> You are so right, we must face the challenges that are before us, regardless of the consequence, and I failed in May of 2004. I travelled from Norway to Thompsonville for one purpose, to tell the board of 3ABN what experiences I had had, and how I personally had experienced Mr. Danny Shelton's falsehood in what he said about Linda. But I failed because I feared Mr. Danny Shelton. I saw a demon in his eyes when I met him while he used his standard treatment of people. He threatened to have me arrested by police for trespassing private property, even though I had received a written invitation to attend Camp Meeting, and 3ABN had used my picture on the screen for weeks to advertice those meetings. There had come people to those Camp Meetings especially because they wanted to see me there. They went to Danny asking him where I was. He merely told them I had disappeared.
>
> Yes, I disappeared because of Danny's threats. He sent Private Investigators trailing me. I don't know what they told him, but he was soon circulating false reports of what the people I was together with were doing.
>
> I was scared because he seemed like a monster to me. This is where I failed, just like Peter and the Apostles did when they were scared. I fled. I was afraid that Danny would really put me in prison.
>
> Now I know I should not have feared Danny. I should have demanded to stay and bring the TRUTH to the board of 3ABN, even if he had put me in prison for it.
>
> I pray for greater determination never to run away again. To speak the TRUTH always, regardless of how much I am ridiculed for it on BSDA or elsewhere. Regardless of threats, even if Danny keeps calling me an idiot or uses any other of his favoritte terms for me in his writings. (I could post many of the e-mails he has sent me, but save him from the embarrassment.)
>
> Your letter caused me to spend a night in meditation and prayer. Towards morning I was given peace as I saw where I had failed. Now God is giving the strength and stamina to keep on being a better witness, and he has provided a countless number of assistants world-wide to make this possible. Your letter was a tremendous challenge. I had to wake up and thank you for the stimulus.
>
> HAPPY NEW YEAR TO ALL!
> Jona
>
> Johann Thorvaldsson
> Iceland

Jonann what a sweet testimony! It would have been nice to have the 3 ABN board on their knees the night before your arrival as you were last night, but a fearless leader such as you encountered that day can only lead those subject under him to where he/she has been. So without power of his own, he had to reach out to the state to supply the POWER he was lacking. I rather have your kind of power, as full payment doesn't come in this life.
My 103 year old mother that emptyed her bank account each month for years to 3ABN has all the nurses saying her words. "I don't know, but I've been told; the streets of heaven are paved with gold."

Posted by: inga Dec 31 2006, 12:22 PM

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Dec 30 2006, 10:43 PM)
>
> Naw, you are missing one point. Apaprently there was at least one or two meetings without her knowledge, or else she would not be in the situation she finds herself today. Also, your ID is "fallible" not "gullible" human being. I am sure Linda is not the first wife place in a high position, in name only, to keep the power(shares, money, etc.) in the family.

You said it, PrincessDi!

Right on!

It has become perfectly evident that Linda had little, if any power, on the board. Otherwise she could not have been so easily cast out and slandered.

I wonder, was she the only woman on the board at the time? If not, what was the matter with the other woman/women on the board that they did not see through the whole fabrication?

Posted by: Observer Dec 31 2006, 12:41 PM

> QUOTE(inga @ Dec 31 2006, 11:22 AM)
>
> You said it, PrincessDi!
>
> Right on!
>
> It has become perfectly evident that Linda had little, if any power, on the board. Otherwise she could not have been so easily cast out and slandered.
>
> I wonder, was she the only woman on the board at the time? If not, what was the matter with the other woman/women on the board that they did not see through the whole fabrication?

Inga:

Your point is well taken. Proof of Linda's lack of power lies in her failure to recieve "due process" in how she was fired, and the way she was treated afterwords.

On a personal basis, and I say this advisedly, in my interaction with Linda, I have come to believe that Linda was nieve. She beleived to much in the goodness of others, and trusted them beyond what was approprite.

Linda has had a rude awakening to life.

I hesitate to present Linda in that light. But, that is where I go in my searach for truth.

Posted by: Aletheia Dec 31 2006, 12:49 PM

Well I am in agreement with FHB.

There is no way one side is totally innocent here, or that she is not knowledgable and equally accountable for what happened at 3ABN, and is happenin' at 3ABN, if what people are saying here is even true. Where is her voice right now?

And I'd like to know if Linda was so cowed and intimidated, how she suddenly got the courage to stand up to the whole 3ABN board because of this non-important Doctor, and get herself fired, when all this alleged abuse and deception and sin allegedly going on against others could never get a peep out of her mouth? And going by what her defenders here say, still doesn't.

And If she's so scared of Danny, that she agreed to a divorce which she got shafted on and cheated out of what was rightfully hers, then how did she morph into this woman who is suddenly able to sue danny Shelton in a civil court of Law in Illinois?

It doesn't compute.

Posted by: Grace Dec 31 2006, 12:55 PM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Dec 31 2006, 05:31 PM) ☐
>
> Thank you for this. I spent most of the night in meditation and prayer, and towards morning I found peace and understanding. I was wrong in what I wrote.
>
> It was completely wrong of me to be defending Linda. She is responsible for herself. My trouble is that I was defending myself and my actions, or at least trying to find a solace, and I was wrong.
>
> You are so right, we must face the challenges that are before us, regardless of the consequence, and I failed in May of 2004. I travelled from Norway to Thompsonville for one purpose, to tell the board of 3ABN what experiences I had had, and how I personally had experienced Mr. Danny Shelton's falsehood in what he said about Linda. But I failed because I feared Mr. Danny Shelton. I saw a demon in his eyes when I met him while he used his standard treatment of people. He threatened to have me arrested by police for trespassing private property, even though I had received a written invitation to attend Camp Meeting, and 3ABN had used my picture on the screen for weeks to advertice those meetings. There had come people to those Camp Meetings especially because they wanted to see me there. They went to Danny asking him where I was. He merely told them I had disappeared.
>
> Yes, I disappeared because of Danny's threats. He sent Private Investigators trailing me. I don't know what they told him, but he was soon circulating false reports of what the people I was together with were doing.
>
> I was scared because he seemed like a monster to me. This is where I failed, just like Peter and the Apostles did when they were scared. I fled. I was afraid that Danny would really put me in prison.
>
> Now I know I should not have feared Danny. I should have demanded to stay and bring the TRUTH to the board of 3ABN, even if he had put me in prison for it.
>
> I pray for greater determination never to run away again. To speak the TRUTH always, regardless of how much I am ridiculed for it on BSDA or elsewhere. Regardless of threats, even if Danny keeps calling me an idiot or uses any other of his favoritte terms for me in his writings. (I could post many > of the e-mails he has sent me, but save him from the embarrassment.)

>
> Your letter caused me to spend a night in meditation and prayer. Towards morning I was given peace as I saw where I had failed. Now God is giving the strength and stamina to keep on being a better witness, and he has provided a countless number of assistants world-wide to make this possible. Your letter was a tremendous challenge. I had to wake up and thank you for the stimulus.
>
> HAPPY NEW YEAR TO ALL!
>
> Johann Thorvaldsson
> Iceland

☒ PTL.gif Thank you for your testimony, Johann. May we always defend the truth no matter the cost. We can do all things through Christ who strengthens us!

HAPPY NEW YEAR TO ALL!!!

Posted by: awesumtenor Dec 31 2006, 01:02 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Dec 31 2006, 01:49 PM)
>
> Well I am in agreement with FHB.

Can we file this revelation under 'reiterating the obvious'?

> QUOTE
>
> There is no way one side is totally innocent here, or that she is not knowledgable and equally accountable for what happened at 3ABN, and is happenin' at 3ABN, if what people are saying here is even true. Where is her voice right now?
>
> And I'd like to know if Linda was so cowed and intimidated, how she suddenly got the courage to stand up to the whole 3ABN board because of this non-important Doctor, and get herself fired, when all this alleged abuse and deception and sin allegedly going on against others could never get a peep out of her mouth? And by what here defenders here say still doesn't.
>
> And If she's so scared of Danny, that she agreed to a divorce which she got shafted on and cheated out of what was rightfully hers, then how did she morph into this woman who is suddenly able to sue danny Shelton in a civil court of Law in Illinois?
>
> It doesn't compute.

Neither you nor he has addressed the short list of discrepancies I noted in my reply to FHB... ever... and I merely summed up what has been public knowledge for years now.

Tell us how Danny's crocodile tears allegedly over wanting to save his marriage and his claiming to not want a divorce computes with his filing for a quickie divorce in Guam.

Then again forget it... we all know you have no answer. And neither does Danny.

I'd bet you believed Saddam Hussein had WMD... and that Oswald was operating alone.. and that Judas was simply misunderstood.

Wanna buy a bridge in Brooklyn?

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: Aletheia Dec 31 2006, 01:06 PM

not suprised...

Nor do I know what list of questions, or discrepensies, you are referring to...

You asked:"Tell us how Danny's crocodile tears allegedly over wanting to save his marriage and his claiming to not want a divorce computes with his filing for a quickie divorce in Guam."

I suggest if you can answer that same question about Linda, you'll know.

It takes 2 to get a quickie "uncontested" divorce in Guam...

Posted by: Clay Dec 31 2006, 01:14 PM

> QUOTE(fallible humanbeing @ Dec 30 2006, 11:54 PM)
>
> Clay,
>
> Please detail this for us. Give us chapter and verse, make known the clarifying facts you have that will give all of those wondering about the fairness, equity, or lack thereof in regards to the divorce the information that makes it unmistakeably clear what you base your decision on....... snip.....

FHB..... there is nothing more I have to say to you regarding this issue.... my opinion.... you have issues... now I will gladly discuss something else, the weather, current events, cars, etc... but this one.... nothing more with you.... have a good day....

Posted by: Lee Dec 31 2006, 01:51 PM

FHB--sounds like you are the winner on this one! than

Posted by: Observer Dec 31 2006, 01:52 PM

Re: " . . . how [did] she [Linda] suddenly got the courage to stand up to the whole 3ABN board . . .

It doesn't compute."

I understand.

Surely you can understand that the answer to your question is a private matter. You do not need to know those details.

EVen nieve people can undergo growth in their lives. That growth is ofen painful. But, it can happen. Linda has had very painful growth. Some of us have watched her grow. But, that does not mean that we have to share the details with every person who wants to know them.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Dec 31 2006, 02:20 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Dec 31 2006, 11:49 AM) ☐
>
> SNIP...
>
> And If she's so scared of Danny, that she agreed to a divorce which she got shafted on and cheated out of what was rightfully hers, then how did she morph into this woman who is suddenly able to sue danny Shelton in a civil court of Law in Illinois?
>
> It doesn't compute.

Can someone help me out here? What civil court of Law in Illinois suit are you speaking of here?

Posted by: Aletheia Dec 31 2006, 03:36 PM

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Dec 31 2006, 03:20 PM) ☐
>
> Can someone help me out here? What civil court of Law in Illinois suit are you speaking of here?

This civil case was filed 02/05, 8 months after the uncontested divorce was finalized in Guam.

http://www.judici.com/courts/cases/case_information.jsp?court=IL028015J&ocl=IL028015J,2005D30,IL028015JL2005D30P1

Posted by: Aletheia Dec 31 2006, 03:51 PM

> QUOTE(Observer @ Dec 31 2006, 02:52 PM) ☐
>
> Re: " . . . how [did] she [Linda] suddenly got the courage to stand up to the whole 3ABN board . . . It doesn't compute."
>
> I understand.

> Surely you can understand that the answer to your question is a private matter. You do not need to know those details.
>
> EVen nieve people can undergo growth in their lives. That growth is ofen painful. But, it can happen. Linda has had very painful growth. Some of us have watched her grow. But, that does not mean that we have to share the details with every person who wants to know them.

Nice editing...

Does anyone need to know, or can you share whether she's going about her business as if nothing ever happened, or if she is trying to right the "alleged" wrongs she had part in while vice-president and co-founder of 3ABN, many of which you all claim are still going on?

As I asked, where is HER voice?

Posted by: Clay Dec 31 2006, 04:41 PM

> QUOTE(Lee @ Dec 31 2006, 01:51 PM) ☐
>
> FHB--sounds like you are the winner on this one! ☒ than

Lee, whateva..... and let's not push it.... ☐

Posted by: Panama_Pete Dec 31 2006, 05:30 PM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Dec 31 2006, 10:31 AM) ☐
>
> But I failed because I feared Mr. Danny Shelton.

Johann, recognize it for the trap that it was. If the private investigators followed you to Springfield, they were already waiting for you with cameras in hand. You had told people, in advance, that you would be attending.

Remember John Huss:

"The Council of Constance was convened in 1414, and he was summoned before it, to answer to the charges brought against him, having been promised the safe conduct, or passport of the Emperor Sigismond. But the Emperor proved false to his word, and the council was determined to condemn him."

John Huss had been condemned long before he arrived at Constance. And the same is true for you and Dr. Abrahamsen.

Johann, you were simply visiting Satan's Playground, and did not know it. You were ambushed by surprise, but that is not the same as fear.

Posted by: Lee Dec 31 2006, 05:31 PM

Sorry Clay--I just couldn't help myself. I love the emoticons here and wanted to use a silly one....many apologies!! oo

---

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Dec 31 2006, 06:43 PM

I just wish they had sound. That would be really cool!

> QUOTE(Lee @ Dec 31 2006, 06:31 PM)
>
> Sorry Clay--I just couldn't help myself. I love the emoticons here and wanted to use a silly one....many apologies!! oo

---

Posted by: Aletheia Dec 31 2006, 07:00 PM

> QUOTE
>
> Johann:
> But I failed because I feared Mr. Danny Shelton.

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Dec 31 2006, 06:30 PM)
>
> Johann, recognize it for the trap that it was. If the private investigators followed you to Springfield, they were already waiting for you with cameras in hand. You had told people, in advance, that you would be attending.

I was just talking to someone earlier who said some kinda physical ruckus taking place at the campmeeting in may May 2004, so I went to look up what I could find, and just got done reading he said, he said, and he said about this. Interestingly enough they all go together in a weird kinda disjointed manner...

Johann do you disagree about anything in the other two accounts, like in did you really grab Walt's shirt and start shaking him? Sorry I do know you've written more, but I'm still searching for all your updates and additions to what happened that weekend...

Date a few weeks after the May 2004 Campmeeting
THE STORY OF LINDA SHELTON
By Johann Thorvaldsson

Former 3ABN liaison for Europe

It is a fact that Linda Shelton has been fired - and Danny Shelton has told his version of events to the World audience. He warned us not to listen to rumors, so what are the facts of this heart- breaking experience? Unfortunately Linda Shelton has been judged and dismissed from the establishment she loved and helped build up - on the basis of rumors. Facts that have been twisted, embroidered and presented as real. This is quite a complicated matter. A few weeks ago I was in Southern Illinois, wanting to attend the camp meeting at 3ABN, together with a Norwegian medical doctor - the one Linda has been accused of committing spiritual adultery with. We went there in an attempt to clear up misunderstandings, all caused because my wife and I introduced this doctor to Danny and Linda Shelton. This doctor is also the head elder of the most flourishing conservative SDA church in Norway - and has for several years been a financial supporter of 3ABN. Some of the problems were caused because the 3ABN archives had misspelled the name of this supporter, so Danny was convinced he was an impostor. Later Danny has named him a devil, a demon, or evil spirit, or bad counselor - like he did during the transmission to the whole world on Thursday evening at Camp Meeting. Also during that meeting we were requested to leave the premises of 3ABN, and if we ever showed up again at the meetings the police would be requested to remove us as trespassing private property - and this at meetings where all are invited.

From: "Walt Thompson" <walttmd@....com>
To: [Removed by GM.]
Subject: Re: 3abn
Date: [Removed by GM.]
Dear [Removed by GM.], GM = Gregory Matthews who says he posts here as "Observer"
At camp meeting time (the end of May), we also had a board meeting. On Friday night of camp meeting, the doctor and Johann (our European representative before this all developed) came and sat in the back row. Danny was very uncomfortable with them there, fearful they would make a scene on international television. He asked us to ask them to leave. They refused. They walked out just as the meeting was ending. I and some other people went out after them. When we got outside, Johann grabbed me by the shirt and started to shake me in anger. When other bigger people came to my support, he calmed down, and we all talked together for a half hour or so - I am not sure of the total time. In the meantime, Mark Finley spoke with the doctor. I joined them for a few minutes. While I was with Mark and the doctor, something was said that upset Johann, and he and the doctor left, angry and fast, spinning dirt as they left. Because they had begun to hand out papers of a proposed article they were planning to submit to the local newspaper discrediting 3ABN, we warned them not to come back.

The next day, Sabbath, we got hold of Johann by phone and he agreed to meet with us at a park and talk things out. The doctor was also invited, but he said he had said all he had to say the night before, and refused to come. We spent an hour or two with Johann, going over all of the events until then. Finally, I took him to the hotel where they were staying. We sat in the car and talked for some time. At that time he confessed to me that maybe he was wrong in supporting Linda. We had prayer and parted. The three of them left and returned to Springfield shortly after that.

Linda did not come to the board meeting on Sunday morning. She sent a letter instead. The board considered her letter carefully in light of all that had gone on, and unanimously agreed that she could no longer serve the ministry under these conditions, nor continue to serve on the board. (We have since been accused of refusing to let the doctor and Johann represent her at the board. No such request was ever made, either by voice or by pen.)

June 20, 200 First Letter from Dr Arild Abrahamsen

Rumors of Linda's so-called "affair" were flying throughout the churches and the General Conference in May of 2004, rumors which were begun by her husband. It was communicated to me that Linda was going to be fired at the Board meeting, which would occur in May, following the 3ABN camp meeting. Johann and I decided to go to the camp meeting and talk to the Board members and tell them the truth about the situation. When we walked into the 3ABN building we were surrounded by about 10 people. One person stood directly behind me for the entire service. Walt Thompson and Nick Miller (3ABN's attorney) asked us to leave. We stayed until nearly the end of the service. (At this camp meeting an announcement was made regarding Linda. There were tearful appeals by Danny, which raised a record-breaking amount of money for 3ABN. Danny also claims that an additional two million dollars was raised the year of their divorce.) When Johann and I went to the door, once again we were followed by a small crowd of people. I spoke to Mark Finley about the situation at length in the parking lot. John Lomacang tried to stop the conversation. He said 'It is not good for you to talk to him alone.' What was he afraid of? He was standing with me when Danny drove up and said that if I returned to camp meeting I would be arrested and thrown in jail. He had already talked to the Sheriff. I decided to not return, as it was Mark Finley's suggestion to avoid the possibility of disrupting the camp meeting for all of the people attending. Linda was staying in her daughter's apartment in Springfield, so we drove there on Saturday to stay in a hotel for the weekend. During this weekend we were followed by three private investigators all the time. What kind of actions was that, for a man that REALLY wanted to save his marriage?

Aletheia

Posted by: Clay Dec 31 2006, 07:47 PM

> QUOTE(Lee @ Dec 31 2006, 05:31 PM)
>
> Sorry Clay--I just couldn't help myself. I love the emoticons here and wanted to use a silly one....many apologies!!

not a problem Lee.... we're cool....

Posted by: princessdi Dec 31 2006, 08:18 PM

"My people are destryed for a lack of knowledge"(and I am adding common sense)..................

Well I am in agreement with FHB.

There is no way one side is totally innocent here, or that she is not knowledgable and equally accountable for what happened at 3ABN, and is happenin' at 3ABN, if what people are saying here is even true. Where is her voice right now?

So you didn't read the agreement she signed not to talk about any of this situation?
And I'd like to know if Linda was so cowed and intimidated, how she suddenly got the courage to stand up to the whole 3ABN board because of this non-important Doctor, and get herself fired, when all this alleged abuse and deception and sin allegedly going on against others could never get a peep out of her mouth? And going by what her defenders here say, still doesn't.

Here is where the alck of common sense comes in.............Did it not ever occur to you that the events of the board meeting with Linda have been one sided. She hasn't said a word, she can't. it is Danny Thompson, Lomacang, etc. who are relating that Linda "refused" to them to give up an adulterous relationship, therefore they had no choice than the action they took. All Linda can and has answered is that she was never unfaithful in her marriage. You dont' know her version of what happened in those board and "counselling" session. Now you and FHB talking about things being one sided. You both are skeptical based on "one sided" information. Danny told you she was guilty of "spiritual" adultery!! Linda has yet to say a word. Come on people!!!

And If she's so scared of Danny, that she agreed to a divorce which she got shafted on and cheated out of what was rightfully hers, then how did she morph into this woman who is suddenly able to sue danny Shelton in a civil court of Law in Illinois?

...never mind, it's useless......It is evident you have been living in a world what ths sky is some other color than blue. I am not trying to be mean, but it is as if you are really discounting or failed to comprehend. everything you have read here.
It doesn't compute!

> QUOTE
>
> not suprised...
>
> Nor do I know what list of questions, or discrepensies, you are referring to...
>
> You asked:"Tell us how Danny's crocodile tears allegedly over wanting to save his marriage and his claiming to not want a divorce computes with his filing for a quickie divorce in Guam."
>
> I suggest if you can answer that same question about Linda, you'll know.
>
> It takes 2 to get a quickie "uncontested" divorce in Guam...

I think Linda's subsequesntly filing to contest this divorce says something. I also think that fact that Danny marry Brandy in a "quickie" marriage on the 3ABN set within the next day or two after the judgement, and the ink was still wet, says something also. Once again. It is not trying to proclaim Linda innocent, but looking at Danny most public actions during this unfortunate situation.

Posted by: Green Cochoa Dec 31 2006, 09:14 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Dec 31 2006, 12:49 PM)
>
> Well I am in agreement with FHB.
>
> There is no way one side is totally innocent here, or that she is not knowledgable and equally accountable for what happened at 3ABN, and is happenin' at 3ABN, if what people are saying here is even true. Where is her voice right now?
>
> And I'd like to know if Linda was so cowed and intimidated, how she suddenly got the courage to stand up to the whole 3ABN board because of this non-important Doctor, and get herself fired, when all this alleged abuse and deception and sin allegedly going on against others could never get a peep out of her mouth? And going by what her defenders here say, still doesn't.
>
> And If she's so scared of Danny, that she agreed to a divorce which she got shafted on and cheated out of what was rightfully hers, then how did she morph into this woman who is suddenly able to sue danny Shelton in a civil court of Law in Illinois?

> It doesn't compute.

It doesn't compute because you've left out one BIG piece to this equation. That part of the equation has several elements: surprise, shock, and denial, but most of all, belief in 3ABN as God's ministry.

The following is completely from my understanding, having pieced details together, some of which comes, however, more directly from Linda (but she might differ with this analysis), and some has been gleaned from phone conversations and emails with others at 3ABN, including Danny and Thompson. I do not, however, speak for Linda. Just so that's clear.

It is my understanding that Linda was surprised at the turn of the tide which led to her divorce. It might be said that any marriage will crumble slowly and have warning signs near the end that the end is near, but Linda appears to have either ignored them or missed them altogether. When it came down to, in her mind, a choice between supporting her husband or supporting her son, she was shocked that she would even be faced with such a choice. She felt obligated, before God, to help her son, but also responsible to her husband. As a result, and because this predicament had come so quickly to her that she didn't really have time to think and to plan a better course, she tried to continue helping her son while pacifying Danny--even if that meant doing some things discretely to prevent offending him. What she didn't realize was that Danny already had the bee in his bonnet to divorce her, and therefore would find any excuse, and actively search for such, to justify it. She was, as has been mentioned, a trusting type. Danny betrayed that trust and abused her loyalty.

When divorce was inevitable, and she really felt that her son needed her and gave him first priority, she wanted to settle things in a matter which would not cast such a shadow upon the ministry she helped to found. She was royally mistreated, but she did not wish to damage God's cause by raising her voice against His ministry. Her trust in God, and that He was working through the ministry of 3ABN, was so strong, that she was willing to let the abuse go unanswered, rather than to mount a divisive legal defense. This was admirable, albeit ignorant. I don't think she, even then, was able to see Danny's true colors, nor did she foresee what lay ahead.

Was Linda innocent of the charges of adultery? Certainly. It doesn't take a rocket scientist to realize that Danny was hungry for a new marriage partner: 1) He would not need to prove anything against Linda if he simply wanted to divorce, only if he wanted to remarry; 2) He bugged her home, had private investigators chase her everywhere, illegally collected evidence to be used against her; 3) He made only a pretense of marriage counselling (for the public eye), and did not truly desire reconciliation; 4) He could only be satisfied with completing the divorce as soon as possible, going all the way to Guam to secure it; and 5) He told many people about all of Linda's "evils" in an attempt to make himself appear justified in these actions.

Now, put two and two together. If Danny was so interested in making the switch, and apparently would stop at nothing to clear himself for it, there can be no doubt but that absolutely no evidence exists that would show Linda guilty. If such did exist, Danny would have made capital of the matter long before this. This is why Danny has trumped up this false charge of "spiritual adultery." Such is not, nor ever has been, grounds for divorce. And, as has been pointed out already, such is not provable.

Whether or not Linda fights back is irrelevant with respect to her guilt or innocence. She, like anyone, can choose whether or not to fight. Consider this, for a moment: If you were emotionally drained from having just lost your husband, your career, your ministry, your future, and all of your friends (because Danny forbade anyone from speaking again with her), would you have the energy to put up a fight? I'm sure some of you would have been angered to the point of action, but that was not her personality. She was very discouraged. It was a very trying time. Above all, she was concerned for God's honor, and she did not want to injure His cause needlessly. I think she signed the "silence agreement" because she felt it was in the best interest of the ministry anyway. She knew, at that point, that those who put the document in her hands did not have her best interest in mind. But she looked beyond that, to something not even they were seeing.

Posted by: Aletheia Dec 31 2006, 09:26 PM

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Dec 31 2006, 09:18 PM) ☐
>
> "My people are destryed for a lack of knowledge"(and I am adding common sense)..................

Wow! You have the makings of a true Internet Psychiatrist. I just gained a new self appointed internet psychiatrist this morning, and in only her second session with me she was able to diagnose me as having a learning disability, and give me her prognosis. One can never have enough Internet psychatrists, or diagnosis, I always say...

> QUOTE
>
> Aletheia:Where is her voice right now?
> Princess Di :So you didn't read the agreement she signed not to talk about any of this situation?

I read it. Here it is: http://www.lindashelton.org/contract.html It was my understanding it was only good during the 24 mos that Linda was recieving payments. That ended this month.

But what do I know, I am not a lawyer ☒ cut

I would like to know for sure...

IS THERE A LAWYER IN THE HOUSE?!?

~ Aletheia

> QUOTE(Green Cochoa @ Dec 31 2006, 10:14 PM) ☐
>
> It doesn't compute because you've left out one BIG piece to this equation. That part of the equation has several elements: surprise, shock, and denial, but most of all, belief in 3ABN as God's ministry.
>
> The following is completely from my understanding, having pieced details together, some of which comes, however, more directly from Linda (but she might differ with this analysis), and some has been gleaned from phone conversations and emails with others at 3ABN, including Danny and Thompson. I do not, however, speak for Linda. Just so that's clear.

> It is my understanding that Linda was surprised at the turn of the tide which led to her divorce. It might be said that any marriage will crumble slowly and have warning signs near the end that the end is near, but Linda appears to have either ignored them or missed them altogether. When it came down to, in her mind, a choice between supporting her husband or supporting her son, she was shocked that she would even be faced with such a choice. She felt obligated, before God, to help her son, but also responsible to her husband. As a result, and because this predicament had come so quickly to her that she didn't really have time to think and to plan a better course, she tried to continue helping her son while pacifying Danny--even if that meant doing some things discretely to prevent offending him. What she didn't realize was that Danny already had the bee in his bonnet to divorce her, and therefore would find any excuse, and actively search for.such, to justify it. She was, as has been mentioned, a trusting type. Danny betrayed that trust and abused her loyalty.
>
> When divorce was inevitable, and she really felt that her son needed her and gave him first priority, she wanted to settle things in a matter which would not cast such a shadow upon the ministry she helped to found. She was royally mistreated, but she did not wish to damage God's cause by raising her voice against His ministry. Her trust in God, and that He was working through the ministry of 3ABN, was so strong, that she was willing to let the abuse go unanswered, rather than to mount a divisive legal defense. This was admirable, albeit ignorant. I don't think she, even then, was able to see Danny's true colors, nor did she foresee what lay ahead.
>
> Was Linda innocent of the charges of adultery? Certainly. It doesn't take a rocket scientist to realize that Danny was hungry for a new marriage partner: 1) He would not need to prove anything against Linda if he simply wanted to divorce, only if he wanted to remarry; 2) He bugged her home, had private investigators chase her everywhere, illegally collected evidence to be used against her; 3) He made only a pretense of marriage counselling (for the public eye), and did not truly desire reconciliation; 4) He could only be satisfied with completing the divorce as soon as possible, going all the way to Guam to secure it; and 5) He told many people about all of Linda's "evils" in an attempt to make himself appear justified in these actions.
>
> Now, put two and two together. If Danny was so interested in making the switch, and apparently would stop at nothing to clear himself for it, there can be no doubt but that absolutely no evidence exists that would show Linda guilty. If such did exist, Danny would have made capital of the matter long before this. This is why Danny has trumped up this false charge of "spiritual adultery." Such is not, nor ever has been, grounds for divorce. And, as has been pointed out already, such is not provable.
>
> Whether or not Linda fights back is irrelevant with respect to her guilt or innocence. She, like anyone, can choose whether or not to fight. Consider this, for a moment: If you were emotionally drained from having just lost your husband, your career, your ministry, your future, and all of your friends (because Danny forbade anyone from speaking again with her), would you have the energy to put up a fight? I'm sure some of you would have been angered to the point of action, but that was not her personality. She was very discouraged. It was a very trying time. Above all, she was concerned for God's honor, and she did not want to injure His cause needlessly. I think she signed the "silence agreement" because she felt it was in the best interest of the ministry anyway. She knew, at that point, that those who put the document in her hands did not have her best interest in mind. But she looked beyond that, to something not even they were seeing.

hmmmm.... Thanks.

Posted by: inga Jan 1 2007, 02:00 AM

> QUOTE(Observer @ Dec 31 2006, 02:52 PM)
>
> Linda has had very painful growth. Some of us have watched her grow. But, that does not mean that we have to share the details with every person who wants to know them.

Indeed.

As I observed very early in this saga, we grow through difficulties and trials. I'm sure that Linda has grown in ways that would never have been possible in her previous role at 3ABN.

In His mercy, God allowed her to be cast out so that she might be separated from the mess while she grew to greater Christian maturity during her walk through the dark valley.

For some of us, her front-porch devotional talks seemed to be a little too "sweet" at times. She seemed to be speaking from the vantage point of a media princess. Little did we know what she was dealing with behind the scenes. If we had known, her words would have had a greater impact.

When Linda ministers again, all will know that she speaks from hard experience -- that she has learned to trust when she could not see, when her path led through adversity.

May our gracious God continue to be close to her even when she again steps into the limelight that she left behind four years ago. It is much more difficult to be faithful in the high places than the low ..

Posted by: HUGGINS130 Jan 1 2007, 05:08 AM

> QUOTE
>
> "My people are destryed for a lack of knowledge"(and I am adding common sense)..................

and in adding common sense, this wouldn't have happened to a sista...btjm...MOVING ON!!!

Posted by: lurker Jan 1 2007, 10:38 AM

> QUOTE(HUGGINS130 @ Jan 1 2007, 06:08 AM)
>
> and in adding common sense, this wouldn't have happened to a sista...btjm...MOVING ON!!!

Prolly not.

Posted by: Clay Jan 1 2007, 10:51 AM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Dec 31 2006, 09:26 PM)

> Wow! You have the makings of a true Internet Psychiatrist. I just gained a new self appointed internet psychiatrist this morning, and in only her second session with me she was able to diagnose me as having a learning disability, and give me her prognosis. One can never have enough Internet psychatrists, or diagnosis, I always say...
> I read it. Here it is: http://www.lindashelton.org/contract.html It was my understanding it was only good during the 24 mos that Linda was recieving payments. That ended this month.
>
> But what do I know, I am not a lawyer ☒ cut
>
> I would like to know for sure...
>
> IS THERE A LAWYER IN THE HOUSE?!?
>
> ~ Aletheia
> hmmmm.... Thanks.

Aletheia..... let's not push it okay.... comments are welcome, comments dripping with sarcasm will be deleted or edited...

Posted by: Aletheia Jan 1 2007, 11:38 AM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jan 1 2007, 11:51 AM) ☐
>
> Aletheia..... let's not push it okay.... comments are welcome, comments dripping with sarcasm will be deleted or edited...

Ok. sorry. That's a weakness of mine. I was trying to be funny.
guess it wasn't.

But I really do want to know if there is a member here, who is also a lawyer, who can verify if the contract is only binding for those 24 mos, or is binding indefinately???

http://www.lindashelton.org/contract.html

Posted by: awesumtenor Jan 1 2007, 11:39 AM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Dec 31 2006, 02:06 PM) ☐
>
> It takes 2 to get a quickie "uncontested" divorce in Guam...

Actually it doesn't; the papers are filed after a 7 day stay in Guam by one of the parties. If that party declares an intent to be a resident of Guam "in good faith" then after 90 days he will be considered a resident of Guam...even though he does not have to actually remain in guam for those 90 days that establishes residency. Once he is deemed a resident, he will be granted the divorce even if his spouse doesnt sign the papers; the judge will sign the papers on her behalf, whether she was willing to sign or not.

It takes one to get a divorce in guam... not two.

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: Aletheia Jan 1 2007, 12:51 PM

> QUOTE(awesumtenor @ Jan 1 2007, 12:39 PM) ☐
>
> Actually it doesn't; the papers are filed after a 7 day stay in Guam by one of the parties. If that party declares an intent to be a resident of Guam "in good faith" then after 90 days he will be considered a resident of Guam...even though he does not have to actually remain in guam for those 90 days that establishes residency. Once he is deemed a resident, he will be granted the divorce even if his spouse doesnt sign the papers; the judge will sign the papers on her behalf, whether she was willing to sign or not.
>
> It takes one to get a divorce in guam... not two.
>
> In His service,
> Mr. J

Why are you arguing here? As far as I can see, the only purpose it serves is to sew confusion...

You are describing a divorce by default. That is neither the type of divorce the Sheltons got, nor is it quick, it takes 90 days from filing here in the U.S. also...

I repeat it takes 2 to get a "quick, uncontested divorce" in Guam.

Troubled 3ABN Fires Linda Shelton
By Edwin A. Schwisow www.atoday.com
" the 3ABN board in June voted to dismiss Shelton's now-ex-wife, Linda, from her position as vice president and on-air hostess. The dismissal came just days before the couple's divorce became final in late June; an uncontested divorce filed in Guam by Danny Shelton, naming Linda as respondent, according to divorce papers obtained by Adventist Today, Linda's dismissal in June was followed immediately by an official release by 3ABN's board chairman, Walter Thompson, to the effect that Linda Shelton had chosen to go a 'different direction' from her husband and 3ABN."

www.guamdivorce.us

Non-Residents
Seven Day Uncontested Divorce. Under current Guam law, an uncontested divorce may be granted to non-residents (you do not have to be a U.S. citizen) if both husband and wife agree to ALL terms and if one of the parties visits Guam for at least 7 days immediately preceding the filing of the petition. Prior to 2006, Guam courts granted uncontested divorces without either party being present on Guam . However, in January 2006, Guam law was changed to add the requirement for one party to spend the 7 days (6 nights) on Guam.

Community Property and Custody Settlement. Guam is a community property state. According to Guam divorce laws, martial property, property acquired during the marriage - community property, generally must be divided equally unless there is an agreement to the contrary. Separate property shall be retained by the owning spouse.

Guam is a U.S. territory with the same legal definitions we have..

http://www.uslegalforms.com/legaldefinitions/c/contested-and-uncontested-divorce.php
"In contested divorces, the parties are adversarial and unable to agree on the terms of divorce. Common areas of disagreement include, but are not limited to: grounds for divorce, custody of the children, visitation rights, division of the assets of the marriage, child support, maintenance (alimony), payment of family debts, contribution toward educational expenses (college or parochial), payment of health insurance for the dependent spouse, income tax structuring, etc. Both parties may desire a divorce, but cannot agree on important issues like, but not limited to, property distribution, debt allocation, child support, custody, and alimony. In a contested divorce, the couple seeks to let the court system decide the matters related to the divorce.

In uncontested divorces, the parties are in agreement on all matters, and the court serves to approve their divorce agreement. In some states, expedited procedures exist for uncontested divorce, sometimes referred to as a dissolution. Such a dissolution may be a faster and less expensive alternative, as the parties may file the papers without hiring an attorney."

-- Aletheia

Edited to fix bold text and colored font only

Posted by: awesumtenor Jan 1 2007, 01:21 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 1 2007, 01:51 PM)
>
> Why are you arguing here? As far as I can see, the only purpose it serves is to sew confusion...
>
> That is neither the type of divorce the Sheltons got, nor is it quick, it takes 90 days from filing here in the U.S. also...
>
> I repeat it takes 2 to get a "quick, uncontested divorce" in Guam. I already posted all this info for Greg Matthews, 3 or 4 times.
> Wannt me to look it up for you? BTW, it was also reported by Adventist Today who have copies of the divorce papers.
>
> -- Aletheia

You made a statement that was not factual... trying to be snide.

I called you on it and you were wrong. While it can take 2... it doesnt need 2.

Live up to your screen name and verify the things you declare as fact. Then we wont have the conundrum of someone calling herself 'truth' declaring things that arent as if they were.

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: Aletheia Jan 1 2007, 01:30 PM

> QUOTE(awesumtenor @ Jan 1 2007, 02:21 PM)
>
> You made a statement that was not factual... trying to be snide.
>
> I called you on it and you were wrong. While it can take 2... it doesnt need 2.
>
> Live up to your screen name and verify the things you declare as fact. Then we wont have the conundrum of someone calling herself 'truth' declaring things that arent as if they were.
>
> In His service,
> Mr. J

There was NOTHING snide, unfactual or wrong in what I wrote at all.. You were apparently replying here while I was adding references in edit mode to demonstrate that and to prove what I was saying. --- See my previous post above please.

Posted by: awesumtenor Jan 1 2007, 02:59 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 1 2007, 01:51 PM)
>
> Why are you arguing here? As far as I can see, the only purpose it serves is to sew confusion...
>
> You are describing a divorce by default. That is neither the type of divorce the Sheltons got, nor is it quick, it takes 90 days from filing here in the U.S. also...
>
> I repeat it takes 2 to get a "quick, uncontested divorce" in Guam.
>
> home editor's page about archive atnewsbreak reviews donate subscribe contact Troubled 3ABN Fires Linda Shelton
> By Edwin A. Schwisow
>
> www.atoday.com
> " the 3ABN board in June voted to dismiss Shelton's now-ex-wife, Linda, from her position as vice president and on-air hostess. The dismissal came just days before the couple's divorce became final in late June; an uncontested divorce filed in Guam by Danny Shelton, naming Linda as respondent, according to divorce papers obtained by Adventist Today, Linda's dismissal in June was followed immediately by an official release by 3ABN's board chairman, Walter Thompson, to the effect that Linda Shelton had chosen to go a 'different direction' from her husband and 3ABN."
> www.guamdivorce.us

> Non-Residents
> Seven Day Uncontested Divorce. Under current Guam law, an uncontested divorce may be granted to non-residents (you do not have to be a U.S. citizen) if both husband and wife agree to all terms and if one of the parties visits Guam for at least 7 days immediately preceding the filing of the petition. Prior to 2006, Guam courts granted uncontested divorces without either party being present on Guam . However, in January 2006, Guam law was changed to add the requirement for one party to spend the 7 days (6 nights) on Guam.
>
> Community Property and Custody Settlement. Guam is a community property state. According to Guam divorce laws, martial property, property acquired during the marriage - community property, generally must be divided equally unless there is an agreement to the contrary. Separate property shall be retained by the owning spouse.
> Guam is a U.S. territory with the same legal definitions we have..
>
> http://www.uslegalforms.com/legaldefinitions/c/contested-and-uncontested-divorce.php
> "In contested divorces, the parties are adversarial and unable to agree on the terms of divorce. Common areas of disagreement include, but are not limited to: grounds for divorce, custody of the children, visitation rights, division of the assets of the marriage, child support, maintenance (alimony), payment of family debts, contribution toward educational expenses (college or parochial), payment of health insurance for the dependent spouse, income tax structuring, etc. Both parties may desire a divorce, but cannot agree on important issues like, but not limited to, property distribution, debt allocation, child support, custody, and alimony. In a contested divorce, the couple seeks to let the court system decide the matters related to the divorce.
>
> In uncontested divorces, the parties are in agreement on all matters, and the court serves to approve their divorce agreement. In some states, expedited procedures exist for uncontested divorce, sometimes referred to as a dissolution. Such a dissolution may be a faster and less expensive alternative, as the parties may file the papers without hiring an attorney."
> -- Aletheia
>
> edited to add proof

Your proof is weak...at best.

ANYONE can file an uncontested divorce. The spouse can then contest it but in most US states and Territories she can delay the processing of said divorce ad infinitum by simply not signing the papers. The atoday statement says "Danny Shelton filed an uncontested divorce" not "The Sheltons filed an uncontested divorce". Guam law is written such that if one party takes a passive line of resistance, the divorce will still be issued by default, eventually.

Your regurgitation of generic information provided for business solicitation is well intentioned... but this proves nothing.

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: Johann Jan 1 2007, 03:01 PM

> QUOTE(awesumtenor @ Jan 1 2007, 07:39 PM)

> Actually it doesn't; the papers are filed after a 7 day stay in Guam by one of the parties. If that party declares an intent to be a resident of Guam "in good faith" then after 90 days he will be considered a resident of Guam...even though he does not have to actually remain in guam for those 90 days that establishes residency. Once he is deemed a resident, he will be granted the divorce even if his spouse doesnt sign the papers; the judge will sign the papers on her behalf, whether she was willing to sign or not.
>
> It takes one to get a divorce in guam... not two.
>
> In His service,
> Mr. J

Both of you people are referring to the law in 2006. Remember that Danny filed for that divorce back in 2004, and the divorce was effective on June 21, 2004, when the law did not require any residence in Guam. There is not much sense in discussing what the law of 2006 requires, becaue that law did not apply in 2004.

Posted by: awesumtenor Jan 1 2007, 03:06 PM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jan 1 2007, 04:01 PM) ☐
>
> You people are referring to the law in 2006. Remember that Danny filed for that divorce back in 2004, and the divorce was effective on June 21, 2004, when the law did not require any residence in Guam. There is not much sense in discussing what the law of 2006 requires, becaue that law did not apply in 2004.

Good point...but the 2004 law didnt require Linda to concur, IIRC and he was able to get the divorce unilaterally...

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: Aletheia Jan 1 2007, 03:46 PM

QUOTE(Johann @ Jan 1 2007, 04:01 PM)

You people are referring to the law in 2006. Remember that Danny filed for that divorce back in 2004, and the divorce was effective on June 21, 2004, when the law did not require any residence in Guam. There is not much sense in discussing what the law of 2006 requires, becaue that law did not apply in 2004.

The ONLY change in the law regarding a quick uncontested divorce which can be done in about seven days, is that now one party has to stay in Guam for seven days All else is the same. That was in my link above...

> QUOTE(awesumtenor @ Jan 1 2007, 04:06 PM) ☐

> Good point...but the 2004 law didnt require Linda to concur, IIRC and he was able to get the divorce unilaterally...

Think about what you are saying and claiming. The divorce was signed in June of 2004, are you trying to say Danny filed it 90 days before then??

If so, proof?

If Linda didn't agree, then that would be a contested divorce. If both parties agree they want a divorce and yet don't agree on the other terms it is still a contested divorce.

The sheltons got a "uncontested divorce" which means they both agred to all terms, and both signed their agreement and the judge just validated their agreement.

I suggest you also read the references I gave above. If you do, it's not hard to understand.

~ Aletheia

Posted by: awesumtenor Jan 1 2007, 03:55 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 1 2007, 04:46 PM)
>
> I suggest you also read the references I gave above. If you do, it's not hard to understand.
> ~ Aletheia

Pot. Kettle. Black. You could stand some remedial reading comprehension in your own right. Your 'come into a nearly 3 year old conversation, preconceived notions in tow and proceeding to tell those involved they should listen to you because you know better than they' act has grown tiresome...especially since it is plain your sole purpose for being here is not to learn anything; it is to tell people what they should believe. It's diatribe rather than discorse... and it's notworkir

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: Aletheia Jan 1 2007, 04:13 PM

> QUOTE(awesumtenor @ Jan 1 2007, 04:55 PM)
>
> Pot. Kettle. Black. You could stand some remedial reading comprehension in your own right. Your 'come into a nearly 3 year old conversation, preconceived notions in tow and proceeding to tell those involved they should listen to you because you know better than they' act has grown tiresome...especially since it is plain your sole purpose for being here is not to learn anything; it is > to tell people what they should believe. It's diatribe rather than discorse... and it's ☒ notworkir

>
> In His service,
> Mr. J

sigh...

WHY should I accept your opinions about me, or the Shelton divorce, when you haven't offered me any evidence or proof besides your opinions; and when you claimed the cited law and legal definitions didn't prove anything, also without giving any evidence why, except your own opinions???

Posted by: awesumtenor Jan 1 2007, 04:29 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 1 2007, 05:13 PM) ☐
>
> sigh...
>
> WHY should I accept your opinions about me, or the Shelton divorce, when you haven't offered me any evidence or proof besides your opinions; and when you claimed the cited law and legal definitions didn't prove anything, also without giving any evidence why, except your own opinions???

1. Legal definitions are not law. You made a claim about the law but cited none...

2. The AToday article you cited does not say what you claim; re-read it.

Since what you cited does not say what you claim it does there is no need on my part to refute it beyond stating the obvious... that it doesn't say what you claim it says.

The bigger question is who you think you are fooling with this feigned objectivity when it has been plain that while you have been a great many things in your short stay here, objective doesnt make that list.

What's in this for you, Cindy? Why are you really here?

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: Observer Jan 1 2007, 04:32 PM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jan 1 2007, 02:01 PM) ☐
>
> Both of you people are referring to the law in 2006. Remember that Danny filed for that divorce back in 2004, and the divorce was effective on June 21, 2004, when the law did not require any residence in Guam. There is not much sense in discussing what the law of 2006 requires, becaue that law did not apply in 2004.

Johann, Alethia and I have gone this round before. Alethia continues to judge the 2004 divorce by a 2006 law. She supports that by stating that only one aspect of that law was changed. That is a lay position, taken by a person who does not understand the law. Even worse, she does not understand that she does not understand! There is not use attempting to argue with her.

She compounds her errors in other legal ways. In some of the issues I challenged her on, she had cited a post on a legal website that came from an attorney who was willing to accept clients in such issues. She did not seem to me to understand that a better reference would have been the statute. [NOTE: I am not stating that she never cited a 2006 statute.]

Overall her legal analysis appeared to me to fail to reflect any nuanced understanding of what she was discussing.

Posted by: awesumtenor Jan 1 2007, 04:40 PM

> QUOTE(Observer @ Jan 1 2007, 05:32 PM) ☐
>
> Johann, Alethia and I have gone this round before. Alethia continues to judge the 2004 divorce by a 2006 law. She supports that by stating that only one aspect of that law was changed. That is a lay position, taken by a person who does not understand the law. Even worse, she does not understand that she does not understand! There is not use attempting to argue with her.
>
> She compounds her errors in other legal ways. In some of the issues I challenged her on, she had cited a post on a legal website that came from an attorney who was willing to accept clients in such issues. She did not seem to me to understand that a better reference would have been the statute. [NOTE: I am not stating that she never cited a 2006 statute.]
>
> Overall her legal analysis appeared to me to fail to reflect any nuanced understanding of what she was discussing.

Which was my point when I got on this merry go round... regarding both her statement and the purported proof of said statement...

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: Chez Jan 1 2007, 04:49 PM

You guys can talk about Linda all you want, but have you seen Brandi (or Brandy) lately? She looks unhappy and indifferent. I feel sorry for this lady. I think that she didn't know what she was getting into, but now reality has set in. She is not happy. Pray for the lady. She needs it.

Posted by: Aletheia Jan 1 2007, 05:11 PM

[quote name='Observer' date='Jan 1 2007, 05:32 PM' post='166963']
Johann, Alethia and I have gone this round before. Alethia continues to judge the 2004 divorce by a 2006 law. She supports that by stating that only one aspect of that law was changed. That is a lay position, taken by a person who does not understand the law. Even worse, she does not understand that she does not understand! There is not use attempting to argue with her.

When you tried to argue this you cited an article saying the exact same thing I did about that being the only change in the law, do you remember that?

That was the only reference or citation you ever gave.

AND I REPEATEDLY ASKED you to cite the 2004 law which backs up your claims, or lacking that any reference at all. Remember this from maritime?

[quote]Greg,

I am sure you know it is impossible for me to prove a negative.

I already know and posted that the change in the law was that a non-resident obtaining a uncontested divorce with another non-resident in Guam is required to now reside in guam 7 days prior to filing.

If there is some other change in the law, do us the courtesy of posting it. It is entirely possible for you to prove that, if true.

When you do so, please point out to me and others reading here, my grave legal blunder as so far I still don't know what you are talking about, or why you are repeatedly insisting that.

Thank you,
Aletheia [/quote]

You NEVER answered.

The last time I asked you was here on BSDA when you came making the same unsupported statements and i gave all the evidence to support what I was sayiny:
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?showtopic=11834&st=60&p=164425&#entry164425
Again you NEVER answered.

Now here you are making claims again that you do not prove.

Have you ever supplied any backup evidence or support? As that is the complaint you are now trying to makie about me, that seems like a reasonable question snipped more opinions...

If you did where's the link?

Posted by: HUGGINS130 Jan 1 2007, 05:21 PM

> QUOTE(awesumtenor @ Jan 1 2007, 05:40 PM) ☐
>
> Which was my point when I got on this merry go round... regarding both her statement and the purported proof of said statement...
>
> In His service,
> Mr. J

Mr J, when you can't get their attention because they don't have a teachable spirit, and you know that what you are trying to get across to them is notworkir then you know it's probably best to move on... but you can handle your business im sure!!! happy new year Elder J...

Posted by: Aletheia Jan 1 2007, 05:29 PM

> QUOTE(awesumtenor @ Jan 1 2007, 05:29 PM) ☐
>
> snipped...
>
> The bigger question is who you think you are fooling with this feigned objectivity when it has been plain that while you have been a great many things in your short stay here, objective doesnt make that list.
>
> What's in this for you, Cindy? Why are you really here?

Again?!? Aren't you all getting tired of the paranoia and conspiracy theories?

Ok. Pick one.

1. I'm doing it for the collective.
I am Aletheia of Borg "resistance is futile, you will be assimilated" rofl

2. 3ABN offered me a million dollars to come make you look bad by asking you to prove the things you say. And I'll be the new face you see there if I accomplish my mission.

3.I've been telling the truth all along and you don't believe me, will repeating it again change that?

Posted by: awesumtenor Jan 1 2007, 06:06 PM

> QUOTE(HUGGINS130 @ Jan 1 2007, 06:21 PM) ☐

> Mr J, when you can't get their attention because they don't have a teachable spirit, and you know that what you are trying to get across to them is notworkir then you know it's probably best to move on... but you can handle your business im sure!!! happy new year Elder J...

True dat, bruh... I think my work is done here...

The Mrs. should be getting close, isn't she?

Happy New Year to you and yours, T.

In His service,
Mr. J

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 1 2007, 06:29 PM)
>
> Again?!? Aren't you all getting tired of the paranoia and conspiracy theories?
>
> Ok. Pick one.
>
> 1. I'm doing it for the collective.
> I am Aletheia of Borg "resistance is futile, you will be assimilated" rofl
> 2. 3ABN offered me a million dollars to come make you look bad by asking you to prove the things you say. And I'll be the new face you see there if I accomplish my mission.
> 3.I've been telling the truth all along and you don't believe me, will repeating it again change that?

D. None of the above; by positing the ludicrous you're still evading the question.

Shaking the dust from my feet and moving on.

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jan 1 2007, 06:10 PM

sn

Posted by: sister Jan 1 2007, 08:59 PM

Aletheia,

Like Mr. J., I too have dusted off my feet and moved on, that is the reason I ignored your questions to me. I have more important things to do than exchange insults with you. If you came across to us as really searching for truth that would be another matter, but unfortunately that is not the case... Most of the questions you ask have already been discussed before and answers have been given, if you are satisified or not is your choice.

Sister

Posted by: Aletheia Jan 1 2007, 09:26 PM

> QUOTE(sister @ Jan 1 2007, 09:59 PM) ☐
>
> Aletheia,
>
> Like Mr. J., I too have dusted off my feet and moved on, that is the reason I ignored your questions to me. I have more important things to do than exchange insults with you. If you came across to us as really searching for truth that would be another matter, but unfortunately that is not the case... Most of the questions you ask have already been discussed before and answers have been given, if you are satisified or not is your choice.
>
> Sister

I don't see how that can be true. The only thing I remember asking you was 6 days ago right when you said it for the first time.

http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?showtopic=11914&st=15&p=165727&#entry165727

> QUOTE
>
> QUOTE(sister @ Dec 26 2006, 10:47 PM)
>
> ... Often I post what I know personally, can you make the same statement?
>
> Linda and the wearing of a wedding ring at the GC in St. Lewis, that is nothing more than a rumor that Danny Shelton started to take the heat off of his situation....
>
> Personally, I have never heard more lies come out of a man's mouth than from Danny Shelton. The reliable source for this information: me!
>
> Aletheia:
> So is it your personal testimony that you personally heard this from Danny Shelton and you know as fact, that this is how the alleged rumor was started? IF NOT, how is it you claim to know this?

But yes I agree, you probably did think you had more important things to do...

Posted by: HUGGINS130 Jan 1 2007, 09:34 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 1 2007, 09:26 PM) ☐
>
> I don't see how that can be true. The only thing I remember asking you was 6 days ago right when you said it for the first time.
>
> http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?showtopic=11914&st=15&p=165727&#entry165727
> But yes I agree, you probably did think you had more important things to do...

in her words there is no probably to it...did you not read this...

> QUOTE
>
> Like Mr. J., I too have dusted off my feet and moved on, that is the reason I ignored your questions to me. I have more important things to do

If you haven't noticed they have moved on...for now!

Posted by: seraph|m Jan 2 2007, 12:07 PM

Yes, she IS innocent of that which she was accused.

Nuff said, moving on, next slide.

Posted by: LadyTenor Jan 4 2007, 03:18 PM

Alethia, an "uncontested" divorce can be effectuated with one party or both parties. A divorce is by default uncontested if the other party does not respond. On the other hand, if both parties agree to the divorce and the terms, then that is also an uncontested divorce.

For example, my husband divorced his first wife by obtaining an uncontested divorce. She abandoned him and when he asked for a divorce a year later, she agreed. He actually called her at work and told her when she would be served so that she would be ready to accept service. She actually signed the papers right there when the process server arrived.

Two months later, the divorce was final.

As another example, my brother-in-law served his wife with divorce papers and refused to respond. He even called her and told her he would be looking for a divorce. She refused to sign any papers and didn't hire an attorney. She didn't show up to court either (although she was out of state) and didn't get an attorney to appear in court in her absence.

Therefore the fact that Danny got an uncontested divorce from Linda is irrelevent to whether or not she agreed with the divorce. ONE CAN DIVORCE ONE'S SPOUSE WITHOUT SPOUSAL CONSENT.

And, yes, I learned this in law school and during my internship with a judge who was handling matrimonial cases and from the lawyer I worked for during law school who handled many divorce clients and for whom I handled more than one divorce client, both contested and uncontested...

Posted by: princessdi Jan 4 2007, 03:27 PM

There ya' go!

> QUOTE(seraph|m @ Jan 2 2007, 10:07 AM)

> Yes, she IS innocent of that which she was accused.
>
> Nuff said, moving on, next slide.

Posted by: HUGGINS130 Jan 5 2007, 08:33 PM

> QUOTE(seraph|m @ Jan 2 2007, 12:07 PM)
>
> Yes, she IS innocent of that which she was accused.
>
> Nuff said, moving on, next slide.

ok!!! reloaded

Posted by: Johann Feb 4 2007, 08:33 PM

> QUOTE(seraph|m @ Jan 2 2007, 08:07 PM)
>
> Yes, she IS innocent of that which she was accused.
>
> Nuff said, moving on, next slide.

-----Original Message-----
From: Walt Thompson [mailto:walttmd@comcast.net]
Sent: 7. mars 2005 14:36
To: Johann Thorvaldsson
Subject: Re: Rumors

Good morning Johann,

Thank you for your phone call and e mail. Please know that you and your dear wife are in my daily prayers - as is Linda. It is not for anger or retribution that I have taken the actions that I have taken. Everything I have done has been done honestly, prayerfully, and with the only wisdom that I have. If I have failed anywhere along the way I am truly sorry, because it has not been my intent to hurt any. I am all for justice and mercy in this case and that all be done to the glory of God. I have not acted on theory nor heresay, but only upon the convincing evidence that I have had, much of it personal experience. I have been very close to 3ABN through the years and especially so during this past year. I am pretty much aware to what is truth and what is not. And yes, there are many things that I am not aware of, but I have not based any of my decisons on those things.

So far as accusing Linda of adultry, I will say here again in writing that I have never accused linda of adultry. I do not know whether or not that has taken place, and it is has never been a factor in my decisions or recommendations. Linda was given opportunity over and over again to break off a relationship that was destroying the ministry, and to remain with 3abn. She was furthermore told by myself and others where her decisions were leading, yet she refused to listen to our advice. Only when it became evident that the ministry was at stake did we take the issue to the board for definitive action.

The letter that you refer to that I wrote to the 3ABN family does not accuse Linda of adultry. If any have interpreted it to say that, perhaps you may accept a bit of the credit for reading that element into it. But that idea was not written into the letter, nor was it intended to be implied. In fact, the specific effort was made to avoid making such an insinuation since frankly, I have never had the kind of evidence needed whereby to make such an accusation.

- - -

I hope this will be helpful to you.

Please give Irmgard my best regards.

Sincerely in the blessed name of Jesus,

Walt T
Walter Thompson MD
----- Original Message -----
From: Johann Thorvaldsson
To: Walt Thompson
Sent: Sunday, March 06, 2005 11:32 PM
Subject: Rumors

Walt,

It was very interesting to hear you talk about rumors - or against rumors. I have read a number of your private letters to people who feel that you are merely telling rumors, so they write to us to find out what is the truth. I know from personal experience and research that a number of things you tell people are mere rumors or things that took place at a time that has no significance to this case. I sensed that your chronology of events is quite confused. In my way of thinking it is significant if you bury a person before or after he is dead. Would you give your patients anesthetics after the surgery? But in some of your statement of event it appears as if chronology is of no importance. Is that telling the truth? When I pressed this in our talk you indicated that it had no significance. Does your conscience permit you to make such mistakes when it comes to the reputation of a person who has meant so much to 3ABN? Read through your own statements and discover what I mean. If you don't see it I'll point it out to you.

About rumors. I do quite a bit of research. When I hear rumors of something that seems substantial and has to do with this case, I do not pass this on before I have proofs, such as first person accounts. This applies to such things as M's smoking. I first heard of it second hand. I could hardly believe it, so I wanted to be sure it was not true. I personally questioned a witness, to be sure that it was not a mistaken identity, and I was not satisfied until I had it from two different sources, who had not merely heard it, but knew it from first hand observation. It was then I wrote about it to you, because it seemed that you were the right person to handle it, especially since it concerns 3ABN credibility.

You seem so quick to call things rumors when they apply to Danny Shelton or those close to him, while any story about Linda you accept as verified. That seemed the gist of our conversation. So what chance does Linda have in a group of so-called believers when they do not act as Christians at all the way things are handled - through what I have been able to observe personally.

You did state in our conversation that you are not accusing Linda of adultery. It would be nice to have this in writing, because that is what most people understand from the statements you have issued. Now you state that you are merely accusing Linda of having had a relationship with a man. How about all of those accusations of adultery that Danny has made and broadcast around to the world? There is something strange in your whole handling of this case. Something that does not make sense. You mean that a whole board of Christian people have been discussing that since this might lead to adultery you might as well let the World know she has committed a great sin, so she had to be dismissed from 3ABN, nobody could talk to her, and you approved that Danny should remain as president of 3ABN even though he demanded a divorce from his wife. This is not mere rumors - I have all the emails from Danny from that period to prove it. He was not the least interested in saving his marriage, but did everything in his power to get her out of the way, even while publicly asking Mark Finlay and others to pray for her return. I have scores of email from Danny to prove this, so - again - this is not rumors. And because both Danny and Linda provided me with daily insights in what was going on, I was not 6.000 miles away, but no further than the screen of my computer. Besides that I talked to both of them on the phone through this period. But you were so afraid that Danny be accused of lying about the whole case, that you made it impossible for us to testify before the board on June 1, 2004.

Do you think this case will soon be outdated? Not as long as the Lord has called me to give my testimony, because it is no honor for the Church of God to have such falsehood linger. So you might as well do something about it before it is too late. Before it breaks 3ABN.

With great concern,

Johann

Posted by: Grace Feb 5 2007, 12:05 PM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Feb 5 2007, 03:33 AM)
>
> -----Original Message-----
> From: Walt Thompson [mailto:walttmd@comcast.net]
> Sent: 7. mars 2005 14:36
> To: Johann Thorvaldsson
> Subject: Re: Rumors
>
> Good morning Johann,
>
> Thank you for your phone call and e mail. Please know that you and your dear wife are in my daily prayers - as is Linda. It is not for anger or retribution that I have taken the actions that I have taken. Everything I have done has been done honestly, prayerfully, and with the only wisdom that I have. If I have failed anywhere along the way I am truly sorry, because it has not been my intent to hurt any. I am all for justice and mercy in this case and that all be done to the glory of God. I have not acted on theory nor heresay, but only upon the convincing evidence that I have had, much of it personal experience. I have been very close to 3ABN through the years and especially so during this past year. I am pretty much aware to what is truth and what is not. And yes, there are many things that I am not aware of, but I have not based any of my decisons on those things.
>
> So far as accusing Linda of adultry, I will say here again in writing that I have never accused linda of adultry. I do not know whether or not that has taken place, and it is has never been a factor in my decisions or recommendations. Linda was given opportunity over and over again to break off a relationship that was destroying the ministry, and to remain with 3abn. She was furthermore told by myself and others where her decisions were leading, yet she refused to listen to our advice. Only when it became evident that the ministry was at stake did we take the issue to the board for definitive action.

The letter that you refer to that I wrote to the 3ABN family does not accuse Linda of adultry. If any have interpreted it to say that, perhaps you may accept a bit of the credit for reading that element into it. But that idea was not written into the letter, nor was it intended to be implied. In fact, the specific effort was made to avoid making such an insinuation since frankly, I have never had the kind of evidence needed whereby to make such an accusation.

- - -

I hope this will be helpful to you.

Please give Irmgard my best regards.

Sincerely in the blessed name of Jesus,

Walt T
Walter Thompson MD
----- Original Message -----
From: Johann Thorvaldsson
To: Walt Thompson
Sent: Sunday, March 06, 2005 11:32 PM
Subject: Rumors

Walt,

It was very interesting to hear you talk about rumors - or against rumors. I have read a number of your private letters to people who feel that you are merely telling rumors, so they write to us to find out what is the truth. I know from personal experience and research that a number of things you tell people are mere rumors or things that took place at a time that has no significance to this case. I sensed that your chronology of events is quite confused. In my way of thinking it is significant if you bury a person before or after he is dead. Would you give your patients anesthetics after the surgery? But in some of your statement of event it appears as if chronology is of no importance. Is that telling the truth? When I pressed this in our talk you indicated that it had no significance. Does your conscience permit you to make such mistakes when it comes to the reputation of a person who has meant so much to 3ABN? Read through your own statements and discover what I mean. If you don't see it I'll point it out to you.

About rumors. I do quite a bit of research. When I hear rumors of something that seems substantial and has to do with this case, I do not pass this on before I have proofs, such as first person accounts. This applies to such things as M's smoking. I first heard of it second hand. I could hardly believe it, so I wanted to be sure it was not true. I personally questioned a witness, to be sure that it was not a mistaken identity, and I was not satisfied until I had it from two different sources, who had not merely heard it, but knew it from first hand observation. It was then I wrote about it to you, because it seemed that you were the right person to handle it, especially since it concerns 3ABN credibility.

You seem so quick to call things rumors when they apply to Danny Shelton or those close to him, while any story about Linda you accept as verified. That seemed the gist of our conversation. So what chance does Linda have in a group of so-called believers when they do not act as Christians at all the way things are handled - through what I have been able to observe personally.

You did state in our conversation that you are not accusing Linda of adultery. It would be nice to have this in writing, because that is what most people understand from the statements you have issued. Now you state that you are merely accusing Linda of having had a relationship with a man. How about all of those accusations of adultery that Danny has made and broadcast around to the > world? There is something strange in your whole handling of this case. Something that does not make sense. You mean that a whole board of Christian people have been discussing that since this might lead to adultery you might as well let the World know she has committed a great sin, so she had to be dismissed from 3ABN, nobody could talk to her, and you approved that Danny should remain as president of 3ABN even though he demanded a divorce from his wife. This is not mere rumors - I have all the emails from Danny from that period to prove it. He was not the least interested in saving his marriage, but did everything in his power to get her out of the way, even while publicly asking Mark Finlay and others to pray for her return. I have scores of email from Danny to prove this, so - again - this is not rumors. And because both Danny and Linda provided me with daily insights in what was going on, I was not 6.000 miles away, but no further than the screen of my computer. Besides that I talked to both of them on the phone through this period. But you were so afraid that Danny be accused of lying about the whole case, that you made it impossible for us to testify before the board on June 1, 2004.

>
> Do you think this case will soon be outdated? Not as long as the Lord has called me to give my testimony, because it is no honor for the Church of God to have such falsehood linger. So you might as well do something about it before it is too late. Before it breaks 3ABN.
>
> With great concern,
>
> Johann

Thanks for posting these letters, Johann. My question to brother Thompson would be:

Brother Thompson, after reading your letter to brother Thorvaldsson dated 7 March 2005, I have to ask: What was your reason to agree on brother Danny Shelton's right to divorce and remarry?

If by divorcing and remarrying without biblical grounds brother Danny Shelton had become guilty of adultery, wouldn't you, brother Thompson, and all the other brothers and/or sisters who told him that he had the right to do it share the same guilt?

With great concern,

An SDA member

Johann, if you want to send this short letter to brother Thompson in my name, you can write my name at the end, no problem.

Blessings!

94

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ More Questions For 3-abn

Posted by: Observer Jan 31 2007, 04:54 AM

Mr. Joy has recently sent "Nick" the following questions:

"Hi Nick.

Here's some questions:

In 2003, 3ABN paid $600,000 for WDQN FM when it shouldn't have cost more than $250,000 at the most, and no real estate was acquired in the deal. Why was it never approved by the board?

Why would Danny have paid that much for it? What benefit could Danny have gotten out of it? Kickbacks?

What benefit would it be for Danny to have on the 2003 application for license transfer for WDQN to say that 3ABN is a for-profit corporation? And why would the license renewal in 2004 say that the facility is commercial? (The FCC's failure to grant the license renewal after 2 1/2 years raises some questions.)

Why are we having such a hard time finding that purchase/asset on the 2003 Form 990?

3ABN is a non-profit taking depreciation of about 2 million a year. Is that masking the inappropriate use of cash assets?
Did you know that Danny was taking advances on the trust funds?
Did you get your hands on any proof regarding 3ABN's payments to Cherie Peters for Brandi's income?
Did you get any follow-up for your formal request to the CA EEOC?
Were you aware of the illegal process of acquiring low power FM stations through surrogates for 3ABN's exclusive use?"

I assume, but do not know that "Nick" is Mr. Miller, a 3-ABN attorney.

I find the above questions of interest, but I have no assumption as to what the answer might be. I will suggest to you that no specific answer may be assumed. Those questions are not anything more than questions, for which there may be an appropriate answer.

But, I will suggest that the above questions illustrate a point that I have made. With the failure of any denominationally related organization to resolve the questions that keep coming, we can expect more and more. I do not think that this these issues and questions will get any better.

In any case, I will be glad to post here any resposne that 3-ABN makes to to these questions.

Posted by: watchbird Jan 31 2007, 05:43 AM

> QUOTE(Observer @ Jan 31 2007, 05:54 AM) ☐
>
> Mr. Joy has recently sent "Nick" the following questions:

> "Hi Nick.
>
> Here's some questions:
> In 2003, 3ABN paid $600,000 for WDQN FM when it shouldn't have cost more than $250,000 at the most, and no real estate was acquired in the deal. Why was it never approved by the board?
>
> Why would Danny have paid that much for it? What benefit could Danny have gotten out of it? Kickbacks?
>
> What benefit would it be for Danny to have on the 2003 application for license transfer for WDQN to say that 3ABN is a for-profit corporation? And why would the license renewal in 2004 say that the facility is commercial? (The FCC's failure to grant the license renewal after 2 1/2 years raises some questions.)
>
> Why are we having such a hard time finding that purchase/asset on the 2003 Form 990?
>
> 3ABN is a non-profit taking depreciation of about 2 million a year. Is that masking the inappropriate use of cash assets?
> Did you know that Danny was taking advances on the trust funds?
> Did you get your hands on any proof regarding 3ABN's payments to Cherie Peters for Brandi's income?
> Did you get any follow-up for your formal request to the CA EEOC?
> Were you aware of the illegal process of acquiring low power FM stations through surrogates for 3ABN's exclusive use?"
>
> I assume, but do not know that "Nick" is Mr. Miller, a 3-ABN attorney.
>
> I find the above questions of interest, but I have no assumption as to what the answer might be. I will suggest to you that no specific answer may be assumed. Those questions are not anything more than questions, for which there may be an appropriate answer.
>
> But, I will suggest that the above questions illustrate a point that I have made. With the failure of any denominationally related organization to resolve the questions that keep coming, we can expect more and more. I do not think that this these issues and questions will get any better.
>
> In any case, I will be glad to post here any resposne that 3-ABN makes to to these questions.

In regard to the sentence I have highlighted above...

Please make it plain that Nick Miller is not CURRENTLY "a 3-ABN attorney. He still may be the person the letter is being sent to, since he was in 3abn employ, and was even a 3abn board member, for a relatively short period of time which may well have included the time frame of Mr. Joy's questions. I do not know at what point he began his employment, nor whether it was such that he should be considered their "attorney" or if they only had a "contract" arrangement... nor do I understand the distinction between the two, I only know such a distinction was made by a representative of 3abn when queried about him.

I do know that his period of active service included the months immediately preceding and following Linda's removal from 3abn and her and Danny's divorce, and I do know the approximate date (Sep-Oct 2005) at which he ceased working for them and removed himself from their board.

Thus he has not been a board member nor done any work for them for over a year.

Posted by: Pickle Jan 31 2007, 06:08 AM

My understanding is that he was trying to clean up some of the corruption he saw, and that is why he is no longer a board member.

Can anyone confirm?

Posted by: Observer Jan 31 2007, 06:23 AM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jan 31 2007, 04:43 AM) ☐
>
> In regard to the sentence I have highlighted above...
>
> Please make it plain that Nick Miller is not CURRENTLY "a 3-ABN attorney. He still may be the person the letter is being sent to, since he was in 3abn employ, and was even a 3abn board member, for a relatively short period of time which may well have included the time frame of Mr. Joy's questions. I do not know at what point he began his employment, nor whether it was such that he should be considered their "attorney" or if they only had a "contract" arrangement... nor do I understand the distinction between the two, I only know such a distinction was made by a representative of 3abn when queried about him.
>
> I do know that his period of active service included the months immediately preceding and following Linda's removal from 3abn and her and Danny's divorce, and I do know the approximate date (Sep-Oct 2005) at which he ceased working for them and removed himself from their board.
>
> Thus he has not been a board member nor done any work for them for over a year.

Thank you for that clairfication. You are correct, Mr. Miller is not a 3-ABN attorney. I was in error, and I gladly post this correction.

Posted by: Johann Jan 31 2007, 09:55 AM

> QUOTE(Observer @ Jan 31 2007, 12:54 PM) ☐
>
> Mr. Joy has recently sent "Nick" the following questions:
>
> - - -
>
> I assume, but do not know that "Nick" is Mr. Miller, a 3-ABN attorney.
>
> - - -

If this is Nick Miller he was, but is no longer an attorney for 3ABN. I understand he had to withdraw. .
.

> QUOTE(Pickle @ Jan 31 2007, 02:08 PM) ☐

> My understanding is that he was trying to clean up some of the corruption he saw, and that is why he is no longer a board member.
>
> Can anyone confirm?

I inerstand that Nick had to withdraw as a board member in order to retain his credibility. I know that he tried to be an honest man, but that was not easy when working for 3ABN.

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Feb 1 2007, 08:09 AM

It would be nice if this Nick Miller would be willing to come forward regarding what he experienced at 3ABN while he was there, etc.

Posted by: watchbird Feb 1 2007, 09:45 AM

> QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Feb 1 2007, 09:09 AM) ☐
>
> It would be nice if this Nick Miller would be willing to come forward regarding what he experienced at 3ABN while he was there, etc.

Nick Miller is an attorney, and an ethical one. He cannot "come forward" regarding anything having to do with a former client unless he were to be subpeonaed by a civil court. We are not a court. We should not expect, invite, entice, or imply that someone who experienced something at 3abn should come here and satisfy our curiosity. Those who do come to share their experiences are certainly welcome... but our welcome of them should not contain any hint of pressure on, or criticism of, those who choose to remain silent.

Posted by: Fran Feb 1 2007, 04:56 PM

> QUOTE(Observer @ Jan 31 2007, 04:54 AM) ☐
>
> Mr. Joy has recently sent "Nick" the following questions:
>
> "Hi Nick.
>
> Here's some questions:
> In 2003, 3ABN paid $600,000 for WDQN FM when it shouldn't have cost more than $250,000 at the most, and no real estate was acquired in the deal. Why was it never approved by the board?
>
> Why would Danny have paid that much for it? What benefit could Danny have gotten out of it? Kickbacks?
>
> What benefit would it be for Danny to have on the 2003 application for license transfer for WDQN to say that 3ABN is a for-profit corporation? And why would the license renewal in 2004 say that the facility is commercial? (The FCC's failure to grant the license renewal after 2 1/2 years raises some questions.)

> Why are we having such a hard time finding that purchase/asset on the 2003 Form 990?
>
> 3ABN is a non-profit taking depreciation of about 2 million a year. Is that masking the inappropriate use of cash assets?
> Did you know that Danny was taking advances on the trust funds?
> Did you get your hands on any proof regarding 3ABN's payments to Cherie Peters for Brandi's income?
> Did you get any follow-up for your formal request to the CA EEOC?
> Were you aware of the illegal process of acquiring low power FM stations through surrogates for 3ABN's exclusive use?"
> I assume, but do not know that "Nick" is Mr. Miller, a 3-ABN attorney.
>
> I find the above questions of interest, but I have no assumption as to what the answer might be. I will suggest to you that no specific answer may be assumed. Those questions are not anything more than questions, for which there may be an appropriate answer.
>
> But, I will suggest that the above questions illustrate a point that I have made. With the failure of any denominationally related organization to resolve the questions that keep coming, we can expect more and more. I do not think that this these issues and questions will get any better.
>
> In any case, I will be glad to post here any resposne that 3-ABN makes to to these questions.

Now your talking my language! It is about time for questions AND answers.

Posted by: Bystander Feb 2 2007, 12:16 AM

> QUOTE(Fran @ Feb 1 2007, 04:56 PM) ☐
>
> Now your talking my language! It is about time for questions AND answers.

Fran, I hope no one here is talking your language no matter what side they are on. There are several, myself included that are apalled at your statement for Tommy S to come to texas after the death penalty is invoked. What a terrible thing for a christian to say. You have lost what little bit of credibility you had.

Posted by: Fran Feb 2 2007, 12:19 AM

Bystander!

I thought you were banned! I never touted that I had any credibility at all. That isn't important. I have never been power hungry. I just squeak very loudly until the credible people stand up and take notice. I have no importance, and can, in fact, be a pain in the neck.

What is important is the fact that those with credibility will judge Danny. However, if the documents and forms are junk, you have nothing to worry about, so what is your gripe?

As for Tommy, Danny should be the one ashamed. First hand witnesses have documented their experiences with Tommy. Danny says he is a Seventh-day Adventist. Yet he cares not about the children!

It has become clear that Tommy has no shame. Danny is really proud of him for his adultery with the opposite sex, and yes with under aged boys. Both have not shown the least bit of sorrow, but only of this being OK.

Tommy has committed a crime many times. Why will you not acknowledge that molesting children is a crime? This reveals something vital about Danny's character, or lack thereof.

I do not wish anyone death. I want people to know that molestation is a "serious" crime and some states are fed up with this deviant behavior that your crowd feels is so normal. It appears that they feel they are entitled to this sexually deviant behavior because both of the boys do not think it is sin. They do it because they want to, and they feel they are entitled to take what they want.

Good news folks! Molestation/Pedophilia of any kind it is a crime. I am going to vote for the Texas bill. Maybe then the molesters will think twice before they act on their addictions. That would include Danny too, since there are allegations against him also.

Why will you not answer the financial questions asked by Observer? Sticky, huh?

Thank you for coming "out" in this thread. It is vital that this thread not die. People need to know what has been going on for many years. I hear that the gravy train is getting put out of business.

Is the increase in 3ABN's income due to the fact that all that money that was leaving before is now getting posted?

When will Tommy and Danny apologize to all of Tommy and Danny's victims? Sometimes people sin for so long, they no longer see sin as sin. God sometimes has to wake people up to truth all over again.

Please tell Danny that I do not believe Linda committed adultery. Danny has said publicly that there was no adultery. I really don't care if she did because she is no longer in a position for it to matter. However, Danny on the other hand is. I care about what Danny did. Bystander, what are the facts about Danny.

Remember, you must STOP trashing Linda. She is not trash. She is a Godly Christian. She is no longer involved in the 3ABN issues. Sorry, but it is true. For many reasons I believe in Linda's honesty. I do not think she is perfect by any means. Proof, to me, would be that she married and stayed with Danny for 20 years. Now, that is a rough row to hoe.

Posted by: ex3ABNemployee Feb 2 2007, 12:19 AM

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Feb 2 2007, 12:16 AM) ☐
>
> Fran, I hope no one here is talking your language no matter what side they are on. There are several, myself included that are apalled at your statement for Tommy S to come to texas after the death penalty is invoked. What a terrible thing for a christian to say. You have lost what little bit of credibility you had.

And you, sir, have NO credibility. You still refuse to answer my questions.

By the way, I thought you were banned?

Posted by: inga Feb 2 2007, 01:41 AM

> QUOTE(ex3ABNemployee @ Feb 2 2007, 01:19 AM)
>
> And you, sir, have NO credibility. You still refuse to answer my questions.
>
> By the way, I thought you were banned?

Yup, I got the same thoughts!!

Posted by: Bystander Feb 2 2007, 11:32 PM

> QUOTE(ex3ABNemployee @ Feb 1 2007, 11:19 PM)
>
> And you, sir, have NO credibility. You still refuse to answer my questions.
>
> By the way, I thought you were banned?

Surprise!!! you thought wrong.

Posted by: ex3ABNemployee Feb 3 2007, 12:20 AM

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Feb 2 2007, 11:32 PM)
>
> Surprise!!! you thought wrong.

How childish.

Why haven't you answered my questions?

Posted by: Pickle Feb 3 2007, 06:06 AM

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Feb 2 2007, 12:16 AM)
>
> Fran, I hope no one here is talking your language no matter what side they are on. There are several, myself included that are apalled at your statement for Tommy S to come to texas after the death penalty is invoked. What a terrible thing for a christian to say. You have lost what little bit of credibility you had.

Hmm. One of Tommy's alleged victims was in a bad accident and ended up in a special home in Texas. And Tommy would go to see him from time to time. That's what I am told.

Can you comment on that one, Duane?

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Feb 3 2007, 08:16 AM

Maybe his lawyers advised him not to talk to you. My guess would be that Bystander might have about 14 of them.

Richard

> QUOTE(ex3ABNemployee @ Feb 3 2007, 01:20 AM)
>
> How childish.
>
> Why haven't you answered my questions?

Posted by: ex3ABNemployee Feb 3 2007, 09:23 AM

> QUOTE(Richard Sherwin @ Feb 3 2007, 08:16 AM)
>
> Maybe his lawyers advised him not to talk to you. My guess would be that Bystander might have about 14 of them.
>
> Richard

At any rate, there's no reason for anyone here to give any credibility to anything he says. He won't stand by his words.

Duane Clem

Posted by: eye witness Feb 4 2007, 09:33 AM

> QUOTE(ex3ABNemployee @ Feb 2 2007, 12:19 AM)
>
> And you, sir, have NO credibility. You still refuse to answer my questions.
>
> By the way, I thought you were banned?

I was wondering Duane, do you know anyone in a town not far from you, oh about 30-40 miles , who is a Public Accountant he does taxes for people and stuff? Just asking?

Posted by: ex3ABNemployee Feb 4 2007, 09:41 AM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Feb 4 2007, 09:33 AM)
>
> I was wondering Duane, do you know anyone in a town not far from you, oh about 30-40 miles , who is a Public Accountant he does taxes for people and stuff? Just asking?

There are accountants everywhere who do taxes. What's your point?

Posted by: Grace Feb 4 2007, 10:20 AM

> QUOTE(ex3ABNemployee @ Feb 4 2007, 04:41 PM)
>
> There are accountants everywhere who do taxes. What's your point?

Weird! I'm worried by these strange questions.
Praying for wisdom and protection for you, Duane. That's just my mother's heart, I can't help it.

Blessings!

Posted by: Ralph Feb 4 2007, 10:20 AM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Feb 4 2007, 08:33 AM)
>
> I was wondering Duane, do you know anyone in a town not far from you, oh about 30-40 miles , who is a Public Accountant he does taxes for people and stuff? Just asking?

"Just asking" -- Tell another one, eye witness. You know and I know why you are asking such questions and it is not appreciated.

I hope Duane completely ignores your insinuations. He does not need to give an answer to any of your insinuations.

Posted by: calvin Feb 4 2007, 10:23 AM

> QUOTE(Grace @ Feb 4 2007, 10:20 AM)
>
> Weird! I'm worried by these strange questions.
> Praying for wisdom and protection for you, Duane. That's just my mother's heart, I can't help it.

Blessings!

Eye Witness won't be asking any more questions here.

Posted by: watchbird Feb 4 2007, 10:33 AM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Feb 4 2007, 11:23 AM)
>
> Eye Witness won't be asking any more questions here.

In a way, that is a great relief. In another way, though, I am sad to see him cut off... for we were learning SO much about his character and the way his mind runs.... and the fact that he was making such threats... even though veiled... to Duane Clem, will be evidence against him once his identity is unveiled and/or he claims to have not made any threats against him.

But the bottom line is another thank you for keeping a firm hand on the tiller.

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Feb 4 2007, 10:37 AM

Agreed, he/she has been telling us much about themselves in this line of questioning. I think in this case the person should have revealed who they are since they were going after Duane in such a public way. Cowardly is what they were.

Richard

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Feb 4 2007, 11:33 AM)
>
> In a way, that is a great relief. In another way, though, I am sad to see him cut off... for we were learning SO much about his character and the way his mind runs.... and the fact that he was making such threats... even though veiled... to Duane Clem, will be evidence against him once his identity is unveiled and/or he claims to have not made any threats against him.
>
> But the bottom line is another thank you for keeping a firm hand on the tiller.

Posted by: Grace Feb 4 2007, 10:51 AM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Feb 4 2007, 05:23 PM)
>
> Eye Witness won't be asking any more questions here.

Thank you Calvin! It's good to know that this is a safe place for everybody!

God bless you!

Posted by: Ralph Feb 4 2007, 11:55 AM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Feb 4 2007, 09:33 AM)
>
> In a way, that is a great relief. In another way, though, I am sad to see him cut off... for we were learning SO much about his character and the way his mind runs.... and the fact that he was making such threats... even though veiled... to Duane Clem, will be evidence against him once his identity is unveiled and/or he claims to have not made any threats against him.
>
> But the bottom line is another thank you for keeping a firm hand on the tiller.

Don't worry. He/she/they will be back, only wearing a different garb.

Posted by: Noahswife Feb 4 2007, 12:06 PM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Feb 4 2007, 11:33 AM)
>
> In a way, that is a great relief. In another way, though, I am sad to see him cut off... for we were learning SO much about his character and the way his mind runs.... and the fact that he was making such threats... even though veiled... to Duane Clem, will be evidence against him once his identity is unveiled and/or he claims to have not made any threats against him.
>
> But the bottom line is another thank you for keeping a firm hand on the tiller.

I totally agree. I am not a trained therapist but those of you who are......do you think we could have a narcissistic personality being demonstrated by EW?

nw

Posted by: watchbird Feb 4 2007, 12:22 PM

> QUOTE(Noahswife @ Feb 4 2007, 01:06 PM)
>
> I totally agree. I am not a trained therapist but those of you who are......do you think we could have a narcissistic personality being demonstrated by EW?
>
> nw

I'm not a "trained therapist" either.... but here is the dictionary definition of narcisssm....

nar·cis·sism (när'sĭ-sĭz'□m) Pronunciation Key n.
Excessive love or admiration of oneself. See Synonyms at conceit.
A psychological condition characterized by self-preoccupation, lack of empathy, and unconscious deficits in self-esteem.
Erotic pleasure derived from contemplation or admiration of one's own body or self, especially as a fixation on or a regression to an infantile stage of development.
The attribute of the human psyche charactized by admiration of oneself but within normal limits.

There are two things... or maybe three... that I think would rule out this label...

One is the "with normal limits."

And the other is that the preoccupation is not really with himself (themselves) so much as it is with others... particularly what are seen as the sins of others... especially those who are pointing out the sin in the camp of 3abn.

The broader and I think more accurate term is sociopath... which I think has already been described on BSDA, though I forget exactly where.

Posted by: Bystander Feb 4 2007, 12:27 PM

And the other is that the preoccupation is not really with himself (themselves) so much as it is with others... particularly what are seen as the sins of others... especially those who are pointing out the sin in the camp of 3abn.

[/quote]
Why is it that all of you can point out the "sin" in the 3abn camp, but we cannot point out the sin in your camp?

Posted by: Observer Feb 4 2007, 12:29 PM

> QUOTE(Noahswife @ Feb 4 2007, 11:06 AM) □
>
> I totally agree. I am not a trained therapist but those of you who are......do you think we could have a narcissistic personality being demonstrated by EW?
>
> nw

You-all are on weak teritory to attempt to diagnose mental illness (or personality disorders) over the Internet.

In addition, the "gold standard" for such is the current Diagnostic and Statistical Manual, and not the dictionary.

Posted by: Noahswife Feb 4 2007, 12:34 PM

> QUOTE(Observer @ Feb 4 2007, 01:29 PM) ☐
>
> You-all are on weak teritory to attempt to diagnose mental illness (or personality disorders) over the Internet.
>
> In addition, the "gold standard" for such is the current Diagnostic and Statistical Manual, and not the dictionary.

Actually, I was reading the DSM IV criteria when I made the post. I was not trying to diagnosis and that is why I stated at the beginning that I am not a trained therapist. I was merely responding to Watchbird's comment about how EW's mind worked and his character.

nw

Posted by: Skyhook Feb 4 2007, 12:51 PM

Here are some more characteristics of narcissism. People with narcissistic personalities want to be worshipped. The want adulation and admiration but no amount they get is ever enough. Eveything about them has to be "Special." They might own fancy cars, or perhaps classic cars or antiques. They will have, or try to have the finest and best of everything, because, of course, they deserve it, because of who they are. Corporate jets, beautiful women, or men, etc. They go after what they think is impressive. However, they don't necessarily have highly refined taste. That would depend on thier background. The important thing is looking good so others will admire and think highly of them. They are emotionally shallow, superficial and empty. They are not capable of true friendship, love, or intimacy. They can get terribly depressed and angry at loss of a relationship. They have a very hard time with rejection.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Feb 4 2007, 02:18 PM

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Feb 4 2007, 02:27 PM) ☐
>
> And the other is that the preoccupation is not really with himself (themselves) so much as it is with others... particularly what are seen as the sins of others... especially those who are pointing out the sin in the camp of 3abn.
> Why is it that all of you can point out the "sin" in the 3abn camp, but we cannot point out the sin in your camp?

You can point out anything in my life you so choose to. I DON'T CARE!!!

I have sinned repeatedly IN MY PAST.... None of this is of any problem to me - because I have been forgiven of my sins and have been held accountable by my church and my LORD.

Now.

Can you put your mess on front street? Can you state that you have been held accountable for your sins? Have you been censored (EVEN ONCE) by your church? Have you had to ask/pray for forgiveness for the wrong you have done?

Ah...therein lies the rub. Most of the folks that are advocating for 3ABN will not see the sins of one, but will see the sins of another. I DON'T HAVE A PROBLEM WITH ANYONE TRYING TO REMOVE A TOOTHPICK FROM MY EYE. It's all good to me. Show me the "err" of my ways if you see it...... then don't get indignant (or ignorant) WHEN I SHOW YOU THE TELEPHONE POLE IN YOUR OWN EYE...

K?

Posted by: wwjd Feb 4 2007, 08:20 PM

> QUOTE(Pickle @ Feb 3 2007, 06:06 AM)
>
> Hmm. One of Tommy's alleged victims was in a bad accident and ended up in a special home in Texas. And Tommy would go to see him from time to time. That's what I am told.
>
> Can you comment on that one, Duane?

You need to quite listening to everything you're told. You should definitely not put it on this forum unless you have documentation of it and everything else you say.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Feb 4 2007, 08:40 PM

> QUOTE(wwjd @ Feb 4 2007, 10:20 PM)
>
> You need to quite listening to everything you're told. You should definitely not put it on this forum unless you have documentation of it and everything else you say.

How would you know if this is true or not unless you are Tommy?

Actually I don't care. I just know you are a bit....just a bit off. JMPO

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Feb 5 2007, 01:12 AM

> QUOTE(wwjd @ Feb 4 2007, 09:20 PM)
>
> You need to quite listening to everything you're told. You should definitely not put it on this forum unless you have documentation of it and everything else you say.

All I hear from you is that proof needs to be presented. That's fine, but what's good for the goose is good for the gander. I hear about Dan having receipts for the deck he built Linda, Tommy didn't molest children, Linda bought the pregnancy test, 3ABN has proof of the adultery, blah, blah, blah. It would seem that you know a great deal about things that would have only been known between Dan and Linda...and perhaps very close "friends."

I, for one, would absolutely love to see YOUR documentation for everything you've said.
I'll be waiting...but I won't be holding my breath.

Posted by: franklyamazed Feb 5 2007, 07:41 AM

It would be extremely useful to have an organized presentation of all of the evidence against Linda, including a transcript of the illegal recordings. Maybe if Linda is ok with getting all the evidence out there so it can be challenged, she could be the source of the transcripts. It seems that as long as we have to trust someone who gets the information from someone who knows someone who ...

How about it "Lindas Team"?

Posted by: watchbird Feb 5 2007, 08:25 AM

> QUOTE(franklyamazed @ Feb 5 2007, 08:41 AM)
>
> It would be extremely useful to have an organized presentation of all of the evidence against Linda, including a transcript of the illegal recordings. Maybe if Linda is ok with getting all the evidence out there so it can be challenged, she could be the source of the transcripts. It seems that as long as we have to trust someone who gets the information from someone who knows someone who ...
>
> How about it "Lindas Team"?

Linda cannot be the source of the "evidence" claimed by her opposition... for several reasons.... first of all they have never stated what their "evidence" really is, second there is little reason to think that they in fact have anything which would be considered "evidence" to bring forward. To say nothing of the fact that anything which came from Linda would be immediately discounted by anyone who did not already have a predisposition to believe her.

No... the "evidence" that has been claimed by her opposition will have to come straight from the same sources that have been claiming to have it but refusing to show it in order for it to have any credibility as being the "evidence" they has claimed to have had. There is good reason to doubt that it will actually be credible as real evidence of anything... especially in view of a statement I once saw where Danny noted that they had "evidence which could not be presented in a court of law".... whatever that meant.

Posted by: Observer Feb 5 2007, 08:33 AM

> QUOTE(franklyamazed @ Feb 5 2007, 06:41 AM)
>
> It would be extremely useful to have an organized presentation of all of the evidence against Linda, including a transcript of the illegal recordings. Maybe if Linda is ok with getting all the evidence out there so it can be challenged, she could be the source of the transcripts. It seems that as long as we have to trust someone who gets the information from someone who knows someone who ...
>
> How about it "Lindas Team"?

I do not believe that either the so-called "Linda Team," or Linda herself, has the transcripts. Those so-called transcripts are claimed to have been seen by only a very few unnamed people, and are also claimed to only be a record of what Linda is supposed to have said, and do not include anything that the other party said.

However, Linda and Linda's Team would very much like to obtain them. You can be assured that if litigation occurs, those defending Linda will attempt to obtain them, as well as sworn testimony of the conditions under which they were obtained, and as to the names of people who have seen them. If this happens, we believe that attempts will be made to keep them secret, and away from Linda's Team.

We shall see what happens.

Re: " . . . Danny noted that they had "evidence which could not be presented in a court of law".... whatever that meant."

We who are on Linda's Team believe that we know what it meant, and that Danny spoke the truth, it could never be presented in a court of law. In addition, we believe that it is of such a nature that reasonable people should not accept it as evidence.

95

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ Legal Liability For Bsda

Posted by: calvin Feb 4 2007, 02:02 AM

Since several of the apologist have been making comments here and in private messages for me to repent of my ways in light of the imminent lawsuit coming my way, here is my response to all:

BSDA would most likely be shielded from liability under the provisions of Section 230 of the Communications Decency Act (CDA).
http://www.chillingeffects.org/trademark/question.cgi?QuestionID=314 and http://www4.law.cornell.edu/uscode/html/uscode47/usc_sec_47_00000230----000-.html

You can read the links for yourself. But to summarize; Congress understood that it would be nearly impossible for ISPs, ASPs and online community providers to actually go through every post, every comment and every page and check the validity of all statements made. This is completely different than with print where it is understood that magazines and newspapers should be reviewing their copy. The fact that I have administrators moderating the site doesn't help my case but still (as a general rule) not liable for failing to actually moderate it, or failing to moderate it in a way that removes what one company considers to be liable. Even 500 moderators aren't going to be able to figure out if what someone says about a company is fact, fiction, opinion or something said in malice.

Also take a look at this...
http://www.somethingawful.com/legal/
That website makes fun of people, and contains all kinds of slander and libel. Those are the legal threats they have received.

Also note that NONE of the legal threats were successful... because voicing your opinion on the internet is protected by the 1st amendment.

I am not a lawyer either, but I can play one like the rest of you. This isn't legal advice, but rather a general statement on slander and libel.

People toss these words around liberally as threats, but the reality is that neither is easy to prove in a US court.

Proving either requires the plaintiff to demonstrate that he or she has been harmed in some way by the statements made...

This could be harm to one's reputation, but even with that, there must be some tangible harmful result. So if you slander an author, and the results of your words are that the authors books sell less because his reputation has been damaged, you can be successfully sued for slander....And even in such a case, the plaintiff is still required to demonstrate an actual connection between the slanderous words and the decline in sales of the authors books.

If you say some negative stuff about this author, but it has no impact on his book sales, you can still be sued for slander, but since no harm was done to the author, the author is unlikely to win.

Again, this is not legal advice, and should not be relied upon in any decision making on handling these matters, but it is worth noting nonetheless.

Posted by: Observer Feb 4 2007, 04:55 AM

Re: "Proving either requires the plaintiff to demonstrate that he or she has been harmed in some way by the statements made..."

The above is a generally valid comment in the field of law.

It also is a factor in the field of copyright law. The question is: What was the tort (harm)? It would be a stretch to attempt to claim that the publication of the letter to GAJ by an attorney involved any tort.

There are other reasons why my posting of that letter coulf be expected to be legal. But, anyone who wishes to challange that claim may consult an attorney to review copyright law.

What could possibly be achieved by a lawsuit on this issue? As a long shot, possibly a court would enjoin me form posting that letter again. What would that achieve? After all, the letter has already been posted on this forum and on another. Even if I were to be enjoined from posting it again, that would not prevent others from posting it and commenting on it.

Again, I am not a licensed attorney. I do not consider myself to be an expert in the law. Anyone who wishes information on the subject discussed here should consult a properly licensed attorney, competent in this area to render legal advice. It is not my intent to provide legal advice on any matter, by my comments in this forum.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Feb 4 2007, 11:56 PM

Calvin, thanks for the information! It is encouraging to see that we still have freedom of speech and freedom to have our own opinions in the United States.

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ What God Has Pointed Out To Me

Posted by: MsHoly1 Feb 1 2007, 02:37 PM

Hello everyone,

I don't come to this section because, quite frankly, I'm not interested in this unfortunate situation and refuse to let it consume me however, while sitting here, the Lord showed me something and I had to see for myself. He pointed out to me that there are more "posts" and "views" in this section than in the Sabbath School section.

I don't know why He pointed it out to me 'cause I don't post there either but, usually when someone takes time to point something out, it's because it means something to them and maybe He pointed this out because He is displeased with the direction of the conversations and/or the level by which it has gained your attention. Now, I'm not saying you're slacking in your devotions because I don't know any of you but, many of you only joined this board because of the 3ABN thread and to keep up with the drama...and apparently this drama has more appeal than the Sabbath School lesson. That's not good.

I don't know but for those who are very active in this thread, you may need to check yourselves. Be careful what you are saying and guard your heart and thoughts because God knows them as well.

Again, since God pointed it out, tells me He is not pleased and we know from the bible that when God ain't happy, ain't nobody happy.

I'm not trying to kill threads or cause Calvin to lose members. I'm just trying to communicate what God has dropped into my spirit. Hopefully you will receive it and please don't shoot the messenger.

Posted by: Grace Feb 1 2007, 02:59 PM

As for myself, I go to another forum in my mother language for Sabbath School and other devotionals, as well as to some others in other languages. English is only my forth language, and I feel more confortable in the three others.

I come here for the subjects that I can't find in the other ones: to educate myself in better understanding my "black" brothers and sisters, for various other useful informations, good humor and yes, input in a subject that bothers me a lot since I learned about Linda being put away. I find this particular forum totally excellent.

God bless you all!

Posted by: LeePaDee Feb 1 2007, 03:06 PM

I visited the 3ABN threads only once in a while. I cannot get the program here in Prague... so I'm really not interested in ONE MORE scandal in the SDA church. I've been hearing about and seeing

96

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ What God Has Pointed Out To Me

Posted by: MsHoly1 Feb 1 2007, 02:37 PM

Hello everyone,

I don't come to this section because, quite frankly, I'm not interested in this unfortunate situation and refuse to let it consume me however, while sitting here, the Lord showed me something and I had to see for myself. He pointed out to me that there are more "posts" and "views" in this section than in the Sabbath School section.

I don't know why He pointed it out to me 'cause I don't post there either but, usually when someone takes time to point something out, it's because it means something to them and maybe He pointed this out because He is displeased with the direction of the conversations and/or the level by which it has gained your attention. Now, I'm not saying you're slacking in your devotions because I don't know any of you but, many of you only joined this board because of the 3ABN thread and to keep up with the drama...and apparently this drama has more appeal than the Sabbath School lesson. That's not good.

I don't know but for those who are very active in this thread, you may need to check yourselves. Be careful what you are saying and guard your heart and thoughts because God knows them as well.

Again, since God pointed it out, tells me He is not pleased and we know from the bible that when God ain't happy, ain't nobody happy.

I'm not trying to kill threads or cause Calvin to lose members. I'm just trying to communicate what God has dropped into my spirit. Hopefully you will receive it and please don't shoot the messenger.

Posted by: Grace Feb 1 2007, 02:59 PM

As for myself, I go to another forum in my mother language for Sabbath School and other devotionals, as well as to some others in other languages. English is only my forth language, and I feel more confortable in the three others.

I come here for the subjects that I can't find in the other ones: to educate myself in better understanding my "black" brothers and sisters, for various other useful informations, good humor and yes, input in a subject that bothers me a lot since I learned about Linda being put away. I find this particular forum totally excellent.

God bless you all!

Posted by: LeePaDee Feb 1 2007, 03:06 PM

I visited the 3ABN threads only once in a while. I cannot get the program here in Prague... so I'm really not interested in ONE MORE scandal in the SDA church. I've been hearing about and seeing

96

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ What God Has Pointed Out To Me

Posted by: MsHoly1 Feb 1 2007, 02:37 PM

Hello everyone,

I don't come to this section because, quite frankly, I'm not interested in this unfortunate situation and refuse to let it consume me however, while sitting here, the Lord showed me something and I had to see for myself. He pointed out to me that there are more "posts" and "views" in this section than in the Sabbath School section.

I don't know why He pointed it out to me 'cause I don't post there either but, usually when someone takes time to point something out, it's because it means something to them and maybe He pointed this out because He is displeased with the direction of the conversations and/or the level by which it has gained your attention. Now, I'm not saying you're slacking in your devotions because I don't know any of you but, many of you only joined this board because of the 3ABN thread and to keep up with the drama...and apparently this drama has more appeal than the Sabbath School lesson. That's not good.

I don't know but for those who are very active in this thread, you may need to check yourselves. Be careful what you are saying and guard your heart and thoughts because God knows them as well.

Again, since God pointed it out, tells me He is not pleased and we know from the bible that when God ain't happy, ain't nobody happy.

I'm not trying to kill threads or cause Calvin to lose members. I'm just trying to communicate what God has dropped into my spirit. Hopefully you will receive it and please don't shoot the messenger.

Posted by: Grace Feb 1 2007, 02:59 PM

As for myself, I go to another forum in my mother language for Sabbath School and other devotionals, as well as to some others in other languages. English is only my forth language, and I feel more confortable in the three others.

I come here for the subjects that I can't find in the other ones: to educate myself in better understanding my "black" brothers and sisters, for various other useful informations, good humor and yes, input in a subject that bothers me a lot since I learned about Linda being put away. I find this particular forum totally excellent.

God bless you all!

Posted by: LeePaDee Feb 1 2007, 03:06 PM

I visited the 3ABN threads only once in a while. I cannot get the program here in Prague... so I'm really not interested in ONE MORE scandal in the SDA church. I've been hearing about and seeing

Posted by: Ralph Feb 1 2007, 03:49 PM

> QUOTE(MsHoly1 @ Feb 1 2007, 01:37 PM)
>
> I don't know why He pointed it out to me 'cause I don't post there either but, usually when someone takes time to point something out, it's because it means something to them and maybe He pointed this out because He is displeased with the direction of the conversations and/or the level by which it has gained your attention. Now, I'm not saying you're slacking in your devotions because I don't know any of you but, many of you only joined this board because of the 3ABN thread and to keep up with the drama...and apparently this drama has more appeal than the Sabbath School lesson. That's not good.
>
> I don't know but for those who are very active in this thread, you may need to check yourselves. Be careful what you are saying and guard your heart and thoughts because God knows them as well.

When a house is on fire and is endangering everything connected to it, that is of pimary focus. Don't ever think that people are not praying as they fight the fire.

Posted by: seraph|m Feb 1 2007, 05:45 PM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Feb 1 2007, 04:13 PM)
>
> May I respectfully suggest that if you are not interested in this unfortunate situation, and have not come here often enough to understand the burdens of those who ARE interested in it.... for each of their various reasons... then you are in no position to be coming here now and making either judgements or appeals to us.
>
> When you have walked in our moccasins through our journey's here... then you will be qualified to come and speak to us.
>
> It could be, you know, that the reason God impressed you to come here was that he wanted you to see what we were going through, and what was being said here. Perhaps he wanted... wants... you to BECOME "interested in this unfortunate situation".
>
> Peace.....
>
> Perhaps you should take your signature line more seriously and personally... I'll bring it here for reference....
>
> Perhaps you should attempt to be part of the solution rather than merely labeling it trash and avoiding it.....
>
> --------------------
>
> This is how change happens: someone hurts, and sooner or later decides to do something about it.--TRAITOR by Matthew Woodring Stover - p.29
>
> People are hurting. People are being hurt. Our whole church is being hurt by the evil that is being covered up at 3abn. "Sooner or later" it has to be dealt with. SOMEBODY has to "do something about it".

Well said. WB

Posted by: Hersheys99 Feb 1 2007, 06:08 PM

Exactly WB..

Good point Ralph!

Posted by: Clay Feb 1 2007, 07:11 PM

contrary to what some may believe God will tell each of us what He wishes.... He has no problem speaking our language, whatever that language might be....

Reminds me of a incident that happened to me years ago.... a patient told me that she was the virgin Mary and that God had told her that she and I must have intercourse so that she could have my child.... after telling me this, she looked directly at me awaiting my response to this message from God..... After a brief pause, I told her that I appreciated the information but until God gave me the same message she would not be bearing my child.... she went on her way....

and thats all I have to say about this.....

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Feb 1 2007, 07:27 PM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Feb 1 2007, 08:11 PM)
>
> contrary to what some may believe God will tell each of us what He wishes.... He has no problem speaking our language, whatever that language might be....
>
> Reminds me of a incident that happened to me years ago.... a patient told me that she was the virgin Mary and that God had told her that she and I must have intercourse so that she could have my child.... after telling me this, she looked directly at me awaiting my response to this message from God..... After a brief pause, I told her that I appreciated the information but until God gave me the same message she would not be bearing my child.... she went on her way....
>
> and thats all I have to say about this.....

Posted by: calvin Feb 1 2007, 08:00 PM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Feb 1 2007, 03:13 PM)

> When you have walked in our moccasins through our journey's here... then you will be qualified to come and speak to us.

Point of information: Any member can come in any BSDA forum and speak to us. There is no prequalification required.

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Feb 1 2007, 09:05 PM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Feb 1 2007, 08:11 PM)
>
> a patient told me that she was the virgin Mary and that God had told her that she and I must have intercourse so that she could have my child.... after telling me this, she looked directly at me awaiting my response to this message from God..... After a brief pause, I told her that I appreciated the information but until God gave me the same message she would not be bearing my child.... she went on her way....

Posted by: inga Feb 1 2007, 10:42 PM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Feb 1 2007, 08:11 PM)
>
> contrary to what some may believe God will tell each of us what He wishes.... He has no problem speaking our language, whatever that language might be....
>
> Reminds me of a incident that happened to me years ago.... a patient told me that she was the virgin Mary and that God had told her that she and I must have intercourse so that she could have my child.... after telling me this, she looked directly at me awaiting my response to this message from God..... After a brief pause, I told her that I appreciated the information but until God gave me the same message she would not be bearing my child.... she went on her way....
>
> and thats all I have to say about this.....

Right on, Steve, in all respects!!

So much for self-appointed prophets!

Posted by: Fran Feb 2 2007, 02:09 AM

> QUOTE(MsHoly1 @ Feb 1 2007, 02:37 PM)

> Hello everyone,
>
> I don't come to this section because, quite frankly, I'm not interested in this unfortunate situation and refuse to let it consume me however, while sitting here, the Lord showed me something and I had to see for myself. He pointed out to me that there are more "posts" and "views" in this section than in the Sabbath School section.
>
> I don't know why He pointed it out to me 'cause I don't post there either but, usually when someone takes time to point something out, it's because it means something to them and maybe He pointed this out because He is displeased with the direction of the conversations and/or the level by which it has gained your attention. Now, I'm not saying you're slacking in your devotions because I don't know any of you but, many of you only joined this board because of the 3ABN thread and to keep up with the drama...and apparently this drama has more appeal than the Sabbath School lesson. That's not good.
>
> I don't know but for those who are very active in this thread, you may need to check yourselves. Be careful what you are saying and guard your heart and thoughts because God knows them as well.
>
> Again, since God pointed it out, tells me He is not pleased and we know from the bible that when God ain't happy, ain't nobody happy.
>
> I'm not trying to kill threads or cause Calvin to lose members. I'm just trying to communicate what God has dropped into my spirit. Hopefully you will receive it and please don't shoot the messenger.

Your on line name sounds ever so familiar. Even your writing style is familiar. We must have communicated before.

It is encouraging to know that God is speaking to man kind. He speaks to me also.

I went to your website and was glad to see you carry lots of John C Maxwell's books. When I was able to work, I read all of his books and received CD's from InJoy and Maximum Impact. I bought hundreds of gifts to give away for Christmas.

He is profound in his knowledge of the 21 Irrefutable Laws of Leadership. The Lord spoke to me over and over through the Bible and these books. Another author that has given me much inspiration are books by Ellen G White. I did not find her on your list. I thought for sure I would find her in your list of authors. You might want to sell a few. She wrote a book called the Desire of Ages. I have read this book maybe about 12 times. I read parts of it frequently, but I love reading it cover to cover.

Welcome to BSDA. We seem to be here much more than in the Sabbath School forum because many of us have been spoken to and have been instructed to share with others that we have a wolf in sheep's clothing with-in our church.

Posted by: mystery- man Feb 2 2007, 03:27 AM

MsHoly1- I dont doubt the Lord might have spoken to you, however,it has been my experience that often today people say the lord spoke to them when actually it is them using the lord to express their own feelings. There was a lady in our church that heard the Lord more than Moses. So was this a audible message from the Lord or just a feeling you had? Because unspoken in your post is the veiled implication that the posting here are not from the Lord. I have been to church at times where people would say the Lord told them something when the person just before they spoke said the Lord told them something that is the opposite of what that person is saying.

I am not saying you are using the same tactic as some in leadership do when something does not go their way. However, how many people say the Lord has spoken to them or showed them something when in actuality it is their own vivid imagination. Or it is because they dont agree with something that is being said?

Maybe this topic is more important than the Sabbath School lesson or maybe more needed. After all the Sabbath School has a book and pamplet and Sabbath School helps that come with it, but the innocent children or adults dont have that. What you dont realize is that if it was not for (or maybe you do) the internet or this forum people would not know what was going on and as in the past the innocent would suffer without a voice (I have personally experienced this in the past). It is past time for this to stop.to much pain and wrongs have been done to people by the professed people of God when in fact they were wolves in sheeps clothing, hiding behind the pretense of religion

---

Posted by: Denny Feb 2 2007, 04:13 AM

Since there are no rules on how many times one can visit a thread and which thread one can visit I see no reason for the OP comments. Ok that is how she feels then avoid the thread and leave others to decide how often they want to visit the Sabbath School thread or not. Perhaps God has impressed that for you and for you only it is not a good idea to be on this thread but for others it may be very helpful. Reminds me of vegan syndrome - church member believes God impresses them to be a vegan means everyone else must be one as well.....

Posted by: Fran Feb 2 2007, 04:34 AM

> QUOTE(mystery- man @ Feb 2 2007, 03:27 AM) ☐
>
> MsHoly1- I dont doubt the Lord might have spoken to you, however,it has been my experience that often today people say the lord spoke to them when actually it is them using the lord to express their own feelings. There was a lady in our church that heard the Lord more than Moses. So was this a audible message from the Lord or just a feeling you had? Because unspoken in your post is the veiled implication that the posting here are not from the Lord. I have been to church at times where people would say the Lord told them something when the person just before they spoke said the Lord told them something that is the opposite of what that person is saying.
>
> I am not saying you are using the same tactic as some in leadership do when something does not go their way. However, how many people say the Lord has spoken to them or showed them something when in actuality it is their own vivid imagination. Or it is because they dont agree with something that is being said?
> Maybe this topic is more important than the Sabbath School lesson or maybe more needed. After all the Sabbath School has a book and pamplet and Sabbath School helps that come with it, but the innocent children or adults dont have that. What you dont realize is that if it was not for (or maybe you do) the internet or this forum people would not know what was going on and as in the past the innocent would suffer without a voice (I have personally experienced this in the past). It is past time for this to stop.to much pain and wrongs have been done to people by the professed people of God when in fact they were wolves in sheeps clothing, hiding behind the pretense of religion

Oh, Mystery Man; ☒ rofl ☒ rofl ☒ rofl ☒ rofl

Now this is funny. I know how you LOVE funny, but most of the time you aren't so funny!

I shall pat myself on the back because you fell for MY bait! Yes, indeed, this is funny. Dogged if I can't pull you out and reveal yourself to me. This was really funny. I'm serious. However. will it get a laugh at the comedy club you frequent? I'll take a stab at that answer ~ NO!

Where is that emocon that is a wolf in sheeps clothing when you need it! That's OK, all you have to do is look into the mirror. You've got more lives than Carter has Liver Pills.

By the way, I liked the web site!

Now don't go away mad! Just go away!

Where is Voltaire when you need him?

Posted by: LeePaDee Feb 2 2007, 12:01 PM

WATCHBIRD WROTE:
Perhaps you should take your signature line more seriously and personally... I'll bring it here for reference....
------Thanks for your comments, WatchBird. I do take that signature line "more seriously" than you show that you believe I do.

Perhaps you should attempt to be part of the solution rather than merely labeling it trash and avoiding it.....
------And perhaps you should attempt to let God lead me just as He leads you. THAT is my goal, to follow God's leading in my life.

This is how change happens: someone hurts, and sooner or later decides to do something about it.--TRAITOR by Matthew Woodring Stover - p.29

People are hurting. People are being hurt. Our whole church is being hurt by the evil that is being covered up at 3abn. "Sooner or later" it has to be dealt with. SOMEBODY has to "do something about it".
------Exactly right, WatchBird. Do what you need to do... I'll do the same.

Posted by: inga Feb 2 2007, 12:34 PM

> QUOTE(mystery- man @ Feb 2 2007, 04:27 AM)
>
> MsHoly1- I dont doubt the Lord might have spoken to you, however,it has been my experience that often today people say the lord spoke to them when actually it is them using the lord to express their own feelings. There was a lady in our church that heard the Lord more than Moses. So was this a audible message from the Lord or just a feeling you had? Because unspoken in your post is the veiled implication that the posting here are not from the Lord. I have been to church at times where people would say the Lord told them something when the person just before they spoke said the Lord told them something that is the opposite of what that person is saying.
>
> I am not saying you are using the same tactic as some in leadership do when something does not go their way. However, how many people say the Lord has spoken to them or showed them something when in actuality it is their own vivid imagination. Or it is because they dont agree with something that is being said?
> Maybe this topic is more important than the Sabbath School lesson or maybe more needed. After all the Sabbath School has a book and pamplet and Sabbath School helps that come with it, but the innocent children or adults dont have that. What you dont realize is that if it was not for (or maybe you do) the internet or this forum people would not know what was going on and as in the past the > innocent would suffer without a voice (I have personally experienced this in the past). It is past time for this to stop.to much pain and wrongs have been done to people by the professed people of God when in fact they were wolves in sheeps clothing, hiding behind the pretense of religion

Mystery man, thanks for your thoughtful, restrained postings. I suspect Fran read hastily and forgot to whom she was replying -- which would explain her reply to you.

With emotions running so high here, we could use a few more restrained posts like yours to anchor the thread. So please don't be discouraged because someone mis-read your post, and keep posting.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Feb 2 2007, 12:50 PM

mystery-man, you hit the nail soundly on the head(several times!) as did watchbird.

MsHoly1, I have a burden on my heart, that I believe the Lord put there, to do whatever I can to help expose the truth about the victimization of young people and the subsequent coverup and intimidations that "rub salt" in the wounds of the victims.

Posted by: mystery- man Feb 4 2007, 11:05 PM

Fran? Please explain your post. DId I miss something?

97

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ Statement - Alyssa Moore

Posted by: source Oct 3 2006, 10:03 PM

July 7, 2006

This is a formal statement which is long overdue. I did not disclose this information when the events occurred because I did not want to hurt my mother. I did not want to cause trouble with 3 ABN, and I was too embarrassed to talk about it. Now that some time has passed and circumstances have changed I feel the need to share this information. I want to spare others from being exposed to the same treatment that I have experienced.

1) The repeated inappropriate actions from my ex-stepfather, Danny Shelton, occurred in the summer of the year 2000.

2) I had been away at school for some years. I was happy to be returning home to attend a local University.

3) My mother always went to bed rather early. Her bedroom was upstairs and my bedroom was downstairs. Danny started coming into my room getting into my bed and rubbing my back. He seemed to "accidentally" get too low. I told him I did not want a back rub. He ignored me. This happened repeatedly.

4) I began locking my bedroom door every night. Sometimes he would come to the door and knock again and again. I did not answer. He then repeatedly unlocked my bedroom door and came into my room. He would then get into my bed. I was not comfortable with this but I was so tired I still fell asleep. I awoke sometimes with his hands in inappropriate places. He would say "Oh, I'm sorry. I thought it was your Mom." He told me not to tell my Mom. I told him to stay out of my room. He still came. I started sleep on the living room couch so that he could not lie beside me.

5) I felt threatened and very uncomfortable with these things, so I made arrangements to move out.

Signed,

____

Alyssa Moore (daughter of Linda Shelton)

Posted by: simplysaved Oct 3 2006, 10:13 PM

Honey, there are no words to say but "I am sorry that this happened to you"....and am praying for you....

I do not know whether or not you are Linda Shelton's daughter...but it appears as though you have been hurt and traumatized by someone who allowed Satan to take over their lives for a moment.

> QUOTE(source @ Oct 3 2006, 10:03 PM)
>
> July 7, 2006
> This is a formal statement which is long overdue. I did not disclose this information when the events occurred because I did not want to hurt my mother. I did not want to cause trouble with 3 ABN, and I was too embarrassed to talk about it. Now that some time has passed and circumstances have changed I feel the need to share this information. I want to spare others from being exposed to the same treatment that I have experienced.
>
> 1) The repeated inappropriate actions from my ex-stepfather, Danny Shelton, occurred in the summer of the year 2000.
>
> 2) I had been away at school for some years. I was happy to be returning home to attend a local University.
>
> 3) My mother always went to bed rather early. Her bedroom was upstairs and my bedroom was downstairs. Danny started coming into my room getting into my bed and rubbing my back. He seemed to "accidentally" get too low. I told him I did not want a back rub. He ignored me. This happened repeatedly.
>
> 4) I began locking my bedroom door every night. Sometimes he would come to the door and knock again and again. I did not answer. He then repeatedly unlocked my bedroom door and came into my room. He would then get into my bed. I was not comfortable with this but I was so tired I still fell asleep. I awoke sometimes with his hands in inappropriate places. He would say "Oh, I'm sorry. I thought it was your Mom." He told me not to tell my Mom. I told him to stay out of my room. He still came. I started sleep on the living room couch so that he could not lie beside me.
>
> 5) I felt threatened and very uncomfortable with these things, so I made arrangements to move out.
>
> Signed,
>
> __________________
> Alyssa Moore (daughter of Linda Shelton)

May God help you find healing and inner peace to move on and live the life that He created for you.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Oct 3 2006, 10:18 PM

> QUOTE(source @ Oct 3 2006, 09:03 PM)
>
> July 7, 2006
> This is a formal statement which is long overdue. I did not disclose this information when the events occurred because I did not want to hurt my mother. I did not want to cause trouble with 3 ABN, and I was too embarrassed to talk about it. Now that some time has passed and circumstances have changed I feel the need to share this information. I want to spare others from being exposed to the same treatment that I have experienced.

> Signed,
>
> ____________________
>
> Alyssa Moore (daughter of Linda Shelton)

Source, did you have permission from Linda's daughter to post this letter here? Just curious.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Oct 3 2006, 10:29 PM

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Oct 3 2006, 10:18 PM)
>
> Source, did you have permission from Linda's daughter to post this letter here? Just curious.

She says, "I feel the need to share this information. I want to spare others...."

So, apparently -- on the face of it -- it is meant to be shared.

Posted by: calvin Oct 3 2006, 10:36 PM

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Oct 3 2006, 10:18 PM)
>
> Source, did you have permission from Linda's daughter to post this letter here? Just curious.

Source had my permission to post the letter. This letter is in the public domain and has been distributed broadly throughout Adventist circles. Many of you insiders where aware of it

---

Posted by: watchbird Oct 3 2006, 10:45 PM

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Oct 3 2006, 10:29 PM)
>
> She says, "I feel the need to share this information. I want to spare others...."
>
> So, apparently -- on the face of it -- it is meant to be shared.

This is simply not true.... that it was "meant to be shared" on any forum..... and it is a real violation of express instructions that were sent out with each copy of this letter where the permission to share was very specifically limited to "ministers and church leaders", and where it was expressly directed to NOT post it on any public forum. I would hope that Calvin would make an exception of not pulling any posts and would pull this one. It was also requested that her name not be used in any discussions on a public forum, but only to identify her as Linda's daughter. That may seem like a minute distinction to some, but one's name is a very important and precious thing, and I am extremely saddened that someone would brazenly go against her express wishes in this regard.

> QUOTE(calvin @ Oct 3 2006, 10:36 PM) ☐
>
> Source had my permission to post the letter. This letter is in the public domain and has been distributed broadly throughout Adventist circles. Many of you insiders where aware of it.

Yes we were, and we shared with you assuming you would honor her and our request to respect her wishes as to distribution. I am exceedingly disappointed in your actions regarding this.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Oct 3 2006, 11:46 PM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Oct 3 2006, 10:45 PM) ☐
>
> This is simply not true.... that it was "meant to be shared" on any forum..... and it is a real violation of express instructions that were sent out with each copy of this letter where the permission to share was very specifically limited to "ministers and church leaders", and where it was expressly directed to NOT post it on any public forum.

Well, I accept Watchbird's comment as true.

This is the first time I, for one, have seen such a letter.

Posted by: beartrap Oct 4 2006, 12:01 AM

Nonetheless, it is out. There is way to unring the proverbial bell.

Posted by: watchbird Oct 4 2006, 07:16 AM

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Oct 3 2006, 11:46 PM) ☐
>
> Well, I accept Watchbird's comment as true.
>
> This is the first time I, for one, have seen such a letter.

Since I am assuming that you are neither a pastor nor a church leader.... which we loosely translated as either Conference administrators or lay leaders, especially if they were in abuse counseling professions.... then you should not have received one. And it is quite possible that all who are in that category have not yet received a copy.... it is a very large task to send them out.

> QUOTE(beartrap @ Oct 4 2006, 12:01 AM) ☐
>
> Nonetheless, it is out. There is way to unring the proverbial bell.

You are so correct. That being the case, it would seem to me that the best route to take from here.... "go with the flow" as Calvin says.... will be to give a certain and clear "ring" to the bell.

For starters, let's look at some of the history of the sending of this statement. It was, as I have noted, to be distributed only by email, and it was to always be accompanied by the cover letter with which it was originally sent. It was channeled through Johann, with him sending out the first waves, and others who received it sending it on to others who fit the criteria specified. That first wave included several of the top leaders of our church as well as some of the primary persons involved in the 3abn saga for the last two plus years.

It was first distributed shortly before the ASI Conference this summer, and came to Danny's attention at that time. His reaction was to first of all claim that Alyssa didn't really do it of her own initiative, that he had talked to her since the statement came out, and that it meant nothing.... in reality he and Alyssa were very "close friends". Some who heard his reaction at ASI checked with Alyssa and found that there was no truth in what Danny was saying, and in fact Danny did not even have Alyssa's current phone numbers.

At about the same time, or shortly thereafter, Alyssa made notarized copies of her statement and mailed them in hard copy to selected top church officers. This, I am told, created such a great stir in the GC waters that it sent 3abn into a "circle the wagons" mode, which was made obvious in their "3ABN Today LIVE" two hour special which was shown multiple times the weekend of August 11-13.

Note that we have previously discussed this on BSDA under the thread entitled, "3abn Presents "the Battle ..." Don't Miss It, Special program rerun times...." where we noted that Shelly Quinn's sermon in particular was best understood by those of us who knew of the statement made by Alyssa. See http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?showtopic=10422

At present, I am told that 3abn is demanding a "hearing" with Alyssa.... something that some of us feel is a rather inhumane way for her to go, and are hoping that she will refuse. Something as difficult for her to handle as this has to be, certainly should be handled in a counseling atmosphere rather than an adversarial one. But this is one of those things which are currently residing under the "we have to wait and see" rubric .... trusting that God has supplied her with wise and kind counselors.... both legal and psychological.... so that she is having all the help necessary to move through whatever lies ahead in this area.

Others are, I am sure, much more acquainted with the details of what it must have been like growing up as a step-daughter in the Danny Shelton household, with Melody and Danny's relationship as the closest "model" on which to build her concepts of what a father/daughter relationship should "look like". I hope that they will give us some insights into that.

Others who are reading here are trained counselors.... I hope they will now speak up and discuss in a general and professional way the hurdles and phases of healing that someone who has undergone experiences like this have to face and go through.

We have already heard from Barbara Kerr, who seemingly was the first to learn what had happened and pass it on to Linda.... who until that time had not known of it. She shared something of the way she learned about it with us in the thread pinned at the top of the menu, entitled, http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?showtopic=10489. You'll find her comments on this near the end of her original letter. While I am sure there is still much that she knows that she will not share with us because of the delicate and personal nature of the information, I do hope Barb will come back and help us in our understanding of what has and is going on in this area.

May we be especially kind and loving in our discussion of this topic is my prayer today.

Posted by: Clay Oct 4 2006, 07:41 AM

she does not need to meet with 3ABN.... she alleges inappropriate behavior, file criminal charges and let the chips fall where they may.....

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Oct 4 2006, 07:54 AM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Oct 4 2006, 05:16 AM)
>
> At present, I am told that 3abn is demanding a "hearing" with Alyssa.... something that some of us feel is a rather inhumane way for her to go, and are hoping that she will refuse. Something as difficult for her to handle as this has to be, certainly should be handled in a counseling atmosphere rather than an adversarial one. But this is one of those things which are currently residing under the "we have to wait and see" rubric .... trusting that God has supplied her with wise and kind counselors.... both legal and psychological.... so that she is having all the help necessary to move through whatever lies ahead in this area.
>
> May we be especially kind and loving in our discussion of this topic is my prayer today.

I am not a counselor but, in my opinion, Alyssa has already taken one of the most stressful steps by sharing her experience with conference leaders. I'm fairly certain she would have carefully thought about all of the ramifications coming forward could lead to, including "hearings" on the issue.

I'm concerned that if she refuses it could be viewed and exploited as an admission that her claims are unfounded. Of course, the venue of any such hearings should certainly be neutral and non-adversarial before consenting to their demands.

This young woman has proven that she has endurance just by the fact that she has survived the rigors of becoming a doctor - no light task! I'm not saying that a hearing would be a walk in the park for her, just that she appears to have the moxie to withstand it.

Posted by: Clay Oct 4 2006, 07:58 AM

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Oct 4 2006, 08:54 AM)
>
> I'm concerned that if she refuses it could be viewed and exploited as an admission that her claims are unfounded. Of course, the venue of any such hearings should certainly be neutral and non-adversarial before consenting to their demands.
>
> This young woman has proven that she has endurance just by the fact that she has survived the rigors of becoming a doctor - no light task! I'm not saying that a hearing would be a walk in the park for her, just that she appears to have the moxie to withstand it.

there is no rule written anywhere that says she is obligated to meet with people from 3abn who is owned and operated by the alleged perp.... and they are stupid for even requesting it..... she needs to file charges, hire a lawyer and let whomever talk to the lawyer....

Posted by: simplysaved Oct 4 2006, 08:02 AM

I agree 100%....no "alleged sexual abuse victim" should ever have to face an alleged perpetrator in this context....that would do nothing but re-traumatize the victim....

> QUOTE(Clay @ Oct 4 2006, 07:58 AM) ☐
>
> there is no rule written anywhere that says she is obligated to meet with people from 3abn who is owned and operated by the alleged perp.... and they are stupid for even requesting it..... she needs to file charges, hire a lawyer and let whomever talk to the lawyer....

Posted by: Clay Oct 4 2006, 08:07 AM

> QUOTE(simplysaved @ Oct 4 2006, 09:02 AM) ☐
>
> I agree 100%....no "alleged sexual abuse victim" should ever have to face an alleged perpetrator in this context....that would do nothing but re-traumatize the victim....

yanno.... your comment is definitely on point... I think folks have lost their mind.... she is not obligated to meet with them ever....

Posted by: lurker Oct 4 2006, 08:09 AM

If Alyssa meets with the 3ABN people, she would be "put on trial" as to her truthfullness. She would be in the same position as they attempted to put Linda in when they tried to censure her. Alyssa's words will be twisted if she meets with them. Her words will likely be twisted and/or lied about if she even communicates privately with any of them especially with Danny.

She has spoken.

Posted by: calvin Oct 4 2006, 08:17 AM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Oct 3 2006, 11:45 PM) ☐
>
> This is simply not true.... that it was "meant to be shared" on any forum..... and it is a real violation of express instructions that were sent out with each copy of this letter where the permission to share was very specifically limited to "ministers and church leaders", and where it was expressly directed to NOT post it on any public forum. I would hope that Calvin would make an exception of not pulling any posts and would pull this one. It was also requested that her name not be used in any discussions on a public forum, but only to identify her as Linda's daughter. That may seem like a minute distinction to some, but one's name is a very important and precious thing, and I am extremely saddened that someone would brazenly go against her express wishes in this regard.
>
> Yes we were, and we shared with you assuming you would honor her and our request to respect her wishes as to distribution. I am exceedingly disappointed in your actions regarding this.

Then Watchbird you are going to have to be disappointed. You did request that this letter not be published here, some request are honored some are not. That's the way it works. We are way too far into this saga to start protecting people. I find it ironic that you would make such a request since you have been very vocal in your opinion of others associated with this ministry. I suspect some of those individuals would rather not be discussed on BSDA either.

Alyssa put this letter out there, that put it in play for discussion here or anywhere else. Maybe those of you who know Alyssa should let her know that she can't be so naïve to think that she can have any control over the media to which a communication is distributed or where it may end up...and Watchbird you are not that naïve either.

Posted by: simplysaved Oct 4 2006, 08:30 AM

That is not the clinical or spiritual concern...bottom line is Matthew 18 does not refer to IMHO and professional opinion, to abuse or power-based (control) situations; in those instances you do need to have a second person--and physical advocate for emotional support...I stand corrected: The moment that an "alleged victim" tells you "NO" or "STOP" they have come to you one on one...the next step is getting help (i.e. getting another brother/sister involved).

In this situation, an alleged victim would be intimidated by a corporation trying to determine what did or did not happen---their concerns are secondary and totally out of line.

> QUOTE(lurker @ Oct 4 2006, 08:09 AM)
>
> If Alyssa meets with the 3ABN people, she would be "put on trial" as to her truthfullness. She would be in the same position as they attempted to put Linda in when they tried to censure her. Alyssa's words will be twisted if she meets with them. Her words will likely be twisted and/or lied about if she even communicates privately with any of them especially with Danny.
>
> She has spoken.

Thank you for saying that....while I am very sensitive to this kind of situation clinically and otherwise, we have to be very careful what we put out in the public---because when we do, you can't cry foul and demand that certain issues/allegations be off limits...

Perhaps that is why God gave EGW the counsel that we should try to resolve most issues privately and not in public...or as the Bible says more specifically, sometimes we have to allow God to decide what needs to be public...even allowing ourselves to be "defrauded" in something, because the end damage is often unexpected and far more reaching....

> QUOTE(calvin @ Oct 4 2006, 08:17 AM)
>
> Then Watchbird you are going to have to be disappointed. You did request that this letter not be published here, some request are honored some are not. That's the way it works. We are way too far into this saga to start protecting people. I find it ironic that you would make such a request since you have been very vocal in your opinion of others associated with this ministry. I suspect some of those individuals would rather not be discussed on BSDA either.
>
> Alyssa put this letter out there, that put it in play for discussion here or anywhere else. Maybe those of you who know Alyssa should let her know that she can't be so naïve to think that she can have any control over the media to which a communication is distributed or where it may end up...and Watchbird you are not that naïve either.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Oct 4 2006, 08:47 AM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Oct 4 2006, 05:58 AM)
>
> there is no rule written anywhere that says she is obligated to meet with people from 3abn who is owned and operated by the alleged perp.... and they are stupid for even requesting it..... she needs to file charges, hire a lawyer and let whomever talk to the lawyer....

Which is exactly why I submitted that the venue should be neutral and non-adversarial. I believe that as an alleged victim of this sexual abuse she has a responsibility to herself to file charges and take her power back. But that is my own opinion and I speak from experience. The perve who assaulted me died before I could face him in court and watch him be brought to justice.

Posted by: simplysaved Oct 4 2006, 09:10 AM

Agreed...What we sometimes consider the persuit of "justice" may often lead (unintentionally) to exploitation in another area...one in which we cannot protect those who need it the most...

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Oct 4 2006, 08:47 AM)
>
> Which is exactly why I submitted that the venue should be neutral and non-adversarial. I believe that as an alleged victim of this sexual abuse she has a responsibility to herself to file charges and take her power back. But that is my own opinion and I speak from experience. The perve who assaulted me died before I could face him in court and watch him be brought to justice.

I pray that you now feel free and safe from harm...

Posted by: västergötland Oct 4 2006, 09:23 AM

I wonder if we sometimes deprive people of justice in the name of "protecting" them? Maybe the only person who is really protected by this "protectionism" is the potential "criminal"? An organisation that is presumably built on a foundation of truth has everything to win and nothing to lose from transparency and everything to lose and nothing to win from hiding embarasing things.
This is all embarasing to the church that this has happened and for every step that is taken to push it under the radarscreen of the general public or hide it under the rug, it will be ten times as embarasing when the truth is finaly light up on the hilltop where all truth will eventually end.
It is also my oppinion that those people who will be hurt by this revelation today will be twise as hurt tomorrow if the delay is intentionally caused by probably wellmeaning people. The proverbial paved road to hell...

On the whole, I dont see what anyone with honest intentions could possibly gain by pushing things into the future...

Posted by: caribbean sda Oct 4 2006, 09:27 AM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Oct 4 2006, 11:17 AM)
>
> Alyssa put this letter out there, that put it in play for discussion here or anywhere else. Maybe those of you who know Alyssa should let her know that she can't be so naïve to think that she can have any control over the media to which a communication is distributed or where it may end up...and Watchbird you are not that naïve either.

You're right Calvin...before anything is committed to writing and distributed anywhere...the writer should realize that his or her communication has the potential to reach a wider audience than is intended...and if that is unacceptable to him or her, then the choice should be made whether or not to write and send. Anytime something is written down, the chance of it ending up in places other than where it was intended to go is great...(just ask a former congressman from Florida)... Now i'm not saying that we shouldn't be sensitive to the matter currently in discussion, we should...but that's the reality of it

---

Posted by: Nuggie Oct 4 2006, 09:33 AM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Oct 4 2006, 09:17 AM)
>
> Then Watchbird you are going to have to be disappointed. You did request that this letter not be published here, some request are honored some are not. That's the way it works. We are way too far into this saga to start protecting people. I find it ironic that you would make such a request since you have been very vocal in your opinion of others associated with this ministry. I suspect some of those individuals would rather not be discussed on BSDA either.
>
> Alyssa put this letter out there, that put it in play for discussion here or anywhere else. Maybe those of you who know Alyssa should let her know that she can't be so naïve to think that she can have any control over the media to which a communication is distributed or where it may end up...and Watchbird you are not that naïve either.

You're on point as always, Calvin...once this letter was put in circulation it became fair game for discussion anywhere. Whoever's counseling this young lady should have told her that. But now is not the time to pick and choose what should be discussed...folks haven't exactly been circumspect in what they put out there--either directly or through insinuation.

I'm kinda tired of the whole saga, really...think I'll just go back to lurk mode ☒ sn ...carry on...

Posted by: simplysaved Oct 4 2006, 09:40 AM

But the concern is that according to watchbird, Allyssa did not want this to become public but to be handled by the church leaders...if that is the case, she has been re-victimized by having this letter posted. And that IMHO is sin and wrong.

As an alleged victim she has the right to her dignity and part of re-gaining control and enpowerment is to be able to choose how, when, and where you share your experience. This would then further take away her power....bottom line it is about the VICTIM and not what outsiders feel is right.

> QUOTE(västergötland @ Oct 4 2006, 09:23 AM)
>
> I wonder if we sometimes deprive people of justice in the name of "protecting" them? Maybe the only person who is really protected by this "protectionism" is the potential "criminal"? An organisation that is presumably built on a foundation of truth has everything to win and nothing to lose from transparency and everything to lose and nothing to win from hiding embarasing things. This is all embarasing to the church that this has happened and for every step that is taken to push it under the radarscreen of the general public or hide it under the rug, it will be ten times as embarasing when the truth is finaly light up on the hilltop where all truth will eventually end.
> It is also my oppinion that those people who will be hurt by this revelation today will be twise as hurt tomorrow if the delay is intentionally caused by probably wellmeaning people. The proverbial paved road to hell...
>
> On the whole, I dont see what anyone with honest intentions could possibly gain by pushing things into the future...

Posted by: Denny Oct 4 2006, 09:47 AM

> QUOTE(simplysaved @ Oct 4 2006, 04:40 PM)
>
> But the concern is that according to watchbird, Allyssa did not want this to become public but to be handled by the church leaders...if that is the case, she has been re-victimized by having this letter posted. And that is sin and wrong.
>
> As an alleged victim she has the right to her dignity and part of re-gaining control and enpowerment is to be able to choose how, when, and where you share your experience. This would then further take away her power....bottom line it is about the VICTIM and not what outsiders feel is right.

If this is true I am sorry Ms Moore does not go to the police and report this . It is not the time to go into 'let the church handle it' mode unfortunately we all know what happens when that line is used it tends to mean 'cover it up time and blame the victim'.

Posted by: simplysaved Oct 4 2006, 09:50 AM

This is one of the main reasons victims do not go forward with allegations....I do not presume to know what is true or false here, but if the allegation is true and the alleged victim asked for it to be forwarded only to church leaders and GC...

I would still want the church to be a part of it even if I went to the police....I don't see why it has to be an either or....

But she needed to press charges as a private citizen...

> QUOTE(Denny @ Oct 4 2006, 09:47 AM)
>
> If this is true I am sorry Ms Moore does not go to the police and report this . It is not the time to go into 'let the church handle it' mode unfortunately we all know what happens when that line is used it tends to mean 'cover it up time and blame the victim'.

Posted by: Clay Oct 4 2006, 09:52 AM

> QUOTE(simplysaved @ Oct 4 2006, 10:50 AM)
>
> This is one of the main reasons victims do not go forward with allegations....I do not presume to know what is true or false here, but if the allegation is true and the alleged victim asked for it to be forwarded only to church leaders and GC...
>
> I would still want the church to be a part of it even if I went to the police....I don't see why it has to be an either or....
>
> But she needed to press charges as a private citizen...

asking the church to handle it is sort of like the fox guarding the hen house... something may or may not be done.... go to the police...

Posted by: watchbird Oct 4 2006, 09:55 AM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Oct 4 2006, 08:17 AM)
>
> Then Watchbird you are going to have to be disappointed. You did request that this letter not be published here, some request are honored some are not. That's the way it works. We are way too far into this saga to start protecting people. I find it ironic that you would make such a request since you have been very vocal in your opinion of others associated with this ministry. I suspect some of those individuals would rather not be discussed on BSDA either.
>
> Alyssa put this letter out there, that put it in play for discussion here or anywhere else. Maybe those of you who know Alyssa should let her know that she can't be so naïve to think that she can have any control over the media to which a communication is distributed or where it may end up...and Watchbird you are not that naïve either.

You are correct. I am not. And on second thoughts today, I am grateful for the time lag that has occurred, and am satisfied that this is the appropriate time to have brought it out. I think the time lag has worked to everyone's advantage, including Alyssa.... as well as those of us who now are freed to explore the topic. The delay has given time to see what others would do with the information.... so we all have better perspectives from which to comment than we did a couple months ago when it first came out.

So thank you for the delay.... and let's move along from here.

Posted by: simplysaved Oct 4 2006, 09:56 AM

Says a man (with all do respect) that works out on a regular basis....being a victim is a different ballgame...especially a female one....You need that support from your church support system....

Better yet ask God what to do...and do whatever He says...if He says go straight to the police, go to the police....

> QUOTE(Clay @ Oct 4 2006, 10:52 AM) ☐
>
> asking the church to handle it is sort of like the fox guarding the hen house... something may or may not be done.... go to the police...

Posted by: Clay Oct 4 2006, 10:01 AM

> QUOTE(simplysaved @ Oct 4 2006, 09:56 AM) ☐
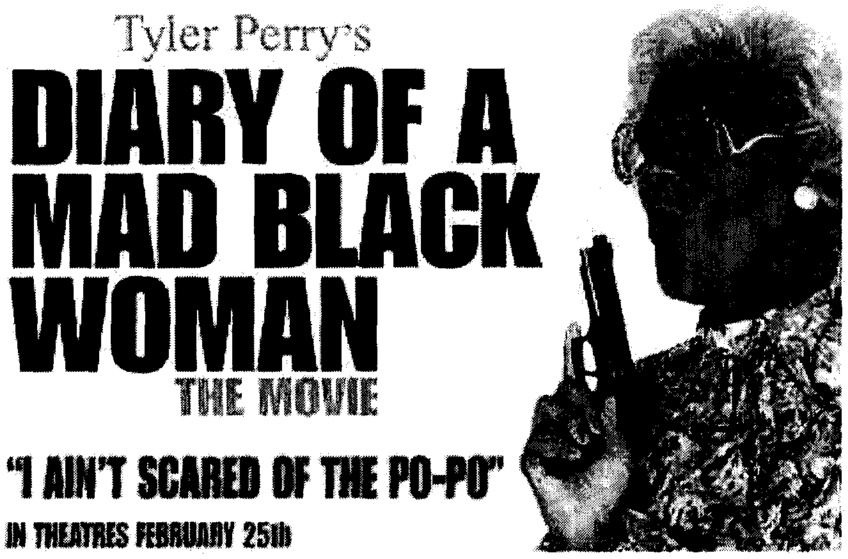
>
> Says a man (with all do respect) that works out on a regular basis....being a victim is a different ballgame...especially a female one....You need that support from your church support system....
>
> Better yet ask God what to do...and do whatever He says...if He says go straight to the police, go to the police....

victims male or female want justice.... the church has a history of NOT being supportive, of telling victims NOT to press charges.... as one who is in law enforcement as well as a an advocate for patient rights, I say go to the po po....



Posted by: Denny Oct 4 2006, 10:01 AM

> QUOTE(simplysaved @ Oct 4 2006, 04:56 PM)
>
> Says a man (with all do respect) that works out on a regular basis....being a victim is a different ballgame...especially a female one....You need that support from your church support system....
>
> Better yet ask God what to do...and do whatever He says...if He says go straight to the police, go to the police....

Does one really expect to get support from the perpretors employer that is what the church is in this case - a indirect employer so from the start church is not neutral. Using this as an example being a victim does not mean common sense goes out the window. But like you said Go to God first.

Posted by: watchbird Oct 4 2006, 10:05 AM

> QUOTE(simplysaved @ Oct 4 2006, 09:40 AM)
>
> But the concern is that according to watchbird, Allyssa did not want this to become public but to be handled by the church leaders...if that is the case, she has been re-victimized by having this letter posted. And that IMHO is sin and wrong.

> As an alleged victim she has the right to her dignity and part of re-gaining control and enpowerment is to be able to choose how, when, and where you share your experience. This would then further take away her power....bottom line it is about the VICTIM and not what outsiders feel is right.

I think this last is why we tried to honor her requests to limit distribution as long as possible. I do not personally know if she has come to terms with the recognition that it could not stay in limited circulation for very long or not. I do know that she was amply warned at the time that this would be the case.... sooner or later, with as wide a circulation as she was allowing, someone would ignore the requests and throw it wide open.

I don't think that she has been "re-victimized" by the opening of this to the public now. She has had some time to know just how much the church leaders will do and what they will not do. They have been given their chance..... and they did not choose to act, at least not in a way that was visible and that plainly suspended the abuser.

Hopefully she will see this ... or come to see it shortly ... as freeing her to proceed with legal action against him.... something that is very hard for some segments of Adventism to accept as being right and proper.

> QUOTE(simplysaved @ Oct 4 2006, 09:50 AM)
>
> This is one of the main reasons victims do not go forward with allegations....I do not presume to know what is true or false here, but if the allegation is true and the alleged victim asked for it to be forwarded only to church leaders and GC...
>
> I would still want the church to be a part of it even if I went to the police....I don't see why it has to be an either or....
>
> But she needed to press charges as a private citizen...

Posted by: watchbird Oct 4 2006, 10:17 AM

> QUOTE(simplysaved @ Oct 4 2006, 09:56 AM)
>
> Says a man (with all do respect) that works out on a regular basis....being a victim is a different ballgame...especially a female one....You need that support from your church support system....
>
> Better yet ask God what to do...and do whatever He says...if He says go straight to the police, go to the police....

> QUOTE(Clay @ Oct 4 2006, 10:01 AM)
>
> victims male or female want justice.... the church has a history of NOT being supportive, of telling victims NOT to press charges.... as one who is in law enforcement as well as a an advocate for patient rights, I say go to the po po....

Agreed... but SS has a point also.... that there is support a victim needs that is personal and up-close and has little or nothing to do with the "support" that seeks for and administers justice.

I think the delay periods ... and there were two quite different ones ... the one from the time that she first told Barbara Kerr about it until the time she had gathered a private support system sufficiently strong to enable her to make the public statement.... and the second one from the time that went out to the present. I'm very sure that she added to her support system after the release of the statement. And while I'm not a professional in this area, I think that would be very important in strengthening her for the public and legal steps that she will need to face next.

One additional note to this is that the GC has, in the last few years.... not sure just when.... taken formal positions about what steps to take in cases like this.... and they DO include notifying the law enforcement agencies immediately upon the allegations....

Why haven't the Family Ministries personell been involved in any of the 3abn allegations? I wish I knew. Does anyone have any direct lines to any of them?

Posted by: Ralph Oct 4 2006, 10:19 AM

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Oct 3 2006, 09:29 PM) ☐
>
> She says, "I feel the need to share this information. I want to spare others...."
>
> So, apparently -- on the face of it -- it is meant to be shared.

You are correct in saying, "on the face of it -- it is meant to be shared."
"Source" did not send the full text of the cover letter that "Watchbird" alluded to.

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Oct 3 2006, 09:45 PM) ☐
>
> ... and it is a real violation of express instructions that were sent out with each copy of this letter where the permission to share was very specifically limited to "ministers and church leaders", and where it was expressly directed to NOT post it on any public forum.

With such a violation of trust, I can plainly see why others are reticent on speaking out.

Posted by: vonessa Oct 4 2006, 10:28 AM

I read this last night, and woke up inspired (little "i") to say that if Source meant to be private, she wouldn't have given it to anybody and kept it secret. Like you said, she wouldn't have told nobody if she wanted to keep it off line. She has counted the cost of telling this so that the curse of the flesh that Danny Shelton has brought forward might be revealed before us. If information exists, it is speech freedom, and the Holy Spirit has been in this discussion all the way along as it has revealed all hidden secrets as people have been inspired to share.

We have been shown that Danny had other problems, such as admitting to being responsible for the death of his first wife, and others that have been demonstrated here before us. Now we must pray that the details will not remain in the shadows for long but that all might be made plain so that when the Lord withdraws his blessing from 3ABN, it will be clear as to why it was done. Those with information or ideas about what may have happened must come forward because we cannot expect the Lord's blessing without doing our part.

Calvin, may you be blessed for encouraging this necessary discussion to continue. And thank you

Source for posting this. Without the Lord, this discussion would have ended months ago, but through His Spirit of discernment it will hold fast.

Posted by: awesumtenor Oct 4 2006, 10:28 AM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Oct 4 2006, 11:17 AM)
>
> Why haven't the Family Ministries personell been involved in any of the 3abn allegations? I wish I knew. Does anyone have any direct lines to any of them?

Wouldn't Kay Kuzma be a part of the church Family Ministries department or does she just play one for her column in the Review?

If she is, I can see why there would be reluctance to put any confidence in them...

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: watchbird Oct 4 2006, 10:32 AM

> QUOTE(awesumtenor @ Oct 4 2006, 10:28 AM)
>
> Wouldn't Kay Kuzma be a part of the church Family Ministries department or does she just play one for her column in the Review?
>
> If she is, I can see why there would be reluctance to put any confidence in them...
>
> In His service,
> Mr. J

I don't think so. I think she has her own "independent ministry" .... or business.... not sure what she calls it. And must be under some contract with 3abn.... and she writes a colum for Adventist Review. Have no idea, really as to what the GCFM folk think of her.

Posted by: simplysaved Oct 4 2006, 10:48 AM

The recent case at Camp Wagner in Lake Region is an good example of support on all levels....the church was as progressive as the parents and supportive of what the families did as private citizens without excuse or cover-ups....

> QUOTE(Denny @ Oct 4 2006, 10:01 AM)
>
> Does one really expect to get support from the perpretors employer that is what the church is in this case - a indirect employer so from the start church is not neutral. Using this as an example being a victim does not mean common sense goes out the window. But like you said Go to God > first.

Posted by: TLC Oct 4 2006, 11:02 AM

> QUOTE(vonessa @ Oct 4 2006, 10:28 AM)
>
> I read this last night, and woke up inspired (little "i") to say that if Source meant to be private, she wouldn't have given it to anybody and kept it secret. Like you said, she wouldn't have told nobody if she wanted to keep it off line. She has counted the cost of telling this so that the curse of the flesh that Danny Shelton has brought forward might be revealed before us. If information exists, it is speech freedom, and the Holy Spirit has been in this discussion all the way along as it has revealed all hidden secrets as people have been inspired to share.
>
> We have been shown that Danny had other problems, such as admitting to being responsible for the death of his first wife, and others that have been demonstrated here before us. Now we must pray that the details will not remain in the shadows for long but that all might be made plain so that when the Lord withdraws his blessing from 3ABN, it will be clear as to why it was done. Those with information or ideas about what may have happened must come forward because we cannot expect the Lord's blessing without doing our part.
>
> Calvin, may you be blessed for encouraging this necessary discussion to continue. And thank you Source for posting this. Without the Lord, this discussion would have ended months ago, but through His Spirit of discernment it will hold fast.

Posted by: simplysaved Oct 4 2006, 11:16 AM

I respectfully disagree with the "by any means necessary" perspective when it comes to people who are "alleged victims".

What God allows and God's Divine Will ARE NOT the same...

Posted by: watchbird Oct 4 2006, 11:37 AM

Vonessa, your posts would be much more appreciated if you were a little more careful in your recital of information. It is difficult sometimes to know if you are exaggerating for effect, or are careless in your reading, or are deliberately making unwarrented claims and conclusions that will give new readers a wrong impression as to what has been said here.

Examples from your recent post ....

> QUOTE(vonessa @ Oct 4 2006, 10:28 AM)
>
> I read this last night, and woke up inspired (little "i") to say that if Source meant to be private, she wouldn't have given it to anybody and kept it secret. Like you said, she wouldn't have told nobody if she wanted to keep it off line. She has counted the cost of telling this so that the curse of the flesh that Danny Shelton has brought forward might be revealed before us. If information exists, it is > speech freedom, and the Holy Spirit has been in this discussion all the way along as it has revealed all hidden secrets as people have been inspired to share.

There is no indication that Source is the author of the statement he posted.

> QUOTE
>
> We have been shown that Danny had other problems, such as admitting to being responsible for the death of his first wife, and others that have been demonstrated here before us.

No.... we have NOT "been shown" any such thing. There have been some questions asked that indicated that some have had suspicions of that ... but there has been nothing "shown" ... and there was certainly never any speculation that Danny had admitted to any such responsibility.

> QUOTE
>
> Now we must pray that the details will not remain in the shadows for long but that all might be made plain so that when the Lord withdraws his blessing from 3ABN, it will be clear as to why it was done. Those with information or ideas about what may have happened must come forward because we cannot expect the Lord's blessing without doing our part.

We would, I am sure, appreciate this paragraph much more had you not embedded it in untrue allegations as to what has been said here as you have done.

Posted by: paleface Oct 4 2006, 11:47 AM

Isn't "Source" a "m" meaning male?

Posted by: watchbird Oct 4 2006, 12:30 PM

> QUOTE(paleface @ Oct 4 2006, 11:47 AM)
>
> Isn't "Source" a "m" meaning male?

.... Blush.... sorry. ...... And in a post where I wuz complaining about someone not reading carefully! I shall go edit it real quick!

Thank you much .... if'n I gotta "eat crow" I'd shur druther it'd be fresh!

sn

Posted by: calvin Oct 4 2006, 12:36 PM

> QUOTE(vonessa @ Oct 4 2006, 10:28 AM)
>
> We have been shown that Danny had other problems, such as admitting to being responsible for the death of his first wife, and others that have been demonstrated here before us.

Vonessa you are finish here. I have said on a number of occasions that we are limiting our discussion of Danny Shelton to as it relates to 3ABN. We are NOT going to speculate on his prior life. Vonessa you have been here long enough to know better....and I will continue putting people out if you can't follow this one simple guideline.

Posted by: calvin Oct 4 2006, 02:18 PM

Wha I do, scare eveybody off? I anit mad at jus

Posted by: västergötland Oct 4 2006, 02:42 PM

Simply, read this and ponder together with my last post in the thread.

1Pe 2:13 Be subject to every ordinance of man for the Lord's sake: whether to the king, as supreme;
1Pe 2:14 or unto governors, as sent by him for vengeance on evil-doers and for praise to them that do well.
1Pe 2:15 For so is the will of God, that by well-doing ye should put to silence the ignorance of foolish men:
1Pe 2:16 as free, and not using your freedom for a cloak of wickedness, but as bondservants of God.
1Pe 2:17 Honor all men. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honor the king.
1Pe 2:18 Servants, be in subjection to your masters with all fear; not only to the good and gentle, but also to the froward.
1Pe 2:19 For this is acceptable, if for conscience toward God a man endureth griefs, suffering wrongfully.
1Pe 2:20 For what glory is it, if, when ye sin, and are buffeted for it, ye shall take it patiently? but if, when ye do well, and suffer for it, ye shall take it patiently, this is acceptable with God.

Posted by: princessdi Oct 4 2006, 02:42 PM

You know how it is when one child gets a whooppin' the rest get quiet! LOL!!!

> QUOTE(calvin @ Oct 4 2006, 01:18 PM)
>
> Wha I do, scare eveybody off? I anit mad at jus

Posted by: Chez Oct 4 2006, 03:11 PM

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Oct 4 2006, 03:42 PM) ☐
>
> You know how it is when one child gets a whooppin' the rest get quiet! LOL!!! ☒

I know that's real. We are making sure that we're behaving. ☐

Posted by: Nuggie Oct 4 2006, 03:19 PM

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Oct 4 2006, 02:42 PM) ☐
>
> You know how it is when one child gets a whooppin' the rest get quiet! LOL!!! ☒

Girl, that's for real...we stay out of sight for the rest of the night just in case there's some residual whooppin' or whooppin' by association! ☒

Posted by: simplysaved Oct 4 2006, 03:26 PM

☐ ☐ ☒ bot

> QUOTE(Nuggie @ Oct 4 2006, 04:19 PM) ☐
>
> Girl, that's for real...we stay out of sight for the rest of the night just in case there's some residual whooppin' or whooppin' by association! ☒

Posted by: seeshell Oct 4 2006, 03:30 PM

Oh yeah, remember that feeling when a sibling got whupped... ☐

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Oct 4 2006, 03:33 PM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Oct 4 2006, 09:01 AM)
>
> victims male or female want justice.... the church has a history of NOT being supportive, of telling victims NOT to press charges.... as one who is in law enforcement as well as a an advocate for patient rights, I say go to the po po....
>
> >

Many churches have counseled victims not to press charges. That has allowed the perps to find more victims. Not a good idea.

Posted by: Clay Oct 4 2006, 03:39 PM

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Oct 4 2006, 03:33 PM)
>
> Many churches have couseled victims not to press charges. That has allowed the perps to find more victims. Not a good idea.

thank you PB.... thats where I am coming from... churches want to keep it inhouse and the perp goes on.... in some cases continuing for years, harming who knows how many...

Posted by: västergötland Oct 4 2006, 03:41 PM

There is an old fable. It tells of a man with a tame bear. The man went to sleap and a while later a fly sat down on mans nose. Now this was a nice bear who loved his master and would not want him to be disturbed by a fly in his sleap. So the bear lifted his paw and smacked the fly, and unfortunately the mans head aswell. The man was never again disturbed by any flies, in fact, he > was never disturbed at all after that.

>
> From this fable we get a saying that would roughly translate to "bears service". Something which has all good intentions but with clearly opposite and probably catastrophic results. I do not know if this same or a similar saying exists in english or not.
>
> Now to link this to the thread. How can we be sertain that this fable doesnt have anything to teach in this situation that is presently discussed in this thread?

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Oct 4 2006, 03:48 PM

> QUOTE(seeshell @ Oct 4 2006, 02:30 PM)
>
> Oh yeah, remember that feeling when a sibling got whupped...

In my family I, as the oldest, was the Whoopee. My younger siblings learned from my mistakes. They mostly turned out better than me as well...hmmmm.

Posted by: Jewel50 Oct 4 2006, 03:53 PM

> QUOTE(Denny @ Oct 4 2006, 07:47 AM)
>
> If this is true I am sorry Ms Moore does not go to the police and report this . It is not the time to go into 'let the church handle it' mode unfortunately we all know what happens when that line is used it tends to mean 'cover it up time and blame the victim'.

A thousand AMENS to the part about how the church tends to cover it all up and blame the victum. I can testify to that. She needs turn him in, but not to the church sorry to say. They just do nothing to help victums.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Oct 4 2006, 03:58 PM

> QUOTE(västergötland @ Oct 4 2006, 02:41 PM)
>
> There is an old fable. It tells of a man with a tame bear. The man went to sleap and a while later a fly sat down on mans nose. Now this was a nice bear who loved his master and would not want him to be disturbed by a fly in his sleap. So the bear lifted his paw and smacked the fly, and unfortunately the mans head aswell. The man was never again disturbed by any flies, in fact, he was never disturbed at all after that.
>
> From this fable we get a saying that would roughly translate to "bears service". Something which has all good intentions but with clearly opposite and probably catastrophic results. I do not know if this same or a similar saying exists in english or not.
>
> Now to link this to the thread. How can we be sertain that this fable doesnt have anything to teach > in this situation that is presently discussed in this thread?

Personally I can't think of of any U.S. sayings except for possibly "his intentions were good". It is my opinion that the "bears service" could apply here.

I would love to see the Swedish word or words that translates "bears service", and a phonetic pronunciation would be nice as well. It sounds like a term I would like to incorporate into my vocabulary.

Posted by: sister Oct 4 2006, 04:28 PM

> QUOTE(västergötland @ Oct 4 2006, 04:41 PM)
>
> There is an old fable. It tells of a man with a tame bear. The man went to sleap and a while later a fly sat down on mans nose. Now this was a nice bear who loved his master and would not want him to be disturbed by a fly in his sleap. So the bear lifted his paw and smacked the fly, and unfortunately the mans head aswell. The man was never again disturbed by any flies, in fact, he was never disturbed at all after that.
>
> From this fable we get a saying that would roughly translate to "bears service". Something which has all good intentions but with clearly opposite and probably catastrophic results. I do not know if this same or a similar saying exists in english or not.
>
> Now to link this to the thread. How can we be sertain that this fable doesnt have anything to teach in this situation that is presently discussed in this thread?

I think the english expression that would best fit this situation is: "The road to hell is paved with good intentions."

Posted by: watchbird Oct 4 2006, 04:48 PM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Oct 4 2006, 02:18 PM)
>
> Wha I do, scare eveybody off? I anit mad at jus

Jish .... for two hours nobody posted in this thread ... and you think you scared us all off? Hey ... don't we get NO time for a life off of your screen. Give us a break .... slave driver!!!!!

2n b whi

We'll be back soon....... tableta ..... band.gif .....

Posted by: princessdi Oct 4 2006, 04:53 PM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Oct 4 2006, 03:48 PM)
>
> Jish .... for two hours nobody posted in this thread ... and you think you scared us all off? Hey ... don't we get NO time for a life off of your screen. Give us a break .... slave driver!!!!!
>
> We'll be back soon....... tableta ..... band.gif .....

Posted by: watchbird Oct 4 2006, 04:59 PM

> QUOTE(västergötland @ Oct 4 2006, 03:41 PM)
>
> There is an old fable. It tells of a man with a tame bear. The man went to sleap and a while later a fly sat down on mans nose. Now this was a nice bear who loved his master and would not want him to be disturbed by a fly in his sleap. So the bear lifted his paw and smacked the fly, and unfortunately the mans head aswell. The man was never again disturbed by any flies, in fact, he was never disturbed at all after that.
>
> From this fable we get a saying that would roughly translate to "bears service". Something which has all good intentions but with clearly opposite and probably catastrophic results. I do not know if this same or a similar saying exists in english or not.
>
> Now to link this to the thread. How can we be sertain that this fable doesnt have anything to teach in this situation that is presently discussed in this thread?

OK..... color me dense. I'm not getting the connection...maybe because I'm not sure what "situation that is presently discussed" means in this context.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Oct 4 2006, 05:28 PM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Oct 4 2006, 03:59 PM)
>
> OK..... color me dense. I'm not getting the connection...maybe because I'm not sure what "situation that is presently discussed" means in this context.

Perhaps that by trying to protect Alyssa from the trauma of confronting her attacker they are actually causing her damage in the long run. That's what I got anyway.

Posted by: AmeliaLD Oct 4 2006, 06:27 PM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Oct 4 2006, 11:36 AM) ☐
>
> I have said on a number of occasions that we are limiting our discussion of Danny Shelton as it relates to 3ABN. We are NOT going to speculate on his prior life.

How far in the past does a matter have to occur for it to be "prior life"? Just curious 'cause 6 years is a fair bit of time Or do you mean Dannys life before Linda?

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Oct 4 2006, 07:01 PM

I was wondering the same thing.

If the prior life is connected to the present life, then isn't it relevant?

As far as this topic goes, at MSDAOL, I as the Administrator there agreed not to post it there, and, even though it has now been posted here, unless I am relieved from this agreement, I do not plan on posting it there.

Posted by: sister Oct 4 2006, 07:16 PM

> QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Oct 4 2006, 08:01 PM) ☐
>
> I was wondering the same thing.
>
> If the prior life is connected to the present life, then isn't it relevant?

The official rule at BSDA is that everything that took place before the founding of 3ABN is off limits, relevant or not...

Posted by: Uncle Sam Oct 4 2006, 07:27 PM

Not to defend the GC but...Don't you think it is a little suspicious to them that it is Linda's daughter making the accusations? If, they believe Linda had an affair than couldn't this be "revenge" ? So there may not be any credibility...

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Oct 4 2006, 07:45 PM

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Oct 4 2006, 03:42 PM)
>
> You know how it is when one child gets a whooppin' the rest get quiet! LOL!!!

There were a whole bunch in my family and a whole lotta silence!
rofl

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Oct 4 2006, 08:04 PM

I'm going to apologize now for making everyone thoroughly upset but it's my opinion...

For months this issue has been discussed and I can't count how any times people on the inside said something to the effect of how critical it was to get people on BSDA so that people would know what was happening at 3ABN. (Without specifics of course) Now, after this incredible statement is published (inevitably), "source" is smacked on the hands.

I would normally be the first to say that it would have been appropriate to follow instructions given by the victim. HOWEVER, this is too great and public of a matter to be dealt with quietly and within the confines of the church.

Time and time again history has proven that most organizations choose to keep their secrets secret. So, I'm really unsure as to why this being published is a bad thing. With this statement in the open, the public has something solid to stand on.

3ABN chose years ago to keep Scott Grady's secrets secret and he went on to unknowing victims. IF GIVEN THE CHANCE 3ABN WILL DO IT AGAIN! DOESN'T ANYONE SEE? By allowing the information out it FORCES the issue to be looked at differently, and I dare say, more seriously since the church and the "business" have much more to worry about.

HAVE WE ALL FORGOTTEN THAT IT IS US THAT FUNDS THESE ENTITIES?

Posted by: calvin Oct 4 2006, 08:23 PM

> QUOTE(AmeliaLD @ Oct 4 2006, 06:27 PM)
>
> How far in the past does a matter have to occur for it to be "prior life"? Just curious 'cause 6 years is a fair bit of time Or do you mean Dannys life before Linda?

Somebody help me here, but I believe 3abn started in the mid-80's? That gives us 20+ years of stuff to talk about. Danny started 3abn with Linda as his wife. Whatever happen with his frist wife is out of scope.

Posted by: sister Oct 4 2006, 08:38 PM

> QUOTE(Uncle Sam @ Oct 4 2006, 08:27 PM)

> Not to defend the GC but...Don't you think it is a little suspicious to them that it is Linda's daughter making the accusations? If, they believe Linda had an affair than couldn't this be "revenge" ? So there may not be any credibility...

Uncle Sam, it sounds like to must have watched the "behind the scenes" program where Shelly Quinn preached on this very subject. In her sermon she accused the mother of using her daughter to make accusations against God's annointed prophet. She said they did not blame the daughter, that is was a scheme of the mother and the daughter was only a pawn in the game. It was clearly intended to give the spin you are now suggesting. Perhaps that is where you got this notion?

This is exactly what Danny Shelton and Walt Thompson want you to believe: everyone is a pathological liar who testifies of the heinous acts that Danny has done against them. The premise they have built their house of cards upon is that we are gullible enough to believe everyone is wrong who opposes Danny and that Danny's word is unquestionable truth. I would say LOL at this point, because it is such a ridiculous concept, but to the victims it really isn't very funny...

Posted by: Uncle Sam Oct 4 2006, 08:43 PM

> QUOTE(sister @ Oct 4 2006, 07:38 PM) ☐
>
> Uncle Sam, it sounds like to must have watched the "behind the scenes" program where Shelly Quinn preached on this very subject. In her sermon she accused the mother of using her daughter to make accusations against God's annointed prophet. She said they did not blame the daughter, that is was a scheme of the mother and the daughter was only a pawn in the game. It was clearly intended to give the spin you are now suggesting. Perhaps that is where you got this notion?
>
> This is exactly what Danny Shelton and Walt Thompson want you to believe: everyone is a pathological liar who testifies of the heinous acts that Danny has done against them. The premise they have built their house of cards upon is that we are gullible enough to believe everyone is wrong who opposes Danny and that Danny's word is unquestionable truth. I would say LOL at this point, because it is such a ridiculous concept, but to the victims it really isn't very funny...

I did not see that particular show. I am not saying it didn't happen but it would be nice if someone would come forward with something that doesn't seem to have a grudge against Danny...is that something in the works?

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Oct 4 2006, 09:24 PM

> QUOTE(Uncle Sam @ Oct 4 2006, 09:43 PM) ☐
>
> it would be nice if someone would come forward with something that doesn't seem to have a grudge against Danny...is that something in the works?

I'm sorry, Uncle Sam, but that just doesn't make any sense.

Would anyone be able to make any accusation without it looking like a grudge? If so, it would be a compliment and not an accusation...

Posted by: Lee Oct 4 2006, 09:30 PM

How old was this girl when these things happened to her? It sounded like she was "college" age? Would that be 18 or older? I don't know how old she was in 2000 when she said these things happened.

But would she be considered an adult at the time these things happened? Would this make a difference in a court of law?

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Oct 4 2006, 10:42 PM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Oct 4 2006, 07:04 PM) ☐
>
> I'm going to apologize now for making everyone thoroughly upset but it's my opinion...
>
> For months this issue has been discussed and I can't count how any times people on the inside said something to the effect of how critical it was to get people on BSDA so that people would know what was happening at 3ABN. (Without specifics of course) Now, after this incredible statement is published (inevitably), "source" is smacked on the hands.
>
> I would normally be the first to say that it would have been appropriate to follow instructions given by the victim. HOWEVER, this is too great and public of a matter to be dealt with quietly and within the confines of the church.
>
> Time and time again history has proven that most organizations choose to keep their secrets secret. So, I'm really unsure as to why this being published is a bad thing. With this statement in the open, the public has something solid to stand on.
>
> 3ABN chose years ago to keep Scott Grady's secrets secret and he went on to unknowing victims. IF GIVEN THE CHANCE 3ABN WILL DO IT AGAIN! DOESN'T ANYONE SEE? By allowing the information out it FORCES the issue to be looked at differently, and I dare say, more seriously since the church and the "business" have much more to worry about.
>
> HAVE WE ALL FORGOTTEN THAT IT IS US THAT FUNDS THESE ENTITIES?

When I read Source's post I noticed that he didn't make an introduction to the information he was posting as I have seen when others have posted letters not their own - such as Barbara Kerr's and chapters of The Televangelist.

Being fairly new I thought perhaps it was protocol to introduce and state whether permission had been given. I didn't feel I was slapping his hand. I was glad to finally read the much spoken of letter.

Now, who is Scott Grady and what did he do and who kept it secret and WHY?

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Oct 4 2006, 11:01 PM

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Oct 4 2006, 11:42 PM)
>
> Now, who is Scott Grady and what did he do and who kept it secret and WHY?

Boy are you in for a treat ... it's like hot fudge on top of this hot mess...

Scott Grady was a director who worked for 3ABN for quite a few years. Several women went to administration when Scott started sexually harassing them. Years later melody went to mollie saying that she was receiving calls from scott that were sexual in nature and had them recorded. (I should note that is speculated by many that it was actually an affair.) And to clear one thing - I was a first-hand witness to the harassent of 2 of the women and was willing to testify as were other men at the station - not counting the women. So whether scott and melody had an affair is secondary.

Once Dan heard what was happening, scott was suspended from the production truck and soon after even more women came out of the woodwork. Scott was NOT fired and there were no legal actions taken. With a dozen women's testimonies of the harassment, 3ABN felt that there were "no legal options."

He was allowed to resign and continues to work in ministries around the world. Nothing was done nor was there even a "kiss my rear end" for the women who were abused. Not a meeting, not a letter, nothing.

Scott's reputation is in tact as far as I know...that's 3ABN justice!

Posted by: västergötland Oct 4 2006, 11:48 PM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Oct 4 2006, 11:59 PM)
>
> OK..... color me dense. I'm not getting the connection...maybe because I'm not sure what "situation that is presently discussed" means in this context.

Who is the man getting smacked by his bear pal? Who is the bear doing the smacking? Come on, the context is in my other posts in this thread.

Posted by: watchbird Oct 5 2006, 03:55 AM

> QUOTE(västergötland @ Oct 4 2006, 11:48 PM)
>
> Who is the man getting smacked by his bear pal? Who is the bear doing the smacking? Come on, the context is in my other posts in this thread.

Those were my questions exactly. And I've examined your other posts.... and I still don't know.

Maybe you could PM me on it.

Posted by: västergötland Oct 5 2006, 05:05 AM

What if Alyssa is the bearowner? Who around is trying to help? What do I think about the actions so far presented?

If a crime has been done, it should be brought before a judge (and since in US, also a Jury). If a crime has not been done, alot of people in this forum have some explaining to do.

If a crime has been done and you bring it before the church rather than the court of law, watch out for those bear paws flying around.

Posted by: summertime Oct 5 2006, 08:25 AM

> QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Oct 4 2006, 07:01 PM) ☐
>
> I was wondering the same thing.
>
> If the prior life is connected to the present life, then isn't it relevant?
>
> As far as this topic goes, at MSDAOL, I as the Administrator there agreed not to post it there, and, even though it has now been posted here, unless I am relieved from this agreement, I do not plan on posting it there.

Daryl, in all sincerity I wish that you would give us the reason that you have decided not to post Alyssia's letter on MSDOL. Is it that you do not believe the authenticity of the letter, or that you are protecting 3ABN from it being posted, or since you have already read it on BSDA you feel that you are relieved of the responsibility of it being posted so that all can read it, or that the SDA conference should be left to cover up the wrongs of its leaders so that it can remain strong in the eyes of the beholder?. Would it have been better if Alyssia would have taken her story to the courts way back in the year 2000? I feel that she will take the beating so that the perp can remain strong.

Posted by: justme Oct 5 2006, 08:31 AM

> QUOTE(västergötland @ Oct 5 2006, 07:05 AM) ☐
>
> What if Alyssa is the bearowner? Who around is trying to help? What do I think about the actions so far presented?
>
> If a crime has been done, it should be brought before a judge (and since in US, also a Jury). If a crime has not been done, alot of people in this forum have some explaining to do.
>
> If a crime has been done and you bring it before the church rather than the court of law, watch out for those bear paws flying around.

Some 20 years or so ago when the actions allegedly took place that raise questions about Tommy, there was not nearly the "outcry" that there is today. So there are more chances of justice for earlier victims now than there was then. For one thing there is more outrage in general than there used to be. And there are more and better investigative techniques available now. Convictions are more prevalent. Sentences are longer and more appropriate. National sex-offender registration and reporting is taking place and tracking is improving.

It occurs to me that the way a law is written will determine whether a crime has been committed or not. In most states it seems that a person must be under "the age of consent" for a crime to have been committed. If the victim is OF the "age of consent" ("AOC" for now) then it depends on if there was or was not consent. If the victim has not been reached AOC then it mat called "a statutory crime", or "crimes against children".

I wonder what age Alyssa was at the time the allegations took place. When I say "allegations" I do NOT mean to MINIMIZE anything! It's a term I HAVE TO USE at this time.

When all is said and done with this fiasco, I do hope we all learn to become more aware of questions we should be asking before we "start plopping down our hard-earned dollars" or "put people up on pedestals" just because they might happen to have a "silver tongue", or because they have cute grandchildren. Who said, "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure"? (so far it's taking a lot of pounding to try to cure)

Can we also explore / discuss some ways to become "Wise as serpents but harmless as doves"?

Posted by: Observer Oct 5 2006, 08:39 AM

Alyssia was 18, or over, and therefore had reached the age of consent.

The alleged offense was therefore not a crime against a minor. It might fall into the catagory of a crime of sexual assult.

Posted by: Observer Oct 5 2006, 08:50 AM

> QUOTE(summertime @ Oct 5 2006, 08:25 AM) ☐
>
> Daryl, in all sincerity I wish that you would give us the reason that you have decided not to post Alyssia's letter on MSDOL. Is it that you do not believe the authenticity of the letter, or that you are protecting 3ABN from it being posted, or since you have already read it on BSDA you feel that you are relieved of the responsibility of it being posted so that all can read it, or that the SDA conference should be left to cover up the wrongs of its leaders so that it can remain strong in the eyes of the beholder?. Would it have been better if Alyssia would have taken her story to the courts way back in the year 2000? I feel that she will take the beating so that the perp can remain strong.

In the area where I live, the media has generally agreed not to publish the names of claimed victims of sexual assult, unless that person either releases the media, or goes public.

That is the rationale behind Daryl not publishing Alyssia's statement.

Alyssia clearly stated that she was providing her statement to denominmational officials, did not want it published on the Internet, and did not want her name disclosed on the Internet. She also stated that everyperson who recieved her statemet must also be given her limitations on disclosure.

Someone, I do not know who, provided Alyssia's statement to another person without the limitations on disclosure. That person promptly posted both the statement, and the name, in MSDAOL.

When the person was taken to task for violating Alyssia's limitations, he promptly requested that the statement be removed. Due to the fact that Alyssia has never given permission for the wide-spread circulaltion that her statement has recieved, Daryl has not allowed it to be posted.

That position is an honorable one.

Yes, Alyssia should have known that someone would eventually leak it. But, it did stay secret for a period of time.

Yes, that statement has been circulated so widely that there may no longer be any reason to keep it secret. Perhaps it is now ethical to publish it due to its wide circulation.

But, people differ on ethical issues. Daryl has taken an ethical stand. That does not mean that BSDA is unethical for doing differently. People differ as to how they apply ethics to life.

Posted by: watchbird Oct 5 2006, 08:58 AM

> QUOTE(summertime @ Oct 5 2006, 08:25 AM)
>
> Daryl, in all sincerity I wish that you would give us the reason that you have decided not to post Alyssia's letter on MSDOL. Is it that you do not believe the authenticity of the letter, or that you are protecting 3ABN from it being posted, or since you have already read it on BSDA you feel that you are relieved of the responsibility of it being posted so that all can read it, or that the SDA conference should be left to cover up the wrongs of its leaders so that it can remain strong in the eyes of the beholder?. Would it have been better if Alyssia would have taken her story to the courts way back in the year 2000? I feel that she will take the beating so that the perp can remain strong.

He already gave it, Summertime. Daryl committed to keeping her name off of his forum in accordance with her written instructions. And whatever other faults Daryl has, he is a man of his word. If he receives different written instructions, I am sure he will bring it to his forum. (And don't think this is a backhanded slap at Calvin, either. Calvin made no such committment, so he was free to adhere to the request as long as he thought best, and to make a different judgement call when he thought best.)

IMO, it does no one any good to make hindsight comments on what Alyssa should have done back in the year 2000. It is quite obvious that she was not strong enough at that point to even confide fully in enuogh people to form a support base from which she might have been able to press charges. And with her limited financial resources, what would have been the chances of her winning such a case had she done so? With the battalion of lawyers that Danny's supporters could have mustered? Absolutely worse that zero! Certainly had she done so there, she would have merely "taken a beating" and the "perp" would have remained strong.

The Lord's timing is best. Let us concentrate on becoming part of Alyssa's support group rather than adding our criticism to the burden she already has to carry.

And beyond becoming "just" a "support group", I think it would be helpful for us to do some analysis of the factors which cause the sense of powerlessness to resist which all those who grow up in a home where a family member .... especially a father or father figure.... moves beyond appropriate bounds in showing physical "affection". Where are our counselors who are dealing with this almost every day in their work? Can we hear from some of them in this area?

> QUOTE(Observer @ Oct 5 2006, 08:39 AM)
>
> Alyssia was 18, or over, and therefore had reached the age of consent.
>
> The alleged offense was therefore not a crime against a minor. It might fall into the catagory of a crime of sexual assult.

It is hardly conceivable that the allegations that cover the 2000 time period were the first that could have been made. Alyssa is still growing in her capacity to handle the past.... and perhaps even now she does not fully recognize or understand the steps that were taken before that fateful summer that she identifies. Let's keep in mind that we are not judges. Nor are we her counselors. But given those caveates, it is still important for us to learn the dynamics that lead up to situations like this ... not merely to help Alyssa recognize them..... doubtless her counselors are doing that. But for the benefit of mothers who need help in recognizing the signs that their girls are at risk.... and for other women who are still struggling with memories and shame.... discussing the dynamics of these homes can, I think, be of real benefit.

Posted by: Observer Oct 5 2006, 09:12 AM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Oct 5 2006, 07:58 AM)
>
> He already gave it, Summertime. Daryl committed to keeping her name off of his forum in accordance with her written instructions. And whatever other faults Daryl has, he is a man of his word. If he receives different written instructions, I am sure he will bring it to his forum. (And don't think this is a backhanded slap at Calvin, either. Calvin made no such committment, so he was free to adhere to the request as long as he thought best, and to make a different judgement call when he thought best.)
>
> IMO, it does no one any good to make hindsight comments on what Alyssa should have done back in the year 2000. It is quite obvious that she was not strong enough at that point to even confide fully in enuogh people to form a support base from which she might have been able to press charges. And with her limited financial resources, what would have been the chances of her winning such a case had she done so? With the battalion of lawyers that Danny's supporters could have mustered? Absolutely worse that zero! Certainly had she done so there, she would have merely "taken a beating" and the "perp" would have remained strong.
>
> The Lord's timing is best. Let us concentrate on becoming part of Alyssa's support group rather than adding our criticism to the burden she already has to carry.
>
> And beyond becoming "just" a "support group", I think it would be helpful for us to do some analysis of the factors which cause the sense of powerlessness to resist which all those who grow up in a home where a family member .... especially a father or father figure.... moves beyond appropriate bounds in showing physical "affection". Where are our counselors who are dealing with this almost every day in their work? Can we hear from some of them in this area?
> It is hardly conceivable that the allegations that cover the 2000 time period were the first that could > have been made. Alyssa is still growing in her capacity to handle the past.... and perhaps even now she does not fully recognize or understand the steps that were taken before that fateful summer that she identifies. Let's keep in mind that we are not judges. Nor are we her counselors. But given those caveates, it is still important for us to learn the dynamics that lead up to situations like this ... not merely to help Alyssa recognize them..... doubtless her counselors are doing that. But for the benefit of mothers who need help in recognizing the signs that their girls are at risk.... and for other women who are still struggling with memories and shame.... discussing the dynamics of these homes can, I think, be of real benefit.

I understand. My comment regarding her age, was specific to the events she described in her statement.

Yes, there may be more.

Posted by: Chez Oct 5 2006, 10:04 AM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Oct 5 2006, 08:58 AM)
>
> He already gave it, Summertime. Daryl committed to keeping her name off of his forum in accordance with her written instructions. And whatever other faults Daryl has, he is a man of his word. If he receives different written instructions, I am sure he will bring it to his forum. (And don't think this is a backhanded slap at Calvin, either. Calvin made no such committment, so he was free to adhere to the request as long as he thought best, and to make a different judgement call when he thought best.)
>
> IMO, it does no one any good to make hindsight comments on what Alyssa should have done back in the year 2000. It is quite obvious that she was not strong enough at that point to even confide fully in enuogh people to form a support base from which she might have been able to press charges. And with her limited financial resources, what would have been the chances of her winning such a case had she done so? With the battalion of lawyers that Danny's supporters could have mustered? Absolutely worse that zero! Certainly had she done so there, she would have merely "taken a beating" and the "perp" would have remained strong.
>
> The Lord's timing is best. Let us concentrate on becoming part of Alyssa's support group rather than adding our criticism to the burden she already has to carry.
>
> And beyond becoming "just" a "support group", I think it would be helpful for us to do some analysis of the factors which cause the sense of powerlessness to resist which all those who grow up in a home where a family member .... especially a father or father figure.... moves beyond appropriate bounds in showing physical "affection". Where are our counselors who are dealing with this almost every day in their work? Can we hear from some of them in this area?
> It is hardly conceivable that the allegations that cover the 2000 time period were the first that could have been made. Alyssa is still growing in her capacity to handle the past.... and perhaps even now she does not fully recognize or understand the steps that were taken before that fateful summer that she identifies. Let's keep in mind that we are not judges. Nor are we her counselors. But given those caveates, it is still important for us to learn the dynamics that lead up to situations like this ... not merely to help Alyssa recognize them..... doubtless her counselors are doing that. But for the benefit of mothers who need help in recognizing the signs that their girls are at risk.... and for other women who are still struggling with memories and shame.... discussing the dynamics of these homes can, I think, be of real benefit.

I had often wondered about Alyssa. How was it for her living in the house with Danny? Now, we know. The place where she should have felt safe was far from safe. She couldn't tell anybody about what Danny was doing to her, not even her mother. I applaud her bravery in sharing this information (even if it should have been restricted to a small group of people). We must pray for her continued healing and for Linda and Nathan.

Posted by: inga Oct 5 2006, 10:36 AM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Oct 4 2006, 08:41 AM)
>
> she does not need to meet with 3ABN.... she alleges inappropriate behavior, file criminal charges and let the chips fall where they may.....

Yes!!!!!!

If Alyssa were the only one to have experienced inappropriate advances by Danny, it would be more difficult. But if she can secure the cooperation of others, there is some reason to expect success in a lawsuit.

It is true that "brethren" are not to go to law against each other. However, the biblical precedent is clear that, if all the allegations are true, Danny should long ago have been disfellowshipped for his sexual misconduct and would therefore no longer be a "brother in the church."

> QUOTE(simplysaved @ Oct 4 2006, 09:02 AM)
>
> I agree 100%....no "alleged sexual abuse victim" should ever have to face an alleged perpetrator in this context....that would do nothing but re-traumatize the victim....

Indeed!!!

For 3ABN to even request such a "hearing" is to attempt to intimidate her and thus re-abuse her.

Posted by: Ralph Oct 5 2006, 11:08 AM

> QUOTE(sister @ Oct 4 2006, 08:38 PM)
>
> Uncle Sam, it sounds like to must have watched the "behind the scenes" program where Shelly Quinn preached on this very subject. In her sermon she accused the mother of using her daughter to make accusations against God's annointed prophet. She said they did not blame the daughter, that is was a scheme of the mother and the daughter was only a pawn in the game. It was clearly intended to give the spin you are now suggesting. Perhaps that is where you got this notion?
>
> This is exactly what Danny Shelton and Walt Thompson want you to believe: everyone is a pathological liar who testifies of the heinous acts that Danny has done against them. The premise they have built their house of cards upon is that we are gullible enough to believe everyone is wrong who opposes Danny and that Danny's word is unquestionable truth. I would say LOL at this point, because it is such a ridiculous concept, but to the victims it really isn't very funny...

Right on, Sister. Now that we have seen the post regarding Linda's daughter, new comers may wish to review the transcript of the sermons by John Lomacang and Shelley Quinn that I mentioned in a http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=10717&view=findpost&p=150828. I talked to some people who had watched the program who did not know the background. Even they knew that there was something wrong, but I have a hunch that most of them did not catch on to Shelley's introductory story about John the Baptist.

Posted by: Uncle Sam Oct 5 2006, 11:44 AM

> QUOTE(Ralph @ Oct 5 2006, 10:08 AM) ☐
>
> Right on, Sister. Now that we have seen the post regarding Linda's daughter, new comers may wish to review the transcript of the sermons by John Lomacang and Shelley Quinn that I mentioned in a http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=10717&view=findpost&p=150828. I talked to some people who had watched the program who did not know the background. Even they knew that there was something wrong, but I have a hunch that most of them did not catch on to Shelley's introductory story about John the Baptist.

I have read what Shelly and John said on that particular show. I think it was disgusting, but once again we have she said he said. I am sure Danny will deny this...are there others that will come forward?

Posted by: watchbird Oct 6 2006, 09:38 AM

> QUOTE(västergötland @ Oct 5 2006, 05:05 AM) ☐
>
> What if Alyssa is the bearowner? Who around is trying to help? What do I think about the actions so far presented?
>
> If a crime has been done, it should be brought before a judge (and since in US, also a Jury). If a crime has not been done, alot of people in this forum have some explaining to do.
>
> If a crime has been done and you bring it before the church rather than the court of law, watch out for those bear paws flying around.

Thanks.... I think I've "got it" this time around.... and I think I am in total agreement.

There is, no doubt, situations in which "bear paws" are the instrument/tool of choice .... but NOT, I think, for either doing facial surgery or healing wounds to the psyche.

So yes, I agree..... we need to be very careful to "watch out" for anything that looks like "bear claws" and not allow ourselves to be unthinkingly drawn into support of that type of "help".

Posted by: icedragon Oct 8 2006, 02:55 PM

> QUOTE(source @ Oct 3 2006, 11:03 PM)
>
> July 7, 2006
> This is a formal statement which is long overdue. I did not disclose this information when the events occurred because I did not want to hurt my mother. I did not want to cause trouble with 3 ABN, and I was too embarrassed to talk about it. Now that some time has passed and circumstances have changed I feel the need to share this information. I want to spare others from being exposed to the same treatment that I have experienced.
>
> 1) The repeated inappropriate actions from my ex-stepfather, Danny Shelton, occurred in the summer of the year 2000.
>
> 2) I had been away at school for some years. I was happy to be returning home to attend a local University.
>
> 3) My mother always went to bed rather early. Her bedroom was upstairs and my bedroom was downstairs. Danny started coming into my room getting into my bed and rubbing my back. He seemed to "accidentally" get too low. I told him I did not want a back rub. He ignored me. This happened repeatedly.
>
> 4) I began locking my bedroom door every night. Sometimes he would come to the door and knock again and again. I did not answer. He then repeatedly unlocked my bedroom door and came into my room. He would then get into my bed. I was not comfortable with this but I was so tired I still fell asleep. I awoke sometimes with his hands in inappropriate places. He would say "Oh, I'm sorry. I thought it was your Mom." He told me not to tell my Mom. I told him to stay out of my room. He still came. I started sleep on the living room couch so that he could not lie beside me.
>
> 5) I felt threatened and very uncomfortable with these things, so I made arrangements to move out.
>
> Signed,
>
> ________________
> Alyssa Moore (daughter of Linda Shelton)

Is this real??

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Oct 8 2006, 03:02 PM

Yes, it is real, as I have a signed copy, however, I received it on condition that I wouldn't post it on any forum, which I honoured and never did, and until given permission to do so, will not post it over at MSDAOL, or allow it to be posted there by anybody else.

I am still disappointed it has been posted here.

Posted by: Clay Oct 8 2006, 03:02 PM

> QUOTE(icedragon @ Oct 8 2006, 03:55 PM)

> Is this real??

yes.... I have seen the emailed copy with her signature..... while that doesn't prove anything, she has not come forward to say its not real.....

Posted by: sonshineonme Oct 8 2006, 03:27 PM

> QUOTE(icedragon @ Oct 8 2006, 01:55 PM)
>
> Is this real??

Yes, it is real, I also have a signed copy. It was not for public distribution. It was difficult enough to put it in writing as that means you are not keeping it a secret anymore - there are many emotions that go with stating it on paper - it moves from your mind (the experience itself which you have keep to yourself for obvious reasons) to actually being told, although on paper. When one makes that step, they hope to keep it still somewhat out of the public forum because of just what can happen by just anyones eyes - "it must be to get back at someone" or any of the other reasons people will determine other then accepting it for the plain truth that it is. Unless you have been through it yourself, I suppose you can not understand what it takes to actually "tell" on someone.

Posted by: Clay Oct 8 2006, 03:31 PM

> QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Oct 8 2006, 03:02 PM)
>
> Yes, it is real, as I have a signed copy, however, I received it on condition that I wouldn't post it on any forum, which I honoured and never did, and until given permission to do so, will not post it over at MSDAOL, or allow it to be posted there by anybody else.
>
> I am still disappointed it has been posted here.

whateva Daryl... I don't know why... people want evidence and then refuse to provide it, choosing instead to hint at it, never directly stating what it is.... that gets old....

How do you know permission wasnt given? Additionally as I said before if something is gonna be done, those who can do will either have to tinkle or get off the potty.....

Posted by: sonshineonme Oct 8 2006, 03:42 PM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Oct 8 2006, 02:31 PM)
>
> whateva Daryl... I don't know why... people want evidence and then refuse to provide it, choosing > instead to hint at it, never directly stating what it is.... that gets old....

>
> How do you know permission wasnt given? Additionally as I said before if something is gonna be done, those who can do will either have to tinkle or get off the potty.....

I'm not Daryl, but I do know that permission WAS NOT given.
It is not good to "hint" at things if it comes across as "nanny nanny boo-boo", and if that happened, that is too bad. The sad fact is that those given the letter/statement, and that's all the way to the top, knew that it was not for public distribution, and apparently did it anyway.

Posted by: watchbird Oct 8 2006, 04:25 PM

> QUOTE(icedragon @ Oct 8 2006, 02:55 PM)
>
> Is this real??

Yes, it is real. After it went out to the first wave of highly placed GC administrators and other key figures.... some of them became very proactive in sending it on to others in the permitted classifications of recipients and distribution methods.... so it has indeed had a wide distribution. However, whether or not that fact makes it technically in "the public domain", it is still a fact of equal or greater importance that it was a breach of Christian courtesy and committment to a hurting woman for someone to expose her to a wider audience than what she had stipulated as being the extent of her willingness to be so exposed.

But.... is this not the inevitable result, as Clay indicated, of the clammoring of those who will not accept a narrative account of anything but insist instead on "documented proof" from the abused person's own lips.... and then when even that is given, will not be satisfied with the word of others that they have seen the document, but insist on reading every bloodstained word themselves?

Doesn't scripture specify that the statement of a witness.... when confirmed by two or three others.... is sufficient evidence? Why is that not sufficient for readers of these forums? I have no idea who the person is who posted the document here.... but I am quite sure that had there not been the continual hue and cry for "Documentation.... documentation.... and more documentation!" that the person who posted this would not have so unthinkingly .... and unkindly..... exposed this dear bleeding sister in ways that she had expressly requested that she not be exposed.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Oct 8 2006, 06:49 PM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Oct 8 2006, 03:25 PM)
>
> Doesn't scripture specify that the statement of a witness.... when confirmed by two or three others.... is sufficient evidence? Why is that not sufficient for readers of these forums? I have no idea who the person is who posted the document here.... but I am quite sure that had there not been the continual hue and cry for "Documentation.... documentation.... and more documentation!" that the person who posted this would not have so unthinkingly .... and unkindly..... exposed this dear bleeding sister in ways that she had expressly requested that she not be exposed.

I'd appreciate knowing what scripture you are refering to here so I can study it.

Posted by: calvin Oct 8 2006, 07:46 PM

Daryl, Sonshineonme, Watchbird and anyone dissappointed that this letter is posted here, you will get over it.

Posted by: September Oct 8 2006, 08:19 PM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Oct 8 2006, 08:46 PM)
>
> Daryl, Sonshineonme, Watchbird and anyone dissappointed that this letter is posted here, you will get over it.

Wow...

Posted by: sonshineonme Oct 8 2006, 08:30 PM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Oct 8 2006, 06:46 PM)
>
> Daryl, Sonshineonme, Watchbird and anyone dissappointed that this letter is posted here, you will get over it.

To me it's not a matter of getting over it. I have accepted it being here. I am dissapointed that permission was not given for it to be here and it was posted here anyway. That is the part that dissapoints me. It really has nothing to do with whether it is here or not. I am specifically referring to someones request (Alyssa), naive though it could be called, it was still what she asked. Why was that not respected? Does it matter what the "rest" of the people do? That is my only issue. The argument that others have been discussed does not fly with me because these are different circumstances. Someone was violated, they put it in writing to a select group for specific reasons, and specifically asked it not be put in other places (such as a forum or on the internet). I felt from the beginning that it would not remain that way, that someone would go against her wishes and "share" it with someone. I was just hoping we would follow her request here. If we could have re-asked her about it now, given some time has passed since she released it, maybe she would (or maybe not) have agreed. But, I have not been told she was asked. So Calvin, while I appreciate all you do here, I would have liked to see it handled differently - it may be good thinkg in theory that it is out there, but to me, it wasn't my call to make even though I have had the letter myself since she first wrote it.

Posted by: watchbird Oct 8 2006, 09:05 PM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Oct 8 2006, 07:46 PM)

> Daryl, Sonshineonme, Watchbird and anyone dissappointed that this letter is posted here, you will get over it.

Calvin, I already said I was "over it" and was moving on to whatever discussion was best now. My current response was not a further comment on what you had done, but as response to a question that was asked, and on what I believe is the thing that must have driven the person who asked you for permission to put it on. And my "pet peeve" in this is, as I said, the never satisfied cries for "documentation" (which, IMO, btw, are not nearly so prevelant and stonewalling here on BSDA as they are on Maritime) who call every bit of information "gossip" and even if documentation is provided it is only called "he says.... she says".

But again, I repeat.... I have accepted that you gave permission, that the thread is here to stay, and now that it is here that it will be discussed. What I am looking for is what to say in that discussion which will be the best for all concerned.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Oct 8 2006, 09:31 PM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Oct 8 2006, 09:05 PM) ☐
>
> Calvin, I already said I was "over it" and was moving on to whatever discussion was best now. My current response was not a further comment on what you had done, but as response to a question that was asked, and on what I believe is the thing that must have driven the person who asked you for permission to put it on. And my "pet peeve" in this is, as I said, the never satisfied cries for "documentation" (which, IMO, btw, are not nearly so prevelant and stonewalling here on BSDA as they are on Maritime) who call every bit of information "gossip" and even if documentation is provided it is only called "he says.... she says".
>
> But again, I repeat.... I have accepted that you gave permission, that the thread is here to stay, and now that it is here that it will be discussed. What I am looking for is what to say in that discussion which will be the best for all concerned.

Since the letter is out I'll just comment on the way things are at the moment.

Let me put the "cynic hat" on for just a moment.

Being increasingly cynical, I believe that giving the letter to General Conference personnel was the equivalent to putting the letter in a paper shredder.

I really don't see the GC making the any momentous decisions in October if they've already been sitting on the letter for two months. They're completely done with the letter and they'll soon be out buying their Christmas presents.

The option of approved distribution routes may have been a good decision at the time, but it may have failed following a certain "3ABN sponsor's" visit to the General Conference. We're told such a person was at the GC, and I doubt he left the building without getting his way.

As a result of the sponsor running interference, this is the only place any decision makers (constituents and donors) are ever going to see the letter. And, maybe, that's the best we can do for now. I have to believe that there is some reason for it being here since I believe a Higher Power is ultimately in control.

Cynic hat is now back off.

Posted by: Fran Oct 9 2006, 12:07 AM

I have been thinking about what has transpired and believe there is so much more that we can't see that this letter was meant to be posted. It has started the ball rolling, so to speak.

Much of the garbage is coming out for the public to see. This letter has further affected the donations to 3ABN. This seriously needs to be done. If this goes to court, all evidence has to be brought up in discovery anyway.

Many knew of this years ago and could do nothing about it. Before this was all said and done, the story was going to get out. There are other involved, but have not had their letters published. In time they will be. We will have confirmation of the Shelton family's characteristics. They are not Christ like.

Since some accusations go way back, I assume the power of God was not grasped by them to allow God to deliver them from these habits of sin. It was their choice. Even at this late date, they still deny the facts presented.

But, think about it realistically and holistically. What is still under the rug? Much good is coming out of this investigation. There will be things come out that will put me/us to shame. Things that have nothing to do with this letter.

There are so many facets to the mess at 3ABN. Each one must be treated individually and not all as one. Problems of one kind must be addresses with problems of the same kind. Linda's daughter does not stand alone by any means.

Allysa, Hold your head high, honey. These actions you mention are wrong. Now that it is said, you are free from him. He can no longer have a hold on you again. Sometimes it helps to call this Danny person by a different name. Maybe Daniel. That really helps, believe it or not. When you speak of him, say the new name. It helps forgiveness to flow easier and you can experience a true release. Nothing will ever change these facts, they do fade, but the memories of your feelings and maybe even rage will be right there every time you hear of, or see abuse in any form.

Now, think about this "case". It does not begin or end with sexual abuse.

There are "serious" financial problems. These must be handled alone.

Employee problems are another mess.

Then we see they are breaking the very constitution of our country. The Declaration of Independence gives each person the right to the pursuit of happiness. 3ABN has not done this. They have interfered with many individuals right to pursue their happiness.

Many of the abused have no idea they have been abused. This is one I cry about. Many individuals will find they have had their right to the pursuit of happiness circumvented. When we hear, I/we will be hurt again, and so will they.

Then there are the outside problems. Who allowed this mess to happen? Who would be considered a shareholders of 3ABN? Who closed their eyes to the wrong doing and turned their backs to allow it to continue? This takes this case away from 3ABN and into the laps of others, and maybe even certain individuals, and other independent ministries.

The Thompsonville church is about to feel some REAL pain. So will the IL Conference, Union. NAD and GC.

From this letter, the line branches out and up like a genealogical tree. We may have to change the name of these threads to, "Ready, or not, here I come!"

Think about it. This is no longer just a Danny problem. The house of God needs to be cleaned up before Jesus comes. Something must be done to STOP this from happening again. May God help us as we watch this explode.

Posted by: Clay Oct 9 2006, 12:26 AM

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Oct 8 2006, 09:31 PM) ☐
>
> Since the letter is out I'll just comment on the way things are at the moment.
>
> Let me put the "cynic hat" on for just a moment.
>
> Being increasingly cynical, I believe that giving the letter to General Conference personnel was the equivalent to putting the letter in a paper shredder.
>
> I really don't see the GC making the any momentous decisions in October if they've already been sitting on the letter for two months. They're completely done with the letter and they'll soon be out buying their Christmas presents.
>
> The option of approved distribution routes may have been a good decision at the time, but it may have failed following a certain "3ABN sponsor's" visit to the General Conference. We're told such a person was at the GC, and I doubt he left the building without getting his way.
>
> As a result of the sponsor running interference, this is the only place any decision makers (constituents and donors) are ever going to see the letter. And, maybe, that's the best we can do for now. I have to believe that there is some reason for it being here since I believe a Higher Power is ultimately in control.
>
> Cynic hat is now back off.

good points Pete.... as I stated before, rarely do churches want to deal with issues like this, and usually counsel victims not to press charges.... it was naive to think that by making a statement and sending it only to church leaders that something would be done..... if its true, she should press charges and let the chips fall where they may...

Posted by: watchbird Oct 9 2006, 05:02 AM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Oct 8 2006, 04:25 PM) ☐
>
> But.... is this not the inevitable result, as Clay indicated, of the clammoring of those who will not accept a narrative account of anything but insist instead on "documented proof" from the abused person's own lips.... and then when even that is given, will not be satisfied with the word of others that they have seen the document, but insist on reading every bloodstained word themselves?
>
> Doesn't scripture specify that the statement of a witness.... when confirmed by two or three others.... is sufficient evidence? Why is that not sufficient for readers of these forums? I have no idea who the person is who posted the document here.... but I am quite sure that had there not > been the continual hue and cry for "Documentation.... documentation.... and more documentation!" that the person who posted this would not have so unthinkingly .... and unkindly..... exposed this dear bleeding sister in ways that she had expressly requested that she not be exposed.

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Oct 8 2006, 06:49 PM) ☐
>
> I'd appreciate knowing what scripture you are refering to here so I can study it.

Deuteronomy 17:6
Deuteronomy 19:15
Matthew 18:15-17

Posted by: watchbird Oct 9 2006, 05:54 AM

Amen to all that Fran has said.

With one caveate.... I'd like to modify one part of one point.... see below.....

> QUOTE(Fran @ Oct 9 2006, 12:07 AM) ☐
>
> I have been thinking about what has transpired and believe there is so much more that we can't see that this letter was meant to be posted. It has started the ball rolling, so to speak.
>
> Much of the garbage is coming out for the public to see. This letter has further affected the donations to 3ABN. This seriously needs to be done. If this goes to court, all evidence has to be brought up in discovery anyway.
>
> Many knew of this years ago and could do nothing about it. Before this was all said and done, the story was going to get out. There are other involved, but have not had their letters published. In time they will be. We will have confirmation of the Shelton family's characteristics. They are not Christ like.
>
> Since some accusations go way back, I assume the power of God was not grasped by them to allow God to deliver them from these habits of sin. It was their choice. Even at this late date, they still deny the facts presented.
>
> But, think about it realistically and holistically. What is still under the rug? Much good is coming out of this investigation. There will be things come out that will put me/us to shame. Things that have nothing to do with this letter.
>
> There are so many facets to the mess at 3ABN. Each one must be treated individually and not all as one. Problems of one kind must be addresses with problems of the same kind. Linda's daughter does not stand alone by any means.
>
> Allysa, Hold your head high, honey. These actions you mention are wrong. Now that it is said, you are free from him. He can no longer have a hold on you again. Sometimes it helps to call this Danny person by a different name. Maybe Daniel. That really helps, believe it or not. When you speak of him, say the new name. It helps forgiveness to flow easier and you can experience a true release. Nothing will ever change these facts, they do fade, but the memories of your feelings and maybe even rage will be right there every time you hear of, or see abuse in any form.

Amen to this also.... except for the choice of name.... not Daniel.... that name is an honorable one in scripture and one that magnifies the name of God (EL).... Daniel = God is my Judge.

Instead I suggest merely Dan...... Dan = judge. Some interesting things about Dan in scripture....

Genesis 49: 16-18 (Jacob's blessing/prophecy for each of his sons just before his death)
Dan shall judge his people,
As one of the tribes of Israel.

Dan shall be a serpent in the way,
A horned snake in the path,
That bites the horse's heels,
So that his rider falls backward.

For Your salvation I wait, O LORD.

Comparing Joshua 19 with Judges 18, one finds that the tribe of Dan were not content with the land that had been portioned out to them, but (according to at least one Bible Dictionary entry) found this too limited so they spied out another territory and took that by force and changed the name of the city to Dan.

And finally, compare Revelation 7.... where Dan is conspicuous by its absence.

But turning from scripture to the present..... Danny is, of course, an affectionate, diminutive form of either Dan or Daniel.... and here is something I have wondered about....... While all over the world people call him Danny..... in no communication with Linda have I ever heard her call him anything but Dan. So a question for those that knew her well before her ouster from 3abn.... Was this always the case? Did she always call him Dan?..... Or has she (consciously or unconsiously) done what Fran has suggested here and made a difference in the name by which she identifies him?

(Just a question.... I return you now to Fran's excellent analysis of what is and what must come to pass.)

