Counselors Simpson and Duffy:

I note in plaintiffs' response to our motion filed on Monday the following sentence:

... Plaintiffs simply want this litigation to end. However, they reserve all rights under the Protective Order and their right to enforce this Court's order that the records be returned if Pickle and Joy publish information under the Protective Order.

Have the plaintiffs abandoned their attempted confidentiality designation of material that does not fit the qualifications of the confidentiality order, such as, inter alia, IRS Form 990's, IL Form AG990-IL's, OR Form CT-12, 3ABN's financial statements and bylaws, flight information, material not designated confidential before the case was dismissed, material we also obtained from collateral sources, and material pertaining to the child molestation allegations against Tommy Shelton?
