BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ The Latest On 3abn

Posted by: claborn Jul 29 2004, 03:05 PM

I CANNOT vouch for the letter other than it was posted on another forum (you all have the address cause I posted it...), and I wanted to share it here..... eyeopening.....

posted July 29, 2004 09:33 Message What happened at 3ABN?

THE STORY OF LINDA SHELTON

By Johann Thorvaldsson

Former 3ABN liaison for Europe It is a fact that Linda Shelton has been fired - and Danny Shelton has told his version of events to the World audience. He warned us not to listen to rumors, so what are the facts of this heart-breaking experience? Unfortunately Linda Shelton has been judged and dismissed from the establishment she loved and helped build up - on the basis of rumors. Facts that have been twisted, embroidered and presented as real. This is quite a complicated matter. A few weeks ago I was in Southern Illinois, wanting to attend the camp meeting at 3ABN, together with a Norwegian medical doctor - the one Linda has been accused of committing spiritual adultery with. We went there in an attempt to clear up misunderstandings, all caused because my wife and I introduced this doctor to Danny and Linda Shelton. This doctor is also the head elder of the most flourishing conservative SDA church in Norway - and has for several years been a financial supporter of 3ABN. Some of the problems were caused because the 3ABN archives had misspelled the name of this supporter, so Danny was convinced he was an impostor. Later Danny has named him a devil, a demon, or evil spirit, or bad counselor - like he did during the transmission to the whole world on Thursday evening at Camp Meeting. Also during that meeting we were requested to leave the premises of 3ABN, and if we ever showed up again at the meetings the police would be requested to remove us as trespassing private property - and this at meetings where all are invited.

What is our crime? While my wife, Irmgard, and I were staying at 3ABN in December 2003, this doctor came to visit us, both to check Irmgard's illness and to see the studios of the ministry he was supporting and was a great fan of. Linda came to see us, and later she brought her son along, who had problems with drugs and related things. Nathan had been reluctant to see any other doctor, but a lasting friendship between the doctor and this young man was kindled. Many of his patients are young athletes, so he is used to dealing with young people. The doctor invited Nathan to come and stay in Norway and receive treatments at his clinic for a month. Nathan brought his girlfriend along, and later Linda and Brenda Walsh spent 3 days there to check on things - and I had a visit with them too while they were there. At that time Nathan had merely been there for 10 days, and I did not recognize him when I saw him. He was a completely transformed person.

So after Linda returned to the States she'd call to find out how it was going with her son. Danny told me himself that he considered that if a married woman talks for more than 10 or 12 minutes with another man on the phone she'd be committing spiritual adultery - so these phone calls first branded Linda as an adulteress. And from there the ball has kept rolling with more and more accusations. Mark Finlay was willing to assist in coming to an understanding, but his offer was unacceptable to the 3ABN lawyer. Both the lawyer and the pastor urged me to stay out of this case and not support Linda. They claimed I'd soon be left out in the cold with no friends at all if I'd continue supporting Linda in her plight.

Can you imagine our Lord Jesus Christ telling me not to come to the aid of this frail woman because I'd be left out in the cold without friends? I have never heard such a statement before coming from people who are supposed to be the spiritual leaders of this great ministry. Is it any wonder that the support of 3ABN is dwindling?

With such men at the helm who make it their business and main concern to condemn Linda, is it any wonder that Linda seeks the support of her close friends - and also calls the doctor who was so kind to her son? Of course it might have avoided some misunderstandings and confusions if that doctor had been a woman. But what does the Apostle tell us? "There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female: for ye are all one in Christ Jesus." Those two people have been branded before the whole world as adulterers, and you name it. I never dreamt such atrocities could take place at my favorite ministry, 3ABN

