Teresa, if Walt Thompson is correct that Danny told him that the allegations are 30 years old, what sort of disciplinary action do you feel should be taken against Danny, since the allegations are clearly not just that old?

I just want to make sure we're on the same page as far as the seriousness of everything goes. Then we can proceed to evaluate the credibility of the various witnesses.

And those witnesses include one that claims to have been in the house with Tommy laying on the floor and with Danny standing there about 21 years ago when an alleged victim and his parents were bringing a gift car back to Tommy. This witness says Tommy was beside himself and saying, "I can't believe he's doing this to me. Call Alison. He's the only one who can fix this." So we have an account that puts Danny in the know 21 years ago, and that's a lot sooner than 30 years ago.

And then there's the victims who say that Tommy has never apologized, contrary to what Walt says that Danny told him.

QUOTE(Teresa Reiman @ Jan 16 2007, 11:53 AM)

There is so much on here that is fabricated. Just read all the stuff. The Bible and Ellen White have plenty to say about slander, gossip and talebearing.

Which has? I for one would much appreciate your sharing what you know for sure and can prove for sure has been fabricated about Tommy.

And if you are that much in the know, I would hazard a guess that you must indeed be Teresa Shelton.

Whatever, lady... you and those of your ilk keep running with the same tactic, trying to defame the messenger in the hope that folk will stop listening to what they are saying...

Prove them wrong... if you can... or admit that you cant.

If you could, I believe it would have been done a long time ago... since it was requested a long time ago and nothing has been produced aside from the ad hominem games and the " oh we have proof but you'll just have to trust us" foolishness.

Cut to the chase.

Put up or shut up.

Your move.

Mr. J you are a very direct talker. Your words lack emotion but I will assume you are a kind person. I believe that the True Messenger has already defamed your messenger. Please take sometime today for a daily devotional and read what the True Messenger has to say about your messenger.

This is just a point of reference. I just want to ask exactly how many Sheltons there are. i.e. brother, sisters, and are we talking cousins, etc?

The more truth that is revealed, the greater the desperation becomes. If eyewitness is so close to the situation, perhaps he should ask Rick Shelton his opinion of the allegations made against his father and publish that email. It might make a very interesting read.

I don't have a messenger... and what is demanded of you is no different than was was required of the other side. If you had actually bothered to read what is here, you'd know that.

Still waiting for you to give specific facts that refute specific things stated.

If you are unwilling or unable to do that, just say so and the things you say will be given the proper value that they merit.

Still your move... and the clock is ticking.

Pickle Well as we proceed here. I will not address the subjects of guilty or innocent. For one, it will make no difference what I think. Two, with what judgment one uses the same they will receive. Again idenity has nothing to do with truth! The big thing is that when a statement goes out it needs to be, only, Pickle what the statment is! Without your tanted insinuation placed upon it.
Your bidding I understand is truth. Your goal is justice. Tell me Pickle who do you have in mind that could take the Danny position and preform this to your standards? I question, if God called Danny to build such a ministry, would God need you to take him out?

If you have it, post it. If you don't, lurking might be the best thing for you to do. We already know that you disagree witht he evidence so far. I'm clearly not Mr. Pickle, but may I ask you something? What gives you the absolute knowledge that God CALLED Danny Shelton? It's just a question. I think the answers that come to your mind might need to really be thought over, and please, use bible examples when you are thinking it over.

God doesn't need anybody to do anything. However, He uses whom ever He chooses. Now, God could have very well called Danny. Many people are yet and still being blessed by that ministry, but we can ask King Saul about having that favor taken away.

God uses not only whom ever He chooses, but whatever He chooses. He wastes nothing. There is nothing saying anyone is called, but God will use anything to reach people. That by NO MEANS protects or guarentees DS or anyone of anything. Many people have poored blood sweat and tears (and TONS OF MONEY) into that ministry, FOR GOD. Hopefully not for Danny Shelton. Stop assuming that DS is hand in hand with God just because of what you SEE on TV. There is much more to the "behind the scenes" of someone's real life then what is seen on the television. If we don't wake up and realize it's not a PERSON, it's a GOD that does anything good, we shall surely follow a MAN instead of a God. And btw, you do reap what you sew, and that goes for anyone "doing" God's will - as they may say. What happens to a person in this life is largely a consequence of their "fruits" and that happens by way of the other people on this planet that we have to live with. God uses them as well - for His purpose. We have laws of the land, and also morality. If you break those, it's bound to come back to you, one way or another, and often in many ways. If you mistreat someone, God can surely bring that to the table and make you face it. None of us are exempt from that. Do you think this happens magically??? It happens through justice of the land, done through people, based on principal and example, and that's found in the bible too.

am very sorry for calling you Pickle my mistake. You ask was Danny called? What other human to that point could of done or should I say has been done only by HUMAN efforts? Danny was uneducated, poor man, really no connections he didn't know anyone but the Saviour. No one else to that day had ever attempted such a ask. The SDA Church itself has not been able to expand to the degree of 3ABN to this day. all the chuches TV outreach to the entire world... together... doesn't amount to 3ABN's coverage. Does this sound like the work of a human? Lets look at Moses. Speach problem, eduacated in a heathen land. David the lest likly canidate and look what God did with him. Abraham was old, Jacob was insecure, Leah was unattractive, Joseph was abused, Gideon was poor, Samson was codependent, Rahab was immoral, David had an affair and all kinds of family problems, Elijah was suicidal, Jermiah was depressed, Jonah was reluctant, Naomi was a widow, John the Baptist was eccentric to say the least, Peter was impulsive and hot tempered, Martha worried alot, The samaritan women had several failed marriages, Zacchaeus was unpopular, Thomas had doubts, Paul had poor health, and Timothy was timid. That will give you quite a varity misfits but God used each of them in His service. So I would say Danny Shelton is in good company and his humaness shows through just as like these above. Did God call these men? Did God call Danny? Look at the fruits of the labor.

As to what you said here, and I'm sure I won't be the only one addressing this, I will comment on your thinking, which I have colored in red.

Have you decided that God did it or Danny? I can't tell by your words...it seems somewhat worshipful of a man to me...
God can do anything in spite of a person. But, you are giving credit to Danny as if he got this done thru God. A man can be VERY determined to do anything he sets his mind to (and if you know DS, he is all about determination and not giving up when he wants something) and so based on his motives and minipulation tactics, he could very well get something accomplished like this. You're picture of how this happend has been given to you by DS as well. It is given to you, and others for the purpose of saying "God did this and used me" for credibility sake. You are looking to a man and assuming GOD did this. God may have made something good come from what DS set out to do for many reasons that could have been very selfishly motivated. I will not assume anything as you have - I certainly can not take DS word on how things came about as I know that he has exagerated and mislead in this area to give a picture he wanted out in order to gain support and to promote exactly what you have now projected. Again, do you really know his fruits? If you are to find out his fruits, as you willing to admit he is a mere man who is faulty and God used that building and those volunteers in spite of the man? This picture is much bigger then you would like to sum up in your mind. Why don't you let God show you exactly what He has done in spite of DS and his real motives. Don't be mesmerized by what you have been taught and lead to see. Open your eyes.

If you are being deceived, would you like to know it or not? Would you rather sit in your ideas of what feels warm and fuzzy, part of that is thinking you see God doing what you THINK God is doing, or would you like to see more of the picture? God wants us to SEE, not be deceived.

Yes, di, I see we are in agreement . My feeling is also that while you can be uncalled, I really can't and won't say that someone has been called. And I have been around a lot of so called "called" people. To me that changes the direction (I'm sure there is a better word for this) in ones mind of what happens and can happen, the human phyche can be mislead if you are locked in to this "no matter what" thinking. I've seen it in my own family, and it terrifies me to see it - this hanging on to a man rather then a God. To me it holds you back from really seeing evil and sin in all its forms.

Well, now we do have to look at the fact that the ministry is still there and blessing people, bringing them to Christ. We can't discount the many people who still say it is a blessing to them daily. We also know that there are Godly people working there, some of our members here, the Eakins, etc. who are true Christian people ministering. So, Danny could have been called to start it, but like Saul his sinful ways are causing him to be "uncalled". He is suffering the consequences of his personal choices.

I am specifically talking of a mans motives. Nothing more. Read what I said. There are people who have given their money and time in dedication to that ministry that has done good. NO one said it hasn't. Linda gave 200%. There are people there now that are doing the same. This has nothing to do with that. This has to do with a mans motives to get what he wants for any reason. I will never assume anything, that includes his motives. That is my point. Called or uncalled. It makes no differnce to me. That fact remains that this mans motives are extremely questionable. And yes, even Linda may also wonder now as well. People can be in the same house and same business and be on very different pages. Only God knows the heart of a person. We have the fruits to go by, and that's isn't numbers coming into the church - many people can accomplish numbers. God gets the numbers, not a man.

Well, now we do have to look at the fact that the ministry is still there and blessing people, bringing them to Christ. We can't discount the many people who still say it is a blessing to them daily. We also know that there are Godly people working there, some of our members here, the Eakins, etc. who are true Christian people ministering. So, Danny could have been called to start it, but like Saul his sinful ways are causing him to be "uncalled". He is suffering the consequences of his personal choices.

Yes, Di, maybe he was, or maybe he wasn't, but God got the job done in spite of him. There are other people involved in this ministry (that includes Linda) that were in it for just the obvious reaching people for the Lord reasons (to be clear on what I am saying the reasons are). And thank God He has done what He has through it. At the same time, I have also seen a large group of people who have come to worship Danny, not God. Even Linda warned Danny this was not right.

Pardon me, but that is one of the best NON-answers I have seen! Excellent ability to subvert the original, warm and sincere question posed to you by Johann. I am not in either "camp" here, just trying to learn from those who have firsthand knowledge of what happened. It surely does sound to me like you have some relevant information, but prefer to dance around it rather than just putting it out there. In no way is this meant as an attack...just an observation...

Snoopy Topics are the question. Which topic will be discussed to prove fabrication. Johann and Pickles control this. There is much fabrication, on what points I will comment, is my choice.
Eye Witness tried to open some opportunity on some facts and they choose to not talk. They only want to discuss a charge that no one can prove but the court of law. Could it be that people are being lead by a deception here? Could there be another motive to all this, this stuff? Who is winning? I guess really who are the players? The bigger question what is the prize in the end, if there ever is one? I not dancing just showing some respect.

I am specifically talking of a mans motives. Nothing more. Read what I said. There are people who have given their money and time in dedication to that ministry that has done good. NO one said it hasn't. Linda gave 200%. There are people there now that are doing the same. This has nothing to do with that. This has to do with a mans motives to get what he wants for any reason. I will never assume anything, that includes his motives. That is my point. Called or uncalled. It makes no differnce to me. That fact remains that this mans motives are extremely questionable. And yes, even Linda may also wonder now as well. People can be in the same house and same business and be on very different pages. Only God knows the heart of a person. We have the fruits to go by, and that's isn't numbers coming into the church - many people can accomplish numbers. God gets the numbers, not a man.
Yes, Di, maybe he was, or maybe he wasn't, but God got the job done in spite of him. Yes this goes with the territory of being on TV. The falicy of people. Out of Danny and Linda's control of course. That is within the person who is doing the following. So Linda warned Danny, what suggestions would you make to Danny to stop these people who seek after an idol. Can man change man's heart? Not at all. This is the Holy Spirits job. I am sure Linda would tell you as well that she has such people still to this day. What can she do? Pray for them! Wasn't there even a time when Linda got her hair cut because a person wanted a keep sack? That would . .. .not set with me well either. But what can you do?

Again, I am not talking of the people watching the tv with regard to the "prophet" idea and worship of a man, although that has taken place as well - I am talking of the man, DS. Linda told him, he didn't mind, and he allowed the worship- and let me remind you , this came from WITH IN the compound, not the tv screen. Danny likes it. Plain and simple.

I think, Teresa, that somehow you are part of the cover up. Don't know how else to describe it.

There is sin in the camp, and until it is taken care of, God will not bless His people as He wants to do. Lying, attacking, accusing, distracting, threatening, intimidating, all to cover up allegations of a) child molestation and b) propositioning men, allegations that Tommy himself admits to, at least in part, and you choose to be part of that? Why? Why would you be involved in something so ungodly?

Whether the allegations prove true or false, this is absolutely the wrong way to deal with such allegations. If you think otherwise, go talk to a conference administrator somewhere. Go talk to your insurance agent. Go talk to your sheriff or police chief. Go talk to the local Catholic bishop.

And then come here and tell us what they had to say.

The prize in the end is the glory of God... the releasing of prisoners of fear... and the exposure and dethronement of evil.

Yes, Teresa, whoever you are and for whatever reason, you ARE "dancing" rather than showing respect to those who are attempting to dialogue with you. And you are are not only showing disrespect to us, but you are showing disrespect for yourself.... for you are tripping over your own feet.

You would be well advised... if you have any shred of self-respect even... to either answer the questions directly or stop making more oblique accusations. If you have specific complaints... for example that you object to your letter having been made public... then have the guts to say exactly that. Own the letter and explain why you wrote it and why you aren't brave enough to own up to it now. If you don't... then give up on the distraction game. This group is not that easily distracted and you are liable to get trampled in the mud if you try to play it.

As it is, you are doing nothing but continually making yourself look more emptyheaded and crass.

It is not too late to redeem yourself... .this is a very forgiving and understanding group to anyone who is playing fair and honest with them.

And the Bible and Ellen White have plenty to say about immoral behavior.
Have you read 1Corinthians 5? I suggest you do so. It is very clear on the bad influence those who claim to be Christians but instead have the fruits of fallen Lucifer. It is also clear on what to do with these dangerous people.

Beware lest you deal harshly with those who you think have made mistakes, while others, more guilty and more deserving of reproof, who should be severely rebuked for their unChristlike conduct, are sustained and treated as friends."--RH Mar. 12, 1895.

So you, eye witness, kaiser Schlobotnick, Bystander, wwjd and others who seem to interpret what we are doing here on the 3abn Forum as gossip and slander are in an interesting position. You are harshly judging those of us who are loyal to God and have a burden to expose some dangerous conditions in a ministry that was set up to spread the undiluted message, but all the while allowing behavior to flourish around you that is damaging to the reputation of that ministry, the Seventh-day Adventist church and the character of Christians in general.

Yes, we are all sinners saved by Grace. But when there are cherished sins that are unrepented of, damaged lives that have not received proper restitution and an intentional cover up of the behavior, how can that Grace truly be available?

I know for myself, when I admit to those I have harmed that I was wrong it is a liberating experience. It is good for the soul!

You can find your answers in official both records denominational and other official records. Here is what you will find:

1) Academy: Bob Pickle made a short one sentence statement in regard to this. The actual facts are available on denominational websites. They will reveal a relationship, as Bob has stated. Some might believe that the extent of that relationship properly takes more than the one sentence that Bob made in describing it. But, Bob was correct in his essential comment. There is a relationship (unless changed in the past few weeks). That relationship is such that under some conditions attempts could be made to hold the IL Conference financially liable. Bob is correct in that.

2) IL Conference sitting on the 3-ABN Board: That has officially existed for some time. Unless it has recently changed, which I doubt, he still does.

3) 3-ABN on the IL Conference Executive Board: In more recent times that has been true. Unless there has been a recent change, 3-ABN still has a person on the IL Conference Board.

4) Under some conditions # 2 & 3 could result in people attempting to hold the IL Conference financially liable. It is a potential problem. Bob is correct.

NOTE: The conditions under which 3-ABN added a person to the IL Conference Board are clearly within denominational policy.

Hi Joe.

Check out http://www.bvanet.org/. Up at the top look at the banner. It says that Broadview Academy has a campus at Thompsonville. That campus is part of a pilot project that just started, so I am a little unclear what exactly is happening this year. It got voted by May of last year as indicated by http://www.kdenslow.blogspot.com/, which says that the location of this satellite campus is supposed to be the Thompsonville school. I'm told there was talk about building dormitories as well.

As far as Mollie sitting on the conference committee goes, all I can say is that when I mentioned this in relation to another issue to some folks that work for the conference office there, they didn't correct me on that one, while they did correct me on another personnel issue.

It's not really a "documentation" type of issue, but it's there for those who seem to need or want it.

In 2005, Mollie Steenson was listed in the constituency newsletter. Click the link and look at the PDF file if you wish.

I haven't checked since then. At that time, there were three people, working with 3ABN, listed on the executive committee. Just go to the PDF newsletter and look in the blue box on the right-hand side of page 2.

Joe Smith,

The website for Broadview Academy has the following listing under staff:

Genny Grinley, Thompsonville Campus, Facilitator
618-627-2065, Thompsonville Campus

Why don't you call the above listed telephone number, ask for Genny Grinley and get the information directly from her. I am sure that Ms. Grinley can give you directions to the exact location of the Thompsonville Campus of Broadview Academy. Mr. Pickle, is not a resident of Thompsonville and can not just jump into his car and take a picture of the school and post it on this site. Since you know the way to 3ABN, you can do you own leg work or let your fingers do the walking and call Genny Grinley.

No human being is irreplaceable in any position in any ministry or organization, if that were not the case, the world as we know it would have crumbled long ago. Obviously the time of grief varies, but if it is God's will for an organization or ministry to continue, a replace will be found. God called David long before Saul's death. Hopefully, we will not have to wait for Danny's death for his replacement at 3ABN, especially as the investigations of several government agencies continue to discover further evidence of illegal activities.

QUOTE(Pickle @ Jan 15 2007, 09:47 PM)

Eye Witness,

You're not making sense.

First of all, Tommy's accusers claim that he puts on an act whenever these allegations surface, and so, if you are going to be objective, you have to keep the possibility open that Tommy isn't having much in the way of health problems at all.

Now if you can produce documentation that he has indeed had stints and such, that would be most helpful. But we certainly can't just take Danny or Tommy's word for it since we have proven where they have been less than truthful.

Secondly, it is quite clear what "gossip" Teresa was referring to on December 9, since the new allegations went public on December 5, and since you haven't suggested anything other than the child molestation allegations, you yourself must certainly know that that was what she was referring to.

And yet you are so bold as to say that that quote does not hint at all at those allegations. Thus, you aren't making any sense whatsoever.

If that wasn't what Teresa was referring to, she shouldn't have written something so vague, because Johann called me and told me that that was how Linda took what Teresa had written.

Now if Teresa meant something else, then by all means find out what she meant and post it here so Gailon can make sure he has his facts straight.

Galion really needs to pull that quote out of his web site statement and you Pickle need to pull that out of your statements as well!!! Why? Because you are not using it in context with the rest of the communication that Linda and Teresa has conversed in. This is only the tip of a communication process that has gone on hit and miss for years. Its shocking to see that Linda would hand this email over to someone to use in this way. Expecially when Linda says "She has absolutly nothing to do with the controversy the Shelton family is facing at this time. I do not visit the chatsites...."

They have shared tears and joy, I am told. Not about Tommy but about the many different attacks from the many different ways the attacks have occured. I guess they have spent many hours on the phone, in email and visiting, after all, they were related for a while.
If Linda has nothing to do with the controversey of the Shelton family, why is she pulling in innocent people to create more of a mess? That would be a good question for you to ask her since you are so close to her.

Teresa is from another Country, obviously. I would appreciate it if you all would cut her some slack in that English may not be her "first" langauge. You know, as in some "Christian" kindness.

I don't know who Teresa is, but there have been plenty of people around West Frankfort with that same name. I have no information to indicate Teresa is orginally from outside the English-speaking community.

As I said, there have been plenty of people with the name Teresa around. Here's just one example:

"ABA, NIGERIA Friday, November 28, 2003
By Marti Schneider

At our nine o'clock meeting this morning, the King's Heralds sang a small concert for our entire group. We have really appreciated their ministry here . . . both in their music and in their presence. We could feel their support, their heart for ministry, their care for people. It was our last group meeting.

When Elder Folkenberg asked the speakers from the outlying evangelistic meetings to tell what this experience meant to them, Teresa Shelton summed it up by saying, "I have spoken tremblingly to 20-some people . . . but now I am an evangelist!" She and Ronnie Shelton had separate evangelistic series going. There were good testimonies from all of the teams."

you know, in looking my post over, I shouldn't have said "Teresa is from another Country" because I don't know any more than you do. But as I read her posts, she reminded me of some of people who have come here from Russia and other countries, sometimes their English is different, or words will be missing from their sentences and words misspelled.

I believe she "might" (sorry to have said it incorrectly in the first place) be from another Country, but only she can say where she is from, if she hasn't been banned from this site already.

Yes, he has. The story has been told. You can draw your own conclusions. Let me ask you: What conclusions do you draw from the fact that Mr. Joy filed a lawsuit against the agency that accused him, and won a $40,000.00 judgement against that agency, which was paid to him?The law is strange, is it not?

I would be interested in where that is posted on BSDA.... If anyone knows. I recieved an email from Mr. Joy denying any convictions on that charge... There is not a campus on 3ABN property. I have been hearing for several months about the desire or plans to have an academy on hand. But why wouldn't we...when Dan's grandchildren were old enough to start school, poof, a 3ABN school opens. And now that they are getting older, poof, it's time for an academy!

Broadview is part of a new program on 3ABN and they have been at the station to discuss this, so it's logical that they would have pictures of them on site.

Joe:

Mr. Joy was convicted of one charge. Multiple other charges were dropped. So, technically he was neither aquited nor convicted of those charges.

oe:

)n November 23, I posted the following in a thread, in BSDA, titled "The Investigator of 3Abn [sic.].:

In the interests of transparency, and openness, I am making the following brief statements:

.) The GAJ who was convicted of the crime of embezzlement in the VT, is the GAJ who is presently :onducting an investigation into this 3-ABN mess.

!) Mr. Joy has advised several of us, to include Linda Shelton, of the details of that conviction that have not ›een publicly presented before.

3) Mr. Joy was charged under Title 13, part I, Chapter 57 "Larceny and Embezzlement, Subchapter II, and ;ection 2531. In my mind a critical part of that statute is the following: "[One may be convicted of :mbezzlement] notwithstanding [that] he may have an interest in such money or property,. . ." In simple anguage: One may be convicted even if one had a right to that money.

ł) The above statue allows one convicted of the crime to be imprisoned for up to ten years, and fined up to ;500.00. It should be noted that GAJ was not sentenced to prison.

;) The charge against Mr. Joy began in 1980, and continued through the end of 1984. It was brought by an organization which was essentially VT. Legal Aid (LSCVT).

6) LSCVT first brought the claim against Mr. Joy in the Vt. Superior Court. They lost.

7) The LSCVT then attempted to file in a Federal Court. They failed.

8) At that time the LSCVT attempted to settle with Mr. Joy for the payment of $1,500.00, which would be made to them, and an agreement to change certain collection rules.

NOTE: In all of the above, the charges were made against Credit Management Services Corporation (CMSC), and not Mr. Joy, personally.

9) Mr. Joy did not want CMSC to settle. As a result, he bought out the other owners of the corporation, and became a personal defendant in the litigation.

10) During this process, Mr. Joy obtained a $40,000 judgment against the LSCVT for misuse of process. That judgment was paid.

11) In the litigation that LSCVT had brought, there were 58 named plaintiffs. The Court dismissed 57 of those plaintiffs, and trial went forward with one plaintiff.

12) During this litigation, Mr. Joy controlled five different companies. He put all five of them on the line, so to speak, in order to defend his innocence. As a result, all five closed.

13) In the final end, he was convicted. He was required to pay the sum of $1,152.15 to the plaintiff.

14) Mr. Joy acknowledges his conviction. As he was the sole owner at the time of the conviction, he accepts responsibility for that conviction. He does not challenge his conviction. At the time the charges were first brought, he was not the sole owner of CMSC, and he owned less than 50 per-cent of the stock in that company. As he bought out all of the other owners under conditions where he released them from responsibility for the charges, he at the time of the conviction became solely responsible for the crime.

15) It would have been far easier to have settled the case for the required $1,500 payment when that offer was made. However, Mr. Joy believed that he was innocent. He chose not to buckle under to the pressure, and to defend his innocence. Of the 58, he stands convicted of one.

16) Yes, he exercised his legal right to defend himself. Once a definitive decision was made, he stopped the appeals, made the payment, and went on with his life. He accepted responsibility.

Folks, as I have stated from the beginning: Yes, he has been convicted of a crime. His conviction came about due to the fact that he, at the time of the conviction, was the sole owner of the corporation. It should be remembered that at the time of the commission of the crime, he was not. To me this appears to be more a crime of lack of attention to detail, and/or sloppy bookkeeping. Further, he may very well have had a right to the monies. That issues was not determined by the Court, as VT law ruled that out as a defense.

Folks, one cannot rightfully state that Mr. Joy intended to obtain monies that were not rightfully his.

All one can state is that he was convicted of a crime that was essentially inattention to detail. He paid a very large price for that omission.

Make the best of this, folks.

We believe in transparancy, and oppeness.

Let us move on to more important issues.

NOTE: In regard to item # 12: With the purchase of CMSC, and before the litigation was completed, he controlled five companies. When the litigation began he did not control that many.

This post has been edited by Observer: Nov 23 2006, 04:33 AM"

Interesting.

Yes, interesting indeed, because you make the same mistake as many other defenders of your cause have done. You indicate that Sister is Linda. I can vouch for that these are two very distinctive persons, and that Sister has most of her information from a different source than from Linda.

It is so true that Sister has, and is, putting a lot into this. Her goal is to glorify God, and to reveal the truth that she knows from her own experience. She knows that the utter falsehood you are hiding is not to the glory of God.

Theresa, this is true for me too. I failed back in 2004 because I was afraid of Danny when he threatened to have me put in prison because I wanted to reveal the truth as I had experienced it. I was scared and ran away, but with God's help, this will never happen again. I do not fear Danny's prison. To me it means more to stand on the side of truth, and I appeal to you to be honest too. Or you may have problems on the final day of this world's history. Therefore, remember that the truth will make you free. Stop hiding in the mist of wickedness was just reading an interesting editorial by Ted Olsen that refers to Matthew 18. Here it is:

The direction of Matthew 18:15-17. are steps that God sets up for His bidding. So if you have been called do such, do you have documentation showing you are following the proper steps.

ıttp://www.christianitytoday.com/ct/2007/february/6.22.html

Bottom-Up Discipline
What do you do when your pastor--or your entire denomination--strays?

'he bottom line was:

'A church's desire to be praised by cultural elites and a pastor's desire for sexual gratification are ıot that different. Pride deafens a denomination called back to Scriptures it thinks are outmoded, ınd it mutes a pastor who won't admit his failures to accountability partners.

There may be no Matthew 18 chapter for disciplining pastors neatly, but becoming more familiar with the thousands of verses on pride and humility would make the need for such discipline less frequent."

This author is saying that "pride deafens a denomination." Is this a possibility? When we become overcome by our own sense of pride, do we become a deaf denomination?

What about the part where Ted Olsen says that pride "mutes a pastor who won't admit his failures to accountability partners?"

By any chance, do you think that pride, inordinate self-esteem, could play a part in the House of Shelton? Could no one ever fill Danny Shelton's shoes?

Just asking.

Well thank you for you thoughts. I guess what Eye Witness has shown, is what it is, to those who want to read it, and put pieces together. As far as making sense we make a pretty good match. I guess we can all say things to get whatever response that we want. One thing about a circle it will eventually end up where it started.

My response to your statement above is First Danny Shelton is not a Pastor and the Church is not deaf. Pride is an inward problem and I would not be able to determine that. Inordinate self-esteem I don't see. He has modest attire, no fancy this and that. Can someone else fill Danny's shoes? If the Lord has someone else, He wants, to fill the position of Danny at 3ABN, then that person would be able to do the task for they would be lead by the Lord.

Couldn't 3ABN function under its board? I mean, that is what they are there for, right?

A board cannot do day to day operations because either all the board members would have to be there or they would have to be on a constant conference call. Have you seen the list of 3ABN board members and where they live? there has to be "in house" direction and decisions made by someone there...it is a fair question however.

As to what you said here, and I'm sure I won't be the only one addressing this, I will comment on your thinking, which I have colored in red.
Have you decided that God did it or Danny? I can't tell by your words...it seems somewhat worshipful of a man to me...
God can do anything in spite of a person. But, you are giving credit to Danny as if he got this done thru God. A man can be VERY determined to do anything he sets his mind to (and if you know DS, he is all about determination and not giving up when he wants something) and so based on his motives and minipulation tactics, he could very well get something accomplished like this. You're picture of how this happend has been given to you by DS as well. It is given to you, and others for the purpose of saying "God did this and used me" for credibility sake. You are looking to a man and assuming GOD did this. God may have made something good come from what DS set out to do for many reasons that could have been very selfishly motivated. I will not assume anything as you have - I certainly can not take DS word on how things came about as I know that he has exagerated and mislead in this area to give a picture he wanted out in order to gain support and to promote exactly what you have now projected. Again, do you really know his fruits? If you are to find out his fruits, as you willing to admit he is a mere man who is faulty and God used that building and those volunteers in spite of the man? This picture is much bigger then you would like to sum up in your mind. Why don't you let God show you exactly what He has done in spite of DS and his real motives. Don't be mesmerized by what you have been taught and lead to see. Open your eyes.

Name the miracles.
God uses what He sees fit to use - if he can use a donkey, he can use anything or anyone. This does not mean however that Danny is special or unique (or anybody that wants all the credit for what "they" have done - like old Nebby, Danny resembles him). And it certainly gives him no right to claim he's a prophet or allow someone else to claim it for him.

Eye Witness,

You're not making sense.

First of all, Tommy's accusers claim that he puts on an act whenever these allegations surface, and so, if you are going to be objective, you have to keep the possibility open that Tommy isn't having much in the way of health problems at all.

Now if you can produce documentation that he has indeed had stints and such, that would be most helpful. But we certainly can't just take Danny or Tommy's word for it since we have proven where they have been less than truthful.

Don't know if she has any proof... but I do ..Hope this helpful.

A few months after the death of Tommy's mother....he had a Heart Attack while in Nashville. They were close..He was Transferred to Sentential Hospital in Nashville where he had a stint on his left main artery put in... and they used a balloon on another artery too close to the stint to unclog it. Pastor ---------- and 3 others were there for the procedure.
Around six weeks later, Tommy entered Fairfax County Hospital in Virginia for another heart cath and they did another balloon procedure because the earlier stint had collapsed. A couple of weeks later he was back because the incision became infected.
In 2003 he was hospitalized in St. Thomas where the heart specialist told him, he was hours away from another heart attack. He was sent straight to Nashville and had a team waiting on him when he arrived. This time it was the main right artery. He got another stint.
A few months after the Blackhills program, he went in again for another heart cath to make sure there were no more clots. There were none.
There are multitudes of people who know about his high blood pressure .....it is heredity. His father died of his 3rd heart attack at the age of 51.... most of Tommy's brothers and sister also have HIGH blood pressure and high cholesterol and take medications for them.

oe, if you really knew Mollie, you would know that she doesn't jump for anyone and that the only one who lid any "barking" at 3ABN was Fluffy.

As to the question of who trained Mollie, that training came from her formal education when she attended college in New Orleans, where she met her husband Hal, and through the experience she gained in running a very successful ministry with him after they were married. I too have been in and out of Mollie's office and heard her make the following statement in front of Dan, when Linda was not present: "Danny thinks he runs 3ABN, but it is really myself, Linda and Mom Ford." There is only one final purging of the ministry necessary for Mollie's dream to come true. And once that happens how long do you think it will take for Mollie to "purge the ministry" of the rest of the Shelton family?

And if Mollies falls? Well, Shelly and J.D. Quinn would be more than happy to step over Mollie and Hal and take the reins of 3ABN...

I am very sure. Tommy Shelton SR. was born in 1922 and died in July 1974. He would have been 52 if he had lived to his next birthday in Nov. What Danny should have clarified, was his dad's first heart attack was at age 36. the 2nd, was in his 40's and the killer attack was at 51 and some months.

Joe

Joe, have you noticed (you obviously have) how many times sister has said put up or shut up and the first time you say it, it is taken as a threat. The allegations of "investigations" were addressed sufficiently, last night, to the whole world, even the FBI & IRS were addressed and answered. I loved Mollie Steenson's comment when she addressed the "rumors" of undercover investigations by saying "if they are undercover how do these people (that are spreading the rumoring) know about them? Exactly. Anyone who fails to see that there are truly not any investigations going on, doesn't want to see it. I'm with Joe. If there is investigations, come forward and show proof. 3ABN made a claim on world wide television knowing that if they lied, both the IRS and FBI would be very upset. So, accusers, go ahead and expose your proof of these investigations because, if you are telling the truth about them, you might be telling a lot of truths. If you are not being truthful about them, you might not be being truthful in many of your other accusations.

The accusations have been made here, that the leadership of 3abn isn't accountable to anyone. What about the "accountability factors" that Larry Ewing so beautifully explained?
There's Danny who can't take one penny without the Chief Financial Officer (CFO) making a record of it.

Then there is a very professional 3ABN board of Directors who hold Larry E. accountable and then there's the outside audit each year.
How does all that line up with lies about no accountability? Oops, I forgot. All of these people are naive, stupid or involved. Funny, HOTY has said most of the people there are wonderful God fearing christians that are there because they want to work for our Lord. Yet, as stated before, many departments and the people in them would have to be corrupt or going along with the corruption to make this the den of iniquity that this forum paints it to be.
NEXT.....

What about the comments made on the live that the board has NOT ask Danny to resign? Who can refute it? He is still here.
The little group here is only showing their ignorance to claim that a large board of proffesional people, all of the accountants in the accounting office, the outside auditors and everybody in 3ABN administrative positions are all naive, stupid or are involved in all kinds of coverups. That just defies logic. Some of the comments made here only proves that the group on this forum refuse to hear any "real" truth and/or proof presented if it is on the positive side of 3ABN instead of on the negative.

Where is Gailon Joy in all of this? He has made a lot of statements. Is he still willing to come back with his false allegations with substantial proof. His post certainly did not contain anything but trying to pick words apart.
Well Joe, I guess we will both be accused of making threats just because we repeat sisters phrase of "put up or shut up."

Sorry, Clay, that doesn't make me a liar. It means I changed my mind, as many have done on this forum, when I saw a real "need" to post some "truth"
The fact that you would be so quick to insinuate that I am a liar shows where your heart lies.

And if a person knew about potential problems of child molestation, why would they have a liking for the word bystander."

Who would ever act as a bystander if they thought there was a chance something unsavory going on?

As one pastor once said in his sermon, there is no such thing as an "innocent" bystander.

Is that really true? Addressed sufficiently?

I think not. Join the Catholic priesthood if you're thinking like that.

Pete, you are so one track minded. I said specifically in my post that all the rumors flying around in here about investigations by the IRA and FBI and whatever other law enforcement agencies that people here have thought up, was shown to be a total lie. The reason that I addressed those agencies are because they are "real". They actually have "real" trained investigators that have "real" credentials and everything. So, obviously, 3abn is not under any "real" investigations by any "real" law enforcement agencies. Thus let's squelch all the lies and rumors applying to such. Doesn't that seem reasonable.

You said "all" investigations. Now, you say, its really all the investigations except the ones they chose not to mention last night."

That's very different from "all investigations."

You said they were all addressed sufficiently. That's the idea you were trying to leave in the readers' minds.

It's good to know you really didn't mean all. Maybe you meant some? A few? The ones they chose to mention?

Dear Brother Bystander,

If you can provide convincing evidence that there is no truth to the allegations against Tommy Shelton, if you can refute the testimonies of the Clem brothers and Pastor Dunning, if you can show evidence to refute the claims in Pastor Glenn Dryden's warning letter of May, 2003, and if you can convince me that Tommy's emailed confession to alleged victim #7 does not mean what it says I will gladly leave this forum and let God deal with any other issues that might be present at 3abn.

If you are unable to gather the above evidence, I will need to follow the burden that God has placed on my heart and continue to do what I can to bring this truth to light and pray for healing for all involved.

Personally, I have not mentioned nor heard mentioned the FBI, here, except by you Bystander and last night by Danny and company. What I will say is there is an investation by the EEOC, which implacates both Danny and Mollie as well as the head of Trust Services, Leonard Westfahl. I did notice that nothing was said about that situation last night. And Bystander we both know what you, ahh, Danny calls Black people behind their back as he laughs at them. I will not repeat the term here, personally I find it degrading and so as not to offend anyone else.

Another question for you? What happens to the cash donations that come into 3ABN, do they still go to Mollie Sue and Danny, BEFORE they are sent to the accounting department to be posted? And what about the cash donations that come in at the Ralley's and go back in a briefcase with Danny on the jet and are not receipted in accounting until the following Monday? What about the cash that comes into Trust Services? And what about the trips Danny has personally made to individuals that want to place their large cash donations directly into his hands?

First of all, prove it. Prove where this agency is investigating. Now, I saw recently where Calvin said he is tired of people trying to identify each other and he doesn't want it to continue. I see this has not affected you with your constant insinuations toward myself and others. EVen though I have no responsibility to answer to you in anyway, I will, simply to put one more of your rumors to rest. I can promise you, and give you my word as a fellow believer that I AM NOT DANNY SHELTON AND NEITHER AM I A SPOKESPERSON FOR HIM.
You constantly say or insinuate that the only people that might defend 3abn on this forum would be close friends of Danny S. and/or his family. I have news for you sister. Despite your "Destroy 3ABN" campaign, despite the measures that you have used to pull people into your web of deceit, there are still thousands and thousands of viewers out there who love and support 3ABN and the message it takes to the world. I am one of these. CALVIN where are you when one of your own tries to plant sees of identity on others?

P.S. Bystander, I am not trying to "destroy 3ABN" , it is my desire it is saved. And I have spun no web of deceit, nor attempted to draw others into such a web. I tell the truth in the hope that by doing so the web of lies and deceit that have been spun by Danny Shelton will be subjected to the light and the ministry will be purged from the cancer that could kill 3ABN if let to it's own devices.

Some of the shows I refer to are:

It Is Written Breath of Life
Wonderfully Made
Teen Pathways Tiny Tots Kids Time
Back To Nature
Voice of Prophecy
Body and Spirit
In the Footsteps of Paul Battles of Faith
Hans Diehl's health shows
All the General Youth Conferences
All of the cooking shows
Anything with Doug Batchelor
Anything with David Asherick(sp?) and Nathan Renner Anything with Dwight Nelson
Many of the "On The Road" programs

I watch 3abn Today nearly every weekday during my job and the ministries featured are often great. As far as the main characters under discussion here are concerned, I do see them in a different light now and it makes me sad. I constantly pray for them and for 3abn.

There are two people that I know of that are on that list that have been or are currently working at 3ABN. You may check the facts out for yourself at www.nsopr.gov Just type in their names or town and click for a picture.

One is Herb Grimm. He is no longer at 3ABN that I know of. The other is Bill (William) Cochran who is currently working in the Production department and on the Production Truck. I do not know the specifics in either of their cases.

Sister

I was killing time while getting the oil changed in my car today and got interested in an article about Sherron Watkins, the Enron whistleblower. I have always had a great deal of respect for her courage so this recent interview with her caught my eye. The more I read, the more parallels I began to see with what I have been reading about 3ABN's situation. I truly believe in the work the ministry is doing, but I believe God is doing it, not Dan or Mollie or anyone else. Anyway, here are a few Sherron Watkins quotes that caught my eye - I especially like the last one:

"The CEO of a company must have pristine ethics if there is to be any hope of ethical behavior from the employees."

"How in the world did a qualifired and talented independent board of directors waive Enron's code of conduct twice?...their judgment was severely clouded..."

"There were managers within Enron, actually in the room when Enron's questionable accounting structures were hatched, and they complained - they tried to stop their birth. But in every case that person was shot down. Others soon realized to protest was fruitless and they just left the company. Or they reacted the only way they knew how - they posted comments on Yahoo's message board."

"I think there are difficult moments of truth when leadership is tested. And if these moments are not faced honestly, if the hard decision is not made at the point, it becomes next to impossible to return to the right path. It is that rationalization we spoke of before. Once you start to rationalize, you're stuck."

"I am sure you have heard of the analogy of a frog in boiling water. If a frog is thrown in a pot of boiling water it will jump out and save itself. If a frog is in a pot of cool water that is slowly heated, he'll stay in the pot until he boils to death."

"From bosses to managers to staff, we must realize when we are in a pot of water that has gone from cool to lukewarm. We must recognize that moment of truth, we must address it and then act. Once the water is heated past lukewarm, we won't have the willpower to jump out."

"The major point I sress now is how and why company leaders must have a zero tolerance policy for ethically challenged employees. It is probably the hardest role of a CEO, but when he or she discovers that an employee has violated the company's value system, that person must go."

I wasn't trying to be coy, I just didn't think this was a secret.

Since I have children, I make it a point to regularly check the national list of sex offenders. It is a very good habit for parents to get into and would suggest that everyone do this. (Not to say that there isn't forgiveness and a change of heart, but preparation is always a plus. And I wouldn't take any chances!)

There are two people that I know of that are on that list that have been or are currently working at 3ABN. You may check the facts out for yourself at www.nsopr.gov Just type in their names or town and click for a picture.

One is Herb Grimm. He is no longer at 3ABN that I know of. The other is Bill (William) Cochran who is currently working in the Production department and on the Production Truck. I do not know the specifics in either of their cases.

For the bleeding hearts out there, there is no mistake here since their pictures are also on the site. It is as simple as that.

QUOTE(Snoopy @ Jan 19 2007, 07:49 PM)

I was killing time while getting the oil changed in my car today and got interested in an article about Sherron Watkins, the Enron whistleblower. I have always had a great deal of respect for her courage so this recent interview with her caught my eye. The more I read, the more parallels I began to see with what I have been reading about 3ABN's situation. I truly believe in the work the ministry is doing, but I believe God is doing it, not Dan or Mollie or anyone else. Anyway, here are a few Sherron Watkins quotes that caught my eye - I especially like the last one:

"The CEO of a company must have pristine ethics if there is to be any hope of ethical behavior from the employees."

"How in the world did a qualifired and talented independent board of directors waive Enron's code of conduct twice?...their judgment was severely clouded..."

"There were managers within Enron, actually in the room when Enron's questionable accounting structures were hatched, and they complained - they tried to stop their birth. But in every case that person was shot down. Others soon realized to protest was fruitless and they just left the company. Or they reacted the only way they knew how - they posted comments on Yahoo's message board."

"I think there are difficult moments of truth when leadership is tested. And if these moments are not faced honestly, if the hard decision is not made at the point, it becomes next to impossible to return to the right path. It is that rationalization we spoke of before. Once you start to rationalize, you're stuck."

"I am sure you have heard of the analogy of a frog in boiling water. If a frog is thrown in a pot of boiling water it will jump out and save itself. If a frog is in a pot of cool water that is slowly heated, he'll stay in the pot until he boils to death."

"From bosses to managers to staff, we must realize when we are in a pot of water that has gone from cool to lukewarm. We must recognize that moment of truth, we must address it and then act. Once the water is heated past lukewarm, we won't have the willpower to jump out."

"The major point I sress now is how and why company leaders must have a zero tolerance policy for ethically challenged employees. It is probably the hardest role of a CEO, but when he or she discovers that an employee has violated the company's value system, that person must go."

"All it takes for evil to prevail is for good people to do nothing...Being an ethical person is more than knowing right from wrong. It is having the fortitude to do right even when there is much at stake."

IF any allegations toward Tommy S. are true and go back many many years as has been stated here, then Linda would also have been aware of those allegations. Yet I have seen Tommy & Linda on the air many times together doing music in the studio and at the Live Rally's that were "on the road." Obviously they all traveled together to these events. The job that Tommy S. held before he took over production was something in programming and would therefore be under Linda's department. Obviously she didn't have a problem with putting him in that position. Many of the accusations made toward Danny S. and other administrative heads was supposed to have happened while linda was there as 2nd in charge. So where was she while all of these alleged things were going on. if she was totally oblivious to the many charges presented here, then she was a complete failure at her job of Vice President. If she closed her eyes to these alleged sins , then she was doing exactly what Danny S. is accused of doing and should be hung out to dry in the same manner you are trying to hang him out. Last but not least, if she wasn't oblivious, and she didn't close her eyes purposly to these events, there is only one other option....she was in on everything and therefore was part of the alleged "corrupt administration." After all, I have read on this site that Linda gave 200% to the ministry. If so that certainly puts her " In the Know" with day to day happenings on the premises. No matter how you spin it folks, Linda was not a "victim."

How can you justify the diffence in treatment that Linda and Tommy received. If both are guilty of what they've been accused of, then why was the treatment so severe for one and the other soft as Charmin?

First off of course this site is pro linda anti dan. How can I justify the difference? Easy. I understand that Linda was let go after proof was found of wrong doing and it was understood by those involved, after a time, that the marriage would not be reconciled. Even with the reasons of dismissal It is again my understanding that when Linda left, she was compensated extremely well (and that is an understatement) for her years of service. I was told that Tommy S. was not in any way, dismissed. He retired due to health reasons which I believe Joe smith named hospitals and dates and also heart surgeries that he has been through. So we know that this was not an excuse to hide the allegations that Danny got rid of him. Either he has had a heart attack or he hasn't. Either he has had stint and balloon heart surgeries as Joe stated or he has not. Any doubters please, check the hospitals that Joe named. you will find it is all true that he is in severly poor health due to heart problems. HOTY You can only compare apples to apples. Bystander, I could apply your name to myself - I am a bystander with no direct interest in either side of all this discussion.

But I have read most of what has been posted - and if you had, you would know that one of the points of contention in the divorce was the reliability of the evidence of Linda's wrongdoing. For instance, when she was alleged to have been with the doctor in one place, Johann as a first hand witness put her some where else, without the doctor.

She received monetary compensation, and I am no judge of its adequacy, but with that had to accept a gag order while the other party to the marriage was free to say whatever he liked about her on world wide television.

Linda not a victim? What is your definition of a victim?

You really have a distorted ability to justify this. Linda was "let go" after some "supposed" proof was out there. Did you see it? Who exactly did see it? I didn't know it was possible to take pictures of spiritual adultery. (I'll have to figure out how to do that.) Linda - who was also a major factor on the 3ABN lineup was pulled virtually overnight. She's been bashed and bashed and bashed since then. And Tommy got a plaque. Isn't that sweet? (Let's get it straight - Tommy had a stEnt put in and had health problems before he came back to 3ABN this last time. His heart attack was not recently which you would lead everyone to believe.) I never said he wasn't in poor health. But which came first - the problem or the PROBLEM?

I don't know how you compare apples, but I think one's missing.

Nobody can make a claim that BSDA is pro or anti either one of them. Not when everyone is allowed come down on either side of the discussion within what I think are very broad parameters. Your story of events and explanation only serves to justify the openness of this place to express your opinions, nothing more. BSDA takes no position.

Re: ". . . Linda was 'compensated extrene,y [sic.] well'. . . . just last week, Linda got approx. $250,000.00. She was co-founder, she got shafted."

Whatever it is, it is a settlement of something. As such, it is a clear statement that the involved parties (Linda, Danny, 3-ABN, or whoever) all agreed that 250 K was a fair amount for the issues resolved. As such, I would not say that she was compensated extremely will. The best that can be said is that all agree that she was compensated fairly. [NOTE: There may be legal reasons to challenge it as a fair settlement.]

It should be noted that the origonal settlement agreement, did not settle everything. It did leave some issues unresolved. If the 250 K is a recent settlement of those issues than that is what it is. It is an agreement between Linda, Danny, and 3-ABN that settles the unresolved issues for 250 K. If that is what it is, it should put the lie to the statements by some that Linda wanted multiple millions of dollars. If Linda wanted that much she would not settle for a mere 250 K. She would take her chance on a jury trial.

NOTE: I am making some general comments. I know that the last part of my quote is: ". . . she got shafted."

Don't know if she has any proof... but I do ..Hope this helpful.

A few months after the death of Tommy's mother....he had a Heart Attack while in Nashville. They were close..He was Transferred to Sentential Hospital in Nashville where he had a stint on his left main artery put in... and they used a balloon on another artery too close to the stint to unclog it. Pastor ---------- and 3 others were there for the procedure.
Around six weeks later, Tommy entered Fairfax County Hospital in Virginia for another heart cath and they did another balloon procedure because the earlier stint had collapsed. A couple of weeks later he was back because the incision became infected.
In 2003 he was hospitalized in St. Thomas where the heart specialist told him, he was hours away from another heart attack. He was sent straight to Nashville and had a team waiting on him when he arrived. This time it was the main right artery. He got another stint.
A few months after the Blackhills program, he went in again for another heart cath to make sure there were no more clots. There were none.

There are multitudes of people who know about his high blood pressure .....it is heredity. His father died of his 3rd heart attack at the age of 51.... most of Tommy's brothers and sister also have HIGH blood pressure and high cholesterol and take medications for them.

Joe

oe,

Could you fill in the missing dates for us?

According to Tommy's alleged victims, he has these health problems whenever allegations surface. I think we need to have solid dates, including the month, for each event that you mention, in order to disprove any such connection.

You mention 2003, and we know there were new allegations that arose in 2003.

When exactly did Tommy's mother die? When exactly did Tommy go to Black Hills?

I happen to have this information myself so in case Joe doesn't answer you-

'm starting to think a couple people could have lucrative careers with the national Enquirer.

Bob, rather then asking Joe to prove all, Can't you or Gailon call Black Hills, or ask Linda?

Or since she doesn't have a "gag order" of any kind at the present, couldn't she just post here and speak for herself, and tell us? or not

OR MAYBE, Since Derrell Mundall is a member here, and in touch with her (Being that he is the registered owner, Administrator and tech, contact for her website) maybe he could clarify???, or have her give her input about this whole Tommy dilemma on her website???? Does she support what you are all doing and agree with your new website?

Linda was working at 3ABN when Tommy previously was, around the time all this happened, and knows about his health, she knows when he went to Black Hills. In the website you and Gailon put up you have the New Years tribute where all this was being talked about by Danny and Tommy.

Linda was also on the board and knows about Drydens letter and what happened on the board.

Did Tommy's "alleged victims" claim he was so good at faking health problems that Doctors did heart surgery and put stints in?

That seems very unlikely.

Really so far...

There are far more people testifying to the fact that he does have high blood pressure and cholesteral problems and has had a major heart attack and surgery twice, then there are testifying about him faking it.

As a matter of fact Bob, it's you who keeps claiming this for these anonymous "alleged victims".

So it's actually your versian against every other person who claims to know about it, so far..

Derrell Mundall bought the domain and gave it and everything about it to Linda over two years ago. He is not her administrator, tech, or contact. If she cares to communicate something, she will. If not, she won't.

Does any one here actually doubt that Tommy Shelton has had these medical problems?

It is entirely possible that stress related to his lifestyle and its consequences has contributed to his health issues, and that could include an acute exascerbation of his symptoms.

I for one do not accuse him of faking anything.

But those symptoms do not remove the necessity for answering the questions raised by his victims, not all of whom are now anonymous.

The procedure uses a tube called a stent, not a stint.

However, when these Southern Illinois spin doctors told it to you with their rural drawl, it came out "stints" didn't it?

And you took it at face value?

You actually know there are stents?

Just wondering, since you were the one that warned everyone at Maritime SDA Online that motor vehicle registrations are easily forged. But you seem to have absolutely no problem accepting these "stints" as something that actually happened?

It's too bad that Ted Haggard -- Colorado Springs -- didn't know about your "stints" theory. He could have run away and hidden, too.

There has been much Back and Forth regarding Tommy Shelton's health condition.

He may or may not have had the medical procedures, which have been discussed in these forums.

The fact is that victims have come forward, some who have been willing to open themselves up to ridicule. Tommy admitted in the letter, which has been posted on these forums, and on Save3abn.com, that he is guilty of inappropriate acts with Duane Clem.

If this man is a pedophile, what difference does it make if he is in good health or not? His physical illnesses do not give him the right to commit, nor protect him from the consequences of his crimes.

Those who wish to try and make his health issues the focus cannot change the fact that he has sexually abused, and that at least some of the victims were minors at the time of the abuse.

Posted by: Clay Jan 22 2007, 07:27 PM

thank you looking4truth.... you hit the nail on the head..... the health issue was brought up as a distraction.... the FACT is the man molested people....can't get around that.... what is obscene is that the Danny's apologists would excuse the molestation because he is reportedly in bad health...

Just wait, when Danny claims to have prayed for forgiveness for all he has done wrong, his apologists will then use that as proof that this situation no longer be discussed....

'ou have an interesting "version" of what has been posted here. In his letter to Tommy Shelton, Roger Clem :tates:

When someone would confront you about what you did, you would try to take the attention off of what you lid by having some sort of health problem (loss of memory, heart problems, nervous breakdown). It seemed ›dd to me that you recovered quick when you realized that you were in the clear. "

'his is an eyewitnesses testimony. Roger doesn't say Tommy is "faking" it, just that Tommy's health ›roblems conveniently would surface when someone would confront him about the abuse and that it seemed ›dd to Roger that Tommy would recover quickly when the heat was off.

\lso, the "alleged victims" you are referring to are no longer anonymous but have stepped forward to bring orward this behavior that allegedly victimized them in their youth.

would invite you to read their words yourself, Cindy. I would also invite you to go and read the confession :mail from Tommy Shelton himself to victim #7 at http://www.save3abn.com .

If in fact DS actually owns 3abn then it's true Linda got the shaft. But does he own it? Can he sell it and pocket the proceeds? Believe me I'm not one to defend Danny but I have to ask the questions. Did Linda really get the shaft based on the net worth of 3abn? Granted she got shafted in many other ways but I'm not convinced she did because of the worth of business unless Danny's name is on the title. Who actually owns 3abn?

Excellent points, lookin4truth!

I would just point out that even if some of the alleged victims were not minor children at the time of the manipulation and abuse, the fact that Tommy was in a position of power makes his alleged actions qualify as pastoral sexual abuse which still, as the Clem brothers' testimony reveals, had devastating effects on them.

SSM,

Go ahead and hide behind that weak point. A disclaimer does not mean that beartrap is correct. Linda's site has no link to a "webmaster" so based on the information that IS available one must logically assume that Derrell is indeed the Admin and Tech contact for Linda's site. If he did turn it over to Linda why hasn't that information been changed? It seems that if you turn a domain over to another individual and planned on having no other involvement with it whatsoever, you would also alter the Admin and Tech contact info.

You can check any search tool and discover the same exact information. Derrell is the Owner, Admin, and Tech contact for lindashelton.org. The available, verifiable information makes that unmistakeably clear. When that information indicates otherwise then we will know that he isn't involved. Additionally, it seems rather copasetic that Derrel would be managing and maintaining Linda's site as they both would be upset with 3ABN.

Observer the meaning is:

There was a post last week that stated how much 3ABN was worth for the last couple of years, and it was several million dollars. Linda got payment totalling close to $250,000.00. duerint the time this ministry was valued at several million dollars....she got shafted. as co-founder she should have been bought out for half the value of the ministry/business. It was by no means fair, while included within a statement whic kept her quiet while Danny blasted away at her character, even to this day. Got it now.....

QUOTE(Observer @ Jan 21 2007, 04:47 AM)

Re: ". . . Linda was 'compensated extrene,y [sic.] well'. . . . just last week, Linda got approx. $250,000.00. She was co-founder, she got shafted."

Whatever it is, it is a settlement of something. As such, it is a clear statement that the involved parties (Linda, Danny, 3-ABN, or whoever) all agreed that 250 K was a fair amount for the issues resolved. As such, I would not say that she was compensated extremely will. The best that can be said is that all agree that she was compensated fairly. [NOTE: There may be legal reasons to challenge it as a fair settlement.]

It should be noted that the origonal settlement agreement, did not settle everything. It did leave some issues unresolved. If the 250 K is a recent settlement of those issues than that is what it is. It is an agreement between Linda, Danny, and 3-ABN that settles the unresolved issues for 250 K. If that is what it is, it should put the lie to the statements by some that Linda wanted multiple millions of dollars. If Linda wanted that much she would not settle for a mere 250 K. She would take her chance on a jury trial.

NOTE: I am making some general comments. I know that the last part of my quote is: ". . . she got shafted."

So you, too have been posting without reading! This is just hilarious. FHB you might want to give this up. I can tell that you are being given a great kindness right about now. Please concede that Beartrap is correct. Now, I am really calling for the next team. All of you now should be fired for your lack of knowledge.

As owner of numerous domain names myself, I know that the reality is that the information at the domain registrars is often hopelessly out of date. They don't care a whit, as long as they have a working credit card on file. ;-) And they don't care whose credit card it is.

It is likely that Derrel got the domain name for Linda, then turned it over to her just as he said, including passwords to the registrar site. By what FHB says, the info at the registrar site is not updated to reflect present reality.

That proves nothing.

Whether Linda or Derrel choose to update the info is up to them.

QUOTE(Brenda @ Jan 23 2007, 10:42 AM)

Does any one here actually doubt that Tommy Shelton has had these medical problems?

It is entirely possible that stress related to his lifestyle and its consequences has contributed to his health issues, and that could include an acute exascerbation of his symptoms.

I for one do not accuse him of faking anything.

But those symptoms do not remove the necessity for answering the questions raised by his victims, not all of whom are now anonymous.

I agree Brenda, and am not disputing that he has a genetic predisposition to cardiac problems, and most likely has the stent (mentioned) inserted, along with becoming ill, whenever there is a crisis.

Stress is bound to exacerbate his condition. Does that mean that we should ignore the fact of pedaphilia, that some seem to think is an extenuating circumstance?

As Brenda said above, his symptoms do NOT remove the necessity for answering the questions raised by HIS VICTIMS; especially in light of the fact, that SOME are now known. As is usual with any person who engages in this behaviour, I believe that there would be many more victims who have not come forward.

Apparently, there is a history of memory loss, 'nervous breakdown' (whatever that really means) and those are usually initiated by stress also. With the thought of being held accountable, it's no wonder that Tommy is feeling stressed.

Should he be excused? NO.

I think that makes it rather clear that Derrell Mundall is certainly involved in Linda Shelton's website. I know that beartrap claims it was purchased for and given to Linda - but the fact remains DM is the Admin and Tech name attached to the site. Let him come here and explain any differences in the facts.

Maybe this is the same reason that the word alleged is used when discussing the alleged abuse by Tommy Shelton of the alleged victims. Remember, "A disclaimer doesn't mean the information isn't true, it is an effort to insure no legal responsibility for the information to avoid legal situations later on. The fact remains that no matter where you look it up the information is the same."

If he did turn it over to Linda why hasn't that information been changed? It seems that if you turn a domain over to another individual and planned on having no other involvement with it whatsoever, you would also alter the Admin and Tech contact info.

It is plain that we can add domain name registration to the ever growing list of things regarding which you are utterly clueless.

Here's my opinion: Don't post it.

Whether rightly or wrongly, you have gotten a reputation that will be difficult to change. It's just the facts. And if you post this you will not gain anything.

For example, you were the one who asked online in huge letters, "Is there a lawyer in the house?" Now if you interpret Johann's statement as being a threat, it will further convince people that you are terribly confused and don't have a clue about what you are talking about.

Do you really want that?

Hi Cindy.

When I said, "Don't post it," I was talking about what you were thinking of posting, not my opinion. Of course, it would not be wise to post my opinion either.

Most folks who read the contract can tell that it is only good through December 2006. People will react negatively to your even asking that question since it seems so obvious to them just from reading it.

You may still wonder about many things, but it isn't wise for you to ask every question that comes to your mind. If at all possible, pick questions that most folks would think are good questions. And if you aren't sure if you can do that, it would be better if you were just a lurker.

You don't mind me being honest, do you?

Johann's message to you makes sense to me in light of your post. And if he could have worded it slightly better to communicate his thoughts better, well, he wouldn't be the only one that could do that in this matter.

I think at this point it would probably be better to just be a lurker. I had a pastor call me today who reads these forums, and he thought about the same.

See you.

How very opposite of honest people. Why are you with, and representing them?

Cindy,

What you don't realize is that the pastor who called me put it a lot less kindly than how I worded the gist of his conversation.

You write:

"The majority thinks stating the obvious about the contract is a bad thing, and wish to keep it quiet??"

I don't understand this statement of yours. Since I stated that the majority would think that the contract just runs through December 2006, and that is what is obvious to them, then why would the majority want to keep that quiet?

The fact that you would make this statement does not put you in the best light, and gives the impression that you just want to argue. In saying that I'm only using words others have used when they have referred to other things you have said.

What people wonder is whether it is possible to carry on a constructive conversation with you, not because they are afraid of being asked questions, but because of the type of questions that get asked.

"The majority thinks stating the obvious about the contract is a bad thing, and wish to keep it quiet??"

It comes across as if you want to argue that the sky is green with purple polka dots, rather than blue. Are you saying that the obvious is contrary to what I said it was, and thus are you trying to argue that the contract is really perpetual? That is utter nonsense, and most folks who read the contract know that it is. So why would they want to argue with someone who says otherwise? Why would they even think about taking that person seriously?

Bob, why should I care about people's opinions, such as an anonymous pastor, or be controlled by them?

And it is not obvious people think the contract is tempory for no one, not one single person, has said that in response to me. They are all claiming the opposite.

And believe it or not, it is possible for people who are unbiased and aren't afraid of being questioned, or for others to be, to answer me and hold a normal conversation. I've had many of those in private messenger here and on maritime. It's the only way to do so without being verbally assualted and accused of falsehoods.

I am well aware that many are intent on painting me as stupid, irrelevant, having a learning disability, and unable to be understood, and not being able to understand. I read all the posts. But this I know. Christians do not react to fellow Christians in this way. They do not respond to questions with ad hominems. Apparently you are one of those people.

I can only speak for myself. I am not a Danny apologist, I don't know the man, and the first time I ever watched 3ABN was 10 commandments weekend, and since being on this forum, as posters here keep referring to broadcasts.

As far as Tommy goes, if he's guilty that will be proved. For many that has been proved by what has been posted here, for me, the evidence here needs to be verified as factual. So, I am trying to do that for myself, off these boards.

What I find sTrAnGe here is that with so many talking about Danny's guilt, they cannot seem to understand that for honest people who look at the whole situation in a unbiased way, most of what they find Danny at fault for, are the same things they refuse to find Linda at fault for.

"The Linda apologists" all claim they are not trying to defend her yet accuse all who mention her, or question her stance and accountability as being "Danny apologists"

This is surely strange behavior to me.

I constantly have to remind myself, that Linda can not be found gulty based on the characters, methods, tactics and spirit of those siding with her here.

On the otherhand, if I had such defending me, I'd have to speak up for myself and ask them to stop from shame, and embarassment.

Thus my question on several occasions:

Where is Linda's voice in all this?

My opinion also.

There are dozens of domains which have me as Admin and Tech Contact from when I used to work for an ISP because I was the one who submitted the request to the domain name registrarand who set their web site up... and once they were set up and I turned them over I have not had any further involvement with the domains, the information presented on those web sites or anything else pertaining to them...even though my name remains in their WHOIS information.

In order to keep people from hijacking domain names, domain name registrars make it painfully inconvenient to change the contact information for a domain... and most companies dont bother to change the info.. even when the person listed may no longer be with the company or may no longer have any involvement with the domain in question.

You are going to have to do better than this if you are going to 'prove' beartrap a liar... at this point you've proven squat.

The contract payments to Linda did end in December. That is the part that is obvious.

What is not so obvious is that those payments, in part, were for the promise of confidentiality. There is no time limit on the promise of confidentiality.

When you visit a law firm, a hospital or a real estate agency, you have a contract. Those contracts end when you get well, finish your legal business, or sell your house.

The contracts do not give the hospital the right to publish your health problems , the law firm the right to publish your will, or the real estate agency the right to tell why you sold your house. Those promises of confidentiality continue after you have moved on with your life.

Bob Pickle mentioned to you that he had an "opinion." And he specifically told you it would not be wise to publish that opinion. You should have listened to him.

Pete,

Ellen White wrote that a law that has no penalty is of no force.

Is there any penalty in the contract for speaking out after the final payment is received? Is there any penalty that could be conjured up and stick in court?

Posted by: Lee Jan 23 2007, 10:11 AM

Of course Linda can talk now on this board. To say otherwise goes against the freedoms of our Country. She has a free will and she can come on here and defend herself. Says WHO that Linda made a "promise" of confidentiality??--then WHY is she writing a book? Oh-excuse me, an "alledged" book!

To say otherwise is putting your head in the sand.

Yes, I think there are penalties.

I think this area of law is called "breach of contract."

Wikipedia:

"Breach of contract is a legal concept in which a binding agreement or bargained-for exchange is not honored by one or more of the parties to the contract by non-performance or interference with the other party's performance."

Writing a non-fiction account would likely be considered "non-performance" since Linda received money with the stipulation she would remain silent. There is likely no expiration on that promise. This silence was part of the "bargained-for-exchange" that Linda agreed to.

So, if silence was part of the contract, and that part of the contract is broken at a later date, the other party could ask for a remedy from the court, depending on the breach.

This violation is no different than if your law firm or medical clinic discloses your legal and medical affairs to the public - without your permission - at a much later date, long after you've paid your legal and medical fees, and moved on.

However, Linda is protected by the First Amendment when it comes to writing books. She can write fiction to no end.

However, I'm not an Illinois lawyer, so my opinion should not be construed with giving legal advice. All of what I have said would have to be verified by someone who is licensed there and can work directly with the person who signed the contract.

Cindy, I am going to say this just one more time. Danny is guilty in my eyes, and many others because at one point in this sordid mess he has lied and exhibited behavior not befitting a christian, including his treatment of his Linda(for me it was the fact that he lied when he came through the dorr at BSDA). Simple as that!

What you fail to realize if that you are called an apologist, because even with letters posted by two of Tommy Shelton's victims, you refuse to believe, or it just doesn't matter to you. You asked for first hand, you got first hand, and you still don't believe it. Nobody is minimizing the actions of Linda, mainly becuase there have been none to speak of. She has been quietly going about her business.

As late as last night a question was brought about Linda's website, and it was answered from the horses mouth(begging you forgiveness Derrell), but for some reason you and FHB are having a problem with the answer. Now, it seems to me that there is not reason for you to be here asking questions, if you aren't going to accept the answers. I can only speak for myself. I am not a Danny apologist, I don't know the man, and the first time I ever watched 3ABN was 10 commandments weekend, and since being on this forum, as posters here keep referring to broadcasts.

As far as Tommy goes, if he's guilty that will be proved. For many that has been proved by what has been posted here, for me, the evidence here needs to be verified as factual. So, I am trying to do that for myself, off these boards.

What I find sTrAnGe here is that with so many talking about Danny's guilt, they cannot seem to understand that for honest people who look at the whole situation in a unbiased way, most of what they find Danny at fault for, are the same things they refuse to find Linda at fault for.

"The Linda apologists" all claim they are not trying to defend her yet accuse all who mention her, or question her stance and accountability as being "Danny apologists"

This is surely strange behavior to me.

I constantly have to remind myself, that Linda can not be found gulty based on the characters, methods, tactics and spirit of those siding with her here.

On the otherhand, if I had such defending me, I'd have to speak up for myself and ask them to stop from shame, and embarassment.

Thus my question on several occasions:

Where is Linda's voice in all this?
My opinion also.

QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jan 23 2007, 11:22 AM)

Yes, I think there are penalties.

I think this area of law is called "breach of contract."

Wikipedia:

"Breach of contract is a legal concept in which a binding agreement or bargained-for exchange is not honored by one or more of the parties to the contract by non-performance or interference with the other party's performance."

Writing a non-fiction account would likely be considered "non-performance" since Linda received money with the stipulation she would remain silent. There is likely no expiration on that promise. This silence was part of the "bargained-for-exchange" that Linda agreed to.

So, if silence was part of the contract, and that part of the contract is broken at a later date, the other party could ask for a remedy from the court, depending on the breach.

This violation is no different than if your law firm or medical clinic discloses your legal and medical affairs to the public - without your permission - at a much later date, long after you've paid your legal and medical fees, and moved on.

However, Linda is protected by the First Amendment when it comes to writing books. She can write fiction to no end.

However, I'm not an Illinois lawyer, so my opinion should not be construed with giving legal advice. All of what I have said would have to be verified by someone who is licensed there and can work directly with the person who signed the contract.

:ven if Linda did breach the contract by writing a non-fictional book, wouldn't she only be liable to the extent ıf the compensation she received to stay quiet, ie, $250K? Not that a quarter of a million dollars isn't a lot of noney, but wouldn't book royalties cover that cost with a substantial margin left over?

Posted by: Spike Jan 23 2007, 01:36 PM

So the $64,000.00 question is why would they want to keep her quiet? If DS and 3abn are such an honorable and upstanding organization why the gag order? I mean they have nothing to hide right.

The answers are here if you are truly seeking for them!

QUOTE(fallible humanbeing @ Jan 23 2007, 01:10 AM)

Inga,

According to the latest domain history entry on whois.com (dated January 22, 2007) it indicates that Derrell is the owner and operator of the domain lindashelton.org. That would be rather current information.

I also own a number of domain names so I am not just talking out the top of my hat. I also did not say that the info at the registrar site is not up to date.

Owning a number of domain names clearly doesn't make you an expert. Where did you find an entry that said the info on file was updated January 22, 2007?
This is what the whois server says today (Jan 23, 2007):
Domain Name:LINDASHELTON.ORG
Created On:12-Jun-2004 18:34:26 UTC
Last Updated On:07-Jun-2006 18:58:27 UTC
Expiration Date:12-Jun-2009 18:34:26 UTC
Sponsoring Registrar:Wild West Domains, Inc. (R120-LROR)

The information says that the last time anything was updated on the domain was Jun 7, 2006. And it is evident that the "updating" consisted of renewing the domain name for 3 years. That could mean that no more "updating' will be done till Jun 2009. Furthermore, if Derrell shared the login information and password, anyone could make the changes. Further beyond that, if Derrell himself made the changes and paid for three years of hosting ($27.00 or so), it would not prove that he was involved with the content of the web site in any manner whatsoever. I personally own domains and host sites with whose content I am in no way involved.

Not that it really matters, because, as I said, the registrar doesn't care a whit whether or not the information is current, as long as they have a current credit card on fiel. And if you don't believe Derrell, you'll not likely believe anyone else. Not that that matters either.

This is all just a red herring to distract from the real issues.

These are the despicable behavior of Dan Shelton towards not only Linda Shelton but towards other ex-employees as well, not to mention breaking of trust in the handling of funds entrusted to him. Further issues include Dan's knowingly employing a man previously fired for sexual misconduct with minors.

What if - and this is merely a "what if" question - Liinda should welcome appearing in court to defend her right to speak out, and to have the "gag order" made invalid?

H'mm ... maybe someone close to Linda should encourage her to make a public statement as a challenget to 3ABN lawyers?

I suspect that Linda will not want to get involved in defending herself, because that is not generally productive. It is far better to leave the defense to supporters.

But perhaps it would be good for her to release a statement that would help in cleaning up some of the mess at 3ABN. She would need counsel to ensure that corroboration for anything she might say is available and forthcoming, etc. .

Very likely 3ABN lawyers would threaten. I suspect it's unlikely that they would actually bring charges. They have usually played the bully, and bullies are known for not following through.

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ Letter From Linda Shelton @ Www.lindashelton.org - Feb. '07

Posted by: sonshineonme Feb 15 2007, 12:18 AM

NOTE: Her letter of demand, posted March 2nd, 2007 now on her website. To go right there, click here http://www.lindashelton.org

In keeping with Linda Shelton requiring an open and transparent ASI sponsored hearing, Linda has now published a letter that includes a clear demand that 3ABN and Danny Shelton produce the evidence they claim to have for inspection and verification to the entire church membership and to the stockholders in the pews. Danny Shelton in various forms and under various alias has repeatedly referenced evidence that he claims to have thereby giving him a basis for divorce and remarriage. The chairman of 3ABN on AToday has made it clear they have no proof of an adulterous affair. Linda Shelton and Arild Abrahamsen have repeatedly asserted that there is no basis for divorce, that no inappropriate relationship occurred and that there is no evidence to support the Danny Shelton claims.

We have repeatedly asserted that if there is no proof, then a remarriage would constitute an adulterous relationship. Danny Shelton was married at 3ABN in March 2006 to a Brandy Murray, a 3ABN employee that reportedly arrived at 3ABN of Thompsonville in July of 2004.

Here is the letter from Linda in its entirety and is also available at www.LindaShelton.org and on www.save3ABN.com . I believe it reflects the same Linda, a bit stronger and less naive than in the past, but as deeply committed to her relationship with the Lord as we all remember so well on that porch at 3ABN.

Linda Shelton does respond to e-mail and will be happy to have a concert or a deeply spiritual service at your location, wherever you may be.

February, 2007

My warmest greetings,

A couple approached me, with tears in their eyes, and said, "We have just missed you and we wanted to see you to make sure you were okay." As I saw the pain in their eyes, over the events that have transpired in my life in the last few years, it was as if my heart was pierced again. "We are just so happy to see you smiling, in church and still serving God." Our meeting took place a few months ago at the Bible Chapel Seventh-day Adventist Church, where I am a member. I enjoyed my visit with this caring Christian couple and the compassion and love they showed toward me.

Some people act surprised that I am still a member of the SDA church. But why? God is still the same awesome God that He always has been, the incredible Bible truths embraced by the Seventh-day Adventists are still just as true today as they ever were and although a "thousand shall fall on my right and a thousand fall on my left" nothing will ever change these facts. We must hold firm to our faith during troubled times!

Many have written to me over the past many months asking me to update my website. This I have prayerfully considered for quite some time, nearly a year. Quite frankly, I just have not known what to say. I feel that this scandal has made a large, festering open wound in my Church. Perhaps the truth revealed will ultimately bring the healing that everyone needs. Then we can grieve together and move on. I am certain, in essence, I have died a thousand deaths over the events of the last couple of years. But, with the Lords blessing, I will try to address issues which have been brought to my attention in the kindest manner possible.

For the first time in nearly three years I will not simply deny the accusations, but will directly address certain issues. I do not take pleasure in speaking of these things. I think I have always been the one who would rather receive hurt, than be the one to inflict hurt upon others. But during the course of this last year I learned some valuable lessons through Dr. Mable Dunbar of Pollys Place Network, she has been an incredible support and help to me. Mable is a woman who truly loves the Lord and is not afraid to stand up for what she believes is right, even if a whole army would stand against her.

Pollys Place Network is a ministry which empowers abused lives and aids them through their difficult circumstances. It is a marvelous organization and so needed for this age when Satan has focused his wrath upon breaking up the security and circle of love God intended for our families. I videotaped some interviews, for Pollys Place, at the SDA Conference office in Spokane, Washington with several individuals who had been through incredibly painful situations. Each of them, in essence, had the same healing story. It was when they were able to come forward and expressed the truth about what happened to them, that their healing came. Inspired by these individuals, now I can accept and believe it is Gods job to protect the ministry I have loved and co-founded, and its my right and my healing to tell the truth about what has occurred.

I am co-authoring a book and its purpose is to share the silver lining of the amazing lessons the Lord has taught me through this crisis. I feel the Lord has lifted a veil and allowed me to see the world that He sees, a world far different than we see. I see that the darts of false allegations that Satan has thrown toward me and my ministry were not directed solely for my downfall, but the aim was much wider. Although I was the apparent target, Satan was attempting to destroy the ministry I loved and co-founded and cripple the witness of the Seventh-day Adventist Church. My perspective has been forever changed through my experiences and my book will give me the opportunity to share these lessons more fully with all of you. (I will keep you posted as to the release date of this book.)

John Knox once said, "Kings (or leaders) have not an absolute power to do in their government what pleases them, but their power is limited by Gods Word; so that if they strike where God has not commanded, they are but murderers; and if they spare where God has commanded to strike, they and their thrones are criminal and guilty of the wickedness which abounds upon the face of the earth, for lack of punishment." John knew his Bible. It is a Biblical principle that if we see a wrong and only look the other way or feebly say, "I will let the Lord deal with that one," then that wickedness is applied to our slate, plain and simple.

The most devastating blow a televangelist can get is the false accusation of adultery. Although I have already made this statement on my website I want to address those of you who have loved and valued my Christianity, integrity and my ministry for the 19 years that I was at 3ABN. I want to clearly emphasize that I was 100% faithful to my husband. I loved, trusted and believed in him to a fault. Imagine my shock when I realized that the false allegations in the form of libel, slander and defamation directed my way were initiated by two of the closest people to me on planet earth; one was my beloved partner and the other was my closest lady friend. I loved them both and trusted them both to the point that their close communication did not bother me in the least. I know that sounds naive, but I did not believe that Dan would do anything that would harm the ministry we had built together.

In 2004 there was a tremendous outcry at my departure. There was suspicion over how swiftly I was fired from my position and divorced. There was suspicion over the fact that I never had the opportunity to talk to the Board and defend myself. There was suspicion over the fact that every trace of my presence was completely cleared out of the campus of 3ABN, even before my termination, as well as the website, television and radio broadcasts. I was made a sacrificial lamb in a scheme calculated to remove me from both my home and my ministry through an orchestrated campaign of malicious lies circulated around the globe. No words can begin to describe the absolute agony this has brought to my life, but there are other victims as well, and may God bless and spare the young lives and tender souls who have also felt the stinging thrust of this sword of scandal.

It has completely broken my heart to see the emails and letters which have come from the Chairman of the Board, Dan and others at 3ABN, to hear of the television and radio programs where erroneous references have been made to the situation, to watch the ministry that I helped build with much devotion used to destroy me and also to hear of the reports of what is being said on the SDA chat sites about me today by those bent on my destruction...nearly three years later.

It was the false accusation of adultery which caused the loss of my marriage, my reputation, my employment, and everything else. I challenge the 3ABN Board to produce the "irrefutable evidence" which caused a co-founder, a life-time Board member, Vice-President and Secretary of the Board to be removed in that May, 2004 meeting! I am asking, no demanding, that the information is made public, at my request! Cast aside these pretended desires to "spare me"! The world is waiting with baited breath!

The stakes are high. I, as well as others, have personally experienced electronic surveillance, email theft, interception of cell phone calls, post divorce entry into my private residence to the point where charges were filed with the police. It is not easy to live your life when you feel that you can never know for sure if you are being followed, watched or recorded...even now. I have had invitations to do ministry thwarted because of continued allegations by those, who, like wolves in sheeps clothing, attempted to stop my ministry.

I want to make this absolutely clear: I left my home because I was not safe, I was not welcome. I was witnessing the murder of my reputation and ministry day by day. I stayed as long as I felt I could. I hoped, believed and prayed that things would change but they only got worse. The statements made that I left my husband for another man are absolutely and totally false. Any thinking person would realize that I had everything a Christian woman could have wanted in this life: a husband I loved and the opportunity to minister to millions of people about the tremendous love of my Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, though the ministry that we spent so many years building together. Although two of the people who I loved best have called me "Gomer", yet a more accurate term would be "Hosea", which I would only discover later. But I prefer simply, Linda, "SAVED by the Blood of the Lamb!"

I do not visit the chat sites. This has been a mega-trial for me and my way of coping has been to try and focus on other things. I realize that the individuals which make up our Church need healing from this disaster too. And perhaps the chat sites have served to help people give expression to their frustrations and hurts in this situation. I am grateful to each of you who have prayed and interceded for me. It has meant so much during my dark days. Youâ€™ll never know just how much!

Now my kids are grown and I am alone...but not really alone, although I have not husband. Now I belong to everyone and everyone belongs to me! And I still sing, "Thank you for being my family, thank you for being my friends: May God bless and keep you in all that you may do until we meet again!"

It is my goal to just make your journey and mine a little lighter and brighter. I have faith that the Lord still has a work for me to do, a new ministry. I am ready and available for church services, week of prayer, concerts, etc. as the Lord opens the doors. I do not know what my future holds, but God does and that's enough for me.

Just in closing I want to make an appeal to you to get out your binoculars, dust them off, bring them into focus and then search... Love your neighbor enough to be a Good Samaritan. When he is broken and bleeding in the middle of the road, focus your binoculars with the love of Christ, but don't stop there, reach out and meet his need in his time of crisis. Christianity is not something that "just happens". True Christianity occurs when a decided action is taken...when we search, when we fill a need, when we mend a broken heart and when we are just "there" for hurting people. There is a lot of them. But there are too few Christians who focus their binoculars with love.

Thank you for being my family! Stay close to the Shepherd!

Blessings to you and yours

Linda Shelton

QUOTE

Folks, in regard to Linda's letter, I have the word:

Linda was working in connection with some other people to develop a letter that she could post on her website. That letter had NOT yet reached its final form.

The letter that was posted was a working draft. It had been extensively revised by another person working with Linda on its preparation. Some of Linda's comments were removed from that letter, and some comments from another person were added to it.

It was sent to Linda with the intention that she review it to see what changes, if any, she would make to that draft. Linda did not consider it to be in the final form that she wanted to post on her website.

She was not asked if she would permit it to be posted on the Internet prior to her posting it on her website. She would have denied permission if she had been asked. When Linda first learned that it was posted on the Internet, she asked that it be removed. She has been informed that it is to late to remove anything. So, the letter stands, and will remain posted on the Internet.

While the letter posted was not the final version of what Linda would have posted, she is clear that she was working with other people to prepare a letter to be posted on her website.

She plans to later post such on her website. She is considering her options in view of the fact that this draft was posted. She will probably make some revisions in the letter that she posts on her site. But, that will be done in the context of what has been posted here.

Praise God whom controls all things in the end.

Linda;

One day I would like to meet you if it the Lord's will. I would like to tell you what your silent witness has done for me.

However, your walk has been so public, thanks to your ex-spouse, and I see that it took a miracle of love and grace for you to stand today. "You have been broken and spilled out for the love of You, Jesus."

Have you ever had a foam throw pillow that got buried under a heavy pile of blankets? Then one day you find it, but it is flatter than a pancake? Yet you take it out to give it room to expand and eventually it does!

We are like that pillow. Some of us have been under a heavy load for years, however, 3 years ago someone (God) took you away from your oppression and has given you room to grow. Just like that pillow, you can now stand tall and bring this travesty to an end.

May your "pillow" grow even larger than it ever was before.

We are family.

Much love,
Fran

Praise the Lord for Linda's letter!!! I have been blessed reading it. It's very encouraging to see the Lord at work in her life. I'm so glad to see that though she's gone through the fire of terrible tribulations she's stayed firm in the Lord. Alleluia!!!
I'll be praying even more now. I imagine that the devil will do everything in his power to annul Linda's strong witness for truth. I pray for protection for Linda and for the Holy Spirit to work in peoples hearts so truth can shine. And, if possible, I would like for the 3ABN ministry to be spared through confession and repentance. Oh, Lord, hear our prayers! Amen!

Linda's letter is not yet posted on her website. It is expected to be posted there shortly.

NOTE: Linda's reputation has been so trashed that she believes that she has nothing to lsoe by making everything public. So, 3-ABN, Danny, Dr. Thompson: Bring it on.

As stated, the issue of making it all public was a major factor in the failure of ASI to mediate a resolution to the issues. LInda wanted a public record for the world to see, where each perosn could make up their own mind. ASI (apparently 3-ABN, Danny ?) did not.

In my opinion, this has no substance, for the most part it is just:  and I think all this talk of lawsuits, is what stirred this rally the troops letter.

What did she really say?

1. "I'm persecuted" -- No proof or evidence

2. "I don't visit the chat sites... " -- This is a bit much if you are aquainted with any of the behind the scenes garbage. In any case all her friends and supporters do, and her representatives have a website, slandering 3ABN and this letter will appear in both ...

3. Prove I committed Adultery!

QUOTE(Observer @ Feb 15 2007, 06:30 AM)

As stated, the issue of making it all public was a major factor in the failure of ASI to mediate a resolution to the issues. LInda wanted a public record for the world to see, where each perosn could make up their own mind. ASI (apparently 3-ABN, Danny ?) did not.

The facts are ASI was to consider the issue of Linda and Danny's divorce and his remarriage with evidence submitted by both sides, and witnesses for each. Their findings and the reasons for them were to be made PUBLIC.

Danny and 3 ABN agreed. Linda's side, including you, did not. You wanted to discuss other thiings...

Yet here comes Linda and all that she demands now to be made public is proof that she committed adultery??? That could have already been done had she agreed.

She must think people are stupid.

Linda says she was 100% faithful to Danny. Was that only during the marriage? Was there ever a time she was with the Dr, romantically? What about when Danny's people say he took her to the airport so she could be with the Dr?

Yes, it does seem as though not only does Linda reveal the same spirit which she has shown since "the beginning" of her ordeal, but that Cindy has also (and dramatically) revealed the spirit with which she has posted on this topic since "the beginning" of her time with us.

Scripture gives us the principle that when one judges others without sufficient cause, one reveals one's own self by the type of judgment one passes. But seldom does one so clearly portray their own inner attitude as Cindy as done for us here.... including her own execution and plea for it to be speedy.

Very interesting. Very interesting indeed.

Aletheia, You have made several false statements. As I was involved in the ASI mediation, and you were not, as far as I know, but I really do not know who you are, your information is faulty.

To respond to you, I will post a series of responses. People will then be able to judge for themself the truth.

Aletheia:

In early December, I recieved an e-mail from Mr. Lance. Quoted below are a couple of paragraphs from that e-mail that I believe are important:

QUOTE

I know there are many issues being discussed. I have counted at least 23 in the last few weeks. Some issues are already the subject of ongoing litigation. The request from the 3ABN Board of Directors to ASI was: ..."request to ASI that it establish a commission to evaluate and determine Danny's' legal and moral right to remarry". ASIs' membership criteria includes a component that requires the applicant or its leaders to be in regular standing with the SDA Church. We check that factor in every application. Membership in the SDA Church is the exclusive province of the local church (except for membership in the "Conference Church", not involved here). The rather unique situation of the Church associated with 3ABN creates a different perspective from the typical SDA Church on matters of membership.

All of us know ASI has no jurisdiction to act as a court with authority to make orders and awards that disputants are required to follow. What we may have that could be of assistance is some stature and credibility that would make its' findings hard for the parties to ignore. This can only have a possibility of succeeding if the parties support and respect that potential. Because of ASI's membership requirements there is some logic for ASI's involvement on issues that directly reflect on 3ABNs' membership status in ASI. We believe that ASI could properly focus on issues revolving around the biblical appropriateness of the Shelton's divorce and Danny's subsequent remarriage, issues relating to Linda's and Danny's employment status at 3ABN and actions taken concerning Linda's membership in the local SDA Church.

GM:

1) You will note that ASI accepted a request from 3-ABN to examine Danny's legal and moral right to remarry. That is clearly a one-sided approach that appears to benefit Danny and 3-ABN. As you know, one of the issues was whether or not Linda had a Biblical right to divorce Danny and to remarry. In fairness, the examination should clearly have been expanded to include this aspect: Did Linda have a Biblical right to divorce Danny and to remarry.

2) In mediation, an impartial mediator never accepts the boundaries that one party wants. Rather, the impartial mediator discusses boundaries and limitations with both sides. Only when both sides agree upon those limitations does mediation begin.

3) As I have said, several times: I agree with Mr. Lance that the majority of the issues lie outside of the ability of ASI to resolve. Those issues, if ever resolved lie in the area of the civil authorities.

QUOTE

You may have learned that it is the ASI position that there needs to be a balance between the process of being open and on the other hand be respectful of the legitimate privacy concerns of the parties. Government, worldly businesses, charitable organizations and the Church all recognize this need. When sensitive personnel matters are under consideration Boards typically go into executive session for such discussions. Accordingly we expect that this process would do the same and that information and documentation would be received and held in confidence by all of the parties and their representatives. At the conclusion of the matter the Panelists findings of facts and recommendations would become publicly available.

Aletheia, Here Mr. Lance states that the facts and recommendations would become public. His statement is fairly clear that the reasons for those recommendations would be held in confidence. That was unacceptable to Linda. Her reputation has been so trashed that it was a fundamental position of ours that the reasons for the recommendations should be laid out in a manner that any person would be able to access those and decide themselves as to whether or not the charges were true. Linda believes that she has nothing to lose in this. There is a very clear difference of opinon on the issue of making things public. This was one of the reasons the ASI attempt failed.

Aletheia, you are wrong when you attempt to imply that ASI wanted it to be more open than Linda wanted.

Aletheia:

Here is the response that I made to Mr. Lance. As it was a long response, I have removed material that appears to go beyond the issues that you suggested:

QUOTE

Response to ASI
HL 061203

Introduction:

Overall I was encouraged by the outreach that Harold Lance has made to us. It is a good start. It reflects a good tone (spirit). In many ways it reflects where I am. Of course, I am going to think a document is good when it agrees with me. ☐

It seems to agree with my assessment of what must be accomplished if ASI can establish a panel that can achieve some degree of resolution. If he has read what I have previously posted on the Internet, he knows that I have stated that the following are the critical issues that the respective parties must agree upon if this panel is to be effective:

1) They must agree upon the issues to be considered.
2) They must agree upon the aim of the panel, or to put it another way, what the expected results are.
3) They must agree upon the process.

NOTE: In my previous public posts, I have expanded upon the above slightly.

In my understanding of what Harold has written, he also sees the above as critical issues.

I have reflected upon his document overnight. Without detracting from what I consider to be an excellent document, I will suggest that it contains a number of issues that need further clarification, and agreement by the parties. It is my intention in my response to identify those and to comment upon them. Any references that I may make to "critical issues," unless otherwise identified, will reference the three listed above. To identify my point for discussion, I will quote from Harold's document with a "Re:" followed by either the quotation, or a brief summary of a point in his document.

Discussion:

a) Re: ". . . request to ASI [by 3-ABN] that it establish a commission to evaluate and determine Danny's' [sic] legal and moral right to remarry."

This falls under my critical issue # 1.

This request seems to limit the issues that are to be considered by this commission. Perhaps that is O.K., if the respective parties agree to this. In my mind, the marital issues, which have some importance, are much less important than other issues. Again, what do the respective parties want, and agree to?

A larger issue is that this wording restricts the marital issues to Danny and Linda, their divorce, and Danny's remarriage. I will suggest that the marital issues are much larger than this focus. Danny has been charged, rightly or wrongly, I do not know, with sexual misconduct, during the time that he was married to Linda, and following the divorce, prior to his marriage to Brandi. These issues are clearly marital issues, yet they lie outside of the narrow focus as requested by 3-ABN.

I acknowledge that this commission cannot be expected to consider every one of the issues that are considered important by everyone. But, I think it is important that this commission issue a statement of such limitations, and that therefore interested parties are free to pursue redress in other venues, to include the civil authorities. After all, God established civil government, and directed all of us to submit to its rule, when not in conflict with God. This all is related to my critical issue # 2.

Re: "ASI has no jurisdiction. . . [and is without} authority to make orders and awards that disputants are required to follow."

I agree wholeheartedly with the above. ASI is very limited in what it can accomplish. To place what Harold then states in words of my own: ASI can only make findings of fact, and recommendations. Again, this is related to my critical issue # 2. With this perspective, ASI cannot require binding resolution. There must be an acknowledgement that the parties are free to reject, and to see other venues for resolution. If any of the parties should do so, the findings of fact, and recommendations of the Commission would play a role as to how the SDA public perceived this situation. From this perspective, I believe that the parties would carefully consider such findings and recommendations, before rejecting them. I believe that this would be helpful.

c) Re: The Biblical appropriateness of the divorce and the remarriage.

We are on uncertain ground with this one, as important as it is. Regardless of the CHURCH MANUAL, we as a denomination do not agree with what constitutes Biblical grounds, and remarriage following divorce. In my personal opinion, as applied to this situation Biblical grounds must be limited to sexual misconduct, and what is commonly considered to be adultery. This presents us with a problem. Danny and 3-ABN (Dr. Thompson) have clearly stated, many times, that they have no proof that Linda violated what I have just laid out above. From this standpoint, by the thinking of some, with this admission from Danny and 3-ABN, the Commission can only find that Linda did not provide Danny with Biblical grounds for divorce. I agree with that position, until it is proven to me that she did commit adultery.

NOTE: In my mind, and that of many conservative SDAs so-called "spiritual adultery" and adultery in one's thoughts are not Biblical grounds. ASI will clearly, in my mind be off the conservative platform if it suggests any such do constitute Biblical grounds. Any such opinion coming from it will highly disturb its conservative base of support.

[I have removed a very short paragraph—GM.]

There is also another issue here that is raised due to the fact that the SDA church is divided in regard to what are Biblical grounds for divorce and remarriage. It is a fundamental issue under law that people be treated equally. It is likely that people are not treated equally in this issue, and are treated according to the congregation in which they find themselves. The ASI Committee should consider not only Biblical grounds, the CHRUCH MANUAL, but also the typical way that people are treated today in SDA congregations. I.e. They should not treat either Danny or Linda more strictly than they would be treated in the typical local congregation. This is required by basic fairness.

Retention in a position of spiritual leadership is an appropriate consideration. I.e. A person might be retained in church membership, yet removed from a position of major ministry. When such is done, there is an obligation to treat all in the same manner. E.g. If Linda is to be examined as to her conduct, and whether or not she should be retained in a position of spiritual leadership, so also should Danny be examined. And, her treatment should also be examined in relation to other people who may also have been charged with sexual misconduct.

d) Re: Issues of Danny and Linda's employment:

ASI can only recommend. It cannot enforce. ASI potentially could recommend that Danny be relieved from all employment at 3-ABN, if this was thought to be appropriate. However, it is a stretch of the imagination to believe that such would happen if ASI were to recommend it.

As to Linda: Realistically, she could not effectively return to 3-ABN unless there was a major change in leadership to include the Board. She simply would not be allowed to effectively work there, and would likely be marginalized.

e) Re: Issues regarding Linda's membership:

Linda is presently a member, in good standing, in a SDA Church recognized by a recognized SDA Conference. Her membership should not be an issue.

Should ASI consider how she was treated by her church of former membership? Perhaps? Maybe? I am not certain? What would be accomplished? Within the denominational rules that are supposed to govern such, local congregations have the authority, right or wrong. Perhaps the best that could be said might be so say that the relationship between Linda, the local congregation, the Conference and its leadership, and 3-ABN, was of such a nature that denominational rules in existence did not provide the guidance that was needed, and that therefore issues of potential ethical conflicts arise out of this situation.

NOTE: I am not attempting to prejudge the case, or to suggest that there is only one conclusion that the Committed may make. I think that there are many aspect of this case that present very hard questions and I am not certain that ASI can resolve them. Perhaps, however, they can raise issues that may be resolved for future situations should they rise again.

[I have removed a major section of material which deals with issues outside of what Aletheia mentioned—GM.]

The issue of a record is important. There must be enough detail to provide a historical record for the future.

'i) Re: Balance between privacy and openness.

There is a clear place for privacy. Women who accuse someone of sexual misconduct must have some expectation of privacy. Society in general recognizes such.

