BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ 3abn Booted From Sky Angel

Posted by: Zephyr Apr 19 2006, 07:51 PM

Sky Angel on the diosh Network DBS system has booted 3ABN. Many of us here got this satellite service only because of 3ABN and the constant advertising by our friends.
Does anyone know why 3ABN was taken off SkyAngel?

Here is 3ABN's statement on this :

QUOTE(3ABN)

Sky Angel does not have a channel available for 3ABN at this time. Please join us in prayer that this problem is resolved soon and 3ABN channel may be restored to the package of TV channels.

Please don't call them or us until we make any further announcements. Thank you.

Posted by: princessdi Apr 19 2006, 09:48 PM

Ok so, my sister and I decided to go to the source - Sky Angel. there message is a lot less cryptic that the one on 3ABN.

QUOTE

Important alert from Sky Angel 4/19/06

Three of Sky Angel's channels are currently experiencing technical difficulties. The issue is being addressed in an effort to restore service on these channels as soon as possible. We apologize for the inconvenience and thank you for your understanding.

There is apparently a problem, and Sky Angel is a lot more diplomatic than 3ABN (we are already familiar with their issues where damage control is concerned). As the other poster said, there must be some problem if 3ABN is not calling for a massive phone call campaign.

Well, you know Steve, I heard about this a couple of days before I left for Europe. My Mom called me and I told her it was probably technical difficulties due to the towers and storm activity in Illinois over last week. From Sky Angel's statement I am inclined to still believe it is technical difficulties, because it says three of its channels are affected, not just 3ABN. However, there is a 3ABN message that is probably some doubt in my opinion.

As you said, time will tell.....

If the problem is due to technical difficulties what good would a phone call do? The fact that they ask that no one calls points to technical difficulties.

This is what I was thinking also, but why can 3ABN just say that? Sky Angel made it sound more like technical difficulties, 3ABN made it sound as if they had been defamed and replaced.

I did notice that two other channels were showing "off air" like DAD and 3ABN was not available in the channel lineup. Now it is back with an "off air" notice. Networks/channels are Eagle and Landmark. Maybe it really is technical. I agree 3ABN left the impression there was something else at play.

Posted by: beartrap Apr 20 2006, 05:10 PM

There are technical difficulties as Skyangel states, and there are likely to be difficulties as 3ABN implies. Those satellites generally have a life of 10 to 15 years and the 3ABN-3 is starting to die. Unless Echostar can revive the malfunction on the satellite, Skyangel probably has no space to put 3ABN into another channel without booting another network. Unlike most other networks, 3ABN was able to get into Skyangel without paying because they got some of the Skyangel systems. In the past few years 3ABN has sent very few Skyangel systems and they are on the proprietary AMC-4 system. Also, the Skyangel management have been criticized by the "Catholic bashing," and the "Sunday is the work of the beast" teachings. They have received many complaints from their other subscribers (Who constitute the majority of the households who subscribed through 3ABN are on lifetime subscription. Most of the others pay monthly, so if the 3ABN subscribers get mad and leave, it could have a significant financial impact on Skyangel.

In short, if they have to let one network go due to lack of space, the Skyangel has some financial and theological reasons to keep 3ABN.

On the other hand, If Skyangel permanently drops 3ABN, it will have the opportunity to seek carriage on Dishnetwork. If a network and Skyangel have a exclusive agreement that gives Skyangel first dibs on religious networks. Should they want a religious network, only then can Dishnetwork consider it.

Posted by: princessdi Apr 20 2006, 11:43 PM

Just a quick update. Someone I know who has Sky Angel says they are back on as of today.

Posted by: silsbee_bee Apr 21 2006, 05:12 AM

They are technically back on, but no signal is showing.

Posted by: Zephyr Apr 21 2006, 07:08 AM

As of 9:10 am today Fri Apr 21 3ABN is still "off air" due to "technical problems". Beartrap thanks for this summary. You surely know the business side of things. I wonder what would happen when 3ABN/SDA church can't deliver new subscriptions. I am a lifetime sub. When I signed up some 8 years ago as a lifetime sub...they did say they had a satellite (already operating for some years)...so you might have a point there..

PaperTigers, 3ABN does not have any such statement on their website. It is genuine I guess we will soon see something on the website.

But based on the above quote which I just took from the 3ABN website, it has been booted. Obviously it is a technical "issue" beyond a technical "difficulty." 3ABN is sapped! Period!! kicked...sacked...given the boot...fired out...

A poster, MikeCTM2, at www.satelliteguys.us has posted an important new option concerning the Hope Channel. Check out his post below:

<http://www.satelliteguys.us/showthread.php?p=571062#post11111>

The post mentions that:

A technician, Jeff, at the Hope Channel said that the dual LNBF (Low Noise Block Feedhorn) for the satellite dish that grabs the satellite signal is manufactured by the back of the dish. It is "in manufacture" and will be available soon.

The dual LNBF can pick up two signals: 11304 and 11315.

The MikeCTM2 post also says:

"We got the system at Hope Network because it was available with a built-in DVR that can record programs while we are at work. The built-in system is cheaper than a separate system for recording programs for later viewing."

QUOTE(calvin @ Apr 29 2006, 11:00 AM):

I really want Hope TV to be more available. Will this put Hope on a new network, or Direct TV? Just what does this mean?

This is FTA - Free to Air television. No subscription needed to any of the mentioned items you mentioned above to get the free channels.

