should know who they are dealing with.

Been there done that!

Posted by: Whitey Jun 29 2007, 04:14 AM

Fran : "He loves identifying others, but turns to hot, deadly fire if you ever get anywhere close to identifying him!"

Ohyeahr? Just let that Mikey boy try and put his vice-president violent hands on me and see what happens!

Here's Mikey Voltaire's picture and profile.. http://www.churchstate.org/article.php?id=2&PHPSESSID=115eb3e38af82721d0816cd65b41f161
It's water under the bridge that hundreds know who he is since the debacle over at "that other" Forum.

PeacefullB said "....should he decide to charge a monthly "Identity Protection Assurance" fee."

Now that's a great idea! Here I come ... paypal!
Crank up the ATM maschine Calvin, ya goin' to be a rich guy soon.

Posted by: watchbird Jun 29 2007, 05:53 AM

QUOTE(Whitey @ Jun 29 2007, 06:14 AM)

Fran : "He loves identifying others, but turns to hot, deadly fire if you ever get anywhere close to identifying him!"

Ohyeahr? Just let that Mikey boy try and put his vice-president violent hands on me and see what happens!

Here's Mikey Voltaire's picture and profile.. http://www.churchstate.org/article.php?id=2&PHPSESSID=115eb3e38af82721d0816cd65b41f161
It's water under the bridge that hundreds know who he is since the debacle over at "that other" Forum.

PeacefullB said "....should he decide to charge a monthly "Identity Protection Assurance" fee."

Now that's a great idea! Here I come ... paypal!
Crank up the ATM maschine Calvin, ya goin' to be a rich guy soon.

.... sig for that link Whitey. NOW things make sense.
Take a look at that other picture there, ever'body. See anyone who has been mentioned recently as appearing on 3abn?

..... sofa1.gif .....

Carry on.....

Posted by: Snoopy Jun 29 2007, 02:47 PM

I love your spirit, Whitey!! Would love to meet you!! You go, gurl...!!

~~Snoopy~~

QUOTE(Whitey @ Jun 29 2007, 04:14 AM)

Fran : "He loves identifying others, but turns to hot, deadly fire if you ever get anywhere close to identifying him!"

Ohyeahr? Just let that Mikey boy try and put his vice-president violent hands on me and see what happens!

Here's Mikey Voltaire's picture and profile.. http://www.churchstate.org/article.php?id=2&PHPSESSID=115eb3e38af82721d0816cd65b41f161
It's water under the bridge that hundreds know who he is since the debacle over at "that other" Forum.

PeacefullB said "....should he decide to charge a monthly "Identity Protection Assurance" fee."

Now that's a great idea! Here I come ... paypal!
Crank up the ATM maschine Calvin, ya goin' to be a rich guy soon.

Posted by: Fran Jun 29 2007, 09:07 PM

QUOTE(Whitey @ Jun 29 2007, 05:14 AM)

Fran : "He loves identifying others, but turns to hot, deadly fire if you ever get anywhere close to identifying him!"

Ohyeahr? Just let that Mikey boy try and put his vice-president violent hands on me and see what happens!

Here's Mikey Voltaire's picture and profile.. http://www.churchstate.org/article.php?id=2&PHPSESSID=115eb3e38af82721d0816cd65b41f161
It's water under the bridge that hundreds know who he is since the debacle over at "that other" Forum.

PeacefullB said "....should he decide to charge a monthly "Identity Protection Assurance" fee."

Now that's a great idea! Here I come ... paypal!
Crank up the ATM maschine Calvin, ya goin' to be a rich guy soon.

Whitey;

I am praying you are a lawyer! Voltaire Wannabe doesn't want his boss seeing his real self! He has some HIGH UP friends that are trying to "Protect him". Be careful indeed!

WB: I just watched the other fellow yesterday on 3ABN Live. Danny wasn't there though. It was a good program with Dinsey (sp?), 3ABN Latino, and Christian (sp?) from 3ABN Radio. They did a wonderful job by the way. Voltaire Wannabe has been on there before. This was a much better program. I believe the reason was that Danny and Voltaire Wannabe weren't there! [x] rofl

---

Posted by: Whitey Yesterday, 02:39 AM

V. Wannebe has some HIGH UP friends that are trying to "Protect him"? His connections to flesh in high places may be puny opfers on the altar of sheol. I'm connected to He who is higher than the highest and will set the oppress free, who will fight for the rights of the poor and rectify the perverting of judment and justice in our area of life.
Forget not how our God moved so V.Wannebe fell from his influence in 'that other' Forum and now is silenced after the calm.

I have seen Mikey boy on 3ABN with the other gentleman talking about Religious Liberty. Could it be that two years ago as he was badgering Admin Jensen to hide the 3ABN topics he was being told by 3ABN to get the topics out of public sight otherwise no-go on the coveted program slot being planned? "They" have people who knew he was involved with C.Adentist Forum, and what with being lawyer of sorts, he could level influence to get the topics hidden from view.

Powered by Invision Power Board (http://www.invisionboard.com)
© Invision Power Services (http://www.invisionpower.com)

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ The Unauthorized 3abn History Threads

Posted by: Clay Jul 19 2006, 08:51 AM

I was trying to figure out how to keep this info together... so here is one thread with links to all 10 chapters... this may work for a bit....

chapter 1 (Linda out, family in...)
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?showtopic=9762

chapter 2 (The Shelton Gang history)
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?showtopic=9763

chapter 3 (the high road, low road)
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?showtopic=9764

chapter 4 (takin care of business....)
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?showtopic=9765

chapter 5 (thread was closed then reopened)
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?showtopic=9766

chapter 6 (more of the televangelist)
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?showtopic=9767

chapter 7 (the dollar store and the Legend)
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?showtopic=9768

chapter 8 (still more of the televangelist)
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?showtopic=9772

chapter 9 (doing things for God)
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?showtopic=9773

chapter 10 (in the midst of the garden continued)
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?showtopic=8923

Posted by: calvin Sep 9 2006, 06:59 PM

This is a "Guided Tour" through the most significant posts of the ten chapters of "An Unauthorized History Of 3abn", arranged in "table of contents" order. Clicking on the url given will take you directly to the post described. Once there you my browse the thread as far as you wish in either direction.

This post is for navigation purposes only, no discussion will be allowed here. Chapter titles are plainly given, and any discussion on any point should be done in the chapter where it appears in the Forum menu list. (ie While you are reading any url, you are live in that chapter, and you may make comments in that thread if you so desire.)

There are a few links to posts in other threads, which are specifically related in subject matter, but unless otherwise noted, all urls are from this one thread

All posts are written by Sister unless otherwise indicated by names in brackets preceding the description line. Descriptors may be titles given by the author, short excerpts from the post itself, or a generalized description of the post.

Begin the Guided Tour to 'An Unauthorized History Of 3abn' thread begun by Sister.

Chapter 1 (Linda out, family in...)

Introducing Danny's brothers, Tommy and Kenny.
Apr 16 2006, 04:09 PM .... Post #1
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9762&view=findpost&p=126673

Another major 3ABN VIP, Molly Steenson
Apr 16 2006, 06:50 PM ....Post #4
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9762&view=findpost&p=126684

Introducing the concept, "anything Danny said was right, even if he were wrong, we are like gods here." (also the cousin who was fired for protesting the use of donations.)
Apr 17 2006, 05:27 AM ....Post #7
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9762&view=findpost&p=126703

More about donations ...
Apr 17 2006, 10:00 AM Post #10
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9762&view=findpost&p=126728
(due to restrictions against repeating posts, only links are given to the two examples mentioned in Post #10. The links given in the post are to the pages containing the posts, precise links to the intended posts are given here below)

Another example of where the money goes (donation for sanctuary museum becomes church building), Apr 14 2006, 07:18 PM Post #232 Thread "Danny Shelton Marries....Again"
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=8572&view=findpost&p=126588

Introducing the truth about "the first miracle story"
Apr 11 2006, 05:38 PM ...Post #203 Thread "Danny Shelton Marries...Again"
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=8572&view=findpost&p=126260

The 3ABN school and a professional quality basketball court for Dan
Apr 17 2006, 05:18 PM ...Post #11
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9762&view=findpost&p=126866

Danny claims 3ABN as HIS baby
Apr 18 2006, 03:09 AM.... Post #16
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9762&view=findpost&p=126899

Chapter 2 (The Shelton Gang history)

Finances...differences between employees and president of 3ABN
Apr 19 2006, 05:36 AM ...Post #1
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9763&view=findpost&p=127091

Finances...more on salaries and perks differentials
Apr 19 2006, 07:34 PM ....Post #15
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9763&view=findpost&p=127231

Chapter 3 (the high road, low road)

Introducing Walt Thompson and Johann Thorvaldsson.
Apr 20 2006, 10:53 AM .....Post #1

http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9764&view=findpost&p=127296

Introducing "The Players", Danny, Molly, Hal, Walt.
Apr 21 2006, 09:19 PM .... Post #7
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9764&view=findpost&p=127488

Finances....Jet planes and "give-away" books
Apr 23 2006, 09:59 AM .....Post #22
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9764&view=findpost&p=127631

[Beartrap] Finances....cost and use of the jet planes
Apr 23 2006, 07:50 PM ....Post #28
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9764&view=findpost&p=127674

[Panama_Pete]... comments on Beartrap's use of jet planes (basketbal)
Apr 23 2006, 10:22 PM ....Post #31
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9764&view=findpost&p=127694

[Prisca/Clay] ....discussion on use of finances.
Apr 24 2006, 04:30 AM ....Post #33
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9764&view=findpost&p=127701

[Caribbean sda/PaperTigers]...."bad outweighed the good"
Apr 24 2006, 06:46 AM ....Post #36
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9764&view=findpost&p=127709

[summertime/caribbean sda].... problem is, sda church will not deal with the problem
Apr 24 2006, 07:27 AM ...Post #38
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9764&view=findpost&p=127721

Chapter 4 (takin care of business....)

Danny's basketball shot...Molly Steensen runs the business
Apr 24 2006, 01:30 PM ....Post #1
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9765&view=findpost&p=127789

Sister tells why she is writing this history
Apr 25 2006, 02:02 PM ....Post #14
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9765&view=findpost&p=127929

[Beartrap/PaperTigers]...brief introduction of PaperTigers
Apr 25 2006, 07:58 PM ...Post #21
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9765&view=findpost&p=127998

[PaperTigers] ...testimony
Apr 26 2006, 05:40 AM ...Post #27
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9765&view=findpost&p=128024

"What do you have in your hand?"...slogan for fundraising
Apr 26 2006, 01:06 PM ...Post #32
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9765&view=findpost&p=128082

[Beartrap]...progression of the "God Complex" ... God speaks to Danny who speaks with the "voice of God", a prophet greater that Ellen White, quote from Board member, "To us Danny is God". (Mollie and ET's role in that concept.
Apr 26 2006, 07:36 PM ...Post #33
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9765&view=findpost&p=128116

[Zephyr/Beartrap] ... "...it can't be that bad"
Apr 26 2006, 07:50 PM ...Post #35
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9765&view=findpost&p=128119

[Clay/PaperTigers]..."unfortunately it really is that bad"
Apr 26 2006, 07:55 PM ...Post #37
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9765&view=findpost&p=128121

[beartrap]..."What's worse is that people who question it are demonized and ostrasized even by church leadership....appalling"
Apr 26 2006, 07:56 PM ...Post #38
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9765&view=findpost&p=128122

[beartrap]..."Foul behaviour seems to be either justifiable, or deniable as long as the perpetrator is saying the right things in furtherance of the true pillars of our faith, and is capable of being a platform from which other church leaders can say their piece."
Apr 26 2006, 08:07 PM ...Post #40
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9765&view=findpost&p=128126

[beartrap/Clay]...as to NAD supporting Danny...has been told that no church entity would risk jeopardizing themselves by "questioning Danny's integrity".
Apr 26 2006, 08:27 PM ...Post #43
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9765&view=findpost&p=128132

[beartrap]...other considerations... Ill Conf Pres on 3ABN board ... Danny has demonstrated that he will pull the programs of any who question him in any way, eg. Dan Matthews, Barbara Kerr, Loma Linda.
Apr 26 2006, 08:35 PM ...Post #46
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9765&view=findpost&p=128135

[Panama_Pete]... relates "behind the scenes" political arm twisting... includes AT article excerpt and link about Toronto GC session
Apr 26 2006, 09:11 PM ...Post #51
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9765&view=findpost&p=128143

[summertime/Prisca] ... Would removing Danny be sufficient or would it take more?
Apr 27 2006, 07:35 AM ...Post #55
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9765&view=findpost&p=128174

[awesometenor/prisca] ...more comments on what should have been done...but was not.
Apr 27 2006, 07:50 AM ...Post #56
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9765&view=findpost&p=128175

[beartrap] ... reasons for some staying on 3ABN ... for some leaving. Compares HOPETV to 3ABN both now and for future.
Apr 27 2006, 09:01 AM ...Post #59
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9765&view=findpost&p=128195

[Clay/higherground2003]...why is this on here? To balance what has been said by only one side.
Apr 27 2006, 10:29 AM ...Post #66
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9765&view=findpost&p=128218

"A man of influence" ... Money...power...control... (cf. #43, and #51 above.)
Apr 27 2006, 02:49 PM ...Post #67
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9765&view=findpost&p=128279

"The Sword of Damocles.... a warning"
Apr 27 2006, 07:26 PM ...Post #70
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9765&view=findpost&p=128299

[Jvat]... An anguished question (many are asking)
Apr 27 2006, 10:01 PM ...Post #71
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9765&view=findpost&p=128303

[Zephyr]... "The SDA church now has the opportunity to rethink, regroup and be responsible and reject what Danny and his telecult aka 3ABN stand for."

Apr 27 2006, 10:16 PM... Post #72
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9765&view=findpost&p=128305

"The Tree in the midst of the Garden...Part 1" ... Compares Danny with both Koresh and Adam, tempted by the words "you will surely become like God". Concludes with, "Two women have been responsible for leading Danny Shelton to the perception that his voice is as the voice of God."
Apr 28 2006, 01:26 PM ...Post #75
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9765&view=findpost&p=128373

"The Tree in the midst of the Garden...Part 2" reveals "how a man can continue to be 'the face of the Seventh-day Adventist church to the world', when so many people are aware of the falsehoods and intrigues 'behind the scenes at 3ABN'.
Apr 29 2006, 03:37 PM ...Post #80
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9765&view=findpost&p=128469

"The Tree in the midst of the Garden...Part 3" history of the first of the two women....Mollie Steensen
Apr 30 2006, 12:47 PM...Post #85
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9765&view=findpost&p=128534

[Brother Sam]...testimony of former employee
May 1 2006, 07:16 PM... Post #100
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9765&view=findpost&p=128689

[beartrap/PaperTigers]...further testimonies from former employees including examples of things that put employees in "an incredible dillema"
May 1 2006, 07:59 PM ...Post #104
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9765&view=findpost&p=128694

[beartrap]... "It is very easy to disparage those who are finally standing up for truth, . . . by saying that they are just a few disgruntled former employees. No one who has walked in their shoes is saying such a thing. . . ."
May 1 2006, 08:22 PM...Post #106
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9765&view=findpost&p=128696

[Panama_Pete/Johann]... Danny's assurance about his 'operation'
May 2 2006, 12:28 AM ...Post #113
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9765&view=findpost&p=128724

[beartrap]... "bigger fish to fry" "fish defined by dollar signs and Shelton worship
May 2 2006, 12:55 AM... Post #114
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9765&view=findpost&p=128725

[Clay]... "that is part of the problem when one establishes an "independent ministry." There are very few checks or balances until the person or persons do something criminal..."
May 2 2006, 07:33 AM ... Post #116
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9765&view=findpost&p=128746

[Clay/simplysaved]..."that's the problem.... folks trying to move on while leaving the mess at 3abn right where it is as it continues to fester and get worse...."
May 2 2006, 10:09 AM... Post #121
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9765&view=findpost&p=128789

[beartrap]... one-on-one confrontation has been tried
May 2 2006, 02:54 PM... Post #133
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9765&view=findpost&p=128846

[missthg/Panama Pete]...I can't even try to help him show on regular cable . . . . It's really a shame that GC is still supporting him.
May 2 2006, 03:08 PM... Post #135
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9765&view=findpost&p=128851

[sonshineonme]... "Many have talked right to them, . . . they not only deny, but have made their lies bigger and more graphic then ever."

Week of July 15... Post #139
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9765&view=findpost&p=138604

[lurker/vastergotland]... "about the rich man with say in GC decisions, would this not be bad news also for the denomination as a whole and not just another turn in the 3abn saga?" "Better a loss of a rich man's money than a loss of compassion for the "squished".
Week of July 22... Post #145
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9765&view=findpost&p=140254

Chapter 5 (thread was closed then reopened)

"Our previously scheduled programming, Part 4 of "In the midst of the Garden", is interrupted for the following special presentation:"
"History always repeats itself or there is nothing new under the sun..."
(Glimpses into Danny's history prior to 3ABN.)
May 2 2006, 04:22 PM ... Post #1
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9766&view=findpost&p=128860

[Panama_Pete/beartrap].... more on attempts at personal confrontations
May 2 2006, 04:31 PM ...Post #3
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9766&view=findpost&p=128862

(The next 20 posts cover the reaction to this topic, after which the thread was closed and then reopened. You can scan through those if you wish. Unfortunately the dialogue about the reopening is elsewhere, and so far I have not been able to find it to link to it here. The challenge was over whether it was appropriate to bring the past into this thread. We'll pick up the thread of thought after the reopening with Post #23.)

[beartrap/PaperTigers]... "we should all keep in mind the fact that Danny's past hasn't just stayed in the past."
May 3 2006, 05:26 PM... Post #23 (and read the next exchanges on this through Post #35)
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9766&view=findpost&p=129107

"Bearing False Witness... Part 1" ...the seriousness of the discussions. Sister affirms her truthfulness.
May 4 2006, 03:17 PM ...Post #36
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9766&view=findpost&p=129278

[Clay]..."Then help me understand with all this info about the dark side of 3ABN .... why the hesitation to pull back the curtain and just tell?"
May 4 2006, 06:17 PM....Post #37
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9766&view=findpost&p=129298

The next several posts address this question, Especially informational are Brother Sam (#39), beartrap (#41), PaperTigers (#42), and Johann (#46) who especially addresses the attitude of church leaders to the situation. Discussion continues on through #59.

[lurker]... brings up the topics of books Danny has written and his way of making a profit on them.
May 5 2006, 06:30 AM ...Post #59
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9766&view=findpost&p=129367

[summertime]... inaction on part of church leaders is discouraging church members and causing them to lose faith in the church.
May 5 2006, 06:58 AM... Post #60
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9766&view=findpost&p=129374

[sister/clay].... (in the context of discussion as to whether Danny writes his books or has a ghost writer) ..."Are you comparing Danny Shelton to Ellen White? . . . What next? . . . is your next proclamation the possibility that Danny is a prophet? .. . Have mercy! I thought that spin only originated from within the walls of 3ABN."

May 5 2006, 08:19 AM... Post #67 (discussion follows for several posts)
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9766&view=findpost&p=129389

[beartrap/calvin]... speaking to the question of 3ABN being called the "face of the SDA church".
May 5 2006, 05:53 PM...Post #75 - discussion continues
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9766&view=findpost&p=129466

[NormF]...lessons from history...will it take fire to again take someone down?
May 5 2006, 11:15 PM ... Post #76
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9766&view=findpost&p=129475

[Clay]...expectations of what the church will do ... try to distance itself after the fall.
May 6 2006, 06:02 AM ... Post #79
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9766&view=findpost&p=129480

"Bearing False Witness... Part 2"... introducing Linda as victim of falsehoods
May 6 2006, 12:36 PM...Post #88
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9766&view=findpost&p=129520

[Fran]....Wintley Phipps on board, his "million" has strings
May 6 2006, 12:36 PM... Post #89
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9766&view=findpost&p=129521

[PaperTigers].... testimony "just wanting to forget"
May 6 2006, 04:04 PM.... Post #90 - discussion through #95
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9766&view=findpost&p=129535

"The Televangelist, Part 1..." "a thinly disguised unauthorized biography of Danny Shelton?" (quotes a few excerpts...notes Danny's reactions)
May 7 2006, 03:59 PM .... Post #96
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9766&view=findpost&p=129661

[see also] the thread: "The Televangelist, unedited original document in it's entirety" Post #1 (with discussion following)
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9823&view=findpost&p=138128

[gracetoyou]....references Achan's sin
May 8 2006, 07:52 AM ...Post #97
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9766&view=findpost&p=129736

[beartrap].... Wintley Phipps a board member, explanation of relationship of boardmembers to Danny, Thompson's role in passing complaints to Danny, accusations against Linda passed to influential donors as early as April 2004
May 8 2006, 09:45 AM.... Post #101
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9766&view=findpost&p=129768

[summertime/gracetoyou]....should use influence and knowledge to remove Danny and cohorts from leadership of 3ABN ... what can we do?
May 8 2006, 10:21 AM.... Post #102 - discussion continues through next few posts
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9766&view=findpost&p=129778

Sister quotes post from watchbird from another thread, having to do with 3ABN's rejection of contract offered to them by GC
May 9 2006, 07:40 AM .... Post #111
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9766&view=findpost&p=129922

[see also] the contract negotiation documents in the thread "3ABN crucial documents, some context" beginning May 6 2006, 08:52 AM ....Post #12 - documents and discussion continue through #29
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9194&view=findpost&p=129504

Deep Pockets....Sister brings our thoughts back to "the man of influence" and asks "why"?

May 9 2006, 03:56 PM...post#116 (cf. #43, #51, and #67 above.)
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9766&view=findpost&p=130061

[Sonshineonme]... gives URL that has picture of Garwin McNeilus, the possible "man of influence"
May 9 2006, 08:33 PM ...post #123
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9766&view=findpost&p=130082

□The Televangelist□, Part 2... Some of Danny's control tactics
May 10 2006, 02:01 PM ...post # 130
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9766&view=findpost&p=130184

Quiz, "Is Your Boss a Psychopath?"
May 11 2006, 12:19 PM ...post #143
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9766&view=findpost&p=130335

[Beartrap]... gives some background on Kenny Shelton
May 11 2006, 01:04 PM ...post #145
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9766&view=findpost&p=130344

Chapter 8 (Still more of The Televangelist)

□The Televangelist□, Part 8... Danny and Linda's marriage, divorce, and Danny's continued harassment of her.
May 30 2006, 09:33 AM ...post #1
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9772&view=findpost&p=132777

[Inge] ... discusses whether or not Danny is "the face of Adventism"
May 30 2006, 09:40 PM ...post #8
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9772&view=findpost&p=132864

Compares Danny to Pope John !!
May 31 2006, 03:43 PM ...post #11 discussion following.
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9772&view=findpost&p=132991

[CJO].... (who worked at 3ABN for 15 years) verifies what Sister says, but suggests that the problem is much larger than Danny and Linda.
May 31 2006, 08:15 PM ...post # 14 discussion follows
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9772&view=findpost&p=133015

[Beartrap] ....3ABN is Danny Shelton, and Danny Shelton is 3ABN .... also sheds light on Canadian cable and 3ABN.
May 31 2006, 11:59 PM ...post #19
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9772&view=findpost&p=133034

[Beartrap]...."Among charismatics, spiritual leaders are viewed as prophets and are not to be questioned." ET and Steensens from this charismatic background.
Jun 1 2006, 12:19 AM ...post #20
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9772&view=findpost&p=133038

[Beartrap]....3ABN is not legal on cable in Canada
Jun 1 2006, 09:07 AM ...post #31
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9772&view=findpost&p=133093

[Observer]....Mable Dunbar from Polly's Place believes Linda is innocent
Jun 1 2006, 04:32 PM ...post #39
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9772&view=findpost&p=133148

Persecution... Danny misapplying "persecution" to himself.
Jun 6 2006, 04:14 PM ... Post #84 discussion continues through #99 and morphs into discussion of The Televangelist document.
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9772&view=findpost&p=133691

The facts are that Danny's future may well reside in the hands of various accountants who can become "whistle blowers".
Jun 8 2006, 10:25 AM ...post #118 ... discussion follows through #127
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9772&view=findpost&p=133992

We each have a part to play in the slow grinding that is taking place.
Jun 8 2006, 01:15 PM ...post #127 with discussion continuing on our part vs God's part.
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9772&view=findpost&p=134023

Is it possible that Danny is now attempting to stack the Illinois Conference Board as he has the 3ABN Board?
Jun 8 2006, 04:33 PM ...post # 135
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9772&view=findpost&p=134041

[watchbird]... The difference between evil and sin.
Jun 9 2006, 07:59 AM ... Post #145
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9772&view=findpost&p=134079

Continuation of #135.
Jun 9 2006, 05:49 PM ....Post #151 discussion following to end of chapter and in #3 of chapter 9.
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9772&view=findpost&p=134159

Chapter 9 (Doing Things for God)

Doing things for GOD...vs what God has done.... a boastful tongue.... bitter and sweet water from the same fountain?
Jun 9 2006, 06:59 PM ....post #1
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9773&view=findpost&p=134165

Best friends? What about Brenda Walsh?
Jun 12 2006, 10:26 AM ... Post #18
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9773&view=findpost&p=134425

Danny is covering all his options.
Jun 9 2006, 08:07 PM ...post # 3 ... discussion following.
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9773&view=findpost&p=134172

The puzzle is starting to fit together
Jun 12 2006, 08:28 PM ...post #21
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9773&view=findpost&p=134494

[Sonshineonme] ... There is a big picture here.
Jun 13 2006, 06:55 PM ...post #23
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9773&view=findpost&p=134612

[Gracetoyou]....Polly's Place is producing a set of 13 videos.
Jun 15 2006, 02:05 PM ...post # 26
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9773&view=findpost&p=134865

[Caribbean sda]....3ABN will no longer be carried by Sky Angel.
Jun 15 2006, 02:24 PM ...post #28
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9773&view=findpost&p=134867

[Lurker]...."It is likely that God is preparing Linda for a great work" Pictures
Jun 16 2006, 08:49 PM ...post # 37
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9773&view=findpost&p=134979

[Fran].....Comments on Linda's dream
Jun 18 2006, 12:14 AM ...post # 43
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9773&view=findpost&p=135056

[Fran]....Trust funds
Jun 20 2006, 12:33 PM ...post # 55
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9773&view=findpost&p=135301

[Summertime]....Forwards a letter from Linda
Jun 20 2006, 09:27 PM ...post #70
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9773&view=findpost&p=135399

Discussion of post #55 begins at #77
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9773&view=findpost&p=137795

Chapter 10 (The Tree in the midst of the Garden...Part 4)

The Tree in the midst of the Garden...Part 4 .... E T Everett, "whatever thoughts and impressions Danny receives regarding anything is the voice of God."
Jun 21 2006, 08:52 PM ...post #1
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=8923&view=findpost&p=135562

The importance of my writing is in the eyes of the beholder.
Jun 23 2006, 12:09 PM ...post #31
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=8923&view=findpost&p=135895

Searching for the ?tip of the iceberg? or ?a needle in a hay stack?..]
Jun 26 2006, 03:22 AM ...post #51
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=8923&view=findpost&p=136193

Chapter 6 (more of the televangelist)

□The Televangelist□, Part 3... Memories..... counting the money .... discrepancies
May 12 2006, 12:56 PM... Post #1
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9767&view=findpost&p=130478

[misc ex-employees] More memories .... Kenny, Tommy, Danny ..... discussions including sexual abuse issues for next 14 posts. (We meet the carpenter and the door lock in #11).)

[Johann] "How to stop it?" [tithe]
May 13 2006, 08:39 AM ... Post #15

□The Televangelist□, Part 4... Financial scandals ... Why didn't Danny prosecute Pete and the unnamed Postal Employee.... both of whom were known to be guilty?
May 13 2006, 02:38 PM ... Post #18 (followed by comments in #19 and #20.
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9767&view=findpost&p=130591

□The Televangelist□, Part 5...An ironic twist to the tale of Pete
May 15 2006, 01:52 PM .... Post #25
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9767&view=findpost&p=130794

[Beartrap] Some interesting questions on "possible" future plans at 3ABN.
May 15 2006, 02:48 PM .... Post #26
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9767&view=findpost&p=130802

Summarizes □A Teaser or Previews of Coming Attractions...□, listing the four of the five major "players", then moves on to introduce Shelly Quinn as the fifth "major player".
May 16 2006, 07:08 PM ... Post #39 [cf Chapter 3, Post #7 above]
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9767&view=findpost&p=131052

Dialogue following veers back to the abuse topics.... involving both Tommy and Danny.

[beartrap] Comments on John Lomacang's credibility in view of the perks he gets at 3ABN.
May 17 2006, 05:45 PM ... Post #53

http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9767&view=findpost&p=131147

The Heart and Mind of a Man... □But there is no deception quite so serious as self-deception...." .... Danny's view of himself in his own eyes.
May 17 2006, 05:55 PM ... Post #57
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9767&view=findpost&p=131151

The next pages of posts range far and wide into areas that have been considered speculative. I'll not take you through those post by post. Beartrap summarizes the feeling of many about this section in post #110.
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9767&view=findpost&p=131282

[Johann/Denny] Personal comments on defending those unable to defend themselves.
May 18 2006, 09:52 AM .... Post #117
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9767&view=findpost&p=131293

[beartrap] "Linda is high profile and as such her situation attracts attention. There are many little people who fly under the public's radar who have been viciously mauled by the same person. Focusing on one situation, to the exclusion of all the others is wrong....."
May 18 2006, 10:11 AM ... Post #121
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9767&view=findpost&p=131299

When discussion stayed in the speculative range the thread was closed with post #130, and then reopened again with Calvin clearly stating the limits in Post #131.

□The Televangelist□, Part 6... □The months went by, and the televangelist tenaciously kept up surveillance and harassment on his ex-wife and those who supported her" .....
May 20 2006, 10:15 PM ... Post #132
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9767&view=findpost&p=131622

[Calvin] "OK we have all this stuff on Danny" .... what about Linda?
May 21 2006, 12:55 PM ... Post #137
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9767&view=findpost&p=131668

Responses to this question follow for about the next 10 posts, before veering off in a different direction.

(Chapter 7 (The Dollar Store and the Legend of Plungie...)

A tender look at a father with his children .... the lighter side of "behind the scenes" at 3ABN .... but be sure to not miss the import of the "postscript"...and the discussions and added memories in the next several posts.
May 22 2006, 04:17 PM ...post #1
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9768&view=findpost&p=131827

[Beartrap]... lists the 3ABN board members
May 24 2006, 09:12 AM ...post #33 & 34
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9768&view=findpost&p=132084
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9768&view=findpost&p=132088

□The Televangelist□, Part 7... How Danny keeps the board members under "control".
May 24 2006, 01:59 PM ... Post #35 [discussion on board continues through Post #43]
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9768&view=findpost&p=132107

[Beartrap] .... Discussion of Washington Post article where 3ABN is called an "off-shoot" of the SDA church.
May 24 2006, 08:07 PM ... Post #44 and following.
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9768&view=findpost&p=132136

[Inga].... leads into discussing 3ABN as a "cult".
May 24 2006, 09:36 PM ... Post #56 and following.
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9768&view=findpost&p=132155

[beartrap] Attitude of people of Thompsonville re: 3ABN.
May 25 2006, 09:01 AM ...Post #58 and following.
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9768&view=findpost&p=132198

[Fran] Three urls to Adventist Today articles; Correction to Piano story, Walt Thompson letter, and announcement of Danny and Brandy's marriage.
May 25 2006, 10:12 PM ... Post #67 discussion continues
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9768&view=findpost&p=132289

[Panama Pete]... turns discussion toward Linda and SDA attitudes toward hiring her.
May 25 2006, 10:46 PM ... Post #69 discussion continues
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9768&view=findpost&p=132294

[beartrap]... introduces Polly's Place as one place that has "stepped out to do programs with Linda.".
May 27 2006, 09:59 AM ...Post #93 discussion before and after criticism Mabel Dunbar has received for this.
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9768&view=findpost&p=132471

[beartrap] .... posts a few emails from Danny Shelton
May 29 2006, 03:56 PM ... Post #119 .
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9768&view=findpost&p=132649

[watchbird/grace to you] ...confirms Danny as author of emails
May 29 2006, 08:41 PM ... Post #136
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9768&view=findpost&p=132678

Powered by Invision Power Board (http://www.invisionboard.com)
© Invision Power Services (http://www.invisionpower.com)

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ Johann Thorvaldsson's Letter

Posted by: calvin Aug 13 2006, 08:44 PM

Pastor Johann Thorvaldsson served the SDA church for over 50 years in various positions and countries, including the USA, Iceland, Denmark, Norway, the Faeroe Islands, Sierra Leone, and Nigeria. His last positions before retirement were in Union Conference administration in Norway and in Denmark. Upon retirement he accepted a position as Director of European Development for 3ABN, which he held until fired for his support of Linda in 2004. This letter was written in July 2004 to an unidentified recipient, for the purpose of posting on the Club Adventist Forum. It was posted there and copied to BSDA on July 29, 2004. For discussion of this letter, see the thread entitled, "The Latest on 3abn" which begins at http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?showtopic=10074 posted July 29, 2004 09:33 Message What happened at 3ABN?
---

THE STORY OF LINDA SHELTON

By Johann Thorvaldsson

Former 3ABN liaison for Europe It is a fact that Linda Shelton has been fired - and Danny Shelton has told his version of events to the World audience. He warned us not to listen to rumors, so what are the facts of this heart-breaking experience? Unfortunately Linda Shelton has been judged and dismissed from the establishment she loved and helped build up - on the basis of rumors. Facts that have been twisted, embroidered and presented as real. This is quite a complicated matter. A few weeks ago I was in Southern Illinois, wanting to attend the camp meeting at 3ABN, together with a Norwegian medical doctor - the one Linda has been accused of committing spiritual adultery with. We went there in an attempt to clear up misunderstandings, all caused because my wife and I introduced this doctor to Danny and Linda Shelton. This doctor is also the head elder of the most flourishing conservative SDA church in Norway
- and has for several years been a financial supporter of 3ABN. Some of the problems were caused because the 3ABN archives had misspelled the name of this supporter, so Danny was convinced he was an impostor. Later Danny has named him a devil, a demon, or evil spirit, or bad counselor - like he did during the transmission to the whole world on Thursday evening at Camp Meeting. Also during that meeting we were requested to leave the premises of 3ABN, and if we ever showed up again at the meetings the police would be requested to remove us as trespassing private property - and this at meetings where all are invited.

What is our crime? While my wife, Irmgard, and I were staying at 3ABN in December 2003, this doctor came to visit us, both to check Irmgard's illness and to see the studios of the ministry he was supporting and was a great fan of. Linda came to see us, and later she brought her son along, who had problems with drugs and related things. Nathan had been reluctant to see any other doctor, but a lasting friendship between the doctor and this young man was kindled. Many of his patients are young athletes, so he is used to dealing with young people. The doctor invited Nathan to come and stay in Norway and receive treatments at his clinic for a month. Nathan brought his girlfriend along, and later Linda and Brenda Walsh spent 3 days there to check on things - and I had a visit with them too while they were there. At that time Nathan had merely been there for 10 days, and I did not recognize him when I saw him. He was a completely transformed person.

So after Linda returned to the States she'd call to find out how it was going with her son. Danny told me himself that he considered that if a married woman talks for more than 10 or 12 minutes with another man on the phone she'd be committing spiritual adultery - so these phone calls first branded Linda as an adulteress. And from there the ball has kept rolling with more and more accusations. Mark Finlay was willing to assist in coming to an understanding, but his offer was unacceptable to the 3ABN lawyer. Both the lawyer and the pastor urged me to stay out of this case and not support Linda. They claimed I'd soon be left out in the cold with no friends at all if I'd continue supporting Linda in her plight.

Can you imagine our Lord Jesus Christ telling me not to come to the aid of this frail woman because I'd be left out in the cold without friends?
I have never heard such a statement before coming from people who are supposed to be the spiritual leaders of this great ministry. Is it any wonder that the support of 3ABN is dwindling?

With such men at the helm who make it their business and main concern to condemn Linda, is it any wonder that Linda seeks the support of her close friends - and also calls the doctor who was so kind to her son?
Of course it might have avoided some misunderstandings and confusions if that doctor had been a woman. But what does the Apostle tell us? "There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female: for ye are all one in Christ Jesus." Those two people have been branded before the whole world as adulterers, and you name it. I never dreamt such atrocities could take place at my favorite ministry, 3ABN

Now the woes of Linda Shelton are not hers alone any more. I was fired too, because I supported Linda. Officially it was because I refused to obey orders from my superiors at 3ABN. But I am fortunate that I get my sustentation from the church where I started my ministry more than 50 years ago. Even though I love the ministry of 3ABN, I serve the God of heaven and the God of Truth. Derrell Mundall, the father of Danny Shelton's grandchildren, who has served 3ABN faithfully for many years, has also been fired. What is his crime? He was too close and he knows the truth, and shared his knowledge with others. He supports Linda.
He had no other employment when he was dismissed from 3ABN, so pray that he may soon find another fruitful ministry where he can use his talents.
He chose truth instead of a steady employment, as so many other believers have done in the past.
Before Derrell was fired he was told that he must remember it was Danny who received the vision from God to build this TV station. Therefore, he was told, he must regard the words of Danny Shelton as being the words of God. Long before Linda's dismissal, Dr. Kay Kuzma was assigned to help Linda manage after being fired. She was also supposed to interview staff members to find a good reason to fire her, so one wonders what really is behind this upheaval?

Danny mentioned a number of counselors who had helped the board come to the conclusion that she should be dismissed. You can ask Linda, but I don't think she ever talked to most of those counselors. In fact even before her dismissal she felt treated like a criminal when she approached the premises of 3ABN and was not permitted to enter without close supervision. The present general staff at 3ABN is probably not permitted to ask Linda any question. If anyone wants a contact to keep up their close friendship with Linda they have to write their note on a postcard, submit it to the leaders who will forward it to Linda. Such are the present premises of this woman whose ministry has meant so much to thousands of viewers, and who will not see her any more on the screen - as long as the present leadership has it their way.

Pray for 3ABN. Pray for justice. Pray for justice also for Linda.
Miracles still take place.
Christian regards

Powered by Invision Power Board (http://www.invisionboard.com)
© Invision Power Services (http://www.invisionpower.com)

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ Dr. Abrahamsen And Dr Thompson Letters

Posted by: icedragon Jul 27 2006, 01:25 PM

The Accused Other Man Evidence: Dr. Arild Abrahamsen
06/20/2006
Greetings from Norway;

My name is Dr. Arild Abrahamsen. I live in Svindal, Norway. I have been a medical doctor for more than 35 years. I am a member of the Moss SDA Church. I've been the Sabbath School Superintendent for 14 years and the head elder for 4 years, which position I am presently serving. I am the Norwegian doctor who has been slandered by Dr. Walt Thompson, chairman of the board of 3ABN, Danny Shelton, John Lomacang and others.

Since I have observed the situation and the slander only getting worse, I feel it best to share my experience. I share my personal experience, what I have seen and heard. Much of this information has been verified by other sources, which include emails, letters and the personal experiences of others. I share my experience not to attack any individual or organization, but to bring the truth of this situation to the surface.

I have been shocked to observe the events of the last two years. I have made no public statement until now. I had hoped things would resolve themselves.

I visited Johann and Irmgard Thorvaldsson at 3ABN the last week of 2003. The purpose of the trip was to see them and visit the ministry, which I personally had been supporting for some time. I had never been to 3ABN previously, nor had I met the Shelton's. During this visit I discovered from the Thorvaldsson's that Linda Shelton's son, Nathan, was in a dangerous state of health because of an addiction to drugs and working in coalmines. I offered to see him. This visit resulted in an invitation for Nathan to come to Norway for treatments. Nathan came to Norway around January 20, 2004 along with his friend, Dava Vice. Linda came for a 3-½ day visit to support her son, the first week of February together with Brenda Walsh. This was the last time I saw Linda until the weekend she was fired.

I had a chance to visit with Nathan regularly. I learned from my conversations with Nathan that the roots of his drug problems were the relationships with his father and stepfather. Specifically he told me that Danny had turned his back on him. I shared this information with his mother on the phone. She told me that Danny said he had no responsibility towards Nathan since he was a product of her first marriage, so she felt she had to do what she could to help her son. There was nothing unusual in the occasional phone reports I gave Nathan's mother while he was in Norway. After Nathan returned home, I asked Linda to keep me updated on Nathan's progress.

I was shocked to discover in early March of 2004 that Danny was threatening to get Linda fired from 3ABN because of some conversations on the phone. In fact, she was threatened immediately with divorce. By this time Nathan had started with drugs again and Linda was seeking advice. I was also shocked to discover that Brenda had started circulating untrue statements as well. (Was it because Danny had admitted to some emotional involvement with Brenda?) I talked to Danny one time on the phone and found him to be unreasonable, unbalanced and very difficult to communicate with. Johann Thorvaldsson, a retired pastor of the SDA Church of 50 years, also was in communication with Danny, both by phone and email. We talked together and shared the same opinion that Danny was acting completely irrational and unreasonable towards his wife. It appeared he was attempting to leave an email trail filled with untruths to verify a position at a later time. The decision was made to stop the communication by phone with Linda.

Some weeks went by. Johann and Irmgard were getting treatments at my clinic and staying in my home during the Easter week in April, so I discovered from them that the situation was not improving for Linda. She was being harassed, threatened, and unreasonable demands by her husband were repeatedly being made to confess things she had not done. By this time, she was also suspended from her job at 3ABN, an order that was issued and enforced by her husband with no Board action. Things were so bad in the home that she found it necessary to go to her daughter's home in Springfield, Illinois for safety and rest on several occasions. Derrell Mundall, who was traveling often for 3ABN, reports rumors of Linda's so-called "affair" were in SDA churches in April 2004, when Linda was still living with Danny. When he inquired about the source of the rumors, people always pointed to Danny Shelton.

I could see from my 35 years of experience as a physician that Danny was a psychopath. accusations were directed at me that I had done "mind control" over Linda. (Walt Thompson made the same accusations in his letters.) Linda was accused of sending "secret messages" to me over the television. Danny's emails and communications with Johann were completely crazy, and his reasoning often conflicted with his previous emails. Danny targeted Linda's few inner circle confidants and slandered her to the point that even they backed away from her at this critical time. (Linda's "friends" did not want to lose their television privileges.) Johann and I concluded this was a man who was determined to get rid of his wife. We also concluded that Linda was in danger.

Things eventually progressed from emotional and mental abuse to physical abuse. In the midst of all this harassment Linda asked Danny, 'Why are you treating me like this?' He answered, 'Because I want you to get out.'

Considering the urgency of the situation I allowed the conversations to resume. Linda knew, with her high profile status, that confiding with local people regarding these issues would be very bad for the ministry. I had given counsel to people in difficulty in the past and felt I could be helpful from a distance in this situation. I encouraged Linda to fight for her marriage and ministry many times. This she really did, but she often had to leave her home to find refuge at her daughter's apartment in Springfield, even in the middle of the night because of Danny's behavior. At times like these she was afraid of him. She always returned to her home after a couple of days seeking to try to mend the marriage, but Danny would not allow this.

During the spring of 2004 Danny called my pastor in Norway. Danny tried to get me kicked out as an elder and as a member of the church. My pastor told me about the conversation and he said, "He is mentally sick, he needs professional help."

I find it very disturbing that Walt Thompson defended and continues to defend Danny although he was a witness repeatedly to the emotional and mental abuse that was taking place. At one point he witnessed Danny "trashing" his wife for five hours. I also find it disturbing that John Lomacang, Linda's former pastor, claims to have counseled extensively with Danny and Linda when this was far from the truth. During the months of April and May of 2004, when most of the activity was ccurring in this situation, Linda NEVER saw John, who was supposed to be her pastor.

Coincidentally the handful of people supporting Danny and defending his actions has gained either power, position, airtime, homes, public endorsement or all of the above.

At one point I had a conversation with Walt Thompson, Chairman of the Board of 3ABN. He asked me to stop all communication with Linda. This had also been communicated to Johann and Irmgard Thorvaldsson and others. I told him that it was obviously Danny's plan to isolate Linda from everyone at a time when she needed help. To me it was the Christian thing to answer her phone calls and the only humane thing to do for someone who was in crisis.

Others did not come to Linda's aid because they did not want to lose whatever benefit they gained from 3ABN, whether it be a job, programming, promotions, etc. Walt was also the one who phoned Linda when she was suspended from the ministry by her husband. He instructed her that she must not come to the ministry (which she co-founded) without calling ahead of time because she must be supervised when at 3ABN. Danny broke into a locked bathroom to forcefully take her keys to 3ABN from her. Her hard drive of her computer was confiscated, her contact information taken and even her filing cabinets ravaged, all without any kind of Board action.

Linda was living in an impossible situation. Danny was "in her face" on a regular basis. At times he would say, "If you don't say you're a pathological liar, the marriage and 3ABN is over. If you don't say you're an adulterous woman the marriage and 3ABN is over for you. If you don't say you've given your heart to another man and that he is a demon the marriage and 3ABN is over..... etc." It even reached the point when he demanded her to say "Repeat after me." Johann and I received a couple emails, which said they were from Linda, but they were written by Danny. Linda saw her ministry being destroyed one day at a time. All of this was dehumanizing and terrifying to Linda, who was trying to hold things together. She very much realized what was at stake.

An "investigative committee" was put together by Walt Thompson to look into this situation. They were Walt Thompson, Bill Hulsey, Nick Miller and Kay Kuzma. Danny talked privately at length with each of these people. Linda did not. The committee as a whole never met with Linda at all. In one brief phone conversation with Kay Kuzma she told Linda, "The Board is not interested in you and Danny's personal problems. It is only interested in the fact that the President no longer wants his Vice-President." Johann Thorvaldsson testifies that he spoke with Kay the following day. She told him she was instructed to get Linda used to the idea of not being at 3ABN anymore and to try to get her involved in another ministry.

It's interesting that at the time Danny accused Linda for speaking on the phone to me, that he was in the practice of speaking regularly with Brenda, Linda's "friend." He also visited often with her in her 3ABN apartment in the night. A worker at 3ABN states that Brenda even went golfing with Danny behind Linda's back while she was working. As soon as Brenda saw where the tide was turning, she was no longer Linda's friend. She became an accuser as well.

About May 1, 2004 instructions were given to the production staff to wipe Linda's face off of the network by June 1, again with no Board action.

All CD's, videos, literature and photos of Linda were stripped out of the Call Center. She was sent a document a few days later specifying that she was advised to get 30 days of counseling by counselors of "their" choice. If she did not agree to this in writing within 24 hours, her employment could be gone. She requested time for an attorney to look at the document. This was refused. Mail was flooding into the network with Linda's name on it. They were all returned to sender. Her scheduled speaking appointments for women's ministries were sabotaged by those in leadership at 3ABN. Danny told those who worked for Linda that she was a pathological liar and to stay away from her. (He did not want them to hear the other side of the story.) At one point Linda told Walt that Dan was purposefully ruining her reputation and that she was not willing to be a martyr for 3ABN. Walt's response was "How else are we going to save the ministry?"

Rumors of Linda's so-called "affair" were flying throughout the churches and the General Conference in May of 2004, rumors which were begun by her husband. It was communicated to me that Linda was going to be fired at the Board meeting, which would occur in May, following the 3ABN camp meeting. Johann and I decided to go to the camp meeting and talk to the Board members and tell them the truth about the situation. When we walked into the 3ABN building we were surrounded by about 10 people. One person stood directly behind me for the entire service. Walt Thompson and Nick Miller (3ABN's attorney) asked us to leave. We stayed until nearly the end of the service. (At this camp meeting an announcement was made regarding Linda. There were tearful appeals by Danny, which raised a record-breaking amount of money for 3ABN. Danny also claims that an additional two million dollars was raised the year of their divorce.) When Johann and I went to the door, once again we were followed by a small crowd of people. I spoke to Mark Finley about the situation at length in the parking lot. John Lomacang tried to stop the conversation. He said 'It is not good for you to talk to him alone.' What was he afraid of? He was standing with me when Danny drove up and said that if I returned to camp meeting I would be arrested and thrown in jail. He had already talked to the Sheriff. I decided to not return, as it was Mark Finley's suggestion to avoid the possibility of disrupting the camp meeting for all of the people attending. Linda was staying in her daughter's apartment in Springfield, so we drove there on Saturday to stay in a hotel for the weekend. During this weekend we were followed by three private investigators all the time. What kind of actions was that, for a man that REALLY wanted to save his marriage?

It is my understanding that a one-sided conversation was illegally taped by Danny towards the end of May. With a mind set on framing his wife, her words have been misconstrued into saying what he wants people to think. She mentions a trip to Las Vegas. He explains to all that she is planning a rendezvous with "the doctor." In reality for weeks he has offered Linda larger and larger sums of money for her to go to Las Vegas and stay with her mother for six weeks to acquire residency, a requirement for couples that want a quick divorce. For weeks she refused. SHE NEVER WANTED A DIVORCE.

The events of the previous months eventually bring her to the place where she thinks this is maybe what she should do. She knew a separation was necessary. Danny takes her words from the phone call and adds his insinuations. He makes photo copies of her one sided conversation and distributes it. This is his main source of "proof" for his actions and re-marriage. They call it circumstantial evidence." To further cover their tracks Linda's accusers say that for her sake they don't want to tell "all she has done." They say this so people will accept their statements and imagine the worst. This is slander of the worst kind all coming from professed Christians.

Johann says he was fired from 3ABN for refusing to attest to something false Danny wanted him to put in writing about Linda. Derrell Mundall, Danny's ex-son-in-law, says he was given the option to resign or be fired because of his actions defending Linda. Others quit their jobs because they could not support the actions of the leaders. There is one thing many of these people have in common. Anyone who disagrees with Danny is slandered and discredited.

It's interesting that Danny's daughter recently was found to be pregnant out of wedlock. A quick wedding followed when Derrell, (her ex-husband & father of their four children), claims she had no grounds for re-marriage. It's also interesting that nobody asked Derrell about the issue of grounds at all when he was still a resident in Thompsonville. Also another married Shelton family member had a romantic encounter recently with a married employee of 3ABN. They were instructed to keep it quiet. They did. They all still work at 3ABN, and Melody is featured on the network. Is 3ABN all about standing for principle and values, or standing for those who happen to be in good graces with the President and the Shelton family ?

Another question that seems to be in the minds of many is "Why was Linda given $240,000 when all claim she was fired for a wrongdoing?" The only reason Linda signed this 3ABN contract was because she needed money to escape from a very irregular, abusive and impossible situation. Danny forced her to sign not only this contract, but another contract which sold him her half of their joint-owned home the same day.

Linda has suffered much emotional trauma and humiliation from all of this. She still has nightmares about these events. She did not feel ready to face the people of the SDA church for six months after all of this occurred. I encouraged her to begin again. She went for the first time around the end of November of 2004 in Springfield. The people welcomed her. She requested her membership to be transferred out of the Thompsonville church into the Springfield church in December of 2004. The Springfield pastor had previously worked at 3ABN and knew Linda. He did not believe the rumors and encouraged the church to put her to work. It was a healing time for her to teach Sabbath School and occasionally preach.

In June of 2005 things changed. Pastor Grady was transferred out of the Springfield church, though he wanted to stay, and a pastor from 3ABN was moved into the church. Within two weeks John Stanton met with Linda and told her she would be doing nothing on the platform. She told him that the church really needed the help and she hoped that if she was asked once in two months to teach a Sabbath School class that she would be able to do this. He told her that the orders had come from the conference level. (The Illinois conference President sits on 3ABN's Board and his parents work for 3ABN.) During our visit to the General Conference Session Johann and I visited with this pastor. He told us he thought Linda was a liar. I TOLD HIM THAT LINDA HAD NEVER BEEN UNFAITHFUL TO HER HUSBAND and that all the rumors from her husband were lies. But this man had TV interests to pursue and he was in close connection with Danny and John Lomacang.

The last week of October 2005, a letter came to Linda from John Lomacang, the pastor of the Thompsonville (3ABN) church. It stated that the church board had voted "to call a church business session to recommend to the church that you be placed under censure." Linda called John to ask him why. He said it was because she had abandoned her marriage and ministry, which led to her divorce. (This is what Danny refers to as "grounds" to re-marry.) Linda planned to address the church business meeting. She wrote to Danny requesting a release from the restrictions of the contract she signed so she could openly share her side of the story. Danny denied this request. Because of this she felt forced to drop her membership there and then join another SDA church. This decision was made after much counsel with several SDA's. It's interesting that this recommendation for censure came almost 18 months after the fact. (Which kind of practice is this? Special for USA?) It's also interesting that all of this occurred while Danny was trying to gather evidence against Linda so he could re-marry.

Danny Shelton and the leadership of 3ABN are responsible for using the ministry of 3ABN to bring character assassination to Linda and others. In Linda's case, television and radio announcements were made denouncing her character. There was an announcement on the front page of 3ABN's website for many months. About 180,000 letters about Linda were sent to the mailing list at 3ABN. Videos about her were made and distributed. Magazine articles were written and submitted. Mailings were made to church officials. Many calls were taken at 3ABN where slanderous remarks about Linda were given over the phone. Many letters containing completely false statements were sent to many individuals. Danny even made his personal email address available over 3ABN so people could write to him and obtain his side of the story. They did a thorough job of character assassination.

Now two years later the "trashing" continues. It is inexcusable, especially for a proclaimed Christian ministry.

In conclusion I want to clearly state that I have not committed adultery (emotional, physical, "spiritual"), and neither has Linda. The conversations we had were not unusual or inappropriate. Linda is the victim of domestic violence, only this has resulted in worldwide effects for our Church.

Linda has sought for help at the General Conference level. She has sought the aid of pastors. No one has an answer. She has tried repeatedly to meet with a committee from the Board of 3ABN. This request has not been granted. Still the bulk emails and letters flow from 3ABN slandering the innocent. This has been the most ungodly situation I have observed in my entire life. Any who find themselves not in good graces with Danny Shelton will find that their name is discredited and slandered in an attempt to destroy their influence. Linda has suffered the most with the loss of her job, her influence and reputation. But many others, including myself, have felt the heat coming from what is supposed to be a ministry representing Jesus Christ. This is an outrage. This is unacceptable. Accountability of leaders is a must. (Can bad fruits come from good trees?) As Christians, it is our duty to demand accountability and a high standard from leaders. I hope this testimony will fulfill the mission intended.

Respectfully,

Dr. Arild Abrahamsen

From Walter Thompson
Chairman, 3ABN board of Directors
Regarding Danny's marriage

Dear Family and Friends of 3ABN,

Two years ago 3ABN was challenged by the most difficult battle the ministry has ever faced. It was a battle that threatened the very existence of the ministry and the work of preaching the end time message of the Three Angel's to the world. It is only because of the grace and power of God Almighty, and the faithful support of you, the 3ABN family, that the ministry has survived to preach another day. Today, the ministry is stronger than it has ever been and its reach into the world even broader and more powerful for the cause of truth.

As is always the case when in the public eye, questions arise, stories abound, and rumors spread. We thank God that you have trusted the leadership and board of 3ABN during this time and have stayed with us in ministry. More recently some of you have heard that Danny has found one to comfort him in his loneliness and sorrow. You may have also heard rumors about an allegedly illegal divorce occurring without Biblical grounds. This letter is an attempt to fill you in with the facts.

As chairman of the board I have been in the midst of this long and drawn out ordeal from the beginning. I was there when we counseled with Linda over and over again. I was present during the pleas and prayers, seeking to get her to give up her relationship with the doctor. I have seen and heard the evidence upon which the board has taken the action that it has taken. I have been one that has plead with Linda to keep her marriage and her ministry and offered to provide counseling for them. I have known Danny and Linda almost from the beginning of the ministry and have been in their home many times. They had a good marriage. It was not until this third party got in the middle did things begin to fall apart. It is also true that Danny really did want to get back together again, but when it became obvious that couldn't happen, he correctly had to close the door on that part of his history lest it destroy him and the ministry.

The divorce was a mutually agreed thing, even the choice to get it from Guam where there would be no long wait. Linda had originally planned to move to Las Vegas long enough to become a resident there so as to get a divorce there. They then discovered the possibility of a divorce from Guam, checked it out and found it to be legal, and decided to go that route. Though I believe Guam has now stopped the program, the legality of a Guam divorce had previously been taken to the U.S. Supreme Court where it was ruled legitimate. As chairman of the board, I did not try to influence the decision, but I will say that had they not obtained a quick divorce, the ministry would have been placed at much greater risk since the situation was causing so much dysfunction with leadership and staff. I believe time has verified the correctness of what was done then, both by Danny and by the board for the ministry.

Linda's web site recently stated that she and Danny were not divorced. She wrote this after the judge made the decision in Danny's favor. She claims she did not know this when she wrote it. Her web site referred to an e mail I sent to Johann Thorvaldson a year earlier saying that I had never accused her of adultery. I believe that exchange with him was in response to an accusation by him that we had fired her because of adultery. I was merely saying that she was not fired for adultery, but because she had defied the board in not discontinuing a relationship that was threatening to destroy the ministry. (I might add that the doctor also told me he would not break off the relationship, even though I pled with him to do so.) That letter to Johann was correct, and it is true that I have never directly accused her of adultery. That does not mean that I believe Linda is innocent. If by adultery one must be caught in bed with another person, I cannot prove Linda has committed adultery. If, on the other hand, hard evidence indicates that Linda was involved in an unacceptable relationship with another man qualifies for adultery, then there is no question about Danny's moral right to marry again. As a board, we have chosen not to make the details of the evidence available to the public. I believe Satan is the accuser of the brethern. We have chosen to take the "high road" in this whole situation and say nothing more than we have been forced to say to try to quell rumors. We care about Linda and have tried not to do anything to hurt her more than she has already been hurt. I can tell you that I personally spent a great deal of time at 3ABN during those months when this was all happening. I spoke with Linda and Danny on numerous occasions. A sub committee of the board met and prayed with Danny and Linda and pled with Linda to call off the relationship. Danny and Linda spent an 8 hour session with a pair of Christian counselors (non-Adventist in an attempt to avoid bias) who had no doubts about the nature of Linda's conduct. We offered to provide Linda with the opportunity to go away for counseling with a counselor agreeable to both she and us. She did not respond to that offer or request. Finally, the full board met, reviewed Linda's letter of explanation, and voted unanimously to remove her from the ministry and her seat on the board. Other church leaders who have been privy to some of the evidence we have are in full agreement with our decision.

The relationship Linda had with the Norwegian Dr. was not a normal doctor-patient relationship as she claims. It is true. Linda was very concerned about her son Nathan. He was the vehicle through which the Dr. reached Linda. Our evidence leaves no question that this became much more than a doctor-patient relationship. We know that the long hours on the phone together were not about Nathan and have hard evidence to support this knowledge - nor were times spent together on both sides of the Atlantic. Furthermore, she refused to break it off, even after weeks of pleading with her to do so. We, the board believe the evidence we have clearly justifies the divorce and gives Danny the moral and legal right to remarry. Those in church leadership with whom we have shared some of this evidence agree with us. Out of concern for Linda we have been reluctant to make details public.

No, Danny is not to blame for what has happened here. On the contrary, he has bent over backwards trying to make things work and meeting her requests. Yet, she has never acknowledged that it was wrong for her to have another "friend".

The things I have stated here are accurate and correct. As far as the lady Danny has married is concerned, I can only say I believe his new wife is a very good person and will be a real asset to him as he carries on his heavy responsibilities. Just to clarify any rumor you may have heard, this relationship began long after the divorce. I was at 3ABN when this lady came from Florida looking for work. There was nothing going on before that time, and Danny definitely was not trying to "dump" Linda. I was with him during much of the time he agonized and mourned her loss. It is one thing to lose a loved one in death. It is much different to lose one to another lover - like cutting a dog's tail off one inch at a time! As to the matter of age difference, I will say that I do not believe that is any of my business. I find nothing in the Bible, and I don't remember any thing in the SOP indicating age differences for married couples. If it is legal, and morally correct, and if entered into with honesty, sincerity and earnest prayer for God's guidance, as I know happened here, it is not for me to criticize. In my own musings about this, I have concluded that it was no accident that brought Brandy to 3ABN. Either the devil was behind it, or God was. There is no question in my mind which one it was.

(Archo Dart was for many years a family and marriage counselor in the Adventist church. When in his 80's, he married one of my patients, who was then in her 50's. She loved and admired him till death many years later.)

I have had an interesting thought this week that I will share with you. It is this. God lost one of his closest companions when Lucifer went astray. More than that, myriads more angels left with him when he left heaven. Talk about grief or emotional pain. Experiences such as this with Linda, I think, help us to understand the pain of loss, and the reality of the war between God and Satan. Some have claimed it takes two to divorce. I don't think that is categorically true!
This has been a terrible injury that has hit 3abn and Danny, and yes, Linda too, but it is one that I believe God understands - and He continues to bless his servants.

We recognize that we live in a world at war, and are working with a ministry that the devil would like to see destroyed. The war is real, and as in any other war there are real casualties. War is never pleasant, and spiritual battles may be some of the worst. Our hearts still ache for those who have been wounded. Our prayers continue to ascend on their behalf. Should acknowledgement of wrongdoing and penitence ever occur, we would be the first to forgive and forget. Unfortunately, that has not happened, and we must move on.

Some who have been aware of the growing relationship and the possibility of marriage have thought they should wait for a longer period of time before marrying. In discussions before the event, the 3ABN board reviewed the events of the past couple years and have agreed that there was no moral or legal reason precluding marriage. Realizing the heavy burdens resting on Danny and of his need for companionship, we, the board did not see any reason not to give our blessing to their union. We hope you, our 3ABN family, will agree too, and with us, welcome Brandy with open arms.

Should you have any questions that I might answer, please feel free to send them to me at 3ABN and I will do my best to try to answer them.

Sincerely in the precious name of Jesus,
Walter Thompson
Chairman, 3ABN Board of Directors
Walter Thompson MD

Powered by Invision Power Board (http://www.invisionboard.com)
© Invision Power Services (http://www.invisionpower.com)

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ The 3abn Massachusetts Lawsuit Poll

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jun 24 2007, 09:14 PM

The current 3ABN lawsuit filed in Massachusetts by Plaintiff Danny Shelton has the following statement:

"Although many of 3ABN's employees and volunteers, including Plaintiff Shelton, are members of the Seventh-Day Adventist faith, 3ABN is a non-denominational Christian ministry which is not owned by, affiliated with, or financed by any specific church, denomination, or organization."

This poll asks if you think 3ABN donors give money and other gifts to 3ABN with the stated knowledge and understanding as stated in the lawsuit.

Posted by: beartrap Jun 25 2007, 12:04 AM

QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jun 24 2007, 08:14 PM)

The current 3ABN lawsuit filed in Massachusetts by Plaintiff Danny Shelton has the following statement:

"Although many of 3ABN's employees and volunteers, including Plaintiff Shelton, are members of the Seventh-Day Adventist faith, 3ABN is a non-denominational Christian ministry which is not owned by, affiliated with, or financed by any specific church, denomination, or organization."

This poll asks if you think 3ABN donors give money and other gifts to 3ABN with the stated knowledge and understanding as stated in the lawsuit.

"Not affilitated with?" How about "Atlantic Union and 3ABN productions?" How about the production truck co-operated by them that was advertised on 3ABN? How about the ASI conventions? How about the GC Sessions? How about David Asscherik, Doug Bachelor, Kenneth Cox, Sean Boonstra, and the many other People on 3ABN telling everyone that the path to salvation is the doctrines of the SDA church? How about the many Seventh-day Adventist churches who have made 3ABN the recipient of their offerings?

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jun 25 2007, 12:16 AM

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jun 25 2007, 01:04 AM)

"Not affilitated with?" How about "Atlantic Union and 3ABN productions?" How about the production truck co-operated by them that was advertised on 3ABN? How about the ASI conventions? How about the GC Sessions? How about David Asscherik, Doug Bachelor, Kenneth Cox, Sean Boonstra, and the many other People on 3ABN telling everyone that the path to salvation is the doctrines of the SDA church? How about the many Seventh-day Adventist churches who have made 3ABN the recipient of their offerings?