> QUOTE
>
>]Now, think about this "case". It does not begin or end with sexual abuse.
>
> There are "serious" financial problems. These must be handled alone.
>
> Employee problems are another mess.
>
> Then we see they are breaking the very constitution of our country. The Declaration of Independence gives each person the right to the pursuit of happiness. 3ABN has not done this. They have interfered with many individuals right to pursue their happiness.
>
> Many of the abused have no idea they have been abused. This is one I cry about. Many individuals will find they have had their right to the pursuit of happiness circumvented. When we hear, I/we will be hurt again, and so will they.
>
> Then there are the outside problems. Who allowed this mess to happen? Who would be considered a shareholders of 3ABN? Who closed their eyes to the wrong doing and turned their backs to allow it to continue? This takes this case away from 3ABN and into the laps of others, and maybe even certain individuals, and other independent ministries.
>
> The Thompsonville church is about to feel some REAL pain. So will the IL Conference, Union, NAD and GC.

> From this letter, the line branches out and up like a genealogical tree. We may have to change the name of these threads to, "Ready, or not, here I come!"
>
> Think about it. This is no longer just a Danny problem. The house of God needs to be cleaned up before Jesus comes. Something must be done to STOP this from happening again. May God help us as we watch this explode.

Posted by: summertime Oct 9 2006, 07:49 AM

[

(Just a question.... I return you now to Fran's excellent analysis of what is and what must come to pass.)
[/quote]

A few years ago a son of one of our church members molested more than one child in the church school---particularly a girl of grade school age. WHen this came to light, the chaplain of the school knew that according to the law, this crime HAD TO BE REPORTED. The young man is in jail today and will be there for a while. Why was the GC not compelled to report this crime (and certainly it was a crime) to the civil authorities? Is it because the abused was of an older age than a grade school student? They have written proof of it in their hands---I have asked around and I hear that it is against the law for them NOT to report. Any more info along this line?

Posted by: Observer Oct 9 2006, 09:22 AM

Re: " . . . this crime HAD TO BE REPORTED."

Local law governs when such crimes have to be reported, and who it is that has to report such crimes. Clergy often fall into an exempt category and may or may not be required to report such. On that basis, I cannot say whether or not it had to be reported.

Posted by: summertime Oct 9 2006, 09:29 AM

> QUOTE(Observer @ Oct 9 2006, 09:22 AM) ☐
>
> Re: " . . . this crime HAD TO BE REPORTED."
>
> Local law governs when such crimes have to be reported, and who it is that has to report such crimes. Clergy often fall into an exempt category and may or may not be required to report such. On that basis, I cannot say whether or not it had to be reported.

In this particular case, the Chaplain at the Academy was also a teacher there and was also the father of the last girl who was molested. Would that have made a difference as to whether he had to report it to the athorities?

Posted by: fallible humanbeing Oct 9 2006, 11:29 AM

> QUOTE(summertime @ Oct 9 2006, 10:29 AM)
>
> In this particular case, the Chaplain at the Academy was also a teacher there and was also the father of the last girl who was molested. Would that have made a difference as to whether he had to report it to the athorities?

In many (possibly all) states teachers, by law, are required to report any suspected abuse.

Posted by: simplysaved Oct 9 2006, 12:14 PM

All states are required to....

> QUOTE(fallible humanbeing @ Oct 9 2006, 12:29 PM)
>
> In many (possibly all) states teachers, by law, are required to report any suspected abuse.

Posted by: Observer Oct 9 2006, 12:48 PM

> QUOTE(summertime @ Oct 9 2006, 08:29 AM)
>
> In this particular case, the Chaplain at the Academy was also a teacher there and was also the father of the last girl who was molested. Would that have made a difference as to whether he had to report it to the athorities?

There may have been a clergy exception?

Posted by: justme Oct 9 2006, 02:47 PM

> QUOTE(Observer @ Oct 9 2006, 01:48 PM)
>
> There may have been a clergy exception?

Acording to what we have understood she had reached the "age of condsent" for the state of Illinois. IF she was under the age of consent it would be a "statuatory" crime against a female of against a male "under age". Having reached the age of consent a victim apparently has the "option" of reporting it or not.

Option 1. Report it?
1. Tell mom and try to make her believe it.
2. Tell "someone", Tell whom?
3. Tell the sheriff? A Sheriff in Danny's pocket!
4. Tell the conference office? The one's on Dan's board?
5. Tell the GC? They already have enough of these stories to bury.
6. Threaten Dan that "someone is gonna get told". Her word against his?
7. Victims are scrutinized more than the "perps".
8. Mom will be faced with enormous embarrassment. He'll deny it anyway.
(you add options, too)

Option 2 Don't Report it?
1. Will it continue?
2. Will someone else be next?
3. Maybe the marriage will survive if I'm quiet.
4. I "may" avoid placing my pain in public.
5. I KNOW I am not the first. No one else is reporting either.Why talk?

(Right now I just can't imagine any more either way).

Posted by: icedragon Oct 11 2006, 05:07 PM

> QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Oct 8 2006, 04:02 PM) ☐
>
> Yes, it is real, as I have a signed copy, however, I received it on condition that I wouldn't post it on any forum, which I honoured and never did, and until given permission to do so, will not post it over at MSDAOL, or allow it to be posted there by anybody else.
>
> I am still disappointed it has been posted here.

So let me see according to the information that BSdA, CA, MSDOL have found that Danny abused his step son, Divorced his wife because she was getting help for her son and Danny would have had to face the problems that he caused and now is guilty of sexual assult of his ex-wifes daughter.? How could God have used a man like that. these problems probally didn't start yesterday they would have been on going during the whole development of 3ABN. that just does not sound possible. Any one else see this???

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Oct 11 2006, 05:37 PM

> QUOTE(icedragon @ Oct 11 2006, 06:07 PM) ☐
>
> How could God have used a man like that. these problems probally didn't start yesterday they would have been on going during the whole development of 3ABN. that just does not sound possible. Any one else see this???

Exactly why is it so hard to understand that things like this happen? People have a side they want you to see and a side they don't. Look at history and tell me if you don't see people like this. Take John W. Gacy & Jeff Dahmer. Family and neghbors said they were simply wonderful people - that was of course, before bodies were pulled out of their homes.

(Not implying that anyone at 3ABN murdered anyone, just an analogy.)

Posted by: Uncle Sam Oct 11 2006, 07:28 PM

[quote name='husbandoftheyear' date='Oct 11 2006, 04:37 PM' post='156409']
Exactly why is it so hard to understand that things like this happen? People have a side they want you to see and a side they don't. Look at history and tell me if you don't see people like this. Take John W. Gacy & Jeff Dahmer. Family and neghbors said they were simply wonderful people - that was of course, before bodies were pulled out of their homes.

We may not know a persons heart but God does. I have a hard time understanding too, if Danny has been "evil" all along why would God have chosen him? I believe he could have become corrupt overtime but I find it hard to believe he started out this way. I also understand many don't believe Danny was chosen and the miracle stories are made up. If that is true, why do people not speak out while they are enjoying the perks of being with Danny? Why wait until you have a falling out with him? That is where the credibility comes in....if someone had the courage, (because it is the right thing to do) to tell what Danny is doing while they are in his good graces than I believe the GC would have to listen....

Posted by: Tori Oct 11 2006, 08:38 PM

To those of us who are removed from 3 ABN it appears very much like a cult where you have a charismatic leader who is followed by a large group of well meaning, good people. Those who continue to think for themselves are demonized. The rest truly believe they are following God's spokesperson. And they follow, sometimes sacrificing their very lives in the process. I know from reading your posts that many of you believe that Danny has done God's work. I certainly can't judge that. There is good mixed in with so many torn lives. No one but God can untangle that. But we need to teach ourselves to continue thinking for ourselves. We need to teach our children that Christianity doesn't have to be fearful. It is fearful people who are willing to follow one person blindly. No one person has a monopoly on God.
Hebrews 4:16......Let us then approach the throne of grace with confidence, so that we may recieve mercy and find grace to help us in our time of need.

Posted by: sonshineonme Oct 11 2006, 08:53 PM

QUOTE(Tori @ Oct 11 2006, 07:38 PM)

To those of us who are removed from 3 ABN it appears very much like a cult where you have a charismatic leader who is followed by a large group of well meaning, good people. Those who continue to think for themselves are demonized. The rest truly believe they are following God's spokesperson. And they follow, sometimes sacrificing their very lives in the process. I know from reading your posts that many of you believe that Danny has done God's work. I certainly can't judge that. There is good mixed in with so many torn lives. No one but God can untangle that. But we need to teach ourselves to continue thinking for ourselves. We need to teach our children that Christianity doesn't have to be fearful. It is fearful people who are willing to follow one person blindly. No one person has a monopoly on God.
Hebrews 4:16......Let us then approach the throne of grace with confidence, so that we may recieve mercy and find grace to help us in our time of need.

Welcome Tori!
I appreciated your reply very much. You really said it quite well. This fear that you mentioned is truely key - and there are many aspects of "fear". It is VITAL that each person think for themselves, and ACT as well, having faith and trust in their Awesome Father in heaven that He will always be with them, and where there is this faith, there is no fear.

Posted by: justme Oct 11 2006, 08:55 PM

I wish I could agree that good things don't come from bad people. But it just hasn't been that way. Many a person who has become famous for doing good, has a side that could be infamous if found out.

The very satellites that carry Christian broadcasting may have been made by companies that abhor Christianity.

The companies that make the broadcast equipment, studio cameras, recorders, processors, antenae, etc. may be run by some of the most heathen persons.

Sky Angel had been a friend of SDA's for many years. Why did 3ABN vanish from that satellite? Of all the rumors that have circulated about the family that now runs Sky Angel not liking Danny's handling of the "mess", the actual bottom line is that, of all the channels that went off the air for a few days, only the top-watched, top-rated program providers were reinstated in the 7 restored channels. Of the three not reinstated in the lineup, 3ABN was the least watched of all the channels on Sky Angel. Even before the "mess" began. 3ABN was already losing market share before the "black out". So after they recovered 7 of the 10 "broken" channels, 3ABN didn't make the "cut".

All who work at 3ABN are there for personal reasons. Some are there to get experience in broadcasting technology and production.

Some want to be working "for the Lord" by making these programs available.

Some are there to feed thrir egos, and be "internationally recognized".

And the list goes on. Only those who can AFFORD to leave financially, reputation-wise, or for personal reasons, can and will leave. BUT will they "TATTLE" on the one who signed the paycheck? remember those who have been blacklisted and blackmailed for leaving or being fired. Who knows what lurks in the personnel files in Danny's office?

All hidden weaknesses, inherited and cultivated, must be brought into submission to God, or they will grow and eventually become overt as we have seen.

Another factor in personality and character display is physiology. Behavior medication and pain relievers often cause unpleasant personality changes. Sometimes a change that is criminal. Many crimes take place under the influence of drugs. Let's assume for example that he has a chronic neck/shoulder/back pain. If he takes certain meds he could lose control of otherwise controllable urges. OR he may NEED medication to control them. BUT there is NO excuse for these behaviors no matter what the underlying cause! Those around him should have counselled him to "knock-it-off"!

The GC has no clout with Danny, otherwise they would have owned 3ABN by now. It's too embarrassing now for the GC even to speak of. Are there other "Danny's" in the GC closets? And what is Danny holding over some heads at the GC?

Posted by: Skyhook Oct 11 2006, 10:10 PM

What justme said about the medication angle is something that is very often overlooked in situations where someone has personality changes, esp with criminal and other innapropriate behaviors.
Pain medications, muscle relaxants, all of the benzodiazapine anti-anxiety medications as well as many of the sleeping meds (not to mention the stimulants that are being prescribed these days for adult attention deficit disorder which has become a kind of fad diagnosis) all can cause personality changes such as irritability, impaired judgment, poor impusle control, diminished inhibitions, grandiosity, poor judgement and episodes of paranoia and rage. The abuse of stimulants can cause episodes of obsessive erotic/sexual behavior that can even be foriegn to the person's usual leanings. I don't know anything about Danny's drug or medical history, but it is an interesting angle.

Drugs were a major factor with Jim Jones. He was on uppers and downers for years, which could help explain a lot of his crazyness.

Posted by: Fran Oct 11 2006, 11:32 PM

> QUOTE(justme @ Oct 11 2006, 08:55 PM) ☐
>
> ...
> All hidden weaknesses, inherited and cultivated, must be brought into submission to God, or they will grow and eventually become overt as we have seen.
>
> Another factor in personality and character display is physiology. Behavior medication and pain relievers often cause unpleasant personality changes. Sometimes a change that is criminal. Many crimes take place under the influence of drugs. Let's assume for example that he has a chronic neck/shoulder/back pain. If he takes certain meds he could lose control of otherwise controllable urges. OR he may NEED medication to control them. BUT there is NO excuse for these behaviors no matter what the underlying cause! Those around him should have counselled him to "knock-it-off"!
>
> The GC has no clout with Danny, otherwise they would have owned 3ABN by now. It's too embarrassing now for the GC even to speak of. Are there other "Danny's" in the GC closets? And what is Danny holding over some heads at the GC?

Very Good!

I am studying Face Profiling. It was written by an FBI Face Profiler, Mac Fulfer. He travels all over the world to help select jury's and does profiling for the FBI. He teaches profiling to Agencies that have a need. He also teaches in Universities. I have been looking at as many pics as I can of Danny and Linda, Myself and others and am really surprised at the accuracy of this science.

This has brought up to me a thought or two. John Q public has heard so long about Danny was God's Chosen! Was he? In my opinion, God used Linda. Every time she was on, she pointed everyone to Jesus.

Danny promotes Danny and Danny's miracles. Things starting getting bad when Linda left. Could it be that God's presence left with her?

Linda has placed herself at God's mercy and after all that has been done to her, she still says, "Though they slay me, Lord, I will follow thee!"

I believe God shielded her from the truths about Danny. The Lord knew what would have to happen. The Lord knew she needed to be out of harms way, safe in the arms of God.

God put information out to a chosen few. Knowing they would cry out loud until it was heard far and wide. Now others are joining in so we can see and hear "The Rest of the Story".

Even as this mess unfolds, you can visit Linda's website filled with courage and Godliness. Inspiration to the broken hearted. What a contrast!

Compare Linda's ministry with Danny's mess. Where do we find spiritual food?

There is wonderful programming on the air waves of 3ABN, by they are not produced by 3ABN. God has used the Word of these programs to save souls! Steve Wohlberg, Doug Batchelor, John Carter, ...

I used to watch Shelly Quinn every time she appeared. I don't watch her any longer. There is too much information out there for her not to know. After the story of how Herod gave his wife's daughter the head of John the Baptist, I became convinced she knew. She knew what she was doing. Shame on her.

I will not listen to John Lomacang any longer; no Hal or Mollie; I DO watch 3ABN Today to watch Danny kick himself in the face and marvel the fact that he is totally not with it! His vision of himself is not realistic, He is living a fantasy.

I believe Linda was the one teaching us how to have a relationship with God, the Father, Jesus the son, and the Holy Spirit. Just my opinion. Something to think about.

Posted by: sister Oct 12 2006, 06:57 AM

> QUOTE(Fran @ Oct 12 2006, 12:32 AM)
>
> Very Good!
>
> John Q public has heard so long about Danny was God's Chosen! Was he? In my opinion, God used Linda. Every time she was on, she pointed everyone to Jesus.
>
> I believe Linda was the one teaching us how to have a relationship with God, the Father, Jesus the son, and the Holy Spirit. Just my opinion. Something to think about.

Fran, I am in agreement with you. Could God have blessed Danny, an Achan in the camp of Isreal? No... But could the blessing upon 3ABN have been the result of Linda's faithfullness? Something very interesting to think about...

Posted by: SandyColorado Oct 12 2006, 11:52 AM

> QUOTE(sister @ Oct 12 2006, 07:57 AM)
>
> Fran, I am in agreement with you. Could God have blessed Danny, an Achan in the camp of Isreal?

> No... But could the blessing upon 3ABN have been the result of Linda's faithfullness? Something very interesting to think about...

I totally agree too. I have been reading Fran's take on this for quite a while (both here and CA) and she seems to have hit the nail on the head. I know that she has been saying for quite a while to "follow the money" but this is more personal. This is what some of us have been thinking for a long time. God left the house when Linda left. All that is left is for Danny to poorly pick up the pieces and try to hold on to his sinking ship until it totally goes down. We need to continue to pray that only Danny sinks - not 3ABN.

Posted by: Aunt B Oct 12 2006, 03:41 PM

I agree with Fran that God's Spirit is with Linda. That is not to suggest that she is perfect, but that the fruit in her life shows that she is following Him and is willing to be used by Him. The testimony on her web site and that which she used to share on 3ABN show she has a relationship with Jesus. I also agree that God allowed her to be removed from 3ABN for a reason, as hard as it has been for her and for others to understand. As for Danny, what is the fruit of his life? Is it consistent with what he professes?

I appreciate Fran's comments, along with all the rest of you who have kept shedding light on this troubling story. So many of us have no way of knowing how to "research" to find the truth. Please keep your comments coming. I also appreciate BSDA and the willingness to allow access to the story as it plays out.

Posted by: paleface Oct 12 2006, 03:55 PM

I agree with you Aunt B and also Welcome to BSDA.

Posted by: summertime Oct 12 2006, 06:01 PM

> QUOTE(Fran @ Oct 11 2006, 11:32 PM)
>
> I am studying Face Profiling.
> There is wonderful programming on the air waves of 3ABN, but they are not produced by 3ABN. God has used the Word of these programs to save souls! Steve Wohlberg, Doug Batchelor, John Carter, ...

Fran, I believe in everything you have stated in this post except for one thing. Why are all three of these men whom you have mentioned, Steve Wohlberg, Doug Batchelor and John Carter so quick to sing the praises of 3abn and Danny and expound of Danny's faithfulness whenever they can? I, too, have thought these men to be soulsavers, yet they hold hands with the very person who has done harm to so many people. It actually makes me feel like turning the channel whenever they come along. Matter of fact, they are on my 'doubting' list. I can understand them simply not saying anything against Danny but to speak for him when they have heard the truth never ceases to bewilder me.

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Oct 12 2006, 06:31 PM

> QUOTE(summertime @ Oct 12 2006, 07:01 PM) ☐
>
> Why are all three of these men whom you have mentioned, Steve Wohlberg, Doug Batchelor and John Carter so quick to sing the praises of 3abn and Danny and expound of Danny's faithfulness whenever they can? I, too, have thought these men to be soulsavers, yet they hold hands with the very person who has done harm to so many people.

How many pastors would dare to get involved in the downfall of another?

(I know, I know - Dan isn't a pastor - but plays the role.)

Posted by: justme Oct 12 2006, 09:29 PM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Oct 12 2006, 07:31 PM) ☐
>
> How many pastors would dare to get involved in the downfall of another?
>
> (I know, I know - Dan isn't a pastor - but plays the role.)

It occurs to me that we would do well to remember that there is a "SHAKING" coming, ...soon. The children of God are going to be moved to take a stand for God, through Jesus.

Ever since the "Adventist Movement" began in the mid 19th century there have been "leaders" who are willing "to let Achan's remain in the camp". God requires a purified church to become His Bride. We are told that there will be shaking, not only in the SDA church but in Christiandom at large.

I have a sneeking suspicion that the third and fourth generation Adventists will see the end of "compromises" with God. We need to stop playing "Let's Make A Deal" with God, and get down to scripture and prayer.

Alone with God! We are not saved as a 'body' nor as a denomination. We are saved individually. Thoes who have a working relationship with Jesus as the One to Whom we are "Engaged to Marry", are the ones He is coming back for.

That's why the call, "Come out of her, my people"! His people are coming out of her, now, but will soon come in the thousands. When the Holy Spirit has a people ready to accept these "baby Christians" without making fun of them, without sneering at their jewelry, and other things that one can grow and mature into, as the Holy Spirit leads their hearts, THEN and only then will reform come, and the sophistication and headiness will live unto themselves. But God will have Bride that will proclaim a "primitive gospel" to all the world. "Just the facts, man"!

The shaking will come as a result of the NEW converts who are on fire for God. The rockin'-chair adventists will be truly taxed to understand this new enthusiasm. Some 'old-timers" will leave our church, others will shout "It's about time! But the Laodiceans will be replaced by the "remnant". A truly thrilling vision to behold!

Those who have been covering their own sins and making excuses for their problems will fall away. Some have always blamed others for their problems, and who act the role of a victim, will fall away first. They have for so long failed to accept the need for repentance and confession that they have actually driven away the Holy Spirit from their lives.

Without the Holy Spirit in the life we don't know right from wrong and certainly don't have The Comforter there to tell us how to overcome the sin. When sin in one's life no longer appears to be sin, we have lost our "comforter", the Holy Spirit.

When we sin against the Holy Spirit there is no turning back. Only God know when that happens in one's life. That soul spends it's time looking for people to take advantage of, someone to dominate, someone to abuse, someone to call his "The Anointed One".

It happened to Pharaoh when he refused to yield to the God of Moses. God hardened Pharaoh's heart. Pharaoh was told the he was a God. (Christian Science went THAt far back?) Clay hardens when it no longer has any water coming to it. Pharaoh refused to soften his heart, God (as in the Holy Spirit) was told, by Pharaoh, to stop trying to reach Pharaoh's heart. God withdrew and Pharaoh's son died, Israel walked out of Egypt. When 'the defiant one', Pharaoh, tried to over power God's deliverance of His children, Pharaoh and all his forces drowned.

It is an awesome thing to go against God and His written word, but the ultimate sin is to harden one's heart against The Holy Spirit. And refuse to admit the sin in one's life.

Pray that all God's children will "Stand up, stand up for Jesus, you soldiers of the cross.."

Everybody sing it, ... ever wonder why they don't sing this one anymore?

Posted by: meadbd Oct 12 2006, 11:04 PM

[quote name='justme' date='Oct 12 2006, 10:29 PM' post='156641']
It occurs to me that we would do well to remember that there is a "SHAKING" coming, ...soon.
The children of God are going to be moved to take a stand for God, through Jesus.
==
Actually, the "SHAKJING" is not coming...It Is HERE!...and has been here for some time.
We are clearly in the 'time of the end'.

Let Jesus be the joy of our heart today and reveal His love to others.

Bill

Posted by: Ralph Oct 12 2006, 11:17 PM

> QUOTE(Uncle Sam @ Oct 11 2006, 07:28 PM) ☐
>
> I also understand many don't believe Danny was chosen and the miracle stories are made up. If that is true, why do people not speak out while they are enjoying the perks of being with Danny? Why wait until you have a falling out with him? That is where the credibility comes in....if someone had the courage, (because it is the right thing to do) to tell what Danny is doing while they are in his good graces than I believe the GC would have to listen....

I don't think it was just a case of enjoying the perks of being with Danny that prevented anyone from speaking out. It was just a case of no one checking things out. In any large company it is normal for rumors to be floating around. Employees trust that their boss knows what he is doing and are usually more concerned about their own problems than they are with some rumor. But when something major goes wrong, then people start asking questions. It is easy afterwards to look back and see that things were wrong for a long time. Foresight is not so clear.

Look at the tough time that Barbara Kerr had. Even if she was working closely with both Danny and Linda, she was confused. Things weren't as clear then as they seem now. Thank you so much for speaking out. I am so proud of you.

I wish I could chat with Linda's daughter and tell her how proud I am of her for writing that statement. Probably that was the most difficult thing that she ever did, and took real courage. A person who is being treated the way Linda's daughter was treated usually has questions. "What's wrong with me ? What did I do wrong? Did I act inappropriately for him to do what he did? Is it my fault? I am sure I am the only one...." (An abused person looks inward and often is not able to see the true dynamics of the situation.)

I hope each of us can be here to give support for the people who are having a rough time right now. When we are in the middle of a mess like some of the readers have been, it is difficult to believe that there are good people -- people who really care. Right now so many people need a transfusion of hope.

Posted by: Johann Oct 13 2006, 06:03 AM

> QUOTE(Ralph @ Oct 13 2006, 07:17 AM)
>
> I don't think it was just a case of enjoying the perks of being with Danny that prevented anyone from speaking out. It was just a case of no one checking things out. In any large company it is normal for rumors to be floating around. Employees trust that their boss knows what he is doing and are usually more concerned about their own problems than they are with some rumor. But when something major goes wrong, then people start asking questions. It is easy afterwards to look back and see that things were wrong for a long time. Foresight is not so clear.
>
> Look at the tough time that Barbara Kerr had. Even if she was working closely with both Danny and Linda, she was confused. Things weren't as clear then as they seem now. Thank you so much for speaking out. I am so proud of you.
>
> I wish I could chat with Linda's daughter and tell her how proud I am of her for writing that statement. Probably that was the most difficult thing that she ever did, and took real courage. A person who is being treated the way Linda's daughter was treated usually has questions. "What's wrong with me ? What did I do wrong? Did I act inappropriately for him to do what he did? Is it my fault? I am sure I am the only one...." (An abused person looks inward and often is not able to see the true dynamics of the situation.)
>
> I hope each of us can be here to give support for the people who are having a rough time right now. When we are in the middle of a mess like some of the readers have been, it is difficult to believe that there are good people -- people who really care. Right now so many people need a transfusion of hope.

Ralph, I sure appreciate what you are saying here, and I can assure you that at least Linda appreciates it too. Linda does not normally read anything on the net herself, but I made sure she could read what you had written. . .

Posted by: lurker Oct 13 2006, 06:51 AM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Oct 13 2006, 07:03 AM) ☐
>
> Ralph, I sure appreciate what you are saying here, and I can assure you that at least Linda appreciates it too. Linda does not normally read anything on the net herself, but I made sure she could read what you had written. . .

This makes me feel bad that others have expressed how much admiration they feel for Linda's daughter also yet I have not said anything. Probably for each person that speaks up and says they appreciate her boldness, there are many who feel great that she has taken back the power in this situation. I would say to her, "You go girl! You rock!"

Posted by: Aunt B Oct 13 2006, 07:39 AM

> QUOTE(Ralph @ Oct 13 2006, 12:17 AM) ☐
>
> Look at the tough time that Barbara Kerr had. Even if she was working closely with both Danny and Linda, she was confused. Things weren't as clear then as they seem now. Thank you so much for speaking out. I am so proud of you.
>
> I wish I could chat with Linda's daughter and tell her how proud I am of her for writing that statement. Probably that was the most difficult thing that she ever did, and took real courage. A person who is being treated the way Linda's daughter was treated usually has questions. "What's wrong with me ? What did I do wrong? Did I act inappropriately for him to do what he did? Is it my fault? I am sure I am the only one...." (An abused person looks inward and often is not able to see the true dynamics of the situation.)
>
> I hope each of us can be here to give support for the people who are having a rough time right now. When we are in the middle of a mess like some of the readers have been, it is difficult to believe that there are good people -- people who really care. Right now so many people need a transfusion of hope.

This is all so true, and more of us need to communicate our support. Johann, please tell Linda and Alyssa there is a lot of love out here for them.

Posted by: Shannon Oct 13 2006, 11:44 PM

Someone I feel has been left out of this equation and needs to be considered is Dan's current wife's daughter (or children?). I know she has at least one young school-aged daughter. We can only hope and pray that she will escape the horror of a grown man who is supposed to play the role of father, protector, comforter and, most importantly, an image of God for her, coming into her bedroom in the middle of the night. I think of her often, as I happened to glimpse her at the spring 3ABN campmeeting (and before I knew ALL of the details I now know). A very pretty young girl. I hope Brandy's eyes will not be so filled with stars and wool that she will not see the signs. Please, please join me in praying for them.

Lord God, we know you are a Friend foremost of children and we know that this child is Yours. You love and value her infinitely. Lord, we pray that You will place a hedge of protection about her, so that no attempt to hurt her may prevail. Surround her always with warrior angels whose fiery swords will stay the enemy, yea wound him for trying. We pray that his every attempt will be met with personal suffering for himself, not just inconvenience or frustration. Father, be with this mother, who cannot have truly known what kind of man she was bringing into her daughter's life and her own. Help her be ever vigilant and watchful, taking special care to warn her daughter against men who would take advantage of her. Help her to be a praying mother. Remind her of her responsibility to her child(ren) first and foremost. Finally, Father, if the unspeakable has already happened, grant wisdom and courage to these hearts, determination, too. Help them stand up, get out, speak out. Thank you for granting us a portion of Your power. Help us to use it wisely. Thank you for hearing and answering our prayers. In Jesus' name we pray, Amen.

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Oct 14 2006, 04:51 AM

Remember how they trumped up false accusations against Christ in hopes of sending Him to the cross?

The innocent Son of God allowed this to happen to Him for a reason.

God is obviously allowing this to happen to Linda and to others for a reason, however, Christ rose victoriously from the dead, and He will return victoriously to the sinful planet to redeem His saints.

I also believe that good will come out of this as it did with Joseph. After he was falsely accused and sent to prison for several years, Joseph was later released from prison and was second to the Pharoah himself.

So hang in there everybody, just as Joseph hung in there.

Posted by: JustTana Oct 14 2006, 09:10 PM

> QUOTE(Shannon @ Oct 14 2006, 01:44 AM)
>
> Someone I feel has been left out of this equation and needs to be considered is Dan's current wife's daughter (or children?). I know she has at least one young school-aged daughter. We can only hope and pray that she will escape the horror of a grown man who is supposed to play the role of father, protector, comforter and, most importantly, an image of God for her, coming into her bedroom in the middle of the night. I think of her often, as I happened to glimpse her at the spring 3ABN campmeeting (and before I knew ALL of the details I now know). A very pretty young girl. I hope Brandy's eyes will not be so filled with stars and wool that she will not see the signs. Please, please join me in praying for them.
>
> Lord God, we know you are a Friend foremost of children and we know that this child is Yours. You love and value her infinitely. Lord, we pray that You will place a hedge of protection about her, so that no attempt to hurt her may prevail. Surround her always with warrior angels whose fiery swords will stay the enemy, yea wound him for trying. We pray that his every attempt will be met with personal suffering for himself, not just inconvenience or frustration. Father, be with this mother, who cannot have truly known what kind of man she was bringing into her daughter's life and her own. Help her be ever vigilant and watchful, taking special care to warn her daughter against men who would take advantage of her. Help her to be a praying mother. Remind her of her responsibility to her child(ren) first and foremost. Finally, Father, if the unspeakable has already happened, grant wisdom and courage to these hearts, determination, too. Help them stand up, get > out, speak out. Thank you for granting us a portion of Your power. Help us to use it wisely. Thank you for hearing and answering our prayers. In Jesus' name we pray, Amen.

Thank you, Shannon, for such a specific prayer for these little girls. It is also my prayer and I could not have put it more beautifully than you did.

JT

Posted by: tall73 Oct 19 2006, 01:06 PM

> QUOTE(inga @ Oct 5 2006, 10:36 AM) ☐
>
> It is true that "brethren" are not to go to law against each other. However, the biblical precedent is clear that, if all the allegations are true, Danny should long ago have been disfellowshipped for his sexual misconduct and would therefore no longer be a "brother in the church."
> Indeed!!!
>
> For 3ABN to even request such a "hearing" is to attempt to intimidate her and thus re-abuse her.

Is there a direct correlation between going to law in a dispute and going to the authorities in a criminal case? The case in Corinth appears to be more of a civil law suit. They were taking matters to judges to decide when the church had authority to rule in such trivial cases.

God established the authorities to punish the wrongdoer, according to Romans 13, and the text already cited in Peter's epistle. We are not to take vengeance and are to leave it to God's justice. But the role of the goverment is to "bear the sword."

If someone is criminally abusing people (which can be established in court if so), then they need to be prosecuted in my view.

Once the criminal courts have found them guilty it is pretty easy for the local church to make a case for disfellowshipping.

At the same time the pastor and church do play a role. They play a pastoral role to all involved. And they may try to avoid a protracted case by seeing whether the person really is guilty and asking them to come forward if they are.

But to me God establishes the governing authorities for a reason, and there is no conflict in taking criminal matters to the government.

We leave final judgment to God. We forgive for the hurts caused to us. But we also recognize the penalties for sin in this life, and that people need protection from those who do harm. Therefore the government has a legitimate role in punishing the wrong doer.

The original purpose of Paul's letter was to encourage submission to the goverment. However, it clearly outlines its role as structured by God.

Posted by: tall73 Oct 19 2006, 01:17 PM

[color=#3366FF]1Co 6:1 When one of you has a grievance against another, does he dare go to law before the unrighteous instead of the saints?
1Co 6:2 Or do you not know that the saints will judge the world? And if the world is to be judged by you, are you incompetent to try trivial cases?
1Co 6:3 Do you not know that we are to judge angels? How much more, then, matters pertaining to this life!
1Co 6:4 So if you have such cases, why do you lay them before those who have no standing in the church?
1Co 6:5 I say this to your shame. Can it be that there is no one among you wise enough to settle a dispute between the brothers, 1Co 6:6 but brother goes to law against brother, and that before unbelievers?
1Co 6:7 To have lawsuits at all with one another is already a defeat for you. Why not rather suffer wrong? Why not rather be defrauded?
1Co 6:8 But you yourselves wrong and defraud--even your own brothers!

It appears that the issues in Corinth were primarily financial "defraudment" or disputes over money. That is a little different than sexual crimes, etc.

The church could settle a dispute and have restitution made. But they did not have authority to put to death, which was the work of the government.

Posted by: jodi Oct 21 2006, 06:32 PM

Look at the tough time that Barbara Kerr had. Even if she was working closely with both Danny and Linda, she was confused. Things weren't as clear then as they seem now. Thank you so much for speaking out. I am so proud of you

Yes, Barbara did have a very hard time trying to figure out what Danny was all about initially - but soon his 'real colors' became apparant. I had personal experience with this man also and finally, wrote him a letter asking him if anything he ever said was, in fact, the truth, because I knew personally, everything he said about Barbara was nothing but lies. He never responded to my email to him.

I am glad that with the investigation nearing its completion, the truth will come out and it can't come too soon for this person. Danny has done alot of damage and hurt alot of people and it is time that he be held accountable to all. THAT is Biblical. Restitution is Biblical, and oh, how he needs to make restitution....I am counting the days, hours and minutes!!

Posted by: sonshineonme Oct 21 2006, 06:49 PM

QUOTE(jodi @ Oct 21 2006, 05:32 PM)

> Look at the tough time that Barbara Kerr had. Even if she was working closely with both Danny and Linda, she was confused. Things weren't as clear then as they seem now. Thank you so much for speaking out. I am so proud of you
>
> Yes, Barbara did have a very hard time trying to figure out what Danny was all about initially - but soon his 'real colors' became apparant. I had personal experience with this man also and finally, wrote him a letter asking him if anything he ever said was, in fact, the truth, because I knew personally, everything he said about Barbara was nothing but lies. He never responded to my email to him.

> I am glad that with the investigation nearing its completion, the truth will come out and it can't come too soon for this person. Danny has done alot of damage and hurt alot of people and it is time that he be held accountable to all. THAT is Biblical. Restitution is Biblical, and oh, how he needs to make restitution....I am counting the days, hours and minutes!!

Remember to pray for those that may stand in place to hear the "truths", that they will do the right thing. I personally (and honestly) do not have faith in them, that is my issue (pray for me too), but the most important thing to me is that God knows the truth, and that man will fail us time and time again, in the most dispicable ways even, so please pray that God's will be done and that justice can happen now too, not just when Jesus returns.

Posted by: seraph|m Feb 4 2007, 08:16 PM

> QUOTE(tall73 @ Oct 19 2006, 02:06 PM)
>
> Is there a direct correlation between going to law in a dispute and going to the authorities in a criminal case? The case in Corinth appears to be more of a civil law suit. They were taking matters to judges to decide when the church had authority to rule in such trivial cases.
>
> God established the authorities to punish the wrongdoer, according to Romans 13, and the text already cited in Peter's epistle. We are not to take vengeance and are to leave it to God's justice. But the role of the goverment is to "bear the sword."
>
> If someone is criminally abusing people (which can be established in court if so), then they need to be prosecuted in my view.
>
> Once the criminal courts have found them guilty it is pretty easy for the local church to make a case for disfellowshipping.
>
> At the same time the pastor and church do play a role. They play a pastoral role to all involved. And they may try to avoid a protracted case by seeing whether the person really is guilty and asking them to come forward if they are.
>
> But to me God establishes the governing authorities for a reason, and there is no conflict in taking criminal matters to the government.
>
> We leave final judgment to God. We forgive for the hurts caused to us. But we also recognize the penalties for sin in this life, and that people need protection from those who do harm. Therefore the government has a legitimate role in punishing the wrong doer.
>
> The original purpose of Paul's letter was to encourage submission to the goverment. However, it clearly outlines its role as structured by God.

Well said...

Posted by: Rosyroi Feb 4 2007, 09:20 PM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Oct 4 2006, 06:23 PM)
>
> Somebody help me here, but I believe 3abn started in the mid-80's? That gives us 20+ years of stuff to talk about. Danny started 3abn with Linda as his wife. Whatever happen with his frist wife is out of scope.

Wow! my memory isen't as bad as I thought it was. I thought that was what one of the Admin stated in another post. I just don't remember where I saw it.

98

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ Privacy Policy Violation

Posted by: calvin Feb 1 2007, 09:49 PM

A BSDA member's sexual orientation is off limits. I consider it to be violation of our privacy policy. I sent a warning PM to the offending members. So this notice is for anyone I missed or may have such plans.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Feb 1 2007, 09:50 PM

Stop playing Calvin! There is no one that crass, bold, or ...dare I say -

"OFF"

...that would ask someone their sexual orientation.....

Is there?

Posted by: calvin Feb 1 2007, 09:57 PM

Stop playing? Are you serious or being sarcastic? Can't always tell with you.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Feb 1 2007, 10:01 PM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Feb 1 2007, 11:57 PM)
>
> Stop playing? Are you serious or being sarcastic? Can't always tell with you.

I'm being a bit of both....
There is no one that "OFF" that would actually question someone about their sexual orientation ON THE BOARD....or is there?

If so..... is that something that can get you banned? If not.... can the rule be altered so that it becomes something that gets you banned? There are certain things that truthfully speaking are just nobody's business.... JMO

...and yes...I was being sarcastic/serious at the same time....people amaze me at times....

Posted by: calvin Feb 1 2007, 10:16 PM

> QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Feb 1 2007, 10:01 PM)
>
> I'm being a bit of both....

> There is no one that "OFF" that would actually question someone about their sexual orientation ON THE BOARD....or is there?
>
> If so..... is that something that can get you banned? If not.... can the rule be altered so that it becomes something that gets you banned? There are certain things that truthfully speaking are just nobody's business.... JMO
>
> ...and yes...I was being sarcastic/serious at the same time....people amaze me at times....

Ok, thanks for the clarification. The offenders have been warned that they will be banned.

Posted by: seraph|m Feb 1 2007, 10:22 PM

Calvin, will that also include people "speculating" about what somebody elses orientation may be? IOW, if anyone trys to suggest what someone elses orientation "might" be?

Posted by: calvin Feb 1 2007, 10:31 PM

Yes Sera speculation is included, whether explicit or implied.

Posted by: seraph|m Feb 1 2007, 10:57 PM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Feb 1 2007, 11:31 PM)
>
> Yes Sera speculation is included, whether explicit or implied.

Thank you... just wanted to be sure I did not misunderstand.

Posted by: Aletheia Feb 2 2007, 08:04 AM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Feb 1 2007, 10:49 PM)
>
> A BSDA member's sexual orientation is off limits. I consider it to be violation of our privacy policy. I sent a warning PM to the offending members. So this notice is for anyone I missed or may have such plans.

I'm really not sure if I already violated this or not as I posted, a reference to being able to question one party but not the other, before seeing this notice?? If so I apologise.

But in any case just so I understand.

How does this apply to the allegations against Tommy Shelton which is posted here in almost every recent topic? and what can be posted here in regards to that?

His sexual orientation has been questioned as to whether he is into little boys or men...

There is also an issue of whether these things even happened and if they did whether it was assualt or consentual.

If we can't mention someones sexual orientation, how are these things to be discussed, or proved true or false?

I do agree that members shouldn't as a rule have their private lives questioned, but if their private life is relevant to a discussion where they themselves are testifying about someone elses private life???

Thanks in advance for clarifying this issue so all know what can and cannot be said.

Posted by: calvin Feb 2 2007, 08:11 AM

Members here have rights and privileges as I define them. Public figures like Danny, Linda, and Tommy are not afforded those right here.

Posted by: task force Feb 2 2007, 10:43 AM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Feb 2 2007, 08:11 AM)
>
> Members here have rights and privileges as I define them. Public figures like Danny, Linda, and Tommy are not afforded those right here.

I would ask you Calvin, how about the rights of the rest of the Shelton family? Some of them has had their sexual orintation slandered in the "televangelists" Are you going to edit those out like you did the comments about Clem? Or just edit this out and remove my membership? You have a BIG responsibility... you need to realize this.

Posted by: awesumtenor Feb 2 2007, 10:53 AM

> QUOTE(task force @ Feb 2 2007, 11:43 AM)
>
> Or just edit this out and remove my membership?

You mean like you all did with Linda? Retaping shows, editing websites, re-printing brochures all in an attempt to make it seem as if she never existed...

All based on proof that doesnt exist... and please.. spare us the " oh, there is proof... you're gonna have to trust us" spiel. Had the proof been produced when the allegations were first broadcast, we probably arent even having this conversation. You have had countess opportunities to produce it since then and consistently have not done so... and in this and other threads you alternate between whining about unfairness and making subtle and not so subtle threats to various people.

And still have not proven jack. Show us the stigmata...

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: awesumtenor Feb 2 2007, 11:05 AM

> QUOTE(task force @ Feb 2 2007, 11:43 AM)
>
> I would ask you Calvin, how about the rights of the rest of the Shelton family? Some of them has had their sexual orintation slandered in the "televangelists" Are you going to edit those out like you did the comments about Clem? Or just edit this out and remove my membership? You have a BIG responsibility... you need to realize this.

The serial bully:

- is a convincing, practised liar and when called to account, will make up anything spontaneously to fit their needs at that moment
- is glib, shallow and superficial with plenty of fine words and lots of form - but there's no substance
- is self-opinionated and displays arrogance, audacity, a superior sense of entitlement and sense of invulnerability and untouchability
- has a deep-seated contempt of clients in contrast to his or her professed compassion
- is a control freak and has a compulsive need to control everyone and everything you say, do, think and believe
- is also quick to belittle, undermine, denigrate and discredit anyone who calls, attempts to call, or might call the bully to account
- is mean-spirited, officious, and often unbelievably petty
- is constantly imposing on others a false reality made up of distortion and fabrication

There are actually more that could have gone on the list from this post alone...

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: task force Feb 2 2007, 11:06 AM

> QUOTE(awesumtenor @ Feb 2 2007, 10:53 AM)
>
> You mean like you all did with Linda? Retaping shows, editing websites, re-printing brochures all in an attempt to make it seem as if she never existed...
>
> All based on proof that doesnt exist... and please.. spare us the " oh, there is proof... you're gonna > have to trust us" spiel. Had the proof been produced when the allegations were first broadcast, we probably arent even having this conversation. You have had countess opportunities to produce it since then and consistently have not done so... and in this and other threads you alternate between whining about unfairness and making subtle and not so subtle threats to various people.

>
> And still have not proven jack. Show us the stigmata...
>
> In His service,
> Mr. J

Now you are quilty of doing what you accused so many others of doing... switching the subject from the slanderous accusations of sexual orientation of other Sheltons .. that's not going away!
THe proof exist.. why do you think Linda, since you brought her name up, is not talking now that the gag order expired at the end of December.?.. she knows there is proof! She doesn't want it out there.

Posted by: Clay Feb 2 2007, 11:08 AM

> QUOTE(task force @ Feb 2 2007, 11:06 AM) ☐
>
> Now you are quilty of doing what you accused so many others of doing... switching the subject from the slanderous accusations of sexual orientation of other Sheltons .. that's not going away!
> THe proof exist.. why do you think Linda, since you brought her name up, is not talking now that the gag order expired at the end of December.?.. she knows there is proof! She doesn't want it out there.

whateva.... isnt there something at 3abn you should be tending to?

Posted by: task force Feb 2 2007, 11:10 AM

> QUOTE(awesumtenor @ Feb 2 2007, 11:05 AM) ☐
>
> The serial bully:
>
> - is a convincing, practised liar and when called to account, will make up anything spontaneously to fit their needs at that moment
> - is glib, shallow and superficial with plenty of fine words and lots of form - but there's no substance
> - is self-opinionated and displays arrogance, audacity, a superior sense of entitlement and sense of invulnerability and untouchability
> - has a deep-seated contempt of clients in contrast to his or her professed compassion
> - is a control freak and has a compulsive need to control everyone and everything you say, do, think and believe
> - is also quick to belittle, undermine, denigrate and discredit anyone who calls, attempts to call, or might call the bully to account
> - is mean-spirited, officious, and often unbelievably petty
> - is constantly imposing on others a false reality made up of distortion and fabrication
>
> There are actually more that could have gone on the list from this post alone...

> I'm confused.. are you talking about yourself here???
>
> In His service,
> Mr. J

Posted by: awesumtenor Feb 2 2007, 11:12 AM

> QUOTE(task force @ Feb 2 2007, 12:06 PM)
>
> Now you are quilty of doing what you accused so many others of doing... switching the subject from the slanderous accusations of sexual orientation of other Sheltons .. that's not going away!
> THe proof exist.. why do you think Linda, since you brought her name up, is not talking now that the gag order expired at the end of December.?.. she knows there is proof! She doesn't want it out there.

By this logic, the same could be said about all of your attempts to disparage those who have put Tommy under glass...thus what they say must be true too...

Thanks for clearing that up.

In His service,
Mr. J

> QUOTE
> I'm confused.. are you talking about yourself here???

Surely you can do better than that, mollie.

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: Skyhook Feb 2 2007, 11:13 AM

Mr. That is an excellent, comprehensive description of DS as far I can tell from what I have seen on TV and read here. You must have given him an MMPI.

Posted by: princessdi Feb 2 2007, 11:16 AM

I'm really not sure if I already violated this or not as I posted, a reference to being able to question one party but not the other, before seeing this notice?? If so I apologise.

But in any case just so I understand.

How does this apply to the allegations against Tommy Shelton which is posted here in almost every recent topic? and what can be posted here in regards to that?

As we have victims letters, etc. as prrof to Tommy's actions, and as Calvin says, he is a public figure. He is fair game.

His sexual orientation has been questioned as to whether he is into little boys or men...

Cindy a preference for both young men and boys would still make him homosexual. That is not in question. Evidence, thus far shows he prefers young and male. What is in question is whether he is a pedohpile.

There is also an issue of whether these things even happened and if they did whether it was assualt or consentual.

Only to those who don't want to believe the victims own words. It happens which is why many victims don't speak up and speak out.
If we can't mention someones sexual orientation, how are these things to be discussed, or proved true or false?

I do agree that members shouldn't as a rule have their private lives questioned, but if their private life is relevant to a discussion where they themselves are testifying about someone elses private life???

It is a common pratice by abusers of any kind to blame the victim. No matter the sexual preference of the victim, they have the right to refuse sexual advances from any one. It is the same as rape victims. the defense for the alleged rapist always wants to bring in the victims personal life, but that is immaterial to the fact that the rapist to that victim by force, often knowing nothing about that persons personal life. It is just as immaterial here. To put it bluntly, even if one of Tommy's victims were gay, as a married pastor, Tommy had no business approching them for sex. They have the right to refuse his advances. It is also still an abuse of his authority as a pastor and leader of his congregation. Fact is, nothing would be in question here, we would not be even having this discussion, if Tommy had asked his wife, and her only for sex. Just that simple.

Posted by: calvin Feb 2 2007, 11:31 AM

> QUOTE(task force @ Feb 2 2007, 10:43 AM)
>
> I would ask you Calvin, how about the rights of the rest of the Shelton family? Some of them has had their sexual orintation slandered in the "televangelists" Are you going to edit those out like you did the comments about Clem? Or just edit this out and remove my membership? You have a BIG responsibility... you need to realize this.

You keep this whining up, I will remove your membership.

This needs repeating since I have not said it in awhile. "I don't have to be fair" If I want this to be a pro-3ABN forum or a Anti-3ABN forum I can do that. It's my board. What you need to do Task Force is adhere to my Terms of Service. If not then leave, start your forum, blog, whatever, and then you can run it the way you want too.

Those have gotten to know me, know that one of my hot buttons is "whiners". I don't like whinners complaining about unfair I am, why I don't do this or that with others, etc. Whining will get you banned quicker that anything.

Posted by: task force Feb 2 2007, 11:50 AM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Feb 2 2007, 11:31 AM) ☐
>
> You keep this whining up, I will remove your membership.
>
> This needs repeating since I have not said it in awhile. "I don't have to be fair" If I want this to be a pro-3ABN forum or a Anti-3ABN forum I can do that. It's my board. What you need to do Task Force is adhere to my Terms of Service. If not then leave, start your forum, blog, whatever, and then you can run it the way you want too.
>
> Those have gotten to know me, know that one of my hot buttons is "whiners". I don't like whinners complaining about unfair I am, why I don't do this or that with others, etc. Whining will get you banned quicker that anything.

What a joke you are...Such PRIDE! It's oozing out of you! Now who's whinning? I will adhere to the "terms of service" when you do!
Sure remove my membership "Boss" that won't stop the lawsuit coming your direction!

Posted by: ex3ABNemployee Feb 2 2007, 11:55 AM

> QUOTE(task force @ Feb 2 2007, 11:50 AM) ☐
>
> What a joke you are...Such PRIDE! It's oozing out of you! Now who's whinning? I will adhere to the "terms of service" when you do!
> Sure remove my membership "Boss" that won't stop the lawsuit coming your direction!

Calvin is acting a lot more Christian about this than you are.

He doesn't HAVE to have your approval. It's HIS Board.

You're free to start your own board if you don't like this one. Of course, I don't know when you'd have time to run it, seeing how you have so much to do here.

BTW, whining has only one "n".

Posted by: awesumtenor Feb 2 2007, 12:07 PM

> QUOTE(task force @ Feb 2 2007, 12:50 PM) ☐
>
> What a joke you are...Such PRIDE! It's oozing out of you! Now who's whinning? I will adhere to the "terms of service" when you do!
> Sure remove my membership "Boss" that won't stop the lawsuit coming your direction!

Give it a rest with the lawsuit silliness... we're not buying it.

That last thing you people want is to have to do discovery deposition after discovery deposition and everything you say is on the record and under oath... and unless there is a grand jury involved... that stuff can be plastered all over...

Yeah... real genius move on your part...

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Feb 2 2007, 12:11 PM

> QUOTE(ex3ABNemployee @ Feb 2 2007, 10:55 AM)
>
> Calvin is acting a lot more Christian about this than you are.
>
> He doesn't HAVE to have your approval. It's HIS Board.
>
> You're free to start your own board if you don't like this one. Of course, I don't know when you'd have time to run it, seeing how you have so much to do here.
>
> BTW, whining has only one "n".

Perhaps he meant to write "whinnying" and forgot the "y".

rofl

Sorry, just couldn't help it.

Posted by: Nuggie Feb 2 2007, 12:27 PM

> QUOTE(task force @ Feb 2 2007, 12:50 PM)
>
> What a joke you are...Such PRIDE! It's oozing out of you! Now who's whinning? I will adhere to the "terms of service" when you do!
> Sure remove my membership "Boss" that won't stop the lawsuit coming your direction!

...wake me up when this tantrum is over...

Posted by: calvin Feb 2 2007, 12:51 PM

> QUOTE(task force @ Feb 2 2007, 11:50 AM)
>
> What a joke you are...Such PRIDE! It's oozing out of you! Now who's whinning? I will adhere to the "terms of service" when you do!
> Sure remove my membership "Boss" that won't stop the lawsuit coming your direction!

Your done here.
giljoti

Posted by: inga Feb 2 2007, 01:07 PM

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Feb 2 2007, 12:16 PM)
>
> To put it bluntly, even if one of Tommy's victims were gay, as a married pastor, Tommy had no business approching them for sex. They have the right to refuse his advances. It is also still an abuse of his authority as a pastor and leader of his congregation. Fact is, nothing would be in question here, we would not be even having this discussion, if Tommy had asked his wife, and her only for sex. Just that simple.[/color]

Right on, PrincessDi! Keep reminding us of the real issues!

> QUOTE(task force @ Feb 2 2007, 12:50 PM)
>
> What a joke you are...Such PRIDE! It's oozing out of you! Now who's whinning? I will adhere to the "terms of service" when you do!
> Sure remove my membership "Boss" that won't stop the lawsuit coming your direction!

Now that does sound like an 3ABN administrator -- Mollie or Dan, maybe? That lawsuit reference is a dead giveaway! Now that they've alerted Gailon, more threats are likely on the way.

Hey, Calvin, please be kind to the poor beleaguered 3ABN administrators and let them keep posting! We really do want to hear their side. And Mollie is in a good position to drop some "insider" dope now & then, as is Dan. h

---

Posted by: Clay Feb 2 2007, 01:14 PM

see Task Force should have heeded my suggestion and tended to their 3abn bizness... but noooooooo had to antagonize the very one who could put them out..... not a bright bunch ova there...

Posted by: calvin Feb 2 2007, 01:19 PM

> QUOTE(inga @ Feb 2 2007, 01:07 PM)
>
> Right on, PrincessDi! Keep reminding us of the real issues!
> Now that does sound like an 3ABN administrator -- Mollie or Dan, maybe? That lawsuit > reference is a dead giveaway! Now that they've alerted Gailon, more threats are likely on the way.

>
> Hey, Calvin, please be kind to the poor beleaguered 3ABN administrators and let them keep posting! We really do want to hear their side. And Mollie is in a good position to drop some "insider" dope now & then, as is Dan. h

They can keep posting as long as they repect me, the admins. and the rules. I warned this guy what my hot buttons where and he when right on ahead anyway.

No need for concern Inga, others will follow to take their place

> QUOTE(Clay @ Feb 2 2007, 01:14 PM)
>
> see Task Force should have heeded my suggestion and tended to their 3abn bizness... but noooooooo had to antagonize the very one who could put them out..... not a bright bunch ova there...

I agree Clay. That was pretty stupid. That is if he wanted to stay here.

Posted by: princessdi Feb 2 2007, 01:25 PM

Wake up, Nuggie!! Trantrum over! I dont' know what he was thinking........

> QUOTE(calvin @ Feb 2 2007, 10:51 AM)
>
> Your done here.
> giljoti

Posted by: Nuggie Feb 2 2007, 01:41 PM

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Feb 2 2007, 02:25 PM)
>
> Wake up, Nuggie!! Trantrum over! I dont' know what he was thinking........

Thank you...they're really a tiresome bunch...and not too bright either ...

Posted by: Bystander Feb 2 2007, 01:57 PM

[quote name='princessdi' date='Feb 2 2007, 10:16 AM' post='174657']
I'm really not sure if I already violated this or not as I posted, a reference to being able to question one party but not the other, before seeing this notice?? If so I apologise.

But in any case just so I understand.

How does this apply to the allegations against Tommy Shelton which is posted here in almost every recent topic? and what can be posted here in regards to that?

As we have victims letters, etc. as prrof to Tommy's actions, and as Calvin says, he is a public figure. He is fair game.

Cindy a preference for both young men and boys would still make him homosexual. That is not in question. Evidence, thus far shows he prefers young and male. What is in question is whether he is a pedohpile.
Wow that is some heavy accusations Di. A court of law would require a lot more proof than a few letters ,to convict someone...Oh, but I forgot....this court has it's own set of rules that constitutes conviction...After reading what's going on in the "lawsuit thread" I hope that your set of rules, of labeling someone a homosexual and/or child molester will somehow "match up" with the laws set of rules...I have a feeling that it won't but hey, good luck with that.

> QUOTE(inga @ Feb 2 2007, 12:07 PM)
>
> Right on, PrincessDi! Keep reminding us of the real issues!
> Now that does sound like an 3ABN administrator -- Mollie or Dan, maybe? That lawsuit reference is a dead giveaway! Now that they've alerted Gailon, more threats are likely on the way.
>
> Hey, Calvin, please be kind to the poor beleaguered 3ABN administrators and let them keep posting! We really do want to hear their side. And Mollie is in a good position to drop some "insider" dope now & then, as is Dan.

Inga maybe you haven't seen Calvins warnings about trying to guess identities. It's against the rules. As far as the "lawsuit" being a dead giveaway...not hardly when we are all reading the "lawsuit" thread. That is how we know about it.

> QUOTE(awesumtenor @ Feb 2 2007, 11:07 AM)
>
> Give it a rest with the lawsuit silliness... we're not buying it.
>
> That last thing you people want is to have to do discovery deposition after discovery deposition and everything you say is on the record and under oath... and unless there is a grand jury involved... that stuff can be plastered all over...
>
> Yeah... real genius move on your part...

> In His service,
> Mr. J

In all fairness, whether it is "genius" or not, remains to be seen. Don't ya think?

Posted by: calvin Feb 2 2007, 02:04 PM

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Feb 2 2007, 01:57 PM)
>
> Inga maybe you haven't seen Calvins warnings about trying to guess identities. It's against the rules. As far as the "lawsuit" being a dead giveaway...not hardly when we are all reading the "lawsuit" thread. That is how we know about it.
> In all fairness, whether it is "genius" or not, remains to be seen. Don't ya think?

You can have fun guessing all you want too. Yall going to do it anyway. Can't kick everybody out. Just don't badger someone to identify themselves....and BTW, I am not telling anybody anything. So don't ask. Neither is Clay or PrincessDi.

Posted by: Bystander Feb 2 2007, 02:07 PM

> QUOTE(Nuggie @ Feb 2 2007, 12:41 PM)
>
> Thank you...they're really a tiresome bunch...and not too bright either ...

Who is bright or not, remains to be seen as we follow the lawsuit threads

---

Posted by: princessdi Feb 2 2007, 02:26 PM

That is no accusation. As I said even you have been implying the the advances were made to young men who are of consenting age. So, the question of his homosexuality is moot, even for you. What you are trying to get us to buy is that he is not a pedophile. I came to that conclusion from your(wwjd, and Aletheia, etc.) posts. Plus it is just a statement of fact in answer to Cindy's statement here:

> QUOTE
>
> How does this apply to the allegations against Tommy Shelton which is posted here in almost every recent topic? and what can be posted here in regards to that?
> His sexual orientation has been questioned as to whether he is into little boys or men...

Now, she may have mispoken, but there is no question as to a man's sexual orientation if he prefers with young men or little boys. What is in question is his pedophilia. Once again, even by your own statements, he was approaching at the very least, very young men, barely of consenting age. That has been established, that makes him at the very least bi-sexual, as he is married for many years, corect? So I make no assumptions here. This is what your and yours friends are inferring when you attempt to make these unfortunate encounters, consenting homosexual relationships. Now, you may want to rethink your strategy at this point.

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Feb 2 2007, 11:57 AM)
>
> As quoted by Princessdi:
> Cindy a preference for both young men and boys would still make him homosexual. That is not in question. Evidence, thus far shows he prefers young and male. What is in question is whether he is a pedohpile.

Posted by: Observer Feb 2 2007, 02:37 PM

If my memory of time is correct, in the 1980s, a member of the Religion faculty at what is now Southern Adventist University wrote the book: HOMOSEXUALITY IN SCRIPTURE AND HISTORY. In my mind I consider that book to be very vaulable. It is out of print, but can be purchased on the Internet.

Anyway, the mere defination of "homosexuality" is not agreeed upon by the people who work in the field. (That is the reason people argue as to whether or not homosexuals can change their orientation.) As there is no one defination upon which all can agree I will suggest that we ought not to call one a homosexual who has not identified him/her-self as such.

I support the decision of the Administration of this forum to tell us to quit calling people homosexual.

> QUOTE(Observer @ Feb 2 2007, 01:34 PM)
>
> If my memory of time is correct, in the 1980s, a member of the Religion faculty at what is now Southern Adventist University wrote the book: HOMOSEXUALITY IN SCRIPTURE AND HISTORY. In my mind I consider that book to be very vaulable. It is out of print, but can be purchased on the Internet.
>
> Anyway, the mere defination of "homosexuality" is not agreeed upon by the people who work in the field. (That is the reason people argue as to whether or not homosexuals can change their orientation.) As there is no one defination upon which all can agree I will suggest that we ought not to call one a homosexual who has not identified him/her-self as such.
>
> I support the decision of the Administration of this forum to tell us to quit calling people homosexual.

Re: " . . . but there is no question as to a man's sexual orientation . . . "

I will suggest that his total sexual orientation has not been estaablished. Until one knows another's total sexual orientation, one should be very careful in the statements made about that person.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Feb 2 2007, 08:37 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Feb 2 2007, 10:04 AM) ☐
>
> I'm really not sure if I already violated this or not as I posted, a reference to being able to question one party but not the other, before seeing this notice?? If so I apologise.
>
> But in any case just so I understand.
>
> How does this apply to the allegations against Tommy Shelton which is posted here in almost every recent topic? and what can be posted here in regards to that?
>
> His sexual orientation has been questioned as to whether he is into little boys or men...
>
> There is also an issue of whether these things even happened and if they did whether it was assualt or consentual.
>
> If we can't mention someones sexual orientation, how are these things to be discussed, or proved true or false?
>
> I do agree that members shouldn't as a rule have their private lives questioned, but if their private life is relevant to a discussion where they themselves are testifying about someone elses private life???
> Thanks in advance for clarifying this issue so all know what can and cannot be said.

I don't question/or wonder if he's gay/homoseuxal or even "bi-sexual" - what I know is that he is a molestor and a Pedophile. He has been "off the hook" for many a years and had sex with children (legally not of the age of "legal consent")...although we have discussed him (Tommy) being "gay/homosexual" that is not the true question/answer that anyone really is moreso in arms about....

Sure we are perturbed about the homosexual sex; as a Pastor; that is married...but the bigger picture that folks are not seeing is..... TOMMY SHELTON HAD SEX WITH A CHILD, WHO WAS NOT OF THE "LEGAL AGE OF CONSENT"!!! POINT BLANK

Posted by: ex3ABNemployee Feb 2 2007, 08:58 PM

> QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Feb 2 2007, 08:37 PM) ☐
>
> Sure we are perturbed about the homosexual sex; as a Pastor; that is married...but the bigger picture that folks are not seeing is..... TOMMY SHELTON HAD SEX WITH A CHILD, WHO WAS NOT OF THE "LEGAL AGE OF CONSENT"!!! POINT BLANK

Now, haven't you been paying attention? It hasn't been proven. We could all be lying. All us victims could have gotten together and made these disgusting stories up just to get our names out there.

Just thought I'd say it before Aletheia, Bystander, task force or eye witness did.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Feb 2 2007, 09:13 PM

> QUOTE(ex3ABNemployee @ Feb 2 2007, 07:58 PM)
>
> Now, haven't you been paying attention? It hasn't been proven. We could all be lying. All us victims could have gotten together and made these disgusting stories up just to get our names out there.
>
> Just thought I'd say it before Aletheia, Bystander, task force or eye witness did.

They may just do so anyway, but it is worth a try!

Anybody think to take group pictures while you were all together getting your stories straight?!

rofl

Posted by: Ozzie Feb 2 2007, 09:47 PM

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Feb 3 2007, 06:07 AM)
>
> Who is bright or not, remains to be seen as we follow the lawsuit threads

Truly are tiresome, these people.

Maybe, Bystander needs to go and have a hair transplant? They are probably pulling their hair out over the allegations coming to the surface - at last!

Posted by: inga Feb 2 2007, 09:59 PM

> QUOTE(ex3ABNemployee @ Feb 2 2007, 09:58 PM)
>
> Now, haven't you been paying attention? It hasn't been proven. We could all be lying. All us victims could have gotten together and made these disgusting stories up just to get our names out there.
>
> Just thought I'd say it before Aletheia, Bystander, task force or eye witness did.

Hey, Duane, I'm glad you have a sense of humor. That's God's gift to help us over the rough places in life.

Posted by: Bystander Feb 2 2007, 11:07 PM

> QUOTE(Ozzie @ Feb 2 2007, 08:47 PM)

> Truly are tiresome, these people.
>
> Maybe, Bystander needs to go and have a hair transplant? They are probably pulling their hair out over the allegations coming to the surface - at last!

Let me explain something to you. Read the lawsuit. It is over copyrights and slander. This case will have nothing whatsoever to do with allegations being thrown at 3abn. Even if Gailon counter sues on some point of law, still, it will have nothing to do with 3 abn having to provide any kind of evidence on their finances, ect ect. They only people that can request a court order to go through finances, minutes, ect ect are the FBI or the IRS. Other than that, Gailon can do nothing but make a complaint which would, most likely, be thrown out of court. Regardless, either way, this lawsuit is a seperate issue entirely and 3abn will not be required to air any laundry.

Posted by: erik Feb 2 2007, 11:21 PM

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Feb 2 2007, 09:07 PM)
>
> Let me explain something to you. Read the lawsuit. It is over copyrights and slander. This case will have nothing whatsoever to do with allegations being thrown at 3abn. Even if Gailon counter sues on some point of law, still, it will have nothing to do with 3 abn having to provide any kind of evidence on their finances, ect ect. They only people that can request a court order to go through finances, minutes, ect ect are the FBI or the IRS. Other than that, Gailon can do nothing but make a complaint which would, most likely, be thrown out of court. Regardless, either way, this lawsuit is a seperate issue entirely and 3abn will not be required to air any laundry.

Bystander,

if you are going to make a slander case you are going to have prove that he was falsely stating facts about 3abn. Sorry it might stay has tightly focused has you would like.

Secondly on the copy right issue you are going to have to go after every one else on the net that repost your broadcasts other wise you are get by the fair use act, i would think that you would also need to prove that mr. joy is or would in the future making a gain from the very limit use one part of one broadcast,.

as to the use of 3abn in the name save 3abn website he can quickly change the name to something like remove tommysheltonthechildmosleter.com what are you going to do then.

it is interesting that you think you can shut this whole legal mess on with out any hearing of the facts of the matter.

for that matter mr. joy can just help put class action lawsuit of all of tommy's victims together and use that has counter suit that does not directly address the slander and copy issues, if you think that that would result int he whole financial thing coming out then you are crazy because the first thing the lawyers are going to do is ask the court to tie up the assets of tommy shelton and 3abn since the 3abn lawyers has been party to trying to suppress the victims get justice.

I think that the shelton's and 3abn will highly regret taking this to court it is going to get very ugly.

Erik

Posted by: sonshineonme Feb 2 2007, 11:41 PM

> QUOTE(erik @ Feb 2 2007, 09:21 PM) ☐
>
> Bystander,
>
> if you are going to make a slander case you are going to have prove that he was falsely stating facts about 3abn. Sorry it might stay has tightly focused has you would like.
>
> Secondly on the copy right issue you are going to have to go after every one else on the net that repost your broadcasts other wise you are get by the fair use act, i would think that you would also need to prove that mr. joy is or would in the future making a gain from the very limit use one part of one broadcast,.
>
> as to the use of 3abn in the name save 3abn website he can quickly change the name to something like remove tommysheltonthechildmosleter.com what are you going to do then.
>
> it is interesting that you think you can shut this whole legal mess on with out any hearing of the facts of the matter.
>
> for that matter mr. joy can just help put class action lawsuit of all of tommy's victims together and use that has counter suit that does not directly address the slander and copy issues, if you think that > that would result int he whole financial thing coming out then you are crazy because the first thing the lawyers are going to do is ask the court to tie up the assets of tommy shelton and 3abn since the 3abn lawyers has been party to trying to suppress the victims get justice.
>
> I think that the shelton's and 3abn will highly regret taking this to court it is going to get very ugly.
> Erik

AND, if you look carefully at that letter, you'll note that 3ABN's attorney in Minneapolis never actually threatened to sue, so all of this speculation about them suing Gailon has no foundation at all. Read the letter again. They never actually threatened anything. Gerald Duffy makes no threat of any kind against Gailon Joy, Bob Pickle, or anyone else. He simply makes demands.
It was a simple cease and desist. You are right Erik - ds does NOT want this going to the court room, because he knows that Gailon can prove things, there are far too many witness and testimony that can be corraborated. tick, tick, tick...

Posted by: Bystander Feb 2 2007, 11:48 PM

> QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Feb 2 2007, 10:41 PM) ☐
>
> AND, if you look carefully at that letter, you'll note that 3ABN's attorney in Minneapolis never actually threatened to sue, so all of this speculation about them suing Gailon has no foundation at > all. Read the letter again. They never actually threatened anything. Gerald Duffy makes no threat of any kind against Gailon Joy, Bob Pickle, or anyone else. He simply makes demands.

> It was a simple cease and desist. You are right Erik - ds does NOT want this going to the court room, because he knows that Gailon can prove things, there are far too many witness and testimony that can be corraborated. tick, tick, tick...

Time will tell.....

I think that the shelton's and 3abn will highly regret taking this to court it is going to get very ugly.
Erik
[/quote]
Erik first, you keep saying "you" as in "you" think you can shut this whole mess up....I am not shutting anything up since I have no credentials or power to do so. You and sonshineonme are making huge assumptions as if you know more than the attorney involved. I am quite confident that he knows what he can or cannot do and will work the case accordingly.
I guess, in the end, we will all be educated as to what can and can't be done in a court of law.

Posted by: Noahswife Feb 3 2007, 12:02 AM

Bystander, did you really mean to say "Read the lawsuit?" since all we have so far is an email copy of a letter being sent by certified mail.

nw

Posted by: Bystander Feb 3 2007, 12:11 AM

> QUOTE(Noahswife @ Feb 2 2007, 11:02 PM)
>
> Bystander, did you really mean to say "Read the lawsuit?" since all we have so far is an email copy of a letter being sent by certified mail.
>
> nw

I stand corrected. Read the email copy of the attorneys letter concerning a lawsuit should gailon not cease and desist.

Posted by: sonshineonme Feb 3 2007, 12:28 AM

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Feb 2 2007, 10:11 PM)
>
> I stand corrected. Read the email copy of the attorneys letter concerning a lawsuit should gailon not cease and desist.

pardon me, but Duffy NEVER mentioned a lawsuit or even the possibility of one. When you say "lawsuit" you are deviating from the truth and engaging in blatant prevarication.
There is no such threat. I insist that you show evidence of any such email or admit that you have lied.

Posted by: erik Feb 3 2007, 02:38 AM

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Feb 2 2007, 09:48 PM) ☐
>
> Time will tell.....
> I think that the shelton's and 3abn will highly regret taking this to court it is going to get very ugly.
> Erik
>
> Erik first, you keep saying "you" as in "you" think you can shut this whole mess up....I am not shutting anything up since I have no credentials or power to do so. You and sonshineonme are making huge assumptions as if you know more than the attorney involved. I am quite confident that he knows what he can or cannot do and will work the case accordingly.
> I guess, in the end, we will all be educated as to what can and can't be done in a court of law.

bystander,

know more then enough about going to court, belief me it never quite works the way you planned, but you are correct the letter does say what they are going to if Mr. Joy fails to obey the commands of "god's" lawyers.

but where danny may have mis-guessed is how willing some on the other side are about going to court, they very well may decide to hit first and fast.

like my favorite business teach said suing is tool use it carefully.

Secondly why send a demanding letter if you are willing to back it up that would look very foolish.

my guess is danny and team are trying to make it look like they tried to christian about the whole going to court issue, but like you like to say time will tell.

erik

Posted by: wwjd Feb 4 2007, 12:11 PM

> QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Feb 3 2007, 12:28 AM) ☐
>
> pardon me, but Duffy NEVER mentioned a lawsuit or even the possibility of one. When you say "lawsuit" you are deviating from the truth and engaging in blatant prevarication.
> There is no such threat. I insist that you show evidence of any such email or admit that you have > lied.

Now why would you say Bystander lied when his interpretation of the letter is different than yours? You insist? Please... I agree with bystander. If I personally had received such a letter I would, indeed, take it as a warning that would lead to a lawsuit if I did not cease and desist.

Posted by: sonshineonme Feb 4 2007, 12:15 PM

> QUOTE(wwjd @ Feb 4 2007, 10:11 AM)
>
> Now why would you say Bystander lied when his interpretation of the letter is different than yours? You insist? Please... I agree with bystander. If I personally had received such a letter I would, indeed, take it as a warning that would lead to a lawsuit if I did not cease and desist.

Now why would I think you and bystander would not think the same way?
Yes, I insist. But since bs can't speak upder his own ID now (he is not "online"), I'm sure you will take care of it for him/they.
So, I still insist. Show me, if you can.
You may receive such a "letter" some day....and maybe you might cease and desist.

Posted by: Bystander Feb 4 2007, 12:39 PM

> QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Feb 4 2007, 12:15 PM)
>
> Now why would I think you and bystander would not think the same way?
> Yes, I insist. But since bs can't speak upder his own ID now (he is not "online"), I'm sure you will take care of it for him/they.
> So, I still insist. Show me, if you can.
> You may receive such a "letter" some day....and maybe you might cease and desist.

If I ever did receive such a letter, I would hope that I would be smart enough to do "just that"instead of trying to put on a "lawyer hat" and interpret the law as "I" think it reads.

Posted by: Grace Feb 4 2007, 12:44 PM

I'm puzzled by the sudden return of wwjd just after EW left. Pure coincidence, maybe.

Posted by: sonshineonme Feb 4 2007, 12:51 PM

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Feb 4 2007, 10:39 AM)
>
> If I ever did receive such a letter, I would hope that I would be smart enough to do "just that"instead of trying to put on a "lawyer hat" and interpret the law as "I" think it reads.

I would hope you would be smart enough too. That would be good advice in your case.
p.s. I still don't see your evidence....not going to show me?

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Feb 4 2007, 02:09 PM

Since the "lawsuit" was brought up over here...I thought I would post this over here so it's understood....don't PM me with "idle threats"...don't send me any "quips" about how this lawsuit or that lawsuit ended up "stickin' someone" who was lying. I don't play.

> QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Feb 4 2007, 01:19 AM)
>
> Actually I wish someone would try to sue me for what I have said on this board. Why? For the time they waste, the name draggin' mess they would like to do, and the issues that would come out. My college loans and my next degree will be PAID IN FULL!

Got it?

Good.

Powered by Invision Power Board (http://www.invisionboard.com)
© Invision Power Services (http://www.invisionpower.com)

99

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ Eye Witness - Of What?

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 25 2007, 08:53 PM

Okay - okay. I'm sure this is going to be a heated thread.

But I just have to ask...what exactly have you been an "eye witness" to, Eye Witness?

Did you witness...
Linda's thoughts?
Linda's feelings for Dan?
Linda's phone calls to the doctor?
Linda's trip to the Norway?
Linda's act of "spiritual adultery"

Or perhaps...
What Dan told you Linda thought?
What Dan told you Linda felt for him?
What Dan told you about the phone calls?
What Dan told you about the trip to Norway?
What Dan told you about "spiritual adultery?"

Or what about...
The infamous birthday party without Linda?
The prophetic demon?

Have you actually witness anything relevant?

Posted by: Bystander Jan 26 2007, 01:19 AM

[
Have you actually witness anything relevant?
[/quote]

Excellent question hoty. Some of us wonder the same about you. You have said several times that you were an eyewitness. Did you:
Ever see Danny or Linda for that matter, take money that didn't belong to them?
Did you see a "beauty queen" waiting in the wings BEFORE the marriage blew up?
Did you see Danny's brother molest anyone?
Did you hear Danny tell Linda she was "an old dishrag?"
Have you ever sat in on a 3ABN board meeting?
Have you ever saw any behavior out of Dr. Walt Thompson that would lead you to believe that he would just "accept" corrupt behavior?
Have you ever seen Danny so intimidate Mr. Ewing that he would feel he has to lie on national TV?

Have you actually witnessed anything relevant? Or is it more that you didn't like someone's attitude or maybe you got called on the carpet for something, or thought you were treated unfairly in some situation or maybe you just have better ideas on how things should be done????

Posted by: Fran Jan 26 2007, 02:39 AM

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Jan 26 2007, 01:19 AM) ☐
>
> [
> Have you actually witness anything relevant?
> Excellent question hoty. Some of us wonder the same about you. You have said several times that you were an eyewitness. Did you:
> Ever see Danny or Linda for that matter, take money that didn't belong to them?
> Did you see a "beauty queen" waiting in the wings BEFORE the marriage blew up?
> Did you see Danny's brother molest anyone?
> Did you hear Danny tell Linda she was "an old dishrag?"
> Have you ever sat in on a 3ABN board meeting?
> Have you ever saw any behavior out of Dr. Walt Thompson that would lead you to believe that he would just "accept" corrupt behavior?
> Have you ever seen Danny so intimidate Mr. Ewing that he would feel he has to lie on national TV?
>
> Have you actually witnessed anything relevant? Or is it more that you didn't like someone's attitude or maybe you got called on the carpet for something, or thought you were treated unfairly in some situation or maybe you just have better ideas on how things should be done????

HOTY;

This is genuine BAIT. Don't fall for it.

Posted by: Bystander Jan 26 2007, 03:01 AM

> QUOTE(Fran @ Jan 26 2007, 02:39 AM) ☐
>
> HOTY;
>
> This is genuine BAIT. Don't fall for it.

Fran, was it bait when hoty ask those questions of eyewitness?

Posted by: Fran Jan 26 2007, 03:58 AM

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Jan 26 2007, 03:01 AM) ☐

> Fran, was it bait when hoty ask those questions of eyewitness?

Sure, it was. We crave knowledge! Keep posting! This is my bait!! Are you going to fall for it?

Posted by: Clay Jan 26 2007, 07:18 AM

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Jan 26 2007, 03:01 AM) ☐
>
> Fran, was it bait when hoty ask those questions of eyewitness?

Bystander were you baiting us when you said you would leave? Or was that a little white lie? tiresome you are....

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 26 2007, 02:06 PM

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Jan 26 2007, 02:19 AM) ☐
>
> [
> Have you actually witness anything relevant?
> Excellent question hoty. Some of us wonder the same about you. You have said several times that you were an eyewitness. Did you:
> Ever see Danny or Linda for that matter, take money that didn't belong to them?
> Did you see a "beauty queen" waiting in the wings BEFORE the marriage blew up?
> Did you see Danny's brother molest anyone?
> Did you hear Danny tell Linda she was "an old dishrag?"
> Have you ever sat in on a 3ABN board meeting?
> Have you ever saw any behavior out of Dr. Walt Thompson that would lead you to believe that he would just "accept" corrupt behavior?
> Have you ever seen Danny so intimidate Mr. Ewing that he would feel he has to lie on national TV?
>
> Have you actually witnessed anything relevant? Or is it more that you didn't like someone's attitude or maybe you got called on the carpet for something, or thought you were treated unfairly in some situation or maybe you just have better ideas on how things should be done????

I should have bolded "something relevant" and added the caption "to which to claim to know." I asked EW what they witnessed to make them an "eye witness." But as usual it's all about smoke screens.

Posted by: sister Jan 26 2007, 03:03 PM

And just exactly why should we believe anything that Bystander says? Originally, he claimed that he would only be here posting for one afternoon and not return, now that is a lie we can all see. Like a bad penny he just keeps turning up, again and again and again... Have we received any actual evidence about anything from Bystander or only innuendo and unsupported accusations?

Much of the above could also be said of Eye Witness, WWJD and the rest of the tag team: all > smoke and mirrors and nothing of substance. WOW. THOSE ARE THE SAME STRATEGIES THAT DANNY SHELTON HAS USED AGAINST LINDA SHELTON.

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 26 2007, 03:23 PM

> QUOTE(sister @ Jan 26 2007, 04:03 PM)
>
> Much of the above could also be said of Eye Witness, WWJD and the rest of the tag team: all smoke and mirrors and nothing of substance. WOW. THOSE ARE THE SAME STRATEGIES THAT DANNY SHELTON HAS USED AGAINST LINDA SHELTON.

Birds of a feather, as they say.

Posted by: jene Jan 26 2007, 03:31 PM

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Jan 26 2007, 02:19 AM)
>
> [
> Have you actually witness anything relevant?
> Excellent question hoty. Some of us wonder the same about you. You have said several times that you were an eyewitness. Did you:
> Ever see Danny or Linda for that matter, take money that didn't belong to them?
> Did you see a "beauty queen" waiting in the wings BEFORE the marriage blew up?
> Did you see Danny's brother molest anyone?
> Did you hear Danny tell Linda she was "an old dishrag?"
> Have you ever sat in on a 3ABN board meeting?
> Have you ever saw any behavior out of Dr. Walt Thompson that would lead you to believe that he would just "accept" corrupt behavior?
> Have you ever seen Danny so intimidate Mr. Ewing that he would feel he has to lie on national TV?
>
> Have you actually witnessed anything relevant? Or is it more that you didn't like someone's attitude or maybe you got called on the carpet for something, or thought you were treated unfairly in some situation or maybe you just have better ideas on how things should be done????

I am not following this. Why are you asking HOTY about the dishrag quote? Eyewitness said that.
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?showtopic=12226&st=0 it is thread #12.

Alleged victims of the molestation from Tommy have submitted hardcopies of their statements. Linda's daughter has submitted a widely circulated letter about the alleged molestation done by Danny Shelton. Some posters are in possession of actual email correspondence from the key players including Danny Shelton. So can you answer the original questions and stop stonewalling please?

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 26 2007, 04:49 PM

> QUOTE(jene @ Jan 26 2007, 04:31 PM)
>
> I am not following this. Why are you asking HOTY about the dishrag quote? Eyewitness said that. http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?showtopic=12226&st=0 it is thread #12.
>
> Alleged victims of the molestation from Tommy have submitted hardcopies of their statements. Linda's daughter has submitted a widely circulated letter about the alleged molestation done by Danny Shelton. Some posters are in possession of actual email correspondence from the key players including Danny Shelton. So can you answer the original questions and stop stonewalling please?

They hoped I would answer a couple of those questions, like if I have attended a board meeting, or not in hopes of narrowing the possibilitis of who I am...

See, I asked what makes EW (by their own account) an eye witness. They have a lot of information, but I don't see how it could have been first hand. (I have already stated, but will again, that everything I've posted has been as a first-hand experience, unless I indicated in that post that it was heresay.)

Posted by: Hawk Jan 27 2007, 02:39 AM

More attempts to attack and harrass. They want your hide nailed to the brick wall of the lobby, alongside the plaques and other such given as worshipful offerings to Danny.

Posted by: Ozzie Jan 27 2007, 03:00 AM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jan 26 2007, 11:18 PM)
>
> Bystander were you baiting us when you said you would leave? Or was that a little white lie? tiresome you are....

Looks like another white (or black) lie

51 posts since 7 January at last count. A long time just being a bystander!

Posted by: Treniece Jan 27 2007, 11:48 AM

Here is what I heard on TV - something that Danny said. More than once I have heard him say that we should be focusing on the ministry that 3abn is doing and not listening to gossip, most of which he says is untrue.

Posted by: Brenda Jan 27 2007, 01:31 PM

> QUOTE(Treniece @ Jan 28 2007, 03:48 AM)
>
> Here is what I heard on TV - something that Danny said. More than once I have heard him say that we should be focusing on the ministry that 3abn is doing and not listening to gossip, most of which he says is untrue.

There is an old saying that your actions speak so loudly (not yours, Treniece!) that they deafen my ears to your words.

Does that apply to this pronouncement of Danny's?

Posted by: Treniece Feb 3 2007, 02:15 PM

But we don't know the details of everthing, so we are passing judgment based on our personal assumptions about statements made. Persons on Linda's side seem to be sure of their support for Linda and persons on Danny's side seem to be sure of their support for Danny. This is a complicated situation, and when it is complicated like this, we need to leave this situation in God's hands.

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Feb 3 2007, 02:39 PM

And sometimes God used people like GJ, Pickle, GM and all the witnesses that have posted here to do His will in correcting a sinful situation.

RIchard

> QUOTE(Treniece @ Feb 3 2007, 03:15 PM)
>
> But we don't know the details of everthing, so we are passing judgment based on our personal assumptions about statements made. Persons on Linda's side seem to be sure of their support for Linda and persons on Danny's side seem to be sure of their support for Danny. This is a complicated situation, and when it is complicated like this, we need to leave this situation in God's hands.

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Feb 3 2007, 06:06 PM

> QUOTE(Brenda @ Jan 27 2007, 02:31 PM)
>
> There is an old saying that your actions speak so loudly (not yours, Treniece!) that they deafen my ears to your words.
>
> Does that apply to this pronouncement of Danny's?

"What you do speaks so loud that I cannot hear what you say."
Ralph Waldo Emerson

I'm not sure this does apply considering everytime words are spoken, it makes him look even more guilty.

Posted by: Observer Feb 3 2007, 06:27 PM

> QUOTE(Richard Sherwin @ Feb 3 2007, 01:39 PM)
>
> And sometimes God used people like GJ, Pickle, GM and all the witnesses that have posted here to do His will in correcting a sinful situation.
>
> RIchard

Thanks.

There are many of us who believe we are doing exactly what God has called us to do. We are imperfect people. Our opponents may be able to point out flaws in us and in our delivery. We may not be right in everything that we do. But, the people that God uses are those who are willing to be used by Him, notwithstanding our imperfections.

FYI: Here is an verse from Sabbath School today which I found meaningful:

Ecclesiastes 4:1 "Next, I took a careful look at all the injustice and oppression that goes on in this world. Those who are oppresed cry out for help but no one seems to pay attention. They have no power to change their situations becaue power is in the hands of the oppressors? THE CLEAR WORD.

Posted by: roxe Feb 3 2007, 07:29 PM

i'm really praying hard that there is something in this qtrs lessons on Ecclesiastes that will be an "eye salve" to Danny's team

---

Posted by: Ralph Feb 4 2007, 10:01 AM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Feb 3 2007, 05:06 PM)
>
> "What you do speaks so loud that I cannot hear what you say."
> Ralph Waldo Emerson

I know it is but I was named after him.

100

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ "for They Were Sent To Do Judgment On Him"

Posted by: watchbird Feb 2 2007, 12:05 PM

Bishop Hatto

God's Judgment on a Wicked Bishop
.............by Robert Southey

The summer and autumn had been so wet,
That in winter the corn was growing yet,
'Twas a piteous sight to see all around
The grain lie rotting on the ground.

Every day the starving poor
Crowded around Bishop Hatto's door,
For he had a plentiful last-year's store,
And all the neighbourhood could tell
His granaries were furnish'd well.

At last Bishop Hatto appointed a day
To quiet the poor without delay;
He bade them to his great Barn repair,
And they should have food for the winter there.

Rejoiced such tidings good to hear,
The poor folk flock'd from far and near;
The great barn was full as it could hold
Of women and children, and young and old.

Then when he saw it could hold no more,
Bishop Hatto he made fast the door;
And while for mercy on Christ they call,
He set fire to the Barn and burnt them all.

"I'faith 'tis an excellent bonfire!" quoth he,
"And the country is greatly obliged to me,
For ridding it in these times forlorn
Of Rats that only consume the corn."

So then to his palace return-ed he,
And he sat down to supper merrily,
And he slept that night like an innocent man;

.... But Bishop Hatto never slept again.

In the morning as he enter'd the hall
Where his picture hung against the wall,
A sweat like death all over him came,
For the Rats had eaten it out of the frame.

As he look'd there came a man from his farm--
He had a countenance white with alarm;
"My Lord, I open'd your granaries this morn,
And the Rats had eaten all your corn."

Another came running presently,
And he was pale as pale could be,
"Fly! my Lord Bishop, fly," quoth he,
"Ten thousand Rats are coming this way,...
The Lord forgive you for yesterday!"

"I'll go to my tower on the Rhine," replied he,
"'Tis the safest place in Germany;
The walls are high and the shores are steep,
And the stream is strong and the water deep."

Bishop Hatto fearfully hasten'd away,
And he crost the Rhine without delay,
And reach'd his tower, and barr'd with care
All the windows, doors, and loop-holes there.

He laid him down and closed his eyes;...
But soon a scream made him arise,
He started and saw two eyes of flame
On his pillow from whence the screaming came.

He listen'd and look'd;... it was only the Cat;
And the Bishop he grew more fearful for that,
For she sat screaming, mad with fear
At the Army of Rats that were drawing near.

For they have swum over the river so deep,
And they have climb'd the shores so steep,
And up the Tower their way is bent,
To do the work for which they were sent.

They are not to be told by the dozen or score,
By thousands they come, and by myriads and more,
Such numbers had never been heard of before,
Such a judgment had never been witness'd of yore.

Down on his knees the Bishop fell,
And faster and faster his beads did he tell,

As louder and louder drawing near
The gnawing of their teeth he could hear.

And in at the windows and in at the door,
And through the walls helter-skelter they pour,
And down from the ceiling and up through the floor,
From the right and the left, from behind and before,
From within and without, from above and below,
.... And all at once to the Bishop they go.

They have whetted their teeth against the stones,
And now they pick the Bishop's bones:
They gnaw'd the flesh from every limb,

For they were sent to do judgment on him!

Posted by: ex3ABNemployee Feb 2 2007, 12:09 PM

That says it all.

Posted by: Johann Feb 2 2007, 03:52 PM

Mr. Bystander, take this fearful warning to Danny Shelton at 3ABN where people who work there tell me there is chaos and trembling for the future.

Pray he may find mercy before the Lord

Posted by: Bystander Feb 2 2007, 04:16 PM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Feb 2 2007, 02:52 PM)
>
> Mr. Bystander, take this fearful warning to Danny Shelton at 3ABN where people who work there tell me there is chaos and trembling for the future.
>
> Pray he may find mercy before the Lord

As usual, your sources tell you wrong. Chaos and trembling? You have to be kidding. After reading the lawsuit threat I would venture to say the only chaos and trembling that's going on is at Gailon Joy's residence.

Posted by: Johann Feb 2 2007, 05:29 PM

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Feb 3 2007, 12:16 AM)

> As usual, your sources tell you wrong. Chaos and trembling? You have to be kidding. After reading the lawsuit threat I would venture to say the only chaos and trembling that's going on is at Gailon Joy's residence.

I cannot speak for Gailon, but judging from what he has told me before he more that welcomes this opportunity for truth to prevail.

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Feb 2 2007, 08:25 PM

The battleground is now moving into the public legal arena, where evidence (proof), disclosure, etc. will be required.

Posted by: Bystander Feb 2 2007, 09:27 PM

> QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Feb 2 2007, 07:25 PM)
>
> The battleground is now moving into the public legal arena, where evidence (proof), disclosure, etc. will be required.

Help me to understand this. If 3ABN takes Gailon to court for the rights to the 3ABN name and for slanderous accusations, how will that require full disclosure for 3abns books? I am making the assumption that is what you are talking about when you say proof will be required. I don't think proof is any problem when it comes to Gailons website but others have said they would welcome a lawsuit because everything at 3abn would have to be made public. Not true. This case would have nothing to do with anything like that. Now even if Gailon decided to counter sue on some point or other, there still would be no demands made on 3abn documents. Unless you are with the IRS or FBI you can't just step up to a judge and demand an investigations into an organizations records. The most Gailon could do is to file a complaint that he thinks the books need looking into. With no affiliations with any government offices, not having a law degree and having never even been to the 3abn facility, most likely the judge would throw his complaint out. Regardless, that case would have nothing whatsoever to do with this case and all this case requires is a look see at Gailons website.

Posted by: ex3ABNemployee Feb 3 2007, 02:43 AM

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Feb 2 2007, 09:27 PM)
>
> Help me to understand this. If 3ABN takes Gailon to court for the rights to the 3ABN name and for slanderous accusations, how will that require full disclosure for 3abns books? I am making the assumption that is what you are talking about when you say proof will be required. I don't think proof is any problem when it comes to Gailons website but others have said they would welcome a lawsuit because everything at 3abn would have to be made public. Not true. This case would have nothing to do with anything like that. Now even if Gailon decided to counter sue on some point or other, there still would be no demands made on 3abn documents. Unless you are with the IRS or FBI you can't just step up to a judge and demand an investigations into an organizations records. The most Gailon could do is to file a complaint that he thinks the books need looking into. With no affiliations with any government offices, not having a law degree and having never even been to the 3abn facility, most likely the judge would throw his complaint out. Regardless, that case would have > nothing whatsoever to do with this case and all this case requires is a look see at Gailons website.

Hmmm...you seem to be quite concerned about 3abn's books being scrutinized.

Posted by: erik Feb 3 2007, 02:49 AM

> QUOTE(ex3ABNemployee @ Feb 3 2007, 12:43 AM) ☐
>
> Hmmm...you seem to be quite concerned about 3abn's books being scrutinized.

duane,

I just wanted to tell you thank you for standing tall and being count, may you continue to draw courage from Jesus.

Erik W.

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Feb 2 2007, 07:27 PM) ☐
>
> Help me to understand this. If 3ABN takes Gailon to court for the rights to the 3ABN name and for slanderous accusations, how will that require full disclosure for 3abns books? I am making the assumption that is what you are talking about when you say proof will be required. I don't think proof is any problem when it comes to Gailons website but others have said they would welcome a lawsuit because everything at 3abn would have to be made public. Not true. This case would have nothing to do with anything like that. Now even if Gailon decided to counter sue on some point or other, there still would be no demands made on 3abn documents. Unless you are with the IRS or FBI you can't just step up to a judge and demand an investigations into an organizations records. The most Gailon could do is to file a complaint that he thinks the books need looking into. With no affiliations with any government offices, not having a law degree and having never even been to the 3abn facility, most likely the judge would throw his complaint out. Regardless, that case would have nothing whatsoever to do with this case and all this case requires is a look see at Gailons website.

Bystander,

they might be able to control what is in the court room if they stick to the copyright issues, if the go for slander then they are opening the doors wide open.

remember also in the asi effort that fail linda was will for all the proof to be on public display, and danny was not going for that, WHY???????????

erik w.

Posted by: Observer Feb 3 2007, 05:23 AM

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Feb 2 2007, 08:27 PM) ☐
>
> Help me to understand this. If 3ABN takes Gailon to court for the rights to the 3ABN name and for slanderous accusations, how will that require full disclosure for 3abns books? I am making the assumption that is what you are talking about when you say proof will be required. I don't think proof is any problem when it comes to Gailons website but others have said they would welcome a lawsuit because everything at 3abn would have to be made public. Not true. This case would have nothing to do with anything like that. Now even if Gailon decided to counter sue on some point or other, there still would be no demands made on 3abn documents. Unless you are with the IRS or FBI you can't just step up to a judge and demand an investigations into an organizations records. The most Gailon could do is to file a complaint that he thinks the books need looking into. With no affiliations with any government offices, not having a law degree and having never even been to the 3abn facility, most likely the judge would throw his complaint out. Regardless, that case would have nothing whatsoever to do with this case and all this case requires is a look see at Gailons website.

To all:

Bystander has made some comments that may have some validity. In such a case the lawyers for the plaintiff will seek to limit the proceedings to a very narrow issue. Those for the defendent will seek to expand to more issues. Each will likely seek to trap the representative for the other side into doing something that compromises their case. The result of this is that no one can predict with certainty what will happen, and the results. While this is going on, the legal community will sit back and watch the brouhaha.

Bystander is esentially telling us that judges only enter orders that are are related to the case. So, he is telling us that a case that is limited to a copyright is not going to have a judge issue an order related to who paid for the purchase of a horse, and whether or not that purchase was properly accounted for on a W-2 Form. That is correct.

But, does this mean that Bystander is correct in his belief as to how the case will go? No, it does not. As I say, no one can predict with 100 per-cent certainty the direction and results of litigation. Perhaps an attorney will make a mistake that will expand the case? Perhaps? Who knows? At this point all such is speculaltion that is based upon a lack of knowledge as to what the other side will do, and how the judge will respond.

It is even unceretain that litigation based solely upon copyright issues would result in GAJ being permantly enjoined from such use. But then: I do not know. I am not legally trained. I do not claim to be able to predict final results in any lawsuit. :-)

Posted by: Treniece Feb 3 2007, 01:52 PM

What about 'do not take your brother to court'.

101

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ Administrative Action Taken

Posted by: calvin Jan 30 2007, 03:42 PM

I don't usually make known or give reasons for any action I take to ban members. Because this usually recreates more drama. I am making an exception because the 3ABN threads are such a hotly charged discussion.

I have banned Dewayneholder, wwjd, and Bystander from BSDA. It is highly likely that they are one in the same person. All are using the same IP addresses (meaning same computer). This is a clear violation of our policy for having more than one membership account here.

Please email me at calvin@blacksda.com if you want to return by providing proof to prove me wrong.

Posted by: calvin Feb 2 2007, 07:36 AM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Jan 30 2007, 03:42 PM)
>
> I don't usually make known or give reasons for any action I take to ban members. Because this usually recreates more drama. I am making an exception because the 3ABN threads are such a hotly charged discussion.
>
> I have banned Dewayneholder, wwjd, and Bystander from BSDA. It is highly likely that they are one in the same person. All are using the same IP addresses (meaning same computer). This is a clear violation of our policy for having more than one membership account here.
>
> Please email me at calvin@blacksda.com if you want to return by providing proof to prove me wrong.

Bystander and wwjd have been reinstated. Bannishment has been removed.

---

(102)

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ 3abn Live Tonight On Now

Posted by: gardener Feb 1 2007, 08:09 PM

The topic tonight is about marriage and is hosted by Mollie and Hal. I guess DS wouldn't be qualified for this interview

Posted by: PaperTigers Feb 1 2007, 08:10 PM

oh my

Posted by: gardener Feb 1 2007, 08:15 PM

Well listening to it further is is about Masculinity not marriage but they were talking about it in relation to marriage when it first came on.

Posted by: sonshineonme Feb 1 2007, 08:16 PM

> QUOTE(PaperTigers @ Feb 1 2007, 06:10 PM)
>
> oh my

PT are you watching? Is this really LIVE? Can you tell?
The program I thought was scheduled to be on was James and Rise Rafferty about masculinity/femininity?? Is this that???
Those were the people that were to come talk....guess only the second hour...and it seems live if they are taking questions...and yes, where is the big DAN??

Hopefully ds is watching it from somewhere and learning a thing or two...(or three, or four) and, listening...there is NO WAY ds could have done this one. I heard it may be a distorted program - not sure that's because of who is "guiding" the talking...

Posted by: gardener Feb 1 2007, 08:22 PM

> QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Feb 1 2007, 09:16 PM)
>
> PT are you watching? Is this really LIVE? Can you tell?
> The program I thought was scheduled to be on was James and Rise Rafferty about masculinity/femininity?? Is this that???

> Those were the people that were to come talk....guess only the second hour...and it seems live if they are taking questions...and yes, where is the big DAN??

Yes that is the one and it is live. Anyone have any good questions to e-mail?

Posted by: PaperTigers Feb 1 2007, 08:32 PM

> QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Feb 1 2007, 10:16 PM)
>
> PT are you watching? Is this really LIVE? Can you tell?

No i'm not watching... for once i'm glad i'm at work

Posted by: sonshineonme Feb 1 2007, 08:40 PM

> QUOTE(PaperTigers @ Feb 1 2007, 06:32 PM)
>
> No i'm not watching... for once i'm glad i'm at work

i'm not watching either.

Posted by: princessdi Feb 1 2007, 08:46 PM

Is this a live program or a repeat? and yes I have a question......Why they didn't invite Tommy back for this show?

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Feb 1 2007, 08:56 PM

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Feb 1 2007, 09:46 PM)
>
> Is this a live program or a repeat? and yes I have a question......Why they didn't invite Tommy back for this show?

This is a live program, not a repeat.

Posted by: princessdi Feb 1 2007, 08:59 PM

Well, where is Danny?

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Feb 1 2007, 06:56 PM)
>
> This is a live program, not a repeat.

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Feb 1 2007, 09:02 PM

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Feb 1 2007, 09:59 PM)
>
> Well, where is Danny?

Um, don't know.

Posted by: Johann Feb 1 2007, 09:19 PM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Feb 2 2007, 05:02 AM)
>
> Um, don't know.

Who is in charge then?

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Feb 1 2007, 09:27 PM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Feb 1 2007, 11:19 PM)
>
> Who is in charge then?

The Borg....

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Feb 1 2007, 09:31 PM

CA Murray is the Producer of the program and he is there. If Dan is not on the set, he is not in the building.

Posted by: seraph|m Feb 1 2007, 10:05 PM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Feb 1 2007, 10:31 PM)
>
> CA Murray is the Producer of the program and he is there. If Dan is not on the set, he is not in the building.

"Not in the building". Hmmm, might we have misplaced our new security card key?

Posted by: sonshineonme Feb 1 2007, 10:09 PM

> QUOTE(seraph|m @ Feb 1 2007, 08:05 PM)
>
> "Not in the building". Hmmm, might we have misplaced our new security card key?

☒ rofl ☒ ☒ rofl

....the borg! GOOD ONE! I do love star trek!

103

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ The Televangelist

Posted by: sister Jul 7 2006, 03:44 PM

Since I have alluded to "The Televangelist" in a number of my threads, quoted portions of it in some of my posts and it has also been referred to by others; I am now posting it in it's entirety and without comment. It is an interesting read...

Sister

"The Televangelist"
By: Jorgen VanBraun

"The characters and events portray in the following story are fictional. Any resemblance to any real event or person, living or dead, is coincidental."

* * * * *

Introduction

Since the dawn of recorded history megalomaniacal men have identified and fostered the deepest communal fears of their fellow beings, presenting themselves as the one true answer to salvation. These men utilize certain tools that they all have in common to achieve and maintain control over, and the worship of their followers.

They identify their followers as a group, or a family that shares specific beliefs and practices that set them apart as unique. Those factors that are the primary differences between them and others make them superior. Often, the leader purports to have a direct connection to the culture's primary deity that is denied to all others. His words and actions carry the weight of divinity. Mistrust between the followers is encouraged. Questioning of the supreme leader is dealt with in the harshest manner available.

Those people who are not members of the group are portrayed as a threat to the group and to the individuals. Non-members are on the wrong side of the cosmic struggle between good and bad. What they say, what they write, everything about them must be viewed as an attempt to subvert, misdirect, and deceive the true believers. They are to look with suspicion on everyone other than their leader.

Whereas outsiders might taint the purity of the follower's beliefs, the leaders often work to build an isolated society where those aspects of life that might result in interaction with unbelievers are internalized. This sometimes involves conquest of territory, and generally results in the creation of boundaries. The leaders portray these boundaries as being there to keep evil out, but they are most often used to keep the believers in.

Control of, and involvement in the personal lives of the followers is common between these megalomaniacs. Monitoring and control of what they do and say is important. It is also important to make examples of those who disobey. It tends to bring the believers closer together, and promote fear in those who might think with some measure of independence.

Love and fear often walk hand in hand. The leader is projected as a benevolent father who has placed himself in a position of great personal sacrifice for the good of his followers. He is loved and revered as a true father to his people. Sometimes a father has to punish his children, but it will always be done in love and with deep regret. He must protect his family from the ravenous wolves circling those whom he loves, and from the insidious turncoats who lurk within.

Any criticism of the leader is portrayed as a broader attack on the group. It becomes the first wave of an apocalyptic devastation of the very fundamentals that make them who they are, in the minds of the believers.
Until a dramatic action takes place, the general public does not view most of these leaders as any serious threat. Emperor Napoleon of France brought much needed freedoms to the populace and, had the support of much of Europe until he brought it to its knees.

Adolph Hitler turned the failed German economy around and provided millions of jobs. He built a well disciplined society out of the anarchy resulting from World War One and the fall of the Austro-Hungarian Empire. As their savior, Hitler had the full support of the German people, and much of the world until his war of conquest became global, and his true intention shone through. His actions, both good and bad, were taken with the best intentions. He firmly believed that a global Third Reich was the only salvation of the world, yet the world he was trying to save turned on him with a vengeance. In the end, he felt that he had done no wrong.

Pol Pot closed the borders of Cambodia and launched an internal bloodbath almost unequaled in history. Using the "loving father who is cleansing and protecting his children" psychology, he decimated the population of his country. He believed that he was saving the true Cambodia by getting rid of all foreign influence, and eliminating those people who showed any sign of being tainted. He did not consider himself a monster, he was a savior.

Jim Jones was active in local and national politics and had the support of the governor of California, the Mayor of San Francisco, and even President Jimmy Carter. He was revered as a great humanitarian who stuck up for the rights of the underprivileged and campaigned tirelessly for those politicians who supported him. He believed that God was working through him for the salvation of humanity. Then, for their own good, he killed close to one thousand people in a single day.

The Baghwan Shree Rahjneesh built a cult in Oregon that consisted primarily of wealthy and highly educated people. He drove the leadership out of the town of Antelope walking the edge of the law, but using mostly legal means. He renamed the town Rahjneeshee Puram and created a new tightly controlled society. Thousands of people thrilled to the spiritual enlightenment he brought them, and were left destitute and homeless in his wake.

David Koresh was the heavy-handed father of the Branch Davidians. He preached an apocalyptic message in which he was the personification of God on earth. His word was indisputable. In the end, he self-fulfilled his prophecy, and his group went up in an apocalyptic blaze.

These are some of the better known examples of megalomania, and they all had a beginning and an end. They all believed in what they did, and did it with the best of intentions. Are there such characters currently rising in power? Are there well-intentioned, yet evil leaders that we are unwittingly following after?

The Televangelist Prologue:The Inquisition

A long time ago...
The accused cries out in anguish as he is being torn apart. The crowd roars its approval, and the torturer pulls the rack a little tighter. Joints pop and sinews crack, but their sound is drowned by screams of agony. The Inquisition has condemned another soul to death by torture. Some people are upset by today's spectacle, but men of God, men who God called to leadership, men through whom God communicates to the common people have declared they have evidence that this person has committed grievous acts against God and man and is thus deserving of a hideous death.

There are people high in civil and church government who question the methods, and even the veracity of the leaders of the Inquisition, but those who dare voice their questions soon find themselves shackled to a dungeon wall. No one from the lowliest serf to the Pope on his throne is safe from the tender mercies of the Inquisition.

In the beginning, the Church gave its tenuous blessing to the Inquisition and allowed its propagation. Then the Inquisition grew more powerful than the Church it was meant to support and became a menace. With no one daring to take them on, the Inquisitor's credibility with, and power over the people became absolute.

Now...
Five hundred years later, the world has moved on, and it is now the twenty-first century. Cries of anguish ring out as an accused soul is being ripped apart. The crowd roars its approval and the executioner pulls the rack a little tighter. It has been declared that there is evidence this person has committed grievous crimes against God and man. This time the rack is not a bloodstained wood structure, and the executioner doesn't wear a black hood. This time it is not the victim's body that is ripped apart; it is the soul. This time it is not the Inquisition who accuses, convicts, and executes the victim, but a televangelist. This time there is a different church.

The Televangelist Part 1:The Psychology

A young boy climbs up on a yard table behind the house. With a far way look in his eye, he holds a stick microphone to his mouth. Thousands of spectators packing the imaginary stadium are on their feet. They can't wait to hear the voice of their revered singer. Some forty-five years later, he smiles as the music comes to a close. He steps back as the audience applauds. The cameras continue to roll, sending their signal up to satellites and around the world as he steps up to the microphone and cries out, "Praise God!"

He tells the story of Moses, a lowly shepherd who went on to lead a nation because he followed God's calling. He tells how a humble carpenter (like Jesus) heard God's call and built a global television network even though he only had a high school diploma. He tells how previous to this, he was married to a wonderful singer and how they ministered in song week after week in churches across the country, and how their marriage ended in her tragic death by car accident. He tells how the television ministry started in a series of miracles that began with a minister of another faith donating thousands of dollars worth of television production equipment. He tells about the many sacrifices he and his family endure to keep this ministry going. He tells about the little old ladies who turn down their thermostats to save up more money to support this great work of God. He says, "You too can do great things for God. How? Well God asks, 'What do you have in your hand?'" The people have their pocket books in their hands.

When the meeting is over, he is whisked away to an airport where his private jet is warming up for the trip home. He strides past a well-stocked galley and settles into a leather recliner. Leaning back, he closes his eyes and smiles as his jet soars into the night sky.

Memory takes the televangelist back over the decades to the events that made the man. As a teen, he learned that people are very susceptible to quiet suggestion; that they tend to obsess. He could spot a young couple who seemed to be hopelessly in love. He would go to the boy and tell him that the girl had been seen in private places with other guys and everyone knew that she was being unfaithful. Then he went to the girl and said that her boyfriend thought she was a floozy. Almost invariably he could break them up and end up a confidant to both. This was power.

He thinks back on his first marriage. This was the foundation to his understanding of what makes people believe in, and financially support a ministry. Weekend after weekend he and his family performed music and spoke in churches across the country. He learned that by telling the people that God spoke to him and he listened and did God's bidding, he could grab the majority. He would then wrap up the fence-sitters with a couple of financial miracle stories demonstrating how he stepped out in faith and God followed through by rewarding him. He learned that by giving a story of a person who was impressed by God to give a specific amount that turned out to be exactly what was needed to keep his electricity on, or make a mortgage payment that he didn't have the money for, other people wanted to be that miracle person and many large checks would land in the offering plate. He learned that music, tears, and stories of personal anguish due to the devil's attacks dramatically increased support. He also learned to publicize any criticism of himself as criticism of God. If someone disagreed with him in any way, they were portrayed as attacking God's work. Creditors, people who had been left hanging in bad business deals, people whose marriages he had destroyed, and others were thus demonized. He learned that if he had reason to worry that someone knew too much about him, he could preempt anything that person might do by discrediting them. He could concoct a nasty story; usually sex based, and spread it around to their friends, family, church leaders, civic leaders, employers, potential employers, business associates and others. He also applied the label, "pathological liar" to them. Then, if that person ever exposed anything it was said to just be the revenge of an angry liar. Those early days were his real schooling.

The Televangelist Part 2:The Family

The televangelist enjoys reminiscing on the subject of his family. No one can say that his family is boring. Indeed, they are a very colorful group.

Many years ago the televangelist's Grandfather on his father's side suffered from paranoid schizophrenia. Thinking that his rooster had developed an attitude that would negatively affect the egg production of the chickens, he tied the rooster to a tree and beat it with a whip. A young boy was awed. On another occasion, he felt that his wife was out of line and needed to be put in her place, he stuck a fork in her head during a meal. A young boy was proud that his grandpa took charge so aggressively to defend his pride. His favorite grandchild, the one he spent the most time with and felt the closest to, would one day be the televangelist. Suffering from depression, two of his uncles committed suicide.

When his father was thirty-five years old he suffered a heart attack that resulted in serious physical debilitation. One aspect of this was an inability to function sexually. Shortly thereafter, his wife started a long-term relationship with her brother-in-law, the televangelist's uncle. Also on his father's side, an aunt took up with one of her nephews and moved to another state with him. One on his brothers, a pastor in the Church, had an affair with another brother's wife that resulted in that brother and his wife divorcing.

Another close relative has also enjoyed a little variety outside of her marriage. She has had some same-sex fun with other women, as well as a fling with a male cousin.

One of the televangelist's older brothers left the Church and went through seminary with another denomination. He became a pastor, and built a church and grade school. Within a few years accusations of child molestation began to haunt him. Several young boys from his grade school accused him of sexual abuse. The televangelist's mother begged the parents of these children to not press charges against her son. They agreed that if the pastor left the state, they wouldn't file charges and he left.

Safely in another state, the pastor took on another church. For several years his church thrived and he was considered a model pastor. Then he molested another boy. This time his mother was not there to jump to his defense, so he left that state in a hurry. He called his televangelist brother to ask for help. Given a good job offer, he moved to a location just across the state line from where the televangelist was located (the area from which he first had to flee) and went to work for his brother. He became the Director of the production facilities, and traveled the world with his brother as pianist at meetings, rallies, and other events.

The televangelist recalled the many evenings spent in strip clubs, and availing himself of the services of prostitutes during his first marriage. As he traveled to various cities producing music records for locals who fancied themselves gospel singers, he was able to enjoy the local street walkers. At home, a young girl from a related by marriage was also fair game for a little variety, as is a young girl associated with his second marriage.

The Televangelist Part 3:The Money

With a sigh of contentment, the televangelist makes his way to the galley for a bottle of apple juice and a jar of cashew nuts. Settling back into his seat, he folds a lacquered walnut table out of the wall. He opens his briefcase and takes out six thick envelopes and one packet wrapped up in aluminum foil. On his way out of this evening's meeting, a number of people came up and handed him checks. These he gave to his assistant to deal with. What he placed in his briefcase could be nothing but cash. He is not disappointed. Counting twice, he comes up with the same figure. The next day, his assistant will turn the checks over to the financial department. He asked the people who gave him this cash if they needed a receipt and they said no. He places the money back in the briefcase.

It is best that the paperwork demonstrate that the televangelist lives on a very low salary. The donors need to believe that their money is going strictly to further God's work. What they don't know won't hurt him. There are many ways other than salary for his ministry to provide for his earthly pleasures. He smiles over at his briefcase. He learned long ago that he could take large cash advances for various reasons and never return cash or receipts. Each day, when the mail comes in, certain people open it, count the donations, and send the money and the totals to his office. He goes over them and sends them on to the accounting department. The amount that arrives in accounting is often much less than the written totals... but then that could be because the people counting the money often make the mistake of counting donations that never happened.

On the televangelist's laptop computer is a half-written book. He has already written and published four. They are all self-published and then he sells them to his ministry at a profit of twelve cents per book. His first book sold more than one million copies in just a few months. Of course as president of the ministry, he has them heavily advertised, many of them given away and the rest sold at a loss. In this manner he is able to control all aspects of the market.

The air pressure in the jet changes and the wall monitor shows that it is beginning its descent. Several years ago it was a relief that he was no longer forced to endure the inconvenience of commercial air travel, with the acquisition of a private jet. No longer does the televangelist have to go through security, and travel on a commercial schedule. He knows that the contributors, and the church that support his ministry, would not appreciate that this convenience is leased at a cost of $40,000.00 per month, so he has this expense placed in an anonymous account. In addition to the lease, the pilots cost $700.00 per day, and there are operational costs including gas and maintenance. Well, what the people don't know won't hurt him, and he truly deserves the extra conveniences. Vacations, personal visits, trips to ball games, and medical appointments no longer require a long drive. He now uses the jet for trips that would have required as little as two hours of driving.

Several years ago, a donor who had several jets of his own provided the funds to purchase a small jet. For several months the televangelist was happy with this, until shoulder rubbing with the jet set brought him to the realization that his jet was small and cheap. He flew people here and there meaning to impress them, and found that many of them had flown in much nicer private jets. His could only go one thousand miles on a tank of gas, which meant that he had to make an embarrassing fuel stop on coast-to-coast trips, and he couldn't fly trans-continental.

After a little research, the televangelist found the jet he now used

In the beginning when his ministry was still just a dream, the televangelist went to the pastor of a local church. This pastor was part of another denomination and had his church set up as a television production facility. The televangelist wanted to confer with him on how he should get started, and what kind of equipment he would need. They sat down and developed a plan whereby the pastor would say that he was donating his television equipment to the televangelist, who could then tell the members of his denomination a miracle story. He would say that a pastor of another faith had been impressed by God to donate all of his own television equipment to start this ministry. Of course the pastor kept his equipment, but the story did its job and the money started rolling in. This pastor's wife now serves as Operations Manager for the televangelist's ministry.

One of the first large donations was in the amount of $50,000.00 and the televangelist was able to use almost half of that to pay off some personal debts. This was, of course, in the best interest of the ministry because such distractions would only hold him back. Thus began a very profitable portion of his life.

As the years passed, financial directors came and went. One of them went under a dark cloud of scandal. It was discovered that he was diverting funds into his personal accounts, paying his bills with company checks, and walking away with enormous sums of money. To the surprise of those few people who knew what had happened, the televangelist chose to keep this story under wraps. The financial director was terminated, but not prosecuted. Nor was he required to pay anything back. Indeed, he was given a company vehicle as a gift.

Not long after this, The United States Postal Service discovered that a mail carrier was opening letters addressed to the ministry and taking cash donations. The televangelist went to the federal prosecutors and begged them to drop the case. He did not want it pursued.

In both of these situations, prosecution would have resulted in close scrutiny of the ministry's financial books.

The Televangelist Part 4:The Church

Arriving home, the televangelist starts thinking about his upcoming board meeting. The church that supports his ministry is made up of a World Conference, and various other levels of conferences, each falling under the other. The President of the Local Conference where his ministry is based is on his board of directors. This Conference president's parents both work for the televangelist. His personal assistant, his financial director, his chief legal advisor, and his facilities manager are all board members. Two of the board members, including the chairman, have programs that air on the television network. He has a new board member to whom he has just donated one million dollars, and appointed to head a new ethnic television network. He is comfortable that he owns the board.

Over twenty years ago the president of the World Conference asked the president of an association of lay workers for a recommendation on whether the church should support the televangelist. The recommendation came back that they should not, based on his very shady background. The church decided that they would give him their tenuous blessing in spite of the warnings.

The televangelist's TV network went up on satellite and became a regional service covering North America. His programs appealed primarily to the older, retired members of the church. These were the people who had money and were the most likely to make larger donations. They were also the people whose wills and trusts would soon come to fruition. His director of wills and trusts is very effective and takes in more money than the majority of the Church's organizations combined.

The Church started using the network to air its own events, and the televangelist's power in the Church grew. He interviewed various church leaders, highlighting their programs and projects and they grew to rely on him for promotion. He acquired key figures in the Church and gave them regular programs on the network. The Church was happy. As the televangelist's network grew to cover the entire world, so grew the Church's ability to reach the entire world through television.

Then a new president was elected to the World Conference. He believed that since the televangelist's network was essentially the face of the Church to the world, the Church should have some input into what was aired. He asked that a joint programming committee be formed, and that a certain Church Conference president be added to the board of directors. The televangelist was enraged. He immediately started calling various people saying that this World Conference president had put out a hit on his life. He said that unmarked black helicopters were hovering over his house performing surveillance. Stories were concocted and quickly spread regarding anyone who agreed with the Church's new position. Donations to the televangelist spiked. How dare anyone persecute the beloved leader? The World Conference president and many of his administration were politically ruined.

When the time came to vote for a new church administration, the televangelist called in favors, made threats, and laid out bribes. The results were pleasing. The new World Conference president and many of his administration made numerous "love fest" appearances on TV with the televangelist. They told him how much they appreciated him and his enormous contribution to the Church.

Everyone was terrified of the televangelist. They knew that with his global television platform he could, and would, destroy anyone who dared disagree with him in any way. The Church decided to launch its own television networks. As they came within one year of launch, the televangelist worked tirelessly to block them from their own churches. He fabricated ugly stories about them, and said that they were nothing but a mimic trying to reinvent the wheel. He was genuinely concerned about them.

When some of the televangelist's employees left and applied for employment with the Church's network, he contacted his attorney (who also did some work with the Church), the people he owned in the World Conference, and other influential personalities, and spread terrible stories about these employees trying to keep them from working for the Church. He called one of these employees who disagreed with him on a fundamental matter and said, "I know that you are trying to get work with the Church, and I won't let that happen because it will make you look right, and me look wrong."

One of the Church's most prominent evangelists said of the televangelist, "His network is the face of the Church to millions of people, and he is the face of his network."

The Televangelist Part 5:The Compound

The televangelist has a difficult time going to sleep. He is considering how best to utilize a recently acquired piece of property. His ministry now owns two-hundred acres of land. Many years ago he found that more power over his employees could be achieved through consolidating the various aspects of their personal lives and placing them under company control and observation.

At one time, the televangelist and most of his employees attended a local church about ten miles from his ministry headquarters. A problem developed. The pastor knew him too well, and many of the members were local people and family members who also knew too much about him. It occurred to him that if he had his own church, he could control all facets of it. He purchased an empty church building and asked his employees to attend there. Of course it wasn't mandatory, however...

The televangelist appointed the head of his pastoral department as pastor. He carefully handpicked the church board, the elders, and the various other positions, making sure that he was head elder and had a seat on the board. His presence at the meetings was all that was needed to keep control of the church's operation. After all, the entire leadership consisted of his employees.

Now his church needed the legitimacy of affiliation with the denomination. Pressure was applied in the right places and the televangelist's church was made an official church under the denomination's Local Conference. As the years went by, the televangelist had a new church building constructed on his ministry's property. A new pastor was acquired. One who as a singer, had music CDs to sell and appreciated the platform that a worldwide television network gave him. The ministry paid half of his salary, and the Church's Local Conference paid the other half. An associate pastor was hired, and the ministry paid all of his salary.

Now it was time to expand. Many of the televangelist's employees had children and he had grandchildren. A school building was constructed on ministry property. Staff and board members were once again hand selected. The school was placed under the denomination's church school curriculum to give it legitimacy. If a family was a member of the compound church, their children's tuition was free.

Staff housing was built on the ministry compound, and retirees was encouraged to have their own houses constructed on ministry property where they could stay until their death, one requirement being that they provide room and board for ministry guests.

The televangelist now owned the personal lives of his employees: church, school and housing. When church members went to their pastor regarding personal problems, the televangelist was informed. In school, the children were strongly indoctrinated in the idea that the televangelist was the supreme leader of Christianity under God among humanity. When marriages broke up, the televangelist decided who was right, and who was wrong based on how supportive each party was to himself and how useful his decision might be to future support. As personnel resigned and moved on, he decided what would go on their membership record as it was transferred to another church. He learned that knowledge is power. Everyone, from the lowliest employee to the World Conference president can be blackmailed or destroyed. If there are no skeletons in the closet, skeletons can be fabricated. The concept of "divide and conquer" was paramount to his power. Discredit those who might be a threat, and the threat goes away. Make people believe that the only person they can really trust is him, and all threats disappear.

Everyone wants to be a star and many of the performer types would like to produce a CD, but the cost is beyond the average person's budget. The televangelist has built a music production facility. From time to time he offers the incentive of having a free CD produced. For most, he dangles the prospect of a CD, like the proverbial carrot, and retains their loyalty. Close family members and friends are given "love gifts" of money, automobiles, and other things.

The televangelist smiles at the thought of how gullible people can be. Many new employees arrive with stars in their eyes. They are awed to be standing on holy ground. They look around and see the people who they see on TV. They are led into the studios where they see the sets for the various programs. Invariably they walk slowly up to the chair that the televangelist sits in during his talk show, and reverently touch it. It is almost like a dream that they are actually here, and this is where they will be working for God. A secretary comes out and says, "The boss would like to see you in his office." Their knees weaken. They are about to meet the televangelist face-to-face.

Walking down a blue-carpeted hallway, a new employee is led to a large oak door. The secretary lightly knocks and opens the door on an airy oak-paneled office. From behind a pile of paperwork, the televangelist glances over his reading glasses toward the door. His face lights up in a warm, welcoming smile. He nods a brief dismissal to the secretary and his new employee is now alone with God's messenger for the last days. He graciously asks the new employee to have seat on an overstuffed couch, and starts asking about this person's life. He invites the employee to eat lunch with him at a local restaurant. Over the meal, and for another thirty minutes, the televangelist asks brief questions and listens to the new employee.

Back in his office, the televangelist goes in for what will become his insurance on this employee's fidelity. He has asked the right questions, and listened carefully to everything that was said. He has deduced certain things about the employee's life from the conversation. Now he says, "God has just shown me some things about you." He gives a few generalities regarding some personal weaknesses. "The Holy Spirit is telling me that there are some problems... some secrets that you need to tell me about. You know that I already know what they are, but God is telling me that you need to confess them." Leaning forward, he takes the employee's hands in his own and continues, "What we talk about will stay between us and God." Tears slide down his cheeks as he prays that God's Spirit will fill this new employee with repentance, forgiveness and peace. Dark personal secrets are spilled. Dusty old skeletons rattle as they fall out of their closets. Painful memories are relived. A prayer of thanksgiving is intoned, tears are shed, and the meeting is adjourned.

Information gleaned from friends, relatives, co-workers, former employers, enemies, emails that are being monitored, church, and other sources is added to the file for future use.

This story has played out time and again, its conclusion being that when employees leave, they are told that if they say anything that would be detrimental to the televangelist or his ministry, their testimony will be discredited with the personal knowledge that the televangelist holds over them. The televangelist tells them, "I will be forced to protect God's ministry by revealing to the world your history and what kind of a character you are."

The employee leaves and starts contacting potential employers only to find that the televangelist has already been there warning them not to consider this person. Over the next few weekends the former employee continues going to church, but finds a cold shoulder. When approached, people who were close friends look nervously around and hurry away. The televangelist or his assistant informs these friends, associates, even family members outside the ministry that the former employee is a disgruntled pathological liar. He tells them that it would be best for them if they cut off all communication with this person.

Divide and conquer. The televangelist contacts the former employee and says, "Your friends have been coming to me and telling me everything that you say to them. They tell me that they are disappointed in you and the only reason any of them still speak with you is that they hope to bring you back to the Lord, and they want to keep me informed about what you are doing and saying. I also spoke with your family and they sympathized with me, and said that they are also very disappointed in you." Now the former employee doesn't know whom to trust.

Another method of dealing with an employee who needs to leave is demotion followed by tightened observation and heavy restrictions. Potential employers are contacted and told that this employee has performed badly, exhibited a poor attitude, and has personal problems that have resulted in demotion and possible termination. Following demotion, the employee starts contacting potential employers and finds that the doors are all closed.

The Televangelist Part 6:The Victims

The televangelist gets up and goes to his computer. The monitor casts a bluish glow on the face of the man who just switched on its power. The reflection in the monitor reveals a middle aged face peering intently over a pair of reading glasses. Opening up his email, the televangelist reads an email accusing him of wrong-doing. Baffled, he goes over it again. He leans back, his brow furrowed in concentration. What makes people think they have any moral standing to say that he has done any wrong? God called him to start this worldwide ministry, not them. Millions of people around the globe are blessed by him, not them. Many people have come into the Church through him, not them. Look how successful he is, as opposed to them. To thousands of people, he is God's vicar on earth, not them.

He writes back to his accuser explaining all of these things to her. He tells her that his conscience is pure; he does no wrong. He tells her that when he stands before God in judgment, it will be clear that everything he has done has a higher purpose. If others have suffered, they deserved it. If they were foolish enough to cross him, they were crossing God and it was inevitable that they should pay a steep price. If their suffering serves to advance or please him, they should be grateful for the privilege. Sometimes people must be sacrificed for the greater good of the greater person chosen by God for the greater cause.

The First Wife

In his late teens, the future televangelist married an older woman with several daughters from a previous marriage. Possessed with the idea that gospel music was his ticket to fame and power, he heard her sing in a church and was entranced with the possibilities that this beautiful voice presented. They were married and soon had a daughter. Within a few years, it became clear to the wife that her function was singer, cook, and housekeeper. Her husband frequented prostitutes and strip clubs. He also engaged in affairs with a variety of married women.

Her husband was a master of emotional abuse. If he hit her, she could show bruises, but how could she demonstrate to anyone the abuse that she suffered from this man? It was time to try getting out of this mess. She started planning her departure. She and her daughters would find a place to live and move out. It would be very difficult as her husband did not allow her access to money, but she could not stay. Then tragedy struck.

One day the wife and her youngest daughter were out for a drive when their vehicle was broadsided by another car. The wife was killed, and the young girl was thrown out of the vehicle and suffered a broken arm. Within a couple of weeks, the televangelist had his daughter on church stages singing. He told about the recent accident, pointing out her cast, and the money rolled in like never before.

The Bosses

Following a string of business failures that resulted in bankruptcy, the televangelist took his first wife and children to another state. He went to work for a building supply company owned by two men who had been in partnership for many years. Immediately he began planting the seeds of dissent in them.

He hinted to each that the other was swindling money. As they grew to distrust each other he fostered this division with continued lies, misleading comments, and doctoring of documentation.

As his plan to split up the partnership progressed, he started an affair with the wife of one of the partners. Finally, with the partnership being dissolved, a marriage on the rocks and the business in disarray, the future televangelist left the state and moved back to his hometown. Upon his departure, the partners found that the televangelist had absconded with the supplies from their company to build a speculation house, sold it, and never paid them.

The Family

In starting the ministry, the televangelist brought several family members into the business. These included his mother, his sister, and a brother. His brother was appointed to the position of Vice President. Once the ministry was on its feet and going, the televangelist's brother and sister launched a television program that they co-hosted. This program's popularity quickly grew. Seeing that his own popularity was dropping, the televangelist took drastic measures to resolve the situation. He fired his brother, and in anger, his sister and mother resigned.

Now came the isolation part. The televangelist wasted no time in spreading rumors and calling his brother, mother, and sister pathological liars. The employees were forbidden from having any contact with them. Everyone was closely watched and people who showed any sympathy for the departed family members, or expressed concern for how they had been treated was dealt with in the harshest manner.

About this time, the televangelist contacted a cousin with whom he had been quite close over the years. This cousin and his wife were operating two very successful businesses that they had built from scratch. He told the cousin some miracle stories, explained how God was using this ministry to reach the world, and told him that he was needed to be second in command. The cousin and his wife discussed it and decided that God's work was the most important thing. They divested themselves of their businesses, moved to the location of the ministry, bought a house, and started work. Within a short time, the cousin discovered that he had been duped. He saw financial mismanagement on a gross level, illegal activities, abuse of the employees, and much more. He confronted the televangelist with this wrongdoing and was told, "God called me, not you. That is why I am sitting here, and you are on that side of the desk." He was told to repent and submit.

Several days a week, the cousin was attending an afternoon class at a local college. The televangelist had him taking this course for work. Now the televangelist called the cousin's wife and told her that her husband was disappearing from work for hours at a time and no one knew where he was. He suggested that the cousin might be having an affair and asked her not to say anything. He would find out what was going on and protect her. As soon as her husband got home from work, she told him what the televangelist had said. They called and confronted him with his lies. He said that he simply didn't remember that the cousin was taking classes.

Finally, given the ultimatum, quit or be fired, he resigned. Meanwhile, the televangelist began a vicious smear campaign against him. The family was further split by what was said. The televangelist said, "If you want proof that I am right and he is wrong, just look at the fact that I am still here and he is gone. God is blessing me, not him."

The Lady and the Sanctuary

The years went by, and countless lives were broken and destroyed; sacrificed on the alter of the televangelist's ministry. One day an elderly lady contacted the ministry. She had worked diligently to get the televangelist's TV network carried on the local cable companies, and now she had another idea. She wanted the ministry to have a small model of the Old Testament sanctuary.

After several months of trying, she was allowed to speak with the televangelist himself. She was awed to be conversing with this representative of God. She told him her idea and said that she would provide the finances to make it happen. Prior to taking her call, the televangelist asked a few questions and found that her husband was a very wealthy retired physician. Now he told her that God was impressing him that instead of a miniature model, they were to build a full scale replica of the sanctuary that would be used as a museum, and include a theatre. He assured her that God had spoken to her.

Now the televangelist showed her a piece of property that was across the street from his ministry headquarters and told her that this was the place where God wanted his sanctuary. This was an eighty-acre tract of land that was already for sale. She wrote him a check for the amount of the property and what he estimated it would cost to construct the museum.

Construction of the facility began and then was halted. Funds were diverted to build a school with a large gymnasium adjacent to the museum. A large pond was excavated, a road was built, and apartments were constructed. The museum building sat there, an empty shell.
Several years later, the televangelist decided to redirect plans for the sanctuary building and turn it into a large auditorium and church. The local school district had successfully sued for the ministry to pay property taxes. The court decided that as they were not a church, taxes must be paid.

The elderly lady called repeatedly, but the televangelist would not take, or return her calls. She finally spoke with someone else in the ministry and told her story. She had planned on spending several thousand dollars for a sanctuary model until the televangelist convinced her that God wanted her to fund the much larger project. The check that she wrote to the televangelist was their life savings. Now she was destitute. Her husband got a divorce, and her children scorned her. From time to time they called and told her that all of this was for nothing. A master con artist had swindled her. Where was the sanctuary museum he had promised? Hadn't God told the televangelist to build it? Hadn't God told him that she was to fund it?

Sometimes people must be sacrificed for the greater good of the greater person, and they should feel privileged to suffer thus.

The Wife
After his first wife died, the televangelist married a recently divorced young lady with two children: a girl and a boy. His new wife served as executive vice president of the ministry, and was in charge of production, programming, publishing, and radio. As her children grew into their teens, her son developed problems with violence and drugs. The televangelist told her that this was her son, not his. He said that he did not want the boy in his house, and that this situation would have to be dealt with by her alone. He would have nothing to do with the boy.

The child's situation worsened until a foreign doctor visited the ministry and said that he would be willing to take the boy back to his country and put him in rehab. The televangelist's wife took a friend of hers and went to visit her son in this overseas rehab for three days. While there, she was also with a very good friend who was retired from a lifetime of work in the Church. The gentleman had served as a pastor and conference official in many parts of the world for fifty years and was now working with the televangelist's ministry. His wife was suffering from cancer, and was undergoing treatment from the same physician who was treating the boy.

Upon returning home, the televangelist's wife walked into a nasty surprise. Her husband greeted her with an accusation of adultery with the doctor. He demanded that she cease all communication with him. Outraged, she at first ignored him. The situation escalated.

Her best friend, who was temporarily staying in one of the ministry's apartments, called the compound church's head pastor one night and told him that her room was infested with demons. She said that these demons had removed her garment bag from the closet and thrown it to the floor, creating a tear in the fabric. The televangelist was summoned and they performed an exorcism. In the process, the televangelist told her that this case of demonic activity was the result of his wife's philandering ways.

Early the next morning, unaware of the night's activities, the televangelist's wife was awakened and ordered down to the living room. There she found her best friend and the pastor. Her friend burst into tears and cried "Please, for your own salvation you have to confess!" They pressed her for several hours. The televangelist told her that if she did not submit and confess, her marriage was over, and her days in ministry were at an end. She protested that there were witnesses, including the friend who was present, that she could not have had an affair with this doctor. She had never been alone with him.

The televangelist suspended his wife, and she was forbidden from going to her office without supervision. Her computer was confiscated and searched for incriminating evidence. Monitoring and tracking devices were placed in her car and in the house. She was placed under constant surveillance. Her friends and closest followers at the ministry turned their backs on her, refusing to even speak with her. The employees were forbidden from speaking about this subject on pain of immediate termination. Day after day the televangelist came home and told his wife of the many church leaders, pastors, and other people he had called and told that she was in an adulterous affair. Night after night he was in her face for hours at a time, interrogating; demanding that she submit and confess. Night after night he was at her former best friend's apartment for hours at a time. Day after day he was on the telephone with this woman for hours at a time.

On the phone and by email the televangelist was telling everyone that he had ironclad proof of his wife's adultery. In fact he had none. All he had was evidence that she had spoken with him on the telephone. As the demands for evidence became stronger, he was forced to change his accusation from adultery to spiritual adultery. One person asked, "Spiritual adultery? What is that? Does this mean that she is having sexual relations with spirits?" The ministry was deluged with telephone calls, emails, and letters offering the televangelist their sympathies as he continued spreading the word. Several employees asked why the televangelist was pushing so hard to publicize the problem. They were placed under surveillance.

Finally, after several months of this, the televangelist's wife moved into a mobile home in a local trailer park. There she lived with her daughter. Night and day her home was watched. Vehicles parked outside and kept open surveillance over her. Early one morning, the phone rang, and it was her husband asking if he could come in and use her restroom. He was very tired from a long night of watching.

The televangelist's board of directors met on the weekend that his ministry held a large campmeeting event in his auditorium. On the first night of this campmeeting, the foreign doctor and the retired pastor who had been with the televangelist's wife when she visited her son in rehab were there. They planned on being available to answer questions of the board when they met. When these two men walked into the auditorium, a security team immediately surrounded them. The televangelist stood at the podium and said to the world, "There are devils right here in this room." He pointed to the two men. "They are the reason my wife is not here tonight." Tears ran down his cheeks. "They have cost her this ministry."

The televangelist choreographs singing and tears. He tells the audience that despite this terrible loss, his heart is entirely devoted to ministry. He is devastated, yet focused on the vision that God gave him. This campmeeting will bring in more money than any other in the ministry's history. The financial success of this event will prompt the televangelist to hold another campmeeting a few months later, attempting to ride the wave of emotional giving before it dries up.

After the meeting was over, the security team proceeded to escort the two visitors off the premises. A ministry attorney told them that if they set foot on the televangelist's property again, they would be arrested. The televangelist was a close friend and neighbor of the local sheriff, and phone calls had been made. The men said that they had traveled over six thousand miles to speak with the board and defend the televangelist's wife. They were told that this would not be possible, as they would not be allowed on the property.

The Church's foremost evangelist, who was speaking at this campmeeting, asked the doctor if they could speak. The pastor of the compound church grabbed the evangelist's arm and said, "That would not be a good idea. You should not speak with this doctor alone."

Next day, the board met. The televangelist's wife and anyone who might defend her were not allowed to be present. She was summarily fired.

Several days later, she contacted a ministry employee, and asked him to help her move some furniture from her husband's home to the mobile where she now lived. Without hesitation, he volunteered. Two days later he was fired. After forwarding an email to about fifteen people from the televangelist's wife that simply stated that there were some untrue rumors going around about her, he received a letter from the televangelist's attorney threatening civil litigation.

The Chairman of the televangelist's board, and the Church's foremost evangelist both said that the wife's guilt or innocence was no longer relevant. The network was the face of the Church to much of the world, and the televangelist was the face of the network. For the greater good of the Church, she needed to submit to the televangelist and sacrifice herself. Her reputation and her life had to be secondary to the televangelist's desires. Why couldn't she see this?

The wife moved to another town several hours away. She found a house and settled in with her daughter. Within a short time, her husband had established surveillance on her new home.

The televangelist filed for a "No Fault" divorce from a foreign country, and as soon as it was finalized, he put out the news that his wife had divorced him and that she had most likely married the foreign doctor in secret. Meanwhile, he was dating a young lady whom he had known since she was a child. He moved her in from another state and gave her a job. True, she was several years younger than his daughter, but he was now single and needed some young female company. Soon she was spending a lot of time at his house.

The months went by, and the televangelist tenaciously kept up surveillance and harassment on his ex-wife and those who supported her. He spread stories about the foreign doctor, insinuating that he had murdered his wife who died following a lung transplant not long before the current fiasco began. He spread stories about the foreign pastor who had stood up for his wife. He claimed that this pastor's wife had engaged in many extramarital affairs, and that the pastor was a pathological liar. He called him a "spiritual idiot." He threatened his ex-wife, the pastor, and many others with litigation if they tried to say anything that would expose him. He had vast financial and legal resources that could withstand years of legal battle, whereas they did not. Guilt and innocence aside, in the end he could ruin them financially.

Her reputation in tatters, viewed by the world as a whore, emotionally crushed, the televangelist's ex-wife tries to reestablish some semblance of a life. She knows that she will probably never have privacy again in her life. Every email and phone call is most likely monitored. Friends are afraid to speak openly with her knowing that they will have to face the wrath of the televangelist. Many of them have. They know that the contents of their conversations and emails tend to come back and haunt them. It happens over and over.

The ex-wife goes to church, where she is active in ministry. She is involved in abused women's issues, and is turning the devastation of the previous years into the foundation for a new life.

The Televangelist
Before shutting down his computer for the night, the televangelist sends out one last email: this one to his ex-wife. He tells her how much he loves and misses her. He tells her that he is sorry she had to go through this nightmare... it hasn't been easy for him either. He tells her that it had to be done. She had to be sacrificed for the greater good of the ministry. Her removal has resulted in an outpouring of sympathy for him that has brought in more money than at any other time in the ministry's history. He tells her that the departments she once managed are flourishing under their new director as they never did under her. "This is not meant to offend you." He tells her, "I am just helping you to understand why you had to go." He goes on to let her know that he has moved on with his personal life. He is happy with the new girlfriend, and he is now working out and building up his physique. "I wish this never had to happen, but I will always love you. Your X"

He shuts off the computer and walks back to bed. Gently raising the covers, he slides in, careful not to wake his new partner.

The Televangelist Part 7:The Conclusion

How does this story end? When does it end? That is largely up to you. The story of the televangelist has repeated itself over and over since the dawn of time. The names are different, the faces change, and the victims fade into the fog of memory. People cannot always choose whether or not they fall victim to the televangelist, but many choose to be bought. Many choose to ignore the crimes against humanity by justifying these problems away. They say, "It is for the greater good." When confronted by the world over his extermination camps, this was Adolph Hitler's response. Others say, "It is none of my business." Over the course of history, the most heinous atrocities have occurred largely because good people refused to act.

How many people have to be sacrificed on the alters of megalomania? How many lives must yet be destroyed? Will the "televangelists" in your life, in your church, in your community, on your television be allowed to continue their wave of human destruction in the name of good? Only individuals willing to take a stand for human rights and dignity can put a stop to this new inquisition. Only Church and civil leaders who are not willing to be bought or sold, who will stand firmly on principle can clean this stain out of the framework of the community.

Where do you stand?

* * * * *

Posted by: watchbird Jul 7 2006, 07:39 PM

> QUOTE(sister @ Jul 7 2006, 03:44 PM)
>
> Since I have alluded to "The Televangelist" in a number of my threads, quoted portions of it in some of my posts and it has also been referred to by others; I am now posting it in it's entirety and without comment. It is an interesting read...
>
> Sister

That's heavy, Sister. Really heavy.

Thank you for posting it, but....

I'm not sure if we were really ready for the whole thing at once. Maybe we needed more portions of it enclosed in some of your delightful packaging first. But.....

Maybe no matter how many more "small portions" of it we saw, maybe it would still be heavy whenever we saw it all at once.

It takes a lot of processing before we are even ready to ask questions.

But.....

Thank you again for posting it. Once again I am stunned with the impact of the whole. And to think, this narrative closed more than a year ago. We have had 14 more months of the saga enacted since the final words of this document. And the end is not yet.

Posted by: beartrap Jul 8 2006, 10:32 AM

Yes indeed, Watchbird,

Perhaps the time has come for a rewrite. Perhaps this time the author should seek to collaborate with Sister.

By the way, Sister, thanks for posting it. As you say, an interesting read.

Posted by: sister Jul 8 2006, 11:06 AM

> QUOTE(beartrap @ Jul 8 2006, 11:32 AM)
>
> Yes indeed, Watchbird,
>
> Perhaps the time has come for a rewrite. Perhaps this time the author should seek to collaborate with Sister.
> By the way, Sister, thanks for posting it. As you say, an interesting read.

Bear, good to have you back, everybody missed you!

Sounds like an interesting project to me... especially since both of us have reason to continue flying under Danny's radar. sofa1.gif If the author suggests the project to me I am open to a collaboration. For I truly believe that the pen is mightier than the sword. And in a serious war of words, Danny is is out of his league. box.gi It is time that Danny's victims are vindicated and he permanently retires from the scene. notworkir In the end revealing the Bullyboy's own actions will cause him to dig his own grave publically.

Posted by: watchbird Jul 8 2006, 12:41 PM

First off, Bear, another great big welc

Pull up a chair, sit a spell, and tell us what has happened in your world since we saw you last.
tableta

> QUOTE(beartrap @ Jul 8 2006, 10:32 AM)
>
> Yes indeed, Watchbird,
>
> Perhaps the time has come for a rewrite. Perhaps this time the author should seek to collaborate with Sister.
>
> By the way, Sister, thanks for posting it. As you say, an interesting read.

I wouldn't say a "rewrite". It is an historical document and as such deserves to stand on its own. But it surely would be nice to have a sequel. That was essentially "prologue" plus "year 1". The past is past and doesn't need much rewriting except maybe for places where we have learned more about the past. But some of those chapters now are only preface to what has happened in "year 2". It would be good, I think, for those who know how things developed in those chapters to share them with us here.

> QUOTE(sister @ Jul 8 2006, 11:06 AM)
>
> Bear, good to have you back, everybody missed you!
>
> Sounds like an interesting project to me... especially since both of us have reason to continue flying under Danny's radar. sofa1.gif If the author suggests the project to me I am open to a collaboration. For I truly believe that the pen is mightier than the sword. And in a serious war of words, Danny is is out of his league. box.gi It is time that Danny's victims are vindicated and he permanently retires from the scene. notworkir In the end revealing the Bullyboy's own actions will cause him to dig his own grave publically.

I agree in principle. And surely there will come a day when someone, or some team, should take all of the various strands of informtion and weave them into a publishable book. In the meantime, though, I hope we can get more daily expansions on the saga that began with The Televangelist, continued on through The Unauthorized History, and now can be both fleshed out and brought up to date as we look at more recent developments in areas that have been introduced before. There are also areas that could use some closer examination, expansion, and even analysis.

Posted by: sister Jul 8 2006, 04:00 PM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jul 8 2006, 01:41 PM)
>
> First off, Bear, another great big welc
>
> Pull up a chair, sit a spell, and tell us what has happened in your world since we saw you last. tableta
>
> I wouldn't say a "rewrite". It is an historical document and as such deserves to stand on its own. But it surely would be nice to have a sequel. That was essentially "prologue" plus "year 1". The past is past and doesn't need much rewriting except maybe for places where we have learned more about the past. But some of those chapters now are only preface to what has happened in "year 2". It would be good, I think, for those who know how things developed in those chapters to share them with us here.
>
> I agree in principle. And surely there will come a day when someone, or some team, should take all > of the various strands of informtion and weave them into a publishable book. In the meantime, though, I hope we can get more daily expansions on the saga that began with The Televangelist, continued on through The Unauthorized History, and now can be both fleshed out and brought up to date as we look at more recent developments in areas that have been introduced before. There are also areas that could use some closer examination, expansion, and even analysis.

I can not speak for Bear or the author of "The Televangelist", but I do not think what was suggested was writing a book at this time. I think that you have jumped the gun a bit, watchbird.

Posted by: watchbird Jul 8 2006, 04:15 PM

> QUOTE(sister @ Jul 8 2006, 04:00 PM)
>
> I can not speak for Bear or the author of "The Televangelist", but I do not think what was suggested was writing a book at this time. I think that you have jumped the gun a bit, watchbird.

Don't think so. I don't think I was saying anything about a book now. I was just making the point that I'd like chapter-like installments of whatever "revision" is done, rather than waiting for a whole revised document.

Posted by: Johann Jul 9 2006, 05:12 AM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jul 8 2006, 03:39 AM)
>
> That's heavy, Sister. Really heavy.
>
> \---
>
> Thank you again for posting it. Once again I am stunned with the impact of the whole. And to think, this narrative closed more than a year ago. We have had 14 more months of the saga enacted since the final words of this document. And the end is not yet.

Danny made the "mistake" shortly after this story was written, of admitting on a TV show that this was his story, and not the story of anyone else of the thousands of televangelists in the world. . . He claimed some of it was false!

Posted by: Clay Jul 9 2006, 05:14 AM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jul 9 2006, 06:12 AM)

> Danny made the "mistake" shortly after this story was written, of admitting on a TV show that this was his story, and not the story of anyone else of the thousands of televangelists in the world. . . He claimed some of it was false!

why would he admit to this being his story?

Posted by: Johann Jul 9 2006, 05:23 AM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 9 2006, 01:14 PM)
>
> why would he admit to this being his story?

I don't always comprehend how his mind works. I watched the 3ABN show when he made the complaint that someone had written his story with some mistakes in it. I suppose if someone had done this to me I'd ignored it, especially since no names were given.

Posted by: watchbird Jul 9 2006, 08:16 AM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jul 9 2006, 05:23 AM)
>
> I don't always comprehend how his mind works. I watched the 3ABN show when he made the complaint that someone had written his story with some mistakes in it. I suppose if someone had done this to me I'd ignored it, especially since no names were given.

There you go again, Johann, exibiting your skills as a "master of understatement". "his story with some mistakes in it" indeed. I think the actual words he used were pungent variants of "lies" and "liar", with his rant against it extending for a considerable length of time. He was so sure that he knew exactly who wrote it, and who had "dictated" it to the "author"

What I'd like to see you post here is one of the letters that Danny sent to you, and even one that he sent to Linda that she passed on to you (or was it sent to her with a carbon to you?--I forget that detail). It's true that a short excerpt from those have been posted to another thread, but since those were such short excerpts and the recipients were not identified, I don't think it would be considered double posting for you to put the whole letter(s) here.

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Jul 9 2006, 11:15 AM

Why is this stated at the beginning?

> QUOTE

> The characters and events portray in the following story are fictional. Any resemblance to any real event or person, living or dead, is coincidental.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jul 9 2006, 11:50 AM

> QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Jul 9 2006, 11:15 AM)
>
> Why is this stated at the beginning?

SOP

Standard Operating Practice, Daryl

This is an example:

http://books.guardian.co.uk/review/story/0,,1596971,00.html

Quote:

"In 1982, theatre director Michael Bogdanov is tried for pimping. In the same year, Anthony Thomas makes a drama-documentary about an incident in Saudi Arabia in which the central character is a thinly fictionalised version of himself. More recently, when Ken Loach makes a film about abuses in the care system, he concludes it with the caption : "This film is based on a true story but the characters and the names have been changed for legal reasons. Any resemblance to any person alive or dead is purely coincidental .'"

Posted by: watchbird Jul 9 2006, 12:04 PM

> QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Jul 9 2006, 11:15 AM)
>
> Why is this stated at the beginning?
>
> > QUOTE
> >
> > The characters and events portray in the following story are fictional. Any resemblance to any real event or person, living or dead, is coincidental.

While Pete mentions that this is SOP--and it is. In this case, the author was given "legal counsel" to include that line.

Actually, this is the only purely fictional line there is in it. Events are dramatized and even written in a fictionalized manner, but as you have seen (or will see) from Sister's comments on some of the things given in The Televangelist, what is said in The Televangelist gives a little "tip of the iceberg" look at very real experiences and attitudes.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jul 9 2006, 12:24 PM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jul 9 2006, 12:04 PM)
>
> While Pete mentions that this is SOP--and it is. In this case, the author was given "legal counsel" to include that line.
>
> Actually, this is the only purely fictional line there is in it. Events are dramatized and even written in a fictionalized manner, but as you have seen (or will see) from Sister's comments on some of the things given in The Televangelist, what is said in The Televangelist gives a little "tip of the iceberg" look at very real experiences and attitudes.

Watchbird, look again. I've got a diamond buried in that gravel.

http://books.guardian.co.uk/review/story/0,,1596971,00.html

"Prevented by legal agreement [gag order] from writing about her famous husband, Ivana Trump commissions a ghost-writer to write a novel about the break-up of her marriage ."

I hope to see SOP used again in the future by someone we know..

Posted by: watchbird Jul 9 2006, 12:37 PM

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jul 9 2006, 12:24 PM)
>
> Watchbird, look again. I've got a diamond buried in that gravel.
>
> http://books.guardian.co.uk/review/story/0,,1596971,00.html
>
> "Prevented by legal agreement [gag order] from writing about her famous husband, Ivana Trump commissions a ghost-writer to write a novel about the break-up of her marriage ."
>
> I hope to see SOP used again in the future by someone we know..

oo

And so you do. Thanks. I sure missed that one!

Posted by: summertime Jul 9 2006, 01:37 PM

[quote name='watchbird' date='Jul 9 2006, 09:16 AM' post='138317']
There you go again, Johann, exibiting your skills as a "master of understatement". "his story with some mistakes in it" indeed. I think the actual words he used were pungent variants of "lies" and "liar", with his rant against it extending for a considerable length of time. He was so sure that he knew exactly who wrote it, and who had "dictated" it to the "author"

Might Danny be surprised if he only knew---the weakest of the weak (and then some)

Posted by: sister Jul 9 2006, 02:09 PM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jul 9 2006, 06:12 AM)
>
> Danny made the "mistake" shortly after this story was written, of admitting on a TV show that this was his story, and not the story of anyone else of the thousands of televangelists in the world. . . He claimed some of it was false!

Interesting how Danny keeps putting his foot in his mouth. So, based upon the first person witness of "The 3ABN Televangelist" it is his story and only some of it is false? Extrapolating upon that statement it means, by Danny's own admission, the majority of it is true. Any comments concerning the content of the document?

Johann, didn't Danny accuse you of being the author? I am sure there is more you can add to the story... Including email or letter documentation written by Danny himself?

Posted by: beartrap Jul 9 2006, 05:50 PM

rofl Johann said, "Who could be more foolish than the man who finds a critical anonymous book, and says to the whole world, 'Hey, this book is about me!'"

Posted by: Hersheys99 Jul 9 2006, 07:06 PM

> QUOTE
>
> rofl Johann said, "Who could be more foolish than the man who finds a critical anonymous book, and says to the whole world, 'Hey, this book is about me!'"

Yea that speaks volumes to me. Maybe Danny needs Clay's Sign!!

Posted by: watchbird Jul 9 2006, 08:13 PM

> QUOTE(beartrap @ Jul 9 2006, 05:50 PM) ☐
>
> rofl Johann said, "Who could be more foolish than the man who finds a critical anonymous book, and says to the whole world, 'Hey, this book is about me!'"

Ho there, you still aren't quoting him accurately--or at least not completely. We need a more complete picture--along with a little sound effects and drama. Try it this way... (not a transcription, of course).

"Boo hoo sob (broken voice here), Someone has written this book full of lies and made it look as though it was all about me. But it's NOT (raise volume), it's NOT, I say! It's all just a pack of lies--and you know who is the father of lies. It's the devil hard at work to discredit this ministry. Ah, but I shall rise above it all. angel.gi Surely the Lord is blessing this ministry and nothing shall be allowed to stand in its way. This persecution will result in additional glory to His name (and additional offerings from your pocketbooks). I know you will continue to support me through this hour of trial and the indignities that the demon inspired writer of this document has inflicted upon me. Thank you, from the bottom of my heart. than Thank you.

> QUOTE(Hersheys99 @ Jul 9 2006, 07:06 PM) ☐
>
> Yea that speaks volumes to me. Maybe Danny needs Clay's Sign!!

You mean the one that says "I'm stupid"?

Not on your life. At least not unless you add another line--"like a fox with a large bag standing guard at the hen house."

Hey....look back at the closing lines of part 6 of The Televangelist. Picture it if you will. Here is a man whose wife has just died--giving a concert with his daughter whose mother has just been killed in the same accident which left her a broken arm. It's been only two weeks. (How long does it take to grieve for your mom when you are 12 years old?) But "the show must go on". And the bravery of the little girl who holds up her cast for all to see when her father describes the wreck opens the pocketbooks wider than when there were three of them doing the "show".

And we expect to figure out what goes on in this man's head?

I don' t think so.

Posted by: beartrap Jul 9 2006, 08:55 PM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jul 9 2006, 09:13 PM) ☐
>
> Ho there, you still aren't quoting him accurately--or at least not completely. We need a more complete picture--along with a little sound effects and drama. Try it this way... (not a transcription, of course).
>
> "Boo hoo sob (broken voice here), Someone has written this book full of lies and made it > look as though it was all about me. But it's NOT (raise volume), it's NOT, I say! It's all just a pack of lies--and you know who is the father of lies. It's the devil hard at work to discredit this ministry. Ah, but I shall rise above it all. angel.gi Surely the Lord is blessing this ministry and nothing shall be allowed to stand in its way. This persecution will result in additional glory to His name (and additional offerings from your pocketbooks). I know you will continue to support me through this hour of trial and the indignities that the demon inspired writer of this document has inflicted upon me. Thank you, from the bottom of my heart. than Thank you.

rofl rofl

Posted by: Johann Jul 9 2006, 11:09 PM

> QUOTE(sister @ Jul 9 2006, 10:09 PM)
>
> Interesting how Danny keeps putting his foot in his mouth. So, based upon the first person witness of "The 3ABN Televangelist" it is his story and only some of it is false? Extrapolating upon that statement it means, by Danny's own admission, the majority of it is true. Any comments concerning the content of the document?
>
> Johann, didn't Danny accuse you of being the author? I am sure there is more you can add to the story... Including email or letter documentation written by Danny himself?

I have a number of e-mails from Danny where he accuses me of being the author of the Televangelist. Also where he threatens to take me to court. His "proof" that I wrote it is that the fictionalized author's name begins with J like in Johann

---

Posted by: Hersheys99 Jul 10 2006, 12:03 AM

> QUOTE
>
> Ho there, you still aren't quoting him accurately--or at least not completely. We need a more complete picture--along with a little sound effects and drama. Try it this way... (not a transcription, of course).
>
> "Boo hoo sob (broken voice here), Someone has written this book full of lies and made it look as though it was all about me. But it's NOT (raise volume), it's NOT, I say! It's all just a pack of lies--and you know who is the father of lies. It's the devil hard at work to discredit this ministry. Ah, but I shall rise above it all. angel.gi Surely the Lord is blessing this ministry and nothing shall be allowed to stand in its way. This persecution will result in additional glory to His name (and additional offerings from your pocketbooks). I know you will continue to support me through this hour of trial and the indignities that the demon inspired writer of this document has inflicted upon me. Thank you, from the bottom of my heart. than Thank you.

rofl rofl You are cracking me up here but that is pretty close to what he said or the parts I caught anyways!

Posted by: Clay Jul 10 2006, 12:48 AM even if I thought it were about me, I would probably not say a word....

reminds me of this song:

> QUOTE
>
> You walked into the party like you were walking onto a yacht
> Your hat strategically dipped below one eye
> Your scarf it was apricot
> You had one eye in the mirror as you watched yourself gavotte
> And all the girls dreamed that they'd be your partner
> They'd be your partner, and...
>
> You're so vain, you probably think this song is about you
> You're so vain, I'll bet you think this song is about you
> Don't you? Don't You?
>
> You had me several years ago when I was still quite naive
> Well you said that we made such a pretty pair
> And that you would never leave
> But you gave away the things you loved and one of them was me
> I had some dreams, they were clouds in my coffee
> Clouds in my coffee, and...
>
> You're so vain, you probably think this song is about you
> You're so vain, I'll bet you think this song is about you
> Don't you? Don't You? Don't You?
>
> I had some dreams they were clouds in my coffee
> Clouds in my coffee, and...
>
> You're so vain, you probably think this song is about you
> You're so vain, I'll bet you think this song is about you
> Don't you? Don't You?
>
> Well I hear you went up to Saratoga and your horse naturally won
> Then you flew your lear jet up to Nova Scotia
> To see the total eclipse of the sun
> Well you're where you should be all the time
> And when you're not you're with
> Some underworld spy or the wife of a close friend
> Wife from a close friend, and...
>
> You're so vain, you probably think this song is about you
> You're so vain, I'll bet you think this song is about you
> Don't you? Don't You? Don't you?
>
> You're so vain, you probably think this song is about you
> You're so vain, I'll bet you think this song is about you

Posted by: PaperTigers Jul 10 2006, 12:49 AM

rofl rofl
Watchbird, maybe you should be his writer!!! That sounded so much like him...
rofl

Posted by: Johann Jul 10 2006, 05:22 AM

> QUOTE(PaperTigers @ Jul 10 2006, 08:49 AM)
>
> rofl rofl
> Watchbird, maybe you should be his writer!!! That sounded so much like him...
> rofl

I second that motion.

Posted by: seraph|m Jul 10 2006, 08:29 AM

If the author was available for comment it would be nice to have him/her here for an interview. The "Adventist Events and Announcements" is just the place for it. I am sure Calvin would be glad to hear from the writer and could work something out. It's just a thought.

Posted by: watchbird Jul 10 2006, 08:46 AM

> QUOTE(seraph|m @ Jul 10 2006, 08:29 AM)
>
> If the author was available for comment it would be nice to have him/her here for an interview. The "Adventist Events and Announcements" is just the place for it. I am sure Calvin would be glad to hear from the writer and could work something out. It's just a thought.

Surely you do not think "the author" is unaware of what use is being made of his document on BSDA. For over a year now, "the author" has preferred to stay anonymous, always speaking of himself in the third person and keeping alive the mistique of anonymity. If or when he decides to reveal himself, I suspect that BSDA might be one of the first places he does so. But until then I think we would do best to allow a number of persons to comment on the document without playing any guessing games, even in the hidden recesses of our minds, as to who the author might be. If you bring your questions about it here where Sister posted it, I am sure that he will see them and will be making sure that someone gives the answers he would want given if he were answering in person.

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Jul 10 2006, 09:51 AM

Why can't he/she come and post here under an alias as sister and others are doing? I ask as I would rather hear from this person directly, rather than through somebody else.

Posted by: Clay Jul 10 2006, 10:06 AM

> QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Jul 10 2006, 10:51 AM)
>
> Why can't he/she come and post here under an alias as sister and others are doing? I ask as I would rather hear from this person directly, rather than through somebody else.

there is no indication that he or she isn't already.... they very well be posting under an alias....

Posted by: seraph|m Jul 10 2006, 10:08 AM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jul 10 2006, 10:46 AM)
>
> Surely you do not think "the author" is unaware of what use is being made of his document on BSDA. For over a year now, "the author" has preferred to stay anonymous, always speaking of himself in the third person and keeping alive the mistique of anonymity. If or when he decides to reveal himself, I suspect that BSDA might be one of the first places he does so. But until then I think we would do best to allow a number of persons to comment on the document without playing any guessing games, even in the hidden recesses of our minds, as to who the author might be. If you bring your questions about it here where Sister posted it, I am sure that he will see them and will be making sure that someone gives the answers he would want given if he were answering in person.

Actually, I am not suggesting that "the author" reveal himself. Calvin and the person in question can work out the details regarding how he might answer questions here, if he were inclined to do so. As I said, it's just a thought.

Posted by: watchbird Jul 10 2006, 10:13 AM

> QUOTE(seraph|m @ Jul 10 2006, 10:08 AM)
>
> Actually, I am not suggesting that "the author" reveal himself. Calvin and the person in question can work out the details regarding how he might answer questions here, if he were inclined to do so. As I said, it's just a thought.

Perhaps he might not want to reveal himself to Calvin either. If he were inclined to do so, he could sign on as "the author" and answer questions so long as they kept coming. I fail to see any reason for having a "formal interview" with him.

Posted by: sister Jul 10 2006, 10:16 AM

> QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Jul 10 2006, 10:51 AM)
>
> Why can't he/she come and post here under an alias as sister and others are doing? I ask as I would rather hear from this person directly, rather than through somebody else.

Daryl, perhaps because the author is already a member here and has been posting on these threads and elsewhere and to admit to being the author of "The Televangelist" could cause the author difficulity at this time. It is safer for this person to continue to fly under the radar for the present. As it is for me. Ask your questions on this thread and you will receive answers, there are others who can give answers, who have the same information as the author. Or individuals that can varify specific sections of the documents. For example there are sections of "The Televangelist" that Johann can personally varify, for he is one of the characters included in the story. There are sections that Beartrap can varify from his position at 3ABN and as a former member of the Shelton family. There are sections that I can varify. Or perhaps Brother Sam, Papertigers, Hersheys99 or others. If any or none of us is the author of "The Televangelist" is not important at this time; only that we can varify the truth of the story...

Posted by: seraph|m Jul 10 2006, 10:26 AM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jul 10 2006, 12:13 PM)
>
> Perhaps he might not want to reveal himself to Calvin either. If he were inclined to do so, he could sign on as "the author" and answer questions so long as they kept coming. I fail to see any reason for having a "formal interview" with him.

I do not recall stating what the author may want to do as it relates to revealing himself to Calvin or a "need" for an interview at all... But, see it as you wish

---

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Jul 10 2006, 04:29 PM

Was permission needed to post this here?

> QUOTE
>
> "The Televangelist"
> By: Jorgen VanBraun
> Copyright 2005

I ask on account of "Copyright 2005" below the name.

Posted by: Clay Jul 10 2006, 04:48 PM

> QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Jul 10 2006, 05:29 PM) ☐
>
> Was permission needed to post this here?
> I ask on account of "Copyright 2005" below the name.

we have not received correspondence asking us to remove it.... my hunch is that the author of this story is among us and doesn't have a problem with it being posted..... if they do, they will contact the owner personally I am sure....

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jul 10 2006, 06:23 PM

> QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Jul 10 2006, 04:29 PM) ☐
>
> Was permission needed to post this here?
> I ask on account of "Copyright 2005" below the name.

Regarding:

Jorgen Van Braun

When you rearrange the letters in Jorgen Van Braun, they spell:

Ran Vegan Job, Run!

Could this be a clue?

rofl

Posted by: PaperTigers Jul 10 2006, 07:23 PM

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jul 10 2006, 08:23 PM) ☐
>
> Regarding:
>
> Jorgen Van Braun
>
> When you rearrange the letters in Jorgen Van Braun, they spell:
>
> Ran Vegan Job, Run!
>
> Could this be a clue?
>
> rofl

rofl

too much!! i LOVE it!!

Posted by: beartrap Jul 10 2006, 07:38 PM

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jul 10 2006, 07:23 PM)
>
> Regarding:
>
> Jorgen Van Braun
>
> When you rearrange the letters in Jorgen Van Braun, they spell:
>
> Ran Vegan Job, Run!
>
> Could this be a clue?
>
> rofl

rofl I'm sure Mr. Van Braun is sitting behind a computer right now, somewhere in this vast BSDA world, splitting his sides over that one!

Posted by: statrei Jul 10 2006, 07:56 PM

> QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Jul 10 2006, 06:29 PM)
>
> Was permission needed to post this here?
> I ask on account of "Copyright 2005" below the name.

Fair use, Daryl. In many cases the Copyright law only requires that the copyright be displayed. It would be illegal to post it without the copyright.

Posted by: watchbird Jul 11 2006, 09:32 AM

This thread begins with:

> QUOTE(sister @ Jul 7 2006, 03:44 PM)
>
> Since I have alluded to "The Televangelist" in a number of my threads, quoted portions of it in some of my posts and it has also been referred to by others; I am now posting it in it's entirety and without comment. It is an interesting read...
>
> Sister
>
> "The Televangelist"
> By: Jorgen VanBraun
> Copyright 2005

I'm wondering if we are ready yet to entertain serious questions on specific portions of the document. (Notice that I said "entertain serious questions" rather than "seriously entertain questions". I "pay attention"--I know " this ain't Sabbath School".)

If so, then I would like to refer us to a paragraph about Danny's plane and the use he makes of them which you can find as the fourth paragraph under "Part 3:The Money).

> QUOTE
>
> The air pressure in the jet changes and the wall monitor shows that it is beginning its descent. Several years ago it was a relief that he was no longer forced to endure the inconvenience of commercial air travel, with the acquisition of a private jet. No longer does the televangelist have to go through security, and travel on a commercial schedule. He knows that the contributors, and the church that support his ministry, would not appreciate that this convenience is leased at a cost of $40,000.00 per month, so he has this expense placed in an anonymous account. In addition to the lease, the pilots cost $700.00 per day, and there are operational costs including gas and maintenance. Well, what the people don't know won't hurt him, and he truly deserves the extra conveniences. Vacations, personal visits, trips to ball games, and medical appointments no longer require a long drive. He now uses the jet for trips that would have required as little as two hours of driving.

I think that Sister may have referred to this elsewhere so that there were a few comments on the planes in the history series, but I think it would be well to have this brought to our attention and discussed again here where it can be seen in the context of the document as a whole.

And I would also like to hear more of the details behind those that were generalized in thiis paragraph, as well as examples of how the plane has been used since this was written. If anyone has current information, it would be interesting to know how the prices that were given in this paragraph have been affected by recent fuel prices. And also, has this affected the use that Danny makes of the plane since these increases? And if so, how?

Another question that I'm wondering about is whether or not there is any calculation done as to the amount of funds that can be expected to be taken in from a specific location before deciding whether or not to use the plane to meet that appointment.

Posted by: Clay Jul 11 2006, 10:01 AM good questions... the operating expenses have to be more because fuel costs more...

Posted by: seraph|m Jul 11 2006, 10:34 AM

---

sn

Posted by: Observer Jul 11 2006, 05:30 PM

> QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Jul 10 2006, 03:29 PM)
>
> Was permission needed to post this here?
> I ask on account of "Copyright 2005" below the name.

In order to have a copyright enforced, it must be registered with the copyright office, at least as copyright applies to the United States. If the copyright originated in another country, there are different aspects of this question.

If the copyright has been registered, it is a simple matter to determine who registered it. If it has not been registered, it cannot be enforced in a U. S. court.

This document has been so freely distributed, with the implied permission of the claimed copyright owner, that it may be assumed that it has entered the public domain. If so, there cannot be any copyright enforcement.

Posted by: Clay Jul 11 2006, 05:55 PM

> QUOTE(Observer @ Jul 11 2006, 05:30 PM)
>
> In order to have a copyright enforced, it must be registered with the copyright office, at least as copyright applies to the United States. If the copyright originated in another country, there are different aspects of this question.
>
> If the copyright has been registered, it is a simple matter to determine who registered it. If it has not been registered, it cannot be enforced in a U. S. court.
>
> This document has been so freely distributed, with the implied permission of the claimed copyright owner, that it may be assumed that it has entered the public domain. If so, there cannot be any copyright enforcement.

thank you for the clarification....

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Jul 11 2006, 06:39 PM

Therefore, that means anybody can post it anywhere without first obtaining permission?

Posted by: Clay Jul 11 2006, 06:44 PM

> QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Jul 11 2006, 06:39 PM)
>
> Therefore, that means anybody can post it anywhere without first obtaining permission?

probably Daryl.... go ahead and post it in your forum... we won't mind.... oh and we won't tell either....

Posted by: statrei Jul 11 2006, 07:20 PM

> QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Jul 11 2006, 08:39 PM) ☐
>
> Therefore, that means anybody can post it anywhere without first obtaining permission?

The worst that could happen is that somebody would ask you to remove it.

Posted by: sister Jul 14 2006, 01:15 PM

It is interesting to see sections of "The Televangelist" varified in the letter of Dr. Arild Abrahamsen. It also makes it possible to fill in the names that have been left out in this document.

Posted by: watchbird Jul 14 2006, 04:48 PM

> QUOTE(sister @ Jul 14 2006, 01:15 PM) ☐
>
> It is interesting to see sections of "The Televangelist" varified in the letter of Dr. Arild Abrahamsen. It also makes it possible to fill in the names that have been left out in this document.

Will we soon start seeing some of these things woven together in your own delightful narrative style?

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Jul 14 2006, 07:39 PM

Amen to that watchbird!

Posted by: watchbird Jul 18 2006, 06:31 AM

> QUOTE(sister @ Jul 14 2006, 01:15 PM) ☐
>
> It is interesting to see sections of "The Televangelist" varified in the letter of Dr. Arild Abrahamsen. It also makes it possible to fill in the names that have been left out in this document.

As Sister notes above, there is a synergistic relationship between the AA letter and The Televangelist, as the document provides context for the letter, and the letter supplies names and details for some sections of the document. So seeing that the pinned section has been changed to include only those items that are being recommended for distribution, I'm wondering if The Televangelist document ought to be included there as well, where it will not only be available for those who wish to make a full packet of information, but also will be easy access for those coming to BSDA who want a condensed introduction before wading through all the dialogues.

Posted by: no_cults Jul 19 2006, 07:55 AM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jul 18 2006, 06:31 AM)
>
> As Sister notes above, there is a synergistic relationship between the AA letter and The Televangelist, as the document provides context for the letter, and the letter supplies names and details for some sections of the document. So seeing that the pinned section has been changed to include only those items that are being recommended for distribution, I'm wondering if The Televangelist document ought to be included there as well, where it will not only be available for those who wish to make a full packet of information, but also will be easy access for those coming to BSDA who want a condensed introduction before wading through all the dialogues.

If anyone would have that "packet" of information then I would like to have it.
Is there a way to send this information via private e-mails?

Thanks

Posted by: watchbird Jul 19 2006, 08:29 AM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jul 18 2006, 06:31 AM)
>
> As Sister notes above, there is a synergistic relationship between the AA letter and The Televangelist, as the document provides context for the letter, and the letter supplies names and details for some sections of the document. So seeing that the pinned section has been changed to include only those items that are being recommended for distribution, I'm wondering if The Televangelist document ought to be included there as well, where it will not only be available for those who wish to make a full packet of information, but also will be easy access for those coming to BSDA who want a condensed introduction before wading through all the dialogues.

> QUOTE(no_cults @ Jul 19 2006, 07:55 AM)
>
> If anyone would have that "packet" of information then I would like to have it.
> Is there a way to send this information via private e-mails?
>
> Thanks

Notice the line I have put in bold. There is no ready-made "packet" of information. Each who wishes to send something out will have to assemble their own "packet".

The easiest way to send information from here by email is to simply use the regular "block and copy" functions of your computer, and copy each item you wish to use over into a file on your computer, or directly into your email document.

You will also find much narrative material in the series of threads called "An Unauthorized History of 3ABN" that will give you background and context for things said in the three documents already mentioned. This was originally one long thread, but was cut into ten chapters for ease of access to the various parts. They are not in order. But you would be well advised to look through the menu pages for them and read them in chapter order. Then you can copy out the most cogent posts so you can access them later on your own computer.

Enjoy.

Posted by: no_cults Jul 19 2006, 09:49 AM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jul 19 2006, 09:29 AM)
>
> Notice the line I have put in bold. There is no ready-made "packet" of information. Each who wishes to send something out will have to assemble their own "packet".
>
> The easiest way to send information from here by email is to simply use the regular "block and copy" functions of your computer, and copy each item you wish to use over into a file on your computer, or directly into your email document.
>
> You will also find much narrative material in the series of threads called "An Unauthorized History of 3ABN" that will give you background and context for things said in the three documents already mentioned. This was originally one long thread, but was cut into ten chapters for ease of access to the various parts. They are not in order. But you would be well advised to look through the menu pages for them and read them in chapter order. Then you can copy out the most cogent posts so you can access them later on your own computer.
>
> Enjoy.

I understand that there is no "packet" now. I guess I was just being lazy and was wondering when and if someone put together this information if it might be available for lazy people like me.

This information needs to get out. Without a lot of people speaking out on Folkenberg - no doubt he would still be in charge. Remember the David Dennis affair?

"The pen is mightier than the sword"

Thanks

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Jul 19 2006, 08:38 PM

Perhaps a suggested contents of a packet could be posted here or in a new topic created for such a purpose?

Posted by: inga Jul 19 2006, 09:02 PM

I'm glad to see the chapters of "An Unauthorized History" pinned.

What I'd now like to see is the whole "Unauthorized History" as a document that can be distributed, just like the "Televangelist" and Dr. Abrahamsen's letter. Even if it's just pinned in this forum, it makes it easier for busy people to get the big picture.

I'd also like to see "The Televangelist" document "pinned."

That would most of the solid information in an easily found spot.

Posted by: watchbird Aug 4 2006, 02:18 PM

> QUOTE(sister @ Jul 14 2006, 01:15 PM) ☐
>
> It is interesting to see sections of "The Televangelist" varified in the letter of Dr. Arild Abrahamsen. It also makes it possible to fill in the names that have been left out in this document.

It is also an important document in that it widens our focus from the laser beam that we often turn on Linda to the wide floodlight that illuminates the whole spectrum of problem areas both past and recent past. There have been significant developments since May of 2005 when it was written and first distributed. But since understanding history is critical to understanding the present and projecting into the future, this is indeed a very unique and valuable document that serves as an outline into which one can fit the bits and pieces scattered thoughout the threads of BSDA 3ABN forum.

It claims to be a work of fiction. As we have pointed out before, that is the only strictly untrue statement in it. So if you are new to these topics, do begin at the beginning of this one, it will put a lot of things in their proper perspective and relationship.

Posted by: Clay Aug 10 2006, 08:35 AM

found this on Maritime posted by watchbird.... interesting disclosures.....

> QUOTE
>
> I have copied over the following from BSDA:
>
> NEWS FLASH
>
> I have just received the following document from the author of "The Televangelist", Jorgen VanBraun.
>
> I will make the following comments before you read this post: This situation is currently taking place at the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists. The truth of the statements within the narrative has been verified by a reliable independent source who chooses to remain anonymous at this time. Send a copy of this document to your entire email list. Get the message out to the church at large. It is time for this "shadow man", who uses his vast wealth to sway the decisions of the church, to be revealed. Why does he continue to back Danny Shelton?
>
> Not only this "shadow man" needs to be revealed, but the names of all church leaders who are taking part in the decision of what is to be done about both this man and everyone connected with the 3ABN cesspool should be revealed to the church. I hear a lot against anonymity on this board. Why don't we hear the same hue and cry raised over the cloak of anonymity behind which our leaders are put into office and the cloak of anonymity which hangs tight over the doors of their actions and non-actions regarding the abominadable things which are going on in our church at the present time ... and I am NOT speaking merely of those things connected with the "Shelton Gang" ... which contains a lot more people than those who have the last name of "Shelton". I am speaking of other sex offenders, EEOC violations, and abuse of position and power right within the denominational structure...where appeals for justice are ignored, victims are "paid off" under the counter, and violators remain unrevealed and still in power. This needs to come to a screeching halt before church members get to the end of their patience and turn everything they know over to public "watchdog" organizations who will spare the SDA church no more than what they have "spared" the Catholic church from the bright and withering seachlight of both print and web research and analysis.

Quote:
Okay People, time to name names. 100 pts a name, except the victim, this brave girl has suffered enough. Let us all pray for her protection, Danny knows who she is and there is no way to predict what he would be willing to do to try and stop her testimony.

The Contributor
Jorgen VanBraun

Along the hallowed halls of the headquarters of the World Conference of the Church, the atmosphere is hushed, yet alive with activity.

Lest there be any doubt in anyone's mind, let's start the identification process right here. This is the World Headquarters of the SDA church located in Silver Spring, Maryland, USA.

Quote:
Pastors, administrators, visitors, people from every part of the globe are here conducting the business of the Church. Also here today is a robust, energetic man from the central west. Today the Contributor, the Church's wealthiest donor, will be meeting with a number of top leaders.

Garwin McNeilus. Though I wonder about the validity of him being the "wealthiest donor", since there are others of the McNeilus clan who are also involved in the same projects that he supports, and taking it in another direction, I have also heard others refered to as the "wealthiest"... though without the stigma of overt attempts to control the business of our church such as has been attributed to Garwin... by many more than one source, some in an accusatory way and some in a bragging way, depending on their relationship to the man.

Quote:
Over the years the Contributor's donations to the Church have totaled more millions of dollars than we can imagine, and everyone here is anxious to take a larger piece of the pie. The World Missions department has always come out on top.

Particularly what is called "Global Mission" projects. Which, btw, has become somewhat of a "playground" for the McNeilus clan.... "something to do" to occupy their time since they have "sold" their business and can live luxuriously without having the daily toil that most of us have. Denzil, for example, not only leads out in Global Mission trips, but also is allowed to baptize the converts, even though he is not a minister and never has been one.

Quote:
Today the Contributor has something weighing on his mind. His close friend and associate, the Televangelist, has a dark cloud hanging over his head.

The Televangelist, of course, is Danny Shelton.

Quote:
He has been exposed through various mediums for the charlatan that he is. His many years of lies and manipulation are catching up with him. Now, a young woman has produced documented proof that she was repeatedly sexually assaulted by the Televangelist during his second marriage. This documentation has been sent to many of the leaders in the Church, and the time has come that they can no longer turn a blind eye.

A copy of this signed document has been sent to Daryl, along with the formal request that it not be placed on any internet forum, whether completely public or restricted to authorized subscribers such as this one... and also that her name not be posted any such place. The copy sent to GC headquarters has a notarized signature on it. The restrictions as to who may receive a copy by private email are described as "pastors and church leaders". These are then free to discuss it privately with those whom they judge will handle the information both kindly and judiciously. Readers here who think they fall into one of these categories, yet have not received a copy, may communicate with Daryl privately.

Quote:
The man who was once their poster child, and was considered the face of the Church by the Church's foremost evangelist, is now becoming a liability. If they continue to support him, and allow that he is the face of the church, this newest scandal of his will bring them down with him. The Contributor knows this, and has determined that he will force the Church into compliance with the Televangelist.

Sitting in the spacious office of the President of the World Conference, the Contributor bluntly tells the President that if the Church takes any action against the Televangelist, or does anything that would damage, or undermine him, the Church will not receive another penny of his money for World Missions.

Again, the Contributor is Garwin McNeilus, and the President is Jan Paulson, himself.

Quote:
Considering that the World Missions budget comes primarily from the Contributor, the President knows that the Church will be rocked to its foundations by the loss of this man's money.

Question: HOW does he "know" this. Has he no faith that God will supply all our needs? Has he not heard how God thinks about those who attempt to "buy the Holy Spirit... and the power they think they have by doing so?

Quote:
What will he do? What will the Church do?

Reports are that his first reaction was to say that the church's hands were tied so they could do nothing to cut the ties that bind the church to 3ABN and Danny Shelton. Other reports seem to indicate that this is not the bottom line but that others are pushing for action. At any rate... here is something the church at large can do.... raise up in a mighty tsunami that insists not only on cutting the ties and bringing the Shelton gang to justice (including recovering as many of the assets as possible that Danny has stolen from the donation box) but also will clean out those persons in GC headquarters who do not move to clean out other messes on all levels of conference management.

Quote:
Back at the compound, the Televangelist leans back in a large couch. His eyes drift over to where a new step-daughter is playing and his lips curl in a slight smile. He reaches over and pats his new wife on the thigh, as he watches the little girl play. Memory takes him back over the years to another step-daughter.

What will the Church do? This question remains unanswered. The decision has yet to be made.

Posted by: Nuggie Aug 10 2006, 09:27 AM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Aug 10 2006, 08:35 AM) ☐
>
> found this on Maritime posted by watchbird.... interesting disclosures.....

Good gracious...just when I thought things couldn't get worse...

Posted by: JustTana Aug 10 2006, 02:19 PM

Hello Johann,

I'm new to this forum but I am glad to see that you are also on at the moment. Is what I am reading true to your knowledge? If so, what part is Don Schneider playing in this drama? Is he involved to the extent that Paulsen is? My sister knows him personally and will be glad to get in touch with him to ask him what, if anything, he intends to do about this sorry affair. Also, what is your take on what Danny will do? Will he just shut down 3ABN out of hand or will he allow the changes to be made which we are calling for. And if he tries to shut it down, do you believe, as I do, that God will take over and do what we all want to see?

Thanks for hearing me.

Posted by: watchbird Aug 10 2006, 02:52 PM

> QUOTE(Nuggie @ Aug 10 2006, 09:27 AM) ☐
>
> Good gracious...just when I thought things couldn't get worse...

☒ hug.gif There, there, Nuggie, don't despair..... Things can always get worse.

Bring your blanky...... join me behind the sofa ☒ (☒ sofa1.gif

.... Let's "stay tuned" to HOPETV .... ☒ TVsnack.

Posted by: PaperTigers Aug 10 2006, 03:00 PM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Aug 10 2006, 03:52 PM) ☐

> ☒ hug.gif There, there, Nuggie, don't despair..... Things can always get worse.
>
> Bring your blanky...... join me behind the sofa ☒ (☒ sofa1.gif
>
> .... Let's "stay tuned" to HOPETV .... ☒ TVsnack

can i join you guys behind the sofa?? ☒ (☒ sofa1.gif

i'm not sure i can handle much more drama this week!

Posted by: Nuggie Aug 10 2006, 03:07 PM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Aug 10 2006, 03:52 PM) ☐
>
> ☒ hug.gif There, there, Nuggie, don't despair..... Things can always get worse.
>
> Bring your blanky...... join me behind the sofa ☒ (☒ sofa1.gif
>
> .... Let's "stay tuned" to HOPETV .... ☒ TVsnack.

Thanks, watchbird... ☒ sig ...this soap opera is making me ☐ ....

Posted by: princessdi Aug 10 2006, 03:56 PM

Man!!! I have been saying all along, GC needs to distane themselves before it is too late. Just the association with Danny will do much damaged, but that they wre "paid" to overlook many trangressions will be devastating. Nobody will care if we are a cult or not. What little positive reputation we have will be gone. The Remnant? Please!!!

Posted by: watchbird Aug 10 2006, 04:00 PM

> QUOTE(Nuggie @ Aug 10 2006, 03:07 PM) ☐

> Thanks, watchbird... sig ...this soap opera is making me ....

Ah ha! Strike up the band ... a few lines from "The rain in Spain" should do it .... band.gif ....
All togeher now ... "She's got it ..... she's got it .... I really think she's got it ......"

Yup, no doubt about it .... when you get those symptoms, you have defintely"got it" ....
What's "it"? Why that it isn't really a soap opera at all..... for if it was you could turn off the TV, put it out of mind and feel no pressure to do anything about it.

But when you know it's real, then the more you know the greater obligation you feel to do something..... and that, coupled with the seeming impossiblity of accomplishing anything, can indeed make one feel

---

Posted by: summertime Aug 10 2006, 04:57 PM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 10 2006, 12:48 AM)
>
> even if I thought it were about me, I would probably not say a word....

I really think that the author of "the Televangelist" is a real lady--who may hae been hurt to the breaking point and still maintains her wish to be a lady. Who knows for sure?

Posted by: sister Aug 10 2006, 06:17 PM

> QUOTE(summertime @ Aug 10 2006, 05:57 PM)
>
> I really think that the author of "the Televangelist" is a real lady--who may hae been hurt to the breaking point and still maintains her wish to be a lady. Who knows for sure?

I know for sure, sorry summertime, "she" is not the author. Neither am I "she". Lets just say the author is safely flying under the radar. And I am sure that this is not the last that we will hear from Jorgen VanBraun. In a way he is similar to Charlie from Charlie's Angels: no one evers sees Charlie, they only hear his voice and no one ever sees Jorgen, they only read his testimony...

Posted by: PaperTigers Aug 10 2006, 06:26 PM

> QUOTE(sister @ Aug 10 2006, 07:17 PM)

> I know for sure, sorry summertime, "she" is not the author. Neither am I "she". Lets just say the author is safely flying under the radar. And I am sure that this is not the last that we will hear from Jorgen VanBraun. In a way he is similar to Charlie from Charlie's Angels: no one evers sees Charlie, they only hear his voice and no one ever sees Jorgen, they only read his testimony...

Amen sister, and I for one am very thankful for all that Jorgen has been able to say, and hope that the writings keep coming...
very enlightening

Posted by: watchbird Aug 10 2006, 06:48 PM

> QUOTE(PaperTigers @ Aug 10 2006, 03:00 PM) ☐
>
> can i join you guys behind the sofa?? ☒ (☒ sofa1.gif
>
> i'm not sure i can handle much more drama this week!

Of course..... any time, PT..... ☒ hug.gif .... It's real cozy back here..... ☒ sofa1.gif

---

Posted by: tall73 Aug 12 2006, 07:36 PM

I have no idea if this is true, but might pursue the letter option. That along with the Illinois document on the tax issue would be the strongest pieces of evidence to me yet, simply because they are official, and could be seen as such by most outsiders (especially one sitting on a state website).

Incidentally, is the person pursuing legal options? I would hope so. In which case this would definitely get into the realm of public documents.

If it is true it just pushed the whole thing to first class scandal status with a strong case for child molestation.

A man who gets a quickie divorce in guam and is scandalized by questions of "biblical grounds" isn't going to make a blip on NBC, etc. But someone who continually marries women with children and now is accused of molestation, along with the financial info, is bound to be a hit.

On another note however, people could have far worse playgrounds than mission work.

Posted by: inga Aug 14 2006, 04:57 PM

☒ h Seems to me that this topic ought to be "pinned" because too many folks coming on here miss it, and the story line is confirmed by independent posters in the rest of the threads.

Posted by: princessdi Aug 14 2006, 07:19 PM

A televangelist who gets a quickie divorce, etc. will get a bullet on NBC, CBS, ABC, FOX, CNN. We forget the media love to bring down a telelvangelist. It was years before they left Benny Hinn alone. Now add the rest and you just made the news at 5, 6 anad 11.

> QUOTE(tall73 @ Aug 12 2006, 05:36 PM)
>
> I have no idea if this is true, but might pursue the letter option. That along with the Illinois document on the tax issue would be the strongest pieces of evidence to me yet, simply because they are official, and could be seen as such by most outsiders (especially one sitting on a state website).
>
> Incidentally, is the person pursuing legal options? I would hope so. In which case this would definitely get into the realm of public documents.
>
> If it is true it just pushed the whole thing to first class scandal status with a strong case for child molestation.
>
> A man who gets a quickie divorce in guam and is scandalized by questions of "biblical grounds" isn't going to make a blip on NBC, etc. But someone who continually marries women with children and now is accused of molestation, along with the financial info, is bound to be a hit.
>
> On another note however, people could have far worse playgrounds than mission work.

Posted by: Clay Aug 14 2006, 07:32 PM

> QUOTE(inga @ Aug 14 2006, 04:57 PM)
>
> h Seems to me that this topic ought to be "pinned" because too many folks coming on here miss it, and the story line is confirmed by independent posters in the rest of the threads.

just bump it up when you see it drifting towards the bottom....

bum

Posted by: watchbird Aug 14 2006, 07:51 PM

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Aug 14 2006, 07:19 PM) ☐
>
> A televangelist who gets a quickie divorce, etc. will get a bullet on NBC, CBS, ABC, FOX, CNN. We forget the media love to bring down a telelvangelist. It was years before they left Benny Hinn alone. Now add the rest and you just made the news at 5, 6 anad 11.

And don't forget "60 minutes" and the various Evangelical Watchdog organizations. This is one mess that the church is NOT going to "sweep under the rug". And even the carpet is going out on the line for a good beating. If we won't clean our own house .... OK .... there are commercial cleaners that would simply love the job.

.... ☒ TVsnack.

Posted by: inga Aug 20 2006, 04:31 PM

☒ TVsnack.

Posted by: watchbird Aug 25 2006, 03:49 PM

For the benefit of those just joining us, here is the document which is being discussed in another thread. So if you came to this end point first, I'd recommend going back to the menu, and first of all reading the document in its entirety. It was, as I've said elsewhere, the most successful of the various efforts to get leaders to take a serious look and ask questions about what was written. It is also interesting to note that it was Danny himself who gave it world-wide publicity and called attention to it by applying it to himself and calling it all "lies".

Yet elsewhere on this site, there is evidence that what is contained in the "fictionalized" account are bundles of truths.

Posted by: justme Aug 31 2006, 07:41 PM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Aug 25 2006, 05:49 PM) ☐
>
> For the benefit of those just joining us, here is the document which is being discussed in another thread. So if you came to this end point first, I'd recommend going back to the menu, and first of all reading the document in its entirety. It was, as I've said elsewhere, the most successful of the various efforts to get leaders to take a serious look and ask questions about what was written. It is also interesting to note that it was Danny himself who gave it world-wide publicity and called attention to it by applying it to himself and calling it all "lies".
>
> Yet elsewhere on this site, there is evidence that what is contained in the "fictionalized" account are bundles of truths.

If he call it a lie, I'm evenmore inclined to believe it.

It is too important to ignore, especially in the light of developments soon to be made known. Until then, let's all pray for those being "held captive" under it's power, who's hearts are in the right place, awaitng a time to be delivered.

Until then, here it is again:

"The Televangelist"
By: Jorgen VanBraun
Copyright 2005

Don't need to repeat this again in its entirety. Go to the first page/first post of this thread to read it.

Posted by: watchbird Jan 31 2007, 12:34 PM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Aug 25 2006, 04:49 PM)
>
> For the benefit of those just joining us, here is the document which is being discussed in another thread. So if you came to this end point first, I'd recommend going back to the menu, and first of all reading the document in its entirety. It was, as I've said elsewhere, the most successful of the various efforts to get leaders to take a serious look and ask questions about what was written. It is also interesting to note that it was Danny himself who gave it world-wide publicity and called attention to it by applying it to himself and calling it all "lies".
>
> Yet elsewhere on this site, there is evidence that what is contained in the "fictionalized" account are bundles of truths.

..... ☒ bum ....

Time to bring this forward again, I think. The document in its entirety is posted as post #1 in this thread. http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=9823&view=findpost&p=138128 to go directly to it.

Keep in mind that the only line of fiction is found on the title page where it claims that what is written is fiction. Parts of the rest may be told in a "fictionalized" manner... but the facts are all ... sadly to say.... true. Keep in mind also that it was written at a specific point in time.... May 2005, just before General Conference Session July of 2005. So obviously the story has moved on from that point, but this is especially valuable for background information.

And as you read elsewhere in this site, you will be able to recognize the stories as they are retold by other participants or eyewitnesses... very often with names included. So by comparing what is said in this document with those other posts, the pieces fit together a little better.

Posted by: franklyamazed Jan 31 2007, 10:47 PM

Power corrupts. Absolute power corrupts absolutely. But if you add a certain paranoid mental conditon, you get corruption gone crazy.

It leaves me... frankly amazed

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Feb 1 2007, 07:03 PM

> QUOTE(franklyamazed @ Jan 31 2007, 11:47 PM)
>
> Power corrupts. Absolute power corrupts absolutely. But if you add a certain paranoid mental conditon, you get corruption gone crazy.
>
> It leaves me... frankly amazed

Haven't heard this version before...but I like it!

Printable Version of Topic

104

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ 3abn Jan. 2007 Letter

Posted by: erik Jan 25 2007, 10:31 PM

January 5, 2007

***** *****
Board of Community Church of God
2458 Gallows Road
Dunn Loring, VA 22027

Dear ******:

Please be advised that I am one of the attorneys representing Tommy Shelton and Three Angels Broadcasting Network, Inc. The purpose of this letter is to: 1) advise the board of actions of its pastor Glenn Dryden; 2) to place the board and each individual member on notice that the actions of your pastor will not be tolerated any further; and 3) to inform the board and its individual members that all will be named as defendants in a lawsuit should the actions of your pastor continue.

I am aware of the slander and libel that your pastor is engaged in and of his efforts to encourage others in attacking Tommy, Danny, and 3ABN. Such actions are far beneath the level of Christian behavior and are legally libelous. Your pastor has used the internet to spread scandalous allegations against my clients in an attempt to harm them personally and to affect the on-going ministry of 3ABN. My clients have exercised great restraint up to this moment as others so defamed would have already sought legal redress of the situation.

Their patience is gone. Though they do not relish the thought of filing a lawsuit against the church, your pastor and all the members of the Board of Directors individually, that will be the next step. They have had enough.

Let me be perfectly clear about this. You and the rest of the board are the leaders of your church and in my legal opinion have been placed in legal jeopardy by the actions of your pastor and your willful consent thereto. Many of his libelous writings have been posted on the internet for all the world to read. Therefore, consider this a demand that you discuss the situation with your pastor and direct him to immediately cease all actions directed toward my clients. Should that not happen, the only remaining recourse for my clients is to file a lawsuit. As you know, lawsuits are costly both financially and emotionally for those individuals involved. The status quo, namely continued efforts by your pastor to undermine and defame my clients with the board members having full knowledge of his actions, will not be tolerated. It is time for the board to realize the jeopardy that exists and to direct the pastor to cease; otherwise the church and individual board members will be ensnared by the tentacles of the lawsuit.

Very truly yours,

D. Michael Riva

DMR:pys
Wp\ltr\abn10507

P.S. Should you need copies of the various e-mails, please let me know and I will send them to you.

[color=#000000]
I am shocked that this the manner that they are deciding to try and play this issue out. I think we should all write to the church being threatened and let them know we will stand with them.

To all the pro danny crowd this letter speaks volumes about the man you claim is so perfect.

Erik W.

Posted by: September Jan 25 2007, 10:40 PM

Okay, I'm no legal expert and can't even speak 'legalese' but that letter sounds like a 3rd grader wrote it! 3ABN is now really grasping at straws...it's not just the internet that has information about Tommy--it's his victems that are coming forward! Hello! Written proof? It's all there Mr. Riva!!

Off my soapbox...

Posted by: Fran Jan 25 2007, 10:51 PM

> QUOTE(erik @ Jan 25 2007, 10:31 PM) ☐
>
> January 5, 2007
>
> ***** *****
> Board of Community Church of God
> 2458 Gallows Road
> Dunn Loring, VA 22027
>
> Dear ******:
>
> Please be advised that I am one of the attorneys representing Tommy Shelton and Three Angels Broadcasting Network, Inc. The purpose of this letter is to: 1) advise the board of actions of its pastor Glenn Dryden; 2) to place the board and each individual member on notice that the actions of your pastor will not be tolerated any further; and 3) to inform the board and its individual members that all will be named as defendants in a lawsuit should the actions of your pastor continue.
>
> I am aware of the slander and libel that your pastor is engaged in and of his efforts to encourage others in attacking Tommy, Danny, and 3ABN. Such actions are far beneath the level of Christian behavior and are legally libelous. Your pastor has used the internet to spread scandalous allegations against my clients in an attempt to harm them personally and to affect the on-going ministry of 3ABN. My clients have exercised great restraint up to this moment as others so defamed would have already sought legal redress of the situation.
>
> Their patience is gone. Though they do not relish the thought of filing a lawsuit against the church, your pastor and all the members of the Board of Directors individually, that will be the next step. They have had enough.
>
> Let me be perfectly clear about this. You and the rest of the board are the leaders of your church and in my legal opinion have been placed in legal jeopardy by the actions of your pastor and your willful consent thereto. Many of his libelous writings have been posted on the internet for all the world to read. Therefore, consider this a demand that you discuss the situation with your pastor and direct him to immediately cease all actions directed toward my clients. Should that not happen, the > only remaining recourse for my clients is to file a lawsuit. As you know, lawsuits are costly both financially and emotionally for those individuals involved. The status quo, namely continued efforts by your pastor to undermine and defame my clients with the board members having full knowledge of his actions, will not be tolerated. It is time for the board to realize the jeopardy that exists and to direct the pastor to cease; otherwise the church and individual board members will be ensnared by the tentacles of the lawsuit.

>
> Very truly yours,
>
> D. Michael Riva
>
> DMR:pys
> Wp\ltr\abn10507
>
> P.S. Should you need copies of the various e-mails, please let me know and I will send them to you.
> [color=#000000]
> I am shocked that this the manner that they are deciding to try and play this issue out. I think we should all write to the church being threatened and let them know we will stand with them.
>
> To all the pro danny crowd this letter speaks volumes about the man you claim is so perfect.
>
> Erik W.

It is time for us to put our money where our mouths are. Someone needs to set up a legal fund for all these civil actions that are about to happen. Tell me where to send my few dollars. It isn't musch, but as Danny has shown us, those widows mites add up to millions.

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 25 2007, 10:52 PM

> QUOTE(September @ Jan 25 2007, 11:40 PM)
>
> Okay, I'm no legal expert and can't even speak 'legalese' but that letter sounds like a 3rd grader wrote it! 3ABN is now really grasping at straws...it's not just the internet that has information about Tommy--it's his victems that are coming forward! Hello! Written proof? It's all there Mr. Riva!!
>
> Off my soapbox...

I'll take your box for a moment, September...

ON BOX

There is no way that 3ABN or Tommy Shelton would want a court case opened. Too many questions...too many witnesses...oh...and the truth.

It sounds just like another letter to a pastor I read saying the same thing. I think it was dated 2005. Was there a court case that I missed.

OFF BOX

Posted by: erik Jan 25 2007, 10:55 PM

> QUOTE(Fran @ Jan 25 2007, 08:51 PM) ☐
>
> It is time for us to put our money where our mouths are. Someone needs to set up a legal fund for all these civil actions that are about to happen. Tell me where to send my few dollars. It isn't musch, but as Danny has shown us, those widows mites add up to millions.

Fran i agree if you hear of fund being set up i would love to know.

Erik

Posted by: Noahswife Jan 25 2007, 11:12 PM

Here is a link to the wikipedia entry for slander and libel fyi........

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Slander_and_libel

What other attorneys are representing Tommy?

Is 3ABN paying for Tommy's legal fees?

I know my head spins here sometimes as I try to keep the different threads and allegations and bits of information and the spins on what it means or could mean straight.

Has Glen Dryden written or said anything about 3ABN and Danny or just about Tommy's past? Is he doing anything more at the present than affirming what he said before?

Can anyone tell me if Mr. Riva is an Adventist or what his legal experience is? I wonder how many billable hours he charged for writing this letter!

I wonder if the Cult of Shelton will be happy to see their money going to defend Tommy.

Do you think the victims are getting similar letters threatening them?

nw

Posted by: no_cults Jan 25 2007, 11:12 PM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 25 2007, 11:52 PM) ☐
>
> I'll take your box for a moment, September...
>
> ON BOX

> There is no way that 3ABN or Tommy Shelton would want a court case opened. Too many questions...too many witnesses...oh...and the truth.
>
> It sounds just like another letter to a pastor I read saying the same thing. I think it was dated 2005. Was there a court case that I missed.
>
> OFF BOX

My guess is that the main purpose of this letter is to embarress the pastor.
For anyone who has been abused, their worst fear is that what happened to them will come out and people will blame them and not the perpetrator.

Shame, shame, shame, shame on Tommy and Danny and 3abn

Posted by: PaperTigers Jan 25 2007, 11:21 PM

It's amazing how someone trying to stand up for the truth and justice is being treated by this "lawyer."

Posted by: Fran Jan 25 2007, 11:56 PM

> QUOTE(no_cults @ Jan 25 2007, 11:12 PM)
>
> My guess is that the main purpose of this letter is to embarress the pastor.
> For anyone who has been abused, their worst fear is that what happened to > them will come out and people will blame them and not the perpetrator.
>
> Shame, shame, shame, shame on Tommy and Danny and 3abn

I can't help but wonder if this letter was written under duress. Surely, a competent lawyer would not have written this. Is it for real? Did the lawyer really write it? Did someone else use his name? This is a lawyer that is making some very poor decisions.

Hummmmmmmmmm. Something smells here.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 26 2007, 12:08 AM

> QUOTE(PaperTigers @ Jan 25 2007, 10:21 PM)
>
> It's amazing how someone trying to stand up for the truth and justice is being treated by this "lawyer."

Hersheys99 told us that you and your sister had first hand experience with the Shelton kind of tactics.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jan 26 2007, 12:13 AM

> QUOTE(no_cults @ Jan 25 2007, 11:12 PM)
>
> My guess is that the main purpose of this letter is to embarress the pastor.

The lawyer's letter says:

"It is time for the board to realize the jeopardy that exists and to direct the pastor to cease; otherwise the church and individual board members will be ensnared by the tentacles of the lawsuit."

Here's the screenplay:

Witness as one by one, "individual board members" find menacing tentacles ensnaring them. Only too late do they discover the jeopardy that exists.

Now showing at a theater near you. Parental Discretion Advised.

I'll bring the popcorn.

☒ p ☒ sna

Posted by: erik Jan 26 2007, 01:07 AM

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jan 25 2007, 10:13 PM)
>
> The lawyer's letter says:
>
> "It is time for the board to realize the jeopardy that exists and to direct the pastor to cease; otherwise the church and individual board members will be ensnared by the tentacles of the lawsuit."
>
> ---------------------------------------
>
> Here's the screenplay:
>
> Witness as one by one, "individual board members" find menacing tentacles ensnaring them. Only too late do they discover the jeopardy that exists.
>
> Now showing at a theater near you. Parental Discretion Advised.

> I'll bring the popcorn.

Iwill say this the same logic can and very well might be used in different direction against another board the 3ABN board that might even be the fair thing to happen, and some of those board members have very deep pockets, way deeper then 3abn's. In fact the church board that is being threaten here might just want to luach a counter strike and teach the high and mighty 3 abn board a sound and much needed lesson

erik w

Posted by: Bystander Jan 26 2007, 02:43 AM

> QUOTE(Fran @ Jan 25 2007, 11:56 PM)
>
> I can't help but wonder if this letter was written under duress. Surely, a competent lawyer would not have written this. Is it for real? Did the lawyer really write it? Did someone else use his name? This is a lawyer that is making some very poor decisions.
>
> Hummmmmmmmmm. Something smells here.

Yes it does. It smells like you are trying to stir up another pot of innuendo and contention. UNDER DURESS???? PLEASE.....

Posted by: Green Cochoa Jan 26 2007, 03:19 AM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 25 2007, 10:52 PM)
>
> I'll take your box for a moment, September...
>
> ON BOX
>
> There is no way that 3ABN or Tommy Shelton would want a court case opened. Too many questions...too many witnesses...oh...and the truth.
>
> It sounds just like another letter to a pastor I read saying the same thing. I think it was dated 2005. Was there a court case that I missed.
>
> OFF BOX

I am personally witness to just such a threat...excepting the manner of delivery. The results? Nada. Nothing happened. Pure bluff, I guess.

I, too, think it would open up more worms than 3ABN knew what to do with...and they'd squirm onto the scene so quickly as to soil a number of people along the way. Well, if they want a lawsuit, they can only be hoping that the "other side" is intimidated by the lawyer fees enough to back down ahead of a court case. Pure bluff. I doubt 3ABN would win. But you never know!

Posted by: Bystander Jan 26 2007, 03:33 AM

> QUOTE(Green Cochoa @ Jan 26 2007, 03:19 AM)
>
> I am personally witness to just such a threat...excepting the manner of delivery. The results? Nada. Nothing happened. Pure bluff, I guess.
>
> I, too, think it would open up more worms than 3ABN knew what to do with...and they'd squirm onto the scene so quickly as to soil a number of people along the way. Well, if they want a lawsuit, they can only be hoping that the "other side" is intimidated by the lawyer fees enough to back down ahead of a court case. Pure bluff. I doubt 3ABN would win. But you never know!

