Linda, I just spoke with Larry W. He like the rest of us feel badly that you have been deceived by the Dr. He told me what you are saying. He says that you told him that May Chung basically called you a Hussie and hung up on you. I talked to May and she didn't say anything to that effect.

He did say that you are running down Melody and me. He also said you tried to get him to believe that I have abused you. He told me that he had been around us for 20 years and knows better. He said you wanted him to believe that there were two Dan's. The public one and the home one. He doesn't believe that either and you know what, down deep you don't either. He did tell me that he wouldn't have put up with you and this Dr. as long as I did, if it had of been him. He said that if his Linda had a relationship like you and the Dr. had while we were married, you would have been out the door very quickly.

Linda, people are going to listen to you, but that does not mean they agree with you. When it comes right down to it, no married person would endure the kind of relationship that you had with this Dr. while being married. Linda you wouldn't have allowed me to have a girl friend that I talked to on the phone every day for two hours at a time against your will. Let alone travel to meet them and go on dates to restaurants and visit in their hotel room late at night like you and this man did while we were married.

Your heart left me and never came back to me after your Norway trip in Jan. of 2004.

No one would put up with another man trying to convince his wife that he was crazy. He and Johann have gone too far. The trouble is, you are the one paying the piper. He has been a pile of poop in your life.

Was your life better before you met this man or worse. If you say worse, then you should be happy right where you are. If you say your life was better before you met him, then you surely see he is a pile of poop for you, not a piece of chocolate cake.

If you wake up, it may not be too late. I'm willing to talk to you about reconciliation of marriage and ministry. Linda, no one else can help you achieve that. I am the only one who can help bring you back to marriage and 3ABN, but I have to know that you see the Dr. as a pile of poop in your life. If I see a change in you, I can go to bat for you, but not until then. I haven't changed over the past year. I am still saying the same thing. Of course if I'm psychotic and such an abuser, then you wouldn't want to get back with me. But after all, it was the Lord who impressed you that your relationship with this man was wrong and that you should be with me and not him. I would have thought that you would have listened to God, but according to your own testimony you have written Him off too. That's a shame!

I have some questions about this letter.

Do you know if Danny wrote this letter?

Yes or No.

Danny says he will take linda back, but i thought he had started dating Brandi by this point?

That is all for now.

Sorry Erik.... these letters we are seeing now are very typical Dannyletters. I did not receive any direct from him, but all along from mid 2004 on, I was receiving forwards of letters from him.... not all to Linda or Johann.... He killed his image with a number of persons who sent samples of letters they had received from him to show what it was that had caused them to change their minds about who was speaking truth.

Watchbird,

it is ok, i just do not get how those that defend him can look past the different story lines in the letters he is in love with linda but dating/engaged to another.

Speaking has a guy, i have to wonder if just missed the sex that bad.(if this is out of line i sorry and but it is the first thing i thought of, having had friends that basicly got remarried quickly for that very reason)

Hi Johann,

I said a prayer for you and Irmgard. I know this has to be alot of stress on you both right now. In fact, as I heard Dan speaking to you today I thought, this is terrible. You already have so much you are dealing with to hear about more problems. I am so sorry.

Johann...and I think you already know this, I will not call my husband a "liar" because I hate that word. But please take his words with a grain of salt. His words come across completely out of context and he takes fragments of sentences here, and pieces there to form his "case." And quite frankly, what he has done to isolate Brenda from me, now I think he is trying to do with you and Irmgard. Please pray for me right now. I am really "trying" to love my husband right now, but his words and actions keep getting in the way! (Hope this doesn't sound too bad...but it's the truth.) But I'm hanging on to Jesus and 3ABN with every fragment of strength that I have. May God help us!! God bless you!!

[Johann and Irmgard Thorvaldsson] It is amazing how we have become to mean so much to each others.

Love you,

Linda

[Johann and Irmgard Thorvaldsson] Danny, You are presenting Linda as the "angel" and the devoted wife she has always been.

