BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ Clairfy

Posted by: Observer May 18 2007, 11:05 AM

I note that all of the 3-ABN topics have been closed.

Could (Would) you share with us why?

Thank you,

We are all going to take a break from this thread for awhile until I can get some feedback from the staff decide what is the best course of action regarding this subject.

so they are closed because we are taking a break from the forum... I closed all those threads that Calvin did not close.

So what happened to reverse the decision that was made to continue the discussions?

Posted by: simplysaved May 18 2007, 11:05 AM

Apparently, management felt the need to close them...While I'm not management, I can tell you that you can PM Calvin if you have any questions.

I agree that a breather was not our goal. Some thought we were going to do it in we did.

The practices of 3ABN merit discussion in the church. But when you make allegations that borders on slander. I have stepped back myself and the management of the church to take a break from this topic for a short course of action to take concerning the church. They are such a positive part of the Adventist church and Darryl Shelton of murder, drug use, etc. I have a problem with that and don't want to put myself in the middle of this controversy. I am going to leave the management of the church to those who are the best at it.

Once again, I ask does BSDA have any disclaimers in place? I am not simply not liking the flow of the convo? I am not what people SHOULD be saying. This is another issue. I understand that each site has its own issues and an authority over what you do. But, the issue is that there must be some guidelines that are set up that are bound to come up again and again. Good luck. But, it must be decided.

Never said that there was any doubt as to who makes the final decision as to what is and isn't said. The question was do you have the right to do it in or in place of the site/admin. from any slanderous acts.

And as to who or who did not file a report, well there are many people who read and continued to read them says so. I don't know what people who read them thought.

My concern is not the topic, but the fact that you are going to do it.

Well, then Danny won't make news as a "great" in the eyes of his admirers, though he's probably "great" in his own eyes.

Otoh, it will probably make news as a contribution to the endtime.

In the meantime, this board serves as a ministry of the endtime, with Danny as the minister. It is not God's ministry of the endtime, with Danny as the minister.