I agree...You never know

Posted by: Fran Jan 26 2007, 03:52 AM

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Jan 26 2007, 02:43 AM)
>
> Yes it does. It smells like you are trying to stir up another pot of innuendo and contention. UNDER DURESS???? PLEASE.....

Bystander;

Please continue. Every tome you post, your true self is shining through! Did you run out of people to send in to do damage control? You know how it is; if you want something done, and done right, you have to do it yourself!

Proceed, so we can glean all the clues you keep leaving behind. Be careful not to hang yourself in the process!

It seems to me that my contribution to this mess is documented facts from the IL vs. 3ABN Property Tax Lawsuit and the IRS 990's that 3ABN files each year.

Where are those missing assets?

Where was that $2.4+ Million that someone just "forgot" to post? By golly that was trust funds, Right?

What happened to all the rents/leases income that never got posted on any income statements? Could that income have been placed in the honey pot as discretionary spending funds?

How much did your house cost the donors? If you dare answer, remember to add in all those over-runs. Oh, I'm sorry. I forgot that those costs were distributed all over the place so they couldn't be traced back to the cost of the house.

Also, can you tell us the actual costs for your air transportation? I am sorry; I must have forgotten that those costs were spread all around too!

Tell me why 3ABN had over $14,000 of money belonging to other ministries right in the smack dab middle of 3ABN Income? It makes me wonder just exactly what the dollars amount would really be. Who got the shaft? Whose money was stolen from them? What ministry missed out on God's blessings to them? Only God knows.

In my opinion, I believe Danny Shelton feels he is entitled to that extra money because it is Danny that gets all those poor widows to give their 2 mites. It takes a lot of work to do all those Begathons. Danny is entitles to extra benefits; Right?

Linda now longer was able to fulfill his desired entitlements, so he has every right to dismiss his wife anytime he feels he is entitled to do so! Look how God has blessed him! God made special arrangements for Danny. He was entitled to them.

Danny is entitled to only loyal employees. He uses tests to see it they are true blue! Danny is entitled to this and if someone should think differently, Danny is entitles to dismiss them.

If they might cause problems for Danny, God has entitled Danny to destroy them! He has proof! Just look at how God has blessed him financially!

However, there is one entitlement that has not been completed! Linda is not on welfare and she is very happy in her new found freedom. Her life is great and has peace that passes understanding. She has peace, joy and love for her fellow man. She has forgiven Danny for all his destruction and is free indeed.

Danny can't stand this. That is why you are here, Bystander. You are here to continue to destroy that one entitlement for Danny. What a job description.

These threads have nothing to do with Linda what-so-ever! She is a non-issue. Only you and your crew even bring her up.

The issues are about Danny, Tommy Shelton, Brandi, Brenda, Shelly and DJ Quinn, John Lomacang, Kay Kuzma, Mollie & Hal Steenson, Larry Ewing, now CA Murray, Walt and the rest of the board.

Let us not forget the special donors. Keep talking; we are taking notes and saving your posts so they can be regurgitated at a later date.

> QUOTE(Green Cochoa @ Jan 26 2007, 03:19 AM) ☐
>
> I am personally witness to just such a threat...excepting the manner of delivery. The results? Nada. Nothing happened. Pure bluff, I guess.
>
> I, too, think it would open up more worms than 3ABN knew what to do with...and they'd squirm onto the scene so quickly as to soil a number of people along the way. Well, if they want a lawsuit, they can only be hoping that the "other side" is intimidated by the lawyer fees enough to back down ahead of a court case. Pure bluff. I doubt 3ABN would win. But you never know!

Maybe we should be proactive and sue Riva, 3ABN/ Danny and Tommy???

Posted by: Observer Jan 26 2007, 04:21 AM

> QUOTE(Noahswife @ Jan 25 2007, 10:12 PM) ☐
>
> Here is a link to the wikipedia entry for slander and libel fyi........
>
> http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Slander_and_libel
>
> What other attorneys are representing Tommy?
>
> Is 3ABN paying for Tommy's legal fees?
>
> I know my head spins here sometimes as I try to keep the different threads and allegations and bits of information and the spins on what it means or could mean straight.
>
> Has Glen Dryden written or said anything about 3ABN and Danny or just about Tommy's past? Is he doing anything more at the present than affirming what he said before?
>
> Can anyone tell me if Mr. Riva is an Adventist or what his legal experience is? I wonder how many billable hours he charged for writing this letter!
>
> I wonder if the Cult of Shelton will be happy to see their money going to defend Tommy.
>
> Do you think the victims are getting similar letters threatening them?
>
> nw

I read the letter from Mr. Riva, and I believe it was written by an attorney, and a Seventh-day Adventist.

Is is intended to bluff? Perhaps.

But, in my opinion, sooner or later, there will be cases of litigation. These 3-ABN issues are headed for the civil courts. Those courts are the only venue, in my opinion, that will resolve some of these questions.

Who will begin the litigation? I do not know. When will additional litigation begin? I do not know.

Frankly, I suspect that before this is all over ligation will have been started by people on several sides of the issues.

Why do we not have more litigation than has been started? Who knows. But, under the law, there are circumstances where defendants may have advantages over the plaintiff. This may be why some, on both sides, have stated that they wish for the other side to file.

Well, this will probably become more complicated with the passage of time.

Posted by: Snoopy Jan 26 2007, 10:40 AM

> QUOTE(Fran @ Jan 26 2007, 03:52 AM) ☐
>
> It seems to me that my contribution to this mess is documented facts from the IL vs. 3ABN Property Tax Lawsuit and the IRS 990's that 3ABN files each year.
>
> Where are those missing assets?
>
> Where was that $2.4+ Million that someone just "forgot" to post? By golly that was trust funds, Right?
>
> What happened to all the rents/leases income that never got posted on any income statements? Could that income have been placed in the honey pot as discretionary spending funds?
>
> How much did your house cost the donors? If you dare answer, remember to add in all those over-runs. Oh, I'm sorry. I forgot that those costs were distributed all over the place so they couldn't be traced back to the cost of the house.
>
> Also, can you tell us the actual costs for your air transportation? I am sorry; I must have forgotten that those costs were spread all around too!
>
> Tell me why 3ABN had over $14,000 of money belonging to other ministries right in the smack dab middle of 3ABN Income? It makes me wonder just exactly what the dollars amount would really be. Who got the shaft? Whose money was stolen from them? What ministry missed out on God's blessings to them? Only God knows.

Hi Fran,

This is very interesting. Do you have copies of the IRS 990s that have been filed? Are they public information? Are they posted somewhere? Is there any chance that book royalties to Danny and Shelley might compromise 3ABN's non-profit status? The more I read, the more questions I have!

Posted by: Fran Jan 26 2007, 11:50 AM

> QUOTE(Snoopy @ Jan 26 2007, 10:40 AM) ☐
>
> Hi Fran,
>
> This is very interesting. Do you have copies of the IRS 990s that have been filed? Are they public information? Are they posted somewhere? Is there any chance that book royalties to Danny and Shelley might compromise 3ABN's non-profit status? The more I read, the more questions I have!

Snoopy;

You can request them from the IRS. They are public documents. The attached notes are very revealing.

The IL vs. 3ABN Property Tax Lawsuit has a wealth of information from the auditors. My question would be, "How much did the auditors NOT find?"

Wikipedia defines GAAP - Generally Accepted Accounting Principal - as:

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/GAAP

The auditors found that 3ABN does not follow these principals. Every business should use these principals as a safe guard and a security measure. 3ABN is a corporation that has passed its 20th birthday. There is NO excuse for not following these guidelines.

NOT following GAAP should send up red flags for all to see.

Bystander,

Thank you for giving me this opportunity to bring up these pesky, giant problems. Our dialog has been very productive, don't you think?

Oh yes, I forgot to ask! Where did all the money go for all those assets that got sold? Let me think. Someone sold them for you! The money went to their account and then was transferred out to another bank account, right? Where did the transfer of funds stop? The Cayman Islands sound nice to me. Oh, I'm sorry. They didn't stop there for long either, did they?

I would imagine it was rough making sure all transfers were under $10,000. Otherwise the big boys would be looking over your shoulders. Does 3ABN have a recent volume of GAAP in their library? Is anyone reading? It would be good to have some Non-Profit books also.

GAAP

Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP) is the standard framework of guidelines for financial accounting. It includes the standards, conventions, and rules accountants follow in recording and summarizing transactions, and in the preparation of financial statements.

Overview
Financial accounting information must be assembled and reported objectively. Third-parties who must rely on such information have a right to be assured that the data are free from bias and inconsistency, whether deliberate or not. For this reason, financial accounting relies on certain standards or guides that are called "General Accepted Accounting Principles" (GAAP).

Principles also derive from tradition, such as the concept of matching. In any report of financial statements (audit, compilation, review, etc.), the preparer/auditor/CPA must indicate to the reader whether or not the information contained within the statements complies with GAAP.

Principle of regularity
Regularity can be defined as conformity to enforced rules and laws.

Principle of sincerity
According to this principle, the accounting unit should reflect in good faith the reality of the company's financial status.

Principle of the permanence of methods
This principle aims at allowing the coherence and comparison of the financial information published by the company.

Principle of non-compensation
One should show the full details of the financial information and not seek to compensate a debt with an asset, a revenue with an expense, etc.

Principle of prudence
This principle aims at showing the reality "as is" : one should not try to make things look prettier than they are. Typically, a revenue should be recorded only when it is certain and a provision should be entered for an expense which is probable.

Principle of continuity
When stating financial information, one should assume that the business will not be interrupted. This principle is mitigating the previous one about prudence: assets do not have to be accounted at their disposable value, but it is accepted that they are at their historical value (see depreciation).

Principle of periodicity
Each accounting entry should be allocated to a given period, and split accordingly if it covers several periods. If a client pre-pays a subscription (or lease, etc.), the given revenue should be split to the entire time-span and not counted for entirely on the date of the transaction

---

Posted by: Snoopy Jan 26 2007, 12:02 PM

> QUOTE(Fran @ Jan 26 2007, 11:50 AM) ☐
>
> Snoopy;
>
> You can request them from the IRS. They are public documents. The attached notes are very revealing.
>
> The IL vs. 3ABN Property Tax Lawsuit has a wealth of information from the auditors. My question would be, "How much did the auditors NOT find?"
>
> Wikipedia defines GAAP - Generally Accepted Accounting Principal - as:
>
> http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/GAAP
>
> The auditors found that 3ABN does not follow these principals. Every business should use these principals as a safe guard and a security measure. 3ABN is a corporation that has passed its 20th birthday. There is NO excuse for not following these guidelines.
>
> NOT following GAAP should send up red flags for all to see.
>
> Bystander,
>
> Thank you for giving me this opportunity to bring up these pesky, giant problems. Our dialog has been very productive, don't you think?
>
> Oh yes, I forgot to ask! Where did all the money go for all those assets that got sold? Let me think. Someone sold them for you! The money went to their account and then was transferred out to another bank account, right? Where did the transfer of funds stop? The Cayman Islands sound nice to me. Oh, I'm sorry. They didn't stop there for long either, did they?

> I would imagine it was rough making sure all transfers were under $10,000. Otherwise the big boys would be looking over your shoulders. Does 3ABN have a recent volume of GAAP in their library? Is anyone reading? It would be good to have some Non-Profit books also.
>
> GAAP
>
> Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP) is the standard framework of guidelines for financial accounting. It includes the standards, conventions, and rules accountants follow in recording and summarizing transactions, and in the preparation of financial statements.
>
> Overview
> Financial accounting information must be assembled and reported objectively. Third-parties who must rely on such information have a right to be assured that the data are free from bias and inconsistency, whether deliberate or not. For this reason, financial accounting relies on certain standards or guides that are called "General Accepted Accounting Principles" (GAAP).
>
> Principles also derive from tradition, such as the concept of matching. In any report of financial statements (audit, compilation, review, etc.), the preparer/auditor/CPA must indicate to the reader whether or not the information contained within the statements complies with GAAP.
> Principle of regularity
> Regularity can be defined as conformity to enforced rules and laws.
> Principle of sincerity
> According to this principle, the accounting unit should reflect in good faith the reality of the company's financial status.
> Principle of the permanence of methods
> This principle aims at allowing the coherence and comparison of the financial information published by the company.
> Principle of non-compensation
> One should show the full details of the financial information and not seek to compensate a debt with an asset, a revenue with an expense, etc.
> Principle of prudence
> This principle aims at showing the reality "as is" : one should not try to make things look prettier than they are. Typically, a revenue should be recorded only when it is certain and a provision should be entered for an expense which is probable.
> Principle of continuity
> When stating financial information, one should assume that the business will not be interrupted. This principle is mitigating the previous one about prudence: assets do not have to be accounted at their disposable value, but it is accepted that they are at their historical value (see depreciation).
> Principle of periodicity
> Each accounting entry should be allocated to a given period, and split accordingly if it covers several periods. If a client pre-pays a subscription (or lease, etc.), the given revenue should be split to the entire time-span and not counted for entirely on the date of the transaction

Hi Fran,
Sounds like you have an accounting background! Thanks for the info. I am still wondering about the auditors. How independent are they? Who selected them? And, I wonder who completes the Shelton income tax return? I'm no tax expert, but it sounds to me like a comparison of the 3ABN IRS Form 990 and the Shelton IRS Form 1040 might be interesting...
Thanks for the update,
Snoopy

Posted by: andithomas1 Jan 26 2007, 12:30 PM

You can get the 990 filed by 3ABN on "guidestar". It is a site that has all not for profit entities and the 990's they file. I didn't try to print their 990 but I know you can get them off that site. 990's are public information except for the listing of who donates to them-that is not public. The 990 doesn't really give enough detail-I would love to see their trial balance to determine what is really going on with the funds.

Posted by: wwjd Jan 26 2007, 12:54 PM

QUOTE FROM FRAN Oh yes, I forgot to ask! Where did all the money go for all those assets that got sold? Let me think. Someone sold them for you! The money went to their account and then was transferred out to another bank account, right? Where did the transfer of funds stop? The Cayman Islands sound nice to me. Oh, I'm sorry. They didn't stop there for long either, did they? I would imagine it was rough making sure all transfers were under $10,000. Otherwise the big boys would be looking over your shoulders. Does 3ABN have a recent volume of GAAP in their library? Is anyone reading? It would be good to have some Non-Profit books also.?

Fran, you have made some serious allegations in those 2 paragraphs. You have made up a ficticious story and put it down as if it were a fact. You, also, will be accountable to God and man for statements such as these. You said it all when you said WHAT DIDN'T THE AUDITORS FIND? That is desperation as that statement could be applied to any church, conference, ministry, orphanage, church school ect ect.....and means absolutely nothing except to show how badly you want to hurt that ministry.

Posted by: awesumtenor Jan 26 2007, 01:14 PM

> QUOTE(wwjd @ Jan 26 2007, 01:54 PM) ☐
>
> Fran, you have made some serious allegations in those 2 paragraphs. You have made up a ficticious story and put it down as if it were a fact. You, also, will be accountable to God and man for statements such as these. You said it all when you said WHAT DIDN'T THE AUDITORS FIND? That is desperation as that statement could be applied to any church, conference, ministry, orphanage, church school ect ect.....and means absolutely nothing except to show how badly you want to hurt that ministry.

She hasn't made up a story; she has asked questions... you, rather than answer said questions, choose rather to make up a story in an attempt to disparage Fran, in the hope of changing the subject.

I think if we were to look up "one-trick pony" your picture would be next to it...

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 26 2007, 02:20 PM

> QUOTE(Fran @ Jan 26 2007, 04:52 AM) ☐

> Maybe we should be proactive and sue Riva, 3ABN/ Danny and Tommy???

Can a lawyer in the house help me out here...

IF it can be proven that Dan knew that he had two sex offenders working with the children at the station, can the parents sue for something?

Posted by: Observer Jan 26 2007, 03:14 PM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 26 2007, 01:20 PM)
>
> Can a lawyer in the house help me out here...
>
> IF it can be proven that Dan knew that he had two sex offenders working with the children at the station, can the parents sue for something?

Yes, if there is an injury. No, I am not an attorney.

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 26 2007, 03:25 PM

> QUOTE(Observer @ Jan 26 2007, 04:14 PM)
>
> Yes, if there is an injury. No, I am not an attorney.

Okay, what about if a company hires a person they KNOW is a sex offender (registered) and allows them to work with children?

Posted by: andithomas1 Jan 26 2007, 03:32 PM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 26 2007, 03:25 PM)
>
> Okay, what about if a company hires a person they KNOW is a sex offender (registered) and allows them to work with children?

That makes the company libel if that sex offender is given access to children in the workplace and some thing happens to a child there. I am not a lawyer but I know that. It is also damaging to the image of that entity and most companies would not want this information made public epecially one that receives the bulk of its revenues from contributions. Preception is everything!

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 26 2007, 04:45 PM

> QUOTE(andithomas1 @ Jan 26 2007, 04:32 PM) ☐
>
> That makes the company libel if that sex offender is given access to children in the workplace and some thing happens to a child there. I am not a lawyer but I know that. It is also damaging to the image of that entity and most companies would not want this information made public epecially one that receives the bulk of its revenues from contributions. Preception is everything!

I understand if something happens to the child, but what about as far as the government is concerned. Aren't offenders put on some kind of limitation of being near children? If that's the case, then a company who hires an offender and knows they will be around children must be liable for putting the person and children in that position. Am I reading too much into this? It just seems there would be some restriction against companies doing this...

Posted by: Noahswife Jan 26 2007, 05:06 PM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 26 2007, 04:25 PM) ☐
>
> Okay, what about if a company hires a person they KNOW is a sex offender (registered) and allows them to work with children?

The mere fact that one is a lawyer does not mean one knows the answer that would apply. Different jurisdictions have different statutes that apply to registered sexual predators and new ones are being proposed every day. Individual convicted predators may also have different restrictions as part of their probation.

One would also want to distinguish between criminal and civil penalties.

Even if someone is not a convicted offender, I believe that if a child were the victim of abuse and the corporation should have known there was that possibility based on the abuser's history and did nothing to prevent it, the corporation would be liable.

IMO

nw

Posted by: princessdi Jan 26 2007, 05:11 PM

I am no lawyer either, but I know here in Cali, even the janitor at the school has to have a DOJ check becuase of past cases of abusers using that avenue to get access to children. Any company with any sense would dot he check, I believe it might be a $100 or less, if that perspective > employee was to be working with children.

Posted by: Observer Jan 26 2007, 05:18 PM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 26 2007, 02:25 PM)
>
> Okay, what about if a company hires a person they KNOW is a sex offender (registered) and allows them to work with children?

Yes, if there is a tort (injuiry). I do not have to be an attorney to know that.

No, if there is not tort.

Posted by: Noahswife Jan 26 2007, 05:33 PM

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Jan 26 2007, 06:11 PM)
>
> I am no lawyer either, but I know here in Cali, even the janitor at the school has to have a DOJ check becuase of past cases of abusers using that avenue to get access to children. Any company with any sense would dot he check, I believe it might be a $100 or less, if that perspective employee was to be working with children.

Any company with sense and any company receiving good legal advise on risk management would do it.

If I recall correctly we had a recent case here in the midwest that involved a local catholic parish. When abuse was discovered it was discovered the person doing the back ground checks for the parish was a previously convicted predator himself.

nw

Posted by: inga Jan 26 2007, 07:13 PM

> QUOTE(September @ Jan 25 2007, 11:40 PM)
>
> Okay, I'm no legal expert and can't even speak 'legalese' but that letter sounds like a 3rd grader wrote it!

Well ... maybe not a third-grader. But it is thoroughly unprofessional. It is clearly intended to intimidated. (That's actually the most cost-effective way to use a lawyer -- to intimidate one's opposition.)

Perhaps we should set up a fund or at least let the COG board know that we will do our mites to their defense fund, should it become necessary.

Posted by: Fran Jan 26 2007, 08:03 PM

> QUOTE(wwjd @ Jan 26 2007, 12:54 PM)
>
> QUOTE FROM FRAN Oh yes, I forgot to ask! Where did all the money go for all those assets that got sold? Let me think. Someone sold them for you! The money went to their account and then was transferred out to another bank account, right? Where did the transfer of funds stop? The Cayman Islands sound nice to me. Oh, I'm sorry. They didn't stop there for long either, did they?
>
> I would imagine it was rough making sure all transfers were under $10,000. Otherwise the big boys would be looking over your shoulders. Does 3ABN have a recent volume of GAAP in their library? Is anyone reading? It would be good to have some Non-Profit books also.?
>
> WWJD: Fran, you have made some serious allegations in those 2 paragraphs. You have made up a fictitious story and put it down as if it were a fact.
>
> Fran: I asked questions. You have no idea what information I have or do not have. Is this your threat to me, again? Sure sounds like it. What would you say if I told you I bought some of those assets and followed the money? Now notice here, again, I am asking a question!
>
> WWJD: You, also, will be accountable to God and man for statements such as these.
>
> Fran: Oh, yes, I realize this! That is why I have been screaming for ever how many years it has been.
>
> WWJD: You said it all when you said WHAT DIDN'T THE AUDITORS FIND?
>
> Fran: That is what auditors look for silly! That is why they trace things from source to death and then from death to origination. Give me a break!
>
> WWJD: That is desperation as that statement could be applied to any church, conference, ministry, orphanage, church school ect ect.....and means absolutely nothing except to show how badly you want to hurt that ministry.
>
> Fran: You are correct! And this should apply to them also. The problems lie in what is not in the Financial Statements. You know, it is those things that have to be put into the 990's through the notes. Corrections of $2.4 + million would be on the serious side in my opinion. This amount is relevant enough to raise red flags everywhere!

Thank you for your comments. If I remember it correctly, Jesus chased the money changers out of the temple. The comment can be applied to any entity that does not follow GAPP, has missing Assets, and multiple Bank Accounts assigned to family members instead of to the Non-Profit entity. This applies to all non-profit entities.

As I have repeatedly told you over the last 3 years, I have never met Linda or Danny. I have never spoken to either through the phone or mail. I have never been about the marriage. Ask your friend Greg. It is true.

I am not about trying to destroy a ministry. I am 100% about changing the way 3ABN does accounting. I am about making them deal with GAAP and to become transparent in their transactions with family and the ministry. I am about finding any/all of the fake Dummy corporations under Danny Shelton's control.

I am about seeing that every individual that gives a donation to 3ABN will be able to check and see where their money went! I am about stopping nepotism with in the entity.

I am about changing the policy and procedures that are not as the Employee Handbook claims. The Employee Handbook needs to be followed to the letter.

The IL vs. 3ABN is very clear as to just who handles the finances and Personnel of 3ABN. Danny Shelton did! If it had been Linda, I would be doing the same thing. Management at 3ABN is not competent. That is exhibited over and over in the lawsuit. Management did not think following GAAP was important.

Were the auditors independent? I will give that a 100% resounding "YES". Danny Shelton would have never allowed such an audit to be written! I say that with 99.9% probability that I am correct, that this audit was definitely independent. I surely wouldn't pay for that audit from auditors that I had hired.

Now as far as Linda is concerned, I do not believe she committed adultery in any way shape or form. I believe Danny has an obsession with Linda. His hatred far exceeds his common sense! Just saying the name "Linda" must makes the hair on his back stand up!

He nails her to the cross every time he gets the chance. It has been a very stupid tactic. It has worked against everything he has tried to do.

By the way, I am not in a Linda camp. I don't think I am worthy to pass her test of me. I am here so 3ABN can be used as God has intended from the beginning.

God does not want alleged child molesters any where near the 3ABN Ministry. God does not want alleged adulterers in high positions at 3ABN. God wants to see accountability in the use of funds in His store house. God wants moral individuals to represent Him to the world.

Why does everyone think 3ABN would die without Danny? No way! Everyone is replaceable, yes, even you and me! 3ABN may have a few hic-cups, but the show would go on! They may have to take a few months to revamp the accounting processes.

The first change would have to do with cash control. The CEO of any entity should never touch cash money! They alone should not have signature authority. Checks need 2 signatures.

Man, look what you have gone and done! I will turn you back to regualrly scheduled programming. Surely you get the points I have stated.

Posted by: Fran Jan 27 2007, 12:03 AM

Hey, WWJD;

Where did you go? I'm waiting for a eresponse.

We also need to keep all this financial stuff up front for the "members in the pews" to read and understand!

You just want this to go away? It won't. It is in legal documents!

Posted by: Hawk Jan 27 2007, 12:58 AM

☒ Fran, my hero! ☒

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 27 2007, 10:59 AM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 26 2007, 02:25 PM) ☐
>
> Okay, what about if a company hires a person they KNOW is a sex offender (registered) and allows them to work with children?

HOTY, when you first brought up the fact that Herb Grimm and Bill Cochran were registered sex offenders who work/worked at 3abn I neglected to ask what I think are some important questions:

Was it common knowledge that these two men were registered sex offenders?

Did the producers of the children's programming know they were registered sex offenders?

Were all parents advised that both were registered sex offenders so they could have this important information in order to make proper decisions about having their children around them?

Or, were they allowed around children without any accountability while those in charge crossed their fingers, held their breath and hoped nothing bad would happen?

Posted by: Fran Jan 27 2007, 04:33 PM

WWJD;

Bump just for you.

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 27 2007, 05:03 PM

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Jan 27 2007, 11:59 AM) ☐
>
> HOTY, when you first brought up the fact that Herb Grimm and Bill Cochran were registered sex offenders who work/worked at 3abn I neglected to ask what I think are some important questions:
>
> Was it common knowledge that these two men were registered sex offenders?
>
> Did the producers of the children's programming know they were registered sex offenders?
>
> Were all parents advised that both were registered sex offenders so they could have this important information in order to make proper decisions about having their children around them?
>
> Or, were they allowed around children without any accountability while those in charge crossed their fingers, held their breath and hoped nothing bad would happen?

Well, I can't say what people knew, obviously. Dan Shelton and Brenda Walsh are the "Executive Producer" and "Producer" of Kids Time, respectively.

The offenders could have lied on their application about being convicted of a felony, I don't know. I don't know if background checks are done on anyone. It seems to me that Bill Cochrans was brought into 3ABN by a Shelton relative, but please don't quote me on that. Perhaps someone has more info.

To my knowledge, the parents, children, production staff were not told. So, the answer to the last question would be "yes."

Posted by: Bystander Jan 27 2007, 05:32 PM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 27 2007, 04:03 PM)
>
> Well, I can't say what people knew, obviously. Dan Shelton and Brenda Walsh are the "Executive Producer" and "Producer" of Kids Time, respectively.
>
> The offenders could have lied on their application about being convicted of a felony, I don't know. I don't know if background checks are done on anyone. It seems to me that Bill Cochrans was brought into 3ABN by a Shelton relative, but please don't quote me on that. Perhaps someone has more info.
>
> To my knowledge, the parents, children, production staff were not told. So, the answer to the last question would be "yes."

When I saw that you posted this sometime ago, I looked into it. Here is what I found out.
Herb Grimm was never an "employee" he was a construction subcontractor. Hardly a position to be around children. I am not clear on this but I believe that when he moved to southern Illinois with his family that he was not a convicted molester. Those charges were brought (if I understood correctly) by his wife during seperation and divorce and obviously was convicted of whatever charges were brought against him.
The story on Bill C only takes a few phone calls to the right officials. 10 or 12 years ago in a town in Southern Illinois Bill was a teacher in upper high school grades or lower college grades (wasn't clear on that) He made the huge mistake of having an affair with a female student. (Not a child or even a young student). Her parents found out and pressed charges.
It was not a Shelton (even though they are getting blamed for everything) that brought him to 3 Angels but another worker that was friends with Bill. The worker explained the whole situation to management and said that incident was in the past, Bill had paid for it, was sorry for it and had turned his life around and just wanted a chance. Administration then called the sheriff off the town that he was convicted in and got a glowing report. Said it was a bad decision but the situation had been consenting that he was not a (child molester) in any sense of the word and he (the sheriff) would appreciate 3ANGELS giving him a chance. Now to me, when the sheriff that handled the case says that, that says it all. On the sheriffs recommendation and that of the 3ABN employee Bill was indeed given a second chance. By all accounts, he has made a dependable, respectful and hard working employee. For those of you that have seen his picture on the Offenders website, you can see he is not a spring chicken. I, therefore, commend 3ABN for giving him a chance. That should be what all ministries are about.
For those who do not believe this, get the info off of the offenders website and make your own phonecalls to verify this.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 27 2007, 06:03 PM

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Jan 27 2007, 04:32 PM)
>
> When I saw that you posted this sometime ago, I looked into it. Here is what I found out.
> Herb Grimm was never an "employee" he was a construction subcontractor. Hardly a position to be around children. I am not clear on this but I believe that when he moved to southern Illinois with his family that he was not a convicted molester. Those charges were brought (if I understood correctly) by his wife during seperation and divorce and obviously was convicted of whatever charges were brought against him.
> The story on Bill C only takes a few phone calls to the right officials. 10 or 12 years ago in a town in Southern Illinois Bill was a teacher in upper high school grades or lower college grades (wasn't clear on that) He made the huge mistake of having an affair with a female student. (Not a child or even a young student). Her parents found out and pressed charges.
> It was not a Shelton (even though they are getting blamed for everything) that brought him to 3 Angels but another worker that was friends with Bill. The worker explained the whole situation to management and said that incident was in the past, Bill had paid for it, was sorry for it and had turned his life around and just wanted a chance. Administration then called the sheriff off the town that he was convicted in and got a glowing report. Said it was a bad decision but the situation had been consenting that he was not a (child molester) in any sense of the word and he (the sheriff) would appreciate 3ANGELS giving him a chance. Now to me, when the sheriff that handled the case says that, that says it all. On the sheriffs recommendation and that of the 3ABN employee Bill was indeed given a second chance. By all accounts, he has made a dependable, respectful and hard working employee. For those of you that have seen his picture on the Offenders website, you can see he is not a spring chicken. I, therefore, commend 3ABN for giving him a chance. That should be what all ministries are about.
> For those who do not believe this, get the info off of the offenders website and make your own phonecalls to verify this.

The web site says his crimes were aggravated criminal sex abuse/victim 13 - 18 and that the victim was under the age of 18. While this young woman may have felt that the situation was consenting, a young person under the age of 18 does not have mature judgement and can be easily swayed by a person in a position of trust like a teacher or a pastor. I can say with near certainty that, as this young lady matures, she will have a much different view of the situation and will feel betrayed by a person she trusted.

I am not saying that he should not be given a chance, far from that, but those he is working around need to be made aware of his past so that they can help him with his accountability.

PB

Posted by: Bystander Jan 27 2007, 06:31 PM

> QUOTE(Fran @ Jan 26 2007, 11:03 PM)
>
> Hey, WWJD;
>
> Where did you go? I'm waiting for a eresponse.
>
> We also need to keep all this financial stuff up front for the "members in the pews" to read and understand!

> You just want this to go away? It won't. It is in legal documents!

You are constantly talking about generalized legal documents. Not necessarily 3ABN's documents. You are extremely misleading when you say "what if you had purchased assets and followed them. " That plants a huge ugly seed in people's mind. But, for those "with it" enough to see the venom that drips off of your collection of posts, they will come to this conclusion: That if you had such evidence you would not be sitting on it. You would have hit the door of the 3abn ministry with storm troopers in tow. Again, that shows me, that this was just one of many dishonest scenerios painted by you as if they were fact. Your if, ands, and buts, are killers. You say God put you here to help expose all of the errant ways of the 3ABN financial department then why aren't you there. Being on this little website won't accomplish anything. If you have the credentials to teach their accounting office then go there and do so. For myself and many others listening to the credentials of the chief financial officer on the 3ABN live a week ago is enough for me. He worked for years for the Waterhouse investing firm, one of the biggest in the world, as well as several other esteemed financial institutions. By reports from those who know him personally, he is viewed as a wonderful and sincere christian with the utmost integrity. Those that know he and his family closely say he would never ever do anything dishonest or underhanded in any way.
Now, you start out that the divorce is not what you are about. That Danny or Linda is not what you are about. Then you make a statement that you would not be counted "worthy" to pass Linda's test? Fran my my. That statement is so obviously "hero worship" that it should be the definition placed in Webster's dictionary.
I also noticed in a previous post by you (if I am incorrect just tell me) where you made the statement that Goldie is not here to save them now. Or something to that affect. I assume you meant by "Goldie" that you were referring to the Shelton's mother. If so, What did you mean by save them. What authority or power did she hold that she could "save them, or anyone?" just curious.

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Jan 27 2007, 05:03 PM)
>
> The web site says his crimes were aggravated criminal sex abuse/victim 13 - 18 and that the victim was under the age of 18. While this young woman may have felt that the situation was consenting, a young person under the age of 18 does not have mature judgement and can be easily swayed by a person in a position of trust like a teacher or a pastor. I can say with near certainty that, as this young lady matures, she will have a much different view of the situation and will feel betrayed by a person she trusted.
>
> I am not saying that he should not be given a chance, far from that, but those he is working around need to be made aware of his past so that they can help him with his accountability.
>
> PB

I agree with your opinion of what the girl thought later. It has been 10 or 12 years and I am sure she already does. I might disagree about informing the people that work around him for this reason.. it was quite some time ago, I believe he went through counseling as part of his rehabilitation and most of all because this was a one time incident and has never happened again. Just a matter of opinion I guess. But the release of this info from hoty was to imply that 3abn is lax in who they hire while I wholeheartedly agree It was good of them to give him a chance.

Posted by: NormF Jan 27 2007, 07:52 PM

Long ago, even back into prehistoric times (otherwise known as the years before 2004), Danny made it abundantly clear to his enemies that he was funded by the deepest pockets in Adventdom (also known as Garwin McNeilus) and that GM was only too happy to underwrite legal costs too, no matter how long they might drag out or how costly they became. Over time, that list of persons came to include Linda, Derrell, and others. Danny has repeatedly used such threats; there is a consistent pattern. When things get too hot for him, if the person currently in his sights isn't dancing to his tune, he has assured them he will sue them for every penny they have. Has he done that, actually taken legal action? Yes and no, though for our purposes here, the specific, nuanced answer doesn't matter. What matters is the pattern of threats.

Obviously, ordinary people cannot win megabuck battles. Danny made it clear to those he threatened thus that it didn't matter to him whether he won or not; bankrupting them would serve him just as well as winning in court. I'll not speak to his success rate in this note, except to say it depends on how you define success (and ethics and morality) ... and how far down the road you are looking. I'd like to believe that in the end however, the truth will out, despite the course so far.

The reason for glancing at history this way is to better assess where things stand today. This present threat to this pastor is another page out of the same play book, clearly meant by its deliverer to serve the same ends.

As for the literary/legal quality of the letter, either the guy is a dolt as a lawyer, or to put his best spin on it, he has completely removed his lawyer's cap before sitting down to write. Of course, as a piece of intimidation, it's quite a lu-lu. One could hardly get more obvious, or belligerent. In other words, completely consistent with the play book.

Now then, will Danny actually have him go forward with such a suit? Hard to say. As erratic and unstable as he's becoming of late (and those surrounding him as well it appears) and as deeply as he has dug himself into the hole he is in, who can say? Anything is possible at this point.

Personally, I do not think this particular world will follow T.S. Eliot's pattern: "Not with a bang but whimper." ... although, for what it's worth, there is also such a thing as a whimpering bang. This one (the 3ABN affair) is, in my view, not likely to go quietly into that dark night.

Hope for the best, expect the worst.

Regards,
Norm

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 27 2007, 07:57 PM

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Jan 27 2007, 07:31 PM) ☐
>
> I agree with your opinion of what the girl thought later. It has been 10 or 12 years and I am sure she already does. I might disagree about informing the people that work around him for this reason.. it was quite some time ago, I believe he went through counseling as part of his rehabilitation and most of all because this was a one time incident and has never happened again. Just a matter of opinion I guess. But the release of this info from hoty was to imply that 3abn is lax in who they hire while I wholeheartedly agree It was good of them to give him a chance.

Okay, now you really cannot believe this stuff, right? Oh my, well what can I say?

Let's start with, yes I do believe that ministries and people should accept that people can be delivered from their sins. Absolutely. However, I do not think it wise to hire a known sex offender for a position in the Production Department where there are children. That seems like common sense.

I said at the beginning of this that I did not know the circumstances in Bill's case, but I can say that you don't get slapped with "aggravated" anything unless it was either unwanted or forced. I don't believe it was a romantic liaison gone bad.

Since you know the story, I have some questions...

1. Exactly how many convictions would have made the light bulb to turn on?
2. As you admit that 3ABN knew Bill was a sex offender, where was the memo to the staff and parents who brought there children into the station telling them of this?
3. Wasn't Bill brought into 3ABN by J. Yeager, Dan's son-in-law? Doesn't that make him a Shelton family member (you know, the "ones being blamed for everything?")
4. What is the difference in being an "employee" who is at the station everyday around children and a "contract worker" at the station everyday around children?

Posted by: inga Jan 27 2007, 09:04 PM

> QUOTE(NormF @ Jan 27 2007, 08:52 PM) ☐
>
> Long ago, even back into prehistoric times (otherwise known as the years before 2004), Danny made it abundantly clear to his enemies that he was funded by the deepest pockets in Adventdom (also known as Garwin McNeilus) and that GM was only too happy to underwrite legal costs too, no matter how long they might drag out or how costly they became.

Norm, thanks for reminding us of the McNeilus-3ABN connection. Since McNeilus is also the major force behind ASI, it really makes it laughable to hold ASI up as an "objective" organization to review the ethics of Dan Shelton and 3ABN.

As for the legal threats, you've said it well ...

(Good to hear from you again!)

Posted by: Snoopy Jan 27 2007, 09:07 PM

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Jan 27 2007, 05:32 PM) ☐

When I saw that you posted this sometime ago, I looked into it. Here is what I found out.

Hhhmm... - you just "looked into it" which implies to me that any joe or susie could "look into it" just like you did...apparently all of this is public information...so maybe you could help me out with who I should contact to verify the following:

"Herb Grimm was never an "employee" he was a construction subcontractor."

I guess that depends on how he was paid - would it be someone in accounting who would veryify that? Is that actually public information?

"The story on Bill C only takes a few phone calls to the right officials. 10 or 12 years ago in a town in Southern Illinois Bill was a teacher in upper high school grades or lower college grades (wasn't clear on that) He made the huge mistake of having an affair with a female student. (Not a child or even a young student). Her parents found out and pressed charges."

Yup - that would be public info.

"It was not a Shelton (even though they are getting blamed for everything) that brought him to 3 Angels but another worker that was friends with Bill. The worker explained the whole situation to management and said that incident was in the past, Bill had paid for it, was sorry for it and had turned his life around and just wanted a chance. Administration then called the sheriff off the town that he was convicted in and got a glowing report. Said it was a bad decision but the situation had been consenting that he was not a (child molester) in any sense of the word and he (the sheriff) would appreciate 3ANGELS giving him a chance. Now to me, when the sheriff that handled the case says that, that says it all."

WOW - that does NOT sound like public information. Whom might I contact to confirm that? Someone in 3ABN management, or on the 3ABN board? Oh - by the way - respectfully, how do YOU know all this???

"On the sheriffs recommendation and that of the 3ABN employee Bill was indeed given a second chance. By all accounts, (whose???) he has made a dependable, respectful and hard working employee. For those of you that have seen his picture on the Offenders website, you can see he is not a spring chicken. I, therefore, commend 3ABN for giving him a chance. That should be what all ministries are about."

Praise the Lord!!!

"For those who do not believe this, get the info off of the offenders website and make your own phonecalls to verify this."

I would really like to do just that. But I need your help. Please let me know who might confirm the employee (W-2)/contractor (1099) status of Herb Grimm and who to call to confirm the actions of 3ABN administration.

Best regards to you!!

Snoopy

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 27 2007, 09:25 PM

Yes, indeed, how do you know these things? I don't think it was published in the T'ville Gazette.

Posted by: ex3ABNemployee Jan 27 2007, 09:34 PM

QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 27 2007, 09:25 PM) ☐

> Yes, indeed, how do you know these things? I don't think it was published in the T'ville Gazette.

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 27 2007, 09:50 PM

Bystander, you said that this girl that Bill had the "affair" with wasn't "a child or even a young student. Her parents found out and pressed charges."

In order for them to do this, wouldn't the girl have had to be under 18, a minor, a child, you know -- young? Just checking...

Posted by: Aletheia Jan 27 2007, 10:02 PM

> QUOTE(Fran @ Jan 26 2007, 12:56 AM)
>
> I can't help but wonder if this letter was written under duress. Surely, a competent lawyer would not have written this. Is it for real? Did the lawyer really write it? Did someone else use his name? This is a lawyer that is making some very poor decisions.
>
> Hummmmmmmmmm. Something smells here.

Did you ever for even one second ask these type of questions about the letters posted by Bob Pickle?

Did you question their authenticity or how we could know they were for real, if so where on these forums or even off did you do that?

What is the difference between letters you accept and ones you think smell??

Just wondering?

Posted by: ex3ABNemployee Jan 27 2007, 10:06 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 27 2007, 10:02 PM)
>
> Did you ever for even one second ask these type of questions about the letters posted by Bob Pickle?
>
> Did you question their authenticity or how we could know they were for real, if so where on these forums or even off did you do that?
>
> What is the difference between letters you accept and ones you think smell??
>
> Just wondering?

I can assure you my letter is, unfortunately, very real.

Duane Clem

Posted by: lookin4truth Jan 27 2007, 10:06 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 27 2007, 11:02 PM) ☐
>
> Did you ever for even one second ask these type of questions about the letters posted by Bob Pickle?
>
> Did you question their authenticity or how we could know they were for real, if so where on these forums or even off did you do that?
>
> What is the difference between letters you accept and ones you think smell??
>
> Just wondering?

Duane Clem has acknowledged who he is, and verified what he said. Brad Dunning left his website, so all could see, and contact him. Scott Clem and Roger Clem allowed their names to be posted.

I would say that is pretty good proof.

Posted by: Aletheia Jan 27 2007, 10:22 PM

> QUOTE(Fran @ Jan 27 2007, 01:03 AM) ☐
>
> Hey, WWJD;
>
> Where did you go? I'm waiting for a eresponse.
>
> We also need to keep all this financial stuff up front for the "members in the pews" to read and understand!
>
> You just want this to go away? It won't. It is in legal documents!

That "members in the pews" statement shows your ignorance.

Donations aren't stocks, and church members aren't stockholders, as 3ABN is a ministry and not for profit. You have yet to prove how the accountant at 3ABN, and the auditors are all diots compared to you, how you have more information then they have, or how 3ABN does not have a check and balance system, and has at present no accountability.

They don't have to legally reveal all to the public, but they do have to legally reveal it to those who matter.

Your personal interpretation and opinion of their findings. is just that your personal findings and opinions.

> QUOTE(lookin4truth @ Jan 27 2007, 11:06 PM)
>
> Duane Clem has acknowledged who he is, and verified what he said. Brad Dunning left his website, so all could see, and contact him. Scott Clem and Roger Clem allowed their names to be posted.
>
> I would say that is pretty good proof.

You apparently are confused about the difference between evidence and proven facts.
Evidence can be rebutted and shown or proven false. That's why the accused has a right to face his accusers, and witnesses have to identify themselves and are closely questioned. Brad Dunning claims he went to the police years ago, and they investigated and didn't press any charges...

Posted by: erik Jan 27 2007, 10:23 PM

forum,

pardon my lack of knowledge but who is mr. McNeilus, i take it he is well to do.

erik W.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jan 27 2007, 10:24 PM

> QUOTE(Fran @ Jan 26 2007, 01:56 AM)
>
> I can't help but wonder if this letter was written under duress. Surely, a competent lawyer would not have written this. Is it for real? Did the lawyer really write it? Did someone else use his name? This is a lawyer that is making some very poor decisions.
>
> Hummmmmmmmmm. Something smells here.

I did a search of his name and "lawyer"....and it appears that he has worked for 3ABN before...on another case...

Posted by: September Jan 27 2007, 10:28 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 27 2007, 11:22 PM)
>
> . Brad Dunning claims he went to the police years ago, and they investigated and didn't press any charges...

I wrote in another post about what my FIL did to me and to several others...one person did go to the police but no charges were pressed. That does not mean that those actions didn't happen. Since FIL was what they call "A man about town", let's just say the police were on his side.

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 27 2007, 10:29 PM

> QUOTE(erik @ Jan 27 2007, 08:23 PM)
>
> forum,
> pardon my lack of knowledge but who is mr. McNeilus, i take it he is well to do.
>
> erik W.

Erik,
Good question, and maybe a good time to bring this up again.
First of all, you can do a search here at BSDA and find info on him in other threads.
Also, you can do a google search on him as well, and see pictures and probably some nice-ities about him as well. I would encourage you to do some research of our own so you can claim you did this and none of us just spoon fed you information.
Then, there are many here who can also give you added information.
I will tell you he owns a (now sold I believe) a cement company in Minnisota, that brought in mega bucks, which he has given ample to the church (Mission I believe) and also a staunch supporter of Danny (not Linda) and 3abn. He has been allowed "pull" as he has money to withdraw if you don't go along with his preferences in things. Like a lot of people with money who give it away, there are some strings attached. Some not so good strings (power).

Posted by: franklyamazed Jan 27 2007, 10:31 PM

Ok, Alethia... The "members in the pews", including my mom, my aunt, and other people that send in monthly checks, people that that will large portions of their assets to 3ABN and execute trust agreements with them need to be aware that there are at least some serious questions based on the publicly available information about 3ABN finances. This information includes erroneous court filings, documents that fail to state income, etc.

No, they are not stock holders or anything like that, but they may be suckers - additional victims if you please. A truly Christian organization should not need to hide behind legalistic interpretations to avoid truth or at least obscure it.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jan 27 2007, 10:32 PM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 26 2007, 06:45 PM)
>
> I understand if something happens to the child, but what about as far as the government is concerned. Aren't offenders put on some kind of limitation of being near children? If that's the case, then a company who hires an offender and knows they will be around children must be liable for putting the person and children in that position. Am I reading too much into this? It just seems > there would be some restriction against companies doing this...

Sex offenders are not supposed to work in any area where children are present.

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 27 2007, 10:34 PM

> QUOTE(franklyamazed @ Jan 27 2007, 08:31 PM)
>
> Ok, Alethia... The "members in the pews", including my mom, my aunt, and other people that send in monthly checks, people that that will large portions of their assets to 3ABN and execute trust agreements with them need to be aware that there are at least some serious questions based on the publicly available information about 3ABN finances. This information includes erroneous court filings, documents that fail to state income, etc.
>
> No, they are not stock holders or anything like that, but they may be suckers - additional victims if you please. A truly Christian organization should not need to hide behind legalistic interpretations to avoid truth or at least obscure it.

I would encourage them to get their money back out (as far as wills/trusts/assets left to 3abn). And for monthly checks, send to HOPE channel. Good ministry!!

Posted by: Aletheia Jan 27 2007, 10:36 PM

> QUOTE(September @ Jan 27 2007, 11:28 PM)
>
> I wrote in another post about what my FIL did to me and to several others...one person did go to the police but no charges were pressed. That does not mean that those actions didn't happen. Since FIL was what they call "A man about town", let's just say the police were on his side.

I am very sorry for that, and while that may be true, it doesn't mean that was the case in West frankfort, or that the incident with Mr Dunning did happen as is claimed...

Posted by: ex3ABNemployee Jan 27 2007, 10:38 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 27 2007, 10:36 PM)
>
> That may be true true, but it also doesn't mean ithe incident with Mr Dunning did happen...

Do you believe my statement?

Posted by: lookin4truth Jan 27 2007, 10:41 PM

> QUOTE
>
> You apparently are confused about the difference between evidence and proven facts.
> Evidence can be rebutted and shown or proven false. That's why the accused has a right to face his accusers, and witnesses have to identify themselves and are closely questioned. Brad Dunning claims he went to the police years ago, and they investigated and didn't press any charges..

I am not the least bit confused about Tommy Shelton. And I am seeing you more clearly all the time. When I first starting reading your posts, and all the questions you brought out, I thought you were honestly looking for answers. But over time, it has become very clear that you are doing nothing more than denying the facts you say are not there.

I know you will have some witty and oh so intelligent response. Don't bother. If I might take the liberty of quoting Clay

"...tiresome you are"

Posted by: Aletheia Jan 27 2007, 10:48 PM

> QUOTE(franklyamazed @ Jan 27 2007, 11:31 PM) ☐
>
> Ok, Alethia... The "members in the pews", including my mom, my aunt, and other people that send in monthly checks, people that that will large portions of their assets to 3ABN and execute trust agreements with them need to be aware that there are at least some serious questions based on the publicly available information about 3ABN finances. This information includes erroneous court filings, documents that fail to state income, etc.
>
> No, they are not stock holders or anything like that, but they may be suckers - additional victims if you please. A truly Christian organization should not need to hide behind legalistic interpretations to avoid truth or at least obscure it.

"may be suckers" and "may not be suckers"....

If what is claimed here is true, then 3ABN is acting criminally, and IF that is proven and they are charged, and found guilty, then those people you talk about will probably see the need to do as you say.

But to warn with evil surmisings, gossip and slander, and unproven accusations? That is not of God. We are never called to issue those kind of warnings.

Posted by: ex3ABNemployee Jan 27 2007, 10:49 PM

Boy, it's amazing how quiet some people get when asked a direct question.

Brad Dunning's statement revealed details I didn't know about until I read it here. According to Brad, he was told the EXACT same thing by Tommy that I was about his "medical condition." Brad and I have not talked since he left the Ezra school. If he's lying, that was still a pretty good trick to know the exact wording that was told to me, even though he hadn't asked me about it.

But then again, why deal with the facts?

Posted by: Clay Jan 27 2007, 10:52 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 27 2007, 10:22 PM)
>
> That "members in the pews" statement shows your ignorance.
>
> Donations aren't stocks, and church members aren't stockholders, as 3ABN is a ministry and not for profit. You have yet to prove how the accountant at 3ABN, and the auditors are all diots compared to you, how you have more information then they have, or how 3ABN does not have a check and balance system, and has at present no accountability.
>
> They don't have to legally reveal all to the public, but they do have to legally reveal it to those who matter.
>
> Your personal interpretation and opinion of their findings. is just that your personal findings and opinions.
> You apparently are confused about the difference between evidence and proven facts.
> Evidence can be rebutted and shown or proven false. That's why the accused has a right to face his accusers, and witnesses have to identify themselves and are closely questioned. Brad Dunning claims he went to the police years ago, and they investigated and didn't press any charges...

you have the nerve to suggest that someone is ignorant? While you might have been blessed with a brain, it is clear that it has not been used in some time...the content of your posts is nothing more than hot air looking for a place to escape..... lucky for you that bsda allows everyone to be heard no matter how ludicrous they are, or clueless they might be...

you remain tiresome.... totally...

Posted by: Aletheia Jan 27 2007, 10:52 PM

> QUOTE(lookin4truth @ Jan 27 2007, 11:41 PM)
>
> I am not the least bit confused about Tommy Shelton. And I am seeing you more clearly all the time. When I first starting reading your posts, and all the questions you brought out, I thought you were honestly looking for answers. But over time, it has become very clear that you are doing nothing more than denying the facts you say are not there.
>
> I know you will have some witty and oh so intelligent response. Don't bother. If I might take the liberty of quoting Clay
>
> "...tiresome you are"

Well dude, that's because not finding answers here, I have tried to verify for myself (off this board) what has been posted here and am having some difficulty doing so. Have you bothered to do that, or is that tiresome also?

Posted by: Clay Jan 27 2007, 10:55 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 27 2007, 10:52 PM) ☐
>
> Well dude, that's because not finding answers here, I have tried to verify for myself what has been posted here and am having some difficulty doing so. Have you bothered to do that, or is that tiresome also?

you are having difficulty because in the words of my mother, "you don't have the mind of a duck...." Yet you continue to badger people who do have the info..... why are you here again? Oh that's right, you are a Danny apologist.... can't refute the message but maybe you can distract people from it....

totally tiresome... you are....

Posted by: lookin4truth Jan 27 2007, 11:00 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 27 2007, 11:52 PM) ☐
>
> Well dude, that's because not finding answers here, I have tried to verify for myself (off this board) what has been posted here and am having some difficulty doing so. Have you bothered to do that, or is that tiresome also?

Have you really tried to verify? Have you contacted Scott Clem? Roger Clem? Duane Clem? Brad Dunning?

I am sure it would not be to hard to do that. Duane is on this board all the time. Why don't you PM him and talk to him? Brad Dunning's contact info is on the web site. Why don't you ask him if the letter is real?

You go about saying you are verifying. If I remember correctly, it was you who said the title would not show void on it. It took me all of two minutes to find the documentation to prove that when copied, it would.

As I said, at first I thought you were truly seeking the facts.

Posted by: Aletheia Jan 27 2007, 11:02 PM

QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 27 2007, 10:36 PM)

That may be true true, but it also doesn't mean ithe incident with Mr Dunning did happen...

> QUOTE(ex3ABNemployee @ Jan 27 2007, 11:38 PM) ☐

> Do you believe my statement?

I'm sorry, I don't know what statement you made, other then your login name.

You are a ex-3Abn employee from the church of God? and went to work with someone you are accusing of child abuse and the people you claim are covering for him? That seems weird, but I am listening.
What is your statement?

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 27 2007, 11:03 PM

> QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jan 27 2007, 11:32 PM)
>
> Sex offenders are not supposed to work in any area where children are present.

But organizations hire them to work with children anyway. Any info on if they have a right to do that...legally. Since Bystander has already said, 3ABN knew Bill was a sex offender but hired him anyway because it was "only once" and he had repented...

Posted by: Clay Jan 27 2007, 11:04 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 27 2007, 11:02 PM)
>
> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 27 2007, 10:36 PM)
>
> That may be true true, but it also doesn't mean ithe incident with Mr Dunning did happen...
> I'm sorry, I don't know what staement you made, other then your login name.
>
> You are a ex-3Abn employee from the church of God? and went to work with someone you are accusing of child abuse and the people you claim are covering for him? That seems weird, but I am listening.
> What is your staement?

this comment proves it... you have not been paying attention... nor have you been seeking the truth.... if you had you would know who he was and what he said... it appears you are without a clue as well as tiresome...

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 27 2007, 11:05 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 27 2007, 08:48 PM) ☐
>
> "may be suckers" and "may not be suckers"....
>
> If what is claimed here is true, then 3ABN is acting criminally, and IF that is proven and they are charged, and found guilty, then those people you talk about will probably see the need to do as you say.
> But to warn with evil surmisings, gossip and slander, and unproven accusations? That is not of God. We are never called to issue those kind of warnings.

Alethia, I have read most of your posts. I think as a person just looking at what you ask, I would like to think you are doing just that - asking. But, some of your replies and comments back are saying more then just "well, I think there should be MORE proof" or "I dont know if I can accept it yet myself with just this amount of info" or maybe say NOTHING? - could be, you will have to WAIT till some boulder drops on your head and you feel the pain and see the rock in your living room for you to remove all doubt of what happend? I am not being sarcastic, but, if you have ever been on a jury (have you?) and you hear from the witnesses and other people who tell of other pieces that help you put a circumstancial situation together (and this is not all circimstantial I might add, there are concrete documents as well) to decide who is lieing and who isn't, you learn that there are many things you have to decide your conclusion on things that you can't see for yourself, but have to trust those giving testimony. We have common sense, brains and senses that come together to help us discern things. Now, this is not a court of law, this is true, but you came here. You choose to read, reply and discuss things. No one is forcing you. If you want to glean all you can, take what you get and wait for the rest to take place if you need more. Keep in mind; no one is going to spend time sitting here telling you of their "witness" or "testimoney" just for the fun of it. There are some SERIOUS issues going on that exist for a reason - and we can't simply say "it's the devil". Maybe I made it too simple. But like I said to you once before, keep it simple. Don't make it more complicated. And if you don't agree, say it once. Or don't say it, but if you are sincerely looking for truth and facts, you either take what you can find here or leave and look somewhere else. What you find here is what you get. You are in a sense chasing your tail.

Posted by: Aletheia Jan 27 2007, 11:08 PM

> QUOTE(lookin4truth @ Jan 28 2007, 12:00 AM) ☐
>
> Have you really tried to verify? Have you contacted Scott Clem? Roger Clem? Duane Clem? Brad Dunning?
>
> I am sure it would not be to hard to do that. Duane is on this board all the time. Why don't you PM him and talk to him? Brad Dunning's contact info is on the web site. Why don't you ask him if the letter is real?
>
> You go about saying you are verifying. If I remember correctly, it was you who said the title would not show void on it. It took me all of two minutes to find the documentation to prove that when copied, it would.
>
> As I said, at first I thought you were truly seeking the facts.

No, I have not contacted any of the Clems, as i can't find them and no contact info has been given.

If Duane is on the board all the time, then perhaps you can identify him, or he will please contact me privately after reading this post?

I actually requested that sometime back on the forums.

Thank you.

Posted by: ex3ABNemployee Jan 27 2007, 11:09 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 27 2007, 11:02 PM)
>
> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 27 2007, 10:36 PM)
>
> That may be true true, but it also doesn't mean ithe incident with Mr Dunning did happen...
> I'm sorry, I don't know what staement you made, other then your login name.
>
> You are a ex-3Abn employee from the church of God? and went to work with someone you are accusing of child abuse and the people you claim are covering for him? That seems weird, but I am listening.
> What is your staement?

My name is Duane Clem. You know full well about my statement. I've seen you refer to it (and try to discredit it) in other posts.

I worked at 3ABN in the 80's, long before Tommy Shelton was employed there. Brad Dunning, as well as two other boys who have yet to come forward, told me Tommy had done exactly the same thing to them and he did me. If you choose to not believe me, that's your business. It doesn't change the facts, however.

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 27 2007, 11:11 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 28 2007, 12:02 AM)
>
> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 27 2007, 10:36 PM)
>
> That may be true true, but it also doesn't mean ithe incident with Mr Dunning did happen...
> I'm sorry, I don't know what staement you made, other then your login name.

Wow - you've really done your research Aletheia!

To quote my (2nd) favorite princess, "Mercilations!" I have to say it again, "Mercilations!"

> QUOTE(ex3ABNemployee @ Jan 28 2007, 12:09 AM)
>
> My name is Duane Clem. You know full well about my statement. I've seen you refer to it (and try > to discredit it) in other posts.

>
> I worked at 3ABN in the 80's, long before Tommy Shelton was employed there. Brad Dunning, as well as two other boys who have yet to come forward, told me Tommy had done exactly the same thing to them and he did me. If you choose to not believe me, that's your business. It doesn't change the facts, however.

Duane, don't get discouraged. There is always one in the bunch...

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 27 2007, 11:12 PM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 27 2007, 09:11 PM) ☐
>
> Wow - you've really done your research Aletheia!
>
> To quote my (2nd) favorite princess, "Mercilations!" I have to say it again, "Mercilations!"
> Duane, don't get discouraged. There is always one in the bunch...

Well Hoty, I have to correct you, but I think there is 5 in this here bunch!! But given everyone else and more to come, that's really nothing at all! INSIGNIFICANT!!

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 27 2007, 11:14 PM

> QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jan 28 2007, 12:12 AM) ☐
>
> Well Hoty, I have to correct you, but I think there is 5 in this here bunch!! But given everyone else and more to come, that's really nothing at all! INSIGNIFICANT!!

I'm in shock, utter shock...

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 27 2007, 11:17 PM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 27 2007, 09:14 PM) ☐
>
> I'm in shock, utter shock...

it'll pass
nothing shocks me anymore!

Posted by: ex3ABNemployee Jan 27 2007, 11:18 PM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 27 2007, 11:11 PM)
>
> Wow - you've really done your research Aletheia!
>
> To quote my (2nd) favorite princess, "Mercilations!" I have to say it again, "Mercilations!"
>
> Duane, don't get discouraged. There is always one in the bunch...

Do I have to draw a picture?

Posted by: Clay Jan 27 2007, 11:26 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 27 2007, 11:08 PM)
>
> No, I have not contacted any of the Clems, as i can't find them and no contact info has been given. If Duane is on the board all the time, then perhaps you can identify him, or he will please contact me privately after reading this post?
>
> I actually requested that sometime back on the forums.
>
> Thank you.

unbelievable..... simply unbelievable...

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 27 2007, 11:33 PM

Just to give you a hint, Aletheia, he's the one who posted, "I'm Duane Clem...do you believe my statement?" That was right before you claimed to not have read his statement.

"Mercilations!"

kidd

Posted by: ex3ABNemployee Jan 27 2007, 11:33 PM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jan 27 2007, 11:26 PM)

> unbelievable..... simply unbelievable...

I mean, is it on purpose, or what?

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 27 2007, 11:36 PM

> QUOTE(ex3ABNemployee @ Jan 28 2007, 12:33 AM)
>
> I mean, is it on purpose, or what?

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 27 2007, 11:36 PM

> QUOTE(ex3ABNemployee @ Jan 27 2007, 09:33 PM)
>
> I mean, is it on purpose, or what?

It's a little scary if you think about it....

Posted by: ex3ABNemployee Jan 27 2007, 11:39 PM

Well, I can't wait all night. Maybe by the time I get back tomorrow she'll have it almost figured out.

Later, all!

Posted by: Fran Jan 28 2007, 12:08 AM

> QUOTE(ex3ABNemployee @ Jan 27 2007, 11:39 PM)
>
> Well, I can't wait all night. Maybe by the time I get back tomorrow she'll have it almost figured out.
>
> Later, all!

Don't count on it Ex. She is really slow, and must have everything explained to her at her level. She is not one to bring anything concrete to the table, if you get my drift. She has trouble remembering what side she is on. Confused she is.

By the way, Welcome. I wish it were under different circumstances. Tommy Shelton must be stopped. Thank you for helping us clean out the garbage.

Posted by: Aletheia Jan 28 2007, 12:14 AM

> QUOTE(ex3ABNemployee @ Jan 28 2007, 12:09 AM) ☐
>
> My name is Duane Clem. You know full well about my statement. I've seen you refer to it (and try to discredit it) in other posts.
>
> I worked at 3ABN in the 80's, long before Tommy Shelton was employed there. Brad Dunning, as well as two other boys who have yet to come forward, told me Tommy had done exactly the same thing to them and he did me. If you choose to not believe me, that's your business. It doesn't change the facts, however.

I apologise, I was NOT trying to discredit you, I simply did not feel that what has been published had been verified well enough.

I also did not see the earlier post where you signed your name, and for that I apologise also.

Do you mind me asking to start, when exactly in the 80's you were hired by 3ABN and when exactly you ceased working there?

Thank you.

Posted by: roxe Jan 28 2007, 12:34 AM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 27 2007, 10:08 PM) ☐
>
> No, I have not contacted any of the Clems, as i can't find them and no contact info has been given.
> If Duane is on the board all the time, then perhaps you can identify him, or he will please contact me privately after reading this post?
> I actually requested that sometime back on the forums.
> Thank you.

i honestly thought that true research was being done...
and truth was being sought...

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 27 2007, 11:14 PM) ☐
>
> I simply did not feel now i see that it's all about personal feelings that must be matched...

unbelievable...

Posted by: awesumtenor Jan 28 2007, 12:51 AM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 28 2007, 01:14 AM)
>
> I apologise, I was NOT trying to discredit you, I simply did not feel that what has been published had been verified well enough.
>
> I also did not see the earlier post where you signed your name, and for that I apologise also.
>
> Do you mind me asking to start, when exactly in the 80's you were hired by 3ABN and when exactly you ceased working there?
>
> Thank you.

Cindy, you have done nothing but try to discredit any and everyone who disagreed with you since you came to this forum and for a long time prior to that in other forae.

When you came here you insisted on 'first hand' knowledge... when given first hand knowledge now you still don't "feel" that is sufficient.

Stop the madness and admit you have no intention of believing anything other than the party line you've bought into... a party line you accepted on far less evidence than has been given you to prove it bogus...and you never have had any such intent.

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: ex3ABNemployee Jan 28 2007, 12:51 AM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 28 2007, 12:14 AM)
>
> I apologise, I was NOT trying to discredit you, I simply did not feel that what has been published had been verified well enough.
>
> I also did not see the earlier post where you signed your name, and for that I apologise also.
>
> Do you mind me asking to start, when exactly in the 80's you were hired by 3ABN and when exactly you ceased working there?
>
> Thank you.

I don't see what my dates of employment with 3ABN have to do with anything, but if I recall correctly I worked there between 1986 and 1988.

Since you say you're not trying to discredit me, though, I would like to know what you meant by this comment, posted in Damage Control:

> QUOTE
>
> Also didn't you tell me Clem's brother had claimed he had "relationship" with Tommy, and was defending Tommy? How old did he claim he was at the time?

Posted by: Ralph Jan 28 2007, 12:57 AM

> QUOTE(ex3ABNemployee @ Jan 27 2007, 11:51 PM)
>
> I don't see what my dates of employment with 3ABN have to do with anything, but if I recall correctly I worked there between 1986 and 1988.
>
> Since you say you're not trying to discredit me, though, I would like to know what you meant by this comment, posted in Damage Control:

Sometimes I wonder if you are replying to a coy lawyer.

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 28 2007, 01:04 AM

> QUOTE(Ralph @ Jan 27 2007, 10:57 PM)
>
> Sometimes I wonder if you are replying to a coy lawyer.

hmmm.....

I think you may be on to something.....

desperation AND trickery!

(aka Mr. Riva???)

Posted by: Fran Jan 28 2007, 01:30 AM

> QUOTE(Ralph @ Jan 28 2007, 12:57 AM)

> Sometimes I wonder if you are replying to a coy lawyer.

You are so right. Could this be the real Voltaire wanna be?

Posted by: roxe Jan 28 2007, 01:32 AM

> QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jan 28 2007, 12:04 AM)
>
> hmmm.....
> I think you may be on to something.....
> desperation AND trickery!
> (aka Mr. Riva???)

sonshine,

she does have a way with words... emotional words...

she posted that she is an unlicensed nurse: post #63 on http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?showtopic=11136&hl=nurse&st=60 however, maybe she decided that nurses don't make enough money, so didn't bother with the license... but went to law school and got that license instead... would explain alot...

here, her gender = f... hmmm.... maybe? maybe not?

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 28 2007, 01:50 AM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 27 2007, 09:48 PM)
>
> "may be suckers" and "may not be suckers"....
>
> If what is claimed here is true, then 3ABN is acting criminally, and IF that is proven and they are charged, and found guilty, then those people you talk about will probably see the need to do as you say.
> But to warn with evil surmisings, gossip and slander, and unproven accusations? That is not of God.
> We are never called to issue those kind of warnings.

Okay Cindy, you've made the charge now I want to see you make a list of what you say are evil surmisings, gossip and slander, and unproven accusations.

Gather your evidence from the many posts here and present it with the appropriate headings, ie. Evil Surmisings and so on.

1.
2.

If you can't come up with a list, best not be making such a charge unless you follow it with IMO for we all are welcome to post our opinions here.

> QUOTE(ex3ABNemployee @ Jan 27 2007, 09:49 PM) ☐
>
> Boy, it's amazing how quiet some people get when asked a direct question.
>
> Brad Dunning's statement revealed details I didn't know about until I read it here. According to Brad, he was told the EXACT same thing by Tommy that I was about his "medical condition." Brad and I have not talked since he left the Ezra school. If he's lying, that was still a pretty good trick to know the exact wording that was told to me, even though he hadn't asked me about it.
>
> But then again, why deal with the facts?

Duane, this is so well put. How can anyone with a brain not see that this is truth?

Posted by: Fran Jan 28 2007, 02:25 AM

3ABN Jan 2007 Letter.....

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Jan 27 2007, 06:31 PM) ☐
>
> Bystander: You are constantly talking about generalized legal documents.
>
> Fran: Wrong! The documents are not "general" but "Concrete." The court findings from the IL vs. 3ABN Property Tax Lawsuit and IRS Form 990's are concrete legal documents.
>
> Bystander: Not necessarily 3ABN's documents.
>
> Fran: Are you stating publicly that 3ABN's documents do not match those legal documents? Oop's! That is scary, isn't it!
>
> Bystander: You are extremely misleading when you say "what if you had purchased assets and followed them. " That plants a huge ugly seed in people's mind.
>
> Fran: Well, rest easy. I did purchase some assets! Yep; got receipts too! I even have one Tax Deductible Receipt for one of my my purchases. It states I donated money to 3ABN. It also says I received no goods for that donation ~ I'm sorry, for that purchase. Don't worry; I was smart enough not to claim that tax deduction. I would suggest that you are correct about my comment planting "Hugh Ugly Seeds" in people's minds. Only now they are NOT seeds. They are facts.
>
> Bystander: But, for those "with it" enough to see the venom that drips off of your collection of posts, they will come to this conclusion: That if you had such evidence you would not be sitting on it. You would have hit the door of the 3abn ministry with storm troopers in tow.
>
> Fran: So my "venom is dripping". I really must get a napkin.

Fran: I do not beat people's doors down. I would never enter the 3ABN compound. I would be a nervous wreck watching my back from the true "Venom dripping from management" about Linda.

Fran: People say, "If you jump into a snake pit, you will eventually get bitten."

Fran: By the way, who said I was sitting on anything. I believe in full disclosure. Obviously you are afraid of it. You are the one sitting on information. If you had evidence about Linda, you would have a 3ABN Today, Thursday nights, 2 hour program putting it on display!

Bystander: Again, that shows me, that this was just one of many dishonest scenarios painted by you as if they were fact. Your ifs, ands, and buts, are killers.

Fran: I will try to find time this week end to put some facts from the IL vs. 3ABN Property Tax Lawsuit and some of those silly little notes that drip with venom. That would be your venom, not mine, since 3ABN prepared those telling notes attached to the IRS Form 990's. However, I can't reveal all, since these facts will come forward at a later time. Besides, if you knew what all I had, you would destroy all the evidence and act like you had no idea what had happened.

Bystander: " You say "God put you here to help expose all of the errant ways of the 3ABN financial department", then why aren't you there.

Fran: Please! I was put here to slap 3ABN into shape? Give me a break. That is pitiful. However, God did bring it to my attention in a mighty way. When I saw that Trust Funds were being "forgotten" and were "falling in the cracks," I realized I had to do something about it.

Fran: When I saw that money given to other ministries was posted as 3ABN donations, I became disgusted. I have been screaming ever since! I have been crude, rude and blunt. I have not been politically correct by choice. Those with grace and who can say the "right" words are doing that part. That is not the place for me. Get in my way and I will tell you to move. All that politically correct garbage leaves everyone wondering just what was said. I do not believe you will have a problem understanding my opinions.

Bystander: Being on this little website won't accomplish anything.

Fran: Wrong. It has kept this alive for 3 years! It has withstood all the red herrings and smoke screens coming from your department. Never under estimate the power of God to reveal even more and more. In fact, you should be prepared for it.

Bystander: If you have the credentials to teach their accounting office then go there and do so.

Fran: Is this a personal invite? I have to pass. You cannot teach anything to those who already know it all.

Bystander: For me and many others listening to the credentials of the chief financial officer on the 3ABN live a week ago is enough for me. He worked for years for the Waterhouse investing firm, one of the biggest in the world, as well as several other esteemed financial institutions. By reports from those who know him personally, he is viewed as a wonderful and sincere Christian with the utmost integrity. Those that know him and his family closely say he would never ever do anything dishonest or underhanded in any way.

Fran: Let me see; was that his signature on that fraudulent receipt I received? I will > check and let you know.

>
> Bystander: Now, you start out that the divorce is not what you are about. That Danny or Linda is not what you are about. Then you make a statement that you would not be counted "worthy" to pass Linda's test? Fran, my, my. That statement is so obviously "hero worship" that it should be the definition placed in Webster's dictionary.
>
> Fran: No it is not idol worship. She shines much brighter than I do. That is real. Anyone that could take what she has been dealt is a saint! I'm not that at all. If Danny did that to me, I would be screaming at the top of my lungs and telling everything to anyone who would listen. But that is me. She IS better than me in that sense. She is greater than Danny in that sense too. Every time he opens his mouth to spew his poisonous venom at Linda, all it does it does is slap Danny right in the face!
>
> Bystander: I also noticed in a previous post by you (if I am incorrect just tell me) where you made the statement that Goldie is not here to save them now. Or something to that affect. I assume you meant by "Goldie" that you were referring to the Shelton's mother.
>
> Fran: Yes, I was referring to the Shelton's mother.
>
> Bystander: If so, what did you mean by save them? What authority or power did she hold that she could "save them, or anyone;" just curious.
>
> Fran: Was she a mother? That says it all.
>
> Bystander, maybe to HOTY: I agree with your opinion of what the girl thought later. It has been 10 or 12 years and I am sure she already does. I might disagree about *informing the people that work around him for this reason.. it was quite some time ago,
>
> Bystander: I believe he went through counseling as part of his rehabilitation and most of all because this was a one time incident and has never happened again. Just a matter of opinion I guess.
>
> Fran: Are you sure he was "Successfully" treated and it has never happened again?
>
> Bystander: But the release of this info from HOTY was to imply that 3abn is lax in who they hire while I wholeheartedly agree It was good of them to give him a chance.
>
> Fran: I am a mother. He would have had to receive a second chance elsewhere. You know, like where there are no children? I agree that 3ABN has made serious mistakes in their hiring policy. They need a new policy manual with guidance from a professional who *gives a crap about kids! 3ABN has proven they don't!

My replies are within the quote. I did a grammar check and a spell check and made corrections. I supplied the color to separate Bystander's comments from mine. I also broke the post in pieces so each comment could be replied to. Please excuse Bystander's and my mistakes.

Posted by: Bystander Jan 28 2007, 05:38 AM

> QUOTE(Fran @ Jan 28 2007, 01:25 AM) ☐
>
> 3ABN Jan 2007 Letter.....
> My replies are within the quote. I did a grammar check and a spell check and made > corrections. I supplied the color to separate Bystander's comments from mine. I also broke the post in pieces so each comment could be replied to. Please excuse Bystander's and my mistakes.

You said "I would have no trouble understanding your opinions." I have all kinds of trouble. You are saying these are court documents and 990's so why are you and you alone the only one that has found these errors. You say you have been screaming ect ect to who? Obviously not to the right people. I am sure it would be hard for you to believe but I am quite sure that more qualified people than even you have been through thousands of 3ABN records and have found no purposeful wrong doing, including carmalita Troy who has enough qualifications in finance to choke a horse..That, my friend, is good enough for me.

Posted by: Pickle Jan 28 2007, 06:32 AM

Bystander,

Could you please explicitly state on what dates and for what lengths of time Carmelita Troy examined the books of 3ABN, and explicitly state to what extent she was allowed to examine them. Please tell us what questions she asked for clarification and what answers she received.

I will call your bluff: Danny threatened Gailon months ago with a lawsuit, but there has yet to be anything filed whatsoever, and no letter from Riva has been sent to him that I am aware of. I have yet to be threatened at all.

Consider the stark contrast between these facts and the nasty letter that Mike Riva sent the board of the Dunn Loring Church of God congregation. Why the difference in treatment? Because Gailon has made it pretty clear that if he gets sued, he will launch legal discovery, and Danny really would not want the books opened up to that kind of process.

The truth of the matter is that if Danny wants to squelch the financial impropriety allegations against him, he should allow Gailon to look at anything he wants to. If Gailon can't find anything, then there must not be anything there. That's the best argument Danny could ever trumpet to the world.

Personally, I find it absolutely despicable that Danny would be willing to take anyone and everyone down with him, including the likes of Carmelita Troy. With a specialty in fraud detection, what will all this do to her career if all the allegations are aired in a major, public way?

If Danny really cared about Carmelita Troy, he would do his utmost to clear the air of all these allegations, and the only way he can effectively do that, since he given evidence that he is a bald-faced liar on at least three occasions that I am aware of, is to allow a free and open investigation of the books by a competent investigator who has no conflict of interest, such as Gailon Arthur Joy.

Posted by: September Jan 28 2007, 08:51 AM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 27 2007, 11:36 PM)
>
> I am very sorry for that, and while that may be true, it doesn't mean that was the case in West frankfort, or that the incident with Mr Dunning did happen as is claimed...

Comments like that are why victims are afraid to come forward! I'm afriad that what I described happens more often than not because a perpetrator will try to discredit everything that their victim says in an effort to make the VICTIM look guilty--even in the slightest sense.

Posted by: NormF Jan 28 2007, 09:14 AM

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Jan 28 2007, 05:38 AM) ☐
>
> You said "I would have no trouble understanding your opinions." I have all kinds of trouble. You are saying these are court documents and 990's so why are you and you alone the only one that has found these errors. You say you have been screaming ect ect to who? Obviously not to the right people. I am sure it would be hard for you to believe but I am quite sure that more qualified people than even you have been through thousands of 3ABN records and have found no purposeful wrong doing, including carmalita Troy who has enough qualifications in finance to choke a horse..That, my friend, is good enough for me.

"I have all kinds of trouble ..." Well said; that I could believe.

Bystander, do you know what a forensic accountant is? And do you know what it takes to serve with distinction at the GAO in that capacity, and earn major citations for excellence over a long and distinguished career?

You really should make a better effort to know who and what you're up against when you cut loose with those barrages ... and maybe also, what is and isn't "good enough." (My condolences to your horse.)

Regards,
Norm

Posted by: Observer Jan 28 2007, 09:19 AM

Most of us are aware that this website has given Danny, 3-ABN, and all who defend them full freedom to post whatever they wish here.

O.K.

Now 3-ABN has posted on their website one version of the letter that Harold Lance sent out stating why ASI pulled out. I have stated that Harold's letters contains factual errors. I wonder what the response would be if I were to request that 3-ABN post a response from me in which I detailed the factual errors in that letter!

By the way, as both Bob Pickle, and Gailon Joy are named in that posting, and both also claim it contains what I call errors, does anyone think that 3-ABN would allow their response to be posted?

Can we expect 3-ABN to do for us what we do for them?

Now back to another subject.

Posted by: Johann Jan 28 2007, 09:24 AM

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Jan 28 2007, 01:38 PM) ☐
>
> - - -
> I am sure it would be hard for you to believe but I am quite sure that more qualified people than even you have been through thousands of 3ABN records and have found no purposeful wrong doing, including carmalita Troy who has enough qualifications in finance to choke a horse..That, my friend, is good enough for me.

When I mentioned this problem to Carmelita she told me that she had checked with the auditors, and they had told her all was OK - if I understood her right. But she said that she would look into things if someone would point out the problem to her. Has that been done?

Posted by: eye witness Jan 28 2007, 10:12 AM

> QUOTE(Pickle @ Jan 28 2007, 06:32 AM) ☐
>
> Bystander,
>
> Could you please explicitly state on what dates and for what lengths of time Carmelita Troy examined the books of 3ABN, and explicitly state to what extent she was allowed to examine them. Please tell us what questions she asked for clarification and what answers she received.
>
> I will call your bluff: Danny threatened Gailon months ago with a lawsuit, but there has yet to be anything filed whatsoever, and no letter from Riva has been sent to him that I am aware of. I have yet to be threatened at all.
>
> Consider the stark contrast between these facts and the nasty letter that Mike Riva sent the board of the Dunn Loring Church of God congregation. Why the difference in treatment? Because Gailon has made it pretty clear that if he gets sued, he will launch legal discovery, and Danny really would not want the books opened up to that kind of process.
>
> The truth of the matter is that if Danny wants to squelch the financial impropriety allegations against him, he should allow Gailon to look at anything he wants to. If Gailon can't find anything, then there must not be anything there. That's the best argument Danny could ever trumpet to the world.
>
> Personally, I find it absolutely despicable that Danny would be willing to take anyone and everyone down with him, including the likes of Carmelita Troy. With a specialty in fraud detection, what will all this do to her career if all the allegations are aired in a major, public way?
>
> If Danny really cared about Carmelita Troy, he would do his utmost to clear the air of all these allegations, and the only way he can effectively do that, since he given evidence that he is a bald-faced liar on at least three occasions that I am aware of, is to allow a free and open investigation of the books by a competent investigator [b]who has no conflict of interest, such as Gailon Arthur Joy.[/b]

Pickle, WHAT HAVE I MISSED HERE? Again, what are the credentials OF THE COMPETENT INVESTIGATOR, GAILON ARTHUR JOY?? How many indictments for embezzlement did he have? Was it 28? Or was it more? Gailon Arthur Joy reminds me of "Inspector Clouseau" the Pink Panther. Who has no conflict of interest? Get real Pickle.

Posted by: sister Jan 28 2007, 10:37 AM

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Jan 28 2007, 06:38 AM) ☐
>
> You said "I would have no trouble understanding your opinions." I have all kinds of trouble. You are saying these are court documents and 990's so why are you and you alone the only one that has found these errors. You say you have been screaming ect ect to who? Obviously not to the right people. I am sure it would be hard for you to believe but I am quite sure that more qualified people than even you have been through thousands of 3ABN records and have found no purposeful wrong doing, including carmalita Troy who has enough qualifications in finance to choke a horse..That, my friend, is good enough for me.

Bystander, how do you know what you said is factual? Another question, since you claim to know so much: Did Carmalita Troy do a Forensic Audit on the 3ABN books or like the other 3ABN board members has she only gone over the financial report submitted within the Board meetings, three times a year?

Posted by: erik Jan 28 2007, 10:40 AM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 28 2007, 08:12 AM) ☐
>
> Pickle, WHAT HAVE I MISSED HERE? Again, what are the credentials OF THE COMPETENT INVESTIGATOR, GAILON ARTHUR JOY?? How many indictments for embezzlement did he have? Was it 28? Or was it more? Gailon Arthur Joy reminds me of "Inspector Clouseau" the Pink Panther. Who has no conflict of interest? Get real Pickle.

eyewitness,

ok, so what if he did they have not hidden that fact, plus if he was so evil why was he able to win 40,000 dollar sealtement over the whole matter????

can danny claim the same think not so far, or better yet can tommy claim the same thing I THINK NOT.

Why don't you focus on the real issues which are first and for most Tommy either proving these boys wrong, or if he is guilty openly saying yes i have done these evils and Jesus is healing me.

Secondly, if the 3abn books are above board post them here so all can see what is the big serect??

The fastest way to kill lies about anything, is to state the truth and in case the facts that back it up.

just my two cents worth.

erik

Posted by: Chez Jan 28 2007, 10:52 AM

> QUOTE(sister @ Jan 28 2007, 10:37 AM)
>
> Bystander, how do you know what you said is factual? Another question, since you claim to know so much: Did Carmalita Troy do a Forensic Audit on the 3ABN books or like the other 3ABN board members has she only gone over the financial report submitted within the Board meetings, three times a year?

Was Carmelita Troy allowed to do a Forensic Audit? I think that she should be able to conduct a Forensic Audit.

Posted by: Johann Jan 28 2007, 10:56 AM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 28 2007, 06:12 PM)
>
> Pickle, WHAT HAVE I MISSED HERE? Again, what are the credentials OF THE COMPETENT INVESTIGATOR, GAILON ARTHUR JOY?? How many indictments for embezzlement did he have? Was it 28? Or was it more? Gailon Arthur Joy reminds me of "Inspector Clouseau" the Pink Panther. Who has no conflict of interest? Get real Pickle.

Pardon me, "[.]eye Witness",

Where is your sense of proportions? Does this make you more trustworthy?

Last time you appeared here you made some distortions of thing that may have happened after Danny and Linda's divorce - as if they could be a reason for the divorce. You have made no attempts since then to rectify your distortions. You and your supporters must be desparate trying to justify the immoral actions that are a great burden to the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

A prominent leader in our church, who has been in negotiations with 3ABN, expressed to me that it would be a great benefit to the Church if it was possible to remove this self-appointed pope, Mr. Danny Shelton, because of the way he distorts the image of our denomination.
What about those who attempt to keep him in power with the lies and dust they shatter around them?

If you have read the posts on BSDA which deal with what you refer to, you would never express what you do so boldly, unless you are in an extremely desperate situation!

Just recently Danny Shelton joined, in an e-mail that has been posted, the two issues together. He claimed himself that if he was telling the truth about Linda, then he was also telling the truth about his brother, Tommy, and if he was lying on one account, he was also lying on the other.

So here we have Danny's own verdict. Since then it has been shown beyond a shaddow of doubt that Tommy has had improper immoral dealings with male victims, so according to Danny's own words, he has been lying about Linda.

Posted by: erik Jan 28 2007, 11:00 AM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jan 28 2007, 08:56 AM)
>
> Pardon me, "[.]eye Witness",
>
> Where is your sense of proportions? Does this make you more trustworthy?
>
> Last time you appeared here you made some distortions of thing that may have happened after Danny and Linda's divorce - as if they could be a reason for the divorce. You have made no attempts since then to rectify your distortions. You and your supporters must be desparate trying to justify the immoral actions that are a great burden to the Seventh-day Adventist Church.
>
> A prominent leader in our church, who has been in negotiations with 3ABN, expressed to me that it would be a great benefit to the Church if it was possible to remove this self-appointed pope, Mr. Danny Shelton, because of the way he distorts the image of our denomination.
> What about those who attempt to keep him in power with the lies and dust they shatter around them?
>
> If you have read the posts on BSDA which deal with what you refer to, you would never express what you do so boldly, unless you are in an extremely desperate situation!
>
> Just recently Danny Shelton joined, in an e-mail that has been posted, the two issues together. He claimed himself that if he was telling the truth about Linda, then he was also telling the truth about his brother, Tommy, and if he was lying on one account, he was also lying on the other.
>
> So here we have Danny's own verdict. Since then it has been shown beyond a shaddow of doubt that Tommy has had improper immoral dealings with male victims, so according to Danny's own words, he has been lying about Linda.

johann,

that is is right danny did say that, thank for reminding all of us of that.

to eye witness just a suggestion lies are always found out so you need to get the truth out fast, if you all have anything that is going to save tommy and his brother.

erik

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 28 2007, 11:20 AM

> QUOTE(erik @ Jan 28 2007, 09:00 AM)
>
> johann,

> that is is right danny did say that, thank for reminding all of us of that.
>
> to eye witness just a suggestion lies are always found out so you need to get the truth out fast, if you all have anything that is going to save tommy and his brother.
> erik

Isn't this what happens when you have several "eyewitnesses" telling a story...they can certainly not match at all....maybe eyewitness (all of them) should work together better to keep things straight as to not give away their multiple identity. Pinch hitting maybe???

Posted by: Snoopy Jan 28 2007, 12:06 PM

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Jan 28 2007, 05:38 AM)
>
> You said "I would have no trouble understanding your opinions." I have all kinds of trouble. You are saying these are court documents and 990's so why are you and you alone the only one that has found these errors. You say you have been screaming ect ect to who? Obviously not to the right people. I am sure it would be hard for you to believe but I am quite sure that more qualified people than even you have been through thousands of 3ABN records and have found no purposeful wrong doing, including carmalita Troy who has enough qualifications in finance to choke a horse..That, my friend, is good enough for me.

Regarding Dr. Troy with "enough qualifications in finance to choke a horse" - per a review of her CV, she appears to be a sound academician with little practical experience in the real business world... This is not meant at all to detract from Dr. Troy's accomplishments, but there is a HUGE difference between TEACHING it and actually DOING it!!!

http://research.nps.navy.mil/cgi-bin/vita.cgi?p=display_vita&id=1069353065

Posted by: Snoopy Jan 28 2007, 12:20 PM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jan 28 2007, 09:24 AM)
>
> When I mentioned this problem to Carmelita she told me that she had checked with the auditors, and they had told her all was OK - if I understood her right. But she said that she would look into things if someone would point out the problem to her. Has that been done?

But, who are the auditors????? Does anyone know? I've asked this before but no one seems to be able to answer. Are they somehow "connected" to the Sheltons? Do these same auditors handle the Shelton income tax return?

Posted by: inga Jan 28 2007, 12:36 PM

Observer, Pickle & Gailon,

Please wonder no longer! Please make a formal request to 3ABN to allow you to respond to those factual errors and have your responses posted on the 3ABN site.

Also copy these requests to us here and post them on the Save3ABN site. Then you can post any responses you get from 3ABN, or post that you did not get a response. Then please post your corrections on the Save3ABN site. I believe this is important. Then we can share the Save3ABN URL with interested parties. This site is too much for die-hard supporters. The Save3ABN site with only facts (without all the interference that comes here) will give a clearer picture.

IMO, it's best to turn wondering & speculation into verifiable facts.

> QUOTE(Observer @ Jan 28 2007, 10:19 AM) ☐
>
> Most of us are aware that this website has given Danny, 3-ABN, and all who defend them full freedom to post whatever they wish here.
>
> O.K.
>
> Now 3-ABN has posted on their website one version of the letter that Harold Lance sent out stating why ASI pulled out. I have stated that Harold's letters contains factual errors. I wonder what the response would be if I were to request that 3-ABN post a response from me in which I detailed the factual errors in that letter!
> By the way, as both Bob Pickle, and Gailon Joy are named in that posting, and both also claim it contains what I call errors, does anyone think that 3-ABN would allow their response to be posted?
>
> Can we expect 3-ABN to do for us what we do for them?
>
> Now back to another subject.

Posted by: Fran Jan 28 2007, 01:51 PM

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Jan 28 2007, 05:38 AM) ☐
>
> Bystander: You said "I would have no trouble understanding your opinions."
>
> Fran: Are you understanding challenged?
>
> Bystander: I have all kinds of trouble.
>
> Fran: I imagine you do. I believe that fact is quite clear to all reading your posts.
>
> Bystander: You are saying these are court documents and 990's so why are you and you alone the only one that has found these errors.
>
> Fran: Why do you say, "Why are you and you alone the only one that has found these errors." It is a fact that I do not stand alone.
>
> Bystander: You say you have been screaming etc, etc to who? Obviously not to the right people.

> Fran: The right people have heard; more on this at a "later" date.
>
> Bystander: I am sure it would be hard for you to believe, but I am quite sure that more qualified people than even you have been through thousands of 3ABN records and have found no purposeful wrong doing,
>
> Fran: "Purposeful wrong doing," is the operative word. Ignorance and stupidity are no excuse for a corporation that has been in business for over 20 years. There is no excuse for your Financial Officer to not even implement the basic GAAP standard procedures. How much did you have to pay theses qualified people to examine the books?
>
> Bystander: including Carmelita Troy who has enough qualifications in finance to choke a horse. That, my friend, is good enough for me.
>
> Fran: Have Carmelita PM me. I would just love to talk to her. I need to know how comprehensive her examination was. Did she go to California to examine those pesky Trust Funds? I think not. She isn't blind. I do not believe she has paid much attention to the details at all. She probably accepts the Financial Statements as honest.
>
> I have sat on boards and not been the Financial Committee Chairperson. Unless I saw a major problem, I would accept the reports as correct. It is not Carmelita's job to examine the books. She is a board member about board member business. Is she present at all of the Board Meeting? Better yet, is she present at all the Finance Committee Meetings? I don't think so. Please tell me the dates of her examination.
>
> You have a lot of nerve to lay this on Carmelita. She is extremely qualified. I do not believe she has gone over thousands of 3ABN papers! She is not stupid by any measure. Have you decided to let your "Venom" drip all over her too? I can clearly see you have no shame! You need to apologize to Carmelita for ever mentioning her name. Please stop destroying innocent people!

.

Posted by: Snoopy Jan 28 2007, 02:04 PM

> QUOTE(Fran @ Jan 28 2007, 01:51 PM)
>
> Fran: Have Carmelita PM me. I would just love to talk to her. I need to know how comprehensive her examination was. Did she go to California to examine those pesky Trust Funds? I think not. She isn't blind. I do not believe she has paid much attention to the details at all. She probably accepts the Financial Statements as honest.

I believe Dr. Troy resides in California...

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jan 28 2007, 02:23 PM

Same old same old. Can't attack the message, attack the messenger. Anything to divert the attention away from the issues. Almost funny you are, in a warped sense.

Richard

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 28 2007, 11:12 AM) ☐
>
> Pickle, WHAT HAVE I MISSED HERE? Again, what are the credentials OF THE COMPETENT INVESTIGATOR, GAILON ARTHUR JOY?? How many indictments for embezzlement did he have? Was it 28? Or was it more? Gailon Arthur Joy reminds me of "Inspector Clouseau" the Pink Panther. Who has no conflict of interest? Get real Pickle.

Posted by: Observer Jan 28 2007, 02:30 PM

> QUOTE(inga @ Jan 28 2007, 11:36 AM) ☐
>
> Observer, Pickle & Gailon,
>
> Please wonder no longer! Please make a formal request to 3ABN to allow you to respond to those factual errors and have your responses posted on the 3ABN site.
>
> Also copy these requests to us here and post them on the Save3ABN site. Then you can post any responses you get from 3ABN, or post that you did not get a response. Then please post your corrections on the Save3ABN site. I believe this is important. Then we can share the Save3ABN URL with interested parties. This site is too much for die-hard supporters. The Save3ABN site with only facts (without all the interference that comes here) will give a clearer picture.
>
> IMO, it's best to turn wondering & speculation into verifiable facts.

Inga:

With a large number of 3-ABN supporters here, I am waiting to see if any of them will respond. They respond to everyting else. Why should they not come on and either agree that 3-ABN ought to give us equal space, or disagree if they will.

Posted by: Fran Jan 28 2007, 02:33 PM

> QUOTE(Snoopy @ Jan 28 2007, 02:04 PM) ☐
>
> I believe Dr. Troy resides in California...

I am aware of that fact.

Did she go and examine the trust fund policies and procedures while examining the documents to see if all was done correctly? If she did, I would like to talk to her.

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Jan 28 2007, 03:17 PM

> QUOTE(Observer @ Jan 28 2007, 11:19 AM) ☐
>
> Most of us are aware that this website has given Danny, 3-ABN, and all who defend them full freedom to post whatever they wish here.
>
> O.K.
>
> Now 3-ABN has posted on their website one version of the letter that Harold Lance sent out stating why ASI pulled out. I have stated that Harold's letters contains factual errors. I wonder what the response would be if I were to request that 3-ABN post a response from me in which I detailed the factual errors in that letter!
>
> By the way, as both Bob Pickle, and Gailon Joy are named in that posting, and both also claim it contains what I call errors, does anyone think that 3-ABN would allow their response to be posted?
>
> Can we expect 3-ABN to do for us what we do for them?
>
> Now back to another subject.

Observer,

Did you compare the letter you received to the one posted at the 3ABN website? The wording is different in places.

Posted by: Observer Jan 28 2007, 04:12 PM

> QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Jan 28 2007, 02:17 PM) ☐
>
> Observer,
>
> Did you compare the letter you received to the one posted at the 3ABN website? The wording is different in places.

Daryl:

Yes, I am aware that there are differences. I simply assume that Harold Lance sent his first version to us. Then he edited it and sent a second version to 3-ABN. I really do not make much of the two versions. I will assume that Harold rushed of a quick copy to us. Then when he decided to send one to 3-ABN, he decided to polish it up.

I will give you an example.

In a previous life, I arranged for a friend of mine to give a talk to SDA clergy on religious liberty. He was a clergyperson, a recognized scholar and expert on certain Old Testament books, an attorney who specialized in First Amendment issues (U. S. Constitution), and a one-star general in the U. S. Army.

Following his talk to SDA clergy I decided that I wanted to publish it. I knew that he would not want everything that he said to be sent in print to others. So, I edited and otherwise rewrote it. I then sent my edited document to him requesting permission to publish it. He returned it with further changes, and permission to publish providing I made the additional changes.

I had no problem doing so. The reality is that I was essentially helping him to write an article for publication, which did not have to be the same as what he covered in speaking to SDA clergy.

In the same sense, I do not have a problem with Harold providing 3-ABN with an edited version for them to publish.

That is O. K. also.

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Jan 28 2007, 06:57 PM

As long as they both are saying the same thing, which it seems they are, I would agree with you.

Posted by: Skyhook Jan 28 2007, 08:40 PM

Johann, I like the title the prominent leader in our church gave D.S. The "self appointed pope." It sounds like it fits. Perhaps we should name him Pope Dan the first. Or better yet just "the SAP" for short.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 29 2007, 05:38 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 28 2007, 09:12 AM)
>
> Pickle, WHAT HAVE I MISSED HERE? Again, what are the credentials OF THE COMPETENT INVESTIGATOR, GAILON ARTHUR JOY?? How many indictments for embezzlement did he have? Was it 28? Or was it more? Gailon Arthur Joy reminds me of "Inspector Clouseau" the Pink Panther. Who has no conflict of interest? Get real Pickle.

Having watched all of the Pink Panther movies I might just state, for the record, that Inspector Clouseau always gets the bad guys.

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jan 29 2007, 06:09 PM

Touché! rofl

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Jan 29 2007, 06:38 PM)

> Having watched all of the Pink Panther movies I might just state, for the record, that Inspector Clouseau always gets the bad guys.

Posted by: Pickle Feb 1 2007, 09:20 AM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 28 2007, 10:12 AM)
>
> Pickle, WHAT HAVE I MISSED HERE? Again, what are the credentials OF THE COMPETENT INVESTIGATOR, GAILON ARTHUR JOY?? How many indictments for embezzlement did he have? Was it 28? Or was it more?

eye witness,

If you do not know how to read the Vermont Statutes Annotated and at the same time comprehend what they say, I would strongly recommend that you seek a competent attorney to either explain them to you, or examine your post before you post it.

Otherwise, you are in danger of appearing ignorant, unlearned, and/or deceptive.

My apologies if that is too plain, and my apologies in advance if you can point out to me how I misunderstood what you were saying.

By the way, have you ever been indicted or charged for anything, or have you ever been involved in illegal activity?

Posted by: Pickle Feb 1 2007, 09:31 AM

> QUOTE(Observer @ Jan 28 2007, 04:12 PM)
>
> Daryl:
>
> Yes, I am aware that there are differences. I simply assume that Harold Lance sent his first version to us. Then he edited it and sent a second version to 3-ABN. I really do not make much of the two versions. I will assume that Harold rushed of a quick copy to us. Then when he decided to send one to 3-ABN, he decided to polish it up.
>
> ...
>
> In the same sense, I do not have a problem with Harold providing 3-ABN with an edited version for them to publish.
>
> That is O. K. also.

I do have a problem with it, and I doubt that is what happened. If that is what happened, then Harold Lance has extreme ethical problems.

I spoke with him at 4:38 pm (2:38 pm his time) on Wednesday, January 24, and alerted him to the fact that he had violated his own confidentiality agreement. I wrote him that night, and he replied at 5 pm on Thursday. I wrote him again by 6:30pm.

For him to polish up his statement and provide it to 3ABN would have been extremely unethical, especially since I had already on Wednesday alerted him to the fact that his document contained serious errors.

Thus I think he likely was not the one who polished it up. I can't imagine him being that blatantly crooked.

Posted by: eye witness Feb 1 2007, 12:22 PM

> QUOTE(Pickle @ Feb 1 2007, 09:20 AM) ☐
>
> eye witness,
>
> If you do not know how to read the Vermont Statutes Annotated and at the same time comprehend what they say, I would strongly recommend that you seek a competent attorney to either explain them to you, or examine your post before you post it.
>
> Otherwise, you are in danger of appearing ignorant, unlearned, and/or deceptive.
>
> My apologies if that is too plain, and my apologies in advance if you can point out to me how I misunderstood what you were saying.
>
> By the way, have you ever been indicted or charged for anything, or have you ever been involved in illegal activity?

I would recommend to you as a pastor to present yourself verbally, and physically, with Jesus as your example. You have been very unkind to many on this forum and speak very worldly and rude. Your quit a thing when you question the entire world around you about what they have done. You seem to allow ones sins forgiveness and others are held to the torment of your power. Pickle you have placed yourself in a dangerous position.
You have but a short time and you are working intently to kill, steal and destroy ministries and peoples lives. My friend the Gates of Hell can not prevail against God's church and when Jesus comes it will be the church triumphant. With you or without you.
Choose ye today whom you will serve.

Posted by: Pickle Feb 1 2007, 12:29 PM

eye witness,

In this case I think I will follow Jesus' example.

No comment.

> QUOTE(Is. 53:7)
>
> "He was oppressed, and he was afflicted, yet he opened not his mouth: he is brought as a lamb to the slaughter, and as a sheep before her shearers is dumb, so he openeth not his mouth."

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Feb 1 2007, 12:38 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Feb 1 2007, 11:22 AM) ☐
>
> I would recommend to you as a pastor to present yourself verbally, and physically, with Jesus as your example. You have been very unkind to many on this forum and speak very worldly and rude. Your quit a thing when you question the entire world around you about what they have done. You seem to allow ones sins forgiveness and others are held to the torment of your power. Pickle you have placed yourself in a dangerous position.
> You have but a short time and you are working intently to kill, steal and destroy ministries and peoples lives. My friend the Gates of Hell can not prevail against God's church and when Jesus comes it will be the church triumphant. With you or without you.
> Choose ye today whom you will serve.

I can see Pastor Bob Pickle's fruits right here on this forum when I see victims of abuse coming out of the shadows and into the light. He has worked diligently to open the way for them to begin healing.

I have seen Pastor Tommy Shelton's fruits in the tormented testimonies of the Clem brothers, Brad Dunning and the mother of a victim (who was 8 or 9 when abused).

It is pretty easy to see who is choosing to serve the Lord and who is choosing to serve Satan and Self.

Posted by: eye witness Feb 1 2007, 01:38 PM

> QUOTE(Pickle @ Feb 1 2007, 12:29 PM) ☐
>
> eye witness,
>
> In this case I think I will follow Jesus' example.
>
> No comment.

What a wonderful Jesus. He bore the sins of many. Tommy Shelton, Gailon Joy, Eye Witness, Pickle and a world of people full of violence and sin. He died for the trangressions of all. As you have accepted that forgiveness, remember it was forgiveness for all.

Posted by: Clay Feb 1 2007, 01:41 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Feb 1 2007, 01:38 PM) ☐
>
> What a wonderful Jesus. He bore the sins of many. Tommy Shelton, Gailon Joy, Eye Witness, Pickle and a world of people full of violence and sin. He died for the trangressions of all. As you have > accepted that forgiveness, remember it was forgiveness for all.

typical adventist.... minimize the actions, ignore the problem, discount the testimony of others, and if it still comes out, then preach forgiveness so it will go away.....

I forgive you Eyewitness... now will you go away?

Posted by: eye witness Feb 1 2007, 03:03 PM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Feb 1 2007, 01:41 PM) ☐
>
> typical adventist.... minimize the actions, ignore the problem, discount the testimony of others, and if it still comes out, then preach forgiveness so it will go away.....
>
> I forgive you Eyewitness... now will you go away?

If you only knew more than you do, then your mind would not draw conclusions about people! With out the preaching of forgiveness, Clay, and Christ our Righteousness, there is a good possibility that no one would receive salvation. Salvation by works don't fit the bill. God knows the details you don't need them. God know the heart and my friend you can't read.... Tommy's or your own. It's deceitfully wicked!

Posted by: Grace Feb 1 2007, 03:14 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Feb 1 2007, 08:38 PM) ☐
>
> What a wonderful Jesus. He bore the sins of many. Tommy Shelton, Gailon Joy, Eye Witness, Pickle and a world of people full of violence and sin. He died for the trangressions of all. As you have accepted that forgiveness, remember it was forgiveness for all.

For all who confess and repent.

Posted by: watchbird Feb 1 2007, 03:19 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Feb 1 2007, 04:03 PM) ☐
>
> If you only knew more than you do, then your mind would not draw conclusions about people! With > out the preaching of forgiveness, Clay, and Christ our Righteousness, there is a good possibility that no one would receive salvation. Salvation by works don't fit the bill. God knows the details you don't need them. God know the heart and my friend you can't read.... Tommy's or your own. It's deceitfully wicked!

Repentance and reformtion are not "works". They are part of salvation by God's Grace.

Restitution is not "works". It is part of what is required of every one who wears the robe of Christ's righteousness.

We cannot see the heart. But we can surely see the actions that the heart prompts. And we have not seen any evidence of any changed heart on the part of any of the abusers connected with 3abn.... yourself included!

Don't come preaching forgiveness while you are aiding and abetting someone to cover their sins. It is God's place to forgive. Our place is to protect the victims... and to do all we can to prevent others from becoming victimized.

Posted by: eye witness Feb 1 2007, 04:02 PM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Feb 1 2007, 03:19 PM)
>
> Repentance and reformtion are not "works". They are part of salvation by God's Grace.
>
> Restitution is not "works". It is part of what is required of every one who wears the robe of Christ's righteousness.
>
> We cannot see the heart. But we can surely see the actions that the heart prompts. And we have not seen any evidence of any changed heart on the part of any of the abusers connected with 3abn.... yourself included!
>
> Don't come preaching forgiveness while you are aiding and abetting someone to cover their sins. It is God's place to forgive. Our place is to protect the victims... and to do all we can to prevent others from becoming victimized.

Watchbird who are the victims? And who are you victimizing? Is God's grace only written by your fingers? Repentance who needs to repent besides you and I? Reformation, tell me about reformation, is this not a work of the heart also? Do you know any of these peoples hearts? Tell me now about restitution, what is the depth of restitution and for whom would this resitution ride on? First we must be clear on what was taken and from whom. Tell me Watchbird what would the restitution be? Clearly there is a difference between works and salvation by Grace through Jesus Christ. Works are taking the law and anything that God has given to us and proceeding with any of it "on our own". We can't make the law holy, it already is. We can do nothing in and of ourselves otherwise it is works.
Please Watchbird tell me who is it that owns the guilt in this?

Posted by: erik Feb 1 2007, 04:16 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Feb 1 2007, 02:02 PM)
>
> Watchbird who are the victims? And who are you victimizing? Is God's grace only written by your fingers? Repentance who needs to repent besides you and I? Reformation, tell me about reformation, is this not a work of the heart also? Do you know any of these peoples hearts? Tell me now about restitution, what is the depth of restitution and for whom would this resitution ride on? First we must be clear on what was taken and from whom. Tell me Watchbird what would the restitution be? Clearly there is a difference between works and salvation by Grace through Jesus Christ. Works are taking the law and anything that God has given to us and proceeding with any of it "on our own". We can't make the law holy, it already is. We can do nothing in and of ourselves otherwise it is works.
> Please Watchbird tell me who is it that owns the guilt in this?

EW,

So just what are you suggesting be done then, NOTHING????????????????????????????

i am sorry but that is as they say here a dog that can not hunt period.

erik

Posted by: watchbird Feb 1 2007, 04:23 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Feb 1 2007, 05:02 PM)
>
> Watchbird who are the victims? And who are you victimizing? Is God's grace only written by your fingers? Repentance who needs to repent besides you and I? Reformation, tell me about reformation, is this not a work of the heart also? Do you know any of these peoples hearts? Tell me now about restitution, what is the depth of restitution and for whom would this resitution ride on? First we must be clear on what was taken and from whom. Tell me Watchbird what would the restitution be? Clearly there is a difference between works and salvation by Grace through Jesus Christ. Works are taking the law and anything that God has given to us and proceeding with any of it "on our own". We can't make the law holy, it already is. We can do nothing in and of ourselves otherwise it is works.
> Please Watchbird tell me who is it that owns the guilt in this?

You are almost... but not quite.... amusing.

If, as you claim, you are an "eye witness" then you know all of the answers to your questions about who the victims are without consulting me. Even if you are NOT an "eye witness" as you claim to be... the records are here... many of the victims have spoken... you may read and collect information that would answer your questions.

As for your excursions-diversions into theological discourse... forget it... I am well aware of the rudiments of salvation.... AND the ethical requirements of living by the gospel that has saved us. All you are doing here is distracting ... and you know that very well... keep it up... you are exposing the shallowness of your soul and of your understanding. The world is watching. You are writing your own record for all to read.

We are reading... we are watching... we are paying attention.

Posted by: erik Feb 1 2007, 05:12 PM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Feb 1 2007, 02:23 PM) ☐
>
> You are almost... but not quite.... amusing.
>
> If, as you claim, you are an "eye witness" then you know all of the answers to your questions about who the victims are without consulting me. Even if you are NOT an "eye witness" as you claim to be... the records are here... many of the victims have spoken... you may read and collect information that would answer your questions.
>
> As for your excursions-diversions into theological discourse... forget it... I am well aware of the rudiments of salvation.... AND the ethical requirements of living by the gospel that has saved us. All you are doing here is distracting ... and you know that very well... keep it up... you are exposing the shallowness of your soul and of your understanding. The world is watching. You are writing your own record for all to read.
>
> We are reading... we are watching... we are paying attention.

watchbird,

If i did not know better i would almost guess this is the man in question, but i know we are not supposed to figure out names so i will not spell it out.

erik

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Feb 1 2007, 05:43 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Feb 1 2007, 03:02 PM) ☐
>
> Watchbird who are the victims? And who are you victimizing? Is God's grace only written by your fingers? Repentance who needs to repent besides you and I? Reformation, tell me about reformation, is this not a work of the heart also? Do you know any of these peoples hearts? Tell me now about restitution, what is the depth of restitution and for whom would this resitution ride on? First we must be clear on what was taken and from whom. Tell me Watchbird what would the restitution be? Clearly there is a difference between works and salvation by Grace through Jesus Christ. Works are taking the law and anything that God has given to us and proceeding with any of it "on our own". We can't make the law holy, it already is. We can do nothing in and of ourselves otherwise it is works.
> Please Watchbird tell me who is it that owns the guilt in this?

What is our part as sinners? To accept Jesus' robe of righteousness.

Can someone, say a pastor for example, who has abused and betrayed young people, accept this saving robe of righteousness while he has not yet approached his victims and asked for their forgiveness or inquired what can be done to help them heal?

PB

Posted by: watchbird Feb 1 2007, 05:46 PM

> QUOTE(erik @ Feb 1 2007, 06:12 PM)
>
> watchbird,
>
> If i did not know better i would almost guess this is the man in question, but i know we are not supposed to figure out names so i will not spell it out.
> erik

Well... it is true that he is a preacher, so the tone would fit. But OTOH, the profile says "female", so let's assume that she was being truthful to at least this extent.....

Posted by: Pickle Feb 1 2007, 06:02 PM

eye witness,

You have tried to come down hard on people who would like to call sin, all sin, by its right name. And yet you also accused Gailon of embezzling without giving the clarification that he gave, that he got caught on the technicality that if you hold on to an amount of money someone else owes you, in Vermont you can be convicted of embezzlement.

Now wouldn't you say that your accusation was deceptive, just like Danny's is everytime he says it? Or do you have evidence that explains away Gailon's explanation, but like Danny, you are hiding that evidence so no one can see it?

Do you work for Danny?

Why would you call me a pastor? I'm just curious.

Posted by: Green Cochoa Feb 1 2007, 06:16 PM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Feb 1 2007, 03:19 PM)
>
> Repentance and reformtion are not "works". They are part of salvation by God's Grace.
>
> Restitution is not "works". It is part of what is required of every one who wears the robe of Christ's righteousness.
>
> We cannot see the heart. But we can surely see the actions that the heart prompts. And we have not seen any evidence of any changed heart on the part of any of the abusers connected with 3abn.... yourself included!
>
> Don't come preaching forgiveness while you are aiding and abetting someone to cover their sins. It is God's place to forgive. Our place is to protect the victims... and to do all we can to prevent others from becoming victimized.

Er....whatzat? Ellen White, speaking of the Matthew 18 principle, which most certainly applies to this case, said:

"If thy brother shall trespass against thee, go and tell him his fault between thee and him alone: if he shall hear thee, thou hast gained thy brother" (Matt. 18:15). This is the way in which misunderstandings are to be settled. Speaking alone, and in the spirit of Christ to the one who is in fault, will often remove the difficulty. Show Christlike love for your brother by seeking to adjust the difficulty "between thee and him alone." Talk quietly together. Let no angry words escape your lips. Present the subject in a way that will appeal to his best judgment. And if he will hear you, you have gained him as a friend. {UL 106.2}
Whatever the character of the offense may be, this does not change the plan God has made for the settlement of misunderstandings and personal injuries. Act out the spirit of Christ. Take the recipe God has provided, and carry it to the spiritually diseased [one]. Give him the remedy that will cure the disease of disaffection. Do your part to help him. Feel that it is a duty and privilege to do this, for the sake of the unity and peace of the church, which is very dear to the heart of Christ. He does not want any wound to remain unhealed on any member of His church. All heaven is interested in the interview between the injured member and the one who has been guilty of error. After settling the difficulty, pray together, and angels of God will come to you and bless you. There is music in heaven over this union. {UL 106.3}
As the erring one accepts the testimony borne, and gives evidence of true repentance, the sunshine of heaven fills his heart. Hearts are drawn together. The healing oil of love removes the disease and soreness of the wrong. The Holy Spirit binds heart to heart. {UL 106.4}
Those who have been united in Christian fellowship offer prayer to God, and pledge themselves to deal justly, to love mercy, and to walk humbly with God. If they have wronged others, they continue the work of repentance, confession, and restitution; and the disease is healed. They are fully set to do good to one another. This is the fulfilling of the law of Christ. {UL 106.5}
Repentance, confession, and restitution are all required. But these cannot atone for the sin, for God has been wronged in the person of His saints. The Lord Jesus alone is able to atone for sin, by the application of His blood, shed for the guilt of the sinner. His blood cleanses from all sin.--Manuscript 47, April 2, 1902, "Lessons From the Eighteenth of Matthew." {UL 106.6}

Regarding the "works" of repentance, confession, restitution, and reformation there are over a hundred references to these (as works) in her writings. Perhaps the Bible uses the word "fruits" in place of "works" at times. And by their "fruits" we shall know them!

105

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ So Let It Be Written

Posted by: seraph|m Jan 26 2007, 07:38 PM

OK, as one outside looking in, help a sista understand what the purpose of striking any reference to Linda from things related to 3ABN, as noted in the article below?

Such action draws my mind to the movie "The Ten Commandments" where Pharoh had Moses name stricken from everything:

> QUOTE
>
> Sethi: Let the name of Moses be stricken from every book and tablet. Stricken from every pylon and obelisk of Egypt. Let the name of Moses be unheard and unspoken, erased from the memory of man, for all time.

At this site, http://www.atoday.com/238.0.html
At this site, http://www.religion-info.com/christtv.html%5d
http://www.atoday.com/6.0.html?&tx_ttnews%5Btt_news%5D=321&tx_ttnews%5BbackPid%5D=1&cHash=b7534bfb09

Now what you see on the 3ABN site is that "I" (Danny) had a vision and I was given some help from another pastor friend etc. To that my grandmother would say: Baby a lie don't care who tell it.

It is a fact that Linda is, and always will be, the co-founder of the 3ABN ministry? Regardless of ANY attempts to deny it that fact will not change. Was she supposed to just fall of the face of the earth after her name was struck from things related to the ministry? What, are supporters of 3ABN, who have a genuine love and concern for Linda, supposed to do, make believe she no longer exists?

How can this ministries leadership, as a whole, continue to "claim" to be honest and above board when those in charge seem to be attempting to negate any contributions made by Linda to that very same ministry.

God don't like ugly.

Sorry, this sista is just not feelin that at all.

Thankfully mention of Linda has not been "struck", as the article above puts it, from everything on line.

3ABN: Three Angels Broadcasting Network - Independent 24-hour Christian Television Network established by Danny and Linda Shelton in 1984 with a mission to reach the world with the gospel...

More links:
http://atoday.net/197.0.html
http://bg.mixonline.com/ar/audio_bradley_soundelux_mics/

Peace, and Shabbat Shalom

Posted by: Noahswife Jan 26 2007, 08:30 PM

The first link does not seem to be working.

[url=http://atoday.net/197.0.html]

This AT article is not dated. But I assume it was written in 2004? Does anyone know where on the time line the publication of this article fits with other events being discussed here that happened after Danny was interviewed for the article. Also does anyone know what ever became of the AP reporter's article that is referred to?

Did Danny respond in writing or in public to this.....?

The AT writer's impressions and analysis of Danny's behavior and attitude on the issues discussed are consistent with how he has behaved since. And the author said.....

"What once was seen as Danny Shelton's precocious, hands-on style is now interpreted by critics as heavy-handed control of 3ABN's small, compliant board. "

Interesting.

nw

Posted by: inga Jan 26 2007, 10:36 PM

> QUOTE(seraph|m @ Jan 26 2007, 08:38 PM)
>
> OK, as one outside looking in, help a sista understand what the purpose of striking any reference to Linda from things related to 3ABN, as noted in the article below?
>
> Such action draws my mind to the movie "The Ten Commandments" where Pharoh had Moses name stricken from everything:
>
> At this site, http://www.atoday.com/238.0.html
> At this site, http://www.religion-info.com/christtv.html%5d"Founder" > http://www.atoday.com/6.0.html?&tx_ttnews%5Btt_news%5D=321&tx_ttnews%5BbackPid%5D=1&cHash=b7534bfb09
>
> Now what you see on the 3ABN site is that "I" (Danny) had a vision and I was given some help from another pastor friend etc. To that my grandmother would say: Baby a lie don't care who tell it.
>
> ....
>
> Sorry, this sista is just not feelin that at all.
>
> Thankfully mention of Linda has not been "struck", as the article above puts it, from everything on line.
>
> 3ABN: Three Angels Broadcasting Network - Independent 24-hour Christian Television Network > established by Danny and Linda Shelton in 1984 with a mission to reach the world with the gospel...

Well, Seraphim, it is clear that someone from 3ABN Admin is reading this board, because already that article has been changed and Linda's name has been purged! (The URL you posted no longer works and this URL http://www.religion-info.com/christtv.html
now reads:
"[Channel] Three Angels Broadcasting Network (3ABN) , which offers 24x7 Christian programming that is broadcast on UHF stations via satellite uplink stations in North America. 3ABN Christian programming is also available in parts of Russia, Europe, Africa, the Middle East, and Asia. 3ABN was founded by Danny Shelton in Southern Illinois in 1984. "

The Shelton folks have no shame!!!!!!

Posted by: roxe Jan 26 2007, 11:01 PM

not only do they have no shame... they don't read to the bottom of that site page either!!

> QUOTE
> So, before you donate money to any television ministry, it may be wise to check them out first.
> Does the minister live a life of excess luxury?
> From the Holy Bible (- The New Testament in the Language of Today by William F. Beck (B.A., B.D., M.S.T., Th.D.), 1963 Concordia Publishing House) ,
> 1. Jesus looked around and said to His disciples, "How hard it is for rich people to get into God's kingdom." - Mark 10:23
> 2. Jesus Christ of Nazareth warned: "No servant can be the slave of two masters....You can't serve God and money" - Luke 16:13
> (emphasis mine)

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jan 26 2007, 11:06 PM

Mercilations!

Posted by: seraph|m Jan 26 2007, 11:56 PM

> QUOTE(inga @ Jan 26 2007, 11:36 PM)
>
> Well, Seraphim, it is clear that someone from 3ABN Admin is reading this board, because already that article has been changed and Linda's name has been purged! (The URL you posted no longer works and this URL http://www.religion-info.com/christtv.html
> now reads:
> "[Channel] Three Angels Broadcasting Network (3ABN) , which offers 24x7 Christian programming that is broadcast on UHF stations via satellite uplink stations in North America. 3ABN Christian programming is also available in parts of Russia, Europe, Africa, the Middle East, and Asia. 3ABN was founded by Danny Shelton in Southern Illinois in 1984. "
>
> The Shelton folks have no shame!!!!!!

Inga:

I don't believe her name was listed on the particular article you are referring to, when I originally found it. But, at some point prior, it may have listed her as well. I apologize for any confusion.

The questions asked however should still be addressed. Seeing that this "ministry" is supposed to be for Gods glory, and to draw others to Jesus, how is God glorified by removing any evidence of Linda's contributions?

Posted by: seraph|m Jan 27 2007, 10:02 AM

> QUOTE(seraph|m @ Jan 27 2007, 12:56 AM)
>
> Inga:
>
> I don't believe her name was listed on the particular article you are referring to, when I originally found it. But, at some point prior, it may have listed her as well. I apologize for any confusion.
>
> The questions asked however should still be addressed. Seeing that this "ministry" is supposed to be for Gods glory, and to draw others to Jesus, how is God glorified by removing any evidence of Linda's contributions?

Posted by: Treniece Jan 27 2007, 11:35 AM

A sad situation.

Posted by: inga Jan 27 2007, 05:08 PM

> QUOTE(seraph|m @ Jan 27 2007, 12:56 AM)
>
> Inga:
>
> I don't believe her name was listed on the particular article you are referring to, when I originally found it. But, at some point prior, it may have listed her as well. I apologize for any confusion.
>
> The questions asked however should still be addressed. Seeing that this "ministry" is supposed to be for Gods glory, and to draw others to Jesus, how is God glorified by removing any evidence of Linda's contributions?

The URL you supplied led to a "page not found" error. So there must have been some change since you posted the URL and when I tried it. (Then I searched the site and came up with another reference to 3ABN that falsely claims that Danny Shelton, without Linda, founded the ministry.)

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 27 2007, 05:34 PM

> QUOTE(inga @ Jan 27 2007, 03:08 PM)
>
> The URL you supplied led to a "page not found" error. So there must have been some change since you posted the URL and when I tried it. (Then I searched the site and came up with another reference to 3ABN that falsely claims that Danny Shelton, without Linda, founded the ministry.)

COMPLETLY false, another lie slithered out of his mouth, as though no one notices, out there as if people were just born yesterday. Does anyone realize how this makes Linda feel? Can you all imagine? Can you see why she feels about 3abn the way she does STILL (see her website). It's like one of her children. She made great pains for that ministry, and loves it dearly. What a mess he has made of this whole thing. He has tried to erase her, but God won't let it happen. Even the rocks can cry out when no one else will.

Posted by: seraph|m Jan 28 2007, 12:56 AM

> QUOTE(inga @ Jan 27 2007, 06:08 PM)
>
> The URL you supplied led to a "page not found" error. So there must have been some change since you posted the URL and when I tried it. (Then I searched the site and came up with another reference to 3ABN that falsely claims that Danny Shelton, without Linda, founded the ministry.)

Yes, I've come across a couple of places where he has made that claim also. That is the reason I was impressed to asked why is that lie being told when, for something like 20 years, the original stance was that THEY, Linda and Danny, CO-FOUNDED 3ABN. The supporters of this "ministry" have heard this and read it over many many years, so let us pray that these supporters will see this double minded man for what he is, get their heads out of the sand, and realize that something is seriously wrong.

Or does this "bro." really think that their viewers are a bunch of... silly woman laden with sin... seeking after teachers having itching ears... and will just say how could we have thought otherwise. Why of course I'll keep sending money to this "ministry":blink:

BTW, I did not post ALL the places where they are both still listed as co-founders, because it is obvious that "revisions" will be made, if at all possible.

Posted by: Observer Jan 28 2007, 05:08 AM

> QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jan 27 2007, 04:34 PM)
>
> COMPLETLY false, another lie slithered out of his mouth, as though no one notices, out there as if people were just born yesterday. Does anyone realize how this makes Linda feel? Can you all imagine? Can you see why she feels about 3abn the way she does STILL (see her website). It's like > one of her children. She made great pains for that ministry, and loves it dearly. What a mess he has made of this whole thing. He has tried to erase her, but God won't let it happen. Even the rocks can cry out when no one else will.

Just for interest's sake:

I watched "Exalting the Word" yesterday with Shelley Quinn. Linda was listed in the credits at the end of the program. She has not been erased from the series, it seems.

Posted by: seraph|m Jan 29 2007, 01:42 PM

> QUOTE(Observer @ Jan 28 2007, 06:08 AM) ☐
>
> Just for interest's sake:
>
> I watched "Exalting the Word" yesterday with Shelley Quinn. Linda was listed in the credits at the end of the program. She has not been erased from the series, it seems.

Let's see how often that happens, if ever again.

Posted by: roxe Jan 30 2007, 01:14 AM

> QUOTE(Observer @ Jan 28 2007, 04:08 AM) ☐
>
> Just for interest's sake:
> I watched "Exalting the Word" yesterday with Shelley Quinn. Linda was listed in the credits at the end of the program. She has not been erased from the series, it seems.

Observer,
i noticed a year and half ago that Linda's name was in the credits every time i watched Shelley's program. perhaps it is still there as a silent signal from Shelley for some reason; or perhaps she refuses to retape the series...

whatever, i'm glad it is still there...

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jan 30 2007, 08:58 AM

I do find it interesting that when we "discuss" something a change takes place. That says a grip to me....

What does it say?

Someone (directly) from 3ABN that has computer capabilities/access is "changing" stuff slowly but surely on websites...

...and that's sad indeed.... Like folks gonna jes die and not know that Linda Shelton did exist?

Like all the folks around the world that remember "another woman" sitting up next to him are gonna forget that the woman existed? Come on nah!

Posted by: PaperTigers Jan 30 2007, 10:16 AM

> QUOTE(roxe @ Jan 30 2007, 03:14 AM)
>
> Observer,
> i noticed a year and half ago that Linda's name was in the credits every time i watched Shelley's program. perhaps it is still there as a silent signal from Shelley for some reason; or perhaps she refuses to retape the series...
>
> whatever, i'm glad it is still there...

unfortunately it's not a matter of retaping the program... just relaying the close or background and credits... i forget which in this case

---

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 30 2007, 11:32 AM

> QUOTE(Observer @ Jan 28 2007, 04:08 AM)
>
> Just for interest's sake:
>
> I watched "Exalting the Word" yesterday with Shelley Quinn. Linda was listed in the credits at the end of the program. She has not been erased from the series, it seems.

I have seen it there also. What I have found is that it is on some but not on others. The credits with the leafy green background do not contain her name as far as I can tell.

Posted by: princessdi Jan 30 2007, 12:43 PM

Do you think it will still be there for the next show? They just kill me with saying they don't have time to be online, but you can sure watch 3ABN and see they have been dong just that!

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Jan 30 2007, 09:32 AM)

> I have seen it there also. What I have found is that it is on some but not on others. The credits with the leafy green background do not contain her name as far as I can tell.

Posted by: Clay Jan 30 2007, 12:49 PM

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Jan 30 2007, 12:43 PM) ☐
>
> Do you think it will still be there for the next show? They just kill me with saying they don't have time to be online, but you can sure watch 3ABN and see they have been dong just that!

what do you expect..... more lies....

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 30 2007, 01:28 PM

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Jan 30 2007, 11:43 AM) ☐
>
> Do you think it will still be there for the next show? They just kill me with saying they don't have time to be online, but you can sure watch 3ABN and see they have been dong just that!

The February 3abn monthly guide has a red notice on the outside edge that advertises an upcoming series by Jay Gallimore on The Seven Trumpets! It hasn't been too very long, December 3, 2006, that sister posted the email from Hal Steenson regarding John Lomacang's series that covered the subject.

http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?showtopic=11679

The discussion on that thread ended just a little over a month ago. Perhaps someone was paying attention!

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jan 30 2007, 04:21 PM

☒ sn

Posted by: princessdi Jan 30 2007, 06:04 PM

They should just join under their own screen names, etc. All this sneaking on here, sending spies. We ain't scurrred to talk to Danny to his face or any on fht rest of them........I believe we are anyway.

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Jan 30 2007, 11:28 AM) ☐
>
> The February 3abn monthly guide has a red notice on the outside edge that advertises an upcoming > series by Jay Gallimore on The Seven Trumpets! It hasn't been too very long, December 3, 2006, that sister posted the email from Hal Steenson regarding John Lomacang's series that covered the subject.

>
> http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?showtopic=11679
>
> The discussion on that thread ended just a little over a month ago. Perhaps someone was paying attention!

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jan 30 2007, 07:02 PM

"Bout it, bout it..."
Master P

Printable Version of Topic

106

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ Email From Danny Shelton

Posted by: calvin Jul 17 2006, 04:46 PM

Calvin, I'm very disappointed that you would read a letter from this so called Dr. and support it without even attempting to find out if it is true. This is not the Christian way. This Dr. knows nothing of me except what Linda has told him. We have only talked a few minutes throughout this last 2 1/2 years. This letter is a lie and I'm surprised that you would stake your credibility online to take sides with them. He and Linda did have an affair. Why do you think that the pastor who counseled us, John Lomacang, the 3ABN board, including the Illinois Conference Pres. ect support me. They know things you do not. We are not out to hurt Linda. If you read the chat rooms it's She, Johann, Arild and Derrell. Not 3ABN people talking about this situation. Besides we have been divorced for over 2 yrs.
Yes, she doesn't use her real name on your chat room but we know who she is. The way you are going about this is not Christ like. If you want to know the truth you are supposed to try to find out. Otherwise it is just gossip. What a shame that your chatroom is being used to try to destroy the work of the gospel rather than to spread Jesus to the world.
This Dr. does not tell you that he has told John Lomacang, Brenda Walsh, and even his own Norwegian Conf. Pres that he, the Dr., believes that Linda is in love with him, but that he is not in love with her. He told this while we were married. He was trying to save his own name.
But now, 2 yrs after our divorce, he has a lot to gain to try to keep Linda's ministry going. In fact, $100,000. In 2004 instead of encouraging Linda to stay with me, They bought a house together. He put up $100,000 and she put up the other approx. $100,000. Yes, the court papers say it is a 10 year loan, but the Dr. knows that the nearly $250,000 that that 3ABN gave Linda as a separation agreement is about depleted. Linda has said that she is not going to work. She said, and I quote, "I'm not going to cook hamburgers the rest of my life." She wants people to support her financially. The Dr. has to help her in order to get his own money back.
Please call John Lomacang, before you ruin your own credibility and hear another side of the story.
XXXX or XXXX

Thanks,
Danny
We do not want our side on the chat rooms, but I do think that you should not encourage your supporters to get involved in something they know nothing about.

Danny Shelton

Posted by: princessdi Jul 17 2006, 04:54 PM

Ok, I have not even read this email, yet, but I told them in LC this morning, it was coming. We were going to hear from somebody in Danny's camp, because talking about what happened is one thing, but talking about doing something about it, especially getting the info to his $$upporters was going to strike a nerve. Ok more after I finish reading..........BTW, is it possible to contact him directly? I dont' mind saying what I have to say directly to him, if possible.

Posted by: watchbird Jul 17 2006, 05:05 PM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Jul 17 2006, 04:46 PM)
>
> Calvin, I'm very disappointed that you would read a letter from this so called Dr. and support it without even attempting to find out if it is true. This is not the Christian way. This Dr. knows nothing of me except what Linda has told him. We have only talked a few minutes throughout this last 2 1/2 years. This letter is a lie and I'm surprised that you would stake your credibility online to take sides with them. He and Linda did have an affair. Why do you think that the pastor who counseled us, John Lomacang, the 3ABN board, including the Illinois Conference Pres. ect support me. They know things you do not. We are not out to hurt Linda. If you read the chat rooms it's She, Johann, Arild and Derrell. Not 3ABN people talking about this situation. Besides we have been divorced for over 2 yrs.
> Yes, she doesn't use her real name on your chat room but we know who she is.
> The way you are going about this is not Christ like. If you want to know the truth you are supposed to try to find out. Otherwise it is just gossip. What a shame that your chatroom is being used to try to destroy the work of the gospel rather than to spread Jesus to the world.
> This Dr. does not tell you that he has told John Lomacang, Brenda Walsh, and even his own Norwegian Conf. Pres that he, the Dr., believes that Linda is in love with him, but that he is not in love with her. He told this while we were married. He was trying to save his own name.
> But now, 2 yrs after our divorce, he has a lot to gain to try to keep Linda's ministry going. In fact, $100,000. In 2004 instead of encouraging Linda to stay with me, They bought a house together. He put up $100,000 and she put up the other approx. $100,000. Yes, the court papers say it is a 10 year loan, but the Dr. knows that the nearly $250,000 that that 3ABN gave Linda as a separation agreement is about depleted. Linda has said that she is not going to work. She said, and I quote, "I'm not going to cook hamburgers the rest of my life." She wants people to support her financially. The Dr. has to help her in order to get his own money back.
> Please call John Lomacang, before you ruin your own credibility and hear another side of the story.
> XXXX or XXXX
>
> Thanks,
> Danny
> We do not want our side on the chat rooms, but I do think that you should not encourage your supporters to get involved in something they know nothing about.
> Danny Shelton

.... b ....Well, what did we expect? .... than ???? ......

????

Somehow this brings back to mind a story my uncle used to tell about a man who could never be made to speak ill of any person. And finally, in exasperation one day, one of his friends exclaimed, "I'll bet you would even find something good to say about the devil himself."

It took a moment before the man responded, but when he did, he said, "Well, you have to admit, he sure is persistent."

And we do have to admit that Danny is persistent--and even consistent.

What I'm curious about is which one of us who is writing here that he thinks is Linda. Should we all play the game of "Will the real Linda please stand up?" No takers? I kinda thought there might not be. So OK..... It's back to our regular programing of "Pin the tail on the donkey".

Stay tuned......

Posted by: beartrap Jul 17 2006, 05:14 PM

Why is Linda always asking me for updates on whats happening at BSDA if she is online here posting? Bluff, Danny, bluff. Danny also said he had all the proof that Johann wrote the Televangelist, and that Linda dictated it to him. Knowing the author quite well, I know that nobody dictated it to anyone, and Johann had nothing to do with it. rofl

---

Posted by: seraph|m Jul 17 2006, 05:16 PM

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Jul 17 2006, 06:54 PM)
>
> Ok, I have not even read this email, yet, but I told them in LC this morning, it was coming. We were going to hear from somebody in Danny's camp, because talking about what happened is one thing, but talking about doing something about it, especially getting the info to his $$upporters was going to strike a nerve. Ok more after I finish reading..........BTW, is it possible to contact him directly? I dont' mind saying what I have to say directly to him, if possible.

Hmmmm, it does not look like the ink from that suggestion was even dry before a response was in route.

I suppose Danny never bothered reading this portion of the board rules:

You remain solely responsible for the content of your messages, and you agree to indemnify and hold harmless BlackSDA forum, the owners of this site and their agents with respect to any claim based upon transmission and/or content of your message(s).

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 17 2006, 05:25 PM

> QUOTE(beartrap @ Jul 17 2006, 07:14 PM)

> ..... Knowing the author quite well, I know that nobody dictated it to anyone, and Johann had nothing to do with it. rofl

It's getting hot in herrrrrr!

> QUOTE(seraph|m @ Jul 17 2006, 07:16 PM)
>
> I suppose Danny never bothered reading this portion of the board rules:
>
> You remain solely responsible for the content of your messages, and you agree to indemnify and hold harmless BlackSDA forum, the owners of this site and their agents with respect to any claim based upon transmission and/or content of your message(s).

Dead on pernt!

What I want to know is if...If....IF she was actually so...."IN THE WRONG" then why did the woman have to have a "GAG" order?

I believe that she has something to say...and that's why you want to shut her up Danny. That's it in a nutshell..... If I'm wrong then prove it. LIFT THE GAG ORDER & PLAY YOUR HAND WIDE OPEN! As long as the GAG is in effect - I ain't hearing nuthin' Danny gotta say....

"This ain't Sabbath School and that Dog ain't a huntin'......"

Posted by: princessdi Jul 17 2006, 05:39 PM

Danny, Danny, Danny! Man you need to give this up. As PrincessDrRe' says lift the gag order ahd let the games begin! Let the chips fall where they may. You have no credibility here as long as you keep insisting she and wrong, but you are afraid to let her speak.

The problem is. I am basically appalled by your actions and that of the 3ABN board, Pastor Lomacang. Those are the only actions I have to go by, because, once again, we have not heard from Linda. Point is if she was dead wrong, as someone who promotes your ministry as a leader in chritian living, you were supposed to remember that in the midst of this mess. Instead you gagged Linda and then proceeded to tell anybody who would listen your side of things, including coming here and lying to us. I say lying because the timeline suugest that you were busy trying to get a quickie divorce, while telling us you and Linda were being counselled and spending a lot of time together. Lying because then you said "spiritual adutlery" because she stayed on the phone too long with the Dr. and you just had no idea why other than an affair. Now, you come here accusing her of an out and out affair, Why because somebody helped her find a place to live after you kicked the to the curb? It is a dark stain on your character for you not to have even mentioned that your stepson was being was having issues and being treated by the Dr.

Oh and I don't buy the flipping burgers part either. Even if she did say it, she should not have to, if the division of marital property is fair and equitable. Why should the co-founder of that ministry be flipping burgers while you live well? Both can do so, if things are done deecently and in order. See so, the others testimonies don't even have to come into play for me. My disappointment lies with you for your actions. It also lies with Pastor Lomacang(I knew and respected he and his wife when they pastored here in Northern CA. He has compromised himslf in supporting your actions), and the 3ABN board for supporting you also.

I do have more to say, but would really rather say them to you directly.

Posted by: Johann Jul 17 2006, 05:41 PM

> QUOTE(beartrap @ Jul 18 2006, 01:14 AM) ☐
>
> Why is Linda always asking me for updates on whats happening at BSDA if she is online here posting? Bluff, Danny, bluff. Danny also said he had all the proof that Johann wrote the Televangelist, and that Linda dictated it to him. Knowing the author quite well, I know that nobody dictated it to anyone, and Johann had nothing to do with it. ☒ ☒ rofl

And when Linda hasn't talked to you for a while, beartrap, then she asks me what is going on. She did just a few hours ago. I try to tell her some real nice things about many of you. She will laugh when one of us reads Danny's letter to her. By now she has two years of experience in reading and hearing all of the false accusations from Danny. Fortunately some of us have associated long enough to know what is true and what is false.

It took me a while to learn the real 3ABN definition of the word TRUTH. Let me just say that it is a far cry from what most of us have had to learn in our Christian experience and by studying the WORD of God. I suspect Kay's book uses the 3ABN definition for truth in some of her stories.

I also received an e-mail from Danny today. He hadn't written a word of it himself, but it was a copy of what you, beartrap, wrote to him back 4 months ago. I still haven't figured out why he sent it to me just now? He must still remember some of us.

Posted by: simplysaved Jul 17 2006, 05:45 PM

☒ TVsnack.

Posted by: Johann Jul 17 2006, 05:52 PM

> QUOTE(simplysaved @ Jul 18 2006, 01:45 AM) ☐
>
> ☒ TVsnack.

Watching what?

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 17 2006, 05:56 PM

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Jul 17 2006, 07:39 PM)
>
> .... You have no credibility here as long as you keep insisting she and wrong, but you are afraid to let her speak.

....looking all in the face.....

Liar, Liar - pants on fire!

Bring ya best game Danny!

Posted by: beartrap Jul 17 2006, 05:57 PM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jul 17 2006, 06:41 PM)
>
> And when Linda hasn't talked to you for a while, beartrap, then she asks me what is going on. She did just a few hours ago. I try to tell her some real nice things about many of you. She will laugh when one of us reads Danny's letter to her. By now she has two years of experience in reading and hearing all of the false accusations from Danny. Fortunately some of us have associated long enough to know what is true and what is false.
>
> It took me a while to learn the real 3ABN definition of the word TRUTH. Let me just say that it is a far cry from what most of us have had to learn in our Christian experience and by studying the WORD of God. I suspect Kay's book uses the 3ABN definition for truth in some of her stories.
>
> I also received an e-mail from Danny today. He hadn't written a word of it himself, but it was a copy of what you, beartrap, wrote to him back 4 months ago. I still haven't figured out why he sent it to me just now? He must still remember some of us.

Wonder if he ever showed it to Brandy? As you can see, it was meant for her. She has never mentioned it to me.

Posted by: Johann Jul 17 2006, 05:59 PM

> QUOTE(beartrap @ Jul 18 2006, 01:57 AM)
>
> Wonder if he ever showed it to Brandy? As you can see, it was meant for her. She has never mentioned it to me.

Oh Mine! Then he sends it to me 4 moths later?

Posted by: Nuggie Jul 17 2006, 06:02 PM

Oh Danny boy, the truth, the truth is calling
From sea to sea, and down the mountain side
The summer's gone, and all the flowers are dying
'Tis you, 'tis you must go so the truth won't hide.
And don't come ye back when summer's in the meadow
Or when the valley's hushed and white with snow
'Cause the truth will be here in sunshine or in shadow
Oh Danny boy, oh Danny boy, you really have to go.

☒ nop ☒ nop ☒

Posted by: beartrap Jul 17 2006, 06:07 PM

> QUOTE(Nuggie @ Jul 17 2006, 07:02 PM)
>
> Oh Danny boy, the truth, the truth is calling
> From sea to sea, and down the mountain side
> The summer's gone, and all the flowers are dying
> 'Tis you, 'tis you must go so the truth won't hide.
> And don't come ye back when summer's in the meadow
> Or when the valley's hushed and white with snow
> 'Cause the truth will be here in sunshine or in shadow
> Oh Danny boy, oh Danny boy, you really have to go.
>
> ☒ nop ☒ nop ☒

☒ rofl ☒ rofl ☒ ☒ Dying here!!! Please! ☒ rofl ☒ rofl

Posted by: PaperTigers Jul 17 2006, 06:10 PM

> QUOTE(Nuggie @ Jul 17 2006, 08:02 PM)
>
> Oh Danny boy, the truth, the truth is calling
> From sea to sea, and down the mountain side
> The summer's gone, and all the flowers are dying
> 'Tis you, 'tis you must go so the truth won't hide.
> And don't come ye back when summer's in the meadow
> Or when the valley's hushed and white with snow
> 'Cause the truth will be here in sunshine or in shadow
> Oh Danny boy, oh Danny boy, you really have to go.

☒ nop ☒ nop ☒

☒ ☒ rofl ☒ ☒ rofl

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 17 2006, 06:18 PM

> QUOTE(Nuggie @ Jul 17 2006, 08:02 PM) ☐
>
> Oh Danny boy, the truth, the truth is calling
> From sea to sea, and down the mountain side
> The summer's gone, and all the flowers are dying
> 'Tis you, 'tis you must go so the truth won't hide.
> And don't come ye back when summer's in the meadow
> Or when the valley's hushed and white with snow
> 'Cause the truth will be here in sunshine or in shadow
> Oh Danny boy, oh Danny boy, you really have to go.
>
> ☒ nop ☒ nop ☒

I'll sang the tenor.....

☒

Posted by: pmorris68 Jul 17 2006, 06:24 PM

All ya'll need to leave them folks at 3ABN alone ☒ . God will take care of it all in the end. You surely cannot expect these folks to tell the whole story. Leave it alone ya'll no good is going to come from this.

Posted by: Johann Jul 17 2006, 06:28 PM

> QUOTE(pmorris68 @ Jul 18 2006, 02:24 AM) ☐
>
> All ya'll need to leave them folks at 3ABN alone ☒ . God will take care of it all in the end. You surely cannot expect these folks to tell the whole story. Leave it alone ya'll no good is going to come from this.

Did you read Danny's letter?

Posted by: Clay Jul 17 2006, 06:34 PM

And Mr. Shelton would have us believe that he is the most credible person in the universe.... yeah right...

Posted by: calvin Jul 17 2006, 06:37 PM

My response to Danny.

Danny, I don't know you, Linda, Dr. Abrahamsen or Elder Lomacang. I have no reason to believe either of you are more creditable or honest than the other. However the letter from Dr. Abrahamsen has given me cause to believe that there may be more to this than the venting of a few ex-employees. This letter is damaging to you, but Dr. Thompson's letter was equally as damaging to Linda and Dr. Abrahamsen. So, who is lying?

As I forward this letter broadly to the leaders and those of influence in the Adventist church, I am asking for an independent investigation. Would you agree to an investigation? To be fair, Linda and Dr. Abrahamsen the 3ABN board and others will need to participate as well.

I am not interested in the demise of 3ABN. I take my responsible as a local church elder seriously. I believe anyone in church leadership should adhere to high moral and ethnical standards. If what is true that has been said about you, they I want to know why your board, the Adventist church and it's major independent ministries continue to support you? If you have nothing to hide then why not participate in an investigation and clear your name?

By the way, sister on BSDA is not Linda Shelton as it has been rumored nor is she posing as anyone else. Although members can hide behind a screen name they cannot hide their Internet protocol address (IP) which uniquely identifies everyone and the system keeps a log of all IP addresses ever used by each member. The system also provides search tools to compare IP addresses. Linda did an interview on BSDA in October, 2004 and has not been back to BSDA since then.

Keep in mind BSDA is a public open forum, very few issues affecting the Adventist church that are off limit. You are a public figure in the Adventist church, which puts you in play.

oops, typing to fast, made a few grammer errors, but Danny got the message

---

Posted by: beartrap Jul 17 2006, 06:48 PM

> QUOTE(pmorris68 @ Jul 17 2006, 07:24 PM) ☐
>
> All ya'll need to leave them folks at 3ABN alone ☒ . God will take care of it all in the end. You surely cannot expect these folks to tell the whole story. Leave it alone ya'll no good is going to come from this.

Did you ever write to them and tell them to leave us alone? Do you have any idea how many people those folk at 3ABN have maliciously wounded and destroyed over the years? I think alot of Adventists would have yelled at the good Samaritan if they saw him helping that beat up guy. They would have thrown rocks at him, and told him to leave it to God. After all, maybe the guy deserved to be pounded. How could he know the real story behind that victim?

I know it is much easier to "leave it to God" than to stand up for right and say no to evil. Yes, you will probably get hurt in the process, but as Shakespeare said, "The peace of heaven is theirs who raise their sword in such a just, an charitable war."

Posted by: lurker Jul 17 2006, 06:51 PM

I'm sure the good doctor can tell us here whether he said these things to John Lomacang. to Brenda and to his Norwegian conference president or not. He has said and Linda has said that they have not had an affair. What more can they say? I would believe him before I would believe Danny any day of the week. And as I have done a little research into what Danny alledged just in case it might have been true, among other things that I found is that the doctor has been quite a wealthy man for a long time and does not need to "protect his investment" or his reputation by perjuring himself and endangering his eternal life.

The doctor is not just a "so called doctor" but as far as I know is fully credentialed. Danny your letter is dripping with sarcasm and you seem to me to be very paranoid about the chance of Linda talking about you here or in any of the other forums. Why would you think she would do that? You cannot read the motives of anyone's heart although you seem to think you can. And you are ascribing the very worst motives to your "enemies". I don't know who you think is Linda but have you even considered the possibility that she is none of us and is trying to do the Christian thing by living quietly, not speaking ill of you here or anywhere else, and that she only tries to protect her reputation when she is attacked and merely truthfully denies what she is accused of. The pastor who counseled you, John Lomacang, the 3ABN board, including the Illinois Conference President. ect support you because they know what you have told them and they feel that 3ABN has been and is a blessing to the church. Besides, in the past you have had great political power within the church. Anything Linda or others have said has been compared to your version of things and if their reports do not confirm what you alledge, they are said to be liars. If Linda or anyone said anything about the situation it was first understood that since you were to be believed, what they said was not to be taken at face value but was to be searched for hidden meanings and inconsistancies. When I hear you or others on 3ABN make insinuations about Linda, it is quite apparent who you are talking about and that you just must make her look bad. Even if she was guilty (which I do not believe) why must you still be trying to convince everyone after all this time? I don't mean just now after the Dr's letter, but continually during the whole 2 1/2 years?

Posted by: princessdi Jul 17 2006, 07:01 PM

3ABN for ideas on program changes that will make it more "relevant".

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jul 17 2006, 03:52 PM)
>
> Watching what?

Posted by: beartrap Jul 17 2006, 07:07 PM

Well Danny just got caught in another lie when he made this definitive statement "Yes, she doesn't use her real name on your chat room but we know who she is." Did he think that Calvin couldn't figure that one out real quick?

Kinda like the Televangelist deal, huh Danny?

Posted by: princessdi Jul 17 2006, 07:08 PM

Because he can only come from his own frame of reference. He has spent 2 1/2+ plus(because he just didn't think this plan up on the fly) years demonizing this woman, he expects her to do exactly the same to him. Her Godly and christian response is foreign to him.

> QUOTE(lurker @ Jul 17 2006, 04:51 PM) ☐
>
> I'm sure the good doctor can tell us here whether he said these things to John Lomacang. to Brenda and to his Norwegian conference president or not. He has said and Linda has said that they have not had an affair. What more can they say? I would believe him before I would believe Danny any day of the week. And as I have done a little research into what Danny alledged just in case it might have been true, among other things that I found is that the doctor has been quite a wealthy man for a long time and does not need to "protect his investment" or his reputation by perjuring himself and endangering his eternal life.
>
> The doctor is not just a "so called doctor" but as far as I know is fully credentialed. Danny your letter is dripping with sarcasm and you seem to me to be very paranoid about the chance of Linda talking about you here or in any of the other forums. Why would you think she would do that? You cannot read the motives of anyone's heart although you seem to think you can. And you are ascribing the very worst motives to your "enemies". I don't know who you think is Linda but have you even considered the possibility that she is none of us and is trying to do the Christian thing by living quietly, not speaking ill of you here or anywhere else, and that she only tries to protect her reputation when she is attacked and merely truthfully denies what she is accused of. The pastor who counseled you, John Lomacang, the 3ABN board, including the Illinois Conference President. ect support you because they know what you have told them and they feel that 3ABN has been and is a blessing to the church. Besides, in the past you have had great political power within the church. Anything Linda or others have said has been compared to your version of things and if their reports do not confirm what you alledge, they are said to be liars. If Linda or anyone said anything about the situation it was first understood that since you were to be believed, what they said was not to be taken at face value but was to be searched for hidden meanings and inconsistancies. When I hear you or others on 3ABN make insinuations about Linda, it is quite apparent who you are talking about and that you just must make her look bad. Even if she was guilty (which I do not believe) why must you still be trying to convince everyone after all this time? I don't mean just now after the Dr's letter, but continually during the whole 2 1/2 years?

Posted by: Nuggie Jul 17 2006, 07:10 PM

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Jul 17 2006, 08:01 PM) ☐
>
> 3ABN for ideas on program changes that will make it more "relevant".

Stop before you get me put out of my house!!!! ☒ ☒ ☒ ☒ rofl

Posted by: beartrap Jul 17 2006, 07:15 PM

Yes Dr. Abrahamsen is fully credentialed. And I recently spoke with a doctor in Loma Linda who goes to Dr. Abrahamsen for medical help.

Posted by: Johann Jul 17 2006, 07:24 PM

> QUOTE(beartrap @ Jul 18 2006, 03:07 AM)
>
> Well Danny just got caught in another lie when he made this definitive statement "Yes, she doesn't use her real name on your chat room but we know who she is." Did he think that Calvin couldn't figure that one out real quick?
>
> Kinda like the Televangelist deal, huh Danny?

This is the kind of statements we have grown used to from Danny Shelton. Some people believe he is the only one who knows the truth when he makes statements like that. This is what Linda had to face again and again throughout her ordeal, and I witnessed it many times, verified by Danny's e-mail.

Posted by: Brennen Jul 17 2006, 07:28 PM

Danny, I belive is the one lying. The tone of his reponse is empty and extremly defensive. But [b]we are blowing gaps all through it. It is weak, shallow, and gross inexactitudes. Watch out folks, the one who is lying is speaking loudly about himself.

> QUOTE(calvin @ Jul 17 2006, 05:46 PM)
>
> Calvin, I'm very disappointed that you would read a letter from this so called Dr. and support it without even attempting to find out if it is true. This is not the Christian way. This Dr. knows nothing of me except what Linda has told him. We have only talked a few minutes throughout this last 2 1/2 years. This letter is a lie and I'm surprised that you would stake your credibility online to take sides with them. He and Linda did have an affair. Why do you think that the pastor who counseled us, John Lomacang, the 3ABN board, including the Illinois Conference Pres. ect support me. They know things you do not. We are not out to hurt Linda. If you read the chat rooms it's She, Johann, Arild and Derrell. Not 3ABN people talking about this situation. Besides we have been divorced for over 2 yrs.
> Yes, she doesn't use her real name on your chat room but we know who she is. The way you are going about this is not Christ like. If you want to know the truth you are supposed to try to find out. Otherwise it is just gossip. What a shame that your chatroom is being used to try to destroy the work of the gospel rather than to spread Jesus to the world.
> This Dr. does not tell you that he has told John Lomacang, Brenda Walsh, and even his own Norwegian Conf. Pres that he, the Dr., believes that Linda is in love with him, but that he is not in love with her. He told this while we were married. He was trying to save his own name.
> But now, 2 yrs after our divorce, he has a lot to gain to try to keep Linda's ministry going. In fact, $100,000. In 2004 instead of encouraging Linda to stay with me, They bought a house together. He put up $100,000 and she put up the other approx. $100,000. Yes, the court papers say it is a 10 year loan, but the Dr. knows that the nearly $250,000 that that 3ABN gave Linda as a separation agreement is about depleted. Linda has said that she is not going to work. She said, and I quote, "I'm not going to cook hamburgers the rest of my life." She wants people to support her financially. The Dr. has to help her in order to get his own money > back.

> Please call John Lomacang, before you ruin your own credibility and hear another side of the story.
> XXXX or XXXX
>
> Thanks,
> Danny
> We do not want our side on the chat rooms, but I do think that you should not encourage your supporters to get involved in something they know nothing about.
> Danny Shelton

Posted by: Jvat Jul 17 2006, 07:35 PM

Danny, talk about acting christian! Throwing your wife to the lions instead of quietly putting her away was christian? Do you really have any real idea what it means to be 'christian'? How much longer will you continue to hide behind socalled big names in the SDA church circles? How much longer?

Posted by: simplysaved Jul 17 2006, 07:53 PM

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Jul 17 2006, 08:01 PM) ☐
>
> 3ABN for ideas on program changes that will make it more "relevant".

Whateva!!!!

> QUOTE(pmorris68 @ Jul 17 2006, 07:24 PM) ☐
>
> All ya'll need to leave them folks at 3ABN alone ☒ . God will take care of it all in the end. You surely cannot expect these folks to tell the whole story. Leave it alone ya'll no good is going to come from this.

And let those who rightly know what happened be the ones to initiate directly.....

Posted by: beartrap Jul 17 2006, 07:55 PM

> QUOTE(Brennen @ Jul 17 2006, 08:28 PM) ☐
>
> Danny, I belive is the one lying. The tone of his reponse is empty and extremly defensive. But [b]we are blowing gaps all through it. It is weak, shallow, and gross inexactitudes. Watch out folks, the one who is lying is speaking loudly about himself.

"I did never know so full a voice issue from so empty a heart: but the saying is true 'The empty vessel makes the greatest sound'." William Shakespeare

---

Posted by: Hersheys99 Jul 17 2006, 07:55 PM

> QUOTE
>
> We do not want our side on the chat rooms, but I do think that you should not encourage your supporters to get involved in something they know nothing about.
> Danny Shelton

Yea right then why write the letter in the first place?? If he wasn't running skeered he wouldn't have even contacted you after all this time. I have no use for someone like him. Like Di said in LC today we knew this would be coming cause people are starting to join forces & put the word out. Just another scare tactic but he don't realize this group don't scare easy. WE pay attention!!

Posted by: beartrap Jul 17 2006, 08:00 PM

> QUOTE(simplysaved @ Jul 17 2006, 08:53 PM)
>
> Whateva!!!!
>
> And let those who rightly know what happened be the ones to initiate directly.....

"Nothing emboldens sin so much as mercy."
William Shakespeare

(LOL. On a Shakespeare run here.)

Posted by: MissLynn Jul 17 2006, 08:00 PM

> QUOTE
>
> Please call John Lomacang, before you ruin your own credibility and hear another side of the story.

@calvin, I don't know if anyone ask this already but have you contact that man (are you even planning to?). Who is he?

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 17 2006, 08:01 PM

This is really gonna get nazzie.....

I can't wait for the "real" investigation that blows it out the water!

☒ sn

Posted by: Brennen Jul 17 2006, 08:10 PM

Let's get this investigation going. Now is the time. Has Linda truly been given the chance to talk to the board of 3ABN? I want someone to investigate that. Was her side heard officially, and in Danny's presense. Did she and Danny really meet with Walt Thompson and did they truly listen to Linda? Let's get this professional investigation going. Please, do not use a conference president.

> QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jul 17 2006, 10:01 PM) ☐
>
> This is really gonna get nazzie.....
>
> I can't wait for the "real" investigation that blows it out the water!
>
> ☒ sn

Posted by: beartrap Jul 17 2006, 08:11 PM

Danny said, "Why do you think that the pastor who counseled us, John Lomacang, the 3ABN board, including the Illinois Conference Pres.
ect support me. They know things you do not."

Pastor John Lomacang - A singer/pastor Danny brought in to pastor the 3ABN church.

- Half of his salary comes from 3ABN
- His wife is a full employee of 3ABN
- Lives in a several hundred thousand dollar home provided by 3ABN
- Promotes his book and CD sales on 3ABN

I wont go into the full board right now, but the Illinois Conference President is on that board and participates in those legenday unanymous votes that Danny requires. Also, both of his parents work for Danny.

Does anybody see conflict of interest, and credibility issues here?

Posted by: MissLynn Jul 17 2006, 08:13 PM

> QUOTE
>
> Does anybody see conflict of interest, and credibility issues here?

Ok, I see it too.

Posted by: Uncle Sam Jul 17 2006, 08:18 PM

Does anyone know if this "letter" is having an effect at 3ABN yet? Are the employees aware of it? Are they having to do damage control?

Posted by: calvin Jul 17 2006, 08:32 PM

> QUOTE(MissLynn @ Jul 17 2006, 08:00 PM)
>
> @calvin, I don't know if anyone ask this already but have you contact that man (are you even planning to?). Who is he?

No, I am not going to contact him or anyone else. I am not a professional investigator. It would only be more hearsay. My call for a independent professional investigator is serious. I have one lined up. I should have told Danny that I will have the investigation done at my expense and will publish a report of the finding here for all. I give all of you the the benefit of the doubt that you could be lying or telling the truth (Beartrap, Johann, Dr. A, Dr. Thompson, Linda Shelton, Danny Shelton, etc). So I make the same offer to you as I did to Danny. Will you allow youselves to be part of an investigation?

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 17 2006, 08:35 PM

> QUOTE(beartrap @ Jul 17 2006, 09:11 PM)
>
> ....Does anybody see conflict of interest, and credibility issues here?

Ray Charles and Roy Orbson see it and they are both dead and were blind....

IOW - it is visible loud and clear....

Posted by: Jvat Jul 17 2006, 08:45 PM

Calvin, way to go. That is only fair.

Posted by: LadyTenor Jul 17 2006, 09:23 PM

> QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jul 17 2006, 07:18 PM)
>
> I'll sang the tenor.....

No you ain't talking 'bout singing no tenor without ME!!!!!!!

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Jul 17 2006, 08:08 PM)
>
> Because he can only come from his own frame of reference. He has spent 2 1/2+ plus(because he just didn't think this plan up on the fly) years demonizing this woman, he expects her to do exactly the same to him. Her Godly and christian response is foreign to him.

Exactly. I remember when I had an issue with someone who was spreading lies about me. I went to him directly. He was so shocked and just denied everything, but I can say that I handled it in a Christlike and classy manner...Danny thought Linda was going to participate in mud slinging and is probably flabbergasted that she is not...

> QUOTE(beartrap @ Jul 17 2006, 09:11 PM)
>
> Danny said, "Why do you think that the pastor who > counseled us, John Lomacang, the 3ABN board, including the Illinois Conference Pres.
> ect support me. They know things you do not."
>
> Pastor John Lomacang - A singer/pastor Danny brought in to pastor the 3ABN church.
>
> - Half of his salary comes from 3ABN
> - His wife is a full employee of 3ABN
> - Lives in a several hundred thousand dollar home provided by 3ABN
> - Promotes his book and CD sales on 3ABN
>
> I wont go into the full board right now, but the Illinois Conference President is on that board and participates in those legenday unanymous votes that Danny requires. Also, both of his parents work for Danny.
>
> Does anybody see conflict of interest, and credibility issues here?

I see them, too...and that is why, even on with regard to gov't, when certain investigations need to be made, they appoint INDEPENDENT COUNSEL to investigate.....that type of independent investigation is needed here as well....but we all know that DANNY SHELTON IS NOT MAN ENOUGH TO SUBMIT TO THAT BECAUSE HE IS SCARED THE OUTCOME WILL BE BEYOND HIS CONTROL. BE A MAN, DANNY...STOP HIDING IN THE BUSHES AND HANDLE THIS LIKE A REAL MAN WOULD..........THAT'S A CHALLENGE...AND CLEARLY YOU OR SOME OF YOUR YES MEN ARE MONITORING THIS SITE OR ELSE YOU WOULD NOT HAVE CONTACTED CALVIN EAKINS, OWNER OF THIS SITE, SO QUICKLY.....SO I KNOW THAT THIS CHALLENGE WILL REACH YOUR EYES AND EARS!

...the sophomoric behavior of Danny Shelton is repulsive and horrifying...

> QUOTE(calvin @ Jul 17 2006, 09:32 PM)
>
> No, I am not going to contact him or anyone else. I am not a professional investigator. It would only be more hearsay. My call for a independent professional investigator is serious. I have one lined up. I should have told Danny that I will have the investigation done at my expense and will publish a report of the finding here for all. I give all of you the the benefit of the doubt that you could be lying or telling the truth (Beartrap, Johann, Dr. A, Dr. Thompson, Linda Shelton, Danny Shelton, etc). So I make the same offer to you as I did to Danny. Will you allow youselves to be part of an investigation?

Great idea, Calvin, but I hope no one is going to hold their breath while they wait for Danny Shelton to submit to any such investigation. To do so will render him powerless and without control...and I don't see him willing to do that...

Posted by: princessdi Jul 17 2006, 09:25 PM

Posting and reading in this forum in optional, as with all other forums.

Paula, also your comment sounds eerily like something my Grandmother used to say of MLK and the Civil rights movement. She would say they were trouble makers, and the whitel folks treated us alright......as long if we stayed in our place. They should have let the Lord take care of any wrong they were doing. Imagine if the civil rights leaders listen to those Who felt like my Grandmother, well meaning as she was. Sometimes God lets us know we are to sit still and let Him move, and sometimes he tells us to fight. Just like the COI of old, sometimes they actually had to go to war, at the command of the same God who would sometimes tell them to just walk around the wall and sing.

We are all Adventist, and we should be careful who we let say they represent us to the world. If we know they are not right then it is us who should stop it before it goes to far. or at least call it what it is, and make those who openly sin accountable for their actions. Now had you read my post, you would have seen that these are my concerns, as well as Danny bringing BSDA into this in the first place by coming here with his spin. We were content to pray for them both and be a bit concerned about his actions toward Linda as a christian. He brought us to a whole new level when he came here, and lied. And now he is, one more time.........lying again. So, I as told him, I am telling you and Sarah. I don't need Bear's, Sister's, Johann's, or PaperTiger's, or the Dr.'s stories to be upset(although it definitely doesn't hurt, definitely adds fuel to the fire), I have my own. If you two have no interest in who is representing you or God in the name of Adventism to the US and serveral countries then by all means, let it fly.

> QUOTE
>
> All ya'll need to leave them folks at 3ABN alone . God will take care of it all in the end. You surely cannot expect these folks to tell the whole story. Leave it alone ya'll no good is going to come from this.

> QUOTE(simplysaved @ Jul 17 2006, 06:53 PM)
>
> And let those who rightly know what happened be the ones to initiate directly.....

Posted by: Chez Jul 17 2006, 11:11 PM

> QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jul 17 2006, 08:35 PM)
>
> Ray Charles and Roy Orbson see it and they are both dead and were blind....
>
> IOW - it is visible loud and clear....

You are a mess! LOL rofl

Posted by: Clay Jul 18 2006, 01:02 AM

I really would like to ask Mr. Shelton what color the sky is in his world... we have now 2 emails full of lies...... he is literally the man who is peeing on folks and telling them that "its raining."

Posted by: 4reneyonly Jul 18 2006, 03:28 AM

The behavior of Danny is similar to all deranged dictators that surrounds themselves with people who fear loss of status, money, and other things that they never fully possess because those things only exist at the expense of others.

His approach as the Adventist overseer demanding that the head boy at BSDA get his people in line is further proof that he has set himself apart from others as if he is god on earth. (Someone tell him that the Pope is already holding down that soapbox).

The fall is coming. It always has and it always will. Then everyone will know what we already know: The Emperor has no clothes!

Posted by: Clay Jul 18 2006, 04:58 AM

> QUOTE(4reneyonly @ Jul 18 2006, 03:28 AM)
>

> The behavior of Danny is similar to all deranged dictators that surrounds themselves with people who fear loss of status, money, and other things that they never fully possess because those things only exist at the expense of others.
>
> His approach as the Adventist overseer demanding that the head boy at BSDA get his people in line is further proof that he has set himself apart from others as if he is god on earth. (Someone tell him that the Pope is already holding down that soapbox).
>
> The fall is coming. It always has and it always will. Then everyone will know what we already know: The Emperor has no clothes!

I like the way you put that....

Posted by: sister Jul 18 2006, 07:01 AM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Jul 17 2006, 09:32 PM)
>
> No, I am not going to contact him or anyone else. I am not a professional investigator. It would only be more hearsay. My call for a independent professional investigator is serious. I have one lined up. I should have told Danny that I will have the investigation done at my expense and will publish a report of the finding here for all. I give all of you the the benefit of the doubt that you could be lying or telling the truth (Beartrap, Johann, Dr. A, Dr. Thompson, Linda Shelton, Danny Shelton, etc). So I make the same offer to you as I did to Danny. Will you allow youselves to be part of an investigation?

Calvin, I applaud your willingness to instigate an independent investigation into the matters surrounding the issues pertaining to Danny and Linda. But sadly, Danny will not submit to an independent investigator of your choosing, or any truly independent investigator. He has too much to loose and nothing to gain, if the truth is revealed.

Although it was a compliment to be mistaken by Danny as Linda, Calvin is correct, we are not one in the same. And I have not received any information from Linda in order to write "An Unauthorized History of 3ABN". Neither am I Derrell, as was suggested by some, or Johann. Calvin can also confirm that fact. I have simply been a catalyst that the Lord has used to get the ball of truth rolling. And once it began moving others joined in with additional testimony and the momentum increased. Now it is gaining speed. And the truth, like the advance of an avalanche is heading toward the walls of Danny's compound, with an intensity that can not be held at bay by misrepresentations and shameless lies of his devising. As Joshua and the army of Israel marched around the walls of Jericho, dependant upon the workings of the Lord for their victory, Linda Shelton has depended upon the Lord to orchestrate her defense and expunge the falsehoods that have tarnished her reputation.

Who am I? Danny's worst nightmare, someone who knows the truth behind the public facade he has erected and is willing to speak. I encourage other witnesses to come forth. For there are many. The time to give witness is now...

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 18 2006, 07:48 AM

> QUOTE(LadyTenor @ Jul 17 2006, 11:23 PM)
>
> No you ain't talking 'bout singing no tenor without ME!!!!!!!

Okay....we bof are tenor!

> QUOTE(LadyTenor @ Jul 17 2006, 11:23 PM)
>
> ...the sophomoric behavior of Danny Shelton is repulsive and horrifying...
> Great idea, Calvin, but I hope no one is going to hold their breath while they > wait for Danny Shelton to submit to any such investigation. To do so will render him powerless and without control...and I don't see him willing to do that...

I'mma break it down like my Mamma used to say....
"The one that hollars first about the fart is normally the one that drapped it..."

OR

"The first hen that cackles is the one that laid the egg...."

Danny is doing a lot of "cackle" and "hollaring" - and well...you get the jist....
Re'

Posted by: LadyTenor Jul 18 2006, 09:45 AM

> QUOTE(4reneyonly @ Jul 18 2006, 04:28 AM)
>
> The fall is coming. It always has and it always will. Then everyone will know what we already know: The Emperor has no clothes!

> QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jul 18 2006, 08:48 AM)
>
> I'mma break it down like my Mamma used to say....
> "The one that hollars first about the fart is normally the one that drapped it..."
>
> OR
>
> "The first hen that cackles is the one that laid the egg...."
>
> Danny is doing a lot of "cackle" and "hollaring" - and well...you get the jist....
> Re'

Posted by: princessdi Jul 18 2006, 10:07 AM

rofl Man! I need to close th page, before I get fired! LOL!! rofl

> QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jul 18 2006, 06:48 AM)
>
> Okay....we bof are tenor!
>
> I'mma break it down like my Mamma used to say....
> "The one that hollars first about the fart is normally the one that drapped it..."

> OR
>
> "The first hen that cackles is the one that laid the egg...."
>
> Danny is doing a lot of "cackle" and "hollaring" - and well...you get the jist....
> Re'

Posted by: summertime Jul 18 2006, 11:04 AM

> QUOTE(sister @ Jul 18 2006, 08:01 AM) ☐
>
> Calvin, I applaud your willingness to instigate an independent investigation into the matters surrounding the issues pertaining to Danny and Linda. But sadly, Danny will not submit to an independent investigator of your choosing, or any truly independent investigator. He has too much to loose and nothing to gain, if the truth is revealed.
>
> Although it was a compliment to be mistaken by Danny as Linda, Calvin is correct, we are not one in the same. And I have not received any information from Linda in order to write "An Unauthorized History of 3ABN". Neither am I Derrell, as was suggested by some, or Johann. Calvin can also confirm that fact. I have simply been a catalyst that the Lord has used to get the ball of truth rolling. And once it began moving others joined in with additional testimony and the momentum increased. Now it is gaining speed. And the truth, like the advance of an avalanche is heading toward the walls of Danny's compound, with an intensity that can not be held at bay by misrepresentations and shameless lies of his devising. As Joshua and the army of Israel marched around the walls of Jericho, dependant upon the workings of the Lord for their victory, Linda Shelton has depended upon the Lord to orchestrate her defense and expunge the falsehoods that have tarnished her reputation.
>
> Who am I? Danny's worst nightmare, someone who knows the truth behind the public facade he has erected and is willing to speak. I encourage other witnesses to come forth. For there are many. The time to give witness is now...

I just read Danny's e-mail this morning and I am more disallusioned than ever by his unchristian like attitude and the character that shone through every word. Once I admired Danny and thought that he was a man who was spoken to by God. Now I do not believe that God could speak to a man who has acted and done the things that he has done over the last 2 years. I did not see a Christ-like attitude in his letter--I saw a man with a revengeful, hateful mind who would stop at nothing to defend himself. I wonder if he will take Calvin's suggestion for a thorough investigation. Not only of his well-manipulated books but of his mind, his character, his ability to hurt others and the Satanic mind who has bound around him a group of people who are of the same religion as the rest of us, and who are willing to answer his call to hurt anyone who does not agree with him. I hate to think that I ever admired him and the parade of speakers who have appeared on his network and who will continue to do so. He needs to be investigated and the truth will come out!!! He did not do Jesus or himself a favor by writing the letter that has come on this forum.

Posted by: seeshell Jul 18 2006, 11:54 AM

I wrote to Mr. Shelton sometime ago and received a reply. I will say that he was courteous to me, to give credit where due.

He made mention that if he was in the wrong, wouldn't it be strange that his church, conference and the 3ABN board would be silent about it. Well, I guess they would be if they are full of people who are "in his pocket". He definitely needs to come up with some independent folks with nothing to gain or lose to support his position if it is to be taken seriously. An independent investigation would only help his cause if he is innocent.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 18 2006, 02:45 PM

> QUOTE(seeshell @ Jul 18 2006, 12:54 PM)
>
> ..... An independent investigation would only help his cause if he is innocent.

Dead on pernt.

Put up or....well..... you know the rest......

Posted by: Hersheys99 Jul 18 2006, 04:51 PM

> QUOTE
>
> Dead on pernt.
>
> Put up or....well..... you know the rest......

rofl I was thinking of a different quote but the stink is the same!!

Posted by: PaperTigers Jul 18 2006, 06:23 PM

If it ... looks like a duck walks like a duck quacks like a duck
then it's a duck

Posted by: calvin Jul 18 2006, 07:42 PM

Received this email from Danny. Guess I can kiss that investigation good bye.

Calvin, I wrote you a personal note. I even mentioned that I did not want "my side" published, yet

It's my understanding that you posted my comments to you.
I'll refrain from any further comments to you. I think it's been close to 2 yrs since my last comment. I admit that I do not go to black sda or any other forum as my schedule does not make time for such events.
Danny

****
Well I guess Danny could not resist. He then later sent me this email.

****

This is from my ex son in law. Please Notice the date.

----- Original Message -----
From: Derrell
To:
Sent: 3/14/2006 2:44:08 PM
Subject: Congratulations!

Danny & Brandy,

A belated congratulations to you! Danny, you are a very fortunate man and, in regards to your new wife, to be most envied. Brandy, you and the girls deserve the best life has to offer, and the kindness and benevolence that I□ve seen you exude everywhere you go will come back to you with interest attached. Danny isn□t a saint but now he has his halo, and I□m sure he agrees with me there. I wish you all the very best!!!

Sincerely,

Derrell Mundall

Posted by: PaperTigers Jul 18 2006, 07:52 PM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Jul 18 2006, 08:42 PM)
>
> Received this email from Danny. Guess I can kiss that investigation good bye.
>
> Calvin, I wrote you a personal note. I even mentioned that I did not want "my side" published, yet It's my understanding that you posted my comments to you.
> I'll refrain from any further comments to you. I think it's been close to 2 yrs since my last comment. I admit that I do not go to black sda or any other forum as my schedule does not make time for such events.
> Danny
>
> ********************

> Well I guess Danny could not resist. He then later sent me this email.
>
> ********************
>
> This is from my ex son in law. Please Notice the date.
>
> ----- Original Message -----
> From: Derrell
> To:
> Sent: 3/14/2006 2:44:08 PM
> Subject: Congratulations!
> Danny & Brandy,
>
> A belated congratulations to you! Danny, you are a very fortunate man and, in regards to your new wife, to be most envied. Brandy, you and the girls deserve the best life has to offer, and the kindness and benevolence that I□ve seen you exude everywhere you go will come back to you with interest attached. Danny isn□t a saint but now he has his halo, and I□m sure he agrees with me there. I wish you all the very best!!!
>
> Sincerely,
>
> Derrell Mundall

and it keeps getting better and better

Posted by: beartrap Jul 18 2006, 08:00 PM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Jul 18 2006, 08:42 PM)
>
> Received this email from Danny. Guess I can kiss that investigation good bye.
>
> Calvin, I wrote you a personal note. I even mentioned that I did not want "my side" published, yet It's my understanding that you posted my comments to you.
> I'll refrain from any further comments to you. I think it's been close to 2 yrs since my last comment. I admit that I do not go to black sda or any other forum as my schedule does not make time for such events.
> Danny
>
> ********************
> Well I guess Danny could not resist. He then later sent me this email.
>
> ********************
>
> This is from my ex son in law. Please Notice the date.
>
> ----- Original Message -----

> From: Derrell
> To:
> Sent: 3/14/2006 2:44:08 PM
> Subject: Congratulations!
> Danny & Brandy,
>
> A belated congratulations to you! Danny, you are a very fortunate man and, in regards to your new wife, to be most envied. Brandy, you and the girls deserve the best life has to offer, and the kindness and benevolence that I□ve seen you exude everywhere you go will come back to you with interest attached. Danny isn□t a saint but now he has his halo, and I□m sure he agrees with me there. I wish you all the very best!!!
>
> Sincerely,
>
> Derrell Mundall

Yep, and if you know Brandy, she is certainly a halo... a sweet lady. I just hope that after all this mess, her good nature does come back to her with interest attached. LOL, and Danny is certainly no saint!

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 18 2006, 08:19 PM

> QUOTE(Chez @ Jul 18 2006, 12:11 AM)
>
> You are a mess! LOL rofl

I'm jes saying....

> QUOTE(4reneyonly @ Jul 18 2006, 04:28 AM)
>
> The fall is coming. It always has and it always will. Then everyone will know what we already know: The Emperor has no clothes!

cough
Robert Folkenberg....
cough

> QUOTE(calvin @ Jul 18 2006, 08:42 PM)
>
> Received this email from Danny. Guess I can kiss that investigation good bye.
>
> Calvin, I wrote you a personal note. I even mentioned that I did not want "my side" published, yet It's my understanding that you posted my comments to you.

> I'll refrain from any further comments to you. I think it's been close to 2 yrs since my last comment. I admit that I do not go to black sda or any other forum as my schedule does not make time for such events.
> Danny
>
> ********************
>
> Well I guess Danny could not resist. He then later sent me this email.
>
> ********************
>
> This is from my ex son in law. Please Notice the date.
>
> ----- Original Message -----
> From: Derrell
> To:
> Sent: 3/14/2006 2:44:08 PM
> Subject: Congratulations!
> Danny & Brandy,
>
> A belated congratulations to you! Danny, you are a very fortunate man and, in regards to your new wife, to be most envied. Brandy, you and the girls deserve the best life has to offer, and the kindness and benevolence that I've seen you exude everywhere you go will come back to you with interest attached. Danny isn't a saint but now he has his halo, and I'm sure he agrees with me there. I wish you all the very best!!!
>
> Sincerely,
>
> Derrell Mundall

If you can read this Danny - please note. This is a hot mess on toast with a side of what the devil!

Line for line this note makes no sense...don't make me break it down.....

Posted by: princessdi Jul 18 2006, 08:22 PM

I am sooo glad I am at home! rofl

> QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jul 18 2006, 06:19 PM)
>
> I'm jes saying....
> cough
> Robert Folkenberg....
> cough
> If you can read this Danny - please note. This is a hot mess on toast with a side of what the devil!

> Line for line this note makes no sense...don't make me break it down.....

Posted by: September Jul 18 2006, 08:29 PM

Correct me if I'm wrong, but in the letter from Dr. A, he mentioned that he had been sent e-mails from Linda--but the Doc knew they weren't from Linda...so, how do we even know that e-mail was from Darrell? It's probably another one of Danny's ways he's blazing the "spiritual adultry" trail.

By the way...here's that part of Dr. A's letter:

> QUOTE
>
> Johann and I received a > couple emails, which said they were from Linda, but they were written by Danny.

Posted by: calvin Jul 18 2006, 08:38 PM

Darnell can speak for himself. He has not denied it. The email appeared Legitimate. The From: header had Darnell's email address in it.

Posted by: September Jul 18 2006, 08:39 PM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Jul 18 2006, 09:38 PM)
>
> Darnell can speak for himself. He has not denied it. The email appeared Legitimate. The From: header had Darnell's email address in it.

Well, I stand corrected then...

Posted by: calvin Jul 18 2006, 08:53 PM

I don't see what the big deal is about Derrell (sorry I mis-spelled your name) congratulating him on his marriage or why Danny felt this was important for me to know.

Posted by: Hersheys99 Jul 18 2006, 08:55 PM

Even if the e-mail is from Derrell that proves what? What point was he trying to make by sending you a letter from his ex-son in law? For me when I read it I see it dripping with sarcasm. That had nothing whatsoever to do with your request for an independent investigation. If you have NOTHING TO HIDE then you would willingly undergo what Calvin asked him too.

Posted by: beartrap Jul 18 2006, 09:06 PM

> QUOTE(Hersheys99 @ Jul 18 2006, 09:55 PM)
>
> Even if the e-mail is from Derrell that proves what? What point was he trying to make by sending you a letter from his ex-son in law? For me when I read it I see it dripping with sarcasm. That had nothing whatsoever to do with your request for an independent investigation. If you have NOTHING TO HIDE then you would willingly undergo what Calvin asked him too.

Sarcasm towards Danny... sincerity towards Brandy and the girls.

Posted by: Hersheys99 Jul 18 2006, 09:12 PM

> QUOTE
>
> Sarcasm towards Danny... sincerity towards Brandy and the girls.

Exactly Derrell because I honestly don't think Brandy realizes what she has gotten herself into. I could see that from reading it but unfortunately who we are dealing with they see it as they are still "god"!

Posted by: beartrap Jul 18 2006, 09:21 PM

> QUOTE(Hersheys99 @ Jul 18 2006, 10:12 PM)
>
> Exactly Derrell because I honestly don't think Brandy realizes what she has gotten herself into. I could see that from reading it but unfortunately who we are dealing with they see it as they are still "god"!

There is a moment of riding high and feeling good. That moment can last years, but it will most likely end in disaster for the poor girl... and her daughters.

Ex-Sheltons tend to have a special sympathy for new Sheltons.

Posted by: seeshell Jul 18 2006, 09:25 PM

I don't know any of those directly involved, but from what I have heard...is Brandy really innocent in all this?

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 18 2006, 09:26 PM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Jul 18 2006, 09:53 PM)
>
> I don't see what the big deal is about Derrell (sorry I mis-spelled your name) congratulating him on his marriage or why Danny felt this was important for me to know.

That is exactly why I said "Hot mess on toast with a side of what the devil!"
Read below.....

> QUOTE(Hersheys99 @ Jul 18 2006, 09:55 PM)
>
> Even if the e-mail is from Derrell that proves what? What point was he trying to make by sending you a letter from his ex-son in law? For me when I read it I see it dripping with sarcasm. That had nothing whatsoever to do with your request for an independent investigation. If you have NOTHING TO HIDE then you would willingly undergo what Calvin asked him too.

That's exactly what I got from the letter too! Chock-o-lattie you read it. I also agree. If you ain't got nuthin' to hide and want to "bolster" your "view to the masses" then by all means do the independent investigation. This would prove beyond a shadow of a doubt that you were right Danny. Then again - the only reason folks don't want to be investigated is that they don't want an investigation to show what they have already buried via "other investigations"....

Yep.

I said it.

Whut?

It's truth. Jes like my Momma said (wise woman ain't she?) If you ain't got no dirty laundry in the pile - then you ain't gonna never have no laundry problems.

Now.

If you do have laundry problems....then by all means...let's get it out in the wash.....

Posted by: beartrap Jul 18 2006, 09:36 PM

> QUOTE(beartrap @ Jul 18 2006, 10:21 PM)
>
> There is a moment of riding high and feeling good. That moment can last years, but it will most likely end in disaster for the poor girl... and her daughters.
>
> Ex-Sheltons tend to have a special sympathy for new Sheltons.

I don't know Brandy all that well, but I can say that next to Danny, she is innocent. If there were things going on prior (and I'm not saying there were) It was not Brandy who launched a global smear campaign, lied about a number of people, and set out for the purpose of hurting and destroying them. That was Danny. Brandy has always been nice to me, and I've never seen her act in a malicious way. My observations come from limited exposure, but that is what they are.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 18 2006, 09:38 PM

> QUOTE(beartrap @ Jul 18 2006, 10:36 PM)
>
> I don't know Brandy all that well, but I can say that next to Danny, she is innocent. If there were things going on prior (and I'm not saying there were) It was not Brandy who launched a global smear campaign, lied about a number of people, and set out for the purpose of hurting and destroying them. That was Danny. Brandy has always been nice to me, and I've never seen her act in a malicious way. My observations come from limited exposure, but that is what they are.

I can't put Brandy as totally innocent as of yet.

Is it not true that she and Linda were friends prior to all of this?

Posted by: sister Jul 18 2006, 09:42 PM

> QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jul 18 2006, 10:38 PM)
>
> Is it not true that she and Linda were friends prior to all of this?

You may be thinking of Brenda Walsh. She was spending some late nights with Danny at the 3ABN compound.

Posted by: beartrap Jul 18 2006, 09:43 PM

> QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jul 18 2006, 10:38 PM)
>
> I can't put Brandy as totally innocent as of yet.
>
> Is it not true that she and Linda were friends prior to all of this?

No Brandy and Linda did not know each other. The last time they met was in the late eighties when Brandy was a little girl and came to 3ABN to sing with her family.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 18 2006, 09:56 PM

> QUOTE(sister @ Jul 18 2006, 10:42 PM)
>
> You may be thinking of Brenda Walsh. She was spending some late nights with Danny at the 3ABN compound.

Ahhh.... thank you for telling me the "truth".....

> QUOTE(beartrap @ Jul 18 2006, 10:43 PM)
>
> No Brandy and Linda did not know each other. The last time they met was in the late eighties when Brandy was a little girl and came to 3ABN to sing with her family.

Even worse.... Danny could have been (prove me wrong Danny) lookin' at this woman when she was a child.....

Ugh!

gags

Posted by: Hersheys99 Jul 18 2006, 10:38 PM

> QUOTE
>
> Even worse.... Danny could have been (prove me wrong Danny) lookin' at this woman when she was a child.....
>
> Ugh!
>
> *gags

Ok you just had to ruin my evening huh!!

Unfortunately nothing about him would surprise me though.

Posted by: PaperTigers Jul 19 2006, 03:10 AM

> QUOTE(Hersheys99 @ Jul 18 2006, 11:38 PM)
>
> Ok you just had to ruin my evening huh!!

> Unfortunately nothing about him would surprise me though.

Sad but true, i definitely have to agree with you on this one Hersh.

Posted by: lurker Jul 19 2006, 06:34 AM

Bear - Was any of Brandy's family Adventist or how did this family happen to sing on 3ABN when she was younger? I thought the story was that she hadn't even heard of Seventh-day Adventists until very recently although Danny himself had met her and her family.

Posted by: summertime Jul 19 2006, 07:32 AM

> QUOTE(Hersheys99 @ Jul 18 2006, 09:55 PM)
>
> Even if the e-mail is from Derrell that proves what? What point was he trying to make by sending you a letter from his ex-son in law? For me when I read it I see it dripping with sarcasm. That had nothing whatsoever to do with your request for an independent investigation. If you have NOTHING TO HIDE then you would willingly undergo what Calvin asked him too.

What I saw from Derrell's e-mail is that he is a very Christ-centered person who really wants Brandy to be happy in spite of what will be ahead of her in the future. I remember when he knew that his children's Mother was pregnant out of wedlock he only wished them his prayers and a hope that all of the children (his and the second husband) would have the Lord's blessing. I think that it took a big heart to congratulate Brandy and still wish for her that the future could be as good for her as possible. What I do not understand is why Danny is publishing Brandy's personal e-mails. Says something about the privacy that he accords his wives.----Obviouslsy, he is not willing to be investigated---NO SURPRISE!!!

Posted by: Clay Jul 19 2006, 08:27 AM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Jul 18 2006, 08:42 PM)
>
> Received this email from Danny. Guess I can kiss that investigation good bye.
>
> Calvin, I wrote you a personal note. I even mentioned that I did not want "my side" published, yet It's my understanding that you posted my comments to you.
> I'll refrain from any further comments to you. I think it's been close to 2 yrs since my last comment.
> I admit that I do not go to black sda or any other forum as my schedule does not make time for such events.
> Danny
>
> ********************
> Well I guess Danny could not resist. He then later sent me this email.

> ********************
>
> This is from my ex son in law. Please Notice the date.
>
> ----- Original Message -----
> From: Derrell
> To:
> Sent: 3/14/2006 2:44:08 PM
> Subject: Congratulations!
> Danny & Brandy,
>
> A belated congratulations to you! Danny, you are a very fortunate man and, in regards to your new wife, to be most envied. Brandy, you and the girls deserve the best life has to offer, and the kindness and benevolence that I□ve seen you exude everywhere you go will come back to you with interest attached. Danny isn□t a saint but now he has his halo, and I□m sure he agrees with me there. I wish you all the very best!!!
>
> Sincerely,
>
> Derrell Mundall

well I guess Mr. Shelton did not want his email shared, he wanted you to handle your forum, and was contacting you man to man.... oh well....

Posted by: summertime Jul 19 2006, 08:56 AM

> QUOTE(lurker @ Jul 19 2006, 07:34 AM)
>
> Bear - Was any of Brandy's family Adventist or how did this family happen to sing on 3ABN when she was younger? I thought the story was that she hadn't even heard of Seventh-day Adventists until very recently although Danny himself had met her and her family.

I understand that when Danny and Brandy were first married that she had 2 children by previous husbands. Do they still have both children with them---are the children going to appear on the "tots' programs or will they be featured separately singing as Melody Firestone has always done? Did Linda's children ever have a part of the programs shown on 3ABN the same as Melody Shelton did? I have been hoping that we would see Brandy's children singing for Jesus on 3ABN.

Posted by: Clay Jul 19 2006, 09:02 AM

> QUOTE(summertime @ Jul 19 2006, 09:56 AM)

> I understand that when Danny and Brandy were first married that she had 2 children by previous husbands. Do they still have both children with them---are the children going to appear on the "tots' programs or will they be featured separately singing as Melody Firestone has always done? Did Linda's children ever have a part of the programs shown on 3ABN the same as Melody Shelton did? I have been hoping that we would see Brandy's children singing for Jesus on 3ABN.

why would you hope that? I think there needs to be a 12 step support group for 3abn viewers... it seems to be addictive, even when folks know they need to step away.....

Posted by: Denny Jul 19 2006, 09:05 AM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 19 2006, 04:02 PM)
>
> why would you hope that? I think there needs to be a 12 step support group for 3abn viewers... it seems to be addictive, even when folks know they need to step away.....

Back away from the tv, back away...

Posted by: Hersheys99 Jul 19 2006, 11:22 AM

> QUOTE
>
> I understand that when Danny and Brandy were first married that she had 2 children by previous husbands. Do they still have both children with them---are the children going to appear on the "tots' programs or will they be featured separately singing as Melody Firestone has always done? Did Linda's children ever have a part of the programs shown on 3ABN the same as Melody Shelton did? I have been hoping that we would see Brandy's children singing for Jesus on 3AB

It is my understanding (correct me if I'm wrong) that Brandy's oldest is living with her dad & only the youngest is here. As for Linda's kids being on if they were I don't ever recall seeing them on the air. Why would he air them when he don't even so much as talk about them?

> QUOTE
>
> I think there needs to be a 12 step support group for 3abn viewers... it seems to be addictive, even when folks know they need to step away.....

Posted by: no_cults Jul 19 2006, 09:22 PM

If he and Linda were married for 20 years, their son Nathan was still a small child when they were first married. One would have thought that Danny & his step-son would have developed some sort of a relationship. You know.. mending broken people and such.

Posted by: PaperTigers Jul 19 2006, 09:32 PM

> QUOTE(no_cults @ Jul 19 2006, 11:22 PM)
>
> If he and Linda were married for 20 years, their son Nathan was still a small child when they were first married. One would have thought that Danny & his step-son would have developed some sort of a relationship. You know.. mending broken people and such.

one would have thought, a normal person would have definitely devoloped some sort of bond.

Posted by: Johann Jul 19 2006, 10:11 PM

> QUOTE(no_cults @ Jul 20 2006, 05:22 AM)
>
> If he and Linda were married for 20 years, their son Nathan was still a small child when they were first married. One would have thought that Danny & his step-son would have developed some sort of a relationship. You know.. mending broken people and such.

Mending broken people as a slogan gets you lots of financial support. It does not apply to close family members in that area.

Back in August/September, 2003, several months before Dr. Arild came to see us at 3ABN, I was touring Europe together with Danny and Linda. As we were crossing the bridge beween Sweden and Denmark my wife, Irmgard, asked Linda about her children. All went well while Linda told us about Alyssa, but Danny's reaction when Nathan was mentioned made me say a silent prayer, "Lord, save their marriage!"

The Lord could not answer that prayer against Danny's will. It seemed like he was looking for an opportunity to throw Linda overboard, and he thought it had arrived when Arild came to visit us at Thomsonville.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 19 2006, 10:25 PM

> QUOTE(no_cults @ Jul 19 2006, 10:22 PM)
>
> If he and Linda were married for 20 years, their son Nathan was still a small child when they were first married. One would have thought that Danny & his step-son would have developed some sort of a relationship. You know.. mending broken people and such.

Yeah...one would have thought - key operative....THOUGHT

> QUOTE(PaperTigers @ Jul 19 2006, 10:32 PM)
>
> one would have thought, a normal person would have definitely devoloped some sort of bond.

Another key word......

NORMAL

Carry on....

sna

Posted by: LadyTenor Jul 20 2006, 12:02 AM

> QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jul 18 2006, 09:19 PM)
>
> I'm jes saying....
>
> cough
> Robert Folkenberg....
> cough

I wanted to go there but could not remember the man's name!!!!! LOL, great minds think alike!!! rofl

> QUOTE(calvin @ Jul 18 2006, 09:53 PM)
>
> I don't see what the big deal is about Derrell (sorry I mis-spelled your name) congratulating him on his marriage or why Danny felt this was important for me to know.

So I am not the only one that was wondering...I thought the answer might lie in the "unauthorized" threads that I have been too lazy to read...so I didn't question the relevance...

> QUOTE(sister @ Jul 18 2006, 10:42 PM)
>
> You may be thinking of Brenda Walsh. She was spending some late nights with Danny at the 3ABN compound.

Hmmmm....wonder if Danny was committing "spiritual adultery" with this Brenda Walsh person....

> QUOTE(Denny @ Jul 19 2006, 10:05 AM)
>
> Back away from the tv, back away...

Posted by: beartrap Jul 20 2006, 01:12 AM

I've never seen Brandy's kids on 3ABN (course I don't watch 3ABN LOL!), but Nathan and Alyssa did sing a few times when they were very little.

Danny doesn't bond with people, he bonds with what people can do for him. Many people who have dealt with him face to face will know that if you come up and make a small donation of... oh $10,000.00 he might thank you and walk away. If you make a donation of tens or hundreds, he likely won't speak to you. If you make a large donation and he believes that there is more to be got, he will coax and tease and flirt and call and visit, and when you are depleted, he will never speak to you again. Thats our Danny!

And you know, that is a very solid Shelton trait.

Posted by: summertime Jul 20 2006, 07:16 AM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 19 2006, 10:02 AM)
>
> why would you hope that? I think there needs to be a 12 step support group for 3abn viewers... it seems to be addictive, even when folks know they need to step away.....

Clay, you are right. I should not have said that I was hoping that Brandy's children would be given the opportunities that Danny has given to his own daughter---or does he have more than one daughter? I don't know why I made that statement since 3ABN is non-existant in our home anymore and I hope more people will not be fooled by his mantra. For the sake of the child that is still in his home, I hope that she will be held with the same respect that he would show to his own daughter. Since we are on the subject, I wonder why the oldest daughter would chose to leave her Mom and go to live with her Dad. I know from experience that little girls do not want to be separated from their Mom.

Posted by: Johann Jul 20 2006, 04:36 PM

> QUOTE
>
> Danny wrote to Calvin,
> Calvin, I'm very disappointed that you would read a letter from this so called Dr. and support it without even attempting to find out if it is true. This is not the > Christian way. This Dr. knows nothing of me except what Linda has told him. We have only talked a few minutes throughout this last 2 1/2 years. This letter is a > lie and I'm surprised that you would stake your credibility online to take sides with them.

There are two main points here:

1) The "Christian way" in this situation has been dictated by your actions. You made this unfortunate circumstance public, so it must be resolved publically.
2) You had a long conversation with Arild in your office. We also had a long meeting in the hall. Arild also had a long conversation on the phone. Also Arild knows much of your behavior from many other sources other than Linda, including a large number of your own emails.

> QUOTE
>
> He and Linda did have an affair. Why do you think that the pastor who counseled us, John Lomacang, the 3ABN board, including the Illinois Conference President support me. They know things you do not.

Linda never spoke to the Illinois Conference President or the 3ABN Board. She can count the number of times she saw John during this time on one hand. But if you have the PROOF of infidelity, let's have it. Bring it out in the open.

> QUOTE
>
> We are not out to hurt Linda.

You and the actions of your colleagues say differently. You are still sending out mass mailings of slander. You are still actively working to stop her ministry. Yes, I have proof.

> QUOTE
>
> If you read the chat rooms it's She, Johann, Arild and Derrell. Not 3ABN people talking about this situation. Besides we have been divorced for over 2 yrs. Yes, she doesn't use her real name on your chat room but we know who she is.

Linda is not on this chat room, so this is another untrue statement. Watch out, Danny. There is no substitute for accuracy, especially when you are arguing our own case. This is just another point that shows how you have been making untrue statements about Linda all this time. You make a guess and proclaim your guess as the real truth.

> QUOTE
>
> The way you are going about this is not Christ like. If you want to know the truth you are supposed to try to find out. Otherwise it is just gossip. What a shame that your chatroom is being used to try > to destroy the work of the gospel rather than to spread Jesus to the world.

> This Dr. does not tell you that he has told John Lomacang, Brenda Walsh, and even his own Norwegian Conf. Pres that he, the Dr., believes that Linda is in love with him, but that he is not in love with her. He told this while we were married. He was trying to save his own name.

It looks like two of these people will say what Danny Shelton wants them to verify. I was there at Thompsonville when Dr. Arild Abrahamsen talked to John Lomacang, and I heard Arild say the opposite of what you now claim he said. On the last Friday afternoon in May 2004, I had a meeting with Dr. Walt Thompson, Nick Miller, and John Lomacang. Before that meeting Arild had asked me to tell John Lomacang that John was misquoting Arild, but no matter how thoroughly I tried to explain this to John he had his own agenda, I mean "truth" to share.

Just now I called Arild's own Conference President. I read to him exactly what Danny claims Arild has told him. He assures me he's NEVER heard nor carried any such words. He also does not believe them.

> QUOTE
>
> But now, 2 yrs after our divorce, he has a lot to gain to try to keep Linda's ministry going. In fact, $100,000. In 2004 instead of encouraging Linda to stay with me, They bought a house together. He put up $100,000 and she put up the other approx. $100,000. Yes, the court papers say it is a 10 year loan, but the Dr. knows that the nearly $250,000 that that 3ABN gave Linda as a separation agreement is about depleted. Linda has said that she is not going to work. She said, and I quote, "I'm not going to cook hamburgers the rest of my life." She wants people to support her financially. The Dr. has to help her in order to get his own money back.

This is a very interesting account, Danny, but how does it fit into the whole picture? When you managed to chase Linda out of your home, she bought a mobile home in Carbondale. I know, because I was there. Walt claims in a recent letter that you were very kind to her, helping her with all kinds of things, doing construction work for her, etc. I have a number of those e-mails you sent to me at that time when you gave your account of your good works, even buying Linda some flowers. It was evident that those "good works" were for the gallery, to make an impression on people that you were trying to save your marriage, when in reality you were doing the opposite. In a weak moment you told me that you wanted a divorce so you could marry someone else. Later you changed your story.

In reality you made life so difficult for Linda at such close range as Carbondale, that she had to sell that home and move to Springfield, so she could share a house with her daughter.. She found the right house, and managed to keep the location secret from you for a while, so that you would not come there and harass her after the unfortunate divorce. Linda was still suffering from what you had done to her, and you know what THAT includes. She had no employment because you fired her, and therefore no bank would finance her. Neither did she have any sickness and health insurance. You took all of that from her. You divorced her, humiliated her before the world, and now you even want to discredit her because a friend helps her in her agony because of your evil behavior!

> QUOTE
>
> Please call John Lomacang, before you ruin your own credibility and hear another side of the story.
> XXXX or XXXX
>
> Thanks,
> Danny
> We do not want our side on the chat rooms, but I do think that you should not encourage your supporters to get involved in something they know nothing about.

It appears evident that many honest Christians have a sense of fairness and truth, and they feel that unfair actions and evil must be eradicated from the assembly of the followers of Jesus Christ. This solidarity and brother/sister-hood is what we appreciate and feel is needed in order for the Church to proclaim the true Gospel to a World of sin and darkness. An investigation is needed. Arild, myself, Linda and many others are ready to cooperate fully for the truth to be known and for wrongs to be made right.

Posted by: Clay Jul 20 2006, 04:42 PM

I didn't even think about the health insurance aspect...... oh that's low..... yep...

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 20 2006, 06:17 PM

Johann - I had to "requote the way you broke this down".....

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jul 20 2006, 05:36 PM) ☐
>
> There are two main points here:
>
> 1) The "Christian way" in this situation has been dictated by your actions. You made this unfortunate circumstance public, so it must be resolved publically.
> 2) You had a long conversation with Arild in your office. We also had a long meeting in the hall. Arild also had a long conversation on the phone. Also Arild knows much of your behavior from many other sources other than Linda, including a large number of your own emails.
> Linda never spoke to the Illinois Conference President or the 3ABN Board. She can count the number of times she saw John during this time on one hand. But if you have the PROOF of infidelity, let's have it. Bring it out in the open.
> You and the actions of your colleagues say differently. You are still sending out mass mailings of slander. You are still actively working to stop her ministry. Yes, I have proof.
> Linda is not on this chat room, so this is another untrue statement. Watch out, Danny. There is no substitute for accuracy, especially when you are arguing our own case. This is just another point that shows how you have been making untrue statements about Linda all this time. You make a guess and proclaim your guess as the real truth.
> It looks like two of these people will say what Danny Shelton wants them to verify. I was there at Thompsonville when Dr. Arild Abrahamsen talked to John Lomacang, and I heard Arild say the opposite of what you now claim he said. On the last Friday afternoon in May 2004, I had a meeting with Dr. Walt Thompson, Nick Miller, and John Lomacang. Before that meeting Arild had asked me to tell John Lomacang that John was misquoting Arild, but no matter how thoroughly I tried to explain this to John he had his own agenda, I mean "truth" to share.
>
> Just now I called Arild's own Conference President. I read to him exactly what Danny claims Arild has told him. He assures me he's NEVER heard nor carried any such words. He also does not believe them.
> This is a very interesting account, Danny, but how does it fit into the whole picture? When you managed to chase Linda out of your home, she bought a mobile home in Carbondale. I know, because I was there. Walt claims in a recent letter that you were very kind to her, helping her with all kinds of things, doing construction work for her, etc. I have a number of those e-mails you sent to me at that time when you gave your account of your good works, even buying Linda some flowers. It was evident that those "good works" were for the gallery, to make an impression on people that you were trying to save your marriage, when in reality you were doing the opposite. In a weak moment you told me that you wanted a divorce so you could marry someone else. Later you changed your story.
>
> In reality you made life so difficult for Linda at such close range as Carbondale, that she had to sell that home and move to Springfield, so she could share a house with her daughter.. She found the > right house, and managed to keep the location secret from you for a while, so that you would not come there and harass her after the unfortunate divorce. Linda was still suffering from what you had done to her, and you know what THAT includes. She had no employment because you fired her, and therefore no bank would finance her. Neither did she have any sickness and health insurance. You took all of that from her. You divorced her, humiliated her before the world, and now you even want to discredit her because a friend helps her in her agony because of your evil behavior!

> It appears evident that many honest Christians have a sense of fairness and truth, and they feel that unfair actions and evil must be eradicated from the assembly of the followers of Jesus Christ. This solidarity and brother/sister-hood is what we appreciate and feel is needed in order for the Church to proclaim the true Gospel to a World of sin and darkness. An investigation is needed. Arild, myself, Linda and many others are ready to cooperate fully for the truth to be known and for wrongs to be made right.

I may not know you "face-to-face" like I know others on this board...but I do know this.

You have details, you have evidence, you have proof, and you are speaking truth. I'm listening, hearing, and understanding.

BTW: do you do dissertation reviews? I'm jes saying - 'cause you did that ^^^ down pat!

Posted by: denisebyers Jul 20 2006, 07:30 PM

Hi Johann, hope things are well with you. Thanks for sharing that with us. Denise :-)

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jul 20 2006, 06:36 PM)
>
> There are two main points here:
>
> 1) The "Christian way" in this situation has been dictated by your actions. You made this unfortunate circumstance public, so it must be resolved publically.
> 2) You had a long conversation with Arild in your office. We also had a long meeting in the hall. Arild also had a long conversation on the phone. Also Arild knows much of your behavior from many other sources other than Linda, including a large number of your own emails.
> Linda never spoke to the Illinois Conference President or the 3ABN Board. She can count the number of times she saw John during this time on one hand. But if you have the PROOF of infidelity, let's have it. Bring it out in the open.
> You and the actions of your colleagues say differently. You are still sending out mass mailings of slander. You are still actively working to stop her ministry. Yes, I have proof.
> Linda is not on this chat room, so this is another untrue statement. Watch out, Danny. There is no substitute for accuracy, especially when you are arguing our own case. This is just another point that shows how you have been making untrue statements about Linda all this time. You make a guess and proclaim your guess as the real truth.
> It looks like two of these people will say what Danny Shelton wants them to verify. I was there at Thompsonville when Dr. Arild Abrahamsen talked to John Lomacang, and I heard Arild say the opposite of what you now claim he said. On the last Friday afternoon in May 2004, I had a meeting with Dr. Walt Thompson, Nick Miller, and John Lomacang. Before that meeting Arild had asked me to tell John Lomacang that John was misquoting Arild, but no matter how thoroughly I tried to explain this to John he had his own agenda, I mean "truth" to share.
>
> Just now I called Arild's own Conference President. I read to him exactly what Danny claims Arild has told him. He assures me he's NEVER heard nor carried any such words. He also does not believe them.