However, society distinguishes between common people and public figures. Danny and Linda are both public figures. Both have been accused publicly of major sins. Neither rightly has the expectation of privacy that a common person might have. In any case, with the publication of their alleged sins for the world to read, privacy in [is] not the answer at this time. In fairness to both of them, a final report should report findings on the accusations that have been made against them. As public figures, the SDA public needs to know such findings. If this is not done, these issues will not go away. They will remain in public view and under public discussion.

I have removed a very short paragraph as it dwelt with an issue outside of what Aletheia mentioned—GM.]

QUOTE(Aletheia @ Feb 15 2007, 05:15 AM)

Aletheia:

Writing to Mr. Lance on December 11, I stated the following:

QUOTE

Harold:

I appreciate the time and effort that you have expended in making this response. It is clear that you have thoughtfully read the comments that have been made to you. I agree with much of what you have said. This mess could turn into litigation that conceivably could result in the expenditure of several hundred thousand dollars. Under some circumstances the idea of it costing tens of thousands of dollars is a gross underestimate. I agree that the Church does not have a process that is suitable for the situation that we are facing. I also think that it is not possible for some of these issues to be resolved outside of the civil realm.

However, I do believe that it is possible for ASI to be involved in this situation in a manner that will be helpful. But, that is only if the respective parties can come to an agreement that allows for that. I am not certain that such an agreement will be reached.

I will make some personal responses to your post to us. I will identify them with my initials (GM), to distinguish them from your comments. It should be noted that my response is simply that, my personal response. It may, or may not agree with that of others of us. In this issue, Mr. Joy is the primary person who is representing the interests of Linda Shelton.

WILL OUR PROCESS CONFLICT WITH THE PENDING ASSET DIVISION LITIGATION?

GM: This is clearly an area that should not be decided by any independent panel. This belongs to the civil realm. In my opinion, it is Biblical for some issues to be left to t he civil realm. Further, that is consistent with the CHURCH MANUEL. Some issues simply cannot be decided outside to the civil authorities. This also applies to a number of issues. Included in these would be criminal matters, and certain financial matters, and issues of taxation.

If we agree on the above, I believe that it is critical for the ASI panel to issue a statement that certain specific matters belong in the civil realm, and people who pursue those issues in civil courts, or cooperate with such, are on Biblical grounds for doing so.

Is ASI willing to issue such a statement?

IS ASI IMPARTIAL OR IN DANNY'S HIP POCKET?

GM: There will always be people who will believe that ASI should not be involved. In one sense, probably most people involved in this will have some sort of a bias. We are never going to change the mind of those who believe that ASI should not be involved. The issue is: Can we structure a process that the respective parties can agree to, and is as fair as possible?

SINCE THERE ARE MANY OTHER CONCERNS WHY LIMIT THE ISSUES TO THOSE SUGGESTED?

GM: You are correct that ASI probably cannot deal with all of the issues that have surfaced. There are many reasons for that. The decisions as to what issues to deal with cannot be made unilaterally. If ASI does that it will immediately be seen in a negative light. The decisions as to what issues to deal with must be made by the parties involved. That is the first issue: What are the issues to be considered?

The second issue is as I have referenced earlier: What about the other issues? How should people work to resolve them? As some are likely to only be resolved in the civil realm, will ASI publicly state that people who do such are acting appropriately?

DO ACTIVITIES AND PERSONNEL ACTIONS THREATEN LIABILITY FOR THE SDA CHURCH?

GM: I am one who has clearly raised this issue. In discussions that I have had with other people, it is clear to me that I have not been clear in what I was attempting to communicate. Let me attempt to state this issue in a better form: I DO NOT believe that either 3-ABN or the denomination has so-called ascending liability for the past actions of any person during a time when they were not employed by 3-ABN. It would be a stretch to conclude otherwise. However, I do believe that should a person accused of prior criminal acts commit such acts in the future, while in a relationship with 3-ABN, that such could involve both 3-ABN and/or the IL Conference in liability. That liability could be based upon the failure of both 3-aBN and/or the IL Conference to exercise due prudence in assigning duties to an individual whom they knew has been accused of criminal or immoral acts in the past.

Re: "IT IS ESSENTIAL THAT THE INTERCHAGES, CONTAINING DEROGATORY INFORMATION, STOP AMONG THE PARTIES AND THEIR TEAM MEMBERS."

GM: Harold, you have been unable to stop Danny from fueling the fires that you understandably object to. Further, the supporters of 3-ABN are independent, and not controlled by Danny. They continue to engage in such. They can not be stopped. As long as they do such, others will respond.

So, also those who support Linda are independent, and not controlled by either Linda, or us. We cannot stop them. As long as people supporting Linda engage in such, those who support 3-ABN will respond.

Harold, I understand what you are asking. It is not possible for either you or for us.

SHOULD AN SDA JUDGE BE USED TO CONDUCT THE PROCEEDINGS?

GM: Point taken, if the parties agree to such.

DO PARTIES WHO MAY BE "PUBLIC FIGURES" GIVE UP THEIR RIGHT TO PRIVACY?

GM: No, anyone who understands the law knows that public figures do not give up all rights to privacy. But, U.S. law clearly limits the rights to privacy of pubic figures over non-public figures.

Further, public figures to have a right, if conditions are met, to recover damages for slander, libel, and defamation of character. Those who understand the law know that this cuts both ways. It is likely that neither side is guilty to the exclusion of the other side. Should one side litigate over these issues, it is likely that counter-suits will be filed against the side that initiated the litigation.

In addition, I could propose situation in which neither side would want to litigate these issues. It is correct that "truth" may sometimes not be a defense against such a lawsuit. But, I can imagine where a side would not want to litigate an issue that they might win due to discovery and public exposure during a trial.

One fundamental issue is simply this: Public charges have been made against public individuals, and 3-ABN that will not go away unless they are resolved in public. To publicly resolve them, there may have to be some public exposure of facts that are typically protected by confidentiality in denominational circles. A failure to do this will likely result in continued discussion in public.

Let me add an additional factor: The so-called media is following this more closely that some may know. I have been asked to write an article for publication on one aspect of this which I declined to write at that time. There are others who have been approached in a similar manner, to include the secular media. Herald, I predict that if this is not resolved, and fairly soon, the media, to include the secular media, will begin reporting aspects of this which none can control. If ASI cannot resolve this, the world at large may do so.

SHOULD THE PANEL INCLUDE EXPERTS THAT COULD ASSIST IN THEIR COMPREHENSION OF THE INFORMATION?

GM: My comment on "transference" could be satisfied by a witness, rather than a member. Regardless, my point is taken, and you seem to have heard it.

WHAT STANDARD IS TO BE USED IN WEIGHING THE BIBLICAL DIVORCE REMARRIAGE ISSUE?

GM: Yes the CHUCH MANUAL is the standard. But, that can be understood and enforced in various ways. As an attorney you know that while "statute law" is the standard, "case law is always considered. My point is made. As I have previously stated, the "gold standard" among conservative SDAs is physical adultery. It has been clearly stated by 3-ABN that proof of such does not exist. If ASI strays away from that gold standard of adultery, it will lose status among conservative SDAs.

WHAT STANDARD WILL BE USED IN ALLOWING INFORMATION TO BE CONSIDERED ?

GM: Sounds good as I understand it.

HOW WILL PANEL PROCEED AND THE QUESTIONING OCCUR?

GM: The representative must be the one chosen by the party. In other words, ASI cannot exclude anyone from being a representative.

Re: "The hearing will be confidential and private, not recorded or reported by the panel, the parties, or the representative."

GM: I understand. I have some concern. This scandal is public. There must be enough information given to the public to resolve their issues. Harold, the public has a stake in this. All parties, to include 3-ABN have a major interest in this being resolved in the mind of the public.

Re: "Thank you for your patience in awaiting my thoughts. Please read this carefully. If you have questions feel free to express them. Whenever we have clarified adequately we will put our process information into a document that we can all sign on to, then begin the details of scheduling, etc."

GM: And thank you for the effort you have put into this.

As I was reading Linda's letter I kept wondering what spin the Danny apologists would put out there. At the end of the letter, I thought surely Linda's request for Danny to show all this rock-solid evidence that he claims he has would be welcomed by people on both sides of the argument. But, incredibly, I see by reading Alethia's response that they've sunk to a new low. I can't wait to see what darts the others have to throw.

I've never met Linda and have no feelings for her either way, but I am impressed with the tone of her letter. Unlike the vitriol and hate that seeps through every word posted by Danny and his crew, Linda never once bashed her accusers, even though some would say she would be completely justified in doing so, and never condemned them all to hell. Whether she's right or wrong, innocent or guilty, I appreciate her approach to the whole situation.

I agree with you.... the tone of the letter is becoming a servant of Christ.

If nothing else, it definitely serves as a reminder of how we as Christians need to handle difficulty, criticism, and scrutiny...

What did she really say?

1. "I'm persecuted" -- No proof or evidence

2. "I don't visit the chat sites... " -- This is a bit much if you are aquainted with any of the behind the scenes garbage. In any case all her friends and supporters do, and her representatives have a website, slandering 3ABN and this letter will appear in both ...

3. Prove I committed Adultery!

Alethia,

Apparently you are aquainted with the behind the scenes garbage. How about some transparency and open explanation what you mean by that?

I don't know what you mean by supporter of Linda. If you mean spiritual supporter then I spiritually support Linda. If you ask me to be your spiritual supporter I will be happy to do that too. There is no conflict of interest. Last time I looked in the Bible God didn't say anything about supporting one person and not supporting another. Do you know that God even Loves Hitler?

When I read Linda's letter it contained the same loving caring Christ centered way she always portrayed when she would sit on the porch talking to us lifting us up to God in prayer when she was co-founder of 3ABN. This time her walk with Jesus is even closer than ever.

I am so sorry you are hurting so much. I will keep you in my prayers daily so that you and Jesus can become good friends again and begin to heal so your heart can be so overfilled with Love that it spills out in your life to those around you and you can begin to minister to others showing them God healed you so God can heal them also.

Jesus loves me this I know. I die daily when I ask the Holy Spirit to take out my filty rags righteousnes and fill me up with Holy Spirit righteousness so I can be more loving and caring and helping to others around me and point to Jesus how Loves them too.

Sending Linda's letter to as many sites as possible will be a wonderful witnes of Linda's relying on her relationship with Jesus. Thank you.

Rosyroi... A Rose for you to smell and think of Jesus and HIS Love for you.

Folks, in regard to Linda's letter, I have the word:

Linda was working in connection with some other people to develop a letter that she could post on her website. That letter had NOT yet reached its final form.

The letter that was posted was a working draft. It had been extensively revised by another person working with Linda on its preparation. Some of Linda's comments were removed from that letter, and some comments from another person were added to it.

It was sent to Linda with the intention that she review it to see what changes, if any, she would make to that draft. Linda did not consider it to be in the final form that she wanted to post on her website.

She was not asked if she would permit it to be posted on the Internet prior to her posting it on her website. She would have denied permission if she had been asked. When Linda first learned that it was posted on the Internet, she asked that it be removed. She has been informed that it is to late to remove anything. So, the letter stands, and will remain posted on the Internet.

While the letter posted was not the final version of what Linda would have posted, she is clear that she was working with other people to prepare a letter to be posted on her website.

She plans to later post such on her website. She is considering her options in view of the fact that this draft was posted. She will probably make some revisions in the letter that she posts on her site. But, that will be done in the context of what has been posted here.

Well, we have the general idea, anyway.

I applaud Linda for working on this. Hopefully it will lead to greater healing of her own hurt as well as to resolution of this issue as a smudge on the church's reputation.

Then, will it lead to the openness in dealing with all the other problems at 3ABN?

As I have said many times, we are imperfect. You will catch us in mistakes. This will not be the last one.

However, I would rather publish a mistake that I have discovered than to be accused of covering it up in the hope that no one would learn about it.

I do not know exactly what Linda will publish on her website. I do not know in what ways it will differ from the letter posted here. But, I do beleive that whatever Linda published on her website will be close to what was posted here. In any case, we will just have to wait to see.

Linda is also demanding the verifiable facts and evidence and truth as are you.

Since you are concerned about the truth, as you say you are, you should be pleased with Linda's demand for the exact same evidence, which 3ABN has claimed to have in their possession.

You also said:

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 23 2007, 07:51 AM)

Linda is speaking up for herself as you can see from this rough draft of her letter.

You're hearing "Linda's voice" as you have requested "on several occasions."

Once again, you should be pleased with that.

gonna move the questions about the pregnancy test to that thread.....

Posted by: SoulEspresso Feb 15 2007, 05:52 PM

I posted to this effect the other day but I'll say it again (I hope this doesn't count as double posting): unless you're an eyewitness yourself, anything anyone tells you is hearsay--until established in a court of law.

I don't know whether scans of original documents count--legally speaking. And this isn't a court anyway, no such thing as an online court. I'm not a legal person, but I've had enough contact with this sort of stuff to know you have to be careful.

You don't come to the Internet, generally, looking for verifiable evidence on a topic like this. Especially not a message board.

What you can do is look at the various versions of hearsay and try to weigh them. It can be exhausting, reading all the threads; I reviewed them this morning again. I don't pretend to have covered all of them, but the overall picture is that there's a lot of nefarious business at the network, and no one there can seem to refute it.

I say "there" and mean "here." 3ABN folks post here all the time trying to spin the discussion in every way they can, but if they had any good proof they could talk about -- wouldn't it have come up by now? The pregnancy test? Please.

Linda has done the whole church a service by beginning this letter. The hearsay stops, the real evidence begins to emerge--such as it is.

NOTE: I've gone back and edited some of my posts to use more precise language. I've changed none of the content. This one I'm leaving like it is so the conversation with PB makes sense to lurkers. PB believed that I was muddying the waters by the use of the term "hearsay." I meant it in a legal sense, but that nuance might be lost on some lurkers. What we see here on these boards is one person's word against another, but I've spent hours and hours reading through this stuff and the pattern that emerges is this: 3ABN has some stuff to hide, maybe a lot. Probably a lot. That's my interpretation of what I see here and elsewhere on the net, including save3abn.com.

SoulEspresso,

I agree that this isn't an online court and we must take care when attempting to discern what is true and equally take care when we decide that what we see is actual evidence. However, in this particular instance, we have a wealth of information that comes from first-hand eyewitnesses, folks that have actually experienced the saga for themselves. They can provide their pieces of the puzzle and, when looked at as a whole, we can get a pretty good indication of what the true picture is.

To date, no one from the Thompsonville/West Frankfort area has challenged Tommy's emailed confession that is posted over on save3abn.com. So, unless someone brings convincing proof that it is fake I believe the heresay was stopped for that subject and the real evidence is emerging.

The question I have is why was this letter presented here as something Linda was ready to publish. Implicit in the OP was that Linda had approved the letter. Makes me wonder what else has been presented as "fact" that really isn't.

Linda has been charged with being responsible for just about everything that her supporters say about her. They tell us that we who support her could not know X if Linda had not told us X.

Well, the publication of this draft letter demonstrates that people who support Linda are not acting under her control.

Here is how the situation developed, and the facts became known.

1) Daryl F. of MSDAOL, and I acting independently checked our Linda's website and noted that it had not been posted there. Both of us attempted to make contact with Linda. Daryl succeeded before I made contact with her.

2) When Daryl made the contact, and Linda told him the facts, Daryl contacted me. I attempted to contact Linda, and succeeded. Linda told me, as I related it here.

3) When I discovered that the letter had not been posted on Linda's website, I wondered. However, in the early days of Linda's website, Linda was working with others, as I recall, to keep the website going. As I remember, sometimes her letters, etc. were not posted immediately on her website by the webmaster. So, I thought that might have been the case. But, I wanted to tell Linda about the letter that had been posted on three forums.

4) Then when Daryl informed me of his contact with Linda, I re-doubled my efforts to contact her, and I did.

So that is how this all came about.

I am glad that she is finally speaking because hopefully the truth can come out. I think we are at a cross road here, either Linda is a liar or she is telling the truth there is no middle ground. She has express 100% that she is not guilty of adultry. She has asked for the proof that Danny has stated that He had concerning her supposed adultry. Now if Danny does not provide the proof Him and the others at 3abn in my eyesight will forever be tainted as liars and mere pretenders.

I find it very difficult to understand how the board members could dismiss Linda without providing her with the reason as to why. The fact that she must ask for that information is by its very nature suspect to say the least. And why would they not just give her the information before now so she could do what she wanted with it? I have been in many a board meeting where the individual that was being disfellowshiped or put our was not there, in every case we the board sent them a letter explaining the reason we disfellowshiped them and all pertinent information via a certified letter.

I have enjoyed the many years that I watched Danny, Linda on 3abn but I am impartial to either of them. I have also contibuted to them finacially tho I have stopped at this time. It is my prayer that Her request is answered promptly without excuse.

PB

'm using hearsay in a technical sense. What I mean is this; unless I'm an eyewitness myself, anything ınyone tells me is hearsay to me until it's been established in a court of law and/or by other evidence.

tip heavily toward believing Linda was wronged (and that there's other nefarious business afoot) because nuch of the hearsay on this site and on save3abn.com is more credible. Why is it more credible? Because hese other people are eyewitnesses and have posted documentation--and some of them have identified hemselves, bless them. Those than haven't identified themselves want to keep their jobs, I understand that.

3ut since I'm not an eyewitness, haven't seen the original copies of the documents, I still consider it hearsay. n other words, it's not hearsay to them because they saw it with their own eyes, but it's hearsay to me when hey tell me. Does that make sense?

\nother reason I believe Linda was wronged and that there's other nefarious business afoot is the attitude of :ertain posters who will go to great lengths to defend Danny and try to paint 3ABN in a good light, even when hey have to misquote, contradict themselves, etc. They claim to be eyewitnesses, too, but they don't have ıames and dates like the others do--all they have is the desire to stir things up and defend their boy.

'he third reason? AToday's article. AToday is a news magazine, and they can't publish libelous stuff. What hey got was established enough by credible sources that they figured their story would stand up in court--not ıs testimony, but that it wasn't libel the way it was written.

'hose of us who find ourselves frustrated with these people are sometimes guilty of a rough spirit--no worse han theirs, mind you, but they're not the Standard (by the way, I haven't seen in any of that in you, PB). 've tried to keep myself in a positive tone but when I catch them in an obvious act of deception I get mad.

t's too bad there's no arbiter in this case. Because it fell through, this tale is going to hit the secular press ;oon. I bet they're lurking, waiting for as much data as possible before blowing open the story. And they will ›e merciless, far more than AToday--because they don't care about a church or its reputation.

\ few comments, and you are on target:

was once asked to write an article for the media. I refused to write one with the focus they wanted.

\ major figure in this mess was approached, some time back, and asked to cooperate in writing a an article or major national publication in the seccular media (i.e. not associated with the SDA press). That person also refused.

Some of us believe that once litigation begins, the seccular media will begin to run with this developing story. We think that it is possible that 3-ABN/Danny will soon begin litigation. That litigation may be focused on issues that are not of great interest to the seccular media--trademark issues associated with the website <save31bn>. But, if a lawsuit is filed against Linda, the media may jump on that like a flea jumping on a dog, on a hot summer day. That, in my opinion, would be a public relations disaster for 3-ABN.

Frankly, God is more concerned about truth, righteous, justice, mercy, and other such, than reputation. As 3-ABN is independent, and not a denominational entity, the reputation of the denomination may not suffer as much as some would have us to beleive.

In any case, the reputation of the denomination is less important than is God's standards of righteousness. It is better for us to take damage to reputation than to cover-up wrong doing, if that is the case.

We say that we do not want to destroy 3-ABN. I do not believe that we could do so, if we wanted to do so. 3-ABN is in God's hands for as long as 3-ABN is in compliance with the mission of God for it. If 3-ABN is destroyed, whatever that may mean, it will be because such was in the will of God for it.

The Bible is clear that there are times in human and spiritual history that God does destroy, so to speak, so that God can build anew.

God destroyed the Earth with a flood, so that God could build anew.

God will at a later tieme destroy the Earth with fire so that God can build anew.

God burned Battle Creek so that God could build anew out of the ashes of Battle Creek. That destruction came only after God had sent warnigs by humans, which were rejected.

If God allows 3-ABN to be destroyed, so to speak, there are two possibilities:

a) God can reconstitute 3-ABN again, out of those ashes, and 3-ABN can again fill the role that God gives it.

b) God can leave it in ashes, as Hope TV may fill the role that God intended for 3-ABN, and for which 3-ABN departed, and went another direction. I am not saying that 3-ABN has done such. I am saying that God is in charge. God will accomplish His purpose with or without 3-ABN, according to 3-ABNs willingness to follow what God lays out for them.

We say that we do not want to destroy 3-ABN. I do not believe that we could do so, if we wanted to do so. 3-ABN is in God's hands for as long as 3-ABN is in compliance with the mission of God for it. If 3-ABN is destroyed, whatever that may mean, it will be because such was in the will of God for it.

The Bible is clear that there are times in human and spiritual history that God does destroy, so to speak, so that God can build anew.

God destroyed the Earth with a flood, so that God could build anew.

God will at a later tieme destroy the Earth with fire so that God can build anew.

God burned Battle Creek so that God could build anew out of the ashes of Battle Creek. That destruction came only after God had sent warnigs by humans, which were rejected.

If God allows 3-ABN to be destroyed, so to speak, there are two possibilities

'here is a big difference here. In your examples God carried out the judgments, NOT MAN. His servants role vas only to rebuke and warn...

'ou claim "if God allows 3ABN to be destroyed.." that indicates it is others attempting to do the destroying.

\nd indeed such appears to be the situation.

Vhat will you conclude IF God does not allow 3ABN to be destroyed?

\o, I am not indicating that others are attemptiing to destroy 3-ABN. If a lightening bolt set a building on fire, 3od would have allowed it, but humans would not have done it. Your logic is a typical mesrepresentation of ny statement.

f God does not allow 3-ABN to be destroyed, I will give thanks to God that God has been able to reform 3-\BN, and again use it according to God's purpose.

'es, in my examples, God did not use humans to destroy. However, I assume that you know Scripture well :nough to know that there are many examples in the Bible where God did use people to destroy so that God :ould rebuild. So, I do not think that I will need to cite them here.

\gain, the questions as to humans destroying 3-ABN is not revelant for our purpose. It's destruction is not ›ur goal. If it is destroyed, it will likely be because people rejected God's call to change. In that examples that gave (flood, etc.) that is very clear. It is upon those people that the responsibility for the destruction that :ame rests.

Gregory,

In regards to this, and I posted this in the Thursday night thread but it applicable here, how is one to interpret the following statements in Gailon Joy's plea to G. Spence a the save3abn site?

"Will require very aggressive litigation team but assets of the ministry, it's founder and directors are substantial."

"In my experience, strong possibility of recovery from jury demand and believe we have documentary foundation for punitive damages"

The very site that claims it exists to "save" the ministry for God has petitioned a high power attorney to assist in draining it of its financial resources. How is one not to come to the conclusion that there are those in the "small group", of which you are a part, that 3ABN's demise is the desired outcome?

This along with other comments made on various BBS and on Gailon's site indicate that there are a a number of individuals who do desire to see 3ABN disappear. Their desire is to take a ministry that has reached tens of thousands of people with the love of God and the message of His soon return and the joy that each one of us can be carried away in the clouds - and shut it down.

O. K. Let us apply the above to the situation in a court of law:

1) If punitive damages were to be awarded, it is a stretch to believe that theye would be awarded in an amount that would destroy 3-ABN. Most of the time U. S. courts have some modicum of reasonableness. Look at the tobacco companies. Punitive damages have not been awarded in an amount that has destroyed them.

2) Certainly some punitive damages could (?) be awarded to a number of people to include Linda. But, again, I find it a stretch to believe that any court would order the assets of 3-ABN to be liquidated in order to pay damages. Look to the Roman Catholic chruch. Regional assest that belong to it have not been liquidated in total.

3) Under the right set of circumstances, should they come into being, a court could potentially order a change in management, and policy.

Gregory,

While your response is reasoned and contains a possible logical look at what could happen, it doesn't answer my question or comment on my point.

My point: It seems obvious that Gailon Joy and others in his "small group" do want to see an end to 3ABN.

My question: How is one to interpret his statements any other way than supporting the idea that he has no problem with the disappearance of 3ABN.

Linda has been charged with being responsible for just about everything that her supporters say about her. They tell us that we who support her could not know X if Linda had not told us X.

Well, the publication of this draft letter demonstrates that people who support Linda are not acting under her control.

Here is how the situation developed, and the facts became known.

1) Daryl F. of MSDAOL, and I acting independently checked our Linda's website and noted that it had not been posted there. Both of us attempted to make contact with Linda. Daryl succeeded before I made contact with her.

2) When Daryl made the contact, and Linda told him the facts, Daryl contacted me. I attempted to contact Linda, and succeeded. Linda told me, as I related it here.

3) When I discovered that the letter had not been posted on Linda's website, I wondered. However, in the early days of Linda's website, Linda was working with others, as I recall, to keep the website going. As I remember, sometimes her letters, etc. were not posted immediately on her website by the webmaster. So, I thought that might have been the case. But, I wanted to tell Linda about the letter that had been posted on three forums.

4) Then when Daryl informed me of his contact with Linda, I re-doubled my efforts to contact her, and I did.

So that is how this all came about.

'es, I did wonder why it wasn't on even one of those two websites, particularly Linda's own website, especially when I was told they were on there. This prompted me to inquire about it to Linda and to the main person of the other website, which prompted Linda to respond accordingly. Linda, at first asked me if they could be removed, but before I could respond, she realized it was to late and decided to leave them there.

n light of the draft letter, I will be glad when the final one appears.

The charge that there is a desire to destroy 3ABN only flies if one believes that 3ABN cannot exist without DS and the current leadership.

If this is the case, then it is not God's ministry... the benefit derived from it by viewers notwithstanding.

God doesn't do single points of failure; if it is truly His ministry then He will, if need be raise someone up who had nothing to do with the failings of the current leadership to carry it forward.

God doesn't need DS... or any other man and just because someone may hold a position now does not mean that he is indispensable

As was shown with Nebuchadnezzar, God can depose and maintain without the one engulfed by his hubris... there be a lesson in that for those with ears to hear...

Vell, you can't tell from what you posted here that he "has no problem" with the disappearance of 3ABN. All ve know is that he believes that substantial punitive damages are possible or even likely. The existence of 3ABN doesn't factor into his statements.

think what Greg is saying is that courts don't award such large punitive damages that those who have to ›ay them are wiped out.

Exactly, Kevin... and the "charge" is MADE because those who make it equate Danny with 3abn such that any move against Danny is equated with a move against 3abn as a separate entity.

The facts are... as we have noted here on BSDA many times... that it is Danny himself that makes that equation... and who has said multiple times that 3abn in HIS baby... and that NO ONE is going to take "HIS BABY" away from him.

Those who are uncovering the evil at 3abn are wanting to SAVE 3abn from the evil being perpetrated by its present owner/directors. If those owner/directors will not allow 3abn to be saved from the evil that has exuded from its pores increasingly over the years... then they themselves will be the ones who destroy 3abn. And those who wished to have saved it for future use by God will have failed in their mission.... even though they succeed in exposing and destroying the evil.

It looks to be a hopeless muddle ... from a human point of view... But God is still working through the events and persons responsible... on all sides of the issue... and eventually He will reveal to all ... all that needs to be revealed. And eventually Right and Justice will prevail.

If you will look in the Bible-God used others to bring judgement on Israel when they wouldn't repent and do his will. What makes you think God won't bring judgement on 3ABN if they don't come clean. Israel was supposed to do much more than 3abn could ever do-look what happened to them in their history. No human institution has the right to trample on God's people and think they are immune from judgement.

> I tip heavily toward believing Linda was wronged (and that there's other nefarious business afoot) because much of the hearsay on this site and on save3abn.com is more credible. Why is it more credible? Because these other people are eyewitnesses and have posted documentation--and some of them have identified themselves, bless them. Those than haven't identified themselves want to keep their jobs, I understand that.
>
> But since I'm not an eyewitness, haven't seen the original copies of the documents, I still consider it hearsay. In other words, it's not hearsay to them because they saw it with their own eyes, but it's hearsay to me when they tell me. Does that make sense?

SoulEspresso,

Yes, now I do understand. You are using the word "hearsay" as it applies in a legal setting. My only hesitation is that there are some here who would misread your intended usage, those who have been charging many of us with believing in and spreading rumors. As you'll notice, the common usage of the word "hearsay" would tend to bolster their claims of rumor, gossip and slander, if they did not discern that you were using it in the legal sense.

From TheFreeDictionary:

Hearsay, n.

1. Unverified information heard or received from another; rumor.

Since this forum is not a legal courtroom, the process of building a case for truth is held to a slightly different standard. If Duane Clem tells me that he was a victim of pastoral sexual abuse as a young man by the pastor of his church and then I read the emailed confession Duane received from that very pastor, I believe that I can safely conclude that Duane's testimony is truthful. In this court of public opinion, the use of the word "hearsay" may be a bit of a sticky wicket, diverting the minds of some from the fine points that you are bringing forward.

In the case of those people who have been eye witnesses to certain events, such as sister and HOTY, etc., our job is to determine whether or not they are credible witnesses. If deemed credible, their first-hand testimonies should be able to be viewed as factual. I believe it is an injustice to them to characterize their testimonies as hearsay when repeated by others. Certainly, if we were to be witnesses in a court of law, reporting what we have heard from them would qualify as hearsay - but not here and not in normal every day life.

>
> Another reason I believe Linda was wronged and that there's other nefarious business afoot is the attitude of certain posters who will go to great lengths to defend Danny and try to paint 3ABN in a good light, even when they have to misquote, contradict themselves, etc. They claim to be eyewitnesses, too, but they don't have names and dates like the others do--all they have is the desire to stir things up and defend their boy.
>
> The third reason? AToday's article. AToday is a news magazine, and they can't publish libelous stuff. What they got was established enough by credible sources that they figured their story would stand up in court-- not as testimony, but that it wasn't libel the way it was written.

Those of us who find ourselves frustrated with these people are sometimes guilty of a rough spirit--no worse than theirs, mind you, but they're not the Standard (by the way, I haven't seen in any of that in you, PB). I've tried to keep myself in a positive tone but when I catch them in an obvious act of deception I get mad.

It's too bad there's no arbiter in this case. Because it fell through, this tale is going to hit the secular press soon. I bet they're lurking, waiting for as much data as possible before blowing open the story. And they will be merciless, far more than AToday--because they don't care about a church or its reputation.

'rom all that I have seen lately, you have done a great job keeping your positive tone. I understand how empting it is to get frustrated or mad at the deceptive practices of some. Just try to keep seeing them hrough the eyes of Jesus and divert that emotion with a little prayer for them.

'es, it is a serious thing to go against the will of God.

ıttp://preteristarchive.com/StudyArchive/t/televangelists.html warns us this way:

The Holy Ghost is upon me...The day is coming when those that attack us will drop dead. You say, 'What did 'ou say?' I speak this under the anointing of the Spirit. Can I tell you something? Don't touch God's ;ervants; it's deadly...Woe to you that touch God's servants. You're going to pay. 'And the day will come," :he Lord said that to me. He said, "The day will come when I will punish instantly. Woe to those that :ouch my chosen.' They will fear us. Hear this: today they mock us; tomorrow they will fear us." - "Miracle nvasion Rally," Anaheim Convention Center, 11/22/91

Do you think that it would be deadly for me to question Benny Hinn? He is the Lord's chosen, isn't he? If he says the Holy Ghost is upon him, do I have a right to quesiton that?

God told Benny Hinn, right?

If I have relatives that want to climb up on the stage with Benny at the Miracle Invasion "Rally" do I have a right to say anything, or will my opposition to "the chosen" cause my demise?

Notice also that Benny Hinn has "the anointing." Can I question someone who has been anointed?

And remember, when the chosen has been anointed, that's just not for one day, either, as I learned watching 3ABN on a Thursday night.

Things to think about.

God established a ministry at Battle Creek. And the people learned that establishment by God did not mean that it would always remain God's ministry doing God's will. It's leadership rejected the leading of God, and went their own way. God sent warnings. They refused to listen. God burned Battle Creek, and our of those ashes built a ministry that was again in conformity to God's will. In that process the leadership either repented of their rebellion or they were removed and replaced.

Pentecostals frequently say things that are downright blasphemous if we stop to think about them. See http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=12554&view=findpost&p=178837 where he uses Benny Hinn as an example. Problem is, that they are said in such a pious tone surrounded by so much "God talk" that turning our "thinker" off is almost as automatic as bowing our heads and closing our eyes for prayer. (Or has the Pentecostal influence taken hold so much that we don't bow our heads or close our eyes in prayer any more?)

Maybe we need to move past "Kindergarten Ten Commandments" class content.... where "taking the Lord's name in vain" applies only to using swear words.... and move on to "Basic Principles of Ten Commandment Applications 101"... where it is recognized that "taking the Lord's Name in vain" applies also to a lot of other areas.... including even calling ourselves "Christian" whether or not we live like Christians would. To say nothing of appying to ourselves labels and terms used in scripture for God's specially chosen prophets and messengers.

What a sad day for Adventism when we allow our church to be represented by those who spout Pentecostal jargon that is indistinguishable from the most extreme of popular Pentecostal Televangelists..... and even dare to label it "conservative Adventism"! ....

Yes - he did.

You beat me WB. I was thinking of a reply to this thought....

This is not the first time that this "thought" has come to mind.

It is an interesting time we live in.

watchbird' 03:28 PM:
Pentecostals frequently say things that are downright blasphemous if we stop to think about them. See http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=12554&view=findpost&p=178837 where he uses Benny Hinn as an example. Problem is, that they are said in such a pious tone surrounded by so much "God talk" that turning our "thinker" off is almost as automatic as bowing our heads and closing our eyes for prayer. (Or has the Pentecostal influence taken hold so much that we don't bow our heads or close our eyes in prayer any more?)

Maybe we need to move past "Kindergarten Ten Commandments" class content.... where "taking the Lord's name in vain" applies only to using swear words.... and move on to "Basic Principles of Ten Commandment Applications 101"... where it is recognized that "taking the Lord's Name in vain" applies also to a lot of other areas.... including even calling ourselves "Christian" whether or not we live like Christians would. To say nothing of appying to ourselves labels and terms used in scripture for God's specially chosen prophets and messengers.

What a sad day for Adventism when we allow our church to be represented by those who spout Pentecostal jargon that is indistinguishable from the most extreme of popular Pentecostal Televangelists..... and even dare to label it "conservative Adventism"! ....

Panama_Pete Posted Today, 03:43 PM:
And because we don't frequent Pentecostal meetings many of us remain unaware of the source of this Pentecostal jargon. Yes, it truly will be a sad day when our theology becomes indistinguishable from the Pentecostal theology.

And now, little children, abide in him; that, when he shall appear, we may have confidence, and not be ashamed before him at his coming. If ye know that he is righteous, ye know that every one that doeth righteousness is born of him.

2Cr 1:20 For all the promises of God in him are yea, and in him Amen, unto the glory of God by us. Now he which stablisheth us with you in Christ, and hath anointed us, is God; Who hath also sealed us, and given the earnest of the Spirit in our hearts.

'his would be a very good principle. It will not, however, be helpful unless we have learned enough spiritual liscernment to recognize Pentecostal "scripture twisting" when we see it. For there is hardly anyone who ıuotes more scripture than a Pentecostal.

3ut when the fundamental belief system upon which we stand when we read scripture is different... then the nterpretations and applications are going to be different.

\nd we will drift from a truly scriptural ground to a spiritualistical ground.... and we will not know when Satan nsinuates himself into the doctrines in his predicted "angel of light" disguise.

QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Feb 17 2007, 12:05 AM)

Yes, it is a serious thing to go against the will of God.

http://preteristarchive.com/StudyArchive/t/televangelists.html warns us this way:

"The Holy Ghost is upon me...The day is coming when those that attack us will drop dead. You say, 'What did you say?' I speak this under the anointing of the Spirit. Can I tell you something? Don't touch God's servants; it's deadly...Woe to you that touch God's servants. You're going to pay. 'And the day will come," the Lord said that to me. He said, "The day will come when I will punish instantly. Woe to those that touch my chosen.' They will fear us. Hear this: today they mock us; tomorrow they will fear us." - "Miracle Invasion Rally," Anaheim Convention Center, 11/22/91

Do you think that it would be deadly for me to question Benny Hinn? He is the Lord's chosen, isn't he? If he says the Holy Ghost is upon him, do I have a right to quesiton that?

God told Benny Hinn, right?

If I have relatives that want to climb up on the stage with Benny at the Miracle Invasion "Rally" do I have a right to say anything, or will my opposition to "the chosen" cause my demise?

Notice also that Benny Hinn has "the anointing." Can I question someone who has been anointed?

And remember, when the chosen has been anointed, that's just not for one day, either, as I learned watching 3ABN on a Thursday night.

Things to think about.

We aren't cult Busters Pete, that would be those in the antichrist system.

We are to bring down NO ministry, whether Benny Hinn's or 3ABN's.

Warn about sin and error? Yes, only as as did Christ Church discipline within our own denomination? Yes, only as Christ commanded.

That is all.

And you and Observer (post#64) both ignored Lee's question about what kind of judgments will God bring for slander talebearing, gossip, etc?

Here is my human judgment. Based upon my observation of Linda on 3abn she doesn't seem to be a person who would commit adultery easily, so I don't think she committed adultery with the doctor. However, she does seem to be a very head strong person who is very confident of herself and the decisions that she makes. I have not read all of the threads, but from my understanding she was advised by several persons concerning her relationship with the doctor and that it was uneccessary to take a trip to see him. It seems that she was ignoring all the advice given to her, that is probably why she is being accused now of things she may not have done.

Linda's letter sounds good but has she ever given any detailed proof of her whereabouts with the doctor at all times she was with him. Was she ever alone with him behind closed doors for a long period of time. Maybe she should give some proof that she did not commit adultery with the doctor since the other side doesn't have any proof that she did commit adultery.

The question arises in my mind: Was Linda a person who was willing to take advice from other persons. Yes, Danny may have major faults, but I think Linda has helped to contribute to her dismissal from 3abn.

These thoughts are my human judgment, I may be wrong.

It has been said that many people at 3-ABN did not like her, and were glad to see her gone (not an exact quote). So what? I do not have to like my boss. I have to work with him. People at 3-ABN did not have to like her.

Other statements have been made about Linda that reflect badly upon her leadership. So what? According to statements released by 3-ABN she was fired due to an inappropriate relationship with a male not her husband. On that basis nothing else is important. It the real issue had been Linda's incompetence, she could have been fired if found to be incompetent. That was not why she was fired.

We who are on the so-called Linda's Team have never claimed that Linda was perfect.

Our issue is what we believe to be false charges that imply adultery, on some level, and the way she was treated in this process.

If she had been fired because the staff did not like her, or that she was incompetent, we would not be in this situation today.

Linda worked at 3-ABN for some 18 - 20 years. That was more than enough time for people to see her faults, and fire her, if those faults existed. Why would any organization keep an employee for going on almost 20 years if they were not liked by the staff, and incompetent?

Where is the proof that she committed adultery and where is the proof that she did not commit adultery. Everyone seems to be using their own human judgment, including Danny Shelton and the other person who it seems helped in making the accussation of adultery.

I like to check Scriptural references. The above quote appears to be from the KJV (not the NKJV), and a mis-mash from 2 Corinthians 1: 20 and 21 and I John 2:28. So it does not appear to me to be a direct quote from I Cor. 1:20, but additional Biblical material was added, with out giving the source.

It is clear that the Bible does refer to God's people being anointed, especially in the Old Testament, but also in the New Testament. That is more often used in reference to OT prophets, and kings.

But, to use a phrase such as "The Anointed One," is much more specific. Used in that way one might justly think of Christ.

In any case, I would not use such a phrase to apply to a human unless I considered that person to be either comparable to Christ, or to be a prophet such as Samuel in the OT.

I would not use that of Danney Shelton, as I do not make those comparisons.

\ctually, it was I who mentioned Benny Hinn, not Gregory.

\s for Lee's question, it seems to be based on the false premise that concerns have been falsehoods, and that udgement is the next order of business. I think that conclusion is a little presumptuous, therefore, the ;uestion is, at the very least, premature.

\s for Benny Hinn in my post, there's nothing there about "bringing down" Benny Hinn or anybody else.

;ome have now thought that maybe Hope Channel would be better. Therefore, they have mentioned going to he cable companies and seeing if room could be found for Hope Channel, even if it means replacing 3ABN.

If Hope Channel did replace 3ABN on some cable systems, technically, that would be correct to say that some were requesting 3ABN be removed. As Seventh-day Adventists, there should be nothing wrong with promoting the Hope Channel.

I realize that some people will see promoting the Hope Channel as "bringing down" 3ABN. However, if the 3ABN folks can't get their act together, that's the way the cookie is going to crumble.

And there's no need to re-edit your post, I already saw it and I am responding to it.

Treneice,
Recall that Linda went to Norway with Brenda (her then best friend) to visit her son Nathan in treatment. They were there 3 days I think it was. Wasn't that the only time she was there during her marriage? Those advising her were doing so based on what they were fed by DS, which with the help of Brenda, was the outward begining of getting rid of Linda.

The presumption that being an SDA makes you something other then a sinful person, someone exempt from a particular behaviour, has ofen become a suprising dissapointment. We put these kinds of expectations on people simply because they claim to be SDA, which is also why we have so much righteous judgement that goes on too - you know, being an SDA gives you the authority to judge because YOU know better, because you are special, you are an SDA after all! You suddenly have been elavated to a super-christian position.... Treniece,
Just out of curiosity, how have you come to the conclusion that the things said about Tommy are true? While I am inclined to agree with you, I'm interested in how you got there.

I also have had a hard time believing that the Brenda I thought I knew from watching her on cooking shows, Kids Time and various other productions would do the things she is reported to have done. Of course, how well do we actually know someone by their actions on the television screen?

Regarding thinking Tommy was a long time Adventist, I think you hit on a key, or at least a significant problem here. Unless one is privy to the behind-the-scenes lives of the folks on 3abn, viewers are left to conclude that those participating in the 3abn ministry are SDA.

QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Feb 16 2007, 05:58 PM)

SoulEspresso,

Yes, now I do understand. You are using the word "hearsay" as it applies in a legal setting. My only hesitation is that there are some here who would misread your intended usage, those who have been charging many of us with believing in and spreading rumors. As you'll notice, the common usage of the word "hearsay" would tend to bolster their claims of rumor, gossip and slander, if they did not discern that you were using it in the legal sense.

From TheFreeDictionary:

Hearsay, n.

1. Unverified information heard or received from another; rumor.

Since this forum is not a legal courtroom, the process of building a case for truth is held to a slightly different standard. If Duane Clem tells me that he was a victim of pastoral sexual abuse as a young man by the pastor of his church and then I read the emailed confession Duane received from that very pastor, I believe that I can safely conclude that Duane's testimony is truthful. In this court of public opinion, the use of the word "hearsay" may be a bit of a sticky wicket, diverting the minds of some from the fine points that you are bringing forward.

In the case of those people who have been eye witnesses to certain events, such as sister and HOTY, etc., our job is to determine whether or not they are credible witnesses. If deemed credible, their first-hand testimonies should be able to be viewed as factual. I believe it is an injustice to them to characterize their testimonies as hearsay when repeated by others. Certainly, if we were to be witnesses in a court of law, reporting what we have heard from them would qualify as hearsay - but not here and not in normal every day life.

'B,

'hanks for the good point. I don't know if I'll be able to correct my posts (I'm sure there's a way to do them ıll in one spot if I could figure it out) but I'll see what I can do. Anyway I'll try to find a better way of putting t in future.

Yeah, I believe these people, all of them--particularly Duane. I don't know any man who would make up a story like that just to bring someone else down. They are credible witnesses to me and I don't want to cast a bad light on their story.

Soul

Posted by: SoulEspresso Feb 18 2007, 01:52 AM

Okay, a lot of it's fixed--no content changed, just precision of language. The last thing I want to do is cast doubt on the testimony of people I happen to believe.

I left this conversation pretty much intact because it wouldn't make sense to delete every reference to and explanation of hearsay.

Hope this clarifies.

Are you really saying that since God set up this ministry, no repulsive sin can enter inside those sacred walls?

I just received an update from Linda regarding her letter and website.

She has been working making a few minor revisions (grammar changes, etc.) to her already released letter. The content and context will remain the same and it will be posted on her website.

With that, Linda is updating and changing the question and letter sections on her website as well as posting an event schedule section showing some of her upcoming engagements.

Her website is due to be updated sometime this week. As soon as her Webmaster gets it loaded there, I will bring the letter back here. I will leave the original and add the second below it. At that time, I will ask Clay if he can re-pin it.
(Thanks Clay!)

So, do you have a question then? Or did you want to move on to another thread now and post some more of your "type" of comments? You know, the jealous, hateful, evil kind. Sad.

P.s. you should take lessons on your kind of thinking, just a suggestion.

Isn't it interesting that because someone says they got one piece of information from Linda you assume that Linda is their ONLY source of information.

Isn't it interesting that you equate getting information from someone as being a "puppet on a string".

Since neither is true... either with me or with sonshineonme... and since neither assumption qualifies as a general rule as to how people relate to each other or to their information sources.... I am left with only one conclusion.... and that is that this is the way you must relate to YOUR sole information source.

Very interesting.....

It ALWAYS gets me when I hear someone say "but, I thought he/she is an SDA" or "but they are adventists" or "not an adventist". The presumption that being an SDA makes you something other then a sinful person, someone exempt from a particular behaviour, has ofen become a suprising dissapointment. We put these kinds of expectations on people simply because they claim to be SDA, which is also why we have so much righteous judgement that goes on too - you know, being an SDA gives you the authority to judge because YOU know better, because you are special, you are an SDA after all! You suddenly have been elavated to a super-christian position.... I had a boss that saw himself this way and the judgement of others always came rolling from his lips.....he felt justified to make the calls everytime. He hurt many people and never seem to care.

The devil has thought of everything. The scary similarity is that the Jews did the same thing. And they missed the proverbial boat.

When I said I thought he was a long time adventist I did not mean that being an adventist makes you something other than a sinful person. I only was expressing my shock to find out that he was a pastor of another organization, because I thought all the Shelton brothers were adventist.

I agree with your statements.

The http://www.save3abn.com/tommy-shelton-ordination-suspended.htm was addressed to the Reverend Tommy Shelton.

Linda was, and is, an Adventist. Yet, it was Linda Shelton who was the wayward soul who needed to be replaced as programming manager with Reverend Tommy Shelton? I cannot buy into the logic of that argument. (I doubt the 3ABN Board of Directors has an answer for that one, either.)

I am really curious.

How many of Danny's brothers and sisters are Seventh-day Adventists in good standing?

There are many, many 3ABN viewers that think he, Tommy, is/was an Adventist.

He was an Adventist at one time wasn't he?

Why did he leave Adventism?

Is Kenny still a preacher?

To what denomination does he belong?

Did he ever start an Adventist supporting ministry?

What happened?

Does he still have this ministry?

Is he an Adventist church member today?

Is Ronnie a credintialed Adventist pastor?

Is Tammy an Adventist?

Who am I missing?

How many non-Adventists are there at 3ABN as employees or in TV programming?

This would imply that Linda being an adventist automatically made her a better christian than someone of another denomination. Next, at the Time of Linda's replacement, as you all have pointed out he was no longer "reverend" and hadn't been for some years.

It is doubtful if 3abn will ever officialy admit anything about anything. But the reason Linda was dismissed is very plain.... She was dismissed because Danny didn't want her around any more.

Now as to why he didn't want her around..... there is probably no single answer to that. And since speculating about motives is not a good thing to do, we shall probably have to be content to notice what things he has changed since he got rid of her. The most obvious, of course, is that he has a new wife..... one that is much younger.

But there may be other changes also that are significant in other areas.... types of programming.... doctrinal emphases..... the way workers are treated..... perhaps others more familiar with things both before and after Linda left may have noticed changes that may be significant.

Of course, we do not know that spring 2004 was actually the watershed. It could be that Danny was already making changes.... at least some of which caused added friction between the two. Some have seen their going for a private jet plane as a significant watershed. Some have seen the court case over the property tax exemption as significant. It would be interesting to hear what others observed in the way of significant changes over the last 5 years or so.

Though I usually ignore your posts, watchbird, I could not help but respond to this one. You are making big statements by saying Danny didn't want her around...Unless you are a physic mind reader, you couldn't possibly know what DS was thinking about anything. I have never seen it addressed here, how DS catered to her, bragged on her to everyone, constantly told her and others how beautiful he thought she was..and then all of a sudden....he wanted to get rid of her? c'mon. Anyone that was around them for any length of time would reach for a "hurl" bucket at the way he "fawned" over her and gave her her way about most everything. His biggest fault was putting her up on a pedestal so, in a way, he was somewhat responsible for her resulting attitude.
Also, if he just "wanted to get rid of her" why, right after the divorce, did he degrade himself buy taking her to the airport to catch her flight to Norway (without Nathan) knowing where she was going and who she was going to see, and still, tried to talk her into reconciliation all the way there?
BTW, since the doc and LS was strickley a professional relationship over her son, why was she going to Norway to see him, without Nathan, right after the divorce. mmm maybe she was out of phone minutes
As far as your "changes" remark at 3abn. Yes, the programming improved significantly according to the biggest percentage of viewers. And, "the way workers were treated" vastly improved once LS was gone. Most employees would tell you that. Some said "it was like a load was lifted off of their shoulders while others said the whole atmosphere had become so much more spirit filled. Then, according to some that I knew that worked on the 3abn truck crew LS had their pay at a pathetic level and would not give them a raise. As soon as she was gone, her replacement couldn't believe how little they were being paid and immediately rectified the pay scale. After all they have a huge sacrifice having to be away from their families for weeks at a time.
Truthfully,if you ask most of the workers, they will tell you they can't really think of anything negative that has come from her, not, being at 3abn.

Posted by: princessdi Feb 28 2007, 06:27 PM

Problem for me BS is that Linda never came here lying through her teeth, to my knowledge, Danny did, so based on his own actions Danny's credibility is in the toilet, at least for me. I'll say it again, I hates a thief and a liar, nothing worse except somebody who will lie if they look at you! An unsolicited lie, if you please. I will also reiterate that Danny cut off his nose in spite of his face, because he is the reason we can't ask questions of Linda. Now, by his own hand he is the only one left to answer the accusers. That is how satan leads you out onto a brand while he is sawing it off at the base. Shame isn't it?

BTW, right "after" the divorce LS was free to fly, drive, walk or crawl to "see" anybody she wanted. That is a moot point. Now, is she was like Danny, and remarried to said Dr. then you would at least have a leg to stand, right now, you need to let that one go.

Also, BS, taking pots shots at LS while you know she can't defend herself is beneath you. Down right un-Christ-like. Danny can come here anytime(and probably does) to defend anything said here about him, Linda can't. Cheap shots, especially on a woman, speak volumes about your own manhood.....BTJM....

You are making big statements by saying Danny didn't want her around...Unless you are a physic mind reader, you couldn't possibly know what DS was thinking about anything. I have never seen it addressed here, how DS catered to her, bragged on her to everyone, constantly told her and others how beautiful he thought she was..and then all of a sudden....he wanted to get rid of her? c'mon. Anyone that was around them for any length of time would reach for a "hurl" bucket at the way he "fawned" over her and gave her her way about most everything. His biggest fault was putting her up on a pedestal so, in a way, he was somewhat responsible for her resulting attitude.
Also, if he just "wanted to get rid of her" why, right after the divorce, did he degrade himself buy taking her to the airport to catch her flight to Norway (without Nathan) knowing where she was going and who she was going to see, and still, tried to talk her into reconciliation all the way there?
BTW, since the doc and LS was strickley a professional relationship over her son, why was she going to Norway to see him, without Nathan, right after the divorce. mmm maybe she was out of phone minutes

As far as your "changes" remark at 3abn. Yes, the programming improved significantly according to the biggest percentage of viewers. And, "the way workers were treated" vastly improved once LS was gone. Most employees would tell you that. Some said "it was like a load was lifted off of their shoulders while others said the whole atmosphere had become so much more spirit filled. Then, according to some that I knew that worked on the 3abn truck crew LS had their pay at a pathetic level and would not give them a raise. As soon as she was gone, [/b] couldn't believe how little they were being paid and immediately rectified the pay scale. After all they have a huge sacrifice having to be away from their families for weeks at a time.
Truthfully,if you ask most of the workers, they will tell you they can't really think of anything negative that has come from her, not, being at 3abn.

1. Linda Shelton has already responded to this. She says she had no power over how much employees were paid. Linda said she wanted to give Sandra Juarez a raise, but was overruled by her ex-husband, Danny Shelton. Danny does all hiring and firing. Period. Everybody knows that. You know it. I know it. So just stop with this nonsense.

2. Her Replacement = Tommy Shelton. We already know who "her replacement" was, so you might as well spell it out: Linda was replaced by a Reverend dismissed by another denomination. His name is Tommy Shelton, but I suppose just calling him "her replacement" sounds better? You have your marching orders to focus everyone's attention on demonizing Linda - and away from all other core issues? That's what you're getting paid to do as part of your "mending broken people" agenda? Just asking.

3. As for any trip to Norway, the Norwegian doctor, Arild Abrahamsen, has already written and distributed his account.

4. Linda lost her health insurance when she was summarily fired by her ex-husband. You know that. The Norwegian doctor, aware of what had happened, gave Linda access to his medical clinic after the loss of the insurance. Why keep trying to make that something it is not. Even you, yourself, say Linda Shelton was already divorced at that time.

5. I was in Thompsonville shortly after Danny asked for a divorce. I saw no such fawning as you describe. When Linda started the radio network on December 31, 1999, Danny went on the air shortly thereafter and said several times, "I have no vision for radio," with Linda Shelton sitting right next to him on the air. This certainly didn't look like bragging over Linda to me. It came across to me as a message to viewers saying, "Radio is not part of the Great Danny Shelton Vision, so please take note, everyone." But Linda's radio network succeeded anyway, despite Danny's admonition to his viewers. And things were never the same after that.

Linda held a 3ABN Radio School beginning on Monday, March 8, 2004. It was a sold-out event. The Radio Network was succeeding. Danny could see that and he was not happy. If Danny was going to get rid of Linda, he'd have to do it before she added a dozen more radio stations.

Danny demanded his divorce, the night before the radio school started, on Sunday, March 7, 2004. Danny just couldn't handle Linda's success and he was determined to put a stop to it. Linda, not being streetwise, could not suspect what was going on or how her demise was linked to her own success in radio.

Mollie Steenson had gone to India, and I believe she was not in Thompsonville, on Sunday evening, March 7, 2004, when Danny demanded his divorce and put his plan into action. Mollie came back to Thompsonville and was in her office by midweek, but everything was already in motion. My opinion is that Mollie Steenson either couldn't be trusted to help destroy Linda Shelton, or Mollie wanted to distance herself from the planned event, so it was done while she, Mollie, was out of the country - in India, no less. Was that trip to India planned in advance by someone for such a reason? I've decided in my own mind that it was.

6. I don't see that "programming improved" with the Reverend Tommy Shelton sitting in Linda's old office. But that's in the eye of the beholder. Maybe an endless array of scolding, talking heads at 3ABN pleases you. There's nothing special about Shelley Quinn with her veiled excoriation using "John the Baptist" or John Lomacang's version of the same using his "Moses - Touch Not the Lord's Anointed" blatherments. The expoundings of these two strike me as nothing but desperate and weird.

6. Bystander, you keep regurgitating the same old garbage over and over trying so hard to re-write history. It is not working, so give it up. The reason you skip responding to Watchbird is that she knows the timeline, and you cannot deal with that; Your job is to deliver your mudballs to people who you think cannot tell the difference.

7. The entire 3ABN defense from the very beginning has been, "Nobody will be able to criticize us, because they are all stupid and will never be able to figure out what we did for sure," id est, "Nobody knows me and Linda" ad infinitum. Your only purpose on this forum. Bystander, is to muddy the waters with your little mudballs and to make sure it all stays muddy. Everybody can see that, so this must be about your personal paycheck. It certainly cannot be about truth or justice. Not knowing who you are, this is all about your own personal bank account, right? Are you willing to do anything to keep those paychecks coming, no matter what? Am I close? I think I am right on target. I think it is all about money, your money, Bystander, and nothing else. I think everything and everyone comes a distant second with you.

No, PP, I didn't see the "fawning" over Linda either. But I did see him belittle her in front of people many times.

thanks Pete for outlining the info we have covered... sometimes its good to see it outlined like that and remind those whose goal it is to distract that we still have a grasp of the basic facts... not theory but facts....

Now, since we all know how much you HATE hearsay and second hand information, one has to assume you were in the car with them on this trip. Is that correct?

This is another sign that truth is not in Bystander. Who told you Danny drove Linda to the airport when she came to see us in Norway? I very well remember what Linda looked like after how Danny had treated her in connecion with the divorce. She needed to get away, and Irmgard and I were so happy to see her again after her ordeal. She did not ride with Danny to the airport. This is but another attempt by Danny to project his actions in a different direction attempting thereby to gain the sympathy of others for actions he claims he did, but which he actually never did.

It is true that Danny drove to the airport, but not in the same car as Linda. He merely projects Linda over into his car. Linda was greatly surpriced to see him at the airport. It was dawning on him he made a grave mistake by divorcing Linda, and that he had to tell his audience stories to gain their sympathy. This is but one of his many vain attempts, and you, Bystander, accept his delusions, line hook and sinker, in an attempt to deceive the world. One more star in that crown of deception you are presenting on this net.

You even claimed he was attemting all the way to the airport to get Linda to reconsider. Since you are so certain, were you in that car?

OK, let me see if I've got this straight...you want us to believe that Linda had so much power at 3ABN that she controlled programming, employee morale and workers' salary? You want us to believe that Danny was impotent and powerless to do anything to break Linda's control. You want us to believe that Danny, the founder and person to whom God gave this wonderful "vision" let Linda get all the power and control everything he felt that the Lord specifically gave to him. Yet with all this power that she supposedly had the 3ABN board was quick to summarily dismiss her and bind her up with a gag order. Yeah...OK...and Bill Gates is just a front for Microsoft...I'm really the President...

While I know what you meant, and said, it would be best if you do not post anything that might result in others accusing us of posting inaccurate, or inappropriate information about a medical condition. The way some people attempt to twist what is posted, I can immagine someone doing such. And, I am thinking of one person who might quickly jump on that. That person regularly mis-quotes me.

Didn't you mispeak, Johann? Rather than calling this a "star in that crown of deception" should you not be calling it "one more knot in the web of deception" BS is weaving for presentation to this net?

> QUOTE
> You even claimed he was attemting all the way to the airport to get Linda to reconsider. Since you are so certain, were you in that car?

Doesn't work. If he were actually in "that car".... then then he could not be "certain" of something that was not true. So either BS is the creator of this particular "knot" or is a direct accomplice to the untruth of the assertion.... or else he is someone who accepts what Danny says as the truth and passes it off to the world as though he (BS) actually knew the difference between facts and fabrications.

Some questions this brings to mind, Johann..... When Danny drove to the airport.... was he following Linda? Did he know she was headed for the airport? If so, how did he know? Did he know her destination? If so, how did he know? If not, was his purpose in following her an attempt to learn her destination? At what point did the hired Private Investigaters pick up Linda's trail? And the final question..... Doesn't it strike you as strange that he kept her under surveilance even AFTER the divorce was final?

It takes a lot of surveilance to attempt to cover one's tracks. Danny once told me that his friend, Garvin McNeilus would never desert him, regarless of what he'd do. He claimed that is true friendship. Danny also told me that Garvin would pay for Private Investigators as long as Linda is alive. What does he need that for since he divorced her?

NOTE: Her letter of demand, posted March 2nd, 2007 now on her website. To go right there, click here http://www.lindashelton.org

In keeping with Linda Shelton requiring an open and transparent ASI sponsored hearing, Linda has now published a letter that includes a clear demand that 3ABN and Danny Shelton produce the evidence they claim to have for inspection and verification to the entire church membership and to the stockholders in the pews. Danny Shelton in various forms and under various alias has repeatedly referenced evidence that he claims to have thereby giving him a basis for divorce and remarriage. The chairman of 3ABN on AToday has made it clear they have no proof of an adulterous affair. Linda Shelton and Arild Abrahamsen have repeatedly asserted that there is no basis for divorce, that no inappropriate relationship occurred and that there is no evidence to support the Danny Shelton claims.

We have repeatedly asserted that if there is no proof, then a remarriage would constitute an adulterous relationship. Danny Shelton was married at 3ABN in March 2006 to a Brandy Murray, a 3ABN employee that reportedly arrived at 3ABN of Thompsonville in July of 2004.

Here is the letter from Linda in its entirety and is also available at www.LindaShelton.org and on www.save3ABN.com . I believe it reflects the same Linda, a bit stronger and less naive than in the past, but as deeply committed to her relationship with the Lord as we all remember so well on that porch at 3ABN.

Linda Shelton does respond to e-mail and will be happy to have a concert or a deeply spiritual service at your location, wherever you may be.

February, 2007

My warmest greetings,

A couple approached me, with tears in their eyes, and said, "We have just missed you and we wanted to see you to make sure you were okay." As I saw the pain in their eyes, over the events that have transpired in my life in the last few years, it was as if my heart was pierced again. "We are just so happy to see you smiling, in church and still serving God." Our meeting took place a few months ago at the Bible Chapel Seventh-day Adventist Church, where I am a member. I enjoyed my visit with this caring Christian couple and the compassion and love they showed toward me.

Some people act surprised that I am still a member of the SDA church. But why? God is still the same awesome God that He always has been, the incredible Bible truths embraced by the Seventh-day Adventists are still just as true today as they ever were and although a "thousand shall fall on my right and a thousand fall on my left" nothing will ever change these facts. We must hold firm to our faith during troubled times!

Many have written to me over the past many months asking me to update my website. This I have prayerfully considered for quite some time, nearly a year. Quite frankly, I just have not known what to say. I feel that this scandal has made a large, festering open wound in my Church. Perhaps the truth revealed will ultimately bring the healing that everyone needs. Then we can grieve together and move on. I am certain, in essence, I have died a thousand deaths over the events of the last couple of years. But, with the Lords blessing, I will try to address issues which have been brought to my attention in the kindest manner possible.

For the first time in nearly three years I will not simply deny the accusations, but will directly address certain issues. I do not take pleasure in speaking of these things. I think I have always been the one who would rather receive hurt, than be the one to inflict hurt upon others. But during the course of this last year I learned some valuable lessons through Dr. Mable Dunbar of Pollys Place Network, she has been an incredible support and help to me. Mable is a woman who truly loves the Lord and is not afraid to stand up for what she believes is right, even if a whole army would stand against her.

Pollys Place Network is a ministry which empowers abused lives and aids them through their difficult circumstances. It is a marvelous organization and so needed for this age when Satan has focused his wrath upon breaking up the security and circle of love God intended for our families. I videotaped some interviews, for Pollys Place, at the SDA Conference office in Spokane, Washington with several individuals who had been through incredibly painful situations. Each of them, in essence, had the same healing story. It was when they were able to come forward and expressed the truth about what happened to them, that their healing came. Inspired by these individuals, now I can accept and believe it is Gods job to protect the ministry I have loved and co-founded, and its my right and my healing to tell the truth about what has occurred.

I am co-authoring a book and its purpose is to share the silver lining of the amazing lessons the Lord has taught me through this crisis. I feel the Lord has lifted a veil and allowed me to see the world that He sees, a world far different than we see. I see that the darts of false allegations that Satan has thrown toward me and my ministry were not directed solely for my downfall, but the aim was much wider. Although I was the apparent target, Satan was attempting to destroy the ministry I loved and co-founded and cripple the witness of the Seventh-day Adventist Church. My perspective has been forever changed through my experiences and my book will give me the opportunity to share these lessons more fully with all of you. (I will keep you posted as to the release date of this book.)

John Knox once said, "Kings (or leaders) have not an absolute power to do in their government what pleases them, but their power is limited by Gods Word; so that if they strike where God has not commanded, they are but murderers; and if they spare where God has commanded to strike, they and their thrones are criminal and guilty of the wickedness which abounds upon the face of the earth, for lack of punishment." John knew his Bible. It is a Biblical principle that if we see a wrong and only look the other way or feebly say, "I will let the Lord deal with that one," then that wickedness is applied to our slate, plain and simple.

The most devastating blow a televangelist can get is the false accusation of adultery. Although I have already made this statement on my website I want to address those of you who have loved and valued my Christianity, integrity and my ministry for the 19 years that I was at 3ABN. I want to clearly emphasize that I was 100% faithful to my husband. I loved, trusted and believed in him to a fault. Imagine my shock when I realized that the false allegations in the form of libel, slander and defamation directed my way were initiated by two of the closest people to me on planet earth; one was my beloved partner and the other was my closest lady friend. I loved them both and trusted them both to the point that their close communication did not bother me in the least. I know that sounds naive, but I did not believe that Dan would do anything that would harm the ministry we had built together.

In 2004 there was a tremendous outcry at my departure. There was suspicion over how swiftly I was fired from my position and divorced. There was suspicion over the fact that I never had the opportunity to talk to the Board and defend myself. There was suspicion over the fact that every trace of my presence was completely cleared out of the campus of 3ABN, even before my termination, as well as the website, television and radio broadcasts. I was made a sacrificial lamb in a scheme calculated to remove me from both my home and my ministry through an orchestrated campaign of malicious lies circulated around the globe. No words can begin to describe the absolute agony this has brought to my life, but there are other victims as well, and may God bless and spare the young lives and tender souls who have also felt the stinging thrust of this sword of scandal.

It has completely broken my heart to see the emails and letters which have come from the Chairman of the Board, Dan and others at 3ABN, to hear of the television and radio programs where erroneous references have been made to the situation, to watch the ministry that I helped build with much devotion used to destroy me and also to hear of the reports of what is being said on the SDA chat sites about me today by those bent on my destruction...nearly three years later.

It was the false accusation of adultery which caused the loss of my marriage, my reputation, my employment, and everything else. I challenge the 3ABN Board to produce the "irrefutable evidence" which caused a co-founder, a life-time Board member, Vice-President and Secretary of the Board to be removed in that May, 2004 meeting! I am asking, no demanding, that the information is made public, at my request! Cast aside these pretended desires to "spare me"! The world is waiting with baited breath!

The stakes are high. I, as well as others, have personally experienced electronic surveillance, email theft, interception of cell phone calls, post divorce entry into my private residence to the point where charges were filed with the police. It is not easy to live your life when you feel that you can never know for sure if you are being followed, watched or recorded...even now. I have had invitations to do ministry thwarted because of continued allegations by those, who, like wolves in sheeps clothing, attempted to stop my ministry.

I want to make this absolutely clear: I left my home because I was not safe, I was not welcome. I was witnessing the murder of my reputation and ministry day by day. I stayed as long as I felt I could. I hoped, believed and prayed that things would change but they only got worse. The statements made that I left my husband for another man are absolutely and totally false. Any thinking person would realize that I had everything a Christian woman could have wanted in this life: a husband I loved and the opportunity to minister to millions of people about the tremendous love of my Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, though the ministry that we spent so many years building together. Although two of the people who I loved best have called me "Gomer", yet a more accurate term would be "Hosea", which I would only discover later. But I prefer simply, Linda, "SAVED by the Blood of the Lamb!"

I do not visit the chat sites. This has been a mega-trial for me and my way of coping has been to try and focus on other things. I realize that the individuals which make up our Church need healing from this disaster too. And perhaps the chat sites have served to help people give expression to their frustrations and hurts in this situation. I am grateful to each of you who have prayed and interceded for me. It has meant so much during my dark days. Youâ€™ll never know just how much!

Now my kids are grown and I am alone...but not really alone, although I have not husband. Now I belong to everyone and everyone belongs to me! And I still sing, "Thank you for being my family, thank you for being my friends: May God bless and keep you in all that you may do until we meet again!"

It is my goal to just make your journey and mine a little lighter and brighter. I have faith that the Lord still has a work for me to do, a new ministry. I am ready and available for church services, week of prayer, concerts, etc. as the Lord opens the doors. I do not know what my future holds, but God does and that's enough for me.

Just in closing I want to make an appeal to you to get out your binoculars, dust them off, bring them into focus and then search... Love your neighbor enough to be a Good Samaritan. When he is broken and bleeding in the middle of the road, focus your binoculars with the love of Christ, but don't stop there, reach out and meet his need in his time of crisis. Christianity is not something that "just happens". True Christianity occurs when a decided action is taken...when we search, when we fill a need, when we mend a broken heart and when we are just "there" for hurting people. There is a lot of them. But there are too few Christians who focus their binoculars with love.

Thank you for being my family! Stay close to the Shepherd!

Blessings to you and yours

Linda Shelton

I see that the darts of false allegations that Satan has thrown toward me and my ministry were not directed solely for my downfall, but the aim was much wider. Although I was the apparent target, Satan was attempting to destroy the ministry I loved and co-founded and cripple the witness of the Seventh-day Adventist Church. My perspective has been forever changed through my experiences and my book will give me the opportunity to share these lessons more fully with all of you. (I will keep you posted as to the release date of this book.)

John Knox once said, "Kings (or leaders) have not an absolute power to do in their government what pleases them, but their power is limited by Gods Word; so that if they strike where God has not commanded, they are but murderers; and if they spare where God has commanded to strike, they and their thrones are criminal and guilty of the wickedness which abounds upon the face of the earth, for lack of punishment." John knew his Bible. It is a Biblical principle that if we see a wrong and only look the other way or feebly say, "I will let the Lord deal with that one," then that wickedness is applied to our slate, plain and simple.

The most devastating blow a televangelist can get is the false accusation of adultery. Although I have already made this statement on my website I want to address those of you who have loved and valued my Christianity, integrity and my ministry for the 19 years that I was at 3ABN. I want to clearly emphasize that I was 100% faithful to my husband. I loved, trusted and believed in him to a fault. Imagine my shock when I realized that the false allegations in the form of libel, slander and defamation directed my way were initiated by two of the closest people to me on planet earth; one was my beloved partner and the other was my closet lady friend. I loved them both and trusted them both to the point that their close communication did not bother me in the least. I know that sounds naive, but I did not believe that Dan would do anything that would harm the ministry we had built together.

In 2004 there was a tremendous outcry at my departure. There was suspicion over how swiftly I was fired from my position and divorced. There was suspicion over the fact that I never had the opportunity to talk to the Board and defend myself. There was suspicion over the fact that every trace of my presence was completely cleared out of the campus of 3ABN, even before my termination, as well as the website, television and radio broadcasts. I was made a sacrificial lamb in a scheme calculated to remove me from both my home and my ministry through an orchestrated campaign of malicious lies circulated around the globe.

No words can begin to describe the absolute agony this has brought to my life, but there are other victims as well, and may God bless and spare the young lives and tender souls who have also felt the stinging thrust of this sword of scandal.

It has completely broken my heart to see the emails and letters which have come from the Chairman of the Board, Dan and others at 3ABN, to hear of the television and radio programs where erroneous references have been made to the situation, to watch the ministry that I helped build with much devotion used to destroy me and also to hear of the reports of what is being said on the SDA chat sites about me today by those bent on my destruction...nearly three years later.

It was the false accusation of adultery which caused the loss of my marriage, my reputation, my employment, and everything else. I challenge the 3ABN Board to produce the "irrefutable evidence" which caused a co-founder, a life-time Board member, Vice-President and Secretary of the Board to be removed in that May, 2004 meeting! I am asking, no demanding, that the information is made public, at my request! Cast aside these pretended desires to "spare me"!

The world is waiting with baited breath!

The stakes are high. I, as well as others, have personally experienced electronic surveillance, email theft, interception of cell phone calls, post divorce entry into my private residence to the point where charges were filed with the police. It is not easy to live your life when you feel that you can never know for sure if you are being followed, watched or recorded...even now. I have had invitations to do ministry thwarted because of continued allegations by those, who, like wolves in sheeps clothing, attempted to stop my ministry.

I want to make this absolutely clear: I left my home because I was not safe, I was not welcome. I was witnessing the murder of my reputation and ministry day by day. I stayed as long as I felt I could. I hoped, believed and prayed that things would change but they only got worse. The statements made that I left my husband for another man are absolutely and totally false. Any thinking person would realize that I had everything a Christian woman could have wanted in this life: a husband I loved and the opportunity to minister to millions of people about the tremendous love of my Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, through the ministry that we spent so many years building together. Although two of the people who I loved best have called me "Gomer", yet a more accurate term would be "Hosea", which I would only discover later. But I prefer simply, Linda, "SAVED by the Blood of the Lamb!"

I do not visit the chat sites. This has been a mega-trial for me and my way of coping has been to try and focus on other things. I realize that the individuals which make up our Church need healing from this disaster too.

And perhaps the chat sites have served to help people give expression to their frustrations and hurts in this situation. I am grateful to each of you who have prayed and interceded for me. It has meant so much during my dark days. You will never know just how much!

Now my kids are grown and I am alone...but not really alone, although I have no husband. Now I belong to everyone and everyone belongs to me! And I still sing, "Thank you for being my family, thank you for being my friends: May God bless and keep you in all that you may do until we meet again!"

It is my goal to just make your journey and mine a little lighter and brighter. I have faith that the Lord still has a work for me to do, a new ministry. I am ready and available for church services, week of prayer, concerts, etc. as the Lord opens the doors. I do not know what my future holds, but God does and that's enough for me.

Just in closing I want to make an appeal to you to get out your binoculars, dust them off, bring them into focus and then search... Love your neighbor enough to be a Good Samaritan. When he is broken and bleeding in the middle of the road, focus your binoculars with the love of Christ, but don't stop there, reach out and meet his need in his time of crisis. Christianity is not something that "just happens". True Christianity occurs when a decided action is taken...when we search, when we fill a need, w hen we mend a broken heart and when we are just "there" for hurting people. There are many of them. But there are too few Christians who focus their binoculars with love.

Thank you for being my family! Stay close to the Shepherd!

Blessings to you and yours,

Linda Shelton

Here is her completed letter. As I mentioned in a post earlieron this thread, once she finished her letter, I would also post it under the first letter. Her letter is on her website as well..

Why is this being posted again. Wasn't the first one that got jerked off ,already posted here, and the second "corrected" one posted also. And as mentioned, it is also posted on her web. One can only take so much nausea, before one hurls.

So did anyone force you to read it? I'm glad it got posted again personally. In fact I think we should all make a few copies to hand out at church tomorrow.

If any man would hurl on thy coat, offer him you cloak also. Wait....how does that go? And if any man will sue thee at the law, and take away thy coat, let him have thy cloak also. Mat 5:40

Read it again...you could use it.
It was never "jerked" off anywhere.

It was posted before it was grammatically corrected, etc.
I told all, as I posted the first letter with the understanding it was complete, that I would post the finished one again (I can tell you don't really take the time to read the posts here) and that is just what I did. Why don't you get seek some personal counseling/attention for your apparent issues. I'm sure they are hindering peace and happiness in your life.

You can't possibly post these kinds of comments and expect to gain "credibilty", but you only gain negative attention and seek to provoke a less then christian spirit back at you. But I will only say this, I pray for you and those like you, that you let go and let God heal your spirit.

Treniece,
Just out of curiosity, how have you come to the conclusion that the things said about Tommy are true? While I am inclined to agree with you, I'm interested in how you got there.

I also have had a hard time believing that the Brenda I thought I knew from watching her on cooking shows, Kids Time and various other productions would do the things she is reported to have done. Of course, how well do we actually know someone by their actions on the television screen?

Regarding thinking Tommy was a long time Adventist, I think you hit on a key, or at least a significant problem here. Unless one is privy to the behind-the-scenes lives of the folks on 3abn, viewers are left to conclude that those participating in the 3abn ministry are SDA.

I am inclined to believe the things said about Tommy are true after reading the thread on the article produced by the AToday magazine (I think thats the name of the magazine). Too many allegatins at different times by more than 3 persons.

Iope, they're better journalists than that. If you know how journalists work (I was one for awhile), you can ook at the paragraphs and see who they talked to. People at the churches. People at the conference. Heck, hey even talked to Danny.

Duane, a post was written to you some time ago. I don't know if you didn't want to answer (which is your perogative) or if you just missed it, so I will ask again.

Did you write a reply to TS's letter you say was sent to you. If so why was it not published also? My other question. You say all you are seeking is an apology, if so, wasn't that what the letter was about? Please don't say that there are others he needs to apologize to. If so, that is between him, them and God. You are only responsible for you and him alone. If that is his letter, he apologized a long time ago, so why are you here if that is all you wanted?

I feel no need to answer someone who hides behind a screen name to try to discredit me. I'll be happy to answer when someone is man or woman enough to sign their name to the question.

Another thought: If all the ones speaking out are in the wrong, why do we have no problem signing our names while the "defenders of the truth" hide in anonymity?

Just wondering....

'm just wondering.... how T. Shelton is to stopped, and prevented from molesting any other boys, if no one is willing to go to the authorities and report any of this, and sign their name?

Whether someone signs their name or not, I think this is an important concern which needs to be addressed. I think that this should be the #1 concern here, but I don't see anyone talking about protecting future victims, or preventing more abuse.

What is your thinking on this, Mr Clem? Do you know what, if anything, is being done about this?

wwjd,

My husband is an unbeliever but allows me to pursue truth as I judge important. When I checked out this 3abn forum to see if what a friend was saying was true, I searched and found truth indeed! My husband is not happy that I am involved in this hot-button issue, but he sees the importance of exposing the abuse that has been reported and even he sees as verified.

One condition he has asked me to honor is for me to remain anonymous. He feels that what he has heard of Danny Shelton's tactics are of concern enough that he doesn't want one of his hired "thugs" showing up on our doorstep to try to intimidate this old grandma into backing down from this pursuit.

BTW, when I tried to get the story from Danny and others at 3abn, all I got was snubbed. I did not enjoy the free access that Bystander, wwjd and others have had.

Just a slight clue. Mr. L. Westphal was recently featured with a cover portrait on 3ABN World Magazine. He is evidently a very valuable man to 3ABN because of the millions he gets 3ABN annually in annuities. His main office was, when I last talked to him, at Loma Linda, CA, and I suspect he is still there because a few days he was seen putting up a booth for 3ABN by the University. In connection with that booth he was displaying a large poster where he made a futile attempt covering up the center picture featuring Danny and Linda.

Why was he using this? Why was he attempting to conceal the center picture?

Does she have anything to lose by requesting full disclosure? NO, unless she were guilty of the trash that has been told of her. Does DS have the guts to admit he went to far?.

February, 2007

My warmest greetings,
A couple approached me, with tears in their eyes, and said, "We have just missed you and we wanted to see you to make sure you were okay." As I saw the pain in their eyes, over the events that have transpired in my life in the last few years, it was as if my heart was pierced again. "We are just so happy to see you smiling, in church and still serving God." Our meeting took place a few months ago at the Bible Chapel Seventh-day Adventist Church, where I am a member. I enjoyed my visit with this caring Christian couple and the compassion and love they showed toward me.

Some people act surprised that I am still a member of the SDA church. But why? God is still the same awesome God that He always has been, the incredible Bible truths embraced by the Seventh-day Adventists are still just as true today as they ever were and although a "thousand shall fall on my right and a thousand fall on my left" nothing will ever change these facts. We must hold firm to our faith during troubled times!

Many have written to me over the past many months asking me to update my website. This I have prayerfully considered for quite some time, nearly a year.

Quite frankly, I just have not known what to say. I feel that this scandal has made a large, festering open wound in my Church. Perhaps the truth revealed will ultimately bring the healing that everyone needs. Then we can grieve together and move on. I am certain, in essence, I have died a thousand deaths over the events of the last couple of years. But, with the Lords blessing, I will try to address issues which have been brought to my attention in the kindest manner possible.

For the first time in nearly three years I will not simply deny the accusations, but will directly address certain issues. I do not take pleasure in speaking of these things. I think I have always been the one who would rather receive hurt, than be the one to inflict hurt upon others. But during the course of this last year I learned some valuable lessons through Dr. Mable Dunbar of Pollys Place Network, she has been an incredible support and help to me.

Mable is a woman who truly loves the Lord and is not afraid to stand up for what she believes is right, even if a whole army would stand against her.

Pollys Place Network is a ministry which empowers abused lives and aids them through their difficult circumstances. It is a marvelous organization and so needed for this age when Satan has focused his wrath upon breaking up the security and circle of love God intended for our families. I videotaped some interviews, for Pollys Place, at the SDA Conference office in Spokane, Washington with several individuals who had been through incredibly painful situations. Each of them, in essence, had the same healing story. It was when they were able to come forward and expressed the truth about what happened to them, that their healing came. Inspired by these individuals, now I can accept and believe it is Gods job to protect the ministry I have loved and co-founded, and its my right and my healing to tell the truth about what has occurred.

I am co-authoring a book and its purpose is to share the silver lining of the amazing lessons the Lord has taught me through this crisis. I feel the Lord has lifted a veil and allowed me to see the world that He sees, a world far different than we see. I see that the darts of false allegations that Satan has thrown toward me and my ministry were not directed solely for my downfall, but the aim was much wider. Although I was the apparent target, Satan was attempting to destroy the ministry I loved and co-founded and cripple the witness of the Seventh-day Adventist Church. My perspective has been forever changed through my experiences and my book will give me the opportunity to share these lessons more fully with all of you. (I will keep you posted as to the release date of this book.)

John Knox once said, "Kings (or leaders) have not an absolute power to do in their government what pleases them, but their power is limited by Gods Word; so that if they strike where God has not commanded, they are but murderers; and if they spare where God has commanded to strike, they and their thrones are criminal and guilty of the wickedness which abounds upon the face of the earth, for lack of punishment." John knew his Bible. It is a Biblical principle that if we see a wrong and only look the other way or feebly say, "I will let the Lord deal with that one," then that wickedness is applied to our slate, plain and simple.

The most devastating blow a televangelist can get is the false accusation of adultery. Although I have already made this statement on my website I want to address those of you who have loved and valued my Christianity, integrity and my ministry for the 19 years that I was at 3ABN. I want to clearly emphasize that I was 100% faithful to my husband. I loved, trusted and believed in him to a fault. Imagine my shock when I realized that the false allegations in the form of libel, slander and defamation directed my way were initiated by two of the closest people to me on planet earth; one was my beloved partner and the other was my closet lady friend. I loved them both and trusted them both to the point that their close communication did not bother me in the least. I know that sounds naive, but I did not believe that Dan would do anything that would harm the ministry we had built together.

In 2004 there was a tremendous outcry at my departure. There was suspicion over how swiftly I was fired from my position and divorced. There was suspicion over the fact that I never had the opportunity to talk to the Board and defend myself. There was suspicion over the fact that every trace of my presence was completely cleared out of the campus of 3ABN, even before my termination, as well as the website, television and radio broadcasts. I was made a sacrificial lamb in a scheme calculated to remove me from both my home and my ministry through an orchestrated campaign of malicious lies circulated around the globe.

No words can begin to describe the absolute agony this has brought to my life, but there are other victims as well, and may God bless and spare the young lives and tender souls who have also felt the stinging thrust of this sword of scandal.

It has completely broken my heart to see the emails and letters which have come from the Chairman of the Board, Dan and others at 3ABN, to hear of the television and radio programs where erroneous references have been made to the situation, to watch the ministry that I helped build with much devotion used to destroy me and also to hear of the reports of what is being said on the SDA chat sites about me today by those bent on my destruction...nearly three years later.

It was the false accusation of adultery which caused the loss of my marriage, my reputation, my employment, and everything else. I challenge the 3ABN Board to produce the "irrefutable evidence" which caused a co-founder, a life-time Board member, Vice-President and Secretary of the Board to be removed in that May, 2004 meeting! I am asking, no demanding, that the information is made public, at my request! Cast aside these pretended desires to "spare me"!

The world is waiting with baited breath!

The stakes are high. I, as well as others, have personally experienced electronic surveillance, email theft, interception of cell phone calls, post divorce entry into my private residence to the point where charges were filed with the police. It is not easy to live your life when you feel that you can never know for sure if you are being followed, watched or recorded...even now. I have had invitations to do ministry thwarted because of continued allegations by those, who, like wolves in sheeps clothing, attempted to stop my ministry.

I want to make this absolutely clear: I left my home because I was not safe, I was not welcome. I was witnessing the murder of my reputation and ministry day by day. I stayed as long as I felt I could. I hoped, believed and prayed that things would change but they only got worse. The statements made that I left my husband for another man are absolutely and totally false. Any thinking person would realize that I had everything a Christian woman could have wanted in this life: a husband I loved and the opportunity to minister to millions of people about the tremendous love of my Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, through the ministry that we spent so many years building together. Although two of the people who I loved best have called me "Gomer", yet a more accurate term would be "Hosea", which I would only discover later. But I prefer simply, Linda, "SAVED by the Blood of the Lamb!"

I do not visit the chat sites. This has been a mega-trial for me and my way of coping has been to try and focus on other things. I realize that the individuals which make up our Church need healing from this disaster too.

And perhaps the chat sites have served to help people give expression to their frustrations and hurts in this situation. I am grateful to each of you who have prayed and interceded for me. It has meant so much during my dark days. You will never know just how much!

Now my kids are grown and I am alone...but not really alone, although I have no husband. Now I belong to everyone and everyone belongs to me! And I still sing, "Thank you for being my family, thank you for being my friends: May God bless and keep you in all that you may do until we meet again!"

It is my goal to just make your journey and mine a little lighter and brighter. I have faith that the Lord still has a work for me to do, a new ministry. I am ready and available for church services, week of prayer, concerts, etc. as the Lord opens the doors. I do not know what my future holds, but God does and that's enough for me.

Just in closing I want to make an appeal to you to get out your binoculars, dust them off, bring them into focus and then search... Love your neighbor enough to be a Good Samaritan. When he is broken and bleeding in the middle of the road, focus your binoculars with the love of Christ, but don't stop there, reach out and meet his need in his time of crisis. Christianity is not something that "just happens". True Christianity occurs when a decided action is taken...when we search, when we fill a need, w hen we mend a broken heart and when we are just "there" for hurting people. There are many of them. But there are too few Christians who focus their binoculars with love.

Thank you for being my family! Stay close to the Shepherd!

Blessings to you and yours,

Linda Shelton

QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Feb 28 2007, 07:56 PM)

1. Linda Shelton has already responded to this. She says she had no power over how much employees were paid. Linda said she wanted to give Sandra Juarez a raise, but was overruled by her ex-husband, Danny Shelton. Danny does all hiring and firing. Period. Everybody knows that. You know it. I know it. So just stop with this nonsense.

2. Her Replacement = Tommy Shelton. We already know who "her replacement" was, so you might as well spell it out: Linda was replaced by a Reverend dismissed by another denomination. His name is Tommy Shelton, but I suppose just calling him "her replacement" sounds better? You have your marching orders to focus everyone's attention on demonizing Linda - and away from all other core issues? That's what you're getting paid to do as part of your "mending broken people" agenda? Just asking.

3. As for any trip to Norway, the Norwegian doctor, Arild Abrahamsen, has already written and distributed his account.

4. Linda lost her health insurance when she was summarily fired by her ex-husband. You know that. The Norwegian doctor, aware of what had happened, gave Linda access to his medical clinic after the loss of the insurance. Why keep trying to make that something it is not. Even you, yourself, say Linda Shelton was already divorced at that time.

5. I was in Thompsonville shortly after Danny asked for a divorce. I saw no such fawning as you describe. When Linda started the radio network on December 31, 1999, Danny went on the air shortly thereafter and said several times, "I have no vision for radio," with Linda Shelton sitting right next to him on the air. This certainly didn't look like bragging over Linda to me. It came across to me as a message to viewers saying, "Radio is not part of the Great Danny Shelton Vision, so please take note, everyone." But Linda's radio network succeeded anyway, despite Danny's admonition to his viewers. And things were never the same after that.

Linda held a 3ABN Radio School beginning on Monday, March 8, 2004. It was a sold-out event. The Radio Network was succeeding. Danny could see that and he was not happy. If Danny was going to get rid of Linda, he'd have to do it before she added a dozen more radio stations.

Danny demanded his divorce, the night before the radio school started, on Sunday, March 7, 2004. Danny just couldn't handle Linda's success and he was determined to put a stop to it. Linda, not being streetwise, could not suspect what was going on or how her demise was linked to her own success in radio.

Mollie Steenson had gone to India, and I believe she was not in Thompsonville, on Sunday evening, March 7, 2004, when Danny demanded his divorce and put his plan into action. Mollie came back to Thompsonville and was in her office by midweek, but everything was already in motion. My opinion is that Mollie Steenson either couldn't be trusted to help destroy Linda Shelton, or Mollie wanted to distance herself from the planned event, so it was done while she, Mollie, was out of the country - in India, no less. Was that trip to India planned in advance by someone for such a reason? I've decided in my own mind that it was.

6. I don't see that "programming improved" with the Reverend Tommy Shelton sitting in Linda's old office. But that's in the eye of the beholder. Maybe an endless array of scolding, talking heads at 3ABN pleases you. There's nothing special about Shelley Quinn with her veiled excoriation using "John the Baptist" or John Lomacang's version of the same using his "Moses - Touch Not the Lord's Anointed" blatherments. The expoundings of these two strike me as nothing but desperate and weird.

6. Bystander, you keep regurgitating the same old garbage over and over trying so hard to re-write history. It is not working, so give it up. The reason you skip responding to Watchbird is that she knows the timeline, and you cannot deal with that; Your job is to deliver your mudballs to people who you think cannot tell the difference.

7. The entire 3ABN defense from the very beginning has been, "Nobody will be able to criticize us, because they are all stupid and will never be able to figure out what we did for sure," id est, "Nobody knows me and Linda" ad infinitum. Your only purpose on this forum. Bystander, is to muddy the waters with your little mudballs and to make sure it all stays muddy. Everybody can see that, so this must be about your personal paycheck. It certainly cannot be about truth or justice. Not knowing who you are, this is all about your own personal bank account, right? Are you willing to do anything to keep those paychecks coming, no matter what? Am I close? I think I am right on target. I think it is all about money, your money, Bystander, and nothing else. I think everything and everyone comes a distant second with you.

QUOTE(watchbird @ Feb 28 2007, 04:34 PM)

It is doubtful if 3abn will ever officialy admit anything about anything. But the reason Linda was dismissed is very plain.... She was dismissed because Danny didn't want her around any more.

Isn't this pretty much what Walt Thompson said to her, when he wrote something to the effect that he didn't care about their personal problems all he knew was the president didn't want the vice-president anymore. (now that's cold)

Now as to why he didn't want her around..... there is probably no single answer to that. And since speculating about motives is not a good thing to do, we shall probably have to be content to notice what things he has changed since he got rid of her. The most obvious, of course, is that he has a new wife..... one that is much younger.

I'm not so sure we should concentrate on "younger woman" so much. nowadays lots of women look better at 40 than they did at 20 plus they got the smarts. sad to say some guys are afraid of smarts. (i'm not one of them. the smarter my wife is the easier it is on me. rofl) seriously tho', i think that's what is probably more accurate. why else would he be in such a panic to discredit her. he's terrified of what she knows. can anyone say the word: "gag"? what he seems to have forgotten or maybe never appreciated, however, is that she has class.

But there may be other changes also that are significant in other areas.... types of programming.... doctrinal emphases..... the way workers are treated..... perhaps others more familiar with things both before and after Linda left may have noticed changes that may be significant.

Of course, we do not know that spring 2004 was actually the watershed. It could be that Danny was already making changes.... at least some of which caused added friction between the two. Some have seen their going for a private jet plane as a significant watershed. Some have seen the court case over the property tax exemption as significant. It would be interesting to hear what others observed in the way of significant changes over the last 5 years or so.

seems to me, power and control got the best of DS

QUOTE(Nuggie @ Mar 1 2007, 05:53 AM)

OK, let me see if I've got this straight...you want us to believe that Linda had so much power at 3ABN that she controlled programming, employee morale and workers' salary? You want us to believe that Danny was impotent and powerless to do anything to break Linda's control. You want us to believe that Danny, the founder and person to whom God gave this wonderful "vision" let Linda get all the power and control everything he felt that the Lord specifically gave to him. Yet with all this power that she supposedly had the 3ABN board was quick to summarily dismiss her and bind her up with a gag order. Yeah...OK...and Bill Gates is just a front for Microsoft...I'm really the President...

Oh kewl!!!!!!!!!! Can i borrow a few bucks?

Duane, a post was written to you some time ago. I don't know if you didn't want to answer (which is your perogative) or if you just missed it, so I will ask again.

Did you write a reply to TS's letter you say was sent to you. If so why was it not published also? My other question. You say all you are seeking is an apology, if so, wasn't that what the letter was about? Please don't say that there are others he needs to apologize to. If so, that is between him, them and God. You are only responsible for you and him alone. If that is his letter, he apologized a long time ago, so why are you here if that is all you wanted?

AN APOLOGY??? FOR CRYING OUT LOUD!!! TS should buy him a "beamer" and praise the Lord he's not behind bars. Apology indeed!!!

NOTE: Her letter of demand, posted March 2nd, 2007 now on her website. To go right there, click here http://www.lindashelton.org
In keeping with Linda Shelton requiring an open and transparent ASI sponsored hearing, Linda has now published a letter that includes a clear demand that 3ABN and Danny Shelton produce the evidence they claim to have for inspection and verification to the entire church membership and to the stockholders in the pews. Danny Shelton in various forms and under various alias has repeatedly referenced evidence that he claims to have thereby giving him a basis for divorce and remarriage. The chairman of 3ABN on AToday has made it clear they have no proof of an adulterous affair. Linda Shelton and Arild Abrahamsen have repeatedly asserted that there is no basis for divorce, that no inappropriate relationship occurred and that there is no evidence to support the Danny Shelton claims.

We have repeatedly asserted that if there is no proof, then a remarriage would constitute an adulterous relationship. Danny Shelton was married at 3ABN in March 2006 to a Brandy Murray, a 3ABN employee that reportedly arrived at 3ABN of Thompsonville in July of 2004.

Here is the letter from Linda in its entirety and is also available at www.LindaShelton.org and on www.save3ABN.com . I believe it reflects the same Linda, a bit stronger and less naive than in the past, but as deeply committed to her relationship with the Lord as we all remember so well on that porch at 3ABN.

Linda Shelton does respond to e-mail and will be happy to have a concert or a deeply spiritual service at your location, wherever you may be.