Now the woes of Linda Shelton are not hers alone any more. I was fired too, because I supported Linda. Officially it was because I refused to obey orders from my superiors at 3ABN. But I am fortunate that I get my sustentation from the church where I started my ministry more than 50 years ago. Even though I love the ministry of 3ABN, I serve the God of heaven and the God of Truth. Derrell Mundall, the father of Danny Shelton's grandchildren, who has served 3ABN faithfully for many years, has also been fired. What is his crime? He was too close and he knows the truth, and shared his knowledge with others. He supports Linda. He had no other employment when he was dismissed from 3ABN, so pray that he may soon find another fruitful ministry where he can use his talents. He chose truth instead of a steady employment, as so many other believers have done in the past. Before Derrell was fired he was told that he must remember it was Danny who received the vision from God to build this TV station. Therefore, he was told, he must regard the words of Danny Shelton as being the words of God. Long before Linda's dismissal, Dr. Kay Kuzma was assigned to help Linda manage after being fired. She was also supposed to interview staff members to find a good reason to fire her, so one wonders what really is behind this upheaval?

Danny mentioned a number of counselors who had helped the board come to the conclusion that she should be dismissed. You can ask Linda, but I don't think she ever talked to most of those counselors. In fact even before her dismissal she felt treated like a criminal when she approached the premises of 3ABN and was not permitted to enter without close supervision. The present general staff at 3ABN is probably not permitted to ask Linda any question. If anyone wants a contact to keep up their close friendship with Linda they have to write their note on a postcard, submit it to the leaders who will forward it to Linda. Such are the present premises of this woman whose ministry has meant so much to thousands of viewers, and who will not see her any more on the screen - as long as the present leadership has it their way.

Pray for 3ABN. Pray for justice. Pray for justice also for Linda. .
Miracles still take place.
Christian regards

Here is what someone wrote after they read the letter.....

"So sad! So very, very sad! Satan is indeed very busy and every day we are feeling the effect of his lashes as he works so wickedly. Let us keep covered under the blood!

Thank you Cyberman for that information. It shows much light on many things! Now I better understand why Danny Shelton said on the opening night of Camp Meeting on the 27th May " They are here but she is not here" when I viewed 3ABN after a very rough day, only to bounce on the woes of 3ABN themselves.

Lord have mercy on us! "

So what was that mess he posted here about us being a tabloid whatever? I said before and I say it again. 3ABN and Danny Shelton's actions casued this mess. I really believe he posted that mess to us because he thought we didn't know any better.

Danny since you lurk, I am asking what do you have to say for yourself?

I must admit I have a prurient curiosity to know the juicy tidbits, brought on by the many oblique remarks and zig zag refrences by Danny, John Lomacang and others on 3ABN. But I know dragging the details of a private agonising experience for two and more) of God's children profits no one. There is a public side to this--accountability in ministry-- that needs airing, but the details and allegations of personal sin are not our business and should be left alone.

However I wonder what is meant by "spiritual adultery" in the above letter?

On closer reading of this letter I conclude that it is mean-spirited and not done from Christian motives. One statement in there is just too outrageous to have any basis for truth. The writer says that Danny told his son in law that Danny's words must be considered as God's word because Danny had the founding vision for the ministry.

I just cannot believe Danny or anyone would say such a thing. That and the general tone of the letter lowers brother J in my estimation.

Posted by: statrei Jul 29 2004, 04:44 PM

It is not that far-fetched for one who believes he received a revelation from God to build a ministry to also believe that God gives the guidance necessary to maintain selfsame ministry. If God gives the guidance then human rendering of that guidance will naturally be considered to be the voice of God. It is essentially the same reasoning on which our church insists that the General Conference in session is the voice of God. Toronto put the lie to that when the institution of marriage was almost destroyed when we adopted a resolution allowing divorce from "an unbelieving spouse" but the belief remains all the same.

Posted by: claborn Jul 29 2004, 04:45 PM

I do not or cannot ascertain the motives of the person who may have authored the letter, but let me say that very few people I know can sit quietly while their names are being besmirched... If he is being linked unfairly, and Mr. Shelton is using 3ABN and other places he is able to speak as the medium to spread his version of the truth, what can the others who are involved do? Who hears their side or does it matter?