> This is a very interesting account, Danny, but how does it fit into the whole picture? When you managed to chase Linda out of your home, she bought a mobile home in Carbondale. I know, because I was there. Walt claims in a recent letter that you were very kind to her, helping her with all kinds of things, doing construction work for her, etc. I have a number of those e-mails you sent to me at that time when you gave your account of your good works, even buying Linda some flowers. It was evident that those "good works" were for the gallery, to make an impression on people that you were trying to save your marriage, when in reality you were doing the opposite. In a weak moment you told me that you wanted a divorce so you could marry someone else. Later you changed your story.
>
> In reality you made life so difficult for Linda at such close range as Carbondale, that she had to sell that home and move to Springfield, so she could share a house with her daughter.. She found the right house, and managed to keep the location secret from you for a while, so that you would not come there and harass her after the unfortunate divorce. Linda was still suffering from what you had done to her, and you know what THAT includes. She had no employment because you fired her, and therefore no bank would finance her. Neither did she have any sickness and health insurance. You took all of that from her. You divorced her, humiliated her before the world, and now you even want to discredit her because a friend helps her in her agony because of your evil behavior!
> It appears evident that many honest Christians have a sense of fairness and truth, and they feel that unfair actions and evil must be eradicated from the assembly of the followers of Jesus Christ. This solidarity and brother/sister-hood is what we appreciate and feel is needed in order for the Church to proclaim the true Gospel to a World of sin and darkness. An investigation is needed. Arild, myself, Linda and many others are ready to cooperate fully for the truth to be known and for wrongs to be made right.

Posted by: seraph|m Jul 20 2006, 08:11 PM

In addition to the point Clay made, the words "his house" struck me as so sad. As if there was no sharing of responsibility or accountability on both sides. As if to say it's mine all mine and you can't have or be a part of anything that belongs to me... sigh

---

Posted by: Freedom Jul 21 2006, 08:32 AM

> QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jul 18 2006, 07:38 PM)
>
> I can't put Brandy as totally innocent as of yet.
>
> Is it not true that she and Linda were friends prior to all of this?

Excuse me, everyone, but how is Brandy sweet and innocent.
My understanding is that she worked on the streets in Florida.

She was broke and went to 3ABN asking for work and wanting to become "friends" with Danny.

Uumm, was Brandy someone Danny visited with when he was in Florida.

If you have read the other articles you will understand the meaning of this.

Posted by: awesumtenor Jul 21 2006, 08:50 AM

> QUOTE(Freedom @ Jul 21 2006, 10:32 AM)
>
> Excuse me, everyone, but how is Brandy sweet and innocent.
> My understanding is that she worked on the streets in Florida.
>
> She was broke and went to 3ABN asking for work and wanting to become "friends" with Danny.
>
> Uumm, was Brandy someone Danny visited with when he was in Florida.
>
> If you have read the other articles you will understand the meaning of this.

I tend to agree with you; a trailer park Lady Macbeth looking to climb up the totem pole by any means necessary is what came to mind reading all of this... especially with the allegation that the whole 'Dump Linda now' movement was sparked by an ultimatum she gave Danny.

I am sure up to that point Danny was content having his cake and eating it too... so no... I'm not buying the "pure as the driven snow" act either...

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: no_cults Jul 21 2006, 09:01 AM

> QUOTE(Jvat @ Jul 17 2006, 07:35 PM)
>
> Danny, talk about acting christian! Throwing your wife to the lions instead of quietly putting her away was christian? Do you really have any real idea what it means to be 'christian'? How much longer will you continue to hide behind socalled big names in the SDA church circles? How much longer?

He couldn't "guietly put her away". He HAD to had some real good justification for his actions and subsequent remarriage. He had no choice but to prove that SHE was the problem.... if he expected to remain in his nice job with all of it's perks.

Posted by: Clay Jul 21 2006, 09:05 AM

> QUOTE(no_cults @ Jul 21 2006, 10:01 AM) ☐
>
> He couldn't "guietly put her away". He HAD to had some real good justification for his actions and subsequent remarriage. He had no choice but to prove that SHE was the problem.... if he expected to remain in his nice job with all of it's perks.

and have the backing of the conservative members of his supporters.....

Posted by: Denny Jul 21 2006, 09:07 AM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 21 2006, 03:05 PM) ☐
>
> and have the backing of the conservative members of his supporters.....

I see a fan and human waste in my crystal ball...........

Posted by: LadyTenor Jul 21 2006, 10:14 AM

> QUOTE(Denny @ Jul 21 2006, 10:07 AM) ☐
>
> I see a fan and human waste in my crystal ball...........

And do you see the latter hitting the former in said crystal ball?

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 21 2006, 03:45 PM

> QUOTE(Denny @ Jul 21 2006, 10:07 AM) ☐
>
> I see a fan and human waste in my crystal ball...........

....and when they "collide".....WHOO!

The crystal ball won't be so "crystal" anymore.....

Posted by: västergötland Jul 22 2006, 08:52 AM

Why would anyone want to fan human waste? Is it hot?

Notices that both of these are usefull in their right environments. Fans in hot rooms and human waste fertilising plants. And reversed they cause problems...

Posted by: princessdi Jul 22 2006, 10:22 AM

....and together it is a hot mess!!! ☒

> QUOTE(västergötland @ Jul 22 2006, 07:52 AM) ☐
>
> Why would anyone want to fan human waste? Is it hot?
>
> Notices that both of these are usefull in their right environments. Fans in hot rooms and human waste fertilising plants. And reversed they cause problems...

Posted by: beartrap Jul 22 2006, 03:15 PM

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Jul 22 2006, 11:22 AM) ☐
>
> ....and together it is a hot mess!!! ☒

☒ rofl ☒ OK, stop it now! ☒ ☒ rofl

Posted by: princessdi Jul 22 2006, 04:12 PM

In the words of my Sista' Princess, "I'm jes sayin....." ☐ ☒

Posted by: Nuggie Jul 23 2006, 06:47 AM

> QUOTE(västergötland @ Jul 22 2006, 08:52 AM) ☐
>
> Why would anyone want to fan human waste? Is it hot?
>
> Notices that both of these are usefull in their right environments. Fans in hot rooms and human waste fertilising plants. And reversed they cause problems...

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Jul 22 2006, 10:22 AM)
>
> ....and together it is a hot mess!!!

Mercy!

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 23 2006, 11:53 AM

> QUOTE(västergötland @ Jul 22 2006, 09:52 AM)
>
> Why would anyone want to fan human waste? Is it hot?
>
> Notices that both of these are usefull in their right environments. Fans in hot rooms and human waste fertilising plants. And reversed they cause problems...

Welcome - you are now and henseforth considered "FAMILY"....

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Jul 22 2006, 11:22 AM)
>
> ....and together it is a hot mess!!!

Correct usage! I'se is so proud!

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Jul 22 2006, 05:12 PM)
>
> In the words of my Sista' Princess, "I'm jes sayin....."

...and correct usage once again!
The "Lang-west" has spoketh!

Posted by: sonshineonme Aug 2 2006, 06:13 PM

QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jul 18 2006, 07:38 PM)

I can't put Brandy as totally innocent as of yet.

Is it not true that she and Linda were friends prior to all of this? QUOTE

NO, they were NOT friends. They did NOT know each other. Although, Danny did know her. Linda only saw her for the FIRST time just almost 3 weeks ago.

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jul 20 2006, 03:36 PM) ☐
>
> There are two main points here:
>
> 1) The "Christian way" in this situation has been dictated by your actions. You made this unfortunate circumstance public, so it must be resolved publically.
> 2) You had a long conversation with Arild in your office. We also had a long meeting in the hall. Arild also had a long conversation on the phone. Also Arild knows much of your behavior from many other sources other than Linda, including a large number of your own emails.
> Linda never spoke to the Illinois Conference President or the 3ABN Board. She can count the number of times she saw John during this time on one hand. But if you have the PROOF of infidelity, let's have it. Bring it out in the open.
> You and the actions of your colleagues say differently. You are still sending out mass mailings of slander. You are still actively working to stop her ministry. Yes, I have proof.
> Linda is not on this chat room, so this is another untrue statement. Watch out, Danny. There is no substitute for accuracy, especially when you are arguing our own case. This is just another point that shows how you have been making untrue statements about Linda all this time. You make a guess and proclaim your guess as the real truth.
> It looks like two of these people will say what Danny Shelton wants them to verify. I was there at Thompsonville when Dr. Arild Abrahamsen talked to John Lomacang, and I heard Arild say the opposite of what you now claim he said. On the last Friday afternoon in May 2004, I had a meeting with Dr. Walt Thompson, Nick Miller, and John Lomacang. Before that meeting Arild had asked me to tell John Lomacang that John was misquoting Arild, but no matter how thoroughly I tried to explain this to John he had his own agenda, I mean "truth" to share.
>
> Just now I called Arild's own Conference President. I read to him exactly what Danny claims Arild has told him. He assures me he's NEVER heard nor carried any such words. He also does not believe them.
> This is a very interesting account, Danny, but how does it fit into the whole picture? When you managed to chase Linda out of your home, she bought a mobile home in Carbondale. I know, because I was there. Walt claims in a recent letter that you were very kind to her, helping her with all kinds of things, doing construction work for her, etc. I have a number of those e-mails you sent to me at that time when you gave your account of your good works, even buying Linda some flowers. It was evident that those "good works" were for the gallery, to make an impression on people that you were trying to save your marriage, when in reality you were doing the opposite. In a weak moment you told me that you wanted a divorce so you could marry someone else. Later you changed your story.
>
> In reality you made life so difficult for Linda at such close range as Carbondale, that she had to sell that home and move to Springfield, so she could share a house with her daughter.. She found the right house, and managed to keep the location secret from you for a while, so that you would not come there and harass her after the unfortunate divorce. Linda was still suffering from what you had done to her, and you know what THAT includes. She had no employment because you fired her, and therefore no bank would finance her. Neither did she have any sickness and health insurance. You took all of that from her. You divorced her, humiliated her before the world, and now you even want to discredit her because a friend helps her in her agony because of your evil behavior!
> It appears evident that many honest Christians have a sense of fairness and truth, and they feel that unfair actions and evil must be eradicated from the assembly of the followers of Jesus Christ. This solidarity and brother/sister-hood is what we appreciate and feel is needed in order for the Church to proclaim the true Gospel to a World of sin and darkness. An investigation is needed. Arild, myself, Linda and many others are ready to cooperate fully for the truth to be known and for wrongs to be made right.

Thank you Johann for doing this, as with Thompsons recent letter. I will be coping this for distribution as well.
You're good!

Posted by: seraph|m Jan 29 2007, 04:33 PM

bum

Posted by: Rosyroi Jan 30 2007, 01:37 PM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jul 20 2006, 02:36 PM)
>
> There are two main points here:
>
> 1) The "Christian way" in this situation has been dictated by your actions. You made this unfortunate circumstance public, so it must be resolved publically.
> 2) You had a long conversation with Arild in your office. We also had a long meeting in the hall. Arild also had a long conversation on the phone. Also Arild knows much of your behavior from many other sources other than Linda, including a large number of your own emails.
> Linda never spoke to the Illinois Conference President or the 3ABN Board. She can count the number of times she saw John during this time on one hand. But if you have the PROOF of infidelity, let's have it. Bring it out in the open.
> You and the actions of your colleagues say differently. You are still sending out mass mailings of slander. You are still actively working to stop her ministry. Yes, I have proof.
> Linda is not on this chat room, so this is another untrue statement. Watch out, Danny. There is no substitute for accuracy, especially when you are arguing our own case. This is just another point that shows how you have been making untrue statements about Linda all this time. You make a guess and proclaim your guess as the real truth.
> It looks like two of these people will say what Danny Shelton wants them to verify. I was there at Thompsonville when Dr. Arild Abrahamsen talked to John Lomacang, and I heard Arild say the opposite of what you now claim he said. On the last Friday afternoon in May 2004, I had a meeting with Dr. Walt Thompson, Nick Miller, and John Lomacang. Before that meeting Arild had asked me to tell John Lomacang that John was misquoting Arild, but no matter how thoroughly I tried to explain this to John he had his own agenda, I mean "truth" to share.
>
> Just now I called Arild's own Conference President. I read to him exactly what Danny claims Arild has told him. He assures me he's NEVER heard nor carried any such words. He also does not believe them.
> This is a very interesting account, Danny, but how does it fit into the whole picture? When you managed to chase Linda out of your home, she bought a mobile home in Carbondale. I know, because I was there. Walt claims in a recent letter that you were very kind to her, helping her with all kinds of things, doing construction work for her, etc. I have a number of those e-mails you sent to me at that time when you gave your account of your good works, even buying Linda some flowers. It was evident that those "good works" were for the gallery, to make an impression on people that you were trying to save your marriage, when in reality you were doing the opposite. In a weak moment you told me that you wanted a divorce so you could marry someone else. Later you changed your story.
>
> In reality you made life so difficult for Linda at such close range as Carbondale, that she had to sell > that home and move to Springfield, so she could share a house with her daughter.. She found the right house, and managed to keep the location secret from you for a while, so that you would not come there and harass her after the unfortunate divorce. Linda was still suffering from what you had done to her, and you know what THAT includes. She had no employment because you fired her, and therefore no bank would finance her. Neither did she have any sickness and health insurance. You took all of that from her. You divorced her, humiliated her before the world, and now you even want to discredit her because a friend helps her in her agony because of your evil behavior!

> It appears evident that many honest Christians have a sense of fairness and truth, and they feel that unfair actions and evil must be eradicated from the assembly of the followers of Jesus Christ. This solidarity and brother/sister-hood is what we appreciate and feel is needed in order for the Church to proclaim the true Gospel to a World of sin and darkness. An investigation is needed. Arild, myself, Linda and many others are ready to cooperate fully for the truth to be known and for wrongs to be made right.

Sorry Danny, I refuse to be called a "supporter" of any program. The Lord sent me here to find the truth. Since Linda left I had been disturbed by a lot of discrepancies by email sent by you and friends and what you would say on tv before I came to this forum. I came not here to vindicate Linda or you. Just looking for the truth. All I find are love and caring from Linda's website and noething but lies and threats and put downs and coverups by you even on live world wide television. Tsk... Tsk... Prove you are telling the truth by accepting with open arms the investigations offered so we can get truth open. I am open to have my mind changed. It is all up to you Danny to prove you are being truthful.

Posted by: princessdi Jan 30 2007, 01:43 PM

You're kidding?!! How did that happen and how did it go? Wow!!

> QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Aug 2 2006, 04:13 PM) ☐
>
> NO, they were NOT friends. They did NOT know each other. Although, Danny did know her. Linda only saw her for the FIRST time just almost 3 weeks ago.

Posted by: awesumtenor Jan 30 2007, 02:02 PM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Jul 17 2006, 05:46 PM) ☐
>
> We do not want our side on the chat rooms, but I do think that you should not encourage your supporters to get involved in something they know nothing about.
> Danny Shelton

I guess... given the steady increase of Danny apologists coming here of late... that is is another ~~lie~~ mind change on Danny's part?

Sorta like ~~Danny~~ "bystander" when he said he was leaving, never to return?

In His service,
Mr. J

Printable Version of Topic

107

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ More Newbies Coming!

Posted by: inga Jan 24 2007, 03:57 AM

It's likely that folks are even now GOOGLING for 3ABN information from sites other than 3ABN.

Please, let's be kind to them and very patient. ☒ hug.gif

You see, I'm sure they'll sound just like Dan Shelton, and most of us have had our fill of him. However, a great many folks will sound like Dan Shelton when they come on here because they've been listening to him so long and so much that they actually believe what he says. They believe that Linda committed adultery -- if not physically, then at least spiritually. After all, didn't John Lomacang and his church say that Dan had was perfectly free to remarry?

They believe that all those claimed miracles are true. They believe that Dan was chosen by God. They believe that 3ABN is doing the work of God, and all those baptisms they claim wouldn't possibly come about if Dan were not chosen by God. And they believe that anyone who opposes the work of 3ABN opposes the work of God and endangers his/her salvation.

How do I know?

Well, I have a mother who believes just that -- in spite of my having tried several times to enlighten her. Finally, she wrote me a long and serious email, imploring me to examine my heart, etc. etc. If she came on this board, she would sound just like Dan Shelton. Though she would not make the same errors that are typical for him, she would make some errors because English is her second language. Being ridiculed for those would certainly convince her that we're all in cahoots with Satan and that nothing said here is true. (Believe it or not, she's an intelligent woman, and she's quite reasonable in most other things.)

So, please be kind to the newbies! One of them may be my mother.

There's nothing to lose by assuming that the ones who find this site are innocents who have been sent here by Dan's "live" program -- folks who know nothing but what they have heard him say.

I believe at one time PB was someone like that. There will be more, and they will likely sound just like Dan.

Of course, if they claim to be eye witnesses, that's quite another story.

Posted by: Clay Jan 24 2007, 07:21 AM

good point.... be kind to the newbies, they have been drinking the "kool aid" for so long they aren't aware that what they've been told about 3abn from the powers that be at 3abn is not quite the truth... so for them it will be like emerging from a cave into the bright morning sun..... quite a shock.....

Now if after being exposed to the truth they opt to return to the cave...... thats on them.....

Posted by: Aletheia Jan 24 2007, 07:26 AM

> QUOTE(inga @ Jan 24 2007, 04:57 AM) ☐
>
> It's likely that folks are even now GOOGLING for 3ABN information from sites other than 3ABN.
>
> Please, let's be kind to them and very patient. ☒ hug.gif
>
> You see, I'm sure they'll sound just like Dan Shelton, and most of us have had our fill of him. However, a great many folks will sound like Dan Shelton when they come on here because they've been listening to him so long and so much that they actually believe what he says. They believe that Linda committed adultery -- if not physically, then at least spiritually. After all, didn't John Lomacang and his church say that Dan had was perfectly free to remarry?
>
> They believe that all those claimed miracles are true. They believe that Dan was chosen by God. They believe that 3ABN is doing the work of God, and all those baptisms they claim wouldn't possibly come about if Dan were not chosen by God. And they believe that anyone who opposes the work of 3ABN opposes the work of God and endangers his/her salvation.

> How do I know?
>
> Well, I have a mother who believes just that -- in spite of my having tried several times to enlighten her. Finally, she wrote me a long and serious email, imploring me to examine my heart, etc. etc. If she came on this board, she would sound just like Dan Shelton. Though she would not make the same errors that are typical for him, she would make some errors because English is her second language. Being ridiculed for those would certainly convince her that we're all in cahoots with Satan and that nothing said here is true. (Believe it or not, she's an intelligent woman, and she's quite reasonable in most other things.)
>
> So, please be kind to the newbies! One of them may be my mother.
>
> There's nothing to lose by assuming that the ones who find this site are innocents who have been sent here by Dan's "live" program -- folks who know nothing but what they have heard him say.
>
> I believe at one time PB was someone like that. There will be more, and they will likely sound just like Dan.
>
> Of course, if they claim to be eye witnesses, that's quite another story.

It's never too late for kindness or the golden rule.

But of course All the posts to the other newbies who arrived in the last couple of years, who were insulted and ridiculed and accused of being in Danny's camp, etc., and had their every motive and intent maligned, just for trying to question the facts and evidence being presented here and discern for themselves and judge righteously.

Along with All the posts here from regulars who treat anyone who doesn't just accept what they claim without verifying it, as the "queer' in the internet version of the childhood game of "smear the queer",

And All the posts with the "If you don't like it. LEAVE", "boring.." and "bring in the next team" " you are diverting from the main issues" responses, merely for crawling out from under the dogpile, and objecting to the "kindness" shown them here.

Still stand as a witness to any future Newbie who arrives, and to all those who are members here and who have replied or done this.

This entire world is a theatre for the universe, starring only two kinds of people. that's a much bigger picture then the view we often see in our narrow little everyday thoughts and reactions..

How do heaven and other world's see the role each of us has played here?

Every thought, every idle word enters into the judgment.

That's a reality check, and a very sobering one, for me.

Posted by: Clay Jan 24 2007, 07:29 AM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 24 2007, 07:26 AM)
>
> It's never too late for kindness or the golden rule.

> But of course All the posts to the other newbies who arrived in the last couple of years, who were insulted and ridiculed and accused of being in Danny's camp, etc., and had their every motive and intent maligned, just for trying to question the facts and evidence being presented here and discern for themselves and judge righteously.
>
> Along with All the posts here from regulars who treat anyone who doesn't just accept what they claim without verifying it, as the "queer' in the internet version of the childhood game of "smear the queer",
>
> And All the posts with the "If you don't like it. LEAVE", "boring.." and "bring in the next team" " you are diverting from the main issues" responses, merely for crawling out from under the dogpile, and objecting to the "kindness" shown them here.
>
> Still stand as a witness to any future Newbie who arrives, and to all those who are members here and who have replied or done this.
>
> This entire world is a theatre for the universe, starring only two kinds of people. that's a much bigger picture then the view we often see in our narrow little everyday thoughts and reactions..
>
> How do heaven and other world's see the role each of us has played here?
>
> Every thought, every idle word enters into the judgment.
>
> That's a reality check, and a very sobering one, for me.

you are the exception to the rule Cindy.... you came, guns ablazing.... righteously indignant... and have yet to stop... you have chosen to stay in the cave.... and no you will not hijack this thread too...

Posted by: Snoopy Jan 24 2007, 07:33 AM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jan 24 2007, 07:21 AM)
>
> good point.... be kind to the newbies, they have been drinking the "kool aid" for so long they aren't aware that what they've been told about 3abn from the powers that be at 3abn is not quite the truth... so for them it will be like emerging from a cave into the bright morning sun..... quite a shock.....
>
> Now if after being exposed to the truth they opt to return to the cave...... thats on them.....

You know, that is quite a generalist comment, and not entirely true. I am a "newbie" and have stated several times that I wasn't in anyone's "camp" but that I was just looking for the truth. Just because I haven't been involved in all of this from day one does not mean that I am "emerging from a cave into the bright morning sun..." I find that quite offensive. There definitely are some attitudes running on this board. I know - if I don't like it I can "leave"...

Posted by: Clay Jan 24 2007, 07:36 AM

> QUOTE(Snoopy @ Jan 24 2007, 07:33 AM) ☐
>
> You know, that is quite a generalist comment, and not entirely true. I am a "newbie" and have stated several times that I wasn't in anyone's "camp" but that I was just looking for the truth. Just because I haven't been involved in all of this from day one does not mean that I am "emerging from a cave into the bright morning sun..." I find that quite offensive. There definitely are some attitudes running on this board. I know - if I don't like it I can "leave"...

you missed the qualifier..... if you have been listening and believing in everything that Danny and company have been saying about 3abn, then what you read here will be disturbing... if you haven't then the statement doesn't apply to you.....

Posted by: Aletheia Jan 24 2007, 07:42 AM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jan 24 2007, 08:29 AM)
>
> you are the exception to the rule Cindy.... you came, guns ablazing.... righteously indignant... and have yet to stop... you have chosen to stay in the cave.... and no you will not hijack this thread too...

An exception to the rule of what? Kindenss to newbies? which I thought was the topic?

Maybe that's because I don't buy the majorities claims that ' "if you aren't for us, you are against us" and thus are in Danny's camp' conspiracy theories?

Don't worry, I'm leavin the thread, I said my piece.

Posted by: Clay Jan 24 2007, 07:44 AM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 24 2007, 07:42 AM)
>
> An exception to the rule of what? Kindenss to newbies? which I thought was the topic?
>
> Maybe that's because I don't buy the majorities claims that ' "if you aren't for us, you are against us" and thus are in Danny's camp' conspiracy theories?
>
> Don't worry, I'm leavin the thread, I said my piece.

you didn't come to find out info, you came to tell the forum how wrong it was... as for the for us against us thing, look in the mirror cause that seems to be your MO.......

Posted by: Denny Jan 24 2007, 07:47 AM

Some of the newbies are asking for what they in turn are not giving. This is Calvin's home one does not enter another person's home and tell them how to run things - if you do expect a response.

Posted by: watchbird Jan 24 2007, 07:57 AM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 24 2007, 08:26 AM)
>
> It's never too late for kindness or the golden rule.

> But of course All the posts to the other newbies who arrived in the last couple of years, who were insulted and ridiculed and accused of being in Danny's camp, etc., and had their every motive and intent maligned, just for trying to question the facts and evidence being presented here and discern for themselves and judge righteously. . . .

When you say this... and other things that I clipped... you only show that you have not read through the posts on this site with anything resembling an open mind. Had you done so, you would have noted that when people came with questions... even with doubts... they were received kindly and graciously and were given help in negotiating the huge amounts of data that is here.

Only when they came on with guns blazing... as you have done and continued to do... have they been met with resistance. Resistance not borne from the same critical attitude as you have brought, but borne out of concern and love for those who have been injured ... and are being injured.... by Danny and his band of devotees.

You are very correct when you say....

> QUOTE
>
> This entire world is a theatre for the universe, starring only two kinds of people. that's a much bigger picture then the view we often see in our narrow little everyday thoughts and reactions..
>
> How do heaven and other world's see the role each of us has played here?
>
> Every thought, every idle word enters into the judgment.
>
> That's a reality check, and a very sobering one, for me.

It would be a very great day if you were to apply your words to yourself and see that it is YOUR words and attitude which place you on the side of those who are daring to face the judgment of God without confessing and turning from their lies and abusive behaviour. We here will continue to stand for right and justice and pointing out the evils that you and others try to hide and excuse.

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jan 24 2007, 08:29 AM) ☐
>
> you are the exception to the rule Cindy.... you came, guns ablazing.... righteously indignant... and have yet to stop... you have chosen to stay in the cave.... and no you will not hijack this thread too...

Thanks for the assurance, Clay. Unfortunately though, Cindy is not the sole exception.... there are others who have also come with guns ablazing.... and they should not be surprised to see us react in a defensive way. And for future newbies... they should take note, not only of our kindness to those who do not know... but also to our defensive postures to those who come in with guns blazing... trying to shoot the messengers rather than examining the messages.

Posted by: watchbird Jan 24 2007, 08:08 AM

> QUOTE(Snoopy @ Jan 24 2007, 08:33 AM) ☐
>
> You know, that is quite a generalist comment, and not entirely true. I am a "newbie" and have stated several times that I wasn't in anyone's "camp" but that I was just looking for the truth. Just because I haven't been involved in all of this from day one does not mean that I am "emerging from > a cave into the bright morning sun..." I find that quite offensive. There definitely are some attitudes running on this board. I know - if I don't like it I can "leave"...

Yes, you are a newbie, and you have come in looking for "truth", and you have been willing to ask questions and look at the information we have here, sorting through it carefully, rather than damning us all for speaking against what we perceive as evil. You have admitted that you do not know all there is to know... so in that sense you are "emerging from a cave" of lack of information into "the bright morning sun" of an abundance of information. We welcome all seekers for information.... and you are free to agree or disagree with what is posted here. What we do not like is to be condemned for the very act of allowing information to be posted freely.... and especially is it repugnant when the condemnation comes before the hostile newbie even reads to see what is being said here... or how it is being said.

An inquiring mind... even a doubtful mind... is fully welcome, and we will aid your search in any way we can. So don't be either alarmed or afraid of the defenses we raise against those who come in an offensive attack mode will guns blazing, "shooting from the hip". And if in your search you find things that are hard to believe or that you think you have evidence is not accurate, then inform us of that and give your evidence. I can assure you we will consider it carefully.

As to "hard to believe" though.... keep in mind the adage.... "truth is stranger than fiction".

Peace.

Posted by: caribbean sda Jan 24 2007, 08:10 AM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 24 2007, 09:26 AM)
>
> It's never too late for kindness or the golden rule.
> But of course All the posts to the other newbies who arrived in the last couple of years, who were insulted and ridiculed and accused of being in Danny's camp, etc., and had their every motive and intent maligned, just for trying to question the facts and evidence being presented here and discern for themselves and judge righteously.
>
> Along with All the posts here from regulars who treat anyone who doesn't just accept what they claim without verifying it, as the "queer' in the internet version of the childhood game of "smear the queer",
>
> And All the posts with the "If you don't like it. LEAVE", "boring.." and "bring in the next team" " you are diverting from the main issues" responses, merely for crawling out from under the dogpile, and objecting to the "kindness" shown them here.
>
> Still stand as a witness to any future Newbie who arrives, and to all those who are members here and who have replied or done this.
>
> This entire world is a theatre for the universe, starring only two kinds of people. that's a much bigger picture then the view we often see in our narrow little everyday thoughts and reactions..
>
> How do heaven and other world's see the role each of us has played here?
>
> Every thought, every idle word enters into the judgment.
>
> That's a reality check, and a very sobering one, for me.

r

Posted by: seraph|m Jan 24 2007, 09:57 AM

> QUOTE(inga @ Jan 24 2007, 04:57 AM)
>
> It's likely that folks are even now GOOGLING for 3ABN information from sites other than 3ABN.
>
> Please, let's be kind to them and very patient. hug.gif

I can appreciate what you've stated but frankly, we don't need to be told to be kind, we have been kind. We greet every new person that comes in and welcome them to BlackSDA.

I believe you, and a number of other newbies, have missed something rather important in the midst of the 3ABN drama and that is that most of the people who join BSDA, not only have no interest in 3ABN and very likely have little knowledge if any of 3ABNs existence. That's my two cents, for what it's worth.

Be Blessed

Posted by: Nuggie Jan 24 2007, 10:02 AM

> QUOTE(Denny @ Jan 24 2007, 08:47 AM)
>
> Some of the newbies are asking for what they in turn are not giving. This is Calvin's home one does not enter another person's home and tell them how to run things - if you do expect a response.

"Do as I say, not as I do" is their slogan...

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 24 2007, 10:06 AM

> QUOTE(inga @ Jan 24 2007, 02:57 AM)
>
> It's likely that folks are even now GOOGLING for 3ABN information from sites other than 3ABN.
>
> Please, let's be kind to them and very patient. hug.gif
>
> You see, I'm sure they'll sound just like Dan Shelton, and most of us have had our fill of him. However, a great many folks will sound like Dan Shelton when they come on here because they've been listening to him so long and so much that they actually believe what he says. They believe that Linda committed adultery -- if not physically, then at least spiritually. After all, didn't John > Lomacang and his church say that Dan had was perfectly free to remarry?

>
> They believe that all those claimed miracles are true. They believe that Dan was chosen by God. They believe that 3ABN is doing the work of God, and all those baptisms they claim wouldn't possibly come about if Dan were not chosen by God. And they believe that anyone who opposes the work of 3ABN opposes the work of God and endangers his/her salvation.
>
> How do I know?
>
> Well, I have a mother who believes just that -- in spite of my having tried several times to enlighten her. Finally, she wrote me a long and serious email, imploring me to examine my heart, etc. etc. If she came on this board, she would sound just like Dan Shelton. Though she would not make the same errors that are typical for him, she would make some errors because English is her second language. Being ridiculed for those would certainly convince her that we're all in cahoots with Satan and that nothing said here is true. (Believe it or not, she's an intelligent woman, and she's quite reasonable in most other things.)
>
> So, please be kind to the newbies! One of them may be my mother.
>
> There's nothing to lose by assuming that the ones who find this site are innocents who have been sent here by Dan's "live" program -- folks who know nothing but what they have heard him say.
>
> I believe at one time PB was someone like that. There will be more, and they will likely sound just like Dan.
>
> Of course, if they claim to be eye witnesses, that's quite another story.

Inga, I think your words of caution are so important. These issues are highly charged and tend to bring out passionate responses from both camps. It might be tempting to take an adversarial view of new comers since we have been bombarded with numerous severely opinionated newbies who clearly have no intention of weighing any of the first hand evidence contained here but are, instead, loaded up with their malodorous, smoked herrings. To follow those inclinations and be harsh with all newbies would be a mistake.

Posted by: awesumtenor Jan 24 2007, 10:15 AM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 24 2007, 08:26 AM)
>
> It's never too late for kindness or the golden rule.
> But of course All the posts to the other newbies who arrived in the last couple of years, who were insulted and ridiculed and accused of being in Danny's camp, etc., and had their every motive and intent maligned, just for trying to question the facts and evidence being presented here and discern for themselves and judge righteously.
>
> Along with All the posts here from regulars who treat anyone who doesn't just accept what they claim without verifying it, as the "queer' in the internet version of the childhood game of "smear the queer",
>
> And All the posts with the "If you don't like it. LEAVE", "boring.." and "bring in the next team" " you are diverting from the main issues" responses, merely for crawling out from under the dogpile, and objecting to the "kindness" shown them here.

> Still stand as a witness to any future Newbie who arrives, and to all those who are members here and who have replied or done this.
>
> This entire world is a theatre for the universe, starring only two kinds of people. that's a much bigger picture then the view we often see in our narrow little everyday thoughts and reactions..
>
> How do heaven and other world's see the role each of us has played here?
>
> Every thought, every idle word enters into the judgment.
>
> That's a reality check, and a very sobering one, for me.

First of all... BSDA is an internet community that has been around for nearly 10 years and those of us who have embraced it in it's entirety know that the little corner of the room you choose to limit yourself to is just that... a little corner. You say people have not been friendly... but you came here not seeking friends. You act as if all we care about and discuss is 3ABN and the fools whose lives are consumed by such conversation... and once again you are wrong...

To any 'newbies' that come... if you want your BSDA experience to go well.. dont come in here with tunnel vision. The bible says if one wants to have friends, he must first show himself friendly... This forum has far more to offer than what's being said about 3ABN...community and friendship and concern one for another... both on and offline ... and that survives even our disagreements on any particular topic.

Those who came just for 3ABN stuff, regardless of which side, have missed the point, the benefit and the blessing of BSDA... to their own detriment.

Cindy, you need to take your own words to heart... because every word you have spoken here is idle and none of it is either loving or edifying... or even trying to be. You disregard truth that doesnt sit well with your opinions and have not some here seeking anything at all. Your mind is made up and none is going to convince you otherwise.

That, of course, is your prerogative. As it is mine to point out stupidity when it manifests itself in public... and the course you have set in this forum since you came here is stupidity in the extreme. Maybe what you're doing passes for objectivity in Lafayette, IN... but here it's just the latest round of foolishness... the most recent weapon of mass distraction... majoring in minors, trying to take the spotlight off DS and 3ABN by attacking their detractors with every spurious rumor, conjecture and presumption you can think of.

And the saddest part is you dont have the good sense to see it's not working.

I'll step off my soapbox for now... but I wont put it away; knowing you and your camp, i will invariably need it again in the very near future.

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: inga Jan 24 2007, 12:22 PM

> QUOTE(Snoopy @ Jan 24 2007, 08:33 AM)
>
> You know, that is quite a generalist comment, and not entirely true. I am a "newbie" and have stated several times that I wasn't in anyone's "camp" but that I was just looking for the truth. Just because I haven't been involved in all of this from day one does not mean that I am "emerging from > a cave into the bright morning sun..." I find that quite offensive. There definitely are some attitudes running on this board. I know - if I don't like it I can "leave"...

Hey, Snoopy, please don't take offense. ☒ hug.gif

I thought Clay was writing about those who come on here sounding just like Dan, and you didn't. You sounded like you had a mind of your own right from the start. Very refreshing, I might add.

Posted by: Chimaz Jan 24 2007, 12:34 PM

Inga,

I'm sure you regard your mother as a wise lady. Since all your attempts to enlighten her have failed, you have got to ask yourself - why? Is it because you've done a poor sales job, or is it because she sees something you don't? She implored you to examine your heart, why would she ask you to do something like that?

Your concern is that if she participated here, she might not be treated with all due respect. That would really suck.

And Clay...

Because Inga's mom resisted Inga's many efforts to enlighten her, did she crawl back into the cave? ☒ b

---

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jan 24 2007, 01:01 PM

> QUOTE(Chimaz @ Jan 24 2007, 12:34 PM) ☐
>
> Inga,
>
> I'm sure you regard your mother as a wise lady. Since all your attempts to enlighten her have failed, you have got to ask yourself - why? Is it because you've done a poor sales job, or is it because she sees something you don't? She implored you to examine your heart, why would she ask you to do something like that?

I found a sermon that touches on this same question: Since all your attempts to elighten her [your mother]have failed, you have got to ask yourself - why?

http://www.christianpatriot.com/05_19_2004.htm

No prophet is accepted in his own country.

"There is probably no tougher form of evangelism than that in which you try to reach your own immediate family, brothers, sisters, dad, mom, uncles, aunts, cousins, etc with the Gospel of Christ.

There are a number of things we shall learn in Luke Chapter Four, but two of the most important are:

As Jesus knew and demonstrated for us, family is very hard to preach to. And second, there comes a time when we must let them go and focus on the commission and the mission field the Lord has assigned us.

I want to say this to you again, for it is good for you to understand and search for yourselves. There is not one verse in the Bible that indicates that any of Jesus's earthly blood relatives, other than His half brothers James and Jude, ever were Saved or will be in heaven. There is not one verse in the entire Bible that suggest that Jesus's earthly mother Mary is in heaven. I don't object to many of you referring to Mary as the queen of heaven I just cannot help but wonder what Scripture you base it on.

We will see in verse 24 the Lord saying "No prophet is accepted in his own country." And in verse 44 saying "I must preach the kingdom of God to other cities also: for therefore am I sent." Jesus could have spent His entire 3.5 years of earthly preaching trying to convince Mary, Joseph and His half brothers and sisters that He is indeed the Messiah, but He didn't and if He had, where would we be? And if you limit yourself to trying to reach your brothers, sisters, dad and mom, where will those be who God has assigned you to reach? "

Pete

Posted by: Clay Jan 24 2007, 01:09 PM

> QUOTE(Chimaz @ Jan 24 2007, 12:34 PM)
>
> And Clay...
>
> Because Inga's mom resisted Inga's many efforts to enlighten her, did she crawl back into the cave?

maybe she has yet to leave the cave.....

Posted by: awesumtenor Jan 24 2007, 01:12 PM

> QUOTE(Chimaz @ Jan 24 2007, 01:34 PM)
>
> Because Inga's mom resisted Inga's many efforts to enlighten her, did she crawl back into the cave?

Re-read Plato's Allegory... it means she would not exit the cave at all; one would have to actually leave the cave to crawl back.... and no, that's not a knock on inga's mother; just making sure the points of the allegory are properly applied...

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: seeshell Jan 24 2007, 01:37 PM

That cave looks so familiar... Not allegorically, literally...

Posted by: LeePaDee Jan 24 2007, 01:41 PM

I know this cave, too, seeshell.... down the road from Prague.

Posted by: Chimaz Jan 24 2007, 01:56 PM

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jan 24 2007, 11:01 AM)
>
> I found a sermon that touches on this same question: Since all your attempts to elighten her [your mother]have failed, you have got to ask yourself - why?
> http://www.christianpatriot.com/05_19_2004.htm
>
> No prophet is accepted in his own country.
>
> "There is probably no tougher form of evangelism than that in which you try to reach your own immediate family, brothers, sisters, dad, mom, uncles, aunts, cousins, etc with the Gospel of Christ.

So Inga is a prophet? And what makes the dirt about DS and 3ABN so important that her mother needs to know? Are you suggesting Inga's efforts to reach her mother with these matters are the same as evangelizing gospel?

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jan 24 2007, 11:09 AM)
>
> maybe she has yet to leave the cave.....

maybe she's not in the cave...

Posted by: seeshell Jan 24 2007, 02:13 PM

> QUOTE(LeePaDee @ Jan 24 2007, 01:41 PM)

> I know this cave, too, seeshell.... down the road from Prague.

I would've thought the Arkansas Ozarks.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jan 24 2007, 02:13 PM

> QUOTE(Chimaz @ Jan 24 2007, 01:56 PM)
>
> So Inga is a prophet?

I think you did understand what the pastor was saying about the difficulty of reaching family members.

But if you did not, that is the way it goes sometimes.

God Bless,

Pete

Posted by: Chimaz Jan 24 2007, 03:05 PM

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jan 24 2007, 12:13 PM)
>
> I think you did understand what the pastor was saying about the difficulty of reaching family members.

I don't understand. Reaching family members with what?

What makes someone's dirt so important that we need to let our families know? Are you or anyone else here suggesting that innocent souls are in danger by watching 3ABN?

Posted by: Clay Jan 24 2007, 03:30 PM

> QUOTE(Chimaz @ Jan 24 2007, 01:56 PM)
>
> maybe she's not in the cave...

and maybe you would be wrong...

Posted by: princessdi Jan 24 2007, 03:37 PM

I don't think so much just by watching, but these family members are also often substantial contributors, especially as far as their limited incomes are concerned. While there are questions about the appropriation of funds, I think they should be warned.

> QUOTE(Chimaz @ Jan 24 2007, 01:05 PM)
>
> I don't understand. Reaching family members with what?
>
> What makes someone's dirt so important that we need to let our families know? Are you or anyone else here suggesting that innocent souls are in danger by watching 3ABN?

Posted by: watchbird Jan 24 2007, 04:23 PM

> QUOTE(Chimaz @ Jan 24 2007, 04:05 PM)
>
> I don't understand. Reaching family members with what?
>
> What makes someone's dirt so important that we need to let our families know? Are you or anyone else here suggesting that innocent souls are in danger by watching 3ABN?

Yes. I believe that they are. Not only for financial reasons, but for reasons of setting an example of inappropriate "worship" of leaders who are themselves corrupt, and also for reasons of doctrine and belief systems. Increasingly 3ABN is presenting a distorted gospel, heavily laced with Pentecostal presuppositions and beliefs. I believe the combination presents both financial and spiritual danger to those who support and watch it indiscriminantly.

Posted by: Bystander Jan 24 2007, 06:23 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 24 2007, 07:42 AM)
>
> An exception to the rule of what? Kindenss to newbies? which I thought was the topic?

> Maybe that's because I don't buy the majorities claims that ' "if you aren't for us, you are against us" and thus are in Danny's camp' conspiracy theories?
>
> Don't worry, I'm leavin the thread, I said my piece.

Altheia,
You have made some wonderful points.

It is ironic how everything we are accused of is actually, what they are guilty of. We are all in "Danny Sheltons camp" Well...they are all in "linda's camp." We just blindly accept what we hear from him on 3ABN....They (people on this forum) blindly accept what they here from her camp. We don't know the facts.....What they are calling facts is actually false accusations that have came from different people but originated in "linda's camp." They have laughed, scoffed, gossiped, accused, spouted untruths, and have been downright mean but we are the ones that are unchristlike. And I know also, If I don't like it I can leave.......sad.....

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jan 24 2007, 06:46 PM

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Jan 24 2007, 06:23 PM)
>
> It is ironic how everything we are accused of is actually, what they are guilty of. We are all in "Danny Sheltons camp" Well...they are all in "linda's camp."

You're trying to make everything just Danny versus Linda?

You forgot to mention your highly-esteemed Tommy Shelton camp, too. Anyone in Danny's camp is also in Tommy's camp. Danny says Tommy will return.

You remember Tommy Shelton, don't you? He's the non-adventist pastor who was put in charge of 3ABN programming by the highly-esteemed Danny Shelton, until Tommy's premature "retirement." Don't forget Tommy, too, when you consider who is in whose camp. Visit the Save3ABN.com Web site and bask in the accolades of your favorite camp.

Posted by: inga Jan 24 2007, 07:03 PM

> QUOTE(Chimaz @ Jan 24 2007, 01:34 PM)
>
> Inga,
>
> I'm sure you regard your mother as a wise lady. Since all your attempts to enlighten her have failed, you have got to ask yourself - why? Is it because you've done a poor sales job, or is it because she sees something you don't?

She believes that what she sees on the screen is the actuality. Perhaps it's her generation -- one that did not grow up with television and thus does not have a realistic view of the difference between what is projected on the screen and what the off-camera reality probably is.

> QUOTE

> Your concern is that if she participated here, she might not be treated with all due respect. That would really suck.

Chimaz, you are drawing some altogether unwarranted conclusions!

My mother is my mother, and I attempted to enlighten her but drew back when it was evident whe was not willing to listen. I did not try to do a "sales job."

I'm glad you're not my neighbor (as my mother is).

Posted by: inga Jan 24 2007, 07:23 PM

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Jan 24 2007, 04:37 PM)
>
> I don't think so much just by watching, but these family members are also often substantial contributors, especially as far as their limited incomes are concerned. While there are questions about the appropriation of funds, I think they should be warned.

That's exactly it, PrincessDi!
When the  finally hits the fan and the stench goes around the world, she's going to feel so much the worse for the money she kept sending when she could have known better.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 24 2007, 08:29 PM

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Jan 24 2007, 05:23 PM)
>
> Altheia,
> You have made some wonderful points.
>
> It is ironic how everything we are accused of is actually, what they are guilty of. We are all in "Danny Sheltons camp" Well...they are all in "linda's camp." We just blindly accept what we hear from him on 3ABN....They (people on this forum) blindly accept what they here from her camp. We don't know the facts.....What they are calling facts is actually false accusations that have came from different people but originated in "linda's camp." They have laughed, scoffed, gossiped, accused, spouted untruths, and have been downright mean but we are the ones that are unchristlike. And I know also, If I don't like it I can leave.......sad.....

Bystander,
I am still waiting for a response from you about proof that the Clem brothers and Brad Dunning lied in their testimonies against Tommy Shelton. I am still waiting for you to provide any rebuttal to the confession Tommy Shelton emailed to Duane Clem in 2005. I am not in "Linda's Camp" or in "Danny's Camp". I am in God's camp and I have a burden to see the allegations against Tommy Shelton either brought out into the open so as to protect other youngsters or definitively be shown to be false.

Posted by: Bystander Jan 24 2007, 08:39 PM

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jan 24 2007, 06:46 PM)
>
> You're trying to make everything just Danny versus Linda?
>
> You forgot to mention your highly-esteemed Tommy Shelton camp, too. Anyone in Danny's camp is also in Tommy's camp. Danny says Tommy will return.
>
> You remember Tommy Shelton, don't you? He's the non-adventist pastor who was put in charge of 3ABN programming by the highly-esteemed Danny Shelton, until Tommy's premature "retirement." Don't forget Tommy, too, when you consider who is in whose camp. Visit the Save3ABN.com Web site and bask in the accolades of your favorite camp.

Big jump considering all that was said was referring to the statement put out today by ASI

Posted by: inga Jan 24 2007, 08:42 PM

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Jan 24 2007, 07:23 PM)
>
> It is ironic how everything we are accused of is actually, what they are guilty of.

You should remember this irony when you post: You reveal more about yourself than anyone on this board when you come at us.

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 24 2007, 11:48 PM

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Jan 24 2007, 07:23 PM)
>
> Altheia,
> You have made some wonderful points.
>
> It is ironic how everything we are accused of is actually, what they are guilty of. We are all in "Danny Sheltons camp" Well...they are all in "linda's camp." We just blindly accept what we hear from him on 3ABN....They (people on this forum) blindly accept what they here from her camp. We don't know the facts.....What they are calling facts is actually false accusations that have came from different people but originated in "linda's camp." They have laughed, scoffed, gossiped, accused, spouted untruths, and have been downright mean but we are the ones that are unchristlike. And I know also, If I don't like it I can leave.......sad.....

Ah, bystander, how wrong you are. If you read my posts from the beginning, you will see that I was not a fan of Linda as an administrator. So you cannot accuse "us all" of being in "Linda's camp." Everything I have posted about "knowing" I learned from first-hand knowledge. There are a few stories that I heard second-hand, and those I announced at the beginning that "I once heard..." So please don't lump everyone that disagrees with you in Linda's corner.

By the way - how much that you disagree with here is because of witnessing it first-hand?

Posted by: mystery- man Jan 25 2007, 01:00 AM

If it is of interest to any, when I came here to this forum and read the things here I was very shocked. I had been watching three ABN for some many years, Linda and Danny, and enjoyed the both of them. But all of a sudden Linda was not on the program anymore and I was very concerned.

I understand that people have marital problems that is just a fact of life, however, even if that was the case I questioned in my mind how a ministry that preached healing broken people could erase one of their own off the set like they did not exist, (with the exception of murder or child molestation). But when I came here and read the different threads it all made sense to me. By the way I lurked and read for months before I finally signed up.

I dont think that many people on either side understand the hurt and pain of the other. Most people who watched 3abn are or have been broken at one time or the other in their life. And most of all they are looking to the God that forgives and restores. (In my opinion 3abn is self deceived if they think that they are spreading the gospel). What they dont seem to understand is that every ministry Muslems, Hindus, Baptist, Catholics, all can attest to miracles and say they do a wonderful work but that by no means make them instruments of God. Did not Jesus tell the scribs and the pharasees that the devil was their leader. 3ABN seems to think telling about the sabbath is what makes them the original and not the conterfeit. While I believe that telling and (showing) Gods love to a dying sinful world is what makes the message the original. How many times did Danny get on the air and say pray for my wife who I love. How about the board members how many times did they show love for one of their own. The example of Joseph the husband of Mary is most applicable, and Joseph sought to put her away privately because he was a just man.

No one will be saved because they keep the Sabbath they will be saved because they love Jesus "If ye love me keep my commandments". Now the example of love is what people need to be able to keep the Sabbath not mere facts that Saturday is the Sabbath. Untill the board changes their self promoting and start being humble falling on their knee,s and ask God to forgive them, admitt their wrong and except their mistakes they will never be able to conteract themselves and the false message they are sending. How many Sabbath keepers will be lost and in the lake of fire because they had the Sabbath but not the Savior. I was a newbee and I can honestly say that in my sinful condition in need of a savior I came to this site. Even now I definitly dont want to see 3ABN destroyed and I dont think Danny needs to leave but only if he falls, him and the board at the foot of Jesus and let him make that determination. Oh, that we could weep for our sins and unworthiness, but there are no tears because the heart is hard.

Posted by: Johann Jan 25 2007, 01:30 AM

> QUOTE(mystery- man @ Jan 25 2007, 09:00 AM) ☐
>
> ---
>
> The example of Joseph the husband of Mary is most applicable, and Joseph sought to put her away privately because he was a just man.
>
> ---

Thank you 'mystery man' for reminding us what is the Christian Way. More than two years ago I reminded the 3ABN administration of Joseph, just like you do, and asked them to treat Linda that way. But they did not think it applied in this case.

Let us plead with God for truth and mercy.

May God bless you!

Posted by: Aletheia Jan 26 2007, 01:35 PM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jan 25 2007, 02:30 AM) ☐
>
> Thank you 'mystery man' for reminding us what is the Christian Way. More than two years ago I reminded the 3ABN administration of Joseph, just like you do, and asked them to treat Linda that way. But they did not think it applied in this case.
>
> Let us plead with God for truth and mercy.
>
> May God bless you!

If Linda had been put away quietly, and just disappeared...

then would we be hearing how he murdered her?

If Linda had been put away quietly, and Danny suddenly appeared with a new woman 2 years later...

Then would we be hearing he was a bigomist, or a fornicator?

It seems to me Mary and Joseph were not televangelists on a station and show broadcast and known through out the world, and so there had to be some explaination.

Common sense? for some...

Posted by: Clay Jan 26 2007, 01:40 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 26 2007, 01:35 PM) ☐
>
> If Linda had been put away quietly, and just disappeared...
>
> then would we be hearing how he murdered her?
>
> If Linda had been put away quietly, and Danny suddenly appeared with a new woman 2 years later...

> Then would we be hearing he was a bigomist, or a fornicator?
>
> It seems to me Mary and Joseph were not televangelists on a station and show broadcast and known through out the world, and so there had to be some explaination.
>
> Common sense? for some...

you are being obtuse.... intentionally I would gather.....

If Danny had gotten a divorce quietly, NOT trashed Linda's name at every opportunity, and compensated her fairly without having her sign a gag order... then this would have been a non-issue for me.....

Posted by: Brenda Jan 26 2007, 01:40 PM

"Common sense? for some..."

The common sense - and decent - way would have been for an acknowledgement that the marriage had ended, and for no disparaging remarks nor insinuations to have been made.

And that action should have left Linda free to pursue her chosen work or church of membership, without interference.

Posted by: andithomas1 Jan 26 2007, 01:54 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 26 2007, 01:35 PM) ☐
>
> If Linda had been put away quietly, and just disappeared...
>
> then would we be hearing how he murdered her?
>
> If Linda had been put away quietly, and Danny suddenly appeared with a new woman 2 years later...
>
> Then would we be hearing he was a bigomist, or a fornicator?
>
> It seems to me Mary and Joseph were not televangelists on a station and show broadcast and known through out the world, and so there had to be some explaination.
>
> Common sense? for some...

Why does this excuse the actions of professed followers of Jesus Christ? Why is it okay to destroy her and send her away in shame? Why is it okay to destroy her reputation? That is not Christ-like!!!!!

I am a newbie and don't "have a dog in this hunt" but 3ABN has some explaining to do.

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 26 2007, 02:02 PM

> QUOTE(andithomas1 @ Jan 26 2007, 02:54 PM)
>
> Why does this excuse the actions of professed followers of Jesus Christ? Why is it okay to destroy her and send her away in shame? Why is it okay to destroy her reputation? That is not Christ-like!!!!!
>
> I am a newbie and don't "have a dog in this hunt" but 3ABN has some explaining to do.

Yes they do, AIT, but you won't get any. We all have been waiting to hear the same thing. What they will do is try to put the focus back onto some obsure thing or ask their own questions. Get ready for the action if you plan to stay. You might want to read the pinned sections or go back through the posts. There's a lot to catch up on!

BTW... ☒ welc ☒ welc ☒ welc

HOTY

Posted by: Clay Jan 26 2007, 02:04 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 26 2007, 01:35 PM)
>
> If Linda had been put away quietly, and just disappeared...
>
> then would we be hearing how he murdered her?
>
> If Linda had been put away quietly, and Danny suddenly appeared with a new woman 2 years later...
>
> Then would we be hearing he was a bigomist, or a fornicator?
>
> It seems to me Mary and Joseph were not televangelists on a station and show broadcast and known through out the world, and so there had to be some explaination.
>
> Common sense? for some...

Will Smith.... not an adventist, would be considered by some in this church as "unsaved" has been married twice... Yes twice... this is his second marriage.... You have NEVER heard him say anything mean-spirited about his 1st wife...Likewise you have never heard of his 1st wife being mistreated or short changed by him.... When they divorced (and yes they have a child together), he was not dragged into court and forced to pay, NO, he fairly compensated his 1st wife and everything has been fine... It is even said that his ex-wife and current wife are friends....

Now if he (Will Smith) not being in the church can do that for his ex wife, why couldn't Danny, self appointed, self-annointed, prophet and the face of adventism do the right thing? The danny apologists that drop in here defending his mess makes me sick... it is sickening.... makes me wonder what kind of christian can ignore compassion, justice, and mercy.... I pray I am not a member of any of the churches that these danny apologists attend....

Posted by: Aletheia Jan 26 2007, 02:13 PM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jan 26 2007, 02:40 PM)
>
> you are being obtuse.... intentionally I would gather.....
>
> If Danny had gotten a divorce quietly, NOT trashed Linda's name at every opportunity, and compensated her fairly without having her sign a gag order... then this would have been a non-issue for me.....

You keep repeating that Linda wasn't compensated fairly junk, with zip for evidence...

Well if Pickle, Joy and Matthews had your concerns only then I guess your concerns would have already been addressed and put to rest. No fear. I'm thinking they soon will be....

Posted by: Clay Jan 26 2007, 02:14 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 26 2007, 02:13 PM)
>
> You keep repeating that Linda wasn't compensated fairly junk, with zip for evidence...
>
> Well if Pickle, Joy and Matthews had your concerns only then I guess your concerns would have already been addressed and put to rest. No fear. I'm thinking they soon will be....

I keep thinking you are a reasonable adult with zip for evidence...your point? distraction by minutiae.... tiresome you are...

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 26 2007, 02:22 PM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jan 26 2007, 03:14 PM)
>
> I keep thinking you are a reasonable adult with zip for evidence...your point? distraction by minutiae.... tiresome you are...

You're crackin me up, Clay...

Posted by: princessdi Jan 26 2007, 02:28 PM

Now, if there is something everybody agrees on is that Linda di dsign an agreement/gag order to not talk about anything concerning 3ABN and they would pay her appox. $250,000.00. The only disagreement is with those who believe that was a fair settlement for the co founder of a business worth several millions. That agreemnt is posted here at least twice. Now what kind of eivdence are you looking for? Did I not try to help you by telling you not to post until you read more information?

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 26 2007, 12:13 PM)
>
> You keep repeating that Linda wasn't compensated fairly junk, with zip for evidence...
>
> Well if Pickle, Joy and Matthews had your concerns only then I guess your concerns would have already been addressed and put to rest. No fear. I'm thinking they soon will be....

Ok, so you just went all the way there........

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jan 26 2007, 12:14 PM)
>
> I keep thinking you are a reasonable adult with zip for evidence...your point? distraction by minutiae.... tiresome you are...

Posted by: erik Jan 26 2007, 02:49 PM

QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 26 2007, 01:35 PM) *

If Linda had been put away quietly, and just disappeared...

then would we be hearing how he murdered her?

If Linda had been put away quietly, and Danny suddenly appeared with a new woman 2 years later...

Then would we be hearing he was a bigomist, or a fornicator?

It seems to me Mary and Joseph were not televangelists on a station and show broadcast and known through out the world, and so there had to be some explaination.

Common sense? for some...

Aletheia,

Let me get this straight because linda is "dirty whore" danny has the right to do and say what ever he wants?

I would like the biblical texts that back that up?????????

Aletheia, Linda could be the worst sinner that still does not give danny the right to act like jerk, period.

erik

Posted by: andithomas1 Jan 26 2007, 03:16 PM

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Jan 26 2007, 02:28 PM)
>
> Now, if there is something everybody agrees on is that Linda di dsign an agreement/gag order to not talk about anything concerning 3ABN and they would pay her appox. $250,000.00. The only disagreement is with those who believe that was a fair settlement for the co founder of a business worth several millions. That agreemnt is posted here at least twice. Now what kind of eivdence are you looking for? Did I not try to help you by telling you not to post until you read more information?
>
> Ok, so you just went all the way there........

How about 14 million just in contributions according to the 2005 990 filed with the IRS, this doesn't include other assets and monies held. 250k pales in comparison so don't keep coming talking about FAIR compensaton.

Posted by: princessdi Jan 26 2007, 03:19 PM

Ok? I know that's right!!! There ya go!

> QUOTE(andithomas1 @ Jan 26 2007, 01:16 PM)
>
> How about 14 million just in contributions according to the 2005 990 filed with the IRS, this doesn't include other assets and monies held. 250k pales in comparison so don't keep coming talking about FAIR compensaton.

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 26 2007, 03:24 PM

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Jan 26 2007, 04:19 PM)
>
> Ok? I know that's right!!! There ya go!

I like this new guy, Di. He's got spunk too!

Posted by: princessdi Jan 26 2007, 03:42 PM

"Some explaination" did not have to be a lie. He made it up. There is no such thing as spiritual adultery committed between husband and wife. That is common sense for most? When Danny first came here is reaosning was that Linda spent more than 15 minutes on the phone with a men who was not her husband. Only when folks started questioning that "spritual adultery" junk, then he had some evidence that is was actual adultery. Meaning if folks would have just bought the spiritual adultery(and for some strange reason he thought everybody would), then he would have no need to prove anything. With Linda unable to say a word, he went around the country and on TV making his case, he was the only one talking. See Cindy, for some of us none of what you say holds water. Danny lied with his first breath to BSDA, and has continued for almost 3 years now.

And you are missing the point about Mary and Joseph. It makes no difference if they are a public figure or not. Joseph was Godly enough not to want to embarrass Mary before her own community. Circumstances and common sense told him she was all the way wrong. Are you saying Danny should have been any less than that?

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 26 2007, 11:35 AM)
>
> If Linda had been put away quietly, and just disappeared...
>
> then would we be hearing how he murdered her?
>
> If Linda had been put away quietly, and Danny suddenly appeared with a new woman 2 years later...
>
> Then would we be hearing he was a bigomist, or a fornicator?
>
> It seems to me Mary and Joseph were not televangelists on a station and show broadcast and known through out the world, and so there had to be some explaination.
>
> Common sense? for some...

Posted by: andithomas1 Jan 26 2007, 03:45 PM

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Jan 26 2007, 03:42 PM)
>
> "Some explaination" did not have to be a lie. He made it up. There is no such thing as spiritual adultery committed between husband and wife. That is common sense for most? When Danny first came here is reaosning was that Linda spent more than 15 minutes on the phone with a men who was not her husband. Only when folks started questioning that "spritual adultery" junk, then he had some evidence that is was actual adultery. Meaning if folks would have just bought the spiritual adultery(and for some strange reason he thought everybody would), then he would have no need to prove anything. With Linda unable to say a word, he went around the country and on TV making his case, he was the only one talking. See Cindy, for some of us none of what you say holds water. Danny lied with his first breath to BSDA, and has continued for almost 3 years now.
>
> And you are missing the point about Mary and Joseph. It makes no difference if they are a public figure or not. Joseph was Godly enough not to want to embarrass Mary before her own community. Circumstances and common sense told him she was all the way wrong. Are you saying Danny > should have been any less than that?

Amen sista

Posted by: calvin Jan 26 2007, 07:57 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 26 2007, 02:13 PM) ☐
>
> You keep repeating that Linda wasn't compensated fairly junk, with zip for evidence...
> Well if Pickle, Joy and Matthews had your concerns only then I guess your concerns would have already been addressed and put to rest. No fear. I'm thinking they soon will be....

I have something to agree with you on Cindy. Linda was compensated well. Most states operate under the principle of "employment at will", which means that just like you can quit your job at anytime for any reason so can an employer termination your employment for cause or without cause. All an employer owns you is an honest days pay for your honest day work. Linda was an employee and officer of 3ABN, she received two years salary upon her termination, 3ABN did not have to do that. An employer does not own you severance, she did better than most. Agreeing to a gag orders for officers and corporations is a common business practice in order to receive a severance package. I don't fault 3ABN for that. You can argue all you want whether the termination was fair or not....that has nothing to do with compensation while she was employed and grants no rights to compensation after her employment ended.

Another thing. Linda may have been the co-founder of 3ABN but she is not a part owner nor is Danny an owner. The 3ABN Corporation is the owner. A corporation is a legal entity, it can hold property in its name, enter into contracts, hire officers and employees, sue and be sued, etc. Corporations are setup to limit the personal liability of the founder and officers, but also to ensure ongoing continued business should any one person leave the company. The Corporation owns the assets, not Linda. She is not entitled to half the business as some believe.

Now, here is where I agree with Clay, Di and others. It was unethical for 3ABN to trash Linda publicly and engage in activity to prohibit Linda from seeking employment elsewhere (if true). 3ABN should have held itself to the same conditions they expected from Linda...that is what an ethical business would do.

Posted by: inga Jan 26 2007, 08:08 PM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 26 2007, 04:24 PM) ☐
>
> I like this new guy, Di. He's got spunk too!

Hey, don't you men go claiming Andi as your own. It says "Gender 'f'" beneath her name. That makes her a new gal with spunk ! gir

Andi, welcome.gif

Posted by: Clay Jan 26 2007, 08:43 PM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Jan 26 2007, 07:57 PM)
>
> I have something to agree with you on Cindy. Linda was compensated well. Most states operate under the principle of "employment at will", which means that just like you can quit your job at anytime for any reason so can an employer termination your employment for cause or without cause. All an employer owns you is an honest days pay for your honest day work. Linda was an employee and officer of 3ABN, she received two years salary upon her termination, 3ABN did not have to do that. An employer does not own you severance, she did better than most. Agreeing to a gag orders for officers and corporations is a common business practice in order to receive a severance package. I don't fault 3ABN for that. You can argue all you want whether the termination was fair or not....that has nothing to do with compensation while she was employed and grants no rights to compensation after her employment ended.
>
> Another thing. Linda may have been the co-founder of 3ABN but she is not a part owner nor is Danny an owner. The 3ABN Corporation is the owner. A corporation is a legal entity, it can hold property in its name, enter into contracts, hire officers and employees, sue and be sued, etc. Corporations are setup to limit the personal liability of the founder and officers, but also to ensure ongoing continued business should any one person leave the company. The Corporation owns the assets, not Linda. She is not entitled to half the business as some believe.
>
> Now, here is where I agree with Clay, Di and others. It was unethical for 3ABN to trash Linda publicly and engage in activity to prohibit Linda from seeking employment elsewhere (if true). 3ABN should have held itself to the same conditions they expected from Linda...that is what an ethical business would do.

andithomas posted....

> QUOTE
>
> How about 14 million just in contributions according to the 2005 990 filed with the IRS, this doesn't include other assets and monies held. 250k pales in comparison so don't keep coming talking about FAIR compensaton.

Posted by: Hersheys99 Jan 26 2007, 08:49 PM

That & she wasn't an employee she was cofounder of 3ABN.

Posted by: calvin Jan 26 2007, 08:54 PM

> QUOTE(Hersheys99 @ Jan 26 2007, 08:49 PM)

> That & she wasn't an employee she was cofounder of 3ABN.

She was an employee and 3ABN issued her a W2 form every year to proof it!

Posted by: Clay Jan 26 2007, 08:55 PM

> QUOTE(Hersheys99 @ Jan 26 2007, 08:49 PM)
>
> That & she wasn't an employee she was cofounder of 3ABN.

for putting up with his MESS she wasn't hardly compensated enough.... where is Madea when you need her? Putting up with his mess for 2 decades... naw.... not even...

Posted by: calvin Jan 26 2007, 09:05 PM

Yea, flying around in a private jet with Danny was tough goings. 3ABN is a business, she worked at the busness and got paid. If the 250K was not enough she should have negoiated better.

Posted by: Clay Jan 26 2007, 09:08 PM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Jan 26 2007, 09:05 PM)
>
> Yea, flying around in a private jet with Danny was tough goings. 3ABN is a business, she worked at the busness and got paid. If the 250K was not enough she should have negoiated better.

for dealing with his continual put downs, controlling chauvinistic ways.... 250k over 24 months wasn't even a drop in the bucket....

Posted by: calvin Jan 26 2007, 09:14 PM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jan 26 2007, 09:08 PM)
>
> for dealing with his continual put downs, controlling chauvinistic ways.... 250k over 24 months wasn't even a drop in the bucket....

Good point Steve, I concede. Hard to put a price on having to go through that mess.

Posted by: Clay Jan 26 2007, 09:21 PM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Jan 26 2007, 09:14 PM)
>
> Good point Steve, I concede. Hard to put a price on having to go through that mess.

which may be why she didn't negotiate better... he had her convinced that she wasn't worth anything.....

Posted by: andithomas1 Jan 26 2007, 09:28 PM

> QUOTE(inga @ Jan 26 2007, 08:08 PM)
>
> Hey, don't you men go claiming Andi as your own. It says "Gender 'f'" beneath her name. That makes her a new gal with spunk ! gi
>
> Andi, welcome.gif

Thanks for your welcome and I am a female. I dislike mean people and this is why I have "chimed" in on this thread.

Posted by: calvin Jan 26 2007, 09:30 PM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jan 26 2007, 09:21 PM)
>
> which may be why she didn't negotiate better... he had her convinced that she wasn't worth anything.....

The $250K was within industry standards. My company pays one month salary for every year of service, that is if you don't have an employment contract. If you have an employment contract, they you can negotiate anything you want when hired. So it was fair initially. But in hindsight, with 3ABN acting unethical after she was fired, it was not

---

Posted by: Noahswife Jan 26 2007, 09:31 PM

Let's remember that someone made the decision a long time ago that they wanted the benefits of being a not for profit corporation. After reading the AT article mentioned in the So Let it Be Written thread and elsewhere in this forum, it is clear Danny is demonstrating he does not understand he does not own 3ABN. The article mentions his pride in having no formal education beyond high school. It does not sound like he is getting good legal advise either.

Several days ago on another thread I asked a question of the readers...."whom do you think the 3ABN board owes a fiduciary duty?"

I would suggest you read the following article from Non-Proft Quarterly and think about whether the Board is meeting its legal and ethical/moral responsibilities given all the information set out here and elsewhere....

http://www.nonprofitquarterly.org/section/341.html

noahswife

And yes, the problem I see with the contract has nothing to do with money due Linda for loss of employment.....

Posted by: andithomas1 Jan 26 2007, 10:01 PM

> QUOTE(Noahswife @ Jan 26 2007, 09:31 PM)
>
> Let's remember that someone made the decision a long time ago that they wanted the benefits of being a not for profit corporation. After reading the AT article mentioned in the So Let it Be Written thread and elsewhere in this forum, it is clear Danny is demonstrating he does not understand he does not own 3ABN. The article mentions his pride in having no formal education beyond high school. It does not sound like he is getting good legal advise either.
>
> Several days ago on another thread I asked a question of the readers...."whom do you think the 3ABN board owes a fiduciary duty?"
>
> I would suggest you read the following article from Non-Proft Quarterly and think about whether the Board is meeting its legal responsibilities given all the information set out here and elsewhere....
>
> http://www.nonprofitquarterly.org/section/341.html
>
> noahswife
>
> And yes, the problem I see with the contract has nothing to do with money due Linda for loss of employment.....

Another site to check for the standards of the Board is Give.org. This site is by the Better Business Bureau

---

Posted by: princessdi Jan 26 2007, 10:47 PM

Ok?!!!!

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jan 26 2007, 06:55 PM) ☐
>
> for putting up with his MESS she wasn't hardly compensated enough.... where is Madea when you need her? Putting up with his mess for 2 decades... naw.... not even...

Posted by: andithomas1 Jan 26 2007, 11:46 PM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Jan 26 2007, 09:30 PM) ☐
>
> The $250K was within industry standards. My company pays one month salary for every year of service, that is if you don't have an employment contract. If you have an employment contract, they you can negotiate anything you want when hired. So it was fair initially. But in hindsight, with 3ABN acting unethical after she was fired, it was not

You are right-there is no ownership or shareholders because this is a not for profit organization. I still disagree on fair compensation. If a person is one of the original founders of a ministry that has net assets worth approx. 19,500,000 at the end of 2005-No way is 250k fair. I know she doesn't have any legal entitlements to compensation but come on Fair.

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 26 2007, 11:49 PM

> QUOTE(inga @ Jan 26 2007, 09:08 PM) ☐
>
> Hey, don't you men go claiming Andi as your own. It says "Gender 'f'" beneath her name. That makes her a new gal with spunk ! gif
>
> Andi, welcome.gif

oo HOTY sorry! gif

Posted by: andithomas1 Jan 26 2007, 11:56 PM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 26 2007, 11:49 PM)
>
> oo HOTY sorry! gi

HOTY-No Problem

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 27 2007, 12:06 AM

> QUOTE(andithomas1 @ Jan 27 2007, 12:56 AM)
>
> HOTY-No Problem

(BTW, this is how I have had such a wonderful marriage. I'm usually in this position!)

Posted by: Ozzie Jan 27 2007, 04:45 AM

> QUOTE(erik @ Jan 27 2007, 06:49 AM)
>
> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 26 2007, 01:35 PM) *
>
> Aletheia, Linda could be the worst sinner that still does not give danny the right to act like jerk, period.
> erik

Posted by: Aletheia Jan 27 2007, 05:32 AM

> QUOTE(erik @ Jan 26 2007, 03:49 PM)

> Aletheia,
>
> Let me get this straight because linda is "dirty whore" danny has the right to do and say what ever he wants?
>
> I would like the biblical texts that back that up?????????
>
> Aletheia, Linda could be the worst sinner that still does not give danny the right to act like jerk, period.
> erik

Eric, I didn't say that, you did. And I don't appreciate having your words put in my mouth, and then having you find fault with me for what you said.

I also don't see you saying, "Danny could be the worst jerk in the world and that doesn't give Linda the right to do and say what she has done, period." So it appears you have a side here, and a bias.

Maybe-- because I after almost 20 years with the only man I ever even seriously dated, found out my husband was having an adulterous affair, and 2 years later after our separation, was still being held accountable for all the debts he was continuing to run up, am now divorced...

Maybe- because of that I see this whole situation a bit differently.

Issues of infidelity and divorce are devastating, they rip you apart and turn you into a emotional basketcase. Sometimes, years after our initial separation, while going about my daily activities, or at work, just a passing thought or memory, would suddenly bring back the reality of all that had happenned and this terrible loss, it was like a sudden knife twisting in my stomache, making it hard to even draw the next breath.. All I could do was pray, please Lord take this terrible pain away I can't bear it anymore..

Because of that-- I realize people say, and do things they wouldn't normally do and say. Both I, and my ex-husband did. And I know now, the pain wasn't mine alone. A Divorce is a loss, God made us to be one, and when you lose your other half, you go through the same stages in the grief process that those dealing with a death do. It doesn't really matter who was at fault the loss is felt by both,

As Kubler-Ross defines this:
Denial - The "This can't be real" stage.: "I'm not here, This isn't happening. I didn't.., or she/he didn't...

Anger - The "Why me?" stage.: "How dare you do this to me?!" (either referring to God, the deceased, or oneself, or another)

Bargaining - The "If I do this, you'll do that" stage If I say this, they'll understand this,.. If I do this it will justify me doing that, if .. if... if...

Depression - The "Defeated" stage.: "I can't bear to face going through this, it's hopeless, I can't do anything to change it.. i have no control... I can't function because...

Acceptance - The "This is going to happen" stage.: "I'm ready, or I accept that this has happened. I don't want to struggle anymore. or I will move on.

Many go through this in no particular order, some bouncing back and forth between some stages, or all. The only thing consistant is that for all, it's not over till you stop doing that, move through all and and reach acceptance.

With the Lord, you can get there far more quickly.

From what I have read, and it is difficult to sort through the he said-she said, I think both parties have done and said things they wouldn't normally have said or done. Was this wrong? Yes. But I understand how it can happen. I also know how the Lord can heal, as he did me.

But to point the finger at one, and ignore the other? or to excuse and justify one, and not the other? No, that I don't understand. We can not afford to be partial in judment. The book of James has something to say about that,,,,

It is also my feeling that all of this regarding Linda and Danny's divorce and the issues of his remarriage should have been handled in the local Church, and the church should have judged righteously on all as led by the lord.

That's what I think.

Posted by: Aletheia Jan 27 2007, 05:51 AM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Jan 26 2007, 08:57 PM)
>
> I have something to agree with you on Cindy. Linda was compensated well. Most states operate under the principle of "employment at will", which means that just like you can quit your job at anytime for any reason so can an employer termination your employment for cause or without cause. All an employer owns you is an honest days pay for your honest day work. Linda was an employee and officer of 3ABN, she received two years salary upon her termination, 3ABN did not have to do that. An employer does not own you severance, she did better than most. Agreeing to a gag orders for officers and corporations is a common business practice in order to receive a severance package. I don't fault 3ABN for that. You can argue all you want whether the termination was fair or not....that has nothing to do with compensation while she was employed and grants no rights to compensation after her employment ended.
>
> Another thing. Linda may have been the co-founder of 3ABN but she is not a part owner nor is Danny an owner. The 3ABN Corporation is the owner. A corporation is a legal entity, it can hold property in its name, enter into contracts, hire officers and employees, sue and be sued, etc. Corporations are setup to limit the personal liability of the founder and officers, but also to ensure ongoing continued business should any one person leave the company. The Corporation owns the assets, not Linda. She is not entitled to half the business as some believe.
>
> Now, here is where I agree with Clay, Di and others. It was unethical for 3ABN to trash Linda publicly and engage in activity to prohibit Linda from seeking employment elsewhere (if true). 3ABN should have held itself to the same conditions they expected from Linda...that is what an ethical business would do.

I am glad in your last paragraph to see you have the integrity to say, if true, for as a people we do need to find out what is true before making absolute judgements, lest we be the ones found guilty of sin.

In the rest, the majority of your post, I have that same exact understanding.

In addition, It is my feeling some have become confused by the difference between a a business like microsoft, and one like the american red cross. Bill gates has alot o money, but who founded the American red cross and what does he have?

I also think some are confused by the severance pay Linda received from 3ABN, and the issue of Marital property division. They aren't the same, and even the separation agreement with 3AN states that.

As far as the Marital property goes, it's really not hard to figure out... Anyone can send for the divorce records from Guam, and any can get the records of the civil lawsuit Linda filed 8 months later in Illinois to receive more.

It's public record. One can't argue with the evidence and facts, at least I can't. :-)

Have a blessed Sabbath Calvin.

Posted by: awesumtenor Jan 27 2007, 07:06 AM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 27 2007, 06:32 AM)
>
> Eric, I didn't say that, you did. And I don't appreciate having your words put in my mouth, and then having you find fault with me for what you said.

You may not have said those exact words... but erik is not the only one to have inferred this from the things you have stated. If you werent intending to imply such, you've done a poor job.

> QUOTE
>
> I also don't see you saying, "Danny could be the worst jerk in the world and that doesn't give Linda the right to do and say what she has done, period." So it appears you have a side here, and a bias.

Neither you nor any other has provided evidence that Linda has said or done anything that could be construed as recompensing evil for the evil Danny and the 3ABN board and the Illinois Conference, whose president sits on said board, have done to her; you have made the claim repeatedly in your attempts to disparage others but that does not make it true... so it is hypocritical in the extreme for you to point a finger at another and say he has a bias when you have utterly lacked objectivity. You, and those on your side of the fence have provided no evidence that either refutes things you claim are wrong or validates what you claim is true. Ever.

> QUOTE
>
> Maybe-- because I after almost 20 years with the only man I ever even seriously dated, found out my husband was having an adulterous affair, and 2 years later after our separation, was still being held accountable for all the debts he was continuing to run up, am now divorced...
>
> Maybe- because of that I see this whole situation a bit differently.

Maybe you need to leave other people's issues alone until you are done dealing with the fallout from your own issues...

> QUOTE
>
> Issues of infidelity and divorce are devastating, they rip you apart and turn you into a emotional basketcase. Sometimes, years after our initial separation, while going about my daily activities, or at work, just a passing thought or memory, would suddenly bring back the reality of all that had > happenned and this terrible loss, it was like a sudden knife twisting in my stomache, making it hard to even draw the next breath.. All I could do was pray, please Lord take this terrible pain away I can't bear it anymore..

And in spite of this, you think you can be objective? Anytime you hear an allegation of spousal infidelity it brings all of that angst to the surface... while it explains the axe you have to grind against Linda, since she is the one who has been accused, it also causes you to apply the circumstances of your failed marriage to the Sheltons... which makes you empathize with Danny since in your case, the one who made the accusation was the actual injured party.

The problem is the circumstances around your divorce do not even remotely approximate the circumstances around Danny's... and the one making the accusation is not the injured party; that one is the one doing injury... but you are not over your own pain so you tend to view this divorce through the distorted lens of your own and it is causing you to presume things that have no basis in reality.

> QUOTE
>
> Because of that-- I realize people say, and do things they wouldn't normally do and say. Both I, and my ex-husband did. And I know now, the pain wasn't mine alone. A Divorce is a loss, God made us to be one, and when you lose your other half, you go through the same stages in the grief process that those dealing with a death do. It doesn't really matter who was at fault the loss is felt by both,
>
> As Kubler-Ross defines this:
> Denial - The "This can't be real" stage.: "I'm not here, This isn't happening. I didn't.., or she/he didn't...
>
> Anger - The "Why me?" stage.: "How dare you do this to me?!" (either referring to God, the deceased, or oneself, or another)
>
> Bargaining - The "If I do this, you'll do that" stage If I say this, they'll understand this,.. If I do this it will justify me doing that, if .. if... if...
>
> Depression - The "Defeated" stage.: "I can't bear to face going through this, it's hopeless, I can't do anything to change it.. i have no control... I can't function because...
>
> Acceptance - The "This is going to happen" stage.: "I'm ready, or I accept that this has happened. I don't want to struggle anymore. or I will move on.
>
> Many go through this in no particular order, some bouncing back and forth between some stages, or all. The only thing consistant is that for all, it's not over till you stop doing that, move through all and and reach acceptance.

You havent worked all the way through this yourself... and yet you deem yourself fit to sit in judgement on another in spite of your own personal subjectivity and bias. You're only fooling yourself. You're not past your own pain, Cindy... you have not moved on; if you had, you wouldnt have the projection issues that make up this obsession you have with Linda's purported guilt and that mkae you feel it must be her fault.

> QUOTE
>
> With the Lord, you can get there far more quickly.
>
> From what I have read, and it is difficult to sort through the he said-she said, I think both parties have done and said things they wouldn't normally have said or done. Was this wrong? Yes. But I understand how it can happen. I also know how the Lord can heal, as he did me.

> But to point the finger at one, and ignore the other? or to excuse and justify one, and not the other? No, that I don't understand. We can not afford to be partial in judment. The book of James has something to say about that,,,,
>
> It is also my feeling that all of this regarding Linda and Danny's divorce and the issues of his remarriage should have been handled in the local Church, and the church should have judged righteously on all as led by the lord.
>
> That's what I think.

Once again, "de nile" is not just a river in Africa. You aren't healed, Cindy. Not even close. It is painfully apparent that your baggage has baggage in this thing.

Do yourself a favor... tend to the log in your own eye. It's still there... and everybody sees it but you. Until you do, you wont be right... and you wont be healed... and if you are neither of those you can only do harm if you try to interpose yourself in the dealings of others.

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jan 27 2007, 07:14 AM

Bro J....

I have been there and you have "checked me".... I didn't like it - but you spoke the truth.

Deal with your own "issues" Aletheia - then you can objectively discuss others "issues"....

IMPO

*EDITED so that it could be clear that I was speaking directly to Aletheia as I was able to take the reproach from Bro J, swallow it down, and learned much from it. You could do well to remove the telephone pole before pulling other folks broomstraws.....

IMPO

Posted by: sister Jan 27 2007, 10:04 AM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 27 2007, 06:32 AM) ☐
>
> ...It is also my feeling that all of this regarding Linda and Danny's divorce and the issues of his remarriage should have been handled in the local Church, and the church should have judged righteously on all as led by the lord.
>
> That's what I think.

The local church is owned and operated by Danny Shelton. Danny pays half of the pastor's salary. The local pastor, John Lomacang, hosts programs and is featured on 3ABN. Lomacang has also referred to Danny Shelton, on world-wide television as God's anointed and compared him to Moses. The majority of the members of the "Thompsonville SDA Church" are employed at 3ABN. I have been a member of this church and believe me, receiving a righteous judgement as led by the Lord, especially if it runs contrary to the wishes of Dan Shelton; has about as much chance as the proverbial snowball in Hell. Don't get me wrong I have faith in the workings of the Lord, but I also have witnessed the "justice" of the 3ABN church and watched Danny pull the strings.

Posted by: erik Jan 27 2007, 11:46 AM

""

Aletheia,

Let me get this straight because linda is "dirty whore" danny has the right to do and say what ever he wants?

I would like the biblical texts that back that up?????????

Aletheia, Linda could be the worst sinner that still does not give danny the right to act like jerk, period.
erik"""

"""Eric, I didn't say that, you did. And I don't appreciate having your words put in my mouth, and then having you find fault with me for what you said.

I also don't see you saying, "Danny could be the worst jerk in the world and that doesn't give Linda the right to do and say what she has done, period." So it appears you have a side here, and a bias."""

Aletheia,

Let me say first and foremost i am sorry about about what happened in your marriage, that should not happen to anyone.

Secondly, I was not trying to put words into your mouth, i was asking you if that is in fact how you felt in rereading my post i can see the question part was not clear. So i apologize for making look like that is how you feel.

Thirdly, A lot of the issues about 3abn are blamed on linda getting them started, yet when I go and read linda offical site she is very kind and supporting of 3abn. All the issues at 3abn out side of the marriage issues i really can not see how anyone with evidence can say that linda is the one driving this discussion. SO from my reading of the post you seem to be putting words and actions on to linda that just do not seem to be hers.

Fourthly, I totally agree that the local church should have taken care of this issue years ago. BUT they did not, also 3abn has created in many ways a gobial local church in its viewers, and because 3abn(danny and linda both did this for good and for bad) has this greater body it makes it self accountable to the rest of the Church at least that is how i see it.

Fifthly, I am going to ask in clearly worded question: If linda is the terrible sinner that she is described to be or to use the words of my previous post a "dirty whore" does that give danny the right to do and say anything like what he has said and done?

Sixthly, I fully agree that i have bias on topic, what is sad to me is that bias has changed over the last two years or so from being very solidly on danny's side to being more on lind's side(although on the financial and tommy issues i feel that she has questions that need to awnsered before i will give her a totally pass on those) The Truth is that i really i am not on either side i am for the TRUTH and for justice, and for right being done.

Seventhly, I am much more concerned about the "possiable" child/adult sexually abuse charges sitting out against Tommy S, and the way that danny and 3abn appear to be handling them. I know from personal experience the long term damage that is done when this happens, and the guy that did to me was my best friend and the time and was only 2 years older then me. I am willing to let the issues lay down for a while, that the sexaul abuse issue needs to be dealt with fast and in as public manner has possible so that it is very clear that SDA's do not and will not be party to covering up such behavior, has part of this the church has God given duty to Get Tommy S. the help he needs to accept the darkness in his heart and to has 2 cor. 5:21 give that sin to Jesus and Jesus will give tommy and new heart one with out the darkness in one full of rightous, but has long has one hids from the darkness in ones heart the darkness grows and consumes you, Yes i know this from very painful personal trials and experience.

Aletheia, i want you to know that would have rather never known about any of this stuff, i would have rather that 3abn board would have handle the whole mess differently, but they did not so we are were we are on this, And either we handle publicly inside the church now or has some on forum are calling for it will get handle publicly in the world, which way is better for the cause of God?

sincerely in Jesus love for us both,

Erik W.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jan 27 2007, 01:36 PM

That was deep Erik...deep indeed....

Posted by: erik Jan 27 2007, 01:50 PM

> QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jan 27 2007, 11:36 AM)
>
> That was deep Erik...deep indeed....

did not mean it to be deep, it is the truth has i understand.

erik w.

Posted by: Aletheia Jan 27 2007, 03:01 PM

> QUOTE(sister @ Jan 27 2007, 11:04 AM)
>
> The local church is owned and operated by Danny Shelton. Danny pays half of the pastor's salary. The local pastor, John Lomacang, hosts programs and is featured on 3ABN. Lomacang has also referred to Danny Shelton, on world-wide television as God's anointed and compared him to Moses. The majority of the members of the "Thompsonville SDA Church" are employed at 3ABN. I have > been a member of this church and believe me, receiving a righteous judgement as led by the Lord, especially if it runs contrary to the wishes of Dan Shelton; has about as much chance as the proverbial snowball in Hell. Don't get me wrong I have faith in the workings of the Lord, but I also have witnessed the "justice" of the 3ABN church and watched Danny pull the strings.

The Conference President, the Pastor, or even the Church board, do not get to decide issues of discipline, censure or disfellowship... It has to be the members of the Church- all of them who do this.

So it is difficult for me to understand how every single member would have a bias against Linda, and be partial and show favoritism toward Danny, and be led by him rather then by the facts and evidence and the Lord. All would have to be hypocrites and without conscience. (How long was Linda a member there?!? And how many even posting here now, accusing and finding fault with DS and 3ABN claim to be employees of or ex-employees of 3ABN and arre members of that Church?!?)

But IF that was the case, then you would follow the chain up the ladder, and go higher. For the ends can never justify the means, and we have clear commands from Jesus Christ on how to handle these issues in the Church, they are defined plainly in the SOP. The relevant scriptures and SOP quotes are given and cited in the SDA Church manuel. So to me, it sounds like excuses you are offering for why people were justified in not following the Lord's commands in this case.

The following was posted on MSDAOL by HE-leadeth, on1/23/07, and I think explains issues and resolution steps quite well, so I am going to quote his post here:

> QUOTE
>
> ...There are too many issues that are getting rolled up into one concerning 3ABN.
>
> Personal issues/sins are dealt with by Matthew 18, etc...
> If you aren't satisfied that the local church has made the right decision (if it has gone that far), take your concerns to the conference elders, if not there, the union elders, etc... If you have exhausted this then either accept the stance of the church or LEAVE the church. Do not stay in and keep pushing the issue after the church has spoken at all levels. A public forum is NO PLACE to handle these personal issues/sins, before or after they have been dealt with, PERIOD!
>
> Public sins are dealt with by the church elders, in public. If the elders don't do it at the local level, follow the line as noted above. If no elder will do it, then you do it. If there is no change, then LEAVE. This can be dealt with in a public forum ONLY as a last resort to reach the erring one--IMO.
>
> Illegal issues are dealt with by civil law. These illegal issues may fall under personal or public sins so follow the counsel of Scripture here too. After all, God's law is supreme.
>
> Separate the issues and use the Biblical standards laid out for each. PERIOD! I don't see that every step has been taken as yet with any of the issues. The posts tell the story!
>
> As far as TS and the accusations against him. IMO--IF the offended party wishes to pursue a course against the offender, then something should be done at the administrative level to place them on leave. But friends, in our country and even in God's court, the accused have a right to face their accuser and give an answer. Innocent till proven guilty is still the fairest way to handle it. Any other way plays into the devil's hand.
>
> The bottom line as far as I am concerned is that the church is failing in it's duty here... and the church is US.
>
> As a side thought, I see a definite hypocrisy with how the members of these forums treat the lack of > leadership at the local, conference, union, GC levels verses the leadership at an independent ministry. Even on such forums as this I see blatant hypocrisy... an administrator on BSDA has told others (paraphrasing) 'if you don't like it leave!' Well isn't that nice, eh? What's good for the goose evidently isn't good for the gander!

>
> Walk the walk and stand for truth at ALL levels... picking and choosing who to hold to the fire and who not too based solely on your own perception really shows how weak we are as a people.
>
> IMO...

And this also, in response to another common excuse commonly offered by those finding fault with and accusing 3ABN. Posted on 1/24/07

> QUOTE
>
> Originally Posted By: Chesaunde
> Yes, 3ABN is an independent ministry. [The church elders, conferences, unions, divisions, and the GC have no jurisdiction over this ministry.]
>
> Originally Posted By: He-leadeth
> Having 'jurisdiction' over 3ABN or not isn't the issue. Are you telling me that DS and the board, etc... ARE NOT members of the SDA church? The personal sins committed are a local church matter and they do have 'jurisdiction' over members when it comes to sin in the church. Again, see Matthew 18:15-17, specifically. This is a red herring if ever I saw one!

Truth is truth.
Is their wrong doing, error and (or) sin? then handle it like the Lord says to!

edited to add a question, -- and corrected typos, and sp

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 27 2007, 03:33 PM

Cindy, erik, Mr.J, DrRe, I'm liking the spirit of this discussion! I'm liking this discussion a lot!

Cindy, hearing about your betrayal by your husband adds so much more understanding about your perspective on the Shelton divorce. I have to agree with Mr.J that it is probably coloring your view of the situation. Now that you have laid it all out like you have, perhaps you are ready to acknowledge that as well. I know how deep and devastating it is for a life partner to betray you. For me it had a happier ending than yours but it hurt like the dickens as I was going through it. Listen to what Mr.J is counselling. Stay here and fellowship with us, let us lift you up as your sisters and brothers in Christ as you heal. We will be praying for you that you will be able to claim that Peace that passes understanding in spite of the wounds you have suffered.

Erik, you have spoken wisely and straight from your heart. I agree that your "seventhly" point is of vital importance. It seems to me that, more and more, those who have not been impacted by molestation and sexual assault are in the minority. Satan certainly knows how to devastate lives. Praise God that there is healing in Him!

Mr.J and DrRe, way to step up and make a difference!

Posted by: Bystander Jan 27 2007, 03:40 PM

[
Aletheia, i want you to know that would have rather never known about any of this stuff, i would have rather that 3abn board would have handle the whole mess differently, but they did not so we are were we are on this, And either we handle publicly inside the church now or has some on forum are calling for it will get handle publicly in the world, which way is better for the cause of God?
sincerely in Jesus love for us both,

Erik W.
[/quote]
Erik, I just have a couple of things to say. I feel your post was heartfelt and not just done to do damage as so many others on this forum have...But I will ask this question because it has been asked before but not answered.
The allegations made against TS supposedly go back 30 years. That would mean that Linda also was aware of them, especially the 20 years she was in the family. TommyS was hired in her department when he moved back to the area from Virginia with her blessing. (I have done my homework) From that time until Linda left 3ABN they traveled together, wrote music together and sang together, on the air and at different personal appearances. The allegations toward Danny on this subject is that he closed a blind eye to his brother's "problem" and "let" him be a part of 3ABN all of this time. My question: If this is all true, Wouldn't Linda be 100% as accountable as Danny? She definitely did not have any problem with Tommy and especially tapping into his musical ability until....he was given her job of production manager after she left.
Comment..Of course Linda's website portrays the long suffering victim because she is the known author of that site. Her venom is spewed by anonymous persona's on this site and her many spokespeople..Think about it Erik. Where do all these people get such intimate information about 3abn and/or the Shelton's. She takes bits and pieces of what she has been privy to through the years and weaves it into incredible accusations and slander. But. she is never held responsible because, it appears, that it doesn't come from her. It doesn't take a genious to see that those that speak for her are being fed when it comes to statements made about the parents of the Sheltons, the grown grandchildren ect ect.
Erik you seem true hearted. Just consider these things
Thanks

Posted by: Aletheia Jan 27 2007, 03:44 PM

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Jan 27 2007, 04:33 PM)
>
> Cindy, erik, Mr.J, DrRe, I'm liking the spirit of this discussion! I'm liking this discussion a lot!
>
> Cindy, hearing about your betrayal by your husband adds so much more understanding about your perspective on the Shelton divorce. I have to agree with Mr.J that it is probably coloring your view of the situation. Now that you have laid it all out like you have, perhaps you are ready to acknowledge that as well. I know how deep and devastating it is for a life partner to betray you. For me it had a happier ending than yours but it hurt like the dickens as I was going through it. Listen to what Mr.J is counselling. Stay here and fellowship with us, let us lift you up as your sisters and brothers in Christ as you heal. We will be praying for you that you will be able to claim that Peace that passes understanding in spite of the wounds you have suffered.
>
> Erik, you have spoken wisely and straight from your heart. I agree that your "seventhly" point is of vital importance. It seems to me that, more and more, those who have not been impacted by molestation and sexual assault are in the minority. Satan certainly knows how to devastate lives. Praise God that there is healing in Him!
>
> Mr.J and DrRe, way to step up and make a difference!

PB,

The Lord healed me years ago... I was speaking of what I have learned and what i went through in the past tense. You might re-read what I wrote.

Mr J knows me not, and has nothing to judge me on except what I myself wrote, since he conttradicts what I myself said, how can he be correct? And how could you let him tell you about me and base your opnion on his judgment and statements about me?!?

This is a big problem on this forum.

Sad...

Posted by: Bystander Jan 27 2007, 03:52 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 27 2007, 04:51 AM)
>
> I am glad in your last paragraph to see you have the integrity to say, if true, for as a people we do need to find out what is true before making absolute judgements, lest we be the ones found guilty of sin.
> In the rest, the majority of your post, I have that same exact understanding.
>
> In addition, It is my feeling some have become confused by the difference between a a business like microsoft, and one like the american red cross. Bill gates has alot o money, but who founded the American red cross and what does he have?
>
> I also think some are confused by the severance pay Linda received from 3ABN, and the issue of Marital property division. They aren't the same, and even the separation agreement with 3AN states that.
>
> As far as the Marital property goes, it's really not hard to figure out... Anyone can send for the divorce records from Guam, and any can get the records of the civil lawsuit Linda filed 8 months later in Illinois to receive more.
>
> It's public record. One can't argue with the evidence and facts, at least I can't. :-)
>
> Have a blessed Sabbath Calvin.

Althiea, you are correct in your statements. In looking into the guam situation I have found that the "danny's quickie divorce in guam" is a fallicy. You cannot get a divorce through the mail in guam if the divorce is in anyway contested by the other party. Both signatures have to be on the papers in agreement or the divorce will not even be considered. Records show that Danny & Linda chose to have their property settlement handled in the states which means....that NEITHER party wanted to involve anything that would keep their guam divorce from going through.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 27 2007, 03:58 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 27 2007, 02:44 PM)

> PB,
>
> The Lord healed me years ago... I was speaking of what I have learned and what i went through in the past tense. You might re-read what I wrote.
>
> Mr J knows me not, and has nothing to judge me on except what I myself wrote, since he conttradicts what I myself said, how can he be correct? And how could you let him tell you about me and base your opnion on his judgment and statements about me?!?
>
> This is a big problem on this forum.
>
> Sad...

Cindy,
I'm sorry if I misunderstood your tense. I'm happy that you found healing in the Lord years ago.
PB

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Jan 27 2007, 02:40 PM)
>
> [
> Aletheia, i want you to know that would have rather never known about any of this stuff, i would have rather that 3abn board would have handle the whole mess differently, but they did not so we are were we are on this, And either we handle publicly inside the church now or has some on forum are calling for it will get handle publicly in the world, which way is better for the cause of God?
> sincerely in Jesus love for us both,
>
> Erik W.
>
> Erik, I just have a couple of things to say. I feel your post was heartfelt and not just done to do damage as so many others on this forum have...But I will ask this question because it has been asked before but not answered.
> The allegations made against TS supposedly go back 30 years. That would mean that Linda also was aware of them, especially the 20 years she was in the family. TommyS was hired in her department when he moved back to the area from Virginia with her blessing. (I have done my homework) From that time until Linda left 3ABN they traveled together, wrote music together and sang together, on the air and at different personal appearances. The allegations toward Danny on this subject is that he closed a blind eye to his brother's "problem" and "let" him be a part of 3ABN all of this time. My question: If this is all true, Wouldn't Linda be 100% as accountable as Danny? She definitely did not have any problem with Tommy and especially tapping into his musical ability until....he was given her job of production manager after she left.
> Comment..Of course Linda's website portrays the long suffering victim because she is the known author of that site. Her venom is spewed by anonymous persona's on this site and her many spokespeople..Think about it Erik. Where do all these people get such intimate information about 3abn and/or the Shelton's. She takes bits and pieces of what she has been privy to through the years and weaves it into incredible accusations and slander. But. she is never held responsible because, it appears, that it doesn't come from her. It doesn't take a genious to see that those that speak for her are being fed when it comes to statements made about the parents of the Sheltons, the grown grandchildren ect ect.
> Erik you seem true hearted. Just consider these things
> Thanks

Bystander, are you saying that the supposed allegations happened 30 years ago or started 30 years ago?

I have to agree with you that if Linda knew of these allegations but, for whatever motivation, didn't act to bring about protection and accountability, she is accountable for any victimization during her tenure at 3abn as well.

PB

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 27 2007, 04:00 PM

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Jan 27 2007, 04:58 PM) ☐
>
> I have to agree with you that if Linda knew of these allegations but, for whatever motivation, didn't act to bring about protection and accountability, she is accountable for any victimization during her tenure at 3abn as well.
>
> PB

Yes, I agree Bystander. Like so many things, they were happening when Linda was there also, not just Dan. Now, whether or not she knew of them may be the deciding question.

Posted by: Aletheia Jan 27 2007, 04:05 PM

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Jan 27 2007, 04:52 PM) ☐
>
> Althiea, you are correct in your statements. In looking into the guam situation I have found that the "danny's quickie divorce in guam" is a fallicy. You cannot get a divorce through the mail in guam if the divorce is in anyway contested by the other party. Both signatures have to be on the papers in agreement or the divorce will not even be considered. Records show that Danny & Linda chose to have their property settlement handled in the states which means....that NEITHER party wanted to involve anything that would keep their guam divorce from going through.

Hi Bystander, i appreciate many of your posts here, but on this I have to ask.

Have you seen the records?

It is my understanding from those records that there was a division of property, and that is how Linda got her part of the house etc.. Guam is under community property law, if you don't agree on a division of property, then the divorce can be granted only as a "contested divorce" and the property issues can be resolved later in another court.

I am still trying to get a copy of the civil case Linda filed in illiinois.

~ Aletheia

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Jan 27 2007, 04:58 PM) ☐
>
> Cindy,
> I'm sorry if I misunderstood your tense. I'm happy that you found healing in the Lord years ago.
> PB

It's ok. and thank you.

Posted by: Rosyroi Jan 27 2007, 04:05 PM

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Jan 27 2007, 01:40 PM)
>
> [
> Aletheia, i want you to know that would have rather never known about any of this stuff, i would have rather that 3abn board would have handle the whole mess differently, but they did not so we are were we are on this, And either we handle publicly inside the church now or has some on forum are calling for it will get handle publicly in the world, which way is better for the cause of God?
> sincerely in Jesus love for us both,
>
> Erik W.
>
> Erik, I just have a couple of things to say. I feel your post was heartfelt and not just done to do damage as so many others on this forum have...But I will ask this question because it has been asked before but not answered.
> The allegations made against TS supposedly go back 30 years. That would mean that Linda also was aware of them, especially the 20 years she was in the family. TommyS was hired in her department when he moved back to the area from Virginia with her blessing. (I have done my homework) From that time until Linda left 3ABN they traveled together, wrote music together and sang together, on the air and at different personal appearances. The allegations toward Danny on this subject is that he closed a blind eye to his brother's "problem" and "let" him be a part of 3ABN all of this time. My question: If this is all true, Wouldn't Linda be 100% as accountable as Danny? She definitely did not have any problem with Tommy and especially tapping into his musical ability until....he was given her job of production manager after she left.
> Comment..Of course Linda's website portrays the long suffering victim because she is the known author of that site. Her venom is spewed by anonymous persona's on this site and her many spokespeople..Think about it Erik. Where do all these people get such intimate information about 3abn and/or the Shelton's. She takes bits and pieces of what she has been privy to through the years and weaves it into incredible accusations and slander. But. she is never held responsible because, it appears, that it doesn't come from her. It doesn't take a genious to see that those that speak for her are being fed when it comes to statements made about the parents of the Sheltons, the grown grandchildren ect ect.
> Erik you seem true hearted. Just consider these things
> Thanks

Tsk...Tsk...Tsk. Bystander, just when I was beginning to change my mind about you from being an Antagonist on this forum to being mellow you change my mind back again. Just my observation and opinion. Not trying to be nasty or rude but want to ask an honest question because I really want to know the answer. Who in this forum is Linda in disguise? How can a person find out? When I found out Linda was gone and I began hearing some conflicting terrible things about Linda and what she was doing I refused to listen to ALL gossip. I only wanted the truth. I was neither pro Danny nor anti Danny or pro Linda nor anit Linda. Sometimes people in this forum make statements and don't follow up with proof. Most of what I have been reading when it came to Danny and what he or bro and Admin have done there have been proof. So far noone has come up with proof against Linda. I asked before for proof before and am still waiting. So please enlighten me. Thank you

---

Posted by: wwjd Jan 27 2007, 04:15 PM

> QUOTE(sister @ Jan 27 2007, 10:04 AM)
>
> The local church is owned and operated by Danny Shelton. Danny pays half of the pastor's salary. The local pastor, John Lomacang, hosts programs and is featured on 3ABN. Lomacang has also referred to Danny Shelton, on world-wide television as God's anointed and compared him to Moses. The majority of the members of the "Thompsonville SDA Church" are employed at 3ABN. I have been a member of this church and believe me, receiving a righteous judgement as led by the Lord, especially if it runs contrary to the wishes of Dan Shelton; has about as much chance as the proverbial snowball in Hell. Don't get me wrong I have faith in the workings of the Lord, but I also have witnessed the "justice" of the 3ABN church and watched Danny pull the strings.

This made me curious. I made some phone calls and inquiries. The church is no more owned by Danny Shelton than is 3ABN. Calvin is correct as he explained ownership of the ministry. Somewhat the same explanation holds true for the church also. The statement that Danny S. operates the church could not be farther from the truth. I was told by several church members that DO NOT WORK for 3ABN that due to his traveling and speaking schedule, that he actually has very little participation in board decisions, church policies, speakers ect ect. I also found that the membership has grown in leaps and bounds and that the non 3ABN employees outnumber the employees that attend there by a good number. Many of these non employees hold offices, are on the boards and so on and so forth. so to say that the church is a puppet with Danny S pulling the strings couldn't be more inaccurate.

Posted by: wwjd Jan 27 2007, 04:40 PM

> QUOTE(Rosyroi @ Jan 27 2007, 04:05 PM)
>
> Tsk...Tsk...Tsk. Bystander, just when I was beginning to change my mind about you from being an Antagonist on this forum to being mellow you change my mind back again. Just my observation and opinion. Not trying to be nasty or rude but want to ask an honest question because I really want to know the answer. Who in this forum is Linda in disguise? How can a person find out? When I found out Linda was gone and I began hearing some conflicting terrible things about Linda and what she was doing I refused to listen to ALL gossip. I only wanted the truth. I was neither pro Danny nor anti Danny or pro Linda nor anit Linda. Sometimes people in this forum make statements and don't follow up with proof. Most of what I have been reading when it came to Danny and what he or bro and Admin have done there have been proof. So far noone has come up with proof against Linda. I asked before for proof before and am still waiting. So please enlighten me. Thank you

So far proof has "not been released" against Linda. Has it ever occured to any of you (I know it hasn't because this would put a positive light on 3ABN) that they have tried to avoid doing that, maybe to the extreme, because of hurting the innocent individuals that are involved. Children, families, friends, ect. I know, on this forum, that would be hard to understand because no consideration has been given to the families of the ones under attack here. I have read on here time and again about all the "trashing" that has been done to Linda by 3abn but could it be that they have kept the "ultimate trashing" under wraps because they have not wanted to sink to that level. What level? As was posted here before, there is no way that certain information could have been posted here without coming directly from Linda. I have been told by people that worked closely with her that certain snippets and pieces of conversation that they had with her alone have appeared here and other places only with lots of fiction added to it.

Many of you are Linda's friends and would not want to hurt her. That makes me wonder about the constant requests and pushing for "proof" against her. Has anyone of you stopped to think that if you "pushed" to far and 3ABN finally found it unavoidable to do anything but show the proof, how much that could hurt Linda and her family. If she was my friend, I would be careful not to do anything that could provoke harm.

I truly believe that you believe in her 100% so think that there is nothing to fear by your proof requests But, no one is perfect and there is always that chance that you are wrong so why push it?

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 27 2007, 04:00 PM) ☐
>
> Yes, I agree Bystander. Like so many things, they were happening when Linda was there also, not just Dan. Now, whether or not she knew of them may be the deciding question.

I agree with bystander also. I do not agree with you that there could even be a question. If any of the allegations directed at TommyS. are true she could not have been in the family for 20 years without knowing.

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 27 2007, 04:48 PM

> QUOTE(wwjd @ Jan 27 2007, 05:40 PM) ☐
>
> I agree with bystander also. I do not agree with you that there could even be a question. If any of the allegations directed at TommyS. are true she could not have been in the family for 20 years without knowing.

But the question would be whether or not TS was gay or a child molester. It could have been spun either way, couldn't it?

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 27 2007, 04:52 PM

wwjd, I am quite certain that Linda's friends would want 3abn to make public any proof of her wrongdoing. It would certainly settle questions in the minds of many viewers and allow everyone to move forward in a more positive direction.

Posted by: watchbird Jan 27 2007, 04:53 PM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 27 2007, 05:00 PM) ☐
>
> Yes, I agree Bystander. Like so many things, they were happening when Linda was there also, not just Dan. Now, whether or not she knew of them may be the deciding question.

No, I would have to disagree. Whether or not she had any say in what was done is the real "deciding questions". When one is a member of a family, they play by the rules of the family.... PARTICULARLY if it invovles concealing a "family secret". And especially if the reason for the concealment is to "help" the erring brother..... the "healing broken people" song... remember?

To those who are revealing secrets about their own family "secrets" which have nothing to do with 3abn.... I just have to wonder if you are even dimly aware of the danger you are placing yourselves in by doing so. Just because you are all alone in your room when you type does not mean that you are all alone with the specific person you are addressing.

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 27 2007, 04:57 PM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jan 27 2007, 05:53 PM)
>
> No, I would have to disagree. Whether or not she had any say in what was done is the real "deciding questions". When one is a member of a family, they play by the rules of the family.... PARTICULARLY if it invovles concealing a "family secret". And especially if the reason for the concealment is to "help" the erring brother..... the "healing broken people" song... remember?

Yes, I stand corrected, WB. If Linda knew about the issue and had any say, which it is apparent that she did not, then she would be as responsible. Absolutely.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 27 2007, 05:13 PM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jan 27 2007, 03:53 PM)
>
> No, I would have to disagree. Whether or not she had any say in what was done is the real "deciding questions". When one is a member of a family, they play by the rules of the family.... PARTICULARLY if it invovles concealing a "family secret". And especially if the reason for the concealment is to "help" the erring brother..... the "healing broken people" song... remember?
> To those who are revealing secrets about their own family "secrets" which have nothing to do with 3abn.... I just have to wonder if you are even dimly aware of the danger you are placing yourselves in by doing so. Just because you are all alone in your room when you type does not mean that you are all alone with the specific person you are addressing.

WB, these are both very valid points.

Posted by: Aletheia Jan 27 2007, 05:18 PM

> QUOTE(wwjd @ Jan 27 2007, 05:40 PM)
>
> So far proof has "not been released" against Linda. Has it ever occured to any of you (I know it hasn't because this would put a positive light on 3ABN) that they have tried to avoid doing that, maybe to the extreme, because of hurting the innocent individuals that are involved. Children, families, friends, ect. I know, on this forum, that would be hard to understand because no consideration has been given to the families of the ones under attack here. I have read on here time and again about all the "trashing" that has been done to Linda by 3abn but could it be that they have kept the "ultimate trashing" under wraps because they have not wanted to sink to that level. What level? As was posted here before, there is no way that certain information could have been posted here without coming directly from Linda. I have been told by people that worked closely with her that certain snippets and pieces of conversation that they had with her alone have > appeared here and other places only with lots of fiction added to it.

>
> Many of you are Linda's friends and would not want to hurt her. That makes me wonder about the constant requests and pushing for "proof" against her. Has anyone of you stopped to think that if you "pushed" to far and 3ABN finally found it unavoidable to do anything but show the proof, how much that could hurt Linda and her family. If she was my friend, I would be careful not to do anything that could provoke harm.

I too see this as likely, they have pushed so far for this to be handled publically and it appears that there are civil works in the process now from the recent letters posted, and I am thinking that they have got their wish and the truth and facts and evidence are going to be given and they will have their day in court. Strangely though, they are all acting suprised or unbelieving, or outraged that 3ABN would take this to court, at least where Tommy is concerned. Why? don't they want to present the facts? Didn't they want all before the world? It appears they are getting their wish.

> QUOTE
>
> wwjd :
> I agree with bystander also. I do not agree with you that there could even be a question. If any of the allegations directed at TommyS. are true she could not have been in the family for 20 years without knowing.

In addition Linda was on the 3ABN board and voted with the consensus about the whole issue in regards to Dryden's letter and Tommy.

She seems to be the only one who could have said something, and as all the accusations have come from Bob Pickle, and Arthur Gailon Joy, who are two of her "representatives" it seems she has to be behind all that is going on now...

Note Walt Thompsons letter to Bob who was trying to portray himself as on 3ABN's side:
Subject: Re: Possible way to win 3ABN critics.
Date: Mon, 27 Nov 2006 09:04:53 -0600
From: Walt Thompson

"As I recall the events of 2003, I received a call from Brad Thorp from the General Conference telling me of Pastor Dryden's accusations. Brad appropriately told me that it was not his concern, and that it was ours to handle. As I recall, I contacted pastor Dryden and heard his side of the story following which I received the letter that is circulating. I was at 3abn at the time and spoke at length with Danny about the matter. He shared with me the details as he understood them. Whether or not I was aware of what generated the letter at that time, I do not remember. Based upon my understanding that Dryden had had a long standing feud with Tommy over factors unrelated to the above accusations, it did not seem indicated to approach the boys in question directly, having been informed that no case had ever been filed with the courts or legal disposition made. We then discussed the situation with the full board. Given the alleged events had occured many years before, attempts had been made to make things right, and no legal action had been taken, we did not see any reason to pursue the issue further nor to follow through with his recommendations. In my reply to pastor Dryden I merely thanked him for fulfilling his obligation to us. (I will make this one further comment. Whereas there are many accusations on the Internet alledging that Danny cannot be trusted, I disagree. I have known Danny now since the beginning of the ministry. Now more than 23 years. I have been fully appraised of many of the difficulties that he has faced during that time. While Danny sees things from his perspective, as we all do, he is honest and trustworthy. I have found no reason to distrust his reports to me. Yes, there are occasions when after having spoken with both sides of an issue it has been a matter of he said vs she said, but in all situations where I could know the facts, Danny has proven true.)

Subsequently, after this issue has been brought back to the forefront (I think there is only one person who could have known about this and brought it to world wide attentionm, and that person was then on the board and voted with the concensus) I contacted the only person from the Chruch of God that I could find that knew about the situation, and who had been present and witness to the events. (Accept for pastor Dryden's personal accounts, there are apparently no other records of the allegations) The picture that was painted by that leader of the Church was exactly as portrayed earlier by Danny. Dryden was jealous of Tommy and was out to get him - a jealousy that has continued to the present. I was again informed that the DA knew about the allegations and not finding a basis, refused to act against Tommy."

This is exactly what Bob Pickle claimed Duane Clem wrote to Gailon Joy and himself:

Bob says he got this in his PM, on BSDA, which if true, means Duane Clem is a member there:
Your "informant", Glenn Dryden, is not a credible source of information. ... accusations .... the same reason as the ones he is leveling against Tommy Shelton: JEALOUSY. Glenn Dryden is a spiteful, vindictive backstabber when someone crosses him. He has done this with numerous people over the past several years .... I had to threaten him with legal action myself to get him to shut his mouth.

And supposedly to Gailon, also posted by Bob:
At this time, all I will say is the following: Neither Danny Shelton, nor anyone else associated with 3ABN, directed me to contact Mr. Pickle. I did so of my own choosing when the insinuation was made that . Yes, that made me mad. Wouldn't you be angry if ******?

...

To date, I have never spoken with Dr. Walt Thompson regarding this issue, nor at any other time as best I can recall. I will say that I agree with what the unnamed individual from the Church of God reportedly told Dr. Thompson, but it was NOT me, and I can honestly say I have no idea who it was. That's one issue you can finally put to rest.

The blanks and elipses are Bob's. This appears much different then the new letter supposed to be from Duane Clem. Whatever happened to Dryden? so many here posted questions to him which were never answered...

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 27 2007, 05:27 PM

Aletheia, I am having trouble reading your post #101. Could you please make it more clear what are quotes from others and opinions by you? Thanks.
PB

Posted by: Johann Jan 27 2007, 05:30 PM

> QUOTE(wwjd @ Jan 28 2007, 12:40 AM) ☐
>
> So far proof has "not been released" against Linda. Has it ever occured to any of you (I know it hasn't because this would put a positive light on 3ABN) that they have tried to avoid doing that, maybe to the extreme, because of hurting the innocent individuals that are involved. Children, families, friends, ect. I know, on this forum, that would be hard to understand because no consideration has been given to the families of the ones under attack here. I have read on here time and again about all the "trashing" that has been done to Linda by 3abn but could it be that they have kept the "ultimate trashing" under wraps because they have not wanted to sink to that level. What level? As was posted here before, there is no way that certain information could have been posted here without coming directly from Linda. I have been told by people that worked > closely with her that certain snippets and pieces of conversation that they had with her alone have appeared here and other places only with lots of fiction added to it.

> Many of you are Linda's friends and would not want to hurt her. That makes me wonder about the constant requests and pushing for "proof" against her. Has anyone of you stopped to think that if you "pushed" to far and 3ABN finally found it unavoidable to do anything but show the proof, how much that could hurt Linda and her family. If she was my friend, I would be careful not to do anything that could provoke harm.
> I truly believe that you believe in her 100% so think that there is nothing to fear by your proof requests But, no one is perfect and there is always that chance that you are wrong so why push it?
> I agree with bystander also. I do not agree with you that there could even be a question. If any of the allegations directed at TommyS. are true she could not have been in the family for 20 years without knowing.

Even if you should be 100% right in what you say here above, why was Linda not treated by 3ABN the way Jesus would have done it?

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 27 2007, 05:37 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 27 2007, 04:18 PM) ☐
>
> I too see this as likely, they have pushed so far for this to be handled publically and it appears that there are civil works in the process now from the recent letters posted, and I am thinking that they have got their wish and the truth and facts and evidence are going to be given and they will have their day in court. Strangely though, they are all acting suprised or unbelieving, or outraged that 3ABN would take this to court, at least where Tommy is concerned. Why? don't they want to present the facts? Didn't they want all before the world? It appears they are getting their wish.
> In addition Linda was on the 3ABN board and voted with the consensus about the whole issue in regards to Dryden's letter and Tommy.

I have been spending quite a bit of time keeping up with this unfolding saga and I have heard nothing of 3abn taking this to court. I have read the "threat" letter to the Church of God by Mike Riva, if that is what you are referring to. I have also read here on the 3abn forum that now that the asi tribunal has fallen though Linda may be pursuing civil actions.

I, for one, certainly hope that the allegations against Tommy Shelton reach the court venue for the sake of past alleged victims and potential alleged victims.

Posted by: Aletheia Jan 27 2007, 05:39 PM

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Jan 27 2007, 06:27 PM) ☐
>
> Aletheia, I am having trouble reading your post #101. Could you please make it more clear what are quotes from others and opinions by you? Thanks.
> PB

Sorry, I don't know what happened.. Is it better now, or do you still need a reference or link?

Posted by: erik Jan 27 2007, 05:40 PM

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Jan 27 2007, 01:40 PM)
>
> [
> Aletheia, i want you to know that would have rather never known about any of this stuff, i would have rather that 3abn board would have handle the whole mess differently, but they did not so we are were we are on this, And either we handle publicly inside the church now or has some on forum are calling for it will get handle publicly in the world, which way is better for the cause of God?
> sincerely in Jesus love for us both,
>
> Erik W.
>
> Erik, I just have a couple of things to say. I feel your post was heartfelt and not just done to do damage as so many others on this forum have...But I will ask this question because it has been asked before but not answered.
> The allegations made against TS supposedly go back 30 years. That would mean that Linda also was aware of them, especially the 20 years she was in the family. TommyS was hired in her department when he moved back to the area from Virginia with her blessing. (I have done my homework) From that time until Linda left 3ABN they traveled together, wrote music together and sang together, on the air and at different personal appearances. The allegations toward Danny on this subject is that he closed a blind eye to his brother's "problem" and "let" him be a part of 3ABN all of this time. My question: If this is all true, Wouldn't Linda be 100% as accountable as Danny? She definitely did not have any problem with Tommy and especially tapping into his musical ability until....he was given her job of production manager after she left.
> Comment..Of course Linda's website portrays the long suffering victim because she is the known author of that site. Her venom is spewed by anonymous persona's on this site and her many spokespeople..Think about it Erik. Where do all these people get such intimate information about 3abn and/or the Shelton's. She takes bits and pieces of what she has been privy to through the years and weaves it into incredible accusations and slander. But. she is never held responsible because, it appears, that it doesn't come from her. It doesn't take a genious to see that those that speak for her are being fed when it comes to statements made about the parents of the Sheltons, the grown grandchildren ect ect.
> Erik you seem true hearted. Just consider these things
> Thanks

Bystander,

On the linda and her being responsible i thought that i made it clear that if given the chance i would like to know what she knew and when she knew it. on the tommy issue and many of the other issues. I do believe she has apart in awnsering these questions. On the The other hand i believe that Danny has the male in the marriage and the ministery(I mean no disrespect to anyone) But danny in my mind carries the bulk of that burden because he is a man.

Bystander, i am weak sinful man a sinner no different then tommy danny or linda, if i do not daily fall at the cross then i am just has able to do horrible things to those around me, i have done things that i highly wish that i had not. But the only cure to the darkness called sin that lives in each heart is found in 2 cor5:17,21 this the standard that needs to use on any guilty party, no cover ups no beating around the bush. IF will directly state that based on the first hand accounts of the players in this case it appears that much wrong has been done and much falling on the cross is need.

If every thing about linda is 100% true then i am still discussed by the way that Danny and 3abn board has dealt with the mess. and even if Tommy is 100% not guilty of what is charged against him then i am has equally discussed by the way that topic has been handled period.

I can understand you not liking the way some on these forums have handled the information here, but i will also say that my local church gave away 10 3abn dishes to non SDa has missionary project, and i am very concerned that if there is any truth the information here that if it gets out the main stream press and we are very close to that point, then just what i am going tell those families and their kids how iam going to kept 3abn and the sda church apart. Danny, tommy, linda and yourself are playing with people souls and that makes me very worried.

I am judging danny based on what he has said and done, and i am judging linda on the same grounds. When you can provide proof that all the information is coming from linda side is coming from her then i will be the first to jump down her throat about the totally un Christ like behavior.
It is my understanding that many of linda's allies have first hand knowledge of that they are speaking of and it is not coming from linda.

If has you say linda is the one doing this then in time the truth will come out, if in fact she is not the one doing that then you will owe her an i am sorry.

Bystander, I am firm believer in the fact that truth will win in the end if danny is 100% blameless in this whole mess then in the end he will be shown to be so. on the other hand i am also a firm believer that your sins will find you out, and if i was danny or linda which ever one is gulity then a confession is good for the soul.

I will also like to say that if you want to prove that danny is 100% blameless then you need to really start bring the facts out in the open truth can stand the fire lies burn up. I would also say that to linda side.

any ways i have said enough for now.

erik W.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 27 2007, 05:41 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 27 2007, 04:39 PM) ☐
>
> Sorry, I don't know what happened.. Is it better now, or do you still need a reference or link? ☐

Much better, thanks!

Posted by: Aletheia Jan 27 2007, 05:45 PM

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Jan 27 2007, 06:37 PM) ☐

> I have been spending quite a bit of time keeping up with this unfolding saga and I have heard nothing of 3abn taking this to court. I have read the "threat" letter to the Church of God by Mike Riva, if that is what you are referring to. I have also read here on the 3abn forum that now that the asi tribunal has fallen though Linda may be pursuing civil actions.
>
> I, for one, certainly hope that the allegations against Tommy Shelton reach the court venue for the sake of past alleged victims and potential alleged victims.

I am referring to the letter from the 3ABN lawyer to the Church of God re:Dryden and others.

Just a empty threat? That is also the first step in a lawsuit, and an attempt to get things resolved before proceeding further...

One cannot sue another without the facts coming out, and proving your case...

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 27 2007, 06:09 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 27 2007, 04:45 PM) ☐
>
> I am referring to the letter from the 3ABN lawyer to the Church of God re:Dryden and others.
>
> Just a empty threat? That is also the first step in a lawsuit, and an attempt to get things resolved before proceeding further...
>
> One cannot sue another without the facts coming out, and proving your case...

Aletheia, this same lawyer wrote a similar letter to Roger Clem in 2003. No court case yet. This can often be a tactic to attempt to control a victim or witness by intimidation and threats.

Posted by: erik Jan 27 2007, 06:10 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 27 2007, 03:45 PM) ☐
>
> I am referring to the letter from the 3ABN lawyer to the Church of God re:Dryden and others.
>
> Just a empty threat? That is also the first step in a lawsuit, and an attempt to get things resolved before proceeding further...
>
> One cannot sue another without the facts coming out, and proving your case...

Aletheia,

if theya re going to sue then why did they not after the 2003 letter, what makes you think that they are going to sue this time when they did not last time, i am just wondering.

Erik

Posted by: JustTana Jan 27 2007, 06:12 PM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 27 2007, 05:48 PM)
>
> But the question would be whether or not TS was gay or a child molester. It could have been spun either way, couldn't it?

Well, my sister and I are wondering when Allyssa and Nathan will reveal what was done to them as children. Perhaps nothing, but I wouldn't hold my breath for any length of time over that question. It is almost ludricous to think that nothing ever happened to them given the problems Nathan has been plagued with and Alyssa's letter. I can just see her agonizing over how to tell her mother anything because she knew how much the ministry meant to Linda.

Okay, okay, I'll quit now.

JT

Posted by: erik Jan 27 2007, 06:14 PM

> QUOTE(JustTana @ Jan 27 2007, 04:12 PM)
>
> Well, my sister and I are wondering when Allyssa and Nathan will reveal what was done to them as children. Perhaps nothing, but I wouldn't hold my breath for any length of time over that question. It is almost ludricous to think that nothing ever happened to them given the problems Nathan has been plagued with and Alyssa's letter. I can just see her agonizing over how to tell her mother anything because she knew how much the ministry meant to Linda.
>
> Okay, okay, I'll quit now.
>
> JT

Jt,

i am not saying the idea has not crossed my mind has well but sometimes it is better wait and see what comes out on its own, so that we do not get accused of making stuff up.

erik

Posted by: JustTana Jan 27 2007, 06:26 PM

> QUOTE(erik @ Jan 27 2007, 07:14 PM) ☐
>
> Jt,
>
> i am not saying the idea has not crossed my mind has well but sometimes it is better wait and see what comes out on its own, so that we do not get accused of making stuff up.
>
> erik

Yeah, Erik, I hear you but I just want Alyssa and Nathan to know that they have friends here. Okay?

JT

Posted by: Aletheia Jan 27 2007, 06:28 PM

> QUOTE(erik @ Jan 27 2007, 07:10 PM) ☐
>
> Aletheia,
>
> if theya re going to sue then why did they not after the 2003 letter, what makes you think that they are going to sue this time when they did not last time, i am just wondering.
>
> Erik

Because nothing further came from Clem, till now... there was no reason to. And as DS and WT repetedly told Bob, they wouldn't address or answer him while the ASI process was under way, and Linda's side has appeared to mess that all up, and has responded by continuing to publish their acusations all over even while this was all going on.

And rather then our Church members handling this as Jesus said, or eventaking their accusations and charges, to a criminal or civil court, they opted to write about it on a website, to accuse 3ABN also, as soon as ASI withdrew, not ever giving anyone a chance to follow up.

They have published the accusations to the world making it a civil case, and have added to and embelished and even twisted what has been said to them. I'm talking about Bob Pickle's National enquirer brand of report and we will report it. It appears they have pushed the issue to the civil courts.

As it all started with Dryden, that is where it appears to be starting with 3ABN's response...

Just my opinion though. I guess we'll all see.

Posted by: Bystander Jan 27 2007, 07:15 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 27 2007, 04:18 PM) ☐

> I too see this as likely, they have pushed so far for this to be handled publically and it appears that there are civil works in the process now from the recent letters posted, and I am thinking that they have got their wish and the truth and facts and evidence are going to be given and they will have their day in court. Strangely though, they are all acting suprised or unbelieving, or outraged that 3ABN would take this to court, at least where Tommy is concerned. Why? don't they want to present the facts? Didn't they want all before the world? It appears they are getting their wish.
> In addition Linda was on the 3ABN board and voted with the consensus about the whole issue in regards to Dryden's letter and Tommy.
> Althiea, you have brought up a fact that I did not know. That erases any doubt that Linda did not know about the accusation.
>
> She seems to be the only one who could have said something, and as all the accusations have come from Bob Pickle, and Arthur Gailon Joy, who are two of her "representatives" it seems she has to be behind all that is going on now...
>
> You made the obvious point that I missed when questioned on "why I thought Linda was behind the info being placed on this website. As you Stated: All the information is being put on here by Joy & Pickle. According to ASI's statement they are officially Linda's representatives. The whole mess with Dryden came to be on this forum because Joy /Pickle contacted him and he began to send emails, correspondence ect ect to them. My question? Who would have told Joy/Pickle about Dryden in Virginia other than Linda. As you stated altheia, she was on the board in 03 when Dryden's accusations came before her.
>
> ---------------------------
>
> The blanks and elipses are Bob's. This appears much different then the new letter supposed to be from Duane Clem. Whatever happened to Dryden? so many here posted questions to him which were never answered...

Posted by: Hawk Jan 27 2007, 07:33 PM

So it is Linda's fault that Tommy molested kids? Hey Duane, did Linda make Tommy go after you? How about you Brad? Roger? Was Linda behind that? None of you and Pastor Dryden didnt know what Tommy had done to you? Did Linda instruct you to write and say what you wrote and said?

Bystander is a totally accurate reflection of 3ABN and the Shelton family. They get in trouble because their victims say something and they threaten to sue their victims and then blame Danny's ex wife for the molestation carried out by Tommy. News worthy! Definitely news worthy! Also worthy of "The World's Dumbest Criminals"

Posted by: wwjd Jan 27 2007, 07:49 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 27 2007, 06:28 PM)
>
> Because nothing further came from Clem, till now... there was no reason to. And as DS and WT repetedly told Bob, they wouldn't address or answer him while the ASI process was under way, and Linda's side has appeared to mess that all up, and has responded by continuing to publish their acusations all over even while this was all going on.

> And rather then our Church members handling this as Jesus said, or eventaking their accusations and charges, to a criminal or civil court, they opted to write about it on a website, to accuse 3ABN also, as soon as ASI withdrew, not ever giving anyone a chance to follow up.
>
> They have published the accusations to the world making it a civil case, and have added to and embelished and even twisted what has been said to them. I'm talking about Bob Pickle's National enquirer brand of report and we will report it. It appears they have pushed the issue to the civil courts.
>
> As it all started with Dryden, that is where it appears to be starting with 3ABN's response...
>
> Just my opinion though. I guess we'll all see.

mmmm civil courts? I certainly would if I had been accused of all the things that these people have. In the beginning, a few accusations made here, could make a person ask questions and take notice. But, I will have to say, the accusations began to come faster than the speed of light, to the point, of making them less credible. First of all, there wouldn't be enough hours in the day to accomplish all of the deceiving, lying, stealing, molesting, doctoring the books, intimidating, paying off, threatening, ect ect that these people have been accused of. Also, to put all of these posts together, the 3ABN administration, the financial officers, many of the workers, the entire 3ABN board made up of very respected people in the SDA denomination, the ASI executive committee and members that also seem to be a powerhouse in the Adventist community, and of course, all of the Shelton's, which I understand can be counted into the hundreds just going on the 3ABN shelton's and their first cousins, ...are ALL corrupt and are ALL in on the injustices that have been done to everything and everybody. Let's not forget people like Doug Batchelor and David Ashrick (I don't know how to spell his name) that work hand in hand with 3ABN. As intelligent as they seem to be, they must have been duped or be in on the conspiracy also. See what I mean? The accusations have come to the point of becoming ludicrous with anyone or anything that has had an ax to grind, jumping on the band wagon...Ridiculous

> QUOTE(Hawk @ Jan 27 2007, 07:33 PM)
>
> So it is Linda's fault that Tommy molested kids? Hey Duane, did Linda make Tommy go after you? How about you Brad? Roger? Was Linda behind that? None of you and Pastor Dryden didnt know what Tommy had done to you? Did Linda instruct you to write and say what you wrote and said?
>
> Bystander is a totally accurate reflection of 3ABN and the Shelton family. They get in trouble because their victims say something and they threaten to sue their victims and then blame Danny's ex wife for the molestation carried out by Tommy. News worthy! Definitely news worthy! Also worthy of "The World's Dumbest Criminals"

Hawk what you have just said is ludicrous and you know it. No one blames Linda for any alleged incidents that may or may not have happened concerning TS. Some of us are merely in agreement that "if it is indeed true" Or any parts at all are true" she had to be as aware of it as her husband.

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Jan 27 2007, 06:09 PM)
>
> Aletheia, this same lawyer wrote a similar letter to Roger Clem in 2003. No court case yet. This can often be a tactic to attempt to control a victim or witness by intimidation and threats.

that can be a tactic. And it can also be (as Altheia stated) the first step in trying to resolve the issue before pursueing the allegations

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 27 2007, 04:48 PM) ☐
>
> But the question would be whether or not TS was gay or a child molester. It could have been spun either way, couldn't it?

No in reality he doesn't have to be either but...as Altheia pointed out...Linda was on the board when the allegations by Glen Dryden were brought forth and we all have seen what he was accusing TS of

---

Posted by: Hawk Jan 27 2007, 07:50 PM

> QUOTE(wwjd @ Jan 27 2007, 07:43 PM) ☐
>
> Hawk what you have just said is ludicrous and you know it. No one blames Linda for any alleged incidents that may or may not have happened concerning TS. Some of us are merely in agreement that "if it is indeed true" Or any parts at all are true" she had to be as aware of it as her husband.

> QUOTE
>
> She seems to be the only one who could have said something, and as all the accusations have come from Bob Pickle, and Arthur Gailon Joy, who are two of her "representatives" it seems she has to be behind all that is going on now...

Bystander

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 27 2007, 08:05 PM

Yes, yes, be mad cause Linda brought the information out.

When you can't attack the message, attack the messenger.

More smoke and mirrors.

I agree with you Hawk

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jan 27 2007, 08:15 PM

But is this not the pattern we're seeing all along from Danny's camp? Since that can't refute the message they refute the messengers? It's lousy strategy but it's all they have. I pity them.

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 27 2007, 09:05 PM) ☐
>
> Yes, yes, be mad cause Linda brought the information out.

> When you can't attack the message, attack the messenger.
>
> More smoke and mirrors.
> I agree with you Hawk

Posted by: inga Jan 27 2007, 10:14 PM

> QUOTE(wwjd @ Jan 27 2007, 05:40 PM)
>
> So far proof has "not been released" against Linda. Has it ever occured to any of you (I know it hasn't because this would put a positive light on 3ABN) that they have tried to avoid doing that, maybe to the extreme, because of hurting the innocent individuals that are involved. Children, families, friends, ect.

Oh, please!! This has been the Danny line from Day 1, being published on the 3ABN web site! After all the trashing that has been done and is still being done, do you still expect us to buy that?

> QUOTE
>
> As was posted here before, there is no way that certain information could have been posted here without coming directly from Linda. I have been told by people that worked closely with her that certain snippets and pieces of conversation that they had with her alone have appeared here and other places only with lots of fiction added to it.

Ah, so you are verifying that the information here is accurate, except (your words)
"certain fiction being added."

Did it ever occur to you that some of these things might have been shared by Linda before any of this happened? Did it ever occur to you that some might have overheard? Did it occur to you that what Linda has shared in the past is being used on this website right now without her necessarily being aware of it? Privately, posters have shared that Linda refuses to visit this forum or any other. She has occasionally answered questions, and the answers have been attributed to her. That does not make her responsible for the bulk of the things being posted here. Not to mention that such responsibility would make her a true Superwoman.

> QUOTE
>
> Many of you are Linda's friends and would not want to hurt her. That makes me wonder about the constant requests and pushing for "proof" against her.

I am not one of Linda's friends. I have made my own judgments based on what I have seen/heard Dan & supporters say and what I have seen of evidence on this forum. As I understand it Linda is wanting complete transparency. She wants everything out in the open!

> QUOTE
>
> But, no one is perfect

And neither is Linda. I think it's unwise to push that Linda was never emotionally drawn to the doctor or that she never had any conversations with him that were not about Nathan. Only Linda knows what her actual thoughts and feelings were. But that does not constitute grounds for divorce.

> QUOTE
>
> I do not agree with you that there could even be a question. If any of the allegations directed at TommyS. are true she could not have been in the family for 20 years without knowing.

Whoa there!! A victim's own mother did not know for nearly that long, and you say that Linda should have known!!! That Danny knew has been demonstrated beyond a reasonable doubt, but can you prove that he told Linda about it?

Of course, I don't know that Linda didn't know. But to say that she must have known is taking a big leap.

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 27 2007, 10:18 PM

> QUOTE(inga @ Jan 27 2007, 11:14 PM) ☐
>
> Whoa there!! A victim's own mother did not know for nearly that long, and you say that Linda should have known!!! That Danny knew has been demonstrated beyond a reasonable doubt, but can you prove that he told Linda about it?
>
> Of course, I don't know that Linda didn't know. But to say that she must have known is taking a big leap.

Yes, I agree with you, Inga. Isn't this what we ask ourselves everytime that we hear of a parent or step-parent abusing a child. Don't we say "The other parent should have known?" I know I do. But it isn't the case much of the time...

Posted by: awesumtenor Jan 28 2007, 12:40 AM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 27 2007, 04:44 PM) ☐
>
> PB,
>
> The Lord healed me years ago... I was speaking of what I have learned and what i went through in the past tense. You might re-read what I wrote.

You like to believe so... but your reactions and statements tell a different story.

> QUOTE
>
> Mr J knows me not, and has nothing to judge me on except what I myself wrote, since he conttradicts what I myself said, how can he be correct? And how could you let him tell you about me and base your opnion on his judgment and statements about me?!?

Exactly; I have nothing to discern from save your statements... and out of the abundance of your heart your mouth speaks. I haven't contradicted what you said, Cindy; you have. I have simply weighed you in the same balance in which you have tried to weigh others... and you keep being found wanting. How could she let me tell her about you? She didn't... you tell everyone about you every time you open your mouth... and I have only stated what is seen when you do that; the fact that others see exactly what I do without our having had any conversation about you whatsoever speaks volumes.

> QUOTE
>
> This is a big problem on this forum.

It's only a problem to you when you are on the receiving end... when you are the one making judgements and presumptions of guilt or innocence about people you admit you don't know and have not met, you have no problem with it... and what's sauce for the goose...

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: Observer Jan 28 2007, 05:30 AM

> QUOTE(inga @ Jan 27 2007, 09:14 PM)
>
> Oh, please!! This has been the Danny line from Day 1, being published on the 3ABN web site! After all the trashing that has been done and is still being done, do you still expect us to buy that? Ah, so you are verifying that the information here is accurate, except (your words) "certain fiction being added."
>
> Did it ever occur to you that some of these things might have been shared by Linda before any of this happened? Did it ever occur to you that some might have overheard? Did it occur to you that what Linda has shared in the past is being used on this website right now without her necessarily being aware of it? Privately, posters have shared that Linda refuses to visit this forum or any other. She has occasionally answered questions, and the answers have been attributed to her. That does not make her responsible for the bulk of the things being posted here. Not to mention that such responsibility would make her a true Superwoman. I am not one of Linda's friends. I have made my own judgments based on what I have seen/heard Dan & supporters say and what I have seen of evidence on this forum. As I understand it Linda is wanting complete transparency. She wants everything out in the open! And neither is Linda. I think it's unwise to push that Linda was never emotionally drawn to the doctor or that she never had any conversations with him that were not about Nathan. Only Linda knows what her actual thoughts and feelings were. But that does not constitute grounds for divorce.
> Whoa there!! A victim's own mother did not know for nearly that long, and you say that Linda should have known!!! That Danny knew has been demonstrated beyond a reasonable doubt, but can you prove that he told Linda about it?
>
> Of course, I don't know that Linda didn't know. But to say that she must have known is taking a big leap.

Inga:

You have made several important points.

Linda has been so trashed that she feels that she has nothing to lose. Yes, she will likely be revealed as human, and imperfect. But, none of use who support her have deified her. She wants the whole truth to come out into the open. People can then make up their minds about her. She is willing to accept that. So are we.

Yes, Linda likely considered Dr. A. to be a friend of hers. I think it likely that any mother who had an addicted son, would consider the physician helping her son to overcome his addiction would consider that doctor to be a friend. She probably had other friends who were male. Johann may have been one. But, for a married female to have a male friend is not grounds for divorce. Danny likely had female friends. Such would not be grounds for divorce. The grounds for a divorce rest in relationships. The standard for a Biblical divorce, as accepted by conservative Adventists is physical adultery. That is the question for both Danny and Linda. If Linda committed physical adultery than Danny had Biblical grounds to divorce her. Both Danny and Dr. Thompson has stated that they do not have proof that she did such. If Danny committed physical adultery, then Linda had Biblical grounds to divorce him. The friendship of either with a person of the opposite gender is not Biblical grounds for divorce. So called "spiritual adultery," as used int his case is not grounds for a Biblical divorce on the part of either Danny or Linda.

As to what Linda knew about Tommy Shelton: Why would we assume that Danny would tell anyone, to include Linda, the full story? Why would we assume that Linda would not have simply accepted what little Danny said?

Posted by: Nuggie Jan 28 2007, 05:47 AM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jan 27 2007, 06:30 PM)
>
> Even if you should be 100% right in what you say here above, why was Linda not treated by 3ABN the way Jesus would have done it?

This question has been asked a number of times in different threads, but I haven't seen the Danny apologists give an answer yet...interesting, indeed...the silence speaks volumes...

Posted by: Harold T Jan 28 2007, 07:54 AM

[quote name='inga' date='Jan 24 2007, 03:57 AM' post='172137']
It's likely that folks are even now GOOGLING for 3ABN information from sites other than 3ABN.

Please, let's be kind to them and very patient. ☒ hug.gif

You see, I'm sure they'll sound just like Dan Shelton, and most of us have had our fill of him. However, a great many folks will sound like Dan Shelton when they come on here because they've been listening to him so long and so much that they actually believe what he says. They believe that Linda committed adultery -- if not physically, then at least spiritually. After all, didn't John Lomacang and his church say that Dan had was perfectly free to remarry?

They believe that all those claimed miracles are true. They believe that Dan was chosen by God. They believe that 3ABN is doing the work of God, and all those baptisms they claim wouldn't possibly come about if Dan were not chosen by God. And they believe that anyone who opposes the work of 3ABN opposes the work of God and endangers his/her salvation.

How do I know?

Well, I have a mother who believes just that -- in spite of my having tried several times to enlighten her. Finally, she wrote me a long and serious email, imploring me to examine my heart, etc. etc. If she came on this board, she would sound just like Dan Shelton. Though she would not make the same errors that are typical for him, she would make some errors because English is her second language. Being ridiculed for those would certainly convince her that we're all in cahoots with Satan and that nothing said here is true. (Believe it or not, she's an intelligent woman, and she's quite reasonable in most other things.)

So, please be kind to the newbies! One of them may be my mother.

There's nothing to lose by assuming that the ones who find this site are innocents who have been sent here by Dan's "live" program -- folks who know nothing but what they have heard him say.

I believe at one time PB was someone like that. There will be more, and they will likely sound just like Dan.

How about an 'Old' Newbie?
How about a Newbie who has worked at 3ABN for over 10 years? How about a Newbie who KNOWS all these people you are talking about? I have read the letter from the doctor in Europe, I have read the letter from Dr. Thompson. I don't know the doctor, I DO know Dr. Walt. I have known him for quite some time. I just wonder why people call his letter lies and the doctor's letter truth? I have them both, side by side, and I must say someone really is productive. I have a suggestion. Why not go to 3ABN and talk to some of the workers who have been there for at least ten years. See what they have to say about what went on and what IS going on. How many on this forum will do that instead of taking someone elses ideas as 'facts'? You don't have any "facts" if you haven't been there, done that.
Harold

Posted by: Observer Jan 28 2007, 09:25 AM

Re: "I have a suggestion. Why not go to 3ABN and talk to some of the workers who have been there for at least ten years. See what they have to say about what went on and what IS going on. How many on this forum will do that instead of taking someone elses ideas as 'facts'? You don't have any "facts" if you haven't been there, done that.
Harold"

How many of you believe that Danny would allow someone to come on 3-ABN property and have unrestricted, private, contact with any and all employeed by 3-ABN.

Posted by: Harold T Jan 28 2007, 01:46 PM

> QUOTE(Observer @ Jan 28 2007, 09:25 AM) ☐
>
> Re: "I have a suggestion. Why not go to 3ABN and talk to some of the workers who have been there for at least ten years. See what they have to say about what went on and what IS going on.

> How many on this forum will do that instead of taking someone elses ideas as 'facts'? You don't have any "facts" if you haven't been there, done that.
> Harold"
>
> How many of you believe that Danny would allow someone to come on 3-ABN property and have unrestricted, private, contact with any and all employeed by 3-ABN.

I don't know. I only know that I have been going there for over 10 years, have unrestricted access to all employees and can talk about anything I want. I consider all of them friends. I also know what they all think of Linda. I won't say any more about that because that is none of my or your business. When you find something about 3ABN that you know to be fact, tell about it. 3ABN is doing just what it has set out to do. I have supported them for over 15 years with both labor and money. I have watched, in person, their growth from a little one sattelite set to one with now at least 9. That growth didn't come from being lax with their funds. When I started going there, they had about 30 employees and one or two volunteers. Now there are over 100 employees and on average 10 or 15 volunteers. It is getting so that we can't find much to do when we do go there. Try it. You might like it.
Harold.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jan 28 2007, 04:11 PM

When folks were here at BS, Michigan when Danny came if they asked him any questions they were "ushered" to the side and then .....AWAY.

That was per a friend that ventured into PMC. I didn't even watch it on TV.

Now.

Explain that.

Posted by: Hersheys99 Jan 28 2007, 05:00 PM

> QUOTE
> I have supported them for over 15 years with both labor and money.

Gee that is most of it right there in a nutshell as long as you support him especially money wise things are good. I know I have been there before & they wouldn't even give me the time of day let alone even say hi.

As for volunteering for them won't happen with me. I had 2 kids that worked there & I know some of the stuff that went on there.

Like the saying goes this ain't Sabbath School we pay attention here.

Posted by: wwjd Jan 28 2007, 07:13 PM

> QUOTE(Harold T @ Jan 28 2007, 01:46 PM)
>
> I don't know. I only know that I have been going there for over 10 years, have unrestricted access to all employees and can talk about anything I want. I consider all of them friends. I also know what they all think of Linda. I won't say any more about that because that is none of my or your business. When you find something about 3ABN that you know to be fact, tell about it. 3ABN is doing just what it has set out to do. I have supported them for over 15 years with both labor and money. I have watched, in person, their growth from a little one sattelite set to one with now at least 9. That growth didn't come from being lax with their funds. When I started going there, they had about 30 employees and one or two volunteers. Now there are over 100 employees and on average 10 or 15 volunteers. It is getting so that we can't find much to do when we do go there.
> Try it. You might like it.
> Harold.

Harold, help me solve this puzzle. Why is it that anything that hoty says is taken as fact because he works there. Now you have come on the scene and have been there just as long or longer but nothing you say is really "credible." Why would that be??? You have as much or more validity than hoty but because your "take" on the situation isn't negative, it will be disregarded. I have friends that have stopped at 3abn as they passed through the area on vacation or whatever and they have told me how they were allowed to do exactly what observer says they can't do....To walk freely all over, go to all the different buildings and talk to anyone they wanted to do. They didn't mention anything about barb wire fences or guard towers being in place. I have never seen all of this Linda bashing on the air and I watch quite often. When the split first happened I called and ask about Linda and was told politely and kindly that they must follow the 3abn policy of not discussing any personal information. Now if they wanted to bash, they sure had thousands of opportunities to do so to the many many calls that they receive.
Harold, tell it like it is and I thank you for a fair and unbiased opinion. You are simply telling what you know and your long experience there makes a believer out of me. If hoty things administration is so corrupt, he would either leave and work for another ministry or he would/should get enough gumption to make his views known to the administration and try to help whatever he thinks is wrong there. Instead he hides behind bsda's skirts to spout his condemnation.

Posted by: Rosyroi Jan 28 2007, 07:57 PM

> QUOTE(wwjd @ Jan 28 2007, 05:13 PM)
>
> Harold, help me solve this puzzle. Why is it that anything that hoty says is taken as fact because he works there. Now you have come on the scene and have been there just as long or longer but nothing you say is really "credible." Why would that be??? You have as much or more validity than hoty but because your "take" on the situation isn't negative, it will be disregarded. I have friends that have stopped at 3abn as they passed through the area on vacation or whatever and they have told me how they were allowed to do exactly what observer says they can't do....To walk freely all over, go to all the different buildings and talk to anyone they wanted to do. They didn't mention anything about barb wire fences or guard towers being in place. I have never seen all of this Linda bashing on the air and I watch quite often. When the split first happened I called and ask about Linda and was told politely and kindly that they must follow the 3abn policy of not discussing any personal information. Now if they wanted to bash, they sure had thousands of opportunities to do so to the many many calls that they receive.
> Harold, tell it like it is and I thank you for a fair and unbiased opinion. You are simply telling what you know and your long experience there makes a believer out of me. If hoty things administration is so corrupt, he would either leave and work for another ministry or he would/should get enough gumption to make his views known to the administration and try to help whatever he thinks is wrong there. Instead he hides behind bsda's skirts to spout his condemnation.

??3ABN policy of not discussing any personal information?? I know for fact that over here in the Northwest US of A email and rumors abounded about Linda. Folks said the information was straight from the offices of 3ABN. I said on another thread that there were more bad things mentioned that have been mentioned here at BSDA. Since they were from 3ABN and bad reports I refused to listen. But I still believed in 3ABN ministry and still do.

Posted by: awesumtenor Jan 28 2007, 08:00 PM

> QUOTE(wwjd @ Jan 28 2007, 08:13 PM) ☐
>
> Harold, help me solve this puzzle. Why is it that anything that hoty says is taken as fact because he works there. Now you have come on the scene and have been there just as long or longer but nothing you say is really "credible." Why would that be??? You have as much or more validity than hoty but because your "take" on the situation isn't negative, it will be disregarded.

Flip this around and you're talking about the man in the mirror. Answer me this...are you currently employed at 3ABN or there on a daily basis?

Yes or no.

If no, then you are not in a position to say HOTY is not telling the truth....or that Harold T is. You choose to agree with Harold's spin because his postion approximates your own... and your perspective is far from objective. The fact of the matter is, both men can be right... and both can be wrong. As one who is there continuously, HOTY would be privy to things that Harold may not be... Harold says he 'volunteers'... how frequently? For how long? He says he knows all of the employees that have worked there over the time he has been volunteering... yet there are current and former employees of 3ABN who have been here for months prior to Harold's showing up who have made statements about events that harold says he knows nothing about... because of this you conclude that Harold must be telling the truth and all who differ with him must be lying?

Wake up Muttley; you're dreamin' again.

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: Observer Jan 28 2007, 09:04 PM

Re: "I have friends that have stopped at 3abn as they passed through the area on vacation or whatever and they have told me how they were allowed to do exactly what observer says they can't do....To walk freely all over, go to all the different buildings and talk to anyone they wanted to do. "

In all honesty I appreciate it when people point out that I have not been clear in what I wanted to say. I would rather have it pointed out, and have an opportunity to correct (clarify) it, than for it to go on unclear.

No, I do not think that there are guard towers, police, or escorts that show up every time a strange face shows up on the property.

As an ethical standard of conduct, I happen to believe that If I want to do a survey of an organization's employees, on organizational property, during working hours, I should coordinate that with the organization. I.e. I should not simply show up, unannounced, and expect to wander throughout all working areas, talking to individual employees for as long as I pleased while I collected information.

My personal belief is that if I, Gailon, Bob Pickle were to ask to be allowed to do such a survey, the answer would be NO. Don't show up. That belief stems in part, from a prior experience in which Bob Pickle was invited to come to 3-ABN and review certain documents, and then that permission to see those documents was withdrawn.

My comment that I do not believe that 3-ABN would allow such a survey of their employees does not imply a judgment of them. It is simply a statement of what I think. And, it is a response to a prior post that suggest that people ought to obtain better facts by interviewing 3-ABN employees.

Posted by: Hersheys99 Jan 28 2007, 09:17 PM

> QUOTE
>
> (wwjd @ Jan 28 2007, 05:13 PM) I have never seen all of this Linda bashing on the air and I watch quite often. When the split first happened I called and ask about Linda and was told politely and kindly that they must follow the 3abn policy of not discussing any personal information. Now if they wanted to bash, they sure had thousands of opportunities to do so to the many many calls that they receive.

Ok stop trying to pretend that you called & asked about Linda when you are family. Your PM didn't scare me into silence like you wanted. The thing is what you implied in your PM to me about my past you know what has NOTHING to do with the fact of what you all are doing or have done & trying to cover it all up. This has nothing to do with me or my family so move on & stop trying to divert everyone's attention of the real facts.

Posted by: Clay Jan 28 2007, 09:58 PM

> QUOTE(Hersheys99 @ Jan 28 2007, 09:17 PM) ☐
>
> Ok stop trying to pretend that you called & asked about Linda when you are family. Your PM didn't scare me into silence like you wanted. The thing is what you implied in your PM to me about my past you know what has NOTHING to do with the fact of what you all are doing or have done & trying to cover it all up. This has nothing to do with me or my family so move on & stop trying to divert everyone's attention of the real facts.

so wwjd is trying to threaten people into silence via PM.... as I suspected, clearly he needs to drop the wwjd facade and change it to WSUD (what satan usually does).....

ain't that a trip..... folks must think we are stupid....

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jan 28 2007, 10:00 PM

Blackmail?

> QUOTE(Hersheys99 @ Jan 28 2007, 10:17 PM) ☐
>
> Ok stop trying to pretend that you called & asked about Linda when you are family. Your PM didn't scare me into silence like you wanted. The thing is what you implied in your PM to me about my past you know what has NOTHING to do with the fact of what you all are doing or have done & trying to cover it all up. This has nothing to do with me or my family so move on & stop trying to divert everyone's attention of the real facts.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jan 28 2007, 10:00 PM

Well?

☒ sn

Posted by: Ralph Jan 28 2007, 10:19 PM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jan 28 2007, 08:58 PM) ☐
>
> so wwjd is trying to threaten people into silence via PM.... as I suspected, clearly he needs to drop the wwjd facade and change it to WSUD (what satan usually does).....
>
> ain't that a trip..... folks must think we are stupid....

I sure hope that people report this kind of PM to you or tell us all on this board.

Posted by: Snoopy Jan 28 2007, 10:25 PM

> QUOTE(Hersheys99 @ Jan 28 2007, 09:17 PM) ☐
>
> Ok stop trying to pretend that you called & asked about Linda when you are family. Your PM didn't scare me into silence like you wanted. The thing is what you implied in your PM to me about my past you know what has NOTHING to do with the fact of what you all are doing or have done & trying to cover it all up. This has nothing to do with me or my family so move on & stop trying to divert everyone's attention of the real facts.

Hi Ms. Chocolate Lover...(you must be...)!

Very interesting post. Is that a PM that you could share with us?

Regards!

Snoopy

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jan 28 2007, 10:25 PM

Well any credibility that might have still been been there is gone now. WWJD indeed. WWJD=what will justify danny?

Richard

> QUOTE(Ralph @ Jan 28 2007, 11:19 PM) ☐
>
> I sure hope that people report this kind of PM to you or tell us all on this board.

Posted by: calvin Jan 28 2007, 10:38 PM

> QUOTE(Snoopy @ Jan 28 2007, 10:25 PM) ☐
>
> Hi Ms. Chocolate Lover...(you must be...)!
>
> Very interesting post. Is that a PM that you could share with us?
>
> Regards!
>
> Snoopy

PMs are meant to be private communication here. So Hershey I rather that you not do that. The PM was sent to me and shared with the administrators. and has been dealt with.

Want to remind everybody that we respect the personal private of every member here. Exposing personal information and using intimidation will get you banned.

Posted by: Snoopy Jan 28 2007, 10:52 PM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Jan 28 2007, 10:38 PM) ☐
>
> PMs are meant to be private communication here. So Hershey I rather that you not do that. The PM was sent to me and shared with the administrators. and has been dealt with.
>
> Want to remind everybody that we respect the personal private of every member here. Exposing personal information and using intimidation will get you banned.

Ouch! I'm sorry! I was not trying to intimidate anyone...

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jan 28 2007, 11:03 PM

Snoopy - I think you are alright. Calvin was just lettin' folks know that there are certain ramifications for certain "cute" behaviors....

You a'ight Snoop.

...but I wish someone would blackmail me with ANYTHING. The test alone would be worth the effort that I would have to put into the bot they would get...

Do not play - you cannot win.

Posted by: Snoopy Jan 28 2007, 11:08 PM

> QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jan 28 2007, 11:03 PM) ☐
>
> Snoopy - I think you are alright. Calvin was just lettin' folks know that there are certain ramifications for certain "cute" behaviors....
>
> You a'ight Snoop.
>
> ...but I wish someone would blackmail me with ANYTHING. The test alone would be worth the effort that I would have to put into the bot they would get...
>
> Do not play - you cannot win.

Whew! Thanks, PDR!! I want to keep the boss HAPPY!!!! Don't want to get sent to the doghouse yet... h

---

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 28 2007, 11:09 PM

> QUOTE(Harold T @ Jan 28 2007, 12:46 PM) ☐
>
> I don't know. I only know that I have been going there for over 10 years, have unrestricted access to all employees and can talk about anything I want. I consider all of them friends. I also know what they all think of Linda. I won't say any more about that because that is none of my or your business. When you find something about 3ABN that you know to be fact, tell about it. 3ABN is doing just what it has set out to do. I have supported them for over 15 years with both labor and money. I have watched, in person, their growth from a little one sattelite set to one with now at > least 9. That growth didn't come from being lax with their funds. When I started going there, they had about 30 employees and one or two volunteers. Now there are over 100 employees and on average 10 or 15 volunteers. It is getting so that we can't find much to do when we do go there. Try it. You might like it.

> Harold.

Harold T, at least you bring a gentle voice in your support of 3abn, not the voice of condemnation and denial like some of those who have been posting here lately. I appreciate your spirit.

Don't be too quick to judge what is going on here at the 3abn Forum, though. If you read with an open mind you might just see the true spirit at work here.

It appears by the sentence that I have bolded that your 10 + years volunteering at 3abn may not have been full time volunteering but rather more along the line of many others who volunteer when they have spare time. Is this accurate? If so, do you think that someone who works there as a full time employee might be more aware of the inner workings than you are? Just a thought.

Posted by: seraph|m Jan 28 2007, 11:10 PM

> QUOTE(Snoopy @ Jan 28 2007, 11:52 PM)
>
> Ouch! I'm sorry! I was not trying to intimidate anyone...

Snoopy, I am sure that comment was not directed at you... no worrys

---

Posted by: Snoopy Jan 28 2007, 11:13 PM

> QUOTE(seraph|m @ Jan 28 2007, 11:10 PM)
>
> Snoopy, I am sure that comment was not directed at you... no worrys

Thank you!! I'm not ready for folks to be mad at me yet!!

Posted by: seraph|m Jan 28 2007, 11:17 PM

> QUOTE(Snoopy @ Jan 29 2007, 12:13 AM)
>
> Thank you!! I'm not ready for folks to be mad at me yet!!

Only those folks in denial are mad. None of the true BSDA members are mad... Going mad is what animals do...

Posted by: Hersheys99 Jan 28 2007, 11:25 PM

Snoopy you are fine & I didn't take your request the wrong way at all.

Yes I am truly a chocolate lover!!!

> QUOTE
>
> PMs are meant to be private communication here. So Hershey I rather that you not do that.

You got it Calvin!

Posted by: princessdi Jan 29 2007, 12:50 AM

Naw, I think if Danny had it, it would be out there. I can say I have only watched 3ABN broadcasts in my life since this unfortunately situation began. and the andfull of time I have watched, I have heard Danny make reference to Linda is some way. I also know that immediately after their separation/divorce he did several "live" church broadcasts, and most he was telling the story about how is was so betrayed, and all kinds of junk. they ALL aired on 3ABN. And now you want us to believe he is trying to spare somebodies feelings? Why didn't he think of that then? Why doesn't he think of it everytime he talks about it now? WWJD, put up or shut up! Not too many children read BSDA. Go for it!

> QUOTE(wwjd @ Jan 27 2007, 02:40 PM)
>
> So far proof has "not been released" against Linda. Has it ever occured to any of you (I know it hasn't because this would put a positive light on 3ABN) that they have tried to avoid doing that, maybe to the extreme, because of hurting the innocent individuals that are involved. Children, families, friends, ect. I know, on this forum, that would be hard to understand because no consideration has been given to the families of the ones under attack here. I have read on here time and again about all the "trashing" that has been done to Linda by 3abn but could it be that they have kept the "ultimate trashing" under wraps because they have not wanted to sink to that level. What level? As was posted here before, there is no way that certain information could have been posted here without coming directly from Linda. I have been told by people that worked closely with her that certain snippets and pieces of conversation that they had with her alone have appeared here and other places only with lots of fiction added to it.
> Many of you are Linda's friends and would not want to hurt her. That makes me wonder about the constant requests and pushing for "proof" against her. Has anyone of you stopped to think that if you "pushed" to far and 3ABN finally found it unavoidable to do anything but show the proof, how much that could hurt Linda and her family. If she was my friend, I would be careful not to do anything that could provoke harm.
> I truly believe that you believe in her 100% so think that there is nothing to fear by your proof requests But, no one is perfect and there is always that chance that you are wrong so why push it?
> I agree with bystander also. I do not agree with you that there could even be a question. If any of the allegations directed at TommyS. are true she could not have been in the family for 20 years without knowing.

Posted by: Bystander Jan 29 2007, 01:19 AM

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Jan 29 2007, 12:50 AM) ☐
>
> Naw, I think if Danny had it, it would be out there. I can say I have only watched 3ABN broadcasts in my life since this unfortunately situation began. and the andfull of time I have watched, I have heard Danny make reference to Linda is some way. I also know that immediately after their separation/divorce he did several "live" church broadcasts, and most he was telling the story about how is was so betrayed, and all kinds of junk. they ALL aired on 3ABN. And now you want us to believe he is trying to spare somebodies feelings? Why didn't he think of that then? Why doesn't he think of it everytime he talks about it now? WWJD, put up or shut up! Not too many children read BSDA. Go for it!

wwjd made some good points. Di, you said I think...You can think all you want but that doesn't make it so. This "put up or shut up" is getting to be a joke. Because 3abn hasn't released proof doesn't mean they don't have it. You have no proof that they don't have it, and I haven't shown proof that they do have it. At least I am willing to say so. You on the other hand are so sure they don't, you can be the one to put up or shut up and prove they don't have any.

Posted by: inga Jan 29 2007, 03:24 AM

> QUOTE(wwjd @ Jan 28 2007, 08:13 PM) ☐
>
> Harold, help me solve this puzzle. Why is it that anything that hoty says is taken as fact because he works there. Now you have come on the scene and have been there just as long or longer but nothing you say is really "credible." Why would that be??? .

There's a difference in credibility between a person who lives near 3ABN and works there and someone who comes occasionally, bearing money, to volunteer there -- quite aside from the time factor.

A number of witnesses have testified that anyone bearing significant sums gets very different treatment from those who do not come bearing gifts. And, of course, employees get a very different view yet.

Tell me, Harold, just what do you do when you volunteer there?

I'm not knocking Harold's credibility, by the way. He experienced what he experienced, and he has posted in a reasonable manner. However, it stands to reason that he would not experience what those who actually work there experienced -- and there are a number of current and past 3ABN employees on this board.

Posted by: inga Jan 29 2007, 03:34 AM

> QUOTE(Hersheys99 @ Jan 28 2007, 10:17 PM) ☐

> Ok stop trying to pretend that you called & asked about Linda when you are family. Your PM didn't scare me into silence like you wanted. The thing is what you implied in your PM to me about my past you know what has NOTHING to do with the fact of what you all are doing or have done & trying to cover it all up. This has nothing to do with me or my family so move on & stop trying to divert everyone's attention of the real facts.

Hershey, God bless you for standing up to a bully and refusing to be intimidated by references to your past!! hug.gif

I couldn't help but be reminded of this bit of good adivice:
"When the devil reminds you of your past, remind him of his future!

Posted by: Bystander Jan 29 2007, 04:20 AM

> QUOTE(Hersheys99 @ Jan 28 2007, 11:25 PM)
>
> Snoopy you are fine & I didn't take your request the wrong way at all.
>
> Yes I am truly a chocolate lover!!!
> You got it Calvin!

Folks, give wwjd credit where credit is due. Whatever was said from wwjd to Hershey was obviously sent and said in private. So I am not understanding why Hershey said quit trying distract (or however it was said) Sending you a private email was not distracting because no one else should have known about it. Also I see where you said "don't bring my family" into it. That caused me to review some of your posts only to find that YOU brought your family into it by telling how you have had experiences with The Sheltons and 3ABN through your daughters. If you can use your daughters as a source to "slam" 3ABN then why can't wwjd or anyone else simply repeat the information that you have posted.

You have accused wwjd as being part of the family. That is getting tiresome. Anyone that post in favor of 3ABN is accused of being family. Considering how many thousands of supporters that 3ABN seems to have, that accusation is ridiculous.

Posted by: Snoopy Jan 29 2007, 09:10 AM

> QUOTE(Hersheys99 @ Jan 28 2007, 11:25 PM)
>
> Snoopy you are fine & I didn't take your request the wrong way at all.
>
> Yes I am truly a chocolate lover!!!
> You got it Calvin!

☒ hug.gif Ms. Hershey - you just sound like one very nice lady! I'm honored to make your cyber acquaintance!! Thanks so much for sharing your views here! Maybe one day we can share a chocolate bar!!

Posted by: Hersheys99 Jan 29 2007, 10:02 AM

> QUOTE
>
> Folks, give wwjd credit where credit is due. Whatever was said from wwjd to Hershey was obviously sent and said in private. So I am not understanding why Hershey said quit trying distract (or however it was said) Sending you a private email was not distracting because no one else should have known about it. Also I see where you said "don't bring my family" into it. That caused me to review some of your posts only to find that YOU brought your family into it by telling how you have had experiences with The Sheltons and 3ABN through your daughters. If you can use your daughters as a source to "slam" 3ABN then why can't wwjd or anyone else simply repeat the information that you have posted.
> You have accused wwjd as being part of the family. That is getting tiresome. Anyone that post in favor of 3ABN is accused of being family. Considering how many thousands of supporters that 3ABN seems to have, that accusation is ridiculous.

Well bystander once again you pick & choose what you want to read & bring up. I have never slammed 3ABN. Never have I said I wanted to see 3ABN fall just the way they do things hence the leadership changed or straightened up. When you have child molesters working with kids there is something wrong. I believe the victims coming forward & applaud them for doing that. I know what its like to go up against the Sheltons. They have a spin a mile long to get you to see it their way. The "don't bring my family" into it has nothing to do with the 3ABN mess this was something entirely different & if you don't get it oh well too bad. As for the PM yes it was private & its being dealt with & the only reason I posted about it was so others will realize they too can stand up to these "bullies" which is exactly what they are. So with that being said

You are getting very tiresome. Time for you to go stand somewhere else.

Posted by: Fran Jan 29 2007, 11:32 AM

> QUOTE(Hersheys99 @ Jan 29 2007, 10:02 AM) ☐
>
> Well bystander once again you pick & choose what you want to read & bring up. I have never slammed 3ABN. Never have I said I wanted to see 3ABN fall just the way they do things hence the leadership changed or straightened up. When you have child molesters working with kids there is something wrong. I believe the victims coming forward & applaud them for doing that. I know what its like to go up against the Sheltons. They have a spin a mile long to get you to see it their way. The "don't bring my family" into it has nothing to do with the 3ABN mess this was something entirely different & if you don't get it oh well too bad. As for the PM yes it was private & its being dealt with & the only reason I posted about it was so others will realize they too can stand up to these "bullies" which is exactly what they are. So with that being said
>
> You are getting very tiresome. Time for you to go stand somewhere else.

You have made a good point. Everybody needs to talk to him about financial dealings at 3ABN. He doesn't like to talk about that at all! It renders him silent!

Posted by: daylily Jan 29 2007, 12:18 PM

I don't know whether or not 3ABN has solid proof as they say of LInda's "affair", but I don't think for one minute that they are keeping it quiet to protect innocent people. They certainly did not hesitate to assasinate Derrell's character and reputation when he and Melody separated.

I haven't read Kuzma's book about 3ABN but Iremember beartrap saying he was going to talk to her about some things in it that were not true. I wonder if he was able to talk to her?

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 29 2007, 01:34 PM

> QUOTE(Hersheys99 @ Jan 28 2007, 08:17 PM) ☐
>
> Ok stop trying to pretend that you called & asked about Linda when you are family. Your PM didn't scare me into silence like you wanted. The thing is what you implied in your PM to me about my past you know what has NOTHING to do with the fact of what you all are doing or have done & trying to cover it all up. This has nothing to do with me or my family so move on & stop trying to divert everyone's attention of the real facts.

You Go Girl! ☒ That's showin' your muscles, Hersheys99!!! ☒ box.gi

(I just had to add the muscles!)

Posted by: LeePaDee Jan 29 2007, 02:56 PM

Newbies Coming....
Be ye kind, one to another.... in honor.....

Posted by: princessdi Jan 29 2007, 03:24 PM

Naw, come one now Bystnader, that dog wan't hunt here. If 3ABN has evidence, then it is for them to present. But seeing as it has been approximately 3 years they have been making this claim with nada to show for it. What else are we suppose to think. In fact, they started out with an explaination they thought would need no evidence, Sprituital adultery(whatever the heck that it). When it would fly then they had proof of actual adultery. the kicker is that they could have posted theirs here at BSDA, and still can. Members maybe biased one way or another, but the site it'self takes no stand to support either LInda or Danny.(Now, you know that Danny is definitely is in the hole, here, being his first communication was a lie, and he has tried to intimidate Calvin in others.) But Hey! we dont' hold a grudge. Bring it on!(since you no longer feeling "put up or shut up)" No, no. Just repeat the motto: "This ain't Sabbath School we pay attention here".

Just one more point. the reason we keep asking for proof is that. the "other side"(for lack of a better phrase), has plenty of proof including official documents, victimetestimonies, etc. You and you friends come here to ask us to discount their information with just your word, when you are representing a man we know to be a liar, Citing information this same less than truthful person as your source for much of your information. That just doesn't make common sense. Please try again

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Jan 28 2007, 11:19 PM)
>
> wwjd made some good points. Di, you said I think...You can think all you want but that doesn't make it so. This "put up or shut up" is getting to be a joke. Because 3abn hasn't released proof doesn't mean they don't have it. You have no proof that they don't have it, and I haven't shown proof that they do have it. At least I am willing to say so. You on the other hand are so sure they don't, you can be the one to put up or shut up and prove they don't have any.

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 29 2007, 07:15 PM

First, let's all face the truth square in the face. If 3ABN had proof, real proof, that Linda was unfaithful, she would have been accused being an adultress, not a spiritual adultress. No need for more discussion than that.

As for Harold, I believe him 100% that his posts here are his perception of the dealings at 3ABN. As a Call Center volunteer, he never sees Dan, never saw Linda, never deals with Mollie, never worked with Brenda... Frankly, he has been shut in a confined building completely separate from the administration building. So, how much could be seen from there?

When he spent time away from the office with any of the above individuals, it may have seemed like it was personal to him, but I can say that it wouldn't have been for them. To 3ABN, he is free labor and a checkbook.

(Personally, I find it difficult to believe that the Harold i know would actually come onto this site.)

Posted by: inga Jan 29 2007, 10:21 PM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 29 2007, 08:15 PM)
>
> (Personally, I find it difficult to believe that the Harold i know would actually come onto this site.)

Makes you wonder who sent him here, doesn't it?

Harold sounds like a very nice Christian man.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jan 29 2007, 10:30 PM

Powered by Invision Power Board (http://www.invisionboard.com)
© Invision Power Services (http://www.invisionpower.com)

108

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ The (un)fantastic Four!

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 17 2007, 08:54 PM

I'm sure that many of you know that there are four people who would be most eager in the case of Dan's dismissal. Over the last couple of years all of the departments have been divided among them.

First, we have the Steensons, that's Hal and Mollie.

Next, we have the Quinn's, that's J.D. and Shelley.

Boy are we in for a treat! Not only one Queen Bee, but 2! Oh - and don't forget the drunk.

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 17 2007, 10:02 PM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 17 2007, 06:54 PM)
>
> I'm sure that many of you know that there are four people who would be most eager in the case of Dan's dismissal. Over the last couple of years all of the departments have been divided among them.
> First, we have the Steensons, that's Hal and Mollie.
>
> Next, we have the Quinn's, that's J.D. and Shelley.
>
> Boy are we in for a treat! Not only one Queen Bee, but 2! Oh - and don't forget the drunk.

HOTY! You don't mince words!

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 17 2007, 10:19 PM

> QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jan 17 2007, 11:02 PM)
>
> HOTY! You don't mince words!

Never have. No reason to start now. Besids, I'm too old to worry about it!
(Neither do the Queen Bees. Whew!)

HOTY

Posted by: daylily Jan 18 2007, 05:14 AM

The drunk??

Posted by: Johann Jan 18 2007, 05:40 AM

> QUOTE(daylily @ Jan 18 2007, 01:14 PM) ☐
>
> The drunk??

Is he never sober?

Posted by: daylily Jan 18 2007, 06:07 AM

WHO are you talking about? Who is the drunk?

Posted by: watchbird Jan 18 2007, 08:33 AM

> QUOTE(daylily @ Jan 18 2007, 07:07 AM) ☐
>
> WHO are you talking about? Who is the drunk?

It is normally stated that he "has a problem with alcohol.... lost his former church because of that "problem".... and others that sprang from it.

Posted by: caribbean sda Jan 18 2007, 09:48 AM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 17 2007, 10:54 PM) ☐
>
> I'm sure that many of you know that there are four people who would be most eager in the case of Dan's dismissal. Over the last couple of years all of the departments have been divided among them.
> First, we have the Steensons, that's Hal and Mollie.
>
> Next, we have the Quinn's, that's J.D. and Shelley.
>
> Boy are we in for a treat! Not only one Queen Bee, but 2! Oh - and don't forget the drunk.

Somehow this reminds me of Seleucus, Casander, Ptolemy and Lysimachus..but that's ☒ ofl carry on!

TVsnack.

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 18 2007, 04:26 PM

Hal Steenson is the one with the problem. I've heard that Mollie does too (from a very close friend of her family), but that she hides it better than Hal.

Posted by: Treniece Jan 20 2007, 10:44 AM

So who sees him when he purchases his liquor. How does he get it.

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 20 2007, 11:50 AM

> QUOTE(Treniece @ Jan 20 2007, 11:44 AM)
>
> So who sees him when he purchases his liquor. How does he get it.

He goes to the store and buys it.

Posted by: Johann Jan 23 2007, 04:56 PM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 19 2007, 12:26 AM)
>
> Hal Steenson is the one with the problem. I've heard that Mollie does too (from a very close friend of her family), but that she hides it better than Hal.

Perhaps "eye witness" will refute this?

Posted by: Ozzie Jan 27 2007, 05:15 AM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jan 24 2007, 08:56 AM)
>
> Perhaps "eye witness" will refute this?

Maybe eye witness gives the drunk a helping hand?

Posted by: Treniece Jan 27 2007, 11:38 AM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 20 2007, 12:50 PM)
>
> He goes to the store and buys it.

Are you sure of that. If he goes to the store and buy it, then that is a very poor witness.

Posted by: Harold T Jan 27 2007, 01:55 PM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 17 2007, 08:54 PM)
>
> I'm sure that many of you know that there are four people who would be most eager in the case of Dan's dismissal. Over the last couple of years all of the departments have been divided among them.
> First, we have the Steensons, that's Hal and Mollie.
>
> Next, we have the Quinn's, that's J.D. and Shelley.
>
> Boy are we in for a treat! Not only one Queen Bee, but 2! Oh - and don't forget the drunk.

Boy are we in for a treat!<<
Let me ask you. When was the last time you went to 3ABN? When was the last time you talked to anyone there, personally? I have been a volunteer at 3ABN for almost eleven years. I know all the people you are talking about. I also know that you don't. That is obvious from your statements. I know Danny well. He knows me. I know Millie and Hal. They know me. My wife and I have had dinner with them more than once. If you REALLY want to know what is going on at 3ABN, I suggest you go there. Talk to the people who work there. Get acquainted. You might be in for a surprise. Ask ANYone there if they know Harold.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jan 27 2007, 02:00 PM

HaroldT...you new. Welcome!

Now...

Go read the "pinned" 3ABN threads...then comment.....

Not telling you not to comment. Just telling you to read everything first - then comment.

Posted by: Clay Jan 27 2007, 02:06 PM

> QUOTE(Harold T @ Jan 27 2007, 01:55 PM)
>
> Boy are we in for a treat!<<
> Let me ask you. When was the last time you went to 3ABN? When was the last time you talked to anyone there, personally? I have been a volunteer at 3ABN for almost eleven years. I know all the people you are talking about. I also know that you don't. That is obvious from your statements. I know Danny well. He knows me. I know Millie and Hal. They know me. My wife and I have had dinner with them more than once. If you REALLY want to know what is going on at 3ABN, I suggest you go there. Talk to the people who work there. Get acquainted. You might be in for a surprise. Ask ANYone there if they know Harold.

welcome to BSDA.... its apparent you have not read the material in this section.... had you read it you would know that there are quite a few people who are from 3abn... people who work there or worked there, people who know what they are talking about..... so read a little... and after you read then comment.....

Posted by: awesumtenor Jan 27 2007, 02:24 PM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jan 27 2007, 03:06 PM)
>
> welcome to BSDA.... its apparent you have not read the material in this section.... had you read it you would know that there are quite a few people who are from 3abn... people who work there or worked there, people who know what they are talking about..... so read a little... and after you read then comment.....

Must be the vanguard for the next wave...

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: caribbean sda Jan 27 2007, 02:43 PM

> QUOTE(awesumtenor @ Jan 27 2007, 04:24 PM)
>
> Must be the vanguard for the next wave...
>
> In His service,
> Mr. J

sure looks that way...

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 27 2007, 02:53 PM

> QUOTE(Harold T @ Jan 27 2007, 12:55 PM) ☐
>
> Boy are we in for a treat!<<
> Let me ask you. When was the last time you went to 3ABN? When was the last time you talked to anyone there, personally? I have been a volunteer at 3ABN for almost eleven years. I know all the people you are talking about. I also know that you don't. That is obvious from your statements. I know Danny well. He knows me. I know Millie and Hal. They know me. My wife and I have had dinner with them more than once. If you REALLY want to know what is going on at 3ABN, I suggest you go there. Talk to the people who work there. Get acquainted. You might be in for a surprise. Ask ANYone there if they know Harold.

Welcome Harold. Knowing that you have been volunteering at 3abn (something I often wished I could do) for almost 11 years you will bring a valuable perspective to this forum! Has this been full time volunteering or, like many retirees, periods of time between travels, etc?

As others have suggested, it would be good to get some background here. I will let you know that the member, husbandoftheyear (or HOTY as we like to call him) that your above response it directed to is an actual employee of 3abn so he does know the folks he is talking about.

Contrary to what some may have suggested to you, this forum is not a smear or slander idle chat place. We are about bringing truth forward, providing comfort and open arms to injured lambs and and honoring our Father in Heaven. We are all individuals, some who get quite fiesty at times, but have the same goal.

So, HaroldT, welcome and now let's all get to know each other!

> QUOTE(awesumtenor @ Jan 27 2007, 01:24 PM) ☐
>
> Must be the vanguard for the next wave...
>
> In His service,
> Mr. J

Mr. J, let's not be too hasty. Let's give HaroldT the benefit of the doubt while we get to know each other.

Posted by: wwjd Jan 27 2007, 02:56 PM

> QUOTE(Treniece @ Jan 27 2007, 11:38 AM) ☐
>
> Are you sure of that. If he goes to the store and buy it, then that is a very poor witness.

No he is not sure of that...Notice...he didn't say he saw him do it..he was answering "he went to the store and bought it" in his sarcastic way. Treneice, I have heard Hal's testimony. He is very open that he used to have a drinking problem but by the grace of God he is an overcomer. I say praise God to that and can't believe that hoty is getting down low enough to call anyone a drunk.

Posted by: wwjd Jan 27 2007, 03:10 PM

> QUOTE(Harold T @ Jan 27 2007, 01:55 PM)
>
> Boy are we in for a treat!<<
> Let me ask you. When was the last time you went to 3ABN? When was the last time you talked to anyone there, personally? I have been a volunteer at 3ABN for almost eleven years. I know all the people you are talking about. I also know that you don't. That is obvious from your statements. I know Danny well. He knows me. I know Millie and Hal. They know me. My wife and I have had dinner with them more than once. If you REALLY want to know what is going on at 3ABN, I suggest you go there. Talk to the people who work there. Get acquainted. You might be in for a surprise. Ask ANYone there if they know Harold.

Harold, You say you have volunteered at 3ABN for 11 years and are personally aquainted with the people being attacked on this forum. I read that already, they have told you to read the threads of this forum to find out truth. They actually think that what has been posted here should supersede your own first hand experience. Their philosphy is believe what they write not what you see and experience for yourself.
As you read the attacks that have been made you will draw your own conclusions if this really is a place for the "hurting and broken."

Thank you for being here welc

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 27 2007, 03:58 PM

> QUOTE(Harold T @ Jan 27 2007, 02:55 PM)
>
> Boy are we in for a treat!<<
> Let me ask you. When was the last time you went to 3ABN? When was the last time you talked to anyone there, personally? I have been a volunteer at 3ABN for almost eleven years. I know all the people you are talking about. I also know that you don't. That is obvious from your statements. I know Danny well. He knows me. I know Millie and Hal. They know me. My wife and I have had dinner with them more than once. If you REALLY want to know what is going on at 3ABN, I suggest you go there. Talk to the people who work there. Get acquainted. You might be in for a surprise. Ask ANYone there if they know Harold.

Harold, you obviously have not read the posts very well. I have been an employee at 3ABN for many years and knew of Hal, Mollie, Dan, & Linda before 3ABN. Perhaps it is you who would be "in for a surprise" to know what lies beneath the exteriors. Being at the station does not necessarily give you any more information than the rest of the population. I'm sorry that you may find out that things are not what they seem.

BTW welc

> QUOTE(wwjd @ Jan 27 2007, 04:10 PM) ☐
>
> Harold, You say you have volunteered at 3ABN for 11 years and are personally aquainted with the people being attacked on this forum. I read that already, they have told you to read the threads of this forum to find out truth. They actually think that what has been posted here should supersede your own first hand experience. Their philosphy is believe what they write not what you see and experience for yourself.
> As you read the attacks that have been made you will draw your own conclusions if this really is a place for the "hurting and broken."
>
> Thank you for being here ☒ welc

"First hand" experience is is really an obscure term in this sense. Do you think that everyone at 3ABN has seen Hal during one of his episodes? There are a hundred people passing through that station everyday, and almost everyone of our volunteers work in the call center, which is away from the administration building altogether. What would you expect people to find out there anyway? Do you think that Hal is going to offer Harold a drink?

(BTW, the last episode of Hal's was not "years" ago, it was in 2006...not that long ago.)

Posted by: Treniece Jan 27 2007, 04:35 PM

So Husband of the year, I quess you have all the scoop on most things that went on at 3abn.

Posted by: Bystander Jan 27 2007, 04:49 PM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 27 2007, 02:58 PM) ☐
>
> Harold, you obviously have not read the posts very well. I have been an employee at 3ABN for many years and knew of Hal, Mollie, Dan, & Linda before 3ABN. Perhaps it is you who would be "in for a surprise" to know what lies beneath the exteriors. Being at the station does not necessarily give you any more information than the rest of the population. I'm sorry that you may find out that things are not what they seem.
>
> BTW ☒ welc
>
> "First hand" experience is is really an obscure term in this sense. Do you think that everyone at 3ABN has seen Hal during one of his episodes? There are a hundred people passing through that station everyday, and almost everyone of our volunteers work in the call center, which is away from the administration building altogether. What would you expect people to find out there anyway? Do you think that Hal is going to offer Harold a drink?
> No and on the other hand has he offered you one?
> (BTW, the last episode of Hal's was not "years" ago, it was in 2006...not that long ago.)

Recovery sometimes includes "falling off the wagon." The important thing is ask forgiveness, pick yourself up and head down the "sober road" again. I am glad he had the courage to do that.
Hoty how many times have you given in to a temptation only to be sorry get forgiveness and head down the straight and narrow once again. Would you like your sins and failures to be posted here on the web for everyone to see?

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 27 2007, 04:53 PM

> QUOTE(Treniece @ Jan 27 2007, 05:35 PM) ☐
>
> So Husband of the year, I quess you have all the scoop on most things that went on at 3abn.

Not really. But, I saw some things and heard some things during my time. There are others who have a whole book of info more than me.

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Jan 27 2007, 05:49 PM) ☐
>
> Recovery sometimes includes "falling off the wagon." The important thing is ask forgiveness, pick yourself up and head down the "sober road" again. I am glad he had the courage to do that.
> Hoty how many times have you given in to a temptation only to be sorry get forgiveness and head down the straight and narrow once again. Would you like your sins and failures to be posted here on the web for everyone to see?

I agree with you, Bystander, it is not for anyone's sins to be exploited.

It is rather unpleasant for me to think of how a ministry would be run by someone who cannot keep certain problems under control though, and I belive that the thread was about the question of control over the ministry.

Posted by: Bystander Jan 27 2007, 04:58 PM

> QUOTE(Treniece @ Jan 27 2007, 03:35 PM) ☐
>
> So Husband of the year, I quess you have all the scoop on most things that went on at 3abn.

He has not witnesses anything of relevance like I am sure you are referring to. Somewhere along the lines of his career at 3abn he has felt that he hasn't been given a fair shake, or his valuable input has been ignored, or he has taken a "dressing down" from someone in administration (maybe more than once) or maybe he has not moved up in the ranks like he felt he should.
Every business/organization has these kinds of employees, disgruntled, unhappy, maybe fired for something and this forum has given those people a place to come to get a little "revenge" so to speak. To say things that they didn't have the courage to say to the higher ups when they were there...or in the case of hoty, doesn't have the courage while he is still there.
This kind of thing is very common, happens all the time.

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 27 2007, 05:10 PM

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Jan 27 2007, 05:58 PM)
>
> He has not witnesses anything of relevance like I am sure you are referring to. Somewhere along the lines of his career at 3abn he has felt that he hasn't been given a fair shake, or his valuable input has been ignored, or he has taken a "dressing down" from someone in administration (maybe more than once) or maybe he has not moved up in the ranks like he felt he should.
> Every business/organization has these kinds of employees, disgruntled, unhappy, maybe fired for something and this forum has given those people a place to come to get a little "revenge" so to speak. To say things that they didn't have the courage to say to the higher ups when they were there...or in the case of hoty, doesn't have the courage while he is still there.
> This kind of thing is very common, happens all the time.

I bet you are on your hands and knees praying that I'll answer these questions! Let me reword your statement.

Is HOTY in lower or upper management?
Has HOTY ever been suspended, fired, or in an uproar over any event?
Has HOTY ever had an argument with administration?
HOTY must be a disgruntled employee, so what he says is out of revenge...don't believe him!

Keep on going, maybe I'll fall for it next time!

rofl

Posted by: Hawk Jan 27 2007, 05:25 PM

HOTY

They avoid addressing issues except though ad hominem attacks.

Bystander is an accurate reflection of 3ABN and the Sheltons. Hurt broken people, threaten people who try to help broken people and get preachy and take on holy airs about their superiority and other people's inferiority and irrelevance just like Bystander just did to you.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 27 2007, 06:10 PM

> QUOTE(Hawk @ Jan 27 2007, 04:25 PM)

> HOTY
>
> They avoid addressing issues except though ad hominem attacks.
>
> Bystander is an accurate reflection of 3ABN and the Sheltons. Hurt broken people, threaten people who try to help broken people and get preachy and take on holy airs about their superiority and other people's inferiority and irrelevance just like Bystander just did to you.

Hawk, your vision is truly 20-20!

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 27 2007, 07:13 PM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 27 2007, 03:10 PM)
>
> I bet you are on your hands and knees praying that I'll answer these questions! Let me reword your statement.
>
> Is HOTY in lower or upper management?
> Has HOTY ever been suspended, fired, or in an uproar over any event?
> Has HOTY ever had an argument with administration?
> HOTY must be a disgruntled employee, so what he says is out of revenge...don't believe him!
> Keep on going, maybe I'll fall for it next time!
>
> rofl

I'm very proud of you HOTY!! You are a very wise man! Wonder what their next plan is? Keep um' guessing!!! And don't worry, there are far too many corroborated stories, so we already know that all of you (current and former) employees have no axe to grind, only a conscience and respect for honesty and truth! Stand up and be counted! The number is growing (and no, it's NOT the devil just simply attacking the ministry) and we are all proud of you!
Remember,
"Truth invites examination and needs no defense,
Lies hide in darkness and blame EVERYONE else"

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 27 2007, 07:32 PM

I know this is off topic, but as I got to thinking about former volunteers and employees, does anyone know how Mom Ford is?

Posted by: Johann Jan 29 2007, 05:20 AM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 28 2007, 03:32 AM)
>
> I know this is off topic, but as I got to thinking about former volunteers and employees, does anyone know how Mom Ford is?

Quite a while back I suggested that this might all be Mom Ford's fault because she had told Danny how she disliked some of the songs Linda was singing. I had merely mention this - more or less in fun - to a good friend of one of Mom Ford's relatives. Well, shortly after that Mom Ford packed her suitcase and left her gorgeous mansion to Pastor John Lomacang.

Mom Ford is a great woman, and she dedicated her strength at her high age to opening up all the envelopes as they arrived from the post office. She sat there by her small table doing her work meticulously. Sister gives a remarkable account of how the money flowed through her hands into the coffers.

This Mom Ford received us sinners and saints with a hearty welcome to her castle. I enjoyed visiting with her, and also enjoying the beauty of nature and view of the lake. I hope someone has a good report of how she is doing now back in California.

Posted by: Harold T Jan 29 2007, 07:00 AM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 27 2007, 03:58 PM)
>
> Harold, you obviously have not read the posts very well. I have been an employee at 3ABN for many years and knew of Hal, Mollie, Dan, & Linda before 3ABN. Perhaps it is you who would be "in for a surprise" to know what lies beneath the exteriors. Being at the station does not necessarily give you any more information than the rest of the population. I'm sorry that you may find out that things are not what they seem.
>
> BTW ☒ welc
>
> "First hand" experience is is really an obscure term in this sense. Do you think that everyone at 3ABN has seen Hal during one of his episodes? There are a hundred people passing through that station everyday, and almost everyone of our volunteers work in the call center, which is away from the administration building altogether. What would you expect people to find out there anyway? Do you think that Hal is going to offer Harold a drink?
>
> (BTW, the last episode of Hal's was not "years" ago, it was in 2006...not that long ago.)

You may have been an employee at 3ABN, but why hide your identity? My name is Harold. Ask anyone there if they know a volunteer that has been there over ten years named 'Harold'. If you have been there that long, I am sure you know me and I know you. Now.
Let me ask you. What is the purpose of 3ABN? Is that purpose being fulfilled? Is there any way you could NOT notice that the programming is better now than it has been in years? Don't you watch it enough to know that donations are the highest they have ever been? I have read enough of these posts to see that someone has an ax to grind and chose to do it here.

Harold.

Posted by: Chez Jan 29 2007, 07:16 AM

> QUOTE(Harold T @ Jan 29 2007, 07:00 AM)
>
> You may have been an employee at 3ABN, but why hide your identity? My name is Harold. Ask anyone there if they know a volunteer that has been there over ten years named 'Harold'. If you have been there that long, I am sure you know me and I know you. Now.
> Let me ask you. What is the purpose of 3ABN? Is that purpose being fulfilled? Is there any way you could NOT notice that the programming is better now than it has been in years? Don't you watch it enough to know that donations are the highest they have ever been? I have read enough of these posts to see that someone has an ax to grind and chose to do it here.
> Harold.

Welcome Harold T! Do you volunteer in the accounting department at 3ABN?

Posted by: Clay Jan 29 2007, 09:21 AM

> QUOTE(Harold T @ Jan 29 2007, 07:00 AM)
>
> You may have been an employee at 3ABN, but why hide your identity? My name is Harold. Ask anyone there if they know a volunteer that has been there over ten years named 'Harold'. If you have been there that long, I am sure you know me and I know you. Now.
> Let me ask you. What is the purpose of 3ABN? Is that purpose being fulfilled? Is there any way you could NOT notice that the programming is better now than it has been in years? Don't you watch it enough to know that donations are the highest they have ever been? I have read enough of these posts to see that someone has an ax to grind and chose to do it here.
> Harold.

he can hide his identity because he chooses too.... Programming better? based on what objective criteria? high donations simply mean that someone is good at raising money. It does not mean that what is going on is correct or sanctioned by God... You have not read nearly enough.....

Posted by: Johann Jan 29 2007, 11:24 AM

> QUOTE(Harold T @ Jan 29 2007, 03:00 PM)
>
> \- - -
> Is there any way you could NOT notice that the programming is better now than it has been in years? Don't you watch it enough to know that donations are the highest they have ever been? I have read enough of these posts to see that someone has an ax to grind and chose to do it here.
> Harold.

Harold, you may have seen me while I was there at 3ABN. Was it you who drove us to the airport once?

The other day I met some members of a 3ABN fan/support group. They lamented that 3ABN now is a dim shaddow of what it was three years ago. And I have met several others saying the same. So it depends on what you are looking for.

I can merely speak for myself, Harold. I have no ax to grind. It did not hurt me that Danny fired me because I refused to cover his track with a lie, because I have served my Lord as a pastor in His Church for half a century. What really hurts me is when I discovered that this valuable tool which could be such a great blessing is led by the greatest liar I have met in my 50+ years of ministry. And that he divorced his wife of almost 20 years based on false testimony. Such actions cannot be blessed by the Lord. Responsible people must be accountable or leave the work they are doing.

You may have been fed by several stories of what Linda did, but have you checked if they are true? I still have not heard one on this issue from 3ABN that's true, and I have been in a position to check them and see if they are true.

The trouble is that so many people see only what is presented on 3ABN, or they read the messages that 3ABN has published and sent out. These people believe Danny is telling the truth - and this is making a great problem for the Seventh-day Adventist Church. If the leadership does something to Danny too many will believe he is being persecuted and loose confidence in our Church.

I know that some of these leaders feel the best thing that can be done is that those of us who have been eye witnesses and know the truth about this matter, that we keep witnessing and letting people know what is the truth through these media. You may feel that some of us are getting too eager?

What do you do when people are not willing to listen but prefer following cunning fables?

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 29 2007, 07:40 PM

> QUOTE(Harold T @ Jan 29 2007, 08:00 AM) ☐
>
> You may have been an employee at 3ABN, but why hide your identity? My name is Harold. Ask anyone there if they know a volunteer that has been there over ten years named 'Harold'. If you have been there that long, I am sure you know me and I know you. Now.
>
> I cannot reveal my identity to you or anyone else while I am still employed there. And, yes, you know me and I know you. Now to your questions...
>
> Let me ask you. What is the purpose of 3ABN?
>
> The purpose of 3ABN is to help spread the gospel into all the world.
>
> Is that purpose being fulfilled?
>
> Yes, 3ABN is broadcast to almost anywhere.
>
> Is there any way you could NOT notice that the programming is better now than it has been in years?
>
> I do not believe the programming is better. In trying to make it better, it has simply gotten more expensive to produce, so reruns are showing more than ever before.
>
> Don't you watch it enough to know that donations are the highest they have ever been?

> I watch it and have never seen the accounting reports on air. Dan does SAY that the donations are up...
>
> I have read enough of these posts to see that someone has an ax to grind and chose to do it here. Harold.
>
> Quite frankly, Harold, you will believe what you wish, or what you've been told. Please feel free to read all of my posts. If you do, you will see that I have posted multiple times that I love 3ABN and the work that it is doing. It is the corrupt administration that I would like to see removed. I know that in what you've seen, it would seem impossible to think that what is said on here is true. I came on BSDA to see if anything on here matched what I knew and was completely shocked to find out that there was even more going on! If you do your own research you may come to the same conclusions.
>
> I wonder how you would be treated if you stopped paying the bills?

Posted by: erik Jan 29 2007, 07:51 PM

hoty,

I really like you phrase about truth.

erik

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 29 2007, 07:54 PM

> QUOTE(erik @ Jan 29 2007, 05:51 PM)
>
> hoty,
>
> I really like you phrase about truth.
>
> erik

I agree!!! HOTY is one special dude around here!! We are blessed to have him!!

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 29 2007, 08:02 PM

> QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jan 29 2007, 08:54 PM)
>
> I agree!!! HOTY is one special dude around here!! We are blessed to have him!!

Ah shucks. You're makin me blush...

Posted by: watchbird Jan 29 2007, 08:05 PM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 29 2007, 09:02 PM)
>
> Ah shucks. You're makin me blush...

Hmmph.... that don't look like no "blush" to me!!!! ☒

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 29 2007, 08:50 PM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jan 29 2007, 09:05 PM)
>
> Hmmph.... that don't look like no "blush" to me!!!! ☒

Should'a said

"Yep, I da man!"

☒ y ☒ cut ☒ that

Powered by Invision Power Board (http://www.invisionboard.com)
© Invision Power Services (http://www.invisionpower.com)

109

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ Danny's Obsession

Posted by: TBONE Oct 30 2006, 11:04 PM

Have you noticed that Danny is bringing up The Doctor each time he has a guest on?

One night it was when the Nelson's were on and they were talking about their Ministry Hope for Survivors, in which they help people that have been abused by Pastors and Danny said even Doctors.

Also tonight when Pastor Woosley was on the Pastor was talking about Sin. Danny said yes even sin over the phone.

I wonder if he isn't over Linda yet, or he is trying to say something else.

Posted by: watchbird Oct 31 2006, 09:47 AM

> QUOTE(TBONE @ Oct 31 2006, 12:04 AM)
>
> Have you noticed that Danny is bringing up The Doctor each time he has a guest on?
>
> One night it was when the Nelson's were on and they were talking about their Ministry Hope for Survivors, in which they help people that have been abused by Pastors and Danny said even Doctors.
>
> Also tonight when Pastor Woosley was on the Pastor was talking about Sin. Danny said yes even sin over the phone.
>
> I wonder if he isn't over Linda yet, or he is trying to say something else.

Two things come to mind on this......

1) The topic has served him well as a "red herring" to keep people focused on that rather than on whatever it is that he doesn't want any one finding out about.

2) Obsessions typically rise out of guilt feelings that one isn't handling in better ways. Too bad he doesn't understand about confession and forgiveness as a way to handle sin rather than attempting to keep it hidden. If he would confess, repent, and make restitution for his own sins, he wouldn't have to keep pointing to others in an effort to direct attention away from himself.

So sad.

Posted by: Chez Oct 31 2006, 03:33 PM

> QUOTE(TBONE @ Oct 31 2006, 12:04 AM)

> Have you noticed that Danny is bringing up The Doctor each time he has a guest on?
>
> One night it was when the Nelson's were on and they were talking about their Ministry Hope for Survivors, in which they help people that have been abused by Pastors and Danny said even Doctors.
>
> Also tonight when Pastor Woosley was on the Pastor was talking about Sin. Danny said yes even sin over the phone.
>
> I wonder if he isn't over Linda yet, or he is trying to say something else.

Maybe, he unwittingly is talking about himself and/or his brother(s).

Posted by: Eddy Oct 31 2006, 05:23 PM

Who is The Doctor? And what does that have to do with Linda? And why would he not be over Linda? Didn't he dump her????

Posted by: watchbird Oct 31 2006, 05:36 PM

> QUOTE(Eddy @ Oct 31 2006, 06:23 PM)
>
> Who is The Doctor? And what does that have to do with Linda? And why would he not be over Linda? Didn't he dump her????

Dr. Arild Abrahamsen, whom Danny accused of "stealing his wife". Read the pinned letters at the top. All of them mention him, and one of them is written by him.

Sure, he dumped her. But for his conservative image, he has to make believe that it was her that ran off from him. How else could he have the "right to remarry"?

se ...... (psst.... don't expect anything to "make sense"..... the "brain protection" line to use is "truth is stranger than fiction".)

Posted by: princessdi Oct 31 2006, 09:33 PM

Ok so if I were Brandy right about now, I would be telling Danny's tired tail, "Enough is enough!". He just would not still be talking about Linda err'time he opened his mouth!

Ok, Sorry, this is BSDA, I just had to let it go. Now, Back to our regularly scheduled programming.

Posted by: Treniece Jan 20 2007, 10:58 AM

Yes, I wonder, How is Brandy handling all the rumours or is she even aware of them.

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 20 2007, 11:52 AM

> QUOTE(Treniece @ Jan 20 2007, 11:58 AM)
>
> Yes, I wonder, How is Brandy handling all the rumours or is she even aware of them.

She's been MIA from the production center for months.

Posted by: Fran Jan 20 2007, 01:58 PM

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Oct 31 2006, 09:33 PM)
>
> Ok so if I were Brandy right about now, I would be telling Danny's tired tail, "Enough is enough!". He just would not still be talking about Linda err'time he opened his mouth!

Danny is obsessed with the idea he has to completely destroy Linda. Until he does, he will have been deprived of his greatest entitlement! He feels he is entitled to get rid of Linda, once and for all!He is not motivated by love. It is pure hatred. It appears that the board and some of the staff have no qualms about backing him up.

The problem is, it is not working. We are in his way. He feels he is entitled to his actions and the money. He thinks we have a lot of nerve to question his entitlements!

I also feel that Tommy might even say that God put those boys right there just for him! Otherwise, why would they have been there? He was entitles to molest them. God gave his that right!

They both believe God has given them these entitlements. What do you call that? A God tranfferance?

What on earth could be wrong with us for questioning their God given entitlements! They think we are the evil one! May God help them. God may be the only one who can open their eyes to what is real and what is not real. Even if they are sent to jail for taking what they were entitled to, (Money, sex, destruction of people) they may still think we are of the devil and that they are being persecuted for Christ's sake!

This mess is really sicko.

Posted by: roxe Jan 20 2007, 02:26 PM

> QUOTE(Fran @ Jan 20 2007, 12:58 PM)

> This mess is really sicko.

me thinks this the understatement of the year

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 20 2007, 05:42 PM

> QUOTE(TBONE @ Oct 30 2006, 10:04 PM)
>
> Have you noticed that Danny is bringing up The Doctor each time he has a guest on?
>
> One night it was when the Nelson's were on and they were talking about their Ministry Hope for Survivors, in which they help people that have been abused by Pastors and Danny said even Doctors.
>
> Also tonight when Pastor Woosley was on the Pastor was talking about Sin. Danny said yes even sin over the phone.
>
> I wonder if he isn't over Linda yet, or he is trying to say something else.

Welcome to BSDA TBONE!

I saw the program you are referring to. What a touching testimony that young couple have! It is a confirmation of their strength in the Lord that took them through Samantha's experience of pastoral abuse and made their relationship stronger instead of breaking them apart! Not only were they able to move past this experience but they also developed the wonderful ministry to help others who have been abused in similar ways and to educate church and conference officials to this potentially devastating behavior by pastors.

When Danny mentioned that the abuse of power is not confined only to pastors but to Christian doctors as well, I gained even more respect and admiration for Steve Nelson for realizing that Samantha was a victim and not a sinful adultress or even a spiritual adultress. He helped with her healing rather than casting her away. Too bad Danny didn't practice the same behavior as Steve.

Posted by: Treniece Jan 27 2007, 12:20 PM

Maybe he was annoyed at Linda even before this experience with the Doctor, so when evidence surfaced that she may have been guilty of adultry, he was more than ready to divorce her.

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 27 2007, 12:32 PM

> QUOTE(Treniece @ Jan 27 2007, 10:20 AM)
>
> Maybe he was annoyed at Linda even before this experience with the Doctor, so when evidence surfaced that she may have been guilty of adultry, he was more than ready to divorce her.

What you have suggested is true. I think at some point that will come out as well. There are signs of that out already as people remember how he would make "in fun" jabs at her on TV, and at other times they weren't really covered under the "in fun" way. Just like saying the other day to Tommy (at his farewell performance) how there has never been so much done in production as in the past 2.5 years (a true jab at Linda), which I have to say, I did appreciate Tommy's discomfort in that statement and was quick to bring attention to the CREW that did so much work, that it was a team idea. Danny didn't have to say that, he knew just what he was really trying to say. Very rude and mean.

Posted by: inga Jan 27 2007, 07:13 PM

> QUOTE(Treniece @ Jan 27 2007, 01:20 PM)
>
> Maybe he was annoyed at Linda even before this experience with the Doctor, so when evidence surfaced that she may have been guilty of adultry, he was more than ready to divorce her.

Hey, Trenice, I believe you are "spot on," except that there was no real evidence (or we would certainly know it) -- only the possibility that Linda may have become emotionally involved.

It appears that Danny was looking for a reason to get rid of Linda! So he used the flimsiest of excuses to divorce her and to fire her from the ministry for whose founding and growth she was at least equally responsible.

> QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jan 27 2007, 01:32 PM)
>
> There are signs of that out already as people remember how he would make "in fun" jabs at her on TV, and at other times they weren't really covered under the "in fun" way.

I remember this from at least a year before the divorce, or longer ago. At the time my husband was saying, "There's trouble in that marriage." And he suggested that something was bound to "break."

The jabs were frequent, and Linda would just sort of smile but say nothing in return. I mean, what could she say in front of world-wide audience? It was a similar ploy on Danny's part as when a toddler screams and misbehave in a store, knowing Mommy won't punish him there because of all the people around. Danny made it appear like a "joke," but he subtly demeaned her in front of millions, knowing she could do nothing about it.

Of course, that made some of us wonder what went on off-camera!

Posted by: Snoopy Jan 27 2007, 08:05 PM

> QUOTE(inga @ Jan 27 2007, 07:13 PM)
>
> The jabs were frequent, and Linda would just sort of smile but say nothing in return. I mean, what could she say in front of world-wide audience? It was a similar ploy on Danny's part as when a toddler screams and misbehave in a store, knowing Mommy won't punish him there because of all the people around. Danny made it appear like a "joke," but he subtly demeaned her in front of millions, knowing she could do nothing about it.