February, 2007

My warmest greetings,

A couple approached me, with tears in their eyes, and said, "We have just missed you and we wanted to see you to make sure you were okay." As I saw the pain in their eyes, over the events that have transpired in my life in the last few years, it was as if my heart was pierced again. "We are just so happy to see you smiling, in church and still serving God." Our meeting took place a few months ago at the Bible Chapel Seventh-day Adventist Church, where I am a member. I enjoyed my visit with this caring Christian couple and the compassion and love they showed toward me.

Some people act surprised that I am still a member of the SDA church. But why? God is still the same awesome God that He always has been, the incredible Bible truths embraced by the Seventh-day Adventists are still just as true today as they ever were and although a "thousand shall fall on my right and a thousand fall on my left" nothing will ever change these facts. We must hold firm to our faith during troubled times!

Many have written to me over the past many months asking me to update my website. This I have prayerfully considered for quite some time, nearly a year. Quite frankly, I just have not known what to say. I feel that this scandal has made a large, festering open wound in my Church. Perhaps the truth revealed will ultimately bring the healing that everyone needs. Then we can grieve together and move on. I am certain, in essence, I have died a thousand deaths over the events of the last couple of years. But, with the Lords blessing, I will try to address issues which have been brought to my attention in the kindest manner possible.

For the first time in nearly three years I will not simply deny the accusations, but will directly address certain issues. I do not take pleasure in speaking of these things. I think I have always been the one who would rather receive hurt, than be the one to inflict hurt upon others. But during the course of this last year I learned some valuable lessons through Dr. Mable Dunbar of Pollys Place Network, she has been an incredible support and help to me. Mable is a woman who truly loves the Lord and is not afraid to stand up for what she believes is right, even if a whole army would stand against her.

Pollys Place Network is a ministry which empowers abused lives and aids them through their difficult circumstances. It is a marvelous organization and so needed for this age when Satan has focused his wrath upon breaking up the security and circle of love God intended for our families. I videotaped some interviews, for Pollys Place, at the SDA Conference office in Spokane, Washington with several individuals who had been through incredibly painful situations. Each of them, in essence, had the same healing story. It was when they were able to come forward and expressed the truth about what happened to them, that their healing came. Inspired by these individuals, now I can accept and believe it is Gods job to protect the ministry I have loved and co-founded, and its my right and my healing to tell the truth about what has occurred.

I am co-authoring a book and its purpose is to share the silver lining of the amazing lessons the Lord has taught me through this crisis. I feel the Lord has lifted a veil and allowed me to see the world that He sees, a world far different than we see. I see that the darts of false allegations that Satan has thrown toward me and my ministry were not directed solely for my downfall, but the aim was much wider. Although I was the apparent target, Satan was attempting to destroy the ministry I loved and co-founded and cripple the witness of the Seventh-day Adventist Church. My perspective has been forever changed through my experiences and my book will give me the opportunity to share these lessons more fully with all of you. (I will keep you posted as to the release date of this book.)

John Knox once said, "Kings (or leaders) have not an absolute power to do in their government what pleases them, but their power is limited by Gods Word; so that if they strike where God has not commanded, they are but murderers; and if they spare where God has commanded to strike, they and their thrones are criminal and guilty of the wickedness which abounds upon the face of the earth, for lack of punishment." John knew his Bible. It is a Biblical principle that if we see a wrong and only look the other way or feebly say, "I will let the Lord deal with that one," then that wickedness is applied to our slate, plain and simple.

The most devastating blow a televangelist can get is the false accusation of adultery. Although I have already made this statement on my website I want to address those of you who have loved and valued my Christianity, integrity and my ministry for the 19 years that I was at 3ABN. I want to clearly emphasize that I was 100% faithful to my husband. I loved, trusted and believed in him to a fault. Pete, this was very well stated. Thank you! Kudos!

Vell stated? rofl Pete and SSOM I got a suggestion for you. Why don't you act like adults and call the :FO at 3abn. Ask him who set the salaries for the production people. Next ask him how she wanted salaries o work for the truck crew where they would be paid practically nothing and even less if they were a assenger in the truck as opposed to the driver. Ask him what a nightmare that created for the accounting lepartment.
Vext, ask to speak to Linda's personal assistant and secretary who worked for many years for Linda. Then, isk her if Linda set salaries for production people and if it was she that decided if anyone would get a raise, ow much of one, or, not any at all.
Vhen you find that the answers from 2 different people are the same, then it would seem you could conclude hat Linda may not be telling the truth. And, if she isn't, how many other things has she not told the truth on? t would be a lot of trouble but, you could always recruit some of those employees who went to her (her ecretary) to ask for a raise and through her secretary, turned them down.
Vhen your done with those assignments, then you could call Mollie and ask her who does 95% of the hiring nd firing. It isn't Danny. To be even more detailed, even though Mollie does most of it if that person is going nto production, the production manager certainly has a big say if he wants to take on that person in his lepartment. Linda was not only production manager, she was Vice President. She had plenty to say about vho would work in her department.
low funny that you all think that Danny has time to do all these corrupt things, like doctoring books, lackballing Linda, work on people like DB to join with him, travel constantly, is aware of everybody that omes and goes at 3abn, is constantly hatching plans with those that work for him, sets everybody's salaries, ules the board, runs the church (which is conference) and still, still has time to hire and fire everyone.

Vow that is one incredible man.

Maybe the ignorance shown here on these subjects is because you can't comprehend the immensity of the ninistry complex, old and new, the grounds the different buildings, departments and then they have approx .50 employees right there with probably 50 more elsewhere, especially 3abn Russia. So if that is why you an't seem to comprehend that it is impossible For Danny to be all seeing and all knowing and involved in nything that moves, please, get some pictures, books, descriptions, or better yet go there yourself to check t out. Maybe then you will see the foolishness of your accusations.

Ok, so this is the umphteenth time we have heard Danny, and the clones mention about calling him and he weill answer. Please, somebody let's take up this challenge. Somebody call 3ABN, as for Danny(CFO, walt who ever), and say that Steffan and the rest of his supporters here at BSDA said we could call and get the answers to the questions he has list. Can somebody help us out here, and bring back are report. Once of their main claims is that nobody ever called Danny to ask him anything.....except Bob, who they then called a pest, etc., but hey at least we can take that out of their arsernal. What do you say? Somebody?

Yes, someone please call. And see if you can get documentation to support the claims. For example, are they any memos by Linda or minutes of meetings that attribute these actions to her?

Personally, I would find such things quite helpful. Thus far all I have is her word that it wasn't her idea, and that someone came to her telling her this needed to be done. If she's lying I want to know, and I want to see documents that establish that.

But it should be someone else that calls. If Larry hung up on Gailon, what do you think he will do if I call?

Pete and SSOM I got a suggestion for you. Why don't you act like adults and call the CFO at 3abn.

When I was at 3ABN, doing whatever it was I was doing, it was Danny Shelton who made the ultimate decisions concerning me. Mollie Steenson told me, herself, that final decisions were made by Danny. Another manager, on another occasion, told me the exact same thing when they were considering someone for employment.

As for the CFO, past experience seems to indicate that the CFO isn't going to say anything to the outside world.

As for the radio network, I was told ASI -- and others -- earmarked a big chunk of money to help launch it on December 31, 1999. Therefore, it wasn't politically feasible for Danny to forsake the backing of ASI, after ASI agreed to donate that money.

As you know, Steffan, if the recently announced merger between 3ABN and Amazing Facts is completed as planned, ASI Missions will be the constituency calling the shots at 3ABN, and some of those people are enthusiastic about radio.

Since we're talking production:

Steffan, did you see any of those videos Linda made? What do you think of them? Do you think the people who helped make those videos did a professional job? Were you pleased with the results? What's your take?

I'm certain that my memory is correct that I have read posts here from people who have written DS and gotten replies (haven't those replies been shared?). There are numerous emails that are basically form letters, not personal or individual, which really means everyone asked the same direct questions, and got (more) general types answers - IOW, no answers.

I personally, 3 (almost now) years ago wrote the MINISTERIAL staff at 3abn's website, asking very normal questions like "where is linda now? what has happened?", and NEVER got an any kind of an answer at all.

I have emailed "walt" several times, about a year ago, and I could tell then that the replies were not all coming from the same person. Very clearly.

I won't waste my time writing them anymore, I know their MO. It's been clear from the beginning, and no matter who or what tried to get involved to find out anything, they have never had any intention of telling any more then they have already alluded to. ALLUDED TO. Do you think I could accept it then? And now? No. And, I'm not the only one, unfortunately for them.

Posted by: princessdi May 8 2007, 02:10 PM

Thank you Sonshine! I knew this, but just wanted it pointed out. I still find it hard to believe that any of the Dannyites even part their lips to say call 3ABn for anything. Bob, spent so much time with emails and calls to them, I even questioned his sanity(jk), but they called him a pest and said he was harrassing WT and DS with his constant asking of questions. They can't have it both ways. Now if they were going to answer these questions, I would think they would have answered Bob just to stop him from calling and writing. But hey, Danny said he was waiting on ASI's investigation, and ASI said they were in no position to investigate, and rightly so. So what is the problem now?

Ok, so now Steffan and Eirene(upon your return), Aletheia , Lee, FHB, and all the rest, please dont' ask anyone else to contact 3ABn. Nobody here is fool enought o believe that they will anwer the call or the email let alone the questions. Let it go!

AMEN!!!

Early 2004 after hearing about those nasty emails that Walt sent out I wanted to find out for myself what was going on. After all 3ABN sent out the letters and email they should explain why they did it. All I got was a generic bland email from someone by the name of Mom Ford. I have no idea who Mom Ford is but as far as I was concerned it was like not receiving a reply from anyone. In my opinion Danny orchestrated the lies from 3ABN. From that I don't believe anyone who is admin at 3ABN can be believed.

I am VERY disappointed with the way 3ABN handled the whole situation. I stopped giving my meager funds to them and diverted to more worthy causes like Gospel Outreach. (GO does not keep any more than 10% of funds for office supplies. Rest go to missionary work to 10/40 window. Yes Dan Matthews was intervewed by Danny Shelton about GO) I don't have the full information with me. Basically they use people who already live in the country as missionaries and give a stipend to the missionaries to teach and give Bible studies ONE ON ONE the Gospel of Jesus Christ. I feel that my meager funds would go lot further than sending to Danny so he can fuel his jet or fuel his fancy truck.

sorry. got ofl got a bit too well, back in '04, i called and emailed about 3 or 4 times to ask "what happened to linda, where is linda, how is linda".

my daughter called and emailed and got nothng then wrote them snail mail and told them "we have a right to know more than 2 sentences about what happened to linda and how she is!".
recently i have share a dozen or more emails with WT and got nothing but spin.
so, any of you DS supporters got any more suggestions?

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ Statement - Alyssa Moore

Posted by: source Oct 3 2006, 10:03 PM

July 7, 2006

This is a formal statement which is long overdue. I did not disclose this information when the events occurred because I did not want to hurt my mother. I did not want to cause trouble with 3 ABN, and I was too embarrassed to talk about it. Now that some time has passed and circumstances have changed I feel the need to share this information. I want to spare others from being exposed to the same treatment that I have experienced.

1) The repeated inappropriate actions from my ex-stepfather, Danny Shelton, occurred in the summer of the year 2000.

2) I had been away at school for some years. I was happy to be returning home to attend a local University.

3) My mother always went to bed rather early. Her bedroom was upstairs and my bedroom was downstairs. Danny started coming into my room getting into my bed and rubbing my back. He seemed to "accidentally" get too low. I told him I did not want a back rub. He ignored me. This happened repeatedly.

4) I began locking my bedroom door every night. Sometimes he would come to the door and knock again and again. I did not answer. He then repeatedly unlocked my bedroom door and came into my room. He would then get into my bed. I was not comfortable with this but I was so tired I still fell asleep. I awoke sometimes with his hands in inappropriate places. He would say "Oh, I'm sorry. I thought it was your Mom." He told me not to tell my Mom. I told him to stay out of my room. He still came. I started sleep on the living room couch so that he could not lie beside me.

5) I felt threatened and very uncomfortable with these things, so I made arrangements to move out.

Signed,

Honey, there are no words to say but "I am sorry that this happened to you"....and am praying for you....

I do not know whether or not you are Linda Shelton's daughter...but it appears as though you have been hurt and traumatized by someone who allowed Satan to take over their lives for a moment.

This is simply not true.... that it was "meant to be shared" on any forum..... and it is a real violation of express instructions that were sent out with each copy of this letter where the permission to share was very specifically limited to "ministers and church leaders", and where it was expressly directed to NOT post it on any public forum. I would hope that Calvin would make an exception of not pulling any posts and would pull this one. It was also requested that her name not be used in any discussions on a public forum, but only to identify her as Linda's daughter. That may seem like a minute distinction to some, but one's name is a very important and precious thing, and I am extremely saddened that someone would brazenly go against her express wishes in this regard.

Well, I accept Watchbird's comment as true.

This is the first time I, for one, have seen such a letter.

Since I am assuming that you are neither a pastor nor a church leader.... which we loosely translated as either Conference administrators or lay leaders, especially if they were in abuse counseling professions.... then you should not have received one. And it is quite possible that all who are in that category have not yet received a copy.... it is a very large task to send them out.

> Nonetheless, it is out. There is way to unring the proverbial bell.

You are so correct. That being the case, it would seem to me that the best route to take from here.... "go with the flow" as Calvin says.... will be to give a certain and clear "ring" to the bell.

For starters, let's look at some of the history of the sending of this statement. It was, as I have noted, to be distributed only by email, and it was to always be accompanied by the cover letter with which it was originally sent. It was channeled through Johann, with him sending out the first waves, and others who received it sending it on to others who fit the criteria specified. That first wave included several of the top leaders of our church as well as some of the primary persons involved in the 3abn saga for the last two plus years.

It was first distributed shortly before the ASI Conference this summer, and came to Danny's attention at that time. His reaction was to first of all claim that Alyssa didn't really do it of her own initiative, that he had talked to her since the statement came out, and that it meant nothing.... in reality he and Alyssa were very "close friends". Some who heard his reaction at ASI checked with Alyssa and found that there was no truth in what Danny was saying, and in fact Danny did not even have Alyssa's current phone numbers.

At about the same time, or shortly thereafter, Alyssa made notarized copies of her statement and mailed them in hard copy to selected top church officers. This, I am told, created such a great stir in the GC waters that it sent 3abn into a "circle the wagons" mode, which was made obvious in their "3ABN Today LIVE" two hour special which was shown multiple times the weekend of August 11-13.

Note that we have previously discussed this on BSDA under the thread entitled, "3abn Presents "the Battle ..." Don't Miss It, Special program rerun times...." where we noted that Shelly Quinn's sermon in particular was best understood by those of us who knew of the statement made by Alyssa. See http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?showtopic=10422

At present, I am told that 3abn is demanding a "hearing" with Alyssa.... something that some of us feel is a rather inhumane way for her to go, and are hoping that she will refuse. Something as difficult for her to handle as this has to be, certainly should be handled in a counseling atmosphere rather than an adversarial one. But this is one of those things which are currently residing under the "we have to wait and see" rubric .... trusting that God has supplied her with wise and kind counselors.... both legal and psychological.... so that she is having all the help necessary to move through whatever lies ahead in this area.

Others are, I am sure, much more acquainted with the details of what it must have been like growing up as a step-daughter in the Danny Shelton household, with Melody and Danny's relationship as the closest "model" on which to build her concepts of what a father/daughter relationship should "look like". I hope that they will give us some insights into that.

Others who are reading here are trained counselors.... I hope they will now speak up and discuss in a general and professional way the hurdles and phases of healing that someone who has undergone experiences like this have to face and go through.

We have already heard from Barbara Kerr, who seemingly was the first to learn what had happened and pass it on to Linda.... who until that time had not known of it. She shared something of the way she learned about it with us in the thread pinned at the top of the menu, entitled, http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?showtopic=10489. You'll find her comments on this near the end of her original letter. While I am sure there is still much that she knows that she will not share with us because of the delicate and personal nature of the information, I do hope Barb will come back and help us in our understanding of what has and is going on in this area.

May we be especially kind and loving in our discussion of this topic is my prayer today.

I am not a counselor but, in my opinion, Alyssa has already taken one of the most stressful steps by sharing her experience with conference leaders. I'm fairly certain she would have carefully thought about all of the ramifications coming forward could lead to, including "hearings" on the issue.

I'm concerned that if she refuses it could be viewed and exploited as an admission that her claims are unfounded. Of course, the venue of any such hearings should certainly be neutral and non-adversarial before consenting to their demands.

This young woman has proven that she has endurance just by the fact that she has survived the rigors of becoming a doctor - no light task! I'm not saying that a hearing would be a walk in the park for her, just that she appears to have the moxie to withstand it.

there is no rule written anywhere that says she is obligated to meet with people from 3abn who is owned and operated by the alleged perp.... and they are stupid for even requesting it..... she needs to file charges, hire a lawyer and let whomever talk to the lawyer....

I agree 100%....no "alleged sexual abuse victim" should ever have to face an alleged perpetrator in this context....that would do nothing but re-traumatize the victim....

yanno.... your comment is definitely on point... I think folks have lost their mind.... she is not obligated to meet with them ever....

If Alyssa meets with the 3ABN people, she would be "put on trial" as to her truthfullness. She would be in the same position as they attempted to put Linda in when they tried to censure her. Alyssa's words will be twisted if she meets with them. Her words will likely be twisted and/or lied about if she even communicates privately with any of them especially with Danny.

She has spoken.

QUOTE(watchbird @ Oct 3 2006, 11:45 PM)

This is simply not true.... that it was "meant to be shared" on any forum..... and it is a real violation of express instructions that were sent out with each copy of this letter where the permission to share was very specifically limited to "ministers and church leaders", and where it was expressly directed to NOT post it on any public forum. I would hope that Calvin would make an exception of not pulling any posts and would pull this one. It was also requested that her name not be used in any discussions on a public forum, but only to identify her as Linda's daughter. That may seem like a minute distinction to some, but one's name is a very important and precious thing, and I am extremely saddened that someone would brazenly go against her express wishes in this regard.

Yes we were, and we shared with you assuming you would honor her and our request to respect her wishes as to distribution. I am exceedingly disappointed in your actions regarding this.

Then Watchbird you are going to have to be disappointed. You did request that this letter not be published here, some request are honored some are not. That's the way it works. We are way too far into this saga to start protecting people. I find it ironic that you would make such a request since you have been very vocal in your opinion of others associated with this ministry. I suspect some of those individuals would rather not be discussed on BSDA either.

Alyssa put this letter out there, that put it in play for discussion here or anywhere else. Maybe those of you who know Alyssa should let her know that she can't be so naïve to think that she can have any control over the media to which a communication is distributed or where it may end up...and Watchbird you are not that naïve either.

Posted by: simplysaved Oct 4 2006, 08:30 AM

That is not the clinical or spiritual concern...bottom line is Matthew 18 does not refer to IMHO and professional opinion, to abuse or power-based (control) situations; in those instances you do need to have a second person--and physical advocate for emotional support...I stand corrected: The moment that an "alleged victim" tells you "NO" or "STOP" they have come to you one on one...the next step is getting help (i.e. getting another brother/sister involved).

In this situation, an alleged victim would be intimidated by a corporation trying to determine what did or did not happen---their concerns are secondary and totally out of line.

'hank you for saying that....while I am very sensitive to this kind of situation clinically and otherwise, we ıave to be very careful what we put out in the public---because when we do, you can't cry foul and demand hat certain issues/allegations be off limits...

'erhaps that is why God gave EGW the counsel that we should try to resolve most issues privately and not in ›ublic...or as the Bible says more specifically, sometimes we have to allow God to decide what needs to be ›ublic...even allowing ourselves to be "defrauded" in something, because the end damage is often unexpected ınd far more reaching....

But the concern is that according to watchbird, Allyssa did not want this to become public but to be handled by the church leaders...if that is the case, she has been re-victimized by having this letter posted. And that IMHO is sin and wrong.

As an alleged victim she has the right to her dignity and part of re-gaining control and enpowerment is to be able to choose how, when, and where you share your experience. This would then further take away her power....bottom line it is about the VICTIM and not what outsiders feel is right.

Does one really expect to get support from the perpretors employer that is what the church is in this case - a indirect employer so from the start church is not neutral. Using this as an example being a victim does not mean common sense goes out the window. But like you said Go to God first.

I think this last is why we tried to honor her requests to limit distribution as long as possible. I do not personally know if she has come to terms with the recognition that it could not stay in limited circulation for very long or not. I do know that she was amply warned at the time that this would be the case.... sooner or later, with as wide a circulation as she was allowing, someone would ignore the requests and throw it wide open.

I don't think that she has been "re-victimized" by the opening of this to the public now. She has had some time to know just how much the church leaders will do and what they will not do. They have been given their chance..... and they did not choose to act, at least not in a way that was visible and that plainly suspended the abuser.

Hopefully she will see this ... or come to see it shortly ... as freeing her to proceed with legal action against him.... something that is very hard for some segments of Adventism to accept as being right and proper.

Agreed... but SS has a point also.... that there is support a victim needs that is personal and up-close and has little or nothing to do with the "support" that seeks for and administers justice.

I think the delay periods ... and there were two quite different ones ... the one from the time that she first told Barbara Kerr about it until the time she had gathered a private support system sufficiently strong to enable her to make the public statement.... and the second one from the time that went out to the present. I'm very sure that she added to her support system after the release of the statement. And while I'm not a professional in this area, I think that would be very important in strengthening her for the public and legal steps that she will need to face next.

One additional note to this is that the GC has, in the last few years.... not sure just when.... taken formal positions about what steps to take in cases like this.... and they DO include notifying the law enforcement agencies immediately upon the allegations....

Why haven't the Family Ministries personell been involved in any of the 3abn allegations? I wish I knew. Does anyone have any direct lines to any of them?

Like you said, she wouldn't have told nobody if she wanted to keep it off line. She has counted the cost of telling this so that the curse of the flesh that Danny Shelton has brought forward might be revealed before us. If information exists, it is speech freedom, and the Holy Spirit has been in this discussion all the way along as it has revealed all hidden secrets as people have been inspired to share.

We have been shown that Danny had other problems, such as admitting to being responsible for the death of his first wife, and others that have been demonstrated here before us. Now we must pray that the details will not remain in the shadows for long but that all might be made plain so that when the Lord withdraws his blessing from 3ABN, it will be clear as to why it was done. Those with information or ideas about what may have happened must come forward because we cannot expect the Lord's blessing without doing our part.

Calvin, may you be blessed for encouraging this necessary discussion to continue. And thank you Source for posting this. Without the Lord, this discussion would have ended months ago, but through His Spirit of discernment it will hold fast.

Simply, read this and ponder together with my last post in the thread.

1Pe 2:13 Be subject to every ordinance of man for the Lord's sake: whether to the king, as supreme;
1Pe 2:14 or unto governors, as sent by him for vengeance on evil-doers and for praise to them that do well.
1Pe 2:15 For so is the will of God, that by well-doing ye should put to silence the ignorance of foolish men:
1Pe 2:16 as free, and not using your freedom for a cloak of wickedness, but as bondservants of God.
1Pe 2:17 Honor all men. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honor the king.
1Pe 2:18 Servants, be in subjection to your masters with all fear; not only to the good and gentle, but also to the froward.
1Pe 2:19 For this is acceptable, if for conscience toward God a man endureth griefs, suffering wrongfully.

1Pe 2:20 For what glory is it, if, when ye sin, and are buffeted for it, ye shall take it patiently? but if, when ye do well, and suffer for it, ye shall take it patiently, this is acceptable with God.

There is an old fable. It tells of a man with a tame bear. The man went to sleap and a while later a fly sat down on mans nose. Now this was a nice bear who loved his master and would not want him to be disturbed by a fly in his sleap. So the bear lifted his paw and smacked the fly, and unfortunately the mans head aswell. The man was never again disturbed by any flies, in fact, he was never disturbed at all after that.

From this fable we get a saying that would roughly translate to "bears service". Something which has all good intentions but with clearly opposite and probably catastrophic results. I do not know if this same or a similar saying exists in english or not.

Now to link this to the thread. How can we be sertain that this fable doesnt have anything to teach in this situation that is presently discussed in this thread?

A thousand AMENS to the part about how the church tends to cover it all up and blame the victum. I can testify to that. She needs turn him in, but not to the church sorry to say. They just do nothing to help victums.

Personally I can't think of of any U.S. sayings except for possibly "his intentions were good". It is my opinion that the "bears service" could apply here.

I would love to see the Swedish word or words that translates "bears service", and a phonetic pronunciation would be nice as well. It sounds like a term I would like to incorporate into my vocabulary.

I think the english expression that would best fit this situation is: "The road to hell is paved with good intentions."

Perhaps that by trying to protect Alyssa from the trauma of confronting her attacker they are actually causing her damage in the long run. That's what I got anyway.

How far in the past does a matter have to occur for it to be "prior life"? Just curious 'cause 6 years is a fair bit of time Or do you mean Dannys life before Linda?

The official rule at BSDA is that everything that took place before the founding of 3ABN is off limits, relevant or not...

I'm going to apologize now for making everyone thoroughly upset but it's my opinion...

For months this issue has been discussed and I can't count how any times people on the inside said something to the effect of how critical it was to get people on BSDA so that people would know what was happening at 3ABN. (Without specifics of course) Now, after this incredible statement is published (inevitably), "source" is smacked on the hands.

I would normally be the first to say that it would have been appropriate to follow instructions given by the victim. HOWEVER, this is too great and public of a matter to be dealt with quietly and within the confines of the church.

Time and time again history has proven that most organizations choose to keep their secrets secret. So, I'm really unsure as to why this being published is a bad thing. With this statement in the open, the public has something solid to stand on.

3ABN chose years ago to keep Scott Grady's secrets secret and he went on to unknowing victims. IF GIVEN THE CHANCE 3ABN WILL DO IT AGAIN! DOESN'T ANYONE SEE? By allowing the information out it FORCES the issue to be looked at differently, and I dare say, more seriously since the church and the "business" have much more to worry about.

HAVE WE ALL FORGOTTEN THAT IT IS US THAT FUNDS THESE ENTITIES?

Somebody help me here, but I believe 3abn started in the mid-80's? That gives us 20+ years of stuff to talk about. Danny started 3abn with Linda as his wife. Whatever happen with his frist wife is out of scope.

Uncle Sam, it sounds like to must have watched the "behind the scenes" program where Shelly Quinn preached on this very subject. In her sermon she accused the mother of using her daughter to make accusations against God's annointed prophet. She said they did not blame the daughter, that is was a scheme of the mother and the daughter was only a pawn in the game. It was clearly intended to give the spin you are now suggesting. Perhaps that is where you got this notion?

This is exactly what Danny Shelton and Walt Thompson want you to believe: everyone is a pathological liar who testifies of the heinous acts that Danny has done against them. The premise they have built their house of cards upon is that we are gullible enough to believe everyone is wrong who opposes Danny and that Danny's word is unquestionable truth. I would say LOL at this point, because it is such a ridiculous concept, but to the victims it really isn't very funny...

But would she be considered an adult at the time these things happened? Would this make a difference in a court of law?

Vhen I read Source's post I noticed that he didn't make an introduction to the information he was posting as have seen when others have posted letters not their own - such as Barbara Kerr's and chapters of The elevangelist.

Being fairly new I thought perhaps it was protocol to introduce and state whether permission had been given. didn't feel I was slapping his hand. I was glad to finally read the much spoken of letter.

Vow, who is Scott Grady and what did he do and who kept it secret and WHY?

Now, who is Scott Grady and what did he do and who kept it secret and WHY?

Boy are you in for a treat ... it's like hot fudge on top of this hot mess...

Scott Grady was a director who worked for 3ABN for quite a few years. Several women went to administration when Scott started sexually harassing them. Years later melody went to mollie saying that she was receiving calls from scott that were sexual in nature and had them recorded. (I should note that is speculated by many that it was actually an affair.) And to clear one thing - I was a first-hand witness to the harassent of 2 of the women and was willing to testify as were other men at the station - not counting the women. So whether scott and melody had an affair is secondary.

Once Dan heard what was happening, scott was suspended from the production truck and soon after even more women came out of the woodwork. Scott was NOT fired and there were no legal actions taken. With a dozen women's testimonies of the harassment, 3ABN felt that there were "no legal options."

He was allowed to resign and continues to work in ministries around the world. Nothing was done nor was there even a "kiss my rear end" for the women who were abused. Not a meeting, not a letter, nothing.

Scott's reputation is in tact as far as I know...that's 3ABN justice!

Some 20 years or so ago when the actions allegedly took place that raise questions about Tommy, there was not nearly the "outcry" that there is today. So there are more chances of justice for earlier victims now than there was then. For one thing there is more outrage in general than there used to be. And there are more and better investigative techniques available now. Convictions are more prevalent. Sentences are longer and more appropriate. National sex-offender registration and reporting is taking place and tracking is improving.

It occurs to me that the way a law is written will determine whether a crime has been committed or not. In most states it seems that a person must be under "the age of consent" for a crime to have been committed. If the victim is OF the "age of consent" ("AOC" for now) then it depends on if there was or was not consent. If the victim has not been reached AOC then it mat called "a statutory crime", or "crimes against children".

I wonder what age Alyssa was at the time the allegations took place. When I say "allegations" I do NOT mean to MINIMIZE anything! It's a term I HAVE TO USE at this time.

When all is said and done with this fiasco, I do hope we all learn to become more aware of questions we should be asking before we "start plopping down our hard-earned dollars" or "put people up on pedestals" just because they might happen to have a "silver tongue", or because they have cute grandchildren. Who said, "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure"? (so far it's taking a lot of pounding to try to cure)

Can we also explore / discuss some ways to become "Wise as serpents but harmless as doves"?

Posted by: Observer Oct 5 2006, 08:39 AM

Alyssia was 18, or over, and therefore had reached the age of consent.

The alleged offense was therefore not a crime against a minor. It might fall into the catagory of a crime of sexual assult.

Would it have been better if Alyssia would have taken her story to the courts way back in the year 2000? I feel that she will take the beating so that the perp can remain strong.

In the area where I live, the media has generally agreed not to publish the names of claimed victims of sexual assult, unless that person either releases the media, or goes public.

That is the rationale behind Daryl not publishing Alyssia's statement.

Alyssia clearly stated that she was providing her statement to denominmational officials, did not want it published on the Internet, and did not want her name disclosed on the Internet. She also stated that everyperson who recieved her statemet must also be given her limitations on disclosure.

Someone, I do not know who, provided Alyssia's statement to another person without the limitations on disclosure. That person promptly posted both the statement, and the name, in MSDAOL.

When the person was taken to task for violating Alyssia's limitations, he promptly requested that the statement be removed. Due to the fact that Alyssia has never given permission for the wide-spread circulaltion that her statement has recieved, Daryl has not allowed it to be posted.

That position is an honorable one.

Yes, Alyssia should have known that someone would eventually leak it. But, it did stay secret for a period of time.

Yes, that statement has been circulated so widely that there may no longer be any reason to keep it secret. Perhaps it is now ethical to publish it due to its wide circulation.

But, people differ on ethical issues. Daryl has taken an ethical stand. That does not mean that BSDA is unethical for doing differently. People differ as to how they apply ethics to life.

He already gave it, Summertime. Daryl committed to keeping her name off of his forum in accordance with her written instructions. And whatever other faults Daryl has, he is a man of his word. If he receives different written instructions, I am sure he will bring it to his forum. (And don't think this is a backhanded slap at Calvin, either. Calvin made no such committment, so he was free to adhere to the request as long as he thought best, and to make a different judgement call when he thought best.)

IMO, it does no one any good to make hindsight comments on what Alyssa should have done back in the year 2000. It is quite obvious that she was not strong enough at that point to even confide fully in enuogh people to form a support base from which she might have been able to press charges. And with her limited financial resources, what would have been the chances of her winning such a case had she done so? With the battalion of lawyers that Danny's supporters could have mustered? Absolutely worse that zero! Certainly had she done so there, she would have merely "taken a beating" and the "perp" would have remained strong.

The Lord's timing is best. Let us concentrate on becoming part of Alyssa's support group rather than adding our criticism to the burden she already has to carry.

And beyond becoming "just" a "support group", I think it would be helpful for us to do some analysis of the factors which cause the sense of powerlessness to resist which all those who grow up in a home where a family member .... especially a father or father figure.... moves beyond appropriate bounds in showing physical "affection". Where are our counselors who are dealing with this almost every day in their work? Can we hear from some of them in this area?

It is hardly conceivable that the allegations that cover the 2000 time period were the first that could have been made. Alyssa is still growing in her capacity to handle the past.... and perhaps even now she does not fully recognize or understand the steps that were taken before that fateful summer that she identifies. Let's keep in mind that we are not judges. Nor are we her counselors. But given those caveates, it is still important for us to learn the dynamics that lead up to situations like this ... not merely to help Alyssa recognize them..... doubtless her counselors are doing that. But for the benefit of mothers who need help in recognizing the signs that their girls are at risk.... and for other women who are still struggling with memories and shame.... discussing the dynamics of these homes can, I think, be of real benefit.

Absolutely worse that zero! Certainly had she done so there, she would have merely "taken a beating" and the "perp" would have remained strong.

The Lord's timing is best. Let us concentrate on becoming part of Alyssa's support group rather than adding our criticism to the burden she already has to carry.

And beyond becoming "just" a "support group", I think it would be helpful for us to do some analysis of the factors which cause the sense of powerlessness to resist which all those who grow up in a home where a family member .... especially a father or father figure.... moves beyond appropriate bounds in showing physical "affection". Where are our counselors who are dealing with this almost every day in their work? Can we hear from some of them in this area?
It is hardly conceivable that the allegations that cover the 2000 time period were the first that could have been made. Alyssa is still growing in her capacity to handle the past.... and perhaps even now she does not fully recognize or understand the steps that were taken before that fateful summer that she identifies. Let's keep in mind that we are not judges. Nor are we her counselors. But given those caveates, it is still important for us to learn the dynamics that lead up to situations like this ... not merely to help Alyssa recognize them..... doubtless her counselors are doing that. But for the benefit of mothers who need help in recognizing the signs that their girls are at risk.... and for other women who are still struggling with memories and shame.... discussing the dynamics of these homes can, I think, be of real benefit.

I understand. My comment regarding her age, was specific to the events she described in her statement.

Yes, there may be more.

QUOTE(watchbird @ Oct 5 2006, 08:58 AM)

He already gave it, Summertime. Daryl committed to keeping her name off of his forum in accordance with her written instructions. And whatever other faults Daryl has, he is a man of his word. If he receives different written instructions, I am sure he will bring it to his forum. (And don't think this is a backhanded slap at Calvin, either. Calvin made no such committment, so he was free to adhere to the request as long as he thought best, and to make a different judgement call when he thought best.)

IMO, it does no one any good to make hindsight comments on what Alyssa should have done back in the year 2000. It is quite obvious that she was not strong enough at that point to even confide fully in enuogh people to form a support base from which she might have been able to press charges. And with her limited financial resources, what would have been the chances of her winning such a case had she done so? With the battalion of lawyers that Danny's supporters could have mustered? Absolutely worse that zero! Certainly had she done so there, she would have merely "taken a beating" and the "perp" would have remained strong.

The Lord's timing is best. Let us concentrate on becoming part of Alyssa's support group rather than adding our criticism to the burden she already has to carry.

had often wondered about Alyssa. How was it for her living in the house with Danny? Now, we know. The ›lace where she should have felt safe was far from safe. She couldn't tell anybody about what Danny was ›oing to her, not even her mother. I applaud her bravery in sharing this information (even if it should have ›een restricted to a small group of people). We must pray for her continued healing and for Linda and ›athan.

f Alyssa were the only one to have experienced inappropriate advances by Danny, it would be more difficult. 3ut if she can secure the cooperation of others, there is some reason to expect success in a lawsuit.

t is true that "brethren" are not to go to law against each other. However, the biblical precedent is clear that, f all the allegations are true, Danny should long ago have been disfellowshipped for his sexual misconduct ınd would therefore no longer be a "brother in the church."

QUOTE(simplysaved @ Oct 4 2006, 09:02 AM) ☐

I agree 100%....no "alleged sexual abuse victim" should ever have to face an alleged perpetrator in this context....that would do nothing but re-traumatize the victim....

Indeed!!!

For 3ABN to even request such a "hearing" is to attempt to intimidate her and thus re-abuse her.

Uncle Sam, it sounds like to must have watched the "behind the scenes" program where Shelly Quinn preached on this very subject. In her sermon she accused the mother of using her daughter to make accusations against God's annointed prophet. She said they did not blame the daughter, that is was a scheme of the mother and the daughter was only a pawn in the game. It was clearly intended to give the spin you are now suggesting. Perhaps that is where you got this notion?

This is exactly what Danny Shelton and Walt Thompson want you to believe: everyone is a pathological liar who testifies of the heinous acts that Danny has done against them. The premise they have built their house of cards upon is that we are gullible enough to believe everyone is wrong who opposes Danny and that Danny's word is unquestionable truth. I would say LOL at this point, because it is such a ridiculous concept, but to the victims it really isn't very funny...

Right on, Sister. Now that we have seen the post regarding Linda's daughter, new comers may wish to review the transcript of the sermons by John Lomacang and Shelley Quinn that I mentioned in a http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=10717&view=findpost&p=150828. I talked to some people who had watched the program who did not know the background. Even they knew that there was something wrong, but I have a hunch that most of them did not catch on to Shelley's introductory story about John the Baptist.

I have read what Shelly and John said on that particular show. I think it was disgusting, but once again we have she said he said. I am sure Danny will deny this...are there others that will come forward?

What if Alyssa is the bearowner? Who around is trying to help? What do I think about the actions so far presented?

If a crime has been done, it should be brought before a judge (and since in US, also a Jury). If a crime has not been done, alot of people in this forum have some explaining to do.

If a crime has been done and you bring it before the church rather than the court of law, watch out for those bear paws flying around.

Thanks.... I think I've "got it" this time around.... and I think I am in total agreement.

There is, no doubt, situations in which "bear paws" are the instrument/tool of choice .... but NOT, I think, for either doing facial surgery or healing wounds to the psyche.

So yes, I agree..... we need to be very careful to "watch out" for anything that looks like "bear claws" and not allow ourselves to be unthinkingly drawn into support of that type of "help".

QUOTE(source @ Oct 3 2006, 11:03 PM)

July 7, 2006
This is a formal statement which is long overdue. I did not disclose this information when the events occurred because I did not want to hurt my mother. I did not want to cause trouble with 3 ABN, and I was too embarrassed to talk about it. Now that some time has passed and circumstances have changed I feel the need to share this information. I want to spare others from being exposed to the same treatment that I have experienced.

1) The repeated inappropriate actions from my ex-stepfather, Danny Shelton, occurred in the summer of the year 2000.

2) I had been away at school for some years. I was happy to be returning home to attend a local University.

3) My mother always went to bed rather early. Her bedroom was upstairs and my bedroom was downstairs. Danny started coming into my room getting into my bed and rubbing my back. He seemed to "accidentally" get too low. I told him I did not want a back rub. He ignored me. This happened repeatedly.

4) I began locking my bedroom door every night. Sometimes he would come to the door and knock again and again. I did not answer. He then repeatedly unlocked my bedroom door and came into my room. He would then get into my bed. I was not comfortable with this but I was so tired I still fell asleep. I awoke sometimes with his hands in inappropriate places. He would say "Oh, I'm sorry. I thought it was your Mom." He told me not to tell my Mom. I told him to stay out of my room. He still came. I started sleep on the living room couch so that he could not lie beside me.

5) I felt threatened and very uncomfortable with these things, so I made arrangements to move out.

Signed,

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Oct 8 2006, 03:02 PM

Yes, it is real, as I have a signed copy, however, I received it on condition that I wouldn't post it on any forum, which I honoured and never did, and until given permission to do so, will not post it over at MSDAOL, or allow it to be posted there by anybody else.

I am still disappointed it has been posted here.

Yes, it is real, I also have a signed copy. It was not for public distribution. It was difficult enough to put it in writing as that means you are not keeping it a secret anymore - there are many emotions that go with stating it on paper - it moves from your mind (the experience itself which you have keep to yourself for obvious reasons) to actually being told, although on paper. When one makes that step, they hope to keep it still somewhat out of the public forum because of just what can happen by just anyones eyes - "it must be to get back at someone" or any of the other reasons people will determine other then accepting it for the plain truth that it is. Unless you have been through it yourself, I suppose you can not understand what it takes to actually "tell" on someone.

whateva Daryl... I don't know why... people want evidence and then refuse to provide it, choosing instead to hint at it, never directly stating what it is.... that gets old....

How do you know permission wasnt given? Additionally as I said before if something is gonna be done, those who can do will either have to tinkle or get off the potty.....

I'm not Daryl, but I do know that permission WAS NOT given.
It is not good to "hint" at things if it comes across as "nanny nanny boo-boo", and if that happened, that is too bad. The sad fact is that those given the letter/statement, and that's all the way to the top, knew that it was not for public distribution, and apparently did it anyway.

Yes, it is real. After it went out to the first wave of highly placed GC administrators and other key figures.... some of them became very proactive in sending it on to others in the permitted classifications of recipients and distribution methods.... so it has indeed had a wide distribution. However, whether or not that fact makes it technically in "the public domain", it is still a fact of equal or greater importance that it was a breach of Christian courtesy and committment to a hurting woman for someone to expose her to a wider audience than what she had stipulated as being the extent of her willingness to be so exposed.

But.... is this not the inevitable result, as Clay indicated, of the clammoring of those who will not accept a narrative account of anything but insist instead on "documented proof" from the abused person's own lips.... and then when even that is given, will not be satisfied with the word of others that they have seen the document, but insist on reading every bloodstained word themselves?

Doesn't scripture specify that the statement of a witness.... when confirmed by two or three others.... is sufficient evidence? Why is that not sufficient for readers of these forums? I have no idea who the person is who posted the document here.... but I am quite sure that had there not been the continual hue and cry for "Documentation.... documentation.... and more documentation!" that the person who posted this would not have so unthinkingly .... and unkindly..... exposed this dear bleeding sister in ways that she had expressly requested that she not be exposed.

'o me it's not a matter of getting over it. I have accepted it being here. I am dissapointed that permission vas not given for it to be here and it was posted here anyway. That is the part that dissapoints me. It really ıas nothing to do with whether it is here or not. I am specifically referring to someones request (Alyssa), ıaive though it could be called, it was still what she asked. Why was that not respected? Does it matter what he "rest" of the people do? That is my only issue. The argument that others have been discussed does not fly vith me because these are different circumstances. Someone was violated, they put it in writing to a select ;roup for specific reasons, and specifically asked it not be put in other places (such as a forum or on the nternet). I felt from the beginning that it would not remain that way, that someone would go against her vishes and "share" it with someone. I was just hoping we would follow her request here. If we could have re-ısked her about it now, given some time has passed since she released it, maybe she would (or maybe not) ıave agreed. But, I have not been told she was asked. So Calvin, while I appreciate all you do here, I would ıave liked to see it handled differently - it may be good thinkg in theory that it is out there, but to me, it vasn't my call to make even though I have had the letter myself since she first wrote it.

Calvin, I already said I was "over it" and was moving on to whatever discussion was best now. My current response was not a further comment on what you had done, but as response to a question that was asked, and on what I believe is the thing that must have driven the person who asked you for permission to put it on. And my "pet peeve" in this is, as I said, the never satisfied cries for "documentation" (which, IMO, btw, are not nearly so prevelant and stonewalling here on BSDA as they are on Maritime) who call every bit of information "gossip" and even if documentation is provided it is only called "he says.... she says".

But again, I repeat.... I have accepted that you gave permission, that the thread is here to stay, and now that it is here that it will be discussed. What I am looking for is what to say in that discussion which will be the best for all concerned.

Since the letter is out I'll just comment on the way things are at the moment.

Let me put the "cynic hat" on for just a moment.

Being increasingly cynical, I believe that giving the letter to General Conference personnel was the equivalent to putting the letter in a paper shredder.

I really don't see the GC making the any momentous decisions in October if they've already been sitting on the letter for two months. They're completely done with the letter and they'll soon be out buying their Christmas presents.

The option of approved distribution routes may have been a good decision at the time, but it may have failed following a certain "3ABN sponsor's" visit to the General Conference. We're told such a person was at the GC, and I doubt he left the building without getting his way.

As a result of the sponsor running interference, this is the only place any decision makers (constituents and donors) are ever going to see the letter. And, maybe, that's the best we can do for now. I have to believe that there is some reason for it being here since I believe a Higher Power is ultimately in control.

Cynic hat is now back off.

Posted by: Fran Oct 9 2006, 12:07 AM

I have been thinking about what has transpired and believe there is so much more that we can't see that this letter was meant to be posted. It has started the ball rolling, so to speak.

Much of the garbage is coming out for the public to see. This letter has further affected the donations to 3ABN. This seriously needs to be done. If this goes to court, all evidence has to be brought up in discovery anyway.

Many knew of this years ago and could do nothing about it. Before this was all said and done, the story was going to get out. There are other involved, but have not had their letters published. In time they will be. We will have confirmation of the Shelton family's characteristics. They are not Christ like.

Since some accusations go way back, I assume the power of God was not grasped by them to allow God to deliver them from these habits of sin. It was their choice. Even at this late date, they still deny the facts presented.

But, think about it realistically and holistically. What is still under the rug? Much good is coming out of this investigation. There will be things come out that will put me/us to shame. Things that have nothing to do with this letter.

There are so many facets to the mess at 3ABN. Each one must be treated individually and not all as one. Problems of one kind must be addresses with problems of the same kind. Linda's daughter does not stand alone by any means.

Allysa, Hold your head high, honey. These actions you mention are wrong. Now that it is said, you are free from him. He can no longer have a hold on you again. Sometimes it helps to call this Danny person by a different name. Maybe Daniel. That really helps, believe it or not. When you speak of him, say the new name. It helps forgiveness to flow easier and you can experience a true release. Nothing will ever change these facts, they do fade, but the memories of your feelings and maybe even rage will be right there every time you hear of, or see abuse in any form.

Now, think about this "case". It does not begin or end with sexual abuse.

There are "serious" financial problems. These must be handled alone.

Employee problems are another mess.

Then we see they are breaking the very constitution of our country. The Declaration of Independence gives each person the right to the pursuit of happiness. 3ABN has not done this. They have interfered with many individuals right to pursue their happiness.

Many of the abused have no idea they have been abused. This is one I cry about. Many individuals will find they have had their right to the pursuit of happiness circumvented. When we hear, I/we will be hurt again, and so will they.

Then there are the outside problems. Who allowed this mess to happen? Who would be considered a shareholders of 3ABN? Who closed their eyes to the wrong doing and turned their backs to allow it to continue? This takes this case away from 3ABN and into the laps of others, and maybe even certain individuals, and other independent ministries.

The Thompsonville church is about to feel some REAL pain. So will the IL Conference, Union. NAD and GC.

From this letter, the line branches out and up like a genealogical tree. We may have to change the name of these threads to, "Ready, or not, here I come!"

Think about it. This is no longer just a Danny problem. The house of God needs to be cleaned up before Jesus comes. Something must be done to STOP this from happening again. May God help us as we watch this explode.

Amen to this also.... except for the choice of name.... not Daniel.... that name is an honorable one in scripture and one that magnifies the name of God (EL).... Daniel = God is my Judge.

Instead I suggest merely Dan..... Dan = judge. Some interesting things about Dan in scripture....

Genesis 49: 16-18 (Jacob's blessing/prophecy for each of his sons just before his death)
Dan shall judge his people,
As one of the tribes of Israel.

Dan shall be a serpent in the way,
A horned snake in the path,
That bites the horse's heels,
So that his rider falls backward.

For Your salvation I wait, O LORD.

Comparing Joshua 19 with Judges 18, one finds that the tribe of Dan were not content with the land that had been portioned out to them, but (according to at least one Bible Dictionary entry) found this too limited so they spied out another territory and took that by force and changed the name of the city to Dan.

And finally, compare Revelation 7.... where Dan is conspicuous by its absence.

But turning from scripture to the present..... Danny is, of course, an affectionate, diminutive form of either Dan or Daniel.... and here is something I have wondered about..... While all over the world people call him Danny..... in no communication with Linda have I ever heard her call him anything but Dan. So a question for those that knew her well before her ouster from 3abn.... Was this always the case? Did she always call him Dan?..... Or has she (consciously or unconsiously) done what Fran has suggested here and made a difference in the name by which she identifies him?

(Just a question.... I return you now to Fran's excellent analysis of what is and what must come to pass.)

Then we see they are breaking the very constitution of our country. The Declaration of Independence gives each person the right to the pursuit of happiness. 3ABN has not done this. They have interfered with many individuals right to pursue their happiness.

Many of the abused have no idea they have been abused. This is one I cry about. Many individuals will find they have had their right to the pursuit of happiness circumvented. When we hear, I/we will be hurt again, and so will they.

Then there are the outside problems. Who allowed this mess to happen? Who would be considered a shareholders of 3ABN? Who closed their eyes to the wrong doing and turned their backs to allow it to continue? This takes this case away from 3ABN and into the laps of others, and maybe even certain individuals, and other independent ministries.

The Thompsonville church is about to feel some REAL pain. So will the IL Conference, Union. NAD and GC.

From this letter, the line branches out and up like a genealogical tree. We may have to change the name of these threads to, "Ready, or not, here I come!"

Think about it. This is no longer just a Danny problem. The house of God needs to be cleaned up before Jesus comes. Something must be done to STOP this from happening again. May God help us as we watch this explode.

(Just a question.... I return you now to Fran's excellent analysis of what is and what must come to pass.) [/quote]

A few years ago a son of one of our church members molested more than one child in the church school--particularly a girl of grade school age. WHen this came to light, the chaplain of the school knew that according to the law, this crime HAD TO BE REPORTED. The young man is in jail today and will be there for a while. Why was the GC not compelled to report this crime (and certainly it was a crime) to the civil authorities? Is it because the abused was of an older age than a grade school student? They have written proof of it in their hands---I have asked around and I hear that it is against the law for them NOT to report. Any more info along this line?

Re: " . . . this crime HAD TO BE REPORTED."

Local law governs when such crimes have to be reported, and who it is that has to report such crimes. Clergy often fall into an exempt category and may or may not be required to report such. On that basis, I cannot say whether or not it had to be reported.

In this particular case, the Chaplain at the Academy was also a teacher there and was also the father of the last girl who was molested. Would that have made a difference as to whether he had to report it to the athorities?

In many (possibly all) states teachers, by law, are required to report any suspected abuse.

Acording to what we have understood she had reached the "age of condsent" for the state of Illinois. IF she was under the age of consent it would be a "statuatory" crime against a female of against a male "under age". Having reached the age of consent a victim apparently has the "option" of reporting it or not.

Option 1. Report it?
1. Tell mom and try to make her believe it.
2. Tell "someone", Tell whom?
3. Tell the sheriff? A Sheriff in Danny's pocket!
4. Tell the conference office? The one's on Dan's board?
5. Tell the GC? They already have enough of these stories to bury.
6. Threaten Dan that "someone is gonna get told". Her word against his?
7. Victims are scrutinized more than the "perps".
8. Mom will be faced with enormous embarrassment. He'll deny it anyway.
(you add options, too)

Option 2 Don't Report it?
1. Will it continue?
2. Will someone else be next?
3. Maybe the marriage will survive if I'm quiet.
4. I "may" avoid placing my pain in public.
5. I KNOW I am not the first. No one else is reporting either.Why talk?

(Right now I just can't imagine any more either way).

I am still disappointed it has been posted here.

So let me see according to the information that BSdA, CA, MSDOL have found that Danny abused his step son, Divorced his wife because she was getting help for her son and Danny would have had to face the problems that he caused and now is guilty of sexual assult of his ex-wifes daughter.? How could God have used a man like that. these problems probally didn't start yesterday they would have been on going during the whole development of 3ABN. that just does not sound possible. Exactly why is it so hard to understand that things like this happen? People have a side they want you to see and a side they don't. Look at history and tell me if you don't see people like this.
Take John W. Gacy & Jeff Dahmer. Family and neghbors said they were simply wonderful people - that was of course, before bodies were pulled out of their homes.

Not implying that anyone at 3ABN murdered anyone, just an analogy.)

We may not know a persons heart but God does. I have a hard time understanding too, if Danny has been "evil" all along why would God have chosen him? I believe he could have become corrupt overtime but I find it hard to believe he started out this way. I also understand many don't believe Danny was chosen and the miracle stories are made up. If that is true, why do people not speak out while they are enjoying the perks of being with Danny? Why wait until you have a falling out with him? To those of us who are removed from 3 ABN it appears very much like a cult where you have a charismatic leader who is followed by a large group of well meaning, good people. Those who continue to think for themselves are demonized. The rest truly believe they are following God's spokesperson. And they follow, sometimes sacrificing their very lives in the process. I know from reading your posts that many of you believe that Danny has done God's work. I certainly can't judge that. There is good mixed in with so many torn lives. No one but God can untangle that. But we need to teach ourselves to continue thinking for ourselves. We need to teach our children that Christianity doesn't have to be fearful. It is fearful people who are willing to follow one person blindly. No one person has a monopoly on God. I appreciated your reply very much. You really said it quite well. This fear that you mentioned is truely key - and there are many aspects of "fear". It is VITAL that each person think for themselves, and ACT as well, having faith and trust in their Awesome Father in heaven that He will always be with them, and where there is this faith, there is no fear.

Posted by: justme Oct 11 2006, 08:55 PM

I wish I could agree that good things don't come from bad people. But it just hasn't been that way. Many a person who has become famous for doing good, has a side that could be infamous if found out.

The very satellites that carry Christian broadcasting may have been made by companies that abhor Christianity.

The companies that make the broadcast equipment, studio cameras, recorders, processors, antenae, etc. may be run by some of the most heathen persons.

Sky Angel had been a friend of SDA's for many years. Why did 3ABN vanish from that satellite? Of all the rumors that have circulated about the family that now runs Sky Angel not liking Danny's handling of the "mess", the actual bottom line is that, of all the channels that went off the air for a few days, only the top-watched, top-rated program providers were reinstated in the 7 restored channels. Of the three not reinstated in the lineup, 3ABN was the least watched of all the channels on Sky Angel. Even before the "mess" began. 3ABN was already losing market share before the "black out". So after they recovered 7 of the 10 "broken" channels, 3ABN didn't make the "cut".

All who work at 3ABN are there for personal reasons. Some are there to get experience in broadcasting technology and production.

Some want to be working "for the Lord" by making these programs available.

Some are there to feed thrir egos, and be "internationally recognized".

And the list goes on. Only those who can AFFORD to leave financially, reputation-wise, or for personal reasons, can and will leave. BUT will they "TATTLE" on the one who signed the paycheck? remember those who have been blacklisted and blackmailed for leaving or being fired. Who knows what lurks in the personnel files in Danny's office?

All hidden weaknesses, inherited and cultivated, must be brought into submission to God, or they will grow and eventually become overt as we have seen.

Another factor in personality and character display is physiology. Behavior medication and pain relievers often cause unpleasant personality changes. Sometimes a change that is criminal. Many crimes take place under the influence of drugs. Let's assume for example that he has a chronic neck/shoulder/back pain. If he takes certain meds he could lose control of otherwise controllable urges. OR he may NEED medication to control them. BUT there is NO excuse for these behaviors no matter what the underlying cause! Those around him should have counselled him to "knock-it-off"!

The GC has no clout with Danny, otherwise they would have owned 3ABN by now. It's too embarrassing now for the GC even to speak of. Are there other "Danny's" in the GC closets? And what is Danny holding over some heads at the GC?

Posted by: Skyhook Oct 11 2006, 10:10 PM

What justme said about the medication angle is something that is very often overlooked in situations where someone has personality changes, esp with criminal and other innapropriate behaviors.
Pain medications, muscle relaxants, all of the benzodiazapine anti-anxiety medications as well as many of the sleeping meds (not to mention the stimulants that are being prescribed these days for adult attention deficit disorder which has become a kind of fad diagnosis) all can cause personality changes such as irritability, impaired judgment, poor impusle control, diminished inhibitions, grandiosity, poor judgement and episodes of paranoia and rage. The abuse of stimulants can cause episodes of obsessive erotic/sexual behavior that can even be foriegn to the person's usual leanings. I don't know anything about Danny's drug or medical history, but it is an interesting angle.

Drugs were a major factor with Jim Jones. He was on uppers and downers for years, which could help explain a lot of his crazyness.

Very Good!

I am studying Face Profiling. It was written by an FBI Face Profiler, Mac Fulfer. He travels all over the world to help select jury's and does profiling for the FBI. He teaches profiling to Agencies that have a need. He also teaches in Universities. I have been looking at as many pics as I can of Danny and Linda, Myself and others and am really surprised at the accuracy of this science.

This has brought up to me a thought or two. John Q public has heard so long about Danny was God's Chosen! Was he? In my opinion, God used Linda. Every time she was on, she pointed everyone to Jesus.

Linda has placed herself at God's mercy and after all that has been done to her, she still says, "Though they slay me, Lord, I will follow thee!"

I believe God shielded her from the truths about Danny. The Lord knew what would have to happen. The Lord knew she needed to be out of harms way, safe in the arms of God.

God put information out to a chosen few. Knowing they would cry out loud until it was heard far and wide. Now others are joining in so we can see and hear "The Rest of the Story".

Even as this mess unfolds, you can visit Linda's website filled with courage and Godliness. Inspiration to the broken hearted. What a contrast!

Compare Linda's ministry with Danny's mess. Where do we find spiritual food?

There is wonderful programming on the air waves of 3ABN, by they are not produced by 3ABN. God has used the Word of these programs to save souls! Steve Wohlberg, Doug Batchelor, John Carter, ...

I used to watch Shelly Quinn every time she appeared. I don't watch her any longer. There is too much information out there for her not to know. After the story of how Herod gave his wife's daughter the head of John the Baptist, I became convinced she knew. She knew what she was doing. Shame on her.

I will not listen to John Lomacang any longer; no Hal or Mollie; I DO watch 3ABN Today to watch Danny kick himself in the face and marvel the fact that he is totally not with it! His vision of himself is not realistic, He is living a fantasy.

I believe Linda was the one teaching us how to have a relationship with God, the Father, Jesus the son, and the Holy Spirit. Just my opinion. Something to think about.

totally agree too. I have been reading Fran's take on this for quite a while (both here and CA) and she seems to have hit the nail on the head. I know that she has been saying for quite a while to "follow the money" but this is more personal. This is what some of us have been thinking for a long time. God left the house when Linda left. All that is left is for Danny to poorly pick up the pieces and try to hold on to his sinking ship until it totally goes down. We need to continue to pray that only Danny sinks - not 3ABN.

Posted by: Aunt B Oct 12 2006, 03:41 PM

I agree with Fran that God's Spirit is with Linda. That is not to suggest that she is perfect, but that the fruit in her life shows that she is following Him and is willing to be used by Him. The testimony on her web site and that which she used to share on 3ABN show she has a relationship with Jesus. I also agree that God allowed her to be removed from 3ABN for a reason, as hard as it has been for her and for others to understand. As for Danny, what is the fruit of his life? Is it consistent with what he professes?

I appreciate Fran's comments, along with all the rest of you who have kept shedding light on this troubling story. So many of us have no way of knowing how to "research" to find the truth. Please keep your comments coming. I also appreciate BSDA and the willingness to allow access to the story as it plays out.

Fran, I believe in everything you have stated in this post except for one thing. Why are all three of these men whom you have mentioned, Steve Wohlberg, Doug Batchelor and John Carter so quick to sing the praises of 3abn and Danny and expound of Danny's faithfulness whenever they can? I, too, have thought these men to be soulsavers, yet they hold hands with the very person who has done harm to so many people. t occurs to me that we would do well to remember that there is a "SHAKING" coming, ...soon. The children f God are going to be moved to take a stand for God, through Jesus.

ver since the "Adventist Movement" began in the mid 19th century there have been "leaders" who are willing to let Achan's remain in the camp". God requires a purified church to become His Bride. We are told that here will be shaking, not only in the SDA church but in Christiandom at large.

have a sneeking suspicion that the third and fourth generation Adventists will see the end of "compromises" vith God. We need to stop playing "Let's Make A Deal" with God, and get down to scripture and prayer.

lone with God! We are not saved as a 'body' nor as a denomination. We are saved individually. Thoes who ave a working relationship with Jesus as the One to Whom we are "Engaged to Marry", are the ones He is oming back for.

hat's why the call, "Come out of her, my people"! His people are coming out of her, now, but will soon come n the thousands. When the Holy Spirit has a people ready to accept these "baby Christians" without making un of them, without sneering at their jewelry, and other things that one can grow and mature into, as the oly Spirit leads their hearts, THEN and only then will reform come, and the sophistication and headiness will ive unto themselves. But God will have Bride that will proclaim a "primitive gospel" to all the world. "Just the acts, man"!

he shaking will come as a result of the NEW converts who are on fire for God. The rockin'-chair adventists vill be truly taxed to understand this new enthusiasm. Some 'old-timers" will leave our church, others will hout "It's about time! But the Laodiceans will be replaced by the "remnant". A truly thrilling vision to behold!

hose who have been covering their own sins and making excuses for their problems will fall away. Some ave always blamed others for their problems, and who act the role of a victim, will fall away first. They have or so long failed to accept the need for repentance and confession that they have actually driven away the oly Spirit from their lives.

Vithout the Holy Spirit in the life we don't know right from wrong and certainly don't have The Comforter here to tell us how to overcome the sin. When sin in one's life no longer appears to be sin, we have lost our comforter", the Holy Spirit.

Vhen we sin against the Holy Spirit there is no turning back. Only God know when that happens in one's life. hat soul spends it's time looking for people to take advantage of, someone to dominate, someone to abuse, omeone to call his "The Anointed One".

t happened to Pharaoh when he refused to yield to the God of Moses. God hardened Pharaoh's heart. haraoh was told the he was a God. (Christian Science went THAt far back?) Clay hardens when it no longer as any water coming to it. Pharaoh refused to soften his heart, God (as in the Holy Spirit) was told, by haraoh, to stop trying to reach Pharaoh's heart. God withdrew and Pharaoh's son died, Israel walked out of Egypt. When 'the defiant one', Pharaoh, tried to over power God's deliverance of His children, Pharaoh and all his forces drowned.

It is an awesome thing to go against God and His written word, but the ultimate sin is to harden one's heart against The Holy Spirit. And refuse to admit the sin in one's life.

Pray that all God's children will "Stand up, stand up for Jesus, you soldiers of the cross.."

Everybody sing it, ... ever wonder why they don't sing this one anymore?

I don't think it was just a case of enjoying the perks of being with Danny that prevented anyone from speaking out. It was just a case of no one checking things out. In any large company it is normal for rumors to be floating around. Employees trust that their boss knows what he is doing and are usually more concerned about their own problems than they are with some rumor. But when something major goes wrong, then people start asking questions. It is easy afterwards to look back and see that things were wrong for a long time. Foresight is not so clear.

Look at the tough time that Barbara Kerr had. Even if she was working closely with both Danny and Linda, she was confused. Things weren't as clear then as they seem now. Thank you so much for speaking out. I am so proud of you.

I wish I could chat with Linda's daughter and tell her how proud I am of her for writing that statement. Probably that was the most difficult thing that she ever did, and took real courage. A person who is being treated the way Linda's daughter was treated usually has questions. "What's wrong with me ? What did I do wrong? Did I act inappropriately for him to do what he did? Is it my fault? I am sure I am the only one...." (An abused person looks inward and often is not able to see the true dynamics of the situation.)

I hope each of us can be here to give support for the people who are having a rough time right now. When we are in the middle of a mess like some of the readers have been, it is difficult to believe that there are good people -- people who really care. Right now so many people need a transfusion of hope.

This makes me feel bad that others have expressed how much admiration they feel for Linda's daughter also yet I have not said anything. Probably for each person that speaks up and says they appreciate her boldness, there are many who feel great that she has taken back the power in this situation. I would say to her, "You go girl! Look at the tough time that Barbara Kerr had. Even if she was working closely with both Danny and Linda, she was confused. Things weren't as clear then as they seem now. Thank you so much for speaking out. I am so proud of you.

I wish I could chat with Linda's daughter and tell her how proud I am of her for writing that statement. Probably that was the most difficult thing that she ever did, and took real courage. A person who is being treated the way Linda's daughter was treated usually has questions. "What's wrong with me ? What did I do wrong? Did I act inappropriately for him to do what he did? Is it my fault? I am sure I am the only one...." (An abused person looks inward and often is not able to see the true dynamics of the situation.)

I hope each of us can be here to give support for the people who are having a rough time right now. When we are in the middle of a mess like some of the readers have been, it is difficult to believe that there are good people -- people who really care. Right now so many people need a transfusion of hope.

This is all so true, and more of us need to communicate our support. Johann, please tell Linda and Alyssa here is a lot of love out here for them.

Someone I feel has been left out of this equation and needs to be considered is Dan's current wife's daughter (or children?). I know she has at least one young school-aged daughter. We can only hope and pray that she will escape the horror of a grown man who is supposed to play the role of father, protector, comforter and, most importantly, an image of God for her, coming into her bedroom in the middle of the night. I think of her often, as I happened to glimpse her at the spring 3ABN campmeeting (and before I knew ALL of the details I now know). A very pretty young girl. I hope Brandy's eyes will not be so filled with stars and wool that she will not see the signs. Please, please join me in praying for them.

Lord God, we know you are a Friend foremost of children and we know that this child is Yours. You love and value her infinitely. Lord, we pray that You will place a hedge of protection about her, so that no attempt to hurt her may prevail. Surround her always with warrior angels whose fiery swords will stay the enemy, yea wound him for trying. We pray that his every attempt will be met with personal suffering for himself, not just inconvenience or frustration. Father, be with this mother, who cannot have truly known what kind of man she was bringing into her daughter's life and her own. Help her be ever vigilant and watchful, taking special care to warn her daughter against men who would take advantage of her. Help her to be a praying mother. Remind her of her responsibility to her child(ren) first and foremost. Finally, Father, if the unspeakable has already happened, grant wisdom and courage to these hearts, determination, too. Help them stand up, get out, speak out. Thank you for granting us a portion of Your power. Help us to use it wisely. Thank you for hearing and answering our prayers. In Jesus' name we pray, Amen.

Remember how they trumped up false accusations against Christ in hopes of sending Him to the cross?

The innocent Son of God allowed this to happen to Him for a reason.

God is obviously allowing this to happen to Linda and to others for a reason, however, Christ rose victoriously from the dead, and He will return victoriously to the sinful planet to redeem His saints.

I also believe that good will come out of this as it did with Joseph. After he was falsely accused and sent to prison for several years, Joseph was later released from prison and was second to the Pharoah himself.

So hang in there everybody, just as Joseph hung in there.

Thank you, Shannon, for such a specific prayer for these little girls. It is also my prayer and I could not have put it more beautifully than you did.

QUOTE(inga @ Oct 5 2006, 10:36 AM)

It is true that "brethren" are not to go to law against each other. However, the biblical precedent is clear that, if all the allegations are true, Danny should long ago have been disfellowshipped for his sexual misconduct and would therefore no longer be a "brother in the church."
Indeed!!!

For 3ABN to even request such a "hearing" is to attempt to intimidate her and thus re-abuse her.

Is there a direct correlation between going to law in a dispute and going to the authorities in a criminal case? The case in Corinth appears to be more of a civil law suit. They were taking matters to judges to decide when the church had authority to rule in such trivial cases.

God established the authorities to punish the wrongdoer, according to Romans 13, and the text already cited in Peter's epistle. We are not to take vengeance and are to leave it to God's justice. But the role of the goverment is to "bear the sword."

If someone is criminally abusing people (which can be established in court if so), then they need to be prosecuted in my view.

Once the criminal courts have found them guilty it is pretty easy for the local church to make a case for disfellowshipping.

At the same time the pastor and church do play a role. They play a pastoral role to all involved. And they may try to avoid a protracted case by seeing whether the person really is guilty and asking them to come forward if they are.

But to me God establishes the governing authorities for a reason, and there is no conflict in taking criminal matters to the government.

We leave final judgment to God. We forgive for the hurts caused to us. But we also recognize the penalties for sin in this life, and that people need protection from those who do harm. Therefore the government has a legitimate role in punishing the wrong doer.

The original purpose of Paul's letter was to encourage submission to the goverment. However, it clearly outlines its role as structured by God.

Posted by: tall73 Oct 19 2006, 01:17 PM

[color=#3366FF]1Co 6:1 When one of you has a grievance against another, does he dare go to law before the unrighteous instead of the saints?
1Co 6:2 Or do you not know that the saints will judge the world? And if the world is to be judged by you, are you incompetent to try trivial cases?
1Co 6:3 Do you not know that we are to judge angels? How much more, then, matters pertaining to this life!
1Co 6:4 So if you have such cases, why do you lay them before those who have no standing in the church?
1Co 6:5 I say this to your shame. Can it be that there is no one among you wise enough to settle a dispute between the brothers, 1Co 6:6 but brother goes to law against brother, and that before unbelievers?
1Co 6:7 To have lawsuits at all with one another is already a defeat for you. Why not rather suffer wrong? Why not rather be defrauded?
1Co 6:8 But you yourselves wrong and defraud--even your own brothers!

It appears that the issues in Corinth were primarily financial "defraudment" or disputes over money. That is a little different than sexual crimes, etc.

The church could settle a dispute and have restitution made. But they did not have authority to put to death, which was the work of the government.

Yes, Barbara did have a very hard time trying to figure out what Danny was all about initially - but soon his 'real colors' became apparant. I had personal experience with this man also and finally, wrote him a letter asking him if anything he ever said was, in fact, the truth, because I knew personally, everything he said about Barbara was nothing but lies. He never responded to my email to him.

I am glad that with the investigation nearing its completion, the truth will come out and it can't come too soon for this person. Danny has done alot of damage and hurt alot of people and it is time that he be held accountable to all. THAT is Biblical. Restitution is Biblical, and oh, how he needs to make restitution....I am counting the days, hours and minutes!!

Remember to pray for those that may stand in place to hear the "truths", that they will do the right thing. I personally (and honestly) do not have faith in them, that is my issue (pray for me too), but the most important thing to me is that God knows the truth, and that man will fail us time and time again, in the most dispicable ways even, so please pray that God's will be done and that justice can happen now too, not just when Jesus returns.

Wow! my memory isen't as bad as I thought it was. I thought that was what one of the Admin stated in another post. I just don't remember where I saw it.

I can't believe I hadn't read this thread before, though I'd seen allusions to the information.

I'm ashamed to be an employee of this denomination. I can understand them not making this stuff public, for their own sake and Alyssa's -- but in God's name why hasn't the denomination publicly disassociated itself from 3ABN? Even if this were the only issue it would be enough.

'his is what a lot of us have been saying for nearly three years now. The answer is extremely complex. Keep oaming the forum... you will doubtless find other threads that may surprise you and that you can bump to he top. You may even find a few that are locked so that you can't bump them to the top. In that case all you an do is to give the url of either the thread or some particular post in the thread to which you wish to draw ur attention.

'm not sure if this thread drew attention to the "through locked doors" vingette that was posted... I believe in ne of the "history" threads. But if you can find it... that throws some interesting light on this particular topic.

'hank you for bringing this one to the top. And please know that it did indeed have some effect on many in high places" even though not the complete effect that we would like to have seen. Still, as with other things n this saga, we have learned that each delay brings new revelations... thus in retrospect we can see God's and holding back the final acts of the drama until all has been sufficiently revealed.

f you noticed the dates... the Statement which began this thread was dated July 7, 2006, yet the thread was ot begun until October 4, 2006. The reason for this time lag is partially explained in post #9, where I gave a it of the history of this document before it ever reached the BSDA forum.

n this post I referenced another thread that I had begun on August 13, 2006, ttp://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=10422&view=findpost&p=144786 which was the wo hour special, "The Battle Is The Lord's", starring Danny Shelton , John Lomacang, Mollie Steinson, Moses rimo, Shelley Quin, and Walter Thompson. This was the program in which they attempted to do "damage ontrol" in regard to the Statement by Alyssa.

'ou may wish to bump that one to the top also.

Maybe DS has somewhat of a split personality, meaning he is able to cloak on a garb of spirituality that seems so genuine irrespective of the fact that he has major personality faults.

against my better judgement i watched it...
thought i was going to be sick...
but made it through...

i think i'm going to go behind the couch until the drama begins.

Posted by: Hersheys99 Aug 13 2006, 07:06 PM

Well IMO it was nothing more than Damage Control. I think its coming at them from all sides & they have to do what they can to get the spotlight off of Danny so lets lay it on those that are Persecuting him!

Posted by: sonshineonme Aug 13 2006, 07:42 PM

I watched a lot of it - till I got a long distance phone call, but read the "transcript" and learned a great deal. 1st of all, NOTHING is Danny's fault. It's the "persecutors" fault - all of it. This is all about the poor tragedy of poor Danny - the "chosen" one (their words) and if you don't believe and honor the "chosen one" then adversity will come upon you (upon WHO?).

I learned that even if Brandi writes something out on paper, she is still not aloud to read it aloud - it has to be read for her. I'm sorry to say, if she writes something out that is supposedly meaningful, then she should be encouraged to read it to everyone, otherwise she gives the appearance of a frightened child, and she is on stage after all - and that is another question....WHY is she there. If she is not comfortable being out in the eye of all, then why is she? Does she not have a choice? I get very tired of Danny using her as a....a....well, I can't put my finger on it exactly - it just isn't right, whatever it is. Something is very wrong here.

I learned that when you bring out all the big guns to do the fighting for "the chosen" one, the "chosen one" is really the puppeteer pulling strings in front of the world to see. Each one had their own subtlety to add - and some not so subtle. And of course, if you bring out all the "important" people, that is to say indirectly that this is IMPORTANT. Well, duh, you got that right. It's called MILK IT MILK IT MILK IT till you get it into the heads of all the people that you have fooled for so long that "it's all lies - see, how the devil works"....I could continue, but honestly, it makes me sick. And then there is Dr. Thompson, who said nothing more then "yes, ahem, I do what you need" or something to that affect (and that is NO lie) - keeping busy doing what needs to be done - after they discussed how far he came to sit there the whole time - from WI to IL. Whew, long drive! Bless his soul. bo

Alright, this is bringing the carnal nature out in me, and I will tuck it back in now, I have already felt sick enough to share a bucket with all my friends today that felt the same as we "endured" heresy going on in front of us.

I honestly pray that this situation, that is being played out before more then just the SDA church, but all angles in heaven and earth, and other worlds I might add, "stage 3" (abn) is going on and all are wondering, how will God's people respond? What will people learn (finally). What will God use out of all this to really save people, bring them to Him (God that is) and teach us? The Lord wastes nothing. He is saddened I am sure - by the whole darn mess (pardon my kosher cursing). But, like Calvin says, and so many times I could use this when it comes to 3abn/Danny Shelton - "It's all been said before". There are countless stories (examples) in the bible that make 3abn look like a re-run (and I am not talking about the 3abn live today show that is going to replay and replay to make sure the brainwashing gets in deep). If we know our bibles, we can spot the evil around us - those stories are lessons for now and time to come. Lets hope that God saves us all through this mess, and that His will is done.

p.s. I am sure glad I have bsda in my life now. (although my husband thinks I am addicted...hmm, maybe so. There are healthy addictions, right?? RIGHT???)

You'll notice my smiley after I said that? There were several of us watching this together, and for the section I missed while on the phone, I was able to go back through what the people I was watching this with said was being said. Make sense? That was the transcript that I was referring to. I did save that 20 page record of what was said among all of us watching, but I don't think I would consider that the type of transcript you are talking of. Now, if someone was able to tape this program, it would be better to watch it as there is nothing like first hand expirience.

p.s. my guess is it will be on again....

i'm upset that i missed the part about him taking a "vacation" "absence" whatever it was that was said

Posted by: princessdi Aug 13 2006, 09:48 PM

It was slid in there at the very beginning of the second hour. Not really represented like a vacation, but something akin to the "self imposed" leave that Jimmy Swaggart took to reconsecrate and get in touch with what God wants for he and Brandy. He didn't really push it as a vacation, even though he called it that at least once. I think they really wanted people to think of them as vicitms who could not even minister in peace, and had to get away to escape all of these attacks. Maybe even with a little martydom thrown in for distances himself from 3ABN so they will no longer be under attack because of him.

I don't watch it either, only online today as there was a group of us that wanted to hear this for ourselves. That being said, I missed the time frame - my understanding was 3 monthes, but someone else can confirm this Actually what Danny said was, "a few weeks, a month or two". I took that to mean the time is yet un specified. Vacations you plan for, make arrangements, etc.

That's a good observation, PrincessDi.

Some originally reported "three months."

Can anyone verify that the words "three months" were actually said in the original broadcast? (It's possible that today's version was altered.)

I watched a tidbit, saw John L.'s sermon if you want to call it that.... IMO John L has become nothing more than a pulpit prostitute and Mr. Shelton would be his ummmmm manager (read pimp). While I am no prophet, I believe they have stopped doing the Lord's work some time ago.... btjm

QUOTE(summertime @ Aug 14 2006, 07:49 AM)

Are we talking about the 'John the Baptist' tidbit and sermon or was there more that could be posted here for those of us who missed it?

Vell, John the Baptist was the main part of the sermon. What I meant by "tidbit" was the little speech she nade when she talked about the "prayer cards".

laving been involved with what Adventists called the "Spiritual Warfare and Deliverance Ministry" at one ime, and having researched that down to the aberrant doctrinal underpinnings, I am very sensitized to the alse teachings on prayer that have entered our church from the Pentecostals, with Roger Morneau being one ›f the doorways through which it entered. So the fact that they were using his book as the giveaway book of he evening was red flag enough to me, but then when Shelly started talking about the importance of what ;he called "Intercessory Prayer" ... I started taking notes.

\nd sure enough, there was the link to the concept of us "being like Christ in this world" ... including his nediatorial role, which she more than merely alluded to, as she was explaining her initial statement that "our ;reatest calling is to Intercessory Prayer." And after speaking of Jesus role of a mediator who was "praying or us", she went on to describe in characteristic Pentecostal terms, how God has "put self-imposed handcuffs ›n himself" so that he does not act except in answer to our prayers, and that "Intercessory Prayer is the 'key' hat unlocks these handcuffs". (Phrases in quotes above are direct quotes as I wrote them down in my ıotes.)

;he went on to speak of how when we commune with God, we become one with God ... and given the things hat have been said by various ones in this 3ABN Pentecostal group, as well as the immediate context, which unfortunately didn't get written out, this had the distinct impression of going well beyond the becoming one with God in our motives, actions, etc. and giving a mystical "oneness" that smacks of some of the old gnostic teachings (and is prevelant in some Christian circles even today).

With Shelly being the "heir apparent" to the throne ... at least so far as preachers are concerned ... this seems to me of vital importance to those who are considering who should stay and who should go .... if we ever do get to the "housecleaning" stage. This is why, if anyone has a sound recording and can make a written transcription, I would appreciate it greatly.

This was posted on the maritime forumin two different posts:
Repeatedly throughout the two hours of 3ABN Today Live, the idea was expressed that we do not need to respond to lies and accusations that people hurl against us. The battle is the Lord's, and we should let Him take care of it.

And yet Shelley had these words to say in the second hour:

Quote:

"As a faithful witness for God, he spoke out against a couple who had entered into a sinful relationship. Now the woman entangled in this situation became offended. She was embittered, and she felt scorned. And you know, there's something about her, that she was unconcerned about her relationship in the eyes of the Lord. Her worry revolved more around the possibility of losing her prominent position. So what did she do? She devised a plan to eliminate this one who had exposed her, and she enlisted the help of her young daughter. Now prompted by her mother, this daughter became entangled in the web of deceit, and she set out to set her mother's position and save it by destroying this man of God. What we see here is that the scheme was to go forward and go straight for the throat and have his head served up on a platter. Does this story sound familiar to you? To whom am I referring? John the Baptist, of course. ..."

"Now her mother's using her as a pawn. ..."

"Now how could such a holy, Spirit-filled man, who was hand-picked by God, and called to such an important ministry, fall victim to such vile persecution? Why would God allow it?" (Shelley Quinn on 3ABN Today Live, 2nd hour, replayed at 4pm CDT, Sunday, August 13, 2006)

What was she really getting at?

So it is quite clear that John's sermon about Moses was all about Danny, since he indicated as such. Thus, we would be overly naive if we didn't also conclude that Shelley's sermon was also about Danny.

That being so, one would naturally conclude that the couple involved in the sinful relationship was Linda Shelton and the Norwegian doctor, and that Danny was the one who condemned that relationship.

Thus we have here Linda being offended because her important position at 3ABN was threatened, and she has been embittered instead of being concerned about her relationship with the Lord.

And now Linda's daughter is involved in the web of deceit as both Linda and she go straight for Danny's throat.

Am I reading too much into it?

That is not exactly what I said....or at least it wasn't what I meant to say. What I meant was that I since I knew the kinds of things that Morneau wrote about prayer .... and knew that there were many of them with which I disagreed .... then the fact that they were giving away that book indicated to me (waved a red flag) as to what kinds of things they believed about prayer.

But to discuss all of those would take a lot more time than I have available at the moment. Probably the best I can do for now is to point you to the pages on the SDAnet/At Issue website, one on the topic of http://sdanet.org/atissue/prayer/index.htm and the other on the topic called http://sdanet.org/atissue/prayer/index.htm, which presents some material, including a couple book recommendations, on the related topics of prayer, the casting out of demons, and the differences between these beliefs and practices as presented in scripture and as held by some Pentecostals.... including some Adventists.

Since the Pentecostal version of all of these concepts, and more, seem to be held in by those directing 3ABN, reading these materials would be good background for understanding some of the sometimes mystifying things we are hearing coming from 3ABN persons ... both Adventist and non-Adventist.

AS I recall, in the Old Teasament there once was a man of God (Samuel?) who had a problem he couldn't solve, so he listened to "Soothe-Sayer", or "Supernatural Resource" , a.k.a. "witch". To whom does "this chosen one" listen most for his advice, his praises, his ego needs, .. is it MS, or SQ, or ... who fits the description of the one who gives "The Chosen One" his "supernatural" marching orders?

As Re' was say, You "dead on pernt". See how the story has bee twisted ever so slightly in that the actual Herodias wanted John the Baptist dead. Also, there was never any deciet, John told the truth and Herodias wanted him dead for it. Salome did not deceive Herod. Her and her mother merely took advantage of an opportunity. Herod was busy lusting after his step-daughter and asked the girl to dance(maybe this portion of the story instead more closely follows current events, Shelly may have been concentrating on the wrong part of the story) Offering her up to half of his kingdom. Anyway, You got it!!! 1,000 pts for you Lurker!!! Ooops!!! wrong thread!!!!

That IS a possibility Calvin, except for the fact that it just so happens that last week the command was given to "get the mess straightened out down there" or it will be done by someone else (I won't give names). So, I know this has every thing to do with that. It is my gut belief that this is part of their strategy to "fix" the mess they are in. I just hope that all parties that should now be involved ARE getting in and getting it taken care of.

Yeah I would say that, also, Calvin, but then the story about Herodias and Salome make no sense, and JL's sermon about the ungrateful COI giving Moses a hard time. Also, he really could have just said, "You know when Brandy and I got married, it wasn't a good time for a decent honeymoon or time alone, so we are taking it now",a nd people would have really understood that. There were too many qualifiers, and he didn't phrase it like a vacation. Like I said it was phrased something akin to Jimmy Swaggart self imposed censure. Spending the time listening to the Lord, etc.

You maybe right, but with their forces gathered, and the sermon's to bolster a discouraged Danny, I think for those to which they meant, clear messages were sent. Men are not usualy sensitive to subtlities of this sort. Just as an example: My Mom had a foster daughter, we will call Jane. Jane had a falling out one day with one of other girl cousins in the family, we will call Sally. Now what Jane did to get get back at Sally, was to start talking to the other kids about something that was happeneing in our family the next day, but that sally would not be able to attend. As Jane talked she also lead the kids out of the room they were in, into the hallway area. Now she continued this with several topics in which Sally could not take part. The results, Sally came into the living and told ther aunt that Jane and the other kids didn't like her, which was Jane's planned message for Sally. Sally got Jane's message loud and clear, but to the other kids, they were just talking about all the fun they were going to have and they never even noticed Sally was left out.

Sometimes, it is only meant to look like a cigar to those who were not meant to get the message. There are plenty here for whom that message was meant. Kind of a passive-aggressive thing. The offender appears competely innocent, while dropping emotional bombs the size of Hiroshima.

If they wanted to try to compare Danny to someone, they should have used Joseph the husband of Mary...

Remember this (emphasis mine):

> Mat 1:18-20 The birth of Jesus Christ took place in this way. His mother Mary had been promised to Joseph in marriage. But before they were married, Mary realized that she was pregnant by the Holy Spirit. (19) Her husband Joseph was an honorable man and did not want to disgrace her publicly. So he decided to break the marriage agreement with her secretly. (20) Joseph had this in mind when an angel of the Lord appeared to him in a dream. The angel said to him, "Joseph, descendant of David, don't be afraid to take Mary as your wife. She is pregnant by the Holy Spirit.

Joseph being an honorable man, had JUST cause to call off the marriage because she was pregnant, but he did NOT want to EMBARRASS her so he was going to do it secretly..... while contemplating how he was going to do that, the angel appeared to him in a dream....

Now compare that with what Mr. Shelton did.... While John L is comparing him to Moses, its clear that he cannot even be compared with Joseph, the husband of Mary, earthly father of Jesus... an honorable man..... nuff said....

Apparently Brandy came from the State of Florida---was her older child there with her father, and could Brandy have been visiting her parents?. We do not hear mnuch about Brandy's parents. I assume she has a Mother and Father and if they went to Florida maybe they went to visit her family. Also, does the youngest girl have a father who might live in Florida. I assume if she does have a father there she would want to visit him on occasion.

Posted by: msraccoon Aug 15 2006, 04:17 PM

Well, I watched this 2 hour whatever Sunday, and it was hard to do.

My history of 3ABN is that I viewed it for years on SkyAngel. I used to TAPE it so I could fast forward thru Danny's incessant, pompous babbling. I always hoped that Linda could shut him up and keep him from hogging the conversation with guests like Doug Batchelor.

Needless to say, I gave up and quit watching long before Linda was booted out. My 6th sense told me something was very wrong with Danny. I had a neighbor come in and notice Danny on TV once. She told me he was crazy and why was I watching.

So this was the first time I have seen Brandi the wallflower. Yes, what is she doing on the set? She is no Linda. I could hardly take her presence, little as it was.

Dr Thompson, so hesitant in his speech, still comes across as Danny's puppet.
Mollie's segment put me to sleep (really).

I have much more on my mind but enough for now.

My history of 3ABN is that I viewed it for years on SkyAngel. I used to TAPE it so I could fast forward thru Danny's incessant, pompous babbling. I always hoped that Linda could shut him up and keep him from hogging the conversation with guests like Doug Batchelor.
Needless to say, I gave up and quit watching long before Linda was booted out. My 6th sense told me something was very wrong with Danny. I had a neighbor come in and notice Danny on TV once. She told me he was crazy and why was I watching.

feel your pain and suffering...what you stated here has always been my feeling too. I am in recovery now as have discovered I have not been the only one....makes me wonder just how many of us there are that have ılways felt this way....when I told Linda this is how I felt, I felt a bit bad inside, two reasons - not a nice thing o hear about your husband, and the other reason was maybe it was ME? I think not. Actually, I know not. Somes gots it, somes don't.

People, let's not complaimn too much. We have all reason to rejoice!

Today I talked to an editor I sold a dish to so that he could watch 3ABN - about 3 years ago. He told me how much he'd appreciated the programs then, until Linda disappeared.

Now 3ABN is not worth the time it takes to watch it, he told me, except for a few of the music programs which my wife enjoys. But I am so happy I can get HOPE with the same equipent.

So let's not despair, but rather turn to HOPE! Let everybody know there is HOPE. Therefore we no longer need 3ABN!

Posted by: Lucyladye Aug 16 2006, 05:40 PM

I do not have access to HOPE TV or 3ABN except through Internet...and am thankful I have the choice of HOPE. Some of these people who side with Danny don't know half of what they think they know if they are continuously surprised at what they are learning.

could not agree with your post more. First, NO ONE shuts Danny up. He just is a talking machine, and that s so frustrating, particularly when there is a much more powerful Christian witness there like Doug Batchelor vho could be doing the talking.

Vhat frustrated me probably more than anything were the campmeetings when you had all these outstanding Speakers and Singers available, but then Danny would give the sermon, and his family would do most of the inging. What's with that?

If they wanted to try to compare Danny to someone, they should have used Joseph the husband of Mary...

Remember this (emphasis mine):
Joseph being an honorable man, had JUST cause to call off the marriage because she was pregnant, but he did NOT want to EMBARRASS her so he was going to do it secretly..... while contemplating how he was going to do that, the angel appeared to him in a dream....

Now compare that with what Mr. Shelton did.... While John L is comparing him to Moses, its clear that he cannot even be compared with Joseph, the husband of Mary, earthly father of Jesus... an honorable man..... nuff said....

reminded the administration of 3ABN of the story of Joseph and appealed to them to treat Linda that way oo - right at the beginning. They would not listen, because it seemed like they were forced to follow an igenda - to get rid of Linda at all costs.

According to a satellite system installer. Sky Angel doesn't miss 3ABN in their lineup. According to the satellite dish installer, "When the founder of Sky Angel, Robert, passed away recently, his children took over the administration of the satellite ministry.. Robert's daughter got 'fed up" with Danny Shelton and his attitudes and "pulled the plug" on 3ABN because it no longer fit their requirements as a Christian Satellite Television Ministry."

Apparently there have been so many questions about Sky Angel that the installers have been on the phone with technical assistance people at Sky Angel to solve technical problems. Of the 10 or so channels that "went down" on the Sky Angel satellite, only two or three could not be "restored", one of them being 3ABN.

Whether 3ABN was gone forever from Sky Angel because of technical; problems or because of Danny Shelton's attitudes is of lesser concern. But it should be of enormous interest to 3ABN that the very satellite system and re-broadcaster that put 3ABN onto the world scene in the very first place, has been taken away from them. 3ABN should consider these circumstances in light of the actions taken by the administrative staff at 3ABN. A good, l o n g look!

Remember that Sky Angel partnered with DISH Network to use the DISH Network satellite receivers and technical support from DISH to make it all happen. Now, of all things, Danny has the nerve to ask us to pressure DISH Network to let 3ABN into the regular DISH Network Programming Lineup. I spoke with Art Sahl about Danny's proposal. Art was very "kind" in his response when he said that DISH is in "negations" with Sky Angel about the situation. He did not say that it would depend upon the viewer's requests. 3ABN has been made Sky Angel look bad, so why would DISH want to carry 3ABN when the viewer ship is dropping off, anyway. Why would DISH want 3ABN programming that may eventually cause viewers to drop the premium DISH channels?

Now it is time for 3ABN to look at Danny and his "advisors", who helped him get into this mess. See if they want more of the same.

Few things have disappointed me as much of the years as seeing what 3ABN has done to itself. It is heartbreaking to see the seeds they have been sowing. Now it's time for the harvest, a very bitter harvest indeed.

While the latter posts in this thread veered somewhat from the original topic of the thread, since we are currently addressing the information about Alyssa's statement, it seemed a good idea to bump this up to the front page so it will be handier.... both for comment and for reading the history of our previous comments.

This is worth re-reading in light of recent events.

I note with interest several positive comments about Doug Batchelor. I hope they still apply. I have nothing good to say about him until he proves me wrong and cleans house.

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ Lawsuit Secrecy

Posted by: sister May 3 2007, 08:13 AM

Why are the contents of the lawsuit against Pickle and Joy sealed? What does Danny and 3ABN have to hide?

I am assuming that the request to the court came from the long list of attorneys that Garwin McNeilus' money has bought and paid for, rather than from Pickle and Joy who have pushed for full disclosure in all matters: from Danny's divorce of Linda---without Biblical grounds---to his mismanagement of 3ABN and other covert activities. Why the secrecy if this is a simple matter of copyright infringement? What is it that 3ABN does not want the general public or the stockholders in the pews to know?

In the past Danny has only threaten lawsuits, claiming that financially he can drag anyone he chooses through the courts until they have been ruined and lost all their assets. His threats have always been nothing more than posturing, a paper tiger roaring loudly to frighten the underdog nipping at his ankles. Again I ask, why is he proceeding now? And more importantly, why the secrecy? What is Dan so afraid of Pickle and Joy discovering that he and McNeilus are now pulling out the big guns in an attempt to silence them and discredit any further information their investigation may bring to light or the means of spreading that information worldwide?

I know for a fact that the information that has been revealed to date concerning Danny Shelton and improprieties in the management of 3ABN on www.save3abn.org is only the tip of the iceberg in regard to what has actually taken place.

Donations have been down at 3ABN the entire first quarter. This fact was confirmed by Mollie Steenson on the Thursday night live, where the merger of 3ABN and Amazing Facts was announced. On the same program Danny also called out for the need of millions of dollars for the new merged organization. If both organizations are financially sound and will continue with their current operations at this time and merely combine their boards into one entity, why the sudden need for millions? Amazing Facts has speakers and potential programming, 3ABN already has the equipment and the studios, why the sudden need for millions of dollars pumped into the combined budget? What information is being withheld from the viewing public? Why has there been no information regarding the addition of other "self supporting" ministries to this new organization? Amazing Facts has been in negotiations with Weimar Institute and College to add them to the package. What other ministries will be brokered into the mix?

The matchmaker for the marriage of Amazing Facts and 3ABN was Garwin McNeilus. Garwin was the faceless man, in CA Murray's "dream", who did so much of the talking at the merger meeting in Colorado. He is the money man behind the scenes who pays for attorneys, provides locations for secret merger meetings, is the power and authority behind ASI and is silently building a new empire within the "self supporting ministries" of Adventism. This empire begins with the merging of 3ABN, Amazing Facts, Weimar Institute and College, and the support of unnamed persons and entities within ASI. The consortium that backs this marriage, headed by Garwin McNeilus, is a group of very wealthy SDA business men. Men who have money and desire for greater power. They made an attempt for a takeover in the running of OCI (Outposts Centers International) a little over 2 years ago, at that time the attempt failed. Now they build their base upon a broader foundation: 3ABN/Amazing Facts/Weimar Institute and College merger. What is their plan and what is their goal? And why is it so important for them to stop the investagations of Pickle and Joy?

Why the lawsuit now and the secrecy surrounding it's particulars? Follow the money trail...

Let me clairfy a point:

The legal documents are sealed. That means that you and I can not read them.

Both Mr. Joy and Mr. Pickle, and thier accredited legal representatives can read them. They know exactly what those documents are. However, they, and their legal representative can not share that information with anyone else. Anyone who is discovered to have shared that information is subject to legal sanction. If an licensed attorney, that person could be subject to legal discipline in additon to judicial sanction.