Good Points, Beartrap!

Posted by: Artiste Jun 25 2007, 12:50 AM

I see Pastor Doug Batchelor and Mollie Steenson this evening having a warm and friendly discussion about his evangelism school--do you think that we will learn that AFCOE is non-denominational also?

****

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jun 25 2007, 12:57 AM

> QUOTE(Artiste @ Jun 25 2007, 12:50 AM)
>
> I see Pastor Doug Batchelor and Mollie Steenson this evening having a warm and friendly discussion about his evangelism school--do you think that we will learn that AFCOE is non-denominational also?
> **********

That would certainly be something to write home about, wouldn't it?

Posted by: Snoopy Jun 25 2007, 01:02 AM

> QUOTE(Artiste @ Jun 25 2007, 12:50 AM)
>
> I see Pastor Doug Batchelor and Mollie Steenson this evening having a warm and friendly discussion about his evangelism school--do you think that we will learn that AFCOE is non-denominational also?
> **********

Great point, Artiste! I wonder if Pastor Doug knew that he is planning a merger of his clearly affiliated Seventh-day Adventist evangelism/ministry with a non-denominational, independent, accountable-to-no-one organization...

Didn't I just read a post here where someone tried to contact AF about this fiasco but received a chilly response because AF thought the caller was connected with BSDA? Wonder how AF would respond now??? Having no connection with AF and a waning connection with the SDA church I am probably not the one to check that out. This is all really sad. I had just started to get interested in the church again but this is all a real turn-off. BTJM

Posted by: Fran Jun 25 2007, 03:02 AM

Thanks Panama;

This needed/begged to be asked. It shows that people are listening here!

If this same poll were taken in the churches, I believe there would be much confusion to begin with, but once the statement was read and heard, they woukd understand they have been down Primrose lane.

That sentence is like a slap in the face! It says to me, "I'll take all your money, but you & your church stink! We don't like them and don't even want to be associated with the likes of them, but hey folks, just keep on sending me what you have in your hand! Bring the tithes into the 3ABN storehouse and we will KEEP it, but you need to leave and go back from whence you came!

I am now going to have to get the dentist to replace all my teeth that fell out a few years ago when I realized this truth. I am just waiting for the real shocker to hit the fan in case I loose the rest of my teeth! rofl

There is a song that says, "Ive been redeemed." However, the song has been in my heart all day. but it sings;

"We've been deceived
by the wolf in sheep clothes!
By the thief in the night!
We've been deceived,

by the very elect. we've been deceived
Into his image we have become received.
We've been deceived
By the big bad wolf,

But into his heart
we have finally looked!
We've been deceived,
by the big bad wolf I've been deceived...!"

There is also a scripture that warns us that all we have done in secret will be brought to light. I have seen the intent to deceive for several years now. Now it is being made public. I pray that NOTHING will ever be impounded again!

Posted by: watchbird Jun 25 2007, 05:19 AM

What I'm waiting to see is a list of all of those "non-denominational" churches that have been supporting 3abn through the years.... and I want the list to include the names, dates, and places of his fund raising rallies that have been held in "non-denominational" venues!

Posted by: Observer Jun 25 2007, 05:46 AM

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jun 25 2007, 04:19 AM)

What I'm waiting to see is a list of all of those "non-denominational" churches that have been supporting 3abn through the years.... and I want the list to include the names, dates, and places of his fund raising rallies that have been held in "non-denominational" venues!

Excellent point!

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jun 25 2007, 06:10 AM

> QUOTE(Fran @ Jun 25 2007, 04:02 AM)
>
> I pray that NOTHING will ever be impounded again!

Me too!

Posted by: Noahswife Jun 25 2007, 08:30 AM

Well, holding true to form, my mother has once again proven to me she can rationalize anything involving 3abn. When I asked her how she felt about this position in the court documents, she told me it did not bother her at all. In fact she was glad that 3abn was not affiliated with the SDA church as it would limit the programs they would be able to air. When I asked about receiving ASI money, I was told they could receive money from anyone that supported them. When I asked about holding 3abn events in SDA churches, I was merely ignored.

So can I vote twice as I want to vote again for someone else.....

nw
C"i"

Posted by: watchbird Jun 25 2007, 09:33 AM

> QUOTE(Noahswife @ Jun 25 2007, 10:30 AM)
>
> Well, holding true to form, my mother has once again proven to me she can rationalize anything involving 3abn. When I asked her how she felt about this position in the court documents, she told me it did not bother her at all. In fact she was glad, 3abn was not affiliated with the SDA church as it would limit the programs they would be able to air. When I asked about receiving ASI money, I was told they could receive money from anyone that supported them. When I asked about holding 3abn events in SDA churches, I was merely ignored.
>
> So can I vote twice as I want to vote again for someone else.....
>
> nw
> C"i"

I'm really ingrigued about the part I've bolded above.

No.. you can't vote twice... but I'm not real sure there is any selection there that would be accurate in her case anyhow. Maybe there should have been a choice that said... I support 3abn because I want to... I don't care what they put on the air or who they are or are not "affiliated with".

Posted by: lurker Jun 25 2007, 10:07 AM

Unless the Lord intervenes, 3ABN is definately on the way out of the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

Posted by: LadyTenor Jun 25 2007, 10:27 AM

3ABN= THREE ANGELS' Broadcasting Network.

Does anyone know of any non-denominational churches that preach the Three Angel's Message? For that matter, does anyone know of any other denomination that preaches that message?

Anyone else see the irony here??

Posted by: Shepherdswife Jun 25 2007, 10:29 AM

QUOTE(Noahswife @ Jun 25 2007, 09:30 AM)

Well, holding true to form, my mother has once again proven to me she can rationalize anything involving 3abn. When I asked her how she felt about this position in the court documents, she told me it did not bother her at all. In fact she was glad, 3abn was not affiliated with the SDA church as it would limit the programs they would be able to air. When I asked about receiving ASI money, I was told they could receive money from anyone that supported them. When I asked about holding 3abn events in SDA churches, I was merely ignored.

Some people just really like Danny... !!

He has become like family to them. It is easy to think someone is wonderful when you never have any real face to face time with them. We had members in one district who never attended the local church--they just watched 3ABN. They couldn't get along with the local members, so this was "church" for them. Danny was their pastor, they would call the help line and the counseling line and complain about the local church, and send their money to Danny. It is easy for a phone "pastor" to placate someone, tell them what they want to hear, then hang up. You don't have to deal with the fallout or hold anyone accountable or face them the next week in church.

I'll never forget when our son, who was a teenager by then, learned of a family in another state who had begun attending church because of 3ABN. He said "Oh, I didn't know 3ABN brought people to church. I thought they watched it so they didn't have to go!" I had not thought of it that way, but that was the only thing he had been exposed to up to that point.

Posted by: Clay Jun 25 2007, 10:48 AM

QUOTE(Shepherdswife @ Jun 25 2007, 11:29 AM)

I'll never forget when our son, who was a teenager by then, learned of a family in another state who had begun attending church because of 3ABN. He said "Oh, I didn't know 3ABN brought people to church. I thought they watched it so they didn't have to go!" I had not thought of it that way, but that was the only thing he had been exposed to up to that point.

therein lies the problem, people are under the mistaken impression that 3abn has "brought people into the church." They have done no such thing. People are brought into the church by God. The bible makes that plain.
1Cor 3:1-7

QUOTE

My friends, you are acting like the people of this world. That's why I could not speak to you as spiritual people. You are like babies as far as your faith in Christ is concerned. (2) So I had to treat you like babies and feed you milk. You could not take solid food, and you still cannot, (3) because you are not yet spiritual. You are jealous and argue with each other. This proves that you are not spiritual and that you are acting like the people of this world. (4) Some of you say that you follow me, and others claim to follow Apollos. Isn't that how ordinary people behave? (5) Apollos and I are merely servants who helped you to have faith. It was the Lord who made it all happen. (6) I planted the seeds, Apollos watered them, but God made them sprout and grow. (7) What matters isn't those who planted or watered, but God who made the plants grow.

So we probably need to re-educate ourselves and reject the hype by those who point to 3abn as bringing people into the church, they did not bring anyone, God did....

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jun 25 2007, 11:09 AM

QUOTE(Clay @ Jun 25 2007, 09:48 AM)

therein lies the problem, people are under the mistaken impression that 3abn has "brought people into the church." They have done no such thing. People are brought into the church by God. The bible makes that plain.
1Cor 3:1-7

So we probably need to re-educate ourselves and reject the hype by those who point to 3abn as bringing people into the church, they did not bring anyone, God did....

Great points, Clay and I almost totally agree with you. My only exception is that the type of seed is also vitally important. If you plant bad seed, you tend to grow a weed, IMO.

Posted by: FineArt Jun 25 2007, 11:29 AM

I am thinking about the commission that God gave the apostles. "Go into all the world teaching and baptizing....." .[paraphrase] and realize he wants to use people to save souls. The parables teach this. Yes, the Holy Spirit convicts and converts and no heart can fall in love with Jesus without the Holy Spirit...

God needs EMPTY VESSELS to use...that is what is hard to find. We are so full of ourselves. I am so full of myself where is there room for Jesus,

Some are used in spite of themselves.....even Judas worked miracles.

Posted by: Clay Jun 25 2007, 11:33 AM

QUOTE(FineArt @ Jun 25 2007, 12:29 PM)

I am thinking about the commission that God gave the apostles. "Go into all the world teaching and baptizing....." .[paraphrase] and realize he wants to use people to save souls. The parables teach this. Yes, the Holy Spirit convicts and converts and no heart can fall in love with Jesus without the Holy Spirit...

God needs EMPTY VESSELS to use...that is what is hard to find. We are so full of ourselves. I am so full of myself where is there room for Jesus, better rendering would be "go make disciples." I would submit that it has been the "teaching and baptizing" hat has lead to the mess we find ourselves in. Making disciples encompasses more than just teaching and baptizing, as we are finding out given the attrition rate of the church.

Some are used in spite of themselves.....even Judas worked miracles.

Posted by: FineArt Jun 25 2007, 11:50 AM

finart said:
God needs EMPTY VESSELS to use...that is what is hard to find. We are so full of ourselves. I am so full of myself where is there room for Jesus,

Some are used in spite of themselves.....even Judas worked miracles.

Clay, i agree and the problem is what i have stated above.....where are the empty vessles? Disciples are willing to follow Him where ever He leads. Following Jesus is not following man but man can point to Jesus. and a wise man follows Jesus in His strength not mans.

I guess i said man enough times. I guess i am puting this in the context of DS .

Posted by: Clay Jun 25 2007, 12:04 PM

fair enough.... perhaps what you are suggesting is that if we introduce people to Jesus fully and completely, and get out of the way He would work miracles in their lives, but we seem to get in the way?

Posted by: sdaguy Jun 25 2007, 12:28 PM

I did vote, of course for the, "Donors give thinking 3ABN is somehow part of the mission of the Seventh-day Adventist Church, a specific denomination." But, I really believe that 3ABN is part of the mission of the SDA Church!

I have a question; "I heard to something like this, "That the GC back in the early 90's tried to have 3ABN part of the GC, which Danny said, 'NO!' So, then the GC back down and Danny had a "Joint Declaration of Commitment" drawn up between the two. Therefore, Danny is using that "Declaration" to fleece the SDA flock for money." Does anyone here really believes that lie?

For that is NOT TRUE! "The Joint Declaration of Commitment" between 3ABN and the GC shows that 3ABN is one in mission with the GC! Therefore, all the "Donors give thinking 3ABN is somehow part of the mission of the Seventh-day Adventist Church," are very right to believe this and thus are right to give their money to 3ABN! For sure, the, "Joint Declaration of Commitment" is the very heart of 3ABN!!!

Posted by: erik Jun 25 2007, 01:31 PM

Forum friends of Danny,

The sentence in the lawsuit that got this whole poll going is the first of what i am sure will be tons of sentences that will hurt Danny case and the support of 3abn much more then the will web sites of Blacksda and Save3abn.com

The lawyers ware going to try to win he case in court, and Danny might very well win and even win big in court. But he will most likely find that winning in court and winning the hearts and souls of teh Sda church back are two very different creatures.

I hope for his sake that he finds the path of forgiveness and and drops the lawsuit, because the only ones winning right are the lawyers that are collecting checks.

erik

Posted by: FineArt Jun 25 2007, 02:17 PM

QUOTE(Clay @ Jun 25 2007, 02:04 PM)

fair enough.... perhaps what you are suggesting is that if we introduce people to Jesus fully and completely, and get out of the way He would work miracles in their lives, but we seem to get in the way?

You surely say that better than i did....that is exactly what i mean.

Posted by: watchbird Jun 25 2007, 02:44 PM

QUOTE(FineArt @ Jun 25 2007, 01:50 PM)

finart said:
God needs EMPTY VESSELS to use...that is what is hard to find. We are so full of ourselves. I am so full of myself where is there room for Jesus,

What I'm wondering is where the "empty vessels" concept came from.....

Posted by: FineArt Jun 25 2007, 03:27 PM

Well WB,

Matt. 25: 1-13 could be of help.

There is a strong princible throughout the Bible that man can be posessed by the devil or by the Holy Spirit. Man is the vessel as you know. Man is the one who fills self with self.....or allows God to fill him with His Spirit. You either walk in the flesh or walk in the spirit.

You know the answer, you just want to play.

Act 9:15 But the Lord said unto him, Go thy way: for he is a chosen vessel unto me, to bear my name before the Gentiles, and kings, and the children of Israel:

2Ti 2:21 If a man therefore purge himself from these, he shall be a vessel unto honour, sanctified, and meet for the master's use, and prepared unto every good work.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jun 25 2007, 03:52 PM

QUOTE(sdaguy @ Jun 25 2007, 01:28 PM)

I did vote, of course for the, "Donors give thinking 3ABN is somehow part of the mission of the Seventh-day Adventist Church, a specific denomination." But, I really believe that 3ABN is part of the mission of the SDA Church!

I have a question; "I heard to something like this, "That the GC back in the early 90's tried to have 3ABN part of the GC, which Danny said, 'NO!' So, then the GC back down and Danny had a "Joint Declaration of Commitment" drawn up between the two. Therefore, Danny is using that "Declaration" to fleece the SDA flock for money." Does anyone here really believes that lie?

For that is NOT TRUE! "The Joint Declaration of Commitment" between 3ABN and the GC shows that 3ABN is one in mission with the GC! Therefore, all the "Donors give thinking 3ABN is somehow part of the mission of the Seventh-day Adventist Church," are very right to believe this and thus are right to give their money to 3ABN! For sure, the, "Joint Declaration of Commitment" is the very heart of 3ABN!!!

You make some very good points, Sdaguy. However, let me put this case into some context. Danny Shelton, Plaintiff, has asked for a jury trial. The document says this:

JURY DEMAND
Plaintiff hereby demands a trial by jury for all issues so triable.

So, we have to consider what a group of typical Massachusetts jurors will believe. Will a group of people, taken randomly off the streets, believe what Sdaguy believes?

I think that Danny Shelton fully intends to present the theory published in his lawsuit and submitted into court.

That theory seems to be that 3ABN is not affiliated with any specific denomination, and therefore, the Save3ABN.com Web site is off base and has absolutely no business holding 3ABN up to the specific denominational standards of the Seventh-day Adventist Church, or any other church or organization, since 3ABN - the corporation -- does not necessarily subscribe to those doctrines, being an independent, non-denominational ministry.

Furthermore, Danny's lawyers may instruct the jurors that they should agree with Danny Shelton and be equally puzzled as to why a group from one particular denomination would be holding 3ABN up to the standards of their own, peculiar, but irrelevant denomination.

I think they wanted the lawsuit sealed -- in part -- because they plan to deny their connections and involvement with the SDA Church -- to win at any cost -- and they didn't want their donors to see them do that.

Then, after 3ABN wins their suit (supposedly) it's back to the Adventist Churches to shake down the membership for donations to help "counteract the counterfeit" and present their "undiluted Three Angels' messages," no worse for wear.

That's my take.

Posted by: mozart Jun 25 2007, 05:02 PM

God's Truth and our Christian friends and family is our church Snoop. that's where the blessing is. IMO- the "organization" is more like a thorn in our side. something we have to persevere with until we see there is no more hope for it to ever walk that straight and narrow path. some say that the organization won't ever fall. personally, i think that it's awful close and has been on the tippy-toe edge for a long time. JMHO

QUOTE(Snoopy @ Jun 25 2007, 01:02 AM)

Great point, Artiste! I wonder if Pastor Doug knew that he is planning a merger of his clearly affiliated Seventh-day Adventist evangelism/ministry with a non-denominational, independent, accountable-to-no-one organization...

Didn't I just read a post here where someone tried to contact AF about this fiasco but received a chilly response because AF thought the caller was connected with BSDA? Wonder how AF would respond now??? Having no connection with AF and a waning connection with the SDA church I am probably not the one to check that out. This is all really sad. I had just started to get interested in the church again but this is all a real turn-off. BTJM well, i think that the "defendents" just need to gather documented evidence that shows 3ABN stating it is SDA. is it possible that we all have just "assumed" that all these years? as someone stated above, why would they have a "cease fire" agreement with the GC of a church that they are "not affiliated with"? (i remember when that happened and DS had the GC president on "Live 3ABN" to announce their truce and agreed cooperation) to me, this "non-affiliation" statement is huge and extremely sad. it is in the Biblical sense, "spiritual betrayal & adultery" on the highest level. DS is blatantly stating no affiliation with the church he has supposedly represented all these years just for the purpose of manipulating a jury to win a lawsuit. sounds much like judas to me.

just when i think i can't be shocked anymore.

Posted by: mikell Jun 25 2007, 06:45 PM

I think that Danny Shelton fully intends to present the theory published in his lawsuit and submitted into court.

That theory seems to be that 3ABN is not affiliated with any specific denomination, and therefore, the Save3ABN.com Web site is off base and has absolutely no business holding 3ABN up to the specific denominational standards of the Seventh-day Adventist Church, or any other church or organization, since 3ABN - the corporation -- does not necessarily subscribe to those doctrines, being an independent, non-denominational ministry.

Furthermore, Danny's lawyers may instruct the jurors that they should agree with Danny Shelton and be equally puzzled as to why a group from one particular denomination would be holding 3ABN up to the standards of their own, peculiar, but irrelevant denomination.

I think they wanted the lawsuit sealed -- in part -- because they plan to deny their connections and involvement with the SDA Church -- to win at any cost -- and they didn't want their donors to see them do that.

Then, after 3ABN wins their suit (supposedly) it's back to the Adventist Churches to shake down the membership for donations to help "counteract the counterfeit" and present their "undiluted Three Angels' messages," no worse for wear.

That's my take.
[/quote]
Ha, if your thesis is corrrect, Danny will SOON get rid of "Joint Declaration of Commitment" off his 3ABN site!
BTW, Do you know if the GC tried to make 3ABN apart of them? Did Danny then say no, but had that "Joint Declaration of Commitment" made for the GC to sign, thus to use it to raise money from gullible Adventists?

PS, I personally beleive your thesis is right,

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jun 25 2007, 07:08 PM

QUOTE(mikell @ Jun 25 2007, 07:45 PM)

Ha, if your thesis is corrrect, Danny will SOON get rid of "Joint Declaration of Commitment" off his 3ABN site!

BTW, Do you know if the GC tried to make 3ABN apart of them? Did Danny then say no, but had that "Joint Declaration of Commitment" made for the GC to sign, thus to use it to raise money from gullible Adventists?

PS, I personally beleive your thesis is right,

Hello Mikell,

Thanks for the vote of confidence.

These issues have been discussed or mentioned on BSDA in the past in various places. For instance, here is some information concerning 3ABN that Clay posted when he came across it. It appears to be from Adventist Today . It might be of some interest to you.:

http://www.blacksda.com/forums/lofiversion/index.php/t1780.html

QUOTE(Clay @ Aug 23 2004, 07:53 AM)

Found this while browsing for those who might be interested.... I found it interesting because it speaks to not the ministry per se of 3ABN but how those in power at 3ABN begin to influence the church at large..... with humans, power corrupts.....

"Nomination Process of NAD President Appears "Less Than Clean"
What was whispered

It appears that some individuals may have tried to exercise influence behind the scenes at the General Conference Session in Toronto.

Seven different sources (all nominating committee members) told AT's one anonymous source that Jan Paulsen told the NAD nominating committee members when they were in caucus that if they nominated Chuck Sandefur for NAD president, a prominent member of the Adventist Laymen's Services and Industries (ASI) would oppose that nomination on the floor and present incriminating information regarding the partnership of the Adventist hospitals in Denver with Catholic hospitals.

According to AT's source, three nominating committee members indicated that Paulsen also implied "problems" of a similar nature with Tom Mostert. This made the NAD nominating committee members feel that Paulsen left them no choice but to go with the name Paulsen seemed to recommend, Don Schneider. In fairness, it appears that the votes were there to give Schneider a majority in any case.

Four individuals confirmed with AT's source that Phil Follett, the general Vice President of the GC who provided administrative oversight for communications and broadcasting, was not re-elected because ASI and 3ABN leaders pressured Paulsen to make a change.

Paulsen met with each of the VPs months prior to the GC session to inquire about their intentions. Both Follett and Kloosterhuis told Paulsen they would like to continue to serve but would be happy to step aside if he wished since they are eligible for retirement. They asked to be informed of any change as early as possible so that they could prepare their families and make plans for the future.

Apparently, Follett and Kloosterhuis were not informed of any change until a few hours prior to the nominating committee report, which proposed different individuals for their jobs. The time frame for what appears to be a last-minute change on the part of Paulsen is contiguousl with that of the time frame when conversations relative to NAD president were going on.

Three sources told AT's source that Follett has been involved in a series of conflicts with 3ABN over the past several years. These have mostly been situations in which 3ABN wanted to use programs which the denomination paid to produce under its own terms instead of the general guidelines under which those programs were available to all broadcasters.

According the AT's sources, 3ABN has repeatedly expressed an unwillingness to accept the editorials and production decisions of most denominational media organizations. For example, when Robert Folkenberg was GC president he attempted to negotiate an agreement with 3ABN in which 3ABN would be given direct access to all of the programming that it wanted from denominational TV ministries. 3ABN refused to sign this agreement because it did not want to release Faith for Today nor promise to continue to release Breath of Life after C.D. Brooks' retirement. Only It Is Written was entirely acceptable.
3ABN also wanted dominance of local church programming and broadcasting around North America. AT's sources suspect that pressure to block Follett's re-election came from issues of this kind. Two of them described Paulsen's agony over not wanting to be influenced by major donors but that he was feeling great pressure.

The GC officers used the provision in the GC bylaws permitting additional at-large delegates to be appointed by the GC committee to invite Danny Shelton, president of 3ABN, and others to come to the GC session as delegates even though they were not selected as delegates by the union conference where they reside."

Posted by: SoulEspresso Jun 25 2007, 08:19 PM

QUOTE(mozart @ Jun 25 2007, 04:02 PM)

God's Truth and our Christian friends and family is our church Snoop. that's where the blessing is. IMO-the "organization" is more like a thorn in our side. something we have to persevere with until we see there is no more hope for it to ever walk that straight and narrow path. some say that the organization won't ever fall. personally, i think that it's awful close and has been on the tippy-toe edge for a long time.

If we preoccupy ourselves with the organization we'll get really depressed and lose our focus. I know. Story of my life for the last five years. Jesus, you and your friends--that's church.

Posted by: Snoopy Jun 25 2007, 08:30 PM

QUOTE(SoulEspresso @ Jun 25 2007, 08:19 PM)

If we preoccupy ourselves with the organization we'll get really depressed and lose our focus. I know. Story of my life for the last five years. Jesus, you and your friends--that's church.

Soul, I think I would truly enjoy being a member of your congregation.

Posted by: steffan Jun 25 2007, 09:28 PM

QUOTE(Clay @ Jun 25 2007, 11:48 AM)

therein lies the problem, people are under the mistaken impression that 3abn has "brought people into the church." They have done no such thing. People are brought into the church by God. The bible makes that plain.
1Cor 3:1-7

So we probably need to re-educate ourselves and reject the hype by those who point to 3abn as bringing people into the church, they did not bring anyone, God did....

Of course God brings people in but...he uses people and tools to do it. Just like a person that has prayed for healing and receives it through a good surgeons hands. God worked through that surgeon to make the sick person well. Same here. God has, is and will use 3abn to take the message to those that might not ever hear it otherwise.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jun 25 2007, 10:03 PM

QUOTE(steffan @ Jun 25 2007, 10:28 PM)

Of course God brings people in but...he uses people and tools to do it. Just like a person that has prayed for healing and receives it through a good surgeons hands. God worked through that surgeon to make the sick person well. Same here. God has, is and will use 3abn to take the message to those that might not ever hear it otherwise.

When you say "the message" are you referring to the unique, non-denominational "Return to God" message that 3ABN has worked tirelessly to promote since its inception?

'Since its inception, Shelton and 3ABN have worked tirelessly to promote 3ABN's ministry and to spread its unique, non-denominational "Return to God" message.'

as quoted in

Three Angels Broadcasting Network, Inc.,
an Illinois non-profit corporation, and
Danny Lee Shelton, individually,
Plaintiffs,
v.
Gailon Arthur Joy and Robert Pickle,
Defendants.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jun 25 2007, 10:17 PM

QUOTE(steffan @ Jun 25 2007, 07:28 PM)

Of course God brings people in but...he uses people and tools to do it. Just like a person that has prayed for healing and receives it through a good surgeons hands. God worked through that surgeon to make the sick person well. Same here. God has, is and will use 3abn to take the message to those that might not ever hear it otherwise.

'es, Steffan, what IS the 3abn message? Since you are in closely involved with the inner workings of the ninistry, please provide us with a synopsis of what "the message" is. I thought I knew, but obviously I ıssumed incorrectly.

, for one, seriously want to hear and understand.

Posted by: Observer Jun 26 2007, 02:46 AM

QUOTE(steffan @ Jun 25 2007, 08:28 PM) ☐

Of course God brings people in but...he uses people and tools to do it. Just like a person that has prayed for healing and receives it through a good surgeons hands. God worked through that surgeon to make the sick person well. Same here. God has, is and will use 3abn to take the message to those that might not ever hear it otherwise.

Steffan, I have a sermon that I love to preach about a woman who began her journey back to God, while sitting on a stool at a bar, on a Friday night!

guess that you might say that God used that alcoholic beverage establishment, and the men and women drinking there to bring a woman back to God.

There once was a Broadway play, and later a hollywood movie entitled JESUS CHRIST SUPERSTAR that started people on their journey to God.

guess you might say that God used that medium to bring someone back to God.

am reminded of another Christian who began his journey back to God at a time when life had no meaning or him. He was considering ending it all. But he made a telephone call--to a sex talk line, where you pay by he minute. The woman at the other end of the conversation left her script, told him that he seemed lepressed, and asked him what was going on in his life. He shared with her. She told him that he needed to ›ay attention to his spirituality. They talked more, and as the conversation ended he had made a decision to eturn to the SDA faith that he had left many years ago.

guess that you might say that God used that pay by the minute sex talk line to bring one to God.

was recently reviewing the life story of a SDA pastor. His journey to God began when a Claymore mine blew ıim into a rice paddy in Viet Nam.

guess that you might say that God used the death and destruction of Viet Nam to bring one to Christ.

have another perspective on all of the above: God goes in human life wherever is needed to reach people vith the mesage of salvation. God went into the bar that Friday night. God was present on the rice paddy in /iet Nam. God was even present in that man taling to the pay by the minute sex talk line. But, the issues is God. The issue was not either the sex talk line, or the war in Viet Nam.

'ou say that God has used 3-ABN. In truth, I do not challenge such a statement. I have financially contributed to 3-ABN. But, I do challenge your assumption that because people have come to a Christ in a ourney that first began with 3-ABN, that God supports what is happening at 3-ABN. I do not think that God supported the alcoholic beverage establishment that was serving drinks to the men an women that Friday evening.

Posted by: LaurenceD Jun 26 2007, 06:13 AM

There are good people on 3abn who bring souls to, or back to, Christ. In His spirit they have a selfless way about them and you can tell who they are.

Then there are those who take their message to the world for a price. They have this air about them--a kind of self-facination, or self-infatuation--and you can tell who they are. A couple months ago I saw a program where one of the lay persons was preaching to an audience. In the middle of his sermon he thought he'd made a remarkable point somehow, and couldn't imagine how he'd come up with such a good thought by himself. He hesitated mid-sermon, saying, "where did that come from?" (wow!) and explained how he never knows what he's going to say, and thanked the Lord for that last sentence.

So, I think it's a mixture.

The former tend to talk with people. The latter tend to talk to people, or down to people. I wouldn't hold my breath hoping this character steffan will stoop to talk with you here on the internet. If you haven't noticed, he's kind of a "hit and run" conversationalist.

Posted by: Clay Jun 26 2007, 08:03 AM

QUOTE(steffan @ Jun 25 2007, 10:28 PM)

Of course God brings people in but...he uses people and tools to do it. Just like a person that has prayed for healing and receives it through a good surgeons hands. God worked through that surgeon to make the sick person well. Same here. God has, is and will use 3abn to take the message to those that might not ever hear it otherwise.

arrogantly incorrect.... If God wants a person to hear something he has for them, they will hear it and as Greg has pointed out, God can use any means to do so. I think you and others of your mindset have got it twisted. Its not about 3abn, its about God. So your statement suggesting that 3abn took "the message" to those that might not ever hear it otherwise is an untruth. If not by 3abn, those that God wanted reach He would have....

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jun 26 2007, 08:12 AM

Pete, Gregory, LaurenceD, Clay: [x]

Posted by: sonshineonme Jun 26 2007, 09:13 AM

QUOTE(Clay @ Jun 26 2007, 07:03 AM)

arrogantly incorrect.... If God wants a person to hear something he has for them, they will hear it and as Greg has pointed out, God can use any means to do so. I think you and others of your mindset have got it twisted. Its not about 3abn, its about God. So your statement suggesting that 3abn took "the message" to those that might not ever hear it otherwise is an untruth. If not by 3abn, those that God wanted reach He would have....

You have made a good discovery here Clay. There are some that believe (and yes, I'm talking about the on the inside as well) that 3abn was a GIFT from GOD, that it is the ONLY "one" that can do a particular task, and if it fails, the GIFT is lost completely, in other words, God is not able to raise up something else to accomplish the same thing. So, it can not be done by someone/something else.

I believe that this idea has been abused - "they" have taught others to think this is the case (again, "taught" to those inside too) and so those who believe this are not only fighting for their paychecks, but for this idea. So, theologically speaking, I have had this round-dee-round with some on this idea, and I have seen how tightly believed this is. I also think many are using this idea to keep the "image" of 3abn and 3abn alive, because it has always worked before, they intend to stick to it. They may not come right out and say it, but it has been said to me, on a number of occasions.

I attempted to remind these people exactly what you have stated - practically word for word. It is almost cult-like to hear their response. I sit in amazement and think two things instantly:

1. Oh, I see, GOD is limited or limited the situation intentionally??
2. This is typical shortsided view of God, arrogance thinking one is more privileged then a nother (which obviously leads to human failure either way), and to attempt to control God and pump the pews for whatever 'man' decides is needed.

I have even had examples of bible characters (of course!) used to affirm this thinking on their part.

I don't buy it. Maybe I am wrong.

What happens with God has a mission for someone/some group, and they fail? How can people truly think that the results for that mission are forever gone, and it lays on the hands of those that failed?

If this were the true belief however, I mean DEEP DOWN REAL, don't you think these people would not do MANY of the things that they have done knowing that they are taking advantage of God's blessings, but also risking losing it all together, as is now happening? The way I see it, either way, THEY made choices to take it down, no one else did it for them, as they would like to blame everyone else...again there is that arrogance!! They should be able to abuse God their way, and everyone should let them. BROTHER!

Posted by: SoulEspresso Jun 26 2007, 09:42 AM

Many salient points here, I especially enjoyed Greg's--God loves people so much, He makes Himself the grandest Opportunist there ever was. Some years ago God touched me through Van Halen, for example.

What gets me mad is this idea that if we can get our satellite channels into enough countries, the "gospel will go to the world" and "the work will be finished." Even if everybody in the whole world knew the facts about the "Three Angels' Message," they wouldn't be saved--it isn't knowing facts, but knowing God. Knowing God has to be nurtured through real-world, real-life, relationships, best ministered through other people in the church (NOT talking about pastors--some yes, some no).

God will make sure every person on earth gets a fair shot at salvation with or without us. Recommended reading for lurkers and denizens: Why Didn't They Tell Me? by Morris Venden.

Malcolm Muggeridge used to say that "the medium is the message," ergo putting the gospel on TV was like banging out hymns on a half-tuned brothel piano. I don't know that I would go that far. God does use religious TV, and I hope He keeps using 3ABN; far be it from me to say that He can't. But if He does, that doesn't make 3ABN special, because there's nothing God won't use in His reckless, raging love for and pursuit of people.

But I'd think that channel would be more effective in that work if it were being run by sanctified individuals. To claim service to God and then display the kind of dishonesty (etc) that Danny, Walt & Co have, is to take the Lord's Name in vain.

Posted by: sonshineonme Jun 26 2007, 09:50 AM

QUOTE(SoulEspresso @ Jun 26 2007, 08:42 AM)

Many salient points here, I especially enjoyed Greg's--God loves people so much, He makes Himself the grandest Opportunist there ever was. Some years ago God touched me through Van Halen, for example.

What gets me mad is this idea that if we can get our satellite channels into enough countries, the "gospel will go to the world" and "the work will be finished." Even if everybody in the whole world knew the facts about the "Three Angels' Message," they wouldn't be saved--it isn't knowing facts, but knowing God. Knowing God has to be nurtured through real-world, real-life, relationships, best ministered through other people in the church (NOT talking about pastors--some yes, some no).

God will make sure every person on earth gets a fair shot at salvation with or without us. Recommended reading for lurkers and denizens: Why Didn't They Tell Me? by Morris Venden.

Malcolm Muggeridge used to say that "the medium is the message," ergo putting the gospel on TV was like banging out hymns on a half-tuned brothel piano. I don't know that I would go that far. God does use religious TV, and I hope He keeps using 3ABN; far be it from me to say that He can't. But if He does, that doesn't make 3ABN special, because there's nothing God won't use in His reckless, raging love for and pursuit of people.

But I'd think that channel would be more effective in that work if it were being run by sanctified individuals. To claim service to God and then display the kind of dishonesty (etc) that Danny, Walt & Co have, is to take the Lord's Name in vain.

SE, I have used these same words...same idea...same same same!! And they look at me in a blank stare, not wanting to give up their thinking. It's scares me to see this. It's simply logic, based on God's love, and yet they don't see it!!! What does this tell you? Or me? I've talked till I'm blue in the face...it falls on brainwashed ears.

Posted by: SoulEspresso Jun 26 2007, 10:06 AM

QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jun 26 2007, 08:50 AM)

SE, I have used these same words...same idea...same same same!! And they look at me in a blank stare, not wanting to give up their thinking. It's scares me to see this. It's simply logic, based on God's love, and yet they don't see it!!! What does this tell you? Or me? I've talked till I'm blue in the face...it falls on brainwashed ears.

C.S. Lewis said somewhere (I think) that people are used by God either as sons/daughters or as tools. The difference is willingness. His children often are given choices as to how they serve, and their service plays out through the relationship with the Father. What makes me tremble both for the church and for the individual souls who are running 3ABN is that they think they're serving as sons, but because of their moral apostasy, God may actually be using them as tools. What He does with them, they may not like at the end of it.

It's God's desire to work with everyone as His children, but sometimes He has to send them through some stuff they don't like to get them there. 'Nother book: I Was Wrong by Jim Bakker. Seems pertinent. Germane. Relevant. Salient. Wonder if the 3ABN board has read that.

Posted by: sonshineonme Jun 26 2007, 10:17 AM

QUOTE(SoulEspresso @ Jun 26 2007, 09:06 AM)

C.S. Lewis said somewhere (I think) that people are used by God either as sons/daughters or as tools. The difference is willingness. His children often are given choices as to how they serve, and their service plays out through the relationship with the Father. What makes me tremble both for the church and for the individual souls who are running 3ABN is that they think they're serving as sons, but because of their moral apostasy, God may actually be using them as tools. What He does with them, they may not like at the end of it.

It's God's desire to work with everyone as His children, but sometimes He has to send them through some stuff they don't like to get them there. 'Nother book: I Was Wrong by Jim Bakker. Seems pertinent. Germane. Relevant. Salient. Wonder if the 3ABN board has read that.

I myself need to reminded of my worked out perception (this is to say CLEARER) of God and His love for us, especially when it comes to expectations on/for us (those in ministry - paid and personal) that HE GETS THE JOB DONE and it's our PRIVILEGE to be part of it...that it WILL GET DONE either way. I have ALWAYS had trouble with this way that the "responsibility" of saving people had been put on people to do, because I have NEVER seen it lead to good things - EVER!!!

This is why I go through this process again and again with those I talk to with the mentality (again, I think it's also an excuse for some) that it's their job to play God on earth...I can see the danger, I can see where it has led them, and I can see the crapola it does to their minds...and God help us help them see it. To me, what's worse? Not knowing God at all? Or being and making god's of things/institutions? They are both bad, right? Yet you have the text "...that you would be hot or cold", so we know that God does not like luke warm! That scares me too, because I find that as I weed thru the garbage, throwing this and that out, finding my way to "hot", I feel like I am LUKEWARM! This comes from being immersed in legalism for so many years, and knowing there is junk from that to get rid of, and getting real is painful for all of us...no matter what "thinking" we are coming from. The "3abn religion" or "legalism" or what every man has made for themselves to worship.

Hopefully, what ever "religion" you have, you have not become so heart-hardened (isn't that an irony, oxy-moron) that God can't get you to where He wants you...we do have to let go, all of us at some point, and start over (if you will).

Posted by: Fran Jun 26 2007, 08:01 PM

QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jun 26 2007, 11:17 AM)

I myself need to reminded of my worked out perception (this is to say CLEARER) of God and His love for us, especially when it comes to expectations on/for us (those in ministry - paid and personal) that HE GETS THE JOB DONE and it's our PRIVILEGE to be part of it...that it WILL GET DONE either way. I have ALWAYS had trouble with this way that the "responsibility" of saving people had been put on people to do, because I have NEVER seen it lead to good things - EVER!!!

This is why I go through this process again and again with those I talk to with the mentality (again, I think it's also an excuse for some) that it's their job to play God on earth...I can see the danger, I can see where it has led them, and I can see the crapola it does to their minds...and God help us help them see it. To me, what's worse? Not knowing God at all? Or being and making god's of things/institutions? They are both bad, right? Yet you have the text "...that you would be hot or cold", so we know that God does not like luke warm! That scares me too, because I find that as I weed thru the garbage, throwing this and that out, finding my way to "hot", I feel like I am LUKEWARM! This comes from being immersed in legalism for so many years, and knowing there is junk from that to get rid of, and getting real is painful for all of us...no matter what "thinking" we are coming from. The "3abn religion" or "legalism" or what every man has made for themselves to worship.

Hopefully, what ever "religion" you have, you have not become so heart-hardened (isn't that an irony, oxy-moron) that God can't get you to where He wants you...we do have to let go, all of us at some point, and start over (if you will).

Thanks

Posted by: mystery- man Jun 26 2007, 11:55 PM

Maybe even a better example is the Jewish people who were definitly working for their father the devil and yet despite all God used them to fufill the prophecy "He was despised and rejected of men" and the statement "you seek to kill me". In the end these people who professed to be the servants of God and His representation killed the very Son of God. Now you might say to yourself what wonderful priest and leaders without which the Son of God would not have been nailed to a cross naked and spit upon. Are you so blinded that you can not see their is no virtue in sin and the end does not justify the means. Even Judas was used by God, was not their a prophecy that he would be sold for 30 peices of silver, and by Judas own hand the prophecy was fufilled. Yet God said of that man it would have been better that he was never born.

Posted by: steffan Jun 26 2007, 11:55 PM

QUOTE(SoulEspresso @ Jun 26 2007, 10:42 AM)

But I'd think that channel would be more effective in that work if it were being run by sanctified individuals. To claim service to God and then display the kind of dishonesty (etc) that Danny, Walt & Co have, is to take the Lord's Name in vain.

Actually what is taking the Lord's name in vain is what you are doing here by making the above statement when you have not been an eyewitness to any of the allegations nor has any against Danny and the board been proven. Our judgement will be measured out accordingly as we judge others. That means it's bad enough to judge others that we know personally, work with, have experiences with, but to make such judgements by what you read or have been told is inexcusable.

Posted by: mystery- man Jun 27 2007, 12:17 AM

Steffan, I have read what 3abn has said that they are non denominational, in your opinion is that really true? Amazing facts, It Is Written, and must I go on and on I believe are adventist ministries. I have not seen Pat Roberston or Jimmy Swaggart or Oral Roberts and on 3abn. I feel like screaming when I see what is written, must we remain stupid and in a sleep forever?

Posted by: Pickle Jun 27 2007, 02:07 AM

QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jun 25 2007, 04:52 PM)

I think that Danny Shelton fully intends to present the theory published in his lawsuit and submitted into court.

That theory seems to be that 3ABN is not affiliated with any specific denomination, and therefore, the Save3ABN.com Web site is off base and has absolutely no business holding 3ABN up to the specific denominational standards of the Seventh-day Adventist Church, or any other church or organization, since 3ABN - the corporation -- does not necessarily subscribe to those doctrines, being an independent, non-denominational ministry.

n my opinion, it is a fatal flaw in their logic to then go on and allege that Gailon and I have frequented web ites that Adventists read.

)ut of all the denominations out there, Adventists are a small part of Christianity. Presumably, if they are ion-denominational with a non-denominational message, they are receiving significant support from all aiths, and if all their Adventist donors quit giving, it really wouldn't affect them all that much.

Vhen will they acknowledge the utter futility of all of this?

QUOTE(Snoopy @ Jun 25 2007, 02:02 AM)

I had just started to get interested in the church again but this is all a real turn-off. BTJM

Quite natural to think thoughts like that, but who might be putting them into our heads?

Having Judas as one of the 12 was certainly a turn off, and Peter (who denied), Thomas (who doubted), Philip who was a bit slow), and James and John (who wanted to burn down a village that didn't invite them home or dinner) maybe didn't help much.

And Ananias and Saphira, and Simon Magus, and the other James who didn't like Paul (which is what led to Paul's arrest), the list of imperfect people whom God wasn't finished with yet goes on and on.

). M. Canright, in a vision Ellen White had, wanted to get out of the boat (because someone told him an idea ie had was wrong) into some better boat. That's what he did, but it sounds like he never really was happy.

Ve need to stay in the ship. The sinners in Zion will be shaken out. God will purify His people. And in the end, ve'll all know that He was the one who did it, because no one else could.

Posted by: Johann Jun 27 2007, 03:36 AM

QUOTE(Pickle @ Jun 27 2007, 10:07 AM)

We need to stay in the ship. The sinners in Zion will be shaken out. God will purify His people. And in the end, we'll all know that He was the one who did it, because no one else could.

Thank you for this admonition, Bob. Just before I wrote this I tried to call you, but I was told you were busy or the next couple of hours. It is good that you are busy teaching, teaching young people to stay with the ship under the guidance of the Spirit of Prophecy. There are powers that will try to prevent you from doing his work for the Lord. May TRUTH prevail!!!

Posted by: mystery- man Jun 27 2007, 04:21 AM

One of the most frightening statements to me is to tell someone to stay on the ship, when the ship (meaning the church) is equated to salvation. That is why Jesus would say through John because you are neither hot nor cold I will spew you out. Many believe they are on the ship while actually they have long since left the ship. The Jewish leaders during Christ time believed they were on the ship when actually they had long since left the ship and its captain. No man can stay on the ship if Jesus puts them off. Remember Jesus told the scribes and pharisees your house is left unto you desolate. Remember when Jesus came he called the twelve to service and the leaders and Jeruselm was left without Jesus, and Satan took control. Ellen White says that history will be repeated. You can not serve man and God at the same time, you will despise one and serve the other or vice versa. Many are equating their salvation to the church instead of to the savior, thus the deplorable state of there life is justified by saying at least I have not left the church (how scary).

Posted by: Pickle Jun 27 2007, 05:00 AM

Johann,

You can call now if you want to. Class is over.

Posted by: Pickle Jun 27 2007, 05:18 AM

Mystery-Man,

Our faith is based on the Word of God.

Scripture foretells the rise of the church of Israel, the rise of the Christian church, the rise of Roman Christianity, the rise of the Protestant Reformation, and the rise of the Advent movement. Correct?

Scripture says nothing about the rise of any other group. To the contrary, we are told in the Spirit of Prophecy that the church may appear as about to fall but does not fall.

I take that to mean that before the end, the Adventist church will appear as about to fall and become Babylon, but it won't. And I also take that to mean that a group that has it all together, a group that doesn't appear as about to fall, cannot be the true church.

Posted by: SoulEspresso Jun 27 2007, 08:45 AM

> QUOTE(steffan @ Jun 26 2007, 10:55 PM)
>
> Actually what is taking the Lord's name in vain is what you are doing here by making the above statement when you have not been an eyewitness to any of the allegations nor has any against Danny and the board been proven. Our judgement will be measured out accordingly as we judge others. That means it's bad enough to judge others that we know personally, work with, have experiences with, but to make such judgements by what you read or have been told is inexcusable.

I'm sorry if I hurt your feelings, steffan. But I'm not responsible for what Danny & Co said on television or in printed communications, nor am I responsible for what they wrote in publicly available original documents. Do we really have to list again all the evidence these men have generated against themselves? Their own words have gone out over the satellite waves!

What I am responsible for is making responsible decisions regarding people who have taken upon themselves leadership roles in the church--decisions on how to lead other people I'm responsible for, and decisions on what I can do, at my level, to hold these self-appointed leaders accountable--leaders who are now denying the faith they claim to propogate. This denial is deliberate and calculated, not some provoked offhand response.

These people have disgraced my church, a disgrace which is becoming more public every day. To paraphrase a line from Asimov, their deeds have become foul, foul, foul, and yet their words are still God, God, God. Didn't our Lord have something to say about that in Matthew 7:21-23?

I'm praying for you, steffan. Why are you doing this? How can you defend the indefensible? What interest do you have in all this? You have responded to my charges that the leadership of 3ABN is taking the Lord's Name in vain these days; do you have the courage to respond to mystery-man's question?

> QUOTE(mystery- man @ Jun 26 2007, 11:17 PM)
>
> 3abn has said that they are non denominational, in your opinion is that really true?

Posted by: Ephphatha Jun 27 2007, 09:44 AM

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jun 24 2007, 10:14 PM)
>
> The current 3ABN lawsuit filed in Massachusetts by Plaintiff Danny Shelton has the following statement:
>
> "Although many of 3ABN's employees and volunteers, including Plaintiff Shelton, are members of the Seventh-Day Adventist faith, 3ABN is a non-denominational Christian ministry which is not owned by, affiliated with, or financed by any specific church, denomination, or organization."
>
> This poll asks if you think 3ABN donors give money and other gifts to 3ABN with the stated knowledge and understanding as stated in the lawsuit.

Based on a little (albeit limited) legal knowledge, I believe that what is being said here is that 3ABN is not an Adventist owned television station. Being Adventist owned and owned by an Adventist are different legally. The word that needs the focus here is "specific". 3ABN may be owned by an Adventist, but it is not owned by a specific church, so if Shelton decided to start teaching catholic or baptist doctrine or allowing it on the program the GC could do nothing about it. Also he must go through the legal channels and pay for the rights to use anything that is specifically Adventist while Adventist owned media outlets do not. 3ABN is not affiliated with a specific church, denomination or organization. Now 3ABN may be affiliated with the Adventist church in some areas, but it may also be affiliated with other churches. Affiliated here would mean "in partnership with". (Small example, Burger King is affiliated specifically with Coke. That means they sell exclusively Coke products at their company owned stores, Wal-mart on the other hand is offiliated with coke, Pepsi, 7-up, they sell all products so there is no specific affiliation). Lastly, 3ABN's financing is not through a specific church. It may have donors who are Advenist and donors who are Adventist entities, but some 3ABN donors are non-Adventist organizations and individuals. This wording, in essence, protects 3ABN from any legal action that might be taken against the Adventist church and also protects the Adventist Church from any legal action taken against 3ABN. So that if someone decides to sue Danny Shelton and 3ABN the General Conference can not be held liable, and vice versa. Hope that helps.

Posted by: princessdi Jun 27 2007, 10:05 AM

You know I can really understand that part of it. The part I believe to be troubling is where they say they preach a nondenominal mesage. I am almost positive that the 3 Angels Message is something unique to adventism, and that most support 3ABN because they feel, and have been led to believe that they are preaching not just the Three Angels Message, but the Adventist mesage as a whole. For the most part it it what they have been doing, BTW. They definitely have not been teaching a non denominational message. Many support them because they teach the Adventist message, now with these court papers they seemed to have distanced themselved form Adventism long ago. They just kept the spin so that they would not loose the support of the Adventism donation base. IOW, just crooked, crooked to the bone. There is almost nothing of intergrity about the founding or operation of 3ABN. Sure they have some very nice, christian and sincere folk with shows on their network, but that is all just part of the spin. It's just sad. Adventist are truly looking to 3ABN topreach Adventism's unique message, and realy feel this is the best way to get it done. They believe it because they have been led to believe it, but it was a lie.

Also from the way negotiations went for them to partner with GC, it was clear that the Sheltons wanted a very limited tie with the church, with absolutely no church control over any decisions made.

QUOTE(Ephphatha @ Jun 27 2007, 08:44 AM)

Based on a little (albeit limited) legal knowledge, I believe that what is being said here is that 3ABN is not an Adventist owned television station. Being Adventist owned and owned by an Adventist are different legally. The word that needs the focus here is "specific". 3ABN may be owned by an Adventist, but it is not owned by a specific church, so if Shelton decided to start teaching catholic or baptist doctrine or allowing it on the program the GC could do nothing about it. Also he must go through the legal channels and pay for the rights to use anything that is specifically Adventist while Adventist owned media outlets do not. 3ABN is not affiliated with a specific church, denomination or organization. Now 3ABN may be affiliated with the Adventist church in some areas, but it may also be affiliated with other churches. Affiliated here would mean "in partnership with". (Small example, Burger King is affiliated specifically with Coke. That means they sell exclusively Coke products at their company owned stores, Wal-mart on the other hand is offiliated with coke, Pepsi, 7-up, they sell all products so there is no specific affiliation). Lastly, 3ABN's financing is not through a specific church. It may have donors who are Advenist and donors who are Adventist entities, but some 3ABN donors are non-Adventist organizations and individuals. This wording, in essence, protects 3ABN from any legal action that might be taken against the Adventist church and also protects the Adventist Church from any legal action taken against 3ABN. So that if someone decides to sue Danny Shelton and 3ABN the General Conference can not be held liable, and vice versa. Hope that helps.

Posted by: Ephphatha Jun 27 2007, 10:35 AM

QUOTE(princessdi @ Jun 27 2007, 11:05 AM)

You know I can really understand that part of it. The part I believe to be troubling is where they say they preach a nondenominal mesage. I am almost positive that the 3 Angels Message is something unique to adventism, and that most support 3ABN because they feel, and have been led to believe that they are preaching not just the Three Angels Message, but the Adventist mesage as a whole. For the most part it it what they have been doing, BTW. They definitely have not been teaching a non denominational message. Many support them because they teach the Adventist message, now with these court papers they seemed to have distanced themselved form Adventism long ago. They just kept the spin so that they would not loose the support of the Adventism donation base. IOW, just crooked, crooked to the bone. There is almost nothing of intergrity about the founding or operation of 3ABN. Sure they have some very nice, christian and sincere folk with shows on their network, but that is all just part of the spin. It's just sad. Adventist are truly looking to 3ABN topreach Adventism's unique message, and realy feel this is the best way to get it done. They believe it because they have been led to believe it, but it was a lie.

Also from the way negotiations went for them to partner with GC, it was clear that the Sheltons wanted a very limited tie with the church, with absolutely no church control over any decisions made.

I agree with you. I think, though, that some have been reached through the messages on 3ABN. I've known many people who have become Adventist because of the truths they have heard on 3ABN. My battle is this, the owner is obviously loopy, but the other individuals who present programming like Pastor Pearson, The Aikens, Shelly Quinn, and others are genuine preachers of God's word and want the truth out there. I believe that God is in control ultimately and He is conducting the happenings at 3ABN. It may be that Danny will be seperated from 3ABN and it will be a "reborn" situation. Right now, I think for some its a delicate wheat and tares situation. If things aren't handled right, regarding 3ABN there is are a lot of delicate wheat plants that have just sprung up that maybe wrenched out of soil with the tare.

Posted by: mystery- man Jun 27 2007, 10:46 AM

Pickle, I dont see anywhere in the bible where the bible tells about the rise of the Adventist church.
I dont even see the name adventist written anywhere in the scriptures. (I am a seventhday adventist myself) so dont think I am putting down the church either. The bible tells rather of a restoration of the breach and the return to Godliness. The name truth is not synonimus with Adventism. It is a mistake to believe that one must be an adventist to be saved, that would be making the same mistake as the Jews of old. Because that was the prevailing belief during the time of the Jews they were able to threaten salvation by simply kicking one out of the church. Rather the truth was what made up the church. That is why I believe the church trade marked the name Seventh Day Adventist and threatens anyone with a law suit that does not follow their wishes in thought or the way the gospel is preached. The followers of God were christians because of the walk they had with God not because of the name. And let us not forget that the bible defined a Jew not of nationality but of a circumsised heart.

Anyone, keeping the commandments of God through the power of Christ and waiting for the second comming automatically becomes a true Seventhday Adventist. It is not the corporations stamp of the name or the churches putting you on its roll that makes you saved or a christian.

Posted by: princessdi Jun 27 2007, 11:06 AM

Agreed!

QUOTE(Ephphatha @ Jun 27 2007, 08:35 AM)

I agree with you. I think, though, that some have been reached through the messages on 3ABN. I've known many people who have become Adventist because of the truths they have heard on 3ABN. My battle is this, the owner is obviously loopy, but the other individuals who present programming like Pastor Pearson, The Aikens, Shelly Quinn, and others are genuine preachers of God's word and want the truth out there. I believe that God is in control ultimately and He is conducting the happenings at 3ABN. It may be that Danny will be seperated from 3ABN and it will be a "reborn" situation. Right now, I think for some its a delicate wheat and tares situation. If things aren't handled right, regarding 3ABN there is are a lot of delicate wheat plants that have just sprung up that maybe wrenched out of soil with the tare.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jun 27 2007, 11:24 AM

QUOTE(SoulEspresso @ Jun 26 2007, 07:42 AM)

Many salient points here, I especially enjoyed Greg's--God loves people so much, He makes Himself the grandest Opportunist there ever was. Some years ago God touched me through Van Halen, for example.

What gets me mad is this idea that if we can get our satellite channels into enough countries, the "gospel will go to the world" and "the work will be finished." Even if everybody in the whole world knew the facts about the "Three Angels' Message," they wouldn't be saved--it isn't knowing facts, but knowing God. Knowing God has to be nurtured through real-world, real-life, relationships, best ministered through other people in the church (NOT talking about pastors--some yes, some no).

God will make sure every person on earth gets a fair shot at salvation with or without us. Recommended reading for lurkers and denizens: Why Didn't They Tell Me? by Morris Venden.

Malcolm Muggeridge used to say that "the medium is the message," ergo putting the gospel on TV was like banging out hymns on a half-tuned brothel piano. I don't know that I would go that far. God does use religious TV, and I hope He keeps using 3ABN; far be it from me to say that He can't. But if He does, that doesn't make 3ABN special, because there's nothing God won't use in His reckless, raging love for and pursuit of people.

SE,

If I had a golden apple right now I would place it in your hand! Sometimes the bronze serpent on the wooden cross becomes the focus of worship instead of the Savior it pointed to.

Knowing God and understanding how desperately He loves and wants us to be His own - that is truly the key! That supersedes any conservative, liberal or progressive interpretation of dogma, IMO.

Posted by: Pickle Jun 27 2007, 01:34 PM

QUOTE(mystery- man @ Jun 27 2007, 11:46 AM)

Pickle, I dont see anywhere in the bible where the bible tells about the rise of the Adventist church.

I think it is very clear that Rev. 10, coupled with a few other passages, foretells the rise of the Seventh-day Adventist church. I have not seen any alternative interpretation that would in my mind rule against such a conclusion.

From the very beginning of Adventism, we have taught that being a member doesn't make one saved, and that many within our ranks aren't going anywhere, which has been true since the days of the apostles. On the other hand, we have also taught that it is critical that one heed the call of God in Rev. 18:4, and that God does want us to associate as a church family.

Such association is linked in Scripture to salvation: "Praising God, and having favour with all the people. And the Lord added to the church daily such as should be saved" (Acts 2:47). Again, that doesn't mean that only church members are saved or that all church members are saved. But it does show us God's intent to associate His people in a church family, and Jn. 10:16 does tell us that His intention is to end up with all His people in one fold in the end.

Posted by: st mary Jun 27 2007, 04:03 PM

I hope this is not too much off the topic but I have read your comments re; Revelation 10 foretelling the rise of the Seventh day Adventist church but I must say that you are grossly mistaken. Nowhere in scripture is there any reference to a specific modern day church organization. The body of believers or the church as referred to in the Bible is the entire christian community. Since the Israelites lost this favored position when Jesus came the first time, God has been using anyone who is willing to be used, Jews and gentiles alike, wherever they are, in an organized body or outside of an organized body. My study and understanding of scripture has not revealed anywhere in the New Testament where God has limited himself to what we know today as an organization. We have limited God to our church organizations but remember the Bible says in Col 3:11" ... where there is neither Greek nor Jew circumcised nor uncircumcised, barbarian, Scythian slave or free, but CHRIST is all and in all." For those of us who have and are placing our trust in an organization whether it be the Adventist church, the Baptist church, the Methodist church or any other church, our fate will be just like that of the Jews of old.

Posted by: watchbird Jun 27 2007, 04:47 PM

QUOTE(st mary @ Jun 27 2007, 06:03 PM)

I hope this is not too much off the topic but I have read your comments re; Revelation 10 foretelling the rise of the Seventh day Adventist church but I must say that you are grossly mistaken. Nowhere in scripture is there any reference to a specific modern day church organization. The body of believers or the church as referred to in the Bible is the entire christian community. Since the Israelites lost this favored position when Jesus came the first time, God has been using anyone who is willing to be used, Jews and gentiles alike, wherever they are, in an organized body or outside of an organized body. My study and understanding of scripture has not revealed anywhere in the New Testament where God has limited himself to what we know today as an organization. We have limited God to our church organizations but remember the Bible says in Col 3:11" ... where there is neither Greek nor Jew circumcised nor uncircumcised, barbarian, Scythian slave or free, but CHRIST is all and in all." For those of us who have and are placing our trust in an organization whether it be the Adventist church, the Baptist church, the Methodist church or any other church, our fate will be just like that of the Jews of old.

agree fully. I think the Bible is for ALL Christians everywhere and that it foretells things in general that have o do with the church and changing conditions as we near the end of time. But I do not think that any specific lenomination is pictured in prophecy.... and I've been an Adventist for many many years, btw.

Posted by: princessdi Jun 27 2007, 04:51 PM

I see you two are for trashing th Rev. Sem. materials also. LOL!! Where exactly did we get that from?

Posted by: st mary Jun 27 2007, 05:27 PM

I am in no way trashing anyone or anything. Jesus clearly says; " ...teaching for doctrines the commandments of men." If it is not in the Bible then it is a man made doctrine. I have been and am a seventh day adventist for as long as I know myself but allowing the holy spirit to teach me is the greatest thing that ever happened to me for a long long time. Try Him and I guarantee you your world will be shaken. When Jesus came the first time the then known church destroyed him. They did not understand that he did not come to to be their enemy but only to present the true and living God to them, the God whom they thought they knew. They killed Jesus instead, thinking that they were doing God a favor. My friend it will happen again so let the Holy Spirit be your teacher and not fallible men who know the truth but refuse to be corrected like the Jewish leaders of old.

Posted by: watchbird Jun 27 2007, 05:32 PM

QUOTE(princessdi @ Jun 27 2007, 06:51 PM)

I see you two are for trashing th Rev. Sem. materials also. LOL!! Where exactly did we get that from?

don't know if I was trashing the Revelation Seminar materials or not... since I've never indulged. I do know hat I asked Jon Paulien, one of the most prominent of our Revelation scholars, a few years ago which he vould recommend and he said, "None". When I asked him when he was going to write one himself, he said, Someday".

'hat day has come.... almost. Tthe Seminar materials are completed but still in production at the moment.... so are not released yet. But he does have a DVD set finished and available on a special half-price deal ıvailable currently from Sam Bacchiocchi's website. This set is called "Simply Revelation". For more nformation go to http://www.biblicalperspectives.com/revelation.

Posted by: st mary Jun 27 2007, 07:20 PM

I have read and listened to some of Paulien's work on the trumpets and seals of Revelation and and it is the closest interpretation I have seen yet written on the truth as it is in Revelation by any Seventh Day Adventist writer. Revelation I am finding without adding or subtracting anything is just so simple and easy to understand.

Posted by: Snoopy Jun 27 2007, 08:15 PM

QUOTE(Ephphatha @ Jun 27 2007, 09:44 AM)

Based on a little (albeit limited) legal knowledge, I believe that what is being said here is that 3ABN is not an Adventist owned television station. Being Adventist owned and owned by an Adventist are different legally. The word that needs the focus here is "specific". 3ABN may be owned by an Adventist, but it is not owned by a specific church, so if Shelton decided to start teaching catholic or baptist doctrine or allowing it on the program the GC could do nothing about it. Also he must go through the legal channels and pay for the rights to use anything that is specifically Adventist while Adventist owned media outlets do not. 3ABN is not affiliated with a specific church, denomination or organization. Now 3ABN may be affiliated with the Adventist church in some areas, but it may also be affiliated with other churches. Affiliated here would mean "in partnership with". (Small example, Burger King is affiliated specifically with Coke. That means they sell exclusively Coke products at their company owned stores, Wal-mart on the other hand is offiliated with coke, Pepsi, 7-up, they sell all products so there is no specific affiliation). Lastly, 3ABN's financing is not through a specific church. It may have donors who are Advenist and donors who are Adventist entities, but some 3ABN donors are non-Adventist organizations and individuals. This wording, in essence, protects 3ABN from any legal action that might be taken against the Adventist church and also protects the Adventist Church from any legal action taken against 3ABN. So that if someone decides to sue Danny Shelton and 3ABN the General Conference can not be held liable, and vice versa. Hope that helps.

I disagree that "3ABN may be owned by an Adventist." It is a 501©3 tax-exempt organization which means to me that it is "owned" by its donors. The president of a for-profit corporation does not "own" it - the stockholders do. If 3ABN were to dissolve, its assets would have to be distrubuted to another tax-exempt organization or be turned over to the federal government. DS does not "own" 3ABN.

Edit note: Can't get the "c" in the parentheses without it turning into the copyright symbol...

Posted by: Pickle Jun 28 2007, 01:27 AM

QUOTE(st mary @ Jun 27 2007, 05:03 PM)

I hope this is not too much off the topic but I have read your comments re; Revelation 10 foretelling the rise of the Seventh day Adventist church but I must say that you are grossly mistaken. Nowhere in scripture is there any reference to a specific modern day church organization.

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jun 27 2007, 05:47 PM)

But I do not think that any specific denomination is pictured in prophecy.... and I've been an Adventist for many many years, btw.

I think we can agree that my mother church, the church of Rome which calls itself the Mother Church, and which throughout the Middle Ages sat upon seven hills, and which was a city which reigned over the kings of the earth, and which was drunk with the blood of the saints, and which has given birth to daughters, is pictured in Rev. 17. Thus we do have a specific denomination and modern day church organization pictured in Scripture.