By any chance are those videos available? As a newbie in search of my own evidence and not a regular viewer, I would certainly like to see those clips...

Posted by: franklyamazed Jan 27 2007, 10:00 PM

I was present at a 3ABN rally where Danny was verbally jabbing at Linda, and she did just sit there and smile. Now, assuming that she is innocent, I have a suggestion for a remedy.

Somehow she needs to sue Danny and 3ABN for libel and defamation. My dream remedy is that 3ABN is required to provide equal time to Linda on 3ABN to answer each defamatory statement that has been made in the past, and any that are made in the future. Further, her responses would be broadcast at the same time slot as each of the statements that have been broadcast against her. To me, that seems fair, if insufficient. It does not fix the pain, embarrasment or other damage that has resulted.

Somehow, I don't think 3ABN would want to do this, but we do have a precedent. In the months leading up to the 1888 General Conference, GC leaders were taking jabs at Elders Jones and Waggoner in the church media of the day. EGW told them that they had to give Jones and Waggoner time to respond and present their position, not that she even knew if she agreed with them at that point. Due to her pressure, they did get the opportunity to present their ideas, and after hearing them, she agreed and endorsed their ideas. Sure wish she was around right now.

I've read most everything about 3ABN here and at Maritime, and I am...

frankly amazed

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 27 2007, 10:14 PM

QUOTE(franklyamazed @ Jan 27 2007, 08:00 PM)

> I was present at a 3ABN rally where Danny was verbally jabbing at Linda, and she did just sit there and smile. Now, assuming that she is innocent, I have a suggestion for a remedy.
>
> Somehow she needs to sue Danny and 3ABN for libel and defamation. My dream remedy is that 3ABN is required to provide equal time to Linda on 3ABN to answer each defamatory statement that has been made in the past, and any that are made in the future. Further, her responses would be broadcast at the same time slot as each of the statements that have been broadcast against her. To me, that seems fair, if insufficient. It does not fix the pain, embarrasment or other damage that has resulted.
>
> Somehow, I don't think 3ABN would want to do this, but we do have a precedent. In the months leading up to the 1888 General Conference, GC leaders were taking jabs at Elders Jones and Waggoner in the church media of the day. EGW told them that they had to give Jones and Waggoner time to respond and present their position, not that she even knew if she agreed with them at that point. Due to her pressure, they did get the opportunity to present their ideas, and after hearing them, she agreed and endorsed their ideas. Sure wish she was around right now.
>
> I've read most everything about 3ABN here and at Maritime, and I am...
>
> frankly amazed

welc welcome.gif Frank!! (can I call you that, or should I stick to your whole name as it really speaks for all of us in some way!)

Thank you for your post. What a wonderful thing to keep in mind! I would love for EGWhite to be here now - I think Danny would be in some DEEEEEP WEEEEEDS!! And "frankly", I think he wouldn't have gotten away with most of what he has, because she would have seen to it he was accountable to the stockholders in the pews (to coin a super phrase) who have given so much of their money, support and trust to that "ministry" that is suppose to be mending broken people, not breaking mended people!! Very good points here!!! And you never know....Linda might just get that oppertunity!

Posted by: inga Jan 27 2007, 10:55 PM

> QUOTE(Snoopy @ Jan 27 2007, 09:05 PM)
>
> By any chance are those videos available? As a newbie in search of my own evidence and not a regular viewer, I would certainly like to see those clips...

I don't know about specific clips. It just seemed to be par for the course in the series where Linda & Dan were holding hands while interviewing representatives of various ministries. I'm having a senior moment and don't remember what it was called then. Since it was largely Linda's project, it was immediately renamed "3ABN Today" when Linda was fired -- as part of the purging process.

Dan still does the same thing now on 3ABN Today, occasionally insinuating about his "former wife" or "doctors" and improprieties "even over the phone," that sort of thing. It's relatively subtle if one isn't tuned in. One would have to be watching for it to pick it up -- except that we weren't watching for it initially. My husband first picked it up, as I suspect trained counselors would as well. Public "joking" that denigrates one's partner is usually a sign of trouble in a marriage. As soon as he mentioned it, I could see it too, because I had had momentary discomfort over the remarks but hadn't taken special note of them.

Posted by: ex3ABNemployee Jan 27 2007, 10:59 PM

> QUOTE(inga @ Jan 27 2007, 10:55 PM)
>
> I don't know about specific clips. It just seemed to be par for the course in the series where Linda & Dan were holding hands while interviewing representatives of various ministries. I'm having a senior moment and don't remember what it was called then. Since it was largely Linda's project, it was immediately renamed "3ABN Today" when Linda was fired -- as part of the purging process.

The program used to be called "3ABN Presents." Danny probably got the new name from "TCT Today", a program on a Christian TV network out of Marion, Illinois.

(The last sentence is an inside joke. You have to have been employed at 3ABN to know how funny it actually is.)

Posted by: Observer Jan 28 2007, 05:42 AM

> QUOTE(TBONE @ Oct 30 2006, 10:04 PM) ☐
>
> Have you noticed that Danny is bringing up The Doctor each time he has a guest on?
>
> One night it was when the Nelson's were on and they were talking about their Ministry Hope for Survivors, in which they help people that have been abused by Pastors and Danny said even Doctors.
>
> Also tonight when Pastor Woosley was on the Pastor was talking about Sin. Danny said yes even sin over the phone.
>
> I wonder if he isn't over Linda yet, or he is trying to say something else.

Yes, I have watched programs where Danny took shots at either Linda or Dr. A. But, we need to be careful that we do not over generalise, and lose credibility when we do so.

I watched 3ABN Today yesterday (January 27, 2007). Danny did not once take a shot at either Dr. A., or Linda.

Posted by: Brenda Jan 28 2007, 12:34 PM

> QUOTE(Observer @ Jan 28 2007, 10:42 PM) ☐
>
> Yes, I have watched programs where Danny took shots at either Linda or Dr. A. But, we need to be careful that we do not over generalise, and lose credibility when we do so.
>
> I watched 3ABN Today yesterday (January 27, 2007). Danny did not once take a shot at either Dr. A., or Linda.

I agree with your premise, Gregory, but these posts have probably served as a warning to Mr DS to be careful in what he says (or is that just the cynic in me speaking out?).

Posted by: Observer Jan 28 2007, 02:32 PM

> QUOTE(Brenda @ Jan 28 2007, 11:34 AM) ☐
>
> I agree with your premise, Gregory, but these posts have probably served as a warning to Mr DS to be careful in what he says (or is that just the cynic in me speaking out?).

Why not. 3-ABN people know what we say here.

Posted by: Rosyroi Jan 28 2007, 08:08 PM

> QUOTE(Observer @ Jan 28 2007, 12:32 PM)
>
> Why not. 3-ABN people know what we say here.

I had been wishing Danny would watch what he would be saying on 3ABN even while married to Linda. I felt embarresd for him. (too bad you don't have an embarrassed emoticon... could use one about now)

> QUOTE(Observer @ Jan 28 2007, 12:32 PM)
>
> Why not. 3-ABN people know what we say here.

I had been wishing Danny would watch what he would be saying on 3ABN even while he was married to Linda. I felt embarresd for him. (too bad you don't have a red faced embarrassed emoticon... could use one about now)

Posted by: justme Jan 29 2007, 12:06 PM

What has been widely known but not widely expressed is that Danny knew Brandy years before he decided to replace Linda with her. Brandy's mother brought her to 3ABN from Florida years ago. Danny has helped to arrange housing for Brandy to keep her close at hand.

During those years in Danny's home were Linda, Linda's son Nathan, whom Danny abhorred and ignored, and Linda's daughter, Alyssa, in whom Danny took a huge interest. Nathan sought to relieve his hurts in anyway that consistently worked for him. Unfortunately it took of the form of "chemistry) i.e. medicines, addictive medicines. Danny had no interest in being a father figure to Nathan. Danny repeatedly told Linda "Nathan is your problem to solve, not mine. YOU solve it your own way." In answer to Linda's prayers it was revealed to her that a visiting doctor could probably help Nathan, as the Dr. had done so very well for others. Unfortunately the Dr. was from Norway making it difficult to work with the family in a local venue. It required that Nathan go to Norway to be treated.

Linda went with Nathan to Norway to begin treatment. The Dr. has a reputation in Norway of the very highest compliments, both in his professional work but in his personal life. Married and faithful and true in every way. On one of the trips to Norway Danny sent along "a traveling companion" who was "also involved" with Danny in "after-hours-activities" around town. The report delivered back to Danny was colored to give Danny just what he needed to begin the process of "Getting rid of Linda."

All the time he was resentng Nathan and Linda he was also having "special moments of closeness" with Linda's teen-age daughter, after Linda went to sleep at night. Linda did not learn of this until Alyssa wrote her own letter about it years later.

Linda was delighted that she was able to find someone to whom she could send Nathan for help. Perhaps this would give him a clear head to understand how much God loves him. He did not see God's love while living in Danny's home. As treatment was progressing for Nathan there needed to be updates and communications with Linda and the Dr. about Nathan. It soon becomes apparent what has caused the overwhelming self-destructive nature of Nathan's feelings. Sometimes in treating the patient the doctor treats the family as well. Danny had no interest in any part of it. The telephone calls coming into 3ABN from Nathan's Dr. came to 3ABN by way of the "CALL CENTER", which was/is run and supervised by Mollie (who has worked her way into "General Manager" by present day timing). Did Mollie "eavesdrop" on those private conversations between Nathan's doctor and Linda? If not, then who did the recordings that claim to have been proof of "spiritual adultery". Recording that has only one side of a conversation, reordered without consent of either party speaking on the line. After all, Mollie was doing all she could to earn favor with Danny, while pretending to be a "friend" to Linda.

Some complain that Linda was "cold", "aloof"; "distant" after the "Presents" were recorded for broadcast. She was beginning to see betrayal by "friends: and could not tell "friends from enemies" around 3ABN.

In my home, we, too saw trouble brewing in the set of "Presents". Danny taking jabs at Linda on camera. The intense hold of hands, the strained smiles, stretching the neck in the turtleneck knits. All before he dismissed Linda. He originally introduced Brandy and her two daughters during a Christmas special, as new employees at 3ABN. Brandy's elder daughter is now longer living in the home with Brandy and the younger daughter. The older daughter is living with another relative of Brandy for her own protection. Ask yourself, why did he need another wife, the age of his own daughter, Melody, in addition to Brandy's own, two, even younger, girls.

Unfortunately Danny believe what Mollie and Hal and Shelley tell him; that he is 'The Chosen One', and "The Anointed One", and that he is "The Face Of Adventism". How do you reach someone with that "Still Small Voice" when all around him are shouting heresy? ... With a light from Heaven, like the one that Saul saw before he became Paul. There again it's up to God to choose the time and the place. In the mean time we need to pry that God will do just that. And we need to warn other of the "persecution" and deceptions he delivers, to warn other that there is hidden danger in supporting organizations of deception.

"He built hospitals, he built schools, he built town, he supported the local economy with his purchases and sales, he trained others to work together, for a goal, he paid for travel, he supplied food, he protected those he called his friends, he avoided confrontations, he didn't like to argue, he tried to unite people under his banner, ... some though of him as "The Anointed One", "The Deliverer", "The Savior of his people" and protector of their god. His schools taught terrorism, his hospitals were for his "soldiers" only, and the housing was for his terrorism trainees. The point is, just because there is some good being done, does it make HIM and what he does OK? and should he be allowed to remain in position of leadership?". Currently, he is hiding along the borders of Afghanistan, or in some cave somewhere. Someone had to point out to the masses the REAL purpose of this man's mission, for a god that was not The Creator, but a god of selfishness and self-serving, with promise of "70 rewards out of this world", also with young virgins. (Why are so many leaders obsessed with young virgins/?).

Who said, (paraphrased) "Him who cannot properly lead his own household to God, cannot be called "leader" in God's work"!

The good that is being done by 3ABN pales in comparison to the good that would be done by an organization that is properly administered!

It is time for complete transparency at 3ABN. It won't happen because 3ABN is "owned" by Danny, Melody, Hal and Mollie. Supported by "the share-holders-in-the-pews-of-the-Adventist-churches".

Broadcast to the world, watched by a very few. That's why they didn't earnd a replacement spot on Sky Angel after repairs. 3ABN has such tiny viewership.

ASI will not hear the dispute because they then would have to hear others of it's membership. ASI is an organization of some sincere people ins a sea of self-serving "good-ol'-boys" who will never censure each other, or else it wouls never end. The biggest advantage to being an ASI member is cost savings. Lower prices to and from each other in services and goods. Fortunately, some money does go for good causes. So also, does Ford, GM, Chrysler, Microsoft, .. it doesn't mean that we can trust them any more because of it.

Danny is not the problem.
Brandy is not the problem.
ASI is not the problem.
Osama Bin Laden is not the problem.

Paraphrased to make the point ... "We wrestle not against the rulers on earth, .. but against the Prince of the Power of the "Air"ways, against "SPIRITUAL" wickedness in HIGH PLACES (satellites? no). Wicked imaginings are no replacement for faith in God.

Seek truth ...! "I am the truth, the way, the light". We cannot see without HIS light.
seeeeeeeeee .... ! ?

Posted by: caribbean sda Jan 29 2007, 12:24 PM

Sorry to say...but this whole saga is like a badly-scripted soap opera.

Posted by: fallible humanbeing Jan 29 2007, 01:36 PM

> QUOTE(justme @ Jan 29 2007, 02:06 PM)
>
> ASI will not hear the dispute because they then would have to hear others of it's membership. ASI is an organization of some sincere people ins a sea of self-serving "good-ol'-boys" who will never censure each other, or else it wouls never end. The biggest advantage to being an ASI member is cost savings. Lower prices to and from each other in services and goods. Fortunately, some money does go for good causes. So also, does Ford, GM, Chrysler, Microsoft, .. it doesn't mean that we can trust them any more because of it.

Your quote above seems an attempt to minimize the work done through ASI moneies. From the ASI website:

2006 PROJECTS
Contributions received will fund the 37 projects listed for a total of $1,287,800*. The overflow offering will be divided equally with 50% financing Electronic Books and 50% a Picture Roll / DVD project.*

That is a significant amount of money and should not be minimized; nor should the members of ASI be disparged because one doesn't like the outcome of their role in the effort to address a limited list of issues in an effort to bring some resolution.

The link to see what those projects is:

http://www.asiministries.org/article.php?id=33&PHPSESSID=e82d490b2c93852d04ea1979094d7b74

Top 5 funded projects:

YOUTH FOR JESUS $190,000
The ASI youth evangelism program for 2006 in Dallas began in early spring with the arrival of teams of Bible workers. Many area church members participated as well in prayer walks, knocking on doors, doing religious surveys—all aimed at discovering Bible study interests. Miracles happened—one lady said she was contemplating suicide, but asked God to show her if He loved her by sending someone to the door. That someone was one of the Bible workers. Your offerings will support the youth program which culminates in evangelistic meetings at several sites just prior to convention.

WILDWOOD SANITARIUM $100,000
Wildwood has a number of workers who have put in many years of faithful service and continue to work into their 80s, and even 90s. There are some who require special attention and care to accommodate their physical needs. A facility with eight apartments will be built, along with an apartment for a live-in couple who will provide moral and practical support. There will be space for meal preparation, laundry, visiting and gathering for worship and activities provided for those who want to continue to serve.

THREE ANGELS BROADCASTING NETWORK $100,000
3ABN's potential viewing audience literally doubled in 2004 and 2005. All three networks, 3ABN English, 3ABN Latino and 3ABN Radio are growing at an unprecedented rate. In the very near future a new network will be launched that will reach the inner cities. The construction of the 44,000 sq. ft. Worship Center and studios is completed, providing space for camp meetings, seminars, church services, conferences, and more. This grant will help equip the studios so that sharing Christ-centered services with the world can be even more effective.

MISSIONARY ASSISTANCE PLAN (MAP) $60,000
MAP has helped dozens of missionaries throughout the years. As workers leave the comforts of home for the frontlines of developing countries, they face many challenges—adjusting to a new culture, learning how to communicate the gospel in unfamiliar settings, encountering illnesses and other obstacles. MAP has helped these individuals and families by providing moderate financial assistance while they are in the field and when returning on furlough. The funds will help sustain dozens of overseas workers in the mission field, enabling them to work more effectively as they introduce people to Jesus Christ.

SPRINGS OF LIFE FOUNDATION $60,000
For 15 years this organization in Poland has been reaching people through its printed evangelistic materials. More than 160,000 copies of The Great Controversy and 170,000 copies of Steps to Christ were sold in recent years. Books for children, Signs of the Times and Sabbath School lessons are also being produced. The press has recently been upgraded, improving the quality and the speed of production. Funding will help enlarge the small, inadequate facility housing the ministry.

Posted by: Ralph Jan 29 2007, 01:50 PM

> QUOTE(caribbean sda @ Jan 29 2007, 11:24 AM)
>
> Sorry to say...but this whole saga is like a badly-scripted soap opera.

Maybe closer to Reality TV.

Posted by: Clay Jan 29 2007, 01:55 PM

> QUOTE(fallible humanbeing @ Jan 29 2007, 01:36 PM)
>
> Your quote above seems an attempt to minimize the work done through ASI moneies. From the ASI website:
>
> 2006 PROJECTS
> Contributions received will fund the 37 projects listed for a total of $1,287,800. The overflow offering will be divided equally with 50% financing Electronic Books and 50% a Picture Roll / DVD project.
>
> That is a significant amount of money and should not be minimized; nor should the members of ASI be disparged because one doesn't like the outcome of their role in the effort to address a limited list of issues in an effort to bring some resolution.
>
> The link to see what those projects is:
>
> http://www.asiministries.org/article.php?id=33&PHPSESSID=e82d490b2c93852d04ea1979094d7b74
>
> Top 5 funded projects:
>
> YOUTH FOR JESUS $190,000
> The ASI youth evangelism program for 2006 in Dallas began in early spring with the arrival of teams of Bible workers. Many area church members participated as well in prayer walks, knocking on doors, doing religious surveys—all aimed at discovering Bible study interests. Miracles happened—one lady said she was contemplating suicide, but asked God to show her if He loved her by sending someone to the door. That someone was one of the Bible workers. Your offerings will support the youth program which culminates in evangelistic meetings at several sites just prior to convention. snip........

wondered when you would show your head.... your post appears to be an attempt to distract us from the fact that ASI while doing good could not be the impartial arbiter of the situation at 3abn..... at least you are consistent...... consistent, but tiresome you are.... and let's not forget... distraction by minutiae..... I think you and your crew must have worked for the Bush white house....

Posted by: fallible humanbeing Jan 29 2007, 03:29 PM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jan 29 2007, 03:55 PM)
>
> wondered when you would show your head.... your post appears to be an attempt to distract us from the fact that ASI while doing good could not be the impartial arbiter of the situation at 3abn..... at least you are consistent...... consistent, but tiresome you are.... and let's not forget... distraction by minutiae..... I think you and your crew must have worked for the Bush white > house....

In case it escaped your attention - if you will read the post I responded to Clay, you would find that the issue was raised by someone else, someone who sides with you. So. it is rather simple, I didn't raise the issue, I merely responded to it.

The rest of that post was duplicate material from the archives of 3ABN threads being brought forward for a rehashing - it was addressed sufficiently prior to today. The new part of that post was the comment about ASI. I responded to the new content, leaving the duplicated information alone so as not to clutter this thread with something that has been discussed previously.

And, if my posts are tiresome to you then my only response to that claim would be - just don't read them.

- FHB

Posted by: awesumtenor Jan 29 2007, 03:51 PM

> QUOTE(fallible humanbeing @ Jan 29 2007, 04:29 PM)
>
> And, if my posts are tiresome to you then my only response to that claim would be - just don't read them.
>
> - FHB

There is, actually an even easier fix for your oh so tiresome posts...

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: Clay Jan 29 2007, 05:35 PM

> QUOTE(fallible humanbeing @ Jan 29 2007, 03:29 PM)
>
> In case it escaped your attention - if you will read the post I responded to Clay, you would find that the issue was raised by someone else, someone who sides with you. So. it is rather simple, I didn't raise the issue, I merely responded to it.
>
> The rest of that post was duplicate material from the archives of 3ABN threads being brought forward for a rehashing - it was addressed sufficiently prior to today. The new part of that post was the comment about ASI. I responded to the new content, leaving the duplicated information alone so as not to clutter this thread with something that has been discussed previously.
>
> And, if my posts are tiresome to you then my only response to that claim would be - just don't read them.
>
> - FHB

how about you just not post since its the same tired stuff? peddler in minutiae you are....

Posted by: calvin Jan 29 2007, 05:47 PM

Time out everybody

110

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ Dr. Arild Abrahamsen Speaks Out For Himself And Linda

---

Posted by: Johann Jul 13 2006, 07:12 AM

Arild Abrahamsen has long prayed sanity and truth would prevail, and that Walt Thompson and/or Danny Shelton would come to their senses. So he has kept silent these past two years. Now that Linda is still being persecuted and she is prevented from pursuing the ministry God has called her to do, he feels obliged to reveal his part of the story.

He has written his long letter, and only a few technicalities prevent these from being copied to this thread.

Stay tuned and watch out for his story right here.

Posted by: Johann Jul 13 2006, 01:29 PM

Many have indicated a desire to hear from Dr. Arild Abrahamsen in person.
He has prepared this document, sent it to me, and asked me to post it here for him, with no changes in his wording. I am therefore doing this.
Since it is rather lengthy, we are dividing it into small sections, so as to make it easier for any of you who wish to comment or ask questions on any section to do so. I am not adding any comments to his words other than one line at the top of each segment giving the identifying information as to the author and which section of his document is in that post.

Permission is granted by the author to copy and share this document so long as the document is used in its entirety without interior comments, deletions, or editing, and the author's name, place, and date of writing as well as the url of this BSDA forum on which it is being published are included.

Letter from Dr. Abrahamsen, June 20, 2006, Section One.

Greetings from Norway;

My name is Dr. Arild Abrahamsen. I live in Svindal, Norway. I have been a medical doctor for more than 35 years. I am a member of the Moss SDA Church. I've been the Sabbath School superintendent for 14 years and the head elder for 4 years, which position I am presently serving. I am the Norwegian doctor who has been slandered by Dr. Walt Thompson, chairman of the board of 3ABN, Danny Shelton, John Lomacang and others.

Since I have observed the situation and the slander only getting worse, I feel it best to share my experience. I share my personal experience, what I have seen and heard. Much of this information has been verified by other sources, which include emails, letters and the personal experiences of others. I share my experience not to attack any individual or organization, but to bring the truth of this situation to the surface.

I have been shocked to observe the events of the last two years. I have made no public statement until now. I had hoped things would resolve themselves.

I visited Johann and Irmgard Thorvaldsson at 3ABN the last week of 2003. The purpose of the trip was to see them and visit the ministry, which I personally had been supporting for some time. I had never been to 3ABN previously, nor had I met the Shelton's. During this visit I discovered from the Thorvaldsson's that Linda Shelton's son, Nathan, was in a dangerous state of health because of an addiction to drugs and working in coalmines. I offered to see him. This visit resulted in an invitation for Nathan to come to Norway for treatments. Nathan came to Norway around January 20, 2004 along with his friend, Dava Vice. Linda came for a 3-½ day visit to support her son, the first week of February together with Brenda Walsh. This was the last time I saw Linda until the weekend she was fired.

I had a chance to visit with Nathan regularly. I learned from my conversations with Nathan that the roots of his drug problems were the relationships with his father and stepfather. Specifically he told me that Danny had turned his back on him. I shared this information with his mother on the phone. She told me that Danny said he had no responsibility towards Nathan since he was a product of her first marriage, so she felt she had to do what she could to help her son. There was nothing unusual in the occasional phone reports I gave Nathan's mother while he was in Norway. After Nathan returned home, I asked Linda to keep me updated on Nathan's progress.

To Be Continued

Posted by: Johann Jul 13 2006, 02:00 PM

Letter from Dr. Abrahamsen, June 20, 2006, Section Two

I was shocked to discover in early March of 2004 that Danny was threatening to get Linda fired from 3ABN because of some conversations on the phone. In fact, she was threatened immediately with divorce. By this time Nathan had started with drugs again and Linda was seeking advice. I was also shocked to discover that Brenda had started circulating untrue statements as well. (Was it because Danny had admitted to some emotional involvement with Brenda?) I talked to Danny one time on the phone and found him to be unreasonable, unbalanced and very difficult to communicate with. Johann Thorvaldsson, a retired pastor of the SDA Church of 50 years, also was in communication with Danny, both by phone and email. We talked together and shared the same opinion that Danny was acting completely irrational and unreasonable towards his wife. It appeared he was attempting to leave an email trail filled with untruths to verify a position at a later time. The decision was made to stop the communication by phone with Linda.

Some weeks went by. Johann and Irmgard were getting treatments at my clinic and staying in my home during the Easter week in April, so I discovered from them that the situation was not improving for Linda. She was being harassed, threatened, and unreasonable demands by her husband were repeatedly being made to confess things she had not done. By this time, she was also suspended from her job at 3ABN, an order that was issued and enforced by her husband with no Board action. Things were so bad in the home that she found it necessary to go to her daughter's home in Springfield, Illinois for safety and rest on several occasions. Derrell Mundall, who was traveling often for 3ABN, reports rumors of Linda's so-called "affair" were in SDA churches in April 2004, when Linda was still living with Danny. When he inquired about the source of the rumors, people always pointed to Danny Shelton.

I could see from my 35 years of experience as a physician that Danny was a psychopath. Accusations were directed at me that I had done "mind control" over Linda. (Walt Thompson made the same accusations in his letters.) Linda was accused of sending "secret messages" to me over the television. Danny's emails and communications with Johann were completely crazy, and his reasoning often conflicted with his previous emails. Danny targeted Linda's few inner circle onfidants and slandered her to the point that even they backed away from her at this critical time. (Linda's "friends" did not want to lose their television privileges.) Johann and I concluded this was a man who was determined to get rid of his wife. We also concluded that Linda was in danger.

Things eventually progressed from emotional and mental abuse to physical abuse. In the midst of all this harassment Linda asked Danny, 'Why are you treating me like this?' He answered, 'Because I want you to get out.'

To Be Continued

Posted by: Uncle Sam Jul 14 2006, 02:32 AM

I appreciate you posting this but I have a couple of questions? If nothing happened as Danny says, did Linda and the Dr. ever have a relationship after the fact? Also, what happened to Danny's ex son in law? Why did him and Melody divorce? Was he also fired from 3ABN? Or was he too uncomfortable to work there?

Posted by: Observer Jul 14 2006, 03:23 AM

> QUOTE(Uncle Sam @ Jul 14 2006, 01:32 AM) ☐
>
> I appreciate you posting this but I have a couple of questions? If nothing happened as Danny says, did Linda and the Dr. ever have a relationship after the fact? Also, what happened to Danny's ex son in law? Why did him and Melody divorce? Was he also fired from 3ABN? Or was he too uncomfortable to work there?

This is mighty powerful, first-hand information. Thanks for posting it, Johann.

Linda denies ever having a relationship with Dr. A, of the nature of which she has been accused. As to the other questions regarding Melody, and her ex-husband, Johann knows more about that than I do.

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Jul 14 2006, 07:28 AM

Yes, this is indeed mighty first hand information!

Posted by: calvin Jul 14 2006, 07:55 AM

I believe you have just persuaded me to end much of the skepticism I had and get off the fence. I had been waiting and wanting to hear from the Norwegian doctor that treated Linda's son. It is hard for me to believe that Johann would fabricate this story. This side of the story needs to get out. Daryl, Gregory Matthews, Atoday, you need to point your members here to this story or get Johann's permission publish it at your place.

Johann, thank you for choosing BSDA as the media to get this side of the story out. My heart goes out to anyone who has been wronged and abused. Glad BSDA could help.

Posted by: September Jul 14 2006, 07:55 AM

I'm SO glad the truth is coming out! Keep it coming, Dr. A!

Posted by: Denny Jul 14 2006, 08:00 AM

When the gag is lifted Linda's story will be just as interesting. I have a feeling she may not say anything for the good of the 3ABN ministry but then maybe her friends can persuade her to defend herself and counter the other stories. We have this attitude in our church of not showing our dirty linen and those who dirty the linen get away with it over and over again.
I'm going to show this to the people I know watch 3ABN up to now I haven't said anythng regarding whats being said here.
I doubt it will make any difference most of them are older conservative West Indian Adventists (generally that mind set finds it hard to find anything connected to Adventism to be at fault)

Posted by: watchbird Jul 14 2006, 09:15 AM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Jul 14 2006, 07:55 AM)
>
> I believe you have just persuaded me to end much of the skepticism I had and get off the fence. I had been waiting and wanting to hear from the Norwegian doctor that treated Linda's son. It is hard for me to believe that Johann would fabricate this story. This side of the story needs to get out. Daryl, Gregory Matthews, Atoday, you need to point your members here to this story or get Johann's permission publish it at your place.
>
> Johann, thank you for choosing BSDA as the media to get this side of the story out. My heart goes out to anyone who has been wronged and abused. Glad BSDA could help.

And, speaking for all concerned, thank you BSDA for setting up this convenient place to which all can come to become informed.

As for permissions, do note the statement at the top of segment one, which applies to the whole document, which was cut into segments for ease of on-line readers who might want to respond to a specific point.

I'm sure Arild is pleased to learn that he is helping you "get off the fence". And just think, this is only segment two. There are five more to go.

Stay tuned.

☒ TVsnack

Posted by: Chez Jul 14 2006, 09:32 AM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jul 14 2006, 10:15 AM)
>
> And, speaking for all concerned, thank you BSDA for setting up this convenient place to which all can come to become informed.

> As for permissions, do note the statement at the top of segment one, which applies to the whole document, which was cut into segments for ease of on-line readers who might want to respond to a specific point.
>
> I'm sure Arild is pleased to learn that he is helping you "get off the fence". And just think, this is only segment two. There are five more to go.
>
> Stay tuned.
>
> TVsnack.

PRAISE GOD! PRAISE GOD! Finally, we are hearing Dr. Abrahamsen's voice. I look forward to reading more of the truth. The truth will prevail!

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Jul 14 2006, 09:38 AM

Calvin,

I noticed that Johann also posted the segments of this letter over at Club Adventist with the exact wording and conditions as stated here, however, Johann did post it there without giving a URL to this topic, therefore, I have invited Johann to also post it over at MSDAOL.

And, yes, Calvin, this definitely makes it clear that something really is rotten in the state of Denmark, as Shakespeare would say.

Posted by: Johann Jul 14 2006, 09:56 AM

Letter from Dr. Abrahamsen, June 20, 2006, Section Three.

Considering the urgency of the situation I allowed the conversations to resume. Linda knew, with her high profile status, that confiding with local people regarding these issues would be very bad for the ministry. I had given counsel to people in difficulty in the past and felt I could be helpful from a distance in this situation. I encouraged Linda to fight for her marriage and ministry many times. This she really did, but she often had to leave her home to find refuge at her daughter's apartment in Springfield, even in the middle of the night because of Danny's behavior. At times like these she was afraid of him. She always returned to her home after a couple of days seeking to try to mend the marriage, but Danny would not allow this.

During the spring of 2004 Danny called my pastor in Norway. Danny tried to get me kicked out as an elder and as a member of the church. My pastor told me about the conversation and he said, "He is mentally sick, he needs professional help."

I find it very disturbing that Walt Thompson defended and continues to defend Danny although he was a witness repeatedly to the emotional and mental abuse that was taking place. At one point he witnessed Danny "trashing" his wife for five hours. I also find it disturbing that John Lomacang, Linda's former pastor, claims to have counseled extensively with Danny and Linda when this was far from the truth. During the months of April and May of 2004, when most of the activity was occurring in this situation, Linda NEVER saw John, who was supposed to be her pastor.

Coincidentally the handful of people supporting Danny and defending his actions has gained either power, position, airtime, homes, public endorsement or all of the above.

Stay Tuned for another section - or more

Posted by: simplysaved Jul 14 2006, 10:20 AM

Is it being suggested that Danny Shelton may have bipolar disorder and that this is reason for his choices over the past few years?

Will Dr. Abrahamsen be willing to do an interview here at BSDA related to what is presented in the letter?

The other question that I have related to the letter posted (in segments) is will/has the doctor formally sent the letter to:

1. NAD
2. 3ABN Board of Directors
3. All persons mentioned in the letter

Posted by: calvin Jul 14 2006, 10:24 AM

> QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Jul 14 2006, 10:38 AM)
>
> Calvin,
>
> I noticed that Johann also posted the segments of this letter over at Club Adventist with the exact wording and conditions as stated here, however, Johann did post it there without giving a URL to this topic, therefore, I have invited Johann to also post it over at MSDAOL.
>
> And, yes, Calvin, this definitely makes it clear that something really is rotten in the state of Denmark, as Shakespeare would say.

That is good to hear Daryl. Now have you and CA opened up the letter to everyone to read or still hiding? It is now on the net, if available here, it is available everywhere. Why the privacy?

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Jul 14 2006, 10:31 AM

Calvin,

I have placed the 3ABN topics into a forum that all Seventh-day Adventists can read.

Even though it is very public here, I prefer not to open it to the whole world there.

I also think Club Adventist isn't opening it up for the whole world to read either.

Posted by: Johann Jul 14 2006, 10:32 AM

> QUOTE(Uncle Sam @ Jul 14 2006, 10:32 AM)
>
> I appreciate you posting this but I have a couple of questions? If nothing happened as Danny says, did Linda and the Dr. ever have a relationship after the fact? Also, what happened to Danny's ex > son in law? Why did him and Melody divorce? Was he also fired from 3ABN? Or was he too uncomfortable to work there?

When Linda was fired by 3ABN she suddenly was without any medical insurance. Before the divorce she went to see a physician together with Danny, and he discovered something that had to be taken care of. Since she had no insurance Dr. Arild Abrahamsen offered to give her treatments without any charge. So Linda, and my wife, Irmgard, were often together in his treatment room - and Linda was also present at her funeral in the Adventist Church, Bergen, Norway. On that occasion Linda came forward and expressed her gratitute for Irmgard remaining a friend when all others abandoned her.

As for Danny's ex-son-in-law, there is coming something about him in another section. His story is so sad that he might not feel comfortable if I tell too much. I'll ask him privately how much he will let me give you of his story and encounter with the Shelton family.

Posted by: sister Jul 14 2006, 10:39 AM

> QUOTE(simplysaved @ Jul 14 2006, 11:20 AM) ☐
>
> Is it being suggested that Danny Shelton may have bipolar disorder and that this is reason for his choices over the past few years?
>
> Will Dr. Abrahamsen be willing to do an interview here at BSDA related to what is presented in the letter?
>
> The other question that I have related to the letter posted (in segments) is will/has the doctor formally sent the letter to:
>
> 1. NAD
> 2. 3ABN Board of Directors
> 3. All persons mentioned in the letter

Dr. A has stated, "I could see from my 35 years of experience as a physician that Danny was a psychopath." Bipolar disorder and being a psychopath are two very different conditions.

I would say the following is a better discription of Danny Shelton's condition than biopolar disorder:

"The standard clinical test for psychopathy, Robert Hare's PCL-R, evaluates 20 personality traits overall, but a subset of eight traits defines what he calls the "corporate psychopath" — the nonviolent person prone to the "selfish, callous, and remorseless use of others." What environment is conducive for the attributes of a "corporate psychopath" to combine with those of a "charismatic psychopath"? "Charismatic Psychopaths are charming, attractive liars. They are usually gifted at some talent or another, and they use it to their advantage in manipulating others. They are usually fast-talkers, and possess an almost demonic ability to persuade others out of everything they own, even their lives. Leaders of religious sects or cults, for example, might be psychopaths... often they come to believe in their own fictions. They are irresistible." Unfortunately, independent ministries, without external accountability, can become the ideal environment for this type of individual to prosper.

Posted by: Johann Jul 14 2006, 10:50 AM

> QUOTE(simplysaved @ Jul 14 2006, 06:20 PM)
>
> Is it being suggested that Danny Shelton may have bipolar disorder and that this is reason for his choices over the past few years?
>
> Will Dr. Abrahamsen be willing to do an interview here at BSDA related to what is presented in the letter?
>
> The other question that I have related to the letter posted (in segments) is will/has the doctor formally sent the letter to:
>
> 1. NAD
> 2. 3ABN Board of Directors
> 3. All persons mentioned in the letter

I'm in the process of mailing this to all involved - and anyone else who might be interested. If you can get me the e-mail addresses to all the members of the 3ABN Board of Directors I would be delighted. These have been witheld until now. Wonder why?

If you have friends or foes you'd like to share it with, I'll send you an original copy of the whole letter if you send me your e-mail address to

<johann@direkte.org>

Posted by: watchbird Jul 14 2006, 11:35 AM

> QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Jul 14 2006, 10:31 AM)
>
> Calvin,
>
> I have placed the 3ABN topics into a forum that all Seventh-day Adventists can read.
>
> Even though it is very public here, I prefer not to open it to the whole world there.

Daryl, surely you do not you think that only Adventists watch 3ABN. And if non-Adventists have heard the accusations and have risked their monies thinking they were giving direct to the Lord --- then shouldn't non-Adventists also have an equal opportunity to hear the other side of the stories?

> QUOTE
>
> I also think Club Adventist isn't opening it up for the whole world to read either.

So? Surely you aren't saying that you want your forum to be a carbon copy of Club Adventist.

Maybe you should give this whole thing a little more thought.

Posted by: September Jul 14 2006, 11:48 AM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jul 14 2006, 01:35 PM)
>
> Daryl, surely you do not you think that only Adventists watch 3ABN. And if non-Adventists have heard the accusations and have risked their monies thinking they were giving direct to the Lord --- then shouldn't non-Adventists also have an equal opportunity to hear the other side of the stories? So? Surely you aren't saying that you want your forum to be a carbon copy of Club Adventist.
>
> Maybe you should give this whole thing a little more thought.

I am one of those non-Adventists and I surely appreciate being able to read this and get the truth of this situation since I have long had suspicions. I was a member of CA, but found that I had to pay to read anything pertaining to 3ABN there. Fortunately I was directed here where the forum is open to anyone.

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Jul 14 2006, 11:48 AM

I think it may be appropriate to post something for all to see, but I would prefer that be done in an open environment in a different way than the way it is being done in our various forums.

What I will do is open up a new topic over at MSDAOL and see what the feeling is there about this.

Posted by: calvin Jul 14 2006, 11:50 AM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jul 14 2006, 11:35 AM)
>
> Daryl, surely you do not you think that only Adventists watch 3ABN. And if non-Adventists have heard the accusations and have risked their monies thinking they were giving direct to the Lord --- then shouldn't non-Adventists also have an equal opportunity to hear the other side of the stories? So? Surely you aren't saying that you want your forum to be a carbon copy of Club Adventist.
>
> Maybe you should give this whole thing a little more thought.

They have their reasons. Have to respect their decision to run their boards as they see fit.

Posted by: Clay Jul 14 2006, 12:11 PM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Jul 14 2006, 12:50 PM)

> They have their reasons. Have to respect their decision to run their boards as they see fit.

yep.... even when it doesn't make any sense.... IMO of course...

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jul 14 2006, 12:17 PM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jul 14 2006, 12:35 PM)
>
> And if non-Adventists have heard the accusations and have risked their monies thinking they were giving direct to the Lord --- then shouldn't non-Adventists also have an equal opportunity to hear the other side of the stories? So? Surely you aren't saying that you want your forum to be a carbon copy of Club Adventist.

I agree with Calvin, that it is your decision, Daryl, ultimately. However, I still think there are good people in the Adventist Church who cannot participate in perpetuating a lie.

In addition, non-adventist Christians must also wonder what happened to that Adventist woman with that dog, Fluffy.

I hope they have not walked away, disillusioned, believing absurd things happened that never happened.

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Jul 14 2006, 12:18 PM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Jul 14 2006, 02:50 PM)
>
> They have their reasons. Have to respect their decision to run their boards as they see fit.

We are definitely not a carbon copy of any forum.

And, thank you, Calvin, for your post. That is what makes each of our forums unique.

Posted by: Clay Jul 14 2006, 12:25 PM

> QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Jul 14 2006, 12:18 PM)
>
> We are definitely not a carbon copy of any forum.
>
> And, thank you, Calvin, for your post. That is what makes each of our forums unique.

Uniqueness is overrated......

your forum and CA use the same or similiar software for the board? Your forum and CA choose to hide the info on 3abn so the "public" won't see it... while those two things don't make carbon copies, it is interesting....

Maybe its an adventist thing to hide the flaws and not discuss those issues unless they are glaring... otherwise deny, deny, deny..... just an observation..

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jul 14 2006, 12:45 PM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jul 14 2006, 11:50 AM)
>
> I'm in the process of mailing this to all involved - and anyone else who might be interested. If you can get me the e-mail addresses to all the members of the 3ABN Board of Directors I would be delighted. These have been witheld until now. Wonder why?
>
> If you have friends or foes you'd like to share it with, I'll send you an original copy of the whole letter if you send me your e-mail address to
>
> <johann@direkte.org>

There would be no reason to waste your time on the 3ABN Board of Followers . They are followers, Johann. They direct nothing that I can see.

The Chairman of the 3ABN Board of Followers is, most likely, at the point where he can no longer entertain any other versions than the ones he has allowed to be published under his name.

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jul 14 2006, 11:50 AM)
>
> I'm in the process of mailing this to all involved
> <johann@direkte.org>

A copy, signed by Dr. Arild Abrahamsen, should be mailed to the Adventist Today mailing address.

Posted by: Johann Jul 14 2006, 03:27 PM

Letter from Dr. Abrahamsen, June 20, 2006, Section Four

At one point I had a conversation with Walt Thompson, Chairman of the Board of 3ABN. He asked me to stop all communication with Linda. This had also been communicated to Johann and Irmgard Thorvaldsson and others. I told him that it was obviously Danny's plan to isolate Linda from everyone at a time when she needed help. To me it was the Christian thing to answer her phone calls and the only humane thing to do for someone who was in crisis. Others did not come to Linda's aid because they did not want to lose whatever benefit they gained from 3ABN, whether it be a job, programming, promotions, etc. Walt was also the one who phoned Linda when she was suspended from the ministry by her husband. He instructed her that she must not come to the ministry (which she co-founded) without calling ahead of time because she must be supervised when at 3ABN. Danny broke into a locked bathroom to forcefully take her keys to 3ABN from her. Her hard drive of her computer was confiscated, her contact information taken and even her filing cabinets ravaged, all without any kind of Board action.

Linda was living in an impossible situation. Danny was "in her face" on a regular basis. At times he would say, "If you don't say you're a pathological liar, the marriage and 3ABN is over. If you don't say you're an adulterous woman the marriage and 3ABN is over for you. If you don't say you've given your heart to another man and that he is a demon the marriage and 3ABN is over..... etc." It even reached the point when he demanded her to say "Repeat after me." Johann and I received a couple emails, which said they were from Linda, but they were written by Danny. Linda saw her ministry being destroyed one day at a time. All of this was dehumanizing and terrifying to Linda, who was trying to hold things together. She very much realized what was at stake.

An "investigative committee" was put together by Walt Thompson to look into this situation. They were Walt Thompson, Bill Hulsey, Nick Miller and Kay Kuzma. Danny talked privately at length with each of these people. Linda did not. The committee as a whole never met with Linda at all. In one brief phone conversation with Kay Kuzma she told Linda, "The Board is not interested in you and Danny's personal problems. It is only interested in the fact that the President no longer wants his Vice-President." Johann Thorvaldsson testifies that he spoke with Kay the following day. She told him she was instructed to get Linda used to the idea of not being at 3ABN anymore and to try to get her involved in another ministry.

It's interesting that at the time Danny accused Linda for speaking on the phone to me, that he was in the practice of speaking regularly with Brenda, Linda's "friend." He also visited often with her in her 3ABN apartment in the night. A worker at 3ABN states that Brenda even went golfing with Danny behind Linda's back while she was working. As soon as Brenda saw where the tide was turning, she was no longer Linda's friend. She became an accuser as well.

About May 1, 2004 instructions were given to the production staff to wipe Linda's face off of the network by June 1, again with no Board action. All CD's, videos, literature and photos of Linda were stripped out of the Call Center. She was sent a document a few days later specifying that she was advised to get 30 days of counseling by counselors of "their" choice. If she did not agree to this in writing within 24 hours, her employment could be gone. She requested time for an attorney to look at the document. This was refused. Mail was flooding into the network with Linda's name on it. They were all returned to sender. Her scheduled speaking appointments for women's ministries were sabotaged by those in leadership at 3ABN.

Danny told those who worked for Linda that she was a pathological liar and to stay away from her. (He did not want them to hear the other side of the story.) At one point Linda told Walt that Dan was purposefully ruining her reputation and that she was not willing to be a martyr for 3ABN. Walt's response was "How else are we going to save the ministry?"

Stay tuned for another section of this letter - later

Posted by: Chez Jul 14 2006, 04:09 PM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jul 13 2006, 03:00 PM) ☐
>
> Letter from Dr. Abrahamsen, June 20, 2006, Section Two
> . We also concluded that Linda was in danger.

> Things eventually progressed from emotional and mental abuse to physical abuse. In the midst of all this harassment Linda asked Danny, 'Why are you treating me like this?' He answered, 'Because I want you to get out.'
>
> To Be Continued

My husband and I were talking about this. He mentioned the times that Linda was allegedly attacked by a dog. He was speculating about possible physical abuse from Danny.

This man (Danny Shelton) sounds EXTREMELY DANGEROUS! He appears to be a BULLY and those who are his verbal and silent supporters affirm his behavior or his misbehavior. They are co-conspirators or bystanders (supporters) of this madness.

I'M FURIOUS!!!!!!

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Jul 14 2006, 05:17 PM

Thanks to Johann, we actually have the whole letter all in one post.

In other words, we at MSDAOL, already know the rest of the story.

Posted by: sister Jul 14 2006, 06:06 PM

> QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Jul 14 2006, 06:17 PM)
>
> Thanks to Johann, we actually have the whole letter all in one post.
>
> In other words, we at MSDAOL, already know the rest of the story.

Daryl, you may have the rest of this particular document posted at MSDAOL, but I am sure that your members who do not have access to the hidden 3ABN threads do not know the rest of this story. Even those priviliged few who have access still need to play catch up to have a fraction of the information that Calvin has allowed us to post at BSDA. Perhaps you might like to inform them where they can freely read the rest of the story, without censorship?

This is not the only true account that Johann has posted. But it is a very important revelation of first person testimony. He has also shared his personal interactions with Danny in other threads. Like a tapestry all the information woven together give a more complete picture of the reality of life under the absolute rulership of Danny Shelton, behind the scenes at 3ABN. Linda is only one victim, there are many more. And I am sure, if she were allowed to speak at this time, she would desire to see all Danny's victims vindicated.

Posted by: beartrap Jul 14 2006, 06:14 PM

> QUOTE(sister @ Jul 14 2006, 07:06 PM)

> Daryl, you may have the rest of this particular document posted at MSDAOL, but I am sure that your members who do not have access to the hidden 3ABN threads do not know the rest of this story. Even those priviliged few who have access still need to play catch up to have a fraction of the information that Calvin has allowed us to post at BSDA. Perhaps you might like to inform them where they can freely read the rest of the story, without censorship?
>
> This is not the only true account that Johann has posted. He has also shared his personal interactions with Danny in other threads. Like a tapestry all the information woven together give a more complete picture of the reality of life under the absolute rulership of Danny Shelton, behind the scenes at 3ABN. Linda is only one victim, there are many more. And I am sure, if she were allowed to speak at this time, she would desire to see all Danny's victims vindicated.

Amen Sister!

Posted by: Clay Jul 14 2006, 06:27 PM

> QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Jul 14 2006, 05:17 PM)
>
> Thanks to Johann, we actually have the whole letter all in one post.
>
> In other words, we at MSDAOL, already know the rest of the story.

whateva..... folks crack me up coming all late to the party, hiding the info they have and then gloating cause they got the last snippet of a letter......

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 14 2006, 06:37 PM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Jul 14 2006, 08:55 AM)
>
> I believe you have just persuaded me to end much of the skepticism I had and get off the fence. I had been waiting and wanting to hear from the Norwegian doctor that treated Linda's son. It is hard for me to believe that Johann would fabricate this story. This side of the story needs to get out. Daryl, Gregory Matthews, Atoday, you need to point your members here to this story or get Johann's permission publish it at your place.
>
> Johann, thank you for choosing BSDA as the media to get this side of the story out. My heart goes out to anyone who has been wronged and abused. Glad BSDA could help.

...and it's free to all.....

> QUOTE(simplysaved @ Jul 14 2006, 11:20 AM)
>
> Is it being suggested that Danny Shelton may have bipolar disorder and that this is reason for his choices over the past few years?

From all I have read and heard I would do a stab diagnosis as follows:

Axis I - [Clinical Disorders/other Conditions that may be of Clinical Attention] Bipolar NOS-296.80;
Axis II - [Personality Disorder] Borderline Personality Disorder - 301.83; R/O - Mental Retardation/Aspergers Syndrome;
Axis III -[General Medical Conditions] Deferred -(without medical records);
Axis IV -[Psychosocial/Enviromental Problems/Issues] Divorce; Adultery Issues; Sick Child/Relative; Employment Problems; Interpersonal Relationship Problems
Axis V- [Global Assessment of Functioning] (GAF) -31

http://www.psychnet-uk.com/dsm_iv/_misc/dsm_diagnosis.htm<<<---Click Here

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 14 2006, 01:11 PM)
>
> yep.... even when it doesn't make any sense.... IMO of course...

Danny didn't "censor" his statements...why should the truth be censored?

> QUOTE(sister @ Jul 14 2006, 07:06 PM)
>
> Daryl, you may have the rest of this particular document posted at MSDAOL, but I am sure that your members who do not have access to the hidden 3ABN threads do not know the rest of this story. Even those priviliged few who have access still need to play catch up to have a fraction of the information that Calvin has allowed us to post at BSDA. Perhaps you might like to inform them where they can freely read the rest of the story, without censorship?
>
> This is not the only true account that Johann has posted. He has also shared his personal interactions with Danny in other threads. Like a tapestry all the information woven together give a more complete picture of the reality of life under the absolute rulership of Danny Shelton, behind the scenes at 3ABN. Linda is only one victim, there are many more. And I am sure, if she were allowed to speak at this time, she would desire to see all Danny's victims vindicated.

...and it's free to all @ BSDA.....

Posted by: Clay Jul 14 2006, 06:43 PM

Re.... borderline personality disorder.....

Johann... I saw the complete letter on the other site and copied the portion you have yet to post here.... I am posting it here for bsda.....

> QUOTE
>
> About May 1, 2004 instructions were given to the production staff to wipe Linda's face off of the network by June 1, again with no Board action. All CD's, videos, literature and photos of Linda were stripped out of the Call Center. She was sent a document a few days later specifying that she was advised to get 30 days of counseling by counselors of their" choice. If she did not agree to this in writing within 24 hours, her employment could be gone. She requested time for an attorney to look at the document. This was refused. Mail was flooding into the network with Linda's name on it. They were all returned to sender. Her scheduled speaking appointments for women's ministries were sabotaged by those in leadership at 3ABN.

Danny told those who worked for Linda that she was a pathological liar and to stay away from her. (He did not want them to hear the other side of the story.) At one point Linda told Walt that Dan was purposefully ruining her reputation and that she was not willing to be a martyr for 3ABN. Walt's response was "How else are we going to save the ministry?"

Rumors of Linda's so-called "affair" were flying throughout the churches and the General Conference in May of 2004, rumors which were begun by her husband. It was communicated to me that Linda was going to be fired at the Board meeting, which would occur in May, following the 3ABN camp meeting.
Johann and I decided to go to the camp meeting and talk to the Board members and tell them the truth about the situation. When we walked into the 3ABN building we were surrounded by about 10 people. One person stood directly behind me for the entire service. Walt Thompson and Nick Miller (3ABN's attorney) asked us to leave. We stayed until nearly the end of the service. (At this camp meeting an announcement was made regarding Linda. There were tearful appeals by Danny, which raised a record-breaking amount of money for 3ABN. Danny also claims that an additional two million dollars was raised the year of their divorce.) When Johann and I went to the door, once again we were followed by a small crowd of people. I spoke to Mark Finley about the situation at length in the parking lot. John Lomacang tried to stop the conversation. He said 'It is not good for you to talk to him alone.' What was he afraid of? He was standing with me when Danny drove up and said that if I returned to camp meeting I would be arrested and thrown in jail. He had already talked to the Sheriff. I decided to not return, as it was Mark Finley's suggestion to avoid the possibility of disrupting the camp meeting for all of the people attending. Linda was staying in her daughter's apartment in Springfield, so we drove there on Saturday to stay in a hotel for the weekend. During this weekend we were followed by three private investigators all the time. What kind of actions was that, for a man that REALLY wanted to save his marriage?

It is my understanding that a one-sided conversation was illegally taped by Danny towards the end of May. With a mind set on framing his wife, her words have been misconstrued into saying what he wants people to think. She mentions a trip to Las Vegas. He explains to all that she is planning a rendezvous with "the doctor." In reality for weeks he has offered Linda larger and larger sums of money for her to go to Las Vegas and stay with her mother for six weeks to acquire residency, a requirement for couples that want a quick divorce. For weeks she refused. SHE NEVER WANTED A DIVORCE.

The events of the previous months eventually bring her to the place where she thinks this is maybe what she should do. She knew a separation was necessary. Danny takes her words from the phone call and adds his insinuations. He makes photo copies of her one sided conversation and distributes it. This is his main source of "proof" for his actions and re-marriage. They call it circumstantial evidence." To further cover their tracks Linda's accusers say that for her sake they don't want to tell "all she has done." They say this so people will accept their statements and imagine the worst. This is slander of the worst kind all coming from professed Christians.

Johann says he was fired from 3ABN for refusing to attest to something false Danny wanted him to put in writing about Linda. Derrell Mundall, Danny's ex-son-in-law, says he was given the option to resign or be fired because of his actions defending Linda. Others quit their jobs because they could not support the actions of the leaders. There is one thing many of these people have in common. Anyone who disagrees with Danny is slandered and discredited.

It's interesting that Danny's daughter recently was found to be pregnant out of wedlock. A quick wedding followed when Derrell, (her ex-husband & father of their four children), claims she had no grounds for re-marriage. It's also interesting that nobody asked Derrell about the issue of grounds at all when he was still a resident in Thompsonville. Also another married Shelton family member had a romantic encounter recently with a married employee of 3ABN. They were instructed to keep it quiet. They did. They all still work at 3ABN, and Melody is featured on the network. Is 3ABN all about standing for principle and values, or standing for those who happen to be in good graces with the President and the Shelton family ?

Another question that seems to be in the minds of many is "Why was Linda given $240,000 when all claim she was fired for a wrongdoing?" The only reason Linda signed this 3ABN contract was because she needed money to escape from a very irregular, abusive and impossible situation. Danny forced her to sign not only this contract, but another contract which sold him her half of their joint-owned home the same day.

Linda has suffered much emotional trauma and humiliation from all of this. She still has nightmares about these events. She did not feel ready to face the people of the SDA church for six months after all of this occurred. I encouraged her to begin again. She went for the first time around the end of November of 2004 in Springfield. The people welcomed her. She requested her membership to be transferred out of the Thompsonville church into the Springfield church in December of 2004. The Springfield pastor had previously worked at 3ABN and knew Linda. He did not believe the rumors and encouraged the church to put her to work. It was a healing time for her to teach Sabbath School and occasionally preach.

In June of 2005 things changed. Pastor Grady was transferred out of the Springfield church, although he wanted to stay, and a pastor from 3ABN was moved into the church. Within two weeks John Stanton met with Linda and told her she would be doing nothing on the platform. She told him that the church really needed the help and she hoped that if she was asked once in two months to teach a Sabbath School class that she would be able to do this. He told her that the orders had come from the conference level. (The Illinois conference President sits on 3ABN's Board and his parents work for 3ABN.) During our visit to the General Conference Session Johann and I visited with this pastor. He told us he thought Linda was a liar. I TOLD HIM THAT LINDA HAD NEVER BEEN UNFAITHFUL TO HER HUSBAND and that all the rumors from her husband were lies. But this man had TV interests to pursue and he was in close connection with Danny and John Lomacang.

The last week of October 2005, a letter came to Linda from John Lomacang, the pastor of the Thompsonville (3ABN) church. It stated that the church board had voted "to call a church business session to recommend to the church that you be placed under censure." Linda called John to ask him why.
He said it was because she had abandoned her marriage and ministry, which led to her divorce. (This is what Danny refers to as "grounds" to re-marry.) Linda planned to address the church business meeting. She wrote to Danny requesting a release from the restrictions of the contract she signed so she could openly share her side of the story. Danny denied this request. Because of this she felt forced to drop her membership there and then join another SDA church. This decision was made after much counsel with several SDA's. It's interesting that this recommendation for censure came almost 18 months after the fact. (Which kind of practice is this? Special for USA?) It's also interesting that all of this occurred while Danny was trying to gather evidence against Linda so he could re-marry.

Danny Shelton and the leadership of 3ABN are responsible for using the ministry of 3ABN to bring character assassination to Linda and others. In Linda's case, television and radio announcements were made denouncing her character. There was an announcement on the front page of 3ABN's website for many months. About 180,000 letters about Linda were sent to the mailing list at 3ABN. Videos about her were made and distributed. Magazine articles were written and submitted. Mailings were made to church officials. Many calls were taken at 3ABN where slanderous remarks about Linda were given over the phone. Many letters containing completely false statements were sent to many individuals. Danny even made his personal email address available over 3ABN so people could write to him and obtain his side of the story. They did a thorough job of character assassination.

Now two years later the "trashing" continues. It is inexcusable, especially for a proclaimed Christian ministry.

> In conclusion I want to clearly state that I have not committed adultery (emotional, physical, "spiritual"), and neither has Linda. The conversations we had were not unusual or inappropriate. Linda is the victim of domestic violence, only this has resulted in worldwide effects for our Church.
>
> Linda has sought for help at the General Conference level. She has sought the aid of pastors. No one has an answer. She has tried repeatedly to meet with a committee from the Board of 3ABN. This request has not been granted. Still the bulk emails and letters flow from 3ABN slandering the innocent.
>
> This has been the most ungodly situation I have observed in my entire life. Any who find themselves not in good graces with Danny Shelton will find that their name is discredited and slandered in an attempt to destroy their influence. Linda has suffered the most with the loss of her job, her influence and reputation. But many others, including myself, have felt the heat coming from what is supposed to be a ministry representing Jesus Christ. This is an outrage. This is unacceptable. Accountability of leaders is a must. (Can bad fruits come from good trees?) As Christians, it is our duty to demand accountability and a high standard from leaders. I hope this testimony will fulfill the mission intended.
>
> Respectfully,
>
> Dr. Arild Abrahamsen

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 14 2006, 06:56 PM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 14 2006, 07:43 PM) ☐
>
> Re.... borderline personality disorder.....

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Borderline_Personality_Disorder<<<--Click Here http://www.stanford.edu/~corelli/borderline.html<<<--Click Here http://www.webmd.com/hw/mental_health/ty6803.asp<<<--Click Here

---

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Jul 14 2006, 07:37 PM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 14 2006, 09:43 PM) ☐
>
> Re.... borderline personality disorder.....
>
> Johann... I saw the complete letter on the other site and copied the portion you have yet to post here.... I am posting it here for bsda.....

Steve,

I am personally glad you did that, as I personally dislike this one at a time, and particularly delayed sectional postings.

Posted by: rwelchcrs Jul 14 2006, 08:05 PM

I have been following this developing story for months. I think it has reached the point in which other ministries that use 3ABN for airtime should wake up and seriously consider pulling their programs off 3ABN and transferring to the HOPE Channel. The 3ABN scandal will cast it's shadow on other ministries by association once the general rank and file SDA membership get the true picture. I especially hope the people at Amazing Facts are paying attention.

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Jul 14 2006, 08:19 PM

It certainly is a wake up call!!!!!

Posted by: sonshineonme Jul 14 2006, 08:25 PM

> QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Jul 14 2006, 07:19 PM) ☐
>
> It certainly is a wake up call!!!!!

Now we gotta pray everyone wakes up and call's it out on the table, enough is enough. Linda needs her life back, and a HUGE apology from everyone who set out to destroy her. I'm sure she would just be happy with a life of minstry to others, as that is all she wants.

Posted by: Johann Jul 14 2006, 08:27 PM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 15 2006, 02:43 AM) ☐
>
> Re.... borderline personality disorder.....
>
> Johann... I saw the complete letter on the other site and copied the portion you have yet to post here.... I am posting it here for bsda.....

Thanks, Clay . . . I was going to do it, then fell asleep. Just woke up and was going to do it - here during the middle of the night - and then I discovered you got it.

Posted by: Observer Jul 14 2006, 09:45 PM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Jul 14 2006, 07:55 AM) ☐
>
> I believe you have just persuaded me to end much of the skepticism I had and get off the fence. I had been waiting and wanting to hear from the Norwegian doctor that treated Linda's son. It is hard for me to believe that Johann would fabricate this story. This side of the story needs to get out.

> Daryl, Gregory Matthews, Atoday, you need to point your members here to this story or get Johann's permission publish it at your place.
>
> Johann, thank you for choosing BSDA as the media to get this side of the story out. My heart goes out to anyone who has been wronged and abused. Glad BSDA could help.

Club Adventist has been publishing this letter all along in their 3ABN section.

Posted by: Johann Jul 14 2006, 10:01 PM

For those who like to read the whole letter in one setting, here it is again:

June 20, 2006

Greetings from Norway;

My name is Dr. Arild Abrahamsen. I live in Svindal, Norway. I have been a medical doctor for more than 35 years. I am a member of the Moss SDA Church. I've been the Sabbath School Superintendent for 14 years and the head elder for 4 years, which position I am presently serving. I am the Norwegian doctor who has been slandered by Dr. Walt Thompson, chairman of the board of 3ABN, Danny Shelton, John Lomacang and others.

Since I have observed the situation and the slander only getting worse, I feel it best to share my experience. I share my personal experience, what I have seen and heard. Much of this information has been verified by other sources, which include emails, letters and the personal experiences of others. I share my experience not to attack any individual or organization, but to bring the truth of this situation to the surface.

I have been shocked to observe the events of the last two years. I have made no public statement until now. I had hoped things would resolve themselves.

I visited Johann and Irmgard Thorvaldsson at 3ABN the last week of 2003. The purpose of the trip was to see them and visit the ministry, which I personally had been supporting for some time. I had never been to 3ABN previously, nor had I met the Shelton's. During this visit I discovered from the Thorvaldsson's that Linda Shelton's son, Nathan, was in a dangerous state of health because of an addiction to drugs and working in coalmines. I offered to see him. This visit resulted in an invitation for Nathan to come to Norway for treatments. Nathan came to Norway around January 20, 2004 along with his friend, Dava Vice. Linda came for a 3-½ day visit to support her son, the first week of February together with Brenda Walsh. This was the last time I saw Linda until the weekend she was fired.

I had a chance to visit with Nathan regularly. I learned from my conversations with Nathan that the roots of his drug problems were the relationships with his father and stepfather. Specifically he told me that Danny had turned his back on him. I shared this information with his mother on the phone. She told me that Danny said he had no responsibility towards Nathan since he was a product of her first marriage, so she felt she had to do what she could to help her son. There was nothing unusual in the occasional phone reports I gave Nathan's mother while he was in Norway. After Nathan returned home, I asked Linda to keep me updated on Nathan's progress.

I was shocked to discover in early March of 2004 that Danny was threatening to get Linda fired from 3ABN because of some conversations on the phone. In fact, she was threatened immediately with divorce. By this time Nathan had started with drugs again and Linda was seeking advice. I was also shocked to discover that Brenda had started circulating untrue statements as well. (Was it because Danny had admitted to some emotional involvement with Brenda?) I talked to Danny one time on the phone and found him to be unreasonable, unbalanced and very difficult to communicate with. Johann Thorvaldsson, a retired pastor of the SDA Church of 50 years, also was in communication with Danny, both by phone and email. We talked together and shared the same opinion that Danny was acting completely irrational and unreasonable towards his wife. It appeared he was attempting to leave an email trail filled with untruths to verify a position at a later time. The decision was made to stop the communication by phone with Linda.

Some weeks went by. Johann and Irmgard were getting treatments at my clinic and staying in my home during the Easter week in April, so I discovered from them that the situation was not improving for Linda. She was being harassed, threatened, and unreasonable demands by her husband were repeatedly being made to confess things she had not done. By this time, she was also suspended from her job at 3ABN, an order that was issued and enforced by her husband with no Board action. Things were so bad in the home that she found it necessary to go to her daughter's home in Springfield, Illinois for safety and rest on several occasions. Derrell Mundall, who was traveling often for 3ABN, reports rumors of Linda's so-called "affair" were in SDA churches in April 2004, when Linda was still living with Danny. When he inquired about the source of the rumors, people always pointed to Danny Shelton.

I could see from my 35 years of experience as a physician that Danny was a psychopath. accusations were directed at me that I had done "mind control" over Linda. (Walt Thompson made the same accusations in his letters.) Linda was accused of sending "secret messages" to me over the television. Danny's emails and communications with Johann were completely crazy, and his reasoning often conflicted with his previous emails. Danny targeted Linda's few inner circle confidants and slandered her to the point that even they backed away from her at this critical time. (Linda's "friends" did not want to lose their television privileges.) Johann and I concluded this was a man who was determined to get rid of his wife. We also concluded that Linda was in danger.

Things eventually progressed from emotional and mental abuse to physical abuse. In the midst of all this harassment Linda asked Danny, 'Why are you treating me like this?' He answered, 'Because I want you to get out.'

Considering the urgency of the situation I allowed the conversations to resume. Linda knew, with her high profile status, that confiding with local people regarding these issues would be very bad for the ministry. I had given counsel to people in difficulty in the past and felt I could be helpful from a distance in this situation. I encouraged Linda to fight for her marriage and ministry many times. This she really did, but she often had to leave her home to find refuge at her daughter's apartment in Springfield, even in the middle of the night because of Danny's behavior. At times like these she was afraid of him. She always returned to her home after a couple of days seeking to try to mend the marriage, but Danny would not allow this.

During the spring of 2004 Danny called my pastor in Norway. Danny tried to get me kicked out as an elder and as a member of the church. My pastor told me about the conversation and he said, "He is mentally sick, he needs professional help."

I find it very disturbing that Walt Thompson defended and continues to defend Danny although he was a witness repeatedly to the emotional and mental abuse that was taking place. At one point he witnessed Danny "trashing" his wife for five hours. I also find it disturbing that John Lomacang, Linda's former pastor, claims to have counseled extensively with Danny and Linda when this was far from the truth. During the months of April and May of 2004, when most of the activity was ccurring in this situation, Linda NEVER saw John, who was supposed to be her pastor.

Coincidentally the handful of people supporting Danny and defending his actions has gained either power, position, airtime, homes, public endorsement or all of the above.

At one point I had a conversation with Walt Thompson, Chairman of the Board of 3ABN. He asked me to stop all communication with Linda. This had also been communicated to Johann and Irmgard Thorvaldsson and others. I told him that it was obviously Danny's plan to isolate Linda from everyone at a time when she needed help. To me it was the Christian thing to answer her phone calls and the only humane thing to do for someone who was in crisis.

Others did not come to Linda's aid because they did not want to lose whatever benefit they gained from 3ABN, whether it be a job, programming, promotions, etc. Walt was also the one who phoned Linda when she was suspended from the ministry by her husband. He instructed her that she must not come to the ministry (which she co-founded) without calling ahead of time because she must be supervised when at 3ABN. Danny broke into a locked bathroom to forcefully take her keys to 3ABN from her. Her hard drive of her computer was confiscated, her contact information taken and even her filing cabinets ravaged, all without any kind of Board action.

Linda was living in an impossible situation. Danny was "in her face" on a regular basis. At times he would say, "If you don't say you're a pathological liar, the marriage and 3ABN is over. If you don't say you're an adulterous woman the marriage and 3ABN is over for you. If you don't say you've given your heart to another man and that he is a demon the marriage and 3ABN is over..... etc." It even reached the point when he demanded her to say "Repeat after me." Johann and I received a couple emails, which said they were from Linda, but they were written by Danny. Linda saw her ministry being destroyed one day at a time. All of this was dehumanizing and terrifying to Linda, who was trying to hold things together. She very much realized what was at stake.

An "investigative committee" was put together by Walt Thompson to look into this situation. They were Walt Thompson, Bill Hulsey, Nick Miller and Kay Kuzma. Danny talked privately at length with each of these people. Linda did not. The committee as a whole never met with Linda at all. In one brief phone conversation with Kay Kuzma she told Linda, "The Board is not interested in you and Danny's personal problems. It is only interested in the fact that the President no longer wants his Vice-President." Johann Thorvaldsson testifies that he spoke with Kay the following day. She told him she was instructed to get Linda used to the idea of not being at 3ABN anymore and to try to get her involved in another ministry.

It's interesting that at the time Danny accused Linda for speaking on the phone to me, that he was in the practice of speaking regularly with Brenda, Linda's "friend." He also visited often with her in her 3ABN apartment in the night. A worker at 3ABN states that Brenda even went golfing with Danny behind Linda's back while she was working. As soon as Brenda saw where the tide was turning, she was no longer Linda's friend. She became an accuser as well.

About May 1, 2004 instructions were given to the production staff to wipe Linda's face off of the network by June 1, again with no Board action.

All CD's, videos, literature and photos of Linda were stripped out of the Call Center. She was sent a document a few days later specifying that she was advised to get 30 days of counseling by counselors of "their" choice. If she did not agree to this in writing within 24 hours, her employment could be gone. She requested time for an attorney to look at the document. This was refused. Mail was flooding into the network with Linda's name on it. They were all returned to sender. Her scheduled speaking appointments for women's ministries were sabotaged by those in leadership at 3ABN. Danny told those who worked for Linda that she was a pathological liar and to stay away from her. (He did not want them to hear the other side of the story.) At one point Linda told Walt that Dan was purposefully ruining her reputation and that she was not willing to be a martyr for 3ABN. Walt's response was "How else are we going to save the ministry?"

Rumors of Linda's so-called "affair" were flying throughout the churches and the General Conference in May of 2004, rumors which were begun by her husband. It was communicated to me that Linda was going to be fired at the Board meeting, which would occur in May, following the 3ABN camp meeting. Johann and I decided to go to the camp meeting and talk to the Board members and tell them the truth about the situation. When we walked into the 3ABN building we were surrounded by about 10 people. One person stood directly behind me for the entire service. Walt Thompson and Nick Miller (3ABN's attorney) asked us to leave. We stayed until nearly the end of the service. (At this camp meeting an announcement was made regarding Linda. There were tearful appeals by Danny, which raised a record-breaking amount of money for 3ABN. Danny also claims that an additional two million dollars was raised the year of their divorce.) When Johann and I went to the door, once again we were followed by a small crowd of people. I spoke to Mark Finley about the situation at length in the parking lot. John Lomacang tried to stop the conversation. He said 'It is not good for you to talk to him alone.' What was he afraid of? He was standing with me when Danny drove up and said that if I returned to camp meeting I would be arrested and thrown in jail. He had already talked to the Sheriff. I decided to not return, as it was Mark Finley's suggestion to avoid the possibility of disrupting the camp meeting for all of the people attending. Linda was staying in her daughter's apartment in Springfield, so we drove there on Saturday to stay in a hotel for the weekend. During this weekend we were followed by three private investigators all the time. What kind of actions was that, for a man that REALLY wanted to save his marriage?

It is my understanding that a one-sided conversation was illegally taped by Danny towards the end of May. With a mind set on framing his wife, her words have been misconstrued into saying what he wants people to think. She mentions a trip to Las Vegas. He explains to all that she is planning a rendezvous with "the doctor." In reality for weeks he has offered Linda larger and larger sums of money for her to go to Las Vegas and stay with her mother for six weeks to acquire residency, a requirement for couples that want a quick divorce. For weeks she refused. SHE NEVER WANTED A DIVORCE.

The events of the previous months eventually bring her to the place where she thinks this is maybe what she should do. She knew a separation was necessary. Danny takes her words from the phone call and adds his insinuations. He makes photo copies of her one sided conversation and distributes it. This is his main source of "proof" for his actions and re-marriage. They call it circumstantial evidence." To further cover their tracks Linda's accusers say that for her sake they don't want to tell "all she has done." They say this so people will accept their statements and imagine the worst. This is slander of the worst kind all coming from professed Christians.

Johann says he was fired from 3ABN for refusing to attest to something false Danny wanted him to put in writing about Linda. Derrell Mundall, Danny's ex-son-in-law, says he was given the option to resign or be fired because of his actions defending Linda. Others quit their jobs because they could not support the actions of the leaders. There is one thing many of these people have in common. Anyone who disagrees with Danny is slandered and discredited.

It's interesting that Danny's daughter recently was found to be pregnant out of wedlock. A quick wedding followed when Derrell, (her ex-husband & father of their four children), claims she had no grounds for re-marriage. It's also interesting that nobody asked Derrell about the issue of grounds at all when he was still a resident in Thompsonville. Also another married Shelton family member had a romantic encounter recently with a married employee of 3ABN. They were instructed to keep it quiet. They did. They all still work at 3ABN, and Melody is featured on the network. Is 3ABN all about standing for principle and values, or standing for those who happen to be in good graces with the President and the Shelton family ?

Another question that seems to be in the minds of many is "Why was Linda given $240,000 when all claim she was fired for a wrongdoing?" The only reason Linda signed this 3ABN contract was because she needed money to escape from a very irregular, abusive and impossible situation. Danny forced her to sign not only this contract, but another contract which sold him her half of their joint-owned home the same day.

Linda has suffered much emotional trauma and humiliation from all of this. She still has nightmares about these events. She did not feel ready to face the people of the SDA church for six months after all of this occurred. I encouraged her to begin again. She went for the first time around the end of November of 2004 in Springfield. The people welcomed her. She requested her membership to be transferred out of the Thompsonville church into the Springfield church in December of 2004. The Springfield pastor had previously worked at 3ABN and knew Linda. He did not believe the rumors and encouraged the church to put her to work. It was a healing time for her to teach Sabbath School and occasionally preach.

In June of 2005 things changed. Pastor Grady was transferred out of the Springfield church, though he wanted to stay, and a pastor from 3ABN was moved into the church. Within two weeks John Stanton met with Linda and told her she would be doing nothing on the platform. She told him that the church really needed the help and she hoped that if she was asked once in two months to teach a Sabbath School class that she would be able to do this. He told her that the orders had come from the conference level. (The Illinois conference President sits on 3ABN's Board and his parents work for 3ABN.) During our visit to the General Conference Session Johann and I visited with this pastor. He told us he thought Linda was a liar. I TOLD HIM THAT LINDA HAD NEVER BEEN UNFAITHFUL TO HER HUSBAND and that all the rumors from her husband were lies. But this man had TV interests to pursue and he was in close connection with Danny and John Lomacang.

The last week of October 2005, a letter came to Linda from John Lomacang, the pastor of the Thompsonville (3ABN) church. It stated that the church board had voted "to call a church business session to recommend to the church that you be placed under censure." Linda called John to ask him why. He said it was because she had abandoned her marriage and ministry, which led to her divorce. (This is what Danny refers to as "grounds" to re-marry.) Linda planned to address the church business meeting. She wrote to Danny requesting a release from the restrictions of the contract she signed so she could openly share her side of the story. Danny denied this request. Because of this she felt forced to drop her membership there and then join another SDA church. This decision was made after much counsel with several SDA's. It's interesting that this recommendation for censure came almost 18 months after the fact. (Which kind of practice is this? Special for USA?) It's also interesting that all of this occurred while Danny was trying to gather evidence against Linda so he could re-marry.

Danny Shelton and the leadership of 3ABN are responsible for using the ministry of 3ABN to bring character assassination to Linda and others. In Linda's case, television and radio announcements were made denouncing her character. There was an announcement on the front page of 3ABN's website for many months. About 180,000 letters about Linda were sent to the mailing list at 3ABN. Videos about her were made and distributed. Magazine articles were written and submitted. Mailings were made to church officials. Many calls were taken at 3ABN where slanderous remarks about Linda were given over the phone. Many letters containing completely false statements were sent to many individuals. Danny even made his personal email address available over 3ABN so people could write to him and obtain his side of the story. They did a thorough job of character assassination.

Now two years later the "trashing" continues. It is inexcusable, especially for a proclaimed Christian ministry.

In conclusion I want to clearly state that I have not committed adultery (emotional, physical, "spiritual"), and neither has Linda. The conversations we had were not unusual or inappropriate. Linda is the victim of domestic violence, only this has resulted in worldwide effects for our Church.

Linda has sought for help at the General Conference level. She has sought the aid of pastors. No one has an answer. She has tried repeatedly to meet with a committee from the Board of 3ABN. This request has not been granted. Still the bulk emails and letters flow from 3ABN slandering the innocent. This has been the most ungodly situation I have observed in my entire life. Any who find themselves not in good graces with Danny Shelton will find that their name is discredited and slandered in an attempt to destroy their influence. Linda has suffered the most with the loss of her job, her influence and reputation. But many others, including myself, have felt the heat coming from what is supposed to be a ministry representing Jesus Christ. This is an outrage. This is unacceptable. Accountability of leaders is a must. (Can bad fruits come from good trees?) As Christians, it is our duty to demand accountability and a high standard from leaders. I hope this testimony will fulfill the mission intended.

Respectfully,

Dr. Arild Abrahamsen

Posted by: sonshineonme Jul 14 2006, 10:02 PM

> QUOTE(Observer @ Jul 14 2006, 08:45 PM)
>
> Club Adventist has been publishing this letter all along in their 3ABN section.

Yes, but you can't get to it unless you pay money.

Posted by: calvin Jul 14 2006, 10:09 PM

> QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Jul 14 2006, 12:18 PM)
>
> We are definitely not a carbon copy of any forum.
>
> And, thank you, Calvin, for your post. That is what makes each of our forums unique.

I believe BSDA has gained a lot in creditability as a result of the 3ABN threads. What set BSDA apart from other Adventist discussion venues it that we are a source for open and frank discussion of issues or anything facing our church...but of course we already knew that before the 3ABN saga. No hidden or special membership only discussion forums here. Apparently, this is what people are looking for as BSDA continues to grow in number and influence.

Posted by: sonshineonme Jul 14 2006, 10:27 PM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Jul 14 2006, 09:09 PM)
>
> I believe BSDA has gained a lot in creditability as a result of the 3ABN threads. What set BSDA apart from other Adventist discussion venues it that we are a source for open and frank discussion of issues or anything facing our church...but of course we already knew that before the 3ABN saga. No hidden or special membership only discussion forums here. Apparently, this is what people are looking for as BSDA continues to grow in number and influence.

It's the only way to be.

Posted by: Siriss Jul 14 2006, 11:38 PM

Hmm...Club Adventist is publishing...Maritime is publishing...BSDA is publishing...????

Here all along, I thought it was Johann that was publishing.

Posted by: Clay Jul 14 2006, 11:49 PM

> QUOTE(Observer @ Jul 14 2006, 10:45 PM)
>
> Club Adventist has been publishing this letter all along in their 3ABN section.

and?

Posted by: Clay Jul 15 2006, 12:42 AM

> QUOTE(Siriss @ Jul 15 2006, 12:38 AM)
>
> Hmm...Club Adventist is publishing...Maritime is publishing...BSDA is publishing...????
>
> Here all along, I thought it was Johann that was publishing.

bsda is not publishing.... it is providing the venue for whomever chooses to publish....

Posted by: Observer Jul 15 2006, 05:55 AM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 14 2006, 11:42 PM)
>
> bsda is not publishing.... it is providing the venue for whomever chooses to publish....

O.K. I Will accept 40 lashes with a wet spaghetti noodle for making a factual misstatement.

Posted by: Jewel50 Jul 15 2006, 07:00 AM

> QUOTE(rwelchcrs @ Jul 14 2006, 07:05 PM) ☐
>
> I have been following this developing story for months. I think it has reached the point in which other ministries that use 3ABN for airtime should wake up and seriously consider pulling their programs off 3ABN and transferring to the HOPE Channel. The 3ABN scandal will cast it's shadow on other ministries by association once the general rank and file SDA membership get the true picture. I especially hope the people at Amazing Facts are paying attention.

Amen to this. All these people and yes I too hope the people at Amazing Facts will do this if they know what is going on. I have to admit that I would find it hard to believe that they do not. Is it just me or is the Hope channel showing more of Amazing Facts than before?

> QUOTE
>
> Nehemiah was chosen by God because he was willing to cooperate with the Lord as a restorer. Falsehood and intrigue were used to pervert his integrity, but he would not be bribed. He refused to be corrupted by the devices of unprincipled men, who had been hired to do an evil work. He would not allow them to intimidate him into following a cowardly course. When he saw wrong principles being acted upon, he did not stand by as an onlooker, and by his silence give consent. He did not leave the people to conclude that he was standing on the wrong side. He took a firm, unyielding stand for the right. He would not lend one jot of influence to the perversion of the principles that God has established. Whatever the course others might pursue, he could say, "So did not I, because of the fear of God."
> RH, May 2, 1899 par. 6

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jul 15 2006, 09:36 AM

> QUOTE(Jewel50 @ Jul 15 2006, 08:00 AM) ☐
>
> Amen to this. All these people and yes I too hope the people at Amazing Facts will do this if they know what is going on. I have to admit that I would find it hard to believe that they do not. Is it just me or is the Hope channel showing more of Amazing Facts than before?

In our town, the health inspectors are forced to publish their visits to restaurants in the newspaper, just to pressure the restaurants to fix the observed violations. A report to the restaurant about the rat turds, by itself, does not produce any urgency on the part of the restaurants. When customers read the newspaper and stop visiting the restaurants, that's when the cleaning takes place.

In a similar fashion, the Adventist Church must have received the reports of visible "rat turds" by now. As with restaurants, they need to read about themselves in the newspaper before they can clean house. The Church will do nothing until the general public reads about the turds -- and about the rats from which the turds came.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 15 2006, 11:48 AM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Jul 15 2006, 12:09 AM)
>
> I believe BSDA has gained a lot in creditability as a result of the 3ABN threads. What set BSDA apart from other Adventist discussion venues it that we are a source for open and frank discussion of issues or anything facing our church...but of course we already knew that before the 3ABN saga. No hidden or special membership only discussion forums here. Apparently, this is what people are looking for as BSDA continues to grow in number and influence.

Dead on pernt!

> QUOTE(Siriss @ Jul 15 2006, 01:38 AM)
>
> Hmm...Club Adventist is publishing...Maritime is publishing...BSDA is publishing...????
>
> Here all along, I thought it was Johann that was publishing.

You gonna be alright. And in all honesty - let's break it down shall we?

IF someone writes a book - it is not that author that is "publishing" per se - but the "publishing company" who puts out the information. That person would be called the author.

Now.

If the Doctor wrote the letter - he wants the information to be out for all to see. He would be the author.

Now.

If Johann is publishing - then he would be the one responsible for the circulation of said letter which he is....

However....

If Johann uses "other venues" to disseminate the information (said letter) then those venues are also "publishing" as they are also responsible for the aforementioned letter/information being "published".

Now.

BSDA is to be considered one of those "other venues" of publication. Why? Clay and other "moderators" on said board can decide what information (letter) is "published" or not.

Therefore -

Johann is publishing; as he is disseminating the information by publishing the letter.
BSDA is publishing; as they are allowing the space to be used for publishing said letter.

"This ain't Sabbath School....."

I hope this explains it all.....

sna

> QUOTE(Observer @ Jul 15 2006, 07:55 AM)
>
> O.K. I Will accept 40 lashes with a wet spaghetti noodle for making a factual misstatement.

Posted by: beartrap Jul 15 2006, 12:24 PM

It is claimed that the Adventist Church does not financially support 3ABN, yet they do. Every tithe and offering paying Seventh-day Adventist contributes to 3ABN. those tithes and offerings go through the layers of conferences up to the GC. The GC, and in many cases the conferences, allocates a certain amount of that money to go into It is Written, Amazing Facts, Breath of Life, Voice of Prophecy, etc. for the purpose of program distribution. Much of that money is then sent to 3ABN for payment on airtime. A few years ago, 3ABN was charging $1,200.00 per broadcast hour for each of those entities, and others, to be on the air. This makes the current scandals personally relevant to every thithe paying SDA. If people are concerned about their money going to support 3ABN and the Shelton family through the church programs, they should be raising their voices to the church leaders about a change in allocation for that funding.

Posted by: watchbird Jul 15 2006, 12:30 PM

> QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jul 15 2006, 11:48 AM)
>
> Dead on pernt!
> You gonna be alright. And in all honesty - let's break it down shall we?
>
> IF someone writes a book - it is not that author that is "publishing" per se - but the "publishing company" who puts out the information. That person would be called the author.
>
> Now.
>
> If the Doctor wrote the letter - he wants the information to be out for all to see. He would be the author.
>
> Now.
>
> If Johann is publishing - then he would be the one responsible for the circulation of said letter which he is....
>
> However....
>
> If Johann uses "other venues" to disseminate the information (said letter) then those venues are also "publishing" as they are also responsible for the aforementioned letter/information being "published".

> Now.
>
> BSDA is to be considered one of those "other venues" of publication. Why? Clay and other "moderators" on said board can decide what information (letter) is "published" or not.
>
> Therefore -
>
> Johann is publishing; as he is disseminating the information by publishing the letter.
> BSDA is publishing; as they are allowing the space to be used for publishing said letter.
>
> "This ain't Sabbath School....."
>
> I hope this explains it all.....
>
> sn

Actually, not quite.

The author is the author.

If he retains copyright to his writing, then he is technically the "publisher" as well.

If he distributes it privately, he is free to distribute it simultaneously to whoever he wishes, and is free to give permission for those who receive it to pass it on to others.

If he then hires a printing establishment to print and distribute it, the title page will not give the printing establishment as copyright holder, but will say something like, copyright by [author], and printed by [name of printing/publishing company] by permission of author. Depending on the explicit terms of the agreement, the printing company may have exclusive rights to print the book, meaning that even the author cannot allow anyone else to reprint it until the term of the agreement has come to an end.

If the printing establishment also takes responsibility for editing and distributing the book, then they normally ask for the copyright to be transferred to them and the author is not then free to do any other editing, printing, or distribution, and is not even free to give printing rights to any other person or entity until such a time as the publishing company relinquishes their rights, or gives limited "rights" back to the author.

Look in a few of your Pacific Press and Review and Herald books and you will see examples of some of these different copyright/publishing/printing arrangements.

In the case of Arild Abrahamson's letter: He is the author. He has chosen to distribute it privately to individuals, the main one being Johann Thorvaldson. Johann has especially been entrusted with the task of sending it along to a number of venues and individuals which were previously agreed upon between the two of them. Arild, however, has not given Johann publisher rights. That is, Arild remains the owner/author and is free to distribute it directly to whomever he pleases. Johann, being a close friend of Arild's, is following his instructions as to where and how to send it, whether by email or by posting to a forum. He also did not give Johann editor rights. The instructions he gave to Johann were that no changes were to be made in the finished copy Arild sent to him.

In the case of posting to a forum, the forum does NOT become the publisher-- in fact, it does not even become the printer. There are no "rights" transferred to the owner of the forum--and likewise no responsibility or liability for its contents. The forum owners only provide bulletin board space and the "thumbtacks" so to speak, for those who desire to post information on their board. The fact that they can, if they choose, refuse to allow some things to be posted, in no way changes their status from mere board owners/supervisors to that of "publisher".

Thus no matter how many boards or newsletters this letter might appear in, it is still the intellectual property of Arild Abrahamson, and all other venues are merely "reprinting" or "reproducing"it. None of them are "publishing" it.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 15 2006, 01:33 PM

Directly stated/answered quotes in RED.

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jul 15 2006, 01:30 PM) ☐
>
> Actually, not quite.
>
> The author is the author.
>
> If he retains copyright to his writing, then he is technically the "publisher" as well.
>
> If he distributes it privately, he is free to distribute it simultaneously to whoever he wishes, and is free to give permission for those who receive it to pass it on to others.
>
> If he then hires a printing establishment to print and distribute it, the title page will not give the printing establishment as copyright holder, but will say something like, copyright by [author], and printed by [name of printing/publishing company] by permission of author. Depending on the explicit terms of the agreement, the printing company may have exclusive rights to print the book, meaning that even the author cannot allow anyone else to reprint it until the term of the agreement has come to an end.
>
> If the printing establishment also takes responsibility for editing and distributing the book, then they normally ask for the copyright to be transferred to them and the author is not then free to do any other editing, printing, or distribution, and is not even free to give printing rights to any other person or entity until such a time as the publishing company relinquishes their rights, or gives limited "rights" back to the author.
>
> Look in a few of your Pacific Press and Review and Herald books and you will see examples of some of these different copyright/publishing/printing arrangements.
>
> In the case of Arild Abrahamson's letter: He is the author. He has chosen to distribute it privately to individuals, the main one being Johann Thorvaldson. Johann has especially been entrusted with the task of sending it along to a number of venues and individuals which were previously agreed upon between the two of them. Arild, however, has not given Johann publisher rights. That is, Arild remains the owner/author and is free to distribute it directly to whomever he pleases. Johann, being a close friend of Arild's, is following his instructions as to where and how to send it, whether by email or by posting to a forum. He also did not give Johann editor rights. The instructions he gave to Johann were that no changes were to be made in the finished copy Arild sent to him.
>
> In the case of posting to a forum, the forum does NOT become the publisher-- in fact, it does not even become the printer. There are no "rights" transferred to the owner of the forum--and likewise no responsibility or liability for its contents. The forum owners only provide bulletin board space and the "thumbtacks" so to speak, for those who desire to post information on their board. The fact that they can, if they choose, refuse to allow some things to be posted, in no way changes their status from mere board owners/supervisors to that of "publisher".
>
> Thus no matter how many boards or newsletters this letter might appear in, it is still the intellectual property of Arild Abrahamson, and all other venues are merely "reprinting" or "reproducing"it. None of them are "publishing" it.

If the "author" does not disseminate the information - then they are not the "publisher" as they are not "publishing anything" per se (to "prepare and issue").

http://dictionary.reference.com/browse/publishing

He can retain the copyright all he wants to - however if the information is not "issued" it is not published. I could write an entire book. If I never tell anyone and it is never "put on market" or "issued" it is not published.

Of course the "author" has the right to say who can read or not his works - however if he gives no permission, and no one else reads said information how is he then a "publisher" being that the work is not "issued"?

"Arild, however, has not given Johann publisher rights."
If Arild did give permission to Johann to publish (or "issue") - per http://dictionary.reference.com/browse/publishing Then he is actually said "publisher" of the written piece/letter.

Per the 2nd definition on http://dictionary.reference.com/browse/publishing BSDA has brought the letter/written piece to public attention. Therefore they also can be called "publishers" http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Publishing

"Thus no matter how many boards or newsletters this letter might appear in, it is still the intellectual property of Arild Abrahamson, and all other venues are merely "reprinting" or "reproducing"it. None of them are "publishing" it."

There is no dispute that the letter/writing is the property of Arild Abrahamson - however per the definitions of publishing there is question as to who is publishing. I say that Arild is the Author. I also say that Arild is the publisher because he is bringing the issue to public attention. Johann is publishing as he is "issuing" the information and bringing it to public attention. I also state that BSDA (as well as the other forums) are publishing because they are an internet form of publishing or diseminating ("to issue") said letter/information/written piece.

http://dictionary.reference.com/browse/disseminate
http://dictionary.reference.com/browse/publishing
http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Publishing
http://www.britannica.com/ebc/article-9376103
http://encarta.msn.com/encyclopedia_761567544/Book_Publishing.html
http://www.bartleby.com/65/bo/bookpubl.html

Posted by: watchbird Jul 15 2006, 02:12 PM

> QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jul 15 2006, 01:33 PM)
>
> Directly stated/answered quotes in RED.
> If the "author" does not disseminate the information - then they are not the "publisher" as they are not "publishing anything" per se (to "prepare and issue").
>
> http://dictionary.reference.com/browse/publishing
>
> He can retain the copyright all he wants to - however if the information is not "issued" it is not published. I could write an entire book. If I never tell anyone and it is never "put on market" or "issued" it is not published.

> Of course the "author" has the right to say who can read or not his works - however if he gives no permission, and no one else reads said information how is he then a "publisher" being that the work is not "issued"?
>
> "Arild, however, has not given Johann publisher rights."
> If Arild did give permission to Johann to publish (or "issue") - per http://dictionary.reference.com/browse/publishing Then he is actually said "publisher" of the written piece/letter.
>
> Per the 2nd definition on http://dictionary.reference.com/browse/publishing BSDA has brought the letter/written piece to public attention. Therefore they also can be called "publishers" http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Publishing
>
> "Thus no matter how many boards or newsletters this letter might appear in, it is still the intellectual property of Arild Abrahamson, and all other venues are merely "reprinting" or "reproducing"it. None of them are "publishing" it."
>
> There is no dispute that the letter/writing is the property of Arild Abrahamson - however per the definitions of publishing there is question as to who is publishing. I say that Arild is the Author. I also say that Arild is the publisher because he is bringing the issue to public attention. Johann is publishing as he is "issuing" the information and bringing it to public attention. I also state that BSDA (as well as the other forums) are publishing because they are an internet form of publishing or diseminating ("to issue") said letter/information/written piece.
>
> http://dictionary.reference.com/browse/disseminate
> http://dictionary.reference.com/browse/publishing
> http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Publishing
> http://www.britannica.com/ebc/article-9376103
> http://encarta.msn.com/encyclopedia_761567544/Book_Publishing.html
> http://www.bartleby.com/65/bo/bookpubl.html

Whatever the technical definitions--in my "other life" I have had to sort these things out in real life with real publishers, authors, copyright holders, printers holding contracts to "reprint", etc. Arild is author and in common law usage, all he has to have is proof that he was the first one to make it available to someone else to establish that he has "copyright" to it--though it could not be defended in a court of law since he did not register it in a US copyright office. There is also a difference between distributor, publisher, and agent. Johann would be Arild's chosen agent or distributor, but not his "publisher". When Arild added the lines giving permission to others to copy it under certain conditions, he established his rights, and others who copy it are merely making "reprints" of it under his direct and limited permissions. They would only be publishers if they made an agreement with him in which he granted them exclusive rights (which actually I don't think he could do once he has released it with this permission statement) and which clearly stated the financial details of such an arrangement.

Actualy --- I'm not even sure why we are having this discussion. It is, in essence, a private letter, which he has asked to be distributed by whatever means possible to as wide a reading audience as possible, and he has given his permissions for that in writing. What difference do the terms mean anyhow?

Posted by: beartrap Jul 15 2006, 02:16 PM

LOL! chasing a goose.

Posted by: Clay Jul 15 2006, 02:22 PM

whatever the semantics I am glad his side of the story is out.... there will still be skeptics and thats cool.... as I said on another forum, remind me not to call the church if something happens to me, I am sure the members will find a way to blame me for my plight and in essence shoot the wounded.... such toxic relationships.......

Posted by: watchbird Jul 15 2006, 02:25 PM

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jul 15 2006, 09:36 AM)
>
> In our town, the health inspectors are forced to publish their visits to restaurants in the newspaper, just to pressure the restaurants to fix the observed violations. A report to the restaurant about the rat turds, by itself, does not produce any urgency on the part of the restaurants. When customers read the newspaper and stop visiting the restaurants, that's when the cleaning takes place.
>
> In a similar fashion, the Adventist Church must have received the reports of visible "rat turds" by now. As with restaurants, they need to read about themselves in the newspaper before they can clean house. The Church will do nothing until the general public reads about the turds -- and about the rats from which the turds came.

I think you have a point, and I'm sure there have been times during the last two years when some of us have had the strong temptation to pick up the phone and call National Enquirer--or at least some Evangelical cult-watch group who would love nothing better than to expose an Adventist fiasco.

But I'm still hopeful that getting the information out to the general Adventist public, through private contacts, bulletin boards such as BSDA and whoever else wants to join in, as well as printed Adventist sources, will be enough to stir the Adventists themselves to demand that the Church sever their connection with the restaurants dealing in rat turds and aid in spreading the truth about such places to the church at large. Let's keep trying that a little longer before we turn the public bloodhounds loose.

Posted by: watchbird Jul 15 2006, 02:51 PM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 15 2006, 02:22 PM)
>
> whatever the semantics I am glad his side of the story is out.... there will still be skeptics and thats cool.... as I said on another forum, remind me not to call the church if something happens to me, I am sure the members will find a way to blame me for my plight and in essence shoot the wounded.... such toxic relationships.......

Ah yes, skeptics many .. though I'm not at all sure I find that "cool". I think this is my opening to mention that I have just found that I can get on Club Adventist 3ABN TOPICS again. Dunno why I was put off. Dunno why I am back on. I was always able to log in, but for about four months have been "denied access" to the 3ABN forum. Today I could get on. Maybe there are others here who lost their ability to get on and have quit trying. Try again. You may be admitted now.

Just had to put that in there so I could note that I think your latter statement seems more appropriate there than here.

Posted by: Clay Jul 15 2006, 02:54 PM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jul 15 2006, 02:51 PM)
>
> Ah yes, skeptics many .. though I'm not at all sure I find that "cool". I think this is my opening to mention that I have just found that I can get on Club Adventist 3ABN TOPICS again. Dunno why I was put off. Dunno why I am back on. I was always able to log in, but for about four months have been "denied access" to the 3ABN forum. Today I could get on. Maybe there are others here who lost their ability to get on and have quit trying. Try again. You may be admitted now.
>
> Just had to put that in there so I could note that I think your latter statement seems more appropriate there than here.
> I left this till last so it would hopefully be most prominent for a while.
>
> I think this is a VERY important point, and one that not everyone even thinks of when they think of supporting 3ABN or not supporting it.
>
> What this means is that we should voice our objections to our Church taking funds sent to Church entities and diverting it to 3ABN by paying to put Church produced programs on 3ABN. Are there more details we should know? Can you give us the proper channels through which to direct our objections to these programs being put on 3ABN?

what I mean watchbird is from the beginning there were those of us who smelled a rat and thought that Mr. Shelton was not being honest. As more info has come to light it has confirmed what we believed... as for the skeptics, hey they exist, and its not our fault if they are not "paying attention."

I think since the latest letter has been made public both forums are re-opening their 3abn threads... they should never have closed them in the first place....

Posted by: watchbird Jul 15 2006, 02:55 PM

> QUOTE(beartrap @ Jul 15 2006, 12:24 PM)
>
> It is claimed that the Adventist Church does not financially support 3ABN, yet they do. Every tithe and offering paying Seventh-day Adventist contributes to 3ABN. those tithes and offerings go through the layers of conferences up to the GC. The GC, and in many cases the conferences, allocates a certain amount of that money to go into It is Written, Amazing Facts, Breath of Life, Voice of Prophecy, etc. for the purpose of program distribution. Much of that money is then sent to 3ABN for payment on airtime. A few years ago, 3ABN was charging $1,200.00 per broadcast hour for each of those entities, and others, to be on the air. This makes the current scandals personally relevant to every thithe paying SDA. If people are concerned about their money going to support 3ABN and the Shelton family through the church programs, they should be raising their voices to the church leaders about a change in allocation for that funding.

I left this till last so it would hopefully be most prominent for a while.

I think this is a VERY important point, and one that not everyone even thinks of when they think of supporting 3ABN or not supporting it.

What this means is that we should voice our objections to our Church taking funds sent to Church entities and diverting it to 3ABN by paying to put Church produced programs on 3ABN. Are there more details we should know? Can you give us the proper channels through which to direct our objections to these programs being put on 3ABN

Posted by: princessdi Jul 15 2006, 02:58 PM

What makes us think that some victim will not? There are many more, are there not? Everyone is not willing to sacrifice themselves or even wait for retribution for the sake of the blessing it is to many. Some will be angered to the point of calling somebody. I keep saying, just because SDAs are low on the radar does not make us immune from those who are looking to take down televaaaaangelist. We know in the past, these stories make it to Primetime, 48hrs, 60 Minutes and other primtime newsmagazines, even if they have to spend three minutes explaining exactly who you are and where you come from.

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jul 15 2006, 12:25 PM)
>
> I think you have a point, and I'm sure there have been times during the last two years when some of us have had the strong temptation to pick up the phone and call National Enquirer--or at least some Evangelical cult-watch group who would love nothing better than to expose an Adventist fiasco.
> But I'm still hopeful that getting the information out to the general Adventist public, through private contacts, bulletin boards such as BSDA and whoever else wants to join in, as well as printed Adventist sources, will be enough to stir the Adventists themselves to demand that the Church sever their connection with the restaurants dealing in rat turds and aid in spreading the truth about such places to the church at large. Let's keep trying that a little longer before we turn the public bloodhounds loose.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 15 2006, 03:23 PM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jul 15 2006, 04:12 PM)
>
> .... What difference do the terms mean anyhow?

I was off - however a "question"/statement about the "publishing" of the letter was made by someone (another poster="Siriss"). I answered the post with what I thought. You Watchbird - stated what you saw as wrong with my answer. I had a rebuttal..... If someone states I'm wrong and I can show where they are wrong that is what I'm going to do.

This happens when the entire thread/post is not read.

Carry on!

BOT!

☒ sn

Posted by: beartrap Jul 15 2006, 03:27 PM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jul 15 2006, 03:55 PM)
>
> I left this till last so it would hopefully be most prominent for a while.
>
> I think this is a VERY important point, and one that not everyone even thinks of when they think of supporting 3ABN or not supporting it.
>
> What this means is that we should voice our objections to our Church taking funds sent to Church entities and diverting it to 3ABN by paying to put Church produced programs on 3ABN. Are there more details we should know? Can you give us the proper channels through which to direct our objections to these programs being put on 3ABN

In most cases it is part of the evangelism budget. I would think that contacting your own pastor, and then the office of the President at the local conference, the union, the division, and the GC with your objections would be the proper, and most effective way to make a difference. I would put it in writing and be reasonable, yet persistent.

Posted by: Siriss Jul 15 2006, 04:52 PM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jul 15 2006, 03:22 PM)
>
> whatever the semantics I am glad his side of the story is out....

In an obscure way, this was all I was trying to get at in the first place. What does it matter who got to the story first? BSDA, and all other Internet forums are part of the human network. The information is now available (as it was given by the author)--and with patience, it will freely be given to all.

1 Corinthians 13:12
Now we see but a poor reflection as in a mirror; then we shall see face to face.
Now I know in part; then I shall know fully, even as I am fully known.

Posted by: graceful Jul 15 2006, 07:51 PM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jul 14 2006, 09:56 AM)
>
> Letter from Dr. Abrahamsen, June 20, 2006, Section Three.

> Considering the urgency of the situation I allowed the conversations to resume. Linda knew, with her high profile status, that confiding with local people regarding these issues would be very bad for the ministry. I had given counsel to people in difficulty in the past and felt I could be helpful from a distance in this situation. I encouraged Linda to fight for her marriage and ministry many times. This she really did, but she often had to leave her home to find refuge at her daughter's apartment in Springfield, even in the middle of the night because of Danny's behavior. At times like these she was afraid of him. She always returned to her home after a couple of days seeking to try to mend the marriage, but Danny would not allow this.
>
> During the spring of 2004 Danny called my pastor in Norway. Danny tried to get me kicked out as an elder and as a member of the church. My pastor told me about the conversation and he said, "He is mentally sick, he needs professional help."
>
> I find it very disturbing that Walt Thompson defended and continues to defend Danny although he was a witness repeatedly to the emotional and mental abuse that was taking place. At one point he witnessed Danny "trashing" his wife for five hours. I also find it disturbing that John Lomacang, Linda's former pastor, claims to have counseled extensively with Danny and Linda when this was far from the truth. During the months of April and May of 2004, when most of the activity was occurring in this situation, Linda NEVER saw John, who was supposed to be her pastor.
>
> Coincidentally the handful of people supporting Danny and defending his actions has gained either power, position, airtime, homes, public endorsement or all of the above.
>
> Stay Tuned for another section - or more

Great....Good toknow that Dr.A is speaking out. Looking forward to more of this letter. Thanks Johann!

Posted by: sonshineonme Jul 15 2006, 07:57 PM

> QUOTE(graceful @ Jul 15 2006, 06:51 PM)
>
> Great....Good toknow that Dr.A is speaking out. Looking forward to more of this letter. Thanks Johann!

Graceful, the whole letter is here - go up to post #44.

Posted by: Johann Jul 15 2006, 08:18 PM

> QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jul 16 2006, 03:57 AM)
>
> Graceful, the whole letter is here - go up to post #44.

Good to see you out there, sonshineonme. I can assure you that great efforts are being done to send this letter to as many as possible. And we know now that it is being discussed among church leaders in different parts of the world. But much more can be done - so keep sending them out! And leave them in the hands of responsible people and everyone else!

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 16 2006, 10:40 AM

What about sending the letter directly to churches pastors - directly.

> QUOTE(Siriss @ Jul 15 2006, 06:52 PM)
>
> In an obscure way, this was all I was trying to get at in the first place. What does it matter who got to the story first? BSDA, and all other Internet forums are part of the human network. The information is now available (as it was given by the author)--and with patience, it will freely be given to all.

..... ☒ ofl

You asked a question. If you didn't want anyone to "answer it" why ask it in the first place? I was just answering a post - that you posted.

Whose "publishing" is not that deep; however questions were asked as to "who" was actually publishing..... again - If you don't want anyone to answer a question per se - write it so the sarcasm is/can be seen. There are folks on here that read every post and try to answer/point people in the correct direction.

That's all I tried to do in regards to publishing and information about publishing.

I too am glad that the letter is being published/released/"issued" - and could care less who is doing the publishing/releasing/"issuing" as long as it is the (finally!) reached truth.

BOT!

☒ sn

Posted by: sonshineonme Jul 16 2006, 10:45 AM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jul 15 2006, 07:18 PM)
>
> Good to see you out there, sonshineonme. I can assure you that great efforts are being done to send this letter to as many as possible. And we know now that it is being discussed among church leaders in different parts of the world. But much more can be done - so keep sending them out! And leave them in the hands of responsible people and everyone else!

I will do what I can. If everyone does what they can, it will be critical in the effort - only I still believe God will be the one multiplying things over and over - and if you were asking me (ok, ask me...) I would include Johann's account along with the Dr. and some others (you know who you are) in a small "info package" to all pastors, all conferences prez's, all other independant ministries, and the GC officials (all of them). And, I know someone who may have the mailing list of 3abn, and that would also be a good group to send "info package". People need to know. It's much much bigger then just what happened to Linda - what was done to her was the unbelievable boldest embracement of SELF that has to be what pushes this over the top. There is a very big picture here. This situation is symbolic of the mark of the beast to me - maybe we get a trial run?

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 16 2006, 10:48 AM

> QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jul 16 2006, 12:40 PM)
>
> What about sending the letter directly to churches pastors - directly.

What about also sending the letter directly to other churches too!

I mean - just like someone else said... NOT JUST SDA's WATCH 3ABN!

Posted by: watchbird Jul 16 2006, 11:24 AM

> QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jul 16 2006, 10:45 AM)
>
> I will do what I can. If everyone does what they can, it will be critical in the effort - only I still believe God will be the one multiplying things over and over - and if you were asking me (ok, ask me...) I would include Johann's account along with the Dr. and some others (you know who you are) in a small "info package" to all pastors, all conferences prez's, all other independant ministries, and the GC officials (all of them). And, I know someone who may have the mailing list of 3abn, and that would also be a good group to send "info package". People need to know. It's much much bigger then just what happened to Linda - what was done to her was the unbelievable boldest embracement of SELF that has to be what pushes this over the top. There is a very big picture here. This situation is symbolic of the mark of the beast to me - maybe we get a trial run?

It is usually recommended that such information sheets should be no longer than one page--other wise they don't get read--and they need to look like individual, personal contacts rather than a "mass mailing"--even if they are, for the majoritysimply toss things aside rather than reading them. So for most, probably a very short summary or "teaser" type questions would work best, then giving BSDA as an information source and urging people to go there for answers.

Others might respond best to a "headline" type announcement that highlights Abrahamson's announcement, giving only a sample, but again giving the BSDA source for the full document.

And yes, I would agree that Johann's account of things is important, and also some others. The more different styles these communications are and the more directions that they come from, the better.

Posted by: Siriss Jul 16 2006, 11:51 AM

> QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jul 16 2006, 11:40 AM)
>
> What about sending the letter directly to churches pastors - directly.
>
> ..... ofl
>
> You asked a question. If you didn't want anyone to "answer it" why ask it in the first place? I was just answering a post - that you posted.
>
> Whose "publishing" is not that deep; however questions were asked as to "who" was actually publishing..... again - If you don't want anyone to answer a question per se - write it so the sarcasm is/can be seen. There are folks on here that read every post and try to answer/point people in the correct direction.
>
> That's all I tried to do in regards to publishing and information about publishing.
>
> I too am glad that the letter is being published/released/"issued" - and could care less who is doing the publishing/releasing/"issuing" as long as it is the (finally!) reached truth.
>
> BOT!
>
> sn

I apologize that the sarcasm was not as obvious to the general reader as it was to me. Point well taken.

Future posts--indeed, if there be any--authored by me will be more succint, direct and obvious to even the most casual observer.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 16 2006, 11:53 AM

> QUOTE(Siriss @ Jul 16 2006, 01:51 PM)
>
> I apologize that the sarcasm was not as obvious to the general reader as it was to me. Point well taken.
>
> Future posts--indeed, if there be any--authored by me will be more succint, direct and obvious to even the most casual observer.

Being that others besides myself were even trying to define publishing - you can see where you were not as clear as you could have been in your sarcasm.

Apology accepted! After all - the actual point of the OP was to "get out the word of the matter" - regardless as to who/whom is publishing!

I would like to post it at AU....what do others think about that?

Posted by: sister Jul 16 2006, 02:44 PM

> QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jul 16 2006, 12:53 PM)
>
> Being that others besides myself were even trying to define publishing - you can see where you were not as clear as you could have been in your sarcasm.
>
> Apology accepted! After all - the actual point of the OP was to "get out the word of the matter" - regardless as to who/whom is publishing!
>
> I would like to post it at AU....what do others think about that?

You go gurl. They need to hear it at AU. Afterwards you can fetch some sodie and join me in some fried meaty bits.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 16 2006, 02:50 PM

> QUOTE(sister @ Jul 16 2006, 04:44 PM)
>
> You go gurl. They need to hear it at AU. Afterwards you can fetch some sodie and join me in some fried meaty bits.

Cool. I think the first place it should go is to the Seminary Building.... I'm gonna forward it on to some of my SDA Seminary friends right now.....

Uh-oh.....

Posted by: watchbird Jul 16 2006, 03:55 PM

> QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jul 16 2006, 02:50 PM)
>
> Cool. I think the first place it should go is to the Seminary Building.... I'm gonna forward it on to > some of my SDA Seminary friends right now.....

>
> Uh-oh.....

I'm curious as to what the "Uh-oh" means.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 16 2006, 04:04 PM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jul 16 2006, 04:55 PM)
>
> I'm curious as to what the "Uh-oh" means.

There are many supporters of Danny there - *(remember he and the new "Missie" were just here recently...)

Now mind you the church wasn't as full as one would have expected...but they have "support" here.... I'm jes wondering how the mess is gonna blow when it hits the fan.

I know we discussed it in my ethic class and a Seminary student that was in the class got "quite hot" under the collar - until he heard the instructor speak of the actions of Kuzma being "unethical"....

I don't know if he has been here or not - as I did put the website on the board for all to see...

We are jes a "hot mess on toast" when it comes to getting called on our own mess. You know, we like to take a big ol' broom and sweep it under the biggest rug...beating the lump down....

That's what my "Uh-oh" is coming from - I think I may even work on a play that includes pieces of this..... NOW THAT'S another "Uh-oh" waiting to happen at Ay.....

Posted by: LadyTenor Jul 16 2006, 11:43 PM

> QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jul 16 2006, 06:04 PM)
>
> There are many supporters of Danny there - *(remember he and the new "Missie" were just here recently...)
>
> Now mind you the church wasn't as full as one would have expected...but they have "support" here.... I'm jes wondering how the mess is gonna blow when it hits the fan.
>
> I know we discussed it in my ethic class and a Seminary student that was in the class got "quite hot" under the collar - until he heard the instructor speak of the actions of Kuzma being "unethical"....
>
> I don't know if he has been here or not - as I did put the website on the board for all to see...
>
> We are jes a "hot mess on toast" when it comes to getting called on our own mess. You know, we like to take a big ol' broom and sweep it under the biggest rug...beating the lump down....

> That's what my "Uh-oh" is coming from - I think I may even work on a play that includes pieces of this..... NOW THAT'S another "Uh-oh" waiting to happen at Ay.....

Speak the truth and shame the devil!!!!!

Posted by: icedragon Jul 17 2006, 09:52 AM

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jul 14 2006, 01:45 PM) ☐
>
> There would be no reason to waste your time on the [b]3ABN Board of Followers . They are followers, Johann. They direct nothing that I can see.
>
> The Chairman of the 3ABN Board of Followers is, most likely, at the point where he can no longer entertain any other versions than the ones he has allowed to be published under his name.
> A copy, signed by Dr. Arild Abrahamsen, should be mailed to the *[b]Adventist Today mailing address.[/b]

I have just sent a copy of an email of the letter to "Adventist Today"

Posted by: Denny Jul 17 2006, 10:03 AM

> QUOTE(icedragon @ Jul 17 2006, 04:52 PM) ☐
>
> I have just sent a copy of an email of the letter to [b]"Adventist Today"

I doubt they will publish and be damned

Posted by: Rand856 Jul 17 2006, 12:04 PM

> QUOTE(beartrap @ Jul 15 2006, 04:27 PM) ☐
>
> In most cases it is part of the evangelism budget. I would think that contacting your own pastor, and then the office of the President at the local conference, the union, the division, and the GC with your objections would be the proper, and most effective way to make a difference. I would put it in writing and be reasonable, yet persistent.

And if the Conference Officials don't wish to listen, mention "Mission Catalyst". The new Adventist Church growth outreach started by former Church Planter, Ron Gladden, where 90% of the tithe funds stay with the local church to further the work. You can bet those tithe funds aren't being allocated to 3ABN for Danny Shelton to fly around in a jet.

Posted by: Johann Jul 17 2006, 05:14 PM

> QUOTE(icedragon @ Jul 17 2006, 05:52 PM) ☐
>
> I have just sent a copy of an email of the letter to [b]"Adventist Today"

God bless you, Icedragon! We need more people like you!

Posted by: summertime Jul 17 2006, 06:03 PM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jul 15 2006, 09:18 PM) ☐
>
> Good to see you out there, sonshineonme. I can assure you that great efforts are being done to send this letter to as many as possible. And we know now that it is being discussed among church leaders in different parts of the world. But much more can be done - so keep sending them out! And leave them in the hands of responsible people and everyone else!

I hope that we are all following up on getting this letter out---I have been going through all my e-mail addresses and sending it out. I am sending them to church members and doing everything I can---even though I am pretty much housebound right now my spare time is spent 'spreading the word'----I hope that it is spreading quickly--The truth needs to be told quickly.

Posted by: Johann Jul 17 2006, 06:22 PM

> QUOTE(summertime @ Jul 18 2006, 02:03 AM) ☐
>
> I hope that we are all following up on getting this letter out---I have been going through all my e-mail addresses and sending it out. I am sending them to church members and doing everything I can---even though I am pretty much housebound right now my spare time is spent 'spreading the word'----I hope that it is spreading quickly--The truth needs to be told quickly.

God bless you!

Posted by: awesumtenor Jul 17 2006, 07:21 PM

> QUOTE(Rand856 @ Jul 17 2006, 02:04 PM) ☐
>
> And if the Conference Officials don't wish to listen, mention "Mission Catalyst". The new Adventist Church growth outreach started by former Church Planter, Ron Gladden, where 90% of the tithe funds stay with the local church to further the work. You can bet those tithe funds aren't being allocated to 3ABN for Danny Shelton to fly around in a jet.

Mission Catalyst isn't part of the Adventist church, although those who started it were formerly in denominational employ. Their unwillingness to adopt the church's model where the handling of tithe is concerned pretty much sealed their fate in that regard...

I now return you to your regularly scheduled programming...

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: Jvat Jul 17 2006, 07:44 PM

Seems to me Awesumtenor, that Rand856 was implying that if the SDA Officials do not watch it, more funds will go into Mission Catalyst than the regular SDA Church. Correct me if I am wrong, Rand 856.

Posted by: LadyTenor Jul 17 2006, 09:29 PM

> QUOTE(summertime @ Jul 17 2006, 07:03 PM) ☐
>
> I hope that we are all following up on getting this letter out---I have been going through all my e-mail addresses and sending it out. I am sending them to church members and doing everything I can---even though I am pretty much housebound right now my spare time is spent 'spreading the word'----I hope that it is spreading quickly--The truth needs to be told quickly.

The beauty of today's technology is that you need not leave your home to spread the word....

Posted by: denisebyers Jul 17 2006, 09:34 PM

> QUOTE(LadyTenor @ Jul 17 2006, 10:29 PM) ☐
>
> The beauty of today's technology is that you need not leave your home to spread the word....

Hey Lady Tenor,
How did you get the whole letter whole? It's in bits and pieces, but I want to get the whole letter, so I can send it to others. Thanks, Denise :-)

Posted by: calvin Jul 17 2006, 09:50 PM

> QUOTE(denisebyers @ Jul 17 2006, 10:34 PM) ☐
>
> Hey Lady Tenor,
> How did you get the whole letter whole? It's in bits and pieces, but I want to get the whole letter, so I can send it to others. Thanks, Denise :-)

I will post it in a separate topic for all.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 17 2006, 09:56 PM

Scroll up in this thread....the entire letter is posted in one of the post....check around pg 3-5 I think. I cut it directly from here and mailed it out to all my SDA contacts....

HTH!

A "new thread" has been started w/ the entire letter in one place....go there....

Posted by: no_cults Jul 17 2006, 09:59 PM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jul 16 2006, 03:55 PM) ☐
>
> I'm curious as to what the "Uh-oh" means.

I expect that "it" will "hit the fan" when Linda's contract runs out.
She signed a contract to not talk about specific things regarding the problems at 3abn. In return, she received ..... "hush money".

Also.... my understanding is that the settlement of the property has not yet been settled. I expect that a lot of stuff may come out in the next year.

Posted by: denisebyers Jul 18 2006, 08:01 AM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Jul 17 2006, 10:50 PM) ☐

> I will post it in a separate topic for all.

Thanks y'all, as they say it down south! I have a lady I spoke with in church that is waiting for it. The last she heard was that Linda left Danny for someone else. I told her that was not so, and she is waiting to see that letter. Thanks again! Denise

---

Posted by: awesumtenor Jul 18 2006, 08:10 AM

> QUOTE(Jvat @ Jul 17 2006, 08:44 PM)
>
> Seems to me Awesumtenor, that Rand856 was implying that if the SDA Officials do not watch it, more funds will go into Mission Catalyst than the regular SDA Church. Correct me if I am wrong, Rand 856.

That part is not in dispute; my point is that while those who started MCN had been Adventists, it, as an entity, is not part of the Adventist church.

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: Johann Jul 23 2006, 02:10 PM

> QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jul 17 2006, 12:04 AM)
>
> There are many supporters of Danny there - *(remember he and the new "Missie" were just here recently...)
>
> Now mind you the church wasn't as full as one would have expected...but they have "support" here.... I'm jes wondering how the mess is gonna blow when it hits the fan.
>
> I know we discussed it in my ethic class and a Seminary student that was in the class got "quite hot" under the collar - until he heard the instructor speak of the actions of Kuzma being "unethical"....
>
> I don't know if he has been here or not - as I did put the website on the board for all to see...
>
> We are jes a "hot mess on toast" when it comes to getting called on our own mess. You know, we like to take a big ol' broom and sweep it under the biggest rug...beating the lump down....
>
> That's what my "Uh-oh" is coming from - I think I may even work on a play that includes pieces of this..... NOW THAT'S another "Uh-oh" waiting to happen at Ay.....

Looks like you have a calling - or a mission?

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jul 23 2006, 04:55 PM

I've already sent the letter to a few "choice" teachers that I think will also forward the letter on.....

I also forwarded the letter on to all of my SDA friends on my e-mail list.

That should equal to about ...um......30+ people.....

Carry on!

☒ sn

Posted by: eye witness Jan 24 2007, 03:42 PM

> QUOTE(no_cults @ Jul 17 2006, 09:59 PM) ☐
>
> I expect that "it" will "hit the fan" when Linda's contract runs out. She signed a contract to not talk about specific things regarding the problems at 3abn. In return, she received ..... "hush money". Also.... my understanding is that the settlement of the property has not yet been settled. I expect that a lot of stuff may come out in the next year.

December 2006 Linda is able to tell all! Where is she????? Maybe her 250k settlement has not ran out yet and so well she is still trying to "sue" for more (the true nature of her), and don't want to make hurt for herself.
So what her plan is, is to get people to "do all this garbage for her". While she tries to maintain some sort of innocent profile. Actor!!!!

Posted by: Clay Jan 24 2007, 03:46 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 24 2007, 03:42 PM) ☐
>
> December 2006 Linda is able to tell all! Where is she????? Maybe her 250k settlement has not ran out yet and so well she is still trying to "sue" for more (the true nature of her), and don't want to make hurt for herself.
> So what her plan is, is to get people to "do all this garbage for her". While she tries to maintain some sort of innocent profile. Actor!!!!

whateva...... tiresome you are.... and I detect a little haterade.... clear to see you don't like Linda.... God forbid you are ever married and your hubby decides he wants a younger woman and kicks you to the curb....

Posted by: Johann Jan 24 2007, 04:30 PM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jan 24 2007, 11:46 PM)
>
> whateva...... tiresome you are.... and I detect a little haterade.... clear to see you don't like Linda.... God forbid you are ever married and your hubby decides he wants a younger woman and kicks you to the curb....

How do you know that he is not resting in his grave?

Posted by: awesumtenor Jan 24 2007, 05:00 PM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jan 24 2007, 05:30 PM)
>
> How do you know that he is not resting in his grave?

Reminds me of a line from a movie... upon seeing the winning personality of a woman, one character remarks... " your husband aint dead, lady; he's hiding..."

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: Clay Jan 24 2007, 06:54 PM

> QUOTE(awesumtenor @ Jan 24 2007, 05:00 PM)
>
> Reminds me of a line from a movie... upon seeing the winning personality of a woman, one character remarks... " your husband aint dead, lady; he's hiding..."
>
> In His service,
> Mr. J

Posted by: inga Jan 24 2007, 07:09 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 24 2007, 04:42 PM)
>
> December 2006 Linda is able to tell all! Where is she????? Maybe her 250k settlement has not ran out yet and so well she is still trying to "sue" for more (the true nature of her), and don't want to make hurt for herself.
> So what her plan is, is to get people to "do all this garbage for her". While she tries to maintain > some sort of innocent profile. Actor!!!!

It is not hard to sense a vindictive spirit in you, "eye witness" very close to Linda Shelton (several years ago). Experience has taught me that, lacking evidence, folks generally judge others by the only measuring stick they have -- themselves. Thus you are revealing an awful lot about yourself, "eye witness."

Seeing you are an eye witness (and I believe you), you should be able to tell us who told Linda that there was a "beauty queen" ready to take her place if she should fail to do exactly as she was told, no matter how inappropriate.

And where is that 'beauty queen' now?

It strikes me really strange that that "beauty queen" should be mentioned while Dan and Linda were still married!

I'm also wondering who chose this 'beauty queen' to take Linda's place? Did Dan choose, or did someone choose for him?

Posted by: daylily Jan 24 2007, 07:23 PM

Inga, that's exactly why I asked when Linda was told she might be replaced. It sounds like she was told this while they were still married. Was that a threat or was Danny just rambling and trying to indicate that to LInda that she was not irreplaceable at 3ABN?

Posted by: inga Jan 24 2007, 07:33 PM

> QUOTE(daylily @ Jan 24 2007, 08:23 PM)
>
> Inga, that's exactly why I asked when Linda was told she might be replaced. It sounds like she was told this while they were still married. Was that a threat or was Danny just rambling and trying to indicate that to LInda that she was not irreplaceable at 3ABN?

Daylily, it sure sounds too specific to be rambling when Linda is told that there is a "beauty queen" ready to replace her.

Anyone remember the remarks Dan made about his current wife when he first showed her off?

Posted by: Johann Jan 24 2007, 11:18 PM

> QUOTE(inga @ Jan 25 2007, 03:33 AM)
>
> Daylily, it sure sounds too specific to be rambling when Linda is told that there is a "beauty queen" ready to replace her.
>
> Anyone remember the remarks Dan made about his current wife when he first showed her off?

Restore our sluggish memories!

Posted by: roxe Jan 25 2007, 01:13 AM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jan 24 2007, 10:18 PM) ☐
>
> Restore our sluggish memories!

i heard Danny say on the air "Isn't she cute?" and "Isn't she the cutest?"
think it was shortly after the marriage... but can't remember what program...

btw, where is she now?? and what she doing??

Posted by: betrayed Jan 25 2007, 08:55 AM

> QUOTE(roxe @ Jan 25 2007, 01:13 AM) ☐
>
> i heard Danny say on the air "Isn't she cute?" and "Isn't she the cutest?"
> think it was shortly after the marriage... but can't remember what program...
>
> btw, where is she now?? and what she doing??

I remember Danny making comments about Brandy during the Christmas holiday special before they were married. She was a cutie, etc.
I think he also mentioned that she was new to 3abn....

If one was to watch it again, they would hear the comments and notice Danny's infatuation with her at that time.

I knew then that he was going to marry her, then yep a couple of months later it was announced for all, that they were getting married.

Posted by: eye witness Jan 25 2007, 10:16 AM

> QUOTE(inga @ Jan 24 2007, 07:09 PM) ☐
>
> It is not hard to sense a vindictive spirit in you, "eye witness" very close to Linda Shelton (several years ago). Experience has taught me that, lacking evidence, folks generally judge others by the only measuring stick they have -- themselves. Thus you are revealing an awful lot about yourself, "eye witness."

> Seeing you are an eye witness (and I believe you), [b]you should be able to tell us who told Linda that there was a "beauty queen" ready to take her place if she should fail to do exactly as she was told, no matter how inappropriate.
>
> Linda refused to want her marriage. AND DANNY HAD NO OTHER INTEREST! Linda had another interest. There was only one Doctor for Nathan and only one Doctor that would accomodate her staying at his house. Her cooking for him and so on and so forth. Tell me Inga, would any man on the face of this earth tolerate his WIFE staying with another man, in his house, in his motel room ect. ?????? I think it was gracious that Danny laid out the grounds as "Spiritual Adultry", this according to the Bible is , Linda had left her first love. Now it looks like someday there will be a great revealing and then Linda may be labeled the term that she applied to HERSELF the "________________ of Revelation".
>
> And where is that 'beauty queen' now?
>
> The 'possible beauty queen' did not come along until two years after the divorce. What do you think, Danny should remain without wife and companion because His Wife (Linda) choose to dump him, (for a promise of Pardise in Norway, her favorite discription)? It was sometime after the divorce she was wearing a wedding band at the General Conference Session. Is she married? Oh by the way this was way before the New Wife of Danny's!
> See Linda made mention that all Danny would ever get to replace her was "a worn out dish rag". Linda really thought she was the one and only beauty queen. I think that was because for so many years Danny went on and on about her beauty, she got a bigger redder head.
> Inga there is so much, so much that anyone that gets on here and makes some sort of conclusion must understand. There is more. You can't base your opinion on just this stuff.
>
> It strikes me really strange that that "beauty queen" should be mentioned while Dan and Linda were still married!
>
> Inga the possible beauty queen was mentioned (whom is not the one Brandy, because she was not in the picture yet!) because Linda really seemed to believe that Danny would never get over her (Linda). Linda was sure that what she had choosen to do with the Doctor would tear Danny down, kill his self esteem and crumble him. BUT SHE WAS WRONG!! Praise God for the peace that God gave to Danny. I tell you the man has been hurt, and torn apart by her. No one seems to have any compassion for him, its always poor Linda. Well to some degree I do feel for poor Linda because now she sets with no doctor, no companion, no ministry (3ABN), and at this point knows that its all gone. What she saw in the Doctor, The doctor did not see in her! I don't know which caused the thinking of better, the Doctor or Linda or may be it was both. Now her only system of bitterness is to tear down the entire ministry. So I do feel for poor Linda in her state of being now.
>
> I'm also wondering who chose this 'beauty queen' to take Linda's place? Did Dan choose, or did someone choose for him?

Inga really what do you mean by this statement?

Posted by: Chez Jan 25 2007, 11:40 AM

[quote name='eye witness' post='172421' date='Jan 25 2007, 10:16 AM']

You actually shouldn't feel sorry for Linda. She is out of that "hell hole". You really should feel sorry for poor Brandi who is currently in that "hell hole".

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 25 2007, 12:05 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 24 2007, 01:42 PM)
>
> December 2006 Linda is able to tell all! Where is she????? Maybe her 250k settlement has not ran out yet and so well she is still trying to "sue" for more (the true nature of her), and don't want to make hurt for herself.
> So what her plan is, is to get people to "do all this garbage for her". While she tries to maintain some sort of innocent profile. Actor!!!!

Thinking on this more, putting it together....I sense a STRONG spirit of jealousy and a deep underlying spirit of guilt. Eyewitness does need our prayers too - seriously.

Posted by: Spike Jan 25 2007, 12:17 PM

> QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jan 25 2007, 11:05 AM)
>
> Thinking on this more, putting it together....I sense a STRONG spirit of jealousy and a deep underlying spirit of guilt. Eyewitness does need our prayers too - seriously.

Guilt is such a powerful emotion and unless we sumite it to the healing power of Jesus it will come out in uglyness and hatefulness. I will be one that will pray for Eyewitness also.

Posted by: eye witness Jan 25 2007, 09:01 PM

> QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jan 25 2007, 12:05 PM)
>
> Thinking on this more, putting it together....I sense a STRONG spirit of jealousy and a deep underlying spirit of guilt. Eyewitness does need our prayers too - seriously.

OH my lands, I am not jealous or have an underlying spirit of guilt. Why, oh why would I want to be where Linda is? Would you? By now she has used most of the 250k on court case after court case, with her own lawyers telling her that she don't have a case. She crys to all you people about poor Linda was treated unfair and all of her problems is the result of her own choices. The Board of ASI was willing to hear about Pooooor Linda's side but HELLO Linda was not there. Reality she had no case once again. What she had was fear of truth that would put this chat forum in the reverse direction. Pro Danny and Pro 3ABN. Sorry for her. Linda is exposed again.

Posted by: awesumtenor Jan 25 2007, 09:27 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 25 2007, 10:01 PM)
>
> OH my lands, I am not jealous or have an underlying spirit of guilt. Why, oh why would I want to be where Linda is? Would you? By now she has used most of the 250k on court case after court case, with her own lawyers telling her that she don't have a case. She crys to all you people about poor Linda was treated unfair and all of her problems is the result of her own choices. The Board of ASI was willing to hear about Pooooor Linda's side but HELLO Linda was not there. Reality she had no case once again. What she had was fear of truth that would put this chat forum in the reverse direction. Pro Danny and Pro 3ABN. Sorry for her. Linda is exposed again.

The fact that you are here working diligently to discredit, disavow, disrupt and disrespect any and every one who does not join in with your danny worship says something else entirely...but I suppose if you continue to repeat this lie, eventually you will start believing it yourself.

As for this forum becoming "pro Danny" and "pro 3ABN"... you should really lay off smoking dust; it's making you delusional.

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: Clay Jan 25 2007, 09:32 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 25 2007, 09:01 PM)
>
> OH my lands, I am not jealous or have an underlying spirit of guilt. Why, oh why would I want to be where Linda is? Would you? By now she has used most of the 250k on court case after court case, with her own lawyers telling her that she don't have a case. She crys to all you people about poor Linda was treated unfair and all of her problems is the result of her own choices. The Board of ASI was willing to hear about Pooooor Linda's side but HELLO Linda was not there. Reality she had no case once again. What she had was fear of truth that would put this chat forum in the reverse direction. Pro Danny and Pro 3ABN. Sorry for her. Linda is exposed again.

you are right... you are not jealous, or guilty.... neither do you have a clue.... there is one thing you are though.... tiresome.....

Posted by: Fran Jan 25 2007, 09:48 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 25 2007, 09:01 PM)
>
> OH my lands, I am not jealous or have an underlying spirit of guilt. Why, oh why would I want to be where Linda is? Would you? By now she has used most of the 250k on court case after court case, with her own lawyers telling her that she don't have a case. She crys to all you people about poor Linda was treated unfair and all of her problems is the result of her own choices. The Board of ASI was willing to hear about Pooooor Linda's side but HELLO Linda was not there. Reality she had no case once again. What she had was fear of truth that would put this chat forum in the reverse direction. Pro Danny and Pro 3ABN. Sorry for her. Linda is exposed again.

You guys are desperate for Linda to start talking aren't you. You already know that Sister is not Linda, but since she has the most information, you must discredit her.

Actually, if she were Linda that would really give her high credibility. Every time you accuse Sister of being Linda, you are actually taking Sister's testimony even more credibility! Think about it!

Linda is not going to allow her buttons to be pushed. That is why she does not even read these threads. She has more important things to do.

Linda has shown everyone that she is better than the 3ABN group. She stands tall and silent. While, on the other hand, the 3ABN group exhibits total hatred towards Linda. Who do I believe? I believe Linda and her continued silence.

Why would I believe a group of people who are bent on destroying Linda? The venom is overpowering. Eye Witness, think about what you are saying. Linda wasn't that bad. Danny lived with her for 20 years. He used to even talk about her in the positive.

I believe Linda lived a life of abuse. I believe Danny is an abuser. Danny has to discredit her so no one will see the true Danny.

It is too late. Our vision is 20/20 about his character. I believe he is a liar, an abuser, an adulterer, embezzler, and all around fake.

I realize your loyalty is in Danny. Maybe you even helped him in his financial dealings. Maybe you got rewarded for your participation. Have your bank accounts been investigated? Especially those accounts that 3ABN has that bear your name.

If you are not Tammy and are Brenda, You need to fall on your knees and ask God to forgive you for being such a large part of this mess by telling your lies.

If you are Brandi, please go home to your family. Things are about to get really ugly. You will be dragged through the same mud Danny will get pulled through. Brandi, Mistakes are easy to make. Things seem to be a dream, but as you can now see, things are not as they seemed. Take a vacation and get away from it all. Get Trinity away from all this mess. She is innocent. Above all, keep Danny away from her. This man you married is not what he seems.

If I am wrong on your identity, I apologize. If you are Shelley, get out while you are ahead. The Danny mud is smeared all over you too. If I have no clue who you are, my advice for you is to get as far away from this mess as soon as possible.

In all actuality you have greatly increased Linda's credibility. I would be proud to stand by Linda's side. She stands in a very good place. Now you have destroyed your credibility. I am still praying for you. Mothers can be vicious when it comes to their young. I pray that this mess will not harm you or your children, who ever you are.

Posted by: eye witness Jan 25 2007, 09:57 PM

> QUOTE(awesumtenor @ Jan 25 2007, 09:27 PM) ☐
>
> The fact that you are here working diligently to discredit, disavow, disrupt and disrespect any and every one who does not join in with your danny worship says something else entirely...but I suppose if you continue to repeat this lie, eventually you will start believing it yourself.

> As for this forum becoming "pro Danny" and "pro 3ABN"... you should really lay off smoking dust; it's making you delusional.
>
> In His service,
> Mr. J

DITTO

Posted by: Johann Jan 25 2007, 10:35 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 25 2007, 06:16 PM)
>
> Inga really what do you mean by this statement?

Now you are revealing where your information comes from, Dr. eye witness! You see I was together with Linda all the time she was at the General Conference session at St. Louis. Both of us shook hands with a certain Mr. Danny Shelton while we were there. I can tell you that you are completely misinformed, because Linda never wore any kind of a ring while we were there.

On the other hand I saw the ladies who repeatedly tried to get to talk to Linda alone, offering her that she could come and stay at some mountain resort. The only condition was that she would take counselling for four hours each day. When Linda still refused their generous offer on the third day, one of them burst out telling her that she must realize that since Eve sinned first, any divorce is the woman's fault, and that she needed counelling to learn that biblical principle!

So somebody made up the story she was wearing a wedding ring there?

Almost as much rubbish as much of the other stuff you are claiming you saw as an eye witness! Does it all come from the same source as that one with the wedding ring?

Posted by: erik Jan 28 2007, 11:13 AM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jan 25 2007, 08:35 PM)
>
> Now you are revealing where your information comes from, Dr. eye witness! You see I was together with Linda all the time she was at the General Conference session at St. Louis. Both of us shook hands with a certain Mr. Danny Shelton while we were there. I can tell you that you are completely misinformed, because Linda never wore any kind of a ring while we were there.
>
> On the other hand I saw the ladies who repeatedly tried to get to talk to Linda alone, offering her that she could come and stay at some mountain resort. The only condition was that she would take counselling for four hours each day. When Linda still refused their generous offer on the third day, one of them burst out telling her that she must realize that since Eve sinned first, any divorce is the woman's fault, and that she needed counelling to learn that biblical principle!
>
> So somebody made up the story she was wearing a wedding ring there?

> Almost as much rubbish as much of the other stuff you are claiming you saw as an eye witness! Does it all come from the same source as that one with the wedding ring?

eyewitness,

well how about it if she was wearing a ring then did you get photos?

erik

Posted by: Rosyroi Jan 28 2007, 12:10 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 25 2007, 07:01 PM)
>
> OH my lands, I am not jealous or have an underlying spirit of guilt. Why, oh why would I want to be where Linda is? Would you? By now she has used most of the 250k on court case after court case, with her own lawyers telling her that she don't have a case. She crys to all you people about poor Linda was treated unfair and all of her problems is the result of her own choices. The Board of ASI was willing to hear about Pooooor Linda's side but HELLO Linda was not there. Reality she had no case once again. What she had was fear of truth that would put this chat forum in the reverse direction. Pro Danny and Pro 3ABN. Sorry for her. Linda is exposed again.

Since I am a regular member of BSDA now, do I assume you are talking to me also about Linda crying to me about how she has been treated unfair? Sorry to disappoint you. I am still waiting for proof of all those accusasions Danny and family had sent out via email about all the terrible things Linda had been doing. For all the bad things I had heard (there are more I heard that have not been addressed in this forum yet and will not mention them here) she would have been a pretty busy woman being in so many places at the same time. Still trying to figure it all out. But am leaning to Linda since I haven't had any positive feed back from Danny's camp yet. Guess I entered a lot of threads here. Sorry about that folks.

Posted by: inga Jan 28 2007, 02:04 PM

> QUOTE(Rosyroi @ Jan 28 2007, 01:10 PM)
>
> But am leaning to Linda since I haven't had any positive feed back from Danny's camp yet. Guess I entered a lot of threads here. Sorry about that folks.

Go right ahead! That's the only way to learn.

Printable Version of Topic

111

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ Asi Mediation Fails!

Posted by: Observer Jan 5 2007, 01:08 PM

It is with deep regret that I have to announce that the three month attempt of ASI to mediate the issues that involve Danny Shelton, Linda Shelton, and 3-ABN have failed. Yesterday, the ASI Executive Board took an official action in which ASI withdrew from any further attempts to resolve the issues that have troubled us for several years.

I was one of the few people directly involved in these discussion. As would be obvious, Mr. Joy was another. As to others involved, I will let them identify themselves, if they wish to do so.

Everyone involved in these discussions worked very hard, and devoted considerable effort to this task. But, the task has failed. I will publicly thank the representative of ASI for the work that he did. Honest and sincere people may differ. They may fail to reach agreement and perhaps understanding. But their integrity and sincerity should not be questioned. I say publicly that I appreciate the spirit in which the representative of ASI was involved in these discussions.

As I understand it, the action of the ASI Executive Board was simply to determine that further involvement in these attempts would be inappropriate. In one sense, any further comment would be speculation. However, I think that it is in the interests of all for me, as an involved person to comment on what I see as major difficulties. I will do so from that standpoint of a person directly involved in the discussions. There are probably more reasons for the decision of ASI. Perhaps some are more important than what I list. But, ASI did not specify their reasons in their communication with me. I suspect that they will read my statement, and they can add anything to it that they wish.

I personally believe that there were two major issues that prevented agreement:

1) Linda has been so publicly trashed that she, and we, believe that there should be full disclosure of the testimony, findings, and proceedings of any mediation panel. In fact, she wanted that full disclosure to be published in a manner that people around the world could access it, and reach their own conclusions as to whether or not she had given Danny Biblical grounds for a divorce. During the discussions, the respective parties could not come to agreement on public disclosure of the testimony, findings, and process of the mediation attempt.

2) The respective parties could not agree on the procedures for taking testimony from witnesses. The issue here revolved around who would question the witnesses, and the bounds of the questioning. Some wanted a restrictive process, to sum it up, and others wanted a more free process. Frankly, I am perplexed by this issue. I could propose situations in which Danny, Linda, and 3-ABN would benefit by a free process for questioning. But, I could also propose situations in which it might be claimed that Danny, Linda, and 3-ABN would not benefit by a more free process. In some ways, I suspect that ASI wanted a restrictive process. If I am wrong, they can correct me.

Well folks, the attempt to mediate has failed. What happens next? I cannot predict what will happen. But, I suspect that it will be along the following lines:

1) More of this will reach the secular media. Some, I believe, have been approached by the media and asked to cooperate in articles. Some, I believe have refused to cooperate in order to give this attempt to mediate a chance to work. I am not certain that they will continue to refuse to cooperate with the secular medial.

2) It is likely that some will take their issues to civil courts. Frankly, some of the issues, in my mind can only be resolved with fairness to all by the civil courts. Therefore, I do not believe that any one who does so should be criticized for doing so.

3) I have been told that there are currently some civil investigations going on now. If so, they will continue.

4) I expect that one or more books will be published on these events.

Folks, the bottom line is: I believe that it will get worse before it gets better.

I am sincerely sorry that the ASI attempt to mediated failed. I clearly believe that such an attempt could only have had limited success, and that ultimately some issues would have needed to have been resolved in the civil realm. But, I did believe that ASI could have been of some help. With this failure, I do not believe that any other denominational agency can succeed. Any further resolution will come by personal agreement, or in the civil realm.

We tried! We failed!

Posted by: Clay Jan 5 2007, 01:23 PM

I don't believe that Danny would ever totally cooperate with a process in which the results would make him look bad.... so we have what we have... people will believe what they believe...

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 5 2007, 01:24 PM

I, for one, am personally outraged that the sins of one man and his family can cast such bad light on a ministry that is supposed to spread the Gospel. I have stood by and watched this saga unfold and hoped that 3ABN would retain its reputation at least. Now, with people and organizations around the world pulling their support from the ministry, it can only mean that this mess has struck at the heart.

It is no secret that 3ABN has had little support from its neighboring communities and is looked at with disapproving eyes. I have always felt that the sins of man were not important enough to remove myself from 3ABN, looking toward those people who have been uplifted and saved as a result. Now, with the added exposure that will be given, how can I and other employees continue to feel this way?

I truly hope that the Shelton gang and friends feel that all they have gained was worth the sacrifice of 3ABN, for it is a sad day for Christian people everywhere.

Posted by: Pickle Jan 5 2007, 02:28 PM

Gregory,

As a member of the group trying to put together a process agreeable to all, I will add two thoughts.

First of all, Gailon Joy raised the issue prior to our entering into a confidentiality agreement of whether ASI could truly be impartial, since they had counseled Danny and Walt to not answer questions, according the Danny and Walt. Their statement that it was "inappropriate" for ASI to be further involved could be an acknowledgement that it would be difficult to be impartial, and if that was really the case, then of course it was the right thing to do for them to back out.

And they should be commended for this decision if this was what they intended to mean by the word "inappropriate."

Secondly, Danny has made it quite clear outside of our group's discussions that he intended for the ASI panel to review only his divorce and remarriage. He then stated that positive findings by an ASI panel in that matter would be used to convince everyone that all the other allegations against him were false.

It would not be hard to assume that this was also a major empasse between the two sides, but I am at a loss to know for sure. Thus far, though you and I and Gailon sent our communications to Danny and the ASI people involved, I have yet to receive a single communication from the "other" side. Not one. The only one I ever received anything from was the ASI representative chosen to oversee the process development process.

We weren't supposed to make any statement about the process except what was mutually agreed upon, but without any coommunication from the "other" side, what do you do?

Posted by: Observer Jan 5 2007, 02:40 PM

> QUOTE(Pickle @ Jan 5 2007, 01:28 PM)
>
> Gregory,
>
> As a member of the group trying to put together a process agreeable to all, I will add two thoughts.
>
> First of all, Gailon Joy raised the issue prior to our entering into a confidentiality agreement of whether ASI could truly be impartial, since they had counseled Danny and Walt to not answer questions, according the Danny and Walt. Their statement that it was "inappropriate" for ASI to be further involved could be an acknowledgement that it would be difficult to be impartial, and if that was really the case, then of course it was the right thing to do for them to back out.
>
> And they should be commended for this decision if this was what they intended to mean by the word "inappropriate."
>
> Secondly, Danny has made it quite clear outside of our group's discussions that he intended for the ASI panel to review only his divorce and remarriage. He then stated that positive findings by an ASI panel in that matter would be used to convince everyone that all the other allegations against him were false.
>
> It would not be hard to assume that this was also a major empasse between the two sides, but I am at a loss to know for sure. Thus far, though you and I and Gailon sent our communications to Danny and the ASI people involved, I have yet to receive a single communication from the "other" side. Not one. The only one I ever received anything from was the ASI representative chosen to oversee the process development process.
>
> We weren't supposed to make any statement about the process except what was mutually agreed upon, but without any coommunication from the "other" side, what do you do?

Bob:

My use of the word "inappropriate" was of my own choosing, and it was not a direct quote. So, we cannot make anything of that word.

As to the issue that you raise in regard to Danny wanting to only discuss marital issues. I am well aware of that. I did not list that as a reason as I believe that we could have come to agreement on that issue. Or, at least, we could have come to an agreement as to what to do in regard to that issue.

I also considered that issue to be unresolved. As such, I did not want to list it as a major issue.

As to confidentiality of communication: There were some gray areas here. But I believe that all knew that once a decision was reached, public announcements would have been made.

I have attempted to abide by the spirit of the discussions in what I have posted. One major example of that is in my not naming the person who was our primary contact in ASI, or any other person who was a part of that process.

I have sent a copy of my post to the primary contact in ASI. I have informed him that if he wants to comment on any aspect of my post, he can send it to me, and I will post it wherever I have posted my main comment.

So, if he thinks I have violated any agreement, he can say so, and I will post it.

While I do so "gray" areas in the agreement--we did not spend much time in talking about it, I do believe that I have generally kept to what was appropriate to post.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jan 5 2007, 02:50 PM

> QUOTE(Observer @ Jan 5 2007, 01:08 PM) ☐
>
> It is with deep regret that I have to announce that the three month attempt of ASI to mediate the issues that involve Danny Shelton, Linda Shelton, and 3-ABN have failed. Yesterday, the ASI Executive Board took an official action in which ASI withdrew from any further attempts to resolve the issues that have troubled us for several years.
>
> As I understand it, the action of the ASI Executive Board was simply to determine that further involvement in these attempts would be inappropriate. In one sense, any further comment would be speculation.

Just a lingering thought I had:

I felt it would be politically difficult - to say the least - for the ASI executive board to ask the ASI membership to give $100,000 to 3ABN, only to tell the membership, later, that they were investigating the recipient of that donation.

http://www.asiministries.org/article.php?id=33

ASI Project Offering 2006

THREE ANGELS BROADCASTING NETWORK $100,000

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 5 2007, 04:08 PM

I believe that when you look at the big picture here, it isn't hard to see that it was almost impossible from the beginning to believe ASI to be an impartial participant.

Think of the OJ Simpson trial. No matter if he was guilty or innocent, from the beginning, it was plain that he would be found innocent simply because of the botched-up investigation and mind-numbing amount of details. I'm not saying that the investigatin was not done thoroughly into the Shelton marriage. But the amount of information and he-said-she-said information coupled with the fact of 3ABN being an independent ministry made it pretty obvious from the beginning that this wouldn't go very far with ASI.

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Jan 5 2007, 04:34 PM

From what I read, the ASI spokesperson said, "It now appears that it is not appropriate for ASI to be involved."

They used the words "not appropriate" in their email.

Posted by: gracetoyou Jan 5 2007, 04:49 PM

What's the chance of the 3ABN board's opening their eyes, seeing the handwriting on the wall, convincing Danny and his Pentecostal posse to develop "health" problems and "resign" in order to save 3ABN from public disgrace and possible ruin?

Has the information that is available on BSDA been sent to 3ABN's board members?

Posted by: Pickle Jan 5 2007, 04:50 PM

It is fairly apparent that the email we received was meant for public release. Here it is:

-------- Original Message --------
Subject: ASI action
Date: Fri, 05 Jan 2007 08:04:54 -0800
From: Harold Lance

Greetings each one:

Last evening the ASI Executive Committee met to review ASIs' involvement in issues involving 3ABN, Linda and Danny Shelton including our progress in the process we initiated. ASI, in relevant part, took the following action:

"For approximately three months ASI has deeply considered its' involvement in issues involving 3ABN in three special Executive Committee meetings called for that purpose and multiple other contacts. On October 25, 2006 the ASI Executive Committee took an action authorizing the exploration of the possibility of its' involvement and asked Harold Lance to lead out in that process. It now appears that it is not appropriate for ASI to be involved."

Harold Lance

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 5 2007, 06:53 PM

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jan 5 2007, 12:50 PM) ☐
>
> Just a lingering thought I had:

> I felt it would be politically difficult - to say the least - for the ASI executive board to ask the ASI membership to give $100,000 to 3ABN, only to tell the membership, later, that they were investigating the recipient of that donation.
>
> http://www.asiministries.org/article.php?id=33
>
> ASI Project Offering 2006
>
> THREE ANGELS BROADCASTING NETWORK $100,000

I know there are most likely SEVERAL uneasy reasons why ASI says "It now appears that it is not appropriate for ASI to be involved" and I would have to surmise that what Pete stated here has got to have some baring on their reasons. I think they would end up in the mud with the other mess. But like GM says, we tried, we failed - only I don't look at it as failure - I think it would never have come to pass thru ASI. So, lets look for the open window. It's here.

Posted by: roxe Jan 5 2007, 07:39 PM

does this mean that Mr. Joy will now go public with his investigation results?

Posted by: Pickle Jan 5 2007, 07:50 PM

> QUOTE(roxe @ Jan 5 2007, 07:39 PM)
>
> does this mean that Mr. Joy will now go public with his investigation results?

I had a pastor call me and say that Gailon's giving the board two weeks to act.

Not sure I know what that means. Before he does what? What will he be doing in the meantime?

I can tell you what I'll be doing in the meantime.

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 5 2007, 08:02 PM

> QUOTE(Pickle @ Jan 5 2007, 05:50 PM)
>
> I had a pastor call me and say that Gailon's giving the board two weeks to act.
>
> Not sure I know what that means. Before he does what? What will he be doing in the meantime?
>
> I can tell you what I'll be doing in the meantime.

Is this the "3abn" board you are referring to? Has Gailon stipulated what kind of "actions" need to take place?

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jan 5 2007, 08:07 PM

It's 'bout to be on and poppin'....

Posted by: Pickle Jan 5 2007, 08:16 PM

> QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jan 5 2007, 08:02 PM)
>
> Is this the "3abn" board you are referring to? Has Gailon stipulated what kind of "actions" need to take place?

1) Yes. 2) I don't know.

Weetbix on Maritime complained on December 5 that all this was going at a snail's pace. So we shifted gears from snail's pace to freight train. It seems like the freight train has picked up speed.

Weetbix, Fallible, Joe, and whoever else has tried to play apologist, I think the best thing they can do now is try to find a good way to bring resolution and end this sordid affair. I fully welcome whatever efforts they might make to end the corruption at 3ABN. If they feel a bit embarassed and that they have lost face, well, I for one am not about to ridicule anyone.

For the good of the cause of God, the three angels' messages, present truth, the 10 Commandments, the Seventh-day Adventist Church, and 3ABN, we need a swift, speedy, and effective end to all of this. And I welcome whatever constructive suggestions they might bring to this discussion, and whatever lobbying they can do behind the scenes with the officers and directors of 3ABN.

Posted by: Observer Jan 5 2007, 08:55 PM

> QUOTE(Pickle @ Jan 5 2007, 07:16 PM)
>
> 1) Yes. 2) I don't know.
>
> Weetbix on Maritime complained on December 5 that all this was going at a snail's pace. So we shifted gears from snail's pace to freight train. It seems like the freight train has picked up speed.
>
> Weetbix, Fallible, Joe, and whoever else has tried to play apologist, I think the best thing they can do now is try to find a good way to bring resolution and end this sordid affair. I fully welcome whatever efforts they might make to end the corruption at 3ABN. If they feel a bit embarassed and that they have lost face, well, I for one am not about to ridicule anyone.
>
> For the good of the cause of God, the three angels' messages, present truth, the 10 Commandments, the Seventh-day Adventist Church, and 3ABN, we need a swift, speedy, and effective end to all of this. And I welcome whatever constructive suggestions they might bring to this discussion, and whatever lobbying they can do behind the scenes with the officers and directors of 3ABN.

I believe that this is going to get much worse, and much more public before it gets better, if someone does not take decided action.

Time is very short.

Posted by: Pickle Jan 5 2007, 09:31 PM

> QUOTE(Observer @ Jan 5 2007, 08:55 PM) ☐
>
> I believe that this is going to get much worse, and much more public before it gets better, if someone does not take decided action.
>
> Time is very short.

Okay, everybody. Without getting excitable, talk to those you know who are in positions of influence of any sort, and share your concerns in a logical, coherent fashion. And then ask them what they think should be done.

"I'm really concerned Elder/Pastor/Dr. So and So. There's this Church of God church where Tommy Shelton, Danny's brother used to pastor out in Virginia. Tommy's had child molestation allegations hanging over his head for decades. Just last December 3 the pastor at that church issued a statement saying that there were three new allegations of sexual misconduct, one of which was concerning someone who was a minor at the time. And some of his alleged victims in Illinois have been giving public, written statements about what happened to them.

"It gets really sticky. The 3ABN board chairman admitted in writing the Monday after Thanksgiving that Danny in 2003 gave him clearly bogus information about all these allegations of child molestation against Tommy. And yet last Sunday, 3ABN had a special televised tribute to Tommy as he retired a little early, with the promise that he would be back from time to time. He's been working in Kids Time, and he replaced Linda as the head of production two and a half years ago. They said that in things had tremendously improved since he had been in charge, and it came across as if that might have been a slam against Linda, right there on global TV.

"Elder/Pastor/Dr., I just don't get it. If they treat an alleged pedophile so wonderfully when they leave 3ABN, promising that they will return, why did Linda have to leave in such disgrace, to return no more? It's almost as if she couldn't have been let go for moral reasons, because it's like they just don't care about that kind of thing. And so far every piece of evidence that they've claimed proves Linda's guilt just vaporizes when anyone tries to verify anything.

"What can we do? Should we say anything at all? If we don't, will people think that Adventists condone this kind of thing? In the past our pastors and leaders have taken stands about Prophecy Countdown, Hope International, Hartland Institute, and Steps to Life. Should we be less inclined to take a stand about applauding an alleged pedophile on a global TV ministry that so many non-Adventists think is a Seventh-day Adventist ministry? Or should we just do and say nothing? What do you think?

"What will all our members say when this really comes out into the open? It's not as if this is the only issue. There's a lot more, and it's all so bizarre.

"All I can say is that we must be near the end of the world. Christ must be coming soon."

Posted by: Johann Jan 5 2007, 09:48 PM

> QUOTE(Pickle @ Jan 6 2007, 05:31 AM) ☐
>
> Okay, everybody. Without getting excitable, talk to those you know who are in positions of influence of any sort, and share your concerns in a logical, coherent fashion. And then ask them what they think should be done.
>
> "I'm really concerned Elder/Pastor/Dr. So and So. There's this Church of God church where Tommy Shelton, Danny's brother used to pastor out in Virginia. Tommy's had child molestation allegations hanging over his head for decades. Just last December 3 the pastor at that church issued a statement saying that there were three new allegations of sexual misconduct, one of which was concerning someone who was a minor at the time. And some of his alleged victims in Illinois have been giving public, written statements about what happened to them.
>
> "It gets really sticky. The 3ABN board chairman admitted in writing the Monday after Thanksgiving that Danny in 2003 gave him clearly bogus information about all these allegations of child molestation against Tommy. And yet last Sunday, 3ABN had a special televised tribute to Tommy as he retired a little early, with the promise that he would be back from time to time. He's been working in Kids Time, and he replaced Linda as the head of production two and a half years ago. They said that in things had tremendously improved since he had been in charge, and it came across as if that might have been a slam against Linda, right there on global TV.
>
> "Elder/Pastor/Dr., I just don't get it. If they treat an alleged pedophile so wonderfully when they leave 3ABN, promising that they will return, why did Linda have to leave in such disgrace, to return no more? It's almost as if she couldn't have been let go for moral reasons, because it's like they just don't care about that kind of thing. And so far every piece of evidence that they've claimed proves Linda's guilt just vaporizes when anyone tries to verify anything.
>
> "What can we do? Should we say anything at all? If we don't, will people think that Adventists condone this kind of thing? In the past our pastors and leaders have taken stands about Prophecy Countdown, Hope International, Hartland Institute, and Steps to Life. Should we be less inclined to take a stand about applauding an alleged pedophile on a global TV ministry that so many non-Adventists think is a Seventh-day Adventist ministry? Or should we just do and say nothing? What do you think?
>
> "What will all our members say when this really comes out into the open? It's not as if this is the only issue. There's a lot more, and it's all so bizarre.
>
> "All I can say is that we must be near the end of the world. Christ must be coming soon."

It's almost too obvious to state it here, but this could be used as a model letter to send to people in leadership in our Church and churches.

Posted by: Ralph Jan 5 2007, 10:48 PM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 5 2007, 12:24 PM) ☐
>
> Now, with people and organizations around the world pulling their support from the ministry, it can only mean that this mess has struck at the heart.

To listen to Danny you would think that support is very good. What indications do you see that people and organizations are truly taking this mess seriously?

Our prayers are with you folk who are caught in the middle of of it all.

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 5 2007, 11:01 PM

> QUOTE(Ralph @ Jan 5 2007, 11:48 PM)
>
> To listen to Danny you would think that support is very good. What indications do you see that people and organizations are truly taking this mess seriously?
>
> Our prayers are with you folk who are caught in the middle of of it all.

He says that support is higher than it's ever been, but so is the viewing audience. 3ABN expanded into a lot of areas over the last couple of years.

I have been approached by many local people who have heard of the allegations against Dan. I have yet to have one say that the claims are unfounded. You can read on the boards here where organizations are no longer advertising 3ABN...

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jan 6 2007, 02:12 AM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 5 2007, 11:01 PM)
>
> He says that support is higher than it's ever been, but so is the viewing audience. 3ABN expanded into a lot of areas over the last couple of years.
>
> I have been approached by many local people who have heard of the allegations against Dan. I have yet to have one say that the claims are unfounded. You can read on the boards here where organizations are no longer advertising 3ABN...

The Rise and Fall of the 3ABN Empire.

Many people know about a site called Alexa. Alexa keeps track of Web site traffic.

If more people were watching 3ABN, it would seem reasonable that more people would be going to the 3ABN Web site to get TV schedules, etc. Therefore, my premise is that more 3ABN TV viewers results in more 3ABN Web site visitors.

No doubt, the 3ABN Board members are being told optimistic stories about increased potential viewership and expanding markets. I believe they are kept in the dark on most subjects, so this will come as another big surprse to them.

However, it seems that 3ABN's Web site traffic has actually been going down since its high point in 2003, when Linda Shelton and Fluffy were giving their little talks from the "front porch" at 3ABN.

Unfortunately, Danny -- being an insider -- could see the writing on the wall, that Linda was becoming the face of 3ABN. That is when - I believe - he began to set the wheels in motion.

To date, I think 3ABN Web traffic has never recovered from the loss of Linda Shelton.

Linda was gone June 1, 2004. Later in 2004, everyone was going to the 3ABN Web site to figure out what happened to her. You can see that reflected in the chart, below

Now with this, you also have to acknowledge that with the loss of Sky Angel, many people gained access to 3ABN thought the Web site, so total transfer of streaming bits may be up, but total usage by unique individuals seems to be going down -- way down.

Once again, I have suspected that Linda was tarred and feathered, in part, to make her unacceptable to any other Christian TV network, where she might pick up where she left off and that Danny probably knew that she drew more viewers. Perhaps, she was receiving more mail, too.

So, being a competitor who plays to win, perhaps Danny sought to wreck Linda's image in the eyes of the public to make sure competition for TV viewers didn't happen at some point in the future. And, perhaps, John Lomacang, "Mr. House Calls on 3ABN," had been making his calls to conferences to make sure Linda received no invitations to speak for the exact, same reason, to make sure Linda Shelton did not get a foothold or get back on her feet again. Perhaps, Lomacang's job was to keep the woman down.

Here's the chart showing 3ABN's dismal year in 2006. On the chart being Number 1 is best, (They say it is like being Number 1 on the New York Times Bestseller list) and being at the 50,000 level means there are 50,000 Web sites in the world that are more popular than your's. 3ABN seems to be well below 100,000, on average.

It is sad to think about what could have been.

Click it to enlarge it.

Attached Image

Posted by: Fran Jan 6 2007, 04:27 AM

Thank you so much Pete! This is right up my alley!

You are right, the handwriting is on the wall! The Shelton Gang no longer has Goldie to bail them out as she had always done before.

That chart is really great! It speaks volumns. Well. OK, it does to me!

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jan 6 2007, 02:12 AM)
>
> ## The Rise and Fall of the 3ABN Empire.
>
> Many people know about a site called Alexa. Alexa keeps track of Web site traffic.
>
> If more people were watching 3ABN, it would seem reasonable that more people would be going to the 3ABN Web site to get TV schedules, etc. Therefore, my premise is that more 3ABN TV viewers results in more 3ABN Web site visitors.
>
> No doubt, the 3ABN Board members are being told optimistic stories about increased potential viewership and expanding markets. I believe they are kept in the dark on most subjects, so this will come as another big surprse to them.
>
> However, it seems that 3ABN's Web site traffic has actually been going down since its high point in 2003, when Linda Shelton and Fluffy were giving their little talks from the "front porch" at 3ABN.
>
> Unfortunately, Danny -- being an insider -- could see the writing on the wall, that Linda was becoming the face of 3ABN. That is when - I believe - he began to set the wheels in motion.
>
> To date, I think 3ABN Web traffic has never recovered from the loss of Linda Shelton.
>
> Linda was gone June 1, 2004. Later in 2004, everyone was going to the 3ABN Web site to figure out what happened to her. You can see that reflected in the chart, below
>
> Now with this, you also have to acknowledge that with the loss of Sky Angel, many people gained access to 3ABN thought the Web site, so total transfer of streaming bits may be up, but total usage by unique individuals seems to be going down -- way down.
>
> Once again, I have suspected that Linda was tarred and feathered, in part, to make her unacceptable to any other Christian TV network, where she might pick up where she left off and that Danny probably knew that she drew more viewers. Perhaps, she was receiving more mail, too.
>
> So, being a competitor who plays to win, perhaps Danny sought to wreck Linda's image in the eyes of the public to make sure competition for TV viewers didn't happen at some point in the future. And, perhaps, John Lomacang, "Mr. House Calls on 3ABN," had been making his calls to conferences to make sure Linda received no invitations to speak for the exact, same reason, to make sure Linda Shelton did not get a foothold or get back on her feet again. Perhaps, Lomacang's job was to keep the woman down.
>
> Here's the chart showing 3ABN's dismal year in 2006. On the chart being Number 1 is best, (They say it is like being Number 1 on the New York Times Bestseller list) and being at the 50,000 level means there are 50,000 Web sites in the world that are more popular than your's. 3ABN seems to be well below 100,000, on average.
>
> It is sad to think about what could have been.
>
> Click it to enlarge it.
>
> Attached Image

Posted by: Observer Jan 6 2007, 05:51 AM

> QUOTE(Fran @ Jan 6 2007, 03:27 AM)
>
> Thank you so much Pete! This is right up my alley!
>
> You are right, the handwriting is on the wall! The Shelton Gang no longer has Goldie to bail them out as she had always done before.
>
> That chart is really great! It speaks volumns. Well, OK, it does to me!

Alexa is an interesting site. Formore information in regard to 3-ABN, from Alexia, I suggest that you visit the following URL:

http://www.alexa.com/data/details/traffic_details?url=3abn.org

However, it is also interesting to look at the information that Alexa has available on other websites of interest to us, and see how that they are doing:

maritime-sda-online.org Rated 71,375

3abn.org Rated 165,947

blacksda.com Rated 277,715

adventistforum.com Not Rated

NOTE: In the above, smaller numbers have more traffic.

One of the intereting bits of information that one can learn from Alexa is the trend. Alexa rates in Traffic, Reach per million users, and page views per user.

Here are the trends:

Maritime: Down: 1,956, 2% & 13%

3-ABN: Down: 44,682, 24% & 6%

Blacksda: Down: 108,981, 29% & 42%

Folks, in fairness to all, if we are to rate 3-ABN by Alexa, we ought to compare that rating with some other Alexa ratings. That, I have done above.

Alexa is vaulable. But, what does the above mean? Are we going to say that 3-ABN trumps Black SDA? I don't think so!

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Jan 6 2007, 06:24 AM

According to Alexa 3ABN definitely doesn't trump Maritime SDA OnLine!

Posted by: lurker Jan 6 2007, 07:39 AM

Hey, I have been checking 3ABN's website regularly to see what they were up to. What was I thinking?

Posted by: Pickle Jan 6 2007, 08:12 AM

> QUOTE(Pickle @ Jan 5 2007, 08:16 PM)
>
> Weetbix, Fallible, Joe, and whoever else has tried to play apologist, I think the best thing they can do now is try to find a good way to bring resolution and end this sordid affair. I fully welcome whatever efforts they might make to end the corruption at 3ABN. If they feel a bit embarassed and that they have lost face, well, I for one am not about to ridicule anyone.

I got a lengthy reply from Fallible. here's just a tad from it:

> QUOTE(Fallible)
>
> I can not believe you would once again resort to bold faced lies.
>
> "The 3ABN board chairman admitted in writing the Monday after Thanksgiving that Danny in 2003 gave him clearly bogus information about all these allegations of child molestation against Tommy."
>
> It is so obvious that you have no desire to tell the truth, rather you are looking for a way to spin your tale into a story much like the work of fiction known as the "Televangalist."
>
> I have done my own calling and discovered that many of the lies that are presented as truth here originate from Linda herself. ...
>
> Your quote above that Dr. Thompson "admitted" something is so blatantly false.

Walt admitted he got that information from Danny, and that information is clearly bogus.

May the scales fall from your eyes, Fallible!

Posted by: Johann Jan 6 2007, 08:58 AM

It is interesting how Fallible claims that the information comes from Linda. I have never heard Linda tell about those things. Neither has Linda told me most of the things you find in the "Televangelist." I first read it there soon after it was written, but I know Linda never read that document for months after it was written. All of that material came from an entirely different source.

Danny has often claimed that I wrote the Televangelist from material I gathered from Linda, but both is absolutely false.

Posted by: fallible humanbeing Jan 6 2007, 09:33 AM

> QUOTE(Pickle @ Jan 6 2007, 10:12 AM)

> I got a lengthy reply from Fallible. here's just a tad from it:
> Walt admitted he got that information from Danny, and that information is clearly bogus.
>
> May the scales fall from your eyes, Fallible!

Bob Pickle,

Your claim:

"The 3ABN board chairman admitted in writing the Monday after Thanksgiving that Danny in 2003 gave him clearly bogus information about all these allegations of child molestation against Tommy."

The truth of the matter is this, you are taking Dr. Thompson's response to you explaining the events that occured, then by extrapolating information out of other emails you have received and weaving them together you are claiming that Danny lied to Dr. Thompson. From there you make a gigantic leap in your language above.

The truth of the emails is that Dr. Thompson never said he "admits", "believes", is "concerned that maybe" Danny lied to him. In fact in another email Dr. Thompson makes it clear that he believes Danny has been honest with him in all communications.

This isn't an issue of semantics or even a poor choice of words. It is an issue of you distorting what has been written to you to serve your own purposes. The end result being that any reasoned consideration of what you "share" here must be filtered through the reality that you are willing to attribute claims to individuals that are pattenly false. This is not a small issue! You purport to be after the truth, claim to be presenting the truth - yet this glaring evidence of misappropriating your thoughts to someone else is more than a questional method, it is dishonest. You can attempt to minimize my contention as possibly coming from some grey-haired English teacher picking nits - but it isn't (and by the way isn't the nit of the placement of a comma what has lead the world to beleive there are billions of etheral souls walking around in heaven waiting for us to get there?). I am not an English teacher, but do have grey hair. My contention here is not grammatical in nature, but speaks to the lack of veracity in your claims that it foreshadows. This is not the only situation, nor the only person, where you have done this kind of manipulation and we have discussed that at length over on the Maritime forum.

You are the one who claims Danny lied to Dr. Thompson. In fact you are the one who orginated that claim and then attributed it to Dr. Thompson. It is simple to see. After you engaged in your communications you began to form your own, that would be YOUR own, idea of what is truth. You tried to lay your case before the readers here, and in so doing subtly slipped in the idea that Dr. Thompson admited that Danny was a liar. You did this because it becomes a very powerful tool for you to use. If you can convince your readership that you got the Board Chariman to "admit" that Danny was a liar - you must be the Mighty and Powerful Oz. Additionaly, if infact you could coax an "admission" such as that from the Board Chariman then you just might have an 'in" to force changes at 3ABN. And, finally, if you received an "admission" from the Board Chair that Danny lied - then by extenuation all claims against Danny must be true.

But! You didn't recieve an admission. Anyone reading the communications between you and Dr. Thompson can see this (and quite frankly I don't care if you had done this with Danny, Mollie, or even Greg or Linda! I'd still be making this point!). He shared with you the reality of the events. You believed before this communication that Danny was guilty of lying so you took the honest portral of things said by Dr. Thompson whipped in your own disbelief of Danny and voila you have a Danny lied souffle - sorry to slam the oven door.

- fhb

(I am going to go ahead and respond to Johann here since the software will put my response together with the one to Bob Pickle anyway because of the closeness in timing of my posts)

> QUOTE
>
> It is interesting how Fallible claims that the information comes from Linda. I have never heard Linda tell about those things. Neither has Linda told me most of the things you find in the "Televangelist." I first read it there soon after it was written, but I know Linda never read that document for months after it was written. All of that material came from an entirely different source.
>
> Danny has often claimed that I wrote the Televangelist from material I gathered from Linda, but both is absolutely false.

Johann,

You will notice that comment about Linda is in a seperate pragraph from the one about the "Televangalist" novel. That is because the reference to that tome was tied to comments to Bob Pickle's publishing here. I don't believe that Linda wrote that work. I also believe you when you say she didn't read it until it had been in the public domain for awhile.

However, the "fact" that you claim Linda had not told you the things contained in that work doesn't mean she didn't dictate or share it with someone else who ghost wrote it for her or because they wished to defend her - thus my statement that the story came from linda. We don't know who the author is as they have chosen to write under a psydoneum (sp?), this makes establishing its authenticity, its truthfulness difficult outside of just accepting it because the author claims it is based on true events.

I also do not believe you wrote it, if that makes you feel any better.

- fhb

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jan 6 2007, 10:16 AM

I'mma put this in e'ry thread I go to that mentions Tommy Shelton's name....

"How many of you proponents/opponents would allow Tommy Shelton to babysit your children/grandchildren/nieces/nephews?"

Can anyone realize that it's now going beyond this church (SDA's/Sunday Churches) - but to the innocents? CHILDREN?

sigh

Someone's child is in danger.... my LORD!

Posted by: Johann Jan 6 2007, 10:51 AM

> QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jan 6 2007, 06:16 PM) ☐
>
> ---
>
> "How many of you proponents/opponents would allow Tommy Shelton to babysit your children/grandchildren/nieces/nephews?"
>
> ---
>
> sigh

> Someone's child is in danger.... my LORD!

You remind us to be serious - thank you. Several people are trying now to sidestep the real issue so our attention is somewhere else.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jan 6 2007, 02:12 PM

> QUOTE(Observer @ Jan 6 2007, 05:51 AM)
>
> Alexa is an interesting site. Formore information in regard to 3-ABN, from Alexia, I suggest that you visit the following URL:
>
> http://www.alexa.com/data/details/traffic_details?url=3abn.org
>
> However, it is also interesting to look at the information that Alexa has available on other websites of interest to us, and see how that they are doing:
>
> maritime-sda-online.org Rated 71,375
>
> 3abn.org Rated 165,947
>
> blacksda.com Rated 277,715
>
> adventistforum.com Not Rated
>
> NOTE: In the above, smaller numbers have more traffic.
>
> One of the intereting bits of information that one can learn from Alexa is the trend. Alexa rates in Traffic, Reach per million users, and page views per user.
>
> Here are the trends:
>
> Maritime: Down: 1,956, 2% & 13%
>
> 3-ABN: Down: 44,682, 24% & 6%
>
> Blacksda: Down: 108,981, 29% & 42%
>
> Folks, in fairness to all, if we are to rate 3-ABN by Alexa, we ought to compare that rating with some other Alexa ratings. That, I have done above.
>
> Alexa is vaulable. But, what does the above mean? Are we going to say that 3-ABN trumps Black SDA? I don't think so!

Knowing what things mean is the $60 question.

Gregory,

I can't answer your question about 3ABN trumping Blacksda, because you are only posting 3-month moving averages for the Christmas season, and it just confuses more than clarifies.

However, I can say this: Over the past two years, Alexa has indicated that Blacksda has steadily gained more Web traffic.

Danny says Danny's network is expanding, not Adventistform. Danny makes no claims about the success of any other entities other than his own network.

It would not seem logical to me that if Danny mentions 3ABN, that we must consider all other Web sites, to be fair to all.

One issue, that I did not even touch upon, is that we now have a proliferation of new cable TV networks. Let me illustrate:

Ten years ago, there was only one Trinity Broadcasting Network. Now Trinity has 4 separate networks and is growing. With this comes segmentation and fractionalization of the TV audience.

For the sake of my illustration, if you just add Loma Linda and Hope networks to those Trinity Broadcasting channels mentioned -- and maybe SafeTV -- you quickly have seven networks where there was once one or two national networks.

1. Hope
2. Loma Linda
3. Trinity
4. Church Channel
5. JCTV
6. Smile of a Child
7. SafeTV

In cable TV, this numerical growth is happening across the board in all types of networks. I have read press releases during months when there were as many as 14 new cable networks either being launched, scheduled to be launched, or in the planning stages.

The playing field for cable channels is getting so crowded that it may be very difficult for 3ABN to stumble into a big public relations fiasco -- with public media involved -- and still make a meaningful recovery when there are so many alternative TV networks out there to choose from.

All indications, as I interpret them, is that 3ABN has been in a slow, long-term decline in actual viewership. They've lost Sky Angel carriage. They're now off the air in India. I don't see any reason for optimism with the current problems hanging over them.

Pete

Posted by: howdy Jan 6 2007, 07:34 PM

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jan 6 2007, 03:12 PM) ☐

> Knowing what things mean is the $60 question.
>
> Gregory,
>
> I can't answer your question about 3ABN trumping Blacksda, because you are only posting 3-month moving averages for the Christmas season, and it just confuses more than clarifies.
>
> However, I can say this: Over the past two years, Alexa has indicated that Blacksda has steadily gained more Web traffic.
>
> Danny says Danny's network is expanding, not Adventistform. Danny makes no claims about the success of any other entities other than his own network.
>
> It would not seem logical to me that if Danny mentions 3ABN, that we must consider all other Web sites, to be fair to all.
>
> One issue, that I did not even touch upon, is that we now have a proliferation of new cable TV networks. Let me illustrate:
>
> Ten years ago, there was only one Trinity Broadcasting Network. Now Trinity has 4 separate networks and is growing. With this comes segmentation and fractionalization of the TV audience.
>
> For the sake of my illustration, if you just add Loma Linda and Hope networks to those Trinity Broadcasting channels mentioned -- and maybe SafeTV -- you quickly have seven networks where there was once one or two national networks.
>
> 1. Hope
> 2. Loma Linda
> 3. Trinity
> 4. Church Channel
> 5. JCTV
> 6. Smile of a Child
> 7. SafeTV
>
> In cable TV, this numerical growth is happening across the board in all types of networks. I have read press releases during months when there were as many as 14 new cable networks either being launched, scheduled to be launched, or in the planning stages.
>
> The playing field for cable channels is getting so crowded that it may be very difficult for 3ABN to stumble into a big public relations fiasco -- with public media involved -- and still make a meaningful recovery when there are so many alternative TV networks out there to choose from.
>
> All indications, as I interpret them, is that 3ABN has been in a slow, long-term decline in actual viewership. They've lost Sky Angel carriage. They're now off the air in India. I don't see any reason for optimism with the current problems hanging over them.
>
> Pete

Re ASI mediation fails!...Of course it failed. No way ASI could be considered neutral and that was obvious from the start. And who wanted "mediation" anyway? Most of us just want verified facts.

Mr Joy is supposed to have them, Johann is supposed to have them, as well as others who claim to have them. It's way past time for full disclosure so that the matter can be put to rest.

I have no love for 3ABn as such but I have to question the validity of those people who continue to make claims and wont produce the evidence.

howdy

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jan 7 2007, 12:32 AM

...and who is gonna let Tommy Shelton babysit their kids? That's what I want to know. That way when it happens again (and it will) the words will wash their faces.

...and sadly - the face of their children/grandchildren/nieces & nephews...

Posted by: Johann Jan 7 2007, 09:15 AM

> QUOTE(fallible humanbeing @ Jan 7 2007, 10:47 AM) ☐
>
> Calvin,
>
> Here is the only other email Bob Pickle has posted that would fit within the time frame he references (both postings I have provided are completely unedited and appear in their entirety so that readers can arrive at their own reasoned conclusions. The only difference is that I bolded the lines -in this posting- that substantiate my claims in my earlier post about Dr. Thompson's comments).
>
> ------- Original Message --------
> Subject: Re: Possible way to win 3ABN critics.
> Date: Mon, 27 Nov 2006 09:04:53 -0600
> From: Walt Thompson
>
> Dear Bob,
>
> \---
> (I will make this one further comment. Whereas there are many accusations on the Internet alledging that Danny cannot be trusted, I disagree. I have known Danny now since the beginning of the ministry. Now more than 23 years. I have been fully appraised of many of the difficulties that he has faced durhoseh ting that time. While Danny sees things from his perspective, as we all do, he is honest and trustworthy. I have found no reason to distrust his reports to me. Yes, there are occasions when after having spoken with both sides of an issue it has been a matter of he said vs she said, but in all situations where I could know the facts, Danny has proven true.)
>
> \---
>
> Sincerely,
>
> Walt

A beautiful statement of solidarity by you, Walt! It is your privilege to disagree with those of us who have experienced Danny Shelton in a different light than you have. As I communicated with Linda on several occasions during her trials in 2004, and I also spoke with you on the phone, I discovered clearly where you bias was. You decided it was more expedient to side with Danny than to believe anything Linda would tell you. Danny made it clear to you that Linda was a liar, and you trusted him explicitly.

As you know, it was Elder Owen Troy, a friend since we worked together in mission service in West Africa, who got me involved with 3ABN after I retired from serving the Seventh-day Adventist Church for about half a century. (Exposing my age!) I trusted Owen, and was therefore convinced the work of 3ABN was honorable and a great service to our Church, and with great enthusiasm I travelled through Europe promoting 3ABN and communicating with Church leaders, several of whom I had known through my previous work.

At first it amazed me to discover with what reluctance several of the Church leaders would have any dealings with 3ABN. When I questioned these good brethren, they told me it was due to questionable dealings of Mr. Danny Shelton.

At one point I wanted to introduce 3ABN to the Church in Norway, and I spoke with President Tor Tjeransen (whose father was a schoolmate of mine). He told me of the reluctance of the Brethren, and he even posted to me the offical minutes of the Trans European Division, which were the basis of why this Divison refused to have anything to do with 3ABN.

I studied these minutes with the scrutiny of Mr. Fallible, discovered some loopholes, and I confronted the Brethren with these. I lobbied faithfully with leaders in conferences, unions, divisions, and the General Conference. Somehow I managed to get their unofffical consent. They saidion to me verbally, but not in writing, Go ahead with your work for 3ABN, but don't let it interefere with our mission, and never state that we have given you an official approval! (You notice I got nothing in writing, so I am here merely giving the gist of what some of these med said to me verbally.) I thought, Fair enough, with Divine help I will work under these conditions. And I fought to convince everybody that Mr. Danny Shelton was a trustworthy person, just like you, Walt, Mr. Fallible, and certain others, are still doing.

What forced me to chage my mind? It was when Danny insisted that Dr. Arild Abrhamsen was in Florida together with Linda at a time when my wife, Irmgard, and I were staying with him in Norway, and she was getting daily treatments from him for her cancer. I knew that it was impossible for him to be in Florida and Norway at the same time. So when Danny kept insisting I knew that the Brethren had a reason why they did not trust Mr. Danny Shelton. It merely strengthen my conviction when Danny then started speaking of 'spiritual adultery', and used all kinds of other ridiculous inventions to prove Linda's guilt, and it has been amazing to see how he with his fabulous salesmanship has been able to convince both you, Walt, and several others, that he is still trustworthy. May God have mercy! How will you be able to stand in the final day of accountability?

I have made a vow with my Lord to stand for the TRUTH and nothing but the truth. It would have been much easier for me personally to support my boss, Mr. Danny Shelton. But that is not what counts in Heaven. The Lord does not want me merely to take the easy way out of this.

There was a time I felt the best way for me was to withdraw from this messy case. I pleaded with the Lord in prayer. Towards morning I fell asleep, and I heard a clear voice speaking to me, If you withdraw and refuse to testify what you have experienced, you will be counted guilty of the crime committed!

So hear I stand - and help me my Lord!!!

Give me a solid proof that I am wrong, and I will support Danny.

Posted by: Ed White Jan 7 2007, 10:07 AM

No sure which poster it was that mentioned these "yes men" as part of the problem, not only at 3ABN but a few others up a few rungs on the corporate ladder may have a few things to unlearn as well in order to be changed into "no" men when "no" should have been on their lips from the very start.

"But now time is almost finished, and what we have been years learning, they will have to learn in a few months. They will also have much to unlearn and much to learn again. Those who would not receive the mark of the beast and his image when the decree goes forth, must have decision now to say, Nay , we will not regard the institution of the beast." EW 67
===========
This definition given in the post above using the word "sham" is a good word & does apply, but it should not be used on the innocient being fed bogus information if they were just honestly mistaken, as it is getting to late in the day for such to remain under this cloud.

Posted by: Johann Jan 7 2007, 10:19 AM

There is a clarion call to be true and honest and to cleanse all filth and lucre from the church before the final events transpire and we see the small cloud of glory in the sky showing us that Jesus in approaching. Who will be true and faithful and give up their cherished darling sins?

Posted by: Pickle Jan 7 2007, 10:20 AM

Ed, I recommend that you make your points in a way that kindly invites folks to take a stand. There is no need to make people defensive when another course is possible.

People all over have honestly believed that Danny was in the right. Whenever possible we should give them the benefit of the doubt.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jan 7 2007, 10:31 AM

Child molestation people....CHILD MOLESTATION.

I will say that every now and then to remind people..... could it be your child or one of your loved one's next?

Posted by: Johann Jan 7 2007, 10:50 AM

> QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jan 7 2007, 06:31 PM) ☐
>
> Child molestation people....CHILD MOLESTATION.
>
> I will say that every now and then to remind people..... could it be your child or one of your loved one's next?

You have posted some intersting mottoes for the past 3 years. What will it be for 2007?

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jan 7 2007, 04:04 PM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jan 7 2007, 12:50 PM)
>
> You have posted some intersting mottoes for the past 3 years. What will it be for 2007?

I know it's off topic...but you know Johann... I'm actually working on one right now....

Gimmie till mid-month - end of January.... I want to put some thought into it...

I got one tho'..... I been meaning to say it.... but it won't be the only one....

"Droppin' rocks since 1971..."

Meaning? Not sinless am I (Yoda speak) - therefore I can't be tossing stones at glass houses, trying to pull toothpicks outta my brother's eye, etc. I've been slowly dropping my rocks since I was born...how many others are droppin' their rocks? How many folks are making it about "protecting the innocents" and not themselves?

end rant
Sorry....I got sidetracked.....

Posted by: roxe Jan 7 2007, 04:32 PM

> QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jan 7 2007, 03:04 PM)
>
> I know it's off topic...
> How many folks are making it about "protecting the innocents" and not themselves?
>
> end rant
> Sorry....I got sidetracked.....

you're not off topic... nor sidetracked... cuz thats exactly what its all about remember what Jesus said in Luke 17, that its gonna be like sodom in the days when He comes back... when you think about it, if "those people" would do that to strangers, what in the world were they doing to their own children behind closed doors??

now that don't mean that we haveta sit back and let it happen just cuz Jesus said it would...

what needs to be done about two brothers who appear to use and abuse underage children?? lets start walkin the talk...

Posted by: Ed White Jan 7 2007, 05:20 PM

> QUOTE(Pickle @ Jan 7 2007, 10:20 AM)

> Ed, I recommend that you make your points in a way that kindly invites folks to take a stand. There is no need to make people defensive when another course is possible.
>
> People all over have honestly believed that Danny was in the right. Whenever possible we should give them the benefit of the doubt.

Pickle what part of my post above in your opinion should be toned down, was it the SOP I used that cut the chase & did the cutting? There is no nice way to tell "yes men" that they made a bad mistake and should have said "no" at the right time to nip some of this mess in the bud. We are talking about conference presidents knowing most of the things you now know long before you knew it. Are they not appointed by God to be a watchmen on the walls of Zion to tell the innocient when the enemy is approaching? If they are not true watchmen them we elected the wrong people.

Posted by: awesumtenor Jan 7 2007, 05:25 PM

> QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jan 7 2007, 05:04 PM)
>
> How many folks are making it about "protecting the innocents" and not themselves?
>
> end rant
> Sorry....I got sidetracked.....

Dunno about innocents... but there seem to be more than few of the johnny-come-lately crew seeking to protect the not-so-innocent... even if it is at the expense of the innocent...

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 7 2007, 06:56 PM

> QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jan 6 2007, 09:16 AM)
>
> I'mma put this in e'ry thread I go to that mentions Tommy Shelton's name....
>
> "How many of you proponents/opponents would allow Tommy Shelton to babysit your children/grandchildren/nieces/nephews?"
>
> Can anyone realize that it's now going beyond this church (SDA's/Sunday Churches) - but to the innocents? CHILDREN?
>
> sigh
>
> Someone's child is in danger.... my LORD!

PrincessDrRe
I nominate you to be the official "Would You Let Tommy Babysit Your Loved One" Reminderer. Do I hear a second?

Posted by: roxe Jan 7 2007, 07:03 PM

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Jan 7 2007, 05:56 PM) ☐
>
> PrincessDrRe
> I nominate you to be the official "Would You Let Tommy Babysit Your Loved One" Reminderer. Do I hear a second?

second!

Posted by: Johann Jan 7 2007, 07:32 PM

> QUOTE(roxe @ Jan 8 2007, 03:03 AM) ☐
>
> second!

All in favor say Aye -- OOOOppsss! I'm not the BOSS

Posted by: Fran Jan 7 2007, 09:45 PM

> QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jan 7 2007, 10:31 AM) ☐
>
> Child molestation people....CHILD MOLESTATION.
>
> I will say that every now and then to remind people..... could it be your child or one of your loved one's next?

I understand and appreciate your jogging our memories. Yes, it could be my child, and it was!

There are so many diverse problems, that each must be dealt with in a very NON-CONFUSING MANNER. I give Bob a hands up for bring out this information through his investigation. Thank you Bob!

In my opinion it is a right decision to clear up the mess with Tommy Shelton. There are many supporters of 3ABN. They will back Danny 100%. However, a non-Adventist, as an employee of 3ABN, being forced to retire, makes Danny's action acceptable by those supporters. It will also bring the public into other information about 3ABN. We all want Tommy & Danny away from all the children.

I believe this will happen in time.

I also believe if we address the peripheral problems, one at a time, they will all lead us to the center of the problem. One by one, each will point straight to the source of all of the problems. Exposure will not overwhelm those reading.

Let us remember also the Danny has like allegations against him. Thought has to be given to make sure it is all taken care of. As in a maze, sometimes going backwards is the best solution.

Like I said, I agree with you 199%. I would never want Tommy or Danny near my children, however, one day in July, 2004, 3ABN landed in the church I used to belong to. I chose not to go see the man that was an alleged sexual deviant. However, my grand-daughter did go. She is a show girl from her birth. She moves like a model. Why, because my daughter does. She is a bombshell, and her child is a clone.

Danny took and gave very special attention to her. I heard all about it. She is the kiss and tell type. I was furious. He fed her some of his food and told her she was a very pretty little girl. My friend that was watching her for the day became very uncomfortable, but couldn't put her finger on what it was.

I understand about our children, believe me.

If I believed that putting it all out there at one time, I would be screaming to the investigators to get it done. However, by putting one issue out at a time, we have been able to stop the Voltaire wanna be's and answer every question until it is settled.

If it all hits at once, we will be bombarded with accusations and confusion about all of the problems, which are many, all at once. The presentation must be in a logical sequence, in its own time. God is not the author of confusion.

Does this make sense?

I place my trust in the investigators of these problems. I whole heartedly approve of the way everything I am aware of has taken place. Soon we will see more and then more and then more until the desired affect is achieved. This is one heavy responsibility for the investigators. I solicit your prayers for them. They need it.

Posted by: Skyhook Jan 8 2007, 01:20 PM

Concerning mediation or whatever might need to be involved in resolving the 3abn situation, I would nominate A. Leroy Moore to be involved. He is probably retired but is still active. IMHO, his books are a must read for anyone concerned about the conflicts within the church. His books "Advenitsm in Conflict" and "Questions on Doctrine Revisited" are excellent and provide insights as to how we ought to deal with some of the serious problems that have been and are in the church.

As I understand it he mentored Doug Batchelor early on and had something to do with his call into the ministry. He also was involved in helping 2 young men return to the church after leaving and getting involved in an offshoot. They now have thier own independant, supportive ministry that is making a positive impact in many places around the world.

I met pastor Moore briefly, a few months ago and he seems like truly a Spirit filled Christian man.

Anyway, he would get my vote, for what its worth, to have some role in any mediation, or whatever.

Posted by: inga Jan 8 2007, 08:39 PM

> QUOTE(Skyhook @ Jan 8 2007, 02:20 PM) ☐
>
> Concerning mediation or whatever might need to be involved in resolving the 3abn situation, I would nominate A. Leroy Moore to be involved. He is probably retired but is still active. IMHO, his books are a must read for anyone concerned about the conflicts within the church. His books "Advenitsm in Conflict" and "Questions on Doctrine Revisited" are excellent and provide insights as to how we ought to deal with some of the serious problems that have been and are in the church.
>
> As I understand it he mentored Doug Batchelor early on and had something to do with his call into the ministry. He also was involved in helping 2 young men return to the church after leaving and getting involved in an offshoot. They now have thier own independant, supportive ministry that is making a positive impact in many places around the world.
>
> I met pastor Moore briefly, a few months ago and he seems like truly a Spirit filled Christian man.
>
> Anyway, he would get my vote, for what its worth, to have some role in any mediation, or whatever.

I agree with everyting you've said about Pastor Moore. If anyone could mediate, Pastor Moore probably could. By the grace of God, he has been able to bring together sides that were both earnestly trying to serve God, while focusing on different aspects of truth and being convinced that the other side is wrong.

I wish this were all that is wrong with 3ABN. However, I don't believe we are just dealing with different (perhaps extreme) aspects of truth, but likely with deep corruption that requires a different sort of approach. If the Shelton's were willing to accept Pastor Moore as a counselor, that would be a whole different story.

Posted by: Observer Jan 9 2007, 05:22 AM

> QUOTE(inga @ Jan 8 2007, 07:39 PM) ☐

> I agree with everyting you've said about Pastor Moore. If anyone could mediate, Pastor Moore probably could. By the grace of God, he has been able to bring together sides that were both earnestly trying to serve God, while focusing on different aspects of truth and being convinced that the other side is wrong.
>
> I wish this were all that is wrong with 3ABN. However, I don't believe we are just dealing with different (perhaps extreme) aspects of truth, but likely with deep corruption that requires a different sort of approach. If the Shelton's were willing to accept Pastor Moore as a counselor, that would be a whole different story.

I believe that the only resolution of these issues that can take place will need to be done in other venues. I expect that will happen in the civil realm. I expect that this will take time, but that some movement will take place this month. And for some of these issues, I believe that this is the only venue that can be fair to all parties.

Resolution has to be fair to all. Otherwise there will be no resolution. People will continue to claim a lack of fairness. Resolution must not only be fair, but appear to be fair.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jan 9 2007, 03:50 PM

> QUOTE(Fran @ Jan 7 2007, 11:45 PM) ☐
>
> I understand and appreciate your jogging our memories. Yes, it could be my child, and it was!
>
> There are so many diverse problems, that each must be dealt with in a very NON-CONFUSING MANNER. I give Bob a hands up for bring out this information through his investigation. Thank you Bob!
>
> In my opinion it is a right decision to clear up the mess with Tommy Shelton. There are many supporters of 3ABN. They will back Danny 100%. However, a non-Adventist, as an employee of 3ABN, being forced to retire, makes Danny's action acceptable by those supporters. It will also bring the public into other information about 3ABN. We all want Tommy & Danny away from all the children.
>
> I believe this will happen in time.
>
> I also believe if we address the peripheral problems, one at a time, they will all lead us to the center of the problem. One by one, each will point straight to the source of all of the problems. Exposure will not overwhelm those reading.
>
> Let us remember also the Danny has like allegations against him. Thought has to be given to make sure it is all taken care of. As in a maze, sometimes going backwards is the best solution.
>
> Like I said, I agree with you 199%. I would never want Tommy or Danny near my children, however, one day in July, 2004, 3ABN landed in the church I used to belong to. I chose not to go see the man that was an alleged sexual deviant. However, my grand-daughter did go. She is a show girl from her birth. She moves like a model. Why, because my daughter does. She is a bombshell, and her child is a clone.
>
> Danny took and gave very special attention to her. I heard all about it. She is the kiss and tell type. I was furious. He fed her some of his food and told her she was a very pretty little girl. My friend that was watching her for the day became very uncomfortable, but couldn't put her finger on what it was.
>
> I understand about our children, believe me.
>
> If I believed that putting it all out there at one time, I would be screaming to the investigators to get it done. However, by putting one issue out at a time, we have been able to stop the Voltaire wanna be's and answer every question until it is settled.
>
> If it all hits at once, we will be bombarded with accusations and confusion about all of the problems, which are many, all at once. The presentation must be in a logical sequence, in its own time. God is not the author of confusion.
>
> Does this make sense?
>
> I place my trust in the investigators of these problems. I whole heartedly approve of the way everything I am aware of has taken place. Soon we will see more and then more and then more until the desired affect is achieved. This is one heavy responsibility for the investigators. I solicit your prayers for them. They need it.

I appreciate your response to the question....and the fact that you can relate. Prayers for your child also.....

So far I got one for NO (besides myself).....

"How many of you proponents/opponents would allow Tommy Shelton to babysit your children/grandchildren/nieces/nephews?"

sn

Posted by: simplysaved Jan 9 2007, 03:56 PM

I'm old school...there are not too many people that I would allow to babysit for my children (when I have them) anyway....and then only certain members of my family (like my mom)--and while we are in this ballpark, no Michael Jackson sleepovers either!!! (Just keepin' it real!)

> QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jan 9 2007, 04:50 PM)
>
> I appreciate your response to the question....and the fact that you can relate. Prayers for your child also.....
>
> So far I got one for NO (besides myself).....
>
> "How many of you proponents/opponents would allow Tommy Shelton to babysit your children/grandchildren/nieces/nephews?"
>
> sn

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 9 2007, 04:15 PM

> QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jan 9 2007, 02:50 PM)
>
> I appreciate your response to the question....and the fact that you can relate. Prayers for your child also.....
>
> So far I got one for NO (besides myself).....
>
> "How many of you proponents/opponents would allow Tommy Shelton to babysit your children/grandchildren/nieces/nephews?"
>
> sn

PrincessDrRe, I was sure I had voted "no" as well. Hey, why don't you start a poll and see what develops there? I'll be right over to vote if ya do!

PB

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jan 9 2007, 04:27 PM

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Jan 9 2007, 06:15 PM)
>
> PrincessDrRe, I was sure I had voted "no" as well. Hey, why don't you start a poll and see what develops there? I'll be right over to vote if ya do!
>
> PB

Consider it done!

Posted by: Aunt B Jan 9 2007, 09:40 PM

> QUOTE(Observer @ Jan 9 2007, 06:22 AM)
>
> Resolution has to be fair to all. Otherwise there will be no resolution. People will continue to claim a lack of fairness. Resolution must not only be fair, but appear to be fair.

I agree that there are many issues that have to be addressed in civil court. Certainly the criminal behaviors that have allegedly occured. The victims of these crimes have a right to legal protection.

I appreciate what is being said here about fairness. It would be nice to think that there can be a "fair" resolution to the Shelton issues and allegations. However, I fear that may never happen. In discussion last week in Sabbath school, several brought up the issue of "fairness." It was concluded that rarely, if ever, are things fair in life, not even with God's people in the Bible. It is something that we always want, but how often is it a reality?

While I would like to see Linda completely vindicated, because I think she deserves vindication, I wonder if that will happen. It seems to me that the bigger issue is vindication of God and the way He is being misrepresented by the problems at 3abn. Many of us reading/posting here have suffered unfairly in life, and we always long for vindication. In the bigger picture though, this isn't about us, or our vindication. Maybe not even Linda's. It seems to me that it is all about God and how He is represented by those who claim to be working in His name. If there is vindication, it will be His. Maybe the individuals who stand nearest to Him will be vindicated as well.

Just some thoughts...

Aunt B

Posted by: inga Jan 9 2007, 10:47 PM

> QUOTE(Aunt B @ Jan 9 2007, 10:40 PM)
>
> It seems to me that the bigger issue is vindication of God and the way He is being misrepresented by the problems at 3abn. Many of us reading/posting here have suffered unfairly in life, and we always long for vindication. In the bigger picture though, this isn't about us, or our vindication. Maybe not even Linda's. It seems to me that it is all about God and how He is represented by those who claim to be working in His name.

Well said, Aunt B!

Posted by: Johann Jan 24 2007, 11:52 PM

> QUOTE(Aunt B @ Jan 10 2007, 05:40 AM)
>
> I agree that there are many issues that have to be addressed in civil court. Certainly the criminal behaviors that have allegedly occured. The victims of these crimes have a right to legal protection.
>
> ---
>
> Aunt B

How could this have been handled by ASI? A civil court in an option now.

Posted by: Ozzie Jan 27 2007, 05:10 AM

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Jan 10 2007, 08:15 AM)
>
> PrincessDrRe, I was sure I had voted "no" as well. Hey, why don't you start a poll and see what develops there? I'll be right over to vote if ya do!
>
> PB

I thought that I had voted NO also. I'm rather fussy about who takes care of my kids and grand kids. Most people don't qualify!

Posted by: JustTana Jan 27 2007, 03:22 PM

Dear PrincessDrRe:

NO, a THOUSAND TIMES NO!!! I would NOT let Tommy Shelton anywhere near my two beautiful grandchildren, or Danny Shelton either for that matter!! My oldest is a precious boy of four years old who is ver-r-ry cute and is loving and kind and extremely shy and would be a perfect candidate for some sicko like TS. His little sister, one and a half is very pretty, and knows it! But I think Danny might have a harder time because she is very aware, even at this young age, of her personal space. She just might scratch him!!

However, I have a personal experience I would like to share. Because of a family member who was extremely jealous of me and who teased me from the day I was born, I grew up in a constant state of trying to find people who would validate my very existance.

I was accosted by a man who all of you SDA's of many years would know immediately. I was 14 and did housecleaning for his wife one afternoon a week. Because of my early life I 'wore my heart on my sleeve' so to speak and one afternoon, this man reached for my blouse and said at the same time, "You're a warm little sister, aren't you?!" I quickly moved to avoid his hand and finished my work. I don't remember whether I ever went back there again. But my heart was broken because I had held him in such high esteem and I loved him as a man of God. I could listen to him preach no matter how long past 12:00 he talked. He was so warm in the pulpit, but I found out he was 'warm' outside of the pulpit too! This man was well known throughout the world having started a radio ministry which is now a television ministry, although he has been dead now for many years. I never said anything about it until years later when I was having a lot of trouble in my marriage. It also makes me wonder how many other girls he accosted in that manner during his life?

One day I told my sister about the early childhood memories of this family member teasing me and making my life miserable. When I mentioned that he had also raped me when I was nine years old, she exclaimed, "Well, that explains a lot. Now I understand a lot better why you have had such a hard time growing up." (There is much more to my story but suffice it to say will not go into it now.) I am still trying to deal with this family member who is always involved in family get togethers at various times during the years. I have gone the route of trying to 'forgive' him and go on with my life, but there was so much controversy surrounding me that I didn't know what to do with as a hurting teenager. My parents tried to protect me from him, but he would tease me when they were not around. I was so sensitive to their long hours of working hard just to put food on the table and a roof over our heads that I tried to become "perfect." As it is now, I am a frustrated, 65 year old perfectionist who wants everything to look nice, but wants someone else to do it. I struggle with Chronic Lymphocytic Leukemia and the weakness which allows other diseases to grow into very difficult health issues.

My sister tried to talk to this family member, but he denies that he EVER did ANYTHING to me, not to mention rape, or to other family members. His behavior toward me made me an extremely sensitive little child, and she says that while I was a happy little girl when he was not around I would be totally different when he came home from school every afternoon.

I have finally begun to realize that most of his behavior was due to his being a classic case of ADHD which no one had ever heard of in the forties and fifties. He was always in trouble. I could make good grades while he could not even get the information -- which he knew in his head! -- down on paper to PROVE that he knew it. He never got anything other than an "F"s during his whole school life. But he is the only one in the family who can make money! rofl So while I understand his behavior from a psychological standpoint, it doesn't help me to know how to change my own thinking patterns today. I'm really screwed up, yanno? I can put up a pretty good front but it doesn't really cut it. s

Please pray for me? Thanks!

P.S. Calvin, Princess or Clay, if this belongs somewhere else please move it.