As understood, this seal is thougth to be extremely restrictive. I.e. Anyone who understands U.S. law knows that there is another legal hearing scheduled in this case. Yet, those principles in this case cannot acknowledge that, and they cannot tell us when it is scheduled. They simply are unable to tell us what the focus of the lawsuit is, or anything about it.

I would expect that any early issue would be for the one side to request that the judge lift the seal, and make the records public. But, that is simply my expectation, and I do not know, as I have not been told such. That request would probably come in a series of proceedural requests. It is likely that both sides will be making proceedural requests.

QUOTE

Isaiah 8
9 Associate yourselves, O ye people, and ye shall be broken in pieces; and give ear, all ye of far countries: gird yourselves, and ye shall be broken in pieces; gird yourselves, and ye shall be broken in pieces.
10 Take counsel together, and it shall come to nought; speak the word, and it shall not stand: for God is with us.
11 For the LORD spake thus to me with a strong hand, and instructed me that I should not walk in the way of this people, saying,
12 Say ye not, A confederacy, to all them to whom this people shall say, A confederacy; neither fear ye their fear, nor be afraid.

God reads the secrets of the heart. He is well acquainted with what is going through the minds of these men, and when He sees that the time is right, He will make it known. Their secrets will not remain secret. He will break the power of these men who desire power and prestige. He has already told us that it is the meek who will inherit the earth.

I am saddened by all that is happening, but my trust is in my heavenly Father who knows the end from the beginning. He has drawn a line somewhere though we don't see it, and He will not permit Danny Shelton or Garwin McNeilus or ASI businessmen or anyone to cross that line.

I was thinking about the story of Lucifer and how God did not destroy him immediately. He had to allow him to show his true colors. I believe that God may have allowed Linda to be removed out of 3abn that Danny and others connected with him would have opportunity to show their true colors. God set up 3abn and I believe that He will cleanse and purify it. And all those who have sought to destroy those with whom they disagree will find themselves caught in the net that they laid to entrap others. As SDAs we must be prepared for anything. We have already been told "Many a star that we have admired for its brilliancy will then go out in darkness. Chaff like a cloud will be borne away on the wind, even from places where we see only floors of rich wheat. All who assume the ornaments of the sanctuary, but are not clothed with Christ's righteousness, will appear in the shame of their own nakedness. 5T 81."

QUOTE

Psalm 9
15 The heathen are sunk down in the pit that they made: in the net which they hid is their own foot taken.
16 The LORD is known by the judgment which he executeth: the wicked is snared in the work of his own hands. Higgaion. Selah.
17 The wicked shall be turned into hell, and all the nations that forget God.
18 For the needy shall not alway be forgotten: the expectation of the poor shall not perish for ever.
19 Arise, O LORD; let not man prevail: let the heathen be judged in thy sight.

20 Put them in fear, O LORD: that the nations may know themselves to be but men. Selah.

Sister,
Ah yes, why the litigation? Somebody must have gotten a little too close to uncovering the truth. And why the secrecy? We must remember that some people are of the opinion that image, no matter how false it may be, must be protected no matter what the cost or who must be sacrificed in the process.

Gregory,
Thank you for clarifying the response we should expect on the part of Bob and Gailon and their legal representatives due to the legal documents being sealed. It is difficult for all of us who have been so involved in the discussions of these issues to now not be allowed to be privy to the details of the suit that Bob and Gailon are facing but none should be particularly surprised that it is being played out in this manner.

Is it possible for the prosecution to litigate the entire case with the details sealed? That seems so unlikely, but could it happen?

Girth,
Bless you for bringing these thoughts to this discussion! I hope all those who are targets of this litigation and whose families are being impacted by the mechanism of such proceedings will take courage and remember that God IS in control. While He clearly expects us to participate in reproving sin, we can all have faith that His course of action will be true and His will done.

'es, it could happen.

'ay attention to what I stated in the following:

The early days of litigation in cases such as this are typically involve with technical and proceedural issues. This is a time in whch if any party wants a change in venue, that request is made. In addition challenges are typically made to orders that have placed documents under seal or impoundment.

Typically, a party will request seal/impoundment. That will be granted on a temporary basis. That is to give the other side a chance to challenge before it becomes permanent. So, if this is any kind of a typical proceeding, the order to impound is not permanent. It simply provides some kind of a time-frame in which the request to impound can be challenged.

So, if this is typical, two of the priority issues for the next hearing would likely be a change in venue, if that is desired, and a challenge to the impoundment, if that is going to be made.

I could also expect some other proceedural and technical issues to be raised early on.

Typically, early on in the proceedings, one or both parties will ask for a summary judgement. That is simply a request for the judge to issue a ruling in that person's favor, without going to a full trial. Typically they are denied, but not always.

Earlly on in the process, both parties will likely ask the court to issue decrees that compel the other party to produce evidence, or compel people to give sworn testimony.

There is going to be a lot of legal manuvering as the two sides each seek their own best advantage. If this is allowed to take place in public view, it will be interesting to observe. If it is all kept under seal, we will have minimal information, and much unsubstantiated gossip. We shall just have to see what happens. I cannot predict what will happen.

Litigants with a lot of money can also seek to wear down the opposition financially simply by a lot of legal maneuvering that involves a lot of legal costs. It is evident that Garwin McNeilus has enough financial resources to do just that. This would avoid the public exposure that would inevitably result from a trial -- exposure that would give 3ABN a lot of negative publicity. This wearing-down process is playing dirty, but then 3ABN & cohorts have never played "clean."

Gailon Joy and Bob Pickle may very well need a legal defense fund.

I'm wondering, though, on what basis Bob was served. He posted on this public forum, but he cannot be definitely tied to the web site, can he?

I assume that litigants must show some really good reasons to have all court proceedings kept private/sealed?

mpounded documents: It must be assumed that this order is temporary. The defendents will have the ›pportunity to challenge. Most often when documents are impounded/sealed it is for a limited time. But, it :an be forever. Yes, I suspect that the defendents will be able to mount a good case for making them ıvailable to the public. But, as I do not know why the plaintiff wanted them sealed, I can only speculate.

You are excused for asking. I'm asking a question because I want to know the answer - my question was to a particular person only in response to their earlier post or information in that person's earlier post. Anything wrong with that?

Actually, I'm a little surprised by your question...I thought here at BlackSDA we wanted to know everything. I'm asking questions. I'm hoping that I can get some answers. So far...the answers I've gotten have been vague or no answer at all.

But I shall keep on trying and hoping.

AF merging with Weimar is of a passing interest to me. I had not heard about it before Pew's post, and was hoping that someone here could provide some information. I suppose I could try and do this research myself, but I doubt I will find the time to do so. I was hoping that someone on this site had information that could be shared with us all.

About finding someone listed whom I know, well, most everyone around here is anonymous. So should I ask some of these people to identify themselves so that I determine whether I know them?

Anyway, I will ask Sister if she can share some info with us, since she's the one that originally brought it up.

Inga,
I know little of the legal system but what kind of legal maneuvering would involve a lot of legal costs for Bob and Gailon since they are "defendants"? I understand that their attornies/counsel/legal representatives must be proactive in insuring that every detail is in place for an even playing field. Are there really so many legal wranglings available to the plaintiffs that it could prove to be an insurmountable financial hardship to these men?

Shiny Penny...your questions are innocent enough, but there's also something kinda fishy. We're not easily fooled. Why not do a little horse trading? We might answer your questions if you begin by answering ours. I posted two for you this morning on the other thread. Let us get to know you for a while first.

BTW, I looked at a shiny penny today, just for good measure, and I saw copper colored skin, and copper colored hair on the image. And a nice little mansion on the back side. I was reminded to follow the money...as sister would say.

Shiny Penny,

It has been my experience here on BSDA that rather than wanting to know "everything", many of the folks here are most interested in finding the truth. As we all get to know one another better through out discussions we will know how to more properly respond to each other's questions. Sometimes folks get defensive simply because they don't know if the person's motive behind the question asked.

If you would like to know more first hand about any Weimar/AF relationship, I would suggest you might start with contacting them directly. Weimar College's web site can be found here:

QUOTE(sister @ May 3 2007, 08:13 AM)

Why are the contents of the lawsuit against Pickle and Joy sealed?
What does Danny and 3ABN have to hide?

I am assuming that the request to the court came from the long list of attorneys that Garwin McNeilus' money has bought and paid for, rather than from Pickle and Joy who have pushed for full disclosure in all matters: from Danny's divorce of Linda---without Biblical grounds---to his mismanagement of 3ABN and other covert activities. Why the secrecy if this is a simple matter of copyright infringement? What is it that 3ABN does not want the general public or the stockholders in the pews to know?

In the past Danny has only threaten lawsuits, claiming that financially he can drag anyone he chooses through the courts until they have been ruined and lost all their assets. His threats have always been nothing more than posturing, a paper tiger roaring loudly to frighten the underdog nipping at his ankles. Again I ask, why is he proceeding now? And more importantly, why the secrecy? What is Dan so afraid of Pickle and Joy discovering that he and McNeilus are now pulling out the big guns in an attempt to silence them and discredit any further information their investigation may bring to light or the means of spreading that information worldwide?

I know for a fact that the information that has been revealed to date concerning Danny Shelton and improprieties in the management of 3ABN on www.save3abn.org is only the tip of the iceberg in regard to what has actually taken place.

Donations have been down at 3ABN the entire first quarter. This fact was confirmed by Mollie Steenson on the Thursday night live, where the merger of 3ABN and Amazing Facts was announced. On the same program Danny also called out for the need of millions of dollars for the new merged organization. If both organizations are financially sound and will continue with their current operations at this time and merely combine their boards into one entity, why the sudden need for millions? Amazing Facts has speakers and potential programming, 3ABN already has the equipment and the studios, why the sudden need for millions of dollars pumped into the combined budget? What information is being withheld from the viewing public? Why has there been no information regarding the addition of other "self supporting" ministries to this new organization? Amazing Facts has been in negotiations with Weimar Institute and College to add them to the package. What other ministries will be brokered into the mix?

The matchmaker for the marriage of Amazing Facts and 3ABN was Garwin McNeilus. Garwin was the faceless man, in CA Murray's "dream", who did so much of the talking at the merger meeting in Colorado. He is the money man behind the scenes who pays for attorneys, provides locations for secret merger meetings, is the power and authority behind ASI and is silently building a new empire within the "self supporting ministries" of Adventism. This empire begins with the merging of 3ABN, Amazing Facts, Weimar Institute and College, and the support of unnamed persons and entities within ASI. The consortium that backs this marriage, headed by Garwin McNeilus, is a group of very wealthy SDA business men. Men who have money and desire for greater power. They made an attempt for a takeover in the running of OCI (Outposts Centers International) a little over 2 years ago, at that time the attempt failed. Now they build their base upon a broader foundation: 3ABN/Amazing Facts/Weimar Institute and College merger. What is their plan and what is their goal? And why is it so important for them to stop the investagations of Pickle and Joy?

Why the lawsuit now and the secrecy surrounding it's particulars? Follow the money trail...

Thank you Sister for all the above info. I just went to the save3abn web site and saw the new posting for today.....it is loaded! We can rejoice even in the midst of this mess which appears like a dark cloud hanging over the church and His people. So, be patience with us if we don't respond to your queries for a while. It' important o know what you've learned and how you feel about things first so we can know if our time will be well spent n education.

Yes, that's what we strive for also...facts and details. The supporting evidence for such is often strangely missing, so it's nice to know you won't be joining the others in making claims, or believing claims, that are merely typed and spoken fiats from the so-called authorities who are here merely to shape public perception, not to offer a balanced informed view based on demonstration. When they say something, it's like saying nothing at all.

Short and to the point has its place. There are times and places where this is not possible. If you take more time browsing around current discussions, and have little interest in reading the more important documents, we may not get very enthused digesting and regurgitating the real meat of the matter for you...although some of us do enjoy chewing the cud from time to time.

The letter from Barbara Kerr, that you are apparently familiar with, struck a chord deep in the heartland of many of us, and we found it to be a pivotal point in our understanding of the situation. If you have no reaction, nor opinion, about her very revealing comments, that's what we're looking for in getting to know you. It serves as a major barometric intidator of many things that go unsaid.

There's nothing I can do to help you out on the case 3abn vs. State of Illinois if your span of attention is waning. What's important is that you read it and offer your comments on the judges recommendation so we can get to know you, not you us, or trying to helping us in some way. We've been there and felt each other's reactions. Yours is still at large. We're here to study the facts and details, and there's no better place to find them, and no better place to point someone like yourself to than that case...so we know where you stand. It demands a polarized opnion agreeing or disagreeing...understanding or misunderstanding the rules.

Here's links for both the court case and BK's letter...

Shiny Penny,

Regarding A-Facts merging with Weimar, please see Doug Garcia's April 9, 2007, announcement at http://groups.yahoo.com/group/WeimarAlumni/message/530, a posting you can see only if you are a member of the list.

That announcement said,

QUOTE(Doug Garcia)

Hello Weimar Alumni,

This weekend was the Amazing Facts board meeting and it has been reported to me that it appears we are heading for a merger with Weimar Institute.

I'll try to pass on any official word when it is given.

Just thought you'd all be interested in the progress.

Douglas Garcia

Doug works for A-Facts, has worked at 3ABN, and is a Weimar Alumnus.

To all: Note the date of Doug Garcia's announcement.

Thus there was an A-Facts board meeting on Sunday, April 8, that apparently approved pursuing the merger with Weimar. Then came the same board's vote on Wednesday, April 18, to merge with 3ABN, followed by a staff meeting at Weimar, I'm told, in which the staff were told that the discussions about merging Weimar and A-Facts were on hold because of this development with 3ABN.

People have wondered whether the merger with 3ABN was in the works for a long time, as Danny stated on April 19, or whether this all was a sudden development, as Doug stated in a communication. The facts speak for themselves.

Posted by: dedication May 5 2007, 11:01 PM

Is there a connection between the merger and the serving of lawsuits?
It appears Danny's been threatening for some time -- but waits until the merger is announced before serving.

It appears Danny's been threatening for some time -- but waits until the merger is announced before serving.

Not the brightest light.....but who knows what they are thinking?? Very good question.....any ideas?

Is there a connection between the merger and the serving of lawsuits?
It appears Danny's been threatening for some time -- but waits until the merger is announced before serving.

Snow job. Or whitewash.

By the way, I really like LaurenceD's post to Shiny Penny. Couldn't have said it better myself.

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ Hit & Run Tactics

Posted by: seraph|m Apr 25 2007, 07:42 PM

For those who don't seem to realize it, BlackSDA is a "DISCUSSION forum."

If you feel your comments, observations or opinions can not or, should not be scrutinized then maybe you should continue in CF where you can play hit and run and cry foul, while hiding behind the ops... and thus keep said comments, observations and opinions to yourself.

ANY member on BSDA has the right and ability to question and or comment on ANY post that is made here by another member. No one BSDA member is required to avoid any post just because the op of said post does not want their comments being challenged by any given member. That attitude is simply childish and not worthy of adults who desire sincere discussion, to learn and grow.

The regular attempts to distract from the subject of a thread by using passive aggressive accusations is lame at best. The gullible are swayed by such behavior but the more discerning know it for what it is, subtle attempts to use "EMOTIONAL BLACKMAIL" to get their way. Which is also childish behavior and not becoming believers who know who they are in Christ Jesus. Simply put, if you can't take it, don't dish it out.

These are 'my observations' and may or may not reflect the thoughts or opinions of others on BSDA. As you are entitled to your observations and opinions, so am I.

I apologize to any and all sensitive souls who may be, or will be, offended by my candid observations and suggestions.

Be Blessed

QUOTE(mozart @ May 2 2007, 05:15 AM) that was lovely johann. as are you. BTW what hue are you? should we open a new thread. lol

In my youth I was a blue-eyed blond. Now I'm getting close to white. My face is kind of red so nobody can see the difference if I blush. Some years back I grew a beard and it was red. I have a red headed granddaughter. She may have gotten it from my red beard. So I go for colors, but have been envious of those who have brown eyes and dark brown skin. Black is also beautiful.

I was all taken by Clay's remarks that we should notice colors and not react as if it does not make a difference. I know our Creator enjoys colors too. So each of us can be proud and thankful for what has been given to us, and none of us must downgrade another because of colors.

A couple of days ago we went to a concert in a Lutheran Church in our neighborhood here in Iceland. One of the soloists is a Seventh-day Adventist with one of the richest bass voices I have heard. With tears in my eyes I listened to the three Negro Spirituals he had chosen to sing for us, and I again thought of the rich harmonies the best in our cultures, our faith, our racial distinctions, brings to us when our ears, eyes, and hearts are open to what God wants us to experience. (The same bass enriched our wedding ceremony about a year ago.)

While I'm at it I might was well share with you what happened last night when the Prime Minister of Iceland gave me such a warm handshake and appreciation, followed by the Minister of Education and the Minister of Finance. It so happened that I had just uttered a few words of appreciation for the delight that met me when I returned to Iceland after living so many years elsewhere in the world. Those warm handshakes and words of appreciation from the top political leaders of this country meant a lot to me. So the warm handshakes given here on BSDA in words make a deeper Christian experience in our lives. We see this in a stark contrast to how a self-appointed Christian leader demeaned his precious wife in bouts of jealousy and meanness, demanding of others that they cover his tracks with lies and deception. Such will never gain the acceptance of heaven.

Posted by: joyce May 3 2007, 05:59 AM

What Johann said is so true. We all gain so much from each other, and from the variety of cultures and races.
God made the birds and flowers in a variety of colors and patterns for our enjoyment. So he has made people in a variety of colors and designs all to add pleasure and enrichment to our short lives on earth.
I am always telling the young ones at church when we sing, "Jesus Loves the Litttle Children" how much God must love designing each baby differently from the last one. How much fun that must be to pick out the hair, eye, and skin color, and choose the shape of the nose and mouth and so on.
I will never forget the family of children who were so excited to get a red haired baby in the family. When they found out that another baby was on the way, they told their mother that they wanted a "chocolate baby" this time. Our family got a good laugh out of it as that was not in the genes, but kids naturally do like all peoples. And so should all of us.

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ Change In 3-abn Leadership

Posted by: Observer Apr 19 2007, 10:19 AM

Yesterday, April 18, Elder Doug Batchelor, of Amazing Facts, addressed the Board of the Sacramento Central SDA Church in regard to some changes in his duties. As I write this, Elder Batchelor is in flight to the HQ of 3-ABN, where in a special TV program, these changes will be announced. Then tomorrow, Elder Batchelor will fly back to Sacramento to preach Sabbath.

These changes have been approved by the President of the General Conference, the President of the NAD, ASI, and the Executive Board of 3-ABN.

Danny Shelton is resigning from his position as President of 3-ABN. I do not know, at this point what continued role Danny Shelton will have in the administration of 3-ABN. He is expected to announce today, that he wants to have more free time to devote to however he wants to spend his time.

Elder Doug Batchelor will become President of 3-ABN.

The two ministries are expected to continue but under the united leadership of Elder Batchelor.

Addition to my post:

I just got off of the telephone from talking to Molly at 3-ABN.

She confirms the basic story that I have posted.

In regard to my question as to whether or not Danny Shelton will step down as President, she tells me that Danny has informed the Board that he wants to step down. As she understands it, a final decision has not been made as to whether or not Danny would step down.

Without revealing my source, I suspect that Danny Shelton and Dough Batchelor have reached an agreement on this, which Molly may not be aware of, and that my announcement that he was resigning as President is correct.

Posted by: howdy Apr 19 2007, 10:41 AM

As if Batchelor was not already overloaded!! Sounds like he will keep those jet engines warm huh?

Posted by: from-the-pew Apr 19 2007, 10:51 AM

Doug Batchelor has (wisely) tried to keep the "scandal" involving the Sheltons at a distance from himself... so why would he now jump with both feet into a situation where he would be working with Danny? Doug cannot afford to risk his rather large ministry. This makes me think that Danny will be moving to other pastures.

Edit for those who read here from the "other forum", who say I'm "falsely reporting": Reread what I said. I said, he's kept the SCANDAL involving the Sheltons at a distance from himself. NOT 3abn. He has continued his professional relationship with 3abn, unchanged, as far as I can tell. With all the accusations flying around, I still don't see him jeapordizing his ministry with Danny's involvement regardless of guilt or innocence. We shall see! Tonight will be enlightening.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Apr 19 2007, 10:58 AM

It will be interesting to watch what direction 3abn takes after tonight.

If there is no public acknowledgement of the problems that have been noted in the 3abn area... then this is not solution... it is just one more coverup... and nothing will have been accomplished. If this is a real change, it will not be glossed over, and past cruelties and errors ignored with no attempt at either change of personell who have been involved, or in reparations and public apologies to those who have been wronged... as well as hiring policies and salaries adjusted to suitable levels... and reparations paid for past injustices.

This is only speculation but I suspect this will lead to an overhaul in the leadership and management of 3ABN.....and not just Doug as the front person with Danny pulling the strings in the background. 3ABN is a ministry but it is also a business. When a business has this many problems, typically a top leadership and management change is necessary in order for the new leader to be effective. These changes won't take place overnight but you can expect new management as the old are eased out the door.

I agree with you.

I cannot immagine Elder Batchelor entering into the new relationship without some sort of agreement that changes would be made.

But, these may not happen overnight.

In one sense this story is developing. As it develops, there may be changes. We will simply have to watch and see exactly how it develops.

Well, I have ancestors who are from Missouri and a grown son who lives there so someone will need to "Show Me" how things are going to be made right before I will feel that positive steps are being taken.

Posted by: from-the-pew Apr 19 2007, 11:48 AM

Now is when the reality comes out: are the problems many have actually with the current leadership of 3abn, or with 3abn itself.

If the church at large (since it sounds like the GC Pres, NAD Pres, etc have given their approval) has decided to rescue 3abn, is the new management required to make apologies? Or can't they say: a new day has dawned, we're replacing so-and-so, and so-and-so, etc. (over time, of course. It is not usually wise to replace too many employees at once).

From my position, where I hold the current leadership responsible for their behavior (that being DS, certain management, and certain board members), the apologies need to come from those individuals whether or not they still are employed by 3abn.

While the new management can make a few statements of apology and moves of reconciliation where needed, if they get too involved in what the past management did, it could conceivably have bad repercussions for the new management.

From a Public Relations perspective (my background), any statements made by the new administration need to be very, very careful. They will want to start with a clean slate, not jump into a ugly mess.

Well, this could be a step in the right direction.

But for those of us on the sidelines who were becoming more and more, shall we say, uncomfortable with what we were seeing, it was always that Danny should step down from leading 3ABN *to allow a free and impartial investigation into the allegations against him and the other leaders. (Particularly Tommy, but also if there was complicity in any cover-ups by Walt, John L, Mollie, Shelley, etc.)

So the first part of the request may be coming true, but if the scandals are not addressed, it makes the church look much worse than before because it could be just one more cover-up.

I agree, SE.

I think that the investigation and scandal being addressed needs to happen. But I do not think that the new management should do the investigation. I think that the new management should, for the most part, confine its role in addressing the scandal to those things that pertain to the continuance of 3abn. Such as appropriate wage scales.

Thus, I find much reason to sit back and wait to see what happens! I hope and pray that this will work out to good of all.

Amazing Facts IS NOT TAKING OVER 3ABN. It is my understanding the ministries will MERGE to produce the most powerful media tool the SDA church has ever known. To reach the world with the love of Jesus Christ has always been the goal of both ministries. Doug Batchelors vision has always been evangelizing and 3abn has the media tools to make the most of it.
If you want the correct Information watch 3abn's live tonight.
Mr. Joy reports falsely, again, that DS started seeing Brandi right after the divorce. WRONG. Brandi did not even move to southern Illinois until late November of that year. He also states she was employed at 3abn by oct of that same year. That would be a majic trick since she lived in Florida until the move in late november.
Over on bsda you even have observer and Johann questioning Mr. Joy's information! His own side!! People that ought to tell you something.

I think that the investigation and scandal being addressed needs to happen. But I do not think that the new management should do the investigation. I think that the new management should, for the most part, confine its role in addressing the scandal to those things that pertain to the continuance of 3abn. Such as appropriate wage scales.

100% agreed. Batchelor is probably in a role to provide pastoral care to those who must go, but he doesn't have the credentials to investigate such things any more than Lomacang has the credentials for counseling. Oops ... didn't mean to say that.

The stuff has gotten so terrible that if it goes under the carpet unaddressed, the thousands of people who have been to save3abn.com will definitely notice.

I just want to know one thing.....Is Danny leaving as the founder of 3ABN or an employee? Does he get paid out, or does he get severance. I ask because in order to justify the amount of money they have given Linda, they said that Danny and Linda were employees of 3ABN, and no one owns it. Would Danny take $250K as a (generous according to some)severence?

Posted by: calvin Apr 19 2007, 12:19 PM

I would not expect any apology to be forthcoming. Nor an investigation. I see the church wanting this to be over. It has dragged on long enough. Just like you don't here from Linda on 3abn. Now I expect Danny to get the same treatment. It will be like he was never there.

QUOTE(from-the-pew @ Apr 19 2007, 12:48 PM)

Now is when the reality comes out: are the problems many have actually with the current leadership of 3abn, or with 3abn itself.

If the church at large (since it sounds like the GC Pres, NAD Pres, etc have given their approval) has decided to rescue 3abn, is the new management required to make apologies? Or can't they say: a new day has dawned, we're replacing so-and-so, and so-and-so, etc. (over time, of course. It is not usually wise to replace too many employees at once).

From my position, where I hold the current leadership responsible for their behavior (that being DS, certain management, and certain board members), the apologies need to come from those individuals whether or not they still are employed by 3abn.

While the new management can make a few statements of apology and moves of reconciliation where needed, if they get too involved in what the past management did, it could conceivably have bad repercussions for the new management.

From a Public Relations perspective (my background), any statements made by the new administration need to be very, very careful. They will want to start with a clean slate, not jump into a ugly mess.

Right now, there are many emotions for me... relief being the primary one. Relief that a situation has finally been dealt with. Not that I think simply appointing someone else as leader is going to instantly end the problems, BUT I am thankful that they have chosen someone like Doug.

3ABN and Doug are sure going to need our prayers more than ever, though. I can't say that I envy him, with all the situations to sort out. I am so glad that God is in control of this. It could be such a positive change if the will of God is what is seeked after. We ought to all spend lots of time on our knees about this.

Now the focus of 3ABN and 3ABN watchers will hopefully get back on track - to sharing the gospel message and looking forward to Jesus's return. Praise the Lord!!!

This does not sound to me as though Danny is going anywhere except right where he normally does.... nor is he relinquishing any of his duties... or powers... since if you will recall this has what has always been said about the function of the chairman of the board and the board itself. He may not even change his title as president of 3abn, since Doug's title is President/Director of the merger.

I'm afraid you're right--at least, that's what they hope.

A lot of our church leaders don't really understand the reach of new media like the Internet, though. If Danny simply disappears, all that is, is a face-lift. Many, many people will know if the situation hasn't been dealth with, and in the long run it will undermine Doug's credibility too.

We Adventists have never been good at owning up to our shortcomings. SINS I should say.

In a way, you have to feel a teensy bit sorry for Danny. He was one of the ones who started 3ABN, so to have to step down as the leader of it, its probably gotta hurt.

I think it was Prophets and Kings that I was reading that at the beginning of Solomon's life, he did everything that was right and walked witht the Lord, then slowly started becoming more worldly to make those around him happier. Then at the end of his life, he looked back and was so disappointed in himself about all the things he did wrong, and realized how many people he could have influenced for good, but didnt because of the choices he had made. Who says my eyes arent open???

As I said before, I dont beleive the problems will miraculously disappear just by a change in management. But I beleive in looking at it in a positive light. It will take time to fully trust again, but I am hopeful that things will work out. We need to have a balanced attitude about this - some hopefulness and some guardedness.

Lots of praying for all those involved is what we need to be doing.

No, you're not crazy to think that. There are other steps that would be very very good, but I'm cautiously cheering this one on!

As for those other steps, I'm not holding my breath! Course, I wasn't holding my breath for this to happen either!

The best that can happen is they will clean that house. Get rid of all those who have been a part in any wrongdoing that has damaged 3ABN. Amazing Facts is a lot more than Doug Batchelor. If they are smarter than us; which i hope so, they will send a lot of folks packing. we can only pray that will happen quickly and we also should pray for a tremendous outpouring of the Holy Spirit upon all of us and especially upon those moving into the 3ABN Ministry. I pray the Holy Spirit will bless them with discernment and uprightness so that they will not be misguided or persuaded against conscience.

I ask that THIS day be the beginning of a Season of Prayer for God's will, not our will, to be done. Please Join Me.

"Our Father which art in Heaven, We pray this is the beginning of the pouring out of your wrath upon all those who have soiled and misused Your 3ABN ministry. I pray not our will, Lord, but Your Will Be Done. I pray our prayers will be Your Prayers, Father. Be merciful O' Lord upon all of us as we are all sinners. Help us to remember that, to forgive, to help and to heal. Be with us all Lord as we all go through this difficult time together and come out - together, putting aside all past anger and bitterness. We pray we are pleasing in YOUR sight, O' Lord, help us!"

This informative post by CF's Rosie55 is noteworthy.

What is of particular concern, in my opinion, is the statement that I have highlighted in red. If this is truly the message, that Danny has the widespread support by the organized church and ASI, I have to wonder if this is a positive step for Amazing Facts and the church. What will happen to the reputation of the SDA denomination if it is proven that Danny, some of his family members and possibly some on his board of directors knew that TS had abused his pastoral power and, instead of reaching out to help the victims heal he/they instead attempted to intimidate victims and cover up the abuse?

As I said before, I dont beleive the problems will miraculously disappear just by a change in management. But I beleive in looking at it in a positive light. It will take time to fully trust again, but I am hopeful that things will work out. We need to have a balanced attitude about this - some hopefulness and some guardedness.

Lots of praying for all those involved is what we need to be doing.

HBG,
I was speaking rhetorically. I am also hopeful that this move will save 3abn, God's ministry. I certainly wasn't speaking of you for as anyone can clearly see by your avatar, your eyes are both wide open.

Yeah, I have that problem, also SE! rofl

Praying. Yes.

I just want to know one thing.....Is Danny leaving as the founder of 3ABN or an employee? Does he get paid out, or does he get severance. I ask because in order to justify the amount of money they have given Linda, they said that Danny and Linda were employees of 3ABN, and no one owns it. Would Danny take $250K as a (generous according to some)severence?

Think he'd take a check. oops sorry that wasn't very nice. trying for humor as the adrenaline flows.

If that's true, this merger is dumber than a crate of anvils. Too many people know. save3abn.com passed 97,000 hits today. Doug had a viable and valuable ministry before now.

I think 3abn has done well in recent years to bring in more Black representation in programming, as well as in musical talent. I won't judge what the leadership's motivation has been to do so, but I certainly think it is a move forward. I would not characterize them as lily white by any stretch of the imagination. As far as Amazing Facts and Doug Batchelor, I used to watch a lot more of the Sabbath School and Church progamming from the Central church and I recall that the audience was not lily white.

Now, I know that some say there are those in leadership who make unChristian remarks behind closed doors, but the fact remains that there is a great move for more representation and that is a good thing.

Wow, talk about a letdown. Just finished listening to the not so great 3ABN live.

I am sad and very disappointed. I had always hoped that someday this godly man called Doug Batchelor would somehow help DS realize the error of his ways. And TS's grossly overlooked sins.

Now that Doug and ASI have crawled into bed with DS, words cannot express my frustration.

I have refused to listen to DS for several years because I consider him to be a narcissist; so full of himself. His "preaching" always takes a back seat to his stories, rambling and rambling about himself and his own interests. (Did you ever just want to slap him and say "get to the point"?)
I could see Linda's uneasiness at times about the way he talked instead of letting his guests talk.

Regretfully, I no longer believe that Doug is necessarily the preacher needed for the "last days". I have completely lost confidence in him. Just like all pastors I knew growing up, he chose not to address an issue such as sex, immorality, homosexuality, adultery. Just ignore it long enough and it will go away.

DS will now most certainly hide under the umbrella of Doug. This merger will probably kill any chance of Linda getting the justice that she so much deserves.

I do not for a moment believe that God's hand is in this so-called merger. I am ashamed of all the SDA leaders for their lack of calling Danny and Tommy to accountability. How can DS even speak of "bringing the undiluted 3-angels message to the whole world. HYPOCRITE he is.

I watched it.

After a whole lot of sharing of spiritual visions, literally, DS mentioned people might wonder what the advantages are to merging. He said he could talk about the financial advantages, but decided not to go there. Finances is always a big factor for big changes in direction, but not the only driving cause. I would suspect that DB will help bail out the 3abn ministry if funds are lacking, and together they can do cost share savings through this joint adventure.

3abn is without a strong evangelistic school...other than that which they import. Evangelism is what 3abn is suppose to be all about. Amazing Facts will nicely fill that void.

Some of the catch words were...dream, synergy, and marriage. Mollie made it clear, indirectly, that she was happy to do the work while the two guys did what they do best...evangelize. This appeared to be a statement that she wanted, no, expected, to still be in charge of what makes it all work...inspite of what the merger may mean for a new administration setup.

The better part of all this merger news is a new board will be created, representing three agencies (ASI, AF, 3abn) equally. If all goes well, this means it should be more balanced...rather than the hand-selected members only we see now. Diversity should take on a more meaningful definition.

The other thing not to overlook is that DB is a pretty crafty fella. His mind works very independently, regardless. He turned down two offers, very recently, from DS, to be president of 3abn...after carefully thinking it over both times. DS wouldn't give up though and finally found something DB felt he could use. DB will carefully, and artfully, take his time at uncovering any problems he senses. Now, all information associated with 3abn will come under his umbrella too. Nothing should be hidden or removed without his knowing about it...unless perhaps MS is still somehow directing the paper traffic and controlling the seldom seen files.

(BTW, one funny incident. While on live TV tonight, DS offered DB the presidency once again if he'd like it as well, but DR. Walt T. cautioned DS immediately saying he might want to change his mind about that)

One note of caution to AF should be to have all agreements clearly detailed...including risk management--past and future. Also, a good clause for for how unseen problems will be resolved in the event anything should go wrong through misunderstandings. Be careful Doug.

--my two cents.

will have to see action before I am able to accept this change as OK.

have seen the carpets come flying in to cover big stink before. However, this is the mother of all carpets lying in to cover up the 3ABN Mess!

he next thing we should see is Danny as president of ASI or some other politically correct position.

Sexual abusers in the SDA church are given new playgrounds where they can start their dastardly deeds all over again. Thus destroying even more people/members.

Folks, I am here to tell you I have seen it all my life. This is no different. The grassroots effort had to be killed.

Do you feel dead yet?

he "church" uses the best insecticide; Silent killers. They usually aim for members of their own congregations!

heir leaders would not have done anything bad if it had not been for those crazy members causing then to do it!

ou know how they are!

hey are so opinionated!

What rights do they have any way?

hey asked to be members right?

f they (members) don't get it right, put them out.

We will use our undiluted messages to replace those grumbling insane members any way!

have been in the grandstands watching this play out over and over again.

have even been on the "wrong" side.

I am a SDA. The message is right. I have no other place to turn in my relationship with Christ. I have held on through things that would curl you hair. We must forgive 70*7.

Does this mean we should go quietly to our corners and ask forgiveness for speaking truth; then speak their lies to "make things go away"?

So as I see it, we have just seen the mother of all carpets cover all those sins at 3ABN.

These church actions or what I call "Actions by NO ACTION" have been around since the beginning of time. They are not about to go away now. Satan is one that tries over and over again. The stupid fool thinks he is going to get it right and win the great controversy! Oops, that won't happen; we've read the end of the book!

Something just doesn't ring true.

My 81-year-old mother was so upset that she called me, upset nearly to tears, before the first hour was over. She feels like two ministries are now in danger of being destroyed instead of just one.

Where miracle stories, dreams and amazing coincidences would have, before now, given us both goose bumps and hearts filled with joy, in the face of the obvious denial rampant in that room tonight it brought nothing but disappointment.

Near the end of the program, Doug Batchelor said that "they'll know us by our love for each other". Look out of the 3abn doors, Brother Doug, at the people of Thompsonville. Go and ask Duane and Roger Clem and the other alleged victims of pastoral abuse who have experienced the feelings flowing from the co-founder of 3abn towards them. Ask them about the love they see flowing from the leadership of 3abn. Is Christ being lifted up to those alleged victims and their loved ones? Or, has it made better business sense to allow those alleged victims to remain as necessary sacrifices to protect the image of the President and his family? If this is the case, there is a real danger of one day hearing those devastating words from the lips of our Redeemer found in Matthew 7:22-23:

22 Many will say to me on that day, 'Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy in your name, and in your name drive out demons and perform many miracles?' 23 Then I will tell them plainly, 'I never knew you. Away from me, you evildoers!'

Posted by: mozart Apr 20 2007, 12:25 AM

Since AF is so much more than Doug B. I am hoping that they will concentrate on saving 3abn so it can do what it is meant to do and the wrongdoers will tend to their own matters on their own time with their own money. that's what i'm hoping. saving 3abn is #1 because getting the message to the lost and the hurting is #1. making people accountable is #2 but is not the ministry's job now. maybe that is what they are trying to separate which had to be done and should have been done long ago. long before they were millions in debt. i'm hoping that is what is being done. i think that we here and others directly involved will still have to be vigilent in bringing all wrongdoing to justice and also to protect the "ministry" from any more damage.

I agree, SE.

I think that the investigation and scandal being addressed needs to happen. But I do not think that the new management should do the investigation. I think that the new management should, for the most part, confine its role in addressing the scandal to those things that pertain to the continuance of 3abn. Such as appropriate wage scales.

Thus, I find much reason to sit back and wait to see what happens! I hope and pray that this will work out to good of all.

Posted by: mozart Apr 20 2007, 12:38 AM well, i think this whole guise is to distract from DS or anyone else who's done wrong to make any apologies. they just pretend to "graciously bow out". isn't it nice that some of the board members are so generous they would not argue for their position if it's all for the good. sorry for the sarcasm but what danny said about ken denslow saying it would be fine with him if they chose not to reappoint him if it was in the best interest of 3abn. rubbish. i think he couldn't wait to get out of that "hotseat".

http://www.amazingfacts.org/news/read_news.asp?ID=138 BreakingNews : Doug/Danny Merging

Most all the comments in this thread till now tend to have a very depressive tenor for the future of SDA Media Evangelism via Satellite broadcasting. Is your reactions on this based so negatively because of the surface appearance of what the merger appears to imply?

I wish we could be closer to the mind of Christ on this matter. Can we not try at least to view the most superior divine Chess master still involved with His church on earth at this moment, still? We are the pawns, let Him be the player.

When we pray, let's do so in faith that He is going to change the present leadership of 3-ABN into a leadership group ruling with the integrity of Christians having the SDA mission goal in mind. If He is envisioning D.Batchelor as President of 3-ABN then pray that the dismissal of D.S. happens soon. Along with the others needing to be removed from the board game. Pray in expectation that all around D.S. will be eliminated at the same time that D.S. topples.

God is setting up the chess board and calling the shots.

He has foresight in getting at the King by eliminating slowly, slowly, the Bishops, Rooks, Knights and finally the present Queen piece by piece. The pawns never do have a chance to survive, now do they?

Time is on God's side. Power also.

There is coming a moment in the 3-ABN future when He is going to victoriously shout "checkmate"

UNCALLED FOR YOU SAY!!!!!! LOL!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!
I crack up. How is that they have worked hard? AT WHAT? LORD HAVE MERCY!!!
I HAVE NEVER SEEN THEM AT A ANY BLACK CONFERENCE CONCERT or major event. I have never seen TAKE 6, Virtue, Duawne Starling or Favored, or Madison Mission choir or any GOSPEL choir on their network. And you say they have been working Hard??? HOW? WHEN????

I know for a FACT because in the position that I am in PRESIDENT OF A MUSICAL ORGANIZATION. I called 3ABN to ask them to come and be apart of the music and worship conferences which the NAD supports. I have yet to even get a real conversation with them about that. They hemmed and hawed around but the bottom line was they were NOT interested.

As for Amazing Facts...YES they are just as Lilly white. My church in Atlanta recently showed the video series about the last day events. Great video with great acting...they had the best animation I have seen almost as good as disney's. But in the entire video, there was NOT ONE BLACK FACE!!!!

It was SO obvious that our SOUTH ATLANTIC CONFERENCE PRESIDENT comented that he was hoping that didn't mean we were not going to heaven. Now I tell you...as an African American in this church in 2007. How can we preach love when CLEARLY we are not seeing the WHOLE TRUTH on racisim. It might not be intentional but it's clearly still here. 2 blacks on 1 one networks is NOT a true reflection of our church. So don't tell me about 3ABN trying. THey ain't trying. What they are trying to do is staying up in that hillbilly town and making money. And by no means do I feel they haven't done a great deal of good. But let's face it. Trying to appeal to all is not what they are doing.

I would gladly support both organizations. But honestly, I could care less whether they merge or to stay separate. But what I do care about is if the Black church supports 3ABN and Amazing facts, then the least they could do is make a REAL effort to provide African Americans apart of their programming and planning in a real way.

The fact remains in our church blacks and whites worship differently our music is different and we will NEVER agree on music. So white people have their thing and mean while the blacks struggle with ours. That is a fact. Until we accept that we all worship differently, there are always going to be this issue.

I HAVE NEVER SEEN THEM AT A ANY BLACK CONFERENCE CONCERT or major event. I have never seen TAKE 6, Virtue, Duawne Starling or Favored, or Madison Mission choir or any GOSPEL choir on their network. And you say they have been working Hard??? HOW? WHEN????

I certainly share your concern. But I was clearly told by certain leaders at 3ABN that one reason they could not support Linda was her music style. It was too. . . whatever, for the ultra conservative idea of true religion. You may have noticed that the black singers and musicians who have been performing on 3ABN have not performed quite the way you are used to in your churches - at least that is my honest impression. Perhaps with the exception of the Walther Pearson programs, but was there ever any singing there?

It seems to me that HOPE is much more open and they use various styles of music and singing. So next time I suggest you try HOPE. In my opinion we need a greater contribution of the excellent black music to inspire us in the right direction for the Lord.

There was singing on his Net 2004 series. But usually when BOL is taped its always been good. But of course it's always going to be drama about music. I and UCAA usually don't get caught up in what kind of music is appropriate arguments. We simply encourage folks to do all things in Excellence.
That fact is lacking in our churches as well.

Hello all,

I have not post in sometime was praying and wondering How God was going to work.

Well i am concerned that this is going to turn into a sweep under the rug sin in the church yet again.

I also have to faith to at this time walk by faith that The God that promise to be the author and the finisher of my faith will be the author and the finisher of what he started at 3abn.

I noticed last night for the part that i watched that Doug seemed very on edge like he was being very careful what he said, Danny on the other hand seem to be like he was selling that things we just going to be dandy.

I also noticed that Danny really asked for the money to come, which tells me that God is having his people with the money that Danny has gotten used to coming in.

I also noticed that Danny could not help but mention how Satan would not like this merger and would try to stop it in some fashion with attacks on the internet.

My personal guess is Satan is not one bit happy about the merger but it might be for reasons that are far different then Danny S. thinks, like just maybe Satan will be sad to see Danny go.

I was also very struck by the Difference in on air attitudes between Doug, and Danny, Shelly, And Molly.

I would also add this is the first 3abn program i have watched in a long time.

In Closing I would like to pray that Doug's messages on apostasy will guide his running of 3abn.

.et's be clear about something else regarding 3abn and music..... it is not only black singers and musicians vho look and sound different from what they do in other venues. White singers also sound and look lifferent... to say nothing of the fact that there are many other sounds and styles of music that are NEVER ;een or heard on 3abn.... and it has been this way from the very beginning. When I complained in the early lays when they took LLU church and Sabbath School off the air one of the two reasons I was given was that heir music did not fit 3abn "criteria". And I would not dignify their "criteria" by calling it "the ultra-:onservative view of religion".... Not very many true conservatives even tolerate the kind of music that Danny ;ends out over the airwaves.

;ure... no one has ever seen "black gospel" or "black contemporary" or "black choirs". But it is equally true hat no one has ever seen genuine "gospel", "southern gospel", contemporary, traditional or classical choirs, ›rchestras, bands (whether worship, marching, or concert), orchestras, chamber music... or anything else ›ther than the insipid, watered down, tightly controled versions of Dannystyle music. Even the singers who ıave a wide repetoire of music are not allowed freedom of choice and selection... or of movement. One singer vho "auditioned" for them told of chalk marks on the floor within which he had to keep his feet at all times.

'm not at all denying that Blacks have a legitimate "beef" with how they are [not] represented on 3abn. Just :now that it's not "all about color".... it's about narrow criteria that excludes everything that doesn't match)anny's particular mediocre tastes in music.

QUOTE(from-the-pew @ Apr 19 2007, 12:48 PM)

Now is when the reality comes out: are the problems many have actually with the current leadership of 3abn, or with 3abn itself.

If the church at large (since it sounds like the GC Pres, NAD Pres, etc have given their approval) has decided to rescue 3abn, is the new management required to make apologies? Or can't they say: a new day has dawned, we're replacing so-and-so, and so-and-so, etc. (over time, of course. It is not usually wise to replace too many employees at once).

From my position, where I hold the current leadership responsible for their behavior (that being DS, certain management, and certain board members), the apologies need to come from those individuals whether or not they still are employed by 3abn.

While the new management can make a few statements of apology and moves of reconciliation where needed, if they get too involved in what the past management did, it could conceivably have bad repercussions for the new management.

From a Public Relations perspective (my background), any statements made by the new administration need to be very, very careful. They will want to start with a clean slate, not jump into a ugly mess.

1. Danny Shelton said he had offered Pastor Doug Batchelor a position with 3ABN and he turned it down.

2. Then Danny Shelton offered Pastor Doug Batchelor the position as president and he again turned it down.

3. Then they got the idea of merging the ministries, 3ABN and Amazing Facts.

4. Garwin McNeilius thought this would be a great merger.

5. Shelley Quinn said to Danny Shelton, "When you offered him (referring to Pastor Doug Batchelor) the presidency....."

6. Monday, April 16th, the 3ABN Board voted for merging with Amazing Facts.

7. Wednesday, April 18th, the Amazing Facts Board voted for merging with 3ABN.

8. New Board.

9. T9, page 221 quote re moving the world.

10. R&H 1890 quote re pressing together.

11. Join these ministries.....

12. 3ABN sees itself as a Supporting Ministry of the SDA Church, not as an Independent Ministry.

13. Danny Shelton alluded to Pastor Doug Batchelor as becoming President of 3ABN from this merger.

14. 3ABN and Amazing Facts will retain their individual identities.

15. Mollie will continue to take care of the Home Front (3ABN).

16. Dr. Walt Thompson said something about Danny Shelton's willingness to share the burden with Pastor Doug Batchelor.

17. The future officers are not decided however Doug Batchelor will be the likely President.

18. Danny may remain the CEO.

I know for a FACT because in the position that I am in PRESIDENT OF A MUSICAL ORGANIZATION. I called 3ABN to ask them to come and be apart of the music and worship conferences which the NAD supports. I have yet to even get a real conversation with them about that. They hemmed and hawed around but the bottom line was they were NOT interested.

As for Amazing Facts...YES they are just as Lilly white. My church in Atlanta recently showed the video series about the last day events. Great video with great acting...they had the best animation I have seen almost as good as disney's. But in the entire video, there was NOT ONE BLACK FACE!!!!

It was SO obvious that our SOUTH ATLANTIC CONFERENCE PRESIDENT comented that he was hoping that didn't mean we were not going to heaven. Now I tell you...as an African American in this church in 2007. How can we preach love when CLEARLY we are not seeing the WHOLE TRUTH on racisim. It might not be intentional but it's clearly still here. 2 blacks on 1 one networks is NOT a true reflection of our church. So don't tell me about 3ABN trying. THey ain't trying. What they are trying to do is staying up in that hillbilly town and making money. And by no means do I feel they haven't done a great deal of good. But let's face it. Trying to appeal to all is not what they are doing.

That popping sound you hear is from my eyes as they are opened further to the color issue we have in our denomination. That 3abn would try to put on the facade of diversity while not expanding their narrow definition of acceptable music to include the very music that nourishes many in this country and around the world shows a lack of respect for the diversity they are outwardly promoting.

PrincessDi has similarly experienced and previously commented on the lack of color on the Amazing Facts video you refer to. I would invite you to add your perspective to the discussion we are having about the color line in our church over in the Adventist and Theology forums. http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?showtopic=13208

I would like to point out that disagreement about music style is not just a black/white issue. In my own racially diverse congregation it has been a controversy for years. When a pastor decided to limit the old standard hymns to one per service and bring in a 3 - 4 song Praise Music segment to feed the younger members of the church, a group of more conservative members got up in arms. When that pastor left and our present pastor arrived he continued the Praise Worship service. The consequences have been a small trickle out of the church of some of those more conservative members who have moved their memberships to other SDA churches in the area. The benefits, though, have been that our congregation is growing and strengthening. I am even seeing some of the more conservative members who have stayed in the congregation start to catch the spirit of the worship service and find the blessing that has always been there.

But it still is not diverse nor is it representative of what is presented in most Black churches...that is the point.

QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Apr 19 2007, 10:11 PM)

I think 3abn has done well in recent years to bring in more Black representation in programming, as well as in musical talent. I won't judge what the leadership's motivation has been to do so, but I certainly think it is a move forward. I would not characterize them as lily white by any stretch of the imagination. As far as Amazing Facts and Doug Batchelor, I used to watch a lot more of the Sabbath School and Church progamming from the Central church and I recall that the audience was not lily white.

Now, I know that some say there are those in leadership who make unChristian remarks behind closed doors, but the fact remains that there is a great move for more representation and that is a good thing.

The only thing to remember, Daryl, is that IF indeed this will truly be a merger, the two will not be able to remain separate entities. Danny will no doubt be a part of this in management, but I do not believe that he will be the president or the C.E.O. I just do not see Doug Batchelor answering to him...the since I got from the broadcast last night is that THEY WANT Doug Batchelor to become the neww leader--I may be wrong here, but that was how I took it.

One can see the appropriateness of LLBN, for example, being weighted towards health issues. One could see a worship/inspiration channel staying away from doctrinal and health programing. One could see a music channel carrying only music... either video or live performances. But IMO all channels should organize their programming so that no race or other group within the Adventist church feels left out of, or slighted by, the programming content or appearance. Not all programs need to appeal to all tastes, cultures, doctrinal biases, or races... but certainly the channel as a whole should offer a balanced fare with something for each individual.

Wow, talk about a letdown. Just finished listening to the not so great 3ABN live.

I am sad and very disappointed. I had always hoped that someday this godly man called Doug Batchelor would somehow help DS realize the error of his ways. And TS's grossly overlooked sins.

Now that Doug and ASI have crawled into bed with DS, words cannot express my frustration.

I have refused to listen to DS for several years because I consider him to be a narcissist; so full of himself. His "preaching" always takes a back seat to his stories, rambling and rambling about himself and his own interests. (Did you ever just want to slap him and say "get to the point"?)
I could see Linda's uneasiness at times about the way he talked instead of letting his guests talk.

Regretfully, I no longer believe that Doug is necessarily the preacher needed for the "last days". I have completely lost confidence in him. Just like all pastors I knew growing up, he chose not to address an issue such as sex, immorality, homosexuality, adultery. Just ignore it long enough and it will go away.

DS will now most certainly hide under the umbrella of Doug. This merger will probably kill any chance of Linda getting the justice that she so much deserves.

I do not for a moment believe that God's hand is in this so-called merger. I am ashamed of all the SDA leaders for their lack of calling Danny and Tommy to accountability. How can DS even speak of "bringing the undiluted 3-angels message to the whole world. HYPOCRITE he is.

am sorry you feel that way about the merger - its too bad so many are negative about it, instead of vatching to see what God has in mind. God is still in control, no matter what.
What you said about bringing Danny and Tommy to light, did you expect them to address that on 3ABN last ıight? A real investigation hasnt even begun yet, right? I think they want to approach this carefully. Don't get ne wrong, from what I have read and heard about this situation, it does seem that alot of hypocrisy and lishonesty and immorality has gone on, but we can hardly assume that the day that Doug was named ›resident would be the day to publicly reproach Danny and Tommy and whoever else. Lets just let it marinate or a little bit and pray as we wait.
.ets try and focus on the positive - at least something has been done. It seems like so many are STILL :omplaining, even though a step in the right direction (taking some of the power from Danny) has happened.

I thought the channel was urban based or does urban automatically equate to black? What they need is a channel that appeals to youth the present set up from what I have seen looks so boring even for me who is a senior youth.

PB, this one is a denominational issue. How one runs a "supportive" or "independent" ministry can be reflective of one's personal convictions; the denominational nextwork and voice of it's ministries should be more reflective of the people it seeks to minister to and/or the membership.

Point taken and seconded. Just wonder if it is because of racism by the leadership or...?

Danny referred to Wently Phipp's proposed channel that is being developed. It will be interesting to see how that network feeds the flocks. I'll buy one of the new-fangled boxes they were advertising last night if Wently's channel truly represents Black worship services and music.

Danny said last night that this would be "national news."

Our local media hasn't even picked it up yet. I'm sure the hole-in-the-wall West Frankfort paper will (they always try to pacify Danny for some reason), but I really don't expect to hear it anywhere else.

This particular merger it is their motives, and the fact taht they are doing it in the Name of God.....for appearances only. The whole two hours for the sake of the pitch for funds at the end. Is their purpose really ministry. SJ says th at she is reading the Frank Perretti books. In those books religion was used as a front, the rank and file had no idea of the true purpose of the organization. That would be a betrayal to God and to the people who believe that being faithful to the "ministry" they are being faithful to God.....because the ministry is of course following the voice of God.....you get my drift.

Now, before eveyone gets excited about rushing to judgment. The first thing which gives me pause is that done this way, Danny will still never have to repent or answer for the wrongs he ha done.....in the name of God and 3ABN. So from there motives of everyone invovled are suspect.

..... Excuse me... a white channel proposing to develop a black channel..... what am I missing? How is this anything but just an updated version of segregated churches, segregated conferences, and a segregated heaven

Shouldn't our aim be for all channels to be fully integrated? And if channels have specialties in programming, let that be along other lines than those which already divide us.... racial, doctrinal, an music styles. One can see the appropriateness of LLBN, for example, being weighted towards health issues. One could see a worship/inspiration channel staying away from doctrinal and health programing. One could see a music channel carrying only music... either video or live performances. But IMO all channels should organize their programming so that no race or other group within the Adventist church feels left out of, or slighted by, the programming content or appearance. Not all programs need to appeal to all tastes, cultures, doctrinal biases, or races... but certainly the channel as a whole should offer a balanced fare with something for each individual.

..... TVsnack. .....

WB,
You certainly called that one correctly! Separate channels could be nothing more than a slick technological way to separate the denomination by color. I wonder if 3abn and Wently Phipps have pondered on that one? Is Wently developing the channel or is Danny?

A fully integrated channel? Of course that should be the goal! Will Hope be our best bet? We will see. On the other hand, wouldn't all of the various channels being in the same little box, available to all viewers be rather like an integreted network? I'm sure someone will set me straight if I've stuck my foot in my mouth again. Of course, I have no idea exactly what Wently Phipp's channel will be like so perhaps I should just zip it and watch for awhile.

Posted by: simplysaved Apr 20 2007, 12:54 PM

The only thing to remember is that there ARE differences in the worship experiences and expression....some of you may be turned off by how I worship and I tell you with all due respect, I was not interested in most of the Adventist programming on either Hope or 3ABN....Having a separate channel does not make them racist; if no one else can be a part of it, then that would.

Even if he appeard on 3ABN and confessed everything he did wrong, got on his knees and begged for orgiveness (which, hopefully we would forgive), how many of us would trust him like we used to? does not raise hand
It would be wonderful if DS saw the error of his ways, but I honestly dont think that will happen, at least not admitted publicly. Even if it did happen, I would still wonder about the sincerity.
Maybe this is a great wakeup call, that no matter what, man is flawed, and the only one we can trust completely is God. We can't base our faith on an organization. We must base our faith on the God and His word to us.
God gave certain people certain talents and resources, and it is their choice to use them right. Obviously someone has misused these things and is paying for his choices now. Its now someone else's turn to use talents and resources, we will see what happens.
God will bless you for what you use to glorify Him. I am so glad that He will never let us down, and that we can rely on Him to turn something good out of this, as long as we focus on what is most important - spreading God's word.
He is coming so soon. Lets remember that. Soon all the heartache will be gone. How awesome to think that we won't have to be limited on time ever again - we will have eternity to get to know each other!!! Thats the one unfortunate thing about church, you just dont have time to talk with everyone that you want to.

QUOTE(msraccoon @ Apr 19 2007, 11:20 PM)

Wow, talk about a letdown. Just finished listening to the not so great 3ABN live.

I am sad and very disappointed. I had always hoped that someday this godly man called Doug Batchelor would somehow help DS realize the error of his ways. And TS's grossly overlooked sins.

Now that Doug and ASI have crawled into bed with DS, words cannot express my frustration.

I have refused to listen to DS for several years because I consider him to be a narcissist; so full of himself. His "preaching" always takes a back seat to his stories, rambling and rambling about himself and his own interests. (Did you ever just want to slap him and say "get to the point"?)
I could see Linda's uneasiness at times about the way he talked instead of letting his guests talk.

Regretfully, I no longer believe that Doug is necessarily the preacher needed for the "last days". I have completely lost confidence in him. Just like all pastors I knew growing up, he chose not to address an issue such as sex, immorality, homosexuality, adultery. Just ignore it long enough and it will go away.

DS will now most certainly hide under the umbrella of Doug. This merger will probably kill any chance of Linda getting the justice that she so much deserves.

I do not for a moment believe that God's hand is in this so-called merger. I am ashamed of all the SDA leaders for their lack of calling Danny and Tommy to accountability. How can DS even speak of "bringing the undiluted 3-angels message to the whole world. HYPOCRITE he is.

was really initially disappointed in the program but when I got to thinking about it, I realize that Doug Batchelor can't just romp into the 3ABN offices and throw out people left and right just because I think that is what should be done. And I do!

He is going to need some time and some slack from us to make the changes that we would like to see. What we need to do, I think, is keep messaging him to let him know where we stand on the issues. He will automatically take up the financial issues as they arise and that in itself should get rid of Danny sooner than he even understands. In any case, Doug cannot do anything about the issues of pedophilia and sexual misconduct. Those issues are separate from the running of 3ABN except for the immediate need to clearing out of anyone who is risking children and anyone else with that kind of behavior.

As to the others, Doug will need to be very circumspect in his dealings with them. I suspect that in the long run, he has kept much of his private thoughts to himself and will let them out only as he sees fit within the boundaries that need to be set up. I say that because of his refusal to accept the position that Danny 'offered' him last night. He has a plan that he and God are working on, is what I see.

We have hashed and rehashed this situation so much that we think we have all of the answers and want to see them acted upon post haste , but I still see that God is in control and will wait to pass judgement on Doug Batchelor. How many will join me in this?

Many prayers are needed!

So, you said that Danny handed over the title but NOT the position. Doug will continue to head up AF and Danny will continue to head up 3ABN. So the hand over of the presidency of 3ABN by Danny to Doug was not real then? God IS in control here. I have much confidence in Doug Batchelor being a servant of God. I think we need to give him some space... and wait and see what happens over time. Nothing happens overnight!

Plus, just because I think a certain thing doesn't make it right! I'd be willing to guess that we could come up with several different opinions on what should be done, just among the members who have been posting here the past 2 days.

In my own church example, we had one Sabbath praise music session that included drums along with the guitars and piano. It was so loudly done that it was hard to hear the words above the music. A number of older members got up and left in protest. I could understand that, especially if they wore hearing aids, as the decibles of that particular group were making my ears hurt as well. I was tempted to leave for that reason alone. However, as the pastor brought the sermon I marveled at the spiritual blessing I would have missed if I had left.

Isn't this what we should be looking for no matter who is standing behind the pulpit or even their style of preaching? Are the words of the Holy Spirit to be ignored if the one speaking uses a different style? Would it harm us to open our ears to seek God's message no matter the color of the face it comes through?

Just wondering...

Daune,

When i heard that last night it sound like danny was just trying to sound important, in fact i got that idea from most of the 3abn staff, moses being the main one that sound sincere, Doug seem very caged or reserved at least to me.

I am sure that danny is hurting for funds, i heard that 3 abn was running serious shortfall of cash, like in the seven figures.

Anyways keep the faith, and remember so many of us are proud of you for standing tall.

ALL, let me repeat ALL music needs to be done well by those skilled in it either by education or natural talent. Loud definitely does not equal good. That being said, it probably was louder than your congregagation is used to, and that would also present a problem. I find that the complaints aobut loudness mostly accompanies the addition of "live" drums. There is usually no complaint abou those on a sound track. Service should minister to ALL so a balance is key.

Someone somewhere on one of these threads made a remark about Danny having little guy syndrome. I had no idea he was short. I knew Linda was very tall.. taller than Barbara and I stood by her when she was in the area to see how tall Linda would be and I would guess that Barbara was at least 5' 5-8" tall. Hmmmm

I suppose so... guess I always considered the "little man syndrome" man to be about 5" 4" tall or shorter.

Gotta rethink this

Yep Danny was really in his prime last night. A brand new (seldom used? different style anyway) cowboy suit, not the usual matching jacket and turtle neck sweater. He took up almost 20 minutes telling his story before letting anyone else give their story.

I don't really like the idea of some of the folk sitting and others standing on the show last night and other Tuesday night live programs. Just doesn't set well with me. Walt leaning down over Danny's shoulder, etc. Just my opinion I like it that they are all sitting around in semi circle. It could be that it can't happen so the camera can pan Danny as much as possible and not look like it is focusing Danny that much.

Wonder how much bonus the camera man/woman gets for panning Danny certain number of times a program... sorry folk... guess I sound kinda not nice.

Have a happy Sabbath

Well, PB, you've expressed my concerns/feelings rather well.

When I wrote to Doug Batchelor last year, I got a note back from his secretary worded as though Danny himself had written it, complete with twisting of my words to suit his purposes. Probably Doug didn't even see that note.

How much does Doug really know, I wonder?

He should know enough not to have pulled a foolish stunt such as a "merger" that leaves Danny and Molly in control.

I have faith only in God, none in "princes," such as Danny Shelton and Doug Batchelor.

H'mm ... putting them together like that does nothing for Danny and takes a lot from Doug, who used to have a pretty "clean" reputation, at least. Now some will wonder what he's got to hide.

QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Apr 19 2007, 11:44 PM)

Something just doesn't ring true.

My 81-year-old mother was so upset that she called me, upset nearly to tears, before the first hour was over. She feels like two ministries are now in danger of being destroyed instead of just one.

Where miracle stories, dreams and amazing coincidences would have, before now, given us both goose bumps and hearts filled with joy, in the face of the obvious denial rampant in that room tonight it brought nothing but disappointment.

Near the end of the program, Doug Batchelor said that "they'll know us by our love for each other". Look out of the 3abn doors, Brother Doug, at the people of Thompsonville. Go and ask Duane and Roger Clem and the other alleged victims of pastoral abuse who have experienced the feelings flowing from the co-founder of 3abn towards them. Ask them about the love they see flowing from the leadership of 3abn. Is Christ being lifted up to those alleged victims and their loved ones? Or, has it made better business sense to allow those alleged victims to remain as necessary sacrifices to protect the image of the President and his family? If this is the case, there is a real danger of one day hearing those devastating words from the lips of our Redeemer found in Matthew 7:22-23:

am sorry, I had to post here after hearing all that is being said here. It is too funny not to.
Doug and Danny had a meeting Thursday at 4pm central time with all of the 3abn employees. They were told hat this merge would not change any of their positions, work schedules or anything else. Doug made a point o say that he intends to keep his church in Sacramento and still run amazing facts and WOULD NOT have ny say in day to day 3abn operations just as Danny will have no say in day to day operations of AF. Except or a merger of the boards and Danny and Doug taking more time to evangelize, most everything will remain as is. Doug and Danny, AF & 3abn will remain 2000 miles apart and will continue business as usual with Danny over 3abn and Doug over AF.

So, all this business of Doug cleaning house or that he doesn't realize what he has gotten himself into is absolutely a huge laugh. He had 20 or so highly respected people on his board advising him as well as Danny's board advising him. AF and 3ABN has worked together closely for years. That is the reason the AF people are not worried about allegations. They know they are false and shrug off the people behind it. To say that Danny was running scared as stated above is, again, crazy. If he was running scared he would have resigned, not expanded, and remained in charge of 3abn.
Not hard people, get a grip. As much as you hate to face it, that is the truth of it. As much as you want to read stuff into it, you can't. It is all good.

This informative post by CF's Rosie55 is noteworthy.

What is of particular concern, in my opinion, is the statement that I have highlighted in red. If this is truly the message, that Danny has the widespread support by the organized church and ASI, I have to wonder if this is a positive step for Amazing Facts and the church. What will happen to the reputation of the SDA denomination if it is proven that Danny, some of his family members and possibly some on his board of directors knew that TS had abused his pastoral power and, instead of reaching out to help the victims heal he/they instead attempted to intimidate victims and cover up the abuse?

Again, this and other posts seem to forget that Alyssa, Linda's daughter was accosted by Danny more than once! We must also pray that this egregious behavior be recognized and punished to the fullest extent of the law! Forgiveness is not the issue, for either DS or TS. It is also a separate issue from the 'change' in leadership of 3ABN. I certainly hope that Linda's new lawyer will make sure that this is not swept under the rug!!

ALL, let me repeat ALL music needs to be done well by those skilled in it either by education or natural talent. Loud definitely does not equal good. That being said, it probably was louder than your congregagation is used to, and that would also present a problem. I find that the complaints aobut loudness mostly accompanies the addition of "live" drums. There is usually no complaint abou those on a sound track. Service should minister to ALL so a balance is key.

Di,
It was a youthful group that appeared to think, out of their sincere immaturity, that louder was better. It was their one and only appearance on our stage.

Steffan,
I thought you lived in New York. Have you moved to the Thompsonville area so that you have first-hand knowledge of all that you have said below?

QUOTE(steffan @ Apr 20 2007, 04:07 PM)

I am sorry, I had to post here after hearing all that is being said here. It is too funny not to.
Doug and Danny had a meeting Thursday at 4pm central time with all of the 3abn employees. They were told that this merge would not change any of their positions, work schedules or anything else. Doug made a point to say that he intends to keep his church in Sacramento and still run amazing facts and WOULD NOT have any say in day to day 3abn operations just as Danny will have no say in day to day operations of AF. Except for a merger of the boards and Danny and Doug taking more time to evangelize, most everything will remain as is. Doug and Danny, AF & 3abn will remain 2000 miles apart and will continue business as usual with Danny over 3abn and Doug over AF.

We were aware of the meeting. One of our fellow BSDA members, freckleface reported to us the following yesterday:

That is the reason the AF people are not worried about allegations. They know they are false and shrug off the people behind it. To say that Danny was running scared as stated above is, again, crazy. If he was running scared he would have resigned, not expanded, and remained in charge of 3abn.
> Not hard people, get a grip. As much as you hate to face it, that is the truth of it. As much as you want to read stuff into it, you can't. It is all good.

Your statement that I have bolded above causes me some concerns. Do you have first hand knowledge from Doug Batchelor and his AF team that they are not worried about allegations and that they know they are false and shrug off the people behind it? Are these statements you have heard for yourself?

Well you heard wrong again. 3abn has always functioned on a break even basis, they aren't in debt but don't have anything saved either. That is cash we are talking about. At anytime of the ministry was desperate for funds they have millions of dollars of assets and some of those assets could be sold off if need be. Thankfully they have not had to do that.

Doug seemed caged and reserved? Why? It was his choice to do this merge now. It had been discussed at other times but he didn't feel the time was right until now. Those of you that keep insinuating that Doug was forced into this by someone, somehow in some way try to use your thinking caps to extract some common sense. AF is respected and so is Doug. It is a successful ministry and has been for a very long time. Now why would anyone and who would that be that would "force" Doug to merge with 3abn? People all your speculation is making no sense. How could it be any more simple that 2 great ministries joining together to increase their evangelizing power? You all need to get over your own misguided beliefs and agenda's and start praising God.

..... Excuse me... a white channel proposing to develop a black channel..... what am I missing? How is this anything but just an updated version of segregated churches, segregated conferences, and a segregated heaven

Shouldn't our aim be for all channels to be fully integrated? And if channels have specialties in programming, let that be along other lines than those which already divide us.... racial, doctrinal, an music styles. One can see the appropriateness of LLBN, for example, being weighted towards health issues. One could see a worship/inspiration channel staying away from doctrinal and health programing. One could see a music channel carrying only music... either video or live performances. But IMO all channels should organize their programming so that no race or other group within the Adventist church feels left out of, or slighted by, the programming content or appearance. Not all programs need to appeal to all tastes, cultures, doctrinal biases, or races... but certainly the channel as a whole should offer a balanced fare with something for each individual.

..... TVsnack. .....

I thought "urban" meant diversified; of all races.

QUOTE(princessdi @ Apr 20 2007, 10:50 AM) just a thought; but maybe wintley phipps channel will not just be adventists either. has anybody heard it will be strictly adventist? maybe that should be another thread.

QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Apr 20 2007, 12:38 PM)

WB,
You certainly called that one correctly! Separate channels could be nothing more than a slick technological way to separate the denomination by color. I wonder if 3abn and Wently Phipps have pondered on that one? Is Wently developing the channel or is Danny?

A fully integrated channel? Of course that should be the goal! Will Hope be our best bet? We will see. On the other hand, wouldn't all of the various channels being in the same little box, available to all viewers be rather like an integreted network? I'm sure someone will set me straight if I've stuck my foot in my mouth again. Of course, I have no idea exactly what Wently Phipp's channel will be like so perhaps I should just zip it and watch for awhile.

God bless you hbg, i love what you've said here.

QUOTE(hollybygolly @ Apr 20 2007, 01:00 PM)

He will have to answer to God, eventually. Isnt that the most imporant thing?
Even if he appeard on 3ABN and confessed everything he did wrong, got on his knees and begged for forgiveness (which, hopefully we would forgive), how many of us would trust him like we used to? does not raise hand
It would be wonderful if DS saw the error of his ways, but I honestly dont think that will happen, at least not admitted publicly. Even if it did happen, I would still wonder about the sincerity.
Maybe this is a great wakeup call, that no matter what, man is flawed, and the only one we can trust completely is God. We can't base our faith on an organization. We must base our faith on the God and His word to us.
God gave certain people certain talents and resources, and it is their choice to use them right. Obviously someone has misused these things and is paying for his choices now. Its now someone else's turn to use talents and resources, we will see what happens.
God will bless you for what you use to glorify Him. I am so glad that He will never let us down, and that we can rely on Him to turn something good out of this, as long as we focus on what is most important - spreading God's word.
He is coming so soon. Lets remember that. Soon all the heartache will be gone. How awesome to think that we won't have to be limited on time ever again - we will have eternity to get to know each other!!!
Thats the one unfortunate thing about church, you just dont have time to talk with everyone that you want to.

Yes, posters who come in here to distract and confuse are really to be ignored. I had thought forums were for posting what one is thnking through their fingers. Most posters respectfully disagree with each other and no one is kicked out of the forum.

When I read other posts I might agree or disagree with what is being posted but that doesn't give me the right to be rude to the other poster. I believe everyone has a right to their own opinions. Making statements in the forums to type out our opinions doesn't necessarily mean that what we post is meant as a truth to be written down in stone.

If ALL of us agree to use the ignore botton on the rude posters they won't have anyone to argue with and leave us alone. I am trying to do that myself.

If anyone disagrees with me please do so kindly. Love to all.

Tomatoe's post #164:

All this bologne about running from a lawsuit because Linda got a new lawyer is again, ridiculous. So what? 3abn has had a team of lawyers for months now. Putting all of these posts together from here and bsda here is what you guys have come up with.
ASI, AF, THE general Conference and the boards of both ministries have gotten together in less than a week to come up with a plan to 1. Make DS step down, 2. Take over 3abn, 3. Cover up allegations against 3abn, or 4. The other groups named "forced" Doug to merge with 3abn for well we don't know why.....continued

All of the above happened almost overnight and the decisions will affect the entire Seventh Day Adventist denomination around the world, but, it was all done as a secret conspiracy and all the above named people and organizations were a party to it, because.....Linda got a new lawyer.

Man...you guys are like Sherlock Holmes.

After reading this exchange, I, PeacefulSDA, gathered information from Observer/Greg Matthew's early posts from Thursday morning in the Change In 3-abn Leadership thread.
PeacefulSDA's reply in post #165:

1. Mollie S. told Gregory Matthews that Danny told the 3abn board that he wants to step down.
2. Gregory Matthews said both ministries would continue but under the unified leadership of Doug Batchelor.
3. Steffan says he was told Doug does not believe the allegations and shrugs off the ones behind the allegations.
4. Who is saying the other groups have "forced" Doug to merge with 3abn? That is news to me. The only ones I have seen saying that are you and Steffan.

http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=13332&view=findpost&p=191971

http://www.christianforums.com/showpost.php?p=34112730&postcount=165

:arly this morning, tomatoe replied to PeacefulSDA's post with some interesting and, perhaps, revealing nformation.

omatoe's post #166:

QUOTE

GREG M made those statements before the live. Mollie mispoke or Greg took her words wrong. Regardless it was straightened out before the live where you saw plainly that DS is going nowhere. Doug and Danny both, might eventually give their general managers a little more administrative power to free them up to evangelize in their own ways. Danny has had less and less time for programming the last few years which is why you see other hosts a lot of time on the live. He hopes to get back to hosting more often and interviewing guests. Even though he already travels a lot, that will probably increase also if he can get out from under the mountains of paperwork. Doug also hopes to do more programming and I am sure more of his revivals will be in the works. Doug will stay in sacramento and keep his church there. DS and 3abn will stay in southern IL. The plan at this point is for 3abn to become 3abn amazing facts but in probability will eventually just go back to 3abn period since that name is more known world wide.

As far as the "forced" thing with Doug. I said that because I have read several comments of people saying "Doug looked caged" and Doug looked uncomfortable. What is the insinuation there? Obviously that he didn't want to do this. My point was how could that be? This was his choice. Nobody could make him do it or would even try to make him so why the ridiculous comments about him looking uncomfortable. They are both very happy to fullfill what they have been talking about doing for quite some time. Lots of details have been worked out and there are many more to go. Even their titles are not in stone yet. All they want people to understand, at this point, is that both ministries will function the same in day to day operations. Each leader at his own ministry. Doug will not be making rules for 3abn and Danny will not be for AF. Both are trying to free themselves up from some of the administrative duties, not add to them.

And, it is true that Doug , amazing facts or his board are not concerned with internet allegations. Doug has worked closely enough with 3abn and DS through the years to know that these are rumors and speculation and sometimes out and out lies. He has spent weeks at a time at the facility and his conclusions speak for themselves. His board also, voted unanimously to merge with 3abn. They obviously didn't have reservations either. MMM I do believe that they know a lot more of the true facts than the everday posters here, who swear that 3abn is corrupt. That always amazes me when most have had no experience with 3abn or the people involved at all.

Folks, save your time and energy by taking this merger as a wonderful world wide soul winning tool for the Adventist Denomination. You can accuse, twist, spin and throw around speculations all you want but it doesn't change the simple truth that it is, what it is, take it at face value...something wondeful.
http://www.christianforums.com/showpost.php?p=34114326&postcount=166

Vhat I have not personally been able to conclude from this post by tomatoe is how the merger is going to nake things any different than they are at the present time. Here is a recap from tomatoe's post:

3oth Doug and Danny "might eventually" give their GM's "a little more administrative power" so they can :vangelize in their own ways.
3oth ministries will remain in their home locations.
Titles for Doug and Danny are not yet set in stone.
3oth ministries will function the same in day to day operations.
3oth will remain the leaders of their own ministries.
Doug will not be making rules for 3abn and Danny will not be for AF.
3oth are trying to free themselves up from some of the administrative duties, not add to them.

So, what has this merger actually accomplished besides the possible temporary name change to 3abn Amazing Facts? We know from the Live program that the two boards may have some member changes as they merge together. But, after reading the key points of tomatoe's post, what else is really changing? Even the stated goal on the Live program of combining forces for evangelism seems unlikely since tomatoe they will continue to "evangelize in their own ways".

It appears that Doug Batchelor's schedule is the biggest change in this merger because he will be spending a lot of time traveling back and forth from California to Illinois. Or will he even be doing that?

At this point, from what tomatoe has shared in his post, this merger between 3abn and Amazing Facts appears to be a change in name only. What do they hope to accomplish by this admittedly temporary name change? Will it add dollars to either coffer? Will it give either ministry more credibility. After carefully watching the Thursday evening Live program and now reading tomatoe's post, the whole point of the merger seems rather unclear.

This is only speculation but I suspect this will lead to an overhaul in the leadership and management of 3ABN.....and not just Doug as the front person with Danny pulling the strings in the background. 3ABN is a ministry but it is also a business. When a business has this many problems, typically a top leadership and management change is necessary in order for the new leader to be effective. These changes won't take place overnight but you can expect new management as the old are eased out the door.

I'm thinking like you, Calvin: I saw what happened when I worked at HP during the merger with Compaq. Carly took charge as CEO and out went Compaq's president... I'm sincerely hoping that the same thing happens here (positively!) and that Doug takes over with Danny OUT!!! And, as Carly did at HP, Board members were replaced; so I hope this works the same way. I see this as the ONLY WAY to prevent Danny (and cronies) from creating further scandal.

Only problem with that analogy is that enough of the old HP board members... particularly the Hewlett and Packard family members insisted that Carly do things "the HP way" and her recalcitrance to do that ultimately got her sacked... will enough of the existing 3ABN way persist to such a degree that Doug Batchelor's efforts bear no fruit? Danny stated that there had been a secret meeting in Denver with himself, DB, and Garwin McNeilus. That brought a few questions to mind:

1. Why did they have to meet with McNeilus? I know that he is very wealthy and apparently that gives him a lot of clout?
2. Why was it immportant to meet with McNeilus? Why was his input/counsel/approval needed?
3. Why was the meeting secret. From what I remember DS said that even Molly didn't know.
4. Why would it be so important to get one layman's OK but not all those other who are or have supported AF/3ABN?

Does anyone have any ideas?

In steffan's defense he did stay away from September until now. That took some pretty strong resolve, IMO! But if he came back just to play, he best remember to play carefully and mind the occasional hungry gators swimming by.

Not posting != staying away

Steffan spoke rather harshly of BSDA when he thought it was behind our backs and said he was never coming back here again...

guess never is a variable length of time in his world... but in the real world where the rest of us live, such a pronouncement means he would not darken this doorstep again...

In His service,
Mr. J

Grith,
No response from tomatoe yet. I'm not positive, but I seem to remember that Mollie was the only one at 3abn who knew about the Denver meeting and CA Murry had his dream about it and was afraid that Mollie would think he was phishing for info if he told her about it.

PB, it may be that Molly knew. I can't quite remember. I was taking notes, but you know how fast DS talks, and I never did learn shorthand. I guess I will have to tune in to the rebroadcast tommorrow. Hmmm, on second thought, don't know if I really want to sit thru that 2 hours again.

QUOTE(Grith @ Apr 21 2007, 02:52 PM)

I watched the program Thursday evening (thanks to seeing the announcement at BSDA). I've been reading the responses here, but I heard something that no one has commented on thus far. Danny stated that there had been a secret meeting in Denver with himself, DB, and Garwin McNeilus. That brought a few questions to mind:

1. Why did they have to meet with McNeilus? I know that he is very wealthy and apparently that gives him a lot of clout?
2. Why was it immportant to meet with McNeilus? Why was his input/counsel/approval needed?
3. Why was the meeting secret. From what I remember DS said that even Molly didn't know.
4. Why would it be so important to get one layman's OK but not all those other who are or have supported AF/3ABN?

Does anyone have any ideas?

Grith,
Here is the answer from tomatoe over on Christian Forums:

"Rosie is correct. There will be plenty of details that will still need to be worked out in the future. These things take time.
McNeilus was there because his family is heavily involved in ASI as well as world wide missions. His input was needed as to what involvement ASI might have in this merger. Also, to be able to bring the message into more and more global locations could have a direct influence on all of the mission work that the McNeilus's do in third world countries. It is a great decision for all concerned to have Mr. Mcneilus's input.

WHy the secrecy? To try to keep the false rumors, stories and allegations down to a minimum until the merger announcement was made. On these forums it has been bad enough as it is."

Well, just keep in mind that the information you wish to corroborate is in the first hour and then you would have confirmed it for yourself.

I envision a new Board position has been made.

It appears that control will change hands; just not what we are thinking will happen.

They said there would be a couple of positions filled from ASI. Go figure. It can't be that hard to see that money talks louder than the Right Thing to Do.

I think it's too early to draw conclusions, but I'm somewhat troubled by the seeming joyfull anticipation of Amazing Facts joining hands with an organization badly tainted with credible allegations of moral and financial corruption. Some are saying Doug Batchelor does not believe the accusations and ignores the documentation.

I used to admire Danny Shelton and 3ABN.

I still admire Doug Batchelor and Amazing Facts.

Be careful, Pastor Doug.

Then why the merge? What is the point? If AF is going to continue to be Af and 3ABN is going to continue as 3ABN, and everythign and everybody the same. That is not the way mergers works. Now they can work quickly, and then line Sprint and Nextel, Waochvia Wrold Savings, etc. It might at ke a while for everything to be Sprint or Wachovia but that duality will not stay, eventually they weill be under one name, one company and ALL duplicity will be gond. There will be no co presidents/CEOs. Now anyone who believes the hype that one day the whole tamale won't be name either 3ABN or AF, then they are fooling themselves. My money's on AF, 3ABN is much too troubled by rumors, true or not. The really only way for it to be called 3ABN is that a thorough house cleaning is down and ALL those of questionable character be sent on their way. AF , on the other hand has an excellent repurtation right now, and DB is known as a man of integrity. am sorry, I had to post here after hearing all that is being said here. It is too funny not to.
Doug and Danny had a meeting Thursday at 4pm central time with all of the 3abn employees. They were told that this merge would not change any of their positions, work schedules or anything else. Doug made a point to say that he intends to keep his church in Sacramento and still run amazing facts and WOULD NOT have any say in day to day 3abn operations just as Danny will have no say in day to day operations of AF. Except for a merger of the boards and Danny and Doug taking more time to evangelize, most everything will remain as is. Doug and Danny, AF & 3abn will remain 2000 miles apart and will continue business as usual with Danny over 3abn and Doug over AF.
So, all this business of Doug cleaning house or that he doesn't realize what he has gotten himself into is absolutely a huge laugh. He had 20 or so highly respected people on his board advising him as well as Danny's board advising him. AF and 3ABN has worked together closely for years. That is the reason the AF people are not worried about allegations. They know they are false and shrug off the people behind it. To say that Danny was running scared as stated above is, again, crazy. If he was running scared he would have resigned, not expanded, and remained in charge of 3abn.
Not hard people, get a grip. As much as you hate to face it, that is the truth of it. As much as you want to read stuff into it, you can't. It is all good.

well let's see. a worldwide satellite network, a full tv studio and all the airtime you want. that's quite a bit. i think we all know the folks running AF aren't stupid. they are lots more than one man too! DB may be president of AF but he doesn't call all the shots does he? i don't believe for a second any of this is in name only. AF has lots to gain but also, everything to lose. they will gain control, no doubt. i think GM brought and bought this arrangement. hopefully it is with good intentions. DS said he was paying all the attorney bills so he knows exactly what is going on and who needs to move out of the way and out of the limelight. GM has the money. GM is giving the money; that's why he was at the meeting. just my opinion.

It is very difficult for anyone to verify the real reasons for this merger. Just now a friend called and voiced yet another unsubstantiated opinion, which reminds me that BSDA is not a court, but a place where we voice our opinions.

This friend feels that with the new lawyer appearing on the scene Danny fears that the question of Linda's future role in connection with 3ABN could be one of the reasons this proposed merge with Amazing Facts was propelled just now. Why? Because if it is revealed that Linda was wrongfully dismissed in 2004, that destroys Danny's credibility and he looses the face he so desperately tries to exhibit on every program, magazine and web page associated with 3ABN. This is why we see the desperate fight his supporters are still fighting on the Christian Forum or wherever their presence is still allowed. May God have mercy!

Let's pray His will be revealed, and His name glorified, and not a mere political image of . . . !!!

Holly, I will agree with you in part, but also stand by my statement. In general, professional actors can take on any character they want.... and they "become" or "create" that character so much that we identify them with the character for the duration of that movie..... until they take on another character when they "become" that other character in some other movie. So in that sense, the "cast" of the 3abn presentations are not like "TV actors"... for they always portray the same character each time they are on camera.

However, the point I am making is that these people come... like TV actors... into our living rooms.... they look us in the eye and talk to us seemingly one-on-one.... and we feel as though we knew them through and through, for we hear them tell the same stories over and over, make the same points, exhibit the same characteristics in varying circumstances. And as a result we judge their characters, motives, personalities, how they relate to persons in real life.... and many more aspects of them .... by what we have seen on the screen. And it is easy to forget that we do not, in fact, have any idea as to whether their screen image is the same as what they are in real life when they are interacting with real people.

But the impressions that we have from what we have seen sticks with us so strongly, that even when a number of persons, who know the individual personally, relate experiences to show something different.... it is extremely difficult... with some it is well nigh impossible... to believe any differently from our opinions formed while this person "sat with us in our living room" so many hours through so many years.

This is a phenomena of human nature. And it is one that is known and used by performers in all walks of life... including, sad to say, TV Evangelists as well as professional TV actors who change characters with a change of contract or script.

'es Laurence... I think you have nailed this one correctly. And do note the comparison of this present ituation with the "vision" story which Danny has used through the years to "prove beyond the shadow of a loubt" that he had been divinely appointed to do just what he has done. That initial story must have been jetting a little stale... even to him... but now look... he has not merely one, but five or six such lreams/visions/miracles/signs stories on which to build his bigger and better Amazing Facts/3abn!

'm sure that if we knew all the "facts" one would indeed call them "amazing".... but I rather suspect we vould find them amazing in amazingly different ways from what the leaders of that ministy would prefer.

4. Why would it be so important to get one layman's OK but not all those other who are or have supported AF/3ABN?

Does anyone have any ideas?

And thanks for this contribution. Because I didn't personally watch 3ABNLive, I've relied on feedback from others, and you are the first to mention this extremely significant detail. It confirms my personal hunch on the matter that Garvin McNeilus possibly initiated this merger.

McNeilus characteristically controls things from the background. He does not reveal how much he contributes to whom. He does not take board positions, but when he asks to see anyone, he gets ushered right in. And folks listen to him. (Yes, money talks.)

It is fairly certain that McNeilus has been a big contributor to 3ABN (think in millions, rather than thousands). Just when contributions likely fell off due to Linda's leaving, Danny announced that contributions increased. If that is true -- which isn't necessarily so -- it's easy to see how one deep-pocketed contributor could have provided this "increase" to make things look good for one of his proteges.

If the rumor of 3ABN's 3-million-dollar deficit in the first quarter of 2007 is true, it is likely that McNeilus decided to quit propping up 3ABN.

McNeilus is also very likely a big contributor to Amazing Facts, a ministry not plagued by scandals such as those dogging 3ABN. Doug Batchelor's reputation is clean, so far. It doesn't take a genius to calculate that Doug's taking over 3ABN would "save 3ABN," which is what McNeilus would want to do.

As to why this meeting was "secret" ... I think you'll find the answer in what I suggested about McNeilus's habitual mode of operation. The fact that the rank and file of Adventists has no idea who Garvin McNeilus is testifies to his "secret" mode of operation. (I suspect that many ministries and missions owe their existence to the contributions of the McNeilus family.)

In my own church example, we had one Sabbath praise music session that included drums along with the guitars and piano. It was so loudly done that it was hard to hear the words above the music. A number of older members got up and left in protest. I could understand that, especially if they wore hearing aids, as the decibles of that particular group were making my ears hurt as well. I was tempted to leave for that reason alone. However, as the pastor brought the sermon I marveled at the spiritual blessing I would have missed if I had left.

Isn't this what we should be looking for no matter who is standing behind the pulpit or even their style of preaching? Are the words of the Holy Spirit to be ignored if the one speaking uses a different style? Would it harm us to open our ears to seek God's message no matter the color of the face it comes through?

Just wondering...

Shoot.... I have heard that the big church in Arlington,Tx. even has smoke along with guitars and drums. (second service)

Please, someone tell me that I am wrong!!!

Someone somewhere on one of these threads made a remark about Danny having little guy syndrome. I had no idea he was short. I knew Linda was very tall.. taller than Barbara and I stood by her when she was in the area to see how tall Linda would be and I would guess that Barbara was at least 5' 5-8" tall. Hmmmm

I suppose so... guess I always considered the "little man syndrome" man to be about 5" 4" tall or shorter.

Gotta rethink this

Yep Danny was really in his prime last night. A brand new (seldom used? different style anyway) cowboy suit, not the usual matching jacket and turtle neck sweater. He took up almost 20 minutes telling his story before letting anyone else give their story.

I don't really like the idea of some of the folk sitting and others standing on the show last night and other Tuesday night live programs. Just doesn't set well with me. Walt leaning down over Danny's shoulder, etc. Just my opinion I like it that they are all sitting around in semi circle. It could be that it can't happen so the camera can pan Danny as much as possible and not look like it is focusing Danny that much.

Wonder how much bonus the camera man/woman gets for panning Danny certain number of times a program... sorry folk... guess I sound kinda not nice.

Have a happy Sabbath

Yup... I have heard the same thing. Not only a short guy, but also right in the hair department. Amazing what a good rug or transplant can do!

Well you heard wrong again. 3abn has always functioned on a break even basis, they aren't in debt but don't have anything saved either. That is cash we are talking about. At anytime of the ministry was desperate for funds they have millions of dollars of assets and some of those assets could be sold off if need be. Thankfully they have not had to do that.

Doug seemed caged and reserved? Why? It was his choice to do this merge now. It had been discussed at other times but he didn't feel the time was right until now. Those of you that keep insinuating that Doug was forced into this by someone, somehow in some way try to use your thinking caps to extract some common sense. AF is respected and so is Doug. It is a successful ministry and has been for a very long time. Now why would anyone and who would that be that would "force" Doug to merge with 3abn? People all your speculation is making no sense. How could it be any more simple that 2 great ministries joining together to increase their evangelizing power? You all need to get over your own misguided beliefs and agenda's and start praising God.

And Yes PB. I did get it firsthand that Doug could care less about the allegations on the internet. Just ask Gailon if Doug would take his call today.

:xcuse me!! I understand that there was no call to Gailon!! Why would Steffan lie about this when the truth is hat Doug never called Gailon?? Let's get the facts straight and quit with the stories.

wow that is a huge and a hard to imagine possibility. in some ways, it would be great, but i don't see any way that linda could work with mollie and john l. etc. that possibility would be an incredible feat of attorneyism. however, what i was thinking is that to make some wrongs right, 3abn should have linda back in some way, if simply to have her own show and even that small part in comparison to what she was before all this. i think, and it's sad to say however, but that would be enough to make danny not want to be there anymore. apologies and reparations really need to be done towards linda, and i hope someday these folks will listen to God first.

the rerun is on now and i'm taping this time.

QUOTE(Johann @ Apr 22 2007, 06:49 AM)

It is very difficult for anyone to verify the real reasons for this merger. Just now a friend called and voiced yet another unsubstantiated opinion, which reminds me that BSDA is not a court, but a place where we voice our opinions.

This friend feels that with the new lawyer appearing on the scene Danny fears that the question of Linda's future role in connection with 3ABN could be one of the reasons this proposed merge with Amazing Facts was propelled just now. Why? Because if it is revealed that Linda was wrongfully dismissed in 2004, that destroys Danny's credibility and he looses the face he so desperately tries to exhibit on every program, magazine and web page associated with 3ABN. This is why we see the desperate fight his supporters are still fighting on the Christian Forum or wherever their presence is still allowed. May God have mercy!

Let's pray His will be revealed, and His name glorified, and not a mere political image of . . . !!!

I think it's too early to draw conclusions, but I'm somewhat troubled by the seeming joyfull anticipation of Amazing Facts joining hands with an organization badly tainted with credible allegations of moral and financial corruption. Some are saying Doug Batchelor does not believe the accusations and ignores the documentation.

I used to admire Danny Shelton and 3ABN.

I still admire Doug Batchelor and Amazing Facts.

Be careful, Pastor Doug.

Please don't misunderstand my post. I am not criticizing praise-style music worships. Just the ones that are so loud it hurts. Don't think I'd like a smoke machine going though...

The point of my post was that if we get too focused on things about our worship services that we find fault with or take exception to, we can miss the blessing the Holy Spirit has planned for us. dkay, Steffan said that Gailon tried to call Doug and Doug would not talk to him. I haven't seen any corroboration that Gailon attempted to make the call. That is just what Steffan is reporting.

Just wondering.....if a new board is make up of AF, 3ABN, and ASI individuals...then where does that leave the majority of power....in Danny's pocket? Also can ASI have anyone on the board...since AF is an entity of the church? I understand ASI rules restrict membership to independent ministries and businesses and will not allow any church entity to belong. We are all watching and we are very concerned about this so called merger.

QUOTE(watchbird @ Apr 22 2007, 10:37 AM)

Holly, I will agree with you in part, but also stand by my statement. In general, professional actors can take on any character they want.... and they "become" or "create" that character so much that we identify them with the character for the duration of that movie..... until they take on another character when they "become" that other character in some other movie. So in that sense, the "cast" of the 3abn presentations are not like "TV actors"... for they always portray the same character each time they are on camera.

However, the point I am making is that these people come... like TV actors... into our living rooms.... they look us in the eye and talk to us seemingly one-on-one.... and we feel as though we knew them through and through, for we hear them tell the same stories over and over, make the same points, exhibit the same characteristics in varying circumstances. And as a result we judge their characters, motives, personalities, how they relate to persons in real life.... and many more aspects of them .... by what we have seen on the screen. And it is easy to forget that we do not, in fact, have any idea as to whether their screen image is the same as what they are in real life when they are interacting with real people.

But the impressions that we have from what we have seen sticks with us so strongly, that even when a number of persons, who know the individual personally, relate experiences to show something different.... it is extremely difficult... with some it is well nigh impossible... to believe any differently from our opinions formed while this person "sat with us in our living room" so many hours through so many years.

