Counselor Simpson:

Enclosed and served upon you is a CD containing copies of the documents and things received in response to our subpoenas. A large share of these documents arrived after we originally spoke on June 6, 2008.

The one item not included in this production is a video of a piano concert by Tommy Shelton, an item I cannot presently duplicate due to technological limitations. We will see how quickly we can remedy that.

Regarding your first letter of June 18, 2008, I note that you claimed that these documents had to be served upon you because of your Requests Nos. 1 and 2, which “sought all documents” “related to the subject matter of the instant dispute” and “referring or relating to the allegations in the complaint or in the Answer.” Your request for these documents therefore constitutes your acknowledgment that the contents of these documents is relevant to this case, being relevant either to the allegations in the complaint or the answer.

Sincerely,

Bob Pickle, pro se