As far as Adventism and Rev. 10 goes, Rev. 10 has an Angel whose face shines like the sun who lifts His hand toward heaven and swears by Him who lives forever, holding a book that is open. In Dan. 12 we have Michael lifting His hands toward heaven and swearing by Him who lives forever, and that is supposed to have something to do with when the end will be when the book of Daniel is unsealed. Thus, 12:7 tells us that Daniel would be unsealed at the end of the 1260 days.

The question is, what part of Daniel was ever sealed? Not the identity of the head of gold, that is for sure. In fact, the only part of Daniel explicitly said to be sealed until the time of the end is the 2300 evening-morning of Dan. 8:14 (see Dan. 8:17, 26, and the marginal reading of 8:14).

Thus in Rev. 10 we have pictured the unsealing of the 2300 days after the end of the 1260 days. And that would lead to a bitter-sweet experience, after which those involved would be told that they must prophesy again, which presumably would mean that they must now give the third angel's message.

And in Rev. 11:1 John is told to measure the temple, the altar, and the worshippers, in the context of the unsealed 2300 days of Dan. 8:14 as pictured in Rev. 10. Now the sanctuary, altar, and worshippers just happen to be the three entities that are cleansed in Lev. 16 on the Day of Atonement, and "measure" just happens to mean "judge" in Mat. 7:2, and a measuring judgment just happens to be an investigative rather than a sentencing or an executive judgment.

Note that the worshippers are being measured. Why? Measuring the temple makes sense, but why measure the worshippers? To see how tall they are? How wide they are? Not at all. "Measure" has to mean "judge."

So in Rev. 10 we have a very specific people being described, a people that would have something to do with an unsealed 2300 days, a bitter-sweet experience, a call to prophesy on a global scale, a people that would recognize something about how the worshippers are now being measured.

If you can find another people all that fits, I'm interested.

Posted by: Voktar of Zargon Jun 28 2007, 04:12 AM

I concure wholeheartedly brother Pickle. Why do people keep setting up a straw man that orthodox Adventists are looking for salvation in their church? Nobody believes this of course, any more than people believe that baptism saves.
I told Jon 16 years ago that I was tired of theologians trashing our evangelistic material (which does need improvement) if they did not offer something better. Sure has taken him long enough.
I trust the final appeal will not say something like, "Come out of Baylon - which probably doesn't represent Catholicism and the "Protestant" daughter churches as we used to teach - and come into our church (if you feel like it) which may or may not have the correct interpretation of prophecy for the last days. Which used to believe that it had a prophetic/historical significance that set it apart from all other churches (but we now believe this interpretation to be erroneous). Therefore come out of amorphous Babylon in a purely spiritual way - affiliate with the remnant (whatever that represents) in your heart somehow and we hope to see you in the kingdom someday. God bless. - Oh, and by the way, if you want another non-denominational message which has no affiliation with any organization 3ABN says they can help."

Posted by: Johann Jun 28 2007, 04:13 AM

The participation in this poll tells me there are more than 3-4 people interested in this subject.

Posted by: st mary Jun 28 2007, 07:13 AM

There is only reference to two churches in scripture and those are; (1) the corrupt church of satan, Babylon of which the Roman system is a part and (2) God's true church. The modern day organizations as we know them such as the Baptist church, the Adventist church, the methodist church, the Church of Christ, etc; are not referred to in scripture. Much of what we see today masquerading as God's true church is really just a part of the system of Babylon. No man knows or even has the right to say that one of these church organization is Babylon because Babylon is a system that consist not only of the religious system but of financial, government and military system.
The christian church as we know it today is not yet perfected and Isaiah 4:1 clearly shows the state of the christian church in the last days in which I am sure we are living now. "And in that day seven women shall take hold of one man, saying, We will eat our own food and wear our own apparel; only let us be called by your name to take away our reproach." This is the state of the christian church today, everyone making their claim to Christ yet preaching their own manmade doctrine and declaring themselves righteous. It may sound impossible yet God is still still working with and using imperfect man even among this mess. But God's last church, the one that will carry out his final command just before his coming is yet to appear. The references to this church is in Joel 2.

The great work done by a people great and strong on that Day of the Lord that is done by God's last church, the Two Wittnesses of Revelation 11 who were later killed because of their testimony.
Our faithful and dedicated pioneers were much mistaken when they applied to scripture what was to apply to the last church. I believe they thought like many before them that what they saw happening were definately the events of the last day but this was just a misapplication of scripture on their part. In Matt. 24: 21 Jesus clearly said; " For then there will be great tribulation, such as has not been since the beginning of the world until this time nor ever shall be." Have we seen this time as yet? Then he went further to say in verse 29, " Immediately after the tribulation of those days the sun will be darkened and the moon will not give its light: the stars will fall from heaven and the powers of the heavens will be shaken." And in verse 34 he says;" Assuredly I say to you this generation shall by no means pass away till all these things take place."

This Prophecy of Matt. 24 as you all will agree has a two applications; one to the destruction of the the temple in Jerusalem after Jesus left for heaven and the other; the final destruction before Jesus comes the second time. This we know because of the questions that were asked of Jesus at the beginning of the chapter. So we know that Jesus was specifically talking to the generation of people who were alive at that time he was speaking because thase people later wittnessed the destruction of the temple. The second set of people that this prophecy specifically apply to is also to the generation who will wittness his second coming. We all can admit that that the generation of our pioneers whose interpretation of scripture we follow today are long gone. So an honest mistake was made, so what do we do? Instead of admitting to our mistakes some of us have held on for dear life to what is not truth thus missing the truth in scripture.

Posted by: LaurenceD Jun 28 2007, 07:46 AM

> QUOTE(Pickle)
>
> From the very beginning of Adventism, we have taught that being a member doesn't make one saved,...
>
> (snip)
>
> As far as Adventism and Rev. 10 goes,...
>
> (snip)
>
> If you can find another people all that fits, I'm interested.

In order to avoid any confusion, maybe you should explain the difference between Adventism and adventism and why you felt it necessary to capitalize the word. Also, between adventism and Seveth-Day Adventists as a denoination, ie, the difference between May 21, 1863 (SDA inception) and the first time anyone believed the second coming of Jesus and the end of the world were near.

Posted by: st mary Jun 28 2007, 08:28 AM

In the past the people were led astray by the jewish leaders. Jesus has come and himself became the atonement for us but because man is so used to having the scripture interpereted to him even 2000 years after the cross man is still expecting it and sometimes demands it sadly. Jesus has opened up his heart to us yet we continue to feed on leftovers from other men's tables. The catholic church held sole rights to the scripture and dished out to the uneducated poor and even the educated rich people what they thought was good for them. This was against the will of God then as it is against his will today. The scripture is open to all today thank God but It is so sad to see us constantly referring to," what the church doctrine says," or " what we have been taught."

God has made it very clear in scripture ; Jesus Christ is the center of all things and until He becomes the center of all that we teach, what we have been taught by the church will never hold up. It never held up for the Jews when they watched as Jesus tore down all that they took centuries to build up. It never held up for the church in the middle ages and are we about to see for the last and final time that it is not going tohold up? It seems to me that what we have been taught by our leaders are far more important than Jesus himself.

The 3ABN saga has come to rock the very foundations of the SDA church because most members believe in the infallibility of the SDA church. This situation is revealing our hearts which is the only thing that God cares about in man. Let him do his perfect work in us. God is about redemption. The work of redemption will never be in vain

---

Posted by: Pickle Jun 28 2007, 09:20 AM

QUOTE(LaurenceD @ Jun 28 2007, 08:46 AM)

In order to avoid any confusion, maybe you should explain the difference between Adventism and adventism and why you felt it necessary to capitalize the word. Also, between adventism and Seveth-Day Adventists as a denoination, ie, the difference between May 21, 1863 (SDA inception) and the first time anyone believed the second coming of Jesus and the end of the world were near.

Okay, I'll give it a try.

If you look at Rev. 10 through 11:1, we are talking about a people that not only preached a message based on an unsealed Dan. 8:14, but also which afterwards recognized that there was an investigative judgment going on in heaven. Now when we realize that that is what the passage specifies, then we move beyond talking about the entire Millerite Movement, the entire Advent Awakening. We are specifically talking about the handfall of that movement that became the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

When we look at Rom. 12, 1 Cor. 12, and Eph. 4, when we read what Paul says about spiritual gifts, he in each passage compares the members of the church to the members of our physical body.

We've all been let down, we've all been disappointed, and because of that Satan tempts us to think that somehow we can be a member of the church without being a member of the church. Yet we forget that the parts of our body are tightly connected in a definite organization, and that is precisely what the church really is.

Paul says that when Jesus comes, He will have a church that is without spot or wrinkle. Jesus is the head of the church and died that He might purify it, and Paul holds that up as an example of how we are to treat our wives. in other words, Paul acknowledges that the church isn't spotless now.

Posted by: Pickle Jun 28 2007, 09:31 AM

QUOTE(st mary @ Jun 28 2007, 09:28 AM)

The 3ABN saga has come to rock the very foundations of the SDA church because most members believe in the infallibility of the SDA church.

I have yet to run into any Adventist that believes the Adventist Church is infallible. To the contrary, Adventism teaches that the Laodicean message applies to itself, and that is anything but complimentary.

Last Sabbath in my sermon we covered the message to the church of Ephesus, as a springboard. I asked folks if they thought our first love had grown dim, and they felt it had. That shows anything but a belief in our church's infallability.

I do not blindly follow anyone. At the same time I will try to treat everyone as innocent until proven guilty, and will seek both sides of issues before coming to a conclusion.

Adventism teaches that the Bible is the only rule of faith and practice for the Christian. While some among us disagree and want to dissect the Bible and discard this part or that part, there really are no prospects on the horizon of that happening. Thus Adventism still requires as a test of fellowship that we place the Bible above every preacher, every church leader, every member. And that is how it should always be.

The real lesson we should glean from the 3ABN saga is that we each one need to get our house in order, whether we are a leader or a member in the pews. Each one of us needs to stand on the Word of God, and being willing to stand there though the heavens fall. Because one day the world's greatest men are going to try to pick us apart, and they'll put us trhough an IRS audit of the scale of Dan. 6, and for the same reasons. How will we fare on that day if our lives then are like what they are today?

May the Lord Jesus and His will be the most supreme focus in our lives.

Posted by: st mary Jun 28 2007, 10:05 AM

Thank you so much my brother for your kind answers.
I am also very happy to know that you do not know of anyone who believes in the infallibility of Adventism. I was born in it and it is still rife in the West Indies, and in Florida where I have attended a number of our churches including the one I am currently attending it is very much present and alive. What 3ABN has now declared to the world that it is a nondenominational organization is very typical of us when we see that what we stood for in the past is not holding us up and the future ahead looks bleak. It must be rather sad at this time for those of us whose faith is elsewhere than in Christ. I am not looking for a perfect church because there is no such thing.I am not in the least bit worried however over how God will turn events, whether at 3ABN or in our personal lives because it will always be for his glory. It is only by faith in Christ that we will make it through these times.
Jesus while He was on earth stood up for the defenceless and the weak.That is our duty. That is true religion. Thank you for showing this example in the true spirit of Christ.

Posted by: watchbird Jun 28 2007, 11:02 AM

QUOTE(st mary @ Jun 28 2007, 12:05 PM)

Thank you so much my brother for your kind answers.
I am also very happy to know that you do not know of anyone who believes in the infallibility of Adventism. I was born in it and it is still rife in the West Indies, and in Florida where I have attended a number of our churches including the one I am currently attending it is very much present and alive. What 3ABN has now declared to the world that it is a nondenominational organization is very typical of us when we see that what we stood for in the past is not holding us up and the future ahead looks bleak. It must be rather sad at this time for those of us whose faith is elsewhere than in Christ. I am not looking for a perfect church because there is no such thing.I am not in the least bit worried however over how God will turn events, whether at 3ABN or in our personal lives because it will always be for his glory. It is only by faith in Christ that we will make it through these times.
Jesus while He was on earth stood up for the defenceless and the weak.That is our duty. That is true religion. Thank you for showing this example in the true spirit of Christ.

But all does not look bleak. There is hope. There are those who, when they "visit the altars of the past, bring back the fire and not the ashes".... that is to say there are those who remind us that the guiding principle in our early church was not merely their codifications of "truth", but the principle of "present truth", which in its very statment indicated that truth was always growing and expanding and that we are most faithful to the past when we grow beyond it... in our understandings of doctrine and scriptures as well as in our applying the principles of Love to our lives.

Yes, there are those who still cling to the tattered coats of infallibility and uniqueness. But the voices who are seeing the error in that are growing stronger... and more and more are lifting up their eyes to behold Christ and seeing him as increasingly glorious. If you are not so fortunate to be in such a church, perhaps you should look around a little more. There are many options for SDA worship in the state of Florida. Keep looking until you find one where the leadership of the local church is not bound by the rigid bands of yesterday.

Posted by: Artiste Jun 29 2007, 12:27 AM

Very interesting! I'm listening to Alan Reinach (religious liberty lawyer for Pacific Union) and the 3abn moderator (Latino director) both emphasizing how their religious liberty efforts are for the benefit of interfaith purposes! They're going on and on about it, bringing up various rationals.

I'm thinking this might be a useful approach for the General Conference to use (modified to suit the circumstances) if they wish to rationalize continuing on with 3abn as a non-denominational ministry. After all, 3abn is still a supporting ministry of the GC, right?

****

Posted by: Pickle Jun 29 2007, 02:34 AM

QUOTE(st mary @ Jun 28 2007, 11:05 AM)

I am also very happy to know that you do not know of anyone who believes in the infallibility of Adventism. I was born in it and it is still rife in the West Indies, and in Florida where I have attended a number of our churches including the one I am currently attending it is very much present and alive.

You are probably referring to specific types of things that you have seen. So while you have noticed a reticence to admit fault in certain situations, there may be other situations, as in asking during a sermon whether we have left our first love or not, that folks there would be quite free in admitting that we do have our problems, and serious ones at that. Would this be a fair assessment?

Last night at worship I shared with the group, among other things, from 1SM 205:

QUOTE(Ellen White)

Shortly before I sent out the testimonies regarding the efforts of the enemy to undermine the foundation of our faith through the dissemination of seductive theories, I had read an incident about a ship in a fog meeting an iceberg. For several nights I slept but little. I seemed to be bowed down as a cart beneath sheaves. One night a scene was clearly presented before me. A vessel was upon the waters, in a heavy fog. Suddenly the lookout cried, "Iceberg just ahead!" here, towering high above the ship, was a gigantic iceberg. An authoritative voice cried out, "Meet it!" There was not a moment's hesitation. It was a time for instant action. The engineer put on full steam, and the man at the wheel steered the ship straight into the iceberg. With a crash she struck the ice. There was a fearful shock, and the iceberg broke into many pieces, falling with a noise like thunder to the deck. The passengers were violently shaken by the force of the collisions, but no lives were lost. The vessel was injured, but not beyond repair. She rebounded from the contact, trembling from stem to stern, like a living creature. Then she moved forward on her way.

I love this quote. If only the Titanic had hit head on its problem, it wouldn't have sunk. Meeting head on a crisis in the proper, tactful, christlike way may precipitate the shaking, but the promise is that no lives will be lost. Hallejuah!

Posted by: Observer Jun 29 2007, 05:38 AM

QUOTE(Artiste @ Jun 29 2007, 12:27 AM)

Very interesting! I'm listening to Alan Reinach (religious liberty lawyer for Pacific Union) and the 3abn moderator (Latino director) both emphasizing how their religious liberty efforts are for the benefit of interfaith purposes! They're going on and on about it, bringing up various rationals.

I'm thinking this might be a useful approach for the General Conference to use (modified to suit the circumstances) if they wish to rationalize continuing on with 3abn as a non-denominational ministry. After all, 3abn is still a supporting ministry of the GC, right?
****

I support the efforts of our Religious Liberty people to be inter-faith. In law, one has to take cases as they come. Decisions that are made on a specific case will often affect later cases. IOW, any decision in an inter-faith case may affect one of our later cases. But defending in an inter-faith case, one is attempting to defend against later cases which may directly affect us.

Posted by: Artiste Jun 29 2007, 10:18 AM

QUOTE(Observer @ Jun 29 2007, 03:38 AM)

I support the efforts of our Religious Liberty people to be inter-faith. In law, one has to take cases as they come. Decisions that are made on a specific case will often affect later cases. IOW, any decision in an inter-faith case may affect one of our later cases. But defending in an inter-faith case, one is attempting to defend against later cases which may directly affect us.

Nobody is condemning religous liberty for being interfaith. In general, professionals leave their specific faith out of the picture when they are engaged in their professional duties. The 3abn program however seemed to be spending an extra effort to point out interfaith aspects. Did you see the segment?

Posted by: Fran Jun 29 2007, 11:32 PM

QUOTE(Artiste @ Jun 29 2007, 11:18 AM)

Nobody is condemning religious liberty for being interfaith. In general, professionals leave their specific faith out of the picture when they are engaged in their professional duties. The 3abn program however seemed to be spending an extra effort to point out interfaith aspects. Did you see the segment?

I saw the program and agree. Then it occurred to me as I watched that it is possible for 3ABN to solicit the aid of Religious Liberty to save 3ABN from the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

Now, that would be interesting. We could have Religious Liberty defending 3ABN from/for (???) the Seventh-day Adventist World Church.

Is this a possible scenario?

I believe Voltaire Wannabe would be chomping at the bits to take that case!

Truth is truly stranger than fiction!

Bob,

Thank you for my Sabbath uplift this week.

I have heard the Word spoken through you in the Spirit of the God I know and love!

Thank you for your messages. God, through you, has touched me, and I have grown.

Posted by: Artiste Jun 30 2007, 12:23 AM

QUOTE(Fran @ Jun 29 2007, 09:32 PM)

I saw the program and agree. Then it occurred to me as I watched that it is possible for 3ABN to solicit the aid of Religious Liberty to save 3ABN from the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

Now, that would be interesting. We could have Religious Liberty defending 3ABN from/for (???) the Seventh-day Adventist World Church.

Amazing! What a fascinating idea!

Tonight Danny has the President of the Southern African Indian Ocean Division, Paul Ratsara, in his interview. Here again, he seemed to be pointing out very happily and redundantly the man's position as divison president.

I was under the impression that division presidents were vice-presidents of the General Conference and so would come under the category of people that were not going to be involving themselves with 3abn. Was that not correct?

Paul Ratsara was expressing his support for 3abn and Danny Shelton.

****

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jun 30 2007, 01:38 AM

QUOTE(Artiste @ Jun 30 2007, 01:23 AM)

I was under the impression that division presidents were vice-presidents of the General Conference and so would come under the category of people that were not going to be involving themselves with 3abn. Was that not correct?

Paul Ratsara was expressing his support for 3abn and Danny Shelton.

****

One robin does not make spring.

Posted by: Johann Jun 30 2007, 02:09 PM

QUOTE(Artiste @ Jun 30 2007, 08:23 AM)

Amazing! What a fascinating idea!

Tonight Danny has the President of the Southern African Indian Ocean Division, Paul Ratsara, in his interview. Here again, he seemed to be pointing out very happily and redundantly the man's position as divison president.

I was under the impression that division presidents were vice-presidents of the General Conference and so would come under the category of people that were not going to be involving themselves with 3abn. Was that not correct?

Paul Ratsara was expressing his support for 3abn and Danny Shelton.

****

Last time I watched 3ABN I noticed that much of what was shown are items recorded up to 10 years ago. Is it possible that this interview was recorded before the ban?

Posted by: lurker Jun 30 2007, 06:23 PM

Either that or Danny is being very defiant. You know, just daring somebody to do or say something about it. I noticed he had a tape of Gerri Lynn Mendenhall on today singing and Tommy was playing the piano (one song only). Their names were equally featured on the credits for that song.

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jun 30 2007, 08:55 PM

Elder Ratsara was here for Michigan camp meeting last weekend so my guess is it's current.

QUOTE(Johann @ Jun 30 2007, 04:09 PM)

Last time I watched 3ABN I noticed that much of what was shown are items recorded up to 10 years ago. Is it possible that this interview was recorded before the ban?

Posted by: Ephphatha Today, 06:27 AM

QUOTE(Snoopy @ Jun 27 2007, 09:15 PM)

I disagree that "3ABN may be owned by an Adventist." It is a 501©3 tax-exempt organization which means to me that it is "owned" by its donors. The president of a for-profit corporation does not "own" it - the stockholders do. If 3ABN were to dissolve, its assets would have to be distrubuted to another tax-exempt organization or be turned over to the federal government. DS does not "own" 3ABN.
Edit note: Can't get the "c" in the parentheses without it turning into the copyright symbol...

Regardless of the status of the organization, the "owner" is the person who runs it. He decides what happens and when. Donors can pull out, but it is up to the "owner" to replace those donors. And if he is one of the donors, he is an "owner", which I assure you, he is.

Powered by Invision Power Board (http://www.invisionboard.com)
© Invision Power Services (http://www.invisionpower.com)

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ 3abn Confirms Real Estate Transaction

Posted by: Pickle Jun 14 2007, 10:09 PM

In http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=13795&view=findpost&p=199683 we reported on publicly available documents that indicate that in 1998, 3ABN sold a house to Danny and Linda Shelton for $6,139, and that they then turned around and resold it 7 days later for $135,000.

3ABN has confirmed on their 1998 Form 990 that they did indeed sell a house in 1998 for $6,129 (why the $10 discrepancy?). 3ABN has also acknowledged on that 1998 Form 990 that they sold this house at an incredible book loss of $46,652.05, instead of selling it at Fair market Value as Danny did one week later. 3ABN also has acknowledged on the same Form 990 that they paid Danny compensation in 1998 of but $49,862.66, which probably means that they did not report the house given to their corporation president and director as compensation. (How could they have reported the house as both a loss and compensation? I don't think they could have.)

See page 13 of http://www.save3abn.com/media/3abn-form-990-1998.pdf.

The one question that remains regarding the real estate transaction is whether Danny reported it on his tax return as a short-term or as a long-term capital gain.

Also of interest on page 13 of that Form 990 is the sale of a piano with a book value of $0, suggesting that the piano may have been donated. This piano was sold for $2,000, the same amount, if I recall correctly, that Danny Shelton claimed that AToday alleged that 3ABN had sold a donated, expensive grand piano to his brother for.

Anyone want to contact 3ABN and see if they can identify what piano this one was that was sold in 1998?

The astute may find other items of interest in these 990's. Gailon has.

Posted by: Fran Jun 14 2007, 11:53 PM

QUOTE(Pickle @ Jun 14 2007, 10:09 PM)

In http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=13795&view=findpost&p=199683 we reported on publicly available documents that indicate that in 1998, 3ABN sold a house to Danny and Linda Shelton for $6,139, and that they then turned around and resold it 7 days later for $135,000.

3ABN has confirmed on their 1998 Form 990 that they did indeed sell a house in 1998 for $6,129 (why the $10 discrepancy?). 3ABN has also acknowledged on that 1998 Form 990 that they sold this house at an incredible book loss of $46,652.05, instead of selling it at Fair market Value as Danny did one week later. 3ABN also has acknowledged on the same Form 990 that they paid Danny compensation in 1998 of but $49,862.66, which probably means that they did not report the house given to their corporation president and director as compensation. (How could they have reported the house as both a loss and compensation? I don't think they could have.)

See page 13 of http://www.save3abn.com/media/3abn-form-990-1998.pdf.

The one question that remains regarding the real estate transaction is whether Danny reported it on his tax return as a short-term or as a long-term capital gain.

Also of interest on page 13 of that Form 990 is the sale of a piano with a book value of $0, suggesting that the piano may have been donated. This piano was sold for $2,000, the same amount, if I recall correctly, that Danny Shelton claimed that AToday alleged that 3ABN had sold a donated, expensive grand piano to his brother for.

Anyone want to contact 3ABN and see if they can identify what piano this one was that was sold in 1998?

The astute may find other items of interest in these 990's. Gailon has.

Thanks, Bob, for making the 990's for 1998, 1999, & 2000 on http://www.save3ABN.com.

I was happy to read Snoopy's news on the changes in progress on the IRS Form 990. Maybe with all the problems that seem to be front and center lately, this is a move in the right direction.

Changes would clearly make things more transparent for the end user. Auditors will have an easier time with the returns.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jun 15 2007, 07:29 AM

When was the supposed sale of the piano to Tommy? I did a search of the posts in this 3abn Forum to see if I could link to the AT article that first reported the sale of the expensive grand piano to Tommy Shelton. The link to the article that Fran had posted last year no longer goes to the article. A Google search did not find the article either.

Does anyone have that article in their email archives so it could be posted here?

I do recall that on the February 15, 2007 3abn Live show aired to rebut AT's article on Tommy's retirement, Danny, et. al., made it a point to bring up that AT had backtracked on their original piano sale story after further investigation.

Posted by: lurker Jun 15 2007, 10:03 AM

QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Jun 15 2007, 07:29 AM)

When was the supposed sale of the piano to Tommy? I did a search of the posts in this 3abn Forum to see if I could link to the AT article that first reported the sale of the expensive grand piano to Tommy Shelton. The link to the article that Fran had posted last year no longer goes to the article. A Google search did not find the article either.

Does anyone have that article in their email archives so it could be posted here?

I do recall that on the February 15, 2007 3abn Live show aired to rebut AT's article on Tommy's retirement, Danny, et. al., made it a point to bring up that AT had backtracked on their original piano sale story after further investigation.

couln't find the original article either but did find this one where Danny states that there was another older donated piano which they did sell to a Shelton family member for a modest price. http://tinyurl.com/2zpyaq

---

Posted by: Pickle Jun 15 2007, 10:28 AM

If the one sold to Tommy was sold at below Fair Market Value, then there is a problem, even if the piano sold was the piano that was replaced by the donated piano, not the donated piano itself.

Posted by: Rosyroi Jun 15 2007, 10:32 AM

> QUOTE(lurker @ Jun 15 2007, 09:03 AM)
>
> I couln't find the original article either but did find this one where Danny states that there was another older donated piano which they did sell to a Shelton family member for a modest price.
> http://tinyurl.com/2zpyaq

I remember Danny discussing the piano situation on world wide television and wondered "Why the need to mention it?" His answer created more questions and I didn't feel satisfied with the answers he gave.

Rosyroi

Posted by: lurker Jun 15 2007, 11:24 AM

On one of the new 990's I saw COGS and wondered if it means Church of God something?

Posted by: Pickle Jun 15 2007, 01:08 PM

Where did you see that?

Posted by: lurker Jun 15 2007, 02:20 PM

> QUOTE(Pickle @ Jun 15 2007, 01:08 PM)
>
> Where did you see that?

I was told that it means cost of goods sold. Silly me, it would have been a good joke if I had known what it really meant. I'm learning about accounting - among other things.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jun 15 2007, 02:35 PM

> QUOTE(Rosyroi @ Jun 15 2007, 08:32 AM)
>
> I remember Danny discussing the piano situation on world wide television and wondered "Why the need to mention it?" His answer created more questions and I didn't feel satisfied with the answers he gave.
>
> Rosyroi

Lurker,

Thanks for the link to the article!

PB

Posted by: Pickle Jun 15 2007, 04:29 PM

The original correction on the piano story is at http://www.atoday.com/6.0.html?&tx_ttnews%5bbackPid%5d=1&tx_ttnews%5btt_news%5d=60&cHash=7410d7a570.

Posted by: Fran Jun 15 2007, 08:49 PM

QUOTE(lurker @ Jun 15 2007, 02:20 PM)

I was told that it means cost of goods sold. Silly me, it would have been a good joke if I had known what it really meant. I'm learning about accounting - among other things.

Lurker;

You guys/gals are killing me! rofl rofl rofl

Everytime I log on, I think I have landed in the Humor Section~ Love it!

Posted by: Fran Jun 15 2007, 09:32 PM

QUOTE

I CAN READ IT - CAN YOU?

Fi yuo cna raed tihs, yuo hvae a sgtrane mnid too.
Cna yuo raed tihs? Olny 55 plepoe can.

i cdnuolt blveiee taht I cluod aulaclty uesdnatnrd waht I was rdanieg. The phaonmneal pweor of the hmuan mnid, aoccdrnig to a rscheearch at Cmabrigde Uinervtisy, it dseno't mtaetr in waht oerdr the ltteres in a wrod are, the olny iproamtnt tihng is taht the frsit and lsat ltteer be in the rghit pclae. The rset can be a taotl mses and you can sitll raed it whotuit a pboerlm. Tihs is bcuseae the huamn mnid deos not raed ervey lteter by istlef, but the wrod as a wlohe. Azanmig huh? yaeh and I awlyas tghuhot slpeling was ipmorantt!

Reading about 3ABN is much like reading the above paragraph. God has given us such wonderfully made brains that we are able to read the above.

We have been sorting through masses of information. As we read, our minds affirm that "This is not Sabbath School" here in the 3ABN Threads at BlackSDA. It has sort of been like reading the above paragraph.

The information has sometimes come in one jumbled up blob. Yet, if we can get the 1st and last letter right we can figure out the rest.

Truth can and has been found. I believe God has used his gift of discernment through some posters here. Those posting untruth can't see, but those speaking truth are clearly understood.

I am truly blessed for being here to witness God's mighty power to lead us into all truth.

Posted by: Artiste Jun 15 2007, 11:04 PM

QUOTE(Fran @ Jun 15 2007, 07:32 PM)

[b]
The information has sometimes come in one jumbled up blob. Yet, if we can get the 1st and last letter right we can figure out the rest.

Very interesting, Fran!

You mentioned in the "strange mind reading exercise" that only 55 people could read it. Was that 55 people out of some total? Or a percent?

Posted by: Shiny Penny Jun 16 2007, 12:14 AM

QUOTE(Pickle @ Jun 15 2007, 09:28 AM)

If the one sold to Tommy was sold at below Fair Market Value, then there is a problem, even if the piano sold was the piano that was replaced by the donated piano, not the donated piano itself.

Fair Market Value is subjective. Always will be. If you ask 10 different real estate agents to give independent valuations of a piece of real estate, you will get 10 different values - that are hopefully all in the same ball park.

Fair Market Value is what a willing buyer and a willing seller, who are independent and disinterested parties, are willing to pay/receive for an asset. While this piano deal is a related-party transaction, it does not necessarily mean that one party was enriched at the other's expense.

Assume the piano's FMV was appraised in the range of $2,500 - $4,000 and 3ABN gets two offers to buy the piano. One offer is $2,500, but stipulates that 3ABN must pay for transporting the piano to its new destination and transportation costs are about $750. The second offer is $2,000. And there are no other offers in part because the piano has a major defect.

What would you do?

QUOTE(Fran @ Jun 15 2007, 08:32 PM)

Reading about 3ABN is much like reading the above paragraph. God has given us such wonderfully made brains that we are able to read the above.

sw smthng smlr nc whr thy tk wy ll th vwls nd t ws qt sly nderstd.

Posted by: Fran Jun 16 2007, 01:03 AM

QUOTE(Shiny Penny @ Jun 16 2007, 12:14 AM)

sw smthng smlr nc whr thy tk wy ll th vwls nd t ws qt sly nderstd.

I thought I was the only one who did vowel-less notes! "Vry Gd mssg"! I got it.~

Good to see you back. Can we resume our posting? I never got a reply previously. You went away. I would like to address other items on the Property Tax Lawsuit. Of course, my questions are basically financial or managerial. You seem to be quite knowledgeable in these areas. My interest is not about the findings or about the ongoing appeal, but with bylaws and job descriptions and financial questions which have nothing to do with a property tax decision.

Are you OK? I hope you were not ill.

Posted by: Snoopy Jun 16 2007, 12:17 PM

QUOTE(Shiny Penny @ Jun 16 2007, 01:14 AM)

Fair Market Value is subjective. Always will be. If you ask 10 different real estate agents to give independent valuations of a piece of real estate, you will get 10 different values - that are hopefully all in the same ball park.

Fair Market Value is what a willing buyer and a willing seller, who are independent and disinterested parties, are willing to pay/receive for an asset. While this piano deal is a related-party transaction, it does not necessarily mean that one party was enriched at the other's expense.

Assume the piano's FMV was appraised in the range of $2,500 - $4,000 and 3ABN gets two offers to buy the piano. One offer is $2,500, but stipulates that 3ABN must pay for transporting the piano to its new destination and transportation costs are about $750. The second offer is $2,000. And there are no other offers in part because the piano has a major defect.

What would you do?
sw smthng smlr nc whr thy tk wy ll th vwls nd t ws qt sly nderstd.

Good points, Shiny Penny! Just curious - what was the piano's "major defect"?

Posted by: Pickle Jun 16 2007, 08:52 PM

Here is what a friend just wrote me about Walt's collusion with Danny over the real estate deal: "If those three don't know it what they did was a form of theft and if they don't confess it and make the necessary restitution then they are going to hell." That's stronger than the way I would put it, but I wonder what will happen after all their shenanigans are brought to light.

Remember what Walt said on that Feb. 15, 2007, broadcast in which they announced that they were going to sue? How Walt said that all the board members are honest to a fault? And in violation of IRS regulations Walt participates in signing over a 3ABN property to Danny at 3ABN's loss? Huh?

Now get this: I asked Linda about it all as ShinyPenny suggested, and she told me that she had told Gailon that he needed to put this out in a balanced way so that it doesn't look so bad. She said that the board purposely chose to keep the salaries low because donors would get concerned if they received big salaries. And that puts the real estate deal in a better light, she thought. It was a gift from 3ABN because they had low salaries and no pension plan.

Someone could say Linda has an ax to grind, and so I tend to take what she says with a grain of salt, but since she honestly thought that the above scenario made the situation look better, I think I can take her comments and run with them: The board wanted the salaries to appear low, and so while the donors think 3ABN only paid the Sheltons less than a combined $95,000 in 1998, 3ABN in essence paid them more than $220,000 (combined salary + profit from the sale of Lot 6).

And that $220,000 doesn't include the free $30,000 worth of 18 acres the Sheltons received from a strong 3ABN supporter that very same year.

And 3ABN apparently hid the transaction from the IRS by reporting the "gifted" property on the 990 as a loss from a sale rather than as compensation to the Sheltons.

Rather than putting the real estate deal in a better light, I think Linda's comments suggest that Walt's claim is false that every board member is honest to a fault.

Posted by: Snoopy Jun 16 2007, 09:00 PM

QUOTE(Pickle @ Jun 16 2007, 08:52 PM)

Here is what a friend just wrote me about Walt's collusion with Danny over the real estate deal: "If those three don't know it what they did was a form of theft and if they don't confess it and make the necessary restitution then they are going to hell." That's stronger than the way I would put it, but I wonder what will happen after all their shenanigans are brought to light.

Remember what Walt said on that Feb. 15, 2007, broadcast in which they announced that they were going to sue? How Walt said that all the board members are honest to a fault? And in violation of IRS regulations Walt participates in signing over a 3ABN property to Danny at 3ABN's loss? Huh?

Now get this: I asked Linda about it all as ShinyPenny suggested, and she told me that she had told Gailon that he needed to put this out in a balanced way so that it doesn't look so bad. She said that the board purposely chose to keep the salaries low because donors would get concerned if they received big salaries. And that puts the real estate deal in a better light, she thought. It was a gift from 3ABN because they had low salaries and no pension plan.

Someone could say Linda has an ax to grind, and so I tend to take what she says with a grain of salt, but since she honestly thought that the above scenario made the situation look better, I think I can take her comments and run with them: The board wanted the salaries to appear low, and so while the donors think 3ABN only paid the Sheltons less than a combined $95,000 in 1998, 3ABN in essence paid them more than $220,000 (combined salary + profit from the sale of Lot 6).

And that $220,000 doesn't include the free $30,000 worth of 18 acres the Sheltons received from a strong 3ABN supporter that very same year.

And 3ABN apparently hid the transaction from the IRS by reporting the "gifted" property on the 990 as a loss from a sale rather than as compensation to the Sheltons.

Rather than putting the real estate deal in a better light, I think Linda's comments suggest that Walt's claim is false that every board member is honest to a fault.

Oh my. Oh my. Oh my. I SO hope that is not true. I do not know Linda at all, but if what she says is true it sure makes that whole real estate deal make more sense. Oh my. I wonder who the CFO was then??? Couldn't the whole board be held liable (NOT libel!)? I thought somebody on the board was supposedly a fraud expert! None of the other employees there get a pension plan - will all the employees be taken care of so well with these little bonuses?? Do they get to pick their real estate??

I wonder what Lisa Madigan (Illinois Attorney General) would have to say about that!! I know of others who will be very interested. And I'm REAL curious to know what Shiny Penny might think!!

~~Disgusted Snoopy~~

Posted by: Pickle Jun 16 2007, 09:10 PM

Well, Snoopy, why don't you call up Lisa Madigan on Monday and ask her what she thinks about it? And report back and let us know what she says.

I do not recall whether Linda mentioned the lack of a pension plan or not. I think I heard that from two people other than her. She did call the property a gift.

She also justified it in part this way: The place was bought for around $65,000, and Danny fixed it up a bit, which is why it increased in value.

I asked her if Danny or 3ABN paid for the materials, and if Danny fixed it up on company time. If 3ABN paid for the materials, then that doesn't help. And I guess whether Danny did it on company time or not is irrelevant. Either way the "gift" of the house is still compensation.

Posted by: Snoopy Jun 16 2007, 09:14 PM

QUOTE(Pickle @ Jun 16 2007, 09:10 PM)

Well, Snoopy, why don't you call up Lisa Madigan on Monday and ask her what she thinks about it? And report back and let us know what she says.

I do not recall whether Linda mentioned the lack of a pension plan or not. I think I heard that from two people other than her. She did call the property a gift.

She also justified it in part this way: The place was bought for around $65,000, and Danny fixed it up a bit, which is why it increased in value.

I asked her if Danny or 3ABN paid for the materials, and if Danny fixed it up on company time. If 3ABN paid for the materials, then that doesn't help. And I guess whether Danny did it on company time or not is irrelevant. Either way the "gift" of the house is still compensation.

Well I might just do that. This is getting out of hand.

Where is Fran???

Posted by: Pickle Jun 16 2007, 09:58 PM

Snoopy,

What I hear is that if you call Lisa Madigan, she will refer you to a unit in Chicago that deals with non-profits.

Posted by: Snoopy Jun 16 2007, 10:24 PM

QUOTE(Pickle @ Jun 16 2007, 09:58 PM)

Snoopy,

What I hear is that if you call Lisa Madigan, she will refer you to a unit in Chicago that deals with non-profits.

That's fine. Actually, it was a conference official who suggested I contact her as she has a reputation for going after alleged charity fraud. I just didn't want to believe any of this I guess, but the time may have come.

Posted by: Pickle Jun 16 2007, 10:39 PM

Gailon says that this particular situation is a civil issue rather than a criminal issue. I think it has to do with statute of limitations having run out. But it will be interesting to see what Ms. Madigan says.

Yes, why not contact her first and see if she directs you elsewhere.

Posted by: runner4him Jun 16 2007, 10:59 PM

QUOTE(Pickle @ Jun 16 2007, 11:39 PM)

Gailon says that this particular situation is a civil issue rather than a criminal issue. I think it has to do with statute of limitations having run out. But it will be interesting to see what Ms. Madigan says.

Yes, why not contact her first and see if she directs you elsewhere.

If the situation is now a civil issue...then could the donors make a case against 3abn for using the donations improperly? It seems criminal to misuse the funds and then deliberately cover their tracks to keep the donors in the dark.

So sad...we sacrifice to help the ministry and then wake up years later to see all this. I was like the rest of those...asleep at the wheel.

Posted by: Snoopy Jun 16 2007, 11:40 PM

QUOTE(runner4him @ Jun 16 2007, 11:59 PM)

If the situation is now a civil issue...then could the donors make a case against 3abn for using the donations improperly? It seems criminal to misuse the funds and then deliberately cover their tracks to keep the donors in the dark.

So sad...we sacrifice to help the ministry and then wake up years later to see all this. I was like the rest of those...asleep at the wheel.

Great question! I'm right there with ya, runner4him!

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Jun 17 2007, 06:43 AM

As all these things unfold, it only makes things look worse and worse for 3ABN.

If donations continue to drop over all of this, then they only have themselves to blame.

Posted by: watchbird Jun 17 2007, 07:12 AM

Two random thoughts on the recent comments on this thread.

1) One has to wonder how a supposedly "conservative Adventist" environment could be built with such a total disregard of basic business ethics that even after being out of it for three full years, Linda seemingly can still not see even the illegalness of their actions... much less the ethical issues concerned.

2) Has it occurred to anyone that when Shiny Penny gives her interesting "speculations" about what "could have happened" that she just might be giving us glimpes into the stories that were told to the board.... which caused the board to accept Danny's course of action?

....

Posted by: Pickle Jun 17 2007, 07:20 AM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jun 17 2007, 07:12 AM)
>
> 1) One has to wonder how a supposedly "conservative Adventist" environment could be built with such a total disregard of basic business ethics that even after being out of it for three full years, Linda seemingly can still not see even the illegalness of their actions... much less the ethical issues concerned.

Either Linda was an evil accomplice, or she believed whatever Danny and others told her.

I haven't made up my mind which it is, but for her to make those comments to me thinking that it made the situation look better makes me lean toward the latter possibility. And there have been other comments and situations that likewise make me lean that direction.

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jun 17 2007, 07:34 AM

I think that if enough people tell you that you are anointed by God then you might get the idea that whatever you do is justified and/or you deserve whatever perks you can get because God has chosen you. And if you are married to a person who believes that then you will go along with whatever he says and believes himself. Delusions of grander or shades of Waco and David Koresh?

Richard

> QUOTE(Pickle @ Jun 17 2007, 09:20 AM)
>
> Either Linda was an evil accomplice, or she believed whatever Danny and others told her.
>
> I haven't made up my mind which it is, but for her to make those comments to me thinking that it made the situation look better makes me lean toward the latter possibility. And there have been other comments and situations that likewise make me lean that direction.

Posted by: Shepherdswife Jun 17 2007, 07:42 AM

QUOTE(Pickle @ Jun 16 2007, 09:52 PM)

Now get this: I asked Linda about it all as ShinyPenny suggested, and she told me that she had told Gailon that he needed to put this out in a balanced way so that it doesn't look so bad. She said that the board purposely chose to keep the salaries low because donors would get concerned if they received big salaries. And that puts the real estate deal in a better light, she thought. It was a gift from 3ABN because they had low salaries and no pension plan.

Since I have never met either Danny or Linda and didn't ever watch 3ABN, I have no emotional or relational dog in this fight, but I have been uncomfortable all along with the perception I sense from some on this board that Danny is totally at fault and Linda was a meek, unsuspecting little victim who knew nothing. She may not have known everything, and she may have ignored a lot of things that she suspected--to keep the peace or to focus on the mission" (which can be used as a cop-out), but even if she just ignored warning signs, as vice president and spouse, she holds some responsibility. I suspect she feels some of that responsibility now and might do things differently if she had it to do over--or I would like to hope that--since I have never talked to her, I would not know.

That said, her current take on this "gift" is very telling, in my opinion. The "entitlement" mentality that creeps in when someone is giving their all to a project is insidious and can be cloaked in very righteous robes, if we are doing "God's work". And even if you believe that they deserve that kind of money for their work, to do it in such a way as to hide it from the donors, so they don't get any flack from them, is extremely troubling to me. The jet is another example--once we start deciding that we are entitled to this or that because of all our sacrifice for God's work, or because it will help us do God's work better, (which are legitimate issues) along with a lack of accountability from people whom you will allow to get in your face, disagree with you and hold you accountable, this stuff starts happening. The fact that they felt the need to "spin" their compensation package--and to me, that is all it is (put this out in a balanced way so that it doesn't look so bad)--suggests that they knew their donors would not be comfortable with it. And when you are asking for $10 a month from people's fixed income, knowing that they may only have a few hundred coming in, it is troubling to me for the perks to add up to tens of thousands of dollars. To not set up a pension fund but then to use that lack to excuse to un-accounted for, un-reported perks here and there just looks questionable at best and shady at worse.

When you are put way up on a pedestal like they were/are, the danger of beginning to believe that you deserve all the praise and the perks you are getting is huge. I really liked one of the quotes that I saw on another topic--"Nearly all men can stand adversity, but if you want to test a man's character give him power." Abraham Lincoln

---

Posted by: runner4him Jun 17 2007, 09:07 AM

QUOTE(Shepherdswife @ Jun 17 2007, 08:42 AM)

Since I have never met either Danny or Linda and didn't ever watch 3ABN, I have no emotional or relational dog in this fight, but I have been uncomfortable all along with the perception I sense from some on this board that Danny is totally at fault and Linda was a meek, unsuspecting little victim who knew nothing. She may not have known everything, and she may have ignored a lot of things that she suspected--to keep the peace or to "focus on the mission" (which can be used as a cop-out), but even if she just ignored warning signs, as vice president and spouse, she holds some responsibility. I suspect she feels some of that responsibility now and might do things differently if she had it to do over--or I would like to hope that--since I have never talked to her, I would not know.

That said, her current take on this "gift" is very telling, in my opinion. The "entitlement" mentality that creeps in when someone is giving their all to a project is insidious and can be cloaked in very righteous robes, if we are doing "God's work". And even if you believe that they deserve that kind of money for their work, to do it in such a way as to hide it from the donors, so they don't get any flack from them, is extremely troubling to me. The jet is another example--once we start deciding that we are entitled to this or that because of all our sacrifice for God's work, or because it will help us do God's work better, (which are legitimate issues) along with a lack of accountability from people whom you will allow to get in your face, disagree with you and hold you accountable, this stuff starts happening. The fact that they felt the need to "spin" their compensation package--and to me, that is all it is (put this out in a balanced way so that it doesn't look so bad)--suggests that they knew their donors would not be comfortable with it. And when you are asking for $10 a month from people's fixed income, knowing that they may only have a few hundred coming in, it is troubling to me for the perks to add up to tens of thousands of dollars. To not set up a pension fund but then to use that lack to excuse to un-accounted for, un-reported perks here and there just looks questionable at best and shady at worse.

When you are put way up on a pedestal like they were/are, the danger of beginning to believe that you deserve all the praise and the perks you are getting is huge. I really liked one of the quotes that I saw on another topic--"Nearly all men can stand adversity, but if you want to test a man's character give him power." - Abraham Lincoln

Great post Shepherdswife! Definitely agree!!

Posted by: Pickle Jun 17 2007, 09:09 AM

Shepherdswife,

I told her when I spoke with her that she could end her explanation, if she gets asked, with, "That's my signature on those documents, and so I take full responsibility." So whether she fully knew what she was doing was wrong or not, really, that's the only way to end the explanation, whatever the explanation may be.

You write about folks getting the idea that they are entitled to benefits because of sacrifices in God's cause. Desire of Ages gives us an example of that, doesn't it?

Perhaps it wouldn't be so bad if this were the only real estate-type transaction that is alleged to have occurred.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jun 17 2007, 10:10 AM

Shepherdswife,

Thank you for your thoughtful perspective on this land deal.

I think many of us are wondering just how much Linda was involved in this obvious attempted manipulation of not only the donors but also of the U.S. tax code. There is no way to rationalize away the many levels of dishonesty apparent in this transaction. That a ministry purporting to represent Christ would participate in such a "working the system" scheme further casts suspicion on the leadership of that ministry, IMO.

I am, however, pleased that Linda is at least willing to be open with the thought process behind this deal.

QUOTE(Pickle @ Jun 17 2007, 07:09 AM)

Perhaps it wouldn't be so bad if this were the only real estate-type transaction that is alleged to have occurred.

Bob,

This is the problem in a nutshell! It begins to appear that there has been a tendency towards dishonesty all along.

Posted by: Observer Jun 17 2007, 10:25 AM

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jun 17 2007, 07:12 AM)

Two random thoughts on the recent comments on this thread.

1) One has to wonder how a supposedly "conservative Adventist" environment could be built with such a total disregard of basic business ethics that even after being out of it for three full years, Linda seemingly can still not see even the illegalness of their actions... much less the ethical issues concerned.

2) Has it occurred to anyone that when Shiny Penny gives her interesting "speculations" about what "could have happened" that she just might be giving us glimpes into the stories that were told to the board.... which caused the board to accept Danny's course of action?

.....

Well, I want to respond. NOTE: I have not communicated with Linda prior to responding. And, I am responding to more than Wacthbird.

Legality: Some of the actions that are being criticized are not illegal as such. A couple of days ago I responded to a statement made to me about what "X" may have done. I went on to say that There was nothing illegal about doing such, as long as the governing Board had the facts and knew about it prior to the action being taken. Some issues are ethical ones, even when it is not criminal.

Issues for consideration often have involved issues of ethics, when they were not criminal.

Linda: Yesterday I mentioned an issue which has been raised to another person. Her response was: Greg, if what you say is true, Linda is complicit. My response was that Linda was complicit. Then we discussed this further.

We who defend Linda have never presented her as perfect. I do not claim perfection in her. Yes, she does have some defenses to some of the issues. But, this is not the place to raise those.

I am going to leave the issue of Linda and expand a little.

In my opinon, Seventh-day Adventists who lead the church often do not have any real understanding of ethics.

I will suggest that our mentality may tend to foster a disregard of ethics.

I once published a statement to the effect that Danny Shelton was underpaid. I stilll support that statement.

Denominationally we have pastors serving congregations in some areas where they cannot afford to live, and some live 100 miles from the congregations that they serve.

This occurs because the denominational organizations cannot afford to pay the pastor a wage high enough to allow the pastor to live near the congregation.

This results in several things happening:

a) The organization may pay the pastor additonal benefits over and beyond those that are typically given.

b) The pastor either with or without permission, may take a part-time job.

c) The pastor may find ways to take additional income out of the church. This can even be placing a family member on salery what does not perform the service for which they are paid.

People who are underpaid look for ways to incerase their income.

Out of this comes a mentality that says: 1) I have a need. 2) I am entitled to have tha need met. 3) Here is a way that I have developed to have the need met. i.e. The end justifies the means. There is no paper trail. The governing board does not need to know.

Folks, we need to clean up aspects of our denominational pay system.

Back to Linda:

Yes, she was not perfect. Yes, her signatrue went on documents that she possibly should not have signed, or it should have been done differently.

Linda today is learning. She has been baptized by fire, and more may come. It is changing her, and she is growing, and maturing. She would not do today everything that she has done in the past. It is likely that she has more growing to do. It is likely that in the future she would understand some issues better.

Linda has been in the past more trusting than she should have been. She is learnign some hard lessons. This may still be an aspect of her. But, she is growing.

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jun 17 2007, 10:48 AM

Sometimes we become convinced that our wants are our needs. We try to justify our wants by making them into needs. Thus we donor ministries with 6 million dollar jets.

I would hope we would never jeopardize the investigation into Danny and 3ABN because we are trying to protect Linda, to do so would be unethical in it's self.

Richard

Posted by: lurker Jun 17 2007, 10:54 AM

Danny may have been underpaid according to the world's standards for CEO's but based on the combined salaries of Danny and Linda, I hardly think that such actions were based on needs but rather on wants. If they thought what they were doing was ok, why go to such great lengths to hide it? Any justification takes a lot of rationalization and still comes up short.

Richard, we must have been writing at the same time and had the same thoughts. I agree with you 100%.

Posted by: LaurenceD Jun 17 2007, 11:02 AM

Good point, lurker.

I keep wondering what might have happened with D&LS if the property tax lawsuit had gone the way they all believed (and prayed) that it should have gone. Sure, there were other factors developing such as family relations, but I keep thinking about Linda's testimony during that hearing. At one point she changes her story. Here's the quote...

> In addition, there is discrepancy in the testimony of Linda Shelton. She stated she did not receive royalty payments for the CDs (Tr. pp. 595, 617) and later admitted that she did (Tr. p.619).

Suppose she had been taking advice on how to testify, then suddenly had a change of heart and decided to tell the truth instead. She begins to realize how the game is being played and wants no part of it. Between the spring of 2003 (the lawsuit), and the spring of 2004 (when she separates from DS) everything falls apart.

When you're teamed up with someone it's so easy to fall under their influence and go along with the way the other person is doing. When people are in positions to think and act as individuals, they may do things quite differently.

Maybe I'm way off, but I couldn't help but notice the timeline, 2003-2004, when things begin falling apart in a bigger way.

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jun 17 2007, 11:02 AM

Great points lurker.

If Danny was making 50 grand a year that works out, based on 40 hour work weeks to about $25 an hour. How many of the donors are making 1/4 that amount and supporting their families? How many of the members on here are making $25 per hour? Rhetorical question of course but the point it that a donor supported ministry should not be paying a worldly amount to their officials. Their reward should not be of this world.

Richard

> QUOTE(lurker @ Jun 17 2007, 11:54 AM) ☐
>
> Danny may have been underpaid according to the world's standards for CEO's but based on the combined salaries of Danny and Linda, I hardly think that such actions were based on needs but rather on wants. If they thought what they were doing was ok, why go to such great lengths to hide it? Any justification takes a lot of rationalization and still comes up short.
>
> Richard, we must have been writing at the same time and had the same thoughts. I agree with you 100%.

Posted by: daylily Jun 17 2007, 11:17 AM

I have no trouble believing that Linda might not have known the implications of what she was signing. I don't understand all that stuff and I would have turned to someone I trusted, i.e. my husband, to tell me it was OK to sign. Now, I believe I would find an expert and talk to them before signing.

Daylily

Posted by: Shiny Penny Jun 17 2007, 12:17 PM

QUOTE(Pickle @ Jun 16 2007, 07:52 PM)

Now get this: I asked Linda about it all as ShinyPenny suggested, and she told me that she had told Gailon that he needed to put this out in a balanced way so that it doesn't look so bad.

Hmmm...Interesting. "Put it out in a balanced way?" What does that mean? The way I read it was not balanced at all. Danny and the board did everything so devious, but there was no "Linda regrets anything" about the transactions. If the house transaction was so bad, why did Linda agree to it in the first place? Of all of the evil boardmembers, why wasn't Linda (and she was a board member then) a lone voice in the wilderness saying this isn't right and refuse to sign the documents?

She said that the board purposely chose to keep the salaries low because donors would get concerned if they received big salaries. And that puts the real estate deal in a better light, she thought. It was a gift from 3ABN because they had low salaries and no pension plan.

Someone could say Linda has an ax to grind, and so I tend to take what she says with a grain of salt, but since she honestly thought that the above scenario made the situation look better, I think I can take her comments and run with them: The board wanted the salaries to appear low, and so while the donors think 3ABN only paid the Sheltons less than a combined $95,000 in 1998, 3ABN in essence paid them more than $220,000 (combined salary + profit from the sale of Lot 6).

(from another post) She also justified it in part this way: The place was bought for around $65,000, and Danny fixed it up a bit, which is why it increased in value. Is Linda saying here that 3ABN bought the house for $65,000? and then later sold it to her and Danny? Or is she saying that she and Danny bought the house for $65,000?

There is just too much unknown, to determine what really happened. If Linda and Danny received a house and did not include the gain in their tax return then both of them should be shaking in their boots, because the IRS will not look favorably upon failure to disclose income or gains. And I mean both of them. Failure to remember is not an excuse. So perhaps Linda should start to prepare a revised tax return and save for the taxes due, penalties and interest and hope that they don't thow her in jail. Ditto to Danny.

And that $220,000 doesn't include the free $30,000 worth of 18 acres the Sheltons received from a strong 3ABN supporter that very same year.

Gifts taxes are paid by the giver, not by the recipient of the gift. So you should check "strong supporter's" tax returns to see if he/she paid the gift tax.

And 3ABN apparently hid the transaction from the IRS by reporting the "gifted" property on the 990 as a loss from a sale rather than as compensation to the Sheltons.

You don't know this for sure, because you don't know the details about the transaction.

Rather than putting the real estate deal in a better light, I think Linda's comments suggest that Walt's claim is false that every board member is honest to a fault.

Posted by: Pickle Jun 17 2007, 12:37 PM

SP,

I said "apparently hid," didn't I? That suggests I don't know for sure.

What we do know for sure about the transaction is that 3ABN reported it to the IRS on the 990 as a sale, correct? They reported it on the 990 as a sale at a substantial loss, correct? They didn't report it as compensation to the officers/directors who were personally benefiting from the sale, correct? It was a sale that was far below fair market value, correct?

Posted by: Observer Jun 17 2007, 02:17 PM

QUOTE(LaurenceD @ Jun 17 2007, 10:02 AM)

Suppose she had been taking advice on how to testify, then suddenly had a change of heart and decided to tell the truth instead. She begins to realize how the game is being played and wants no part of it. Between the spring of 2003 (the lawsuit), and the spring of 2004 (when she separates from DS) everything falls apart.

There is another posibility: Perhaps she had been decieved, and with the passage of time learns the truth and so changes her testimony.

Folks, the bottom line is that the idea that these issues need settlement in a court of law, where people are compelled to testify, under oath.

If that can happen, it just may be that Linda will be vindicated on some issues.

And if may be that on others she will be seen to be complicit and to trusting for her own good.

Linda's postition is: Let the truth come out, in full. Her reputation can not be damaged by the truth more than ithas been damaged by falsehood. That is true even if she is shown to be imperfect.

Posted by: mozart Jun 17 2007, 02:48 PM

WARNING: this might need some digesting so open those great minds you all have. my mind is tired from writing it so i'll just let you all chew on it for a while, while i go take a nap.

the first thing that bothers me about this is Linda's point that it looked better to the viewers if they made a small salary. i have heard them say on air that they made about the same as school teachers. if that is true, that sounds more than fair, modest in fact for what they are doing. salary is relative. that being said, D & L, work hard and they should get paid a decent wage. but what bothers me is the part where she alledgedly says, "it made it look better that they get a smaller salary". now that is deceitful and i'm thinking that someone other than D & L was manipulating that PR. maybe it was DS, maybe it was LS but very possibly, and i'm sure many of you would agree, there are others staging these scenarios creating "a well-oiled machine". (GMc comes to mind, but i bet there are more purse-strings that are planting the ideas as well) personally, i don't believe for a minute that D or L were "all knowing" in the business that they were in the middle of. there are professionals for that and there are the moneybags. all have a say and things are very complicated. i don't expect D or L to know all that went on as far as it being ethical or legal. there are many facets to this. one facet is the corruption of power, another is being in a situation bigger than you are and another is trusting people. i think a lot of what they did, they were persuaded to do by others "in the know" who should have known better or thought they knew enough to cover themselves.

i have no way of knowing if L is totally innocent, but i do think (and i could be totally wrong) that she trusted those around her to do things the right way.
how many times have we as individuals signed documents without reading every word or understanding every word. normally, i think most people trust their attorney or their real estate agent or their accountant more than themselves. not that we should, probably not, but if we knew all that was needed for such dealings then we wouldn't need the professionals now would we?
also i think we need to consider what i mentioned above about the moneybags. there is a lot of DS bashing done here and there and maybe he absolutely deserves it but also, maybe, it's a bit too all-encompassing. are we ourselves being naive or vengeful in painting him as a megalomaniac? is he capable of all we discredit him for? maybe others feeding him and directing him have had something to do with this path? none involved are squeeky clean, but i think we should look deeper and even deeper still.
you know it's not unusual for control freaks to control other control freaks. sometimes they control each other thinking they are the "ONE" who's really in control. it's all a viscious circle of manipulation.
what the person signing the papers has to decide before signing is: are they convinced that what this one is saying will work or is true or profitable or honest? is it ethical or moral or safe?. how that is answered is according to the motives of the one signing the papers and their motives are often "persuaded" by their own faults or the faults of others. they would like us to think they are totally guided by God, but the mind has a way of deceiving itself when it opens the window of temptation and we are all guilty of that at one time or another. don't misunderstand me. i'm not making excuses for anyone or saying that these things should not be addressed and dealt with. hang in here with me on this.
when we see these big corporations fall, many people are at fault.
i think we here do ourselves and "the cause" a favor by looking deeper into who guides those who sign the papers and not just expecting those 2 to know and understand everything and also not making those 2 out to be evil con-artist. i don't think it's that simple. the truth is an elusive thing, especially now-a-days when big money and slick lawyers can make things a maze of complication, covering up things as fast as they start to appear. honesty is sooooooooo much simpler but that's not the big world we live in. it might be our little world but it's not the world "out there".
there seems to be no way to get these issues resolved with 100% honesty because none of the players are 100% honest.
it seems to be more about "what we can get away with".
as much as we want to say our independent ministries and the GC, etc., etc. are ministries & churches, much is big business and there is no way around that and it seems that wherever there is big business, greed and dishonesty usually follow.
this is 2007 and the diciples are not walking around in robes with a book and a loaf of bread in their bag. it is a never ending struggle of scrutiny that we, as Christians, are going to have to deal with and deal with it we must, but let's not be short-sighted. i think much more investigation needs to be done in the direction of those who influence those who sign the papers.

Posted by: Observer Jun 17 2007, 03:52 PM

SP: You correctly tell us that gift taxes are paid by the donor, and not the one who recieved the gift. However, you neglected to remind us of the restrictions that the IRS places on what constitutes a gift that does not need to be declared by the one who recieved it. If I am the pastor of a local chruch, and one of my members gives me a vaulable gift, the IRS is going to tell me that I am required to declare it as it does not qualify as a gift that does not need to be declared. Rather, the IRS will tell me that it is actually compensation recievd due to my ministry in the congregation, and to that member.

Therefore, it is likely that vaulable gifts recieved by officers of 3-ABN from contributors to 3-ABN, and/or members of the listening audience, must be declared as income to those officers as they do not qualify as gifts which do not need to be declared.

Of course, I do not have the knowledge of the specifics to know if this is true in the issues mentioned here. In addition, I do not imply that any such people did not properly delcare such gifts that they may have recieved.

I am posting here due to your failure to tell us the whole truth.

Posted by: Shiny Penny Jun 17 2007, 05:17 PM

QUOTE(Observer @ Jun 17 2007, 02:52 PM)

SP: You correctly tell us that gift taxes are paid by the donor, and not the one who recieved the gift. However, you neglected to remind us of the restrictions that the IRS places on what constitutes a gift that does not need to be declared by the one who recieved it. If I am the pastor of a local chruch, and one of my members gives me a vaulable gift, the IRS is going to tell me that I am required to declare it as it does not qualify as a gift that does not need to be declared. Rather, the IRS will tell me that it is actually compensation recievd due to my ministry in the congregation, and to that member.

Therefore, it is likely that vaulable gifts recieved by officers of 3-ABN from contributors to 3-ABN, and/or members of the listening audience, must be declared as income to those officers as they do not qualify as gifts which do not need to be declared.

Of course, I do not have the knowledge of the specifics to know if this is true in the issues mentioned here. In addition, I do not imply that any such people did not properly delcare such gifts that they may have recieved.

I am posting here due to your failure to tell us the whole truth.

Excuse me...get your facts straight before you say that I am failing to tell the whole truth. The recipient of the gift does NOT pay tax on the gift and neither does he/she have to report the gift.

This is what the IRS says:

> If you gave any one person gifts in 2006 that valued at more than $12,000, you must report the total gifts to the Internal Revenue Service and may have to pay tax on the gifts.
>
> The person who receives your gift does not have to report the gift to the IRS or pay gift or income tax on its value.
>
> Gifts include money and property, including the use of property without expecting to receive something of equal value in return. If you sell something at less than its value or make an interest-free or reduced-interest loan, you may be making a gift.
>
> There are some exceptions to the tax rules on gifts. The following gifts do not count against the annual limit:
>
> *
> Tuition or Medical Expenses that you pay directly to an educational or medical institution for someone's benefit
> *
> Gifts to your Spouse
> *
> Gifts to a Political Organization for its use

*

Gifts to Charities

If you are married, both you and your spouse can give separate gifts of up to the annual limit to the same person without making a taxable gift.