This is a phenomena of human nature. And it is one that is known and used by performers in all walks of life... including, sad to say, TV Evangelists as well as professional TV actors who change characters with a change of contract or script.

Just because we watch people on 3ABN and Amazing Facts does not mean that we know every little detail about each of their lives. Might as well call our own pastors "actors", because we dont know what they are like at home, when no one but their own family is around, right? What's the point of having televised evangelism and christian programs? - Because they ALL must be "acting".
I firmly believe that man is fallible and imperfect. I also beleive that God wants us to have a little bit of faith in people - not to make or break us religously, but God has obviously chosen some to be more in the spotlight than others. Does this mean that we discount and doubt everything they do or say? Should we refuse to go to church because we might be listening to an "actor"? No way. Sounds like you are suspicious of just about everyone that is on TV. I would have to agree with that, if I watched regular cable TV on a regular basis, but 3ABN and Amazing Facts is decidedly different.

If you are meaning that we should have our eyes open, and question when evangelists and pastors don't seem to be living their lives according to what the Bible says, then I could see that. But having faith in NO one just because we have been disappointed by SOMEone, I just dont agree. Life would be pretty lonely and sad.

not sure how this subject got over here but, i'm borrowing this post from PP since i couldn't say it any better. This is (i think i have this subject thread going on over at the heading "your local church") quote pinkpanther

"Even if wicked men talk the truth, some may receive it; but it does not bring those who talked it into any more favor with God. Wicked men are wicked men still, and according to the deception they practiced upon those who were beloved of God, and according to the confusion brought into the church, so will be their punishment; their sins will not remain covered, but will be exposed in the day of God's fierce anger. {EW 98.1}
These self-sent messengers are a curse to the cause. Honest souls put confidence in them, thinking that they are moving in the counsel of God and that they are in union with the church, and therefore suffer them to administer the ordinances, and, as duty is made plain that they must do their first works, allow themselves to be baptized by them. But when light comes, as it surely will, and they are aware that these men are not what they understood them to be, God's called and chosen messengers, they are thrown into trial and doubt as to the truth they have received and feel that they must learn it all over again; they are troubled and perplexed by the enemy about all their experience, whether God has led them or not, and are not satisfied until they are again baptized and begin anew. It is much more wearing to the spirits of God's messengers to go into places where those have been who have exerted this wrong influence than to enter new fields. God's servants have to deal plainly, act openly, and not cover up wrongs; for they are standing between the living and the dead and must render an account of their faithfulness, their mission, and the influence they exert over the flock of which the Lord has made them overseers. {EW 99.1}

Those who receive the truth and are brought into such trials would have had the truth the same if these men had stayed away and filled the humble place the Lord designed for them."

It is posted with full permission from Gailon Arthur Joy:

I have not made any call to Doug Batchelor. We know that he was airborne Thursday until 3:00pm and doing his presentation at 3ABN staff meeting at 4:00pm and then the live at 8:00pm CDT. He was then airborne back to California from 10:00 am on Friday. And the most important note is that Amazing Facts was closed on Friday, as it is every Friday. So when would we have called to demand to speak with Doug Batchelor?

So, why would steffan make the claim he did? Is he bearing false witness? Someone certainly is.

So, why would steffan make the claim he did? Is he bearing false witness? Someone certainly is.

Questions:
1. So far has Joy's "reports" and claims always been factual?
2. Can someone help me to understand the importance of whether Joy called DB or he didn't?
3. If someone trustworthy told Steffan that Joy called and he repeated it, then it wouldn't be a lie would it?
4. Why are the items that we do know as facts having to repeated over and over and over?
5. What is hard to understand that Doug is not taking over or going to run 3abn?
6. What is hard to understand that Danny is not taking over or going to run AF?
7. How many times does it have to be stated that 3abn is NOT in debt and in fact have assets worth more than AF?
8. How hard is it to understand that since 3abn is not in debt all the speculation about Garwin M and his role is uneducated fantasy.
9. The actual role he has played in the merger as a rep of ASI and Global Missions has been explained, but is too hard to understand?
10. What is the meaning of the wild feeding frenzy on this merger?
11. What can't you except about 2 ministries joining to evangelize without running each other's ministries?
12. By continuing to speculate that one ministry will be able to take over the other shows a lack of business knowledge, common sense, is an insult to all of those involved in this merger and last but not least shows a general lack of intelligence...doesn't it?
13. Are we that ignorant as to think that specifications, rules, regulations and safeguards were not written up legally to avoid any possibility of #12 happening?
14. Can we not see that while major agreements, have been written in stone there will be plenty more smaller details worked out as they go?
15. How many of you that are spouting all of this stuff will slink off into the sunset when it doesn't come to pass?
16. When it happens exactly the opposite of your sad scenerios, how many of you will jump on something else with yet again, new scenerios and accusations and will pretend these previous ones, never happened?

Holly, you have made some excellent points. If we see it through the eyes of WB then we could say we are all actors. Don't we put on a better face at work than at home sometime? Do we sometimes show more patience with others than with our own families? So then, are we actors? No we are human beings who all fall short. By the grace of God, he takes up the slack. I have seen those on relegious programs that come across as fake and insincere and I have seen those that "what you see is what you get." Doug B. and Danny S. are 2 examples of the latter.
WB has shown ill will toward 3abn and it's people for quite some time and every post she makes on the subject is tainted with innuendo, extreme speculation, and all the negativity that she can muster. Therefore, IMO, she can't be taken seriously when she is obviously so one sided.

GAJ, the accused, directly says he did not make the call.

steffan says he was told he did.

All may decide who to believe.

Perhaps so much emphasis has been paid to the proposed 3abn/AF merger because so much conflicting information was initially put out by all sides. There are a few of us out here who are trying to understand what is really happening.

Perhaps a lot of questions would not have been raised if the merger announcement had been delayed until more of the details were ironed out. But for some reason, it was deemed important to get the preliminary merger info out before that was done. Why that was raises even more questions.

Eirene,

It is important because someone who claims to know Doug and even knows what Doug thinks about some issues has claimed that Gailon made that call. If he is bearing false witness that shows something of his character and what he is willing to do to support his opinions. Steffan, himself, has made a big deal of it, repeating it numerous times.

And why would Steffan's credibility be in question and not Gailon's? Gailon could be telling the truth and the person that told Steffan could have been mistaken or not. Either way, I hardly think Steffan would have purposely lied over something that doesn't amount to anything. If you would spend as much time checking on Gailon's credibility in hundreds of statements, as you have one remark of Steffan's, we might get somewhere. Since this is such a major issue to you, why don't you just be patient and let's see if Doug takes any of Gailon's or Pickles calls in the future, then let's give Steffan the benefit of the doubt that IF he is wrong he was given wrong information and didn't lie, and let's always question any of Gailon's statements and stories since he has been proven wrong so many times before.

Subject: Answer for Common questions

Dear friend,
As expected, the historic announcement regarding plans to unite the ministries of Amazing Facts and 3ABN has generated a phenomenal response.
E-mails expressing support and praise to God have been pouring in. The miraculous, providential and rapid leading of God in this event has taken everyone by surprise.
"... and all the people rejoiced that God had prepared the people, since the events took place so suddenly" (2 Chr 29:36).
Naturally this exciting news has also raised many questions.
In response, Amazing Facts and 3ABN are working to provide a series of answers to many of the most common questions.
Because of the colossal, dynamic nature of this partnership, many organizational details still remain to be addressed. So we do not have all the answers at this point in time. Please continue checking the website for fresh updates and information as this incredible development unfolds.
Thank you again for your words of support and encouragement and please continue to pray that God will mightily bless this united effort to proclaim the good news!

Yes, in hindsight it probably would have been wise for all sides to wait and see how things developed before launching into dialogue and debate, but that is not what happened. The very manner in which the merger was announced made that route pretty much of an impossibility.

Dear Aletheia,

Johann Thorvaldsson served faithfully as a Seventh-day Adventist pastor for more than 50 years. He came to 3ABN as the European Marketing director with impressive credentials. He was, and is, well-regarded in his homeland. Frankly, he was the best person for the 3ABN marketing job.

Therefore, I really can't agree with you on your comments about the constant maligning and vilifying. I really don't think you're going to be able to make your labels stick to Johann, Aletheia, so you might as well refrain from attempting to do so; You're just wasting your time, even if you think you're talking past the posters here, to some unseen lurkers beyond.

Jesus Christ warned those He knew were not doing the right thing, and he always spoke in unsubstantiated parables. His listeners could take them or leave them.

Even then they said it was difficult to understand. . .

So because he was a pastor, he is above all this? C'mon....I have known many pastors that held grudges, were guilty of gossip and making false allegations and made it their job to tear down people or ministries that they didn't approve of.
Johann has condemned himself with his posts over the past how many months. Of course he has maligned, accused and labeled people as what he wants them to be.
So, no, I see no reason for Aletheia to "refrain" from telling the truth.

Oh come on Clay, even you have to wonder how the icelander, Johann has convieniently been there or been a witness to every single event or happening which has to do with Linda which is brought up on this forum... She is indeed blessed to have him as her sole witness to so many things, why he even claimed to be with her in the hotel room with the Doctor, and to have been cut out of photographs of her and the Doctor together, claims to have "together" bought a "ugly cheap, oddly shaped watch, which he didn't like" (his words not mine) and claimed that he and the doctor together gave it to Linda thinking it an appropriate gift for her. and.... when she flew to Norway before the ink was dry on her divorce to see the Doctor, guess what? Johann was there also...

I am new around here and know nothing about you but you sound like one angry chick! I have been amazed at the lack of compassion and respect for those who are trying to get to the truth. What has happened to values and the belief in diligently searching for answers to questions that are out there for all to see? When we are told to stop questioning and just blindly believe because of the demonstration of power here or there or maybe a prominant person is telling us it is not as it appears but there is a real answer but I am sorry I cannot tell you what that might be then I say STOP and do not go there and do not follow and do not support!

All of this brings to mind so many Biblical examples.....

We are to be fruit inspectors and I am sorry if I offend you but you lack in some of the Fruit of the Spirit department.

I'm thinking you have not received your email today on what to and not to say. this is exactly what Johann menat in his post. You might no want to talk about what Linda did before the ink dried on the divorce papers. We do know that she did not get married before it was dry, like some other folks we know.....As the saying goes, "if you live in a glass house....."

Oh yeah, and you have just one more time to refer to Johann by anything else but his name. You don't need any descriptors, we all know who he is, and we don't have two by the same name.

Then you need to repent and stop doing all those things.....right? However, the thing to which you should pay attention in R4H post is that they have read many posts here and have found you to sound angry, and they don't know you from a can of paint(thanks again Sis, Kevin), but that comes through enough in your posts for them to pick it up. That in and of itself should give you pause about the road you are travelling.

And respectfully Diane, no, I disagree, not everyone (some of whom just wander in here to read, or follow the discussions regularly, or are members here) know that Johann (who claims he was always present with Linda in Illinois, USA, and in Norway, and that he is a witness to what was said or done, any time a argument of question arises about her is raised here on this forum) actually lives across the world from her, in Iceland.

have already done my diligent search for truth regarding what I am posting about.,
There is much I do not post about, for I haven't found or recieved the answers I am looking for yet...

As far as anger goes. Here's the deal. I shut off my computer when I am angry and walk away, and don't post.

So I know, and God knows that there is no anger in my posts. (altho they are always full of typos and misspellings)

If you all then, keep claiming to see what I know is not there, even after I have explained this before, I also know something else....

Not to trust your judgments.

Okay. I will certainly accept your explanation and I am glad that your search for truth is not done. Whew! That did concern me.

If what comes through in your posts is not anger, then perhaps what some are seeing from time to time is a mean-spiritedness. You are certainly not the only one who vents in a less than Christian way so don't think I am singling you out. There is just a noticable desperation that comes through in your posts at times.

I already tried to search also.

I don't want to argue back and forth over this kind of thing which has nothing to do with what I said anyway.

To clarify:

a strictly professional relationship, and having someone as "your very best friend" are two different things in most people's minds...

Let me get this clear, and understand what the problem is here. You are referring to me saying "the icelander, Johann"? Meaning I can not refer to Johann location as being from Iceland, which is what his profile says, as in an "Icelander" ever again, or I will be banned?

And respectfully Diane, no, I disagree, not everyone (some of whom just wander in here to read, or follow the discussions regularly, or are members here) know that Johann (who claims he was always present with Linda in Illinois, USA, and in Norway, and that he is a witness to what was said or done, any time a argument of question arises about her is raised here on this forum) actually lives across the world from her, in Iceland.

Please don't insult me intelligence, Cindy. You did not mean that as a service to those guests to BSDA who are unfamiliar with Johann. If they read, like everyone else, they will find out soon enough who is is. I'm not buying it!

What you hatin'? I don't even think that Johann presence at any event was ever in question. What is your point? He IS an eyewitness, and you have chosen to believe those were who not over him. You have the problem, not him.

As I said, what did I lie about? Fact: it was Johann who justified Linda's trip to see the Doctor immediatly following the divorce in June of 2004, and confirmed it for all in this forum, claiming he was her very best friend after Linda had been claiming for years that her relationship with the doctor was strictly proffesional. Danny as you know got married in March 2006, the ink was well dried by then.
If you want the link, I'll find it for you.

Danny got married March 2006 the day after thejudge upheld the 2004 divorce. He was not free to marry before that(well, period, but that's a whole 'nother subject). It was being contested, remember. Linda may well have gone to Norway to visit her friend the Dr., but she is yet and still not married to him. Then answer this also, why did she then contest the 2004 Guam divorce, especially you Danny is claiming she had a man? Do you see where the story you have been given has too many wholes in it? Now go back and get the right answers.

You know, Cindy, the more you speak, the more I believe that it is more the case that you have been lied to, and you just repeat what you have been told. When you came here you were looking ofr answers, you kind of wanted the short cut. However, most just told you to read. I beleive there were some who were more than happy to help you "find" the information for which you were searching, and interpret it for you also. And bygolly some of them were or were close to an "insider" or two. A few heartfelt PMS and phone calls, and maybe even a visit or two sealed the deal. Now they send you in here and you hold on to and defend what they have told you as if it is your life's blood. If ALL they say were true, tell me, what is it you would have to gain from this angry tirade you have been on since December? I am really curious, because you are a woman on a serious mission. If we didn't know better I would say Danny was your man. What is it, honestly? I really am not trying to be offensive, or funny, just really concerned at this point.

No, it just means that you need to check yourself again. The key word in your statement below is "all". Remember this first comment today about your posts containing anger was made by someone who doesn't know any of us here. So you can't dismiss this as being from one or two people or a groups who you fell dont' care for you anyway. It apparently is deeper than that.

O. K. You alone know whether or not you are angry.

I am personally willing to accept at face value any statement that you might make as to whether or not you are angry.

Now the question becomes as to how you present yourself. If others regulary claim that they see anger in you, you are presenting yourself in a manner that results in them seeing you as angry. That is something that you can change, if you want to change.

And respectfully Diane, no, I disagree, not everyone (some of whom just wander in here to read, or follow the discussions regularly, or are members here) know that Johann (who claims he was always present with Linda in Illinois, USA, and in Norway, and that he is a witness to what was said or done, any time a argument of question arises about her is raised here on this forum) actually lives across the world from her, in Iceland.

Please don't insult me intelligence, Cindy. You did not mean that as a service to those guests to BSDA who are unfamiliar with Johann. If they read, like everyone else, they will find out soon enough who is is. I'm not buying it!

What you hatin'? I don't even think that Johann presence at any event was ever in question. What is your point? He IS an eyewitness, and you have chosen to believe those were who not over him. You have the problem, not him.

As I said, what did I lie about? Fact: it was Johann who justified Linda's trip to see the Doctor immediatly following the divorce in June of 2004, and confirmed it for all in this forum, claiming he was her very best friend after Linda had been claiming for years that her relationship with the doctor was strictly proffesional. Danny as you know got married in March 2006, the ink was well dried by then.
If you want the link, I'll find it for you.

Danny got married March 2006 the day after thejudge upheld the 2004 divorce. He was not free to marry before that(well, period, but that's a whole 'nother subject). It was being contested, remember. Linda may well have gone to Norway to visit her friend the Dr., but she is yet and still not married to him. Then answer this also, why did she then contest the 2004 Guam divorce, especially you Danny is claiming she had a man? Do you see where the story you have been given has too many wholes in it? Now go back and get the right answers.

You know, Cindy, the more you speak, the more I believe that it is more the case that you have been lied to, and you just repeat what you have been told. am concerned also Di, for you because none of what you just wrote is true, that is why there is zero evidence to support, it, not even for not buying why I referred to Johann's location. I know why I did so, not you. You can't read my thoughts or motives or intents. That is arrogance Di, and dangerous.

t's just like I tried to tell PB, go ahead and put faith in your own thoughts, see what you want to see, but it vill not justify the false witness, nor the evil surmisings before God.

And that is all I have to say about it.

Yes that is what he said. Yet of the 3, the only very best friend who lives in Norway, is the Doctor and that's who I was referring to...
a strictly professional relationship, and having someone as "your very best friend" are two different things in most people's minds...

.et me try to put this down in as small spoons as I can find right now, so you can discern something that has not been revealed to you yet.

Here is the story of my life:

I was born and lived in Denmark 1933-1938

With my parents I moved to and lived in Iceland 1938-1948.

Attended missionary school in Norway 1948-1951

Church School teacher and acting Conference Youth Director 1951-1952

Attending Emmanuel Missionary College 1952-1954 (Walt Thompson was there too)

Academy Bible teacher Iceland 1954-1955

Back to USA for further studies 1955-1958

Pastor in Denmark 1958-1963

Missionary, Bible teacher, West Africa 1963-1967

Teacher Iceland 1967-1968

Pastor Faeroe Islands 1968-1969

Departmental Director Norway 1969-1974

Departmental Director, pastor, Denmark, 1974-2002. Some traveling, especially to Sweden where I did graduate work.

As a retiree worked as Director of European Development for 3ABN 2002-2004. Lived in Denmark, but traveled all over Europe including trips to USA and Norway, by the way. I was there when Linda and Brenda were there.

Moved back to Norway March 2004-2006. So we were there to receive Linda, who became like a daughter to us. Linda told us we were, at that time, her only friends because all others had abandoned her by orders of Danny. That is why I said we were her best friends, and she felt she had to come and visit us. Other very good friends were added later, and some old ones came back to her.

Moved to Iceland 2006, but spent also several months in Norway. I love Iceland, but I have spent about 60 years in other parts of the world.

Now that you see the whole picture, can you now see why I was at different places at different times, and I have done much traveling all of my life. I was really there at the times I told you before, not trying to kid you.

Scripture speaks of how we should think and how we should carry ourselves. You seem to have imagined that Awesumt has an interest in you. Obviously you have become vain in your imagination.

My humble observation and suggestion is this Aletheia. I suggest you keep your mind stayed on the topics of conversation and Jesus that way you will not hurt or, embarrass yourself, on the world wide web no less, hoping that somebody who doesn't, wants to be close to you.

Yes, you are reading it the wrong way.

Here is another observation since you have obviously missed where her foolishness began. Aletheias clearly suggesting that the brother is stalking her online is the low brow, yet we do not see you crying foul. His pointing out very clearly that her accusation is waaaay off base should be seen for what it is, his observations, of her foolish behavior.

If you folks would stay on topic and avoid the attempts to make low brow accusations to distract from the subject... making comments to simply draw attention to oneself simply to sidetrack the discussion then much of such comments could and would be avoided.

That's my suggestion to those of you who are good at using weapons of mass distraction.

C'mon....I have known many pastors that held grudges, were guilty of gossip and making false allegations and made it their job to tear down people or ministries that they didn't approve of.

I know a televangelist that's done that too.

QUOTE(Aletheia @ Apr 25 2007, 01:15 PM)

PB, I said nothing about my search for truth being done. I said:
I have already done my diligent search for truth regarding what I am posting about.,
There is much I do not post about, for I haven't found or recieved the answers I am looking for yet...

As far as anger goes. Here's the deal. I shut off my computer when I am angry and walk away, and don't post.
So I know, and God knows that there is no anger in my posts. (altho they are always full of typos and misspellings)

If you all then, keep claiming to see what I know is not there, even after I have explained this before, I also know something else....

Not to trust your judgments.

I'm sure that is not going to sit well with you, but that's just the way it is.

I find the statement regarding becoming angry and then shutting off the computer and walking away somewhat revealing. Although I know nothing about you I can detect anger issues in your postings..just the way you seem to feel the need to respond to others and what they are posting. Maybe it is at the urging of those who are standing behind you that you feel the need to be stirred up so. I have to believe that the real reason we are all here is to become more informed and to share vital information to reach the truth about the mess that is and has been going on. I was in the dark for too long and I am a person who likes to look at the facts. It was not that long ago that I was a faithful watcher and promoter of 3ABN..you could find me in the cheering section of 3ABN. watching it, promoting it..sending the checks. Then...a certain letter came to my home about Linda and the rumors began to fly! I was, even then, blindly thinking..well, the rumors must be right..she must be guilty..and then..doubt about it all crept in. Even with the doubt I am sad to say that although I was no longer in the cheering section neither was I found on the questioning side..I was in the middle which is popular but not where God wants me to be. I even cautioned someone who I saw climbing onto the limb..don't go there..not popular..not comfortable. Now I say we must seek the truth..without anger or hostility that we might not be found wanting. For me it is imperative!

Greetings Eirene and welcome to BlackSDA. Obviously you have your facts wrong so, I will attempt to help you as best I can.

Many of us, Awesumt included, have been members of one internet ministry or another for well over 10 years. And he, along with another 99 other charter members of BlackSDA, myself included, have been members here for over 5 years. So, it would stand to reason, if anyone is being followed around, it is Aletheia stalking him, not the other way around.

With that said, the lie (and it is a lie when it is NOT the truth) that Aletheia has stated and the lie you continue to perpetuate clearly suggests that your intent is malicious and simply designed to distract from the real issues discussed in each thread where said lie is introduced.

Finally, whether we should chalk this lie up to an over active imagination on Aletheias part or simple e wishful thinking is anyones guess but, rest assured, to continue to perpetuate this lie one must admit that ones intent is not at all to draw anyone to truth, which is found only in Christ Jesus.

Be Blessed

I've been away from the computer for a few days, so it was ... er ... nice ... to come back.

I note with interest who was willing to apologize for inflammatory statements, and who was not.

Anyone who has been stalked would never make that kind of accusation lightly. I haven't, but I'm married to someone who has.

I also believe that certain individuals posting here are not, and were never, after the truth. They came to post as a favor to 3ABN or they were hired to do so with money or something else (no idea what, but oh well).

If you find a particular item a person says which is blatantly false, or if you find them consistently trying to divert discussions from the real issues, or generally obfuscating, denigrating, and playa hating (thanks Mr. J), why should you believe anything they say at all--for example, that they're not in regular contact with the powers at the channel?

Aspects of these discussions do generate light, but from some quarters all we get is hot air.

Makes for fun reading!
... as far as anger goes ... that was about the first thing Christ preached against in Matthew. There's a place for righteous anger--but anger is like nitroglycerin, it has to be handled with extreme care. And when it comes to sinful anger, like any other kind of sin, trying to see it in ourselves is like trying to look at our own eyeballs without a mirror.

I say that as someone who assumes himself to be fairly angry much of the time.

Since you "edited" you post since yesterday, I will answer the additional comments. Anyone who sent abuse reports this week has not been answered. PM is down, even for Admins. I am not sure to which indicident you are referring with the stalking thing. Howver, there has been absolutely NO stalking incidents here at BSDA. Now I see that SE is giving us all a good lesson on stalking. Know that someone posting in opossition even to ALL you rposts is not stalking. If they disagree with ALL you posts, they can post as many times as you do.

Oh yeah, just woman to woman, all that " I heard" and "somebody told me" stuff is messy. If you have an opinion state it and stand on with your on two feet. Since it seems you were not here for that exchange, it should be of no conern to you, and you should be highly suspect of those rushing to "provide" you an opinion of people you don't know.

Now, I really want this to be the end of this as Kevin has apologized and the offending statememens have been removed.

Back on Topic, please Everyone!

May God bless you.
I'm asking all the rest of you to not chime in with snide remarks on this because i am being completely serious.

I am sure most of us understand the point you are trying to make but, bear this in mind mozart. By saying that you are completely serious and are showing concern for this sisters obvious anger issues, you are suggesting that others of us are not serious or concerned. That is not the case.

The fact that BlackSDA has been here, as a ministry for many years, and those of us with a history here have been ministering to people for all those years is an indication that many of us are serious and concerned for the souls of others. People have been ministered to since the beginning and will continue to be ministered to, from various placed on BSDA, not just in the 3abn threads.

Some of the observations and suggestions, by those of us who have expressed them. are not expressed lightly and hold no less weight than those of any other member. Those observations may not be "wanted" but that does not invalidate said observations.

Just thought y'all should be aware of this.

I'm not sure if I should be on this thread or the AF news release thread. I came across something that I find interesting. I was over on the 3abn site to see what was happening on 3abn live. Danny was not there it was CA and Pastor Gonzales. I started looking at the topics on the page and there were two about the merger. I clicked on one and then the other and both of them had only the info that Doug gave from Sacramento. It also had yesterday's update with the questions that were asked and answered. It starts with the original announcement out of Sacramento and then the announcement about all the e-mails they have gotten for support and then the questions. There was absolutley nothing by Danny. Doug's release after the announcement of the merger was posted twice. Doesn't that seem strange since it is on 3abn? I could understand if I was reading at Af's website to see only Doug. Yesterday I think it was, I went to 3abn and it had Danny's and Doug's annoucement about the merger. NOT TODAY!!! Could this mean something that is not being said?

I would post it here but I don't know how to do that. You can check out 3abn yourself. Tell me what you all think this means, if anything

As one who has experienced being stalked, first hand, I find it appalling that any woman would be so desperate as to lie, accusing anyone of that behavior, simply for attention and to distract from the op.

No need to apologize bro., my point was simply to note the facts.

Hi TB!!!
You are correct. I went and looked at the 3abn merger announcement and it is all from Amazing Facts. Don't know why there isn't a 3abn announcement. I wonder if yesterday's archives are available yet? Perhaps Cindy still has that archive web site address and could re-post it so we could check. If not, perhaps Search is working now.

Getting back to the original op. Do we really expect that this change will really "change" anything?

QUOTE(Observer @ Apr 19 2007, 01:19 PM)

Yesterday, April 18, Elder Doug Batchelor, of Amazing Facts, addressed the Board of the Sacramento Central SDA Church in regard to some changes in his duties. As I write this, Elder Batchelor is in flight to the HQ of 3-ABN, where in a special TV program, these changes will be announced. Then tomorrow, Elder Batchelor will fly back to Sacramento to preach Sabbath.

These changes have been approved by the President of the General Conference, the President of the NAD, ASI, and the Executive Board of 3-ABN.

Danny Shelton is resigning from his position as President of 3-ABN. I do not know, at this point what continued role Danny Shelton will have in the administration of 3-ABN. He is expected to announce today, that he wants to have more free time to devote to however he wants to spend his time.

Elder Doug Batchelor will become President of 3-ABN.

The two ministries are expected to continue but under the united leadership of Elder Batchelor.

Addition to my post:

I just got off of the telephone from talking to Molly at 3-ABN.

She confirms the basic story that I have posted.

In regard to my question as to whether or not Danny Shelton will step down as President, she tells me that Danny has informed the Board that he wants to step down. As she understands it, a final decision has not been made as to whether or not Danny would step down.

Without revealing my source, I suspect that Danny Shelton and Dough Batchelor have reached an agreement on this, which Molly may not be aware of, and that my announcement that he was resigning as President is correct.

As your wife was obviously upset by this, I apologise to her as well for not making myself clearer.
Mostly I ignore you, as I am sure you have noticed, but I answered you that day hoping to appeal to your conscience.

Once again your imagination has gotten the better of you. It is not within your graps to upset either of us. Had I been upset, as an example, the smilies I used would have been more along the lines of blc or instead of the ones I actually used. Please do not project in our direction because it is useless.

And again you have gone back to focusing on yourself and not the topic at hand. Please leave your weapons of mass distraction at the door.

No... that is not what you said... you and Eirene said I was stalking you... which implies a threat of assault.. sexual or otherwise... as for my responding to your posts... I do so... because I can... and because it's my prerogative. If you wish me to not respond to your posts, you would be better served to talk to people in PM or via email where you know only those who are in agreement with you will both read and respond.

Do unto others as you would have them do unto you... you want people when they reply to you to post "on topic"... yet you never do. All of your posts are about posters and not the content of posts.... because you can only attack posters' persons... because you are not a witness... to anything. You cannot speak to what happened on a certain day at a certain time because you werent there and you werent involved... but rather than acknowledge that you truly don't know you try to dredge up every and anything you can and if you have no facts, you will use rumor and innuendo and anything else to attack people... because you are ill equipped to deal with ideas.

Like I said before... if hypocrisy were the Kentucky Derby, you'd be Secretariat.

I suppose the crocodile tears are next...

The crux of the matter is in Matthew chapter 7... for by the measure you mete it shall be measured to you again. Treat people the way you want to be treated... you have not even been given a tenth of what you have have done to people since you came here and you are crying and complaining about how much you dont like it... if you dislike it so much, why is it your tactic of choice and why do you not have a problem when it is you on the giving end and di or Linda or Pickle or Gailon or Duane or anyone else who does not accept your version as either factual or valid.

As I said before... dont start none, wont be none

Period.

But the mods here are not going to let you throw stones at people while they prevent those people from throwing them back at you. Here they will come back at you... and as this post of yours makes it plain...you've discovered the ones throwing them back at you have better aim than you do... and when they hit you, they hurt more.

Most people realizing that would choose a different game... but it's on you one way or the other.

Your move.

In His service,

heard them say in the 3ABN Live that Mollie was in attendance at the meeting where they decided to have he merger. This would have been prior to the announcement. Well, even if that were true (how would I know?), that doesn't mean she believed it. I can't remember how long ago she said the dream was. I believe in precognitive dreams, but sometimes it takes awhile to sink in what just happened.

Of course, I also believe they're perfectly capable of making that stuff up to add the divine stamp-of-approval to half-baked ideas. But that last phrase was my point--it adds to the evidence that this merger was a PR facelift/smokescreen, not a detailed plan.

In my own limited investigations, I have heard the word "if' said too many times for this to be a done deal as Danny described it. In fact, If you click here>>>>>>>>http://www.nadadventist.org/, You will find in the lower left hand corner an explanation of the status. Here is just a portion(emphasis mine):

"Amazing Facts and Three Angels Broadcasting Network (3ABN) announced on April 19 plans to unite the two international Christian media ministries. The boards of directors of both ministries are exploring the venture, which will join both ministries under a new board and create a more efficient and economical platform for global evangelism, according to Amazing Facts president Doug Batchelor. "

You might find what is almost missing of interest also.

Well, even if that were true (how would I know?), that doesn't mean she believed it. I can't remember how long ago she said the dream was. I believe in precognitive dreams, but sometimes it takes awhile to sink in what just happened.

Of course, I also believe they're perfectly capable of making that stuff up to add the divine stamp-of-approval to half-baked ideas. But that last phrase was my point--it adds to the evidence that this merger was a PR facelift/smokescreen, not a detailed plan.
Day of? That's what I heard about her finding out.

Is my memory correct, or not, that when CA Murray recounted his dream, he mentioned Mollie sitting at the long table, at that meeting in Colorado?

CA Murray mentioned a woman that he did not recognize. Danny expanded on the sitting arrangement and said that the woman who CA did not recognize was Colleen.

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ Dr. Arild Abrahamsen Speaks Out For Himself And Linda

Posted by: Johann Jul 13 2006, 07:12 AM

Arild Abrahamsen has long prayed sanity and truth would prevail, and that Walt Thompson and/or Danny Shelton would come to their senses. So he has kept silent these past two years. Now that Linda is still being persecuted and she is prevented from pursuing the ministry God has called her to do, he feels obliged to reveal his part of the story.

He has written his long letter, and only a few technicalities prevent these from being copied to this thread.

Stay tuned and watch out for his story right here.

Posted by: Johann Jul 13 2006, 01:29 PM

Many have indicated a desire to hear from Dr. Arild Abrahamsen in person.
He has prepared this document, sent it to me, and asked me to post it here for him, with no changes in his wording. I am therefore doing this.
Since it is rather lengthy, we are dividing it into small sections, so as to make it easier for any of you who wish to comment or ask questions on any section to do so. I am not adding any comments to his words other than one line at the top of each segment giving the identifying information as to the author and which section of his document is in that post.

Permission is granted by the author to copy and share this document so long as the document is used in its entirety without interior comments, deletions, or editing, and the author's name, place, and date of writing as well as the url of this BSDA forum on which it is being published are included.

Letter from Dr. Abrahamsen, June 20, 2006, Section One.

Greetings from Norway;

My name is Dr. Arild Abrahamsen. I live in Svindal, Norway. I have been a medical doctor for more than 35 years. I am a member of the Moss SDA Church. I've been the Sabbath School superintendent for 14 years and the head elder for 4 years, which position I am presently serving. I am the Norwegian doctor who has been slandered by Dr. Walt Thompson, chairman of the board of 3ABN, Danny Shelton, John Lomacang and others.

Since I have observed the situation and the slander only getting worse, I feel it best to share my experience. I share my personal experience, what I have seen and heard. Much of this information has been verified by other sources, which include emails, letters and the personal experiences of others. I share my experience not to attack any individual or organization, but to bring the truth of this situation to the surface.

I have been shocked to observe the events of the last two years. I have made no public statement until now. I had hoped things would resolve themselves.

I visited Johann and Irmgard Thorvaldsson at 3ABN the last week of 2003. The purpose of the trip was to see them and visit the ministry, which I personally had been supporting for some time. I had never been to 3ABN previously, nor had I met the Shelton's. During this visit I discovered from the Thorvaldsson's that Linda Shelton's son, Nathan, was in a dangerous state of health because of an addiction to drugs and working in coalmines. I offered to see him. This visit resulted in an invitation for Nathan to come to Norway for treatments. Nathan came to Norway around January 20, 2004 along with his friend, Dava Vice. Linda came for a 3-½ day visit to support her son, the first week of February together with Brenda Walsh. This was the last time I saw Linda until the weekend she was fired.

I had a chance to visit with Nathan regularly. I learned from my conversations with Nathan that the roots of his drug problems were the relationships with his father and stepfather. Specifically he told me that Danny had turned his back on him. I shared this information with his mother on the phone. She told me that Danny said he had no responsibility towards Nathan since he was a product of her first marriage, so she felt she had to do what she could to help her son. There was nothing unusual in the occasional phone reports I gave Nathan's mother while he was in Norway. After Nathan returned home, I asked Linda to keep me updated on Nathan's progress.

Letter from Dr. Abrahamsen, June 20, 2006, Section Two

I was shocked to discover in early March of 2004 that Danny was threatening to get Linda fired from 3ABN because of some conversations on the phone. In fact, she was threatened immediately with divorce. By this time Nathan had started with drugs again and Linda was seeking advice. I was also shocked to discover that Brenda had started circulating untrue statements as well. (Was it because Danny had admitted to some emotional involvement with Brenda?) I talked to Danny one time on the phone and found him to be unreasonable, unbalanced and very difficult to communicate with. Johann Thorvaldsson, a retired pastor of the SDA Church of 50 years, also was in communication with Danny, both by phone and email. We talked together and shared the same opinion that Danny was acting completely irrational and unreasonable towards his wife. It appeared he was attempting to leave an email trail filled with untruths to verify a position at a later time. The decision was made to stop the communication by phone with Linda.

Some weeks went by. Johann and Irmgard were getting treatments at my clinic and staying in my home during the Easter week in April, so I discovered from them that the situation was not improving for Linda. She was being harassed, threatened, and unreasonable demands by her husband were repeatedly being made to confess things she had not done. By this time, she was also suspended from her job at 3ABN, an order that was issued and enforced by her husband with no Board action. Things were so bad in the home that she found it necessary to go to her daughter's home in Springfield, Illinois for safety and rest on several occasions. Derrell Mundall, who was traveling often for 3ABN, reports rumors of Linda's so-called "affair" were in SDA churches in April 2004, when Linda was still living with Danny. When he inquired about the source of the rumors, people always pointed to Danny Shelton.

I could see from my 35 years of experience as a physician that Danny was a psychopath. Accusations were directed at me that I had done "mind control" over Linda. (Walt Thompson made the same accusations in his letters.) Linda was accused of sending "secret messages" to me over the television. Danny's emails and communications with Johann were completely crazy, and his reasoning often conflicted with his previous emails. Danny targeted Linda's few inner circle onfidants and slandered her to the point that even they backed away from her at this critical time. (Linda's "friends" did not want to lose their television privileges.) Johann and I concluded this was a man who was determined to get rid of his wife. We also concluded that Linda was in danger.

Things eventually progressed from emotional and mental abuse to physical abuse. In the midst of all this harassment Linda asked Danny, 'Why are you treating me like this?' He answered, 'Because I want you to get out.'

I appreciate you posting this but I have a couple of questions? If nothing happened as Danny says, did Linda and the Dr. ever have a relationship after the fact? Also, what happened to Danny's ex son in law? Why did him and Melody divorce? Was he also fired from 3ABN? Or was he too uncomfortable to work there?

This is mighty powerful, first-hand information. Thanks for posting it, Johann.

Linda denies ever having a relationship with Dr. A, of the nature of which she has been accused. As to the other questions regarding Melody, and her ex-husband, Johann knows more about that than I do.

Yes, this is indeed mighty first hand information!

I believe you have just persuaded me to end much of the skepticism I had and get off the fence. I had been waiting and wanting to hear from the Norwegian doctor that treated Linda's son. It is hard for me to believe that Johann would fabricate this story. This side of the story needs to get out. Daryl, Gregory Matthews, Atoday, you need to point your members here to this story or get Johann's permission publish it at your place.

Johann, thank you for choosing BSDA as the media to get this side of the story out. My heart goes out to anyone who has been wronged and abused. Glad BSDA could help.

I'm SO glad the truth is coming out! Keep it coming, Dr. A!

Posted by: Denny Jul 14 2006, 08:00 AM

When the gag is lifted Linda's story will be just as interesting. I have a feeling she may not say anything for the good of the 3ABN ministry but then maybe her friends can persuade her to defend herself and counter the other stories. We have this attitude in our church of not showing our dirty linen and those who dirty the linen get away with it over and over again.
I'm going to show this to the people I know watch 3ABN up to now I haven't said anythng regarding whats being said here.
I doubt it will make any difference most of them are older conservative West Indian Adventists (generally that mind set finds it hard to find anything connected to Adventism to be at fault)

And, speaking for all concerned, thank you BSDA for setting up this convenient place to which all can come to become informed.

As for permissions, do note the statement at the top of segment one, which applies to the whole document, which was cut into segments for ease of on-line readers who might want to respond to a specific point.

I'm sure Arild is pleased to learn that he is helping you "get off the fence". And just think, this is only segment two. There are five more to go.

Stay tuned.

Calvin,

I noticed that Johann also posted the segments of this letter over at Club Adventist with the exact wording and conditions as stated here, however, Johann did post it there without giving a URL to this topic, therefore, I have invited Johann to also post it over at MSDAOL.

And, yes, Calvin, this definitely makes it clear that something really is rotten in the state of Denmark, as Shakespeare would say.

Letter from Dr. Abrahamsen, June 20, 2006, Section Three.

Considering the urgency of the situation I allowed the conversations to resume. Linda knew, with her high profile status, that confiding with local people regarding these issues would be very bad for the ministry. I had given counsel to people in difficulty in the past and felt I could be helpful from a distance in this situation. I encouraged Linda to fight for her marriage and ministry many times. This she really did, but she often had to leave her home to find refuge at her daughter's apartment in Springfield, even in the middle of the night because of Danny's behavior. At times like these she was afraid of him. She always returned to her home after a couple of days seeking to try to mend the marriage, but Danny would not allow this.

During the spring of 2004 Danny called my pastor in Norway. Danny tried to get me kicked out as an elder and as a member of the church. My pastor told me about the conversation and he said, "He is mentally sick, he needs professional help."

I find it very disturbing that Walt Thompson defended and continues to defend Danny although he was a witness repeatedly to the emotional and mental abuse that was taking place. At one point he witnessed Danny "trashing" his wife for five hours. I also find it disturbing that John Lomacang, Linda's former pastor, claims to have counseled extensively with Danny and Linda when this was far from the truth. During the months of April and May of 2004, when most of the activity was occurring in this situation, Linda NEVER saw John, who was supposed to be her pastor.

Coincidentally the handful of people supporting Danny and defending his actions has gained either power, position, airtime, homes, public endorsement or all of the above.

Is it being suggested that Danny Shelton may have bipolar disorder and that this is reason for his choices over the past few years?

Will Dr. Abrahamsen be willing to do an interview here at BSDA related to what is presented in the letter?

The other question that I have related to the letter posted (in segments) is will/has the doctor formally sent the letter to:

1. NAD
2. 3ABN Board of Directors
3. All persons mentioned in the letter

I have placed the 3ABN topics into a forum that all Seventh-day Adventists can read.

Even though it is very public here, I prefer not to open it to the whole world there.

I also think Club Adventist isn't opening it up for the whole world to read either.

When Linda was fired by 3ABN she suddenly was without any medical insurance. Before the divorce she went to see a physician together with Danny, and he discovered something that had to be taken care of. Since she had no insurance Dr. Arild Abrahamsen offered to give her treatments without any charge. So Linda, and my wife, Irmgard, were often together in his treatment room - and Linda was also present at her funeral in the Adventist Church, Bergen, Norway. On that occasion Linda came forward and expressed her gratitute for Irmgard remaining a friend when all others abandoned her.

As for Danny's ex-son-in-law, there is coming something about him in another section. His story is so sad that he might not feel comfortable if I tell too much. I'll ask him privately how much he will let me give you of his story and encounter with the Shelton family.

)r. A has stated, "I could see from my 35 years of experience as a physician that Danny was a)sychopath." Bipolar disorder and being a psychopath are two very different conditions.

would say the following is a better discription of Danny Shelton's condition than biopolar disorder:

The standard clinical test for psychopathy, Robert Hare's PCL-R, evaluates 20 personality traits overall, but a ;ubset of eight traits defines what he calls the "corporate psychopath" — the nonviolent person prone to the selfish, callous, and remorseless use of others." What environment is conducive for the attributes of a corporate psychopath" to combine with those of a "charismatic psychopath"? "Charismatic Psychopaths are :harming, attractive liars. They are usually gifted at some talent or another, and they use it to their ıdvantage in manipulating others. They are usually fast-talkers, and possess an almost demonic ability to)ersuade others out of everything they own, even their lives. Leaders of religious sects or cults, for example, night be psychopaths... often they come to believe in their own fictions. They are irresistible." Unfortunately, ndependent ministries, without external accountability, can become the ideal environment for this type of ndividual to prosper.

I am one of those non-Adventists and I surely appreciate being able to read this and get the truth of this situation since I have long had suspicions. I agree with Calvin, that it is your decision, Daryl, ultimately. However, I still think there are good people in the Adventist Church who cannot participate in perpetuating a lie.

In addition, non-adventist Christians must also wonder what happened to that Adventist woman with that dog, Fluffy.

Uniqueness is overrated.....

your forum and CA use the same or similiar software for the board? Your forum and CA choose to hide the info on 3abn so the "public" won't see it... while those two things don't make carbon copies, it is interesting....

Maybe its an adventist thing to hide the flaws and not discuss those issues unless they are glaring... otherwise deny, deny, deny..... just an observation..

There would be no reason to waste your time on the 3ABN Board of Followers . They are followers, Johann. They direct nothing that I can see.

The Chairman of the 3ABN Board of Followers is, most likely, at the point where he can no longer entertain any other versions than the ones he has allowed to be published under his name.

Letter from Dr. Abrahamsen, June 20, 2006, Section Four

At one point I had a conversation with Walt Thompson, Chairman of the Board of 3ABN. He asked me to stop all communication with Linda. This had also been communicated to Johann and Irmgard Thorvaldsson and others. I told him that it was obviously Danny's plan to isolate Linda from everyone at a time when she needed help. To me it was the Christian thing to answer her phone calls and the only humane thing to do for someone who was in crisis. Others did not come to Linda's aid because they did not want to lose whatever benefit they gained from 3ABN, whether it be a job, programming, promotions, etc. Walt was also the one who phoned Linda when she was suspended from the ministry by her husband. He instructed her that she must not come to the ministry (which she co-founded) without calling ahead of time because she must be supervised when at 3ABN. Danny broke into a locked bathroom to forcefully take her keys to 3ABN from her. Her hard drive of her computer was confiscated, her contact information taken and even her filing cabinets ravaged, all without any kind of Board action.

Linda was living in an impossible situation. Danny was "in her face" on a regular basis. At times he would say, "If you don't say you're a pathological liar, the marriage and 3ABN is over. If you don't say you're an adulterous woman the marriage and 3ABN is over for you. If you don't say you've given your heart to another man and that he is a demon the marriage and 3ABN is over..... etc." It even reached the point when he demanded her to say "Repeat after me." Johann and I received a couple emails, which said they were from Linda, but they were written by Danny. Linda saw her ministry being destroyed one day at a time. All of this was dehumanizing and terrifying to Linda, who was trying to hold things together. She very much realized what was at stake.

An "investigative committee" was put together by Walt Thompson to look into this situation. They were Walt Thompson, Bill Hulsey, Nick Miller and Kay Kuzma. Danny talked privately at length with each of these people. Linda did not. The committee as a whole never met with Linda at all. In one brief phone conversation with Kay Kuzma she told Linda, "The Board is not interested in you and Danny's personal problems. It is only interested in the fact that the President no longer wants his Vice-President." Johann Thorvaldsson testifies that he spoke with Kay the following day. She told him she was instructed to get Linda used to the idea of not being at 3ABN anymore and to try to get her involved in another ministry.

It's interesting that at the time Danny accused Linda for speaking on the phone to me, that he was in the practice of speaking regularly with Brenda, Linda's "friend." He also visited often with her in her 3ABN apartment in the night. A worker at 3ABN states that Brenda even went golfing with Danny behind Linda's back while she was working. As soon as Brenda saw where the tide was turning, she was no longer Linda's friend. She became an accuser as well.

About May 1, 2004 instructions were given to the production staff to wipe Linda's face off of the network by June 1, again with no Board action. All CD's, videos, literature and photos of Linda were stripped out of the Call Center. She was sent a document a few days later specifying that she was advised to get 30 days of counseling by counselors of "their" choice. If she did not agree to this in writing within 24 hours, her employment could be gone. She requested time for an attorney to look at the document. This was refused. Mail was flooding into the network with Linda's name on it. They were all returned to sender. Her scheduled speaking appointments for women's ministries were sabotaged by those in leadership at 3ABN.

Danny told those who worked for Linda that she was a pathological liar and to stay away from her. (He did not want them to hear the other side of the story.) At one point Linda told Walt that Dan was purposefully ruining her reputation and that she was not willing to be a martyr for 3ABN. Walt's response was "How else are we going to save the ministry?"

Stay tuned for another section of this letter - later

Letter from Dr. Abrahamsen, June 20, 2006, Section Two
. We also concluded that Linda was in danger.

Things eventually progressed from emotional and mental abuse to physical abuse. In the midst of all this harassment Linda asked Danny, 'Why are you treating me like this?' He answered, 'Because I want you to get out.'

My husband and I were talking about this. He mentioned the times that Linda was allegedly attacked by a dog. He was speculating about possible physical abuse from Danny.

This man (Danny Shelton) sounds EXTREMELY DANGEROUS! He appears to be a BULLY and those who are his verbal and silent supporters affirm his behavior or his misbehavior. They are co-conspirators or bystanders (supporters) of this madness.

I'M FURIOUS!!!!!!

Daryl, you may have the rest of this particular document posted at MSDAOL, but I am sure that your members who do not have access to the hidden 3ABN threads do not know the rest of this story. Even those priviliged few who have access still need to play catch up to have a fraction of the information that Calvin has allowed us to post at BSDA. Perhaps you might like to inform them where they can freely read the rest of the story, without censorship?

This is not the only true account that Johann has posted. But it is a very important revelation of first person testimony. He has also shared his personal interactions with Danny in other threads. Like a tapestry all the information woven together give a more complete picture of the reality of life under the absolute rulership of Danny Shelton, behind the scenes at 3ABN. Linda is only one victim, there are many more. And I am sure, if she were allowed to speak at this time, she would desire to see all Danny's victims vindicated.

QUOTE

About May 1, 2004 instructions were given to the production staff to wipe Linda's face off of the network by June 1, again with no Board action. All CD's, videos, literature and photos of Linda were stripped out of the Call Center. She was sent a document a few days later specifying that she was advised to get 30 days of counseling by counselors of their" choice. If she did not agree to this in writing within 24 hours, her employment could be gone. She requested time for an attorney to look at the document. This was refused. Mail was flooding into the network with Linda's name on it. They were all returned to sender. Her scheduled speaking appointments for women's ministries were sabotaged by those in leadership at 3ABN.

Danny told those who worked for Linda that she was a pathological liar and to stay away from her. (He did not want them to hear the other side of the story.) At one point Linda told Walt that Dan was purposefully ruining her reputation and that she was not willing to be a martyr for 3ABN. Walt's response was "How else are we going to save the ministry?"

Rumors of Linda's so-called "affair" were flying throughout the churches and the General Conference in May of 2004, rumors which were begun by her husband. It was communicated to me that Linda was going to be fired at the Board meeting, which would occur in May, following the 3ABN camp meeting.
Johann and I decided to go to the camp meeting and talk to the Board members and tell them the truth about the situation. When we walked into the 3ABN building we were surrounded by about 10 people. One person stood directly behind me for the entire service. Walt Thompson and Nick Miller (3ABN's attorney) asked us to leave. We stayed until nearly the end of the service. (At this camp meeting an announcement was made regarding Linda. There were tearful appeals by Danny, which raised a record-breaking amount of money for 3ABN. Danny also claims that an additional two million dollars was raised the year of their divorce.) When Johann and I went to the door, once again we were followed by a small crowd of people. I spoke to Mark Finley about the situation at length in the parking lot. John Lomacang tried to stop the conversation. He said 'It is not good for you to talk to him alone.' What was he afraid of? He was standing with me when Danny drove up and said that if I returned to camp meeting I would be arrested and thrown in jail. He had already talked to the Sheriff. I decided to not return, as it was Mark Finley's suggestion to avoid the possibility of disrupting the camp meeting for all of the people attending. Linda was staying in her daughter's apartment in Springfield, so we drove there on Saturday to stay in a hotel for the weekend. During this weekend we were followed by three private investigators all the time. What kind of actions was that, for a man that REALLY wanted to save his marriage?

It is my understanding that a one-sided conversation was illegally taped by Danny towards the end of May. With a mind set on framing his wife, her words have been misconstrued into saying what he wants people to think. She mentions a trip to Las Vegas. He explains to all that she is planning a rendezvous with "the doctor." In reality for weeks he has offered Linda larger and larger sums of money for her to go to Las Vegas and stay with her mother for six weeks to acquire residency, a requirement for couples that want a quick divorce. For weeks she refused. SHE NEVER WANTED A DIVORCE.

The events of the previous months eventually bring her to the place where she thinks this is maybe what she should do. She knew a separation was necessary. Danny takes her words from the phone call and adds his insinuations. He makes photo copies of her one sided conversation and distributes it. This is his main source of "proof" for his actions and re-marriage. They call it circumstantial evidence." To further cover their tracks Linda's accusers say that for her sake they don't want to tell "all she has done." They say this so people will accept their statements and imagine the worst. This is slander of the worst kind all coming from professed Christians.

Johann says he was fired from 3ABN for refusing to attest to something false Danny wanted him to put in writing about Linda. Derrell Mundall, Danny's ex-son-in-law, says he was given the option to resign or be fired because of his actions defending Linda. Others quit their jobs because they could not support the actions of the leaders. There is one thing many of these people have in common. Anyone who disagrees with Danny is slandered and discredited.

It's interesting that Danny's daughter recently was found to be pregnant out of wedlock. A quick wedding followed when Derrell, (her ex-husband & father of their four children), claims she had no grounds for re-marriage. It's also interesting that nobody asked Derrell about the issue of grounds at all when he was still a resident in Thompsonville. Also another married Shelton family member had a romantic encounter recently with a married employee of 3ABN. They were instructed to keep it quiet. They did. They all still work at 3ABN, and Melody is featured on the network. Is 3ABN all about standing for principle and values, or standing for those who happen to be in good graces with the President and the Shelton family ?

Another question that seems to be in the minds of many is "Why was Linda given $240,000 when all claim she was fired for a wrongdoing?" The only reason Linda signed this 3ABN contract was because she needed money to escape from a very irregular, abusive and impossible situation. Danny forced her to sign not only this contract, but another contract which sold him her half of their joint-owned home the same day.

Linda has suffered much emotional trauma and humiliation from all of this. She still has nightmares about these events. She did not feel ready to face the people of the SDA church for six months after all of this occurred. I encouraged her to begin again. She went for the first time around the end of November of 2004 in Springfield. The people welcomed her. She requested her membership to be transferred out of the Thompsonville church into the Springfield church in December of 2004. The Springfield pastor had previously worked at 3ABN and knew Linda. He did not believe the rumors and encouraged the church to put her to work. It was a healing time for her to teach Sabbath School and occasionally preach.

In June of 2005 things changed. Pastor Grady was transferred out of the Springfield church, although he wanted to stay, and a pastor from 3ABN was moved into the church. Within two weeks John Stanton met with Linda and told her she would be doing nothing on the platform. She told him that the church really needed the help and she hoped that if she was asked once in two months to teach a Sabbath School class that she would be able to do this. He told her that the orders had come from the conference level. (The Illinois conference President sits on 3ABN's Board and his parents work for 3ABN.) During our visit to the General Conference Session Johann and I visited with this pastor. He told us he thought Linda was a liar. I TOLD HIM THAT LINDA HAD NEVER BEEN UNFAITHFUL TO HER HUSBAND and that all the rumors from her husband were lies. But this man had TV interests to pursue and he was in close connection with Danny and John Lomacang.

The last week of October 2005, a letter came to Linda from John Lomacang, the pastor of the Thompsonville (3ABN) church. It stated that the church board had voted "to call a church business session to recommend to the church that you be placed under censure." Linda called John to ask him why.
He said it was because she had abandoned her marriage and ministry, which led to her divorce. (This is what Danny refers to as "grounds" to re-marry.) Linda planned to address the church business meeting. She wrote to Danny requesting a release from the restrictions of the contract she signed so she could openly share her side of the story. Danny denied this request. Because of this she felt forced to drop her membership there and then join another SDA church. This decision was made after much counsel with several SDA's. It's interesting that this recommendation for censure came almost 18 months after the fact. (Which kind of practice is this? Special for USA?) It's also interesting that all of this occurred while Danny was trying to gather evidence against Linda so he could re-marry.

Danny Shelton and the leadership of 3ABN are responsible for using the ministry of 3ABN to bring character assassination to Linda and others. In Linda's case, television and radio announcements were made denouncing her character. There was an announcement on the front page of 3ABN's website for many months. About 180,000 letters about Linda were sent to the mailing list at 3ABN. Videos about her were made and distributed. Magazine articles were written and submitted. Mailings were made to church officials. Many calls were taken at 3ABN where slanderous remarks about Linda were given over the phone. Many letters containing completely false statements were sent to many individuals. Danny even made his personal email address available over 3ABN so people could write to him and obtain his side of the story. They did a thorough job of character assassination.

Now two years later the "trashing" continues. It is inexcusable, especially for a proclaimed Christian ministry.

In conclusion I want to clearly state that I have not committed adultery (emotional, physical, "spiritual"), and neither has Linda. The conversations we had were not unusual or inappropriate. Linda is the victim of domestic violence, only this has resulted in worldwide effects for our Church.

Linda has sought for help at the General Conference level. She has sought the aid of pastors. No one has an answer. She has tried repeatedly to meet with a committee from the Board of 3ABN. This request has not been granted. Still the bulk emails and letters flow from 3ABN slandering the innocent.

This has been the most ungodly situation I have observed in my entire life. Any who find themselves not in good graces with Danny Shelton will find that their name is discredited and slandered in an attempt to destroy their influence. Linda has suffered the most with the loss of her job, her influence and reputation. But many others, including myself, have felt the heat coming from what is supposed to be a ministry representing Jesus Christ. This is an outrage. This is unacceptable. Accountability of leaders is a must. (Can bad fruits come from good trees?) As Christians, it is our duty to demand accountability and a high standard from leaders. I hope this testimony will fulfill the mission intended.

Respectfully,

Dr. Arild Abrahamsen

I have been following this developing story for months. I think it has reached the point in which other ministries that use 3ABN for airtime should wake up and seriously consider pulling their programs off 3ABN and transferring to the HOPE Channel. The 3ABN scandal will cast it's shadow on other ministries by association once the general rank and file SDA membership get the true picture. I especially hope the people at Amazing Facts are paying attention.

For those who like to read the whole letter in one setting, here it is again:

June 20, 2006

Greetings from Norway;

My name is Dr. Arild Abrahamsen. I live in Svindal, Norway. I have been a medical doctor for more than 35 years. I am a member of the Moss SDA Church. I've been the Sabbath School Superintendent for 14 years and the head elder for 4 years, which position I am presently serving. I am the Norwegian doctor who has been slandered by Dr. Walt Thompson, chairman of the board of 3ABN, Danny Shelton, John Lomacang and others.

Since I have observed the situation and the slander only getting worse, I feel it best to share my experience. I share my personal experience, what I have seen and heard. Much of this information has been verified by other sources, which include emails, letters and the personal experiences of others. I share my experience not to attack any individual or organization, but to bring the truth of this situation to the surface.

I have been shocked to observe the events of the last two years. I have made no public statement until now. I had hoped things would resolve themselves.

I visited Johann and Irmgard Thorvaldsson at 3ABN the last week of 2003. The purpose of the trip was to see them and visit the ministry, which I personally had been supporting for some time. I had never been to 3ABN previously, nor had I met the Shelton's. During this visit I discovered from the Thorvaldsson's that Linda Shelton's son, Nathan, was in a dangerous state of health because of an addiction to drugs and working in coalmines. I offered to see him. This visit resulted in an invitation for Nathan to come to Norway for treatments. Nathan came to Norway around January 20, 2004 along with his friend, Dava Vice. Linda came for a 3-½ day visit to support her son, the first week of February together with Brenda Walsh. This was the last time I saw Linda until the weekend she was fired.

I had a chance to visit with Nathan regularly. I learned from my conversations with Nathan that the roots of his drug problems were the relationships with his father and stepfather. Specifically he told me that Danny had turned his back on him. I shared this information with his mother on the phone. She told me that Danny said he had no responsibility towards Nathan since he was a product of her first marriage, so she felt she had to do what she could to help her son. There was nothing unusual in the occasional phone reports I gave Nathan's mother while he was in Norway. After Nathan returned home, I asked Linda to keep me updated on Nathan's progress.

I was shocked to discover in early March of 2004 that Danny was threatening to get Linda fired from 3ABN because of some conversations on the phone. In fact, she was threatened immediately with divorce. By this time Nathan had started with drugs again and Linda was seeking advice. I was also shocked to discover that Brenda had started circulating untrue statements as well. (Was it because Danny had admitted to some emotional involvement with Brenda?) I talked to Danny one time on the phone and found him to be unreasonable, unbalanced and very difficult to communicate with. Johann Thorvaldsson, a retired pastor of the SDA Church of 50 years, also was in communication with Danny, both by phone and email. We talked together and shared the same opinion that Danny was acting completely irrational and unreasonable towards his wife. It appeared he was attempting to leave an email trail filled with untruths to verify a position at a later time. The decision was made to stop the communication by phone with Linda.

Some weeks went by. Johann and Irmgard were getting treatments at my clinic and staying in my home during the Easter week in April, so I discovered from them that the situation was not improving for Linda. She was being harassed, threatened, and unreasonable demands by her husband were repeatedly being made to confess things she had not done. By this time, she was also suspended from her job at 3ABN, an order that was issued and enforced by her husband with no Board action. Things were so bad in the home that she found it necessary to go to her daughter's home in Springfield, Illinois for safety and rest on several occasions. Derrell Mundall, who was traveling often for 3ABN, reports rumors of Linda's so-called "affair" were in SDA churches in April 2004, when Linda was still living with Danny. When he inquired about the source of the rumors, people always pointed to Danny Shelton.

I could see from my 35 years of experience as a physician that Danny was a psychopath. accusations were directed at me that I had done "mind control" over Linda. (Walt Thompson made the same accusations in his letters.) Linda was accused of sending "secret messages" to me over the television.

Danny's emails and communications with Johann were completely crazy, and his reasoning often conflicted with his previous emails. Danny targeted Linda's few inner circle confidants and slandered her to the point that even they backed away from her at this critical time. (Linda's "friends" did not want to lose their television privileges.) Johann and I concluded this was a man who was determined to get rid of his wife. We also concluded that Linda was in danger.

Things eventually progressed from emotional and mental abuse to physical abuse. In the midst of all this harassment Linda asked Danny, 'Why are you treating me like this?' He answered, 'Because I want you to get out.'

Considering the urgency of the situation I allowed the conversations to resume. Linda knew, with her high profile status, that confiding with local people regarding these issues would be very bad for the ministry. I had given counsel to people in difficulty in the past and felt I could be helpful from a distance in this situation. I encouraged Linda to fight for her marriage and ministry many times. This she really did, but she often had to leave her home to find refuge at her daughter's apartment in Springfield, even in the middle of the night because of Danny's behavior. At times like these she was afraid of him. She always returned to her home after a couple of days seeking to try to mend the marriage, but Danny would not allow this.

During the spring of 2004 Danny called my pastor in Norway. Danny tried to get me kicked out as an elder and as a member of the church. My pastor told me about the conversation and he said, "He is mentally sick, he needs professional help."

I find it very disturbing that Walt Thompson defended and continues to defend Danny although he was a witness repeatedly to the emotional and mental abuse that was taking place. At one point he witnessed Danny "trashing" his wife for five hours. I also find it disturbing that John Lomacang, Linda's former pastor, claims to have counseled extensively with Danny and Linda when this was far from the truth. During the months of April and May of 2004, when most of the activity was ccurring in this situation, Linda NEVER saw John, who was supposed to be her pastor.

Coincidentally the handful of people supporting Danny and defending his actions has gained either power, position, airtime, homes, public endorsement or all of the above.

At one point I had a conversation with Walt Thompson, Chairman of the Board of 3ABN. He asked me to stop all communication with Linda. This had also been communicated to Johann and Irmgard Thorvaldsson and others. I told him that it was obviously Danny's plan to isolate Linda from everyone at a time when she needed help. To me it was the Christian thing to answer her phone calls and the only humane thing to do for someone who was in crisis.

Others did not come to Linda's aid because they did not want to lose whatever benefit they gained from 3ABN, whether it be a job, programming, promotions, etc. Walt was also the one who phoned Linda when she was suspended from the ministry by her husband. He instructed her that she must not come to the ministry (which she co-founded) without calling ahead of time because she must be supervised when at 3ABN. Danny broke into a locked bathroom to forcefully take her keys to 3ABN from her. Her hard drive of her computer was confiscated, her contact information taken and even her filing cabinets ravaged, all without any kind of Board action.

Linda was living in an impossible situation. Danny was "in her face" on a regular basis. At times he would say, "If you don't say you're a pathological liar, the marriage and 3ABN is over. If you don't say you're an adulterous woman the marriage and 3ABN is over for you. If you don't say you've given your heart to another man and that he is a demon the marriage and 3ABN is over..... etc." It even reached the point when he demanded her to say "Repeat after me." Johann and I received a couple emails, which said they were from Linda, but they were written by Danny. Linda saw her ministry being destroyed one day at a time. All of this was dehumanizing and terrifying to Linda, who was trying to hold things together. She very much realized what was at stake.

An "investigative committee" was put together by Walt Thompson to look into this situation. They were Walt Thompson, Bill Hulsey, Nick Miller and Kay Kuzma. Danny talked privately at length with each of these people. Linda did not. The committee as a whole never met with Linda at all. In one brief phone conversation with Kay Kuzma she told Linda, "The Board is not interested in you and Danny's personal problems. It is only interested in the fact that the President no longer wants his Vice-President." Johann Thorvaldsson testifies that he spoke with Kay the following day. She told him she was instructed to get Linda used to the idea of not being at 3ABN anymore and to try to get her involved in another ministry.

It's interesting that at the time Danny accused Linda for speaking on the phone to me, that he was in the practice of speaking regularly with Brenda, Linda's "friend." He also visited often with her in her 3ABN apartment in the night. A worker at 3ABN states that Brenda even went golfing with Danny behind Linda's back while she was working. As soon as Brenda saw where the tide was turning, she was no longer Linda's friend. She became an accuser as well.

About May 1, 2004 instructions were given to the production staff to wipe Linda's face off of the network by June 1, again with no Board action.

All CD's, videos, literature and photos of Linda were stripped out of the Call Center. It is my understanding that a one-sided conversation was illegally taped by Danny towards the end of May. With a mind set on framing his wife, her words have been misconstrued into saying what he wants people to think. She mentions a trip to Las Vegas. He explains to all that she is planning a rendezvous with "the doctor." In reality for weeks he has offered Linda larger and larger sums of money for her to go to Las Vegas and stay with her mother for six weeks to acquire residency, a requirement for couples that want a quick divorce. For weeks she refused. SHE NEVER WANTED A DIVORCE.

The events of the previous months eventually bring her to the place where she thinks this is maybe what she should do. She knew a separation was necessary. Danny takes her words from the phone call and adds his insinuations. He makes photo copies of her one sided conversation and distributes it. This is his main source of "proof" for his actions and re-marriage. They call it circumstantial evidence." To further cover their tracks Linda's accusers say that for her sake they don't want to tell "all she has done." They say this so people will accept their statements and imagine the worst. This is slander of the worst kind all coming from professed Christians.

Johann says he was fired from 3ABN for refusing to attest to something false Danny wanted him to put in writing about Linda. Derrell Mundall, Danny's ex-son-in-law, says he was given the option to resign or be fired because of his actions defending Linda. Others quit their jobs because they could not support the actions of the leaders. There is one thing many of these people have in common. Anyone who disagrees with Danny is slandered and discredited.

It's interesting that Danny's daughter recently was found to be pregnant out of wedlock. A quick wedding followed when Derrell, (her ex-husband & father of their four children), claims she had no grounds for re-marriage. It's also interesting that nobody asked Derrell about the issue of grounds at all when he was still a resident in Thompsonville. Also another married Shelton family member had a romantic encounter recently with a married employee of 3ABN. They were instructed to keep it quiet. They did. They all still work at 3ABN, and Melody is featured on the network. Is 3ABN all about standing for principle and values, or standing for those who happen to be in good graces with the President and the Shelton family ?

Another question that seems to be in the minds of many is "Why was Linda given $240,000 when all claim she was fired for a wrongdoing?" The only reason Linda signed this 3ABN contract was because she needed money to escape from a very irregular, abusive and impossible situation. Danny forced her to sign not only this contract, but another contract which sold him her half of their joint-owned home the same day.

Linda has suffered much emotional trauma and humiliation from all of this. She still has nightmares about these events. She did not feel ready to face the people of the SDA church for six months after all of this occurred. I encouraged her to begin again. She went for the first time around the end of November of 2004 in Springfield. The people welcomed her. She requested her membership to be transferred out of the Thompsonville church into the Springfield church in December of 2004. The Springfield pastor had previously worked at 3ABN and knew Linda. He did not believe the rumors and encouraged the church to put her to work. It was a healing time for her to teach Sabbath School and occasionally preach.

In June of 2005 things changed. Pastor Grady was transferred out of the Springfield church, though he wanted to stay, and a pastor from 3ABN was moved into the church. Within two weeks John Stanton met with Linda and told her she would be doing nothing on the platform. She told him that the church really needed the help and she hoped that if she was asked once in two months to teach a Sabbath School class that she would be able to do this. He told her that the orders had come from the conference level. (The Illinois conference President sits on 3ABN's Board and his parents work for 3ABN.) During our visit to the General Conference Session Johann and I visited with this pastor. He told us he thought Linda was a liar. I TOLD HIM THAT LINDA HAD NEVER BEEN UNFAITHFUL TO HER HUSBAND and that all the rumors from her husband were lies. But this man had TV interests to pursue and he was in close connection with Danny and John Lomacang.

The last week of October 2005, a letter came to Linda from John Lomacang, the pastor of the Thompsonville (3ABN) church. It stated that the church board had voted "to call a church business session to recommend to the church that you be placed under censure." Linda called John to ask him why. He said it was because she had abandoned her marriage and ministry, which led to her divorce. (This is what Danny refers to as "grounds" to re-marry.) Linda planned to address the church business meeting. She wrote to Danny requesting a release from the restrictions of the contract she signed so she could openly share her side of the story. Danny denied this request. Because of this she felt forced to drop her membership there and then join another SDA church. This decision was made after much counsel with several SDA's. It's interesting that this recommendation for censure came almost 18 months after the fact. (Which kind of practice is this? Special for USA?) It's also interesting that all of this occurred while Danny was trying to gather evidence against Linda so he could re-marry.

Danny Shelton and the leadership of 3ABN are responsible for using the ministry of 3ABN to bring character assassination to Linda and others. In Linda's case, television and radio announcements were made denouncing her character. There was an announcement on the front page of 3ABN's website for many months. About 180,000 letters about Linda were sent to the mailing list at 3ABN. Videos about her were made and distributed. Magazine articles were written and submitted. Mailings were made to church officials. Many calls were taken at 3ABN where slanderous remarks about Linda were given over the phone. Many letters containing completely false statements were sent to many individuals. Danny even made his personal email address available over 3ABN so people could write to him and obtain his side of the story. They did a thorough job of character assassination.

Now two years later the "trashing" continues. It is inexcusable, especially for a proclaimed Christian ministry.

In conclusion I want to clearly state that I have not committed adultery (emotional, physical, "spiritual"), and neither has Linda. The conversations we had were not unusual or inappropriate. Linda is the victim of domestic violence, only this has resulted in worldwide effects for our Church.

Linda has sought for help at the General Conference level. She has sought the aid of pastors. No one has an answer. She has tried repeatedly to meet with a committee from the Board of 3ABN. This request has not been granted. Still the bulk emails and letters flow from 3ABN slandering the innocent. This has been the most ungodly situation I have observed in my entire life. Any who find themselves not in good graces with Danny Shelton will find that their name is discredited and slandered in an attempt to destroy their influence. Linda has suffered the most with the loss of her job, her influence and reputation. But many others, including myself, have felt the heat coming from what is supposed to be a ministry representing Jesus Christ. This is an outrage. This is unacceptable. Accountability of leaders is a must. (Can bad fruits come from good trees?) As Christians, it is our duty to demand accountability and a high standard from leaders. I hope this testimony will fulfill the mission intended.

Respectfully,

Dr. Arild Abrahamsen

And, thank you, Calvin, for your post. That is what makes each of our forums unique.

I believe BSDA has gained a lot in creditability as a result of the 3ABN threads. What set BSDA apart from other Adventist discussion venues it that we are a source for open and frank discussion of issues or anything facing our church...but of course we already knew that before the 3ABN saga. No hidden or special membership only discussion forums here. Apparently, this is what people are looking for as BSDA continues to grow in number and influence.

You gonna be alright. And in all honesty - let's break it down shall we?

IF someone writes a book - it is not that author that is "publishing" per se - but the "publishing company" who puts out the information. That person would be called the author.

Now.

If the Doctor wrote the letter - he wants the information to be out for all to see. He would be the author.

Now.

If Johann is publishing - then he would be the one responsible for the circulation of said letter which he is....

However....

If Johann uses "other venues" to disseminate the information (said letter) then those venues are also "publishing" as they are also responsible for the aforementioned letter/information being "published".

Now.

BSDA is to be considered one of those "other venues" of publication. Why? Clay and other "moderators" on said board can decide what information (letter) is "published" or not.

Therefore -

Johann is publishing; as he is disseminating the information by publishing the letter.
BSDA is publishing; as they are allowing the space to be used for publishing said letter.

It is claimed that the Adventist Church does not financially support 3ABN, yet they do. Every tithe and offering paying Seventh-day Adventist contributes to 3ABN. those tithes and offerings go through the layers of conferences up to the GC. The GC, and in many cases the conferences, allocates a certain amount of that money to go into It is Written, Amazing Facts, Breath of Life, Voice of Prophecy, etc. for the purpose of program distribution. Much of that money is then sent to 3ABN for payment on airtime. A few years ago, 3ABN was charging $1,200.00 per broadcast hour for each of those entities, and others, to be on the air. This makes the current scandals personally relevant to every thithe paying SDA. If people are concerned about their money going to support 3ABN and the Shelton family through the church programs, they should be raising their voices to the church leaders about a change in allocation for that funding.

\ctually, not quite.

'he author is the author.

f he retains copyright to his writing, then he is technically the "publisher" as well.

f he distributes it privately, he is free to distribute it simultaneously to whoever he wishes, and is free to give ›ermission for those who receive it to pass it on to others.

f he then hires a printing establishment to print and distribute it, the title page will not give the printing :stablishment as copyright holder, but will say something like, copyright by [author], and printed by [name of ›rinting/publishing company] by permission of author. Depending on the explicit terms of the agreement, the ›rinting company may have exclusive rights to print the book, meaning that even the author cannot allow ›nyone else to reprint it until the term of the agreement has come to an end.

f the printing establishment also takes responsibility for editing and distributing the book, then they normally ısk for the copyright to be transferred to them and the author is not then free to do any other editing, ›rinting, or distribution, and is not even free to give printing rights to any other person or entity until such a ime as the publishing company relinquishes their rights, or gives limited "rights" back to the author.

.ook in a few of your Pacific Press and Review and Herald books and you will see examples of some of these lifferent copyright/publishing/printing arrangements.

n the case of Arild Abrahamson's letter: He is the author. He has chosen to distribute it privately to ndividuals, the main one being Johann Thorvaldson. Johann has especially been entrusted with the task of ;ending it along to a number of venues and individuals which were previously agreed upon between the two ›f them. The fact that they can, if hey choose, refuse to allow some things to be posted, in no way changes their status from mere board ›wners/supervisors to that of "publisher".

'hus no matter how many boards or newsletters this letter might appear in, it is still the intellectual property ›f Arild Abrahamson, and all other venues are merely "reprinting" or "reproducing"it. None of them are publishing" it.

Vhatever the technical definitions--in my "other life" I have had to sort these things out in real life with real ›ublishers, authors, copyright holders, printers holding contracts to "reprint", etc. Arild is author and in :ommon law usage, all he has to have is proof that he was the first one to make it available to someone else o establish that he has "copyright" to it--though it could not be defended in a court of law since he did not egister it in a US copyright office. There is also a difference between distributor, publisher, and agent. ohann would be Arild's chosen agent or distributor, but not his "publisher". When Arild added the lines giving ›ermission to others to copy it under certain conditions, he established his rights, and others who copy it are nerely making "reprints" of it under his direct and limited permissions. They would only be publishers if they nade an agreement with him in which he granted them exclusive rights (which actually I don't think he could lo once he has released it with this permission statement) and which clearly stated the financial details of ;uch an arrangement.

\ctualy --- I'm not even sure why we are having this discussion. It is, in essence, a private letter, which he ıas asked to be distributed by whatever means possible to as wide a reading audience as possible, and he ıas given his permissions for that in writing. What difference do the terms mean anyhow?

3ut I'm still hopeful that getting the information out to the general Adventist public, through private contacts, ›ulletin boards such as BSDA and whoever else wants to join in, as well as printed Adventist sources, will be enough to stir the Adventists themselves to demand that the Church sever their connection with the restaurants dealing in rat turds and aid in spreading the truth about such places to the church at large. Let's keep trying that a little longer before we turn the public bloodhounds loose.

Ah yes, skeptics many .. though I'm not at all sure I find that "cool". I think this is my opening to mention that I have just found that I can get on Club Adventist 3ABN TOPICS again. Dunno why I was put off. Dunno why I am back on. I was always able to log in, but for about four months have been "denied access" to the 3ABN forum. Today I could get on. Maybe there are others here who lost their ability to get on and have quit trying. Try again. You may be admitted now.

Just had to put that in there so I could note that I think your latter statement seems more appropriate there than here.
I left this till last so it would hopefully be most prominent for a while.

I think this is a VERY important point, and one that not everyone even thinks of when they think of supporting 3ABN or not supporting it.

What this means is that we should voice our objections to our Church taking funds sent to Church entities and diverting it to 3ABN by paying to put Church produced programs on 3ABN. Are there more details we should know? Can you give us the proper channels through which to direct our objections to these programs being put on 3ABN?

what I mean watchbird is from the beginning there were those of us who smelled a rat and thought that Mr. Shelton was not being honest. As more info has come to light it has confirmed what we believed... as for the skeptics, hey they exist, and its not our fault if they are not "paying attention."

I think since the latest letter has been made public both forums are re-opening their 3abn threads... they should never have closed them in the first place....

QUOTE(beartrap @ Jul 15 2006, 12:24 PM) ☐

It is claimed that the Adventist Church does not financially support 3ABN, yet they do. Every tithe and offering paying Seventh-day Adventist contributes to 3ABN. those tithes and offerings go through the layers of conferences up to the GC. The GC, and in many cases the conferences, allocates a certain amount of that money to go into It is Written, Amazing Facts, Breath of Life, Voice of Prophecy, etc. for the purpose of program distribution. Much of that money is then sent to 3ABN for payment on airtime. A few years ago, 3ABN was charging $1,200.00 per broadcast hour for each of those entities, and others, to be on the air. This makes the current scandals personally relevant to every thithe paying SDA. If people are concerned about their money going to support 3ABN and the Shelton family through the church programs, they should be raising their voices to the church leaders about a change in allocation for that funding.

I left this till last so it would hopefully be most prominent for a while.

What makes us think that some victim will not? There are many more, are there not? Everyone is not willing to sacrifice themselves or even wait for retribution for the sake of the blessing it is to many. Some will be angered to the point of calling somebody. I keep saying, just because SDAs are low on the radar does not make us immune from those who are looking to take down televaaaaangelist. We know in the past, these stories make it to Primetime, 48hrs, 60 Minutes and other primtime newsmagazines, even if they have to spend three minutes explaining exactly who you are and where you come from.

QUOTE(watchbird @ Jul 15 2006, 12:25 PM) ☐

I think you have a point, and I'm sure there have been times during the last two years when some of us have had the strong temptation to pick up the phone and call National Enquirer--or at least some Evangelical cult-watch group who would love nothing better than to expose an Adventist fiasco.
But I'm still hopeful that getting the information out to the general Adventist public, through private contacts, bulletin boards such as BSDA and whoever else wants to join in, as well as printed Adventist sources, will be enough to stir the Adventists themselves to demand that the Church sever their connection with the restaurants dealing in rat turds and aid in spreading the truth about such places to the church at large. Let's keep trying that a little longer before we turn the public bloodhounds loose.

In most cases it is part of the evangelism budget. I would think that contacting your own pastor, and then the office of the President at the local conference, the union, the division, and the GC with your objections would be the proper, and most effective way to make a difference. I would put it in writing and be reasonable, yet persistent.

QUOTE(Johann @ Jul 14 2006, 09:56 AM)

Letter from Dr. Abrahamsen, June 20, 2006, Section Three.

Considering the urgency of the situation I allowed the conversations to resume. Linda knew, with her high profile status, that confiding with local people regarding these issues would be very bad for the ministry. I had given counsel to people in difficulty in the past and felt I could be helpful from a distance in this situation. I encouraged Linda to fight for her marriage and ministry many times. This she really did, but she often had to leave her home to find refuge at her daughter's apartment in Springfield, even in the middle of the night because of Danny's behavior. At times like these she was afraid of him. She always returned to her home after a couple of days seeking to try to mend the marriage, but Danny would not allow this.

During the spring of 2004 Danny called my pastor in Norway. Danny tried to get me kicked out as an elder and as a member of the church. My pastor told me about the conversation and he said, "He is mentally sick, he needs professional help."

I find it very disturbing that Walt Thompson defended and continues to defend Danny although he was a witness repeatedly to the emotional and mental abuse that was taking place. At one point he witnessed Danny "trashing" his wife for five hours. I also find it disturbing that John Lomacang, Linda's former pastor, claims to have counseled extensively with Danny and Linda when this was far from the truth. During the months of April and May of 2004, when most of the activity was occurring in this situation, Linda NEVER saw John, who was supposed to be her pastor.

Coincidentally the handful of people supporting Danny and defending his actions has gained either power, position, airtime, homes, public endorsement or all of the above.

Stay Tuned for another section - or more t is usually recommended that such information sheets should be no longer than one page--other wise they lon't get read--and they need to look like individual, personal contacts rather than a "mass mailing"--even if hey are, for the majoritysimply toss things aside rather than reading them. So for most, probably a very :hort summary or "teaser" type questions would work best, then giving BSDA as an information source and ırging people to go there for answers.

)thers might respond best to a "headline" type announcement that highlights Abrahamson's announcement, ;iving only a sample, but again giving the BSDA source for the full document.

\nd yes, I would agree that Johann's account of things is important, and also some others. The more different styles these communications are and the more directions that they come from, the better.

Now mind you the church wasn't as full as one would have expected...but they have "support" here.... I'm jes wondering how the mess is gonna blow when it hits the fan.

I know we discussed it in my ethic class and a Seminary student that was in the class got "quite hot" under the collar - until he heard the instructor speak of the actions of Kuzma being "unethical"....

I don't know if he has been here or not - as I did put the website on the board for all to see...

We are jes a "hot mess on toast" when it comes to getting called on our own mess. You know, we like to take a big ol' broom and sweep it under the biggest rug...beating the lump down....

That's what my "Uh-oh" is coming from - I think I may even work on a play that includes pieces of this..... NOW THAT'S another "Uh-oh" waiting to happen at Ay.....

And if the Conference Officials don't wish to listen, mention "Mission Catalyst". The new Adventist Church growth outreach started by former Church Planter, Ron Gladden, where 90% of the tithe funds stay with the local church to further the work. You can bet those tithe funds aren't being allocated to 3ABN for Danny Shelton to fly around in a jet.

Mission Catalyst isn't part of the Adventist church, although those who started it were formerly in denominational employ. Their unwillingness to adopt the church's model where the handling of tithe is concerned pretty much sealed their fate in that regard...

I expect that "it" will "hit the fan" when Linda's contract runs out. She signed a contract to not talk about specific things regarding the problems at 3abn. In return, she received ..... "hush money".

Also.... my understanding is that the settlement of the property has not yet been settled. I expect that a lot of stuff may come out in the next year.

That part is not in dispute; my point is that while those who started MCN had been Adventists, it, as an entity, is not part of the Adventist church.

Reminds me of a line from a movie... upon seeing the winning personality of a woman, one character remarks... " your husband aint dead, lady; he's hiding..."

t is not hard to sense a vindictive spirit in you, "eye witness" very close to Linda Shelton (several years ıgo). Inga, that's exactly why I asked when Linda was told she might be replaced. It sounds like she was told this while they were still married. Was that a threat or was Danny just rambling and trying to indicate that to LInda that she was not irreplaceable at 3ABN?

Anyone remember the remarks Dan made about his current wife when he first showed her off?

I remember Danny making comments about Brandy during the Christmas holiday special before they were married. She was a cutie, etc.
I think he also mentioned that she was new to 3abn....

If one was to watch it again, they would hear the comments and notice Danny's infatuation with her at that time.

I knew then that he was going to marry her, then yep a couple of months later it was announced for all, that they were getting married.

Experience has taught me that, lacking evidence, folks generally judge others by the only measuring stick they have -- themselves. Thus you are revealing an awful lot about yourself, "eye witness."

Seeing you are an eye witness (and I believe you), [b]you should be able to tell us who told Linda that there was a "beauty queen" ready to take her place if she should fail to do exactly as she was told, no matter how inappropriate.

Linda refused to want her marriage. AND DANNY HAD NO OTHER INTEREST! Linda had another interest. There was only one Doctor for Nathan and only one Doctor that would accomodate her staying at his house. Her cooking for him and so on and so forth. Tell me Inga, would any man on the face of this earth tolerate his WIFE staying with another man, in his house, in his motel room ect. ?????? I think it was gracious that Danny laid out the grounds as "Spiritual Adultry", this according to the Bible is , Linda had left her first love. Now it looks like someday there will be a great revealing and then Linda may be labeled the term that she applied to HERSELF the "_____ of Revelation".

And where is that 'beauty queen' now?

The 'possible beauty queen' did not come along until two years after the divorce. What do you think, Danny should remain without wife and companion because His Wife (Linda) choose to dump him, (for a promise of Pardise in Norway, her favorite discription)? It was sometime after the divorce she was wearing a wedding band at the General Conference Session. Is she married? Oh by the way this was way before the New Wife of Danny's!
See Linda made mention that all Danny would ever get to replace her was "a worn out dish rag". Linda really thought she was the one and only beauty queen. I think that was because for so many years Danny went on and on about her beauty, she got a bigger redder head.
Inga there is so much, so much that anyone that gets on here and makes some sort of conclusion must understand. There is more. You can't base your opinion on just this stuff.

It strikes me really strange that that "beauty queen" should be mentioned while Dan and Linda were still married!

Inga the possible beauty queen was mentioned (whom is not the one Brandy, because she was not in the picture yet!) because Linda really seemed to believe that Danny would never get over her (Linda). Linda was sure that what she had choosen to do with the Doctor would tear Danny down, kill his self esteem and crumble him. BUT SHE WAS WRONG!! Praise God for the peace that God gave to Danny. I tell you the man has been hurt, and torn apart by her. No one seems to have any compassion for him, its always poor Linda. Well to some degree I do feel for poor Linda because now she sets with no doctor, no companion, no ministry (3ABN), and at this point knows that its all gone. What she saw in the Doctor, The doctor did not see in her! I don't know which caused the thinking of better, the Doctor or Linda or may be it was both. Now her only system of bitterness is to tear down the entire ministry. So I do feel for poor Linda in her state of being now.

I'm also wondering who chose this 'beauty queen' to take Linda's place? Did Dan choose, or did someone choose for him?

Inga really what do you mean by this statement?

'ou guys are desperate for Linda to start talking aren't you. You already know that Sister is not Linda, but ;ince she has the most information, you must discredit her.

\ctually, if she were Linda that would really give her high credibility. Every time you accuse Sister of being .inda, you are actually taking Sister's testimony even more credibility! Think about it!

.inda is not going to allow her buttons to be pushed. That is why she does not even read these threads. She ıas more important things to do.

.inda has shown everyone that she is better than the 3ABN group. She stands tall and silent. While, on the ›ther hand, the 3ABN group exhibits total hatred towards Linda. Who do I believe? I believe Linda and her :ontinued silence.

Vhy would I believe a group of people who are bent on destroying Linda? The venom is overpowering. Eye Vitness, think about what you are saying. Linda wasn't that bad. Danny lived with her for 20 years. He used o even talk about her in the positive.

believe Linda lived a life of abuse. I believe Danny is an abuser. Danny has to discredit her so no one will ;ee the true Danny.

t is too late. Our vision is 20/20 about his character. I believe he is a liar, an abuser, an adulterer, :mbezzler, and all around fake.

realize your loyalty is in Danny. Maybe you even helped him in his financial dealings. Maybe you got ewarded for your participation. Have your bank accounts been investigated? Especially those accounts that 3ABN has that bear your name.

f you are not Tammy and are Brenda, You need to fall on your knees and ask God to forgive you for being ;uch a large part of this mess by telling your lies.

f you are Brandi, please go home to your family. Things are about to get really ugly. You will be dragged hrough the same mud Danny will get pulled through. Brandi, Mistakes are easy to make. Things seem to be ı dream, but as you can now see, things are not as they seemed. Take a vacation and get away from it all. Get Trinity away from all this mess. She is innocent. Above all, keep Danny away from her. This man you narried is not what he seems.

f I am wrong on your identity, I apologize. If you are Shelley, get out while you are ahead. The Danny mud s smeared all over you too. If I have no clue who you are, my advice for you is to get as far away from this ness as soon as possible.

n all actuality you have greatly increased Linda's credibility. I would be proud to stand by Linda's side. She ;tands in a very good place. Now you have destroyed your credibility. I am still praying for you. Mothers can ›e vicious when it comes to their young. I pray that this mess will not harm you or your children, who ever 'ou are.

Inga really what do you mean by this statement?

Now you are revealing where your information comes from, Dr. eye witness! You see I was together with Linda all the time she was at the General Conference session at St. Louis. Both of us shook hands with a certain Mr. Danny Shelton while we were there. I can tell you that you are completely misinformed, because Linda never wore any kind of a ring while we were there.

On the other hand I saw the ladies who repeatedly tried to get to talk to Linda alone, offering her that she could come and stay at some mountain resort. The only condition was that she would take counselling for four hours each day. When Linda still refused their generous offer on the third day, one of them burst out telling her that she must realize that since Eve sinned first, any divorce is the woman's fault, and that she needed counelling to learn that biblical principle!

So somebody made up the story she was wearing a wedding ring there?

Almost as much rubbish as much of the other stuff you are claiming you saw as an eye witness! Does it all come from the same source as that one with the wedding ring?

Since I am a regular member of BSDA now, do I assume you are talking to me also about Linda crying to me about how she has been treated unfair? Sorry to disappoint you. I am still waiting for proof of all those accusasions Danny and family had sent out via email about all the terrible things Linda had been doing. For all the bad things I had heard (there are more I heard that have not been addressed in this forum yet and will not mention them here) she would have been a pretty busy woman being in so many places at the same time. Still trying to figure it all out. But am leaning to Linda since I haven't had any positive feed back from Danny's camp yet. Guess I entered a lot of threads here. Sorry about that folks.

Letter from Dr. Abrahamsen, June 20, 2006, Section One.

Greetings from Norway;

My name is Dr. Arild Abrahamsen. I live in Svindal, Norway. I have been a medical doctor for more than 35 years. I am a member of the Moss SDA Church. I've been the Sabbath School superintendent for 14 years and the head elder for 4 years, which position I am presently serving. I am the Norwegian doctor who has been slandered by Dr. Walt Thompson, chairman of the board of 3ABN, Danny Shelton, John Lomacang and others.

Since I have observed the situation and the slander only getting worse, I feel it best to share my experience. I share my personal experience, what I have seen and heard. Much of this information has been verified by other sources, which include emails, letters and the personal experiences of others. I share my experience not to attack any individual or organization, but to bring the truth of this situation to the surface.

I have been shocked to observe the events of the last two years. I have made no public statement until now. I had hoped things would resolve themselves.

I visited Johann and Irmgard Thorvaldsson at 3ABN the last week of 2003. The purpose of the trip was to see them and visit the ministry, which I personally had been supporting for some time. I had never been to 3ABN previously, nor had I met the Shelton's. During this visit I discovered from the Thorvaldsson's that Linda Shelton's son, Nathan, was in a dangerous state of health because of an addiction to drugs and working in coalmines. I offered to see him. This visit resulted in an invitation for Nathan to come to Norway for treatments. Nathan came to Norway around January 20, 2004 along with his friend, Dava Vice. Linda came for a 3-½ day visit to support her son, the first week of February together with Brenda Walsh. This was the last time I saw Linda until the weekend she was fired.

I had a chance to visit with Nathan regularly. I learned from my conversations with Nathan that the roots of his drug problems were the relationships with his father and stepfather. Specifically he told me that Danny had turned his back on him. I shared this information with his mother on the phone. She told me that Danny said he had no responsibility towards Nathan since he was a product of her first marriage, so she felt she had to do what she could to help her son. There was nothing unusual in the occasional phone reports I gave Nathan's mother while he was in Norway. After Nathan returned home, I asked Linda to keep me updated on Nathan's progress.

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ This Should Not Be News - Continuation

Posted by: calvin Jul 15 2004, 09:07 PM

Hi, my name is Danny Shelton and I work for 3ABN. It's not a credit your Black SDA that it appears to be nothing more than a tabloid gossip page.
Not one of the people that I could see commenting have even attempted to contact me, that I know of, about all the things they are judging me of.
You do have some people in the "know" that you could find out some info from if it means that much to you. Pastor John Lomacang has spent many hours counseling with Linda and me and even made some recommendations to the board about our situation which the 3ABN board took very seriously.
As of late Pastor Mark Finley has counseled with both Linda and Me. He agrees with the decision the board has taken on this issue and so does Pastor John. Several others have also counseled us and all agree with the board's action.
Paula and Curtis have indeed been back to do more programming without me or Linda. Their program stands on it's own.
No one has been hurt like Linda and me have been through this whole situation. We still love each other and spend considerable time together.
This situation at 3ABN cannot be judged by onlookers as though you have the truth. Much of this is so personal you will probably never know what has really happened.
We encourage people not to take sides, except to support the work of God on this earth.
If 3ABN is of God it will continue to bring about good fruit.
If it is of Satan it will bring about bad fruit. You be the judge.
Please continue to pray for both Linda and me as we both want 3ABN to succeed in taking the gospel to the world.
Thanks for listening

Thanks Calvin for sharing the letter. I would submit to Mr. Shelton that in the absence of information, people of all colors will fill in the blanks.... Go check out VOAF and see what was said there....If he didn't want to share their personal business, then they should have handled it maturely on 3ABN when the rift occurred, not mysteriously have Linda disappear and not mention anything....

As for his opinion of what BSDA is, how would he know since he has not fellowshipped with us?

Posted by: claborn Jul 15 2004, 10:18 PM

I just went back and read the responses to the first thread on this topic. I did not see anything that was tabloidish.... we discussed possibilities and didn't assign balme to anyone, giving them both benefit of the doubt.... all told there were only 53 comments.... On VOAF there were 233 comments on one thread and they closed the thread and then someone started it again and there are 44 more comments on this topic..... here are the links.....

How does one conclude that we are not nothing more than tabloid gossip???????

Calvin edit if you need to.....

Posted by: princessdi Jul 15 2004, 11:36 PM

Ok, so did we, can we answer Danny? We got what information from another site, I personally knew nothing about it.

Probably, because I don't know all of the facts, and should not, I still believe there was a better way to handle things, but that is just me.

Just curious. How did he find out about us, and did he write the other SDA sites who had something to say? Did he completely miss the part about us agreeing that they both needed our prayers? Just asking.

Posted by: calvin Jul 16 2004, 01:49 AM

I sent a personal reply to him. But you can reply by stating your opinion here like we do with any other subject. Danny has been lurking here and probably will continue to do so or some other lurkers will get the message to him.