Yes in his letter he does not claim that Danny is besmirching his name. he addresses intra-3abn management issues that we have no way of judging one way or another.

In the supposed Danny letter to this forum, nowhere does the author mention Brother J.

This sounds like sour grapes. Danny fires me for whatever reason, I must try to bring him down even while protesting that i love the 3abn ministry. Notice this has nothingt to do with the merits of the disagreement between Brother J and Danny. danny may well be in the wrong but that is another matter that cannot be settled in this forum.

3ABN is a valuable ministry to the church and the world. We should not allow personal grievances to derail this ministry.

Pray for Danny and Linda and the others and the 3ABN ministry and leave the rest to God.

What you don't realize is that Danny has been all over the place as late as last Sabbath making vague remarks about the situation. If you have not already done so, go back and read posts from "This should not be news - Continuation, Letter From Danny Shelton to BlackSDA". Especially the ones from this week. You can't comprehend what we are saying without reading the posts.

Also, we have been praying the Danny and Linda all along, and said so in our posts.

Posted by: claborn Jul 29 2004, 05:45 PM

I don't know the particulars... my point is that something happened between Danny and Linda. Danny seems to have gone on the offensive and portrayed himself as the righteous victim.... now there is another side to the story, Linda's.... she was fired, shunned and silenced.... she created a website perhaps to tell her side.... there is something wrong with the picture.

Yes we can leave it up to God and the Sheltons, except Danny seems to use every opportunity he has to take swipes at his wife, making it public.... that's my take.... Now as for the letter, it may be a disgruntled fired employee, HOWEVER if he is telling the truth why discount it. As the saying goes, "just because I am paranoid doesn't mean people aren't out to get me..."

Here is Linda's letter from her website.....

A LETTER FROM LINDA:

Hello my friends,

May God's richest blessings be yours today! I have missed the times I have had sharing with you, sitting on the front porch with Fluffy and Sheltie. (They send their greetings!) But some very unfortunate events have occurred. Many of you are asking "what happened??" In a nutshell, God's Word says it best. "I hold not Your peace, O God of my praise; for the mouth of the wicked and the mouth of the deceitful are opened against me; they have spoken against me with a lying tongue; they compassed me about also with words of hatred; and fought against me without a cause. For my love they are my adversaries; but I give myself unto prayer. And they have rewarded me evil for good and hatred for my love." (Psalm 109:1-5) This has been undoubtedly the most trying experience of my lifetime. Yet I want you to know that for three difficult months I stayed, I prayed and I fought this spiritual battle. I wanted to have the assurance that when the time came to lay down the sword, that I had given it my best. This does not mean I made perfect decisions in every circumstance of this crisis. But it does mean that by His grace, I did the best that I could. This is something I cherish right now, and it gives me peace. For whatever reason, God has allowed this. I don't question Him, I thank Him. He's still holding the steering wheel of my ship, so wherever we go, we go together. He has led me into the wilderness, I've faced the "terrors of the night," but right now He is my peace, my safety net and my Friend. And as always, He is teaching me lessons that are "out of this world!"

Let me be frank and honest with you concerning the rumors. Have I been unfaithful to my husband of 19 years? Absolutely not. Did I do something immoral? No way!! Weren't there many, many people that I counseled with concerning this problem? The only formal counsel I ever received during this entire episode was that of my local pastor, a husband and wife team of counselors and the Chairman of the 3ABN Board. That's all. But the problem was bigger than the counsel could relieve. But... "All my bones will say, "Lord, who is like You, Who delivers the afflicted from him who is too strong for him, and the afflicted and the needy from him who robs him?" (Psalm 35:10)

I truly believe that sometimes we get to be like greenhouse Christians. Our environment is controlled, our needs are provided and our future is secure ... perhaps too secure. Then our loving heavenly Father shakes things up a bit to help us realize once again what it feels like to be vulnerable, desperate and even ... condemned. He helps us to feel exactly like those we are trying to reach for Him. And oh, what a valuable lesson it is. So although things have been shaken up a bit at 3ABN, let's pray for God's ordained ministry, let's support it and let's learn the lessons God wants us to learn right now. We need to remember that "the enemy is the enemy," not each other.