So, I'm the bad fellow. At church this morning the pastor's wife gave me a big hug - and so did her husband. Right in front of Irmgard she reminded me of the great love relationship there had been between her mother and me many years ago, which her mother had told her all about. Yes, I loved Mrs.H, and neither Irmgard nor Mr. H* seemed to mind. Our common interest was music, singing, and evangelism. We could spend hours talking together about those things. We had no idea that we were not permitted to talk more than five or 10 minutes, so we never timed our conversations. If we had know better we'd always seen to it that someone else was there with us when we talked together. None of us ever thought it would hurt our spouses. We both knew that our spouses trusted us.

Mrs, H died several years ago. I might be more careful today, especially since I have learned that there are husbands around that are certain the devil is at work after 5 or 10 minutes. Love must be bound by fetters that limit your own behavior - and the word of God - but the moment you tie your spouse with those same fetters, love goes out and a demon destroys your marriage.

our letters remind of what the pastor who did my wife's and I pre-marriage classes with us, told us.

that for Love to Grow you have to Trust each more then any thing else, outside of God.

As you can see I was trying to tell Danny this, knowing that at this time he was reading what I wrote to Linda, but it did not make much impression on him, except in those letters he wrote to impress the outsiders, as in the letter you posted above.

As you pointed out a bit later in this thread, perhaps he got his inspiration from his horses.

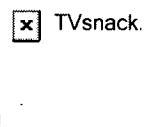

I was similarly inspired from an early experience as I grew up on the family farm. If you younguns behave really nicely for awhile and do your chores, perhaps I could be talked into sharing my "Lesson of the Chicken Poo" story. (I submitted it to our local church newsletter over a year ago and it still hasn't seen print. I wonder why?)

One of the things that struck me about this letter was that he continually makes mention of Linda supposedly making critical remarks about May, Melody and him to Larry W. I guess since Larry W. is Danny's friend and not one of Linda's friends, agents or third parties he couldn't charge her with a violation of <http://www.save3abn.com/3abn-and-linda-shelton-separation-contract.htm>.

I also wonder why Linda was talking to Larry W. at all? Who initiated the alleged conversation?

Larry Welch is a board member and employee of 3ABN. He has worked in grounds, construction and pastoral for close to twenty years. His wife has been in the accounting department for as many years.

PB

Larry W is a very friendly person, well liked among many of his co-workers at 3ABN. If I remember right it seemed like he was willing to listen to Linda, something nobody else had dared do, with one exception. That was another director, Robert Russell. When it was discovered that he had seen Linda and talked to her on a parking lot, he was warned that if he did that again he'd have to quit. So Robert went to his office, cleared his desk and left.. Just like Larry, Robert had managed several departments at 3ABN, although he had not been there as long as Larry. Roberts wife had been in charge of the financial department, but she left because she could not be a part of the fraud demanded of her, according to what she has told me herself.

The following correspondence with Nick Miller will illustrate the GAG order. Nick's letter shows how hard he tried to please Danny. In spite of that he was forced to resign from the board some time later because he could not honor any more of Danny's dishonesty.

Subject: Apparent Violations of Separation Agreement

Linda Shelton
P.O. Box ****
*, Illinois 62902

September 23, 2004

Re: Apparent Violations of Separation Agreement

Dear Linda,

It is with concern and regret that I write this letter, but your recent actions leave me with no real choice. As you know, your Separation Agreement with Three Angels specifies that neither you, nor your agents, nor your close friends would make public statements critical of Three Angels or its employees. We believe that this commitment has been violated in a number of ways. These include

1. Your letter on your web-page indicates that your separation from Three Angels was a time filled with "untruths," "accusations and condemnation." The only persons referenced in the letter are your husband, "one close to" you, and by implication the Three Angels leadership and board. Taken together, these statements are an obvious criticism of the way your case was handled by Three Angels leadership. This is a clear violation of your separation agreement.