This means that if you have your satellite dish pointed at AMC-4, you can pick up all of the "free to air stations" available on that satellite, plus a bunch more channels on the new satellite. Get the new satellite dish system from <http://www.satelliteguys.us>. You can record signals while you're away, as well.

However, up until now, many people were limited to having their satellite dish pointed to just one satellite, AMC-4.

As I understand it, a dual LNBF system allows you to get signals from two satellites at once. This is because IA-5 is at 97 degrees west longitude, and AMC4 is at 119 degrees west longitude, (relatively close to each other in the sky).

This means you can sit in your house and watch all of the FTA channels on the two satellites with the newer system from <http://www.satelliteguys.us>, without monkeying with your satellite dish located up on the roof.

This type of system will give <http://www.satelliteguys.us> more available channels for its FTA viewers, generally, who normally watch the free radio channels on IA-5. If you want to buy a system like this, they can also watch the channel from AMC-4.

I found a Web page that has more information, generally, about the problems, subject to change without notice (and other technical errors).

Focus on the listings for the two satellites mentioned: AMC 4 and Amesbury 5.

I think this is a really good option for viewers, since the Sky Angel (Orbcomm) satellite seems to be nearing the end of its useful life.

Did Danny and Brandy get the deal on Sky Angel for Trinity? I don't know. Sort of work? Sort of all. Looks like it from today's announcement. Perhaps, there is justice.

Without Linda Shelton, 3ABN seems to be losing its viewership. I don't know if Linda is the popular one. The deal was granted.

It reminds me of when Dan Blocker left Bonanza quickly but his popularity had escaped them and he might it would be a loss.

Oh well, 3ABN's loss is Trinity Broadcasting's gain. It would be a loss for Trinity Broadcasting were to hire Dan Blocker. Nobody believes in "one call"

On the other hand, a quick check of the current broadcast lineup (as of 5-26-06), still shows 3ABN at channel 9710. I don't know if the channel is still available or not. I don't know if the channel is still available or not. I don't know if the channel is still available or not.

nonetheless. The announcement of the new channel they get to wait for the "day shift" (ala June) to come on. I don't know if the channel is still available or not. I don't know if the channel is still available or not. I don't know if the channel is still available or not.

Let's see what becomes of this thing. I don't know if the channel is still available or not. I don't know if the channel is still available or not. I don't know if the channel is still available or not.

Did Danny and Brandy get the deal? I don't know if the channel is still available or not. I don't know if the channel is still available or not. I don't know if the channel is still available or not.

looks like it from today's announcements, there is just no way to tell. I don't know if the channel is still available or not. I don't know if the channel is still available or not. I don't know if the channel is still available or not.

Without Linda Shelton, 3ABN seems to have lost its viewership. The channel is still available, but it's not the same. I don't know if the channel is still available or not. I don't know if the channel is still available or not. I don't know if the channel is still available or not.

3ABN suspected that Linda Shelton was the popular one. I don't know if the channel is still available or not. I don't know if the channel is still available or not. I don't know if the channel is still available or not.

It reminds me of when Dan Blocker and Donna quickly broke popularity had escaped them and it would be business as usual.

Oh well, 3ABN's loss is Trinity Broadcasting's gain. It would be a deal if Trinity Broadcasting were to hire Linda Slayton. I believe that deal is nonsense anyway.

3ABN if Trinity
"nonsense

Best of luck to the Crouch family.

I went to sky angels site, did a search for "3ABN" and found the first one, read the letter "expiring" and they are possibly following God's will for things that had 3abn in the search results...

...AND in the search box...things, took...right, and they...were 4 other...I have not read them...

True, they are most likely following God's will for them.

I found the spot on the Sky Angel's website:

"Unfortunately, despite our best efforts, we are unable to negotiate with 3ABN and are now prohibited from reinstating their programming on Eagle Broadcasting and SPIRIT."

...hat caused them to be removed from the air...and are now prohibited from reinstating their programming on Eagle Broadcasting and SPIRIT."

It appears a door may have been closed that we can open.

I'm constantly reminded that with the Lord's help, His will always prevails. As we grow, it is my prayer that Sky Angel will be able to support various other ministries and share the life-changing message of the Gospel.

Your subscription is still valid and you can continue to watch 3ABN, the only way to continue watching 3ABN, the only way to continue watching 3ABN is to purchase a Sky Angel system that is sold for $199.00. Cable & Dish Network Notice

NOTICE TO VIEWERS THAT WE WILL BE BROADCASTING 3ABN IN THE 15 C BAND FOR DISH NETWORK, ONLY

3ABN has been broadcasting for years covering the country with our Thaicom-3 satellite. Additionally, last year we made an agreement with Dish Network to carry our channel on their system to all of their systems. Unfortunately, the Government of India mandated that all broadcasters must have a license to broadcast any material in India. We have applied for this license but have not been able to secure the license yet. The Government of India is in the process of fulfilling the requirements and then we will have a date as to when we will be able to resume our broadcasting to our viewers in India, which is beyond our control. We are praying and asking for your prayers that we can resume our broadcasting to our viewers in India.

This Indian Government imposed a ban on receiving satellite dish and receive 3ABN through a satellite receiver to the 3ABN channel. This is a violation of the meter C Band regulations. We are praying and asking for your prayers that we can resume our broadcasting to our viewers in India.