When I first saw the rumblings of these rumors taking off like a rocket, I was devastated. I could almost literally see the foundations of my 19 year ministry crumbling to the ground. I wanted to work for Jesus but it seemed as if this tidal wave of rumors had finished me. So I considered other options like going back to school (yuck) and even starting my own business. But the Lord has clearly shown me that He's not finished with me yet. He has a plan. So right now I am in my "listening mode" waiting on the Lord's instructions. I'd like to THANK you so much for the warm blanket of prayer that surrounds me now, and that has surrounded me throughout this crisis. Your prayers make all the difference in the world. THANK YOU!! Stay tuned to my website for updates, and thank you also for your support of my "sprouting" new ministry through the CD's, cassettes and songbooks. May God bless you abundantly more than you can ever ask or think!

His love & mine,

Linda Shelton

My point for posting Linda's letter is to show that there were/are rumors about her committing adultery. In her letter she states that she has not been unfaithful to her husband, now why would she say that? That accusation came from somewhere? Where? and why?

I saw most of the program with Danny last Sabbath (if you mean the Patmos broadcast). Danny did speak of Linda normally and fondly, although he made "vague remarks" about 3ABN's problems, as you said, he did not attack any individual.

Now I am getting the impression that because Danny supposedly wrote a not- so-friendly letter to BlackSDA forum, with all the baggage that the racial differences bring to play, some here tend to see the entire 3ABN issue through a Danny versus Us lens.

My beef is with those like the author of the letter, Bro J, who are trying to hurt Danny by exposing Danny and all the details of 3ABN inner dealings. That cannot be right. This is sour grapes.

No Trevor that is not the case at all... Danny opted to write here, when there is another sda forum that engaged in bashing, gossip and judging motives. Sour grapes for whom? None of us have a dog in this fight, however there is a sense of unfairness as I see it when Danny can use his medium to tell his side of the story without being challenged... If he wanted it private, then he should not have said anything, he should have not had Linda fired until there was a resolution be it reconciliation or divorce.... that's what I think is unfair....

I agree there is apparent unfairness on many sides, including Danny's. What I don't understand is why others are making more claims against Danny than Linda herself is willing to make.

I read Linda's website soon after it came online . She is teasingly but appropriately oblique about the substance of her fallout with 3ABN. Yet others are running with all the details as if they have a personal axe to grind, which it appears they do.

Now again I don't see this as Danny versus anyone in this great forum. I am referring to the messengers and peddlers of rumors, writing letters all over the place. God can repair the breach, but by putting out more garbage out there, it might make it so much more difficult for biblical reconciliation to take place among the various parties.

Having said this, I also do believe that the subject of 3ABN, its issues and its principals are appropriate for public discussion, especially on the question of accountability in ministry.

Trevor wrote, "Having said this, I also do believe that the subject of 3ABN, its issues and its principals are appropriate for public discussion, especially on the question of accountability in ministry."

And that my friend Trevor is what we have been doing... any snippet of info that comes to light though has to be evaluated on it's merits as well as how it fits into the big picture.... Again, I believe it is unfair that one party gets to use a public medium to broadcast their position and the other party cannot..... just my opinion.....

I know the brother in question; I have worked with him closely as a co-moderator of another forum and I have discussed numerous things at length with him. To do something spitefully and capriciously as you suggest is not consistent with the the man I know.

Even before his letter was posted this entire situation smelled to me of 'spin' from the 3ABN side and of insecurity, pride and ego from Bro. Shelton. As more and more reports come out, the reports only reinforce that idea. The preemptive strike to smear Linda's character, actions and motives was not in the least Godly and it is disingenuous for he and the 3ABN management to try to paint this as a spiritual issue on the one hand and try to defeat it using carnal weapons on the other... surely they are aware that the weapons of our warfare are not carnal... God doesn't work out of the world's toolbox.