2. A recent article published by Adventist Today contained information and claims that could have only come from you and/or those immediately around you. References to a "coup" at Three Angels, and a detailed report of your denials and justifications could have only originated with yourself. We also have information that you gave AT an in-depth interview, so you were very aware of the stories that AT would be running. This is in violation of your Separation Agreement.

3. Johann Thorvald continues to circulate letters which gives highly misleading accounts of events at Three Angels. You are close to Johann, and we will hold you liable for what he continues to send out, as we believe that you could request him to cease. His failure to do so constitutes another breach of the Agreement.

4. We have very good reason to believe that you have obtained and are using a copy of some or all of Three Angels' mailing list. This list is proprietary information of Three Angels, and it is illegal for third parties to appropriate and/or to use it. We believe we know who perpetrated the theft of this list, and we will pursue all available remedies against that person. But you should also know that the use of that list is a violation of the laws, even if you did not steal it. We hereby request that you stop using it for mailing your letters and e-mails.

Linda, we would like to honor the Separation Agreement. Unless, however, you cease and desist from all of the above actions, we will not be able to follow through on the remainder of the payments. At the next board meeting in January, I will be presenting the above issues to the Board. Unless there is a decided change in all these areas, I am quite sure that the Board will vote not to make any further payments to you. This would represent a loss of $150,000 to yourself.

I do not enjoy writing these things to you, but your insistence on defending yourself in the court of public opinion leaves me no choice. You had every opportunity to defend yourself to the fact-finding committee and the board, but you chose not to. Rather, you are defending yourself with half-truths and even untruths to an audience who does not know the full story and therefore might find your story plausible. This merely forces us to give them the rest of the facts, which we would rather not do.

Please let me know if and how you plan to remedy the above listed violations so I can make a positive report to the board, as I would like to do.

Sincerely Yours,

Nicholas Miller

Linda forwarded your letter since it concerns me too. It has long amazed me how you could function as a board member of an organization at the same time as you act as a lawyer on behalf of the president of this organization, defending his defamation of the vice-president of the same organization. In this role you approach the effectiveness of O. S. Simpson's defense, but being a member of the board at the same time would discredit your honesty in certain other civilized areas of the world.

Linda has forbidden me to use material coming from her. That is no problem - there is plenty in the missives from Danny Shelton and from statements made by you at our meeting at West Frankfort in May.

Your letter tells me that my work has not even started yet. I receive no personal benefits from this, but I dedicated my life to the Lord many years ago - and that includes aiding individuals suffering from persecution - even in the name of Seventh-day Adventism.

Linda has a giant against her - someone running a mighty TV network, aided by a lawyer with no scruples but defending a selected client with unlimited funds to crush her. Is that fair? That client of yours has even managed to get her to sign an inhuman contract that you are now gloating over in your letter. Would Jesus Christ ever deal with people in this manner? Where is your conscience? Does legality mean more to you than your faith?

Linda seems rather protective towards you. She has a notion you might not sound half as repulsive if you had your own way. Let's hope she's right.

do not know what this letter meant to Nick, but some months later he had to resign from the board of 3ABN. My son heard him exclaim, What a mess!!! as a comment on 3ABN!

Johann,

You should be aware that I am not Danny Shelton's attorney. He has a private attorney for his own personal matters. I represent Three Angels, and in so doing, advise and represent the President of Three Angels in matters that relate to the ministry. There is no conflict on that score, or in relation to my board membership, as I would not vote on issues relating to my representation of Three Angels. Further, I have only been a board member for less than a month, and thus was not a board member during any of the circumstances surrounding Linda's departure from Three Angels.