For more information, get the IRS Publication 950, Introduction to Estate and Gift Taxes, IRS Form 709, United States Gift Tax Return, and Instructions for Form 709. They are available at the IRS Web site at IRS.gov in the Forms and Publications section or by calling 800-TAX-FORM (800-829-3676).

http://www.irs.gov/newsroom/article/0,,id=107815,00.html

Posted by: calvin Jun 17 2007, 06:04 PM

QUOTE(Richard Sherwin @ Jun 17 2007, 11:02 AM)

Great points lurker.

If Danny was making 50 grand a year that works out, based on 40 hour work weeks to about $25 an hour. How many of the donors are making 1/4 that amount and supporting their families? How many of the members on here are making $25 per hour? Rhetorical question of course but the point it that a donor supported ministry should not be paying a worldly amount to their officials. Their reward should not be of this world.

Richard

I disagree. You have to pay a competitive salary or else you won't attract the best and the brightest to your profession.

Posted by: princessdi Jun 17 2007, 06:13 PM

This is the area inwhich I have no problem with Danny. 50K is peanuts for his job. Whether we believe he severely abused his privilege or not, it doesnt' erase the good that is being done on his watch. he is he head of a network. it is not worldly or sinful to get well paid for their effrots. iI don't know where we get that from. Especially when it comes to independent ministries where the people srtat out pouring in all they have to get it started.

QUOTE(Richard Sherwin @ Jun 17 2007, 10:02 AM)

Great points lurker.

If Danny was making 50 grand a year that works out, based on 40 hour work weeks to about $25 an hour. How many of the donors are making 1/4 that amount and supporting their families? How many of the members on here are making $25 per hour? Rhetorical question of course but the point it that a donor supported ministry should not be paying a worldly amount to their officials. Their reward should not be of this world.

Richard

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jun 17 2007, 06:19 PM

But are those who work for the Lord not to take the example of Jesus? He lived a simple life. Should we be paying our workers in spreading the gospel beyond a comfortable living wage? If Danny and Linda together were making somewhere around the 100 grand per year mark I'd say that's pretty comfortable for where they were living. And also lets not forget that allegedly they did try to hide their income from the public by saying one thing and receiving another. Notice the word allegedly because IMO this has not yet been proven.

I feel that when it comes to spreading the gospel with donated funds the competitive salary idea is not a valid point. If people are truly being led by God they will work for wages that will house them and take care of their families financial obligations and not much more. JMHO you understand

Richard

QUOTE(calvin @ Jun 17 2007, 08:04 PM)

I disagree. You have to pay a competitive salary or else you won't attract the best and the brightest to your profession.

Posted by: lurker Jun 17 2007, 07:58 PM

And Elisha said unto him, Whence [comest thou], Gehazi? And he said, Thy servant went no whither. And he said unto him, Went not mine heart [with thee], when the man turned again from his chariot to meet thee? [Is it] a time to receive money, and to receive garments, and oliveyards, and vineyards, and sheep, and oxen, and menservants, and maidservants? The leprosy therefore of Naaman shall cleave unto thee, and unto thy seed for ever. And he went out from his presence a leper [as white] as snow.

(2Ki 5:1-27)

Posted by: Snoopy Jun 17 2007, 08:24 PM

QUOTE(princessdi @ Jun 17 2007, 07:13 PM)

This is the area inwhich I have no problem with Danny. 50K is peanuts for his job. Whether we believe he severely abused his privilege or not, it doesnt' erase the good that is being done on his watch. he is he head of a network. it is not worldly or sinful to get well paid for their effrots. iI don't know where we get that from. Especially when it comes to independent ministries where the people srtat out pouring in all they have to get it started.

I agree, Di, but I think we also need to consider executive salaries in comparison with that of the "rank and file". Most employees are paid a mere pittance and are NOT provided with a pension plan. I have heard the lack of a pension plan is because Danny thinks the employees should rely on the Lord for their retirement!! Yet, he gets a sweet real estate deal and it's OK??

QUOTE(Shiny Penny @ Jun 17 2007, 06:17 PM)

Excuse me...get your facts straight before you say that I am failing to tell the whole truth. The recipient of the gift does NOT pay tax on the gift and neither does he/she have to report the gift.

This is what the IRS says:

> If you gave any one person gifts in 2006 that valued at more than $12,000, you must report the total gifts to the Internal Revenue Service and may have to pay tax on the gifts.
>
> The person who receives your gift does not have to report the gift to the IRS or pay gift or income tax on its value.
>
> Gifts include money and property, including the use of property without expecting to receive something of equal value in return. If you sell something at less than its value or make an interest-free or reduced-interest loan, you may be making a gift.
>
> There are some exceptions to the tax rules on gifts. The following gifts do not count against the annual limit:
>
> *
> Tuition or Medical Expenses that you pay directly to an educational or medical institution for someone's benefit
> *
> Gifts to your Spouse
> *
> Gifts to a Political Organization for its use
> *
> Gifts to Charities
>
> If you are married, both you and your spouse can give separate gifts of up to the annual limit to the same person without making a taxable gift.
>
> For more information, get the IRS Publication 950, Introduction to Estate and Gift Taxes, IRS Form 709, United States Gift Tax Return, and Instructions for Form 709. They are available at the IRS Web site at IRS.gov in the Forms and Publications section or by calling 800-TAX-FORM (800-829-3676).

http://www.irs.gov/newsroom/article/0,,id=107815,00.html

EXCUSE ME, Shiny Penny, but could you please respond to my question about the piano??? What was the "major defect"??

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jun 17 2007, 08:12 AM)

Two random thoughts on the recent comments on this thread.

1) One has to wonder how a supposedly "conservative Adventist" environment could be built with such a total disregard of basic business ethics that even after being out of it for three full years, Linda seemingly can still not see even the illegalness of their actions... much less the ethical issues concerned.

2) Has it occurred to anyone that when Shiny Penny gives her interesting "speculations" about what "could have happened" that she just might be giving us glimpes into the stories that were told to the board.... which caused the board to accept Danny's course of action?

....

Regarding #2, Watchbird, I believe you have hit that nail squarely on the head, which is why I would like to hear more about that piano and its "major defect"!!

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jun 17 2007, 09:27 PM

QUOTE(Observer @ Jun 17 2007, 12:17 PM)

There is another posibility: Perhaps she had been decieved, and with the passage of time learns the truth and so changes her testimony.

Folks, the bottom line is that the idea that these issues need settlement in a court of law, where people are compelled to testify, under oath.

If that can happen, it just may be that Linda will be vindicated on some issues.

And if may be that on others she will be seen to be complicit and to trusting for her own good.

Linda's postition is: Let the truth come out, in full. Her reputation can not be damaged by the truth more than ithas been damaged by falsehood. That is true even if she is shown to be imperfect.

Gregory,

This is good news indeed! At least one person who was in leadership believes in the truth!

Posted by: Shiny Penny Jun 17 2007, 09:34 PM

QUOTE(Snoopy @ Jun 17 2007, 07:24 PM)

I agree, Di, but I think we also need to consider executive salaries in comparison with that of the "rank and file". Most employees are paid a mere pittance and are NOT provided with a pension plan. I have heard the lack of a pension plan is because Danny thinks the employees should rely on the Lord for their retirement!! Yet, he gets a sweet real estate deal and it's OK??
EXCUSE ME, Shiny Penny, but could you please respond to my question about the piano??? What was the "major defect"??
Regarding #2, Watchbird, I believe you have hit that nail squarely on the head, which is why I would like to hear more about that piano and its "major defect"!!

I don't know what was exactly wrong with the piano, just that it was far from perfect. Perhaps someone else knows something.

Posted by: Observer Jun 17 2007, 10:15 PM

QUOTE(Shiny Penny @ Jun 17 2007, 05:17 PM)

Excuse me...get your facts straight before you say that I am failing to tell the whole truth. The recipient of the gift does NOT pay tax on the gift and neither does he/she have to report the gift.

This is what the IRS says:

> If you gave any one person gifts in 2006 that valued at more than $12,000, you must report the total gifts to the Internal Revenue Service and may have to pay tax on the gifts.
>
> The person who receives your gift does not have to report the gift to the IRS or pay gift or income tax on its value.
>
> Gifts include money and property, including the use of property without expecting to receive something of equal value in return. If you sell something at less than its value or make an interest-free or reduced-interest loan, you may be making a gift.
>
> There are some exceptions to the tax rules on gifts. The following gifts do not count against the annual limit:
>
> *
> Tuition or Medical Expenses that you pay directly to an educational or medical institution for someone's benefit
> *
> Gifts to your Spouse
> *
> Gifts to a Political Organization for its use
> *
> Gifts to Charities
>
> If you are married, both you and your spouse can give separate gifts of up to the annual limit to the same person without making a taxable gift.
>
> For more information, get the IRS Publication 950, Introduction to Estate and Gift Taxes, IRS Form 709, United States Gift Tax Return, and Instructions for Form 709. They are available at the IRS Web site at IRS.gov in the Forms and Publications section or by calling 800-TAX-FORM (800-829-3676).

http://www.irs.gov/newsroom/article/0,,id=107815,00.html

SP:

I do have my facts straight.

You are correct in what you say.

The issue is that you have not told the whole truth.

What you say is correct as it applies to what the IRS allows to be a qualified gift. Your failure to tell the whole truth applies to what the IRS does not allow to qualify for the gift provisions thatyou cite.

I clearly do not have the facts to be able to say whether or not the transaction in question qualified under IRS rules as a gift. I do not have the facts to make any statement in regard to whether or not either Danny or Linda should have declard such as taxable income on their 1040s.

But, I do have the knowledge to say that based upon your statement that a 3-ABN supported had made them a gift you have raised the issue that such may not have qualified as a gift under IRS rules and that it might have been, under IRS rules taxable income to them.

Again, I do do know. But, it is of interest that one of the reasons we appreciate you comming here and defending 3-ABN is due to the information that you give us that we can use.

Thank you for your insightful comment.

Posted by: Shiny Penny Jun 17 2007, 10:23 PM

QUOTE(Observer @ Jun 17 2007, 08:15 PM)

SP:

I do have my facts straight.

You are correct in what you say.

The issue is that you have not told the whole truth.

What you say is correct as it applies to what the IRS allows to be a qualified gift. Your failure to tell the whole truth applies to what the IRS does not allow to qualify for the gift provisions thatyou cite.

I clearly do not have the facts to be able to say whether or not the transaction in question qualified under IRS rules as a gift. I do not have the facts to make any statement in regard to whether or not either Danny or Linda should have declard such as taxable income on their 1040s.

But, I do have the knowledge to say that based upon your statement that a 3-ABN supported had made them a gift you have raised the issue that such may not have qualified as a gift under IRS rules and that it might have been, under IRS rules taxable income to them.

Again, I do do know. But, it is of interest that one of the reasons we appreciate you comming here and defending 3-ABN is due to the information that you give us that we can use.

Thank you for your insightful comment.

Please cite your sources - giving the whole truth as you call it.

Posted by: Observer Jun 18 2007, 06:42 AM

QUOTE(Shiny Penny @ Jun 17 2007, 10:23 PM)

Please cite your sources - giving the whole truth as you call it.

SP:

There are two reasons why I cannot comply with your request:

1) Your question is so closely related to specific issues which involve Danny and Linda Shelton, and 3-ABN that people would tend to apply my response to them.

I cannot speak specificly to the specific issues raised regarding certain transactions involving 3-ABN, Danny and Linda. I do not have enough knowledge of the specific facts to make specific statements about such transactions and their taxability. Any attempt to do so would not be fair to anyone.

2) The issues regarding the taxability of "gifts" by the one who recieved the gift involves case law of the appropriate Federal court, rulings of the IRS, and Federal law. The extent and complexity of all of those is much more than I could ever produce to simpley satisfy your interest. I do not have the time for all of that, if I did have the ability to produce it.

The fact remains, the IRS does not consider something to be a gift simply because it is called a gift. It must be a qualified gift. That reains a fact.

While I am not attempting to give you any kind of a comprehensive responee to your questions, let me stimulate your thinking in one area:

Do some research in what the IRS calls a "Related Party Transaction."

You will note that under IRS rules some of the profits recieved in a Related Party Transaction may be taxable to the person who recieved those profits. It is true that the profits may only be partially taxable. That is determined by the specific circumstances.

As you study Related Party Transactions, you will note that the property transaction that you have referenced between Danny, Linda, and 3-ABN appears on the surface to be a Related Party Transaction, if it occured as it has been described.

Again, I do not know if it actually took place as it has been desribed. Since some of the profits may not be taxable to the one who recieved them, I do not have the knowledge to say specificly whether or not the profits from that transaction were taxable to Danny and Linda, or to what extent they may or may not have been taxable to them.

You have asked me to support my comment. Your study of Related Party Transactions should convnce you that the potential exists for Danny and Linda to have assumed a tax liability for some (or all) of the profits from that sale of property. Agan, I do not know if that liability actually occured.

There are other aspects of this issue. But, I cannot begin to give a comprehensive resposne.

Posted by: beartrap Jun 18 2007, 07:54 AM

I called an accountant and asked about the gift issue. I was told that what SP says is true regarding the giver having to pay the taxes on the gift. However, if you recieve a gift from your employer then you are responsible for the taxes.

http://www.completetax.com/taxguide/news/06-290goodietax.asp

Posted by: Observer Jun 18 2007, 09:14 AM

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jun 18 2007, 06:54 AM)

> I called an accountant and asked about the gift issue. I was told that what SP says is true regarding the giver having to pay the taxes on the gift. However, if you recieve a gift from your employer then you are responsible for the taxes.

Beartrap:

Again, your comment in regard to gifts from an employer is simplistic. Generally one must pay taxes on gifts of value provided by an employeer, but not always. Your employeer may be able to pay your taxi fare to go home from work under certain conditions, but not others. You do not have to pay tax on a $15 Christmas turkey that you are given at Christmas, but if you are given a $15 Christmas check you must pay the tax on it.

Further, some gifts of value are tax exempt only based upon their value not exceeding a stated limit. Your employeer may provide your with a $50,000 group life insurance policy with no tax liability to you. But, if that same employeer gives you a $55,000 group life insurance policy you will assume some tax liabiliaty. In addition, if you work for two employeers, and each gives you a $30,000 group life insurance policy, your will have a tax liability.

NOTE: IRS rules change so rapidly that it may be that the dollar limits listed above have been raised.

Getting to other issues:

The IRS decides whether or not someting is a qualified gift. Just because it is called a gift does not mean that it will qualify as a gift undr IRS rules.

Related Party Transactions are often a substantial issue.

The IRS looks closely at gifts that may stem from a service that was provided. As a pastor, I must declare gifts that comes from members of my congregation.

The IRS will look closely at so-called gifts that go to a corporate officer from that corporation. The same is true when the gift is comming from a donor to a charitable organization that solicits funds.

Again, the complexities of this issue are such that I do not intend to imply that specific gifts discussed her either were or were not taxabable to any specific person or persons.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jun 18 2007, 09:30 AM

Sigh...

Seems it might be helpful to recruit a corporate tax specialist from the IRS into BSDA membership.

Posted by: beartrap Jun 18 2007, 09:58 AM

> QUOTE(Observer @ Jun 18 2007, 08:14 AM) ☐
>
> Beartrap:
>
> Again, your comment in regard to gifts from an employer is simplistic. Generally one must pay taxes on gifts of value provided by an employeer, but not always. Your employeer may be able to pay your taxi fare to go home from work under certain conditions, but not others. You do not have to pay tax on a $15 Christmas turkey that you are given at Christmas, but if you are given a $15 Christmas check you must pay the tax on it.

googled it and found a number of sites explaining what you are saying, so I posted a link to one of them.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jun 18 2007, 12:22 PM

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jun 18 2007, 08:58 AM)

I googled it and found a number of sites explaining what you are saying, so I posted a link to one of them.

nteresting site, beartrap. It doesn't look like Lot 6 falls into the de minimus exclusion of employer to ›mployee gifts.

Posted by: Pickle Jun 18 2007, 01:04 PM

QUOTE(Observer @ Jun 17 2007, 10:15 PM)

I clearly do not have the facts to be able to say whether or not the transaction in question qualified under IRS rules as a gift. I do not have the facts to make any statement in regard to whether or not either Danny or Linda should have declard such as taxable income on their 1040s.

wouldn't know how the IRS would want Ma Ford's gift of 18 acres reported.

3ut one problem I see with Lot 6 is that 3ABN reported it to the IRS on the 990, not as a gift to two directors ınd officers, but as a sale to some unspecified party.

f it was a sale, and we should probably assume that 3ABN is telling the truth about it being a sale since the ›90 was probably signed under penalty of perjury, then would not the $129,000 of profit 7 days later have to ›e reported as a capital gain if no part of it had been reported as compensation on Danny and Linda's W-2's?

Posted by: Snoopy Jun 18 2007, 03:42 PM

QUOTE(Pickle @ Jun 16 2007, 09:10 PM)

Well, Snoopy, why don't you call up Lisa Madigan on Monday and ask her what she thinks about it? And report back and let us know what she says.

I do not recall whether Linda mentioned the lack of a pension plan or not. I think I heard that from two people other than her. She did call the property a gift.

She also justified it in part this way: The place was bought for around $65,000, and Danny fixed it up a bit, which is why it increased in value.

I asked her if Danny or 3ABN paid for the materials, and if Danny fixed it up on company time. If 3ABN paid for the materials, then that doesn't help. And I guess whether Danny did it on company time or not is irrelevant. Either way the "gift" of the house is still compensation.

went to the Illinois Attorney General website where their is a specific page dedicated to charities:

http://www.illinoisattorneygeneral.gov/charities/index.html

At the bottom of that page is this address and phone number:

Illinois Attorney General
Charitable Trust Bureau
100 W. Randolph St., 11th Floor
Chicago, IL 60601
(312) 814-2595
TTY: (312) 814-3374

I called the number and was told that any complaint or request for investigation had to be filed in writing and would trigger an investigation by an attorney. They do not have a defined compaint form. They were able to tell me that to date there has not been a complaint filed against 3ABN.

Posted by: lurker Jun 18 2007, 04:25 PM

Thanks for the information, Snoopy,

There is a link on that page Illinois Attorney General's Registered Charities. When you click on that link, the next page has a link Charitable Database Information and Disclaimer. Read the disclaimer and it looks like if you click on "yes" that you agree and proceed, there looks like there is more information available from the State about a charity. This is not to file a complaint, just to get more inside information on the charity you want to learn more about.

I didn't go any further.

Is anyone going to file?

Posted by: runner4him Jun 18 2007, 06:14 PM

QUOTE(lurker @ Jun 18 2007, 05:25 PM)

Thanks for the information, Snoopy,

There is a link on that page Illinois Attorney General's Registered Charities. When you click on that link, the next page has a link Charitable Database Information and Disclaimer. Read the disclaimer and it looks like if you click on "yes" that you agree and proceed, there looks like there is more information available from the State about a charity. This is not to file a complaint, just to get more inside information on the charity you want to learn more about.

I didn't go any further.

Is anyone going to file?

Someone should.....

Posted by: Artiste Jun 18 2007, 06:14 PM

QUOTE(lurker @ Jun 18 2007, 02:25 PM)

Thanks for the information, Snoopy,

There is a link on that page Illinois Attorney General's Registered Charities. When you click on that link, the next page has a link Charitable Database Information and Disclaimer. Read the disclaimer and it looks like if you click on "yes" that you agree and proceed, there looks like there is more information available from the State about a charity. This is not to file a complaint, just to get more inside information on the charity you want to learn more about.

I didn't go any further.

Is anyone going to file?

And what is the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists going to do about the possibility of this potentially damaging action against "the world-wide face of Adventism"?

Have they or are they going to put out a warning advisory for the older conservative church members of problems coming up with their favorite SDA ministry media outlet? The one they like to give their donations to?

As far as General Conference officials not appearing on 3ABN, interviews including the General Conference trust department official have been airing several times over the last week.

****

Posted by: lurker Jun 18 2007, 06:22 PM

They said that programs already taped could be used just not to tape any new ones. I'd guess that these programs fall into that category. At least I hope so. I think 3ABN is trying to give the impression of continued support by airing already taped shows.

Some of us older conservative members are already among the most concerned. The thing that would rock my faith is if in the face of all that we know, the G.C. wimps out and doesn't take a stand.

This is a little story about four people named Everybody, Somebody, Anybody, and Nobody.

There was an important job to be done and Everybody was sure that Somebody would do it.

Anybody could have done it, but Nobody did it.

Somebody got angry about that because it was Everybody's job.

Everybody thought that Anybody could do it, but Nobody realized that Everybody wouldn't do it.

It ended up that Everybody blamed Somebody when Nobody did what Anybody could have done

---

Posted by: runner4him Jun 18 2007, 06:41 PM

QUOTE(lurker @ Jun 18 2007, 07:22 PM)

They said that programs already taped could be used just not to tape any new ones. I's guess that these programs fall into that category. At least I hope so. I think 3ABN is trying to give the impression of continued support by airing already taped shows.

Some of us older conservative members are already among the most concerned. The thing that would rock my faith is if in the face of all that we know, the G.C. wimps out and doesn't take a stand.

This is a little story about four people named Everybody, Somebody, Anybody, and Nobody.

There was an important job to be done and Everybody was sure that Somebody would do it.

Anybody could have done it, but Nobody did it.

Somebody got angry about that because it was Everybody's job.

Everybody thought that Anybody could do it, but Nobody realized that Everybody wouldn't do it.

It ended up that Everybody blamed Somebody when Nobody did what Anybody could have done could not agree more. They need to get on the move sooner rather than later. How damaging if they waited until some reporter gets the story and it makes headlines....then they will look like Whimps indeed. I guess I come from a line of doers and maybe to a fault that we are not cautious enough at times. I think I remember somewhere in the SOP where we are told to make a decision and not to be wishy washy. (not an exact quote)

Posted by: Artiste Jun 18 2007, 06:54 PM

QUOTE(lurker @ Jun 18 2007, 04:22 PM)

Some of us older conservative members are already among the most concerned. The thing that would rock my faith is if in the face of all that we know, the G.C. wimps out and doesn't take a stand.

also am among the group of older conservative church members, only I am not one of those who donate!

****

Posted by: lurker Jun 18 2007, 07:12 PM

Well I used to donate but not anymore. And it wan't "gossip" on the internet that influenced me. I watched 3ABN a lot because my husband runs the remote and the more I saw, the worse it seemed to get. And I handle the donations.

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jun 18 2007, 07:18 PM

I guess if they can take legal action then so can the rest of us.

And for sure nothing is changing with Doctor Chairman. He and I have exchanged a couple emails the last few days and basically what he said was they are breaking the lease on the plane and sure are going to miss it, 3ABN has done nothing wrong, are covering up nothing immoral or illegal and that he has a clear conscience and he has done his job well

Richard

Posted by: Rosyroi Jun 18 2007, 07:58 PM

QUOTE(daylily @ Jun 17 2007, 10:17 AM)

I have no trouble believing that Linda might not have known the implications of what she was signing. I don't understand all that stuff and I would have turned to someone I trusted, i.e. my husband, to tell me it was OK to sign. Now, I believe I would find an expert and talk to them before signing.

Daylily

I agree with you Daylily,
Rosyroi

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jun 18 2007, 09:27 PM

QUOTE(Richard Sherwin @ Jun 18 2007, 07:18 PM)

I guess if they can take legal action then so can the rest of us.

And for sure nothing is changing with Doctor Chairman. He and I have exchanged a couple emails the last few days and basically what he said was they are breaking the lease on the plane and sure are going to miss it, 3ABN has done nothing wrong, are covering up nothing immoral or illegal and that he has a clear conscience and he has done his job well

Richard

It seems the top leadership is preparing for their own retirement years with "off the map" real estate transactions?

If that's the case, then I think the 3ABN employees need to plan for their own retirement years. Based on what I read, it seems the President is providing for himself, and not waiting for God to do anything regarding his retirement.

This reminds me of a story.

The statement "Go West young man; go West" was made during the last century by Horace Greely, an editor and publisher who founded both the New Yorker Magazine and the New York Tribune Newspaper. He was admonishing young adventurers to seek their fortunes in the wild west.

Horace, himself, went East and made a fortune.

So, dear 3ABN employee, when you consider someone's advice about retirement benefits, don't expect that advisor to take their own advice. You may find out you're being duped after it is too late to do anything about it. Also remember that even good medical doctors make big, gigantic mistakes: That's why they spend so much on malpractice insurance.

Posted by: Artiste Jun 18 2007, 09:35 PM

QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jun 18 2007, 07:27 PM)

The statement "Go West young man; go West" was made during the last century by Horace Greely, an editor and publisher who founded both the New Yorker Magazine and the New York Tribune Newspaper. He was admonishing young adventurers to seek their fortunes in the wild west.

Horace, himself, went East and made a fortune.

So, dear 3ABN employee, when you consider someone's advice about retirement benefits, don't expect that advisor to take their own advice. You may find out you're being duped after it is too late to do anything about it. Also remember that even good medical doctors make big, gigantic mistakes: That's why they spend so much on malpractice insurance.

Wonderful story...totally agree!

****

(But if you don't mind, please go easy on the medical doctors!)

Posted by: Shiny Penny Jun 18 2007, 09:54 PM

QUOTE(Observer @ Jun 17 2007, 08:15 PM)

SP:

I do have my facts straight.

You are correct in what you say.

The issue is that you have not told the whole truth.

What you say is correct as it applies to what the IRS allows to be a qualified gift. Your failure to tell the whole truth applies to what the IRS does not allow to qualify for the gift provisions thatyou cite.

I clearly do not have the facts to be able to say whether or not the transaction in question qualified under IRS rules as a gift. I do not have the facts to make any statement in regard to whether or not either Danny or Linda should have declard such as taxable income on their 1040s.

But, I do have the knowledge to say that based upon your statement that a 3-ABN supported had made them a gift you have raised the issue that such may not have qualified as a gift under IRS rules and that it might have been, under IRS rules taxable income to them.

Again, I do do know. But, it is of interest that one of the reasons we appreciate you comming here and defending 3-ABN is due to the information that you give us that we can use.

Thank you for your insightful comment.

My earlier comments were referring to the "strong supporter's" gift of the land. If that wasn't clear to you, then I apologize and hope it is clear now. I hold to my prior statements and citations from the IRS website - the giver of the gift is the payer of the taxes, if there are any taxes to pay.

It is interesting to me that I am accused of neglecting to tell the whole truth, when the whole issue that is being discussed relates from some few documents that are posted on the Save site...with lots of surmising and far from the whole of anything, much less the whole truth. Why bring up 3 or 4 documents, when Linda says she doesn't remember what they're about? Or is there some parts of the known truth that are being withheld? That's a thought worth consdering. Perhaps you or others in the know can confirm that what has been disclosed about the house (Lot 6) transactions is a complete picture, or as complete as is possible under the circumstances.

It is annoying to find that partial information is disclosed in order to influence how we as members of bsda will view certain transactions. I certainly hope that this is not the case, but would appreciate some confirmation that there has been full disclosure regarding what is known about the Lot 6 transactions.

Thank you.

Posted by: Snoopy Jun 18 2007, 10:22 PM

QUOTE(lurker @ Jun 18 2007, 04:25 PM)

Thanks for the information, Snoopy,

There is a link on that page Illinois Attorney General's Registered Charities. When you click on that link, the next page has a link Charitable Database Information and Disclaimer. Read the disclaimer and it looks like if you click on "yes" that you agree and proceed, there looks like there is more information available from the State about a charity. This is not to file a complaint, just to get more inside information on the charity you want to learn more about.

I didn't go any further.

Is anyone going to file?

You are right, lurker. That link takes you to the 990s.

Posted by: lurker Jun 19 2007, 04:12 AM

I guess you had more courage than I did, Snoopy. It would have taken me a little longer before I would have got up enough gumption to investigate more on that website as you did. I was sure thinking about it. Didn't it say there were other documents available too?

Also, when anyone files a complaint, that isn't the same as filing a lawsuit. It is just filing a complaint that needs to be investigated by the State.

And though IRS action toward 3ABN may be impossible in regard to that particular real estate deal because of the statute of limitations, would action by the State of Illinois be precluded by a statute of limitations? Could or would they do anything in regard to past worgdoing?

Posted by: Observer Jun 19 2007, 06:17 AM

QUOTE(lurker @ Jun 19 2007, 03:12 AM)

I guess you had more courage than I did, Snoopy. It would have taken me a little longer before I would have got up enough gumption to investigate more on that website as you did. I was sure thinking about it. Didn't it say there were other documents available too?

Also, when anyone files a complaint, that isn't the same as filing a lawsuit. It is just filing a complaint that needs to be investigated by the State.

And though IRS action toward 3ABN may be impossible in regard to that particular real estate deal because of the statute of limitations, would action by the State of Illinois be precluded by a statute of limitations? Could or would they do anything in regard to past worgdoing?

There is a ten (10) year rule that applies to some types of IRS issues. I cannot say whether or not that rule applies to the transactions in question. I do not imply that it does. Maybe it does. Maybe it does not. But, there is a ten (10) year rule that sometimes applies.

All of this discussion has been interesting. I thank SP for her part in getting it going. If she had not posted partial information, and made some of the comments that she made, some of us would not have been as informed as we are now.

Those who defend 3-ABN/Danny contribute to our learning. It is truth that we are after.

Posted by: Pickle Jun 19 2007, 08:04 AM

QUOTE(lurker @ Jun 18 2007, 05:25 PM)

Is anyone going to file?

If more had filed complaints about Tommy years ago, there would likely be fewer alleged victims today who think they can't do anything now because the statute of limitations has run out.

Posted by: Pickle Jun 19 2007, 08:26 AM

QUOTE(Snoopy @ Jun 18 2007, 11:22 PM)

You are right, lurker. That link takes you to the 990s.

Not just the 990's, but the financial statements and auditor's report as well.

One thing that caught my eye is that for 2003 to 2005, the airplane(s) cost between $858,000 and $989,000 a year. Statement 12 of the 990 for 2004 and 2005 lists payments received from disqualified persons. Was anyone on that list the one footing the $30,000 or $40,000 a month for the plane, and if so, are those amounts listed?

Another thing that caught my eye is the purchases from DLS Publishing and D&L Publishing. D&L Publishing is likely Danny and Linda, and must have been replaced by DLS Publishing in 2004. I am curious where its assets went after the divorce, and why neither publishing company is listed on Danny's 2006 financial affidavit.

Questions have previously been asked about inventory. Perhaps the additonal information in these statements will help to answer some of those questions.

Lastly, the 2000 990 Sched. A lists $610,000+ going to two contractors, and $69,000+ going to Gray Hunter Stenn for Auditing and something. Then the 2001 990 Sched. A lists Gray Hunter Stenn getting $125,000+ for Auditing and Accounting services. Anyone know if the same firm that does your auditing can also do your accounting?

I'm curious as to just how far one has to avoid conflicts of interest involving auditors. What if a firm prepared my personal tax return. Could they also audit my non-profit's books? Or would that constitute a prohibitive conflict of interest?

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jun 18 2007, 10:27 PM)
>
> It seems the top leadership is preparing for their own retirement years with "off the map" real estate transactions?

That nothing of the sort is going on becomes extremely hard to verify since the auditor's statement says that 3ABN does not account for payments to its related entities in Russia, the Philippines, Brazil, and Peru.

Posted by: Pickle Jun 19 2007, 08:40 AM

> QUOTE(Shiny Penny @ Jun 18 2007, 10:54 PM)
>
> Why bring up 3 or 4 documents, ...

I'm not sure I understand what you mean, SP. The 5 documents on Gailon's site presumably cover all the transactions that year for the two properties in question. The ones pertaining to Lot 6, when combined with the 1998 990, unequivocally show that:

- Lot 6 was sold by 3ABN to DLS and LSS.
- As officers of 3ABN, DLS and LSS signed the deed in order to sell the property to themselves.
- 3ABN admitted on the 990 that the property was sold for a price far below fair market value.
- That sale resulted in about $129,000 profit to DLS & LSS in only 7 days.

What is yet unknown that has already been discussed? From what I recall, no one has yet discussed the possibility that Danny and Linda already knew on Septmeber 25, 1998, that the property they as officers were signing over to themselves was going to be resold at a hefty profit in just 1 week. Seems like a reasonable assumption, but that is one detail we don't know, yet no one has suggested that, from what I recall.

Posted by: Pickle Jun 19 2007, 10:16 AM

Another question regarding the 2003 to 2005 auditor's report: How much longer than two years will it take for the 3ABN board of directors to bring 3ABN into line by requiring the related entities in Russia, the Philippines, Peru, and Brazil to disclose the information the auditor's report specifies? Two years sounds long enough, but maybe it isn't.

I hope Caremelita Troy notices this possible problem. She wasn't around in 1998, but she's around now.

By the way, does the attorney general's office have documents for additional years that are not online? Does anyone live close enough to find out and get copies of everything but the 990's for 1998 through 2002, or even back to 1984 or 1985 through 2002, if they are available?

Posted by: Observer Jun 19 2007, 10:19 AM

QUOTE(Pickle @ Jun 19 2007, 07:26 AM)

Not just the 990's, but the financial statements and auditor's report as well.

One thing that caught my eye is that for 2003 to 2005, the airplane(s) cost between $858,000 and $989,000 a year. Statement 12 of the 990 for 2004 and 2005 lists payments received from disqualified persons. Was anyone on that list the one footing the $30,000 or $40,000 a month for the plane, and if so, are those amounts listed?

Another thing that caught my eye is the purchases from DLS Publishing and D&L Publishing. D&L Publishing is likely Danny and Linda, and must have been replaced by DLS Publishing in 2004. I am curious where its assets went after the divorce, and why neither publishing company is listed on Danny's 2006 financial affidavit.

Questions have previously been asked about inventory. Perhaps the additonal information in these statements will help to answer some of those questions.

Lastly, the 2000 990 Sched. A lists $610,000+ going to two contractors, and $69,000+ going to Gray Hunter Stenn for Auditing and something. Then the 2001 990 Sched. A lists Gray Hunter Stenn getting $125,000+ for Auditing and Accounting services. Anyone know if the same firm that does your auditing can also do your accounting?

I'm curious as to just how far one has to avoid conflicts of interest involving auditors. What if a firm prepared my personal tax return. Could they also audit my non-profit's books? Or would that constitute a prohibitive conflict of interest?
That nothing of the sort is going on becomes extremely hard to verify since the auditor's statement says that 3ABN does not account for payments to its related entities in Russia, the Philippines, Brazil, and Peru.

Can the same firm/person do your accounting and auditing?

I am an officer in a local, non-SDA, non-profit (not cheritable) organization. A couple of years ago we retained a CPA to do an in-depth audit of our books over a three year period.

Following that audit, we decided to solicit bids for someone to do our accounting, as well as some other functions. The person who had recently done the audit bid for the accounting position. At the time that we interviewed him, he clearly stated in terms that we we could understand that any future audits would have to be done by others, if he got the a ccounting position, as it would be highly unethical for him to do both our accounting and future audits. We understood, had expected such, and agreed with him. He also told us that he could lose his CPA license if he were to attempt to do both our accounting and future audits.

Now, it is speculation as to what is meant in the quotation listed above in regard to Auditing and Accounting services.

I am going to assume that Mr. Stenn is a knowledgeable, ethical person who would never risk doing something that might result in censure, or other discipline. On this basis, I must assume one of the following is the explaination:

1) The person who prepared the 990 did not accurately describe the services performed by Mr. Stenn. In reality, Mr. Stenn does not do both auditing, and accounting. Perhaps (?) he may do some accounting, and peridicly write a report that someone who is not experienced in accounting has described as an audit.

2) Mr. Stenn either did an audit, or does the accounting, but not both. The comment in the 990 is inaccurate.

3) There is some other explaination that has escaped my thought at this point in time. Perhaps with the passage of time there will be some revelation of this matter.

Posted by: Snoopy Jun 19 2007, 10:54 AM

QUOTE(Shiny Penny @ Jun 18 2007, 10:54 PM)

It is annoying to find that partial information is disclosed in order to influence how we as members of bsda will view certain transactions. I certainly hope that this is not the case, but would appreciate some confirmation that there has been full disclosure regarding what is known about the Lot 6 transactions.

Thank you.

Just a hunch, but I'll bet Linda Shelton is also very annoyed at the release of partial information in order to influence...BTJM...

Posted by: Pickle Jun 19 2007, 11:25 AM

QUOTE(Observer @ Jun 19 2007, 11:19 AM)

Can the same firm/person do your accounting and auditing?

It is unquestionable that the firm (the Marion office in 2000) identified as doing accounting and auditing in 2001 is the same firm (Marion Office) that did the actual audit in 2003 through 2005.

Also, take a look at the last page of the http://www.save3abn.com/media/3abn-form-990-1999.pdf. The request for an extension is signed by Alan Lovejoy, CPA. Now look at the last page of the http://www.save3abn.com/media/3abn-form-990-2000.pdf. Notice that the request for an extension is because the audit is delayed until August, and that is because they had to fire their Financial Director. Would that have been Alan Lovejoy, CPA?

Now look at http://www.zoominfo.com/people/Lovejoy_Alan_1005480.aspx. Alan Lovejoy, CPA, is a partner at Gray Hunter Stenn.

Was he a partner there when he signed the extension request for the 1999 990 on 5/8/2000? It appears that he was.

One of the allegations out there is that someone was the 3ABN CFO while at the same time affiliated with the auditing firm. There's more to the story, but I don't know all the details.

At any rate, we are left with the question of whether Alan Lovejoy was signing that extension request as an accountant for 3ABN or as an auditor for Gray Hunter Stenn.

Would the auditor sign the extension request? Or would the 3ABN CFO or some other officer do that? According to the http://unclefed.com/IRS-Forms/1999/f2758.pdf:

QUOTE

Signature. The person who signs this form may be:

- A distributee, or an authorized representative of a distributee, filing Form 706-GS(D).
- A trustee filing Form 706-GS(T) or 3520-A.
- A fiduciary, trustee, or an officer representing the fiduciary or trustee of an exempt trust filing Form 990, 990-EZ, 990-BL, 990-PF, or 990-T.
- A principal officer of a corporate organization filing Form 990, 990-EZ, 990-PF, 4720, 6069, 8612, or 8613.
- A foundation manager, trustee, or disqualified person filing Form 990-BL, 1120-ND, or 4720 for their own liability.
- A fiduciary, trustee, executor, administrator, or an officer representing the fiduciary or trustee filing Form 1041, 1041-A, 4720, or 5227.
- A withholding agent filing Form 1042.
- A person filing Form 8725 or 8831.
- A general partner or limited liability company member of a partnership filing Form 8804.
- An attorney or certified public accountant qualified to practice before the IRS.
- A person enrolled to practice before the IRS.
- A person holding a power of attorney.
- An individual filing Form 6069.

If Lovejoy was qualified to practice before the IRS, maybe he could sign the form even if he didn't work for 3ABN. What do you think? If that was the case, would there have still been a conflict of interest? Or would he have signed the form because he was the one who was supposed to be preparing the 990?

Posted by: Fran Jun 19 2007, 01:32 PM

QUOTE(Pickle @ Jun 19 2007, 12:25 PM)

It is unquestionable that the firm (the Marion office in 2000) identified as doing accounting and auditing in 2001 is the same firm (Marion Office) that did the actual audit in 2003 through 2005.

Also, take a look at the last page of the http://www.save3abn.com/media/3abn-form-990-1999.pdf. The request for an extension is signed by Alan Lovejoy, CPA. Now look at the last page of the http://www.save3abn.com/media/3abn-form-990-2000.pdf. Notice that the request for an extension is because the audit is delayed until August, and that is because they had to fire their Financial Director. Would that have been Alan Lovejoy, CPA?

Now look at http://www.zoominfo.com/people/Lovejoy_Alan_1005480.aspx. Alan Lovejoy, CPA, is a partner at Gray Hunter Stenn.

Was he a partner there when he signed the extension request for the 1999 990 on 5/8/2000? It appears that he was.

One of the allegations out there is that someone was the 3ABN CFO while at the same time affiliated with the auditing firm. There's more to the story, but I don't know all the details.

At any rate, we are left with the question of whether Alan Lovejoy was signing that extension request as an accountant for 3ABN or as an auditor for Gray Hunter Stenn.

Would the auditor sign the extension request? Or would the 3ABN CFO or some other officer do that? According to the http://unclefed.com/IRS-Forms/1999/f2758.pdf:
If Lovejoy was qualified to practice before the IRS, maybe he could sign the form even if he didn't work for 3ABN. What do you think? If that was the case, would there have still been a conflict of interest? Or would he have signed the form because he was the one who was supposed to be preparing the 990?

Thank you, Bob! I was asking myself the very same questions.

Posted by: calvin Jun 19 2007, 03:01 PM

Folks I am pretty much here in the 3abn threads for the entertainment value. All this talk of property tax and accounting is boring. Need some new topics here.

Posted by: Clay Jun 19 2007, 03:04 PM

QUOTE(calvin @ Jun 19 2007, 04:01 PM)

Folks I am pretty much here in the 3abn threads for the entertainment value. All this talk of property tax and accounting is boring. Need some new topics here.

Posted by: SoulEspresso Jun 19 2007, 04:17 PM

QUOTE(calvin @ Jun 19 2007, 03:01 PM)

Folks I am pretty much here in the 3abn threads for the entertainment value. All this talk of property tax and accounting is boring. Need some new topics here.

Some people find Sudoku to be entertainment, so why not this?

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jun 19 2007, 04:48 PM

Now now, it just so happens that us Sudoku players are easily entertained. We don't need the TV or movies we can just sit and work on our own little puzzle. And then we can do the next one, and then the next one and then the next one.....And if there were two alike we'd not know the difference

Richard

QUOTE(SoulEspresso @ Jun 19 2007, 06:17 PM)

Some people find Sudoku to be entertainment, so why not this?

Posted by: watchbird Jun 19 2007, 06:56 PM

QUOTE(calvin @ Jun 19 2007, 05:01 PM)

Folks I am pretty much here in the 3abn threads for the entertainment value. All this talk of property tax and accounting is boring. Need some new topics here.

Sorry about that Calvin.... hey... ...I know what... you go talk to the judge and get him to release the agenda for the lawsuit against Pickle and Joy... then we'd have plenty to talk about.... .....

Posted by: Rosyroi Jun 19 2007, 07:44 PM

QUOTE(Shiny Penny @ Jun 18 2007, 07:54 PM)

My earlier comments were referring to the "strong supporter's" gift of the land. If that wasn't clear to you, then I apologize and hope it is clear now. I hold to my prior statements and citations from the IRS website - the giver of the gift is the payer of the taxes, if there are any taxes to pay.

It is interesting to me that I am accused of neglecting to tell the whole truth, when the whole issue that is being discussed relates from some few documents that are posted on the Save site...with lots of surmising and far from the whole of anything, much less the whole truth. Why bring up 3 or 4 documents, when Linda says she doesn't remember what they're about? Or is there some parts of the known truth that are being withheld? That's a thought worth consdering. Perhaps you or others in the know can confirm that what has been disclosed about the house (Lot 6) transactions is a complete picture, or as complete as is possible under the circumstances.

It is annoying to find that partial information is disclosed in order to influence how we as members of bsda will view certain transactions. I certainly hope that this is not the case, but would appreciate some confirmation that there has been full disclosure regarding what is known about the Lot 6 transactions.

Thank you.

Yes it is annoying to find that partial information and out right lies have been disclosed on world wide television in order to influence doners to give give give because Danny is suffering terrible emotions from what his wife has been doing against him and the ministry.

Rosyroi

Posted by: Rosyroi Jun 19 2007, 08:01 PM

QUOTE(calvin @ Jun 19 2007, 01:01 PM)

Folks I am pretty much here in the 3abn threads for the entertainment value. All this talk of property tax and accounting is boring. Need some new topics here.

Calvin,
I understand your thoughts about this info not being exciting.

The way I look at it, with all these good folk on BSDA doing the basic searching for all these discrepancies gives those who are higher up, whoever they may be, the idea to demand all books at 3ABN to be opened up and to hopefully end the 3ABN "saga" quicker than formerly would have been possible.

Not suggesting the end of 3ABN but change of Admin and Board so we can continue to watch 3ABN without being sick to our stomachs listening to all the lies that are being fed to us now.

Awww then things will be boring again... sorry. I will step back now.

Rosyroi

Posted by: Pickle Jun 20 2007, 01:59 AM

So does anyone know who the CFO was who got fired in 2000? And during what years they served? Any documents anywhere to verify such?

Posted by: Whitey Jun 20 2007, 03:26 AM

"Not suggesting the end of 3ABN but change of Admin and Board so we can continue to watch 3ABN without being sick to our stomachs listening to all the lies that are being fed to us now."

Rosyroi put it so succinctly in pointing out the purpose of these ongoing Shelton drama saga tangents.

None of us wish the demise of Adventist media evangelism in Television, via Hope channel or 3ABN channel.

All of us wishes a change in the administration,however.

For the sake of a new board of leaders being examples of christian values working out through integrity of motives.

Posted by: SandyColorado Jun 20 2007, 12:42 PM

QUOTE(calvin @ Jun 19 2007, 03:01 PM)

Folks I am pretty much here in the 3abn threads for the entertainment value. All this talk of property tax and accounting is boring. Need some new topics here.

However - I am also thinking - looking at some of the posts by Pickle. He is seeking information, and any information that we are able to give him on BSDA, just might help his lawsuit. This is a way that people who know the information can contribute to helping him out. This is just my opinion.

I want him to have all the ammunition that he needs to go to court with 3ABN - and bring down the administration that is currently there.

So - if we have to live with boring to get the information out there - then bring on boring...

Posted by: roxe Jun 20 2007, 01:25 PM

QUOTE(SandyColorado @ Jun 20 2007, 11:42 AM)

However - I am also thinking - looking at some of the posts by Pickle. He is seeking information, and any information that we are able to give him on BSDA, just might help his lawsuit. This is a way that people who know the information can contribute to helping him out. This is just my opinion.

I want him to have all the ammunition that he needs to go to court with 3ABN - and bring down the administration that is currently there.

So - if we have to live with boring to get the information out there - then bring on boring...

i agree...

and, perhaps it may be a good idea to pm pickle with answers to his questions, since we don't want to give any help to the opposition, right??

Posted by: Pickle Jun 20 2007, 02:34 PM

QUOTE(Pickle @ Jun 20 2007, 02:59 AM)

So does anyone know who the CFO was who got fired in 2000? And during what years they served? Any documents anywhere to verify such?

Looks like the CFO was probably a fellow by another name, not Alan Lovejoy. That's good to know.

And the around $195,000 paid to Gray Hunter Stenn over a two year period (2000-2001) may have had something to do with special software development. That seems to make sense.

Posted by: Fran Jun 21 2007, 03:45 AM

QUOTE(Pickle @ Jun 20 2007, 02:59 AM)

So does anyone know who the CFO was who got fired in 2000? And during what years they served? Any documents anywhere to verify such?

Bob;

Sorry for the delay. I am a little sick right now. I don't know yet who the CFO was yet, but I will look. However, Lovejoy was the Accountant cited with 3ABN in the IL vs. 3ABN Property Tax Lawsuit.

I wonder what he thought about the audit that was performed in 2000-2001 and cited in the lawsuit. I wonder if that was when they got hired or if they had been with 3ABN for a while. Oh well, that is where I definitely saw that name before.

I also noticed in the reports at the Attorney General's site still show audits reflecting a problem with valuations. This tells me that 3ABN didn't learn to well.

Somebody Else;

Someone asked for the original article by AToday where a retraction was later printed. I found a copy of the 1st draft dated 12/12/2005, I can not post it since it has information that was not printed at the request of Walt Thompson. This how I know there were still TRUST FUND Issues as late as January/February 2006. This person found the retraction, but wanted to see the original.

I have had my phone tapped and have lost my computer 5 times since Nov of 2006. I had my brand new computer burned up about 3-4 weeks ago. Has anyone else experienced any problems?

Once I can afford yet ANOTHER computer, I will be able to access my 2- 500 GB back up drives. The "now" computer I was able to make out of all of the computer parts is not updated enough to handle my backup drives. It has an old motherboard and processor. I will post the actual document once this happens. Until then ... It was published in early Jan/Feb 2006 issue.

Posted by: Fran Jun 21 2007, 03:56 AM

QUOTE(Pickle @ Jun 20 2007, 03:34 PM)

Looks like the CFO was probably a fellow by another name, not Alan Lovejoy. That's good to know.

And the around $195,000 paid to Gray Hunter Stenn over a two year period (2000-2001) may have had something to do with special software development. That seems to make sense.

Sounds like the firm selected the wrong software since as of January/February 2006, they were still having TRUST ISSUES. The right software should have solved the problems. Then, again, you have to use it to make it work, right?

Posted by: LaurenceD Jun 21 2007, 07:56 AM

Just wait till steffan gets back from China (or wherever he went). He'll straighten this all out.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jun 21 2007, 09:33 AM

QUOTE(LaurenceD @ Jun 21 2007, 07:56 AM)

Just wait till steffan gets back from China (or wherever he went). He'll straighten this all out.

China is a safer destination for many travellers because fundamentalist Middle Eastern countries still execute adulterers.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jun 21 2007, 09:48 AM

QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jun 21 2007, 07:33 AM)

China is a safer destination for many travellers because fundamentalist Middle Eastern countries still execute adulterers.

Steffan went to China? I guess I missed the posting of his itinerary. I wondered why we hadn't heard from him. But wait, there's internet access in China. Perhaps he just didn't take his laptop along...

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jun 21 2007, 09:56 AM

QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Jun 21 2007, 09:48 AM)

Perhaps he just didn't take his laptop along...

You think she, perhaps, stayed home?

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jun 21 2007, 10:09 AM

QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jun 21 2007, 07:56 AM)

You think she, perhaps, stayed home?

Badaboom...

Posted by: mikell Jun 21 2007, 01:46 PM

QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jun 21 2007, 09:56 AM)

You think she, perhaps, stayed home?

Steffan, a she???

Posted by: lurker Jun 21 2007, 02:31 PM

No, the laptop.

Posted by: LaurenceD Jun 21 2007, 04:45 PM

QUOTE(Panama_Pete)

China is a safer destination for many travellers because fundamentalist Middle Eastern countries still execute adulterers.

)uch!

think I've read, or seen discussion of, plans fo some important person at 3abn traveling to the Orient about his time of year (could be wrong). Perhaps a belated honeymoon w/o his laptop?

Posted by: Shiny Penny Jun 21 2007, 06:19 PM

QUOTE(Rosyroi @ Jun 19 2007, 06:44 PM)

Yes it is annoying to find that partial information and out right lies have been disclosed on world wide television in order to influence doners to give give give because Danny is suffering terrible emotions from what his wife has been doing against him and the ministry.

Rosyroi

Rosyroi - thanks for the reminder. But keep in mind that Linda is telling only what she wants to tell as well and I believe leaving off important details. But that is human nature...we all want everyone to think well of us.

Anyway, as Clay has said he comes to these threads for entertainment, as should I. So I take a hiatus for a while and occupy my time with other more entertaining endeavors!

Posted by: lurker Jun 21 2007, 06:55 PM

I think there are enough official documents out there that we do not need to depend on Linda for the facts or even for her interpretation of the facts. If Linda comes out of this whole thing looking bad, so be it. She is the one calling for the truth to be told and I believe she means it. I believe she is capable of change and willing to do so.

Danny on the other hand, doesn't appear to feel the need for change.

Posted by: Pickle Jun 22 2007, 10:08 AM

I think the objective reader will think that, on the surface, Linda comes out looking pretty good in the http://www.save3abn.com/danny-shelton-financial-allegations-horses-cash-receipt.htm story now on Save3ABN.com. She argues with Danny in favor of following what ends up being IRS's standard rules, and Danny tries to argue against what her accountants have advised her.

If anyone wants to start a thread here about those horse deals, copying whatever emails seem pertinent, I doubt Gailon will mind. As for me, I'm out of time.

But SP, consider the implications: After running 3ABN for 20 years, Danny still doesn't know how to properly report donations of property to the IRS, or if he does now, he doesn't care.

Are there any other areas in which Danny has done such things?

Posted by: Rosyroi Jun 22 2007, 11:27 AM

QUOTE(Shiny Penny @ Jun 21 2007, 04:19 PM)

Rosyroi - thanks for the reminder. But keep in mind that Linda is telling only what she wants to tell as well and I believe leaving off important details. But that is human nature...we all want everyone to think well of us.

Anyway, as Clay has said he comes to these threads for entertainment, as should I. So I take a hiatus for a while and occupy my time with other more entertaining endeavors!

Shiny Penny,

Not sure if you are trying to say something without saying anything or if you are just whistling in the wind but Linda's close advisers and friends have NEVER said Linda was perfect.

Recently I talked with someone who had helped Linda out and the person told me Linda Shelton NEVER said a bad word against Danny Shelton/3ABN.

With the mental state she should have been in after all the terrible things said to and against her and on world wide television too, if it were me I wouldn't have been so kind. I honor her for that.

So just keep on saying what you are saying... Hope ~~Steffan~~ ...oops ...Danny pays you well.

jmo

Rosyroi

Posted by: Pickle Jun 22 2007, 11:34 AM

I appreciate all those who have tried to make sure I didn't get any of my facts wrong. Thus I am thankful to the individual who forwarded to me a 3ABN communication that explains where the $6,139 or $6,129 figure came from for which the property was sold to the Sheltons in 1998.

Looks like 3ABN calculated what the property would have been worth at the end of the Sheltons' lives, and sold it to them for that. So they took however many years of depreciation that would amount to and took it off in 1998 to come up with the sale price, and then reported it to the IRS as a loss.

Does that sound kosher, you accountants out there?

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jun 22 2007, 11:58 AM

Has someone at 3abn had another vision? Perhaps about the real estate market crashing as Linda and Danny pass away? This seems the only explanation that would fit with your scenerio, Bob.

Am completely puzzled by the creative accounting world.

Posted by: Rosyroi Jun 22 2007, 12:10 PM

QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Jun 22 2007, 09:58 AM)

Has someone at 3abn had another vision? Perhaps about the real estate market crashing as Linda and Danny pass away? This seems the only explanation that would fit with your scenerio, Bob.

Am completely puzzled by the creative accounting world.

Good thoughts about those visions... almost forgot about that.

don't know much about Real Estate, but I thought that having some property would increase in value not he other way around... guess I got the story all wrong..

Must be the visions...

Someone forgot to tell Donald Trump that.

Rosyroi

Posted by: Artiste Jun 22 2007, 05:48 PM

QUOTE(Fran @ Jun 21 2007, 01:45 AM)

Bob;

Sorry for the delay. I am a little sick right now. I don't know yet who the CFO was yet, but I will look. However, Lovejoy was the Accountant cited with 3ABN in the IL vs. 3ABN Property Tax Lawsuit.

I wonder what he thought about the audit that was performed in 2000-2001 and cited in the lawsuit. I wonder if that was when they got hired or if they had been with 3ABN for a while. Oh well, that is where I definitely saw that name before.

I also noticed in the reports at the Attorney General's site still show audits reflecting a problem with valuations. This tells me that 3ABN didn't learn to well.

Somebody Else;

Someone asked for the original article by AToday where a retraction was later printed. I found a copy of the 1st draft dated 12/12/2005, I can not post it since it has information that was not printed at the request of Walt Thompson. This how I know there were still TRUST FUND Issues as late as January/February 2006. This person found the retraction, but wanted to see the original.

I have had my phone tapped and have lost my computer 5 times since Nov of 2006. I had my brand new computer burned up about 3-4 weeks ago. Has anyone else experienced any problems?

Once I can afford yet ANOTHER computer, I will be able to access my 2- 500 GB back up drives. The "now" computer I was able to make out of all of the computer parts is not updated enough to handle my backup drives. It has an old motherboard and processor. I will post the actual document once this happens. Until then ... It was published in early Jan/Feb 2006 issue.

What evidence is there that your phone was tapped?

****

Posted by: Fran Jun 23 2007, 05:43 AM

QUOTE(Pickle @ Jun 22 2007, 12:34 PM)

I appreciate all those who have tried to make sure I didn't get any of my facts wrong. Thus I am thankful to the individual who forwarded to me a 3ABN communication that explains where the $6,139 or $6,129 figure came from for which the property was sold to the Shelton's in 1998.

Looks like 3ABN calculated what the property would have been worth at the end of the Shelton's' lives, and sold it to them for that. So they took however many years of depreciation that would amount to and took it off in 1998 to come up with the sale price, and then reported it to the IRS as a loss.

Does that sound kosher, you accountants out there?

Bob,

Ppppllllleeeaaaassseeeee!

Bob, have I got a deal for you, and only you! I own an island called Alcatraz, in the Pacific Ocean, not far off the coast of San Francisco, California, that I would love to sell to you. I'll take $1,000,000.00 $$$$ in cash for it! It appraised for $100,000,000.00. Surely you are interested! Send Cash please, and I will give you a Tax Deductible receipt for the full $100,000,000.00! Isn't this a bargain? Now, I won't make this offer to anybody else; just you. We will keep it between us and send IRS a thank you note. How about that, Bob? Goodness, the island has buildings on it. You could depreciate the whole thing in one year. Who would know about it? I will surely not tell!

****

How on earth can 3ABN depreciate what cannot be depreciated in the current year, but must be depreciated in many future years, based on the life expectancy of Danny and Linda Shelton?

That happened because they SOLD the ASSET/PROPERTY at a price way below book value! Therefore, they experienced a large LOSS in the current year.

Since the Sales Price is WAY BELOW their calculated depreciation, the SALE created a LOSS to recoup that REALIZED LOSS of a 3ABN ASSET, right?. That can happen when property is disposed of for less than the book value.

However, there seems to be a critical VALUATION PROBLEM HERE! Houses appreciate, right? They do not depreciate until they are on their last leg! Evidence that shows the house sold for $135,000 7 days after their purchase is a real kicker!

Yes, AGAIN, TIMING AND VALUATION PROBLEMS AT 3ABN! ! ! ! ! ! ! ! IRS likes to see the fair market and book value of the asset. It will not look kosher to the auditors, because Danny and Linda experienced a very large gain on the resale of their newly purchased home only 7 days later!.

Now, we have to consider the sale of a residence that gives a gain where the gain is reinvested in another home. Did Danny and Linda reinvest that $129,000.00 into their new home? Oops, here we go again. Who can answer that? My sources said they did not, because 3ABN built their new home also.

More information is needed before I can say yeah or nay.

In my opinion, the house should have sold for the appraised value ($135,000 to Danny and Linda) and a substantial GAIN should have been realized by 3ABN. This action favors the employees/CEO/President/Vice-President of 3ABN who are not to receive these favors at the expense of 3ABN. The board favored the Shelton's over the entity of 3ABN! Oops!

If you are in business, decisions are made with the business in mind. In this case, the decisions were made having the Shelton's in mind. Forget about 3ABN the entity! Shame, Shame, shame!

Did Danny die that year? Maybe that is what is wrong? Maybe the REAL Danny did die and this Danny is a FAKE?

Posted by: Fran Jun 23 2007, 07:21 AM

QUOTE(Artiste @ Jun 22 2007, 06:48 PM)

What evidence is there that your phone was tapped?

****

You could hear it. The click, click was audible for about a month. I guess that would be called "hearsay". I started picking up the phone and dialing a friends house who was not home and did not have voice mail or a recorder so I could blow a whistle into the phone.

I finally decided to add a Vonage phone in addition to ATT/SBC, and use it for all my calls. I have several lines in my home. The Vonage installer came in and installed their equipment. He had a terrible time getting the line to pass his testing. It finally worked and He left. My new phone was working. Everything was working great, until all of the sudden, while I was calling people to tell them my new number, I lost my phone line, my DSL Wireless 2Wire Modem, and my motherboard & duo processors fried. Of course Vonage equipment didn't fair to kindly either.

The installer came back to check it out. He said my phone had been tapped and my computer was being monitored also.. I did not get it in writing. I cancelled Vonage and replaced everything to get my regular number with ATT/SBC phone up and running, I have replaced my DSL Modem and phones. No more clicks.

I live on Social Security Disability, so I can not afford yet another computer. I am using a computer I built about 12 years ago. It has never broken! I am going to have to start buying bits and pieces to build a new one again. Anybody have a nice motherboard with Intel duo processers on it that is lying around not being used, let me know. I will gladly take it off your hands! I have 5 different cases! Lots of peripherals.

I need several expansion slots also for all my equipment, some of which I lost also. No there were no lightening or thunder storms at that time. Vonage is very angry about their equipment loss.

Now just who would do that? Let me think really hard. Hum! I have 2 choices. Now who is it that would be trying to catch me doing what I don't do! I am a very boring person! Yeah, sad, huh?

Really I could care less who it is that is listening to me or reading my key strokes/email/hard drives. I'll bet that was hard. rofl I have 950 GB on internal Drives, and 1,000 gb in external drives. I hope they appreciate my hard work on my Genealogy files. I have many. About 6 that are really large! I also have about 140,000+ photos. They must not have anything better to do in my opinion.

I would like to make them buy me several new computers to replace all those that are now dead! One is my laptop!

Maybe Danny will donate me a new desktop and laptop. He could write them off as a donation. It is only the valuation thing and 3ABN does that so well! I am not an officer of 3ABN. I am not a board member. I'm only a bored reader. That should qualify me for a legitimate donation.

Posted by: ex3ABNemployee Jun 23 2007, 10:26 PM

QUOTE(Fran @ Jun 23 2007, 06:43 AM)

Did Danny die that year? Maybe that is what is wrong? Maybe the REAL Danny did die and this Danny is a FAKE?

Oh, trust me. It's the same Danny who was there when I worked there.

Posted by: Brick Step Jun 24 2007, 05:29 AM

Over on Save 3ABN.com, the one involved in a horse deal with Danny in 2005 is named as "Stephen Lewis" and said to be a ministry leader. Does anyone know this ministry leader? Is he still leading an approved ministry?

QUOTE(Pickle @ Jun 22 2007, 10:08 AM)

I think the objective reader will think that, on the service, Linda comes out looking pretty good in the http://www.save3abn.com/danny-shelton-financial-allegations-horses-cash-receipt.htm story now on Save3ABN.com. She argues with Danny in favor of following what ends up being IRS's standard rules, and Danny tries to argue against what her accountants have advised her.

If anyone wants to start a thread here about those horse deals, copying whatever emails seem pertinent, I doubt Gailon will mind. As for me, I'm out of time.

But SP, consider the implications: After running 3ABN for 20 years, Danny still doesn't know how to properly report donations of property to the IRS, or if he does now, he doesn't care.

Are there any other areas in which Danny has done such things?

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jun 24 2007, 06:47 AM

If you do a search here on BSDA you will find the Stephen Lewis name. Not sure it's the same one but my guess is that it is.

Pickle or anyone, are you absolutly certain that the exchange between DS and LS about the horses is real? The real estate deal is older and harder to understand but the apparent tax cheating about the horses is easy and would be worth sharing with Danny's adoring fans

Richard

QUOTE(Brick Step @ Jun 24 2007, 06:29 AM)

> Over on Save 3ABN.com, the one involved in a horse deal with Danny in 2005 is named as "Stephen Lewis" and said to be a ministry leader. Does anyone know this ministry leader? Is he still leading an approved ministry?

Posted by: LaurenceD Jun 24 2007, 07:59 AM

> QUOTE(Pickle)
>
> I think the objective reader will think that, on the service, Linda comes out looking pretty good in the http://www.save3abn.com/danny-shelton-financial-allegations-horses-cash-receipt.htm story now on Save3ABN.com. She argues with Danny in favor of following what ends up being IRS's standard rules, and Danny tries to argue against what her accountants have advised her.

I read the links. Here's another idea from reading this posted email from DS to LS...

> The horse buyer laughed his sockes off. He was offering and average of $250.00 per yearling for the two black and white homozygous's. He offered $600 for our big 3 yr old Drum N Up Spots filly. and $500 for a nice two year old black and white Little Spook filly. He offered $350 for our baby paint sort of buckskin colored homo baby.
>
> I sent him home quickly.
>
> I have another horse buyer coming, maybe, this week. He probably won't offer much more.
>
> If you want me to give some of them away for those kind of prices I will, but I thought I would try a couple other options first.

