BlackSDA _ 3ABN _ 3abn

 If you don't know what is true why perpetuate the problem by passing along gossip and hearsay when you yourself don't know what is true. Why would the 3ABN board ask Linda to leave and not Danny? Linda was the one who draws viewers to the show. Have you ever talked to Danny with tears in his voice? And he NEVER said a bad word about Linda. Every bit of it has been he said she said when Danny has not said a word! So stop it! Everyone just needs to stop it! Our church has been through far great tragedies, like the Great Disappointment when the whole world thought we were crazy. But we came through and are the fastest growing church in the world. So stop it. Don't you trust God to handle this without our help? If you don't trust God to handle it you need to read my book. He didn't need us at creation, He will not need us when He restores the earth, He don't need us to help run heaven and straighten it out. He doesn't need us on earth to straighten this out either. "Thou will be done on EARTH as it is done in heaven." We are the ones stopping His will from being done on EARTH because WE CAN FIX ANYTHING without Him.

welcome to the forum and thank you for your comments.... however, stopping our discussion about 3abn probably will not happen.... not today anyway..... Danny has said several bad words about Linda, maybe you missed them....

Posted by: PrincessDrRe Aug 10 2006, 07:44 AM

Just as you are stating that he "has never said a bad word about Linda...." we have letters directly from the man to this board/operators of this board.... that say much more.....

I advise reading all of the 3ABN threads here....reading all of the personal letters....and all the personal accounts of people that have worked right next to Danny & Linda particularly during the divorce saga.

After reading all of that and not seeing Danny as being a part of "something" fishy - then my LERD!

Those who have too little courage to reprove wrong, or who through indolence or lack of interest make no earnest effort to purify the family or the church of God, are held accountable for the evil that may result from neglect of duty. We are just as responsible for evils that we might have checked in others by exercise of parental or pastoral authority, as if the acts had been our own. Patriarchs and Prophets, p.578

You are right Debra that we should not perpetuate gossip. The problem is, I don't believe that is happening here. I WAS there counseling with Linda and Danny during their break-up and divorce. It is just not accurate to say that Danny never said a bad word about Linda. My wife and I were APPALLED and DISGUSTED by some of the things he said and actions he took. While I don't pretend to know everything that happened, I have not read anything on this forum that could not be true based on what I do know.

You are also right that this Church has been through far greater tragedies, but should that stop us from righting this one? The fact is that the truth is coming out, the Church will have to deal with it, and the Church will be stronger if they do what is right.

t is precisely our church's inability and/or unwillingness to deal with issues that has us drinking from the same fountain over and over and over again even though the water makes us sick...

What does this mean? Sounds like a strange standard. Lots of bad people and bad organizations go through great tragedies. Lots of good people and good organizations go through great tragedies. I don't get it.

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Jimmy_Swaggart

"On February 21, 1988, on his television show taped in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, Swaggart tearfully confessed that he was guilty of an unspecified sin and made comparisons to himself and King David. Because he would not submit to the authoritative discipline and rehabilitative policies of the Assemblies of God, his ordination was revoked. As a result, Swaggart spent a considerable amount of time, in church and on television, blasting the Assemblies of God for its "unforgiving" stances. Swaggart lost much of his audience after these events. Swaggart subsequently blamed his problems on "demons" and claimed that controversial evangelist Oral Roberts had "cast out the demons" over the phone, thus assuring Swaggart was now free of moral defect

On October 11, 1991, in Indio, California, police stopped Swaggart for driving on the wrong side of the road. In the car with him was yet another prostitute, named Rosemary Garcia. No sex-related charges were filed in that incident."

He warned his congregation afterwards that "God says it's none of your business!"

My point was that, even after the tears, Swaggart was found with yet another prostitute. In other words, the tears were indicative of nothing.

Posted by: princessdi Aug 10 2006, 05:03 PM

If I am not mistaken, he was caught more than once after this tearful performance.