I find it surprising to receive advice on conflicts from someone who was terminated from his job because he could not understand the conflict of interests involved in criticizing your employer's leadership to third parties and members of the public. I am not unhappy that you are a friend and supporter of Linda's, rather, your manner of support has been irresponsible and unfitting for a man of your history of mission service to our church. Many have spoken well of your ministry in the past, and I would think that you would understand the need of handling these matters decently and in order. You know that Dr. Walt, myself and the fact-finding committee were and are very willing to listen to any information you might have about the situation. But your apparent need to take on the combined role of attorney, advocate and rumor spreader-in-chief for Linda has made you an unwelcome intruder into this matter.

Let me not rebuke you, but intreat you as a father, to remember the dignity of your past efforts for our church and ministry, and allow Danny and Linda to run their own lives, and for Three Angels to continue with its ministry. Your present continued efforts merely bring shame and embarrassment to your good name, whereas a quieter, but supportive role could be a savour of grace to a difficult situation.

May You Be at Peace,

Nick Miller

You can see that Nick tried everything possible to hold me responsible if the board was to enforce the 3AG order. But he gave up. From then on Danny Shelton kept on the correspondence. But as a result of this correspondence the GAG order was not enforced on Linda, although they made more threats.

Erik--if you ask Pickle, I'm sure he will give Danny's email address to you.

.ee,

First off if wanted to get danny's email from pickle i would have asked him for it, but i asked you for it. or you can just awnser the questions and then i will not need to bother danny in his busy day.

am very sad to see that you were less the serious about start an open discussion of the Facts, either that or you are flat out Lair, i will let you decide which the case is.

asked two simple questions, lee. one was designed to see if the other side is providing truthful nformation, for what ever reason that is dangerous question you and the rest of Danny supporters.

he second question is just trying find what facts, then and only then can true truthful options be drawn.

But I guess that the Pro Danny side thinks that going to court is the only way to defend him.

well to borrow line from Danny that is pile of dung.

Lee, and the rest of danny supporters really are cowards if you can not answer two simple honest questions, or worse you are all not christians which i would find very hard to believe.

but the simple fact is that TRUTH is never, never afraid being Tested or Exposed, LOOK at the Cross God was willing to prove the lies about him were wrong, why is 3abn not willing to follow Gods example, unless they are in fact not really christian.

Johann,

Thank you for posting these informative emails! They certainly show the thoughtful and deeply spiritual character of Nick Miller. What they also show, since he wasn't at 3abn during the months this all was taking place, is that in order to learn the story behind the vice-president's termination, Nick had to rely on the very ones who had acted against Linda Shelton for his information.

One has to wonder if he got the real story.

Does anyone know where Robert Russell is now? It would seem that this happened in August 2004 so this would have been soon after some folks alleged that Brandy showed up in the area. Wasn't he in charge of the call center?

Then why are defending him, if you do not even know him well enough to know his email address.

SO does this mean i should drop from the list of the pro-danny people that can give out useful and first hand information about the 3abn mess?

to the rest of the pro danny group please answer my questions if you are allowed if not then at least say you are not, instead of looking like cowards.

Erik;

Exactly!

You have hit the proverbial nail right on the head!

But, don't you find they are very choleric? They speak with FALSE authority.

They are demanding and bossy. They think we should kowtow to them because they are powerful within the church.

If only the church had a clue!

Personally Eric, I tend to ignore your questions and those of some others because of these type of ad hominem. I don't want to have to waste time or be drawn into a discussion in defensive mode and have to keep clearing up misjudgments about my motives and intents, and other false assumptions about myself just to address the issues....

It would be so refreshing just to address the issues without all the personal attacks.

I will answer your questions tho-- as best I can, as follows:

MY questions still stand I am truly looking for the story behind the email to hear Danny's side, or would be better if I emailed Danny myself, if that is the case then could PM me his email address.

Lee, First off if wanted to get danny's email from pickle i would have asked him for it, but i asked you for it. or you can just awnser the questions and then i will not need to bother danny in his busy day.

tell either you want to e-mail Danny, or you don't. Either you want the story behind his email, which you have to realize only he can really tell you, or you don't.