This ordeal is obviously very painful for him. As he said it is personal and we will never know all the facts. The fact of the matter are not important to me. Let's just keep them and the 3ABN ministry in our prayers.

I have no way of knowing why he chose to vent to me, or if he has done so on other boards and mailing lists.

Posted by: HUGGINS130 Jul 16 2004, 05:01 AM

They aired it, but let me just say this, we all sin and fall short of the glory of God!
Jesus told the jews to cast the first stone, and 3abn did, and that is all I have to say.

You know Calvin this is another unfortunate situation where we have been attacked and if I am not mistaking we have the freedom of speech in this country. Something was put out there for discussion we did that, and we are looked upon as being gossipers. Now that is just not right. Just like Priness Di said, you had some of us here "SAYING PRAY FOR LINDA AND DANNY!" I do admit that there are things here that may seem like we think all of this was/is a joke but contrary to popular belief in some way I think all people here are saddened about this unfortunate situation.

A lot of times we as humans take circumstances and try to make the best out of them, and the returning back to TBN jokes if that offened anyone I apologize, but it was out of pure fun. Nothing to be taken personal.

I offer a sincere apology to anyone at 3abn that might have taken any of this too personal, but all we are doing here is discussing things pertinent to the SDA Worldwide church, from a point of view from people of color!

As your statement says Calvin, this isn't an official Church website, and you are not liable to answer to any of these charges about gossip or slander!

God bless you, for all you do I know you mean very very well, and I am sorry if I caused you any hardships due to my post!

I'm sorry he didn't read the messages that expressed prayers for them. I went to the 3ABN site and sent a positive e-mail expressing God's will for their lives including Linda, he probably missed that one too. Tis only human nature to lash out when hurt I suppose.

Paradise, no offense taken or apology needed on behalf of me. You summarized much of my email response to him. BSDA is a public open discussion board. We don't have any sacred cow subjects that are untouchable related to the Seventh-day Adventist church. Danny and Linda Shelton are public figures in the church and their ministry in 3ABN is well known. That puts them in play for discussion.

I did not address his charge of BSDA be a tabloid gossip column. I will address it now. There is often a thin line between gossip and information sharing in our discussions, and no doubt we cross that line at times. But BSDA is much more than tabloid gossip as he described us. This board is a mere reflection of your local church and the church at large. We have sinners here of all kind, all trying to make it to the kingdom.

What Danny may have failed to realize is that much of the discussion here and I suspect on other Adventist message boards, as well around the dinner table on Sabbath afternoons is in genuine interest for his ministry, some of whom have a financial interest (black people contribute to 3ABN too) and for them. As Di mentioned, many committed to pray for them and requested others to pray. But I can understand that when someone is hurting, they tend to see what they want to see.

Even beyond this, when things do go beyond the bounds of propriety, this board, more than any other I've been a part of, can and does police itself without regard for who it is that needs to be rebuked...and if Danny Shelton lurks here alot, then he should have noticed that by now.

As I've said before, those who view this list negatively need to see the other unmoderated/quasi-moderated Adventist lists to get some perspective. Other lists have been far more speculative about the nature of the issues which the Sheltons are dealing with and far more vitriolic towards him, her or both of them... Most of the speculation here has centered around the action of the 3ABN organization and the possible motives behind said action, not around the personal issues of Danny and Linda Shelton. It appears to me Bro. Shelton is trying to spin this so he comes out blameless, by any means necessary... and having achieved a degree of influence through the 3ABN ministry he has lost sight of the fact that neither this list nor the opinions of those who frequent it are subject to his whim...also lost on him is the fact that he has been given a substantially fairer shake here than most other places.

I continue to pray for the Sheltons and the 3ABN ministry... and I continue to pray for you, Calvin, and for the ministry you have here.

DB, I think you missed the point of this one. Steve was saying with 3ABN putting out only a bare minimum of information, most people, of all colors, will fill in the blanks or at least speculate about the rest of the facts.

I totally understand, Calvin. Last night I read those other site, plus Linda letter. Those other sight said things far worse than we did. Our main focus was the handling of the situation. My jaw dropped at some of the stuff I read on the other sites. I had no idea it was that bad.

Posted by: investigator Jul 16 2004, 09:52 AM

I have to agree with Calvin's post of today. I also believe that both Shelton's have been hurting, but it is information that has been put out there. Why can't it be discussed? Some of the things that are on ClubAdventist.com are about church matters and names are used and the issues are discussed more explicitly than here. I believe instead of attacking the website responses, Danny Shelton should continue to work on his situation. I sense that he is angry and lashing out and it is understandable because he is hurting.

Ok, something is very wrong with this man's letter. First of all, he says this is a tabloid site, whatever that means. Nobody gossips on here...well, at least that's not the main focus of this site. If he'd paid attention to the threads, he'd have known that. Secondly, he seems upset over the fact that no one attempted to get the story from the horse's mouth, yet he offered no explanation or details of the situation in his letter. And finally, as I mentioned in another thread, 3ABN isn't spreading the gospel to "all the world." I'd like to see a network of some sort where everyone can have access, not just a few Adventists who subscribe to it.

the meanest, most racist, self-righteous....

Shelton's missive was nothing more than a rallying call for all of his supporters. They have a problem with us when we call them out! (by their right name). But, I'll keep my membership (and take my chances) in the conferences of us gossipers 'til Jesus comes.

If he spent as much time with Linda as he did while with BSDA, maybe she wouldn't have gotten her veggie-stella on.

Oh Dannyeee Boi ! Come to think about it, maybe a separate gossip channel wouldn't be all bad. Since all will know up front that it's all lies, nobody feelings ought to be hurt.

Posted by: pmorris68 Jul 18 2004, 10:19 PM

I have been resisiting posting anything about this. Now let me say this. I appauld the fact that the Chairman of 3ABN even went through the trouble to creating a committee to find the facts in this situation and unbiasley got other peoples opinion before doing what they did. But Danny and Linda Shelton have become public figures in our church. And he just needs to accept that fact and move on. Regardless of what has transpired between them, it needed to stay between them. But because she put it out there, well there you go. So now they have got to deal with the talking and conversations about it.

That is life!! NO matter what color you are pain is pain. And for their pain I pray God will comfort. But let's not forget this was self inflicted pain. Now MR. Shelton may not have intended this all to go down the way it has. But it has. So now the best thing for him to do is to pray and let it go and move on. While I understand no one's life is perfect if it were we would all be in heaven by now. We totally understand that in this world divorce is a ugly reality. But he needs to focus on healing and not lashing out at folks who are commenting on his life. He is only making it worse. That's my 2 cents.

Hi, my name is Danny Shelton and I work for 3ABN. It's not a credit your Black SDA that it appears to be nothing more than a tabloid gossip page.
Not one of the people that I could see commenting have even attempted to contact me, that I know of, about all the things they are judging me of.

> You do have some people in the "know" that you could find out some info from if it means that much to you. Pastor John Lomacang has spent many hours counseling with Linda and me and even made some recommendations to the board about our situation which the 3ABN board took very seriously. As of late Pastor Mark Finley has counseled with both Linda and Me. He agrees with the decision the board has taken on this issue and so does Pastor John. Several others have also counseled us and all agree with the board's action.
> Paula and Curtis have indeed been back to do more programming without me or Linda. Their program stands on it's own.
> No one has been hurt like Linda and me have been through this whole situation. We still love each other and spend considerable time together.
> This situation at 3ABN cannot be judged by onlookers as though you have the truth. Much of this is so personal you will probably never know what has really happened.
> We encourage people not to take sides, except to support the work of God on this earth.
> If 3ABN is of God it will continue to bring about good fruit.
> If it is of Satan it will bring about bad fruit. You be the judge.
> Please continue to pray for both Linda and me as we both want 3ABN to succeed in taking the gospel to the world.
> Thanks for listening

Hi Family--Ted and I took a trip to Orlando this past weekend, and decided to visit the Patmos church. 3ABN was also at Patmos taping Sabbath services for their "On the Road" tour. Patmos' choir and the fellowship was awesome and we look forward to returning.

Now--Danny Shelton was the speaker of the hour, of course. His comments throughout the course of his presentation were interesting, to say the very least. After the choir sang, his comment was "y'all are serious about singing here"... Then after some rambling, he compared his coming to Patmos with his going to New York. He mentioned that a friend told him that whenever he saw a lot of Black people, don't be intimidated, just look them in the eye and say "what choo lookin' at?"...When in the program it was time for the offering, he made another comment saying, "in the Black churches, you say "lift the tithes"...

Many "Black" comments were made. IMHO, all were unnecessary. Were these supposed to be terms of endearment? When we visit "their" churches, should we make lots of "white" comments? Maybe this was his way of breaking the ice.

Many waited with baited breath for the sermon. Mr. Shelton based his sermon on Nehemiah's building of the wall--and not coming off that wall to defend his actions. Mr. Shelton equated Nehemiah with himself--and how he will not come off the wall to defend his actions re:3ABN and accusations made against him. Mr. Shelton pretty much ranted about silly women being led astray, lust, how tv and internet has entered the home, infidelity among women, how innocent conversation leads to destruction, Adventist chat rooms and rumors abounding and how folks are writing about him. That was the sermon.

I'm sure everyone in the room felt what he was alluding to and ranting about. I'm sure some of you may have seen the taping. I took notes, as I sometimes do in order to recall what the sermon was about.

Anyway, after services, I felt an obligation to talk with Mr. Shelton. I offered up a prayer so that my words would not cross my lips, but that the Holy Spirit would guide my tongue. I shook his hand, told him that I'm a member of BlackSDA, and let him know that the members of BlackSDA are strong Christians. I also told him that BlackSDA is in no way a gossip/tabloid column and his letter saying that we were was highly offensive. I also told him that the members of BlackSDA are continuing to lift him AND Linda and 3ABN up in prayer, and that if anyone is keeping 3ABN afloat, it is the prayers of BlackSDA. I didn't let his hand go or stop looking him in his eyes until he heard. He did say many times "I appreciate that".

If Mr. Shelton is lurking this site, I'm sure he will confirm all that I've said here.

Posted by: TedOdell Jul 27 2004, 08:11 PM

yep...that's what happened alright TED WUZ THERE!

Posted by: princessdi Jul 27 2004, 08:32 PM

You know, I had never even heard of Danny Shelton or Lida until this unfortunate situation. My first impression remains the same. They should have handled this a lot better, and he should preach when asked and refrain from causing more confusion. What MizRobby just relayed does not sound at al like the man who posted here with such righteous indignation. If people are talking about him, then it is this type of behavior exhibited by him and the board of 3ABN who fuel the fire.

Posted by: tarduke Jul 28 2004, 06:56 AM

Mzrobby I saw the braodcast of the Patmos service and can confirm some of what you report. The "black" comments were just plain stupid, I think. As soon as Danny started his talk on Nehemiah and I realized he was trying to use the Word I got turnned off.

Posted by: mizrobby Jul 28 2004, 07:43 AM

The comments were indeed uncalled for and ignorant, to say the very least. It showed the great divide--our church and your church. This is what you do and this is what we do. I think what bothered me the most is that persons laughed at the comments in order to placate him or make him feel more comfortable. God's love, grace and compassion was not brought out or emphasized. Only frustration and anger.

Has anyone had a speaking engagement at a "white" church? Do you feel compelled to make Black/White comments to break the ice?

But as I let Mr. Shelton know, BlackSDA members are praying for them--it's obvious that prayer is needed.

Welcome, Tarduke!

In the early nineties I preached at a white church in Tallahasse, FL. My topic was "Are You Black Enough?" That was my only reference to color.

Posted by: mizrobby Jul 28 2004, 08:46 AM

Darius--How were you received? What was your message behind the title? Sounds powerfully intriguing...

Posted by: statrei Jul 28 2004, 09:26 AM

When I announced the subject there was some visible shifting in the seats. But they stayed long enough to get the message. My text was from Jeremiah concerning the brand plucked from the burning. My thesis was that it was not enough to be singed by the heat from the Holy Spirit; we need to be burned by the Spirit. We need to be black enough. It was a good sermon, even if I say so myself.

Posted by: investigator Jul 28 2004, 01:49 PM

I saw the broadcast on Sabbath as I was getting ready to go to sabbath school.
I kept waiting for him to get into his sermon and waited quite a while before realizing that the sermon was all about him. The looks on the members faces told me some were bored, some had a wondering look and some were intently listening to what he was saying. I thought some of the comments were inappropriate for divine worship, but I believed he used the platform he was given to get some things off his chest. He said with the Lord's help he will not talk about this anymore. Let's hope that he sticks to his word. I just think he does not know a lot (any) of black people and he just does not know what to say. Perhaps someone in his area can become his friend and help him. It might just be me, but 3ABN is now kinda boring.

I'm still praying for him because he comes across as a awfully hurting person.

In most cases, when a person has been employed with an organization for 19 years or more, and a highly visible part of the organization, they are not sent off with a tersely worded "Statement Regarding Jane Doe."

Corporate America does not operate that way. Not ever.

Official, Corporate Statements usually look something like this.

(The following is a press release I wrote, myself. One like this should have gone out, instead of their Web-based, unsophisticated and unrefined statement.)

Three Angels Broadcasting Network, Inc.

For Immediate Release,

May 19, 2004

After nearly 20 years with Three Angels Broadcasting Network, Linda Shelton will be leaving to pursue other, important interests as a well-deserved break from her daily routine.

Those of us here at the network will greatly miss the energy, drive, commitment, and dedication that Linda put into every project or assignment on which she worked. She will be greatly missed by both the staff and network viewers around the world who have grown to know her.

We wish her the very best as she seeks new interests away from the network. Until her return, if ever, 3ABN will be in the capable hands of Danny Shelton, Mollie Steenson, Dee Hilderbrand, Robert Russell, Moses Primo, and the 3ABN team.

---30---

Therefore, my point is that I really don't need to know the ins and outs of the Linda Shelton story to know that properly worded press releases are not tersely written "Statements." And they're not called "Statements." Unless you're under oath and testifying to Congress.

Even a casual reader will see that this was not an appropriate way to terminate a long-term employee. It was embarrassing, humiliating, and degrading to the human spirit. It lacked basic compassion for the person involved and was not Christian in any sense of the word.

I agree with Billy Graham on this point: You don't have to kill someone to commit murder. All you have to do is ruin their reputation and make them unusable for the task God has prepared them to do.

I think before I can comment on this (which you all know that I am famous for), I should do some more research. I am upset that this individual would group everyone into this letter.

But as I said, I need to do some research.

I do not understand what you mean by "grouping everyone."

Three Angels Broadcasting Network, Inc., is a corporate entity. It exists completely and separately, by itself, as an Illinois corporation.

There is no "everyone."

I'm also curious to know what kind of "research" you mean.

In most corporations the Prez is not married to the VP. Also, 3ABN is not a corporation. It is a non profit, self supporting christian organization and ministry. Big difference.

When you step inside the front door of 3ABN, you'll see a plaque on the wall from the local Chamber of Commerce with the name "Three Angels Broadcasting Network, Inc." engraved on it.

It's a corporation. That's what the "inc" means. Non-profit status simply refers to its 501 C (3) identity with the Internal Revenue Service.

Secondly, it's a media corporation, as is the Washington Post, which also owns Newsweek and Cable One.

Katherine Meyer Graham took over the presidency of the Washington Post empire when her husband, Phil Graham, died.

So, husbands and wives have been involved in the media in the past, and they will continue to be involved in the media in the future.

Other examples of husbands and wives are:

Paul and Jan Crouch, Trinity Broadcasting Network
Marcus and Joni Lamb, Daystar Television Network
Garth and Tina Coonce, TCT Christian

And syndicated media:

Jack and Rexella Van Impe: "Jack Van Impe Presents"

James and Betty Robison: "Life Outreach International"
Dave and Joyce Meyer: "Joyce Meyer Ministries"
Creflo and Taffy Dollar: "World Changers Ministry"
James and Shirley Dobson: "Focus on the Family"

And of course - last, but certainly not least:

Curtis and Paula Eakins: "Health Seminars, Unlimited, Inc."

I love that show on 3ABN. They are so natural together on TV in the kitchen. None of the phony public displays of affection "some others" on 3ABN were parading which always made me suspicious that all was not well.

And their recipes include stuff Black folk can actually eat! I always wondered if they were related to our boss on BlackSDA.

Yep, since you ask, they are related. Calvin and Curtis are brothers.

Panama Pete, I agree with you immensely. Because case in point happened recently with a telecom company here. The CEO was removed (private word is for questionable reasons) but the press release made out that he was getting a promotion.

Are the non-christian corporate entities more compassionate in their relation to others than us SDAs? And although I have seen correspondence from Linda Shelton to the effect that she and Danny are divorced, he continues on 3ABN as if nothing has happened. What example are we setting to others? Are we SDAs for real? Did these 3ABN actions really represent the creator? And if not, isn't a public apology in order?

Thank you Panama Pete for showing that there is a better way.

posted July 29, 2004 09:33 Message What happened at 3ABN?

THE STORY OF LINDA SHELTON

By Johann Thorvaldsson

Former 3ABN liaison for Europe It is a fact that Linda Shelton has been fired - and Danny Shelton has told his version of events to the World audience. He warned us not to listen to rumors, so what are the facts of this heart-breaking experience? Unfortunately Linda Shelton has been judged and dismissed from the establishment she loved and helped build up - on the basis of rumors. Facts that have been twisted, embroidered and presented as real. This is quite a complicated matter. A few weeks ago I was in Southern Illinois, wanting to attend the camp meeting at 3ABN, together with a Norwegian medical doctor - the one Linda has been accused of committing spiritual adultery with. We went there in an attempt to clear up misunderstandings, all caused because my wife and I introduced this doctor to Danny and Linda Shelton. This doctor is also the head elder of the most flourishing conservative SDA church in Norway - and has for several years been a financial supporter of 3ABN. Some of the problems were caused because the 3ABN archives had misspelled the name of this supporter, so Danny was convinced he was an impostor. Later Danny has named him a devil, a demon, or evil spirit, or bad counselor - like he did during the transmission to the whole world on Thursday evening at Camp Meeting. Also during that meeting we were requested to leave the premises of 3ABN, and if we ever showed up again at the meetings the police would be requested to remove us as trespassing private property - and this at meetings where all are invited.

What is our crime? While my wife, Irmgard, and I were staying at 3ABN in December 2003, this doctor came to visit us, both to check Irmgard's illness and to see the studios of the ministry he was supporting and was a great fan of. Linda came to see us, and later she brought her son along, who had problems with drugs and related things. Nathan had been reluctant to see any other doctor, but a lasting friendship between the doctor and this young man was kindled. Many of his patients are young athletes, so he is used todealing with young people. The doctor invited Nathan to come and stay in Norway and receive treatments at his clinic for a month. Nathan brought his girlfriend along, and later Linda and Brenda Walsh spent 3 days there to check on things - and I had a visit with them too while they were there. At that time Nathan had merely been there for 10 days, and I did not recognize him when I saw him. He was a completely transformed person.

So after Linda returned to the States she'd call to find out how it was going with her son. Danny told me himself that he considered that if a married woman talks for more than 10 or 12 minutes with another man on the phone she'd be committing spiritual adultery - so these phone calls first branded Linda as an adulteress. And from there the ball has kept rolling with more and more accusations. Mark Finlay was willing to assist in coming to an understanding, but his offer was unacceptable to the 3ABN lawyer. Both the lawyer and the pastor urged me to stay out of this case and not support Linda. They claimed I'd soon be left out in the cold with no friends at all if I'd continue supporting Linda in her plight.

Can you imagine our Lord Jesus Christ telling me not to come to the aid of this frail woman because I'd be left out in the cold without friends? I have never heard such a statement before coming from people who are supposed to be the spiritual leaders of this great ministry. Is it any wonder that the support of 3ABN is dwindling?

With such men at the helm who make it their business and main concern to condemn Linda, is it any wonder that Linda seeks the support of her close friends - and also calls the doctor who was so kind to her son? Of course it might have avoided some misunderstandings and confusions if that doctor had been a woman. But what does the Apostle tell us? "There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female: for ye are all one in Christ Jesus." Those two people have been branded before the whole world as adulterers, and you name it. I never dreamt such atrocities could take place at my favorite ministry, 3ABN

Now the woes of Linda Shelton are not hers alone any more. I was fired too, because I supported Linda. Officially it was because I refused to obey orders from my superiors at 3ABN. But I am fortunate that I get my sustentation from the church where I started my ministry more than 50 years ago. Even though I love the ministry of 3ABN, I serve the God of heaven and the God of Truth. Derrell Mundall, the father of Danny Shelton's grandchildren, who has served 3ABN faithfully for many years, has also been fired. What is his crime? He was too close and he knows the truth, and shared his knowledge with others. He supports Linda. He had no other employment when he was dismissed from 3ABN, so pray that he may soon find another fruitful ministry where he can use his talents. He chose truth instead of a steady employment, as so many other believers have done in the past. Before Derrell was fired he was told that he must remember it was Danny who received the vision from God to build this TV station. Therefore, he was told, he must regard the words of Danny Shelton as being the words of God. Long before Linda's dismissal, Dr. Kay Kuzma was assigned to help Linda manage after being fired. She was also supposed to interview staff members to find a good reason to fire her, so one wonders what really is behind this upheaval?

Danny mentioned a number of counselors who had helped the board come to the conclusion that she should be dismissed. You can ask Linda, but I don't think she ever talked to most of those counselors. In fact even before her dismissal she felt treated like a criminal when she approached the premises of 3ABN and was not permitted to enter without close supervision. The present general staff at 3ABN is probably not permitted to ask Linda any question. If anyone wants a contact to keep up their close friendship with Linda they have to write their note on a postcard, submit it to the leaders who will forward it to Linda. Such are the present premises of this woman whose ministry has meant so much to thousands of viewers, and who will not see her any more on the screen - as long as the present leadership has it their way.

Pray for 3ABN. Pray for justice. Pray for justice also for Linda.
Miracles still take place.
Christian regards

Steve Claborn (Clay)

What happened to "mending broken people?" What does publicly humiliating someone through the media, websites and letters have to do with mending broken people? 3ABN should be ashamed of themselves. If Linda was 100% guilty of all that is being insinuated about her, the reponse should be quite different. When Joseph found out Mary was pregnant he decided to "put her away quietly." There's something wrong with this picture...especially as Linda herself proclaims her innocence on her website. I think the 3ABN Board should take another look at how their leaders have responded to this situation.

I really liked that song. I don't hear it anymore on 3ABN.

I have to agree with you that this thing has not been handled properly by 3abn. My greatest concern is that any opportunity for Danny and Linda to even thinking of being reconciled was seriously frittered away by the dribbling of details about alleged infidelities and trying to make Linda out to be some kind of knucklehead.

Posted by: statrei Aug 27 2004, 07:37 AM

The answer is simple. As Adventists we are more interested in saving face than in saving people. The results are often horrific (witness Waco and now 3ABN).

God forbid that 3ABN implodes (as some think it still might) and the media get involved (as is likely if the God forbidden happens), I can see the script already being written. "This was never an officially sanctioned ministry." Plausible deniability will rule the day.

Posted by: Jvat Aug 27 2004, 08:24 AM

If the conservative SDAs are true to form, the GC will pretend no real involvement in 3ABN but if the support for 3ABN shown at the ASI Convention is to be believed, they may just continue to give them support, even though the fat hits the fan. Because at this Convention, the president of the NAD, Don Scheider, was there endorsing 3ABN publicly for their tremendous work in winning souls. Danny was so moved that he was visibly in tears. That was played over last night on 3ABN today.

Just read the entire thread....is the verdict here then that the 3ABN administration wanted to separate Linda from 3ABN because she talked to another man outside of her husband for 10-15 minutes on the phone?

Does the SDA church acknowledge spiritual adultery as being grounds for divorce--and is it even defined? Outside of this "context" I am not aware of it being used.

Since they are "public figures", did they even have grounds to be married to each other in the first place (as it was a second marriage for both)?

Secondly, he seems upset over the fact that no one attempted to get the story from the horse's mouth, yet he offered no explanation or details of the situation in his letter. And finally, as I mentioned in another thread, 3ABN isn't spreading the gospel to "all the world." I'd like to see a network of some sort where everyone can have access, not just a few Adventists who subscribe to it.

"Spiritual Adultery" - if the definition is talking to anyone of the opposite sex for 10-15 minutes w/o your "spouse" present - then a grip of folks in de chach is cheatin' hard... jes by askin' "how is your day going? How's the kid at college?"

Spiritual Adultery. Hmm. I thought that was only possible against God. Now, adultery in different forms in which love is lost and other symptoms are exhibited, I've heard of as a cause for divorce in Adventism....but not "spiritual' adultery.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Mar 18 2006, 11:45 AM

Counselors would say that when a man "pushes" that his wife or girlfriend is "cheating" w/o actual "proof" - normally; he himself has issues with being unfaithful....

Now I am begining to wonder....

Posted by: princessdi Mar 18 2006, 12:55 PM

Actually, the term "spiritual adultery" was only used in my experience by preachers to described the behavior of the COI when they would waunder after to gods of the other nations. Then, of course, they would be overrun, taken into captivity, cry out to God, know the drill.

It is very disturbing(not to mention extremely arrogant) that Danny would employ this term. For one, it says that he had no real proof, Secondly, I don't know much about Linda, but she could be of Jewish birth, but I know that Danny is not God or even a god.

But then, again, I know pastors who have accused their wives of much worse to "save" their own careers. One woman I know is still fighting the false accusations. Church folks wouls rather believe the lie.

Now, you are getting the pernt!

She maybe thinking more about the ministry that he is. Sometimes things like this are a form of emotional abuse. If she perceives everyone, who really matters, is going to side with him, and he can prove it(which really is in the case), then she may not feel it is worth telling her side.

She didn't even immediately retain counsel for herself, or fight the legitimacy of this quickie divorce. I think it was because of the actions of the 3ABN board and the continued support of GC, without question or investigation into the situation. That can be pretty disheartening and discouraging. He is the one who needed the quickie divorce, that is more suspect to me than anything she maybe hiding. In fact, the reason she is saying nothing is because of the gag order forced upon her by him. I am sure she would have a whole lot more to say.

If she does understand the concept - then SHE ALREADY KNOWS that her new "husband" is the only man in her life. PERIOD. SHE ALREADY KNOWS she cannot accept calls from any man (brother in the church, doctor, boss, Father, cousin) without her husband present. SHE ALREADY KNOWS she definately cannot travel anywhere over 10 miles without said husband.

If she does NOT understand the concept - then she is in for a heap of trouble.....

Even if Danny wakes up in the middle of the night and decides that he was wrong and wants Linda back, he can't go back according to our interpretation of the Scriptures. Is that still binding? You can't go back....you just have to follow David, marry Bathsheba and continue forward with repentence and humility.

Only if the widow/widower had a hand in their spouse's demise... no, not much honor in that at all...

But if the spouse dies from illness or gets hit by a train, struck by lightning, eaten by crocodiles or whatever... their time was just up...not a matter of honorable or dishonorable per se; dead is dead.

I think Kevin was close to what I was thinking. The experience of being a widow for all those years taught me a lot about people's reactions and philosophy. Oh, Priscilla you're FREEEE to remarry, they would coo. You're a widow. No one ever asked me if I dun 'im in. No one ever asked me if I was a such a wonderful wife, that the poor man didn't mind dying and wouldn't make a good wife for anyone ever. Are the living spouses dripping in gold? I was baptized in perfection. If my present hubby steps out of line or our marriage has problems, they KNOW it ain't my fault...cause I was a widow! I noticed that when it was mentioned that Danny was a widower, I was wondering exactly what does that prove?

It proves nothing because it's not relevant to the mess he currently finds himself in... a mess of his own devising, BTW. He gets no sympathy for being a widower because he is now 2 marriages removed from that experience and the woman he married after his first wife died, he has divorced for what are spurious reasons at best.

I cant speak to how your marriage was to your first husband; I do know that we are rarely either as good or as bad as our publicity or the perceptions and presumptions of others make us out to be... as for the widow/widower being draped in "perfection"... the circumstances under which you became a widow would play a great part in how one is viewed... for example, I know a man whose wife was non compos mentis, bipolar and acutely psychotic... on medication and poorly controlled. She developed breast cancer and in spite of her clear mental defect, she was allowed to decline treatment, waiting instead for "divine healing."

He made no attempt to have her mental competence assessed even though it was clear that her lucidity was lacking and her mental state was at best questionable... nor did anyone in her family but as her husband... as the one tasked before God with loving her as Christ loved the church, IMO his negligence bordered on the criminal...and there is neither 'perfection' nor nobility in his becoming a widower... IMO... the fact that he, like Danny Shelton, had a replacement already lined up and remarried within a few months of his getting out of his marriage (Danny by divorce and this man by the death of his wife) says to me that both of them had another agenda all along, an agenda that did not include their respective then current spouses... and that agenda is how one rationalized letting his wife die from his indifference and the other to get rid of his wife by killing her character.

That's how I feel, Kevin. It proves nothing, but to the aaaah....faithful. It does. I feel I must be in another world as I listen to the faithful reasoning. After having such a wonderful first marriage, he was unprepared for the terror that awaited him in the second. As for the gentleman you mentioned, I could find an entire jury that would find him 'not guilty' because of so many factors, one of which is that she was out of control and therefore the decision made for her was just.

hear so many things in this post. One of which is that marriage vows should be taken seriously. However, in his case I can also see a lot of loopholes since I don't know the people. He just may have thought that God ıad given him a 'way of escape' . The mind can tell us all sorts of comforting things that cause us to act in a :ertain way. I know of two ladies who declined treatment and died, while their husbands reluctantly respected heir wishes. I know of several who took the treatment and died anyway. He may have really wrestled with he decision he made. Her family didn't come to the rescue like the Schiavo case?

\ word about the couple in question. I remember when they first showed up on the 'tube' holding hands and hanking God profusely for each other. It was so thick that I would actually avoid that segment at times. He told her she couldn't sing, because she couldn't harmonize. He constantly reminds us that he is uneducated...right up front with his feelings, words, and emotions. She was the 'polished' one of the two. He would tell how she led him to a spiritual awakening on a particular point..or dimension of his character. He liked to make jokes while she would just look quietly.

Ya'll are bad. This is interesting stuff. I didn't have all this in mind when I started, but Kevin got me to thinking. There was a lesbian nurse where I worked at a hospital once. We were very surprised when she married. Several weeks later she was back. The story...the gentleman had a heart condition and during the honeymoon had another heart attack. We never could determine why she drove slowly past several hospitals until he died in the car. Some said she could only think of coming to the hospital where she worked, but others said, but...she was a nurse, she should have known that time rather than hospital loyalty was important. God is judge.

As far as Danny's first marriage goes, she was ten years older than him. It is common knowledge with his extended family, and they are not afraid to say it, that he was cheatin on her more than once. She had a daughter from another marriage. She, her daughter and their daughter Melody all had some meat on their bones, so her refered to them as "The Three Little Pigs". I agree with you, but what if the person thinks they are doing just that? A gentleman in our church, between bites began to 'low rate' his wife to the dinner guests...I married her for her looks, he said, and you can see what that got me! Her looks are gone... Folk just kept on eating, because he went on like that at every occasion. Heaven help us when the conversation lagged... One day he hollered out her age and some other remark. QUOTE(mizrobby @ Jul 27 2004, 09:00 PM)

Hi Family--Ted and I took a trip to Orlando this past weekend, and decided to visit the Patmos church. 3ABN was also at Patmos taping Sabbath services for their "On the Road" tour. Patmos' choir and the fellowship was awesome and we look forward to returning.

Now--Danny Shelton was the speaker of the hour, of course. His comments throughout the course of his presentation were interesting, to say the very least. After the choir sang, his comment was "y'all are serious about singing here"... Then after some rambling, he compared his coming to Patmos with his going to New York. He mentioned that a friend told him that whenever he saw a lot of Black people, don't be intimidated, just look them in the eye and say "what choo lookin' at?"...When in the program it was time for the offering, he made another comment saying, "in the Black churches, you say "lift the tithes"...

Many "Black" comments were made. IMHO, all were unnecessary. Were these supposed to be terms of endearment? When we visit "their" churches, should we make lots of "white" comments? Maybe this was his way of breaking the ice.

Many waited with baited breath for the sermon. Mr. Shelton based his sermon on Nehemiah's building of the wall--and not coming off that wall to defend his actions. Mr. Shelton equated Nehemiah with himself--and how he will not come off the wall to defend his actions re:3ABN and accusations made against him.

Mr. Shelton pretty much ranted about silly women being led astray, lust, how tv and internet has entered the home, infidelity among women, how innocent conversation leads to destruction, Adventist chat rooms and rumors abounding and how folks are writing about him. That was the sermon.

I'm sure everyone in the room felt what he was alluding to and ranting about. I'm sure some of you may have seen the taping. I took notes, as I sometimes do in order to recall what the sermon was about.

Anyway, after services, I felt an obligation to talk with Mr. Shelton. I offered up a prayer so that my words would not cross my lips, but that the Holy Spirit would guide my tongue. I shook his hand, told him that I'm a member of BlackSDA, and let him know that the members of BlackSDA are strong Christians. I also told him that BlackSDA is in no way a gossip/tabloid column and his letter saying that we were was highly offensive. I also told him that the members of BlackSDA are continuing to lift him AND Linda and 3ABN up in prayer, and that if anyone is keeping 3ABN afloat, it is the prayers of BlackSDA. I didn't let his hand go or stop looking him in his eyes until he heard. He did say many times "I appreciate that".

If Mr. Shelton is lurking this site, I'm sure he will confirm all that I've said here.

nteresting reading. Does anyone know if he has undergone any diversity training since this happened?

nfidelity only in regards to women? Did he really say that in a sermon? As for the comparison with Nehemiah.....

This is really sad. My heart just dropped when I read all of these posts from the past.
My friend just got another e-mail from Danny this morning and I have almost convinced her to pass it on to others. The man has serious issues!

It's sad to say, many of our fellow Adventist believe that there is a "black" heaven and a "white" heaven. I was told by a member of a SDA church I was visiting that "she" was going to come on over to my side of heaven to hear us sing. I couldn't sing another note after that was said for the tears in my eyes.

Praise God for you Jnana! You are better than I. There would have been tears, but not mine, after that comment. I have suspected, and I am just going to say this and be through that there is also a slight underlying racial kind of thing going on here also. I tis not a part of the main issues by any means, but it is there. I know all the arguments, and that I am now going to get a list of eithnic groups represented on 3ABN, etc. However, those of us who know, know it when we see it, no matter how pretty they fix it up.

Don't forget the "red" heaven. Just maybe that's where all the sons of "Adam" will be, since "Adam" (and "Edom") are supposed to mean "red."

That makes my stomach hurt. Someone actually said that? I hope to be surrounded by black people in heaven...and white people...and red people...and yellow people...just like the song says - "red and yellow, black and white, all are precious in His sight"!!! The only "color" I expect in heaven will be that which radiates off each one of us, EQUALLY, from the glory of the presence of Jesus, our Saviour... I'd like to sing with everyone, too...!!!

Posted by: Pickle Mar 29 2007, 03:26 PM

What I was trying to say was that the only heaven there is may be the one for the sons of Adam, the "red" heaven.

Jnan15,
There is a "white" heaven. I hear they have a chapter near Thompsonville.

But seriously, do you think there will be different skin colors in heaven? If so, I'll just bet it won't be an issue with anyone who is there.

I love Jesus with all of my heart and I truly believe that He sees no color as we do. Look at this world He has created, eventhough marred with sin. Lots of different shades of all colors and they are all beautiful.

I just pray that Danny will tell self to go and sit down somewhere and let God take over 3ABN.

As far as Danny's first marriage goes, she was ten years older than him. It is common knowledge with his extended family, and they are not afraid to say it, that he was cheatin on her more than once. She had a daughter from another marriage. She, her daughter and their daughter Melody all had some meat on their bones, so her refered to them as "The Three Little Pigs". Does that sound like a man who was respectin' his wife?

Sister, I give up. You really have to get some more credible sources. How can you consistently have facts wrong? His first wife had 2 girls. Don't make allegations on any "cheatin" unless you can back it up with eyewitness testimony. Everyone else here might ignore your allegations without proof but I won't. >
> Now--Danny Shelton was the speaker of the hour, of course. His comments throughout the course of his presentation were interesting, to say the very least. After the choir sang, his comment was "y'all are serious about singing here"... Then after some rambling, he compared his coming to Patmos with his going to New York. He mentioned that a friend told him that whenever he saw a lot of Black people, don't be intimidated, just look them in the eye and say "what choo lookin' at?"...When in the program it was time for the offering, he made another comment saying, "in the Black churches, you say "lift the tithes"...

Many "Black" comments were made. IMHO, all were unnecessary. Were these supposed to be terms of endearment? When we visit "their" churches, should we make lots of "white" comments? Maybe this was his way of breaking the ice.

Many waited with baited breath for the sermon. Mr. Shelton based his sermon on Nehemiah's building of the wall--and not coming off that wall to defend his actions. Mr. Shelton equated Nehemiah with himself--and how he will not come off the wall to defend his actions re:3ABN and accusations made against him. Mr. Shelton pretty much ranted about silly women being led astray, lust, how tv and internet has entered the home, infidelity among women, how innocent conversation leads to destruction, Adventist chat rooms and rumors abounding and how folks are writing about him. That was the sermon.

I'm sure everyone in the room felt what he was alluding to and ranting about. I'm sure some of you may have seen the taping. I took notes, as I sometimes do in order to recall what the sermon was about.

Anyway, after services, I felt an obligation to talk with Mr. Shelton. I offered up a prayer so that my words would not cross my lips, but that the Holy Spirit would guide my tongue. I shook his hand, told him that I'm a member of BlackSDA, and let him know that the members of BlackSDA are strong Christians. I also told him that BlackSDA is in no way a gossip/tabloid column and his letter saying that we were was highly offensive. I also told him that the members of BlackSDA are continuing to lift him AND Linda and 3ABN up in prayer, and that if anyone is keeping 3ABN afloat, it is the prayers of BlackSDA. I didn't let his hand go or stop looking him in his eyes until he heard. He did say many times "I appreciate that".

If Mr. Shelton is lurking this site, I'm sure he will confirm all that I've said here.

What do you now think of DS's "off the wall" comment he made, according to the post above.

Wonder if he still equates himself with Nehemiah?

Someone should write an article and title it, "DS is Off the Wall."

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ Scott Clem Statement - "i Am Not A Victim"

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Apr 27 2007, 05:36 PM

Dear BSDA family,

Much has been written here about the Clem brothers - Scott, Duane and Roger. Many are becoming very familiar with the impact that the admitted AND the alleged sexual abuse by Tommy Shelton has had on two of these brothers - Duane and Roger. At some point, some where in all of these discussions, a leap has apparently been made to include Scott in the allegations of abuse. The following statement, posted on Save3abn.com, is Scott's statement to set the record straight.

PB

-------- Original Message -------- From: Scott Clem
Subject: I Am NOT A Victim
Date: Wed, 25 Apr 2007 12:36:15 -0500

Hi, ******!

I feel that I need to address an issue which keeps reappearing, and I request that this message be posted on any and all appropriate websites which deal with the issues surrounding Tommy Shelton.

It is widely known that both of my brothers fell victim to inappropriate sexual behavior by Tommy, and since this information has gone public, statements have been made to me, or to others about me, in regard to whether or not the same fate had befallen me. While I can certainly understand this concern, it is troubling to me that certain individuals seem to have simply concluded within their own minds that I must have been a victim as well. This could potentially result in litigation if the wrong things are said to the wrong people, so I feel that the time has come for me to set the record straight.

The simple truth....I am NOT one of Tommy Shelton's victims. The despicable acts which were, unfortunately, perpetrated on my brothers were, fortunately, never perpetrated on me. For what reason, I am not sure, but I am glad that I was never victimized and I wish that my brothers and all of the other young men could say the same of themselves.

True as this may be, certain facts remain. Though I was not a victim myself, I am still experiencing my own degree of pain in this situation because of what my brothers and several friends have gone through. In light of this, I wish to make it perfectly clear that I am not making this statement in defense of Tommy Shelton. I am NOT defending that man, and I never will again! I am making this statement to protect those who have been misled into believing and advocating something that simply is not true.

The problem is this....the time could come when something is said to someone in regard to my "victimization", and those in Tommy's defense could, in the long run, use that as a basis for litigation against the person who made the statement when the truth comes out. I do not intend to give them the satisfaction. I repeat....I am NOT defending Tommy Shelton. As long as he has no chance of squirming his way out of trouble, I don't give a care what he has or what he does with it, but I am afraid that something is going to be said which could give his side even a small bit of credibility, and this just cannot happen.

At this point, there have been no direct accusations against Tommy in regard to me personally, but I am afraid that this may soon happen. I just want to make it very plain to everyone that I am not a victim, but that I stand with and support the victims who are now coming forward.

Thank you very much for your assistance in this matter.

In Christ,
Scott

Thank you Scott for clarifying that. I believe too that it is good that you have spoken out before TS's side can come up with any more wild claims of persecution etc. God bless.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe May 1 2007, 08:38 PM

This shows that the "side" doesn't have to resort to "making up victims" for Tommy Shelton.... when in large there are enough existing. The fact that he supports his brother is beautiful...and the fact that he can come forward and admit that he is not a victim is admirable. What I like even better is that he acknowledges the abuse of his other brothers and does not state that it didn't "happen" to them....

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ The Rosie Lies Of 26th April 2007, 02:08 Pm Allowed On Cf

Posted by: mozart Apr 29 2007, 06:09 PM

I copied and am pasting this here right away because I know that the biased mods over on CF will probably delete it as soon as they see it.

TRUTHMAGNET opened this thread today after rosie55's attempt to slander linda by opening a thread with the false title "3ABN Lawyer's Discussion. CF did not attempt to delete rosie55's thread even though it was falsly titled and created to slander and start gossip. rosie55 deleted her own thread when it did not go the way she had planned.

Could you tell me what she got at the time of the divorce and again why she would go to court again?
(Lie #3 - AGAIN? twisting the truth & not revealing "Lawyers Discussion")

Does Danny have assets that he didn't disclose before the divorce?
(Lie #4 - Asking for Deliberate Retorical Spin on Question- not asking for "Lawyers Discussion")

I am assuming she wants more money.
(Lie #5 - not asking for "Lawyers Discussion" but assuming to slander and start gossip)

I'm curious, does Linda hold down a job?
(Lie #6 - not asking for "Lawyers Discussion" and degrading Linda by inferring, by the usage of the term "hold down a job", that she is somehow irresponsible and has trouble "holding down a job" thus trying to start slanderous and degrading gossip)

What does she do to earn her living?
(Lie #7 - not asking for "Lawyers Discussion" - question is irrelevant and trying to start demeaning gossip)

Thanks for making this more clear.
(Lie #8 - not asking for "Lawyers Discussion" but accepting in advance of reply from tomatoe, not a lawyer, that his answers will make things more clear - subject reeking of pre-planned answers)

Oh, and this question is for Tomatoe ONLY. Thanks for respecting this.
(Lie #9 - not asking for "Lawyers Discussion" but trying to start demeaning gossip aimed at Linda)

If the motive of opening this public thread were seeking truth, then one has to wonder why the proposed query is for only one designated responder who is preliminarily set up as being the only one knowing the true answers that can clarify the original poster's confusion. Would that defy the definition of "FORUM"?

End Quote from Rosie55

****
Now we have tomatoe who made at least a dozen or two posts spinning his idealistic loyal views as facts. Best i recall, in the entire thread, there was not one "Lawyer Discussion" or documentation of any Lawyer Discussions.

Where is that part of Rosie's thread? Does she use invisible ink? Maybe the type is too small. I'm not finding it. Can you show me that again?

{Now Tomatoe; here's your script.
linda is taking danny to court just to get more money. she doesn't want to work, has spent the 3/4 million they gave her and now want's even more. she doesn't "hold down a job" because she had rather get more money out of danny than work. she doesn't want to earn her own living anymore. she wants danny to pay her way in the style she is accustomed. got that? love, mollie }

Slandering Linda was the ONLY point of the ROSIE55's thread. It had nothing to do with nor did it contain one sentence of "3ABN Lawyer's Discussion. Since they didn't get what they wanted out of it, they closed it down.

I'm finding it hard to understand why we want to bring stuff over here that isn't even fit for the forum it came from. We know what kind of stuff these folk say... we don't need to see it over and over again.

Hey Rosyroi

I had planned to respond to Mozart earlier but your comment points out something that can be documented. Many of us spell things wrong or make typographical errors. In fact this was pointed out several times in other threads.

What is interesting is that Rosie55 has made the same spelling error with a particular word that Joe Smith and Eyewitness made (for newbies these are banned posters). This same spelling error was made by another DS apologist that still posts here at BSDA. Now what kind of stretch would it be to assume that either the same person is writing all the material for posting or that IDs are shared? And Rosyroi, with all the hundreds and hundreds of posts here in the 3abn forum not a single other person has made the same spelling error.

Talk about things that make one go, hmmmmmmm.

I tend to agree, WB ... but I don't disagree with mo for posting either. I might not have done it, but it is another brick in the wall, so to speak, of the kind of people that stand up on Danny's side. I wouldn't be surprised if Rosie55 reads, or used to read, on BSDA. If so, that person knows we're paying attention ...

Mozart, your post got me to the Christian Forums where I had not looked for a long time - to discover the thread is closad for now.

Posted by: mozart Apr 30 2007, 02:04 AM

yes Rosie55 closed her thread falsly & seductively titled "3ABN Lawyers Discussion" when it totally backfired on her. it is locked, but you can still read it.
Truthmagnet opened another thread this morning exposing Rosie55 and Tomatoe for the deceivers that they are and TMs new thread, that is pasted at the beginning here, got immediately and completely deleted by the CF mods who said it was flaming. i expected as much that is why i posted it here. Truthmagnet exposes each bogus question by Rosie55 who's agenda was to slander and start rumors and negative gossip about Linda and trying to make it look like innocent questions and "confusion" for her that only tomatoe could clear up. they obviously had a script they were foolish enough to think they could get away with but it blew up in there face, however even with their flaming insults in the approx. 100posts in that thread, the CF mods never once intervened.. it had nothing to do with 3ABN lawyers discussions so TM opened a rebuttel thread and the CF mod deleted it almost immediately.

The mods at CF, like the mods at CA are pro-Danny's camp... and have reached a point where they barely maintain a pretense of objectivity. If one is going to post there, they should know that those critical of DS et al are kept on a much shorter leash and given far less leeway than those who are DS supporters.

But I've heard that in the "good old days" when politicians visited rural farm areas to make their campaign speeches..... local farmers brought bushels of tomatoes that were too rotten to be sold so the locals could express their negative "appreciation" in a rather direct way. I guess those tomatoes didn't have any say in being used in that way. But it seems as though we now have at least one which hurls himself at any who disagrees with him....

'es you are correct. in fact i dont even like to go over there because of the excessive hostility. there is only ›ne adventist they have as a mod for our forums over there and she is quesitonable. i emailed them about hat last week and got a reply from a lady in "cusotmer concerns" who said: they may have other adventists they don't know?) that might (they don't know?) be in other forums but yes there is only one adventist for ›ur forum.
vonder when "Christians" became such good politicians? anyway, i have no doubt this one adventist is not ›nly predjudice but very nominal and "progressive" (they like to call it) but i've seen her say she and her ›astor husband don't believe in EGW but he can't admit that because of his job. i don't get ppl that go to a :hurch they don't even believe in, especially if it's a pastor on the payroll.
›ow before one of you goes ballistic on me assuming i think EGW is = to the Bible or John the Baptist or ;omething, i've never thought that. i've never called her a prophet. she asked ppl not to call her a prophet ›nd i respect her enough not to do that. i'm sure she had very good reason for saying that. i consider her 'ery good Bible counsel and i would say that whether i was an adventist or not. for those who pick her apart ›t the seams i say, if it doesn't bless you, don't read it. don't throw the baby out with the bath water. it tends o be a great loss when you do that.

Mr. J,

I think another very important factor that we also need to take into consideration is that I have never once written a complaint to Clay, Di or Calvin here about another poster. I believe we are all adults and should be able to take as good as we give. I believe that as adults we should be able to discuss things and not throw out dynamite and run with no accountability for what was said. However, I get the impression that many supporters of DS that post here are constantly complaining.

I found myself at CF several times writing to the moderator when i began to see inconsistencies in how things were handled or posts edited. It was quickly my impression that like here, the screaming tomatoes and peaches etc were complaining and at CF they were being responded to. So I decided to do the same when I had time to. I typically found that my requests if documented were responded to and fairly handled.

So I think a major difference is that here at BSDA we know the admins and Calvin are not going to be bullied into giving in to demands by the DS apologists. That is not true there and I don't think that will change.

Off my soapbox now that i have said my 2 cents.

well, turns out, she (sophia7, tall73's wife) is the one that deleted TMs thread. i have had several conversations with her and her husband and if they were more "watered-down" they would drown. in my dealings with the mods over at CF, it appears that they only respond if you complain. in fact that is what they have told me. just today sophia7 told me they don't have time to read every thread so they can only respond if someone makes a complaint so that is what i needed to do. i wrote them back and said "the opponents of Rosie55 and tomatoe are not cry-babies that run to momma if someone gives back what they dish out. i told her we don't believe in those hit and run tactics. not meaning to sound self-righteous or judgemental, but, it's truly sad how many unconverted souls are in the churches and even getting paid!! i was thinking about that this morning while thinking about our church wondering why there is no growth. i imagined myself preaching to the church and saying, "there are so many lost souls out there.....and

Well, for another example, Pickle and I are probably not close on a number of issues, but I appreciate him because I know he's committed to the truth, as I am (or am trying to be).

One thing that I don't like about save3abn is that, at least on some pages, it assumes you are a true conservative if you oppose the current administration of 3abn. I think anyone with a sense of right-and-wrong would look at the facts and go, "Hey. Let's have some change at the top here, shall we?"

I don't know Sophia and Tall, I have my hands full checking this forum. But I have friends that are arch-conservatives, I have friends that have dropped out and become Presbyterians, and my best friend, who used to cut up with me in Youth Sabbath School, is these days something of a ... Buddhist ... sort of ... kinda Muslim too ... Hindu Christian ... yeah.

We ought to be careful of ad hominem attacks. A person who is right about some stuff might be dead wrong about others.

I should have clarified myself.

I perused CF to see what was going on. While I was reading the posts it appeared to me the poster rosie55 demanded that no one except the poster tomato reply to rosie55 questions. The questions and answers were deliberately made to make Linda look very very bad.

I am relying on a faulty memory for who was asking the questions and who was answering. As far as I am concerned it really doens't make any difference since I believe it was the same person doing the asking and answering.

Of course JimLarmore jumped in uninvited and added his strange two cents worth. Of course that was an added bonus for the person posting as two separate people. others added their questions that were NOT part of the printed planned program.

My understanding that the uninvited questions unanswered of course helped rosie55/tomato ask that the thread be shut down. By this time another day had passed. Not sure but I think this took about two or more days from start to finish. I didn't pay attention to when it started.

I am sure I most likely left out a lot of other information but this is the best I could come up with to make it as short as possible. Any error on my part will most likely be corrected by those who were more closely involved.

I applaud those who went in there and asked the questions that interrupted the thread.

I hope that answered your question.

s many threads as this forum has started against 3abn and yet you can't stand for 1 thread to be started in avor of 3abn. This board proves it. There was a thread started by bystander. Got shut down. A thread started y FHB, got shut down. A thread started by aletheia..Got shut down. orry to disappoint you but I am on TRUTH side. In 2004 I heard some nasty rumors AGAINST Linda straight ROM 3ABN. Walt Thompson to be exact. Of course if you ask him if he wrote those nasty rumors he would eny it. I got my answer by comming here. the LORD sent me here. One rumor has not been mentioned in ere and I asked an employee if that rumor was truth. The employee said as far as they new it was not true. he rumor was false. And all the other rumors Walt sent out in email and letters were false also. These were EFORE the "Linda is having Spiritual Adultry rumors" ince you use the Evelyn Wood reading course I want to remind you that this was my opinion. I never said I vrote the message in stone.

I see that you are still here writing and rebutting. You have not crossed the line yet. Those others who you so gallantly upheld had crossed the line. go back and read the first post opening this thread Eirene and see who has the agenda. even the title of the thread was a lie. who were the "lawyers" and where was the "discussion". tomatoe isn't a lawyer is he? i think not. the whole thing was designed by fools whose designs failed because they were built on sandy ground.
their evil plan backfired right in their faces exactly as it should have.
have some sense of reason please!

Yet you do the same exact thing over at CF on Rosie's thread and are proud of it. She asked respectfully for certain questions to be answered but you all can't stand the 3abn subject being discussed without bringing your dirt and allegations to the party.
> As many threads as this forum has started against 3abn and yet you can't stand for 1 thread to be started in favor of 3abn. This board proves it. There was a thread started by bystander. Got shut down. A thread started by FHB, got shut down. A thread started by aletheia..Got shut down. Now we have 1 thread started at CF and you all interfere because it counteracts the gossip and allegations that you love to spread so much.

Of course if you ask him if he wrote those nasty rumors he would deny it. I got my answer by comming here. the LORD sent me here. One rumor has not been mentioned in here and I asked an employee if that rumor was truth. The employee said as far as they new it was not true. The rumor was false. And all the other rumors Walt sent out in email and letters were false also. These were BEFORE the "Linda is having Spiritual Adultry rumors"

Since you use the Evelyn Wood reading course I want to remind you that this was my opinion. I never said I wrote the message in stone.

I see that you are still here writing and rebutting. You have not crossed the line yet. Those others who you so gallantly upheld had crossed the line. There are several wonderful folk here who desperately hope you don't cross the line either. They love bantering with you. So try to find that line not to cross so you may have the privilege of continuing your posting in BSDA.

That is my truth and I am sticking to it.

How many threads have been started here by lindanites telling her version of events that she has passed on to others?

posted about this the other day, but having been here in the past, I can say with certainty that longtime members of BSDA withheld judgment for many months before evaluating the evidence proffered.

And by the way, the most compelling evidence against Danny's character didn't come from Linda. It came from Danny himself. I know he doesn't send it to you, Lord love ya, but he sent it to others.

Yes, I am also disappointed in the moderation being done over at CF.

They closed down the 3AVBN Continued (2) topic. As I was the originator of that topic, I received a PM saying it was closed while under staff review. That was several days now. Upon discovery of the closed thread, I replied to the PM, but didn't even receive a courtesy reply, therefore, I PMed another person there today, and am now waiting to see what kind of a reply, if any, I will receive.

Here is what I actually said in my first PM in response to the closed thread message:

that is a fact. i'm sure some ppl go too far in some things that are said. there are people who just don't like other people so they are quick to judge and to believe anything that is said, plus things do get exaggerated depending on who's saying it, but when i doubt any of this, i stop and re-evaluate. not what other people say, but what my instincts have said for some time and i ignored them. several years before the divorce, i might add. the proving point always is what has come from Danny himself as well as those he has in his pocket. i don't believe everything i read, in fact maybe only half, and the rest i have in storage waiting to be convinced with rock solid evidence one way or the other. so, yes, Danny is his worst enemy. it's sad he and his allies blame linda for every single thing. i guess that's all they have. it was clear from the start that they thought if they smeared her while she was under a gag order that they'd have it made in the shade. that is dispicable, immoral behavior. yet, i still care about Danny. i still wish none of this were true. i'm not sure how much we will actually succeed at proving. we do have to remember that we all are guilty of something. so i don't like it when people demonize him. but i dislike it more, when he demonizes the woman he claimed to love for 20+yrs. the woman who stuck by his side to build the 3ABN ministry. the only thing that makes sense to me, is he is so afraid of what linda knows that he can't help himself. i don't think it is jealousy or anger that drives him against her. i think it's fear. all this bothers me, but that bothers me the most. it makes me afraid for him... nuff said.

let's all band together and pray for linda and nathan. let's not forget to that everyday. i hope she hears from him soon and i hope there are a lot of people close to her to help her get through this. blessings everyone, Mo

i have dealt with them vigorously the past week so i know how biased they are. they closed that 3abn thread because they did not want it there; plain and simple. i seriously doubt it is under review by anyone there. i'm pretty sure it's been more than a week since they closed it. the bias is obvious. they instantly deleted truthmagnet's rebuttal to rosie55's bogus thread saying it was flaming, but they didn't say anthing to rosie55 about hers. she closed hers at her own request and they still left it up there so all can still read it. eventho' i have pointed out at least a dozen flaming remarks made by her and tomatoe, they ignore that.

i'm giving them a really hard time about it so i'll probably be banned soon. lol ask me if i care. i honestly don't because they are not a fair and unbiased forum and therefore corrupt. just my opinion.

Well Daryl it would be nice if they sent you a response. But they are not obligated too. I know I don't respond to every PM send me for various reasons....and like the PM you sent to the admin at CF, many of the PMs I get are why did you do something or why don't you do something about this or the other. Often I find it unproductive to enter in a dialogue to explain my actions or what many may consider my inaction. I will only make a commitment to read the PM or email and take it under advisement. So, I would not expect anything more from an admin on another forum.

I would agree with you Calvin, however, their PM to me actually invited a response from me, therefore, respond I did.

I guess I am different in that respect though over at MSDAOL, as I do believe in giving a reason for my administrative actions there, which they may not always like, I will add.

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ Doug Batchelor Responds

Posted by: Observer Apr 22 2007, 03:10 PM

I have sent a number of denominational leaders, and others involved in this Amazing Facts/3-ABN merger A series of questions. All received the same 12 questions. One received 13 questions. All were given an e-mail address to which they could respond to me. Slight changes in wording were made based upon the person to whom I was sending the e-mail. e.g. In the one to Danny Shelton, I asked if Doug Batchelor was going to be President. I worded it slightly different in the one to Elder Batchelor.

Here is the what I sent Elder Batchelor. I will shortly post his response:

QUOTE

Date: April 21, 2007

To: Elder Doug Batchelor

The April 19 announcement of a merger of Amazing Facts, and 3-ABN has been described as the most important SDA media announcement ever made. It has aroused intense interest among the supporters of both ministries. In some aspects, that announcement has confused people.

In the interest of clarifying this situation I would appreciate it if you could respond to the questions that follow. Be aware, however, these questions, and your response to them, will be published on the Internet as that is where the most immediate interest has been generated. In the interest of accuracy, I will post your response exactly as written by you. I believe that it is important that people have accurate information which comes from informed people, who can speak with authority. In this issue, you are certainly such.

Please place your responses following the questions.

1) In the corporate world, the word "merger" has specific connotations which involve changes in corporate structure and governmental registration. Typically, it will involve one or more independent corporate entities uniting into one corporate organization. Will this merger between 3-ABN and Amazing Facts result in one combined corporate organization so registered with the appropriate governmental agencies, or will 3-ABN and Amazing Facts continue as independently registered corporate bodies?

2) It is understood that 3-ABN and Amazing Facts are going to be governed by one united Board. Is this understanding accurate? If it is so, how are the members of that Board going to be selected?

3) Both Amazing Facts and 3-ABN have attempted to establish some a relationship with the Seventh-day Adventist Church, while remaining some degree of independence. It is thought by many that Amazing Facts has a closer relationship with the denomination than does 3-ABN, and that 3-ABN is more independent than is Amazing Facts. With this merger, how are those relationships to the SDA church expected to change?

4) Many understand 3-ABN as claiming to proclaim the "undiluted SDA gospel" in a manner that has not been done by any other SDA media. Is this merger going to effect any changes in the message proclaimed by Amazing Facts and 3-ABN? In other words, can we expect that either Amazing Facts will now begin to proclaim an undiluted SDA gospel, or that 3-ABN will now begin to proclaim a diluted gospel? While my question may seem trite, it is being asked by sincere people.

5) Informed sources close to this merger have told me that it is expected that you will become the President of this new organization, while other informed sources have told me that a decision on this has not been made. Do you expect to become the President of this organization?

6) I have also been given conflicting information in regard to the role that Danny Shelton will play in this new organization. What do you expect that his role will be in this new organization?

7) Do you expect that any major personnel changes will be made in either Amazing Facts or 3-ABN as a result of this merger? Will current employees, who are not members of the Seventh-day Adventist Church, continue to be employed in their present role?

8) Is it expected that all employees of both organizations will transfer to a denominational pay and benefits schedule?

9) Can we expect that both organizations will be regularly audited according to the standards of the denomination?

10) Not-for-profit organizations have ethical and legal responsibilities in regard to the release of financial information to the public. Can we expect that this information will be made freely available to the public?

11) Corporate mergers always involve the assumption of responsibility by each organization for the actions of the other organization. What risks does Amazing Facts assume for past and future actions of 3-ABN? Conversely, what risks does 3-ABN assume for past and future actions of Amazing Facts?

12) Some believe that a benefit to Amazing Facts will be access to a fully equipped production studio, and a benefit to 3-ABN will be increased respectability due to a relationship with Amazing Facts. No benefit is seen to be in a reduced work-force. Others believe that Amazing Facts has much to gain due to an increased audience. What do you believe to be the benefits to each organization?

I appreciate the time that you will expend in responding to my questions. This merger is of great interest to Seventh-day Adventists. The responses made to these questions will be very helpful and informative.

If you do not believe that you can respond to these questions, or if you need some extended time to do so, I would appreciate a response to that effect.

Gregory Matthews

Gregory,

Great questions!

I read Doug Batchelor's response with great interest and was surprised by one of his statements. There are those who have said this merger has been in the works for quite some time and yet DB says:

The miraculous, providential and rapid leading of God in this event has taken everyone by surprise.
"... and all the people rejoiced that God had prepared the people, since the events took place so suddenly" (2 Chr 29:36).

That took me by surprise. Once again, answers that have been given regarding this merger are not matching up with statements by those directly involved in the merger which just causes more confusion about the actual facts of this merger. Who are we to believe?

In the last 72 hours, or less, I have been given information by pepole who can be considered as having knowledge, which conflicts with other information that I am getting from other people who may be expected to have knowledge.

So, I can only say: This is a developing situation. People who think that they know, may not. We are going to have to wait to see.

i find it truly facinating that doug and danny have such close friends in these forums. ppl that know them so well that they know things about what is happening that doug and danny don't even know. they are such good friends with them that D & D have confided things to them that they haven't even told their immediate staff members yet and not only that, but they trust them so much, they give them carte blanche to post all that enlightening knowledge in these forums. it's just amazing isn't it?

one more thing i find truly facinating is these "know it alls" don't act Christian at all. they are sarcastic and demeaning and insulting to anyone they disagree with and they love to accuse us of extremely hateful, revengeful behavior. they love to keep repeating that we want to destroy this or that or him or her and no matter how many times we tell them otherwise they keep repeating themselves. it's just truly facinating that these are people that D & D know so well.

Here's an idea for all. Why don't we just go by what was publically announced on the live, and announced in the press releases on both 3ABN and the Amazing facts websites, and also in the interview with Danny, as none of that is contradictory. Listen to any repeating those same exact things, discount those who are not, and then wait on further announcements, while refusing to surmise or theorize or rush to any judgments which may be proven false, as further developments and actions are made known?

Why don't you just accept the explanation given by both D.S. and D.B. on the live? That is ,that Danny had approached Doug several times and even talked to others, and had even told Doug, why don't you be president, (subject to the vote of the board of cours)but Doug didn't feel that the timing was right, and when the merge discussion came together it did so quickly, they had a meeting on Monday and by Thursday, both boards had voted on it unanimously, and they were announcing it on 3ABN LIVE? that certainly doesn't contradict your quote above, does it?

And then let us practice patience:

And then let us practice patience:

Why are there so many questions?

Very simple, there are many questions because in the corporate world the word "merger" has precise meanings. People who hear it used recognize those meanaings. The reality is that those who use the term "merger," and this applies to people associated with both 3-ABN and Amazing Facts, have not supplied us with the specific answers to the questions that are raised by the use of the term "merger." And in their responses, those who defend 3-ABN are often responding in a manner that reminds one of the term "joint venture," as it is used in the corporate world. Folks, there are major differences between a joint venture and a merger.

Unfortunately, the responses to the questions that are being raised only raise more questions, and further confund the situation. In fact, they often present the planners as having embarked on a voyage of some undefined sort, without full prior planning, and without giving thought to the ramifications of what is being said.

It may very well be true that full prior planning and thought was given to this. But, if that is so, and if the word "merger" is used in its common meaning, then there are answers to the specific questions that are being raised. The fact that those answers are not being given, in a context where it must be assumed that they exist, further confounds this situation.

Folks, in the seccular world, it has long been learned that you go public with full information, before the so-called gossip begins. If you were unable to do that, and the gossip has begun, you respond with full information and facts. This is not being done.

All in all, it appears to me that 3-ABN is behind the power courve in their public relations, and did not learn much from the fiasco that errupted in the manner in which they handled Linda and those associated issues.

Well, when one in a time of crisis fails to learn the lessons that brought the crisis upon them, it can be assumed that those lessons will be repeated again, and again, until the lessons are learned.

Your entire post put into perspective why many questions were raised by the way that this "merger" was introduced. The 3abn public relations department needs some serious upgrading.

Because ...
1) Danny has a history of regularly being careless with the truth. That means that anything he says is suspect.
2) 3ABN has a history of being a mouthpiece for Danny. Thus anything officially announced by 3ABN is equally suspect.
3) Amazing Facts and Doug Batchelor have so far had a clean reputation. But birds of a feather flock together. I am personally leery of official word from Amazing Facts because Doug's secretary, Bonnie Emsinger, replied to my inquiry in a manner that would easily pass as an email from Danny himself -- complete with cover-up and insinuations that were not called for...
d) As Gregory has pointed out, 3ABN and Amazing Facts have not given their constituency the kind of information that can reasonably be expected upon the announcement of a "merger."

Any possibility you could share the content of that email with us?

There are a couple of emails posted at http://www.save3abn.com/news-releases-amazing-facts-3abn-pastor-doug.htm

Scroll down to "Many Things on These Internet Websites Are Gossip and Unfounded" to see them. They may or may not be the email that inga referenced.

QUOTE(inga @ Apr 26 2007, 12:09 PM)

Because ...
1) Danny has a history of regularly being careless with the truth. That means that anything he says is suspect.
2) 3ABN has a history of being a mouthpiece for Danny. Thus anything officially announced by 3ABN is equally suspect.
3) Amazing Facts and Doug Batchelor have so far had a clean reputation. But birds of a feather flock together. I am personally leery of official word from Amazing Facts because Doug's secretary, Bonnie Emsinger, replied to my inquiry in a manner that would easily pass as an email from Danny himself -- complete with cover-up and insinuations that were not called for...

wonder how many of these kind of emails are floating around.

find it troubling that we now have a situation in which both Danny and Amazing Facts are saying the same thing: The merger will result in both institutions being lay-led by a single board. Of course, the single board is to be expected. But the idea that A-Facts will no longer be a part of the denomination being suggested by both sides suggests that there is a good bit of agreement between Danny and Doug on more issues than we know of.

inga,
Any possibility you could share the content of that email with us?

You'll find it below.

It occurs to me that my email is even more applicable now, with the proposed merger, than it was when I wrote it.

Now that I look at it again, Bonnie Ensminger really didn't say much. What I found offensive was her reference to "investigator, judge and jury" and her reference to my "bitterness," which was not called for. It essentially skewed what I wrote into a very different sort of emotional climate. And this same pattern is also typical of Danny Shelton, as is the reference to doing the Lord's work when unpleasant (even amazing) facts are referenced.

When I wrote this, I was very concerned, hoping against hope that my last paragraphs were but a future possibility. I did want to get Doug's attention!

I used a feed-back form on the web site because I could not find any contact information for Doug Batchelor. I clearly indicated that I wished to address Doug, but I believe it's fairly certain that he never got to see my message.

My message is at the bottom, Bonnie's above mine. It is as I received it, with the exception of a few email headers which I deleted and my email address which I deleted as well.

Dear Inge:

So many people want to put themself in the role of investigator, jury, judge and executioner. We need to allow the Lord to do what He alone is qualified to do, because He alone is the One aware of the things that are not known to the human mind and ear. I believe that the Lord is capable of putting things in order, even at the "head of the work," as Ellen White says. We don't want to be part of any gossip.

Doug Batchelor is a friend of Danny Shelton, but it does not mean that he has to agree with everything that Danny does. To sever friendship and association is not beneficial to anyone, that alone the Lord's work.

May God bless you and take away the bitterness and disillusionment that you spoke about. 'The battle is the Lord's." 1Samuel 17:47. God is control and every person will be judged by Him. In the mean time we need to not let the devil take us away from the work the Lord has given us--preach the Word so that Jesus can come!

Warm regards,

Bonnie Ensminger
Secretary to Doug Batchelor

Comments: This is the closest contact to Pastor Doug that I can find on this website, and I wish to address myself to Pastor Doug.

As a fourth-generation active Adventist & graduate of Andrews University, I cannot begin to express how disappointed, yes disillusioned, I am with Pastor Doug's continuing support of Danny Shelton and his shameful dealings. I realize that showing one's program on a network does not imply support of the morals of administrators of the network, but referring to Danny Shelton as "my friend" before millions serves to make us think that Pastor Doug is not what he appears to be either.

What else are we supposed to think? Birds of a feather flock together, they say.

If it is indeed true that Pastor Doug has the same morals or, more accurately, lack of morals as Danny Shelton, God cannot continue to bless his efforts. The fall-out from his public accolades of Danny Shelton, when so many of Danny's moral failings are clear enough for anyone to see, will not be light. I don't believe I exaggerate when I suspect there will be a heavy price to pay by those who knowingly (and ignorance at this point in time is hardly possible to claim) support Danny Shelton in his exploitation of the truth of God for personal gain AND support of his immoral desires.

Are there NO men left who will "stand for the truth though the heavens fall"?

Once upon a time, I thought that Doug was such a man. And it was also nice to see his wife on the show with her simple, direct manner, so suitable for a Christian wife.

But now it seems that all of this is but good play-actiing -- just like Linda and Danny used to perform for their public and as Danny is continuing to do.

So it is evident that Doug, too, has his price. The exposure that 3ABN can give to a "televangelist" is justification enough to "overlook" Danny's brazen immoral behavior, thus condoning it and joining him in the slime pit of immorality. Ah, yes, a bigger audience makes it all worth it... more dollars coming in...

Ichabod! May God have mercy!

QUOTE(Observer @ Apr 25 2007, 08:43 AM)

Why are there so many questions?

Very simple, there are many questions because in the corporate world the word "merger" has precise meanings. People who hear it used recognize those meanaings. The reality is that those who use the term "merger," and this applies to people associated with both 3-ABN and Amazing Facts, have not supplied us with the specific answers to the questions that are raised by the use of the term "merger." And in their responses, those who defend 3-ABN are often responding in a manner that reminds one of the term "joint venture," as it is used in the corporate world. Folks, there are major differences between a joint venture and a merger.

Unfortunately, the responses to the questions that are being raised only raise more questions, and further confund the situation. In fact, they often present the planners as having embarked on a voyage of some undefined sort, without full prior planning, and without giving thought to the ramifications of what is being said.

It may very well be true that full prior planning and thought was given to this. But, if that is so, and if the word "merger" is used in its common meaning, then there are answers to the specific questions that are being raised. The fact that those answers are not being given, in a context where it must be assumed that they exist, further confounds this situation.

Folks, in the seccular world, it has long been learned that you go public with full information, before the so-called gossip begins. If you were unable to do that, and the gossip has begun, you respond with full information and facts. This is not being done.

All in all, it appears to me that 3-ABN is behind the power courve in their public relations, and did not learn much from the fiasco that errupted in the manner in which they handled Linda and those associated issues.

Well, when one in a time of crisis fails to learn the lessons that brought the crisis upon them, it can be assumed that those lessons will be repeated again, and again, until the lessons are learned.

rofl The real issues here are why is the "merger" taking place now, aka the lawsuit factor from Ms. Shelton, and why is the SDA church aka GC head hunters - so involved with the "spin factor" - even while these so called "holy men" D&D - go around being deviously deviant to the point of turning real interested and sincere people against the "merger" even while they deny doing anything at all. This is BAD Business practice! But then again, you are dealing with "evangelists" not MBA Harvard grads! May God have mercy on us all!!! Our faith is NOT in these "leading men" but rather on the Solid Rock - the Truth as it is in Jesus! AMEN!!!

Maybe Doug Batchelor sincerely believes that all the reports of wrongdoing at 3ABN are just unfounded rumors. Maybe he's absolutely sincere and has the best intentions in mind with this merger. If that's the case, then he must be very naive.

I can't imagine that with 3ABN $3 million in the hole that he'd think there was nothing to the reports. He was always better at politics than theology anyway.

3ABN and AF "merge" in some way. The scandals either are covered behind the scenes or blow up publicly. All he has to say was, "I didn't know." He might be lying. But at the end of the day he has his own satellite channel.

rwelchcrs, I hope you're right. I want to believe that Doug is merely ignorant. But one doesn't become an evangelist consulted by National Geographic on prophecy by being a dummy.

Perhaps Doug Batchelor sees it as a way to rescue 3abn by letting Danny ease himself out while seeming to save face.
I notice that DB has recently been bringing in other people to "team teach" the Sabbath School lesson with him. I wondered if that was a way of easing himself out of that responsibility, although to me he is a better teacher than he is a preacher.

Skyhook,

This is an interesting thought. However, what pops into my mind is this:

Is it God's will that one of His leaders, one who has taken the call to spread the Gospel of His Kingdom in His name, should orchestrate a plan to help a "sinner" save face instead of calling sin by its right name and working towards repentance, reformation and restoration?

I was going to post the first paragraph from Testimonies Volume 3, #23 - Duty to Reprove Sin, but the White Estate website says the gateway is too busy right now.

PB, I hear what you are saying and I agree that it is clear in the Bible and SOP that sin should be called by its right name. Of course we do not really know what is on Doug Batchelor's mind regarding the many accusations or regarding Danny's future role, if any at 3abn. The scenario I described could happen whether or not Doug actually orchestrated it. As far as Danny "seeming to save face," I don't don't think he actually has a real chance to rescue his credibility as a representative of God or as "The Face of Adventism." I believe that there is just too much information out there for him to squirm out of this situation, even though he seems to have the type of personality that thinks he can get away with anything. I just suspect that what appears to be his raging narcissism will never let him believe that he is not the "annointed one" whom God called to spread the "undiluted 3 angel's message" to the world. So when and if he leaves, unless there is some dramatic change in events, he will leave seeing himself as a hero. Or if he is actually forced out he will claim that he is a martyr.

Of course, it is all speculation.

http://www.nisbett.com/reference2/3t/3t027e.htm

QUOTE

Testimonies Vol. 3 - Duty to Reprove Sin

I have been shown that God here illustrates how He regards sin among those who profess to be His commandment-keeping people. Those whom He has specially honoured with witnessing the remarkable exhibitions of His power, as did ancient Israel, and who will even then venture to disregard His express directions, will be subjects of His wrath. He would teach His people that disobedience and sin are exceedingly offensive to Him and are not to be lightly regarded. He shows us that when His people are found in sin they should at once take decided measures to put that sin from them, that His frown may not rest upon them all. But if the sins of the people are passed over by those in responsible positions, His frown will be upon them, and the people of God, as a body, will be held responsible for those sins. In His dealings with His people in the past the Lord shows the necessity of purifying the church from wrongs. One sinner may diffuse darkness that will exclude the light of God from the entire congregation. When the people realize that darkness is settling upon them, and they do not know the cause, they should seek God earnestly, in great humility and self-abasement, until the wrongs which grieve His Spirit are searched out and put away.

Comments like this are the very reason I question this merger. We do not get rid of sin by merging with it!

Judas was PART of Christ's followers. Jesus rid his workers of Judas by telling Judas to go ahead and do what he had to do!

It bothers me that Doug has taken on a ministry such as 3ABN. Are we flushing sin down the toilet and it just doesn't exist any more? Are they doing this all in the name of Jesus Christ. Reminds me of the book "All in the Name of God!"

Posted by: lurker Apr 28 2007, 11:54 AM

Had Christ cloaked their sins and applauded their piety, they would have accepted Him as their king; but they would not bear His fearless rebuke of their vices. The loveliness of a character in which benevolence, purity, and holiness reigned supreme, which entertained no hatred except for sin, they despised. Thus it has been in every age of the world. The light from heaven brings condemnation on all who refuse to walk in it. When rebuked by the example of those who hate sin, hypocrites will become agents of Satan to harass and persecute the faithful. "All that will live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution." 2 Timothy 3:12. {PP 607.5}

They do tend to be, um, socially unique. There's a certain appeal in it to people who really wish they were someone else.

I have no trouble with calling Doug & Danny D&D ... if someone googles D&D, I wonder how far down they'll have to scroll to end up on bsda ... ... but my fault.

I am kinda hoping that Skyhook is right, in the sense that Doug would get Danny off the "hook" of national media exposure. Calling sin by its right name doesn't mean it gets splashed on the cover of Newsweek a la Jim and Tammy Faye.

I also agree it's too late for Danny to get away with it. If Doug is not the upright man we've all thought he was, and he tries to protect Danny, he'll go down too.

I agree. Trouble is splashing allegations all over the net is equivilent. It was wrong from the start and is wrong now.

Protect DS? From what? So let me see if I have this right. Your take on this is that Doug and AF have chosen to get mixed up in a corrupt ministry where Doug will end up having to deal with all the allegations against 3abn. Whether that would be kicking DS out or having to protect him. Is that right? They have a very succesful ministry so, they would put theirselves in the middle of all that grief....WHY? Doug has a good reputation but he would risk it to merge with 3abn? WHY?
And by your take and others, Danny would enter into a merger with no safeguards where he could just get "kicked out" or lose 3abn at anybodies whim. WHY?
Sorry, not working. DS and 3abn have not gotten where they are by being stupid and neither has AF. Each ministry will have safeguards in place to protect their positions, their assets and their ministries as a whole. There will be no "protecting" nor "cleaning house". Danny hasn't done anything to need protecting and 3abn is a clean house. Doug knows it, otherwise he wouldn't even be considering this merge. If both parties do not agree on the stipulations and safeguards for their ministries, the merge won't take place. It is that simple.

I would not argue with your postion. You may be correct. But, if you are, you are talking about a joint ventrue.

In the legal and business world, when two companies merge, the merged company assumes all of the liabilities of each of the two, as they existed prior to the merger, and any liabialities that convey to either of the companies after the merger.

To call what is now being described a merger has been quite confusing.

h I have been here on BSDA for 1 day and already I am truly concerned about the topics tht are posted here, especially about 3ABN. I am not an avid watcher of 3ABN simply because I find it very bland and does not suit my personal Caribbean flavor.... However I am uncomfortable about the way we subtly scandal our brothers and sisters. Instead I believe we should be lifting them up in prayer and help to ward off the attacks tht the evil one is making against the army and cause of Prince Emmanuel. To be honest I am actually surprised by the number of pple who follow up these posts and I am now questioning my reason for joining this site.... I even sense some amount of tension in some replys.... it ridiculous..... Hey, Made! welc

Have you read all the pinned threads at the top of this forum? What about save3abn.com?

I joined the forum some time back, went away for awhile, then came back again after the AToday article. The difference in tone between the regular posters' orginal comments and the ones they were posting when I came back was palpable. In other words, the folks that are or have become regulars here were skeptical at first, not really wanting to believe either side without more evidence.

Only one side, the side with concerns about 3ABN and who want a free and impartial investigation of these allegations, has stepped up with any evidence at all. Some of it is original documents. Some of it is eyewitness accounts by abuse victims.

I should be more precise. Eyewitness accounts and original documents constitute one set of evidence. The other side has provided evidence, but not the kind they think they're putting up. This second set of evidence is the work of Danny's apologists, called in bsda slang dannyscribes or dannynites or danites; their postings have grown so vitriolic, so hateful, so illogical and un-Christlike that one wonders what motivates them to post here. They get banned frequently for their behavior.

As we've been watching this thing unfold over time, we who have concerns have gotten pretty angry. Sometimes it comes through in ways that, yes, is less than helpful and may not be put the way Jesus would put it. Once in awhile we've been subject to corrective action by our mods here--which is fine.

But when we see people who have been hurt and destroyed by the leadership at 3ABN, is there a response appropriate other than anger?

Bottom line (and Eirene, pay attention): Adventists don't tolerate this kind of behavior. The reason these forums are the way they are (the reason this is all over the Internet) is because Danny and the 3ABN board have not responded to more subtle, private urgings by concerned people. It's been documented. Some of us have been praying for a year that it wouldn't take a major media story to create the change. But as someone (don't remember who) said, "If you don't clean up your church, the media will."

So, Made, welcome.gif and keep an open mind. Keep reading. God bless you for checking things out for yourself.

As one newbie to another I agree wholeheartedly with your assessement. I have been a lurker here and other places. When it comes to this subject I feel like for the most part many of the posters here can be less than kind at times. Also, if you read all of the information on this you will find many form opinions on hear-say and not authenticated facts. Putting it simply most of what I have read on this 3ABN fiasco is nothing more than gossip and has not served to glorify the Lord at all.

then exercise your option and stop reading it, stop lurking in this part of this forum and spend your time reading in other sections.... since you are a newbie let me say that had you read this particular discussion from the beginning you would have a little more insight into the positions some here have taken.... however since you have come late to the party, mind already made up, I am not sure what you are trying to accomplish.....

And what has Danny done to glorify the Lord? He is the MAIN reason that all of this mess started in my opinion. He just had to divorce his wife instead of taking his problems to the Lord and trying the forgivness route. Remember Hosea? In the bible? Gomer? Now I'm not saying that Linda is guilty, cause I don't believe that she is after following this Danny mess. Like my mama used to say, "He went sniffin' too fast for the young thang".

I really watch out for self-righteous people like you and the Dannyscribes.

Let me get myself off this soapbox before I get in trouble.

Jim, many of us shared our experience when we first came here. I explained how I went from one side to the other. If you've lurked, you must be aware there is a great deal of skepticism around here as we've watched people come and go, some get suspended for the reasons you've given, only to reappear under another username--or so it appears.

I'd be interested in what swayed you one way or the other, and also how you feel about scriptural application to 1) marriage/divorce; 2) child molesters; 3) Chrisitans going to the law to settle differences. Plus, maybe you have views on the 3abn vs. State of Illinois cas, the use of technology, rather than person to person ministry, to spread the most unique part of the 3 angel's message, whether the two ministries uniting is a "merger" or a "joint venture," and finally how you view a TV evangelist...divorced, carrying guns, dressed in a longhorn western blazer, exorbitant salary gleaned from his viewers, hopping on corporate jet to go preach the gospel to the poor, and suing anyone that offends his pride.

There is a certain wisdom found in the bleachers. Many of us do not know the players but are quite familiar with the games we are watching. Then there's the media--those who try and explain (or re-explain) what we actually see happening. We in the the bleachers are not easily fooled...so, it is always interesting to get to know a newbie.

Care to share? If not, you must understand.

News Release: 4/18/2007 3ABN AND AMAZING FACTS TO UNITE MINISTRIES MEDIA RELEASE

"If Christians were to act in concert, moving forward as one, under the direction of one Power, for the accomplishment of one purpose, they would move the world."-- Testimonies, vol. 9, p. 221.

West Frankfort, IL – April 19, 2007 – Three Angels Broadcasting Network (3ABN) and Amazing Facts Ministries today announced upcoming plans for uniting the two international Christian media ministries. Lauding the global platform for evangelism this union will create, the Boards of Directors of both ministries unanimously approved moving toward joining the ministries under a new board and constituency.

Founded in 1984, 3ABN began broadcasting on November 23, 1986 and now transmits its signal to nine satellites that carry it to every inhabited continent with a potential viewing audience of hundreds of millions. In addition to its English-speaking television network, 3ABN operates 3ABN Books, 3ABN Radio and 3ABN Latino Television networks, along with a 3ABN television and radio production center in Nizhny Novgorod, Russia. The ministry has also announced plans to launch the 3ABN International Network before the year's end. The second largest Christian network in North America (in numbers of owned and operated UHF stations), 3ABN also has full-power stations in Papua New Guinea, Uganda, and the Philippines.

Beginning with a fifteen-minute radio broadcast in 1966, Amazing Facts has grown into a successful soul-winning dynamo. For over forty years Amazing Facts has provided strong evangelistic, ministry through an array of services that include evangelistic training through the Amazing Facts Center of Evangelism (AFCOE), a team of live itinerant evangelists, publishing, radio and television broadcasts, Bible school and a popular internet ministry.

While there are still a number of organizational details to be worked out, with good council both ministries are confident these things can be accomplished rapidly. For the immediate future we anticipate most of the normal operations at both ministries will remain the same. Our goal will be to optimize greater evangelistic impact to the world, more efficient service to the body of Christ and better stewardship of resources through this dynamic partnership.

In making the announcement, 3ABN's Founder Danny Shelton stated, "We're excited about uniting our ministries, which will accelerate our array of evangelistic services to reach the multitudes. The Spirit-filled speakers of Amazing Facts will share the undiluted truth of God's Word on 3ABN's global platform. The ministries will mobilize an army of Christians to conduct Bible studies in cities worldwide. Time is short—we need to maximize our efforts to reach lost souls."

Doug Batchelor, Amazing Facts President/Speaker, commented, "This uniting of ministries will expand our operations and forge an impressive team of Christian managers who bring their unique talents and reputation for visionary leadership to the new organization. Our union will surely lead to greater effectiveness and economy in spreading the gospel to the world. We're really excited about this comprehensive opportunity to communicate the good news of Jesus Christ."

Danny Shelton comments, "Through God's miraculous blessing He has allowed me to witness 23 years of the unfolding of the vision for 3ABN. I truly believe that this historic partnership with Amazing Facts is a continuation of the vision and can only say with calm assurance, God is leading."

Doug Batchelor states, "In 1844 Samuel Morse sent the first electronic message. Quoting from Numbers 23:23 'What hath God wrought!' Media has now become for the proclamation of the Gospel what the printing press was 500 years ago. The union of these two dynamic ministries represents a miraculous milestone and opportunity to fulfill the great commission. It's hard to describe the staggering potential! I simply stand in awesome wonder declaring. 'What hath God wrought!' As 3ABN and Amazing Facts join hands and hearts, wonderful things can happen to expand Jesus' Kingdom."

"The secret of our success in the work of God will be found in the harmonious working of our people. There must be concentrated action. Every member of the body of Christ must act his part in the cause of God, according to the ability that God has given him. We must press together against obstructions and difficulties, shoulder to shoulder, heart to heart.--Review and Herald, Dec. 2, 1890."

"'Press together; press together,' are the words of our divine Instructor. Unity is strength; disunion is weakness and defeat." {CH 517.3}

"Again and again the angel has said to me, 'Press together, press together, be of one mind, of one judgment,' Christ is the leader, and you are brethren; follow Him.--Letter 4, 1890." {Ev 102.1}

It will be a new Board of Directors, a new organization, where God's work can continue to go forth. Everyone should have what they want now, right?

You will have to read the other threads...apparently nothing is changing...they are just uniting what they have.....

I'd say that how things look today, might now be how they look in a few months. A few changes may happen yet.

What about the alleged victims of TS and those who were allegedly wrongfully terminated from 3ABN? I don't think this does anything for them. Please don't get me wrong - if this is the Lord's will for His ministries, then so be it. Obviously we are all taught to forgive...I just think we should not be too quick to forget...BTJM...

I guess I wouldn't focus so much as to what is being said. I would focus more on what is not being said. Example: Why make an announcement of this magnitude and no plan of action. Why join ministries when neither one wants to be the head? Why is Doug being so cautious in taking a position such as president but willing to join forces?

ly mind has been running wild with such questions. I wasn't sure how many of them I reallly wanted to voice!

'm hoping the LIVE presentation will help some, but not counting on it! 27 more minutes! (I've been counting lown since 4 hours...)

The Amazing Facts announcement says there will be a new board with a new constitution. This means one board and one president, etc. for both ministries, which sounds like a merging of the two to me.

This will not happen overnight, but it will happen.

I don't want to be a stumbling block for anyone, so I apologize for my attitude. I'm not going to hide it though.

I really hope that "for the immediate future" means more than just "change is bound to come;" I hope it means that someone will be carefully lifting up the carpet and cleaning up the lumps they find.

maybe DB is being coy, extra careful until he has the control to do what needs to be done. he seemed uncomfortable in that seat and he sure looked like he was holding back a lot. you know how candid he is, he wasn't tonight. i dont think AF would take such a risk if they didn't have a really clever plan to get the control and then clean the house. hopefully DB won't lose his marriage or his family in this. i dont think he would take a "pretend" post as some of the dannyeyes are saying. i dont think he has time for those games. i think AF will only do this if they have full control. right now they are stacking their cards and it sure seems DS has no place else to turn. he might try to spin DB's wheels but i don't think he'll be successful. i think he sees that this part of his life is over. i can't see anymore filled auditoriums listening to him tell the same ol' story over and over. he's taking a slow boat to china (j/k) out of site/out of mind so AF can do their thing. first thing i'd do is hire a couple of secretary/spies for mollie and shelley..the only person i can trust up there anymore is moses. that man is one focused and devoted dude. He seemed uncomfortable (IMO) because he felt that they were trying to "make" him become the new president of this new entity and yet, this is not what he wants....OR he was uncomfortable because not enough of the structural details were in place. Both make good sense to me.

What was clear to me was that Pastor Doug batchelor is excited about the possibilities for the Kingdom of God and that this is of God.

Could it be because danny is flying off to china?

to me....doug looked very uncomfortable, slumped down in his chair like he wanted to slip out of site during the first half of the live show. then after the break and he went from the left side of danny (with walt hanging over his shoulder) to the right side of danny. he began to act a little more "into" the whole "love, light and positive wonders of it all" after that break. I thought he was very reserved, which i don't blame him for, but it sure seems like he acted a lot different after the break. you think maybe someone had a talk with him encouraging him to appear more upbeat and positive?) and maybe he let them know he didn't like walt breathing down his neck. if anyone has this recorded, take a look at that and let me know how it looks to you.

also, i don't want this to sound mean but shelley and mollie really nausiated me in the way they tried to ockey themselves to the highest position. they really over-acted their positiveness and enthusiasm over the whole thing. all starry eyed and beaming as if they'd seen this in "vision". shelley acts like she is positioning herself as the next Ellen White with her "dreams and visions and "you know mollie and i prayed about this very thing weeks ago" routine. God fogive me if i'm being a stumbling block but honestly, i think it was a bunch of "foney baloney". let's not forget how they spun tales about Linda and her daughter and "all those evil doers on the internet".

you have to be really careful what you believe about ppl who say they've dreamed dreams or had visions or "felt the Holy Spirit moving". it's important, so very important in these last days that we pray fervently for discernment. we need that so badly. Let's all memorize 2Cor. 11:13-15, 2Thess. 2:10-12 and 2Tim. Ch.3 and 4.
God be with us all, Mo

Posted by: simplysaved Apr 21 2007, 05:20 AM

Mo,

We also have to be careful that we are not projecting here either. Why would they not be happy? I WOULD if I were in that position. Not everything is a conspiracy. It is great news that a ministry they are involved with, 3ABN, is not only being re-picked by Sky Angel but the Dish Network as well!

PTL.gif

and I will say this again regarding Pastor Doug Batchelor's demeanor:

He seemed uncomfortable (IMO) because he felt that they were trying to "make" him become the new president of this new entity and yet, this is not what he wants....OR he was uncomfortable because not enough of the structural details were in place. Both make good sense to me.

What was clear to me was that Pastor Doug batchelor is excited about the possibilities for the Kingdom of God and that this is of God.

happysabl EVERYONE!!!!!

QUOTE(mozart @ Apr 21 2007, 01:19 AM)

to me....doug looked very uncomfortable, slumped down in his chair like he wanted to slip out of site during the first half of the live show. then after the break and he went from the left side of danny (with walt hanging over his shoulder) to the right side of danny. he began to act a little more "into" the whole "love, light and positive wonders of it all" after that break. I thought he was very reserved, which i don't blame him for, but it sure seems like he acted a lot different after the break. you think maybe someone had a talk with him (encouraging him to appear more upbeat and positive?) and maybe he let them know he didn't like walt breathing down his neck. if anyone has this recorded, take a look at that and let me know how it looks to you.

also, i don't want this to sound mean but shelley and mollie really nausiated me in the way they tried to jockey themselves to the highest position. they really over-acted their positiveness and enthusiasm over the whole thing. all starry eyed and beaming as if they'd seen this in "vision". shelley acts like she is positioning herself as the next Elien White with her "dreams and visions and "you know mollie and i prayed about this very thing weeks ago" routine. God fogive me if i'm being a stumbling block but honestly, i think it was a bunch of "foney baloney". let's not forget how they spun tales about Linda and her daughter and "all those evil doers on the internet".
you have to be really careful what you believe about ppl who say they've dreamed dreams or had visions or "felt the Holy Spirit moving". it's important, so very important in these last days that we pray fervently for discernment. we need that so badly. Let's all memorize 2Cor. 11:13-15, 2Thess. 2:10-12 and 2Tim. Ch.3 and 4.

God be with us all, Mo

My own opinion on Doug's demeanor on the Thursday Night Live program is that it was most likely a result what he shared with the audience at the beginning of the show - not having slept at all the night before. Add onto that two plane rides and the preparatory meetings in the days before and I think that would take a toll on any human being.

Just some thoughts on the quotes used in the press release (parenthetical comments are those of this poster):

"If Christians were to act in concert, (are 3abn and AF playing different tunes?) moving forward as one, (as one, not into one) under the direction of one Power, (they both, I believe, are acting under the One same power; they say it themselves) for the accomplishment of one purpose, (I also believe they already have the same purpose) they would move the world."-- Testimonies, vol. 9, p. 221.

"The secret of our success in the work of God will be found in the harmonious (Is there disharmony between 3abn and AF? They seem to already work in harmony together on several joint projects) working of our people. There must be concentrated (They both do this already very well) action. Every member of the body of Christ must act his part (They are both members, part of the body, PTL) in the cause of God, according to the ability that God has given him (Again, both entities have demonstrated wonderful abilities for spreading the gospel). We must press together against obstructions and difficulties, shoulder to shoulder, heart to heart. (Press together . . . they do this already)--Review and Herald, Dec. 2, 1890."

"'Press together; press together,' are the words of our divine Instructor. Unity is strength; disunion (There is no disunity, both, as members of the body are doing their part under One power and for the same purpose) is weakness and defeat." {CH 517.3}

"Again and again the angel has said to me, 'Press together, press together, be of one mind, (the mind of Christ) of one judgment, (that of brotherly love, and the human frailty that goes with it)' Christ is the leader, and you are brethren; follow Him.--Letter 4, 1890." {Ev 102.1}

So, why the merge? The only merge that makes sense is Christ in us, we in Him. That's the bottom line. Is bigger better?

vanburton,
You, a woman of few words, have once again brought some compelling thoughts to this discussion.