(understanding horse-trader deals) If she'll agree to these low figures (the bidder indicates they're not worth very much, you see) go ahead and give her the low offer and don't tell anyone you actually sold them for a whole lot more. :wink:

Posted by: lurker Jun 24 2007, 11:22 AM

There are ways to know how much the horses are worth and what they sold for. It is traditional to play on the names of ancestors in the pedigree of horses.

Spookie Demon Do Paint
Pedigree for Spookie Demon Do, photos and offspring from the All Breed Horse Pedigree Database. ...
Breeder: Danny L.Shelton,Thompsonville,IL.

Jjs Gold Moon Paint
Owner @reg.:Double J Ranch. Later owned by: Danny Shelton,Thompsonville,IL. 11x Grand,6x Res. Open ROMs in HUS,Barrels, ...

So any of Danny's young horses with spookie or spook in its name is probably a descendent of Spookie Demon Do or is in that line. In his list of horses he had are Spookes Black Star, Q Tons Black Spook, Spookies Black Beauty and Spookies Colormaker and others. Any with the name Gold is probably a descendent of Jjs Gold Moon. Zans Genuine Gold is probably an offspring or in the line of Jjs Gold Moon and Genuine Doc. You see how it works.

To have a pedigree with Genuine Doc in the bloodline would probably be a plus.

http://www.carolrose.com/GenuineDoc.html

So some of the horses are more valuable and others are much less valuable. It may be that the less valuable horses were shown to the horse buyer in order to set a low value in Linda's mind for all the horses. I would guess that the horses donated to Lewis are the less valuable ones that he wanted to get rid of anyway. A "horse trader" such as Danny is always trying to "trade up" and get a better horse or more money for one of less value but this donation/IRS deduction looks like it went over the line.

Posted by: Skyhook Jun 24 2007, 01:23 PM

QUOTE(lurker @ Jun 24 2007, 12:22 PM)

There are ways to know how much the horses are worth and what they sold for. It is traditional to play on the names of ancestors in the pedigree of horses.

Spookie Demon Do Paint
Pedigree for Spookie Demon Do, photos and offspring from the All Breed Horse Pedigree Database. ...
Breeder: Danny L.Shelton,Thompsonville,IL.

Jjs Gold Moon Paint
Owner @reg.:Double J Ranch. Later owned by: Danny Shelton,Thompsonville,IL. 11x Grand,6x Res. Open ROMs in HUS,Barrels, ...

So any of Danny's young horses with spookie or spook in its name is probably a descendent of Spookie Demon Do or is in that line. In his list of horses he had are Spookes Black Star, Q Tons Black Spook, Spookies Black Beauty and Spookies Colormaker and others. Any with the name Gold is probably a descendent of Jjs Gold Moon. Zans Genuine Gold is probably an offspring or in the line of Jjs Gold Moon and Genuine Doc. You see how it works.

To have a pedigree with Genuine Doc in the bloodline would probably be a plus.
http://www.carolrose.com/GenuineDoc.html

So some of the horses are more valuable and others are much less valuable. It may be that the less valuable horses were shown to the horse buyer in order to set a low value in Linda's mind for all the horses. I would guess that the horses donated to Lewis are the less valuable ones that he wanted to get rid of anyway. A "horse trader" such as Danny is always trying to "trade up" and get a better horse or more money for one of less value but this donation/IRS deduction looks like it went over the line.

This reminds me of a poster that was popular back in the 70s. It consisted of a large photo of Richard M. Nixon with this bold caption underneath:

"WOULD YOU BUY A USED CAR FROM THIS MAN?"

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jun 24 2007, 02:19 PM

QUOTE(Richard Sherwin @ Jun 24 2007, 07:47 AM)

If you do a search here on BSDA you will find the Stephen Lewis name. Not sure it's the same one but my guess is that it is.

Pickle or anyone, are you absolutely certain that the exchange between DS and LS about the horses is real? The real estate deal is older and harder to understand but the apparent tax cheating about the horses is easy and would be worth sharing with Danny's adoring fans

Richard

'es, there are BSDA links to an evangelist named Stephen Lewis. He is a real person. I've met him. I, too, vould guess that this is probably the same Stephen Lewis mentioned in the horse-trading episode. The ıuotation will refresh your memories on our previous discussion.

agree that the horse episode is rather easy to understand, as compared to the real estate transactions, for vhich we still do not have all the details to fill in the blanks.

have to go one step further and wonder how many tax receipts -- if any -- go to 3ABN Board members?)oes someone donate a uninhabitable house to a "ministry" and receive a donation receipt for a home esembling the White House or Buckingham Palace?

've always wondered if and how the wealthy 3ABN board members benefit from hanging around Danny ;helton. Could this receipt idea be the reason?

ıttp://www.blacksda.com/forums/lofiversion/index.php/t2643.html

QUOTE(Futurist @ Sep 20 2004, 01:17 PM)

This is probally old news to everyone, but it is worth repeating. When Pastor Stephen Lewis came to 3ABN in 2000 with his series, all the "big guns" in SDA evangelism warned the board to not allow him there due to...here were their words. "His preaching will destroy the effectiveness of our ministry". Yes his plain speaking directly to the women there on the 3ABN staff probally is sill rinning in their ears especially every time they start painting their face and lift their leg one at a time to put on mans pants. He did what he could for those stiff neck people with my full approval.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jun 24 2007, 02:51 PM

QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jun 24 2007, 03:19 PM)

Yes, there are BSDA links to an evangelist named Stephen Lewis. He is a real person. I've met him. I, too, would guess that this is probably the same Stephen Lewis mentioned in the horse-trading episode. The quotation will refresh your memories on our previous discussion.

I agree that the horse episode is rather easy to understand, as compared to the real estate transactions, for which we still do not have all the details to fill in the blanks.

I have to go one step further and wonder how many tax receipts -- if any -- go to 3ABN Board members? Does someone donate a uninhabitable house to a "ministry" and receive a donation receipt for a home resembling the White House or Buckingham Palace?

I've always wondered if and how the wealthy 3ABN board members benefit from hanging around Danny Shelton. Could this receipt idea be the reason?

http://www.blacksda.com/forums/lofiversion/index.php/t2643.html

've just been informed I'm wrong: Someone here corrected me and said the wealthy 3ABN board members nore likely hang around Danny Shelton due to Danny's sparkling personality. So, please disregard my comments regarding the tax receipts.

Posted by: lurker Jun 24 2007, 05:01 PM

One of the perks is being featured and flattered on the air and in print. To be associated closely with the "annointed one" surely has boosted many a reputation and career.

Posted by: Shepherdswife Jun 24 2007, 06:01 PM

QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jun 24 2007, 04:19 PM)

Yes, there are BSDA links to an evangelist named Stephen Lewis. He is a real person. I've met him. I, too, would guess that this is probably the same Stephen Lewis mentioned in the horse-trading episode. http://www.blacksda.com/forums/lofiversion/index.php/t2643.html found Stephen Lewis's web page, and he is asking for donations of motor homes for his ministry. He may have bent the rules for the horses, but he certainly knows what they are, according to this page...Here is the link:

http://www.thepresenttruth.org/index.htm

Posted by: Ozzie Jun 24 2007, 07:24 PM

QUOTE(Shepherdswife @ Jun 25 2007, 10:01 AM)

I found Stephen Lewis's web page, and he is asking for donations of motor homes for his ministry. He may have bent the rules for the horses, but he certainly knows what they are, according to this page...Here is the link:

http://www.thepresenttruth.org/index.htm

s this the same 'Bishop' who has put out a video titled "I preached a lie for ... years"? I didn't know that our clergy worked under the title of 'Bishop'! Oh well, one can learn something new every day!

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jun 24 2007, 07:45 PM

I thought the same thing. I was wondering if he did not consider himself SDA or something but I see he has 3 angels on his site and quotes Mrs. White. An offshoot?

So does anyone know how the DS/LS horse dispute ended?

Richard

QUOTE(Ozzie @ Jun 24 2007, 08:24 PM)

Is this the same 'Bishop' who has put out a video titled "I preached a lie for ... years"? I didn't know that our clergy worked under the title of 'Bishop'! Oh well, one can learn something new every day!

Posted by: runner4him Jun 24 2007, 09:15 PM

QUOTE(Ozzie @ Jun 24 2007, 08:24 PM)

Is this the same 'Bishop' who has put out a video titled "I preached a lie for ... years"? I didn't know that our clergy worked under the title of 'Bishop'! Oh well, one can learn something new every day!

This is just too strange...a Bishop preaching the 3 angels message, pleading for the donation of RV's, supposedly accepting horses in return for cash receipts to be used for tax deductions...who is this guy?? I thought we had heard it all or nearly all. What is next in this saga?

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jun 24 2007, 09:19 PM

Maybe it's his first name I knew a family whose last name was Bishop so why not a first name.

QUOTE(runner4him @ Jun 24 2007, 10:15 PM)

This is just too strange...a Bishop preaching the 3 angels message, pleading for the donation of RV's, supposedly accepting horses in return for cash receipts to be used for tax deductions...who is this guy?? I thought we had heard it all or nearly all. What is next in this saga?

Posted by: Shepherdswife Jun 24 2007, 10:40 PM

QUOTE(runner4him @ Jun 24 2007, 10:15 PM)

This is just too strange...a Bishop preaching the 3 angels message, pleading for the donation of RV's, supposedly accepting horses in return for cash receipts to be used for tax deductions...who is this guy?? I thought we had heard it all or nearly all. What is next in this saga?

Maybe he didn't get any motorhomes donated so decided to use horses instead?

Posted by: LaurenceD Jun 24 2007, 10:54 PM

QUOTE(runner4him @ Jun 24 2007, 10:15 PM)

This is just too strange...a Bishop preaching the 3 angels message, pleading for the donation of RV's, supposedly accepting horses in return for cash receipts to be used for tax deductions...who is this guy?? I thought we had heard it all or nearly all. What is next in this saga?

Here's a little more to connect the dots...

> Pentecost 2000 by Evangelist Stephen Lewis is now available on DVD with a total of 11 Discs with a total of 35 1.5 hr sermons. I am making them available for $20/set. This is an excellent bargain considering the originals from 3ABN were over $300/set. This just covers my costs. I want to make them available to any and all who would like a copy. Comes in two 6-disc DVD cases. I have hundreds of copies available. We are distributing these like the "leaves of autumn". If anyone would like copies to distribute please let me know.
> victorybyfaith1888@yahoo.com
> -Trevor
>
> http://www.groupsrv.com/religion/about212986.html

Go to http://www.temcat.com/Studies.htm and scroll donw about halfway till you see Stephen Lewis's name that links to this site http://www.temcat.com/stephen.htm which is the same person and at the same address as this person on Shepherdwife's link http://www.thepresenttruth.org/index.htm

PS: he's called "EVANGELIST STEPHEN LEWIS" on the temcat website.

Posted by: Shepherdswife Jun 24 2007, 11:09 PM

QUOTE(LaurenceD @ Jun 24 2007, 11:54 PM)

Here's a little more to connect the dots...

Go to http://www.temcat.com/Studies.htm and scroll donw about halfway till you see Stephen Lewis's name that links to this site http://www.temcat.com/stephen.htm which is the same person and at the same address as this person on Shepherdwife's link http://www.thepresenttruth.org/index.htm
PS: he's called "EVANGELIST STEPHEN LEWIS" on the temcat website.

So, could this Lewis fellow get into hot water for this horse thing as well, if he knowingly gave a receipt that was fraudulent? I can't imagine him actually believing that the horses were worth $20,000 each? I know that some are--my son worked in a horse barn where they had one worth 15-20 times that, but it came over from Europe and was a world-class champion jumper.

Posted by: Skyhook Jun 25 2007, 01:07 AM

Steven Lewis has a reputation for leaving big problems in the wake of his evangelistic series. I know of one instance where he stirred up a lot of antagonism against the conference to where the local church voted themselves out of the conference, and chose to retain thier pastor after the conference fired him. The last I heard they were trying to connect with another conference and the pastor was retaining the tithe. They spent way over budget and refused to give an accounting for the money the conference provided for the series. Lewis claimed a large number of baptisms, but according to the conference most of them were already church members whom Lewis had convinced they needed to be rebaptized into veganism. I know one young man who assisted in that debacle and I know he was at least at the time, a full fledged vegan fanatic. This was some years ago. I looked at Lewis' website once and saw that he had given himself the title of Bishop.

Posted by: Ozzie Jun 25 2007, 03:24 AM

QUOTE(Richard Sherwin @ Jun 25 2007, 01:19 PM)

Maybe it's his first name I knew a family whose last name was Bishop so why not a first name.

The name related to a 'title' on the video I had given to me, by an absolute fanatic. Apparently, this guy was a 'Bishop'in another church, before converting to SDA but somehow, he still retained his 'title'. Incidently, the person who left the video with us, expected to be addressed as "Pastor" and he's no more a Pastor than I am! The things people will do to put themselves in the spotlight!

Posted by: Fran Jun 25 2007, 03:27 AM

QUOTE(Shepherdswife @ Jun 24 2007, 11:40 PM)

Maybe he didn't get any motor homes donated so decided to use horses instead?

Well, I hope he doesnt get discouraged! I asked Danny for an RV, too, but never got one! I got nothing! At least Steve got 2 horses, or did he?

Do we know who made out that $20,000/$40,000 cash receipt?

I wonder if the "Bishop" would tell us if he has the horses, or if they have been turned into glue yet?

Maybe the whole deal fell through?

There was a whole lot of deceiving going on! Did Danny try to set Linda up for a fall? I sure hope not, but the thought certainly has entered my mind.

Posted by: Observer Jun 25 2007, 04:19 AM

QUOTE(Ozzie @ Jun 24 2007, 06:24 PM)

> Is this the same 'Bishop' who has put out a video titled "I preached a lie for ... years"? I didn't know that our clergy worked under the title of 'Bishop'! Oh well, one can learn something new every day!

The title "Bishop" is a Biblical one. There is nothing wrong with calling yourself a Bishop.

For years (he is now dead) a SDA pastor chaired a somewhat local television show that featured local clergy. He called himself "Bishop," and was wll-known in SDA circles for doing so.

Posted by: runner4him Jun 25 2007, 06:15 AM

> QUOTE(Shepherdswife @ Jun 24 2007, 11:40 PM)
>
> Maybe he didn't get any motorhomes donated so decided to use horses instead?

Your comment gave me a mental picture.....if all else fails then back to the circuit rider preaching days!
rofl

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jun 25 2007, 08:54 AM

> QUOTE(Skyhook @ Jun 24 2007, 11:07 PM)
>
> Steven Lewis has a reputation for leaving big problems in the wake of his evangelistic series. I know of one instance where he stirred up a lot of antagonism against the conference to where the local church voted themselves out of the conference, and chose to retain thier pastor after the conference fired him. The last I heard they were trying to connect with another conference and the pastor was retaining the tithe. They spent way over budget and refused to give an accounting for the money the conference provided for the series. Lewis claimed a large number of baptisms, but according to the conference most of them were already church members whom Lewis had convinced they needed to be rebaptized into veganism. I know one young man who assisted in that debacle and I know he was at least at the time, a full fledged vegan fanatic. This was some years ago. I looked at Lewis' website once and saw that he had given himself the title of Bishop.

Wow!

I love being a vegan (prefer to call it plant-based) but had no idea I was supposed to worship the dietary choice as well. Must have missed that memo from our Creator. I don't know... if my CHIP director started encouraging rebaptism into the Church of Nuts, Grains and Vegies, I think it would raise a red flag for me. But that's just me. (BTW, I wear pants to church as well but am really hoping not to get disfellowshipped because of it.)

The Vegan Fanatic's Prayer

Dear Lord,

Just wanted to let you know that I just don't have a spare minute to visit with you today. The alter I have erected to the cornucopia of marvelous foods you have created is so full that it will take most of my time paying appropriate homage to them, not to mention the additional time needed to prepare them properly for consumption.

Will try to schedule some time in for you later this week or next Tuesday before my trip to the organic farmer's market.

Posted by: Skyhook Jun 25 2007, 09:20 AM

PB, I like that "prayer." Unfortunately there are quite a number of people who seem to make thier diet thier religion. Another young man I know who was known to have a lot of health information was asked to give a health talk one Sabbath afternoon to a group of Pacific Islanders. Pacific Islanders, are big meat eaters. This young man, instead of educating them managed to offend all of them them by telling them either explicitly or implicitly that they wre all going to hell if they didn't stop eating meat.

I prefer a plant based diet, but if I'm served something that has dairy products in it I don't treat it as if it is poisen and have been known on rare occasion to indulge in a little Lamb curry that a Fijiian friend prepares. Hmm, I getting hungry for some of that curry. Oh well, I guess I'll settle for more generic bland, tasteless, Adventist casserole at potluck. Someday I'll find out whats in that stuff.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jun 25 2007, 10:03 AM

Skyhook,

It's one thing to make diet one's religion but I maintain that it is also just as worriesome to make diet a CHORE by serving bland and tasteless casseroles. That is just sad. I certainly would not feel right serving my husband food that left a question mark in his mouth.

Physically, I do so much better not eating carcasses or dairy products, but wish I could have been at that misdirected young man's lectures. Had I been there, I would have stood up and sweetly hollered (for I try to be a sweet, kind and gentle person) "Bula Bula! Please pass me some of that delicious lamb curry!"

Posted by: Rosyroi Jun 25 2007, 06:11 PM

QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Jun 25 2007, 08:03 AM)

Skyhook,

It's one thing to make diet one's religion but I maintain that it is also just as worriesome to make diet a CHORE by serving bland and tasteless casseroles. That is just sad. I certainly would not feel right serving my husband food that left a question mark in his mouth.

Physically, I do so much better not eating carcasses or dairy products, but wish I could have been at that misdirected young man's lectures. Had I been there, I would have stood up and sweetly hollered (for I try to be a sweet, kind and gentle person) "Bula Bula! Please pass me some of that delicious lamb curry!"

rofl

OH... the visual... rofl

Thanks PB! I needed that.

Rosyroi

Posted by: roxe Jun 26 2007, 04:11 PM

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Jun 25 2007, 10:03 AM)
>
> .... serving bland and tasteless casseroles.

i got a clue this last sabbath as to a possible reason for "bland and tasteless"...
our church was on its annual weekend campout with another sda church in the area, and there was lots of "bland and tasteless" at the potluck. the folk i rode with out to the woods for the day explained that most everyone from the other church were not vegetarian...
so not being familiar with veggie cooking during the week really shows up when these recipes are "tried" for sabbath only.

jmo

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jun 26 2007, 04:46 PM

These bland cooks need to be introduced to the one thing that will make their food anything but bland, yes I'm talking about Tabasco Sauce. The cure all for....what's that you say? Mrs. White said what about spices? It does what? Well.....

Richard "hot sauce lovin" Sherwin

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jun 26 2007, 05:47 PM

> QUOTE(Richard Sherwin @ Jun 26 2007, 02:46 PM)
>
> These bland cooks need to be introduced to the one thing that will make their food anything but bland, yes I'm talking about Tabasco Sauce. The cure all for....what's that you say? Mrs. White said what about spices? It does what? Well.....
>
> Richard "hot sauce lovin" Sherwin

Some of us feel that hot sauce is healthy on sooo many levels! Yum.

Posted by: watchbird Jun 26 2007, 07:59 PM

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Jun 26 2007, 07:47 PM)
>
> Some of us feel that hot sauce is healthy on sooo many levels! Yum.

Even Ellen spoke favorably of Cayenne.... and frankly, it's the nearest thing to magic that we have in the way of natural meds..... nothing like it for first aid.... both powder and liquid extract.... have it handy at home and never leave home without it!

Posted by: Johann Jun 27 2007, 04:13 AM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jun 27 2007, 03:59 AM)
>
> Even Ellen spoke favorably of Cayenne.... and frankly, it's the nearest thing to magic that we have in the way of natural meds..... nothing like it for first aid.... both powder and liquid extract.... have it handy at home and never leave home without it!

Did you mean ginger - of which Ellen speaks quite favorably?

Posted by: daylily Jun 27 2007, 05:00 AM

Watchbird would you provide the references where EGW speaks favorably of Cayenne? Thanks!

On the bland and tasteless topic, I don't like hot and spicy food. We have a couple of cooks in our church that make the food so spicy that you can't taste the food itself. I like a rich, hearty flavor but not hot and spicy. there is a difference.

I noticed something once:-) We had a fellow visiting our home with his four children. At mealtime, the two older ones kept salting their plates of food and it was plenty salty already. They would eat a few bites and then sprinkle salt liberally over the whole plateful. (They evidently liked the food, except for the saltiness, because they took several helpings). Later the mother mentioned that her two oldest children really liked hot, spicy food and always added hot sauce to everything. Still later at a potluck, I got a bowl of "plain" pinto beans with cayenne added (I didn't realize it until tasting them). I ate them even though it burned my mouth. For several days, I could not get my food salty enough and had to keep adding salt. My conclusion of this "study" is that hot, spicy foods mess up your taste buds so that you can't taste salt, etc so you need to keep adding the hot stuff to notice any flavor. It creates a cycle. So that's my take on the topic:-)

Posted by: watchbird Jun 27 2007, 05:12 AM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jun 27 2007, 06:13 AM)
>
> Did you mean ginger - of which Ellen speaks quite favorably?

No, I meant Cayenne.... (red peppers)..... though this is second hand information and I do not have a reference for it. Ellen spoke against pepper using the generic term... but seemingly she meant black pepper.... and naturopath and nutrition physicians still advise against black pepper at the same time they extol hot peppers (which are not technically a spice, but a member of the nightshade family along with tomatoes and potatoes). She was against spices in the amounts they used in those days because they irritated the stomach. Black pepper does that... cayenne does not... in fact it has a salubrious and warming effect on the inner organs. Cayenne has observable near instantaneous healing effects on a cut wound in that it will stop bleeding and bind the skin together within seconds.. or a few minutes if the cut is deep. It will heal skin ulcers in a matter of hours. These uses I have experienced personally. It is reported to heal bleeding stomach ulcers within four days, but of this I have only close knowledge, not personal experience. There is a book on the topic which gives even more dramatic effects of larger than normal doses.

Posted by: Pickle Jun 27 2007, 05:25 AM

I've always found this one kind of interesting, how it talks about a burnt boot:

QUOTE(Ellen White)

Cider drinking leads to the use of stronger drinks. The stomach loses its natural vigor, and something stronger is needed to arouse it to action. On one occasion when my husband and myself were traveling, we were obliged to spend several hours waiting for the train. While we were in the depot, a red-faced, bloated farmer came into the restaurant connected with it, and in a loud, rough voice asked, "Have you first-class brandy?" He was answered in the affirmative, and ordered half a tumbler. "Have you pepper sauce?" "Yes," was the answer. "Well, put in two large spoonfuls." He next ordered two spoonfuls of alcohol added, and concluded by calling for "a good dose of black pepper." The man who was preparing it asked, "What will you do with such a mixture?" He replied, "I guess that will take hold," and placing the full glass to his lips, drank the whole of this fiery compound. Said my husband, "That man has used stimulants until he has destroyed the tender coats of the stomach. I should suppose that they must be as insensible as a burnt boot." (Te 95, 96)

Posted by: runner4him Jun 27 2007, 05:26 AM

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jun 27 2007, 06:12 AM)

No, I meant Cayenne.... (red peppers)..... though this is second hand information and I do not have a reference for it. Ellen spoke against pepper using the generic term... but seemingly she meant black pepper.... and naturopath and nutrition physicians still advise against black pepper at the same time they extol hot peppers (which are not technically a spice, but a member of the nightshade family along with tomatoes and potatoes). She was against spices in the amounts they used in those days because they irritated the stomach. Black pepper does that... cayenne does not... in fact it has a salubrious and warming effect on the inner organs. Cayenne has observable near instantaneous healing effects on a cut wound in that it will stop bleeding and bind the skin together within seconds.. or a few minutes if the cut is deep. It will heal skin ulcers in a matter of hours. These uses I have experienced personally. It is reported to heal bleeding stomach ulcers within four days, but of this I have only close knowledge, not personal experience. There is a book on the topic which gives even more dramatic effects of larger than normal doses.

It does stimulate the circulation and is used for cardiac purposes at times. Put some in your shoes on a cold winter day and it will warm your feet. Sorry if I am.... ofl

---

Posted by: watchbird Jun 27 2007, 05:37 AM

QUOTE(daylily @ Jun 27 2007, 07:00 AM)

Watchbird would you provide the references where EGW speaks favorably of Cayenne? Thanks!

On the bland and tasteless topic, I don't like hot and spicy food. We have a couple of cooks in our church that make the food so spicy that you can't taste the food itself. I like a rich, hearty flavor but not hot and spicy. there is a difference.

I noticed something once:-) We had a fellow visiting our home with his four children. At mealtime, the two older ones kept salting their plates of food and it was plenty salty already. They would eat a few bites and then sprinkle salt liberally over the whole plateful. (They evidently liked the food, except for the saltiness, because they took several helpings). Later the mother mentioned that her two oldest children really liked hot, spicy food and always added hot sauce to everything. Still later at a potluck, I got a bowl of "plain" pinto beans with cayenne added (I didn't realize it until tasting them). I ate them even though it burned my mouth. For several days, I could not get my food salty enough and had to keep adding salt. My conclusion of this "study" is that hot, spicy foods mess up your taste buds so that you can't taste salt, etc so you need to keep adding the hot stuff to notice any flavor. It creates a cycle. So that's my take on the topic:-)

No, I don't have the references.... as I mentioned above, and I don't see it mentioned by name in the published works CD, so either it is in one of the unpublished collections or a completely second hand personal account.

What I do know is that it was one of the most prominent ingredients in the herbals mixed up by the late ethro Kloss (whom we knew personally and you may recall by name from the book Back to Eden which was written by his daughter). Mainly, though, I avoided his "remedies" for that very reason, though we all ecognized the fantastic healing results he got. It was not until I began hearing the recommendations for it rom specialists in the field of nutrition medicine that I began experimenting with it. The liquid extract is isually in an alcohol base, so one has the disinfecting properties of the alchohol along with the healing properties of the cayenne all in one little bottle. Fortunately I had that with me when I was involved in a car accident that gave severe abrasions including a fairly ugly deep gash in my left lower arm. With a bottle of vater for cleaning, and the cayenne and a few bandaids to hold the wound together, we patched me up with no stitches and I have only two hairline scars today. With deeper, cleaner cuts, I hold the wound together, sprinkle powdered cayenne on it until it quits bleeding, put bandaids on to hold it together and leave it for a ew days. With ulcers I used a poultice made from a cayenne and goldenseal capsule "tea"... oddly enough he cayenne after an initial quick burning sensation feels soothing to damaged tissue, though once it has ealed the ulcer, it suddenly starts feeling burning again.

As to the salt issue... habit and a probable zinc deficiency are the most likely causes of the children's craving or salt. As to your own experience I have no theories to account for it. Hubby uses cayenne on foods constantly (for the arthritis benefits) and does not experience any desire for additional salt.

Posted by: Johann Jun 27 2007, 05:37 AM

QUOTE(Observer @ Jun 25 2007, 12:19 PM)

The title "Bishop" is a Biblical one. There is nothing wrong with calling yourself a Bishop.

For years (he is now dead) a SDA pastor chaired a somewhat local television show that featured local clergy. He called himself "Bishop," and was wll-known in SDA circles for doing so.

Yes, I remember that early TV program, called "Religious Town Hall" or something like that. His name was Bishop Leiski (or something like that), and I was told then that his real first name was Bishop.

Posted by: watchbird Jun 27 2007, 05:49 AM

QUOTE(Pickle @ Jun 27 2007, 07:25 AM)

I've always found this one kind of interesting, how it talks about a burnt boot:

... I doubt if the effect Ellen noted came from the hot sauce... the only good ingredient in his drink. If he had taken that in water or preferaby tomato juice, he would have been warmed as well and healed his stomach instead of damaging it.

QUOTE(runner4him @ Jun 27 2007, 07:26 AM)

It does stimulate the circulation and is used for cardiac purposes at times. Put some in your shoes on a cold winter day and it will warm your feet. Sorry if I am.... ofl

That's OK... we all are... doubtless our friendly admins will come along soon and move us all over to the health forum....

But just had to add to your comment... cayenne is the main ingredient in many sports creams... so if you are using a product which warms and soothes aches and pains, you are using cayenne..... maybe without knowing it. Capsaician [sp?] is the active ingredient which is drawn from cayenne.

For those interested, try to find the book called simply Cayenne. It is horribly written, but has some astounding experiences with cayenne by a medical doctor. Some of them are easily adapted for personal use... some of them I think are of the "don't try this at home" variety.

Posted by: Pickle Jun 27 2007, 06:28 AM

QUOTE(LaurenceD @ Jun 24 2007, 08:59 AM)

(understanding horse-trader deals) If she'll agree to these low figures (the bidder indicates they're not worth very much, you see) go ahead and give her the low offer and don't tell anyone you actually sold them for a whole lot more. :wink:

And after talking with Linda a number of times, in my opinion she's the kind of person that might fall for something like that.

QUOTE(Richard Sherwin @ Jun 24 2007, 07:47 AM)

Pickle or anyone, are you absolutly certain that the exchange between DS and LS about the horses is real? The real estate deal is older and harder to understand but the apparent tax cheating about the horses is easy and would be worth sharing with Danny's adoring fans

In my opinion, right or wrong, the basic points about using inflated values for the horses and about claiming horse donations as cash donations has been proven to have occurred, but in saying that I am not saying that I know for certain what happened in 2004 and 2005.

In other words, Danny's emails document plans or filings from 2003 through 2005, but those are not necessarily the only years he donated horses.

WB,

I did some reading on the active agent is certain peppers, and it appears that over time a certain amount of them can cause harm to the cells they are stimulating. Not sure where I read it, but it was interesting and did not come from a source that was biased against such things.

Posted by: Pickle Jun 27 2007, 06:38 AM

QUOTE(Fran @ Jun 23 2007, 08:21 AM)

You could hear it. The click, click was audible for about a month. I guess that would be called "hearsay". I started picking up the phone and dialing a friends house who was not home and did not have voice mail or a recorder so I could blow a whistle into the phone.

Fran, I think most people out there would probably think you sound like a kook, and personally, I think what you've said sounds kind of kooky.

But that doesn't mean I don't think you're telling the truth. Gailon and I would talk about whether our phones were tapped, and Gailon was certain they were either by the Feds or the Danny. But he really didn't care what Danny heard since all that would do is make him more paranoid.

It happened over and over again. My family and I heard those clicks while talking on the phone to various people. Over and over again. But now we don't hear them anymore.

And we think we've been under surveilance in other ways too: Strange cars driving by slowly. Cars parked on a road between fields to our east, the only observation place from which someone could watch our house, a place cars never park.

Once my wife and a visitor drove over to that road and passed it since there was a car parked there, and when they did, the white car with the handicap ND tag immediately started up and drove away to the west. They turned around and followed it to Halstad, a town of 622, where the lady in that white car did evasive maneuvers to try and lose them.

Whether Hons Investigations, the folks who served us the lawsuit on April 30, had anything to do with any of that earlier stuff, I don't know.

Posted by: watchbird Jun 27 2007, 07:15 AM

QUOTE(Pickle @ Jun 27 2007, 08:28 AM)

WB,

I did some reading on the active agent is certain peppers, and it appears that over time a certain amount of them can cause harm to the cells they are stimulating. Not sure where I read it, but it was interesting and did not come from a source that was biased against such things.

The only caution I know about on Cayenne is that one should NEVER use the raw fresh juice... not even externally. It should either be cooked, dried, or prepared in an extract.

But I don't know about the capsician as used in over the counter creams... I do know that there are a few of those that seem to excessively burn for a long time after application, so it could be that what you read was a caution about continued and over-use of some of these products... and capsaician is the "active ingredient" in hot peppers.

But properly prepared, which includes the ground cayenne purchased in the grocery store, its healing effects are so obvious that I don't see how one could say that they were doing "harm to the cells they are stimulating". Possibly this might be true if one kept on applying it to healed skin... for I do know that there is a difference in the way it feels on injured tissue and on well tissue. But used with a modicum of common sense, it is definitely healing, not merely "stimulating".

Posted by: Observer Jun 27 2007, 07:24 AM

QUOTE(Johann @ Jun 27 2007, 04:37 AM)

Yes, I remember that early TV program, called "Religious Town Hall" or something like that. His name was Bishop Leiski (or something like that), and I was told then that his real first name was Bishop.

Johann:

I think that you are basicly correct. However, I do not believe that "Bishop" was his first name. But, I could be wrong.

The SDA pastor who moderated the Religious Twon Hall was Rkobert Leiski. Here is the quote:

QUOTE

Religious diversity and interfaith dialogue have become popular catch phrases in recent years. But at The American Religious Town Hall Meeting they have been broadcasting these ideals for almost 50 years on the air. In fact, the Dallas-based show is the longest running religious program in television history. Moderated by 70-year-old Seventh Day Adventist minister Robert Leiske, the weekly show discusses dicey topics like gun regulation, abortion and homosexuality from an interfaith perspective. Participants represent a wide range of religious faiths, including many Christian denominations, Catholics, Jews, Muslims, Hindus and Buddhists.

Posted by: Fran Jun 27 2007, 11:24 AM

QUOTE(Pickle @ Jun 27 2007, 07:38 AM)

Fran, I think most people out there would probably think you sound like a kook, and personally, I think what you've said sounds kind of kooky.

But that doesn't mean I don't think you're telling the truth. Gailon and I would talk about whether our phones were tapped, and Gailon was certain they were either by the Feds or the Danny. But he really didn't care what Danny heard since all that would do is make him more paranoid.

It happened over and over again. My family and I heard those clicks while talking on the phone to various people. Over and over again. But now we don't hear them anymore.

And we think we've been under surveillance in other ways too: Strange cars driving by slowly. Cars parked on a road between fields to our east, the only observation place from which someone could watch our house, a place cars never park.

Once my wife and a visitor drove over to that road and passed it since there was a car parked there, and when they did, the white car with the handicap ND tag immediately started up and drove away to the west. They turned around and followed it to Halstad, a town of 622, where the lady in that white car did evasive maneuvers to try and lose them.

Whether Hons Investigations, the folks who served us the lawsuit on April 30, had anything to do with any of that earlier stuff, I don't know.

Bob;

A Kook I may be, but it did happen and it is happening again. Yep, the click is back! I expect to lose my computer AGAIN!

I am telling the truth. I am sorry folks if it sounds Kooky. Truth is stranger than fiction. I am also getting hang up calls. I redial the number and blow my whistle as long as I can. Sometimes they call and don't hang up right away, but get the full effects of the whistle and then I get a fast hang up!

Folks, this is no joking matter. My only consolation is that I am really boring. Somebody is probably getting paid to monitor my business. I wish I had their job! Easy money!

I am still trying to figure out what is so interesting about me!

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jun 27 2007, 12:22 PM

QUOTE(Fran @ Jun 27 2007, 09:24 AM)

Bob;

A Kook I may be, but it did happen and it is happening again. Yep, the click is back! I expect to lose my computer AGAIN!

I am telling the truth. I am sorry folks if it sounds Kooky. Truth is stranger than fiction. I am also getting hang up calls. I redial the number and blow my whistle as long as I can. Sometimes they call and don't hang up right away, but get the full effects of the whistle and then I get a fast hang up!

Folks, this is no joking matter. My only consolation is that I am really boring. Somebody is probably getting paid to monitor my business. I wish I had their job! Easy money!

I am still trying to figure out what is so interesting about me!

Fran,

I, for one, don't think you are a kook. You may be, indeed have experienced and are experiencing electronic surveillance again. The stakes are high in this saga, after all.

However, I once watched a "Psychic" on Larry King who explained that those calls where nobody is there are actually from dead loved ones who just want to reach out and touch someone. I didn't put much stock in her theory, for if they had the wherewithal to dial the phone in the first place it is just downright mean-"spirited" of them not to say at least of few words of greeting.

QUOTE(Pickle @ Jun 27 2007, 04:38 AM)

And we think we've been under surveilance in other ways too: Strange cars driving by slowly. Cars parked on a road between fields to our east, the only observation place from which someone could watch our house, a place cars never park.

Once my wife and a visitor drove over to that road and passed it since there was a car parked there, and when they did, the white car with the handicap ND tag immediately started up and drove away to the west. They turned around and followed it to Halstad, a town of 622, where the lady in that white car did evasive maneuvers to try and lose them.

Bob,

Speaking of kooky, I certainly hope that white car contained a PI, otherwise, some poor disabled woman probably had one of the scariest experiences of her life. [x] rofl

---

Posted by: Pickle Jun 27 2007, 01:03 PM

> QUOTE(Fran @ Jun 27 2007, 12:24 PM)
>
> Bob;
>
> A Kook I may be, but it did happen and it is happening again. Yep, the click is back! I expect to lose my computer AGAIN!

Hope you realize that my way of saying that was meant to counter people's perceptions that what you were saying shouldn't be taken seriously since it sounds so crazy. We had the clicks, and now we don't.

Better than a whistle, why don't you find out from your local police or DA or federal prosecutors what sort of criminal charges could be filed against whomever, and then when you get a click, start citing the statutes, including the minimum and maximum sentences, and then see how quickly you hear them hang up.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jun 27 2007, 01:13 PM

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Jun 27 2007, 01:22 PM)
>
> Fran,
>
> I, for one, don't think you are a kook. You may be, indeed have experienced and are experiencing electronic surveillance again. The stakes are high in this saga, after all.
>
> Speaking of kooky, I certainly hope that white car contained a PI, otherwise, some poor disabled woman probably had one of the scariest experiences of her life. [x] rofl

Private Investigators like to have handicapped license plates so they can use one of those reserved "handicapped" parking spaces in the parking lot when they're tailing somebody. There's nothing worse than having your suspect grab the last parking space with no place for the PI to park.

Some of the best Private Investigators are woman.

There was one woman PI who would circle your house carrying a dog leash. And if she got caught in your bushes, she would say she was looking for Fido, and she showed you Fido's leash to prove why she was sneaking around in your bushes. Nobody would think an old woman with Fido's dog leash could be up to something.

You can now sue for both "overly aggressive" tailing, spying, etc. as well as illegal spying. If you don't know your rights, you don't have any rights.

If Fran thinks she's being being tapped, then she probably is being tapped, etc., and should act accordingly. The mysterious, unidentified "they" depend on you being naive and not on your guard.

Remember, there's this guy somewhere who plays basketball and he tries to win at any cost. It's important, sometimes, to get inside the basketball player's brain to know what's going on. The basketball player has a "coach" who feels exactly the same way about things.

Also, don't forget to read Calvin's recent warning about providing private information to people regarding identities of posters, etc.

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jun 27 2007, 03:58 PM

One thing I've learned (and maybe this is more info than ya'll want to know) is that if you are cutting up fresh hot peppers bare handed and you are a guy make very very sure you wash your hands with soap and water before, repeat before heading to the mens room. If you don't you will learn what real pain is. Real bad pain. This has been a public service announcement, now back to your regularly scheduled programming.

Richard

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jun 27 2007, 08:15 AM)

The only caution I know about on Cayenne is that one should NEVER use the raw fresh juice... not even externally. It should either be cooked, dried, or prepared in an extract.

But I don't know about the capsician as used in over the counter creams... I do know that there are a few of those that seem to excessively burn for a long time after application, so it could be that what you read was a caution about continued and over-use of some of these products... and capsaician is the "active ingredient" in hot peppers.

But properly prepared, which includes the ground cayenne purchased in the grocery store, its healing effects are so obvious that I don't see how one could say that they were doing "harm to the cells they are stimulating". Possibly this might be true if one kept on applying it to healed skin... for I do know that there is a difference in the way it feels on injured tissue and on well tissue. But used with a modicum of common sense, it is definitely healing, not merely "stimulating".

Posted by: YogusBearus Jun 27 2007, 05:49 PM

QUOTE(Richard Sherwin @ Jun 27 2007, 03:58 PM)

One thing I've learned (and maybe this is more info than ya'll want to know) is that if you are cutting up fresh hot peppers bare handed and you are a guy make very very sure you wash your hands with soap and water before, repeat before heading to the mens room. If you don't you will learn what real pain is. Real bad pain. This has been a public service announcement, now back to your regularly scheduled programming.

Richard

Would this be a good time to complain about Off Topic subjects fouling up the 3abn section?

-bear (tongue firmly planted in cheek)

Posted by: watchbird Jun 27 2007, 07:44 PM

QUOTE(YogusBearus @ Jun 27 2007, 07:49 PM)

Would this be a good time to complain about Off Topic subjects fouling up the 3abn section?

-bear (tongue firmly planted in cheek)

Go ahead... try it. Warning... when I tried it I got my wings clipped.... sooooo... as you see, since I couldn't lick em I decided to join em.... ofl ..... Wheeeeeee..... angel.gi .....

Posted by: Pickle Jun 28 2007, 01:35 AM

Reminds me of when I was in 9th grade, I think, and someone got one of those pieces of hot peppers in those shakers at pizza restaurants ... in my eye.

Too bad the healing, medicinal properties that the stuff has for the stomach doesn't apply to eyeballs.

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jun 28 2007, 06:30 AM

Oh man that had to hurt! That sounds worse than a guy I was working with that got a bee sting in the eyelid.

QUOTE(Pickle @ Jun 28 2007, 03:35 AM)

Reminds me of when I was in 9th grade, I think, and someone got one of those pieces of hot peppers in those shakers at pizza restaurants ... in my eye.

Too bad the healing, medicinal properties that the stuff has for the stomach doesn't apply to eyeballs.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jun 28 2007, 06:48 AM

QUOTE(Pickle @ Jun 28 2007, 12:35 AM)

Reminds me of when I was in 9th grade, I think, and someone got one of those pieces of hot peppers in those shakers at pizza restaurants ... in my eye.

Too bad the healing, medicinal properties that the stuff has for the stomach doesn't apply to eyeballs.

However, in the long run, Bob, you may discover that your capsaicin-bathed eye turns out to be the healthiest of the two. May take years to find out, but will have made the pain worth it, right?

Posted by: watchbird Jun 28 2007, 06:56 AM

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Jun 28 2007, 08:48 AM)
>
> However, in the long run, Bob, you may discover that your capsaicin-bathed eye turns out to be the healthiest of the two. May take years to find out, but will have made the pain worth it, right?

Seriously... one of the uses for cayenne extract is as an eyewash. Frankly, I've never had the nerve to try it. I put it in the "do not try this at home" category. I would have to have some strong persuasion from a physician experienced in its use before I went that route. Obviously (I hope) the solution recommended would be very weak... not at all like getting a solid piece in your eye!

Posted by: Brick Step Jun 28 2007, 05:49 PM

I am very sorry if I unnerved anyone by asking who the Stephen Lewis was in the report on the horse deals over on Save 3ABN. I did an internet search on the name and came up with all sorts of interesting sources, none of which seemed to fit the story. I wondered if it was the evangelist Stephen Lewis, whose audio and video tapes were widely circulated in Australia and New Zealand several years ago. By comments on BSDA, it seems likely that it is. We ourselves valued many of his lectures (though we always held reservations about the length of and high pressure involved in the altar calls at the end).

But many happenings associated with a highly publicized visit by this minister to Sydney, Australia in 2003 (he was invited by an independent ministry run by very well meaning new believers), have resulted in what seems to be a complete drying up of support for this man, from conservatives and liberals alike. There has been a lot of pain. Nobody much circulates his tapes anymore, or speaks of him. The ministry who invited this speaker ("Thus Saith The Lord") gave a full report upon the debacle in their newsletter of October 2005.

I don't, by the way, place too much stock on the words "conservative" and "liberal." It seems to me either you love Jesus, or you do not; either you are a Christian, or you are not; either you are a Seventh-day Adventist, or you are not; either you are covered by the blood of the Saviour, or you are not. Some are conservative on one issue, liberal on another. We're are all on our own journey. May the God who created and loves us all be allowed to pull us each in turn, back onto the track that will lead us home to heaven. What a wonderful word – "home!"

In the meantime, interesting talk about cayenne pepper! Watchbird, was interested to learn you knew Jethro Kloss. I had not realized Back to Eden was written by his daughter. Thank you for all the info.

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jun 28 2007, 06:04 PM

One use I've found for very hot peppers or sauce is in helping with headaches. (One of my trials in life) Eating one or two whole fresh jalapeños or slowing sipping a tablespoon or two of Tabasco will sometimes relieve a morning headache. My wife claims it just diverts the pain from my brain to my mouth. I think it's the release of endorphin's.

(I wonder when the admin will move part of this thread to the health section?)

Richard

Posted by: watchbird Jun 28 2007, 09:18 PM

QUOTE(Richard Sherwin @ Jun 28 2007, 08:04 PM)

One use I've found for very hot peppers or sauce is in helping with headaches. (One of my trials in life) Eating one or two whole fresh jalapeños or slowing sipping a tablespoon or two of Tabasco will sometimes relieve a morning headache. My wife claims it just diverts the pain from my brain to my mouth. I think it's the release of endorphin's.

It's probably the circulation thing. Cayenne is one of the few things that will pass the brain/blood barrier and thus is sometimes used by nutrition doctors along with medication that they want to get to the brain. Since headaches are often circulation related, it makes sense that hot peppers would help. You might try hot salsa... as you would then have the benefits of the tomatoes and onions as well as the hot peppers.

QUOTE

(I wonder when the admin will move part of this thread to the health section?)

Richard

I've been wondering that myself, but Calvin was complaining because this forum was not entertaining enough... maybe the admins are figuring this will spice things up a little for him.....

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jun 28 2007, 09:38 PM

What this? The second act of the Fran and Bird comedy hour? rofl

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jun 28 2007, 11:18 PM)

It's probably the circulation thing. Cayenne is one of the few things that will pass the brain/blood barrier and thus is sometimes used by nutrition doctors along with medication that they want to get to the brain. Since headaches are often circulation related, it makes sense that hot peppers would help. You might try hot salsa... as you would then have the benefits of the tomatoes and onions as well as the hot peppers. I've been wondering that myself, but Calvin was complaining because this forum was not entertaining enough... maybe the admins are figuring this will spice things up a little for him.....

Posted by: Whtz Happenin Jun 29 2007, 12:39 AM

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jun 28 2007, 11:18 PM)

...
I've been wondering that myself, but Calvin was complaining because this forum was not entertaining enough... maybe the admins are figuring this will spice things up a little for him.....

You have to admit it has been quite a "HEATED" discussion.

I wonder what kind of peppers Panama_Pete picks?

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jun 29 2007, 01:46 AM

QUOTE(Whtz Happenin @ Jun 29 2007, 01:39 AM)

You have to admit it has been quite a "HEATED" discussion.

I wonder what kind of peppers Panama_Pete picks?

Experience the Joy of Pickled peppers.

Posted by: Pickle Jun 29 2007, 02:22 AM

QUOTE(Richard Sherwin @ Jun 28 2007, 07:04 PM)

My wife claims it just diverts the pain from my brain to my mouth.

Sounds like you married a smart woman.

QUOTE(Brick Step @ Jun 28 2007, 06:49 PM)

The ministry who invited this speaker ("Thus Saith The Lord") gave a full report upon the debacle in their newsletter of October 2005.

Were you going to post a copy?

Posted by: Whitey Jun 29 2007, 05:20 AM

(Post #166)Would this be a good time to complain about Off Topic subjects fouling up the 3abn section?
-bear (tongue firmly planted in cheek)

(here is Whitey jumping on the downstream going barge of posts with post #179. Just wanting to publicly say that I thoroughly enjoyed the brief hilarious hotpepper ride)

...any more to report on the real estate transaction?

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jun 29 2007, 06:29 AM

Now we are getting peppered with nonsense. Even pickle has had a dilly or two.

And the hot real estate market has really cooled down.

Richard

Posted by: runner4him Jun 29 2007, 06:38 AM

> QUOTE(Richard Sherwin @ Jun 29 2007, 07:29 AM)
>
> Now we are getting peppered with nonsense. Even pickle has had a dilly or two.
>
> And the hot real estate market has really cooled down.
>
> Richard

Actually I relish the warmth of this place even when the temp goes up too much with all the spiced topics flying around. rofl

---

Posted by: Brick Step Yesterday, 06:33 AM

I'll remember the cayenne for any skinned knees and elbows, perhaps received even here on the "3ABN Saga" on BSDA.

Pickle, you asked if I were going to post a copy of the ministry report on the visit of Stephen Lewis to Australia in June 2003, which I mentioned in Post #172.

The main report is three-and-a-bit A4 pages long.

We never attended any of the meetings in question (though some friends did), and so far as I could remember we did not possess a copy of the said report, though we knew about it, and had seen an unofficial earlier report. After my first post about this matter (Post #120) I prayed that if it was God's will that further attention be given this report, He would cause it to surface somehow some way. I thought maybe somebody else altogether might post it. Then the very first person to whom I spoke about this matter, despite quite unpromising circumstances, was able within about two minutes to find a copy of the report, and immediately forwarded it to me. Boom, just like that! So I felt I was meant to make mention of it.

What I will post is the quote which, in association with 2 Timothy 4:14, 15, introduces the "Thus Saith the Lord Ministry" report of October 2005. It contains serious allegations, and there are further pages of supporting documentation. The highlighting is not mine, but exactly how it appeared in the newsletter. I am here not quoting this for or against anyone, but some of this counsel obviously applies to the 3ABN situation and underscores the need for a full and credible investigation. (It's likely the quote has already been used by somebody somewhere on BSDA.)

"When man assails his fellow-men, and presents in a ridiculous light those whom God has appointed to do work for Him, we would not be doing justice to the accusers, or to those who are misled by their accusations should we keep silent, leaving the people to think that their brethren and sisters, in whom they have had confidence, are no longer worthy of their love and fellowship.

"This work, arising in our very midst, and resembling the work of Korah, Dathan, and Abiram, is an offense to God, and should be met. And on every point the accusers should be called upon to bring their proof. Every charge should be carefully investigated; it should not be left in any uncertain way, the people should not be left to think that it may be or it may not be...

"And when there is a servant of God, whom he has appointed to do a certain work, and who for half a century has been an accepted worker, labouring for the people of our faith, and before God's workers as one whom the Lord has appointed; when for some reason one of the brethren falls under temptation, and because of the messages of warning given him becomes offended, as did the disciples of Christ, and walks no more with Christ; when he begins to work against the truth, and make his disaffection public, declaring things untrue which are true, these things must be met. The people must not be left to believe a lie. They must be undeceived." Manuscript Releases, Vol. 7, p. 332.

The 3ABN saga seems to have been left in a lot of uncertainty. The counsel above strongly suggests that for everybody's sake, this ought not to be. Truth must be separated from fiction. Sad it had to come to court cases. We are certainly praying for God's over-ruling hand.

Posted by: Brick Step Yesterday, 06:45 AM

Perhaps someone has mentioned this somewhere else. I think it is a different subject, but - here goes again.

A 3ABN representative has written that the newly scheduled program, "3ABN Classics" is due to begin and that "this program will be a smorgasbord of some of the favourite ½ hour 3ABN episodes from the 1990's. It will have a variety of subjects and presenters from week to week. It may be cooking, interviews, sermons - anything."

Will the best of the 1990's appearances of Barbara Kerr and Linda Shelton be acknowledged here?

Posted by: LaurenceD Yesterday, 09:08 AM

QUOTE(Brick Step @ Jul 1 2007, 07:45 AM)

Will the best of the 1990's appearances of Barbara Kerr and Linda Shelton be acknowledged here?

Of course! This will be to soften the image a little...and to make us think there's been a change of heart. The other day I thought it was happening already. I went to visit the folks, and my mother had an old video playing she'd taped ot Linda and Barbara a few years ago.

BTW, who else has access to hundreds of these. I think I'll start a pirate TV channel in southern Illinois somewhere, and play them over and over, and maybe jam some other signals coming out of the same area. Copyright issues? No worries. I'll just move my portable broadcast.

Posted by: watchbird Yesterday, 11:01 AM

QUOTE(LaurenceD @ Jul 1 2007, 11:08 AM)

Of course! This will be to soften the image a little...and to make us think there's been a change of heart. . . .

Or maybe there is another reason for the reruns..... Dont forget the language of the message from GC... that personnel was to make no new recordings at 3abn.... but there was no restriction on reruns. So it is my guess that we will see a lot of top brass from all over the world in reruns for the next few months.... and except for those who watch the production numbers closely... who will know that they are not current productions?

And maybe... if they edit them enough... maybe they will change the productin numbers also.

(pssst.... you past or present workers in production there... is that possible.... or probable?)

Stay tuned.....

..... TVsnack. .....

Posted by: runner4him Yesterday, 02:32 PM

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jul 1 2007, 12:01 PM)

Or maybe there is another reason for the reruns..... Dont forget the language of the message from GC... that personnel was to make no new recordings at 3abn.... but there was no restriction on reruns. So it is my guess that we will see a lot of top brass from all over the world in reruns for the next few months.... and except for those who watch the production numbers closely... who will know that they are not current productions?

And maybe... if they edit them enough... maybe they will change the productin numbers also.

(pssst.... you past or present workers in production there... is that possible.... or probable?)

Stay tuned.....

..... TVsnack. .....

I talked to a sweet senior lady over the weekend who has been a faithful 3abn viewer and supporter. She is troubled over all this mess and has stopped sending money to them. She is still watching, wondering about everything being reruns, thinks "they" are phasing DS out of the picture because she has not seen him lately. She is hoping for the "phasing out" to happen soon. That would be wonderful if it happened but it looks like he is planning to go down with the ship.

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Yesterday, 03:08 PM

Or take the ship to another port? Maybe a "non-denominational" port? It would be so easy for the Danny-cult to have him form a new church and join him there. After all he is the anointed one. Just imagine a Waco type following on a grand scale. His visions, his following, his control, his money.....What would the devil like more than to have a debacle within the SDA church on that sort of scale. He could have an instant world wide church united by satellite. People are already sending him tithe, they are skipping their local church in favor of 3abn. All he would have to do is preach that the SDA church is Babylon and he would have them hooked.

Richard

QUOTE(runner4him @ Jul 1 2007, 04:32 PM)

I talked to a sweet senior lady over the weekend who has been a faithful 3abn viewer and supporter. She is troubled over all this mess and has stopped sending money to them. She is still watching, wondering about everything being reruns, thinks "they" are phasing DS out of the picture because she has not seen him lately. She is hoping for the "phasing out" to happen soon. That would be wonderful if it happened but it looks like he is planning to go down with the ship.

Posted by: lurker Yesterday, 04:06 PM

The non denominational claim makes me think that this is the "diluted" Three Angels Message.

Posted by: jodi Yesterday, 04:09 PM

[quote name='Observer' date='Jun 25 2007, 05:19 AM' post='201305']
The title "Bishop" is a Biblical one. There is nothing wrong with calling yourself a Bishop.

I totally agree and here are several texts in the Bible, that I have found, where "Bishop" is used:

1 Timothy 3:1,2: "This is a faithful saying: If a man desires the position, he desires a good work. vs. 2) A bishop then must be blameless, the husband of one wife, temperate, sober-minded, of good behavior, hospitable, able to teach..."

Titus 1:7: "For a bishop must be blameless, as a steward of God, not selfwilled, not quick-tempered, not given to wine, not violent, not greedy for money..."

1 Peter 2:25: "For you were like sheep going astray, but have now returned to the Shepherd and Bishop of your souls". (KJV uses Bishop; NKJV uses Overseer. Both are from the Greek word "Episkopos", which can be translated either way.) Interesting that in this verse, Jesus is called a Bishop.

Philippians 1:1: "Paul and Timothy, servants of Jesus Christ, To all the saints in Christ Jesus who are in Philippi, with the bishops and deacons:..."

Acts 1:20: "....Let another take his office." Here the word "office" is from the Greek word "Episkpen" which means "position of overseer" and, as we have seen above, "overseer" can be translated "bishop".

I have watched many of Evangelist Lewis's programs and have a set of his meetings on video, that he did at 3ABN years ago. I believe that he is honest in heart to take an undiluted message to the Adventist Community to get ready, get ready, get ready, to meet thy God, because Jesus is coming sooner than alot of Adventists think. I have not heard a sermon of his yet that was contrary to the Bible but he does present it with a fevor that most people don't want to hear because we are so Laodicean!!

I think Jesus weeps, as He looks down on His chosen people today, and sees the condition they are in, and continue to stay in! Perhaps we should all have Evangelist Lewis come to OUR church, and pray for Holy Spirit indwelling to prepare us to meet our Savior. In my humble opinion, Stephen Lewis is what our church needs for this time in which we live, but are we pushing his message away as did God's people in Ezekiel's day? I wonder....

Remember, every prophet that God sent to His people in the Old Testament killed the prophet and rejected the message. Something to ponder and think about.

Jodi

Posted by: Artiste Yesterday, 07:35 PM

QUOTE(Richard Sherwin @ Jul 1 2007, 01:08 PM)

...What would the devil like more than to have a debacle within the SDA church on that sort of scale. He could have an instant world wide church united by satellite. People are already sending him tithe, they are skipping their local church in favor of 3abn. All he would have to do is preach that the SDA church is Babylon and he would have them hooked.

I had thought that it would not be posible for Danny Shelton to continue on because donations to 3abn would drop too much when the problems became widely known.

However yesterday (Sabbath) I was with a group in a relaxed setting, and it was wall-to-wall 3ABNland! From the cooking classes to their favorite young preacher! This was a relatively younger age demographic, not the faithful senior donators. I didn't get the impression that any revelations of misdoing at 3abn would be favorably received.

It made me wonder...maybe you are right, Richard!

****

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Yesterday, 08:00 PM

See that's just the thing. Danny has a following that really looks to him as the anointed one. He has everything to simply split the church and take a third of it (a bit of hyperbole sorry) with him. When I hear of people talking about 3abn you get the impression that they think Danny can walk on water. He is more well known than any SDA alive right now. He could take a huge following with him and if he had the backing of a handful of rich donors he could really tear the church apart. I hope and pray this does not happen but I think it could. All the off shoot groups could unite with him, especially if he renounced the writing of Mrs. White. He has a ready made church. Talk about the shaking....

Richard

QUOTE(Artiste @ Jul 1 2007, 09:35 PM)

I had thought that it would not be posible for Danny Shelton to continue on because donations to 3abn would drop too much when the problems became widely known.

However yesterday (Sabbath) I was with a group in a relaxed setting, and it was wall-to-wall 3ABNland! From the cooking classes to their favorite young preacher! This was a relatively younger age demographic, not the faithful senior donators. I didn't get the impression that any revelations of misdoing at 3abn would be favorably received.

It made me wonder...maybe you are right, Richard!

****

Posted by: Artiste Yesterday, 09:08 PM

QUOTE(Richard Sherwin @ Jul 1 2007, 06:00 PM)

He is more well known than any SDA alive right now. He could take a huge following with him and if he had the backing of a handful of rich donors he could really tear the church apart. I hope and pray this does not happen but I think it could. All the off shoot groups could unite with him, especially if he renounced the writing of Mrs. White. He has a ready made church. Talk about the shaking....

Yes, he is well known. I never watched 3abn at all until last year, but I definitely had heard of Danny Shelton before that.

I was just watching the President and Vice-President of Pacific Press, Dale Galusha and Russell Holt, obviously delighted to be interviewing on TV with Danny; they were also praising Brenda Walsh's and Shelley Quinn's books among others. I think this program first aired Febrary/March.

Thinking about a ready-made church with off-shoot groups...I don't really see the General Conference and church leaders repudiating DS right now...

Is the whole Adventist church (in the sense of the official organization) going to continue on with him?

Posted by: ex3ABNemployee Yesterday, 09:46 PM

QUOTE(Richard Sherwin @ Jul 1 2007, 08:00 PM)

See that's just the thing. Danny has a following that really looks to him as the anointed one. He has everything to simply split the church and take a third of it (a bit of hyperbole sorry) with him. When I hear of people talking about 3abn you get the impression that they think Danny can walk on water. He is more well known than any SDA alive right now. He could take a huge following with him and if he had the backing of a handful of rich donors he could really tear the church apart. I hope and pray this does not happen but I think it could. All the off shoot groups could unite with him, especially if he renounced the writing of Mrs. White. He has a ready made church. Talk about the shaking....

Richard

Then maybe it's time to "beat him to the punch" and publicize this far and wide. Why let him get away with it?

Let's face it, Danny can't sue everybody.

Posted by: steffan Yesterday, 09:54 PM

QUOTE(Richard Sherwin @ Jul 1 2007, 09:00 PM)

See that's just the thing. Danny has a following that really looks to him as the anointed one. He has everything to simply split the church and take a third of it (a bit of hyperbole sorry) with him. When I hear of people talking about 3abn you get the impression that they think Danny can walk on water. He is more well known than any SDA alive right now. He could take a huge following with him and if he had the backing of a handful of rich donors he could really tear the church apart. I hope and pray this does not happen but I think it could. All the off shoot groups could unite with him, especially if he renounced the writing of Mrs. White. He has a ready made church. Talk about the shaking....

Richard

Richard your statement about renouncing Mrs. White is exactly why there have been so many false allegations spread about Danny and 3abn. Next thing you know you're ridiculous statement will be a fact. Where do you come up with these ideas? Danny is a sincere believer of Mrs. White and would never do what you say. Also if there is a split in the church you can thank the conference, not 3abn. Again, the burden of proof is on those making the accusations and the spiritual burden is on those who listen when no proof has been shown.

Posted by: Artiste Yesterday, 09:59 PM

Steffan, what are you doing here?

****

Posted by: steffan Yesterday, 10:02 PM

rofl

QUOTE(ex3ABNemployee @ Jul 1 2007, 10:46 PM)

Then maybe it's time to "beat him to the punch" and publicize this far and wide. Why let him get away with it?

Let's face it, Danny can't sue everybody.

Yes Duane Inoticed your other post where you said if you even got a letter you would go to the media. rofl Do you honestly think the media is interested in a 20 + year old case where a 20 year old man said he engaged in inapropriate touching???? If you really believe that, then you need to quit threatening and go for it.

And yes, anyone can sue anybody that has indulged in public character assassination and made allegations that are ultimately found to be untrue. Especially if those falsehoods have had a detrimental effect on the person, church, ministry or business that has been slandered. For those of you who know absolutely nothing as fact but continue to accuse people of a myriad of sins in your posts, you open yourselves up to several possibilities. None of a pleasant nature.

Posted by: Artiste Yesterday, 10:08 PM

Steffan, you're not appreciated here!

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Yesterday, 10:18 PM

Steffan if you are going to respond to my post at least respond to what I actually wrote. What I was presenting was a worse case scenario of what Danny could do. Form his own church. And it could get many off shoots to join if he renounced Mrs. White because many or most off shoots reject her. I never was suggesting that he is thinking about doing any of this but he could if he wished because he has a world wide loyal following and the means to have a ready made church. Do I think it will happen? No. But we need to be thinking about the worse. After all the whole fiasco at 3abn, is much worse than anyone could have imagined a couple years ago, before we knew about the Tommy cover up, horse tax receipts cover up, the making big buck off 3abn's property cover up etc. BTW you want to detail all the false allegations? I've not seen them. Or are you just making ridiculous statements

Well at least we've gotten rid of the jet....

Richard

> QUOTE(steffan @ Jul 1 2007, 10:54 PM)
>
> Richard your statement about renouncing Mrs. White is exactly why there have been so many false allegations spread about Danny and 3abn. Next thing you know you're ridiculous statement will be a fact. Where do you come up with these ideas? Danny is a sincere believer of Mrs. White and would never do what you say. Also if there is a split in the church you can thank the conference, not 3abn. Again, the burden of proof is on those making the accusations and the spiritual burden is on those who listen when no proof has been shown.

Yup Danny might win a couple battle against some, but he would sure lose the war of public opinion. And it's public opinion that keeps his floundering ministry going.