JT

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 27 2007, 03:44 PM

> QUOTE(JustTana @ Jan 27 2007, 02:22 PM)
>
> Dear PrincessDrRe:
>
> NO, a THOUSAND TIMES NO!!! I would NOT let Tommy Shelton anywhere near my two beautiful grandchildren, or Danny Shelton either for that matter!! My oldest is a precious boy of four years old who is ver-r-ry cute and is loving and kind and extremely shy and would be a perfect candidate for some sicko like TS. His little sister, one and a half is very pretty, and knows it! But I think Danny might have a harder time because she is very aware, even at this young age, of her personal space. She just might scratch him!!
>
> However, I have a personal experience I would like to share. Because of a family member who was extremely jealous of me and who teased me from the day I was born, I grew up in a constant state of trying to find people who would validate my very existance.
>
> I was accosted by a man who all of you SDA's of many years would know immediately. I was 14 and did housecleaning for his wife one afternoon a week. Because of my early life I 'wore my heart on my sleeve' so to speak and one afternoon, this man reached for my blouse and said at the same time, "You're a warm little sister, aren't you?!" I quickly moved to avoid his hand and finished my work. I don't remember whether I ever went back there again. But my heart was broken because I had held him in such high esteem and I loved him as a man of God. I could listen to him preach no matter how long past 12:00 he talked. He was so warm in the pulpit, but I found out he was 'warm' outside of the pulpit too! This man was well known throughout the world having started a radio ministry which is now a television ministry, although he has been dead now for many years. I never said anything about it until years later when I was having a lot of trouble in my marriage. It also makes me wonder how many other girls he accosted in that manner during his life?
>
> One day I told my sister about the early childhood memories of this family member teasing me and making my life miserable. When I mentioned that he had also raped me when I was nine years old, she exclaimed, "Well, that explains a lot. Now I understand a lot better why you have had such a hard time growing up." (There is much more to my story but suffice it to say will not go into it now.) I am still trying to deal with this family member who is always involved in family get togethers at various times during the years. I have gone the route of trying to 'forgive' him and go on with my life, but there was so much controversy surrounding me that I didn't know what to do with as a hurting teenager. My parents tried to protect me from him, but he would tease me when they were not around. I was so sensitive to their long hours of working hard just to put food on the table and a roof over our heads that I tried to become "perfect." As it is now, I am a frustrated, 65 year old perfectionist who wants everything to look nice, but wants someone else to do it. I struggle with Chronic Lymphocytic Leukemia and the weakness which allows other diseases to grow into very difficult health issues.
>
> My sister tried to talk to this family member, but he denies that he EVER did ANYTHING to me, not to mention rape, or to other family members. His behavior toward me made me an extremely sensitive little child, and she says that while I was a happy little girl when he was not around I would be totally different when he came home from school every afternoon.
>
> I have finally begun to realize that most of his behavior was due to his being a classic case of ADHD which no one had ever heard of in the forties and fifties. He was always in trouble. I could make good grades while he could not even get the information -- which he knew in his head! --down on paper to PROVE that he knew it. He never got anything other than an "F"s during his whole school life. But he is the only one in the family who can make money! rofl So while I > understand his behavior from a psychological standpoint, it doesn't help me to know how to change my own thinking patterns today. I'm really screwed up, yanno? I can put up a pretty good front but it doesn't really cut it.

>
> Please pray for me? Thanks!
>
> P.S. Calvin, Princess or Clay, if this belongs somewhere else please move it.
>
> JT

JustTana, yes I will pray for you!!! Be strong in the Lord and in His mighty power.

PB

Posted by: JustTana Jan 27 2007, 03:54 PM

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Jan 27 2007, 04:44 PM)
>
> JustTana, yes I will pray for you!!! Be strong in the Lord and in His mighty power.
>
> PB

Thank you PB.

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jan 27 2007, 03:59 PM

JT what you wrote took courage. Thanks. You will be in many prayers.

Richard

> QUOTE(JustTana @ Jan 27 2007, 04:22 PM)
>
> Dear PrincessDrRe:
>
> NO, a THOUSAND TIMES NO!!! I would NOT let Tommy Shelton anywhere near my two beautiful grandchildren, or Danny Shelton either for that matter!! My oldest is a precious boy of four years old who is ver-r-ry cute and is loving and kind and extremely shy and would be a perfect candidate for some sicko like TS. His little sister, one and a half is very pretty, and knows it! But I think Danny might have a harder time because she is very aware, even at this young age, of her personal space. She just might scratch him!!

However, I have a personal experience I would like to share. Because of a family member who was extremely jealous of me and who teased me from the day I was born, I grew up in a constant state of trying to find people who would validate my very existance.

I was accosted by a man who all of you SDA's of many years would know immediately. I was 14 and did housecleaning for his wife one afternoon a week. Because of my early life I 'wore my heart on my sleeve' so to speak and one afternoon, this man reached for my blouse and said at the same time, "You're a warm little sister, aren't you?!" I quickly moved to avoid his hand and finished my work. I don't remember whether I ever went back there again. But my heart was broken because I had held him in such high esteem and I loved him as a man of God. I could listen to him preach no matter how long past 12:00 he talked. He was so warm in the pulpit, but I found out he was 'warm' outside of the pulpit too! This man was well known throughout the world having started a radio ministry which is now a television ministry, although he has been dead now for many years. I never said anything about it until years later when I was having a lot of trouble in my marriage. It also makes me wonder how many other girls he accosted in that manner during his life?

One day I told my sister about the early childhood memories of this family member teasing me and making my life miserable. When I mentioned that he had also raped me when I was nine years old, she exclaimed, "Well, that explains a lot. Now I understand a lot better why you have had such a hard time growing up." (There is much more to my story but suffice it to say will not go into it now.) I am still trying to deal with this family member who is always involved in family get togethers at various times during the years. I have gone the route of trying to 'forgive' him and go on with my life, but there was so much controversy surrounding me that I didn't know what to do with as a hurting teenager. My parents tried to protect me from him, but he would tease me when they were not around. I was so sensitive to their long hours of working hard just to put food on the table and a roof over our heads that I tried to become "perfect." As it is now, I am a frustrated, 65 year old perfectionist who wants everything to look nice, but wants someone else to do it. I struggle with Chronic Lymphocytic Leukemia and the weakness which allows other diseases to grow into very difficult health issues.

My sister tried to talk to this family member, but he denies that he EVER did ANYTHING to me, not to mention rape, or to other family members. His behavior toward me made me an extremely sensitive little child, and she says that while I was a happy little girl when he was not around I would be totally different when he came home from school every afternoon.

I have finally begun to realize that most of his behavior was due to his being a classic case of ADHD which no one had ever heard of in the forties and fifties. He was always in trouble. I could make good grades while he could not even get the information -- which he knew in his head! --down on paper to PROVE that he knew it. He never got anything other than an "F"s during his whole school life. But he is the only one in the family who can make money! rofl So while I understand his behavior from a psychological standpoint, it doesn't help me to know how to change my own thinking patterns today. I'm really screwed up, yanno? I can put up a pretty good front but it doesn't really cut it.

Please pray for me? Thanks!

P.S. Calvin, Princess or Clay, if this belongs somewhere else please move it.

JT

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 27 2007, 04:20 PM

JustTana,
I can't say how sorry and disgusted I am that you have been abused in such a way. And from a person in "authority", it makes it even worse. Please know that there was nothing you did to provoke such an action. A person took advantage of you and you've been hurt by it all these years. So many in your situation blame themselves or question themselves wondering what the abuser saw in you to think that they could harm you in such a way. I want to tell you that it was him, not you!

Now that you are older, we should expect for those things to be a distant memory, right? Wrong! I have said before that my wife was abused by a family member when she was young and carried the shame with her for years. After she was able to tell me about it, something she wasn't able to do with her own family, we talked to a lovely counselor who helped my wife understand that she was the victim, not the aggressor. Through prayer and counseling...and prayer, my wife was able to let Jesus come in and take all that pain and guilt and shame away.

And JT, He'll do the same thing for you! It doesn't matter if you're 16 or 61, you are a child of God and He loves you as His own flesh and blood. Because of that, He wants you to be a healthy, happy, and loving person. He's there with you, I know it. Do all you can to stop living as a victim! Reach out and let God take it from you. Start living today!

Much love and blessings to you, JT!

Posted by: inga Jan 27 2007, 08:14 PM

> QUOTE(JustTana @ Jan 27 2007, 04:22 PM)
>
> I have finally begun to realize that most of his behavior was due to his being a classic case of ADHD which no one had ever heard of in the forties and fifties. He was always in trouble. I could make good grades while he could not even get the information -- which he knew in his head! --down on paper to PROVE that he knew it. He never got anything other than an "F"s during his whole school life. But he is the only one in the family who can make money! rofl So while I understand his behavior from a psychological standpoint, it doesn't help me to know how to change my own thinking patterns today. I'm really screwed up, yanno? I can put up a pretty good front but it doesn't really cut it. s
>
> Please pray for me? Thanks!

Dear JT, I'm praying for you right now -- that our loving Father will wrap His arms of love around you and let you feel (for you know by intellect) that you are loved, that you are important to Him. God would rather empty heaven of all the angels than let you be lost!

I believe you have taken a step towards healing by writing about your experience. You know that the family member who abused you did so from his own sense of powerlessness and feelings of worthlessness. You were just an easy victim within his circle of influence. That he picked on you had nothing to do with you! If someone else would have been easier to abuse, he would abused that one. You just happened to be there. And, remember, that you did nothing to deserve to be demeaned through rape. And the rape took nothing away from your intrinsic worth. You are still precious to God! You are still beautiful to Him!

That you are "screwed up" in your thinking patterns today is probably a result of the lies implanted in your heart through the abuse. While you intellectually know that you are important, that you are precious to God, you don't feel it. When next you experience those negative emotions, ask the Lord to take you back to the first time you felt those emotions and show you the truth about that event. Ask Jesus to take the lies away from your heart. And don't try to suppress your feelings and thoughts about the matter. They will just try to come through in another way. It's best to face them head-on, in the light. Keep talking to God about this.

May He bless you and keep you and be graciout to you! ☒ hug.gif

---

112

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ God Never Fires!... And Other Stories

Posted by: Green Cochoa Jan 23 2007, 11:57 AM

Perhaps these voices will need no introduction here...

God never fires! 3ABN_Live_18_23Jan07_GodNeverFires.mp3 (264.08k) Number of downloads: 157

Why do pastors spread rumors? 3ABN_Live_18_23Jan07_PastorSpreadsRumors.mp3 (330.61k) Number of downloads: 142

No accountability online! 3ABN_Live_18_23Jan07_NoAccountabilityOnline.mp3 (417.14k) Number of downloads: 119

Alright, that's enough to discuss for one post.

Posted by: Johann Jan 23 2007, 12:05 PM

> QUOTE(Green Cochoa @ Jan 23 2007, 07:57 PM)
>
> Perhaps these voices will need no introduction here...
> God never fires! 3ABN_Live_18_23Jan07_GodNeverFires.mp3 (264.08k) Number of downloads: 157
>
> Why do pastors spread rumors? 3ABN_Live_18_23Jan07_PastorSpreadsRumors.mp3 (330.61k) Number of downloads: 142
>
> No accountability online! 3ABN_Live_18_23Jan07_NoAccountabilityOnline.mp3 (417.14k) Number of downloads: 119
>
> Alright, that's enough to discuss for one post.

Why is there no accountability on radio/TV? People take rumors broadcast as the real truth without checking the sources.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 23 2007, 12:07 PM

> QUOTE(Green Cochoa @ Jan 23 2007, 10:57 AM)
>
> Perhaps these voices will need no introduction here...
> God never fires! 3ABN_Live_18_23Jan07_GodNeverFires.mp3 (264.08k) Number of downloads: 157
>
> Why do pastors spread rumors? 3ABN_Live_18_23Jan07_PastorSpreadsRumors.mp3 (330.61k) Number of downloads: 142
>
> No accountability online! 3ABN_Live_18_23Jan07_NoAccountabilityOnline.mp3 (417.14k) Number of downloads: 119
>
> Alright, that's enough to discuss for one post.

It is not the internet alone where this lack of accountability can exist. Sometimes it can even be broadcast throughout the world by satellite with millions believing every word.

Posted by: Clay Jan 23 2007, 12:25 PM

"Once God calls us he never fires us?" Unbelievable... no wonder people shake their heads at some of the foolishness christians (so-called) preach....

pastors spreading rumors and the other clip.... they are clueless...

Posted by: watchbird Jan 23 2007, 12:41 PM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jan 23 2007, 01:25 PM)
>
> "Once God calls us he never fires us?" Unbelievable... no wonder people shake their heads at some of the foolishness christians (so-called) preach....
>
> pastors spreading rumors and the other clip.... they are clueless...

Not "clueless"... just forgetting.... ignoring.... or defying the facts... that their judgment of others reveals first of all the desires, contents, intents, and purposes of their own hearts.

So OF COURSE they must claim that "God never fires"! How else could they continue in their claim to be God's "anointed one".

OF COURSE they would assume that "pastors spread rumors". That is exactly what they have done and continue to do.

And OF COURSE they note that there is "No accountability online"! That is precisely their attitude when it comes to being accountable to any authority.... be it the church they pretend to represent, the donors who support them, or the government of the country to which they belong.

Ho... humm.... so predictable.... .....

Posted by: ex3ABNemployee Jan 23 2007, 12:49 PM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jan 23 2007, 12:25 PM) ☐
>
> "Once God calls us he never fires us?" Unbelievable... no wonder people shake their heads at some of the foolishness christians (so-called) preach....
>
> pastors spreading rumors and the other clip.... they are clueless...

Desperation is setting in. You can hear it in their voices.

Posted by: Observer Jan 23 2007, 01:20 PM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jan 23 2007, 11:25 AM) ☐
>
> "Once God calls us he never fires us?" Unbelievable... no wonder people shake their heads at some of the foolishness christians (so-called) preach....
>
> pastors spreading rumors and the other clip.... they are clueless...

Listen carefully to the words. The statement is that God does not fire us if God has called us, and we are doing God's work.

NOTE: It was qualified. Why would God fire us if God hired us and we continue to do God's work.

Posted by: lookin4truth Jan 23 2007, 01:25 PM

"Once God calls us he never fires us"

(1Sa 15:26) And Samuel said unto Saul, I will not return with thee: for thou hast rejected the word of the LORD, and the LORD hath rejected thee from being king over Israel.

As Donald Trump would say, "Saul, YOU'RE Fired"

Posted by: Chimaz Jan 23 2007, 02:06 PM

> QUOTE(lookin4truth @ Jan 23 2007, 11:25 AM) ☐
>
> [color=#3333FF]
> As Donald Trump would say, "Saul, YOU'RE Fired"

And as Homer Simpson would say - DOH!

BUT Saul's replacement wasn't to take possession of the throne until Saul was removed. AND that task was not commissioned to anyone in Israel. NOBODY, not even David received had received permission or a command from God to remove Saul from the throne. Any attempt to do so would have been presumptuous and a violation of God's will.

Posted by: lookin4truth Jan 23 2007, 02:44 PM

> QUOTE(Chimaz @ Jan 23 2007, 03:06 PM) ☐
>
> BUT Saul's replacement wasn't to take possession of the throne until Saul was removed. AND that task was not commissioned to anyone in Israel. NOBODY, not even David received had received permission or a command from God to remove Saul from the throne. Any attempt to do so would have been presumptuous and a violation of God's will.

The post was in response to the quote "Once God calls us he never fires us".

The fact is that God does, at times, "fire" those who fail to continue in His ways.

In response your reply, there is nowhere that shows David ever sought "permission or command from God to remove Saul from the throne", but God may have given him the option.

David's men reminded him, "Behold the day of which the LORD said unto thee, Behold, I will deliver thine enemy into thine hand, that thou mayest do to him as it shall seem good unto thee."

David chose not to touch Saul. It was his conviction not to touch the Lord's anointed.

There are times, however, when God commanded men to carry out justice.

(Deut 17:5-8) Then shalt thou bring forth that man or that woman, which have committed that wicked thing, unto thy gates, even that man or that woman, and shalt stone them with stones, till they die. At the mouth of two witnesses, or three witnesses, shall he that is worthy of death be put to death; but at the mouth of one witness he shall not be put to death. The hands of the witnesses shall be first upon him to put him to death, and afterward the hands of all the people. So thou shalt put the evil away from among you. If there arise a matter too hard for thee in judgment, between blood and blood, between plea and plea, and between stroke and stroke, being matters of controversy within thy gates: then shalt thou arise, and get thee up into the place which the LORD thy God shall choose;

God, very often, uses men to bring about judgment. Sometimes he uses the righteous, and sometimes he uses heathen to bring about his divine judgment (i.e. Babylon, Assyria, Philistines, etc.).

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 23 2007, 02:56 PM

> QUOTE(Chimaz @ Jan 23 2007, 01:06 PM) ☐
>
> And as Homer Simpson would say - DOH!
>
> BUT Saul's replacement wasn't to take possession of the throne until Saul was removed. AND that task was not commissioned to anyone in Israel. NOBODY, not even David received had received permission or a command from God to remove Saul from the throne. Any attempt to do so would have been presumptuous and a violation of God's will.

Of course that scenario took place during the Old Testament era Theocracy and doesn't exactly fit with this present scenario:

1. The President of 3abn is not a king set up by the Lord Himself as Saul was.
2. A pastor who violates the Law of God and church doctrine can most assuredly be fired by the proper officials.
3. By inspiration, Paul, Ellen White and others gave us counsel and guidelines on what to do with unrepentant brethren.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jan 23 2007, 03:31 PM

Point blank and blunt.

GOD does fire. If you aren't doing his will he won't let it be that way forever....

So...in the end...GOD does fire....

Posted by: inga Jan 23 2007, 04:26 PM

> QUOTE(Green Cochoa @ Jan 23 2007, 12:57 PM) ☐
>
> Perhaps these voices will need no introduction here...
> God never fires! ☐ 3ABN_Live_18_23Jan07_GodNeverFires.mp3 (264.08k) Number of downloads: 157

Lessee .. that would be John Lomacang?

> QUOTE
>
> Why do pastors spread rumors? ☐ 3ABN_Live_18_23Jan07_PastorSpreadsRumors.mp3 (330.61k) Number of downloads: 142

Dan Shelton?

> QUOTE
>
> No accountability online! ☐ 3ABN_Live_18_23Jan07_NoAccountabilityOnline.mp3 (417.14k) Number of downloads: 119

Dan Shelton & Shelley Quinn?

Please correct me if I'm wrong. I've been avoiding these folks for a while & may not remember correctly.

> QUOTE
>
> Alright, that's enough to discuss for one post.

Thanks much, Green, for this!

More of this kind of "first-hand" info would be helpful.

Posted by: Snoopy Jan 23 2007, 04:48 PM

> QUOTE(inga @ Jan 23 2007, 04:26 PM)
>
> Lessee .. that would be John Lomacang?
>
> Dan Shelton?Dan Shelton & Shelley Quinn?
>
> I believe that last one was Dan and Mollie. I could be wrong though - it happens a lot!
>
> Please correct me if I'm wrong. I've been avoiding these folks for a while & may not remember correctly.
> Thanks much, Green, for this!
>
> More of this kind of "first-hand" info would be helpful.

Posted by: Johann Jan 23 2007, 05:08 PM

Let's see if eye witness will verify this?

Posted by: Freedom Jan 23 2007, 08:43 PM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jan 23 2007, 01:41 PM)
>
> Not "clueless"... just forgetting.... ignoring.... or defying the facts... that their judgment of others reveals first of all the desires, contents, intents, and purposes of their own hearts.
>
> So OF COURSE they must claim that "God never fires"! How else could they continue in their claim to be God's "anointed one".
>
> OF COURSE they would assume that "pastors spread rumors". That is exactly what they have done and continue to do.

> And OF COURSE they note that there is "No accountability online"! That is precisely their attitude when it comes to being accountable to any authority.... be it the church they pretend to represent, the donors who support them, or the government of the country to which they belong.
>
> Ho... humm.... so predictable.... .....

3ABN worried about accountability? thats

Where's 3abn accountability? Keep on Danny and "his gang"!

Posted by: Hersheys99 Jan 24 2007, 01:04 AM

Unbelievable!!!

Yes the last one sounds like Mollie to me not Shelley too Snoopy.

Posted by: Green Cochoa Jan 24 2007, 02:11 AM

And now a few more...

Is Danny stepping down? 3ABN_Live_18_23Jan07_OnDannySteppingDown.mp3 (273.78k) Number of downloads: 80

All Sheltons on the board? 3ABN_Live_18_23Jan07_SheltonsOnlyBoardMembers.mp3 (685.11k) Number of downloads: 65

Who is Carmelita? 3ABN_Live_18_23Jan07_AccountantCarmelita.mp3 (709.29k) Number of downloads: 64

No jobs at 3ABN? 3ABN_Live_18_23Jan07_NoJobsAt3ABN.mp3 (272.93k) Number of downloads: 77

Doing Satan's work... 3ABN_Live_18_23Jan07_DoingSatansWork.mp3 (107.92k) Number of downloads: 58

Counterfeit message? 3ABN_Live_18_23Jan07_CounterfeitMessage.mp3 (67.24k) Number of downloads: 63

Any comments from the "unaccountable little group?"

Posted by: inga Jan 24 2007, 03:41 AM

> QUOTE(Green Cochoa @ Jan 24 2007, 03:11 AM)
>
> And now a few more...

GreenChochoa, thanks for this "ear witness" evidence.

> QUOTE
>
> Is Danny stepping down? 3ABN_Live_18_23Jan07_OnDannySteppingDown.mp3 (273.78k) Number of downloads: 80

Well, the team is pretty good at propaganda.

In this one, setting up a straw man (that Danny is being asked to step down by the board of directors) and knocking him down could divert folks from the fact that programs are taken off 3ABN.

> QUOTE
>
> All Sheltons on the board? 3ABN_Live_18_23Jan07_SheltonsOnlyBoardMembers.mp3 (685.11k) Number of downloads: 65
>
> Who is Carmelita? 3ABN_Live_18_23Jan07_AccountantCarmelita.mp3 (709.29k) Number of downloads: 64

Interesting. Carmelita Troy sounds a lot like Fran, and Fran has come to some very different conclusions. So is Carmelita around when the cash comes in? Sounds to me that she's got a long ways to look over Dan's shoulder all the way from California.

> QUOTE
>
> No jobs at 3ABN? 3ABN_Live_18_23Jan07_NoJobsAt3ABN.mp3 (272.93k) Number of downloads: 77

Very touching to hear Mollie (?) speak of her sacrifical service and to hear that "we're all of one heart."

> QUOTE
>
> Doing Satan's work... 3ABN_Live_18_23Jan07_DoingSatansWork.mp3 (107.92k) Number of downloads: 58

Yes, John Lomacang is correct, "Many peoople have fallen victim to doing Satan's work." Unfortunately he's one of them. To vilify one for whom he should have had a pastoral concern and to uphold another in blatant sin is certainly not God's work.

> QUOTE
>
> Counterfeit message? 3ABN_Live_18_23Jan07_CounterfeitMessage.mp3 (67.24k) Number of downloads: 63

That one is so appropriate!! Revelation speaks of the Three Angels' Messages going to all the world, and 3ABN is essentially counterfeiting the fulfillment of this prophecy. They are applying the prophecy to themselves, when that is not what the prophecy means. It is about a message that is to go to all the world, but not necessarily by 3ABN, and I'm thinking not likely by 3ABN because they are distorting the message to the point of falsifying it.

> QUOTE
>
> Any comments from the "unaccountable little group?"

I have a very SLOW connection & thus have a hard time listening online to anything. But I discovered that when I clicked on the file, it would open in another window, and I could copy the URL from the address line and paste it into my download program (GetRight) and save it on my computer, for my edification and sharing any time. ☒

Posted by: Snoopy Jan 24 2007, 07:20 AM

> QUOTE(inga @ Jan 24 2007, 03:41 AM) ☐
>
> No jobs at 3ABN? 3ABN_Live_18_23Jan07_NoJobsAt3ABN.mp3 (272.93k) Number of downloads: 21
>
> Very touching to hear Mollie (?) speak of her sacrifical service and to hear that "we're all of one heart."

Sorry, but I believe that was Shelley!!

Posted by: Aletheia Jan 24 2007, 08:35 AM

Three questions:

1.) In the first sound clip. Anybody happen to notice the qualifing words, When we are called by God and when we are doing God's work followed by --- then God does not fire us followed by: unless...

2. Anybody here trying to do God's work which they believe he called them to do, willing to deny that, and claim the opposite?

3.Anybody know who wrote the following?

" Ten days after his vision to build 3ABN, Dan and I were married. It was an amazing experience to literally watch the hand of God build this network. It was an incredible privilege to be able to participate in a ministry that was ordained in the courts of heaven. But the battles still came...the evil one was angry with such an incredible evangelistic tool." 09/15/2004

And now this:
" The reputation of a televangelist is of a delicate nature. It doesn't take much to discredit, dishonor and damage one especially in today's world."

"

Posted by: simplysaved Jan 24 2007, 08:57 AM

IMO God does not fire....some just foolishly GIVE AWAY their blessing like Esau, Saul (because of his persistant disobedience), the Children of Israel. God's promises to us are always conditional upon our choices.

It may be a matter of perspective or semantics.....

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jan 23 2007, 01:41 PM)
>
> Not "clueless"... just forgetting.... ignoring.... or defying the facts... that their judgment of others reveals first of all the desires, contents, intents, and purposes of their own hearts.
>
> So OF COURSE they must claim that "God never fires"! How else could they continue in their claim to be God's "anointed one".
>
> OF COURSE they would assume that "pastors spread rumors". That is exactly what they have done and continue to do.
>
> And OF COURSE they note that there is "No accountability online"! That is precisely their attitude when it comes to being accountable to any authority.... be it the church they pretend to represent, the donors who support them, or the government of the country to which they belong.
>
> Ho... humm.... so predictable.... .....

Posted by: Clay Jan 24 2007, 09:09 AM

Dan 5:22-28

> QUOTE
>
> "Belshazzar, you are one of Nebuchadnezzar's successors. You didn't remain humble, even though you knew all this. (23) But you made yourself greater than the Lord of heaven. You had the utensils from his temple brought to you. You, your nobles, wives, and concubines drank wine from them. You praised your gods made of silver, gold, bronze, iron, wood, or stone. These gods can't see, hear, or know anything. You didn't honor God, who has power over your life and everything you do. (24) So he sent the hand to write this inscription. (25) This is what has been written: Numbered, Numbered, Weighed, and Divided. (26) This is its meaning: Numbered-God has numbered the days of your kingdom and will bring it to an end. (27) Weighed-you have been weighed on a scale and found to be too light. (28) Divided-your kingdom will be divided and given to the Medes and Persians."

This story to me is an example of God firing someone..... though I understand the point, does God fire or do people fire themselves....

Posted by: simplysaved Jan 24 2007, 09:14 AM

Based on the text, Belshazzar's choices led to his destruction.

Another way to look at it is a child being given a toy. If they misuse it, leave it lying around on the floor, or break it, does the fault the toy is gone lie with the person who gave it or with the child?

We thank God for his grace to us in spite of ourselves, but there is always a bottom line...at some point there has to be a change or improvement.

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jan 24 2007, 10:09 AM)
>
> Dan 5:22-28
>
> This story to me is an example of God firing someone..... though I understand the point, does God fire or do people fire themselves....

Posted by: sister Jan 24 2007, 09:15 AM

> QUOTE(Snoopy @ Jan 24 2007, 08:20 AM)
>
> Sorry, but I believe that was Shelley!!

You are right, Snoopy, it was Shelley Quinn. Sacrificial salaries? For the rank and file at 3ABN, yes! For those on screen that evening: Danny Shelton, Mollie Steenson, Shelley Quinn, John Lomacang, Moses Primo and Larry Ewing. A resounding NO!

Moses Primo has earned over $70,000.00 per year for quite a while, plus perks.

In 2005, Mollie made $56,729.00 plus perks and in addition to that her husband Hal also also gets a paycheck from 3ABN. The two of them together? (+/ -) $100,000.00 a year. Sacrificial?

In 2005 Larry Ewing made $68,365.00 plus perks, his wife, Roi, also works at 3ABN in the pastoral department. Their salary together plus perks? Definitely not sacrificial.

Shelley Quinn and her husband both work for 3ABN. How much do you think they make, including her book royalties from "Ten Commandments Twice Removed" which she wrote together with Danny (remember millions of copies were printed, which would not have been the case if she was not working at 3ABN)? I am sure it is not what HOTY or other 3ABN employees would consider a sacrificial salary.

Oh, and don't forget John Lomacang. He earns a normal Illinois Conference pastor's salary (half of which is paid by 3ABN) and since it is paid through the Conference, he receives the benefits of an SDA pastor, including a retirement fund. Do the rank and file at 3ABN receive the benefit of having a retirement fund? No. He and his wife live next door to Danny in a home that no other Illinois Conference pastor could afford. But how much does he pay for rent? Or does he pay any rent at all? Sacrificial? Compared to Bill Gates, yes. Compared to HOTY and majority of 3ABN workers? Hardly sacrificial.

And then there is Danny Shelton...

Posted by: September Jan 24 2007, 09:16 AM

I couldn't help but think....when Danny said that pastors were getting stuff off the internet and passing it to their congregations, when he and Molly were talking about accountability, etc., he literally advertised for this site and others who are telling the truth about what has happened at 3ABN. People probably heard that and thought, "What site?...hmmmm, lemme do a search" and voila here they are! Thanks Danny! You're bringing more and more people to read the truth!

Posted by: Snoopy Jan 24 2007, 09:23 AM

> QUOTE(September @ Jan 24 2007, 09:16 AM)
>
> I couldn't help but think....when Danny said that pastors were getting stuff off the internet and passing it to their congregations, when he and Molly were talking about accountability, etc., he literally advertised for this site and others who are telling the truth about what has happened at 3ABN. People probably heard that and thought, "What site?...hmmmm, lemme do a search" and voila here they are! Thanks Danny! You're bringing more and more people to read the truth!

Agreed, September!! I have learned a great deal about the history of 3ABN and the current situation simply because I was lead to research comments made by 3ABN leadership...

Posted by: Uncle Sam Jan 24 2007, 09:50 AM

> QUOTE(Snoopy @ Jan 24 2007, 08:23 AM)
>
> Agreed, September!! I have learned a great deal about the history of 3ABN and the current situation simply because I was lead to research comments made by 3ABN leadership...

I came upon this website the same way. I would have had no idea anything about this if it was not mentioned on 3ABN. I shared this with Walt Thompson and Danny through emails. They are hurting themselves and the ministry they say they so dearly love.....

Posted by: Snoopy Jan 24 2007, 09:55 AM

> QUOTE(Uncle Sam @ Jan 24 2007, 09:50 AM)
>
> I came upon this website the same way. I would have had no idea anything about this if it was not mentioned on 3ABN. I shared this with Walt Thompson and Danny through emails. They are hurting themselves and the ministry they say they so dearly love.....

Did Dr. Walt or Danny respond to you?

Posted by: awesumtenor Jan 24 2007, 10:26 AM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jan 24 2007, 10:09 AM)
>
> Dan 5:22-28
>
> This story to me is an example of God firing someone..... though I understand the point, does God fire or do people fire themselves....

Absolutely; especially in light of Daniel 4:17, which states in part: "...the most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will..."

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: Clay Jan 24 2007, 10:52 AM

> QUOTE(simplysaved @ Jan 24 2007, 09:14 AM)
>
> Based on the text, Belshazzar's choices led to his destruction.
>
> Another way to look at it is a child being given a toy. If they misuse it, leave it lying around on the floor, or break it, does the fault the toy is gone lie with the person who gave it or with the child?
>
> We thank God for his grace to us in spite of ourselves, but there is always a bottom line...at some point there has to be a change or improvement.

No that is not my point.... when a person is fired/terminated, especially when that termination is justified it is because the employee has failed to meet the standards set for that particular job.... In the example the king failed to meet standards, he was evaluated, found lacking and terminated, his job was given to another....

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 24 2007, 11:17 AM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Jan 24 2007, 06:35 AM)

> 3.Anybody know who wrote the following?
> " Ten days after his vision to build 3ABN, Dan and I were married. It was an amazing experience to literally watch the hand of God build this network. It was an incredible privilege to be able to participate in a ministry that was ordained in the courts of heaven. But the battles still came...the evil one was angry with such an incredible evangelistic tool." 09/15/2004
>
> And now this:
> " The reputation of a televangelist is of a delicate nature. It doesn't take much to discredit, dishonor and damage one especially in today's world."
>
> "

I would love to answer number three and the "and now this".

First of all, you must recall, DANNY is the business man in the "family" so to speak. Linda never had anything to do with the financial doings at 3abn. You must also know, Linda BELIEVED EVERYTHING Dan told her (hook line and sinker as he would say). Even today, she is still in the discovery of things she never knew that were going on right behind her back. The Lord has been gracious to her in giving truth to her in bits, because let me tell you, it is been overwhelming in itself in bits. It was a TRUE privelidge for her - still is. This is why it's so important for her to keep a ministry. It's in her heart (built in) and she can't help but see life and her life this way. To her, it was ordained. This is not to say it wasn't ordained, but, even though they were married, they were still two individual people who were independant of each other, and in their personal relationship with God. Again I say MOTIVES!!! You must see, EVEN after she was treated by DS the way she was, along with the added bad treatment of those she thought were friends and co-workers, add in also the treatment (judgement) from some leaders in the church she serves and is a member of, which in itself was totally devastating, she STILL doesn't want that ministry to go away - it is like a child to her, she loves it. NO ONE wants to see that ministry go away. Keep that clear in your mind Aletheia. This is about leadership, deceipt, and fraud. Keep it simple.

And for your "now this" comment - that is so true. This comment does not mean that those things come undeserved(damage, discredit and dishoner), for you can EARN those things on your own by your choices. They stress that a leader(s) have a higher calling. The devil will push buttons, attack your weak points and do whatever TO DISCREDIT GOD. Danny has made his choices,lived his life, and he is choosing to discredit God by those choices, and those that believe he is a prophet or annointed one. Better to have a rock tied around your foot and you dropped in to the sea. What a great responsibility! Those that are helping him are also participating in discrediting God by thinking He would sanction or look the other way when such behavior and treatment goes out to those who are in his home, family and work place and anyone else that gets in the way of what he wants, and further more, what he doesn't want YOU to know.

Posted by: Denny Jan 24 2007, 11:23 AM

Some people here seem to be taking The LORD's (seemingly) inaction at 3ABN misdoings as consent.........

Posted by: simplysaved Jan 24 2007, 11:25 AM

That is what I am saying...again semantics....I just believe personally we are quick to blame God or Satan for things that result because of our own choices. Natural/logical consequences....

Again, it may simply be semantics or a matter of perspective.....

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jan 24 2007, 11:52 AM)
>
> No that is not my point.... when a person is fired/terminated, especially when that termination is justified it is because the employee has failed to meet the standards set for that particular job.... In the example the king failed to meet standards, he was evaluated, found lacking and terminated, his job was given to another....

Posted by: Clay Jan 24 2007, 11:27 AM

> QUOTE(simplysaved @ Jan 24 2007, 11:25 AM)
>
> That is what I am saying...again semantics....I just believe personally we are quick to blame God or Satan for things that result because of our own choices. Natural/logical consequences....
>
> Again, it may simply be semantics or a matter of perspective.....

then we are in agreement......

Posted by: Uncle Sam Jan 24 2007, 11:45 AM

> QUOTE(Snoopy @ Jan 24 2007, 08:55 AM)
>
> Did Dr. Walt or Danny respond to you?

Yes, they both did. They basically said that they get advice both ways, to defend or not. They feel they need to defend. It is a shame...they could be spreading the gospel like they say they were called to do.....

Posted by: Green Cochoa Jan 24 2007, 12:08 PM

Still more "exact" quotes, in audio....

Hooray! No debt at 3ABN! 3ABN_Live_18_23Jan07_DebtFree3ABN.mp3 (179.81k) Number of downloads: 52

Ooops! Spoke too soon! 3ABN_Live_18_23Jan07_3ABNdebt.mp3 (146.22k) Number of downloads: 50

Danny addresses international audience regarding the allegations he murdered his first wife: 3ABN_Live_18_23Jan07_DannysFirstWife.mp3 (339.16k) Number of downloads: 84

Note to Calvin: This was as recent as one can get, is from the horse's mouth, so please listen to the audio before you ban me!

Posted by: caribbean sda Jan 24 2007, 12:10 PM

> QUOTE(sister @ Jan 24 2007, 11:15 AM)
>
> You are right, Snoopy, it was Shelley Quinn. Sacrificial salaries? For the rank and file at 3ABN, yes! For those on screen that evening: Danny Shelton, Mollie Steenson, Shelley Quinn, John Lomacang, Moses Primo and Larry Ewing. A resounding NO!
>
> Moses Primo has earned over $70,000.00 per year for quite a while, plus perks.
>
> In 2005, Mollie made $56,729.00 plus perks and in addition to that her husband Hal also also gets a paycheck from 3ABN. The two of them together? (+/ -) $100,000.00 a year. Sacrificial?
>
> In 2005 Larry Ewing made $68,365.00 plus perks, his wife, Roi, also works at 3ABN in the pastoral department. Their salary together plus perks? Definitely not sacrificial.
>
> Shelley Quinn and her husband both work for 3ABN. How much do you think they make, including her book royalties from "Ten Commandments Twice Removed" which she wrote together with Danny (remember millions of copies were printed, which would not have been the case if she was not working at 3ABN)? I am sure it is not what HOTY or other 3ABN employees would consider a sacrificial salary.
>
> Oh, and don't forget John Lomacang. He earns a normal Illinois Conference pastor's salary (half of which is paid by 3ABN) and since it is paid through the Conference, he receives the benefits of an SDA pastor, including a retirement fund. Do the rank and file at 3ABN receive the benefit of having a retirement fund? No. He and his wife live next door to Danny in a home that no other Illinois Conference pastor could afford. But how much does he pay for rent? Or does he pay any rent at all? Sacrificial? Compared to Bill Gates, yes. Compared to HOTY and majority of 3ABN workers? Hardly sacrificial.
>
> And then there is Danny Shelton...

why am I reminded of a book I read back in high school? Remember that book, Animal Farm by George Orwell? The quote that comes to mind. "all animals are equal but some animals are more equal than others..."

Posted by: inga Jan 24 2007, 12:25 PM

> QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jan 24 2007, 12:17 PM)
>
> The devil will push buttons, attack your weak points and do whatever TO DISCREDIT GOD. Danny has made his choices,lived his life, and he is choosing to discredit God by those choices, and those that believe he is a prophet or annointed one. Better to have a rock tied around your foot and you dropped in to the sea. What a great responsibility! Those are him are also participating in discrediting God by thinking He would sanction or look the other way when such behavior and treatment go out to those who are in his home, family and work place and anyone else that gets in the way of what he wants

Well said.

Posted by: inga Jan 24 2007, 01:00 PM

> QUOTE(Green Cochoa @ Jan 24 2007, 01:08 PM)
>
> Danny addresses international audience regarding the allegations he murdered his first wife:
> 3ABN_Live_18_23Jan07_DannysFirstWife.mp3 (339.16k) Number of downloads: 84

Danny said, "Somebody ran a stop sign and killed 'em."

Does anyone know whether the police record indicates that somebody ran a stop sign and ran into the car driven by his wife?

If that is true, any other speculation would certainly appear to be way out of the ballpark.

Posted by: ex3ABNemployee Jan 24 2007, 02:15 PM

> QUOTE(inga @ Jan 24 2007, 01:00 PM)
>
> Danny said, "Somebody ran a stop sign and killed 'em."
>
> Does anyone know whether the police record indicates that somebody ran a stop sign and ran into the car driven by his wife?
>
> If that is true, any other speculation would certainly appear to be way out of the ballpark.

I know where the wreck happened, and there was a stop sign there. It's now a four way stop, but was only two way at the time. I believe they actually made it four way BECAUSE of this wreck. I don't remember whether Kay (Danny's first wife) or the other driver ran the stop sign, but it's irrelevant. I'm not trying to defend Danny by any means, but it's not fair to say he murdered Kay. It was a vehicle accident in which she died.

Posted by: princessdi Jan 24 2007, 03:09 PM

That is why we(admin) chose not to entertain discussion about this in the beginning.

I was just trying to remember how it creeped up again, and it was the broadcast. I don't know why Teresa got Danny on this tangent. She was told this was not allowed to be discussed here.

> QUOTE(ex3ABNemployee @ Jan 24 2007, 12:15 PM)
>
> I know where the wreck happened, and there was a stop sign there. It's now a four way stop, but > was only two way at the time. I believe they actually made it four way BECAUSE of this wreck. I don't remember whether Kay (Danny's first wife) or the other driver ran the stop sign, but it's irrelevant. I'm not trying to defend Danny by any means, but it's not fair to say he murdered Kay. It was a vehicle accident in which she died.

Posted by: Johann Jan 24 2007, 11:31 PM

> QUOTE(ex3ABNemployee @ Jan 24 2007, 10:15 PM)
>
> I know where the wreck happened, and there was a stop sign there. It's now a four way stop, but was only two way at the time. I believe they actually made it four way BECAUSE of this wreck. I don't remember whether Kay (Danny's first wife) or the other driver ran the stop sign, but it's irrelevant. I'm not trying to defend Danny by any means, but it's not fair to say he murdered Kay. It was a vehicle accident in which she died.

Do you know if there was a hedge there at that time which could have obscured the sign or the view from the road?

Posted by: ex3ABNemployee Jan 25 2007, 05:57 PM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jan 24 2007, 11:31 PM)
>
> Do you know if there was a hedge there at that time which could have obscured the sign or the view from the road?

It seems like there was some heavy growth of brush at the time of the accident, and I think the county went out and cleared a lot of it off after the accident. That particular crossing has claimed a lot of lives over the years.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jan 25 2007, 09:46 PM

Lemmie say it again....

GOD IS THE ULTIMATE BOSS! & BOSSES DO FIRE WORKERS!

That is all....

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 25 2007, 11:06 PM

> QUOTE(ex3ABNemployee @ Jan 25 2007, 04:57 PM)
>
> It seems like there was some heavy growth of brush at the time of the accident, and I think the county went out and cleared a lot of it off after the accident. That particular crossing has claimed a lot of lives over the years.

Some years back, when I heard Danny telling the story of his wife's accident my first thought was to wonder why she and Melody had been ejected from the van. If they had been wearing seat belts it seems unlikely that they would have been ejected. If wonder if they weren't wearing seat belts? If that's the case it sure was a shame!

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 27 2007, 04:46 PM

I don't know why I didn't think of this before...must be getting old, but when Dan kept saying how much production went up during Tommy's employment, I wonder how that was figured out.

Before Tommy, there was only Studio A and the Uplink Studio functioning full time along with a production truck that was running about half speed. After Tommy arrived, the second studio, Studio B, was coming to completion and the Production Truck began running full time with full-time crews. So, was it that production got more efficient under his leadership, or that there were just more studios and people working in Production?

Just a thought...always look for the truth in the lie...er, the lie in the truth!

Posted by: JustTana Jan 27 2007, 04:57 PM

> QUOTE(Snoopy @ Jan 24 2007, 08:20 AM)
>
> Sorry, but I believe that was Shelley!!

Sorry Snoopy, that was Molly!

Certain in my heart rofl

JT

Boy, am I embarrased -- it WAS Shelley talking about 'sacrificial' salaries and 'no jobs' only missionary positions at 3ABN.

Posted by: Snoopy Jan 27 2007, 07:44 PM

> QUOTE(JustTana @ Jan 27 2007, 04:57 PM)
>
> Sorry Snoopy, that was Molly!
>
> Certain in my heart rofl

> JT
>
> Boy, am I embarrased -- it WAS Shelley talking about 'sacrificial' salaries and 'no jobs' only missionary positions at 3ABN.

☒ hug.gif

113

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ Did You Receive The Call?

Posted by: eye witness Jan 22 2007, 11:59 AM

Do you remember what happened to Miriam?
How about "but the false report of the unfaithful spies was accepted, and through it the whole congregation were deluded." PP Chapter 34. Numbers 13.
"The unfaithful spies were loud in denunciation of Caleb and Joshua and the cry was raised to stone them."
Oh, but there is more!
"The Glory of His Presence, like a flaming light, illuminated the tabernacle. All the people beheld the signal of the Lord. A mightier one than they, had reveled Himself, and none dared continue their resistance. The spies who brought the evil report crouched terror-stricken, and with bated breath sought their tents." . . . .
"As ye have spoken in Mine ears, so will I do to you: your carcasses shall fall in this wilderness, and all that were numbered of you, according to your whole number, for twenty years old and upward. . .. .
"When Moses made known to the people the divine decision, their rage was changed to mourning. They knew that their punishment was just. The ten unfaithful spies, divinely smitten by the plague, perished before the eyes of all Israel; and in their fate the people read their own doom." PP. Chapter 34

How about the Rebellion of Korah!
Have you forgotten that we serve the same God, today.

Malachi 3:6 "For I am the Lord , I change not;. . . .

Moses speaking to the Korah and all his company:
"DEPART I PRAY YOU, FROM THE TENTS OF THESE WICKED MEN, AND TOUCH NOTHING OF THEIRS, LEAST YE BE CONSUMED IN ALL THEIR SINS." Numbers 16:26

What happened?
Numbers 16:31 "And it came to pass, as he had made an end of speaking all these words, that the ground clave asunder that was under them: and the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed them up, and their houses, and all the men that appertained unto Korah, and all their goods. They, and all that appertained to them, went down alive into the pit, and the earth closed upon them: and they perished from amount the congregation."

Good reading for those of you who do not know truth, observe here by curiosity or just love the way to destruction.
Patriarchs and Prophets, Chapter 35

We serve the same God!!!!!!

Proverbs 6:16-19 "These six things doth the Lord hate: yes, seven are an abomination unto him: A proud look, a lying tongue, and hands that shed innocent blood, an heart that deviseth wicked imaginations, feet that be swift in running to mischief, A false witness that speaketh lies and he that soweth discord among brethren."

What is your response to this, more of the same?

We serve a loving God. He is full of Love but it is presumption to think that His Love will cover the consequences of Sin.

You claim to be the "Trumpet Sounders". OK. Are you sure? These individuals above were very sure of themselves as well!

Posted by: Bystander Jan 22 2007, 12:27 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 22 2007, 11:59 AM) ☐
>
> Do you remember what happened to Miriam?
> How about "but the false report of the unfaithful spies was accepted, and through it the whole congregation were deluded." PP Chapter 34. Numbers 13.
> "The unfaithful spies were loud in denunciation of Caleb and Joshua and the cry was raised to stone them."
> Oh, but there is more!
> "The Glory of His Presence, like a flaming light, illuminated the tabernacle. All the people beheld the signal of the Lord. A mightier one than they, had reveled Himself, and none dared continue their resistance. The spies who brought the evil report crouched terror-stricken, and with bated breath sought their tents." . . . .
> "As ye have spoken in Mine ears, so will I do to you: your carcasses shall fall in this wilderness, and all that were numbered of you, according to your whole number, for twenty years old and upward. . . . .
> "When Moses made known to the people the divine decision, their rage was changed to mourning. They knew that their punishment was just. The ten unfaithful spies, divinely smitten by the plague, perished before the eyes of all Israel; and in their fate the people read their own doom."
> PP. Chapter 34
>
> How about the Rebellion of Korah!
> Have you forgotten that we serve the same God, today.
>
> Malachi 3:6 "For I am the Lord , I change not;. . . .
>
> Moses speaking to the Korah and all his company:
> "DEPART I PRAY YOU, FROM THE TENTS OF THESE WICKED MEN, AND TOUCH NOTHING OF THEIRS, LEAST YE BE CONSUMED IN ALL THEIR SINS." Numbers 16:26
>
> What happened?
> Numbers 16:31 "And it came to pass, as he had made an end of speaking all these words, that the ground clave asunder that was under them: and the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed them up, and their houses, and all the men that appertained unto Korah, and all their goods. They, and all that appertained to them, went down alive into the pit, and the earth closed upon them: and they perished from amount the congregation."
>
> Good reading for those of you who do not know truth, observe here by curiosity or just love the way to destruction.
> Patriarchs and Prophets, Chapter 35
>
> We serve the same God!!!!!!
>
> Proverbs 6:16-19 "These six things doth the Lord hate: yes, seven are an abomination unto him: A proud look, a lying tongue, and hands that shed innocent blood, an heart that deviseth wicked imaginations, feet that be swift in running to mischief, A false witness that speaketh lies and he that soweth discord among brethren."
>
> What is your response to this, more of the same?

> We serve a loving God. He is full of Love but it is presumption to think that His Love will cover the consequences of Sin.
>
> You claim to be the "Trumpet Sounders". OK. Are you sure? These individuals above were very sure of themselves as well!

Eyewitness, what a wonderful comparison you have made. The similarities are frightening. Those that read your post with an honest heart will see and understand
bystander

Posted by: Snoopy Jan 22 2007, 12:29 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 22 2007, 11:59 AM) ☐
>
> Do you remember what happened to Miriam?
> How about "but the false report of the unfaithful spies was accepted, and through it the whole congregation were deluded." PP Chapter 34. Numbers 13.
> "The unfaithful spies were loud in denunciation of Caleb and Joshua and the cry was raised to stone them."
> Oh, but there is more!
> "The Glory of His Presence, like a flaming light, illuminated the tabernacle. All the people beheld the signal of the Lord. A mightier one than they, had reveled Himself, and none dared continue their resistance. The spies who brought the evil report crouched terror-stricken, and with bated breath sought their tents." . . . .
> "As ye have spoken in Mine ears, so will I do to you: your carcasses shall fall in this wilderness, and all that were numbered of you, according to your whole number, for twenty years old and upward. . .. .
> "When Moses made known to the people the divine decision, their rage was changed to mourning. They knew that their punishment was just. The ten unfaithful spies, divinely smitten by the plague, perished before the eyes of all Israel; and in their fate the people read their own doom."
> PP. Chapter 34
>
> How about the Rebellion of Korah!
> Have you forgotten that we serve the same God, today.
>
> Malachi 3:6 "For I am the Lord , I change not;. . . .
>
> Moses speaking to the Korah and all his company:
> "DEPART I PRAY YOU, FROM THE TENTS OF THESE WICKED MEN, AND TOUCH NOTHING OF THEIRS, LEAST YE BE CONSUMED IN ALL THEIR SINS." Numbers 16:26
>
> What happened?
> Numbers 16:31 "And it came to pass, as he had made an end of speaking all these words, that the ground clave asunder that was under them: and the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed them up, and their houses, and all the men that appertained unto Korah, and all their goods. They, and all that appertained to them, went down alive into the pit, and the earth closed upon them: and they perished from amount the congregation."
>
> Good reading for those of you who do not know truth, observe here by curiosity or just love the way to destruction.
> Patriarchs and Prophets, Chapter 35
>
> We serve the same God!!!!!!

> Proverbs 6:16-19 "These six things doth the Lord hate: yes, seven are an abomination unto him: A proud look, a lying tongue, and hands that shed innocent blood, an heart that deviseth wicked imaginations, feet that be swift in running to mischief, A false witness that speaketh lies and he that soweth discord among brethren."
>
> What is your response to this, more of the same?
>
> We serve a loving God. He is full of Love but it is presumption to think that His Love will cover the consequences of Sin.
>
> You claim to be the "Trumpet Sounders". OK. Are you sure? These individuals above were very sure of themselves as well!

Hi Eyewitness,

I really do appreciate the thoughts you have shared. I am not in either "camp" so to say, but I am curious about one thing. What sermon do you have prepared for those alleged abuse victims? What do we say to them in regards to their feelings and their salvation? Should they just be ignored? This entire mess is really quite troubling.

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 22 2007, 12:33 PM

Am I the only one that noticed these three are not on at the same time? Or is that a faulty observation?

> QUOTE(Snoopy @ Jan 22 2007, 10:29 AM)
>
> Hi Eyewitness,
>
> I really do appreciate the thoughts you have shared. I am not in either "camp" so to say, but I am curious about one thing. What sermon do you have prepared for those alleged abuse victims? What do we say to them in regards to their feelings and their salvation? Should they just be ignored? This entire mess is really quite troubling.

Yes, they are nice words, but it is very very clear, "they" don't care about those you mentioned. That should be a clue, huh?

Posted by: daylily Jan 22 2007, 01:10 PM

sonshineonme, I agree. I've just been sitting here puzzling over this. If Joe Smith is as kind, caring and loving as he would like us to think, based on his pleas, why does he not feel any sorrow or sympathy for the Clem brothers or Linda? Many BSDA posters have said they pray for the Sheltons, etc. I honestly don't understand why he/she does not answer the questions asked of him/her. It seems to me that if he/she could honestly vindicate Tommy and/or Danny that he/she would do so rather than just rebuke bsda posters.

I have no eye witness accounts to give, no first hand experiences but I really don't think the Clem brothers would lie about something like this. And I really don't think Pickle would counterfeit letters and post them here. So what are we left to believe?

Joe, Eye Witness, Bystander..what are you trying to do? Is it a kind and loving thing to let people destroy themselves and others? I do see some sarcasm and unkind words here sometimes but for the most part I see folks trying to figure out what the truth is. What is your ultimate goal? Tommy's and Danny's (and others) salvation or their destruction?

If I remember correctly, Gailon Joy said if the 3ABN board did not respond to his findings within a certain time period, that he would go public with his findings. They didn't and he did. Why didn't the board respond? Did they want him to go public? Is he to be blamed for doing what he said he would do?

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 22 2007, 01:18 PM

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Jan 22 2007, 11:27 AM) ☐
>
> Eyewitness, what a wonderful comparison you have made. The similarities are frightening. Those that read your post with an honest heart will see and understand
> bystander

Bystander, eye witness, Joe, Teresa it is frustrating for us here who have a burden to bring truth to light about dangerous behavior at 3abn, who bring forth scripture and SOP passages to clearly show God's support of our endeavors, and who DO look on you and your comrads with tender hearts full of the desire to see you step away from the denial you are clouded in, it is frustrating to see that you don't have eyes to see or ears to hear that reality that we are exposing! Whatever your motives have been to stay tucked away in the world you see through your Shelton-colored glasses I hope and pray that you will someday understand and walk out of the darkness into His marvelous light.

I know that some here have gotten cynical in their reactions and that sometimes there has been bantering about appearances. (I happen to think that Pastor Lomacang is a lovely man, ears, hair and all)

It is unfortunate that you have chosen to focus on those petty things and not the larger picture of what happens to young people whose trust is betrayed by their own shepherd. How does this affect the Lord's Ministry? Especially when the very president of that ministry has helped to cover up the alleged crimes and intimidate the victims into silence. Is this what Paul had in mind of how to deal with sinners? Somehow, as God and His angels are standing there at 3abn, I doubt that He is much pleased when he sees this behavior in His representatives.

Just know this, I and others will be praying that you do open your eyes and ears to the truth and then do what is within your power to rectify the wrongs instead of helping to hide them.

And, Eye witness, as far as your warning about what happened to Miriam, are you certain you are giving that warning to the right group? I think not. It might be prudent make a dash for the doors if the ground around 3abn starts shaking for I notice several things in Proverbs 6:16-19 that indicate that you and your cohorts better fit the characteristics of the unfaithful spies.

Proverbs 6:16-19 "These six things doth the Lord hate: yes, seven are an abomination unto him: A proud look, a lying tongue, and hands that shed innocent blood, an heart that deviseth wicked imaginations, feet that be swift in running to mischief, A false witness that speaketh lies and he that soweth discord among brethren."

Posted by: lookin4truth Jan 22 2007, 01:29 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 22 2007, 12:59 PM)
>
> Do you remember what happened to Miriam?
> How about "but the false report of the unfaithful spies was accepted, and through it the whole congregation were deluded." PP Chapter 34. Numbers 13.
> "The unfaithful spies were loud in denunciation of Caleb and Joshua and the cry was raised to stone them."
> Oh, but there is more!
> "The Glory of His Presence, like a flaming light, illuminated the tabernacle. All the people beheld the signal of the Lord. A mightier one than they, had reveled Himself, and none dared continue their resistance. The spies who brought the evil report crouched terror-stricken, and with bated breath sought their tents." . . . .
> "As ye have spoken in Mine ears, so will I do to you: your carcasses shall fall in this wilderness, and

I don't recall reading in any of the passages you have sited where Moses was molesting children, and that Joshua or Caleb covered for him.

Posted by: Johann Jan 22 2007, 01:37 PM

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Jan 22 2007, 09:18 PM)
>
> Bystander, eye witness, Joe, Teresa it is frustrating for us here who have a burden to bring truth to light about dangerous behavior at 3abn, who bring forth scripture and SOP passages to clearly show God's support of our endeavors, and who DO look on you and your comrads with tender hearts full of the desire to see you step away from the denial you are clouded in, it is frustrating to see that you don't have eyes to see or ears to hear that reality that we are exposing! Whatever your motives have been to stay tucked away in the world you see through your Shelton-colored glasses I hope and pray that you will someday understand and walk out of the darkness into His marvelous light.
>
> I know that some here have gotten cynical in their reactions and that sometimes there has been bantering about appearances. (I happen to think that Pastor Lomacang is a lovely man, ears, hair and all)
>
> It is unfortunate that you have chosen to focus on those petty things and not the larger picture of what happens to young people whose trust is betrayed by their own shepherd. How does this affect the Lord's Ministry? Especially when the very president of that ministry has helped to cover up the alleged crimes and intimidate the victims into silence. Is this what Paul had in mind of how to deal with sinners? Somehow, as God and His angels are standing there at 3abn, I doubt that He is much pleased when he sees this behavior in His representatives.
>
> Just know this, I and others will be praying that you do open your eyes and ears to the truth and then do what is within your power to rectify the wrongs instead of helping to hide them.
>
> And, Eye witness, as far as your warning about what happened to Miriam, are you certain you are giving that warning to the right group? I think not. It might be prudent make a dash for the doors if the ground around 3abn starts shaking for I notice several things in Proverbs 6:16-19 that indicate that you and your cohorts better fit the characteristics of the unfaithful spies.
>
> Proverbs 6:16-19 "These six things doth the Lord hate: yes, seven are an abomination unto him: A proud look, a lying tongue, and hands that shed innocent blood, an heart that deviseth wicked imaginations, feet that be swift in running to mischief, A false witness > that speaketh lies and he that soweth discord among brethren."

On MSDAOL Danny Shelton is quoted saying the Lord has shown him that Satan is the god of details. Is this why those details are so important to Danny's friends?

Posted by: princessdi Jan 22 2007, 01:39 PM

Ok?!!! This is just another example of comparing Danny to Moses, John the Baptist, etc. And they are wondering why we think they are sent by Danny..............I'll lay ya' odds Joe is on the "Pastorial Staff" at 3ABN. Who was it that preached a sermon comparing Danny to Moses?

Posted by: eye witness Jan 22 2007, 02:13 PM

> QUOTE(Snoopy @ Jan 22 2007, 12:29 PM)
>
> Hi Eyewitness,
>
> I really do appreciate the thoughts you have shared. I am not in either "camp" so to say, but I am curious about one thing. What sermon do you have prepared for those alleged abuse victims?
> Speaking as a victim, the Word of The Lord is healing, and will allow forgivness. We must me able to forgive so our Father in heaven can forgive our trespasses. There is not always healing for anyone that has truly been violated, Immediately. Yet, it IS POSSIBLE. What many do not understand is compassion does not bring healing. What is does when so much pity is involved is keep the wound open, cause humiliation and embarrassment, and keep the person from moving forward. Really not understandable to some on here, For obviously they are not victims.
> What do we say to them in regards to their feelings and their salvation?
> Victims need to hear that Jesus still loves them and they can still be people without the offense hanging in their profile. People who have been abused, HURT!!!
> Should they just be ignored?
> If one is a victim they will clearly seek help when they choose. Until then we don't need to paint a picture for their hurting. When we are put into their presences then we can help with the ministry of healing.
> This entire mess is really quite troubling.
> I agree and we are to be very careful with our words. These documents of these alleged victims are posted but again if they are not going to the authorities, do they want this all over the web. I feel for all parties involved here. Including those who feel they have been called to sound the trumpet.

> QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jan 22 2007, 12:33 PM)
>
> Am I the only one that noticed these three are not on at the same time? Or is that a faulty observation?
> Yes, they are nice words, but it is very very clear, "they" don't care about those you mentioned. That should be a clue, huh?

sonshineonme,

Obviously you have no idea of my feelings, motives or anything about me. What you do show to me and to others is your heart.

Posted by: inga Jan 22 2007, 02:36 PM

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Jan 22 2007, 02:39 PM)
>
> Ok?!!! This is just another example of comparing Danny to Moses, John the Baptist, etc. And they are wondering why we think they are sent by Danny..............I'll lay ya' odds Joe is on the "Pastorial Staff" at 3ABN. Who was it that preached a sermon comparing Danny to Moses?

PrincessDi, I sure wouldn't want to wager against you in this.

Posted by: eye witness Jan 22 2007, 02:50 PM

> QUOTE(daylily @ Jan 22 2007, 01:10 PM)
>
> sonshineonme, I agree. I've just been sitting here puzzling over this. If Joe Smith is as kind, caring and loving as he would like us to think, based on his pleas, why does he not feel any sorrow or sympathy for the Clem brothers or Linda? Many BSDA posters have said they pray for the Sheltons, etc. I honestly don't understand why he/she does not answer the questions asked of him/her. It seems to me that if he/she could honestly vindicate Tommy and/or Danny that he/she would do so rather than just rebuke bsda posters.
>
> I have no eye witness accounts to give, no first hand experiences but I really don't think the Clem brothers would lie about something like this. And I really don't think Pickle would counterfeit letters and post them here. So what are we left to believe?
>
> Joe, Eye Witness, Bystander..what are you trying to do? Is it a kind and loving thing to let people destroy themselves and others? I do see some sarcasm and unkind words here sometimes but for the most part I see folks trying to figure out what the truth is. What is your ultimate goal? Tommy's and Danny's (and others) salvation or their destruction?
>
> If I remember correctly, Gailon Joy said if the 3ABN board did not respond to his findings within a certain time period, that he would go public with his findings. They didn't and he did. Why didn't the board respond? Did they want him to go public? Is he to be blamed for doing what he said he would do?

There are some facts about Linda that I have not observed on this chat site. Facts that personally I can account for that Linda is doing, what Linda wants to do. Nothing here is a mystery for Linda. Linda had every opportunity to reconcile with Danny. I've saw the documents and know. Linda is doing what Linda wants to do. So people, let her move on with her life. She was clearly told that one day her seat would be filled. Not with a worn out dish rag but with a possible beauty queen, who can be as much used by the Lord as Linda was. She refused to acknowledge this and continued her stubborn position of trying to get Danny to make a public statement with the views of 3ABN before she would come home to him. (I would quote her but it would be damaging to quote the words she used in regard to herself.) Linda refused to seperate her marriage with Danny, and her job at 3ABN. As Calvin has stated before the truth we have so far is this:
Danny and Linda divorced
Linda's gone (by her own choosing I might add)

Danny remains at 3ABN. (by God's choosing I might add)

Linda has great opportunity to be a writer, she will not be forced to be a burger flipper, or a waitress she has potential to do much. I believe Johann has stated on this site she is speaking at churches, she has her ministry.
Let God determine if the grounds are biblical.
Let the courts decided if these people are truly victims, let Linda get on with her life and let Danny get on with his and MOST of all let the Ministry of God be the ministry of God and lets don't Give God Instructions. If we want to help then show up for duty not as bosses but as humble servants.

What should 3ABN do? Just as they are moving forward reach souls for Jesus. Ignoring all the threats and chatter of people who could be doing the same but choose not.

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Jan 22 2007, 01:18 PM) ☐
>
> Bystander, eye witness, Joe, Teresa it is frustrating for us here who have a burden to bring truth to light about dangerous behavior at 3abn, who bring forth scripture and SOP passages to clearly show God's support of our endeavors, and who DO look on you and your comrads with tender hearts full of the desire to see you step away from the denial you are clouded in, it is frustrating to see that you don't have eyes to see or ears to hear that reality that we are exposing! Whatever your motives have been to stay tucked away in the world you see through your Shelton-colored glasses I hope and pray that you will someday understand and walk out of the darkness into His marvelous light.
>
> I know that some here have gotten cynical in their reactions and that sometimes there has been bantering about appearances. (I happen to think that Pastor Lomacang is a lovely man, ears, hair and all)
>
> It is unfortunate that you have chosen to focus on those petty things and not the larger picture of what happens to young people whose trust is betrayed by their own shepherd. How does this affect the Lord's Ministry? Especially when the very president of that ministry has helped to cover up the alleged crimes and intimidate the victims into silence. Is this what Paul had in mind of how to deal with sinners? Somehow, as God and His angels are standing there at 3abn, I doubt that He is much pleased when he sees this behavior in His representatives.
>
> Just know this, I and others will be praying that you do open your eyes and ears to the truth and then do what is within your power to rectify the wrongs instead of helping to hide them.
>
> And, Eye witness, as far as your warning about what happened to Miriam, are you certain you are giving that warning to the right group? I think not. It might be prudent make a dash for the doors if the ground around 3abn starts shaking for I notice several things in Proverbs 6:16-19 that indicate that you and your cohorts better fit the characteristics of the unfaithful spies.
>
> Proverbs 6:16-19 "These six things doth the Lord hate: yes, seven are an abomination unto him: A proud look, a lying tongue, and hands that shed innocent blood, an heart that deviseth wicked imaginations, feet that be swift in running to mischief, A false witness that speaketh lies and he that soweth discord among brethren."

Do pray for me. I will accept your prayers. As you kneel tonight please don't think of these words you have said to me for we all want to pray. God's Will Be Done!

Posted by: Clay Jan 22 2007, 02:53 PM

yeah right Eye witness you saw the documents.... sure ya did... yep... alrighty then....

Posted by: eye witness Jan 22 2007, 03:10 PM

> QUOTE(lookin4truth @ Jan 22 2007, 01:29 PM)
>
> I don't recall reading in any of the passages you have sited where Moses was molesting children, and that Joshua or Caleb covered for him.

No, but it sure speaks of a group of people who molest/abuse that which they feel is their right. You know, and I bet some of them did it with a sincere heart but it really didn't matter did it. They were all punished.

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jan 22 2007, 01:37 PM)
>
> On MSDAOL Danny Shelton is quoted saying the Lord has shown him that Satan is the god of details. Is this why those details are so important to Danny's friends?

Details my friend have been splashed all over this forum. This is the most exciting thing that can talk about. Instead of the testimony of God in their own lives.
Details that may or may not be true. I guess to them it don't matter as long as they are entertained.

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Jan 22 2007, 01:39 PM)
>
> Ok?!!! This is just another example of comparing Danny to Moses, John the Baptist, etc. And they are wondering why we think they are sent by Danny...............I'll lay ya' odds Joe is on the "Pastorial Staff" at 3ABN. Who was it that preached a sermon comparing Danny to Moses?

I will let see how did you say that lay ya' odds Joe is on the side of Grace and Mercy. Do you know anything about that?

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jan 22 2007, 02:53 PM)
>
> yeah right Eye witness you saw the documents.... sure ya did... yep... alrighty then....

You know it Clay! I have already produced one document that Gailon used as some sort of serious proof to try to put a twist of credibility to him.
Which by the way is another proof in itself that Linda is full aware of all this on here. She is doing what she wants to do.

Posted by: princessdi Jan 22 2007, 04:02 PM

You don't have to lay me about about this. I totally agree. He is for grace and mercy for Danny and all others who have yet to admit their wrongs repent, and rectify(where applicable). And it is being extended to them as they are still breathing giving them opportunity to repent and change their direction. Once again in, there is none for the alledged victims of Tommy Shelton(we know have two letters from victims?). He should have been removed until a thorough investigation was done. If he was innocnet then put him back, but if he was found guilty remove him permenently. You always err on the side of caution. There is none for Linda, who got shafted. I can't believe that any of you really truly bought that"spiritual adultery" claim, and then the promises of "evidence" that have never surfaced, not even in court when the Guam quickie divorce was contested. I mean that would have been the time, don'tcha' think? We ain't even mentioning the money. That was a joke.

I now many of you have never seen a movie called Diary of a Mad Black Woman, in fact, I know the title is probably intimidating enough to keep you from ever watching. But the story is really about a woman who is mistreated of her housband of 18 years. If you get a chance, please at least view the first 15 mins of this movie. It just ocurred to me the Danny did every this man did to his wife, except packing all of her stuff and dragging her out of the house kicking and screaming with the other woman looking on. I think we all agree Danny and 3ABN Board could have handled things a lot better.

God's grace and mercy is available to all, yours is conditional.

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 22 2007, 01:10 PM)
>
> I will let see how did you say that lay ya' odds Joe is on the side of Grace and Mercy. Do you know anything about that?

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 22 2007, 04:22 PM

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Jan 22 2007, 11:39 AM)
>
> Ok?!!! This is just another example of comparing Danny to Moses, John the Baptist, etc. And they are wondering why we think they are sent by Danny..............I'll lay ya' odds Joe is on the "Pastorial Staff" at 3ABN. Who was it that preached a sermon comparing Danny to Moses?

oh Di, you are a very intelligent person! I praise God for you!

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 22 2007, 12:13 PM)
>
> sonshineonme,
> Obviously you have no idea of my feelings, motives or anything about me. What you do show to me and to others is your heart.

Sounds like you are passing judement on me. No, you would not do that, now would you?
If you really knew my heart, you would know the pain I feel knowing people are being deceived and hurt by those PRETENDING to serve man kind when it is evident they don't care at all. Actions speak, not mere words, no matter how pretty they sound my friend.

Posted by: awesumtenor Jan 22 2007, 04:35 PM

The saddest part of all of this is these people are trying to do here what they've done in other forae; their sole purpose is to make the discourse so vitriolic and so contentious that the forum severely limits or altogether stops discussion on this subject.

They've been successful with this tactic in other forae so they figure it will work here. then they think if they come with their identity hidden, they will be assumed to be some objective uninvolved observer whose only concern is that Christ be uplifted

They are wrong... on all counts... and the only ones they deceive are themselves.

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: Nuggie Jan 22 2007, 04:53 PM

> QUOTE(awesumtenor @ Jan 22 2007, 05:35 PM)
>
> The saddest part of all of this is these people are trying to do here what they've done in other forae; their sole purpose is to make the discourse so vitriolic and so contentious that the forum severely limits or altogether stops discussion on this subject.
>
> They've been successful with this tactic in other forae so they figure it will work here. then they think if they come with their identity hidden, they will be assumed to be some objective uninvolved observer whose only concern is that Christ be uplifted
>
> They are wrong... on all counts... and the only ones they deceive are themselves.
>
> In His service,
> Mr. J

I had this thought yesterday, also...that maybe this was all at tactic to shut down the discussion. The attacks just seemed too similar and too coordinated.

Posted by: calvin Jan 22 2007, 05:00 PM

> QUOTE(awesumtenor @ Jan 22 2007, 04:35 PM)
>
> The saddest part of all of this is these people are trying to do here what they've done in other forae; their sole purpose is to make the discourse so vitriolic and so contentious that the forum severely limits or altogether stops discussion on this subject.

> They've been successful with this tactic in other forae so they figure it will work here. then they think if they come with their identity hidden, they will be assumed to be some objective uninvolved observer whose only concern is that Christ be uplifted
>
> They are wrong... on all counts... and the only ones they deceive are themselves.
>
> In His service,
> Mr. J

Hey Kevin and like some of the other Chartered members and seasoned members can attest to in the 8 year history of BSDA, we have weathered far greater storms here than 3ABN and BSDA keeps going without missing a beat..

I don't really want to appear harsh, but I get so tired of people telling me how I need to run this place.

> QUOTE(Nuggie @ Jan 22 2007, 04:53 PM)
>
> I had this thought yesterday, also...that maybe this was all at tactic to shut down the discussion. The attacks just seemed too similar and too coordinated.

Well it ain't working!

Posted by: seraph|m Jan 22 2007, 05:11 PM

> QUOTE(awesumtenor @ Jan 22 2007, 05:35 PM)
>
> The saddest part of all of this is these people are trying to do here what they've done in other forae; their sole purpose is to make the discourse so vitriolic and so contentious that the forum severely limits or altogether stops discussion on this subject.
>
> They've been successful with this tactic in other forae so they figure it will work here. then they think if they come with their identity hidden, they will be assumed to be some objective uninvolved observer whose only concern is that Christ be uplifted
>
> They are wrong... on all counts... and the only ones they deceive are themselves.
>
> In His service,
> Mr. J

Too true.

> QUOTE(Nuggie @ Jan 22 2007, 05:53 PM)
>
> I had this thought yesterday, also...that maybe this was all at tactic to shut down the discussion. The attacks just seemed too similar and too coordinated.

We believe that is by design.

> QUOTE(calvin @ Jan 22 2007, 06:00 PM)
>
> Hey Kevin and like some of the other Chartered members and seasoned members can attest to in the 8 year history of BSDA, we have weathered far greater storms here than 3ABN and BSDA keeps going without missing a beat..
>
> I don't really want to appear harsh, but I get so tired of people telling me how I need to run this place.
> Well it ain't working!

I was thinking they picked the wrong place to try to jack. We won't go out like that.

Posted by: daylily Jan 22 2007, 05:14 PM

"Linda is doing what Linda wants to do. So people, let her move on with her life. She was clearly told that one day her seat would be filled. Not with a worn out dish rag but with a possible beauty queen, who can be as much used by the Lord as Linda was. She refused to acknowledge this and continued her stubborn position of trying to get Danny to make a public statement with the views of 3ABN before she would come home to him. (I would quote her but it would be damaging to quote the words she used in regard to herself.) Linda refused to seperate her marriage with Danny, and her job at 3ABN."

Who told Linda her seat would be filled?
Who warned LInda that she would be replaced with a possible beauty queen?
When was she warned of this?
Was that person calling her a "worn out dishrag"?
What do you mean by "a public statement with the views of 3ABN? " Views about what? The "affair"? The divorce? Her job?
Are you really worried about damaging LInda?

Yes we heard that she said she didn't intend to"flip burgers". Danny, you already told us that.

Posted by: sister Jan 22 2007, 05:50 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 22 2007, 03:50 PM)
>
> There are some facts about Linda that I have not observed on this chat site. Facts that personally I can account for that Linda is doing, what Linda wants to do. Nothing here is a mystery for Linda. Linda had every opportunity to reconcile with Danny. I've saw the documents and know.

It was Dan that got the quickie divorce in Guam. That is a documented fact. Have you forgotten the testimony Linda's daughter gave regarding Danny's molestation of her? How can any woman be expected to reconcile with a man who molested her own daughter?

There are facts that I know about Linda and Dan that have not appeared on this website. Do you want to compare notes? Or are you merely attempting to sway people with the appearance of authority and innuendo? That dog doesn't hunt here...

Sister

Posted by: daylily Jan 22 2007, 06:07 PM

About Moses...he lost his temper and lost the privilege of entering the Promised Land. His position of leadership and calling by God did not exempt him from the consequences of his sin.

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jan 22 2007, 06:20 PM

Excellent point! We can be forgiven, but that does not mean we do not have to suffer the consequences of our actions.

> QUOTE(daylily @ Jan 22 2007, 07:07 PM)
>
> About Moses...he lost his temper and lost the privilege of entering the Promised Land. His position of leadership and calling by God did not exempt him from the consequences of his sin.

Posted by: Johann Jan 23 2007, 03:52 PM

> QUOTE(sister @ Jan 23 2007, 01:50 AM)
>
> It was Dan that got the quickie divorce in Guam. That is a documented fact. Have you forgotten the test imony Linda's daughter gave regarding Danny's molestation of her? How can any woman be expected to reconcile with a man who molested her own daughter?
>
> There are facts that I know about Linda and Dan that have not appeared on this website. Do you want to compare notes? Or are you merely attempting to sway people with the appearance of authority and innuendo? That dog doesn't hunt here...
>
> Sister

It now seems clear that this is exactly the purpose of the distractors - to make us all go through the fog of unimportant details that can be argued - so we forget all about the real issue.

Thanks, sister, for trying to wake us up and back to the realization of what this is all about. We have to get clear of the undocumented insinuations that the so called "eye witness" is trying to throw in our faces. Some of us have loads of documentations - like you mentioned - that we have not yet revealed - which could make headlines in the media, and make the position of "eye witness" extremely insecure. Is this what you are hoping for?

Let me state it again: I ran away once becuse I feared that Danny would throw me in prison. I have promised my Lord that I will not again permit wickedness to fill me with such fear.

I saw/heard those documents you referred to. I challenge you to reveal them here on the net to let us evaluate them ourselves.

Posted by: eye witness Jan 23 2007, 07:25 PM

> QUOTE(sister @ Jan 22 2007, 05:50 PM) ☐
>
> It was Dan that got the quickie divorce in Guam. That is a documented fact. Have you forgotten the testimony Linda's daughter gave regarding Danny's molestation of her? How can any woman be expected to reconcile with a man who molested her own daughter?
>
> There are facts that I know about Linda and Dan that have not appeared on this website. Do you want to compare notes? Or are you merely attempting to sway people with the appearance of authority and innuendo? That dog doesn't hunt here...
>
> Sister

I have never heard of a divorce that the other person was unaware that they were getting a divorce! It takes two names on that document, right? Linda had already left her husband and refused to go home, demanding some kind of public statement on 3ABN that she was not the __________of Revelation. Now if she was wanting such a statement then, it had nothing to do with two years after the divorce some alleged sttement.
Quick divorces are usually just that the parties involved don't want to contest. Would this be the case here? Linda was pretty happy with the Doctors treatment, even though there were zillion of others she could of switched to.
I think this forum site is interesting to some degree. It reminds me of a spider who dropped down from the rafters in a barn, ever so proud of itself. It slid down the one strand of web and began making a huge web that reach wide about. The spider was so happy about itself. It looked around and saw all the prey it had captured thinking that it would never have to do anything again but enjoy the fruits of its labor. Then one day the little spider was out and about running around so proud and it noticed the one strand of web that seemed to really go no where. So it severed the thread. Guess what, when the spider severed the single line of the web all the pride and joy of the little spider went down, down, down.
Isn't that a nice story. I don't know how you will apply it but I guess we can't cut the main thing from the main thing.

Have a nice day!

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 23 2007, 07:34 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 23 2007, 08:25 PM) ☐
>
> Guess what, when the spider severed the single line of the web all the pride and joy of the little spider went down, down, down.
> Isn't that a nice story. I don't know how you will apply it but I guess we can't cut the main thing from the main thing.
>
> Have a nice day!

Still idling away in here I see...spinning your own web (of deceit). What was that story about the pot and the kettle?

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 23 2007, 07:40 PM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 23 2007, 05:34 PM)
>
> Still idling away in here I see...spinning your own web (of deceit). What was that story about the pot and the kettle?

Yes, it's called obsession with an application of exquisite determintation to manipulate and desecrate the truth to suit ones own prideful plan.

Posted by: eye witness Jan 23 2007, 08:10 PM

> QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jan 23 2007, 07:40 PM)
>
> Yes, it's called obsession with an application of exquisite determintation to manipulate and desecrate the truth to suit ones own prideful plan.

Whew, your so impressive. You must really lower your intellect the rest of the time. Either that or you put the dictionary up.

Posted by: inga Jan 23 2007, 08:11 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 22 2007, 03:50 PM)
>
> She [Linda] was clearly told that one day her seat would be filled. Not with a worn out dish rag but with a possible beauty queen, who can be as much used by the Lord as Linda was.

I find this statement VERRY interesting!

So who would tell Linda such a thing?

And on what basis?

This sounds like there was a "beauty queen" standing in the wings before Linda was divorced or fired.

Who might that be?

Where is that "beauty queen" now?

Is she filling Linda's place in any way other than in Dan's bed?

Having told us this much, surely "Eye Witness" must know!

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 23 2007, 08:15 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 23 2007, 06:10 PM)
>
> Whew, your so impressive. You must really lower your intellect the rest of the time. Either that or you put the dictionary up.

Sticks and stones....
The truth hurts, doesn't it 'eyewitness'.
If you think that you show God's love and truth, which seems to be so important to you through your sort of banter, sarcasm and jabs,think (really hard) again. But wait, you care much more about lies then love or truth. That is quite clear.

Posted by: inga Jan 23 2007, 08:24 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 23 2007, 08:25 PM)
>
> Linda had already left her husband and refused to go home, demanding some kind of public statement on 3ABN that she was not the ___________of Revelation.

Eye Witness, please stick around.

Your posts are getting more and more interesting, now that you are actually sharing some "eye witness" accounts instead of attacking veryone and his dog.

Your statement above indicates that Dan called Linda 'the whore of Revelation" in front of enough people so that you (who are presumably only an eye witness, not Linda or Dan) know. (Hey, let's not get "delicate" here. We are all adults.")

Well, dear readers, do you blame Linda for wanting an apology from Dan for calling her the whore of Revelation in front of witnesses, before returning to Dan? (Of course, I suspect that this is just the tip of the iceberg. Undoubtedly "Eye Witness" can share much more.)

According to what Eye Witness is sharing, Dan figured he did not owe Linda an apology for calling her "the ______ of Revelation" and expected her to return to his bed nevertheless.

What does that say about Dan, besides his theology being totally out of whack?

(Hey, he also accused Linda of "spiritual adultery," which is just another small indicator of his theology being out of whack.)

Carry on, Eye Witness!

Posted by: eye witness Jan 23 2007, 08:31 PM

> QUOTE(daylily @ Jan 22 2007, 05:14 PM)
>
> "Linda is doing what Linda wants to do. So people, let her move on with her life. She was clearly told that one day her seat would be filled. Not with a worn out dish rag but with a possible beauty queen, who can be as much used by the Lord as Linda was. She refused to acknowledge this and continued her stubborn position of trying to get Danny to make a public statement with the views of 3ABN before she would come home to him. (I would quote her but it would be damaging to quote the words she used in regard to herself.) Linda refused to seperate her marriage with Danny, and her job at 3ABN."
>
> Who told Linda her seat would be filled?
> Who warned LInda that she would be replaced with a possible beauty queen?
> When was she warned of this?
> Was that person calling her a "worn out dishrag"?
> What do you mean by "a public statement with the views of 3ABN? " Views about what? The "affair"? The divorce? Her job?
> Are you really worried about damaging LInda?
>
> Yes we heard that she said she didn't intend to"flip burgers". Danny, you already told us that.

It would most acceptable for you to address me as Danny, IF I WERE!!!!!!
Thank you for refraining from calling me names that are not applicable.
Hey what does it matter who told her.
The fact is she didn't listen, didn't care about her marriage, which by the way, was very early on.
Zillions of Doctors but only one for Linda. Nathan could of got treatement from a long list of choices!
Have you ever thought of that?
EYE WITNESS

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 23 2007, 08:35 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 23 2007, 06:31 PM)
>
> It would most acceptable for you to address me as Danny, IF I WERE!!!!!!
> Thank you for refraining from calling me names that are not applicable.
> Hey what does it matter who told her.

> The fact is she didn't listen, didn't care about her marriage, which by the way, was very early on.
> Zillions of Doctors but only one for Linda. Nathan could of got treatement from a long list of choices!
> Have you ever thought of that?
> EYE WITNESS

crutch.gi there you go again....

blc careful, I sense you are losing your temper along with your empty argument notworkir

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 23 2007, 10:39 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 23 2007, 09:10 PM)
>
> Whew, your so impressive. You must really lower your intellect the rest of the time. Either that or you put the dictionary up.

Wow, you've come a long way, EW.
Are growing tired of trying to reason wrongdoing so now you simply insult?

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 23 2007, 09:31 PM)
>
> It would most acceptable for you to address me as Danny, IF I WERE!!!!!!
> Thank you for refraining from calling me names that are not applicable.
> Hey what does it matter who told her.
> The fact is she didn't listen, didn't care about her marriage, which by the way, was very early on.
> Zillions of Doctors but only one for Linda. Nathan could of got treatement from a long list of choices!
> Have you ever thought of that?
> EYE WITNESS

Okay - so you're always demanding proof of everyone - how would you know what Linda did or did not care about? How do you know that she didn't "listen?" And if I told you to change doctors, would you? You're really getting pathetic now.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 23 2007, 11:55 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 23 2007, 07:31 PM)
>
> It would most acceptable for you to address me as Danny, IF I WERE!!!!!!
> Thank you for refraining from calling me names that are not applicable.
> Hey what does it matter who told her.
> The fact is she didn't listen, didn't care about her marriage, which by the way, was very early on.
> Zillions of Doctors but only one for Linda. Nathan could of got treatement from a long list of choices! Have you ever thought of that?
> EYE WITNESS

So now you are positioning yourself as someone who has been around DS for quite some time since you know that:
1. It is a "fact" that she didn't listen.
2. She didn't care about her marriage.
3. Not only did she not care about her marriage, she didn't care about her marriage "very early on".

So since you seem to have been around the Sheltons for quite some time, can you shed some light on the allegations against Tommy Shelton? Are they true as several alleged victims have stated or do you have evidence that those witnesses are liars? Is the email confession by TS true or do you have evidence otherwise? I'd really like to know.

After chiding sonshineonme about her using a dictionary, I might suggest that you pick up one yourself and check out the difference between "of" (a preposition) and "have" (an actual verb). And that's as close to a chide as you're going to get out of me because I try my best, with the Lord's power, not to be mean-spirited.

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 24 2007, 12:07 AM

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Jan 23 2007, 09:55 PM)
>
> After chiding sonshineonme about her using a dictionary, I might suggest that you pick up one yourself and check out the difference between "of" (a preposition) and "have" (an actual verb). And that's as close to a chide as you're going to get out of me because I try my best, with the Lord's power, not to be mean-spirited.

I just thought I would mention, I didn't need to use a dictionary, I actually knew all those words (and what they mean) all by myself - than

And I learned a long time ago that when someone is intimidated by and jealous of you (and maybe your sentence structure and word usage), it's because they want to be like you.

I think it would be good for EW to get with the program and answer the questions he seems to be the eyewitness to and brought up to start with...what do you think? (I have a feeling he'll be back!)

Posted by: Johann Jan 24 2007, 12:18 AM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 24 2007, 04:31 AM)
>
> \- - -
> The fact is she didn't listen, didn't care about her marriage, which by the way, was very early on.
> Zillions of Doctors but only one for Linda. Nathan could of got treatement from a long list of choices! Have you ever thought of that?
> EYE WITNESS

Since you do not want to listen, EW, and you are not producing those documents you refer to, let me ask you another question: Did you see Nathan when he came home to West Frankfort after three weeks of treatments in Norway? i saw him after 10 days of those treatments and I did not recognize him.

Now you produce but one of those zillions of samples you claim to have, OK?

I have seen and talked to two American ladies who had zillions of opportunities to get healed by regular physicians in USA, but nonee of them could produce the results. They were both told they were incurable. And both have been cured by that one and only doctor in Norway.

I have read a letter by a specialist in USA who examined one of those patients 3 months after her return to America, and he wondered how the Norwegian doctor could give a such long lasting cure to one of his patients with an incurable disease. Now you give a a list of those zillion of doctors who cold make just that feat!

Posted by: inga Jan 24 2007, 12:41 AM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 23 2007, 09:31 PM)
>
> It would most acceptable for you to address me as Danny, IF I WERE!!!!!!
> The fact is she [Linda] didn't listen, didn't care about her marriage, which by the way, was very early on.

Eye Witness, could you please share how you know that Linda didn't care about her marriage "very early on"? What were the symptoms?

Do you mean to say that Dan and Linda were only acting on the set when they were there holding hands in front of millions of viewers?

My agnostic Dad always thought they were only acting, but my believing mother is sure that what she sees on the screen is the real thing. Who's right?

Is the Dan we see on 3ABN only an actor, or is he the same person as he is in real life?

Since you're an eye witness, surely you can tell us.

Inga

P.S. I'm still wondering who told Linda about the "beauty queen" waiting in the wings to take her place. Where is that beauty queen now?

Posted by: eye witness Jan 24 2007, 03:12 PM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jan 24 2007, 12:18 AM) ☐
>
> Since you do not want to listen, EW, and you are not producing those documents you refer to, let me ask you another question: Did you see Nathan when he came home to West Frankfort after three weeks of treatments in Norway? i saw him after 10 days of those treatments and I did not recognize him.
>
> Johann what is with you. You can't mean to tell me that you honestly think that Nathan could of only been cured by this Dr. Arild Abrahamsen??? I have personally seen people WORSE than Nathan healed from DRUGS.
>
> Now you produce but one of those zillions of samples you claim to have, OK?
>
> You seem to always want proof, produce the documents, you say. Well we both know medical records are confidential, but Friend let me tell you I personally know, there are other resourses than, this DOCTOR, who can help bring healing. /color]
>
> I have seen and talked to two American ladies who had zillions of opportunities to get healed by regular physicians in USA, but nonee of them could produce the results. They were both told they were incurable. And both have been cured by that one and only doctor in Norway.
>
> [color=#CC0000]Really well Dr. Arild Abrahamsen has a pretty good history with the ladies of American then.
> Very interesting!
> What does he tell them so they can build their self-esteem? How does he elevate their determination that they can proceed forward with certainity they will be healed? I don't mean to be asking to many personal secrets of his, but well if he is the one with the cure, don't you want to see many other drug addicts healed? There is no way he could attend to them all!
> Being he is an Elder in a Church surely he would like to share with others who are helping drug addicts, women who find their marriage less than exciting and needing to find a new thrill, so they can find healing in the US without having to stay at his house and so on and so forth.
> Surely you and Abrahamsen would want "all" to receive healing, right?
>
> I have read a letter by a specialist in USA who examined one of those patients 3 months after her return to America, and he wondered how the Norwegian doctor could give a such long lasting cure to one of his patients with an incurable disease. Now you give a a list of those zillion of doctors who cold make just that feat!

I wonder Johann what do you worship when there is healing? The gift giver or the gift receiver?

Posted by: jene Jan 24 2007, 06:55 PM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jan 24 2007, 01:18 AM) ☐
>
> Since you do not want to listen, EW, and you are not producing those documents you refer to, let me ask you another question: Did you see Nathan when he came home to West Frankfort after three weeks of treatments in Norway? i saw him after 10 days of those treatments and I did not recognize him.
>
> Now you produce but one of those zillions of samples you claim to have, OK?
>
> I have seen and talked to two American ladies who had zillions of opportunities to get healed by regular physicians in USA, but nonee of them could produce the results. They were both told they were incurable. And both have been cured by that one and only doctor in Norway.
>
> I have read a letter by a specialist in USA who examined one of those patients 3 months after her return to America, and he wondered how the Norwegian doctor could give a such long lasting cure to one of his patients with an incurable disease. Now you give a a list of those zillion of doctors who cold make just that feat!

Are talking about Nathan's drug addiction or did he have some other disease? I am not necessarily asking you to divulge what the disease is if it is something else. I am just curious because I am very interested in natural health and my ears perk up whenever someone starts talking about curing incurable diseases.

Eyewitness,

Please answer this for me. Is Danny Shelton not an adulterer since no one has any evidence that Linda Shelton cheated and he remarried anyway?

Mat 19:9
And I say unto you, Whosoever shall put away his wife, except it be for fornication, and shall marry another committeth adultery: and whoso marrieth her which is put away doth commit adultery.

☒ p ☒ pe ☒ sn ☒ TVsnack.

Posted by: inga Jan 24 2007, 07:29 PM

> QUOTE(jene @ Jan 24 2007, 07:55 PM) ☐
>
> Please answer this for me. Is Danny Shelton not an adulterer since no one has any evidence that Linda Shelton cheated and he remarried anyway?

> Mat 19:9
> And I say unto you, Whosoever shall put away his wife, except it be for fornication, and shall marry another committeth adultery: and whoso marrieth her which is put away doth commit adultery.

It sure looks like Dan Shelton, NOT Linda Shelton is the adulterer, according to Matt 19:9

And then, when you consider that someone warned Linda, while she was still married to Dan, that there was a "beauty queen" ready to take her place if she didn't knuckle under, it sure looks that way ...

Eye witness is being a bit coy about revealing who told Linda about the "beauty queen" while she was still married to Dan.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jan 24 2007, 07:39 PM

> QUOTE(inga @ Jan 24 2007, 07:29 PM)
>
> It sure looks like Dan Shelton, NOT Linda Shelton is the adulterer, according to Matt 19:9
>
> And then, when you consider that someone warned Linda, while she was still married to Dan, that there was a "beauty queen" ready to take her place if she didn't knuckle under, it sure looks that way ...
>
> Eye witness is being a bit coy about revealing who told Linda about the "beauty queen" while she was still married to Dan.

Hey Inga:

Just a coincidence? You decide.

This beauty queen was around Thompsonville while Linda was still married to Dan. rofl

http://www.plusline.org/article.php?id=5189

"As a busy nursing student and "Miss Kentucky" beauty contestant , Brenda, at age 18, had a promising future."

Pete

Posted by: watchbird Jan 24 2007, 08:05 PM

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jan 24 2007, 08:39 PM)
>
> Hey Inga:
>
> Just a coincidence? You decide.

> This beauty queen was around Thompsonville while Linda was still married to Dan. rofl
>
> http://www.plusline.org/article.php?id=5189
>
> "As a busy nursing student and "Miss Kentucky" beauty contestant , Brenda, at age 18, had a promising future."
>
> Pete

Now you have me confused.... This talks about Brenda Walsh... but Danny did not marry Brenda, he married Brandi. So ... oh well ... I won't even guess at possibilities... what is the connection with what here?

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jan 24 2007, 08:26 PM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jan 24 2007, 08:05 PM)
>
> Now you have me confused.... This talks about Brenda Walsh... but Danny did not marry Brenda, he married Brandi. So ... oh well ... I won't even guess at possibilities... what is the connection with what here?

> QUOTE(eye witness)
>
> She was clearly told that one day her seat would be filled. Not with a worn out dish rag but with a possible beauty queen, who can be as much used by the Lord as Linda was.

Not beauty queen but "possible beauty queen." One that didn't quite make it. A runner-up.

Theoretically:

What if a birthday-party planner heard this statement and thought this statement applied to her, herself, only to have her hopes dashed later, after she had already done her part as the chaperon, or "eye witness" in Norway?

Posted by: inga Jan 24 2007, 08:35 PM

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jan 24 2007, 09:26 PM)
>
> Not beauty queen but "possible beauty queen." One that didn't quite make it. A runner-up.
>
> Theoretically:

> What if a birthday-party planner heard this statement and thought this statement applied to her, herself, only to have her hopes dashed later, after she had already done her part as the chaperon, or "eye witness" in Norway?

H'mm ... that scenario does kinda fit the events, doesn't it?

I see I have to be more careful in my posts, remembering that a "possible beauty queen" was ready to take Linda's place, rather than a "beauty queen."

Thanks for the correction.

Isn't it interesting how "eye witness" knows so much, but is then unwilling to back up what he said? In a way he's right, that there's "no accountability" on the internet, any more than on satellite TV, but the words so easily written on a chat board are impossible to recall without buying out the chat board owner. I suspect he wouldn't even try to buy out Calvin. ☒ rofl

I seem to remember that when Dan first showed off Brandi, he said things like "Isn't she cute?" and other remarks drawing attention to her looks, which he seemed to perceive as "beauty queen" material -- a possible beauty queen, I suppose.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jan 24 2007, 08:40 PM

> QUOTE(inga @ Jan 24 2007, 08:35 PM) ☐
>
> H'mm ... that scenario does kinda fit the events, doesn't it?
>
> I see I have to be more careful in my posts, remembering that a "possible beauty queen" was ready to take Linda's place, rather than a "beauty queen."
>
> Thanks for the correction.
>
> Isn't it interesting how "eye witness" knows so much, but is then unwilling to back up what he said? In a way he's right, that there's "no accountability" on the internet, any more than on satellite TV, but the words so easily written on a chat board are impossible to recall without buying out the chat board owner. I suspect he wouldn't even try to buy out Calvin. ☒ rofl
>
> I seem to remember that when Dan first showed off Brandi, he said things like "Isn't she cute?" and other remarks drawing attention to her looks, which he seemed to perceive as "beauty queen" material -- a possible beauty queen, I suppose.

Look even more carefully, "eye witness" is female. And then, knowing that, re-read my post. ☒ rofl

---

Posted by: Rosyroi Jan 24 2007, 10:08 PM

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jan 24 2007, 06:40 PM) ☐

> Look even more carefully, "eye witness" is female. And then, knowing that, re-read my post.
> rofl

Hmmm I need to have some blanks filled in. I did not know Brenda was single. Looks like I haven't been watching 3ABN long enough. I assumed she was married. Sorry I didn't read the book.

Posted by: princessdi Jan 24 2007, 10:10 PM

Now you know this is not somethin gyou should be saying if you are tyring to help out Danny right? What do you mean she was told her seat would be filled by a beauty queen..............Now you know that folks who think know that Danny just didnt' see Brandy with new eyes when she just happen to move to T'ville a couple of months after Linda left.... You have got to be kidding! Oh, I see Linda was supposed to snap back into line after being told she would be replaced. Yeah right!

I don't mean no harm, but you know people like Danny know who to mess with. That is like the most sexist threat imaginable. and I got to wonder aobut you who thinks that was alright to say and that Linda's reaction to it was wrong. Worn out dish rag!!! Mercy!!!!!

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 22 2007, 12:50 PM)
>
> There are some facts about Linda that I have not observed on this chat site. Facts that personally I can account for that Linda is doing, what Linda wants to do. Nothing here is a mystery for Linda. Linda had every opportunity to reconcile with Danny. I've saw the documents and know. Linda is doing what Linda wants to do. So people, let her move on with her life. She was clearly told that one day her seat would be filled. Not with a worn out dish rag but with a possible beauty queen, who can be as much used by the Lord as Linda was. She refused to acknowledge this and continued her stubborn position of trying to get Danny to make a public statement with the views of 3ABN before she would come home to him. (I would quote her but it would be damaging to quote the words she used in regard to herself.) Linda refused to seperate her marriage with Danny, and her job at 3ABN.
> As Calvin has stated before the truth we have so far is this:
> Danny and Linda divorced
> Linda's gone (by her own choosing I might add)
> Danny remains at 3ABN. (by God's choosing I might add)
>
> Linda has great opportunity to be a writer, she will not be forced to be a burger flipper, or a waitress she has potential to do much. I believe Johann has stated on this site she is speaking at churches, she has her ministry.
> Let God determine if the grounds are biblical.
> Let the courts decided if these people are truly victims, let Linda get on with her life and let Danny get on with his and MOST of all let the Ministry of God be the ministry of God and lets don't Give God Instructions. If we want to help then show up for duty not as bosses but as humble servants.
>
> What should 3ABN do? Just as they are moving forward reach souls for Jesus. Ignoring all the threats and chatter of people who could be doing the same but choose not.
> Do pray for me. I will accept your prayers. As you kneel tonight please don't think of these words you have said to me for we all want to pray. God's Will Be Done!

Posted by: roxe Jan 24 2007, 11:56 PM

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jan 24 2007, 07:40 PM)
>
> Look even more carefully, "eye witness" is female. And then, knowing that, re-read my post.
> rofl

Pete,

you think eye witness is Brenda, or Brandi???

BTW, anyone know where Brandi is?? and what she doing??

Posted by: sister Jan 25 2007, 07:22 AM

> QUOTE(Rosyroi @ Jan 24 2007, 11:08 PM)
>
> Hmmm I need to have some blanks filled in. I did not know Brenda was single. Looks like I haven't been watching 3ABN long enough. I assumed she was married. Sorry I didn't read the book.

Brenda is not single, she was staying at 3ABN for prolonged periods of time without her husband. Danny's big red truck was frequently seen parked in front of her apartment late at night. If a man accuses his wife (Linda) of spiritually adultery for simply speaking to someone of the opposite sex on the telephone for over ten minutes; then what about the behavior of this same married man (Danny) that spends hours alone with a married woman(Brenda), not his own wife, in her apartment late at night? Add the following to that: Brenda would go over to Danny's home and cook food for him, remain in his home late at night (while his wife was upstairs sleeping),throw a birthday party for him and not invite his wife (Linda). Now consider that this woman (Brenda) becomes the primary accuser of this man's (Danny) wife (Linda), while still claiming to be the wife's best friend? You would not need the investigative prowers of Sherlock Holmes, Mr. Monk or CSI to smell the rats in this situation.

Posted by: awesumtenor Jan 25 2007, 07:56 AM

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jan 24 2007, 09:26 PM)
>
> Not beauty queen but "possible beauty queen." One that didn't quite make it. A runner-up.
>
> Theoretically:
>
> What if a birthday-party planner heard this statement and thought this statement applied to her, herself, only to have her hopes dashed later, after she had already done her part as the chaperon, or "eye witness" in Norway?

Then the party planner missed the fact that the 'worn out dish rag' was referring to herself, rather than Linda... which would explain why, even after Linda was kicked to the curb she still found herself on the outside looking in...

Theoretically.

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jan 25 2007, 10:59 AM

> QUOTE(roxe @ Jan 24 2007, 11:56 PM) ☐
>
> BTW, anyone know where Brandi is?? and what she doing??

This weekend?

Probably just wearing dark sunglasses and a hat --- on Tobago --- an island off the coast of Venezuela, and daydreaming about other things as Danny paces and rambles on and on about "The Story of 3ABN."

Posted by: Johann Jan 25 2007, 12:16 PM

> QUOTE(sister @ Jan 25 2007, 03:22 PM) ☐
>
> Brenda is not single, she was staying at 3ABN for prolonged periods of time without her husband. Danny's big red truck was frequently seen parked in front of her apartment late at night. If a man accuses his wife (Linda) of spiritually adultery for simply speaking to someone of the opposite sex on the telephone for over ten minutes; then what about the behavior of this same married man (Danny)that spends hours alone with a married woman(Brenda), not his own wife, in her apartment late at night? Add the following to that: Brenda would go over to Danny's home and cook food for him, remain in his home late at night (while his wife was upstairs sleeping),throw a birthday party for him and not invite his wife (Linda). Now consider that this woman (Brenda) becomes the primary accuser of this man's (Danny) wife (Linda), while still claiming to be the wife's best friend? You would not need the investigative prowers of Sherlock Holmes, Mr. Monk or CSI to smell the rats in this situation.

Amazingly, but after this Danny sent me a statement signed by Brenda that she was married and had no thoughts of getting a divorce.

Could you figure out why Danny should send me this statement? (There were rumors floating that Brenda did not et satisfaction in her marriage, and therefore wanted a divorce - could that be the reason Danny sent me her statement?)

Posted by: Rosyroi Jan 25 2007, 02:06 PM

> QUOTE(sister @ Jan 25 2007, 05:22 AM)
>
> Brenda is not single, she was staying at 3ABN for prolonged periods of time without her husband. Danny's big red truck was frequently seen parked in front of her apartment late at night. If a man accuses his wife (Linda) of spiritually adultery for simply speaking to someone of the opposite sex on the telephone for over ten minutes; then what about the behavior of this same married man (Danny)that spends hours alone with a married woman(Brenda), not his own wife, in her apartment late at night? Add the following to that: Brenda would go over to Danny's home and cook food for him, remain in his home late at night (while his wife was upstairs sleeping),throw a birthday party for him and not invite his wife (Linda). Now consider that this woman (Brenda) becomes the primary accuser of this man's (Danny) wife (Linda), while still claiming to be the wife's best friend? You would not need the investigative prowers of Sherlock Holmes, Mr. Monk or CSI to smell the rats in this situation.

Still trying to get information in proper perspective. "...staying at 3ABN for prolonged periods of time without her husband." I remember Brenda stating on world wide television that she would spend her two week vacation time at 3ABN working.... and being busy the whole time she was there...(not exact words) I assumed she meant that was all the time she spent there. I assumed a lot of things. (note to self....quit assuming too much and continue reading BSDA)

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 25 2007, 02:50 PM

> QUOTE(Rosyroi @ Jan 25 2007, 12:06 PM)
>
> Still trying to get information in proper perspective. "...staying at 3ABN for prolonged periods of time without her husband." I remember Brenda stating on world wide television that she would spend her two week vacation time at 3ABN working.... and being busy the whole time she was there...(not exact words) I assumed she meant that was all the time she spent there. I assumed a lot of things. (note to self....quit assuming too much and continue reading BSDA)

This is the problem. And this is what is counted on as well. Things are not as they appeared and it's hard on humans when they start to see this (in what ever senario). But, persistance for truth and honesty can never let us down, really. We just have to accept and learn what we can from what we discover. And PRAY A LOT!! Be encouraged all!!

Posted by: princessdi Jan 25 2007, 03:44 PM

I see we have more members of the Heathen Family who are astray!! (That's a compliment, BTW)

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jan 25 2007, 08:59 AM)
>
> This weekend?
>
> Probably just wearing dark sunglasses and a hat --- on Tobago --- an island off the coast of Venezuela, and daydreaming about other things as Danny paces and rambles on and on about "The Story of 3ABN."

Posted by: eye witness Jan 25 2007, 05:23 PM

> QUOTE(jene @ Jan 24 2007, 06:55 PM)
>
> Are talking about Nathan's drug addiction or did he have some other disease? I am not necessarily asking you to divulge what the disease is if it is something else. I am just curious because I am very interested in natural health and my ears perk up whenever someone starts talking about curing incurable diseases.
>
> Eyewitness,
>
> Please answer this for me. Is Danny Shelton not an adulterer since no one has any evidence that Linda Shelton cheated and he remarried anyway?
>
> Mat 19:9
> And I say unto you, Whosoever shall put away his wife, except it be for fornication, and shall marry another committeth adultery: and whoso marrieth her which is put away doth commit adultery.
>
> p pe sn TVsnack

Linda committed adultery in the worse way. And there is plenty of evidence!!! That is why Linda and her Team did not show for the ASI meeting!!!!!! She was about to be exposed to a group with the greatest integrity.

Posted by: missthg Jan 25 2007, 05:34 PM

what was this? spiritual or emotional adultery - please define and show the evidence. you sounding like you were right there when she did it...so i'm real curious.....

sn

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 25 2007, 03:23 PM)

> Linda committed adultery in the worse way. And there is plenty of evidence!!! That is why Linda and her Team did not show for the ASI meeting!!!!!! She was about to be exposed to a group with the greatest integrity.

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 25 2007, 05:36 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 25 2007, 03:23 PM)
>
> Linda committed adultery in the worse way. And there is plenty of evidence!!! That is why Linda and her Team did not show for the ASI meeting!!!!!! She was about to be exposed to a group with the greatest integrity.

I think your brain works in reverse. This makes ABSOLUTELY NO SENSE! Do you hear youself?? I know, why do I even ask......you are a provoker, not a truth teller. Tell me, how could wanting it ALL OUT ON THE TABLE be considered a "no show"? I think you better re-read the reason this didn't fly....someone else didn't want things out on the table! And while you are at it, SHOW US THE EVIDENCE!!! We are still waiting (including LINDA!)

Posted by: princessdi Jan 25 2007, 05:39 PM

First of all, Eyewitness, we are going to use our inside voices when we post, even in cyber space, there is yelling, it is not allow here, though.

Ok, on this this evidence they have proving Linda's adultery. Tell me this, was it presented in court when she contested the quickie divorce? And since Team Danny has had the floor all to themselves for almost three years now, why have they not presented this evidence to anyone? I mean truly it will not change my mind, in that I still maintain that Danny and 3ABN had an obligation to handle the situation no matter Linda's guilt or innocenc in a Christ-like manner, as they claim to be leaders and Christian living. They did not. They should have been the leaders in mending, healing and forgiveness, they were not. Once again, if Linda was so wrong, so guilty, why not let her speak for 2 1/2 years, why the gag order attached to the thread of taking any livliehood(sp)?

The only reason I lean toward Linda's direction is that Danny's first words to this board were lies (and were soon proven to be), Linda's weren't. now what are we supposed to think?

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 25 2007, 03:23 PM)
>
> Linda committed adultery in the worse way. And there is plenty of evidence!!! That is why Linda and her Team did not show for the ASI meeting!!!!!! She was about to be exposed to a group with the greatest integrity.

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 25 2007, 08:24 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 25 2007, 06:23 PM) ☐
>
> Linda committed adultery in the worse way. And there is plenty of evidence!!! That is why Linda and her Team did not show for the ASI meeting!!!!!! She was about to be exposed to a group with the greatest integrity.

Was this to be the same exposure she received the first time. Come on! We keep hearing about the evidence, but I haven't seen it yet...?

Posted by: Observer Jan 25 2007, 08:30 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 25 2007, 04:23 PM) ☐
>
> Linda committed adultery in the worse way. And there is plenty of evidence!!! That is why Linda and her Team did not show for the ASI meeting!!!!!! She was about to be exposed to a group with the greatest integrity.

I am not certain as to what you meant by the ASI meeting. But, I can speak for the recent attempt of ASI to facilitate a resolution.

One of the major problems was the amount of public disclosure that would take place in relationship to the efforts of ASI. A core value for Linda was that there be full public disclosure. She felt that her reputation had been so trashed that she had nothing to lose. Whatever the findings of ASI, she could only benefit by a disclosure that was complete and available to all to form their own opinion. That was Linda's position, and at the beginning, of course before any findings by ASI.

On one level that position was not subject to compromise.

However, while the base position was not subject to compromise, the specifics and details could have been discussed and some compromise on those in order to reach an agreement on the main issue--full public disclosure, in a manner that the facts would be available to all.

Folks, when you have two parties, with major differences, you have to talk to each other to attempt to find some common ground. I do not believe that any real effort was expended in an attempt to discuss this with us and find a potential common ground for agreement. We were simply presented with an ASI position that concerned us in regard to full public disclosure.

I say again: You have to talk to your enemy. Some of that took place. But, those talks never went to the nitty-gritty of in-depth discussions of our issues of disagreement, in many cases. ASI pulled out before this happened.

Here is an illustration of how the discussion could have gone:

ASI: O. K. What do you mean by full disclosure, and what do you mean by public disclosure.

ASI: O.K. Here is what we think should be done. I see we agree on . . . .. We have some concerns about . . . . I wonder, would . . . . be acceptable to you instead of . . . .?

ASI: How would it be if we changed . . . to . . .? Would that be acceptable?

NOTE: I am not concentrating on ASI. The same responses would be true for the so-called Linda's Team.

Posted by: Johann Jan 25 2007, 08:40 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 24 2007, 11:12 PM)
>
> I wonder Johann what do you worship when there is healing? The gift giver or the gift receiver?

Who is worhipping whom? Are you talking in the realm of the fictitious Spiritual Adultery? Please get out into real life!!!

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 26 2007, 01:23 AM)
>
> Linda committed adultery in the worse way. And there is plenty of evidence!!! That is why Linda and her Team did not show for the ASI meeting!!!!!! She was about to be exposed to a group with the greatest integrity.

You must believe in the title of Danny's book, The Commandments Twice Removed! Linda did not break the one about adultery, but you are braking the one against a lying witness!

Posted by: eye witness Jan 25 2007, 08:46 PM

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Jan 25 2007, 05:39 PM)
>
> First of all, Eyewitness, we are going to use our inside voices when we post, even in cyber space, there is yelling, it is not allow here, though.
>
> Ok, on this this evidence they have proving Linda's adultery. Tell me this, was it presented in court when she contested the quickie divorce? And since Team Danny has had the floor all to themselves for almost three years now, why have they not presented this evidence to anyone? I mean truly it will not change my mind, in that I still maintain that Danny and 3ABN had an obligation to handle the situation no matter Linda's guilt or innocenc in a Christ-like manner, as they claim to be leaders and Christian living. They did not. They should have been the leaders in mending, healing and forgiveness, they were not. Once again, if Linda was so wrong, so guilty, why not let her speak for 2 1/2 years, why the gag order attached to the thread of taking any livliehood(sp)?
>
> The only reason I lean toward Linda's direction is that Danny's first words to this board were lies (and were soon proven to be), Linda's weren't. now what are we supposed to think?

I am sure that if it could be done over again, which it can't, it would be handled differently. My opinion, more in a Christ like way would be better. She just had no reguard for ANYONE's advise in the matter. SHe really thought that what she had going on with the doctor, that her husband was suppose to accept it. Talking to the men on this forum - would any of you allow in your marriage an additional burden barer for your wife? Who thought so much of him that she referred to him as her burden barer (on air) in the ministry of the Lord. I saw the program myself and so did millions of others. Men what if your wife locked herself in the bathroom, bedroom, and the car and talked to the same man 4 or 5 hours everyday. Would your manhood allow you to accept that, let alone your christian walk? I mean come on folks, she stayed at his house, without her husband and then say that it was a professional relationship! Women - when have you ever stayed at your doctors house for several days??????

Posted by: Rosyroi Jan 25 2007, 08:52 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 25 2007, 06:46 PM)
>
> I am sure that if it could be done over again, which it can't, it would be handled differently. My opinion, more in a Christ like way would be better. She just had no reguard for ANYONE's advise in the matter. SHe really thought that what she had going on with the doctor, that her husband was suppose to accept it. Talking to the men on this forum - would any of you allow in your marriage an additional burden barer for your wife? Who thought so much of him that she referred to him as her burden barer (on air) in the ministry of the Lord. I saw the program myself and so did millions of others. Men what if your wife locked herself in the bathroom, bedroom, and the car and talked to the same man 4 or 5 hours everyday. Would your manhood allow you to accept that, let alone your christian walk? I mean come on folks, she stayed at his house, without her husband and then say that it was a professional relationship! Women - when have you ever stayed at your doctors house for several days??????

princessdi I don't see the answer you asked yet. I am waiting also....

Posted by: Johann Jan 25 2007, 09:01 PM

> QUOTE(jene @ Jan 25 2007, 02:55 AM)
>
> Are talking about Nathan's drug addiction or did he have some other disease? I am not necessarily asking you to divulge what the disease is if it is something else. I am just curious because I am very interested in natural health and my ears perk up whenever someone starts talking about curing incurable diseases.
>
> Eyewitness,
>
> - - -
>
> TVsnack

Since eye witness permits herself to divulge into medical problems - she might have a doctorate, but I have never known that to be in medicine - she is really off limits. Only because I was there did I find out that Nathan had other serious medical problems that none of the zillions of other medical doctors had discovered, as far as I know. My understanding is that it was when Nathan received treatments for something else that his condition improved so greatly that I did not recognize him again after ten days of treatment. When I first saw him there I was sure it was a different young man.

It seems like his foster father has all this time maintained that Nathan's only problems were with drugs, and so his evidence against Linda is somehow based on that.

It seems like eye witness even swallows the sinker and believes that all Danny says is the truth. This is what causes this great confusion.

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jan 25 2007, 09:18 PM

And you were a eye witness to all this? Or did you hear it from Danny's camp?

Richard

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 25 2007, 09:46 PM) ☐
>
> I am sure that if it could be done over again, which it can't, it would be handled differently. My opinion, more in a Christ like way would be better. She just had no reguard for ANYONE's advise in the matter. SHe really thought that what she had going on with the doctor, that her husband was suppose to accept it. Talking to the men on this forum - would any of you allow in your marriage an additional burden barer for your wife? Who thought so much of him that she referred to him as her burden barer (on air) in the ministry of the Lord. I saw the program myself and so did millions of others. Men what if your wife locked herself in the bathroom, bedroom, and the car and talked to the same man 4 or 5 hours everyday. Would your manhood allow you to accept that, let alone your christian walk? I mean come on folks, she stayed at his house, without her husband and then say that it was a professional relationship! Women - when have you ever stayed at your doctors house for several days?????? ☐

Posted by: princessdi Jan 25 2007, 09:25 PM

Ok, Rosy? and she really needs to save al that about the Dr. and Linda, we have heard it all before and we didn't buy it then. Now if she has some picstures, etc. some evidence beside her word. then we can talk, otherwise.......Next!!!!

Excuse, just one more thing that probably won't be answered. Was all this activity with the Dr. before or after she was told she might be replaced byt the beauty queen? Please!

> QUOTE(Rosyroi @ Jan 25 2007, 06:52 PM) ☐
>
> princessdi I don't see the answer you asked yet. I am waiting also.... ☐

Posted by: Johann Jan 25 2007, 09:26 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 26 2007, 04:46 AM)
>
> I am sure that if it could be done over again, which it can't, it would be handled differently. My opinion, more in a Christ like way would be better. She just had no reguard for ANYONE's advise in the matter. SHe really thought that what she had going on with the doctor, that her husband was suppose to accept it. Talking to the men on this forum - would any of you allow in your marriage an additional burden barer for your wife? Who thought so much of him that she referred to him as her burden barer (on air) in the ministry of the Lord. I saw the program myself and so did millions of others. Men what if your wife locked herself in the bathroom, bedroom, and the car and talked to the same man 4 or 5 hours everyday. Would your manhood allow you to accept that, let alone your christian walk? I mean come on folks, she stayed at his house, without her husband and then say that it was a professional relationship! Women - when have you ever stayed at your doctors house for several days??????

Linda did not only talk to the doctor during this period. My wife and I also talked to Linda on the phone, so we knew what was going on. I knew that a certain Dr. Kay Kuzma was assigned to speak to Linda by 3ABN. Linda talked to KK once, and when I encouraged her to keep on talking to her, because at that time I still considered her an honest person, Linda said she could not. Why? Because KK was so biased against her by telling her all the thwarted stories that you are relating here above, that she could not stand talking to her any more.

It may seem strange to some, but every time Linda and the doctor had talked on the phone I was given a report of their conversation. They wanted to be open and honest about it. I can tell you that the team that was supposed to help solve the problem between Danny and Linda created so much confusion. A couple of times I also spoke to Danny, and besides that he wrote me up to 3 e-mail a day. At the same time I saw e-mail he sent to others where he seemed to be a loving saint who wanted to save his marriage.

Linda was so frustrated because of all the lies that were told about her by her own husband, and repeated by everybody else aroudn her, that she was forced to talk to someone on the outside.

Danny even admitted to me in one of his e-mails that he spoke with two faces. In his close dealings with Linda and in what he told me, he was not in the least interested in saving his marriage. All he wanted was a proof, genuine or not, that Linda had committed adultery so that he could marry someone else.

You swallowed his sinker too, his other face. God is our witness, so nothing can keep me from telling the truth any more.

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jan 25 2007, 09:36 PM

And even if what Danny and his supporters say was all 100% true that is still not a basis for a Biblical divorce. The red herrings are swimming in a school for sure. (Watchbird yes I know they really don't)

Richard

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jan 25 2007, 10:26 PM) ☐
>
> Linda did not only talk to the doctor during this period. My wife and I also talked to Linda on the phone, so we knew what was going on. I knew that a certain Dr. Kay Kuzma was assigned to speak to Linda by 3ABN. Linda talked to KK once, and when I encouraged her to keep on talking to her, because at that time I still considered her an honest person, Linda said she could not. Why? Because KK was so biased against her by telling her all the thwarted stories that you are relating here above, that she could not stand talking to her any more.
>
> It may seem strange to some, but every time Linda and the doctor had talked on the phone I was given a report of their conversation. They wanted to be open and honest about it. I can tell you that the team that was supposed to help solve the problem between Danny and Linda created so much confusion. A couple of times I also spoke to Danny, and besides that he wrote me up to 3 e-mail a day. At the same time I saw e-mail he sent to others where he seemed to be a loving saint who wanted to save his marriage.
>
> Linda was so frustrated because of all the lies that were told about her by her own husband, and repeated by everybody else aroudn her, that she was forced to talk to someone on the outside.
>
> Danny even admitted to me in one of his e-mails that he spoke with two faces. In his close dealings with Linda and in what he told me, he was not in the least interested in saving his marriage. All he wanted was a proof, genuine or not, that Linda had committed adultery so that he could marry someone else.
>
> You swallowed his sinker too, his other face. God is our witness, so nothing can keep me from telling the truth any more.

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 25 2007, 10:35 PM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jan 25 2007, 10:26 PM) ☐
>
> Danny even admitted to me in one of his e-mails that he spoke with two faces. In his close dealings with Linda and in what he told me, he was not in the least interested in saving his marriage. All he wanted was a proof, genuine or not, that Linda had committed adultery so that he could marry someone else.

I would almost give you a kiss to see that email!

(I did say almost...but it would be a great addition!)

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 25 2007, 10:40 PM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 25 2007, 08:35 PM)
>
> I would almost give you a kiss to see that email!
>
> (I did say almost...but it would be a great addition!)

hoty hoty hoty!!!

Posted by: eye witness Jan 25 2007, 10:42 PM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jan 25 2007, 09:26 PM)
>
> Linda did not only talk to the doctor during this period. My wife and I also talked to Linda on the phone, so we knew what was going on. I knew that a certain Dr. Kay Kuzma was assigned to speak to Linda by 3ABN. Linda talked to KK once, and when I encouraged her to keep on talking to her, because at that time I still considered her an honest person, Linda said she could not. Why? Because KK was so biased against her by telling her all the thwarted stories that you are relating here above, that she could not stand talking to her any more.
>
> It may seem strange to some, but every time Linda and the doctor had talked on the phone I was given a report of their conversation. They wanted to be open and honest about it. I can tell you that the team that was supposed to help solve the problem between Danny and Linda created so much confusion. A couple of times I also spoke to Danny, and besides that he wrote me up to 3 e-mail a day. At the same time I saw e-mail he sent to others where he seemed to be a loving saint who wanted to save his marriage.
>
> Linda was so frustrated because of all the lies that were told about her by her own husband, and repeated by everybody else aroudn her, that she was forced to talk to someone on the outside.
>
> Danny even admitted to me in one of his e-mails that he spoke with two faces. In his close dealings with Linda and in what he told me, he was not in the least interested in saving his marriage. All he wanted was a proof, genuine or not, that Linda had committed adultery so that he could marry someone else.
>
> You swallowed his sinker too, his other face. God is our witness, so nothing can keep me from telling the truth any more.

Johann, i want to say I believe that you believe what you are saying. I believe you are an honest man, I really do. I also believe that you have been duped... Doc Abrahamson is a phychologist. He is trainned to manipulate the brain, and your thinking. That is what I believe he did to you and to Linda. Investigations were made on the Doc as well... and the results were... Linda wasn't the first.
When you say you were posted on their conversations.. were you given the 5 hour version or the 5 minute report? You say Linda visited you and your wife when she was in Norway. I want to ask if she slept over at your house or at the Doctor's? The doctor's ..Right? Did she cook for you and your sick wife? She did for the doctor! Was Danny along when Linda was there, or just her girl friend. Was Nathan there EVERY TIME Linda visited the doctor? Please tell us.

You said she was forced to talk to someone "outside". That may be true, however it is never smart to tell your deepest thoughts to someone of the opposite sex... if they aren't your spouse. There are women phychologist as well. If you find another "burden Barer" it needs to be of the same sex. Besides, the doctor was suppose to be FOR NATHAN, not Linda.
Linda and Danny were counseled by professional marriage counselors, by pastors, by friends, by everyone that could talk to her. They all said the same. You must stop your relationship with this doctor for the sake of your marriage and your part in the ministry. She refused. The doctor was advised to break it off with Linda. It was unethical for him as a professional doctor and an elder in the SDA church to have this ongoing relationship with her because it was jepordizing her marriage and ministry. He would not quit! I should say "they would not quit"

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 25 2007, 10:43 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 25 2007, 07:46 PM)
>
> I am sure that if it could be done over again, which it can't, it would be handled differently. My opinion, more in a Christ like way would be better. She just had no reguard for ANYONE's advise in the matter. SHe really thought that what she had going on with the doctor, that her husband was suppose to accept it. Talking to the men on this forum - would any of you allow in your marriage an additional burden barer for your wife? Who thought so much of him that she referred to him as her burden barer (on air) in the ministry of the Lord. I saw the program myself and so did millions of others. Men what if your wife locked herself in the bathroom, bedroom, and the car and talked to the same man 4 or 5 hours everyday. Would your manhood allow you to accept that, let alone your christian walk? I mean come on folks, she stayed at his house, without her husband and then say that it was a professional relationship! Women - when have you ever stayed at your doctors house for several days??????

Eye witness, when was that program on? I heard someone mention it some time ago but never heard when or where.

Posted by: Johann Jan 25 2007, 10:48 PM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 26 2007, 06:35 AM)
>
> I would almost give you a kiss to see that email!
>
> (I did say almost...but it would be a great addition!)

Danny also wrote to me and asked me to delete his e-mails to me because they might be used against him. But I've kept them. In case of a court case!!! And in case Dr. Eye Witness keeps on too long!!!

Posted by: princessdi Jan 25 2007, 10:51 PM

I know that's right Johann!!!

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jan 25 2007, 08:48 PM)
>
> Danny also wrote to me and asked me to delete his e-mails to me because they might be used against him. But I've kept them. In case of a court case!!! And in case Dr. Eye Witness keeps on too long!!!

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 25 2007, 10:53 PM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jan 25 2007, 11:48 PM)
>
> Danny also wrote to me and asked me to delete his e-mails to me because they might be used against him. But I've kept them. In case of a court case!!! And in case Dr. Eye Witness keeps on too long!!!

You are indeed a smart man!

Posted by: no_cults Jan 25 2007, 11:26 PM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jan 24 2007, 09:05 PM)
>
> Now you have me confused.... This talks about Brenda Walsh... but Danny did not marry Brenda, he married Brandi. So ... oh well ... I won't even guess at possibilities... what is the connection with what here?

Most likely Danny is not stupid. Were he to marry Brenda (already married), would involve another divorce. No.... that would not have worked at all, and DS knew it.

Posted by: Bystander Jan 26 2007, 02:03 AM

> QUOTE(Richard Sherwin @ Jan 25 2007, 09:18 PM)

> And you were a eye witness to all this? Or did you hear it from Danny's camp?
>
> Richard

Richard, how much have the allegations made on this forum have you actually witnessed or have you just "heard it" from Linda's camp?

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Jan 25 2007, 09:25 PM) ☐
>
> Ok, Rosy? and she really needs to save al that about the Dr. and Linda, we have heard it all before and we didn't buy it then. Now if she has some picstures, etc. some evidence beside her word. then we can talk, otherwise.......Next!!!!
>
> Excuse, just one more thing that probably won't be answered. Was all this activity with the Dr. before or after she was told she might be replaced byt the beauty queen? Please!

Di, I have to ask did you see pics ect..of all the allegations made here toward Danny & Tommy shelton? or did you just take someone's word for it

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Jan 25 2007, 09:25 PM) ☐
>
> Ok, Rosy? and she really needs to save al that about the Dr. and Linda, we have heard it all before and we didn't buy it then. Now if she has some picstures, etc. some evidence beside her word. then we can talk, otherwise.......Next!!!!
>
> Excuse, just one more thing that probably won't be answered. Was all this activity with the Dr. before or after she was told she might be replaced byt the beauty queen? Please!

Again, did you hear Danny S. mention a beauty queen or were you told he did?

Posted by: Bystander Jan 26 2007, 02:22 AM

> QUOTE(Rosyroi @ Jan 25 2007, 02:06 PM) ☐
>
> Still trying to get information in proper perspective. "...staying at 3ABN for prolonged periods of time without her husband." I remember Brenda stating on world wide television that she would spend her two week vacation time at 3ABN working.... and being busy the whole time she was there...(not exact words) I assumed she meant that was all the time she spent there. I assumed a lot of things. (note to self....quit assuming too much and continue reading BSDA)

You would be better off assuming than to believe what you read here. These people here have told me to find out facts so I have set about doing just that. What I found on this subject is that Brenda was almost never at the 3ABN apartments without at least 1 and many times, both, of her sisters. They always stayed together. I also found that they are known for working nonstop when they are there. They obviously have a lot of programming to do in a short period of time. They write, produce and do all the scheduling for all the kids programs..scheduling meaning that far in advance they are in touch with the parents of the children they want on the show and they try to schedule certain kids on certain days so the families can line out their time accordingly. Then they do the cooking programs which I understand, takes lots of preparation in advance. Then, they also do some decorating for sets, offices and such if there is a need. I have seen them on the air. It seems to me they work hard, have sweet spirits and in no way deserve to be drugg into this mess just to be used as another tool to try to make Danny S. look bad. AND NO, I AM NOT DANNY S AS SISTER HAS ACCUSED ME OF BEING.

Posted by: Bystander Jan 26 2007, 02:36 AM

[quote name='Johann' date='Jan 25 2007, 09:26 PM' post='172667']

Danny even admitted to me in one of his e-mails that he spoke with two faces. In his close dealings with Linda and in what he told me, he was not in the least interested in saving his marriage. All he wanted was a proof, genuine or not, that Linda had committed adultery so that he could marry someone else.

Yohann, I am hoping sincerely that you "accidentally" phrased that wrong. By saying "all he wanted was a proof, genuine or not that LInda had committed adultery so that he could marry someone else....it appears that you are saying that he said to you ,that he was not interested in healing his marriage, he just wanted proof of her adultery so he could marry someone else. Again, maybe it was an accident on your part to phrase it where it sounds like he said those words to you. Common sense. Even if he was guilty as sin he wouldn't have said so, much less of he was innocent of that which he has been accused of.
I think you should correct how you said it.

Posted by: Ozzie Jan 26 2007, 03:41 AM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 26 2007, 12:46 PM) ☐
>
> I am sure that if it could be done over again, which it can't, it would be handled differently. My opinion, more in a Christ like way would be better. She just had no reguard for ANYONE's advise in the matter. SHe really thought that what she had going on with the doctor, that her husband was suppose to accept it. Talking to the men on this forum - would any of you allow in your marriage an additional burden barer for your wife? Who thought so much of him that she referred to him as her burden barer (on air) in the ministry of the Lord. I saw the program myself and so did millions of others. Men what if your wife locked herself in the bathroom, bedroom, and the car and talked to the same man 4 or 5 hours everyday. Would your manhood allow you to accept that, let alone your christian walk? I mean come on folks, she stayed at his house, without her husband and then say that it was a professional relationship! Women - when have you ever stayed at your doctors house for several days??????

Is that the pillow talk you've heard from Danny? ☒ drea

Your anger is showing. ☒

Maybe, you're afraid of another 'burden barer' (sic) in your relationship, not unlike the one that Linda had in her marriage? ☒ gi

---

Posted by: Denny Jan 26 2007, 06:35 AM

People who insist Linda committed adultery is this based on actually being there in the bedroom or listening to the phone calls or a confession from Linda herself or is this based on what they were told from her ex-husband and his friends? If one wanted to get rid of a spouse and make them look bad what better way to do it? He (DS) should have followed Joseph's example, he wanted to put away Mary privately and not subject her to public ridicule- DS should have done the same whether he had grounds or not- people in the Adventsit church divorce and remarry all the time without thrashing their ex reputation.

Posted by: sister Jan 26 2007, 06:45 AM

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Jan 26 2007, 03:03 AM)
>
> Richard, how much have the allegations made on this forum have you actually witnessed or have you just "heard it" from Linda's camp?
> Di, I have to ask did you see pics ect..of all the allegations made here toward Danny & Tommy shelton? or did you just take someone's word for it
> Again, did you hear Danny S. mention a beauty queen or were you told he did?

Bystander, Bystander, you are not fooling anyone by ignoring the questions that Richard and Di have asked you through attempting to turn the tables upon them by answering their questions with another question. THEY all are STILL WAITING for YOUR answers. Well....

Sister

Posted by: Clay Jan 26 2007, 07:11 AM

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Jan 26 2007, 02:22 AM)
>
> You would be better off assuming than to believe what you read here. These people here have told me to find out facts so I have set about doing just that. What I found on this subject is that Brenda was almost never at the 3ABN apartments without at least 1 and many times, both, of her sisters. They always stayed together. snip...

These people? Is that like Ross Perot saying "You People?" I thought you were going to stand somewhere else? distraction by minutiae.... tiresome you are.....

Posted by: jene Jan 26 2007, 08:53 AM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 25 2007, 09:46 PM)
>
> I am sure that if it could be done over again, which it can't, it would be handled differently. My opinion, more in a Christ like way would be better. She just had no reguard for ANYONE's advise in the matter. SHe really thought that what she had going on with the doctor, that her husband was suppose to accept it. Talking to the men on this forum - would any of you allow in your marriage an > additional burden barer for your wife? Who thought so much of him that she referred to him as her burden barer (on air) in the ministry of the Lord. I saw the program myself and so did millions of others. Men what if your wife locked herself in the bathroom, bedroom, and the car and talked to the same man 4 or 5 hours everyday. Would your manhood allow you to accept that, let alone your christian walk? I mean come on folks, she stayed at his house, without her husband and then say that it was a professional relationship! Women - when have you ever stayed at your doctors house for several days??????

So I'm sitting here reading this thread while I am waiting for my classmates to finish their computerized test. No one is allowed to leave the room until time is up. Eyewitness you almost got me in trouble for laughing out loud!!!!! This is pure comedy. I thought in your response to my question you stated that there is serious evidence of Linda's "adultery". Yet, nobody knows what it is because for reasons that only the 3ABN mafia knows, the only way for the evidence to be revealed is to have a sham investigation by ASI. Yeah right! If Walt Thompson can publish a long letter on 3ABN after they fired her and give bogus info, then he can publish the serious evidence. Then I read this pathetic mess above. Now you are trying to say that Danny can divorce Linda because of his bruised manhood?

notworkir rofl rofl

Posted by: Clay Jan 26 2007, 08:56 AM

> QUOTE(jene @ Jan 26 2007, 08:53 AM)
>
> So I'm sitting here reading this thread while I am waiting for my classmates to finish their computerized test. No one is allowed to leave the room until time is up. Eyewitness you almost got me in trouble for laughing out loud!!!!! This is pure comedy. I thought in your response to my question you stated that there is serious evidence of Linda's "adultery". Yet, nobody knows what it is because for reasons that only the 3ABN mafia knows, the only way for the evidence to be revealed is to have a sham investigation by ASI. Yeah right! If Walt Thompson can publish a long letter on 3ABN after they fired her and give bogus info, then he can publish the serious evidence. Then I read this pathetic mess above. Now you are trying to say that Danny can divorce Linda because of his bruised manhood?
>
> notworkir rofl rofl

I am glad you see through all that mess....

Posted by: caribbean sda Jan 26 2007, 09:01 AM

> QUOTE(Richard Sherwin @ Jan 25 2007, 11:36 PM)
>
> And even if what Danny and his supporters say was all 100% true that is still not a basis for a > Biblical divorce.

Why can't the people in Dannyland understand this?

Posted by: Clay Jan 26 2007, 09:07 AM

> QUOTE(caribbean sda @ Jan 26 2007, 09:01 AM)
>
> Why can't the people in Dannyland understand this?

cause they like the taste of the kool-aid....

Posted by: Observer Jan 26 2007, 11:02 AM

Re: "Talking to the men on this forum - would any of you allow in your marriage an additional burden barer for your wife? Who thought so much of him that she referred to him as her burden barer (on air) in the ministry of the Lord. I saw the program myself and so did millions of others. Men what if your wife locked herself in the bathroom, bedroom, and the car and talked to the same man 4 or 5 hours everyday. Would your manhood allow you to accept that, let alone your christian walk? I mean come on folks, she stayed at his house, without her husband and then say that it was a professional relationship! Women - when have you ever stayed at your doctors house for several days??????"

O. K. I will respond. For my response, I am as was Danny: I am in my second marriage, to a woman who brought a son into the relationship. That son has a significant problem with the use of illegal drugs. All previous attempts to kick the habbit have failed. My wife is at her wits end.

Here is what I would have done:

1) I would have learned everything that I could learn about such addictions.
2) I would have recognized that my part in the treatment of my step-son was critical.
3) I would have supported my wife by going to Europe with her to seek counsel from Dr. A.
4) I would have recognized that God wanted me to give prioritiy to my family, and that if I did that, God would see that my ministry (3-ABN) continued without me.
5) I wouod have encouraged my wife to stay in Europe as long as necessary.
6) Once my wife returned to the US, without our son, I would have recognied that his treatment might have required my wife to spend hours on the telephone with our son's treatment team.

Frankly, my "manhood" would not have been challenged by any of this. My manhood is not determined by any of the above.

Let us say that the time came when my wife wanted to divorce me. This is what I would have done:

1) I would NOT have filed for a divorce. She would have had to have done it.
2) Following the divorce, I would have simply said: We reached a mutual agreement to divorce. There was no Biblical grounds on the part of either of us.
3) To close friends, I would have said: She wanted it.
4) I would have stayed single for years, if necessary, until my wife married again.
5) I would have taken responsibility for the care and nurture of my children, and worked together with my ex-wife for that goal.

How do I know that I would have done this in this hypothetical situation, because that is exactly what I did in this real situation.

NOTE: I did not have a son with an addiction problem.

Don't come to me with comments about "manhood." They do not fly with me.

Gregory Matthews

I need to clairfy a point here that may have been misunderstood.

I am divorced. The second section of my post is exactly what I did. E.g. My only public statemenet has been that we mutually agreed to a divorce, and privately I have stated that she wanted it. Those five statements apply to me.

The six statements in the first section is a statement of what I would have done, if I had been in a position such as Danny Shelton. But, no, I did not marry a woman who brought an addicted son to our marriage.

However, I am re-married, and this one has lasted for 21 years. The reallity of that marriage is that I brought two children into the family, and my new wife had to deal with them. She gave them her all, as I would have done if she had brought children into our marriage.

I appologize is anyone misunderstood.

Gregory Matthews

Posted by: Clay Jan 26 2007, 11:08 AM

Thank you Greg.... Thats what I am talking about.... AMEN!!!!!!!!

That is how a REAL Christian man would have handled it....

Posted by: September Jan 26 2007, 12:39 PM

Amen!! That's beautiful...what a blessing that post was to read!

Posted by: Observer Jan 26 2007, 01:12 PM

> QUOTE(September @ Jan 26 2007, 11:39 AM)
>
> Amen!! That's beautiful...what a blessing that post was to read!

Thank you. I will also say that the denomination worked with me. I was an ordained minister at the time of my divorce. I have maintained my credentials. I am still an ordained SDA minister.

Folks, divorce happens. Sometimes marriages cannot be put back together.

It is comming out of my personal experiences, and in dealing with divorced and divorcing members that I have never criticized Danny for either his divorce, or his remarriage. While I am clearly on the side of Linda, she knows that I refuse to critize her ex-husband in that area.

My criticism of Danny is in regard to the other issues. My criticism is also in regard to the way that Linda was treated, and the charges that I beleive to be false.

The statement has been made that we who are on Linda's side have simply accepted her lies. Yes, I am putting this in my words. As it applies to me, that is false. In the early days, Danny Shelton was corresponding with me. I had communication with others also. My belief that Linda never gave Danny Biblical grounds for the divorce is based in part upon my personal communication with Danny.

Some may ask if my communication really came from Danny, and others. Well, that was once dicussed with an attorney who contacted me regarding that correspondence. I will suggest that speaks for itself.

Posted by: Rosyroi Jan 26 2007, 01:22 PM

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Jan 26 2007, 12:22 AM) ☐
>
> You would be better off assuming than to believe what you read here. These people here have told me to find out facts so I have set about doing just that. What I found on this subject is that Brenda was almost never at the 3ABN apartments without at least 1 and many times, both, of her sisters. They always stayed together. I also found that they are known for working nonstop when they are there. They obviously have a lot of programming to do in a short period of time. They write, produce and do all the scheduling for all the kids programs..scheduling meaning that far in advance they are in touch with the parents of the children they want on the show and they try to schedule certain kids on certain days so the families can line out their time accordingly. Then they do the cooking programs which I understand, takes lots of preparation in advance. Then, they also do some decorating for sets, offices and such if there is a need. I have seen them on the air. It seems to me they work hard, have sweet spirits and in no way deserve to be drugg into this mess just to be used as another tool to try to make Danny S. look bad. AND NO, I AM NOT DANNY S AS SISTER HAS ACCUSED ME OF BEING.

I don't want to get into any silly fight... I would like to know how you got this information. Was this first hand or something someone at 3ABN told you? Where did you get your facts? Guess it is now my turn to be shredded.

Posted by: Observer Jan 26 2007, 01:33 PM

I want to share a little more because I think it illustrates that even when people have problems that result in the breakup of a marriage, they can still relate in a civil manner.

When my ex-wife and I divorced, we both were granted joint custody of two minor children. That forced us to relate to each other for the benefit of our two children. There were times when I had to bite my tongue when speaking to my ex on the telephone, and possibly (?) :-) she had to do the same. :-)

Following my marriage, my ex and my present wife corresponded, spoke regularly on the telephone, and began sending each other gifts. That relationship progressed to the point where we (myself, my wife, our son, and our dog) would spend vacations at the home of my ex, and my oldest son. By this time, my ex was single again. We did that so we could visit my two oldest sons by my ex-wife.

Yes, the time came when we had a falling out. Things did go south for a while. But, about 18 months ago, or so, we mended the relationship. We speak to my ex wife on the average of once a week. My present wife and my ex are back to exchanging gifts. We are not yet at the place where we could stay in their home on a visit. But, part of that is medical. A little over a year ago, my ex wife was in an accident, and she is still learning to walk. But, she is making progress.

Is this what could happen in the typical case? Probably not. In many cases, it would not be good to do so. But, it is an example of what people can do if they set their mind to build a relationship. It probably took special women (both my ex and my present) to build that type of a relationship. But, one factor in being able to do so was that during the years when the children were living with me (us) (I had them once for 13 months.). We attempted to put our anger and pain behind us, and to cooperate for the good of our children. That laid a foundation for other relationships.

No, nothing is perfect now. My ex and I still have to walk on eggs at times, and bite our tongues, so to speak. But, we can be civil, and sitting at the same table having a civil conversation.
We just attempt to be mature enough to let go of sore points.

Unfortunately, when Danny and Linda divorced, ...

Posted by: eye witness Jan 26 2007, 02:06 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 25 2007, 10:42 PM) ☐
>
> Johann, i want to say I believe that you believe what you are saying. I believe you are an honest man, I really do. I also believe that you have been duped... Doc Abrahamson is a phychologist. He is trainned to manipulate the brain, and your thinking. That is what I believe he did to you and to Linda. Investigations were made on the Doc as well... and the results were... Linda wasn't the first. When you say you were posted on their conversations.. were you given the 5 hour version or the 5 minute report? You say Linda visited you and your wife when she was in Norway. I want to ask if she slept over at your house or at the Doctor's? The doctor's ..Right? Did she cook for you and your sick wife? She did for the doctor! Was Danny along when Linda was there, or just her girl friend. Was Nathan there EVERY TIME Linda visited the doctor? Please tell us.
>
> You said she was forced to talk to someone "outside". That may be true, however it is never smart to tell your deepest thoughts to someone of the opposite sex... if they aren't your spouse. There are women phychologist as well. If you find another "burden Barer" it needs to be of the same sex. Besides, the doctor was suppose to be FOR NATHAN, not Linda.
> Linda and Danny were counseled by professional marriage counselors, by pastors, by friends, by everyone that could talk to her. They all said the same. You must stop your relationship with this doctor for the sake of your marriage and your part in the ministry. She refused. The doctor was advised to break it off with Linda. It was unethical for him as a professional doctor and an elder in the SDA church to have this ongoing relationship with her because it was jepordizing her marriage and ministry. He would not quit! I should say "they would not quit"

Johann, I am still waiting for the answers to the above questions, would you please?
eye witness

> QUOTE(Observer @ Jan 26 2007, 01:33 PM) ☐

> I want to share a little more because I think it illustrates that even when people have problems that result in the breakup of a marriage, they can still relate in a civil manner.
>
> When my ex-wife and I divorced, we both were granted joint custody of two minor children. That forced us to relate to each other for the benefit of our two children. There were times when I had to bite my tongue when speaking to my ex on the telephone, and possibly (?) :-) she had to do the same. :-)
>
> Following my marriage, my ex and my present wife corresponded, spoke regularly on the telephone, and began sending each other gifts. That relationship progressed to the point where we (myself, my wife, our son, and our dog) would spend vacations at the home of my ex, and my oldest son. By this time, my ex was single again. We did that so we could visit my two oldest sons by my ex-wife.
>
> Yes, the time came when we had a falling out. Things did go south for a while. But, about 18 months ago, or so, we mended the relationship. We speak to my ex wife on the average of once a week. My present wife and my ex are back to exchanging gifts. We are not yet at the place where we could stay in their home on a visit. But, part of that is medical. A little over a year ago, my ex wife was in an accident, and she is still learning to walk. But, she is making progress.
>
> Is this what could happen in the typical case? Probably not. In many cases, it would not be good to do so. But, it is an example of what people can do if they set their mind to build a relationship. It probably took special women (both my ex and my present) to build that type of a relationship. But, one factor in being able to do so was that during the years when the children were living with me (us) (I had them once for 13 months.). We attempted to put our anger and pain behind us, and to cooperate for the good of our children. That laid a foundation for other relationships.
>
> No, nothing is perfect now. My ex and I still have to walk on eggs at times, and bite our tongues, so to speak. But, we can be civil, and sitting at the same table having a civil conversation.
> We just attempt to be mature enough to let go of sore points.
>
> Unfortunately, when Danny and Linda divorced, ...
>
> That's tooooo weird! no way are me and my husband going to his ex's for vacation. Anybody else think that's weird?

Posted by: Clay Jan 26 2007, 02:10 PM

nope Eyewitness only to you.... then again given the way you think its apparent why you think its strange...... in the words of D. L. Hughley, "you need Jesus"

Posted by: eye witness Jan 26 2007, 02:13 PM

> QUOTE(Observer @ Jan 26 2007, 01:12 PM) ☐
>
> Thank you. I will also say that the denomination worked with me. I was an ordained minister at the time of my divorce. I have maintained my credentials. I am still an ordained SDA minister.
>
> Folks, divorce happens. Sometimes marriages cannot be put back together.
>
> It is comming out of my personal experiences, and in dealing with divorced and divorcing members that I have never criticized Danny for either his divorce, or his remarriage. While I am clearly on the side of Linda, she knows that I refuse to critize her ex-husband in that area.
>
> My criticism of Danny is in regard to the other issues. My criticism is also in regard to the way that Linda was treated, and the charges that I beleive to be false.
>
> The statement has been made that we who are on Linda's side have simply accepted her lies. Yes, I am putting this in my words. As it applies to me, that is false. In the early days, Danny Shelton was corresponding with me. I had communication with others also. My belief that Linda never gave Danny Biblical grounds for the divorce is based in part upon my personal communication with Danny.
>
> Some may ask if my communication really came from Danny, and others. Well, that was once dicussed with an attorney who contacted me regarding that correspondence. I will suggest that speaks for itself.

I think that is great that the denomination was willing to work with you on your divorce. And for you to keep your credentials. I want to ask if you have faith in the leadership of the denomination? I mean, can you trust them to make decisions about divorce and such?
One more question, would you trust the NAD to make a fair assessment of the 3ABN and ASI situation? Keep your eyes open!

Posted by: Brenda Jan 26 2007, 02:30 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 27 2007, 07:06 AM) ☐
>
> [color=#993399]That's tooooo weird! no way are me and my husband going to his ex's for vacation. Anybody else think that's weird?
> eye witness

Perhaps reading Observer's post would answer your question more fully

"Following my marriage, my ex and my present wife corresponded, spoke regularly on the telephone, and began sending each other gifts. That relationship progressed to the point where we (myself, my wife, our son, and our dog) would spend vacations at the home of my ex, and my oldest son. By this time, my ex was single again. We did that so we could visit my two oldest sons by my ex-wife."

Sometimes after divorce, compromises for the sake of the children are in order.

Rather than thinking that weird, I would admire their united ability to put the children's good first.

Posted by: Johann Jan 26 2007, 02:52 PM

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Jan 26 2007, 06:43 AM) ☐
>
> Eye witness, when was that program on? I heard someone mention it some time ago but never heard when or where.

I have seen that program, and if needed, I think I would be able to secure a copy of it. Only with biased eyes and some editing will you get the results Dr. Eye Witness claims.

Posted by: Spike Jan 26 2007, 03:03 PM

Greg, thanks for sharing a private part of your life and showing how a true christian should live.

Eyewitness, nothing is impossible if Christ is the Lord of your life. If we can't get along here on this earth how are we going to in the new earth, so no it is not weired. Still praying for you. God Bless.

Posted by: Johann Jan 26 2007, 03:09 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 26 2007, 01:23 AM) ☐

> Linda committed adultery in the worse way. And there is plenty of evidence!!! That is why Linda and her Team did not show for the ASI meeting!!!!!! She was about to be exposed to a group with the greatest integrity.

Why is all this evidence invisible? You give me a good answer to that question. Then I'll consider replying to your post I missed - where there is not a single proof.

Posted by: princessdi Jan 26 2007, 03:16 PM

Only those needing God to intervene is this area of their lives, as you are. Now, I could have said something else, because you are exhibiting the direct opposite of Observer's Christ-like behavior.

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 26 2007, 12:06 PM)
>
> That's tooooo weird! no way are me and my husband going to his ex's for vacation. Anybody else think that's weird?
> eye witness

Posted by: Observer Jan 26 2007, 03:34 PM

> QUOTE(Brenda @ Jan 26 2007, 01:30 PM)
>
> Perhaps reading Observer's post would answer your question more fully
>
> "Following my marriage, my ex and my present wife corresponded, spoke regularly on the telephone, and began sending each other gifts. That relationship progressed to the point where we (myself, my wife, our son, and our dog) would spend vacations at the home of my ex, and my oldest son. By this time, my ex was single again. We did that so we could visit my two oldest sons by my ex-wife."
>
> Sometimes after divorce, compromises for the sake of the children are in order.
>
> Rather than thinking that weird, I would admire their united ability to put the children's good first.

NOTE: It has not always been easy. But, as said our mutual interests were regarding the children.

While single, I had joint responsibility for the children. As a single parent, they were with me for 13 months once.

Both of my sons lived with me following my remarriage.

I mentioned that we had a falling out once. That split my two sons. The one living with his mother, went to her side. The other went to my side. Part of healing that breach was because of my two sons, even though they were adults. The one son was not speaking to me. I also needed to work to heal the breach. The split affect their relationship to each other. They needed the breach to be healed. Well, we talk now at least once a week.

Again, I do not hold that out for everyone. I simply point out that even in a divorce, people who have a mutual committment to make the best of it for everyone can do so.

By the way, I have not said anything negative about my ex-wife. Folks, is there every any need to do so? What is gained by doing so?

Where would we be now if things had gone differently in the 3-ABN divorce?

Posted by: Johann Jan 26 2007, 04:10 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness) ☐
>
> Johann, i want to say I believe that you believe what you are saying. I believe you are an honest man, I really do. I also believe that you have been duped... Doc Abrahamson is a phychologist. He is trainned to manipulate the brain, and your thinking. That is what I believe he did to you and to Linda. Investigations were made on the Doc as well... and the results were... Linda wasn't the first. When you say you were posted on their conversations.. were you given the 5 hour version or the 5 minute report? You say Linda visited you and your wife when she was in Norway. I want to ask if she slept over at your house or at the Doctor's? The doctor's ..Right? Did she cook for you and your sick wife? She did for the doctor! Was Danny along when Linda was there, or just her girl friend. Was Nathan there EVERY TIME Linda visited the doctor? Please tell us.
>
> You said she was forced to talk to someone "outside". That may be true, however it is never smart to tell your deepest thoughts to someone of the opposite sex... if they aren't your spouse. There are women phychologist as well. If you find another "burden Barer" it needs to be of the same sex. Besides, the doctor was suppose to be FOR NATHAN, not Linda.
> Linda and Danny were counseled by professional marriage counselors, by pastors, by friends, by everyone that could talk to her. They all said the same. You must stop your relationship with this doctor for the sake of your marriage and your part in the ministry. She refused. The doctor was advised to break it off with Linda. It was unethical for him as a professional doctor and an elder in the SDA church to have this ongoing relationship with her because it was jepordizing her marriage and ministry. He would not quit! I should say "they would not quit"

Where did Dr. Arild Abrahamsen study psychology? You must know. I know where he went to high school, where he took physical therapy, and where he studied medicine which gives him a license to practise medicine in most countries in Europe. I know of many of his extended courses in medicine, but none in psychology that I now of. What do you know of his powers of manipulating? I have not heard any of his friends claim he has that power - with one big exception, and that is Mr. Danny Shelton! Does that qualify Danny Shelton as an expert in that area?

If I stay in your incorrect terminology, I was given the 10 hour reports. I use that exaggerated term the same way you are using it. And Irmgard often took part in this, and we discussed it thoroughly so it was not only a male analogy and consultation as you are implying.

Linda never visited the doctor before her divorce, except for the one time when Brenda was there. And, yes, Nathan was there then. That was the only time Linda was in Norway before the divorce. Therefore Danny had no Biblical reason to demand a divorce.

Tell me what counselling was completed between Danny and Linda? Both Danny and Linda told me all about their trip to Kansas both before and after. Before they left for Kansas Danny told me his only purpose for going was to find some experts who would agree with him that Linda had committed spiritual adultery and therefore he was entitled to divorce her and marry someone else.

This was to be an extended counselling with many sessions, the way I understood it. During that one and only session, according to what they told Linda, Danny talked most of the time, and most of the time he was telling them how terrible Linda was, and then he told them what he thought should be their verdict, that now he was free to divorce her and marry someone else. Just because Danny manged to tell them this, he later claimed they had said it.

You claim it was unwise for Linda to talk on the phone with a doctor in Norway. Was this session with professional counsellors in Kansas any better? Were you an eye witness to that counselling?

All the stories of how kind he was to her, and that he wanted to save his marriage came later after many people wrote and told them they were praying for their marriage.

The strangest thing about this whole thing is that the person most often quoted by Danny as counselling Linda and telling her what to do, called me some time ago. I reminded him how Danny has been referring to him as his main witness because of his extended counselling of Linda.

He was quiet for a moment.

- Johann, to tell you the truth, I never had a counselling session with Linda.

So, are you taking Danny's word for it, or the words of the counsellor?

You claim the doctor and Linda would not quit talking. How do you know?

I know that they refrained from talking on the phone because both wanted to save Linda and Danny's marriage. But this did not stop Danny's harrassing and demands that she must admit she had committed adultery so he could get rid of her.

I wrote and appealed to both Danny and Walt that they treat this case like Joseph did as recorded in Matt. 1. They refused. Even when talking to Walt at the end of May, 2004, I made another appeal to him to help Danny see how his marriage could be saved. His reply was,

- You know Danny! You know that he will not agree to that.

Danny wrote to me admitting that he was speaking with two faces throughout this. Which face of his are you listening to?

Posted by: Noahswife Jan 26 2007, 05:55 PM

Johann~

Thank you for taking the time for this post.

Sometimes I feel like I am in a Harry Potter movie as each side uses biblical texts and EGW to try to defeat each other.

I keep looking for facts here. Real, provable facts. Not opinions. Not conjecture. Not hearsay.
I keep trying to determine credibility.

You have made certain statements about facts in your personal knowledge and I keep wondering why the 3ABN evangelists do not attack you or claim you are not telling the truth unless they know they cannot prove you are wrong. Instead, they just ignore them.

Once again you are making statements that I believe you must have personal knowledge of and are willing to be held accountable for having made those statements.

Will you now be attacked or just ignored? I am waiting.

Thank you.

noahswife

Posted by: inga Jan 26 2007, 08:11 PM

> QUOTE(missthg @ Jan 25 2007, 06:34 PM)
>
> what was this? spiritual or emotional adultery - please define and show the evidence. you sounding like you were right there when she did it...so i'm real curious.....

Yup, "eye witness" does sound like someone who was "righ there" ...

Either eye witness is making this up from scratch, or ..

Posted by: Fran Jan 26 2007, 11:13 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 25 2007, 05:23 PM)
>
> Linda committed adultery in the worse way.
>
> And there is plenty of evidence!!!
>
> That is why Linda and her Team did not show for the ASI meeting!!!!!!
>
> She was about to be exposed to a group with the greatest integrity.

Huh? Integrity? ~ ASi and Integrity do not belong in the same sentence in my opinion!

Hey, eye witness, you need to give your proof to Danny Shelton. He is saying there was NO ADULTERY!

Why would Linda be at that meeting? Did she know the date and the time? She is under a gag order. She can't even defend herself. She clearly stated that Gailon, Bob, and Greg would represent her with the facts THEY found. Why were they not invited.

The meeting was to decide if Danny's marriage was biblical. That involves and investigation of Danny, not Linda. She is innocent and does not have to prove anything

ASI said it would meet at an agreed upon time and place. Did they inform anyone of their plans?

Isn't it a coincident that ASI dropped the ball right before Linda would supposedly be free to speak.

Danny would love to sue her, wouldn't he? You know how people say "Location, Location, and Location!" I say "Timing, Timing, and Timing!"

If there were evidence, Danny would be smearing it everywhere! Danny has proven to me that he hates Linda and wants to destroy her, but God won't allow it. Praise God for his hand of mercy. Poor Danny has just about bent over backwards to destroy Linda. She must have something special that God is protecting.

Never have I heard a bad word from Linda about Danny and only good about 3ABN. Danny has spent several years trying to push her buttons. Hasn't worked yet! I can't wait for her book of fiction so I can read the truth.

Now about integrity; ASI has none, and neither does 3ABN management as far as I am concerned. The NAD and GC leaders don't leave me impressed either!

ASI used to be right up there in my eyes, but not anymore. How low can they go? I am not on that dream team and I can express what I really feel. I don't have to pitter patter around like I am in a china factory. I can just say it. ASI must have very b---- noses about right now.

☒ oo ☒ sorry.

Posted by: Hawk Jan 27 2007, 12:02 AM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 25 2007, 05:23 PM) ☐
>
> Linda committed adultery in the worse way. And there is plenty of evidence!!! That is why Linda and her Team did not show for the ASI meeting!!!!!! She was about to be exposed to a group with the greatest integrity.

What day and time did this ASI meeting take place? Where was it convened, this meeting that Linda and her team failed to show up at? Are you an eye witness or a false witness? So, tell us about this meeting, or are you bearing false witness regarding this failure to show up at a meeting? Did this meeting ever take place, or did you bear false witness twice in one sentence... "eye witness"/false witness?

Posted by: Hawk Jan 27 2007, 04:28 PM

Ummmm.... Eye Witness?

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 27 2007, 04:31 PM

> QUOTE(Hawk @ Jan 27 2007, 03:28 PM) ☐
>
> Ummmm.... Eye Witness?

Unfortunately sometimes eye witness doesn't answer questions. Just thought you should know.

Posted by: Hawk Jan 27 2007, 04:49 PM

Thou shalt not bear false witness... "eye witness." So, did this meeting take place or not?

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 27 2007, 04:54 PM

> QUOTE(Hawk @ Jan 27 2007, 05:49 PM)
>
> Thou shalt not bear false witness... "eye witness." So, did this meeting take place or not?

Get ready for the smoke, it's coming, just keep waiting. It would be nice to have a yes/no feature added for simple answers... rofl

---

Powered by Invision Power Board (http://www.invisionboard.com)

114

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ How Did You Keep Your Faith?

Posted by: Ralph Aug 27 2006, 10:22 PM

I have watched the development of this crisis since Linda lost her job. Linda is made of pretty good stuff to have survived the turmoil, and still kept her faith.

I can only guess at the pain that has been experienced by writers on this forum who have had connections with 3ABN in the past.

What did it do to your trust? How did you keep your faith?

Posted by: PaperTigers Aug 27 2006, 10:41 PM

to be completely honest, i stopped going to church for awhile, while i was working there... i saw everything that was going on and thought i really don't want any part of this in my spiritual life... so i started treating it like just a job. it took a little bit of time, i think i was out of church about 4 months, before i realized that i didn't want to get my spiritual food from where i worked... so i started going back to church to try and reestablish what i had previously had...

it's rough, because you go into it thinking that "this is a christian ministry, it's going to be different" and then when you realize it isn't... it kinda throws you for a loop, or at least it did me...

but i'm much better now.. either despite or because of what i went through there!!

Posted by: Ralph Aug 28 2006, 12:58 PM

Thanks, PaperTigers for being so honest in telling your experience.
Would you mind expanding on the quote below?

> QUOTE(PaperTigers @ Aug 27 2006, 09:41 PM) ☐
>
> it's rough, because you go into it thinking that "this is a christian ministry, it's going to be different" and then when you realize it isn't... it kinda throws you for a loop, or at least it did me...

What was it that made you come back to the church, even after tough times? What was your anchor that held you?

Posted by: PaperTigers Aug 28 2006, 01:50 PM

i went into it thinking that i was going to get a spiritual blessing just working there... then after i saw all of the petty things that went on and all of the political bull crap... some people had to jump through hoops and others just had to sit there... i just got very discouraged... and honestly it wasn't really anything spiritual that brought me back, it was my friends.. i realized that i needed that connection, and since i lived so far away from everyone, the only time i got to see some of the was on saturdays... so that's why i started going back to church... then i started reevaluating everything again and realized that although i worked in a "christian ministry" i needed God to be more personal for me again...

shrug just my thoughts

Posted by: sonshineonme Aug 28 2006, 05:51 PM

> QUOTE(PaperTigers @ Aug 28 2006, 12:50 PM)
>
> i went into it thinking that i was going to get a spiritual blessing just working there... then after i saw all of the petty things that went on and all of the political bull crap... some people had to jump through hoops and others just had to sit there... i just got very discouraged... and honestly it wasn't really anything spiritual that brought me back, it was my friends.. i realized that i needed that connection, and since i lived so far away from everyone, the only time i got to see some of the was on saturdays... so that's why i started going back to church... then i started reevaluating everything again and realized that although i worked in a "christian ministry" i needed God to be more personal for me again...
>
> shrug just my thoughts

been there, done that, just not at 3abn.

Posted by: Clay Aug 28 2006, 06:04 PM

> QUOTE(PaperTigers @ Aug 28 2006, 01:50 PM)
>
> i went into it thinking that i was going to get a spiritual blessing just working there... then after i saw all of the petty things that went on and all of the political bull crap... some people had to jump through hoops and others just had to sit there... i just got very discouraged... and honestly it wasn't really anything spiritual that brought me back, it was my friends.. i realized that i needed that connection, and since i lived so far away from everyone, the only time i got to see some of the was on saturdays... so that's why i started going back to church... then i started reevaluating everything again and realized that although i worked in a "christian ministry" i needed God to be more personal for me again...
>
> shrug just my thoughts

reading this thread reminded me of one of my favorite quotes......

> QUOTE
>
> Show me a man or a woman alone and I'll show you a saint. Give me two and they'll fall in love. Give me three and they'll invent the charming thing we call 'society'. Give me four and they'll build a pyramid. Give me five and they'll make one an outcast. Give me six and they'll reinvent prejudice. Give me seven and in seven years they'll reinvent warfare. Man may have been made in the image of God, but human society was made in the image of His opposite number, and is always trying to get back home." - Glen Bateman, The Stand (C&U), 3rd paragraph of Chapter 42.

the things we do to each other....

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Aug 28 2006, 09:54 PM

My faith in God sustains me...

Faith in the human race requires faith in God...

Which makes me question my faith...

Like a riddle isn't it?

Posted by: Ralph Aug 29 2006, 12:05 AM

I know that there are sincere people working at 3ABN. I hope that there are some sincere people on the board. There are thousands of sincere Christian listeners who accept 3ABN as their gospel. What is going to happen to the faith of these people when things crack open?--for that will surely happen.

Will people lose their faith, or will they be able to take something like this in stride? It concerns me for there have been times when my faith was shaken with events in the church that were of a much smaller magnitude than this. But I have lived enough to put my trust in God, regardless of what happens.

Posted by: watchbird Aug 29 2006, 04:35 AM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Aug 28 2006, 09:54 PM)
>
> My faith in God sustains me...
>
> Faith in the human race requires faith in God...
>
> Which makes me question my faith...
>
> Like a riddle isn't it?

Indeed it is ...... and even more so than what you have said, for it is also true that faith in God requires faith in the human race. For like love, if we cannot have faith in our brother whom we have seen, how can we have faith in God whom we have not seen. Jesus asked whether, when the Son of Man returns, will He find faith on earth. And I think we think too shallowly if we thing that meant only faith in Him and in His Coming.

Our world runs on faith. We cannot drive on the highway without it. We cannot fly in a plane without it. We cannot even send our children to school without it. And increasingly our faith is being stretched to the breaking point as crazy drivers, terrorists, and random shootings multiply.

It is indeed pious..... and even correct ..... to say that God is enough, that we can have faith in Him even when people betray our trust. But it is just as correct to recognize as fact the necessity of our human contacts and of being able to trust our fellow humans.

> QUOTE(Ralph @ Aug 29 2006, 12:05 AM)

> I know that there are sincere people working at 3ABN. I hope that there are some sincere people on the board. There are thousands of sincere Christian listeners who accept 3ABN as their gospel. What is going to happen to the faith of these people when things crack open?--for that will surely happen.
>
> Will people lose their faith, or will they be able to take something like this in stride? It concerns me for there have been times when my faith was shaken with events in the church that were of a much smaller magnitude than this. But I have lived enough to put my trust in God, regardless of what happens.

You bring up good points, and I think this thread will become increasingly important as the revelations of the perfidy of those whom many have trusted as leaders becomes apparent to all who have worshiped at the 3ABN shrine.

The biggest problem may be that of "transferance" .... that is, transferring the loss of faith in those leaders to ALL leaders in similar positions. I remember well the experience I had some years ago of losing respect for certain leaders in a local situation.... and finding that increasingly I was transferring my disdain for them to all leaders in comparable positions .... even to those I had never met and had no reason to distrust. When I recognized what I was doing, I knew it was time to get out of that local situation and make a complete break with those who had demonstrated their lack of integrity. It still took time ..... and specific effort towards becoming acquainted with other leaders.... to restore my ability to have faith in humans serving in postiions of leadership.

And one thing that was extremely helpful to me in this "recovery" time, was the sharing that others did of how they had handled similar situations and came out of the faith crisis, not only with stronger faith in God, but also with the ability to put appropriate faith in their fellow human beings....

So hopefully, just as BSDA has been a place where we could begin to make the revelations public, it will continue on to be a place where those whose faith has been shaken can come to share their faith recovery, and thus a place of healing for those who need that recovery.

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Aug 29 2006, 03:44 PM

If people let their faith rest in Dan rather than God, then we know it is likely to falter. As the story goes...build your house upon a rock, not on the sand.

Posted by: princessdi Aug 29 2006, 04:40 PM

As Re' would say............."Dead on pernt!"

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Aug 29 2006, 02:44 PM) ☐
>
> If people let their faith rest in Dan rather than God, then we know it is likely to falter. As the story goes...build your house upon a rock, not on the sand.

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Aug 29 2006, 04:57 PM

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Aug 29 2006, 05:40 PM) ☐

> As Re' would say............."Dead on pernt!"

You crack me up!

Posted by: rwelchcrs Aug 29 2006, 05:31 PM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Aug 29 2006, 04:44 PM)
>
> If people let their faith rest in Dan rather than God, then we know it is likely to falter. As the story goes...build your house upon a rock, not on the sand.

You remind me of an EGW statement about "leaning on the arm of flesh". I hope that one of the positive outcomes of this scandal is that we as a church will take a good look at ourselves to examine the real focus of our faith. Is it the "stars" in our church, the great preachers/writers/evangelists? Or is it God Himself?

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Aug 29 2006, 05:39 PM

> QUOTE(rwelchcrs @ Aug 29 2006, 06:31 PM)
>
> You remind me of an EGW statement about "leaning on the arm of flesh". I hope that one of the positive outcomes of this scandal is that we as a church will take a good look at ourselves to examine the real focus of our faith. Is it the "stars" in our church, the great preachers/writers/evangelists? Or is it God Himself?

I couldn't agree more!

So many times, we hear from the preachers/speaker and "stars" not to put our faith in them - which is sometimes exactly what they want us to do.

Posted by: Treniece Jan 27 2007, 04:24 PM

It has not shaken my faith that much because I am not one to put human beings on pedastals.

Printable Version of Topic

115

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ Questions For Joe Smith

Posted by: Pickle Dec 25 2006, 01:41 PM

Hi Joe. You earlier http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?showtopic=11834&st=45&p=164323&#:

> QUOTE(Joe Smith)
>
> I couldn't agree more with the quote from EGW. I have been silent about many things because I do not want to come under attack again. But as some have said... speak up or stick your head in the sand. I will say this... What I know is not from 2nd hand information. I was there. I have known the Shelton family personally for many years and have been around 3ABN nearly from the start. There are huge amounts of twisted information. Don't be sooo quick to believe the threads are correct... Many of the perks mentioned there.. were completely accepted and wanted by Linda. She drew the same salary and benefits as Danny ... the house , the pool, the sona, the Horses... don't forget.. 1/2 of horses are Linda's still yet... I also know that she lives in a mansion herself... with a huge pool now...Again I was there when these things were happening.
> Joe

You've probably caught on that I hate the he said, she said stuff, and instead look for concrete facts presented by either side that can be irrefutably proven one way or the other independently of testimony. So what you said above caught my eye, particularly the part I bolded.

Could you post some pictures of her mansion and huge pool? (I'm trying to get ahold of some, but if you beat me to it, that's quite all right.) Do you have any specs on her home, like square footage and number of rooms and bedrooms?

I think that's the kind of info we need to kill this rumor mill.

Posted by: Fran Dec 25 2006, 04:17 PM

> QUOTE(Pickle @ Dec 25 2006, 01:41 PM)
>
> Hi Joe. You earlier http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?showtopic=11834&st=45&p=164323&#:
> You've probably caught on that I hate the he said, she said stuff, and instead look for concrete facts presented by either side that can be irrefutably proven one way or the other independently of testimony. So what you said above caught my eye, particularly the part I bolded.
>
> Could you post some pictures of her mansion and huge pool? (I'm trying to get ahold of some, but if you beat me to it, that's quite all right.) Do you have any specs on her home, like square footage and number of rooms and bedrooms?
>
> I think that's the kind of info we need to kill this rumor mill.

Bob & Joe;

While both of you are getting this information on Linda's place, can we get the same information about Danny & Brandy's home? That way we can compare and contrast.

Posted by: Johann Dec 26 2006, 12:51 AM

> QUOTE(Fran @ Dec 26 2006, 12:17 AM)
>
> Bob & Joe;
>
> While both of you are getting this information on Linda's place, can we get the same information about Danny & Brandy's home? That way we can compare and contrast.

I have a picture of their house. I did not manage to copy it. I might get some help later.

Posted by: Aletheia Dec 26 2006, 06:36 AM

> QUOTE(Fran @ Dec 25 2006, 05:17 PM)
>
> Bob & Joe;
>
> While both of you are getting this information on Linda's place, can we get the same information about Danny & Brandy's home? That way we can compare and contrast.

I'm not quite sure what this would accomplish. But in the interest of fairness, shouldn't we say "Can we also get the same information on Danny and Linda's home? The one she according to various reports received from at least 1/2 to more then the fair marketshare of, when Danny bought her part out due to their divorce? Also receiving most of the furnishings? Surely that had nothing to do with Brandy for she had nothing to do with the original purchase of Danny and Linda Shelton's home?

Also when Danny was called a slumlord etc, because of the employee homes on the 3ABN property,, I thought it rather partial and onesided to leave out the fact that if this was the case then Linda was equally accountable being a co-founder of and vice-President of 3ABN, (as well as the rest of the 3ABN board) no one thought this idea had any merit going by the responses. Nor did anyone think my request for pictures of these alleged tar paper shacks or hovels so I, or others could judge for ourselves, important enough to respond to, nor did anyone act like they needed to prove anything they said...

True Christians are called to righteous judgment and are to do NOTHING with partiality and bias, or hypocrisy, for the bible identifies this as inexcusable.

"Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons" Acts 10:34

Jam 2:9 But if ye have respect to persons, ye commit sin, and are convinced of the law as transgressors.
10 For whosoever shall keep the whole law, and yet offend in one [point], he is guilty of all.

Are we demanding proof from all? are we examining both sides? Using the same standards for both sides here? Are we condemning one side for not answering questions or providing proof while excusing the other for the same thing?

Maybe it's time to examine ourselves here?

I'm sure some will justify themselves, and continue with their ways and thoughts, but my words here are for those with a conscience who know that only Christ can justify us.

For myself, no one is guilty here until proof is furnished. Christ was accused by a multitude, but despite their mouths they could find him guilty of nothing...

People, all people, are innocent till proven guilty.

Posted by: Pickle Dec 26 2006, 07:28 AM

Didn't see your request for pictures of the allegedly substandard housing, but good idea.

The idea of being equally accountable is a little sticky, if you think about it. By title, of course there would be a good bit of accountability. In reality, how do you prove what one actually knew and agreed with? That's more difficult. Now if someone can find memos signed by Linda backing inappropriate things, that would prove it.

Sure, pictures of Danny and Linda's house would be great. And, if the house is inordinately large, and if we can prove that it is the size it is because of decisions Linda, not Danny, made, then we would have incriminating evidence against her. But proving this would be a tall order.

Regarding furnishings and such, that stems from an email from Walt Thompson, posted courtesy of Gregory Matthews:

> QUOTE(Walt Thompson)
>
> "Just to make this letter a bit more complete, let me tell you what I know about Danny's attempt to save Linda for himself - even after the divorce papers were signed. He paid off the remaining debt on her new car, her daughter's car, all of the credit cards, and other joint bills. He bought her interest in the house, helped her move to Southern Illinois, build a porch on her home there, gave her all of the things in their home including things that were really his. (He did these things with money obtained in a loan from a friend.) Over and over again he took her out to eat and did many other things to show how much he really cared for her. In fact, many of the employees and some of us on the board were concerned because of how she was leading him on and keeping him in turmoil. Over and over, she threatened him, saying, that if she was going down, she would bring him and the ministry down with him."

Since Danny was the sole source of Walt's information about the Tommy Shelton child molestation allegations, we can assume that Danny is possibly the sole source of his information here.

Now notice the following quote from a person that I will not name:

> QUOTE
>
> 3) He did not pay off my car, nor did he make any payments towards the car the last 2 1/2 years...but I did hear he bought Brandy a new car...before they were married.
>
> 4) No, he did not pay off my daughter's car.
>
> 5) No, he did not pay off all of the credit card bills...this is a subject for our divorce case which is pending.

> 6) Yes, he did buy my half of the house.
>
> 7) Well, I guess if you can call bringing truckloads of my clothes and dumping them on my living room floor "helping me move" to Carbondale, then he helped me move. At that time I was locked out of the house and the only things I got were the things he allowed me to have.
>
> 8) Yes, he did build a porch on to my mobile home in Carbondale.
>
> 9) No, he did not give me "all of the things in the home..." He has all of the furniture, the boat, the jacuzzi, the sauna, about 18 Gibson guitars, the horses, horse trailor, etc...subject to divorce case which is pending.
>
> 10) We did meet occasionally in Marion at a restaurant to discuss the issues.
>
> ...
>
> 12) No, we never bought or owned a second Toyota vehicle.

Aletheia, if you would be so kind, why don't you start another thread where we can hash out other issues other than questions that need to be directed to Joe. I really don't want to get into he said, she said here. How could we prove whether Danny gave the furnishings or not?

Joe made specific claims about Linda now living in a mansion with a huge pool. Such claims are isolated from any decisions Danny might make. If it was a house bought by both of them, then we'd have to figure out who made the decision to buy that kind of house. Why go there?

And my whole point in this is not about the house at all. I'm testing Joe's credibility. He has made a number of claims. Are his claims credible? If Linda does indeed live in a mansion, then maybe so. If not, then maybe not.

And if he has never personally seen Linda's house and pool, then he must be relying upon the word of ....

Posted by: Aletheia Dec 26 2006, 07:54 AM

> QUOTE(Pickle @ Dec 26 2006, 08:28 AM)
>
> Didn't see your request for pictures of the allegedly substandard housing, but good idea.
>
> The idea of being equally accountable is a little sticky, if you think about it. By title, of course there would be a good bit of accountability. In reality, how do you prove what one actually knew and agreed with? That's more difficult. Now if someone can find memos signed by Linda backing inappropriate things, that would prove it.
>
> Sure, pictures of Danny and Linda's house would be great. And, if the house is inordinately large, and if we can prove that it is the size it is because of decisions Linda, not Danny, made, then we would have incriminating evidence against her. But proving this would be a tall order.
>
> Regarding furnishings and such, that stems from an email from Walt Thompson, posted courtesy of Gregory Matthews:
> Since Danny was the sole source of Walt's information about the Tommy Shelton child molestation allegations, we can assume that Danny is possibly the sole source of his information here.
>
> Now notice the following quote from a person that I will not name:

> Aletheia, if you would be so kind, why don't you start another thread where we can hash out other issues other than questions that need to be directed to Joe. I really don't want to get into he said, she said here. How could we prove whether Danny gave the furnishings or not?
>
> Joe made specific claims about Linda now living in a mansion with a huge pool. Such claims are isolated from any decisions Danny might make. If it was a house bought by both of them, then we'd have to figure out who made the decision to buy that kind of house. Why go there?
>
> And my whole point in this is not about the house at all. I'm testing Joe's credibility. He has made a number of claims. Are his claims credible? If Linda does indeed live in a mansion, then maybe so. If not, then maybe not.
>
> And if he has never personally seen Linda's house and pool, then he must be relying upon the word of ....

Bob, I recognize the quote, I wasn't agreeing or disagreeing with you, nor do I want to go hash things out with you,and why do I have to go to a different thread for pointing out we need to investigate both sides, and be impartial here?

You constantly ask anyone posting anything which you perceive disagrees with you for proof, what's wrong with asking that of all? Have you asked that of Watchbird, Sister, Johann, etc.?

I haven't seen it..

Nor did I see you ask Fran for the same thing you just said I needed...

but carry on, I'll leave this thread to your arguments, and what you see as important or relevant in your investigation, without any check or balance or input. For surely you are very sure of your own judgment, and need none to impede your opinions or question you, or test anything.

Posted by: lurker Dec 26 2006, 07:54 AM

So if Danny borrowed money from a "friend" and said he was using it on Linda: Since she and her daughter can easily prove that the cars and credit card bills were not paid off by him (the bank and credit card companies can confirm this) what or who did he use the money on? Did he use it all to impress Brandy or as seed money to get "The Ten Commandments Twice Removed" printed?

Has he ever made payments on the loan? Has the person who made the loan to him come to the conclusion that he or she was taken advantage of?

From what we have heard (yes, I know he said-she said) the reason he built the porch on the mobile home was so he could hang around Linda and check up on her.

Posted by: Pickle Dec 26 2006, 08:02 AM

Aletheia,

Was that really necessary?

For your information, I have earlier disproven one of WatchBird's claims, and she can verify that.

Lurker,

I would caution you to take what either side says to be fact until it is proven one way or the other.

> You are correct in pointing out that we ought to be able to prove or disprove the claims about the cars and credit card bills.

Posted by: Johann Dec 26 2006, 08:22 AM

> QUOTE
>
> I also know that she lives in a mansion herself... with a huge pool now...Again I was there when these things were happening.

It is quite interesting that you call her home a mansion. I have been there. I had a dip in her pool. How small can it be for you to call it "huge"?

It all "started" in our kitchen at 3ABN. And I was right there in Norway the only time Linda was there before her divorce. Were you as close as that, or closer? Or is your information from someone who wasn't even that close? I was in daily communication with a certain Mr. Danny Shelton and with Linda through quite a bit of this whole process. Were you also?

I have talked to one of those whom Danny Shelton claims had several consultations with Linda, and he tells me he never had a real consultation with Linda. Now you claim you know it all. What do you know? What is the source of your information?

Johann

Posted by: watchbird Dec 26 2006, 08:38 AM

> QUOTE(Pickle @ Dec 26 2006, 09:02 AM)
>
> Aletheia,
>
> Was that really necessary?
>
> For your information, I have earlier disproven one of WatchBird's claims, and she can verify that.
>
> Lurker,
>
> I would caution you to take what either side says to be fact until it is proven one way or the other.
>
> You are correct in pointing out that we ought to be able to prove or disprove the claims about the cars and credit card bills.

I'm not sure that I want to "verify that" just the way you have stated it. I did give information that seemed to conflict with what you said.... then I went to my source and learned that I had not gotten the whole picture previously and that when I had the whole picture my information and yours fitted together in complementary fashion. And I made a statement on the forum in which this occured, confirming what you had said. So I don't think that you "disproved" what I said... for what I said was not in error so much as it was incomplete. But certainly you did cause me to investigate further and correct the partial picture I had had, and for that I am grateful.

And I'll add, that I have very much appreciated the careful, tactful, and thorough jobs of investigation that you have been doing over the last few months.... second your caution about taking anything as fact until it is "proven"... or at least until there are a number of credible witnesses who agree... for not all that needs to be known is possible of being "proven" in the absolute sense of the word "proven".

Posted by: Aletheia Dec 26 2006, 08:41 AM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Dec 26 2006, 09:22 AM)
>
> It is quite interesting that you call her home a mansion. I have been there. I had a dip in her pool. How small can it be for you to call it "huge"?
>
> It all "started" in our kitchen at 3ABN. And I was right there in Norway the only time Linda was there before her divorce. Were you as close as that, or closer? Or is your information from someone who wasn't even that close? I was in daily communication with a certain Mr. Danny Shelton and with Linda through quite a bit of this whole process. Were you also?
>
> I have talked to one of those whom Danny Shelton claims had several consultations with Linda, and he tells me he never had a real consultation with Linda. Now you claim you know it all. What do you know? What is the source of your information?
>
> Johann

See, this is exactly what I am talking about.

And how you see and understand things, and what you claim. Johann, has more weight then anyone disagreeing with you, and is the truth, rather then anyone having an opposing testimony, and they are in error or lying, WHY?

Because you say so, and anonymous people who don't prove what they say either, agree with you? Yet those who say different have to prove what they say? and only they have to prove they are credible while you and tose who sing your same song, "sister" for one, do not?

This Bob, is why, Yes, what I said WAS NECESSARY from my point of view.

But as I said, carry on, and do what you must...

~ Aletheia

Posted by: Pickle Dec 26 2006, 09:11 AM

Aletheia,

That's why I try to ignore everything that can't be proven irrefutably one way or the other.

There's really nothing in what Johann said that I can take and run with, pro or con. Do you see anything?

Posted by: Aletheia Dec 26 2006, 09:51 AM

> QUOTE(Pickle @ Dec 26 2006, 10:11 AM) ☐
>
> Aletheia,
>
> That's why I try to ignore everything that can't be proven irrefutably one way or the other.
>
> There's really nothing in what Johann said that I can take and run with, pro or con. Do you see anything?

I apologise for speaking prematurely here and saying I was leaving and yet continuing to post.
I shouldn not have done so, and now I am in a position where I have to say I was wrong to do so, as I am not keeping my word.

As I said, Bob, my first post wasn't directed at you, it was actually in response to Fran's.

This one is.

And I am not holding you personally accountable to prove or disprove anything Johann says or claims, or to demand he prove he is a credible witness as you do to Joe.

I guess people accusing Danny of stealing money or frequenting prostitutes, or having incestuous thoughts or actions towards his stepdaughters, or not paying off credit cards and buying out Lind'a half of the house or being responsible for the choice of his and Linda's big house or having his name on things you require Linda's name on to consider her equally accountable, don't require proof..

But for those who accept someones word, ANYONES, without proof, they ARE on dangerous ground, for anyone can err in judgment.

You me, or another. If we only choose to try and verify part instead of all, we are sinners and accountable to God.

Is there really nothing Johann has said, in all these posts of his which you can prove or disprove? or find it necessary to? With so many believing him, that is hard for me to fathom why he hasn't been questioned about his credibility.

For me, his claims are much more to the point of all this, and more pertinent then whether Linda lives in a nice house with a pool.

Personally I don't care. It seems she had a nice lifestyle before the divorce also with two, and now she is one.

I have already PROVEN that according to Guam law in an uncontested divorce she had to received AT LEAST half of the marital assets and community property.

You are already aware of my posts on Maritime, here's the followup from me when that arguments was brought up again here:
http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=11834&view=findpost&p=164425

The burden of proof to the contrary belongs on whoever makes that claim.

Posted by: Grace Dec 26 2006, 10:05 AM

Well, I believe Johann because I know him personnally and my husband, who's a friend of him and has known him for many years, testifies that he's always been an honest, true man of God. I know he wouldn't lie.

Posted by: Aletheia Dec 26 2006, 10:14 AM

> QUOTE(Grace @ Dec 26 2006, 11:05 AM) ☐
>
> Well, I believe Johann because I know him personnally and my husband, who's a friend of him and has known him for many years, testifies that he's always been an honest, true man of God. I know he wouldn't lie.

And many knowing the Apostle Peter and knowing his character and his declaration that in truth he perceived that God was no respecter of persons would have ever testified that he himself was and had erred in judgment, but the truth is found in God's word, he had done so, and Paul rebuked him to his face for it, and being a honest and loving man, Peter immediatly saw his error and moved to correct it.

So what do claims and opinions really prove?

Those on the inside may indeed have a better understanding, but for those looking in?

As has been said before, it's a bunch of he said, she said.

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Dec 26 2006, 10:21 AM

> QUOTE(Grace @ Dec 26 2006, 12:05 PM) ☐
>
> Well, I believe Johann because I know him personnally and my husband, who's a friend of him and has known him for many years, testifies that he's always been an honest, true man of God. I know he wouldn't lie.

That's a wonderful testimony of character you have given Pastor Johann, however, there are people who said that of Danny Shelton, namely Walt Thompson, therefore, we need to go beyond that.

Posted by: Pickle Dec 26 2006, 10:28 AM

My apologies, Aletheia, for not noticing that your post was directed to Fran rather than to myself.

I have ignored things that Danny says too, if it isn't something that can be irrefutably proven one way or the other. You probably recall that I did not entirely quote one of his emails on Maritime for this reason. I'm taking all such things that Danny, Johann, Joe, Sister, and the rest say with a huge grain of salt.

So I agree with you that we are on dangerous ground if we take anyone's word for such things without proof.

FYI, I am doing some probing regarding certain things that Johann has said that directly impact certain issues. But finding concrete verification one way or the other isn't easy, even though I've asked both sides for such verification. Do documents even exist that could be used to prove it one way or the other? Danny has apparently claimed they do, but he hasn't responded at all to my request. The other side, well, we'll just have to see.

As far as property distribution and the Guam divorce goes, please recall that I have already proven that Danny claimed on Oct. 8, 2006, that Linda's Toyota Sequoia was not part of any such settlement. In other words, since he claimed that his name was on the title to this day, Danny acknowledged that there had been no such division of ALL their assets in the Guam divorce decree.

Posted by: Clay Dec 26 2006, 10:29 AM

> QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Dec 26 2006, 10:21 AM)
>
> That's a wonderful testimony of character you have given Pastor Johann, however, there are people who said that of Danny Shelton, namely Walt Thompson, therefore, we need to go beyond that.

well his endorsement was suspect from the start...... He spoke glowingly of his employer...

Posted by: Aletheia Dec 26 2006, 10:45 AM

> QUOTE(Pickle @ Dec 26 2006, 11:28 AM)
>
> My apologies, Aletheia, for not noticing that your post was directed to Fran rather than to myself.
>
> I have ignored things that Danny says too, if it isn't something that can be irrefutably proven one way or the other. You probably recall that I did not entirely quote one of his emails on Maritime for this reason. I'm taking all such things that Danny, Johann, Joe, Sister, and the rest say with a huge grain of salt.
>
> So I agree with you that we are on dangerous ground if we take anyone's word for such things without proof.
>
> FYI, I am doing some probing regarding certain things that Johann has said that directly impact certain issues. But finding concrete verification one way or the other isn't easy, even though I've asked both sides for such verification. Do documents even exist that could be used to prove it one way or the other? Danny has apparently claimed they do, but he hasn't responded at all to my > request. The other side, well, we'll just have to see.

>
> As far as property distribution and the Guam divorce goes, please recall that I have already proven that Danny claimed on Oct. 8, 2006, that Linda's Toyota Sequoia was not part of any such settlement. In other words, since he claimed that his name was on the title to this day, Danny acknowledged that there had been no such division of ALL their assets in the Guam divorce decree.

Thank you Bob, that means alot to me. I appreciate all that you just wrote. It is easy to misunderstand each other in a written medim, nothing is revealed of feelings or intents, via tone of voice, expression. or body languageetc..

And I apologise if I have misunderstood you also because of that.

Hopefully you know enough of me, from doctrinal discussions that I tend to be blunt and like to get to the point, but do so because I care about those involved and the truth. As I said somewhere else I have never faulted your intent. Or at least that's what I think I said

P.S.

My only questions about the title are because I am not sure what the lien is for? and I could not look up either the title or record due to a incomplete VIn # and , only a partial copy of title, rather then just a photo copy?

I like you, need to see things for myself.

Blessings,
Aletheia

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Dec 26 2006, 10:51 AM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Dec 26 2006, 12:29 PM)
>
> well his endorsement was suspect from the start...... He spoke glowingly of his employer...

Who spoke glowingly of his employer?

If you are referring to Pastor Johann, then yes, until he learned other things about his employer.

I used to think highly of Danny Shelton myself until all this mess unfolded beginning with his separation and subsequent divorce from Linda Shelton, which then opened our eyes and ears to other things.

Posted by: Aletheia Dec 26 2006, 10:52 AM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Dec 26 2006, 11:45 AM) ☐
>
> I like you, need to see things for myself.

Sometimes, I just crack myself up, my spelling and punctuation is simply atrocious, I have to edit almost every post and still these things are there..

I do like you, but I meant to say:
I, like you, need to see things for myself.

Posted by: Pickle Dec 26 2006, 11:00 AM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Dec 26 2006, 10:45 AM) ☐
>
> My only questions about the title are because I am not sure what the lien is for? and I could not look up either the title or record due to a incomplete VIn # and , only a partial copy of title, rather then just a photo copy?

Valid point about the VIN. But I didn't feel at liberty to disclose that kind of personal data. Don't know how someone could use a VIN for something akin to identity theft, but I didn't want to take that chance.

It has a lien on it to this day because it hasn't been paid off either in part or in entirety. The lien came into existence by the date of the title, Feb. 11, 2003.

Posted by: Joe Smith Dec 26 2006, 11:33 AM

> QUOTE(Pickle @ Dec 25 2006, 01:41 PM) ☐
>
> Hi Joe. You earlier http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?showtopic=11834&st=45&p=164323&#:
> You've probably caught on that I hate the he said, she said stuff, and instead look for concrete facts presented by either side that can be irrefutably proven one way or the other independently of testimony. So what you said above caught my eye, particularly the part I bolded.
>
> Could you post some pictures of her mansion and huge pool? (I'm trying to get ahold of some, but if you beat me to it, that's quite all right.) Do you have any specs on her home, like square footage and number of rooms and bedrooms?
>
>] I don't have pics of their place. I'm sure you could get a description for Johann, Dr. Abrahamsem, or Daryll Mundall, as he made a few trips there to carry furniture from Danny's house to Linda's. I have it from a reliable source (as sister said for her info for the threads) that Dr. Abrahamsen > kicked in $100,000 on the house with Linda's $100,000 or so. Her money came from her settlement of $240,000.00 from 3 ABN donors. I wonder what the Doctor expected to get for his money? I understand that Linda was seen wearing a wedding ring at the GC meeting in St. Louis???

> Joe
>
> I think that's the kind of info we need to kill this rumor mill.

Posted by: Pickle Dec 26 2006, 11:55 AM

> QUOTE(Joe Smith)
>
> I don't have pics of their place.

Then by all means get some.

What was the source of your statement that the house was a mansion? Had you personally seen it, or were you relying on Danny's or someone else's word?

> QUOTE(Joe Smith)
>
> I'm sure you could get a description for Johann, Dr. Abrahamsem, or Daryll Mundall, as he made a few trips there to carry furniture from Danny's house to Linda's.

I'm really not interested in verbal descriptions from either side. I want concrete facts, like the number of square feet and rooms listed in the Real Estate listing, with a photocopy of that listing.

> QUOTE(Joe Smith)
>
> I have it from a reliable source (as sister said for her info for the threads) that Dr. Abrahamsen kicked in $100,000 on the house with Linda's $100,000 or so.

So are you trying to say that $200,000 buys a mansion in Springfield, IL? Or are you instead trying to prove that you exagerated when you said she now lives in a mansion?

I'm not sure what your point is.

> QUOTE(Joe Smith)
>
> I wonder what the Doctor expected to get for his money?

Since you directed this comment directly to me, I respectfully request an apology for your base and unchristian insinuation.

> QUOTE(Joe Smith)
>
> I understand that Linda was seen wearing a wedding ring at the GC meeting in St. Louis???

> Joe

Either prove it or kindly and courteously keep such hearsay out of this thread. This thread was intended to deal with concrete and provable claims you made, not deal with more rumors.

Find whatever documents or pictures you can to prove that Linda indeed lives in a mansion with a huge pool, and post them here. And state whether you have ever seen the house and pool yourself, and if not, who gave you this information.

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Dec 26 2006, 12:00 PM

Hey that at least gave me a laugh ☒ rofl

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Dec 26 2006, 11:52 AM) ☐
>
> Sometimes, I just crack myself up, my spelling and punctuation is simply atrocious, I have to edit almost every post and still these things are there..
>
> I do like you, but I meant to say:
> I, like you, need to see things for myself.

Posted by: Aletheia Dec 26 2006, 07:17 PM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Dec 26 2006, 09:22 AM) ☐
>
> It is quite interesting that you call her home a mansion. I have been there. I had a dip in her pool. How small can it be for you to call it "huge"?

kewl! Maybe we'll get pictures, but in the meantime, as you are a witness here...

What size is the house? How would you describe it?
Is it small, large, average, modest, an upper income level home?

Is it your testimony that it does or does not contain furnishings which she received in the divorce?

Also, as you claim to have taken a dip in her pool?

What kind of pool was it and what were it's dimensions and how far from her house is it?

Thank you,
Aletheia

Posted by: sister Dec 26 2006, 09:47 PM

Joe Smith, you made the following statement:

I have it from a reliable source (as sister said for her info for the threads)

In all the writings I have posted on BSDA, I believe only once or twice, I stated what I wrote was from a reliable source. Often I post what I know personally, can you make the same statement?

Linda and the wearing of a wedding ring at the GC in St. Lewis, that is nothing more than a rumor that Danny Shelton started to take the heat off of his situation. So where did you hear it, directly from the lips of Mr. Danny? Much of what you have said can be attributed as coming directly from Danny Shelton. So is he your reliable source, if so... rofl

Personally, I have never heard more lies come out of a man's mouth than from Danny Shelton. The reliable source for this information: me!

Posted by: Uncle Sam Dec 26 2006, 09:57 PM

IF Linda got married, why would she hide it? How long would that last? It doesn't even make sense her wearing a wedding ring....

Posted by: Aletheia Dec 26 2006, 10:04 PM

> QUOTE(sister @ Dec 26 2006, 10:47 PM)
>
> ... Often I post what I know personally, can you make the same statement?
>
> Linda and the wearing of a wedding ring at the GC in St. Lewis, that is nothing more than a rumor that Danny Shelton started to take the heat off of his situation....
>
> Personally, I have never heard more lies come out of a man's mouth than from Danny Shelton. The reliable source for this information: me!

So is it your personal testimony that you personally heard this from Danny Shelton and you know as fact, that this is how the alleged rumor was started? IF NOT, how is it you claim to know this?

Posted by: calvin Dec 26 2006, 10:07 PM

> QUOTE
>
> I wonder what the Doctor expected to get for his money? I understand that Linda was seen wearing a wedding ring at the GC meeting in St. Louis???
> Joe

Talk about spreading gossip and innuendos.

Posted by: Aletheia Dec 26 2006, 10:21 PM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Dec 26 2006, 11:07 PM)
>
> Talk about spreading gossip and innuendos.

I agree, this is the kinda thing I find embarassing for both sides in these issues, as both are professing the name of Christ.

And it has been said before:
"Prove all things, and hold fast that which is good"

Posted by: princessdi Dec 26 2006, 10:30 PM

You mean both of them wer at GC in STL? Man!!! If I had known that I would not have taken so much time at my spa day! LOL!!!!!

So, Joe, you are tyring to say taht Linda proceeded Danny in remarriage? Now, now, Joe, you might have to let that one go. I think we are now just trying to plant "reasonable doubt". I don't believe a word of it. Danny still cannot marry anyone by getting divorced on what is little more that suspected adultery(In fact, I dont' even believe he susupected it, he just wanted to be free.....jes' keepin' it real!). He lacked so much evidence he had to make up his own sin to do it. Poppycock!!! You are going to have to do better, Joe!

Posted by: Aletheia Dec 26 2006, 11:14 PM

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Dec 26 2006, 11:30 PM)
>
> he had to make up his own sin to do it. Poppycock!!!

whoa, OR woe!

WE INTERUPT THIS PROGRAM TO BRING YOU THE FOLLOWING ANNOUNCEMENT:

I don't know if Linda was or is guilty of adultery or not, I need proof, but this argument about there being no such thing as the sin being described simply because it's been mislabelled "spiritual adultery" is flat out bogus. No one invented that sin. Let's put a rest to that argument right now!

You really think IF YOUR HUSBAND IS SITTING AROUND LUSTING AFTER OR FANTASIZING ABOUT ANOTHER WOMAN THAT HE'S NOT DISLOYAL OR CHEATING ON YOU?

The world tells you that's normal, EVERYBODY DOES IT, BUT GOD'S WORD SAYS DIFFERENT.

Sin is transgression of the law and God's law IS spiritual, and far reaching even to motive and intents and thoughts.

Three witnesses are all that's needed, here's four.

1. Thou shalt not commit adultery - Ex 20:14

2. ....Thou shalt not covet thy neighbour's wife...nor any thing that is thy neighbour's. -Ex 20:17

3. But I say unto you, That whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her hath committed adultery with her already in his heart. - Matt 5:28

4. ... I had not known sin, but by the law: for I had not known lust, except the law had said, Thou shalt not covet. -Rom 7:7

The tenth commandment proves the law is spiritual..

For coveting happens in your mind only, and paves the way for all the rest.

Temptation takes place in the mind, resisting it or giving into sin also happens in the mind.

"Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him. Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted of God: for God cannot be tempted with evil, neither tempteth he any man:

But every man is tempted, when he is drawn away of his own lust, and enticed.

Then when lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth sin:

and sin, when it is finished, bringeth forth death.

Do not err, my beloved brethren. Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning. "- James 1:12-17

oK-- BACK TO YOUR REGULARLY SCHEDULED PROGRAMING.

--Corrected mistatement - typo--

Posted by: princessdi Dec 26 2006, 11:38 PM

Cindy, "spiritual adultery" which is what Danny began accusing Linda of, it not a sin. In fact, as far as man is concerned it doesn't exist. You can only commit spiritual adultery against God. It is the terms most commonly used for the COI and all the times they waundered after to gods of their neighboring countries. etc. Danny is not God, threfore, Spiritual Adultery could not be committed against him. They have gone to court when Linda ocntested teh Guam divorce, and still there was presented no definitive 'evidence" of Linda's adutery(and if he had something then would have been the time). The burden of proof was on Danny to prove her guilt, not Linda to prove her innocence. Danny still really doesn't refer to it as a physical/sexual affair. They still only claim to have phone tapes(from a calling card no less), etc. Nothing yet, and Danny has been dogging the whole entire time, knowing Linda could not respond. Like I said before, it is more about Danny actions, than Linda's. That is all I have to go on, I guess if he had not come here to tell his lies personally, I might have given him the benefit of the doubt.

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Dec 26 2006, 09:14 PM)
>
> whoa, OR woe!
>
> WE INTERUPT THIS PROGRAM TO BRING YOU THE FOLLOWING ANNOUNCEMENT:

> I don't know if Linda was or is guilty of adultery or not, I need proof, but this argument about there being no such thing as spiritual adultery is flat out bogus. No one invented that sin. Let's put a rest to that argument right now!
>
> You really think IF YOUR HUSBAND IS SITTING AROUND LUSTING AFTER OR FANTASIZING ABOUT ANOTHER WOMAN THAT HE'S NOT DISLOYAL OR CHEATING ON YOU?
>
> The world tells you that's normal, EVERYBODY DOES IT, BUT GOD'S WORD SAYS DIFFERENT.
>
> Sin is transgression of the law and God's law IS spiritual, and far reaching even to motive and intents and thoughts.
>
> Three witnesses are all that's needed, here's four.
>
> 1. Thou shalt not commit adultery - Ex 20:14
>
> 2. ....Thou shalt not covet thy neighbour's wife...nor any thing that is thy neighbour's. -Ex 20:17
>
> 3. But I say unto you, That whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her hath committed adultery with her already in his heart. - Matt 5:28
>
> 4. ... I had not known sin, but by the law: for I had not known lust, except the law had said, Thou shalt not covet. -Rom 7:7
>
> The tenth commandment proves the law is spiritual..
>
> For coveting happens in your mind only, and paves the way for all the rest.
>
> Temptation takes place in the mind, resisting it or giving into sin also happens in the mind.
>
> "Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him. Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted of God: for God cannot be tempted with evil, neither tempteth he any man:
>
> But every man is tempted, when he is drawn away of his own lust, and enticed.
>
> Then when lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth sin:
>
> and sin, when it is finished, bringeth forth death.
>
> Do not err, my beloved brethren. Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning. "- James 1:12-17
>
> oK-- BACK TO YOUR REGULARLY SCHEDULED PROGRAMING.

Posted by: sister Dec 26 2006, 11:46 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Dec 27 2006, 12:14 AM)
>
> whoa, OR woe!
>
> WE INTERUPT THIS PROGRAM TO BRING YOU THE FOLLOWING ANNOUNCEMENT:

> I don't know if Linda was or is guilty of adultery or not, I need proof, but this argument about there being no such thing as spiritual adultery is flat out bogus. No one invented that sin. Let's put a rest to that argument right now!
>
> You really think IF YOUR HUSBAND IS SITTING AROUND LUSTING AFTER OR FANTASIZING ABOUT ANOTHER WOMAN THAT HE'S NOT DISLOYAL OR CHEATING ON YOU?
>
> The world tells you that's normal, EVERYBODY DOES IT, BUT GOD'S WORD SAYS DIFFERENT.
>
> Sin is transgression of the law and God's law IS spiritual, and far reaching even to motive and intents and thoughts.
>
> Three witnesses are all that's needed, here's four.
>
> 1. Thou shalt not commit adultery - Ex 20:14
>
> 2. ....Thou shalt not covet thy neighbour's wife...nor any thing that is thy neighbour's. -Ex 20:17
>
> 3. But I say unto you, That whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her hath committed adultery with her already in his heart. - Matt 5:28
>
> 4. ... I had not known sin, but by the law: for I had not known lust, except the law had said, Thou shalt not covet. -Rom 7:7
>
> The tenth commandment proves the law is spiritual..
>
> For coveting happens in your mind only, and paves the way for all the rest.
>
> Temptation takes place in the mind, resisting it or giving into sin also happens in the mind.
>
> "Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him. Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted of God: for God cannot be tempted with evil, neither tempteth he any man:
>
> But every man is tempted, when he is drawn away of his own lust, and enticed.
>
> Then when lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth sin:
>
> and sin, when it is finished, bringeth forth death.
>
> Do not err, my beloved brethren. Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning. "- James 1:12-17
>
> oK-- BACK TO YOUR REGULARLY SCHEDULED PROGRAMING.

Aletheia, this topic has already been discussed concerning Danny and Linda. You might go back and look through some of the older threads. The main trusts of the postings was whether Danny had a right to divorce Linda on Biblical grounds with an accusation of "Spiritual Adultery". The following is my answer:

The accusation of martial misconduct that has been charged against Linda Shelton — "Spiritual Adultery" can not be supported as a grounds for divorce nor has any evidence been produced from Danny Shelton giving him Biblical sanction for his divorce of Linda Shelton. Turning to the word of God for the Biblical definition of wrongdoing pertaining to divorce and remarriage, in the book of Matthew chapter 5, verse 12: "But I say unto you, That whosoever shall put away his wife, saving for the cause of fornication, causeth her to commit adultery: and whosoever shall marry her that is divorced committeth adultery." What does "Spiritual Adultery" have to do with fornication? To be sure that I was not mistaken, reading on in Matthew 19: 8, 9, my suspicions were confirmed, it was not Linda who had committed adultery: "He said to them, "Because of your hardness of heart Moses permitted you to divorce your wives; but from the beginning it has not been this way. And I say to you, whoever divorces his wife, except for immorality [fornication], and marries another woman commits adultery." NASB

According to scripture it is the husband, that has put away his wife for grounds other than fornication and remarried, that has committed adultery. The Bible is positively clear upon this subject. There are no gray areas or shadows in which to hide. No mention made nor definition given of Spiritual Adultery in regard to divorce. So how has this strange fire made it's way into the temple of God? Or is it only applicable in the 3ABN Worship Center, where the high priest, John Lomacang presides over the 3ABN congregation of Danny Shelton?

Upon reviewing the letters written by Dr. Walt Thompson concerning Danny's actions in regard to divorcing Linda and his remarriage to Brandy, not once is the charge of fornication made against Linda. So why is the scarlet letter "A" pinned upon her? What makes her an adulteress in the eyes of God? Like the woman dragged through the streets and thrown down on the ground in front of Jesus, was Linda caught in the act of adultery? No. Then why has she been publically dragged through the mud and deposited by her accusers at the feet of the court of Adventist public opinion: to be tried, convicted and branded as an adulteress without a shred of evidence?

Aletheia, where is the evidence that Linda has committed adultery? Everyone is still waiting for Danny to produce the evidence or perhaps the problem is he can not produce what does not exist?