It shouldn't matter who you get the address from... Actually you could go right to the 3ABN website and e-mail him. I don't think it's kosher to hand out anyone's private e-mail address, even if some of us do have them.

The other problem here is, how are we to answer your questions Eric? Why would you think we could?

It's not 3ABN or Danny that is publishing private and personal e-mails to the world or passing them around with comments and judgments about the motives and intents of the writer. I know I don't have them, and you sound irritated with Lee, but I know she doesn't have them either.

The Letters had to come from Linda, and it is Johann, Pickle and Joy etc who are publishing them. Which I think is dead wrong. It's insensitive, uncaring, shows a total disregard for privacy rights, and as far as I am concerned is downright unchristian.

What is up with all the sensationalism, and the love of scandal and running up and down as a mulebearer among those who are supposed to be God's remnant, and then publishing it to all the world? This cannot be pleasing to God, and in no way does it bring Him any glory.

I had decided not to even read anymore of them, but the date on your letter rang a bell, and so I changed my mind.

So -- if you want my opinion based on what Linda's team has published? -- And what they have published is obviously very onesided, because in most cases Linda's letters, which Danny is obviously replying to, are not even published for context. (Even so, I can't see how this is helping them, for over and over it looks like what D.S. and 3ABN have stated is correct, and what Linda's friends and defenders, and the 3ABN accusers have claimed is false and in error.)

First read this, it's the letter they published, also allegedly from Danny, which comes before the one you posted in this topic, and are asking about. It was allegedly sent on Feb 8 2005 --- at 1:20 AM. <http://www.save3abn.com/danny-shelton-demise-of-marriage-pile-of-what-07.htm> What did Linda say to bring this reply? obviously something...

It looks to me very much like the next letter, the one you are asking about: <http://www.blackstda.com/forums/index.php?s=&showtopic=12943&view=findpost&p=185555> was Danny's last attempt to try and reach Linda before moving on with his life.(?) He had been trying all along, and even at that point, 8 mos after their divorce, was obviously still willing to talk reconciliation or both their marriage and her ministry, and she would still have none of it. He allegedly wrote this letter also on Feb 8, 2005 --- at 10:24 AM, after talking to both May Chung and Larry Welch in regards to the accusations Linda was making.

And here's why that date was familiar to me, and rang a bell.

It's plain to me, -- even tho save3abn not, doesn't include her response -- what her reply was.

She did not reconcile with him, nor even try and talk to him about that -- Because later that very same day, Feb 8, 2005 she filed and contested, the uncontested Guam divorce which she had agreed to, and which had been finalized 8 mos earlier. And she did so in order to file a civil suit - to get a larger settlement - over things and money which would have automatically been hers anyway, had she loved and wanted to reconcile with Danny.

http://www.judici.com/courts/cases/case_information.jsp?court=IL028015J&ocl=IL028015J,2005D30,IL028015JL2005D30P1

You demanded a answer from another, and this is one. based only on what has been published and is public knowledge, But, Eric, only Danny, Linda or a witness can say what really happened, and maybe a combination of all three would be best to discern and decide what is the truth.

Posted by: erik Mar 18 2007, 12:44 PM

a couple of thoughts, please show were in the first post that start this section, were the personal attacks are at.

secondly, i do consider it cowardly to ignore questions that are simple yes or no, when they will not reveal anything else about the topic other then what is for the most part already known.

I personally think some of your question that you have asked should be answered.

The simple truth is both sides are to some degree holding their cards close. But by far Danny side does this the most.

I mean either he had grounds for the divorce or he did not.

if he did then we ought be able to have that proof presented now that linda has called for it be put out.

But wait appears to admit they do not have any proof.

TO ME it looks like Linda may have gotten carry away talking with the doctor and maybe even talked about things that she should not have. But that is not the same has have sex out side the marriage bed. it a world apart . It is also clear that danny and linda's marriage had more then just linda talking to another man wrong with it.