> QUOTE(steffan @ Jul 1 2007, 11:02 PM)
>
> rofl
>
> Yes Duane Inoticed your other post where you said if you even got a letter you would go to the media. rofl Do you honestly think the media is interested in a 20 + year old case where a 20 year old man said he engaged in inapropriate touching???? If you really believe that, then you need to quit threatening and go for it.
> And yes, anyone can sue anybody that has indulged in public character assassination and made allegations that are ultimately found to be untrue. Especially if those falsehoods have had a detrimental effect on the person, church, ministry or business that has been slandered. For those of you who know absolutely nothing as fact but continue to accuse people of a myriad of sins in your posts, you open yourselves up to several possibilities. None of a pleasant nature.

love having Steffan here. It makes Danny's critics even more credible. Carry on your good work Steffen. Not hat we need you but you do make it easier.

QUOTE(Artiste @ Jul 1 2007, 11:08 PM)

Steffan, you're not appreciated here!

Posted by: ex3ABNemployee Yesterday, 10:30 PM

QUOTE(steffan @ Jul 1 2007, 11:02 PM)

[x] rofl

Yes Duane Inoticed your other post where you said if you even got a letter you would go to the media.
[x] rofl Do you honestly think the media is interested in a 20 + year old case where a 20 year old man said he engaged in inapropriate touching???? If you really believe that, then you need to quit threatening and go for it.
And yes, anyone can sue anybody that has indulged in public character assassination and made allegations that are ultimately found to be untrue. Especially if those falsehoods have had a detrimental effect on the person, church, ministry or business that has been slandered. For those of you who know absolutely nothing as fact but continue to accuse people of a myriad of sins in your posts, you open yourselves up to several possibilities. None of a pleasant nature.

t's interesting that you feel comfortable using the laughing smilie when talking about sexual abuse. I DID NOT say I engaged in inappropriate touching. Get your facts straight.

Also, Tommy sent me an email admitting that everything was his fault. Any comment on that?

No, I don't think that the media would be interested in my case by itself, but I DO think they would be nterested in around 30 years of incidents surrounding one person.

will NOT be threatened into silence. The more you and others like you blow your stacks, the more I'll talk.

Posted by: Artiste Yesterday, 11:56 PM

QUOTE(ex3ABNemployee @ Jul 1 2007, 08:30 PM)

I will NOT be threatened into silence. The more you and others like you blow your stacks, the more I'll talk.

Silence is not good!

The General Conference and church leaders are remaining SILENT!

Silence allows the abusive behavior at 3abn to continue!

****

Posted by: Whitey Today, 01:25 AM

May I have leave, please, to say a good word in Steffan's behalf without unneedful negative attack?

I am grateful for the 'other side' being represented by one speaking up in defense. All contra-hens (roosters) does the gang good here. Why? Because it has so provoked you posters to bring out your thoughts for the values of righteousness. Protagonists and antagonists work in a tandem to produce a clearer result (hopefully).

Having to have to go through this public online libel month for month and for over three years is certainly horrible for Danny and crew to say the least. I hurt for them humanly. Nonetheless, I do not side with the defence in attempted factual presentations because the evidence of his fruit of actions points to much guilt.
I reject D.Shelton and company as proper public leaders for our SDA standards.

What I do want is the continuence of 3ABN and the good it does in lives of those who have no other, or little source of spiritual teachings. This is what makes me want to thank Steffan for defense of 3ABN for what it did stand for as media. Such ones like Steffan help us to take a backward step in overcoming totally negative thoughts toward the 3ABN entirety of it's conception.

The media of 3ABN needs revamping in leadership but should not be thrown into the garbage disposal along with Shelton family and co. I am glad Steffan gives a good word for 3ABN entity. But perhaps the writing on the wall for Danny has not been properly read in the right light by Steffan. Defending Danny per se is a loosing cause.

"....going down with the ship" OR ".... taking the ship to another port" are plain right horrible alternatives, imo.

Posted by: Artiste Today, 01:47 AM

QUOTE(runner4him @ Jul 1 2007, 12:32 PM)

I talked to a sweet senior lady over the weekend who has been a faithful 3abn viewer and supporter. She is troubled over all this mess and has stopped sending money to them. She is still watching, wondering about everything being reruns, thinks "they" are phasing DS out of the picture because she has not seen him lately. She is hoping for the "phasing out" to happen soon. That would be wonderful if it happened but it looks like he is planning to go down with the ship.

Danny "planning to go down with the ship" is consistent with his statements to the effect of 3abn being his baby. I don't know if legally anything can be done to separate the two.

****

Posted by: Observer Today, 04:18 AM

QUOTE(steffan @ Jul 1 2007, 09:02 PM)

[x] rofl

Yes Duane Inoticed your other post where you said if you even got a letter you would go to the media. [x] rofl Do you honestly think the media is interested in a 20 + year old case where a 20 year old man said he engaged in inapropriate touching???? If you really believe that, then you need to quit threatening and go for it.
And yes, anyone can sue anybody that has indulged in public character assassination and made allegations that are ultimately found to be untrue. Especially if those falsehoods have had a detrimental effect on the person, church, ministry or business that has been slandered. For those of you who know absolutely nothing as fact but continue to accuse people of a myriad of sins in your posts, you open yourselves up to several possibilities. None of a pleasant nature.

The answer to that is "yes." The media would be interested once they understood the full set of issues. You may say that the accused is innocent. That is not the issue. The media interest would not depend upon whether or not the accuesed was innocent. Regardless of guilt, or innocence, there is quite enough to arouse media interest.

Posted by: Clay Today, 06:04 AM

QUOTE(Artiste @ Jul 1 2007, 11:08 PM)

Steffan, you're not appreciated here!

Admin Hat ON:

He may or may not be appreciated, however as long as no forum rules are violated he may post to his hearts content..... let him post, address his issues, ignore him if you wish, however attacking him personally will not be tolerated....

Admin Hat OFF:

Powered by Invision Power Board (http://www.invisionboard.com)
© Invision Power Services (http://www.invisionpower.com)

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ 3-abn & Af Merger

Posted by: Observer May 29 2007, 12:05 PM

I telephoned, today, the Sacramento Central Chruch where DB is the pastor. I mentioned the "gossip" that the so-called "merger" was either off, or on hold, and I asked what was happening. In a carefully worded statement, I was informed that no announcement had been made by either AF or 3-ABN.

I pointed out that this did not repond to my question as to what was going on, and that it was simply a statement to the effect that neither party had made a public announcement in regard to what was going on. The response to me was to the effect that I had correctly understood the response I was given.

Posted by: princessdi May 29 2007, 12:24 PM

Now, for Danny to say he was the one who initiated this merge, by asking DB, several times to merge the two., and speaking as if it was a done deal.....I am curious as to who took the first steps backwards. There is the legitimate question about AF becoming a true independent ministry if they merge, and/or 3ABn coming under the church much as AF now. That in itself seems a hug hurdle. As I stated before, for a good while now, I had heard this was nto the done deal DS wanted it to sound like.

Posted by: Observer May 29 2007, 12:46 PM

> QUOTE(princessdi @ May 29 2007, 11:24 AM)
>
> Now, for Danny to say he was the one who initiated this merge, by asking DB, several times to merge the two., and speaking as if it was a done deal.....I am curious as to who took the first steps backwards. There is the legitimate question about AF becoming a true independent ministry if they merge, and/or 3ABn coming under the church much as AF now. That in itself seems a hug hurdle. As I stated before, for a good while now, I had heard this was nto the done deal DS wanted it to sound like.

As I have said before, seccular business has learned that in a time of crisis, the best PR move is to develop a means where the public can have its questions answered immediately, and accurately.

I am reminded of a local hospital where a patient died due to a hospital caused infection. Immediately that hospital established a means for the public to get accurate information in regard to the death, and how the hospital was responding to it. That hospital litterly spend tens of thousands of dollars to bring in outside experts to determine the cause, propose a remedy, and to act on those proposals. The news media featured the story. But, it soon turned into a story of fixing the problem.

NOTE: For those who want to know: The large multi-story hospital, with two basements, had a dirt floor in the lower basement. Water got on that floor, and activated some natural pathogens living in the local sotil. Those pathogens were released into the air, and got into the ventalation system, and infected a patient, who died. The money for the experts was large, and it was very expensive to lay a concrete floor in a sub-basement of a multi-story building. But the free access to information prevented a major PR issue from occuring.

Back to the issue: It appears to me that the people associated with this so-called merger have not learned the lesson of giving people the facts.

People have come to some of us with stories of what is happening. Contrary to what some beleive, we do not publish everything that comes to us, without checking it out. All a got today was a carfully worded comment that neither side had made a public announcement.

So, with no authorative information which we can post, we shall simply have to wait to see, and the public will continue to wonder.

Posted by: princessdi May 29 2007, 12:53 PM

ITA! There should not have been an announcement without some prepared facts for the subsequent questions.

> QUOTE(Observer @ May 29 2007, 11:46 AM)
>
> As I have said before, seccular business has learned that in a time of crisis, the best PR move is to develop a means where the public can have its questions answered immediately, and accurately.
>
> Back to the issue: It appears to me that the people associated with this so-called merger have not learned the lesson of giving people the facts.
> People have come to some of us with stories of what is happening. Contrary to what some beleive, we do not publish everything that comes to us, without checking it out. All a got today was a carfully worded comment that neither side had made a public announcement.
>
> So, with no authorative information which we can post, we shall simply have to wait to see, and the public will continue to wonder.

Posted by: SoulEspresso May 29 2007, 02:25 PM

> QUOTE(Observer @ May 29 2007, 11:46 AM)
>
> It appears to me that the people associated with this so-called merger have not learned the lesson of giving people the facts.

The authorities in the Adventist church tend this way. They're not all this way. But a lot of them are this way.

I think it has to do with avoiding "reproach on the cause of Christ," which is a misuse of inspired counsel if there ever was one.

Posted by: lowender May 31 2007, 11:40 PM

This announcement that this AF/3ABN merger is a done deal sounds like another premature Danny Shelton move. Danny knows that he has lost respect, clout & his donor funds are declining rapidly. So he thinks if he teams up with AF, more notably, with Doug Batchelor, then he can save his reputation this way. Then he can turn on his critics and say "SEE... DOUG BATCHELOR & AMAZING FACTS SUPPORT MY DIVORCE & RE-MARRIAGE." You see, it's all about Danny. It's all about what he wants. He's developed an entitled mentality where he thinks he is exempt from truth & consequences.

Posted by: mikell Jun 1 2007, 03:41 AM

About the merger of 3abn and Amazing Facts, would anyone know if rescue3abn.blog.com has any truth to it? It seems so extreme if all what is written out is true, I have a hard time to believe it. Can any of you back it up or say it is all of a lie? thanks, Mikell[/font]

Posted by: lurker Jun 1 2007, 05:52 AM

That is what each one of us must decide for ourselves. There is plenty of documentation from government and official records and from the mouths and pens of 3ABN leaders themselves that speak louder than anyone who has already decided to support either side can say to you.

We may discuss the evidence among ourselves but it is not anyone's job to make up your mind for you.

We have answered some who have come here trying to discredit the evidence and logic and we have felt that there were honest souls among them so we have tried to answer their questions to the best of our ability. There are some who have come here in order to sway others who have tried to present what we felt were flawed opinions and easily disprovable claims. We tried to answer them in order to keep those who are naive from being deliberately misled.

Only if you are too lazy to check all the evidence for yourself and accept the easy way out will you let others do your thinking for you.

Posted by: Seraphim7 Jun 1 2007, 07:27 AM

Is it possible that the supporters of the AF ministry got wind of the "possible merger" and are not comfortable with the idea of supporting, "ministers, or a ministry" even if there is a possibility it will be done "behind the scenes". Especially after seeing how tainted 3ABN has become. Just a thought.

Posted by: LaurenceD Jun 1 2007, 08:16 AM

I remember when DB was on 3abn Live during the big announcement, and all the dreamers and visonaries chimed in, DS turned to Doug and said something like maybe he should do one of his famous backflips (handsprings) on live TV as a celebration of the merger. Doug declined.

Maybe he'd consider doing one now.

Posted by: awesumtenor Jun 1 2007, 08:23 AM

> QUOTE(lurker @ Jun 1 2007, 07:52 AM)
>
> Only if you are too lazy to check all the evidence for yourself and accept the easy way out will you let others do your thinking for you.

That or you are Gordie Howe...

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jun 1 2007, 08:49 AM

QUOTE(mikell @ Jun 1 2007, 01:41 AM)

About the merger of 3abn and Amazing Facts, would anyone know if rescue3abn.blog.com has any truth to it? It seems so extreme if all what is written out is true, I have a hard time to believe it. Can any of you back it up or say it is all of a lie? thanks, Mikell[/font]

mikell,

I don't know if the site you are speaking of, http://rescue3abn.blog.com/, is speaking the truth. It seems much like the http://savegailon.blogspot.com site that appears to want to inflame folks rather than disuss the issues in a constructive manner. JMO.

I doubt that is was created by anyone who is a regular member of this forum but that is also JMO.

Posted by: Noahswife Jun 1 2007, 10:26 AM

Please see my post regarding Jim Pederson's email response from yesterday >>>>>>>>
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=13535&view=findpost&p=197752

Posted by: steffan Jun 1 2007, 11:15 AM

QUOTE(princessdi @ May 29 2007, 01:53 PM)

ITA! There should not have been an announcement without some prepared facts for the subsequent questions.

It seems quite clear to most people that the reason it was announced before any details had been worked out is simple. If they would have kept it private while going through months of details, you all who seem to have nothing better to do than to track AF and 3abn's movements would have been all over it with your accusations and speculation. Just imagine the spins that would have been made that AF and 3abn were having "secret" meetings. Then you all would have went to the opposite argument. "Why don't they just tell us what they are working on?" "Why is this secret, what do they have to hide?" "Don't they think their supporters need to know what they are planning?"

That's why it was announced before concrete details were worked out.
Just more evidence that for some, no matter what they do, it would be wrong.

QUOTE(lowender @ Jun 1 2007, 12:40 AM)

This announcement that this AF/3ABN merger is a done deal sounds like another premature Danny Shelton move. Danny knows that he has lost respect, clout & his donor funds are declining rapidly. So he thinks if he teams up with AF, more notably, with Doug Batchelor, then he can save his reputation this way. Then he can turn on his critics and say "SEE... DOUG BATCHELOR & AMAZING FACTS SUPPORT MY DIVORCE & RE-MARRIAGE." You see, it's all about Danny. It's all about what he wants. He's developed an entitled mentality where he thinks he is exempt from truth & consequences.

It amazes me that if "it's all about Danny" how he could get a large and well respected ministry like AF to go along with his "whims." That conclusion makes as much sense as the one stated here that AF their board, 3abn their board and the conference officials that are involved had an emergency meeting and decided to merge because Linda got a new lawyer for their personal property case!!! rofl

Since you say Danny has done this to save his credibility, what If ,for some reason, DS and 3ABN decided against merging, what would you say then?

Again, let me point out the lack of good sense by saying "Danny did this because" implying, again, that AF, their board, Doug and the conference officials had no say in it.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jun 1 2007, 11:28 AM

QUOTE(steffan @ Jun 1 2007, 09:15 AM)

It seems quite clear to most people that the reason it was announced before any details had been worked out is simple. If they would have kept it private while going through months of details, you all who seem to have nothing better to do than to track AF and 3abn's movements would have been all over it with your accusations and speculation. Just imagine the spins that would have been made that AF and 3abn were having "secret" meetings. Then you all would have went to the opposite argument. "Why don't they just tell us what they are working on?" "Why is this secret, what do they have to hide?" "Don't they think their supporters need to know what they are planning?"

That's why it was announced before concrete details were worked out.

Wow! So you are saying that we are a powerful force that must be reckoned with!

Posted by: Noahswife Jun 1 2007, 11:40 AM

QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Jun 1 2007, 12:28 PM)

Wow! So you are saying that we are a powerful force that must be reckoned with!

sna

Posted by: princessdi Jun 1 2007, 11:52 AM

QUOTE(steffan @ Jun 1 2007, 09:15 AM)

It seems quite clear to most people that the reason it was announced before any details had been worked out is simple. If they would have kept it private while going through months of details, you all who seem to have nothing better to do than to track AF and 3abn's movements would have been all over it with your accusations and speculation. Just imagine the spins that would have been made that AF and 3abn were having "secret" meetings. Then you all would have went to the opposite argument. "Why don't they just tell us what they are working on?" "Why is this secret, what do they have to hide?" "Don't they think their supporters need to know what they are planning?"

That's why it was announced before concrete details were worked out.
Just more evidence that for some, no matter what they do, it would be wrong.

actually don't think AF was really mentioned that much until the merge was annouced let alone "keeping rack" of them, were they?

'oint is they prematurely annouced it as if it was a done deal, as if all the major details had been worked out. 'hey weren't. It didn't help that your dearly departed cohorts were here trying to answer questions when hey had no idea how a merge would work. They should have at least been informed, don't you think?

QUOTE

It amazes me that if "it's all about Danny" how he could get a large and well respected ministry like AF to go along with his "whims." That conclusion makes as much sense as the one stated here that AF their board, 3abn their board and the conference officials that are involved had an emergency meeting and decided to merge because Linda got a new lawyer for their personal property case!!! rofl

Since you say Danny has done this to save his credibility, what If ,for some reason, DS and 3ABN decided against merging, what would you say then?Again, let me point out the lack of good sense by saying "Danny did this because" implying, again, that AF, their board, Doug and the conference officials had no say in it.

would say that makes total sense. I believe it is Danny who came upon some unexpected and currently inacceptable stipulations. I totally believe this is why they are "stuck" months later in investigation mode, ind the language has changed from that initial confidence he once had in it's success. You know all those lreams and vision, etc. I suggest that he does need this merge to salvage his credibility, but that he believed ecause he initiated contact with AF, that he would be able to "control" the conditions. Sure he would allow)B to be the front man, but you can bet your bottom dollar there was something in it for Danny. Steffan, we eep trying to tell you, this is not Sabbath School.

Posted by: mikell Jun 1 2007, 11:55 AM lurker, so true, so true and the sad thing is, I personally know Kenny Shelton who was one of the founders of 3ABN back when they started up with the idea in 1985. After Kenny and Danny were country traveling around a few years later telling of the 3ABN story, Danny demanded for Kenny to step aside, to get out of the picture, for to make it look like Danny alone founded 3ABN. I know personally Danny wanted all the glory for himself! Way back then!

Then Danny had all of his Brother Kenny's weekly programs pulled off of 3ABN air in banning Kenny from ever coming to 3ABN ever again! Once that took place, whom Kenny had his own SDA Church, and Behold the Lamb Ministry, none of the workers at 3ABN were allowed to visited Kenny's Church or Danny would have them fired!

Goldie, Kenny's and Danny's mom whom I personally talked to, she told me how Danny was even mad at her for taking Kenny's side! So mad Danny was at her, his own mother feared him in suing her for all what she had in this life, if she continued to support Kenny. This was going on back in 1989 to 1990! Now Danny has been in power ever since, so reading the things on the website, rescue3abn.blog.com does not surprise me that all of it is really TRUE!!! 3ABN sure needs our prayers!!! It sure does appear at this point that the little Joseph Stalin Danny Shelton sure needs to GO, just like Achan did!!! Whom does 3ABN really belong to? To whose glory? And what should be its true purpose?

Posted by: Rosyroi Jun 1 2007, 12:00 PM

QUOTE(mikell @ Jun 1 2007, 02:41 AM)

About the merger of 3abn and Amazing Facts, would anyone know if rescue3abn.blog.com has any truth to it? It seems so extreme if all what is written out is true, I have a hard time to believe it. Can any of you back it up or say it is all of a lie? thanks, Mikell[/font]

Interesting. I never heard of rescue3abn.blog.com. will have to check it out. So many people with so many agendas and so many suppositions and so many opinions and .... and ... and....

Rosyroi

Posted by: mikell Jun 1 2007, 04:39 PM

lurker,
so true, so true and the sad thing is, I personally know Kenny Shelton who was one of the founders of 3ABN back when they started up with the idea in 1985. After Kenny and Danny were country traveling around the USA a few years later telling of the 3ABN story, Danny demanded for Kenny to step aside; to get out of the picture, for to make it look like Danny alone founded 3ABN. Danny wanted all the glory for himself! Way back then! Then Danny had all of his Brother Kenny's weekly programs pulled off of 3ABN air in banning Kenny from ever coming to 3ABN ever again! Once that took place, which Kenny had his own SDA Church, and Behold the Lamb Ministry, none of the workers at 3ABN were allowed to visit Kenny's Church or Danny would have them fired!

Goldie, Kenny's and Danny's mom whom I personally talked to; she told me how Danny was even mad at her for taking Kenny's side! So angry that Danny was at his own mother, she feared him, in suing her for all what she had in this life, if she continued to support Kenny. This was going on back in 1989 to 1990! Now Danny has been in power ever since, so reading all the things on the other websites, such as save3abn and rescue3abn.blog.com does not surprise me that all of it is really TRUE!!! 3ABN sure needs our prayers!!! The little Joseph Stalin Danny Shelton sure needs to GO, just like Achan needed to GO long ago in Isreal!

Posted by: steffan Jun 1 2007, 09:41 PM

QUOTE(princessdi @ Jun 1 2007, 12:52 PM)

[color=#993399]I actually don't think AF was really mentioned that much until the merge was annouced let alone "keeping track" of them, were they?

You keep saying this is not sabbath school and yet, you are not paying attention. I said If 3abn and AF had begun to have private meetings to discuss a merge, you all would have been all over it, speculating, allegating and accusing as to, what was going on in these "secret" meetings.
Then, you really went out on a limb saying that months down the road they are stalled because Danny thought this and Danny thought that.....The truth is Danny nor Doug have had time to have anymore meetings since Doug was at 3abn to announce the merger. Neither ministry goes by what you all think the time table should be. They go by their own schedules and when they can work meetings in. That is very difficult for both of them right now.

Posted by: sonshineonme Jun 1 2007, 10:43 PM

QUOTE(steffan @ Jun 1 2007, 08:41 PM)

You keep saying this is not sabbath school and yet, you are not paying attention. I said If 3abn and AF had begun to have private meetings to discuss a merge, you all would have been all over it, speculating, allegating and accusing as to, what was going on in these "secret" meetings.
Then, you really went out on a limb saying that months down the road they are stalled because Danny thought this and Danny thought that.....The truth is Danny nor Doug have had time to have anymore meetings since Doug was at 3abn to announce the merger. Neither ministry goes by what you all think the time table should be. They go by their own schedules and when they can work meetings in. That is very difficult for both of them right now.

"Steffan", since when, have you ever cared what anyone here thinks? You (ds) have never cared what "we all" have "been all over" previously...what difference would it have made if you had done this behind closed doors...sorry, I see this as a lame explanation on your part. Add to that, ds said this was in the works for months, and yet db says it was virtually "sudden and over night"...and certainly, you did ask Doug what he thought about announcing something that SOUNDED done and in complete accord so prematurely, right? I think you are not paying attention to how much we do pay attention. It's one thing to announce the idea, it's quite another to make it sound as though it's a done deal. There were options in the middle.....lets not blame the folks here at bsda for this one...I know some can't help but blame everyone else for everything, but please, you can see that this is a weak statement.

Frankly, I am very happy it happened just like it did....it has caused many to get involved in this now, rather then later, while some may have regrets about the transaction later, from the lack of "time" to review, etc.

And speaking of time....no time for meetings Steffan????? You mean, something so exciting and important as this supposed in the works merger and no one has time for it? I think you are confused....it's the BOARD (S) that make decisions. Not Doug and NOT Danny (oops, wait, yes, Danny does, in spite of his "board" - what was I thinking?).

You are right, they go by their own schedules, and db seems to have respect for his board and their approving of any such merger, among with others do think - that includes the public, which I am positive he has heard from in abundance, as well as high ranking officials in the sda church who I'm sure have added their input, naturally. Keep at it "steffan". We learn so much from you. You are a valuable asset here at bsda.

Posted by: Seraphim7 Jun 2 2007, 12:47 AM

QUOTE(princessdi @ Jun 1 2007, 02:52 PM)

I actually don't think AF was really mentioned that much until the merge was annouced let alone "keeping track" of them, were they?

Point is they prematurely annouced it as if it was a done deal, as if all the major details had been Point is they prematurely annouced it as if it was a done deal, as if all the major details had been worked out. They weren't. worked out. They weren't. It didn't help that your dearly departed cohorts were here trying to answer questions when they had no idea how a merge would work. They should have at least been informed, don't you think?

... Sure he would allow DB to be the front man, but you can bet your bottom dollar there was something in it for Danny. Steffan, we keep trying to tell you, this is not Sabbath School.

Exactly P-Di Which IMO, was by design...

This, we can feed folk anything, cuz they fell off a potato truck, mentality has got to end.

Posted by: mikell Jun 2 2007, 01:25 AM

QUOTE(Seraphim7 @ Jun 2 2007, 12:47 AM)

Exactly P-Di Which IMO, was by design...

This, we can feed folk anything, cuz they fell off a potato truck, mentality has got to end.

Seraphim7, of course something is in it for ds, for his butt to remain in power! Db, is ds cya guy!!!

Posted by: Seraphim7 Jun 2 2007, 01:48 AM

QUOTE(mikell @ Jun 2 2007, 04:25 AM)

Seraphim7, of course something is in it for ds, for his butt to remain in power! Db, is ds cya guy!!!

believe someone else may have mentioned "something in it for ds". But I do not recall it being from me.

Posted by: runner4him Jun 2 2007, 06:09 AM

QUOTE(Rosyroi @ Jun 1 2007, 01:00 PM)

Interesting. I never heard of rescue3abn.blog.com. will have to check it out. So many people with so many agendas and so many suppositions and so many opinions and .... and ... and....

Rosyroi

have not been at the rescue3abn site but will check it out too. Do not even know which side they are on out.....

ust thought of something. With the court documents sealed...and the apparent attempt of DS trying to out a muzzle on Pickle and Joy, how about others downloading all the info there before the site is gone? Then those who feel convicted to climb out on that limb and join the front line men could create many websites to continue the battle to save 3abn. They cannot sue everyone! I heard the blogs are not traceable like the web site is.

How about some feedback....

Posted by: mikell Jun 2 2007, 10:06 AM

QUOTE(Seraphim7 @ Jun 2 2007, 01:48 AM)

I believe someone else may have mentioned "something in it for ds". But I do not recall it being from me.

Seraphim7, I stand corrected! It was from, princessdi that you were talking to.

Posted by: Artiste Jun 2 2007, 10:10 AM

QUOTE(runner4him @ Jun 2 2007, 04:09 AM)

I have not been at the rescue3abn site but will check it out too. Do not even know which side they are on but.....

Just thought of something. With the court documents sealed...and the apparent attempt of DS trying to put a muzzle on Pickle and Joy, how about others downloading all the info there before the site is gone? Then those who feel convicted to climb out on that limb and join the front line men could create many websites to continue the battle to save 3abn. They cannot sue everyone! I heard the blogs are not traceable like the web site is.

How about some feedback....

I think more blogs is a great idea!

Remeber the role bloggers have had in influencing the "old media" even before blogging became so widespread and more respectable!

Posted by: mikell Jun 2 2007, 04:42 PM

QUOTE(Artiste @ Jun 2 2007, 10:10 AM)

I think more blogs is a great idea!

Remeber the role bloggers have had in influencing the "old media" even before blogging became so widespread and more respectable!

Well, whoever wrote up the blog on rescue3abn.blog.com recieved a somewhat threat from 3ABN, through a website guy who calls himeslf, "truth4seekers" Is this ds or one of his workers??? Does anyone know who is "truth4seekers?" rescue3abn.blog.com is the strongest words against ds, more so then any seen so far. The threat to the site is understandable. But the site iteself is informative way how things are going at 3abn.

Posted by: sonshineonme Jun 2 2007, 04:46 PM

QUOTE(mikell @ Jun 2 2007, 03:42 PM)

Well, whoever wrote up the blog on rescue3abn.blog.com recieved a somewhat threat from 3ABN, through a website guy who calls himeslf, "truth4seekers" Is this ds or one of his workers??? Does anyone know who is "truth4seekers?" rescue3abn.blog.com is the strongest words against ds, more so then any seen so far. The threat to the site is understandable. But the site iteself is informative way how things are going at 3abn.

Mikell, where did you see this threat made by "truth4seekers"?
p.s. nice to have you hear at bsda!

Posted by: Artiste Jun 2 2007, 05:01 PM

QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jun 2 2007, 02:46 PM)

Mikell, where did you see this threat made by "truth4seekers"?
p.s. nice to have you hear at bsda!

The "sort of threat" is in the comment section of the blog.

http://rescue3abn.blog.com[/url]

Posted by: mikell Jun 2 2007, 05:03 PM

Mikell, where did you see this threat made by "truth4seekers"?
p.s. nice to have you hear at bsda!

sunshineonme, thank you, and it is good to be here . On the bottom of the blog -- rescue3abn.blog.com, there is a place says, "comments" Click on that, then click again on, "truth4seekers" and you will see the vale threat!

Posted by: lurker Jun 2 2007, 05:04 PM

I don't know about a threat but truth4seekers has a blog - looks like it is pro Danny. http://references4links.blogspot.com/2007_05_25_archive.html There may be a threat there somewhere. But looked like just a lot of stuff we have seen before.

Posted by: sonshineonme Jun 2 2007, 05:13 PM

QUOTE(lurker @ Jun 2 2007, 04:04 PM)

I don't know about a threat but truth4seekers has a blog - looks like it is pro Danny. http://references4links.blogspot.com/2007_05_25_archive.html There may be a threat there somewhere. But looked like just a lot of stuff we have seen before.

Well, when you can't win in a regular put-it-all-out-there debate, you take to the blogs, where you can slam your agenda and get no rebutting. Sounds pretty wimpy to me in a sense....and quite familiar...kind of like a 3abn stage/platform, where you can have your "ah huh" men around you agreeing to your hearts content. Wonder what's next....of course, when you get yourself eliminated, for the most part from the chat sites, because you don't play nice, guess you only have a few alternatives left to get your voice out there. Now, heard? Not to sure about that.

so....we are all going blog crazy now?

Posted by: lurker Jun 2 2007, 07:10 PM

Looked like they only had one comment there and deleted that because they didn't like what they got.

Posted by: Snoopy Jun 3 2007, 03:11 PM

QUOTE(steffan @ Jun 1 2007, 11:15 AM)

It seems quite clear to most people that the reason it was announced before any details had been worked out is simple. If they would have kept it private while going through months of details, you all who seem to have nothing better to do than to track AF and 3abn's movements would have been all over it with your accusations and speculation. Just imagine the spins that would have been made that AF and 3abn were having "secret" meetings. Then you all would have went to the opposite argument. "Why don't they just tell us what they are working on?" "Why is this secret, what do they have to hide?" "Don't they think their supporters need to know what they are planning?"

"Steffan,"

Here's a thought... If merger discussions had been carried out in PRIVATE...how exactly is it that we would be discussing it here on a PUBLIC forum? .....Are you implying there is a a LEAK somewhere?? Just curious...

~~Snoopy~~

Posted by: sonshineonme Jun 3 2007, 03:14 PM

QUOTE(Snoopy @ Jun 3 2007, 02:11 PM)

"Steffan,"

Here's a thought... If merger discussions had been carried out in PRIVATE...how exactly is it that we would be discussing it here on a PUBLIC forum? .....Are you implying there is a a LEAK somewhere?? Just curious...

~~Snoopy~~

snoopy...you're so clever!

rofl

Posted by: Snoopy Jun 3 2007, 05:36 PM

QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jun 3 2007, 04:14 PM)

snoopy...you're so clever!

rofl

Hey thank you Sonshine!!

.... hug.gif

Posted by: princessdi Jun 3 2007, 05:51 PM

You got that right Sonshine! Plus Steffan, while you are 'splanin' stuff. 'splain why everybody's language has changed regarding this merge. The chairman of the AF board says it it only in the "investigation" phase. That is not the "done deal, GC and everybody knows and agrees" Danny was talking about a couple months ago. I personally have talked with conference officials, who keep saying, "IF, this merger is voted" Sorry you can't put this one on us. Danny, with Doug by his side.looking a bit ill at ease, I thought) put this out there for ALL to see complete with dreams and visions. "Splane that one.

QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jun 1 2007, 08:43 PM)

"Steffan", since when, have you ever cared what anyone here thinks? You (ds) have never cared what "we all" have "been all over" previously...what difference would it have made if you had done this behind closed doors...sorry, I see this as a lame explanation on your part. Add to that, ds said this was in the works for months, and yet db says it was virtually "sudden and over night"...and certainly, you did ask Doug what he thought about announcing something that SOUNDED done and in complete accord so prematurely, right? I think you are not paying attention to how much we do pay attention. It's one thing to announce the idea, it's quite another to make it sound as though it's a done deal. There were options in the middle.....lets not blame the folks here at bsda for this one...I know some can't help but blame everyone else for everything, but please, you can see that this is a weak statement.

Frankly, I am very happy it happened just like it did....it has caused many to get involved in this now, rather then later, while some may have regrets about the transaction later, from the lack of "time" to review, etc.

And speaking of time....no time for meetings Steffan????? You mean, something so exciting and important as this supposed in the works merger and no one has time for it? I think you are confused....it's the BOARD (S) that make decisions. Not Doug and NOT Danny (oops, wait, yes, Danny does, in spite of his "board" - what was I thinking?).

You are right, they go by their own schedules, and db seems to have respect for his board and their approving of any such merger, among with others do think - that includes the public, which I am positive he has heard from in abundance, as well as high ranking officials in the sda church who I'm sure have added their input, naturally. Keep at it "steffan". We learn so much from you. You are a valuable asset here at bsda.

Posted by: sonshineonme Jun 9 2007, 05:34 PM

Just thought I would share what I ran across this afternoon on the Spectrum website of the announcement of merger between - well you know who it's between ....

Could be that most have seen this already? I don't know why, but I got a bit of a chuckle out of some of the comments. While these folk may or may not be members here at bsda , I think they would fit in just fine as they call it as they see it. If anyone is interested, just click the link and read up.

http://spectrummagazine.typepad.com/the_spectrum_blog/2007/04/breaking_3abn_a.html

---

Posted by: Rosyroi Jun 9 2007, 11:27 PM

QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jun 9 2007, 03:34 PM)

Just thought I would share what I ran across this afternoon on the Spectrum website of the announcement of merger between - well you know who it's between ....

Could be that most have seen this already? I don't know why, but I got a bit of a chuckle out of some of the comments. While these folk may or may not be members here at bsda , I think they would fit in just fine as they call it as they see it. If anyone is interested, just click the link and read up.

http://spectrummagazine.typepad.com/the_spectrum_blog/2007/04/breaking_3abn_a.html

Without our detractors to hang around and spin...spin.. spin we have had a chance to learn a lot more than we ever bargained for. Thanks for the website. More eye openers every day.

Rosyroi

Posted by: Snoopy Jun 10 2007, 12:00 AM

QUOTE(Rosyroi @ Jun 10 2007, 12:27 AM)

Without our detractors to hang around and spin...spin.. spin we have had a chance to learn a lot more than we ever bargained for. Thanks for the website. More eye openers every day.

Rosyroi

Gotta hand it to Steffan, though Rosy, don't you think?? I think he's making a valiant solo effort...

~~Snoopy~~

Posted by: Treniece Jun 23 2007, 05:16 PM

I think 3abn and Amazing Facts will do well if they remain as seperate ministries. Just my thoughts. Personally, I don't see how the two ministries can be merged.

Posted by: runner4him Jun 23 2007, 05:31 PM

QUOTE(Treniece @ Jun 23 2007, 06:16 PM)

I think 3abn and Amazing Facts will do well if they remain as seperate ministries. Just my thoughts. Personally, I don't see how the two ministries can be merged.

It would be a disaster for AF in my opinion. By the way, I have not been able to log onto 3abn this afternoon. Has anyone else been having problems?

WT and the 3abn board must feel like they are in the hot seat over the latest documentation on the horse donation and the non-denominational message!

Posted by: Artiste Jun 23 2007, 08:02 PM

QUOTE(runner4him @ Jun 23 2007, 03:31 PM)

I have not been able to log onto 3abn this afternoon. Has anyone else been having problems?

I can't log onto 3abn either.

****

Posted by: mikell Jun 23 2007, 11:23 PM

Neither, can I log on.
Who knows, IMHO maybe they are up to something, or just be an innocent shut down of the site?

Posted by: Ralph Jun 23 2007, 11:31 PM

> QUOTE(mikell @ Jun 23 2007, 11:23 PM)
>
> Neither, can I log on.
> Who knows, IMHO maybe they are up to something, or just be an innocent shut down of the site?

3ABN Website Notice
The 3ABN website is experiencing technical difficulty at this time.
We are in the process of resolving the problem and hope to have it completely operational soon.
[from http://www.3abn.org/]

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Jun 24 2007, 06:20 PM

I just now successfully accessed the 3ABN web site.

Posted by: SoulEspresso Jun 26 2007, 10:33 AM

In response to the OQ, I think the answer is YES ... in light of the 3ABN magazine banner changeback.

Thank God.

But keep calling.

Posted by: mikell Jun 26 2007, 10:49 AM

I don't know how much we can read into that, just look up the 3ABN.org and click on, "Magazine" then click on "June 07," wow what a picture! It sure looks like a done deal to me! I sure hope not, but...

Posted by: watchbird Jun 26 2007, 03:40 PM

> QUOTE(mikell @ Jun 26 2007, 12:49 PM)
>
> I don't know how much we can read into that, just look up the 3ABN.org and click on, "Magazine" then click on "June 07," wow what a picture! It sure looks like a done deal to me! I sure hope not, but...

That was last month's magazine. The current one is July. There is no mention of the merger in it.

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jun 26 2007, 04:49 PM

I emailed AF opposing the merger. Surprise surprise, never heard a word back. Anyone else have that sort of response?

Richard

Posted by: mikell Jun 26 2007, 05:42 PM

> QUOTE(Richard Sherwin @ Jun 26 2007, 04:49 PM)
>
> I emailed AF opposing the merger. Surprise surprise, never heard a word back. Anyone else have that sort of response?
>
> Richard

ha, I had the same reponse at first. Thinking they did not see my little humble email so I sent around a 100 of them and finally they got back to me with a "form email letter," from Bonnie Ensminger -- db sec., thanking me for my words of "encouragement." Nothing was further from the truth, I was PROTESTING the merger. I think they put all of us who opposes it on their "delete button," but could be mistaken, We just might get a better response if we wrote to the AF board members. Do anyone has their email address?

Posted by: steffan Jun 26 2007, 11:45 PM

> QUOTE(mikell @ Jun 26 2007, 06:42 PM)
>
> ha, I had the same reponse at first. Thinking they did not see my little humble email so I sent around a 100 of them and finally they got back to me with a "form email letter," from Bonnie Ensminger -- db sec., thanking me for my words of "encouragement." Nothing was further from the truth, I was PROTESTING the merger. I think they put all of us who opposes it on their "delete button," but could be mistaken, We just might get a better response if we wrote to the AF board members. Do anyone has their email address?

Shouldn't the response you're NOT getting tell you something? Like, for instance that AF could care less what the bsda members think about the merge.

Posted by: mikell Jun 27 2007, 01:01 AM

QUOTE(steffan @ Jun 26 2007, 11:45 PM)

Shouldn't the response you're NOT getting tell you something? Like, for instance that AF could care less what the bsda members think about the merge.

Oh, I must have forgot the "we don't care about bsda members" button for AF to click. Thank you so much, steffan for being so astute to have come up with that one,

---

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jun 27 2007, 05:01 AM

Nice response. Expected. BTW why do you think I said I was from BSDA? Might that not be a false assumption on your part? Yes it was. I simply sent them an email expressing my concern as a SDA, not a BSDA.

Richard

QUOTE(steffan @ Jun 27 2007, 01:45 AM)

Shouldn't the response you're NOT getting tell you something? Like, for instance that AF could care less what the bsda members think about the merge.

Posted by: runner4him Jun 27 2007, 05:06 AM

QUOTE(Richard Sherwin @ Jun 26 2007, 05:49 PM)

I emailed AF opposing the merger. Surprise surprise, never heard a word back. Anyone else have that sort of response?

Richard

Much better to call.

Posted by: watchbird Jun 27 2007, 06:12 AM

QUOTE(runner4him @ Jun 27 2007, 07:06 AM)

Much better to call.

Much better to write to the AF Chairman of the Board.

See http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=13535&view=findpost&p=196668 in the thread I just bumped to the top... "News Release From Amazing Facts---4-25-07".... for previous correspondence with him that has been posted to BSDA.

Posted by: runner4him Jun 27 2007, 08:46 AM

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jun 27 2007, 07:12 AM)

Much better to write to the AF Chairman of the Board.

See http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=13535&view=findpost&p=196668 in the thread I just bumped to the top... "News Release From Amazing Facts---4-25-07".... for previous correspondence with him that has been posted to BSDA.

I am sure it is much better to write to the Amazing facts Chairman of the Board but when I posted "it is better to call"....I was referring to my own experience with a phone call I made to Amazing Facts. I did get quite a bit of information readily given to me by the person who I was forwarded to. I nicely expressed my concerns and she shared much information with me. It was helpful to complete at least some of the "rest of the story". I would encourage anyone to try the same approach.

Posted by: joyce Jun 27 2007, 05:49 PM

QUOTE(runner4him @ Jun 27 2007, 06:46 AM)

I am sure it is much better to write to the Amazing facts Chairman of the Board but when I posted "it is better to call"....I was referring to my own experience with a phone call I made to Amazing Facts. I did get quite a bit of information readily given to me by the person who I was forwarded to. I nicely expressed my concerns and she shared much information with me. It was helpful to complete at least some of the "rest of the story". I would encourage anyone to try the same approach.

I was wondering if anyone heard this report as I did a couple of weeks ago. One of my fellow church members came to me quite concerned re 3ABN. His sister, who is a strong supporter of 3ABN, had just been at the campmeeting in Illinois. She was asking for prayers and donations for ABN, as they were told (during the times off the air for viewers) that donations were down about 50%, and also that the merger with AF was off. But it must not be a matter that they are ready to report yet to the general public. Just curious.

Joyce

Posted by: lurker Jun 27 2007, 06:23 PM

Oooooh!

Posted by: Fran Jun 27 2007, 06:50 PM

QUOTE(lurker @ Jun 27 2007, 07:23 PM)

Oooooh!

Well! Looks like I am going to have to go to a phone booth and make a call! rofl

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jun 27 2007, 06:58 PM

QUOTE(Fran @ Jun 27 2007, 07:50 PM)

Well! Looks like I am going to have to go to a phone booth and make a call! rofl

Fran,

Just look behind you once or twice to make sure you're not followed. Let us know if you see an old lady with handicapped license plates in your rear view mirror.

rofl rofl rofl

Posted by: YogusBearus Jun 27 2007, 07:07 PM

QUOTE(Fran @ Jun 27 2007, 06:50 PM)

Well! Looks like I am going to have to go to a phone booth and make a call! rofl

You might as well slip into something comfortable like a cape when you're there.
-bear

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jun 27 2007, 07:13 PM

Ya'll do realize that by even knowing what a phone booth is proves we are not youngsters any more? I can't remember the last time I saw one. (Not being able to remember is also a sign of aging too of course)

Richard

Posted by: runner4him Jun 27 2007, 10:17 PM

QUOTE(joyce @ Jun 27 2007, 06:49 PM)

I was wondering if anyone heard this report as I did a couple of weeks ago. One of my fellow church members came to me quite concerned re 3ABN. His sister, who is a strong supporter of 3ABN, had just been at the campmeeting in Illinois. She was asking for prayers and donations for ABN, as they were told (during the times off the air for viewers) that donations were down about 50%, and also that the merger with AF was off. But it must not be a matter that they are ready to report yet to the general public. Just curious.

Joyce

have not heard that the donations are down 50% but .....here is the latest from the folk in Indiana.....last veekend Danny Shelton was suppose to be in Indiana at a certain church and he was a no show. John L. was ı no show too. The word was out that Danny was sick....several mentioned that it was no surprise since the alk was fast and furious everywhere over the horse fiasco. I would not be surprised if the donations went lown even further! Our people are not stupid and I know many are reading and doing the math. They have oused from their slumber and are planning to become better stewards of their monies.

Posted by: Fran Jun 27 2007, 10:40 PM

QUOTE(runner4him @ Jun 27 2007, 11:17 PM)

I have not heard that the donations are down 50% but .....here is the latest from the folk in Indiana.....last weekend Danny Shelton was suppose to be in Indiana at a certain church and he was a no show. John L. was a no show too. The word was out that Danny was sick....several mentioned that it was no surprise since the talk was fast and furious everywhere over the horse fiasco. I would not be surprised if the donations went down even further! Our people are not stupid and I know many are reading and doing the math. They have roused from their slumber and are planning to become better stewards of their monies.

Bob;

Be careful! That little $75,000 bottom line just started to get bigger! What are you doing to those Indianians anyway! At least we now know they (Indianians) can think for themselves and make decisions based on their knowledge about the "horsing around".

This is going to somehow become your and Gailon's fault! It could be because of the actions taken way back before you and Joy came on the scene! 2003-2005 was before you became so famous. Can't blame that one on you guys! However, their loss in 2007 will be blamed on you two! Those lawyers could get really desperate.

am sincerely pleased Danny was a no show. It does show he does understand public opinion, or not.

Posted by: Fran Jun 27 2007, 10:56 PM

QUOTE(YogusBearus @ Jun 27 2007, 08:07 PM)

You might as well slip into something comfortable like a cape when you're there.
-bear

I may get desperate and be forced to use my shoe phone! multitasl

I have all ready ordered my bat-mobile to get me outta here really fast.

Spiderman has promised to catch them all in his special web! Where is Robin when your in a hurry?

WHAT WAS THAT? IT'S A BIRD! IT'S A PLANE. NO, IT IS SUPERMAN! wow.gif

Sorry wonderwoman.

Posted by: runner4him Jun 28 2007, 05:39 AM

QUOTE(Fran @ Jun 27 2007, 11:40 PM)

Bob;

Be careful! That little $75,000 bottom line just started to get bigger! What are you doing to those Indianians anyway! At least we now know they (Indianians) can think for themselves and make decisions based on their knowledge about the "horsing around".

This is going to somehow become your and Gailon's fault! It could be because of the actions taken way back before you and Joy came on the scene! 2003-2005 was before you became so famous. Can't blame that one on you guys! However, their loss in 2007 will be blamed on you two! Those lawyers could get really desperate.

I am sincerely pleased Danny was a no show. It does show he does understand public opinion, or not.

Fran,

Actually all the Hoosiers I know started to question what was going on when the 3abn letters came around trashing LS...then the remarriage....then more trashing....it was the horsing around that pushed them over the edge and from what I hear it is spreading from State to State. gossip

By the way, you cannot go to court and recover from this mess...the hand is caught in the cookie jar so to speak and the honorable thing for the guilty party is to step down.

Posted by: Artiste Jun 28 2007, 06:19 AM

QUOTE(runner4him @ Jun 28 2007, 03:39 AM)

Actually all the Hoosiers I know started to question what was going on when the 3abn letters came around trashing LS...then the remarriage....then more trashing....it was the horsing around that pushed them over the edge and from what I hear it is spreading from State to State. gossip

By the way, you cannot go to court and recover from this mess...the hand is caught in the cookie jar so to speak and the honorable thing for the guilty party is to step down.

f it is spreading from state to state as you indicate, what is the reaction of church leaders, the GC, etc. by ıow?

have contact with a church where the pastor has "concerns" about 3abn but refuses to stop promoting it in ıis church because a donor has it broadcast 24 hours in the city, and presumably people are coming into the :hurch because of it.

Is this a microcosm of the larger picture? A wealthy donor, GC leaders, 3abn does "some sort of good"?)

****

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jun 28 2007, 07:08 AM

QUOTE(Artiste @ Jun 28 2007, 04:19 AM)

If it is spreading from state to state as you indicate, what is the reaction of church leaders, the GC, etc. by now?

I have contact with a church where the pastor has "concerns" about 3abn but refuses to stop promoting it in his church because a donor has it broadcast 24 hours in the city, and presumably people are coming into the church because of it.

(Is this a microcosm of the larger picture? A wealthy donor, GC leaders, 3abn does "some sort of good"?)
****

ırtiste,

'his is the conundrum of 3abn. There is no question that much of the programming is having a positive effect ›n people, so I can understand pastors and many others being unwilling to get aggressive about their concerns". Eventually, when enough donors have confirmed for themselves whether or not the emerging nformation about some of those in 3abn leadership is valid, there will be a call to accountibility. My eye is ›articularly on the GC response to this all.

.et's also keep in mind, as we have discussed in another thread, God can use anything to draw His children ›ack to Him.

Posted by: runner4him Jun 28 2007, 07:26 AM

QUOTE(Artiste @ Jun 28 2007, 07:19 AM)

If it is spreading from state to state as you indicate, what is the reaction of church leaders, the GC, etc. by now?

I have contact with a church where the pastor has "concerns" about 3abn but refuses to stop promoting it in his church because a donor has it broadcast 24 hours in the city, and presumably people are coming into the church because of it.

(Is this a microcosm of the larger picture? A wealthy donor, GC leaders, 3abn does "some sort of good"?)
****

think the important thing to remember is the fact that the lowly ones will finish the work. We can check and ;ee who might be standing up around all of us and then think, well, they aren't so I can't but the bottom line s WE CAN.

'oo many people were just following a certain man a long time ago because others were and he looked pretty ›owerful...his country was Germany....(I am not suggesting anyone is like unto him) but it just reminds me of he mentality of blindly following anyone with authority or who might come off as an authority figure. I for ›ne question, question, and will question again....I follow one and only Him, my Master.

'he message of truth is and will continue to spread from state to state to those lowly ones in the pews hrough our efforts to reach friends everywhere. Just pass the word and maybe the leaders and pastors and ıll in the higher ranks will see this army of supporters on the side of truth. I believe many of them ARE vorking behing the scenes but of course I admit to being a polyanna by personality and I am glad for it.

Posted by: Pickle Jun 28 2007, 09:25 AM

QUOTE(Fran @ Jun 27 2007, 11:40 PM)

This is going to somehow become your and Gailon's fault!

\nd it was Elijah's fault that it didn't rain, and that Ahab got caught with Naboth's vineyard.

\m I to blame that so many claim to have been molested or abused by Tommy? Am I to blame that 3ABN ;old the Sheltons a house for $6,139 and that they then sold it a week later for $135,000? Am I to blame that)anny told the IRS he gave cash when he gave horses, and that he told the IRS the gift of cash was for :ertain amounts? Am I to blame that Danny divorced Linda and married Brandy?

Posted by: Rosyroi Jun 28 2007, 02:52 PM

QUOTE(Pickle @ Jun 28 2007, 07:25 AM)

And it was Elijah's fault that it didn't rain, and that Ahab got caught with Naboth's vineyard.

Am I to blame that so many claim to have been molested or abused by Tommy? Am I to blame that 3ABN sold the Sheltons a house for $6,139 and then sold it a week later for $135,000? Am I to blame that Danny told the IRS he gave cash when he gave horses, and that he told the IRS the gift of cash was for certain amounts? Am I to blame that Danny divorced Linda and married Brandy?

heard from a little birdy (not WB) that this seems to be Danny's MO. He will talk with you about a concern 'ou have about what he is doing and pretty soon he has you convinced you were the one doing it yourself. so vatch out... sofa1.gif

Course you already knew that.

Rosyroi

Posted by: Artiste Jun 28 2007, 04:41 PM

QUOTE(joyce @ Jun 27 2007, 03:49 PM)

I was wondering if anyone heard this report as I did a couple of weeks ago. One of my fellow church members came to me quite concerned re 3ABN. His sister, who is a strong supporter of 3ABN, had just been at the campmeeting in Illinois. She was asking for prayers and donations for ABN, as they were told (during the times off the air for viewers) that donations were down about 50%, and also that the merger with AF was off. But it must not be a matter that they are ready to report yet to the general public. Just curious.

Can we safely assume that the merger is a thing of the past at this point?

Now two months after the initial announcement, I notice that the "merger news" is shunted off to a back page on the Amazing Facts website, and it can only be found by using the search function on 3abn's site.

****

Posted by: Fran Jun 28 2007, 09:18 PM

QUOTE(Artiste @ Jun 28 2007, 05:41 PM)

Can we safely assume that the merger is a thing of the past at this point?

Now two months after the initial announcement, I notice that the "merger news" is shunted off to a back page on the Amazing Facts website, and it can only be found by using the search function on 3abn's site.
****

I don't believe we can say that the merger is off with 99% assurance as yet.

We have, however, received word that it has been concluded, with a 100% probability that all bad things that have ever happened to Danny Shelton/3ABN, are Bob Pickle and Gailon Joy's fault by default.

These calculations come to us from the Big Six Executive Board, and has been ratified by all the Partners at large.

For clarification, please contact the closest mirror, look in and read your lips say, "That there Bob and Gailon are guilty, by default, so says the Danny Shelton Gang!"

We are sorry to deliver such devastating news, but we know personally that the Great Sherlock Holmes has dropped everything to get Bob and Gail untied and off that railroad before the train arrives! We hear tell that Sherlock's own Son is going to be helping in this travesty.

This should give our hearts Joy and get these boys out of this Pickle they are in!

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jun 28 2007, 09:34 PM

[x] rofl [x] thats [x] sig

QUOTE(Fran @ Jun 28 2007, 11:18 PM)

I don't believe we can say that the merger is off with 99% assurance as yet.

We have, however, received word that it has been concluded, with a 100% probability that all bad things that have ever happened to Danny Shelton/3ABN, are Bob Pickle and Gailon Joy's fault by default.

These calculations come to us from the Big Six Executive Board, and has been ratified by all the Partners at large.

For clarification, please contact the closest mirror, look in and read your lips say, "That there Bob and Gailon are guilty, by default, so says the Danny Shelton Gang!"

We are sorry to deliver such devastating news, but we know personally that the Great Sherlock Holmes has dropped everything to get Bob and Gail untied and off that railroad before the train arrives! We hear tell that Sherlock's own Son is going to be helping in this travesty.

This should give our hearts Joy and get these boys out of this Pickle they are in!

Posted by: Artiste Jun 29 2007, 12:38 AM

Kudos to Pickle and Joy! [x]

****

Posted by: Snoopy Jun 29 2007, 02:53 PM

QUOTE(Fran @ Jun 28 2007, 09:18 PM)

I don't believe we can say that the merger is off with 99% assurance as yet.

We have, however, received word that it has been concluded, with a 100% probability that all bad things that have ever happened to Danny Shelton/3ABN, are Bob Pickle and Gailon Joy's fault by default.

These calculations come to us from the Big Six Executive Board, and has been ratified by all the Partners at large.

For clarification, please contact the closest mirror, look in and read your lips say, "That there Bob and Gailon are guilty, by default, so says the Danny Shelton Gang!"

We are sorry to deliver such devastating news, but we know personally that the Great Sherlock Holmes has dropped everything to get Bob and Gail untied and off that railroad before the train arrives! We hear tell that Sherlock's own Son is going to be helping in this travesty.

This should give our hearts Joy and get these boys out of this Pickle they are in!

'ou are so clever, Fran!!!

....and people say accountants are dull and boring.....go figure.....

Posted by: ex3ABNemployee Jun 29 2007, 08:39 PM

QUOTE(Fran @ Jun 28 2007, 10:18 PM)

I don't believe we can say that the merger is off with 99% assurance as yet.

We have, however, received word that it has been concluded, with a 100% probability that all bad things that have ever happened to Danny Shelton/3ABN, are Bob Pickle and Gailon Joy's fault by default.

These calculations come to us from the Big Six Executive Board, and has been ratified by all the Partners at large.

For clarification, please contact the closest mirror, look in and read your lips say, "That there Bob and Gailon are guilty, by default, so says the Danny Shelton Gang!"

We are sorry to deliver such devastating news, but we know personally that the Great Sherlock Holmes has dropped everything to get Bob and Gail untied and off that railroad before the train arrives! We hear tell that Sherlock's own Son is going to be helping in this travesty.

This should give our hearts Joy and get these boys out of this Pickle they are in!

I love it!

Posted by: Johann Jun 30 2007, 03:22 PM

QUOTE(Fran @ Jun 29 2007, 05:18 AM)

I don't believe we can say that the merger is off with 99% assurance as yet.

We have, however, received word that it has been concluded, with a 100% probability that all bad things that have ever happened to Danny Shelton/3ABN, are Bob Pickle and Gailon Joy's fault by default.

These calculations come to us from the Big Six Executive Board, and has been ratified by all the Partners at large.

For clarification, please contact the closest mirror, look in and read your lips say, "That there Bob and Gailon are guilty, by default, so says the Danny Shelton Gang!"

We are sorry to deliver such devastating news, but we know personally that the Great Sherlock Holmes has dropped everything to get Bob and Gail untied and off that railroad before the train arrives! We hear tell that Sherlock's own Son is going to be helping in this travesty.

This should give our hearts Joy and get these boys out of this Pickle they are in!

Certain indications reveal that Mr. Danny Shelton could be setting up a legal balance sheet where we are all invited to dine with Pickle and Joy.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jun 30 2007, 04:13 PM

QUOTE(Johann @ Jun 30 2007, 03:22 PM)

Certain indications reveal that Mr. Danny Shelton could be setting up a legal balance sheet where we are all invited to dine with Pickle and Joy.

Perhaps it is time to mend broken people, as the song implies.

So, why not begin with a banquet and invite everyone from the General Conference president on down the chain of command? I can almost hear the chef banging the pots and pans in the kitchen now.

Posted by: Fran Jun 30 2007, 04:32 PM

QUOTE(Johann @ Jun 30 2007, 04:22 PM)

Certain indications reveal that Mr. Danny Shelton could be setting up a legal balance sheet where we are all invited to dine with Pickle and Joy.

Maybe that should be that we will be "invited to BE EATTEN" like Pickle and Joy! The "Evil Roaring Lion" has arrived to devour us.

I heard the "Evil Roaring Lion" is seeking whom he may devour and has been dabbling into International Invitations that can not be refused. International Cuisine is said to be so tastey, and will please the Lion, but it will still be hungry. Take care and trust in the True God. He will protect you and Arild from being eaten alive! He will again "SHUT THE LIONS MOUTHS".

All broken people, broken by the "Mending Broken People" messenger, will be broken again by the new and improved "Return unto god" message from the self same appointed anointed one!

IMO, The evil Lion has been identified, and still he roars for yet a little while.

Could it be the Evil Lion desires a "Piece of that Chocolate Cake" that he so fondly speaks of ? ? ? rofl

rofl

****

Johann;

All fun and pun aside, grace and peace be with you both, Johann and Arild, is my sincere prayer. God is drawing His people nearer and nearer to Himself. He will return soon to take us home. It has been so long now. I am getting tired and so want to see that day.

Maranatha ~ So come Lord Jesus!

Posted by: Johann Jun 30 2007, 04:49 PM

QUOTE(Fran @ Jul 1 2007, 12:32 AM)

Maybe that should be that we will be "invited to BE EATTEN" like Pickle and Joy! The "Evil Roaring Lion" has arrived to devour us.

I heard the "Evil Roaring Lion" is seeking whom he may devour and has been dabbling into International Invitations that can not be refused. International Cuisine is said to be so tastey, and will please the Lion, but it will still be hungry. Take care and trust in the True God. He will protect you and Arild from being eaten alive! He will again "SHUT THE LIONS MOUTHS".

All broken people, broken by the "Mending Broken People" messenger, will be broken again by the new and improved "Return unto god" message from the self same appointed anointed one!

IMO, The evil Lion has been identified, and still he roars for yet a little while.

Could it be the Evil Lion desires a "Piece of that Chocolate Cake" that he so fondly speaks of ? ? ? rofl

rofl

****

Johann;

All fun and pun aside, grace and peace be with you Johann and Arild, is my sincere prayer. God is drawing His people nearer and near to Himself. He will return soon to take us home. It has been so long now. I am getting tired and so want to see that day.

Maranatha ~ So come Lord Jesus!

'rayers and dedication are needed as the Lord leads in conquest.

Posted by: ex3ABNemployee Jun 30 2007, 10:36 PM

QUOTE(Johann @ Jun 30 2007, 04:22 PM)

Certain indications reveal that Mr. Danny Shelton could be setting up a legal balance sheet where we are all invited to dine with Pickle and Joy.

've said it before. If I even get a letter, I go to the media.

Posted by: runner4him Yesterday, 05:18 AM

QUOTE(ex3ABNemployee @ Jun 30 2007, 11:36 PM)

I've said it before. If I even get a letter, I go to the media.

'hat is a thought.....how many will think that way if and when the "letter" comes?

Posted by: awesumtenor Yesterday, 01:36 PM

QUOTE(Fran @ Jun 30 2007, 06:32 PM)

I heard the "Evil Roaring Lion" is seeking whom he may devour and has been dabbling into International Invitations that can not be refused.

'he thing to remember is that if you watch the animal shows, you quickly note that the animals are not afraid of lion that roars; they are only afraid of the lion that does not roar. Given the speed deficit between lions and heir prey, they require stealth to hunt successfully... so a roaring lion is a starving lion.

'here be a lesson in that for those with ears to hear...

n His service,
Mr. J

Powered by Invision Power Board (http://www.invisionboard.com)
© Invision Power Services (http://www.invisionpower.com)

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ Mckee Supports 3abn Through Selling Junk Foods, Is That Good?

Posted by: mikell Jun 28 2007, 10:28 AM

What is the definitive definition of the word, "oxymoron?" Would it not be what Mckee named his product?

I just read a label seeing the ingredients to one of Mckee's products - what is, "Titanium Dioxide, Digycerides, " and the sugar being the first ingredient, would not this be "junk foods?" Mckee has his food corporation right off the SDA campus of Southern Missionary College, where many of the students work to help to put themselves through college. It seems, we have here a SDA college manufacturing and distributoring junk foods throughout the U.S. True, SMC is benefiting, and of course, 3ABN; but does the ends justifies the means?

Could not Mckee switch over to health products, foods that are good for the human body, and not to have junk foods? Is it not true that the deaths from obesity is approaching to that of smokers per year? Just think how many lives will be saved if Mckee made his products so much healthier, according to the Seventh day Adventist health message! Just look up this site about the CDC study on obesity: http://www.doctorslounge.com/primary/articles/obesity_death

"In a recent government study, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) estimated that obesity is fast approaching tobacco as the top underlying preventable cause of death in the USA."

Just think of the good national press Mckee will get, if he total overhauled his junk food products to very healthfull ones, and the lives he will save! Is not what the SDA Church it all about, changing lives for the good, starting eating right? Do not I see healthful living programs on 3ABN, or I just could be mistaken?

Posted by: watchbird Jun 28 2007, 10:50 AM

QUOTE(mikell @ Jun 28 2007, 12:28 PM)

What is the definitive definition of the word, "oxymoron?" Would it not be what Mckee named his product?

I just read a label seeing the ingredients to one of Mckee's products - what is, "Titanium Dioxide, Digycerides, " and the sugar being the first ingredient, would not this be "junk foods?" Mckee has his food corporation right off the SDA campus of Southern Missionary College, where many of the students work to help to put themselves through college. It seems, we have here a SDA college manufacturing and distributoring junk foods throughout the U.S. True, SMC is benefiting, and of course, 3ABN; but does the ends justifies the means?

Could not Mckee switch over to health products, foods that are good for the human body, and not to have junk foods? Is it not true that the deaths from obesity is approaching to that of smokers per year? Just think how many lives will be saved if Mckee made his products so much healthier, according to the Seventh day Adventist health message! Just look up this site about the CDC study on obesity: http://www.doctorslounge.com/primary/articles/obesity_death

"In a recent government study, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) estimated that obesity is fast approaching tobacco as the top underlying preventable cause of death in the USA."

Just think of the good national press Mckee will get, if he total overhauled his junk food products to very healthfull ones, and the lives he will save! Is not what the SDA Church it all about, changing lives for the good, starting eating right? Do not I see healthful living programs on 3ABN, or I just could be mistaken?