"The more things change, the more they stay the same"

Posted by: mozart Apr 22 2007, 12:40 AM

oh i don't mean to say the merger isn't good or real or blessed of God. it probably is, but in a way that the motives of those who brought it about are not as they planned. even tho' it may be a good thing, it doesn't mean it was done for the right reasons. what i am saying is i think that some of the ppl there on that show were faking happiness about the whole thing for various personal reasons. i believe that their super positive attitude was phoney. i think it was more about them trying to keep their positions, or possibly gain more ground with this change, than it was true happiness for the two ministries. i think they are hoping this merger will solve all the problems without any of them being held accountable for their wrongdoing. (and most of you know who "they" is) that this will take away a big portion of all the negative that has come their way and put the focus on other things. but.....the things that have been done and said, on air and off, cannot be allowed to be forgotten in all the hullabaloo of this huge event. yes we all wanted to see changes made at 3abn and i think we should be happy about that and Praise God for that and be supportive to AF. hopefully this will work and 3abn will be run right with a board that is actually a "board". that's just one half of the equation however. let's not forget the other half; holding accountable the few people who have behaved badly (to put it mildly), possibly done things illegally and dishonestly and deliberately hurt others. we can't let this huge thing be such a distraction as to accomplish the silencing of those who are speaking out and taking actions against that wrongdoing. so now, hopefully, 3abn will be saved. that's 1 down. but let's not be naive, or be deceived or cynical about what all else needs to be done. the discernment needed here is of Biblical porportions and by the grace of God, ALL will be resolved and restored. this is far from over and i pray that all of us here, including myself, will be discerning and stay focused on the truth. i pray that we will not be easily swayed or tricked or deceived or tempted. i pray that we will handle the tasks before us with grace and dignity and with all seriousness knowing that we do all things in the sight of God and that real human beings with real feelings and frailties are involved. I just want to say now that i have learned a lot about myself and what i say and how i say it and i appreciate all of you here. i believe all of us who speak out here are honestly trying to make a difference. May God guide us in all that we do and say and think. God bless, Mo

I watched the show and it seemed at times with all the talk of dreams and visions and "God told me this or that," like I was watching a group of Pentecostals. Shelly Quinn sounded as if she had received a psychic reading. God told her something about 3abn not doing well the first quarter of this year, but then it would not merely survive but thrive. Did anyone else catch that? I had to wonder if that meant that "survival" had been in question in her mind.

One of our local church member's daughter-in-law works for Amazing Facts. She describes Doug Batchelor as a strong-willed micro-manager. It is hard to imagine he and Danny being able to work together for any length of time.

I agree.... same spinmeisters. No wonder DB was slumping in his chair. Must have been terribly embarrasing to him. Each one going on and on about their visions and building up themselves doing their best to act "up-beat" about this merger/takeover. Almost nearly funny, but more disgusting than anything else.

Anyone really believe that there would have been a merger w/o:

1. Severe financial troubles.
2. Perpetual rumours of DS's miss-deeds concerning marriage and subsequent re-marriage.
3. Exodus of employees very willing to speak out.
4. Problems with uses money which threaten their 501C2 designation.
5. Rumours which appear to be true concerning a family member's involvment in the abuse of young men and small boys..... (recently substantiated by many)

I am sure I have left out others, but this was NOT 3abn's idea. For DS to give up any of his power does not appear to be within his nature. He vigorously resisted a few years back when the church reached out and wanted a closer connection. To speak out and voice dissent with him meant you were probably not going to last too long with the organization. The very fact that board decisions are often (bragged about this) are unanimous votes says a lot. It is amazing how people will give up their principles just to have a little bit of air-time or the ego building boost of being on someone's board.... but I have seen it happen often. People will say something privately... but when given the opportunity to voice thier oppinions that could be controversial --- they keep thier mouths shut. Like Solomon said.. it is all about ego and vanity.

This may be my harshest statement on here and i don't mean it that way it's just some things are harsh and this one is serious. I believe SHELLY QUINN IS POSITIONING HERSELF TO BE THE NEXT ELLEN WHITE. There's no,no,no,not any comparison. Mozart;

This is getting strange. The more I read your posts, the more I agree with your opinions!

It has taken me several years to see clearly that you may be exactly correct. I remember her before 3ABN. Her prayers were so spirit filled. When she prayed every one could "FEEL" what we were sure was the HOLY SPIRIT. At that time I felt she was being used by God.

I remember when she was in Texas and was offered a position at 3ABN. We all gathered and rejoiced and prayed for her success. This was before the IL vs. 3ABN Property Tax Lawsuit was ever heard of.

I can still remember her stumbling her words in front of the camera and how Linda allowed her continue to practice in front of the camera. I have to commend her for that patience with Shelley.

I would make sure I never missed her "Exalting God's Word" program. She got much better. Danny later gave her a position on Up Close. However, her popularity became greater than Danny's. Everyone, all together now, what happened to her next?

She is rarely seen in programing. She is so busy doing "Things" that she is no longer using her abilities for Christ in front of the camera. This last weekend I did see Exalting God's Word come on, but I turned it off.

I have not decided if she has been deceived, mislead, or if Danny has claimed her as an anointed one, too many times. I did, however, decide last year upon learning she and Danny made a killing on the 10 Commandment book, that my days of listening to Shelly Quinn were numbered.

My decision was sealed forever when she preached her Sermonette at the 3ABN "Roast Linda and Boast Danny" televised roasting/boasting party.

I believe she could be used of God still, but she does really need to get her humility back first.

Inga, I think by your posts, it might be conducive for you to go back and read some facts here and at CF. Doug will not need another 24 hours. He has said over and over he wants to be freed up for more evangelism. The last thing he wants to do is run 3abn as well as his own church and ministry. There will be no "cleaning house." That is not Doug's position in this. Actually the titles haven't even been voted on much less confirmed. What he has made clear is that Danny will continue to run 3abn as CEO. Safeguards are in place where one ministry can't "take over" the other ministry. Even though it seems you are purposely choosing not to acknowledge the facts, that doesn't make your fantasies ,realities. Time will prove that eventually you must let go of your "dreams" of what you want to happen, and accept the accuality of what is going to happen.

Good insight, Mozart. SQ made me nervous from the first time I saw/heard her speak. Thursday night, she couldn't hold the past back any longer. The new bride started spilling out some of the old anointed terms like "synergy." But, the one that took the cake, and was a dead giveaway, was when she finally blurted out "birthing," and opened her arms, and grinned that divining smile. I thought for sure a dove was going to descend at any moment.

thanks LD, but if i have any insight i can only praise the Lord for that. when i was delivered out of the "occult/new-age" i made God a promise. i said as i held up the Bible, "i will never again do anything that is not in THIS BOOK." then i prayed, "Lord, all i ask is discernment so i will never be deceived like this again." i know many times HE has blessed me with that. sometimes i use my own discernment, but i can usually tell when the Lord is showing me. May HE bless us all that way and have mercy on all who are deceived. maybe we can start another thread on that; but let's not hijack this one. God bless our eyes, our hearts and our minds.

beginning last 27 Nov 06, watchbird and i engaged in a discussion about this over on Maritime... it is in the member only forum entitled "Independent Ministries". the thread name is "Abberant Doctrines & 3ABN?"

i think there are other threads within that same forum which speak on this topic also.

mozart, you need to be registered member in order to see and read that forum... which is why i mentioned above about the register button...

can you see the "3ABN Issues Factual Information" forum on the main page? after you are registered, you will see the Independent Ministries forum just above that one.

News Release: 4/25/2007 Frequently Asked Questions #1

Since announcing the intention to unite the ministries of Amazing Facts and 3ABN, we have received numerous good questions from ministry friends. Unfortunately, it is not practical to answer every e-mail in detail, but in the interest of transparency and keeping you informed, we have done our best below to provide some answers to the most common questions. Please keep checking our website regularly for updates as news develops.

Q. What is the estimated timeline for the proposed union?
A. All operations at both ministries will continue as normal for the next few months while subcommittees consider legal, organizational, and transitional issues. With God's blessing, we hope to have the details finalized as soon as possible.

Q. Does this mean Amazing Facts will move to Illinois or 3ABN will move to California?
A. No. There are beneficial reasons for both ministries to maintain a campus in their present locations; thus, there are currently no plans to transplant either ministry. However, some aspects of the ministries could be combined in the future for better efficiency and stewardship of God's resources.

Q. Does the proposed union mean control of 3ABN will be assumed by the SDA denomination?
A. No. Both Amazing Facts and 3ABN will fall under a new board to be led by laity. Although Amazing Facts and 3ABN are self-funded entities, both organizations are supportive of the denomination and encourage people to be active at their local church. This policy will continue under the new union. New bylaws are being prepared to preserve that grassroots principle of lay leadership.

Q. Is Doug Batchelor the new president of 3ABN?
A. No. Danny Shelton is still the president of 3ABN. Mr. Shelton is recommending Pastor Doug for the position of president of the new united organization, but this is a decision that must ultimately be confirmed by the new constituency and board.

Q.Will Doug Batchelor move to Illinois?
A. This is unlikely. Pastor Doug recognizes that should he accept this position, it will involve additional travel. He has spoken with his church and family about the added commitment this union would require on his part. His congregation understands this will reduce some percentage of his time at Sacramento Central, where he has served for nearly 14 years. However, Pastor Doug believes he can do more in serving the interests of global evangelism and church revival by maintaining his connection with church members while still employed as an active pastor.

Q. Will Amazing Facts or 3ABN change their name?
A. Both entities have strong name recognition. There are no plans at this time for either ministry to lose its unique identity or branding through this partnership.

Q. Will the union of these two ministries cause a change in 3ABN programming?
A. The programming at 3ABN is continually being evaluated and improved as the network strives for the highest production quality and content. New programs are introduced every month. This policy will continue in the new partnership.

Q. Will 3ABN continue to be open to and supportive of the many other ministries of the Seventh-day Adventist Church?
A. Absolutely! 3ABN will continue to welcome, uphold, and broadcast the many SDA ministries who are proclaiming the end-time truths God has entrusted to our Church.

Q. Why unite/partner if so many things will remain the same?
A. These two ministries complement each other highly in many areas. Uniting the evangelistic message and mission of Amazing Facts with the worldwide platform of 3ABN is an exciting opportunity that will surely impact the world for God's kingdom. In the past, Amazing Facts has actively explored the possibility of a 24-hour television network, while 3ABN has recently considered launching an evangelism training center. Each organization will now be able to share in the strengths of its partner. A united board will mean common goals and objectives, resources will be used more effectively, and combined ventures will have greater success. (We are currently preparing a more detailed explanation of the benefits for this union.)

Q. I typically receive a monthly letter from both Amazing Facts and 3ABN. Now that these two ministries are moving toward uniting, how should I respond with my monthly support?
A. Please remember that Amazing Facts and 3ABN are each sustained financially entirely by friends like you. Neither ministry receives any denominational or corporate support. At this time, the finances of both ministries will continue to be run separately. However, both will now need your generous support. Especially during this time of transition, and as we make bold evangelistic plans for the future, we will urgently need your continued help for both ministries. Please continue to give as you always have (or more, if possible) to see us through this time.

I have had much respect for DB. I have been blessed by his revival series in the past. But a question arises. In the latest press release, there is no indication that matters which have been written about here at BSDA and at save3abn.com will be addressed or investigated. (Of course, I understand that they might not want to "show their hand" if there are such plans.) Can anyone who desires to bring about revival in the church be effective in such a venture if they are, at the same time, ignoring blatant and open sin in people who are highly visible without and within the church? Especially if they are people with whom they are closely associated in ministry?

If the merger will not put 3ABN under the control of the denomination, does that mean that the merger will take Amazing Facts away from denominational control?

Or will 3ABN remain lay led and Amazing Facts remain a denominational entity while both become a single lay-led entity under the control of a board that is not a denominational entity?

Does anyone know how a denominational entity can be lay led and under the control of a board that is not a denominational entity?

I think it is one of the illusions that many of us have had, that, since Doug Batchelor is an employed Adventist minister, that the ministry, Amazing Facts, must be a denominational entity. That is simply not the case. And the merger with 3abn shows very clearly that it is not the case.

For background in how the relationship between 3abn and the denomination has developed during the years, it would be instructive.... for those who have not done so yet.... to look up the documents on this site that were created in 1997. Briefly, in the spring of 97, Folkenberg tried to get 3abn to sign a contract with the church organization. 3abn refused, with Bill Hulsey writing a letter of explanation as to why an independent ministry would not consider having any kind of contract with the church organization. That letter also is on this site. We do not, however, have any of the correspondence that we are told continued on through the following months... culminating in an agreement between the two entities. We do, however, have the final document, which was signed by Folkenberg and the next two highest men in the church. It seems apparent that 3abn itself authored this, for essentially it was a very one-sided document... giving the church no lines of control over 3abn, but giving 3abn a blank check promise to promote them in all Divisions of the world.... which 3abn has used as their entry permit into churches around the world.

Interestingly enough.... this agreement was seemingly never questioned after Folkenberg was forced out of office just a few months later due to some shady negotiations with which he had been involved.

And all of this negotiation in 1997 needs to be set in the context of certain earlier private letters which I have personally seen, in which Folkenberg was expressing great displeasure because 3abn had refused a request for 3abn to include Al McClure, in his position as NAD President, to be included as a board member of 3abn!

The official questions and answers which are posted above which indicate that the new merged entities will remain as "supporting ministries" and will NOT become denominational entities... and also the statement about having a board that is composed of lay members... strongly suggests that 3abn is once more determined to not allow the church org to have any official voice in the direction they intend to go... and certainly no ability to control anything that they might do in the future.

Thus once more, the church is giving away its rights and obligations to retain responsibility for how it is represented to the world. The question arises, is this because they are already powerless to have any say in this matter? or.....

Again... more questions are raised than are answered with each new set of "answers" we get.

Girth,
I share your concern. I truly hope that the following sentiments are not really how Doug Batchelor feels about allegations of sinful behavior being discussed here and elsewhere on the internet. Others over on Christian Forums have made similar declarations. I hope that Doug will answer for himself at some point so we get his position on the allegations first hand.

So, all this business of Doug cleaning house or that he doesn't realize what he has gotten himself into is absolutely a huge laugh. He had 20 or so highly respected people on his board advising him as well as Danny's board advising him. AF and 3ABN has worked together closely for years. That is the reason the AF people are not worried about allegations. They know they are false and shrug off the people behind it. To say that Danny was running scared as stated above is, again, crazy. If he was running scared he would have resigned, not expanded, and remained in charge of 3abn.
Not hard people, get a grip. As much as you hate to face it, that is the truth of it. As much as you want to read stuff into it, you can't. It is all good.

WB,

Who will ensure that these two ministries are actually representing and will continue to represent the doctrines of our church to the world wide audience? Are the board and constituency/layity going to be able to accomplish that?

So, potentially, there is to be a more powerful force with the uniting of these two ministries, which will be promoted by the SDA denomination, which will continue to be allowed to hold rallies in SDA churches, which will continue to gladly accept tithe, and yet - thanks to Folkenburg's 1997 contract negotiating skills - which will continue to allow little to no denominational oversite.

Well, one upside is of course that, at the present time, both ministries are still bringing new members into the SDA church.

Amazing Facts is a self supporting ministry of the North California Conference of Seventh-day Adventists.

I agree with WB. AF neither 3ABN are denominational entities. They are as they state "sefl funded' entities. Now the people involved for the most part are Adventist and promote Adventism at this time. But I think there is where the question came from, that one or both are presently seen as denominational entities. I also agree that is is an illusion that has been allowed to continue to each ministries advantage.

Now, as someone who's job is basically going under the same kind of thing. I can tell you now that this FAQ has "merger" written all over it. One will eventuall take over the other. Contrary to what Eirene has been screaming at us, Danny will not be running 3ABN as usual for now on. He will only be therefor the next few months while they work out the kinks. One very possibly being his departure, fortunately for him with a lot more grace and dignity he afforded Linda(and I am still asking willhe walk as a co founder or an employee and consider his 250K severance generous). All of those answers including "we currently have no plans" or "there are not plans at this time" means those is exactly the issues they are trying to work out. Doug will be President, Danny may or may not be in the background. They will be changing some or all of the programming, bethat schedule changes or trashing certain shows altogether....leaving the door wide open for the eventual and gradual elmination of shows like the Danny's show, especially is they are moving him from the forefront. They could possibly change the name by combining them or changin it altogether. Anything that is till being discussed or has no curretly plans is up for grabs which by this FAQ is everything, but Doug leaving CA and his church.

QUOTE(Pickle @ Apr 26 2007, 08:30 AM)

If the merger will not put 3ABN under the control of the denomination, does that mean that the merger will take Amazing Facts away from denominational control?

Or will 3ABN remain lay led and Amazing Facts remain a denominational entity while both become a single lay-led entity under the control of a board that is not a denominational entity?

Does anyone know how a denominational entity can be lay led and under the control of a board that is not a denominational entity?

'rannie(I hope you don't mind), I believe it is more like, "Amazing Facts if a self supporting ministry ıeadquartered within the NCC of SDAs. That "self-supporting" pretty much ensures the conference has ıbsolutely no control over AF. It is only tied to the church because it is decidely SDA in it's orientation and ›eliefs. If they decided to become Baptist tomorrow(not gonna happen), the church would just have to let go ınd let God. It is also what is aid in the language of this FAQ.

I think the operative words precede those you bolded; particularly the part that says:

Contrast that with 3ABN: "3ABN is not owned, operated or funded by any church, denomination or organization"... it then goes on to mention that many who staff and run 3abn are members of the Adventist church...

Amazing Facts. Is it, or is it not a Seventh-day Adventist institution? My take on it:

AF is clearly listed in the YEARBOOK as an institution of the Northern California Conference of Seventh-day Adventists.. Yet it is though to have a some sort of independent status. So, what is the truth.

It should be noted that the YEARBOOK lists Moriah Media, also as an institution of the Northern California Conference, and lists it address as the same as the address for Amazing Facts.

Amazing Facts was registered with the State of California as a church in April 1947. Moriah Media was also registered with the State of California that same month, and it is listed as a religious organization, and apparently is a holding company for Amazing Facts television.

In the YEARBOOK the address for Amazing Facts is listed at the "title holding company" for Amazing facts.

My take on this is that this establishes Amazing Facts as a Seventh-day Adventist institution. However, it appears to be governed by a Board which is organizationally independent of the SDA Church. I acknowledge that it has SDA denominational leaders on that Board. So, some might challenge my statement as to its independence.

The reality is, as I see it, that the separate status of the Board releases the Northern California Conference from funding it. It allows AF to maintain its own control, and independence. Yet, the SDAs on the Board give the organized church a voice in its affairs.

Could it separate from the denomination? In theory yes, it could. However, it could probably be argued that such would not happen easily.

Let me illustrate how I believe that this relationship exists in practical terms. I live in a Conference where a group of SDAs established a congregation with the intent to do "cutting edge" ministry. They called themselves Grace Place. They established a formal relationship with the Rocky Mountain Conference. But they held title to the property that they owned, and they were independently controlled by a Board of their selection. The RM Conference acknowledged them as a SDA Church, and their minister was credentialed by the RM Conference, and on its payroll. It its development as a congregation, it later moved outside of the SDA Church, and became totally independent. The RM Conference withdrew recognition. It's minister went off of the payroll,. and was no longer credentialed by the SDA Church. But, for several years, it was an organized SDA church in the Rocky Mountain Conference.

I do not intend to imply that Amazing Facts will ever do what Grace Place did. My point it that the SDA Church does allow certain independent organizations to be knows as SDA institutions, who do have some degree of independence.

This is not true for all organizations.

Weimer College and Health Center is not so listed as an institution of the Northern California Conference.

3-ABN is not so listed under the Illinois Conference.

So, it can be fairly said that Amazing Facts is more closely related to the denomination than is 3-ABN.

Because of that close relationship AF follows denominaitonal policy in ways that other organizaitons may not.

AF hires SDAs. It follows a denominational pay scale. Policies are in effect that allow people to transfer between it and employment in the NAD. This does not happen withe other organizations. One cannot easily transfer in employment between 3-ABN and employent in the NAD in regard to service credit.

Posted by: princessdi Apr 26 2007, 07:48 PM

Ok, I accept that Pastor. But what does that mean for the "merger"? Danny is not remotely interested in letting the denom have any kind of control ove 3ABN.

Posted by: Skyhook Apr 26 2007, 08:02 PM

Within the last 2 weeks I saw a little of a sermon by DB and he said that alhtough he is president of Amazing facts, he is a SDA minister and is paid as such, on the same scale as any other SDA minister. He seemed to be saying that even though he is also the senior pastor of the Sacramento Central Church, he does not double dip. He said that his conference salary is returned by Amazing Facts to the conference. I don't know how old that sermon was, and I didn't hear the whole thing, but that is what I understood from what he said.

Also, a few months ago there was a rumor here in NCC that DB wanted to move the Sac Central Church out to Roseville, not far from Sacramento, and also build a new media center there. Perhaps this merger is an alternate plan.

Posted by: princessdi Apr 26 2007, 08:17 PM

Yes, skyhook that has been the buzz for a while about the new media center in Roeville.

If that is what DB says, then his salary is paid by AF not the NCC. I am not sure why they are choosing to do it that way, though. Well, it is the same arrangement for JL at 3ABN, but they only pay a portion of his salary.

He said that his conference salary is returned by Amazing Facts to the conference. I don't know how old that sermon was, and I didn't hear the whole thing, but that is what I understood from what he said.

Before Amazing Facts can switch from being a denominational entity to an independent ministry, they probably will need to get the approval of their constituents, just like what I'm told was needed before they could move from Maryland to California.

Anyone know any constituents and what they think about the merger?

Actually, its very wording to me suggests that A-Facts is a denominational entity. The question wasn't, Will A-Facts and 3ABN come under denominational control? It was only, Will 3ABN come under such control?

And why ask the question at all? Because since a-Facts is a denominational entity, its merging with 3ABN raises that question. If A-Facts wasn't part of the denomination, the question wouldn't need to be asked.

By the way, PB has gotten official word that A-Facts is under the conferences umbrella, and that if the merger takes place, they no longer will be.

Yes, Doug Batchelor is listed in the YEARBOOK as a credentialed SDA minister. (See page 771 of the 2007 edition.)

Yes, it is likely that he salery is paid by the Northern California Conference, that he does not recieve additional salery, that he is paid on the same salery scale as other NCC clergy, and that Amazing Facts may return to the NCC part or all of his salery and benefits package.

Yes, Elder Batchelor has wanted for some time to move the Sacramento congregation to another location, and/or build a media center.

If that's true, AF employees may lose a lot of benefits, because AF most likely cannot immediately offer the same benefits as the denomination ...

Otoh, it would, of course, leave room for AF to adopt the same ... ahem ... "frugal" business practices as 3ABN. (Think free labor, minimum wage, no retiremet benefits, etc. I'm sure current 3ABN employees can fill out more details.)

In that case, it might be a wise decision for AF employess to look at their employment options ...

I've seen so many "unbelievable" things happening in the last several years, that nothing can really surprise me any more ...

It should be noted that if such were to happen, many of the employees would have earned retirement benefits, either present or future.

AF would then have to institute their salery and benefit package. Probably they would be able to match current denominational benefits and salery as it it likely that their present payroll expenses have come from their present income.

As to the future. . . . . .?

If Doug Batchelor takes AF away from the denominational relationship that it presently has, how will that affect offering income?

If DB does the above, how will that affect DB's status as an credentialed SDA minister of the Northern California Conference, and asa pastor of Sacramento Central?

More questions? With each passing day, the questions increase.

Today as I reading the forum, a quote from Ellen White came to mind. Whether you believe in the SOP or not, I believe you will find a great deal of truth in this statement with regards to the current situation with 3abn (and possibly AF, though I hope not). I am bolding some phrases that especially stand out.

QUOTE

Satan has gained marked advantage in ----- because the people of God have not guarded the outposts. The very men whose labors God has signified that He would accept if they were fully consecrated have been the ones to be deceived, to fail in their duties, and to prove a terrible burden and discouragement, instead of the help and blessing that they should have been. These men who have been trusted to keep the fort have well-nigh betrayed it into the hands of the enemy. They have opened the gates to a wily foe, who has sought to destroy them. {4T 211.2}

Men of experience have seen stealthy hands slipping the bolts that Satan might enter; yet they have held their peace with apparent indifference as to the results. Some have been glad to see this, as it seemed an extenuation of their past neglect, which made it a necessity to call for others to fill the posts of responsibility that they had abused or neglected. This lack of watchfulness on the part of these newer incumbents seemed to excuse the former for their own want of faithfulness, as it showed that others were fully as derelict in duty. These persons do not realize that God holds them responsible for every advantage gained by the foe who is admitted to the fort. The desolation and ruin following lie at the door of the unfaithful sentinels, who, by their neglect, become agents in the hands of the adversary to win souls to destruction. Men in responsible positions should seek wisdom and guidance of God, and not trust to their own judgment and knowledge. Like Solomon they should earnestly pray for faith and light, and God will give them freely of His abundant supply. {4T 211.3}

I found this post made by Tomatoe in response to Rosie55 on ChristianForum.com.

It actually says quite a bit.

QUOTE

This merger is interesting news to many people. Some are saying this is happening because Pastor Bachelor is to take over 3abn because of Danny's sins.

They are saying Pastor B. will take over 3ABN. We know you said this is not the case but that each will have their separate duties and titles.

Some are saying Pastor B. is trying to "hide" Danny's supposed sins.

I think these people are not understanding the real reasons for the merger.

I know you've said it before but I guess my question is this: Is Doug taking over 3abn to hide Danny's supposed sins?

QUOTE

What people do not seem to be comprehending here is this merge is so much bigger than Danny or Doug.

There are lots of people involved in this.

Well respected people and leaders of the church.

Doug has several conference people on his board and that are involved with AF.

Danny has members of ASI and the conference on his and also plenty more that associate with 3ABN.

How people think that 2 people could make this decision of a "cover up" and then make it happen is beyond me.

1. AF is a very successful ministry in it's own right, why get involved with 3abn if the Internet allegations are true?

2. Doug could not make this move without his board's approval. In order to get that approval he had to present them with the reasons and advantages for this merger. Covering Danny's sins was not one of those reasons that he brought to the table.

3. Why should AF or Doug cover Danny's sins if they were, indeed, true?

4. Why would AF and Doug want to take on anymore responsibilities than they already have with the Sacramento church and AF?

5. Why would Danny for any circumstances, just hand over the biggest media tool the denomination has ever known. Not to mention the 23 years it took him to build it.

6. Contrary to rumors, 3abn is not in debt and have several million more in assets than AF. So again, the rumors that 3abn needs AF to bail them out of financial problems are totally false.

Now the truth of the merger.

Simple. 2 great ministries together are stronger and can do more to evangelize the world than each on his own.

Putting the AF people with their evangelistic expertise with the 3ABN people and their media expertise is a win, win combination.

It combines ideas, boards and financial support to make more happen with less, by working together.

Each bring their talents and means to the table. Each have their areas of expertise and knowledge.

By merging your double even triple your ideas of bringing the 3 angels message to the world.

Why is AF willing to do this with all the allegations being spread?

Because they know they are not true.

Doug has worked too closely with 3ABN and Danny through through the years, to know what is truth and what is not.

AF knows they are unfounded and are therefore, willing to join hands together in one of the strongest moves and unions in the church's history.

Danny has offered the title of presidency to Doug while maintaining CEO/Founder title and remaining in control at 3ABN, while Doug remains in control of AF.

This merge isn't about day to day operations at either ministry.

Nor is it about a take over or Danny stepping aside.

Quite the opposite. Both men and ministries are about being even more involved in preaching, teaching, seminars, and raising funds to keep up with all the latest technology so the gospel can be spread to more and more remote areas.

Notice I said Danny has offered the title of Presidency.

That remains to be seen until the merged board is formed and titles are voted on. Some things have been worked out, many decisions are still to be made, but, know this:

Both ministries will continue under their present leadership with day to day operations remaining the same.

have separated the sentences for clearer understanding. Plus I added punctuation and spell checked these posts. Emphasis is mine.

Posted by: vanburton Apr 28 2007, 08:59 AM

It was said that this "merger" is about "Christians pressing together in harmonious unity shoulder to shoulder, heart to heart, in concentrated effort. Well then, why stop with just two? It seems that others should be sought out in a "mega-merge".

Let's see, there's IIW, VOP, BOL, FFT, LBM, ASI, and GO (sorry if I left out your favorite). How about The Carter Report or Maranatha or the countless others that DS has promoted?

Press together, unify. Why not go all the way? Then we could call it "The United Ministries of the Seventh-day Adventist Church".

If the 3abn/AF merge is BIG, think BIGGER!

(And don't forget all those other Christian ministries that are not SDA)

Posted by: mozart Apr 28 2007, 03:27 PM

Fran just quoted this long post from tomatoe from CF of which i'd like to comment on these few sentences.
This is the question to Tomatoe (who thinks he's an expert on these matters)

Q.- "Why is AF willing to do this with all the allegations being spread?

From Tomatoe:Because they know they are not true.
So, Amazing Facts has done an investigation into all allegations and found all to be untrue??? If this were true, why wouldn't they share that information and end all our debates???

Doug has worked too closely with 3ABN and Danny through through the years, to know what is truth and what is not.
soooooooooo.....just by working closely with someone makes you know what is truth in all their *personal and business life???? ..... many diviorced people who have lived together and shared their lives together for years will say, "he/she is not who i thought they were. we lived together all those years and i thought we were very close but it seems i never knew him/her at all". doesn't it seem more reasonable that if you're married and don't know someone like you think you do that you can work with someone and not really know them as well as you think?

AF knows they are unfounded and are therefore, willing to join hands together in one of the strongest moves and unions in the church's history.
Again, IF Amazing Facts knows all this, they must be the only ones who KNOW all is unfounded and untrue, so why don't they tell us? why don't they tell those who are sure they know different?? why don't they clear the air so that things can go back to just "being about our Father's business???
If AF knows then they must have investigated, right? that's reasonable to assume. they have known of all the accusations and they have investigated all of them and they KNOW none are true so they feel confident about this merger but yet they don't feel confident letting US know what they know. doesn't that sound quite odd?

these are such rediculous statements.

it is more likely that AF does not know most of what is "the truth" and they probably don't even know of most of the allegations but they are thinking this is a great opportunity for both ministries and that those certain ppl from 3ABN who have accusations against them will be handling those allegations outside of 3ABN therefore the ministry will not continue to suffer the burdens of those 3ABN employees that have issues to deal with. I think GMc probably made AF that promise.

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ Pondering Visiting Pastor Doug

Posted by: PJMusic Apr 23 2007, 11:47 AM

Only in this past week have I even known that DB even is in Sacramento. Guess I don't keep up well. I am tempted to go and visit him, but not sure he would even see me. I would just want to say who I am, and where I am from (West Frankfort), even though I now reside in Sacramento, and then how the coverup of what Tommy has had an effect on me and the friends I grew up with. I would hope that he would at least listen, although I seriously doubt anything will come out of it. Although I don't really have anything to say on Danny, I do have the issue of Tommy and what had happened to my friends. I guess it's a more of trying to maybe personally enlighten based on my experience of what had happened.

He is the pastor of the Sacramento Central Chruch.

You might drop him a note, tell him that you used to live in the 3-ABN area, and would like to talk to him about your personal experiences.

You can not lose, and maybe he just might see you.

PJM,

I completely agree with Gregory. Pray about it. I will, also. If the Lord wants you to have contact with Doug Batchelor, I know the doors will be opened for you.

PJ, please don't let this thought drop. Just one person can sometimes make an incredible difference. Perhaps that one person is you. All you need to do is tell your story. Tell what you know from experience. And, of course, you know that Danny had Tommy working for him at 3ABN and effectively enabled his behavior.

May the Lord bless you and give you courage.

I'd very strongly advise you to get local, face to face, counsel on this... not the directive kind, but the kind of counselor who talks with you through the reasons why you are thinking of this, what you think might be accomplished, what would happen to your inner self if you were not successful in what you want to accomplish. Personally, I see nothing that would be accomplished, since Doug is not the one who directly perpetrated the offenses toward you..... and he really has no direct control over the one who did. My thought would be that you should save any confrontation you do for a place where it might count for something... in a court of law for example... for these things have gone far beyond the person-to-person contact stage, and there is a good chance that there may be litigation from some of the abused. And you certainly do not need any of the surfacy type of interaction which Doug describes in his public presentations of how he interacts with others.

So I guess my bottom line thoughts would be for you to take time to think it through thoroughly... and... did you say you are IN Sacramento yourself? If so then I'd suggest that you visit his church and observe him in action. This might tell you a lot about what kind of reception you would get from him. Then you will have more information on which to base your decision. I know I have gone to meetings at times deliberately planning to meet the speaker afterwards... and sometimes I have done so, and established good relationships with them... and sometimes I have walked away without even introducing myself to them, having seen in their self-presentations.... or in their interactions with others.... that which warned me away.

WB,

I think your words of caution are wise and I agree that PJ should think through what he hopes to accomplish and how he is going to proceed. Someone who can be a face-to-face soundingboard is also wise to consider. I especially agree with your second paragraph. This would be an excellent way to prepare and decide if he should attempt contact.

If the Lord is placing a burden on PJ's heart to reach out to Doug with his first-hand testimony, I believe He will clear the way and open the doors. PJ needs to be certain whether or not it is the wise thing to do. Your advice along all of our prayers will help to that end, as well.

"So, what would any of this have to do with Doug and AF?"

- This has everything to do with Doug and AF. This would be like marrying someone that has been accused of a crime and expecting to not be affected. Let's count - January, February, March, part of April - You say this like it has been a long time. Less than 4 months is a short span of time when we are talking about events that took place in the 80's. Oh, I forgot - all of this happened over thirty years ago according to DS.

We have already heard all of the excuses that you can come up with. And BTW, I think I will allow PJMusic, Duane and others tell their first-hand experiences without yelling at them.

PJMusic, Even considering whether to go and meet with Doug must show your friends in IL that you are still right there with them and will support them through it all. Maybe you might NOT wanna say that. PJMusic is a guy.

Sorry, couldn't resist.

PJMusic, if you feel like that is what you should do then go for it. You can show how this coverup has affected someone like yourself, and what it has done to the rest of us as well.

OOOOPS! APOLOGIES PJ

So, you are another one that believes that what TS was doing was alright as long he didn't exatly get caught at it, the young men were over 17 and consenting adults, etc? No proven coverup doesn't mean there wasn't one, just one done all too well.

So, what would any of this have to do with Doug and AF? Should I even have to add, again, that Doug has been clear that Danny will continue to run 3abn and Doug will continue to run amazing facts. THERE ARE SAFEGUARDS IN PLACE TO ENSURE THAT ONE MINISTRY CAN'T TAKE OVER THE OTHER.
And you know this because you are Danny or Doug, presently on either board, GM? Or is this what you were told. Everyone was told that there were no plans, at present, for one to take over the other, but we also know they basically made the annoucement with no plan. Anything can happen. Like I said, you and the others are being fed information on the basis that you believe this is a ministry, and you believe in that ministry. This merger is a corporate move.I do, however, agree that htere is little that DB can do, besides maybe back out of the deal, since nothing seems to be concrete..... But also his response would tell something about his character

The absence of one is not proof of the other.

The "3ABN investigators" (Not) will have their day in court. Until then, for your own sake, please try and keep an open mind.

Aletheia,

IF you think that Going to Court will Clear TS, that is a wild joke His own words have hung him.

Also it sure is taking a long time to get to court, maybe the brilliant lawyers are not so sure of the case so they are waiting to see if the "guilty " will finally do something they can be nailed for.

Clarification. I was referring to Di claiming " No proven coverup doesn't mean there wasn't one, just one done all too well." when I said, the absense of one is not proof of the other.

The self proclaimed invstigators and reporters accusing 3ABN of engaging in a coverup, will have their day in court regarding their libel..

You can believe that or not, as you choose.

fou obviously misunderstand. Going to court as about a lawsuit against others that have slandered, ied, accused, etc. The "guilty parties" are the ones in the hot seat in a case like this because they ıave to prove every allegation they have made, beyond a reasonable doubt, or be held accountable in ı court of law. Suits are designed to address certain items and certain individuals. You can certainly ›ring more than one suit but usually, the causes and people are kept seperate. There are exceptions. n the most winning and clear cut case, it takes months for the attorneys to sludge through the court ›rders, injunctions, signatures and all the legal mumbo jumbo in general. Once the suit is filed and :he papers are served it could drag out in court over years. Very hard on the person being sued and ›xtremely costly for their defense.
:rik you seem a little naive on the court system and more than a little confused on what will be :aking place. In this type of suit, 3abn will not have to defend themselves, they are bringing the suit. 'he ones who have defamed and made false allegations are the ones that will have to defend hemselves and if everything that they have said, cannot be proven, they will find themselves in a vorld of trouble.

3efore I begin....your font is very hard on the eyes...could you change it please?

ıow it is a world of trouble...first a boat load of trouble and now a world of trouble?

3ABN and those who are guilty of any wrong doing will have to defend themselves in the most important :ourt of all.... not only the one here in this world if they sue. You are the one who is naive vis a vis the court system... the plaintiff has the burden of proof in a civil case, not the defendant. The only difference between civil and criminal cases is that the height of the bar is lower in civil cases; there is a "preponderance of the evidence standard" versus a "beyond a reasonable doubt" standard and if there is a jury trial, the vote by the jury needs not be unanimous... but the defendant is not considered guilty and required to prove himself otherwise in any american court.

Just making claims again and again doesn't establish them as truth.

QUOTE

LIBEL AND SLANDER occur when a person or entity communicates false information that damages the reputation of another person or entity. Slander occurs when the false and defamatory communication is spoken and heard. Libel occurs when the false and defamatory communication is written and seen. The laws governing libel and slander, which are collectively known as DEFAMATION, are identical.

A plaintiff who wishes to sue an individual or entity for libel or slander has the burden of proving four claims to a court: First, the plaintiff must show that the DEFENDANT communicated a defamatory statement. Second, the plaintiff must show that the statement was published or communicated to at least one other person besides the plaintiff. Third, the plaintiff must show that the communication was about the plaintiff and that another party receiving the communication could identify the plaintiff as the subject of the defamatory message. Fourth, the plaintiff must show that the communication injured the plaintiff's reputation.

There are four general defenses to slander and libel.

Truth is an absolute defense.

Consent by the plaintiff for the publication of the defamatory statement is a defense.

Accidental publication of the statement is a defense.

Finally, the statements of certain defendants in certain circumstances, such as lawyers, judges, jurors, and witnesses, are protected from defamation for PUBLIC POLICY reasons. This type of protection is known as privilege.

Seems to me, merely citing the save 3abn website or even this forum's posts should satisfy the Plaintiffs claims...

But in any case as Danny Shelton already published during the interview on Club Adventist, in answer to one oof the questions, it's already been filed so they have already met their burden with the court.

Obviously none here can use the last 3 defenses, so that leaves you all trying to prove all your claims, and accusations to be absolute truth...

Duane, please try to get a grip. The merge isn't about you accusers, in any way, shape, or form..

It's about becoming more effective in spreading the 3 angls messages, which is going on despite you all.

Cindy,
That is one of the biggest obstacles to the success of this merger, IMO. The very fact that Duane - who TS, in his 2005 email confession, admitted to abusing - and others who have made claims of abuse or made signed statements that they observed signs of abuse and have allowed their testimonies to be made public yet are being ignored by both leading figures in these two ministries by the words of their representative on this and other forums. That Doug is represented as not even caring about checking out these claims because he believes them all to be false is of great concern to me and should be of concern to all who call themselves followers of Christ, no matter what "side" they support.

Wrong. If Danny is suing someone for libel(sp) or defamation of character, etc. It is for him to prove that they are lying. Not for them to prove that they are telling the truth. The defendants can present what they have, but it is for Danny to refute it, through evidence, not just his word. Question is does Danny really want to truth out about these situations? That is the only way it will be resolved.

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ Fare Well 3abn?

Posted by: Johann Apr 19 2007, 04:27 AM

Just one week following Linda Shelton firing of Atty Brian Drew and retaining new and very aggressive Counsel to represent her interests relating to the division of marital assets, Danny Lee Shelton boarded the Cessna Citation III twin jet and headed west arriving at McClellan Airfield in Central Sacramento, California at noontime; In time to join Doug Batchelor and the officers and directors of Amazing Facts for lunch. The North American Division Spanish Coordinator who serves as Chairman of the Board of Amazing Facts, is is reportedly directing final negotiations in Sacramento, California.

Following the meeting, Staffers, past and present, from Amazing Facts began to leak quietly that 3ABN had been taken over by Amazing Facts. The terms and conditions have not been disclosed and everyone is waiting with baited breathe for the 3ABN Live for Thursday, April 19, 2007. It is anticipated that there will be a major announcement at that time, perhaps confirming the takeover by Amazing Facts of the reportedly severely wounded media giant.

The co-founders of 3ABN, Danny Lee Shelton, President, and Linda Sue Shelton, Vice President and Secretary, worked together for nearly twenty years, the entire time of their marriage together, to build 3ABN from a dream into a world-wide televangelist supporting ministry of the Seventh-day Adventist Church. Many have argued that it was, in fact, the media face of the Seventh-day Adventist Church for many years. Suddenly, in 2004, Danny Lee Shelton allegedly lead a three month campaign, privately and publicly, to eliminate Linda Sue Shelton from her role as Vice President and as Director of Production at 3ABN. She was fired in May of 2004, the record seems to reveal as many as three different times in one of the worst bunglings in SDA employment history. In June of the same year, just two weeks after the third firing, Danny Lee Shelton filed divorce papers in Guam to end the marriage to the Vice President he clearly wanted to get rid of. His public relationship with Brandy began shortly after the divorce when Brandy took up residence on the campus as early as July, 2004 and became permanently employed in October, 2004.

Rumors from various sources claim that 3ABN has been running an operating deficit of nearly $3.0 Million during the first quarter of 2007. This large hole developed following disclosure of certain unacceptable practices, certain staffing concerns and the alleged mis-management of 3ABN under Danny Lee Sheltons administration following the elimination of Linda Shelton in May of 2004. Some claim the downward spiral began in earnest with the remarriage of Danny Lee Shelton to his third wife, 20 years younger, in March of 2006. Since most Seventh-day Adventists believe there has never been a biblical basis for the Danny Lee Shelton divorce from Linda Shelton in June of 2004, the remarriage to Brandy is viewed by most contributors as adultery under the biblical standard. Contributions have been rumored to have substantially declined since December of 2006 as disclosures by both sides became public debate on forums and e-mail campaigns.

Linda Shelton also recently demanded that 3ABN produce and make available for authentication the evidence that was purportedly the basis for her being caste aside in 2004 and lead to Danny Lee Shelton divorcing her and remarrying Brandy. Linda has repeatedly denied any wrongdoing, however, officers and directors of 3ABN have utilized the bully pulpit of 3ABN to regularly assert that Linda had conducted an inappropriate telephone relationship with a Dr in Norway that was treating her son from a prior marriage, Nathan Moore. They have further variously claimed that she had committed what was variously defined as a spiritual adultery against Danny Lee Shelton. This reporter reviewed and tested many of the allegations leveled by Danny Lee Shelton in a myriad of e-mails and came to the conclusion after a review of various statements that the alleged evidence is unlikely to constitute any provable case against Linda Shelton. This reporter actively participated in an effort to get an ASI panel to hear the case and review the evidence. When the panel failed, a website was constructed to make the real evidence available for contributors referred to as the stockholders in the pews to look for themselves and self-determine where they felt the evidence really pointed. Much of this is documented at www.Save3ABN.com.

Danny and the Chairman of the Board have repeatedly warned of pending litigation against those responsible for having exposed various issues relating to violations of SDA Standards as well as alleged financial Exigency issues, including non-disclosure of certain conflicts within the records of 3ABN and some of its officers. Danny and the Chairman are reported to have flown to Minnesota on March 15, 2007 and there was an assumption that litigation would be forthcoming shortly after that visit since this reporter and AToday received warning letters from counsel in Minnesota, closely aligned over the years with Garwin McNeilus, a Danny supporter and the alleged contractor with a detective agency that spent time spying on Linda Sue Shelton in 2004. Danny is alleged to have claimed that Mr McNeilus is even paying for Danny's attorney.

While rumors of negotiations and that Doug Batchelor was actively wanting a media platform to expand the Amazing Facts, Inc Ministry have been active for the entire six months of our investigative reporting, the sudden breakthrough and conclusion was clearly unanticipated by anyone this reporter spoke to at this time.

The sudden conclusion to negotiations came just days after Linda Shelton hired new counsel with clear instructions that he was to conduct vigorous litigation and discovery to determine just where the assets from the marriage were and what belonged to whom. Several recent allegations have arisen regarding a host of financial non-disclosures by respondent, Danny Lee Shelton, suggesting that he had actively undertaken steps to hide or deliberately mis-state income, assets and royalties arising from 3ABN business activities, including sales of books, records, cd's and dvd's and other assets. It is alleged that in several cases Danny Lee Shelton would author or co-author books, a publisher would produce several hundred thousand at a time and these would actually be sold to 3ABN and inventoried, purportedly netting instant royalties to Danny Lee Shelton. An inspection of the 990's filed with the Internal Revenue Service appears to have faile d to disclose any such arrangements, despite the fact it is a clear conflict to have an officer or employee have such a business arrangement without disclosure under IRS Rules for Non-profit entities. In fact, 3ABN employees are required to sign a conflict of interest statement annually.

Did the officers and directors not feel these rules applied to Danny Lee Shelton???

According to legal sources, these allegations and others relating to real estate transactions and allegedly secret arrangement by the President to compensate certain family members and a fiance' without the full knowledge of the 3ABN Board may have clearly jeopardized the 501-c-3 status of 3ABN, already the subject of a case under appeal in the State of Illinois where an administrative Law Judge clearly determined that most of the 3ABN campus would not be tax exempt from real estate taxes in Franklin County.

At press time, we have not had a chance to get an official statement from Amazing Facts, Inc officers or Directors, and a number of contacts that this reporter had known within the Amazing Facts management team have recently left Amazing facts for various reasons.

Amazing Facts, Inc is commonly considered to be an independent supporting ministry of the SDA Church but insiders have made it clear that Amazing Facts is in fact a ministry of the Seventh-day Adventist Church. This allegation is supported by the following notice on the AmazingFact.org website which this reporter has posted below:

{News Release: 4/17/2007 Employment Opportunities

All applicants must be cleared or approved to work in the United States.

Although Amazing Facts, Inc. is an equal opportunity employer that does not discriminate in its employment policies and practices on the basis of race, national origin, gender, color, age, marital status, disability, or any other basis prohibited by law, it is a religious association and a part of the Seventh-day Adventist Church. The employment practices reflect religious preferences in harmony with the U.S. Constitution and controlling law, and it therefore hires only Seventh-day Adventist Church members in good standing.

Employees of Amazing Facts are extended the same benefit package as NAD denominational employees. Employee transfers from other NAD denominational institutions are seamlessly accomplished.}

It would appear that rather belatedly, Elder Folkenburgs desire to see 3ABN a part of the Seventh-day Adventist Church is about to become a reality. But how will the new management view the need to compensate the various alleged victims of the Shelton Administration?

Stay Tuned!!!

The co-founders of 3ABN, Danny Lee Shelton, President, and Linda Sue Shelton, Vice President and Secretary, worked together for nearly twenty years, the entire time of their marriage together, to build 3ABN from a dream into a world-wide televangelist supporting ministry of the Seventh-day Adventist Church. Many have argued that it was, in fact, the media face of the Seventh-day Adventist Church for many years. Suddenly, in 2004, Danny Lee Shelton allegedly lead a three month campaign, privately and publicly, to eliminate Linda Sue Shelton from her role as Vice President and as Director of Production at 3ABN. She was fired in May of 2004, the record seems to reveal as many as three different times in one of the worst bunglings in SDA employment history. In June of the same year, just two weeks after the third firing, Danny Lee Shelton filed divorce papers in Guam to end the marriage to the Vice President he clearly wanted to get rid of. His public relationship with Brandy began shortly after the divorce when Brandy took up residence on the campus as early as July, 2004 and became permanently employed in October, 2004.

Rumors from various sources claim that 3ABN has been running an operating deficit of nearly $3.0 Million during the first quarter of 2007. This large hole developed following disclosure of certain unacceptable practices, certain staffing concerns and the alleged mis-management of 3ABN under Danny Lee Sheltons administration following the elimination of Linda Shelton in May of 2004. Some claim the downward spiral began in earnest with the remarriage of Danny Lee Shelton to his third wife, 20 years younger, in March of 2006. Since most Seventh-day Adventists believe there has never been a biblical basis for the Danny Lee Shelton divorce from Linda Shelton in June of 2004, the remarriage to Brandy is viewed by most contributors as adultery under the biblical standard. Contributions have been rumored to have substantially declined since December of 2006 as disclosures by both sides became public debate on forums and e-mail campaigns.

Linda Shelton also recently demanded that 3ABN produce and make available for authentication the evidence that was purportedly the basis for her being caste aside in 2004 and lead to Danny Lee Shelton divorcing her and remarrying Brandy. Linda has repeatedly denied any wrongdoing, however, officers and directors of 3ABN have utilized the bully pulpit of 3ABN to regularly assert that Linda had conducted an inappropriate telephone relationship with a Dr in Norway that was treating her son from a prior marriage, Nathan Moore. They have further variously claimed that she had committed what was variously defined as a spiritual adultery against Danny Lee Shelton. This reporter reviewed and tested many of the allegations leveled by Danny Lee Shelton in a myriad of e-mails and came to the conclusion after a review of various statements that the alleged evidence is unlikely to constitute any provable case against Linda Shelton. This reporter actively participated in an effort to get an ASI panel to hear the case and review the evidence. When the panel failed, a website was constructed to make the real evidence available for contributors referred to as the stockholders in the pews to look for themselves and self-determine where they felt the evidence really pointed. Much of this is documented at www.Save3ABN.com.

Danny and the Chairman of the Board have repeatedly warned of pending litigation against those responsible for having exposed various issues relating to violations of SDA Standards as well as alleged financial Exigency issues, including non-disclosure of certain conflicts within the records of 3ABN and some of its officers. Danny and the Chairman are reported to have flown to Minnesota on March 15, 2007 and there was an assumption that litigation would be forthcoming shortly after that visit since this reporter and AToday received warning letters from counsel in Minnesota, closely aligned over the years with Garwin McNeilus, a Danny supporter and the alleged contractor with a detective agency that spent time spying on Linda Sue Shelton in 2004. Danny is alleged to have claimed that Mr McNeilus is even paying for Danny's attorney.

While rumors of negotiations and that Doug Batchelor was actively wanting a media platform to expand the Amazing Facts, Inc Ministry have been active for the entire six months of our investigative reporting, the sudden breakthrough and conclusion was clearly unanticipated by anyone this reporter spoke to at this time.

The sudden conclusion to negotiations came just days after Linda Shelton hired new counsel with clear instructions that he was to conduct vigorous litigation and discovery to determine just where the assets from the marriage were and what belonged to whom. Several recent allegations have arisen regarding a host of financial non-disclosures by respondent, Danny Lee Shelton, suggesting that he had actively undertaken steps to hide or deliberately mis-state income, assets and royalties arising from 3ABN business activities, including sales of books, records, cd's and dvd's and other assets. It is alleged that in several cases Danny Lee Shelton would author or co-author books, a publisher would produce several hundred thousand at a time and these would actually be sold to 3ABN and inventoried, purportedly netting instant royalties to Danny Lee Shelton. An inspection of the 990's filed with the Internal Revenue Service appears to have faile d to disclose any such arrangements, despite the fact it is a clear conflict to have an officer or employee have such a business arrangement without disclosure under IRS Rules for Non-profit entities. In fact, 3ABN employees are required to sign a conflict of interest statement annually.

Did the officers and directors not feel these rules applied to Danny Lee Shelton???

According to legal sources, these allegations and others relating to real estate transactions and allegedly secret arrangement by the President to compensate certain family members and a fiance' without the full knowledge of the 3ABN Board may have clearly jeopardized the 501-c-3 status of 3ABN, already the subject of a case under appeal in the State of Illinois where an administrative Law Judge clearly determined that most of the 3ABN campus would not be tax exempt from real estate taxes in Franklin County.

At press time, we have not had a chance to get an official statement from Amazing Facts, Inc officers or Directors, and a number of contacts that this reporter had known within the Amazing Facts management team have recently left Amazing facts for various reasons.

Amazing Facts, Inc is commonly considered to be an independent supporting ministry of the SDA Church but insiders have made it clear that Amazing Facts is in fact a ministry of the Seventh-day Adventist Church. This allegation is supported by the following notice on the AmazingFact.org website which this reporter has posted below:

{News Release: 4/17/2007 Employment Opportunities

All applicants must be cleared or approved to work in the United States.

Although Amazing Facts, Inc. is an equal opportunity employer that does not discriminate in its employment policies and practices on the basis of race, national origin, gender, color, age, marital status, disability, or any other basis prohibited by law, it is a religious association and a part of the Seventh-day Adventist Church. The employment practices reflect religious preferences in harmony with the U.S. Constitution and controlling law, and it therefore hires only Seventh-day Adventist Church members in good standing.

Employees of Amazing Facts are extended the same benefit package as NAD denominational employees. Employee transfers from other NAD denominational institutions are seamlessly accomplished.}

It would appear that rather belatedly, Elder Folkenburgs desire to see 3ABN a part of the Seventh-day Adventist Church is about to become a reality. But how will the new management view the need to compensate the various alleged victims of the Shelton Administration?

Stay Tuned!!!

What I am interested in knowing is what this would mean as far as "cleaning up the mess" in 3abn. IMO, Doug Batchelor has been so much a part of the "mess" that I can't see how his taking over would bring any feeling of confidence that the wrongs would be righted, that the Shelton family and other directors who have been a part of the "mess" would be separated from 3abn... or that victims of Danny's harrassment in the past would feel any security.

And also... what does it mean as for its connections with the denomination? In spite of what the letter says... Amazing Facts is considered an independent ministry... just as 3abn is. So how would a "takeover" by Amazing Facts affect the status and connection between the official "church" and the ministry?

Lots of questions this raises..... ....

And lots of waiting to see..... TVsnack. .....

The following has been posted on MSDAOL, this morning, by a person who appars to be kknowledgeable of his situation:

quote] Amazing Facts and 3abn are UNITING as one independent ministry NOT under the General Conference. One is not "taking over" the other. They are uniting together.

Danny is not leaving 3abn.

This uniting has nothing to do with the attacks by Mr. Joy and company on Danny Shelton. And this has been in the making for months now. This did not just happen after Linda acquired her new lawyer. Mr. Joy needs to get his facts straight before he posts his spin on the subject.

Watch 3abn LIVE tonight and you will see Danny Shelton and Doug Batchelor announcing this. [/qote]

I am still attempting to get through on some telephone calls.

That's my concern as well.

It is possible that Amazing Facts could "take over" 3ABN and business continues more or less as usual with Danny continuing to draw his salary but having just a little less control -- considering how Doug Batchelor has propped up Danny as his "good friend" so far.

We shall have to wait and see ...

So what was that supposedly great 3ABN live all about? I heard the whole thing and I am still puzzled.

Didn't hear about any name change.
Didn't hear that Batchelor would be physically at 3ABN.
DS didn't step down.
Didn't hear any reason for a merger.
Didn't hear any plans other than a new board (probably merged too).
DID hear a plea for much money needed, indeed millions.
DID hear that the SDA conference was 100% behind them.
So.....what was it, a well-planned plot?

I heard Mollie make it very clear that she was not planning on going anywhere.

As they went around the group, and let them tell how they had visions of the merger, and how the Lord was directing all of this, and after Danny talked about the board members unselfishly saying they would step aside, if necessary for the ministry, she took her time telling how she was going to keep doing her job.

I wonder if she is feeling a little insecure.

One has to wonder if this is a mechanism to cool things down a bit. Also.... since Linda has retained more agressive legal counsel, could this be a maneuver to keep her from getting a larger settlement?

Another thing.... I also am wondering if another "bombshell" may be looming. Sheer speculation, but this merger/takover of 3abn may be tied to another event (as if there havn't been enough). If things aren't going that great in the DS household (domestically), well --- there really wouldn't be too many other "options", would there? Justa wondering.... not hoping for this at all -- but for those who have read this forum and understand the real DS --- it really ain't too far a stretch to imagine that Brandy may be a little dissa-lussioned with all that she has seen. She has had the time to fig-some things out -- no? How long is that trip they're going on? Ok, please forgive me Jesus.

Hey Mozart;

Add me to your prayers please. There is a saying that says, "If you fall into a pit of vipers, you will eventually get bitten."

It is true. We should stay away from snakes, right. Sometimes fruit is rotten to the core. All that happens is the new fruit will get infected and rot too.

I believe Danny is on cloud nine tonight. This is not reality, but I have never accused Danny of living in reality, I don't think.

What worries me is that Doug thinks he can take on Danny! No go. Danny will never let go. May Doug prove me wrong and deal with this in God's way. I am praying to that end since there is nothing else to do.

No, 3 ABN is not, and never has been, a marital asset. It is a ministry, run by a boarrd, and the employment of both Danny and Linda was(is) subject to the board. In fact that is why, contrary to the public opinion of BSDAers, Linda was fired. She refused to work with, and follow her board.

Sin should be called by it's right name.

The trip is work related, and your "sheer speculation" is actually engaging in evil surmising, which God's word tells us not to do, it leads to false witness and elevating your opinions and thought and reasoning above God's.

Praise God, Jesus freely forgives, but first you need to repent and stop the wrongdoing. You can not say forgive me as you engage in evil surmising, for he is not a cloaking device for sin.

Truth is truth.

I know this because

1. it is registered as a ministry and not for profit and by law that means it is not owned by a individual, Danny and Linda have never called themselves 'owners" Nor has the 3ABN board ever done so because neither is, or ever was a owner or co-owner of 3ABN.

2. It is not listed as a Marital asset in Danny and Linda's divorce, nor has either ever claimed this.

3. Linda is not suing Danny to recieve part of 3ABN, although she is suing him to receive more then what was earlier agreed to by her in their uncontested divorce. Why? because 3ABN is NOT a marital asset.

4. The separation agreement between Linda and 3ABN clearly states that 3ABN is not part of the marital assets, Her settlement and severance is hers alone and not considered community property, and that the agreement wll in no way prevent her from seeking and receiving her fair and lawful part of what is Marital assets.

Finally she signed and agreed to all with the advice of her attourney, and only you and those who haven't a clue keep arguing about this.

Why; you've already been told what to believe...
And you know this because you were there? Or because someone told you what someone told them and you bought a pig in a poke... can you provide corroboration for ANYTHING you claim, Cindy? Post some minutes, perhaps? fhb's word may be good enough for you... but the rest of us aren't blinded by an undue infautation... so "because he said so" is not evidence of anything.
You mean like your surmising that Duane was complicit in Tommy's misdeeds or that Linda deemed herself the next EGW or any of the other evil surmisings you've made?
And lies are lies. For one who gave herself the name truth, you wouldn't know it if you tripped over it... which is the ultimate hypocrisy on your part. As far as your denials are concerned, you'd be well served to consider 1 John 1:10 prayerfully...

In His service,
Mr. J

And, I have seen you take this approach time and time again, while never bringing anything at all to the party to show us why you believe what you believe. You have constantly challenged others for proof or evidence to defend their side, while, you have provided probably, less, than anyone on this board to back up your opinions. You accuse others have listening to other parties when you have done exactly the same. Really, though, your case is worse because Aletheia searches and has brought many documents and emails to back up what she has said. I have never seen you produce anything whatsoever. So, Mr. J as usual you are the guiltiest party of those crimes which you accuse others of. I know as I write this that as usual, you will not answer directly as to your proof and evidence, of course that would be because you don't have any. What you will do is attack me and what I have written instead of answering to the charges of forming your opinion by nothing but gossip and rhetoric. That's ok. Go right ahead. People are not stupid and they saw the pattern a long time ago.

QUOTE(Aletheia @ Apr 25 2007, 06:56 AM)

I also would like to see the answer to these questions.

No, 3 ABN is not, and never has been, a marital asset. It is a ministry, run by a boarrd, and the employment of both Danny and Linda was(is) subject to the board. In fact that is why, contrary to the public opinion of BSDAers, Linda was fired. She refused to work with, and follow her board.
Sin should be called by it's right name.

The trip is work related, and your "sheer speculation" is actually engaging in evil surmising, which God's word tells us not to do, it leads to false witness and elevating your opinions and thought and reasoning above God's.

Praise God, Jesus freely forgives, but first you need to repent and stop the wrongdoing. You can not say forgive me as you engage in evil surmising, for he is not a cloaking device for sin.

Truth is truth.

\letheia, love the new avatar. Let's see where have I seen that watch before? mmm

With the first face you proclaimed yourself a seeker of truth, with the second face you have shown what lay behind the first face, your actual mission on BSDA. I see you now have a new "friend" to take the place of Bystander---same message, different identity. Welcome to BSDA Eirene! Go ahead and take your best shot. QUOTE(Aletheia @ Apr 25 2007, 06:40 AM)

I know this because

1. it is registered as a ministry and not for profit and by law that means it is not owned by a individual, Danny and Linda have never called themselves 'owners" Nor has the 3ABN board ever done so because neither is, or ever was a owner or co-owner of 3ABN.

2. It is not listed as a Marital asset in Danny and Linda's divorce, nor has either ever claimed this.

3. Linda is not suing Danny to recieve part of 3ABN, although she is suing him to receive more then what was earlier agreed to by her in their uncontested divorce. Why? because 3ABN is NOT a marital asset.

4. The separation agreement between Linda and 3ABN clearly states that 3ABN is not part of the marital assets, Her settlement and severance is hers alone and not considered community property, and that the agreement wll in no way prevent her from seeking and receiving her fair and lawful part of what is Marital assets.

Finally she signed and agreed to all with the advice of her attourney, and only you and those who haven't a clue keep arguing about this.

Cindy,
The status of 3abn (whether the state of Illinois deems it a ministry or a business, is not my strong suit) may actually be decided at the end of 3abn's appeal for tax exempt status. If only a small portion of the physical 3abn property is now accepted as having "tax exempt status", it is not far fetched to speculate that the state of Illinois could, at some point, decree that it is not a true ministry but a for profit business. Would it then become a marital asset? Would Linda, in the eyes of the law, then be due half of everything? Just wondering.

About your avatar, is it the actual, infamous, picture in question? The one that Danny took, printed out and slipped under his shirt to surprise his sun-bathing wife with? Or just a picture of the same model from the internet?

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ 3abn Booted From Sky Angel

Posted by: Zephyr Apr 19 2006, 07:51 PM

Sky Angel on the diosh Network DBS system has booted 3ABN. Many SDas like me got this satellite service only because of 3ABN and the constant advertising by our church.
Does anyopne know why 3ABN was taken off SkyAngel?

Gere is 3ABN's statement on this :

QUOTE(3ABN)

Sky Angel does not have a channel available for 3ABN at this time. Please join us in prayer that this problem is resolved soon and 3ABN channel may be restored to the package of TV channels.

Please don't call them or us until we make any further announcements Thank you

Posted by: princessdi Apr 19 2006, 09:48 PM

Ok so, my sister and I decided to go to the source - Sky Angel. there message is a lot less cryptic that the one on 3ABN.

QUOTE

Important alert from Sky Angel 4/16/06

Three of Sky Angel's channels are currently experiencing technical difficulties. The issue is being addressed in an effort to restore service on these channels as soon as possible. We apologize for the inconvenience and thank you for your understanding.

There is apparently a problem, and Sky Angel is a lot more diplomatic thaan 3ABN(we are already familiar with their issues where damaga control is concerned). As has already been said, there must be some problem if 3ABN is not calling for a massive phone call campaign.

Well, you know Steve, I heard about this a couple of days before it was posted here. My Mom called me and I told here it was probabaly technical difficultites due to the tornados and storm activity in Illinios over last weekend. From Sky Angel's statement I am inclined to still believe it is technical difficulties, because it says three os it's ch annels are affected, not just 3ABN. However, there is 3ABN message that is putting some doubt in my reasoning.

As you said, time will tell.....

If the problem is due to technical difficulties what good would a phone call campaign do? The fact that they ask that no one calls points to technical difficulties.

Posted by: princessdi Apr 20 2006, 04:43 PM

This is what I was thinking also,b ut why can 3ABn just say that? Sky Angel made it sound more like technical difficulties, 3ABN made it sound as if they had been dismissed and relplaced.

> If the problem is due to technical difficulties what good would a phone call campaign do? The fact that they ask that no one calls points to technical difficulties.

Posted by: Zephyr Apr 20 2006, 04:49 PM

I did notice that two other channels were showing "off air" like 3ABN. Originally 3ABN was not available in the channel lineup. Now it is back with an "off air" notice. The other Networks/channels are Eagle and another. Maybe it really is technical difficultiesbut I agree 3ABN left the impression there was something else at play.

Posted by: beartrap Apr 20 2006, 11:39 PM

There are technical difficulties as Skyangel states, and there are likely other difficulties as 3ABN implies. Those satellites generally have a life of 10 to 15 years and Echostar-3 is starting to die. Unless Echostar can revive the malfunction on the satellite, Skyangel probably has no space to put 3ABN into another channel without booting another network. Unlike most other networks, 3ABN was able to get into Skyangel without paying because they sold so many Skyangel systems. In the past few years 3ABN has sold very few Skyangel systems as they focus more on the proprietary AMC-4 system. Also, the Skyangel management have long been upset by the "Catholic bashing," and the "Sunday is the mark of the beast" teachings on 3ABN. They have received many complaints from their other subscribers (Who constitute the vast majority). Most of the households who subscribed through 3ABN are on lifetime subscriptions, but many of the others pay monthly, so if the 3ABN subscribers get mad and leave, it should have very little financial impact on Skyangel.

In short, if they have to let one network go due to lack of space, Dominion Skyangel has some financial and theological reasons to drop 3ABN.

On the other hand, If Skyangel permanently drops 3ABN, it will likely give 3ABN the opportunity to seek carriage on Dishnetwork. Dishnetwork and Skyangel have a mutually exclusive agreement that gives Skyangel first dibs on all religious networks. Should they refuse to carry a religious network, only then can Dishnetwork consider it.

Posted by: princessdi Apr 20 2006, 11:43 PM

Just a quick update. Someone I believe who has Sky Angel says that 3ABN was back on as of today.

Posted by: silsbee_bee Apr 21 2006, 05:12 AM

They are technically back on, but no signal is showing.

DB

Posted by: Zephyr Apr 21 2006, 07:08 AM

As of 9:10 am today Fri Apr 21 3ABN is still "off air" due to "technical difficulties."
Beartrap thanks for this summary. You surely know the business. I always wondered what would happen when 3ABN/SDA church couldn't deliver new subscriptions to SkyAngel.
When I signed up some 8 years ago--lifetime sub...they did say it was a 14 year satellite (already opearting for some years)...so you might have a point there..

PaperTigers, 3ABN does not have any such statement on their website. If this email is genuine I guess we will soon see something on the website.

But based on the above quote which i just took from the 3ABN ws it is clear 3ABN has been booted. Obviously it is a technical "issue" but not a technical "difficulty." 3ABN has been dropped! Period!! kicked...sacked...given the boot...thrown out...

Posted by: beartrap Apr 21 2006, 09:50 AM

Several of us who had to deal with Skyangel administration while at 3ABN have long expected that 3ABN's days on Skyangel were numbered, and that the number was rapidly dwindling. However, until Skyangel says that 3ABN is off for good, there is always a chance it will be back.

A poster, MikeCTM2, at www.satelliteguys.us has posted an important new option concerning the Hope Channel. Check out his post here:

http://www.satelliteguys.us/showthread.php?p=551062#post551062

The post mentions that:

A technician, Jeff, at the Hope Channel said that the dual LNBF [the inside horn of the satellite dish that grabs the satellite signal that bounces off the back of your satellite dish] is "in manufacture" and will be available soon.

The dual LNBF can pick up two satellites: AMC4 and IA5.

The MikeCTM2 post also says:

"We got the system at Hope Network because it was available with the receiver that can record programs while we are at work. The 3ABN system is cheaper but does not record programs for later viewing."

Hope Channel Telephone Number given at Satelliteguys.us : (866-552-6728)

Ireally want Hope TV to be more available. Will this put Hope on Sky Angel, Dish Network, or Direct TV? Just what does this mean?

QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Apr 29 2006, 11:35 PM)

A poster, MikeCTM2, at www.satelliteguys.us has posted an important new option concerning the Hope Channel. Check out his post here:

http://www.satelliteguys.us/showthread.php?p=551062#post551062

The post mentions that:

A technician, Jeff, at the Hope Channel said that the dual LNBF [the inside horn of the satellite dish that grabs the satellite signal that bounces off the back of your satellite dish] is "in manufacture" and will be available soon.

The dual LNBF can pick up two satellites: AMC4 and IA5.

The MikeCTM2 post also says:

"We got the system at Hope Network because it was available with the receiver that can record programs while we are at work. The 3ABN system is cheaper but does not record programs for later viewing."

I really want Hope TV to be more available. Will this put Hope on Sky Angel, Dish Network, or Direct TV? Just what does this mean?

This is FTA - Free to Air television. No subscription needed to any of the three systems you mentioned above to get the free channels.

This means that if you have your satellite dish pointed at AMC-4, you can get all of the "free to air stations" available on that satellite, plus a bunch more channels on IA-5, if you have the new satellite dish system fromhttp://www.hopetv.org/. You can record stuff while you are away, as well.

However, up until now, many people were limited to having their satellite dish pointed to just one satellite, AMC-4

As I understand it, a dual LNBF system allows you to get signals from two FTA satellites at once. This is because IA-5 is at 97 degrees west longitude, and AMC4 is at 101 degrees west longitude, (relatively close to each other in the sky).

This means you can sit in your house and watch all of the FTA channels on these two satellites with the newer system from http://www.hopetv.org/, without monkeying with your satellite dish located up on the roof.

This type of system will give http://www.hopetv.org/ more availability to non-adventist FTA viewers, generally, who normally watch the TV and Radio channels on IA-5. If non-adventists buy a system like this, they can also watch the channels on AMC-4.

I found a Web page that has more information, generally, about available FTA channels, subject to change without notice (and other technical errors).

http://www.glorystar.tv/page/show/7

Focus on the listings for the two satellites mentioned: AMC 4 and Intelsat Americas 5.

I think this is a really good option for some viewers, since the Sky Angel (Echostar 3) satellite seems to be nearing the end of its useful life.

Sign up for the newletter at Hope (located on the upper left-hand corner of their page).

The longer 3abn stays off Sky Angel, the more I am inclined to believe it is more than technical problems. Time will tell. This has to have started hurting them financially. Why donate if you are not receiving the service.

A genuine concern. Viewers are fickle, and their donations are based largely on actually seeing the programs, and liking what they see.

It is clear to any clear thinking person that the problem includes more than mere technical issues. Considering the apparent lavish lifestyles and the Jim and Tammy Baker-like shuttling expenses I agree it is hurting Danny... thanksfully the preaching of the Gospel goes on in more direct and less and costly ways...with people who are known in their communitties by those to whom they preach...
If 3ABN never came back I would miss some good programming but overall it would be a blessing not to have to put up with Danny's foolishness for all the world to see.

My hubby and I sensed that when it went off the air. Sure, it could be some tech problems, but it all boils down that God is the one who is in control. When Danny announced his new bride on 3ABN, and we seen that, my husband told me that (he didn't know what was going on)if Danny was not right in getting married again, something would happen. We thought maybe people would stop giving donations, or Danny would have to resign. Shortly after that, 3ABN went off the air on sky angel. I believe God is in control, and if he wants this back in air, He will do it. As someone said, time will tell.....

If it is ministry it will continue to minister. If it's just TV then as the plug is pulled the party stops.

Did Danny and Brandy get the dumped from Sky Angel for Trinity Broadcasting Network? Sort of looks like it from today's announcement. Perhaps, there is justice in the world after all.

Without Linda Shelton, 3ABN seems to be losing its viewership. None of the hard-boiled eggs at 3ABN suspected that Linda Shelton would be the popular one. They took Linda Shelton for granted.

It reminds me of when Dan Blocker died, and Bonanza quickly tanked and was canceled. Dan's popularity had escaped them and they thought it would be business as usual.

Oh well, 3ABN's loss is Trinity Broadcasting's gain. It would be a devestating loss for 3ABN if Trinity Broadcasting were to hire Linda Shelton. Nobody believes that Norwegian "phone call" nonsense anyway.

Best of luck to the Crouch family and TBN.

Trinity Broadcasting Network will launch on nationwide direct-to-home satellite-television service Sky Angel in June.

Dominion Video Satellite Inc.-owned Sky Angel focuses on faith-based and family-friendly programming, and TBN offers 24 hours of commercial-free inspirational programming that appeals to people in a wide variety of denominations.

"We are very pleased that TBN has been added to Sky Angel, America's only Christian high-powered satellite service," TBN vice president of administration Paul Crouch Jr. said in a prepared statement.

Sky Angel Adds Trinity Broadcasting Network

Well put Panama_Pete! Is it official that 3abn is not returning to SA?

Posted by: Panama_Pete May 25 2006, 11:18 PM

Hello Sonshineonme,

Well, we don't know if the 3ABN "boot' is "official" or not. We just know there was a channel available and 3ABN, apparently, didn't get returned to the Sky Angel lineup. Perhaps, that's the way it should be.

Pete

Posted by: NormF May 25 2006, 11:37 PM

On the other hand, a quick check of the present broadcast lineup (as of 12:30 am CDT, 5-26-06), still shows 3ABN at channel 9710 ... granted, "off the air" (that's unchanged!) but not yet delisted nonetheless. The announcement doesn't say which channel they get. We may have to wait for the "day shift" (ala June) to come on duty at Sky Angel to see how the change actually plays out here. Let's see what becomes of this though.

Regards,
Norm

As a former employee of Sky Angel, I can tell you that it is quite a coup for them to finally be able to add TBN to their line-up...they've been pursuing TBN almost from the time Sky Angel went on air...and if Sky Angel had to choose between TBN and 3ABN, I don't think they'd have a moment's hesitation about taking 3ABN off their schedule.

True, they are most likely following God's will for them.

I found the spot on the Sky Angel site that said:

"Unfortunately, despite our best efforts, we were unable to negotiate through the issues and are now prohibited from reinstating the channels that carried Three Angels Broadcasting, Golden Eagle Broadcasting and SPIRIT. "

It appears a door may have been shut that no man can open.

Important news about the recent channel outage

May 25, 2006
As you may already be aware, on April 14th, Good Friday, we experienced a sudden loss of programming on 10 of our 33 channels. EchoStar Communications Corp., owner of the DISH Network satellite service, communicated to us that this loss was due to a technical failure of its EchoStar III satellite that we are currently sharing with EchoStar per a technical agreement we have with the company. We were successful in working with EchoStar to get seven of our 10 channels back on the air fairly quickly. Regrettably, three channels were not reinstated, and this technical failure evolved into contractual issues with EchoStar that, due to confidentiality restrictions in our agreement, we cannot publicly discuss. Unfortunately, despite our best efforts, we were unable to negotiate through the issues and are now prohibited from reinstating the channels that carried Three Angels Broadcasting, Golden Eagle Broadcasting and SPIRIT. Now that there is finality concerning our negotiations with EchoStar and it is certain that we will not be able to provide these three channels at this time, I wanted you to understand the reason.

I deeply regret the inconvenience that this interruption in programming may have caused you. As many of you know, we've faced a number of challenges with our relationship with EchoStar over the past few years; the Lord has guided us to positive outcomes in these cases (Romans 8:28) and we will continue to trust in Him for guidance and strength (Proverbs 3:5,6).

Presently we are exploring an option that might enable us to add one or two channels sometime in the future. We are happy to be able to continue carrying "3ABN Today" on our Angel One channel and hope to work with 3ABN to air special events, such as 3ABN's "Ten Commandments Weekend" special that we carried in May on our special events channel, Angel Two. We continue to carry Safe TV which airs several of the same programs that 3ABN airs, including Sabbath programming. Additionally, in early June, we are trading the SuperChannel TBN feed with the national Trinity Broadcasting Network (TBN) feed on Channel 9709. TBN carries many of the same programs that aired on Golden Eagle and many others that were not previously airing on Sky Angel. Also, there are programs that aired on Golden Eagle that are airing on other Sky Angel channels as well, such as Richard Roberts' "Hour of Healing" on our Angel One and Angel Two channels. Additionally, while Sky Angel already offers more contemporary Christian music than any other cable or satellite provider, we will be looking for ways to add more Christian music in cooperation with SPIRIT Television. If you are not a subscriber to our monthly printed TV guide, "Sky Angel Guide", I encourage you to visit our free online program guide at www.skyguide.org or by clicking here to find out when your favorite shows are airing.

I ask for your prayers as we continue to move forward with the vision the Lord gave my father, Robert Johnson, Sr., for this project a little more than 25 years ago. Sky Angel's mission is to build and operate a global direct broadcast satellite system, using our own satellites, as the most effective means of assuring that the Gospel will penetrate every nation, culture and people—even the most unreachable regions of the world. To build and launch our own satellite will cost in the neighborhood of $150 million dollars to achieve. It's an awesome mission in both magnitude and cost, however, one that our studies have shown is attainable with the dedication of our staff and the growing support of Christians here in America subscribing to the Sky Angel service. We have been in negotiations with a satellite manufacturer for some time and have begun an effort to identify sources that will be helpful in raising the necessary funds. Sometimes the challenge seems almost beyond comprehension, but I'm constantly reminded that with God's help everything is possible and that God's will always prevails. As we grow, it is my prayer that additional resources will become available that will enable Sky Angel to support various other works of ministry around the world with one common purpose: to share the life-changing message of Jesus Christ.

Yes, Sky Angel is a television service, still delivering into your home, church or business a wonderful array of TV and radio channels to edify, inform and entertain. But Sky Angel is also a unique work of ministry whose impact for the Kingdom has the potential to be huge. I pray that we can count on your support as we continue to trust in the Lord to guide us during this challenging yet exciting journey.

In His service,

Rob Johnson
CEO

P.S. Please understand that our call center representatives have no further information to provide.

Sky Angel Update

NOTICE TO VIEWERS THAT WERE WATCHING 3ABN WITH SKY ANGEL SYSTEM ONLY.

Since April 14th, 2006, the 3ABN viewers using Sky Angel subscription, lost the ability to watch 3ABN channel on their system. The reason for it was a sudden loss of one transponder of the satellite EchoStar III. This satellite transponder broadcasts 10 of the 33 channels that Sky Angel offers. A few days later, Sky Angel was able to get only seven channels back on the air. Unfortunately for us, they chose 3ABN to be one of the three channels that were not going to be re-instated on the satellite backup transponder. Since then, Sky Angel has been working with EchoStar to try to get the other three channels back on the satellite but last Friday, May 26, we received the final word from Sky Angel that their negotiations with EchoStar had finished without getting the satellite space for the other 3 channels. Therefore, it is a final decision that 3ABN will not be back on the Sky Angel System. Although it is beyond our control, we apologize for this inconvenience to our Sky Angel viewers. The Life Time subscription that some of you purchased, is still valid and you can continue to watch the other channels Sky Angel has to offer. If you want to continue watching 3ABN, the only offer we have at this time is our own satellite system that is sold for $199.00. If you want to purchase one, please click here.
Cable & Dish Network Notice

NOTICE TO VIEWERS THAT WERE WATCHING 3ABN IN INDIA VIA CABLE COMPANIES OR DISH NETWORK, ONLY

3ABN has been broadcasting for several years covering the country of India via Thaicom-3 satellite. Additionally, last year we made some agreement with Dish Network in India for them to carry our channel on their system to all of their subscribers, as well as many cable companies that carry 3ABN on their systems. Unfortunately, the department of Information & Broadcasting Ministry of India mandated that all broadcasters in India must acquire a broadcasting license before they could broadcast any material in India. The cut off date was May 25, 2006, so they have stopped broadcasting 3ABN on the Dish Network and cable companies because 3ABN was not able to secure the license yet. The Government demands several requirements before one can get this license and 3ABN is in the process of fulfilling these requirements and then applying for this license. We don't have a date as to when we will receive this license, but we apologize for this inconvenience to the viewers in India, which is beyond our control. We are praying and do ask you to join in our prayers that we can resume our broadcast soon on the cable systems and Dish Network in India.

This Indian Government imposition does not affect a private person purchasing a 3 meter C Band satellite dish and receive 3ABN direct from our satellite Thaicom-3. The parameters for tuning your satellite receiver to the 3ABN channel is as follows:

3ABN on Thaicom-3

C Band
Position: 78.5° East
Transponder: 6G Global Beam
Frequency: 3,640 MHz
Polarity: Horizontal
Symbol rate: 28,066 Msym/s
F.E.C.: 3/4

As you will note, 3-ABN hopes to soon resolve the issues and to be back on the air in India again.

Did anybody else see this?

In the April, 2007, issue of Adventist World on page 31, there is an advertisement for the Hope Channel Dish. They are highlighting the 'Seventh Day' series, 'Revelations from the Lost Pages of History.'

At the bottom of the advertisement there are three 3ABN icons showing that they, along with LLBN, Lifetalk Radio, Radio 74 and ACN are going to be on the Hope Channel.

What does that say about their relationship with 3ABN? Does it mean that there is a chance that the church will take it over, or only that they are working with Danny?

What are your thoughts, people? Does anyone have information explaining this?

the 3abn 30"dish brings in most of those channels too. i think it is just the same dish system and receiver that brings in all those stations because they are all bounced off the same sattelite. i don't think it means there is any relationship going on. just my opinion tho'

I have 3ABN satellite dish and I get all the channels listed except LLBN. I also get the radio stations.
I understand HOPE satellite dish does carry LLBN though.

My local cable carries Blue Mountain Tv that carries HOPE.
On Sabbath LLBN is offered by BMT (not sure if HOPE carries it also) almost all day.
The rest of the week BMT does not carry LLBN. I don't know what LLBN offers Sunday to Friday.

Your bet bet is to purchase for the same price(you would pay for 3ABN dish) the HOPE dish if you want to watch LLBN.

I agree with mozart.

agree with your comments regarding Danny's lavish lifestyle like the expensive leased jet that he flies ıround from place to place in. I wonder what other SDA ministry or conference or even the GC has such a jet. have never heard about any other church official or self-supporting ministry using donated funds to lease or uel or pilot such a jet from place to place.

I have 3ABN satellite dish and I get all the channels listed except LLBN. I also get the radio stations.
I understand HOPE satellite dish does carry LLBN though.

Ve used to get LLBN here on the 3ABN dish until a few months ago.

Now, inexplicably, we can't get it any more.

Has anyone else had the same experience?

i have been told that the LLBN signal is so weak that it's hard to zero in on it. you might try moving your UMB just a teensy bit. (that's a technical term)

BlackSDA _ Praise and Testimonies _ Hi From Barbara Kerr In Norway

Posted by: Johann Feb 5 2007, 03:29 PM

Barbara asked me to post this letter from Norway:

Dear Friends,

A lot has happened in the last several months and I need to write a quick letter and let you know what's happening with me.

The past three years have been fairly stressful for me, but this past year has been the worst. We had two people living in our house, and there was the 3abn mess that was heating up (and is still going strong), and I was still in the middle of it. There were other things that just happened. You know, just life.

Well, this past summer I didn't feel right. I knew I was sick again and that my body was out of whack. I just felt really bad. Not crohn's per se, but just not right. I started juicing again, walking everyday, etcetera, etcetera. Nothing really helped completely. I knew my pH was extremely acidic when I bit into a cherry tomato and my mouth broke out into blisters. I began monitoring my pH everyday, only to find that is was continuously between 5.0 and 6.0. A normal range for a healthy person is around 6.6 to 7.0 (urine & saliva).

I was so stressed over what was happening at 3ABN, and the lies that they were continuing to tell. I would try to read the dialog on BSDA and keep up with what was happening, only I continued to feel worse each time I would read some sickening account of discovery in the Shelton household. I wanted to participate in your conversations, but I just had to quit reading after a while. I had to protect myself, and I knew the added stress was making me worse. I hope you will understand.
In September, I flew to Washington State where Linda Shelton and I attended the same conference. It was the first time we had seen each other in a year and a half. We shared a room for a couple of days and got all caught up on our 'girl talk'. We had a great time laughing and reminiscing about 'the good old days'.

So many of you have asked me to pass along your love and good wishes, and that is exactly what I did! She thanks each of you from the bottom of her heart for all of your prayers, your love and your support! She misses you and she misses working in ministry more than I can ever express in words. Her heart is broken over what has been taken away from her. We cried together and we prayed together.

I encourage her every week on the phone that God still has a purpose for our lives. That He can bring something beautiful our of this mess, . . . and most of all, that He hasn't forgotten His girls. We love Him so much. I tell her over and over again, that God did not give her 20 years of experience, running a Christian Network, just to let that training go unused. I can't help but cry now, just thinking about the despair that she feels. Please, please, join me in praying that God will set the oppressed free, and reveal every secret thing!

While we were in Washington, Linda's house was broken into. The only things stolen were emails and papers concerning 3ABN. One document was left behind. A legal paper that had to do with her demise at 3ABN. Her signature was forged. Darrell Mundalls car was broken into the same week. He had two computers in the back seat, both were left there, but papers and things were scattered throughout the car.

I told her the stakes seemed higher now. They were acting more desperate for evidence to prove they were right. We don't know who broke into the house and car, but it seemed fishy to us.
In October I started having female problems which drove me to the Gyn. From there, I saw other specialists and a surgeon, all of which only promised me disfiguring surgery.
By the end of October I began feeling nauseated from the time I got up until I went to bed at night. I saw a gastroenterologist and had an endoscopy.

My Gyn kept pushing me to have surgery, he was sure I had cancer in my labia and wanted to remove it immediately. I was also diagnosed with a blood vessel disorder.

Linda Shelton encouraged me to see the Norwegian doctor (Arild Abrahamsen) that had treated her son. They call him the Miracle Doctor here in Norway. He also treats many famous European athletes from every sport imaginable. Just Wednesday I was sitting next to two young men from Sweden that were Olympic cross country skiers. One was named Peter Larson and the other Mat (something). I asked them all kinds of questions about what it's really like to train for the Olympics everyday. I also asked them why they come here. They smiled and said that no matter what their problem, virus or broken bone, the healing time with this treatment was less than half and they couldn't afford downtime.

The Swedish Olympic trainer came to see Dr. Abrahamsen a few days ago and asked him if he would treat and monitor his entire team during training. Dr. Abrahamsen is so swamped with patients, he has a one-year waiting list to be seen as a new patient. He's not even sure he will take on the Olympic cross-country ski team.

Getting back to the original story. I told my Gyn I wanted to try something natural since they had ONLY promised disfiguring surgery, and he pushed back in his chair and said, 'I get all kinds of strange patients, with all kinds of strange ideas!' He was pretty mad. I just looked at him and asked him nicely, 'if I was the doctor and I told him all I could promise him was to cut off his testicles, but he knew of a possible other way, wouldn't he try it?' He just looked at me disgusted and walked out. Some people are very narrow minded when it comes to complementary medicine. I'm NOT stupid either, and I have a right to alternative treatment. I hadn't told him I wouldn't have the surgery, . . . I just wasn't going to have it as my first option.

Just so you know, I have cancer in 4 places. Three female and in my stomach.
I decided at Linda's prompting to go to Norway before undergoing the knife. There are several reasons why I came to this doctor to be treated, but honestly, at the end of the day the entire thing was one great, big, divine appointment.

Dr. Abrahamsen (a general practice doc for 30+ years) got tired of treating sickness and wanted to be a wellness doc. About 15 years ago he was trained with new technology. He was also a friend of a friend. I had never met him before and was actually a bit leery of him.

At the exact same time I was really feeling sick and starting to go see specialists (oct/nov), Abrahamsen came across a newspaper article written by researchers stating that they had found an enzyme that was present in every cancer cell, no matter the type of cancer. The enzyme is called `CASPASE - 3`. Anyways, the scientists speculated that if they could find a way to activate this de-activated enzyme, they thought the body would rid itself of cancer.

Doctor Abrahamsen completely agreed. He immediately set to work, and within a short period of time, he found a combination of remedies that would activate the enzyme.

This doctor's brother has had Hogkins or non-hogkins for 3 or 4 years now. He was one of the first people treated in November. After one week of treatment he was cancer free. I know of one more patient, a lady who came to him with bloody discharge from her breast and breast cancer. She was cancer free after 6 treatments.

The theory the scientists came up with seems to work! Only no one knows about this discovery yet because it's still so new.

I am the third person (in the world) that has received this therapy. The really great thing is that it's not drugs like chemo and radiation. I feel so much better too! And I get to keep my red hair and my immune system gets stronger, not weaker.

I was re-tested Sunday afternoon (January 28th, 2007) and I am happy to report that I, too, am now cancer-free! I asked him why it has taken me so much longer (I've received 21 treatments now) than his brother and the other woman, and he told me that my cancer was much worse than theirs.

Now that the cancer level is at zero, he will begin treating my candida, fungus and thyroid problem. I'm not coming home until I'm well, but hopefully that will be at the end of Feb. I flew here Jan.4th.

All I can tell you about what the treatments are, is that they are all natural, and they are always given I.V. Treatment days are Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. I receive two I.V.'s per day. I feel soooooooo much better now than when I arrived in early January. I feel like I did before I got sick this summer.

The treatments are a little bit pricey. The initial test, which takes about 2 – 3 hours, costs $750. After that, the I.V. treatments are $150 each. It's around $900 per week, but oh how sweet it is to be CANCER FREE!

Last week I asked the doc if he was excited about this discovery and what it could mean to the world? He said it was much too early to be excited about it, because it would require a lot more testing on patients with different kinds of cancer to see how it would work. He also didn't think it would work well on patients with brain tumors, due to the blood-brain-barrier, but he hasn't treated anyone with a brain tumor yet to see how they respond to it. He won't be making any claims anytime soon. (Although I feel a Nobel Prize coming on – for him, not for me) LOL- laugh out loud
I personally think this discovery is exciting. I just want to burst with the news. To be honest though, I wasn't going to share this story with the public, because it was, once again, so personal. Then two days ago God really dealt with me harshly, and kept bringing me to Esther chapter 4, verse 14. ``For if you remain completely silent at this time, relief and deliverance will arise for the Jews from another place, but you and your father's house will perish. Yet who knows whether you have come to the kingdom for such a time as this?"

I would rather listen and obey, then cower with embarrassment. There are too many people hurting in this world to keep this information to myself. If you would like to write to the clinic about treatment for yourself, the address is: Dr. Arild Abrahamsen, N-1593 Svinndal, Norway. If you want to call his office the number from the States is 011-47-692-86-065 OR 011-47-900-21-902. He is licensed to practice Medicine in Scandinavia and all countries connected with the European Union. Athletic Medicine, Pain Relief, Medical Examinations, and Clinic for Cardiovascular diseases.
I wasn't sure what to think of Arild Abrahamsen before I met him. There was so much controversy around him and accussations from Danny Shelton. But after meeting this man, I had to chuckle inside about what a poor choice Danny had made, picking on this doctor. You only need to meet him to see it. He is filled with integrity, honesty and compassion for his patients. I would liken Abrahamsen in character, to that of Mark Finley or Doug Bachelor! I'm not afraid of him anymore, or leery, . . . I'm proud to call him a friend, and consider him one of the greatest doctors I have had the privilege of meeting.

God is blessing Abrahamsen with the gift of healing. True, it's not the science we grew up with in school, biology class, or nursing school, and it DOES require a shift in your paradigm to understand his technology, but God is blessing Abrahamsen's work, none-the-less!

I hope you all are happy and healthy and loving life. I have learned once again how valuable each and every day is. Life is a gift, we can use it to help and serve others, or we can waste it.
I'm so glad God gave you all to me, . . . this crazy and strangely wonderful Adventist family! I want you to know that I pray for all of you often! And I'm asking you to please pray for me.
It is kind of strange though. Here I am receiving treatments to save my life and all I can think about is how blessed I am. I'm not the sickest person in the U.S., and yet Gods' timing with this cure is so incredible! I have moments of feeling guilty. I feel the Lord's hand over me, under me, and around me, everywhere I go.

There is a purpose for me here in this foreign land and I continue to pray that God will use my life in a mighty and powerful way to help others receive life.

There are two Bible texts that have taken on new meaning to me since walking this road and I would like to share them with you.

Psalm 103:2-5. 'Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all His benefits; Who forgives all your iniquities, Who heals all your diseases, Who redeems your life from destruction, Who crowns you with lovingkidness and tender mercies, Who satisfies your mouth with good things, So that your youth is renewed like the eagle's."

Psalm 23:4-5. ``Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil; For You are with me; Your rod and Your staff, they comfort me. You prepare a table before me in the presence of my enemies, ..."

God is so good!

Broke in Linda's house and stole emails related to 3ABN? Mercy! I don't know any of the characters in the 3ABN saga. But during a testimony like this, it is hard for me to believe Barbara (don't know her) would lie about Linda's break-in. I am sure the 3ABN apologist will spin it. But just hard for me to believe she is lying.

...and Derrell can testify to whether or not his broken into, unless I have missed that this was already posted.

We pray that Barb is a part in this breaktrough in the treatment of cancer. She is only the third patient receiving this new treatment which is based on the latest scientific research. Dr. Arild was very excited about this when he discovered the possibilities only a few weeks ago. With his advanced technology he is able to test how much cancer there still is left in the body until there is no more. In the past he was able to decrease the amount of cancer in the body, and he was able to help my wife, Irmgard, a lot, but it is only with this new discovery that he is able to get the cancer level down to zero.

Just a gentle warning: There is no lodging available in connection with his clinic, so that has to be arranged elsewhere.

Another problem is that his usual waiting list is one year, even though he treats up to 50 patients a day. He never had an ad in a paper, and there is not even a name nor a house number on his clinic. And it is far off the beaten track in rural settings.

By an unfortunate accident it was posted here on BSDA that Linda would be away for a few days. This was when it happened. (Could she sue BSDA???)

With all that has been going on, and with what happened to Linda's home, I think it would be a good idea never to post about anybody being away from their home.

Calvin, I think Johann is being sacrastic!! We do know SOME would think this way - Linda would not

She has also had her email accounts "tapped" into as well - particular folders have dissapeared. Wonder how they knew her passwords? Especially when she changes those passwords...