If Bro. Shelton has the truth on his side, he should not be so concerned with silencing dissenting voices... and if he does not have truth on his side, then even if he is able to silence everyone who knows the truth, the rocks themselves would cry out.

Kevin Josey

I know Linda as a personal friend. She has been devastated by this mess, but she realizes that the devil is responsible. She also realizes that the devil is using this circumstance to try to bring 3ABN to the ground, a ministry which she labored in for 19 years. Although she did not participate in all the "counsel" that is mentioned by others, and she is not guilty of committing "spiritual adultery," she IS WILLING to be "burned at the stake" for 3ABN, a ministry she loves with all of her heart. That's why you will never hear the story behind the "story" of what really happened to her at 3ABN. In my opinion, the woman is a saint. Her biggest heartache right now is that she fears many are completely and totally devastated by what "they think" she did. She wants everyone to know she is still full of faith and holding on with both hands to the hand of Jesus.

Friends, welcome and thank you for that post.

As I observed in previous discussions on this subject, Linda may well be the innocent party in this mess. She certainly is a sympathetic character and I enjoyed her ministry and miss her tremendously.

What disturbs me is the kind of pious language used to describe Linda and the halo with which she and others (like your post) dress her. "Willing to be 'burned at the stake'"? Isn't that really taking things too far? The woman is collecting a fat check every month in severance/hush money.

Remember if you overstate your case, reasonable people might start to think your case might have more holes in it than it really has. Simple facts and the truth will vindicate Linda if she is the saint you say she is. Stretching it only makes her look bad.

Now you have me totally confused. You characterize her as a woman collecting a fat check in severance/hush money, then appear to be appalled by pious language used to describe her though you agree that she has not been the source of this language. This is hardly an objective journalistic approach.

Lol. The difference is that since I don't have a case to make, ie I am not an advocate for either side, my little bit of hyperbole (grounded in fact, by the way) doesn't overstate anything of consequence.

By the way I did indicate that Linda's own language was part of the overkill.

QUOTE(Clay @ Apr 30 2006, 08:37 PM)

bum thought I would bring this one back to the top as it gave us some initial info.... and confirms some of what sister has said.... i.e. what Mr. Shelton believes re God telling him things... etc....

More info for inquiring minds... This article ran in the February 2006 issue of AToday and speaks on financial irregularities discovered at 3ABN during their recent tax case against the state of Illinois... thanks goes to Fran for getting it into .pdf format for upload.

Just click the link and your browser should load it; most browsers should be able to load and display the file but you may need to install Adobe Acrobat Reader which you can do <http://www.adobe.com/products/acrobat/readstep2.html>

Thanks for that info..... some who need to might already know how to reach him.... for me, there is no need.... why would I seek to communicate with someone with whom I know manipulates "the truth?"

Let him stay in his little corner of the world, and hope that he can learn something from the fallout from this ever growing mess..... somehow I don't think so.....

No one is holding a gun to your head to make you read them... by the standard you've made here... how many frivolous and insignificant threads have there been that have been equally 'tired'? Too many to count... and all of which say essentially the same thing... namely... nothing... When the 3ABN threads have been exhausted, they will die like all threads eventually do... but the topic continues to have legs... even if some are sick of it...

Or is it just an intermission. A "seventh-inning stretch" maybe?

Hmmm..... I'm trying. But I'm not "getting it". What is "it"?
The sleep.
The tired of the topic.
The topic itself.
The wanting more news on the topic?
All of the above?

Other?

I see a smacker in the background - center right. Smacker has a pleasant smile. What's Smacker's shoe size?

Perhaps you need to find out for yourself what he tells you? Why not try?

<danshelton@earthlink.net>

You could give him some admonition, and give him the opportunity of giving you his?

You might get his version as I said.... there is no need for me to enter into a dialog with a person who fabricated the concept of "spiritual adultery" and then used that to divorce his wife.... I think I'll pass.....

Thats right. No need for dialog. However, having your say in monologue format won't hurt.