'ou are correct in noting that it is one of the oxymorons of the century that an SDA family has made their nillions in becoming the #1 snack cake producer in the United States.... and that is done with the full)lessing... and thanks... from various segments of the SDA church.

'ou are not correct, however, when you assume that they could change their product and make "national)ress" for doing so ... or that they could continue with the volume of product, sales, and profits if they were o switch to "healthful" products.

'he facts are, though, that McKee foods does not produce ONLY snack cakes (junk food). They do in fact have healthy foods" divisions... which produce granola products, cereals, etc.

3ut the bulk of their business is still sugar, sugar, sugar... in one form or another. Sad..... sa

---

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jun 28 2007, 11:03 AM

Nothing wrong with junk food if we just don't eat a whole box at a time of those Little Debbies.

They of course could switch over to all health foods, but I suppose all those laid off workers might object

And no lives would be saved if they did so because instead of LD's people would just buy Twinkies or Frito Lays snacks. (Which McKee's also used to produce, and maybe still do). The manufactures are not to blame for obesity, they simply produce what people buy. If everyone switched over to buying all natural sugar free deserts then of course the manufactures would produce them. People are the ones responsible for their own problems.

Richard "former McKeeite" Sherwin

QUOTE(mikell @ Jun 28 2007, 11:28 AM)

What is the definitive definition of the word, "oxymoron?" Would it not be what Mckee named his product?

I just read a label seeing the ingredients to one of Mckee's products – what is, "Titanium Dioxide, Digycerides, " and the sugar being the first ingredient, would not this be "junk foods?" Mckee has his food corporation right off the SDA campus of Southern Missionary College, where many of the students work to help to put themselves through college. It seems, we have here a SDA college manufacturing and distributoring junk foods throughout the U.S. True, SMC is benefiting, and of course, 3ABN; but does the ends justifies the means?

Could not Mckee switch over to health products, foods that are good for the human body, and not to have junk foods? Is it not true that the deaths from obesity is approaching to that of smokers per year? Just think how many lives will be saved if Mckee made his products so much healthier, according to the Seventh day Adventist health message! Just look up this site about the CDC study on obesity: http://www.doctorslounge.com/primary/articles/obesity_death

> "In a recent government study, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) estimated that obesity is fast approaching tobacco as the top underlying preventable cause of death in the USA."

Just think of the good national press Mckee will get, if he total overhauled his junk food products to very healthfull ones, and the lives he will save! Is not what the SDA Church it all about, changing lives for the good, starting eating right? Do not I see healthful living programs on 3ABN, or I just could be mistaken?

Posted by: sdaguy Jun 28 2007, 01:15 PM

QUOTE(Richard Sherwin @ Jun 28 2007, 11:03 AM)

Nothing wrong with junk food if we just don't eat a whole box at a time of those Little Debbies.

They of course could switch over to all health foods, but I suppose all those laid off workers might object

And no lives would be saved if they did so because instead of LD's people would just buy Twinkies or Frito Lays snacks. (Which McKee's also used to produce, and maybe still do). The manufactures are not to blame for obesity, they simply produce what people buy. If everyone switched over to buying all natural sugar free deserts then of course the manufactures would produce them. People are the ones responsible for their own problems.

Richard "former McKeeite" Sherwin

Ha, I am sure the beer companies are not the blame for alcohol related traffic deaths producing their products, of course, "they are simply produce what people buy!" You are right even liquor manufactures are not to blame of alcoholism, just the drinkers are. So, why should they stop producing their multi-million dollar products? Just keep the alcohol flowing! I am sure if the liquor people tell God that at the Judgment time, it would be okay to have kept producing what people wanted, right?
Just maybe, you should start watching 3ABN to learn how to be, "thy brother's keeper."

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jun 28 2007, 01:48 PM

No the beer companies are not the ones causing the deaths. If you think they are then are not also the farmers who sell them the hops responsible? How about the bee keepers who produce honey that mead is made out of? Or the electrical companies who sell the electricity to the beer companies?

So where do you draw the line? Do we expect beer companies to quit making beer, cigarette companies to quit making cigarettes. Burger King to quit making burgers? McKee's to quit making LD's or.....well the list of what is bad for us has no end.

As long as the product is legal it is up to the consumer to use self control in limiting the intake of the products they consume. If I eat too many Big Macs whose fault is that? Mine or Micky D's? If I eat a box of Swiss Rolls every day should I be able to sue McKee Foods when I have a heart attack.

Richard

QUOTE(sdaguy @ Jun 28 2007, 02:15 PM)

Ha, I am sure the beer companies are not the blame for alcohol related traffic deaths producing their products, of course, "they are simply produce what people buy!" You are right even liquor manufactures are not to blame of alcoholism, just the drinkers are. So, why should they stop producing their multi-million dollar products? Just keep the alcohol flowing! I am sure if the liquor people tell God that at the Judgment time, it would be okay to have kept producing what people wanted, right?
Just maybe, you should start watching 3ABN to learn how to be, "thy brother's keeper."

Posted by: Rosyroi Jun 28 2007, 01:52 PM

QUOTE(Richard Sherwin @ Jun 28 2007, 09:03 AM)

Nothing wrong with junk food if we just don't eat a whole box at a time of those Little Debbies.

They of course could switch over to all health foods, but I suppose all those laid off workers might object

And no lives would be saved if they did so because instead of LD's people would just buy Twinkies or Frito Lays snacks. (Which McKee's also used to produce, and maybe still do). The manufactures are not to blame for obesity, they simply produce what people buy. If everyone switched over to buying all natural sugar free deserts then of course the manufactures would produce them. People are the ones responsible for their own problems.

Richard "former McKeeite" Sherwin

What??? You mean that I am not supposed to eat the whole box at one sitting?
Luv them donut sticks. They are great with a good hot cuppa Chocolate, or two or three or...

That must be the reason I feel so jumpy all day!!

Rosyroi

Posted by: mikell Jun 28 2007, 01:55 PM

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jun 28 2007, 10:50 AM)

You are correct in noting that it is one of the oxymorons of the century that an SDA family has made their millions in becoming the #1 snack cake producer in the United States.... and that is done with the full blessing... and thanks... from various segments of the SDA church.

You are not correct, however, when you assume that they could change their product and make "national press" for doing so ... or that they could continue with the volume of product, sales, and profits if they were to switch to "healthful" products.

The facts are, though, that McKee foods does not produce ONLY snack cakes (junk food). They do in fact have "healthy foods" divisions... which produce granola products, cereals, etc.

But the bulk of their business is still sugar, sugar, sugar... in one form or another. Sad.....

WB, I stand corrected. I did not know of their producing healthy snack foods. That is good! It is just sad that their producing the sugar snacks satisfing many Americans' addiction to sugar, is where they get their millions of dollars from, rather then from their healthy snacks.

Plus, I have to confess, I been a diet. Just ten pounds away from my high-school weight, but as I was walking through a store, suddenly bought a box of Little Debbie's chocolate logs and just about I got out to my car they were about gone. I then felt guilty, not just the eating, it was the buying. Does not the money goes to ds?

Also, True, it is the buyer who is responsible for being overweight. McKee sure did not shove those chocolate logs down my throat!

Rosyroi, LOL,

Posted by: Pickle Jun 28 2007, 02:13 PM

While the consumer is responsible for his choices, in God's sight, the liquor dealer is responsible too.

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jun 28 2007, 02:25 PM

Ok I admit to eating a whole box at once, but it hasn't happened in awhile. Not since I have free access to tons of honey to eat (or drink) as much of that I want. Great stuff, right out the hive, in the comb, mouthfuls of it

Richard

> QUOTE(Rosyroi @ Jun 28 2007, 02:52 PM)
>
> What??? You mean that I am not supposed to eat the whole box at one sitting?
> Luv them donut sticks. They are great with a good hot cuppa Chocolate, or two or three or...
> That must be the reason I feel so jumpy all day!!
>
> Rosyroi

How far back to we go though? We have the dealer, the manufacturer, the farmer, the electrical company. All work together to get the liquor into the consumer. Are they all responsible?

Richard

> QUOTE(Pickle @ Jun 28 2007, 03:13 PM)
>
> While the consumer is responsible for his choices, in God's sight, the liquor dealer is responsible too.

Posted by: foofighter Jun 28 2007, 08:13 PM

If I'm not mistaken, Little Debbie sponsors a NASCAR car (not sure which one) and they have to cover up the logo during sabbath hours. Seems odd since you can buy them 24/7 all over the country. Seems just a tad hypocritical. You can buy our products on sabbath, but you can't look at our logo?

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jun 28 2007, 08:51 PM

Big difference. They sell their products to independent distributors who can sell them to whoever to sell them whenever. However when they sponsor the Ken Schrader Little Debbie car that is a direct sponsorship. They have no control once they've sold the product.

I once owned a manufacturing business. We displayed our products at trade shows but we never had our booth open on Sabbath, nor did we ever have our outlet store open during Sabbath hours. However if Home Depot wanted to sell our product on Sabbath that was up to them. They had bought it from us and it was no longer under our control.

As far as I know this is pretty much how all SDA's do business and it's within the Biblical guidelines for Sabbath observance.

Richard

QUOTE(foofighter @ Jun 28 2007, 09:13 PM)

If I'm not mistaken, Little Debbie sponsors a NASCAR car (not sure which one) and they have to cover up the logo during sabbath hours. Seems odd since you can buy them 24/7 all over the country. Seems just a tad hypocritical. You can buy our products on sabbath, but you can't look at our logo?

Posted by: princessdi Jun 28 2007, 09:00 PM

This is all very educational, however, did I miss something where does the "....to support 3ABN...." come into play?

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jun 28 2007, 09:30 PM

Well I suppose we could start a Little Debbie boycott. (BTW Debbie McKee got married for the first time two or three months ago. She's old, my age) I really doubt a $1.29 box of Oatmeal Cream Pies contributes much to 3abn, but it does support workers in a low wage area of the country.

If Elsworth McKee wants to support 3abn that is his business. (He has the right to be wrong) However I have to wonder how much he is even aware of the goings on at 3abn. Is he a board member in name only or is he an active player in what goes on there?

Yes he produces junk food and 3abn is for healthy living. I don't see a Little Debbie and a healthy lifestyle at odds if the LD's are eaten in moderation. Now if there was a show on not eating sugar on 3abn and it said "brought to you by Little Debbie junk foods" then that would be a bit....strange.

Every company I suppose supports something that someone somewhere is opposed to.

Richard

QUOTE(princessdi @ Jun 28 2007, 11:00 PM)

This is all very educational, however, did I miss something where does the "....to support 3ABN...." come into play?

Posted by: foofighter Jun 28 2007, 10:11 PM

> QUOTE(Richard Sherwin @ Jun 28 2007, 09:51 PM) ☐
>
> Big difference. They sell their products to independent distributors who can sell them to whoever to sell them whenever. However when they sponsor the Ken Schrader Little Debbie car that is a direct sponsorship. They have no control once they've sold the product.
>
> I once owned a manufacturing business. We displayed our products at trade shows but we never had our booth open on Sabbath, nor did we ever have our outlet store open during Sabbath hours. However if Home Depot wanted to sell our product on Sabbath that was up to them. They had bought it from us and it was no longer under our control.
>
> As far as I know this is pretty much how all SDA's do business and it's within the Biblical guidelines for Sabbath observance.
>
> Richard

Yes, I'm sure all the legalities have been worked out, I'm just curious about the Biblical guidlines for having a logo on a racecar during Sabbath. No sabbath-keepers are working. Is the logo working? I'm sure there are reasons, but still seems kind of silly. Smacks a little bit of "look at what good sabbath keepers we are". I know I'm a former, but even if was I still SDA this would seem a bit ridiculous.

Posted by: Pickle Jun 29 2007, 02:17 AM

> QUOTE(Richard Sherwin @ Jun 28 2007, 03:25 PM) ☐
>
> How far back to we go though? We have the dealer, the manufacturer, the farmer, the electrical company. All work together to get the liquor into the consumer. Are they all responsible?

We should probably go back as far as God has said we should. That's always safe.

Thus the liquor seller is responsible and Adventist farmers should quit growing hops. Why? Because God said so (by His Spirit through the prophet), that's why.

"I cannot see how, in the light of the law of God, Christians can conscientiously engage in the raising of hops or in the manufacture of wine or cider for the market" (CD 432, 433).

Posted by: Pickle Jun 29 2007, 02:38 AM

Regarding Sabbath keeping, the rule in the 4th is that our manservant and maidservant or stranger within our gates is not to work either. So the question is whether I have hired the person or not, whether they are doing work at my bidding and under my control or not, and whether they are on my turf or not.

Interesting that while the 4th prohibits us having our son or daughter work for us either on Sabbath, it doesn't include "husband" or "wife," which seems to acknowledge that each spouse is autonomous, and must decide for themselves rather than merely following the dictates of the other.

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jun 29 2007, 06:21 AM

In watching the McKee family, OD and his kids on down, they were very careful not to compromise with the Sabbath.

It's not seeing the logo that would be the problem it's that they were paying for that advertising to be run on the Sabbath. You will never see their TV ads on the Sabbath either. It's where they draw the line and I admire them for it. They have put their principles above their profits.

All Sabbath keepers have to decide where that line is in their own lives. It is between them and God.

Pickle that was a interesting take on the 4th commandment. I never thought about the wife working on the Sabbath. It's kind of interesting right now because my wife has a online class that is going to meet on Friday evening and she is trying to decide what to do. I've told her that is her decision. We are told to do good on the Sabbath, does that include learning to do good? Rhetorical question I know. We each have our line....

Richard

QUOTE(foofighter @ Jun 28 2007, 11:11 PM)

Yes, I'm sure all the legalities have been worked out, I'm just curious about the Biblical guidlines for having a logo on a racecar during Sabbath. No sabbath-keepers are working. Is the logo working? I'm sure there are reasons, but still seems kind of silly. Smacks a little bit of "look at what good sabbath keepers we are". I know I'm a former, but even if was I still SDA this would seem a bit ridiculous.

Posted by: Pickle Jun 29 2007, 07:36 AM

QUOTE(Richard Sherwin @ Jun 29 2007, 07:21 AM)

In watching the Pickle that was a interesting take on the 4th commandment. I never thought about the wife working on the Sabbath. It's kind of interesting right now because my wife has a online class that is going to meet on Friday evening and she is trying to decide what to do. I've told her that is her decision. We are told to do good on the Sabbath, does that include learning to do good? Rhetorical question I know. We each have our line....

The rule God has given us is in Is. 58:13. But we need to recognize our incredible ability to rationalize and turn almost anything into God's pleasure and God's work when it really is our own.

If it's an online Bible study class or Sabbath School class, not a problem, but if it's an online accounting class, the answer is obvious. "Except your righteousness exceed that of" some of the folks we have been talking about who preach one thing and do another, "ye shall not enter the kingdom of God."

All too soon we shall be called to choose between obeying God and laying down our lives, and if we can't run with the footmen now, how shall we contend with the horses (Jer. 12:5)?

Posted by: watchbird Jun 29 2007, 07:43 AM

QUOTE(Richard Sherwin @ Jun 29 2007, 08:21 AM)

In watching the McKee family, OD and his kids on down, they were very careful not to compromise with the Sabbath.

It's not seeing the logo that would be the problem it's that they were paying for that advertising to be run on the Sabbath. You will never see their TV ads on the Sabbath either. It's where they draw the line and I admire them for it. They have put their principles above their profits.
Richard

Hmmm.... does that mean that they run out and cover all the billboards where they have placed ads? Somehow there is "something wrong with this picture"...

But maybe that's just me..... angel.gi .....

Posted by: pmorris68 Jun 29 2007, 08:48 AM

For the record...The school's name is not Southern Missionary College. It's Southern Adventist University.

We all will see Jesus for ourselves. We will all have to given an account for our behavior. God will take care of this in the end.

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jun 29 2007, 02:55 PM

I'm not sure I've ever seen a Little Debbie bill board. In any case it's their company and they of course can do that which they wish. The car they can have control over. My guess is that with billboards they have no control over.. Their company, their business how they want to run it. Kind of like Danny and 3abn

Richard

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jun 29 2007, 08:43 AM)

Hmmm.... does that mean that they run out and cover all the billboards where they have placed ads? Somehow there is "something wrong with this picture"...

But maybe that's just me..... angel.gi .....

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jun 29 2007, 05:19 PM

Nope not accounting. It's learning how to care for animals in a animal hospital setting. I suppose this is one of those gray areas eh? Gray that is except for those who have a opinion I still have no idea what she has decided.

Richard

QUOTE(Pickle @ Jun 29 2007, 08:36 AM)

The rule God has given us is in Is. 58:13. But we need to recognize our incredible ability to rationalize and turn almost anything into God's pleasure and God's work when it really is our own.

If it's an online Bible study class or Sabbath School class, not a problem, but if it's an online accounting class, the answer is obvious. "Except your righteousness exceed that of" some of the folks we have been talking about who preach one thing and do another, "ye shall not enter the kingdom of God."

All too soon we shall be called to choose between obeying God and laying down our lives, and if we can't run with the footmen now, how shall we contend with the horses (Jer. 12:5)?

Posted by: Reflection Jun 29 2007, 08:32 PM

QUOTE(Richard Sherwin @ Jun 29 2007, 05:19 PM)

Nope not accounting. It's learning how to care for animals in a animal hospital setting. I suppose this is one of those gray areas eh? Gray that is except for those who have a opinion I still have no idea what she has decided.

Richard

Richard: I'd be happy to communicate with your wife about this. If you send me a message, I can send you my regular email address. I've taken online classes and also have an M.Ed from a distance ed program that required two week residencies that included Sabbath. Just a quick overview of how I dealt with this:

Each situation is totally different. For example, the residencies had an opening meeting on Friday evenings. Depending on the time of year, it may have been Sabbath or not. Since I had attended them on Fridays before the winter early Sabbaths, I knew that it wasn't really essential. Because of this, I requested to be excused based on my religious beliefs and the program director did not hesitate to honor that request. There were no negative repurcussions. There were some workshops that were held on Sabbath, but I was excused from those also. I did all the work, but not on Sabbath.

I did support my fellow students on Sabbath afternoons when they did their thesis presentations, and I prayed that the graduation would not be held on Sabbath, and the Lord worked that out.

My online classes were not real time, so I could check in whenever I wanted. Even though I did not do the work on Sabbath, I still went to the discussion board to respond to classmates. Since my program is special education, there are many topics that come up that are definitely Sabbath worthy.

Perhaps the real time classes can be taped. Or perhaps some of the classes are "Sabbath worthy." Perhaps some classes can be postponed to a semester that provides another time option.

Anyway, just a top of my head response from an exhausted student. Let me know if she'd like to bounce ideas around.

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jun 29 2007, 08:53 PM

I like your term "Sabbath worthy". Thats how she finally made up her mind tonight. This is a class about animal care in the clinic and there is not much more worthy topic than the care of God's creatures IMO. She's taking it. It's not like it's for college credit or anything just a friendly class her vet/boss wanted her to take.

When she was working on her masters she rarely ever had Sabbath problems and the few times she did the professors were very accommodating.

I appreciate your time and input. You post reminded me of the song by The Heralds that has the line "your so heavenly minded you're no earthly good". We have to be practical in our Sabbath keeping, your post reflects that.

Richard

QUOTE(Reflection @ Jun 29 2007, 09:32 PM)

Richard: I'd be happy to communicate with your wife about this. If you send me a message, I can send you my regular email address. I've taken online classes and also have an M.Ed from a distance ed program that required two week residencies that included Sabbath. Just a quick overview of how I dealt with this:

Each situation is totally different. For example, the residencies had an opening meeting on Friday evenings. Depending on the time of year, it may have been Sabbath or not. Since I had attended them on Fridays before the winter early Sabbaths, I knew that it wasn't really essential. Because of this, I requested to be excused based on my religious beliefs and the program director did not hesitate to honor that request. There were no negative repurcussions. There were some workshops that were held on Sabbath, but I was excused from those also. I did all the work, but not on Sabbath.

I did support my fellow students on Sabbath afternoons when they did their thesis presentations, and I prayed that the graduation would not be held on Sabbath, and the Lord worked that out.

My online classes were not real time, so I could check in whenever I wanted. Even though I did not do the work on Sabbath, I still went to the discussion board to respond to classmates. Since my program is special education, there are many topics that come up that are definitely Sabbath worthy.

Perhaps the real time classes can be taped. Or perhaps some of the classes are "Sabbath worthy." Perhaps some classes can be postponed to a semester that provides another time option.

Anyway, just a top of my head response from an exhausted student. Let me know if she'd like to bounce ideas around.

Posted by: Observer Jun 30 2007, 06:41 AM

QUOTE(Pickle @ Jun 29 2007, 07:36 AM)

The rule God has given us is in Is. 58:13. But we need to recognize our incredible ability to rationalize and turn almost anything into God's pleasure and God's work when it really is our own.

If it's an online Bible study class or Sabbath School class, not a problem, but if it's an online accounting class, the answer is obvious. "Except your righteousness exceed that of" some of the folks we have been talking about who preach one thing and do another, "ye shall not enter the kingdom of God."

All too soon we shall be called to choose between obeying God and laying down our lives, and if we can't run with the footmen now, how shall we contend with the horses (Jer. 12:5)?

I will make some general comments that have come to my minnd as I have read what has been posted.

1) The issues of Sabbath observance is one that God has not spelled out in great detail. In many aspects

God expects the individual to deal with the issues, and to make decisions based in part on their individual spiritual maturity. In any cse, our spiritual life shoudl be a life of growth. Where we are spitiually today should not be where we are tomorrow.

2) It is clear to me that the issue is whether or not the work is acceptable to do on the Sabbath, and not who is doing the work. The Sabbath Commandment tells us not to hire someone to do work on the Sabbath that we cannot do ourselves. If it is right to be done on the Sabbath, it is right for me to do it.

3) The issue is not, in my thinking, whether or not I am paid for the work I do on the Sabbath. If it is right for me to do it on the Sabbath, it is right for me to be compensated for doing such.

NOTE: The story is told of a health-care institution that once decided not to bill people for care provided on the Sabbath. The community soon figured this out, and immediately everyone wanted to make appointments for care on the Sabbath. The Sabbath soon became the day with the greatest workload of any day.

4) A fundamental issue for me is how one takes ancient Biblical texts and applies them to the 21st Cent.

Example: Is running an electrical generating plant an essential, life-saving service? If so, what about the Sabbath. I could also mention water treatment plants, and much more.

5) Comments: We may, as humans, rationalize our actions. Yet, I often think that we can go to the other extreme. Let me give some examples of which I am personally aware:

a) A SDA Church decides to have a "nature walk" in a State park that has been left in its natural state. It formally requests that the park assign a Ranger to lead the walk on the Sabbath afternoon. The park assigns that task to a SDA member of that congregation. The congregation attempts to discipline him for working on the Sabbath.

b) In the above case, the members are advised to park on the road leading to the park entrance, so that they will not have to pay the fee on the Sabbath. They do so, and effectively block traffic as the road is narrow.

c) In another country, the daughter of my Army Commander is injured in an automobile accident on a Friday night. The local paramedic who saves her life is a SDA. The Conference President hears about it, and attempts to discipline him for working on the Sabbath becasue: 1) A non-SDA could have worked that night, 2) He was not a physician, who could have worked. He was only a paramedic.

d) At campmeetings, people exchange "script" for milk (and other such) on the Sabbath. But, they are not allowed to exchange money for the same. The camp store is open on the Sabbath, but only for peple who have previously purchased script. Yes, it might be stated that they are not actually purchsing the milk and other such on the Sabbath. They are only taking possession on the Sabbath of the item that they already own. No. That does not fly. When they previously purchased the script, their name was not placed on an individual carton of milk. They are not picking up a previously identified jug of milk. The are simply entering into the business transaction of purchasing the jug of milk, on the Sabbath for script, instead of money.

I could go on, but I will quite now.

By the way; for those who would like geater detail in spelling out what one can and cannot do on the Sabbath, I would suggest that you review the books that have been written for Jewish people that do noting mroe than tell them what they can and cannot do on the Sabbath. They are extensive.

6) One last comment: My written qualifying examinations for my graduate work in psychology was scheduled for a Sabbath. Everyone was expected to take them on that day. I simply asked to be scheduled for another day. My request was immediately granted.

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jun 30 2007, 12:58 PM

That script thing has always amused me. You are simply exchanging US currency for Adventist currency.

I remember years ago an advice column in the Review where it was suggested that for long Sabbath trips it was wrong to pay for fuel with cash but a credit card was ok. Huh?

The state park thing. I wonder how the park felt about a church cheating them out of the entrance fee? I've known people who will drive hours just to buy a entrance ticket, just so they wouldn't have to spend money on the Sabbath. And we say the Pharisee's were bad? I wonder how God feel about us wasting our money like that?

I've come to the conclusion that it's not the spending of the money on the Sabbath, but what you spend it on.

In any case personally I'm a very strong believer in the Sabbath, just as much as I am in not committing murder. I'm just glad that God leaves it up to us to decide how we keep it Holy. We as individuals can keep it however we wish, but should not impose those rules on others.

Richard

QUOTE(Observer @ Jun 30 2007, 08:41 AM)

I will make some general comments that have come to my minnd as I have read what has been posted.

1) The issues of Sabbath observance is one that God has not spelled out in great detail. In many aspects God expects the individual to deal with the issues, and to make decisions based in part on their individual spiritual maturity. In any cse, our spiritual life shoudl be a life of growth. Where we are spitiually today should not be where we are tomorrow.

2) It is clear to me that the issue is whether or not the work is acceptable to do on the Sabbath, and not who is doing the work. The Sabbath Commandment tells us not to hire someone to do work on the Sabbath that we cannot do ourselves. If it is right to be done on the Sabbath, it is right for me to do it.

3) The issue is not, in my thinking, whether or not I am paid for the work I do on the Sabbath. If it is right for me to do it on the Sabbath, it is right for me to be compensated for doing such.

NOTE: The story is told of a health-care institution that once decided not to bill people for care provided on the Sabbath. The community soon figured this out, and immediately everyone wanted to make appointments for care on the Sabbath. The Sabbath soon became the day with the greatest workload of any day.

4) A fundamental issue for me is how one takes ancient Biblical texts and applies them to the 21st Cent.

Example: Is running an electrical generating plant an essential, life-saving service? If so, what about the Sabbath. I could also mention water treatment plants, and much more.

5) Comments: We may, as humans, rationalize our actions. Yet, I often think that we can go to the other extreme. Let me give some examples of which I am personally aware:

a) A SDA Church decides to have a "nature walk" in a State park that has been left in its natural state. It formally requests that the park assign a Ranger to lead the walk on the Sabbath afternoon. The park assigns that task to a SDA member of that congregation. The congregation attempts to discipline him for working on the Sabbath.

In the above case, the members are advised to park on the road leading to the park entrance, so that they will not have to pay the fee on the Sabbath. They do so, and effectively block traffic as the road is narrow.

c) In another country, the daughter of my Army Commander is injured in an automobile accident on a Friday night. The local paramedic who saves her life is a SDA. The Conference President hears about it, and attempts to discipline him for working on the Sabbath becasue: 1) A non-SDA could have worked that night, 2) He was not a physician, who could have worked. He was only a paramedic.

d) At campmeetings, people exchange "script" for milk (and other such) on the Sabbath. But, they are not allowed to exchange money for the same. The camp store is open on the Sabbath, but only for peple who have previously purchased script. Yes, it might be stated that they are not actually purchsing the milk and other such on the Sabbath. They are only taking possession on the Sabbath of the item that they already own. No. That does not fly. When they previously purchased the script, their name was not placed on an individual carton of milk. They are not picking up a previously identified jug of milk. The are simply entering into the business transaction of purchasing the jug of milk, on the Sabbath for script, instead of money.

I could go on, but I will quite now.

By the way; for those who would like geater detail in spelling out what one can and cannot do on the Sabbath, I would suggest that you review the books that have been written for Jewish people that do noting mroe than tell them what they can and cannot do on the Sabbath. They are extensive.

6) One last comment: My written qualifying examinations for my graduate work in psychology was scheduled for a Sabbath. Everyone was expected to take them on that day. I simply asked to be scheduled for another day. My request was immediately granted.

Posted by: Johann Jun 30 2007, 01:56 PM

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jun 28 2007, 06:50 PM)

The facts are, though, that McKee foods does not produce ONLY snack cakes (junk food). They do in fact have "healthy foods" divisions... which produce granola products, cereals, etc.

But the bulk of their business is still sugar, sugar, sugar... in one form or another. Sad.....

t was not until I had read this that I checked to see where my granola, bought in a local grocery store here n Iceland, was made. It says "Heartland Brands, Collegedale, TN." It is some of the sweetest granola that I ıave ever tasted, containing both evaporated cane juice, syrup, and molasses, so I had decided to get ınother brand next time, containing less sweeteners.

Posted by: runner4him Jun 30 2007, 05:51 PM

QUOTE(Johann @ Jun 30 2007, 02:56 PM)

It was not until I had read this that I checked to see where my granola, bought in a local grocery store here in Iceland, was made. It says "Heartland Brands, Collegedale, TN." It is some of the sweetest granola that I have ever tasted, containing both evaporated cane juice, syrup, and molasses, so I had decided to get another brand next time, containing less sweeteners.

have an easy, delicious, crunchy, no refined sugar or honey or molasses granola to knock your socks off. 'ou mix it up and stick it in the oven bake it or leave it overnight on the lowest oven setting and it is done in he morning.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jun 30 2007, 09:59 PM

> QUOTE(Richard Sherwin @ Jun 28 2007, 02:48 PM)
>
> No the beer companies are not the ones causing the deaths. If you think they are then are not also the farmers who sell them the hops responsible? How about the bee keepers who produce honey that mead is made out of? Or the electrical companies who sell the electricity to the beer companies?
>
> So where do you draw the line? Do we expect beer companies to quit making beer, cigarette companies to quit making cigarettes. Burger King to quit making burgers? McKee's to quit making LD's or.....well the list of what is bad for us has no end.
>
> As long as the product is legal it is up to the consumer to use self control in limiting the intake of the products they consume. If I eat too many Big Macs whose fault is that? Mine or Micky D's? If I eat a box of Swiss Rolls every day should I be able to sue McKee Foods when I have a heart attack.

Where does responsibility start/stop? SDA's and other "legalists" will chain responsibility far and wide. I can make a chain that can assign blame for just about anything to anyone on this board with just enough information about their job or position. It stops with your hands and your body. That's MHO.

> QUOTE(foofighter @ Jun 28 2007, 09:13 PM)
>
> If I'm not mistaken, Little Debbie sponsors a NASCAR car (not sure which one) and they have to cover up the logo during sabbath hours. Seems odd since you can buy them 24/7 all over the country. Seems just a tad hypocritical. You can buy our products on sabbath, but you can't look at our logo?

That's a hot mess on toast. Just like the latter I read about script. Andrews University will not allow you to pay "cash" for your food in the Cafe' - but you can "charge it to your account" or use a credit card. That's so petty and legalist. I won't even go in the Cafe' on Sabbath due to this legalism rhetoric!

sna

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jun 30 2007, 11:34 PM

Yup, our bees pollinate blueberries used for blueberry wine so I'm responsible for a drunk killing someone.

Taking a credit card but not cash? Can we spell Pharisee?

Richard

> QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jun 30 2007, 11:59 PM)
>
> Where does responsibility start/stop? SDA's and other "legalists" will chain responsibility far and wide. I can make a chain that can assign blame for just about anything to anyone on this board with just enough information about their job or position. It stops with your hands and your body. That's MHO.
> That's a hot mess on toast. Just like the latter I read about script. Andrews University will not allow you to pay "cash" for your food in the Cafe' - but you can "charge it to your account" or use a credit card. That's so petty and legalist. I won't even go in the Cafe' on Sabbath due to this legalism rhetoric!

sna

Posted by: Skyhook Jun 30 2007, 11:56 PM

QUOTE(Richard Sherwin @ Jul 1 2007, 12:34 AM)

Yup, our bees pollinate blueberries used for blueberry wine so I'm responsible for a drunk killing someone.

Taking a credit card but not cash? Can we spell Pharisee?

Richard

Richard, was it the drunk that knocks over your hives? rofl

Posted by: beartrap Yesterday, 12:04 AM

Good grief! Mckee Bakeries sells what they sell, and do their advertising. If Hugh Heffner offered to provide funds to alleviate the suffering of orphans in Romania would we say that he was scum, and that the orphanages should not accept his donation? They would take the donation, as they should!!!!!

Anyone who wishes to fund something should be able to do so. At the same time, anyone who wishes to boycott individual advertisers should be able to do so at will. that is the nature of a free market society.

Posted by: Clay Yesterday, 06:26 AM

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jul 1 2007, 01:04 AM)

Good grief! Mckee Bakeries sells what they sell, and do their advertising. If Hugh Heffner offered to provide funds to alleviate the suffering of orphans in Romania would we say that he was scum, and that the orphanages should not accept his donation? They would take the donation, as they should!!!!!

Anyone who wishes to fund something should be able to do so. At the same time, anyone who wishes to boycott individual advertisers should be able to do so at will. that is the nature of a free market society.

yep..... and I rather like those Oatmeal Cream Pies.... don't eat alot of them, but I do like them....

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Yesterday, 11:13 AM

Them's my weakness for sure. Them and Swiss Rolls.

Certainly I've got better things to do today than talk about Little Debbies.....

Richard

QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 1 2007, 07:26 AM)

yep..... and I rather like those Oatmeal Cream Pies.... don't eat alot of them, but I do like them....

Powered by Invision Power Board (http://www.invisionboard.com)
© Invision Power Services (http://www.invisionpower.com)

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ King David

Posted by: mikemike Jun 30 2007, 03:58 AM

I was thinking about how King David would fair with this group. Would you set-up a site called saveHebrewkings.com? Would you say that King David had to quit due to his sins? Well if you would not do it to him then why?

Posted by: daylily Jun 30 2007, 04:32 AM

When Nathan came to him and confronted him, he said "I have sinned". He didn't mealy-mouth around and say, "Everybody makes mistakes, I'm human. I've made mistakes, there are things I would have done differently", etc.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jun 30 2007, 04:50 AM

QUOTE(mikemike @ Jun 30 2007, 03:58 AM)

I was thinking about how King David would fair with this group. Would you set-up a site called saveHebrewkings.com? Would you say that King David had to quit due to his sins? Well if you would not do it to him then why?

Well, if King David took my wife, Bathsheba, and had me killed, how David would fair with me is something I wouldn't have to really think about, now would I?

David, a man of war, was not to build the First Temple. That task was given to his son Solomon, although David drew up the plans.

If I follow your analogy I have to acknowledge that someone other than King David came along to do the building.

I also have to note that David showed contrition and repentence as daylily has mentioned.

Posted by: Clay Jun 30 2007, 05:51 AM

QUOTE(mikemike @ Jun 30 2007, 04:58 AM)

I was thinking about how King David would fair with this group. Would you set-up a site called saveHebrewkings.com? Would you say that King David had to quit due to his sins? Well if you would not do it to him then why?

since it seems as though the question begs a stroll into the twilight zone let's ask this question, "How would Danny Shelton and 3abn fair if Ellen White were alive?" or, "How would Danny Shelton and 3abn fair if Jesus strolled by for a visit?"

Let's imagine that conversation:

Danny: welcome to the 3abn complex Jesus, glad you came!

Jesus: thanks for having me. Where's your wife?

Danny: ummmmm.....

then maybe the sound of crickets would be heard?

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jun 30 2007, 05:55 AM

Yup if he refused to repent I bet we would have. And would that have been a bad thing? Would it have achieved results like this and other sites appear to have? (After all the plane is supposedly gone)

Daylily and Panama Pete excelent answers. Enjoyed them both.

Richard

> QUOTE(mikemike @ Jun 30 2007, 05:58 AM)
>
> I was thinking about how King David would fair with this group. Would you set-up a site called saveHebrewkings.com? Would you say that King David had to quit due to his sins? Well if you would not do it to him then why?

Posted by: Observer Jun 30 2007, 06:03 AM

> QUOTE(mikemike @ Jun 30 2007, 03:58 AM)
>
> I was thinking about how King David would fair with this group. Would you set-up a site called saveHebrewkings.com? Would you say that King David had to quit due to his sins? Well if you would not do it to him then why?

King David was the king, the civil leader of Israel. He was not the High Priest, or spiritual leader.

The standards for a person who is a spiritual leader should be higher than the standards for someone who is a civil leader.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jun 30 2007, 06:43 AM

QUOTE(mikemike @ Jun 30 2007, 02:58 AM)

I was thinking about how King David would fair with this group. Would you set-up a site called saveHebrewkings.com? Would you say that King David had to quit due to his sins? Well if you would not do it to him then why?

Most of us would rejoice that King David listened to the wise counsel of his Nathan and had set the example for the rest of us.

Perhaps a more realistic hypothetical would be, how would someone like Kellogg fair with this group. Calvin, in his wisdom, would likely allow a Sanitarium Forum and, yes, we'd probably have a site called savebattlecreek.com.

Simply because some have likened Danny to King David doesn't make it so. I just wonder what Naomi and Ruth would think about that comparison?

Posted by: Seraphim7 Jun 30 2007, 07:01 AM

QUOTE(mikemike @ Jun 30 2007, 06:58 AM)

I was thinking about how King David would fair with this group. Would you set-up a site called saveHebrewkings.com? Would you say that King David had to quit due to his sins? Well if you would not do it to him then why?

Let me make this very clear... Danny Shelton is not a type of Christ, by any stretch of the imagination, yet he did try to pull what Adam did. Danny blamed GOD by saying, before a world wide audience, it is the fault of the woman "you gave me" Lord. BIG difference. He did not man up after it was clear to everyone that he was wrong. Danny did, and continues to, pass the buck.

Also, unlike David, Danny, without ANY true remorse, put his business out in the street then attempted, after putting it before the people, to present his foolish behavior as upright, above reproach and acceptable by biblical standards, rather than what it was. Something one needs wading boots to get through as they try to comprehend it. In other words God is not only to blame but, seeing that He is to blame, God has sanctioned the current relationship Danny is in.

And finally, not one person on BSDA who sees this for what it is, has done any more than ask Danny to be the upstanding man of God, he claims to be, and speak the truth, as openly as he spoke the lies, rather than continue to attempt to cover up his obvious mess. Nope, nobody here is going be made his scape goat either.

Danny has more drama going on than Madea, due to his own PUBLIC behavior, not due to anything anyone here has said or done.

Posted by: LaurenceD Jun 30 2007, 07:39 AM

The word "save" implies something or someone is lost, or appears to be lost--according to the saver's impression anyway. When Jesus said, "The Son of Man came to seek and to save what was lost," lost included sinners, money collectors, adulterers, or anyone who was spiritually blind or deaf.

Jesus wept over the loss of his own people because they refused to comprehend the light. God tries to save anyone that is lost, or appears to be lost (anyone who acknowledges it anyway). So I wouldn't question someone who is trying to save 3abn. They do appear to be losing more than just money.

Posted by: mikell Jun 30 2007, 08:49 AM

The responses here on bsda are so RIGHT ON, such as Seraphim7. I thank God, for seeing HIS PEOPLE here on bsda are calling SIN, SIN! Ds is an Achan among us, and how long did he last?

For those who find it good to defend such corruption may not be a good thing to do. It appears that ds is living in open sin, but I might be mistaken. Did not ds do what Jesus warned about in Mt 19:9 not to do? "Anyone who divorces his wife, except for adultery, and marries another woman commits adultery." Therefore, can we see that ds is living in open sin? Just a question.

Did not John the Baptist rebuke King Herod for taking another man's wife? Is it possible we have here the same kind of a thing, when it appears that ds may have lusted after another much younger woman to soon after replace his wife, Linda with? Just asking,

---

Posted by: ex3ABNemployee Jun 30 2007, 09:30 AM

QUOTE(Seraphim7 @ Jun 30 2007, 07:01 AM)

Let me make this very clear... Danny Shelton is not a type of Christ, by any stretch of the imagination, yet he did try to pull what Adam did. Danny blamed GOD by saying, before a world wide audience, it is the fault of the woman "you gave me" Lord. BIG difference. He did not man up after it was clear to everyone that he was wrong. Danny did, and continues to, pass the buck.

Also, unlike David, Danny, without ANY true remorse, put his business out in the street then attempted, after putting it before the people, to present his foolish behavior as upright, above reproach and acceptable by biblical standards, rather than what it was. Something one needs wading boots to get through as they try to comprehend it. In other words God is not only to blame but, seeing that He is to blame, God has sanctioned the current relationship Danny is in.

And finally, not one person on BSDA who sees this for what it is, has done any more than ask Danny to be the upstanding man of God, he claims to be, and speak the truth, as openly as he spoke the lies, rather than continue to attempt to cover up his obvious mess. Nope, nobody here is going be made his scape goat either.

Danny has more drama going on than Madea, due to his own PUBLIC behavior, not due to anything anyone here has said or done.

wow.gif

sig

'hank you, thank you, thank you! That post is right on the mark.

Posted by: Treniece Jun 30 2007, 05:56 PM

I wonder what does Danny's present wife think about his previous marriage. She is so new in the s.d.a. faith.

Should we liken him to King David. Those making negative comments about him would rather him to be liken as King Saul.

Posted by: Fran Jun 30 2007, 06:46 PM

QUOTE(Treniece @ Jun 30 2007, 06:56 PM)

I wonder what does Danny's present wife think about his previous marriage. She is so new in the s.d.a. faith.

Should we liken him to King David. Those making negative comments about him would rather him to be liken as King Saul.

'hat DS is identified with any king is beyond me! He is not and never will be a King!

\t the current time, he is not following the True God's will for sure, so we can not think of him as a church eader. He is not.

)anny complained that Joy and Pickle should have come to him as a brother. Pickle and Joy followed the ;criptures to the letter. They did their part as commanded in Matthew. Now Danny is currently suing his)rother. He did NOT follow the advice in Matthew that he had previously demanded from Pickle and Joy? No, ıe did not!

ıe is definitely NOT the anointed one. He is NOT God. He is NOT a king of anything. He has lost control and is)ut for blood, IMO.

n fact, IMO, this is much like a spoiled brat battling to get his own way. He is sore because someone has :hallenged his authority.

So should we liken him to David? NO
Should we liken him to Saul? NO
What should he be compared to in my opinion? The roaring lion seeking whom he may devour!

Posted by: beartrap Jun 30 2007, 11:49 PM

QUOTE(mikemike @ Jun 30 2007, 01:58 AM)

I was thinking about how King David would fair with this group. Would you set-up a site called saveHebrewkings.com? Would you say that King David had to quit due to his sins? Well if you would not do it to him then why?

Hey Mike, seems that so many people like Vernon Howell, and others, want to be "David" to us.

Powered by Invision Power Board (http://www.invisionboard.com)
© Invision Power Services (http://www.invisionpower.com)

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ THE LAWSUIT CASE HAS BEEN UNIMPOUNDED

Posted by: sonshineonme Jun 21 2007, 07:36 PM

UPDATE - THE LAWSUIT CASE HAS BEEN UNIMPOUNDED

Received this email announcement just now I will add the 3 attachments after this comment:

In the matter of 3ABN & Danny Lee Shelton, Individually -vs- Gailon Arthur Joy and Robert Pickle:

Judge Saylor Vacated the Temporary Impoundment and all docs will be be available on Pacer as soon as the cleark gets them into the system. There were no restrictions outside the current Fed Rules of Civil Procedure and the Local Rules of US District Court of Massachusetts.

For those who wonder why it took so much time, in summary the case was served on May 1, 2007 (Drafted April 1)with an Ex Parte Motion for Temporary Impoundment. They had 30 days to prepare their motion. We had 10 days to respond and Laird Heal did a response worthy of an Appellate Brief for delivery to the Bench and Counsel for May 10 Haering on the Ex Parte Motion. Oral arguments were about 45 minutes and Counsel for Plaintiffs requested 2 weeks to do a supplemental response to the Lairds Brief. The Bench granted two weeks and then granted to Laird Heal two additional weeks to file a supplemental brief to Plaintiffs supplemental response and scheduled a a status conference for June 21, 2007.

Frankly, they caught us completely by surprise as we had expected and been prepared for an Ex parte to try and shut down the Save3ABN.com Web Pages. The Impoundment request just never entered our thinking. Therefore, I must commend Laird J Heal for an excellent brief in short order.

After carefully discussing trial strategy, we made the determination there would be the potential for serious conflicts as we progressed and added parties, etc. Therefore, I opted to enter my appearance Pro Se and manage my own case in concert with Defendant Pickles counsel.

I have attached copies of my Opposition, Proposed Order, Notice of Appearance. Other documents will be made available as we progress through the coming week.

Judge Saylor has asked us to Motion to Amend Answers to complaint by July 23 and will do so to add Affirmative defenses and our counterclaim.

Then we move into the discovery phase. We will have our rule 26(f) conference next week and are scheduled for a Rule 16 Hearing Monday, July 23, 2007.

For those who wish to look up the rules, they are readilly available on line under the Title Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

As we take the offensive, your prayers are needed for all the parties and we trust that the Lord will lead as we work toward a goal of reformation and reconciliation that 3ABN can be restored to whatever plan the Lord has in store.

Gailon Arthur Joy
AUReporter

Attachment #1 "Final Draft Deft Opposition to Plaintiffs Motion Impound"

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
DISTRICT OF MASSACHUSETTS

Three Angels Broadcasting Network, Inc., Case No,: 07-40098-FDS
an Illinois non-profit corporation, and Danny Lee Shelton, individually,

Plaintiffs,

v.

Gailon Arthur Joy
and Robert Pickle,

Defendants.

Defendants' Supplementary Responsive Memorandum in Opposition to Plaintiffs' Motion for Permanent impoundment

INTRODUCTION
Plaintiffs have asserted that the defendants have used every possible medium to impugn Plaintiffs' reputation and conduct. In fact the defendant has undertaken to correctly report factually challenged, incomplete and grossly inaccurately reported history relating to the actions of the Plaintiffs in the Due Process deficient suspension, leave, dismissal and elimination of the founding director, Vice President and spouse of co-founder Danny Lee Shelton. Plaintiffs have publicly asserted an unsupported charge that the spouse, Linda Sue Shelton, was guilty of "spiritual adultery". After summarily dismissing Linda Sue Shelton for unproven allegations, Danny Lee Shelton replaced her with a brother of the Plaintiff, Tommy Shelton, who had a history of extensive allegations of child molestation while serving as a Church of God pastor.

Each of the defendants, Joy and Pickle, opened separate and independent investigative files in mid-August 2006 and discovered a host of documents from various sources demonstrating that the Plaintiffs had:
1. not been forthcoming with evidence to support their allegations;
2. that they had misrepresented the history and the facts;
3. and given clear innuendo that the spouse, Linda Sue Shelton, had run off with a doctor from Norway and was guilty of adultery, a career ending assertion within the ministry of the Seventh-day Adventist congregations, not factually supported..

The defendants were asked to give an ecclesiastical process an opportunity to address the issues prior to reporting the defendants discovery. When the ecclesiastical process was arbitrarily ended, the defendant Joy began issuing reports of his findings and established a web-page to serve as a document resource center and perpetual access point for members of the Seventh-day Adventist church you wanted to review the facts and ask questions regarding what defendant had discovered and reported in an effort to report the truth regarding the official record with the stockholders in the pews of the Seventh-day Adventist churches, clearly demonstrating the deficiency of Plaintiffs information.

The actions of the Plaintiffs since 2004 and particularly in the first half of 2006 led many to question the 3ABN statements and records. The revelation of the documented facts and the response of the plaintiffs to the facts as the were reported, including multiple international broadcasts on the stage of 3ABN Today live in a clear attempt to impugn and malign the reputations of Linda and the various reporters, made an ever widening audience aware of the issues and an informed congregation may have responded with the only vote they had to caste; they voted their wallets.

As the plaintiffs discovered the record was causing growing difficulty with their contributions base, they desperately sought alternatives, including web-based counter-measures with various pseudonyms on several web blogs with a clear campaign to continue to impugn and malign the characters of Linda and the various reporters, but clearly continued to loose ground.

Therefore, in a desperate attempt to stem the growing tide of no confidence votes by donors, they sought the assistance of a lawfirm in Minnesota utilized by a major contributor in the past to battle a similar publicity problem. This firm has set out to try and eliminate the defendants constitutional rights as defined in the first amendment guaranteeing the freedom of speech, freedom of the press, the right to practice our religion and the inherent right of conscience that is implicit in the right to practice ones religion. Also, in a strange dichotomy, the plaintiffs, a purported non-denominational religious organization, found itself the subject of an EEOC investigation in the State of California and quickly claimed to be exempt as a religious organization, thereby avoiding civil administrative charges brought by employees of their 3ABN Trust Services office relating to retaliation dismissal and discrimination. Yet, they have the audacity to violate the First Amendment and have sought the redress of a civil court in an effort to fraudulently silence the truth about the plaintiffs' own errors, when they knew or should have known that such an action clearly violated SLAPP statutes.

This motion is an effort to improperly impound a record the public has a right and a vital interest in accessing as the Plaintiffs are a 501-c-3 Tax Exempt organization that draws nearly all its support from the Seventh-day Adventist laymen and members of the viewing public. These donors and viewers have a right to access the court record that they may make informed decisions regarding their contributions, the only vote that they have in this closely held corporation of only thirteen members that also serve as its Danny Lee Shelton handpicked board of directors. Therefore, this American public has an economic and constitutional right to know what goes on in this very public forum.

While plaintiffs counsel alleges defendants have miscited case authority, defendants allege the plaintiffs have clearly mis-applied case law as will be demonstrated heretofore and defendants will seek appropriate redress from the honorable court.

Therefore, defendants pray the court to properly lift this unconstitutional impoundment that the American public may have its proper right to know.
ARGUMENT

The Common Law right of access is overwhelming even when there is a countervailing concern regarding collateral criminal process that may prejudice a jury. Counsellor Pucci expounded extensively on his claim that In re Providence Journal Company, 293 F.3d 1, 13 n. 5 (1st Cir. 2002).IS the prevailing law within the First Circuit but then admits the case establishes "Under the common law, there has been a long-standing presumption of public access to judicial records." And the court further asserted in this "prevailing Law in the First Circuit":
"5. Although the Supreme Court has not established whether the constitutional right of access attaches to civil cases in general, the common-law right of access extends to judicial records in civil proceedings. Standard Fin. Mgmt., 830 F.2d at 408 & n.4. "As said, that right encompasses legal memoranda. Because none of the respondent's rationales for rendering legal memoranda presumptively nonpublic rise to the level of a compelling reason sufficient to justify the nondisclosure of those documents, our invalidation of the District of Rhode Island's blanket nonfiling policy vis-à-vis legal memoranda applies in civil as well as criminal proceedings."

Yet again, Counsellor Pucci and team clearly misrepresent the decision In re Gitto Global Corp., 422 F.3d 1, 6 (1st Cir. 2005) which specifically addresses § 107 b 2 of the bankruptcy code but concluded conclusively:

"To qualify for protection under the § 107 b 2 exception for defamatory material, an interested party must show (1) that the material at issue would alter his reputation in the eyes of a reasonable person, and (2) that the material is untrue or that it is potentially untrue and irrelevant or included for an improper end."

This would be a difficult test to assert in the subject action as the Plaintiffs are the parties seeking protection from public scrutiny when they have sought redress in a US District Court, the most public of forums, and do so claiming to be a Charitable organization pursuant to IRC 502c-3, deriving virtually every dime from public contributions in various forms giving the public absolute interest in observing the proceedings.

Further the Supreme Court clarified in the Nixon v. Warner Communications, Inc., 435 U.S. 589, 597 (1978) that "in Cox Broadcasting Corp. v. Cohn, 420 U.S. 469 (1975) ...Our decision in that case merely affirmed the right of the press to publish accurately information contained in court records open to the public. Since the press serves as the information-gathering agent of the public, it could not be prevented from reporting what it had learned and what the public was entitled to know. Id., at 491-492. In the instant case, however, there is no claim that the press was precluded from publishing or utilizing as it saw fit the testimony and exhibits filed in evidence. There simply were no restrictions upon press access to, or publication of, any information in the public domain. Indeed, the press - including reporters of the electronic media - was permitted to listen to the tapes and report on what was heard. Reporters also were furnished transcripts of the tapes, which they were free to comment upon and publish. The contents of the tapes were given wide publicity by all elements of the media. There is no question of a truncated flow of information to the public. Thus, the issue presented in this case is not whether the press must be permitted access to public information to which the public generally is guaranteed access, but whether these copies of the White House tapes - to which the public has never had physical access - must be made available for copying." Thus re-affirming the constitutional right of the press to access court records. They went so far as to declare "The First Amendment generally grants the press no right to information about a trial superior to that of the general public. "Once beyond the confines of the courthouse, a news-gathering agency may publicize, within wide limits, what its representatives have heard and seen in the courtroom. But the line is drawn at the courthouse door; and within, a reporter's constitutional rights are no greater than those of any other member of the public." Estes v. Texas, 381 U.S. 532, 589 (1965) " thus inversely declaring the publics equal right to the court records.

Defendants agree that in the case, "FTC v. Standard Financial Management, the court held that the press was entitled to access sworn personal financial statements of the two principals of a closely-held corporation, statements on which the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) relied in agreeing to a settlement that would fall far short of what would be needed to make the affected consumers whole. Id., 830 F.2d at 406. In finding that the public should have access to the personal financial statements, the court rejected the appellants' privacy argument, finding instead that the appellants waived privacy by choosing to submit the documents to the FTC as part of the settlement process and further, that releasing the documents had worked to their advantage in persuading the FTC to agree to a desirable settlement. The appellants were not then entitled to argue that "some general notion of fairness requires the settlement to be made public but the documents to be locked away." Id. at 412...."
We disagree on the interpretation and therefore again find a compelling First Circuit opinion that the provision of documents in this litigation voids the parties right to privacy. This has the direct inference that once the plaintiffs have sought redress of their concerns in a US District court that their private interests were voided by choice of the Plaintiffs.

Therefore defendants would ask the court to conclude that the Plaintiffs assertion that "Unlike the appellants in Standard Financial Management, Plaintiffs 3ABN and Danny Shelton have never chosen to waive their privacy interests...." Is clearly defective as the simple decision to seek redress in the US District Court constituted a waiver of His and the Other Plaintiffs privacy interests. That is if, in fact, a 501c-3 Media Entity and the very Public figures that manage and are broadcast to the entire world of satellite TV viewers can have a privacy interest at all as it relates to the issues in contention.
The Plaintifs seem concerned that "...Without impounding these documents, this Court's judicial record will become an unwitting tool that Defendants will use to spread their lies." While by their declaration the information contentiously characterized as "lies" and which the defendants state as the truth, has been and remains available for public scrutiny, the further availability in the US District Courts office is not a basis for assumption that further damage is possible or a remotely constitutional assumption.

Defendants will argue that the Plaintiffs have sought impoundment lightly in violation of the Courts own Rule 7.2 and in violation of the defendants First Amendment rights. Clearly the Plaintiffs have requested impoundment as a means of hiding this dispute, or the facts which underlie it, from a very discerning public with a common law right to know..

Plaintiffs have not demonstrated that impoundment would prevent further irreparable injury as the Plaintiffs affidavit fails to identify a cause and effect relationship between Mollie Steensons assertion that Plaintiffs saw a significant decline in contributions in June 2006 when the defendants reporting did not begin until September 2006. Defendant Joy's webpages were not developed until mid- January 2007. This is only a single example of the Plaintiffs clearly deficient case. Defendants will assert that in fact the Plaintiffs own actions, and or the actions of others with whom the Plantiffs contracted were the cause and effect and Defendants merely reported and disseminated the Plaintiffs deficient actions, as did thousands of other SDA's. Defendants merely exercised their constitutional rights as preserved within the First Amendment. Therefore, there would be no legal, economic or logical basis for an unconstitutional impoundment.

In fact the redacted exhibits, unlawful in their own right, do not specifically support the affiants claims for various reasons, not the least of which, they either fail to show that defendants caused the contributor to stop contributing because of the defendants actions. They also fail to establish that the parties complaining were contributors at any time. In addition, the fact that names are redacted leaves the defendants without any basis to determine if they are impeachable, as they could be Plaintiffs' sympathizers simply planting complaints or the Plaintiffs utilizing pseudonyms in support of the Plaintiffs affidavits, a legitimate concern that the defendants would not dare eliminate from feasibility for the Plaintiff Danny Lee Shelton, based upon assertion of various victims during his administration.

The defendants further clarify the deficiency of the Plaintiffs claims as the reporting of the actions of the Plaintiffs, as news release after news release and webpage after webpage reports the actual actions based upon the reports of Plaintiffs, other witnesses, the actual documented e-mails or correspondence between Plaintiffs and victims. Therefore, it is clearly the actions of the Plaintiffs that have resulted in any claimed loss of goodwill within the Seventh-day Adventist Community. But the most egregious breach of any clear cause and effect is demonstrated in the simple fact that the Plaintiffs have failed to demonstrate any connection between postcards mailed and the defendants. And defendants have clearly asserted that they have not mailed post cards of any kind, regardless of the defendants clear constitutional right to do so.

The Plaintiffs assertion that it was the defendants reporting alone that would result in loss of confidence of churches, conferences, unions, divisions and even the world-wide General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists have little real or factual understanding of the representative governance of the various administrative entities. Unlike the 3ABN autocracy with its mere 13 member constituency / board of directors handpicked by Danny Lee Shelton, and ejected at will by Danny Lee Shelton, the church's administrative entities have accountability to hundreds, thousands, tens of thousands, hundreds of thousands and even millions within the General Conference congregations. They are well known for adhering to the counsel of many principle as the General Conference Executive Committee consists of more than three hundred members and other entities have executive committees that even at the state conference level exceeds by more than double the size of the 3ABN Board of directors. Every administrative entity also has lay advisory committees, an Association Board which directly represents the various church companies within the entity, and a variety of special constituencies that are variously represented by nominated and elected leaders within each level of church leadership. As in any bureaucracy of this width and depth, no decision is entered into lightly or easily without careful consideration of the issues and concerns represented by the decision or action of the brethren. Further, The Illinois State Conference President serves upon the 3ABN Board, ex-officio. Therefore, simply a "no-body" like the Plaintiff Gailon Arthur Joy, as described by the Plaintiff Danny Lee Shelton, reporting and exhibiting documents could not possibly get an entire world-wide congregation to moratorium an independent international media giant and supporting ministry of the Seventh-day Adventist Church that has been a long-time member and beneficiary of the General Conferences' ASI grant programs, without more than alleged "lies" and "innuendos" as the foundation for church leaderships actions. And most importantly, the Plaintiffs have not established a relationship between the church administrations actions and the defendants reporting, other than the wild and reckless assertion of Plaintiffs and their counsel.

The Plaintiffs would assert: "C. The fact that statements made during the course of a judicial proceeding are privileged will embolden Defendants and leave Plaintiffs without recourse."

The Plaintiffs would seem to assert as infamy the premise that statements made during the course of judicial proceedings are somehow privileged and therefore they assert the reporting of these statements would leave the Plaintiffs without recourse. Defendants will repeat that in Nixon v. Warner Communications, Inc., 435 U.S. 589, 597 (1978) the Supreme Court clarified unequivocally that "in Cox Broadcasting Corp. v. Cohn, 420 U.S. 469 (1975) ...Our decision in that case merely affirmed the right of the press to publish accurately information contained in court records open to the public. Since the press serves as the information-gathering agent of the public, it could not be prevented from reporting what it had learned and what the public was entitled to know. Id., at 491-492. and in "FTC v. Standard Financial Management, the court held that the press was entitled to access sworn personal financial statements of the two principals of a closely-held corporation, statements on which the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) relied in agreeing to a settlement that would fall far short of what would be needed to make the affected consumers whole. Id., 830 F.2d at 406. In finding that the public should have access to the personal financial statements, the court rejected the appellants' privacy argument, finding instead that the appellants waived privacy".

Therefore, Defendants would agree the Plaintiffs are left without recourse and constitutionally so. However, once again the Plaintiffs express concerns regarding "libelous statements" but have yet to demonstrate that any statement in fact has or will meet the test of libel. Defendants are clearly constitutionally protected by the First Amendment and Plaintiffs are left to their proof that their own wild, unsupported and reckless allegations of libelous statements in fact can be supported at bar. Plaintiffs have spent a great deal of time and effort to claim a defamatory purpose in the process of "indicting" Danny Lee Shelton to the public. The simple act of indicting or accusing a public figure and this supporting ministry President with wrongdoing, when he is the acknowledged face of Seventh-day Adventistism to the entire world, is no more defamatory then the public life of the President himself. It is not defamatory to simply report the documented factually deficient statements of the Plaintiffs and the responses of accusers and witnesses. It is, in fact, the constitutional exertion of the freedom of the press.

Plaintiffs also assert:"D. The public interest in this case does not tip the scales in favor of public access." And again the Plaintiffs seek to pretend that the public has no right of access to court files when it is clearly established case-law that the public has an equal right to access to the court records as would any reporter or other party in interest. "The First Amendment generally grants the press no right to information about a trial superior to that of the general public." NIXON v. WARNER COMMUNICATIONS, INC., 435 U.S. 589 (1978) Page 435 U.S. 589, 610
The plaintiffs also claim that the 3ABN is an Illinois non-profit corporation, but it is also a federally recognized public 501c-3 non-profit that solicits every dime of support from the public arena, largely from the pews of the Seventh-day Adventist churches. It cannot claim to be a private foundation and in fact its Annual reports to the Internal Revenue Service via the 990s clearly demonstrate its public educational and religious charity and not a private foundation status. The Plaintiff's own Chairman has repeatedly claimed the ministry is open and transparent in keeping with its very public charter, a fallacy at best. Therefore, they are not entitled to privacy as any contributor of sums in excess of $70.00 has the right to go to 3ABN and to ask to have the books of accounts and records of meetings made available for public inspection.
Further, the status in Illinois of the corporation as a tax exempt organization is currently denied for property tax purposes and is under appeal. Therefore, since the vast majority of funds to support this public non-profit come from the members of the Seventh-day Adventist churches, the contributing members have become defacto the stockholders in the pews with all the rights of a contributor to any public charity to enable donors to make informed choices. And they have an intrinsic right to be informed of issues relating to corporate governance as well as the distribution of funds given to this very public ministry. This is clearly established in two Illinios cases that wound their way into the US Supreme Court: SCHAUMBURG v. CITIZENS FOR BETTER ENVIRONMENT., 444 U.S. 620 (1980) Page 444 U.S. 620, 638 :"Efforts to promote disclosure of the finances of charitable organizations also may assist in preventing fraud by informing the public of the ways in which their contributions will be employed. [Footnote 12] Such measures may help make contribution decisions more informed, while leaving to individual choice the decision whether to contribute to organizations....."
This is reinforced on a ciertorari from the Illinois Supreme Court ILLINOIS ex rel. MADIGAN, ATTORNEY GENERAL OF ILLINOIS v. TELEMARKETING ASSOCIATES, INC., et al. "(d) Given this Court's repeated approval of government efforts to enable donors to make informed choices about their charitable contributions, see, e.g., Schaumburg, 444 U. S., at 638, almost all States and many localities require charities and professional fundraisers to register and file regular reports on their activities.... These reports are generally available to the public and are often placed on the Internet. .... Just as government may seek to inform the public and prevent fraud through such requirements,.... these limitations do not disarm States from assuring that their residents are positioned to make informed choices about their charitable giving. Pp. 19-21."
Plaintiffs also seek proof that the defendants meet some imaginary test of being a reporter. In fact, there is no test of being a reporter. Anyone can in fact become a reporter by simply picking up a pen or pencil, asking questions and reporting the answers. In fact both defendants have extensive background in ecclesiastical reporting and journalism. The defendant Joy has been an established ecclesiastical reporter for more than two decades and is published. Defendant Pickle is also established as a published ecclesiastical reporter and ecclesiastical apologist for more than a decade. At all times relating to this investigative reporting the Plaintiff Gailon Arthur Joy has clearly identified himself as AUReporter, an abbreviation for what began as Atlantic Union Reporter nearly two decades ago.
The issue of credentialing jounalists or reporters was addressed by the U.S. Supreme Court in its 1972 decision Branzburg v. Hayes. "The administration of a constitutional newsman's privilege would present practical and conceptual difficulties of a high order," wrote Justice Byron White. "Sooner or later, it would be necessary to define those categories of newsmen who qualified for the privilege, a questionable procedure in light of the traditional doctrine that liberty of the press is the right of the lonely pamphleteer who uses carbon paper or a mimeograph just as much as of the large metropolitan publisher who utilizes the latest photocomposition methods." And Justice White added: "Freedom of the press is a 'fundamental personal right' which 'is not confined to newspapers and periodicals. It necessarily embraces pamphlets and leaflets. ... The press in its historic connotation comprehends every sort of publication which affords a vehicle of information and opinion.' ... The informative function asserted by representatives of the organized press in the present cases is also performed by lecturers, political pollsters, novelists, academic researchers, and dramatists." Therefore, Plaintiffs attempt to impose such a test is profound and an example of their improper conduct resonant in this action.