Barbara,

Thank you for the update. I am so sorry for all you are going through. Praise God for your healing and the wonderful report on the Dr and his work to cure cancer. I will remember you in my prayers for your continued healing and good health.

As far as the break in at Linda's home I can not tell you how shocked I am. Just when you think it can't get any worse--it does. Who, but someone involved with 3ABN would want to get hold of the information that was taken. That is about as low as you can go. Well maybe not-looks like it may even get worse. Please come Lord Jesus.

Please tell Linda I used to love to watch her on 3ABN. I just recently came back to church and was amazed that there was a 24/7 channel about the SDA message. I would watch Linda and think that must be what angels look like.

I agree, a powerful testimony. I'm curious as to how the doctor tests for cancer after the treatments.

It makes me sad to hear about the break-ins. Where is it all going to end? Where was Derrell when his car was broken into? Was he in IL?

Are you really thinking about what is going on here. Somebody mentions that Linda's house was broke into and then Darrel's car. Next thing that comes on is that 3abn people are responsible. Yet another ludicrous accusation. Right now, on this site, 3abn would get the blame for global warming and inflation, as well as the war in Irak. I believe that even the great Gailon Joy said that bsda had taken all of this over the top. If the so called Investigator and Accuser of 3abn said that,, wow, that says a lot.

Firstly, I want to thank Barbary for thinking of us and updating us on her situation. My prayers are with her, and I'm so happy to hear that she was able to go to Norway for treatment of her cancer and have such wonderful results.

However, the one paragraph above really caught my attention. Such a break-in normally makes an individual feel violated and threatened. That only 3ABN materials were meddled with would seem to send a clear message. (I suspect that the .. ahem... "robbers" were careful enough so nothing can be proven.) Such criminal behavior does tell its own story.

However, if Barbara or someone else is able to clarify, I'm curious about that forged signature. On what kind of document was her signature forged?

It also seems that the break-in into Darrel's car was meant to intimidate because nothing of value was stolen. It tells us of what caliber "the opposition" is.

It seems to me that another account on this board mentioned someone breaking into Linda's car and confronting her with a cheap watch found in the glove compartment? Might there be a connection?

(I do hope that both Linda and Derrel reported the break-ins, so that there is an official record.)

n everyones life comes times of truth. Sometimes one will refuse to see what is coming towards them especially if it is becoming more clear it is the way to go - but in a dysfunctional mental state, one will seek to deny it, run from it, change it, whatever it takes to protect ones own paradigm of reality...if one chooses to remain ignorant and in the dark, because it is more comforting then dealing with the reality of truth, it is their choice. Justifying what they do not want to accept, in order to continue in their "reality". They believe and so it is. That is their reality. Someone can not make a person move out of that reality until they are ready to face the truth and accept it for what it is. Meanwhile, their they sit. If however, they choose to grasp what is before them, be willing to acknowledge it and embrace it, allow it, truly give it a chance, with help, they may find the beginnings of liberation.

he burglary was not the main point in Barbara's letter. Barbara Kerr, by the way, was having programs on 3ABN together with Linda which were somewhat similar to those of your brother and sister-in-law. She was cut off together with Linda.

As many of you will remember, Danny Shelton has painted a picure of Dr. Arild Abrhamsen as a murderer, a devil, a mind manipolator, a quack and false physician, that he has been sending out to 3ABN supporters. All this in an effort to make people believe that this physician stole the same Linda from him that he was doing everything possible to get rid of.

Barbara is giving an eye witness account of what kind of person he is, and that Danny has painted a false picture of him.

Barbara tells me also that she has been able to share her faith with other patients she meets at the clinic. People who experience the healing power of God are willing to listen to the Gospel of the divine Healer.

Just in case you didn't know, I just wanted to let you know that your statement here is what is commonly called, "messy". If you have a point to make, make it without the attempt to divide and conquer tatics. This move is akin to Donald Trump's tatics with Rosie O'Donnell when he emailed her what Barbara was "really" saying about her....messy!

...not only that, her/his/their implication is incorrect as well.

A plausible explanation is that we heard it from Linda. All of you on this forum that say Linda has kept her mouth shut about said events...what could you be thinking? Where do you think so many details about contracts, salaries, pregnancy tests, harrasment from Danny, the handling of their own private finances, what Walt T did or did not say to Linda, what John Lomacang did or did not say to Linda, What Danny did or did not say to Linda and on and on and on.....People, it doesn't matter who repeated it whether it be Johann, or Gailon, or Darryl, or Pickle..the source WAS HER. How else would you be hearing about events and conversations where only she and Danny were in room? Supposedly she didn't have control of any of their finances, now, how do you suppose you on this forum heard about? Everything you are telling here had it's original source from Linda. I repeat, so many of the things written here were private conversations, events , blah blah blah They could not have come from anyone else, as the original source. That being the case, we are all supposed to take it as fact? Those of you who won't admit that she had to be the source for so many things, don't want to admit it, because you know better. common sense prevails and there is no getting around it. Now 3abn is being accused of breaking in...why...because Linda said it. Linda said there was a break in...Linda said only 3abn stuff was taken....Linda said her email was tapped (whatever that means) and Darryl backs it up!!! Darryl has his own vendetta. So this proves, once again, that most everything on here as come from one source and you all have fell for it while saying that Linda has kept silent.....bright, folks, very bright...

You yourself said you weren't employed at 3ABN since the late 80"s when they had just started. So, the truth is, you don't know anything about their present employees, administration, board or any truths or untruths about Linda or Danny or any of the detailed conversations that go on here. So, why do you involve yourself in it? You have joined the bandwagon of 3abn bashers and honestly, that is not fair on you're part. There are lots and lots of things that you don't know and never will so it isn't right for you jump on the whole organization about that which you know not. Also, before you answer that 3abn was involved in a cover up on TS, then, if that were true, you would also have to hold Linda responsible. She approved his hiring and showed her approval by writing songs together and performing with him countless times. So just be fair. If you are going to hold 3 abn accountable in some aspect then hold her and her supporters accountable too.

So this is it people? Just a bunch of arguing over Linda's house being broken into? You have missed the forest because of a couple of trees? Are you all so blind that you can't see the real issue here? It took me DAYS to gather the courage to share my heart and make my life vulnerable for everyone to see, but God said, DO IT! So I did. There are thousands of people out there hurting that need ministered to, they NEED this health information. Are you even excited about it??

I'm so excited I could burst! The house being broken into has been taken care of, it's been reported to the police months ago, security has been increased, Linda was shaken -- but she's fine now. I don't know if Darrell reported his car break in, I don't think so, but it DOESN't matter. It's NOT the issue. I will not discuss the forged document and I will not supply information about it. Linda is handling it.

If you all want to discuss health issues or write letters that have an uplifting content, please feel free to respond to this message. But if you are only filled with hatred, frustration and are argumentative, please, I implore you to keep your comments to yourself.

If I sound a little hurt and frustrated it's because I am! I feel like I walked onto a 6th grade play ground today where all the kids were fighting with each other. I'm lonely over here, . . . and I've been fighting for my life for weeks now. This experience has changed my life, and it has the potential of saving thousands of lives. I guess my perspective has changed on what's important, and what isn't. Fighting is a waste of time.

I've got to go to bed now. I will talk to you all tomorrow.

You certainly read a lot into that one line. Where have I bashed 3abn? Where did I say 3abn was involved in a coverup?

All I know is you and a few others (or at least a few other screen names) have come on here and made little snide remarks about myself and other victims. You want to talk to ME about being fair?

You have made comments about myself and other letter writers. How does the Tommy Shelton situation affect you? Why are you involved in it? Perhaps if you don't want comments from me about anything else, you should not comment on my situation.

My point was that when certain people, who shall at this point remain nameless, know they're in trouble they start trying to tear down those who oppose them. It's been that way for years. I'm tired of seeing it, and I'm going to speak up.

Barbara, I do not know you and in fact have never seen your program on 3ABN.

want you to know that as of 5:45 EDT today your letter or this thread has already been viewed 775 times!! There have been less than 40 posts including ones of support from many and those by Johann.

would like to believe that we who are here with open minds "got it" along the lines of Johann's recent post wondering if we did.

add my prayers to those of the others for your ongoing success in your treatment.

stand with others in amazement at what I am hearing about the treatment you have received and its apparent success. How I would love to see your medical records and talk to the doctor about what he is using to treat you. I bet everyone that read your letter recalled a past or current loved one that might have benefited from the treatment and ached a little that the loved one never had that chance.

understand your reluctance to come forward with your testimony because the medical problem is one that is gynecological and therefore somehow not "acceptable" for public discussion. I still remember when my best friend's mom who was a RN and had worked in a SDA hospital signed herself into another hospital for her hysterectomy under another name so no one at church would know.....thank goodness I hope we have gotten beyond that.

So even though dozens or hundreds of us have added your testimony regarding your experiences with the doctor to our understanding of him, it is far easier for people to pick up and comment on the break in (s?). It is the more sensational aspect of your letter and one people can get emotional about as they see another possible injustice and speculate what it may mean. When I see how many people look at these posts/topics that are unregistered or registered and never comment, I am sometimes amazed at the number of those who are not willing to express opinions or ask questions. But that is ok. Don't think for one minute that just about every one of those who read the letter did not offer up a quick prayer for your ongoing recovery. But you are not going to see 100 posts saying the same thing. I will sometimes comment in such situations if I am an early reader and poster but not after 3 or 4 have said would i would have said.

So please do not question whether you should have sent your letter. Those who come here to read about what is happening want facts. We have many more allegations and he said/she said hearsay reported than facts on which to reach conclusions. The break in was a fact and although everyone will speculate as to what it means in the scheme of things, we will probably never know.

I have perceived from what I have read by others that you have many supporters and I know without a doubt they are happy to hear from you and pray that your own brand of ministry will continue despite all obstacles placed in your path.

God bless,
nw

Sorry Barbara,

I, too, grapped hold to the sensational portion of your message. My first thought was that of my Dad. He passed 10 years ago(Whew!! doesn't seem that long ago). He had a kidney transplant, two in fact, the first one never did work properly, the second took like a charm. Anyway the first kidney years later developed cancer and he had to have chemotherapy. The oncologist informed his kidney specialists that they had never been able to save the transplanted kidneys before. His drs. told the oncologists to go back to the drawing board, my Dad was their star patient, and they weren't going to lose that kidney! They had better try to mix something up! They did, and they wrote it up in the medical journals, and no people with transplants no longer have to lose their kidneys with their cancer treatments. My Dad and the kidney came through it like champs!

So the good Dr.'s discovery is indeed a miracle! Praise God!

Barbara, we are happy for you and the results of the treatment you received from Dr. Abrahamsen. We pray for your continued well-being.

We are happy that he has made some progress in the search for a cure for cancer.

However, as you shared, he realizes that he is far from being able to claim his treatment as a "cure for cancer." Furthermore, he is booked ahead by a year or more. This means that, for all practical purposes, what he is doing now can benefit only a fortunate few until his research reaches the point that it can be shared with others who will use the treatment on their patients. (I can think of several individuals now who could have been or could be helped if they had access to his treatment. For some it is already too late. And others don't have a year or more to wait ...)

We have noted this, and we wait ...

The reason I (and probably others) focused on the break-in of Linda's house is that this is the 3ABN forum, and we are focused on issues that relate directly to 3ABN. The fact that only 3ABN-related stuff was taken or tampered with in her house is therefore highly significant.

We are here to see that things change sufficiently at 3ABN so that it will become the ministry it is proclaimed to be even now. We want to see the abuses stopped. That is our focus.

Again, we thank you for dropping in, and we rejoice over the good news. However, please don't blame us for picking up on some details relevant to our focus here.

As Johann suggested, your whole testimony is relevant in another way. It confirms that Dr. Abrahamsen is, indeed, a remarkable and successful doctor, contrary to claims by Dan Shelton that he is a quack. Thank you for sharing.

And may God continue to bless you.

By the way, I'm just wondering ... Did Dr. Abrahamsen give any instructions regarding lifestyle to remain cancer-free?

Barbara,

I am SO glad to see you back - and to hear the encouraging news on your health. I have been wondering where you were - and had hoped that we hadn't made you mad here on BSDA. I know that each one of us want the truth to be revealed, and get tired of trudging thru all of the gunk to get there - but praise God there are people like you out there who are are willing to put out uplifting and encouraging information. Please don't stop coming and sharing your love and information with us - and please tell Linda that most of us here really do love her and are rooting for her (with God's grace) to win in the end.

Dear Noahs Wife, Princessdi, Ex3ABNEmployee, Inga, Sandy Colorado, & all,

Thanks for your words of encouragement. I really needed them tonight and they were heartfelt, believe me. Some of you also gave some good advice and it was much appreciated. Thank you!

As far as the year wait to be a patient, . . . please don't let that discourage you from calling and asking. Often he works in someone depending on how critical their condition is. The year wait is for people with non-life threatening conditions that want to be new patients.

Today it was in the mid 20's and snowed the entire day. Big beautiful flakes. It was beyond beautiful, so I decided to take a long walk with my camera. I walked down a long road that hadn't been plowed, far back into God's country. I was completely alone and you couldn't hear a sound. It was as if God had decorated every tree just for me. At the end of the road I discovered a lake. It was frozen over and covered with a fresh blanket of snow. I stared at it for a long time, pretending that it was the sea of glass. I brushed the snow off of a fence post and set my camera on self-timer, and took a few silly pictures of myself at the lake. Even though I was by myself, I never felt alone!

The walk was refreshing. It made me feel like I was surrounded by purity, and I fell in love with life all over again on that road. An hour and a half later I made it back to my apartment, . . . frozen, but happy. I drank down half a quart of carrot juice and then tried to warm up with a hot cup of chamomile tea. I think I will sleep very well tonight. I hope I dream about walking with Jesus on a long, snow-covered road in the forest.

Hugs, Barbara Kerr

Perhaps we need to give some of you a clarification. Yes, you read right, that not only did someone break into Linda's house, but someone also broke into Darrell's car in California. Linda is Danny Shelton's former wife who got fired from 3ABN for something she had not done. Darrell Mundall is Danny Shelton's former son-in-law who was chased away from 3ABN because he knew that Linda was accused of something she had not done, and such people were not welcome on the premises.

There is also a Daryl on this net, but he was not involved in the case from the beginning. He is the manager of the MSDAOL net in Canada, which, at the present time seems to be the largest net affiliated with Adventists, trailed by BSDA. I think Daryl learned of this case by reading and following the discussions on BSDA, and then he decided to open it up for discussion on his own net too, and he is doing a tremendous job of it, although it is handled somewhat different than here at BSDA.

You will find the bosses on both nets participating in the discussions on the other net as well.

Hi Barbara,

I've watched you LOTS of times, and you're by far my all-time favorite of the 3ABN kitchen crew! I always appreciated your much more intellectual approach to things from water quality to nutrition.

I'm shocked and dismayed to learn of your condition, and know that lots of people are praying for you. There is hope, however, and power in prayer. I know of a particularly hopeless appearing case with a ruptured malignant tumor, etc., that was saved by a combo of surgery, chemo and radiation, so if there is any residual that cannot be cared for, you still have other options.

Best wishes to you, and God bless.

Perhaps we need to give some of you a clarification. Yes, you read right, that not only did someone break into Linda's house, but someone also broke into Darrell's car in California. Linda is Danny Shelton's former wife who got fired from 3ABN for something she had not done. Darrell Mundall is Danny Shelton's former son-in-law who was chased away from 3ABN because he knew that Linda was accused of something she had not done, and such people were not welcome on the premises.

There is also a Daryl on this net, but he was not involved in the case from the beginning. Yohann, please don't stick your neck out for DM. He knows why he is not longer there. As do several employees, his ex pastors and probably several on the church board. It had nothing to do with Linda and he knows it.

Dear Barbara,

Few weeks ago I called you home, and got your message that you are out of country till the beginning of February... Couldn't wait to be able to talk with you... and then, few days ago I read your message here on BSDA. What a surprise!

BTW, since you have many friends, I must tell you that I am the one who met you and Claudia in the Marriot Hotel two years ago..and since you were as cute in reality as I've seen you on the shows on the 3abn, instantly felt close to you... and am very proud of calling you my friend ever since!

Last August, you have sent me to this forum, and I have been reading it silently to this day. Now you are causing me to post here for the first time. I wish the circumstances were different, but I am very encouraged with the help you have received, and the courage God has given you. My husband and my boys were on our knees as soon as we read the first half of you letter. It just happend so, that I had to interrupt reading it for few hours, before I read the other half, in which you gave the good news. I am telling you, it was very hard time for me, those few hours, not knowing what you wrote int the second half. Now I am praising the Lord God Almighty for the healing that is taking place, and the hope He has given to you and to us through you.

I wish I could be with you in Europe, I love the "Old Mother", and I know Norway must be very pretty country. It is probably not much colder there than here (where we are) right now. I have so much to tell you, and to ask you... Come back soon, would you?!

Be of good courage, our Creator cares about you, and knows what is best for you. You are in good hands, His and His servant's, you couldn't wish for more!

If you want, PM me on BSDA, and leave me your direct ph.#, I would love to call you.

You are in my & my family's prayers. I will also pray for you with my prayer group, Monday evenings!

God bless you!

Okay?

Now.

What is the real reason he was fired? You can't just say...."he knows why he is not longer there..." and let it go at that....

You got proof? Put it out there!

All of this would be killed dead if folks would just empty out their hands and see whose playing the "Trump" cards....

Seeing that you are still misspelling my name tells how inaccurate you are in your evaluation of things.

Thanks for revealing your inadequate power of perceptions.

You keep on whirling up dustbowls and avoiding to answer real questions. Many people have asked you questions which you completely ignore, and just keep on whirling up dust to keep away from the real issue.

Did you realize that when DM applied for another job Danny and his friends kept calling the employing orgaization warning them against hiring DM because he was addicted to a certain bad habit? The office thanked each caller for their concern, and asked them to call back when they could verify what they were saying.

Only one of the many callers called back. This was the 3ABN lawyer, and he called to apologize for spreading false rumors. The same lawyer later resigned from the 3ABN board, and why? He found it impossible to retain his integrity if he had to stay on with the board of 3ABN!!!

How can you claim his departure had nothing to do with Linda? I'm afraid you are getting your information from the same source that forced the lawyer to resign.

So, Bystander, I too am calling your bluff! And I am willing to stick my neck out at any time for Derrell. You are using the same lying innuendos that Danny and company have attempted to use against Derrell for a number of years. Dan began using them against Derrell the first time he and Melody divorced. I know, I was there and heard the gossip that was circulating through Thompsonville church members and 3ABN employees. At the time I went investigating for myself and the original source of the rumors about Derrell were always the same: Danny Shelton. Those rumors didn't hold water then and they still do not now! So Bystander, put up or shut up. And if you are not willing to show your hand on this issue---and a number of other issues---why should anyone believe anything you or your "partner" Eye Witness say about anything? You use the same computer and continually are backing each other up and patting each other on the back.

Oh, and by the way, attempting to turn the tables and questioning me instead of answering my questions will no longer work for you, folks here are wise to your side-stepping issues. That dog doesn't hunt here!

find it interesting that glenetta has been a member here for two days and has already posted 22 times.

would be interested in knowing how many posts he/she has had time to read. Many of us read for days or veeks and tried to discern facts from hearsay and conjecture before we even felt comfortable asking ıuestions.

wondered when the forgery allegation would be made. I suspect it has been before but this is the most ›bvious I have read lately.

would recommend that to answer this accusation that the documents posted here and on save3ABN.com rom victims and their families or other first hand observers be notarized if possible and reposted showing the ıotary seal and date.

\ctually yes and there were several reasons. The first and more important reason is reflected On their divorce ›apers. So instead of just hiring him as an employee they contracted him out. That way, if, anything ıappened they could not be held responsible. That was then, I have no idea what the arrangement is now.
'he second reason (and there is paperwork to prove it) is that When he traveled for 3abn if an economy car vas reserved for him at the airport, he would, shall we say, upgrade to something a little snazzier like a :onvertable. If his room was reserved at the comfort Inn he would "upgrade" to a 4 star hotel....ALL without ›ermission from management. It was a little bit before the accounting department caught what was ıappening.
could go farther but I won't, That should be enough for reasonable people to question the fact that D. says ıe was fired because he "supported" Linda.
\nd, you know what else, None of this hasn't been told and wouldn't have been if again, the members here lemand details/proof. ANy statements made by me tonight can all be verified with paperwork.

This is the same theme Aletheia presented on the Maritime SDA Online board.

On the Maritime board, Aletheia was graciously educating the readers on how easy it is to forge car-title documents.

Actually, you're right - saying that above is a double negative, which makes it a positive, which means YOU HAVE told plenty of people these things...infact, you have called and written many people and done all you could to try to destroy people, including Derrell. Why are you so threatend that you have to follow people around and destroy them? What have they done to you? And what are you so afraid they will say if you don't try to crush them first in some way? You saying it doesn't make it true, just like you saying you have proof doesn't make you any more credible either. The members here "demand"???? That's not the reason you decided to bring it to this forum. You brought it here because you are determined to tell MORE people MORE of the same. In MY opinion, YOU are Danny Shelton speaking, this is how he talks and what he says to everyone he can get to listen. But, again, just my opinion.

First of all "I" have done nothing. I am posting what can be verified. You say because I say it doesn't make it true. That's right. That's way I have named names and challenged you to make the phone calls to verify these facts.

When you say "why do YOU" (I guess you mean 3abn) want to destroy people. You are kidding right? that is what this site is all about, destroying people. That is what you are about on the 3abn topic. You slander and defame and accuse and you have yet to put up in "proof" of anything. Not even verifiable facts. That is because the only things that you "know" could only be "verified" by one source and that source, has lots and lots of reasons not to tell the truth.

By asking you to Ask Mark Finley if he counseled her, by telling you there are receipts for out of state counceling + counseling by John L you know that it proves beyond a shadow of a doubt that someone didn't tell the truth. Unless you want to call Mark Finley and counselors that are not even Adventist, LIARS ,like you have everyone else. SOMEONE HAS NOT BEEN TELLING THE TRUTH.

Observer refuted "sisters" and others claim that LInda was forced to sign the 3abn contract without legal council. He is on your side for crying out loud and he still said it. So again, someone didn't tell the truth. The licensed PI's that have to swear under oath to what they saw, or lose their license, say that she and the doc were alone plenty without johann or anyone else. Again, someone has not been telling the truth.

you and/or others have referred to Danny's quick trip to Guam. False. Somebody didn't tell the truth, he never went there, They did it by mail, in agreement as is proven by their signatures.

You and others have alleged that Linda was kicked aside for Brandi. Lie. The divorce was filed in early June,04 it was finalized either the 24th or 25th of June. Brandi did not even move here until November 11th and they did not date until several months after that. Someone wasn't telling the truth.

I just read here tonight that someone posted that Danny married Brandy within days of the divorce decree. Since that was june 24th or 25th and he didn't meet her (as a grown woman) until November and they weren't married for approx another year or more went by. SOMEONE DIDN'T TELL THE TRUTH.

It has been alleged that he had known her for years....Another twist and spin. Danny used to own a small recording studio in his house to supplement his income before 3abn. Brandi's family came their to record some gospel music. I believe she was 11 or 12 at the time. He never saw her again until she moved here in 04. Brandi had never even heard of 3abn much less, watched it. But her mother had. Brandi had been through a hard time and had become a christian and her mother suggested coming to 3abn to check it out because brandi's desire was to work in a christian environment and to be in a place where she could minister to others. WAITING IN THE WINGS?
Someone wasn't telling the truth

Now sonshineonme. I have facts and figures, and names and dates that you can all verify if you so choose. How much more evidence will have to be given to make you see that there have been lots of lies told but they have been in your camp.

rEAD my other posts. One is in corporate worship. By the way, D. wasn't fired. He resigned. Do your reading and you will find verifable facts. Names, dates and paperwork that can be checked on. What have you ever shown to back up your allegations?
Remember every time you demand "proof" you are only making it tougher on them. You are opening a pandora's box but it's easy to demand for you and some of the others....your not the ones that will be hurt by it.

I AM NOT DANNY and the more you make that accusation the more foolish you look. If I were he and had access to all the paper trails, pictures, court documents, I would put them on here in a heart beat. But since I am not he, I don't have all the access.

secondly of course I can respond to something ask of bystander. you all jump in the middle of people all the time.

And 3rd, if you "have done some checking on things" lets hear about it. Who did you check with? (Very important) Where is your verification of any facts. Or maybe you were just told some "facts" by someone who heard it from someone. That would absolutely give you the right to slander and defame and call people liars. Brandy's divorce became final October 14, 2004. This is a matter of public record. You do not file for divorce and have it finalized the same day so how may weeks or months before it became final did she file? Why did she file for divorce? And if the November date is accurate, she was very newly divorced. If she came earlier, was she still married? She may or may not have officially moved there in November, but did she show up unofficially earlier? How does wwjd determine the November 11th date? How do you determine if you are "officially" dating?

If his room was reserved at the comfort Inn he would "upgrade" to a 4 star hotel....ALL without permission from management. Okay, "WWJD" if you have paperwork to prove Darrell's "upgrades" show them here. In other words, we would need to see a room reserved at a Comfort Hotel, cancelled the same day and then a new reservation at a 4 star hotel made the same day as an upgrade. Same thing should apply from the car rental agency--and in case you're not clear about that let me spell it out: Paperwork should show an economy car rental and an upgrade to a convertable on the same order. Can you give us that? If you have such paperwork, scan them here. Otherwise what you are saying is basically....um....NOTHING!

What is wrong with this picture???? He is hinting that Derrell has "a problem" and was fired for that reason. Why wasn't Tommy fired for his "problem"?

Sorry, I am not convinced:)

I did a fair amont of traveling last September. We were able to upgrade (there were three of us and lots of luggage) for as little as $1.00 to $2.00 per day. In some cases an upgrade cost us exactly the same.

Looks to me like you are making a mountain out of a mole hill.

Business does not fire an employee for spending more on a hotel room than management wanted. It simplly requires the employee to pay the difference. I travel for the Federal government. If I go over the established budget, I pay for that overage. It is my choice as to what I do.

It is the same for me with air travel. I can fly at any class that I want. But, the government is not going to pay me to fly First Class. So, if I do, I pay the difference.

As to the length of time it took for the accounting department to catch on: Well that simply raises questions about that department. If I exceeed my budgeted amount for a travel expense, it will immediately be caught. I will be only paid the budgeted amounts. I know, because I have had some of my expense claims denied. That is the way that it works in business and in the government.

And I've never read anything different, except for one post in which someone assumed a "quick trip to Guam." You are exaggerating this out of all proportion precisely the way you accuse others on here of exaggeration. You and others have alleged that Linda was kicked aside for Brandi. Lie. The divorce was filed in early June,04 it was finalized either the 24th or 25th of June. Brandi did not even move here until November 11th and they did not date until several months after that. Someone wasn't telling the truth.

Again you misquote. I was the one who recently referred to Danny's divorce and remarriage. And I specifically referred to the date that the divorce was declared legal in Illinois. Danny married Brandi within days of that date. I was not referring to the date of the original Guam divorce. Thus my statement was fully accurate.

Greg, DM never paid the difference. There would have been no problem if he had. The bills show it was a lot more that 1 or 2 dollars a day difference. A lot more. Or again, nothing would have been said. And as stated that was one of several reasons.

Brandy's divorce became final October 14, 2004. This is a matter of public record. You do not file for divorce and have it finalized the same day so how may weeks or months before it became final did she file? Why did she file for divorce? And if the November date is accurate, she was very newly divorced. If she came earlier, was she still married? She may or may not have officially moved there in November, but did she show up unofficially earlier? How does wwjd determine the November 11th date? How do you determine if you are "officially" dating?

'd like answers to these questions too.

QUOTE(wwjd @ Feb 8 2007, 11:02 PM)

WWJD said: Actually, yes, and there were several reasons. The first and more important reason is reflected on their divorce papers. So instead of just hiring him as an employee, they contracted him out.

Fran wonders:

How can they contract "Out" something that is not theirs to contract "Out"? I am confused.

Either he is an employee, or he is not. It sounds like D was under Contract to 3ABN, and 3ABN sent him on work for 3ABN. We all know what Contract Workers are. They are contracted to avoid paying any benefits to that person. The employee gets a 1099 and has to pay self employment tax. Yep, the contracted person has to pay 100% of the Social Security. Normally an employer has to pay half. No unemployment insurance is paid by the contracting company. No Medical, Dental or life insurance. Not even any profit sharing or retirement.

Because of this, many contractors get top dollar. Is this the case here? It is a subjective arrangement. It depends on which aside you are sitting.

The comment "So instead of just hiring him as an employee, they contracted him out," has me puzzled. How can you contract out someone that isn't yours to contract out? Maybe it is just the way it was said. Did you mean he was a subcontractor? I can see that in some circumstances.

WWJD continues:

That way, if, anything happened they could not be held responsible. That was then, I have no idea what the arrangement is now.

The second reason (and there is paperwork to prove it) is that when he traveled for 3ABN.

A. If an economy car was reserved for him at the airport, he would, shall we say, upgrade to something a little snazzier like a convertible.
B. If his room was reserved at the comfort Inn he would "upgrade" to a 4 star hotel....ALL without permission from management. It was a little bit before the accounting department caught what was happening.

Fran's Opinion:

This rests in the lap of the CFO. The Payables Department needs to be revamped to follow GAAP. Someone was not following procedures or there are no clear cut procedures to follow.

Normal procedures would state that a Purchase Order be prepared for everything. This would even mean for traveling. There is a need travel, lodging, transportation and per diem (food) can be processed in several ways.

1. The person needing to travel, at 3ABN's expense, produces a Purchase Order (PO) stating where they are going and the times they need to travel and turns it in. Management approves/disapproves the travel. The purchasing department then books the arrangements/reservations and puts the quoted price on to the PO. This is the approved amount that will be paid/reimbursed; no less, and no more.

2. Many corporations have turned to corporate credit cards. If 3ABN pays the approved amounts to the vendor, there will never be any black holes. The traveler will be responsible for any upgrades desired right then and there.
3. Remember this, if a door is left open, someone WILL walk through it. It happens every time!

I have other questions. What was D allowed to do before the divorce? Were all of the expected changes outlined to D after the divorce?

WWJD continues:

I could go farther but I won't. That should be enough for reasonable people to question the fact that D. says he was fired because he "supported" Linda.

And, you know what else; none of this hasn't been told and wouldn't have been if again, the members here demand details/proof. Any statements made by me tonight can all be verified with paperwork.

Fran:

I am confused. "And, you know what else; none of this hasn't been told and wouldn't have been if again, the members here demand details/proof."

Should it really be read as this: "You know what else; none of this [has] been told [before] and wouldn't have been [now] if [] the members here [had not] demand[ed] details/proof [again]."?

I clearly can see you are not Danny. However, we know you are very close. God bless you and your family.

Hmm ... I wonder if others would be fired for the same reasons ... i.e. for spending more money than necessary. Do the same standards apply to Danny, for instance? Does Danny travel in the most economical manner feasible?

And, by the way, I have no reason to doubt that what you say about Derrell is true. He confessed to being sucked into the extravagant lifestyle of a certain echelon at 3ABN. You honed in on one thing and just to be clear. No employee of a company can up grade several hundreds of dollars worth over a period of time without PERMISSION from the employer.
You ignored what was said was the major problem, and ignored that there were several more problems besides.

I must say this: how many ceo's of an organization that travel as extensively as 3abn don't lease a jet. Danny and 3abn did travel commercial for years and years and still do overseas. Linda rode on that plane for several years and pushed as much or more than anyone to make their travel a little easier, but I have yet to hear a comment about that. It's funny that the jet setter picture wasn't painted until after the divorce then all of these rumors about hob knobbing on a jet. mmm wonder where they came from? .et's narrow the field to religious ministries or non-profit organizations, of which 3ABN is purported to be, ather than privately owned companies. This gives quite a different paradigm than the one you are spinning. .et me give an example to consider, the Seventh-day Adventist church: Does the president of the Seventh-lay Adventist Church, who travels travels more extensively than Danny Shelton, lease a private jet? Of :ourse not. The expense would not be justifiable. Is it justifiable for Danny Shelton? No. Of course not.

'ou claim it was Linda who pushed for the jet, with which I disagree. And if it were true, as you :laimed, than why didn't Danny get rid of the jet at the same time he was getting rid of his wife?

le had no problem sacking his wife, but it appears the luxury of a jet gassed up and waiting for him in Marion s quite another story. Of course the jet makes it much easier for Dan to make quick trips to Utah to watch his avorite basketball team in person, all on the donor's dime...

n government and business the employee who upgrades without permission pays for the extra charge. That :mployee is not fired. The details as to how the employee pays for the extra charge vary according to the ules of the organizaton. But, the result is the same. The employee pays.

Since you of "Danny's team" made the comparison with "pastors," I figure it's fair to extend it

Members of the GC executive likely do just as much, if not more extensive traveling -- if not individually, then as a group -- and they do not lease a private jet.

Of course, it's different for "CEO's of businesses," but 3ABN claims to be a ministry!

As to your other question -- I suppose you're correct in that none of this might have come up at this time if it hadn't been for Danny's booting of Linda. He started the ball rolling with a good hard kick.

Danny makes no attempt to hide fact that he uses the jet. My mother told me that he addressed it publicly at his campmeeting. If the donors don't have a problem with it, then way should any of us? Stop or don't start giving money to 3abn if you have a problem with it.

I wonder how many other unjustifiable trips go on the donor's dime?

Is it justifiable to fly the jet to California for a dentist's appointment?

Is it justifiable to fly the jet to impress ah ... "business associates"?

Is it justificable to fly the jet to go shopping in some larger urban center than the nearest towns?

Is it justifiable to fly the jet to entertainment venues?

Just wondering. ... Maybe it is all justifiable because Danny is entitled to such perks, unlike the leadership in our church or those in supporting ministries. asked bystander=wwjd=ds what that cost was a month that these supposed "donors" have to pay for such a plane (total espenses). I'm sure this is documented somewhere how the cost is covered? The IRS would certainly want to know as well. I mean, if we are talking in the thousands each month, what donor or two would put out such an amount of money for a plane? Can that be legally donated without any cost to the organization it's "donating" it to? But, since I have not gotten the answer to that question, along with my others in the past couple weeks that have not been answered, I am thinking I probably won't get the info straight from horses mouth.

There are documents on the internet already at http://www.save.3abn.com. Which ones of these do you consider as forged documents? Please give the URL of each one that you consider forged. That way we can decide for ourselves. I am not interested in any documents that have not been posted.

Once you have them posted, I am hoping we can get back and discuss the fantastic post that Barbara Kerr sent.

He had no problem sacking his wife, but it appears the luxury of a jet gassed up and waiting for him in Marion is quite another story. Of course the jet makes it much easier for Dan to make quick trips to Utah to watch his favorite basketball team in person, all on the donor's dime...

I will address 3 things. First of all I said Linda pushed or was for the idea of a plane as much or more than anyone. I did not say it was just for Linda.

You seem to know so many details, what is your source? Whoever it is is repeatedly telling you a small part of truth, but then leaving out the rest of the story that makes all the difference.
The truth is the trip to Utah was a usual 3abn Sabbath trip. Meaning 3abn had the services. Since they were there anyway, they did attend a game, at no cost, that evening because the jazz coach is a personal friend of Danny's. He lives in the same area.
Now that piece of information puts a whole different light on the story.
Sister it is easy for you or whoever feeds you to twist everything by not giving the whole truth. The shame is, that you are willingly doing it whether, for yourself, or someone else.
I have read so many of your posts where you have done this exact same thing but I don't have time to go back and clean all those messes up. That is the "whole" truth.

WWJD,

The plane thing is sillyness, but since you mention it so much what would Jesus Do? walk i think?

Just a little humor for you.

Secondly, what the sports thing bothers me personally on a vastly different level, but i am not going to get into that on this topic.

The plane is most likely a good Idea but is it really saving money?

Thank you for the added details that make things a little clearer,

How some added details that will make the reason why in 2003 and 2007 3abn felt the best way to handle the Tommy S. problem was a letter from a lawyer, how some details that will make Tommy's actions look better?

I'm just wondering if those donors are the same ones that made the donations to 3ABN go up(according to Danny) since Linda was fired. Many of us have thought so, since the word in the pews is that many have started to have reservations about donating to 3ABN since Linda was fired.

It's relatively easy for a couple deep-pocketed donors to make up for thousands of small donations -- you know the "insignificant" regular $10.00 and $100.00 kind. As long as Dan has those donors to whom $2,000.00 is small change, he probably doesn't care about all those little old ladies who faithfully sent in their donations to 3ABN each month. The question is whether those big donors are willing to donate extra in the long run in the face of continuing revelations of corruption and doctrinal aberrations.

Hi Everyone,

It's Sunday evening here and I thought I would write you all a little note. The sun actually came out today for about three hours, so I took advantage of the blue skies and took my hour and a half walk to the lake and back.

Is there a way to post a picture inside one of these messages? If so, I would be happy to share a picture or two of my adventures here in Norway.

The temperature hovered between 9 & 14 degrees F today. I'm still trying to adjust to breathing in this ice cold air. Half way through my walk I realized that the pop-top on my water bottle was frozen, so I had to unscrew the lid to get a drink. I almost laughted when I realized the water inside had already formed ice crystals. I can honestly say this has never happened to me in South Carolina!

I made my way to the clinic at 3p.m. to be tested. Peter Larson, the Swedish Olympic Cross-Country Skier was also there receiving a treatment. We visited for about 30 minutes while our I.V.'s ran, and this time I was smart enough to ask him for his autograph. He gave me four signed picture cards. Tomorrow he heads off to China for a big race and then Japan next week for a World Championship. If any of you happen to catch the races, be sure to root for him. He's a great guy.

My test results were very good! My candida (yeast) problem that I have struggled with for years, is FINALLY coming under control. For the past five days I have not had to take a single supplement for my candida. I usually swallow handfuls of garlic and pau d' arco capsules everyday. For five years now, I have been tormented with this unrelenting problem. I REALLY NEVER THOUGHT IT COULD BE KILLED COMPLETELY! I'm beginning to have hope for this as well.

The candida die-off symptoms have been much harder to deal with than killing the cancer cells! For two weeks I had headaches and muscle aches everyday. I have felt pretty decent the last several days now. PTL

I'm looking forward to Thursday this week, as my husband will fly over and join me for two weeks. If I'm completely well by the end of the month, I will fly home with him on the 28th. I miss him terribly.

Tomorrow evening I will be teaching a cooking class for a few ladies I met at Abrahamsen's clinic. One of them had overheard me telling someone that I am a vegetarian cook, so they asked if I would teach them how to do it. To be honest, I'm really struggling with what to make them tomorrow. Most every recipe calls for something they don't have in this country. I never realized how much easier the ToFutti company had made my life! [x] rofl I think I'm leaning towards the Chili recipe in volume two. Did you know Norwegians have never heard of cornbread? I was pretty excited when I found soya-whipped cream in a can, though. [x] Ah, the little things in life.

I'd like to share a little story with you about how I came to be friends with Darrell Mundall and why I like him so much.

I hadn't been cooking at 3ABN long, when this tall skinny fellow came into the kitchen upstairs where I worked. It was break time and Darrell was searching for something feverishly in the refrigerator. (Whenever I was there cooking, the refrigerator was rearranged and looked about to burst.)

When Darrell finally came up for air, he sighed with delight at finding his Philadelphia Cheesecake Snack. We began talking as he ate, and I couldn't help but notice his passion for food. He described in vivid detail, every gourmet dish he had eaten for dinner the night before. I laughed at his lengthy description of each and every morsel. When he had finished I was truly sorry to see him go. It's not everyday you meet someone with such a passion for food, and flavor, as Darrell.

I liked him immediately and I'm happy that he is still one of my friends. I always enjoy talking with him and I miss seeing him walk into the kitchen for his break. Darrell is a genuinely NICE guy and he doesn't deserve all the flak he has gotten from his ex-family. He's funny and incredibly smart, too! All of us need to remember Darrell in our prayers. I know this time has been hard on him, and I just really think we need to lift him up everyday. Darrell, . . . I think you're a great guy, and I'm happy you are one of my friends!

Well, I suppose I had better go and work on what I'm going to do for my cooking class tomorrow.

Hugs to all of you, and a big thank you for all the sweet messages you have sent to me. Remember to take time to tell someone that you love them today.

Your Friend,

well if many of you have thought so, that must make it so.

It's relatively easy for a couple deep-pocketed donors to make up for thousands of small donations -- you know the "insignificant" regular $10.00 and $100.00 kind. As long as Dan has those donors to whom $2,000.00 is small change, he probably doesn't care about all those little old ladies who faithfully sent in their donations to 3ABN each month.

How dare you Inga, make such a statement. Wasn't it you who just posted recently not to attack personal characters or relationships with God? Oh let me guess, Danny/3abn is excluded from that suggestion. You have went to far in making your Insignificant 10.00 and little old lady statements. 3abn has survived all of these years because of those sacrifices. When they were existing from week to week not knowing if they could meet any expenses, it was the " little old ladies that kept 3abn going and it continues to be so to this day. They are extremely fortunate that they have some monied people that can step in at times and help out, but it is the mainstream people that willingly give that keeps 3abn running.

You are showing your true colors now, with some of these statements. Bringing up Gailon's supposed 2,000 because it was said he gave a "small amount" of money is again, a "sister" tactic. You just tell a little part and leave out the rest which turns the story completely around.
How much Gailon did or did not give was not an issue until he made it so. He said he had given and raised substantial amounts of money for 3abn. Some just wanted to verify that statement, but, as posted, records shown it was a small amount was given under his name. No where near the 2,000.00 he NOW says was given and also says that "however" it was given HE CAN'T PROVE IT.
If records only show a small amount then that is all 3abn can go on, is it not. If he can't prove he gave 2,000 how can they. The amount shown that he did give, of course, was appreciated. Any amount is appreciated, but he is the one that started the "large sums" of money on his site so why not verify?

The question is whether those big donors are willing to donate extra in the long run in the face of continuing revelations of corruption and doctrinal aberrations.

The statments are not different, they are the same. To me, donor and supporter are the same. The facts are the same. The plane is leased, 3abn does not own it, and one or 2 donor/supporters take care of it. There are nothing contradictory about those statements.

And yes, The IRS statements are ridiculous because you think such things are not taken care of in this world wide organization, like, they didn't think of it but you did.

Danny shouldn't have to be compared with pastors. It was some of you that tried to start that a long time ago. Again, Inga, plant the seed of insinuation. What came first the game or church. Again, ridiculous. The 3abn trips are planned months in advance by the Marketing and PR departments. Now when THEY scheduled it do you think they looked to see if there was a game that particular night that Danny might like to see? Get a grip. I happen to know that unless it is an international trip he usually has no idea where he is scheduled to go up until his secretary or GM tell him 4 or 5 days before the event.
Inga your subtle suggestions have become accusations. Your hints of wrongdoing have become seeds of innuendo. It is clear to me and others that hints, innuendo, what if's and accusations are only used when one can't back up anything, that one is saying.

Since you of "Danny's team" made the comparison with "pastors," I figure it's fair to extend it

Members of the GC executive likely do just as much, if not more extensive traveling -- if not individually, then as a group -- and they do not lease a private jet.

Right, because there are too many of them going to many different places at once. They wouldn't have to have one plane, they would have to have 1/2 a dozen.

QUOTE(calvin @ Feb 11 2007, 11:22 AM)

Danny makes no attempt to hide fact that he uses the jet. My mother told me that he addressed it publicly at his campmeeting. If the donors don't have a problem with it, then way should any of us? Stop or don't start giving money to 3abn if you have a problem with it.

Your simplicity on the subject is beautiful. Since the plane is taken care of by 1 or 2 people that can afford to, no more needs to be said about the struggling "little old ladies" that Inga refers to sending in their money to pay for a plane.

Incorrect.

In government and business the employee who upgrades without permission pays for the extra charge. That employee is not fired. The details as to how the employee pays for the extra charge vary according to the rules of the organizaton. But, the result is the same. The employee pays.

As was stated previously, this employee DID NOT. Not only did he not pay he never told administration it had been done, and ,not once, but several times before accounting pointed it out.

My comment re the little old ladies was in reference to how Danny appears to value contributions. And this was after I asked whether increased contributions from these "1 or 2 people" (Why don't you know whether it is 1 or two, since you know so much?) accounted for the purported increase of donations to 3ABN, as reported by Danny.

As I said, the word in the pews does not support the idea of increased donations from ordinary people. But the, I guess those don't matter much to Danny.

You twisted my comment into a totally different meaning. That comment was not in reference to the plane!

My comment re the little old ladies was in reference to how Danny appears to value contributions. And this was after I asked whether increased contributions from these "1 or 2 people" (Why don't you know whether it is 1 or two, since you know so much?) accounted for the purported increase of donations to 3ABN, as reported by Danny.

As I said, the word in the pews does not support the idea of increased donations from ordinary people. But the, I guess those don't matter much to Danny.

The same words come from you. I guess and it seems like and I heard and it appears. In this short little post you say: how danny "appears" to value..... The "word" is.....I "guess" those don't matter....

As usual wrong on counts of what you think. When you say Word in the pews is....How many pews in how many different areas have you been to. Funny Uncle Sam used that exact same phrase....As I said to him, the pews you have been in hardly reflect the support that comes from around the world. So don't get too excited yet Inga. Word is, that 3abn is still thriving. It appears that you don't like that. I guess that you don't care about all of the people that have become Adventist through watching 3abn. Seems like you are getting faulty information.

Barbara,

Thanks for your comments about your day there. I hope your post along with those of us that have responded will get and keep this thread back on track.

By the time you read this, you probably have had your cooking school. Can you tell us how it went and what you made?

Also, when you get a chance, tell us more about your vision for the cooking studio. I have been fortunate to take some cooking classes in NY at the natural gourmet institute. Have you ever considered talking to them about being a guest instructor?

Hi Everyone,

What a joy it was to read all of your lovely comments tonight when I got back to my apartment! Thank you for all of your great ideas. Panama Pete, I will try to go online tomorrow and check out some of those websites you recommended.

I actually drew up plans to build a studio on our property in August of 2005. That was when we started the paperwork to become non-profit. Everything just costs sooooo much money, though. To build, equip, and run a studio will cost approximately one million dollars. My husband and I have been over every possible scenario. Some have suggested that I travel by plane and tape programs in their studios.

The problem for me trying to put together a series of cooking shows and travelling, is just how difficult it is to cart food and dishes, etcetera, to another state. The planning is simply a nightmare. Lately, I've been leaning towards the idea of expanding my own kitchen and dining room by 20 or 25 feet. I could push out one wall and totally renovate the kitchen to function as a cooking studio. I could also build a small master control room in the added space.

By building the studio into my existing home, I save money by not having to stock a new kitchen with dishes and cooking equipment, as I already own most things needed, and I save by not having to heat and aircondition a separate building. I could rent or lease camera equipment in the beginning, and, . . . and, . . .and, . . . I just get so excited when I start thinking about producing shows again. Please join me in making this a matter of prayer. I want to do what God wants me to do.

Two days ago, I received ANOTHER email from someone in India. They have been asking and asking, for several months now, to air my cooking programs on cable T.V. They want the health message. I have also been contacted by some men starting a Christian station in China. China is just now starting to open their doors to Christianity, but they want to proceed cautiously, and they contacted me to see if they could air my cooking programs to help pave the way for the gospel message.

DO YOU KNOW HOW MUCH IT BREAKS MY HEART TO TELL THESE PEOPLE THAT I HAVE NO RIGHTS TO AIR MY OWN PROGRAMS?! THAT 3ABN REFUSES TO DONATE MY VIDEOS, AND THE RIGHTS TO USE THEM, TO MY MINISTRY? I FEEL LIKE MOSES STANDING BEFORE PHARAOH EVERY TIME I ASK DANNY TO LET MY VIDEOS GO. He either completely ignores my question or he says 'no'.

I came to the conclusion several months back that it is not my job to persuade Danny to donate my videos, that is God's job. God is in control and if I am to have them, then it will happen. His timing is always perfect, . . . even if it is in the eleventh hour!

When I arrived at the clinic this morning, I was told it was going to snow for the next three days. I smiled. I decided to take my walk this morning, as I knew I would be shopping for the cooking class in the afternoon. I didn't have time to walk all the way to the lake today, so I wandered down a quiet road instead. I watched the snow as it drifted slowly to the earth. It moves this way, and that, as if it were all part of a grand ballroom dance. It's dark outside now, but I can still see flakes falling under the street lights outside my window. The little wooded area I walk through each morning reminds me of the forest in Narnia.

I decided to teach the ladies how to make Chili and Cornbread tonight (cowboy food as they called it). I also decided to make the Peanut Butter Pie, an Asian Salad (just made that one up 2 weeks ago), and Sesame Fried Tofu.

They had never eaten tofu before, and after looking for more than an hour downtown Moss, I was beginning to wonder if I would be able to find it. We finally stumbled upon an International Market, and they had silken and extra-firm tofu.

We had soooo much fun cooking together in Lisa's kitchen. There were four of us all together. Everyone had their own little assignments, but we helped each other and I was able to share some of the benefits of living a vegetarian lifestyle. The ladies devoured the food. They were most surprised by how good the sesame fried tofu tasted. It was a lot of fun. Now Bill will have to bring cookbooks with him when he arrives this week. All of the women wanted to buy American measuring cups and spoons as well. Who knows, maybe there is another business for me after all! lol

All in all, it was a great day. I enjoyed my divine appointment and pray that God will keep sending them to me.

Thank you for your continued prayers and support. I will try to post a letter every day or so to keep you up-to-date on what's happening at this end of the world.

Blessings,
Barbara Kerr

Barbara,
Your adventure in Norway sounds wonderful! I am so glad that you are receiving both physical and spiritual refreshing.

Although I do not know you and have only seen one or two of your 3abn cooking shows I feel that you are a kindred spirit. I transitioned (abruptly/immediatley LOL) to a plant based diet in 2005 and have had so much fun developing recipes ever since. Yours sound delicious. Guess I'll have to look into adding your cookbook into my collection!

Have you ever thought of trying to get onto Extreme Home Makeover? I've seen them make a beautiful catering kitchen for a woman and her family before. I suppose that would only work if you had a problem residence though. Well, it was just a thought.

Barbara,

How great to hear that your cooking class went so well. However, I am very disappointed to learn that you have been unsuccessful in getting a response from 3ABN regarding whether or not they will release the tapes of your cooking classes to you.

I wonder if there is anything we can do on your behalf. I wonder if anyone here at BlackSDA or other non-registered readers would we willing to use their contacts to question why 3ABN is failing to allow you to use the tapes they will never use to take your message internationally.

Maybe we should also try an email or letter writing campaign to the board members and make calls. Do you maintain an email list of people that are interested in your work? Have you thought about a petition signed by a few hundred people on your behalf? I can't imagine that some of the major supporters of 3ABN would understand why the tapes should not be released.

I remember reading this weekend a post where the poster complained that not enough is happening to change anything. Maybe we could in a tangible and positive way.

Does any one have any other ideas?

How about some sisters (and a few brothers) helping a sister.....

There are a couple of important questions here:

1) Did Barbara have a written contract with 3-ABN in regard to her programs? If so, what did it say in regard to ownership of the programs?

2) Was Barbara compensated in any way for her programs? If she was, it is likely that 3-ABN owns those programs, and can do as it jolly well as it pleases.

3) If Barbara was not compensated in any way, and there is no written contract which provides for 3-ABN to own those programs, then Barbara may (?) have ownership rights to those programs. However, that is ownership of content. 3-ABN still might have ownership rights to the physical tape upon which that content resides.

4) If it could be determined that Barbara has ownership rights to the content, she could attempt to force 3-ABN to allow those programs to be duplicated onto tape owned by her, for a fee, of course, and assumning that 3-ABN has not destroyed the physical tape which they may own.

This may be complex.

3-ABN just maybe within their legal rights? If so, and they remain firm, Barbara is quite limited as to what she can do.

Of course, can you immagine the public relations bonus for 3-ABN if Bystander or WWJD were to post the following here in BSDA, tomorrow: "I have checked with 3-ABN and I am informed that they plan transfer to Barbara copies of her programs, along with full rights to use them as she pleases. 3-ABN thanks Barbara for the contributions she made to our programing and wishes her well."

Such a statement would go a long ways to conuteract some of the negative publicity that 3-ABN recieves.

Will 3-ABN do such? Keep posted. This discussion will continue, until they do.

VWJD: You seem to have missed the point again. I am not giving 3-ABN any advice. I am telling people here hat 3-ABN may have a legal right to refuse to provide Barbara with copies of her programs. I am also making ı public statement that it would be a clear positive step in public relations is 3-ABN would do so.

VWJD,

'hank you for taking the time to post in this thread.

MO observer was trying to provide anyone interested in this topic with some information about possible ssues surrounding the ownership of the tapes.

'ou would be better served to refrain from sarcasm and give us your opinion on whether you see any benefit o 3abn in keeping the cooking tapes or whether you agree with observer's comments about the great PR that :ould enure to the benefit of 3abn if they were to donate them to Ms. Kerr so she could continue to take her ninistry of the health message to those that are requesting it.

Give an opinion and don't attack the poster please.

Also, as you have indicated that you have information on many of the topics discussed in the 3ABN section ıere at BlackSDA, can you tell us if Ms. Kerr has ever received an official answer to her request after all this ime, and if not, why has she not been given one?

Hi Everyone,
This will be short as it is extremely late here in Norway and I need to get to bed. I can maybe give a more detailed answer tomorrow.

In regards to my tapes:
1) I did have a generic written contract with 3ABN in regards to my tapes. Because 3ABN Presents was their 'flagship' program as they called it, ONLY 3ABN could have rights to ownership with those shows. I signed one contract when I first began taping in 1997, and then refused to sign any more contracts regarding ownership, until they forced me to in 2003.

*Every guest that goes to 3ABN is sent a packet with questions and guidelines. You are asked to fill out the paperwork, sign the contract, and return it to the office prior to taping. After my first visit, I would just show up without signing anything and taped my programs.

Finally in the Summer or Fall of 2003, they cornered me, and told me that if I didn't sign the contract, that they would no longer air any of my programs and I would not be invited back as a guest ever again. I signed the contract under protest, but I did sign it -- one more time.

2) I was NOT compensated in any way for creating recipes and taping programs for them. Twice I was given a love offering of $150. It was either the second or third year that I taped there. Once I was given an ink pen as a Christmas gift with 3ABN's name on it.

I was asked to create and tape programs there approximately every other month, all year long. It was like a full time job. I learned a lot at 3ABN and my deadlines caused me to put my cookbooks together. (Taste Of Health, Volumes 1 & 2) I am very grateful for all of the hands-on training I received. I am especially grateful to Bobby Davis who is an outstanding producer and good friend.

I worked for free for seven years. I loved helping others, and I had promised God that that is what I would do for the rest of my life. It was a labor of love and came with its own rewards. Rewards that I tell people, 'are out of this world'! The sale of my cookbooks has been the only means of income to my ministry. www.tasteofhealth.net

3) I have always known that 3ABN would have the rights to my programs. That's the way the cookie crumbles! But everything changed in 2004 when I asked Dan (and Linda) tough questions.

When my cooking programs were suddenly not of any use to 3ABN or Danny, just because Linda appeared on them, it was as if my ministry disappeared over night. In my opinion, their divorce wasn't a good enough reason for the health message I had worked so hard to bring to the world, to suddenly be disposed of.

I personally feel like the Shelton's divorce, and Danny's dislike of me because I refused to turn my back on my friend, IS NOT A GOOD ENOUGH REASON TO LOCK UP SEVEN YEARS WORTH OF HARD WORK! If 3ABN no longer has use for the tapes, then why not let me have the rights and use of my programs? The Lord is the one that called me to labor in this field. He is my master, my friend and my defender.

Barbara I am so glad that you are getting treatment. Tell me how did you get into see the doctor so fast? Johann said there was a years waiting list. I wish Johann's wife would have gotten the success that you are getting. Is this the same treatment that the Doc gave his wife, I understand that she had cancer also?

Glenetta, if you have read Barbara's previous posts, you will recall this treatment is a VERY recent discovery and Barbara is only the third patient that has received it. Obviously this treatment was not available at the time that Johann's wife was in the final stages of cancer. This procedure is still in the early research stages. Praise God for the opportunity that He gave Barbara to be a research subject.

How is that relevant to the discussion of the tapes? No... wait... lemme guess... Johann and Linda must have conspired to get her in, possibly ahead of people who had been waiting months?

QUOTE(Johann @ Feb 5 2007, 04:29 PM)

Linda Shelton encouraged me to see the Norwegian doctor (Arild Abrahamsen) that had treated her son. They call him the Miracle Doctor here in Norway. He also treats many famous European athletes from every sport imaginable. Just Wednesday I was sitting next to two young men from Sweden that were Olympic cross country skiers. One was named Peter Larson and the other Mat (something). I asked them all kinds of questions about what it's really like to train for the Olympics everyday. I also asked them why they come here. They smiled and said that no matter what their problem, virus or broken bone, the healing time with this treatment was less than half and they couldn't afford downtime.

The Swedish Olympic trainer came to see Dr. Abrahamsen a few days ago and asked him if he would treat and monitor his entire team during training. Dr. Abrahamsen is so swamped with patients, he has a one-year waiting list to be seen as a new patient. He's not even sure he will take on the Olympic cross-country ski team.

I decided at Linda's prompting to go to Norway before undergoing the knife. There are several reasons why I came to this doctor to be treated, but honestly, at the end of the day the entire thing was one great, big, divine appointment.

Dr. Abrahamsen (a general practice doc for 30+ years) got tired of treating sickness and wanted to be a wellness doc. About 15 years ago he was trained with new technology. He was also a friend of a friend. I had never met him before and was actually a bit leery of him.

At the exact same time I was really feeling sick and starting to go see specialists (oct/nov), Abrahamsen came across a newspaper article written by researchers stating that they had found an enzyme that was present in every cancer cell, no matter the type of cancer. The enzyme is called `CASPASE - 3`. Anyways, the scientists speculated that if they could find a way to activate this de-activated enzyme, they thought the body would rid itself of cancer.

Doctor Abrahamsen completely agreed. He immediately set to work, and within a short period of time, he found a combination of remedies that would activate the enzyme.

This doctor's brother has had Hogkins or non-hogkins for 3 or 4 years now. He was one of the first people treated in November. After one week of treatment he was cancer free. I know of one more patient, a lady who came to him with bloody discharge from her breast and breast cancer. She was cancer free after 6 treatments.

The theory the scientists came up with seems to work! Only no one knows about this discovery yet because it's still so new.

I am the third person (in the world) that has received this therapy. The really great thing is that it's not drugs like chemo and radiation. I feel so much better too! And I get to keep my red hair and my immune system gets stronger, not weaker.

Last week I asked the doc if he was excited about this discovery and what it could mean to the world? He said it was much too early to be excited about it, because it would require a lot more testing on patients with different kinds of cancer to see how it would work. He also didn't think it would work well on patients with brain tumors, due to the blood-brain-barrier, but he hasn't treated anyone with a brain tumor yet to see how they respond to it. He won't be making any claims anytime soon. (Although I feel a Nobel Prize coming on – for him, not for me) LOL- laugh out loud
I personally think this discovery is exciting. I just want to burst with the news. To be honest though, I wasn't going to share this story with the public, because it was, once again, so personal. Then two days ago God really dealt with me harshly, and kept bringing me to Esther chapter 4, verse 14. ``For if you remain completely silent at this time, relief and deliverance will arise for the Jews from another place, but you and your father's house will perish. Yet who knows whether you have come to the kingdom for such a time as this?"

I wasn't sure what to think of Arild Abrahamsen before I met him. I would liken Abrahamsen in character, to that of Mark Finley or Doug Bachelor! I'm not afraid of him anymore, or leery, . . . I'm proud to call him a friend, and consider him one of the greatest doctors I have had the privilege of meeting.

I'm not the sickest person in the U.S., and yet Gods' timing with this cure is so incredible! I have moments of feeling guilty. I feel the Lord's hand over me, under me, and around me, everywhere I go.

There is a purpose for me here in this foreign land and I continue to pray that God will use my life in a mighty and powerful way to help others receive life.

All my love from Norway,

Barb

hope this answers your questions Glenetta. It would have been wonderful if Abrahamson would have liscovered this in time to cure Irmgard and his wife. Although, if I'm not mistaken, his wife died of a lung lisease, not cancer. I would have to ask him to be sure.

Vell, on the surface, it appears to me that 3-ABN owns the rights to Barbara's programs, and can do with hem as it pleases.

lowever, that issues may be more complex than I understand. I believe there is a body of law that applies to rograms produced for television, in regard to future useage by others. But, that is outside of my reading nterests.

So, my only piece of advice is: Barbara, if you wish to learn what legal rights you have you should consult an ttorney competent in this area of the law.

On the assumption that 3-ABN owns the rights, the issue now is: Does 3-ABN wish to score a major PR coup y releasing the tapes to Barbars at no charge?

will suggest that an accomadation could be reached, if Barbara and 3-ABN wanted to do so. That ccomodation might be a statement added to each tape that gave credit to 3-ABN, and thanked 3-ABN for releasing its property to Barbara.

That would be a win, win, situation for all.

Hi Barbara,

I hope you had a good night's rest and are enjoying another beautiful day in Norway.

Whether or not you ever get those tapes back, the knowledge is in your head and what you did once, you will be able to do again.

For the moment, just concentrate on getting well and staying well. The rest will take care of itself in good time.

Blessings,
Ralph

I agree 100% with what Ralph said. "

As a matter of fact, it will be easier the second time around, and you can even make improvements. It wouldn't surprise me if Linda would love to work with you again. Wouldn't that be fun?

Thank you Ralph and everyone! I needed to hear that today. Linda and I would love to tape programs together again and there is ALWAYS room for improvement.

Yesterday was a real attack day for me. I think something really big is getting ready to happen again. My day started when I woke up with an infection in one of my wisdom teeth, (yes I have such a big mouth I've never needed to have them out -- and don't forget all the extra wisdom I get from them). By noon, I had a full-blown, candida die-off infection. Shortly after lunch my computer crashed -- I couldn't even get it to turn off.

Then I received a care package from my best friend Claudia. (Remember her from the Food For Thought programs?) I really hadn't felt home-sick since arriving here, until I opened all of her little presents and read her Valentines card. After that, I just felt weepy for hours, and cried at the drop of a hat! Oh brother . . . girls!

I was really missing my girlfriends!!!! God is so good though. I got a call from my mom and we talked for a long time. She has been a constant source of encouragement while I've been here. Shortly after we hung up, my good friend called (she cleaned house for Mahamud Ali (sp?) for years). We talked for well over an hour laughing and getting all caught up. Thank you Then my dear sister Linda Shelton called me. I know we talked for over an hour. I cried on her shoulder, and she just encouraged me the entire time. She is so kind and I miss her to the moon and back.

So that was my day. I just kept praising God, even for the seemingly bad stuff. I learned a long time ago that God inhabits our praise.

Hugs to you all.

Hello Barb!

A big hug from one of your fans in France. hug.gif I loved your program so much and was very sad when it disappeared. I have been saddened by so many things since: the evil treatment that Linda received (and also many others, as I've been learning), all the bad stuff in 3ABN, and your sickness. But the Lord is good, and His blessings abundant. Good things are happening too and the Lord is taking good care of his children. Glad to see that you found such an excellent doctor and treatment, and that you're in your way to healing. Glad to read your letters, so true and warm, just as yourself. God bless you, sister! You're in my prayers.

Have a very happy Valentine's day!

Yours,

Grace

Hi Miss Barbara,

I don't know you at all, and I've never seen your cooking program. But I just wanted you to know that I have been blessed just by reading your posts here and learning your background. I am having my own personal battles, but after reading your first post about your walk by the lake I've been coming with you on your walks - hope you don't mind!!

I just have something to say about those tapes. When you really stop and think about it, those tapes don't belong to you or to 3ABN - they are the Lord's property. Sure, we can argue about legal rights and who can do what. Regardless of current circumstances, he said/she said arguments and all the other ugliness flying around, you and I and 3ABN and everone here hopefully have one common goal, that being to spread the gospel of Jesus to the world so we can get out of here. Under that umbrella of understanding, it makes absolutely no sense to me why those tapes are being held hostage as they are. From my humble perspective as just an earthly peon, those tapes are yet another tool in the Lord's arsenal for spreading the Word. I am just thankful, as you can be also, that I am not the one who will have to explain to my Lord on judgment day the choice to keep His cooking tapes, His music productions or anything else of His locked up and out of use, apparently simply out of spite.

Blessings to you!! I really do enjoy our walks - please tell me about the next one soon!!! I like to ask for heavenly hugs...so I'm sending one to you.... hug.gif

I could not have expressed my own feelings any better (about the tapes or the walks). I too have never met Barbara or even seen one of the tapes.

Do you have friends or family that used to watch her on 3abn? How do you think they would feel about this issue? What do you think we can do to bring this matter to the attention of people? Please feel free to PM me if you prefer.

Hi Barbara,
I had to smile when I read the sentence above, because that's the way I tend to think. God is good and knows just when we need encouragement, and it seems He sent you some yesterday when you really needed it.

I understand you're thinking about what to do for a studio or some place to tape some more cooking programs. If your neighborhood is not too noisy, it would seem that the most practical thing to do would be a remodeling of your kitchen-dining room area. (Hey, I'm a builder's wife and know all sorts of ways to remodel a house.) The main thing you really need, which you may not have in your kitchen, is an island with a cooktop in it. (A built-in oven higher up behind the island would also be nice.) A little vegetable sink in the same island might also be handy. Usually we have our stoves against a wall, and that doesn't work well for cooking demos. You would have to place the island in a position that would leave room for a camera & operator to take the necessary videos. If your kitchen & dining room are adjacent, you could have the "island" at the edge of your kitchen, if necessary, facing the dining room. When it's shooting day, the dining room belongs to the camera man, and you might have to move a bit of furniture. ;-)

Just a thought. You might have to play with a few sketched to see what you can do with your current space, or you might conclude that you need to bump out a wall. The wonderful bonus is that you'd always be able to use your camera-ready kitchen. ;-) (The cooktop could be extra, or you could use it as your main cooktop at all times. If you used it all the time, you would probably want a hood coming down from the ceiling, stopping high enough so as not to obstruct the filming.) Studio "sets" simply imitate a real kitchen. How much better to really use a real kitchen!

No more traveling with dishes, cooking utensils and ingredients to do your taping.

Best wishes to you,
Inga

Hi Inga,

You described the kitchen I have designed in my head a hundred times. Right on girl! My husband laughs at me, because knowing what I want, isn't the problem.

You have great ideas!

Dear Snoopy,

Your post tickled me so, and brought a great big smile to my face! Thank you from the bottom of my heart.

I feel exactly the same way you do about my tapes. That they aren't my property or 3ABN's, but the Lords'. I suppose it is also why I have a peace about not arguing over them. The only emotion I feel, is a deep sadness for the people that are asking to learn about the health message and I am not able to supply their need.

I had to chuckle at your comment about the tapes being 'held hostage'. I always refer to them as being locked up in cooking school prison. When the time is right, either God will move in a powerful way, or He will provide another answer. Either way, I am confident He will provide.

Since you enjoy the walks, let me share another short story with you.

Just before my last trip to the lake I had received some very sad news (through BSDA actually). It completely caught me off guard and felt like a knife in the pit of my stomach. I turned off the computer and knew I needed to meet God at the lake.

I sobbed as I changed into my three layers of clothes and pulled on my hat, scarf, gloves and coat. I cried big, red-headed, crocodile tears for a good 15 minutes before calming down. Big, heavy, flakes were swirling in the sky, . . . as if they had nothing better to do.

I was fretting and fussing with God. I felt uneasy, like everything was just out-of-my-reach, and out of control. I sniffled and kicked snow as I trudged up the hillside. I pleaded with God for favor and for understanding.

I was out of breath when I reached the lake. The sky was dark and matched my inner turmoil. I began to sing songs of praise until my spirits began to lift, and I could hear that still, small, voice. When I turned to leave, God spoke to me and said, `Beloved, haven't I taught you to praise me in all circumstances?'

Yes, Lord, You have'. I walked through the snow-covered pasture and back onto the path. I began to pray again, only this time I praised God for the problem.

Beloved, it won't be as bad as you think. Trust Me.'

'Yes Lord, I will trust You.'

My heart became lighter as the Lord brought recollections of past answered prayers into my mind. The snow was powdery and deep and difficult to walk in. As I crested the top of the hill, I paused to drink from my water bottle.

On the left side of the road for a short distance, every tree had been cut down. All but one. It had been topped, and all of its branches removed but two. The two remaining branches looked like arms reaching out. The right 'hand' held what looked like a conductors batton, reaching up, poised, as if it were leading a choir.

I looked directly across the road and saw a grouping of magestic trees. They reached high up into the heavens. I began to imagine that they were singing a concert in the forest just for me. I stared at the trees for a long time, and then wondered, if trees really could sing, what would they sing?

Immediately a Bible verse popped into my head. It's found in Isaiah 55:12. 'For you shall go out with joy, and be led out with peace; The mountains and the hills shall break forth into singing before you, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands.' What an awesome day that will be!

When I arrived back at my apartment I opened my Bible and asked God to speak to me from His Word and give me complete peace.

This is what I read.

'For as the rain comes down, and the snow from heaven, and do not return there, but water the earth, and make it bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower and bread to the eater, So shall My word be that goes forth from My mouth; It shall not return to Me void, But it shall accomplish what I please, And it shall prosper in the thing for which I sent it.'

My heart was overwhelmed with joy, as the verse spoke to my need for an answer.

God is so good, folks. Remember to take that special time with Him everyday, . . . not just to talk, . . . but to listen. I'm positive He has something to tell you.

I hope everyone had a wonderful Valentines Day! Bill arrives tomorrow. welc

Barbara,
Bless you for sharing this beautiful testimony with us! God provides us so many blessings in the most amazing ways if we will just keep our eyes and hearts open.

I, too, have a testimony I would like to share on this day that the world has designated to LOVE. It comes, not from God's glorious snow-covered Norwegien countryside, but from a medical facility I had to visit this past Monday.

My heart sank as my doctor filled out the request for an MRI of my brain. I thought about my first experience years before with this daunting machine. I had laid head first inside the narrow tube for only a few scant minutes before my chest began to fill with such pressure that I thought my heart would burst. The panic got so strong that I had to tell the technician to get me out immediately!

"But I have claustrophobia!" I blurted out as my doctor handed me the request.

"No problem," he reassured. "They have an open MRI available".

Encouraged, I took the orders home and quickly scheduled the appointment.

The morning of the test I arrived at the imaging facility full of confidence that I was up to the challenge. After all, I wasn't going to be buried deep in a tube as I had been before. I faced the "open" MRI machine fearlessly as I climbed up the short ladder to the exam table. I calmly noted that the actual opening of the machine was pretty narrow but that there was plently of room to spread out my arms and legs if need be. The technician made me very comfortable, placing a foam support under my knees to keep my back in a proper position for the 30-minute test. My head was cradled in a nice support. I sighed happily that all was going so well.

As the technician prepared to put the clear plastic positioning hood over my head she warned "Since you are claustrophobic it may help to close your eyes as I put this on. "Ha!" I blustered to myself, and defiantly kept them open. As the device clicked into place my confidence dissolved. My power and control were gone. As the pressure in my chest began to build I looked directly into the face of the young technician. "Oh no. I'm afraid this is not going to work. I'm so disappointed in myself."

She quickly removed the hood and suggested we reschedule the test when my doctor could provide me with some strong pharmacological help to relax me. Anxious to get this important diagnostic test completed I asked, "Is there any way my husband could be in here with me?" The tech went out to the parking lot, collected my husband, had him fill out a questionnaire and empty his pockets. In minutes he was by my side, firmly holding my small left hand in both of his big strong hands.

I closed my eyes, the technician clicked the hood back around my head and slowly slid the table into the MRI machine. She showed my husband how to unlock the table so he could quickly get me out if need be. I kept my eyes tightly closed so as not to see the close proximity of the machine's upper surface and focused diligently on the two strong hands holding mine. I knew he wouldn't let go. I trusted my husband. I knew he would take care of me and deliver me from the machine if I could not bear it any longer. I had faith in this man so I was able to endure the close quarters of the MRI machine and the synthesized jack-hammering, buzzing and popping going on above my head as it created an image of my brain. I held on tightly and he gave me numerous reassuring squeezes over that lengthy 30-minute test.

I made it through! It would not have helped to have a stranger stand there and promise that I would be okay. The radiologist could have come in and held my hand and it would not have helped me make it through because I did not know him enough to be able to trust him. I couldn't have faith in him to care enough about me to do as I needed because he did not know me. I needed someone to help that knew me well enough to do what was best for me.

As we drove home after the test my heart overflowed with love for this husband of mine. He didn't chide me for my weakness. He held my hand. He was my power when I had none of my own! I couldn't help but realize that this is how it is to be with our Savior. He knows us better than any loved one ever could. He wants us to be victorious in this test called life. Jesus asks us to place our hands in His and, with the eyes of faith, focus on Him and not the world. He will carry us through!

have been extremely burdened for a 17 year old young lady in my youth group. She really wants to live for od, but she feels pulled in the other direction by worldly "friends" that are hard for her to give up. She has old me this herself. She's into the party scene and away from God right now, but I can't help but believe that od is still speaking to her. I want her to wake up before she gets hurt.

Vould everyone who reads this please say a prayer for April? I know this isn't on topic, but I just feel like now s the time to post this. It would be a BIG encouragement to me to see her back in church and living for the ord. Thanks and God bless.

.S. to Barbara: Thanks for the updates on your situation as well. I'll be praying for you and your ministry.

Duane, I will pray for April. We have assurance in 1John 5:16, that if we ask God, He will give life to those who are sinning because we have asked! Pretty awesome, isn't it!

BTW, your new avatar is, um, odd. I got a out of wwjd's latest quote.

Barbara,

It is quite evident that you have a gift for writing as well as cooking. A couple of your posts here (including the one below) would be excellent in a devotional book.

Have you thought of translating your experiences into a devotional book? Since a devotional book implies individual page-long articles, perhaps you might prefer to write an inspirational book. This could include your cooking school experiences at 3ABN, your home experiences, your battle with cancer. etc. A bit of humor in appropriate places does wonders, and you seem to have a nice sense of humor.

Since you seem to have a computer where you are, you could get started right now. Be sure to save the little devotional below and also retrieve your description of the earlier walk.

There. You've at least got part of your book. That wasn't hard, was it?

Blessings,
Inga

QUOTE(Barbara Kerr @ Feb 14 2007, 05:11 PM)

Just before my last trip to the lake I had received some very sad news (through BSDA actually). It completely caught me off guard and felt like a knife in the pit of my stomach. I turned off the computer and knew I needed to meet God at the lake.

I sobbed as I changed into my three layers of clothes and pulled on my hat, scarf, gloves and coat. I cried big, red-headed, crocodile tears for a good 15 minutes before calming down. Big, heavy, flakes were swirling in the sky, . . . as if they had nothing better to do.

I was fretting and fussing with God. I felt uneasy, like everything was just out-of-my-reach, and out of control. I sniffled and kicked snow as I trudged up the hillside. I pleaded with God for favor and for understanding.

I was out of breath when I reached the lake. The sky was dark and matched my inner turmoil. I began to sing songs of praise until my spirits began to lift, and I could hear that still, small, voice. When I turned to leave, God spoke to me and said, `Beloved, haven't I taught you to praise me in all circumstances?'

'Yes, Lord, You have'. I walked through the snow-covered pasture and back onto the path. I began to pray again, only this time I praised God for the problem.

'Beloved, it won't be as bad as you think. Trust Me.'

'Yes Lord, I will trust You.'

My heart became lighter as the Lord brought recollections of past answered prayers into my mind. The snow was powdery and deep and difficult to walk in. As I crested the top of the hill, I paused to drink from my water bottle.

On the left side of the road for a short distance, every tree had been cut down. All but one. It had been topped, and all of its branches removed but two. The two remaining branches looked like arms reaching out. The right 'hand' held what looked like a conductors batton, reaching up, poised, as if it were leading a choir.

I looked directly across the road and saw a grouping of magestic trees. They reached high up into the heavens. I began to imagine that they were singing a concert in the forest just for me. I stared at the trees for a long time, and then wondered, if trees really could sing, what would they sing?

Immediately a Bible verse popped into my head. It's found in Isaiah 55:12. 'For you shall go out with joy, and be led out with peace; The mountains and the hills shall break forth into singing before you, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands.' What an awesome day that will be!

When I arrived back at my apartment I opened my Bible and asked God to speak to me from His Word and give me complete peace.

This is what I read.

'For as the rain comes down, and the snow from heaven, and do not return there, but water the earth, and make it bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower and bread to the eater, So shall My word be that goes forth from My mouth; It shall not return to Me void, But it shall accomplish what I please, And it shall prosper in the thing for which I sent it.'

My heart was overwhelmed with joy, as the verse spoke to my need for an answer.

God is so good, folks. Remember to take that special time with Him everyday, . . . not just to talk, . . . but to listen. I'm positive He has something to tell you.

I hope everyone had a wonderful Valentines Day! Bill arrives tomorrow. welc

QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Feb 14 2007, 05:37 PM)

Barbara,
Bless you for sharing this beautiful testimony with us! God provides us so many blessings in the most amazing ways if we will just keep our eyes and hearts open.

I, too, have a testimony I would like to share on this day that the world has designated to LOVE. It comes, not from God's glorious snow-covered Norwegien countryside, but from a medical facility I had to visit this past Monday.

My heart sank as my doctor filled out the request for an MRI of my brain. I thought about my first experience years before with this daunting machine. I had laid head first inside the narrow tube for only a few scant minutes before my chest began to fill with such pressure that I thought my heart would burst. The panic got so strong that I had to tell the technician to get me out immediately!

"But I have claustrophobia!" I blurted out as my doctor handed me the request.

"No problem," he reassured. "They have an open MRI available".

Encouraged, I took the orders home and quickly scheduled the appointment.

The morning of the test I arrived at the imaging facility full of confidence that I was up to the challenge. After all, I wasn't going to be buried deep in a tube as I had been before. I faced the "open" MRI machine fearlessly as I climbed up the short ladder to the exam table. I calmly noted that the actual opening of the machine was pretty narrow but that there was plently of room to spread out my arms and legs if need be. The technician made me very comfortable, placing a foam support under my knees to keep my back in a proper position for the 30-minute test. My head was cradled in a nice support. I sighed happily that all was going so well.

As the technician prepared to put the clear plastic positioning hood over my head she warned "Since you are claustrophobic it may help to close your eyes as I put this on. "Ha!" I blustered to myself, and defiantly kept them open. As the device clicked into place my confidence dissolved. My power and control were gone. As the pressure in my chest began to build I looked directly into the face of the young technician. "Oh no. I'm afraid this is not going to work. I'm so disappointed in myself."

She quickly removed the hood and suggested we reschedule the test when my doctor could provide me with some strong pharmacological help to relax me. Anxious to get this important diagnostic test completed I asked, "Is there any way my husband could be in here with me?" The tech went out to the parking lot, collected my husband, had him fill out a questionnaire and empty his pockets. In minutes he was by my side, firmly holding my small left hand in both of his big strong hands.

I closed my eyes, the technician clicked the hood back around my head and slowly slid the table into the MRI machine. She showed my husband how to unlock the table so he could quickly get me out if need be. I kept my eyes tightly closed so as not to see the close proximity of the machine's upper surface and focused diligently on the two strong hands holding mine. I knew he wouldn't let go. I trusted my husband. I knew he would take care of me and deliver me from the machine if I could not bear it any longer. I had faith in this man so I was able to endure the close quarters of the MRI machine and the synthesized jack-hammering, buzzing and popping going on above my head as it created an image of my brain. I held on tightly and he gave me numerous reassuring squeezes over that lengthy 30-minute test.

I made it through! It would not have helped to have a stranger stand there and promise that I would be okay. The radiologist could have come in and held my hand and it would not have helped me make it through because I did not know him enough to be able to trust him. I couldn't have faith in him to care enough about me to do as I needed because he did not know me. I needed someone to help that knew me well enough to do what was best for me.

As we drove home after the test my heart overflowed with love for this husband of mine. He didn't chide me for my weakness. He held my hand. He was my power when I had none of my own! I couldn't help but realize that this is how it is to be with our Savior. He knows us better than any loved one ever could. He wants us to be victorious in this test called life. Jesus asks us to place our hands in His and, with the eyes of faith, focus on Him and not the world. He will carry us through!

Inga, thank you. The actual story begins as you suggested. I was going to put a line between my comments and the story but didn't.

Barb and PB, I agree with INga 100%!

Duane, I will also pray for April. Your avatar troubles me. You doing OK?

BK and PB, thank you for your testimonies. God bless you!!!

Duane, I'm praying for April, that He strengths her and helps her take the right decision to turn her heart to the Lord. And that He protects her from danger while she struggles.

I hope you're not feeling like your avatar, Duane!

Blessings to all,

Grace

QUOTE(ex3ABNemployee @ Feb 14 2007, 10:23 PM)

I have been extremely burdened for a 17 year old young lady in my youth group. She really wants to live for God, but she feels pulled in the other direction by worldly "friends" that are hard for her to give up. She has told me this herself. She's into the party scene and away from God right now, but I can't help but believe that God is still speaking to her. I want her to wake up before she gets hurt.

Would everyone who reads this please say a prayer for April? I know this isn't on topic, but I just feel like now is the time to post this. It would be a BIG encouragement to me to see her back in church and living for the Lord. Thanks and God bless.

Dear Duane:

April will be in my prayers. For such a long time I was angry with God and couldn't really pray in a meaningful way. The only thing I could manage to say was: "I'm here God. Don't let go." Maybe this would help April, too.

I am in a totally different place now as I have Chronic Lymphocytic Leukemia, but I know that God is looking out for me in so many ways. I was told I had a lymphoma in my right lung. He provided the strength for me to finally agree to a modified chemotherapy treatment just before Thanksgiving and in January when I saw my oncologist, he told me that the lymphoma was almost completely gone. God cares for us and will always help us through our problems if we will let Him.

God bless you, Duane, for keeping us updated on your current journey. You give us all courage that things will eventually work out to God's Name and Glory.

Dear Barbara:
I have so enjoyed your posts, keeping us up to date on not only your recovery, but your walks in the snow to the lake. How beautiful it must be there at this time of year! It makes me want to come and stoll along with you, soaking up God's canvas of beauty as only He can paint for our enjoyment. I'll be looking forward to seeing some pictures if you can post them for us, perhaps on your web site when you return home. Just know we are praying for your complete recovery as you spend these few weeks in Norway and also know, you are loved and missed by us all!!

I have a good notion that Barb is experiencing a new honeymoon these days since we do not hear from her. And there is a lot more snow in that part of Norway than usual.

Barbara Kerr comes across as a very genuine person, and wrote a very stunning letter. Thank God she had the courage.

By their fruits shall ye know them.

Many of you are probably familiar with Barbara Kerr's website, seeing she's had 25K visitors at http://www.tasteofhealth.net/ I'm kind of new here, so still discovering. It would be nice if her and Linda could do daily online programs somehow. The internet is far more wide-reaching than TV. Her cooking program was one of mom's favorites. Now mom's thinking of transferring her very nice donation plans to taste-of-health.

I see one of Barbara's links says...

-i Everyone (again),

t has been two long weeks since I've been able to post and I've missed writing to you each day!

irst I want to say, 'thanks Laurence', and I agree with you that there are definitely ways to take advantage of the internet that I am not using. I NEED HELP WITH TECHNOLOGY!!

had to laugh at Johann's note about the honeymoon. It has been soooooooooo great to have Bill here for wo weeks. We have gone for several long walks since his arrival. Just yesterday he was calling me a slave driver, because I wouldn't let him take the shortcut back to the apartment. The vacation has been so good for im. He is a work-aholic-type-A kind of guy. He needed Norway as much as I did.

Jnfortunately, due to my treatments for parasites, candida, fungus, etcetera, . . . I was given strict nstructions not to even kiss my husband. Boo hoo for me! Two months is a long time to not see your spouse, . . especially when he's as cute as Bill!

All day I've been trying to keep myself busy so I won't think about being left behind. For hours I've been rying to swallow the lump in my throat, but it continues to keep me on the verge of tears. I was supposed to ly home today with Bill, but instead he left for home this morning without me.

was continuing to suffer, with what I had always self-diagnosed, as candida problems. My candida numbers vere getting close to zero, but my symptoms were still as bad as they ever were. Finally, this past Sunday we lecided to re-test and look for another possible culprit. I tested at a 30 (that's bad) for 'animal bourn parasites'. We changed the treatment and I just completed the third day. I'm already feeling relief and happy hat we are on the right track.

This does, however, mean that I will be here longer. Right now, I am planning on flying home on April 4th. I know God has a reason for extending my stay in this beautiful country, so I will continue to praise Him.

Tomorrow, I decided to go look at a sanitarium located 30 minutes from the clinic in Moss. I'm not really sure vhy I'm going to look at it, but I am. I don't even know if it's for sale. I just have been feeling a burden for cancer patients lately. A burden that just continues to grow with each passing day. It's sometimes tough vhen you want to save the entire world, but don't exactly know where to start.

God says that our footsteps are numbered and I believe that. Wintley Phipps says that our destiny is not what s inevitable, . . . but what is possible! I believe that too. Take initiative. That's what the pastor here preached about, and I can't get his message out of my mind. Please continue to keep me in your prayers everyone, . . . and write to me when you have time, I love your letters.

must go get ready for bed now. Pray for opened or closed doors with the sanitarium, and for wisdom.

God bless you all,
Barbara Kerr

Someone else told me of your dreams of a sanatorium. It seems impossible, and yet, who knows? With God nothing is impossible.

Wouldn't that be wonderful if all of this mess that is engulfing us would result in a new breakthrough in SDA health work?

With your enthusiasm, Barb, and all of your present and future supporters - what a possibility!!!

Do you really think I could learn to speak Norwegian??? ha

After 2 months I thought I would know more and I feel like I know practically nothing.

I suppose that comes with time and a good teacher.

Barb,

Who knows but that your "new middle name" may be "Joseph" oops, "Josephine", or even "Esther". God is already using your ministry. We will be $upporting your ministry a$ well.

It is about TIME! It's all about TIME. That's the only thing god gives to every man equally.

It's time for the truth about our health message to become known. Over 140 years before researchers found out, "we" were told that Cancer is caused by a VIRUS. But too many didn't and still don't read her messages, and so, don't know how to really live the good life. We knew where to turn for the best knowldge and we just "sat" on it, or even made fun of it.

Keep on keeping on, precious little lady.

You are definitely in our prayers ...

Hi there,

Today has been a good day. My 'field trip' to the sanitarium turned out to be quite surprising. The good doctor offered to drive me there so I could look around, while he ran errands around town.

The building is large and rather sprawling in nature. A lot of windows and white in color. It is currently being run by Adventists (that are physical therapists), and they use the facility as a rehabilitation center. It houses 70-80 patients and is always full, I'm told. It has a swimming pool, work-out room, nice cafeteria and kitchen, arts and crafts room, and much, much more. I was extremely impressed!

Walking through those doors this afternoon felt like being home. It was a strange sensation. The place isn't for sale, although, the people running it look to be about retirement age. What was so totally cool about it, was that touring that place was like walking through one of Ellen White's descriptions of what our sanatariums are supposed to be like.

The town of Moss is located on the ocean. It's about a fifteen minute walk to the water. The air is fresh, the water is pure, and well, . . . I'm sure the sun must shine in the summertime! ha

One thing is for sure. If God wants something to happen with that facility, He will have to shake a lot of things up. I will continue to pray for open and closed doors. Thank you in advance for joining me in praying about this.

Just think of how many years it would take to get approval in the USA for a cancer clinic, if ever. People are dying today, there has got to be another answer!

Well, the weather warmed up here just enough to start melting the snow and make everything quite sloppy. Bill made it home safely, but sounded rather stressed on the phone tonight. Boy was Norway good for him.

I hope you all had the most super, fantastic, wonderfully blessed day today. Isn't God good?

Hugs, Barbara Kerr

Barbara,
If I was a few years younger without any responsibilities I would ask you to have me on your list of people to help you run the hospital. I would be thrilled to help in anyway. I believe in alternative medicine also.
Maybe I could pray for you for now.

You make me feel homesick, Barbara, I know this place so well. Also the people serving there. The proprietor spent his childhood and youth in Iceland, later Denmark, and then Norway. Great people, medical doctors, physical therapists(of various nationalities), cooks, chaplain (who was my son's roommate in College), etc. I have been cuddled (and cured) there for several weeks.

At present they are not allowed to take cancer patients, I was told. But with God nothing is impossible.

Barbara:
After reading all of your posts on this thread, I just have to applaud you - going through so many health issues, and yet still keeping a smile in your heart.
Your walks sound so neat - so peaceful. Something about snow, too that invigorates and restores. It reminds me of forgiveness. Clean, pure, white, and it covers the ugliness.
I have become a little disheartened with what I have read on here regarding 3abn. It just sounds like there are so many "mountains" to overcome, so many things to conquer - how will this mess ever be cleaned up? Until a few weeks ago, I thought that the divorce, etc, was "ancient" history... well, maybe not ancient, but I must have had the hope that it was now time for healing... I have been an adventist all my life and it hurts me to the core, seeing that deceit, lies, bickering, arguing, etc. is so rampant in our church. sigh sorry I got off the subject. Your walks just made me want to escape for a little while from all the negativity. Its so hard to know what to believe, who to trust...
Thank you so much for your posts - I really enjoy reading them. I will be praying for your health and your cooking ministry.
My friend has one of your cookbooks, and every year at campmeeting, I BEG her to make some of the recipes. It would be nice if she would let me borrow it, but I suspect it is very dear to her! I will have to get one of my own!
Blessings!

HollyByGolly,

Welcome to BSDA! I understand what you are experiencing as you read through this sad information about 3abn and the sometimes unpleasant discussions that ensue. But please, don't get disheartened. Instead, take comfort that wrongs that have been carefully covered up and hidden are finally being exposed and handled as they should have been years ago.

While I was "bewildered" when I first began learning about the truth, I now praise the Lord that there are people willing to take the heat, the consequences, to bring things out into the open.

As you continue reading, pay close attention to the many scriptures and quotes from Ellen White about how we are charged to call sin by its right name or bear its guilt if we don't. And take heart for God is still on His throne, He is still in control and is willing to fill us with the Peace that passes all understanding!

PB

And then pay attention to all those who wink at or attempt to justify the sins of convicted embezzlers, gossip, slander, partiality and bias.... and pretend that talking to each other and publishing things to the world as on the www.save3abn.com web site is 'rebuking sin" and calling sin by it's right name, and that they are following biblical principles. Of course posters here can be answered here, or rebuked or reproved publically as they are posting here publically, but the people at 3ABN they are accusing of sin, and crimes aren't here.... They aren't being addressed, rebuked or reproved, they are just being exposed and talked about and condemned before others and to others...

PB, and others, flat out ignore the following which proves this is not being handled as it should be.

This is a selfish world at best. Many of those who profess the truth are not sanctified by it, and may not have a heart to make even a trifling variation in the prices of produce when dealing with a poor brother, sooner than they would with an able worldling. They do not love their neighbors as themselves. It would be more pleasing to God were there less selfishness and more disinterested benevolence. {2T 51.2}

As Sister has seen a selfish spirit manifest in deal, she has committed a greater sin by feeling and talking in regard to the matter as she has. She has erred in expecting too much. The tongue has been truly an unruly member, a world of iniquity, set on fire of hell, untamed and untamable. Sister F has had a spirit of retaliation, manifesting by her deportment that she was offended. This was all wrong. She has cherished bitter feelings, which are foreign to the spirit of Christ. Anger, resentment, and all kinds of unkind tempers are indulged by speaking against those with whom we are displeased, and by reciting the errors and failings and sins of neighbors. The lustful desires are gratified. {2T 51.3}

Sister , if you are grieved because your neighbors or friends are doing wrong to their own hurt, if they are overtaken in fault, follow the Bible rule. "Tell him his fault between thee and him alone." As you go to the one you suppose to be in error, see that you speak in a meek and lowly spirit; for the wrath of man worketh not the righteousness of God. The erring can be restored in no other way than in the spirit of meekness, gentleness, and tender love. Be careful in your manner. Avoid anything in look or gesture, word or tone, that savors of pride or self-sufficiency. Guard yourself against a word or look that would exalt yourself, or place your goodness and righteousness in contrast with their failings. Beware of the most distant approach to disdain, overbearing, or contempt. With care avoid every appearance of anger; and though you use plainness of speech, let there be no reproach, no railing accusation, no token of warmth but that of earnest love. Above all, let there be no shadow of hate or ill will, no bitterness or sourness of expression. Nothing but kindness and gentleness can flow from a heart of love. Yet all these precious fruits need not hinder you from speaking in the most serious, solemn manner, as though angels were directing their eyes upon you, and you were acting in reference to the coming judgment. Bear in mind that the success of reproof depends greatly upon the spirit in which it is given. Do not neglect earnest prayer that you may possess a lowly mind, and that angels of God may go before you to work upon the hearts you are trying to reach, and so soften them by heavenly impressions that your efforts may avail. If any good is accomplished, take no credit to yourself. God alone should be exalted. God alone has done it all. {2T 52.1}

You have excused yourself for speaking evil of your brother or sister or neighbor to others before going to him and taking the steps which God has absolutely commanded. You say: "Why, I did not speak to anyone until I was so burdened that I could not refrain." What burdened you? Was it not a plain neglect of your own duty, of a thus saith the Lord? You were under the guilt of sin because you did not go and tell the offender his fault between you and him alone. If you did not do this, if you disobeyed God, how could you be otherwise than burdened unless your heart was hardened while you were trampling the command of God underfoot, and in your heart hating your brother or neighbor? And what way have you found to unburden yourself? God reproves you for a sin of omission in not telling your brother his fault, and you excuse and comfort yourself by a sin of commission by telling your brother's faults to another person! Is this the right way to purchase ease--by committing sin? {2T 53.1}

All your efforts to save the erring may be unavailing. They may repay you evil for good. They may be enraged rather than convinced. What if they hear to no good purpose, and pursue the evil course they have begun? This will frequently occur. Sometimes the mildest and tenderest reproof will have no good effect. In that case the blessing you wanted another to receive by pursuing a course of righteousness, ceasing to do evil and learning to do well, will return into your own bosom.

If the erring persist in sin, treat them kindly, and leave them with your heavenly Father. You have delivered your soul; their sin no longer rests upon you; you are not now partaker of their sin. But if they perish, their blood is upon their own head. {2T 53.2}