Posted by: Green Cochoa Dec 26 2006, 11:55 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Dec 26 2006, 11:14 PM) ☐
>
> whoa, OR woe!
>
> WE INTERUPT THIS PROGRAM TO BRING YOU THE FOLLOWING ANNOUNCEMENT:
>
> I don't know if Linda was or is guilty of adultery or not, I need proof, but this argument about there being no such thing as spiritual adultery is flat out bogus. No one invented that sin. Let's put a rest to that argument right now!
>
> You really think IF YOUR HUSBAND IS SITTING AROUND LUSTING AFTER OR FANTASIZING ABOUT ANOTHER WOMAN THAT HE'S NOT DISLOYAL OR CHEATING ON YOU?
>
> The world tells you that's normal, EVERYBODY DOES IT, BUT GOD'S WORD SAYS DIFFERENT.
>
> Sin is transgression of the law and God's law IS spiritual, and far reaching even to motive and intents and thoughts.
>
> Three witnesses are all that's needed, here's four.
>
> 1. Thou shalt not commit adultery - Ex 20:14
>
> 2. ....Thou shalt not covet thy neighbour's wife...nor any thing that is thy neighbour's. -Ex 20:17

> 3. But I say unto you, That whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her hath committed adultery with her already in his heart. - Matt 5:28
>
> 4. ... I had not known sin, but by the law: for I had not known lust, except the law had said, Thou shalt not covet. -Rom 7:7
>
> The tenth commandment proves the law is spiritual..
>
> For coveting happens in your mind only, and paves the way for all the rest.
>
> Temptation takes place in the mind, resisting it or giving into sin also happens in the mind.
>
> "Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him. Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted of God: for God cannot be tempted with evil, neither tempteth he any man:
>
> But every man is tempted, when he is drawn away of his own lust, and enticed.
>
> Then when lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth sin:
>
> and sin, when it is finished, bringeth forth death.
>
> Do not err, my beloved brethren. Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning. "- James 1:12-17
>
> oK-- BACK TO YOUR REGULARLY SCHEDULED PROGRAMING.

WHOA!!!!!!!!!!!!! AND WOE!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

I just can't help myself. This is so blatantly a fallacy of logic known as the slippery slope, often termed "jumping to conclusions" that I feel I must set the record straight.

To lust after a neighbor's spouse IS SIN. Yes, in heaven's eye, it's close to the same as adultery, as Jesus said. BUT, before you go divorcing on someone's thoughts, better look more closely at the issues, and at where this SAME KIND OF LOGIC will take you!

Evidently, Aletheia, you must also believe firmly in capital punishment, as advocated in the Levitical laws. And, adultery was punished in this fashion.

Leviticus 20:10 "And the man that committeth adultery with another man's wife, even he that committeth adultery with his neighbour's wife, the adulterer and the adulteress shall surely be put to death."

And also, to use your logic in an equally relevant "spiritual" sense to adultery,

Leviticus 19:17 "Thou shalt not hate thy brother in thine heart: thou shalt in any wise rebuke thy neighbour, and not suffer sin upon him."

1 John 3:15 "Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer: and ye know that no murderer hath eternal life abiding in him."

AND Leviticus 35 says "the murderer shall surely be put to death" no less than three times.

So, I guess we should all be put to death for a thought we've had in our lives at some point, however fleeting? Is this what you would advocate dear truth seeker?

There are degrees of sin. Thoughts do not have the same weight as their consequent actions. Jesus did not say we should divorce. Divorce is never commanded, only permitted "for the hardness of your hearts." To divorce, without adultery, is to commit adultery.

Matthew 5:32 "But I say unto you, That whosoever shall put away his wife, saving for the cause of fornication, causeth her to commit adultery: and whosoever shall marry her that is divorced committeth adultery."

Jesus NEVER said a person's thoughts were sufficient cause for adultery. You'll have to prove that one to me rather thoroughly before I'll be gullible enough to fall for such a lie. And once you have proven it, then I will also believe that a person's thoughts will be sufficient cause for capital punishment.

Posted by: awesumtenor Dec 26 2006, 11:56 PM

> QUOTE(Uncle Sam @ Dec 26 2006, 10:57 PM)
>
> IF Linda got married, why would she hide it? How long would that last? It doesn't even make sense her wearing a wedding ring....

It does if she were still contesting her divorce; if that was still ongoing at the time of the GC session in St. Louis (and I believe that it was) then she WAS married...

...to Danny Shelton.

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: Aletheia Dec 26 2006, 11:56 PM

> QUOTE(sister @ Dec 27 2006, 12:46 AM)
>
> Aletheia, where is the evidence that Linda has committed adultery? 7

R U very defensive or confused?

I wrote and you even quoted "I don't know if Linda was or is guilty of adultery or not, I need proof" and did you see my question, just a couple of posts back to you regarding your proof? for you appear to be ignoring it, and I am still waiting for your answer...

Posted by: sister Dec 27 2006, 12:11 AM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Dec 27 2006, 12:56 AM)

> R U very defensive or confused?
>
> I wrote and you even quoted "I don't know if Linda was or is guilty of adultery or not, I need proof"
>
> and did you see my question, just a couple of posts back to you regarding your proof? for you appear to be ignoring it, and I am still waiting for your answer...

I am neither defensive or confused...but you did quote me out of context:

"Aletheia, where is the evidence that Linda has committed adultery? Everyone is still waiting for Danny to produce the evidence or perhaps the problem is he can not produce what does not exist?"

In context it is obvious I am not asking you to produce evidence, but rather commenting upon the lack of evidence produce by Danny Shelton or if any evidence actually exists.

But I am curious how you answer the following statement directed to you from Green Cochoa:

"Jesus NEVER said a person's thoughts were sufficient cause for adultery. You'll have to prove that one to me rather thoroughly before I'll be gullible enough to fall for such a lie. And once you have proven it, then I will also believe that a person's thoughts will be sufficient cause for capital punishment."

Posted by: Aletheia Dec 27 2006, 12:12 AM

> QUOTE(Green Cochoa @ Dec 27 2006, 12:55 AM) ☐
>
> WHOA!!!!!!!!!!!!! AND WOE!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!
>
> I just can't help myself. This is so blatantly a fallacy of logic known as the slippery slope, often termed "jumping to conclusions" that I feel I must set the record straight.
>
> To lust after a neighbor's spouse IS SIN. Yes, in heaven's eye, it's close to the same as adultery, as Jesus said. BUT, before you go divorcing on someone's thoughts, better look more closely at the issues, and at where this SAME KIND OF LOGIC will take you!
>
> Evidently, Aletheia, you must also believe firmly in capital punishment, as advocated in the Levitical laws. And, adultery was punished in this fashion.
>
> Leviticus 20:10 "And the man that committeth adultery with another man's wife, even he that committeth adultery with his neighbour's wife, the adulterer and the adulteress shall surely be put to death."
>
> And also, to use your logic in an equally relevant "spiritual" sense to adultery,
>
> Leviticus 19:17 "Thou shalt not hate thy brother in thine heart: thou shalt in any wise rebuke thy neighbour, and not suffer sin upon him."
>
> 1 John 3:15 "Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer: and ye know that no murderer hath eternal life abiding in him."

> AND Leviticus 35 says "the murderer shall surely be put to death" no less than three times.
>
> So, I guess we should all be put to death for a thought we've had in our lives at some point, however fleeting? Is this what you would advocate dear truth seeker?
>
> There are degrees of sin. Thoughts do not have the same weight as their consequent actions. Jesus did not say we should divorce. Divorce is never commanded, only permitted "for the hardness of your hearts." To divorce, without adultery, is to commit adultery.
>
> Matthew 5:32 "But I say unto you, That whosoever shall put away his wife, saving for the cause of fornication, causeth her to commit adultery: and whosoever shall marry her that is divorced committeth adultery."
>
> Jesus NEVER said a person's thoughts were sufficient cause for adultery. You'll have to prove that one to me rather thoroughly before I'll be gullible enough to fall for such a lie. And once you have proven it, then I will also believe that a person's thoughts will be sufficient cause for capital punishment.

Sorry dude you err not knowing the scriptures. Sin is sin, and God's word says "Whosoever hateth his brother IS a murderer" as well as " whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her hath committed adultery with her already in his heart" Jesus also said all judgment has been given to me, as in "vengeance is mine, I will repay" so I believe him, so no I am not in favor of me carrying out capital punishment. Reason being God's church is not a Nation or state anymore...

Posted by: Green Cochoa Dec 27 2006, 12:21 AM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Dec 27 2006, 12:12 AM)
>
> Sorry dude you err not knowing the scriptures. Sin is sin, and God's word says "Whosoever hateth his brother IS a murderer" as well as " whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her hath committed adultery with her already in his heart" Jesus also said all judgment has been given to me, as in "vengeance is mine, I will repay" so I believe him, so no I am not in favor of me carrying out capital punishment. Reason being God's church is not a Nation or state anymore...

Ah, yes. Well, then by so saying you clear the guilt of any "capital punishment" for those who merely hated or lusted while Israel was its own nation.

And, you must also feel that it's ok to divorce your husband if he steals, or breaks the Sabbath, because, just a little further from the statement you quoted in James, comes the following:

James 2:10-11 "For whosoever shall keep the whole law, and yet offend in one point, he is guilty of all.
For he that said, Do not commit adultery, said also, Do not kill. Now if thou commit no adultery, yet if thou kill, thou art become a transgressor of the law."

May God help us to follow the Biblical injunction to rightly divide the truth.

Posted by: roxe Dec 27 2006, 12:41 AM

> QUOTE(sister @ Dec 26 2006, 10:46 PM) ☐
>
> <snip>
> Matthew chapter 5, verse 12: "But I say unto you, That whosoever shall put away his wife, saving for the cause of fornication, causeth her to commit adultery: and whosoever shall marry her that is divorced committeth adultery."

does the bolded part mean that since Danny divorced Linda, he has caused her to commit adultery, and that whoever marries her will also commit adultery??

Posted by: Aletheia Dec 27 2006, 12:52 AM

> QUOTE(sister @ Dec 27 2006, 01:11 AM) ☐
>
> I am neither defensive or confused...but you did quote me out of context:
>
> Everyone is still waiting for Danny to produce the evidence or perhaps the problem is he can not produce what does not exist?"
>
> In context it is obvious I am not asking you to produce evidence, but rather commenting upon the lack of evidence produce by Danny Shelton or if any evidence actually exists.

Then may I suggest that in the future you do not ask me ""Aletheia, where is the evidence that Linda has committed adultery?" if you don't want me to answer, and are just commenting.

> QUOTE
>
> But I am curious how you answer the following statement directed to you from Green Cochoa:
>
> "Jesus NEVER said a person's thoughts were sufficient cause for adultery. You'll have to prove that one to me rather thoroughly before I'll be gullible enough to fall for such a lie. And once you have proven it, then I will also believe that a person's thoughts will be sufficient cause for capital punishment."

I answered him. And I am still curious to see you answer my question, are you still refusing to answer or prove what you say?

Posted by: awesumtenor Dec 27 2006, 12:59 AM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Dec 27 2006, 01:52 AM) ☐
>
> Then may I suggest that in the future you do not ask me ""Aletheia, where is the evidence that Linda has committed adultery?" if you don't want me to answer, and are just commenting.

Cindy, you know the question was not directed to you... or anyone else... so why do you persist in being contentious. By the context, it was rhetorical; even if by chance you missed that in context, sister told you the question was rhetorical and that a response from you was neither desired nor required... so why continue trying to pick a fight on a point where there is nothing to contest... or is this another weapon of mass distraction?

> QUOTE
> I answered him. And I am still curious to see you answer my question, are you still refusing to answer or prove what you say?

You responded to his post; you have yet to answer him.

Huge difference... even in Indiana.

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: Pickle Dec 27 2006, 07:09 AM

Yes, looking upon a woman to lust after her is sin, a violation of the 7th commandment.

No, it is not biblical grounds for divorce.

"Man looketh upon the outward appearance. The Lord looketh upon the heart."

While the state is appointed by God to enforce the second table of the 10 Commandments, it very obviously cannot do that in regards to mere thoughts, since it cannot read the heart.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Dec 27 2006, 07:56 AM

> QUOTE(sister @ Dec 26 2006, 10:46 PM) ☐
>
> Upon reviewing the letters written by Dr. Walt Thompson concerning Danny's actions in regard to divorcing Linda and his remarriage to Brandy, not once is the charge of fornication made against Linda. So why is the scarlet letter "A" pinned upon her? What makes her an adulteress in the eyes of God? Like the woman dragged through the streets and thrown down on the ground in front of Jesus, was Linda caught in the act of adultery? No. Then why has she been publically dragged through the mud and deposited by her accusers at the feet of the court of Adventist public opinion: to be tried, convicted and branded as an adulteress without a shred of evidence?

> Aletheia, where is the evidence that Linda has committed adultery? Everyone is still waiting for Danny to produce the evidence or perhaps the problem is he can not produce what does not exist?

Sister, you need a minor correction here. It is a scarlet "SA" pinned upon her.

Aletheia, as far as "Spiritual Adultry" goes, how do we know Linda has even ever lusted after the Norwegian doctor in her heart?

Posted by: Clay Dec 27 2006, 08:14 AM

Good to see you Greenie.... wondered where you disappeared to....

Aletheia, I hear what you are saying but that dog won't hunt.... there is no such animal as "spiritual adultery" and no way to "prove" that a spouse was engaged in spiritual adultery.... And really it is not a ground for divorce..... no matter how many times Danny and his crew suggest that it is....

Posted by: Aletheia Dec 27 2006, 08:52 AM

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Dec 27 2006, 08:56 AM)
>
> Sister, you need a minor correction here. It is a scarlet "SA" pinned upon her.
>
> Aletheia, as far as "Spiritual Adultry" goes, how do we know Linda has even ever lusted after the Norwegian doctor in her heart?

We don't P.B. Unless she herself expressed this we couldn't. Speaking for myself, I am not Miss Cleo.

But I am quite sure it is a sin and is one which isn't hidden from the Lord, which is not a laughing matter.

Posted by: Aletheia Dec 27 2006, 09:03 AM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Dec 27 2006, 09:14 AM)
>
> Aletheia, I hear what you are saying but that dog won't hunt.... there is no such animal as "spiritual adultery" and no way to "prove" that a spouse was engaged in spiritual adultery.... And really it is not a ground for divorce..... no matter how many times Danny and his crew suggest that it is....

Yeah. well that's why I have alot of questions about that whole scenario, and don't know if they'll ever be answered. I don't like Despotic behavior.

"we decree that so and so is guilty of such and such, and it is so because we deem it so, and we have no obligation to explain ourselves. You can bow now..

NOT happenin'

Posted by: Pickle Dec 27 2006, 09:17 AM

I've heard it claimed that Danny claimed that he had biblical grounds since Linda had committed "spiritual adultery." Anyone have that in writing from him?

Posted by: Green Cochoa Dec 27 2006, 09:17 AM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Dec 27 2006, 08:14 AM)
>
> Good to see you Greenie.... wondered where you disappeared to....
>
> Aletheia, I hear what you are saying but that dog won't hunt.... there is no such animal as "spiritual adultery" and no way to "prove" that a spouse was engaged in spiritual adultery.... And really it is not a ground for divorce..... no matter how many times Danny and his crew suggest that it is....

Ya, well, what can I say, Clay? Took a break from it all, and been busy too.

As for this so-called "spiritual adultery", I think I made a pretty good case to frame up an equivalent charge, logically, that of "spiritual murder." The Bible is pretty clear that to hate someone is tantamount to murder. So should we be imprisoning and/or executing folks for hatred?

As has been brought up not long back, crimes of this nature were to be established by the mouth of AT LEAST two witnesses. Perhaps this is partly why the United States Constitution does not require that one testify against oneself (5th amendment, right?).

Now, let's suppose for a minute that Linda had lustful thoughts towards someone other than her husband. 1) The thought itself is NOT sin, but temptation. 2) When one dwells on it, then it becomes sin. 3) It is only God who can judge the difference.

Satan will tempt us. He will subsequently tempt us to believe that we have ALREADY sinned by having even been tempted! Therefore, IF SHE HAD SUCH THOUGHTS (which remains completely unproven) it is quite possible that not even Linda herself could be trusted to fairly witness to the sinfulness of it. The whole thing may have been merely a temptation, and by not succumbing to it, Linda has been victorious. But let's make this clear--I don't have any reason to think Linda had so much as a temptation on this issue.

The Bible is more than clear on this. There is only one cause for a divorce to be permitted without committing adultery. It is rather obvious to me that there is adultery involved in this situation. But it may not be in the corner where folks are looking the hardest.

I'm actually aware of some major evidence, which I've heard from both sides of this situation, which puts Linda in an extremely bad light and nearly forces the conclusion of her having committed physical adultery. However, I am also aware of a mitigating factor which, when considered along with the first evidence, not only exonerates her, but actually reverses the entire conclusion and commends Linda for her bravery in taking the heat without answering in kind when she could simply say one sentence and prove her innocence. There is a reason she has done this, and for that same reason, I will not give more details about it here. Suffice it to say, all is not what it is made out to be by Danny.

Posted by: Aletheia Dec 27 2006, 09:20 AM

> QUOTE(Green Cochoa @ Dec 27 2006, 01:21 AM) ☐
>
> Ah, yes. Well, then by so saying you clear the guilt of any "capital punishment" for those who merely hated or lusted while Israel was its own nation.
>
> And, you must also feel that it's ok to divorce your husband if he steals, or breaks the Sabbath, because, just a little further from the statement you quoted in James, comes the following:
>
> James 2:10-11 "For whosoever shall keep the whole law, and yet offend in one point, he is guilty of all.
> For he that said, Do not commit adultery, said also, Do not kill. Now if thou commit no adultery, yet if thou kill, thou art become a transgressor of the law."
>
> May God help us to follow the Biblical injunction to rightly divide the truth.

Hello. Are you an SDA????

Divorcing your husband for anything other then adultery when that's the only biblical reason Jesus gave? please don't come back with more weird unbiblical theories.

Sin still carries the death penalty. But Today's Church is not a Nation and we don't have our own civil laws. In the new covenant Jesus said no more eye for an eye, and said all judgment has been given to him. That is not difficult to comprehend.

The death sentence will be carried out by God, and every unrepentant sinner will be cast into the lake of fire. because the wages of sin is death. Those judgments against sin still exist, but we are not authorized to carry them out, Jesus is. Get it?

Posted by: Joe Smith Dec 27 2006, 09:26 AM

> QUOTE(Pickle @ Dec 26 2006, 11:55 AM) ☐
>
> Then by all means get some.
>
> What was the source of your statement that the house was a mansion? Had you personally seen it, or were you relying on Danny's or someone else's word?
> I'm really not interested in verbal descriptions from either side. I want concrete facts, like the number of square feet and rooms listed in the Real Estate listing, with a photocopy of that listing.
>
> So are you trying to say that $200,000 buys a mansion in Springfield, IL? Or are you instead trying to prove that you exagerated when you said she now lives in a mansion? $200,000 buys a mansion compared to what I live in and ANY pool is huge compared to us who have none. Also, $200,000.00 is nearly as much as Danny's house is worth... and it took 2 of them to pay for it.
>
> I'm not sure what your point is.
> Since you directed this comment directly to me, I respectfully request an apology for your base and > unchristian insinuation. And you shall have it my friend. If you were insulted, then you have my opology. The comment (not accusation) was not meant for you alone, but for anyone who has info on this subject. Don't take it personal..

>
> Either prove it or kindly and courteously keep such hearsay out of this thread. This thread was intended to deal with concrete and provable claims you made, not deal with more rumors.
>
> Find whatever documents or pictures you can to prove that Linda indeed lives in a mansion with a huge pool, and post them here. And state whether you have ever seen the house and pool yourself, and if not, who gave you this information.

Posted by: lurker Dec 27 2006, 09:27 AM

What that money will buy depends very much on where the home is located. What will buy a mansion in one area will only buy a dump in another area. I'm not saying Linda's home is a dump, just saying that the housing market is very different depending on where you settle. Linda's daughter lives in that area. Linda needed to be near her daughter. I don't have a pool either but if I got a good deal and could buy a house with a pool for about the same money as one without, I would get the one with a pool, if only for the resale value of the property.

As late as a couple of weeks ago, someone in our Sabbath School Class said of Linda "Oh, I thought she left Danny for another man." The picture the uniformed have of her seems to be that she is living in Scandinavia with a doctor without being married to him.

This is the rumor that has been fostered and is still being actively spread. In spite of the fact that Linda is still single and says she has no plans to remarry. In spite of the fact that she still lives in the United States. In spite of the fact that she attends Sabbath School and Church and people see her going about her normal daily life. She is being judged by most, not of spiritual adultry, but of real adultry because most SDA's assume that

1. Danny is the chosen of the Lord and to question his judgement is to oppose God.
2. There must be proof or it would not be claimed that there is.
3. The constant new rumors such as the one about Linda wearing a wedding ring must be true. "Where there is smoke, there is fire."
4. People would rather believe a juicy lie than a boring truth.

Posted by: Green Cochoa Dec 27 2006, 09:32 AM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Dec 27 2006, 09:20 AM) ☐
>
> Hello. Are you an SDA????

Would this matter?

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Dec 27 2006, 09:20 AM) ☐
>
> Divorcing your husband for anything other then adultery when that's the only biblical reason Jesus gave? please don't come back with more weird unbiblical theories.
> ...

Well, I will admit that I was presenting a weird and unbiblical theory. I don't believe it for a minute myself. But it followed from the same logic as the weird and unbiblical theory of "spiritual adultery" which some here seem unable to correct in their minds, and I don't believe you caught on to what I was pointing out, so let me make it more clear.

1) It is true that the Bible says lusting after a woman is tantamount to committing adultery with her in your heart.
2) It is also true that the Bible says breaking the law on one point is tantamount to breaking the law on all other points.

Therefore, THE SAME "SPIRITUAL" SIN that you speak of relative to adultery can be "proven" by demonstrating a sin against any of the other 9 commandments, for to break any commandment is to also break the commandment against adultery. So, if you can have grounds for divorce based on your spouse's lustful thoughts, then you have equal grounds for divorce for your spouse stealing, or killing, or breaking the Sabbath, or worshipping other gods, etc. IT'S THAT SIMPLE.

Posted by: lurker Dec 27 2006, 09:43 AM

If people can get divorces for spiritual adultry, then any man can dump his wife. All he has to do is accuse his wife of being infatuated with another man.

Posted by: Pickle Dec 27 2006, 09:47 AM

> QUOTE(Joe Smith)
>
> $200,000 buys a mansion compared to what I live in and ANY pool is huge compared to us who have none.

Since you did not qualify your comments in this way when you initially made them, you left quite a different impression upon your readers. And that was dishonest, whether intentionally or unintentionally.

You stated emphatically that she now lives in a "mansion" with a "huge pool," and you never qualified that by saying that even if the pool was 4 ft. across, it would be huge to you since you "have none."

Please tell us how you knew that her house has a pool. Have you seen it? If not, who told you? You evaded this question before, and I am wondering why.

> QUOTE(Joe Smith)
>
> Also, $200,000.00 is nearly as much as Danny's house is worth... and it took 2 of them to pay for it.

How much is Danny's house worth? $210,000? I was told another figure, so I want to see who is telling me the truth on this one.

> QUOTE(Joe Smith)
>
> And you shall have it my friend. If you were insulted, then you have my opology.

"If you were insulted"? "If"? What does that have to do with it?

You insinuated, without presenting any evidence, that the doctor was paying Linda to be immoral by giving her a loan for her house. That insinuation was base and unchristian, and I asked you to apologize, not because I was or was not insulted, but because you had said such a thing.

Posted by: Aletheia Dec 27 2006, 10:12 AM

> QUOTE(lurker @ Dec 27 2006, 10:43 AM) ☐
>
> If people can get divorces for spiritual adultry, then any man can dump his wife. All he has to do is accuse his wife of being infatuated with another man.

This is just an aside from the Shelton case, but in the world today, many have what is known as phone or internet sex. Is that adultery?

just wonderin'

Posted by: Pickle Dec 27 2006, 10:15 AM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Dec 27 2006, 10:12 AM) ☐
>
> Maybe someone else does, but I don't recall reading it.
>
> To the best of my knowledge this is where the term "spiritual adultery" originated.

A pastor told me this morning he had had an email from Danny stating this. Whether someone can actually find such an email is another question. But if someone can find one, I'd like to see it.

Posted by: Aletheia Dec 27 2006, 10:27 AM

> QUOTE(Pickle @ Dec 27 2006, 10:17 AM) ☐
>
> I've heard it claimed that Danny claimed that he had biblical grounds since Linda had committed "spiritual adultery." Anyone have that in writing from him?

Maybe someone else does, I don't recall reading that anywhere here or anywhere else???

To the best of my knowledge this is where the term "spiritual adultery" originated.

Walt thompson's letter to Gregory Matthews:

"In early March Danny called me. He was very distraught as he told me what Linda was doing. I immediately traveled to 3abn to find out for myself, and for the next two to three months was there for a few days almost every week. During this time I and a small committee of the board had a number of sessions with Linda, encouraging her to break off the relationship that was ruining her home and putting a serious strain on the ministry. Pastor John L. was one of the first to counsel Linda. From the start, before meeting with Danny and Linda together he warned Linda that what she was doing was wrong, and must stop. He then spent hours counseling the two of them together. I am not sure how many other sessions were had. When I arrived, I arranged for Pastor John, Linda and Danny and I to meet together. We met, talked and prayed. Both Danny and Linda were anointed, and committed to God to do what was right. Linda promised us to cut off the relationship. Not long (I don't remember the length of time, but probably less than an hour) she was secretly on the phone to Norway with the doctor again. We had other sessions with her where she reluctantly made similar agreements, but usually said she was not going to give him up until she was sure Danny would stop interfering in her affairs - as if it was Danny's fault they were having trouble. On one occasion I was able to get the doctor on the phone. I begged him to break of the relationship. He told me he would not. We arranged for Danny and Linda to visit a marriage counselor couple out of state. They were not Adventist, but devout Christians of another faith. They were chosen so that Linda could not claim that they were biased, if Adventist. Danny and Linda spent eight hours with the counselors. They were the one's who told Linda she was committing "spiritual adultery" and that it was wrong and must be stopped at once. She made excuses, said she was doing nothing wrong. They warned her that the way she was going it would soon become physical."

> QUOTE(Pickle @ Dec 27 2006, 11:15 AM)
>
> A pastor told me this morning he had had an email from Danny stating this. Whether someone can actually find such an email is another question. But if someone can find one, I'd like to see it.

Me too.

That's weird, How did my post, which you were responding to end up below your reply to it, along with my next repy???

It happened again. every time I reply, it just adds to the previous post instead of being a new post???

Posted by: Green Cochoa Dec 27 2006, 10:44 AM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Dec 27 2006, 10:04 AM)
>
> This is just an aside from the Shelton case, but in the world today, many have what is known as phone or internet sex. Is that adultery?
> just wonderin'

Sin, yes. Immoral, yes. Adultery--not in the sense of grounds for divorce. Look, we could go through a whole list of things here, such as couples watching erotic stuff together, fantasizing to get in the mood, etc. The fact is, and this gets a little sticky, lustful thoughts towards one's own spouse may become immoral and base, and sinful. Yet this would be a far cry from grounds for divorce!

Now, if you want my extra-biblical thoughts on this: I am of the opinion, and I do not try to claim this as biblical, right, or valid, it is just my opinion, that there should be one other legal grounds for divorce besides adultery: IV drug use. The reason? Adulterers and drug addicts both share one commonality: risk of life-threatening diseases such as HIV. God does not ask us to expose ourselves to a potential death sentence. This would be akin to suicide. Therefore, it is my personal belief that any lifestyle which so basely puts the life of the partner at risk as this should be grounds for divorce. Now, remarriage is a separate issue still.

No one, that I'm aware of, would be able to pass HIV over the phone or internet. But, then, this is all just an aside to your aside. Really, the Bible does not define adultery in terms of any sort of imagined or long-distance relationship--it's when the two are caught together!

Regarding where this "spiritual adultery" theory originated: I heard it first hand from Danny's lips where he claimed the marriage counselors told Linda that she was committing "spiritual adultery" and that "spiritual adultery" always leads to "physical adultery." By so saying, Danny intended to lead us to believe that the physical adultery was likely already a material fact, and that even if it were not, that he already had grounds for divorce. I'm sure that Walt Thompson was merely reflecting Danny's take.

Posted by: Ed White Dec 27 2006, 11:13 AM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Dec 27 2006, 10:27 AM) ☐
>
> Maybe someone else does, I don't recall reading that anywhere here or anywhere else???
>
> To the best of my knowledge this is where the term "spiritual adultery" originated.
>
> Walt thompson's letter to Gregory Matthews:
>
> "In early March Danny called me. He was very distraught as he told me what Linda was doing. I immediately traveled to 3abn to find out for myself, and for the next two to three months was there for a few days almost every week. During this time I and a small committee of the board had a number of sessions with Linda, encouraging her to break off the relationship that was ruining her home and putting a serious strain on the ministry. Pastor John L. was one of the first to counsel Linda. From the start, before meeting with Danny and Linda together he warned Linda that what she was doing was wrong, and must stop. He then spent hours counseling the two of them together. I am not sure how many other sessions were had. When I arrived, I arranged for Pastor John, Linda and Danny and I to meet together. We met, talked and prayed. Both Danny and Linda were anointed, and committed to God to do what was right. Linda promised us to cut off the relationship. Not long (I don't remember the length of time, but probably less than an hour) she was secretly on the phone to Norway with the doctor again. We had other sessions with her where she reluctantly made similar agreements, but usually said she was not going to give him up until she was sure Danny would stop interfering in her affairs - as if it was Danny's fault they were having trouble. On one occasion I was able to get the doctor on the phone. I begged him to break of the relationship. He told me he would not. We arranged for Danny and Linda to visit a marriage counselor couple out of state. They were not Adventist, but devout Christians of another faith. They were chosen so that Linda could not claim that they were biased, if Adventist. Danny and Linda spent eight hours with the counselors. They were the one's who told Linda she was committing "spiritual adultery" and that it was wrong and must be stopped at once. She made excuses, said she was doing nothing wrong. They warned her that the way she was going it would soon become physical."
>
> Me too.
>
> That's weird, How did my post, which you were responding to end up below your reply to it, along > with my next repy???

>
> It happened again. every time I reply, it just adds to the previous post instead of being a new post???

Altheia with you being house bound in the middle of a cornfield during a snowstorm has given you a memory like an elephant, please continue on. But now we see the root of the problem, it was these licensed counselors that received their physiology training from it's founder Sigmund Freud [the pervert] that put these words in Danny's mouth, maybe he is not a guilty as those on the board that pointed out to him & Linda to seek help from a broken cistern. Listen up to all licensed marriage counselors out there and those that are moonlighting as such, just how much weaker do you want to become by allowing someone tell you their problem?
"When perplexities arise, and difficulties confront you, look not for help to humanity. Trust all with God. The practice of telling our difficulties to others only makes us weak, and brings no strength to them. It lays upon them the burden of our spiritual infirmities, which they cannot relieve. We seek the strength of erring, finite man, when we might have the strength of the unerring, infinite God.
You need not go to the ends of the earth for wisdom, for God is near. It is not the capabilities you now possess or ever will have that will give you success. It is that which the Lord can do for you. We need to have far less confidence in what man can do and far more confidence in what God can do for every believing soul. He longs to have you reach after Him by faith. He longs to have you expect great things from Him. He longs to give you understanding in temporal as well as in spiritual matters. He can sharpen the intellect. He can give tact and skill. Put your talents into the work, ask God for wisdom, and it will be given you." { COL 146

Danny now that you know you were given a bum steer right out of the shute, you can blame it all on the board chairman and you get off scott free. But holt it, truth telling is still required. Don't you know the "Truthfulness shall mark His people even in the greatest of peril." If you or anyone tells lies, you are not His people! That goes for all the doctrinal discourses you allow on 3ABN as well.

Posted by: Pickle Dec 27 2006, 11:22 AM

At this point I'd want evidence to that effect before we blame it all on the counselors. How do we know that they said that? Is that based only on Danny's word, or Linda's too?

If they both agree, then it is probably so.

Posted by: watchbird Dec 27 2006, 11:50 AM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Dec 27 2006, 11:27 AM)
>
> That's weird, How did my post, which you were responding to end up below your reply to it, along with my next repy???
>
> It happened again. every time I reply, it just adds to the previous post instead of being a new post???

Anytime you reply within 20 minutes of posting.... unless someone else has responded within that time.... your new reply will be considered part of the previous and be added to it. The only way to force it to go to a new post is to wait.....

Posted by: Brother Sam Dec 27 2006, 12:01 PM

What I want to know is why in the world would an adventist go to a non adventist for counseling?

Doesn't Danny or anyone on the board know adventist are counseled against going to non SDA counselors for advise.

It only shows me that they don't have the discernment to govern themselves let alone 3ABN!

P.S.

If you listen close enough, after a while you will realize that Danny has never told the truth as far back as anyone wants to check.

Posted by: no_cults Dec 27 2006, 12:02 PM

> QUOTE(Green Cochoa @ Dec 27 2006, 11:44 AM) ☐
>
> Sin, yes. Immoral, yes. Adultery--not in the sense of grounds for divorce. Look, we could go through a whole list of things here, such as couples watching erotic stuff together, fantasizing to get in the mood, etc. The fact is, and this gets a little sticky, lustful thoughts towards one's own spouse may become immoral and base, and sinful. Yet this would be a far cry from grounds for divorce!
>
> Now, if you want my extra-biblical thoughts on this: I am of the opinion, and I do not try to claim this as biblical, right, or valid, it is just my opinion, that there should be one other legal grounds for divorce besides adultery: IV drug use. The reason? Adulterers and drug addicts both share one commonality: risk of life-threatening diseases such as HIV. God does not ask us to expose ourselves to a potential death sentence. This would be akin to suicide. Therefore, it is my personal belief that any lifestyle which so basely puts the life of the partner at risk as this should be grounds for divorce. Now, remarriage is a separate issue still.
>
> No one, that I'm aware of, would be able to pass HIV over the phone or internet. But, then, this is all just an aside to your aside. Really, the Bible does not define adultery in terms of any sort of imagined or long-distance relationship--it's when the two are caught together!
>
> Regarding where this "spiritual adultery" theory originated: I heard it first hand from Danny's lips where he claimed the marriage counselors told Linda that she was committing "spiritual adultery" and that "spiritual adultery" always leads to "physical adultery." By so saying, Danny intended to lead us to believe that the physical adultery was likely already a material fact, and that even if it were not, that he already had grounds for divorce. I'm sure that Walt Thompson was merely reflecting Danny's take.

In the past, "Spiritual Adultery" usually had a theological connotation and had nothing to do with any form of sex between people. This new meaning, I think was dreamed up by Danny Shelton. At least, I had never heard it used before in this sort of proposed meaning.

Posted by: Clay Dec 27 2006, 12:05 PM

> QUOTE(Brother Sam @ Dec 27 2006, 12:01 PM) ☐

> What I want to know is why in the world would an adventist go to a non adventist for counseling?
>
> Doesn't Danny or anyone on the board know adventist are counseled against going to non SDA counselors for advise.
>
> It only shows me that they don't have the discernment to govern themselves let alone 3ABN!
>
> P.S.
>
> If you listen close enough, after a while you will realize that Danny has never told the truth as far back as anyone wants to check.

because sometimes nonadventist counselors may be more objective than adventist ones... and yes there are christian counselors that are more than capable of helping couples work through their problems.... let's be clear though, it takes TWO to make a relationship/marriage but it only takes ONE to break up a marriage.... so if both people are not interested in getting the most out of the counseling, if one of them is looking to end the relationship, then counseling will not be successful....

Posted by: Observer Dec 27 2006, 12:06 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Dec 27 2006, 09:27 AM)
>
> Maybe someone else does, I don't recall reading that anywhere here or anywhere else???
>
> To the best of my knowledge this is where the term "spiritual adultery" originated.
>
> Walt Thompson's letter to Gregory Matthews:
>
> "In early March Danny called me. He was very distraught as he told me what Linda was doing. I immediately traveled to 3abn to find out for myself, and for the next two to three months was there for a few days almost every week. During this time I and a small committee of the board had a number of sessions with Linda, encouraging her to break off the relationship that was ruining her home and putting a serious strain on the ministry. Pastor John L. was one of the first to counsel Linda. From the start, before meeting with Danny and Linda together he warned Linda that what she was doing was wrong, and must stop. He then spent hours counseling the two of them together. I am not sure how many other sessions were had. When I arrived, I arranged for Pastor John, Linda and Danny and I to meet together. We met, talked and prayed. Both Danny and Linda were anointed, and committed to God to do what was right. Linda promised us to cut off the relationship. Not long (I don't remember the length of time, but probably less than an hour) she was secretly on the phone to Norway with the doctor again. We had other sessions with her where she reluctantly made similar agreements, but usually said she was not going to give him up until she was sure Danny would stop interfering in her affairs - as if it was Danny's fault they were having trouble. On one occasion I was able to get the doctor on the phone. I begged him to break of the relationship. He told me he would not. We arranged for Danny and Linda to visit a marriage counselor couple out of state. They were not Adventist, but devout Christians of another faith. They were chosen so that Linda could not claim that they were biased, if Adventist. Danny and Linda spent eight hours with the counselors. They were the one's who told Linda she was committing "spiritual adultery" and that it was wrong and must be stopped at once. She made excuses, said she was doing nothing wrong. They warned her that the way she was going it would soon become physical."
> Me too.
> That's weird, How did my post, which you were responding to end up below your reply to it, along with my next repy???

> It happened again. every time I reply, it just adds to the previous post instead of being a new post???

Alethia:

You have cited a letter that you say Dr. Thompson wrote to me. I am not at a place where I can check my records, and I do not know whan I will be--tomorrow, maybe, maybe not. Please cite your authority for saying that your quotation is an accurate copy of a letter that Dr. Thompson sent to me.

Certainly, I have had contact with Dr. Thompson. He has stated some of what you have quoted to me. But, I do not recall him sending me a message as you have posted it above.

As time has passed, it may be that you are correct, and I simply do not remember. If you cite your authority, and a date for the supposed message, I will be able to confirm your post.

Thank you,
Gregory Matthews

NOTE: In the above quote, I think my "spell-check" may have corrected a spelling error in your post. I appologize for that possible change in your quote.

Posted by: Chez Dec 27 2006, 12:08 PM

[quote name='Aletheia' date='Dec 27 2006, 11:27 AM' post='165812']
Maybe someone else does, I don't recall reading that anywhere here or anywhere else???

To the best of my knowledge this is where the term "spiritual adultery" originated.

Walt thompson's letter to Gregory Matthews:

"In early March Danny called me. He was very distraught as he told me what Linda was doing. I immediately traveled to 3abn to find out for myself, and for the next two to three months was there for a few days almost every week. During this time I and a small committee of the board had a number of sessions with Linda, encouraging her to break off the relationship that was ruining her home and putting a serious strain on the ministry. Pastor John L. was one of the first to counsel Linda. From the start, before meeting with Danny and Linda together he warned Linda that what she was doing was wrong, and must stop. He then spent hours counseling the two of them together. I am not sure how many other sessions were had. When I arrived, I arranged for Pastor John, Linda and Danny and I to meet together. We met, talked and prayed. Both Danny and Linda were anointed, and committed to God to do what was right. Linda promised us to cut off the relationship. Not long (I don't remember the length of time, but probably less than an hour) she was secretly on the phone to Norway with the doctor again. We had other sessions with her where she reluctantly made similar agreements, but usually said she was not going to give him up until she was sure Danny would stop interfering in her affairs - as if it was Danny's fault they were having trouble. On one occasion I was able to get the doctor on the phone. I begged him to break of the relationship. He told me he would not. We arranged for Danny and Linda to visit a marriage counselor couple out of state. They were not Adventist, but devout Christians of another faith. They were chosen so that Linda could not claim that they were biased, if Adventist. Danny and Linda spent eight hours with the counselors. They were the one's who told Linda she was committing "spiritual adultery" and that it was wrong and must be stopped at once. She made excuses, said she was doing nothing wrong. They warned her that the way she was going it would soon become physical."

According to this letter, if Linda had had a "relationship" with the doctor, it wasn't sexual at time as Danny had implied. Also this letter tells me that Linda and the Dr. spent a lot of time on the phone. From my point of view, it was understandable for them to spend quite a bit of time conversing when considering Nathan's treatment. It has been my understanding that in order for treatment of substance abuse to be affective, the person and his/her close family/friends need to be involved. I was told back in 2004 that Danny believed that if a person of the opposite sex (who were in a situation such as Linda and the Dr.) spent more that 10 minutes talking to each other on the telephone, that the persons were committing "spiritual adultery". I had never heard of such a phenomenon. My husband and discussed that in my business/line of work, if Danny's definition is true, then I have committed a lot of spiritual adultery. I need to wear garments covered in "SA".

Posted by: watchbird Dec 27 2006, 12:09 PM

> QUOTE(Pickle @ Dec 27 2006, 12:22 PM)
>
> At this point I'd want evidence to that effect before we blame it all on the counselors. How do we know that they said that? Is that based only on Danny's word, or Linda's too?
>
> If they both agree, then it is probably so.

I am quite certain Linda will not agree.

The first words about it claimed that he read it in a book.... that anytime any woman spent more than 5 minutes on the phone with a male not her husband or close family member, it could be considered "spiritual adultery". Then when he was challenged on that he dropped the term and hasn't used it so far as I know since. Unfortunately it caught the eyes of those who were reading about things so they have kept the term alive, way beyond any time Danny was using it.

Actually, this is fairly standard for the Fundamentalis/Pentecostal view of what it means for women to submit to their husbands.... and several of the women at 3ABN are firmly in this camp. So there is no need to blame "counselors" for the term.... as Ed White did..... it doesn't come from any known "school of psychology"... it's just plain ol' Fundamentalist male chauvinism at work.

As far as what the "counselors" said, I have heard from various sources that they said little at all.... that Danny gave them a sizeable donation for their "ministry" and explained his view of things and they didn't find any reason to contradict him.... and under the circumstances Linda didn't find any reason for giving much of "her side"....

It should be about time that Linda can talk.... so maybe we'll start getting more input from her? Or at least from those who contact her directly and can report to us?

Posted by: Pickle Dec 27 2006, 12:17 PM

> QUOTE(Observer @ Dec 27 2006, 12:06 PM)
>
> You have cited a letter that you say Dr. Thompson wrote to me. I am not at a place where I can check my records, and I do not know whan I will be--tomorrow, maybe, maybe not. Please cite your authority for saying that your quotation is an accurate copy of a letter that Dr. Thompson sent > to me.

Same letter that has the paid off her car claim, but it wasn't originally sent to you.

http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?act=ST&f=48&t=10845&hl=Linda++visit++marriage+counselor+couple&view=findpost&p=151526

Posted by: Green Cochoa Dec 27 2006, 12:22 PM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Dec 27 2006, 12:09 PM) ☐
>
> ...
> The first words about it claimed that he read it in a book.... that anytime any woman spent more than 5 minutes on the phone with a male not her husband or close family member, it could be considered "spiritual adultery". Then when he was challenged on that he dropped the term and hasn't used it so far as I know since. Unfortunately it caught the eyes of those who were reading about things so they have kept the term alive, way beyond any time Danny was using it.
> ...

Watchbird, when would you say he dropped the term? Do you suppose this was because he faced an uphill battle getting people to accept it as a legitimate cause for his divorce?

Posted by: Clay Dec 27 2006, 12:26 PM

> QUOTE(Green Cochoa @ Dec 27 2006, 12:22 PM) ☐
>
> Watchbird, when would you say he dropped the term? Do you suppose this was because he faced an uphill battle getting people to accept it as a legitimate cause for his divorce?

you know it Greenie.... try dropping the term in an after dinner conversation this sabbath..... see how people react.... it is ludicrous.... unless of course you are of the mindset that women should be submissive 24/7 and that if they spend more than 5 minutes on the phone talking to a man that is not their hubby constitutes spiritual adultery..... foolishness.....

Posted by: Ed White Dec 27 2006, 12:32 PM

> QUOTE(Brother Sam @ Dec 27 2006, 12:01 PM) ☐
>
> What I want to know is why in the world would an adventist go to a non adventist for counseling?
>
> Doesn't Danny or anyone on the board know adventist are counseled against going to non SDA counselors for advise.
>
> It only shows me that they don't have the discernment to govern themselves let alone 3ABN!

> P.S.
>
> If you listen close enough, after a while you will realize that Danny has never told the truth as far back as anyone wants to check.

I might mention Danny once had a "Christian counselor" on his 3ABN program for a series of meetings.

post edited for content by staff

Posted by: Aletheia Dec 27 2006, 12:53 PM

> QUOTE(Observer @ Dec 27 2006, 01:06 PM)
>
> Alethia:
>
> You have cited a letter that you say Dr. Thompson wrote to me. I am not at a place where I can check my records, and I do not know whan I will be--tomorrow, maybe, maybe not. Please cite your authority for saying that your quotation is an accurate copy of a letter that Dr. Thompson sent to me.
>
> Certainly, I have had contact with Dr. Thompson. He has stated some of what you have quoted to me. But, I do not recall him sending me a message as you have posted it above.
>
> As time has passed, it may be that you are correct, and I simply do not remember. If you cite your authority, and a date for the supposed message, I will be able to confirm your post.
>
> Thank you,
> Gregory Matthews
>
> NOTE: In the above quote, I think my "spell-check" may have corrected a spelling error in your post. I appologize for that possible change in your quote.

As long as the meaning isn't altered, I could careless about spelling corrections...

I apologise if I incorrectly attributed the letter as being to you, but you are the authority...

You yourself originally posted the letter on the Maritime forum, on 08/25/06 http://www.maritime-sda-online.org/forums/ubbthreads.php?ubb=showflat&Number=78772&page=3&fpart=1

You posted this as a preface:

"A letter from Dr. Walter Thompson
Gregory Gregory
Chaplain

Posted below, is a message that Dr. Walter Thompson, 3-ABN Board Chair, is believed to have sent to a person who inquired about this situation.

Why do I believe that is actually came from Dr. Thompson? Because it is consistent with other material that I believe he has sent out. I am posting it here, because, as I have found to be typical, it has minor variations with other such responses.

In any case, if he denies that it is his, his statement will be posted here in MSDAOL.

I have removed certain idenitfying information as to the person who recieved this e-mail. Otherwise I have posted it without any editing.

And it was posted here on BSDA as well. after you had posted it on Maritime.

http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s...=10845&st=0

~ Aletheia

Posted by: Aletheia Dec 27 2006, 01:11 PM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Dec 27 2006, 12:50 PM)
>
> Anytime you reply within 20 minutes of posting.... unless someone else has responded within that time.... your new reply will be considered part of the previous and be added to it. The only way to force it to go to a new post is to wait.....

Thanks, I thought I was in the twilight zone...

Posted by: Clay Dec 27 2006, 01:13 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Dec 27 2006, 01:11 PM)
>
> Thanks, I thought I was in the twilight zone...

you may be.... in the twilight zone that is....

but now you know why your posts get added to your previous posts....

Posted by: Panama_Pete Dec 27 2006, 01:30 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Dec 27 2006, 10:27 AM)
>
> Maybe someone else does, I don't recall reading that anywhere here or anywhere else???
>
> To the best of my knowledge this is where the term "spiritual adultery" originated.

> Walt thompson's letter to Gregory Matthews:
>
> "In early March Danny called me. He was very distraught as he told me what Linda was doing. I immediately traveled to 3abn to find out for myself, and for the next two to three months was there for a few days almost every week. During this time I and a small committee of the board had a number of sessions with Linda, encouraging her to break off the relationship that was ruining her home and putting a serious strain on the ministry. Pastor John L. was one of the first to counsel Linda. From the start, before meeting with Danny and Linda together he warned Linda that what she was doing was wrong, and must stop. He then spent hours counseling the two of them together. I am not sure how many other sessions were had. When I arrived, I arranged for Pastor John, Linda and Danny and I to meet together. We met, talked and prayed. Both Danny and Linda were anointed, and committed to God to do what was right. Linda promised us to cut off the relationship. Not long (I don't remember the length of time, but probably less than an hour) she was secretly on the phone to Norway with the doctor again. We had other sessions with her where she reluctantly made similar agreements, but usually said she was not going to give him up until she was sure Danny would stop interfering in her affairs - as if it was Danny's fault they were having trouble. On one occasion I was able to get the doctor on the phone. I begged him to break of the relationship. He told me he would not. We arranged for Danny and Linda to visit a marriage counselor couple out of state. They were not Adventist, but devout Christians of another faith. They were chosen so that Linda could not claim that they were biased, if Adventist. Danny and Linda spent eight hours with the counselors. They were the one's who told Linda she was committing "spiritual adultery" and that it was wrong and must be stopped at once. She made excuses, said she was doing nothing wrong. They warned her that the way she was going it would soon become physical."
> Me too.

There's no point in quoting Thompson on the issue. He was not there. When Thompson says that "She made excuses," or "They warned her," just remember that he was not there .

And what's the point of having "unbiased" counselors if Thompson is going to spin what the counselors supposedly said in Thompson's own words, when Thompson wasn't even there?

In addition, the counselors in Kansas never asked Kay Kuzma to recommend books on "Spiritual Adultery" nor have the counselors in Kansas ever endorsed any book recommendations.

This Thompson explanation is meant to extract 3ABN out of the Spiritual Adultery corner in which they painted themselves and point the finger elsewhere. The entire Thompson explanation falls flat on its face, in my estimation.

Posted by: Pickle Dec 27 2006, 02:06 PM

Back to the main topic of this thread.

In Summary: Joe Smith has admitted then when he said that linda now lives in a "mansion" with a "huge pool," he really meant any house larger than what he lives in, and a house with any size pool whatsoever, no matter how small.

Still Unanswered: Joe, how did you know her house has any sort of pool? Have you seen it personally? If soo, when? If not, who told you, and how did they know?

Posted by: princessdi Dec 27 2006, 02:30 PM

Back to the main topic of this thread:

In Summary: Joe Smith has admitted then when he said that linda now lives in a "mansion" with a "huge pool," he really meant any house larger than what he lives in, and a house with any size pool whatsoever, no matter how small.

Naw, that was just a big glass of haterade! tsk, tsk, tsk.......

Still Unanswered: Joe, how did you know her house has any sort of pool? Have you seen it personally? If soo, when? If not, who told you, and how did they know?

Ok so I think I missed something here......when did Joe Smith become an "insider"? I might be worng, but I thought he was one of the ones claiming not to know anybody or anything....."Just trying to get the facts, Ma'am." Ooops Flashback! I might be wrong, though. Won't be the first time........

Posted by: Pickle Dec 27 2006, 03:26 PM

QUOTE(princessdi @ Dec 27 2006, 02:30 PM)

> Ok so I think I missed something here......when did Joe Smith become an "insider"? I might be worng, but I thought he was one of the ones claiming not to know anybody or anything....."Just trying to get the facts, Ma'am." Ooops Flashback! I might be wrong, though. Won't be the first time........

I'm pretty sure he claimed to be an insider, from maybe 20 years ago on up. But regarding the size of Linda's current house and the presence of a pool, that's not likely something he has personally seen.

Posted by: princessdi Dec 27 2006, 03:37 PM

Ok, well I can understand that. I can even understand that, depending on where she is living, that she might have a big house, she did get about $250,000.00. She has to have something to show for it, or else the IRS will eat it up for her.

> QUOTE(Pickle @ Dec 27 2006, 01:26 PM) ☐
>
> I'm pretty sure he claimed to be an insider, from maybe 20 years ago on up. But regarding the size of Linda's current house and the presence of a pool, that's not likely something he has personally seen.

Posted by: Johann Dec 27 2006, 03:52 PM

> QUOTE(Grace @ Dec 26 2006, 06:05 PM) ☐
>
> Well, I believe Johann because I know him personnally and my husband, who's a friend of him and has known him for many years, testifies that he's always been an honest, true man of God. I know he wouldn't lie.

This is very kind of you, Grace. By now I have sufficient clues to see who you are. You are not only an excellent cook of the kind oaf vegetarian meals they used to present at 3ABN, but both you and your husband are witnesses in proclaiming the Advent Message to young and old. God bless you!

Since moving here to this area in Iceland where there are about 12,000 people and everybody knows everybody, except the newcomers, I have found it convenient, when asked who I am, to say that I am the man who married the widow of Rein. Then everbody knows the family and the relatives. They know they are dependaple people. So we must be true. . .

Posted by: Johann Dec 27 2006, 04:08 PM

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Dec 27 2006, 11:37 PM) ☐

> Ok, well I can understand that. I can even understand that, depending on where she is living, that she might have a big house, she did get about $250,000.00. She has to have something to show for it, or else the IRS will eat it up for her.

Is it up to all of us to divde the spoil and determine how Linda uses her money? When she bought that house it was impossible for her to get any bank loan. She was without a job, and she had no health insurance. 3ABN had removed that when she was fired. I have posted elsewhere Danny's threats to stoop the monthly payments,and he was even insinuating he would demand the money back. She was not getting $250,000.00 all at once. This was to be in monthly payment. So she had to get a loan somewhere to get a place where she could live farther away from 3ABN than the mobile home where Danny built a porch and she had a suspicion he had planted some spy mikes.

I went to see that mobile home. Danny's private investigators must have followed us, because Danny told me himself that he knew I had been there while he himself was attending Camp Meeting at Thompsonville.

Posted by: princessdi Dec 27 2006, 04:38 PM

No, it is not, I totally agree. That is why I said I can understand, depending on where she lived, the size and type of house. She may not have gotten the money all at once, but it was till more than a lot of people get in weekly/biweekly paychecks, over two years. Uncle Sam was going to be asking some questions about that money. regardless, especialy since there was no visible form of income.

Like I said Joe's first comments about the house were "haterade"(envious) to begin with.

> QUOTE(Johann @ Dec 27 2006, 02:08 PM)
>
> Is it up to all of us to divde the spoil and determine how Linda uses her money? When she bought that house it was impossible for her to get any bank loan. She was without a job, and she had no health insurance. 3ABN had removed that when she was fired. I have posted elsewhere Danny's threats to stoop the monthly payments,and he was even insinuating he would demand the money back. She was not getting $250,000.00 all at once. This was to be in monthly payment. So she had to get a loan somewhere to get a place where she could live farther away from 3ABN than the mobile home where Danny built a porch and she had a suspicion he had planted some spy mikes.
>
> I went to see that mobile home. Danny's private investigators must have followed us, because Danny told me himself that he knew I had been there while he himself was attending Camp Meeting at Thompsonville.

Posted by: Johann Dec 27 2006, 04:47 PM

> QUOTE
>
> Walt thompson's letter to Gregory Matthews:
>
> "In early March Danny called me. He was very distraught as he told me what Linda was doing. I > immediately traveled to 3abn to find out for myself, and for the next two to three months was there for a few days almost every week. During this time I and a small committee of the board had a number of sessions with Linda, encouraging her to break off the relationship that was ruining her home and putting a serious strain on the ministry. Pastor John L. was one of the first to counsel Linda. From the start, before meeting with Danny and Linda together he warned Linda that what she was doing was wrong, and must stop. He then spent hours counseling the two of them together. I am not sure how many other sessions were had. When I arrived, I arranged for Pastor John, Linda and Danny and I to meet together. We met, talked and prayed. Both Danny and Linda were anointed, and committed to God to do what was right. Linda promised us to cut off the relationship. Not long (I don't remember the length of time, but probably less than an hour) she was secretly on the phone to Norway with the doctor again. We had other sessions with her where she reluctantly made similar agreements, but usually said she was not going to give him up until she was sure Danny would stop interfering in her affairs - as if it was Danny's fault they were having trouble. On one occasion I was able to get the doctor on the phone. I begged him to break of the relationship. He told me he would not. We arranged for Danny and Linda to visit a marriage counselor couple out of state. They were not Adventist, but devout Christians of another faith. They were chosen so that Linda could not claim that they were biased, if Adventist. Danny and Linda spent eight hours with the counselors. They were the one's who told Linda she was committing "spiritual adultery" and that it was wrong and must be stopped at once. She made excuses, said she was doing nothing wrong. They warned her that the way she was going it would soon become physical."

I was in communication with both Linda and Danny through this period.

Linda did not agree that she had talked with John Lomacang for hours. She heard Danny tell John and the others his thwarted story, and that seemed to be most of what was going on throughout what Walt Thompson calls counselling.

Linda told me through these sessions that what was so frustrating to her was how the demands were worded. She was to admit that she had committed adultery so that Danny could marry someone else. She was to state that Dr. Arild Abrahamsen was an impostor and a devil and that she had committed a grievous sin by talking to him.

Linda asked me to convey to Arild that she had agreed to stop all communication with him in order to save her marriage to Danny. But as you see now it was wrong of her to communicate this to him, even though it was through me. . . She became more and more frustrated because no one at 3ABN would believe anything she said. It all got thwarted and interpreted as more evidence against her.

So it would not surprice me if Joe also got hold of some of this false evidence and is still holding it against her.

I have stated elsewhere that one of Danny's main witnesses against her, called me recently and told me Danny is not telling the truth, because he never had those counselling sessions with Linda that Danny and Walt have claimed in many of their writings.

Both Danny and Linda communicated with me both before and after their trip to Kansas. Walt's account is extremely one-sided. What else do you expect when he listens to and depends only on the account of one person?

Arild's account of what he told Walt on the phone is also quite different from what Walt states. Arild called me just after he had talked to Walt. He had no reason to give me a false account of the conversation.

I have no written records of what I am stating here. You have to aqcknowledge that I was not as far away from this as some like to claim I was. Close enough to say that some of the accounts of Walt and Joe are unduly biased towards one side of the issue.

Posted by: Pickle Dec 27 2006, 04:54 PM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Dec 27 2006, 04:47 PM)
>
> I have stated elsewhere that one of Danny's main witnesses against her, called me recently and told me Danny is not telling the truth, because he never had those counselling sessions with Linda that Danny and Walt have claimed in many of their writings.

Can you post where Danny and Walt have said this, and can you get in writing from that individual a statement to the contrary?

Posted by: Grace Dec 27 2006, 05:02 PM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Dec 27 2006, 10:52 PM)
>
> This is very kind of you, Grace. By now I have sufficient clues to see who you are. You are not only an excellent cook of the kind oaf vegetarian meals they used to present at 3ABN, but both you and your husband are witnesses in proclaiming the Advent Message to young and old. God bless you!
>
> Since moving here to this area in Iceland where there are about 12,000 people and everybody knows everybody, except the newcomers, I have found it convenient, when asked who I am, to say that I am the man who married the widow of Rein. Then everbody knows the family and the relatives. They know they are dependaple people. So we must be true. . .

Thank you, my friend, for your kind words. They honor me more than I deserve. God bless you too!

Posted by: summertime Dec 27 2006, 05:07 PM

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Dec 27 2006, 04:38 PM)
>
> No, it is not, I totally agree. That is why I said I can understand, depending on where she lived, the size and type of house. She may not have gotten the money all at once, but it was till more than a lot of people get in weekly/biweekly paychecks, over two years. Uncle Sam was going to be asking some questions about that money. regardless, especialy since there was no visible form of income.
>
> Like I said Joe's first comments about the house were "haterade"(envious) to begin with.

I wonder if anyone will stop to realize how far $250,000 will go these days to start over. I live in a 1200 square foot house smack in the middle of Missouri---it would probably sell for about close to $120,000--small lot--nicely kept but in a quite modest neighborhood. $250,000 to buy a house and live in Springfield, Ill. for years--starting over, paying taxes, health insurance and caring for herself without a steady income? Linda did not get rich---and if the IRS is looking over her books they will probably take their share also. It costs more than that to keep a jet plane and pay all the expenses incurred for it for one year.---All this talk about Linda making a bunch is almost funny. I think that if any one of us had to walk out of our home with nothing but personal belongings and start looking for a new way of life with no house to call our home, that bank account would dwindle in a hurry.

Posted by: princessdi Dec 27 2006, 05:20 PM

Here in California, in most parts she could not even get what you have. Not saying she got a lot, point is she didn't get what she was due by a long shot. She got the short end of the stick fo' sho'! I completely understand by what is being said. It is not a lot of money these days to start over.

> QUOTE(summertime @ Dec 27 2006, 03:07 PM) ☐
>
> I wonder if anyone will stop to realize how far $250,000 will go these days to start over. I live in a 1200 square foot house smack in the middle of Missouri---it would probably sell for about close to $120,000--small lot--nicely kept but in a quite modest neighborhood. $250,000 to buy a house and live in Springfield, Ill. for years--starting over, paying taxes, health insurance and caring for herself without a steady income? Linda did not get rich---and if the IRS is looking over her books they will probably take their share also. It costs more than that to keep a jet plane and pay all the expenses incurred for it for one year.---All this talk about Linda making a bunch is almost funny. I think that if any one of us had to walk out of our home with nothing but personal belongings and start looking for a new way of life with no house to call our home, that bank account would dwindle in a hurry.

Posted by: Johann Dec 27 2006, 05:28 PM

> QUOTE(Pickle @ Dec 28 2006, 12:54 AM) ☐
>
> Can you post where Danny and Walt have said this, and can you get in writing from that individual a statement to the contrary?

I know you'd like to have this in writing, Bob. At this time you will merely have to take my word for it. I have to agree with what Linda has told me, that if people will not believe she is innocent from all the evidence already produced, they willl probably keep on doubting and twisting what they see and hear until they are consumed by their unstable thinking.

As Linda makes this clear to me I am again amazed at incidents she is still experiencing. The Lord is her guide and she communicates with Him about everything in her life. Just before Christmas she experienced again how the Lord showed her how her life is being spared and taken care of. She feels that if people are not honest enough to trust her, and that what she says it the truth, there is not much good Lord can do for those people. She is eager to leave all of this behind, convinced that the signals she sees from the Lord is her green light to soon launch in a ministry that will be a greater challenge to her than anything she has ever encountered before. She feels the Lord is teaching her through all this how to cope and trust.

Join me and Linda in praying that God may be glorified through this experience.

Johann Thorvaldsson, Iceland

Posted by: Chez Dec 27 2006, 05:41 PM

> QUOTE(summertime @ Dec 27 2006, 06:07 PM) ☐
>
> I wonder if anyone will stop to realize how far $250,000 will go these days to start over. I live in a 1200 square foot house smack in the middle of Missouri---it would probably sell for about close to $120,000--small lot--nicely kept but in a quite modest neighborhood. $250,000 to buy a house and live in Springfield, Ill. for years--starting over, paying taxes, health insurance and caring for herself without a steady income? Linda did not get rich---and if the IRS is looking over her books they will probably take their share also. It costs more than that to keep a jet plane and pay all the expenses incurred for it for one year.---All this talk about Linda making a bunch is almost funny. I think that if any one of us had to walk out of our home with nothing but personal belongings and start looking for a new way of life with no house to call our home, that bank account would dwindle in a hurry.

I looked on the web for houses in the $150,000-200,000 range in Springfield, IL area. I didn't see mansions and I didn't find swimming pools. I did look at some that were in the $200,000-250,000 range also. I didn't find mansions and I didn't find swimming pools. Maybe my concept of a mansion is different in comparison to Joe's concept. I promise you that $250,000 will not get you far, even in Springfield, IL.

Posted by: Pickle Dec 27 2006, 06:27 PM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Dec 27 2006, 05:28 PM) ☐
>
> I have to agree with what Linda has told me, that if people will not believe she is innocent from all the evidence already produced, they willl probably keep on doubting and twisting what they see and hear until they are consumed by their unstable thinking.

Think about it, Johann.

Danny says, "If people will not believe me ..." Linda says, "If people will not believe me ..."

Thus far the only concrete evidence produced to show that Danny is lying about Linda is the name on the title thing. That's the only evidence I've seen thus far. It has absolutely nothing at all to do with doubting or twisting or unstable thinking.

And if there is an opportunity to show more evidence and her side refuses to show it, then I fail to see the difference between that and what Danny does, claiming that he has evidence and refusing to show it.

Of course, in this particular situation, we likely have a problem with a third party not wanting to give a written statement.

Posted by: Aletheia Dec 27 2006, 06:29 PM

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Dec 27 2006, 03:30 PM) ☐

> Back to the main topic of this thread:
>
> In Summary: Joe Smith has admitted then when he said that linda now lives in a "mansion" with a "huge pool," he really meant any house larger than what he lives in, and a house with any size pool whatsoever, no matter how small.
>
> Naw, that was just a big glass of haterade! tsk, tsk, tsk.......
>
> Still Unanswered: Joe, how did you know her house has any sort of pool? Have you seen it personally? If soo, when? If not, who told you, and how did they know?
>
> Ok so I think I missed something here......when did Joe Smith become an "insider"? I might be worng, but I thought he was one of the ones claiming not to know anybody or anything....."Just trying to get the facts, Ma'am." Ooops Flashback! I might be wrong, though. Won't be the first time........

Joe does claim to know people at 3ABN and things. I don't know how Joe knows there's a pool, he hasn't answered, but I believe that it is very likely there is one because http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=11914&view=findpost&p=165689Seems if Joe's incorrect then Johann would be the best person to set the record straight since he is the only person so far who claims to have been at and in Linda's house, and pool.

On the otherhand he also gave a http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=11907&view=findpost&p=165675 to pictures and info which http://www.springfieldsbesthomes.com/featuredhome_2029Renwick.php that all I could do was go: hmmm.... maybe she stores it in her hall closet when not in use???

This method of operating is all vaguely familiar.

I asked Johann about the change in his testimony on Maritime:

From this:

http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=10074&view=findpost&p=141443

Johann:
Below is a form letter Dr. Walther Thompson is sending out as a reaction to Dr. Arild Abrahamsen's document. You will find my comments in blue in between...

Is it proper for one's doctor to give his patient a nice wrist watch?

[Johann Thorvaldsson:] Another ridiculous statement. In Scandinavia it is a custom to give one's hostess a gift. So Danny made the claim this was a sign of an engagement, claiming that this was a very expensive watch that Arild had given Linda. Now Walt merely calls it "nice"!

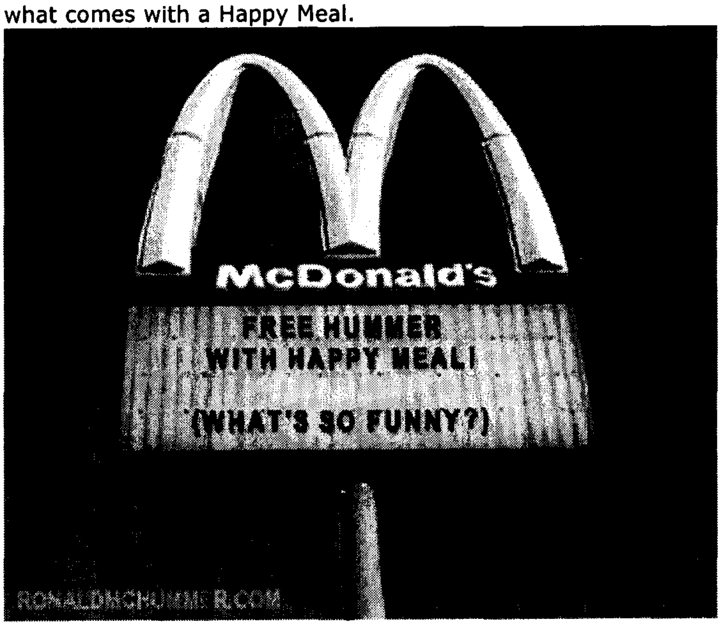
Arild and I received a catalog of things available on the aircraft. There was a rather cheap double-faced watch which interested Arild because it showed two time zones at the same time. So Arild bought it. Later we visited Linda and she gave us some tasty meals at Linda's-daughter's place. So Arild gave Linda this watch as a token of our appreciation for her hospitality. I'm not sure Linda liked that watch very much. It really is not that "nice"...

To this:
"Dr. Arild Abrahamsen and I had nothing else in mind when we leafed through the Continental Airlines price list on our flight from Norway to America in May, 2004. We knew Linda needed some encouragement. It was one of the cheapest little thing we could find, but it was not at all beautiful, no gold nor glitter. It was odd shaped because it showed the time in two time zones - a typical souvenir and nothing else."

and he was kind enough to give a explanation, but there was this poster, sky, who posted a picture of the watch and claimed it was sold on Continental airlines (no internet search confirmed this in any way), and Johann had responded "Thank you, Sky. It does not look much like an engagement watch, does it??" [leading us to believe that it was the watch in question] "Arild and I looked at the watch together and decided it was the right thing for Linda as a token of her hospitalilty, because we knew she had prepared a delicious vegetarian meal for both of us. We knew she had been fired and was not permitted to be present at the Camp Meeting, so she needed some encouragement."
[I wondered how this could be true, when according to all , the board met after the campmeeting and then Linda was fired, and Dr Abrahmson testified they went there to testify before the board, and according to Danny he found the watch prior to Linda moving out of the home...]

however, all I posted was "Hi sky, I'm not sure where you got your information, or how you would know? Have you seen the watch, and is it your testimony that this is the exact same brand and model of watch given to Linda? Thanks :-) "

This was sky's response:"Dear Cindy, I know what Continental Airlines sells in the same way I know what comes with a Happy Meal.



Anybody confused about what the reference to hummer means here? or think a joke about oral sex is proof of anything, or that this is how an honest person- a true Christian -would answer?

I'm not.

I am sadly coming to the conclusion that many (not all) of the people involved in these issues (on both sides) just make empty claims and evil insinuations and are then understandably allergic to questions regarding them, or trying to be honest and accountable.

http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=11914&view=findpost&p=165727 Who wans to condemn self???

Which is a very sad testimony about the professed people of God. I would love to be proven wrong here...

So, at this point I would like to have Johann answer about Linda's house and pool, and answer thesame question i asked sky:
"Have you seen the watch, and is it your testimony that this is the exact same brand and model of watch given to Linda? Thanks :-) "

And that's just the beginning, for I have noticed a number of inconsistancies in Johann's posts, only a couple of which are above, which raise questions. And he's not the only one...

Of course some may want to focus on Joe to the exclusion of others, but I am not going to do that. Yes Joe should answer the questions his posts have generated, as should we all.

~ Aletheia

P.S. if anyone is unable to link to the Maritime posts I referenced above on this thread:http://www.maritime-sda-online.org/forums/ubbthreads.php?ubb=showflat&Number=82540&page=0&fpart=1 because they aren't a SDA member there, ask the owner Daryl for permission to access those forums, for I don't think it right to bipass his forum rules and guidelines, and won't.

Posted by: Pickle Dec 27 2006, 06:52 PM

Aletheia,

The picture you posted has this URL on it: http://ronaldmchummer.com/. Go there and take a look, and then consider editing your post ASAP.

I can't see anything off color in what Sky said. That URL suggests that there wasn't anything off color there.

As far as looking at discrepancies goes, I would suggest that we need to weigh carefully whether a detail is forgotten or innocently garbled, or whether something was intentionally distorted.

As far as Joe goes, I still want to know where, how, and from whom he got his information, even though Johann has confirmed that there is a pool.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Dec 27 2006, 07:03 PM

> QUOTE(Green Cochoa @ Dec 27 2006, 09:44 AM) ☐
>
> Now, if you want my extra-biblical thoughts on this: I am of the opinion, and I do not try to claim this as biblical, right, or valid, it is just my opinion, that there should be one other legal grounds for divorce besides adultery: IV drug use. The reason? Adulterers and drug addicts both share one commonality: risk of life-threatening diseases such as HIV. God does not ask us to expose ourselves to a potential death sentence. This would be akin to suicide. Therefore, it is my personal belief that any lifestyle which so basely puts the life of the partner at risk as this should be grounds for divorce. Now, remarriage is a separate issue still.

Since IV drugs are usually taken for their effect on the brain's "pleasure center", I think sharing a drug needle could be considered fornication. But that's just my opinion.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Dec 27 2006, 07:28 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Dec 27 2006, 05:29 PM)
>
> however, all I posted was "Hi sky, I'm not sure where you got your information, or how you would know? Have you seen the watch, and is it your testimony that this is the exact same brand and model of watch given to Linda? Thanks :-) "
>
> This was sky's response:"Dear Cindy, I know what Continental Airlines sells in the same way I know what comes with a Happy Meal.
>
> >
>
> Anybody confused about what the reference to hummer means here? or think a joke about oral sex is proof of anything, or that this is how an honest person- a true Christian -would answer?
>
> I'm not.

Aletheia,

Yes, I am confused. My grandkids got happy meals with little Hummers in them some time back. These clever little toys had cables with hooks that could pull the Hummer up when hooked on to something. Sad that your mind went in a different direction.

> QUOTE
>
> I am sadly coming to the conclusion that many (not all) of the people involved in these issues (on both sides) just make empty claims and evil insinuations and are then understandably allergic to questions regarding them, or trying to be honest and accountable.
>
> http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=11914&view=findpost&p=165727 Who wans to condemn self???

> Which is a very sad testimony about the professed people of God. I would love to be proven wrong here...

Please, dear, maybe you should retract your nails and return to your search for truth and perhaps you won't be so sad.

Posted by: HUGGINS130 Dec 27 2006, 07:36 PM

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Dec 27 2006, 06:20 PM) ☐
>
> Here in California, in most parts she could not even get what you have. Not saying she got a lot, point is she didn't get what she was due by a long shot. She got the short end of the stick fo' sho'! I completely understand by what is being said. It is not a lot of money these days to start over.

tell em all Di...tell them da truth...

Posted by: Joe Smith Dec 27 2006, 07:45 PM

> QUOTE(Pickle @ Dec 27 2006, 06:52 PM) ☐
>
> Aletheia,
>
> The picture you posted has this URL on it: http://ronaldmchummer.com/. Go there and take a look, and then consider editing your post ASAP.
>
> I can't see anything off color in what Sky said. That URL suggests that there wasn't anything off color there.
>
> As far as looking at discrepancies goes, I would suggest that we need to weigh carefully whether a detail is forgotten or innocently garbled, or whether something was intentionally distorted.
>
> As far as Joe goes, I still want to know where, how, and from whom he got his information, even though Johann has confirmed that there is a pool.
>
> I was waiting to see if anyone else had picked up on the fact that Johann had said he had taken a "dip" in Linda's pool. If the pics from the sky didn't show a pool, must not be the right neighborhood. Danny also told me about her pool.
> Another thing, don't forget that linda didn't just have $250,000.00 to live on.. she also had the Big check from Danny for her half of the house. That amounted to $150,000.00 to $200,000.00. He gave her more than the apraised value. Cash Money.. she didn't have to wait for 2 years for that.
>
> Don't forget the other perks she left with.... her music video rights... her singing and songwriting rights... these amount to a good chunk of change also.
>
> One more thing, about the title to her car. Do you really think that Danny could keep it straight how the title reads since it was not in his possession. I doubt it because I have 4 vehicles and 2 trailer titles and I can't tell you how a certain one of them is made out without getting it out and looking at it.

> Joe

Posted by: HUGGINS130 Dec 27 2006, 07:48 PM

what's this about sky pictures and all that...is this stuff that deep that we need aerial pictures to prove stuff...boy talking about having nothing else to do... ☒ sna

---

Posted by: calvin Dec 27 2006, 07:54 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Dec 27 2006, 06:29 PM) ☐
>
> I am sadly coming to the conclusion that many (not all) of the people involved in these issues (on both sides) just make empty claims and evil insinuations and are then understandably allergic to questions regarding them, or trying to be honest and accountable.

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Dec 27 2006, 07:28 PM) ☐
>
> Aletheia,
>
> Yes, I am confused. My grandkids got happy meals with little Hummers in them some time back. These clever little toys had cables with hooks that could pull the Hummer up when hooked on to something. Sad that your mind went in a different direction.
> Please, dear, maybe you should retract your nails and return to your search for truth and perhaps you won't be so sad.

I hear ya PB. If folks coming here getting sad, then go be sad someplace else. My advice.

Posted by: watchbird Dec 27 2006, 08:11 PM

> QUOTE(Green Cochoa @ Dec 27 2006, 01:22 PM) ☐
>
> Watchbird, when would you say he dropped the term? Do you suppose this was because he faced an uphill battle getting people to accept it as a legitimate cause for his divorce?

I was away today so got behind.... and I'm responding as I read, not knowing if someone else has already answered this or not... but... since it is addressed directly to me.... here is what I know...

Checking through my mailboxes, I find that the first information I had from a reliable source, was July 29, 2004. In that letter is this sentence,"Danny had discovered in a book that anyone talking more than 10 or 12 minutes to a person of the opposite sex that is not a spouse, is committing spiritual adultery."

The first mention I could find where this same individual noted that Danny was now "denying that he ever used spiritual adultery as a reason for the divorce" was in November of 2004.

At what time he actually stopped using the term I do not know.

I think, however, that you might be able to put a more precise time on it if you were to look through the BSDA early threads carefully for that phrase... for I know that this was something that was discussed here at length... and width and depth.... And it even involved letters from Danny to Calvin and from Kay Kuzma to Calvin..... and of course the responses that this group made at that time.

I'd suggest setting your search engine to look for specific posts, and then search on "spiritual adultery". You should get a LOT of hits.... and since you want the earliest ones, I'd suggest also setting the search engine to list the oldest first... that way you can walk through them in historical order. Good luck.

Posted by: Pickle Dec 27 2006, 08:22 PM

> QUOTE(Joe Smith)
>
> Danny also told me about her pool.

I take it from this comment that Danny was ultimately the sole source of your information that Linda lived in a "mansion" with a "huge pool." If this is incorrect, please inform us differently.

It thus appears, based on your own testimony, that we have potentially here another fabrication told by Danny Shelton. I say potentially since we don't yet have square footage figures or the number of rooms in her house.

I don't put a lot of weight on what Johann, Sister, and others who have sided with Linda say when it comes to Danny's untrustworthiness. But I put a lot of weight on what his staunch supporters, defenders, and apologists say to that effect.

> QUOTE(Joe Smith)
>
> Another thing, don't forget that linda didn't just have $250,000.00 to live on.. she also had the Big check from Danny for her half of the house. That amounted to $150,000.00 to $200,000.00. He gave her more than the apraised value.

Here are a few questions, Joe:

- What was the appraised value?
- How much more than the appraised value did he give her?

See if you can dig up more info on this one. Did she really need a loan from the doctor if she really got all this money? How much did she really get?

Knowing the appraised value and how much Danny gave her for her half of the house will let us know just how kind and generous Danny really was.

> QUOTE(Joe Smith)
>
> One more thing, about the title to her car. Do you really think that Danny could keep it straight how the title reads since it was not in his possession.

Of course he could, since:

- He allegedly made a big deal when they bought the car that his name was not going to be on the title.
- He claimed emphatically that he had proof that his name was on the title.

Now if you are suggesting that he made this claim when he had no proof whatsoever except a faulty memory, then we are left with the conclusion that Danny claimed he had proof when he really had none.

Now can we really try to explain this one away by saying that he can't keep straight what he has proof for and what he doesn't, just like he can't keep straight which cars he owns and which ones he doesn't?

Posted by: Green Cochoa Dec 27 2006, 08:54 PM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Dec 27 2006, 08:11 PM) ☐
>
> I was away today so got behind.... and I'm responding as I read, not knowing if someone else has already answered this or not... but... since it is addressed directly to me.... here is what I know...
>
> Checking through my mailboxes, I find that the first information I had from a reliable source, was July 29, 2004. In that letter is this sentence,"Danny had discovered in a book that anyone talking more than 10 or 12 minutes to a person of the opposite sex that is not a spouse, is committing spiritual adultery."
>
> The first mention I could find where this same individual noted that Danny was now "denying that he ever used spiritual adultery as a reason for the divorce" was in November of 2004.
>
> At what time he actually stopped using the term I do not know.
> ...

Thank you, Watchbird. I heard the term from Danny near the end of June 2004. So he must have used the term, at bare minimum, for more than a month. It is my impression that during that time more than a few individuals heard his side of the story.

Posted by: Pickle Dec 27 2006, 09:02 PM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Dec 27 2006, 08:11 PM) ☐
>
> Checking through my mailboxes, ...

I would appreciate getting copies wherever possible of any correspondence making claims or denials of spiritual adultery being the basis for what happened.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Dec 27 2006, 10:00 PM

> QUOTE(Pickle @ Dec 27 2006, 09:02 PM) ☐

> I would appreciate getting copies wherever possible of any correspondence making claims or denials of spiritual adultery being the basis for what happened.

I saved a copy of Kay Kuzma's e-mail.

Note for others: The date is September 19, 2004. This is a response from Kay Kuzma after it was pointed out to Kay that her original recommendation of a book by Charles. H. Dove, entitled Spiritual Adultery, turned out to be a book about reincarnation.

"Date: 9/19/2004 11:02:36 AM Pacific Daylight Time
From: KAYKUZMA@aol.com
To: StanMcCluskey
Stan, I had heard there was a book on spiritual adultery. I mistakenly went up on Amazon.com and found the one by Dove--thinking that was the one that had been recommended to me. I made a mistake. The Christian book on spiritual adultery is really called, Why Some Christians Commit Adultery, by John Loren Sandford. Again, I have not read the book. I have no idea who Dove is...never read a word from him...and like you, I never want to! I'm sure glad you're the only person I've mentioned that book to!!!! Innocent mistakes can too easily become mountains! Kay "

I [Stan] reminded her that permission had been given to add her note to this Forum.

Posted by: watchbird Dec 27 2006, 10:07 PM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Dec 27 2006, 01:26 PM) ☐
>
> you know it Greenie.... try dropping the term in an after dinner conversation this sabbath..... see how people react.... it is ludicrous.... unless of course you are of the mindset that women should be submissive 24/7 and that if they spend more than 5 minutes on the phone talking to a man that is not their hubby constitutes spiritual adultery..... foolishness.....

Interestingly enough, while I don't recall Sister having included this in any of her vignettes about life at 3abn, this type of "submissive wives" is very much a part of the Pentacostal teaching and practices that the women leaders at 3abn hold... and hold themselves to.

It is easy enough to understand why men insist on this kind of "lordship" in their own homes, for it means that their every whim is satisfied, while the woman proves her "worth" by giving up all of her own desires and wants... even some of her needs. I've never been able to understand why women fall for this.... and willingly go along with it. And yet the facts are that they do... and that it is as difficult to get them to break away from this and assert their own rights in a marriage as it is to get any abused to stand up against an abuser.

Of course this IS abuse.... spiritual abuse... which even when not accompanied by actual physical abuse is still devastating to the victim and damaging... even de-humanizing... to the perpetrator.

Posted by: lurker Dec 27 2006, 10:22 PM

Linda's current address is on page 6 of the 990 form for 2005 that 3ABN filled out and filed with the IRS. It is the address I used to do an aerial search and to search for homes in her price range in her neighborhood. The address has not changed. Maybe I do have too much time on my hands but I am thorough and I deal in verifiable facts.

As to the pictures, they were of the only home I could find that was near hers. I looked for a home that would cost approximately the same as hers. Sorry, I couldn't find pictures of a mansion or a home with a bigger backyard though I tried. I wan't trying for a picture of a small backyard or a shabby house. I was looking for one that would be similar to Linda's.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Dec 27 2006, 10:28 PM

This is the original Charles H. Dove recommendation, which resulted in the above correction being made above. It was posted to the Internet on September 13, right before the letter dated September 19, 2004, posted above.

Also, remember that Kay Kuzma was part of the four-member "fact finding" committee regarding Linda Shelton, along with Nicholas Miller, Bill Hulsey, and Walt Thompson.

Note Kay's definition of "spiritual adultery."

quote: Kay wrote:

"Dear Stan: God has put a spiritual "hole" in each of our hearts that can be filled by Him. When it is, we will be so bonded that we will give up family, career, everything for Him. God has given us marriage to understand how two people can become one--so we can better understand the trinity, but the spiritual "hole" shouldn't be filled with a human.

Unfortunately, if the hole is filled with another person, problems are created--especially if the person is not one's spouse! That's why we have so many pastors leaving the church--they have allowed their spiritual hole to be filled with another person whom they are helping spiritually. Too much Bible study and spiritual counseling with persons of the opposite sex can lead to emotional dependence and the person is willing to give up everything for this person. This is basically what Spiritual Adultery is. No, there does not have to be physical contact. However, in most cases it leads to that because as a man spends time meeting a woman's emotional needs, he unconsciously feels there should be a sexual payoff. And when a woman's emotional needs are met, she is more open to a sexual relationship.

Here's a book I think may be helpful. Spiritual Adultery by Charles H. Dove. You can get it through Amazon.com

Sincerely, Kay"

Posted by: Johann Dec 27 2006, 10:31 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Dec 28 2006, 02:29 AM) ☐
>
> Joe does claim to know people at 3ABN and things. I don't know how Joe knows there's a pool, he hasn't answered, but I believe that it is very likely there is one because http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=11914&view=findpost&p=165689Seems if Joe's incorrect then Johann would be the best person to set the record straight since he is the only person so far who claims to have been at and in Linda's house, and pool.
>
> On the otherhand he also gave a http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?

s=&showtopic=11907&view=findpost&p=165675 to pictures and info which http://www.springfieldsbesthomes.com/featuredhome_2029Renwick.php that all I could do was go: hmmm.... maybe she stores it in her hall closet when not in use???
This method of operating is all vaguely familiar.
I asked Johann about the change in his testimony on Maritime:

From this:

http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=10074&view=findpost&p=141443

Johann:
Below is a form letter Dr. Walther Thompson is sending out as a reaction to Dr. Arild Abrahamsen's document. You will find my comments in blue in between...

Is it proper for one's doctor to give his patient a nice wrist watch?

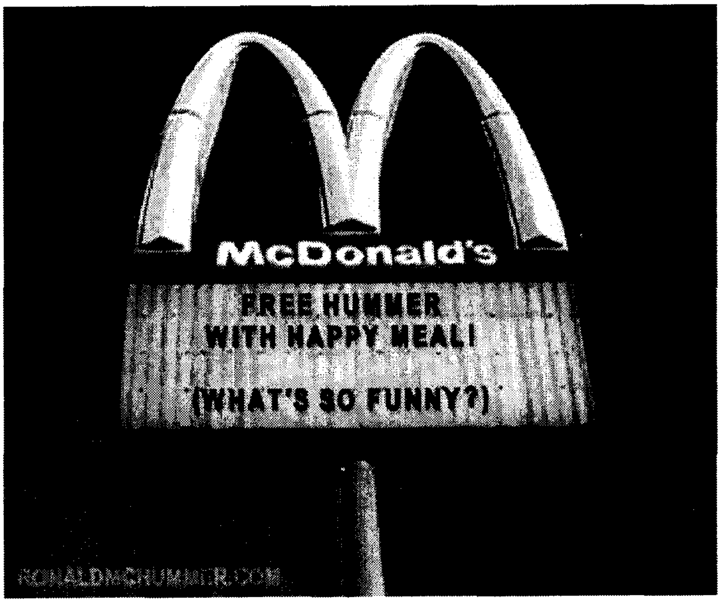
[Johann Thorvaldsson:] Another ridiculous statement. In Scandinavia it is a custom to give one's hostess a gift. So Danny made the claim this was a sign of an engagement, claiming that this was a very expensive watch that Arild had given Linda. Now Walt merely calls it "nice"!

Arild and I received a catalog of things available on the aircraft. There was a rather cheap double-faced watch which interested Arild because it showed two time zones at the same time. So Arild bought it. Later we visited Linda and she gave us some tasty meals at Linda's-daughter's place. So Arild gave Linda this watch as a token of our appreciation for her hospitality. I'm not sure Linda liked that watch very much. It really is not that "nice"...
To this:
"Dr. Arild Abrahamsen and I had nothing else in mind when we leafed through the Continental Airlines price list on our flight from Norway to America in May, 2004. We knew Linda needed some encouragement. It was one of the cheapest little thing we could find, but it was not at all beautiful, no gold nor glitter. It was odd shaped because it showed the time in two time zones - a typical souvenir and nothing else."

and he was kind enough to give a explanation, but there was this poster, sky, who posted a picture of the watch and claimed it was sold on Continental airlines (no internet search confirmed this in any way), and Johann had responded "Thank you, Sky. It does not look much like an engagement watch, does it??" [leading us to believe that it was the watch in question] "Arild and I looked at the watch together and decided it was the right thing for Linda as a token of her hospitalilty, because we knew she had prepared a delicious vegetarian meal for both of us. We knew she had been fired and was not permitted to be present at the Camp Meeting, so she needed some encouragement."
[I wondered how this could be true, when according to all , the board met after the campmeeting and then Linda was fired, and Dr Abrahmson testified they went there to testify before the board, and according to Danny he found the watch prior to Linda moving out of the home...]

however, all I posted was "Hi sky, I'm not sure where you got your information, or how you would know? Have you seen the watch, and is it your testimony that this is the exact same brand and model of watch given to Linda? Thanks :-) "

This was sky's response:"Dear Cindy, I know what Continental Airlines sells in the same way I know what comes with a Happy Meal.



> Anybody confused about what the reference to hummer means here? or think a joke about oral sex is proof of anything, or that this is how an honest person- a true Christian -would answer?
>
> I'm not.
>
> I am sadly coming to the conclusion that many (not all) of the people involved in these issues (on both sides) just make empty claims and evil insinuations and are then understandably allergic to questions regarding them, or trying to be honest and accountable.
>
> [url=http://www.blacksda.com/forums/ bless her soulindex.php?s=&showtopic=11914&view=findpost&p=165727]Even Sister seems infected with this disease of making claims and accusations, and then refusing to support or explain them in answer to questions.[/url] Who wans to condemn self???
>
> Which is a very sad testimony about the professed people of God. I would love to be proven wrong here...
>
> So, at this point I would like to have Johann answer about Linda's house and pool, and answer thesame question i asked sky:
> "Have you seen the watch, and is it your testimony that this is the exact same brand and model of watch given to Linda? Thanks :-) "

Aletheia, in one rewspect you reminnd me of my dear Irmgard, to whom I was married for 51 years. In my work I often travelled, also to other countries. Even in the course of more than half a century I never managed to be sufficiently observant to answer all of her questions. I could not remember the ingredients in every meal I ate. I did not measure the homes I visited, and I failed at times to count all the rooms, the size of the windows, etc. But bless her memory, she never made some of the remarks about me that you do.

I am describing to you what I have experienced. I can see no descrepancies in my explanations, but then, I am not you. I was there and you were not. In one explanation I give more details than in the other.

I am now in Iceland, and that is too far from Illinois to just jump over there with a yardstick. So I base my evaluation on what I did observe. I was told there was a swimming pool at Linda's house. I went out the front door, looked around the corner and saw no pool. I also went out the back door, walked around and I still did not find the pool. I merely saw a few small trees and the neighbor houses. Then I found a side door, and there was the pool. This may explain why a photo from the sky does not reveal a pool there. Definitely not an Olympic size - just a modest pool in the back yard that is hard to find.

Did you see a picture of the watch given to Linda posted by Sky? No definately not. 1) A picture is never the real thing. 2) Sky posted a picture from a catalog that is published 2 years later, and there could be changes. 3) You saw a picture of a watch with a red band. As far as I recall the watch Linda got had a black band. Apart from that the watch looked quite similar. The point of it is that it was not a very expensive and beautiful watch like Walt and Danny said it was. Yes, Arild bought the watch with my approval, and he carried it until it was given to Linda. His coat had more pockets than mine.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Dec 27 2006, 11:21 PM

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Dec 27 2006, 10:28 PM) ☐
>
> This is the original Charles H. Dove recommendation, which resulted in the above correction being made in the previous post. It was posted to the Internet on September 13, right before the letter dated September 19, 2004, posted above.
>
> Also, remember that Kay Kuzma was part of the four-member "fact finding" committee regarding Linda Shelton, along with Nicholas Miller, Bill Hulsey, and Walt Thompson.
>
> Note Kay's definition of "spiritual adultery."
>
> quote: Kay wrote:
>
> "Dear Stan: God has put a spiritual "hole" in each of our hearts that can be filled by Him. When it is, we will be so bonded that we will give up family, career, everything for Him. God has given us marriage to understand how two people can become one--so we can better understand the trinity, but the spiritual "hole" shouldn't be filled with a human.
>
> Unfortunately, if the hole is filled with another person, problems are created--especially if the person is not one's spouse! That's why we have so many pastors leaving the church--they have allowed their spiritual hole to be filled with another person whom they are helping spiritually. Too much Bible study and spiritual counseling with persons of the opposite sex can lead to emotional dependence and the person is willing to give up everything for this person. This is basically what Spiritual Adultery is. No, there does not have to be physical contact. However, in most cases it leads to that because as a man spends time meeting a woman's emotional needs, he unconsciously feels there should be a sexual payoff. And when a woman's emotional needs are met, she is more open to a sexual relationship.
>
> Here's a book I think may be helpful. Spiritual Adultery by Charles H. Dove. You can get it through Amazon.com
>
> Sincerely, Kay"

Posted by: HUGGINS130 Dec 28 2006, 12:06 AM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Dec 27 2006, 09:14 AM) ☐

> Good to see you Greenie.... wondered where you disappeared to....
>
> Aletheia, I hear what you are saying but that dog won't hunt.... there is no such animal as "spiritual adultery" and no way to "prove" that a spouse was engaged in spiritual adultery.... And really it is not a ground for divorce..... no matter how many times Danny and his crew suggest that it is....

finally, something I can agree with in all this mess...

Posted by: Aletheia Dec 28 2006, 08:49 AM

> QUOTE(Pickle @ Dec 27 2006, 07:52 PM)
>
> Aletheia,
>
> The picture you posted has this URL on it: http://ronaldmchummer.com/.

That's true, but I looked at the source when sky posted it and his img url was from a personal blog featuring only that picture, which is of course not a real mcDonald's sign.

> QUOTE
>
> I can't see anything off color in what Sky said.

well, I may be wrong, but I personally can't see anything funny about free toy vehicles coming with a happy meal if that is all it meant, nor was I able to ever ask Sky anything further due to threads being closed.

I'm sure what we can agree on is that, he didn't really answer my question. but thanks Bob for the quick heads up. :-)

> QUOTE
>
> As far as looking at discrepancies goes, I would suggest that we need to weigh carefully whether a detail is forgotten or innocently garbled, or whether something was intentionally distorted.

I agree, the only way I know to do that is not to assume anything beforehand, and to try to keep an open mind while asking questions to try and figure that out. Not always easy..

blessings...

Posted by: Pickle Dec 28 2006, 08:55 AM

Aletheia,

You might want to respond to Sky's complaint over at http://www.maritime-sda-online.org/forums/ubbthreads.php?ubb=showflat&Number=83089&Main=5582#Post83089

Joe,

To bring it back to an unanswered question I asked you, here's a repeat of a portion of http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=11914&view=findpost&p=165972.

> QUOTE(Joe Smith)
>
> Another thing, don't forget that linda didn't just have $250,000.00 to live on.. she also had the Big check from Danny for her half of the house. That amounted to $150,000.00 to $200,000.00. He gave her more than the apraised value.

Here are a few questions, Joe:

- What was the appraised value?
- How much more than the appraised value did he give her?

See if you can dig up more info on this one. Did she really need a loan from the doctor if she really got all this money? How much did she really get?

Knowing the appraised value and how much Danny gave her for her half of the house will let us know just how kind and generous Danny really was.

Posted by: Aletheia Dec 28 2006, 09:30 AM

> QUOTE(Pickle @ Dec 28 2006, 09:55 AM) ☐
>
> Aletheia,
>
> You might want to respond to Sky's complaint over at http://www.maritime-sda-online.org/forums/ubbthreads.php?ubb=showflat&Number=83089&Main=5582#Post83089

Done.

Thankyou. I did not realize we could reply to what was posted on the closed topics on Maritime, unless it was factual or documented items to be submitted. I was feeling rather censored, so this is good to know.

In light of that.

My apologies to all for bringing this up here first, when I should have posted there first.

Posted by: lurker Dec 28 2006, 09:40 AM

Those of us who get property tax bills that are itemized know that the appraised value on the invoice is usually 1/2 of the fair market value. At least in the states I have lived in they are.

Now did Danny give Linda more than 1/2 of the tax appraised value which would only be more than 1/4 of the fair market value or did he give her more than 1/2 of the fair market value? I have not been able to find either the fmv or the appraised value for his home online. I am using his address listed on the 990 form filed by 3ABN. Some counties have this information online.

The 990's also list the amount she recieved each year from the agreement. It is quite different, as someone has pointed out, to recieve payments rather than a lump sum.

Posted by: calvin Dec 28 2006, 09:48 AM

For those who are not absorbed by this saga and those looking in from the outside, this should appear rather silly that people are spending so much time debating/discussing and arguing the size of a $250,000 home. Why is this relevant and relevant to what?

Posted by: Aletheia Dec 28 2006, 09:56 AM

> QUOTE(lurker @ Dec 28 2006, 10:40 AM)
>
> Those of us who get property tax bills that are itemized know that the appraised value on the invoice is usually 1/2 of the fair market value. At least in the states I have lived in they are.
>
> Now did Danny give Linda more than 1/2 of the tax appraised value which would only be more than 1/4 of the fair market value or did he give her more than 1/2 of the fair market value? I have not been able to find either the fmv or the appraised value for his home online. I am using his address listed on the 990 form filed by 3ABN. Some counties have this information online.
>
> The 990's also list the amount she recieved each year from the agreement. It is quite different, as someone has pointed out, to recieve payments rather than a lump sum.

Well, I don't know about everyone else, but that's backwards from our situation[Indiana]. My Mom's house has been appraised by the County assessor as much higher then it's fair market value. We had to hire someone to the tune of over 300.00 to do an apraisal, and although you can get the value changed at the courthouse in order to owe less taxes, it is not easy, and we are still jumping through hoops to try and get this accomplished. We have several neighbors doing the same.

And again referring to the Walt Thompson letter, which contains the only reference to this I know of, he claimed Danny paid Linda more then the fair market value...

Whether that's actually the case, is another question.

~ Aletheia

Posted by: Denny Dec 28 2006, 10:03 AM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Dec 28 2006, 03:48 PM)
>
> For those who are not absorbed by this saga and those looking in from the outside, this should > appear rather silly that people are spending so much time debating/discussing and arguing the size of a $250,000 home. Why is this relevant and relevant to what?

☒ rofl $250,000 you can't even buy a cupboard for that money in London, average house price here is £300,000/ $570,000

Posted by: Clay Dec 28 2006, 10:20 AM

> QUOTE(Denny @ Dec 28 2006, 10:03 AM) ☐
>
> ☒ rofl $250,000 you can't even buy a cupboard for that money in London, average house price here is £300,000/ $570,000

here in Alabama 250k gets you a really nice size house..... with a decent size pool.... and even some land, depending of course where you buy.....

Posted by: Pickle Dec 28 2006, 10:21 AM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Dec 28 2006, 09:48 AM) ☐
>
> For those who are not absorbed by this saga and those looking in from the outside, this should appear rather silly that people are spending so much time debating/discussing and arguing the size of a $250,000 home. Why is this relevant and relevant to what?

Hi Calvin.

I'm looking for concrete facts in the stories told by Danny and Linda, and their supporters if those facts can be traced back to Danny or Linda. I'm then checking out those facts to see if they are true or not.

Both sides claim that the other side lies. In this investigation, the side with the most lies and fabrications loses, especially if they refuse to come clean and apologize. And if they try to hide the evidence, they still lose out in the court of public opinion.

In regard to the size of the house and pool and its cost, Joe Smith has made very specific claims, including that Danny is the source of his information. He stated explicitly that Danny paid more than half of the appraised value of his house to Linda. Is what Danny told Joe really the truth or not?

It's simple to find out:

- Joe can inform us what the true appraised value of Danny's house is.
- Joe can tell us how much Danny actually paid Linda for her half of the house.

Then we can all tell if what Danny told Joe is really the truth.

Posted by: lurker Dec 28 2006, 10:25 AM

Calvin, It is all about the characters of the two main protagonists. Truthfullness or the lack of it, sex and greed. The stuff soap operas are made of.

Posted by: summertime Dec 28 2006, 11:11 AM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Dec 28 2006, 10:20 AM)
>
> here in Alabama 250k gets you a really nice size house..... with a decent size pool.... and even some land, depending of course where you buy.....

Under any circumstances, if $200,000 was half of the appraised value of Danny's house, that means that a man who was a poor, uneducated, penniless carpenter twenty years ago, now has a home that is worth around $400,000. That is pretty good considering that all of his income comes from the donors who keep 3ABN afloat. Another thing that I have found out--in the Midwest where a pool can only be used a few months out of the year, yet needs maintenance year round, is not an amenity that adds very much to the appraised value of a home. In other words, it is costly to maintain for the usage available to the homeowner in both Missouri and Illinois. We have found out that it does add to the cost of homeowners insurance because of the responsibility of safety needs that must be met.

Posted by: awesumtenor Dec 28 2006, 11:36 AM

> QUOTE(summertime @ Dec 28 2006, 12:11 PM)
>
> Under any circumstances, if $200,000 was half of the appraised value of Danny's house, that means that a man who was a poor, uneducated, penniless carpenter twenty years ago, now has a home that is worth around $400,000. That is pretty good considering that all of his income comes from the donors who keep 3ABN afloat. Another thing that I have found out--in the Midwest where a pool can only be used a few months out of the year, yet needs maintenance year round, is not an amenity that adds very much to the appraised value of a home. In other words, it is costly to maintain for the usage available to the homeowner in both Missouri and Illinois. We have found out that it does add to the cost of homeowners insurance because of the responsibility of safety needs that must be met.

That's too good if his income is as has been stated in the neighborhood of just under 50K per annum... even with the absolute best credit rating on the planet, someone with that income would not qualify for a 400K dollar loan.

Either he has undeclared income or he has managed to artificially inflate the value of his house... or it's not his house...

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: lurker Dec 28 2006, 11:47 AM

"Under any circumstances, if $200,000 was half of the appraised value of Danny's house" Where did this figure come from?

Posted by: Aletheia Dec 28 2006, 11:50 AM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Dec 28 2006, 10:48 AM) ☐
>
> For those who are not absorbed by this saga and those looking in from the outside, this should appear rather silly that people are spending so much time debating/discussing and arguing the size of a $250,000 home. Why is this relevant and relevant to what?

Apparently some believe that whether Joe Smith is credible depends on whether Linda lives in a mansion, or not as he posted. If they can prove she doesn't then they can throw mud on everything he posts.

At least that's the way I am understanding what's going on.

Why his credibility or lack thereof, is deemed more important to determine then others caliming to also know "people and things"is beyond my understanding, as he isn't claiming to be a "key player'

Posted by: Chez Dec 28 2006, 11:59 AM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Dec 28 2006, 12:50 PM) ☐
>
> Apparently some believe that whether Joe Smith is credible depends on whether Linda lives in a mansion, or not as he posted. If they can prove she doesn't then they can throw mud on everything he posts.
>
> At least that's the way I am understanding what's going on.
>
> Why his credibility or lack thereof, is deemed more important to determine then others caliming to also know "people and things"is beyond my understanding, as he isn't claiming to be a "key player'

We're doing all of this posting, but where is JOE SMITH? JOE hasn't replied. Has Joe left? Is Joe gathering information or data? Why isn't Joe replying? Oooh JOEY! Where are yooou?

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Dec 28 2006, 12:30 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Dec 28 2006, 10:50 AM) ☐
>
> Apparently some believe that whether Joe Smith is credible depends on whether Linda lives in a mansion, or not as he posted. If they can prove she doesn't then they can throw mud on everything > he posts.

>
> At least that's the way I am understanding what's going on.
>
> Why his credibility or lack thereof, is deemed more important to determine then others caliming to also know "people and things"is beyond my understanding, as he isn't claiming to be a "key player'

I believe it speaks more to whether Joe Smith is personally aware of Linda's house - has seen it for himself - or if he is relying on information/misinformation he received from Danny.

Just checking the facts - at least that is what I have gathered.

If he is being fed misinformation to spread far and wide it is important to to determine his credibility. He may not be claiming to be a "key player" but he has claimed that he was close to 3abn for some time and knows things.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Dec 28 2006, 12:41 PM

Here are a couple of links that show Joe Smith talking about his history with 3abn:

http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?showtopic=11834&st=90&p=164579&#entry164579

http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?showtopic=11834&st=45&p=164323&#entry164323

Posted by: Aletheia Dec 28 2006, 12:53 PM

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Dec 27 2006, 08:28 PM) ☐
>
> Aletheia,
>
> Yes, I am confused. My grandkids got happy meals with little Hummers in them some time back. These clever little toys had cables with hooks that could pull the Hummer up when hooked on to something.

Yes absent envirmental concerns, hummers are very cute. Given how you see it, "what's so funny?" about the ad?

I'm just curious as I am no longer allowed to ask sky that on Maritime, or why he posted it instead of answering my questions. I find it absurd that after being called names and being accused of many things by him, even for posting here rather then there, all while refusing to answer even one question of mine ever; That it turns out that nothing can be posted by me except an apology, and I can never expect answers there because they are decreed off topic. and yet the picture remains...

> QUOTE
>
> Sad that your mind went in a different direction.
> Please, dear, maybe you should retract your nails and return to your search for truth and perhaps you won't be so sad.

Perhaps you won't find me so sad either, if you actually looked at the links You are responding to?? Here you go, here's the one you just criticized me for:

> QUOTE
>
> QUOTE(sister @ Dec 26 2006, 10:47 PM)
>
> ... Often I post what I know personally, can you make the same statement?
>
> Linda and the wearing of a wedding ring at the GC in St. Lewis, that is nothing more than a rumor that Danny Shelton started to take the heat off of his situation....
>
> Personally, I have never heard more lies come out of a man's mouth than from Danny Shelton. The reliable source for this information: me!
>
> Aletheia:
> So is it your personal testimony that you personally heard this from Danny Shelton and you know as fact, that this is how the alleged rumor was started? IF NOT, how is it you claim to know this?

Maybe you can tell me why asking someone to explain themselves, or prove what they say, and then noticing that they refuse to do so , is the equivalent of having extended claws, to you? Does anyone else around here seem catty to you, or just me??

I actually twice more asked Sister to explain, now I found it sad a Christian would accuse another without explaining or proving how what they claimed was true, and ignoring questions about it, and you found me at fault for noticing that, and asking her to do so.

I'm not really understanding your point of view or focus.

I guess people see things differently.

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Dec 28 2006, 01:06 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Dec 28 2006, 02:53 PM) ☐
>
> Yes absent enviremental concerns, hummers are very cute. Given how you see it, "what's so funny?" about the ad?
>
> I'm just curious as I am no longer allowed to ask sky that on Maritime, or why he posted it instead of answering my questions. I find it absurd that after being called names and being accused of many things by him, even for posting here rather then there, all while refusing to answer even one question of mine ever; That it turns out that nothing can be posted by me except an apology, and I can never expect answers there because they are decreed off topic. and yet the picture remains...

Aletheia,

You and Sky can continue to discuss it further there in a separate topic, if one of you desires to create one there in connection with Sky's request for an apology.

Posted by: Aletheia Dec 28 2006, 01:15 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Dec 28 2006, 10:30 AM) ☐
>
> Bob:
> You might want to respond to Sky's complaint over at http://www.maritime-sda-online.org/forums/...=5582#Post83089
>
> Done.
>
> Thankyou. I did not realize we could reply to what was posted on the closed topics on Maritime, unless it was factual or documented items to be submitted. I was feeling rather censored, so this is good to know.

Well that was very special! Apparently, you meant that I should only go there and apologise, as you repeatedly told me to do, while I am being attacked and accused without any reproof, and that none of my questions will be answered by skye, as he is not expected to answer my complaints???

That seems to be par for the course there. I despise censorship and bias coming from people proclaiming Christianity and fairness.

Thank God the owners and moderators of this forum seem to allow both sides of any issue to post their concerns and questions as long as it is withing the rules here, regardless of their agreement or disagreement with what's posted, and that those rules are applied equally, regardless of who the person is.

Posted by: Pickle Dec 28 2006, 01:23 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Dec 28 2006, 01:15 PM) ☐

> Well that was very special! Apparently, you meant that I should only go there and apologise, ...

I've always thought it appropriate for me to apologize when I have something to apologize for, even if the other party is more wrong than I am, and even if they refuse to apologize.

What they do they have to answer to God for. What I do I have to answer to God for.

Posted by: awesumtenor Dec 28 2006, 01:27 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Dec 28 2006, 12:50 PM) ☐
>
> Apparently some believe that whether Joe Smith is credible depends on whether Linda lives in a mansion, or not as he posted. If they can prove she doesn't then they can throw mud on everything he posts.
>
> At least that's the way I am understanding what's going on.

No one has stated this... you have inferred it...but that obligates none to have implied it. All this would show, if Joe's claims are proven false, is that he was told a lie he did not check out before choosing to believe it.

> QUOTE
>
> Why his credibility or lack thereof, is deemed more important to determine then others caliming to also know "people and things"is beyond my understanding, as he isn't claiming to be a "key player'

Actually, he is making that very claim; in stating that "Danny told me" this and "Walt told me " that, he is, in essence saying that he is connected enough to get it from the horse's mouth... and implicit in such a claim is that those speaking against Danny are not as close as he is therefore their claims should be discounted.

I don't believe he ever expected to get the level of scrutiny that he has... which says to me he is someone who is used to not having his statements questioned... but that is not how we do things here; if it is stated, it will be checked, pushed, prodded, probed, bent, folded, spindled and mutilated, if need be, to determine if it is true.

If one cannot handle that, he'd be best served to keep his statements to himself.

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: Lee Dec 28 2006, 01:31 PM

Aletheia has nothing to apologize for that I can see. She did not post the picture first, skye did. Perhaps Sky could answer the question as to WHY he/she posted this picture. I mean, there must be a reason right?

Or perhaps Sky has something to hide?

Posted by: Joe Smith Dec 28 2006, 01:33 PM

> QUOTE(Pickle @ Dec 27 2006, 08:22 PM)
>
> I take it from this comment that Danny was ultimately the sole source of your information that Linda lived in a "mansion" with a "huge pool." If this is incorrect, please inform us differently.
>
> Pickle, It looks like you are making assumptions here that were not stated. I did not say that Danny told me Linda lived in a "mansion', I said he told me about the pool. You added the "Mansion" part.
>
> It thus appears, based on your own testimony, that we have potentially here another fabrication told by Danny Shelton. I say potentially since we don't yet have square footage figures or the number of rooms in her house. Again you have charged Danny with a statement that he did not make. I thought you were the man that wouldn't repeat anything without proof.
>
> I don't put a lot of weight on what Johann, Sister, and others who have sided with Linda say when it comes to Danny's untrustworthiness. But I put a lot of weight on what his staunch supporters, defenders, and apologists say to that effect.
>
> Here are a few questions, Joe:
>
> - What was the appraised value?
> - How much more than the appraised value did he give her?
>
> See if you can dig up more info on this one. Did she really need a loan from the doctor if she really got all this money? How much did she really get?
>
> Knowing the appraised value and how much Danny gave her for her half of the house will let us know just how kind and generous Danny really was.
> Of course he could, since:
>
> - He allegedly made a big deal when they bought the car that his name was not going to be on the title. I ask you Pickle, were you there when Danny supposedly made this "big deal?" Are you just repeating second hand info? Can we see you documentation for this statement?
> - He claimed emphatically that he had proof that his name was on the title. Proof?
>
> Now if you are suggesting that he made this claim when he had no proof whatsoever except a faulty memory, then we are left with the conclusion that Danny claimed he had proof when he really had none.
>
> Now can we really try to explain this one away by saying that he can't keep straight what he has proof for and what he doesn't, just like he can't keep straight which cars he owns and which ones he doesn't?
> Danny didn't have the title there before him and so he just made an asumpsion. Danny has sooo much more on his plate than how a car was titled in 2003, was it? This is such a small piece of info that anyone could get mixed up on. As I stated, I don't know how my own vehicles are titled without getting them out and looking.

Joe

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Dec 28 2006, 01:37 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Dec 28 2006, 03:15 PM) ☐
>
> Well that was very special! Apparently, you meant that I should only go there and apologise, as you repeatedly told me to do, while I am being attacked and accused without any reproof, and that none of my questions will be answered by skye, as he is not expected to answer my complaints???
>
> That seems to be par for the course there. I despise censorship and bias coming from people proclaiming Christianity and fairness.
>
> Thank God the owners and moderators of this forum seem to allow both sides of any issue to post their concerns and questions as long as it is withing the rules here, regardless of their agreement or disagreement with what's posted, and that those rules are applied equally, regardless of who the person is.

I think I can say that both forums tolerate some off-topic discussion in a topic, however, when it takes over from the intended topic, it is then time to stop and do it in a new topic. Such was the case over there.

As this topic is supposed to be focusing on questions to Joe Smith, I think I had better now stop discussing this here in fear of unintentionally hijacking this topic.

Posted by: Aletheia Dec 28 2006, 01:47 PM

> QUOTE(Pickle @ Dec 28 2006, 02:23 PM) ☐
>
> I've always thought it appropriate for me to apologize when I have something to apologize for, even if the other party is more wrong than I am, and even if they refuse to apologize.
>
> What they do they have to answer to God for. What I do I have to answer to God for.

See that's the problem Bob. You aren't my conscience, it is not appropriate for me to apologise just because you don't see the problem and you say I have something to apologise for. That seems rather arrogant to me.

I have apologised quite a few times both on here and on maritime for what I felt I needed to regardless of whether I thought someone else was also wrong, but I am not going to apologise and say I am wrong when I am not. That would be a lie.

I asked sky to explain so that maybe I would see that I needed to apologise, as I am willing to be open minded, and consider what is said, but just got more accusations in response.

Maybe sky will starsuddenly see the need to apologise or answer, but barring that, I am done with Maritime and the rearanging of topics and closed threads and shouts of off topic and irrelevant from those who can't see past their own point of view, and censor those who they disagree with, while leaving others untouched.

And I am not going to discuss this further, for I can tell from this whole episode that it iwould be a futile waste of time.

Posted by: Pickle Dec 28 2006, 02:06 PM

Hi Joe.

You write:

> QUOTE(Joe Smith @ Dec 28 2006, 01:33 PM)
>
> Pickle, It looks like you are making assumptions here that were not stated. I did not say that Danny told me Linda lived in a "mansion', I said he told me about the pool. You added the "Mansion" part.
>
> ... Again you have charged Danny with a statement that he did not make. I thought you were the man that wouldn't repeat anything without proof.

Then please be more specific. All I'm trying to do is nail down exactly what Danny did and didn't tell you. And I don't know how else to figure it out.

You stated that Linda now lives in a mansion with a huge pool. When asked whether you've seen it for yourself and, if not, who the source of your info was, you stated only that Danny told you about the pool, thus indicating that you never have seen it for yourself.

Who told you about the size of her house if not Danny? Or were you merely assuming that it just had to be bigger than yours if it cost $200,000?

You write (in red):

> QUOTE(Joe Smith @ Dec 28 2006, 01:33 PM)
>
> - He allegedly made a big deal when they bought the car that his name was not going to be on the title. I ask you Pickle, were you there when Danny supposedly made this "big deal?" Are you just repeating second hand info? Can we see you documentation for this statement?
> - He claimed emphatically that he had proof that his name was on the title. Proof?

First of all, I used the word "allegedly" for just those reasons. Secondly, Danny emphatically claimed that he had proof. Here is what he wrote on Oct. 8, 2006:

> QUOTE(Danny Shelton)
>
> Our car door was locked. Yes, I'm aware that she claims it was her car but I have proof that it is titled to both she and I even unto this day. She didn't apparently remember that I too had keys to this Toyota Sequoia. I opened the car door and opened the glove compartment.

Correct me if I'm wrong, but I think you are evading the only questions I asked you this time around. I'll repeat them below:

> QUOTE(Joe Smith)
>
> Another thing, don't forget that linda didn't just have $250,000.00 to live on.. she also had the Big > check from Danny for her half of the house. That amounted to $150,000.00 to $200,000.00. He gave her more than the apraised value.

Here are a few questions, Joe:

- What was the appraised value?
- How much more than the appraised value did he give her?

See if you can dig up more info on this one. Did she really need a loan from the doctor if she really got all this money? How much did she really get?

Knowing the appraised value and how much Danny gave her for her half of the house will let us know just how kind and generous Danny really was.

Posted by: princessdi Dec 28 2006, 02:26 PM

Not necessarily so, Kevin. When was the house bougth, and then when was it appraised. It might now be worth $400,000.00, and only $200,000.00(or less) when it was built.

> QUOTE(awesumtenor @ Dec 28 2006, 09:36 AM) ☐
>
> That's too good if his income is as has been stated in the neighborhood of just under 50K per annum... even with the absolute best credit rating on the planet, someone with that income would not qualify for a 400K dollar loan.
>
> Either he has undeclared income or he has managed to artificially inflate the value of his house... or it's not his house...
>
> In His service,
> Mr. J

Posted by: Brother Sam Dec 28 2006, 02:46 PM

The question is how much does danny have in the house?

I understand the property was donated to him and much of the labor and materials were from 3ABN.

Maybe that is how you can have a $500,000 house on 50,000 dollars a year.

Posted by: princessdi Dec 28 2006, 02:47 PM

Uh basically, Joe, you act as if Danny did Linda a favor. He wanted a divorce, there was marital property to divide, Simple as that, she was supposed to get her share. Now, about the house, may she did, maybe she didn't. I know she didn't with the buisness 3ABN, because it is not worth only $500,000.00. They built that life together, she got shafted and did not even get her fair share. About the music? She sang it wrote it, her music, it would have been more than vindictive for Danny to keep it(even though that didn't stop him from retaping each and every show she was on for the next season). Danny did not give Linda anything but the shaft. Stop acting like Danny did

Linda such a big favor, he didn't.

One more thing...Johann has always maintained that he and his wife were close friends with Linda. a dip in her pool means nothing. What? Now she can't even have friends to visit?

> QUOTE
>
> I was waiting to see if anyone else had picked up on the fact that Johann had said he had taken a "dip" in Linda's pool. If the pics from the sky didn't show a pool, must not be the right neighborhood. Danny also told me about her pool.
> Another thing, don't forget that linda didn't just have $250,000.00 to live on.. she also had the Big check from Danny for her half of the house. That amounted to $150,000.00 to $200,000.00. He gave her more than the apraised value. Cash Money.. she didn't have to wait for 2 years for that.
>
> Don't forget the other perks she left with.... her music video rights... her singing and songwriting rights... these amount to a good chunk of change also.
>
> One more thing, about the title to her car. Do you really think that Danny could keep it straight how the title reads since it was not in his possession. I doubt it because I have 4 vehicles and 2 trailer titles and I can't tell you how a certain one of them is made out without getting it out and looking at it.

Posted by: Eddy Dec 28 2006, 02:54 PM

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Dec 28 2006, 03:47 PM)
>
> Uh basically, Joe, you act as if Danny did Linda a favor. He wanted a divorce, there was marital property to divide, Simple as that, she was supposed to get her share. Now, about the house, may she did, maybe she didn't. I know she didn't with the buisness 3ABN, because it is not worth only $500,000.00. They built that life together, she got shafted and did not even get her fair share. About the music? She sang it wrote it, her music, it would have been more than vindictive for Danny to keep it(even though that didn't stop him from retaping each and every show she was on for the next season). Danny did not give Linda anything but the shaft. Stop acting like Danny did Linda such a big favor, he didn't.
> One more thing...Johann has always maintained that he and his wife were close friends with Linda. a dip in her pool means nothing. What? Now she can't even have friends to visit?

Married for 20 years right? She was given the SHAFT!

Posted by: Aletheia Dec 28 2006, 04:04 PM

This whole issue of Marital Property keeps coming up in reference to 3ABN... by people who think Linda should have got half.

WHY?

Anybody know of any law defining NPOs as marital property?

I don't know all, but this I do know.

3ABN is a not for profit organization, that means it can't be divided by it's founders because of divorce, there are no profits to divide.

NPO's are set up to be run by boards, they can have employees who receive wages,as Linda was, and as Danny is, but that's all.

Being a founder of a NPO is not the same as owning a business.

If someone has other info regarding this I'd be interested in hearing it.

~ Alethteia

Posted by: awesumtenor Dec 28 2006, 04:16 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Dec 28 2006, 02:47 PM) ☐
>
> See that's the problem Bob. You aren't my conscience, it is not appropriate for me to apologise just because you don't see the problem and you say I have something to apologise for. That seems rather arrogant to me.
>
> I have apologised quite a few times both on here and on maritime for what I felt I needed to regardless of whether I thought someone else was also wrong, but I am not going to apologise and say I am wrong when I am not. That would be a lie.
>
> I asked sky to explain so that maybe I would see that I needed to apologise, as I am willing to be open minded, and consider what is said, but just got more accusations in response.
>
> Maybe sky will starsuddenly see the need to apologise or answer, but barring that, I am done with Maritime and the rearanging of topics and closed threads and shouts of off topic and irrelevant from those who can't see past their own point of view, and censor those who they disagree with, while leaving others untouched.
>
> And I am not going to discuss this further, for I can tell from this whole episode that it iwould be a futile waste of time.

Do you actually read the posts you call yourself responding to, Cindy? Because if you had actually read all of Bob's post... and it wasnt exactly War and Peace for it's length... you'd have noticed the last statement he made which was the following:

> QUOTE
> What they do they have to answer to God for. What I do I have to answer to God for.

You, BTW, would be part and parcel of the 'they' Bob spoke of. His statement about apologizing was about himself... not about you. The only part that alluded to you was the collective statement noted above...

So why the thin skin and the defensiveness?

Inquiring minds, etc.

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: Aletheia Dec 28 2006, 04:36 PM

> QUOTE(awesumtenor @ Dec 28 2006, 05:16 PM) ☐
>
> Do you actually read the posts you call yourself responding to, Cindy? Because if you had actually read all of Bob's post... and it wasnt exactly War and Peace for it's length... you'd have noticed the last statement he made which was the following:
> You, BTW, would be part and parcel of the 'they' Bob spoke of. His statement about apologizing was about himself... not about you. The only part that alluded to you was the collective statement noted above...
>
> So why the thin skin and the defensiveness?
>
> Inquiring minds, etc.
>
> In His service,
> Mr. J

Why am I as you say?

What 1 do and say I have to be accountable to God for also. If I pray and ask him to guide me, before posting and then another comes telling me I am wrong and doesn't prove this, and I pray and ask the Lord to sho me if I am, and get nothing, then I guess others will perceive me as being thin skinned and defensive when I don't follow their conscience and thinking instead of my own, or depending on their perceptions they may see and think many things about me.

If they judge righteously God will know, if they judge unrighteously God will know.

And he knows me, that's good enough for me..

That's the best I can answer you.

Posted by: awesumtenor Dec 28 2006, 05:30 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Dec 28 2006, 05:36 PM) ☐
>
> Why am I as you say?
>
> What 1 do and say I have to be accountable to God for also. If I pray and ask him to guide me, before posting and then another comes telling me I am wrong and doesn't prove this, and I pray and ask the Lord to sho me if I am, and get nothing, then I guess others will perceive me as being thin skinned and defensive when I don't follow their conscience and thinking instead of my own, or depending on their perceptions they may see and think many things about me.
>
> If they judge righteously God will know, if they judge unrighteously God will know.

> And he knows me, that's good enough for me..
> That's the best I can answer you.

Delusions of adequacy... riiiiiiiiiiiiiiiiiiiiiiiiiiiiiight.

Noted; carry on.

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: Pickle Dec 28 2006, 06:25 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Dec 28 2006, 04:04 PM)
>
> 3ABN is a not for profit organization, that means it can't be divided by it's founders because of divorce, there are no profits to divide.
>
> NPO's are set up to be run by boards, they can have employees who receive wages,as Linda was, and as Danny is, but that's all.
>
> ...
>
> If someone has other info regarding this I'd be interested in hearing it.

Aletheia,

The sticky part is that the IL Tax Case decision was based in part on the finding that 3ABN does not operate like a non-profit should:

> QUOTE(3ABN Tax Case Decision)
>
> I must conclude from the evidence of record, that applicant is controlled by Danny and Linda Shelton, and all final decisions are made by them and not by a disinterested impartial board of directors.
>
> ...
>
> Applicant has failed to establish that it is not charging everyone that purchases or uses its products, facilities, and programs at prices above the cost of operation. On the contrary, these appear to be armslength transactions producing fees no different than a non-exempt business enterprise would generate. Programming and broadcasting are done for profit on this property, as clearly shown by applicant's financial statements.
>
> ...
>
> Applicant has, therefore, not established that it does not profit from the enterprise conducted on the subject property, a fatal flaw to its exemption claim.
>
> ...
>
> Also contrary to the guidelines enumerated in Methodist Old People's Home, is the fact that applicant's property is used with a view to accumulating profits....
>
> Danny and Linda Shelton have control of applicant. They regulate the amount they are paid. They > have control of programming. They regulate all contracts. Applicant uses this property to produce television programs, to sell equipment, radio and television time, and to sell merchandise, and, absent evidence to the contrary, sales are made at commercially competitive prices.

While this court decision did not revoke 3ABN's 501©3 tax exempt status, it could possibly be used as a basis for doing so.

If these findings by the court are correct, then 3ABN could possibly be considered a for-profit business, and thus be potentially divisible as marital property.

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Dec 28 2006, 06:36 PM

So what would prevent Danny from intentionally wanting it to be a for profit company? Would he then own it? If so could he turn around and sell the place built with donations and take off with the proceeds?

Richard

> QUOTE(Pickle @ Dec 28 2006, 07:25 PM)
>
> Aletheia,
>
> The sticky part is that the IL Tax Case decision was based in part on the finding that 3ABN does not operate like a non-profit should:
> While this court decision did not revoke 3ABN's 501©3 tax exempt status, it could possibly be used as a basis for doing so.
>
> If these findings by the court are correct, then 3ABN could possibly be considered a for-profit business, and thus be potentially divisible as marital property.

Posted by: Pickle Dec 28 2006, 06:39 PM

> QUOTE(Richard Sherwin @ Dec 28 2006, 06:36 PM)
>
> So what would prevent Danny from intentionally wanting it to be a for profit company? Would he then own it? If so could he turn around and sell the place built with donations and take off with the proceeds?
>
> Richard

If it weren't, it would be much harder to get donations. And there are some tax breaks, I think, that he would lose.

Posted by: lurker Dec 28 2006, 07:01 PM

He may prefer it to remain a npo but his non profit status may be revoked and it could be declared to be a regular business against his will. I would think then that he would try to keep as much of it under his control as he can both for himself but also for the benefit of his extended family. I doubt very much that he will consider it to be the donors money if that happens.

Posted by: awesumtenor Dec 28 2006, 07:13 PM

> QUOTE(lurker @ Dec 28 2006, 08:01 PM) ☐
>
> He may prefer it to remain a npo but his non profit status may be revoked and it could be declared to be a regular business against his will. I would think then that he would try to keep as much of it under his control as he can both for himself but also for the benefit of his extended family. I doubt very much that he will consider it to be the donors money if that happens.

If 3ABN is reclassified as a for profit business entity, there will be no "donor money"; as long as they have 501c3 status, those donations are tax deductible; no 501c3, no tax deduction and, for all practical intents and purposes, no tax deduction, no donations... he could make them stockholders... but he could be pushed out the door by a well constructed proxy fight then... ask Steve Jobs.

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Dec 28 2006, 07:38 PM

Whose name is all the properties of 3abn in?

I know of a situation where a man raised up a church, had a big following, and was able to build a multimillion dollar facility, including a lavish parsonage. In time he tired of it and cashed out for several million. Everything was in his name. He turned his back on his congregation and retired a rich man. Could danny do the same, especially if it was determined that 3abn was a for profit corp?

Richard

Posted by: Ed White Dec 28 2006, 08:31 PM

> QUOTE(awesumtenor @ Dec 28 2006, 07:13 PM) ☐
>
> If 3ABN is reclassified as a for profit business entity, there will be no "donor money"; as long as they have 501c3 status, those donations are tax deductible; no 501c3, no tax deduction and, for all practical intents and purposes, no tax deduction, no donations... he could make them stockholders... but he could be pushed out the door by a well constructed proxy fight then... ask Steve Jobs.
>
> In His service,
> Mr. J

Mr. J. I am asking because I don't know, but I thought that it was determined in a court of law that in one of the trademark lawsuits that the GC corporation does not have members but "customers" since it is a business instead of a church.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Dec 28 2006, 09:10 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Dec 28 2006, 11:53 AM)
>
> Yes absent enviremental concerns, hummers are very cute. Given how you see it, "what's so funny?" about the ad?

If I saw the ad I would determine that the "funny" part would be that people were laughing sarcastically at the thought of McDonalds giving them impression they were giving away full-sized Hummers with their happy meals. Of course, it could also be a sexual innuendo but I don't know what was in sky's mind when posting it.

> QUOTE
>
> I'm just curious as I am no longer allowed to ask sky that on Maritime, or why he posted it instead of answering my questions. I find it absurd that after being called names and being accused of many things by him, even for posting here rather then there, all while refusing to answer even one question of mine ever; That it turns out that nothing can be posted by me except an apology, and I can never expect answers there because they are decreed off topic. and yet the picture remains...

It's a shame that you and sky are at odds. That is a sorry place for Christians to be. Sounds like you will have to just chalk it up to one of life's unfortunate circumstances and learn what you can from it.

> QUOTE
>
> Perhaps you won't find me so sad either, if you actually looked at the links You are responding to??
> Here you go, here's the one you just criticized me for:
> Maybe you can tell me why asking someone to explain themselves, or prove what they say, and then noticing that they refuse to do so , is the equivalent of having extended claws, to you? Does anyone else around here seem catty to you, or just me??
>
> I actually twice more asked Sister to explain, now I found it sad a Christian would accuse another without explaining or proving how what they claimed was true, and ignoring questions about it, and you found me at fault for noticing that, and asking her to do so.

I'm sorry you haven't received a response from sister that you are satisfied with. Perhaps she is still working on it. I realize it can get frustrating but when we resort to judgmental comments about each other it detracts from the clear search for truth.

> QUOTE
>
> I'm not really understanding your point of view or focus.
>
> I guess people see things differently.

It is true that some people here get catty but I wouldn't say "many" of them do. I'd say it's more like a few who do it with any regularity. Of course all of us have that odd moment when we forget our Christianity and the claws come out. I'm sorry if you thought I was doing that to you. Just keep carefully reading, questioning and attempting to verify the material you read here. But do try not to lash out in your frustration. It diverts from that important search, in my opinion.

Posted by: Aletheia Dec 29 2006, 05:06 AM

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Dec 28 2006, 10:10 PM) ☐
>
> If I saw the ad I would determine that the "funny" part would be that people were laughing sarcastically at the thought of McDonalds giving them impression they were giving away full-sized Hummers with their happy meals. Of course, it could also be a sexual innuendo but I don't know what was in sky's mind when posting it.
> It's a shame that you and sky are at odds. That is a sorry place for Christians to be. Sounds like you will have to just chalk it up to one of life's unfortunate circumstances and learn what you can from it.
> I'm sorry you haven't received a response from sister that you are satisfied with. Perhaps she is still working on it. I realize it can get frustrating but when we resort to judgmental comments about each other it detracts from the clear search for truth.
> It is true that some people here get catty but I wouldn't say "many" of them do. I'd say it's more like a few who do it with any regularity. Of course all of us have that odd moment when we forget our Christianity and the claws come out. I'm sorry if you thought I was doing that to you. Just keep carefully reading, questioning and attempting to verify the material you read here. But do try not to lash out in your frustration. It diverts from that important search, in my opinion.

PB,

I do hope you will understand that sometimes my words are blunt but I meant no offense yo you, and none was taken,

I appreciate the way you answered here, I am not sure I agree with all, but neither can I fault it, Your answers and thoughts and reasoning, have given me something to think about,

Thankyou, and have a wonderful day.

~ Cindy

Posted by: Joe Smith Dec 29 2006, 10:41 AM

> QUOTE(Brother Sam @ Dec 28 2006, 02:46 PM) ☐
>
> The question is how much does danny have in the house?
>
> I understand the property was donated to him and much of the labor and materials were from 3ABN. That is my understanding as well.
>
> Maybe that is how you can have a $500,000 house on 50,000 dollars a year.

I am certain that the figure was a high estimate of $400,000 from one of the other posts, not mine. Again I need to say the loan was not based upon only one salary of 50k per year, but two, as Linda was in the picture as well when it was being built and financed. The value or current apprasial of the house is considerably more now than when it was built several years ago. Danny did some of the work there himself.

Joe

Posted by: Pickle Dec 29 2006, 11:10 AM

> QUOTE(Joe Smith @ Dec 29 2006, 10:41 AM)
>
> I am certain that the figure was a high estimate of $400,000 from one of the other posts, not mine. Again I need to say the loan was not based upon only one salary of 50k per year, but two, as Linda was in the picture as well when it was being built and financed. The value or current apprasial of the house is considerably more now than when it was built several years ago. Danny did some of the work there himself.
>
> Joe

So Joe, do you have a figure for the current appraised value yet? And how much above the appraised value Danny paid Linda for her half? And how the amount of the outstanding loan figures into it all, since obviously Danny wouldn't have to pay her for her half of what was still owed on the house?

Are you suggesting above that the current appraised value is $500,000 or $600,000? If not, what are you suggesting, or what is the correct figure?

And since you say that it is your understanding that the materials and labor came from 3ABN, was this reported on his W-2 and/or 3ABN's Form 990?

Posted by: Aletheia Dec 29 2006, 04:16 PM

> QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Dec 28 2006, 02:06 PM)
>
> Aletheia,
>
> You and Sky can continue to discuss it further there in a separate topic, if one of you desires to create one there in connection with Sky's request for an apology.

[Previous reply removed by Aletheia--]

My Sincere apologies Daryl for jumping to conclusions based on what I thought you were able to do with your moderator tools on Maritime and finding fault with you here for not doing so. I was wrong, and I am very sorry.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Dec 29 2006, 05:01 PM

> QUOTE(Ed White @ Dec 28 2006, 08:31 PM) ☐
>
> Mr. J. I am asking because I don't know, but I thought that it was determined in a court of law that in one of the trademark lawsuits that the GC corporation does not have members but "customers" since it is a business instead of a church.

The Seventh-day Adventist church has all kinds of different registered marks.

1. They have trademarks for products, because they publish books.

2. They have service-marks for services they provide. They own hospitals and such.

3. There's another option called a collective membership mark.

The SDA Church, itself, is comprised of both the association and the corporation, with the corporation owning the assets.

One non-adventist example I know about is Sky Angel:

With Sky Angel, TV services are part of the non-profit service, but the satellite assets are owned by a separate corporation, because corporate ownership works best for assets. For instance, if they launch their own satellite, it would be insured, and the insurance company would prefer a corporate form of ownership for the satellite.

Back to the Adventist Church:

The Adventist Church, with its books, hospitals, schools, and TV network, can have customers for these products and services, and this can certainly affect trademark and service-mark registrations, but the church can also have members.

It just depends on which part of a very large church organization is under discussion. It is highly possible a court ruled that some entity of the church had customers, not members. But we would have to see the case, itself, to know for sure.

Pete

Posted by: Ed White Dec 29 2006, 05:59 PM

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Dec 29 2006, 05:01 PM) ☐
>
> The Seventh-day Adventist church has all kinds of different registered marks.
>
> 1. They have trademarks for products, because they publish books.
>
> 2. They have service-marks for services they provide. They own hospitals and such.
>
> 3. There's another option called a collective membership mark.
>
> The SDA Church, itself, is comprised of both the association and the corporation, with the corporation owning the assets.

> One non-adventist example I know about is Sky Angel:
>
> With Sky Angel, TV services are part of the non-profit service, but the satellite assets are owned by a separate corporation, because corporate ownership works best for assets. For instance, if they launch their own satellite, it would be insured, and the insurance company would prefer a corporate form of ownership for the satellite.
>
> Back to the Adventist Church:
>
> The Adventist Church, with its books, hospitals, schools, and TV network, can have customers for these products and services, and this can certainly affect trademark and service-mark registrations, but the church can also have members.
>
> It just depends on which part of a very large church organization is under discussion. It is highly possible a court ruled that some entity of the church had customers, not members. But we would have to see the case, itself, to know for sure.
>
> Pete

Thanks a lot as I do not have a legal mind & those that share legal things here I really look forward to reading these posts. I knew that Wal-Mart & Shell Oil had customers but for a court of law to determine that the General Conference of SDA also has customers...it has me wondering would this be different than shareholders that could be held liable for the corporate debts? I grew up in Adventism thinking that "all ye are brethren", now should I worry if my bank account is safe to pay debts I never had any say over. Some have said here that Danny is not going down alone.
=========
Pete I will get this case in question for you.

Posted by: Aletheia Dec 29 2006, 06:03 PM

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Dec 29 2006, 06:01 PM) ☐
>
> The Seventh-day Adventist church has all kinds of different registered marks.
>
> 1. They have trademarks for products, because they publish books.
>
> 2. They have service-marks for services they provide. They own hospitals and such.
>
> 3. There's another option called a collective membership mark.
>
> The SDA Church, itself, is comprised of both the association and the corporation, with the corporation owning the assets.
>
> One non-adventist example I know about is Sky Angel:
>
> With Sky Angel, TV services are part of the non-profit service, but the satellite assets are owned by a separate corporation, because corporate ownership works best for assets. For instance, if they launch their own satellite, it would be insured, and the insurance company would prefer a corporate form of ownership for the satellite.
>
> Back to the Adventist Church:

> The Adventist Church, with its books, hospitals, schools, and TV network, can have customers for these products and services, and this can certainly affect trademark and service-mark registrations, but the church can also have members.
>
> It just depends on which part of a very large church organization is under discussion. It is highly possible a court ruled that some entity of the church had customers, not members. But we would have to see the case, itself, to know for sure.
>
> Pete

I now don't know about "customers" but I think he was referring to the trademark lawsuit in Florida, 2000, the Eternal Gospel Church were sued by the conference for using the name "Seventh-day Adventist" and lost. The name "Seventh-day Adventist" (small "d" on day only and don't forget the hyphen) was registered as a trademark in 1981, several very small groups were sued first the first a home church in Africa with 11 members, 3 of which left when they found out they were being sued. There was only one setback where a Gay Church claimed kinship and won, but several months later the trademark case in Florida set a precident. For the first time ever the state ruled on the definition of a Denominational Church, and defined who is and who is not entitled to use the name Seventh-day Adventist or call themselves that, (we aren't like the baptists!)

According to the conference we aren't supposed to say SDA either, (as in BSDA) the official abrieviation is "Adventist" which is also trademarked.

Since then, no one, layperson or not is allowed to use the name seventh-day Adventist or call themselves that without the conference's aythorization.

'Church trademarks, such as "Seventh-day Adventist," "Adventist," and "Ministry," may be used only in connection with denominational ministries and non-commercial activities of approved lay and professional groups. Use of these trademarks shall be controlled by the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists through its Trademark Committee."

For more info go here:

http://www.adventist.org/namelogo.html

(shades of Rome and the Inquisitions! I've read the transcripts, and even the Catholic Judge in the Florida trial rebuked the GC with the scripture about not taking brethren to law before the unbelievers, and asked them to resolve it amongst themselves, but they didn't. Not something I can ever agree with those who were in leadership then about,)

Posted by: seeshell Dec 29 2006, 06:17 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Dec 29 2006, 06:03 PM) ☐
>
> Snip...
>
> 'Church trademarks, such as "Seventh-day Adventist," "Adventist," and "Ministry," may be used only in connection with denominational ministries and non-commercial activities of approved lay and professional groups. Use of these trademarks shall be controlled by the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists through its Trademark Committee."
>
> For more info go here:
>
> http://www.adventist.org/namelogo.html

> (shades of Rome and the Inquisitions! I've read the transcripts, and even the Catholic Judge in the Florida trial rebuked the GC with the scripture about not taking brethren to law before the unbelievers, and asked them to resolve it amongst themselves, but they didn't. Not something I can ever agree with those who were in leadership then about,)

I am puzzled over the church's apparent claim to the word "Ministry". Surely they cannot trademark a word like that standing on its own...does it mean the word cannot be used in conjunction with the other trademarked words without approval?

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Dec 29 2006, 07:29 PM

Ed I know there are different types of stocks, but in general I don't believe that stockholders can be liable for the debts of a corporation. Of course if a company you owned stock in folded up your stock would only make a fairly good fire starter! Same with non-stock holding investors, I once had several investors that put money in one of my companies and our lawyer assured them that the most they could lose would be their investments. (And with God as my partner they profited quite nicely)

Basking in Gods generous love,

Richard

> QUOTE(Ed White @ Dec 29 2006, 06:59 PM)
>
> Thanks a lot as I do not have a legal mind & those that share legal things here I really look forward to reading these posts. I knew that Wal-Mart & Shell Oil had customers but for a court of law to determine that the General Conference of SDA also has customers...it has me wondering would this be different than shareholders that could be held liable for the corporate debts? I grew up in Adventism thinking that "all ye are brethren", now should I worry if my bank account is safe to pay debts I never had any say over. Some have said here that Danny is not going down alone.
> =========
> Pete I will get this case in question for you.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Dec 29 2006, 09:11 PM

> QUOTE(Aletheia @ Dec 29 2006, 05:03 PM)
>
> I now don't know about "customers" but I think he was referring to the trademark lawsuit in Florida, 2000, the Eternal Gospel Church were sued by the conference for using the name "Seventh-day Adventist" and lost. The name "Seventh-day Adventist" (small "d" on day only and don't forget the hyphen) was registered as a trademark in 1981, several very small groups were sued first the first a home church in Africa with 11 members, 3 of which left when they found out they were being sued.

> There was only one setback where a Gay Church claimed kinship and won, but several months later the trademark case in Florida set a precident. For the first time ever the state ruled on the definition of a Denominational Church, and defined who is and who is not entitled to use the name Seventh-day Adventist or call themselves that, (we aren't like the baptists!)

Just to keep the record straight, from what I read on their web site, the SDA Kinship is a non-profit organization, a ministry not a church. They support former and present gay members of our church and try to educate the denomination about homosexuality.

http://www.sdakinship.org/about.htm

Posted by: Ed White Dec 29 2006, 10:12 PM

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Dec 29 2006, 09:11 PM) ☐
>
> Just to keep the record straight, from what I read on their web site, the SDA Kinship is a non-profit organization, a ministry not a church. They support former and present gay members of our church and try to educate the denomination about homosexuality.
>
> http://www.sdakinship.org/about.htm

There are all kinds of education classes out there; does this supersede what heaven has already established & have we forgotten what it is? God loves a homosexual, but He hates homosexuality.
To set the record straight it was a 4-member church of Adventist in Hawaii that the GC went after knowing they could not afford any legal bills. Doesn't common sense tell us that when a church must use the POWER of the state to enforce it decisions & rulings means it is lacking POWER or has none on it's own? What a sad state to be in, shackled with such a burden to be without power when the bible says, "Is the Lords hand shortened that it cannot save?"

Posted by: sister Dec 29 2006, 10:32 PM

WHERE IS JOE SMITH AND WHERE ARE THE QUESTIONS FOR HIM?

Joe Smith are you in fact related to Danny Shelton? Perhaps one of his brothers, maybe Ronnie Shelton? Is that why all of your information comes directly from Danny Shelton? Of course I could be wrong... If I am wrong, please correct me. I am just interested in how close you actually are to the principles involved in the 3ABN saga and how direct your source of information is to the actions that have taken place.

Posted by: calvin Dec 29 2006, 10:39 PM

Careful Sister, we don't want to get side tracked with the guess the identity game that I warned everyone about. This is what you have accrused others of doing to you that you found annoying.

Posted by: sister Dec 29 2006, 11:27 PM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Dec 29 2006, 11:39 PM)
>
> Careful Sister, we don't want to get side tracked with the guess the identity game that I warned everyone about. This is what you have accrused others of doing to you that you found annoying.

Sorry, Calvin, I just thought Joe and I might know each other, I should have sent a PM.

Posted by: Observer Dec 30 2006, 08:50 AM

"Ministry" is a properly trademarked name of a monthly publication of the Seventh-day Adventist Church. As such, it cannot be used in a manner that relates to another publication. However, I believe that "ministry" can properly be used in it common generic sense.

Trademarks, copyrights, and such are interesting:

"Liberty" is probably a trademarked name of another publication. Yet, it is also the name of a non-SDA publication that has been used for many years. I doubt that the SDA church could ever prevent the publishers of that magazine from using the name "Liberty."

While the General Conference has trademarked Seventh-day Adventist, and its various forms, there is a Seventh-day Adventist Reform Movement, and common usage of Reformed Seventh-day Adventist. These groups have a history that goes back to the early 1900s. I doubt that the General Conference could prevent them from using their name.

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Dec 30 2006, 10:55 AM

If we do not protect our name the name loses all meaning. I don't think any of us would want the name Seventh-Day Adventist to become generic. The name stands for something, if we don't protect is then it would stand for nothing. It's dishonest, and in fact stealing by Biblical standards, for others to use the name without permission.

Richard

Posted by: seeshell Dec 30 2006, 11:55 AM

Thanks Observer, for the clarification. I did think ministry was an awfully generic sort of word to be able to trademark...kinda like trying to copyright the word carrots.

I agree, Richard, that if everyone and anyone with whatever beliefs were using the name it would soon cease to have meaning, so on the one hand I can see having to protect it...on the other hand, it is troubling to see the church hauling folks into court over it. Admittedly, I have no better solution should the offending party refuse to stop using the name.

Posted by: Observer Dec 30 2006, 04:58 PM

> QUOTE(seeshell @ Dec 30 2006, 10:55 AM)
>
> Thanks Observer, for the clarification. I did think ministry was an awfully generic sort of word to be able to trademark...kinda like trying to copyright the word carrots.
>
> I agree, Richard, that if everyone and anyone with whatever beliefs were using the name it would soon cease to have meaning, so on the one hand I can see having to protect it...on the other hand, it is troubling to see the church hauling folks into court over it. Admittedly, I have no better solution should the offending party refuse to stop using the name.

You are correct. Just as "carrots" could not be copyrighted and a generic useage prohibited, the same applies to "ministry."

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Dec 30 2006, 05:12 PM

If the word carrot was the name of a publication of the Carrot Growers Association of America then could they not copywrite the name to prevent the Carrot Growers International from using it for their journal?

Just as the letters SDA can be copywrited to prevent someone to use them for a church but not for other uses?

My last name is Sherwin, I likly could not use it for a paint company but could for a woodworking operation.

Anyhow that is how this uneducated beekeeper understands the law.

Richard

> QUOTE(Observer @ Dec 30 2006, 05:58 PM)
>
> You are correct. Just as "carrots" could not be copyrighted and a generic useage prohibited, the same applies to "ministry."

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Dec 30 2006, 09:48 PM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Dec 28 2006, 11:48 AM)
>
> For those who are not absorbed by this saga and those looking in from the outside, this should appear rather silly that people are spending so much time debating/discussing and arguing the size of a $250,000 home. Why is this relevant and relevant to what?

It's relevant to the fact that folks want to make it out that Linda is living "high on the hog" while Danny is living "like a pauper" putting all his monies back into 3ABN....

Whatever.....

All I know is that I scanned through the entire thread. All I saw was a picture of a MickeyD's sign....

1. I ain't seen no pictures of Danny or Linda's homes/houses/dwellings.
2. I ain't seen no pictures of anyone's pool.
3. I don't know the appraised value of anything.
4. I don't see Joe Smith answering a thang.

That is a recap for folks....

Carry on!

Posted by: Observer Dec 31 2006, 11:05 AM

> QUOTE(Richard Sherwin @ Dec 30 2006, 04:12 PM)
>
> If the word carrot was the name of a publication of the Carrot Growers Association of America then could they not copywrite the name to prevent the Carrot Growers International from using it for their journal?
>
> Just as the letters SDA can be copywrited to prevent someone to use them for a church but not for other uses?
>
> My last name is Sherwin, I likly could not use it for a paint company but could for a woodworking operation.
>
> Anyhow that is how this uneducated beekeeper understands the law.
>
> Richard

Richard, you are generally correct. However, it is unlikely that you could call a hardware store the Shirwin Williams Hardward Store, even if your name was Sherwin Williams. That situation has already been litigated, not with Sherwin, with similar situations.

In brief: There are situations regarding the useage of trademarks and clpyrights that are clear-cut. And there are those that are not and fall into so-called grey areas.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Dec 31 2006, 01:39 PM

Lemmie say it again......

> QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Dec 30 2006, 11:48 PM)
>
> It's relevant to the fact that folks want to make it out that Linda is living "high on the hog" while Danny is living "like a pauper" putting all his monies back into 3ABN....
>
> Whatever.....
>
> All I know is that I scanned through the entire thread. All I saw was a picture of a MickeyD's sign....
>
> 1. I ain't seen no pictures of Danny or Linda's homes/houses/dwellings.
> 2. I ain't seen no pictures of anyone's pool.
> 3. I don't know the appraised value of anything.
> 4. I don't see Joe Smith answering a thang.
>
> That is a recap for folks....
>
> Carry on!
>
> ☒ sn

Posted by: Joe Smith Dec 31 2006, 01:57 PM

> QUOTE(sister @ Dec 29 2006, 10:32 PM)
>
> ## WHERE IS JOE SMITH AND WHERE ARE THE QUESTIONS FOR HIM?
>
> Joe Smith are you in fact related to Danny Shelton? Perhaps one of his brothers, maybe Ronnie Shelton? Is that why all of your information comes directly from Danny Shelton? Of course I could be wrong... If I am wrong, please correct me. I am just interested in how close you actually are to the principles involved in the 3ABN saga and how direct your source of information is to the actions that have taken place.

Sister, you asked if I am related to Danny Shelton. Let me ask you, would it make my testimony more reliable if I were a relative.... or less reliable?? Sometimes being able to hide our true identity makes it possible to speak our hearts more honestly. I think you know what I mean ,sister.
I will say this, I have not known Danny all my life, but have known him many years. I also would see Danny and Linda occationaly during their 20 year marriage. I have been fairly close to 3ABN since the first as I lived in the area. All my info does NOT come from Danny. I can see problems with the testimonies on both sides. Neither side has it exactly right. I'm glad God is the judge and not me. I may have said some things that I believed true, but I may find out that they are only partial trues. Time will tell.

Joe

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Dec 31 2006, 02:05 PM

Slight change.....

> QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Dec 30 2006, 11:48 PM)
>
> It's relevant to the fact that folks want to make it out that Linda is living "high on the hog" while Danny is living "like a pauper" putting all his monies back into 3ABN....
>
> Whatever.....
>
> All I know is that I scanned through the entire thread. All I saw was a picture of a MickeyD's sign....
>
> 1. I ain't seen no pictures of Danny or Linda's homes/houses/dwellings.
> 2. I ain't seen no pictures of anyone's pool.
> 3. I don't know the appraised value of anything.
> 4. ~~I don't see Joe Smith answering a thang.~~

He did answer some stuff - I'm still puzzled by #'s 1-3.

Carry on!

Posted by: Pickle Dec 31 2006, 04:23 PM

Yes, Joe, could you please speak to the question regarding what Danny's house was appraised at, how much he actually paid Linda for her half of the house, and how the outstanding loan affected that payment? Then we will be able to verify that he did indeed pay her above the appraised value.

Posted by: Ozzie Dec 31 2006, 08:30 PM

> QUOTE(Pickle @ Jan 1 2007, 09:23 AM)
>
> Yes, Joe, could you please speak to the question regarding what Danny's house was appraised at, how much he actually paid Linda for her half of the house, and how the outstanding loan affected that payment? Then we will be able to verify that he did indeed pay her above the appraised value.

Joe
I would appreciate answers to these questions that have been raised yet again, please.

It appears that all the other answers, have just acted as a smokescreen, so that we all completely forget the initial allegations and the questions which arose from those allegations and so that the heat is taken off you Joe, to give reasonable answers to reasonable questions.
Ozzie

Posted by: Rosyroi Jan 21 2007, 10:56 PM

After Danny had kicked Linda out of 3ABN he went on world wide 3ABN making some very strong statements that sounded to me that he was speaking directly to Linda. I don't remember the exact wording, something to the effect that any programming, verbal or musical made at the offices of 3ABN were the property of 3ABN and no one had the right to take any of it with them from the premises. It seems to me that there was a thread from somewhere else in BSDA (I could be wrong..poor memory) to the effect that Linda was denied any of her programming musical or verbal by Danny and family at 3ABN. I remember while listening to that statement feeling very embarrassed that Danny would make any statement like that to millions of people. He did make other statements about his income and thoughts about his 'willingness to step down if necessary and the board refused to let him, so he is willing to continue his role'. Not exact wording but essence of speech. (can't find proper emticone to go with this statement)

Posted by: Observer Jan 22 2007, 07:17 AM

Re: "It seems to me that there was a thread from somewhere else in BSDA (I could be wrong..poor memory) to the effect that Linda was denied any of her programming musical or verbal by Danny and family at 3ABN."

The above comment is not 100 % accurate. The seperation agreement gave Linda ownereship of certain of her CDs. As to other material . . . . .?

Posted by: watchbird Jan 22 2007, 08:29 AM

> QUOTE(Observer @ Jan 22 2007, 08:17 AM)
>
> Re: "It seems to me that there was a thread from somewhere else in BSDA (I could be wrong..poor memory) to the effect that Linda was denied any of her programming musical or verbal by Danny and family at 3ABN."
>
> The above comment is not 100 % accurate. The seperation agreement gave Linda ownereship of certain of her CDs. As to other material . . . . .?

If you will check her website page, http://www.lindashelton.org/music.html, you will see that she received and is selling the actual CDs which featured her... not only her solo CDs, but also the ones from the past which she and Danny made together.

However, it is my understanding that she did NOT receive the copyrights nor the masters from which she could have new CDs made that would carry her own mnistry imprint rather than the 3abn copyright and "reorder" information. I am also quite sure that she did not receive any of the video masters which featured her... but someone else with more direct information will need to confirm this.

So what did she really receive? Things that must twist the blade every time she looks at the supply and especially when she fills and ships an order. Things that retain an unbreakable "chain" to 3abn, since she is not free to hold the masters and the copyright in her own name.... even though the copyright owner has erased her out of his life. This must continue to be a very heartwrenching burden for her to bear.

Posted by: simplysaved Jan 22 2007, 08:38 AM

If this is true, this is a very common/standard practice within the music industry--secular and Gospel/Christian--that the label retain the master tapes to the recordings and the copyrights to songs that she did not write or have publishing rights to.

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jan 22 2007, 09:29 AM)
>
> If you will check her website page, http://www.lindashelton.org/music.html, you will see that she received and is selling the actual CDs which featured her... not only her solo CDs, but also the ones from the past which she and Danny made together.
>
> However, it is my understanding that she did NOT receive the copyrights nor the masters from which she could have new CDs made that would carry her own mnistry imprint rather than the 3abn copyright and "reorder" information. I am also quite sure that she did not receive any of the video masters which featured her... but someone else with more direct information will need to confirm this.
>
> So what did she really receive? Things that must twist the blade every time she looks at the supply and especially when she fills and ships an order. Things that retain an unbreakable "chain" to 3abn, since she is not free to hold the masters and the copyright in her own name.... even though the copyright owner has erased her out of his life. This must continue to be a very heartwrenching burden for her to bear.

Posted by: lurker Jan 22 2007, 08:47 AM

The Separation agreement gives Linda "the rights including the masters to the five musical CD projects that she has had a primary role in (two solo projects and three duet projects with Danny and Linda.)" I do not know about the copyrights but I would think the word "rights" in the above quoted agreement probably means copyrights.

I am just trying to keep things accurate because Danny likes to quote and disprove or cast doubt on anything he can that is said in order to question our honesty and accuracy. Then he uses this to distract from the things which have been fully documented as true.

Posted by: watchbird Jan 22 2007, 09:13 AM

> QUOTE(lurker @ Jan 22 2007, 09:47 AM)
>
> The Separation agreement gives Linda "the rights including the masters to the five musical CD projects that she has had a primary role in (two solo projects and three duet projects with Danny and Linda.)" I do not know about the copyrights but I would think the word "rights" in the above quoted agreement probably means copyrights.

> I am just trying to keep things accurate because Danny likes to quote and disprove or cast doubt on anything he can that is said in order to question our honesty and accuracy. Then he uses this to distract from the things which have been fully documented as true.

You are correct. Thank you for calling our attention to this. And I notice now that it also mentions the specific songs of hers on a video. See the contract at http://www.lindashelton.org/contract.html. This may mean then that she would have the legal right to have new CDs made with new labels... if she had the finances to do so. But in the meantime she has the old stock that is worthless to her unless she sells it as it is. So she is still caught in an unenviable position with the old stock.

Posted by: simplysaved Jan 22 2007, 09:54 AM

Thanks for the clarification.

> QUOTE(lurker @ Jan 22 2007, 09:47 AM) ☐
>
> The Separation agreement gives Linda "the rights including the masters to the five musical CD projects that she has had a primary role in (two solo projects and three duet projects with Danny and Linda.)" I do not know about the copyrights but I would think the word "rights" in the above quoted agreement probably means copyrights.
>
> I am just trying to keep things accurate because Danny likes to quote and disprove or cast doubt on anything he can that is said in order to question our honesty and accuracy. Then he uses this to distract from the things which have been fully documented as true.

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jan 22 2007, 10:13 AM) ☐
>
> You are correct. Thank you for calling our attention to this. And I notice now that it also mentions the specific songs of hers on a video. See the contract at http://www.lindashelton.org/contract.html. This may mean then that she would have the legal right to have new CDs made with new labels... if she had the finances to do so. But in the meantime she has the old stock that is worthless to her unless she sells it as it is. So she is still caught in an unenviable position with the old stock.

Posted by: Denny Jan 22 2007, 10:12 AM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Dec 28 2006, 04:20 PM) ☐
>
> here in Alabama 250k gets you a really nice size house..... with a decent size pool.... and even some land, depending of course where you buy.....

Just as I thought I should see my flat and emigrate to the US anyway want to sell me a green card or have ~~get married~~ a special business arrangement?

Posted by: calvin Jan 22 2007, 10:17 AM

> QUOTE(Denny @ Jan 22 2007, 10:12 AM)
>
> Just as I thought I should see my flat and emigrate to the US anyway want to sell me a green card or have ~~get married~~ a special business arrangement?

Sorry Denny, already married, can't help you here.

Posted by: Observer Jan 22 2007, 11:39 AM

Re: "here in Alabama 250k gets you a really nice size house..... with a decent size pool.... and even some land, depending of course where you buy....."

Where I live, 250 K could purchase you a small, but nice condo. But, then you would have to pay a monthly condo fee.

If you wanted a seperate home, no way. In the central area, 250 K might purchase you an older home needing repairs in a neighbourhood that was starating to run-down. If you were willing to go 20 - 40 miles out, you might be able to purchase a home ten years old, in a reasonable neighbourhood.

As to a pool, etc, no way!

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 22 2007, 12:35 PM

> QUOTE(Observer @ Jan 22 2007, 09:39 AM)
>
> Re: "here in Alabama 250k gets you a really nice size house..... with a decent size pool.... and even some land, depending of course where you buy....."
>
> Where I live, 250 K could purchase you a small, but nice condo. But, then you would have to pay a monthly condo fee.
>
> If you wanted a seperate home, no way. In the central area, 250 K might purchase you an older home needing repairs in a neighbourhood that was starating to run-down. If you were willing to go 20 - 40 miles out, you might be able to purchase a home ten years old, in a reasonable neighbourhood.
>
> As to a pool, etc, no way!

"Joe" stopped in long enough to leave his rebuking sermon, but not to answer these questions. Doesn't that seem odd? Does he not care about sin?

Posted by: eye witness Jan 22 2007, 03:25 PM

> QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jan 22 2007, 12:35 PM)
>
> "Joe" stopped in long enough to leave his rebuking sermon, but not to answer these questions. Doesn't that seem odd? Does he not care about sin?

Well such a heart you have! I will give you a miracle story, if you haven't alreay read it or maybe part of the publishing, it reads:
"What a joy to find you on my cable channel 19 in Sacramento. Your Bible truths lift me up form this dark world and give me hope for a brighter future! You're the Best!"
Miracles that God is working through His Ministry 3ABN.

Hum, do you have any such thing you would like to share sonshineonme? Something positive is always up lifting to the lost and perishing world whom might be reading this site.

Posted by: inga Jan 22 2007, 03:49 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 22 2007, 04:25 PM)
>
> Well such a heart you have! I will give you a miracle story, if you haven't alreay read it or maybe part of the publishing, it reads:
> "What a joy to find you on my cable channel 19 in Sacramento. Your Bible truths lift me up form this dark world and give me hope for a brighter future! You're the Best!"
> Miracles that God is working through His Ministry 3ABN.

Shame on you for claiming miracles of God's saving power as credit towards justifying Dan Shelton's despicable behavior!

Remember, God can use asses!

Although Dan claims 3ABN as his "baby," we are not willing to equate 3ABN with Dan Shelton himself. Much of the programmin on 3ABN is produced independently of Dan and could easily be shown through other channels as well. (And some of it is.)

As for Linda -- I trust no one is claiming perfection for her. If she didn't always react in the most Christ-like way under provocation, it does nothing to excuse the behavior of Dan Shelton since the divorce.

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 22 2007, 04:01 PM

> QUOTE(inga @ Jan 22 2007, 01:49 PM)
>
> Shame on you for claiming miracles of God's saving power as credit towards justifying Dan Shelton's despicable behavior!
>
> Remember, God can use asses!
>
> Although Dan claims 3ABN as his "baby," we are not willing to equate 3ABN with Dan Shelton himself. Much of the programmin on 3ABN is produced independently of Dan and could easily be shown through other channels as well. (And some of it is.)
>
> As for Linda -- I trust no one is claiming perfection for her. If she didn't always react in the most Christ-like way under provocation, it does nothing to excuse the behavior of Dan Shelton since the divorce.

Thank you Inga, you took the words right from my mouth!

Posted by: roxe Jan 22 2007, 11:09 PM

> QUOTE(inga @ Jan 22 2007, 02:49 PM)
>
> Remember, God can use asses!

thanks for reminding me of that story!

i've been thinking for several weeks now about Nebuchadnezzar's testimony in Daniel 4... talking about how God uses the "basest of men" to be leaders of nations...

"basest of men"... the worst ones possible... the most despicable...

hmmm....

is it possible that could include leadership of other entities besides nations??

Posted by: Ozzie Jan 23 2007, 01:34 AM

> QUOTE(roxe @ Jan 23 2007, 03:09 PM)
>
> "basest of men"... the worst ones possible... the most despicable...
>
> hmmm....
>
> is it possible that could include leadership of other entities besides nations??

I've been wondering about Daniel 4 also. Nebuchadnezzar's initial warning and his refusal to apply it to himself, resulted in him "being driven from men, and did eat grass as oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven, till his hairs were grown like eagles feathers and his nails like birds' claws". Dan.4:33

Such a pity that some people think this could not apply to them.

Posted by: eye witness Jan 24 2007, 03:30 PM

> QUOTE(Ozzie @ Jan 23 2007, 01:34 AM)
>
> I've been wondering about Daniel 4 also. Nebuchadnezzar's initial warning and his refusal to apply it to himself, resulted in him "being driven from men, and did eat grass as oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven, till his hairs were grown like eagles feathers and his nails like birds' claws". Dan.4:33
>
> Such a pity that some people think this could not apply to them.

Looks like Joe is gone.

Posted by: Johann Jan 24 2007, 11:22 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 24 2007, 11:30 PM)
>
> Looks like Joe is gone.

Do you expect he will reeappear in an early resurrection?

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 24 2007, 11:27 PM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jan 24 2007, 09:22 PM)
>
> Do you expect he will reeappear in an early resurrection?

rofl

well, not unless he suddenly becomes 'unbanned'! He was the one that asked to be "removed" from this place.

Posted by: sister Jan 25 2007, 06:49 AM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jan 25 2007, 12:22 AM)
>
> Do you expect he will reeappear in an early resurrection?

Or perhaps a reincarnation? Different computer, different IP number, different identity...OH, NO, NOW THEY WILL KNOW HOW TO DO IT! rofl rofl rofl

Sister

Posted by: wwjd Jan 25 2007, 07:51 PM

> QUOTE(sister @ Jan 25 2007, 06:49 AM)
>
> Or perhaps a reincarnation? Different computer, different IP number, different identity...OH, NO, NOW THEY WILL KNOW HOW TO DO IT! rofl rofl rofl
>
> Sister

Maybe he and Pickle will be reincarnated and come back together....P-I-C-K-L-E WHERE ARE YOU

Posted by: eye witness Jan 25 2007, 09:48 PM

> QUOTE(wwjd @ Jan 25 2007, 07:51 PM)
>
> Maybe he and Pickle will be reincarnated and come back together....P-I-C-K-L-E WHERE ARE YOU

Made too many assumptions do you suppose WWJD? Maybe the statement from ASI opened his eyes a little bit. or realizes he is "in a pickle?"

What do you think the "Linda Team" would say IF the NAD were to make a pro ASI and 3abn statement? Do you think then.. they would discredit the "Church " just as they did ASI ?
... we shall see.

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 25 2007, 10:00 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 25 2007, 07:48 PM)
>
> Made too many assumptions do you suppose WWJD? Maybe the statement from ASI opened his eyes a little bit. or realizes he is "in a pickle?"
>
> What do you think the "Linda Team" would say IF the NAD were to make a pro ASI and 3abn statement? Do you think then.. they would discredit the "Church " just as they did ASI ?
> ... we shall see.

nop (Found it)

ASI discredited themselves in their cowardly way of backing out of something they knew all to well was going to be much more then this ugly divorce and remarriage issue. Why do you think Danny had to hurry and get it on the 3abn site and "explain" it thru HIS eyes what it's all really about?? Because he has so many brainwashed listeners that will just take his word for things (as usual) and not do their own checking on the facts. He will do anythig to cause confusion (sound familiar?) and try to keep those dollars coming in....You can say all that you want, but the emails and facts are out there, the correspondence is out there, people will read it and understand, and you all will be left (once again) looking very decietful and petty. You are beating this drum a little too long and hard and only showing just how completely ingorant you really are. Why don't you do a little reseach of your own and replace some of the brainwashing you have going on in your head.

Posted by: Fran Jan 25 2007, 10:14 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 25 2007, 09:48 PM)
>
> Made too many assumptions do you suppose WWJD? Maybe the statement from ASI opened his eyes a little bit. or realizes he is "in a pickle?"
>
> What do you think the "Linda Team" would say IF the NAD were to make a pro ASI and 3abn statement? Do you think then.. They would discredit the "Church " just as they did ASI ?
> ... we shall see.

No, a Statement will not convince me. However, such a statement would not surprise me either. The church needs to be cleansed too. They better be very careful when making such a statement. Their characters will be in question too.

Nothing will convince me to believe otherwise, except solid proof (pictures) of Linda committing adultery! They can't do that, because Danny has said himself that there was NO ADULTERY! But, then again, he has been quite the master at lies.

A questionable statement from the NAD will not budge my opinion one iota. I noticed your "IF" word. Isn't that what Satan used in tempting Jesus Christ?

If a statement, as you suggest, is forthcoming, it should be challenged to the furthest extent. It will blow this mess wide open. The Review will be bombarded with comments. It will bring this mess right to the forefront, right where it should be, IF this non-existent letter should ever be written.

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 25 2007, 10:47 PM

A statement? What exactly is a statement worth? The price of the paper?

It might be as truthful as "I did not have sex with that woman, Miss Lewinsky..."

☒ rofl

Posted by: Ozzie Jan 27 2007, 05:03 AM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 26 2007, 02:47 PM) ☐
>
> A statement? What exactly is a statement worth? The price of the paper?
>
> It might be as truthful as "I did not have sex with that woman, Miss Lewinsky..."
>
> ☒ rofl

And won't it make as much news as the statement "I did not have sex with THAT woman", when the secular media get on to what is happening at 3ABN. They'll have a field day. Interesting days ahead and a lot of hurt for bewildered people who actually trust DS! ☒ wow.gif

---

116

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ Is Anyone Doing The 3abn Timeline?

Posted by: daylily Jan 25 2007, 08:32 AM

Several posters talked about doing a 3ABN timeline of events to help put various events in perspective to each other. I hope someone can do that. A few events I would like to see on it so I can see the relationships:

1. Danny and Brenda working on the new building late at night
2. Linda and Brenda's trip to Norway-departure and return
3. Where was Danny during this trip?
4. Where was Brandy during this trip
5. The demonic attack that Brenda says happened to her
6. The visit to Linda to try to get her to "confess" so Brenda will be left alone
7. When Linda left her home the first time due to harassment or whatever
8. Brenda introduces her husband on a live-air program as "the best thing that ever happened to me". She says everybody wonders if "Miss Brenda has a husband" so she wanted to show that she did.

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Jan 25 2007, 02:00 PM

We began working on a timeline over at Maritime SDA OnLine a short while ago, and we are still working on it.

Posted by: daylily Jan 25 2007, 02:18 PM

Thanks Daryl! I'll go over there and see what you've done.

Posted by: daylily Jan 25 2007, 05:29 PM

Daryl, how do I find the timeline on Maritime?

Posted by: lookin4truth Jan 25 2007, 05:35 PM

Her is the post daylily

http://www.maritime-sda-online.org/forums/ubbthreads.php?ubb=showflat&Number=83471&page=1#Post83471

Posted by: daylily Jan 25 2007, 05:48 PM

Thanks for the link but even though I logged in, maritime tells me access is denied:(

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Jan 25 2007, 06:49 PM

You should have access there.

Let me check your profile there.

Everything looks OK there, but you need to be logged in there in order to access it.

Posted by: daylily Jan 25 2007, 07:03 PM

Daryl, when I log in, the page still says "you are not logged in", no matter how many times I log in.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 25 2007, 07:51 PM

> QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Jan 25 2007, 05:49 PM)
>
> You should have access there.
>
> Let me check your profile there.
>
> Everything looks OK there, but you need to be logged in there in order to access it.

Daryl, I just linked with your in-progress time line thread. Great job! It is a shame that the GC photo link on mylittlefriend's first post isn't working. It would be nice to see if there are any photos of Linda's hands.

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Jan 25 2007, 08:44 PM

daylily,

As I said in my reply to your Anonymous post there, if you are using a firewall, or some type of security settings on your browser, or both, you may need to set your permissions on your firewall/browser to allow you to log into Maritime SDA OnLine.

Others had that type of problem, therefore, that may also be your problem there.

117

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ What Part Do You Play?

Posted by: eye witness Jan 15 2007, 06:06 PM

Hello Family,
It's so wonderful to know that as a Christian Organization/World Wide Church that we have such wonderful technology to share the Good News of Jesus Christ. I have always believed that the best testimony of Jesus Christ is what He has done in our own personal lives. This is what I am here for today friends. To let you know that we are not always safe, saved and sanctification takes a life time. I personally will have to say I have not arrived at sanctification. Jesus is still working on me. I do want to mention though He has done a lot in my life. My past was like the big ship that was filled with trash and waste of the big city. The ship went up for sale and no one wanted it! Why because it was full of trash. Well Jesus still wanted me because He sees people for what is inside not what is outside. I soon will be sending my book out to be edited for Publication so if you find in your heart to assume my identity and dig into my past, you will find trash. Lots of trash. It may be beneficial to wait on the book so that your labor will be more focused on reaching lost souls for Jesus than looking into what I was. Jesus has changed my life. Living the Christian life is my desire and with God's power I can, and with God's mercy and love He picks me up when I fall.
The newsy information on this site has been such an eye opener to me. The many debates are fascinating. Seeing the many printed things that say one thing but in reality they truly say another. I am not here to call out condemnation on anyone for that is my Lords position. I by no means want to play God, or to put my Lord in a box that says He is not capable of completing His plan in this world without me.
For many days, months, and years this debate of this unfortunate divorce of these two individuals, Danny and Linda, has been a public concern, let alone the Ministry in which God set up to reach the souls of His children. My ears have been filled with so many different ideas of men, and women and now I can find that my eyes can be opened with such as well. Many quiet days I have spent. Many quiet moments have I spent in prayer, praying for these two people that were in love. They shared their lives in marriage, which by the way I don't really know of any Cinderella marriages, those are fairy tales. Love is what they had. I believe that love exists to some degree still.
Love is what I have for each of them still. They shared their lives in dedication to the work of the Lord. Laboring daily to reach the Lost and Dying World. The call of the ministry was certain, the marriage was sure but then something happened. WHAT HAPPENED? That is where you stand today. It doesn't take a genius to figure out what happened for we live in the GREAT CONTROVERSEY.
Hearing and seeing all this has made me say, Dear Lord, WHO IS THE JUDGE? I am reminded by His Word that HE is.
From the beginning I have refused to judge, take a side. I have been involved but always behind the scene. Not wanting fame, recognition but reconciliation for both of these parties. Reconciliation can take place many different ways and that is still my desire.
As this saga of 3ABN is concerned I would have to say this is God's ministry. This is God's plan to reach many souls. Just as this chat site can reach many souls. What I see is how we use it determines if it's for good or for bad. Choice! Human choice that is what it's all about. I personally see that the Choice of 3ABN has been to reach lost souls for Jesus. This has been the mission from the beginning and to this day, 3ABN is partially responsibility for me being a Christian today, that is what it's about.
The Danny and Linda did not make the ministry. It is God who makes the ministry. God used Danny. God saw a use for Linda and he see's a use for all that involve themselves with God's plan to reach lost souls.
I will address some of these issues later that have been talked about I will give you what you call threads, I would prefer to call them eye witness accounts. Now how you perceive these are your choice. The focus I hope will be on the items listed and then we can look at ourselves. Do you have it all figured out? Maybe this will create within you a desire to . . . maybe it will give you the desire to let God be God, don't give him instructions just show up for duty. Humbly go to seek and serve for the reaching of lost souls.

Eye Witness

Posted by: Observer Jan 15 2007, 09:19 PM

Re: "I have always believed that the best testimony of Jesus Christ is what He has done in our own personal lives. This is what I am here for today friends."

There are many valid reasons for people to write/post under a penname. I do not criticize those who do such. But, I consider the witness of those who want to testify as to what Christ has done in their lives to be ineffective if they write under a penname.

NOTE: My real name is listed in this post, as well as my other posts here in BSDA.

Posted by: eye witness Jan 15 2007, 11:11 PM

> QUOTE(Observer @ Jan 15 2007, 09:19 PM)
>
> Re: "I have always believed that the best testimony of Jesus Christ is what He has done in our own personal lives. This is what I am here for today friends."
>
> There are many valid reasons for people to write/post under a penname. I do not criticize those who do such. But, I consider the witness of those who want to testify as to what Christ has done in their lives to be ineffective if they write under a penname.
>
> NOTE: My real name is listed in this post, as well as my other posts here in BSDA.

Gregory I am not trying to hide anything but at the present I have to consider my family and those around me. I am seeing that people are being quick to do things that just don't make much sense. I am seeing people's personal information such as my friends being post and used in a most absurd way. My friend has been close to Linda through much of this in the beginning. She has had compassion on Linda and has never took aside. Then poof, guess what, her email shows up on this site. Now she is assuming that Linda's small group of friends, some of them are stabbing Linda in the back as they act like they are helping her. Maybe someday you will know me and you will know that God has worked miracles in my life. God is good and He sees us through. He will be glorified in the end!
Eye Witness

Posted by: Observer Jan 16 2007, 04:58 AM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 15 2007, 10:11 PM)
>
> Gregory I am not trying to hide anything but at the present I have to consider my family and those around me. I am seeing that people are being quick to do things that just don't make much sense. I am seeing people's personal information such as my friends being post and used in a most absurd > way. My friend has been close to Linda through much of this in the beginning. She has had compassion on Linda and has never took aside. Then poof, guess what, her email shows up on this site. Now she is assuming that Linda's small group of friends, some of them are stabbing Linda in the back as they act like they are helping her. Maybe someday you will know me and you will know that God has worked miracles in my life. God is good and He sees us through. He will be glorified in the end!

> Eye Witness

Again, you may have a very valid reason for writing under a penname. I do not criticize you for doing so. But, you should understand that doing such blunts any witness that you might have in regard to a personal testimony as to what God has done in your life.

Posted by: ArchangelOne Jan 19 2007, 02:00 PM

Can't we all just forgive and forget and let live. The final judge is God, and I do not presume to be God!! Neither should any of you!

Posted by: Bystander Jan 19 2007, 02:30 PM

> QUOTE(ArchangelOne @ Jan 19 2007, 02:00 PM) ☐
>
> Can't we all just forgive and forget and let live. The final judge is God, and I do not presume to be God!! Neither should any of you!

Archangelone, you must have truly been sent from heaven

Thank you ☒

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jan 19 2007, 02:35 PM

> QUOTE(ArchangelOne @ Jan 19 2007, 02:00 PM) ☐
>
> Can't we all just forgive and forget and let live. The final judge is God, and I do not presume to be God!! Neither should any of you!

Forgetting and forgiving didn't stop the Catholic Church from losing a billion dollars in child mostestation litigation.

The final judge may be God, but until then, we build jails.

Pete

Posted by: Bystander Jan 19 2007, 02:35 PM

> QUOTE(Observer @ Jan 16 2007, 04:58 AM) ☐
>
> Again, you may have a very valid reason for writing under a penname. I do not criticize you for doing so. But, you should understand that doing such blunts any witness that you might have in regard to a personal testimony as to what God has done in your life.

Greg, that is a very unfair statement. There has been many testimonies written in books, devotionals, ect.. that have been written by persons unknown. Does that take away from what our precious Lord has done for them?
Many did not know who Jesus was when he went from town to town preaching and teaching but that obviously did not take away from the words he had to share since he babtized thousands.
You certainly have a right to your opinion. This is just something to think on

---

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 19 2007, 02:40 PM

> QUOTE(ArchangelOne @ Jan 19 2007, 01:00 PM) ☐
>
> Can't we all just forgive and forget and let live. The final judge is God, and I do not presume to be God!! Neither should any of you!

Thus saith the Lord through his servent Paul:
1 Corintians 5:9-13
9 I have written you in my letter not to associate with sexually immoral people— 10 not at all meaning the people of this world who are immoral, or the greedy and swindlers, or idolaters. In that case you would have to leave this world. 11 But now I am writing you that you must not associate with anyone who calls himself a brother but is sexually immoral or greedy, an idolater or a slanderer, a drunkard or a swindler. With such a man do not even eat.

12 What business is it of mine to judge those outside the church? Are you not to judge those inside? 13 God will judge those outside. "Expel the wicked man from among you."

Posted by: Bystander Jan 19 2007, 02:54 PM

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jan 19 2007, 02:35 PM) ☐
>
> Forgetting and forgiving didn't stop the Catholic Church from losing a billion dollars in child mostestation litigation.
>
> The final judge may be God, but until then, we build jails.
>
> Pete

Pete, again, back to the same subject? Did you not read my replies to you that had nothing to do with the pretend molestation investigations. Please quit beating a dead horse and address my comments that it has been proven that 3abn is not under investigation by the FBI the IRS or any other licensed Law Enforcement Agency. This should be the end of the rumors of mishandled money, embezzlement, no accountability for finances, ect ect ect

[quote name='PeacefullyBewildered' date='Jan 19 2007, 02:40 PM' post='171187']
Thus saith the Lord through his servent Paul:
1 Corintians 5:9-13

Archangel1
Don't be afraid.....they have lots of bark but no bite.

EYEWITNESS, thank you for your fair and humble opinion. They are few and far between on this forum. I for one, can see the sincerity in your heart and it is much appreciated.

Posted by: sister Jan 19 2007, 03:09 PM

Bystander, why did you say "...the pretend molestation investigations". There are a number of Tommy's victims that have come forth with their allegations against him. These are real people who have publicly told what Tommy has done to them. Where does pretend enter into this situation? Answer this question for me, "Why will Valerie Walker not allow her son to spend the night at the home of her father, Tommy Shelton?" What does she know that you are trying to hide? Would you allow Tommy to babysit your son, oh sorry, you have only one child, a grown daughter. Would she allow Uncle Tommy to babysit your grandbabies? We both know the answer to that question, a resounding, "NO!"

Sister

Posted by: lookin4truth Jan 19 2007, 03:21 PM

Sister,

****

****

Thank you Sister for editing your post. Because you took this action, I deleted my correction.

Posted by: Bystander Jan 19 2007, 03:30 PM

> QUOTE(sister @ Jan 19 2007, 03:09 PM)
>
> Bystander, why did you say "...the pretend molestation investigations". There are a number of Tommy's victims that have come forth with their allegations against him. These are real people who have publicly told what Tommy has done to them. Where does pretend enter into this situation? Answer this question for me, "Why will Valerie Walker not allow her son, Rick, to spend the night at the home of her father, Tommy Shelton?" What does she know that you are trying to hide? Would you allow Tommy to babysit your son, oh sorry, you have only one child, a grown daughter. Would she allow Uncle Tommy to babysit your grandbabies? We both know the answer to that question, a resounding, "NO!"
>
> Sister

Sister, it's simple. The reason I said pretend investigation is because it is being done by 2 pretend investigators. Bob Pickle and Gailon Joy.
Now everything you just said is again saying that I am Danny Shelton or his spokesperson. I AM NOT AS I HAVE STATED IN ANOTHER THREAD. Again, Calvin, this shows what a one sided administrator you are not to warn sister on this identification game. By her quote that I have 1 grown daughter and referring to "your grandbabies" She is PLAINLY trying to identify me to the world as Danny Shelton. That is bad enough but, SHE IS WRONG. So once again you are planting false seeds of destruction.
Shame on you

Posted by: sister Jan 19 2007, 03:38 PM

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Jan 19 2007, 04:30 PM)
>
> Sister, it's simple. The reason I said pretend investigation is because it is being done by 2 pretend investigators. Bob Pickle and Gailon Joy.
> Now everything you just said is again saying that I am Danny Shelton or his spokesperson. I AM NOT AS I HAVE STATED IN ANOTHER THREAD. Again, Calvin, this shows what a one sided administrator you are not to warn sister on this identification game. By her quote that I have 1 grown daughter and referring to "your grandbabies" She is PLAINLY trying to identify me to the world as Danny Shelton. That is bad enough but, SHE IS WRONG. So once again you are planting false seeds of destruction.
> Shame on you

Shame on you, Bystander, you are ignoring those innocent boys who were molested as children by Tommy Shelton and have now as adults made their allegations public. Under the circumstances of these allegations, why would Danny Shelton allow his brother to work directly with children on Kid's Time and why would you ignore such a serious situation? Have you no compassion for the victims?

Posted by: Ralph Jan 19 2007, 06:11 PM

> QUOTE(sister @ Jan 19 2007, 02:38 PM)
>
> Shame on you, Bystander, you are ignoring those innocent boys who were molested as children by Tommy Shelton and have now as adults made their allegations public. Under the circumstances of these allegations, why would Danny Shelton allow his brother to work directly with children on Kid's Time and why would you ignore such a serious situation? Have you no compassion for the victims?

Have no worry Sister. Everything done at 3abn is closely scrutinized and OK'd by the board. (Didn't Danny tell us so?) Even Linda's daughter's allegations are just "a pack of lies". Yagotta remember that none of the (well-coached) staff even mentioned any of these incidents. So everything is OK.

Please, Sister, just join the 3abn family and relax and let the possibility of abuse continue. Isn't this what good Catholic folk should have done?

Posted by: Richard Sherwin Jan 19 2007, 06:46 PM

I agree, this is the best policy. We should just let people get on with their lives, I mean just look at Timothy McVey, what foolishness locking him up and putting him to death for his crimes. And those Catholic priests accused of molesting little kids? Just forgive them, forget them and let them live out their lives the way they want to. And what a shame that we imprisoned James Earl Ray. Lets just be nice to people and let God judge them.

Richard

> QUOTE(ArchangelOne @ Jan 19 2007, 03:00 PM) ☐
>
> Can't we all just forgive and forget and let live. The final judge is God, and I do not presume to be God!! Neither should any of you!

Posted by: Clay Jan 19 2007, 06:56 PM

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Jan 19 2007, 03:30 PM) ☐
>
> Sister, it's simple. The reason I said pretend investigation is because it is being done by 2 pretend investigators. Bob Pickle and Gailon Joy.
> Now everything you just said is again saying that I am Danny Shelton or his spokesperson. I AM NOT AS I HAVE STATED IN ANOTHER THREAD. Again, Calvin, this shows what a one sided administrator you are not to warn sister on this identification game. By her quote that I have 1 grown daughter and referring to "your grandbabies" She is PLAINLY trying to identify me to the world as Danny Shelton. That is bad enough but, SHE IS WRONG. So once again you are planting false seeds of destruction.
> Shame on you

This is Calvin's place he can do what he wishes... what makes you think we will always be fair? as for the other, its clear you are a Danny apologist....... tiresome.....

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 19 2007, 09:32 PM

I remember several years ago when a postal worker from W. Frankfort was caught with his 'hand in the cookie jar' so to speak. He was stealing 3ABN's mail for the cash money inside. A local television station came out to interview Dan about the incident and asked him what he would like to see as an outcome - how he would be satisfied. Those of you who remember the story know that Dan's answer was simply that he wanted justice (As in - justice under man's law - arrested, convicted, etc.) to be served.

Now let's stop and think about this...

We have a man stealing from ministry - using it for personal gain.
Man gets caught.
Owner wants justice.

Years later Owner uses ministry for personal gain.

Owner gets caught.
Owner and supporters want to ignore it.

We could argue this fact by saying that one man was from the ministry and therefore called by God, therefore his actions must be sanctioned, right? We could say that, but it would just be wrong. Oh, oh, oh so wrong.

This thread is entitled "What part do you play?"

I answer, you're either the one giving, or the one taking. You can't be both.

Posted by: ex3ABNemployee Jan 19 2007, 10:44 PM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 19 2007, 09:32 PM)
>
> I remember several years ago when a postal worker from W. Frankfort was caught with his 'hand in the cookie jar' so to speak. He was stealing 3ABN's mail for the cash money inside. A local television station came out to interview Dan about the incident and asked him what he would like to see as an outcome - how he would be satisfied. Those of you who remember the story know that Dan's answer was simply that he wanted justice (As in - justice under man's law - arrested, convicted, etc.) to be served.
>
> Now let's stop and think about this...
>
> We have a man stealing from ministry - using it for personal gain.
> Man gets caught.
> Owner wants justice.
>
> Years later Owner uses ministry for personal gain.
> Owner gets caught.
> Owner and supporters want to ignore it.
>
> We could argue this fact by saying that one man was from the ministry and therefore called by God, therefore his actions must be sanctioned, right? We could say that, but it would just be wrong. Oh, oh, oh so wrong.
> This thread is entitled "What part do you play?"
>
> I answer, you're either the one giving, or the one taking. You can't be both.

Very good point, HOTY! I had forgotten all about that.

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 19 2007, 11:40 PM

> QUOTE(ex3ABNemployee @ Jan 19 2007, 11:44 PM)
>
> Very good point, HOTY! I had forgotten all about that.

Do you remember what happened to the guy?

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 20 2007, 12:16 AM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 19 2007, 09:40 PM) ☐
>
> Do you remember what happened to the guy?

tell us ☒ gossip

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 20 2007, 12:54 AM

> QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jan 20 2007, 01:16 AM) ☐
>
> tell us ☒ gossip

That really was a question. I don't remember the outcome...

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 20 2007, 12:58 AM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 19 2007, 10:54 PM) ☐
>
> That really was a question. I don't remember the outcome...

opps!
well, someone must recall?

Posted by: ex3ABNemployee Jan 20 2007, 01:31 AM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 19 2007, 11:40 PM) ☐

> Do you remember what happened to the guy?

Actually, no. I was thinking he got some jail time, but I can't be sure about it. I'll do a little "research."

We actually caught the same guy stealing from our store about 6 months before that happened. He ditched the item before the police got there, so we couldn't prosecute.

Once he knew he was off the hook, he got mouthy with me and said, "I'll never come in this store again!" I just looked at him and said, "You got that right!"

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jan 20 2007, 12:40 PM

> QUOTE(ArchangelOne @ Jan 19 2007, 04:00 PM)
>
> Can't we all just forgive and forget and let live. The final judge is God, and I do not presume to be God!! Neither should any of you!

> QUOTE(Bystander @ Jan 19 2007, 04:30 PM)
>
> Archangelone, you must have truly been sent from heaven
> Thank you

I have said it before on this board. I have no embarrassment about it. I have been molested as a child. I have went to the therapy sessions and delt with my shame, turmoil, and anger. I have finally forgiven and moved on.

Now.

How about you "sacrificing" your child, grandchild, niece or nephew - so we can just "forgive and forget and let live..."

Yeah.... I thought so. You wouldn't let your child be sacrificed...but you want to sacrifice others?

HYP-O-CRIT!

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 21 2007, 04:33 PM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 19 2007, 09:40 PM)
>
> Do you remember what happened to the guy?

Well, I have the "rest of the story" on this, if anyone is interested. This is accurate as I have it from a credible source (yes, they do exist!!).

Here's what I was told by my friend.

"DS went to the postal inspector and begged him not to investigate, they wanted to be forgiving, did not want a lot of publicity, etc. The truth is that they were also going to check the books at 3abn, for part of the investigation. See how much money would be missing from the donations, etc. Truth be known, there is/was/are 3abn employees who like to "open" the mail, screen it before the monies are sent to the treasurers office.....

Okay I think you get the picture!
So the postal inspector dropped the investigation at ds request."

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jan 21 2007, 06:29 PM

Umph!

Posted by: Snoopy Jan 21 2007, 06:42 PM

> QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jan 21 2007, 04:33 PM)
>
> Well, I have the "rest of the story" on this, if anyone is interested. This is accurate as I have it from a credible source (yes, they do exist!!).
>
> Here's what I was told by my friend.
>
> "DS went to the postal inspector and begged him not to investigate, they wanted to be forgiving, did not want a lot of publicity, etc. The truth is that they were also going to check the books at 3abn, for part of the investigation. See how much money would be missing from the donations, etc. Truth be known, there is/was/are 3abn employees who like to "open" the mail, screen it before the monies are sent to the treasurers office.....
>
> Okay I think you get the picture!
> So the postal inspector dropped the investigation at ds request."

I hope they (3ABN) don't do it that way anymore... I don't trust anybody enough to send cash through the mail...

Posted by: watchbird Jan 21 2007, 07:05 PM

> QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jan 21 2007, 05:33 PM)
>
> Well, I have the "rest of the story" on this, if anyone is interested. This is accurate as I have it from a credible source (yes, they do exist!!).

> Here's what I was told by my friend.
>
> "DS went to the postal inspector and begged him not to investigate, they wanted to be forgiving, did not want a lot of publicity, etc. The truth is that they were also going to check the books at 3abn, for part of the investigation. See how much money would be missing from the donations, etc. Truth be known, there is/was/are 3abn employees who like to "open" the mail, screen it before the monies are sent to the treasurers office.....
>
> Okay I think you get the picture!
> So the postal inspector dropped the investigation at ds request."

I think one can find a little more detail than this in the "Unauthorized History" threads that are pinned at the top.

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 21 2007, 08:23 PM

> QUOTE(Snoopy @ Jan 21 2007, 07:42 PM)
>
> I hope they (3ABN) don't do it that way anymore... I don't trust anybody enough to send cash through the mail...

There is always some older person that will send in cash...

Posted by: Johann Jan 21 2007, 09:01 PM

> QUOTE(ArchangelOne @ Jan 19 2007, 10:00 PM)
>
> Can't we all just forgive and forget and let live. The final judge is God, and I do not presume to be God!! Neither should any of you!

Last night we were told on a local TV station here about a sex molestor of many boys who got 5 years in prison for his evil deeds. After two and a half years he was released from prison. Why? He had been given treatments, he had asked for forgiveness. He had spent quite a bit of his time in prison renewing his Christian commitments. He openly confessed his love for Jesus, and that he would let God rule in his life in the future.

This man was barely out of prison when he started his old secret methoods of luring boys to him and he was back in his old evil ways. A TV crew followed him and caught him, or he would have managed to destroy many more boys age 9 to 13.

Where had this young man started his secret career of destroyng innocent boys? His church had given him a job as a child and youth counsellor and trainer. He gained the confidence of the boys and their parents at camps and sports events. . . .

Then after serving but 2½ years in prison it was suggested that now it was time to forgive and forget the slips of this fine Chrisitan young man. What were the results?

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 21 2007, 09:06 PM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jan 21 2007, 08:01 PM) ☐
>
> Last night we were told on a local TV statioon here about a sex molestor of many boys who got 5 years in prison for his evil deeds. After two and a half years he was released from prison? Why? He had been given treatments, he had asked for forgiveness. He had spent quite a bit of his time in prison renewing his Christian commitments. He openly confessed his love for Jesus, and that he would led God rule in his life in the future.
>
> This man was barely out of prison when he started his old secret methoods of luring boys to him and he was back in his old evil ways. A TV crew followed him and caught him, or he would have managed to destroy many more boys age 9 to 13.
>
> Where had this young man started his secret career of destroyng innocent boys? His church had given him a job as a child and youth counsellor and trainer. He gained the confidence of the boys and their parents at camps and sports events. . . .
>
> Then after serving but 2½ years in prison it was suggested that now it was time to forgive and forget the slips of this fine Chrisitan young man. What were the results?

I'm thankful that the TV crew exposed his behavior before he robbed more children of their innocence.

Posted by: Johann Jan 24 2007, 11:39 PM

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Jan 22 2007, 05:06 AM) ☐
>
> I'm thankful that the TV crew exposed his behavior before he robbed more children of their innocence.

What can we do - against such huge obstacles - to prevent such things happening under the "roof" of ministries claiming to be a channel of truth?

Posted by: Green Cochoa Jan 25 2007, 07:49 AM

> QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jan 20 2007, 12:40 PM) ☐
>
> I have said it before on this board. I have no embarrassment about it. I have been molested as a child. I have went to the therapy sessions and delt with my shame, turmoil, and anger. I have finally forgiven and moved on.

I can't pass this one by. The point here is of utmost importance to anyone who has ever been in a situation of abuse. You do NOT "move on" until you have forgiven. Obviously, actions must still be taken to prevent the perpetrator from further injurious action towards oneself or others. But IF one finds himself or herself in the pit of hatred from being at the receiving end of such abuse, there is ONLY one way out of the pit--forgiveness. And that forgiveness, in many cases, is beyond our human capacity. We must ask the Lord to help us. For many, it is not only impossible to forgive, but the hatred erases any desire to do so. Yet that perpetrator is still conquering his or her victims until the day that victim is able to forgive. The "conquering" comes in the forms of shame, guilt, timidity, weakness, anger, resentment, hatred, self-deprecation, depression, low self-esteem, etc.

One must not see forgiveness as in any way lessening the sin or guilt of the perpetrator. It is, however, a necessary step toward the victim's own happiness. FOR YOUR OWN SAKE, forgive. And God asks us to do so because He knows how to make us happy. If you cannot do so, ask God to help. He will.

So, Princess, I know a little of the difficulty in forgiving someone given such circumstances. Good for you for having done so! (Each person Tommy has injured should also forgive...not for him, but for themselves.)

Printable Version of Topic

118

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ What We Know As Truth So Far

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 1 2007, 12:11 PM

Happy New Year to all of you!

On this first day of 2007, I submit this thread topic to you as a sort of clearinghouse, a recap of information. Not just any information, not speculation but what actual truth we know and have discovered on this 3abn forum journey so far.

The types of information that would be acceptable here are:

1. First hand experience that you would feel comfortable sharing before God and in a court of law.
2. Information that can be verified with documentation.
3. Information that has been established as true by all parties involved, no matter how small.

When you submit information, you must also submit the documentation or type of verification you have or your personal statement that it is from your first hand experience.

If you know someone with documentation or verifiable first hand information that would be pertinent to this list, please encourage them to become members here on BSDA and share it with us.

As submissions are verified as items of truth, it would be nice to be able to list them in an area close to the beginning of this thread accompanied by the link to the initial submission.

To refute information posted as truth you must/should be able to verifiably demonstrate its inaccuracy.

I would simply ask that any frivolous challenges be avoided. I have edited out the final part that Calvin disagrees with. As he states, opinions are always welcome here.

Posted by: calvin Jan 1 2007, 12:39 PM

Opinions are always welcome here so a topic where only factual information is acceptable is something I would not enforce. As we have seen here, what one considers factual are often disputed.

It is my opinion that we have sliced and diced this story enough for people to form their own opinion as to what is truth without anymore summary or pinned topics.

Posted by: Skyhook Jan 1 2007, 02:44 PM

If I recall correctly, Gaillon Joy said that if ASI, 3abn and Linda did not come to an agreement about a fair and open investigation of all the facts, by an impartial panel, by Jan. 2007, he would go public with the results of his investigation. I assume "going public" means media attention. Is there any new information about Mr. Joy's plans?

Posted by: Observer Jan 1 2007, 04:11 PM

> QUOTE(Skyhook @ Jan 1 2007, 01:44 PM) ☐
>
> If I recall correctly, Gaillon Joy said that if ASI, 3abn and Linda did not come to an agreement about a fair and open investigation of all the facts, by an impartial panel, by Jan. 2007, he would go public with the results of his investigation. I assume "going public" means media attention. Is there any new information about Mr. Joy's plans?

Several of us involved in these discussions believe that we are near a decision, whatever that decision may be. You will note that Mr. Joy' statement referenced January, and did not specifically state January 1. I personally expect that prior to the middle of January we will either be able to announce that an agreement has been reached in which ASI will mediate, or an announcement will be made that there has been a failure to reach such an agreement.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 2 2007, 08:17 PM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Jan 1 2007, 11:39 AM) ☐
>
> Opinions are always welcome here so a topic where only factual information is acceptable is something I would not enforce. As we have seen here, what one considers factual are often disputed.
>
> It is my opinion that we have sliced and diced this story enough for people to form their own opinion as to what is truth without anymore summary or pinned topics.

Hi folks.

In a PM from Calvin yesterday he assured me that my topic was not inappropriate, only that he would not enforce facts only in the way I had requested. He further said that I could speak to Clay and PrincessDi to see if they would be willing to do such. (Clay, Di, ya interested?)

I received a PM from Aletheia telling me she thought the thread was a good idea and was sorry that it got shot down. It has not been shot down, but it sure shows how well respected the opinion of the owner of this site is!

I have asked Calvin if he could come over and reassure everyone that it is okay to carry on with the topic.

Thanks,
PeacefullyBewildered

Posted by: calvin Jan 2 2007, 09:17 PM

PB is correct. I was giving my opinion as a members, not wearing my administrator hat. Also, I have no interest personally in moderating the topic as PB requested. Every topic has to live or die on its own merit. So if there is an interest people will respond accordingly.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 2 2007, 09:44 PM

Thanks Calvin.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 3 2007, 07:35 AM

Since there haven't been any submissions to the list to date, could we perhaps discuss if this is a worthwhile exercise?

Posted by: Pickle Jan 3 2007, 08:37 AM

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Jan 3 2007, 07:35 AM)
>
> Since there haven't been any submissions to the list to date, could we perhaps discuss if this is a worthwhile exercise?

Feel free to copy and paste anything I've written that you think qualifies.

My hands are full at present, so I'll have to pass on doing it myself.

Posted by: awesumtenor Jan 3 2007, 08:59 AM

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Jan 3 2007, 08:35 AM)
>
> Since there haven't been any submissions to the list to date, could we perhaps discuss if this is a worthwhile exercise?

I say no; it would only be yet another regurgitation of that which is already been posted; there's a reason the forum software has search capability... and all of the information has been collected in a single sub-forum rather than being spread hither and yon...

What you are asking is an even further distillation to soundbite level, which I think would not help one see the how and why of the various positions found in this area. This is a 3 year on going conversation where the journey from the outset to now and the opinions expressed matter...not to mention the issue of who determines what has been 'proven'? There are some who will not believe it until they see the nail prints and thrust their hand in His side... even in the face of first hand testimony... so as far as they are concerned the issue is agnostic; it's unproven and unproveable... or at least that's their story and they are sticking to it..

Just my $0.02

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: watchbird Jan 3 2007, 10:49 AM

> QUOTE(awesumtenor @ Jan 3 2007, 09:59 AM)
>
> I say no; it would only be yet another regurgitation of that which is already been posted; there's a reason the forum software has search capability... and all of the information has been collected in a single sub-forum rather than being spread hither and yon...
>
> What you are asking is an even further distillation to soundbite level, which I think would not help one see the how and why of the various positions found in this area. This is a 3 year on going conversation where the journey from the outset to now and the opinions expressed matter...not to mention the issue of who determines what has been 'proven'? There are some who will not believe it until they see the nail prints and thrust their hand in His side... even in the face of first hand testimony... so as far as they are concerned the issue is agnostic; it's unproven and unproveable... or at least that's their story and they are sticking to it..
>
> Just my $0.02
>
> In His service,
> Mr. J

I agree with Mr. J. Those who come here seriously looking for information would want to see all that has been said from the beginning. Those who are not seriously looking for information would not believe what was said in one special thread anyhow.

We are at the stage where the main thing for most of us to do is to develop patience as we wait and see the results of the information that has already been disseminated... and to see what new things are being brought by current researchers. Repetitions of things already said only distract and frustrate the person who is looking for information and gets weary of bumping into the same things over and over again.

Posted by: sister Jan 3 2007, 11:11 AM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jan 3 2007, 11:49 AM)

> I agree with Mr. J. Those who come here seriously looking for information would want to see all that has been said from the beginning. Those who are not seriously looking for information would not believe what was said in one special thread anyhow.
>
> We are at the stage where the main thing for most of us to do is to develop patience as we wait and see the results of the information that has already been disseminated... and to see what new things are being brought by current researchers. Repetitions of things already said only distract and frustrate the person who is looking for information and gets weary of bumping into the same things over and over again.

I agree with both Mr. J. and Watchbird. In addition to frustrating the person who is looking for information and gets weary of bunping into the same things over and over again, it is also frustrating to answer the same type of questions over and over again. I would suggest that newbies in the area of 3ABN do their homework first and read through the threads or use the search function as was suggested.

Sister

Posted by: Pickle Jan 3 2007, 11:17 AM

Just to give another side of things, I'd say that something like the Factual Information forum at Maritime is helpful to folks who want to see the facts without a lot of bantering back and forth.

But whatever. Things are moving pretty fast these days anyway.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 3 2007, 11:30 AM

Mr. J, WB, Sister, Pickle,

All of you make excellent points and I defer to those of you who have the wisdom and experience of longer membership here on the 3abn forum.

We will let this topic slide onto the next page or so and get about the business of helping newbies learn to search the forum for themselves.

Pickle, you are right. Things seem to be progressing quickly now, anyway. Would you mind posting a link to the Factual Information forum on Maritime for those who might be interested?

Posted by: Pickle Jan 3 2007, 11:39 AM

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Jan 3 2007, 11:30 AM)
>
> Pickle, you are right. Things seem to be progressing quickly now, anyway. Would you mind posting a link to the Factual Information forum on Maritime for those who might be interested?

There will be links to it throughout my more recent correspondence with Danny.

Here's a link: http://www.maritime-sda-online.org/forums/ubbthreads.php?ubb=postlist&Board=107&page=1

Posted by: inga Jan 3 2007, 09:32 PM

PB, Bob made a suggestion:

> QUOTE(Pickle @ Jan 3 2007, 09:37 AM)
>
> Feel free to copy and paste anything I've written that you think qualifies.
>
> My hands are full at present, so I'll have to pass on doing it myself.

If you felt so inclined, you could briefly summarize some facts as you see them and include the URLs to the places where the evidence is posted. Many folks would find that helpful, I'm sure.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 4 2007, 11:11 AM

> QUOTE(inga @ Jan 3 2007, 08:32 PM) ☐
>
> PB, Bob made a suggestion:
> If you felt so inclined, you could briefly summarize some facts as you see them and include the URLs to the places where the evidence is posted. Many folks would find that helpful, I'm sure.

Alas, my plate is similarly full as well right now. If others would like to that would be great.
PB

Posted by: calvin Jan 4 2007, 01:35 PM

Summary Truth So Far:

Danny/Linda divorce
Linda fired
Danny remarries

Everything else is speculation, he said/she said, who shot John.

See that was easy.

Posted by: HUGGINS130 Jan 5 2007, 08:35 PM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Jan 4 2007, 01:35 PM) ☐
>
> Summary Truth So Far:
>
> Danny/Linda divorce
> Linda fired
> Danny remarries
>
> Everything else is speculation, he said/she said, who shot John.
>
> See that was easy.

it's who shot J.R.

Posted by: Treniece Jan 20 2007, 04:05 PM

I don't know what to believe.

Posted by: watchbird Jan 20 2007, 04:47 PM

> QUOTE(Treniece @ Jan 20 2007, 05:05 PM)
>
> I don't know what to believe.

Read from the beginning... starting with the pinned items... and go patiently through the "guided tour" to the "unauthorized history" threads. Keep track of "who's who" among the posters as you go. Go way back to the beginning... and work your way through the posts from the very beginning, notice how others also did not "know what to believe". Watch as they came to a decision point. Examine the evidence which brought them there. If you are really serious about learning, print it all off and work your way through it in hard copy where you can more easily sort and compare one things with another. And along the way you will come to understand that it is really not so simple as Calvin summarized.