CONCLUSION: The Plaintiffs seek a Blanket Impoundment in violation of Local Rule 7.2 to include Pleadings as well as discovery. Plaintiffs proposed order grants the Plaintiffs the extraordinary position of intercepting and trying to alter the pleadings of the Defendants, a clear over-step of the rule, and could prove burdensome to the court as every pleading would become a motion battleground with the clear intent to impede the defendants right to amend answers, to add Affirmative Defenses, to state Counterclaims, to file Motions and even to impede the addition of parties. Further the Plaintiffs proposed order would even seek to control the flow of documents entered in this courts records to be utilized in any other case and to even interfere with the subpoena power of other jurisdictions. These outrageous proposals could also most certainly spawn numerous time consuming appeals. Further the procedures outlined could be abused to add unnecessary costs to the defense of this action.

Simply put, Plaintiffs Motion and Proposed Order seeks insidious violation of the Local Rule 7.2 by imposing an Alternative Blanket Impoundment under the pseudonym "Standing Order", "Automatic Temporary Impoundment", "Continued Application", and Application of Order in Context with Other Actions that is designed to be oppressive and restrictive of the Plaintiffs rights, the rights of other jurisdictions and abuses the clear Local Rule 7.2 of this Honorable Court.

The right of public access to the court record is implicit and inviolate in the Constitution, in common law, and in caselaw. Impoundment of this case runs contrary to the Local Rule 7.2, is unconstitutional as a violation of the First Amendment right of Freedom of the Press, Free Speech, the Freedom to practice of our own religion, violates the common law of public access, and is unsupported by caselaw, particularly in the First Circuit. Therefore the Plaintiffs Motion for Permanent Impoundment must be denied.

Dated: June 7, 2007

Respectfully Submitted:

By Gailon Arthur Joy
Defendant, Pro Se

CERTIFICATE OF SERVICE

I, Gailon Arthur Joy, do certify that I have this day served a copy of the foregoing document, along with any attachments, on Plaintiffs 3ABN and Danny Shelton by mailing same, first class postage prepaid to their attorneys of record, John P. Pucci, Esq., J. Lizette Richards, 64 Gothic Street, Northampton, MA 01060

Dated: June 7, 2007

Attachment #2 Proposed Order Denying Permanent Impoundment"

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT

DISTRICT OF MASSACHUSETTS

Three Angels Broadcasting Network, Inc.,
an Illinois non-profit corporation, and
Danny Lee Shelton, individually, Case No. 07-40098FDS

Plaintiffs,
V.

Gailon Arthur Joy and Robert Pickle,

Defendants.

ORDER DENYING IMPOUNDMENT OF PLEADINGS

The right of public access to the court record is implicit and inviolate in the Constitution, in common law, and in caselaw. Impoundment of this case runs contrary to the Local Rule 7.2, is unconstitutional as a violation of the First Amendment right of Freedom of the Press, violates the common law of public access, and is unsupported by caselaw, particularly in the First Circuit.

The Plaintiffs seek a blanket Impoundment in violation of Local Rule 7.2 to include pleadings as well as discovery. Plaintiffs proposed order grants the Plaintiffs the extraordinary position of intercepting and trying to alter the pleadings of the Defendants, a clear over-step of the rules and could prove burdensome to the court as every pleading would become a motion battleground with the clear intent to impede the defendants right to amend answers, to add Affirmative Defenses, to state Counterclaims, to file Motions and even to impede the addition of parties. Further the Plaintiffs proposed order would even seek to control the flow of documents entered in this courts records to be utilized in any other case and to even interfere with the subpoena power of other jurisdictions. These outrageous proposals could also most certainly spawn numerous time consuming appeals. Further the procedures outlined could be abused to add unnecessary costs.

Simply put, Plaintiffs Motion and Proposed Order seeks insidious violation of the Local Rule by imposing an alternative Blanket Impoundment under the pseudonym "Standing Order", "Automatic Temporary Impoundment", "Continued Application", and Application of Order in Context with Other Actions that is designed to be oppressive and restrictive of the Plaintiffs rights, the rights of other jurisdictions and abuses the clear Local Rule 7.2 of this Honorable Court.

Therefore the Plaintiffs Motion for Permanent Impoundment is denied.

To Gailon Arthur Joy, P.O. Box 1425, Sterling, Ma 01564

Attachment #3 "Notice of Appearance Pro Se"

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
DISTRICT OF MASSACHUSETTS

Three Angels Broadcasting Network, Inc., Case No,: 07-40098-FDS
an Illinois non-profit corporation, and Danny Lee Shelton, individually,

Plaintiffs,
Notice of Appearance Pro Se
v.

Gailon Arthur Joy
and Robert Pickle,

Defendants.

Now comes the defendant, Gailon Arthur Joy, AUReporter, before this Honorable Court and enters his appearance Pro Se.

I would ask the Court and all Parties to send all pleadings and orders entered herein to him at

Gailon Arthur Joy
P. O. Box 1425
Sterling, Ma 01564 - 1425
Phone: 508-414-3267
Fax: 578-422-0439
E-Mail: Gabbjoy4@comcast.net

Respectfully submitted:

_____
Gailon Arthur Joy
AUReporter

Dated: June 7, 2007

Posted by: ex3ABNemployee Jun 21 2007, 08:04 PM

QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jun 21 2007, 08:36 PM)

UPDATE - THE LAWSUIT CASE HAS BEEN UNIMPOUNDED

Can't wait to see the docs. Sounds like it's going to be an interesting read.

Steffan? Any comment?

Posted by: Rosyroi Jun 21 2007, 08:30 PM

I Rosyroi on this day of June 21, 2007, truthfully swear on a Bible that I had never been influenced by the website http//:www.save3abn.com to discontinue contribution to the 3ABN coffers.

I swear that it was Danny L. Shelton's own voice on world wide television who influenced my decision to stop contributions to 3ABN.

I swear that the non-disclosing responses to my email questions made my decision to stop contribution to 3ABN. (Due to the letters sent out to heavy contributors making derogorotory and false statements made to make Linda Shelton appear to be a bad person)

What I read on http//:www.save3ABN.com only confirmed my concerns about 3ABN not being fully transparent.

Rosyroi

signed Rosyroi a former shareholder in the pew.

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jun 21 2007, 08:38 PM

QUOTE(Rosyroi @ Jun 21 2007, 10:30 PM)

I Rosyroi on this day of June 21, 2007, truthfully swear on a Bible that I had never been influenced by the website http//:www.save3abn.com to discontinue contribution to the 3ABN coffers.

I swear that it was Danny L. Shelton's own voice on world wide television who influenced my decision to stop contributions to 3ABN.

I swear that the non-disclosing responses to my email questions made my decision to stop contribution to 3ABN. (Due to the letters sent out to heavy contributors making derogorotory and false statements made to make Linda Shelton appear to be a bad person)

What I read on http//:www.save3ABN.com only confirmed my concerns about 3ABN not being fully transparent.

Rosyroi
signed Rosyroi a former shareholder in the pew.

Posted by: runner4him Jun 21 2007, 08:46 PM

QUOTE(Rosyroi @ Jun 21 2007, 09:30 PM)

I Rosyroi on this day of June 21, 2007, truthfully swear on a Bible that I had never been influenced by the website http//:www.save3abn.com to discontinue contribution to the 3ABN coffers.

I swear that it was Danny L. Shelton's own voice on world wide television who influenced my decision to stop contributions to 3ABN.

I swear that the non-disclosing responses to my email questions made my decision to stop contribution to 3ABN. (Due to the letters sent out to heavy contributors making derogorotory and false statements made to make Linda Shelton appear to be a bad person)

What I read on http//:www.save3ABN.com only confirmed my concerns about 3ABN not being fully transparent.

Rosyroi
signed Rosyroi a former shareholder in the pew.

You read my mind.....that was exactly my response...the remarriage and comments of DS, the condemning letter against LS....and all the e-mail responses raised the questions and ultimately made up my mind. The documents I read on save3abn came after and confirmed it for me.

I heard we should expect the "rest of the story" to be posted on save3abn sometime tomorrow.

Posted by: steffan Jun 21 2007, 09:06 PM

> QUOTE(ex3ABNemployee @ Jun 21 2007, 09:04 PM)
>
> Can't wait to see the docs. Sounds like it's going to be an interesting read.
>
> Steffan? Any comment?

Certainly. The attorney's had already advised 3abn months ago that their request for a "blanket" impoundment would almost certainly be denied. That request was just one of many that moves them toward litigation. Some will be granted, some will be denied. It is all a part of the procedures to come.

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jun 21 2007, 09:29 PM

To ask for any impoundment is counter to what 3abn claims they want, which is the truth. They said"we want to get the truth out, now impund the documents". Ya that makes sense. Seem they don't wan the truth out so much as they want to silence their critics. Spin anyone? Ho hum....same old same old.

Richard

> QUOTE(steffan @ Jun 21 2007, 10:06 PM)
>
> Certainly. The attorney's had already advised 3abn months ago that their request for a "blanket" impoundment would almost certainly be denied. That request was just one of many that moves them toward litigation. Some will be granted, some will be denied. It is all a part of the procedures to come.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jun 21 2007, 09:53 PM

> QUOTE(steffan @ Jun 21 2007, 07:06 PM)
>
> Certainly. The attorney's had already advised 3abn months ago that their request for a "blanket" impoundment would almost certainly be denied. That request was just one of many that moves them toward litigation. Some will be granted, some will be denied. It is all a part of the procedures to come.

steffan,

Welcome back.

I am curious to know how it is you know what the attorneys advised 3abn months ago. What is your source for this information? I know you profess to be in a unique position of knowledge, but how are we to give your statement much credibility when 3abn Board Chairman Walt Thompson said this about you:

----- Original Message -----

From: Walt Thompson
To:
Sent: Monday, June 11, 2007 6:57 AM
Subject: Re: Statement regarding 3abn/AF merger

Thanks,

No, Steffan does not represent 3abn or Danny. He is not in a position of authority to know what is going on. While I do not know a lot about the relationship between Doug and the President of the conference, this is certainly not the reason 3abn and AF are negotiating.

I appreciate your interest and heads up!

Walter Thompson MD

http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=13784&view=findpost&p=199417

Now, if you have some means of establishing your credibility as one who truly does have inside information, I would urge you to provide that so that your input can be given the proper weight and respect it may deserve.

Posted by: roxe Jun 21 2007, 09:55 PM

QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jun 21 2007, 06:36 PM)

UPDATE - THE LAWSUIT CASE HAS BEEN UNIMPOUNDED

In the matter of 3ABN & Danny Lee Shelton, Individually -vs- Gailon Arthur Joy and Robert Pickle:
Judge Saylor Vacated the Temporary Impoundment and all docs will be be available on Pacer as soon as the cleark gets them into the system. There were no restrictions outside the current Fed Rules of Civil Procedure and the Local Rules of US District Court of Massachusetts.

praise God from whom all blessings flow

Posted by: mikell Jun 22 2007, 02:49 AM

Whatever Steffan says, sadly might be miss information. Just look what he posted to me not to long ago, "Linda pushed for the jet plane" And "3ABN never had two jet planes," Well, according to Beartrap post on 6/12/07 that, "Steffan"... infers that Linda was the biggest proponent of getting the Cessna. It would NEVER have happened without Danny's desire and approval. He [Steffan] also indicates that the Diamond was sold and then (after the sale) the Cessna was leased by someone else. This would not be true. I personally used both of them for a long time. They were used simultaneously by Danny and 3ABN for a long period of time."

So, what ever Steffan is trying to pass himself off to be the great insider of 3ABN knowing all things, such as with Linda and the planes? Notice what PeacefullyBewildered just wrote and asks:

"I am curious to know how it is you know what the attorneys advised 3abn months ago. What is your source for this information? I know you profess to be in a unique position of knowledge, but how are we to give your statement much credibility when 3abn Board Chairman Walt Thompson said this about you:"

From: Walt Thompson....

"No, Steffan does not represent 3abn or Danny. He is not in a position of authority to know what is going on. While I do not know a lot about the relationship between Doug and the President of the conference, this is certainly not the reason 3abn and AF are negotiating."

PeacefullyBewildered asked a very good question, and there could be a good answer. It just be interesting to hear, ha more like see it.

Posted by: Pickle Jun 22 2007, 10:13 AM

And if you want to see the lawsuit itself, take a look at http://www.save3abn.com/3abn-and-danny-v-joy-and-pickle-complaint.htm.

One thing I found intriguing about the lawsuit is 3ABN's claim in it that it is a non-denominational organization not affiliated with any church, denomination, or organization, and that it preaches a non-denominational message.

Are we to take this as an announcement from 3ABN that it is severing its ties from the GC, which it has had since 1997, that it is severing its ties with ASI, and that it is abandoning its preaching of the three angels' messages? Or is this an attempt to convince the court that concerned Seventh-day Adventists have no basis for asking questions?

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jun 22 2007, 10:21 AM

Good questions, Bob.

I am quite upset that the lawsuit avoids the TS allegations!

Posted by: mikell Jun 22 2007, 10:44 AM

Yes Bob, that was a VERY good question, I just wish every Seventh day Adventist can see your question!

Posted by: Rosyroi Jun 22 2007, 10:51 AM

> QUOTE
>
> One thing I found intriguing about the lawsuit is 3ABN's claim in it that it is a non-denominational organization not affiliated with any church, denomination, or organization, and that it preaches a non-denominational message.

And the name of the organization is "Three Angels Broadcasting Network"?

If they are not affiliated with any church, denomination, or organization and that it preaches a non-denominational message then why are they doing and talking like they are affiliated with the Seven-day Adventist church on world wide television, on satellites and cable televisions?

That remark should be shouted to all the world to see how 3ABN claims it's affiliation with the SDA church! (And in the court of law???) Such a mockery!

I may be out of line with this questioning or remarks or the question may have been unnecessary but it was JMHO.

Rosyroi (former supporter of 3ABN)

Posted by: LadyTenor Jun 22 2007, 11:04 AM

If it walks like a duck, quacks like a duck...it just might be a cat.....

Posted by: calvin Jun 22 2007, 11:18 AM

QUOTE(Pickle @ Jun 22 2007, 10:13 AM)

And if you want to see the lawsuit itself, take a look at http://www.save3abn.com/3abn-and-danny-v-joy-and-pickle-complaint.htm.

One thing I found intriguing about the lawsuit is 3ABN's claim in it that it is a non-denominational organization not affiliated with any church, denomination, or organization, and that it preaches a non-denominational message.
Are we to take this as an announcement from 3ABN that it is severing its ties from the GC, which it has had since 1997, that it is severing its ties with ASI, and that it is abandoning its preaching of the three angels' messages? Or is this an attempt to convince the court that concerned Seventh-day Adventists have no basis for asking questions?

I find this to be a very brazen statement considering 3abn owes its existence to the Adventist church as well as most of its support....and now to distant itself from the church ought to be a wakeup call to Amazing Facts and any financial contributor.

I guess this is just more legal maneuvering. But to make statements like we preach a non-denominational message is a lie.

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jun 22 2007, 11:29 AM

Starting to sound like the Radio Church of God, a church that grew out of a radio ministry, becoming the World Wide Church of God. And when it's founder died the church imploded. My aunt was a member.

It has a lot of the hall marks of a church. It accepts tithes. It has it's charismatic leader, it's own ministry, it's own rules, (or lack thereof), it's own compound, (shades of Waco?). Scary. I know of people who regard Danny as almost a messianic figure and quote him more than they do the Bible or EGW. Double scary. And 3abn even takes their own church members to court. Sad.

Richard

QUOTE(Rosyroi @ Jun 22 2007, 12:51 PM)

And the name of the organization is "Three Angels Broadcasting Network"?

If they are not affiliated with any church, denomination, or organization and that it preaches a non-denominational message then why are they doing and talking like they are affiliated with the Seven-day Adventist church on world wide television, on satellites and cable televisions?

That remark should be shouted to all the world to see how 3ABN claims it's affiliation with the SDA church! (And in the court of law???) Such a mockery!

I may be out of line with this questioning or remarks or the question may have been unnecessary but it was JMHO.
Rosyroi (former supporter of 3ABN)

Posted by: Pickle Jun 22 2007, 11:31 AM

QUOTE(calvin @ Jun 22 2007, 12:18 PM)

I find this to be a very brazen statement considering 3abn owes its existence to the Adventist church as well as most of its support....and now to distant itself from the church ought to be a wakeup call to Amazing Facts and any financial contributor.

I guess this is just more legal maneuvering. But to make statements like we preach a non-denominational message is a lie.

Like I said awhile back, Calvin, there was a bombshell in the lawsuit.

Now the most charitable way to look at it, or maybe the most naive, is that the lawyers goofed, and nobody from 3ABN caught the goof.

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jun 22 2007, 11:31 AM

Calvin maybe it's not a lie anymore....

QUOTE(calvin @ Jun 22 2007, 01:18 PM)

I find this to be a very brazen statement considering 3abn owes its existence to the Adventist church as well as most of its support....and now to distant itself from the church ought to be a wakeup call to Amazing Facts and any financial contributor.

I guess this is just more legal maneuvering. But to make statements like we preach a non-denominational message is a lie.

Posted by: Observer Jun 22 2007, 11:35 AM

QUOTE(calvin @ Jun 22 2007, 10:18 AM)

I find this to be a very brazen statement considering 3abn owes its existence to the Adventist church as well as most of its support....and now to distant itself from the church ought to be a wakeup call to Amazing Facts and any financial contributor.

I guess this is just more legal maneuvering. But to make statements like we preach a non-denominational message is a lie.

Take a look at the following taken directly from the Plaintiff's Complaint, page 3, paragraph 12:

QUOTE

Since its inception, Shelton and 3ABN have worked tirelessly to promote 3ABNs ministry and to spread its unique, non-denominational "Return to God" message.

Folks the several hundred pages of legal documents now posted contain interesting material.

Some of us may now see why 3-ABN did not want these documents available for public view. But, the idea that in the so-called "information age" anything (other than the formula for Coka Cola) could be kept secret is unreality.

Posted by: Rosyroi Jun 22 2007, 11:41 AM

QUOTE(steffan @ Jun 21 2007, 07:06 PM)

Certainly. The attorney's had already advised 3abn months ago that their request for a "blanket" impoundment would almost certainly be denied. That request was just one of many that moves them toward litigation. Some will be granted, some will be denied. It is all a part of the procedures to come.

My question is then "Why request for an impoundment in the first place?"

-----edited for content-----

Rosyroi

Posted by: Observer Jun 22 2007, 11:47 AM

QUOTE(Observer @ Jun 22 2007, 10:35 AM)

Take a look at the following taken directly from the Plaintiff's Complaint, page 3, paragraph 12:

Folks the several hundred pages of legal documents now posted contain interesting material.

Some of us may now see why 3-ABN did not want these documents available for public view. But, the idea that in the so-called "information age" anything (other than the formula for Coka Cola) could be kept secret is unreality.

Muich ado has been made in regard to trademarks and copy right.

In the Complaint, we are told that 3-ABN was first issued a trademark (Registration # 2895078, class 009, 016, 038 & 041) for the trademark "3ABN," that they had used since January 1985! See page 4 paragraph # 16. Other registerations took place on May 25, 2004, March 23 2004, April 20, 2004, and `June 28, 2004. For those see pages 5 & 6, paragraphs 17 - 20.

It seems that in 2004 there was a real (emergency?) effort to effect the registrations. I wonder why at that time. What event brought this about?

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jun 22 2007, 11:51 AM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Jun 22 2007, 09:18 AM)
>
> I find this to be a very brazen statement considering 3abn owes its existence to the Adventist church as well as most of its support....and now to distant itself from the church ought to be a wakeup call to Amazing Facts and any financial contributor.
>
> I guess this is just more legal maneuvering. But to make statements like we preach a non-denominational message is a lie.

I agree, Calvin. It is very brazen and troubling. It makes me wonder if steffan was correctly representing the 3abn view after all when he posted the following on "The Truth in a Nutshell:

> QUOTE
>
> "Rosy, in your earlier post you say you feel I am not always honest in my answers. I take issue with that. I have no reason at all not to be honest. I am a christian (as I assume you are) and would not intentionally nor unintentionally try to deceive anyone. I happen to be in a unique situation where I know more than the average person. When I speak, I speak from what I know, have seen and checked out.
> As far as AF is concerned, Danny & Doug usually talk at least once a week and they are the only 2 at this point that know what is happening and the when's and why's. Remember, Doug wants even more independance in his independant ministy. Jim P. is conference. Do you see any signals yet? Doug and Jim might not totally see eye to eye on the exact details of the merger. The conference obviously would not want to lose their connection with AF that they have now." http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s...st&p=199350

Of course we do have Walt Thompson's rebuttal of that http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=13784&view=findpost&p=199417 but the above statements bring that rebuttal into some question.

Posted by: Rosyroi Jun 22 2007, 12:05 PM

Calvin
Less boring, more entertaining now?

Rosyroi

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jun 22 2007, 12:17 PM

Even in these early postings we are seeing the lawsuit backfire. Danny, Walt, 3ABN and their big supporters will rue the day they considered a lawsuit against the truth. May God have mercies on their souls.

Posted by: Clay Jun 22 2007, 12:53 PM

non-denominational.... interesting.... and all this time the 3ABN crew has been appealing to local churches for support.... did the members know that they were supporting a non-denominational ministry? probably not.... alot of people have been punk'd.....

Posted by: LaurenceD Jun 22 2007, 01:31 PM

> QUOTE(steffan @ Jun 21 2007, 10:06 PM)
>
> Certainly. The attorney's had already advised 3abn months ago that their request for a "blanket" impoundment would almost certainly be denied. That request was just one of many that moves them toward litigation. Some will be granted, some will be denied. It is all a part of the procedures to come.

heh! heh!

Next time tell us a little in advance, that way we'd be 110% more impressed. Also give credit to God, if you're able, as many were praying it would be lifted. Now your board members can read the court document and see the kind of childish suite they actually approved.

I'll have to give the plaintiff's attorneys a high five, they played DS like a kitten. Of course they smelled the $kitty$.

BTW, I heard DS the other night saying 3abn was operating on a shoe string budget, and he told his TV audience "we could use millions" in donations right now. Far different than what he was saying earlier this year...that support has never been better. Just the other face I suppose.

Posted by: Pickle Jun 22 2007, 01:56 PM

> QUOTE(Observer @ Jun 22 2007, 12:47 PM)
>
> It seems that in 2004 there was a real (emergency?) effort to effect the registrations. I wonder why at that time. What event brought this about?

Observer, thanks for observing. I missed that one.

Posted by: caribbean sda Jun 22 2007, 02:17 PM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jun 22 2007, 02:53 PM)
>
> non-denominational.... interesting.... and all this time the 3ABN crew has been appealing to local churches for support.... did the members know that they were supporting a non-denominational ministry? probably not.... alot of people have been punk'd.....

i would have to agree with you there...but I am sure that 3ABN will have a lovely spin to put on this...

Posted by: princessdi Jun 22 2007, 03:54 PM

That's what I mean, all that convenient switchin' form one thing to another.....On TV we are a ministry, when you want to kick your wife to the curb without paying her fair share of the ministry you started together, then you are a buisness and she is just an employee. On TV be unadulterated SDA, preaching the pure, undiluted 3 Angel's Message. In court, you are non-denominational.....See how that work?

QUOTE(Clay @ Jun 22 2007, 10:53 AM)

non-denominational.... interesting.... and all this time the 3ABN crew has been appealing to local churches for support.... did the members know that they were supporting a non-denominational ministry? probably not.... alot of people have been punk'd.....

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jun 22 2007, 08:02 PM

QUOTE(Clay @ Jun 22 2007, 10:53 AM)

non-denominational.... interesting.... and all this time the 3ABN crew has been appealing to local churches for support.... did the members know that they were supporting a non-denominational ministry? probably not.... alot of people have been punk'd.....

Clay,

This bears repeating!

QUOTE(calvin @ Jun 22 2007, 09:18 AM)

I find this to be a very brazen statement considering 3abn owes its existence to the Adventist church as well as most of its support....and now to distant itself from the church ought to be a wakeup call to Amazing Facts and any financial contributor.

I guess this is just more legal maneuvering. But to make statements like we preach a non-denominational message is a lie.

Calvin,

I wonder what the GC thinks about this?

Posted by: princessdi Jun 22 2007, 08:39 PM

I am really thinking that this, little tidbit, if not THE reason for the records being sealed, is in the top two. Everyone of "us"(Adventist and everyone else) believing that their doctrine is Advnetist doctrine. We did n't assume that, they said that!.....but wait a minute come to think of the, they really don't make that claim especially in ther little station identification...they just say they preach the three angels message.....Which is a definite 'assumed" affiliation with the SDA church, but they can say that didn't claim to be an Adventist network/ministry. Shady, just shady!

Whoever's watch it is at GC to look in at BSDA, it's time to cut that cord guys...looks like they already have the scissors in hand.

Posted by: Shepherdswife Jun 22 2007, 08:46 PM

QUOTE(LaurenceD @ Jun 22 2007, 03:31 PM)

BTW, I heard DS the other night saying 3abn was operating on a shoe string budget, and he told his TV audience "we could use millions" in donations right now.

He'd better go ask his non-denominational, Sabbath-keeping, undiluted three angels messages, vegetarian churches for the money...

Posted by: SoulEspresso Jun 22 2007, 08:49 PM

QUOTE(Richard Sherwin @ Jun 22 2007, 11:17 AM)

Even in these early postings we are seeing the lawsuit backfire. Danny, Walt, 3ABN and their big supporters will rue the day they considered a lawsuit against the truth. May God have mercies on their souls.

.. if God has a strong enough stomach.

Seriously, if this goes badly enough for them, maybe they'll come to Jesus ... for the first time? If they've been taking His Name in vain all this time ...

Posted by: Ralph Jun 22 2007, 10:16 PM

QUOTE(sonshineonme {quoting Gailon Joy} @ Jun 21 2007, 07:36 PM)

After carefully discussing trial strategy, we made the determination there would be the potential for serious conflicts as we progressed and added parties, etc. Therefore, I opted to enter my appearance Pro Se and manage my own case in concert with Defendant Pickles counsel.

One lawyer described Pro Se this way, "He who is his own lawyer has a fool for a client." Even if it is in concert with Defendant Pickle's counsel, it is worth remembering that two experienced lawyers will be representing the Plaintiffs.

Posted by: Fran Jun 23 2007, 12:44 AM

QUOTE

Since its inception, Shelton and 3ABN have worked tirelessly to promote 3ABNs ministry and to spread its unique, non-denominational "Return to God" message.

Excuse Me! Just when did this change take place? Last I heard it was, "Mending Broken People," not "Return to God!" Maybe the evidence that has been presented has revealed that in actuality 3ABN/Danny actually "Broke People" and caused this drastic change in Slogans?

I get it now! Danny is the self appointed Anointed One; it must be that we need to return to him?

> QUOTE(calvin @ Jun 22 2007, 12:18 PM)
>
> I find this to be a very brazen statement considering 3abn owes its existence to the Adventist church as well as most of its support....and now to distant itself from the church ought to be a wake-up call to Amazing Facts and any financial contributor.
>
> I guess this is just more legal maneuvering. But to make statements like we preach a non-denominational message is a lie.

Actually, Calvin, I believe "BRAZEN" is just the right word needed here!

Posted by: Fran Jun 23 2007, 04:00 AM

> QUOTE(Pickle @ Jun 22 2007, 02:56 PM)
>
> Observer, thanks for observing. I missed that one.

Bob!

This entirely my opinion.

Danny couldn't risk Linda registering 3ABN! He had to get it done BEFORE they divorced! He didn't dump her until he got it done. He sort of got the horse before the cart. Brenda told what she was told to tell, but Danny had to tie up those loose ends before he could get her out of the way.

Hey, why do we think Danny wanted Linda way away from 3ABN? Say for an additional 30 days? He would have NEVER let her come back as promised! They wanted her gone so they could take care of these issues.

This was part of Danny and Walt's PREPOSITIONING! It was ALL PREPLANNED. I have been saying that since I read the IL vs 3ABN Property Tax Lawsuit in 2004.

I heard that Linda had committed Adultery in March 2004! At that time, I am ashamed to say I believed it! That is, I believed it until I read that Property Tax Lawsuit! There was evidence in that lawsuit Danny was setting Linda up by bringing Linda's CD front and center, but lies about his books and CD's. Even that was Prepositioned and Preplanned! He did that on purpose way back then!

In 2003 the letter was received about Tommy. Linda had previously won in the decision to not have Tommy on the payroll. Oops here we go again! Danny does not loose to anyone over choices about his blood siblings!

This is what caused Danny and his close buddies to start praying for Linda's removal in 2003. A president can not be trumped by a VP/Wife! Never Again!

December came. The Doc comes to 3ABN to check out the ministry he has so strongly supported financially and meets Nathan and Linda and decided to help Nathan, Linda's (and supposedly Danny's) son! The Doc says he is a supporter. Danny checks the books and accuses the Doc of Lying! He can't find his name on the donor list. He soon finds out that 3ABN's data entry people mis-spelled his name! Danny embarrasses himself by accusing the innocent doc who was NOT lying!

Danny pitches a fit! There went Linda again, challenging his authority in these matters. She trumps him again and sends Nathan to Norway when Danny clearly said NO. In early Feb., Linda went to check on Nathan, and, of course, she takes her "Best" friend! (Yeah, Right-Not) They came home and the preplanned prepositioning began!

Linda returned home. She and Danny traveled in that February, more than they had ever traveled in the history of 3ABN! Danny needed Linda to gather into the storehouse as much cash as possible before he dumped her!

Brenda Walsh takes her sweet time to reveal her lie. Why? It took that long for Danny to hit upon the perfect plan! He had to enlist support from his most loyal subjects. To bad, he was a day late and a $ dollar $ short. But it works with Kay Kuzma, Walt, and John Lomacang, all of Danny's recruited accomplices. Did they know? Or were they blinded by the stories from Danny, the anointed one?

Walt sends Linda a demand letter. Do this or else. If she had followed his instructions to perfection, she was NEVER to return to 3ABN!

Linda just would not co-operate! Danny had to actually divorce her through the courts in Guam so no one would know why he really dumped her. Oops, that did not work out either, did it?

It started with Tommy not being able to be hired because of Linda swaying the vote of the board. Danny could not let that ever happen again, EVER! His resentment grew exponentially!

To reinforce Brenda and his lie, he starts the horrible leaks of lies about Linda. Every word, every action is to trash Linda! It is working! People are sending in $ Money $ hand over fist! Danny's group announces that this is God blessing Danny and 3ABN for kicking out the bad seed. Yeah, sad huh. $$ gain by breaking his wife. Real manly like, right? This is how the self appointed, anointed one, works to increase his self image at the cost of others. Linda became his stomping stone.

To make thing work, Danny had to break a few others along the way. (Johann & Darrel to name only 2) Oh, well, the job had to be done, right? So the lies have to be covered. How did they do that? By continuing their slander, lies, and innuendo about Linda at any & every given opportunity and even to MAKING additional opportunities!

Now back to the IL vs 3ABN Property Tax Lawsuit. As I have shown from documented court documents, 3ABN/Danny had serious VALUATION PROBLEMS with assets & TRUST FUNDS. THEY WERE NOT FOLLOWING GENERALLY ACCEPTED ACCOUNTING PRINCIPLES (GAAP)! The auditors wrote up 3ABN for NOT FOLLOWING GAAP! Then it goes on to write them up again for having serious problems with TRUST FUNDS and the VALUATION OF THOSE ASSETS AND TRUST FUNDS AND REAL PROPERTY. Oops. It is written up in actual court documents!

If you would go to the audits on the Attorney General's website you will find more current audits. Guess what! They are WRITTEN UP AGAIN ABOUT GAPP AND VALUATIONS! They didn't learn anything back in 2000 & 2001! As of that newer audit on the Attorney General's website, they STILL have TRUST ISSUES and VALUATION ISSUES AT 3ABN! Did I forget to mention Asset Valuation also?

In the Jan and Feb 2006, issue of AToday, there was an article called "3ABN Financial Irregularities." I provided Documented Court Documents to AToday. Yet, they said not one word about 3ABN's dealings with TRUST FUNDS OR VALUATIONS! I was irate and called them. I was informed that Walt Thompson admitted to AToday there were problems involving TRUST FUNDS and Walt asked AToday not to publish that because 3ABN was addressing that at that very moment. WERE THEY?

Therefore, my statement that 3ABN STILL HAD TRUST FUND ISSUES STEMS FROM THAT KNOWLEDGE!

I started screaming in 2004. Why else would God have dropped that in my lap. About that time, I felt all my screaming was a failure, yet I kept on with my then hopeless screaming.

I have no desire to be in power or be in any lime light. I just wanted the truth to be known. When Joy and Pickle came along, I said my piece and shut up to let them tie all the loose ends. My job was over until Shiny Penny came along. She provided the platform for my information one last time.

Folks, God is in charge! I believe he is leading through Joy and Pickle. Both men have been trying to work with and for God, even though 3ABN says they are of the devil. I know where the devil has been working. Joy and Pickle are doing their earthly best to do God's will! Praise be to God!

Gailon Joy and Bob Pickle (Oops, sorry Robert) They got sued because they started telling the truth! I now see how trivial this lawsuit really is. I can't believe his lawyers even bothered with the suit! All I can say is all it did was hurt Danny/3ABN/The 3ABN Board and now Amazing Facts! It had to be for the $$$ they stand to make from Danny/3ABN for this total nonsense.

I was told by someone very close to Doug that this lawsuit was a counter suit to a suit that Linda, Joy ,and Pickle filed against 3ABN/Danny! This does not look like a counter suit to me. Does it look like one to you? I wonder who started this lie?

Could it be that 3ABN is using this lawsuit to make it clear to the world that they ARE NOT SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTIST ANYTHING! Does this constitute breaking the 3ABN/SDA World Church Contract? It is so clear, it should cause that to happen fast!

Why the impounding? It was so 3ABN had time to finish their prepositioning and preplanning. I believe there is another big, big bang coming soon! Keep praying for Joy, Pickle, and their workers. Satan has not given up by any means!

What's gonna happen when Danny figures out he could very possible be suing the wrong people?

Thank you for allowing me to VENT my opinions. These opinions are subject to change as Bob and Gailon continue to reveal the truth that God brings to them.

Oh, I almost forgot, The horse sales/cash donations show yet another instance of VALUATION PROBLEMS at 3ABN. Everything is relative to Danny's opinions! Oops again.

Posted by: runner4him Jun 23 2007, 04:58 AM

> QUOTE(Shepherdswife @ Jun 22 2007, 09:46 PM)
>
> He'd better go ask his non-denominational, Sabbath-keeping, undiluted three angels messages, vegetarian churches for the money...

Great post Shepherdswife! He is going to be looking for a long long time to find that church.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jun 23 2007, 05:38 AM

QUOTE(princessdi @ Jun 22 2007, 06:39 PM)

I am really thinking that this, little tidbit, if not THE reason for the records being sealed, is in the top two. Everyone of "us"(Adventist and everyone else) believing that their doctrine is Advnetist doctrine. We did n't assume that, they said that!.....but wait a minute come to think of the, they really don't make that claim especially in ther little station identification...they just say they preach the three angels message.....Which is a definite 'assumed" affiliation with the SDA church, but they can say that didn't claim to be an Adventist network/ministry. Shady, just shady!

Whoever's watch it is at GC to look in at BSDA, it's time to cut that cord guys...looks like they already have the scissors in hand.

On the April 19 Merge Show, Danny made it clear that he and Doug believed in the same basic message (on the Live version Doug made the little disclaimer that he had chased a few ducks in his time) and that the message 3abn was preaching was the same one Danny had been taught by his mother. I don't remember his exact wording, but he referred to it as the message of the early believers.

This was one of the statements that caught my attention as it seemed as though they were positioning themselves apart from the SDA church at large.

If they were worried about the impact the "Little Group" has had on their donations, I think it will pale in comparison to the coming impact as word of this maneuver gets around.

BTW, I have a hard time accepting that Walt Thompson believes that 3abn is non-denominational. I wonder if they ran this bombshell by him before they included it in the lawsuit?

Posted by: beartrap Jun 23 2007, 08:28 AM

-edited-

Posted by: watchbird Jun 23 2007, 09:11 AM

QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Jun 23 2007, 07:38 AM)

On the April 19 Merge Show, Danny made it clear that he and Doug believed in the same basic message (on the Live version Doug made the little disclaimer that he had chased a few ducks in his time) and that the message 3abn was preaching was the same one Danny had been taught by his mother. I don't remember his exact wording, but he referred to it as the message of the early believers.

This was one of the statements that caught my attention as it seemed as though they were positioning themselves apart from the SDA church at large.

If they were worried about the impact the "Little Group" has had on their donations, I think it will pale in comparison to the coming impact as word of this maneuver gets around.

BTW, I have a hard time accepting that Walt Thompson believes that 3abn is non-denominational. I wonder if they ran this bombshell by him before they included it in the lawsuit?

This is no bombshell.... and nobody should be surprised. This has been their publicly stated position on their website for more than 15 years.

Please see my more detailed comments on this at http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=13900&view=findpost&p=201031 of the thread "Court Posts Legal Documents".

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jun 23 2007, 01:01 PM

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jun 23 2007, 08:11 AM)

This is no bombshell.... and nobody should be surprised. This has been their publicly stated position on their website for more than 15 years.

Please see my more detailed comments on this at http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=13900&view=findpost&p=201031 of the thread "Court Posts Legal Documents".

WB,

I understand your reasoning but I don't fully agree with it. We have just gone through quite a journey of exploration over whether or not the http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?showtopic=13733. The outcome was that the GC communications director, Rajmund Dabrowski, stated:

QUOTE

The General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists has received a number of inquiries into the status of Three Angels Broadcasting Network (3ABN) as a supporting ministry of the Church. There has been no change or review of the status of 3ABN as a supporting ministry by the Seventh-day Adventist Church. Due to ongoing administrative issues at 3ABN, the General Conference administration has taken a position that until these matters have been addressed that the General Conference personnel not involve 3ABN for new program development and production. This approach does not reflect that the General Conference is taking any particular position in issues which are under the purview of the Board of Directors of 3ABN, which is an independent supporting ministry. The GC's position applies to General Conference personnel.

http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=13733&view=findpost&p=198809

It has also been pointed out that reps from both 3abn and GC signed an agreement in 1997 and that they are members of ASI, etc. This makes their mission statement look as though they are trying to hide the fact that they are actually affiliated with the SDA denom rather than truly presenting themselves as non-denominational, IMO.

Posted by: watchbird Jun 23 2007, 01:56 PM

QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Jun 23 2007, 03:01 PM)

WB,

I understand your reasoning but I don't fully agree with it. We have just gone through quite a journey of exploration over whether or not the http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?showtopic=13733. The outcome was that the GC communications director, Rajmund Dabrowski, stated:
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=13733&view=findpost&p=198809

It has also been pointed out that reps from both 3abn and GC signed an agreement in 1997 and that they are members of ASI, etc. This makes their mission statement look as though they are trying to hide the fact that they are actually affiliated with the SDA denom rather than truly presenting themselves as non-denominational, IMO.

Did you read my post in the other thread? Yes... 3abn started out stating that they were an independent but supporting ministry of the SDA church. Throughout the year 1997 they engaged in a lengthy series of discussions... see the documents elsewhere here on BSDA.... in which the GC tried to get them to sign a contract with them. 3abn refused... and the letters stating that are here also... and then, inexplicably, in the fall of 1997, the GC signed that agreement with them, in which the GC gave everything to 3abn... with none of the safeguards of a contract... no time limits, no conditions, no ways of breaking away from the agreement.

3abn almost immediately put it on their website, and those who have "sold" for 3abn since that time say that they have pulled it out and used it whenever there was any resistance to their entering a territory.

So now.... the agreement is supposedly "still in force"... yet within 4 years of the signing of it, 3abn themselves were not claiming to be a supporting ministry... even on their own website.

So yes... it makes it look very strange... and gives them the ability... or they take the opportunity... to claim to be a supporting ministry or an independent ministry or completely unaffiliated with the church... whichever suits their purpose in any given environment at any given moment.

The "journey of exploration" over whether GC has removed their "supporting minsitry" status has nothing to do with the facts of life (and the doublespeak) of the past 10 years that they have had a web site. The question of what 3abn considers itself is quite apart from any action of the GC... and my point is that for 3abn to (at the present moment) declare that it is a non-denominational entity is nothing new... and since that has been publicly proclaimed on their website for all these years... should come as no surprise to anyone....or at least to none who have access to a computer.

Posted by: Pickle Jun 23 2007, 02:16 PM

I agree, WB, that there is a problem with perception, since when my father read the statement on their website, he took it to mean that 3ABN is not affiliated with any church, denomination, or organization. So people definitely perceive it in the way you describe.

However, the statement on their website only specifically denies being owned, operated, or funded by any church, denomination, or organization. Thus that statement, unlike the lawsuit, doesn't deny affiliation with ASI or the GC.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jun 23 2007, 03:21 PM

QUOTE(Pickle @ Jun 23 2007, 02:16 PM)

I agree, WB, that there is a problem with perception, since when my father read the statement on their website, he took it to mean that 3ABN is not affiliated with any church, denomination, or organization. So people definitely perceive it in the way you describe.

However, the statement on their website only specifically denies being owned, operated, or funded by any church, denomination, or organization. Thus that statement, unlike the lawsuit, doesn't deny affiliation with ASI or the GC.

The lawsuit needs to be considered independently of everything else, since only those things submitted to the court will be considered. So, if you look at the lawsuit, by itself, it says:

"Although many of 3ABN's employees and volunteers, including Plaintiff Shelton, are members of the Seventh-Day Adventist faith, 3ABN is a non-denominational Christian ministry which is not owned by, affiliated with, or financed by any specific church, denomination, or organization."

The following is what that above statement says to me in my own opinionated paraphrase:

"Despite the fact that we have Adventist employees here, we are not affiliated or controlled by their "specific" denomination. We're non-denominational and totally independent - no strings attached whatsoever to those Adventists.

Failing to recognize this fact, and through no fault of our own, those Seventh-day Adventists have developed an unhealthy interest in our totally independent, non-denominational ministry and seem to have a fixation upon us for no reason that we can understand, Your Honor. Where the Adventists got 3ABN's name and address we do not know." .

My two cents.

Posted by: Observer Jun 23 2007, 04:12 PM

> QUOTE(Ralph @ Jun 22 2007, 09:16 PM) ☐
>
> One lawyer described Pro Se this way, "He who is his own lawyer has a fool for a client." Even if it is in concert with Defendant Pickle's counsel, it is worth remembering that two experienced lawyers will be representing the Plaintiffs.

Wrong!

Read the documents opened by the court.

Six (6) highly qualified lawyers represented 3-ABN and Danny Shelton.

Also, one non-lawyer wrote the brief that persuaded the judge to release the legal documents to the public, and post them on the website. One non-lawyer, G. A. Joy, won the first round against six (6) well qualified lawyers!

For those who want to know, get the documents that the six presented to the court as to why the documents should remaing sealed.

Then read Gailon's response.

For your interest:

The brief of the six: 26 initial pages, plus 55 pages of attachments, statements, etc.

Gailon's brief: 24 pages

Those documents are interesting reading.

Even more interesting is the one-page ruling of the judge as to why the documents should be made available to the public. The bottom line is that it blasts the plaintiff's attempt to impound the documents.

Here is part of the closing paragraph in the document:

> QUOTE
>
> Simply put. Plaintiffs Motion and proposed order seeks insidious violation of the Local Rule . . .that is designed to be oppresive and restictive of the Plaintiff's rights (sic.) the rights of other jurisdictions and abuses the clear Local Rule 7.2 of this Honorable Court.

In the beginning paragraph of this order to open the records, the judge says:

> QUOTE
>
> Impoundment of this case . . . is unconstitutional as a violation of the First Ammendment right of Freedom of the Press, violates the common law of public access, and is unsupported by caselaw, particularly in the First Circuit.

In the second paragraph the judge calls the wishes of the plaintiff's to be "outrageous proposals."

Folks, this order simply, in my mind, destroys just about everything that the Plaintiff's asked for in their requst to impound.

In round one, the Pro Se did not have a fool for a client.

However, this is only round one. We expected to win this one. There will be other rounds, before the main battle. The war has not yet been won.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jun 23 2007, 04:25 PM

> QUOTE(Observer @ Jun 23 2007, 04:12 PM)
>
> Six (6) highly qualified lawyers represented 3-ABN and Danny Shelton.

Meanwhile, some little orphan goes to bed hungry while money is lavished on a team a lawyers.

Posted by: Fran Jun 23 2007, 05:10 PM

> QUOTE(Observer @ Jun 23 2007, 05:12 PM)
>
> .
>
> In round one, the Pro Se did not have a fool for a client.

I totally agree! Joy is no fool! Neither is Pickle. I believe God is using both of them in a mighty ways!

It reminds me of Gideon. He won the war with God as his leader! You can't go wrong with God beside you! Even if the war is lost!

To me, a non-legal thinker, the lawsuit was a big joke. I read page after page and couldn't believe what those six (6) lawyers prepared. By the way, thanks for telling us how many lawyers were available for viewing!

It makes me wonder when they are going to sue because they have keys in their pocket.

I realize this is a very serious suit; that is why it is so funny to me, I guess. Danny had those six lawyers open several really big cans of worms! I couldn't help but think those lawyers were on Joy and Pickles side as hidden allies. I say that because they are not "stupid" by any means!

Posted by: Rosyroi Jun 23 2007, 06:18 PM

[quote][quote name='Fran' date='Jun 23 2007, 03:00 AM' post='201009']
[b]

[color=#000099]Bob!

This entirely my opinion.[/quote]
.....

Fran.....

Thank you SO much for continuing shouting even when you thought no one was listening!!!!!

hug.gif

rofl

than

I would have used more emoticons but I was limited.

This display shows just a small portion of how I feel now that you kept on shouting.

My opinion.

Rosyroi

Posted by: Artiste Jun 23 2007, 07:07 PM

Pickle, what other surprises are in the legal papers?

****

Posted by: steffan Jun 23 2007, 09:13 PM

QUOTE(Observer @ Jun 23 2007, 05:12 PM)

Folks, this order simply, in my mind, destroys just about everything that the Plaintiff's asked for in their requst to impound.

In round one, the Pro Se did not have a fool for a client.

However, this is only round one. We expected to win this one. There will be other rounds, before the main battle. The war has not yet been won.

Greg, for someone who tries to appear so knowledgable of the law (while of course playing it safe by then saying you are not an expert) I would think that you would assume that 3abn was told in advance that the judge would not grant a blanket impoundment. That is almost unheard of but it was procedure to request it. Then I notice that even though you say "the war is not won" you fail to mention the specifics concerning the lifting of the impoundment. The truth is that this specific "lifting" is only on this small portion of the case. It does not mean that there will not be future impoundments as each portion of the case is litigated. In other words, contrary to the reaction here, this was a totally expected judgement and not at all some huge victory. It certainly does not mean that this whole case will be open to the public. There will be motions made all down the long road. Some will be denied and some granted. The judge may very well impound some portions and not others.
As far as the credit you give Joy saying it was his brief that caused the judge to lift the impoundment....you have to be joking. I repeat, a blanket impoundment is almost never granted no matter who writes the brief refuting it. To even insinuate that "wannabe" Joy "pulled one over" on a highly qualified, respected and established lawfirm is quite ludicrous on your part.
As for Laird's part in the whole scenerio, well if his first appearance for Linda was without an actived license and the next court date he was a no show, I wouldn't hold my breath for any brilliant legal strategy from him. By the way, his request for yet another continuance on the marital property case arrived approx 15 minutes after the Judge ruled against Linda. The judge stated that contrary to what she said, she knew what she was signing when she signed the marital property agreement and the contract is valid. The judge sanctioned her and she will be responsible for paying Danny's attorney's fees for this part of the case, in which, she had no case (forgive the pun.)

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jun 23 2007, 09:23 PM

Steffan why would 3abn want to impound anything? If they are as transparent as they claim why not ask that all the documents and everything be made public? It appears they have things to hide when they ask for impoundments, contrary to their claims.

Richard

QUOTE(steffan @ Jun 23 2007, 11:13 PM)

Greg, for someone who tries to appear so knowledgable of the law (while of course playing it safe by then saying you are not an expert) I would think that you would assume that 3abn was told in advance that the judge would not grant a blanket impoundment. That is almost unheard of but it was procedure to request it. Then I notice that even though you say "the war is not won" you fail to mention the specifics concerning the lifting of the impoundment. The truth is that this specific "lifting" is only on this small portion of the case. It does not mean that there will not be future impoundments as each portion of the case is litigated. In other words, contrary to the reaction here, this was a totally expected judgement and not at all some huge victory. It certainly does not mean that this whole case will be open to the public. There will be motions made all down the long road. Some will be denied and some granted. The judge may very well impound some portions and not others.
As far as the credit you give Joy saying it was his brief that caused the judge to lift the impoundment....you have to be joking. I repeat, a blanket impoundment is almost never granted no matter who writes the brief refuting it. To even insinuate that "wannabe" Joy "pulled one over" on a highly qualified, respected and established lawfirm is quite ludicrous on your part.
As for Laird's part in the whole scenerio, well if his first appearance for Linda was without an actived license and the next court date he was a no show, I wouldn't hold my breath for any brilliant legal strategy from him. By the way, his request for yet another continuance on the marital property case arrived approx 15 minutes after the Judge ruled against Linda. The judge stated that contrary to what she said, she knew what she was signing when she signed the marital property agreement and the contract is valid. The judge sanctioned her and she will be responsible for paying Danny's attorney's fees for this part of the case, in which, she had no case (forgive the pun.)

Posted by: mikell Jun 23 2007, 09:58 PM

Steffan, I seem to miss your reply to PeacefullBewildered's question, remember what she wrote questioning you being in the "know" of 3ABN:

"I am curious to know how it is you know what the attorneys advised 3abn months ago. What is your source for this information? I know you profess to be in a unique position of knowledge, but how are we to give your statement much credibility when 3abn Board Chairman Walt Thompson said this about you:"

From: Walt Thompson [wrote this about Steffan]....

"No, Steffan does not represent 3abn or Danny. He is not in a position of authority to know what is going on..."

PeacefullyBewildered asked a very good questions, and Steffan, I am sure you have for us a good answers to PeacefullBewildered's question, , don't you???

Posted by: ex3ABNemployee Jun 23 2007, 10:20 PM

QUOTE(steffan @ Jun 23 2007, 10:13 PM)

Greg, for someone who tries to appear so knowledgable of the law (while of course playing it safe by then saying you are not an expert) I would think that you would assume that 3abn was told in advance that the judge would not grant a blanket impoundment. That is almost unheard of but it was procedure to request it. Then I notice that even though you say "the war is not won" you fail to mention the specifics concerning the lifting of the impoundment. The truth is that this specific "lifting" is only on this small portion of the case. It does not mean that there will not be future impoundments as each portion of the case is litigated. In other words, contrary to the reaction here, this was a totally expected judgement and not at all some huge victory. It certainly does not mean that this whole case will be open to the public. There will be motions made all down the long road. Some will be denied and some granted. The judge may very well impound some portions and not others.
As far as the credit you give Joy saying it was his brief that caused the judge to lift the impoundment....you have to be joking. I repeat, a blanket impoundment is almost never granted no matter who writes the brief refuting it. To even insinuate that "wannabe" Joy "pulled one over" on a highly qualified, respected and established lawfirm is quite ludicrous on your part.
As for Laird's part in the whole scenerio, well if his first appearance for Linda was without an actived license and the next court date he was a no show, I wouldn't hold my breath for any brilliant legal strategy from him. By the way, his request for yet another continuance on the marital property case arrived approx 15 minutes after the Judge ruled against Linda. The judge stated that contrary to what she said, she knew what she was signing when she signed the marital property agreement and the contract is valid. The judge sanctioned her and she will be responsible for paying Danny's attorney's fees for this part of the case, in which, she had no case (forgive the pun.)

Translation:

Oh, yeah, well....ummm.....we knew that would happen."

Posted by: Skyhook Jun 23 2007, 11:22 PM

QUOTE(mikell @ Jun 23 2007, 10:58 PM)

Steffan, I seem to miss your reply to PeacefullBewildered's question, remember what she wrote to you in questioning you being in the "know" of 3ABN:

PeacefullyBewildered asked a very good questions, and Steffan, I am sure you have for us a good answer to PeacefullBewildered's question, , don't you???

Maybe Walt just had his fingers crossed when he made those statements.

Or maybe he and the others adhere to something like the Jesuit code that gives them license to do or say anything as long as it is in the service of protecting "The Ministry."

Or perhaps Walt said "Steffan does not represent 3abn" meaning "nobody whose real name is Steffan represents 3abn." Just like Mollie said "3abn owns no plane."

There are lots was to dissemble.

Or maybe Walt was telling the truth.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jun 23 2007, 11:40 PM

QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jun 23 2007, 01:21 PM)

The lawsuit needs to be considered independently of everything else, since only those things submitted to the court will be considered. So, if you look at the lawsuit, by itself, it says:

"Although many of 3ABN's employees and volunteers, including Plaintiff Shelton, are members of the Seventh-Day Adventist faith, 3ABN is a non-denominational Christian ministry which is not owned by, affiliated with, or financed by any specific church, denomination, or organization."

The following is what that above statement says to me in my own opinionated paraphrase:

"Despite the fact that we have Adventist employees here, we are not affiliated or controlled by their "specific" denomination. We're non-denominational and totally independent - no strings attached whatsoever to those Adventists.

Failing to recognize this fact, and through no fault of our own, those Seventh-day Adventists have developed an unhealthy interest in our totally independent, non-denominational ministry and seem to have a fixation upon us for no reason that we can understand, Your Honor. Where the Adventists got 3ABN's name and address we do not know." .

My two cents.

And furthermore, Your Honor, please disregard the fact that the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists (who for some reason have concluded that we are a supporting ministy of their denomination) have, heretofore, allowed us free access to hold rallies in their churches in order to raise funds from Seventh-day Adventists to run our non-denominational and totally independent - no strings attached ministry, although we can't understand why they would continue to shower us with money at these rallies but extrapolate that it is probably because of this same unhealthy fixation they, for no reason that we can understand, seem to have upon us.

Posted by: Snoopy Jun 23 2007, 11:47 PM

QUOTE(steffan @ Jun 23 2007, 09:13 PM)

Greg, for someone who tries to appear so knowledgable of the law (while of course playing it safe by then saying you are not an expert) I would think that you would assume that 3abn was told in advance that the judge would not grant a blanket impoundment. That is almost unheard of but it was procedure to request it. Then I notice that even though you say "the war is not won" you fail to mention the specifics concerning the lifting of the impoundment. The truth is that this specific "lifting" is only on this small portion of the case. It does not mean that there will not be future impoundments as each portion of the case is litigated. In other words, contrary to the reaction here, this was a totally expected judgement and not at all some huge victory. It certainly does not mean that this whole case will be open to the public. There will be motions made all down the long road. Some will be denied and some granted. The judge may very well impound some portions and not others.
As far as the credit you give Joy saying it was his brief that caused the judge to lift the impoundment....you have to be joking. I repeat, a blanket impoundment is almost never granted no matter who writes the brief refuting it. To even insinuate that "wannabe" Joy "pulled one over" on a highly qualified, respected and established lawfirm is quite ludicrous on your part.
As for Laird's part in the whole scenerio, well if his first appearance for Linda was without an actived license and the next court date he was a no show, I wouldn't hold my breath for any brilliant legal strategy from him. By the way, his request for yet another continuance on the marital property case arrived approx 15 minutes after the Judge ruled against Linda. The judge stated that contrary to what she said, she knew what she was signing when she signed the marital property agreement and the contract is valid. The judge sanctioned her and she will be responsible for paying Danny's attorney's fees for this part of the case, in which, she had no case (forgive the pun.)

Very interesting Steffan. There are probably not too many folks who would know the activity in the courtroom down to the minute. I guess it is safe to assume you were there....

Since you are so close to Danny that you even attend his court appearances, maybe you could remind him that since he personally is a co-plaintiff in the copyright/slander suit and "someone" is allegedly paying for his legal expenses, he will need to claim that as taxable income on his personal income tax return... But then again, I'm sure one of his 6 lawyers has already advised him of that...

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jun 23 2007, 11:55 PM

QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Jun 23 2007, 11:40 PM)

And furthermore, Your Honor, please disregard the fact that the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists (who for some reason have concluded that we are a supporting ministy of their denomination) have, heretofore, allowed us free access to hold rallies in their churches in order to raise funds from Seventh-day Adventists to run our non-denominational and totally independent - no strings attached ministry, although we can't understand why they would continue to shower us with money at these rallies but extrapolate that it is probably because of this same unhealthy fixation they, for no reason that we can understand, seem to have upon us.

rofl rofl rofl rofl

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jun 24 2007, 12:06 AM

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jun 23 2007, 11:56 AM)

Did you read my post in the other thread? Yes... 3abn started out stating that they were an independent but supporting ministry of the SDA church. Throughout the year 1997 they engaged in a lengthy series of discussions... see the documents elsewhere here on BSDA.... in which the GC tried to get them to sign a contract with them. 3abn refused... and the letters stating that are here also... and then, inexplicably, in the fall of 1997, the GC signed that agreement with them, in which the GC gave everything to 3abn... with none of the safeguards of a contract... no time limits, no conditions, no ways of breaking away from the agreement.

3abn almost immediately put it on their website, and those who have "sold" for 3abn since that time say that they have pulled it out and used it whenever there was any resistance to their entering a territory.

So now.... the agreement is supposedly "still in force"... yet within 4 years of the signing of it, 3abn themselves were not claiming to be a supporting ministry... even on their own website.

So yes... it makes it look very strange... and gives them the ability... or they take the opportunity... to claim to be a supporting ministry or an independent ministry or completely unaffiliated with the church... whichever suits their purpose in any given environment at any given moment.

The "journey of exploration" over whether GC has removed their "supporting minsitry" status has nothing to do with the facts of life (and the doublespeak) of the past 10 years that they have had a web site. The question of what 3abn considers itself is quite apart from any action of the GC... and my point is that for 3abn to (at the present moment) declare that it is a non-denominational entity is nothing new... and since that has been publicly proclaimed on their website for all these years... should come as no surprise to anyone....or at least to none who have access to a computer.

Yes, WB, I did read your other thread. I understand what you are saying and you are, undoubtedly, correct for all of the reasons you stated. As one who has watched 3abn for several years, perhaps I assumed from some of the programming that I watched that they were at least purporting to represent the Seventh-day Adventist beliefs so it did come as a surprise to me when I read the non-denominational disclaimer in the lawsuit (even thought I actually do have a computer). I guess my undoing was in not reading what they had publically proclaimed on their website.

I do appreciate your perspective as well as the information you have provided on the history of the 1997 GC/3abn agreement and the maneuvering 3abn has done to distance themselves ever since. And yet, I believe there are going to be a quite a few semi-intelligent folks like me who are going to be just as surprised when they read the lawsuit.

Posted by: Observer Jun 24 2007, 04:36 AM

Steffan:

Thank you for responding. I wanted to hear from someone on 3-ABN's side who would comment in some way on this, and someone who was knowledgeable. I credit you with being knowlegeable, so thank you for sharing with us.

You will note in my responses that I agree with much of what you have said.

QUOTE(steffan @ Jun 23 2007, 08:13 PM)

Greg, for someone who tries to appear so knowledgable of the law (while of course playing it safe by then saying you are not an expert) I would think that you would assume that 3abn was told in advance that the judge would not grant a blanket impoundment. That is almost unheard of but it was procedure to request it.

agree with you in the above. I did not suggest such as I did not want to be accused of speculating. While I lo speculate at times, I do make some attempts to minimize such, and to keep such to some of the more mportant or interesting issues (interesting to me, I suppose).

Now that you have raised the subject, I will speculate some, and beyond the information that you have given ıs. I suspect that the MA lawyers probably expected the judge to lift the impoundment. One of the reasons hat they were probably retained, and there were others, was that they were expected to understand the udicial temperment of the judge. As such they would be expected to know what arguements would be ıccepted by the judge, and how the judge would likely rule on motions submitted to him.

The bottom line is that I will suggest that the MA lawyers expected the judge to lift the impoundment. I also ıgree that it would be typical proceedure to request such. However, I am surprised by the manner in which he judge ruled against the motion to permantly impound. While I may be wrong, it suggsts to me that the awyers who submitted it were, so to speak, caught with their pants down. It essentially, in my mind, lestroyed every arguement that they raised. I cannot immagine any lawyer submitting a motion to a court if hat lawyer expected it to be as totally rejected as that motion was rejected. There is a bite to the judges uling that I did not expect, and I suspect the lawyers who subitted it did not expect such.

QUOTE

Then I notice that even though you say "the war is not won" you fail to mention the specifics concerning the lifting of the impoundment. The truth is that this specific "lifting" is only on this small portion of the case. It does not mean that there will not be future impoundments as each portion of the case is litigated. In other words, contrary to the reaction here, this was a totally expected judgement and not at all some huge victory. It certainly does not mean that this whole case will be open to the public. There will be motions made all down the long road. Some will be denied and some granted. The judge may very well impound some portions and not others.

Of course you are corect. I think that you will acknowedge that any future orders to impound will not be ıranted on the basis of the motion which was soundly rejected. Yes, I agree that individual motions to mpound may be granted. But, read the judges order. I will suggst that it clearly tells us that the judge is ınlikely to impound in the future on any kind of a wide basis.

By saying that the war was not won, I wanted peple to know that this was just a skirmish, and not the final battle. There is much more. I expect that the Plaintiff's may win some battles. But, if they do it will still emain to be seen whether or not they will win the war.

QUOTE

As far as the credit you give Joy saying it was his brief that caused the judge to lift the impoundment....you have to be joking. I repeat, a blanket impoundment is almost never granted no matter who writes the brief refuting it. To even insinuate that "wannabe" Joy "pulled one over" on a highly qualified, respected and established lawfirm is quite ludicrous on your part.

do not think that this is 100 per-cent accurate.

NOTE: I have not reviewed the documents, this morning, that I have printed off before writing this. So, please correct me if my memory is inaccurate in any way.

The plaintiff asked the court to impound on a number of issues. One of the issues was that there was no 4th Ammendment, Freedom of the Press right in regard to Mr. Joy being a member of the press.

We expected that the court would rule that there was a 4th ammendemtn Freedom of the Press right, and that is what the court did.

I wll say again: I am dumbfounded by the tone of the judges ruling against impoundment. In my opinion, it essentially cut the legs off,s so to speak, of the plaintiff's arguement. I will acknowledge that lawyers may submitt motions'which they think may be rejected. I am not aquainted with them typically submitting motions that in my opinion are so soundly rejected. Perhaps they expected such. I do not think so.

> QUOTE
>
