"Run, Brandy Shelton, Run!" with your little girls, as far as you can get away.

"Run, Brandy Shelton, Run!" with your little girls, as far as you can get away.

As old-timers here will remember..... we learned that while both girls had moved to T'ville with their mom sometime ca July of 2004, by early this summer, the older girl had been sent to live with her natural father. When I checked with an authoritative source at that time, asking if this was just temporary or was to be permanent, I was told that it was permanent. Now recently, I hear that both girls were seen with Danny and their mom so I'm wondering if anyone has any information as to whether that was just a visit that she was making, or if she has returned to live with Brandi and Danny now?

As to your comment..... I agree with your "advice". But more in the form of wondering just how long it would be before Brandy would "cut and run"? By now she must be past the stage of needing the warning message. The atmosphere she is currently living in can hardly be what she would have imagined it would be like when she moved to 3ABN.

Sorry Watchbird, Brandy does not look like anybody who is planning to leave 3ABN in a hurry. Unless she is a very good actor?

Don't know why you said "Sorry" I was not expressing anything that would connect "sorry" with what you have observed that she "looks like", I was just hmmm.... no, I think this is "nuff said".....

Does anyone else see this?

A troubled world-famous independent ministry ..
The leader of that ministry ...
A history of mis-management and abuse, (in many forms) ...
The eyes of the world upon them ..
MAJOR embarrassments arising ...
"Abused" former employees and volunteers speaking up ...
Church support falling off ...
Financial support falling off ...
"The fat lady" warming up her voice ...
...
...
... "taking off for a few weeks or months"
... (house hunting")
... (a place somewhere of reach of the courts? i.e. does GUAM ring a bell?)
...
and a jet waiting at the airport ..

(n n n n naw w w w they wouldn't run! would they?)

I agree with you Jvat.

Consider this situation: if Danny could fool Linda all those years, how easy it is to fool a new bride. I don't know about the rest of you, but when I first married, if someone had come to me and made all sorts of acquisitions against my husband, who am I going to believe and where am I going for answers to my questions? My husband of course. And if that husband is Danny Shelton? He will reassure her that it is all lies, an attack by the devil against them and their ministry and that by attacking God's anointed prophet they are in fact crucifying Christ afresh. Now who do you think she is going to believe folks? The man she loves or the people he has told her are baring false witness against both him and God? I believe this is what is called a "no brainer".

I am not of the belief that Brandy is innocent in this, and time will tell. That is all I have to say.

This sounds bad. Does he really think that all these things are "attacks" and call himself "God's anointed prophet." This is delusional thinking in my book. No money from my pocket will reach 3abn as long as I have anything to do with it Run Brandi, run.

To both of You:

You know I agree with you. I do not know how Brandy could have come all the way from Florida to Illinois, looking for a job, been employed by Danny and married him so fast without knowing what is and was going on. I bet that she has been reading BSDA and C/A all these years and knew fully well what she was walking into. She is no little girl. She has been through 2 previous marriages, (maybe they were very traumatizing to her) but I think that she knew Danny long ago---at least 5 years ago and she came to 3ABN for 'such a time as this'. Was she handpicked by Danny so quickly to be his new wife? If she can read, use the internet and think, she is no novice. She knows what is and has been going on.IMO

Think back to before Linda even knew there was a problem, Summertime.....there is more to this story that we don't know. Questions such as how long was she divorced, the second time, or was there any lag time at all. We know Danny was marrying Brandy before the ink could dry on the court papers, was there wet ink on Brandy's also?

She came to 3abn Sept. 2004 right and was baptized Oct 2004 at the Fall campmeeting. The way I had understood it from all the reading and Dr. Thompsons letter I thought she was an SDA before she came to 3abn. Does anyone know what kind of religious back ground she comes from .

I am in the midst of confirming what I have been told about Brandi's connection to Danny and 3abn. I have been told that she came to 3abn with her family to sing on 3abn when she was young. I have also been told of the places she has lived and that Danny has been to those places (before she came to 3abn). There is deep speculation that I don't want to be speculation, I want to find out the facts, and I know some who have facts on this. As I find out, I will confirm. There are things we may not be able to figure out. But in this case, I feel it's worth digging for - because if she is part of the reason Danny was getting rid of Linda (I did say "part"), this too is extremely important for people to know. Yes, she did come to 3abn officially in the early fall of '04 (Linda is ousted in June remember) and then is suddenly living in a house across from Danny, and she is working at 3abn. He does start to date her immediately. I'm sure many people around the compound were uncomfortable with this and had something new to negotiate in their minds....so, I will let you all know what I can find out. I don't want to hurt Brandi if she is innocent with regard to allowing herself to be used by Danny's pre-ideas of getting rid of Linda, it may be coincidence, it may not. What a mess, isn't it?

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Aug 14 2006, 06:47 PM

It's all a mess like a soap opera that we can name 'As The Stomach Turns.'

Thankyou Sunshineonme. It for sure makes a person .