It will not happen in a day for there is way too much reading material here to cover in a day. But gradually you will come to a conviction point in your own mind as to whom to believe and whom to disbelieve.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jan 20 2007, 05:00 PM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jan 20 2007, 04:47 PM)
>
> Read from the beginning... starting with the pinned items... and go patiently through the "guided tour" to the "unauthorized history" threads. Keep track of "who's who" among the posters as you go. Go way back to the beginning... and work your way through the posts from the very beginning, notice how others also did not "know what to believe". Watch as they came to a decision point. Examine the evidence which brought them there. If you are really serious about learning, print it all off and work your way through it in hard copy where you can more easily sort and compare one things with another. And along the way you will come to understand that it is really not so simple as Calvin summarized.
>
> It will not happen in a day for there is way too much reading material here to cover in a day. But gradually you will come to a conviction point in your own mind as to whom to believe and whom to disbelieve.

There are more documents printed at http://www.save3abn.com

You may want to keep track of "who's who" in those documents, too, with little notes in a notebook.

Posted by: Snoopy Jan 20 2007, 05:37 PM

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jan 20 2007, 05:00 PM)

> There are more documents printed at http://www.save3abn.com
>
> You may want to keep track of "who's who" in those documents, too, with little notes in a notebook.

By any chance has anyone created a timeline of events? I have learned in my work that such a visual tool is often helpful. I'm sure all here are very busy and not sitting around looking for something to do. But if anyone who knows enough of the story is ever bored it would sure help me put it all together! Maybe I'll start my own... There is software that does this kind of stuff. In the meantime, I am still reading...!!

|-----------|-----------|-----------|---|--------|-----------|---|--------|

'01 '02 '03 '04 '05 '06 '07

June '04 March '06
D&L divorce D&B marry

> QUOTE(Snoopy @ Jan 20 2007, 05:35 PM)
>
> By any chance has anyone created a timeline of events? I have learned in my work that such a visual tool is often helpful. I'm sure all here are very busy and not sitting around looking for something to do. But if anyone who knows enough of the story is ever bored it would sure help me put it all together! Maybe I'll start my own... There is software that does this kind of stuff. In the meantime, I am still reading...!!
>
> |-----------|-----------|-----------|---|--------|-----------|---|--------|
>
> '01 '02 '03 '04 '05 '06 '07
>
> June '04 March '06
> D&L divorce D&B marry

OK - I have formatting problems... but you get the idea? (Sorry - I am still learning how to use all the features here

---

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 20 2007, 05:44 PM

A timeline, as you suggest, would be an interesting tool!

Posted by: Chimaz Jan 20 2007, 09:57 PM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Jan 4 2007, 11:35 AM)
>
> Summary Truth So Far:
>
> Danny/Linda divorce
> Linda fired
> Danny remarries

> Everything else is speculation, he said/she said, who shot John.
>
> See that was easy.

That's it! That's all?

What about all the allegations of child abuse?

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 20 2007, 10:07 PM

> QUOTE(Chimaz @ Jan 20 2007, 08:57 PM)
>
> That's it! That's all?
>
> What about all the allegations of child abuse?

Chimaz, I believe that is Calvin's personal summary of what has been verified so far.

Posted by: eye witness Jan 21 2007, 08:06 AM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Jan 4 2007, 01:35 PM)
>
> Summary [/b]Truth So Far:
>
> Danny/Linda divorce
> Linda fired
> Danny remarries
>
> Everything else is speculation, he said/she said, who shot John.
>
> See that was easy.

You got it Calvin. The rest of this is just [b]gossip even Pickle said "all he has is a title to a car". Probably it would be helpful if you would add a rule to your site No Speculations. Of course it may not be so popular then.

Posted by: watchbird Jan 21 2007, 08:50 AM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 21 2007, 09:06 AM)
>
> You got it Calvin. The rest of this is just gossip even Pickle said "all he has is a title to a car". Probably it would be helpful if you would add a rule to your site No Speculations. Of course it may > not be so popular then.

Calvin was summarizing what is fact about Danny's firing of Linda and divorce and remarriage. He did not speak to the multitudes of others who have been summarily dismissed... either by firing or by pressure to resign.

Nor did he speak to a number of other areas where there is documentation of wrongdoing. Legal documents are not the only "proof" that is required by scriptural standards... there is also the witness of two or three people.... and there are a long list of things for which we have the witness of many more than two or three.

But... you would dearly love to have all of the focus put on Linda, wouldn't you... this has been the ploy from the beginning. Keep all the eyes on the red(headed) herring, and ... the nose being in the close proximity to the eyes as it is.... they won't small the stench from the real carcasses.

Sorry... that dog don't hunt in these parts.

Posted by: eye witness Jan 21 2007, 08:56 AM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jan 21 2007, 08:50 AM)
>
> Calvin was summarizing what is fact about Danny's firing of Linda and divorce and remarriage. He did not speak to the multitudes of others who have been summarily dismissed... either by firing or by pressure to resign.
>
> Nor did he speak to a number of other areas where there is documentation of wrongdoing. Legal documents are not the only "proof" that is required by scriptural standards... there is also the witness of two or three people.... and there are a long list of things for which we have the witness of many more than two or three.
>
> But... you would dearly love to have all of the focus put on Linda, wouldn't you... this has been the ploy from the beginning. Keep all the eyes on the red(headed) herring, and ... the nose being in the close proximity to the eyes as it is.... they won't small the stench from the real carcasses.
>
> Sorry... that dog don't hunt in these parts.

I have been shown that much sin has resulted from idleness. Active hands and minds do not find time to heed every temptation which the enemy suggests, but idle hands and brains are all ready for Satan to control. The mind, when not properly occupied, dwells upon improper things. 1T395

Posted by: watchbird Jan 21 2007, 09:12 AM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 21 2007, 09:56 AM)
>
> I have been shown that much sin has resulted from idleness. Active hands and minds do not find > time to heed every temptation which the enemy suggests, but idle hands and brains are all ready for Satan to control. The mind, when not properly occupied, dwells upon improper things. 1T395

It sounds as though you must be VERY idle.

Posted by: Snoopy Jan 21 2007, 11:00 AM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 21 2007, 08:06 AM) ☐
>
> You got it Calvin. The rest of this is just gossip even Pickle said "all he has is a title to a car". Probably it would be helpful if you would add a rule to your site No Speculations. Of course it may not be so popular then.

Yeah, let's do that. And while we are at it, let's ban all speculation from the media as well. Let's just make it illegal to speculate about anything or anyone. That would surely cut down on all that CNN, Fox Headline News, etc. has to report on...and save us a lot of time.

Posted by: Chimaz Jan 21 2007, 11:02 AM

It would be nice if there were an FAQ to bring new people up to speed. When I read the title to this thread... "What We Know As Truth So Far, Verifiable information on the 3abn situation" I thought voila!

Despite some resistance, this is what we have so far...

> QUOTE(calvin @ Jan 4 2007, 11:35 AM) ☐
>
> Summary Truth So Far:
>
> Danny/Linda divorce
> Linda fired
> Danny remarries
>
> Everything else is speculation, he said/she said, who shot John.
>
> See that was easy.

From my perspective if this is all that stands as the truth so far, and everything else including the allegations of child abuse is speculation, then I'm seriously perplexed by all the other stuff.

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Jan 20 2007, 08:07 PM) ☐
>
> Chimaz, I believe that is Calvin's personal summary of what has been verified so far.

It would be very helpful if we could establish summary of truth that isn't based on he said/she said. If "everything else" as in the "aggregate sum total of all" isn't speculation, then could you be so kind to add to Calvin's three points?

1 - Danny /Linda divorce
2 - Linda fired
3 - Danny remarries
4 - ?
5 - ?
6 - ?
7 - ?

It would be ideal if this could be accomplished in a clear concise manner without lengthy statements. Please be succinct. Short snappy statements like first three do not require interpretation.

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 21 2007, 11:27 AM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jan 21 2007, 10:12 AM) ☐
>
> It sounds as though you must be VERY idle.

Watch out for those bed sores!

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 21 2007, 11:58 AM

> QUOTE(Chimaz @ Jan 21 2007, 10:02 AM) ☐
>
> It would be nice if there were an FAQ to bring new people up to speed. When I read the title to this thread... "What We Know As Truth So Far, Verifiable information on the 3abn situation" I thought voila!

I, once again, apologize for starting this topic because it has, indeed, diverted some folks from searching for truth themselves. It is very important to study the information for oneself, building the proper foundation of learning who is passing on "he-said/she-said" information and who is speaking from first-hand experience. There are many present and former employees of 3abn posting here who have seen things with their own eyes. Also, as watchbird said, there are many things posted here that are corroborated by two or three eye witnesses.

> QUOTE
>
> From my perspective if this is all that stands as the truth so far, and everything else including the allegations of child abuse is speculation, then I'm seriously perplexed by all the other stuff.
> It would be very helpful if we could establish summary of truth that isn't based on he said/she said.
> If "everything else" as in the "aggregate sum total of all" isn't speculation, then could you be so kind to add to Calvin's three points?

> 1 - Danny /Linda divorce
> 2 - Linda fired
> 3 - Danny remarries

I will flesh out your list with a few more succinct statements.

> QUOTE
>
> 4 - ? Brad Dunning claims he was sexually assaulted by Tommy Shelton
> 5 - ? Roger Clem claims he was sexually assautled by Tommy Shelton
> 6 - ? Duane Clem descibes Tommy Sheltons multiple discomforting advances.
> 7 - ? Tommy Shelton "confesses" by email to Duane Clem.
>
> It would be ideal if this could be accomplished in a clear concise manner without lengthy statements. Please be succinct. Short snappy statements like first three do not require interpretation.

If you have read the statements from Roger Clem, Brad Dunning, Scott Clem, Duane Clem and Pastor Glenn Dryden, it is hard for me to understand how you can call the allegations of child abuse speculation!

If you are unwilling to weigh the information here on this forum for yourself it is unlikely that you will be able to draw any intelligent conclusions as to what is truth and what is mere speculation. I know it is a daunting task but if you feel a burden to know the truth it is the best way to proceed.

PB

Posted by: Clay Jan 21 2007, 12:11 PM

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Jan 21 2007, 11:58 AM) ☐
>
> I, once again, apologize for starting this topic because it has, indeed, diverted some folks from searching for truth themselves. It is very important to study the information for oneself, building the proper foundation of learning who is passing on "he-said/she-said" information and who is speaking from first-hand experience. There are many present and former employees of 3abn posting here who have seen things with their own eyes. Also, as watchbird said, there are many things posted here that are corroborated by two or three eye witnesses.
> I will flesh out your list with a few more succinct statements.
>
> If you have read the statements from Roger Clem, Brad Dunning, Scott Clem, Duane Clem and Pastor Glenn Dryden, it is hard for me to understand how you can call the allegations of child abuse speculation!
>
> If you are unwilling to weigh the information here on this forum for yourself it is unlikely that you will be able to draw any intelligent conclusions as to what is truth and what is mere speculation. I know it is a daunting task but if you feel a burden to know the truth it is the best way to proceed.
>
> PB

don't forget the context.... The chairperson of the 3abn board said that the allegations against Tommy Shelton were 30 yrs old or older.... and Tommy was hired by 3abn, part of his duties was the kids programming....

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 21 2007, 12:50 PM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jan 21 2007, 11:11 AM) ☐
>
> don't forget the context.... The chairperson of the 3abn board said that the allegations against Tommy Shelton were 30 yrs old or older.... and Tommy was hired by 3abn, part of his duties was the kids programming....

Well, they will be 30 years old in another 10 years or so.

Posted by: Chimaz Jan 21 2007, 02:01 PM

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Jan 21 2007, 09:58 AM) ☐
>
> If you have read the statements from Roger Clem, Brad Dunning, Scott Clem, Duane Clem and Pastor Glenn Dryden, it is hard for me to understand how you can call the allegations of child abuse speculation!
>
> If you are unwilling to weigh the information here on this forum for yourself it is unlikely that you will be able to draw any intelligent conclusions as to what is truth and what is mere speculation. I know it is a daunting task but if you feel a burden to know the truth it is the best way to proceed.

PB,

I did not call the allegations of child abuse speculation. I merely questioned them because The Boss didn't qualify those allegations as truth. Apart from the first three points, he said, "Everything else is speculation." Is The Boss not familiar with the statements from Brad Dunning and the Clem clan? If he knows these things, why does he dismiss the allegations and not qualify them as truth? Could it be they are inconclusive or lack credibility?

There's an overwhelming amount of information for new comers to sort through here, so there' got to be a better way to approach this subject than having to sort and sift through it all in order to come to an intelligent conclusion "as to what is truth and what is mere speculation." That's why a condensed version would be very helpful. I hope it isn't too much to ask for.

Posted by: Brenda Jan 21 2007, 02:28 PM

> QUOTE(Chimaz @ Jan 22 2007, 06:01 AM) ☐
>
> There's an overwhelming amount of information for new comers to sort through here, so there' got to be a better way to approach this subject than having to sort and sift through it all in order to come to an intelligent conclusion "as to what is truth and what is mere speculation." That's why a condensed version would be very helpful. I hope it isn't too much to ask for.

Chimaz I agree a condensed version of events here would be helpful but a few points occur to me

There is probably no one that has the time to produce such a version

Such a version could bring criticism from 'the other side' that it was biassed, not painting the whole picture of what has been presented here.

In a sense, new readers are owed nothing here - they are as welcome as the 'oldies' to read whatever is written but how much they want to read or wade through is entirely their business.

Just my 0.02c (and I am quite happy to contribute the money to anyone wanting to start on the concentrated form)

Posted by: gardener Jan 21 2007, 02:57 PM

What do you think about putting the letters from the abused in the pinned area?

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 21 2007, 03:08 PM

> QUOTE(Chimaz @ Jan 21 2007, 01:01 PM)
>
> PB,
>
> I did not call the allegations of child abuse speculation. I merely questioned them because The Boss didn't qualify those allegations as truth. Apart from the first three points, he said, "Everything else is speculation." Is The Boss not familiar with the statements from Brad Dunning and the Clem clan? If he knows these things, why does he dismiss the allegations and not qualify them as truth? Could it be they are inconclusive or lack credibility?
>
> There's an overwhelming amount of information for new comers to sort through here, so there' got to be a better way to approach this subject than having to sort and sift through it all in order to come to an intelligent conclusion "as to what is truth and what is mere speculation." That's why a condensed version would be very helpful. I hope it isn't too much to ask for.

Chimaz,

The Boss has told us he is staying neutral in this 3abn situation. He has allowed a small portion of BlackSDA.com to be used as the 3abn forum where information and opinions can be posted and discussed. I guess you would have to ask Calvin directly any questions about the statements from Brad Dunning and the Clem clan but he pretty much leaves it up to the individual member to arrive at their own conclusions.

I know there's an overwhelming amount of information here. When I first arrived in August of 2006 I tried to get others to give me the condensed version but was told the same thing that all newbies are - start with the pinned items on the top and then start going through the topics.

Keeping up with the most informative current topics while doing the background reading is also a good idea. As you go along, you will have the opportunity to ask the posters who appear to be in the know if their information comes from first-hand experience or from other sources - members such as sister, uncle sam, Panama_Pete, husbandoftheyear, beartrap and Johann are just some who have this first-hand, eyewitness information. Others, like Bob Pickle, Observer and Gailon Joy, are the investigators and post some of the fruits of their work. You will be able to tell, with some reading, those members who are close to the situation and those who, while not necessarily eyewitness, are discerning readers who provide helpful insight into it all.

If you are honestly searching for the truth, nobody will mind you asking questions about how they came to know the information or even advice on where to find things.

PB

> QUOTE(gardener @ Jan 21 2007, 01:57 PM) ☐
>
> What do you think about putting the letters from the abused in the pinned area?

Having them all in one central area would be helpful but that would be up to Calvin and his administrators.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 21 2007, 04:01 PM

Chimaz and other newbies,

Watchbird posted some valuable advice on page 2 of this topic on how best to proceed with your search of this 3abn forum. See post #21.

PB

http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?showtopic=11965&st=15

Posted by: watchbird Jan 21 2007, 04:58 PM

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Jan 21 2007, 05:01 PM) ☐
>
> Chimaz and other newbies,
>
> Watchbird posted some valuable advice on page 2 of this topic on how best to proceed with your search of this 3abn forum. See post #21.
>
> PB
>
> http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?showtopic=11965&st=15

The direct url to that is http://www.blacksda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=11965&view=findpost&p=171384

As to pinning more items to the top.. essentially that robs us of space for new posts on the page, so it isn't really a good idea to have so many... which is why all of the sections plus the guided tour to the Unauthorized History threads are to be found under one item at the top. But if you will take that one, and follow all the links in the guided tour you will have a fairly good overview of the topics as they were presented.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jan 21 2007, 06:48 PM

I have simple advice for "newbies" that are truly trying to find out the "whole truth".....

1. Don't ask any questions for the first week. Write down what you want to ask.

2. Read all "pinned" threads in the 3ABN area.

3. If after reading all the "pinned" threads in the 3ABN area you are still questioning; then refer back to your question, the thread it was in, and link them together - quoting the original comment and adding your question. Do this only in the "correct" thread/link.

4. Use the "PM" function to ask questions of particular members. They will answer if the questions are "sensible" and are not an attempt to "attack" or "just disprove" without listening to all sides.

HTH!

Posted by: howdy Jan 22 2007, 06:49 PM

> QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jan 21 2007, 07:48 PM)
>
> I have simple advice for "newbies" that are truly trying to find out the "whole truth".....
>
> 1. Don't ask any questions for the first week. Write down what you want to ask.
>
> 2. Read all "pinned" threads in the 3ABN area.
>
> 3. If after reading all the "pinned" threads in the 3ABN area you are still questioning; then refer back to your question, the thread it was in, and link them together - quoting the original comment and adding your question. Do this only in the "correct" thread/link.
>
> 4. Use the "PM" function to ask questions of particular members. They will answer if the questions are "sensible" and are not an attempt to "attack" or "just disprove" without listening to all sides.
>
> HTH!

By the way someone stated categorically that G. Joy has made his "findings" public. Is this true and if so where can I read the results of G. Joy's "investigation"?

howdy

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 22 2007, 06:51 PM

> QUOTE(howdy @ Jan 22 2007, 05:49 PM)
>
> By the way someone stated categorically that G. Joy has made his "findings" public. Is this true and if so where can I read the results of G. Joy's "investigation"?
>
> howdy

Part of what Gailon has gathered can be found at www.save3abn.com.

Posted by: howdy Jan 22 2007, 08:18 PM

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Jan 22 2007, 07:51 PM)
>
> Part of what Gailon has gathered can be found at www.save3abn.com.

Well there is not much at that site. Any of us could have privided that information in 5 minutes without an investigation. Frankly I am getting "fed up" as I have mentioned before with these experts and "know-it-alls" who promised to blow the affair wide open months ago!

howdy

Posted by: calvin Jan 22 2007, 09:02 PM

> QUOTE(howdy @ Jan 22 2007, 08:18 PM)
>
> Well there is not much at that site. Any of us could have privided that information in 5 minutes without an investigation. Frankly I am getting "fed up" as I have mentioned before with these experts and "know-it-alls" who promised to blow the affair wide open months ago!
>
> howdy

I agree Howdy. Just what did he blow wide open? So he summarized what is here. Who would even find this guys website if they did not find it listed here first. So where is the mainstream media or the religious media? So is Joy really connected to get this story out to the masses,? I don't think so.

Posted by: eye witness Jan 22 2007, 09:56 PM

> QUOTE(howdy @ Jan 22 2007, 08:18 PM)
>
> Well there is not much at that site. Any of us could have privided that information in 5 minutes without an investigation. Frankly I am getting "fed up" as I have mentioned before with these experts and "know-it-alls" who promised to blow the affair wide open months ago!
>
> howdy

Howdy,
There is not really much here at all anywhere. All they do is set around and repeat the same things over, over, and over. I believe they are trying to brainwash themselves. They think once they believe it, they will accompish some great thing.
Gailon don't get on here much, that I have seen. I saw a post myself that he was going to do some big thing in January but well that's about gone. Maybe he is going to make another big statement and then another date and well over, over, and over. As long as he can string them along, believe me they will fall for it. Most excitiment they have had in awhile. They TALK, TALK, TALK and that is all!

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 22 2007, 10:09 PM

> QUOTE(howdy @ Jan 22 2007, 07:18 PM)
>
> Well there is not much at that site. Any of us could have privided that information in 5 minutes without an investigation. Frankly I am getting "fed up" as I have mentioned before with these experts and "know-it-alls" who promised to blow the affair wide open months ago!
>
> howdy

Howdy,
Did you read Tommy Shelton's emailed "confession" to victim #7, Duane Clem? If this isn't starting to "blow the affair wide open" I don't know what would qualify.
Link to Tommy's confession
http://www.save3abn.com/tommy-shelton-confession.htm
PB

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 22 2007, 10:31 PM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 22 2007, 08:56 PM)
>
> Howdy,
> There is not really much here at all anywhere. All they do is set around and repeat the same things over, over, and over. I believe they are trying to brainwash themselves. They think once they believe it, they will accompish some great thing.
> Gailon don't get on here much, that I have seen. I saw a post myself that he was going to do some big thing in January but well that's about gone. Maybe he is going to make another big statement and then another date and well over, over, and over. As long as he can string them along, believe me they will fall for it. Most excitiment they have had in awhile. They TALK, TALK, TALK and that is all!

Eyewitness,
I believe that I noticed it was you repeating things over and over and over most recently.

As for brainwashing ourselves, I don't buy it. What I believe is once you verify something with two or three witnesses, as the Bible suggests, one may safely believe it to be true. I have asked both you and bystander to refute the testimonies of Brad Dunning, Roger Clem and Scott Clem if you are able. I have not heard any compelling argument from either of you that these are not true testimonies. Can you refute Tommy Shelton's confession to Duane Clem?

What would our Lord have us do with these young men who have come forward and the other alleged victims who have not, as yet? Should we discount them and ignore what the Bible says about repentance and restitution? And what about Tommy? Would Jesus expect that he would be made accountable for his actions or is it enough to say he has asked God for forgiveness? What about the next time he might desire the companionship of someone other than his wife? Is it okay if the parents of the potential prey are not aware that there is an alleged predator around their child.

I came here hoping NOT to find any detrimental truth about Danny, Tommy and others at 3abn. Unfortunately I found some. Show me where I have been brainwashed.

119

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ Duty To Reprove Sin & Dispisers Of Reproof

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 21 2007, 01:24 PM

New member, vanburton, posted directions to some valuable and fitting counsel for all of those of us engaging in discussion here on the 3abn Forum.

These passages are found in Testimonies Volume 3, Number 23 and Number 24 respectively. I would pray that all here - witnesses, seekers of truth, apologists and antagonists alike - pay special attention to these important words from God's Messenger.

Duty to Reprove Sin

I have been shown that God here illustrates how He regards sin among those who profess to be His commandment-keeping people. Those whom He has specially honored with witnessing the remarkable exhibitions of His power, as did ancient Israel, and who will even then venture to disregard His express directions, will be subjects of His wrath. He would teach His people that disobedience and sin are exceedingly offensive to Him and are not to be lightly regarded. He shows us that when His people are found in sin they should at once take decided measures to put that sin from them, that His frown may not rest upon them all. But if the sins of the people are passed over by those in responsible positions, His frown will be upon them, and the people of God, as a body, will be held responsible for those sins. In His dealings with His people in the past the Lord shows the necessity of purifying the church from wrongs. One sinner may diffuse darkness that will exclude the light of God from the entire congregation. When the people realize that darkness is settling upon them, and they do not know the cause, they should seek God earnestly, in great humility and self-abasement, until the wrongs which grieve His Spirit are searched out and put away. {3T 265.1}

The prejudice which has arisen against us because we have reproved the wrongs that God has shown me existed, and the cry that has been raised of harshness and severity, are unjust. God bids us speak, and we will not be silent. If wrongs are apparent among His people, and if the servants of God pass on indifferent to them, they virtually sustain and justify the sinner, and are alike guilty and will just as surely receive the displeasure of God; for they will be made responsible for the sins of the guilty. In vision I have been pointed to many instances where the displeasure of God has been incurred by a neglect on the part of His servants to deal with the wrongs and sins existing among them. Those who have excused these wrongs have been thought by the people to be very amiable and lovely in disposition, simply because they shunned to discharge a plain Scriptural duty. The task was not agreeable to their feelings; therefore they avoided it. {3T 265.2}

The spirit of hatred which has existed with some because the wrongs among God's people have been reproved has brought blindness and a fearful deception upon their own souls, making it impossible for them to discriminate between right and wrong. They have put out their own spiritual eyesight. They may witness wrongs, but they do not feel as did Joshua and humble themselves because the danger of souls is felt by them. {3T 266.1}

The true people of God, who have the spirit of the work of the Lord and the salvation of souls at heart, will ever view sin in its real, sinful character. They will always be on the side of faithful and plain dealing with sins which easily beset the people of God. Especially in the closing work for the church, in the sealing time of the one hundred and forty-four thousand who are to stand without fault before the throne of God, will they feel most deeply the wrongs of God's professed people. This is forcibly set forth by the prophet's illustration of the last work under the figure of the men each having a slaughter weapon in his hand. One man among them was clothed with linen, with a writer's inkhorn by his side. "And the Lord said unto him, Go through the midst of the city, through the midst of Jerusalem, and set a mark upon the foreheads of the men that sigh and that cry for all the abominations that be done in the midst thereof." {3T 266.2}

Who are standing in the counsel of God at this time? Is it those who virtually excuse wrongs among the professed people of God and who murmur in their hearts, if not openly, against those who would reprove sin? Is it those who take their stand against them and sympathize with those who commit wrong? No, indeed! Unless they repent, and leave the work of Satan in oppressing those who have the burden of the work and in holding up the hands of sinners in Zion, they will never receive the mark of God's sealing approval. They will fall in the general destruction of the wicked, represented by the work of the five men bearing slaughter weapons. Mark this point with care: Those who receive the pure mark of truth, wrought in them by the power of the Holy Ghost, represented by a mark by the man in linen, are those "that sigh and that cry for all the abominations that be done" in the church. Their love for purity and the honor and glory of God is such, and they have so clear a view of the exceeding sinfulness of sin, that they are represented as being in agony, even sighing and crying. Read the ninth chapter of Ezekiel. {3T 267.1}

But the general slaughter of all those who do not thus see the wide contrast between sin and righteousness, and do not feel as those do who stand in the counsel of God and receive the mark, is described in the order to the five men with slaughter weapons: "Go ye after him through the city, and smite: let not your eye spare, neither have ye pity: slay utterly old and young, both maids, and little children, and women: but come not near any man upon whom is the mark; and begin at My sanctuary." {3T 267.2}

Despisers of Reproof

The apostle Paul plainly states that the experience of the Israelites in their travels has been recorded for the benefit of those living in this age of the world, those upon whom the ends of the world are come. We do not consider that our dangers are any less than those of the Hebrews, but greater. There will be temptations to jealousies and murmurings, and there will be outspoken rebellion, as are recorded of ancient Israel. There will ever be a spirit to rise up against the reproof of sins and wrongs. But shall the voice of reproof be hushed because of this? If so, we shall be in no better situation than are the various denominations in our land who are afraid to touch the errors and prevailing sins of the people. {3T 358.2}

Those whom God has set apart as ministers of righteousness have solemn responsibilities laid upon them to reprove the sins of the people. Paul commanded Titus: "These things speak, and exhort, and rebuke with all authority. Let no man despise thee." There are ever those who will despise the one who dares to reprove sin; but there are times when reproof must be given. Paul directs Titus to rebuke a certain class sharply, that they may be sound in the faith. Men and women who, with their different organizations, are brought together in church capacity have peculiarities and faults. As these are developed, they will require reproof. If those who are placed in important positions never reproved, never rebuked, there would soon be a demoralized condition of things that would greatly dishonor God. But how shall the reproof be given? Let the apostle answer: "With all long-suffering and doctrine." Principle should be brought to bear upon the one who needs reproof, but never should the wrongs of God's people be passed by indifferently. {3T 358.3}

There will be men and women who despise reproof and whose feelings will ever rise up against it. It is not pleasant to be told of our wrongs. In almost every case where reproof is necessary, there will be some who entirely overlook the fact that the Spirit of the Lord has been grieved and His cause reproached. These will pity those who deserved reproof, because personal feelings have been hurt. All this unsanctified sympathy places the sympathizers where they are sharers in the guilt of the one reproved. In nine cases out of ten if the one reproved had been left under a sense of his wrongs, he might have been helped to see them and thereby have been reformed. But meddlesome, unsanctified sympathizers place altogether a wrong construction upon the motives of the reprover and the nature of the reproof given, and by sympathizing with the one reproved lead him to feel that he has been really abused; and his feelings rise up in rebellion against the one who has only done his duty. Those who faithfully discharge their unpleasant duties under a sense of their accountability to God will receive His blessing. God requires His servants to be always in earnest to do His will. In the apostle's charge to Timothy he exhorts him to "preach the word; be instant in season, out of season; reprove, rebuke, exhort with all long-suffering and doctrine." {3T 359.1}

The Hebrews were not willing to submit to the directions and restrictions of the Lord. They simply wanted their own way, to follow the leadings of their own mind, and be controlled by their own judgment. Could they have been left free to do this, no complaints would have been made of Moses; but they were restless under restraint. {3T 360.1}

God would have His people disciplined and brought into harmony of action, that they may see eye to eye and be of the same mind and of the same judgment. In order to bring about this state of things, there is much to be done. The carnal heart must be subdued and transformed. God designs that there shall ever be a living testimony in the church. It will be necessary to reprove and exhort, and some will need to be rebuked sharply, as the case demands. We hear the plea: "Oh, I am so sensitive, I cannot bear the least reflection!" If these persons would state the case correctly, they would say: "I am so self-willed, so self-sufficient, so proud-spirited, that I will not be dictated to; I will not be reproved. I claim the right of individual judgment; I have a right to believe and talk as I please." The Lord would not have us yield up our individuality. But what man is a proper judge of how far this matter of individual independence should be carried? {3T 360.2}

Peter exhorts his brethren: "Likewise, ye younger, submit yourselves unto the elder. Yea, all of you be subject one to another, and be clothed with humility: for God resisteth the proud, and giveth grace to the humble." The apostle Paul also exhorts his Philippian brethren to unity and humility: "If there be therefore any consolation in Christ, if any comfort of love, if any fellowship of the Spirit, if any bowels and mercies, fulfill ye my joy, that ye be like-minded, having the same love, being of one accord, of one mind. Let nothing be done through strife or vainglory; but in lowliness of mind let each esteem other better than themselves. Look not every man on his own things, but every man also on the things of others. Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus." Again Paul exhorts his brethren: "Let love be without dissimulation. Abhor that which is evil; cleave to that which is good. Be kindly affectioned one to another with brotherly love; in honor preferring one another." In writing to the Ephesians he says: "Submitting yourselves one to another in the fear of God." {3T 360.3}

The history of the Israelites presents before us the great danger of deception. Many do not have a sense of the sinfulness of their own natures nor of the grace of forgiveness. They are in nature's darkness, subject to temptations and to great deception. They are far from God; yet they take great satisfaction in their lives, when their conduct is abhorred of God. This class will ever be at war with the leadings of the Spirit of God, especially with reproof. They do not wish to be disturbed. Occasionally they have selfish fears and good purposes, and sometimes anxious thoughts and convictions; but they have not a depth of experience, because they are not riveted to the eternal Rock. This class never see the necessity of the plain testimony. Sin does not appear so exceedingly sinful to them for the very reason that they are not walking in the light as Christ is in the light. {3T 361.1}

There is still another class who have had great light and special conviction, and a genuine experience in the workings of the Spirit of God; but the manifold temptations of Satan have overcome them. They do not appreciate the light that God has given them. They do not heed the warnings and reproofs from the Spirit of God. They are under condemnation. These will ever be at variance with the straight testimony because it condemns them. {3T 361.2}

God designs that His people shall be a unit, that they shall see eye to eye and be of the same mind and of the same judgment. This cannot be accomplished without a clear, pointed, living testimony in the church. The prayer of Christ was that His disciples might be one as He was one with His Father. "Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on Me through their word; that they all may be one; as Thou, Father, art in Me, and I in Thee, that they also may be one in Us: that the world may believe that Thou hast sent Me. And the glory which Thou gavest Me I have given them; that they may be one, even as We are one: I in them, and Thou in Me, that they may be made perfect in one; and that the world may know that Thou hast sent Me, and hast loved them, as Thou hast loved Me."{3T 361.3}

Posted by: roxe Jan 21 2007, 10:17 PM

i see you found them, PB!!

reading them i can see how BSDA is fulfilling the third step of Matt. 18.

those reading the pinned threads will find out that steps 1 and 2 have already been done. many individuals have gone to Danny and expressed their concerns... but no changes have occured. they have even gone in groups to Danny... but no changes have occured.

Now, BSDA, Maritime, Gailon's site and others are doing the 3rd step of taking it to the church... anyone with internet access can read all about it.

however, from the program the other night, it appears that defensive positions have been taken and possibly will not be abandoned.

i sincerely pray that those changes will occur... before the 4th step happens...

may those coming in here with guns ablazing... please read the above EGW and realize that we aren't gossiping, or holding court here, or being critical, or taking sides, or judging... we are simply doing our 3rd step duty of Matt 18... and praying that the 4th step can be avoided.

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 21 2007, 10:36 PM

> QUOTE(roxe @ Jan 21 2007, 08:17 PM)
>
> i see you found them, PB!!
>
> reading them i can see how BSDA is fulfilling the third step of Matt. 18.
>
> those reading the pinned threads will find out that steps 1 and 2 have already been done. many individuals have gone to Danny and expressed their concerns... but no changes have occured. they have even gone in groups to Danny... but no changes have occured.
>
> Now, BSDA and Gailon's site are doing the 3rd step of taking it to the church. anyone with internet access can read all about it.
>
> however, from the program the other night, it appears that defensive positions have been taken and possibly will not be abandoned.
>
> i sincerely pray that those changes will occur... before the 4th step happens...
>
> may those coming in here with guns ablazing... please read the above and realize that we aren't gossiping, or holding court here, or being critical, or taking sides... we are simply doing our duty according to the above... and praying that the 4th step can be avoided.

Yes, I too read these and was encouraged by them for many reasons. I feel so blessed to be part of BSDA, and am warmed inside by those coming every day to read, search and discover what is happening here, posted here and that shows why it is important that it is here. I appreciate many of the posts made at this site - to me it gives a taste of what all of us as victims in one way or another of this mess, go through and work through in dealing with sin, in all it's forms, especially when it is close to home. I think those posts serve to help others too - many times we are feeling something and someone else says it in a way that touches those feelings. This is not a pretty situation. God is not nearly done with any of it, or with any of us. We can all learn something, and I hope it only Glorifies our Lord.

Posted by: Observer Jan 22 2007, 07:12 AM

I am greatly encouraged by another aspect of this that no one else has mentioned.

We are a group of diverse individuals. We come from different backgrounds. We have different personalities. We have different perceptions of some events. We disagree among ourselves on some aspects of issues, focus, and how we should proceed. Yet, we have not become divided over these differences. We are united on a central focus, and we are working together to achieve that goal, and we do not concern ourselves with relatively minor differences of opinion that exist between us.

I will suggest that what we are doing here might serve as a model for the denomination at large. It has been described as a church that is divided into five or more groups of people. It is seen by some as divided, and potentially in danger of spliting into differing groups, although some would say that has already happened.

Folks, we are showing that people can cooperate to achieve a common goal, and not get divided by our humanity and the reality that we do not see everything exactly the same!

:-) :-) :-)

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 22 2007, 10:50 AM

QUOTE(Observer @ Jan 22 2007, 05:12 AM)

> I am greatly encouraged by another aspect of this that no one else has mentioned.
>
> We are a group of diverse individuals. We come from different backgrounds. We have different personalities. We have different perceptions of some events. We disagree among ourselves on some aspects of issues, focus, and how we should proceed. Yet, we have not become divided over these differences. We are united on a central focus, and we are working together to achieve that goal, and we do not concern ourselves with relatively minor differences of opinion that exist between us.
>
> I will suggest that what we are doing here might serve as a model for the denomination at large. It has been described as a church that is divided into five or more groups of people. It is seen by some as divided, and potentially in danger of spliting into differing groups, although some would say that has already happened.
>
> Folks, we are showing that people can cooperate to achieve a common goal, and not get divided by our humanity and the reality that we do not see everything exactly the same!
>
> :-) :-) :-)

Excellent observation Observer! I agree with you!

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Jan 22 2007, 02:32 PM

Don't forget that Maritime SDA OnLine (MSDAOL) is also deeply involved in this.

Posted by: Observer Jan 22 2007, 03:22 PM

> QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Jan 22 2007, 01:32 PM)
>
> Don't forget that Maritime SDA OnLine (MSDAOL) is also deeply involved in this.

Daryl:

My comments were directed to the entire group of people who are united in this. Of that group, BSDA is a part. MSDAOL is a part. There are other parts. None by themselves are the whole pie, so to speak. But, it is together that they are united and working with each other.

Posted by: roxe Jan 22 2007, 10:18 PM

> QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Jan 22 2007, 01:32 PM)
>
> Don't forget that Maritime SDA OnLine (MSDAOL) is also deeply involved in this.

Daryl,

thanks for the reminder... i've edited my post above to include your forum as part of the 3rd step of Matt. 18.

120

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ Letter To Administrators

Posted by: Joe Smith Jan 22 2007, 11:31 AM

When Paul reproved wrong in the church, he did not loose his self-control. He explained the reason of his action.
Paul wrought so as to leave the impression that he was a friend of the erring! He made them understand that it cost him pain to give them pain!
In the attempts made to find wrong with the Ministry of God, we are not dealing with just men. We are also dealing with the Lord.
We best stop playing God. We are all soon going to see the God of Mercy and Justice. It's not only written here but in the Books of Life. .
2 Cor. 2:4-10
"For out of much affliction and anguish of heart I wrote unto you with many tears; not that ye should be grieved, but that ye might know the love which I have more abundantly unto you.".. read the rest for yourselves..... These are Paul's words. This is Paul's heart in reproof. Yes, he says reprove.... but do it in LOVE. SOP says we should be willing to "give our life" for that straying one.... I don't see that here at BSDA.
It grieves my heart to see a group who has taken physical handicaps and made jokes about them. The physical appearance of God's children has been assessed and ridiculed (stroke, 55 Buick with doors open, plastic hair etc.). These are just some of the comments that are being stated here. God have mercy on us!
We may "throw out" PHILLIPIANS 4:8 but it does not change anything. Your opinion or mine.... doesn't change God's word. He is right... we are wrong.

Finally brethren, whatever things are true, whatever things are noble, whatever things are just, whatever things are pure, whatever things are lovely, whatever things are of good report, if there is any virtue, and if there is anything praiseworthy-- meditate on these things.

There is lot's of talk about watchman on the wall. I agree entirely!. This watchman is sounding the trumpet against the content of BSDA. I see no "anguish of heart" being presented by the administration of BSDA. I have been told numerous times " if you don't like it .... LEAVE IT". I am not going to explain anything to you... if you don't like it... don't come back I was told, in essence, by Calvin in an early email. I ask you.... administrators... Is this Christ like?

I believe the "handwriting is on the wall" for BSDA.

I therefore ask you, Calvin, please take my name off the membership of BSDA. I no longer want to be a part of this ugly tool. I would encourage ALL who are serving God in ALL HONESTY to do the same...

I also know that I will be attached viciously in the posts to come... that is... if this post gets posted at all...this will just PROVE MY POINT.

God have mercy on us all..
Joe Smith

Posted by: Clay Jan 22 2007, 11:38 AM

if you stop coming, you will have removed yourself.... cya later....

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 22 2007, 12:07 PM

Posted by: awesumtenor Jan 22 2007, 12:26 PM

> QUOTE(Joe Smith @ Jan 22 2007, 12:31 PM)
>
> When Paul reproved wrong in the church, he did not loose his self-control. He explained the reason of his action.

you, calling yourself reproving wrong here, missed this particular pitch... strike one

> QUOTE
>
> Paul wrought so as to leave the impression that he was a friend of the erring!

If a man will have friends, he must first show himself friendly... you missed this pitch too... strike two

> QUOTE
>
> He made them understand that it cost him pain to give them pain!

you've given nothing and it has cost you nothing... we'll call this a foul tip...

> QUOTE
>
> In the attempts made to find wrong with the Ministry of God, we are not dealing with just men. We are also dealing with the Lord.
> We best stop playing God. We are all soon going to see the God of Mercy and Justice. It's not only written here but in the Books of Life. .
> 2 Cor. 2:4-10
> "For out of much affliction and anguish of heart I wrote unto you with many tears; not that ye should be grieved, but that ye might know the love which I have more abundantly unto you.".. read the rest for yourselves..... These are Paul's words. This is Paul's heart in reproof. Yes, he says reprove.... but do it in LOVE. SOP says we should be willing to "give our life" for that straying one.... I don't see that here at BSDA.
> It grieves my heart to see a group who has taken physical handicaps and made jokes about them. The physical appearance of God's children has been assessed and ridiculed (stroke, 55 Buick with doors open, plastic hair etc.). These are just some of the comments that are being stated here. God have mercy on us!
> We may "throw out" PHILLIPIANS 4:8 but it does not change anything. Your opinion or mine.... doesn't change God's word. He is right... we are wrong.
>
> Finally brethren, whatever things are true, whatever things are noble, whatever things are just, whatever things are pure, whatever things are lovely, whatever things are of good report, if there is any virtue, and if there is anything praiseworthy-- meditate on these things.
>
> There is lot's of talk about watchman on the wall. I agree entirely!. This watchman is sounding the trumpet against the content of BSDA. I see no "anguish of heart" being presented by the administration of BSDA. I have been told numerous times " if you don't like it .... LEAVE IT". I am > not going to explain anything to you... if you don't like it... don't come back I was told, in essence, by Calvin in an early email. I ask you.... administrators... Is this Christ like?

>
> I believe the "handwriting is on the wall" for BSDA.
>
> I therefore ask you, Calvin, please take my name off the membership of BSDA. I no longer want to be a part of this ugly tool. I would encourage ALL who are serving God in ALL HONESTY to do the same...

Besides; so much of your time is taken up being a tool for something far uglier... hypocrisy is so unbecoming... you castigate the members of this forum for seeking to convince people to reject 3ABN because they feel that what is going on with the persons who are in charge of it crucifies Christ afresh and puts Him to an open shame... yet you attempt to use the same method and means to get people to reject this forum... for the same reason; because you feel that the level of protest against what goes on requires it... so does that mean it's only a valid form of protest when you agree with the protest and it only becomes unChristlike when you do not?

That's strike 3, looking... Casey

Don't let the doorknob hit ya where the dog shoulda bit ya...

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 22 2007, 12:31 PM

As with any "preaching", I hope that is is lived by the preacher as well.
Where are your "friends" when you are on giving us this advice? Hopefully reading it as well?

Posted by: Clay Jan 22 2007, 12:39 PM

I just realized something.... Mr Smith is saying good-bye, but we don't do good-bye threads..... just leave and may God bless.... this thread is closed.....

121

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ Palm Springs Cancels 3abn

Posted by: watchbird Aug 25 2006, 08:56 PM

I hear that Palm Springs has canceled their 3ABN Rally. ☒

Does someone have more details on this?

Is there similar news from other places?

Posted by: justme Aug 25 2006, 09:10 PM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Aug 25 2006, 10:56 PM) ☐
>
> I hear that Palm Springs has canceled their 3ABN Rally. ☒
>
> Does someone have more details on this?
>
> Is there similar news from other places?

On the 3ABN website at 10:10 central time Friday night this was still posted on the 3ABN upcoming appointments. Note the pastors phone number etc.
Please Join Danny & Tommy Shelton and Steve Darmondy

Sabbath, September 9, 2006

Palm Springs SDA Church
620 South Sunrise Way
Palm Springs, CA 92264

Contact Person: Pastor Charles Mitchell
Church Phone: 760-327-5112

Services:
Sabbath School 10:00 AM PST
Morning Worship 10:45 AM PST

Sabbath Afternoon With Danny 2:00 - 3:30 PM PST

I could NOT find anything on the Palm Springs SDA church website that said they 3ABN was coming.

Posted by: fallible humanbeing Aug 25 2006, 09:13 PM

The event is still being listed on the 3ABN website and the SEC Conference websites.

http://www.secc.adventist.org/events.htm http://www.3abn.org/announcements.cfm

The website for the church doesn't have information for September posted yet.

Is it cancelled or postponed?

- fhb

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Aug 25 2006, 09:56 PM)
>
> I hear that Palm Springs has canceled their 3ABN Rally.
>
> Does someone have more details on this?
>
> Is there similar news from other places?

Posted by: September Aug 25 2006, 09:13 PM

I honestly doubt that they will post anything regarding it being cancelled--after all, they want to save face as much as they possibly can They'll probably just delete it...but I could be wrong...

Posted by: justme Aug 25 2006, 09:26 PM

> QUOTE(fallible humanbeing @ Aug 25 2006, 11:13 PM)
>
> The event is still being listed on the 3ABN website and the SEC Conference websites.
>
> http://www.secc.adventist.org/events.htm
>
> http://www.3abn.org/announcements.cfm
>
> The website for the church doesn't have information for September posted yet.
>
> Is it cancelled or postponed?
>
> - fhb

This from the Palm Springs SDA Church website:

"Contact Us: (sounds like a good idea)

Mailing Address:
Palm Springs SDA Church
620 South Sunrise way
Palm Springs, Ca 92264

Phone: (760) 327-5112

Fax: (760) 322-6702

Church Email: ps7thday@1access.net"
Here it is ...

Posted by: sonshineonme Aug 25 2006, 11:09 PM

> QUOTE(justme @ Aug 25 2006, 08:26 PM)
>
> This from the Palm Springs SDA Church website:
>
> "Contact Us: (sounds like a good idea)
>
> Mailing Address:
> Palm Springs SDA Church
> 620 South Sunrise way
> Palm Springs, Ca 92264
>
> Phone: (760) 327-5112
>
> Fax: (760) 322-6702
>
> Church Email: ps7thday@1access.net"
> Here it is ...

I've written. I will post their reply.

Posted by: Johann Aug 26 2006, 12:58 AM

> QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Aug 26 2006, 07:09 AM)
>
> I've written. I will post their reply.

You will find elsewhere that Palm Spring is off, and when 3ABN tried to have it elsewhere in th area that church turned 3ABN down too.

Posted by: Freedom Aug 26 2006, 03:26 AM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Aug 25 2006, 10:58 PM) ☐
>
> You will find elsewhere that Palm Spring is off, and when 3ABN tried to have it elsewhere in th area that church turned 3ABN down too.

That is correct Johann! I heard the information from two dependable sources.

Like the hymn says, "In His Time"

Posted by: msraccoon Aug 26 2006, 03:47 AM

This Palm Springs rally is awhile away yet, September 9. As of this moment, it still shows as valid on 3abn.org. Is there a history of churches cancelling or is this the first one?

I really appreciate this posting thread because it helps me understand the big picture and where the SDA community might be in responding to "preacher" Danny. Are there enough SDA's with real conviction who do not let money talk?

msraccoon

Posted by: watchbird Aug 27 2006, 09:29 AM

> QUOTE(msraccoon @ Aug 26 2006, 03:47 AM) ☐
>
> This Palm Springs rally is awhile away yet, September 9. As of this moment, it still shows as valid on 3abn.org. Is there a history of churches cancelling or is this the first one?
>
> I really appreciate this posting thread because it helps me understand the big picture and where the SDA community might be in responding to "preacher" Danny. Are there enough SDA's with real conviction who do not let money talk?
>
> msraccoon

So far as I know this is a first for cancellation of a rally. I'd be very interested to hear from those with longer connection with such things than what I have.

What I have found is that most SDA's who are not in Danny's "fan club" simply write him off and ignore 3ABN completely. But there are a growing number of those who were once in Danny's "fan club" who are no longer there. And there is also a groing number of those who have here-to-fore merely assumed that the publicity was correct, and that 3ABN did accurately represent the "conservative" branch of our church that are becoming aware that this is not the case. And yes, some of them are taking the "courage of their convictions" and are working at all levels to "do something" about it.

Someone somewhere mentioned about "critical mass" ..... and this is a good term for what is happening. We have reached that state where movement has begun to become visible, and there are reliable indications that very soon it will reach the point where that movement will become obvious to all.

And BSDA has played an important role in putting information out here where all could see. This is the time for those who still have not told their stories to come forward and do so, for there are VIPs as well as people from all walks of life, who are reading what is said here.

Posted by: fallible humanbeing Aug 27 2006, 11:25 AM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Aug 27 2006, 10:29 AM)
>
> So far as I know this is a first for cancellation of a rally. I'd be very interested to hear from those with longer connection with such things than what I have.

To what degree are you sure it is a cancellation? Has any announcement been made or is it just still heresay at this point. Additionally is it a cancellation or a postponement? What are the chances that it is a postponement for reasons other than not feeling they should host 3ABN?

- fhb

Posted by: Panama_Pete Aug 27 2006, 12:04 PM

> QUOTE(fallible humanbeing @ Aug 27 2006, 11:25 AM)
>
> To what degree are you sure it is a cancellation? Has any announcement been made or is it just still heresay at this point. Additionally is it a cancellation or a postponement? What are the chances that it is a postponement for reasons other than not feeling they should host 3ABN?
>
> - fhb

Fallible,

The telephone number, mailing address, and e-mail address for that Palm Springs church are posted for all interested people. Go for it.

It is better to light a candle than to curse the darkness.

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Aug 27 2006, 12:59 PM

I don't know if or when it was canceled, but I wouldn't expect it to be taken off the website any sooner than tomorrow.

Isn't Danny out of town for quite a while...could that not be the reason it was canceled?

Posted by: sister Aug 27 2006, 08:03 PM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Aug 27 2006, 01:59 PM) ☐
>
> I don't know if or when it was canceled, but I wouldn't expect it to be taken off the website any sooner than tomorrow.
>
> Isn't Danny out of town for quite a while...could that not be the reason it was canceled?

Last I heard, he and Brandy are in Russia...

Posted by: Observer Aug 28 2006, 10:08 AM

I telephoned the Palm Springs SDA Chruch, and it has been canceled.

However, their pastor tells me that it has been secheduled for the Desert Hot Springs Chruch, on the same weekend.

Posted by: watchbird Aug 28 2006, 10:26 AM

> QUOTE(Observer @ Aug 28 2006, 10:08 AM) ☐
>
> I telephoned the Palm Springs SDA Chruch, and it has been canceled.
>
> However, their pastor tells me that it has been secheduled for the Desert Hot Springs Chruch, on the same weekend.

Thank you.

Very interesting..... especially in view of the fact that my information said that 3ABN had attempted to schedule it at Desert Hot Springs Church, and the church had refused to accept them.

Hopefully someone with personal connections in those churches will give us more detailed information.

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Aug 28 2006, 11:03 AM

One way to get their attention, whoever that may be, is to work at encouraging those churches involved to cancel their 3ABN rallies.

Posted by: sonshineonme Aug 28 2006, 06:03 PM

This is where it lies in the mystery of what's happening in 3abn appearing at a S. CA church (DHS or PS).

A friend of mine got through to the DHS Church today and told me this:

"I spoke with the pastor of the Desert Hot Springs Church (Irven Thomsen, interim pastor filling in for just a short time), and he said that his church leadership has decided to turn it over to the Southeastern CA Conference president, Gerald Pennick, and let him make the final decision."

I am considering contacting the conference president.

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Aug 28 2006, 06:09 PM

Now isn't that interesting!

Something is obviously happening within the SDA church in regards to 3ABN.

Posted by: DOG Aug 28 2006, 07:47 PM

It is a good thing that honest people are arising to stand and be counted. Enough is enough! We are witnessing the beginning of the rath of God towards those who attempt to deceive His people. The leadership must be removed if the ministry is to be spared. Dog

---

Posted by: Johann Aug 28 2006, 11:03 PM

> QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Aug 29 2006, 02:03 AM) ☐
>
> This is where it lies in the mystery of what's happening in 3abn appearing at a S. CA church (DHS or PS).
>
> A friend of mine got through to the DHS Church today and told me this:
>
> "I spoke with the pastor of the Desert Hot Springs Church (Irven Thomsen, interim pastor filling in for just a short time), and he said that his church leadership has decided to turn it over to the Southeastern CA Conference president, Gerald Pennick, and let him make the final decision."
>
> I am considering contacting the conference president.

One could say it would be a great honor for the DHS church to have a rally there. I was told they have an average attendanc of about 30.

Posted by: sonshineonme Aug 28 2006, 11:09 PM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Aug 28 2006, 10:03 PM) ☐
>
> One could say it would be a great honor for the DHS church to have a rally there. I was told they have an average attendanc of about 30.

That means that maybe......umm....5 might show up?
Well, I'm sure people will travel from near and far to come, right? RIGHT?

Posted by: princessdi Aug 29 2006, 10:53 AM

I didn't know Gerald Pennick was SE's conference President...............

> QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Aug 28 2006, 05:03 PM)
>
> This is where it lies in the mystery of what's happening in 3abn appearing at a S. CA church (DHS or PS).
>
> A friend of mine got through to the DHS Church today and told me this:
>
> "I spoke with the pastor of the Desert Hot Springs Church (Irven Thomsen, interim pastor filling in for just a short time), and he said that his church leadership has decided to turn it over to the Southeastern CA Conference president, Gerald Pennick, and let him make the final decision."
>
> I am considering contacting the conference president.

Posted by: sonshineonme Aug 29 2006, 11:09 AM

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Aug 29 2006, 09:53 AM)
>
> I didn't know Gerald Pennick was SE's conference President...............

Yes, he is. Go to the website http://www.secc.adventist.org/default.htm
I have written him. I will wait to see if I get a reply. I could not find an email addess for him, so had to guess....

Posted by: princessdi Aug 29 2006, 11:39 AM

Ahhhn, yes! I should have known. Wrong Gerald Pennick. I believe the one to which I was referring is a pastor. The one picture defintiely makes more sense......

> QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Aug 29 2006, 10:09 AM)
>
> Yes, he is. Go to the website http://www.secc.adventist.org/default.htm
> I have written him. I will wait to see if I get a reply. I could not find an email addess for him, so had > to guess....

Posted by: sonshineonme Aug 29 2006, 11:42 AM

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Aug 29 2006, 10:39 AM)
>
> Ahhhn, yes! I should have known. Wrong Gerald Pennick. I believe the one to which I was referring is a pastor. The one picture defintiely makes more sense......

Don't know if this helps, but, he is a Sr. which means there is a Jr. which might be who you are thinking of??

Posted by: princessdi Aug 29 2006, 11:46 AM

LOL! Naw, different family altogether. No family resemblance in the least.

> QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Aug 29 2006, 10:42 AM)
>
> Don't know if this helps, but, he is a Sr. which means there is a Jr. which might be who you are thinking of??

Posted by: Panama_Pete Aug 29 2006, 02:51 PM

> QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Aug 29 2006, 12:09 PM)
>
> Yes, he is. Go to the website http://www.secc.adventist.org/default.htm
> I have written him. I will wait to see if I get a reply. I could not find an email addess for him, so had to guess....

Pacific Union Recorder
http://www.pacificunionrecorder.com/105/1/24603.html

Delegates to Southeastern California's Nov. 7 constituency session elected that conference's first black president, Gerald D. Penick, Sr., and the Pacific Union's first female officer, Sandra Roberts, as executive secretary.
...
Penick replaces Lynn Mallery, who retired after 12 years as SECC president.
...
Penick has served in the SECC office since 1989, 12 years as executive secretary and three years as assistant to the president for black ministries and director of community services, inner city and prison ministries. Penick has pastored in the Southeastern California, Allegheny West, Central States and South Central conferences. Though Penick is the first African-American president in the SECC, he is the seventh black conference president elected in the Pacific Union in recent years, and the fifth to serve (two declined).

...
Penick commented after the votes were counted, "This is a historic day for the Southeastern California Conference.

http://www.adventistdirectory.org/view_AdmField.asp?AdmFieldID=SECC

Southeastern California Conference of Seventh-day Adventists
11330 Pierce St
Riverside, CA 92505-3303

Mail: PO Box 8050
Riverside, CA 92515-8050

Leader: Gerald D Penick, President
Phone: 1 951-509-2200
Fax: 1 951-509-2390
Email: info@secc-sda.org

Website: www.secc.adventist.org

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Aug 29 2006, 03:21 PM

> QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Aug 29 2006, 12:09 AM)
>
> That means that maybe......umm....5 might show up?
> Well, I'm sure people will travel from near and far to come, right? RIGHT?

Oh boy - do you know how many times the directors at 3ABN have heard Dan say that he doesn't want to see empty seats...I guess this will make one more...

Sure thing Dan...

Posted by: princessdi Aug 29 2006, 03:43 PM

Okee Dokee! Thanks Pete for gettin my drift!! LOL!!! I am on the phone now with my mother, asking her. They grew up in this area, their father pastored for many years in Oakland. She says this may be him.

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Aug 29 2006, 01:51 PM)
>
> Pacific Union Recorder

> http://www.pacificunionrecorder.com/105/1/24603.html
>
> Delegates to Southeastern California's Nov. 7 constituency session elected that conference's first black president, Gerald D. Penick, Sr., and the Pacific Union's first female officer, Sandra Roberts, as executive secretary.
>
> ...
>
> Penick replaces Lynn Mallery, who retired after 12 years as SECC president.
>
> ...
>
> Penick has served in the SECC office since 1989, 12 years as executive secretary and three years as assistant to the president for black ministries and director of community services, inner city and prison ministries. Penick has pastored in the Southeastern California, Allegheny West, Central States and South Central conferences. Though Penick is the first African-American president in the SECC, he is the seventh black conference president elected in the Pacific Union in recent years, and the fifth to serve (two declined).
>
> ...
>
> Penick commented after the votes were counted, "This is a historic day for the Southeastern California Conference.
>
> http://www.adventistdirectory.org/view_AdmField.asp?AdmFieldID=SECC
>
> Southeastern California Conference of Seventh-day Adventists
> 11330 Pierce St
> Riverside, CA 92505-3303
>
> Mail: PO Box 8050
> Riverside, CA 92515-8050
>
> Leader: Gerald D Penick, President
> Phone: 1 951-509-2200
> Fax: 1 951-509-2390
> Email: info@secc-sda.org
>
> Website: www.secc.adventist.org

Posted by: beartrap Aug 29 2006, 11:18 PM

Gerald Penick approved the Desert Hot Springs Church for hosting a 3ABN fund raising rally to be held September 9. It will feature Danny Shelton, Tommy Shelton, and Steve Darmody. The Elders of the church voted unanymously to host this rally.

Posted by: sonshineonme Aug 29 2006, 11:35 PM

QUOTE(beartrap @ Aug 29 2006, 10:18 PM)

> Gerald Penick approved the Desert Hot Springs Church for hosting a 3ABN fund raising rally to be held September 9. It will feature Danny Shelton, Tommy Shelton, and Steve Darmody. The Elders of the church voted unanymously to host this rally.

Disappointing, but not surprising. Guess my letter to the prez didn't mean much to him. The rest is left to be seen.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Aug 30 2006, 01:53 AM

> QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Aug 29 2006, 11:35 PM)
>
> Disappointing, but not surprising. Guess my letter to the prez didn't mean much to him. The rest is left to be seen.

I, personally, think your letter did mean something.

And one more thing. Don't make the mistake of presuming all 30 of those attending weekly are aware of everything and agree with it.

Posted by: Clay Aug 30 2006, 06:36 AM

> QUOTE(beartrap @ Aug 29 2006, 11:18 PM)
>
> Gerald Penick approved the Desert Hot Springs Church for hosting a 3ABN fund raising rally to be held September 9. It will feature Danny Shelton, Tommy Shelton, and Steve Darmody. The Elders of the church voted unanymously to host this rally.

that is because either they are not aware about all the goings on at 3abn..... or they know and don't care......

I am curious, is this church a predominantly black church, white church or mixed?

Posted by: Observer Aug 30 2006, 06:54 AM

The temp. pastor of that church is Irven Thomsen. He was employed, for a short time, at 3-ABN. He left their employment after becoming concerned over certain issues that he became aware of.

He is to be commended for taking an ethical stand which resulted in his leaving their employment.

Whatever we do, we should not criticize him.

Posted by: Clay Aug 30 2006, 07:05 AM

> QUOTE(Observer @ Aug 30 2006, 06:54 AM)

> The temp. pastor of that church is Irven Thomsen. He was employed, for a short time, at 3-ABN. He left their employment after becoming concerned over certain issues that he became aware of.
>
> He is to be commended for taking an ethical stand which resulted in his leaving their employment. Whatever we do, we should not criticize him.

yes we should... or remember that some pastors are reluctant to stand up for what they know is right..... you indicated that he left the employment of 3abn after ethical concerns..... yet sonshine reported this:

> QUOTE
>
> "I spoke with the pastor of the Desert Hot Springs Church (Irven Thomsen, interim pastor filling in for just a short time), and he said that his church leadership has decided to turn it over to the Southeastern CA Conference president, Gerald Pennick, and let him make the final decision."

rather than make a decision he kicks it up to the prez... does he share with the prez his concerns about 3abn, or is he satisfied that he does not have to make the decision? If he informs the president of his concerns about 3abn and the president decides to go ahead with the rally fine, but if he puts the whole thing in the presidents lap and never shares what he knows... that is a cop out.... a Herod, Pilate kind of thing.... but that's just from where I sit....

Posted by: Johann Aug 30 2006, 07:28 AM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Aug 30 2006, 03:05 PM) ☐
>
> yes we should... or remember that some pastors are reluctant to stand up for what they know is right..... you indicated that he left the employment of 3abn after ethical concerns..... yet sonshine reported this:
> rather than make a decision he kicks it up to the prez... does he share with the prez his concerns about 3abn, or is he satisfied that he does not have to make the decision? If he informs the president of his concerns about 3abn and the president decides to go ahead with the rally fine, but if he puts the whole thing in the presidents lap and never shares what he knows... that is a cop out.... a Herod, Pilate kind of thing.... but that's just from where I sit....

Posted by: lurker Aug 30 2006, 07:48 AM

Knowing these appearances are fund raisers and that people might be duped out of their money to line Danny's pockets in one of these meetings is I guess what bothers me the most. I think someone ought to be there to ask them a few questions in public. Danny shouldn't be the only one who gets to do all the talking.

Posted by: sonshineonme Aug 30 2006, 08:05 AM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Aug 30 2006, 06:05 AM)
>
> yes we should... or remember that some pastors are reluctant to stand up for what they know is right..... you indicated that he left the employment of 3abn after ethical concerns..... yet sonshine reported this:
> rather than make a decision he kicks it up to the prez... does he share with the prez his concerns about 3abn, or is he satisfied that he does not have to make the decision? If he informs the president of his concerns about 3abn and the president decides to go ahead with the rally fine, but if he puts the whole thing in the presidents lap and never shares what he knows... that is a cop out.... a Herod, Pilate kind of thing.... but that's just from where I sit....

There were reasons it was "kicked up" as you say. It was not the pastors choice that it be kicked up. He was more then ready to give an answer. He does not have the power to make a choice when he also has elders that are making the choice. Assuming the way to take are of it was to kick it up, the prez most likely spoke to these elders, and as you saw, beartrap said the elders voted unanimously. It's all too familiar of a backdrop. One person shouts from the hilltop "watch out!" having the advantage of the climb and what's below, and the rest not being at the hiltop THINK they know what's best for them already....it's call blindful bliss. Too bad we can't have hind sight in front of us. (sorry, had to change my wording, it didn't come out like I wanted the first time)

This is NOT the pastors fault. I'm sure there was some "informing". And it is very frustrating to watch. But this is nothing new under the sun.

Posted by: Observer Aug 30 2006, 08:12 AM

rather than make a decision he kicks it up to the prez... does he share with the prez his concerns about 3abn, or is he satisfied that he does not have to make the decision? If he informs the president of his concerns about 3abn and the president decides to go ahead with the rally fine, but if he puts the whole thing in the presidents lap and never shares what he knows... that is a cop out.... a Herod, Pilate kind of thing.... but that's just from where I sit....
[/quote]

The issues as to why he left 3-ABN are known in the Conference in which he works. I cannot immagine the President not being informed of the issues at the time he was placed on the Conference pastoral staff.

Due to the statements regarding the posision of the local elders, and the fact that he was simply a temp. pastor to the congregation, I believe he felt that he had no other choice.

I think that we should not criticize him. I think that this is especially true due to the stand he took at 3-ABN. Sometimes the issues are cut and dried, and very clear. At other times they are not so clear, this was likely the case due to his perception of his authority. He very well may not have had the authority to do anything else.

Posted by: calvin Aug 30 2006, 08:30 AM

> QUOTE(Observer @ Aug 30 2006, 09:12 AM)
>
> rather than make a decision he kicks it up to the prez... does he share with the prez his concerns about 3abn, or is he satisfied that he does not have to make the decision? If he informs the president of his concerns about 3abn and the president decides to go ahead with the rally fine, but > if he puts the whole thing in the presidents lap and never shares what he knows... that is a cop out.... a Herod, Pilate kind of thing.... but that's just from where I sit....

> The issues as to why he left 3-ABN are known in the Conference in which he works. I cannot immagine the President not being informed of the issues at the time he was placed on the Conference pastoral staff.
>
> Due to the statements regarding the posision of the local elders, and the fact that he was simply a temp. pastor to the congregation, I believe he felt that he had no other choice.
>
> I think that we should not criticize him. I think that this is especially true due to the stand he took at 3-ABN. Sometimes the issues are cut and dried, and very clear. At other times they are not so clear, this was likely the case due to his perception of his authority. He very well may not have had the authority to do anything else.

I agree Observer. Pastors often don't rule with absolute authority, especially when you have a congregation of well educated independent thinkers...and he was a temp. pastor at that.. He may have been out voted and it came to this. Difficult for me to pass judgment with the information we have here.

Posted by: sonshineonme Aug 30 2006, 08:33 AM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Aug 30 2006, 07:30 AM) ☐
>
> I agree Observer. Pastors often don't rule with absolute authority, especially when you have a congregation of well educated independent thinkers...and he was a temp. pastor at that.. He may have been out voted and it came to this. Difficult for me to pass judgment with the information we have here.

Calvin,
You hit the nail on the head.
He was out voted.
That's the bottom line.
May or may not have had anything to do with him being a interim pastor.

Posted by: Truly Blonde Aug 30 2006, 10:00 AM

> QUOTE(Observer @ Aug 30 2006, 07:12 AM) ☐
>
> rather than make a decision he kicks it up to the prez... does he share with the prez his concerns about 3abn, or is he satisfied that he does not have to make the decision? If he informs the president of his concerns about 3abn and the president decides to go ahead with the rally fine, but if he puts the whole thing in the presidents lap and never shares what he knows... that is a cop out.... a Herod, Pilate kind of thing.... but that's just from where I sit....
> The issues as to why he left 3-ABN are known in the Conference in which he works. I cannot immagine the President not being informed of the issues at the time he was placed on the Conference pastoral staff.
>
> Due to the statements regarding the posision of the local elders, and the fact that he was simply a temp. pastor to the congregation, I believe he felt that he had no other choice.

> I think that we should not criticize him. I think that this is especially true due to the stand he took at 3-ABN. Sometimes the issues are cut and dried, and very clear. At other times they are not so clear, this was likely the case due to his perception of his authority. He very well may not have had the authority to do anything else.

Your statement that the conference president knows why he left 3abn may not be accurate. I think sometimes we give to much credit for people knowing all the facts. Last Sabbath the Ministerial Secretary of our Union was at our church. After the worship service my husband went to him and asked him if he was aware of the mess at 3abn. He told us he didn't know anything about it. When my husband told him just some of the things we have been reading here he told us he was sure the General Conference would take care of any problems. He also told us that only the local church could do anything about Danny. We told him that the church was owned by Danny. Thankfully, when he said people should then go to the conference, our pastor was there and he said he had received a letter from either the pastor or the Dr. (I don't remember which)that the president of the conference was on the board of 3abn. He then told us we should be out saving souls and not spending our time on these rumors. We were a bit discouraged. We came away with the realization that even though there are a lot of people reading the posts on blacksda there are many more who know nothing is going on. Also in our S.S. class my husband told our class we needed to be praying for 3abn (we did) there were some in our class who made the comment that they were uncomfortable with my husband bring up a problem within the church. They felt any problem 3abn had should not be talked about!!!!! and he didn't even tell them what the problem was just said we needed to pray for 3abn. Johann I know you think we are at critical mass but it doesn't seem that way to me. Any words of encouragement? ☒ plea

PS If I knew how to just get the part of the quote I wanted this wouldn't be so long. Sorry
Truly Blonde

Posted by: Johann Aug 30 2006, 10:15 AM

> QUOTE(Truly Blonde @ Aug 30 2006, 06:00 PM) ☐
>
> ---.
>
> Johann I know you think we are at critical mass but it doesn't seem that way to me. Any words of encouragement? ☒ plea
>
> ---y
> Truly Blonde

Danny is back from Russia. Probably reay for another round.

Posted by: Freedom Aug 30 2006, 10:19 AM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Aug 30 2006, 05:05 AM) ☐

> yes we should... or remember that some pastors are reluctant to stand up for what they know is right..... you indicated that he left the employment of 3abn after ethical concerns..... yet sonshine reported this:
> rather than make a decision he kicks it up to the prez... does he share with the prez his concerns about 3abn, or is he satisfied that he does not have to make the decision? If he informs the president of his concerns about 3abn and the president decides to go ahead with the rally fine, but if he puts the whole thing in the presidents lap and never shares what he knows... that is a cop out.... a Herod, Pilate kind of thing.... but that's just from where I sit....

Excuse, me but..............!!!

Ervin Thomsen did give the head elder information regarding 3ABN and felt best if the Conference Prez. made the decision since he was a former employee of 3ABN. He does NOT support what has taken place at 3ABN. Ervin along with other workers took a stand against some things that took place.
Those of you that know the inner workings of 3ABN know the problems that arise to ones that take a stand for RIGHT!

Someone asked about DHS church, it is very small and guessing that there are 30 in "regular" attendance is being generous! I have been to this church on several occasions. I know the head elder and his wife and their two boys. This is a white church and most of the "elders" are snowbirders and away at this time. It is in a small desert town .....

I would suggest calling the DHS church and leaving a message and the head elder (Tom Moen) will call you back

(760) 251 9992 Church

Or else one could call the Southeastern conference office. Their contact information has already been posted.

Posted by: Clay Aug 30 2006, 10:39 AM

thanks for the added info.... if the pastor was outvoted that is a whole different wrinkle.....

Posted by: inga Aug 30 2006, 11:48 AM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Aug 30 2006, 09:30 AM)
>
> I agree Observer. Pastors often don't rule with absolute authority,

The should never rule with "absolute authority." That is not their role in the Adventist church, though they often reach such a position by default because the congregation is not educated/involved. Of course, the should educate the congregation so that they let go of the false idea that the pastor is a local pope.

> QUOTE
>
> especially when you have a congregation of well educated independent thinkers...and he was a temp. pastor at that.. He may have been out voted and it came to this. Difficult for me to pass > judgment with the information we have here.

Of course, when the local congregation actually exercises its mandate, the pastor can't be blamed for their decision if he did his part in educating them.

According to their website, they have 93 members. On the average -- if this were not snowbird country -- that would mean 47 attending, but 30 or fewer would be ralistic this time of year. I wonder, though, if enough folks will travel to meet our modern "prophet" that they will have an overflow attendance. Still, it's probably not what Danny is used to.

If someone knew someone at the local church who is internet-savvy, it would be very good to point him/her to this site.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Aug 30 2006, 01:06 PM

> QUOTE(lurker @ Aug 30 2006, 08:48 AM)
>
> Knowing these appearances are fund raisers and that people might be duped out of their money to line Danny's pockets in one of these meetings is I guess what bothers me the most. I think someone ought to be there to ask them a few questions in public. Danny shouldn't be the only one who gets to do all the talking.

This proposal, Lurker, reminds me of another event:

"OK, I made some waves at a White House tea party when I spoke out to Lady Bird Johnson on the Vietnam war issue. Well, my nightclub act was cancelled right after it happened. And several more cancellations followed. It's kept me off television talk shows for more than a year, too. They're afraid of what I might say, I guess.

But as far as the White House incident goes, I said what I believe, which is what the invitation had said they wanted me to do. But the newspapers made it seem as though I'd been rude and I wasn't.

I said what I thought and I didn't shout. And I'd say it all again."

Eartha Kitt

Posted by: Johann Aug 30 2006, 01:27 PM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Aug 30 2006, 06:39 PM)

> thanks for the added info.... if the pastor was outvoted that is a whole different wrinkle.....

Seems like the pastor wasn't even present when the decision was made.

Posted by: sonshineonme Aug 30 2006, 01:30 PM

> QUOTE(lurker @ Aug 30 2006, 06:48 AM)
>
> Knowing these appearances are fund raisers and that people might be duped out of their money to line Danny's pockets in one of these meetings is I guess what bothers me the most. I think someone ought to be there to ask them a few questions in public. Danny shouldn't be the only one who gets to do all the talking.

IT'S CLEARLY WRONG FOR THEM TO BE ALLOWED TO HOLD A RALLY THERE.
IF THE CHURCH WAS INUNDATED WITH CALLS, WOULD IT MAKE ANY DIFFERENCE?
THE ONLY WAY THE "CHURCH" CAN MAKE A DIFFERENCE WHEN IT COMES TO 3ABN, IS TO MAKE A STAND ON WHERE THEY CAN JUST WALTZ IN AND SPIN THEIR WEB - IF INDIVIDUAL CHURCHES ARE WILLING TO OVER RIDE IT THIS EASILY, THEN WE ARE A SUNK IN OUR EFFORTS.
ARE WE TO SIT STILL ON THIS OR ANY FURTHER RALLYS?

(P.S. MY CAPS ARE NOT ON BY ACCIDENT)

I'm a little tired of being calm in all this whooey....

We have 9 days till the 9th. Well????????

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Aug 30 2006, 04:03 PM

> QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Aug 30 2006, 02:30 PM)
>
> IT'S CLEARLY WRONG FOR THEM TO BE ALLOWED TO HOLD A RALLY THERE.
> IF THE CHURCH WAS INUNDATED WITH CALLS, WOULD IT MAKE ANY DIFFERENCE?
> THE ONLY WAY THE "CHURCH" CAN MAKE A DIFFERENCE WHEN IT COMES TO 3ABN, IS TO MAKE A STAND ON WHERE THEY CAN JUST WALTZ IN AND SPIN THEIR WEB - IF INDIVIDUAL CHURCHES ARE WILLING TO OVER RIDE IT THIS EASILY, THEN WE ARE A SUNK IN OUR EFFORTS.
> ARE WE TO SIT STILL ON THIS OR ANY FURTHER RALLYS?
>
> (P.S. MY CAPS ARE NOT ON BY ACCIDENT)
>
> I'm a little tired of being calm in all this whooey....
>
> We have 9 days till the 9th. Well????????

For what it's worth - the people who work on the road with 3ABN didn't even know that this was scheduled...

Posted by: Observer Aug 30 2006, 04:27 PM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Aug 30 2006, 01:27 PM) ☐
>
> Seems like the pastor wasn't even present when the decision was made.

Let me add a little more to this discussion.

IT, the temp. pastor is leaving the area on Sunday, September 3, as he has accepted employment in another State. He was only there for a temp. time until he could find employment after leaving 3-ABN.

During the time that he was their temp. pastor, the local congregation, its Board, and their local leader essentially ruled. There is some reason to believe that the decision was never presented to the Conference President, but that the Pastor's desire to have that done was not carried out by the local leadership. This may very well have been a situation where the actions taken were without the agreement of either the Conference President, or the temp. pastor.

I say again that we should not criticize the pastor.

Also, we might be just a wrong if we were to criticize the Conference President.

Posted by: Truly Blonde Aug 30 2006, 04:30 PM

I just went to the 3abn web site and it is posted that 3abn will be at the Desert Hot Springs church on Sept. 9th. they have invited anyone in the area to attend. They sure didn't waste any time putting that up did they? They must really NEED the money.

Truly Blonde

Posted by: sonshineonme Aug 30 2006, 06:02 PM

> QUOTE(Observer @ Aug 30 2006, 03:27 PM) ☐
>
> Let me add a little more to this discussion.
>
> IT, the temp. pastor is leaving the area on Sunday, September 3, as he has accepted employment in another State. He was only there for a temp. time until he could find employment after leaving 3-ABN.
>
> During the time that he was their temp. pastor, the local congregation, its Board, and their local leader essentially ruled. There is some reason to believe that the decision was never presented to the Conference President, but that the Pastor's desire to have that done was not carried out by the local leadership. This may very well have been a situation where the actions taken were without the agreement of either the Conference President, or the temp. pastor.

> I say again that we should not criticize the pastor.
>
> Also, we might be just a wrong if we were to criticize the Conference President.

I agree the interim pastor is not responsible, I am fully aware of what he did and why he did it - he didn't not want them there.
I am also in agreement that the prez should not be held accountable if it never made it to him - and therefore it is left in the elders hands and they have decided. Would someone quickly give them some further education?

Posted by: Clay Aug 30 2006, 06:15 PM

> QUOTE(Observer @ Aug 30 2006, 05:27 PM)
>
> Let me add a little more to this discussion.
>
> IT, the temp. pastor is leaving the area on Sunday, September 3, as he has accepted employment in another State. He was only there for a temp. time until he could find employment after leaving 3-ABN.
>
> During the time that he was their temp. pastor, the local congregation, its Board, and their local leader essentially ruled. There is some reason to believe that the decision was never presented to the Conference President, but that the Pastor's desire to have that done was not carried out by the local leadership. This may very well have been a situation where the actions taken were without the agreement of either the Conference President, or the temp. pastor.
>
> I say again that we should not criticize the pastor.
>
> Also, we might be just a wrong if we were to criticize the Conference President.

it seems he was attempting to do the right thing and was outflanked by those pesky local leaders... such is life and it is unfortunate.....

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Aug 30 2006, 06:32 PM

Well, there was at least a cancellation resulting in a necessary last minute change. That is still a first and a step forward.

Posted by: Johann Aug 31 2006, 03:40 AM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Aug 31 2006, 02:15 AM)
>
> it seems he was attempting to do the right thing and was outflanked by those pesky local leaders... such is life and it is unfortunate.....

conference presidents don't always lord-it-all

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jan 19 2007, 09:50 PM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Aug 27 2006, 12:59 PM) ☐
>
> I don't know if or when it was canceled, but I wouldn't expect it to be taken off the website any sooner than tomorrow.
>
> Isn't Danny out of town for quite a while...could that not be the reason it was canceled?

This is now posted at Maritime SDA

Annual Convention at the Tobago Chapter of ASI

Please join Danny Shelton as he has been invited to attend the Annual Convention at the Tobaggo Chapter of ASI

Friday, January 26, 2007 at 7:00 p.m.
At: Sandy River SDA Church
Mason Hall
Tobago

Sabbath, January 27, 2007 9:00 a.m. Sabbath School
11:00 a.m. Morning Worship
2:30 p.m. Afternoon Service

At: Rovenells Beach Hotel
Crown Point
Tobago

Contact person: Mr. Diamond Andrews 868-639-3809 or 868-639-1227

Posted by: princessdi Jan 19 2007, 10:03 PM

i guess this is one of the reasons it was "inappropriate" for them to investigate things at 3ABN. These folks are worse than the corporate world!

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jan 19 2007, 07:50 PM) ☐
>
> This is now posted at Maritime SDA
>
> Annual Convention at the Tobago Chapter of ASI
>
> Please join Danny Shelton as he has been invited to attend the Annual Convention at the Tobaggo Chapter of ASI
> Friday, January 26, 2007 at 7:00 p.m.

> At: Sandy River SDA Church
> Mason Hall
> Tobago
> Sabbath, January 27, 2007 9:00 a.m. Sabbath School
> 11:00 a.m. Morning Worship
> 2:30 p.m. Afternoon Service
>
> At: Rovenells Beach Hotel
> Crown Point
> Tobago
>
> Contact person: Mr. Diamond Andrews 868-639-3809 or 868-639-1227

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 19 2007, 10:19 PM

> QUOTE(princessdi @ Jan 19 2007, 11:03 PM) ☐
>
> i guess this is one of the reasons it was "inappropriate" for them to investigate things at 3ABN. These folks are worse than the corporate world!

I'm sure it was written in the agreement to have this posted. Now it looks like ASI has sided with Dan. It's all politcial you know!

Posted by: calvin Jan 19 2007, 10:39 PM

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jan 19 2007, 09:50 PM) ☐
>
> This is now posted at Maritime SDA
>
> Annual Convention at the Tobago Chapter of ASI
>
> Please join Danny Shelton as he has been invited to attend the Annual Convention at the Tobaggo Chapter of ASI
>
> Friday, January 26, 2007 at 7:00 p.m.
> At: Sandy River SDA Church
> Mason Hall
> Tobago
> Sabbath, January 27, 2007 9:00 a.m. Sabbath School
> 11:00 a.m. Morning Worship
> 2:30 p.m. Afternoon Service
>
> At: Rovenells Beach Hotel
> Crown Point
> Tobago

> Contact person: Mr. Diamond Andrews 868-639-3809 or 868-639-1227

Tobago, I am surprised ASI has a chapter there...that little carribbean country? Well, you can't get much off the beaten path than that.

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 19 2007, 11:47 PM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Jan 19 2007, 11:39 PM)
>
> Tobago, I am surprised ASI has a chapter there...that little carribbean country? Well, you can't get much off the beaten path than that.

Perhaps they'll grant him honorary citizenship - - permanently. plea

---

Posted by: caribbean sda Jan 20 2007, 12:55 AM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Jan 20 2007, 12:39 AM)
>
> Tobago, I am surprised ASI has a chapter there...that little carribbean country? Well, you can't get much off the beaten path than that.

Tobago is well off the beaten path; but 3ABN is very very very big in the Caribbean Region. Most of the people are unaware of the goings on in West Frankfort. And while Caribbean people may not have a whole heap of money, they are very passionate about the spreading of the gospel and they will liberally give to further the work of God. 3ABN is seen as such an avenue. I'm sure when the offering plates are passed in Tobago, the tally will testify to the generousity of the people. Perhaps 3ABN will visit more churches in areas off the beaten path because the scrutiny of its operations and upper-level managemet is next to none...

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jan 20 2007, 06:18 AM

> QUOTE(caribbean sda @ Jan 20 2007, 12:55 AM)
>
> Tobago is well off the beaten path; but 3ABN is very very very big in the Caribbean Region. Most of the people are unaware of the goings on in West Frankfort. And while Caribbean people may not have a whole heap of money, they are very passionate about the spreading of the gospel and they will liberally give to further the work of God. 3ABN is seen as such an avenue. I'm sure when the offering plates are passed in Tobago, the tally will testify to the generousity of the people. Perhaps 3ABN will visit more churches in areas off the beaten path because the scrutiny of its operations and upper-level managemet is next to none...

I found a link that gives a history of the churches in Tobago: "The SDA churches in Tobago general take on the name of the Village in which they are located."

For instance, this one is located at Mount St. George Village and is Mount St. George Church, or as locals call it, Georgia.

http://www.tagnet.org/mt_st_george/history.html

I haven't found any information on Sandy River SDA Church, as mentioned in the 3ABN annoucement, posted above.

Posted by: watchbird Jan 20 2007, 07:32 AM

> QUOTE(caribbean sda @ Jan 20 2007, 01:55 AM)
>
> Tobago is well off the beaten path; but 3ABN is very very very big in the Caribbean Region. Most of the people are unaware of the goings on in West Frankfort. And while Caribbean people may not have a whole heap of money, they are very passionate about the spreading of the gospel and they will liberally give to further the work of God. 3ABN is seen as such an avenue. I'm sure when the offering plates are passed in Tobago, the tally will testify to the generousity of the people. Perhaps 3ABN will visit more churches in areas off the beaten path because the scrutiny of its operations and upper-level managemet is next to none...

So who will go and tell them? Or will it be a case of "My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge"......?????

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jan 20 2007, 04:44 PM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jan 20 2007, 07:32 AM)
>
> So who will go and tell them? Or will it be a case of "My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge"......?????

Ideas. People. Ideas.

Posted by: JustTana Jan 20 2007, 04:59 PM

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jan 20 2007, 05:44 PM)
>
> Ideas. People. Ideas.

Seems like there was an '800' phone number on one of these posts. But it might not have been one that is free -- to Tobago? I doubt it. Maybe someone from the 3ABN contingent could call them and inform them of the shenanigans. I would do it myself, but I think it would be more believable if it came from someone directly involved in the 'day to day' of the situation. Does that make any sense?

The Contact person: Mr. Diamond Andrews 868-639-3809 or 868-639-1227

JT

Posted by: eye witness Jan 21 2007, 08:45 AM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jan 20 2007, 07:32 AM)
>
> So who will go and tell them? Or will it be a case of "My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge"......?????

[b]I have been shown that much sin has resulted from idleness. Active hands and minds do not find time to heed every temptation which the enemy suggests, but idle hands and brains are all ready for Satan to control. The mind, when not properly occupied, dwells upon improper things. 1T395

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jan 21 2007, 10:35 AM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 21 2007, 08:45 AM)
>
> I have been shown that much sin has resulted from idleness. Active hands and minds do not find time to heed every temptation which the enemy suggests, but idle hands and brains are all ready for Satan to control. The mind, when not properly occupied, dwells upon improper things. 1T395

Sticks and stones.

Pete

Posted by: inga Jan 21 2007, 11:11 AM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 21 2007, 09:45 AM)
>
> [b]I have been shown that much sin has resulted from idleness. Active hands and minds do not find > time to heed every temptation which the enemy suggests, but idle hands and brains are all ready for Satan to control. The mind, when not properly occupied, dwells upon improper things. 1T395

Thank you for that quote. Is that also a confession?

Do you mean to imply that we busy folks don't sin as much?

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 21 2007, 11:29 AM

> QUOTE(eye witness @ Jan 21 2007, 07:45 AM) ☐
>
> [b]I have been shown that much sin has resulted from idleness. Active hands and minds do not find time to heed every temptation which the enemy suggests, but idle hands and brains are all ready for Satan to control. The mind, when not properly occupied, dwells upon improper things. 1T395

While this doesn't aptly apply to most of the discussions here on this 3abn forum it is great counsel. The final sentence shows, keenly, that focusing on Jesus is the only way to keep the mind pure!

Posted by: Johann Jan 22 2007, 05:27 AM

> QUOTE(caribbean sda @ Jan 20 2007, 08:55 AM) ☐
>
> Tobago is well off the beaten path;
> ---

Is Tobago far off the US Virgin Islands? Are there connctions by boat or ferry?

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jan 22 2007, 08:36 AM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jan 22 2007, 05:27 AM) ☐
>
> Is Tobago far off the US Virgin Islands? Are there connctions by boat or ferry?

TRINIDAD and TOBAGO

http://www.fodors.com/miniguides/mgresults.cfm?destination=trinidad_tobago@158&cur_section=tra

By Air
There are nonstop flights to Trinidad from New York, Miami, and Washington, D.C. There are nonstop flights from London to Tobago but none from the United States. More likely, you will have to hop over to Tobago from Trinidad on Caribbean Star or Tobago Express.

Airline Information

Aeropostal (PHONE: 868/623-4174). Air Canada (PHONE: 868/664-4065). American Airlines (PHONE: 868/664-4661). British Airways (PHONE: 800/744-2997). BWIA West Indies Airways (PHONE: 868/625-1010 or 868/669-3000). Caribbean Star (PHONE: 800/744-7827). Continental Airlines (PHONE: 800/461-2744). LIAT (PHONE: 868/627-2942 or 868/623-1838). Tobago Express (PHONE: 868/625-1010 or 868/669-3000).

Airports & Transfers

Authorized airport taxis can be arranged just outside the baggage claim areas of the airports on both Trinidad and Tobago. (You will certainly be assailed by shouts of "Taxi?" by the nonauthorized drivers as you exit the baggage area.) The trip from the airport into Port of Spain costs about $30 during the day and $45 at night using the authorized taxis. In Tobago, the cost will vary greatly depending on the location of your hotel; a board in the baggage claim area claims to give accurate rates to all the major hotels. Generally, hotels in the Crown Point area should cost about $25 (a bit of a rip-off, as most hotels in that area are within walking distance) while hotels in Scarborough and Grafton Beach will cost approximately $50.

A service available in Trinidad, called 628-TAXI, will take you from the airport to any point on the island. The cost to get to hotels in Port of Spain is about $16 each way, but you will have to call from the airport or your hotel to arrange the pickup.

Airport Information

Crown Point Airport (PHONE: 868/639-0509). Piarco International Airport (PHONE: 868/669-4101, www.tntairports.com).

Printable Version of Topic

122

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ A Rallying Of The Board?

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 17 2007, 08:59 PM

There will soon be a new "Mending Broken People" program made in which Dan has decided that the entire 3ABN board will be on the stage with him. He's rallying his support group around him ready for the fight, I'd say.

The first time this was taped it was in a local church many, many years ago. Then it was some really lame "Behind the Scenes" program in which Dan didn't know what to do, so he just sat in that God-awful sunroom set and regurgitated the story once again. Now, they're pulling out all the stops! Can't wait to see this one. Of course, at the rate of production right now, it may be a year before anyone sees it! Wonder if the story will be..."altered?"

Posted by: Johann Jan 18 2007, 01:11 AM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 18 2007, 04:59 AM)
>
> - - - Of course, at the rate of production right now, it may be a year before anyone sees it! Wonder if the story will be..."altered?"

A person close to Thompsonville told me the other day what a weird explanation Danny Shelton was giving why 3ABN isn't functioning properly any more, but he made me promise not to reveal what Danny says - yet!

Do you have any official reason you are free to reveal why production is so slow now?

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 18 2007, 08:28 AM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 17 2007, 07:59 PM)
>
> There will soon be a new "Mending Broken People" program made in which Dan has decided that the entire 3ABN board will be on the stage with him. He's rallying his support group around him ready for the fight, I'd say.
>
> The first time this was taped it was in a local church many, many years ago. Then it was some really lame "Behind the Scenes" program in which Dan didn't know what to do, so he just sat in that God-awful sunroom set and regurgitated the story once again. Now, they're pulling out all the stops! Can't wait to see this one. Of course, at the rate of production right now, it may be a year > before anyone sees it! Wonder if the story will be..."altered?"

It will be most interesting to see this the content of this program.

Posted by: jene Jan 18 2007, 10:59 AM

When is the program airing?

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 18 2007, 04:25 PM

> QUOTE(Johann @ Jan 18 2007, 02:11 AM)
>
> A person close to Thompsonville told me the other day what a weird explanation Danny Shelton was giving why 3ABN isn't functioning properly any more, but he made me promise not to reveal what Danny says - yet!
>
> Do you have any official reason you are free to reveal why production is so slow now?

Honestly, it is because Shelley Quinn is head of a new program department that is absolute chaos in there. They are trying to put so much together that it's all just a mass of confusion. Their job is to arrange all of these new programs so that they're ready when they go down into production. but that's not what's happening. They've had to retape a couple of series over again because of issues with name copyrights...go figure. Don't get me wrong, production is pushed to the absolute max.

I'd be interested to know the reason that Dan gave. If you don't want to post it, you could pm me...hint, hint!

> QUOTE(jene @ Jan 18 2007, 11:59 AM)
>
> When is the program airing?

It hasn't been taped yet that I know of. So after that, it will have to be edited. It could be a while before we see it on air.

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Jan 18 2007, 10:00 PM

Well, they were all praising one another this evening.

Posted by: daylily Jan 19 2007, 05:19 AM

I didn't see the program last night, but I remember when we first started getting 3ABN in the late nineties, they were praising God. Now it seems that they do mostly praise each other on the "Thiursday NIght LIve" programs.

Posted by: sister Jan 19 2007, 06:34 AM

> QUOTE(daylily @ Jan 19 2007, 06:19 AM) ☐
>
> I didn't see the program last night, but I remember when we first started getting 3ABN in the late nineties, they were praising God. Now it seems that they do mostly praise each other on the "Thiursday NIght LIve" programs.

Daylily, you really didn't miss anything. It was not a Thursday night "live", but a Thursday night "dead", that means pre-recorded and no one can call in questions and get in the way of Danny's canned messege.

Posted by: daylily Jan 19 2007, 07:45 AM

Oh, OK.

Where is that comment of John Lomacang about Jezebel? I though it was on this thread but I can't find it.

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 19 2007, 10:03 AM

> QUOTE(daylily @ Jan 19 2007, 05:45 AM) ☐
>
> Oh, OK.
>
> Where is that comment of John Lomacang about Jezebel? I though it was on this thread but I can't find it.

Hi Daylily, I mentioned Lomacang saying this comment in the "Letter to Calvin" thread. Find it? You really want to hear it with your own ears too....I had this feeling he was referring to someone specific, if ya know what i mean. ☒

Posted by: daylily Jan 19 2007, 02:39 PM

Thanks sonshineonme! I found it. Yes, I suspect he was thinking about a particular person:) I'll have to watch the program Sunday.

sister, I've often wondered how the call in programs work. They are screened I sure! Seems like it could be "dangerous" to invite people to call in with their questions:)

Posted by: sister Jan 19 2007, 02:54 PM

> QUOTE(daylily @ Jan 19 2007, 03:39 PM) ☐

> Thanks sonshineonme! I found it. Yes, I suspect he was thinking about a particular person:) I'll have to watch the program Sunday.
>
> sister, I've often wondered how the call in programs work. They are screened I sure! Seems like it could be "dangerous" to invite people to call in with their questions:)

Daylily, in earlier times the people in the call center or the pastoral department would answer the phones during the live program, then take the questions and encourage anyone who was willing to ask their question live on the program. That, of course, is no longer done. Now all the questions are written down and it is chosen which ones will be read on the live. In an event such as last night questions might have been very "uncomfortable", so the program was pre-recorded or a "dead" live.

Sister

Posted by: daylily Jan 19 2007, 03:02 PM

Sister, thanks for the info. I had wondered if they still did the on-air questions. I hadn't seen any for a long time but I uusually miss the live programs anyway.

Posted by: Snoopy Jan 19 2007, 06:59 PM

> QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jan 19 2007, 10:03 AM)
>
> Hi Daylily, I mentioned Lomacang saying this comment in the "Letter to Calvin" thread. Find it? You really want to hear it with your own ears too....I had this feeling he was referring to someone specific, if ya know what i mean.

Oh, but he prefaced the Jezebel comment with "...and I'm not trying to infer anything..."

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 19 2007, 07:02 PM

> QUOTE(Snoopy @ Jan 19 2007, 04:59 PM)
>
> Oh, but he prefaced the Jezebel comment with "...and I'm not trying to infer anything..."

Which we do know was a bunch of "who-eee" b

Wonder if after they read the comments of those reporting what they saw, they will choose to edit out some of those "mistakes"??? Good thing we have a copy of the original! There's nothing like the real thing!

Posted by: roxe Jan 20 2007, 12:57 AM

> QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jan 19 2007, 06:02 PM)
>
> Good thing we have a copy of the original! There's nothing like the real thing!

sonshine, do you have a copy of the original on tape or DVD?

i'd like to buy a copy from you...

pm me, ok?

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 20 2007, 12:59 AM

> QUOTE(roxe @ Jan 19 2007, 10:57 PM)
>
> sonshine, do you have a copy of the original? tape or DVD?
>
> i'd like to buy a copy of it from you...

I don't, but I know someone who does. I can check to see if I can get a copy, ok?

Posted by: roxe Jan 20 2007, 01:03 AM

> QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jan 19 2007, 11:59 PM)
>
> I don't, but I know someone who does. I can check to see if I can get a copy, ok?

ok...
i'm willing to pay for the copy plus shipping...

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 20 2007, 01:09 AM

> QUOTE(roxe @ Jan 19 2007, 11:03 PM)
>
> ok...
> i'm willing to pay for the copy plus shipping...

I will find out for sure on Monday. I think it can be arranged. I'll keep you posted. PM me on Monday if you would to remind me to check on this again.

Posted by: roxe Jan 20 2007, 01:16 AM

> QUOTE(sonshineonme @ Jan 20 2007, 12:09 AM)
>
> I will find out for sure on Monday. I think it can be arranged. I'll keep you posted. PM me on Monday if you would to remind me to check on this again.

ok, writing note to myself... "pm sonshine monday"

thanks!

Posted by: Fran Jan 20 2007, 12:13 PM

Could someone put the original program out on the Save 3ABN Website for everyone to see?

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 20 2007, 01:44 PM

> QUOTE(Fran @ Jan 20 2007, 10:13 AM)
>
> Could someone put the original program out on the Save 3ABN Website for everyone to see?

I'll see what I can do about that request

Printable Version of Topic

123

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ What Does The 3abn Board Know?

Posted by: daylily Jan 7 2007, 04:55 AM

Back when Linda was first dismissed from 3ABN, a relative of mine and I were discussing it and wondering what had happened. A 3ABN board member was coming to visit this relative so she said she would ask him. At first he wouldn't tell her anything but she is very persistent. Finally with some reluctance, he told her that Linda had started keeping Sunday and was probably going to go to work for a large Sunday-keeping TV network. Now, I don't know whether he was told this and truly believed it or if he just told her something to get her off his back. But when I heard about the "spiritual adultury", I wondered if that was all the board was told and he surmised the Sunday-keeping part. I did a small experiement with several church members (none of who knew the real story of what happened at 3ABN). I asked "What is the first thing that comes to mind when I say 'spiritual adultury'?" Without exception they all answered in a way that showed that they believed it was turning your back on God by breaking His commandments. Does anybody besides the board know exactly what they were told?

I have two questions. (1) Walt Thompson mentioned "hard evidence" of an affair. Has every single board member seen and examined this evidence or were they just told about it? (2) Has Mr Joy given all the information that he has uncovered to every single board member?

This may have already been addressed here by I don't remember seeing it. Thanks for any info on this.

Posted by: Johann Jan 7 2007, 05:40 AM

QUOTE(daylily @ Jan 7 2007, 12:55 PM) ☐

> Back when Linda was first dismissed from 3ABN, a relative of mine and I were discussing it and wondering what had happened. A 3ABN board member was coming to visit this relative so she said she would ask him. At first he wouldn't tell her anything but she is very persistent. Finally with some reluctance, he told her that Linda had started keeping Sunday and was probably going to go to work for a large Sunday-keeping TV network. Now, I don't know whether he was told this and truly believed it or if he just told her something to get her off his back. But when I heard about the "spiritual adultury", I wondered if that was all the board was told and he surmised the Sunday-keeping part. I did a small experiement with several church members (none of who knew the real story of what happened at 3ABN). I asked "What is the first thing that comes to mind when I say 'spiritual adultury'?" Without exception they all answered in a way that showed that they believed it was turning your back on God by breaking His commandments. Does anybody besides the board know exactly what they were told?
>
> I have two questions. (1) Walt Thompson mentioned "hard evidence" of an affair. Has every single board member seen and examined this evidence or were they just told about it? (2) Has Mr Joy given all the information that he has uncovered to every single board member?
>
> This may have already been addressed here by I don't remember seeing it. Thanks for any info on this.

Some very interesting questions, Daylily! I recall Linda telling me she met a 3ABN employee some time after she was fired. She had said they were told at 3ABN that Linda had joined a strange sect and that she no longer was a Seventh-day Adventist, and that this was the reason she no longer was at 3ABN.

I soon discovered that strange fictitious stories were created, and new ones developed as the old ones were disproved, all in a futile attempt to cover Danny's track. This from people who claimed to have the truth.

Yesterday I saw an ad for a very good book, it was claimed, Ten Commandments - Twice Removed by Danny Shelton. It seems evident that Mr. Danny Shelton has removed two of them as applied to himself. Which ones?

Posted by: Green Cochoa Jan 7 2007, 06:07 AM

Would this explain why Linda had such a hard time maintaining her church membership, against the wishes of the powers that be at 3ABN following her dismissal? Our church had already agreed, being in a different conference, to assist Linda in the event that her 3ABN church would not transfer her membership to her new location, as they were trying to get her membership dropped. (We considered reinstating it on profession of faith.) I think the reason for the attempt to disfellowship her had something to do with her adultery (there was no other reason for it they could give, so far as I know). The whole story of what the pastors in her church put her through is a shameful one. I was reminded of that part of the classic "Pollyanna" where the little girl pointed out to the minister that "no one owns a church." Only, sometimes, these things cause us to wonder who is really wielding the rod of power. I don't remember hearing how it all turned out for her, but I believe some pressure was put on some church leaders higher up by folks like us who were willing to take an active stand, and help trickled down, thwarting the best efforts of 3ABN's yes-men to put her out of the church. But hearing that such theories of Linda's departure from the faith had been circulated sure puts this whole effort to push her out of the church in a different light.

Posted by: Pickle Jan 7 2007, 07:46 AM

Walt Thompson has said that there is hard evidence regarding Linda's guilt, and he implied that some of it was a recording of a phone conversation. At least, his written words can easily be taken that way.

Hal Steenson at ASI 2006 told me about a recording that conference presidents had listened to.

Danny's own conference president, as of late October 2006, had not yet heard that recording, and he is a member of the 3ABN board.

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 7 2007, 11:35 AM

> QUOTE(Pickle @ Jan 7 2007, 05:46 AM) ☐
>
> Walt Thompson has said that there is hard evidence regarding Linda's guilt, and he implied that some of it was a recording of a phone conversation. At least, his written words can easily be taken that way.
>
> Hal Steenson at ASI 2006 told me about a recording that conference presidents had listened to.
>
> Danny's own conference president, as of late October 2006, had not yet heard that recording, and he is a member of the 3ABN board.

Once again, I believe it shows that the "board" is no board at all. If all they were told was a few mere words like "spiritual adultry" (if this is the case) and they were "satisfied" with WHATEVER they were TOLD, what kind of board is that? I think I know....they are a "yes" board, plain and simple, and they ought to be ashamed. What's the point of being on a board if you take NO responsilbity for your supposed desicions? I'm sure there is more then meets the eye...no one will want to give the real picture of all that goes on there, and HOW it transpires. THEY are no different then any other religion that gives or allows an assumed picture of something when in reality they are something else all together - is this not decpetion? VERY disapointing, to say the very least.

Posted by: daylily Jan 7 2007, 06:00 PM

Well, if they believe that Danny is called by God, they are going to believe what he says. But didn't they also believe that Linda was called by God?

I hope that Mr. Joy will send all his findings to every board member. They need to hear everything. If the IL conference president hadn't heard the phone recording as of Oct, then who on the board has heard it? I seem to remember Walt saying something about limiting who they let listen to it because of not wanting to hurt Linda' reputation further or something like that. Which is ridiculous! How could they damage it more than they already did?

Mr. Pickle, if you have any influence with Mr Joy please encourage him to contact each board member and give them his information. And continue to "sift the testimony" .

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jan 10 2007, 02:55 AM

> QUOTE(daylily @ Jan 7 2007, 06:00 PM)
>
> They need to hear everything. If the IL conference president hadn't heard the phone recording as of Oct, then who on the board has heard it? I seem to remember Walt saying something about limiting who they let listen to it because of not wanting to hurt Linda' reputation further or something like that. Which is ridiculous! How could they damage it more than they already did?

It is now my understanding that such recordings may be illegal in Illinois.

How many 3ABN board members have mentioned being part of any recording effort:

approving it,
commenting upon it,
reading a transcript from it,
helping to edit it,
seeing any video tape that mentions it, hearing it,
distributing it,
making decisions based on it, or falling into narcoleptic sleep when told about it?

Perhaps, the board members, one by one, need to clarify that. Has anyone already done that?

Posted by: daylily Jan 10 2007, 05:35 PM

You've made some very good points. I hope this can be clarified.

Posted by: Noahswife Jan 11 2007, 04:38 PM

I am going to play devil's advocate here. If 3ABN is a privately held corporation, to whom do you think the board legally owes its fiduciary duty?

fi·du·ci·ar·y (f-dsh-r, -sh-r, -dy-, f-) adj.
1.

> a. Of or relating to a holding of something in trust for another: a fiduciary heir; a fiduciary contract.

b. Of or being a trustee or trusteeship.
c Held in trust.
2. Of or consisting of fiat money.
3. Of, relating to, or being a system of marking in the field of view of an optical instrument that is used as a reference point or measuring scale.

n. pl. fi·du·ci·ar·ies
One, such as an agent of a principal or a company director, that stands in a special relation of trust, confidence, or responsibility in certain obligations to others.

Sorry about the layout of the quote. I am having a hard time getting the pasted quote lined up properly.

noahswife

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jan 12 2007, 07:01 AM

> QUOTE(Noahswife @ Jan 11 2007, 04:38 PM) ☐
>
> I am going to play devil's advocate here. If 3ABN is a privately held corporation, to whom do you think the board legally owes its fiduciary duty?
>
> noahswife

I'll bite.

Let's continue our theoretical "devil's advocate" idea a little further and see where it goes.

Someone mentioned that Tommy would be returning in a few weeks to do some work at 3ABN.

I suppose if the highly-esteemed Tommy Shelton became President of 3ABN, as board members, we would give 100 percent of our fiduciary duty to Tommy. If Tommy, by chance, needed a bigger company car for parking along lonely country roads, it would be our jobs to make sure he got one.

And if, by chance, we ever saw the company car parked along those country roads, we, as 3ABN Board members, could feel really good knowing we were helping God's anointed to be happy. His happiness would be, indeed, our fiduciary duty.

A happy 3ABN President would mean many more souls were watching 3ABN and joining the Adventist Church. More members would mean more tithe for a bigger, stronger North American Division. With so much good being done for the Adventist Church by 3ABN, we could certainly overlook one little victim here and there. That's not really too much to ask. We're not as bad as the Druids who actually threw children into a furnace as a sacrifice. So, we would be much better in the site of God than the Druids.

And what difference would it really make, anyway? The end justifies the means, doesn't it? Maybe, in the final analysis, there's nobody upstairs keeping score of anything, anyway. Maybe we just evolved over millions of years and, maybe, we would be depriving the future President of 3ABN of some earthly pleasure for no good reason.

If there's a problem, let God handle it, if there is One. It's better just to look the other way and live our lives filled with peace and tranquility. By our peace and tranquility, people will want what we have, and we will have the opportunity to explain about what it really means to be the Remnant.

So, as 3ABN Board members, we should do our fiduciary duty and we keep quiet about 3ABN.

Thank goodness, the General Conference is bright enough to see it this way, and is dragging its feet to do nothing. It's always encouraging to see when the brighter, calmer, business-minded heads in Silver Spring prevail. Why should we think for ourselves when we have these fine folks to do it for us? Should we have thoughts and opinions of our own? I think not! That only leads to trouble that could split the unity in our church -- something to be avoided at all cost.

Therefore, keeping quiet means more money, unity, tranquility, peacefulness, and happiness for God's Remnant. What more could any God-fearing denomination ask for?

Posted by: Johann Jan 12 2007, 07:49 AM

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jan 12 2007, 03:01 PM)
>
> I'll bite.
>
> - - -
>
> Therefore, keeping quiet means more money, unity, tranquility, peacefulness, and happiness for God's Remnant. What more could any God-fearing denomination ask for?

Mr. Panama Pete!!! Watcha sayin? What got into ya?

Posted by: erik Jan 12 2007, 07:55 AM

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jan 12 2007, 05:01 AM)

> I'll bite.
>
> Let's continue our theoretical "devil's advocate" idea a little further and see where it goes.
>
> Someone mentioned that Tommy would be returning in a few weeks to do some work at 3ABN.
>
> I suppose if the highly-esteemed Tommy Shelton became President of 3ABN, as board members, we would give 100 percent of our fiduciary duty to Tommy. If Tommy, by chance, needed a bigger company car for parking along lonely country roads, it would be our jobs to make sure he got one.
>
> And if, by chance, we ever saw the company car parked along those country roads, we, as 3ABN Board members, could feel really good knowing we were helping God's anointed to be happy. His happiness would be, indeed, our fiduciary duty.
>
> A happy 3ABN President would mean many more souls were watching 3ABN and joining the Adventist Church. More members would mean more tithe for a bigger, stronger North American Division. With so much good being done for the Adventist Church by 3ABN, we could certainly overlook one little victim here and there. That's not really too much to ask. We're not as bad as the Druids who actually threw children into a furnace as a sacrifice. So, we would be much better in the site of God than the Druids.
>
> And what difference would it really make, anyway? The end justifies the means, doesn't it? Maybe, in the final analysis, there's nobody upstairs keeping score of anything, anyway. Maybe we just evolved over millions of years and, maybe, we would be depriving the future President of 3ABN of some earthly pleasure for no good reason.
>
> If there's a problem, let God handle it, if there is One. It's better just to look the other way and live our lives filled with peace and tranquility. By our peace and tranquility, people will want what we have, and we will have the opportunity to explain about what it really means to be the Remnant.
>
> So, as 3ABN Board members, we should do our fiduciary duty and we keep quiet about 3ABN.
>
> Thank goodness, the General Conference is bright enough to see it this way, and is dragging its feet to do nothing. It's always encouraging to see when the brighter, calmer, business-minded heads in Silver Spring prevail. Why should we think for ourselves when we have these fine folks to do it for us? Should we have thoughts and opinions of our own? I think not! That only leads to trouble that could split the unity in our church -- something to be avoided at all cost.
>
> Therefore, keeping quiet means more money, unity, tranquility, peacefulness, and happiness for God's Remnant. What more could any God-fearing denomination ask for?

maybe the idea the truth and justice come BEFORE money and membership numbers,

---

Posted by: Ed White Jan 12 2007, 08:07 AM

> QUOTE(erik @ Jan 12 2007, 07:55 AM)
>
> maybe the idea the truth and justice come BEFORE money and membership numbers,

Maybe "truth and justice" is an unknown in those circles. Kinda like the name Christian Scientist, most are neither Christian or scientist.

Posted by: watchbird Jan 12 2007, 08:38 AM

....

Good try, Pete.... but as "devil's advocate"..... even with your obvious literary genius and mastery of ironic mode.... somehow you've missed the mark here and there... and while overall you did very well.... you did leave out a few very key ingredients.... for example.....

You seem to forget that this is a "world wide" institutution.... thus the NAD is hardly the one to be most greatly benefited by having this close knit cult in its midst.... in fact, since the NAD is already "rich and increased with goods", it will improve their spiritual standing if more of those excess funds are siphened off to enrich the "House of Shelton" so as to bring them closer to the realization of their true condition.... that of imposter to the claim of being the remnant church when actually they are representatives of that apostate church called in scripture, Babylon....

Which brings up another point you missed.... that members around the world are "brought into" the church in name only.... actually their allegiance is to the "world wide organization" led by the "Anointed One" who alone represents "true Adventism". So tithes flow more into the coffers of the "House that Shelton built" than into denominational entities.... thus adding to the evidence of the great "blessings of God" that are being poured out on the "House of Shelton".

Thus little by little the "General Conference" is relegated to an inferior role to.... and even held hostage by.... the "Anointed One" who reigns in the kingdom of the "House of Shelton" cult.

What should we expect next? A stockpiling of arms as the "persecution complex" is steadily built and enhanced? A movement to a foreign land before the "koolaid" is administered as a test of loyalty to the cult followers?

I doubt it. Those are such obvious excesses.... and such a waste of resources which could be enjoyed by the rulers in the House of Shelton.... so why would they want to either stockpile ammunition with which to blow themselves up... or why would they want to kill off all the little goosies who are laying such beautiful golden eggs.

Especially when they have learned the secret formula which goes down ever so much more easily than koolaid, and which has the effect only of numbing the reasoning chambers of the mind, so that the eggs keep coming in and the things that golden eggs can buy keep on keeping the "happiness" hormones flowing..... and no one ever guesses that they have been victims of the rulers of the "House of Shelton".

And one more thought.... maybe two.... scroll down.......

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jan 12 2007, 08:01 AM)
>
> I'll bite.
>
> Let's continue our theoretical "devil's advocate" idea a little further and see where it goes.
>
> Someone mentioned that Tommy would be returning in a few weeks to do some work at 3ABN.
>
> I suppose if the highly-esteemed Tommy Shelton became President of 3ABN, as board members, we would give 100 percent of our fiduciary duty to Tommy. If Tommy, by chance, needed a bigger company car for parking along lonely country roads, it would be our jobs to make sure he got one.
>
> And if, by chance, we ever saw the company car parked along those country roads, we, as 3ABN

> Board members, could feel really good knowing we were helping God's anointed to be happy. His happiness would be, indeed, our fiduciary duty.
>
> A happy 3ABN President would mean many more souls were watching 3ABN and joining the Adventist Church. More members would mean more tithe for a bigger, stronger North American Division. With so much good being done for the Adventist Church by 3ABN, we could certainly overlook one little victim here and there. That's not really too much to ask. We're not as bad as the Druids who actually threw children into a furnace as a sacrifice. So, we would be much better in the site of God than the Druids.
>
> And what difference would it really make, anyway? The end justifies the means, doesn't it? Maybe, in the final analysis, there's nobody upstairs keeping score of anything, anyway. Maybe we just evolved over millions of years and, maybe, we would be depriving the future President of 3ABN of some earthly pleasure for no good reason.
>
> If there's a problem, let God handle it, if there is One. It's better just to look the other way and live our lives filled with peace and tranquility. By our peace and tranquility, people will want what we have, and we will have the opportunity to explain about what it really means to be the Remnant.
>
> So, as 3ABN Board members, we should do our fiduciary duty and we keep quiet about 3ABN.
>
> Thank goodness, the General Conference is bright enough to see it this way, and is dragging its feet to do nothing. It's always encouraging to see when the brighter, calmer, business-minded heads in Silver Spring prevail. Why should we think for ourselves when we have these fine folks to do it for us? Should we have thoughts and opinions of our own? I think not! That only leads to trouble that could split the unity in our church -- something to be avoided at all cost.
>
> Therefore, keeping quiet means more money, unity, tranquility, peacefulness, and happiness for God's Remnant. What more could any God-fearing denomination ask for?

Please either substitute the "House of Shelton" for "God's Remnant" or make it clear that this is a title the House of Shelton is applying to themselves... and "God-fearing denomination" really needs some adjustment..... Not exactly sure what to suggest here.....

But... all in all.... good job, Panama..... I surely hope that there are board members who "pass" on the "koolaid" that is pressed upon them at their soon-coming board meeting!

Posted by: Ed White Jan 12 2007, 09:48 AM

Wow, one doesn't need to look for dirt to dig up anymore, just craw in your storm cellar with a periscope and WATCH it fall... wood structures & metal roofs with all the house of cards are not safe in the coming fallout.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jan 12 2007, 12:34 PM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jan 12 2007, 08:38 AM)
>
> ....
>
> Good try, Pete.... but as "devil's advocate"..... even with your obvious literary genius and mastery of ironic mode.... somehow you've missed the mark here and there... and while overall you did very well.... you did leave out a few very key ingredients.... for example.....

> You seem to forget that this is a "world wide" institutution.... thus the NAD is hardly the one to be most greatly benefited by having this close knit cult in its midst.... in fact, since the NAD is already "rich and increased with goods", it will improve their spiritual standing if more of those excess funds are siphened off to enrich the "House of Shelton" so as to bring them closer to the realization of their true condition.... that of imposter to the claim of being the remnant church when actually they are representatives of that apostate church called in scripture, Babylon....
>
> Which brings up another point you missed.... that members around the world are "brought into" the church in name only.... actually their allegiance is to the "world wide organization" led by the "Anointed One" who alone represents "true Adventism". So tithes flow more into the coffers of the "House that Shelton built" than into denominational entities.... thus adding to the evidence of the great "blessings of God" that are being poured out on the "House of Shelton".
>
> Thus little by little the "General Conference" is relegated to an inferior role to.... and even held hostage by.... the "Anointed One" who reigns in the kingdom of the "House of Shelton" cult.
>
> What should we expect next? A stockpiling of arms as the "persecution complex" is steadily built and enhanced? A movement to a foreign land before the "koolaid" is administered as a test of loyalty to the cult followers?
>
> I doubt it. Those are such obvious excesses.... and such a waste of resources which could be enjoyed by the rulers in the House of Shelton.... so why would they want to either stockpile ammunition with which to blow themselves up... or why would they want to kill off all the little goosies who are laying such beautiful golden eggs.
>
> Especially when they have learned the secret formula which goes down ever so much more easily than koolaid, and which has the effect only of numbing the reasoning chambers of the mind, so that the eggs keep coming in and the things that golden eggs can buy keep on keeping the "happiness" hormones flowing..... and no one ever guesses that they have been victims of the rulers of the "House of Shelton".
>
> And one more thought.... maybe two.... scroll down.......
> Please either substitute the "House of Shelton" for "God's Remnant" or make it clear that this is a title the House of Shelton is applying to themselves... and "God-fearing denomination" really needs some adjustment..... Not exactly sure what to suggest here.....
>
> But... all in all.... good job, Panama..... I surely hope that there are board members who "pass" on the "koolaid" that is pressed upon them at their soon-coming board meeting!

Thank you for your kind words, Watchbird. I'll try to hit a few more of those missing marks next time around and also make the necessary literary corrections as suggested.

As for the Kool-Aid, it is actually a competing brand named "Flavor Aid" that lives on in infamy and which the board members need to pass up. But you were so close you still get my official, unadulterated, Okey-Dokey.

Pete

Posted by: watchbird Jan 12 2007, 02:19 PM

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jan 12 2007, 01:34 PM)
>
> Thank you for your kind words, Watchbird. I'll try to hit a few more of those missing marks next time around and also make the necessary literary corrections as suggested.
>
> As for the Kool-Aid, it is actually a competing brand named "Flavor Aid" that lives on in infamy and which the board members need to pass up. But you were so close you still get my official, unadulterated, Okey-Dokey.
>
> Pete

Thank you thankyou.... I accept your "Okey-Dokey" as a badge of honor. I have come to have great respect for your knowledge, insights, and wisdom.

"Flavor Aid" huh?

And how about "colored glasses"? So as to make sure everyone sees things in the same color as what the Anointed One sees them? Are they issued those along with the official "bored packet" as they come on campus?

Carry on.....

Posted by: wwjd Jan 12 2007, 10:31 PM

> QUOTE(Panama_Pete @ Jan 12 2007, 07:01 AM)
>
> I'll bite.
>
> Let's continue our theoretical "devil's advocate" idea a little further and see where it goes.
>
> Someone mentioned that Tommy would be returning in a few weeks to do some work at 3ABN.
>
> I suppose if the highly-esteemed Tommy Shelton became President of 3ABN, as board members, we would give 100 percent of our fiduciary duty to Tommy. If Tommy, by chance, needed a bigger company car for parking along lonely country roads, it would be our jobs to make sure he got one.
>
> And if, by chance, we ever saw the company car parked along those country roads, we, as 3ABN Board members, could feel really good knowing we were helping God's anointed to be happy. His happiness would be, indeed, our fiduciary duty.
>
> A happy 3ABN President would mean many more souls were watching 3ABN and joining the Adventist Church. More members would mean more tithe for a bigger, stronger North American Division. With so much good being done for the Adventist Church by 3ABN, we could certainly overlook one little victim here and there. That's not really too much to ask. We're not as bad as the Druids who actually threw children into a furnace as a sacrifice. So, we would be much better in the site of God than the Druids.
>
> And what difference would it really make, anyway? The end justifies the means, doesn't it? Maybe, > in the final analysis, there's nobody upstairs keeping score of anything, anyway. Maybe we just evolved over millions of years and, maybe, we would be depriving the future President of 3ABN of some earthly pleasure for no good reason.

>
> If there's a problem, let God handle it, if there is One. It's better just to look the other way and live our lives filled with peace and tranquility. By our peace and tranquility, people will want what we have, and we will have the opportunity to explain about what it really means to be the Remnant.
>
> So, as 3ABN Board members, we should do our fiduciary duty and we keep quiet about 3ABN.
>
> Thank goodness, the General Conference is bright enough to see it this way, and is dragging its feet to do nothing. It's always encouraging to see when the brighter, calmer, business-minded heads in Silver Spring prevail. Why should we think for ourselves when we have these fine folks to do it for us? Should we have thoughts and opinions of our own? I think not! That only leads to trouble that could split the unity in our church -- something to be avoided at all cost.
>
> Therefore, keeping quiet means more money, unity, tranquility, peacefulness, and happiness for God's Remnant. What more could any God-fearing denomination ask for?

again, twice now I have seen "I heard" and "it appears" That Tommy Shelton will make an appearance in a couple of weeks. Where are you people getting this stuff? "I heard" and "it appears" and "someone said" does not the truth make. What would Jesus do?

Posted by: princessdi Jan 12 2007, 10:34 PM

I mean they just dont' give up! Next!

Posted by: lookin4truth Jan 12 2007, 10:44 PM

> QUOTE(wwjd @ Jan 12 2007, 11:31 PM)
>
> again, twice now I have seen "I heard" and "it appears" That Tommy Shelton will make an appearance in a couple of weeks. Where are you people getting this stuff? "I heard" and "it appears" and "someone said" does not the truth make. What would Jesus do?

WWJD,

I don't know where the time frame of "a couple of weeks" came from, but I listened to Danny Shelton say many times, on the December 31st broadcast, that Tommy would be back. He said it over and over again.

The following information has already been posted, but the Tommy Shelton retirement program may be seen at http://www.save3abn.com.

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 12 2007, 10:44 PM

> QUOTE(wwjd @ Jan 12 2007, 11:31 PM)
>
> again, twice now I have seen "I heard" and "it appears" That Tommy Shelton will make an appearance in a couple of weeks. Where are you people getting this stuff? "I heard" and "it appears" and "someone said" does not the truth make. What would Jesus do?

I was the one who orignally posted the information and learned it from the production schedule posted in the control room at 3ABN. I wonder if that's close enough to be factual for you?
But hey why don't you call the station yourself and ask if Tommy is scheduled to tape this month.
618-627-4651

Posted by: erik Jan 12 2007, 11:59 PM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 12 2007, 08:44 PM)
>
> I was the one who orignally posted the information and learned it from the production schedule posted in the control room at 3ABN. I wonder if that's close enough to be factual for you?
> But hey why don't you call the station yourself and ask if Tommy is scheduled to tape this month.
> 618-627-4651

thank you tell the truth

Erik

Posted by: Observer Jan 13 2007, 05:24 AM

> QUOTE(wwjd @ Jan 12 2007, 09:31 PM)
>
> again, twice now I have seen "I heard" and "it appears" That Tommy Shelton will make an appearance in a couple of weeks. Where are you people getting this stuff? "I heard" and "it appears" and "someone said" does not the truth make. What would Jesus do?

You do have a way with words. Or, perhaps you simply did not understand what was said? Here is what was said: "Someone mentioned that Tommy would be returning in a few weeks to do some work at 3ABN. "

The truth is: someone mentioned that Tommy would return in a few weeks to do some work at 3ABN. The statement is that someone said that. The statement is not that it will actually happen, which is what you seem to have implied.

Posted by: Clay Jan 13 2007, 09:02 AM

> QUOTE(wwjd @ Jan 12 2007, 10:31 PM)
>
> again, twice now I have seen "I heard" and "it appears" That Tommy Shelton will make an appearance in a couple of weeks. Where are you people getting this stuff? "I heard" and "it appears" and "someone said" does not the truth make. What would Jesus do?

probably ask you to leave since its apparent you have eyes but do not see, you read yet don't comprehend.... so why don't you get ta steppin...

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 13 2007, 02:24 PM

So have you called the station to find out for yourself? I'll give you the exact date when I have it. Then you can pop by the production center if you feel the need.

Posted by: wwjd Jan 14 2007, 12:26 AM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 13 2007, 02:24 PM)
>
> So have you called the station to find out for yourself? I'll give you the exact date when I have it. Then you can pop by the production center if you feel the need.

Yes I did call. Just because I am so tired of someone said and heard I called the headquarters of 3ABN and ask if Tommy Shelton was coming on in the next few weeks as was stated. They said no. When I told them that I was told it was on the schedule they said could have been, but the schedules are made up usually, way in advance, and as far as they knew, he would not be there.
now husband of the year, you said you posted it after seeing it at the 3abn facility. So, you are an employee? I have read some of your past posts and obviously you are against them. My question is "WHY ARE YOU THERE?" WHERE IS YOUR INTEGRITY IN ACCEPTING A PAYCHECK FROM THEM WHILE TALKING BEHIND THEIR BACKS? If you claim to be a christian, how could you be that deceitful? I don't have to ask "what would Jesus do" in this instance. We all know the heartache he would feel about deceit and disloyalty.

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jan 13 2007, 09:02 AM)
>
> probably ask you to leave since its apparent you have eyes but do not see, you read yet don't comprehend.... so why don't you get ta steppin...

To say that your answer is probably what Jesus would do is at a minimum disrespectful to him and at a maximum it borders on blashemy. Jesus would never tell anyone to leave in the manner that you just did.

> QUOTE(Observer @ Jan 13 2007, 05:24 AM)
>
> You do have a way with words. Or, perhaps you simply did not understand what was said? Here is what was said: "Someone mentioned that Tommy would be returning in a few weeks to do some work at 3ABN. "

> The truth is: someone mentioned that Tommy would return in a few weeks to do some work at 3ABN. The statement is that someone said that. The statement is not that it will actually happen, which is what you seem to have implied.

Yes I understand what was said and husband of the year says he posted it after seeing it at 3abn. obviously he works there and accepts his paycheck but comes on here and talks behind their backs. Would you knowingly hire someone to work for you that would be that disloyal, much less give him crediblity.

Posted by: Ozzie Jan 14 2007, 12:52 AM

> QUOTE(wwjd @ Jan 14 2007, 04:26 PM) ☐
>
> Yes I did call. Just because I am so tired of someone said and heard I called the headquarters of 3ABN and ask if Tommy Shelton was coming on in the next few weeks as was stated. They said no.

So wwjd, you'd rather take notice of something that one of the "Shelton gang" told you, rather than something that another read on the notice board? Sounds rather like you have an axe to grind?

I believe that Clavin offered you some very sensible advise in a previous post.

Posted by: Panama_Pete Jan 14 2007, 01:57 AM

> QUOTE(wwjd)
>
> again, twice now I have seen "I heard" and "it appears" That Tommy Shelton will make an appearance in a couple of weeks. Where are you people getting this stuff? "I heard" and "it appears" and "someone said" does not the truth make. What would Jesus do?

WWJD, "an appearance" and "returning to 3ABN to work" are two very different things. You are not reading posts very carefully.

You ask, "Where are you people getting this stuff?"

If you go to that http://www.save3abn.com Web site and listen to Danny Shelton, Danny mentions Tommy returning. Well, that's what Danny says.

Danny says, "No, he's going to come...."

Therefore, your "What Would Jesus Do" comment doesn't even fit.

You shoot first, and then you ask questions later.

Posted by: Snoopy Jan 14 2007, 08:29 AM

> QUOTE(wwjd @ Jan 14 2007, 12:26 AM)
>
> To say that your answer is probably what Jesus would do is at a minimum disrespectful to him and at a maximum it borders on blashemy. Jesus would never tell anyone to leave in the manner that you just did.

I have always been taught that is disrespectful to our Lord to not capitalize any word that makes a direct reference to Him. Just an observation.

Posted by: lurker Jan 14 2007, 08:30 AM

wwjd, There are many dedicated Christians who work at 3ABN and who want to spread the gospel. Some of them are aware of things that grieve Christ going on there and they would like to see repentance and reform in these areas. There is a difference between blind obedience to the Shelton family or thinking that God can still use 3ABN.

Posted by: Pickle Jan 14 2007, 09:42 AM

> QUOTE(wwjd @ Jan 14 2007, 12:26 AM)
>
> My question is "WHY ARE YOU THERE?" WHERE IS YOUR INTEGRITY IN ACCEPTING A PAYCHECK FROM THEM WHILE TALKING BEHIND THEIR BACKS? If you claim to be a christian, how could you be that deceitful? I don't have to ask "what would Jesus do" in this instance. We all know the heartache he would feel about deceit and disloyalty.

Well, WWJD?

Jesus was born into the Jewish nation, and even though He full well knew they were so wrong, He identified Himself as being their king to the very last day of His life.

Would you call Jesus deceitful and disloyal because He did not immediately separate Himself from them?

Posted by: ToB1nJC Jan 14 2007, 10:06 AM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jan 13 2007, 10:02 AM)
>
> probably ask you to leave since its apparent you have eyes but do not see, you read yet don't comprehend.... so why don't you get ta steppin...

I do not profess to have as much 'spiritual discernment' as you all do but I do see arrogance, pride, presumption, and a lot of self-righteous from many on both sides of this issue... much of it from administrators of this board. So I will take Clay's advise and 'get ta steppin' and ask the powers to be over this site to remove my membership effective immediately. Thank you and I only hope and pray for the best for each of you.

Posted by: watchbird Jan 14 2007, 10:46 AM

> QUOTE(ToB1nJC @ Jan 14 2007, 11:06 AM) ☐
>
> I do not profess to have as much 'spiritual discernment' as you all do but I do see arrogance, pride, presumption, and a lot of self-righteous from many on both sides of this issue... much of it from administrators of this board. So I will take Clay's advise and 'get ta steppin' and ask the powers to be over this site to remove my membership effective immediately. Thank you and I only hope and pray for the best for each of you.

You'll be back. And with a little "eyesalve" some earnest effort on your part you could improve both your "spiritual discernment" and your eyesight by carefully paying attention to what various ones here have to say. And "spiritual discernment" is a very good .... and necessary.... faculty to develop... if you are really sincere about the message of your chosen handle.

If you would start from the beginning a lot would be come more clear than by merely trying to keep up with current postings.

Posted by: Clay Jan 14 2007, 11:08 AM

> QUOTE(ToB1nJC @ Jan 14 2007, 10:06 AM) ☐
>
> I do not profess to have as much 'spiritual discernment' as you all do but I do see arrogance, pride, presumption, and a lot of self-righteous from many on both sides of this issue... much of it from administrators of this board. So I will take Clay's advise and 'get ta steppin' and ask the powers to be over this site to remove my membership effective immediately. Thank you and I only hope and pray for the best for each of you.

we don't remove memberships.... you stop visiting and you are no longer here....

> QUOTE(wwjd @ Jan 14 2007, 12:26 AM) ☐
>
> Yes I did call. Just because I am so tired of someone said and heard I called the headquarters of 3ABN and ask if Tommy Shelton was coming on in the next few weeks as was stated. They said no. When I told them that I was told it was on the schedule they said could have been, but the schedules are made up usually, way in advance, and as far as they knew, he would not be there. now husband of the year, you said you posted it after seeing it at the 3abn facility. So, you are an employee? I have read some of your past posts and obviously you are against them. My question is "WHY ARE YOU THERE?" WHERE IS YOUR INTEGRITY IN ACCEPTING A PAYCHECK FROM THEM WHILE TALKING BEHIND THEIR BACKS? If you claim to be a christian, how could you be that deceitful? I don't have to ask "what would Jesus do" in this instance. We all know the heartache he would feel about deceit and disloyalty.
> To say that your answer is probably what Jesus would do is at a minimum disrespectful to him and at a maximum it borders on blashemy. Jesus would never tell anyone to leave in the manner that > you just did.

> Yes I understand what was said and husband of the year says he posted it after seeing it at 3abn. obviously he works there and accepts his paycheck but comes on here and talks behind their backs. Would you knowingly hire someone to work for you that would be that disloyal, much less give him crediblity.

save the indignation I am not impressed... what would have been impressive is if you had come here, read all the info provided from the very beginning of this saga, then posted some intelligent questions.... however you chose to jump in without the background info and spout off... what would Jesus do? He would have known the context of the discussion something you didn't do...

BSDA isn't for everyone, you don't like what you read here, you have a choice.... step on...

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 14 2007, 11:30 AM

Well WWJD,
I shouldn't be suprised that you were lied to...or perhaps his session will suddenly be canceled when I get back on Monday.

The schedules that I refered to are NOT made that far in advance. I guess we'll see if he comes back or not. Oh wait, I'll see if he comes back or not, since I have first-hand information. You'll have to hear it second-hand, that is, if you decide to stick around.

As a second note, I love 3ABN!! That is why I stay. Just becuase there are a few people that are using the ministry for their own purposes doesn't mean that it's a complete waste. If you read all the posts here, you would find out that it is to those few people that I speak against, not 3ABN.

You continually ask "what would Jesus do." Well, as I remember, He spoke out against all the things that are happening at 3ABN. I suspect He would marched right up to the 3ABN doors and preach into the ears in power until being removed by force. That's what I suspect He'd do. So try not to throw that question around where it really doesn't fit.

Posted by: inga Jan 14 2007, 12:18 PM

> QUOTE(wwjd @ Jan 14 2007, 01:26 AM)
>
> Yes I did call. Just because I am so tired of someone said and heard I called the headquarters of 3ABN and ask if Tommy Shelton was coming on in the next few weeks as was stated. They said no. When I told them that I was told it was on the schedule they said could have been, but the schedules are made up usually, way in advance, and as far as they knew, he would not be there.

WWID, for starters, it seems you probably asked the wrong question, and both what HOTY wrote and what they told you could be correct.
HOTY posted this on Jan 12:

> QUOTE
>
> I was the one who orignally posted the information and learned it from the production schedule posted in the control room at 3ABN. ...
> But hey why don't you call the station yourself and ask if Tommy is scheduled to tape this month. 618-627-4651

So the answer you got does not negate what HOTY said. Whoever answered you could be technically correct while leaving the wrong impression ...

Being "scheduled to tape" is not the same thing as as "coming on" the air in the next few weeks. The taping likely happens a bit ahead of the actual "on air" time, and the taping might not even be for "on-air" time, but for a music CD to be sold. Perhaps HOTY can clarify this further. However, as it reads, there's not necessarily a conflict ...

It demonstrates that you aren't all that careful with distinguishing between your interpretation and the actually stated details. And, in this case, that presents a huge problem and makes your accusations rather far off the mark.

> QUOTE
>
> now husband of the year, you said you posted it after seeing it at the 3abn facility. So, you are an employee? I have read some of your past posts and obviously you are against them. My question is "WHY ARE YOU THERE?" WHERE IS YOUR INTEGRITY IN ACCEPTING A PAYCHECK FROM THEM WHILE TALKING BEHIND THEIR BACKS? If you claim to be a christian, how could you be that deceitful? I don't have to ask "what would Jesus do" in this instance. We all know the heartache he would feel about deceit and disloyalty.

WWID, you are making some major assumptions based on your thoughts. You are judging 3ABN employees as being disloyal and deceitful when they disapprove of the actions of Dan Shelton and some other administrators as well as Tommy Shelton who appears as an Adventist when he is not -- not to mention being accused of child molesting numerous times.

Tell me, WWID, would I be disloyal to my church if I faithfully followed the teaching of the church but disapproved of our conference president embezzling funds and our conference secretary molesgint children?

Would I be disloyal to my church if I did my utmost to ensure that these criminals were brought to justice so that they could no longer be an ugly stain on the cause of God?

When you judge 3ABN employees as "disloyal" and "deceitful" you are climbing on the throne of God to judge the condition of their hearts. I am not speculating when I say that you are breaking the first commandment in so doing, because I'm going by your explicit statement, rather than speculating what's in your heart.

> QUOTE
>
> To say that your answer is probably what Jesus would do is at a minimum disrespectful to him and at a maximum it borders on blashemy. Jesus would never tell anyone to leave in the manner that you just did.

I wouldn't be so sure. You judge yourself to be His faithful representative, and you assume he would not ask you to leave. But Christ Himself made a whip of cords and drove certain people out of the temple. Did Clay come after you with a whip?

Of course, all depends on who you are really most like -- the children who came in to hear Jesus or the folks he just drove out. I can't judge that ...

> QUOTE
>
> Yes I understand what was said and husband of the year says he posted it after seeing it at 3abn. obviously he works there and accepts his paycheck but comes on here and talks behind their backs. Would you knowingly hire someone to work for you that would be that disloyal, much less give him crediblity.

You are assuming that 3ABN is the personal property of Dan Shelton, and, of course, he has claimed that. Evidence also points in that direction. But that is not what it is advertised to be. Most folks who work there do so because they believe the advertised purpose of 3ABN which is to be a ministry for Christ. They are loyal to that purpose, even if they are not loyal to those who falsely use the name of Christ for their personal benefit.

H'mm ... you do sound so very much like certain individuals who are the subjects of posts here ... At the minimum, you've been taken in by their propaganda ...

If it is only the latter, I pray that the scales may fall off your eyes. So far, it is evident that you understand little, if anything, of what has been posted here.

Posted by: inga Jan 14 2007, 12:38 PM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 14 2007, 12:30 PM) ☐
>
> You continually ask "what would Jesus do." Well, as I remember, He spoke out against all the things that are happening at 3ABN. I suspect He would marched right up to the 3ABN doors and preach into the ears in power until being removed by force.

Well, HOTY, I'll tell you what I think Jesus would do ..

I think He'd skip all the preaching -- as He did when He drove the merchants out of the temple court. He would stride in and just look at folks (with or without that whip), and they would flee in terror from the presence of the divine Judge.

That's what I think He'd do ...

WWID had best not keep asking us what Jesus would do, because it surely doesn't support WWID's premise ..

Posted by: roxe Jan 14 2007, 07:57 PM

> QUOTE(inga @ Jan 14 2007, 11:38 AM) ☐
>
> He would stride in and just look at folks (with or without that whip), and they would flee in terror from the presence of the divine Judge.

not only would they flee, they'd be yelling for the rocks and mountains

Illinois probably has lots of rocks; - but mountains??

Posted by: wwjd Jan 15 2007, 10:34 PM

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 14 2007, 11:30 AM) ☐

> As a second note, I love 3ABN!! That is why I stay. Just becuase there are a few people that are using the ministry for their own purposes doesn't mean that it's a complete waste. If you read all the posts here, you would find out that it is to those few people that I speak against, not 3ABN.

HOTY. Can you not see When you trash the leaders and what you think is going on there, You Are trashing the ministry itself. When people read what you are writing, You could very well be causing the ministry to lose spiritual and financial support as well as, losing validity all the way around. When you paint the picture that you paint, you are indeed a part of tearing down 3abn, not just the leadership. Let me paint a scenerio... If you and people like you could spread "your gospel" and get enough believers to withdraw their finacial support, then God forbid, maybe the ministry would fall. Then you and many many others would be out of job and a paycheck and you yourself, in a small way, would be partially responsible. You love 3ABN? We do not purposely hurt those we love. Now with that said I will go on to say this: I've appreciated the positive comments of those who want fairness shown on this web-site. As I've stated, I don't have time to be on here often, so won't be addressing every negative or positive comment from now on. I have a life and don't intend to spend any more time than God directs in speaking my mind. I've seen and heard enough to know the spirit of this web-site concerning 3ABN. There has been enough judgmentalism to last a life-time, and most spirit-filled Christians who have come on here to see what's going on have quit looking at it because of the slander and one-sided prejudice.

My purpose has been, and still is, only to ask for fairness to be shown to the 3ABN family who have been such a blessing to me, though I'm not a SDA. I know they have encouraged and up-lifted millions around the world. No one is faultless, but isn't that why we all need the Saviour and need to depend on Him daily? The compassionate, loving spirit of a person --today-- is what convinces Christians and sinners alike of where they are in relationship to Christ. Our confessed sins--- God has forgotten---too bad all professed Christians aren't like that—a Spirit-led Christian is.

Anyone could find bad in everyone if that's what you decide to dig around for. Why not dig around for some good in these people, or are you afraid you might find it? 3ABN couldn't have accomplished all the good they have if these leaders hadn't had the spirit of faith and love. Of course, Satan hates any one who loves, because God is Love and Satan knows his time is short to deceive and destroy all he can. We all have a daily choice---God's spirit or Satan's spirit.

The comments already made about what I've said only proved the goal to tear apart anything that's good or anyone who stands for truth and fairness.

You haven't discouraged me in the least—you've just validated your own spirit. You can think and say what you want about me, but what really matters is that I and God know I'm doing all I know to do to live a Christian life. I expected to be attacked in the same vulture-like way others have been attacked who are standing for right. Mending broken people is a worthy, God inspired goal for us all and I want God to use me for that purpose. Why would any of you attempt to tear that spirit and ministry apart with your slander and your unfair, half-truths? I know you're unfair because you've said nothing good about anyone at 3ABN. I wouldn't have to know them personally or know all about their past to know how ridiculously unfair you've been. Why aren't you looking for some good?

Any Scripture that I quoted to you was for the purpose of restoration and a turning away from judging others. I wouldn't want to use Scripture as a put-down in any way or trying to prove I'm right and you're wrong. Can't you see the real enemy is Satan in all of this? But, if you continue to allow him to work his spirit through you, not even God can help you, as Satan will have won in his deceptive tricks he tries on all of us. I see the spirit here as similar to the spirit Saul had when he persecuted the born again Christians in his day. He was convinced by the spirit of Satan that he was doing the work of God and was zealous for his cause, even putting Christians in jail,-- until God confronted him. I am still praying that God will open the eyes of the accusers and those reading all of this, that He has a plan for their life. A plan to build others up and show them how much God loves each of us, that He loves us all equally and is more than willing to forgive.

I'll leave you with this Scripture and hope it will be an encouragement to all who read it: Jeremiah 29:11 -"For I know the plans I have for you, declares the Lord, plans to prosper you and not to harm you, plans to give you hope and a future."

Posted by: princessdi Jan 15 2007, 10:47 PM

> QUOTE(wwjd @ Jan 15 2007, 08:34 PM)
>
> HOTY. Can you not see When you trash the leaders and what you think is going on there, You Are trashing the ministry itself. When people read what you are writing, You could very well be causing the ministry to lose spiritual and financial support as well as, losing validity all the way around. When you paint the picture that you paint, you are indeed a part of tearing down 3abn, not just the leadership. Let me paint a scenerio... If you and people like you could spread "your gospel" and get enough believers to withdraw their finacial support, then God forbid, maybe the ministry would fall. Then you and many many others would be out of job and a paycheck and you yourself, in a small way, would be partially responsible. You love 3ABN? We do not purposely hurt those we love. Now with that said I will go on to say this: I've appreciated the positive comments of those who want fairness shown on this web-site. As I've stated, I don't have time to be on here often, so won't be addressing every negative or positive comment from now on. I have a life and don't intend to spend any more time than God directs in speaking my mind. I've seen and heard enough to know the spirit of this web-site concerning 3ABN. There has been enough judgmentalism to last a life-time, and most spirit-filled Christians who have come on here to see what's going on have quit looking at it because of the slander and one-sided prejudice.
>
> I don't buy this. God uses faulty man all the time. If the ministry is of God it will survive. He is to be the ultimate leader at 3ABN. 3ABN can still be a blessing to those whowatch. Jesus did not destroy the system as the jewish leaders had it, but i remember Him calling them, in public, vipers,a nd a whole lot of not so nice name, and then I remember something about Him turning over a few tables in the temple. He never his His disdain for the way the leaders were rrunning the church. He continued to attend, follow the laws, and teach, on occassion. However, He left that system in tact. True followers of Jesus separated from that body
>
> My purpose has been, and still is, only to ask for fairness to be shown to the 3ABN family who have been such a blessing to me, though I'm not a SDA. I know they have encouraged and up-lifted millions around the world. No one is faultless, but isn't that why we all need the Saviour and need to depend on Him daily? The compassionate, loving spirit of a person --today-- is what convinces Christians and sinners alike of where they are in relationship to Christ. Our confessed sins--- God has forgotten---too bad all professed Christians aren't like that—a Spirit-led Christian is.
> Anyone could find bad in everyone if that's what you decide to dig around for. Why not dig around for some good in these people, or are you afraid you might find it? 3ABN couldn't have accomplished all the good they have if these leaders hadn't had the spirit of faith and love. Of course, Satan hates any one who loves, because God is Love and Satan knows his time is short to deceive and destroy all he can. We all have a daily choice---God's spirit or Satan's spirit.
> The comments already made about what I've said only proved the goal to tear apart anything that's good or anyone who stands for truth and fairness.
> You haven't discouraged me in the least—you've just validated your own spirit. You can think and say what you want about me, but what really matters is that I and God know I'm doing all I know to do to live a Christian life. I expected to be attacked in the same vulture-like way others have > been attacked who are standing for right. Mending broken people is a worthy, God inspired goal for us all and I want God to use me for that purpose. Why would any of you attempt to tear that spirit and ministry apart with your slander and your unfair, half-truths? I know you're unfair because you've said nothing good about anyone at 3ABN. I wouldn't have to know them personally or know all about their past to know how ridiculously unfair you've been. Why aren't you looking for some good?

>
> Yet you don't seem to have a problem with what Danny and 3ABN did to Linda. Accusing her os a sin that basically doesnt' exist. You don't seem to have any problem with the testimony of those who have been hurt by the members of this family and 4ABn leadership. As long as your blessing is coming through, right?
>
> Any Scripture that I quoted to you was for the purpose of restoration and a turning away from judging others. I wouldn't want to use Scripture as a put-down in any way or trying to prove I'm right and you're wrong. Can't you see the real enemy is Satan in all of this? But, if you continue to allow him to work his spirit through you, not even God can help you, as Satan will have won in his deceptive tricks he tries on all of us. I see the spirit here as similar to the spirit Saul had when he persecuted the born again Christians in his day. He was convinced by the spirit of Satan that he was doing the work of God and was zealous for his cause, even putting Christians in jail,-- until God confronted him. I am still praying that God will open the eyes of the accusers and those reading all of this, that He has a plan for their life. A plan to build others up and show them how much God loves each of us, that He loves us all equally and is more than willing to forgive.
> I'll leave you with this Scripture and hope it will be an encouragement to all who read it: Jeremiah 29:11 -"For I know the plans I have for you, declares the Lord, plans to prosper you and not to harm you, plans to give you hope and a future."

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 16 2007, 12:03 AM

WWJD,
It sounds like everything that's happening at 3ABN is ok to you unless people know about it and quite frankly that's just ridiculous. Let's all turn a blind eye and hope that everything works out well in the end. Well, that's what's gotten us all here in the first place. There are too many hands in the pot figuring that it's okay to take a little here and there since they've done such a good work through 3ABN. Come on, WWJD! Why don't you open up your pocketbook and let the administrators that be delve in and take what they think they deserve...or better yet, why don't you drop off your children for a while?

So you want me to talk about the good at 3ABN, huh? It's a wonderful ministry. It's bringing Jesus Christ to people who desperately need it. And it's the only reason I stay, because even though there are a select few that are running the ministry into the ground, there are 50 times that amount that are there to work for God. Most of the people I have met in my very long career there are devout Christian people who've taught me much. I love them dearly. I have become part of their family and they mine. But it is not to them that this message board was created. I believe that the people who write on this board, many of them being people that I had once worked along side, write hoping that eyes will be opened. There is a change that is needed, WWJD, and I'm sorry that you can't see it.

Posted by: Snoopy Jan 16 2007, 12:08 AM

[

> QUOTE(wwjd @ Jan 15 2007, 10:34 PM) ☐

> I don't have time to be on here often, so won't be addressing every negative or positive comment from now on. I have a life and don't intend to spend any more time than God directs in speaking my mind.

Hhhmmm... 12 posts in five days...

Posted by: sonshineonme Jan 16 2007, 12:21 AM

> QUOTE(Snoopy @ Jan 15 2007, 10:08 PM) ☐
>
> [
> Hhhmmm... 12 posts in five days...

☒ rofl well said snoopy! ☒ rofl ☒

> QUOTE(husbandoftheyear @ Jan 15 2007, 10:03 PM) ☐
>
> WWJD,
> It sounds like everything that's happening at 3ABN is ok to you unless people know about it and quite frankly that's just ridiculous. Let's all turn a blind eye and hope that everything works out well in the end. Well, that's what's gotten us all here in the first place. There are too many hands in the pot figuring that it's okay to take a little here and there since they've done such a good work through 3ABN. Come on, WWJD! Why don't you open up your pocketbook and let the administrators that be delve in and take what they think they deserve...or better yet, why don't you drop off your children for a while?
>
> So you want me to talk about the good at 3ABN, huh? It's a wonderful ministry. It's bringing Jesus Christ to people who desperately need it. And it's the only reason I stay, because even though there are a select few that are running the ministry into the ground, there are 50 times that amount that are there to work for God. Most of the people I have met in my very long career there are devout Christian people who've taught me much. I love them dearly. I have become part of their family and they mine. But it is not to them that this message board was created. I believe that the people who write on this board, many of them being people that I had once worked along side, write hoping that eyes will be opened. [b]There is a change that is needed, WWJD, and I'm sorry that you can't see it.[/b]

Oh, I think WWJD see's it alright....why do you think he/she (or they) are here spinning their web? They know exactly what they are doing and why. Of course, we already know this. Don't let them get you too upset (I know you aren't because you have real conviction in your heart), soon they will see that their desperate attempt to keep things status quo is just not going to work anymore. Too much pain gone round now, people are not going to be fooled any longer. God has given them ample time to get it right, and now it's time to move on. I think they see (and feel) the writing on the wall. Keep your chin up HOTY - you've done well in Jesus sight, He knows your motives.

Posted by: Clay Jan 16 2007, 10:38 AM

> QUOTE(Snoopy @ Jan 16 2007, 12:08 AM)
>
> [
> Hhhmmm... 12 posts in five days...

yanno... you caught that one too....

Posted by: Johann Jan 16 2007, 11:09 AM

> QUOTE(wwjd @ Jan 16 2007, 06:34 AM)
>
> HOTY. Can you not see When you trash the leaders and what you think is going on there, You Are trashing the ministry itself.
> ----

So if you think the president of USA is bringing the country into the gutter, you must not speak out because then you are spaking out against America.

If you think your governor is doing poorly in your state, you must not let anybody know how you feel about it, because it would cause your state to fail.

And here I thought America is a land of freedom where people speaking out against the tyranny in their own countries found a refuge, where they had a freedom of speech guarateed by the constitution. Now all of that is changed according to your doctrine, because you tell us that Jesus would never do such a thing!

Are your roots in a tyranny that you hate to get out of?

Posted by: awesumtenor Jan 16 2007, 12:08 PM

> QUOTE(wwjd @ Jan 15 2007, 11:34 PM)
>
> Can you not see When you trash the leaders and what you think is going on there, You Are trashing the ministry itself.

So John the baptist was trashing the ministry itself when he called the pharisees and sadducees out in matthew chapter 3?

So Jesus was trashing the ministry itself when He said in matthew 23:

Mat 23:13-33 But woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye shut up the kingdom of heaven against men: for ye neither go in yourselves, neither suffer ye them that are entering to go in. (14) Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye devour widows' houses, and for a pretence make long prayer: therefore ye shall receive the greater damnation. (15) Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye compass sea and land to make one proselyte, and when he is made, ye make him twofold more the child of hell than yourselves. (16) Woe unto you, ye blind guides, which say, Whosoever shall swear by the temple, it is nothing; but whosoever shall swear by the gold of the temple, he is a debtor! (17) Ye fools and blind: for whether is greater, the gold, or the temple that sanctifieth the gold? (18) And, Whosoever shall swear by the altar, it is nothing; but whosoever sweareth by the gift that is upon it, he is guilty. (19) Ye fools and blind: for whether is greater, the gift, or the altar that sanctifieth the gift (20) Whoso therefore shall swear by the altar, sweareth by it, and by all things thereon. (21) And whoso shall swear by the temple, sweareth by it, and by him that dwelleth therein. (22) And he that shall swear by heaven, sweareth by the throne of God, and by him that sitteth thereon. (23) Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye pay tithe of mint and anise and cummin, and have omitted the weightier matters of the law, judgment, mercy, and faith: these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone. (24) Ye blind guides, which strain at a gnat, and swallow a camel. (25) Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye make clean the outside of the cup and of the platter, but within they are full of extortion and excess. (26) Thou blind Pharisee, cleanse first that which is within the cup and platter, that the outside of them may be clean also. (27) Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye are like unto whited sepulchers, which indeed appear beautiful outward, but are within full of dead men's bones, and of all uncleanness. (28) Even so ye also outwardly appear righteous unto men, but within ye are full of hypocrisy and iniquity. (29) Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! because ye build the tombs of the prophets, and garnish the sepulchers of the righteous, (30) And say, If we had been in the days of our fathers, we would not have been partakers with them in the blood of the prophets. (31) Wherefore ye be witnesses unto yourselves, that ye are the children of them which killed the prophets. (32) Fill ye up then the measure of your fathers. (33) Ye serpents, ye generation of vipers, how can ye escape the damnation of hell?

Should Peter have had a private meeting with Ananias and Sapphira instead of calling them out before the church?

So Martin Luther was trashing the ministry itself when he nailed his 95 theses to the cathedral door?

How about Melancthon and Wycliffe and Hus and Zwingli and Calvin? Should they have all kept their peace rather than make their complaint about excesses occurring in the name of God?

The one person I can find in scripture who took the approach you suggest was Eli, who refused to rebuke his sons... and we know how that worked out for him and them.

There's a lesson in that for you, if you have ears to hear...

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: princessdi Jan 16 2007, 12:29 PM

Go on and preach it, Elder!!!!!

Posted by: Aunt B Jan 16 2007, 02:12 PM

Truth welcomes examination and doesn't need to defend itself, while deception hides in darkness and blames everyone else.

Aunt B

Posted by: sister Jan 16 2007, 06:45 PM

> QUOTE(Aunt B @ Jan 16 2007, 03:12 PM)
>
> Truth welcomes examination and doesn't need to defend itself, while deception hides in darkness and blames everyone else.
>
> Aunt B

Aunt B, in one simple statement you have summed up the entire controversy in regard to the situation at 3ABN and I will repeat it again:

Truth welcomes examination and doesn't need to defend itself, while deception hides in darkness and blames everyone else.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 16 2007, 07:41 PM

> QUOTE(sister @ Jan 16 2007, 05:45 PM)
>
> -->QUOTE(Aunt B @ Jan 16 2007, 03:12 PM) <!--quotec-->
> Truth welcomes examination and doesn't need to defend itself, while deception hides in darkness and blames everyone else.
>
> Aunt B
> Aunt B, in one simple statement you have summed up the entire controversy in regard to the situation at 3ABN and I will repeat it again:
>
> Truth welcomes examination and doesn't need to defend itself, while deception hides in darkness and blames everyone else.

Aunt B, are these your own words? Wow! That belongs on T-shirts or at least should have its own topic here! It would be great to have it as the motto on the save3abn website. Would you mind if we suggest that to Gailon?

Posted by: husbandoftheyear Jan 16 2007, 08:51 PM

Today's traitor is tomorrow's patriot.

Case in point...followers of Napoleon. Loyalists one day, traitors, then loyalists again, then traitors. So what we have here is really a debate about time isn't it?
Perhaps when those in power at 3ABN are out, it is you that will be the traitor, WWJD, and me the loyalist?[size=2]

Posted by: Aunt B Jan 16 2007, 09:58 PM

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Jan 16 2007, 08:41 PM)
>
> Aunt B, are these your own words? Wow! That belongs on T-shirts or at least should have its own topic here! It would be great to have it as the motto on the save3abn website. Would you mind if we suggest that to Gailon?

Yes, these are my own words, and you may put them wherever you like. Just kinda came to me as I was reading...

Aunt B

Posted by: Noahswife Jan 17 2007, 02:49 PM

-->QUOTE(Aunt B @ Jan 16 2007, 03:12 PM) <!--quotec-->
Truth welcomes examination and doesn't need to defend itself, while deception hides in darkness and blames everyone else.

Aunt B
[/quote]

I agree this is well said and sums up many of the various threads regarding 3abn.

In addition, it is exactly why after learning of these events at 3abn a few months ago and reading about the circumstances surrounding the contract that LS signed, I saw big red flags that made me wonder what was going on.

This does not imply the contract was illegal despite the pressure Linda was under to sign it. The concept of duress has a very high standard (as well it should have to keep people from getting out of contracts because they do not like the results). With Linda's age and work experience I don't think the argument would fly that she did not exercise free will (no matter how naive she might have been).

Here is the definition of duress on the web....

http://www.lectlaw.com/def/d082.htm

Although not exactly applicable, the quote also makes me think about the question of how much money was paid for the 10 commandment book that was passed out. I do not question the author's right to be paid for his or her work. What I do question is the ethics of asking someone like my mother who lives on a fixed income and has no savings after working in SDA institutions and putting her kids educations and tithing first to sacrifice further to support the book's distribution without honestly explaining Mr. Shelton would be profiting due to the sheer volume of books being purchased. Did 3abn explain this?

nw

Posted by: Johann Jan 17 2007, 03:27 PM

> QUOTE(Noahswife @ Jan 17 2007, 10:49 PM) ☐
>
> ----
>
> Here is the definition of duress on the web....
>
> http://www.lectlaw.com/def/d082.htm

That website is an eye-opener, Ms Noahswife! It really great to see how you also are searching for the truth in this matter. The truth shall make you free, has been Linda's great comfort through the past three years of duress. Her devotion and committment and trust in the Lord has been a great encouragement to me, as it was to my wife, Irmgard, until she passed away in 2005. It was great to have Linda there at her funeral where she got up and expressed her appreciation because Irmgard had neverer failed her as a friend. I know Linda wants to express her great appreciation to all of you who are sarching for the real truth in this matter.

Posted by: Rosyroi Jan 17 2007, 11:43 PM

> QUOTE(sister @ Jan 16 2007, 04:45 PM) ☐
>
> ☐ -->QUOTE(Aunt B @ Jan 16 2007, 03:12 PM) ☐<!--quotec-->
> Truth welcomes examination and doesn't need to defend itself, while deception hides in darkness and blames everyone else.
>
> Aunt B
> Aunt B, in one simple statement you have summed up the entire controversy in regard to the situation at 3ABN and I will repeat it again:
>
> Truth welcomes examination and doesn't need to defend itself, while deception hides in darkness and blames everyone else.

AMEN!! AMEN!!! AMEN!!! AMEN!!! AMEN!!!

124

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ Molestor Babysitting Your Children

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jan 9 2007, 04:36 PM

I will still ask the question - to remind us of the reason for the concern....

Thoughts?

Posted by: watchbird Jan 9 2007, 05:34 PM

> QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jan 9 2007, 05:36 PM)
>
> I will still ask the question - to remind us of the reason for the concern....
>
> Thoughts?

I would also not want my children to be anywhere near them... even in the presence of other adults. And I would CERTAINLY not want them to ride in a car with them... even if other adults were present, nor take any kind of teaching from them... especially anything that is one-on-one such as music instruction or tutoring.

And that holds no matter how old they are.

I recall a distant family member who was 94 years old when he was expelled from a nursing care facility for inappropriately "fondling" a little 5 year old girl who was there with a group who were visiting "the elderly". I also recall a young man.... not married for many years, who "finger-raped" his wife's younger sister in the back seat of the car... while they were traveling... with other family members were in the front seat.

The old man, btw, blamed the little girl... saying that she was so seductive!

Can you imagine how his daughters felt when they had to take him out of the nursing home and care for them in one of their own homes? Especially given the fact that they had both had to leave home before they were fourteen since it was not safe for them in their own beds!?!

Posted by: princessdi Jan 9 2007, 05:42 PM

Mercy!!! Blamed the 5 year old?!! Ols as he was, they should have taken his nasty self to prison, right then and there!

But you know people aren't all like the rest of us who say "no way". There is an offender here in Northern Cal, who was chemciall castrated, severd his time and released. It made the news because they ahd to move him around so much--nobody wanting him in their neighborhood. Anyway, in November he was stopped with a 14 year old boy in his car. Thing is, the family knew the boy was with him, and to this date nobody even said it was a relative of anything. Now I am questioning the judgement of this boy's parents.

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jan 9 2007, 03:34 PM)
>
> I would also not want my children to be anywhere near them... even in the presence of other adults. And I would CERTAINLY not want them to ride in a car with them... even if other adults were present, nor take any kind of teaching from them... especially anything that is one-on-one such as music instruction or tutoring.
>
> And that holds no matter how old they are.
>
> I recall a distant family member who was 94 years old when he was expelled from a nursing care facility for inappropriately "fondling" a little 5 year old girl who was there with a group who were visiting "the elderly". I also recall a young man.... not married for many years, who "finger-raped" his wife's younger sister in the back seat of the car... while they were traveling... with other family members were in the front seat.
>
> The old man, btw, blamed the little girl... saying that she was so seductive!
>
> Can you imagine how his daughters felt when they had to take him out of the nursing home and care for them in one of their own homes? Especially given the fact that they had both had to leave home before they were fourteen since it was not safe for them in their own beds!?!

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jan 9 2007, 06:23 PM

I still can't comprehend any ADULT with SENSE saying that a child can consent to sexual relations.

Bump the "legal definition of consent" - a child, is a child, is a CHILD!

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 9 2007, 07:39 PM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jan 9 2007, 04:34 PM)
>
> I would also not want my children to be anywhere near them... even in the presence of other adults. And I would CERTAINLY not want them to ride in a car with them... even if other adults were present, nor take any kind of teaching from them... especially anything that is one-on-one such as music instruction or tutoring.
>
> And that holds no matter how old they are.
>
> I recall a distant family member who was 94 years old when he was expelled from a nursing care facility for inappropriately "fondling" a little 5 year old girl who was there with a group who were visiting "the elderly". I also recall a young man.... not married for many years, who "finger-raped" his wife's younger sister in the back seat of the car... while they were traveling... with other family members were in the front seat.
>
> The old man, btw, blamed the little girl... saying that she was so seductive!
>
> Can you imagine how his daughters felt when they had to take him out of the nursing home and care for them in one of their own homes? Especially given the fact that they had both had to leave home before they were fourteen since it was not safe for them in their own beds!?!

Sad, sad, sad. It demonstrates how crafty pedophiles seem to be and how oblivious parents, etc. can be.

One other problem with allowing a child to be around a pedophile, even with the parents there for protection, is that familiarity builds trust in the child especially with the parents' seemingly giving their stamp of approval. Children don't have the developmental level of judgement to see the characteristic dangers that adults can.

Posted by: Skyhook Jan 9 2007, 08:49 PM

I have read that many, if not most sexual abuse, molestation, or whatever you want to call it, is done by family members or friends of the family. I have seen cases where girls were victimized even further by parents and family when they told about it. The children were sacrificed, called liars and crazy, and even sent to psych hospitals as an attempt by the family to avoid dealing with the fact that a husband father, a step father or brother or someone close had molested thier child.

I have also seen cases where men get admitted to psych facilities very likely on the advice of thier attorney, to be treated for "depression" while charges are pending against them. If these men are given psychological testing, they probably show up high on a sociopathic scale, and not particularly depressed. Just a guess.

Posted by: roxe Jan 9 2007, 10:51 PM

> QUOTE(watchbird @ Jan 9 2007, 04:34 PM)
>
> I would also not want my children to be anywhere near them... even in the presence of other adults. And I would CERTAINLY not want them to ride in a car with them... even if other adults were present, nor take any kind of teaching from them... especially anything that is one-on-one such as music instruction or tutoring.
>
> And that holds no matter how old they are.

or how "cute" they smile...

going thru some papers today, came across an envelope of 3abn with a picture of Danny inside... grinning i guess what he thinks is that "cute" grin of his...

which i no longer think is "cute" in any way shape or form...

file 13

Posted by: Aunt B Jan 10 2007, 06:44 PM

I agree with the rest of you. I wouldn't draw the line at no babysitting. It is so true that pedophiles are crafty. Part of the thrill for them is to get away with molesting a child right in front of other adults. Talk about messing up the kid. I know of cases where it has happend in the same room with the parents. Rather than blaming the perp. the child was angry with the parents for not loving him/her and keeping him/her safe.

Aunt B

Posted by: Eddy Jan 11 2007, 11:53 AM

Never in a million years!! Unfortunately we have a convicted and admitted child molester in the family, and although I love him, he will never even meet my boys.

Posted by: Nuggie Jan 11 2007, 02:00 PM

> QUOTE(PeacefullyBewildered @ Jan 9 2007, 08:39 PM) ☐
>
> Sad, sad, sad. It demonstrates how crafty pedophiles seem to be and how oblivious parents, etc. can be.
>
> One other problem with allowing a child to be around a pedophile, even with the parents there for protection, is that familiarity builds trust in the child especially with the parents' seemingly giving their stamp of approval. Children don't have the developmental level of judgement to see the characteristic dangers that adults can.

Call me paranoid, but this is one of the main reasons why my daughter doesn't go on house visits or sleep-overs at anybody's house (except my parents or my mother-in-law). No exceptions. Period. It's not always about the people who've invited her over, but what if they have friends coming in and out of their house that I don't know anything about? Or what if they leave my child unattended while they do other stuff? See, God only gave me one child and it took me ten years to get her. I'd hate to have to hurt somebody for putting their nasty hands on her. Trust me, BSDA would be taking up collection to pay my bail. For real.

Posted by: Johann Jan 11 2007, 03:31 PM

We just heard on the news that 1/3 of all deaf children have been sexually molested under the age of 19, most of them at age 13 here in Iceland, and that similar crimes are committed elsewhere in the world. Why against the deaf children? Because people figure they cannot tell others what has been done to them.

A deaf father has just been sentenced for molesting his own deaf children. The judge was lenient because the father had himself been molested in school when he was a child, so this seemed to him to be as it should be.

How wicked is this world? And are people to know that this is how it should be when the Advent message is presented to them?

Posted by: Ralph Jan 11 2007, 04:53 PM

> QUOTE(Nuggie @ Jan 11 2007, 01:00 PM) ☐
>
> Call me paranoid, but this is one of the main reasons why my daughter doesn't go on house visits or sleep-overs at anybody's house (except my parents or my mother-in-law). No exceptions. Period. It's not always about the people who've invited her over, but what if they have friends coming in and out of their house that I don't know anything about? Or what if they leave my child unattended > while they do other stuff? See, God only gave me one child and it took me ten years to get her. I'd hate to have to hurt somebody for putting their nasty hands on her. Trust me, BSDA would be taking up collection to pay my bail. For real.

You hit on a problem that all of us as parents have had to face. Sometimes it is a real balancing act. Like you, we were very careful who we gave an OK to. Rather than putting a nix on sleepovers, we chose to teach the children what was acceptable and what was unacceptable behavior.
Ya gotta face it, unless we put our children in a wire cage and feed them through a slit in the door, sooner or later, the chances of experimentation are going to be there. At the sexual assault center, we are not concerned if there is not more than two years difference in ages. Did I shock anyone?

Posted by: Clay Jan 11 2007, 07:27 PM

the danger from molestation is usually not a stranger but by someone known.... more often than not a relative....

Posted by: Ralph Jan 11 2007, 07:41 PM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jan 11 2007, 06:27 PM)
>
> the danger from molestation is usually not a stranger but by someone known.... more often than not a relative....

Unfortunately you are so right. There usually are red flags if a person recognizes them.

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Jan 11 2007, 11:39 PM

> QUOTE(Skyhook @ Jan 9 2007, 10:49 PM)
>
> I have read that many, if not most sexual abuse, molestation, or whatever you want to call it, is done by family members or friends of the family. I have seen cases where girls were victimized even further by parents and family when they told about it. The children were sacrificed, called liars and crazy, and even sent to psych hospitals as an attempt by the family to avoid dealing with the fact that a husband father, a step father or brother or someone close had molested thier child.
>
> I have also seen cases where men get admitted to psych facilities very likely on the advice of thier attorney, to be treated for "depression" while charges are pending against them. If these men are given psychological testing, they probably show up high on a sociopathic scale, and not particularly depressed. Just a guess.

Dead on! You are correct Skyhook!

> QUOTE(Eddy @ Jan 11 2007, 01:53 PM)
>
> Never in a million years!! Unfortunately we have a convicted and admitted child molester in the family, and although I love him, he will never even meet my boys.

..and you as a parent are protecting your children. Anyone else who would allow their children around a declared child molestor are not truthfully protecting their children.

> QUOTE(Ralph @ Jan 11 2007, 09:41 PM)
>
> Unfortunately you are so right. There usually are red flags if a person recognizes them.

I got your PM - will answer in a bit...and BTW: you are more on track than you know....

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 12 2007, 12:52 PM

> QUOTE(Ralph @ Jan 11 2007, 06:41 PM)
>
> Unfortunately you are so right. There usually are red flags if a person recognizes them.

How right you are! One phrase that was a red flag for me, due to personal experience, was "You owe me..." It had been used on me as a teenager so when a fellow church member used it on me to try to get me to allow my 5-year-old son to spend unsupervised time with him it was a big old red flag with fireworks! When I said "No" he spread the rumor around my church that I was spreading lies about him being a child molester. I had never made such a charge!

Posted by: Rosyroi Jan 16 2007, 11:41 PM

> QUOTE(PrincessDrRe @ Jan 9 2007, 04:23 PM)
>
> I still can't comprehend any ADULT with SENSE saying that a child can consent to sexual relations.
>
> Bump the "legal definition of consent" - a child, is a child, is a CHILD!

[b][color=#993399][font=Comic Sans Ms][size=7]AMEN!!! (I don't know how to do this right... sorry.

Posted by: Johann Jan 17 2007, 12:26 AM

> QUOTE(Rosyroi @ Jan 17 2007, 07:41 AM)
>
> AMEN!!!

Your AMEN speaks like a whole sermon!

Posted by: lurker Jan 17 2007, 09:11 AM

In today's morning newspaper, January 17, 2007, I read an associated press article about the man who kidnapped the two boys and kept one of them for years. It seems he wasn't a suspect because he wasn't a convicted sex offender. The article also mentioned that these crimes are compulsive and cyclical and that the aim was not only to solve this case but to prevent the next one from coming along.

I wish everyone who complains that we shouldn't be discussing the allegations about Tommy because he hasn't been convicted yet would read the article.
http://www.wtopnews.com/index.php?nid=104&sid=1031793

Posted by: Chez Jan 17 2007, 10:10 AM

QUOTE(lurker @ Jan 17 2007, 09:11 AM)

> In today's morning newspaper, January 17, 2007, I read an associated press article about the man who kidnapped the two boys and kept one of them for years. It seems he wasn't a suspect because he wasn't a convicted sex offender. The article also mentioned that these crimes are compulsive and cyclical and that the aim was not only to solve this case but to prevent the next one from coming along.
>
> I wish everyone who complains that we shouldn't be discussing the allegations about Tommy because he hasn't been convicted yet would read the article.
> http://www.wtopnews.com/index.php?nid=104&sid=1031793

Well said! I thought about all of the supporters of Tommy who say that basically because criminal charges had not been filed, he was innocent. The Devlin story is a good example of criminals who don't fit the profile, but yet are involved in crime.

125

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ Yet Another Newbie Critical Of Bsda

Posted by: Kaiser Schlabotnick Jan 15 2007, 09:21 AM

To Whom This May Concern

Contents deleted

Posted by: Clay Jan 15 2007, 09:30 AM

if you are going to leave.... just leave... no need to start another thread about how bad we are and where we will end up if we don't mend our ways.... tiresome.....

Posted by: calvin Jan 15 2007, 10:15 AM

> QUOTE(Clay @ Jan 15 2007, 09:30 AM) ☐
>
> if you are going to leave.... just leave... no need to start another thread about how bad we are and where we will end up if we don't mend our ways.... tiresome.....

thanks for closing this thread Clay.

Everyone, we don't do "good-bye" threads here, where you get to take parting shots as you announce your leaving as you exit out the door.

Powered by Invision Power Board (http://www.invisionboard.com)

Printable Version of Topic

126

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ What Did Walt Admit To Regarding What Danny Told Him About Tommy?

Posted by: Pickle Jan 7 2007, 09:30 AM

Faillible has raised an issue over here that he raised on Maritime, and I will respond here similar to how I responded over there. The question concerns what did Dr. Walt Thompson admit to and what didn't he admit to in writing to me.

Basically, I claim that since Walt admitted that Danny was his source of information, and since that information was clearly and unquestionably bogus, that Walt essentially admitted to me that Danny misled him. Whenever making this claim, I have tried to include a word like "essentially" to make it clear that Walt did not say, "Danny lied to me," and anyone who reads what he wrote and what I've written, as well as Danny's responses, cans ee very clearly what I've meant.

Fallible, however, claims that I have not been truthful when saying that Walt "essentially" admitted that Danny misled him.

Here are the documents. The poll we have over on Maritime is reproduced here so that you can vote how you feel about the matter. If anyone can think of an option I should have included, let me know and maybe we can add it, if the software allows that kind of thing.

> QUOTE(Walt Thompson)
>
> ------- Original Message --------
> Subject: Re: Gailons last email to me. "We got a problem"
> Date: Fri, 24 Nov 2006 08:26:23 -0600
> From: Walt Thompson
> CC: Danny Shelton
>
> Dear Bob,
>
> The allegations against Tommy were made about 30 years ago. They were reported to the proper authorities. No physical actions ever occured. Tommy appologized to the kids and offered recompence. The DA said there was no case. No restrictions were ever imposed. Tommy is employed by 3abn with full board approval, knowing the facts. ...
>
> ...
>
> Thanks for your interest,
>
> walt
> Walter Thompson MD

A follow-up question I asked Walt was, Who gave you this information? He stated quite clearly:

> QUOTE(Walt Thompson)
>
> -------- Original Message --------
> Subject: Re: Possible way to win 3ABN critics.
> Date: Mon, 27 Nov 2006 09:04:53 -0600

> From: Walt Thompson
>
> Dear Bob,
>
> Thank you for you attempt to understand my sensitivity and that of 3abn administratin and board.
> ...
>
> ... I was at 3abn at the time and spoke at length with Danny about the matter. He shared with me the details as he understood them. ...
>
> [Since mid-August] I contacted the only person from the Chruch of God that I could find that knew about the situation .... The picture that was painted by that leader of the Church was exactly as portrayed earlier by Danny. ... These are the facts as I have been able to sort them out.
>
> ...
>
> Sincerely,
>
> Walt

And yet the letter sent to Walt Thompson by certified mail in 2003 had attached Action items which included the following:

> QUOTE(Action items attached to 2003 Dryden letter to Walt Thompson)
>
> Tommy also should issue written apologies over his signature for his deceit, as well as inappropriate behavior, etc., to the congregation of the Ezra Church of God, West Frankfort, Illinois, the congregation of the Community Church of God, Dunn Loring, Virginia, the state office of the General Assembly Of The Church Of God In Illinois and to the Ministerial Council of the Church of God headquartered in Virginia.

Tommy pastored in Virginia from 1995 until around late 2000. The above words alert us to the fact that there were allegations, whether true or false is irrelevant, much more recently than 30 years ago, contrary to the information that Walt admitted that Danny told him.

Rereading the above, it becomes apparent that the 3ABN board never knew the facts, or if they did, their actions become even more reprehensible. Yet Walt Thompson said, "Tommy is employed by 3abn with full board approval, knowing the facts."

It has now been more than a month since these discrepancies were brought to Dr. Thompson's attention, and I have yet to receive any reply whatsoever from him that seeks to rectify the mistakes that were made. If he cannot make any sort of appropriate reply to a concerned Seventh-day Adventist church member over such a serious issue after a month, then for the good of 3ABN and the cause of God, he really ought to resign.

Posted by: Pickle Jan 7 2007, 12:13 PM

You probably noticed that the fourth option in the poll should read: "No, just because Walt said that Danny was his source of information, that in no way means that Walt said that Danny was his source of information."

Posted by: västergötland Jan 7 2007, 04:42 PM

How is this poll not inviting innocent BSDAers to judge the law?

Jam 4:11 Speak not one against another, brethren. He that speaketh against a brother, or judgeth his brother, speaketh against the law, and judgeth the law: but if thou judgest the law, thou art not a doer of the law, but a judge.
Jam 4:12 One only is the lawgiver and judge, even he who is able to save and to destroy: but who art thou that judgest thy neighbor?

Posted by: Pickle Jan 7 2007, 07:13 PM

I guess the same way that Paul did when he told the Corinthians to judge the man that had his father's wife. And yet in the same epistle Paul said to judge no one before the time.

Look through 1 Cor. and you find Paul saying "Judge," and saying "Don't judge."

The best I can figure is that we aren't supposed to say where someone WILL end up. That's not our task. But we do have a responsibility to deal with open sin, and clear facts.

And this poll is only about facts.

Posted by: fallible humanbeing Jan 7 2007, 10:58 PM

> QUOTE(Pickle @ Jan 7 2007, 11:30 AM) ☐
>
> After carefully comparing Walt Thompson's statements and the 2003 Glenn Dryden letter, please choose the most appropriate answer from the following list:
> 1. Walt Thompson admitted that Danny told him that the Tommy Shelton child molestation allegations were 30 years old, when in actuality the May 2003 Dryden letter that Walt received indicated that the allegations were as recent as the year 2000.
> 2. Walt admitted that Danny told him that the allegations were 30 years old, but you are dead wrong that the 2003 letter asking Tommy to apologize to a church he pastored from 1995-2000 for inappropriate behavior is an allegation more recent than 30 years ago.
> 3. No, Walt never said that the allegations were 30 years old when he said that the allegations were 30 years old, and you have no business saying that he did.
> 4. No, just because Walt said that Danny was his source of information, that in now way means that Walt said that Danny was his source of information.

Your choices are simply laughable. The only real option, and it isn't present, is:

"No, Walt never "admitted" - as Bob Pickle attributes it to him - that Danny lied to him. Nor does he insinuate that this happened. Additionally it is evident upon reading the emails that Bob Pickle believes that Danny lied and realizes that it would be more powerful if he placed those words in the mouth of someone closer to the 3ABN situation and chose Dr. Thompson as his victim."

If you had that as a choice then you would have a legitmate poll.

- fhb

Posted by: Daryl Fawcett Jan 8 2007, 12:48 PM

FHB,

Why don't you create your own POLL and see what happens?

Posted by: Ed White Jan 8 2007, 04:48 PM

> QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Jan 8 2007, 12:48 PM)
>
> FHB,
>
> Why don't you create your own POLL and see what happens?

Speaking of taking a pole, maybe Danny Shelton should become an open member here on BSDA forum and conduct a pole and ask his own questions. That way we would know, however we should be careful if he does, as he is good at one-sided questions/reporting that only make him look good. Like the Russian press once gave an account of a foot race, saying this about their Russian star. "Ivan came in second place & the American was next to the last place finisher." The press reporter told the truth, but he failed to say that only two people were in the race. Poles can say nothing at times, as we all know.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 8 2007, 05:17 PM

> QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Jan 8 2007, 11:48 AM)
>
> FHB,
>
> Why don't you create your own POLL and see what happens?

FHB, I would second that and I will gladly vote if there is at least one choice that I can agree with.

Posted by: roxe Jan 8 2007, 08:15 PM

> QUOTE(Daryl Fawcett @ Jan 8 2007, 11:48 AM)
>
> FHB,
> Why don't you create your own POLL and see what happens?

i agree, fallible, do your own with your own wording, giving us all the options possible which you understand...

i REALLY hope you do!

i'll be watching for it, cuz i really want to vote in it

Posted by: Treniece Jan 12 2007, 06:24 PM

I thought Tommy Shelton just recently resigned or retired from 3abn, so hopefully this controversy should subside.

Posted by: watchbird Jan 12 2007, 06:43 PM

> QUOTE(Treniece @ Jan 12 2007, 07:24 PM)
>
> I thought Tommy Shelton just recently resigned or retired from 3abn, so hopefully this controversy should subside.

Sounds like you missed the next chapters.... yeah he retired... was given a gala party on worldwide TV... now the word we get is that he will be back to 3abn for taping in a couple weeks.... so... nothing has been accomplished there other than he has been eulogized around the world.

Posted by: lookin4truth Jan 12 2007, 06:43 PM

> QUOTE(Treniece @ Jan 12 2007, 07:24 PM)
>
> I thought Tommy Shelton just recently resigned or retired from 3abn, so hopefully this controversy should subside.

Treniece,

Although Tommy did retire for "Health Reasons", on the Retirement Special broadcast, Danny Shelton stated over and over again that Tommy would be back, and would continue to do work for 3ABN.

On the program, the first man to pay tribute to Tommy spent much of his time telling how the person who held the job before Tommy mistreated the employees. I wonder who he could have been speaking about...Just one of those things that make you say, "hmmm".

I found the video at http://www.save3abn.com/. Note, I said I found it there, I did not put it there.

Posted by: Pickle Jan 12 2007, 06:45 PM

Treniece,

Actually, during Tommy's tribute Sunday before last, it was repeatedly promised that he would be back. Repeatedly.

But even if that were not the case, Danny still needs to explain why, according to Walt, he told Walt that the allegations were 30 years old when he knew full well that they weren't.

You can't have the head of a ministry as powerful as 3ABN, a head that markets a book about keeping the 10 Commandments, the head of a ministry dedicated to preaching the 3rd angel's message which calls people to obedience to the 10 Commandments, you can't have that head breaking the 9th commandment in order to cover up grievous and extreme violations of the 7th commandment.

Posted by: howdy Jan 12 2007, 07:06 PM

I just watched the video clip that was referred to above. Sickening!!

howdy

Posted by: lookin4truth Jan 12 2007, 09:53 PM

Off topic, but ironic

When I saw the post above, which shows who save3abn.com is registered to, I did a WHOIS search, at http://www.networksolutions.com/whois/index.jsp, on 3ABN.org.

The search shows a little sample of the home page, and it shows a picture of Linda.

Oops, The post I referred to, which showed who the save3abn.com site belonged to was on Maritime. Sorry, my mistake. I was jumping back and forth, and confused myself.

Posted by: wwjd Jan 12 2007, 10:17 PM

> QUOTE(lookin4truth @ Jan 12 2007, 09:53 PM) ☐
>
> Off topic, but ironic
>
> When I saw the post above, which shows who save3abn.com is registered to, I did a WHOIS search, at http://www.networksolutions.com/whois/index.jsp, on 3ABN.org.
>
> The search shows a little sample of the home page, and it shows a picture of Linda.
>
> Oops, The post I referred to, which showed who the save3abn.com site belonged to was on Maritime. Sorry, my mistake. I was jumping back and forth, and confused myself.

If you are "looking for the truth" It doesn't appear that you should look here

I'm thankful for the positive remarks I heard from this web-site after my recent letter. I really don't have the time to spend hours writing nor reading what's written, but when I can, I'll be back, hopefully to offer some encouraging words.
My purpose has not been to condemn anyone, only to point out how the devil seems to be deceiving so many and using slander to discourage hundreds. Satan is the real enemy here and will use any of us who will allow it, and when he's done with us will throw us away. Aren't we all thankful that we have a God who doesn't use us, but loves us even when we fail? Ps.103:10 says "He has not dealt with us after our sins, nor rewarded us according to our iniquities—v14-For He knows our frame—that we are dust." Yet, He loves us as we are, but does love us too much to leave us where we are. We all have to be constantly growing in grace and allowing God's spirit to make us more like Him.
The whole point of my first letter was only to ask for a balanced and fair investigation, (even though it appears those doing the investigating are unofficial, self appointed investigators) it really seems so one-sided to me. Those doing all the investigating are apparently listening to some very troubled, vindictive people, because the spirit of Christ in a person will want to build up a person, not tear them apart like an angry mob. That's the spirit I've sensed from many remarks on this web-site. May God forgive anyone with that spirit, because that's the same spirit that crucified His only Son. Jesus cried out on the cross," Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do." Which, again, has been my whole point—Satan is a deceiver and will make us think we're on God's side when we're not. Jesus said to the adulterous woman, "neither do I condemn thee." So, if He doesn't condemn, why would any of us think we would have the right to?

And who-ever is doing this investigation, if you claim to be a Christian, why won't you be fair and find out some facts about those who are doing all of this accusing of 3ABN? This network of people have all been such a blessing to me and I feel so badly that they have had such cruel remarks made of them. I have found that those who have experienced real forgiveness themselves, find it easy to forgive others of perceived wrongs. Many times, however, those who are themselves continuing in some sin, seem to take pleasure in condemning others—that's our sinful nature—but when our nature is changed through the Spirit of Christ, we have a loving, restoring one. I pray that this will be everyone's goal.
As I've said, if the spirit on this web-site doesn't change soon, many more will be harmed and kept from salvation or a closer relationship with Christ—that's the burden that won't leave me. I'm not sitting in condemnation of anyone—just expressing my concerns. If anyone else has this same concern, I'm sure it would be encouraging to all the 3ABN staff to hear from you as well. May God help us all to be His servants, encouraging and loving others where ever we go.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 12 2007, 10:22 PM

> QUOTE(västergötland @ Jan 7 2007, 03:42 PM)
>
> How is this poll not inviting innocent BSDAers to judge the law?
>
> Jam 4:11 Speak not one against another, brethren. He that speaketh against a brother, or judgeth his brother, speaketh against the law, and judgeth the law: but if thou judgest the law, thou art not a doer of the law, but a judge.
> Jam 4:12 One only is the lawgiver and judge, even he who is able to save and to destroy: but who art thou that judgest thy neighbor?

Just a point of interest on this vein:

1 Corinthians 5:9-13 says

9 I have written you in my letter not to associate with sexually immoral people— 10 not at all meaning the people of this world who are immoral, or the greedy and swindlers, or idolaters. In that case you would have to leave this world. 11 But now I am writing you that you must not associate with anyone who calls himself a brother but is sexually immoral or greedy, an idolater or a slanderer, a drunkard or a swindler. With such a man do not even eat.

12 What business is it of mine to judge those outside the church? Are you not to judge those inside?
13 God will judge those outside. "Expel the wicked man from among you."(from Deut.17:7)

Posted by: awesumtenor Jan 12 2007, 10:40 PM

> QUOTE(wwjd @ Jan 12 2007, 11:17 PM)
>
> If you are "looking for the truth" It doesn't appear that you should look here

If the statement you make below is true, then you are not in a position to truthfully make the one above.

> QUOTE
>
> I'm thankful for the positive remarks I heard from this web-site after my recent letter. I really don't have the time to spend hours writing nor reading what's written, but when I can, I'll be back, hopefully to offer some encouraging words.

If you haven't read all of what is here... which is obvious that you have not... and you are not willing to take the time to read it... which you say you will not... then nothing you have to say on the matter is of any consequence.

> QUOTE
>
> My purpose has not been to condemn anyone,

Re-read you initial statement in this post and then try this again. That statement and this one are mutually exclusive.

> QUOTE
>
> only to point out how the devil seems to be deceiving so many and using slander to discourage hundreds. Satan is the real enemy here and will use any of us who will allow it, and when he's done with us will throw us away. Aren't we all thankful that we have a God who doesn't use us, but loves us even when we fail? Ps.103:10 says "He has not dealt with us after our sins, nor rewarded us according to our iniquities—v14-For He knows our frame—that we are dust." Yet, He loves us as we are, but does love us too much to leave us where we are. We all have to be constantly growing in grace and allowing God's spirit to make us more like Him.

Physician, heal thyself...

> QUOTE
>
> The whole point of my first letter was only to ask for a balanced and fair investigation, (even though it appears those doing the investigating are unofficial, self appointed investigators) it really seems so one-sided to me. Those doing all the investigating are apparently listening to some very troubled, vindictive people, because the spirit of Christ in a person will want to build up a person, not tear them apart like an angry mob. That's the spirit I've sensed from many remarks on this web-site. May God forgive anyone with that spirit, because that's the same spirit that crucified His only Son. Jesus cried out on the cross," Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do." Which, again, has been my whole point—Satan is a deceiver and will make us think we're on God's side when we're not. Jesus said to the adulterous woman, "neither do I condemn thee." So, if He doesn't condemn, why would any of us think we would have the right to?
> And who-ever is doing this investigation, if you claim to be a Christian, why won't you be fair and find out some facts about those who are doing all of this accusing of 3ABN? This network of people have all been such a blessing to me and I feel so badly that they have had such cruel remarks made of them. I have found that those who have experienced real forgiveness themselves, find it easy to forgive others of perceived wrongs. Many times, however, those who are themselves continuing in some sin, seem to take pleasure in condemning others—that's our sinful nature—but when our nature is changed through the Spirit of Christ, we have a loving, restoring one. I pray that this will be everyone's goal.
> As I've said, if the spirit on this web-site doesn't change soon, many more will be harmed and kept from salvation or a closer relationship with Christ—that's the burden that won't leave me. I'm not > sitting in condemnation of anyone—just expressing my concerns. If anyone else has this same concern, I'm sure it would be encouraging to all the 3ABN staff to hear from you as well. May God help us all to be His servants, encouraging and loving others where ever we go.

Seeing that you have not and will not read all of what is here, you cant draw a conclusion about any investigating that has been done. You came here with an agenda and are leaving with the same agenda, spouting the same failed logical fallacies, positing that your opinion is somehow authoritative and ergo if you say it's not fair then it, of course must not be fair... even after you acknowledge you dont deem it worth your while to actually read what is here beyond the cherry picking you've done.

Again... it's just ☒ notworkir

In His service,
Mr. J

Posted by: ex3ABNemployee Jan 12 2007, 11:53 PM

> QUOTE(wwjd @ Jan 12 2007, 10:17 PM)
>
> If you are "looking for the truth" It doesn't appear that you should look here
>
> I'm thankful for the positive remarks I heard from this web-site after my recent letter. I really don't have the time to spend hours writing nor reading what's written, but when I can, I'll be back, hopefully to offer some encouraging words.
> My purpose has not been to condemn anyone, only to point out how the devil seems to be deceiving so many and using slander to discourage hundreds. Satan is the real enemy here and will use any of us who will allow it, and when he's done with us will throw us away. Aren't we all thankful that we have a God who doesn't use us, but loves us even when we fail? Ps.103:10 says "He has not dealt with us after our sins, nor rewarded us according to our iniquities—v14-For He knows our frame—that we are dust." Yet, He loves us as we are, but does love us too much to leave us where we are. We all have to be constantly growing in grace and allowing God's spirit to make us more like Him.
> The whole point of my first letter was only to ask for a balanced and fair investigation, (even though it appears those doing the investigating are unofficial, self appointed investigators) it really seems so one-sided to me. Those doing all the investigating are apparently listening to some very troubled, vindictive people, because the spirit of Christ in a person will want to build up a person, not tear them apart like an angry mob. That's the spirit I've sensed from many remarks on this web-site. May God forgive anyone with that spirit, because that's the same spirit that crucified His only Son. Jesus cried out on the cross," Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do." Which, again, has been my whole point—Satan is a deceiver and will make us think we're on God's side when we're not. Jesus said to the adulterous woman, "neither do I condemn thee." So, if He doesn't condemn, why would any of us think we would have the right to?
> And who-ever is doing this investigation, if you claim to be a Christian, why won't you be fair and find out some facts about those who are doing all of this accusing of 3ABN? This network of people have all been such a blessing to me and I feel so badly that they have had such cruel remarks made of them. I have found that those who have experienced real forgiveness themselves, find it easy to forgive others of perceived wrongs. Many times, however, those who are themselves continuing in some sin, seem to take pleasure in condemning others—that's our sinful nature—but when our nature is changed through the Spirit of Christ, we have a loving, restoring one. I pray that this will be everyone's goal.
> As I've said, if the spirit on this web-site doesn't change soon, many more will be harmed and kept > from salvation or a closer relationship with Christ—that's the burden that won't leave me. I'm not sitting in condemnation of anyone—just expressing my concerns. If anyone else has this same concern, I'm sure it would be encouraging to all the 3ABN staff to hear from you as well. May God help us all to be His servants, encouraging and loving others where ever we go.

What makes you so sure what's being said is slander? It's the second time you've used the term.

Posted by: PeacefullyBewildered Jan 13 2007, 12:12 AM

> QUOTE(wwjd @ Jan 12 2007, 09:17 PM)
>
> If you are "looking for the truth" It doesn't appear that you should look here
>
> I'm thankful for the positive remarks I heard from this web-site after my recent letter. I really don't have the time to spend hours writing nor reading what's written, but when I can, I'll be back, hopefully to offer some encouraging words.

First of all, this is a forum where discussion takes place. If you wish to just post and run, that is certainly your perogative but you will miss out on really interacting with the rest of us here.

How much time have you spent reading what is posted here? If it has been minimal, as you suggest, then it would be hard to support such a claim that "if you are looking for the truth""It doesn't appear that you should look here". I came here looking for truth and am certain I have found some.

> QUOTE
>
> My purpose has not been to condemn anyone, only to point out how the devil seems to be deceiving so many and using slander to discourage hundreds. Satan is the real enemy here and will use any of us who will allow it, and when he's done with us will throw us away. Aren't we all thankful that we have a God who doesn't use us, but loves us even when we fail? Ps.103:10 says "He has not dealt with us after our sins, nor rewarded us according to our iniquities—v14-For He knows our frame—that we are dust." Yet, He loves us as we are, but does love us too much to leave us where we are. We all have to be constantly growing in grace and allowing God's spirit to make us more like Him.

You seem to be inferring that what is posted here is slander. The Free Online Dictionary defines slander this way:

slan·der (slndr)
n.
1. Law Oral communication of false statements injurious to a person's reputation.
2. A false and malicious statement or report about someone.

There is plenty posted here that has been totally verified. Some have shared their first hand experiences and other information has be verified by multiple witnesses.

I completely agree with you that Satan is the real enemy. He appears to have used a talented, trusted, beloved pastor to allegedly damage the lives of numerous young people, young people that Jesus purchased with His very blood. And then the family of this pastor, himself a precious child of God, do all they can to cover up the alleged abuse instead of confronting it and dealing with it in a Biblical manner so that abuser and abused alike can find true healing. In the process of this cover up, many souls in the communities who are aware of the alleged abuse look at those claiming to be spreading the Gospel to the world and see them as hypocrites.

The scriptures you shared are beautiful. And he does love us as we are but if we are not constantly growing in His grace, if we deny His power we continue to be pawns of Satan's bidding.

> QUOTE
>
> The whole point of my first letter was only to ask for a balanced and fair investigation, (even though it appears those doing the investigating are unofficial, self appointed investigators) it really seems so one-sided to me. Those doing all the investigating are apparently listening to some very troubled, vindictive people, because the spirit of Christ in a person will want to build up a person, not tear them apart like an angry mob. That's the spirit I've sensed from many remarks on this web-site. May God forgive anyone with that spirit, because that's the same spirit that crucified His only Son. Jesus cried out on the cross," Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do." Which, again, has been my whole point—Satan is a deceiver and will make us think we're on God's side when we're not. Jesus said to the adulterous woman, "neither do I condemn thee." So, if He doesn't condemn, why would any of us think we would have the right to?

There are, indeed, some very troubled people who are giving evidence to the investigators. Alleged victims of abuse are very often troubled and sometimes even vindictive. And yes, sometimes there are those posting here that get angry. It is a volatile subject. Mostly though, it has been my experience that people express their opinions with care.

> QUOTE
>
> And who-ever is doing this investigation, if you claim to be a Christian, why won't you be fair and find out some facts about those who are doing all of this accusing of 3ABN?

From all I have seen the investigators are doing exactly that.

> QUOTE
>
> This network of people have all been such a blessing to me and I feel so badly that they have had such cruel remarks made of them. I have found that those who have experienced real forgiveness themselves, find it easy to forgive others of perceived wrongs. Many times, however, those who are themselves continuing in some sin, seem to take pleasure in condemning others—that's our sinful nature—but when our nature is changed through the Spirit of Christ, we have a loving, restoring one. I pray that this will be everyone's goal.

I have been blessed by the programming on 3abn. I can even go so far as to say that some of the programming was partly instrumental in my spiritual rebirth. We are told that "by their fruits ye shall know them". I have been troubled by some of the fruits I have seen growing at 3abn. I pray that cherished sin, secret sin and pride will be put away and that those in power at 3abn will not continue "having the form or godliness but denying the power thereof".

1 Timothy 3:1-7 says:
1 Here is a trustworthy saying: If anyone sets his heart on being an overseer, he desires a noble task. 2 Now the overseer must be above reproach, the husband of but one wife, temperate, self-controlled, respectable, hospitable, able to teach, 3 not given to drunkenness, not violent but gentle, not quarrelsome, not a lover of money. 4 He must manage his own family well and see that his children obey him with proper respect. 5 (If anyone does not know how to manage his own family, how can he take care of God's church?) 6 He must not be a recent convert, or he may become conceited and fall under the same judgment as the devil. 7 He must also have a good reputation with outsiders, so that he will not fall into disgrace and into the devil's trap.

> QUOTE
>
> As I've said, if the spirit on this web-site doesn't change soon, many more will be harmed and kept from salvation or a closer relationship with Christ—that's the burden that won't leave me. I'm not sitting in condemnation of anyone—just expressing my concerns. If anyone else has this same > concern, I'm sure it would be encouraging to all the 3ABN staff to hear from you as well. May God help us all to be His servants, encouraging and loving others where ever we go.

Until you have become very familiar with the information contained in the 3abn forum and truly see the characters of the bulk of those posting here, you really don't know the true spirit on this website. I can honestly say that if the spirit of 3abn does not change soon, many more will be harmed and kept from salvation or a closer relationship with Christ. And that burden for me keeps me here doing my part to bring truth to light.

Posted by: Ozzie Jan 13 2007, 05:01 AM

> QUOTE(ex3ABNemployee @ Jan 13 2007, 03:53 PM)
>
> What makes you so sure what's being said is slander? It's the second time you've used the term.

Makes one wonder if the message is not hitting a bit too close to home?

Posted by: watchbird Jan 13 2007, 06:21 AM

Once upon a time, a deceiver, in what may be the most often quoted passage on deception said, and I paraphrase.... "It is I, Esau.".... and the bewildered hearer replied....

".... .... but the voice is the voice of Jacob."

Now there comes another voice saying.... "I am Bystander"..... "I am WWJD"..... but when we listen to the sound of the voice.... .... we too might well reply.....

"...... ..... but the voice is the voice of ______ _______".

Carry on.......

Posted by: Skyhook Jan 13 2007, 02:12 PM

They are probably certain ones who have to take turns. I wonder if they do it on (3abn) company time?

Powered by Invision Power Board (http://www.invisionboard.com)

127

Printable Version of Topic

Click here to view this topic in its original format

BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ Did Walt admit in writing that Danny Gave -

---

Posted by: calvin Jan 6 2007, 10:29 PM

> QUOTE(Pickle @ Jan 5 2007, 09:31 PM)
>
> "It gets really sticky. The 3ABN board chairman admitted in writing the Monday after Thanksgiving that Danny in 2003 gave him clearly bogus information about all these allegations of child molestation against Tommy. And yet last Sunday, 3ABN had a special televised tribute to Tommy as he retired a little early, with the promise that he would be back from time to time. He's been working in Kids Time, and he replaced Linda as the head of production two and a half years ago. They said that in things had tremendously improved since he had been in charge, and it came across as if that might have been a slam against Linda, right there on global TV.

> QUOTE(Pickle @ Jan 6 2007, 08:12 AM)
>
> I got a lengthy reply from Fallible. here's just a tad from it:
> Walt admitted he got that information from Danny, and that information is clearly bogus.
>
> May the scales fall from your eyes, Fallible!

> QUOTE(fallible humanbeing @ Jan 6 2007, 09:33 AM)
>
> Bob Pickle,
>
> Your claim:
>
> "The 3ABN board chairman admitted in writing the Monday after Thanksgiving that Danny in 2003 gave him clearly bogus information about all these allegations of child molestation against Tommy."
>
> The truth of the matter is this, you are taking Dr. Thompson's response to you explaining the events that occured, then by extrapolating information out of other emails you have received and weaving them together you are claiming that Danny lied to Dr. Thompson. From there you make a gigantic leap in your language above.
> The truth of the emails is that Dr. Thompson never said he "admits", "believes", is "concerned that maybe" Danny lied to him. In fact in another email Dr. Thompson makes it clear that he believes Danny has been honest with him in all communications.
>
> This isn't an issue of semantics or even a poor choice of words. It is an issue of you distorting what has been written to you to serve your own purposes. The end result being that any reasoned consideration of what you "share" here must be filtered through the reality that you are willing to attribute claims to individuals that are pattenly false. This is not a small issue! You purport to be after the truth, claim to be presenting the truth - yet this glaring evidence of misappropriating your > thoughts to someone else is more than a questional method, it is dishonest. You can attempt to minimize my contention as possibly coming from some grey-haired English teacher picking nits - but it isn't (and by the way isn't the nit of the placement of a comma what has lead the world to beleive there are billions of etheral souls walking around in heaven waiting for us to get there?). I am not an English teacher, but do have grey hair. My contention here is not grammatical in nature, but speaks to the lack of veracity in your claims that it foreshadows. This is not the only situation, nor the only person, where you have done this kind of manipulation and we have discussed that at length over on the Maritime forum.

>
> You are the one who claims Danny lied to Dr. Thompson. In fact you are the one who orginated that claim and then attributed it to Dr. Thompson. It is simple to see. After you engaged in your communications you began to form your own, that would be YOUR own, idea of what is truth. You tried to lay your case before the readers here, and in so doing subtly slipped in the idea that Dr. Thompson admited that Danny was a liar. You did this because it becomes a very powerful tool for you to use. If you can convince your readership that you got the Board Chariman to "admit" that Danny was a liar - you must be the Mighty and Powerful Oz. Additionaly, if infact you could coax an "admission" such as that from the Board Chariman then you just might have an 'in" to force changes at 3ABN. And, finally, if you received an "admission" from the Board Chair that Danny lied - then by extenuation all claims against Danny must be true.
>
> But! You didn't recieve an admission. Anyone reading the communications between you and Dr. Thompson can see this (and quite frankly I don't care if you had done this with Danny, Mollie, or even Greg or Linda! I'd still be making this point!). He shared with you the reality of the events. You believed before this communication that Danny was guilty of lying so you took the honest portral of things said by Dr. Thompson whipped in your own disbelief of Danny and voila you have a Danny lied souffle - sorry to slam the oven door.
>
> - fhb

Pickle,

FHB has call you out on your claim that Dr. Thompson admitted that Danny lied to him in an email he sent to you around Thanksgiving.. You have continued to make this claim in many of your post. Would you be so kind as to post this letter from the Dr. Thompson so I can see who is telling the truth between you and FHB?

thank you

Posted by: fallible humanbeing Jan 7 2007, 02:04 AM

> QUOTE(calvin @ Jan 7 2007, 12:29 AM)
>
> Pickle,
>
> FHB has call you out on your claim that Dr. Thompson admitted that Danny lied to him in an email he sent to you around Thanksgiving.. You have continued to make this claim in many of your post. Would you be so kind as to post this letter from the Dr. Thompson so I can see who is telling the truth between you and FHB?
>
> thank you

Calvin,

I am pretty certain this is the email you are wondering about:

------- Original Message --------
Subject: Re: Gailons last email to me. "We got a problem"
Date: Fri, 24 Nov 2006 08:26:23 -0600
From: Walt Thompson
CC: Danny Shelton

Dear Bob,

The allegations against Tommy were made about 30 years ago. They were reported to the proper authorities. No physical actions ever occured. Tommy appologized to the kids and offered recompence. The DA said there was no case. No restrictions were ever imposed. Tommy is employed by 3abn with full board approval, knowing the facts. The author of a book, "These kind don't change, do they?" was interviewed on 3abn recently. You may wish to purchase that book and read it! (The sad thing about this is that the ones who are loudest in spreading falsehood know this, yet continue to agitate and keep the fires burning.)

Jesus said, he that is without sin, let him cast the first stone. I would echo Jesus statements today. All of us at 3abn are human. All have sinned. But, thank God, He forgives and uses our fallings as stimulants to make us grow. 3ABN is in the work of healing broken people, but we too are still in a sense broken. Almost every employee has a record they would not be proud of. Yet, Got takes great pleasure in accomplishing His purposes on earth by people just such as us. No where in the Bible are there examples of people who have fallen who have suffered the wrath of God who have confessed their sins and learned from their mistakes. Yet, for the past almost 3 years 3abn has been bombarded with lies and insinuations. Of course, we know where they come from, and we know that no one ever wins when he enters argument with the devil. Therefore, we have tried to let the Lord fight our battles. We have resisted the temptation to take on the battle ourselves and I am sure have sometimes said too much or too little, but never the less, know in our hearts that we have taken the high road in this battle. Attorneys that have looked at the evidence agree full heartedly. While not everyone may agree with the decisions we have made, we have continued to rejoice with the blessing of our Lord.

Yes, it is wearing. I can only thank God for giving Danny the strength of faith and health to hang on as he has done. I am sure it is only by God's amazing grace that this has occured. And I must thank our faithful viewers and supporters who by their prayers of intercession have joined the powers of heaven in this battle.

